

Rodino To Appear

Congressman To Lead Belleville's Parade

Congressman Peter Rodino will be grand marshal for Belleville's tenth annual Cherry Blossom Parade on Sunday, April 26.

The announcement came this week from Jaycee parade chairman Andy Vyninski, who is coordinating Belleville's yearly celebration of the arrival of Cherry Blossoms in town.

In addition to Rodino, Vyninski reports that Miss New Jersey, Cheryl Carter will bring her court for a walk down the Washington Avenue parade thoroughfare. Also scheduled is Belleville's own Queen for 1969-70, Miss Marilyn Casale, plus Miss Montclair State and the Essex County Junior Miss. Miss Carter was second runner-up in the Miss America Pageant.

The parade, which is to start at 3 p.m. on Greylack Parkway and proceed down Washington Avenue to William Street, marks the ninth straight year that the Belleville Jaycees have handled the affair. The annual Miss Belleville contest was cancelled this year by the group.

This year's march will feature many local units such as the Sabre Cadets, who will lead the procession, and the Belleville High School Marching Band.

Thus far, 10 band units have promised to enter the parade, according to Vyninski, who expects many more to announce entries before April 26. The chairman says he has contacted every organization in Belleville and many noted units in neighboring towns. Local bands he says will occupy the first lines of the parade.

Among the units already accepting invitations are the Shrine Motor Temple Guard, a motorcycling group, and the Historical Unit of the Newark Fire Department which has promised an antique engine for the parade.

Vyninski also is hoping for a touch of youth in the parade. He has contacted numerous "speed shops" in the area in order to get hot rod cars and "dune buggies" to join the procession.

Aiding Vyninski, who lives at 91 Highfield Lane in Nutley, will be Bob Peters and Emile Brauer and the Jaycee membership. Peters will get open cars for the queens, while Emile Brauer will coordinate parade personnel.

Lists Cuts In Budget For '70

The Belleville Board of Education listed Monday night where the $196,000 cut from its budget by the Commission would be deleted from.

At a special meeting, the Board passed a revised budget calling for a $150,000 cut in capital outlay for a proposed rewiring at the Junior High School and $21,000 out of expenditures for maintenance and purchase of furniture and equipment. The Board said that $25,000 would be applied from surplus cash.

Rt. 21 Accidents Blamed On Ice

Icy conditions on Route 21 last week caused two related accidents involving three vehicles.

A car driven by an East Rutherford man last Wednesday skidded out of control on an icy patch in the road, hit the center island and turned over on its side. The accident occurred southbound, about 200 feet from the Belleville Bridge.

The 6:34 a.m. incident sent Peter Termyn, 44 of 42 Wall Street to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital where he is being detained for treatment of multiple facial injuries and a fractured jaw, a hospital spokesman said.

A few moments after the mishap, a second car, driven by Marie Daly of 38 Spring Grove Street, Lincoln Park, attempted to avoid the overturned vehicle and spun completely around and faced on-coming traffic. A third auto, driven by Frank Marsiano, 66, of 55 Prospect Street, Nutley, skidded into Miss Daly's car. Neither were seriously injured.

The incidents came just two weeks after the State Highway Department notified Belleville authorities that added safety devices for the roadway were forthcoming.

As of yet, Trenton hasn't acted.

Promised by the state is higher and stronger guardrails plus warning lights on abutment approaches.

Belleville officials, notably Mayor Ken Smith and Municipal Court Judge Edward Abramson have been seeking safety features for over a year on the roadway, which has seen frequent accidents since its inception in 1958.

Scarlet Cadets Draw Criticism

Board of Education president Rocco Saletta Monday night charged that the Belleville Scarlet Cadets had been "unfair" in their criticism of the school body in a March 19 letter to The Times.

In that letter, written by Scarlet Cadet director Violet Tortorello, the Board was chastised for not allowing the marching group use of the high school for a competition. The cadets director said that Nutley's School Board had provided facilities.

Master Plan Seen As Possible Path In School Crisis

by Nat Gottlieb

Belleville School Board President Rocco Saletta has announced the Board will begin preparations this month for a major master plan for education designed to meet a mounting enrollment crisis in the school system.

Monday, Saletta told The Times that Dr. Donald Walling, director of research at the Rutgers School of Education had been invited to meet with the school body on April 27 to discuss the possibility of conducting a thorough study of Belleville's enrollment problem and its entire educational program. The study would be geared toward assessing expansion possibilities for Belleville schools, Saletta said.

What has precipitated the school Board move is the expectation of an additional 350 students next year, according to Saletta, who says Belleville's schools are already filled to capacity. Last year 172 new pupils entered the system.

Saletta says that an influx of parochial school transfer students and the trend toward new apartment construction in town are the primary causes for the increased enrollment.

Although unsure of just what form the master plan will take, Saletta did speculate that a reorganization of Belleville's grade structure was definitely possible. Mention was made of moving the ninth grade into the high school and leaving the lower grades set-up as kindergarten through sixth grade, with seventh and eighth grade as the junior high.

Saletta also said that after a study is eventually made, an architect will be hired to assess the building costs involved in expansion.

Originally, Saletta had announced that the architectural firm of Wiedersum Associates would begin study last week of the situation. This week, however, Saletta said that the Board had decided it was better to determine enrollment patterns before inviting the architects to propose any physical expansion.

Of immediate attention the past few weeks was the anger voiced by the School 8 PTA, which was protesting the overcrowded situation in its school. Specifically, the PTA was annoyed at the Board for considering putting two new classrooms in that school's basement, rooms classified by state law as "substandard." (A substandard room is one that is more than 50 per cent underground.) The PTA said they saw no reason why the School Board should occupy "carpeted offices" in that school's first floor and place the children in the basement.

Saletta said that a study would take about a month, at a cost of $1,000-$3,000.

Finances for any long range master plan apparently will have to come via a bond issue, an idea the board only recently has come to accept. In December the board rejected Mayor Ken Smith's idea that it make a total reevaluation of expansion needs and offer a bond referendum. When the Commission last month cut $150,000 ear marked for a capital outlay reworking job in the Junior High, the School Board apparently began to accept the idea that any expansion would have to come through a bond issue.

The reevaluation of the system will be the first such examination since 1959.

Currently, there is no available classroom space in either the Junior or senior high's according to Board figures released to The Times.

The figures also show the following breakdown of available space in local schools:

*School One has one classroom available and two library and reading rooms on the third floor.

*School Two has half of a kindergarten room left and one library room.

*School Three has two available rooms and one library room.

*School Four has four available classes, one school library room and two town

600 Set To Honor 2 Judges

Six-hundred persons are expected at the April 30 "Law Day" tribute to Judges Edwin J. C. Joerg and Edward Abramson, newspaper publisher Frank A. Orechio announced last night.

Sponsored by The Nutley Sun and Belleville Times-News, the testimonial dinner will complete ticket sales during the coming week.

Seating arrangements for The Fountain should be finalized as early as next Thursday.

Orechio made the announcement at last night's meeting of attorneys, law enforcement officials and court associates - all comprising the general committee making plans for the dinner honoring the two municipal judges.

Zone Ordinance Hearing Tonight

Belleville's proposed new zoning map and ordinance will have its first of three public hearings tonight at 8 p.m. in School Nine.

The new proposals, drawn up by the town Planning Board, would revise a zoning structure established in 1923.

Tonights hearing will cover the section of town commonly known as "the Valley," generally lying between Washington Avenue and the Passaic River.

One area expected to draw close scrutiny by Valley residents is zoning which permits high rise apartment dwellings and industrial construction.

Efforts in the past to bring such construction to the Valley have been met with mass opposition. Three years ago area residents registered a stormy protest against the Planning Board's proposed "master plan" which residents feared would encourage these two types of construction in the Valley.

A second hearing is scheduled May 14 at School Four at 8 p.m. Area to be covered will include the section referred to as "Silver Lake," generally lying in the southwest corner of town, south of Belleville Avenue and west of Franklin Avenue.

The third hearing is set at School Eight on May 28. Covered will be the area bounded by Washington Avenue, the Nutley boundary, the Bloomfield boundary, Belleville Avenue, Franklin Avenue and the Newark boundary.

Benefit Set April 24

Belleville High School's stage band and dance group will give the Debbie McCool Fund a big boost Friday, April 24, when they perform a benefit concert in the high school auditorium. Debbie McCool is a Belleville High School senior afflicted with a rare blood disease.

Under the direction of Robert Wing, the band has become well known throughout the East Coast. Tickets are available through Mike Marotti, Al Pico and Mario De Maggio.

Station Set To Donate Net Profits

The Vee Bee Esso Station will donate its entire net proceeds for Saturday, April 25 to the Debbie McCool Fund.

Labelled a "Gasarama," the event will be a day-long fund-raising effort for Debbie McCool, a Belleville High School senior who is afflicted with a rare blood disease.

Volunteers will man the gas pumps at the station, which is located on the corner of Joralemon Street and Franklin Avenue.

Net proceeds for the day should run over $300, according to the station's proprietors, the Bruno brothers', Lou Sr., Lou Jr. and Frank.

The S & H Green Stamps Co. will also participate in the gasarama. They will donate prizes during free drawings all day.

Musician Captures Honors

Michael Yannuzzi, 14, of 11 New Street recently captured four awards in the annual A.T.A. Music Contest and Festival held at the Robert Treat Hotel for his skills on the accordion.

