Office Building Proposed For Joralemon Street

A two-story professional building will be proposed for Joralemon Street in the fall, it was learned by the Times this week.

The building would be constructed on an approximately 1 1/4 acre site which has the Third River on two sides, a cemetery on a third side, and 100 feet of frontage on Joralemon Street. The rear of the building would face the 250 unit Bridge Brooke Gardens apartment community which was completed in 1968.

The Times first received notice of the proposal when a press release reached this office indicating that the Tryon Construction Corporation of Paramus was considering building the structure on the Belleville site.

The release indicated said that "developer Arnold Nelson's proposal to construct a two-story professional building in the Joralemon section of Belleville is nearing reality following a statistical report which indicates the property would be put to its best use and that the modern facility would upgrade the area."

In substance, the statement, which was prepared by a Paramus public relations firm, presented figures which reportedly shows that the facility represents a sound tax relief proposal for Belleville.

The statement did not indicate who owns the land or when the proposal would be before the town zoning Board.

After a phone call to the public relations firm, the Times learned that the owners of the land are the same people who built the Bridge Brook Gardens.

The Times was further apprised of the proposal from Paul Waldinger, who owns 25 per cent of both the apartments and the land for the professional building. Waldinger says he is president of Nansen Belleville Incorporated, which owns the other 75 per cent.

Waldinger indicated that several officials in town have been appraised of the proposal and that he hopes to apply for a variance sometime in the fall. A lawyer representing the group appeared last month before the Belleville Planning Board at a public hearing at School Eight which had been scheduled to air the proposed new zoning ordinance and map. The lawyer asked the area be rezoned for business use.

Waldinger indicated that the lawyer was not well received by the planning Board. "Members of the Planning Board acted like animals when we sent our representative to the meeting," Waldinger said.

The land in question is zoned on both the old map and the proposed new one as STRESSES GOALS — Josephine Maiorca, valedictorian for Belleville High School's Class of 1970, stresses the need for higher goals in our society at last Tuesday's commencement exercises at the Stadium.

Students Stress Positive Goals At Graduation

by Nat Gottlieb

Under gray, forbidding skies, Belleville High School's first graduating class of the new decade accepted diplomas with a firm promise to seek "higher goals" through "determination," and "consideration for others."

The weather, which threatened to spoil the class of 1970's final appearance, hung like a grim reminder of the troubled times which this year's class acknowledged it will be facing.

Among the 170 boys and 206 girls to receive diplomas, there were the traditional expressions of joy, the nostalgic tears, and the frequent looks of perplexity, as the seniors prepared to enter a decade which they said is plagued with division and turmoil.

Josephine Maiorca, class valedictorian, introduced her class' graduation theme, saying that "through determination and consideration a goal can be attained."

The Montclair State bound scholar spoke of the need for setting goals in contemporary society.

"Engulfed in an era of violence and death," Miss Maiorca said, "we are inundated with various opinionated points of view, some new, some revolutionary. Because we are existing in such a controversial society, we must establish definite goals and constantly keep them in sight. At times our problems may seem rampant, feeling of failure may clutch at us. However, we should never lose sight of our goals. All else may have collapsed, but if we cling desperately to these goals we will have the strength to continue on life's long road."

Class salutatorian, Martin Fuchs, spoke of the need to exercise "determination" in reaching whatever goals may be set. He indicated that determination was a founding

Belleville Priest Ordained

A former Belleville resident is awaiting assignment to a parish after being ordained for the priesthood last week.

Rev. Victor J. Mazza Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor J. Mazza of Wayne, was ordained for the Diocese of Paterson at St. John's Cathedral in that town.

Father Mazza lived with his family at 230 Union Avenue before moving to Wayne nine years ago.

The new priest has long been active in youth activities, and hopes to continue working with youngsters in the Paterson parish.

A graduate of St. Peter's School in Belleville, the 25 year old priest went to Essex Catholic High School and

On Library Vote

Casale Charges Officials 'Influenced By Crowds'

The Town Commission has again drawn unfavorable criticism from a high ranking local official over its rejection of a library expansion move two weeks ago.

This week Library Board president Joseph Casale charged that "a couple of commissioners who voted against the expansion listened to crowd reaction and did not vote solely on the merits of the ordinance."

Last week Mayor Ken Smith chastized his fellow commissioners for voting 3-2 against purchase of land and a building adjacent to the Library's main branch for use by that facility. The Mayor charged in a public statement after the voting that commissioners hadn't "one accomplishment in this town outside of the parking lot since we've been in office." Smith had voiced strong approval for the expansion move, as did Commissioner William Cullen.

Casale, who is also vice president of the Belleville Board of Education, said he was "upset by the manner in which the bill was rejected."

Declining to mention names, Casale said "there were strong

Dare-Devils and Fireworks Will Highlight Celebration

A childrens field day, circus exhibitions and a dazzling display of fireworks are planned for this years July 4 celebration at Municipal Stadium.

Commissioner William Cullen, director of Parks and Public Property, this week announced details of the celebration day, which traditionally sees the stadium packed to capacity by residents.

In the morning, races, special events and prizes will be the order of things, as local youngsters compete in the annual field day at the Stadium's track.

Once again, a circus extravaganza has been arranged by Howard Oliver, who has brought together many circus shows in the past few years.

Setting the tempo for the entertainment will be maestro Lou Gintella and his

10,000 Candles Set For Birthday

Plans are well underway to make this year's Independence Day celebration a special one for a local youth.

About 10,000 candles will be lighted during the July 4 observance to mark the 16th birthday of Belleville's Craig Fabian, who was left partially paralyzed in a swimming accident a year ago.

The Craig Fabian Fund, composed of local residents, hopes to sell the large number of candles between now and the July 4 to help raise cash to defray the costs to the Fabian family for Craig's rehabilitation.

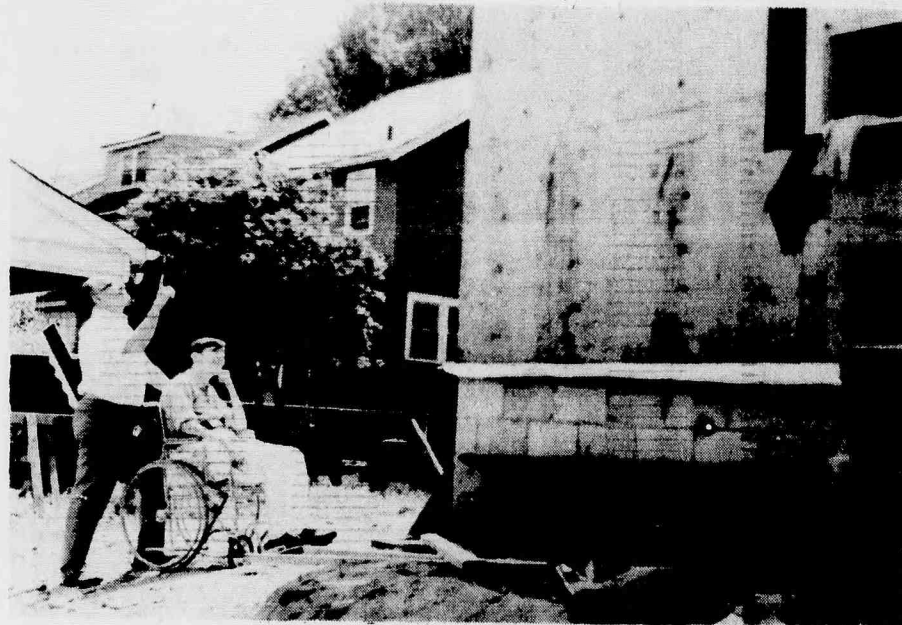

Many of the candles, which will sell for a dollar, have already been sold to local organizations, and more are being sold every day by scouts and local groups.

Craig, who was active with the Scouts, was injured in a swimming accident at a scout summer camp last year and was left partially paralyzed. This past year he has been undergoing therapy at the Kessler Institute in West Orange, and is expected to return home this summer.

But in order for Craig to adapt to living at the Fabian house on 207 Malone

Mayor Threatens To Close Highway On Monday

ACCIDENT SCENE — Mayor Ken Smith (right) inspects scene of fatal accident Monday on Route 21 with Acting Police Chief Joe Smith. The Mayor says he will shut down the highway Monday unless the state promises to install safety features, one of which would be a wall to stop cars from flipping into the river, as was the case last Sunday.

Mayor Ken Smith says he will direct Belleville Policemen to shutdown Route 21 this Monday unless the State Highway Department agrees in writing to provide safety features for the hazardous roadway.

The Mayor's threat comes in the wake of a fatal accident on the roadway Sunday involving a 15 year old Belleville girl.

In a letter addressed to the State Commissioner of Transportation John Kohl, Smith chastized the Highway Department for "ignoring this town's pleas for safety features on the roadway", and charged that the fatal accident Sunday was "due to the laxity of your department in erecting the necessary wall and proper lighting on this highway as they agreed to."

Smith says he will order the highway shut unless he receives assurance from the State that concrete walls, reflectors, signs, and other safety features are forthcoming.

In early March of this year the Mayor received a letter from the State Highway Department promising safety features, including increasing the height and strength of guardrails, and the installation of warning lights.

As of this week, none of these features has been installed by the state, Smith said.

The Mayor and many public officials have written the state the past few years requesting safety devices but nothing has come from Trenton.

Sunday, 15 year old Kathleen DeFago of 8 Bernice Road died when a car she was a passenger in flipped over a guardrail on the roadway northbound and fell on its roof in the Passaic River.

The driver of the car, Joseph Zaino, 17, of 69 Gless Avenue, and a second

Mayor Smith To Close Road Unless State Acts

In the Mayor's letter to the transportation commissioner, Smith said, "It now becomes necessary for me as director of Public Safety to protect the lives of our people. I must take action. Unless I receive confirmation from your Department by Monday, I will close this highway—northbound through

Belleville."

The Mayor's letter was sent by registered mail Monday.

About two miles of Rt. 21 flow through Belleville along the Passaic River. Since its inception in 1958, 14 deaths by auto accident have occurred on the Belleville section of the highway, according to figures from Belleville Police.

Neighboring Nutley has had three deaths on the roadway in that period of time, and has reported frequent accidents.

In many instances, cars have gone out of control and flipped the guard rails into the river. The guard rails through Belleville are bent and scarred throughout a good deal of the two mile area, and in many instances have been replaced.

In March of 1967, Town Manager John Burnett sent a six page report to the State Highway Department concerning "hazardous conditions along portions of Route 21, Belleville, including entrances and exits."

That report included the following facts about conditions on the highway:

- *The center guard rail is approximately 30" in height. The outside guard rail is approximately 24" in height.
- *There are no signs or other devices warning the motorist of the approaching curve and merging traffic.
- *There is a steep paved river embankment along the eastside of the highway curve, with approximately 25 feet difference in elevation between the highway and river.
- *Snow and gravel accumulations at various locations along the highway decreases the effective height of the outside guard rail.
- *As of March 15, 1967, the count of the number of guard rail sections that appear to have been recently replaced in the North bound lane between Holmes Street and the Nutley line is 24.

*On the same day, the count of the number of guard rail sections that were scarred or showed definite evidence of being struck was 30. Each guard rail is approximately 12 feet long.

In that report, the town recommended that delineators be placed along the first portion of the highway. In addition, increasing the height of guard rails was suggested, and the installation of warning signs at dangerous curves.

Funeral services have been set tomorrow for the Belleville girl who died Sunday. A 9:30 a.m. mass will be offered Friday in St. Anthony's Church.

Police said Miss DeFago was pronounced dead at the hospital a short time after the accident occurred at 10:28 p.m. about three quarters of a mile from the Belleville Bridge on the northbound lane of Route 21.

Witnesses across the river in North Arlington called local police after the car flipped into the river and, North Arlington alerted Belleville Police.

Within minutes, three patrolmen and a passerby, Daniel Spahr, 28, of Rutherford scammed down the river's edge to help extricate the passengers.

Police said Zaino got out of the car unaided and helped police and Spahr pull out the two girls from the car which was lying on its roof in the water.

The matter has been referred to the Essex County Prosecutors office, as it is the case with all deaths by auto accidents.

Group To Seek Office Building On Town Site

"A" residential, which allows for one-family housing construction only.

Waldinger's group hopes to build the professional building on 14,589 square feet of floor space for use by doctors, lawyers, accountants and similar professionals. He said there would be no problem attracting the professionals because many doctors and lawyers don't want to work out of their homes."

The release says that the building would bring tax rates to the town estimated at $20,745 per year, and said that taxes on the land currently amount to $135.72. Waldinger said these figures and others used in the release were obtained from Town Hall officials.

The release claims that only two or three houses could be placed on the site and that "due to the price of land, houses on this site would have to sell for at least $60,000. Homes at this price on Joralemon Street could never be sold and therefore would be unfeasible to build.

Belleville Priest Ordained

received a B.A. degree from Seton Hall University.

Father Mazza attended Darlington Seminary before transferring to the Immaculate Conception Seminary in Conception, Missouri.

The priest's father recalls that his son's interest in the church began at an early age.

"He was very active at St. Peter's Church," his father remembers. "I used to take him to Mass every morning. I think he made his decision to be a priest when he was 12 years old."

Rev. Victor Mazza Jr. Enters Priesthood

Characterized by his father as an "organizer with lots of energy," the new priest has won many friends among young people the past few years.

He spent the summers of 1968 and 1969 supervising a Paterson program for underprivileged youngsters, often taking 300 children to swimming places and for hikes in the woods. His popularity and involvement with the program caught the eye of a local Paterson newspaper which published a special feature article on him and his activities.

Father Mazza's popular reputation with youth was continued at Seminary school in Missouri where he was active with youngsters in the parish area.

The Mazza family is a large one, with three brothers and three sisters in addition to the new priest. One of the daughters is a Dominican nun in Jersey City.

First Mass for Father Mazza was celebrated at Our Lady of Consolation Church in Wayne.

Student Clarinetist Caps Distinguished Career

A highly acclaimed student clarinetist from Belleville High School has been accepted into two prominent musical groups for youth.

Bruce Creditor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Creditor of 25 Wilber Street, has been accepted for the American Youth Performs National Orchestra, and the Boston University Tanglewood Institute 1970 Artist Program at the Berkshire Music Center in Lenox, Mass.

Previously this year, Bruce performed as assistant solo clarinet with the 1969-70 Youth Symphony Orchestra of New York in concerts at Carnegie and Philharmonic Halls. Conductor of this talented ensemble is Isaiah Jackson, III, a Ph.D. candidate in conducting at the Juilliard School of Music. Bruce is looking forward to performing with this organization in the coming year.

Bruce has many notable achievements. He was chosen as first chair Clarinet of the 1969 New Jersey All-State High School Orchestra, the upper-most level of musical achievement attainable by a high school student in the State. He also participated in the 1969 and 1970 All North Jersey High School Bands, and All-State High School Bands 1968, 1969 and 1970 Northern New Jersey Operatic Festival Orchestras, and 1966-68 New Jersey Symphony Preparatory Orchestra. Bruce has attended the 1968 University of Vermont Summer Music Session for high school students and the 1969 National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich.

