

REHEARSAL — Junior High School teacher Wendell Parr directs Geraldine Palmisano and Sam Paparatto in rehearsal for that school's production of "The Fantasticks," which opens Thursday evening, May 14 in the auditorium. A second night showing is scheduled Saturday, May 16.

Record Breaking Show Coming To Junior High

"The Fantasticks," New York's record-breaking musical, will debut in Belleville May 14, when the Junior High School presents its version of the world famous hit show in its auditorium at 8 p.m.

All-Sports Dinner Set

The Belleville Varsity Club will honor 90 high school seniors at its annual All-Sports Banquet, scheduled Friday, June 5, at Biase's Restaurant in Newark. Awards will be presented to all Belleville seniors who have lettered in sports other than football. (The football team is given a special dinner in the fall.)

Also scheduled for awards are senior cheerleaders, twirlers and band members. Vincent Sorrentino, club president has named Jerry Bonavita, a former Belleville High School athlete to chairman this year's affair. Bonavita lettered in football and baseball for the Bellboys in 1930, and later went on to play for Cumberland College in Tennessee and Panzer College in East Orange, before assuming coaching positions.

The highlight of the affair will be the annual presentation of the William Chapman Memorial Award, given to the outstanding senior athlete by the

The production, which is being staged and directed by Junior High teacher Wendell Parr, is scheduled for evening performances next Thursday and Saturday. A special afternoon showing on May 13 for Junior High pupils is scheduled.

"The Fantasticks" opened May 3, 1960 at the Sullivan Street Theatre in Manhattan and has been running there ever since. Featuring music by Harvey Schmidt and lyrics by Tom Jones, the hit musical has played in over 2,000 American cities and in 25 foreign nations. It is the longest running show in American theatre history.

A 50-minute television version of the musical was presented on The Hallmark Hall of Fame in 1964, with Bert Lahr, Stanley Holloway, John Davidson and Ricardo Montalban in lead roles.

The Junior High cast features Donald Messina as the narrator; Patti Krych and Geraldine Palmisano alternating as "the girl;" Sam Paparatto and Jeff Stone alternating as "the boy;" James Dahlquist as "the boy's father," and John Narucki portraying "the girl's father."

The plot is an allegorical romance in which two fathers pretend to feud in order to get their children to fall in love. An arrangement is made

Municipal Expansion Totaling $102,000 Pushed By Officials

Land Being Sought For Library Addition

Land currently under litigation apparently will figure prominently in expansion plans for the Belleville public library.

The town Fathers are preparing to expand the Library's main branch at its present Washington Avenue site.

The commissioners last week authorized appropriation of $42,000 in emergency funds to purchase land adjacent to the library, which is located on the corner of Academy Street and Washington Avenue.

The lot in question, owned by Town Physician Donald Brown, is currently the subject of a lawsuit involving the Library and both Pat Kiernan and Mrs. Edna Hudson. The litigation, a complicated matter which is presently in Essex County Superior Court, does not figure to hold up town purchase of the land, according to Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato.

Money for the purchase will be raised via a bond ordinance, according to a treasury department spokesman, and will cover the cost of bonding fees and legal advertising in addition to the purchase.

There are several different versions of circumstances surrounding the litigation, but certain facts appear common to all sides.

Apparently Kiernan and Mrs. Hudson jointly acquired from Dr. Brown an option to buy the land. One source says the two agreed to sell their option to the Town of Belleville, and that a $1,000 deposit was given to them by commissioners in early June of 1968. The story then goes that at a regularly scheduled public meeting in late June, the Commissioners decided to reject the option purchase. Sources say that the commissioners objected to the fact that Kiernan and Mrs. Hudson's husband, John, were town officials.

Kiernan is a member of the Library Board while Hudson is on the Planning Board.

Another source says that the two bought the option from Dr. Brown and then waited until a day before the option expired to sell it to the library.

The Library, meanwhile has filed suit against Kiernan and Mrs. Hudson for return of the

Vincent T. Strumolo Charges Negligence

Strumolo Cites Negligence

Blames Dr. Bevinetto In State Aid Foul-Up

By Nat Gottlieb

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, who went on record last week saying "no comment" to statements leveled against him by former Health Officer Dr. J.R. Bevinetto, this week told the Times that the doctor had been "negligent" in his duties, and as a result has held up receipt of state aid.

"After three and a half years I've finally found a health officer who knows his business," Strumolo said Monday.

"Dr. Bevinetto was negligent in his duties and as a result our new health officer, Edward Hillery is spending this week catching up on things that should have been completed months ago," Strumolo said.

Specifically, Strumolo charged that Dr. Bevinetto's reports to the State Health Department were "not satisfactory" and that state aid for 1970 has been held up because of this.

$50,000 Is Resolved For Railroad Land

The Belleville Board of Commissioners has authorized a $50,000 emergency appropriation to purchase land in the Valley from the Erie Lackawanna Railroad for a new Public Works facility.

Commissioner Mary Senatore, who introduced the resolution at last week's regularly scheduled public meeting, says immediate action was necessary to insure purchase of the land. She says she feared it might be sold before an ordinance could be introduced.

The Public Works director indicates that a "vacmor and hopper" will be installed on the site, which is at 7-33 Cortlandt Avenue. The large machines are used to crush and pack leaves and "will save the town considerable money in leaf removal costs."

Some sources indicate that Erie-Lackawanna was not interested in selling the town the land and were looking for other purchasers. Acquiring the land by the town was apparently made possible via an emergency condemnation resolution against Erie-Lackawanna's building at the site. In addition, a $10,000 emergency authorization was okayed last week by commissioners for the demolition of the existing railroad facility.

By passing the $50,000 emergency resolution, the town is establishing a legal position of "showing good faith toward purchase," and apparently reserves purchase for itself.

If the railroad decides to sell to another buyer, it does so at its own risk, according to town attorney Nicholas R. Amato.

The $50,000 figure is a "fair market quote."

What some people are objecting to, off the record, is that the emergency resolution will be raised in next year's taxation.

Commissioner Senatore, however, says that if there is time, a bonding ordinance will be drawn up to cover the money and would not make the cash taxable in one lump sum next year. Apparently the emergency resolution could be set aside.

Erie-Lackawanna could technically demand payment for the land now, Amato says, but he adds that condemnation proceedings and the closing of title would take about two months.

Variance May Get Hearing

A controversial variance for a 21-family garden apartment on Belleville Avenue is tentatively scheduled for a public hearing at Monday night's regularly scheduled Commission meeting.

Tapes of the Zoning Board's five three-hour meetings on the matter are being typed in order to be presented to commissioners for study prior to the meeting. If the transcripts are not ready by Monday, the variance will not appear on the agenda.

Community May Aid In Own Evaluation

The Belleville Board of Education, which is expected to contract a Rutgers University research team to undertake an evaluation of its school system in September, may add a novel twist to the project by inviting a community team of its own to assist in the analysis.

Monday, Board member Caesar Romano introduced in a closed executive session of the Board, a resolution calling for creation of a community committee of administrators, teachers, outstanding residents and board members to explore areas for which the Rutgers team would not be contracted.

Romano reports that the Board was generally favorable to his resolution, and that he was scheduled to meet yesterday with school administrators to discuss the proposal. He says that the Board will allow the resolution to come up for a vote next Tuesday if the administrators are favorable to his idea. If not, Romano said he would revise it and submit it again.

Last week the Board met with Dr. Donald Walling, director of the Rutgers School of Education to discuss plans for an evaluation of the system with an eye toward expansion to meet a mounting enrollment crisis.

No contract was signed, however, because Dr. Walling has other survey commitments at the present time, but it is expected he will enter into agreement with the town for some type of system analysis in the fall.

One of the things the Board discussed with the research expert, was the possible scope of his survey. Romano says Dr. Walling offered different types of surveys to the Board.

Romano says Walling's study will probably deal with enrollment forecasts over the next 10 years, plus a study of the health and safety standards in the schools and recommendations for possible future building expansion.

Included in Dr. Walling's study would be analysis of projected birth rates in town; the affect of new apartment growth on schools; analysis of dropout rates; study of the proposed new town zoning map, and a complete land-use survey.

Walling and a team of Rutgers researchers completed the last school survey in this town in 1959, which eventually led to the construction of the new high school.

Romano says his proposals cover different areas of school analysis and would save the town money, both in future efficiency and in research fees. He also says that involving the community will help draw residents and educators into a more firm commitment to the school system and be a significant step toward passage of a sound budget next year.

The Board member proposes that the town committee evaluate local schools with the hope of providing: 1) increased financial and working efficiency; 2) better working relationships between the Board and its employees; 3) better pupil transportation system; 4) and an increased physical education and recreational program, all of which would be used in a

Judges Discuss Incidents of Courtroom Disrespect

At Law Day Dinner For Abromson-Joerg

By Phil White

Concern for the American judicial system, faced with increasing incidents of disrespect, was voiced by the principal speakers at Thursday's Law Day Dinner that rendered special community tribute to Judges Edwin J. C. Joerg of Nutley and Edward Abromson of Belleville.

More than 600 persons taxed the facilities of The Fountain Restaurant in Belleville for the event that was sponsored by The Nutley Sun and Belleville Times-News, both published by Frank Orechio who served as dinner chairman.

The two community judges were given many accolades, but the real concern of the keynote speakers was the significance of Law Day as redefined in the light of recent outbreaks of disrespect in the nation's courtrooms.

Judge John Crane, a Nutley

resident who is Assignment Judge in Passaic County, admitted that while "a new standard of conduct is emerging in the American courtroom," he decried the "big lie propaganda technique of these revolutionary lawyers" and said whatever errors might be made at the trial level must be corrected through the appellate process.

Essex County Assignment Judge James R. Giuliano, the keynote speaker Thursday, spoke on a similar theme.

"We must reverse the upward trend of lawlessness in our land...and move forward to a new era of peace and progress in which our great resources can be utilized to end poverty and injustice, to achieve greater opportunities for all Americans," he said.

Judge Giuliano also decried the increasing trend of disrespect evidence by the judicial system.

THE GAVEL —Mrs. Edward Abromson shows special judges gavel to Nutley Municipal Magistrate Edwin J.C. Joerg. Gavel was presented to Judge Abromson by Mayor Ken Smith at last week's testimonial at the Fountain Restaurant. Over 600 attended the Law Day Eve affair to honor the two judges.

"There are valid and necessary limitations on dissent," the Essex County Assignment Judge maintained.

"Freedom of speech does not include incitement of riots in our cities and colleges...No true American can condone these actions."

Also addressing the dinner were Mayor Kenneth Smith of Belleville and Harry W. Chenoweth of Nutley. Both Mayors presented the judges with framed resolutions and proclamations in behalf of their respective Boards of Commissioners.

Mayor Chenoweth called the dinner "unique" because of the joint relationship between Nutley and Belleville.

"We are two towns that have lived side by side since 1874 when Nutley split from Belleville. It is fitting that we join together tonight under one room to pay tribute to these two men who have, in a joint community effort, served us so well, above and beyond the call of duty," Chenoweth said.

