

Industry Says Zoning Law Not Adequate

development of the area; conserve, protect and provide for the proper use of the land, and increase tax revenues and promote the stabilization of taxes."

Among the industries to sign the petition are Wallace & Tiernan, Walter Kidde, Eastwood-Nealy, Hardman, Edison Tool, Red Diamond, and Kimball.

The ordinance and map will come up for a second of three public hearings on May 14 at School Four. A final Planning Board hearing on the matter is set May 28 at School Eight.

Salerno told The Times that the petitioners were objecting to the Planning Board proposal on three grounds: that it wouldn't allow industry to expand in the Valley; that current non-conforming industrial uses will continue to be non-conforming uses, and that the set-up wouldn't attract new industry.

The map as currently proposed, would generally leave an island of Resident "B" zone in the heart of the Valley. It is also said that the map would continue spot zoning in the area.

Salerno cited several examples of what he said were "spot zoning," including an area on Academy Street in the Valley, bounded by Holmes Street, Ralph Street and Main Street. This area would be zoned for four separate uses; Residential "A", "B", "C", and Industrial.

The Bloomfield attorney also cited the Eastwood-Nealy plant on Joralemon Street, bounded by Stephens and Main in a residential zone. Eastwood-Nealy is one of the largest wire drawing operations in the country, according to Salerno.

The lawyer said that rezoning the entire Valley as industrial would constitute sound planning, indicating that the area had all the major features for industrial development.

Among the features listed by Salerno were: a river on the Valley's lower border; a major highway; a railroad running through it; the main artery of the town at its upper most border, and that the commercial zone on Washington Avenue would act as a buffer for the subsequent grading of residential "C" "B" "A" zones.

Recent trends, Salerno also said, indicated that industry, not residential growth was the case in the Valley.

Citing statistics he said were obtained from the Building Inspectors office, Salerno said that in 1969, the total cost of construction in Belleville was $1.7 million. Of that, $734,000 went to multiple-family dwelling construction and a motel. Major single item was 41 additions and alterations to non-residential operations, with a half million going to the Valley.

Only two one-family homes and two two-family houses were built in town, Salerno said, and none were in the Valley.

Town Bulletin Board

The Times-News publishes the Town Bulletin Board as a public service, not only to assist individuals in planning social calendars, but as an effort toward eliminating conflicting dates among local organizations. Club secretaries and program chairmen wishing to clear a date for a future activity may call the Times-News at 759-3200.

There is no charge for the Bulletin Board listing, but events should be limited to those of general interest. Be sure to mention date, time and place for each event being listed.

Listings for the Town Bulletin Board must be submitted to The Times-News two weeks in advance of publication.

The James G. Shawger Home and School Association is completing final plans for a second annual card party to be held at Thomm's Restaurant in Newark. The highlight of the evening will be a fashion show by Seibel's of Newark - Nutley.

The main offering includes a round trip to Bermuda for two, a portable dishwasher, and a Hoover vacuum cleaner. There are also many sweepstake prizes being offered which are too numerous to mention.

Mrs. Frank Lucas is the program chairlady, with Mrs. Peter Olivio in charge of the trip. All the members are working diligently to make this affair the most successful thus far in keeping with the school's tradition.

Judges Dinner Sold-Out

The April 30 Law Day dinner honoring Judges Edwin Joerg and Edward Abromson is a complete sell-out.

"We are sorry we have not been able to accommodate all those wishing to participate in this event," Carl A. Orechio of Nutley, ticket chairman, said.

The dinner is being staged at The Fountain in Belleville. The committee asks that no one call to inquire of reservations - "even those sponsoring the dinner had to give up tables," Orechio said. "Regrettably, there isn't room to accommodate any more people."

When something's funny. But other than that, Bonnie Vought is a pretty serious-minded girl. In fact, she's probably one of the most conscientious workers you'll find.

Maybe it's because she went through more than six weeks of training to learn all about providing efficient phone service.

Or maybe it's because she has a special feeling for her work. And for the customers she talks to each day.

"You know, I really try to help people," she says. "No kidding. I'm a consumer myself, so I know all about the problems people can run into when they deal with a large company."

"I realize it's frustrating for people when we don't come through like we promised. I just try to convince them that I care about their problems. And I do."

"People often think of us as just the phone company. But we're people, too."

The phone company is people. Well-trained people, like Service Representative Bonnie Vought, who care about doing a good job for you.

More Aid to Schools

Governor William Cahill has gone way out on a limb and offered a program to provide more state aid to public schools — and with unmatched courage has recommended state aid to private school systems, which to all purposes and intents means a partial subsidization of the parochial school system.

The parochial school system of our state has relieved homeowners of a tremendous real estate burden. This condition has existed for years. In his great wisdom, Governor Cahill realizes that failure to help subsidize the parochial school system may well see its collapse — and with it a ruinous real estate burden thrust upon the overburdened backs of New Jersey homeowners.

We commend Governor Cahill for having the courage of speaking out on the subject and doing the realistic thing although he subjects himself to the criticism of those among us who are against any state aid to parochial schools — such opposition based upon constitutional grounds, reasons of prejudice, etc.

Woman's Side Ignored In Editorial

I refer to your recent editorial "No Equal Rights in Divorce". I, too, read the article in Readers' Digest and intend to write and see if they will give me equal time to hear my side...me, the female!

Granted, the article is true in many instances. Women can find jobs as well as men, due to their intelligence being equal and, in many instances, superior to their male counterpart.

I refer in particular to your words "where there is a joint responsibility, neither should be indefinitely shackled with having to pay tribute..." I presume you are referring to alimony. Most women, worth their salt, would waive alimony...all they would ask is child support.

On the subject of child support, with or without the money, a woman (remember - they usually get custody of the children) is deprived of seeing her children growing up, due to working. The woman then has to be father, mother, sister, brother and make all the decisions, too. It is on the woman's head when a child needs a new pair of shoes...or a dress for a special occasion. If a woman DOES receive child support (commonly referred to as "blood money" by ex-husbands), it never is enough to allow any entertainment for her or the children, it barely helps with necessities.

And, now may I relate to all you male readers - there is no law in our country to FORCE a man to pay child support. He can skip in, out and around the country and our government will not endeavor to find him. Our laws are antiquated. Women should be forced (according to our law) to accept welfare monies for support. If they do...THEN and only then, will the government (local state level only) step in and assist.

If my words are strong, it is only because for the past ten years I have been bringing up my two children - ALONE - working two and three jobs sometimes to do it. If a man has no conscience to support the children he brought into this world - why can't our government help?

Anyone need a platform on which to run for president? Help women - singular heads of households by effecting a law concerning the missing husbands. If we have too much pride to accept welfare monies...but ill health forces us to, or other mitigating circumstances...if we are forced to live on credit buying...the best campaign platform I can think of would be no (or greatly reduced) incometaxes for the many (and there are many) in our position. Our position is trying to raise a family on a singular income and let us remember - men's incomes are always higher than women's - for a similar job.

Through the years I have been studying the situation and know whereof I speak. So... "No Equal Rights in Divorce" would apply to EITHER side male or female.

I would like to point out, though I think everyone knows...it's a man's world, always has been and always will be. They make the laws...and, they also break them.

Let's also put it on record as to the feelings of society today - a divorced man is "misunderstood"...a divorced female is... "ostracized".

Concert Review

Sunday Afternoon Spent With The Nutley Symphony

(Today's review is of Sunday's Spring Concert presented by the Nutley Symphony Orchestra.)

By Phil White

Anthony Drollas, president of the Nutley Symphony, appeared on stage briefly during the intermission to make various acknowledgements, but the happiest item he announced was that the orchestra again will present a "free" community concert next fall. We can hardly wait.

Sunday marked the first time we have heard the Nutley Symphony, and while we have been politely told that it was unfortunate we had not been there before to hear the orchestra under the direction of Nicos Cambourakis, we truly admired the skillful interpretation given to a wide range of selections by associate conductor Dr. Ernest J. Ersfeld who directed Sunday afternoon's Spring Concert.

Mr. Cambourakis, who has been ill in recent weeks, promises to be back at the podium for the fall concert. Sunday marked the first time in many years that Mr. Cambourakis was not conducting the annual Spring program.

Miss Annette Norro, formerly of Belleville, was the featured soloist Sunday. She was at her best for the operatic selections, and especially Mascagni's aria "Voi Lo Sapete" from Cavalleria Rusticana.

The symphonic selections were balanced on the program, but not always to the ear. The brass and woodwinds, in particular, were not always consistent with the superior sounds from the strings. We thought the Symphony was at its best in the closing movement of Haydn's Symphony 101 in D-Major ("The Clock") and again in the program's closing Overture to Tannhauser (Wagner.)

Speaking of "The Clock," we wish someone would install a different clock on the wall of the high school auditorium. The model presently mounted ticks the minutes away in such loud clicks that they were distracting during Sunday's concert. Also distracting were those persons who arrived late and couldn't decide just where to sit. It might be a good suggestion to seat late-comers only between program selections.

New HS Opposed: No Bomb Shelters

One Year Ago

Commissioner Mary Senatore dug up a little dirt to officially signal the beginning of construction on the new 150-bed Extended Care Unit at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. The new facility was costing more than 4 million dollars.

The annual Cherry Blossom Parade moved down Washington Avenue while hundreds of anxious youngsters and parents watched from behind police barricades. The parade was a prelude to the Miss Belleville Pageant scheduled for April 26. The ten finalists were in the parade, which included numerous floats, clowns and a special added attraction of a Chinese dragon.

