

ALL TOGETHER — Board of Education members and town commissioners gathered under one roof Monday night for the first time in a year. The subject? Same as last year—a rejected school budget.

Blossoms Will Bloom Without Miss Belleville

There will be no Miss Belleville to greet the annual spring bloom of Cherry Blossoms this year.

The Belleville Jaycees, who have run the contest for six years, have decided to cancel this year's competition. The group will, however, hold a Cherry Blossom parade on April 26.

In a prepared statement to The Times, the organization's president Frank Costenbader said developments on the state and county level had forced his group to suspend the traditional contest.

The state pageant last month cancelled Belleville's charter to send a queen to the contest as part of a statewide move to eliminate town queens in the large contest.

When news of the change arrived, the Jaycees still hoped, however, to send Miss Belleville to the Essex County pageant in Irvington.

The County contest, however, came up with a May 2 date a full week before the Belleville pageant. The Jaycees said they would be unable to move up their date and still obtain proper program advertisement and run a smooth contest.

Several possibilities presented themselves, including sending last year's queen, Marilyn Casale to the May 2 pageant.

The Jaycee executive board went into conference last week and decided to cancel the contest altogether.

In their statement they said: "In view of the lack of the state scholarship competition and the conflict with the Essex County competition date, the board of directors of the Belleville Jaycees, at their regular meeting on February 26, decided not to hold the show competition for the year 1970."

Sources close to the Jaycees have hinted, however, that other reasons lay behind the cancellation. It was said that the club had lost interest in the project and preferred to move on into different areas of community service.

Costenbader, has denied the allegations, and only last week said if the county date were different, he would have

Budget Reflects Need To Attract Best Men

The problem of attracting qualified young men to police and firemen's jobs figured heavily in Mayor Ken Smith's Public Safety budget for 1970 which shows an overall increase of $285,132.

To get quality men, Smith says, you must pay a good dollar. Young men must be lured away from private industry, where the pay is often better.

Today's patrolman in particular, Smith says, has a more difficult job than ever before. Hours are long, risks are great, and the cops public image has come under attack in various quarters. As the Mayor says, "It's not like years ago when all a patrolman needed was a strong back and a weak mind."

Belleville's quest for quality fire and police personnel was chiefly responsible for Smith's overall jump from a $2,039,481 budget figure last year to $2,318,583.

The Public Safety Department has 205 employees—largest in the Commission—with 160 of these being firemen and policemen. Appropriations for police rose $112,000, while firemen jumped $95,000.

The combined cost to residents next year for the two salaries is proposed as $1,772,546.

Starting patrolmen and firemen will be offered $8,150, reaching a maximum in three years of $9,250. Last year the range was $7,400-$8,500.

These salaries, compared with neighboring Nutley, show Belleville in a better competitive position. Nutley cops and firemen in 1970 will start at $7,000, rising to $9,250 in five yearly steps.

The contract for Belleville police and firemen is for two years with next year's minimum set at $8,900 to a maximum of $10,000.

Smith says that even with quality men, his staff is undermanned. He would like to see at least 10 more men in each department, but feels high costs prevent such a move.

Mayor Smith's budget actually had been substantially higher when preliminary figures were released in February. From the original sum, Smith sliced $141,510 before the budgets introduction. This week an additional $6,050 was pared off.

Smith is the first to admit he isn't happy with his budget. He would like to see it lowered, but feels trapped by "inflated costs."

"I've cut everywhere I possibly can to keep it down. I don't have it down to where I would like it, but I can't help it."

The police and firemen's salaries include a $750 raise

PBA Plans Affair

The Belleville Policemen's Benevolent Association will hold its annual dinner-dance, Saturday, March 14 at the Fountain Restaurant.

The affair will feature entertainment by two bands; Weddy and the Belle Aires, plus the Pat Gallo band.

Tickets may be purchased at Belleville Police Headquarters. Sgt. Ray Kimble urged interested persons to reserve tickets as soon as possible because the PBA anticipates a sell-out crowd. No tickets will be sold at the door.

2,150 Receive Shots

The Belleville Health Department winds up its Rubella vaccination program with visits to School Five tomorrow and School Seven on Monday, and thereby becomes the first department in Essex County to complete the state subsidized program.

Last week a team of doctors and nurses under the direction of Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo toured Belleville's schools, vaccinating youngsters against the German Measles. The number vaccinated will reach 2,150 on Monday.

Administering the shots are Belleville doctors Hillard Mann, William Taffet and Frank Noonan.

School Budget Thinned By $150,000 Cut

Junior High Rewiring Feels Financial Pinch

By Nat Gottlieb

Snip! Welding budget shears, Belleville Board of Education members and town commissioners converged on Town Hall Monday night to try their hand at budget cutting, a much practiced skill in recent years.

The result: * Snip! $150,000 scheduled for Junior High School rewiring was neatly trimmed.

* Half-Snip! The Board promised to investigate the feasibility of cutting an additional sum and submitting the figure to the commission. Board President Rocco Saletta said a possible figure might be $10-12,000.

* The Board will consider bonding for the rewiring. Also to be considered is a short and long range master plan.

Necessitating the cutting session was the February 10 rejection by voters of the proposed 1970-71 school budget, a document calling for an $855,000 increase and total appropriations of $4,674,990. By law, commissioners have 30 days after receiving the defeated budget to make cuts, with advise from the Board. (The deadline is March 22).

Both sides, however, did not seem equally willing to use the scissors.

The school board, which has repeatedly maintained it has produced a tight budget, stood firmly committed behind its document and kept its instruments sheathed until the last possible moment.

Commissioners, on the other hand, kept their scissors on the table, but avoided arbitrary usage.

Last year's drawn-out network of appeals and counter appeals over the 1969-70 budget (also rejected and cut up) seemed to have its effect on the commissioners.

"We don't want to come up with an arbitrary figure that you don't like because it will just go down to Trenton," said Mayor Ken Smith. "We want to arrive at a mutually agreeable figure."

At several intervals, though, both Mayor Smith and Commissioner Joseph McGreevy interrupted general discussion to wave their scissors, and call for direct cutting proposals.

Indeed, Mayor Smith's opening remarks took everyone by surprise. Expecting some sort of traditional congeniality, Smith greeted officials with:

"Is there any reason why we can't take out $250,000 and forget the whole budget?"

Apparently there was, because the meeting, which started at 8:10, lasted until 9:45.

The discussions, which were for the most part general and limited to philosophies and attitudes toward education and spending, were interrupted at several intervals by the intersection of direct proposals. The Mayor's remarks often caught officials by surprise.

At 8:52 the Mayor said: "Well what are you going to give us fellows, it's getting late."

At 9:07 he said: "Where do you want to cut it. Tell us and we'll get it over with."

At 9:12: "How much are you overestimating in teacher salaries?"