His honors include first place in the 15 year-old duet; third place in the 17 year-old duet, and third place in the 14 year old open solo.

Winning trophies in music competition is nothing new for Michael, having won his first musical award at age eight. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yannuzzi, have devoted one special room in their home as a "place of honor" to display his many trophies.

Because of his outstanding musicianship, Michael is now eligible for the national contest in Washington D.C. during July.

Besides the musical studies which he has pursued at the De Bellis Music School, the 14 year old is an honor student at Essex Catholic High School.

*School Five has two rooms, a half of a kindergarten and one library room available.

*School Seven has by far the most available space, with seven rooms open on the third floor, half of a kindergarten and one library room.

*School Eight has one library room, two basement rooms and three administration offices.

*School Nine has half a kindergarten, one basement room and one library room.

*School Ten has a half of a kindergarten and one library room available.

Saletta said that the Wiedersum firm would probably handle any expansion plans entered into by the Board.

Wiedersum was responsible or the addition at School Two, and rendered the $250,000 cost estimation for the rewiring job at the Junior High School, a job which has been temporarily sidelined due to lack of available funds.

Tax Rate Decreases

effective in 1969, resulted in the large increase, McCoy says. Last re-evaluation was in 1957.

Also affecting the new rate is a $19,029.88 bank stock tax return. The state annually taxes bank stock and returns a portion of it to the towns, according to McCoy. Last year's return was $15,871.22.

The total reduction comes to $49,179.67, which actually is less than three points. The municipal tax rate of 1.29, which was on the borderline of 1.28, will now fall to that level. The 1.29 represented a rounded off figure.

A Smear Gross Campaign

A subtle campaign has been underway to undermine the U. S. Senatorial candidacy of State Republican Chairman Nelson G. Gross of Bergen County.

Professional politicians and students of politics have come to expect ugly and evil efforts launched by people determined to cut down the front runner in almost any political campaign.

Therefore it is not surprising to witness the current effort to sabotage Gross. A person with the public record of a Nelson Gross is difficult to cut down.

Nelson Gross is a Yale University Graduate, earned a J.D. degree from the Columbia University Law School, and while attending law school served as Clerk to the New Jersey Assembly Committee on Revision and Amendment of Laws.

Gross served for two years as Assistant U. S. Attorney for the District of New Jersey and subsequently became Chief Counsel to the New Jersey Senate Investigating Committee.

In 1962 Gross was elected to the New Jersey State Assembly and a year later he took on the job of County Counsel in Bergen County. Since then he has served as County Adjuster of Bergen County, member of the Bergen County Welfare Board, and as a member of the County Charter Study Commission.

In 1966 Nelson Gross became Bergen County Republican Chairman after winning over three other opponents. In 1968 he was influential in President Nixon's effort to obtain the Republican nomination and in the fall campaign against former Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Nelson Gross led the winning campaign for President Nixon in New Jersey.

In 1969 Nelson Gross practically single-handedly nominated Governor William Cahill, and in the fall election against former Governor Robert B. Meyner, Gross again came through with another smashing Republican victory, leading the Cahill campaign to a 500,000 vote victory.

Nelson Gross accomplished all these feats and he is still in his mid-thirties. His integrity, responsibility, and leadership are matters of public record. Not only will Nelson Gross survive the present smear campaign but even at this writing he looks like a probable winner in November.

Realtor Provides Background Of Sale of Calico Lane Home

By George T. Bowes
Nutley Realtor

After reading the article in the Nutley Sun, Thursday, April 2nd, headed "Calico Lane Subdivision Seen - Issue", I felt that I wanted to write this letter as the Realtor who negotiated the sale to Anthony Baldino, in order to clarify the facts in connection with the sale of this property.

This property was Multiple Listed by our office on October 20, 1969, at a price of $69,000. For almost a year prior to this the property had been offered on an open basis. Gary Korkala, who you state is the leader of the group of Nutley residents opposed to the sale, has spoken to Mr. Schaefer about purchasing the property and, because of this direct contact, had been excepted from the Multiple Listing.

The Baldinos purchased the property on February 7, 1970, at a price of $55,000. This meant that the house was offered under Multiple Listing for a period of over 3½ months and, prior to that, on and off for almost a year. During all this time no one had made an offer satisfactory to Mr. Schaefer until the offer was received from Baldino.

better offers, with the thought in mind of subdividing part, or all, of the property.

To my knowledge no one who intended to keep the property in tact was interested in making an offer sufficiently high enough to satisfy Mr. Schaefer. There had been several interested parties ready to make Knowing about Mr. Schaefer's desire to only sell to someone who would use the Old Mason Homestead for their residence, we were quite pleased when, after showing the house to the Baldinos, Mrs. Baldino was very much interested in making this her home. Due to their desire to preserve the historic value of the property, Mr. Baldino felt that he might be required to obtain the subdivision for one lot to help defray the expense of renovation.

I am somewhat surprised at the adverse reaction of Nutley residents, and the conclusions that have been formed as to Mr. Baldino's intentions, especially when the opposition to the subdivision is being led by one who did have a personal interest in purchasing the property.

New 'Forum' in Round Compares Favorably to Broadway Original

By Lauren Brahm

Having seen the Broadway production of "Forum" where Zero Mostel excelled to our greatest delight, it is to be confessed that Wednesday's Meadowbrook opener was watched with prejudiced eyes.

But the musical hadn't gotten along very far before we fell in love with Frank Fontaine (in the role originally played by Zero Mostel) and Coley Worth who was a standby in five parts of the original "Forum" on Broadway.

One doesn't expect a theater-in-the-round production to come up to Broadway standards (although some of the shows at the Meadowbrook have topped those in the Big City), and certainly we would be dishonest to say that "Funny Thing" at the Meadowbrook is as good as the original. But don't jump to conclusions: we loved the Meadowbrook show. It was great, funny, moved along at a humorous clip and, in short, provided us with one of our most enjoyable evenings at the theater.

Frankie Fontaine was the audience's love. People remember his weekly comedy sketches on the Jackie Gleason series. At the Meadowbrook, Frankie Fontaine's singing voice comes across true and clear.

Perhaps the real star of "Forum" is Coley Worth who portrays the old man "Senex" with unusual sensitivity. The character of "Senex" could easily be misplayed too but the senility and frustration of this lecherous "dirty old man" are handled to entertaining perfection by Coley Worth.

"A Funny Thing" takes place in ancient Rome and a young Roman named Hero (David McCorkle) falls in love with a virgin who is the private property of a warrior. Hero's slave (Frank Fontaine) plots a plan to win the virgin for his master and then develops a lot of Funny Things.

The Meadowbrook production continues through April 26. It's a delightfully funny show that we recommend for all.

Not Enough Emphasis Put On Speeders

To The Editor:

Recently an article appeared in your paper regarding a Citizens' Group which was being formed to protest traffic conditions in the Belleville Avenue and Union Avenue area.

Several children have been seriously injured by autos here recently.

This group was interested mainly in controlling speeding and careless driving which we felt contributed to most of the accidents. Also the traffic light at the intersection does not allow safe pedestrian crossing when school guards are not on duty.

The tone of your article however, as well as accompanying photos made it appear that illegally parked cars were the culprits. The police understandably began rigidly enforcing parking regulations while the moving cars (the real culprits) continue to use the intersection in the same manner as before.

Our group is not concerned with parked cars. Parked cars do not run over children. What our aims are and have always been are:

1 - Speed limitations signs on Belleville Avenue.

2 - Rigid enforcement of speed limit

3 - Study of traffic signal at intersection - with aim of changing signal to make safe pedestrian crossing possible

4 - The possibility of installing a traffic signal and crosswalk near branchbrook park so children can cross Belleville Avenue safely to enter the park.

These aims of our group somehow became misrepresented in your article. Please give this matter your utmost attention and try to correct the feeling the article created.

Says Column Could Bridge Generation Gap

To The Editor:

Bouquets to you, sir! Thank you for a few minutes of pleasant entertainment through your column of April 2. Your humor and style really gave a good boost to the old Times. Of course, I had to check whether I was really reading the Belleville Times and not The New Yorker. Keep it up and, just maybe, your under-thirty audience may invest some time in reading something besides their friends' wedding announcements. If I didn't want to be trite, I might even say you could be helping to bridge the generation gap (yee! I hate that phrase and don't believe I wrote it) in Belleville, but then, I really hate to be trite.

Thank you also for another bit of unmeasurable entertainment by your description of Kurt Lemberger's getting a past president's plague, especially in this day and age of public health precautions.

By the way, why was she wearing bowling shoes?—or as Benjamin Braddock might have phrased it, "Oh no, she wasn't wearing tennis shoes, was she? to be repeated in basic Hoffman-ese guttural monotone.

Commissioners' Action Protested

To The Editor:

We are taxpayers of this town have been strongly protesting the action taken by the commission and the board of education since the return to commission government. This sent our taxes sky high, leaving the taxpayers and tenants at the mercy of the politicians who are in power.

As a taxpayer caught in this storm I will support the people in their fight for survival.

Since the government refuses to listen to the wishes of the people they should be removed from office. There are many of us homeowner taxpayers living on a fixed budget of less than three thousand dollars and we pay the same price for a loaf of bread.

This new raid on the pocket books of the people has the taxpayers in arms and creating a serious problem which will not go unanswered. It could bring about a tax strike.