Belleville's Health Department, under the direction of Commissioner Vincent Strumulo, was working on a rodent control program for the town with $1,500 in state aid. With the help of two sanitary inspectors, Joseph Marino and Herbert Mercurio, Strumulo hired Sam Cifrodillo, exterminator, to control rodents in the bogs and on the river banks in Belleville.

Under a new town ordinance, all buildings which were deemed "unfit for human habitation" were to be either repaired or demolished. Previously, a similar ruling on demolitions was contained in the health code, but the new ordinance placed responsibility for enforcing the law on the Building Inspector, Vincent Mustachio.

Nutley and Belleville school officials joined members of the Rowing Association in groundbreaking ceremonies for the new boathouse in Kearny. Among those present were Dr. Robert Fleischer, superintendent of Nutley Schools; William Chapman, principal of Belleville School Five and president of the Nutley Belleville Rowing Association; John Kaiser, chairman of the fund raising committee; Everett Zabriskie, Nutley school business administrator; John Bailey, architect and vice-president of the association and Dr. Frank Durkee, superintendent of Belleville schools.

Miss Diana Peck and Charles Baker, Belleville High School juniors, were selected to perform in the All-State Orchestra under the direction of Herbert Mattick, former band director at Belleville High School.

It was no April Fool's joke when motorists ticketed for overtime parking on April 1st were fined twice the normal one dollar fee. The jump in the cost of overtime parking was only one of the many changes in the schedule of fines for motor vehicle violations put into effect by magistrate Edward J. Abromson.

The Capitol Theatre celebrated its 40th year anniversary in Belleville. The theatre had been built in 1920 by Joseph Stern, and the current manager of the theatre, who was conducting the anniversary ceremonies, was George Karros, who had become manager in 1956.

A series of lectures were being sponsored at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital by the medical staff of the hospital. Dr. David P. Boyd, surgeon at the Lahey Clinic, Boston, Massachusetts, spoke on the topic of "Recent Advances in Vascular Surgery."

Miss Dorothy R. Tartaglia was starring in the role of "Kitty" in the musical production of the play "Where's Charlie" at Saint Peter's Auditorium. Cathy Schuman was to portray "Amy", Charles Sutter "Charley" and Robert Christie "Jack."

Ernest Arvidson of 178 Floyd Street, chairman of leadership training of the Belleville Boy Scout District, announced the appointment of Mrs. John Crane of 15 Lincoln Terrace as chairman of the games section of the council's Cub Scout Pow Wow.

15 Years Ago

Mayor Isadore Padula, in a Town Commission meeting, read a prepared statement citing his views against the proposed high school construction because of its site and failure to provide bomb shelters. The Mayor said he had disapproved of the "bog" site for a proposed school building when he had run for office in 1954 and he was still disapproving it.

Fearful of rent gouging after the deadline day of June 30, tenants were banding to ask the Town Commission for protection against sky-rocketing boosts. A leader of the move was Mrs. Virginia A. James, an apartment tenant of 1 Essex Court, who had distributed a petition in her apartment and had sent out general petitions all over town.

Charles Nunzio and his Accordion Band was featured at the annual variety show for the benefit of the Cubs, Scouts and Explorers of Unit 301, Wesley Methodist Church. Sal E. Maglio of Newark directed the show and Edward Anderson, cubmaster, was general chairman. Clarence Buck was in charge of tickets.

Marking their 20th anniversary, the Lions Club had International Director Harold Nutter as their guest at a previous meeting, and for an upcoming get together they decided to have charter members and past presidents as their honored guests. Nutter spoke on the "World of Tomorrow" and of returning veterans, predicting that a comprehensive program must be launched for their care.

B. Thomas Aitken, chairman of the Belleville Red Cross, announced the appointment of Harry B. Thompson as chairman of the Nurse Procurement Committee. The Committee was organized to co-operate with the War Manpower Commission Procurement and Assignment Committee for military service.

40 Years Ago

Daniel Kerns of Summit, past district deputy and past state vice-president officiated at the installation of the newly elected officers of the Belleville Lodge 1123 B.P.O.E. Elks at the regular meeting at the Elks Home. Robert S. Anderson was installed as Exalted Ruler.

Mr. & Mrs. Walter Gray of 60 Beech Street gave a birthday party in honor of their father, William Gray. The surprise party was held in the attic, which was decorated in rainbow colors. The lighting effect was unique, consisting as it did of more than 50 lights. The whole attic looked like an attractive place, caught in an April shower with the sun just coming through.

Urges Officials To 'Do the Job'

To the Editor,

As a member of the "silent majority", I have decided to express myself through this paper because, after attending the recent public hearings of the town budget and the presentation of the Belleville Planning Board's revised zoning ordinance, I find I no longer can remain silent about what is happening in our town.

In my opinion, if everyone would stop playing politician and DO THE JOB you were elected to do and for which we voters had faith YOU WOULD DO, we could have a town to be looked up to by the so called best communities.

We are not asking you to spend more money. We are asking that you channel our money differently in the directions you obviously are overlooking. We are tired of hearing about long range plans. The following are examples of long overdue changes in the structure of a "new" Belleville which, up to now, I have been hesitant to openly mention.

1.- Why can't we have senior citizen dwellings such as the ones on the Newark-Belleville line on Franklin Avenue near Heller Parkway, thus affording our senior citizens a place to live comfortably and within their fixed incomes in their twilight years?

2.- Why can't we have a Youth center situated centrally to benefit all the young in town? Why can't we incorporate our elder citizens into its structure? I attended several meetings regarding such a building over a year ago and the recreation house on Joralemon Street, as well as the rear property of Belleville High School were mentioned as possible sites. An architect was present at one of the meetings and naturally, cost was a big item. It was suggested that money could be raised by community events with all citizens participating; i.e., the children themselves holding carnivals, ball-games, dances; the Woman's Club, P.T.A.'s, Home and School, Kiwanis, Lions, Masons, P.B.A., etc., including this idea when holding a Ways and Means event; getting various skilled help voluntarily, etc., etc..

However, the Newark News carried a story about a police chief in Sterling, N.J., who had the same idea and carried it through to its completion at a total cost of $40,000.00 which was raised as before mentioned. It is now in operation and I say - if it can be done there - why can't it be done here?

It seems to me that the overall future benefits to our citizenry far outweighs the current problems of our families who are beset with drug addiction problems; caused, in my opinion, by boredom and inactivity. A youth center could house an indoor pool, theater, rooms for art work and sewing, basketball courts, indoor tennis courts, handball courts and a ballroom for dances, concerts, etc..

3.- In my opinion, the school system is a good school system. I truly feel, however, that with the amount of money given to running and maintaining this plant and personnel, we should not just have a good school system - WE SHOULD HAVE THE BEST. It is upsetting, to say the least, to read of rewiring, etc., being put in the budget and having only one company bid mentioned.

As for the rest of the "silent majority", I urge you to take the time to attend your town meetings, the school board meetings and public hearings. No one is asking you to scream or yell. Just be informed - so that when your decisions must be made at the polls, the BEST decisions are made. Come and see for yourselves instead of relying on what someone else tells you. The alternative is to sit back, wait for someone else to do the job and then be quiet and accept what is being done, for, in the final analysis, THIS IS WHAT YOU HAVE EARNED. And then - the results will stagger you by forcing you out of town to buy another home at the current rate of seven and one half per cent, relocate your children from familiar schools and friends, etc.. I go along with the suggestion of a tax strike to force our citizenry to take a stand - NOW - while you still can salvage what is left of a depressed Belleville. I say - stop being tolerated but not heard! Make our elected officials listen! It is your tax dollar! Get it to work - FOR YOU!

Stop playing politics everyone. It is not getting the job done. Let us work together as a town united. Give ourselves a chance.

Saturday Tour Will Be 'Fun'

To The Editor:

I extend a cordial invitation to all Bellevillites, particularly children and their parents, to join me in a tour of our historic Reformed Church, at the Belleville Bridge, this Saturday afternoon.

We will meet in the church proper at 2 p.m. and I will discuss the church's significant role during the Revolutionary War. We will then go down into the basement and explore the possibility of the legendary tunnel which reputedly connected with underground galleries running down under the Passaic River from the Schuylers copper mine in Arlington.

The tour will conclude with an examination of the cemetery in which 62 Revolutionary War veterans, as well as many distinguished colonial leaders, are buried.

From past experience, I know that this will be a "fun" experience—particularly the children. It is my personal belief that for a better Belleville, we've got to accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative. I urge one and all to join in this demonstration of "pride in Belleville."

Earth-Day Enthusiasm Wide-Spread

Question: Why would you urge your friends to participate in Nutley's Earth Day happening next Wednesday?

Rev. Peter S. Brown, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church:

Personally, I urge everyone to participate. Wednesday's event is a marvelous idea, particularly because although it is a demonstration, it is a demonstration that's going to accomplish what the demonstration is all about in the first place: Cleaning Up The River.

Barbara Grosso, 79 Nutley Avenue and member of the Human Relations Council..

I've lived in Nutley all my life and feel a certain involvement in this project, because this something that obviously is going to benefit my town. I therefore believe Earth Day in Nutley is a good thing and I urge everyone to participate.

Moreover, not only is Wednesday a national day dedicated to man's appreciating his environment, but this is also spring: a season when everyone begins to appreciate again our parks. No one likes to go down to one of our town parks, dangle our feet in the water only to have them cut by debris and broken glass. I hope my friends feel the same as I do and come out and join the Earth Day project. The parks in Nutley should be the most beautiful places in town. Somehow, a dirty park completely destroys the entire setting and atmosphere its supposed to create. No one can relax among debris.