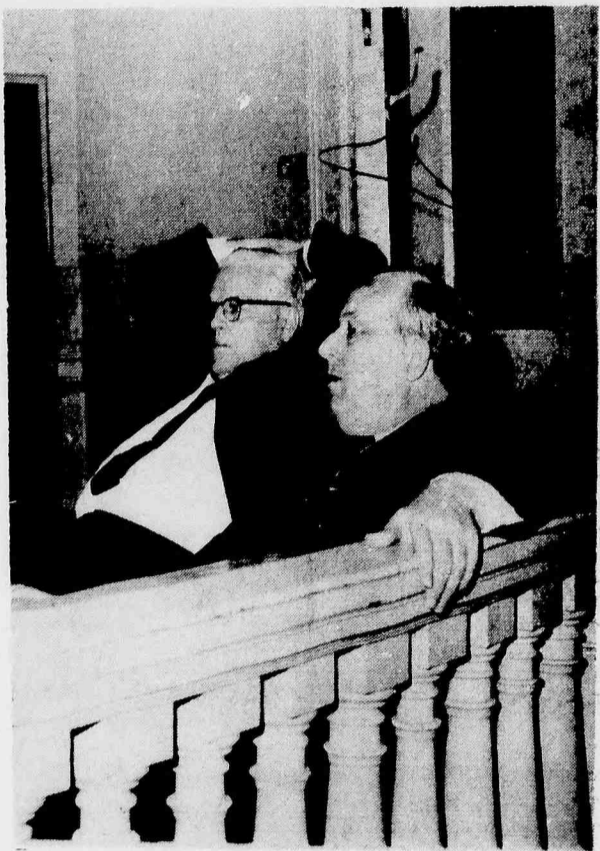

At 9:15 McGreevy said: "Would you waive the $128,000 restored by Marburger and also give us $150,000 from the rewiring?"

At 9:20, the Mayor said: "Gentleman, I don't see where we are gaining anything. We have 24 days from now to get this done. Possibly you folks can go back and review this some more. We are only trying to do what 2,200 voters wanted us to do."

The school board met these proposals by attempting to show commissioners that "the money couldn't be cut without harming the school system."

Chief proposal the school board was offered was cutting the $150,000 from rewiring (an estimated $250,000

William F. Fabian Succumbs At 79

William F. Fabian, Belleville Shade Tree Department superintendent for 25 years and father of Deputy Fire Chief William G. Fabian, died February 28 after a short illness in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. He was 79.

Mr. Fabian, who lived at 170 Linden Avenue, had moved to Belleville from Newark in 1929. He was appointed Shade Tree Department head in 1931 by Joseph King, commissioner of Public Affairs. He held the Shade Tree post until his retirement in 1956.

Although Mr. Fabian's retirement marked an end to his active part in town affairs, he continually took an interest in what was happening on the Belleville political scene.

"He had no real hobby," Deputy Chief Fabian recalls, "except that he loved to talk to people about politics. I guess talking to people was his hobby."

Mr. Fabian was a former member of the Retired Men's Club and the Elks Club of Belleville.

On Monday Deputy Chief Fabian's wife gave birth to a son. He has been named William Matthew Fabian, after his grandfather.

The deceased also leaves a son in Middletown, Edward S.; a sister, Mrs. Florence Bremer of Manasquan; nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Services were Tuesday at the Wadsworth Funeral Home, 524 Union Avenue, with the Rev. Alfred Stone of Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church officiating. Cremation was at the Rosedale crematory in Orange.

Fund Underway For BHS Senior

A fund raising drive is planned for April to raise money for Belleville High School senior Debbie McCool, who is stricken with a rare blood disease.

A group of Belleville residents have formed a committee to handle the campaign, whose purpose is to help defray the costs of blood transfusions and medicine.

Commissioner Mary V.

Senatore will chairman the group, which is composed of residents from all walks of life.

The drive will run from April 19 to May 2, during which time Mayor Ken Smith will declare the weeks as "Debbie McCool Weeks."

The next meeting for the group is March 11. Commissioner Senatore urged interested residents to contact her at Town Hall.

Finance-Revenue Dept.

McGreevy's Budget Fills His Campaign Pledge

In a May, 1969 interview with the Times, Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy said he had run for public office because he wanted "to stabilize Belleville's finances," adding that he had run "strictly for this office."

Today, Joseph McGreevy's proposed 1970 department budget reflects that commitment. Of all the commissioners, his department shows no increase over last year.

The commissioner's expenditures call for $351,188, identical to last year's appropriation. Had it not been for mandatory wage and insurance increases, he feels his department might have shown a reduction.

Last Sunday former Mayor Robert Laterza was quoted in the Newark Evening News as saying that Belleville's budget increase was due to "mismanagement."

Commissioner McGreevy had a typically simple and direct answer for Laterza, who reportedly heads a taxpayers group:

"The 1970 budget will show that in three years we will pay off $540,000 in debt and at the same time increase our surplus by $541,000. Added together this is over a million dollars. If making a million dollars is mismanagement, then Mr. Laterza is right."

McGreevy says in his own budget, he was able to offset mandatory increases by cutting down on expenditures in as many areas as possible.

Also figuring in his stable 1970 budget was his experience with last year's budget, in which he appropriated $351,188 and spent only $301,986. Through analyzing last year's costs he was able to identify where appropriations could be lowered.

"It was a lot of hard work and it shows consideration for the taxpayer," McGreevy said.

"I had meetings with all my employees and told them we were going to have a tight budget and this is what we have."

One example of the commissioner's own personal frugality is reflected in "other expenses" for the director. Here, McGreevy shows no increase, while every commissioner took a $1,000 increase which they say was needed to offset expenditures connected with their offices.

Wages and salaries show a $9,730 increase over last year's appropriations.

The other area in which increases were recorded was in insurance, where automobile coverage is expected to rise 85 per cent, from $11,375 to $18,400; Blue Cross health insurance to jump 30 per cent and package insurance to go up 30 per cent.

A substantial cut was registered in "other expenses" connected with the tax assessor's office, where $3,600 was sliced off. Here money was cut from office

Chamber To Give Free Hams

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will treat 30 lucky town residents to Easter hams on March 26.

Starting next Thursday 30 local merchants will give free coupons which may net them a five pound canned ham.

All customers have to do, according to Stanley Slavin, chairman of the Chamber committee sponsoring the event, is fill out the coupon and place it in a box in the merchants store. No purchase is necessary.

On Thursday, March 26, the 30 winners will be drawn.

Jaycees Drop Contest But Parade Still Planned

Miss Casale, meanwhile, seems in favor of representing the town in the County pageant. The Westchester State College (Pa.) sophomore told The Times Monday she would like to enter the pageant but before deciding she will meet with county pageant officials and the local Jaycees.

Just what Miss Casale's status would be in the county pageant is unclear at this time. Nate Zorba, state pageant chairman, told the Times that Miss Casale would most likely enter as "Miss Belleville" without a year designated. He did say, however, that the local Jaycees could bestow the 1970 title on Miss Casale.

Less confusing is the Cherry Blossom parade which annually attracts people from all over the East Coast.

Set for Sunday, April 26 at 3 p.m., the purpose of the parade according to chairman Andy Vyniski, is to "focus attention on Belleville as the Cherry Blossom capital of the Garden State of New Jersey."

Most prominent display of the spring flowers is in Branch Brook Park, where artists, photographers and nature lovers stroll away numerous afternoons. Recently a campaign begun by Commissioner Mary Senatore has resulted in cherry blossom trees along Washington Avenue and Greylock Parkway.

Rain date for the pageant is May 3. Vyniski, who lives at 91 Highfield Lane, Nutley, asked interested organizations to contact him by April 1.

Joe McGreevy Fulfills Pledge

(Continued from Page 1) supplies and expenses connected with an "addressograph" machine. Last year's gubernatorial election resulted in an appropriation of $2,000 which has disappeared from this year's budget, bringing "other expenses" in the clerk's office down from $9,555 to $7,555. Salaries and wages in the elections department also fell—by $1,000 to an expenditure of $1,000.

A hike was recorded in telephone service, where wages rose $890 and other expenses $3,000 which McGreevy says is due to added telephone service.

Financial administration wages in the self-liquidating water department rose $8,000.

