Commission Drops Appeal In Trenton Of Restored Cash

The Town Commission says it will discontinue appeal proceedings in Trenton in which it was contesting a $128,000 restoration to the Belleville School Board's budget last year by Carl Marburger, state education director.

In making the announcement, Mayor Ken

Smith said unfavorable results recently of similar appeals, plus a desire to increase harmony between the town boards was the primary stimulus for the action.

Board President Rocco Saletta, meanwhile, indicated the money has been listed as an anticipated revenue source in this year's school budget, and would be used to pay for services and materials already contracted. He also said that it would aid in hiring additional teachers next year. He felt it was impossible to tell at this time whether any surplus funds would incur.

The $128,000 will not affect the town's overall 1970 budget, Smith said, because anticipated funds have already been appropriated in this year's financial bill.

The budget controversy began in February of 1969, when voters twice rejected the School Board's proposed budget. Commissioners then, in accordance with law, sliced $205,777 from the document and returned it to the Board of Education.

School officials were not happy with the cuts, and initiated an appeal to Marburger in April. Two subsequent hearings were held, but a decision was delayed until last November, when the State Commissioner returned the $128,000 to the local Board.

Commissioners promptly hired special counsel to appeal the decision, as several bitter comments between the two boards being aired in the press.

Numerous similar appeals before Marburger had delayed a final hearing on the matter, and as the Mayor's announcement came this week, special counsel Sam Christiano of West Orange was making final preparations for pleading the case.

The commission's line of attack was probably going to center on two contentions, according to Christiano; that the restoration was which during the 1940's and 1950's enjoyed county-wide prominence under Herman Wische, but has the past few years slipped out of contention in the Big Ten conference. The last three campaigns for the Bellboys have seen losing seasons.

The new coach, who will teach mathematics in the high school, says he already has some plans to bring back this town's reputation for basketball prowess.

Basically he hopes to see some of basketball "feeder" program started in the lower grades, if that can be arranged with school officials. This would include, he speculated, clinics and leagues on Saturdays.

Right now the coach is busy trying to familiarize himself with the basketball atmosphere in town and is teaching morning sessions in South Plainfield High School.

Belleville's varsity fell to 3-16 seasons in 1967 and 1968 under Paul Szem, who caught everybody by surprise this past season when he resigned his coaching spot

New Coach Set For Basketball

The Belleville Board of Education has chosen a young Newark State College graduate noted for his defensive ability to revitalize the Belleville High School basketball reputation.

Robert Palma, 24, was named last week by the local school board to take on the task of introducing winning basketball back to the high school gymnasium.

Palma will inherit a team

Diabetes Tests Set Wednesday

A free sugar diabetes test is scheduled this Wednesday at the Belleville Junior High School between seven and 9 p.m.

The program is being coordinated by the Department of Health under the director, Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo. Doctor Leslie Miller will be the attending physician, along with the Health Department's public nursing staff.

Lawrence Schwartz

Local Attorney Named To Fill Board Vacancy

Lawrence Schwartz, a Belleville attorney, will be sworn in Monday night to fill Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero's spot on the Belleville Board of Education.

The announcement this week came from Board president Rocco Saletta, who said Schwartz will serve the remainder of Dr. Di Ruggiero's term, which expires next February.

The doctor, who was in a record fifth straight term with the Board, died suddenly last week.

In his announcement, Saletta said that Schwartz's selection came "after long deliberation with the Board." Saletta added that "the board was not in a hurry to fill Dr. Di Ruggiero's position but that the current work load facing members is too great to leave the spot vacant."

3 Votes Expected Monday

Three important votes are scheduled at this Monday's Commission meeting.

A twice tabled tally on the purchase of a $42,000 property for Library expansion is expected, as well as a public hearing on a $50,000 bonding ordinance to buy land owned by Erie-Lackawana Railroad for use by the Public Works Department.

A controversial garden apartment variance may also be on schedule if commissioners complete study this week of a long, related transcript.

For Municipal Site

Courtroom Battle Seen Over Jergen's Property

The Town of Belleville and the Andrew Jergens Company appear headed toward a courtroom confrontation which will decide whether a large municipal complex can be constructed on land adjacent to the Jergens plant on Franklin Avenue.

Town commissioners are presently considering building a diversified municipal complex on two tracts of land which Jergens has expressed a desire to keep vacant as a "buffer zone."

Last month the town fathers said they will appoint a nine-man committee to "consider the feasibility of the construction of offices, housing and municipal facilities on Franklin Avenue in the vicinity of Mill Street."

The land under consideration was donated by Jergens to the town in 1966 under terms of a restrictive deed which stipulated that it was to be used solely for municipal purposes.

In 1968 the commissioners made an unsuccessful attempt to build a complex which would have included a police and fire station, a health and recreation center and four 26-story high rise buildings. Jergens vetoed the construction because it felt the town's proposed usage of the land would destroy the buffer zone.

In February of 1969 Town Attorney Nicholas R. Amato wrote Jergens informing them that the town intended to acquire a second tract of land owned by the company having a 650 foot frontage on Franklin Avenue which is located between the Jergens plant driveway and property owned by Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Amato had indicated at this time that if a price could not be negotiated for that nine

Strumolo Pleased With Local Vote

A jubilant commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo is beginning to rally supporters today in his quest for the Essex County Clerk's spot.

Tuesday Strumolo easily out-distanced his Intile adversary, Ralph DeVino by better than a 3-1 vote. The commissioner polled 1,107 local votes to top all Republican vote getters in the primary with the exception of incumbent Sheriff Ralph D'Ambola, who tallied 28 more votes.

Strumolo's victory was in line with the Organization Republicans 4-1 margin over the dissident Intile forces throughout the county.

"I'm quite happy about the result," Strumolo told the Times. "The people have voted for the Republican team with the most experience in government and the one whose integrity they can count upon."

The popular Belleville Commissioner called the Primary "a practice run" and indicated that even more work lies ahead for himself and the Republican team which Strumolo has allied himself with.

Strumolo's running mates rolled up similar 3-1 margins over their opposition. Republican Organization Freeholder candidate, Carl A. Orechio of Nutley, registered 1,033, while his incumbent running mate Alan Augenblick and William H. Clark captured 982 and 979 votes respectively. The Intile opposition vote was John Kinder with 315, Louis Cerefic with 326 and John Fitzgerald at 304.

D'Ambola's vote easily defeated Intile challenger John Monica, who registered 329 tallies in Belleville.

Democratic Congressman Peter Rodino topped all vote getters on the Belleville ballot with 1,429 tallies running unopposed. His Republican opposition in November, Griffith Jones showed some strong local vote getting appeal, getting 1,014 tallies unopposed.

In the Senatorial race, Republican Nelson Gross completely outdistanced challengers Joseph Gavin and James Quaremba in Belleville. Gross' tally was 962, while Gavin had 51 and Quaremba 148.

Belleville Resident Ordained

A Belleville resident is awaiting assignment to a church parish after being ordained last week to the priesthood.

Rev. Charles Christell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Christell was ordained in Newark's Sacred Heart Cathedral last Tuesday by Archbishop Thomas Boland.

The new priest expects to be assigned by mid-June to his first parish.

School Board Moves To Meet Overcrowding

The Belleville Board of Education has contracted a Rutgers research team for next fall to undertake a complete study of this town's school system in a move designed to meet a mounting overcrowding crisis.

The Board is also considering formation of an ad hoc committee of residents, teachers and school administrators to contribute local expertise toward an eventual master plan for education in Belleville.

Heading the Rutgers research teams is Donald Walling, Ph. D., who led a similar study in 1959 which eventually produced the $6 million senior high school.

Walling's study will include an analysis of birth rates in town, the affect of new apartment growth on schools; analysis of dropout rates, enrollment forecasts over the next ten years, plus a study of health and safety standards in the schools and recommendations for possible future building expansion. Also included in the $5,000 package deal is a study of this town's proposed new zoning ordinance and map, which would include a complete land-use survey.

The town's present school enrollment is 5,700, which includes a 172 pupil increase over last year. Next year's anticipated increase has been listed by school officials at about 350 students.

Most schools in this town are unable to handle the added increase of students, and will require some sort of physical alteration or addition. Probable short term remedy for much of the overcrowding will be utilization of rooms not previously used as classes, such as is the case with School Eight, where two basement rooms will be classrooms.

Local school officials say transfer students from the town's two parochial schools and from Essex Catholic in Newark have contributed greatly to the problem.

Many board members also have said they feel the growth of new garden apartment's in town is leading toward the imminent overcrowding crisis, and have actively opposed new construction.

The most serious problem exists in the high school, which was built to hold 1,000 students but now has 1,157. The junior high school is not much better off, and one possible short term solution mentioned by Board officials is an addition to the high school and the transfer of the ninth grade to the high school. Also possible is the use of the upper floor of near by School Seven for use by the high school.

Youths To Decide What Recreation Students Want

A spirited Belleville High School student who went to the Town Commission docket last week to plead for increased recreational facilities for youth, is beginning to get some results.

This week, largely due to the efforts of Annette Guardabascio of 29 Princeton Terrace, Mayor Ken Smith announced that a youth council is being formed to appraise town leaders of what the younger generation's recreational needs are.

The council, which will be chaired by Miss Guardabascio, will work closely with the Mayor and Director of Parks and Public Property William Cullen.

Last week Miss Guardabascio took the docket during a public hearing on a proposed new swimming pool facility and presented a petition with over 500 student names asking for "a place to go." Sought by the petitioners, Miss Guardabascio said, was increased recreational functions and facilities.

This week Mayor Smith and Commissioner Cullen acted. They invited the student leader to meet with them to discuss a youth council.

The Mayor, who was enthusiastic about the idea, complimented Miss Guardabascio as a "girl with sound ideas who is not afraid to speak her mind."

Basically, the council will make a two pronged attack into youth's recreational needs, according to Miss Guardabascio. First thrust will be to investigate sites available in town, such as

Former Town Mayor Retires From Company

Nuncio R. Pico, former Mayor of Belleville, has retired after 33 years with Western Electric Company, a manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. He was a department chief in charge of central office planning at the company's Northeastern Regional Headquarters in Newark.

Pico joined the firm as an equipment engineer at the company's Kearny works. He attended several company management training programs and served in a number of positions of increasing responsibility until reaching his present assignment in 1968.

A lifelong resident of Belleville, he served this community as director of Public Affairs from 1958-1962, and was Mayor from 1960-1968.

Negotiations Crucial

New Municipal Complex May End Up In Court

acre tract, condemnation proceedings would be instituted.

Amato this week revealed he is skeptical that a negotiated price can be reached between the two parties.

"I have not closed the door," Amato told the Times, "but with the position taken by Jergens, I don't think there is much alternative but that it will end up in litigation."

A statement issued by Smith, Kramer and Morrison of 810 Broad Street, Newark, a law firm representing the company, said that the town officials two years ago explored the possibility of using the land for housing to defray the cost of erecting a new municipal building.

Reached for comment on the condemnation possibility, a spokesman for the law firm said he didn't want to go "beyond the statement issued to the press," and that "we are not in a position to comment on condemnation proceedings at this time."

The spokesman added that Jergens was "always open to meet with the town officials."