Bruce a junior at Belleville High School, is secretary of the Key Club, an honor organization sponsored by the Kiwanis, and a member of the National Honor Society. His musical activities in high school include participation in the band, stage band, pit band of the musicals, and piano accompanist for the choruses. Baker's Dozen and Bellaries. Bruce began playing clarinet in the fourth grade at school Seven, under the supervision of Bernard Evans. He has played in the All-Grammar School Band and Orchestra and for the Junior High Band and Orchestra and Dance Band. At the 1968 New Jersey Music Educators Association in Atlantic City, he gave a demonstration of the electronic clarinet with Bud Doty of Chicago, of Maestro Electric Music Systems.

Presently Bruce is a clarinet student of John Morsillo in Belleville. Bruce plans to follow a career in music.

The American Youth Performs National Orchestra, comprised of high school students throughout the country, Mexico and Canada, selected by taped auditions, convened in New York City the week of May 1st to 6th, and performed at Rockefeller Center and at Carnegie Hall on May 7 at its 5th annual "Musical Night to Remember, conducted by Carmen Dragon conductor, music director and recording artist, from Hollywood and Glendale, California, and Louis Campiglia from San Diego.

The enthusiastically received program included works by Dvorak, Ibert, Tchaikovsky and Sibelius. Sponsored by American Airlines, the organization's president Charles Abdo, says "AYP promotes this type of high caliber national performance for our youth because it aids in enhancing the cultural image of our young men and women" and that "this orchestra is a launching platform for young performing artists."

The Boston University Tanglewood Institute - Young Artist Program, eight weeks of intensive study and performance, is designed to lend a new dimension to musical education for exceptionally talented high school musicians. Chosen to participate in the program on the basis of their performance in nation-wide auditions, the Young Artists have a rare opportunity to study with members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and faculty from the Division of Music at Boston University.

Rodino Introduces A Bill To Stop Narcotics Flow

Rep. Peter W. Rodino, Jr. stated today that he is introducing legislation in the House of Representatives to cut off economic and military assistance to any country that does not take appropriate steps to prevent narcotics which are illegally produced within its borders from

"For sometime now I have been strongly advocating that the Federal government face the agonizing facts that narcotic addiction has become a National epidemic and that strong measures are needed if this epidemic is to be abated."

Wall Street

Recently The Wall Street Journal published a lead story which was partially captioned "The Street of Despair." The reference was to the attitudes and feelings of people who earn their living in Wall Street.

One Wall Street expert was asked whether or not the economic condition facing the country today was "1929 all over again." The investment broker responded "in my judgment it is 1928-7/8."

There is no doubt that the last six months have seen a drop in the economic level of our business activity. There is increased unemployment. The cost of money has been going higher-higher and higher. This is the first time in the history of this country that we are witnessing the phenomenon of simultaneous inflation and recession. Things are so bad in this country that American banks are required to seek loans from European banks at exorbitant rates of interest which are passed on to prime borrowers and all the way down the line, ultimately reaching the consumer.

We believe the prime rate to borrow money established by the Federal Reserve Bank is too high a price to pay for the use of money. A year ago we wrote in favor of wage controls.

We do not know whether or not this is 1929 all over again but of one thing we are certain—the people of this country are confronted with serious financial trouble. And though we receive sugar-coated assurances from Washington we need meaningful action because the time for speeches has long since passed.

Major industries like Hoffman-LaRöche Inc., the tiffany of New Jersey industry, have curtailed expansion plans. Large chain stores which budgeted millions of dollars for capital expenditures have suspended their programs. The cost to borrow money is too high a price to pay for progress.

The war in Vietnam has been blamed as the root cause for our financial troubles. Whatever the cause, we are feeling the effects.

The stock market is down and even though there were signs last week that some stocks experienced an upturn in prices it is the judgment of many professionals that the stock market isn't going anywhere for a long, long time.

We talked with a member of Congress last week who said most of his mail until recently, was about Vietnam. Today there are more letter writers complaining to Congressmen about financial hardships than there are people who are writing about the Vietnam war.

If you are feeling the tight money pinch and have not expressed an opinion to your Congressman about your problems we suggest you do so at your earliest opportunity. And while you are at it, a letter to President Nixon won't do any harm either.

Letters-To-The-Editor

Our editorial department is excited and happy over the prolific letterwriting of our readers. Scanning pages of recent issues of this newspaper the reader must be impressed with the increasing number of Letters-to-The-Editor which have been published on this and adjoining pages.

One of the prerequisites to publication is the requirement that every Letter-to-The-Editor be signed.

Beyond this basic requirement we should like to bring to the attention of our readers who desire to express themselves publicly with correspondence the following State law concerning libel and slander: "Any person who knowingly and willfully states, delivers or transmits to any owner, manager, editor, publisher, reporter or employee of, or connected with, any newspaper, magazine, periodical or other publication, or of any radio or television station, any false, defamatory, libelous or untrue statement or representation as though it were a fact, concerning any person, and thereby secures the publication, broadcasting or televising of the statement or representation, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

It is obvious from a cursory examination of the above statute that a reader whose letter is published which contains false statements defaming an innocent party exposes himself or herself to serious legal consequences. We recommend to readers who write letters to newspapers or other media of public print that the above law be clipped and saved for future reference.

Fidel Castro's Sugar

American writers constantly attempt to analyze conditions in Cuba and in the process a majority—a vast majority—have been predicting annually that Fidel Castro was in trouble with the people of Cuba because the country had failed to meet its sugar production goal.

Only a few years ago much was being made of the fact that Castro had failed to produce six million tons of refined sugar. It was said rightly that more than this had been produced in pre-Castro years and that because of dissatisfaction among the people and inefficiency in the regime higher goals would never be met.

This year most American analysts are saying the failure of Castro to meet the 1970 goal—now ten million tons—is a big blow to the regime, that Castro is in trouble with the people, etc. Most of these forecasts of doom and trouble for Castro are, however, wishful thinking, as they have been for years.

The fact that Castro is a communist, running a communist regime, should not lead us into the land of fairy tales. He is popular with the people of Cuba, always has been. He has increased sugar production since taking power. He has greatly improved educational opportunity, and other opportunities for the poor. Hiding from these truths will get us nowhere, and though there is no democracy in Cuba, as there is none in Russia, the living standard of the people has been raised in both—and also in China.

FLAG DAY — The George Washington Bridge was the scene Sunday on Flag Day. Times editor Nat Gottlieb got carried away when he saw the gigantic flag, stopped his car and took the photo.

Film Revivals Promise Entertainment For Viewers

by Nat Gottlieb

If you're tired of contemporary films which flood the screen with a barrage of bloody violence, motorcycle manic-depressive anti-heroes, and an occasional breast or two, we suggest you pay a visit to The New Yorker Theatre on Broadway and 88th Street in Manhattan.

That theatre, which has built a fine reputation for bringing classical foreign flicks to the city, is currently featuring 28 films by some of the best known European directors in a cinema festival par excellence running now through July 8.

Most of the flicks you'll see are products of the 1930's, with an occasional modern offering by the controversial director Jean Luc Godard or by Robert Bresson.

If there is one thing all the films have in common, it is the absence of what has become today's trend toward cinema gimmickry, which uses all the latest zoom lenses, color techniques and trick stunts to capture the attention of the theatre goer. Many of these gimmick films, however, are good flicks in the same way that television commercials are fascinating to watch.

The New Yorker's offerings, despite their age, show a sophisticated awareness for the subtleties of good cinema, and are backed up by excellent direction and in most cases fine acting.

Thus far we've taken in four of the festival's offerings since it opened on June 11, and have logged almost ten hours in the darkness looking up at the black and white flicks. There hasn't been a dull moment of viewing for us, however, as we've seen Marcel Pagnol's

"Harvest," "Marais," "The Well Digger's Daughter," and Jean Luc Godard's "Breathless."

Tonight the theatre offers Georges Franju's "Therese" and Jean Luc Godard's "Alphaville" (1965).

"Therese" is new quantity to us, but "Alphaville" is no stranger, having seen it twice before in the movies and once in a rathered butchered television version.

Alphaville takes you on a complicated, often impossible to figure out adventure through a fictitious city in the future super-age of technology. On one level it's a good science fiction thriller whose plot "resembles" a spy adventure, although far more challenging to the intellect in conception and execution.

The film is very typical of Godard, who today is one of the acknowledged giants of French cinema. One element of the director's style which you won't find in most American films, is a tendency toward mixing the documentary style with the fictional, the result often being an effective essay on the human condition. Godard also makes no pretensions about the fact you are watching a movie, and in many instances characters make amusing references to the audience and sometimes stage their own movie within a movie.

Tomorrow the theatre offers Alphaville again plus Pagnol's "Fanny," no pun intended. Featured in "Fanny" is the famous French comedian, Raimu, who along with a comic named Fernandel has to rank as equal to any of the giants of our cinema a la Chaplin and Buster Keaton.

Kids Criticize 18 Industries

To the Editor:

We, the 8A Social Studies Class, would like to thank you for the intense coverage you gave us during our studies of a current problem: pollution. Your publications not only proved to the people of Belleville that Earth Day was not just another twenty-four of daily life in our town, but it also showed that the teen-age students of our area do care about our community. Proper coverage of the "good" performed by the youth of the society can only serve to encourage future salutary deeds.

We would also like to take this opportunity to thank the local industries who helped us in our studies. Although only seven companies answered our call for assistance, each of that number proved to be very enthused in the fight to combat pollution. They not only served great educators to the students, but they also showed that they care about Belleville, for each of them are presently spending extreme amounts of money to help in the reduction of pollution.

It was very discouraging to find that eighteen of the local industries did not reply to our inquiry for information. To these companies we can only say thanks for nothing! Because they did not respond to our needs, we brought about a few conclusions of our own. Either they pollute our air and waters too much to come back and battle it, or perhaps they do not care about this lethal problem that may one day be the death of you and I, or maybe they do not believe in the education of our youth. Who knows...only they!

Sincerely yours,

Conservatives: Use The Laws For Changing

To the Editor,

It is my sincere desire to inform you and the citizens of Belleville that a chapter of the Young Americans for Freedom has been founded within the town.

For those unaware of this organization, the Y.A.F., was founded in September of 1960, by William F. Buckley and a number of his colleagues in Sharon, Conn.

During the past ten years, Young Americans for Freedom has tried to uphold the basic American ideals bestowed upon us by our Founding Fathers.

Our assemblage is geared to a very conservative philosophy, not unwilling to see reform come about, however, this reform can only be attained through a constitutional process as was designated at the inception of this nation.

Reform cannot be dictated by violence! Democratic reformation is initiated by a peaceful and orderly means.

I have attempted to outline only a few of our many policies. Those interested in inquiring further in regard to our activities may contact me. We will try to convey the information you wish.

Thank you for your attention.
Mark Stabinski, Chairman of the Belleville Area Y.A.F.

Youngster Says She's 'Concerned' About Pool Facility

To The Editor:

I am concerned about the pool. There are many people who can't afford a pool, and I think that we should be able to get a pool for them.

Some people have pools. Those people I'm not concerned about. Also we do need one.
Karen Cavanaugh
age 9

391 Cortlandt Street

(The "pool" Karen refers to was a portable swimming pool which Commissioner Bill Cullen proposed for the Cortlandt Street area three weeks ago. A $15,000 bonding ordinance to cover costs was defeated by a 2-2 Commission vote-editor)

Review Lacking

To The Editor:

After reading your review on the Fantasticks, I must say I am very disappointed in your lack of vision and appreciation of a really great show, that took months of extra work on everybody's part. I am sorry that you didn't come to watch a few rehearsals, like I did, because you would have realized how much work these kids put in it, not to mention the music teachers who spent a lot of their extra time on it.

Perhaps you thought their was something lacking because you didn't understand the play. Your review seems to show this. I understood it, and I'm only in Jr. High. Maybe you didn't like it because this play made you use your imagination, and think about what was going on. You had to use your mind to understand this show, everything wasn't just spelled out for you. I don't think you can condemn it, if you didn't understand it.

I had written this letter before I found out that Mr. John Mc Carthy is a high school student. I don't see what right he has to review this play. His biased opinion was uncalled for by everyone. I wish he would remember that these kids aren't professional, although all of them act as well as pros and for all the work they put into the show, this review destroys all that work.

I think it's your review, not the show that has something lacking. The cast, the crew, and everybody involved put a lot into the Fantasticks. It's a shame you didn't get more out of it, than you looked blindly for.

Yours truly,
Sue Narucki

Councilman James R. Golden expressed disappointment over the surprisingly few evidences of display of the flag from private homes throughout the town on Flag Day. Attributing the oversight to the probability that Flag Day, set apart to pay respect to the flag, was not observed as a "stay home from work day," Golden said he would urge local veteran groups to embark upon an educational program to enlighten citizens to the importance of displaying the flag.

High School Seniors Talk On Graduation

QUESTION: What are your feelings now on high school graduation day?
ASKED: Of Nutley and Belleville graduating high school seniors.

Betty Ohlandt, 184 Coeyman Avenue, Nutley:

On this day I feel confused. I know I'm going on to better things but I'm also leaving behind something I liked. I'm going on to Upsala College in the fall and it will be a big change. The biggest part of it will be the new responsibilities to myself. In a way, it will be 'make it or break it.' The teachers at college aren't going to be on you all the time to do your work. I will have to tell myself to do it. What I enjoyed most at Nutley High was the choral group I belonged to for four years. That and all the friends. The thing I disliked most here was math.

Joe Cobiainchi, 4 South Wilber Street, Belleville:

I feel great today. It's been a long year of school and graduation day is a sort of celebration to myself of 12 long years of schooling. Right now I'm stable in my job. I'm going to school for auto mechanics but that's a lot different from high school. I liked English most at school because that's where I learned the most. What I disliked most about school was the feeling of captivity. Now I'll feel free but at school they kept a pretty tight reign on the students. After graduation tonight I intend to celebrate. I didn't hate school but I'm very happy to finally be out.

Maureen Vinciguerra, 137 Ohlson Avenue, Nutley:

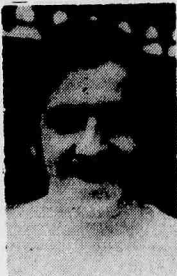

I most surely am going to miss high school. I've had a lot of great times here and today I feel very confused. I'm sure I will cry tonight at graduation exercises. I feel sort of mixed up in going on to college in the fall. I'll be leaving behind many good friends. I'll have to admit that it's a scary feeling, to be going on to college and making your own decisions. Also, I will be meeting new people and having new experiences. This is good, but I hope I'm prepared for all of it. What I liked most here was all the great kids but I didn't like the way some of the students took everything for granted.

Pete Vaccarelli, 132 Williams Street, Belleville:

I feel very happy that I'm getting out of Belleville High for good tonight. In a way I don't want to leave but I also realize that it's a part of growing up. I didn't like all the homework at school and it kept me indoors many nights. I'll be attending Union Junior College in the fall but I expect that to be a totally different experience than high school. I'm looking forward to it, it's going to be a different way of life. It will be a challenge to me to succeed in college.

Walter Winchell enjoyed telling the one about the editor wanting to insult a letter-writer, and yet not daring to do so openly, said to him as he was leaving the office: "Goodbye old boy, and when you get home throw your mother a bone."