Policy changes were made by the commissioner in two areas. Last year's plan to enter a self-insurance fund has been dropped. In addition, the tax department will employ data processing computers which will cut down greatly on the time needed to assess rolls and bills.

Former Vietnam Ambassador Lectures At Lehigh College

W. Averell Harriman, former U.S. Ambassador to the Paris Conference on Vietnam, was 1970 Blaustein Lecturer in International Relations at Lehigh University.

During two days at Lehigh (February 18 and 19), Harriman gave three major lectures, attended by a total of 5,500 people, on the general theme "U.S. and Soviet Relation in a Changing World." He also held a press conference attended by campus, local, and national press, radio, and television.

Two Governing Bodies Agree To Make Cut

project) plus either, $35,000 from "other expenses" or dropping the $128,000 returned to last year's budget by State Education Commissioner Carl Marburger.

The board maintained however, that the "other expenses" account was a tight reflection of school needs. Caesar Romano expressed Board sentiment in this area when he said:

"There seems to be an assumption here that these, 'other expenses,' are padded."

To which Smith replied: "I'm on my eighth budget. I know when it is padded."

Several important related issues were discussed.

Much attention was focused on the proposed school reworking, for one thing. The project, according to the Board will cost $250,000, of which $100,000 will come from surplus.

The commissioners maintain that the job can be financed through a bond issue, a proposal the Board appears ready to accept. In January the Mayor had asked the Board to consider bonding in connection with a master plan, a proposal rejected by the school body.

Mayor Smith also suggested reworking in stages, leaving out initially, all the "extras."

Leonard Back felt, however, that costs for additions at a later date would end up being higher.

Oddly enough it wasn't until 9:26 that someone brought up the problem of child safety, the reason why the job had been proposed in the first place. Romano cautioned officials that cuts into the reworking must be considerate of safety factors, an idea echoed by Back.

Also discussed was McGreevy's proposal that the Board refuse Marburger's restored cash, a proposal that seemed to shock Board members and almost stir up old wounds.

Max Schwartz, Board attorney, told commissioners that, "if the Board cuts this restored money, it may be subject to criticism from state officials."

Smith answered this with: "If the money ends up in surplus, you will get worse criticism from the taxpayers."

Rocky Salletta, who did most of the speaking for the Board, fielded a query from the commission about why the Board had a $125,000 surplus last year, with: "It was good management."

Much time was also spent discussing the idea of bonding. Chief objection to this was voiced by Salletta, who felt many school items like books and equipment could not be purchased in time if a bond referendum had to be completed.

McGreevy commented on this, saying that "you could have bonded last year for your reworking. If it will be too late that's your fault, not ours."

Back questioned whether a bond issue could get passed by voters.

"If the voters defeated the budget, what makes you think they won't reject the bond issue?" Back said.

"They won't," Smith answered.

"Why," Back returned.

"Because I know they won't," Smith said.

In a discussion about buying movie projectors for the schools and other related educational aides, Superintendent Anthony Greco maintained that such items were recommended by the state for a good school system.

Commissioner William Cullen offered an answer which caused some discussion:

"Where you have a budget approved, you go out and buy the best. But where it is defeated, year after year, it is my feeling that the taxpayer does not want the ultimate. He wants an adequate system."

Just before the two boards filed out of Council Chambers to mingle casually in the halls and go out for coffee, Richard Mahamarian posed an interesting question to the Commission:

"Do you honestly feel if your municipal budget went to the voters, it would be passed?"

"No sir," said McGreevy.

"No budget would pass in this town," Commissioner Senatore added.

POOR CIRCULATION?

Dr. R. Lawrence
- Chiropractor -

Good circulation is essential to vitality and a basic requirement for the enjoyment of robust health. As a normal consequence of aging or in cases of weakness, the circulation often becomes sluggish. When this occurs, the ability of the blood to supply nourishment to the tissues and carry away body poisons is decreased.

Misalignment of the spine can also result in a diminished blood and nerve supply to vital organs. The upright spine is the great weight bearing unit of the body. It is constantly subject to the forces of gravity and considerable stress.

Several important organs attach to and are dependent upon the spinal column for their support. In postural distortions organs may shift and be displaced from their natural positions. This creates pressure, hindering free circulation of the blood. Chiropractic adjustments are directed toward the correction of mechanical misalignments of the spinal column. They tend to tone and improve the circulation and aid in relaxation.

Spinal adjustments also act to relieve any possible pressure or irritation of nerves as they pass from the spine to vital organs and are intended to improve bodily function and health. Your Chiropractor is especially trained to detect and relieve these points of nerve interference. An examination of the spine should never be overlooked.

An Un-American Act

Congressman John Rarick, a Louisiana right wing Democrat, recently charged that U.S. Attorney Frederick B. Lacey is unfit to hold a law enforcement post because his son, Frederick B. Lacey, Jr., was a member of the Chinese Communist-oriented Progressive Labor Party in New Orleans.

Even assuming the charge against Lacey, Jr., is true, we think Congressman Rarick's effort to impugn the objectivity of U.S. Attorney Frederick Lacey is uncalled for and un-American.

Congressman Rarick's ire was aroused because of an allegation that Lacey requested release of FBI transcripts of tapes which illegally picked up conversations between Mafia leaders.

An examination of the public record discloses that it was U.S. Court Judge Robert Shaw who authorized the release of the illegal transcripts --and not U.S. Attorney Frederick B. Lacey.

Ever since Judge Shaw made the decision to place the Mafia transcripts in the public domain, the legal fraternity has become increasingly embroiled in a debate over whether or not Judge Shaw's action served the best interests of our society.

Learned students of the law are still debating the basic issue. Involved are the good reputations of public officials who were mentioned by the organized crime leaders.

A reading of the transcripts must lead any objective person to the conclusion that there does indeed exist in America men who make organized crime their business.

There is no doubt that reputations of innocent public officials are involved in the release of the transcripts. No one ever made a final judgement as to the extent of injury of those innocent public servants mentioned in the tapes by the Mafia leaders.

Mr. Lacey and his associates are leading a crusade to eliminate the organized crime cancer from our society. This objective is laudable. In their pursuit of the enemy, Mr. Lacey and his associates must do everything in their power to protect the good reputations of the innocent.

While we sympathize with public officials whose names are included in the illegal transcripts, we must confess that a reading of these documents opened our eyes to the organized crime danger which infests our society.

Congressman Rarick would be better advised to clean up his own backyard and leave Fred Lacey alone to pursue the real enemy within.

The Good Samaritan

The people of this community have different religious beliefs and worship according to their conscience without interference from the government and its officials.

Freedom of religious worship is one of the rights guaranteed by our form of government. Those who enjoy the blessing it affords should be scrupulous in respecting the beliefs of those with whom they do not agree. There is no other way to uphold and maintain religious freedom.

Frankly, the editor of this newspaper never worries about the religion that other people prefer. We trust that no one worries about our beliefs. The common task that confronts all men and women of every religious persuasion is to make their personal contribution in life so as to serve other people.

Instead of disputing about non-essentials, we might follow the example of the great teacher who went about doing good. Life presents many pitfalls into which human beings plunge and it is up to all of us to avoid them as best we can. When unfortunately some brother or sister stumbles, there is an opportunity for all of us to be helpful if we are so minded.

The good Samaritan, in this year 1970, will find much to do.

A Brotherhood Year

The new decade begins with the tormenting awareness that social problems in our land remain unresolved.

Each of us, in the words of Charles Lamb, is unconsciously a "bundle of prejudice". But it is within our power to rid ourselves of such a load... an unnecessary burden which only halts our personal progress as well as that of our fellow men.

