Boys State Program
Running This Week

Rider College will be playing host this week to some 900 of New Jersey's top high school boys as the 25th annual New Jersey American Legion-sponsored Boys State program gets underway.

Gov. William T. Cahill will join in observing the anniversary and will deliver an address at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the college's Alumni Gym.

The high school juniors, representing almost every public and parochial high school in the state, will be involved in seven days of specialized training in government and citizenship. The program will close with the election of a boy governor.

The Boys' State program was shifted last summer from Rutgers to Rider's 245-acre campus in suburban Lawrence Township north of Trenton.

Delegates, each representing an American Legion post, were selected by their schools on the basis of character, scholarship and service.

Boys' State is designed to acquaint New Jersey youths with the practical operation of government on all levels. During the week, the delegates will play the roles of senators, assemblymen, freeholders, mayors, councilmen, police chiefs, prosecutors and judges.

The opening day ceremonies will include, besides Gov. Cahill, welcoming addresses by Joseph Ward, State Legion Commander, Harry V. Groome, president of the Boys' State Corporation and Walter L. Whalen, director of college relations at Rider.

Junior High
Civics Class
Visits Officials

by Susan Reynolds
Ninth Grade

On Monday, June 8, the ninth grade Civics class attended the town meeting. The students sat with the commissioners for the evening and watched the proceedings. They were given an opportunity to watch our town fathers in action.

For the two previous weeks the students, under the direction of Pat Forte, were given an opportunity to see the daily workings of the commission bodies. It was set up as a work study program. The commissioners were very co-operative in making it both an educational and enjoyable two weeks.

The town meeting brought this program to a climax and the students were given certificate awards for participating in the "Second Annual Civics Class Government Week." The awards were presented by Seymour Grossman, principle of Belleville Junior High School, who attended the meeting. This program will now become an annual event and a "Social Studies Lab" has been set up.

JHS Students See Site
Of Historical Events

by Bonnie Low, Debbie Pico and Donna Stone

On May 27, teachers Pat Forte and Jon Semcer of Belleville Junior High School took their four seventh grade Social Studies classes to Philadelphia.

First on the agenda was Independence Hall where they saw the meeting house of the Second Continental Congress, and of the Constitutional Convention. In this building, the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution were written and signed. George Washington, president of the Continental Congress sat in the chair known by Benjamin Franklin as the "Rising Sun" for on the chair was a picture of a sun and Franklin wasn't sure if the sun was rising or setting. After the Constitution was adopted though, he knew that it was rising.

The students then went to see where the Supreme Court held it's meetings. Last in this building, they saw the Liberty Bell which rang to honor the death of Chief Justice John Marshall and the bell cracked in doing so.

They visited Congress Hall where both the Senate and the House of Representatives met at the time when our present day capital, Washington, D.C. was being built. Students noticed that Ben Franklin's stove was used for heating the building.

After a long and interesting morning, they had lunch in Independence Mall Park.

In visiting the American Wax Museum, the students saw the great reproductions of the historical figures. The most outstanding ones were; George Washington, John Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr., and the scenes of the drafting of the Declaration of Independence and the Spirit of "76".

The interesting trip ended with a two and a half hour ride home.

By John McCarthy

The sudden departure of head football coach John Amabile was bound to bring mixed reactions and speculations on his successor from players and fans.

To get a cross section of opinions and predictions, I went to the coach, some BHS players (past, present, and future), and some of the fans. The questions were all basically the same, how do you feel about his leaving the team, how will it affect us next year, and who should or would take over for the upcoming season.

Amabile: Good Opportunity

The coach himself explained his move by saying, "I just simply felt it was a good opportunity." "Opportunity for what?" he was asked. His answer: "For me."

The coach of this past year's 6-3 team laid the lateness of his move to the fact that he just found out positively that he got the job last Thursday, (the day he told some of the players.) He also said that he put in his application with Middletown three weeks ago.

Amabile, who had once said that Belleville could have the best year in its history next year, said that the team will still be "real good." He indicated he honestly doesn't know who will be his successor.

Jim Miele, Amabile's wingback and a math student of the coach for two years, said he was "bothered" by Amabile's exit, but the team will still have a good season.

