

'Death Strip' Improved

Guardrails Adjusted By State

The first step in what presumably will be a major safety improvement program for Route 21 came this week to Belleville's "Death Strip."

A team of State Highway Department workers have raised and strengthened guard rails northbound on the approximately 300 foot curved portion of Route 21 flowing through Belleville, which has become known as "the death strip."

Mayor Ken Smith, who last month threatened to close the highway in Belleville if safety standards weren't forthcoming, said he was happy "to see some action from the state to improve this dangerous situation," but indicated he wouldn't be completely satisfied until additional improvements are installed.

Monday, state workmen raised by 12 inches the guard rails which separate the roadway from the nearby Passaic River and installed posts at every six feet of guard rail instead of every 12. In addition, dirt which had piled up in front of the rails was scraped to road level, thereby eliminating steep mounds in front of guard rails. The crew also painted yellow cross hatch lines at the Rutgers Street turnoff to make it easier to see.

The state's initial attention has therefore been on the guardrails, which are scarred and bent throughout much of

Rejects Bank's Variance

The Zoning Board of Adjustment has rejected an application by DeWitt Savings and Loan Association to extend its parking facilities.

The Board voted 4-0 on June 30 to deny DeWitt the extension of its parking lot on Washington Avenue between Malone and Tappan Avenues, after hearing complaints by residents that the extension would increase "an already bad traffic situation."

Robert Williams, De Witt president, told the Times this week that the bank considered the matter through, and ruled out the possibility that his company might reapply to the Board.

The bank had hoped to buy a one family house which fronts on Malone Avenue to extend its present parking lot. Fifteen objectors hired a Newark attorney to protest the application, which involved an "A" residential or one family house zone.

DeWitt had told the Board that the extension would better enable them to serve the public.

The hearing will mark the last time the Board will meet until September when it holds its annual reorganization meeting.

$50,000 Decision Expected

The Town Commission is expected to vote Monday night on a $50,000 proposal to buy land on Cortland Street which would eventually house equipment for leaf and refuse disposal. The matter had been tabled in June for further study.

Last week a residents committee accompanied Commissioner Mary Senatore, who is director of Public Works, to the town of Riverside where a leaf and debris disposal unit was in operation. The commissioner said the committee will make a complete report at Monday's meeting.

Zone Board Will Vote Tonight On Apartments

A variance application for an 11-unit garden apartment is before the Zoning Board of Adjustment tonight at Town Hall. Vote on the matter has been postponed from a previous meeting on June 30 because complete testimony had not been heard.

Seeking the variance is Emil Sciaraffa owner of Pentagon Barber Shop, who hopes to construct the apartments in a

"B" residential zone which allows for one and two family construction. The site in question is 538-542 Joralemon Street, near Passaic Avenue.

Representing Sciaraffa is Belleville attorney Lawrence Schwartz, who contends that the area is not a true residential zone and that the apartments will provide a buffer zone between existing commercial establishments and homes.

An Irvington attorney, Sam Weitzman, is representing four objectors whose contention is that the area is still a two family zone. "We don't see how an 11-family garden apartment will add to the neighborhood," Weitzman told the Times this week. He also said the group

Takes Cullen's Spot

Mayor Promises: 'I Will Be Active'

A special meeting of town commissioners last Wednesday which included a phone hookup to Florida resulted in the naming of Mayor Ken Smith as acting director of the Department of Parks and Public Property.

Smith assumes the duties of former Commissioner Bill Cullen, who resigned suddenly in a terse letter last week and presumably has moved out of state.

In accepting the post, Mayor Smith said he fully intends "on being an active director," and indicated he would attempt major progress in several areas of recreation in Belleville.

The emergency meeting required a phone hookup to Florida, where the vacationing Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo listened to the entire proceedings before casting his vote in the unanimous ballot.

Belleville was still speculating this week on why Cullen had resigned without a personal word to any town official and had left no indication of where he was moving to.

The Mayor, who has been a strong proponent of increased recreation facilities in town, was scheduled to meet yesterday with the 15 member Belleville Athletic Council and Recreation Superintendent Bob Cook to discuss the transition.

Smith did indicate that two projects of Cullen's which he hopes to pursue are the expansion of the stadium and the erection of a recreation center.

Many political observers speculated last week that Cullen had been disenchanted with his inability to convince fellow commissioners to approve the expansion at the stadium and the recreation center. His proposal for a $15,000 portable swimming pool in the Valley was also defeated by commissioners.

Mayor Smith, who is director of public safety, did not indicate whether he felt he would experience similar difficulties. He did say that "recreation in Belleville has been neglected for lack of finances. Bill (Cullen) met with many frustrations in this line and I hope to fare better."

Cook, who has been Belleville's recreation superintendent the past 16 years, says the transition was really made three weeks ago. "Bill hadn't come around to see me for the past three weeks. I started taking on all his duties around then."

Jergens Property

Residents' Committee Studies Municipal Site

A nine-man committee of residents is studying the feasibility of whether a municipal complex can be constructed on land adjacent to the Jergens Company on Franklin Avenue.