Mayor Smith spoke briefly, expressed the appreciation of the Belleville Commission to Judge Abromson, and presented a citation to the Belleville Judge from the Kiwanis Club.

Judge Abromson and Joerg also received "Community Awards of Appreciation" in the form of plaques from the two local newspapers; Mr. Orechio made those presentations in behalf of The Sun and Times-News.

The honored judges then personally thanked the dinner crowd and the sponsors, and each mentioned specifically the cooperation they have received over the years from their court staffs and police departments.

Many of those at the affair had left by the time the formal program began. Dinner was served unusually late with the last course not finished until 11:30. The program was short, but still ran until well after the midnight hour.

Orechio opened the program by saying the next time the newspaper sponsored an affair, "we'll have it in an airplane. Up there, they serve everyone a dinner and it only takes 30 minutes."

Judge Walter VanRiper, former N.J. Attorney General, was the toastmaster. He was assisted by Robert Gruhin, Belleville attorney.

Judge VanRiper's style of dry-humor was particularly enjoyable at the late hour. His opening remark was, "I wonder how many traffic tickets were squelched around here to get this crowd out tonight."

Rabbi Nathan Lehrer of Belleville's Congregation Ahavath Achim and the Rev. Leonad A. Jones of Nutley's Franklin Reformed Church, also were on the program.

$1000 deposit. These two, however, have filed countersuit asking for the remaining $3,000 for the option rights. The case hasn't come up yet in Superior Court. Handling the case for Kiernan and Mrs. Hudson is local attorney Lawrence Schwartz.

Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato, in an opinion rendered in 1968, said the Library's purchase of the option was not binding because the Library had acted without complying with commission statutes which require that such purchase be okayed by town fathers at a public meeting.

The Library Board, according to Amato, questioned this ruling, and hired lawyer John Noonan, whom Amato reports later agreed with his ruling.

Amato says the Library Board was not bound to the option because "anyone who deals with a municipality is charged with the limitations of that municipality. Anyone entering into agreement with the town must know the limitations of the officials' power.

The Library has been seeking for many years an addition to its current main branch which was built in 1928.

Library officials say they are unable to respond to changing trends in service because of insufficient space. Specifically, they say that large meeting rooms are not available for film audiences or for forum type sessions.

Principal needs include more shelf space and increased work and storage area. The Library's book collection has grown from 30,000 to 42,000 volumes in the last 15 years. Presently, many books are placed on the tops of existing stacks.

A meeting room for 40-100 people is a vital requirement for a library in a changing world, according to library director Ben Grimm.

Presently, educational and instructional programs for residents are scheduled either for the children's room off hours, or are conducted in the main study area at the expense of other library users. Sometimes, Grimm says, "they can't be scheduled at all."

It is good that most of us never know what other people think of us.

suspension was officially for "insubordination," and the commissioner, who until now had refused to elaborate on the charge, explained his action:

"The doctor was suspended because he failed to comply with my directive telling him to refile his state aid applications and to update his filing and documentation systems by December 20. When he failed to do so, I waited until the holidays were over and then suspended him for insubordination."

The new health officer, meanwhile, is preparing the state aid reports this week and expects to have them completed by Monday. The original filing deadline was January 10. Strumolo says the late filing does not place Belleville in any particular crisis.

The January suspension eventually led to the "resignation" of Dr. Bevinetto. Due back January 12, the doctor never reported for duty. Strumolo says Civil Service provides that any employee absent more than five days from duty without the consent of the department director, is considered resigned.

Dr. Bevinetto contends he has been on sick leave due to leg problems he says he contracted because of poor working conditions at the health department. On the other hand, Strumolo says the doctor cannot be on sick leave because he had denied the doctor's absence request in January, adding that the former health officer "never came around to discuss his illness with me."

Hillery, who was hired last month by Strumolo, is doing what he calls a "total revamping of the departments filing and documentation system," and is working with Strumolo to increase health services in town.

The new health officer, a retired Air Force Lt. Colonel who comes to the job from an acting health officer and sanitary inspector post in Englewood, is reorganizing the inspection system used with local food establishments.

In this area, Hillery says he is going to place increased emphasis on educating the food establishments about the health code. He says inspections will be on "a selective basis," by which he means the most frequent offenders of the health code will receive more inspections. "We're going to direct our efforts intelligently," Hillery said, "and not use the old system of inspecting each establishment once every six months." He added that "we're here to help them, not to use a stick."

Another area the new health officer says the department is weak in is food sampling, which involves testing for bacteria and coliform. ("coliform indicates that employees have not washed their hands.") Hillery says he will keep track of offenders by a new filing system.

Also scheduled is the placing of health code placards in all food handling operations. Signs requesting employees to wash hands in bathrooms will also be placed.

Hillery says he will also keep a card file for complaints phoned into the department from residents and businesses.

He will also improve the rag-week and poison-ivy control program.

master plan for education.

"Who is better able to evaluate the needs of a community than the community itself," Romano told The Times. "We should add our own community expertise to that of Dr. Walling's to come up with the best possible survey and master plan for this town."

"We've got a wealth of qualified people in this community and now is a good time to use them and to draw the system together," Romano added.

Belleville schools currently are involved in a serious and mounting enrollment crisis which has had Board members, administrators and local parent groups in constant touch.

Projected increased enrollment for next term is 350 pupils. Last year 172 new pupils entered the system.

Most buildings are now completely filled, and several classrooms are being held in substandard basement rooms.

The 1959 Rutgers study concluded with

recommenda- tions to construct the new high school on Passaic Avenue. When built, it replaced the 55-year old structure on Washington Avenue, which was converted to a junior high school for 1,200 pupils.

The Board is reportedly considering such ideas as moving the ninth grade into an expanded high school and leaving the junior high with seventh through eighth grade, and to construct new School Board offices under the present high school offices and to vacate School Eight's first floor for additional class space in that crowded school.

JHS To Present 'The Fantasticks'

wherein the son becomes a hero so that the feud can be called off and everyone can live happily.

Also in the student cast are Harry Baumgartner as "the actor," John Smith as "the man who dies," and Patty Cheathane and Donna Rainone alternating as "the mute."

Assisting Parr in production will be faculty member Thomas Finetti on the piano, and Mrs. Rosalie Pratt of Montclair at the harp.

A preview of the musical will be given to Schools Two, Seven, Ten and Three, when the cast goes "on tour" for a day.

The two act production features 14 songs and an overture, highlighted by the famous "Try to Remember."

Poison Controls To Be Tightened By Health Dept.

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo yesterday announced that a special poison control program for school children is going into effect immediately.

The commissioner, who is director of the Public Affairs Department, said that the children will be given charts in school to take home for mounting inside of family medicine chests. The charts will outline life-saving procedures in case a child is accidentally poisoned.

Included on the instruction chart, are the emergency phone numbers of local poison control centers at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville, and Mountinside Hospital in Montclair.

Local Health Officer Edward Hillery advises parents to lock all poisonous substances in closets and keep them out of the reach of youngsters. He also warned that many common household liquids and powders are considered poisonous and that labels should be read carefully.

Local Man Aids Guarini

Joseph Fornarotto of 523 Union Avenue has been appointed Belleville coordinator for Frank Guarini's campaign for the United States Senate.

The announcement came from Harvey Grossman, a Guarini adviser from the central headquarters in Jersey City.

Fornarotto, who is employed as a purchasing agent for The Broadway Maintenance Corporation, has been active in veterans and towns affairs. He served two years as chairman of the Veterans Day Parades and was chairman of the Belleville Veterans Ticket Committee.

Fornarotto's most recent involvement in town affairs was during the March controversy over Belleville's 1970 budget. He served on a residents committee which studied that financial document before final approval.

Besides being active in town affairs, Fornarotto manages a baseball team in the Recreation Department's Farm League.

The coordinator says that buttons, bumper stickers and literature for Guarini's campaign may be obtained by contacting him.

sufficient time to adopt a bonding ordinance.

The $10,000 for demolition would have to be raised next year, however, Commissioner Senator says, because demolition is not a bondable action.

The commissioner says the new machine would cut down considerable on Public Works costs involved in leaf removal. Presently, employees of that department cart the leaves off to Kearny for disposal in accordance with a contract between the two towns.

The new machine would be fed leaves which it would compress into tight packages and subsequently reduce the number of trips to Kearny that Public Works trucks currently have to make. The commissioner says this will save gas money, truck wear and manpower, and estimated that the machine could save trips in as much as an 8-1 ratio.

Exciting Fashions Highlight School's Spring Gathering

Exciting fashions for the spring and summer highlighted the James G. Shawger School's "Garden of Fashion" Dessert Bridge at Thomm's Restaurant in Newark on April 21.

Presented by the Home and School Association of Shawger School, the affair saw over 600 people turn out to see fashions from Seibels of Nutley and Newark.

College Cites Six Residents

Six residents of Belleville, students at the Fairleigh Dickinson University evening division, are among the honor students named for the fall semester.

On the honors list from Belleville are Judith DelGuercio of 217 Forest Street, Donald Densler of 214 Overlook Avenue and Marie Marinelli of 57 Fairway Avenue.

On the dean's list from Belleville are Barbara Austin of 58 Campbell Avenue, Lawrence Chalk of 725 Joralemon Street and Gerardo DelVecchio of 66 Magnolia Street.

An added attraction was the background music of pianist David DeCarlo. His wife Rose Marie, who is treasurer of the school's parent executive group, served as chairlady of the affair's sweepstakes.

Also chairing committees were Mrs. Peter Olivo, trip raffle; Mrs. Ralph Lembo, tickets; Mrs. James Cataldo, table prizes; Mrs. Caneo Costantino, gifts; Mrs. Anthony DeSantis, purchasing agent, and Mrs. Joseph Massaro, publicity.

A special design for the program cover was created by Mrs. Joseph Marino, a Shawger School third grade teacher. Also chipping in her design talents was Mrs. Gerald Sena who styled eye-catching publicity posters.

Instrumental in the affair were program chairlady, Mrs. Frank Lucas and Association president Mrs. Vito Sylvestro. Thanks were extended to the Association to Michael Nardiello, Mrs. Joseph Pepe and to all the faculty and staff which aided in the show.

Lodge Dance Saturday

Belleville Lodge 108, F&AM, will hold its 100th annual dinner dance this Saturday evening, at Salaam Temple, Mt. Pleasant Avenue, Livingston.

Over 400 people will attend the affair, including a number of town officials and dignitaries and Masonic officials from all over the state. A filet mignon dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m., followed by dancing.

Civil Defense Seeking Ham Radio Operators

Belleville's Civil Defense Director James LaMotta this week urged residents to join this town's crew of "ham" radio operators, whom he says play an important role in Belleville's Civil Defense program.

In making his announcement, Lt. LaMotta said that "in times of national and local disasters amateur radio operators really come into their own. With the loss of power failure and other related disaster problems, the radio operator is able to supply auxiliary power with civil defense equipment to continue communications thereby permitting police fire and other local agencies to carry on the business necessary for rescue and placing the community back to near normal conditions.