To date, Jergens has donated 1 1/2 acres of land to the town of Belleville. About eight and a half acres were given in 1939 for flood control purposes and later were used for the Michael V. Marotti Little League Field near Montgomery Street. The other three acres were donated in 1966 when the town requested land for a new municipal administrative, police and fire headquarters building and accessory parking, according to the Jergens statement.

The Jergens statement went on to say that in July of 1968, "the company was contacted by town officials to explore the possibility of using those lands for housing to help defray the cost of erecting a municipal building. This housing project then developed into four 26 story apartment buildings to house 1000 families and the company was requested to revise original deed restrictions to accommodate this project."

"After careful consideration it was felt the existing deed restrictions should be retained since this proposal would adversely affect the buffer zone," the statement said.

The Mayor this week expressed anger with Jergens, charging they were trying to "maintain a country club atmosphere."

He also said he felt Jergens was "denying Belleville additional tax relief and had donated the lands to escape payment of taxes on them."

Smith said plans for construction at the Jergens site were only being considered as a possibility and indicated that no new Town Hall would be constructed there.

The Mayor said the commissioners were considering construction of a police and fire station, a board of health and a recreation center. He would not rule out the possibility of high rise offices or apartment building, but did say emphatically that no low rent housing would be constructed.

Coach Selected For Basketball

with just a month to go before opening day.

Unable to find a suitable replacement within the system, Athletic Director Herman Wische, who guided Belleville to some of its greatest moments in basketball during the 40's and 50's, decided to assume the duties for one year.

"Jitty," as Wische is affectionately called, fell victim to his first losing season ever, as the Bellboys proved too short on fundamental savvy and registered a 4-14 mark, finishing eighth in the Big Ten.

Lost from last year's squad are seven of 12 varsity players, including Belleville's all-time scoring champ, Vinnie Costantino.

The new coach was born in Newark and attended St. Columbia School in that city. While at Archbishop Walsh High School in Irvington, he played three years on the varsity basketball team.

At Newark State, Palma established his reputation as a fine defensive player, registering four years of varsity experience.

In 1966, he helped the Newark Staters capture the state conference championship. He was named best defensive player during his junior and senior seasons, and shared the team's most valuable player award his senior year in a poll of coaches and teammates.

He plans to reside in Vailsburg and has a wedding scheduled this August.

schools, where dances and other recreational functions could be held. Secondly, questionnaires will be circulated in the high school and amongst ninth graders asking them to cite activities they most prefer.

The council's attention will be focused on high school students, who have frequently maintained they haven't a place to go. The student leader says most of her classmates have to go to McDonalds to meet their friends and consequently run into the Belleville Police who try and keep the area clear.

Comprising the executive committee of the Council is Miss Guardabascio, who is next year's senior class president; Angelo Zoppi, who will be senior vice president; Mimi Ritacco, next year's secretary, and Rocco Ferrar, a 1969 BHS graduate.

says, "the decision was independent." Charles senior was a choir boy for 25 years with the St. Peters Church in Belleville.

Born March 20, 1944 in Newark, Father Christell attended St. Mary's School in Nutley, and later graduated from Essex Catholic High School at the top of his class in 1962.

The new priest recalls playing in the Belleville Little League and for St. Mary's baseball team. He was also an altar boy for St. Mary's, and a member of the National Honor Society at Essex Catholic.

Father Christell says he always had ideas about entering the priesthood, but didn't make up his mind until his second year at the Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington.

While at the seminary school, Rev. Christell was a member of the yearbook staff and wrote the booklet for ordination at the school.

This past year he has worked at Our Lady of the Valley in Orange.

At Our Lady of the Valley, Father Christell was in charge of the Folk Mass, running two every Sunday. He remembers with a smile that of the folk mass members, "the one who played the trumpet was Jewish and the flutist was a protestant." The new Belleville priest sang the songs for the mass.

Rev. Christell held his first Mass at St. Mary's last Sunday, during which time the preacher was the Rev. Francis Hennessy of St. Paul of the Cross, Jersey City. Deacon for the Mass was Rev. John Ford of Our Lady of the Valley, while subdeacon was William Hatcher of the seminary.

Dr. Frank DiRuggiero

Last week Belleville mourned the sudden death of one of its most dedicated leaders of our educational system, Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero. Throughout the years of his service as a member of the Board of Education, Dr. Di Ruggiero was the storm center of many controversies. He was never without a personal conviction. He always knew what he wanted and did everything within his power to obtain his goals.

When at times he was less than diplomatic, he was always direct in his approach. Abrasive through he may have been at times, Dr. Di Ruggiero was a warm, friendly, compassionate man.

There is no doubt that his dedication to our school system and work on behalf of our school children hastened his demise. But when the time comes to die, sad as the occasion is, it is comforting to know that death came to Dr. Di Ruggiero as he was engrossed in the noblest call of citizenship -- service to our children and future generations.

The Belleville Times joins the citizens of Belleville in mourning the loss of a man who sacrificed so much of his personal life for his community without asking for anything in return.

D-Day Anniversary This Saturday

Few alive on the 6th of June, 1944, will forget that day. But there are a growing number of Americans who were not, or who were too young to remember 1944-a shockingly large proportion of the population, in fact-if you're not a youngster and think of the day as not far into the past.

On this day General Dwight D. Eisenhower's British, Canadian and American troops appeared off the coast of France in hundreds of ships, and at dawn, began loading into small boats and heading toward the beaches. In some places the Germans had been so badly mauled from the air and by naval artillery they offered slight resistance. In others the fighting was savage.

But the troops, under the tactical leadership of General Bernard Montgomery, succeeded in establishing their beachheads and after over two months of hard fighting broke out and raced to the Rhine. That was the beginning of the end of Adolph Hitler and it was an epic feat of arms. On May 8th, the next year, Germany surrendered and thus D-Day, or the 6th of June, 1944, was the beginning of the end for tyranny in western Europe in this century.

Voting Age -- 19?

Last year voters in 20 of New Jersey's 21 counties decisively defeated a public referendum lowering the voting age to 18. The final count was 3-2 against.

There are four states that now allow citizens under 21 to vote. Georgia and Kentucky permit 18-year-olds to vote. In Alaska the voting age is 19 and the 50th state which sports the hula dance, Hawaii, says it is okay to vote at 20.

Now comes New Jersey. On the ballot this November appears another referendum asking the voter to express an opinion on lowering the voting age to 19.

We were in favor of lowering the voting age to 18 last year. We are in favor of this year's referendum which permits 19-year-olds to vote.

Some 19-year-olds that we have met have more common sense than many citizens who hold public office today. If there are dumb 19-year-olds there are also dumb 29-year-olds, and 39-year-olds, and 49-year-olds.

If there are intelligent 29-year-olds there are also among us brilliant 19-year-olds.

We favor granting the right to vote to 19-year-olds and we urge our readers to vote yes on the 19-year-old voting age.

Best Commencement Address

One of 1970's best commencement addresses was recently printed in a magazine advertisement. It follows, in part:

"As you commence your new life I wish to remind you of the things you carry into it from your past here. First, you owe your parents (or if you were on scholarship you owe society) about $15,000. As you begin earning money I hope you will repay your parents or society for the things they did without, to send you here.

"Second, you owe to your country the freedom which enabled you to come here and learn and prepare for...I hope...a full, happy life. If you want your children to have the privilege you must repay that debt...by military service, or a life of political service, or an earnest, honest citizenship devoted to preserving and improving this nation.

"Finally, you owe your years here to the profit system. People first built and now maintain this institution out of profits they have made in business or out of taxes they pay from business income. Most commencement addresses are about the glories awaiting you. Whatever these glories are you yourself will create them. And if you will repay those debts of yours I have listed, you will be building a character which will make your future very glorious indeed."

This is a theme, and philosophy, currently forgotten by those nervously appeasing militants or revolutionaries, who have been intimidated by juveniles or who want instant, idealistic Utopia today. The Warner & Swasey Company of Cleveland has served the public interest in offering the country's students this commencement message.

Myrna Lamb's Mod Donna: Pertinent Theater At Its Best

By Ronald James Hoffman

("Mod Donna," the women's lib rock musical attracting nation-wide attention at the New York Public Theater, was written by Myrna Lamb (Epstein) of Nutley. A special story on Myrna Lamb is being prepared for an upcoming edition.)

Mod Donna, billed as a "space-age musical soap," opened a little more than a month ago at the New York Public Theater on Lafayette Street. With soap and lyrics by Myrna Lamb of Nutley, and music by Susan Bingham -- under the direction of Joseph Papp -- the fact that the show is still running hopefully indicates there is a "commercial" audience for a theater of pertinence, controversy and intelligence -- for, with all of its shortcomings, Mod Donna is certainly all of these.

The pertinence and controversy stem from its avidly and, at times violently, pro-feminist theme. Whether Mod Donna will further the women's lib movement or not remains to be seen, but the Public Theater today serves as a valid platform for many of the feminist doctrines.

The structure of the play is simple. The "soap" is an attempt at flip, sophisticated, black comedy -- something like an unsuccessful - Mad Magazine" parody of Noel Coward. However, between the "soap" scenes are the inevitable commercials, and this is where the space age musical becomes theater.

Myrna Lamb's "soap" involves a wealthy couple whose marriage is unfulfilled and sexually boring, with the husband's ambitious plant manager and his ex-prostitute of a wife - Donna. After a brief fling with the plant manager, the wealthy wife, Chris, decides Donna is the answer to her marital happiness. Donna's husband follows in complete accord and a sort of menage-a-trois plus one is formed. Poor Charlie is left out of the sexual fulfillment games to pursue his career.

Donna is not only sexually obliging, sometimes even "leaving some" for Chris, but also agrees to have a baby to completely fulfill the entire menage. With Donna pregnant, Chris decides the marriage is finally fulfilled and it's time for her to join her husband on a second-honeymoon, leaving Donna in the best of gynecological care. But Donna rebels; then Charlie in retaliation is shown a complete photo album of Donna's sexual activities; Charlie becomes enraged and kills Donna.

The story is purportedly based on a recent Passaic murder case, but seems cardboard and the characters seem confused and murky - lacking any real motivation -- it becomes a pretty tedious soap. None of this is the fault of the acting which is uniformly good - especially Sharon Loughlin in the role of Chris. She is witty, conniving, shrewish and a complete joy to watch - almost breathing life into the character.

However, we still have the inevitable commercial and thanks to Myrna Lamb - they breathe life and excitement into the production. The commercials are performed by a women's chorus (naturally) of nine backed up by an all-female ensemble. The commercials comment on the action and express Myrna's feelings on this man's world and women's enslavement to man along with women's own conception of her role in his world, and ultimately women's lib.

The lyrics are often complicated and confusing. The printed lyrics in the program are a great help but I don't suggest trying to sing along. The songs are always pertinent, thought-provoking, biting, often humorous, and sharply satirical. They are performed by the chorus with exuberance and verve, almost ferociously at times, with each performer giving King, programing director for Radio Liberty, speak on the programs of the radio service. The session was to be held at the Far Hills Restaurant in Newark. Radio Liberty was sponsored by the American Committee for Liberation, supporting the institute for study of the Soviet Union.