Miss Jerri Toolin, 10 Orchard Street and instructor of PAD (Problems in American Democracy) at Nutley High.

I am particularly pleased with the involvement of young people in Nutley's Earth Day program. I was strongly in favor of the 18-year-old voting age, but I feel the proposal failed because of a stereotyped view adults have of young people. Earth Day is providing a real opportunity for young people to become involved in a community event. Personally, I believe cleaning up the river and parks is a fantastic idea that will really accomplish everything Earth Day is supposed to be about: making people aware of their environment and doing something about it.

Ed Jacobus, 122 Columbia Avenue, and member of Nutley DeMolay:

It's time that Nutley actively became aware of the problems of pollution of our streams, debris in the parks and litter on our streets and sidewalks.

Behind The Scenes With Broadway Cast

We like Dorothy Beach's favorite number, "Raindrops Falling on My Head" Vandals ransacked nine N. Y. Yankee-occupied rooms at Fort Lauderdale's Schrafft's Motor Inn two weeks ago Saturday night and stole many valuables, including important papers from Yankee General Manager Lee McPhail father's room, first-base coach Elston Howard's diamond-studded cufflinks given to him as a birthday gift by his wife Arleen and Elston's World Series gold ring, watch, and cufflinks. For seven years the Yankees were housed at the Yankee Clipper Hotel during their spring season training period at Fort Lauderdale. This is the first season the Yankees moved out of the Clipper. Maybe next year they may move back? Wednesday night prominent members of Fort Lauderdale's social set jetted to New York for the opening of the Broadway play "Cry For Us All" which premiered at the Broadhurst Theatre. Accompanying Jack and Patricia Hunt, Associate Producers of the show, were Hollywood starlet Ruth Merritt, Boca Raton's socialite Sandra Catsman Witt, Associate Manager of Fort Lauderdale's International Club Ted Sahagian, Florida's well-known builder Ken Burnstine and Jack Bishop. New York and the Fort Lauderdale crowd missed Patty Phipps Bate. Despite a negative review from the New York Times, we thought "Cry For Us All" was terrific. The play was a musicalization of William Alfred's verse-drama "Hogan's Goat". The musical is about Brooklyn in 1890 when Brooklyn had a Mayor and the Irish still ruled the roost. Of the cast we thought the three "street rats" played by Scott Jacoby, Darel Glaser, and Todd Jones were outstanding. After the show there was a private reception for the cast at the Club Escadrille where host Hunt held forth. All in all, it was a great night for the Fort Lauderdale contingent and we're thinking about seeing "Cry For Us All" a second time.

A new restaurant opened recently in Miami. It is called The Gibson Girl, located only five minutes from the airport at the Miami Airport Inn. The Lum frankfurter chain (which also owns Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas) decided to step out with a plush restaurant chain, and the Miami Gibson Girl is the pilot. A former Newarker, Lou Clerico, is the designer of this fabulous night club; and a friend of long standing, Phil Cuoco, Scenery Director of the Gleason Show, was the Associate Designer and constructed the furniture and furnishings. The atmosphere of the restaurant is only excelled by the quality of the food and the dance music

Received in the mail this week an invitation from Burton Browne of the Gaslight Club to own a small "piece of the action" in Gaslight which has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a Registration Statement relating to a public offering of Gaslight common stock. It should be a good investment

PICKED UP ENROUTE - Psychiatrists say bigmen make docile husbands - so do big women. Adult education begins with a teenage marriage Styles may change, but women's designs remain the same

If you think you can drive a bargain, buy a second-hand car Always put off to tomorrow what you are going to make a mess of today The trouble with bucket seats in cars is that everyone doesn't have the same size bucket Then there was the woman who hit the ceiling when her husband came home late. She was a poor shot It is wise not to buy new shoes first thing in the morning, for after a night's rest, feet are at their smallest; after you have been walking awhile they swell slightly A guilty conscience doesn't need an accuser It is better to give than to lend, and it costs about the same.

It is said that famous people are usually more friendly and simple than are small people who pretend to be great. Among some of the prominent people who attended the party in our Fort Lauderdale apartment five weeks ago was Jane Kean, Art Carney's TV wife. A week later she married Joe Hecht, Manager of Miami's Racquet Club. Saturday night Joe celebrated Jane's birthday at Emile Remo's new Turf Room in Miami's Golden Strand Motel where Jane beat out with songs for more than an hour. On both occasions we found Jane to be a "regular guy" with great humility.

Congratulations to Hoffman-LaRoche Vice President Wally Weller upon his appointment by President Nixon to membership on the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. The White House made the announcement last week.

Air travel this past weekend was excellent, despite the continuing air traffic controllers' sick out. Flying south on Flight 897 I had the privilege of occupying Seat 1B alongside former Essex Republican leader Any Axtell who was flying down to meet his wife, Ruth, holding forth aboard their Criscraft yacht Dur-An-A. Efficiently handling the stewardess chores up front were Senior Candy Christman, Linda Copley, and Marie Pogue

An air traveler will have to search far to find an airline check-in counter clerk with more patience than Mrs. June O'Malley who handles the chores for Eastern at Fort Lauderdale. Week after week we have seen this young lady take abuse from males and females, with great aplomb. For example, first-class passenger complaining to Mrs. O'Malley the routine of boarding economy passengers ahead of first-class passengers was all wrong - that first-class passengers should receive priority handling. Mrs. O'Malley smiled, thanked him for the suggestion and gave assurance that she would pass the complaint on to superiors.

First-class passengers are boarded last for an obvious reason - while on the ground the plane cabin is not air conditioned while the waiting room is. If the complaining passenger was boarded first and was obliged to sit in his seat in 80 degree weather, he would probably be the first to complain and demand that he be boarded last in the future. Long ago Mrs. O'Malley obviously learned one doesn't argue with a customer.

Man-In-The-News

Max Schwartz Was State Bridge Champ

Belleville attorney Max Schwartz owns the distinction of being the first and only appointed counsel for the local Board of Education.

Last week the noted lawyer was reappointed for his 20th straight term as advisor to the Board.

Originally cited the same week in 1950 that Municipal Judge Edward Abromson assumed his bench duties, Schwartz has become a name closely identified with education in Belleville.

In the course of the last 20 years, the attorney has compiled over 2,000 pages of opinions which he rendered for the school body.

During this period of time Schwartz has gained a wide reputation for knowledge in educational law matters, to the extent that other board attorneys frequently phone him for advice.

Born in Hoboken in 1901, Schwartz moved to Belleville in 1907. He attended schools in Belleville before entering Columbia University and Rutgers Law School, where he received his law degree in 1923. He became a certified counselor in 1929.

Schwartz' first venture into the legal field was a solo one, and even today he maintains an independent practice. He says the idea of consolidated law firms was not common when he first began practice.

The 20-year Board counsel finished second out of 400 men in the bar exam. Today he concentrates mostly on estate work, real property and conveyancing, and corporate organization in addition to his Board duties. He says he is not interested in criminal work, and has frequently turned down work of that nature.

The attorney is also an accomplished bridge master, having captured the state championship four times. He also likes to play golf and breaks the 80's.

Schwartz was responsible for organizing the New Jersey Bridge League, which today numbers nearly 1,000 members. He served that group as its attorney for 22 years.

He also is a member of the Board of Trustees of Congregation Ahavath Achim and helped incorporate the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

One of today's major issues - pollution - is old hat to Schwartz, who back in 1929 organized what was known as the Valley Improvement Organization, whose primary function was to cleanse the Passaic River.

One of his most persistent "jobs" is trying to maintain his independent position on the Board. He takes pride that he has never been "beholden to anyone" and is free to render objective decisions.

He says he approves of the trend in Belleville education toward more progressive standards.

Schwartz lives at 47 Carpenter Street with his wife, and has a daughter and a grandchild.

Helen's Thing ...

The Trick: Go Straight To The Top

By Helen Maguire

Ever done battle with a business concern and won? Great feeling, isn't it? Few things are more invigorating, more self-satisfying, more ego-building than engaging in the conflict and emerging the victor.

The trick, if there be one, is to go right to the top. Eliminate managers, public relations representatives, vice presidents, etc. Voice your complaint to the president at least or better, to the chairman of the board.

Be subtle, be polite, be persuasive. Tell him you have done business with his concern for quite some time and would like to continue the happy relationship. But before you start all this, be sure you are in the right.

One year, when I was single and solvent, I planned a trip to Europe and went to a travel agency in Newark to make arrangements. Through some combination of errors on the agency's part, summer drew very near and I was still without a berth on a ship or any hope of getting one. Fortunately, I have an aunt who can wring blood out of a stone (as the saying goes) and she engaged in a lively correspondence with the president of the Cunard Lines. I ended up with the offer of accommodations on the Queen Elizabeth.

We had a landlord once who wanted to have his house sided with aluminum. He gave the job to a company known throughout the country who, unbeknownst to him, turned the work over to a sub-contractor. He did a miserable job and the landlord spent months arguing with him without results. Just as he was on the verge of ulcers, we persuaded him to drop a note to the president of the parent company. It worked.

A couple of years ago when the Stottlemayres lived across the street from us, Jean had the boys' picture taken by an itinerant photographer. The proofs looked great but the final picture was a disaster. Somebody had goofed on the tinting and turned her red-headed son into a blonde and vice versa. Back went the photograph accompanied by a letter to the head of the concern. Forget the tinting. Just send a plain black and white print.