The possible pass thrower next season says, "If a new guy comes in he won't be used to our environment, but I still think we'll have a good team. We'll just have to work a little harder."

Miele also said he was disappointed, but understood Amabile's position in taking the opportunity. Later, Miele lamented, "All year he's been talking about the team, but now it's all down the drain."

As a replacement coach, the junior commented that he hopes it's Vin Harris, Belleville's line coach, "because he can handle it."

Joe Valvano: Ruining The Season

"If for any reason this year we don't have a perfect season, it should be blamed on Amabile." Joe Valvano became very emphatic when asked about the club next year, and explained why.

"I feel he's ruining the season. It'll take at least a month to get a new coach, and then we have to learn a whole new set of plays for offense and defense. We'll never learn in time for the season to open."

Valvano, the starting center this year, picked Pat Forte to be the best to take over for Amabile. Forte previously has had an assistant coaching spot at BHS.

Mike Bradley, an offensive and defensive back this year simply said, "It won't hurt, it's the team that's great."

Ron Muscara, a defensive end this year, observed, "We will be hurting, not in winning, but in learning new plays." As a replacement "Moose" sees Vin Harris as the best. "He knows the players. What they can do, who works, and how to handle them."

John Atherton: I Can Understand

Lineman John Atherton seemed to be the most willing to agree with Amabile's decision. "I can understand his leaving, mainly because he had to travel over 120 miles to get here. I think we have too tough a team for it to hurt, there's too much experience. Since Harris declined, the only other possibilities in the school are Mr. Spera or Mr. Testa. I believe that the whole season will be up to the kids' getting in shape and all over the summer."

Joe Ritacco, who was graduated a few weeks ago, sees the departure as a "bad move" on Amabile's part. The reason: "I don't care where he's going, he's not going to have a better team than in Belleville."

The offensive and defensive end explained that if the new coach is from town, it'll be "O.K.," but where ever he is from, "If he's smart, he'll keep them going and won't change too much." Joe's pick would be Physical Education teacher Pete Spera.

Joe Vitiello, one of Amabile's players in his first two seasons felt Amabile was "deserting the team." Joe is now an honor student at Huron College, and sees the main problem for next year as being the team's getting used to a whole new program and starting all over again where it was three years ago.

Bill Haines: Depends On Coach

Even though he's only a fan, Chipper, also a star pitcher, observed that "Amabile's system was based on talent. The effect on the team will depend on the new coach. If it's Mr. Steele, his command of authority will help the team."

Another baseball player, Rocco Marotti, said that Tom Testa would make the best replacement. "He knows more about football than all the other people put together."

Mike Pici, an upcoming sophomore, snapped, "I'm mad. I think he should have given us more of a notice. He put us all on, letting us all think he was building up a good team, tell us how good we'd be, and then he let's us down."

Pici thinks that Pete Spera will probably get the job, but commented that he's also like to play under Tom Testa.

Tom Vitiello, another Belleville lineman, said "It was rotten to just drop us like that at the end of the season. If he was any kind of a coach he wouldn't have left his boys like that." Tom says that he's heard rumors of Testa or Harris in line for the job, and that under either one Belleville would have a 9-0 season.

Charlie Ziegler: Not My Business

Belleville's safety Charles Ziegler said he wished Amabile hadn't left, but "It's none of my business why he left." Charley explained that he was used to Amabile's style, knows his workouts, his offense and defense, and that it won't be hard to get used to a new coach, it'll just take time, "time you can't waste."

Both Mike Albertine and Jerry DePaul agreed that Amabile left too late and should have let the administration look for a new coach earlier. Mike, an honor student and lineman, said it was "too bad that he had to leave," but offered no names for a replacement. DePaul added that the team next year "can't lose, it's goo great."

Carmen Russomano: Wish Him Best

Carmen Russomano, a junior football player, said that he wishes Amabile the best, but doesn't know how our season will go. Carmen cited the lack of captains as something that will hurt the team since they won't be able to get together for summer workouts.

There's always one Monday morning QB in the crowd who goes too far. This one, who asked to remain anonymous, said that Amabile should have left earlier, "a couple of years earlier." It's odd though that this same fan praised the coach for Belleville's first victory over East Orange in half a dozen years and at that time said "He's the best Belleville will ever have."

