Discolored Water Will Flow Again In Town Faucets

Discolored water will probably flow from Belleville's faucets beginning tomorrow for a period of at least three weeks according to the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority.

In a letter to Public Works Director Mary Senatore, the Newark Authority this week announced it would shut down a 48 inch water pipe during construction of Route 280.

Belleville, which gets its water from Newark, experienced the water problem last year when similar construction caused the temporary closing of the large pipe.

Closing the 48 inch duct takes smaller pipes which must compensate for the difference, says Commissioner Senatore. As a result, increased flow in the other pipes stirs up sediment and produces the discolored water.

"I'm happy they notified us this time," the commissioner said. "Now we can at least warn the residents."

Last year construction on McCarter Highway caused the discolored water to enter Belleville's system. Residents experienced a host of difficulties, and registered numerous complaints at Town Hall. In Bloomfield, where residents also get water from Newark, several

Variance May Get Hearing

A controversial variance for a 21-family garden apartment on Belleville Avenue is expected to appear on Monday night's Commission meeting agenda.

Tapes of the matter's five three hour hearings have been typed up and delivered to commissioners for study. A town hall source said the directors were given the transcripts late last week.

The Zoning Board of Adjustment, after hearing lengthy discussion on the variance, voted 3-2 to recommend approval on April 7. Because of the unusual number of hearing tapes transcripts have taken until now to be completely typed.

Approval last month was given to Lilanz Realty Company, which had been denied a similar application nine months ago. The group revised its plans, including a reduction of 4 units, and

Two Belleville Residents Will Enter Priesthood

Two Belleville residents will be ordained for the priesthood during the next ten days in separate ceremonies.

Rev. John Frey, a lifelong resident, will be ordained for the Diocese of Camden this Saturday by Bishop George H. Guilfoyle in St. Joseph's

High School.

Deciding on theological studies, Father Frey enrolled in Resurrection College in Kitchener, Ontario, Canada. He recently completed four years of theological studies at Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington.

A Belleville resident will be ordained for the Brooklyn diocesan priesthood on Saturday, May 30 in St. James Pro-Cathedral.

Rev. John H. Savage of 71 Eugene Place will be ordained by the most Rev. Francis J. Mugavero and assigned to a parish in Brooklyn.

On Sunday, May 31, Rev. Savage will offer his First Mass in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, at 1:30 p.m. Concelebrants will be classmates, seminary teachers and other friends of the Belleville resident.

Father Savage has become a popular figure in The Silver Lake section of Belleville, particularly with the youth, whom he has guided through his assistance in the church and in the Belleville Little League.

An all-around athlete, Father Savage has long been interested in youth. During the past three summers, Father Savage has been a camp director and counselor for the Bergen County CYO,

Belleville Students Discuss Youth, War, With P. Rodino

by Phil White

Belleville High School reported directly to Congressman Peter W. Rodino in a unique conference Saturday that touched upon American involvement in Vietnam, the extension of the conflict into Cambodia, the expansion of Presidential powers and the question of the 19-year-old vote in New Jersey.

On most of the topics, the Belleville report seemed to reflect more the position of the Nixon Administration than what Rodino seemed to expect from the students.

And on the 19-year-old vote, the Belleville conference representatives seemed to think that recent violence on the college levels "all but kills any hope for passage of lower voting age here this fall."

Representing Belleville High at Rodino's 10th District Youth Congress were Larry Spinelli, 17 Crescent Terrace, and Martin Fuchs, both characterized Belleville High as being "on the conservative side."

Spinelli, who was one of the state leaders in the Voting Age Coalition last year that campaigned for the 18-year-old ballot in New Jersey, told the Congressman that he was pleased the State Legislature has put a 19-year-old question on referendum set for this November.

"I had every hope we would have won that question last year," Spinelli reported to the Congress. "But we weren't bucking all the college unrest and violence a year ago. With what's been going on at the colleges today, I can't possibly see how the 19-year-old vote can win. I'll work just as hard to get this new referendum passed, but I don't see much hope for progress," the Belleville resident said.

Bumpy Road Planned For School Driveway

Special safety devices will be placed in Belleville High School's driveways Saturday to slow down motor vehicles, it was announced yesterday by the Belleville Board of Education.

Board Business Administrator Harold Dufford said bumps will be produced at intervals in the driveways through the use of macadam mounds in an effort designed to discourage excessive speeds.

For Library Expansion

Town Expected To Buy $42,000 Lot Monday

Town fathers are expected Monday night to approve purchase of a $42,000 property adjacent to the Public Library on Washington Avenue in a preliminary expansion move for that facility.

A $42,000 bonding ordinance, which will require four YES votes from commissioners, was tabled two weeks ago when it came up for a second and final hearing.

The matter was delayed because of the absence of Commissioner Mary Senatore who is expected to cast the necessary fourth vote for approval. Commissioner Joseph McGreevy has indicated he will reject the purchase.

In a prepared statement to the Times this week McGreevy outlined his reasons for opposing the land acquisition, saying he felt the Library expansion was not "urgently needed at this time," and said the purchase would be a violation of an agreement between the Library Board and the Commissioners, in which the two bodies agreed to delay action of the purchase until a controversial legal matter concerning the land was cleared up.

The lot, which is owned by Dr. Donald Brown, has been the subject of a lawsuit involving the Library and both Pat Kiernan and Mrs. Edna Hudson.

The complicated litigation, which is currently awaiting appearance in Essex County Superior Court, involves an option to purchase the land which was acquired by Kiernan and Mrs. Hudson.

Stories about the option are numerous and in many instances, conflicting. Central to all of them, however, seems to be that Kiernan and Mrs. Hudson purchased the option to buy Dr. Brown's land in February of 1969. In May, the Library, which was interested in expansion, made a $1,000 downpayment toward a $4,000 purchase of the option rights. The Commissioners later decided to reject the purchase, which prompted the Library Board to file suit for return of their downpayment. Mrs. Hudson and Kiernan filed countersuit for the remaining $3,000 for the option rights.

Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato said, then, in a legal opinion, that the Library Board's purchase was not binding because it acted without complying with commission statutes which require that purchase be okayed by town fathers.

Commissioner McGreevy's statement is his version of the matter. It reads as follows:

"In the fall of 1967 shortly after we took office Mayor Smith called me to a meeting in his office with Mr. Ben Grimm and Mr. Ken Broo. At this meeting it was pointed out by both men that the library facilities were in need of expansion but said expansion must take place west of Washington Avenue. Various locations west of Washington Avenue were mentioned at the meeting ended on the premise the site would be selected and the same would be included in the Master Plan that was under study at the time by the Planning Board.

"I didn't hear anything about these plans of the library until the meeting night of May 13, 1968 when Mayor Smith asked me to stay after the town meeting to meet with Mr. Grimm and Mr. Broo and the members of the Town Commission to which I agreed. At this meeting Mr. Grimm and Mr. Broo felt that now the best spot for expansion was the present location on Washington Avenue not west of Washington Avenue. To expand on Washington Avenue they needed the

Zoning Bill Continues To Draw Opposition; Final Hearing Planned

The Planning Board's controversial new zoning ordinance and map will be aired at a third and final public hearing next Thursday night at School Eight.

Opposition to the Board's proposals now seems to be led by the Belleville Valley Association, a local taxpayers group, which last week presented the Planning Board with a list of 25 specific proposals for revision of the zone offering.

After the final hearing next week, the Planning Board will meet to consider the comments and recommendations of residents made the past two hearings, before presenting their proposals to commissioners, who have the final say on this town's zoning structure.

The new zone ordinance would update a structure created in 1923.

In addition to the BVA's opposition, a group of 40 industrialists is prepared to petition the Commission to rezone all residential areas in the section commonly known as "the Valley," for industrial use.

Objections voiced by residents appear to be two-fold thus far. Valley dwellers have expressed dissent against industrial zoning in their area, which they would like to see rezoned for more residential use.

Residents from different parts of town have commonly objected to R-C zoning, which allows for multi-family dwellings.

The Planning Board, which

Vote Set On Residents' Part In Study

A resolution which would allow Belleville residents to take part in a total evaluation of this community's educational structure comes up for a vote at Monday night's Board of Education meeting at School Eight.

Introducing the bill is Board member Caesar Romano, who hopes to create a community committee of school administrators, teachers, residents and Board members who will "get involved" in this town's educational system through the exploration of its past present and future.

Romano's resolution would add "the community's expertise" to the talents of a Rutgers Educational research team, which is expected to be contracted soon by the Board to evaluate Belleville schools.

The Board has indicated that the Rutgers group will probably deal with enrollment forecasts over the next ten years, plus a study of health and safety standards in the schools and recommendations for possible future building expansion.

Included in the Rutgers study, which would be head by Dr. Donald Walling, would be analysis of projected birth rates in town; the affect of new apartment growth on schools; analysis of dropout rates, and the study of this town's proposed new zoning ordinance and map, which would include a complete land-use survey.

Romano has said his proposal would cover different areas of the analysis and would save the town money, both in future efficiency and in research fees. He also says it will stimulate community involvement in the school system and "would be a significant step toward passage of a sound budget next year."