Installation of officers highlighted a meeting of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah. Thenew president was Mrs. Irving Ontell of 218 Overlook Avenue. Other officers installed were: Mrs. Daniel Stern, program; Mrs. Carl Morgenroth, fund raising; Mrs. Herman Friedman, membership, Mrs. Frank Edelman, treasurer; Mrs. Frederick Miller, financial secretary; Mrs. Daniel Hoffman, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Morton Schmall, member at large.

It appeared that the Board of Education would have to look elsewhere than the bog site for the location of a proposed new high school. Commissioners present at a meeting between the Board and the Commission indicated that they would be against granting the deed of the new property under consideration.

their individual interpretation.

You won't go out humming any of the songs, however, because unfortunately at its best, the music by Susan Bingham is mediocre. It's Myrna Lamb's lyrics that star.

The total authority of the director, Joseph Papp, is felt throughout the production but especially during the delightful musical numbers, some reminiscent of "Hair," which Mr. Papp also staged in its early career. More than just directing Mod Donna, we are indebted to

Mr. Papp for the fact that a show so pertinent and political was produced commercially in the first place. For with its many faults and short-comings, it is still important theater.

Mod Donna may not have many answers and may anger some people, but it poses some timely, important questions. If you are interested in "fluff," you can still catch "Co-Co" uptown. But if your interest falls in one of the timely issues of the day, don't miss Mod Donna -- Now.

Flag Belongs To All People Says Resident

On this most solemn day when all Americans stop and pause to pay honor to those who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their country I find myself asking a deceptively simple question: "Who owns the American Flag?"

Is it the disenfranchised student who takes to the streets to vent his frustrations at a never-ending war that has claimed the lives of over fifty thousand of his fellow youths? He sets a torch to this cloth that represents to him everything he cannot cope with. He is told by the same people that witnessed the labor turmoil of the thirties that violence is wrong and we have means within the system to adjust grievances. Of course he is more often than not ineligible to participate by voting and his elders seem determined to keep it that way.

Is it the construction worker in his shiny tin hat that reminds him of a once worn army helmet? This man who fought Fascists a quarter of a century ago cries out, "We built this country and we can tear it down". He then proceeds to smash the heads of those who's views offend what he thinks so antithetical to the American way. As he does this he blasphemes all that is written in the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

Is it the self seeking politician who wraps himself in this flag and runs on what it stands for rather than his own merits and abilities? The man who uses patriotic rhetoric rather than facts and truth because his thoughts won't bear close study.

Is it the likes of George Wallace or a Bobby Seale who seek to destroy America each in his own way? Is it the members of the John Birch Society or maybe the Weatherman faction of the SDS?

Hard as it seems to admit, it belongs to all of them as well as the quiet unobtrusive citizens that Mr. Nixon has seen fit to label the Silent Majority. I for one do not need a decal on my car to prove that I am an American. My flag lies tattooed on my heart by the deeds of brave Americans who have stood up for right whether it be on the battlefield, the college campus, the courtroom or the streets of this land. The sight of "Old Glory" flying over our capitol building in Washington stirs my blood like no other sight. It reminds me of all that is good in America. It also reminds me of the things that remain undone and that must be done if we are to remain truly "the land of the free and the home of the brave." We cannot falter or we are lost. We must learn to listen to each other and find our points of agreement which are more than the average person realizes. Discussion, not argument must be our first step. And it is the responsibility of all Americans to take it!

Asks Respect For U.S. Flag

To the Editor,

What I have to say has nothing to do with approval or disapproval of the War in Vietnam, but is an expression of my disgust, apprehension and utter dismay at the frequent episodes in which the Flag of the United States of America is burned, spit on and otherwise desecrated.

When I see the Flag in display I think of the hundreds of men who died at Valley Forge, not in combat but by disease, hunger and a lack of adequate protection from one of the worst winters in our history. I have seen their graves.

When I see the Flag I am reminded of the headstones I have seen at Gettysburg, Chancellorsville, Fredericksburg and Antietam where my grandfather fought as a member of the Eighth Connecticut Volunteers.

When I see the Flag I think of the men who fought at Omaha Beach, Anzio, the Battle of the Bulge, at Iwo Jima and Okinawa to defeat the Nazis who destroyed six million people in the gas chambers of their concentration camps and the Japanese who killed 3000 Americans in their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, many of them women and children.

When I see the Flag I think of the millions who left the country of their birth as my ancestors did and came to America to establish and maintain and enjoy the freedom of this democracy.

The Flag is the symbol of all these things and more and should be respected and those who do not respect it and desecrate it should try living under another flag, perhaps one with a hammer and sickle instead of stars and stripes.

Postal Rate Hike Hurts Us

Fortcoming sharp postal hikes are a direct result of fat pay increases recently voted postal workers, and other government workers, by Congress at a time when the economy was experiencing a downturn and profits in many U.S. businesses were being severely squeezed.

Military pay increases have also been authorized by Congress in the last year and a hike in social security benefits was voted last month by Congress. The case for all these benefits is always convincing but someone has to pay for Congress' generosity, and for the enlarged welfare program being planned by the President, which should actually have had priority over government employee pay hikes, already granted.

The public will pay two cents more for first class letters, newspapers and magazines will be hit with a thirty-three per cent postage increase, as will third-class matter (mostly advertising literature).

A new motor vehicle maintenance center for the U.S. Post Office was officially opened at 38 Roosevelt Avenue. The unit was to operate 24 hour service and repair for more than 200 vehicles for Post Offices located throughout the greater Newark and Northern New Jersey areas. Miss Zip Code cut the ribbon to signify the opening of the center, with Postmaster Joseph J. Bennucci and Commissioner Mary Senatore assisting.

Commissioner of Parks and Public Property William Cullen along with Phillip Newsome, maintenance supervisor, inspected damage done by vandals to the Union Avenue memorial monument. It cost the town $85 to have the monument cleaned with a sandblaster. The Commissioner reported that vandalism each year costed the town about $6,000 without labor.

Local Students Plan Summer Vacation Trips

QUESTION: Now that school will soon be out, what are your plans for summer vacation?

ASKED: Of local high school students.

Nancy Lemoine, 187 Hillside Avenue, Nutley.

I'm planning to go to California once school gets out. My sister lives there and she has told me it's a beautiful place. Once I'm out there, I plan to get some type of job, probably in the secretarial line of work. My sister lives in San Diego so I'll be going there until December when I intend to head back to Nutley and get a job in Hoffmann-LaRoche. I've never been to California but I've heard that it's quite beautiful there. The farthest I've ever been from home is Maine but I'm not worried about myself. I'll have more freedom out there.

Irene McGuire, 49 Cedar Hill Avenue, Belleville.

I'll most likely spend a lot of my time at the shore once school gets out. I plan on going to Tuckerton on many weekends. The nearest thing to an actual vacation is the trip to Canada with the Belleville band and twirlers that's coming up in the middle of June. That should be a lot of fun since all my friends are going there with me. Before that we will be going to Syracuse and then will perform at "Man and His World" in Canada. Other than that, I'll be doing the regular things like taking walks and riding in cars. Also, I plan to attend night practice for twirling regularly.

Irene Heckeroth, 65 Raymond Avenue, Nutley.

I'll be spending much of my time down at Point Pleasant Beach. My boyfriend lives down there and we will be doing a lot of boating. His father owns a lot of fishing boats and my boyfriend will become a boat captain soon. I wanted to work soon after school but I couldn't find a job so now I'll probably wait until September to find a job. Actually, I'd like to get into modeling. I like living down the shore very much and it's a big change from Nutley.

Pat Laudadio, 15 DeWitt Avenue, Belleville.

My vacation this summer, when school gets out, is going down to Wildwood for two weeks with my family. Other than that, there isn't much special plans I'll have. I would like to get up to a lake in the Poconos for a few weekends. Here in Belleville, my summer will probably consist of doing the regular things like walking and riding and just fooling around. Nothing special. Just being with my friends and being on vacation is lots of fun.

MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND usually produces chaotic traveling problems for the airlines. My experience this weekend was a pleasant surprise. Friday night's EAL Flight 3,727 Stretch, became airborne with nothing more than the normal 15-20 minute delay. Greeting passengers as they boarded the plane were friendly regulars, Stewardesses Dian Wilhite and Jan Hammet, who kept the passengers well supplied with an abundance of good food, ample stocks of choice liquors, and excellent service.

Returning via Miami, on EAL's Flight No. 2 was just as satisfying. Stewardesses June Barrow and Barbara Pfeiffer were right on the ball, performing much better than the "E" stewardess aboard. Passengers were served seven-course dinners on both flights. On Flight 3 I had the pleasure of sitting alongside Andy DeFelice, an EAL pilot "deadheading" it to Miami. Andy is moving to Colts Neck, N.J., right next door to the racing stable of our old friend, Joe Laccietello.

PICKED UP ENROUTE....

Jan Hammet tells the one about the young married gal expressing her sympathy to the elderly spinster sitting in the seat next to her. The spinster was overheard to say, "I have a dog that growls, a parrot that swears, a fireplace that smokes, and a cat that stays out all night. Why should I want a husband?"

Dian Wilhite overheard two grammar school boys talking about a girl playmate. Said one to the other, "I've carried her books to school three times and bought her sundaes twice. Now, do you think I ought to kiss her?" The other kid replied, "No, you don't have to kiss her. You've done enough for that girl already."

Barbara Pfeiffer says, "If you worry about what people think of you, it means that you have more confidence in their opinions than you have in your own." And June Barrow observes "Don't complain about your relatives. They, too, didn't pick you."

Bill Miller, our Production Veep, says, "Genius is the ability to evade work by doing something right the first time it has to be done."

My brother, Carl, says, "There would be less confusion on earth if people prayed as often as they shouted."

AMERICA THE UGLY
Oh pitiful for smoggy skies
For jungles made of stone.
For blazing mountains tragedies,
Where bubbling brooks did roam.
America! America!
We shed our trash on thee,
And now regret the mess we made,
From sea to shining sea.

How terrible the picnic trash,
The beer cans by the road.
The sewage pipes that feed the streams,
Their deadlly, smelly load.
America! America!
With lakes of glistening foam
And airplanes spraying poisons on,
The dear land we call home.

WE'RE WORKING on a Horoscope column as a weekly feature for our newspaper, and our research into the stars has found some interesting traits. For example, Gemini - the Sign of the Twins (May 22 - June 21) - is where we all are under the Zodiac at the moment. And if you were born under Gemini, well then you might be interested in the following indications, inclinations, relations and combinations:

PERSONALITY INDICATIONS:

Gemini is the beginning of Summertime with a wide diversifications of people, places, things and activities. Gemini is also the Sign of the Twins, of duality. When one twin momentarily stops, the other starts. There seems to be no end to your interests or to your activities. Intellectually, you are the idealist who carries your ideal to fruition. Your mind is primarily the concrete mind of facts and figure rather than ideas, though you are capable of bridging the span from concrete to the abstract.

VOCATIONAL INCLINATIONS:

Versatility is your forte. You thrive on the challenges of today which offer full play for your ingenuity. Your speaking ability makes you good in contact with the public. Your alertness for a bargain contributes to ability in the field of buying and selling. Your dexterity lends itself to a profession of intellectual and technical manipulation. Your mathematical acuity suggests accounting. You love to travel and meet people. But you are happiest in a field where you can combine all of these abilities. . . . and be your own boss.