Former Domestic Relations Court Judge Milton Schamach enjoys telling the one about his dear friend Joe Levy, who was approached by his daughter Becky, "Papa" Becky said, "you know that rich Mr. Leventhal? Well he betrayed me and I'm going to have a baby soon." Mr. Levy replied, "My God. Where is he. I'll kill him! Give me his address. I'll moider him." Dashing to the rich man's home, Levy cornered Mr. Leventhal and in a loud voice he told Leventhal what he intended to do. But the rich Mr. Leventhal was quite calm, "Don't get excited" he said, "I ain't running away, and I intended to do the right thing by your daughter. If she has a child and its a boy, she gets $50,000. If its a girl, I will settle $35,000 on her. Is that fair?" Joe Levy halted, and as the look of anger receded from his face, he pleaded "and if it's a miscarriage will you give her another chance?"

Our Managing Editor, Phil White was lunching with our Belleville Times Editor, Nat Gottlieb. They were sizing up the other diners and classifying each in categories of doctors, lawyers, brokers, businessmen. They disagreed about an elderly gentleman seated near the window with a beautiful blonde. Phil insisted the old man must be a stockbroker while Nat maintained he was a physician. To settle the argument Phil called the old gentleman away from the girl to their table. "To settle a bet?" Phil said, "would you mind telling v", what your occupation is? Nat says you are a doctor while my guess is that you are a broker." The old gentleman surveyed them both a moment and replied, "I am neither. I'm a taxidermist." Nat asked "What is that,"

"Don't you know?" replied the old gentleman "First you stuff the bird, then you mount it."

Elston Howard tells the one about the little country girl who died recently. The grave marker reads "Here lies Isobel Lehrs, for her death holds no terrors, born a virgin, died a virgin, no hits, no runs, no errors."

...and now comes the Nixon administration telling us that the fair sex finally has achieved equality with their male counterparts. No longer can an employer limit employee selection to males if a female can perform the job. Women can no longer be discriminated against when seeking employment. The new Nixon guidelines prohibit Federal contractors from (1) denying employment to women with young children unless the same exclusionary policy exists for men, (2) penalizing women in their conditions of employment because they require time away from work for child bearing. Child bearing must be considered a justification for a leave of absence for a reasonable length of time, (3) specifying any difference for male and female employees on the basis of sex in either mandatory or optional retirement age.

KRIS KINGLE whose singing talent contributed to the fame of the Artie Shaw Band recently was appointed entertainment director of Miami's Jockey Club. Judging from the list of entertainment events the Club has sponsored over the past few months Kris is doing as well in her new job as she did with Artie Shaw. There is keen competition between Carling Dinkler's Palm Bay Club and Walter Trautman's Jockey Club. For club members the competition provides them with the choice of attending activities and functions of two excellent clubs.

Belleville friends of Jimmy and "Mickey" Derbyshire will be pleased to know that the couple is busy tending to the thousands of Barbara Bauer, who is going places with National Airlines, on one of her flights overheard a father entertaining his son with the following story about a colored girl named Mandy who was being delivered of a child. Downstairs waited her Sam. Mandy suffered great labor pain and all together had a hard time of it. Finally when it was all over she sighed and told her mother, "If this is what married life is like, you go down and tell Sam our engagement is off!"

SHERIFF RALPH D'AMBOLA tells the one about the voter who stopped him and said "Why, I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter himself." Ralph replied "If I were St. Peter you couldn't vote for me, you wouldn't be in my district."

Picked Up En Route: Nelson Gross, the Republican candidate for United States Senator from New Jersey says what most foreign governments want from the U.S. is to be left a loan. Stewardess Nancy Grigor, boasting of EAL's superior food, was overheard telling a passenger who was being served sandwiches "our swiss cheese has 30% fewer cavities..."

What are the thoughts of a mother with a boy in Vietnam? Some time ago a Robert Quillen attempted to reflect in a prayer a mother's thoughts about her child at the battlefield. And here it is:

The Prayer of A Mother Whose Boy is Over There

DEAR LORD, our Savior, you understand the heart of a mother.

As the darkness gathered that awful Friday evening when you hung on the Cross, and only your most devoted followers dared to be there, your mother stood in front of all the others, so near she could hear you speak. She knew the danger, but her love had overcome fear.

I know you pity mothers for you pitied her. Almost your last thought was for her. To your best-loved friend, who stood beside her, you said: "Behold your mother." And to her you said: "Woman, behold your son." You knew how great her need would be, and you gave her another son to comfort her aching heart.

I know it is selfish of me to pray for my boy, when so many others are there with him and some must surely die, but you taught us to pray for our daily bread, and this is so much more important than bread. Keep him safe, dear Lord.

He is a stalwart man now, but to me he is still the little boy I held to my breast. When storms came at night, and he was afraid of the dark, I sat beside him until he fell asleep.

Help him to remember and be strengthened by that blessed line in the Psalms, "What time I am afraid, I will trust in Thee."

HELP HIM to remember you always and to feel your presence beside him on the battlefield. Help him to love you above all else, with the perfect love that casts out fear.

It is a terrible thing for a boy so young to be in battles. He always hated to kill anything, and now he must kill to save the world that you loved so well and died to save. Help him to understand, for he is bravest when he knows he is right.

Forgive me if I am selfish, but I beseech you to keep him in your special care. Be his shield when death reaches for him. Don't let him be hurt. Bring him safely back to me.

But if he must fall - dear Lord, if that must be his sacrifice and mine, give him fortitude and grace to meet it bravely and serenely, knowing that his life is a ransom for many others. And give me grace and courage to accept it without bitterness or rebellion of spirit, and the humility to say in my heart, "Thy will be done." Amen.

Man In The News

Robert DeLitta Is Youngest Captain Ever

Youngest man ever to advance himself to the position of captain in the Nutley Police Department is the new commander of the midnight to 8 p.m. shift, Captain Robert DeLitta.

Appointed sergeant in August of 1967, the new captain was sworn in his present position by Town Clerk Mrs. Unice Drake on June 9 at ceremonies in the Public Safety Building. The appointment was part of an overall move by Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth to reorganize and strengthen the Nutley department.

Only recently turned 31 years old, DeLitta has in seven short years stepped up the administrative ladder in Nutley from patrolman to his present position. He placed first in his civil service exam for patrolman in December of 1962, and ranked highest in the state on the exam for sergeant in April of 1967.

Being the youngest captain ever could create problems with some older members of the Nutley force, but DeLitta, although admitting many queries into this, said there has been no adverse reaction.

"The problems have been nil," he commented. "The men in the department have responded to me without any feelings of animosity."

A lifelong resident of Nutley and 1957 graduate of Nutley High School, DeLitta said he chose police work because he gets "bored very easily."

Working in the shipping department with the now defunct George LaMonte and Son Co. on Kingsland Street for two years wasn't his cup of tea, the captain confessed.

"It was a dead-end road," he quipped.

"I entered the department because I was more curious than anything else," DeLitta continued.

The quick rise to his present capacity hasn't surprised the captain. He said that becoming a captain takes plenty of hard work, and he attended night school and entered many correspondence courses to prepare for the job.

"My year at the Police College of Police Science and Administration helped me more than anything else," he said. "It taught me the theory behind supervision and management."

DeLitta attended that branch of the City College of New York from September of 1965 to June of 1966.

Leisure time for the captain is filled by playing sax with a local quartet or weight lifting at the Passaic YMCA.

Helen's Thing ...

What You Want May Not Match What You Get

By Helen Maguire

Remember the old commercial, "I'd walk a mile for a Camel"? Well, I wouldn't walk two feet for any cigarette but the other night, I'd have walked two miles for an Italian hot dog.

When I was fresh out of college, I worked for a paint company in the Ironbound section of Newark. Every morning, the hot dog wagon arrived and the proprietor peddled the most delicious wieners, stuffed into a section of Italian bread and smothered with peppers, onions and potatoes. I can still taste them.

My search the other night was futile. I must have called every pizzeria and Italian restaurant in all of Nutley and Belleville. They offered me sausage and meatball sandwiches and sympathy but not one could come across with what I craved. Finally, I settled for a pizza which I really like but which at that moment was a very poor substitute.

When we set out to buy a living room rug, a few years ago, Rod and I went looking for a black and white tweed. Forget it. They had black, white and brown tweeds or black, white and gray tweeds but nothing which combined just the two colors. After much searching, we settled for bright red and the next year were tripping over black and white tweed rugs in every store.

The Safety Committee of Big Tree Garage sponsors a dinner-dance every year. The annual bash was set for March 21, the day after the twins were due but since the duet obligingly put in its appearance two weeks early, we were able to go. I discovered, however, with something akin to horror, that any dress I owned, suitable for such an affair, refused to encompass my still expanded frame. A perfect excuse for purchasing a new one, right? I envisioned something pretty in crepe or lace or dacron or silk. I was forced to settle for a blue linen two sizes larger than I normally wear and so simple that I could wear it grocery shopping and no one would think I was overdressed. A poor excuse for what I wanted but the only thing that fit.

Off to do the food shopping, a task which requires courage, steadfastness and plain nerve. Your mind is set on a roast beef, tender and juicy. But one horrified look at the price and you're a candidate for a couple of fast aspirins. So you settle for chicken or chopped meat, either of which you've learned to cook a dozen different ways and disguise with sauces, gravies, toppings or what have you.

I guess life is full of situations where we have to settle rather than select but to my original search. Does anyone know where I can get an Italian hot dog?

Students Returning from College Campuses Discovering 'Things' Are Different in Nutley

By Phil White

RETURNING COLLEGE students are coming back to their hometown only to discover that "things" somehow are different. This is a fact of June life which has proven itself over and over the past few weeks as these young citizens stop to say hello, complain, comment and suggest.

But has Nutley changed? They seem to think so. They are somewhat astonished that Nutley High School is still intact. Somehow or other, it seems the school should have fallen apart during recent months, if not because of unrest following the Cambodian invasion, then certainly because of having choked to death from air pollution.

And then too, there is surprise by the returning students that there is no "draft counseling service" here. After all, if you don't have draft counseling, how can anyone possibly hope to avoid getting caught? And somehow there ought to be a draft resistance office around here too.

How else has Nutley changed? Well there is no organized movement here to warn everyone of Nixon's distrust, of Agnew's untruths, and the Administration's fascist policies. There isn't even a mimeographing machine readily available that can pour out flyers announcing the next demonstration that doesn't even appear to be in the planning stage.

There was some sort of a sit-in this week in town. A couple of students became a little noisy in the Sweet Shop and found themselves being asked to leave. After some delay on their part, they reluctantly moved but only to a spot immediately outside the front entrance where they staged a sit-out. A June shower above caused the squatters below to cover themselves with huge cardboard boxes that were close by. For a while, it looked almost like Nutley hadn't changed at all since the college students went away last year. For a while, "things" looked normal.

Soo, however, the cops came-not in hardhats, unfortunately. In fact, not even in uniform. The squatters left. The June showers continued to fall. The town returned to its "abnormal" hum. And for a while, at least, "things" again were somehow different than they were last September. But somehow, it seems as if the changes took place not so much here as they did elsewhere.

RAY GIORDANO, president of the Nutley High School student council and one of the valedictorians at Tuesday night's commencement, has been the subject of unusual praise the past few weeks.

During the annual Awards Assembly, Ray was given a standing ovation by the senior class as he was called to the stage to accept a Yale University scholarship.

Principal David H. Broffman said that to his memory, he never can remember any student at Nutley High School so honored by his colleagues. Broffman was tremendously impressed; so was Ray Giordano.

As president of the Student Council, Ray Giordano has been unusually active not only within the school, but within the community. He helped establish the liaison between the student community and the Nutley Police Department, for example, a liaison that has helped ease the friction created by the town's loitering ordinance.

And Ray was the fellow who drummed up the interest for Earth Day in Nutley. The fruits of that inspiration are still visibly obvious today to those touring the area of the Third River through the Park System.

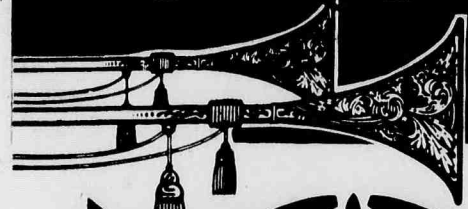

Last Thursday night at the Nutley Elks Flag Day program, Ray again came in for some praise when he was publicly commended as "having the most important character of a great person: humility."

Broffman readily admits that Ray was a tough person when it came to issues. "During the past year, Ray represented labor; I represented management," Broffman adds. "But we sat and we talked; there never was a problem that couldn't be discussed and we discussed those problems significant to us in this nation today."

A couple of weeks back, ITT Veep Walt Glomb-in making Rotary Scholar presentations-noted that the Class of 1970 at Nutley High will go down in history as "The Class of Leaders."

With that being true, then certainly many in Nutley should be indebted to Ray Giordano who becomes "The Leader of Leaders."

indications that a majority of the commissioners were for the expansion in a caucus Monday afternoon." A similar thought had been expressed by the Mayor last week.

The measure in question was a $42,000 bonding ordinance for purchase of land next to the library on Washington Avenue. According to Library officials, an existing house on the site would have been used by the Library and no new buildings were planned. Town physician Dr. Donald Brown owns the property.

In an interview with the Times, Casale said the Library Board has not given up its quest for expansion, and indicated it will invite commissioners to meet soon to discuss resubmitting the ordinance.

Casale emphasized sentiments expressed earlier this year by Library Director Ben Grim and Mayor Smith when he said the facility was "in desperate need of expansion." The structure was built, in the early 1900's when Belleville's population was 16,000. Sought is more shelf space, additional rooms to hold meetings and film sessions, and a general expansion of The Library's Functions.

Probation Violator Gets Prison Term

Violating his terms of probation cost a young Newark man his freedom for two months as Judge Edward Abromson levied the penalty at Belleville Criminal Court on June 11.

Pleading guilty to failing to pay a fine dating back to January of 1969 was Fred Falk of 104 Wakeman Avenue.

Probation Officer Richard Talty, who recommended the jail term, testified at the hearing that Falk was instructed by the court to pay a $100 fine and received one year probation for a larceny charge dating back to Avenue, an addition to the home has to be built with a special ramp and elevator which will cost about $6,500.

To help pay the heavy costs for Craig's rehabilitation and the addition to the house, the Fund was incorporated last year by a group of residents under the chairmanship of Horace Goodenough and Rev. Alfred Stone. Since its inception, the fund has attracted the aid of residents from all walks of life including many town officials with the result being that over $5,000 has been raised thus far.

Money is not the only aid being offered the Fabian family. Many residents in the construction line of business have contributed tools and material for the house addition. Pitching in on weekends to build the addition has been numerous friends of the family, including local firemen. Craig's father, William, is a deputy fire chief in the Belleville Fire Department.

Fund officials say the Craig Fabian Fund will be a permanent organization in Belleville, and indicated that it will aid any local youngster with a similar affliction.

In addition to the many local organizations and residents who have responded to the special July 4 celebration plans, a special ground fireworks display has been donated to mark Craig's birthday.

Board of Education member Caesar Romano will serve as master of ceremonies for the birthday observance. Romano is a vice chairman of the Fund.

Craig was very active with the Boy Scouts Troop 350, having attained the highest ranking of Eagle Scout. He was a junior assistant scoutmaster, which is the highest office a boy can hold in his troop.

The youngster was also a member of DeMolay and was active with the school band.