Our homes have been heavily taxed by an illegal and false assessment ordered by the County without a court fight by the politicians in control for the benefit of their political machines.

Wage increases granted year after year to all persons above the increment on the city payroll and in the school system who have security in their jobs is like a terminal disease and spreading everywhere.

Inflation is a poor excuse used by the politicians trying to sell the people a bill of goods. It was born somewhere in the state of taxes. It was the name of a man who owned a tavern he raised his prices on his own.

New tax programs have been created by those in control in the hope they would curb inflation and bring tax relief; all at the expense of the public. This is a hoax on the people and they produced violence and uprisings.

For the good of all we must not remain powerless to act. The taxpayer and the tenant must fight together for their own good for both will suffer under these conditions.

The politicians in town give us no choice but to demand that they resign.

People Put Nix On Four Cent Postage Hike

Question: What do you think of President Nixon's proposal to raise the rate for first class mail from six cents to 10 cents?

Asked: of Nutley and Belleville citizens.

Mrs. Ann Cummings, 818 Jorelmon Street, Belleville

I disagree with that proposal. Why should they raise the mail rate when only a few short years ago, they hiked it. Six cents is already too much to mail a letter and raising it to 10 cents is way out of proportion. They're getting enough money from first class mail as it is. I thought it was right for the mailmen to go on strike because they were being underpaid and they do deserve a salary boost, but hiking the mail four cents is too much. It's way out of proportion.

Mrs. Cummings

Mike Prystowsky, 4 Garden Place, Nutley

I don't at all agree with the president's proposal. I can remember when the cost to mail a letter was less than it is now and raising it to 10 cents would be much too expensive. It would hurt the average person to have to pay a dime just to mail a letter. The cost is six cents now, then it would be 10 cents and after that the government would want another boost in postage rates. Raising the rate again would be very unfair. I don't know exactly how much they should be getting. But raising the postage rate four cents is too much.

Bob Sullivan, 35 DeWitt Avenue, Belleville

I don't know too much about Nixon's proposal to raise the mail rate but I have heard some talk of it over the radio. If this is true, then I have to disagree with him. There probably is going to be a hike in the postage rate but I think that four cents is too much. The mailmen are underpaid and they should get a hike, but uping the postage four cents on every letter is out of proportion. I wouldn't mind a one or two cent hike but many people would be hurt by raising the mail to 10 cents.

Bob Sullivan

Mike Mitrovic, 254 Ridge Road, Nutley

Raising the postage to 10 cents would just be hurting our economy. I thought the Nixon administration was trying to curb inflation but if this proposal goes into effect, it will be just hurting the cause. I wouldn't be affected that much by the proposed hike but it would surely hurt the small businessman. The small businessman depends alot on the mail, and a four cent boost would be too much for him. I sympathised with the mailmen when they went out on strike and I agree that they should get a raise. But four cents added onto every letter makes for alot of money and I'm sure that all this money wouldn't be just going for the mailman's pay hike.

Judging from the ineffectiveness of the air traffic controllers' 'sick out' this past weekend, it appears that air travelers can look forward to a return to normal operations. Last Friday Flight 897 took off from Newark and arrived in Fort Lauderdale only 30 minutes late. The return trip on Flight 896 Monday arrived at the Newark ramp on time. Fred Niedenstein, Customer Services Representative for Eastern at the Newark Airport, and Al Dunbar, his counterpart at the Fort Lauderdale Airport, performed remarkably under the most stressing conditions. Unless a person is at the starting gate, it is difficult to imagine the foam and fury coming from impatient passengers who seem to be oblivious to problems beyond the control of airline personnel. Once the plane is airborne, these same irate people don't hesitate to give the stewardesses a hard time, notwithstanding the fact that all the poor girls can do is provide food and beverage — and that with a smile. Senior Stewardess Roberta Facardi aboard 897 probably is one of the fastest working stewardesses flying in the Eastern uniform. Ground speed, incidentally, of the 727 was 606 miles per hour, thanks to a tail wind which permitted the 896 to make up 20 minutes delay encountered in Fort Lauderdale.

Al Abrahams, former Executive Secretary to U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case, last month was appointed by President Nixon as Assistant Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) We brought Al into the first U.S. Senate campaign to help Cliff Case. Through the years Al eventually went to the top serving as PR for governor Nelson Rockefeller's Presidential campaign.

This week the New York Yankees ended the best spring season in 15 years, beating Houston 10-1, closing out the period with 18 victories and 27 games. Elston Howard thinks the term is terrific and honestly believes the Yankees could end up No. 1.

It was distressing to read about Gene Tunney's daughter Joan Wilkinson being charged with the murder of her 31-year-old husband. Tunney at 72 has lived the life of a model citizen and should have been spared the ordeal of this tragedy.

George McMunn, Program Chairman of The Nutley Lion's Club meeting held April Fool's Day, certainly established some sort of a record in "speaker" selection for other Program Chairmen to shoot at. We had the good fortune to be the luncheon guest of our friend Tom Infusino. The sales pitch of the guest speaker was something to behold — in every way it was an action-packed 20 minute program. If anyone is looking around for a dynamic, challenging, moving personality to charge up an audience, contact George McMunn. In the event George McMunn is unavailable, Sam Brown should have the number.

President Nixon's nomination of Federal Judge G. Harrold Carswell will probably speak through the U.S. Senate this week. Based upon the conservative philosophy of Carswell, it appears that the Supreme Court of the United States will come back to main-stream America.

In Anaheim, California, a controversial sex education program was cut back drastically under pressure from conservatives, and it is predicted the courses of study will be terminated by next fall. Sex education in the public school system got its real start in Anaheim, and the "end" will probably start in Anaheim since two anti-sex school board members have been elected to the five-member board and they are determined to terminate the program. The school supervisor who initiated the whole thing has been demoted to Curriculum Consultant. Of 45 books once used to teach sex courses, four remain. And instead of 40 films to choose from, teachers now only have two. We have a feeling that sex is here to stay and, since it's going to be around for awhile more, it appears logical to us the subject ought to be dealt with more frankly than in the past. Sensible, realistic limitations on the teaching of sex courses should be established, but a program should be adopted by every school system in the nation. One may ask at what age is a child old enough to accept this course of study without corrupting his or her values. Age minimums for one part of the country may not be applicable to another. It all comes down to the need to make decisions at the local level.

Each school district has its own problems of environment and geography. These should be taken into account when one attempts to determine the application and the scope of a sex course in the public school system.

The current issue of Reader's Digest features an article, 'where All the Drugs Come From.' It is interesting to note the following statistic: 80% of marijuana originates in Mexico, millions of goof balls (barbituates) and Bennies (amphetamines) sold in school yards throughout the United States also originate in Mexico; cocaine is brought into Miami and New York by couriers who fly up from South America carrying false-bottom suitcases or wearing custom-made vests. A major quantity of heroin used in the United States originates in the poppy fields of Turkey. For anyone interested in today's dope problem, the current issue of Reader's Digest should prove very revealing.

COMPLAINT DEPARTMENT - - - - - received a complaint from Nutley neighbor Henri Otteau who says Eastern Airlines Washington, D.C., shuttle is something he would not want to do without. Henri forgets that Eastern wants to substitute regular scheduled service for the shuttle. Why not? We received a telephoned complaint from a lady with a charming voice who thought we were out of our minds for suggesting that Eastern Airlines was right in wanting to substitute regular scheduled service for the Washington shuttle.

A Tough Job For An Ex-Fighter Pilot

Belleville's new health officer, Edward Hillery, this week stepped into a job which has seen controversial exits by two predecessors. Dr. Gerson Ram, this town's first health officer, was fired two years ago by Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo in a move which had to go to the courts to be upheld. Last January, Dr. J.R. Bevenetto "resigned" via a Civil Service technicality after his second suspension from Strumolo in two years.

Without attempting to analyze these situations, it is obvious that Ed Hillery steps into a difficult position, one which demands both dedication and a strict eye towards the town's welfare.

Taking on a tough job is nothing new for Hillery, who spent 20 years in the Air Force as both a fighter pilot and a trainer of pilots, retiring as a Lt. Colonel.

Born September 6, 1913 in Boonton, Hillery is a graduate of that school system and holds a B.S. in chemistry and physics from St. Peter's College in Jersey City (1935).

Finishing School, Hillery enrolled in the Air Corps flying school in San Antonio Texas in 1936, beginning a career which sent him to many distant places around the globe.

When the second World War broke, he was detailed to New Guinea for combat duty. After a stint there, Hillery returned to the states and served as a pilot trainer in various bases.

The new health officer recalls that in 1943 he was given special orders to report to the MGM movie company as a technical adviser for the movie, "A Guy Named Joe," starring Spencer Tracey and Irene Dunn.

He also remembers being in charge of P-38 flight training for the West Coast while stationed in San Diego. He was later transferred to the Philippines at the end of the War as a U.S. Advisor Group member.

Before his retirement from service, Hillery served as operations officer for the 27th Air Division in Newberg, N.J.

Leaving his uniform behind, Hillery enrolled in training in Pittsburg for the Allegheny Health Department as a sanitary inspector. He served in that capacity six years before going to Englewood two years ago, where he has been chief sanitary inspector and health officer. He received his health officer's license last June.