Weeks passed. The Stottlemayres went home to Washington. Finally came a letter from Jean. The company had replaced the photograph alright. They had sent her a picture of a complete stranger.

What's the old saying? You can't win them all?

Photographing A Blazing Sunday Fire Wasn't Exactly What We Were Planning

Okay, so we're antagonistic this session. Well if you went through what we did last Sunday, you'd understand.

This poem gives a good representation of what we went through:

There was a man
Who built a ship
To sail away
And it sank.

You see it was this Sunday spring day. Yellow sun. No clouds. The right temperature. Everything in its place.

So forsaking our usual Sunday adventure into the frustrations of acrylic painting, fiction writing or comic book reading, it's down with the car roof, up with the spirits and into Branch Brook Park for a walk.

This lasts an hour. We tire of waiting for the Cherry Blossoms to peek out, and decide to pick up a camera and wander Nutley's Memorial Park. Which is cheerful and loaded with kids who have spent the entire week indoors cooped up disciplined and now are branching out, if you will.

Despite an occasional tiny hand wanting to play with our expensive camera, or the frequent wails of kids toppling off swings and seesaws, we manage to enjoy the day and snap 27 shots.

Suddenly the air fills with the roar of sirens and billows of black smoke spread across the cloudless sky.

Fire. Pictures. Which amounts to three because that's all we've got left in the camera and what a time to run out.

Naturally we're six blocks from the scene which requires running which in turn involves legs and lungs and somehow our equipment just isn't up to the whole bit. By the time we hit the scene of the blazing fire, our mouth is making wide sucking motions which really must look funny to everyone but us because we're not really trying to imitate a goldfish. At least not today.

Well we're chomping air and this boarding house and lumber yard and four cars are blazing and Nutley and Belleville firemen are hosing the area like mad and suddenly we notice one detail in particular which is that the air is filling with smoke and we're beginning to choke. And gasp. And take them quick pictures and get out of there, because we're out of film and need more.

So it's six more blocks of mad dash scamper and we're expending more oxygen than is generally acceptable to our lungs and by the time we collapse in our car, the legs are dead numb and working the clutch and gas peddle becomes more guts than skill but its our job and we're appreciated by the Nutley Sun, our associated publication.

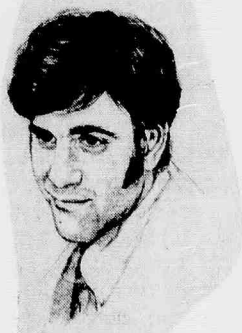

Screaming into the office yelling fire get the film air and water quick, we load up and head back and before we know it we're in the thick of it again with hundreds of people lining the streets and the nearby Highland Avenue railroad tracks and the firemen scrambling madly and the police trying to protect everybody and the whole thing's becoming terribly unreal and by this time threatens to become a strange fantasy until the live telephone wires begin dropping out of the sky and we suddenly realize that you may be a good A-1 daring photographer but these hot wires are not impressed.

Niether is a Nutley policeman who is about to motion me to the sidelines for safety but we're there before he can point. That is we are there with a wet fire hose sprayed jacket, a cut knee, bleeding fingers and smoke smelling hair and clothes which is a far cry from what ever we planned for the day.

Back to the office for routine weekend patchup work on the paper and some film developing and wouldn't you know that within an hour the sirens are hollering again only this time less invitingly for us but we head to an apartment fire on Park Avenue and are beginning to feel sorry for ourselves which comes easy and lasts until we take a good look at the dirt-stained weary faces of the Nutley firemen and realize that all that talk about the seventh day of rest must sound like a bad joke to them.

On the way back to the office we have just one thought: If Town Hall burns down they'd better have a Brownie camera handy, because you can count us out.

Variance Approaches Town Hall

The chairman listed them as: A further setback from the front of the property of three feet installation of parking bumpers in the parking lot, property enclosed by a rustic fence, garbage dumpsters to be enclosed with decorative blocks, sodding and strips limited to three feet in height, and a low profile lighting setup to be provided throughout the site.

None of the conditions apply to the alleged traffic hazard which was one of the major grievances of the residents group.

Fearful by the residents was the potential danger to 91 children who attend nearby School Ten.

Testimony about the traffic problem was heard at previous hearings nine months ago when the then Board of Education president, Dr. Frank D'Amico, and a PTA representative addressed the variance board.

The Board also heard a traffic expert from the State Highway Department testify regarding traffic in the area. Testimony also came from a Belleville Police Lieutenant and a traffic count survey which was used to strengthen the objectors case.

Representing the objectors was Lawrence Schwartz, a Belleville attorney, who asked, "How can this board pass this application without evidence of a special reason, when they previously denied it for a lack of special reason?"

Several residents said they would stage a protest at Town Hall the night in which the variance came before the commissioners. Schwartz said that if the Board grants the variance he would file an appeal.

Careful Storage Stops Poisoning

Preventing accidental poisonings around the home can be a real problem for mothers of young children. Children seem to be born explorers, and the average home is a haven of things to find!

When reading a label that states, "keep out of the reach of young children," it is very easy to just put the product away without thinking. The average home doesn't offer much space for locked storage, but it is wise for you to rearrange and find some "childproof" areas.

Does your house look like one of these?

LOOK HOW LITTLE IT COSTS TO KEEP THEM TOASTY WARM WITH

RADIANT ELECTRIC HEAT

All of these houses use Radiant Electric GLASSHEAT panels for heat. They are in good company. Over one half million homes, hospitals and business establishments are now equipped with this super-comfortable, healthful, economical kind of house heating.

Here's why the owners of these houses are so enthusiastic about heating with Radiant Electric Glassheat panels:

- 1. Their houses have never been so comfortable.

- 2. Their houses have never been more healthful.
Radiant heat doesn't dry out the air you breathe... reduces dried out nasal passages and sinusitis which cause congestion and difficult breathing. And radiant electric heat is the same heat given off by the sun, its purifying rays reduce germs and viruses in your home.
- 3. Their houses are heated economically.
Check the houses pictured above and see how closely your heating bill comes to the house that resembles yours. With our Electric Radiant panels there's no wastage of heat up the chimney or in rooms you're not using, or in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others. You get the exact heat you want — when you want it — through individual thermostats that control the heat in each room. Then let us show you how much you can save with Electric Radiant Glassheat panels.
- 4. Their houses have all the advantages of modern heating.
All flames, burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are the heating equipment headaches for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank; pump or boiler repairs; no valves to leak or fans to burn out; no chimneys or air filters to clean; no damage from leaking pipes; no sludge; carbonizing, clogging jets, oil lines, or burner nozzles, no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Let us demonstrate how good Radiant Electric heat feels in a few minutes in your home. Then we will show you, without obligation of any kind, how much Glassheat panels can increase the comfort of your home and decrease the cost of heat compared with your present heating system. Just phone us or send us the coupon.

Erratic Pitching Plagues Belleville As Squad Prepares For Kearny Tilt

Well they've found the pitchers mound at the Stadium, but evidently the Bellboy pitchers are having trouble now locating the plate.

A rash of wildness has plagued the Bellboy hurlers, who must get themselves under control in time for Kearny on Saturday.

Last week the squad split a pair of games, beating Passaic but losing to Irvington. In both games frequent walks and passed balls had coach Charlie Travers wondering what spring training was all about.

Travers wouldn't make any excuses for his pitchers, and avoided the obvious one of the long missing pitchers mound.

Much of the last two weeks of training was spent by the pitchers in the gym or on the concrete and that isn't the best place to gain control.

Travers is hopeful, however that this team can produce victories and expects his hurlers to settle down as the season progresses. So far, the coach says there is no "ace" on the staff. He plans to use all his pitchers in what amounts to a "shake-up."

John Moraski and Sal Mineo, who lost and won respectively in their initial starts, both experienced control difficulties, with Moraski walking five men during one inning.

Things look a little brighter in the infield, a place where Travers said earlier in the season must produce if the squad is to have a winning campaign.

The loss this year of all-state third basemen John Goscinski and of second baseman Ray Campbell was a big blow to the coach, who knows the value of a tight infield in high school ball.

Thus far, however, sophomore hot sacker Frank Petite and junior Brian Waters have plugged the wholes well. Also coming along is senior Frank Fury who appears on his way to holding down the first base slot.

Making everyone look up lately is Rocco Marotti, whose bat suddenly has come alive. The coach says Marotti has won himself a place in the starting lineup and is expected to produce some help this season.

This week has called for lots of extra work for the pitchers and for the team in general.

The hottest hitter in the camp is junior Joe Papasidero who is flirting with the .400 mark. Papasidero and senior centerfielder Joe Ritacco are being counted upon as the key-men on the squad.

BEATS THE BALL - Frank Petite beats the ball to the plate to score Belleville's third run against Passaic last week. Bellboys won 8-6.

Cheerleaders Set For Belleville High

The names of the twelve BHS girls selected for the 1970-71 Cheerleading squad were released recently by Mrs. Phennig, history teacher and cheerleader advisor at Belleville High.

The squad is made up of five juniors, six sophomores, and one freshman. Six of the girls, three juniors and three sophomores will be returning from last years squad. The three juniors returning are Donna Cervasio, Joni Fornarotto, and Marybeth Salamone. The three sophomores are Peggy Buckland, Lynn Halbert, and Mariz Zarra.