The committee, headed by George Kiernan, was named by the Board of Commissioners who are hoping to construct a diversified municipal complex on two tracts of land which Jergens has expressed a desire to keep vacant as a "buffer zone."

The land under consideration was donated by Jergens to the town in 1966 under terms of a restrictive deed which stipulated that it was to be used solely for municipal purposes.

Serving with Kiernan, who lives at 101 Union Avenue, are the Rev. Dr. Frederick Long of 393 Washington Avenue; Kenneth Broo of 132 Fairway Avenue; George Toto of 41 Preston Street; Mrs. Grace Stanton of 9 Elena Place; T. William Sloan of 14 Lincoln Terrace; Sherman Beatty, of 265 Union Avenue; John Iannuzzi of 141 Birchwood Drive; and Edward Mahler of 62 High Street.

Jergens has been against the municipal complex ever since it was proposed in 1963 because the commission has said it hopes to construct high rise housing or office buildings on the site, in addition to a police and fire

Cook said he didn't foresee any major policy changes with Smith as director. "I think the Mayor has concurred on a lot of Commissioner Cullen's views about recreation. The Mayor, as I recall, campaigned with much concern for recreation."

Commissioner Cullen's pet project was the expansion of facilities at the stadium, where he had hoped to utilize adjacent property for new ball fields and basketball and tennis courts. His overtures to the state for funds on the approximately $175,000 project were apparently wasted last winter, when commissioners tabled to death his bonding ordinance on the matter.

station, and a health and recreation center.

Kiernan says the committee is working with a Newark attorney, Martin Kesselhaupt, to explore the restrictive deed. It is hoped that a courtroom battle may be averted, but several town officials, including Town Attorney Nicholas Amato, have said that the legal confrontation appears imminent.

The committee has also scheduled a meeting with the State Department of Finance to discuss ways in which the project could be financed.

In 1968 the commissioner launched an unsuccessful attempt to build a complex which would have included a police and fire station, a health and recreation center, and four 26-story high rise buildings. Jergens vetoed the construction because it felt the town's proposed usage of the land would destroy the "buffer zone."

In February of 1969, Town Attorney Nicholas Amato wrote Jergens informing them that the town intended to acquire a second tract of land owned by the company having a 650 foot frontage on Franklin Avenue which is located between the Jergens plant driveway and property owned by Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Amato had indicated at this time that if a price could not be negotiated for that nine acre tract, condemnation proceedings would be instituted.

George Simon Named Post 105 Commander

George Simon Jr. has been elected commander of the Belleville American Legion Post 105.

Commander-elect Simon was first vice-commander this past year, and was post membership chairman. In this capacity, he was instrumental in the post earning the George Silvers Membership Award as the top Legion in this category in Essex County.

A Korean War Veteran, Simon has served the post on many committees. He is currently the manager for the Post's Sabre Cadets, a drum and bugle corps which travels extensively and enters competitions. He also runs the post bingo games.

Married, he lives at 25 Beech Street with his wife Eleanor and a daughter.

A joint installation of the Legion officers and its Ladies Auxiliary will be held at the post home, 621 Washington Avenue, on Saturday, August 15.

Chief Recalls 39 Years

Today's policeman, finding himself in the very thick of this nation's turmoil and strife, often remarks that times past were more pleasant, that a policeman's duties were simpler in "the old days."

This week, retiring Belleville Police Chief Donald Smith dug up some old photos, drew up a chair with the Times, and recalled "the old days," which for him began 39 years ago when he was sworn in as a Belleville patrolman.

Patrolman Smith's duties were "easy" in the old days. "All I had to do was walk eight miles in eight hours." If he came upon a burglar in the good old days, Smith had to nab him alone. "There was no real communications system between the man on the beat and the headquarters, outside of a few call boxes. Besides, if you did get to a box and phoned headquarters, there was only one police car in the whole force and it wasn't the fastest of machines. What it boiled down to was that I had

The Smoldering GOP Feud

It is apparent now the fragmented group of Republicans who follow the leadership of West Orange's Joseph Intile, Jr. is determined to go its own way and continue to oppose the elected Republican leadership of George Wallhauser, Jr. Under the guise of opening an area county service office, Freeholder Raymond Stabile has established on Bloomfield Avenue, Newark, a new headquarters for the Joseph Intile Irregular Republicans.

This move from East Orange by the Irregular Republicans places that organization closer to the office maintained by its Democrat partners in downtown Newark.

The Intile Irregulars were scheduled to meet this week and elect Joe president of the Essex County Irregular Republicans. This crowd is even thinking about openly endorsing Democrat candidates in the upcoming November election. Well, it is about time decent Republicans interested in the welfare of their party take off the gloves, and once and for all time put an end to irregularity within the Republican party. For Republican voters the choice between the Intile Irregulars and the George Wallhauser Republican organization is very simple.

We are confident no amount of defection by Intile Irregulars will change the course of the November election results. By next summer the Intile Irregulars will be only a bad memory.