The Board member proposes that the town committee evaluate local schools with the hope

Broadway Musical Debuts Tonight

NOT SERIOUS - Larry Spinelli prepares to scalp Sue Kellenbence but nobody seems to care. Spinelli plays Sitting Bull and Miss Kellenbence portrays Dolly in "Annie Get Your Gun," which debuts tonight at senior high school. Aiding the scalping is Tom Idenden and play's director Robert Wing.

Jayme Freedman And Joe Smith Play Lead Roles In BHS Version

A talented group of Belleville High School students will perform their version of Irving Berlin's hit Broadway production "Annie Get Your Gun," tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the school's auditorium. Performances are also scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday nights.

Jayme Freedman, a veteran performer in BHS productions, will play the lead role of "Annie," a country girl who makes it big as a sharpshooter while starring in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show.

Along with her sharpshooting fame, Annie manages to win over a handsome lady's man, Frank Butler, played by Joe Smith. Falling for each other will not require much acting for the two, who are going steady off the stage.

Handling the directing end of the production is Band Director Robert Wing, who hopes to raise enough funds from the show to defray some of the expenses incurred by the band, twirlers and color guard on trips this summer.

Adding their talents to the popular production will be Larry Spinelli as Sitting Bull, Ed Messner as Buffalo Bill, Tom Idenden as Charley and Sue Kellenbence as Dolly.

The long running play-1,147 performances-starred Ethel Merman and ranks as one of the greatest Broadway attractions of all-time.

Jayme will handle the choreography for the musical, a task she performed last year for "Pajama Game." She is a junior and a twirling squad member.

Joe is a member of the band, the key Club and the local rock and roll group, The Knights.

Students Hear Rodino

(Continued from Page 1) ville High senior said. Rodino said Belleville High has always "displayed an unusual sensitivity to politics." The Congressman said it was primarily because of Belleville High's interest in politics and a visit he made there two years ago "that as a matter of fact gave me the idea for forming this Youth Congress. I hope this turns out to be a successful pilot program that might be useful in other parts of the nation," Rodino remarked Saturday.

Martin Fuchs expressed the Youth Conference consensus on Vietnam and Cambodia, although he told Rodino, "the closest I am to the President is his television speeches."

Variance Hearing

Opposing the construction are a group of residents, reportedly about 100, who are being represented by local attorney Lawrence Schwartz.

One of the main objections raised by residents is that cars travelling to and from the apartment complex will pose a traffic hazard for the 91 students who attend School 10.

The Realty group, owned by Albert and Joseph Liloia, contends the apartments will constitute the best use of the land considering the shape of the lot.

Now Jackson State College

Before America and the world could get over the shock of the massacre at Kent State College in Ohio, police killed two black students at Jackson State College in Jackson, Mississippi.

The tragedy at Jackson State lead officials of that school to suspend all classes until the summer session begins June 8.

Officials reported that the Jackson State shootings were not related to the disturbances on college campuses as was the case with Kent State. In Jackson, Miss. police insisted that they had been fired upon by snipers. Negro leaders say "there is no doubt in our minds that certain segments of police officialdom were told to kill someone at the slightest provocation."

A committee has been appointed by the Mayor of Jackson to obtain the facts that lead up to the killings of James Earl Green, 17 years old, a senior at Jackson High School and Phillip L. Gibbs a 21-year-old student at Jackson State College.

America has been in trouble for a long time over the direction it has taken and is going with regard to the extension of Civil Rights to the black man.

As a school boy we always thought that America was for us all the land of the free, the home of the brave, and a place where every citizen had a right to his share of happiness. How wrong we were.

Not it seems every year legislation is introduced in Washington to bestow upon special groups, including black people, senior citizens, females, legal rights which we thought were guaranteed by the Constitution to every American citizen.

The restlessness which has permitted every facet of life in America is making itself felt with increasingly drastic results each passing year. When demonstrators on college campuses turn to violence it is inevitable such behavior will lead to tragedy.

To turn America around from being a land of rebellion and tragedies requires a major citizen effort at the grass roots. If there is no restraint and understanding by neighbors over the backyard fence there will never be restraint and understanding in the public market place — the college campuses — in the U.N. We hope the events at Kent State and Jackson State will lead America to pause and think about the destiny of our country.

We were a great nation — and we are a great nation — but to remain great we must behave and perform much better than we now are for the ultimate answer — the inevitable consequence of second class behavior — is the creation of a second class country.

Arsenic In Drinking Water?

Last week Mrs. Virginia H. Knauer, President Nixon's Consumer Affairs Assistant, came to Newark and spoke at the 70th Anniversary of the New Jersey Consumer League at Newark's Robert Treat Hotel. She announced a government survey recently concluded indicates 30% of drinking water consumed today fails to meet government safety standards.

Mrs. Knauer is not telling us something that hasn't been said before. For at least three years the New Jersey Department of Health has ordered most water suppliers in the state to install filtration systems and modify some existing systems in order to upgrade the quality of drinking water consumed in New Jersey. The New Jersey Department of Health already knew what Mrs. Knauer last week told the public.

Traces of pesticide were found in nearly all of the samples taken from streams or other surface water sources according to Mrs. Knauer. She also stated that about 9 per cent of the drinking water taken from the tap showed evidence of bacteriological contamination. Moreover about four tenths of one per cent contained arsenic that exceeded the limits set by the Public Health Office. And Mrs. Knauer observed, "This doesn't sound like very much, but it can be serious to people who are drinking it. Think of the cumulative effect!"

President Nixon has submitted to Congress a package of Consumer Protection Bills which have become bogged down in political party differences. In addition to measures requiring an upgrading of drinking water, other features of the Nixon legislative package include product testing standards, drug identification on the medicine container, creation of a Consumer Protection Office within the Department of Justice, and permitting "class" or group legal action against a manufacturer or business firm by a number of consumers in joint action.

Appearing on the same program with Mrs. Knauer was New Jersey Department of Justice Chief Fred Lacey, who spoke of the "plundering of the consumer interests by many industries. When I call in the television repair man I only hope he doesn't make the set any worse," said Mr. Lacey. The Justice Department Head urged his audience to do everything possible to gain adoption of the Nixon Consumer Protection Bill package.

While our experience with our TV repair man suggests that Mr. Lacey should live in our community so he could receive better TV repair service, we do join Mr. Lacey in urging citizens to ask their Congressmen to support the Nixon Consumer Protection legislative package.

Adult Delinquency Cancels Juvenile Event

One Year Ago

Plans were underway for a $75,000 reconstruction of Belmont Avenue from Newark Avenue to Franklin Avenue. An ordinance authorizing the town to finance the project was passed on first reading 5-0. The Town's share of the cost would be $16,549, with the rest coming from State Aid.

Commissioner Carmen Orechio of Nutley-the first from his family to join ranks with the Democratic Party-had reason to be grateful to Belleville. The Belleville Democratic Party was instrumental in placing Orechio in the race for the State Assembly. Mr. Orechio had been nominated and overwhelmingly supported by the Belleville Democrats.

Bernard J. Reilly Sr. was honored at a testimonial dinner held at the Coronet in Irvington. The dinner was sponsored by El Zagei Caravan No. 7, International Order of the Alhambra (selected Catholic gentlemen dedicated to retarded children). Reilly had been a member of the Alhambra for 46 years.

Belleville High's varsity nine continued to re-write the school's record book by becoming the first to win the Greater Newark Tournament. Coach Nick Petti's Bellboys were second in the 33rd Annual GNT to powerful Union. The last time a Bellboy squad was among the sixteen team GNT Field was in 1948.

Ralph M. Risoli, Belleville Registrar, was elected president of the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association. Other officers chosen were Mrs. William F. Pratt, Robert Underwood, M.D. and Samuel Brown as vice presidents; Isadore Padula Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Thomas D'Ambola, secretary and Miss Kay Noone corresponding secretary.

John R. Throckmorton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Throckmorton of 46 Division Avenue, Belleville, was named the outstanding athlete for the year 1965 at Rutgers University in Newark. Throckmorton had been a standout pitcher and outfielder on the Bombers' baseball team and a solid performer on the golf team.

Because of parental "delinquency," the traditional easter egg hunt was dropped in Belleville. Recreation director Bob Cook and town manager John Burnett recommended that the event be discontinued because of unruly behavior on the part of nearly 400 parents, not 1200 youngsters who participated in the hunt.

Student Council elections at Belleville High School resulted in the election of Carmine Esposito as President. Others elected were Alex Iacullo, vice-president; Judy Pirone, secretary, and Dolores Ruglio, treasurer. Approximately 1,000 students voted at the high school polls.

Despite a previous lengthy meeting between the Belleville Board of Education and the police department, which was called in an attempt to increase the policing of school property, vandals were at work again and had almost completely destroyed a field house at Clearman Field. The incident touched off some bitter arguments by Board of Education members, who were known to be placing the blame on the Police Department. Chief of Police George R. Spatz told the board that his force was undermanned and underpaid, and as a result, couldn't do a better job.

The Board of Education was eyeing the west side of the Municipal Stadium, near Passaic Avenue, as a possible site for a proposed new high school. The Board acted after meeting with Town Commissioners in which two other possibilities were discussed -building on the old bog site and building next to the present high school on the Elks Club and gas station property.