Making the squad for the first time are Juniors Margaret DiChiara, and Cheryl Moore, sophomores, Carol Masi, Debbie Meola and Kathy Sheridan. The only freshman is Jeane Austin. Cheryl Moore and Carol Masi both were on the Wrestling Cheerleading squad, but made this squad (for Football, basketball, and pep rallies) for the first time.

In order to qualify to be a cheerleader, each girl has to give a series of cheers and perform exercises that are the basis for the cheerleader's routines.

The two major cheers are the "Tough Enough" cheer used mostly for basketball games and the "Yah Rah Smith" cheer used by the squad at almost all sports. The exercises are splits, "C" jumps, spread jumps, pony jumps, and cartwheels.

The girls are now starting the work together as a unit to get prepared to form their squads.

Angelo Zoppi Finishes First In Corps Test

By John McCarthy
Angelo Zoppi, a varsity wrestler at BHS, scored 421 points in the U.S. Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program held Monday at Newark State College. Six Belleville High boys, under the supervision of gym teacher Pete Spera, entered the event, and the total hit the highest score of 1911 points, 500 more the BHS team that entered lastyear.

Spera said that he was "happy with the high score (Belleville's placement in the contest will be released later), but not happy because "I thought we could do better." Spera cited some of the areas that knocked points off the Bellboy's score, as being form on the pushups, speed on the squat thrusts, and form again on the pullups, but said that most of the boys made a good account for themselves and showed that they are in good shape.

Scoring for the exercises was done by members of the Corps, who could award up to 100 points for each if the participant met with strict requirements in time, form and quantity. Five hundred points is the highest possible total.

Since almost every home now has more than one TV, customers often ask us whether it is possible to hook up 2 TV sets to one antenna. Yes, this can be done by the use of a so called 2 set coupler. We have not experienced any problems of interference, even if both sets are used at the same time, provided of course the coupler is properly designed.

If more than 2 sets are hooked up to one antenna, repeatedly we had problems. The signal strength is cut down too much. The larger distances of the antenna wire tend to pick up interference and introduce ghosts. Still it may work occasionally if the reception is very good and if there is a very strong signal. As a rule if more than 2 sets are to be used on one antenna, an amplified signal splitter is necessary, similar to master antenna systems which are installed in new apartment buildings.

For best reception it still is desirable to have an outside or attic antenna.

Figurelli Ready For Setonia Track

Jerry Figurelli, a '68 BHS grad, is getting ready for Seton Hall's 1970 track season, and particularly the Quantic Relays scheduled May 1. The Viking sophomore is just starting to work out hard now, after being off five and one half weeks due to a broken foot.

On May 1, Jerry will enter into the 3000 meter steeplechase. He will run against some of the men he respects most in this event, Barry Brown of the New York Athletic Club, and Tom Donnelly of Villanova. Even with these two running, he isn't about to be psyched out. He's "aiming for as far as I can go."

3000 Meters Of Complications

The 3000 meter steeplechase is one of the most unusual events in track and field competition. It consists of eight laps totaling nearly two miles. Each lap has five obstructions, four three-foot hurdles, and a water jump. The water jump is three feet deep, 12 feet long and the width of the track. In order to get to water, (it's almost impossible to jump over it eight times while running two miles) the runner has to go over a three foot wall!

The Setonian cross-country letterman has never been timed in the steeplechase, even though he's run it before. The last time he ran it in the Quantic Relays, his time wasn't taken, but he's hoping for a clocking between 9:40-9:50. On the track, Jerry has done a 4:36 mile indoors (one of the few times he has done the mile) in the U.S. Track and Field Federation Meet at Madison Square Garden.

On the Seton Hall Cross-Country team as a soph this year, he was the No. 4 man on the 15-man squad. His fastest race was 27 minutes 27 seconds for the five mile course at Monmouth College. Jerry took fifth in this race and Seton Hall beat Monmouth 21-37, by placing 1,2,3,5, and 10.

A runners fastest race is not always his best to himself. Jerry's best race was at Van Cortlandt Park in New York, where Seton Hall entered the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Cross-Country Meet. His time of 28:37 for the five mile plus course helped his team place fifth in the meet.

Jerry was 20th in the graduating class of 1968, and has continued to perform well academically as well as athletically. As a freshman, Figurelli had a 3.6 average out of a possible 4.0 both semesters. This year, the English major earned a 4.0 to place on Dean's List for the third time in three semesters.

College Follow-Ups

Larry Jinks of Belleville is now well into the Rutgers New Brunswick track season. Every Wednesday and Saturday, the Rutgers squad takes on another team.

In the team's first meet, with LaSalle and Penn State, Larry placed second with his longest jump, 21'11". Larry also placed third in another tri-meet with St. John's and Yale, with a jump of 21'6". Larry placed fourth in the long jump against Fordham and Seton Hall when Rutgers won 113-Fordham 51 and Seton Hall 27 last week.

Berry Giordano of Belleville, now at Fairleigh Dickinson University got his first chance to pitch this spring in FDU's scrimmage against Fordham University.

Giordano, a frosh, pitched the first four innings in perfect style. He let up no runs, no hits and no walks while picking up four strikeouts. Unfortunately, FDU didn't score any runs until the eighth inning after Giordano was taken out to give the other pitchers on the staff a chance in rotation.

Giordano feels that he is throwing "faster" than he did in high school, even though he had no trouble in high school and American Legion Ball. Giordano feels that the few errors committed by the FDU fielders including another former Bellboy George Debrowski can give the squad a fine season record.

For the second time in their eight year history, the mighty "Amazing" Mets have done the impossible. First they won the World Series and now they've actually won an opening day. No matter how many games they win this year, the Mets will still be most popular, for as we've heard for quite a few of the Mets seasons, "We must be doing something right."

Unbeaten Frosh Meet St. Benedicts Prep

Belleville Junior High School's Freshman Baseball Team will go into tomorrow's game at St. Benedicts with two wins under their belts. The frosh nine won their opening game against Myrtle Junior High School of Irvington, 10-0 and beat Nutley's frosh 8-3 on Saturday.

Against Myrtle, Tom Cosgrove pitched a 1-hitter after hurling the first 5 and 2/3 innings perfectly. Cosgrove struckout 12 batters in the seven inning game, and walked none. Myrtle got only two baserunners, one on the only hit the other on an error.

A seven run first inning, helped by wild pitching from the Myrtle pitcher, was highlighted by Rich Giordano's ground rule double. Giordano's hit went over Belleville Stadium's left field fence, scoring Joe Ross and Mark Cervasio.

In the game at Nutley, Allen Frank pitched all seven innings and also picked up 12 strikeouts. Most of Frank's strikeouts helped him get out of some tough spots, like when Nutley's leadoff batter in the first inning homered.

A bases loaded single by Rich Cupparo helped establish a five run second inning for the Bellboys. The singled scored Phil Cuzzi from third, and Rich Centenni from second. Joe Ross also drove in two RBI's with a single when men were on.

Too Many Walks

Erratic Pitching Seen As Bellboys Split Pair

by Marc Feldman

Last weekend, the Belleville varsity baseball team split a pair of games, defeating Passaic at home, 9-6, and losing to Irvington on the road, 8-3.

The Passaic game was characterized by sloppy play, as the Indians committed eight errors and Belleville, three. The Bellboys built up an 8-0 lead after four innings, but had to struggle for the victory when Passaic came up with a five run sixth inning.

Frank Petite and Joe Papasidero provided the bulk of the attack with two hits and two RBIs apiece. The winning pitcher was junior righthander Sal Mineo who allowed two runs and five hits in his five innings of pitching. Both Bellboy uprisings were aided by Passaic errors.

After Passaic cut the lead to 8-6 after five and one half innings, the Bellboys picked up an insurance run in their half of the sixth. Brian Waters reached first on a fielder's choice, stole second and third, and came in on catcher Mitch Waldman's throwing error. Petite retired the Indians without a hit in the seventh and struck out two of the batters.

The Bellboys did not fare as well against Big Ten rival Irvington. A combination of bad breaks and seven bases on balls in the first three innings gave the Campers the victory. Six of the seven Irvington batters who walked scored a run. Irvington scored two runs in the first inning which were offset by a Belleville run in the second frame. Charlie Ziegler reached first on a fielder's choice, stole second, and scored when the Irvington first and second meet because the weight men pulverized the visiting Indians.

Last Tuesday was almost a replay of the situation, with the trackmen losing 32-40 and the fieldmen winning 24-17. The score however was 57-56 in Orange High School's favor.

Co-captain Vic Squitieri continues to be the mainstay for the Bellboys on the track. Tuesday he was all over the place, capturing three first place finishes in the 100 yard dash, the low hurdles and the discus.

Ross Salerno's heave of 48'11" marked a personal high for him and was good enough for a first place, giving him eleven points for the year. Squitieri is team leader with 26 points for the two meet season.

Belleville's downfall proved to be the 220 and 440 yard dashes, in which the sprinters were outscored by crushing baseman played Alphonse and Gaston on a popup which fell in.

Irvington sewed up the game with their six run third inning. Dale Wolff had the only solid hit of inning, a single to left center. Moraski was so wild that he walked four men in the inning, including two with the bases loaded.

Belleville's only threat to come back was in the fifth inning. Gary Falkman and Ron Muscara walked and scored when Papasidero's single was misplayed by left fielder Greg Gemgnani. Papasidero tried to score on Waters' scratch hit but was cut down at the plate.

Nick Stanzone was the winning pitcher for the Campers, who are now 3-1. He allowed just four hits, struck out eight and walked four.