HOW radiant electric heat

converts igloos into comfortable homes

If you would like your house to be toasty warm this winter, and not go broke to heat it — read on. Hundred of thousands of home owners and apartment operators, (not to mention hospitals, hotels, motels, nursing homes, and business establishments throughout the United States), have discovered Radiant Electric Heat to be just what the doctor ordered for comfort and what the banker ordered for economy.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills. That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

Homeowners enjoy trouble free heat permanently. That's because all burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are heating equipment headaches — for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank, pump or boiler repairs, no valves to leak, no chimneys or air filters to clean or replace; no damage from leaking pipes; no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Homeowners tell us their health has improved. That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable. That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system.

If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.

School Official Testifies For State Aid Increase

Michael Rossamilia, assistant superintendent of Belleville schools, testified in Trenton June 9 in favor of increased state aid to public education.

It is a little hard to conceive of what smallpox was like in the time of Dr. Edward Jenner (1749-1823). For us it is a thing of the past, though there were 110,000 cases in the United States as late as 1921. In Europe in the eighteenth century, perhaps as many as one person in ten died of small pox, more than half of them children. People lived in terror of the consequences. However, smallpox was considered an asset if you had survived it in good shape, for all who had had it in a natural way were believed to be absolutely safe from another attack. Today vaccination is readily available to all and no deaths have been recorded for many years. All babies should be vaccinated during their first year and adults revaccinated about every five years. When you aren't feeling well your doctor is the one to see and when he recommends a prescription or patent medicine come to R O S S M O R E PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. Even a small glass of milk can be set in one cup and prevents spills.

The local administrator was among about 50 educators who urged enactment of Senate Bill 575 at a hearing conducted by the joint Senate and Assembly Education Committees in the State House.

The bill would provide a basis for increasing the state's share in financing local school districts from the present 26 per cent basis, to 40 per cent.

The New Jersey Education Association, meanwhile, had had praise for recommended increases in State aid to education but criticized proposals for funding the plan as too little, too late.

Without immediate State help, inflation and other cost factors may cause public education to "collapse" in some of the poorest New Jersey school districts next year, warned S. Herbert Starkey, director of research for the 65,000-member teacher organization. Increases in State school aid must be "immediate," he testified, and they must be "massive."

"Without such aid," Starkey told the joint Senate and Assembly Education Committees, "we predict the schools will not be able to operate effectively on the money that can be squeezed from the property taxpayer."

"The State must meet its obligations to keep all public schools open and functioning at least at a minimum quality level. This obligation must take top priority."

Starkey testified at a hearing on Senate Bill 575, which would provide a system of increasing State school aid to 40 per cent of actual costs, from its present 26 per cent, as recommended in 1968 by the State Aid to School Districts Study Commission. NJEA says the bill would be "immensely helpful" to New Jersey's public schools and urges that it be enacted and funded at once.

However, the State Administration is planning to fund the proposal in five annual stages. The first stage -- a $30 million increase in State school aid -- would not come until the 1971-72 school year.

Positive Goals Stressed By Graduating Students

principal in the American tradition.

"There is evidence of determination in our heritage," he told the large gathering of relatives and classmates. "If it were not for determination we would not be pledging our allegiance to the flag, but rather re-affirming our loyalty to the throne."

"At the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence," the Salutatorian said, "only approximately one third of the population supported the revolution. It was the unrelenting spirit and determination of this minority that provided us with the liberty we cherish so much and yet exploit today."

Honor student Edward Messner emphasized that goals and determination were not enough, that consideration for others must accompany these ideas.

"While competing, while struggling," he said "we must never for a moment forget our fellow man. Everything we do or say effects someone, somewhere, for man is a social being."

Messner spoke directly of what apparently is a key concern of both students and administrators alike, the growing divisiveness in our nation. The honor student said "a lack of regard has sent this nation onto the road to division. Has turned rich against poor, black against white, college student against construction worker. Consideration may not be a panacea, but it certainly will help in the solution of the complicated problems that confront us."

The gathering rose to its feet when High School principal Ray Smith asked for a moment of silence in honor of Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero, a long-standing member of the Belleville Board of Education who passed away last month.

The entire class of 1970 stood again when Debbie McCool received her diploma from her mother, Mrs. Norma McCool, who was on the stage as a member of the board of Education. Debbie addressed the commencement gathering saying "each of you here now have shared in making my being here possible. Friends of Debbie's throughout Belleville have aided in raising funds this year to help defray the costs her family has incurred in fighting a rare blood disease which the senior has been afflicted with."

Principal Ray Smith told the audience that this year's class has compiled "an enviable record," which includes an "outstanding yearbook," a "vigorous vocational program; a student government which reorganized its constitution and implemented many needed reforms; a model assembly program which is absent of teacher supervision; a political club which had speakers of state and national prominence, and a band second to none."

Smith characterized this year's class as "intellectually apt," and indicated that 60 per cent of the youth will continue their education.

The principal also applauded what he termed "another outstanding group of people, the parents and grandparents of the students, who in five decades have been able to accomplish many things."

Smith said to his students that "You are the tallest, the healthiest, the brightest and best looking generation to inhabit this land," a comment which drew applause from the seniors.

This year's yearbook was dedicated to the parents.

Board of Education president Rocco Saletta emphasized that "these are trying times which you must try to overcome." The Board leader said "It won't be easy - you won't do it by negative thoughts, by destroying our universities, by insulting the greatest flag in the world or by burning draftcards."

Three Years Probation For Assaulting Cop

A 24-year-old Newark man's probation term was extended three years at Belleville Criminal Court on June 11 for assaulting a police officer and violating probation.

John Mackey of 458 Summer Avenue pleaded guilty to the charges. He was represented at the hearing by attorney Anthony Ditri of Montclair.

Although admitting to the complaints, Mackey's attorney said the young man's case was "most unusual."

Probation officer Richard Talty testified that Mackey was placed on probation for one year in June of 1968 after he pleaded guilty to a larceny complaint. He again appeared before the Belleville court in March of 1969 for failing to pay a $50 fine levied in 1968.

In December of 1969 he was charged with assaulting Belleville police officer Richard Mullvihill. He failed to make a court appearance on that charge and a warrant was issued for his arrest. The county probation department then issued a warrant for his arrest on a violation of probation charge for absconding.

Recently, Mackey was picked up by county sheriff's officials on the warrant and was held in custody pending the June 11 hearing.

Attorney Bitri pointed out that the defendant was now married and was trying to live a decent life.

Judge Edward Abramson, after conferring with Probation Officer Talty, suspended a 90 day jail term and gave two years probation on the assault charge and levied a one year extension on the young man's probation on the other complaint.

Scout Executive Attends Meeting Of Shawger Cubs

The district executive of the Boy Scouts of America was the special guest at the final meeting of the Cub Scout Pack 304, which is sponsored by the James G. Shawger Home and School Association.

Also on hand for the final gathering in addition to Scout executive William Dorival, were Michael Nardiello, principal of Shawger School, and Mrs. Vito Sylvestro, president of the home and school association.

A candle light ceremony for 11 Webelos heading up the scouting trail into Boy Scouts was held. The Webelos received the "Arrow of Light Award," which is the highest rank in Cub Scouting.

Each boy also received a Boy Scout jacket. The Den Mothers, Mrs. Alan Gibson Jr., Mrs. Louis Trabucco, Mrs. Lenue Reed, Mrs. John Spagnoletti, and Mrs. John Porter along with Cub Master Alan Gibson Jr., also received gifts.

Activity is the word in Pack 304. Last summer the group received the National Summertime Award for summer participation. Thus far this year, trips have been taken to the New York Museum, the New York Colosseum, the Planetarium and Raceway Park in Englishtown.

Summer activities this year include a boat trip up the Hudson River to Bear Mountain, Wall Stadium in Belmar, and a Met game at Shea Stadium.

Congratulations were extended to Pat Fata, new District Commissioner of Belleville Scouts. Fata has served as Cub Master for three years and Boy Scout Master for two years.

Some Of Belleville's Finest Seniors

With some 350-plus seniors graduating this past Tuesday night, its only logical that some of them who have made their marks on Belleville High School's history are planning to go on to colleges and universities this fall, where they'll have another chance to continue their education and, wherever possible, their stardom.

Thinking of this about time to get set to follow some of Belleville's varsity athletes of 1970 by first finding out where they're going and for what. So let's go;

Gary Trainor-Rutgers University

The number one golfer on the 1970 BHS golf team is the most logical athlete to start with, since he's gone furthest to becoming best in his sport of any BHS letterman.

Gary Trainor hopes to continue playing golf for Rutgers-New Brunswick. The number six golfer in the state was number one on the BHS team, and also tops in the District, and with this showing of his ability, its evident that he has the potential to be an important contribution to the State University's golf team.

Academically, Gary has been one of the outstanding students in the class of 1970. His 3.97 average (4.0 is a perfect "A") placed the National Honor Society Member in the honor group for graduation.

At Rutgers Gary plans to study chemical engineering because he realizes the importance of it to the present and future. The senior puts it this way; "Everything in the world is becoming synthetic. Plastics are the "in" thing." With this in mind Gary has chosen to become a Chemical Engineer.

Vin Costantino-Paul Smith College

The co-captain of two of Belleville's biggest sports is planning to enter a two-year college to prepare himself possibly for Fairleigh Dickinson.

Vinny has decided to major in liberal arts, where he wants to see if teaching industrial arts (print shop) is for him. The specific interest in FDU stems from the senior's admiration of Al Lobalbo.

Lobalbo is the FDU basketball coach, and a gym teacher at BHS. If Vinny does well at Paul Smith College, near Lake Placid, N.Y., basketball at Fairleigh might not be too far off. (Football was Vinny's other varsity sport, but isn't available at Smith, so Vinny will have to drop it reluctantly.)

Vic Squitieri-Seton Hall Track

The high scorer of Belleville's 3-8 track team finds himself impressed with Seton Hall's track team and if he can, he'll try to make it using two events that haven't been done in Belleville for many years.

Vic Squitieri sees the 440 yard intermediate hurdles and the javelin throw as his chance for getting on a team who's big meets impress the BHS sprinter and discus thrower who scored 125.5 points in eleven dual meets.

Club Football also looks good to the future liberal arts major. Vic explains club football as being the Hall's answer to varsity competition.

Al Symonies-Fordham University

The vice president of the active BHS political club sees a career in law as a possible stepping stone for an adventure into politics, and even more intelligently as a career to fall back on if politics fails him. Overall, he looks forward to the "challenge" it will present.

On the sports side, Symonies was the number one bowler on this year's BHS team. It was his second year on the varsity squad, and in his first year, he shared the top spot with Jeff Rudden (Class of '69). Symonies sees Fordham's bowling team as a good place for tough competition and possible improvement for himself.

Ron Schulz-Wagner College

An "A" student in mathematics looks forward to a career in teaching math and physics; his studies first, since his sport is the one he enjoys most, and gets mainly pleasure from it.

Ron Schulz was on Belleville's varsity basketball squad for two years after spending a year on the Jayvee squad. He's still undecided about basketball at Wagner because "Studies come first. We'll see how they go, if they're of the quality I want, I'll try."

Ron is another member of the Honors Group that graduated Tuesday night, as the National Honor Society member had a 3.9 average.

This is in no way a complete summary of Belleville's varsity senior athletes, but for the next few weeks, more of them will be added until if possible you can follow most of top performers of 1969-70.

Host Vailsburg Nine Tonight

Legion (2-0) Faces Stiff Test With 4 Games In 5 Nights

The Belleville Legionnaires, with two opening victories under their belts, face a mighty stiff test this week, as they take on four teams in five days.

Today, the American Legion Post 105 nine hosts Vailsburg at the Stadium. Games follow rapidly on Friday at Maplewood; Saturday at Irvington and Monday with Irvington at home. Wednesday, rival Nutley travels across town to wind up a week which will tell just what kind of club the Legion has.

Probable starting pitcher against the Vailsburg legionnaires is Danny Dunn, who picked up the opening game victory in relief of Bill Haines. Vailsburg, meanwhile may throw its ace hurler Tony Plonio, a fast ball specialist against the home team.

Maplewood has lost twice, including a loss to East Orange, a team the Belleville Legionnaires easily handled in their opening game.

Irvington is always up for playing the Belleville Legion, and is expected to provide the toughest test of the year thus far. A postponed game with Montclair this past week will be made up at a later date.

This year's Belleville Legion looks like a far better outfit than stadium fans were treated to last season. Paced by the sharp hitting of John Goscinski at third, Joe Papasidero at short and Frank Petite in left, the squad has a very potent attack. Papasidero is leading the club at this point, with a fast start of four hits in five tries.

The pitching staff appears to have potential, but no one hurler has emerged yet as the top man. Joining Dunn on the staff is Essex Catholic pitcher Bill Gagnor. Haines is also expected to see action in this 16 game season.

Joining the host of fans who turn out for the 6 p.m. games are scouts from the Baltimore Orioles, who earlier in the year sought a Belleville Legion schedule so they could keep tabs on Goscinski. Last year Goscinski made All-State Group IV first team and All-Essex County.

Coaching this year's squad is Charlie Craig and Frank Papasidero, father of Joe Papasidero.

Stiffest competition in the league will come from perennial Legion power, Livingston, which has knocked off three opponents and is out to capture a second straight Legion title.

Joe Papasidero's two run home run in the bottom of the first inning against Cedar Grove started Belleville Post 105 off to a 9-4 massacre last week. Joe was top batter of the day, going 3 for 3, with the homer, a pair of singles, and three RBI's.

Bill Gagnon of Essex Catholic turned in a fine performance for the first six innings, striking out five, walking four and allowing only three runs on four hits.

Gagnon seemed to lose control in the seventh, as he walked three and gave up a single for fourth run, when John Goscinski came in as a reliever and struck out three in a row ending the game.

Belleville's first three runs came in the bottom of the first inning. Pete Remondelli walked and went to second on an attempted pickoff before Papasidero homered in to right center field.

The third run came on a walk to Frank Petite, a stolen base, and a single by first baseman Ray "Soupy" Campbell.

Cedar Grove scored their first run in the second inning on an error, two stolen bases, two walks and a single. The run was unearned as Gagnon struckout the two batters following the error.

Cedar Grove's next two came on two back-to-back singles, and Goscinski's first (and probably) last error of the season, in the third.

Belleville broke the 3-3 tie with four straight baserunners in the bottom of the third. Papasidero and Petite were walked to start the rally. Goscinski singled to left, and took second on the throw, which caught Paps at the plate.

Joe Vitiello followed with a double which scored both of the runners. Vitiello's shot went about 300 feet on the fly, and bounced past the track in center field at the stadium.

Petite and Papasidero combined for the next two runs in the fourth inning. Brian Waters had led off the inning with a walk, and went to second on a sacrifice by Gagnon. Waters scored on a single by Papasidero, who stole second. Petite then got up and singled Papasidero home for the seventh run.

The final two runs came on a walk, a single and three errors by Cedar Grove. Joe Ritacco was walked, and stole second, and took third on an error by the third baseman.

Waters then picked up his first hit of the season, a single which scored Ritacco. Waters went to second on an error by the catcher. Gagnon reached first on an error by the second baseman which allowed Waters to score.

LEGION LINES — Coach Charlie Craig used fourteen of his eighteen ballplayers against Cedar Grove. All five subs came in in the last two innings after Belleville was ahead 7-3. . . Goscinski's relief stint against C.G. was the first time he's pitched since the last Legion season. . . Joe Papasidero leads the team in hits, he's 4-5. . . Ritacco leads in scoring, he's scored three times in six official at bats and also once after being walked. . . This years Legion team includes three freshman, Alan Frank, Mark Cervasio, and Frank Papasidero.