Don't Kill The Referee Until You Read Rules

Don't kill the ref next year when he makes a call during the grid season that you don't like, because believe it or not, he may be right.

For the 1970 season, the National Alliance Football Rules Committee has approved a few changes in the rules for the National High School Football Federation.

One which should bring some confusion to the unaware spectator is the ruling covering an ineligible receiver downfield. The penalty for an ineligible receiver used to be 15 yards and loss of a down. The rule has been changed to only a 15 yard penalty with the down over.

The Alliance made a ruling plans to move.

After two straight 3-6 campaigns, Amabile's squad last year came up with a 5-2 season, including a sensational opening day upset of powerful East Orange, which had lost only one game in two years at that point. It is generally expected that the Bellboy grid squad has state championship potential for next season.

Wische meanwhile indicated he will meet with High School Principal Raymond Smith and the 15 member Belleville Athletic Council to screen applicants, and will eventually turn over about four names to the Board of Education for final selection.

Monday night, Wische met with the School Board to discuss what guidelines for selection the board wants to establish.

Amabile's move is the third surprise coaching resignation at Belleville High School this year, all unrelated. Just one month prior to basketball season, head coach Paul Szem resigned, forcing Wische out of retirement for a year. A 24-year old Newark State graduate was hired three weeks ago to take the cage helm.

The second surprise resignation of the year came from six year head crew mentor Michael Lally, who had compiled one of the best won-lost records of any coach in recent years at the school. Sam Giuffrida, JV crew coach for six years, was named Monday to fill Lally's spot.

Amabile's position, meanwhile, probably will be filled within a month, Wische said. The key problem posed by the sudden resignation according to Wische, is that the players might have to learn a new offensive and defensive system. Vincent Harris, Amabile's assistant coach for the past three years, who is familiar with the system, this week told school officials he was not interested in applying for the job because "I don't have the time to assume head coaching duties."

In an interview with The Times, Amabile outlined his reasons for leaving the post.

Acknowledging that his resignation was "late," Amabile said he departs with regret because "I think I'm leaving a championship ball club. This almost kept me from going."

The coach, who lives in Spring Lake Heights, says the new job will be much closer to home. During the football season he had to get up at 5:30 every morning and sometimes didn't arrive home until 8 p.m.

"I was not unhappy here in Belleville," Amabile said. "I have had the full cooperation and advice of everyone connected with the school system."

Amabile indicated that there are more "opportunities" open to him in Middletown, which is a growing community that plans to erect a second high school within three years. The coach said the Middletown school superintendent has indicated that he will have good opportunities to move into an administrative position or department head spot.

The mathematics teacher will be facing a large rebuilding task in Middletown, which last year went 9-0 and captured the state championship. This year 29 seniors graduated and Amabile will have to begin from scratch.

Amabile won't, however, be unfamiliar with the situation, having come to Belleville under similar circumstances. He arrived in 1967 to find himself with a largely untrained group of sophomores and juniors. What made his first two seasons difficult, Amabile says, was the fact that in 1966 the Board of Education dropped sophomore and freshmen level football.

"I had to take the brunt of that move on the chin," the coach says. "The first two 3-6 campaigns weren't entirely my fault."

"The proof of this was our ballclub this season. Next year 22 seniors are returning and there should be championship material."

"I feel bad for the kids," Amabile continued. "When I made my decision I called them together and gave them the news."

Amabile came to Belleville in 1967 with respected credentials. A Boston College quarterback for three years, he was on the All-East squad and made honorable mention All-American. He later played with the Jersey Giants, a farm club of the New York Jets, and led the league in passing.

He was head coach at Lincoln High School in Jersey City for four years and at Dickinson High School for two seasons.

BAD MOMENT — John Amabile watches tensely as Belleville's grid team has third down and goal to go on Garfield's three yard line. Seconds later, Amabile stared in disbelief as the Boilermakers intercepted a Joe Papisidero pass and stormed 101 yards for a game clinching touchdown.

Little League Ends First Half

The Little League enters its second half of competition after having two very tight battles in both the National and American Leagues.