He went on to say, that "the civil Defense or amateur radio ham may be frowned upon by his neighbors when they assume he is interfering with their home entertainment television, but the overwhelming services they have rendered throughout the nation by their volunteer time, efforts and personal expense to organize and maintain their hobby, cannot be valued in dollars and cents.

Underworld Power

Frightening Revelations

It seems to us that not a single day goes by but another Mayor, another Police Chief, or another Police Director is accused of being in the pay of the underworld.

Only last week charges of underworld control involved the cities of Long Branch and Camden. Both cities are under the investigation of Grand Juries. Newark is an old story. Down in Camden, City Public Safety Director Harold Melleby said that organized crime was rampant in the city.

Melleby made the statement in January and more recently he charged the Mayor was under pressure from the underworld to fire him. These are drastic charges to level against any public official and against any city. As we read more of this crime stuff, we become increasingly uncomfortable and begin to wonder how broad and deep is the underworld control of our cities, towns, and villages.

Based upon the evidence already in, it appears that New Jersey, indeed, is among the crime capitals of the world. One wonders how this condition was permitted to develop. It is to Mr. Lacey's credit that is urging citizens to be more selective in casting their votes for public officials.

Any candidate who seeks public office and has connections with anybody from the underworld should be disqualified from holding public office — and the voter should ask questions of all candidates concerning the kind of company they keep, for it is a fact of life few people ever rise higher than the company they seek and keep.

Bussing School Children

We have said it before and we say it again—Bussing school children to achieve racial integration is improper, immoral and the US Supreme Court to the contrary—we believe it to be un-American.

We were educated in the Nutley School system which was established on the basis of the neighborhood concept—a school for each neighborhood so as to provide educational facilities close to the homes of children. If the neighborhood happened to be black—so it was—and if the neighborhood was predominately white, that was all right too. Although there may be parents who hold contrary views it is difficult for us to accept that proposition that parents enjoy seeing their grammar school children bussed from pillar to post.

Schools in predominantly black areas suffer less from integration problems than they do from a teaching staff generally with lower ability than schools located in the white districts. Rather than bus children the money should be used to pay bonuses as an inducement for more qualified teachers to accept employment in schools heavily populated with black children.

The Increasing Dope Problem

It is reported that in one Jersey City school 79 per cent of the students are using narcotics in one form or another. In Long Island there is one school where 75 per cent of the students are on dope.

Here at home school authorities refuse to make public the percentage of students who are suspected of using dope. Forty percent would be a fair guess.

Soon—and real soon—someone has to make a determination whether or not the seriousness of the problem requires more militant action than it's now receiving.

Does the use of a narcotic injure the mind of a youth more or less than liquor or cigarettes. We are dissatisfied with the efforts of public officials to curb the use of dope by our younger generation. If the habit is as bad as we are told it is then more severe steps should be taken to stop its spread and heavier jail sentences should be mandatory for the peddlers.

Play Review

'High Spirits' Falls Short Of Its Written Capabilities

by Phil White

"High Spirits" opened last Wednesday evening at the Meadowbrook Dinner-Theatre, Cedar Grove. The musical comedy stars Imogene Coca and continues at the Meadowbrook through May 24. Today's review is of Wednesday night's opening performance.

There were high spots in the Meadowbrook's current production of "High Spirits," but unfortunately, the show short-circuits much of the excitement written into the musical by High Martin and Timonty Gray.

Imogene Coca is the star. She plays an exaggerated Madame Arcati who possesses supernatural powers that leads to truly funny situations that come off primarily because of the fine performances of David Daniels and Donna Sanders who along with Veronica Castang are the real standouts of the Meadowbrook show.

This is not to say that "High Spirits" is a complete flop. Far from it. You needn't even have to possess supernatural tolerance to sit through the production. It's just that the overall performance doesn't meet the usually high standards that have been maintained by The Meadowbrook in recent years.

Musically speaking, "High Spirits" has always struck us as being below par. But Miss McWilliams excels in this area and presents the dinner audience with two unusually fine renditions of "You'd Better Love Me" in the first act, and "Home Sweet Heaven" in the second.

We also enjoyed Imogene and friends' in their big production scene around the musical number, "Go Into Your Trance."

"High Spirits" is a fun night, and is playing to full houses at the Meadowbrook through May 24.

Pupils Ask Industry For Suggestions On Pollution Woes

We are members of the 8A Social Studies Class of Belleville Junior High School. In our studies and discussions we have become aware of the problem of pollution in our own community. We are making a survey of local industries to find out what they are doing to curb pollution.

Statistics show that a portion of the pollution in this area is a result of industrial waste, therefore, we would like to know what you, as an industry, are doing to help combat this problem.

Their reply is vital to our study of pollution. Any suggestions they may have for the general public would be greatly appreciated.

Thank You,

Some Legislators Not Interested In People's Needs

To The Editor:

With inflation rolling along like a snowball and growing in size some politicians and power groups want a piece of the action before a catastrophe strikes.

This is one of the conditions that has created less than $5 000 a year and for those living on a pension or social security. They are caught in the middle and suffer the most.

The outgoing democratic machine which was in power for the past sixteen years and ruled with an iron hand left a deficit of three hundred million dollars and created the problems that exist in the state.

School Boards are no exception to this rule. They have their politicians who are trying hard to take away the rights of the people to vote on school budgets.

Year after year regardless of state aid and thousands of dollars received in sales tax revenue which was to prevent new school taxes not increase them, they are also leaving a deficit in the school system.

Our representatives both in Washington and in the state who find the issues too hot to handle have shut their eyes to these conditions. They have taken care of themselves with fat wage increases at the expense of the poor.

All of us pay the same price for a loaf of bread.

They have given the president who is now responsible for the Vietnam conflict since the change in the draft and the Governor too much power dating back to 1930. While the people received lip service they got the crumbs.

With new taxes and higher living cost being imposed on the people in many ways the 15 percent increase in social security is a joke. It is wiped out by the stroke of a pen.

Those kind of candidates who we elect to office in the hope they will represent the people and not be a rubber stamp for a political boss should retire to Florida and play with their beach ball. All they represent is the boys in a special group themselves the State and the Party.

Sincerely yours
Albert Guglicelli

Belleville Church Bells Sound End Of War

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

At the age of 20, Donald Hulme of 122 Bell Street, took his accordion to Pallanza, Italy, where he won the title of "World's Champion Accordion Player." Since then, the long time Belleville resident had become world famous. Hulme was to arrive in town after completing an eight-month tour of the Mid-West, and was scheduled to play at high schools and colleges in the area before leaving for Japan.

Joanne DePaul of 33 Hill Street and Michael J. Monetti of 482 Joralemon Street, both of Belleville and seniors at Rutgers University Newark College of Arts and Sciences, were selected for inclusion in the publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for the 1968 to 1969 academic year.

The Belleville High School Band was preparing for its May 21 thru 25 trip to Washington D.C. and Richmond, Virginia. The tour, financed entirely by the 120 students in the band, was to be similar to the previous year's excursion, when the group were featured at Walter Reed Hospital, McGuire Veteran's Administration Hospital, Portsmouth Naval Hospital and the Washington D.C. Veteran's Hospital. The group was under the direction of Robert Wing.

Gwen Gaudio was crowned 1965 Miss Cherry Blossom by the 1964 Queen, Judi Underwood. Miss Gaudio, as a result of winning the title, would represent Belleville in the Miss New Jersey Pageant in Wildwood. Barbara Wittmann and Jo-Ann Skidmore were the runners-up in the local competition.

Citizens Against Dual Control presented a petition with 900 signatures of residents vehemently opposed to the creation of a new school business administrator's position to County Superintendent of Schools

William Twichell. Mrs. Anthony Izzo, spokesman for the outspoken citizens, commented that the group hoped to add 100 more names to the petition by the time that it was officially presented to the Board of Education.

Harry Sullivan, a former Belleville Town Commissioner who was occupying the position of Essex County Deputy Sheriff, was to act as master of ceremonies at a public assembly on the steps of the Town Hall on May 16. The meeting was being sponsored and planned by the Belleville Civil Rights Commission, a group of citizens appointed by the mayor to "...eliminate prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, discrimination and disorders and help give effect to the guarantee of equal rights for all."

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, assistant superintendent for instruction and curriculum of the Belleville school system, was elected president of the New Jersey Secondary School Teachers Association at the group's 29th annual spring conference held at Rutgers University, New Brunswick. Harry Nees, chairman of camping and activities committee of the Belleville District of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced the appointment of Robert Rudden as chairman of Webelos Day to be held in the Branch Brook Park Extension. Rudden was scoutmaster of Troop 351, sponsored by Grace Baptist Church.

Miss Eleanor B. Novick, a former news editor of the Belleville Times, was named a substitute teacher by the school board. A twist to the story was that the school board was Eleanor's "beat" while at the Times.

Belleville was winding up its participation in "Operation Alert 1960," the nationwide civil defense exercise which had started on May 3. Ludwig Pesa, local civil defense director, told the Times that traffic control was perfect, and praised Police Chief George Spatz and his force for their work. But Pesa was alarmed that problems involving radiation, fallout patterns and local resources for education were not quite up to par. In order to achieve an evacuation in time, Pesa said that it would be necessary for a three or four day advance notice of alert.

Residents in the Holmes Street vicinity instructed attorney Joseph Piscopo to seek an injunction forbidding mortician George F. Kiernan from conducting funerals at 272 Holmes Street. The action was the last in a legal battle started when Kiernan was fined $75 in Magistrate's Court for using the home for funeral purposes.

Saint Peter's Holy Name Society was preparing for its 31st annual Mother's Day Communion Breakfast. More than 300 men of the parish were expected to attend the breakfast. Reverend William King, S.T.O., chaplain of Saint Mary's Hospital, Passaic, was to be the guest speaker.

John Warren was to be installed as president of the Parent Teachers Association of School Ten. Other officers to be installed were Mrs. John Warren, 1st vice-president; Harold Alpern, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Eugene Knapp, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward DeNoia, corresponding secretary and Mrs. James Bogle, treasurer.

The peaceful tolling of church bells at Christ Episcopal, Wesley Methodist and Saint Peter's Churches was heard among the clangor of air raid and fire sirens that followed the official proclamation by President Truman of the end of the War in Europe with the unconditional surrender of Germany. The news was received quietly, for the most part, with many attending church services. Street demonstrations were confined principally to the metropolitan areas of Newark and New York. Many industries were closed for the day and schools dismissed students early in the afternoon.

A revealing analysis made by a committee of sixteen New Jersey educators for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, gave Belleville High School an "average rating" based primarily on the improvements in administration during the previous two years since Burt Johnson had been acting principal.

The Belleville Times, in a front page editorial, endorsed Kentworthy, Clark, Waters and Carragher for re-election to the town commission. The incumbents were praised for their four years of achievement, which was "far more than promises, even when made by the best of men."