A Junior Radio Club was in the making in Belleville; its purpose was to develop and encourage civilian interest in radio and communications means as a hobby, with potential value to the community in case of disaster. The new club was comprised largely of School 5 members. Fred Yost was president; Michael Ross, vice-president and Helen Sherman, secretary-treasurer. Ross was a School 5 student and Helen Sherman a School 5 teacher.

The resignation of Burt Johnson, acting principal at Belleville High School, was read by superintendent of schools Wayne R. Farmer to the Board of Education. Mr. Johnson was leaving to take a position in Tenafly as principal of the junior-senior high school at a starting salary of $6,000.

Belleville was leading the county with approximately 30 per cent of its E Bond quota already purchased in the Seventh War Loan Drive. Phillip Dettelbach announced that the sales had amounted to $403,000.

Nixon's Coverage in the Press

To understand many of the stories written about President Nixon today one must understand the background of the reporters in Washington and New York who are turning out so much of the copy. Admittedly, on their part, and perhaps understandably, most members of the working press are left of center, or liberals. (That is true also of television commentators.)

Beginning in the fifties, a number of these reporters joined in a bandwagon attack on Nixon because of his probes into the past of liberals with connections to organizations linked in some way to communist causes.

In the presidential campaign of 1960, between John F. Kennedy and Nixon, the great majority were for Kennedy. They vilified Nixon in no uncertain terms, first because he was the conservative candidate and they were overwhelmingly liberal and secondly because Nixon didn't handle his campaign and his press relations as effectively as did the late President Kennedy. Some of them went so far, in their claims that Nixon's election would be a national disaster, that they are still trying to make good that opinion; they don't want to be proven wrong.

Keeping this in mind one can understand the treatment the President gets so often in the news columns. An A.P. story the day after the recent student demonstrations in Washington is a perfect example. Run on many front pages across the nation on a Sunday morning, the story told of President Nixon's personal encounter with students at the Lincoln Memorial, where the President had gone at a late hour in an obvious conscientious effort to help bring about better mutual understanding.

Did the news story include any student praise of Nixon for this personal effort, which horrified secret service men? Did it include any student praise of his courage in meeting face to face the militants, who have been so unruly on many occasions? It did not; instead it quoted three 20-year-old girls, one of whom recklessly charged that the President "wasn't really concerned with why we are here." Another was quoted as saying most of the President had said was absurd. A third girl was quoted as saying the President, "did not make sense."

One of the great tragedies of the day is the shocking tone and volume of such press bias. One can also easily detect it in television commentaries of the President's press conferences-after which nine tenths of the commentators distort or criticize the President's words. The nation deserves something better.

Methodists

Aid Minorities

The United Methodist Church, meeting in St. Louis, recently voted to give $2,000,000 in 1971 and another $2,000,000 in 1972 to its commission on religion and race, to be used "in the service of minority peoples."

In addition, the church has undertaken a special fund drive in these years to raise another $4,000,000 to aid twelve black colleges supported by the church.

These two sums add up to an amount equaling about twenty per cent of the past annual budget of the church and are major steps to aid minority education. Some of the money will come from a reduction in spending on foreign missions, which seems highly appropriate.

In the past many U.S. churches have spent millions annually financing missionaries trying to convert Asians and Africans and others while many fellow Americans lived and worked under severe handicaps at home. Charity in this case has not always begun at home and the recent action of the United Methodist Church is logical and commendable.

The First Chinese Satellite

The recent launching of a satellite, their first, by the Red Chinese did not surprise Washington officials. In fact, Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird predicted in February the event was likely in the "near future."

However, the weight of the Chinese satellite, which is passing regularly over the United States (the trajectory might be a hint from Peking) did cause some surprise. The weight of the first Russian satellite, in 1957, was 184 pounds. The weight of the first U.S. satellite the next year was 30 pounds. The Chinese satellite weighs 380 pounds.

This has led to speculation among some U.S. experts that the Chinese might have developed a first-stage rocket for an ICBM. The pre-launching prediction of U.S. defense officials was that China will soon be deploying intermediate-range (1,000 mile) missiles, having successfully developed the rocket stages for its propulsion. It was believed the Chinese might have longer-range ICBM's by 1975.

The major question the orbiting satellite raises is whether the Red Chinese have developed bigger rocket engines faster than expected, in view of the size of the present orbiting satellite.

Reasons Told For Opposing Peace March

QUESTION: What do you think was accomplished by your demonstrating against the Peace Committee's march?
ASKED: Bit-'n-Spur Tavern, Nutley, at corner where marchers began
Tom Restaino, 82 Harrison St., Nutley:
The Peace Marchers accomplished their purpose and we accomplished ours - and what's really important to me is that both sides reached their goals in a peaceful manner. I personally joined this counter-march because I not only wanted to help show that there are many in this country who are behind President Nixon, but also to show that those of us who disagree with these hippies can express our opinion in a more peaceful manner than they can. We accomplished our purpose. I hope they did too.

Mr. Restaino

Nick Franciose, 182 Chestnut Street, Nutley:
I carried the sign, "Support Your Local Police," not so much to accomplish what the sign said literally, but to point out that there is a great need for law and respect throughout our country. I believe everyone has a right to express their opinion, provided it's expressed in a lawful and peaceful manner. I don't think many of the students today are very lawful or peaceful - and I don't think their acts of violence are going to accomplish anything except to turn increasing numbers of people against their cause.

Charles Piro, 130 Bloomfield Avenue, Nutley:
For the last six months or so, all we've seen in the newspapers and on television is the violence and extremes expressed by students - some students anyway. I participated in our march because I want people to know that there are many, many Americans who although against war, do support President Nixon. I carried the sign: "Support Our Armed Forces," and I feel that Americans ought to think about the responsibility we have to the guys now in Vietnam, and about those who may be called to serve next. Sure we all want the war ended, but we can't stop the war through violence at home, but we can make a start through respect and dedication to our country.

Thomas Cullari, 15 Margaret Avenue, Nutley:
Those of us who demonstrated against the March don't like the war anymore than anyone else. But we have to support and back our boys in Southeast Asia. That's why we marched along in the peace demonstration. Without trying, we had more supporters than they did. Most of us served in the Armed Forces and many that were marching along with us were veterans from World War II, Korea and Vietnam.

Helen McGuire, our social editor and neighbor, recalls the classroom incident when she was trying to teach the future generation some basic grammar in very simple terms. "The suffix 'ous' at the end of a word indicates FULL of plus whatever the word means," observed Helen. "Hence," continued Helen, "there is a righteous or full of right, spacious or full of space, glorious or full of glory, wondrous or..." a wise student in the back of the room interjects "Teacher! Teacher! What about pious?"

Playing down her obvious brilliance, Joane O'Donnell answers her door to the knock of a United Parcel delivery driver who asked our, Joane, "Does this package belong to you? The name is obliterated." A grinning Joane replied, "No, that can't be mine. My name is O'Donnell."

Author Unknown... It is the human touch in this world that counts. The touch of your hand on mine, which means far more to this fainting heart, Than shelter or bread or wine. For shelter is gone when night is o'er, And bread lasts only a day; But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice, Sing on in the soul away...

Our Managing Editor Phil White remembers the day he came home from grammar school and complained to his mother, "I'm in a tough spot. The teacher says I must write legibly. If I do she'll find out I can't spell."

Gwyn Cable, who worked at two jobs to pay her own way through Pratt recently won a postgraduate scholarship from the University of California in Berkeley. Is this typical of the "now" generation? Typical or not, you've got to hand it to a kid like Gwyn who grits her teeth, determined to reach the end of the rainbow - on her own.

IT WASN'T TOO LONG ago that I refreshed my recollection about a trip I took on John Wayne's yacht, The Wild Goose.

Over the local Fort Lauderdale radio station Sunday I heard the news that Alexander Gregory's 100 foot yacht, The Golden Greek went aground on a reef off the South Florida Keys. Aboard the Golden Greek was a contingent of White House news correspondents and their wives. The newsboys were in the area to cover news from the summer White House. The Golden Greek is usually found moored in one of the docks at Miami Beach's Racket Club. Edith, Miami Starlet Evelyn Singer, Phil Cuoco and I boarded it one evening to join Alex and a few friends. The ship really is golden - golden toilet fixtures, gold bedspread, gold trim interior - a very elegant ship and appropriately named. On this particular occasion there was no worry about running aground with the Golden Greek as happened with us aboard the Wild Goose. The ship remained anchored at its birth alongside the world famous Racket Club Pier.

Labor pains grip San Diego, California, the land of John Wayne's Wild Goose. In California's second largest city firemen and bus drivers are striking. Trash collectors are letting trash pile up on the street and police are refusing to issue traffic tickets. Two unions representing 3,000 of San Diego's 5,000 Municipal workers who serve the city's 712,000 residents are threatening a total strike by all city employees if pay raises aren't granted soon. About 90% of the city's 600 firemen went on strike last Wednesday. They ignored a Superior Court temporary restraint order. City officials recently introduced a new ordinance providing a 10% pay hike for fire fighters and police. The boys said no. The firemen want 15% and the police ask for 23%. The cops now are being paid $1,000 a month and the firemen receive $866. The bus strike involves 297 drivers who seek an $.88 per hour pay hike. They are now making $4.16. 52,000 persons ride the buses every day - and this is the way it is in San Diego on Thursday, May 21. Is there any wonder the NOW generation has contempt for the law and their elders? What kind of an impression are the adults in San Diego making upon the young people of that city?