The surging National League PBA squad finally caught up to the front-running Amvets to finish in a tie for first at 6-2. The two squads will have a playoff at the end of the season to decide the winner.

In the American League, the Wallace and Tiernan nine remained the only undefeated team as it extended its record to 7-0. The W & T squad, however, did not have a cakewalk in the first half of the season, as the Colony Club finished right behind them with a 7-1 mark.

Knocking the Amvets from sole possession of the top spot was a team which many people think might be the real sleeper of the Little League, the Lions Club.

The Lions finished the first half with a respectable 5-3 mark, and promise to be a team to reckon with, with such strong pitchers as Greg Petite and solid hitters like Mike McFigue, Robert Giordano and a host of other performers.

Hussies Cop League Title

The Hussies captured the Recreation Girls Softball League championship in the final game of the season at Clearman Field June 10.

The Hussies had tied with the Mets in the playoff game. The Hussies had a hard time getting a hit off Kathy Sheridan of the mets. The Mets also found the hitting a little tough off of Jeanne Graziano.

Taking a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, the Hussies had to stave off a valiant rally by the Mets. The final score was 8-5 for the Hussies.

New Weightlifting Mark Is Set By Local Youth In National Competition

A Belleville weightlifter whose entrance into national competition was sponsored by the local Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, has set an American record for the 198-pound class with a snatch, press and jerk total of 1,090 pounds. The record came at the National AAU Weightlifting Championships in Culver City, California.

Setting the new standard was Phil Grippaldi, 23, of 511 Franklin Avenue.

Plane fare for the trip West was donated by the Kiwanis and Rotarians as part of a co-club athletic fund begun this year to finance local athletes in national competition.

The idea has been the brainchild of Recreation Superintendent Bob Cook of the Rotarian Club.

Cook, who is the fund chairman, said the plan hopes to send two athletes annually to national meets with the eventual aim of producing an Olympic competitor.

When Cook proposed the idea, one of his selling points was that many American athletes "are at a disadvantage because they haven't the funds to compete on the country-wide level, and consequently fail to attain national prominence."

The Recreation Superintendent felt this put us at a disadvantage with international competitors such as Russia in the Olympics because its athletes are state subsidized.

With Cook's plan, the Rotarians and Kiwanis each year will raise $300 each for the fund, and elect a qualified local athlete to send into national competition.

Cook has made overtures to the state and international club headquarters about spreading the idea among all Rotarians and Kiwanis, but reports that the officials have been reluctant to pick up the scheme.

In any case, the Kiwanis Rotarian Athletic Fund (KRAF) will continue as an

Giuffrida Set For Crew Post

Sam Giuffrida, a social studies teacher in the Belleville school system, has been named new head crew coach by the Belleville Board of Education.

Giuffrida succeeds six years head coach Michael Lally, who resigned suddenly last month saying "the problems of coaching such a unique sport as crew have begun to outweigh the rewards."

Lally, who compiled an impressive 41-22 coaching record, had indicated that the sport was "too time consuming" and hinted he was unhappy with the $900 salary fixed to his post.

The new coach, who also will receive $900 for the season, has been Lally's Junior Varsity coach the past six seasons, and was highly recommended by the departing mentor. Last season Giuffrida's oarsmen compiled a fine 10-2 mark.

A graduate of West Chester State College in Pennsylvania, Giuffrida has rowed with the prestigious Vespers Club of Pennsylvania.

Legionnaires Travel To Caldwell; Undefeated Livingston Nine Monday

NOT HAPPY — American Legion coach Frank Papisidero isn't too pleased about close call at first base during Belleville's loss Monday to Irvington. (see photo to the right)

Belleville's hard-hitting Legionnaires travel to Caldwell tomorrow, but no one will blame the Post 105 players if they are looking a little ahead to Monday's game with unbeaten Livingston.

Livingston, a perennial Legion power, is off to its typically fast start. The game might actually be a sneak preview of the league championship game, for both Belleville and Livingston are favored to capture division titles.

Monday the Belleville Legionnaires fell from the unbeaten ranks with a disappointing 3-2 loss to Irvington, a loss which came just two days after Belleville completely outclassed Irvington 9-1 at the latter's home field.