PERSONAL RELATIONS:

You long for love but you are never willing to give yourself totally. You are the flirt, alert and charming, capable of wit and humor, always willing to go, go go. Often you marry young which can cause problems since your attitudes and goals are forever shifting. You of Gemini tend toward several marriages. You are capable of excessive fault-finding to the dismay of your victim which completely surprises you for you immediately forget your sharpness while others are inclined to remember.

HARMONIOUS COMBINATIONS:

Your rhythm is most in tune with the people of Aries, Leo, Libra and Aquarius. You are more inclined to zig when the people of Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces zag. Those born in the Sun sign of Taurus, Scorpio, Cancer and Capricorn seem to vibrate on wave lengths that leave you indifferent. While two Geminis together could totally exhaust each other.

WE HAVE two wonderful office openings - we need a good steno-secretary and an assistant bookkeeper. If you know of anyone who wants to work in the world's finest office our number is 667-2100.

Youth Count On Annette Guardabascio

"She speaks up, has good ideas, and is willing to work for the kids," is the way one student describes 17 year old Annette Guardabascio, who was named this week to chairman a youth council to investigate recreational needs for students.

The above evaluation of Annette from all indications is a sound one. Similar sentiments were expressed this week by Mayor Ken Smith, who waived customary comment on the council's formation and referred The Times to Annette, saying, "that gal is pretty bright. She can tell you herself without my help."

Stepping up to the Commission docket a month ago, Annette told Commissioners in a straight forward manner what youth wanted in this town and said "we are willing to work for it."

She mentioned a new recreational facility to lure Belleville's youth from MacDonald's Hamburger stand on Washington Avenue, a place which also attracts local police bent on moving the "loiterers."

When no action was taken, the resident of 29 Princeton Terrace, returned to the commission docket, this time with a petition signed by 500 students asking for a recreation center.

The Mayor was impressed and early this week he invited Annette to Town Hall where he named her chairman of the youth council, which it will be her responsibility to get off the ground.

Aided by Mimi Ritacco, Angelo Zoppi and Rocco Ferrara, Annette says she has elaborate plans to make the council work for youth and "to get something done and not just talk about it."

Energetic and outspoken Annette is a logical choice to get the council going and to make it a vital youth committee in this town.

She has recently been elected senior class president for 1971. A member of the National Honor Society, she has been active with the Booster and Poster Clubs, the prom committee, the Ski Club and serves as a student council representative.

Her activities also include reporting for the school paper and volleyball.

Born in Newark 17 years ago, Annette lived in Newark, Bloomfield and California before coming to Belleville three years ago. Her involvement in student activities have begun to take up more and more of her time, and this year reached a high point with her election to class president and being named to the council chairmanship.

Annette has a unique opportunity before her with the council, because Belleville appears on the verge of constructing a new recreation center, one which she could help greatly.

American Civil Liberties Union Would Stop Police From Photographing Demonstrators

By Phil White

THE UNITED STATES Supreme Court is about to get a case on appeal from New Jersey involving the right of law enforcement agencies to investigate people involved in civil demonstrations.

The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) argued against such investigations in New Jersey but lost its case this week when Chief Justice Joseph Weintraub announced in Trenton the court had upheld the right of police to compile information on demonstrators.

What the ACLU hopes to accomplish in appealing the ruling to the United States Supreme Court is to make illegal much of the investigative-type work carried on by police departments. Thus, local police, for example, would not be permitted to maintain biographical or personnel-folder type information on area residents or at least not those gaining attention through demonstrations.

THE RECENT PEACE MARCH in town was photographed extensively, not only by The Sun and Belleville Times, but by Nutley Detective Bureau with both still and motion-picture cameras. That practice would be illegal should the Civil Liberties' appeal to the Supreme Court be successful.

Should police be permitted to compile such files and take photographs such as those snapped during the Nutley Peace March? We think so, but only if such files are compiled by police operating in the same "public domain" in which newspaper reporters function.

If news reporters are permitted to take photos of a peace march (Franklin Avenue is a public street and thus "in the public domain"), then so should a police cameraman. However, we would strongly oppose any blanket authority that would permit police to infringe by photographing persons inside a movie theater, tavern or other privately-owned property even though such premises might be classified as a "place of public accommodation."

POLICE PHOTOGRAPHS usually end up in some kind of file - as do newspaper pictures. The American Civil Liberties Union isn't too concerned about what The Nutley Sun does with its pictures, but the ACLU is so vitally concerned with what happens to the police photos that the Supreme Court is being asked to make it illegal for the Nutley Police Department to maintain files on persons suspected of taking part in civil demonstrations.

Newspaper files in recent years have become so complete that they frequently are the best source of information about people and events. The New York Times index can fingertip a reader to more information about the involvement of national figures in public demonstrations than any law enforcement agency could hope to have on file. Similarly, the seemingly insignificant morgue files of The Nutley Sun today include perhaps the most comprehensive index to local people and events - so complete that it is no longer uncommon for federal investigators to request information from us during investigations of local residents. Of course we are under no obligation to cooperate in furnishing such information from our files, and we are strongly opposed to the trend of courts' subpoenaing records and notes from newspapers and reporters. Like a reporters' notes and his sources, we consider our morgue confidential. The important point is that our files were compiled by our staff operating within the "public domain," without infringing upon anyone's constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech or assembly. A similar right therefore, should be afforded police departments. They too should be permitted to compile information, take pictures of demonstrations, record notes and so forth-providing all this is done within the "public domain" and not by employing secret devices within the private sector of society.

To argue against the right of law enforcement to compile such files is to assume a belief that police departments operate like a Gestapo network of spies - to quote the ACLU. Compiling information on people, including civil demonstrators - has been going on for many years not only in Nutley but throughout the state - and to be frank, so far we haven't found any signs of a Gestapo-like network of spies forming around here.

The legal argument between the Civil Liberties Union and the Courts is again one of those questions where to defend either side necessarily forces you into an extremist position. But nothing has gotten out of hand yet, and hopefully, never will. But should the balance eventually shift and result in an infringement of basic personal freedoms, then consideration would necessarily result to restore the fairness of the law to the benefit of the majority.

PERSONALLY, we've been photographed in demonstrations and marches, not only in Nutley, but in places like San Francisco and Washington, D.C. We've been finger-printed too - right here in Nutley, as a matter of fact. And come to think of it, we've been "spied on" by the closed-circuit TV cameras of Nutley Electric and Gross' Service Station - not to mention the electronic contraptions found in apartment-house lobbies and banks. All these "terrible" things - infringements upon our individual rights the ACLU might argue - have happened to us - but yet we've survived. They've undoubtedly happened to you too and hopefully you're not reading this in jail.

WE LIKE many of the things the American Civil Liberty Union is doing and has done. The ACLU has recently instituted an informative service for newspapers which we are planning to make use of. Even though we disagree with the logic and implications of this current appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, the questions raised by the ACLU have far greater significance than simply being thought-provoking. They are forcing us all to examine concepts and ideas - many of which have for too long been accepted without questions, and often wrongfully so.

Helen's Thing ...

By Helen Maguire

DECK THE YARD with picnic tables. Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la. 'Tis the season for the cookout. Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la.

Forgive such outrageous paraphrasing of a beautiful carol but the barbecue season brings out the worst in me. Cookouts are a lot of fun, a great way to get friends together, a welcome relief from eating indoors. They are also a pain in the neck.

Essential to any form of barbecue, plain or fancy, is the fire. Would you believe that two reasonably intelligent people like Rod and Helen Maguire seem incapable of building a proper charcoal blaze? Fortunately, our teenagers do not inherit this flaw. They throw some charcoal on the grill, give a few squirts of the lighter fluid, and a match and away you go.

Once the fire gets going and the meat or whatever put on to cook, it is mandatory around here to station a firewatcher at the scene. This being, lounging in a chair and brandishing a fork, performs a double service. He keeps an eye on the victuals and discourages predators.

I swear the dog has an asbestos tongue. As for the cats, give them half an inch and they'll take two miles. One summer, Abner appeared at the same time every Sunday afternoon brandishing a piece of chicken. We discovered, after tracking the little thief, that he was wise to the ways of the people in back of us. They cooked out every weekend, he waited 'til they went inside and helped himself to his weekly treat. He spent his Sunday afternoons in the house after that.

At last, everything is ready. The chicken has escaped cremation, the hamburgers are done but not overdone, everyone is seated and let the feast begin.

NOW BE HONEST. Have you ever sat down after carting half the kitchen outside and not discovered something was missing? You now face a problem if you are seated in the middle of a bench. Either drop gentle hints and hope someone on the end will get up or brace yourself and struggle over the bench. This feat should not really be attempted by anyone past thirty. It is one of the most undignified maneuvers I have ever encountered.

What goes up must come down. Well, what goes out must come in. The kitchen now takes on the appearance of a disaster area and even using paper cups and plates, you still end up with a sink full of dishes.

Fa, la, la, la, la, la, la, la, la.

Town Fathers Drop School Budget Appeal

Marburger's right to hear a School District I type appeal had previously been contested in vain by East Brunswick. The Town of Elizabeth, a District II school, last month lost a similar appeal. Belleville is a District I school.

Smith said he felt that the appeal "would just cost the taxpayers money and would probably not be successful. Saletta applauded the commission's decision and said he hoped better relations could be encouraged between the two boards.

Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco indicated that a large portion of the fund had already been contracted. He said $26,000 had been set for two remedial reading teachers and speech teacher. Also contracted is science tables at the Junior High School, totaling $11,000.

Further contracted materials Greco indicated were aluminum doors at the Junior High for $13,000, an automobile for transportation of handicapped students, and a new tractor for the maintenance department, to replace one purchased in 1941.

Greco also said a new physical education teacher had been contracted at the Junior High in anticipation of the funds.

The superintendent said the rest of the funds would go toward new equipment and supplies, plus an additional shop teacher at the Junior High and a reading teacher at the high school. He indicated that some funds would probably be left over as surplus.

Travers Is Graduated At Santa Fe, N.M.

A bachelor's degree in philosophy and history was awarded John G. Travers Jr. of Belleville by the College of Santa Fe, N.M. May 10.

He is the son of Mrs. William Fox and the late John T. Travers, 299 Franklin Avenue, Belleville.

Travers was graduated magna cum laude and with national honors from the Society of Sciences. At New Mexico, he was a member of the baseball team and Phi Alpha Epsilon and Phi Gamma Mu fraternities. He also was in the college's senior play.

Strumolo Seeking County Spot

John Cryan defeated Peter Iadarola for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, 1,061 to 124.

The Democratic freeholder candidates ran unopposed and registered the following votes: Philip Keegan 1,194, Thomas Cooke 1,166 and Philip Rotondo 1,291.

In the local county committee races, the regular party lines generally proved victorious.

DeWitt Association Has Cocktail Party

DeWitt Savings and Loan Association of Belleville was host recently to local members of the real estate, legal, and financial professions at a cocktail party held at the Forest Hill Field Club.

Robert Williams, DeWitt president, stated that the affair, an annual one, is held to observe the continuing growth of DeWitt Savings and update the various professional groups and individuals in the community on the Association's progress during the past year.