Miss Florence Kelly, who was in charge of the local branch of the National Audubon Society, together with Ruth Engel with Edith Ferguson, made a second pilgrimage to Branch Brook Park. Their objective was to discover what they could about the robin's nest they saw built the previous week. The nest was empty, but the girls found three new birds: the black and white warbler, downy woodpecker and towhee.

Club News Items Must Be Typed

When choosing a public relations or publicity chairman, make sure you select someone who not only knows how to type, but has access to a typewriter!

Because of the large number of organizations processing copy for The Sun each week, the newspaper for several years has insisted organizational news be submitted in typewritten form.

Note: this rule applies only to "organizational news." The Sun continues to take legibly handwritten items when typewriters are not available for personal items such as birth announcements, engagements, weddings, social notes and letters to the editor.

Club news not typewritten either ends up in the waste basket or is returned to the sender. At the present moment in Nutley, there are over 100 "general" organizations -- and that figure does not include any of the school-connected, church related or veterans' groups in town!

Help us to help serve your publicity needs better. Club news must be typewritten in a standard-face.

Cambodia Issue Gets Reaction From Residents

Question: What do you think of President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia?
Asked: Of Nutley and Belleville residents.

Marie Brennan, 186 Kingsland Avenue, Nutley

I think it's awful. President Nixon can't seem to make up his mind. One minute he is saying that so many troops will be withdrawn from the war and now recently he states that there is a new offensive into Cambodia. This move by the president is definitely an escalation of the war. I don't think congress would have given him permission to do this if he had asked them. The government should withdraw all troops from Viet Nam and the surrounding area and "send the boys home."

Marie Brennan

Mrs. Gloria Godfrey, 141 Holmes Street, Belleville.

I think it was a good idea. He had to send troops into Cambodia because they need the help to fight there. But, on the other hand, they shouldn't keep troops there forever. They should eventually bring them back home. President Nixon should have conferred with congress before making such a commitment, but maybe if he did, the congress would have vetoed the move. I'd like to see the boys come back home and I'll be glad when the war is over. But the people over there do need our help. That is why he sent them there to fight.

Mrs. Godfrey

Nancy McDermitt, 719 Coeyman Avenue, Nutley.

I think sending troops into Cambodia is awful and a shame. Nixon made a stupid move by doing this, and I think a lot of people will realize that he is wrong. We have no business being in Asia or anywhere else. Our country is right here, not thousands of miles away. There are young kids dying over there for nothing. Nixon is just escalating the war by doing this. Its a terrible shame to see unarmed students being shot and killed for what they believe in. That is the biggest shame. The troops should be withdrawn from Asia immediately. What is this country coming to?

Nancy McDermitt

Mrs. Kathleen Farrell, 18 Bridge Street, Belleville.

I don't like this move by President Nixon. The war over in Asia is big enough. Doing this will just get more persons killed. I don't like Nixon. In the beginning I thought that he may be doing a good job but now it may be that he is not thinking for himself. Maybe other persons are making his decisions. I don't like to see any type of war. It's senseless. I don't think Nixon should be in the white house anymore. He's proved himself incapable of the job. If left to a vote in congress, they never would have given him permission to do this.

Mrs. Farrell

If New York City is your dinner destination one of the many fine places we recommend is the New Les Champs at 25 East 40th Street. It boasts of a melodic atmosphere filled by the music of our world famous strolling musicians." It offers a fine continental cuisine. Everett Morrison of Jersey City sings the operas with tremendous talent and great gusto. He is accompanied by the Kalman Banyak and his quartet. Ed Sullivan and Jackie Mason are among Everett's friends who stop by for the good food and music.

The addition of the war into Cambodia is bad-bad-bad. Cambodia may well be Nixon's Waterloo.

Senator Edward M. Kennedy never can be elected President of the United States. This positive prediction is based upon Mass. District Judge James A. Boyle's opinion that "I believe it probable that Kennedy knew of the hazard that lay ahead of him on Dyke Road but that, for some reason not apparent from the testimony, he failed to exercise due care as he approached the bridge.

I therefore, find there is probable cause to believe that Edward M. Kennedy operated his motor vehicle negligently on a way or in a place to which the public have a right of access and that such operation appears to have contributed to the death of Mary Jo Kopechne."

Congressional Republican Leader Gerald Ford's decision to head a move to impeach Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas is for the birds. It may be a popular thing these days to attack and or condemn liberals and liberal movements. We think Congressional Republican Leader Gerald Ford's decision to move against Judge Douglas is intended to embarrass liberals with a knowledge of forethought! that the move will never succeed.

The 56-year old former champ was taken from his summer home in Denver to the 79-bed hospital by three uniformed Sheriff's deputies. Louis appeared tired and distressed as he entered the hospital. We are betting that the confinement will be a short one and once again Joe will be the champ as all of us remember him.

With rates on automobile insurance approaching the moon one wonders if auto insurance soon will be only for the rich. The system of compensating victims is not working. The costs of an insurance policy is placing the practice out of reach of all but the very rich. Government must step in with a new plan to compensate individuals for injuries sustained in automobile accidents. Elected public officials concerned with this problem must resort to emergency measures in order that the average motorist can renew his automobile insurance policy next year.

Investors in the shortlived Broadway show, "Cry For Us All" put up $900,000! Funny how I was never attracted to this type of "investment." I feel the same about those "giltedged" 1/64 share of Texas oil wells.

Dick Kastner Marks 44th Year in Nutley

It was just 44 years ago that Richard D. Kastner came to Nutley from Newark and opened a furniture shop. He's been offering the finest furniture in the area to the community ever since.

In early April of 1926 Kastner became a partner with Egbert C. Bedell in the Quaker Furniture and Repair Shop on Chestnut Street. The old place wasn't exactly plush with its pot bellied stove and outside privy, but it did offer excellent service.

Quaker Furniture and Repair Shop dissolved its partnership two years later, in 1928. Bedell continued the business in Montclair under that name but Kastner stayed in Nutley to form his own shop.

Kastner continued in business here in buying and selling antiques. In addition to selling new furniture, he also did repairing, upholstering and refurnishing service at the old Chestnut Street address.

In 1939 Kastner moved his business, already grown too large for the old premises, to the present side at 492 Franklin Avenue. He bought the building from Ralph DeKeyser, who originally had an automobile showroom there.

Business boomed and Kastner found that it was too much to continue his antique line and also offer a furniture repair service. Soon after moving he discontinued these and concentrated on selling new furniture.

Various extentions and remodeling programs of the Franklin Avenue business took place over the years. In 1944 an extention was added to the rear of the building. A new front and addition of the south side of the building was added in 1944. In the early 1960's Kastner provided an upper level on the south side of the building and a blacktop parking lot for off street parking for customers.

On January 1, 1967, R.D. Kastner retired. The business was then incorporated as Kastner's Furniture and his only son, Richard F. Kastner, was named as its president, treasurer and general manager.

"We will try to provide the same excellent service as offered in the past," the younger Kastner then said. It still holds true today.

A past president of the N.J. Furniture Association, R.D. Kastner is now on the advisory board of that group. An active member in the Nutley Rotary Club since 1924, he served as president of Rotary in 1944. He was formerly active in St. Paul's Men's Club and now is on the board of prestige in that congregation.

Married to the former Louise Kuebler of Newark, they reside at 39 Evelyn Place in Nutley. The two have one son, Richard F. and six grandchildren.

Helen's Thing ...

Little League Mothers Don't Have It Easy

By Helen Maguire

All of us have days to cherish and remember. Here are three I'd prefer to forget.

When Abner was a young kitten, he was, like the Elephant's Child, full of 'satiable curiosity'. In other words, plain nosy. Rod was managing a Little League team that year and as anyone with either a husband or a son involved in baseball knows, it can be hectic trying to get supper on the table and Casey Stengel out the door on time.

We have a swing out broiler on our stove and as I slapped hamburgers on to broil, Abner tried to sneak a snack of raw meat. I pushed him out of the way, finished the hamburgers, slammed the broiler door shut, lit the oven and went to the freezer for French fry. As I opened the oven door to put the potatoes in, I heard the most agonizing shrieks coming from down below. I yanked open the broiler door and something singed and furious streaked past me and under the nearest bed. The kids swore Abner lost one of his nine lives that day.

Ever wake up at six thirty in the morning, see a police car with light flashing outside your front door and hear shots from the backyard? That can take ten years off your life.

We had an overpopulation of squirrels that summer and one of the neighbors had called the police and requested they dispose of the surplus. The only hitch was that the neighbor forgot to tell anyone they were coming and the police hadn't told the neighbor when they would arrive. Surprise, surprise!

A couple or weeks before Ryan was due, I came downstairs one Saturday morning and sat down to catch the last of some program the boys were watching. I had barely lowered myself into a chair when this fantastic roaring sound came from the cellar. It sounded like a combination of Mt. Vesuvius erupting and Niagara Falls going wild. Dennis grabbed Gavin, Jack grabbed the dog and we fled.

Someone called the fire department. They arrived on the run accompanied by the police and first aid squad. By this time, steam was boiling out of the cellar windows and I had visions of roof departing for parts unknown.

Don't ask me what had happened. Something to do with the safety valve on the furnace sticking. The man from Public Service said it was a fluke and probably wouldn't happen again in a hundred years.

Hooray! Once was enough.

Trenton Should Change The Law And Help Out The Poor Barkeeps

By Phil White

ONE LAW that strikes us as utterly unfair is that state statute or ABC regulation that places all the blame for illegally serving minors upon tavern and package store owners.

One wonders why-especially in this Aquarian day of equality for the ages-it is not more against the law for a minor to purchase liquor rather than for the tavern owner to make the sale.

Even if a minor shows false identification, the tavern owner is responsible. The sorry point, however, is that a young person should be penalized for even asking to be served on a licensed premises. If an 18-year-old is responsible enough to vote, he or she likewise should have enough intelligence not to jeopardize a tavern's owner's license.

When a license is revoked in Nutley, you can figure that on an average, $1,000 is lost for every day the business is closed.

Thus, when young Bob Kohler, 17, told the Nutley Commission two weeks ago that he purchased two containers of beer at Dacey's Tavern, young Bob automatically slapped a $5,000 tab across the bar at the Franklin Avenue Tavern.

Young Bob, however, and his companion, Gary Robbins, 17, face no similar penalty. What makes this particular incident even more upsetting is the knowledge that Mrs. Estelle K. Dacey's personal policy at her tavern is not to serve anyone she doesn't know under the age of 25 years.

THE LAW ought to be changed for another reason.

Mrs. Dacey says that Bob Kohler was never inside her tavern in the first place. And young Mr. Kohler isn't too sure whether Mrs. Dacey served him either. But that $5,000 penalty is still there.

Consider our own personal confession: Before we reached that magical age of 21 years, we used to have a favorite spot for purchasing beer illegally. As we recall, the "deal" went something like this:

"Kid, we'll give you the beer, but if you ever get caught, you didn't buy it here. Agreed?"