Net Title Captured By Nutley

Nutley captured first place in the New Jersey Tennis League last week with a record of 36-0. In the final two matches, Nutley defeated Arlington, 2-0, and then beat Orange Lawn, 4-0.

In singles action at the Arlington match, Nutley's Warren Lucas defeated Harold German, 6-2, 6-2, while Rene Borer topped Sy Grubel 6-2, 6-3.

The loss put Arlington in the runnerup spot behind Nutley with a 21-8 season record.

In Nutley's last league match of the season, Orange Lawn was defeated with Jay Pekar and Rene Borer pacing the winners in singles action and Gne Hannigan and Frank Cornett and Landie Feher and Cleve Speer teaming up to sweep both of the doubles matches.

Park Lakes took the third spot in the league while Westfield captured fourth; Racquets Club was fifth; Netherwood, sixth; Orange Lawn in seventh; Berkeley was ninth and East Orange occupied the cellar at 5-28.

Bowler Gets Top Trophy

Rocco Ciampi of 23 Wilson Place, Belleville, won the high season average trophy for the Premium League at a banquet capping the 32nd season of employee bowling at P. Ballantine & Sons.

Ballantine employees fielded 24 teams in two leagues, bowling over a 33-week season which began last September.

Corino Receives Athletic Trophy

James Corino of 1 St. Mary's Place, Belleville was honored at the annual awards day presentation at Trenton State College May 20.

Corino received the Claudius Hammond-Anthony D'Errico Award, a trophy which is given to a senior man who has shown outstanding athletic ability by Sigma Tau Chi fraternity as a memorial to members of the Classes of 1942 and 1954 who died serving their country.

Guarino (again) Gets No Hitter

When All-Star selections are made for the first half of the Little League year, PBA pitcher John Guarino is sure to find his name on the list.

Last week the young hurler pitched his second consecutive no-hit shut-out of the season, to pace the surging PBA to a 4-0 victory over the Lions Club and take sole possession of second place.

The PBA, with a 5-2 mark, is just a half game behind the Amvets (6-1) in the National League and could tie for the top spot in the first half. Two weeks ago, Guarino knocked the Amvets from the unbeaten ranks by pitching his first no-hit game of the season.

Sharing the spot-light this week was three Amvet's pitchers who combined to produce a 7-3 no-hit victory over the Jolly Cleaners. Anthony Marino went four innings of no-hit ball before wildness brought in Dante Pantalone in relief. Frank Mozeika later relieved Pantalone without giving up a hit.

The League has selected Vinnie Lipoma, manager of the Colony Club, to be All-Star manager for the American League. The National League has selected Mike Marotti of the Amvets to manage that loop's squad. Both managers won their respective league races last year, with Marotti's nine going on to defeat the Colony Club in the Belleville World Series for the championship.

National and American league winners for the first half of the Little League season won't be decided until the last game are played and the dust has settled.

Out in front of the American League is Wallace and Tiernan, whose undefeated record (6-0) as of last Friday is the best mark of all clubs in the Little League.

Backed by solid hitting and pitching, the Wallace & Tiernan nine is nevertheless being chased closely by the Colony Club. The Colony ballplayers must hope for someone to knock off the (Continued on Page 15)

Seniors Get Awards At Varsity Club Affair

MR. EVERYTHING — Joe Ritacco received the Colony Club award from Nick Maunceli. The award was one of two the celebrated senior captured as this year's most outstanding all around athlete scholar at the Varsity Club All-Sports dinner at Biase's Restaurant in Newark.

Ritacco Captures Coveted Awards

Senior Joseph Ritacco capped an outstanding athletic and scholastic career at Belleville High School by capturing the two most prized awards given annually at the Varsity Club's All-Sports Banquet.

The Boston College bound student received both the William Chapman award which is given to the senior who best shows high all around moral character, and the American Legion Award to the best senior baseball player.

Earlier in the year, Joe was selected to receive the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete award. He was one of 29 high school youths to be so honored at a special dinner. Selection was done by coaches of the Essex County Football teams.

The senior, who is quiet and rarely loses his temper on the playing field, was a popular choice for the awards both among students and Varsity Club officials.

Joe's fine senior year began on the gridiron, where he was one of the finest defensive ends coach John Amabile says he's seen in a long while. In addition to being one of the top three tacklers on the squad, with 34 unassisted and 12 assisted tackles, Joe led the team in most pass receptions with 16, good for 247 yards and a 15.4 average. He also ran back four kicks for 33 yards, recovered three fumbles, blocked three punts and scored 12 points.

On the baseball field, Joe roamed centerfield with finesse, and though he never hit for the big average, was a dependable and sometimes sensational hitter. His two year varsity batting average is .257, which includes 35 hits, 12 RBI's, 27 runs scored, one homer and two doubles.

For his exploits on the gridiron, Joe was chosen the team's most valuable player at the winter Varsity Club dinner for the football team.

Scholastically, Joe is a B student and a member of the senior senate. In addition to his acceptance at Boston College, Joe had been accepted by Rutgers University and Villanova.

The senior hopes to continue his career in college, despite the fact that at 5'9" and 165 pounds he is not especially big for a collegiate ball player.

As far as baseball is concerned, Joe says he will have to wait and see how his grades turn out. In the meantime he is looking forward to attending coach Amabile's collegiate alma mater, and we're pretty sure that school is anxious to get one of Belleville's most celebrated scholar-athletes.

During the next few weeks the manufacturers of color TV sets and related merchandise will show to the trade the models which we are going to sell beginning this fall. The first shows have taken place already.

The designers grope with the problem of how and when to apply the solid state (transistor) and similar devices in the production of color TV. It is a difficult decision to make, and in this case, not to make a decision to change and hang on to the tired and proven appears to be the best.

Technical developments come so fast that the decision to go one way may be wrong tomorrow. There are a number of choices, all highly technical and too complicated to discuss in this place. It has to do with transistors and integrated circuits (IC). Once manufacturers decide on a change-over, it is almost irreversible. The cost to change the design and methods of construction and the thousands of test instruments used in production is tremendous. A mistake would be extremely costly and may even be fatal.

During the next few weeks we are going to report on this development and the steps taken by different manufacturers.

Frenchies-Circles Tied For Softball Loop Top

In the Monday Softball League, the mighty Frenchies find themselves in a tie for first place. They had been undefeated until last week, when they lost a 7-6 squeaker to John's Tavern.

This loss put them into a tie with the Circles. Frenchies beat both the Circles and the Johns in the first round of play but this second round opens a lot of possibilities for this tough league.

Next in line among the Monday niters in a three way tie with Jolly Cleaners, Olga's Bar and Grill, and John's Tavern - all at 2-3 standings. Ajax Motors is last having so far beaten only the Johns.

MacDonald's Tavern is out in front in the Recreation Tuesday league with a perfect 5-0 standing. Frankie's Amoco and the Chip-Inn are tied up at second with 3-2 records. At 2-3 are Roselli's Service and the Belleville Political and Social Club. Westinghouse still seeks that first win.

Another undefeated team, the Landolfi Home for Funerals, leads the Recreation Wednesday Nite League with a 6-0 record. In second place, having lost only to Landolfi's is Olga's Bar standing at 5-1. After that it's St. Peter's 3-3, Garden State 2-4, Riveras 1-5, Rossi's Tavern 0-6.

The Thursday Nite League was rained out last week so the lead is still shared by Jolly Cleaners and MacDonald's Bar, each with 4-1 records. Roselli's are next in line at 3-2. The rest of the League lines up with Walter Kidde 2-3, B.P.S.C. 1-4 and Hudson County Deaf 0-4.

Money may not explain everything but it makes clear the motives of many people.

Window Boxes Can Be Planted With Annuals

Window boxes and planters can provide a colorful display all summer if you select the right plants.

Decide whether the plants will be growing primarily in sun or shade and choose those which grow better under one of these conditions, advises John J. Kupcho, county agricultural agent of Essex County.

For boxes and planters in the sun, petunia, geranium, verbena, dwarf French marigold, lantana, and ageratum are good choices.

Variegated vinca or periwinkle, and the small-leaved forms of ivy can be planted along the front and will trail over the sides.

When preparing the soil for your planter, mix about one-third peat moss, leafmold or compost with two-thirds garden soil.

After planting, apply a liquid fertilizer at monthly intervals, following directions on the container, or mix one teaspoonful of 5-10-5 fertilizer per quart of water and water the box or planter.

Maintenance Work Needed On Mowers

The amount of maintenance work you have to do on your power mower depends on how much winterizing you did last fall.

John J. Kupcho, County Agricultural Agent of Essex County, offers some tips for getting the mower ready.

First, he says, drain the oil in the crankcase and replace it with the proper grade specified for your machine. Then clean the spark plug and replace it with a new one if necessary. Set the plug gap according to the instruction manual.

Check the engine to be sure it's clean. Be sure the blower housing screen, fins on the flywheel, cylinder head and block are free of grass and dirt.

Tighten all nuts and bolts that may have vibrated loose. Sharpen the mower blades, and balance the blade of a rotary type to insure long engine life. An unbalanced blade will cause vibrations similar to those caused by a bent crankshaft.

If you have not checked and repaired those parts mentioned above, be sure to do so before the mowing season gets into full swing. It may take a little time and effort now but could save your machine from major repairs or even permanent damage. It will do a better job on your lawn too.

Public Library Plans New Summer Program

The Children's Department of the Belleville Public Library is introducing several new programs for the summer. One of them a "Sights, Sounds and Surprises Session". The children won't know what the program will be until they get to the library. But the programs will feature films, handicraft projects, music, drama, science experiments, multi-media poetry, puppets and whatever else the children want to try.

The Book Club is another new idea. The members of this club will have the opportunity to discuss their favorite books with the librarian and with friends. Among the books to be discussed are Charlotte's Web, Souther, Nancy Drew books and Shadow of a Bull. Each week new books will be introduced. The students will have the chance to make suggestions to the librarians about book selection.

For the first time a pre-school story hour will be held during the summer. Advance registration is not necessary and attendance is not required every week. The program is designed for four and five years olds who have not yet entered school. The programs will be 30-45 minutes, and the parents must remain in the adult department of the library in case of emergencies.

Throughout the summer children may participate in the Belleville Book Award contest. Ballot boxes are now in the schools and the public library for the children to nominate their favorite books in these five categories: best picture book, best fiction book, best non-fiction book, best humorous book, best mystery book. Lists of these books will be compiled. A student may read books in one or all of the categories in order to vote for the best book during the last week of August and the first week of September.

To vote, a child must be a registered library borrower and must present his library card when he votes. For all those who participate there will be an awards party on Saturday, September 12. Door prizes will be awarded.

A full schedule of all the summer events, including the regular story hours and movie hours, follows: Monday: Story hour for grades K-2 Tuesday: Book Club Wednesday: Sights, Sounds and Surprises Session Thursday: Film-ins Friday: Pre-school story hours

At the Silver Lake Branch, 30 Magnolia Street, there will be the following programs: Tuesday: Story hour, grades K-2 Wednesday: Film-ins Friday: Sights, Sounds and Surprises Session.

Scott-Stuart Productions

WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT?

Scott Stuart Productions has to be one of the most unique corporations in all of New Jersey. It helps in casting all non-professional people in movies, t.v. productions and t.v. commercials. Anyone who ever paid any attention to the characters in t.v. commercials or movies and said, "Hey, I can play that part as well as he" now finally has the opportunity. Dawson Scott who is the President of Scott Stuart explains, "Many people realize how difficult it is to break into show business so they wonder how Scott Stuart can get parts for the people who have no experience. The parts we have access to are small parts such as people walking up and down the street or eating in a restaurant for the background scenes. The minimum salary an extra gets per day is anywhere between $85.00 and $100.00, which can certainly turn into a great part-time job if selected."

Olga Knows
Your Weekly Horoscope
June 18 thru June 24

ARIES (March 21-April 19): There is a Gem about to come into your life, Ari. A Gem who will sparkle and shine and dazzle you with wit and intelligence. Can you bear up under the strain? After all, you are a fire sign and Gem is an air sign, and fire needs air, you know. But a mighty gust of air can put out a fire. Or make it burn brightly. Depending.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Interesting tid bit will be whispered into your ear before third day. Discount it completely. Source is unreliable. By fifth day you should get message you've been waiting for. Last two days are for dumb, dull duty. Do it without grumbling.

GEMNI (May 21-June 20): Unexpected meeting with new person in week ahead which should prove more than just a passing fancy. This new relationship could be with an Ari or an early Taurus. Be alert, and continue to circulate socially. Contact dear one on fourth day.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Don't spend too much time dreaming of things which are to come, Moonsweetie. Concentrate on today. Energy should build on third day and continue until end of week. If you and Virg haven't as yet found each other, this just may be the week. Wheee.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Did events take an upward swing last week Leo? If so, you should be purring contentedly. If not, you are probably growling and snarling all over the place. Well, it's all up to you Leo darling. In the final shuffle, you are the dominate one who makes or breaks the bank.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): You are going to get a dose of the truth in the week ahead, Virg, which will be about as delightful as a tablespoon of castor oil. You would rather perhaps hear a hundred lies?

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You tend to be most tolerant, Libra. Is it because you just don't care, or because you wish tolerance in return? Week ahead will be most interesting in this department. Olga sees the maximum stress test shaping up.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Absolutely wild week coming up, Scorp. Talk about wheels within wheels, and mirrors within mirrors . . . as far as Scorp is concerned it will be triangles within triangles. In short, a typical Scorp week.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): You are approaching a fork in the road, Sai. The decisions you make in the next week may alter your entire career. Knowing Sai's love for adventure, you'll no doubt take the road less traveled by.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Ding, dong. The bell tolls in week ahead, Cap. But please don't send someone out to seek for whom. You know darn well it tolls for thee. But by last of week Cap will be putting the pieces of the puzzle together and coming up with astute solution. Goody.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): All rested up from last week, Aquarius my love? Olga hopes so, for the one coming up is a heller. Full of demanding, depressing detail. However, one small note of joy: by end of week you will note a slight domestic detente. It's not much, true, but better than nothing.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Pisces, in the brook, there's a Taurus angling with a hook. And few know the angles like a Taurean. So watch out baby, the bait is loaded.

Hospital School First To Receive Approval From Health Agency

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital School of Radiological Technology, a new institution which opened in last September, is the first school to be inspected and approved by the State Department of Health of New Jersey.

The State has instituted a new program whereby all technicians must be licensed and all schools approved by the Board of X-ray Technician Examiners. Approval of the school is based on its curriculum and its adherence to the requirements which include prescribed classroom subjects, clinical experience comprised of demonstrations, seminars, supervised practice and supervised film critiques.

The purpose of this program is to establish standards of education, training and experience and to require the examination and certification of operators of x-ray equipment in order to protect the health and safety of the public against harmful effects of excessive and improper exposure to ionizing radiation.

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital School of Radiological Technology admits 12 students yearly.

Classes are held at the hospital and extend over a 24 month period. Upon graduation, its students are qualified x-ray Technologists. The school is under the guidance of Dr. Joseph Israel, chief radiologist and Mrs. Margaret Leone, director of education.

Golden Dome On Steel Pier Seen for Miles

Steel Pier's new space age ballroom gleams like a friendly landmark to boaters 20 miles off shore as well as to Boardwalk strollers in Atlantic City.