The new official still lives in Englewood with his wife Shirley and two sons, but plans to move to Belleville in time for the fall school term. A third son is a narcotics agent in Palm Beach, Fla.

Local Carnivals Leave Mothers Out Of Breath

By Helen Maguire

Carnivals are not permitted in Nutley and I am sure there are good and valid reasons why they are outlawed. But nothing draws a neighborhood closer together or provides more fun and headaches than an old fashioned, honky tonk, "something for everyone" carnival.

This whole carnival business started when one of our sons decided he would produce a circus in the backyard and while he was still mapping out plans, our next door neighbor spied him and came over the wall to see what was going on.

This neighbor bears a strong resemblance, though certainly not physically, to the Pied Piper of Hamelin. Like that legendary gentleman, she possesses the uncanny ability to attract children and keep them interested in a project for a considerable length of time. "The circus is out," declared Marion. "we'll have a carnival instead."

We had a carnival alright. It ran for three consecutive years. The first year, barely organized and operating on a literal shoestring, it netted $70. The second year, expanded and moved to the double driveway next door, it made $250. By the third year, we were old hands at this kind of thing and really went to town.

Featured attraction was a show in the neighbor's garage which went on every couple of hours and was complete with band, chorus line and solo performers. The band, hastily assembled from surrounding streets, was full of enthusiasm and willingness to work. They rehearsed "Downtown" so often and with such vigor that everyone within earshot wished they'd go uptown. The chorus line whose members were in the three, four and five year old bracket, wore rag mop wigs and crepe paper costumes.

But this is the point I started out to make. Everybody on the block got in on the act. The children started in early January to plan for the carnival in late June. Parents ransacked their attics and cellars for "treasures" for the white elephant table and then came over and bought them back again. Mothers baked cakes, fathers painted boxes and signs, the kids ran the games and performed in the shows.

That third carnival made $388 which went, as had the profits from the two previous years, to the Leukemia Foundation in memory of a dear little girl on the block who had passed away in the summer of 1963.

The night the last carnival closed, the Pied Piper staggered into our kitchen. "Never again," she vowed. "I've had it." Our show business days were over.

We've Heard About Sandlot Baseball But This Is Carrying It A Bit Too Far

This is going to sound awfully healthy doc, so brace yourself: Sometimes we find someone worse off than us!

Shocking huh? Well listen to what fate did to the Belleville High School baseball team last week.

It was a typically sunny spring day when we decided to check out the progress of Coach Charlie Travers' baseball squad.

Thinking: in depth coverage, we scoop up a camera with three different size lenses and a miniature note pad, the kind small enough so that if a stray grounder comes your way, you can stuff the pad in your pocket, bend quick enough to strain most major muscles in the lower back, and get off a wing ding professional throw to the pitcher who is no where nearly as impressed by the youthful outburst as are your arm muscles, which are crying out in disbelief: My God you didn't ask me to do that did you?

Anyway, on this particular day, being a creature of habit, we search for the squad at the most obvious place, the ball field, which is where you're supposed to play this sort of thing.

Well, they aren't there. As a matter of fact, if a car hadn't of honked in the parking lot behind the high school, we would never had seen them.

They were scattered about the asphalt lot, looking for all the world like parking attendants having a choose up game between races at Freehold. Which is funny and almost makes you laugh except you remember that these are kids and they have pride and even the old Mets wouldn't have opened on that "turf."

Now if you live in Brooklyn or Manhattan and you hear that your kid's shaggin' flies on concrete you say so what because you've learned to adapt to the city living style, which means in addition to not feeling people push, shove and grab at you, you think it's a cabbies right to dismember you if his psychotic speed freak driving machine has a Big Fare for Katz's Delicatessen and so what if a kid has to rough it on the asphalt.

But this is Belleville, quaint suburban town trembling in innocent horror on the edge of problem besieged Newark, quaint Belleville where the tax rate just jumped 45 points.

Why are the kids on the lot. Well the field wasn't ready because there wasn't a pitcher's mound put in nor were the football fences removed or the infield raked. And whose fault? Well that depends on whom you ask because there's so much buck passing that Washington's face is worn out from the friction. In the end only the kids suffer.

They're out there, in the cold, on this classy "field" which features a light pole to the shortstops left, a pebble strewn infield, parked autos and a backstop 40 yards away which is secretly posing as a Passaic Avenue curb.

Practice is not easy. Batters can't hit fly balls because there's no room to blast anything further than a foul tip. The outfielders meanwhile, have both hands in their mits to keep warm, and if a fly ball accidentally threatens them, they holler hey what's going on here.

In addition, sliding practice is illegal (there are laws against suicide aren't there?), and baseball spikes aren't worn for fear of igniting oneself from the sparks.

Joe Papisidero, star junior shortstop suffers the most. He is hit in the head three times by grounders - the likes of which he has never seen, he also bruises two fingers so they swell up and stay with him for the opening game the following week.

In the end, Joe picks up a ball which has made a sudden stop in a puddle, dries it on his pants, and leaves a stain for his mother to clean so that in the end everybody gets in the act. Even the grounds crew and the supervisors and the execs, who manage to get the job done finally despite the handicap of continually pointing fingers at each other.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills. That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

Homeowners enjoy trouble free heat permanently. That's because all burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are heating equipment headaches — for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank, pump or boiler repairs, no valves to leak, no chimneys or air filters to clean or replace; no damage from leaking pipes; no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Homeowners tell us their health has improved. That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable. That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system.

If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.

Local Students To Star In Musical

Two of the leading roles in Essex Catholic High Schools production of West Side Story tomorrow will be portrayed by local residents.

Catherine Mathias, daughter of Mrs. Marie Mathias of 75 Emmet Street will play "Anita." William Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weiss of

Catherine Mathias Plays "Anita"

132 Hornblower Avenue plays "Riff." Cathy is a sophomore at East Orange Catholic, where she is a member of both the Drama and Glee Clubs. She also belongs to Holy Family's Metropolitan Theater Company and has performed in their production of Bye Bye Birdie and the Miracle Worker.

She is a member of Holy Family Parish, Nutley, where she currently sings the C.Y.O. Folk Mass each Sunday morning.

Bill is a senior at Essex where he is an honor student, class vice president, member of Spirit Co m, the Dance Committee, Brother Rice Club, Drama Club, and Golf team. In January he was named an Essex "Man of the Week."

Bill, also is active in intramurals and has played basketball both for St. Peter's C.Y.O. and the town Recreation League.

Last year he appeared in East Orange Catholic's production of Bye Bye Birdie at Montclair State and also worked on the stage crew for that show.

Bill is a commentator and lector at St. Peter's, his home parish.

A sister-dance team will be featured in West Side Story when Mary Lynn and Kathleen Janiec of 368 Washington Avenue appear with the "Jets."

Both Mary Lynn a junior and Kathleen a freshman at East Orange Catholic belong to the Student Council, Drama Club, Gymnastic and Athletic Associations. They both serve as Cherry Aides at Mountainside Hospital, Montclair and are members of St. Peter's Parish. They are the daughters of Mr.

and Mrs. Joseph Janiec.

While Kathy will be performing for the first time, Mary Lynn danced in Brigadoon at Essex last year and played "Sarah Brown" in East Orange Catholic's Drama Club presentation of "Spoon River Anthology" earlier this year.

Dancing also will be Debbie Gaglio of 20 Bernice Road. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gaglio, Debbie is a sophomore at East Orange Catholic and a member of the Drama Club. She belongs to the Holy Family Parish, Nutley.

WEST SIDE STORY RETURNS TO BROADWAY

The popular musical opens a six night engagement at the Essex Catholic Theatre at 300 Broadway tomorrow night.

With a cast and orchestra whose members hail from Essex Catholic, East Orange Catholic, Nutley High, and other schools, the Drama Club of the Newark high school will present the show April 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, and 19. Curtain will be at 8 p.m. with a 2:30 p.m. matinee on April 12.

This highly cooperative effort, already in its third month of rehearsal, is under the direction of Dr. Richard V. Gray who teaches physical at Essex Catholic. The 29 year old Christian Brother readily admits that he has never had a drama course in his life. Yet he produced and directed such stage hits as Oklahoma, Brigadoon, Harvey, and Inherit The Wind at the school.

"I simply enjoy working with young people" comments the boyish-looking religious. "Bringing kids into real-life situations and working with them to create these characters gives real satisfaction to both the kids and me," he added.

The show's two professionals, Dale Smith and Dave Hunt, rehearse the cast with choreography and the musicians with the orchestra twice a week independently. Dale Smith handles the intricate dancing while Dave Hunt works with the student orchestra.

Br. Daniel G. O'Brien worries about the demanding singing required of the cast. He is the school's Glee Club director and music appreciation teacher.

Unique because of their diversity of schools, the West Side Story cast is also quite talented. Most will count this play as their third or fourth stage experience. Many have also enjoyed roles in New York and local professional shows.

Even after rehearsals end, the lights in the 999 seat theater burn late for the stage crew. Br. Gray is equally adept with a hammer and conduit cable. Since his arrival at the school, his stage crews have added a second level to the stage, replaced sandbags and ropes with an ingenious pulley system, completely rewired the theater's electrical set-up, and built runways and a balcony on the wall for this show.