If we can but set our sights on the goal of true brotherhood... the belief that one should act brotherly toward one another regardless of race, creed, or nationality... the load will lighten.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews calls this the "brotherhood commitment". They ask us to establish our own Brotherhood Week this week and next week and the next, all through the year.

This need not necessarily be an act of love, but of respect. Brotherhood begins with respect. As a human being simply engaged in the act of living in these difficult and divisive times, each of us is entitled to respect.

Yes, give us this day our daily bread and give us this day our daily dignity.

Residents To View Rare Sun Eclipse

By John J. Bunevich

Question: Do you intend to view the eclipse of the sun this Saturday afternoon and why? Asked of Nutley and Belleville residents.

Kathy Stiles, 464 Franklin Avenue, Nutley

I'm a senior in Nutley High School and have heard nothing about the eclipse of the sun this Saturday. Now that I know about it though, I guess it will be worth watching. I think they are supposed to be very rare and take place only once in a certain number of years. It's strange that I don't know about the eclipse because events like that are supposedly widely publicized.

Susan Martino, 44 Tappan Avenue, Belleville

Of course I know about the eclipse Saturday, and I fully intend to view it. I have an interest in astrology and the sun eclipse may have a reflection on my horoscope. I think I heard about the eclipse from school. I know that you aren't supposed to look directly at it but rather view it through a special device.

Kathy Stiles

Susan Martino

I think most of the kids at the high school know about it and are going to watch it. Just out of curiosity.

Jim Hammond, 23 Passaic Avenue

I haven't heard too much about the eclipse this Saturday but now that I know about it I'll watch it. I think most people don't view the phenomenon just because it's a rarity but rather out of curiosity. If I were walking down the street and people were looking up at the sky though sunglasses of some kind I also would likely look up. It should prove an interesting experience.

Jim Hammond

Ellen Morgenthien, 30 Mitchell Street, Belleville

I always watch eclipses. I would never miss them for the world. They are very rare and since I'm an avid believer in astrology it may affect my life in some way. I think it's the last one of the decade so there is no way in the world I would miss such an event. I hope it isn't cloudy that day.

Seems Only Yesterday

One Year Ago

Belleville's town treasurer, Francis H. McCoy, was selected to develop a textbook on a cash-basis municipal accounting system for the State of New Jersey. The choice was made by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs and the Rutgers University Bureau of Government Research. New Jersey at the time was the only state with such an accounting system and the problem of finding textbooks that could be used to teach courses in the system at the local colleges was a difficult one.

Three Belleville Varsity Wrestlers took championship standings in the District competition at Barringer High School. Jesse Towns, Berry Giordano and Bob Bonfante were also at the Regional Championships held at Rutgers Gym. As a team, Belleville finished fourth in a field of seven.

Five Years Ago

Eugene J. Reilly of 394 Washington Avenue, chairman of the Belleville Kiwanis' "Cloth for Cancer Drive," received the American Cancer Society Award from Dr. William E. Caffery, D.D.S., chairman of the Society's Award Committee.

In his first Board of Education meeting, Rocco Saletta voted with the Juliano-Arvidson-DiRuggiero bloc to establish again in Belleville dual control administration of the school system. Saletta offered no reasons for exempting Harold Dufford, assistant superintendent for business, from the supervision of Dr. Frank M. Durkee, superintendent of schools.

Belleville's two new pumps and 85-foot ladder were checked in the Seagraves Division of FWD Corporation in Clintonville, Wisconsin, by two members of the local fire department - Captain Edward Dunleavy and Gus DeFranza, department mechanic. Captain Dunleavy said the two pumps were expected to arrive in town within days.

Ten Years Ago

Reverend John S. Nelligan, who served 23 years as assistant pastor of Saint Peter's Church in Belleville, died of a heart attack in the home of his brother, Raymond J. Nelligan of Leonia. Father Nelligan was 63.

Belleville's 30 Girl Scout troops were among the nearly three and a half million scouts celebrating their 48th anniversary. Special services at churches and temples and window displays marked the celebration in town.

It was announced that the Passaic River in Belleville would be the scene of construction once plans were put into effect by the New Jersey State Highway Department. The Highway Department was set to repair the Route 7 bridge between Belleville and North Arlington.

Fifteen Years Ago

A four million-dollar-plus school building program was scheduled to be put to the voters on April 26, the Board of Education announced, setting that date for a referendum. One question on the ballot was the approval of the estimate of a new high school at $3,631,518; there was also mention of additions to Schools 3 and 7, estimated at a cost of $743,631,860.

The Festival of Purim, or Feast of Lots, one of the most joyous of Jewish holidays, was observed with special services at Congregation Ahavas Achim. Dr. Albert L. Raab, rabbi, officiated and presented a sermon entitled "True Joy."

25 Years Ago

Belleville clubs, ice-cream parlors, candy stores and theatres were observing the midnight curfew request of War Mobilization Director Byrnes. Taverns began enforcement in accordance with ABC Commissioner Alfred E. Driscoll's ruling.

Two plays were presented at the spring production of the Adelphi Players in Grace Baptist Church. Directed by student members, they were entitled "We'll Always Remember" and "Our American Girls."

Speak Up

Salaries Good Enough For Local Teachers

To the Editor:

Though I wasn't asked to answer the Candid Camera segment of the Belleville Times, I would like to voice my opinion regarding the question "Should the teachers strike?"

I do not feel the teachers have the right to strike. They are supposed to set examples for the students, so the student will look up to them with admiration. They expect the upper classmen to set examples for the underclassmen, yet they do not do this. There is so much trouble in the schools today with the teenagers, perhaps if the teachers showed a little more stabilization; the students would be more mature also and not so demanding.

With all the holidays, vacation, etc. the teacher only works nine (9) months of the year. With the wage of $7,700, to start is far from being UNDERPAID. They can take jobs in the summer tutoring for an additional $2,000 or more. These are good wages for a 21 year old just getting out of college, and into the business world. Teachers claim they can not support families. There aren't many 21 year olds that have the responsibility of supporting a family. The majority of the bread winners today are holding down two jobs, why not let the teachers join in.

They have more time off than other average vocation and get ample increases annually. I feel no one told them to choose this as a vocation if they would not be satisfied with he results.

Rodino Urges Cahill On Insurance Plan

To The Editor

As you will recall, some three years ago we jointly sponsored a House Judiciary Committee Staff Study investigation and report into automobile insurance practices. The conclusion arrived at by the report stated, "By any objective standard, the performance of the automobile insurance business in the United States is unsatisfactory. The system is slow and expensive, and companies involved do a poor job."

That conclusion is perhaps even more accurate today than it was three years ago. In the meantime, the Congressionally authorized Department of Transportation study is nearing completion. Their study is due to be reported to the Congress by May of this year.

While any comprehensive Federal attention must necessarily await the results of Transportation's study, I do feel strongly that much can be done at the State level where primary responsibility for regulation of insurance matters is now vested.

There has been a great deal of discussion about the Keeton-O'Connell "Basic Protection Plan". This no-fault concept has spurred a number of studies. The American Insurance Association for example, representing approximately 20 percent of the nation's auto insurance underwriters, espoused a no-fault "Complete Personal Protection Automobile Insurance Plan" some eighteen months ago. More recently the State of New York's Department of Insurance published their study "Automobile Insurance...For Whose Benefit," and it has received the endorsement of Governor Rockefeller.

Sincerely,
Congressman Peter Rodino, Jr.