The Polls Fail In Britain

The Conservative victory in Great Britain is the most serious indictment of public opinion polls since the U.S. presidential election of 1948, when Harry Truman upset the Republican favorite, Thomas Dewey. Edward Heath's winning of the Prime Minister's job from Harold Wilson was even more surprising for several reasons.

In 1948 all the major polls agreed the race was close, but all predicted a Dewey victory. In the recent British election the major polls agreed Labor was likely to win a one-sided victory. Only one indicated a reasonably small Labor majority.

How could all polls be wrong over so many weeks leading up to the election? The pollsters say there was a last-minute switch of public opinion, as they always say when they record a major miss. But it is unlikely public opinion switched so dramatically, so rapidly. The answer must be that the polls need to sample a greater percentage of the population. Or perhaps their selection of persons to be questioned is faulty, not really accurately representative of the voting population.

In any event, polls have become a major force in the democracies and they often influence elections, and influence governments in countries like England in their decisions when to call elections. Some have suggested that in countries like England, governments can manipulate the economy for a short-term effect, calling an election when the results, reflected in polls, are obvious, and perpetuate their existence.

Harold Wilson employed this technique, at least to some extent. Had he won, it would have been the first time a Prime Minister had won three elections in a row in two hundred years. He came close. But the polls misled him, and just about everyone else. They are not infallible, after all.

First Amendment Freedoms

Four Congressmen, liberals and conservatives and Democrats and Republicans, have introduced a bill which would guarantee freedoms long taken for granted under the First Amendment.

Surprisingly, there are no federal laws restricting one citizen from interfering with another's freedom of speech, assembly, press and religion.

The sponsors of the new legislation are the four congressional members of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence - Senator Philip Hart (D-Mich), Senator Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb), Representative William McCulloch (R-Ohio) and Representative Hales Boggs (D-La).

The sponsors hope the bill will enable college administrations to prevent demonstrations which deny freedom of speech. It could also be used by students against administrations which prevent freedom of assembly - orderly assembly not violating the rights of others.

It would prevent disruption of classes, church services and other assemblies by allowing courts to jail disrupters up to six months without a trial if a court order has been obtained against interference beforehand.

Case Discusses Amendment

SINCE MAY 13, 1970, the United States Senate has been occupied almost exclusively with discussion of the "Cooper-Church" Amendment to the Foreign Military Sales Act.

The Amendment would enact into law the limits which the President himself imposed upon our current operations in Cambodia and would require Congressional authorization for future United States military aid to Cambodia. I am a co-sponsor of the Amendment.

The Amendment does not intend to, and it could not, shackle the President in the exercise of his Constitutional power to protect American forces or otherwise reduce his authority as Commander-in-Chief. It would, therefore, in no way place American troops in greater danger.

But even when critics concede this point, they ask what good the Amendment would do? Why is it necessary?

Among other reasons, I want to mention three.

First, a practical reason. The President needs the support the Amendment would give him in observing the limits he himself has placed on our Cambodia action. Pressures are already mounting in many quarters for us to increase and extend our involvement in Cambodia. All the arguments which involved us in Vietnam will be repeated. The momentum of events could well make the pressures toward a widened war irresistible unless the President is supported in his determination by Congress and by the people.

Second, the Amendment is important as reassurance to millions of Americans who have rightly become deeply upset by the asserted power of the President to engage our country in military operations almost at will and without regard to the Constitutional requirement of Congressional concurrence. The country needs evidence that the restraining power of Congress still is a vital protection against our country's involvement in war without the consent of the people.

FINALLY, the Amendment represents the willingness of Congress to share with the President the responsibility for the consequences which our withdrawal from Southeast Asia, right though it is, will inevitably entail. The fact is that there is no simple, happy way out of our present involvement in Southeast Asia. The likelihood of continued fighting and even chaos in the area after our departure is very great and the lives of many Asians who have aligned themselves with us may well be forfeit despite our best efforts to provide asylum. Moreover, the revulsion at home over the ambiguous results achieved at terrible cost could be shattering.

The American people must be drawn together in a mutual sharing of responsibility for all these consequences of our withdrawal. The Cooper-Church Amendment, in its broadest sense, is an offer by the Congress to the President to share in these responsibilities. Up to now he has refused this offer. I regret this deeply. I hope he still can be persuaded to change his mind.

Canadian Says Belleville Has Fine Teenagers

The following letter was written to Mayor Ken Smith by an Ontario, Canada woman who saw the Belleville High School Band perform during its Canadian tour last month - NTG)

Dear Mr. Mayor,
As one of the older members of the Rebekah Lodge, who served dinner for the Dairy Princess Day yesterday, I should like to commend the citizens of your city for the fine teenagers they have produced.

They were well-groomed, the boys had respectable hair cuts and everyone was courteous, polite and pleasant - a group to be extremely proud of.