Passaic Invades Stadium Tomorrow For First Home Tilt Of Season

Bellboys Lose Opener To Bloomfield Bengals

The Bellboys will pin their hopes on the arm of Sal Mineo tomorrow when the Passaic Indians invade Municipal Stadium for the first home game of the season. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Belleville, dropped its first game of the season to Bloomfield, 3-1 despite the fact that they out-hit the Bengals 5-3.

Nervousness in the early innings probably cost the Bellboys the game, with frequent errors, wild pitches and stolen bases being registered against them.

Settling down, the squad played a good game behind the pitching of ace hurler John Moraski, who walked two and struck out eight in absorbing the loss. Lou Fulco, who beat the Bellboys last year on opening day, got credit for the win with a five hit, 11 strikeout performance. The first inning proved the downfall for the Bellboys, with two runs coming across on an error, a stolen base, a fielder's choice, a wild pitch and a home run by Tony Leopoldi.

Leading the Bellboy attack were shortstop Joe Papisidero and Charlie Ziegler, each going two for three. Rocco Marotti's pinch hit single accounted for the only other hit.

Not having practiced on the stadium turf the past few weeks apparently hurt the squad in the early innings. Frank Fury registered two errors and Brian Waters one.

Belleville almost pulled it out in the seventh, when Ziegler singled and Marotti hit to move him to second. The two executed a double steal but were stranded on base.

Despite the loss, the Bellboys showed signs of being a good ball club and should provide stiff competition for the visiting Indians.

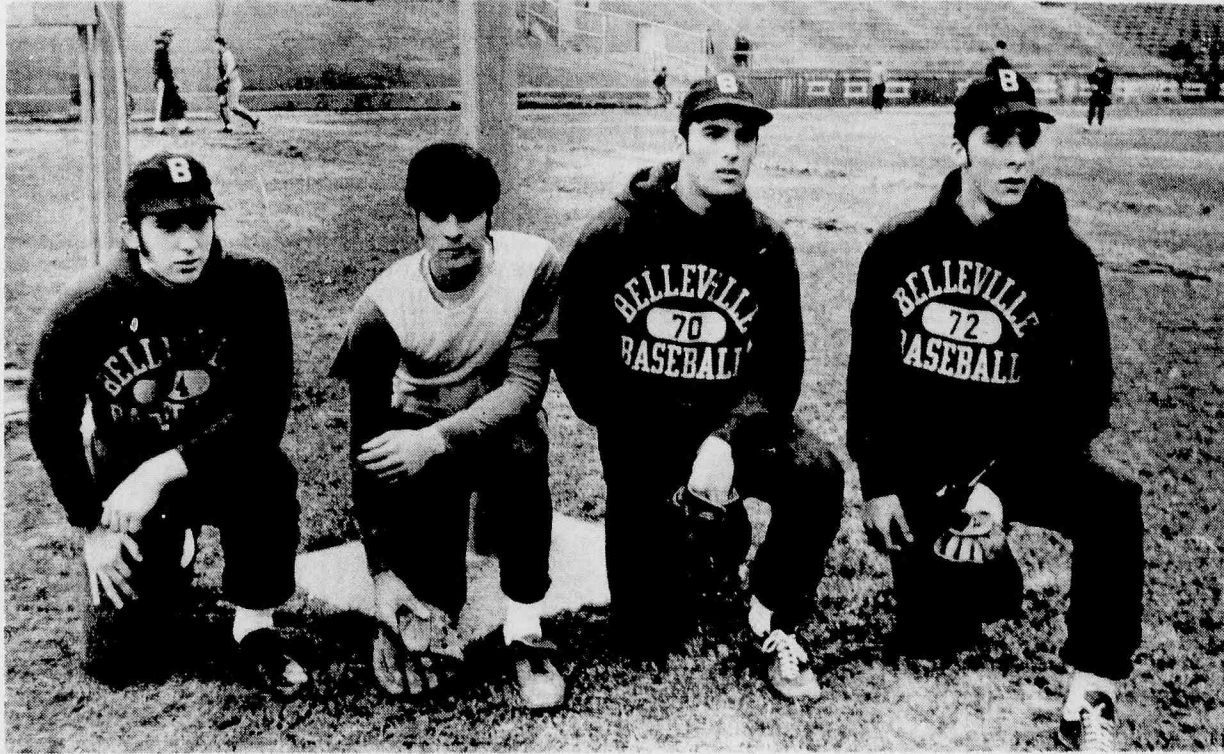

The key area this season will be the Bellboy infield, which must gell if the squad is to have a winning season.

Gone from the infield is All-County and All-State third basemen John Goscinski who was declared ineligible. Goscinski led the varsity with a .320 average and will be hard to replace.

Also missing is second basemen Ray Campbell, who has transferred.

Coach Travers hopes to fill these spots with one experienced ballplayer and a sophomore. Brian Waters, who saw some duty last year at second will be manning second base, while a promising sophomore, Frank Petite will field the hot corner. Petite hit .380 for the frosh last year.

THE VETERANS — This year's Bellboy baseball team will depend largely on the hitting and fielding of these returning lettermen: (l-r) first baseman Frank Fury; shortstop Joe Papisidero; centerfielder Joe Ritacco, and first baseman, Jim Miele.

Prestige Post

Wische To Run County Tourney

Belleville Athletic Director Herman Wische has been named chairman of next year's Essex County Basketball Tournament.

The honor to guide the prestigious tourney was given to Wische by the tourney's executive board.

Wische, who was an All-State football and basketball star for South Side High School in Newark, is no newcomer to the tournament. Teams coached by him were invited to all 10 of the first tourney's held with Wische's squads capturing two titles and placing in the finals five times.

Wische retired as Belleville coach in 1956 to assume athletic directorship at the high school. He made a one year return to the ranks this past season when the Bellboy coach Paul Szem announced a sudden retirement

Why settle for becoming "just" a secretary?

Gibbs can groom you for so much more

Gibbs girl Ruth Ann Kascic, Secretary to the President of the Power-Gas Corporation of America, Raymond J. Kenard, Jr.

You're thinking of becoming a secretary? Wonderful! But why stop there?

Instead of aiming to become "just" a secretary, wouldn't you rather be one of those "terrific gals" whom bosses fight to hire and brag about having? Then you can just about take your pick of fascinating jobs at: stinging important men in such glamorous fields as the fashion industry, magazine and book publishing, advertising, government, finance.

For over 50 years, the most sought-after girls in the secretarial field have been those trained by Katharine Gibbs School. Last year our Gibbs placement service received over 11,000 requests from employers begging for "a Gibbs girl, please!" We couldn't begin to meet the demand.

Why is a Gibbs girl considered so special? Because we groom her not just for a job, but for outstanding secretarial achievement. In addition to mastering typing, shorthand, and other office skills, Gibbs girls develop poise, quiet self-confidence, taste and correctness in office dress and grooming.

ability to cope with typical office problems. Because they have an opportunity to learn so much as confidential secretaries to management, many Gibbs girls become managers themselves.

OUR ONE-YEAR SECRETARIAL COURSE is ideal for girls with a high school diploma and perhaps a year or so of college who are eager to obtain a well-paid secretarial job.

OUR TWO-YEAR LIBERAL ARTS-SECRETARIAL COURSE combines professional training with culturally broadening liberal arts courses.

Sports Corner

By John McCarthy

Nick DiDomenica, a '67 Belleville High graduate, has completed his best season as a University of Massachusetts 118 pound wrestler. Nick's 15-4 record this year helped the U. Mass Redmen compile a 16-4 record, also their best.

The Redmen had a 13-1 record in their New England conference, and placed second in the New England Intercollegiate Wrestling Association Tournament held March 6 in Springfield, Mass. In this tournament, Nick was beaten 8-6 in a close preliminary match with Dan Riccio, who went on to place as a finalist in the NEIWA tourney. Nick had been ranked fifth in the New England 118-pound class.

DiDomenica's Improvement Was Predicted

This year's improvement for both Nick and the entire team was predicted in a pre-season press release by U. Mass. Last year the former Bellboy grappler put together a 9-7 record, while Coach Homer Barr's Redmen went 14-7 and placed third in the 28 member NEIWA.

Next year the senior hotel and restaurant major will be counted as a key member of the squad, which in the past has counted on the heavier weights for strength.

Nick Grosch of Belleville is a junior at Essex Catholic High School in Newark. This year he lettered in two varsity sports, soccer and ice hockey, games he couldn't find at Belleville High.

Similarities In Goalie's Duties

The honor student is a goalie in both sports pointed out some similarities and differences between the two sports. Nick finds that "If you have a bad game your team doesn't win." Evidently Nick had quite a few good days, as Essex Catholic's Soccer squad went 10-2-3 and were first in the State Parochial "A" Division.

Other differences (besides field conditions and equipment) mainly have to do with responsibilities. As Nick puts it, "You can control the game in soccer by calling for the ball, kicking it from the goal out to other players, and most of all you can go to the ball. In hockey, you have to wait for the puck to come to you. If you don't you're in trouble."

Managers Needed To Coach Teams

Because of the increased number of boys who have turned out for baseball this year, the town Recreation Department is enlarging both the Peanut League and the Farm League.