We agreed. Then we know of incidents where kids were caught with beer. Do you know where they purchased it? The first place that came to mind other than their favorite watering hole. That was the one place they had to protect.

And so Trenton, take heed. Don't let any more good people like Mrs. Dacey suffer all the financial penalty. Much of the responsibility rests with the minors - let these young people accept the penalty for the harm they create by cunningly convincing others to serve them illegally.

THOSE PEOPLE caught "out in left field" at the Law Day Dinner Thursday at The Fountain have our sympathy. The speakers on the rostrum made several pleas for quiet from those far-out tables, but unless you've sat way out there at a similar event, don't be too quick to criticize.

A few weeks back, we were sat in next-to-the-worst spot at the Mayfair Farms Football Hall of Fame Banquet. (Our host had the worst seat so we will permit him to remain nameless.)

The words from the head table were carried to us through the miracle of coaxial cable (helped by an intricate microwave system) all the way to our seats in the distant corner of the restaurant. But friends, that did little good. There was no eye contact. We couldn't follow what was going on. We soon lost interest.

And so at The Fountain last week, we could understand why there was noise in the background. The lesson to be learned is that when selecting a set for a dinner, be sure it's large enough to accommodate the expected crowd.

The Football Hall of Fame dinner at the Mayfair Farms was too packed. Last week's Law Day fete at the Fountain likewise had more people than had been anticipated.

The only other comment we have about that Law Day affair is that once having seen the prestigious crowd, we couldn't understand why the dinner committee was so frantic about keeping the ticket price at $10 and forcing us with a chicken dinner.

We were under the impression that being a lawyer was more profitable today than ever. Maybe we were wrong.

Rutgers University Plans Record Breaking Graduation

Rutgers University's 204th anniversary commencement will be a record breaker in at least two respects, largest number of graduates and largest number of separate graduation ceremonies.
Furthermore, as far as the records show, this will be the first time in the history of the State University that graduation will be held over a period of several days.
For the statistically minded, these are the facts: About 5,000 students are expected to receive degrees, compared with a record high last year of 4,800. Sixteen colleges and schools at Rutgers will award degrees in six separate ceremonies. Exercises will extend from May 29 through June 3.
The smallest and one of the newest of the degree-granting units, the Rutgers Medical School, will start proceedings May 29 when it graduates 15 students in ceremonies at the school. This ceremony on University Heights Campus in Piscataway Township will take place at 10:30 a.m.

At Junior High Local Scout-A-Rama Attracts 26 Troops

The Girl Scouts of Belleville held their annual Scout-O-Rama at the Junior High School recently. Once again the boys' gymnasium was a scene of bustling activity.

Soon after the doors were opened at 9 a.m., the girls and leaders arrived to set up and decorate their booths with "Red, White and Blue" in keeping with the patriotic theme.

Twenty six of the 34 troops in town participated. The troops represented were Brownies - 1, 255, 315, 437, 486, 711, 901, 963, 969, and 971. Juniors - 105, 292, 321, 476, 710, 906, 938, 947, 954, 961 and 966. Cadettes - 48, 393, 688, 948 and 950, and Senior Troop 981.

The girls were busy from opening time at 12:30 p.m. until the closing four hours later, showing visitors their many troop activities. There were all sorts of crafts, from flower making to painting and Japanese Oragami. Sewing and cooking skills were also represented.

In keeping with the patriotic theme, many displays of the history of the American flag and flag etiquette were displayed.

The Senior Troop appeared in costumes, which they had made themselves, representing historical figures from the past. A brownie troop made a beautiful Statue of Liberty and an American Eagle for display. Visitors were given red, white and blue corsages, American flags, Book marks and samples of delicious home made cake.

At four o'clock all activities stopped for the flag ceremony with three Senior Scouts dressed as the "Spirit of '76" playing Yankee Doodle leading a parade of American flags representing each troop in a march around the gym.

One girl from each troop then presented her troop's gift to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund to Mrs. Earl Whitney, field vice president, who represented the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County. A certificate of appreciation was then presented by Mrs. Edna Verhagen, district chairman for Belleville, to Anthony Lardierre, former owner of the Pizza Pantry, for his many kindnesses to the Girl Scouts of Belleville.

The day came to a close with the singing of God Bless America and Taps.

Pupils Leave Principal Speechless During Teacherless Assembly

By John McCarthy

Belleville Senior High School principal Raymond O. Smith appeared speechless for the first time before a junior-senior assembly held last Wednesday at BHS. What surprised Smith was the fine attitude displayed by 800 students who attended the first assembly that the school has had without teachers supervision.

The assembly was one of many ways in which the administration has complied with requests for improving the school. A relaxed dress code which has been in effect for most of the year, the opening of lavatories previously closed to students

(to prevent vandalism) and open lunches where students get to stroll around outside the cafeteria during the lunch periods have been some of the major "improvements".

The students moved in to assembly as usual on Wednesday, except that no teachers were around to keep them from getting out of hand. These teachers were not needed as most students proceeded to their assigned sections in a quiet, methodical manner. Many times when a group of students started getting loud they were kept quiet by others.

Principal Smith walked on stage as usual when he thought most of the students were in. He addressed the students with the comment "I don't know what to say", but was interrupted by students from one or two homerooms arriving late. These students quietly took their places without any commotion and Smith went on to say, "We do better without teachers!"

Dr. Peck followed with a choral program by the Bellaires and the Bakers Dozen which appropriately opened with a song entitled "My Lord, What a Morning!"

At the conclusion of the program Smith again went onstage.

This time he remarked that "Our experiment worked out to perfection." He added that plans are in the making for a day in government where the school's students will take over Town Hall for a day; for an exchange program with a south Jersey school, and the second annual field day at the stadium. Vice-Principal John Westlake announced at the conclusion of the assembly that there had been a panel of students observing the conduct of their classmates who would make a report on the success of the innovation and circulate it to be read with the afternoon announcements.

The report read:

1. The juniors and seniors acted together as a student body and not as individual classes.

2. The committee was impressed with the orderly manner in which students moved into assembly. Their overall attention, courtesy, and applause.

3. We feel that the assembly was a success; it gave everyone a sense of responsibility and it showed that the students are capable of self-control. We feel they showed themselves to be worthy of such responsibilities.

4. We feel that the students handled their responsibilities well, got a chance to show that they could take on a responsibility and didn't "blow it".

Recommendations

1. The program could be improved with more selections of popular music

2. A better plan could be developed for moving the students into the auditorium.

3. All students could accept their responsibilities by reporting directly to the auditorium and not making any unscheduled stops.

HOW radiant electric heat

converts igloos into comfortable homes

If you would like your house to be toasty warm this winter, and not go broke to heat it — read on. Hundred of thousands of home owners and apartment operators, (not to mention hospitals, hotels, motels, nursing homes, and business establishments throughout the United States), have discovered Radiant Electric Heat to be just what the doctor ordered for comfort and what the banker ordered for economy.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills. That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

Homeowners tell us their health has improved. That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners enjoy trouble free heat permanently. That's because all burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are heating equipment headaches — for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank, pump or boiler repairs, no valves to leak, no chimneys or air filters to clean or replace; no damage from leaking pipes; no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable. That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system.

If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.

PLOTS COURSE — Navy radarman Second Class Robert Meier of Belleville plots the position of the USS John Paul Jones while stationed far away in Western Pacific.

It's A Long Way From Belleville To West Pacific

It's a long way from Belleville to the Western Pacific, but Navy Radarman Second Class Robert R. Meier is used to being that far from home.

Meier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Meier, 130 Liberty Ave., Belleville. He is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer John Paul Jones, now deployed to that area. The tour will include duty off the coast of Vietnam.

Meier explained, "This is my fourth time over here. I was homeported in Guam from June 1967 to January 1969 with the destroyer escort picket ship Kretchner."

As a second class radarman Meier maintains and operates the ship's radar systems. He also helps train the newer men and supervises radar watches in the Combat Information Center.

The 22-year-old sailor is a 1965 graduate of Belleville High School. He attended Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, for a year before joining the Navy in October 1966.

He is a graduate of a Navy six-month radarman school and has also been trained in electronic countermeasures. This is the final Navy cruise for Meier, who will leave the Navy in October of this year.

A graduate of Belleville High School, Bron is co-editor of the college yearbook known as the "Sabre and Scroll," and the treasurer of the Theta Chi Fraternity.

Bron will graduate on May 30.

A Printer

Navy Seaman Steven N. Barletto received his diploma from Lt. Col. William J. McMullen, deputy director of the Department of Typography, upon being designated the Distinguished Graduate of the Lithographic Platemaking Course at the U.S. Army Engineer School, Fort Belvoir Va.

SN Barletto, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barletto of 134 Floyd Street, Belleville, attained the highest overall academic average in a class of 15 students, to whom diplomas were awarded at graduation exercises held here recently.

The seven-week course is designed to train enlisted personnel in the preparation and processing of materials used in offset plate reproduction. The student also receives instruction in advanced map and aerial photography reading and learns the principles of operation of process cameras.

A 1968 graduate of Nutley High School, SN Barletto entered the Navy in July of that year.

NAVY COMMENDATION — Navy Lieutenant Commander Paul E. Hargrave (right), husband of the former Miss Paula B. Bellamy of 367 Washington Avenue, Belleville, was awarded the Navy Commendation Medal during ceremonies aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation in the Tonkin Gulf, Vietnam. Hargrave received the award for meritorious service in connection with combat operations against the enemy in Vietnam.

The 22-year-old sailor is a 1965 graduate of Belleville High School. He attended Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, for a year before joining the Navy in October 1966.

Joseph Barletta Awarded Medal

Pfc. Joseph N. Barletta, son of Mrs. Mildred Barletta of 66 Cortlandt Street, Belleville, was awarded the Navy Achievement Medal by the Secretary of the Navy, for outstanding achievement in the superior performance of his duties in the field of leadership.