This time, however, the Belleville bats didn't produce, and wasted a fine pitching performance by Frank Petite, who surrendered only three hits.

Belleville, which thus far has displayed highly potent bats, looked fatigued as they played their third game in four days, and came up with only three hits. What made the loss even more disappointing was that the Belleville squad had men on base in every inning, and that Petite shutout Irvington in every frame except the fatal fourth.

In the fourth, Irvington came up with three runs on three hits - their total for the day. Belleville came right back, however, with two runs in the bottom of the inning.

Belleville fans are still buzzing about a controversial call in the sixth inning which

Close on Belleville's trail is

IS HE OUT? — Belleville's Danny Dunn slides into first base during controversial play Monday against Irvington. The referee said Dunn was out, thus completing a double play. Belleville contended that the first basemen was off the bag. Make your own judgement.

Legion To Face Livingston

Vailsburg, which was 3-2 as of Tuesday. Belleville was out in front with a 3-1 record as of that day. (A game with Vailsburg last Friday was rained out and will be made up.)
Yesterday the legionnaires took on Nutley, a team which has not been experiencing the best of seasons.

Bill "Chipper" Haines had gone through a 4 inning pitching duel with Livingston's Roger Schriener when he reached the plate in the top of the fifth, with runners on first and second.
Chipper hadn't gotten a hit in the entire BHS varsity season, but on an 0-2 pitch — a high and inside fast ball — Chipper sent a shot into left field that bounced 20 feet past the left fielder.

The 330 foot homer started an eight run inning in which twelve Belleville Legionnaires came to the plate. The other big hit of the inning was a line drive triple to left field by Joe Vitiello which scored Joe Papasidero and Ray Campbell from first.

The first three hitters in the line up, Frank Pettie, Papasidero, and Campbell were all out in the 14 hit game, but 2-4. Soupy's double in the sixth scored Papasidero for the ninth run.

Chipper became the first member of the Legion pitching staff to get a full game, but he was hit hard by the Vailsburg bats and walked run on a single and a triple in the bottom of the fifth when Belleville was ahead 8-0. Livingston's two hits here were one third of the team total.

The Legion's tie against Maplewood gave Coaches Craig and Papasidero their first near heartattacks of the season.
Belleville got off to a 1-0 lead in the third on a triple by John Goscinski which scored Papasidero from third.

Gripaldi Records Weight Standard

ongoing thing. Michael Rossamilla is vice chairman.
This year's recipient of the sponsorship is more than qualified. Gripaldi, who is relatively young for a nationally recognized weightlifter, began big competition in 1967, when he finished second in both the junior and senior nationals. In 1968 he came back and won both those competitions, and also captured in that year the Pan Am games championship in Canada.

In 1969, the weightman went to Mexico City with the United States Olympic team. In the same year he also entered the world championship as part of this country's entry.
A Belleville High School graduate, Gripaldi is a junior at Montclair State college and hopes to be a physical education teacher. The lifter has a promising career ahead of him, because most weightman according to Cook, don't reach their potential until around 34 years of age, and many competitors continue until 40.

PBA Shares First Place With Victory

The P.B.A. defeated the F.M.B.A. 5 to 1, and by doing so tied the Amvets for top honors in the season's first half.

Mike Cancelliere pitched for the winners and also led them in hitting with two hits.
Tom Muschio had two safeties for the losers.

Pizzi Shutouts Elks By 3-3

The Rotary Club defeated the Elks 3 to 0. Frank Pizzi pitched shutout ball for the winners allowing 4 hits.

Scott Osche had a perfect night at the plate with 3 for 3.

DeJoseph HR And One-Hitter Lead Colony

The Colony Club had their slugging shoes on as they banged out 12 hits to defeat the Varsity Club by the score of 12 to 3.

Dom Cicalese had three hits and was followed by Rick Loma and Greg Dunleavy with two hits each.

Grand Slam By Gorbenko Propels W & T

Unbeaten Wallace & Tiernan defeated Food Fair 8 to 6, but were given a score when the Food Fair team scored five runs in the last inning and had the bases loaded with one out. Both batters struck out, however, and the Wallace & Tiernan remained undefeated.