Mayor Smith's Budget Reflects Wage Hikes

per man plus additional wages from longevity pay, overtime differentials, increments and 12 days holiday pay.

Symbolic of the Mayor's attempt to pare down his budget was the fate of two new fire hoses. Originally planned for 2,000 and 3,000 feet respectively, the hoses have been snipped about half their original size, representing a dollar savings of $4,100.

New equipment in the Police Department shows a drop of $2,303 to an appropriation of $8,072, while equipment purchase in the Fire Department rose $9,975, to $18,025. Smith says this hike is a result of holding down this area of the budget too sharply last year.

Personal expenses in the Mayor's office rose $1,000 as they did in all department's except Revenue and Finance. Smith says he ran short last year because he attended numerous state meetings seeking state funds, including six trips to Washington, D. C. A savings of $3,215 was recorded in the traffic maintenance department where summer help was cut down. Total salary appropriation here is $16,510.

In Civil Defense, an increase of $3,500 is shown, reflecting a state requirement for updating the town's air raid signal system, installed originally during World War II. The updating project is being done in stages, with total cost this year at $12,000.

The Library Department plans to turn in its 1965

Falcon Station wagon used for transporting books and materials and purchase a new one. Appropriated for purchase is $2,700.

The Mayor's project of installing mercury vapor lights around town figures in a street lighting department hike of $19,050 to an appropriation of $123,680.

Holiday celebrations and observances are tentatively scheduled for a $3,125 increase. The Mayor anticipates a future cut here, however, because last year's loyalty day parade will not be re-run.

Guidance Director Sees Formation Of Vocation Group

Herman Knuppel, guidance director at Belleville High School and president of the Essex County Guidance Directors Roundtable, announced the formation of a new Vocational Guideline Committee.

The purpose of the newly formed committee is to set-up guidelines that will improve the relations between the vocational schools and the public secondary schools.

Through this committee a method of providing information about vocational training will be devised for the benefit of the students not planning a college education. Members of the committee are: Leslie M. Balter, Miss Katherine Hense, Ronald Everett, Warren Davies and Herman Knuppel.

The directors group meeting in February was addressed by Simeon Moss, Essex County superintendent of Schools, Steve Andrasko, superintendent of the Essex County Vocational Schools, Daniel Sullivan, Supervisor, State Department of Education and three representatives from the New Jersey Council of State Approved Schools: Warren Davies, president of Lincoln Technical Institute; David Mulavny, president of Wilfred Academy; Les Balter, president of Sigma Business College.

Soffit Problem Draws Repairs

Emergency removal of School Three's roof overhang was authorized last week by the Board of Education at a cost of $1,500.

The project was needed because a portion of the "soffit" or "eaves" fell to the ground recently, due to deterioration of its supports.

The Board anticipates replacing concrete supports in the spring with aluminum or other suitable material.

It is not "un-American" to disagree with others regardless of what positions they occupy.

Belleville Young Man Guilty Of Narcotic Use

A Belleville young man was found guilty of illegal use of a narcotic by Judge Edward Abromson at Belleville Criminal Court in a decision which involved conflicting testimony.

Phillip Hickey of Belleville pleaded not guilty to the charge and was represented by Robert Doris of the county legal service.

Conflicting statements came when Detective Ronald Thompson said that upon examining Hickey's arm he found a fresh needle mark, but town physician, Dr. Donald Brown, testified that upon examining Hickey only minutes later he failed to see any fresh punctures.

Hickey was arrested February 11, at 8 p.m., by Belleville Detectives Ermin Olivieri and Donald Thompson at Van Rensselaer Street and Washington Avenue after the pair observed him "walking in a zig zag line."

"Upon talking with Hickey," Detective Thompson testified, "I found him to be in a stupor. His speech was slurred and at times incoherent."

Dr. Brown told the court that although Hickey had no fresh needle marks it was his medical opinion that the defendant had used a narcotic of some type. "His eyes were pinpointed," Dr. Brown said. "And there was no odor of liquor on his breath," he added.

Hickey was brought to Belleville Police headquarters and examined by Dr. Brown after he was picked up by the detectives.

Judge Abromson ruled that Dr. Brown's medical opinion outweighed the conflicting testimony. The judge then suspended a three month jail term and sentenced Hickey to one year probation.

No Probation By Local Girl Gets Jail Term

Judy Abate of Belleville was sentenced to 45 days in jail by Judge Edward Abromson at Belleville Criminal Court on February 26 after she was convicted of violation of probation.

Probation Officer Richard Talty told the court that Miss Abate had failed many times to report for probation interviews.

Miss Abate was placed on probation October 1, 1969.

At Belleville High

Musical Revue Tomorrow Night

By John McCarthy

Band Director Robert A. Wing will present his annual revue of the High School Band, Twirlers, Color Guard, Dance Band, and local entertainers, The Knights, and the hilarious team of Spinelli and Freda at Belleville High School auditorium at 8:15.

Wing, band director for the last seven years, will present the audience with "many surprises" and promises "a diversified program with different types of music, in style and in different ways it's played."

This "fast paced program" will be almost the same show scheduled to be done in four different cities on a proposed tour to take place this summer.

All the tunes in the show will be from TV shows, hit tunes, and lead songs from recent Broadway shows. A special feature will be when Larry Spinelli sings the title song from the musical "Cabaret."

Proceeds from the show will be used to defray the cost of the upcoming trip, as will proceeds from the musical scheduled for May 21, 22, and 23. The May musical will be "Annie Get Your Gun", starring Jayme Freedman as Annie, who in real life lived in Nutley, and Joe Smith, as Frank Butler, aspiring to get Annie as his gal.

Masons To Award Lapel Pins

Belleville Lodge 108 F&AM will award silver tokens to 10 members of the Lodge this Wednesday evening. The tokens, or lapel pins, commemorate 25 years of membership in Masonry.

The meeting will open at 7:30 p.m. at Belleville Masonic Temple, 126 Joramemon Street.

Warren M. Johnson, Worshipful Master of Belleville Lodge, invites all Master Masons to attend.

Lions Hear Crisp

"Belleville's Role in the American and Industrial Revolutions" was the subject of Allen Crisp's talk to the Belleville Lions Club on February 26 at the Fountain Restaurant.

Crisp is Belleville's town historian and a member of the Belleville Foundation and the Community Council.

He traced the history of Belleville from the seventeenth century, when it was settled by the Dutch, through the Revolutionary War and the Civil War periods.

He also described the early manufacturing operations in this area, beginning with the extensive cooper mines across the Passaic River from Belleville.

radiant electric heat

because it is comfortable and inexpensive.

What are you waiting for?

If you would like your house to be toasty warm this winter, and not go broke to heat it — read on.

Hundred of thousands of home owners and apartment operators (not to mention hospitals, hotels, motels, nursing homes, and business establishments) throughout the United States, have discovered Radiant Electric Heat to be just what the doctor ordered for comfort and what the banker ordered for economy.

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable. That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

Homeowners tell us their health has improved. That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills. That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

Homeowners enjoy trouble free heat permanently. That's because all burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are heating equipment headaches — for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank, pump or boiler repairs, no valves to leak, no chimneys or air filters to clean or replace; no damage from leaking pipes; no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system.

If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.

Belleville Without District Champ As Towns Loses In Final Round

Rec Eagles Soar Alone As Playoffs Approach

The Eagles have won the 1969-70 Recreation Senior Basketball Championship.

There was no question that this was a championship team as they pulled out all the stops and drubbed the very tough Panthers 89-49.