The regular Democrats captured both of their contested districts, while the Regular Republican Organization took 11 out of 13 contests, with one loss and one split.

A sidelight of the Tuesday primary was a special announcement by State Sen. Milton Waldor.

Senator Waldor took the secrecy off his candidacy for the Essex County Republican Chairmanship Tuesday night.

The Essex County Republican told party workers celebrating Tuesday night's organizational victory that he has made what he calls "an irrevocable decision" to seek election next week as the new county chairman.

Waldor made the statement at the County Republican Headquarters in East Orange.

Senator Waldor, who was campaign manager for the Line F ticket, the happy Republicans Tuesday night that "today's resounding victory represents only the first step up the long road back to party solidarity. Tonight's result is a mandate for change in our party leadership."

Continuing, Waldor called for a unification effort of the regular organizational Republicans and the insurgent group headed by Joseph Intile which suffered its biggest defeat ever at the primary polls Tuesday.

Sen. Waldor called for strong party leadership in Essex to insure adoption of Gov. William Cahill's programs. "If elected next Tuesday," Waldor said, "I intend to prove that leadership."

Why put up with such discomfort when solid comfort from

is so inexpensive

If you would like your house to be toasty warm this winter, and not go broke to heat it — read on.

Hundred of thousands of home owners and apartment operators (not to mention hospitals, hotels, motels, nursing homes, and business establishments) throughout the United States, have discovered Radiant Electric Heat to be just what the doctor ordered for comfort and what the banker ordered for economy.

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable.

That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

Homeowners tell us their health has improved.

That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills.

That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system. If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.

Trackmen Lose To Vailsburg HS For 3-8 Season

Belleville's varsity track team lost their last meet of the season 63-45 to Vailsburg High School of Newark to finish the season with a record of 3-8. This is a small improvement over the past few year's squads which have finished with 1-10 records.

The Bellboys problem this season has been due to a lack of depth on the squad. At the end of the season there are only 18 members on the squad which started out with 20. Most of the teams that have faced Belleville have had

Cindermen In State Competition

Three of Belleville's varsity track players placed in the Group IV Section 2 track finals last Saturday. These trackmen will compete in the Group IV finals this Saturday, and if they place in the Group Finals, they will go to the State Finals on June 13 at Highland Park New Brunswick.

Vic Squitieri finished fourth in the Sectional 180 yard low hurdles with a time of 20.7 seconds. The competition was a little different than Vic's regular races because on Belleville's track the lows are run for 140 yards.

Ralph Salierno, the team's other co-captain, placed fourth in the shot put. Salierno's official throw was 48'2", but his longest was over 50'. This throw wasn't counted because Ralph had passed the foul line while throwing.

Mark Bradley hit his career time record to place fifth in the 440 yard run. Mark's time in the preliminary heat was 52.6, and in the finals, Mark ran 52.5 for fifth.

This is the first time in four years that Belleville has had trackmen qualify for Saturday's Group IV championship. The Championship meet will be held Saturday morning at Rutgers Stadium in New Brunswick.

Golf Tourney Planned

The fifth annual Belleville Kiwanis Invitational Golf Tournament will be held at the Valley View Golf Course, in Hanover on Wednesday, July 1, it was announced by tourney chairman Tom McLaughlin.

Besides the Kiwanis, the Lions Club and the Amvets are participating in the affair. Other organizations may participate in the affair by contacting McLaughlin at Town Hall.

Prizes and a full course dinner will be included in the entry fee for participants.

Two No-Hitters In Little League

Two no-hitters shook up the National League this past week, but the Amvets managed to survive the turmoil and still sit alone on top of the Little League standings.

Indians Leading League

Belleville's eight and nine year old ballplayers are slugging it out in the Recreation Peanut Leagues. In a short three weeks these young athletes are shaping up and showing the results of the work put in on them by their managers. There has been a lot of good hitting high lighted by Thomas Bianchi, who put one over the Recreation House fence for the Cubs in their game against the Braves.

Out in front in the American League are the Indians, 4-1, managed by Robert Haug, and the Bombers 4-1 managed by Elmer Haug. The Bombers have lost only to the Indians in this sibling rivalry.

Vince Ferrarellis Cards are in third with 3-2 and fourth place is held by Lou Pomponio's Aces. John Carlo's Clippers 2-3 are in fifth place but are flush with between 30 and 40 trackmen. The lack of depth shows through in the number of events where there is only one Bellboy in scoring position.

The only event where the Bellboys took first and second was the shot put. Ralph Salierno moved back into the top spot with a throw of 48'2". He was followed by Mike Albertine with a throw of 47'2".

Belleville took first and third in two events, the 220, and the 100 yard dash. In the 220, Mark Bradley was way out front, beating the second place runner by nine tenths of a second, with a time of 24.2 seconds. Taking third was Ricky Caruso with a time of 25.1.

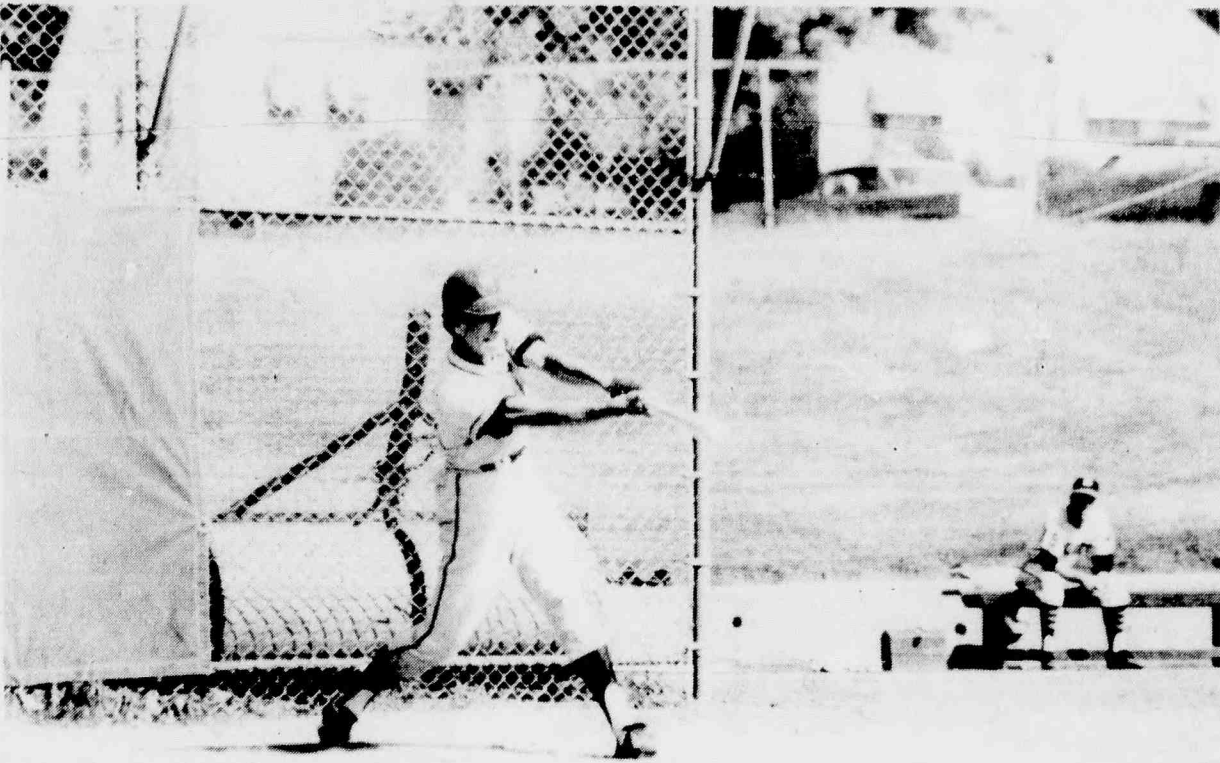

In the 100 yd dash, Vic Squitieri took first place with a time of 10.5 seconds. Caruso again took third as he finished in 11.3 seconds.

In the 440 Bradley again took first place, this time by 3.2 seconds or approximately 24 yards, with a time of 54.3 seconds. But Mark was the only Bellboy to score and Belleville picked up a meager 5-4 win in the event.

In the two mile run, Belleville had two runners score for one of the first times this season; Bob Silvers took second with a time of 11:53.7, and Ray Horman took third with 12:02.4.

Another second and third combination came in the discus. Squitieri was second, this time with a throw of 257'5", and Albertine was third with 121'9 1/2".

In three events the high hurdles, the mile and the low hurdles-Belleville trackmen could only muster second place, giving Vailsburg 6-3

In the high hurdles, Killer Kowalski took second with a time of 17.3 seconds. In the mile, Lou Dalcoro was second with 5:08.2. In the low hurdles Squitieri scored for the third time with 16.2 seconds.

Belleville's Don Black scored a third in the 880, and tied for second in the high jump contributing three points to the team score.

The only event where Belleville was shutout by Vailsburg was in the pole vault where all three of Vailsburg's vaulters cleared 9'6", a height never reached by Belleville's vaulters.

All-Sports Dinner Tomorrow

The Belleville Varsity Club will honor 90 seniors from the high school tomorrow at its annual All-Sports Banquet at Biase's Restaurant in Newark.

The Club has planned this year to award a 40 inch high trophy to the winner of the "Goodwill Regatta," a race held last Saturday between Belleville, Nutley and Kearny.

A tie for total points has presented the Varsity Club with a problem, and no solution was offered by Club spokesmen at press time. The Club was scheduled to meet Tuesday night to resolve the situation.

In the Regatta equal points are awarded to first place winners of the varsity, junior varsity and frosh divisions. On Saturday, Kearny won the varsity race, Nutley the junior varsity and Belleville the freshmen race.

The seniors to be honored will be members of athletic squads other than the football team, which has a separate Varsity Club affair in the winter. Also to be cited are senior band, twirler, cheerleading and color guard members.

The American Legion Post 105 will award a special honor to the outstanding senior letterman in baseball, while the Colony Club will select the senior who most displays scholastic ability and high moral qualities for receipt of the William Chapman Memorial Award, which honors the man who was a vital force in town for local youth.

Named to receive awards for basketball are Al Casaletto, Vincent Costantino, Joe D'Alonzo, Richard Motacki, John Pauciullo, Rich Schulz and Sam Rosamilia.

Cited for wrestling awards are Sal Bivona, Bob McGee, Kevin Sutton, Joe Taibi, and Jesse Towns.

Named to receive awards for baseball are Frank Fury, David Ferrughelli, Joe Ritacco, and Brian Waters.

Cheerleading awards will be presented to Diane Arena, Joanne DeVora, Christine Farrell, and Sharon Halbert.

Named for Color Guard honors are Janet Chamberlain, Sandra Cheatham, and Wanda Springer.

Band awards will be given to John Bocchino, Susan Bonkowski, Deborah Cerrachio, Frank Cozzarelli, Karen Daley, Mark

Deginsine, Ronald DeJonge, Denise Espiritu, Mike Freda, Mart Fuchs, Rita Higgins, Tom Idendeau, Nancy Ippolito, Kevin Killeen, Linda Lauer, John Longo, and Valerie Mair.