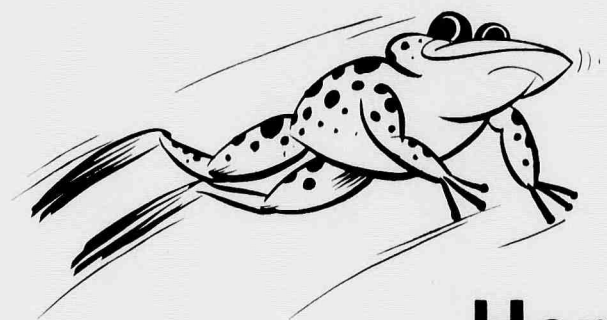

There is an urgent need for men who are willing to coach boys teams. The Peanut League is for boys of eight and nine years of age, while the Farm League is for boys 10-12 years.

Managers are needed who will give every boy a chance and who place sportsmanship as high as winning ball games.

Men who are interested are asked to contact Bob Cook at the Recreation House 759-3142.

Crew Takes On Atlantic City-Nutley

Scores Victory In First Meet

Spirits are high on the Belleville crew team as they prepare to take on Atlantic City and Nutley High Schools this Saturday at 11 a.m. at the boathouse on the Passaic River.

Coming off of a fine opening day victory in Philadelphia, the squad appears set on maintaining what is rapidly becoming a winning tradition in Belleville.

Coach Michael Lally, in his sixth year at the helm anticipates no changes for the meet and says that he has a fine young squad lead by co-captains Roy Newman, Alan De Feo and Coxswain Steve Taffet. Lally considers Taffet among the best in the state.

The team will probably have some added incentive

Saturday because Atlantic City accounted for one of Belleville's two losses last year. That meet was lost by two tenths of a second, or about six inches.

The local varsity travelled to the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia for what was to have been a four boat race involving Belleville, Nutley, Harrington (Phila.) and Lower Marion (Phila.) High Schools. However, a shortage of shells prevented the Philadelphia crews from competing at the same time.

A coin toss resolved the situation, as Belleville was paired against Lower Marion. The Bellboy varsity won their event with a time of 4:37 while Lower Marion finished 6 seconds back at 4:43.

The race was pretty, much over at the conclusion of the first quarter mile. Belleville took a commanding lead of 1 length. This lead was maintained throughout most of the mile as Lower Marion posed a threat only once, midway through the second quarter.

The shell is now composed of what Coach Mike Lally calls a potentially excellent crew. Frank Marano, Alan De Feo, James Drexler, Tom Jones, John Atherton, Roy Newman, Russ Jerusik, Jack Fersko, and coxswain Steve Taffet are the members of this year's varsity boat.

On the Junior Varsity level things did not turn out quite as well. In an extremely close finish, the J.V. finished second out of four crews. Nutley was the winner of this four boat contest.

TOUGH COMPETITORS - Belleville's tough varsity crew storms out in the lead to take first in 4:37 at Philadelphia last Saturday in a four team race. Shown are (l-r) coxswain Steve Taffet, Jack Fersko, Russ Jerusik, co-captain Roy Newman, John Atherton, Tom Jones, James Drexler, co-captain Alan De Feo and Frank Marano.

Bayonne New Grid Opponent

Powerful Bayonne High School will be Belleville's opening day grid opponent next year.

The school will replace East Orange, which was dropped from the schedule after a serious rock throwing incident in the fall.

Belleville athletic director, Herman Wische, says Bayonne has agreed to a two year contract, with the first game in Belleville on a Saturday afternoon. The following year, the Bellboys will travel to Bayonne for a Friday night game.

Wische also announced that Clifton will replace Garfield in the 1971 schedule. Garfield, Wische says, is joining a new conference.

Lally Chairmans First Crew Clinic

Belleville's crew coach Michael Lally served as chairman for the recent crew clinic held at Rutgers University during the annual New Jersey Coaches Conference.

The crew clinic represents the first such instructional offering at the conference, and Lally sees it as a great step forward toward promoting the sport in New Jersey.

Featured at the clinic were coaches Bill Levitt of Rutgers and Jack Barclay of Pennsylvania University. The class included a lecture on technique and a view of a Rutgers practice session.

Crew first began for Belleville in the 1940's when Bill Bennett coached both the Belleville and Nutley squads. Bennett was succeeded by Michael Rossamilla, current assistant schools superintendent. Ray Smith, Belleville High School Principal took over for Rossamilla and was in turn followed by Stan Sher.

Lally took over in 1964 after serving two years as JV coach. Since that time Belleville has gained increased respect as a schoolboy crew to be reckoned with, finishing with a 10-2 record last year.

High School Play To Help Youth Finance Concerts

Youth will be served in more ways than one by the current Garden State Arts Center competition to be climaxed with the staging of a top-judged high school musical play at the New Jersey showplace on Saturday night, May 23.

We had one customer in the store who could not understand why a brand new color TV set should need a couple of adjustments during the initial break in period. In his opinion he should be able to just plug the set in and for a long time it should work flawlessly. Unfortunately, things don't work that way. When we asked the customer whether he ever bought a new automobile and had nothing done to it, his reply was 'Of course not, the car had to be taken back to the dealer a few times for adjustments'. He could not find anything wrong with that.

No doubt, a color TV set is by far the most complicated piece of equipment used in a home, barring none. If you ever looked at the 'works' and the more than thousand parts and think that through this maze of wires and gadgets, by a signal floating in the air, a screen lights up and shows a picture, most people just shake their heads and say 'how is it possible'.

It is no wonder that a couple of adjustments are necessary until everything settles down, in order to secure the proper performance.

Track 'Milestone' Set By Bellboys With Opening Win

by John McCarthy

For the first time in many years (goodness knows how many), the Belleville High School track team won its opening meet of the season, with a 59-39 trouncing Monday of Passaic, a tough annual opponent. In doing so, the Bellboys equalled their entire season victory output of last year.

The victorious squad, coached by Ray Haneke, will take on West Side High School at the Stadium tomorrow. The team travels to Orange High School Tuesday afternoon.

The Bellboy fieldmen, often called the "fatman squad" for obvious reasons, put on one of their best shows in the past few years as they held the Passaic Indians scoreless in all but one event. The field score was 30-5, enough to overcome the 34-29 edge Passaic picked up on the track.

High scorer for the victorious Bellboys was co-captain Vic Squitieri. Vic's two first places in the low hurdles and the discus, and his third place in the hundred yard dash gave him a total of 11 team points.

Ricky Caruso's three second place finishes, in the hundred, the low hurdles and the long jump, gave him the second highest total with nine points. Mark Bradley took a first in the 440 and a second in the 220 for eight points.

The Bellboys swept the discus with a first place throw by Squitieri of 119'11". Second place of 116'4" went to Mike Albertine, and third to Ralph Salierno with a heave of 106'11".

The second field sweep came in the shot put. Ralph Salierno took first place with 44'1". Mike Albertine was second again with 43'3", and Tom Vitiello was third with a throw of 42'6".

The pole vault proved to be quite different than last year when seniors George Riepe and Charles Eccles constantly took first and second with vaults of ten or 11 feet. With these two gone, Belleville has tried to find replacements, a hard task in one year. David Pepe took first place with 6'0" and Jerry Price was second with 5'6". None of the Passaic jumpers cleared 5' so third place was not awarded.

Passaic's only field win came in the long jump, 5-4. Leslie Derricotte, Passaic's top man, took first with 16'11". Belleville's Ricky Caruso took second with 15'10 1/2" and Bellboy Doug Brown was third with 15'5".

On the track the score for each event was always close. Passaic only took one event by 8-1, while last year they took five at that score. Belleville also swept one, the low hurdles. In the hundred yard dash, Passaic's Derricotte took another first place with a time of 10.6. Belleville took second and third with Ricky Caruso turning in an 11.1 second dash, and Vic Squitieri an 11.2.

In the mile, Passaic scored its only big win of the day. They took first and second with Belleville's Lou Dalcero placing a close third at 5 minutes 23 seconds.

Mark Bradley has started preparation to beat his best time in the quarter mile last year of 54 seconds. Bradley ran the 440 yards in 56.5.

Memorable Junior Prom

140 Couples Enjoy Music By The Duprees

AT DINNER — Senior basketball and football star Vinnie Costantino enjoys dinner with Phyllis Visco.

STAR ATHLETE — Joe Ritacco, winner of the Belleville High School Scholar-Athlete Award for his baseball, football and scholastic prowess, is all smiles with his date for the Junior Prom, Maria Palangio. Over 140 student couples attended the affair.

The 1970 Junior Prom held last Tuesday night at the Westmount Country Club, saw 140 student couples in attendance along with 16 guests of the Class of '71.

The biggest social event of the school year started at 8 p.m. with an hour of socializing before the guests sat down to eat. After the dessert was served, the Duprees, the main entertainment for the night came out to perform.

The Duprees are one of the many groups that have had to change their style over the years. Originally gaining their fame with the hit "See the pyramids" this group has adopted to appeal more to today's music. The four members of the group, John Salvato, Joe Santolo, Mike Arnone, and lead singer Mike Kelly have recently released a new single "You'd Better Check Yourself" under the name of The Italian Asphalt and Paving Company.

The annual problem of getting students to attend this affair was solved in a novel way by the heads of the Junior Class. Alan Grossman, President of the Class of '71, and Annette Guardabascio, co-chairman of the Bids Committee with Lucille Burlazzi, realized that some students wouldn't know whom to ask, so they decided to have a Cupid come to Belleville High.