Army Reserve - National Guard ARE Active

To the Editor

In your recent PHILosophizing Column in the Belleville-Times News dated 25 June 1970 you made mention of "do nothing" National Guard and Army Reserve Units. I agree that this is possible and I do not doubt your word. If you have such information it should be forwarded to the proper authorities, the State Adjutant General or the Chief, Army Reserve Affairs.

There are many Army Reserve and National Guard Units around the country who do their share of work. Some articles are enclosed for your reading. One typical Army Reserve Unit in this vicinity upon whom many people depend is the 322d General Hospital located in Newark. This Unit spent two weeks last summer helping out the overworked Medical Personnel at Walsen Army Hospital, Fort Dix, N.J. They did an excellent job in caring for the sick and wounded.

During the rest of the year some Medical Personnel work at the overcrowded and understaffed Martland Medical Center in Newark. Others are giving physicals at the Army Recruiting Station in Newark, while still others return to Fort Dix one weekend a month to assist at Walsen Army Hospital.

I met you a while back while you were writing the Sports for The Belleville Times and I was the Trainer for the Belleville-Nutley Iron Dukes. I have always enjoyed your columns but thought it was my duty as a Citizen-Soldier to bring to your attention that there are still some good things happening, not a lot, but some.

There are many Belleville and Nutley men who are members of the 322d General Hospital.

Sincerely,
William R. Ellis

Family Says Thanks For Emergency Aid

To the Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the emergency squad and police officers who answered our call for aid on June 23, and who were very prompt and helpful in our times of need for our son Joseph.

Many thanks.

Skip The Movies -- There Are Enough 'Naked Ladies'

The the Editor:

One of the best summaries of the "Naked Lady" controversy was in Dr. Wolff's letter last week and to those who missed it, I highly recommend its reading.

However, not one comment has been made regarding the "social significance" of "What Do You Say To A Naked Lady?"

My son (over 21) was along to the show and I explained to him that the "message" was to say absolutely nothing and act unconcerned. I related how on several occasions in Nutley supermarkets ladies (?) wearing short shorts, loose and ill-fitting exposed their private parts to public view. The lesson learned? say nothing and act unconcerned.

Now is the police department wanted to be so concerned over these situations, I have yet to hear of an arrest for indecent exposure in this town.

Why go to the Franklin Theatre to see an X movie when you can get three dimension in super living flesh panavision in most any market here in town?

Thanks Contributors

To the Editor:

I would like to take the liberty of using your newspaper to thank the many Nutley people who contributed to our "Arts Festival '70."

In my opinion it was a beautiful show because of the dedication and ambition of so many. The Nutley Art Group, Junior Woman's Club, Kiwanis Club, Sing Out-Nutley, our own Parks Department staff, The Nutley Sun, our advertisers, patrons, boosters and artists - and the thousands of spectators, too - all contributed to make it a wonderful event.

Thank you, all.

NEA Investigates Local School System

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

The Reverend Joseph J. Cestaro took over the role of pastor in Saint Anthony's Church. The Reverend Titian Menegus, former pastor of Saint Anthony's, was pastor for 28 years and Father Cestaro said, "to carry on the good work of the former pastor would be more than enough to ask of me."

With the undesirable possibility of 100 million gallons of sewage being dumped daily in the Passaic River by the Passaic Valley Sewage Commission, Belleville officials Mary Senatore and Vincent Strumulo raised the likelihood of a town lawsuit against the Commission to block the dumping.

A World War II veteran, Kenneth Paton, was elected Commander of Post 106, American Legion. Other officers elected were: 1st vice-commander, George Simon; 2nd vice-commander, Anthony Mariani; 3rd vice-president, Frank Kiernan; finance officer, Patrick Lee; service officer, Joseph Farrell; chaplain, John Wedekind; historian, Lloyd Monterosa and sergeant-at-arms Charles Wilson.

Five Years Ago

The National Educational Association's Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities were to conduct a survey of the local Belleville school system, according to an announcement released by Ernest S. Arvidson, president of the Board of Education. Arvidson was informed of the NEA's decision in a letter from Lewis Applegate, director of Public Relations of the New Jersey NEA.

Twenty Belleville youngsters arrived at School 2 to begin pre-school training under the Federal government's new program, Project Head Start. Mayor Nuncio Pico and Michael T. Rosamilia, acting superintendent, were on hand to greet them. Also on the welcoming committee were a trio of teachers: Miss Barbara Caputo and her two assistants, Miss Susan Walter and Miss Jeanne Stager.

Ten Years Ago

Twelve Belleville residents officially became firemen in a brief ceremony at the Town Hall, with Town Clerk Eugene Barnett administering the oath of office. The new firemen were: Charles Aughenbaugh, William D. Baumgartner, Frank J. Dantonio, Leo M. Killeen, Albert C. Lowack, Edward A. Peslak, Robert W. Reed, Edward J. Saulino, Michael A. Sbarra, Harry R. Scott, Richard Triano and Arthur Whitman.

More than 15,000 people witnessed the huge fireworks display and circus which highlighted the July 4 celebration at the Municipal Stadium. Commissioner George F. Kiernan, director of Parks and Public Property, said he was "overwhelmed with the turnout."