Twirlers set to receive awards are Pam Brown, Doris Brooks, Lynn Cypolski, Franca Gabbai, Mary Moore, Kathy Roselle, Linda Rudy, Alivia Shannon, and Antonia Spooner.

Robert Forrest will receive the only senior cross-country award.

Track awards will be presented to Vic Squitieri, and Ralph Salierno.

Regatta Is Split

Crew Coach Says He's Retiring After Career Mark Of 41-22

"The problems of coaching such a unique sport as crew have begun to outweigh the rewards."

With these words, Belleville Crew coach Michael Lally announced his retirement to the Belleville Times after six years as head of this town's heralded crew.

Lally's retirement comes as a surprise to most observers who have watched the coach take such an active part in the fortunes of Belleville crew the past nine years.

This year Lally's oarsmen jumped off to a 7-0 start, only to lose its last three meets to end the season on a disappointing note. The coaches six year record as varsity mentor is 41-22.

Since moving up from his position as JV coach six years ago, he has compiled records of, 7-5, 8-3, 2-6, 7-3, 1-2, and this year's 7-3. He would not say which of his teams was the best he's had and indicated that comparing crews was difficult. No successor has been named, although Lally says he will recommend his JV assistant, Sam Giuffrida, whom he termed an excellent coach.

Last Saturday, Lally's oarsmen split the Goodwill Regatta, winning the freshmen race, and finishing second and third in the JV and varsity meets respectively.

The Bellboy showing, however, was somewhat disappointing, because both the varsity and JV shells had registered dual meet victories over the other Regatta participants, Nutley and Kearny.

Lally says tide conditions had a lot to do with his teams showing. In his words: "An American naval destroyer couldn't have won in the lane we had."

The Bellboy crew drew the outside lane in the varsity race and Lally says he feels the river conditions were heavily against this Tide. he said, favored the shell on the inside. (Winners in all three divisions, incidentally, all drew the inside lanes.)

The retiring coach says he thinks these lane considerations will have to be pondered by Regatta officials in later meets on the Passaic.

"We kept it close. Lally said. "That's all we could do. I don't want to take anything away from the Kearny squad though."

Earlier this year Belleville's varsity shell had beaten Kearny in a dual meet by a full 13 seconds, and had also registered a six second win over Nutley. Saturday, Belleville was third behind these two teams.

Kearny's varsity shell registered a 6:22 winning time, followed by Nutley at 6:28.2 and Belleville with 6:29.

In the JV race, Nutley won with a 6:46 time, followed by Belleville with a 6:58 and Kearny at 7:03.

Two Bellboys Should Reach All-Star Status

by Nat Gottlieb

The season is over for the Bellboy baseball team, but not so for a couple of its key ballplayers.

Sophomore Frank Petite and junior Joe Papisidero will be waiting anxiously for word from the Newark News and Star Ledger, the two major dailies which make post-season all-star selections.

It's hard to figure how the all-star teams are chosen. Almost always grumbles are heard when a local 400 hitter or super slick fielder is left out of the all-star standings.

Last year Belleville was represented by third baseman John Goscinski, who gained all-Essex County honors and was a Group IV All-Stater.

Goscinski was ineligible this year, and Coach Charlie Travers was hoping for a miracle of sorts to replace him. That's just what Frank Petite turned out to be. hitting a lusty .499 for the season and leading the team in 10 categories.

Papisidero was being counted on earlier in the season to add some stickwork to the lineup, but the shortstop went far beyond the coaches hopes in this area.

Getting on base at a near .500 percentage, Papisidero flirted with the .400 batting mark all season to wind up with a solid .364 average.

Just how far the two youngsters will go this year is hard to say. One of the traditional sentiments heard around the state at about this time is that "they only select all-stars from highly-regarded teams."

Belleville, with its 11-11 record didn't earn much attention from the daily newspapers, largely due to its inconsistent pitching. Basically, coach Travers had an excellent batting lineup, and with a couple of solid pitchers might have been a prominent force in the County.

In any case, most of the performers will be back next year, including Papisidero and Petite, and Travers should put together one of the best Bellboy teams in recent years.

But for the present, Bellboy accolades will rest on the shoulders of Petite and Papisidero.

Petite's batting credentials this year were nothing short of phenomenal. In addition to leading the team in batting, he tied or led the team in runs scored with 18; hits with 31; RBI's with 27, triples with two and homers with two.

In addition, Petite had the top earned run average of all pitchers in his six appearances, with a 1.77 mark and a 3-3 record. The third-baseman and pitcher led the staff in complete games with five; innings pitched with 51 1/3, and strikeouts with 37.

Highlight this year for the sophomore probably was a grand slam home run which Travers says was the farthest hit he's ever seen at the Stadium.

Papisidero, hitting from the leadoff slot, was an inspiration to the team, with

Freshmen Pitchers Excellent

Most baseball experts will agree that good pitching will beat good hitting. The 1970 Belleville freshman baseball team proved it this season. Using four top notch hurlers, the frosh compiled an impressive 12-2 record. Hopes are high that some of these hurlers will make the varsity grade next season and in future years. The four pitchers are Rich Centanni, Tom Cosgrove, Allan Frank, and Kenny Stein.

Centanni compiled an amazing 9.38 ERA, allowing just one earned run in 20 innings of work. He also displayed good control, striking

Mounties Gallop To Final Victory

by Marc Feldman

The Montclair Mounties took full advantage of Belleville defensive lapses to break a 3-3 tie with three runs in the sixth inning and defeat the Bellboys 6-3 last Friday afternoon at Municipal Stadium. The Bellboys needed to win this game to have a winning season. Instead they settled for their second straight 11-11 season.

Bill Haines and Frank Petite combined to stop the Mounties (16-8) on three hits, two of the tainted variety. They did issue seven bases on balls, but the game was lost on fielding and mental errors. Montclair pitcher Len Petrillo pitched well and gained the victory as he allowed only three hits and struck out 11.

Earlier in this season, the Bellboys dealt Montclair one of its four conference losses by a 5-2 score. The Mounties had only one hit in that game against John Moraski. Montclair collected just four hits in two games with Belleville, yet managed to score eight runs and win one of the games.

The big play of Montclair's winning rally came with men on first and second and one out. Ray Imhof singled sharply to right field. Ron Muscara fielded it cleanly and rifled a perfect throw to the plate in time to get the Montclair runner coming home. After the out call had been made, the ball was kicked out of Gary Falkman's mitt, scoring what proved to be the winning run.

The three Belleville hits were contributed by Frank Fury, Joe Ritacco, and Jim Miele. Miele's single drove in the tying run in the fifth but it was for naught, as the Bellboys succeeded in beating themselves.

Last week was not a total loss as the Bellboys picked up victories over Orange on Wednesday, and Clifford Scott on Thursday. Despite a 2-18 record, Orange proved that they can be a tough opponent as they fell 3-2. Frank Petite led the way with his third mound victory of the campaign and two hits at the plate. The game was unusual in that many baserunners were thrown out stealing or picked off by Orange catcher Russ Malcolm and Belleville backstop Gary

Cardinals Are Flying

Scoring 49 runs in their first three games while holding their opponents scoreless, Toby D'Ambola's High flying Cardinals have served notice on their opponents as to the type of competition to be faced. John Zelinskas's Aces beaten only twice so far (by the Cards) have shown power and otherwise good all round play in their two victories (10-3 and 10-2).

Despite several high scoring games there is a quality of play displayed by these young 9-12 year old boys that has the fans and coaches buzzing. Hard played battles such as the Giants - Indian squeaker of 9-8 are not uncommon and testify to the quality and spirit of play that prevails in this league.

High Hopes For Legion 105 Baseball

American Legion Post 105's baseball coaches are looking forward to one of the best seasons in recent years. After seeing the hopefuls for the team last week, coaches Charlie Craig and Frank Papisidero and manager Jack Throckmorton Sr., picked 18 boys for this year's roster which they hope will make a fine showing in the Essex County American Legion League.

The season will open next Monday night against East Orange at 6 p.m. at the stadium. This game has been listed as only a temporary one since the E.O. team may not have the funds to play the season. Last year the Belleville 105 team went 2-0 against E.O., posting its first win with a 9-1 score.

A strong pitching staff may be Belleville's key to a highly successful season. For the last few years, 105 has had fairly good staffs and managed to hit the .500 mark, but hasn't gone too far over that. The coaches figure most of the pitching to be handled by John Goscinski, Bill Haines, Frank Petite, Danny Dunn, and Bill Gagnon.

Goscinski is the only one of the five that played for last years Legion team. Chipper Haines and Frank Petite both put in good season's for Belleville's varsity squad this season, and both Danny Dunn and Bill Gagnon pitched for Essex Catholic this season.

The only Belleville graduate on this year's team is Joe Vitiello. The catcher saw plenty of action on the Legion nine last year and this past year has attended Huron College. Also catching for Belleville will be Gary Falkman, BHS sophomore who starred on this year's varsity baseball team.

The Legion team has put together a very good infield combination. At third base will be Goscinski backed up by soph Frank Petite. At short will be Joe Papisidero, who has had experience playing with almost all the other infielders. On second will be Ray "Soupy" Campbell returning for his second year at the spot. First base will be taken by either Falkman or Essex Catholic's Bob Nicastro. Backing up these two is the frosh first baseman Frank Papisidero.

The outfield is the spot on the team that has the most depth. Returning to their outfield positions are Brian Waters, Pete Remondelli, Rocco Marrotti, and Joe Ritacco.

First year men will be Charles Zeigler, Mark Cervasio, Alan Frank, Nicastro, and Frank Papisidero.

Cervasio, whose brother Tony played center field last year also is a reserve second baseman. Alan Frank was one of the freshman teams top pitchers this year, and is listed as a possible reserve pitcher for the Legion.

The team's top hitters probably will be Frank Petite, John Goscinski, Joe Papisidero, and Bob Nicastro. Petite batted over .460 for the Bellboys this year and Paps was over .360. Goscinski, an all-state-last year was ineligible this past season. Nicastro was a powerful hitter at Essex.

Jinks Helps Rutgers To Seventh In IC4A Relay

Larry Jinks, BHS '68, helped Rutgers track team to a seventh place finish in the IC4A 440 relays this past weekend at Franklin Field in Philadelphia.

The former BHS track star also competed in the long jump but failed to qualify for a place as he took one jump and then suffered cramp pains which hindered his running and jumping.

Jinks was on the 440 squad that hit 42.5 seconds in the first heat for second place and earned a chance to go to the finals, where they turned in a 42.6 for seventh overall. Rutgers has had a 7-3 season in dual meets, and placed first in the New Jersey state Collegiate meet, and the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Conference.

Cosgrove was undefeated in five decisions, including a three hitter over Kearny in his last start. In 31 innings Cosgrove struck out 43 and issued only 8 bases on balls. His ERA is an excellent 1.22.

Al Frank's earned run average is not as impressive as Cosgrove's or Centanni's, but he has also pitched well. Frank struck out 37 batters in 28 innings and walked but ten.

Guarino Hurls First No-hitter Of The Season

John Guarino hurled a no-hitter to lead the P.B.A. to a 1-0 upset victory over the previously undefeated Amvets.