MARIJUANA is back in the news again. In a university-sponsored poll of students' use of and attitudes toward drugs at the State University at Stony Brook, Long Island seventy-one percent approved the use of Marijuana. Of those responding to the questionnaire, fifty-nine percent said they had experimented with illegal drugs, although only 26% admitted using them before coming to the university. The breakdown by classes shows a pattern of increasing use of marijuana by students before reaching the university level. Of the current freshmen class, 35% said they had used it before their arrival while only 14.6% of the current senior class admitted to drug use before college. The survey indicated disapproval of heroin. Fifty-five per cent of the students said they used marijuana.

Meanwhile in Florida a survey shows that 20% of Florida college students regularly smoke marijuana but according to Florida State Attorney General Earl Faircloth this does not lead to harder drugs. Last Wednesday Attorney General Faircloth reported "the results are shocking to me and deserve the careful attention of all citizens of Florida." Deeply disturbed by the revelation of the survey Faircloth commented "computer projections of the sample group would indicate that more than 42,000 of the 211,000 students now enrolled in Florida's private and public universities and junior colleges are regular users of marijuana."

Somebody in high places better do something soon about marijuana because if the above statistics are to be accepted nation-wide it won't be long before most of our college students will be stigmatized with a criminal label. Under our current law it is a crime to possess or use marijuana.

I was asked what is the weather like on the outside of a jet traveling at 33,000 feet altitude. Well, 45 minutes out of Newark our 727 was braving a 105 mile-an-hour wind traveling at 605 miles an hour and the temperature outside the plane was 40 degrees below zero. The 727 has one galley amidship. The young, sharp, smart, hard working stewardesses who ran the show on the trip were Senior Gayle McHaffie, Juli Saxon, Linda Boyd and "E girl" Janet Blevens. The meal was great and the service was superb - a far cry from the experiences of the past two weeks. Along side me sharing the joys of the trip sat a nice guy, former Vice President and General Counsel of IBM and presently a senior partner in Hayden Stone Inc., Hank (Henry) Trimble of Fort Lee. By a happy coincidence Trimble and I sat next to each other going down to Miami Friday night and Sunday night we both ended up on Flight 2, once again sitting side by side. Incidentally, Trimble has a lot of faith in the stock market - much more than I do.

I can't remember how many times I have been urged to read Mario Puzo's "The Godfather" so - I bought the book and in among the words of the first three pages I found more profanity than I have heard or used in a long time. Despite this revelation I will continue reading "The Godfather" until the very last word, hoping that somewhere along the line we bump into a prayer or two.

Man In The News

Band Members Call Him 'Uncle Bobby'

When Robert Wing took over as Belleville High School's music director seven years ago, the school band was a loosely knit organization with 26 members, worn-out uniforms and a performance schedule which depended on where the football games were played.

Now all that has changed. Today, the Belleville High School Band is one of the most sought after school outfits in the East, and boasts 86 talented and dedicated youngsters, all of whom will swear by "Uncle Bobby," as they affectionately call Bob Wing.

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday night, the energetic Wing will direct the high school version of Irving Berlin's hit Broadway musical, "Annie Get Your Gun," before packed audiences at the high school.

Hired specifically in 1963 to revitalize the school band, Wing has done just that.

"The first thing I did," Wing says, "was get rid of the dead wood-the ones who weren't serious about their work. I made the organization tighter with strict attendance rules."

"The band I inherited was labeled 'the gypsy band,' because many of the members were also in the Salvation Army and consequently we had alot of tambourine players."

Enrollment rose steadily, as Wing began to spark student interest through the scheduling of band trips and tours. In 1965, Wing's band was invited to play at the World's Fair in New York. "From that point on we've done big things."

These "things" include performances at the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington D.C. in 1966 and playing at Expo '67 in Montreal, Canada.

The past two years, the director has taken his youngsters on five day tours of Southern military hospitals. This year a trip to Syracuse is in the making, as well as a special jaunt to Canada for performances. Money for these tours are raised by the students themselves through cake, candy and decal sales, in addition to band shows.

Born in Mineola, Long Island (his age is a well-guarded secret), Wing graduated Sea Cliff High School and enrolled in the Air Force in 1952. While in the service, the French Horn player performed with the Montgomery Symphony Orchestra, the Greenville Symphony Orchestra, the Florida State Symphony Orchestra and the Sousa Memorial Band.

He entered the Manhattan School of Music after the service, and completed a six year course of study in just two years. "I worked hard," the director says in a bit of an understatement. Actually, he took 26 credits a semester and enrolled in summer school both years.

Helen's Thing ...

First Aiders Merit Support From Nutley

By Helen Maguire

When I was wheeled into the delivery room at Clara Maass to have the twins, my obstetrician introduced me to the anesthetist. "Oh, I remember Dr. Pellechia" I said. "He was here when I had Ryan two years ago." The doctors were slightly astonished that I should have remembered the name after such a brief association a couple of years back. "I never forget someone," I explained, "to whom I have made out a check."

And its true. Did you ever see anything disappear faster than money? My husband's paycheck has barely made our acquaintance before it is funneled out to various worthy causes such as food, the mortgage, utilities and so forth. It never stays around long enough for us to get really friendly.

But there is one check which I write once a year and which I don't mind signing at all. That is the family's contribution to the Nutley First Aid Squad which is conducting its yearly drive for funds this month.

We have used the squad three times during our tenure in town. A few years ago, Jack, out on his bicycle after twilight when he should have been home, cut in front of a car while turning up our driveway. The car clipped the bike and sent Jack flying. A neighbor called the police and they and the First Aid Squad responded and took the victim to the hospital. Fortunately, he suffered only a sprained arm and learned a good lesson about collisions between bikes and cars.

Rod called them the next time after I went into convulsions and passed out on the dining room floor two weeks after Gavin was due to arrive and hadn't put in an appearance. I don't remember much about the incident except waking up on the living room couch with a couple of Squad members bending over me and a swift ride to Clara Maass complete with siren.

Last summer, Gavin caught his finger in a playmate's storm door and neatly took a piece off the top. It was really a mess and I called the first aiders as Rod held a screaming three year old. They arrived within minutes and carted father and son off to the hospital where Gavin stayed overnight and had minor surgery done on his finger.

I hate to think what these three jaunts would have cost us if Nutley hadn't had a volunteer First Aid Squad. But more important than money, how great is it to have trained people ready to respond in an emergency.

I hope we never have to call the Squad again but how comforting to know that they're there.

Dreaming About Ball Games Between Officials Is Enough To Drive A Sane Reporter Crazy

DO YOU REMEMBER last week we were telling you about that dream we had about an all-star baseball game between the Board of Education and Town Hall, when time ran out, doc?

The Board of Education "Budgeters" had bases loaded, one run in and nobody out when Mayor Ken Smith suddenly called time out and went to the announcers booth to declare the game over via a proclamation.

Well School Board President Rocco Saletta stormed the announcers booth and grabbed the microphone.

"This is President Saletta. Disregard. I repeat, disregard the Mayor. The game isn't over. Casale. Go get my ball from the car."

"Where is it Rocky?"

"In the back seat Joe, next to my 'Groove With Rocky In 1971' stickers." In 20 minutes the game resumes.

The Budgeters pick up two more runs before Commissioner Mary Senatore whiffs Superintendent Greco and Dr. DiRuggiero to end the inning.

The Town Hall "Ratables" are glum as they enter the dugout. Sensing this, the Ratable cheerleaders - the Zoning Board of Adjustment - stand on top of each others' shoulders to form a symbolic high rise. Loud boos echo from the stands.

Undaunted, Mayor Smith steps up to the plate escorted by Joe Donnelly, town superintendent of weights and measures. Donnelly calls for the baseball, produces his scales and checks its weight. "It's OK" he assures the Mayor.

"You can't get that kind of service from the County," Smith says to the fans. More boos.

Smith smashes a line drive to Greco at short. The superintendent slips on what apparently is a wad of dental floss, but manages to catch the ball with his teeth. Amid frantic applause, Greco stands up and looks at Dr. DiRuggiero. The superintendent spits out one tooth and pulls out a half-broken one still in his mouth and says: "I didn't need them anyway."

TREASURER FRANCIS MCCOY takes a Saletta screwball and loops a single to right. With Commissioner Joe McGreevy up, Smith flashes the bunt sign hoping to advance McCoy to second. McGreevy balks at the signal and takes a lusty swing, fouling one off into the announcers booth, where Town Clerk Eugene Barnett ducks and yells back: "Hey I'm on your side Joe."

McGreevy lines a single to put men on first and second, as powerful switch-hitter Commissioner Senatore steps up. With Commissioner Vincent Strumolo on deck, Senatore wastes no time and jumps on Saletta's first pitch and rockets a towering drive to center field. Caesar Romano races back at an unusually fast speed to field it, but the ball sails over the fence and puts a big dent in the Michael V. Marotti sign for a home run to tie the score.

The Ratable cheerleaders are ecstatic and grab specially lettered garden apartment style bricks which they hold up to spell out: W-E-R-E R-I-S-I-N-G H-I-G-H.