Saint Peter's, Belleville, clobbered Our Lady of the Valley, Orange, 12-1, in an Essex County CYO Intermediate League baseball game. Saint Peter's only got seven hits off George Lynch, one less than Our Lady of the Valley collected off Jim Cleff's serves, but Cleff had much better support and wasn't nearly as wild as Lynch.

Fifteen Years Ago

Joseph R. Pepe of 42 Belmont Avenue was promoted to First Lieutenant in the National Guard. Pepe, a veteran of World War II, joined the guard in 1949 as a motor maintenance sergeant. He was currently coordinator and director of all motor maintenance for the 102nd and Armored Cavalry Regiment undergoing field training in Camp Dawn, New York.

Mrs. Jennie Brown, who marked her 87th birthday, was honored with a party at Little Zion U.A.M.E. Church, where she had been a member for 42 years.

Catherine North was to be installed counselor of the Grand American Council 102, Daughters of America, with the following new officers: Anna Brown, vice-counselor; Marie Vaughn, recording secretary and David E. Lamb, financial secretary.

The second date of veterans' housing units was to currently take place. The three-unit veterans' barrack known as 8-8A-8B Brighton Avenue was scheduled to be sold on July 20.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Accepting the presidency of the Belleville Rotary Club, B. Thomas Aitken, president and director of the Peoples National Bank, indicated that stress would be laid during the year on community service. Other officers who were installed along with Aitken were: S.G. Bart, vice-president; Henry G. Naylor, treasurer and Frank J. McFadden, secretary.

Four new members joined the Belleville Motor Corps, an organization whose activities ranged from aiding the Red Cross and the Community Service Bureau to donating blood and helping the Welfare Council. The new members who had joined were Mrs. George J. De Van, Mrs. Christian P. Hansen, Miss Mildred Szymansky and Mrs. John S. Zimmerman.

Private First Class Robert C. Wille, well-known in Belleville scholastic sports circles before he entered the army, was one of the first Americans to enter Berlin. A member of the famous "Hell on Wheels" tank division, Wille entered Berlin when Americans were allowed to infiltrate the German capital.

Mini vs Midi:

QUESTION: Almost all fashion designers have declared the mini as "out" and the midi as "in." Which type of hemline do you prefer?

ASKED: Of local females.

Debbie Troisi, 90 Oakridge Avenue, Nutley:

I'm for the mini. The midi skirt reminds me too much of the old fashioned look. I would probably wear the mini skirt even if they did go out of style, but that's not likely to happen. Too many girls like the mini skirt to change to a lower hemline. The mini is here to stay. Most guys prefer the mini. I like maxi coats but maxi dresses are also "out" with me. I think a girl looks much better wearing a mini than with a midi or maxi. The mini look is more stylish and they create a neater appearance. I believe that in every survey taken by magazines or on the radio that the mini skirt was overwhelmingly preferred. The fashion designers are pushing the midi but most girls are sticking with the mini.

Sharon Hoey, 213 Ralph Street, Belleville:

I don't like the midi skirt. I think they make girls look much older than they really are. The midi doesn't do anything for a girl. It just doesn't look good. The midi skirt looks too old fashioned, like something out of the 1920's. Girls of today don't want to wear something that their grandmothers wore. They found a good style and now are going to stick with it. Most girls will do what they want and aren't going to change just because the fashion designers are previewing midis. The midi look is terrible on most girls but I think that skinny girls would benefit from it. But they are the only ones.

Angela Sparaco, 74 Oakridge Avenue, Nutley:

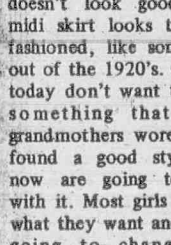

The midi doesn't look good on a girl. I'm for the mini and think that most girls feel the same way. The midi, besides being too long, is also very uncomfortable. It feels like your dress or skirt is dragging. I wouldn't wear a midi just because the fashion designers say that it is "in." Most girls agree with me. This is why the midi isn't going over big. Just a few years ago girls were wearing their skirt just above the knee. Now, even that is too long. And they want to bring the hemline below the knee? I don't think that it will happen. Most girls don't care what the fashion designers say. They are happy with the mini and will stay with a good thing.

Vera Gino, 71 Little Street, Belleville:

The midi look isn't going over with most girls. I don't like them. They're too long. The fashion designers tried to push the maxi look and that failed, and so will the midi. Girls like the mini and will stay with that style for a long time. Once I tried on a long dress and I almost broke my leg while going up a set of stairs. That will be the last time I'll ever wear one of them. No one in my family and none of my friends are wearing midi skirts. Occasionally you will see someone on the street wearing one but even that doesn't happen too often. The maxi and midi style is a flop. Girls are staying with the mini.