George Gorbenko hit a grand slam homer in the second inning. Hugh Mallack pitched a 2 hitter for the winners.

Jim. Cienaghan pitched good ball for the losers but had no support.

Avoid Murdering The Old Referee

on the throwing of a ball after a score which brings its rules closer to those of colleges and pros. Any player who intentionally throws or kicks a ball after the score will earn a 15 yard penalty on the following kick for his team.

Also be ready for more field goal attempts this year. A ball will remain in play when the place kick holder receives the snap from center with one knee down and rises to run or pass. Also the goal posts will be widened from 18 feet to 23 feet, too.

Another new ruling comes on the fair catch. Now after a valid fair catch signal, no member of the receiving team may advance the ball in any way.

A player who rams into the goal posts on the end lines of the end zone and does not otherwise go out of bounds may stay in play without penalty.

The use of four officials on the field was recommended, but still not demanded. A team can employ more or less, but the four that are suggested are referee, umpire, linesman, and field judge.

BY MAX BECK

We wrote recently that in this every year the manufacturers give the dealers a preview of merchandise which we are going to sell this fall.

There was widespread speculation when and how Zenith, the only major manufacturer that still used handwiring, would cope with a situation which they were trapped in. All other manufacturers long ago started to use so-called printed circuit boards which are machine made. Now Zenith took the first step in the direction which the writer predicted they would take. They are coming out with some models that use so-called integrated circuits, with a twist that makes it appear as if it is something revolutionarily new. It is nothing of the kind, of course. Zenith has a habit to give it a build up all their own.

This reminds the writer when black and white TV started. Zenith held off for quite a while. And then, as if it was something sensational, Zenith made a TV set. The revolutionary thing was that they left off the rectangular mask that other manufacturers used and presented a round picture, without the mask.

This is the first step for Zenith to go "mod" (in the language of the younger generation) which to older folks means "modern". Probably the change-over to the elimination of tubes and greater use of modern assembly techniques and solid state devices will take place at an accelerated pace with Zenith, since they have to catch up with other manufacturers in this respect.

The writer is glad to see the many women and girls relieved from the drudgery of assembling by hand what could be done better and far more uniform by machines. It is bad that a human being has to be made a robot, all day long rapping a wire around a terminal, the next one holding a hot soldering iron on the wrap around, and this for 7 or 8 hours every day, it is almost beyond human dignity and should not be tolerated, if there is a different way of doing such work.

Determined, We Seek Our Goals

by Edward Messner
Honor Student

Setting a goal, the first step on the road to achievement, but what must we do to insure our success? We must put forth an honest and unceasing effort. We must make any and all sacrifices. We must suffer all the setbacks that come our way. In other words, we must venture forth with determination. Yes, determination, the final step on our road to achievement, and the theme echoed throughout the memories of this past year as stored in our yearbooks.

As Ralph Waldo Emerson stated, "He only is a well-made man who has a good determination." Why is he well-made? Because he is able to reach his ends. He is able to concentrate his strength, manifest his personality, coordinate his efforts, and thus, mold his own destiny. Destiny as compared with heritage, both make up respective sides of a scale, that scale's balancing factor being determination.

There is evidence of determination in our heritage. If it were not for determination, we would not be pledging our allegiance to the flag, but rather re-affirming our loyalty to the throne. Because at the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, only approximately one third of the population supported the revolution. It was the unrelenting spirit and determination of this minority that provided us with the liberty we cherish so much and yet exploit today.

At this moment, halfway around the world, there is an unjustifiably forgotten young American, an American trying to do his part which might include orders to overtake a gun emplacement. You and I can rationalize this situation and realize that in pursuit of this objective he may just come face to face with his destiny. But he must eliminate this from his thoughts and make that charge with all the determination he can muster, for this is the only thing that will enable him to reach his goal, this goal being only a small part of the ultimate goal, that of giving a people the wherewithal to live free from oppression.

It is with this spirit of determination that not only we, the class of 1970, but everyone must go forth on the road to achievement and success. We must remove the roadblocks of ignorance and hostility. We must bridge the waters of disease and starvation. We must dam the flood of indifference that is eroding our environment. This is a tall task, but one that can be accomplished through unified determination and cooperation, and I am sure that the rewards will be ever gratifying to all mankind. Thank you.