Their enthusiasm is short lived. Administrative clerk Jimmy Saldo and purchasing agent Tom McLaughlin fan on Saletta's speciality pitch, the "dipsy doodle," which is designed to look like one pitch but actually is another.

Strumolo, who has faced all kinds of pitches, is confident as he grabs his bat, which is a gift from friends and is autographed: "From your pals in Silver Lake." He jumps on the first pitch, meets it squarely, but the bat breaks cleanly in half, and Saletta easily fields a squibbler to erase the inning.

From here on in it's a tight pitcher's duel. Eight, nine, ten scoreless innings fly by. In the eleventh, Saletta's arm gives out. A makeshift sling is prepared for him with his "Groove With Rocky" stickers. In a daze, a disappointed Saletta walks off the field, but mistakenly heads toward the Town Hall Club House. Commissioner Senatore springs from the dugout saying Wrong way Rocky, wrong way, its the other way you're going the wrong way, turn back. Saletta shrugs and reverses course.

THE SCORELESS INNINGS continue. The fans, whose number has now swelled to about 8,000 in the stands and some 27,500 out on Montgomery Street, are perfectly willing to wait and watch the officials grow fatigued. In fact, the whole town is there.

In the eighteenth frame it becomes obvious to all that a new scoreboard is needed. Mayor Smith asks Umpire Nicholas Amato for time out, and takes the microphone again:

"Ladies and gentlemen, we need about ten pieces of wood to construct an addition to the scoreboard here. The game will resume as soon as someone produces the materials."

Within minutes ten contractors show up in black limousines with out of state licenses and enough wood to build nearby Parillo's Restaurant. Which is not a coincidence, because that restaurant's owner comes storming onto the field complaining they've torn down his establishment. The contractors shift their cigars and offer to sell him the wood cheap. "We won't be sticking in 'dis town after we finish this job anyway," they say.

$42,000 Property Vote

adjacent property owned by Dr. Brown and his wife. It was explained at this meeting that the Trustees of the Library could purchase the option and the property for $45,000. My first question was, who has the option? I was informed it was Patrick Kiernan and Mrs. Edna Hudson. The meeting ended unresolved.

"The next day I found out that the option was obtained from Dr. and Mrs. Brown by Patrick Kiernan and Lois Ann Hudson on February 3, 1968. Lois Ann Hudson later assigning her interest to Mrs. Edna Hudson, the term of the option expiring May 31, 1968. It was my understanding at the time that the Trustees needed the approval of the Board of Commissioners to enter into any binding negotiations for purchase of the option or making a down payment for the aforesaid property.

"When the trustees failed to receive such approval at the May 27, 1968 town meeting, I figured the case to be closed. On May 29, 1968 the Library Board of Trustees at a special meeting passed a resolution authorizing the purchase of the option and the land and making the Resolution retroactive to May 27, 1968. The voucher No. 4031 dated May 31, 1968 for $1000. payable to Patrick Kiernan and Edna Hudson ($4000. payable in 90 days) was executed by Mr. Grimm and Mr. Broo, & was held until June 6, 1968 and sent to the Town Hall by messenger with other bills. The messenger was instructed to wait for the check.

"I checked with the Assistant Treasurer and he told me the check for $1000. was issued and checking further with the bank, said check had cleared. So the next step was to get an opinion from the Town Attorney who ruled that according to State Statutes 40:54-24 and 40:54-25, which states that approval by Resolution of the Board of Commissioners must be secured by the Board of Trustees of the Belleville Library before any negotiation can be entered into for acquisition of property, and said property must be taken in the name of the municipality.

"In the latter part of July 1968 at a meeting in the town hall of members of the Library Board and members of the Board of Commissioners, it was agreed that nothing further on the expansion of the Library or the acquisition of property would be negotiated until the $1000. was returned and this stayed status quo until April 27, 1970 when Mayor Smith introduced an Ordinance for $42,500. to purchase Dr. Brown's property.

"I think this is a violation of the agreement between the Library Board and the Board of Commissioners entered into in July of 1968. It may be a fact that the facilities of the library are inadequate for concerts, movies, meetings, etc., but we have these same facilities at the Junior and Senior High Schools at the disposal of the Free Public Library. I am definitely sure there are many more things urgently needed in the Town of Belleville than expansion of the Library viz: updating the physical facilities of our Public Schools; Police and Fire Department facilities to name a few.

"All expansion plans for the Town, School, and Water facilities should be carefully analyzed and priorities allocated before any project is undertaken. This $42,500 ordinance could very easily be a down payment on a million dollar project, and it is not urgently needed at this time."

Controversial Zone Bill Is Reaching Final Stages

has expressed sympathy with residents feelings, has maintained that the new proposals essentially do not alter this town's zone structure, and that the thrust of the new map will be toward increasing residential dwellings.

Last week the planning body held a second hearing, this time at School Four in the Silver Lake section of town, where about 60 residents showed up to comment.

A total of eight residents spoke at the meeting, of which four were BVA officials. Chief concern in the Silver Lake area, according to those present, was zoning which allowed garden apartments. They also expressed a need for more recreational areas.

Before the BVA presented its 25 proposals for zone revision, Chris Albanese of 53 Frederick Street, who said he owns garden apartments in town, drew applause when he stated: "We think there has been an infringement of garden apartments in our town."

Albanese's chief concern was that new garden apartments might be built by

out of town firms:

"Don't let these garden apartments come into town," Albanese said. "I don't like it when an out of town outfit comes into Belleville telling us how to plan what we can do ourselves," he continued, referring to the Passaic Valley Planning Commission which was instrumental in drawing up the new zone proposals.

"If these apartments are put up by out of town syndicates, God help us," Albanese warned. He said only an apartment owner who lives in the town will take care of his investment.

Speaking for the BVA, Tony Fernandes of 95 Harrison Street delivered 25 recommendations to the Board for study.

Among them were: *Recommendations that all multi-family zoning be discontinued so that variances and consequently public hearings would be necessary for all such structures.

*A revamping of the system of selection for zoning and planning board members.

*The service of the PVPC should be discontinued.

*Restrict the height of industrial buildings from the proposed 100 feet to 50 feet.

*Multi-family dwellings should be limited to three stories at 40 feet instead of four at 50 feet.

HOW radiant electric heat

into comfortable homes

If you would like your house to be toasty warm this winter, and not go broke to heat it — read on. Hundred of thousands of home owners and apartment operators, (not to mention hospitals, hotels, motels, nursing homes, and business establishments throughout the United States), have discovered Radiant Electric Heat to be just what the doctor ordered for comfort and what the banker ordered for economy.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills. That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

Homeowners enjoy trouble free heat permanently. That's because all burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are heating equipment headaches — for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank, pump or boiler repairs, no valves to leak, no chimneys or air filters to clean or replace; no damage from leaking pipes; no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Homeowners tell us their health has improved. That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable. That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system.

If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.

Talented Youth Winds Up Tour

A 15 year old who has toured this country with the prestigious Columbus Boychoir, is hoping to bring his talents to Belleville High School in the fall.

Charles Neining, 175 Hornblower Avenue, a second alto, is winding up his second year at the Columbus Boychoir School in Princeton, and plans entering Belleville High School next term.

The selective Princeton school chooses about five of 70 applicants each year to enter the school, where music and academic life is combined.

This year Charles has toured New York, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Niagara, Canada.

The Number Three School and Junior High graduate has sung with the Choir for Eugene Ormandy's Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

Columbus Boychoir School which is celebrating its 30th anniversary, has sent youngsters on tours of South America, Europe and Japan. The school spent 10 years in Ohio before setting up in Princeton.

Charles hopes to tryout for the Belleville High School

"Bellaires," a boys group. His only wish right now is that his voice doesn't change too much.

In his school days in Belleville, the youngster sang with the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church Choir and was a member of Boy Scouts Troop 350.

Charles is also accomplished on the organ and the piano.

Molasses Sweetens The Second River

A Belleville manufacturing company almost inadvertently came up with a novel formula for reducing pollution smells in Belleville's Second River last week.

It seems a molasses tank at the National Grain Yeast Plant sprung a leak and the sweet syrup flowed over a filter and into the river on May 13.

Belleville To Seek Revenge Saturday When Rival Nutley Visits Stadium

Belleville heads into the final four games of this season with a home tilt Saturday against cross-town rival Nutley High School in Municipal Stadium at 2 p.m.

The Bellboys will be seeking a better than .500 season, the mark they ended up with last year.

Last Tuesday the 9-9 Bellboys dropped their second straight game after stretching four victories in a row. West Orange (10-10) made it two for two over the Belleville nine this season, as they staved off a dramatic comeback by the Bellboys in the last inning to hang on for a 7-6 victory.

Last Saturday, Bloomfield all but demolished Belleville, with the Bengal bats booming for ten big runs in a 10-3 stomping of the home team.

Earlier in the year, Nutley stopped Belleville 4-2, and appeared off to a brilliant season, with four straight victories including a trouncing of Montclair, current Big Ten leader.

Since then Nutley has faltered, due to inconsistent pitching, and now stands with a 6-8 record in the Big Ten.

Nutley's key players are second baseman Joe Di Giacomo, a consistent hitter who's rapping the ball at a .350 clip, and sophomore pitcher Dan Bouton (5-1), who is expected to hurl this Saturday.