Richard Hartunian led the scoring with 27 Eagle points and Frank Russomano was in there with 22. However it was a typical team effort, with everybody in the book with a piece of the score.

Ed Pimental got 18 points, Rich Ciallella got 12, Jim Johnson ten and Ron Muscara two.

Next week is the last week of the Annual Magnavox Sale. The response by the public has been unprecedented, because people know that this sale presents the only opportunity during the year to buy Magnavox products at a reduced price. Magnavox prices are fair-traded and strictly enforced during the balance of the year.

Although some models have been sold out, we still have a fair selection. On some sets we revised our prices, because we want to clear them out. This is the real purpose of a genuine sale, to correct one's buying mistakes. It is impossible to buy exactly the correct number of sets and models during the span of a whole year. Everything can be sold if the price is right, which means low enough and we are reducing prices during this sale sufficiently to clear out what has to go and make room.

This once a year Magnavox sale is entirely different than the "sales" that some stores conduct every week. Magnavox prices are fair-traded during the balance of the year. However, during this once a year sale it is "Open Season". If you are in the market for a TV or Stereo, you might as well take advantage of this opportunity to buy top quality merchandise at a real saving.

This sale ends on March 16th.

Fate took an ironic twist in this game because it was the Panthers who, by beating the Falcons, put the Eagles in a clear first place. As a result of their loss to the Eagles the Panthers wind up in a tie with the Imperials for fourth and fifth places.

It was at the hands of the Falcons that the Imperials were put into the tie with the Panthers. In a rough game the Falcons forged out the win that secured their second place. At the quarter the game was tied 17 all. In the second quarter the Falcons jumped out to a nine point lead. In the third quarter this lead was stretched to ten points and in the final stanza both teams scored 15 points to end the game with a Falcon victory 60-50.

DiModica led the Falcons with 23 and Campbell led the Imperials with 22. Under the boards it was DiModica and Visco for the Falcons battling Imperials Della Terza and Brown.

The third place Knicks destroyed the playoff hopes of the Saints in a 49-40 game. This game was kept close by the fine outside shooting of the Saints' Ron Jerusick who had a 22-point evening. For the victorious Knicks it was Hayworth and Brown controlling the boards while Chip DePass led the scoring with 18.

In other games the Lakers took the Pros by a hair 49-48; the Bullets did the same to the Royals 53-52, and the Rec. Boys picked up a win via a Trotters forfeit.

Final standings in this hard-fought league are as follows: Eagles 10-1; Falcons 9-2; Knicks 8-3; Imperials and Panthers 7-4; Trotters 6-5; Saints and Rec. Boys 5-6; Pros 4-7; Bullets 3-8; Lakers 2-9 and Royals 0-11.

Several of the teams were young and will definitely be threats in next year's league. The Pros, Bullets, Lakers and Royals all played hard in every game and all showed great improvement through the season.

On March 4 the Falcons will play the Panthers and the Knicks will play the Imperials as the playoffs begin. The Knicks loom ominous in these playoffs because they have had wins over each of the other teams.

Four Bellboys Place Third As Squad Ends Campaign

By John McCarthy

Belleville's wrestlers got their last chance of the season to prove how good they were last Saturday at Barringer High School in the District Championships, and all twelve found that there was at least one man better than they were.

Team Captain Jessie Towns had probably been the Bellboy expected to go the furthest in the tournament, and he did. The 1968 130-pound District Champ was beaten by West Side's Charlie Riley in the final bout of the 136 class to place second. Earlier in the year the two seniors had met in a scrimmage and Riley won 8-4.

Saturday, Jessie was given a bye in the first round since he was the No. 2 ceded wrestler at 136. The undefeated Bellboy then met Jerry McCarty of Kearny in the semi-finals and won 12-4 to gain a berth in the finals where Riley won 2-0 on a second period reversal.

Four other Bellboys won their first round, lost in the semi's and won in the consolation matches to place third in their respective classes.

The lightest third place winner from Belleville was Angelo Zoppi at 106 pounds. Zoppi, with a 9-3-1 record was No. 3 in his class and faced Bloomfield's Robert Lapinski in the first round. Zoppi pinned Lapinski during the season and this time won 8-0.

In the semi's Zoppi was beaten 3-1 by Gary Fikslin of Kearny who had tied Zoppi during the season (0-0). In this match Zoppi was beaten on a takedown with six seconds left. In the consolation match Zoppi beat West Side's Frank Wesley 9-2.

Sophomore Boff Mustacchio at 115 also took third place honors. Boff had been ranked No. 2 and received a bye into the semi's but was beaten 8-2 by Kearny's Jack Habertur, ranked third. Boff went into the consolations against Frank Murano of Bloomfield and pinned him as he had done in his first varsity match earlier this year.

Vito Marcogliese also placed third in the tourney. Vito was the second Bellboy to be ranked number two and get beaten by the number three man, as Vito was beaten 2-1 by West Side's Harold Taylor. Against Bloomfield's David Fritz in the consolation, Vito won 7-0, in a much different match than when Vito beat Fritz 7-6 on riding time in Bloomfield.

Carmen Russomano, Belleville's 168, shut out Bloomfield's Dale Gordon 11-0 in the preliminary bout to get into the semifinals. In the semi's Carmen faced Bill Harrison of Kearny, the number one ranked 168, and was beaten 5-3. Carmen went against Barringer's Allen Waller and won on another shutout, 4-0, in the consolation match.

Besides the second place and the four third places, Belleville took two fourth places. These wrestlers won their opening bouts, but lost in the semi-finals and consolation matches.

Belleville's entry into the 98 lb. class Kevin Sutton was given a bye when Barringer's Hector Serrano didn't show and Serrano's substitute was put against Bloomfield's Joe Holveck. Sutton then faced Allen Hill of Kearny in the semi's and was beaten 4-2. Holveck also was beaten in the semi's so Sutton and Holveck met in the consolation match where Holveck won 4-2.

In the preliminary bout for the 157 class Belleville's Frank Savastano wrestled Euwanta Flemming in the highest scoring bout of the day. Savastano won 16-14, but was beaten 8-2 by Essex Catholic's Rich Peterson in the semi's. Savastano was then pinned in the consolations by Bloomfield's Bernie Stein.

The other five Bellboys all lost their preliminary matches and didn't go any further in the tourney.

At 123 Mike Edigio of Belleville was beaten 2-0 by Mark Richardson of Bloomfield.

Ed Duncley of Belleville wrestled for John Salvato, and was pinned by Kevin Degnan of Kearny, whom Salvato had beaten 7-4 in a dual match, at 141 pounds.

West Side's Bernard Lucas beat Ricky Caruso of Belleville 16-6. Lucas became 148 pound champ.

Sal Bivona lost 1-0 to Bloomfield's Gary Caridad on an escape in the second period of the preliminary 178 pound class.

In the unlimited pound weight class Joe Valvano tied West Side's Van Montgomery 3-3, but Montgomery picked up eight points in the overtime period to win 11-3.

World progress would move faster if people would talk less and work harder.

Sports Corner

By John McCarthy

Next year will be the first that BHS gridders won't be able to look forward to the season opener against the omnipotent East Orange High School football squad.

For as long as I can remember, Belleville High met E.O. and speculation was always that the game would be close, or that the "greenness" of the team would be tested.

Probably the two games that stand out most in my memory were in '65 and '66.

Both years Tom Testa's footballers were close to winning but lost in the last quarter. In '65 the score was tied 14-14 when an alert Panther scooped up a Bellboy fumble and ran 29 yards for the score with only two minutes left.