Junior shortstop Papasidero is Belleville's leading hitter after three games. He is batting a robust .455 with five hits in eleven trips.

8-1 margins. Otherwise Bellboys did pretty well on the track and show much improvement over last year's squad which captured only one meet all season.

Squitieri's first in the discus with a 124'7" throw was coupled with a third place finish for junior Mike Albertine who heaved 115'3".

Salerno's first in the shot put event was coupled strongly with a good 46'8" throw by Albertine.

Belleville took a third in the long jump, with Ricky Caruso leaping 16'5".

The pole vault event, which last year saw senior stars George Riepe and Charlie Eccle soar to 11 and 12 foot heights, is not the same attraction this year. Nevertheless the young Bellboy vaulters picked up all three places with Dave Pepi first at 8 feet, Jerry Price second with a six foot jaunt and Augie Laluna third with five feet.

Donny Kowalski took a first in the high hurdles with a time of 19.3. Belleville's Tony Portase was third with a 21.1 time.

Squitieri's 100 yard dash victory was registered in 11.0.

Undefeated Crew Seeks Third Win Tomorrow

Belleville's strong crew squad will take on Blessed Sacrament of New Rochelle, N.Y. and Kearny tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 p.m. on the Passaic River. The undefeated oarsmen hope to extend their meet record to 3-0.

Coach Mike Lally's successful squad has thus far swept to impressive victories over Lower Merion at Philadelphia and Atlantic City and Nutley at home last week.

Belleville last year beat the Kearny crew four times, and is hoping to extend that mastery tomorrow. Lally's oarsmen out-rowed Blessed Sacrament in their only meeting last year by 12 seconds.

Saturday's scheduled meet with Arlington has been postponed to May 16, according to Lally.

Belleville will send the same varsity shell into the race that has appeared all season. Barring injuries or illness, the squad will consist of coxswain Steve Taffet, Stroke Jackie Fersko, Russell Jerusik, co-captain Roy Newman, John Atherton, Tom Jones, Jim Drexler, co-captain Alan De Feo and bow Frank Marano.

Lally says at this point he is not looking ahead to the distant Nationals, but did say his strong young squad had not forgotten missing qualification for that competition by only two tenths of a second.

Last Saturday's victory over Nutley and Atlantic City came on a seasonally bright and sunny day on the Passaic, with an incoming tide and a moderate tail wind.

Belleville captured the raise with a 5:02.5 time, with Nutley at 5:09 and Atlantic City at 6:00 trailing. The victory over Atlantic City avenges a defeat last year for the Bellboys, who lost only two in the season's campaign.

Both Nutley and Belleville got off to a good start, with Atlantic City obviously out of the race from the beginning. It was not until mid-way into the second quarter that Belleville opened up a substantial lead.

Lally considers his varsity's time good because of the incoming tide. The tail wind he said helped offset this condition.

The six year coach says the varsity shell's strategy was to match Nutley with power, not strokes. When the Maroon went into sprint strokes (raising the stroke beat), the Bellboys responded with added power.

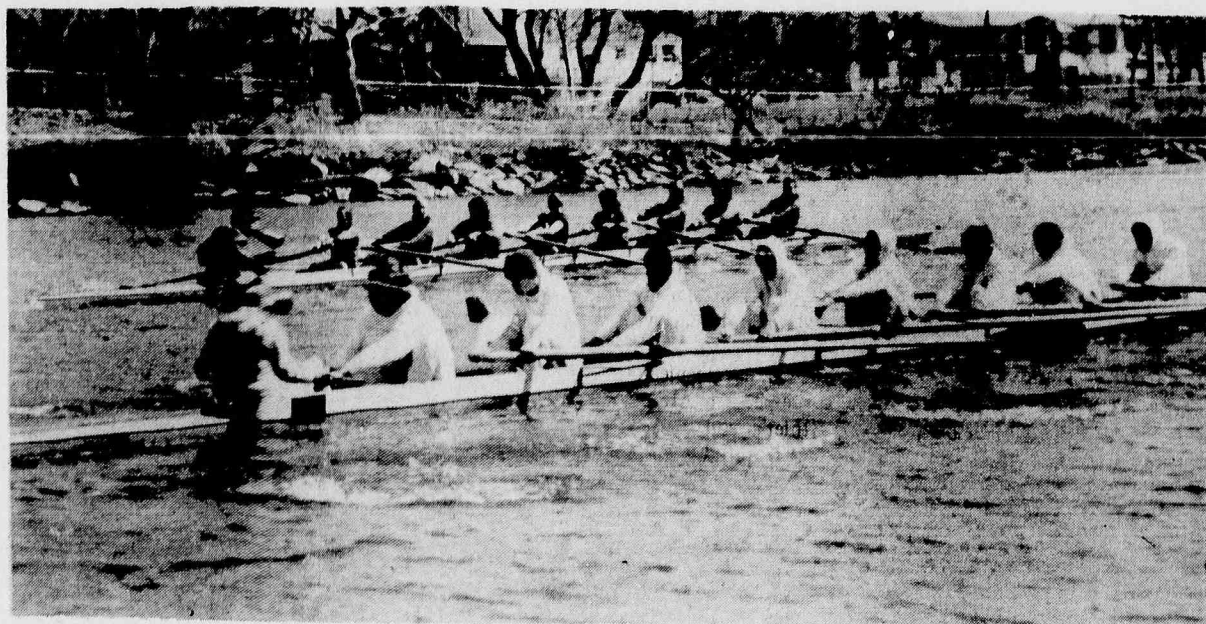

"I feel that a higher stroke opens the possibility for mistakes which can be costly," Lally said. "In this manner power is sacrificed for sudden speed which in the end is more tiring."

Lally says his squad generally likes to maintain from 34-36 strokes per minute. Saturday, Nutley was using 37-38 strokes per minute. The coach feels that this understroking technique had a great deal to do with the teams victories thus far.

The Belleville JV crew had an equally successful day last Saturday, beating both crews handily. The Bellboys turned in a 5:22.5 time, followed by Nutley at 5:26.5 and Atlantic City at distant 6:22.5. In Philadelphia the Nutley JV had beaten the Bellboys by 1.8 seconds.

"Our JV remembered that 1.8 seconds all week, and coach Sam Giuffride had them pointing toward that all week. The clipping was up in the locker for all to see," Lally says.

CLOSE BATTLE — Nutley's JV shell (foreground) takes the early lead last Saturday on the Passaic, but Belleville squad came on strong to avenge an earlier season loss to the Maroon, winning by a convincing four second margin.

THE WINNERS — A triumphant Belleville crew squad discuss convincing victory over Nutley and Atlantic City last Saturday on Passaic River.

Bill Geyer Of Montclair Wins Football Award

William H. Geyer of Montclair will receive the Distinguished American Award on April 15 from the Essex County Chapter of The National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. The presentation will be made at the group's Fifth Annual Scholar-Athlete Awards Dinner at Mayfair Farms in West Orange.

The Distinguished American Award is presented annually "to a former player who has carried the lessons learned on the football field into a life of service to the community."

Geyer, who is vice president and general manager of the Scientific Glass Apparatus Co., Inc., Bloomfield, was a member of the varsity football team at Colgate University during his undergraduate years. He was one of the men on the 1941 All-East Football team, received honorable mention as an All-American, and became a member of the East-West Football Shrine Players Association.

He still holds the all-time major college single-season record for the most yardage gained on punt and kick-off returns—a total of 966 yards. Following graduation, Geyer played professional football with the Chicago Bears prior to and following World War II, with time out to serve as a naval gunnery officer in the Pacific, European and African Theaters.

Managers Sought For 2 Leagues

Because of the increased number of boys who have turned out for baseball this year, the town Recreation Department is enlarging both the Peanut League and the Farm League.

There is an urgent need for men who are willing to coach boys teams. The Peanut League is for boys of eight and nine years of age, while the Farm League is for boys 10-12 years.

Managers are needed who will give every boy a chance and who place sportsmanship as high as winning ball games.

Men who are interested are asked to contact Bob Cook at the Recreation House.

Program By Power Companies

Eleven electric companies in the Middle Atlantic states have established a research grant program to enable several local colleges and universities to study problems faced by electrical utilities.

The Middle Atlantic Area Coordination group, comprised of representatives from the 11 companies, reported electric utilities daily face increased demands for electricity and there is more emphasis on a high-quality environment.

The group believes graduate students and faculty members from various colleges could provide solutions to some of the problems, especially in the technical area.

The Middle Atlantic Power Research Committee, organized last November, has invited 28 colleges and universities to submit proposals for research projects concerned with electric utility problems. Those proposals submitted to the committee will be made to the schools whose proposals are accepted.

It is expected that the grant program, when it is fully operating, will make available $100,000 a year to aid university research. It is also expected that the research programs will develop a closer relationship between students, faculty and practicing engineers in power companies.

Public Service Electric and Gas Company is represented on the Middle Atlantic Power Research Committee by Raymond A. Huse, assistant to general manager - engineering. The universities program with are Newark College of Engineering, Stevens Institute of Technology, Fairleigh Dickinson University and Princeton University.

Newark Bank Reports Big Loan Increase

Essex County mortgage loans held by The Howard Savings Institution of Newark, the largest savings bank in New Jersey, on December 31, 1969 amounted to $138,814,210, John W. Kress, Howard president, reported today. This represents an increase of $86,868,165, over the last decade.