A mailbox was placed in the lobby of the Senior High and students were asked to submit their names if they wanted to go. After sorting out the prank names like Superman, Annette and Janice Rosania matched some of the names. Both persons were then asked if the match met their approval. The cupids managed to come up with a few couples and felt that the idea proved worthwhile.

Among the guests invited by the junior class were Superintendent of Schools Anthony Grecco and wife, Principal of the Senior High Raymond O. Smith and wife, Vice-Principal John Westlake and wife, and class advisor Mike Salzarulo and wife.

Also invited were the Board of Education members and their spouses. Those present were Mr. & Mrs. Rocco Saletta, Board President, Mr. & Mrs. Joe Casale, Vice-President, Mr. & Mrs. Tom McCool, and Mr. & Mrs. Cesare Romano.

At table 14 sat two special celebrities, Tom Jones and Sal Mineo. They were asked if they would do a song, but both declined. Tom and Sal are both junior at Belleville High.

NOISE CAN SERIOUSLY AFFECT YOUR HEARING

The decibel measures the smallest amount of sound which the human ear can distinguish. According to the American Medical Association, anyone subjected to more than a couple of hours per day of noise which is in excess of 90 decibels should use an ear protection device.

But, even a lawn mower can cause a temporary loss of hearing, as well as the electric amplifier used by so many teen-age musical groups. Recent studies show that 120 decibels or more are common with amplified rock music. The first sign of hearing loss is the high pitched sounds. The next tell-tale sign is complaining about the loss of hearing of TV or a stereo. If you suspect a loss of hearing have your doctor give you a hearing test.

Town Social Worker Speaker at Meeting

The March meeting of School One PTA was held on Monday evening, March 16. The guest speaker for the evening was Marian S. Rubin, social worker for the Belleville school system.

Her topic was "Helping Your Child Grow," which dealt with behavior problems from infancy through adolescence. Mrs. Rubin discussed parental reactions to and explanations of these problems. She explained how referrals are made by the child's teacher if the teacher suspects a problem child.

As it stands now only the emergency cases are taken first and the minor cases have to be pushed aside for time being, Mrs. Rubin amplified. This means that these minor problems sometimes cannot be corrected in time to keep them from becoming major ones. The reason for this is Belleville just does not have enough social workers and psychiatrists to handle the problems of the 5,700 children, according to Mrs. Rubin. A question and answer period followed her speech.

The Nominating Chairlady, Mrs. Harold Hoey announced the slate of officers for 1970-1971. They are Mrs. Arthur Whitman, president; Mrs. Robert Krause, vice president; Joseph Grosch, honorary vice president; Mrs. Harry Long, recording secretary; Mrs. James Walker, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Morris Klein, treasurer. The county fair originally scheduled for May 16 has been rescheduled for June 13.

'Nabbed By Computer' May Be Familiar Cry

The training phase of the State Police in-car computerized speed meter program got under way during March with the installation of 45 of the new Visual Average Speed Computer and Recorder (VASCAR) units according to an announcement by Colonel D. B. Kelly.

The units will be used in training the initial Troopers who will then be certified instructors to complete the training of all Troopers in the operation of the new equipment. A total of 236 VASCAR units will be installed in State Police patrol cars during the training phase under a $215,694 Federal grant.

Regional training sessions being on April 6 and 7 for fifteen Troopers from Troop-C at a site in Manalapan Township. On April 8 and 9, an equal number of Troopers from Troop-B will report for their training at Somerville and on April 10 and 11, the remaining Troopers from Troop A will attend sessions at Hammonton.

Upon completion of the two-day training sessions, the Troopers will operate the equipment for 30 days with periodic instruction checks, then undergo proficiency tests before they qualify as VASCAR operators. They will then begin training 418 more Troopers on a station area basis.

Here's how the equipment works: A Trooper spots a possible violator. He chooses a convenient marker on the stretch of highway being traveled and starts his timer as the subject vehicle passes that point. He flips his time switch off as the subject passes a second marker. The Trooper travels the same distance in his patrol car flipping the distance switch on at the first marker and off at the second. He now has time and distance locked into the machine which at this point automatically indicates the computed speed for instant read-out in tenths of a mile per hour.

With the patrol car parked off the highway, distance between the two points has already been measured and speeding vehicles need only be time for an automatic computation of miles per hour.

Schedules are made to remind you how far behind you are in your work.

'Thief Of Bagdad' Returns To Nutley

"The Thief Of Bagdad", the Arabian Nights tale made famous by Douglas Fairbanks in 1924, will be screened by the Essex Film Club at 263 Harrison Street in Nutley this Saturday and Sunday.

"The Thief Of Bagdad", which was directed by Raoul Walsh, shows Fairbanks, Sr. at the peak of his career and is a shining example of magic-making in the silent spectacle film.

This features "the flying carpet", as devised by cameraman Arthur Edson. Also highlighted are the lavishly decorated sets designed by William Cameron Menzies.

The scenario was written by Elton Thomas, (really Fairbanks himself,) and utilized a fanciful city and palace, with shimmering minarets and bridges that seem to float away into space. The designs for the Adventures of the Seven Moons in the latter part of the film were clever arrangements of animated scenery and Arthur Edson's trick photography. A special musical score, written by Mortimer Wilson accompanies the silent film.

On the same program are two short subjects: "The Battle," directed by D. W. Griffith for Biograph in 1911. The short was a forerunner for his later epic, "The Birth of a Nation." It was short in the Fort Lee area and shot by a war correspondent. An early Mutt and Jeff cartoon called "The Honest Jockey" will also be shown. Stuart Oderman will play his original piano score for the two short subjects.

The Saturday screening will begin at 8:30; Sunday film performances at 7:30.

Philharmonic Orchestra Scheduled At Montclair

The Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra will be presented on its first American tour by Unity Institute's Concert Course on Friday, April 24, at 8:30 p.m. in the Montclair High School auditorium.

During the last two decades American music lovers have thrilled to many of Europe's great symphony orchestras. Now the roster of distinguished visiting orchestras will be augmented by still another - the Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra, the third jewel in Holland's crown of three internationally celebrated ensembles. The Rotterdam Philharmonic was founded in 1918. It has toured most of the countries of Europe and received great acclaim. In Hamburg the critics said - "A unity of performance which is nobly balanced and exciting." Philharmonic literally means "loving harmony." Anyone falling into this category will surely be impressed with the Rotterdam.

Jean Fournet, the ensemble's music director, will

New Apartments

Controversial Variance Approaches Town Hall

A controversial variance for a 21-family garden apartment on Belleville Avenue has been approved by the Zoning Board of Adjustment and is expected to come up soon for a Commission vote.

Approval was given last week to the Lilanz Realty Company, which had been denied a similar application nine months ago. The Zoning Board vote this time was 3-2.

The ballot came after five three-hour meetings in which about 100 residents voiced opposition to the variance.

Most Town Hall observers expect the Commission to grant final approval to the construction proposal. The past 14 months has seen five straight apartment variances granted by the Commission, with only Joseph McGreevy consistently voting against what many people see as a trend.

The application by Lilanz Realty, which is owned by Albert and Joseph Liloia, had originally called for the approval of a 25-family apartment to be built at 601-612 Belleville Avenue. It was denied because it contained "no special reason."

The construction proposal was reduced by four units and resubmitted to the Zoning Board.

Norman Lauterette, Zoning

Board chairman, said the variance had been approved with five conditions.

Famed Musician To Give Benefit

World-famed accordionist Donald Hulme of Belleville will perform a benefit concert for the Craig Fabian Fund on Wednesday, evening, May 6 at Belleville High School.

Donald Hulme
Accordionist

Hulme, who lives at 122 Bell Street, has performed for audiences around the globe and once won the title of "World's Best Accordion Player" at a competition in Italy.

The musician, who is considered an innovator on the accordion, is currently entertaining at the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament in North Carolina, where the top golfers in the game are competing.

Hulme is reunited at the Golf Open with Perry Como, with whom he has performed in San Juan, Puerto Rico. In addition to Como, Glen Campbell, Chet Atkins, Floyd Cramer and Boots Randolph are appearing at the tournament.

Spring's Clean-Up Day Set

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo has announced that the annual "Spring Clean-Up Week" will begin Monday, April 27 and continue through Saturday, May 2. Pick-up will be on regular garbage collection days.

In a flyer mailed to all Belleville residents, Commissioner Strumolo outlined procedures and regulations involved in the clean-up.

The flyer urged residents to place garbage on the curb the night prior to the regular pick-up.

That contract specifies that no debris should weigh more than 300 pounds. In addition, all loose materials must be put in bushels, baskets, boxes or garbage cans, otherwise the articles will not be picked up.

Articles which the collectors will cart away include, building materials such as wallpaper and plaster, fixtures, plumbing, refrigerators and furniture.

PTA Seeks Compromise

The School Eight PTA, unsatisfied with proposed solutions to that school's mounting overcrowding problem, have called upon the Board of Education to meet their demands half way. Tuesday the PTA's executive board met with Superintendent Anthony Greco to discuss a rumor that said the second grades would be consolidated in School Eight.

Greco assured the group that the rumor was not true, according to Mrs. Mathew (Continued on Page 14)

Valley Opposes Proposals

Controversy Is Building Over New Zoning Law

by Nat Gottlieb

A major clash of forces in Belleville appears likely over the Planning Board's proposed new town zoning ordinance and map.

Last week that Board introduced its new proposals to an unhappy audience in the Valley as the first in a series of three public hearings on the matter.