DETERMINATION--Class honor student Edward Messner tells fellow graduates that they must enter the new decade with determination to achieve goals.

And Now They Go Forth

We Must Have Goals

by Josephine Maiorca
Valedictorian

Honored Guests, Parents and Friends -- The Class of 1970 would like to welcome you to B.H.S. 73rd Annual commencement.

Our graduation theme, this year is Through Determination and Consideration a goal can be attained. Young people have various dreams and visions, some of which end before they begin. Those that are pursued will frequently become reality only after many years of toil and dedication. To achieve a goal certain lasting and important standards must also be maintained. In our theme we have incorporated these criteria, having a goal in life approaching it with determination and having consideration for everyone we meet along the way.

When this evening terminates our high school years will be at a close. Embarking into the sea of life we now find ourselves transformed suddenly from a young adolescent into an adult, having the responsibility of forming our own decisions. Each of us must begin to look into the future and establish our own individual goals.

Some of us may question the value of having a particular goal. To illustrate its importance an analogy between life and traveling can be made. Today people travel a great deal, at times without a destination. When there is no destination, the excursion becomes meaningless and the traveler wanders about blindly, not realizing what he is searching for or desires. Life, too is a long journey. If you travel through it without a specific goal, eventually you will become engulfed in confusion, unaware of your own wants and needs. Thus life transforms into a tedious journey, which for you has no definite purpose.

In our contemporary world of internal and external strife, we the graduating students, must now reflect and set our future goals. Engulfed in an era of violence and death, we are inundated with various opinionated points of view, some new and revolutionary. Because we are existing in such a controversial society, we must establish definite goals and constantly keep them in sight. At times our problems may seem rampant, feelings of failure may clutch at us, however we should never lose sight of our goals. All else may have collapsed, but if we cling desperately to these goals, we will have the strength to continue on life's long road.

Success and achievement often are the ultimate results of maintaining a goal throughout the trials and tribulations of existence. An excellent example of this concept is the landing of men on the moon. In the early 1960's the magnanimous President John F. Kennedy predicted that our nation would have men on the moon before 1970. By this prediction this eminent man established a goal for our country to pursue. At times there were casualties and other unfortunate incidents, but because there was a definite goal, the U.S. was able to succeed in this venture.

On a individual basis this principle is also significant. The person who institutes a goal will have a cause to strive for within his lifetime. At times he may not actually achieve it, but in his own mind he is a success because he worked diligently toward this accomplishment. The man without the goal will wander haphazardly and eventually will fail, while the man with the goal will surely succeed.

CONSIDERATION--Class salutatorian, Martin Fuchs, speaks in this nation. Fuchs will enter Rutgers University in the fall. of consideration for others as a tool toward solving divisiveness

Consideration Can Help The Nation

by Martin Fuchs
Salutatorian

Honored guests, parents, friends, fellow graduates.

Today is a unique day, a critical point in the course of our lives. Yesterday we completed basic training, where we were equipped with the means to tackle future tasks, and tomorrow we will set out to seek our individual destinies.

Whatever our immediate plans -- whether it be further education, working experience, or service in our nation's armed forces, we first must establish a goal and then make a determined effort to achieve that aim.

Nevertheless, while competing, while struggling while striving we must never, for a moment, forget our fellow man. Everything we do or say effects someone, somewhere, for man is a social being. He lives, works and thinks amongst members of his own species, and in order to accomplish this he must show consideration for others.

But here lies a basic deficiency in the world today, what recently led a popular columnist to mourn the death of the civil rights movement with these words: "Unfortunately those that are right are no longer civil, and those that are civil are no longer right," and why today the ideal of compromise, a useful tool employed wisely throughout this nation's history is so unpopular and inflexible resolve so much preferred.

A lack of regard has sent this nation onto the road to division. Has turned rich against poor, black against white, college student against construction worker. Consideration may not be a panacea, but it certainly will help in the solution of the complicated problems that confront us.

If President Nixon were to respect the worthy intentions of American students protesting a seemingly endless struggle in Southeast Asia, and if these students were to acknowledge that their commander-in-chief is diligently doing his utmost to remedy an apparently unsolvable dilemma.