MY MOTHER almost had me convinced that Reverend Gerard Walsh was transferred out of St. Mary's parish to a Pennsylvania assignment. Just the idea of Father Walsh being moved out of Nutley was a great shock. A telephone call to the parish office gave us assurance it was all a misunderstanding. By a strange coincidence the parish bulletin printer mixed up a different Father Walsh from the one we all know and like. To many of us Father Walsh is as much a friend as he is the parish priest. It would be almost inconceivable to comprehend a set of circumstances that would require the church hierarchy to replace Father Walsh.

Congressman Joseph G. Minish last week disclosed that he is preparing legislation to obtain retroactive tax benefits for the families of servicemen killed in Cambodia or Laos. Because Cambodia and Laos have never been designated combat areas families of servicemen killed in those areas have been excluded from many survivor benefits. Three cheers for Congressman Minish but where, one may ask, is our friend Congressman Pete Rodino?

Because we endorsed Mayor Ken Gibson for election over Hugh Addonizio in The Newark Record, anti-Gibson political activists in Newark's north ward are predicting brother Carl will lose thousands of votes in the November election when he seeks a seat on the Essex County Board of Freeholders. We cannot accept the theory that guilt by blood-relationship has that many supporters.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY! "In the long run the pessimist may be proved right, but the optimist has a better time on the trip". Commencing July 1 people using the airlines are obliged to pay an additional three per cent tax, bringing Uncle Sam's total take to eight per cent.

In adopting the tax increase Congress also ordered airlines to merge the total tax cost with the air fare thus concealing the tax. Congress claims all this was done for the benefit of the traveler. There was also a new tax for flights to foreign countries — a flat $3.00 charge for travel on U.S. or foreign carriers. The revenue from all of these taxes is alleged to provide funds for improving airports. It is expected that over $666,000,000 will be raised during the first year and approximately 16 billion dollars over the next ten years.

At the same time Congress is permitting the flying public to pick up the multibillion tab for airport improvement; it is objecting to any governmental effort to bail out bankrupt and ailing railroads. The public's need for good reliable passenger trains is unquestioned. The shortest route to mass transit is utilization of the millions of miles of rails. For the most part European railroads are pleasant reliable, fast and clean — they are all government subsidized. The air fare tax is a use tax. You have to fly to pay. An attempt to add a heavy tax burden to train passengers would probably lead the few remaining people using train services to abandon that type of transportation.

Some Printer's Devil Would Send Rev. Walsh Away from His Flock

"Wherever in this sunny land on azure sky and sea, Can you enjoy the surf and sand on a six-mile beach for free? Wherever shines the sun so much in unrelenting grace, To give your life a golden touch and a healthy, sun-tanned face? There's only one place on this earth, and that's Fort Lauderdale, Where you will find the joy and mirth of a sunlit fairytale. In unchained freedom are you one with nature at her best; It's up to you to catch your fun and get your share of rest. May Lauderdale forever more be blessed by tourist trade, And may homesteaders use their shore after their tax is paid. For sun and sea and surf and sand rate no monopoly, And dollars go from hand to hand from guests to you and me. So let us gratefully partake in our golden gift, With hope that no wild tempest's wake shall tear our faith adrift. Meanwhile, enjoy this sunny land of azure sky and sea, And fill your shoes with clean beach sand on a six-mile beach for free."

THE NATIONAL Association of Hosiery manufacturers has just completed a fourteen month scientific study to help make sure that pantyhose fit correctly. The findings are being transplanted into industry-wide size definitions so that the girl of the house will now be able to buy a pair of pantyhose with assurance the size will correspond not only to her height but also her weight. From the looks of some of them the hosiery manufacturer's action should have been taken long ago.

Ben Grim Flew 28 Bombing Missions

Ben Grim, who last week was elected president of the Belleville Rotary Club, flew 28 bombing missions in World War II, including the first aerial invasion of Berlin.

Today, the new Rotary president is director of Belleville's public library, and one of the more progressive thinkers among Belleville's officials.

Born in Jersey City, Grim moved to Rutherford where he attended the grammar and high school before enrolling at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Va. Completing his bachelors degree studies, he entered the Air Force for three years and was stationed in England. During this time he flew 28 official missions as a radio operator in the old B-24 airplanes.

After the service, Grim enrolled at Columbia University, where he received his masters degree in library science.

The young librarian's first job was with the Detroit Public Library as a youth services librarian. In this capacity he conducted programs for teens, including a monthly radio program called "Young America Looks At Books," in which a book was chosen by teens to examine during a broadcast.

After two years in Detroit, Grim came to Fairlawn as assistant library director. From there he was invited to the Montclair library system to help them move into a modern facility. In this capacity, Grim was assigned to the old Montclair library's cellar to evaluate old books and documents for their historical value. One of his discoveries was a document for the commissioning of a Revolutionary War officer. He also aided in the interior design of the facility.

In April of 1961, Grim was hired to Belleville to succeed Mrs. Jane Giglio as library director.

The new director's first concern was the physical plant, which he labeled "dingy and dark, with no feeling of space." Grim attacked the problem by ordering new floors and furniture, before turning to the problem of building up the collection.