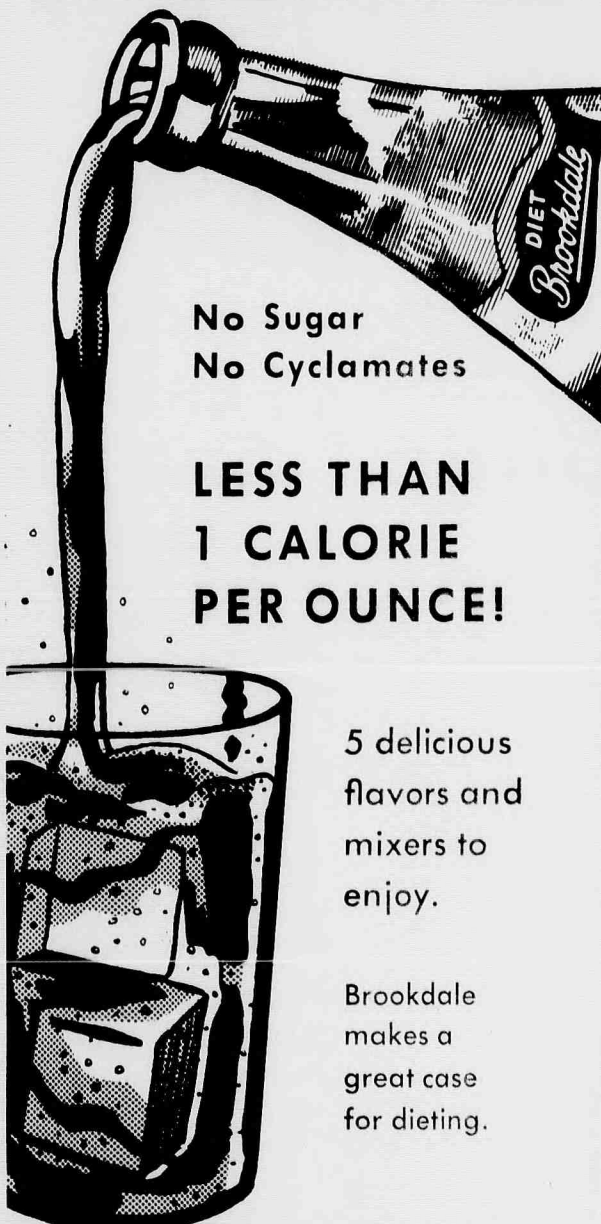

Barletta served in the Second Battalion, Ninth Marines, Ninth Marine Amphibious Brigade in connection with combat operations against the enemy in Vietnam during 1968-1969. As a fire team leader with Company E, Barletta displayed outstanding leadership and initiative and courage and composure under fire.

On April 23, 1969 Pfc. Barletta voluntarily led a patrol up the Don Kio Mountain to assist a Marine squad in an assault against an enemy force occupying a fortified position. As the patrol approached the heavily engaged squad, it came under a heavy volume of fire from another hostile force.

Fearlessly, and with complete disregard for his safety, Barletta maneuvered to a position dangerously exposed to enemy fire and delivered accurate, effective fire on the North Vietnamese soldiers, forcing the enemy to withdraw and enabling the remainder of his patrol to move the wounded Marines to a more covered position.

One Man Show By Squitieri

Belleville High School's track team placed ninth in the Annual Big Ten Track Meet as co-captain Vic Squitieri scored five of the team's six points.

In Saturday's Big Ten Meet at Woodman Field Montclair, junior Mike Albertine was the only other Bellboy to score. Albertine took fifth place in the shot put with a throw of 46 feet.

Squitieri scored his five points with a second place finish in the low hurdles and fifth place in the hundred yard dash.

Squitieri Improves Each Hurdle Heat

Squitieri's time was faster in each heat of the 180 yard low hurdles as he progressed to the finals. Vic's time in the preliminary heat was 22.3 seconds for second place in the heat. Vic ran faster in the semi-final heat and his time of 21.5 put him in second place for that heat too. A time of 21.1 in the final race gave Vic the second place honors for the Big Ten, and the team four points.

In both the preliminary heat of the hundred and the semi's Vic placed third with times of 10.8 and 10.6 seconds. After running in five sprint heats and throwing the discus, Vic slowed down and turned in an 11.0 hundred for fifth place in the final heat.

Belleville also had four other trackmen who came close to scoring in the meet.

In the high hurdles, Tony Portuese, a BHS sophomore, made it to the semifinals but failed to gain a spot in the final heat. Tony ran the high in 19.6 seconds for third place in the preliminary heat. In the semi-finals Tony finished sixth with 19.9 to miss the final heat.

Ricky Caruso almost made it to the finals as Belleville's No. 2 low hurdler. Ricky was fourth in his heat of the lows with a time of 23.2 to gain a place in the semi's. Ricky then turned in a 22.5 for fifth place in the semi's but missed the finals as third place in the semi's was the cutoff for the championship heat.

Belleville junior Lou Dalcero placed fourth in his heat of the one mile run but missed scoring as the first five places for the distance events are determined by times not places in a heat. Lou's time of 5:09.8 was eighth for the mailers.

Junior Mark Bradley also just missed qualifying for the final heat of the 440. Bradley ran the quarter mile in 55.1, to place eighth time wise for the heats, but only the top six went into the finals.

Figurelli In Top Ten At Quantico

Jerry Figurelli of Belleville ran the 3000 meter steeple-chase at the 14th Annual Quantico Relays at Quantico, Virginia This past weekend and placed in the top ten. Jerry's time of 10:05 was no where near where he wanted to finish, but he's going to try the steeplechase again at the Metropolitan Championships scheduled for May 16 in Jamaica New York. The race in Virginia was the first this spring for the Seton Hall sophomore after missing 5½ weeks of the season with a broken foot.

Bellboys Crush Orange After Columbia Losses

By Marc Feldman

The Belleville varsity baseball team rebounded from back to back losses to the Columbia Cougars Tuesday and Wednesday with an 11-3 trouncing of the Orange Tornadoes at home Friday. The victory over the Tornadoes lifted Belleville to the .500 level, at 5-5.

Underclassmen continue to be the stalwarts of the team. Joe Papasidero and Frank Petite kept up their hot hitting with two hits apiece in the Orange game. Catcher Gary Falkman, hitting in the cleanup spot for the first time slammed a triple into deep center field, good for two runs.

The Bellboys iced the game in short order with a five run first inning. Belleville loaded the bases with one out and Joe Ritacco ripped a two run single to left. Charlie Ziegler squeeze bunted for a third run, Ritacco stole home, and Ziegler came around on Frank Fury's double.

John Moraski was the winner and evened his

Girls Softball Set For First Time

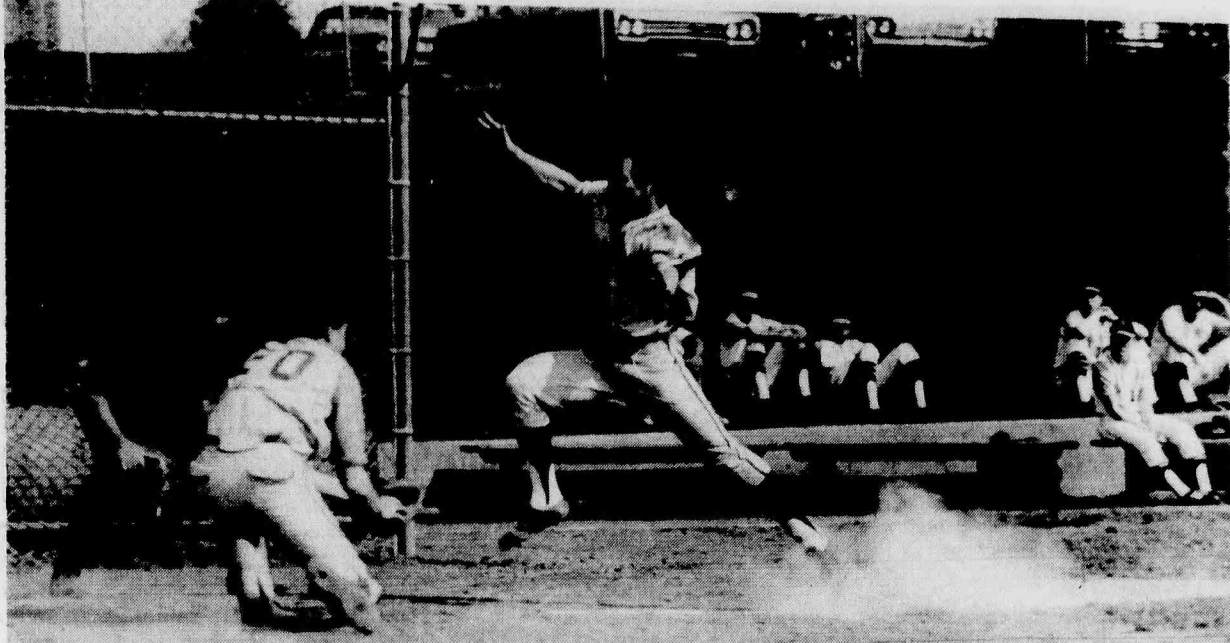

Belleville High School's first girls softball team reported last week for initial tryouts and practices. Twenty-six senior high school girls showed up for Miss Karen Fuccello's first team tryout. "Coach" Fuccello is a girls gym teacher who last year coached the girls basketball team to a 1-1 season.

Fifteen juniors, six sophomores, and five seniors were on hand for the first batting and fielding practices. Most of the girls had the ability to catch a softball and also showed a few unique throwing wind-ups. Batting

Ace-Less Team Can't Seem To Break .500

Belleville takes on Wayne Valley tomorrow and East Orange on Saturday in away games which could determine whether the Bellboys enter state tournament play and also could effect the post-season All-Star hopes of two of its bright young hitters.

At press time the squad had a 5-6 record with a scheduled tilt yesterday at West Orange. Needed for entry into the state competition is a won and loss record above the .500 level. If the squad lost yesterday they would not be eligible by tournament deadline time, which ends Saturday. If West Orange was beaten, the Bellboys will have to sweep both Wayne Valley and East Orange to enter tourney play.

In addition to the team accolades which could come from tournament play, the large daily newspapers pay close attention to the competition in selecting their all-star teams.

Two Bellboys in particular would benefit from the tournament entry. Joe Papasidero and Frank Petite, both of whom are hitting over .400.

After Tuesday's loss to Irvington at Municipal Stadium, Papasidero's average stood at a robust .421, while Petite's was .408. Following closely behind is another up and coming young ballplayer, Gary Falkman who was stroking the ball at a .348 pace after Tuesday's game.

Papasidero, a junior, has maintained a remarkable .500 on base average, and hadn't KO'd once all season until Tuesday. In that game he collected two hits in three at bats.

Soph Petite meanwhile, went 0-2 and saw his team leading average drop from .433 to .408. Both men have considerable power, and added to sophomore Falkman's strong bat, give Coach Charley Travers a solid core for next year's team.

What apparently prevents Travers from relaxing a little on the sidelines, is the Bellboy pitching staff, or lack of it.

The coach finds himself faced with a staff without an "ace." None of the team's pitchers tried thus far have also lost 1/2 2 1/2, and Ferrara scored the second win. 2 1/2-1/2.

Monday the golfers went to Parsippany where they faced Kearny on Green Meadow C.C., on course that Kearny uses in absence of one in their town. While the Bellboys were at Green Meadow, Cedar Grove and Verona were having a match, so the fourteams got together and made it a four way meet. The Bellboys beat all three teams, Kearny 11-7, Verona 15-3, and Cedar Grove 13 1/2-4 1/2.

With the highest possible total being nine points for each golfer, Trainor finished with six and one half points. Nocera scored eight and one half, and Belleville forfeited the number three spot since DeFroschia didn't show. In his first varsity golf match, Mike Peldunas won with seven and one half points.

Tomorrow, is the qualifying date for the Districts. The team won't get to go because their 5-5 record isn't good enough to make the cut, but team Captain Gary Trainor will enter to seek individual honors.