Bouton, who is the cousin of former Yankee hurler Jim Bouton, is a fastballer with an extremely good curve ball.

Catcher Nick Franks, a junior, is leading the team with a near .400 batting average, and has been hot-hitting as of late.

Belleville will probably send junior righthander Bill Haines against Bouton. Last Saturday the fastball pitcher held powerful Bloomfield scoreless for four frames before the roof fell in with an eight run fifth inning.

Haines has displayed a good fastball, and is being counted on by Bellboy Coach Charlie Travers to be a key performer this year and next.

Tuesday, Belleville's most consistent pitcher, Frank Petite, was everything but, experiencing a bad day of wildness and frequent hits.

The sophomore hurler, who leads all Bellboys with the stick, gave-up nine hits and seven runs, to see his fine .059 ERA take a healthy setback.

Petite walked six, struck out two, while contributing a double and a single in four trips to the plate, to raise his team batting lead to .429.

Bengals Crush Bellboys

by Marc Feldman

The big inning did it again. For the third time this season, an opposing team broke open a tight game with a sudden and fatal uprising. The offender last Saturday was Bloomfield who broke up a pitching duel between Lou Fulco and Belleville's Fireball Haines with a big eight run sixth inning and went on the defeat the Bellboys, 10-3, at the Stadium. Despite a steady drizzle, a large crowd turned out, including scouts from at least four major league teams, the Senators, White Sox, Reds, and Orioles.

it out for Petite in the last inning, coming up with four big runs on a three-run homer by hot-hitting Charlie Ziegler, a 380 foot blast which nearly hit the Junior Varsity diamond on a fly. Ziegler also had a triple for the day.

West Orange built up a big early advantage, picking up six runs by the top of the third. From there on in it was Belleville's game.

In the fifth, the Bellboys came up with two runs, but the score went to 7-2 as the Cowboys bounced back with what proved to be the fatal run in the top of the sixth.

In the last of the seventh, the squad fell short and saw its record dip to 9-9.

Joe Papasidero, who is being tabbed as one of the best shortstops in the State, collected a triple in three trips to see his average fall slightly to .382.

Sophomore Gary Falkman went hitless in four at bats and saw his average fall below the .300 mark for the first time all season.

Junior Jim Miele had his most productive game this season, coming up with two singles and two runs scored.

Coach Travers finds himself with an unusual ball club. The squad has some of the finest young batsmen in the County, and can definitely be one of the top teams around next year.

Champion Amvets Take Second Win

The Amvets, last year's Little League champions, have jumped off to a quick start this year in their quest to produce back-to-back titles.

Paced by the slugging of Anthony Biafore, who has two home runs in two games, Mike Marotti's Amvets have registered two straight victories without a defeat in the National League standings.

Four teams are tied behind the Amvets with one victory and a loss each. Locked in second are the F.M.B.A., the Knights of Columbus, the Lions Club and the P.B.A. Jolly Cleaners is in the cellar with two losses and no victories.

The American League is also a tight race thus far, with the Colony Club and Wallace & Tiernan tied at the top with 2-0 records. Wallace & Tiernan has shut out its two opponents behind the tight pitching of McEvoy and Mallack, while Colony has roared behind the batting of such sluggers as Loma.

Trailing the American League leaders are the Elks and the Varsity Club, both with 1-1 records. Food Fair and the Rotary Club both are looking for their first victories with two defeats on their record.

The National shapes up like this (as of last Friday):

	Won	Lost
Amvets	2	0
FMBA	1	1
K of C	1	1
Lions	1	1
PBA	1	1
Jolly	0	2

Squitieri Sets Record But Trackmen Fall

by John McCarthy

Belleville High School's track team lost two more dual meets despite the breaking of a school record by Co-captain Vic Squitieri, and a junior class record by Mike Albertine. The trackmen were beaten by West Orange 71½-45½ and by Irvington 76-41.

Against West Orange in the 140 yard low hurdles, Squitieri broke the record of 16.2 seconds that he had tied last year. The original mark was set by Steve Ferrugelli in 1967 and tied in '69 by Squitieri.

Junior shot put sensation Mike Albertine also broke his own record. Against East Side last week Albertine set the junior class record of 48'5", and before the record sat for a week, Albertine threw 48'5½" against Irvington, to wipe it out.

The West Orange meet started off with Don Kowalski taking third in the High Hurdles with a time of 18.2 seconds. He was the only Bellboy to score and WO was off to an 8-1 lead.

In the hundred yard dash, Squitieri was first with 10.3, but also was the only Bellboy to score, and WO moved out to a 12-6 lead. The lead stretched to 18-9 as Lou Dalcero was the long Belleville scorer in the mile. Lou ran the race in 5:06.

The first and only track event where two Bellboys scored was the 440 yard dash. Mark Bradley was first with 54.3 seconds and Rich Record moved into scoring position at 59.9 seconds.

Squitieri's school record came in the lows, but he again was in a solo flight as WO took second and third.

Don Black kept West

Orange from getting its first sweep as he managed to tie for third place and produce a half point.

In the 220, Bradley was first by three-tenths of a second as he turned in a time of 24.3 seconds. He again was the only Belleville runner to score, as was Bob Silver in the two mile. Silver turned in one of his fastest time for the two, 11:58.6.

Albertine was first in the shot put with a heave of 46'8". Ralph Salierno was right behind in second place with a put of 43'3".

Squitieri's third first place came in the discus, where his throw of 126'6" was seven feet ahead of his nearest competitor.

The pole vault was the only field event where Belleville took two places. Dave Pepe was second with 9'0", and Jerry Price was third with 7'6".

West Orange swept the high jump, and Kowalski was tied for second in the long jump with a leap of 16'4½".

Belleville's lack of depth was evident against West Orange and Irvington. Irvington swept three events and kept Belleville to only one place in four others, while taking first in ten of the 13 events.

Kowalski and Tony Portusse took second and third for Belleville in the high jump with 19.0 and 19.3 seconds.

Squitieri and Ricky Caruso were first and third in the hundred yard dash. Squitieri turned in a time of 10.8 and Caruso 11.3.

Lou Dalcero was third in the mile to be Belleville's only placer with a time of 5:04.2. Bradley also was the sole Bellboy in the 440.

Bradley was second with 54.4. He had another solo performance in the 220, coming in second with 24.8.

In the low hurdles, Squitieri and Kowalski combined for first and third at 16.7 and 18.1 seconds respectively.

Bradley, Caruso and Kowalski combined their efforts for the only Bellboy sweep, in the long jump. Bradley was first with 16'8", Caruso second with 16'5", and Kowalski third with 16'3".

Albertine's record in the shot placed him second with Ralph Salierno third with 46'5".

Squitieri was third in the discus with a throw of 119'.

Pepe and Price again took second and third in the pole vault with their highest vaults, 9'0" and 7'6".

THE TROPHY — Gerry Bonavita displays Goodwill Regatta Trophy which will be given for the first time this year to winner of crew race between Belleville, Kearny and Nutley at the annual All-Sports dinner June 5 at Biase's Restaurant. Bonavita is serving as chairman of the affair for its sponsor the Belleville Varsity Club.

Suffer First Loss Saturday

Oarsmen Will Enter Nationals Tomorrow; Look To Regatta

Belleville's varsity oarsmen fell to their first defeat last Saturday, but aren't anticipating any letdown, as they prepare for tomorrow's qualifying heats in the National Schoolboy Championships at Princeton.

The squad last Saturday fell to Arlington of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. to see their season mark fall to 7-1. It was the first loss for the Bellboys since Mid-April of last season, when the same squad from New York handed them a defeat.

Despite the prestige riding on the National competition, the Bellboys are nevertheless thinking strongly about a meet the following week, something they don't normally do.

Coming up on Saturday, May 30, is the second annual Goodwill Regatta Cup, a friendly rivalry between Nutley, Belleville and Kearny, all of whom share the same boathouse on the Passaic River.

Coach Michael Lally says most of the boys are more excited about the Regatta than they are about the national competition.

The reason for this, Lally says, is that the team "is entered with kids two years older than they are in the senior division, and don't have that good of a chance to place in the finals."

Nevertheless, the squad intends on giving it the kind of performance they've become known for all season, and should fare well in the competition.

Teams from as far away as Berkeley, Calif., Winter Park, Fla., Indiana, and Ontario, Canada have entered the tournament this year.

"When any crew comes distances like that, you'd better know they have a fine squad," Lally says.

What bothers the seven year varsity coach is the competition ruling which sets certain age limits for a junior and senior division entry.

To enter a junior division boat, each youngster in the shell must be 17½ or younger. A senior boat's members has oarsmen under 19½ years of age.

Last year the Bellboys had a predominately young shell and entered the junior division with a little shifting of personnel. They missed qualifying by four tenths of a second.

This time coach Lally has four juniors and four seniors, and feels shifting around men from the JV boat will not be beneficial, especially since the boys have rowed together as a unit all season.

Lally says that in many instances, his boys will face shells where they will have to give away up to two years in age.

Oddly enough, Lally feels his JV shell has more of a chance in qualifying. That team, coached by Sam Giuffrida, sports a powerful 8-1 mark.

"If we could enter our varsity shell in the junior competition like Nutley is, I feel we could probably make the finals and even take the whole thing."