One of his first official duties was to breakup the book section labeled "adult reading," which was a compilation of controversial books often referred to as "dirty." Grim didn't eliminate these, he merely distributed them throughout the library according to their subject matter. "We got alot of complaints about this from people who were used to going to the adult reading rack."

Since he took over, Grim has spruced up the Library, making it as modern as is possible with a structure which is over 40 years old. He has instituted a children's program of films and pre-school story hours, many of which he conducted himself.

Sources in N.J. Say We Will Spend Millions, But We Can Solve Our Pollution Problem

By Phil White

DEPENDING UPON whom we're talking to, we are charged either with being too critical of politicians, or too willing to give them the benefit of the doubt. Government, however is an extremely complicated and intricate machine, and we are convinced that fact totally escapes the public most of the time. The democratic process is time consuming to operate and even more time consuming to change, especially after a change in administration, whether it be a Richard Nixon in Washington or a William Cahill in Trenton.

Governor Cahill has convinced us that he is going to tackle the major problems facing New Jersey. He has been an extremely busy fellow since his January inauguration, and while his critics — like those of Nixon — are quick to point a finger and ask "What has he done?", the fact remains that those close to the Trenton and Washington scenes know that much is being done.

Here in New Jersey, Governor Cahill's attention has been focused on the areas of mass transportation, air and water pollution, and the much needed reform programs in such areas as the state government's organization, techniques of the welfare program, methods of increasing revenue, and needed improvement in health and penal institutions.

Cahill is going about the business of planning for New Jersey's future by first naming some type of study group to analyze specific problems and come up with possible solutions. These study groups have been comprised of New Jersey's top executives and businessmen and they have been working under a timetable designed to bring their research to an early conclusion so that the actual work can begin.

PROBLEMS FACING NUTLEY and Belleville with respect to the contamination of the Passaic River and the ineffective treatment at plants of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission prompted considerable discussion by Governor Cahill at a meeting in his office a few weeks ago.

"My ultimate goal is to have the effluent completely discontaminated, if not outright drinkable," the Governor said in describing his ultimate goals. He reported that an experimental treatment plant in Bridgeport, N.J. is now in operation and is being studied closely. That sewage facility supposedly discharges effluent that is pure enough to drink. Cahill also heard about some innovative treatment techniques now going on in Sweden and to get that information back to New Jersey in a hurry, he sent Commissioner Richard Sullivan overseas to study the applications as they might relate to New Jersey.

Cahill's biggest problem involving sewage treatment comes from the Passaic Valley treatment plant. This facility which treats local sewage, built in 1924 has long passed its capacity.

Nutley Commissioners are probably responsible for creating the stink (pardon the pun) that caused the Passaic Valley directors to build a bypass along Route 21 in Newark while main lines to the Newark Bay plant are being repaired. It's difficult to believe this, but the Passaic Valley Commission originally had every intention of dumping raw sewage into the Passaic River at the Nutley-Clifton border while the construction work took place under Route 21.

Public opinion, however, prevailed and at great "extra cost," the bypass was constructed. The pipes used to bypass the underground work run overland and can be seen by motorists driving down Route 21 into Newark.

The problems New Jersey faces are beyond description when the prediction is considered that the state's population will double in the next 30 years. In sewage treatment, the goal is to stop dumping sludge off the Atlantic coast and start treating effluent to the point, as the Governor said, where it is made pure enough to drink.

The exact techniques of the needed purification processes are still being worked on, but the fact that millions and millions of dollars will be needed is indisputable. We have even been told that as much as a billion dollars alone might be needed to remedy the problems facing the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission. Upon hearing that kind of information, people usually quickly point to industry and say the state's large businesses should foot the sewerage treatment bill. But obviously, to raise a billion dollars is going to take much more than dipping into the treasury of big business.

Industries, such as Hoffmann-La Roche here in Nutley, appear willing to do their share in the mammoth problem. It will cost firms millions, but it is not an impossible task. We expect it won't be too long before the Cahill Administration sets some sort of deadline for industries to comply with new restrictions on the type of discharge they can dump into the municipal trunk lines.

THE PASSAIC VALLEY Sewerage Commission today also faces a court suit — a really drastic kind of legal action which if successful would close down industries in the Essex-Passaic areas and place an embargo on all building construction and new sewer connections until the Newark Bay treatment plant is improved to acceptable standards.

Nutley Town Attorney Anthony T. Drollas has already appeared in behalf of the municipality on this suit. Nutley's position is to promote the end of pollution, but at the same time, protecting Hoffmann-La Roche and other local industries from being forced to shut down which is what the suit would accomplish.

Governor Cahill is aware of the extremities of the legal suit too. He told us the court case boils down to the question of "being torn between the question of closing down our state's industrial complex or keeping it open to maintain its employment of our people."

Fortunately, the people of New Jersey do seem willing to pay their share of the cost of ending pollution. The forcing of the Passaic Valley Commission to construct that pipe-line by-pass along Route 21 is enough evidence of that.

Helen's Thing ...