Bellboys Host East Side

Belleville High School's track team hosts East Side High of Newark in the Bellboys seventh meet today. The trackmen are now 2-4 for the season after losing to Bloomfield and Nutley 75-42, and 105-12 during the past week.

Saturday Belleville competed in the Annual Big Ten Track and Field Championships at Montclair's Woodman Field, and placed ninth.

Against Nutley, the Bellboys suffered their worst defeat of the season as they were shut-out in eight of 13 events, and failed to take a single first place.

High scorer for the meet on Nutley's unfinished DeMuro Park Perma-Track was Mark Bradley with four points. Mark took second in the long jump with 17' 8 1/2. It was the first time he's scored this season in the long jump. Mark also took a third in the 440 yd. run with a time of 55.0 seconds.

The only event where two Bellboys scored was the shot put. Mike Albertine picked up three points for Belleville with a throw of 46'5", and second place. Co-Captain Ralph Salerno had an offday and took third with a throw of 44' 21/2".

Belleville scored its other four points in the 180 yd. low hurdles and the 100 yd. dash. In the lows Ricky Caruso took a second place with 23 seconds. Co - Captain Vic Squitieri scored the 12th point with a third place finish in the hundred at 11.0 seconds.

Belleville started off to an 8-1 lead in the first event against Bloomfield, but the Bengals ate away at the seven point Bellboy lead by taking

Golfers Face Irvington High After A Seven-Match Week

Belleville's weary varsity golfers will face Irvington High School for the first time this season, tomorrow, after playing seven meets in the past week, and winning four. On Monday the golfers were beaten by Nutley 11 1/2 - 5 1/2 at the Upper Montclair Country Club.

Captain Gary Trainor and Anthony Nocera were the only Bellboys to post wins as Trainor won 2 1/2-1/2 and Sketter 3-0.

Tuesday, the Bellboys went to Upper Montclair C.C. again, this time to face Montclair High School. The golfers scored a 15-3 win over Montclair and had three shutouts. Nocera, Brian Hammond-the squad's only junior, and Tom Ferrara all brought in 3-0 wins over the Mounties. Trainor, Lou DeFroschia, and Al Marsheutz all scored 2-1 victories.

In the golfers second outing against West Orange, the Cowboys kept the Bellboys to only one win, that by Skeeter Nocera 3-0 as the Cowboys won 12 1/2-5 1/2. Against Bloomfield High School, the golfers lost 10-8, in the usual close style of a match between the two schools. The last match produced a close 9 1/2-8 1/2 win. Trainor won his round 3-0, and Nocera moving up to the second spot for the first time, lost 2-1. Marsheutz, moving down to third, also lost 1/2-2 1/2. DeFroschia and Roger Ross

Powerful Hun School To Test Crew Saturday

The Bellboy varsity oarsmen will seek their seventh consecutive victim this Saturday, when mighty Hun School of Princeton brings its shells to the Passaic River for an important matchup. Meet time is 9:30 a.m.

The squad has been rowing at 6 p.m. all this week due to tide conditions on the River, and expects to be in top shape for the Hun crew this Saturday.

Roy Newman, who missed the last meet, will be back in the varsity shell for added strength. Junior John Atherton, who had been suffering a muscle pull, appears well healed and is also expected to man his position in the boat.

This year's squad has made easy work of all six opponents it has met this season, and in fact has not lost a dual meet since mid-April of last year, when Arlington tripped the Bellboys in a close loss which was later avenged.

Local interest will also be focused on Coach Michael Lally's fine junior varsity shell, which sports a 7-1 record to date.

This Saturday's meet will mark the halfway point in the season for the oarsmen, who are hoping for a national tournament berth. Big date on the calendar is May 22, when the National Schoolboy Championships are held in Washington D.C. Last year the squad missed qualifying in the national meet by two tenths of a second.

On May 30, the annual Goodwill Regatta, pitting Kearny, Nutley and Belleville, will draw crowds to the banks of the Passaic, as the three rivals vie for the Goodwill cup which is in its second year of existence.

Instrumental in this year's boat are four capable seniors, led by co-captains Newman and Alan De Feo. Rus Jerusik and top notch coxswain Steve Taffet round out the senior membership of the varsity shell.

Five juniors will be returning to next year's squad, and all promise to bring valuable expertise to the shells. Manning the oars this year are juniors Frank Marano, Jim Drexler, Tom Jones, John Atherton and Jack Fersko. Also figuring in next year's plans is the JV shell's top man, Mike Marano, who filled in during Newman's absence in Philadelphia against Upper Merion.

Lally is in his sixth year as varsity crew coach, and has been instrumental in building the Bellboy's increasingly good reputation. In March he was selected to chairman the first crew seminar ever held at the annual New Jersey Coaches Association convention in Rutgers.

Doubleheader Set For Little League Season Opening

The Belleville Little League opens its 1970 season with two games this Saturday at the Michael V. Marotti field. Ceremonies will mark the beginning of this baseball season for local youngsters.

The teams will all be uniformed for the pre-game ceremony and will march onto the field accompanied by the Sabre Cadets of American Legion Post 105, at one p.m.

Congressman Peter W. Rodino will throw out the first ball with the assistance of Mayor Ken Smith, and Commissioners Mary Senatore, Vincent T. Strumolo, William Cullen and Joseph McGreevy. Representing the Board of Education will be schools superintendent Anthony Greco.

Paired off in the first tilt of a doubleheader is the Colony and Rotary Clubs. The second match-up features F.M.B.A. versus the Lions Club.

Also scheduled on hand to mark the ceremony will be Amvets National Commander Robert Gomulinski who will present the Belleville Amvets Little League team with certificates of merit for winning last year's town championship.

For years now we have heard from some people in the TV industry about the many customers who just wait until a video tape recorder for home use will be available at a "reasonable" price. The writer never shared this optimistic opinion. There does not seem to be that many people who would buy an expensive apparatus like this, just to be able to record certain programs which may be on the air at a time when they are out of the house. Such a program taken by the home recorder could then be replayed at one's own convenience.

This will be a complicated piece of equipment. If a camera would be available, at a price that one could afford, to record important family events like weddings, for instance, the use of such a machine would be extended, at least.

Home video tape recorders are in use now, but mostly by commercial firms, hardly any in private homes. The systems that the writer saw, so far left much to be desired in quality of picture, and they were black and white. Anybody who has a color set, certainly does not want to go back to black and white any more, and a home video recorder for color TV would cost a prohibitive amount of money.

The column above is in answer to a few queries from customers who wanted to know whatever became of home video recorders.

Tuesday for four innings, holding the 10-3 Campers scoreless on three hits. In the fifth, however, the Campers produced five big runs on five singles to break the game wide open, adding single runs in the sixth and seventh. In all, Petite gave up 11 hits (nine singles and two doubles) and issued a walk, ingoing the distance in the seven inning affair.

Belleville's lone tally came in the bottom of the seventh, when senior first baseman

Frank Fury lashed a double and Papasidero singled him home.

The home squad had the bases loaded with one out in the third, on two walks and an error, but rightfielder Rocco Marotti was picked off third and Petite grounded out to end the threat.

Picking up the win for the Campers was undefeated hurler Joe Paoletta (5-0), who helped lift his squad to an 8-3 mark in the conference. Errors were committed by Bellboys: Brian Waters, Joe Ritacco, Papasidero and Fury.

The Bellboys have beaten West Orange in their first encounter this year, and Wayne Valley according to reports is not a strong ball club.

season's record at three up and three down. He allowed only two singles, struck out six and walked five. The game was Moraski's third low hit game of the year. He has pitched a one hitter against Montclair, lost a three hitter to Bloomfield, plus the game with Orange. The three Tornado runs were unearned while all the Belleville runs were earned.

In the second of the two game series with Columbia, the Cougars triumphed 4-1. Sal Mineo pitched the first three innings and took the loss. Bill Squires went all the way for Columbia and allowed four hits to push his record to 20.

The Cougars collected only three hits but were aided by five walks and three Belleville errors. In the fourth inning Columbia broke a scoreless tie with two runs. The key blows of the inning were a run scoring single by Don Cicchino and a squeeze bunt by Mike Caron. The Bellboys wasted an opportunity to go ahead in the fifth when they had a run in and men on second and third with nobody out. The Cougars put the game out of reach with two more runs in the sixth and went on to notch their seventh victory in eight games, and a share of the Big Ten lead with Bloomfield.

BELLEBOY BRIEFS: Joe Papasidero and Frank Petite are neck and neck for the team batting lead. After ten games Petite is hitting .433 and Papasidero, .400...Papasidero has yet to strike out in 40 trips to the plate...His on base average is .500 which makes him one of the best lead off men in the county...The team batting average is .251...The Squad has four games this week and must win three out of four to qualify for the state tournament.

The college operates on an "open door" admissions policy; that is, all applicants with a high school diploma or equivalent are admitted on a "first come, first served" basis. A total of 400 new students already have been accepted.

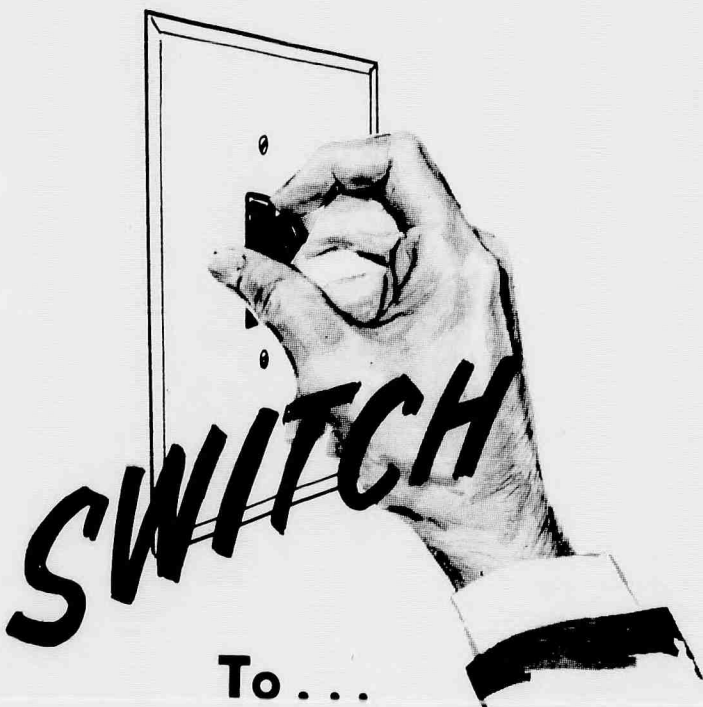

Prospective students are advised by Dean Jackson to obtain an application blank

Chief of State Realtors
Worried About Pollution

The New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards through its President, Thad S. Cwik, has expressed growing concern about the pollution of New Jersey's coastline and recently passed a resolution requesting appropriate action be taken on all levels of government to abate this pollution and remove all possible sources of contamination of the state's beaches.