Last Saturday's loss doesn't seem to have

Powerful Frosh Dump Bloomfield; Face Nutley HS

While the varsity was losing to Bloomfield the Belleville Frosh continued to pile up wins by shutting out the Bengal frosh 3-0.

Rich Centenni pitched the first four and two thirds perfectly, but the fifteenth Bloomfield batter reached first on a throwing error by shortstop Allan Frank. The Bloomfield base runner was one of only four who reached first. Centenni showed great control for most of the game allowing only one hit, one walk, and picked up seven strike outs in seven innings.

The frosh scored their first two runs in the third inning as Mark Cervasio lead off with a walk. Joe Ross then reached first on an error. Rich Giordano then sent both runners home on a triple to deep center field. Giordano is presently hitting .462 and is consistently producing in clutch situations.

In the fifth inning, frosh second baseman Mark Cervasio's hustling on the basepaths and an error by the Bengal third baseman gave Belleville the final run.

Cervasio singled to left field and Joe Ross followed with a sacrifice. The throw to first was slow, and Cervasio raced towards third. The Bloomfield first baseman then threw across the diamond, but the third baseman booted the ball into left field and Cervasio scored the final run.

Today the frosh face Nutley at the Stadium in a makeup game. In the last meeting of the two clubs, the Belleville frosh won 8-3 with Alan Frank picking up 12 strikeouts in seven innings.

Tomorrow the frosh face Kearny for the first time. The two will meet again Wednesday at the Stadium as the Bellboys finish their season.

COMING HOME — A winded Joe Papasidero comes roaring around third base after clouting a home run that sailed over 350 feet into centerfield. Gary Falkman also hit solo blast, but squad fell to Bloomfield, 10-3.

Papasidero-Falkman Homer But Team Falls

(Continued from Page 11) Belleville. He gave Belleville an unearned run in the first but settled down to strike out nine in the first five innings, and a total of ten in the game.

If you intend to buy an air conditioner this year, we would like to give you some advice what to look for.

It always surprises us how many people take it upon themselves to determine the size of the unit. Manufacturer's specifications are so vague, that for all practical purposes they are useless. They tell you that a certain unit will cool so many square feet, and there is a tiny asterisk after this statement and somewhere hidden this is qualified by saying "under favorable conditions" or something to this effect. These favorable conditions never exist and the claims listed for the size of the room respectively square feet as a rule are vastly exaggerated. For instance, a 200 square foot room on the north side may require 6000 BTU of cooling while the same size room upstairs or in a converted attic may need 16,000 BTU.

Another frequent misstatement is "just plug into any existing outlet, no need for rewiring". The average 15 amp. circuit may take an air conditioner which does not consume more than 7 1/2 amp.

However, if a refrigerator happens to be on the same line, there will be trouble. Needless to say the same goes if there is a broiler, dishwasher or other heavy current consuming device on the same line.

All of this has to be carefully checked out. We would strongly advise you to have a survey made by a competent person to determine the size of the unit required, where to install the unit and whether the electrical supply is sufficient.

We offer this survey, free of obligation, and free of charge. As a matter of fact, we would not sell an air conditioner unless we make a survey. However, we guarantee the proper functioning, and how could we do this if we would not make a survey. Please call us for such a survey. We repeat, there is no obligation and no charge.

Nationals Tomorrow

Bellboy Crew Anticipating Regatta With Nutley-Kearny

(Continued on Page 12) dampened the spirits of the squad, according to Lally, who says simply: "We met a team stronger than us."

The coach went on to say that "these kids are a tough bunch and I expect them to rebound with a top performance."

Under rainy, dreary skies, the Bellboys were challenged successfully last Saturday on the Passaic River by Arlington. The New York team beat the Bellboys handily by a seven second advantage. Winning time for Arlington was 5:48.

The meet was actually nip and tuck until the final quarter mile, when the Arlington squad "just overpowered us."

Arlington took about a two foot lead, and held it from the start to the three quarter pole. It was the first time all season the Bellboy oarsmen were behind in a race, and this may have affected them.

Coach Lally says that he thinks his boys might have tried to raise their strokes-per-minute beat to keep up with the powerful New York crew, and were tired in the final quarter.

The Arlington squad is a top notch team, Lally says. The New Yorkers placed third in the Poughkeepsie Regatta recently, and were only four seconds behind powerful Roosevelt High, a team the Bellboys might meet in the national competition tomorrow.

The Junior Varsity and Freshmen shells reversed the scores on Arlington, both pulling off victories.

The JV's shellacked the New York shell, hitting a time of 6:06 to 6:16 for the visitors. It actually was a close race until the last quarter, when the Bellboys opened up and pulled handily away.

The Regatta on May 30 will mark the highlight of the season for the squad, with the winning school capturing the first Regatta trophy to be awarded. Presentation of the 40 inch high trophy will be made to the winning school at the Belleville Varsity Club's annual All-Sports dinner June 5 at Biase's restaurant in Newark.

In order to capture the trophy, a school must manage a victory in total points, which places equivalent weight on races in all three divisions. Three points will be given for first and two for second place in each race.

The Bellboys rate as the favorite in the varsity competition, having beat Nutley by six seconds and Kearny by 12 earlier in the year.

The JV shell split with Nutley for its only loss of the year, and easily defeated Kearny. The Bellboy boat again will rank as the favorite in this race.

Belleville's freshmen have about a five hundred per cent won-lost record, having split with Kearny and defeated Nutley in their only meeting this year.

Lanes might determine just who is the winner, Lally says, in a guarded prediction. Tide the coach says, will place different stresses on the lanes.

Post To Install Officers Slate

Younger-Alden Jr. Post 275 Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary will conduct a joint installation of officers on Saturday, May 23, at 8 p.m. at the Post Home, 17 Belleville Ave. Michael Resciniti, past commander, will be installing officer for the Post.

Frank DeMaio, who has been active from the very beginning of his introduction to the organization, will again be installed as commander. He served overseas with the 867th Chemical Company attached to the Eight and Ninth Air Force in England, France and Germany during World War II. He served as chairman on several committees including entertainment and the Buddy Poppy Sales.

Other officers to be installed with him are senior vice-commander William Conroy; junior vice-commander Neil Stefanelli; adjutant James H. Leary; Chaplain Anthony Monte and Michael Resciniti, Quartermaster.

District and county officers of the V.F.W. and town and county officials have accepted invitations to attend. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the installation.

Too Late To Seed Permanent Lawn

Your chances of success in establishing a permanent-type lawn seeded this late in the spring are very slim, advises John J. Kupcho, County Agricultural Agent of Essex County. You can improve your chances of success with a late summer or early fall-seeded lawn.

A lawn seeded as late as the first week of May faces a real struggle for survival. The new tender grass seedlings must contend with hot, dry weather and also some tough weed problems, particularly crabgrass.

A lawn seeded in late August or early September will be favored with the more moist and cooler growing conditions. You will provide the new grass seedlings with more of an opportunity to become better established.

You won't have to go through the summer with bare soil around your home if you seed a temporary lawn now.

Annual or common perennial ryegrass seed is fast germinating and rather economical, too. It will give you an attractive temporary lawn in about four weeks.

Seed ryegrass at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds to 1,000 square feet. Before you seed, spread 75 to 100 pounds of ground limestone and 40 to

Guidance Agency Receives Grants From Government

The North Essex Child Guidance Clinic has received two special grants from the Bureau of Community Mental Health Services of New Jersey's Department of Institutions and Agencies. Both grants permit the agency to increase its services to clients from the four towns of its service area, Bloomfield, Belleville, Nutley and Glen Ridge.

The clinic's extended care program was originated by Clinic Director Ruth O. Cowell, MSW, and has been funded for the second year. The program offers play therapy to child patients conducted by carefully selected student interns. Students from six New Jersey colleges were awarded internships in the program.

Dr. Anneliese Pontius, child psychiatrist and clinical instructor, New York University Medical School, instructed the interns and supervised their work. During its initial year 689 hours of service to 25 patients were contributed by the program. Fifteen student interns participated. All are preparing for careers in the service professions of psychology, social work or student guidance.

The second special grant permits the clinic to implement a pilot program in behavior modification. Parents are trained, in group sessions and individual consultations, to improve their children's problem behavior by using psychological principles of learning under the supervision of clinic staff.

The program also provides for school-clinic workshops in behavior modification, to be held later in the spring and in early fall. The workshops will focus on practical problems of behavior management in the classroom setting, and methods for solving actual problems will be tried and evaluated cooperatively by school and clinic staff.

50 pounds of a 5-10-5 or similar fertilizer to 1,000 square feet.

After the ryegrass lawn has become established, do not mow closer than 1½ inches.

Don't become so satisfied with your ryegrass lawn that you forget to seed your permanent lawn. A ryegrass lawn will decline rapidly after the first year or two. Dig it into the soil in August as part of your preparation for the permanent lawn.

A better choice at this time of the year, if you want to establish a lawn, is to sod it.

HELP FOR PARKINSONS WITH L-DOPA

For a long time there was little that could be done to help people suffering with Parkinson's Disease. Stemming from a chronic disorder of the central nervous system, its symptoms are a shaking palsy, slowness of movement, weakness and stiffening of the muscles.