It was apparent after the three-hour hearing that no one in the Valley, including residents and industrialists, is happy with the proposals. Both factions promised to organize opposition to the zone laws and will seek to have the Planning Board alter their offering.

Also apparent to political observers is that the Planning Board is headed on a collision course with the Town Commissioners. The planning body repeatedly told residents to air their grievances with the commissioners because "we are only a weak board and have only the power to recommend, not legislate." They also told Valley citizens that they would welcome a petition to commissioners asking that their planning powers be increased, adding that their efforts to gain clarification of status from town fathers had "been ignored."

Commissioners, meanwhile, were not too pleased with reports from the hearing but would not say anything for publication.

The proposed zoning ordinance and map would update a zoning structure created in 1923. The original ordinance has been amended twice since then, 1931 and 1955.

The Planning Board, which drew up the new proposal with the aid of the Passaic Valley Planning Commission, only has the power to recommend its ideas, and is technically classified as "weak." Final say in the town's zoning structure rests with commissioners, who will get the proposals for a vote probably in June.

Meanwhile, two town taxpayer groups are actively opposing the new ordinance and are seeking some changes in the Valley proposals.

The Belleville Valley Association, which recently raised a stormy protest over the 1970 town budget, this time is seeking changes in the zoning map, apparently with some degree of initial success.

The group, in a similar approach to its one at the budget hearings, succeeded in getting the Planning Board to agree to a future meeting date with a representative residents' committee. The Valley Association met last night at the Junior High School to choose a committee and says it will announce a meeting date soon, presumably before the second scheduled public hearing at School Four on May 14.

Sought by the Association and by many Valley residents, is more residential zoning, pollution controls, parks and "more say in what affects us and our homes."

Also opposing the new zone proposals is a group of 40 manufacturers and businessmen, mostly in the (Continued on Page 14)

EXAMINATION — Valley residents crowd School Nine's stage to get a look at the Planning Board's proposed new town zoning map.

Manufacturers Oppose New Zone Ordinance

A group of 40 local industrial firms and businesses have signed a petition protesting against the Belleville Planning Board's proposed new town zoning ordinance and map.

The petition will be presented to the Town Commission when that body votes on the new proposals sometime in June.

Ralph Salerno, a Bloomfield attorney representing Central Uniform, attempted to present the petition at last week's public hearing on the ordinance held in School Nine. The Planning Board, which conducted the hearing, refused to accept the petition, saying only the Commission could do so.

Salerno's five minute presentation before the Planning Board was interrupted several times by catcalls and objections voiced by residents who felt he had no right to address the hearing.

At one point Salerno asked Board Chairman John Connelly for an extension of the five minute ruling that Connelly imposed at the meeting's outset. To this Connelly replied: "You have 30 seconds." Later several residents spoke beyond the five minute ruling, some coming back for as many as three turns at the microphone.

The petition urges commissioners not to adopt the ordinance because it continues "that section of the Town, known as 'The Valley' as a 'B' Residential Zone." The group asks that a new ordinance be drawn up rezoning the "B" area as industrial.

The reasons listed by the group for the change are that it would: "promote the public health, safety, convenience and general welfare of the municipality; insure the orderly growth and (Continued on Page 2)

Murders Upset Belleville's Quiet Weekend

17 Year-Old Is Held In Belleville Stabbing

A 17-year old youth is scheduled for arraignment in Belleville Municipal Court this Wednesday in connection with the fatal stabbing of a New York youth in Belleville Saturday night.

Belleville Detective Sgt. Joseph Tortorello said Glen Chapman, 21, of 210 Buffalo Avenue, Lindenhurst, N.Y., died Saturday night in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital of a single stab wound in the chest.

Chapman, the suspect and four others were driving through Belleville when an argument developed, according to Tortorello. The juvenile, whom police did not name, then pulled out a knife and stabbed the victim, he said.

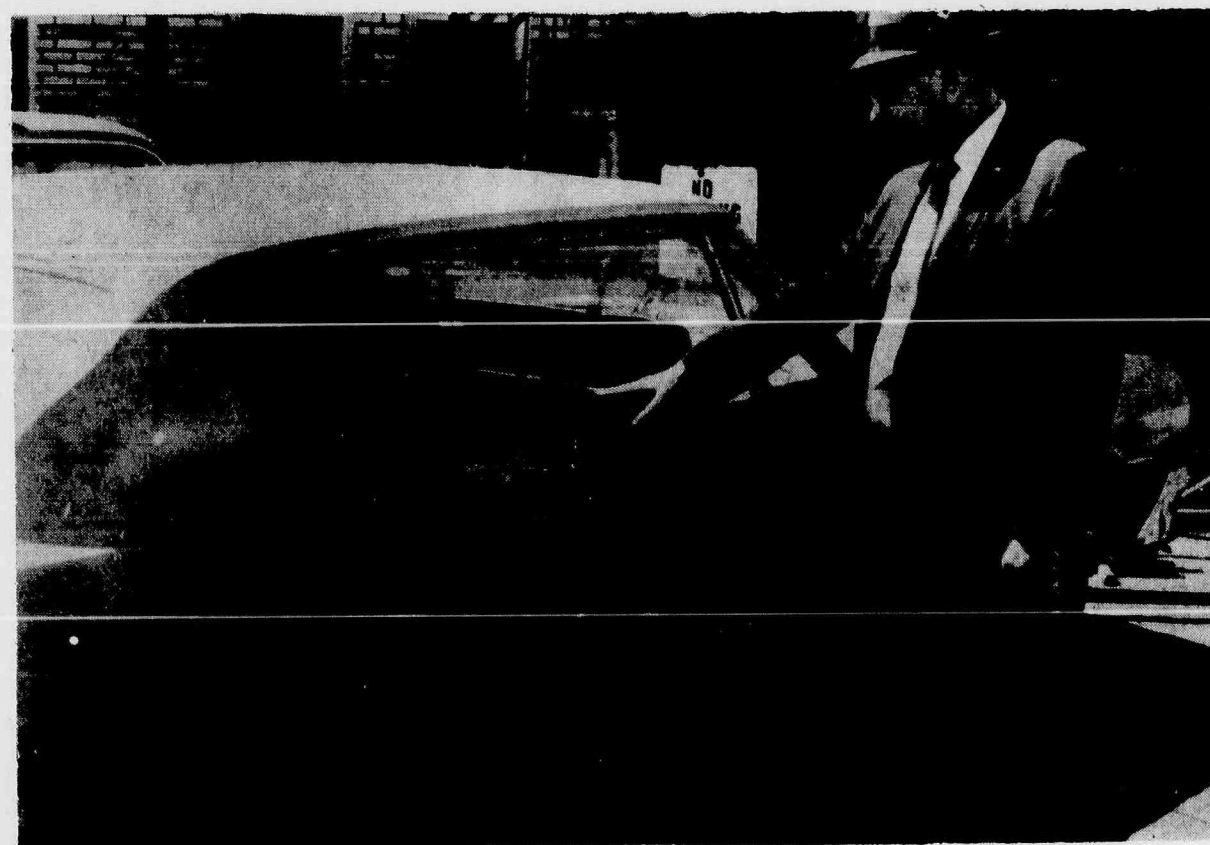

The youths had been visiting a girl friend's house in Belleville and had begun an argument, Tortorello said. The disagreement continued into the car until the suspect, who was in the front seat, allegedly stabbed Chapman who was in the rear seat.

Initially, the other occupants of the car thought that the suspect had punched Chapman with his fist, according to Tortorello, but when the knife wound was discovered, the car was stopped and the occupants began to scuffle in the street.

Belleville Police were called to the scene by reports of a fight on Cortlandt Street. Upon discovering the stabbing, the suspect and three witnesses were brought to headquarters for questioning.

Tortorello said that when the witnesses learned of Chapman's death, they allegedly tried to get at the suspect and struggled with local police. The three were charged with interfering with the duties of a police officer and released on $500 bail.

Local Youths Charged With Newark Slaying

Robert L. Buonopane, 17, of 490 Greylock Parkway and Joseph Charles, 16, of 281 Main Street are facing charges in Newark of murdering a man during a wave of pedestrian hold-ups they allegedly committed over a three-week period.

The youths were charged with five counts of armed robbery and are to be questioned by authorities from Elizabeth and Hillside, where three similar holdups occurred during the three-week period.

Buonopane and Charles were charged with the fatal shooting March 30 of Earl Edmunds, 41, of 118 Mt. Pleasant Avenue in Newark.

Newark Detective Peter Buttros said Edmunds was shot after two bandits, riding in what was described as a red car with a white top, stopped him at the corner of Mt. Pleasant and Fourth Avenues and demanded money. When the victim refused to obey the order, one of the bandits fired a rifle, striking Edmunds.

Paradiso said the other hold-ups were committed in a similar style. Two persons in a car would pull up to a lone pedestrian and ask for directions, he said. When the pedestrian approached the car, one of the bandits exposed a rifle and demanded money.

Paradiso said the arrests Saturday stemmed from the finding of what was believed to be the car used by the suspects. The vehicle, a 1966 red Pontiac registered in Buonopane's name, was burning at about 11 a.m. in front of 80 Doremus Avenue.

The detective said Charles and an 18-year old youth, whose name he declined to disclose, allegedly ignited the vehicle and left it to burn.