If those in the majority were to respect the rights of those in a minority to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and members of a minority would not attempt to deprive members of the majority of the same unalienable rights outlined by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence;

Then we would come much closer to resolving the conflicts which have propelled this nation to the brink of disaster.

Our duty in the days ahead, fellow graduates, will be to learn to deal with people in a considerate manner, and thus stem the tide of the polarization that threatens to destroy our great country.

UNDER THE WEATHER -- Threatening skies, a sign of the new era, forced Commissioner Mary Senatore and Congressional Page Walter Weiss to take refuge under an umbrella on the main stage.

HONOR GUARD--The honor guard, dressed in splendid gowns, march onto the field preceeding this year's Class of 1970.

Today, thanks to what has been done, yellow fever is a rare disease in humans, even in its two great natural reservoirs, the African and South American tropics. But in these places, beyond any chance of complete extinction, the virus persists in the monkeys and mosquitoes that live in the treetops. No drug will cure yellow fever. However, the North American who would like to make a safari into "darkest" Africa or take a trip up the Amazon has nothing to worry about if he has had yellow-fever vaccine first. The vaccination certificate is good for six years. This is one indication of what a good vaccine we have against yellow fever. It wears well!

CERTIFICATE AWARDED-Shown looking at the Certificate of Accreditation awarded to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital by the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education are Albin H. Oberg, executive director of the Hospital and Chaplain Donald E. Blume.

Hospital Is Accredited As Training Center

The Rev. Donald E. Blume, director of Chaplaincy Services and Pastoral Education at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, recently announced that the hospital had been granted full accreditation as a Training Center of the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education following a two year period of provisional accreditation.

The House of Delegates of the Association took favorable action upon the report and recommendation of the Certification and Accreditation Committee which had examined and evaluated the Clinical Pastoral Education programs which have been conducted at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital during the past two summers under the supervision of Chaplain Blume, a certified supervisor of the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education.

The Association with offices in New York, is the officially recognized group which provides for the supervised training of clergymen and seminarians who wish to further develop their pastoral sensitivity and skills. Clinical pastoral education provides the minister, priest and rabbi with an opportunity to enter into supervised relationships with people in crises in order to receive a deeper understanding of the dynamics of interpersonal relationships, to find ways of being more effective and helpful through their relationships with people, and to study the dynamics of illness.

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital has accepted four seminarians and two ordained ministers for the three month summer program, and applications are now being received for the three month winter program which will begin December 1. In accordance with the standards set by the Association, enrollment is limited to six trainees.

The Hospital is now part of a network of 250 accredited training centers located throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, the Philippines and Australia.

Scott-Stuart Productions

WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT?

Scott Stuart Productions has to be one of the most unique corporations in all of New Jersey. It helps in casting all non-professional people in movies, t.v. productions and t.v. commercials. Anyone who ever paid any attention to the characters in t.v. commercials or movies and said, "Hey, I can play that part as well as he" now finally has the opportunity. Dawson Scott who is the President of Scott Stuart explains, "Many people realize how difficult it is to break into show business so they wonder how Scott Stuart can get parts for the people who have no experience. The parts we have access to are small parts such as people walking up and down the street or eating in a restaurant for the background scenes. The minimum salary an extra gets per day is anywhere between $85.00 and $100.00, which can certainly turn into a great part-time job if selected."

Rotary Club President Visits 61st Convention

Ralph F. Salerno, former supervisor of detectives from the City of New York Police Department and a recognized authority on organized crime, focused on the problems of enforcing the law against organized criminal groups.

Angie Brooks, president of the United Nations General Assembly, talked about the impact of youth on the worldwide scene.

Jameson was the charter president of the Branch

Brook-Belleville Kiwanis club and presently is the treasurer of the local club. He has also served on the district level as chairman of new club building, and as co-ordinator of Kiwanis Administration.

This is the first time that Belleville has had a member chosen to this high post. The 55th annual Kiwanis International convention in Detroit, Mich. expects a record crowd of 24,000 from all parts of the world this week, and Jameson and five other members of the club will attend as delegates and alternates from the Branch Brook-Belleville Kiwanis membership.