Now a drug with the funny sounding name of L-DOPA appears to be helping people with Parkinson's to improve greatly. Although still being tested, it has been recommended that the drug be released for use by physicians and it should be available around the middle of this year. Your doctor knows about this.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Eggs Plentiful And Good Buy

Eggs are in plentiful supply right now and you should find them a good buy. To beat the high cost of meats, substitute with an egg dish. Eggs are a very good source of protein.

If you are thinking of calories, think eggs again. In a 2 egg serving there are only 154 calories. If you need to gain weight, add eggs to milk drinks for an extra boost.

Some consumers wonder if the shell color affects the egg. The egg shell color is determined by the breed of the hen. It has no effect on the egg itself. If two hens have been fed the same food, their eggs will be equal to each other nutritionally and only differ in shell color.

Have you ever noticed a green or gray color to the outside of the egg yolk on a hard cooked egg? Usually this coloring comes from cooking the egg at too high a temperature or for too long a time. The color itself comes from sulphur and iron compounds in the egg. It does not affect the wholesomeness or flavor of the egg in any way.

The United States Department of Agriculture grades eggs for quality. United States Department of Agriculture grade AA or A are the best you can buy. They have a high standing yolk and white and are ideal for frying and poaching. In USDA grade B eggs, the white spreads more. These eggs are better for cooking or baking. All grades are completely wholesome and safe to eat.

EGG POTATO PIE
2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of ground pepper
6 medium potatoes, cooked and mashed
5 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup grated sharp cheese
Melt fat, add flour, blend well and cook over low heat until bubbly. Add cold milk all at once and cook stirring constantly until thickened. Add salt and pepper. Line bottom and sides of a greased 8 or 9-inch pie plate or shallow casserole with half the well seasoned mashed potatoes. Arrange the sliced eggs in potato shell. Top with parsley, cheese, sauce, salt and pepper. Cover with remaining mashed potatoes. Brush top with milk. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until nicely browned and thoroughly heated, about 30 minutes. If desired, garnish top with slices of hard-cooked egg. 5 servings.

EGGHEAD MOUSSE
2 cups milk
4 egg yolks, beaten
4 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg whites
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
Combine milk, beaten yolks, sugar and salt in saucepan. Cook over low heat until custard coats a spoon and is slightly thickened. Remove from heat immediately; add vanilla and cool. Pour into parfait glasses. Beat egg white until foamy, gradually add confectioners' sugar, a tablespoonful at a time. Beat until stiff, but not dry. Spoon over each custard. Chill thoroughly before serving. Makes 4 servings.

MUSHROOM-CHEESE OMELET
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 pound process American Cheese, diced
1/4 cup milk
4 eggs, separated

IN APPRECIATION — Archie C. Barbata, trustee of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, is shown presenting a gift to Miss Marie D'Alessandro, Director of Volunteers for her outstanding contribution to the volunteer field at the Annual Board of Trustee Ladies' Night dinner held recently at the Manor in West Orange.

1/8 teaspoon ground pepper
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 lb. mushrooms sliced
2 tablespoons butter
Heat 1 tablespoon butter in covered 10-inch skillet over moderate heat. Heat cheese and milk over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Add pepper to yolks and beat until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add cheese sauce to yolks, stirring constantly. Add salt to whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Fold yolk mixture into whites, gently but thoroughly. Pour omelet mixture into hot skillet, level surface gently and cover. Cook over low heat until surface is dry (touch lightly with finger tip) and knife inserted in center comes out clean, 20 minutes. Meanwhile cook sliced mushrooms in 2 tablespoons butter about 5 minutes and spoon over half the omelet. Fold omelet to serve. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Don't Turn Your Back To Traffic Warns AAA
R. J. Vialle, general manager of the New Jersey Automobile Club, AAA urged pedestrians to walk on the left facing traffic if they must walk where there are no sidewalks or pathways. "In both rural and urban areas, sidewalks are often inadequate or otherwise not provided, thus causing pedestrians to walk on narrow shoulders or on the roadway itself," said the Club Official.

Nursery School Completes Year

The Wise Owl Nursery School located at 617 Washington Avenue is about to complete its most successful first year.

The school's faculty; Carole Casale, Constance Rossi, and Claire Klem are all former elementary school teachers. Although together they have accumulated 12 years of experience in the elementary grades of public school, they all agree that the most rewarding and fun year of teaching has been the past one at Wise Owl. They attribute this fact to the great little children and cooperative parents they have met and worked with in their nursery school venture.

Wise Owl Nursery School is one of the few schools in this area with such a qualified staff. Experienced teachers are the most necessary part of a successful school. Wise Owl's faculty has this to offer.

Limited placement is available for the fall semester beginning in mid September. Register now so your child may be part of a successful learning experience. For information call the school at 759-1211 or in the evening at 751-0604, or 667-3538.

Accidents are always sudden, and most frequently occur when least anticipated; and when the person who suffers the injury is entirely off his guard, and the mind incapable of self-reflection, or unable to discover what to do or what to advise. As the individual injured is seldom ever able to assist himself, there are certain properties which those who act the part of the Good Samaritan on such occasions should always be prepared to exercise, and without which the services rendered, however well-intentioned, may become more hurtful than beneficial; these are energy, coolness, and decision. CARD OF THANKS

PICENO—I would like to thank the First Aid Sqd. for their assistance, quick arrival and service on April 24th 1970 at 4:00 P.M. when they rushed my husband to the hospital. I also want to thank three other kind people for all their help. Unfortunately my husband passed away the next morning in spite of all the aid. I shall always remember the great service performed by the First Aid Sqd. Sincerely,

Lists Special Events At Garden Arts Center

The Garden State Arts Center today unfolded its full calendar of performances for the 1970 summer season with the announcement of 26 special events in addition to the previously posted subscription series.

The headliners to perform one or more times in the non-subscription special events include Bobby Sherman; Debbie Reynolds; Sergio Mendes & Brasil '66 and Lainie Kazan; Jose Feliciano; Peter, Paul and Mary; Janis Joplin and Sea Train; The Band; Rod McKuen; Johnny Green conducting the New Jersey Symphony in a Rodgers & Hammerstein music concert; Les Ballets Africains; Judy Collins and Arlo Guthrie; James Taylor; and the Moiseyev Dance Company.

The special events also include a four-day Country Music Festival from Wednesday through Saturday June 17-20 whose leading attractions each night will be announced shortly.

The third season of the Arts Center at Telegraph Hill Park on the Garden State Parkway (Exit 116) starts Wednesday night, June 10, with a classical subscription performance by the opera world's Marilyn Horne and the New Jersey Symphony under music director Henry Lewis. The same program is to be repeated on the following Saturday night for a second classical subscription series.

Single-performance tickets for every program, including many available seats from the 54 popular and classical subscription events, will now go on sale to the general public.

The Arts Center's summer season ends September 12 with both a 2:30 p.m. matinee and 9 p.m. performance by Russia's famed folk ballet Moiseyev company, whose Tuesday and Wednesday evening programs in that same Labor Day week are on the two classical subscription series. Including a matinee on Wednesday as well as Saturday, the Moiseyev will present seven shows Tuesday through Saturday.

The subscription events announced early in March with more than 13,000 season seat orders sold since then offers such other programs and stars as the following:

Tom Jones, Pearl Bailey and Cab Calloway in the musical comedy "Hello, Dolly!"; Petula Clark, Dionne Warwick, Robert Goulet and Carol Lawrence, Tony Bennett with Count Basie, and Sammy Davis, Jr. - all in six popular series; and the New York Philharmonic, Andre Kostelanetz conducting, pianists Lorin Hollander and Vladimir Ashkenazy, and Jose Greco among the classical.

Among supporting stars scheduled to appear in the subscription series are Gladys Knight & The Pips and comedian Norm Crosby with Tom Jones; comedian-mimic David Frye with Dionne Warwick; Buddy Rich and orchestra with Petula Clark; Nana Lorca's Flamenco Dance Theatre with Jose Greco and his dancers; and singers Veronica Tyler and William Warfield and pianist Earl Wild with the New Jersey Symphony in two George Gershwin music concerts.

Besides reserved tickets for the 5,058 seats under the roof of the Arts Center amphitheater, some 3,000 spaces on the sloping lawn surrounding it will be available for each performance. Ample free parking is provided in Telegraph Hill Park for Arts Center guests.

The total of 80 performances scheduled this summer compares with the 69 last year and 59 paid-admission events in the first season of 1968, which opened with a gala invitational premiere that June 12th.

The chronological schedule of non-subscription special events at the Garden State Arts Center this summer follows:

Johnny Cash Again At Allentown Fair

Johnny Cash - the man now called a "living legend" - will appear at the 1970 Great Allentown Fair.

It is the first time in the fair's history for a performer to return a second year in a row.

"We've had many stars return for shows at the fair," said Edward G. Leidig, fair president and general manager, but this is the first time anyone is returning this quickly.

"We've received so many letters asking us to get Cash back that we had to do something. Not too many performers want to play a return engagement at the same place so soon. But when we showed the Cash people the number of requests, they agreed."

The Johnny Cash show, featuring June Carter, the Carter Family, Carl Perkins, the Statler Brothers Quartet and the Tennessee Three, will be on stage August 14 and 15 with shows at 6 and 9:30 each night.

Other members of the St. John's cast included Michael Polo, Arthur Kilduff and Matthew Clark.