"As the largest lender of money for mortgage loans in New Jersey," Kress noted, "The Howard continues to make a significant contribution to the state's economic growth." The Institution has granted 41,604 loans, totalling $622,343,393, at the end of 1969 on properties in all of the state's twenty-one counties.

"Of particular note," said Kress, "is that the majority of loans granted are on one-to-four family dwellings and the balance of the portfolio includes multi-family, industrial, institutional and other loans. Kress pointed out that The Howard differs from many other lenders in its policy of investing only in New Jersey mortgages and in continuing to charge no service fee for granting VA mortgages.

Of the total mortgage loans outstanding at the year's end, VA loans accounted for 22.56 percent or $135,974,460. Conventional mortgage loans represented 57.75 percent or $359,418,161, and FHA loans amounted to $122,575,744, or 19.69 percent.

With its head office in Newark, and ten branches in Essex County, The Howard Savings Institution is the 15th largest savings bank in the nation. Total assets on December 31, 1969 were $908,244,219, with deposits amounting to $829,661,863. The bank had close to 368,000 depositors.

The Howard mortgage loan correspondent for Essex County is the Edward I. Forman Mortgage Company of Newark.

Theron L. Marsh, executive vice president and cashier of the bank, will succeed Wiedenmayer as president. These plans were announced by the bank's board of directors recently.

Wiedenmayer has been president of National Newark & Essex Bank since December 14, 1961, when he succeeded Cowan. He has been with the bank since 1929 and was named a director in 1946. He became executive vice president in 1950.

Decade Of Growth Revealed At Bank

Year-end deposits at the Howard Savings Institution were $829,661,863 an increase of $14,455,470 over figures for the previous year, it was reported today by John W. Kress, Howard president. The deposit gain represented a $433,483,741 increase for the ten-year period since year-end 1959.

Assets totaled $908,244,219, reflecting a $19,113,492 increase for the year, and a $466,406,972 increase over the past ten years.

During 1969 The Howard paid $38,291,872 in dividends to its almost 368,000 depositors. This was an increase of $2,043,965 over dividends paid in 1968, and brings to $243,909,220 dividends paid since year-end 1959. Dividends paid by the Bank since its founding in 1857 now total $395,614,227.

At year-end, the Bank's mortgage portfolio, which is invested solely in New Jersey, consisted of 18,855 Conventional, 13,253 Veteran's and 9,496 F.H.A. loans. Holdings totaled $622,343,393, showing an increase of $20,050,888 over figures a year ago, and were up $338,842,716 for the decade.

Also increased were the Surplus and Reserves, which totaled $63,531,598. This represents a gain of $3,255,587 for the year, and a $23,773,193 increase over the last ten years. Surplus and Reserve funds provide deposit protection in addition to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation savings account coverage, which has recently been increased from $15,000 to $20,000.

"The past year was difficult for savings institutions generally," Kress said, "but we are pleased with our performance during the year and we are particularly pleased with our progress during the 1960's." Referring to the recently liberalized branch banking laws, Kress continued, "We believe that the changed banking legislation in New Jersey will afford us opportunity for even greater growth in the 1970's."

The largest savings bank in the state, and the 16th largest in the nation, The Howard has offices in Newark, South Orange, Irvington, and North Caldwell. Three new branches in East Orange, North Arlington and Nutley — will be opened in the near future.

Anything that involves your life is important-like safe driving for instance.

Utility Seeks Faith For Jersey Cities

A campaign to help restore faith in New Jersey's cities has been launched by Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

The utility, which was the first in the nation to start an area development program to lure business and industry to its territory, is now lending its expertise in this field to spotlight the expanding investment opportunities in the State's six largest cities, Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Elizabeth, Trenton, and Camden.

It has published "Six Cities Forward," a colorful 48-page booklet to dramatically depict the business, industrial and cultural advantages in New Jersey cities.

An introductory "Statement of Conviction" says in part: "... the recent crises in major cities throughout the nation have forced all companies to re-examine their positions. Public Service believes that the future of America depends on its cities—not just on their survival, but on their swift rise to business eminence and cultural leadership that have been hallmarks of cities in all great civilizations."

Copies of the booklet are being sent to business, financial and industrial leaders throughout the nation.

In launching the campaign, Edward R. Eberle president of Public Service, said:

"All across the country you hear the cry 'the cities are dying.' It isn't true. As our 'Six Cities Forward' booklet points out, New Jersey's cities are changing. For example, look at the dramatic changes taking place in Newark. Its airport is being doubled in size.

"When a $400 - million expansion program is completed in 1975, Port Newark, combined with the seaport of Elizabeth, will be handling more than two-thirds of Port of New York cargo. The New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry has broken ground for a 50-acre $90-million campus that will give Newark the advantages of both a fine educational institution and a major medical center.

"Rutgers is nearing the completion of the first campus to be carved entirely out of urban renewal land. It will serve more than 25,000 students by 1975. On adjacent land, Newark College of Engineering is transforming its old campus with new buildings and facilities that will be able to turn out 12,000 engineers a year. And nearby, an entirely new Essex Community College is getting ready to provide a two-year training program for technicians of all kinds.

"Great things are happening in our other cities, too," said Eberle, "and we at Public Service feel that it is time for private enterprise to step in, and make certain that this momentum is maintained, that this new vitality doesn't wither on the vine. We intend to apply all the know-how we have to sell industry and business throughout this nation on the advantages of locating facilities in New Jersey's cities.

"In short, the success of this campaign will mean jobs. Jobs mean that men will be able to live in dignity in decent homes and raise children who will become good citizens. It may also mean that many who have fled the cities will return.

AAA Auto Clubs Urge Rejection Of State Bill

The AAA Auto Clubs of New Jersey have urged members of the State Senate to reject a bill calling for a study to determine the feasibility of extending the Garden State Parkway and New Jersey Turnpike into Warren and Sussex Counties.

New Zoning Ordinance Draws Valley Anger; Clash Seen Likely

Valley, who will petition the commission to reject the Planning Board's proposals and to increase industrial zoning in that area. (A story on the industrial protest is on page one of today's Times.)

Final shape of this town will rest, however with commissioners, who appear mixed in their reaction to apartments and industrial growth.

Strongly favoring industrial growth and multi-family dwellings in the Valley are Mayor Ken Smith and Commissioner William Cullen, both of whom say the ratables are essential for tax relief in town.

Equally as strongly opposed is Commissioner Joseph McGreevy. McGreevy has repeatedly voted against apartment construction throughout town because he fears traffic hazards and the lowering of residential land value among other reasons. McGreevy's position on industrial growth and apartment construction is expected to be similar in the Valley. (He was not available for comment at press time.)

Commissioner Mary

Senatore has consistently voted for apartment construction "in their proper places," and has publicly said she will "never vote to tear down any houses." As for industrial growth in the Valley, the commissioner told The Times that she would comply with resident's wishes "what ever they turn out to be."

Commissioner Strumolo, who has said he wants to keep Belleville a suburban community, has indicated he sees Belleville as a "mature town" and does not want to alter the present zone set-up. He was one of the most formidable forces against the recent Master Plan, saying publicly it should "be junked." The commissioner says he does not want to see further industrial expansion in the valley, because the "people are not for it and have expressed this to me." He added that industry should improve what they have and keep up with air pollution techniques in a modernization move.

Last week's public hearing, held on Thursday at School Nine, started out as a potentially stormy confrontation between Valley residents and the Planning Board. By the end of the meeting, however, sentiment had shifted and residents appeared less angry with that Board than with the commissioners. Some observers said later that the planning body had "passed the buck" to the Commission.

Planning Board chairman John Connelly told the gathering at the outset that neither he nor his board had ever proposed high rise apartments in the Valley, as "has been reported in the local papers." He added that he would never move for that type construction in this town.

Connelly also said he did not know where the press had

"got their information, because they never asked us."

The Times, however had placed phone calls to Connelly on February 13 and 16, requesting information on the proposed zoning ordinance, nearly two months before the public meeting. One of the residents grievances last week, which Connelly sympathized with was that they hadn't sufficient time to study the changes.

Two months ago the Times in its February 19 issue, ran an article entitled "No Information On Zone Changes." That article said in part:

"Members of the Planning Board have politely refused to answer questions on the new zoning structure. In each instance, The Times was referred to Board Chairman John Connelly. Even a non-Board member, Miss Grace Harris of the Passaic Valley Planning Commission, was reluctant to discuss the zoning law or map. (The Passaic Valley Commission helped draw up the changes.)"

"Mr. Connelly is very careful about what goes out and who speaks for the Board," Miss Harris said.

"The Times left messages for Connelly last Friday and Monday, but received no answer. A call placed on Tuesday by The Times obtained the following information: Connelly couldn't speak until he had polled his Board; and he wouldn't discuss anything over the phone."

"The Planning Board meets sometime in March or April," according to Connelly, who promised to then ask the membership if he could speak with the Times."

At last week's meeting, Connelly said there were no changes in the Valley map, indicating he felt this was the Valley's wish as expressed at the Master Plan hearing two years ago.

When gathered residents said that this was not their sentiment two years ago, Connelly then said "we were misinformed."

The new proposals, Grace Harris said, essentially would promote more construction of residential "A" and "B" homes. She also said that construction is prohibited in all zones for mental institutions, buildings that emit noxious fumes, hotels, motels, dance halls and discoteques. She summarized the various sections of the new ordinance for the audience.

William Cavanaugh of 391 Cortlandt Street, one of the originators of the Valley Association, was the first to speak, charging that the Planning Board's proposal was not "a plan at all."