Its golden dome, constructed of anodized aluminum strengthened with space trusses, is a masterpiece of geodesic geometrical design.

Dubbed, appropriately, the Golden Dome Ballroom by Steel Pier owner George A. Hamid, the new home of the stars of Show Business rests on five points and is 130 feet across.

Acoustically balanced stereophonic sound, engineered by Tele-Research, floods the beautiful ballroom from the elegant bandshell. And from a master console a bath of lighting is played on the stage and envelops the dancers in unique mood interpretation. Dimmers, flashers and all of the other modern technical equipment has been installed for listening and viewing pleasure.

Dancing in this ultra-modern ballroom more than one-half mile out over the blue Atlantic Ocean is an enchanting experience.

Although the finished dome has a rounded look, it is deceiving. There's not a curve in the structure. It's all made up of diamond-shaped or triangulated panels locked together for unbelievable structural stability. Even the struts that brace every panel are hexagonal and devoid of curves.

Easily the most modern structure in this area, the Golden Dome Ballroom is crisp and beautiful indoors as well as on the exterior. The seats, too, are gold anodized aluminum alloy. A total absence of wood helps make the Golden Dome Ballroom practically fireproof.

The Golden Dome Ballroom replaces the world-famous Marine Ballroom that was lost in a million-dollar fire last winter.

No greatness exists unless it is based upon principle and not upon profits.

Stunned Toyn Begins To Sift Coach Hopefuls

By Nat Gottlieb

John Amabile's surprise resignation last week as Belleville High School's head football coach still has local athletic and school officials somewhat startled, but the large and immediate flood of applications for the vacant position is occupying most of their thoughts right now.

Athletic Director Herman Wische reports that over 13 coaches have applied for the position and that "at least nine of these are of a high caliber."

Wische would not comment on reports this week that one applicant is former Bellboy coach Tom Testa, who had many successful campaigns here before resigning three years ago.

Amabile, who was in his third season as head coach and was anticipating a championship ball club next year, resigned last week to take the head coaching position at Middletown High School, a South Jersey school which was the state's only undefeated team last season.

The departing coach, who lives 60 miles from Belleville in south Jersey, listed the great traveling distance and the "very good offer" as the prime reasons for his move.

He said he was in no way unhappy as a coach in Belleville, and had made his move "with great reluctance."

Many Belleville officials and residents were critical of the timing of Amabile's resignation, including Wische, who said he was "extremely disappointed" and thought it was "unfair on his part."

Wische said he was personally particularly upset because Amabile indicated in February that he had no

Reverend Succumbs

The Rev. Thomas Ten Hoeve, former pastor of Belleville Reformed Church, died suddenly June 16 at Holland City Hospital in Michigan.

Rev. Ten Hoeve served the Belleville Reformed Church for seven and a half years prior to his retirement in 1966. This past year he was acting as a visiting minister for the Third Reformed Church of Holland, Michigan.

Born in the Netherlands, the deceased came to the United States when he was three years old, and made his home in Paterson.

He attended Hope Preparatory School, and was graduated from Hope College in 1927. He then attended the New Brunswick Theological Seminary where he was graduated in 1930. Pursuing further study, Rev. Ten Hoeve received his master theologian degree from the Princeton Theological Seminary and a master of arts from New York University.

Rev. Ten Hoeve's initial assignment was the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill, where he was a priest for three and a half years. He was then transferred to the New Brooklyn Reformed Church, where he spent 18 years. Before coming to Belleville, (Continued on Page 2)

Biancardi Receives Citation

A Belleville resident who has been an active fund raiser for Boys Town of Italy, this week received special citations from the President of Italy, Giuseppe Saragat.

Joseph Biancardi of 16 King Place has been awarded the Order of Merit from the Italian Republic, which carries with it the title of Cavalier. The resident also received a gold stick pin from the European leader.

Biancardi, who is standard bearer for a fund raising organization, has conducted several affairs for Boys Town, and has sent over $35,000 to the youth rehabilitation organization.

Boys Town was founded during World War II by a multi-talented Irish priest, Monsignor John Patrick Carroll-Abbing. The clergyman, who is also a licensed lawyer and

Childrens' Film Set Today

The Belleville Public Library will present the first in a summer series of films this morning at its main branch, 221 Washington Avenue.

Today's feature, which will start at 10 a.m., is a 30-minute childrens' film entitled "The Doughnuts, in which a doughnut machine won't stop producing.

Based on the book "Homer Price" by Robert McCloskey, the film will be aired in the Childrens' room of the library. Students from the third grade up are invited.

A MEMORY — A jubilant John Amabile flashes the victory sign after a stunning opening day win over mighty East Orange last fall. This week Amabile stunned Belleville in somewhat of a different manner, by resigning his head football coach spot to take over similar duties at a South Jersey school.

'Psychological Problems' Plague School Board

The Belleville Board of Education can't seem to find a head psychologist for the school system.

Three men have come within inches of inking a Board contract only to be lured away by a more lucrative offer.

Last Monday night the Board unanimously approved a head psychologist at 8:15 p.m. in the Board office during the regularly scheduled public meeting.

At 9:30 p.m. the Board phone rang. When Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco returned to the meeting, he reported the new psychologist had turned down the post from his home in Connecticut. Greco indicated that a better offer had been proposed to the psychologist.

Belleville has been without a head psychologist since January, when Jack Baharlas

Last March the Board almost signed Dr. John Josephson for $15,000, when a better offer came through. In May the Board shifted its approach, and decided to hire two assistants psychologists first, placing two names on the May 25 agenda at $12,000 apiece. The Board hired Michael Zampardi, a recent psychology school graduate who is pursuing a doctorate program at Columbia University. The other assistant, Arthur Strook, withdrew his name at the last

Belleville Aids Debbie With $9,000 Contribution

The Debbie McCool Fund this week presented a $9,000 check to the McCool family, a check representing three months of town wide effort by residents who took to heart the plight of one of Belleville's youth.

Presenting the check to Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCool of 194 Fairway Avenue was Commissioner Mary Senatore, fund chairman, and Tom McLaughlin, both of whom were prime movers behind what has amounted to the most successful fund drive in Belleville in recent years.

Debbie, who graduated Belleville High School last week, has been suffering the past two years from a rare blood disease. During this time she has been undergoing expensive medical treatment at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Using the theme: "Look into your heart for Debbie," Commissioner Senatore rallied concerned residents in March to create the fund to

Smith Seeks Second Entrance To Route 21

Mayor Ken Smith says he will ask the State Highway Department to cut a second northbound entrance to Route 21 in Belleville when he meets next week with Trenton officials to discuss safety problems on that roadway.

The mayor told the Times he is seeking the new entrance because "Belleville Police in many instances have to use the Chester Avenue entrance in Newark to respond to an accident in the Northbound lane." Presently, the only northbound opening in Belleville is on Little Street, which Smith says "is too far north of where most of the accidents occur on the highway."

Last week the Mayor had threatened to shut down the Belleville portion of the highway in the wake of an accident on the roadway which took the life of a 15 year old Belleville girl, Kathie DeFago. Smith said he would direct Belleville police to close the roadway unless safety features were forthcoming from the state.

A letter from the State Highway Department Monday in which safety features were promised within two weeks, staved off that possibility, but Smith says if no action comes by next week he will shut down the throughfare.

Smith's action was not the only move taken in Belleville to protest conditions on Route 21. Sunday, a group of Kathie DeFago's friends and teachers blocked off a section of the highway near Rutgers Street, carrying signs and posters which urged state officials to improve conditions on "death strip." Later, the demonstrators moved the protest to Town Hall, where they paraded for more than an hour.

Since its inception in 1959, 13 other persons have been killed in accidents along the stretch of highway.

The Mayor wrote the Highway Department last summer and again this past November requesting safety features. In March of this year the state replied to Smith saying it would improve guardrails along the roadway and provide signs and reflectors. Nothing, however, came from Trenton.

Smith has also asked the State Police Department to increase its patrol of the highway with radar units.

About two miles of Route 21 flow through Belleville along the Passaic River. Neighboring Nutley has had three deaths on the roadway since 1959, and has reported numerous accidents.

In many instances cars have gone out of control upon entering one of the section's unlighted, unannounced turns, and have flipped over the guard rails into the river.

These guard rails are bent and scarred throughout a good deal of the two mile area, and in many instances show evidence of having been replaced.

In March of 1967, Town Manager John Burnett sent a six page report to the State Highway Department concerning "hazardous conditions along portions of Route 21, Belleville, including entrances and exits."

NEW ENGINE — Mayor Ken Smith (left) turns over keys to Belleville's newest fire engine to Chief Carl Hundertpfund. The new vehicle, a $35,000 Seagraves pumper, enables the department to return to full engine capacity. Previously the department was operating without a reserve engine.

Fire Department Back At Full Engine Capacity

The Belleville Fire Department, which has been operating the past four months without a reserve engine, is at full capacity this week with the arrival of a $35,000 Seagraves pumper.

The new vehicle, which is housed in the Silver Lake Fire Station, had its first call last week—a false alarm. Monday night, however, the new engine saw its initial action, a brush fire near Route 21.

Four months ago a 1945 model engine broke down and left the department short in vehicle power. During fires in town, Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund says the department called surrounding towns to provide reserve power in the station in case of a second fire.

The new engine will become the front line truck at the Silver Lake house, while a 1958 Mack Pumper will be placed in reserve at the main fire headquarters on Washington Avenue.

Chief Hundertpfund says the new engine is assigned to the Silver Lake house because that section of town is the most removed from the rest of the department.

Delivery of the vehicle was unusually fast, the chief says. The order was placed four months ago, with usual delivery time on new equipment being 14 months.

The chief says there is a vast difference in capabilities between the new engine and the 1945 model. The 1970 Seagraves model is a 1,900 gallon per minute pumper, while the 1945 Seagraves pumped only 500 gallons per minute. The newer model also has a 500 gallon water tank as opposed to the 150 gallon tank of the replaced model. In addition, the new engine has 1,500 feet more hose footage and has a permanent cab, or roof over the driver.

The idea of having a roof over the firemen's head is a relatively new concept, according to Chief Hundertpfund, who is quite familiar with cab construction. The chief built cabs for the other department engines during the Newark riots a few years ago, when firemen found themselves under increasing danger from sniper fire, rocks and bottles.

Belleville Youth Aid Fabian Fund

Belleville Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and several youth groups will go door to door this Saturday to sell candles for a special Independence Day celebration for Craig Fabian, a 16 year old Belleville youth who was left partially paralyzed last summer in a swimming accident.

The Craig Fabian Fund, an organization composed of numerous residents, hopes to defray costs to the Fabian family for Craig's rehabilitation. Planned is the lighting of about 10,000 birthday candles at the July 4 celebration in Municipal Stadium to mark Craig's 16th birthday.

The idea was for the candle lighting was Commissioner Mary Senatore's who also secured ground fireworks to help celebrate the birthday.

The fund has already raised $5,000, largely due to the efforts of a large group of civic minded residents under the chairmanship of Horace Goodenough and the co-chairmanship of Caesar Romano and Rev. Alfred Stone.

Fund officials say candles may be obtained now through July 3 at a special office in Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Elosa Winship, who is coordinating sales at the church, can be reached at 759-6869.

Craig, who was active with the Scouts, was injured in a swimming accident at a scout summer camp last year and was left partially paralyzed. This past year he has been undergoing therapy at the Kessler Institute in West Orange, and is expected to return home this summer.

But in order for Craig to adapt to living at the Fabian house on 207 Malone Avenue, an addition to the home has to be built with a special ramp and elevator which will cost about $6,500.

Money is not the only aid being offered the Fabian family. Many residents in the construction line of business have contributed tools and material for the house addition.

Detectives Seeking Suspects

Belleville Police are investigating leads in last Friday's attempted hold-up and shooting at Wallace Tire Company, 711 Washington Avenue.

According to Police officials, two armed men attacked a Wallace Tire employee after entering from a back door. The employee, Fred Tarry, 32, of 624 High Street in Newark, was shot twice in the chest and was still in critical condition at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital as of last Tuesday.

Acting Deputy Chief Frank Haight, who is in charge of the detective bureau, said police had several key leads but preferred not to elaborate on them. He indicated that four detectives had been assigned to the case, Detectives Hank Olivieri, Ronald Thompson, Nick Berrigan and Frank Falcone.

Haight said the apparent motive was robbery, but indicated nothing was listed missing by a Wallace Tire spokesman.

Cadets In Parade

The Sabre Cadets recently participated in a parade sponsored by the Paramus Volunteer Fire Department to commemorate the 57th annual volunteer fireman's convention.

The Sabre's marched for the Cosgriff Hose Co. Number Four from Haverstraw, N.Y.

The cadets are available for conventions or parades and say they are willing "to travel any reasonable distance to participate."

The group's next parade is in Chatham on July 4.

psychiatrist, has built the model reform organization into one of the most respected youth operations in the world, with seven centers in Italy.

Orphans and children who are classified as "incorrigibles" are sent to Boys Town, where the rate of success in turning out productive young citizens is extremely high.

Each Boys Town is set up as a separate city, with its own youth controlled government and businesses.

Biancardi first became involved in the organization when his wife, Helen, met Monsignor Carrol-Abbing in Italy 10 years ago. Since then, Biancardi has visited Italy twice.

Woman Gets A Settlement Of $131,000

A Belleville woman and her two children accepted $131,000 in settlement of a suit from a Millville trucking firm and one its drivers last week for the death of her husband on the New Jersey Turnpike, January 14, 1969.

Under terms of the settlement, reported to Union County Court Judge Harold A. Ackerman, Mrs. Rose Agosta, 32, of 30 Jefferson Street, will receive $65,000 and each of her two sons, Thomas and Philip, $17,500. Defendants in the suit were the Kowalsky Express Service and Walter J. Mihalcz of Bridgetown.

The complaint states that Thomas J. Agosta Sr. was killed on the night of January 14, 1969 when his car struck the rear of a trailer that had broken loose from its cab in the southbound lane of the turnpike in Elizabeth. The trailer, which the suit contends was not properly connected to the cab, careened about 300 feet before coming to a rest against a center guardrail.

Italian-American Week Proclaimed By Mayor

Mayor Ken Smith has proclaimed Italian-American Week for the period July 12-19 in honor of Italian-American war veterans.

In his proclamation, Mayor Smith said:

Whereas, the Italian American War Veterans of the United States, Inc. is an organization recognized by the State of New Jersey; and

Whereas, the Italian American War Veterans are dedicated to rehabilitation of their fellow veterans, to the assistance of all veterans and to their families and other needy people in their communities; and

Washington Avenue Set For Toyota Dealership

The Belleville-Nutley area is about to get a new car dealership.

Toyota Motor Company announced this week that it will open a new car agency at 126 Washington Avenue. The local firm will be known as the Jerry-Roberts Company and will handle Toyota products exclusively.

The premises were formerly occupied by Aamco Transmission and the Rossi Nationwide Car Market.

The Toyota agency here doesn't expect to officially open until after July 4, but several of the Japanese imports are already on display and orders are being taken.

President of the new agency is Robert Scheurle; Jerry Forman is secretary-treasurer. The agency will provide all service and parts facilities on the premises. Banking and financing of the vehicles will be available through The First National State Bank of New Jersey.

The nation includes those "open-minded" persons who listen to only one side.

The Board was particularly distressed at losing its latest psychologist, whom Board President Rocco Saletta said "had highly impressed the school officials."