Dante Pantelone hurled a solid two-hitter for the losers, but Guarino's arm proved too strong for the Amvets.

The PBA run came in the third frame, Felix Linfante walked. Jim Taylor hit into a fielder's choice, but Rick Taylor advanced the runner on an error by first baseman Fran Morel to put men on first and second.

Guarino then helped his own cause by slicing a sharp hit down the right field line. John Kelly of the Amvets threw home nicely to hold the runner to third, but Taylor rounded second and was on his way to third when the catcher Frank Mozeicka threw the ball to the shortstop. Taylor ran into Amvets Anthony Biafore knocked him over and the run scored

Greek Mythology Helped Squitieri Choose Discus

by John McCarthy

Vic Squitieri, Belleville's top sprinter, does something few runners do well: He throws the discus.

The senior co-captains interest in the wright event began with his reading of Greek mythology, and the Bellboys, whether they care about mythology or not, are pretty glad Squitieri likes to read.

Squitieri has been just about "Mr. Everything" for the Bellboys cinderman. He continually produces points in three events, the discuss, the 100 yard dash and the low hurdles. Three times in his career, the slim senior captured first place in each event in one meet, a trick he has done twice this year.

Amazingly enough, Squitieri, who is an all-around athlete, wants to compete in a fourth event, the long-jump, and from all indications he could be a top performer in that event.

Last week after a meet with Kearny, the senior took a few practice leaps from the runway and hit 19 feet. Winner in the meet that day was 18 feet.

The versatile athlete will probably not get a chance to jump in the event, however, because New Jersey athletic rules ban a player from participating in more than three events.

So Squitieri will have to be content with setting Bellboy cinder records. This year he set a school mark in the low hurdles (140 yards) with a time of 15.8, breaking his own record which he set last year.

With a time of 10.3 in the 100 yard dash, Squitieri feels the school mark of 10 flat is a little out of his reach. In the discuss, his favorite event, he has thrown 129', and still hopes to better the 154' mark established by his cousin, Sibbie Sica, back in 1964.

Highlight for the three-year letter winner this season was his second place in the Big Ten Track meet in the low hurdles.

Squitieri also played football until this year, when he quit because of personal reasons. He hopes however, to play that sport and track in college.

So far the senior star is on the waiting list at Villanova and Ridger College, but is hoping to get into Seton Hall.

He maintains a B-average and is a member of the Senior Senate. This summer he plans to be an apprentice carpenter. In addition to his athletic activities, Squitieri is an accomplished guitar player with eight years experience, and has played with his own rock band.

their recent victory over the Indians. Den Krotchko's Bears are in sixth and Charles Miele's Tigers are in seventh. The Bears and the Tigers are new teams and had to start the season with no experienced players.

Over in the National league Lon Schreiber's Yankees boast a perfect 5-0 record and own first place. The Dodgers, under the leadership of Gene Sheridan have second place by virtue of their 3-2 standing. Thereafter the teams are very close.

In third are Paul Santinelli's Giants with two wins, one tie and one loss. Ron Concata's Cubs are in fourth with 1-2-2, Joe Norton's Braves are in fifth with 1-1-2, Bob Jackson's Pirates are in sixth with 1-3 and Al Nufrio's White Sox wrap it up with 1-4.

In our frequent visits with our customers we find in a disturbingly large number of cases that the brightness control on the color TV set is turned up too high. This has a detrimental effect on the colors.

If the brightness is too great, the picture looks "washed out", the colors are pale. As the brightness is turned down to the proper level, the colors become soft and more natural. If we bring this to the customer's attention, we hear very often, that they are "afraid" to touch the controls. This does not make sense. All it takes is to turn the little knob in one direction or the other. There certainly is nothing to be "afraid" of. If it appears that it has been turned up too much, it is easy enough to turn it down a bit or vice versa. You will get the most benefit from your color TV only if you vary the controls as required. Different programs and different stations make it almost necessary to make slight adjustments, if you want the colors at there best, and there is really no reason why they should not be at there best all the time.

Tonight, just try it. First turn the brightness control up and down a little and notice the change, you will be amazed what a difference it makes. If the colors look good after you found the right setting, of the brightness control leave the rest of the controls alone. However, there is no reason why you should not try the same procedure with the color, tint and contrast controls, one after the other, in this sequence. We find the setting of the brightness control off more often than the others.

This league appears to be shaping up as one of the closely played, hard fought contests with the decisions frequently determined by the final pitch in the final inning. No team is out of the race yet and all the games yet to be played will have a strong bearing on the final outcome of the league standings.

It's this reporter's bet that both Petite and Papasidero will capture All-County honors. After that, its anybody's guess.

Certainly one of the most improved batters this year was Brian Waters, who raised his average from last year of .170 to a solid .280 and contributed a good glove at second and third base.

Best glovemen on the team would probably be Charlie Ziegler in the outfield and hustling sophomore catcher Gary Falkman, whom you'll probably read about on the gridiron this fall.

Graduating from this year's squad will be starters Frank Fury, Joe Ritacco and Waters. Pitcher Steve Ferrughelli will also be leaving the squad.

Ritacco had an average season at the bat, but was dynamite on the basepaths, collecting a club-leading 15 stolen bases. Fury won the first base slot earlier in the Falkman. Belleville took an early 1-0 lead on a double by Joe Papasidero and a single by Frank Petite. Orange gained the advantage in the third when they parlayed a walk, hit batsman, and two singles into two runs. The winning runs were scored when Frank Fury's double and two errors gave Belleville a pair in the fifth.

Petite got out of tough jams in the sixth and seventh to preserve the victory. Marv Williams led off with a double in the seventh and was sacrificed to third. The next batter also tried to lay down a bunt but he hit it straight back to Petite who fired it to Waters at third to double off the Orange baserunner and end the game.

In the Thursday game with Clifford Scott of East Orange, Petite stole the show as the Bellboys coasted to a 9-3 victory at home. Petite stroked four hits in as many at bats, including a three run homer, and drove in six runs.

The round tripper came in the four run first inning which gave Belleville all the runs they needed. Joe Papasidero led off with a single up the middle and Brian Waters followed with a single. Petite unloaded on loser Bruce Brown's second pitch to put Belleville on top, 3-0. Charlie Ziegler stroked a double to right and Joe Ritacco drove him home with what proved to be the deciding run.

Belleville collected fourteen hits off three Scott pitchers as Ziegler had three, Papasidero, two, and Waters two. Sal Mineo pitched the first six innings for Belleville and picked up his fourth win of the year against two defeats. He and Dave Ferrughelli combined to stop Scott on two hits as the Scotties dropped their seventeenth in 24 games.

BELLBOY BRIEFS: Frank Petite hit .449 for the season with 27 RBIs. Pretty good for a sophomore! . . . Jim Miele made only 20 plate appearances, but reached base 11 times and had 3 RBIs.

Scarlet Cadet Week Declared By Ken Smith

Mayor Kenneth D. Smith has proclaimed June 1 - 13 as "Scarlet Cadet Week."

The Scarlet Cadets, a precision marching and maneuvering guard are sponsored by the American Legion Post 299. They will utilize the week to raise funds for entering the national competition in Miami, Fla., in August. Chairlady of the event is Commissioner Mary V. Senatore.

The Scarlet Cadets were organized two years ago and have done extremely well this past winter competing in the Metropolitan Color Guard Circuit, one of the top competitions.

They perform with rifles, sabres and flash flags. The group is directed by Mrs. John (Violet) Tortorello and instructed by Thomas White. Each year at their annual competition, "Fantasy of March", in which other guard units from New Jersey and Long Island participate, a memorial trophy for Emil Senatore is awarded as first prize.

The group is made up of young girls, ages 9 - 14.

The Scarlet Cadets are self-supporting and during the week of June 1-13, there are many activities planned in which the Cadets will participate to raise funds for the trip to Miami.

Most recently, the Scarlet Cadets won the first place trophy in the Loyalty Day Parade held in Irvington. The trophy will be presented at the annual Scarlet Cadet Picnic on June 28 at the American Legion 299 Post Home.

'Operation Drug-Alert' Sponsored By Kiwanis

After only seven months, the Kiwanis International program of community education on drugs and drug abuse - called OPERATION DRUG ALERT - has proved to be one of the most successful undertakings in the organization's history, according to word received here by Joseph Gonnello, president of the Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook-Belleville.

Nearly 3,000 Kiwanis clubs in the United States and Canada are participating in the program, Gonnello said. Their activities run the gamut of volunteer services. Many of them have organized community action programs aimed at drug education; others have led such programs themselves.

They have operated or sponsored programs for school assemblies, forums, radio and TV "talk shows" on drug abuse. They have also set up information centers, "hot line" services in communities and on campuses, drug clinics, publicity campaigns, and exhibits at municipal, county and state functions.

One of their activities has been distribution of a booklet for young people of junior high and high school ages called "Deciding About Drugs." The booklets have been distributed through schools, churches, youth groups, and police departments.

Currently, more than 2,000,000 booklets have been given to young people. The number continues to increase by 100,000 copies per week.

Operation Drug Alert is Kiwanis' first experiment with an organization-wide "major emphasis program." The idea will be continued, Gonnello said.

B. Grossman was guest speaker at the weekly club meeting on the subject of drug abuse and correction.

Students Enter Craftsman's Fair

by John McCarthy

Twelve Belleville High School students have entered into the annual New Jersey Student Craftsman's Fair. Drawings and projects were all finished by last Friday and sent to the fair which Belleville enters every year.

The 12 students entered into various divisions of the fair, respective to their present BHS industrial arts courses.

John Resciniti entered into the Mechanical Drawing division with his detailed drawings of a wrench. John, a junior is an M.D. 2 student under Ted Gabry.

Dave Hackling and Vito DeFranza have entered into the Printing division with their silk screen poster projects. Dave, a senior, and Vito, a junior, are students of Nick Grande.

Ken Carlson and Bob Scarola entered into the Wood Shop Projects Division with a Checkerboard cabinet and a cookie jar, respectively. Ken is a sophomore and Bob is a junior, both are under the direction of Wood Shop instructor Ed Weiss.

The majority of the students entering into the contest are Ted Gabry's Architectural Drawing I and II students. For the Architectural Drawing contest the student has to prepare detailed drawings of his residential unit, including all side views. For the architectural models section, the students were required to build in scale a wood model of the building and submit the plans.

In the AD contest, Keith Knight and William Oakley are the only seniors entering. The rest of the students, Ed Dunkley, Jerry Sammarco, Don Back and Rich Aull, are juniors and A.D. II students. Oakley is the only A.D. I student to enter.

All entries will be judged on the quality of the projects workmanship, and the originality of design.

Pharmacy Footnotes

To no organ of the body has such flattering court been paid as to the heart. It has been romanticized, glamorized, endowed with emotions, insight, even with intelligence and speech. "The heart has its reason," we say, and "You must do as your heart tells you."

Primitive tribes ate the heart of an enemy to gain his courage, and not only primitives but sophisticated ancients believed the one was the seat of the other. The very word "Courage" comes from the Latin word "cor" for the heart.

Even today we use the two interchangeably, as in the song from a Broadway success, about what a baseball player needs: "You gotta have a heart." Most of all, the heart is synonymous with love.