In '66 E.O. scored the first TD early in the game to lead 7-0, but Belleville scored in the last quarter only to have their hopes of a tie crushed on a high snap from center.

In '67 and '68 Coach Amabile's first two meetings with E.O. resulted in catastrophes, 32-0 and 26-0, for Belleville's sixth and seventh losses to E.O. in a respective number of years.

This year though, Belleville broke the losing streak and when the E.O. fans broke up the buses, the Board retaliated by severing ties with E.O. The Panthers have been officially dropped from the Bellboy's schedule, and in its place Belleville will meet with Bayonne High School.

Belleville has been scrimmaging Bayonne for the last two years and while Coach Amabile once said he'd rather play E.O. because of the state recognition, Bayonne "is a more aggressive team." In the '68 scrimmage, Amabile said Bayonne "walloped us" but was glad that in '69 both teams seemed even.

The 1970 season opener will still be a spectacular one as Amabile classifies Bayonne High as being "as tough if not tougher" than East Orange. He knows they will be aggressive as they always have been even though he doesn't know whom on their squad is returning, but all this fits into Amabile's theory of football: "the better the competition, the better you play."

(Varsity spring sports begin their first practices this week, so here's the first varsity preview.)

Track coach Ray Haneke is about set to move his boys into the events he wants to have them compete in this year. Haneke feels that his "tough" individuals will have good chances of scoring well in the Big 10 and state meets at the end of the dual season, but since he hasn't had much time with his team yet, he can't give any insight into his second season as head coach.

Three of the trackmen that Haneke sees a good year for are Mark Bradley, a junior, and senior co-captains Ralph Salierio and Vic Squitieri.

Mark, a consistent first place runner last year, will be "scoring well" in the 440. Last year Mark did the 440 around 53 seconds without particular training for just this event. This year if he specializes in the 440, Mark could go below 50 seconds.

Ralph Salierio has been Belleville's number one man in the shot put, and is concerned with the fitness of all the fieldman. Ralph will probably lead the fieldmen in their practices and could throw the shot between 50 and 55 feet.

Vic Squitieri is Haneke's "triple threat". Vic excels in the 100 yard dash, the low hurdles, and switches from track to field for the discus. Last year Vic was the team's top scorer with 82 points and could be the anchorman for the team again this year.

Belleville's Berry Giordano, 1969 District Champ in wrestling at 148 lbs., has started working out for Fairleigh Dickinson's Spring Baseball team. Berry also wrestled for FDU and played on the University's Fall Baseball team, where he pitched a 1-hitter against Iona College winning 1-0 in his first start.

Bob Bonaforte went through the entire season as Essex County College's heavyweight undefeated before he lost in the semi-finals of the Region 19 National Junior College Athletic Association Championships, taking third place.

Obese children are not fat because they overeat. The reason is they are underactive. A detailed study of high school girls showed that obese girls--although they ate less, not more, than normal-weight "controls" spent two-thirds less time in body motion. Inactivity is only one factor in the cause of obesity. Obesity in a young person is particularly serious, because fat children tend to become fat adults and fat adults are more susceptible to disease. Fat or thin, tall or short, we like all our clients. The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries and Wages."

Some of the items included in "Other Expenses" are:

Material, supplies and nonbondable equipment.

Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.

Contractual services.

The "Summary of General Section of Budget" statement develops the local municipal tax levy which includes the "Reserve for Uncollected Taxes" or cash basis "Overlay" not only for local needs but for school and county purposes as well. While school and county taxes are expressed only in amounts of cash needed for their payment, additional taxes must be raised, and included as part of the local levy, so that collections will meet requirements.

County tax is estimated on information presently available and will ultimately be set by the County Board of Taxation. Local School Tax is estimated as follows:

Local Tax Levy as included in the 1970-71 School Budget

(Revised by the voters at the Annual Election)

Amount of Board of Commissioners reduction of the 1969-1970 School Levy reinstated by the Commissioner of Education and now under appeal by the Town of Belleville

Handwriting Shows Length Of Skirts

Check your hemlines, girls, and sign on the dotted line. Sociologist John A. Becker of Rutgers College of South Jersey says your handwriting tells him something about the length of your skirt. He also says the mini (anything shorter than an inch above the knee) is here to stay.

To the legions of dedicated girl watchers, probably no fashion trend during the last four decades has been more appreciated than the miniskirt.

They held their collective breath last year while a Rutgers University sociologist and assorted fashion experts predicted the doom of the short, short skirt.

But the sociologist, John A. Becker, after diligent research and data collecting, has changed his original prediction and is now confident that the short skirt if here to stay despite recent attempts by designers to reverse the international trend.

The hypothesis of his leggy study is that individuals tend to seek personal expression in many seemingly unrelated ways such as handwriting type and mode of dress.

Becker used the miniskirt as the focal point of a class project on "the practical aspects of social research techniques." Sociology students enrolled in Rutgers University College, the evening degree-granting program at the Camden campus, collected the signatures of 400 women and noted the length of the skirt each was wearing.

The signatures were given to a handwriting expert and then a correlation was made between a woman's preference for either the mini (anything shorter than one inch above the knee) or the traditional length (one inch above to below the knee) and the analysis of her handwriting.

On the basis of the leg work done by the student researchers, the study by Becker's team which included a psychologist as well as a graphologist, indicated that "extroverted females are more likely to sport a mini than their less out-going sisters."

Yet, it was noted that most miniskirted women were of the personality type who might have a negative self-image. The inference is that mini-clad gals are somewhat insecure and, in turn, may feel a need to express their womanhood rather dramatically through their form of dress.

Becker says, incidentally, that if it had not been for the development of new hosiery, the miniskirt movement "never would have gotten off the ground much less above the knee."

VERY REVEALING-Rutgers Sociologist John Becker says he can tell how long a girl wears her skirt by her handwriting. Better not send him any letters girls.

Garden State Parkway Improves Safety Record

The Garden State Parkway carried more vehicles than ever in 1969, but suffered less road deaths.

The New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the toll road, reported that Parkway traffic fatalities dropped from 28 in 1968 to 24 last year while the estimated volume of vehicles using the superhighway increased nearly 5 million to a record high of almost 146 million.

With those vehicles driving the all-time long distance of more than 2 1/10 billion miles on the road, the Parkway's 1969 traffic fatality rate decreased from 1.41 the year before to 1.12. The fatality rate per 100 million miles of travel in 1969 was again the lowest among major toll roads of the nation.

In 1968, an estimated 141,072,500 vehicles used the Parkway to travel overall on it for some 1.981 billion

Director Tells Where Do Animals Go When North Winds Blow

When its freezing outside and there are deep snow drifts, humans have the option to either go out - warmly dressed of course - or stay inside to snuggle up near the fireplace with a hot toddy, or some such. But what of the animals in the zoo? Running around in open cages and pens is fine for the summertime, but what do they do in the sub-zero weather?

Since the zoo is closed until it is warm enough for the public to visit again, it seems reasonable that frail zoo creatures like tropical birds, and even some less delicate animals which are used to the hot climates of Asia or Africa, need special attention.

On a recent wintery day at Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange, the largest and only public zoo in the state, zoo director Richard Ryan, pointed out some of the problems: "Our primary difficulty is the need for indoor heated space here in the wintertime," he said. "Fortunately we have a number of animals in our collection that adapt well to cold weather. But you can't have a zoo without some tropical animals, and some of these simply don't adapt to the cold."