The realtors join with all public spirited citizens in asking authorities to insure that any sewage dumped into the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of New Jersey does not constitute a threat to the health and well being of our citizens and visitors alike who enjoy our resort communities.

President Cwik said, "As a first and practical step to avoid the enlargement of the so-called 'dead sea' off the New Jersey coast the New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards goes on record as urging the Army Corps of Engineers to require all treated sewage to be dumped in the area of the Continental Shelf until such time as a more scientific solution can be put into practice."

He stated that the resort business is one of the most important in the state's economy and all efforts should be made to maintain the purity of our beaches and also to make certain that unfounded rumors of pollution never even get started.

The Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley & Belleville Board of Realtors along with more than 3,000 realtor members of the New Jersey Association of Realtor Board, are aware of the healthful benefits and pleasures experienced by the millions who use New Jersey's seashore.

Association President Cwik urges all citizens to unite in this common cause to help preserve our priceless heritage - our beautiful beaches.

Our grandmothers practiced medicine and concocted remedies purely because they were compelled by circumstances to do so. Today, with the speed and ease of communications in the greater portion of our land, the woman who attempts to be her own doctor is apt to be in the class of the lawyer who serves as his own attorney and who therefore - as the old saying goes - "has a fool for a client." However, in case of accident, these four fine ingredients are prescribed: Energy, coolness, and decision. If there's a need for prescription drugs, we'll furnish the 5th ingredient - just call 759-1956 or 759-1968, R O S S M O R E PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. "Your Doctor Knows Us-Your Doctor Trusts Us". Mrs. Maccio Named 'Woman Of The Year'

A joint installation of North Essex Post Jewish War Veterans No. 146 and Auxiliary was held on April 16 at the Bloomfield Civic Centre. Mrs. Emanuel Zwerling was installed as Auxiliary president, and Mr. Dunsky, Post commander.

The Retiring Auxiliary president, Mrs. Ida Batkin, presented the Auxiliary's "Woman Of The Year" Award to Mrs. Larry Maccio of 10 Federal Street, Belleville, in recognition of her outstanding services to others throughout the years.

Jean Maccio's concern towards her fellow-man stemmed back to her high school days, when she belonged to the Barringer High Girl Reserves and helped prepare and distribute baskets to needy families during the Thanksgiving and Christmas Holidays.

For 18 years, she has worked on behalf of two orphanages - Immaculate Conception Orphanage in Lodi, and St. Joseph's Orphanage in Rockleigh. She has served as fund-raising chairman, given parties for the children, and presented them with gifts of toys and clothing at Christmas.

Mrs. Maccio became associated with the Ladies' Auxiliary several years ago, and became a vital part of the group, attending hospital parties at the East Orange Veterans Hospital, and parties at the North Jersey Training School for Girls in Totowa. She was a very resourceful fund-raising chairman, and in numerous ways, helped the Auxiliary to prosper. She was a frequent visitor at the Essex County Children's Shelter in Belleville, bringing the children donations of clothing and toys. She also helped the Shelter in its Pre-Vocational School.

Mrs. Maccio helped to brighten the lives of countless children and brought cheer to many patients. She also opened her heart to families in distress. She has gone to their assistance, raised funds to help them meet their needs, and comforted them. Recently, she helped a paraplegic and his family and raised funds for him. His family was deeply moved by her concern. The brother-in-law of the afflicted man, Nat R. duBester, wrote and dedicated a poem in her honor, which he read at the installation.

The Auxiliary presented Mrs. Maccio with a plaque to commemorate this occasion. It would serve as a reminder of her many achievements, and represent the affection for her that her many good deeds produced.

Mr. and Mrs. Maccio are members of Holy Family Church in Nutley, New Jersey.

Proper Use Of Sewing Machine Can Add Years To Its Life

Home sewers are more active than ever. People are buying sewing machines, patterns and yard goods at a fantastic rate. As machines get more complex, it is necessary for the home sewer to learn certain standards for machine care. Nothing is worse than to get ready to sew only to find the machine broken. Some of the following tips may help you keep your machine in good repair.

In order to prevent jamming the needle mechanism with thread ends, use this sequence of motions. First lower the needle into the fabric just inside the raw edge, next lower the presser foot and check that the top and bobbin threads are pulled out of the way. Now you are ready to start stitching. Many problems result from a small piece of thread caught in the bobbin case. By following the above directions, you can avoid this.

When straight stitching on a machine which also does zig zag stitching, use the presser foot and throat plate made for the straight stitch. This will help to prevent skipped stitches and will also prevent light weight fabrics from being drawn down into the needle hole.

Cleaning and oiling a sewing machine are chores a homemaker can do herself rather than calling a service man. Most instruction books give a detailed explanation of how to clean and oil. If you have lost your instruction book, write the machine manufacturer giving the model number of your machine. He may be able to supply you with another book.

After cleaning and oiling your machine, insert several pieces of paper towel under the presser foot and run the machine, without thread, for a few minutes. This will help to distribute the oil through the moving parts of your machine.

Store the machine with paper under the lowered presser foot. If any oil should drip down it will fall on the paper rather than down into the bobbin area. It's a good idea to always store your machine with a scrap of fabric under the presser foot.

HELP FOR PARKINSONS WITH L-DOPA

For a long time there was little that could be done to help people suffering with Parkinson's Disease. Stemming from a chronic disorder of the central nervous system, its symptoms are a shaking palsy, slowness of movement, weakness and stiffening of the muscles.

Now a drug with the funny sounding name of L-DOPA appears to be helping people with Parkinson's to improve greatly. Although still being tested, it has been recommended that the drug be released for use by physicians and it should be available around the middle of this year. Your doctor knows about this.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Some Hints On Making Cookies: Good Project For Rainy Days

Any time of the year can be cookie time. If a rainy day comes along with the children home, involve them in a cookie making project. It will take up most of a morning or afternoon and you'll have a batch of cookies the whole family can enjoy.

The following hints on making cookies of all types should assure you of a perfect finished product. Make all measurements level and accurate. Be sure ingredients are at room temperature before you begin to mix. If you are making dropped cookies, drop the dough in even sized mounds from the tip of a teaspoon. This should give you round, even sized cookies.

When cutting ice box cookies, use a sawing motion. Be sure to cut when the dough is very cold and firm and do not press too hard.

Baking sheets used for cookies should be bright and shiny. If they have darkened, decrease the cooking time as the cookies will brown faster. Cookie sheets should be staggered when placed in the oven so that the heat circulates. Place one sheet in the lower rack on the left and the other on the upper rack on the right. Allow about one inch from the sides of the oven.

Try the following recipes; they're sure to become family favorites.

CHOCOLATE SPECKLE COOKIES

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon

1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup rolled oats
1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels, finely chopped

Sift flour, sugar, soda, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon together and set aside. Combine shortening, egg, peanut butter and water and beat well. Add rolled oats, flour mixture, nutmeats and chocolate morsels and mix well. Form into 2" roll. Chill. Cut in 1/8" slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 12 minutes. Yield: 10 dozen.

CHERRY WINKS

2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup pecans, chopped
1 cup dates, chopped
1/3 cup maraschino cherries, chopped
2 1/2 cups cornflakes

Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Blend shortening and sugar together, creaming well. Add eggs, milk and vanilla; beat well. Blend in dry ingredients gradually; mix thoroughly. Add pecans, dates and maraschino cherries and mix well. Shape into balls using a rounded teaspoonful of dough for each. Crush cornflakes. Roll each ball of dough in cornflakes. Place on greased baking sheet. Top each cookie with 1/4 maraschino cherry. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

*If you use enriched self-rising flour omit baking powder, and salt; decrease soda to 1/4 teaspoon.

BUTTERSCOTCH COOKIES

4 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup chopped nuts
Sift together flour, soda, cream of tartar and salt. Cream together butter or margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla extract. Beat well. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture. Add nuts and mix well. Shape into rolls and wrap in waxed paper, or press into cookie molds. Chill until firm. Slice thin and bake on ungreased baking sheets in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen 2-inch cookies.

Vacation Plans Should Be Made In Advance

Planning ahead can make your family's summer vacation a real treat rather than a nightmare. How many people have you heard of that ruined their vacation by waiting till the day to leave came and then deciding what things to take, where to go, what to see, etc.?

If the children are old enough, try having a family "meeting" to get everyone's ideas. You may be surprised to find out that the children would like a rest from a vacation at the beach for one year. (Or you may find that they want to spend the whole time at the beach.) If you plan in advance, there may be time to do more than one thing for your summer vacation.

Now is the time to gather ideas and brochures about many different vacation possibilities. Later in the spring you can begin to sort these ideas out and then make final arrangements.

Making reservations in advance is a must if you expect to visit any well known tourist attractions. There would be nothing worse than to arrive at your destination late in the day after driving a long distance only to find all the motels and hotels filled. Advance reservations avoid this.

It is wise to begin thinking about suitable travel clothing now. If you plan to travel to several places that will mean clothes packed in a suitcase for an extended period of time, plan ahead. If you are buying new spring or summer fashions, look for knits, permanent or durable press things and simple design lines.

As your vacation nears make up a list of clothing you plan to take, and check to see that you will have suitable clothing for all family members for all occasions. Use different accessories for variety in your travel wardrobe.

Advance planning should eliminate that last minute rush. It also may enable your family to get more things done and see more than in

Enjoy, Respect Power Mower For Years of Good Service

Power mowers take a lot of the drudgery out of lawn care, but treat yours with respect. That's the advice of John J. Jupcho, county agricultural agent of Essex County. Judging from past seasons, he foretells mangled fingers and toes as the result of bulky or carelessly handled mowers.

Direct your first "ounce of prevention" at the machine itself, Jupcho suggests. Be sure your mower is in good mechanical condition, has a sharp blade, and has a shroud or housing to cover the blade. Don't fill the mower with gasoline while it is running or hot. Don't run it inside the garage or other building. Always disconnect the spark plug when you work on the underside of the machine. Proper maintenance of the mower prevents aggravation. And often aggravation leads to carelessness.

Next, prepare your lawn for mowing by clearing away any trash that may have accumulated over the winter, as well as stones, toys and other objects. These objects can become deadly missiles when thrown by the blade of the mower.

Trim shrubbery and trees to give clear access to areas that must be mowed. Use gravel or groundcovers where mowing is difficult and dangerous.

Finally, don't operate a power mower where others are working or playing. Push—don't pull—the mower and mow across sloping areas, rather than up and down.

Realtor Head Optimistic About Market's Future "The residential real estate market outlook in New Jersey is surprisingly good in spite of negative statements and statistics from Washington," according to Thad S. Cwik, President of the 3,100 Realtor member N.J. Association of Realtor Boards. He asserted that many of NJARB's 39 local Boards are experiencing brisk but selected activity - particularly in areas catering to businessmen and executives. President Cwik said reports from the field indicate that although prices of re-sale homes reflect market conditions, mortgage money is obtainable even though not as plentiful as it should be. The Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley & Belleville state they are anticipating busy spring and summer buying seasons because of the great pent up housing demand and employee transfers.