We don't expect you to be romantic about your pharmacy, but you can expect fast reliable service from us. Call 759-1956 or 759-1968, ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. for all your prescription needs. Free Delivery. Greeting Cards, Transistor Radios, Timex Watches for Father's Day-June 21.

Kindergarten orientation for students entering School Number One in September, 1970 was held on Wednesday afternoon, May 13 at the school. This is a program designed to show the incoming kindergartners what to expect when they enter school in the fall. It also gives the teacher a chance to speak to the parents about what is expected of their child upon entering.

Joseph Grosch, principal, welcomed the parents and children and Miss Mary Lou Mele, kindergarten teacher, escorted the children to the classroom. Mrs. MacFarlane, the school nurse, explained which shots were needed to admit them into school and Miss Mele returned to explain the kindergarten program.

Members of the PTA Executive Committee, Mrs. Arthur Whitman, Mrs. Robert Krause and Mrs. Mark Reed, served punch and cookies to the parents. Recreation Twirlers Close Busy Season

An exhibition, a parade and a championship competition have brought the Recreation Twirlers to the close of another season.

In April a select group performed for the Home and School Association of School No. 2. This exhibition has become almost an annual occurrence. Representing the Recreation Twirlers were Darlene Gonello, Ramona Pellaia, Vita Leone, Brenda Albanese, Jo Ann Chiappinelli, Joanie Campbell, Susan Iacullo, Marjorie Dopart, Elizabeth Goglia, Lisa Masucci and Jo Bono.

With Captain Diane

DeMayo leading, the Twirlers marched in the Cherry Blossom Parade where they were real crowd pleasers.

Perhaps the most significant event on the Twirlers busy calendar was the 1969-1970 championship competition held at School Seven on May 13. The girls were divided into two groups, beginners and advanced. In the beginners division Nancy Chamberlain won first prize and Joanie Campbell was runner-up. It was Diane DeMayo with her outstanding routine who won the honors in the advanced division. Runner-up in this class was Marjorie Dopart. Judging was done by Miss Cookie Cristofis, a former West Orange twirling captain.

This brought to a close the year's program. Twirling has been taught by Miss Kathleen Fornarotta under the direction of Miss Elaine Peda. Classes are held each Wednesday and Thursday at School No. 7 and each Saturday at School No. 4. A new season will start in September and twirling will also be a part of the recreation playground program.

Braniff First Airline To Use Space Satellite

The first private commercial use of voice communication via space satellite between the U.S. and South America has been placed in operation by Braniff International.

The airline announced that the new simultaneous voice-data circuit would be open on a continuous 24-hour basis between the switchboards of Braniff's operations and maintenance headquarters at Dallas Love Field and its South American control center at Callao International Airport near Lima, Peru.

The new communications service, known technically as a high-speed multiplex communications system which permits the transmission of direct voice conversation simultaneously with full-speed telegraphic data, is being provided by ITT World Communications Inc., a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

Braniff Executive Vice President John Casey said that the satellite telephone service would supplement the airline's teletype and radio circuits and provide for instantaneous two-way communications to increase efficiency in flight dispatch and to permit improved customer service.

The Dallas-Lima circuit utilizes the Intelsat III satellite over the Atlantic and interconnecting landlines between the satellite earth stations and terminal points. From Dallas, the signals travel by landline to ITT Worldcom's operating center in New York and, thence, to an East Coast satellite ground station. There, a powerful antenna beams the signals to the "fixed" satellite, orbiting 22,300 miles above the ocean.

Since the satellite is within constant "view" of the earth station near Lima, the signals are picked up by the ground space terminal there and sped by landline to Braniff's office in Lima. The entire transmission is completed in less than a second.

A leader in the adoption of new communication techniques, Braniff in 1968 was the first airline to establish a direct teleprinter link via satellite with South America, with the opening of a circuit to its office in Santiago, Chile. The satellite teletype service was subsequently expanded to Lima, Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro.

Helps Jobless

Public Service Initiates Revolutionary Program

What happens when supervisory personnel of a large company put themselves in the shoes of the hard-core unemployed?

The switch is revealing. At Public Service Electric and Gas Company it has given white, middle-class supervisors a new understanding of the problems faced by disadvantaged new employees, regardless of what color they are. And it has successfully converted people who were previously considered "unemployable" into productive workers.

Public Service currently has more than 240 "unemployables" working regularly at productive jobs and it expects to meet its commitment to the National Alliance of Businessmen by placing approximately 300 disadvantaged persons in meaningful jobs by June 30, 1970.

A "human development" program is making this task easier. In this program, Public Service supervisors learn how to deal with disadvantaged new employees with sensitivity and understanding.

For instance, a major factor in the success or failure of the new worker from the hard-core unemployed is the relationship he develops with his supervisor and fellow workers. The "trust walk," in which one person plays the role of a blind person, gives participants in the Public Service program an idea of the kind of mutual trust which is necessary in an employee relationship.

Early in the program a supervisor is given a pair of trick prism glasses which make him see multiple images. Then he is asked to solve some simple puzzles and perform other simple tasks, such as tossing a ball back and forth. With the glasses on, he finds himself in a strange and unfamiliar situation. The simple tasks become difficult and frustrating.

"This brings home to the supervisor some of the helplessness and anger that a new man on the job feels if he is placed in a totally alien environment and told to perform a task he has never attempted before," said John E. Eichler, manager of equal opportunity activities at Public Service.

The prism glasses, plus other aids, are part of a kit produced by the Human Development Institute of Atlanta, Ga., a subsidiary of the Bell & Howell Company.

More than 1,000 Public Service supervisors have taken part in the program workshops. They have not only learned how to train the disadvantaged; they have learned how to keep them on the job.

"Hiring and training the disadvantaged doesn't do much good," Edward J. Lenihan, assistant vice president in charge of area development and urban affairs, explains, "unless they become permanent employees - useful members of the work force."

Since the National Alliance of Businessmen was created in 1968, Public Service has participated in NAB programs in each of the major urban centers of New Jersey. More than 200 disadvantaged persons have been hired in the Newark and Elizabeth areas. An additional 200 unemployables have been hired in Paterson, Jersey City, Trenton and Camden.

Thanks to the human development program, more of these employees stay on the job than do at many other companies.

Afro-Play Is Set At Local Church

The drama and the history of Afro-Americans in the country of their forced adoption are on the playbill this Saturday evening in Bloomfield, where the Better Human Relations Council presents "In White America", a play by Martin Duberman.

Preceding the performance, promptly at 8:30 p.m., the Council's annual Caroline Rubinstein Memorial Brotherhood Award will be given to Edgar W. Burnett of Bloomfield, former Council president and long active in human relations work. The place, is Park Methodist Church, 120 Broad Street, in Bloomfield.

In the hands of Prof. Duberman, Princeton University historian-playwright who wove the words of white and black Americans into a vivid, moving narrative spanning two centuries, the documents of history become an intense theatrical vehicle acclaimed a few seasons back by New York audiences and critics.

From the slave ship doctor who saw the beginning of it, the Nat Turners and John Browns who tried to alter it, the U.S. Presidents who played politics with it, to the 15-year-old girl who found it on the end of a bayonet in Little Rock, the unique story of the Negroes in "White America" unfolds with an excitement seen only with theater-in-the round and an accuracy given only by historical quotation.

Other characters who step out of the past before the audience include Sojourner Truth, Frederick Douglass, Sen. Benjamin Tillman of South Carolina, and Father Divine, as well as slaves, Klansmen, Negro soldiers, Southern ladies and others.

The production is by the Black Arts Theater of Morristown and the Mt. Tabor Players, with Gary Middleton as director. Staged by black and white actors for black and white audiences, it features authentic period speech and folk singing by the cast. A minimum of scenery is used, with a cross-shaped platform surrounded on all sides by spectators.

Record Ticket Sales For Allentown Fair

The opening weekend—May 16 and 17—of the Great Allentown Fair's box office proved to be the biggest in its 118-year history.

A record amount of tickets was passed across the counters as stockholders placed their orders for grandstand show seats. The following days found the greatest response ever received from the general public both at the office and through the mail.

"Even though the sales were so high," said Paul Scharadin ticket manager, "plenty of good seats are still available for all the 1970 grandstand shows—it takes a lot of tickets to fill the grandstand and track."

The great name entertainment scheduled for this summer attracts overwhelming response," he continued. "And we're doing all we can to accommodate every customer."

"However, local customers seeking the best seats should buy tickets for weeknight shows as the biggest spread of tickets are for those performances."

This year's fair begins August 7 and continues to August 15.

Gates will open August 7 at 5 p.m. with the annual Drum and Bugle Corps competition and the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Fair Division harness racing.

English singing star Engelbert Humperdinck will be appearing August 8 to 11. Included on his show are funnyman George Kirby and the sound-filled Impact of Brass.

Charley Pride, country and western singer, will be on stage August 12 and 13 along with Texas singing star Johnny Duncan, the North Door Singers and Alex Houston & Elmer.

Closing the fair August 14 and 15 will be the famous Johnny Cash TV Show starring Johnny Cash, June Carter, the Carter Family, the Statler Brothers Quartet, Carl Perkins and the Tennessee Three.

All shows will be on stage twice nightly at 6 and 9:30 p.m.

The Keystone Colt Stakes Harness Racing Circuit will be run Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 1 p.m. City and County Playground Days are scheduled for August 10 and 11 respectively.

Wednesday afternoon's entertainment includes a rock show while a Demolition Derby is scheduled for Thursday.

Dan Fleenor's Hurricane Fieldrivers will be on hand Friday and Saturday August 14 and 15, along with several circus acts.

All shows start at 2 p.m.

Meadowbrook Now Showing 'Apple Tree'

Something new and different is coming to the Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove. Instead of two or three consecutive acts of one story, there are three separate musical comedies in The Apple Tree which opened May 27, starring Dorothy Collins and Ron Stewart.

Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, who wrote the songs for Fiddler on the Roof, are the authors of both the songs and the book for The Apple Tree, the first song-and-dance entertainment divided into three parts. The plays are based on three famous short stories.

The Diary of Adam and Eve by Mark Twain is the source for the first musical. At a time when nudity occurs in so many stage and film attractions, the bareness of the characters might be justified, but instead all will be fully garbed. Adam will wear slacks and a sweater, Eve will be dressed in a shift and the snaky fellow will sport a tuxedo with a bit of red handkerchief showing in his breast pocket.

The second musical is based on The Lady or The Tiger by Frank Stockton, and still leaves the audience with the unanswered question—did the princess give a hint to her lover as to which of the two doors to open.

A spoofing of the Cinderella story done by the great satirist-cartoonist Jules Feiffer is the basis of the third comedy. His story is about a grimy chimney sweep who turns into a glamorous movie star and back again into her former dirty-faced self in a film.

Dividend Set At Howard

The Howard Savings Institution paid its 319th consecutive dividend, totaling over $5 million Monday, according to John W. Kress, bank president.

The sum was a combination of quarterly interest earned on time savings accounts and monthly interest earned on regular savings accounts. It brought to over $11 million the dividends paid by the bank during the last three months. This is $1,480,000 more than the interest paid for the corresponding three-month period a year ago.