Compromise Being Sought

Pica of 59 Mt. Prospect Street, PTA president.

Board public relations representative Caesar Romano, also present at the meeting, invited the parents to meet with the Board at a later date.

The School Eight PTA has been seeking removal of the Board of Education offices from the first floor of that school and is hoping to avoid having their children placed in basement rooms classified as "substandard."

Tuesday a compromise was proposed, according to Mrs. Pica.

The PTA leader told The Times that Greco said the three second grades would not be consolidated because he felt this would be a "step backward." He also promised to give the school's children remedial reading two or three times per week instead of just once. Mrs. Pica also said that Greco agreed to split the two present third grades into three classes to relieve overcrowding. That grade has had from 31-33 pupils per class each year since first grade, according to Mrs. Pica.

Just where the extra classroom will come from could be the center issue in the weeks to come. Mrs. Pica says her group is willing to compromise, and settle for one basement room plus the business administrators' office. The administrator, Harold Dufford, would presumably be relocated to the basement, possibly in assistant superintendent Michael Rossamilia's office.

Whether or not the School Board will agree to this is another matter. Board president Rocco Saletta has maintained the past few weeks that no clear-cut solution has presented itself. Mentioned has been an addition to School Eight and a temporary relocation to a less crowded school.

The Board is scheduled to meet April 27 with Dr. Donald Walling, director of research at the Rutgers School of Education to discuss the possibility of conducting a thorough study of Belleville's enrollment problem and its entire educational program.

Mrs. Pica cautioned that the School Eight PTA was not a pressure group and that it merely "wanted to work with the School Board."

Carriers Honored

Commissioner Mary Senatore and M. Murray, superintendent of safety for the Newark Postal District gave out safety awards to 18 postal carriers from the Belleville P.P. Annex.

HELP FOR PARKINSONS WITH L-DOPA
For a long time there was little that could be done to help people suffering from Parkinson's Disease. Stemming from a chronic disorder of the central nervous system, its symptoms are a shaking palsy, slowness of movement, weakness and stiffening of the muscles.
Now a drug with the funny sounding name of L-DOPA appears to be helping people with Parkinson's to improve greatly. Although still being tested, it has been recommended that the drug be released for use by physicians and it should be available around the middle of this year. Your doctor knows about this.
YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Shop-Rite Ranks 13th Among U.S. Markets

Wakefern Food Corporation's Annual Report for the fiscal year ending September 27, 1969 released today reveals that the cooperative, which is the distribution arm of the Shop-Rite Supermarkets, had sales of $456,277,233.

This 21.9% decrease from sales in 1968 indicates almost a 50% recoup in only twelve months of the volume lost by the warehouse as a result of the withdrawal of its previously largest member. Net rebates to the stores as a percent of sales were higher during 1969 than during the previous year.

Unparalleled sales in existing stores, (sales in an average Shop-Rite market were over $5 million in 1969), the opening of eight supermarkets during the year and the expansion of product lines in all departments accounted for Wakefern's volume. Combined retail sales of Shop-Rite Supermarkets were over $700 million, ranking Shop-Rite thirteenth among all supermarkets in the United States according to a

Nine County Bankers Attend Convention

Nine Essex County Bankers attended the recent 1970 New Jersey Bankers Association (NJBA) Data Processing School held in the Haddon Hall Hotel in Atlantic City. More than 100 bankers from New Jersey and neighboring states will attend the school.

Bankers registered from Essex County are Carl Cito, Joseph Maree, National Newark and Essex Bank, Bloomfield; Joseph Larangeria, Joseph T. Martoccio, Kenneth M. Prestia, Peter M. Torsello, The Howard Savings Institution, Newark; Catherine Torlucci, Fidelity Union Trust Company, Newark; Paul Donahue, First Jersey National Bank, Newark; Ross Martindale, Montclair National Bank and Trust Company, Montclair.

The school consists of two one-week sessions spread over two years with extension work required between sessions. Computer-related terminal and communications equipment will be installed and operating in Haddon Hall during the school sessions for student training.

The NJBA Data Processing School is the only one of its kind operated by a state bankers association and is under the supervision of the NJBA Data Processing Committee, headed by Peter LaBarba, Vice President and senior operations officer, National Community Bank, Rutherford.

Public Service Electric and Gas Co., Newark, today won a major award in the gas industry's 13th annual Public Relations Achievement Awards competition, sponsored by the American Gas Association.

Public Service was one of nine U.S. utility companies cited for outstanding programs during the association's annual Public Relations Conference at El Mirador Hotel. Awards were presented by J.W. Heiney, president of A.G.A. and president of Indiana Gas Co., Indianapolis. Edward J. Lenihan, assistant vice president for urban affairs and area development, accepted for the company.

The Newark company won first-place honors in the competition's area development category for its continuing program to make known the utility's interest in New Jersey's economic growth, to show the financial community that Public Service is progressive in developing its service area, and to attract new business to New Jersey.

The Public Service program promoted the entire state without placing special emphasis on the company's service territory or selling utility service. In the last full year of record-1968--there were 450 major plant expansions or new plant additions within Public Service's territory, resulting in the creation of 26,000 new jobs.

Winners in the gas industry competition were selected by a five-member panel of judges headed by George Hammond, national president of the Public Relations Society of America.

The gas association's two-day public relations conference opened this morning. Scheduled speakers include Dr. S.I. Hayakawa, president, San Francisco State College; Oliver A. Quayle III, New York public opinion researcher; and the Honorable David H. Armstrong, chairman, Illinois Commerce Commission.

survey published in the 1969 Progressive Grocer annual survey.

The report also discloses that Wakefern made its first corporate acquisition in 1969 with the purchase of all the outstanding stock of Food Haulers, Inc., which is now a wholly-owned subsidiary. Previous management of Food Haulers has been retained. The trucking company, with sales of $70 million annually, employs 350 people and operates 500 trailers and 250 tractors. It is one of the largest transportation companies on the Eastern seaboard in terms of tonnage and handles over 80 million pounds of freight weekly during peak periods.

With its Annual Report this year Wakefern distributed the Super Market Institute publication, "Supermarketing...the Past...the Present...a Projection." This booklet by William Applebaum traces the historical development of supermarketing since the 1930's and projects its progress through the next decade.

The Public Service program promoted the entire state without placing special emphasis on the company's service territory or selling utility service. In the last full year of record-1968--there were 450 major plant expansions or new plant additions within Public Service's territory, resulting in the creation of 26,000 new jobs.

Winners in the gas industry competition were selected by a five-member panel of judges headed by George Hammond, national president of the Public Relations Society of America.

Quayle III, New York public opinion researcher; and the Honorable David H. Armstrong, chairman, Illinois Commerce Commission.

The Orchestra's home auditorium is a handsome, ultra-modern concert hall called "de Doelen", where between 90 and 100 concerts are offered yearly.

It also has made numerous tours to Scandinavia, Germany, France, Belgium, Italy, England, Scotland, and Switzerland. The Rotterdam Philharmonic, founded in 1918, has gained a wide reputation for its

Upsala Group Chooses Cast For Hit Show

A 27-member cast for Upsala College's production of the hit musical, "Guys and Dolls", was announced today by Assistant Professor Robert Marcuzzo, director of the college's drama group.

The cast was chosen following auditions at which more than 50 students turned out.

The play will be given on the nights of Thursday, April 30, Friday, May 1 and Saturday, May 2, and the afternoon of Sunday, May 3. Marcuzzo said the Sunday matinee has been added because of the popularity of the show and the large advance demand for tickets.

Assisting Marcuzzo in the direction of the musical, based on the stories of Damon Runyon, will be Associate Professor William Deguire, head of Upsala's fine arts department.

Anniversary Celebration Japanese Festivities In Park On Sunday

Plans for a 75th Anniversary Cherry Blossom Festival to be held in Branch Brook Park in Newark, later this month, were announced today by William R. Harris, chairman of the Essex County Park Commission's Anniversary Committee.

In cooperation with the Japanese American Association of New York, original Japanese music and dancing will highlight a special program which is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m., this Sunday, in the Belleville Extension of the Park, north of Heller Parkway. A brief ceremony commemorating the founding of the Park System 75 years ago - making it the oldest county park system in the United States - will be presided over by the Honorable Hiroshi Uchida, Japanese Consul at New York.

No reservations or tickets are needed to attend, according to Harris. "Everyone is cordially invited to bring their families and enjoy this short-run spring extravaganza of cherry blossoms."

The Japanese American Association considers the display of cherry blossoms at Branch Brook the largest and most unique in the world. It is anticipated that nearly 400 Japanese Americans will attend, a number of which will be wearing traditional Japanese attire.

Yoshi Imai, an executive of Walston and Company, Newark, is co-chairman of the outing for the Association. He stated that their Association annually visits the park during the blooming of the cherry blossoms, "We are delighted that the Anniversary Committee have asked us to assist this year in making the occasion meaningful for everyone," he said.

There are 2200 ornamental cherry trees and about four different species, in what was, in 1895, swampland. The first trees were provided by the Felix Fuld family of Newark during the late 1920's. The Park today comprises 500 acres of trees, shrubs and a beautiful lawn-bordered lake. "A proud accomplishment for any community," said Harris.

The object of the 75th Anniversary Committee in planning such events as the Cherry Blossom Festival is to focus more public interest and attention on the park system's accomplishments over the last 75 years in order that support may be gained for future park development in the county, according to Harris.

Also appearing will be dancers from the Sahomi Tachibana Group.