Superintendent Greco indicated there are more interviews scheduled, and said he expects a head psychologist and a second assistant to be contracted by September.

According to Saletta, the Board is looking for a man with experience in school psychology to take over the directorship of the Special Education Department of this system.

Saletta said the Board's decision to hire two assistants plus a head psychologist was indicative of "a more progressive view on the part of school officials toward the psychological treatment of its children."

The Special Education Department in the Belleville School system consists of 19 classes, with about 147 students and 19 teacher. Five of these classes are located at School Four; six at the Garden school five at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital; two at School three, and one at the Junior High School.

The past three years, Michael Nardiello has been both supervisor of the special education program and Principal of School Four, which has 400 students.

Nardiello, who is not a psychologist, earlier this year indicated to the Board that the dual responsibility was becoming too much, and said he would prefer to concentrate on the School Four principalship.

Goal Is Reached For McCool Fund

help defray mounting medical costs to the McCool family.

The response to the fund was immediate. Scores of residents volunteered their services, including businessmen, clergy, and town and school officials. Mayor Ken Smith proclaimed the period April 19 through May 2 as Debbie McCool weeks, a period which saw over $5,000 raised.

This week the McCool family thanked everyone who contributed to the fund, saying "there are no words to express how we feel."

Singled out for praise by Commissioner Senatore was Mattia Printing, Victor Cali and Redwood Press, plus the Belleville Can Company for the canisters used in the fund raising campaign.

Also singled out for key contributions were the residents and businessmen who made up the "cannister brigade;" the CYO and other youths who collected at service stations; Vee Bee Esso Station which donated a day's net profits to the fund, and PTA's and veterans organizations. In particular, the Amvets were thanked for a benefit dinner dance given to raise funds, and the American Legion which raised funds through bingo.

Prior to her illness, Debbie was a model student at Belleville High School, and was active in many youth and civic organizations.

A Good GOP Start

The recent Essex County Republican Committee meeting came up with a good result — the election of George Wallhauser, Jr. to succeed William F. Yeomans as the new Chairman of the organization.

The Republican Irregulars led by Joseph A. Intile, Jr. of West Orange boycotted the meeting, and as a result, Wallhauser was elected unanimously.

Wallhauser assumes leadership of the party in Essex County with impressive party credentials. His father, George Wallhauser, Sr., served six years in the Congress of the United States, compiling an impressive, responsible record.

The Wallhauser name has been synonymous with good, clean government. Additionally, wherever the best interests of the Republican Party were to be found a Wallhauser usually could be discovered working for progress and integrity in the party.

George Wallhauser, Jr. will need the continuing support of the people who elected him in order to eliminate any threat to his leadership by the insurgent Republican Irregulars.

This is not to say that Wallhauser has a mandate to read out of the party good, loyal Republican voters, workers and public officials.

November's election is critical for President Nixon, Governor Cahill and the Essex County Republican organization. It will be the first test of the Wallhauser leadership. It will be the first challenge for a reasonably united Essex County Republican Party. The Democrats will attempt to defeat Republican U.S. Senate candidate Nelson Gross and point to such a result as a repudiation of President Nixon. The Democrats will attempt to defeat Republicans for county office and interpret such a result as a repudiation of Governor Cahill's leadership. Moreover, a defeat of the Republican county candidates will be interpreted as a victory for the Intile Republican Irregulars and a set back for the Wallhauser-Senator Milton Waldor combination.

Young George Wallhauser is bound to make some mistakes — if he makes decisions. It is very easy for a person on the sidelines to second guess a political leader when a decision goes wrong. Criticism of the Wallhauser leadership should be held to a minimum in order to afford Wallhauser the opportunity to consolidate his forces, develop an organization plan and campaign strategy.

Mr. Wallhauser has a tremendous opportunity to move the party ahead in Essex County. Through Mr. Wallhauser the Republican Party can reassert its responsibility to the voters if the two Republican Freeholders who have formed an alliance with their three Democratic colleagues will cut the umbilical cord that binds them and return to the party which honored them with the Republican nomination for freeholder and subsequent election to the offices they hold today. However, this circumstance does not put Mr. Wallhauser on the spot — for the people that occupy that untenable position are Freeholders Raymond Stabile and Joseph Napolitano, and it's time they acted as responsible Republicans.

For our part we find it easy to support the leadership of George Wallhauser, Jr. and through him the state leadership of Governor William Cahill. These are good and decent men whose prime interest is upgrading government performance.

18-Year-Old Vote

We are pleased that President Nixon signed legislation lowering the voting age to 18. Time and again we have expressed the belief -- long held -- that young people between the ages of 18 and 21 always have been possessed of the knowledge required to cast a vote at any election with the same intelligence (or superior) than their elders.

Soon there will be a court test to challenge the validity of the legislation. In addition to President Nixon there are constitutional lawyers who hold that the legislation is unconstitutional because it infringes upon the rights of state government. We hope the courts will sustain the privilege granted to the 18 years olds.

A Book On Vietnam

A recent book on Vietnam, the theories of Paul Mus as edited by John McAlister, has advanced the proposition that western powers never had a chance to win in Vietnam because the communists in that part of the world have related their values and teachings to Vietnamese peasant traditions.

First the French and lately the United States, using military power, have aided the struggle of the upper class, educated and enriched by an alien culture (the French), in its fight to maintain its privileges and run the country with little real power delegated to the countryside.

The Vietnamese and Their Revolution (Harper and Row) is a vast source of information. Anyone interested in the struggle should certainly read the teachings of Mus, whom many consider to have been one of the best informed students of the long Vietnamese struggle.

Yet events in the last year or two have probably made obsolete the final conclusion of Mus, that the west or a western-backed government, was up against hopeless odds, at least in the short term. He foresaw inevitable communist triumph, but happily that fate seems to have been avoided for South Vietnam. At least for some time to come. Nevertheless, a reading of Mus' theories, containing much sound analysis, may help Washington avoid many of the misconceptions and mistakes of the past and insure against the very inevitability he preached.

WHERE TO GO? — That age old problem. School's out for the summer and Belleville's youth will begin to seek amusement in swimming, baseball and just lounging around. Shown contemplating the summer in front of School Eight are (l-r) Alex Torres, Michael Foley and David Lowry.

Says Coverage Isn't Equal

To the Editor:

Every week when I read the Belleville Times, I am almost sure to find the box scores from the Little League games from the previous week. Everyone has heard of Little League, the most glorified game for youngsters and it is my feeling that they are not the only children in this town who deserve publicity.

It should be brought to the attention of the people of Belleville that there is another league in baseball which also deals with the same age group of boys but which has received little recognition in the past — the Farm League.

Every year during the Spring, the Little League has tryouts and each coach bids for the boys that he wants on his team. What happens to those boys who do not make it? They join which is commonly known as the Farm League which is also for boys between the ages of 10 - 12.

By reading the Belleville Times, you would never know that this league even existed. You are very willing to use one-half page on Little League events and not even a column a week is spent on the Farm League.

In past years we have submitted articles to the Belleville Times for your use but usually they are cut down considerably or not even printed. It is about time that the people of Belleville are given a chance to become acquainted with the other leagues in their town

- the Farm League and the Midget League. They also deserve coverage of their games even though they do not hold the name "Little League".

I feel that if at least a half-page spread was used to cover all three leagues (with equal space), one league would not overshadow the others. Each boy tries just as hard as the next and all deserve due credit and mention in your Sports section.

Toby J. D'Ambola, Jr.
585 Joralemon Street
Belleville,
New Jersey 07109

(It is The Times' policy to print all stories about the athletic leagues which the respective managers and coaches forward to us. If the Belleville Little League receives coverage of its events it is because Michael Marotti and the managers of the Little League think enough of the boys to send us names and details concerning the games. Mr. D'Ambola mentions the Farm and Midget Leagues, Robert Cook, Recreation Department superintendent, who does a fine job coordinating these leagues, has tried repeatedly to have managers and coaches of these teams forward some information to us, but the response has been negative. If these leagues would furnish information we would be happy to print it. editor).

Speak Up!

Watch Violators Says Resident

(The following was submitted to the Times as an open letter to Mayor Ken Smith)

I want to commend you on your stand concerning RT 21, which has most recently been the scene of a most violent accident. As a matter of fact, it has been the scene of many violent accidents. In the article covering this most unfortunate accident, which took the life of one of the occupants, it seems one of your concerns is the physical condition of the road, and the hazards it presents. Mr. Mayor, if the state complies with all your requests, it will merely mean, instead of getting killed in the river, you will hit a series of road blocks that could stop a tank, and you will be killed before you get to the river. Mr. Mayor, there are thousands upon thousands who travel that road daily, and never come close to being in jeopardy. Not that I am against the State making that road safer, but that is not the only answer.

Unless, I missed it in your article Mr. Mayor, I didn't read what is planned for the VIOLATOR...the driver of the weapon that does the killing. How fast was this weapon traveling in order to attain the shape the news photo revealed it to be? What kind of a road do you need to safely travel that fast without killing or getting killed? Mr. Mayor, that kind of a road hasn't been built...or will it ever be.

Mr. Mayor, let those of us who live in Belleville set an example for the entire State...indeed the Nation...and make any road in our locale safe by informing all drivers that an act of lawbreaking is not worth the consequences that will be imposed upon them. In Florida, if you exceed the limit in a school zone, and are caught, you not only lose your license for a month, but attend a driving class for that month each workday evening.

Let us make the operation of one of these high speed sport cars, with its ram jet carburetor, 4-speed floor gadgets, extra wide tires and performance which only belongs on a race track responsible for the behavior of his or her weapon, with an obligation that will make any driver, be they teen-ager, middle age or senior citizen...THINK from the moment they sit behind the wheel, that they are going to have to answer to a society that will not tolerate any permissiveness in the operation of two tons of cold hard steel that has the speed that can snuff out a life within seconds if abused.

An automobile that is sitting motionless at curbside, cannot harm the fly that chooses to land on its hood. Once a driver sits behind the wheel, it becomes a two ton weapon, capable of killing any number of people. Let us make all people aware that it is a weapon and not a toy, and let us make the operation of that weapon so solemn a responsibility, that its violation is indeed a serious crime.

Yours very truly,
Charles Monteleone

Warns Officials Not To Build New Complex

To the Editor:

The town of Belleville, once the pride of the state with its friendly people and peaceful atmosphere has sunk to a new low since the return to commission government in the control of a new majority bloc.

It may soon become a battlefield between the politicians and the people who are fighting for survival.

Those in power are now demanding that the Jergens Company, which proved to be a good neighbor and pays its taxes, give up the land it owns between the plant on Franklin Avenue and Clara Maass Hospital so they can build four 26-story buildings and create a new city within a city.

If approved against the wishes of the people, this plan poses a new threat to build high-rise buildings in Silver Lake and the valley.

This plan, rejected under the manager council form, has been strongly protested by the people in no uncertain terms, and could create more serious problems harmful to all, such as we witnessed in other cities in the state. Violence, uprisings, riots, crime, destruction of property and other evils.

Belleville will become the dumping grounds for the City of Newark, where hell broke loose, was turned into a snake pit and suffered $30 million because of those projects.

Belleville taxpayers, many living on a pension or social security, are up to their necks in quicksand and cannot afford to build new schools, purchase new fire equipment, create more city jobs and pay higher taxes. The money isn't there. Industry would move out, many jobs would be lost and the whole town would be up in arms.

I hope the commissioners get the message before it's too late and their political careers come to an end. They have made too many mistakes since they took office, the latest being the high school meeting packed by the people protesting the 45 points increase in the tax rate.

Connie Francis Receives BHS Diploma

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

Harold C. Widman of Union Avenue was installed as President of the Belleville Rotary Club during formal ceremonies held at the Manor in West Orange. Mr. Widman succeeded Thomas Divine of Wallace and Tiernan Inc., Belleville.

The two Belleville detectives who spearheaded an investigation of two Wallace and Tiernan silver robberies were rewarded for their efforts when six men were indicted by the Essex County Grand Jury on 21 counts of burglary and conspiracy. Detectives Thomas Ricci and Harold O'Reilly were the key men in bringing the alleged criminals to justice. The detectives were lauded by Essex County Prosecutor Joseph P. Lordi for their work in the investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus G. Kistner celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a reception given in their honor at Christ Church, Belleville, by their son, George, and daughters, Mrs. Stanley Van Dyne and Mrs. Doris Weiler.

Mary Lou Mauriello was selected by the Belleville High School guidance department to attend the 23th Annual Citizenship Institute at Douglass College as a delegate for the evening membership department of the Woman's Club of Belleville.

An overflow crowd paid tribute to Belleville High School's Big Ten and Section IV baseball champions at the Fountain Restaurant. Coach Nick Petti and his boys were showered with gifts and words of praise from a host of local political and school figures and received special honor with the arrival of singing star Connie Francis, a 1955 graduate of Belleville High, who returned to join in lauding the baseball team's championship effort.

Work on the $200,000 bridge being erected by the county over the Third River at Joralemon Street was progressing on schedule, despite the efforts of local vandals. John Youhas, project superintendent for J. Fletcher Creamer and Son, Inc., Fort Lee Contractor, said the vandalism at the project was the worse he had seen in his many years in construction work.

Two Belleville High School juniors, Gail Cronauer, of 153 Fairway Avenue, and Carol Shelesky, of 151 Jefferson Street, were attending the annual Citizenship Institute for Girls at Douglass College.

Richard Sheridan, manager of the professional division of the United Community Fund and Council of Essex and West Hudson, was named staff director of the UCF Campaign for Nutley and Belleville.

Two Belleville churches welcomed new pastors with sermons and receptions. The Reverend Frank C. Shannon, coming from the Roseland Methodist Church, Roseland, where he had served for ten years, was the new pastor at Wesley Methodist Church, succeeding the Reverend C.A. Hewitt. The Reverend Robert L. Slegel of Oaklyn accepted the call to fill the administrator's position at the Bethany Evangelical Church.

Ralph J. Bowman, of 57 Perry Street, was re-elected chairman of the Orange Council, H.G. McCully Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America. Bowman had been in the communications field for thirty-five years.

Graduation from high school is the high point in a teenager's life, but for Connie Francis, of 182 Forest Street, it climaxed a week which saw her hit recording "Freddie," second on the MGM list, marked an appearance on the Norman Berkshire TV show and a proposed guest shot on the Sammy Kaye radio program. Miss Francis, an honor student, was planning to enter NYU in the fall on full scholarship to study TV production and script writing.

The Board of Education adopted a new salary guide of nine steps for principals of elementary schools. Under the plan, principals with a master's degree started at $6,500 and would reach $7,900 in eight steps. Principals with education a year beyond a master's degree would start at $6,700 and reach $8,300 in nine steps.

Nine delegates from the Pvt. Joseph C. Taibi Post were to attend the VFW convention in Asbury Park. They were John Gualtieri, Frank Coviello, Joseph Sagarese, Rocco Andreotola, Michael Stupello, Anthony Tramaglino, John Esposito, Samuel and Leonard Cuomo and Carmine Fuscelli.

Health Officer Eugene T. Berry issued a warning to all parents of the town to keep their children from swimming or wading in the Passaic River and its tributaries, the Second and Third Rivers. As reported by Mr. Berry, recent tests showed that the rivers were badly polluted.