Up until last year the turtles were the zoo's biggest headache, according to the zoo director. "We couldn't put them outside until June, and then around Labor Day zip...they'd all go back inside and stay there." He added, "What with the turtle being our landmark, (the zoo has the second largest collection in the nation), people expected them to always be on exhibit. Thanks to funds being made available two years ago we were able to build a glass 'tortistry', and now, even if we were open year-round, they are always visible." (The funds were put up by one the state's leading financial institutions, Carteret Savings and Loan Association).

Building animal shelter structures, such as the tortistry, is, in itself, not a simple matter, according to Ryan. Not only must heat levels be planned for, but reproduction of the temperature and climate of the Amazon Basin, and the proper ventilation in such a glass building, must be accounted for in the design. Next to the turtles, tropical birds are the most weather-sensitive creatures in the zoo. Although they aren't as large, individually, as some of the massive turtles, there are many more of them to house.

The leopards, the zebras and the camels, although from hot climates originally, are not so difficult to cope with as they adapt more easily. However, Ryan pointed out that protection from extremely cold weather must be provided for all zoo inhabitants. The zoo has to improvise sometimes to provide for its animals. As an example they have two rare leopards that are being boarded separately right now, due to difficulty in getting their new air-conditioned cages built. Although the money for the cages was made available through private contributions early last year, construction has not been completed to date. Until that day, one leopard is housed in the zoo's hospital and the other is in a temporary, weather-proofed outdoor cage.

Wintertime births also present special problems. Ryan cited the recent birth of a Sitatunga Antelope: "Nature and our own planning generally tends to keep births during the winter time to a minimum, but it does happen. Handling the birth of the antelope was more complicated than usual. Once the new mother was up and around, she decided that the whole heated antelope

Reveals Tricky Sales Practice

An accidental meeting outside a neighborhood delicatessen between the new and previous owners of a 1968 Javelin resulted in the prosecution of Elm Auto Sales, Kearny, by the state's Office of Consumer Protection.

On March 17, 1969, Edward Kropka bought a 1968 Javelin from Elm Auto Sales. The odometer showed 8,300 miles. Several weeks later, Mrs. Kropka was coming out of a neighborhood delicatessen when a stranger asked her how she liked her new car. The stranger identified himself as Frank Pavese, former owner of the car. Mrs. Kropka replied that she and her husband had gotten a good deal since the car only had 8,000 miles on it. Mr. Pavese then told Mrs. Kropka that, on March 7 when he turned the car into Elm on a trade, the odometer registered approximately 24,000 miles.

Pavese came to the Kropa's home that night with proof of what he had said. He showed them six auto repair invoices from Elm Auto Sales. The invoices covered the entire period of time he had owned the car and listed mileage of from 103 to 23,271 miles. When Elm Auto Sales refused to refund their money, the Kropkas went to the New Jersey Office of Consumer Protection.

Jade Fountain Ushers In Chinese New Year

The Year of the Dog, 4668 by the Chinese Lunar calendar, was ushered in with a royal feast and entertainment imported from HULA EXPERT — Hawaiian dancers made it easy to forget the cold outside during the Jade Fountain's Chinese New Year Celebration.

New York's Chinatown at the Jade Fountain Restaurant in North Arlington. In fact, President Frank Gee invited so many friends, neighbors and customers to celebrate with him and his associates that there were two parties on consecutive nights.

Hula girls, who have performed at the Hawaiian Room, not only captured the guests, but also provided lessons in the art for volunteers of both sexes. Music was provided by Sam Makia and his group. Lovely Mae Ling of Hong Kong sang oriental songs, and Aka from Samoa provided thrills with his knife and flame twirling dances.

But the undisputed star of the evening was the Dragon who did his dances with the aid of energetic Chinese teenagers. The Dragon was fed money. It is supposed to keep the evil spirits away and bring good fortune, and "lettuce" is symbolic of fortune.

"Gung She, Fat Tsai," literally meaning "Wish Happiness, Make Fortune," are the four ancient words that have been repeated since before the days of Confucius on Chinese New Years. The Year of the Dog signifies loyalty. The twelve animals used to designate years in the Chinese system are analogous to the signs of the Zodiac and are supposed to indicate certain personality traits.

A five act student production of "Peter Pan" will be given at Upsala College's Workshop 90 this Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

'Mame' Reviewed

Lively Happenings Now at Paper Mill

By John Spear

Near the beginning of the first act of "Mame," playing through May 2 at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn, Isabelle Farrell has the frazzled Miss Gooch says: "I've been here two weeks and there have been 13 cocktail parties." This gives you an idea of the lively happenings at Auntie Mame. Dennis' prohibition-era home, and also of the bright times that make up this musical play. The show ran for several years on Broadway, being the showcase for many great performances, two most famous being those personal triumphs of Angela Lansbury and just recently Ann Miller.

Now at the Paper Mill, Janet Blair brings beauty and verve to a fine version of this lively musical. Miss Blair has a charming singing voice and is a fine dancer and her supporting players add much to the entertainment.

Miss Farrell playing Gooch is a comic delight, especially when she sings her famous lament. The world's greatest baritone lush is ably played by Ann Mitchell and she is the standout as she contributes many hilarious moments to the play as Vera Charles.

The large-scale production is directed by John Bowab and the original Oona White dances have been restaged with care by Diana Baffa. All of the Jerry Herman songs are there including "Mame," "Open A New Window" and "If He Walked Into My Life." "Mame" at the Paper Mill its a worthwhile and thoroughly entertaining evening.

Meadowbrook Expands Children's Productions

Two performances of the Pixie Judy Troupe during the pre-Christmas season at the Meadowbrook Theatre Restaurant served as a trial balloon to determine interest in a children's theatre. As a result, children's theatre now has become a regular part of Meadowbrook presentations.

Beginning in February and continuing on the Saturdays of each month, the Pixie Judy Troupe is appearing in a series of plays based on classic stories for children. This troupe, which has achieved an enviable reputation for performances of the highest quality, was selected by the Theatre Guild as representing the best in children's theatre.

Plans for the regular Meadowbrook audiences are also under way. Top Broadway shows are scheduled. Orson Bean, the first star in the 1970 luminary, appeared in "The Odd Couple," which played last month. Henry Morgan is following in "Generation," which opens tonight. Comedienne Imogene Coca and Dorothy Collins are also scheduled for shows in the spring.

"The new year promises to be a banner year at the Meadowbrook," John Beaumont, president of Meadowbrook Productions, predicted. "This past season has been received with great enthusiasm. Now we are planning a schedule of sparkling entertainment for our adult audiences, as well as other innovations, such as the children's theatre. We will continue to build on the already solid reputation for great entertainment that Meadowbrook has earned during the more than 30 years of its existence."

Broadway Show Comes To Theater Via Film

"Hello, Dolly!" — said to be one of the truly all time great Broadway shows — is now at the Willowbrook Cinema in a full color, 70mm 20th Century-Fox motion picture version that has been hailed as the greatest musical produced by Hollywood in more than a decade.

The exclusive New Jersey showing of this musical classic at the Willowbrook Cinema located in the Willowbrook Mall, Rte. 46 and 23, Wayne, is expected to have a long term run of well over one year according to Spyros Lenas, head of DeVisser Theaters which operates the Cinema. All show seats including those for matinees, are reserved.

The all-star cast, headed by Barbara Steisand as Dolly Levi, and directed by the renowned dancer Gene Kelly is resplendent in its scope, excitement, tenderness, grandeur and lavishness.

Reservations for group attendance are available at the Theater Ticket Sales Division. Tickets are on a "first come first serve" basis and the only limitation on the group program is the minimum requirement of 50 persons or more.