John A. MacCarrick of 129 Mt. Prospect Avenue, harmonica player who had won many prizes, added new laurels to his collection when he was crowned champion player of Newark in an elimination contest participated in by thirty-five others. He was awarded a silver loving cup and a wrist watch.

Fire Chief William T. Hirdes was rewarded for long years of service in the Belleville Fire Department when the Board of Commissioners passed on first reading an ordinance making him a full time official at the salary of $3,250 a year. He had formerly served as a salary of $1,600.

Has Image Of Newark Changed?

QUESTION: It's been reported that the mere fact that Newark has had a change of administration has gone a long way toward enhancing the image of the city. Do you agree?

Guy Harris, 201 Bloomfield Avenue, Nutley: Yes. As I look at Newark, I believe that in the sense the Addonizio administration is no longer in power couldn't help but improve Newark's image. If Addonizio had been reelected, Newark would have continued a dead city. Now that new political blood has been elected to City Hall, at least there is a chance of new hope. Newark as a city is just as bad today as it was the day before the election. The difference today is that Newark now has a chance. The new Mayor has an opportunity to give life to a dead city.

Mr. Harris

Mary Appel, 46 Daily Street, Nutley: I firmly believe there is more hope for the city of Newark today than existed before the election of Mayor Kenneth Gibson. Had the election gone the other way, I would have really been disappointed — in fact, I would have been left with a hopeless feeling about the city's future had Mayor Addonizio been reelected. The political contest in Newark was really a question of "no hope" vs. "new hope." I feel much more enthusiastic now, for example, in working with Nutley groups such as "Operation Understanding," an organization concerned with the core problems of the city.

Mrs. Appel

Joseph Zoppi, 291 Prospect Street, Nutley: I'm a former resident of Newark and to me, there hasn't been enough time to assess the effects of the change of administration in the city. To me, the image of Newark is the same as it was before Mayor Gibson was elected. Despite the legal problems facing Addonizio today, I think he should be given some credit for the redevelopment program now going on in Newark — there seems to be new construction everywhere. But to answer your question, I would say I'd have to wait. I want to see what kind of personnel are named to key city positions, and what special objectives for the city's future are outlined by the new administration. Only then could I honestly comment on Newark's image.

Mr. Zoppi

Jack Speary, 59 Union Avenue, Nutley: That's a hard question to answer so soon after the Newark election. I believe that possibly Newark's image has improved — or at least I'd like to think so. The city's image has been very poor. With the election of a new Mayor and a new administration, I see encouragement in the hope that the groups that for so long have been at opposite extremes might begin working together for a better city. There's been some evidence of a better spirit of cooperation already — not only within the city, but between the city and Trenton, and Washington. Even if the city's image hasn't yet improved, its chances for a better future certainly are much brighter today.

Mr. Speary

SOME PEOPLE think travel by train is as comfortable or more attractive than air travel. Since their experience of last week, Edith, Toni and Susie (pictured below) could live without train travel for a long time. All three, brag and baggage, boarded a Seaboard Lines special at Fort Lauderdale for Newark at 10 o'clock in the morning. By 5 o'clock the air conditioning system had conked out. So for the next 17 hours they went through an unscheduled steam bath and ended up at the Newark platform of Pennsylvania Railroad feeling hot and dirty. Well, as long as the airlines prohibit pets from traveling in the passenger compartments, all three will have to put up with a return trip via train in the fall. Maybe it will be cold enough on the outside by then. That air conditioning availability may be of no consequence. But then who knows; the heating system could go on the fritz. The train conductor told Edith, "Mam, the only thing that works all the time on this train are the wheels."

My experience on EAL's 895 and Sunday night's 896 were first rate. I hit the jackpot on 896. The three stewardesses working that flight collectively gave a display of passenger interest — which is something to write about. In the past, normally, there was always one girl whose service was not at or above par. Sunday night Sharon Abernathy, Shirley King and Tari Shinn made up the unbeatable team. Throughout the flight they were constantly asking passengers how much more or what else can they do for them.

The Monmouth Hotel at Spring Lake has two events scheduled that should attract overflow crowds. July 30 the popular shore resort is sponsoring an Italian night and August 13 the Irish will be honored. The bright young man responsible for innovations at the Monmouth is Joe Redden, the hotel's able manager. Incidentally on both evenings Everett Morrison, the popular singing and recording artist of New York's Les Champs, will be on hand to entertain the guests.

ARE YOU DISCOURAGED? Remember Abe Lincoln.....When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the legislature in Illinois, and was badly swamped. He next entered business, failed and spent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner. He fell in love with a beautiful young woman to whom he became engaged—then she died. Entering politics he ran for Congress and was badly defeated. He then tried to get an appointment to the United States Land Office, but failed. He became a candidate for the United States Senate and was badly defeated. In 1856 he became a candidate for vice-presidency and was again defeated. In 1858 he was defeated by Douglas. But in the face of all this defeat and failure, he eventually achieved the highest success attainable in life, and undying fame to the end of time.

Congratulations are in order to President Vivian Fikus, Vice President Tom Farewell and Treasurer Beda Z. Angle, officers of the Nutley Arts Festival committee for the tremendously successful show they put on last week. The Art Festival, staged for the second successive year, has now become a community institution, gaining popularity with each passing year.

Our Jerry Cafone's art work in The Nutley

Sun was worth four paragraphs in the June issue of The Byliner, the editorial magazine published by the National Editorial Foundation.

Did you know that in a recent project report covering the use of drugs in the South Orange, Maplewood school district it was reported that 75-80% of high school students have experimented at least one time or more with some drugs? "At the Junior High school the impression is 30-40%, although a number of junior high students suggested 60-70%". It is interesting to compare these figures with those attributed to the Nutley school system where authorities in-the-know suggest only 1-5% of the students have experimented at least one time with any drug.

New elementary school teachers are finding it hard to obtain employment. We were under the impression that there existed a teacher shortage.

THE WORSE EYESORE in Nutley is the Villa Capri coffee house on Franklin Avenue at the Belleville line. For years public officials in Nutley have attempted to do something about this ghetto-type building but to no avail. We hate to be the people who live next door who are obliged to live with a "dump" as their side yard. Can't somebody pass a law to eliminate this eyesore?

RECOMMENDED READING, Psalm 69: Deign, O God, to rescue me; O Lord, make haste to help me. Let them be put to shame and confounded who seek my life. Let them be turned back in disgrace who desire my ruin. Let them retire in their shame who say to me, "Aha, Aha!" But may all who seek you exult and be glad in you, And may those who love your salvation say ever, "God be glorified!" But I am afflicted and poor; O God, hasten to me! You are my help and my deliver; O Lord, hold not back!

Man In The News

Michael Marotti Was Almost A Violinist

Michael Marotti, who this week was chosen Belleville PBA president for the twelfth straight year, at one point in his life actually considered a career as a violinist.

Marotti began playing the violin when he was nine years old, and continued with the instrument until he entered the Air Force in 1944.

The PBA president recalls the last time he played the instrument:

"One of the men in the barracks had a violin and when I told him I could play, he took one look at me and bet me five dollars I couldn't do it. That was in 1944 and I haven't had time to play the instrument since then."

Few people in Belleville, particularly youngsters, regret Marotti's decision not to pursue a musical career.

Possessed with rare energy and organizational ability, the PBA president has involved himself in the mainstream of Belleville's veteran and youth activities for many years.

He has been with the Belleville Police force for 16 years, and today is in charge of the juvenile bureau, a fitting position for him.

It's a rare Belleville youngster who doesn't know Marotti's name. One of the originators of the Belleville Little League, he was the key force in raising funds for that league's model stadium on Montgomery Street, which was built in 1963 and called the Michael V. Marotti field. "I lived there while that stadium was being built," he says.

Marotti was born in Passaic and moved to Belleville when he was eight years old. Despite his love for the violin, he was a devoted athlete, playing frequently on the town's sandlots and streets before beginning a successful basketball, baseball and football career at Belleville High School.

All the time he was active in sports, Marotti practiced the violin, and even played a solo at the Worlds Fair with the high school band.

While in the service, he toured with the Air Force basketball and baseball team. Today, the high school has no greater or more consistent fan than Marotti, who is a frequent visitor to Bellboy home and away games.

Marotti is also well known for his veteran activities, having served Amvets Post 26 as commander eight years in a row, vice commander and trustee of the state organization, and just this past year, as state commander. He is also active with the Elks, the Varsity Club, UNICO and the Belleville Italian American Civic Association.

He is married to the former Esther Longo, a Belleville High School graduate, and has four children. He lives at 168 Holmes Street.

Helen's Thing ...

Who Really Understands Housewives?

By Helen Maguire

I STOPPED in at the Sun office the other day and ran into my boss who also happens to live across the street from us. "It's nice to see Mrs. Orechio back again," I said. "I guess you're really glad to have her home." "It's great to have her home," he replied, "but she hasn't even unpacked yet and she's ripping the house apart."

Personally, I saw nothing unusual in this. What self-respecting housewife wouldn't find a few things that needed redoing especially if she'd been away for a few months?

When I went home and told Rod about my conversation with Mr. O., his reaction was typically male. "You females are all alike," he spouted, "only Frank doesn't have to repair what his wife pulls apart. He hires somebody to do it. When you come up with one of your brainstorms, I'm left with a mess."

I am forced to admit he is right. Take the case of the concrete walk. A few years ago, my better half casually remarked that something would have to be done with the walk leading from the back door to the driveway. It was cracked in a few places and tended to sag at one spot. I took him at his word, drafted some slave labor and by the time he got home from work the next day, the walk was up and lying in a huge pile in the driveway.

I can't repeat his language in a small town newspaper but the gist of what he said was something like what the blank blank was he supposed to do with this blank blank pile of blank blank concrete?

Finally, he called the town, pleading for help. The person he spoke to was most obliging. "Who took the walk up?" he wanted to know. Rod told him. A sympathetic chuckle from the other end of the line. "Don't worry," said this angel of mercy. "We'll come and get it." "All I can say," breathed my husband with a sigh of relief, "is that he must be a married man!"

I was threatened with something close to expulsion the next time I got carried away but I forgot. The living room wallpaper was in pretty bad shape and I had never really liked it anyway. It took very little effort for the boys and me to get it off. It took the head of the house a year to get it repapered. Since I had been so eager to repaper, I could just put up with the inconvenience while he did a proper job which included stripping the paint down to bare wood and replacing the baseboard molding.

YOU THINK I learned? Not on your life. But I think I came close to breaking the camel's back last week when I had Jack rip the framing off the bathroom window. "Now," shrieked the wild Irishman, "you can blank blank hire yourself a blank blank carpenter!"

Why Do We Seem To Waste So Much Time With The Silly Things And Forget The Big Ones?

By Phil White

THERE ARE SO MANY obvious answers to problems facing Nutley, New Jersey and the nation that it's incomprehensible why at this point in our history so many of these basic ills are still with us.

We all know the answers to such questions as mass transit, highway construction, water pollution — and they have been problems for decades. Yet they are all still with us.

Why have we not adopted the non-fault auto-insurance plan which would immediately reduce premiums by at least 30 per cent?

Why has not the plan been instituted to charge a $100 fee when new cars are purchased—a fee that would be refunded to the vehicle's last owner to cover demolition costs and thus end the menace created by the abandonment of autos on community streets?

Why has the hypocrisy of the National Guard and similar reserve units been permitted to continue for so long. Do you know that one New Jersey unit which just returned from its annual training spent the last two weeks "camped" in city motels, held company formations on the motel parking lot, and when the "summer camp" was over, chartered a bus to take the reservists to their tents in the boondocks where "on paper" at least, they had been training. This is a true fact, but it's not unusual.

And why despite all the years that everyone has realized the merits of a paid, professional volunteer military service are we still studying that question too?

People for centuries — or so it seems — have realized the practicality of legalizing gambling and prostitution. And although the legislatures have not acted on these two relatively simple questions, our elected officials ironically have taken steps to legislate the far more difficult moral question of easing abortion laws. In the meantime, everyone knows and accepts as a way of life the fact that a fellow is making book right this very minute in Nutley who, perhaps unwittingly, is still the fellow responsible for financing the syndicates that are intoxicating our society with narcotics.

The reason all these questions remain is that people like all of us are willing to accept things as they are. Right here in Nutley, we have Generals who are big men in the military organization who could work for changes within the establishment.

Several men from Nutley also have been tapped by the new Cahill administration for top posts in State Government. Those fellows are now responsible for mass transit, highway construction, and water pollution.

It's easy to blame the other fellow while society rests in its leisure hours in front of a television set. But when the time arrives in a man's life where he has attained his ambition, such as being promoted to a position of prominence, that too often is considered reaching a personal goal rather than beginning a more important struggle to right society's wrongs. Those content in positions of prominence are not leaders, but selfish individuals, interested only in their personal benefit who should be booted out of what ever position they hold as should have been most of those who preceded them.

We know the problems facing our town today. Unfortunately, because of the selfish attitude of a few, progress has been so terribly slow in coming for us all.

THE DECISION by the Franklin Theater to give in to Town Hall and cease scheduling X-rated films is regretful. We can appreciate the fact the theater owner does not want to experience the aggravation of battling the Town Commission, but there is a bigger question at stake.

As some of the letters in today's Speak Up column point out, Town Hall's attempt at film censorship could lead to other restrictions on individual freedoms.

Under the new policy which the Franklin Theater apparently has "voluntarily" adopted, the film that won the 1969 Academy Award as "Best Picture of the Year" could never be shown in Nutley.

But at least the Franklin Theater won't have any problems in having its license renewed. Commissioners will grant that document next Monday night for another year. Our only comment is to wait and see what happens during this coming year of restricted films. After all, one can take only so much of "Goodbye Mr. Chips" before it ends up meaning "Goodbye Franklin Theater ..."

radiant electric heat

because it is comfortable and inexpensive.
What are you waiting for?

If you would like your house to be toasty warm this winter, and not go broke to heat it — read on.

Hundred of thousands of home owners and apartment operators (not to mention hospitals, hotels, motels, nursing homes, and business establishments) throughout the United States, have discovered Radiant Electric Heat to be just what the doctor ordered for comfort and what the banker ordered for economy.

Homeowners tell us their homes have never been more comfortable. That's because Radiant Electric Heat warms a room equally throughout. There is only a 2 degree difference in temperature between floor and ceiling. Conventional heat varies as much as 20 degrees.

Homeowners tell us their health has improved. That's because Radiant Electric Heat doesn't dry out the air in the house. No more stuffy sinuses, dried out furniture, etc. The rays used by Radiant Electric Heat are identical to the beneficial rays given off by the sun — they have a purifying effect and combat germs and viruses in your home.

Homeowners tell us they enjoy low fuel bills. That's because special low electric rates are available to those who heat with electricity. There is no wastage of heat up the chimney, in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others, or in rooms you are not using. A thermostat in each room maintains the temperatures you want — and heat can be turned on or off in any room with the flick of a switch.

Homeowners enjoy trouble free heat permanently. That's because all burners, smoke, and ash are completely eliminated. So are heating equipment headaches — for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank, pump or boiler repairs, no valves to leak, no chimneys or air filters to clean or replace; no damage from leaking pipes; no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

In just a few minutes, without obligation of any kind on your part, we can show you how Radiant Electric Glassheat will make your house toasty warm, eliminate heating problems, and cut the cost of heat compared with your present system.

If your house (or a room) is giving you a chill, give us a call. We enjoy making lots of friends and a little profit.