Will The Real Social Editor Please Stand?

By Helen Maguire

SOMEONE SAID to me the other day, "Helen, you must have one of the best part time jobs in town. How did you get it?"

I got it by answering an ad in the Nutley Sun and yes, it is one of the best part time jobs in town.

When Gavin was about 14 months old, I contracted a disabling disease called houstitis. In other words, I was rapidly getting sick of doing nothing except keeping house and looking after kids. Other women with this malady join clubs or organizations but I never was a joiner and began to think seriously of getting a part-time job. The prospect of escaping the house a few hours a week coupled with visions of what we could do with some extra cash turned the trick and I began to peruse the classified ads in the town weekly.

The ad read (to the best of my recollection), "Wanted: Someone to work evenings on the rewrite desk of the Nutley Sun, Belleville Times. Good typing skills essential." Well, scratch that one. Much as the job appealed to me, my typing skills were as rusty as an old nail left out in the rain.

However, when the ad ran a second, third, fourth and fifth week, it dawned on my crafty brain that perhaps they would settle for someone deficient in typing who at least knew how to spell and had had some experience in college working for the news bureau.

I called the Sun and, following the ad's directions, asked to speak to the editor. Anyone who has had any dealings with PRW knows that, with his crazy schedule, he is harder to see than the president himself. I spent another week tracking down the elusive Philip, finally caught up with him, asked for the job, passed a short test and was hired.

Much to my surprise, I was made social editor of the Newark Record, one of the organization's sister papers and started going into the office four nights a week. I loved it. This was right up my alley.

I had worked for the Record a few months when the social editor of the Sun and Times left. Would I like the job? Definitely, although to this day, I haven't figured out why they offered me the promotion unless it was because I could spell Alencon lace, peau de soie and phalaenopsis orchids.

WITH THE ARRIVAL of Ryan came the revolution. It was impossible to walk out of the house and leave a two year old and an infant with teen age brothers no matter how efficient they were.

I reluctantly tendered my resignation. No soap. From this day forth, decided the members of the press, the social department of the Sun and Times would move to the Nutley Sun's room. It did and some other week, I told you how I got out my part of the newspaper in the calm and serenity of my own home.

'Death Strip' Improved By Highway Department

(Continued from Page 1) on the guardrails three weeks ago, when 15 year old Kathie DeFago of Belleville lost her life in an auto which flipped the guard rail and plunged into the Passaic River.

In all, 14 other persons have lost their life on the "death strip" since Route 21's construction in 1959. Mayor Smith, who as Belleville's Public Safety Director has been seeking safety features on the roadway for over a year, said he will press state officials for the installation of reflectors along the rails. He also wants warning lights at turnoffs and at the approach to the "death strip."

Library Sets Four Films For Children

A movie hour for students in grades K - 3 will be sponsored by the children's department of the Belleville Public Library today at the main branch on Washington Avenue. The program begins at 10 A.M., lasting approximately 45 minutes.

Four films will be shown, with the first "The circus baby" based on a book of the same title about a baby elephant. The adventures of a young duck are shown in "The story of Ping". "Anatole", based on the book by Eve Titus, is the story of a charming French mouse. The last film is "The Ugly Duckling", based on the famous fairy tale.

Self-control is a virtue that individuals recommend to their friends.

SAFETY PATROL — Motorcycle patrolman Donald Smith poses with the safety patrol of School Seven in 1936. The young policeman was assigned to traffic patrol near the school.

FAST MACHINE — Pausing at the corner of Bridge Street and Belleville Avenue is Don Smith in 1936 with a Harley-Davidson motorcycle capable of going 90 miles per hour.

THE FIRST — Officer Don Smith opens door to Belleville's first patrol car in 1940 which was equipped with a public address system and was designed to catch speeders.

LIKE FATHER — Donald Smith Jr., a sergeant today with the Essex County Park Police, bears a close resemblance to his dad, who retires in September after 39 years with Belleville Police Department.

to catch the man by myself." Things got alot "simpler" when the force began using motorcycles in 1936. "I had to patrol the whole town as my beat, which included watching traffic and chasing speeders. I had alot of fast chases in those days. You'd pull along side to tell a speeder to stop, and many times he'd try to knock you off the cycle."

Traffic control was a "cinch." There wasn't any Route 3 in the early 1930's, so traffic heading toward New York would flow through Belleville, mainly down Belleville and Union Avenues.

Handling tough jobs was second nature to Don Smith, the same as it was for his two brothers, Ken and Sydney.

Born May 15, 1905, in Pequannock, Donald Smith moved to Newark with his family, and lived there nine years. His childhood up until that age was the same as any other boys, with alot of sports and fishing.

When his father, Henry D. Smith passed away in 1914, everything changed. The family moved to Belleville — the three boys, Mrs. Smith, and Don's sisters Doris and Marianne. At 12, Don began working after school to help support the family, while his "big brother" Ken, joined up with the United States Marines at the ripe old age of 13½.

After attending School One, Don entered the high school, where at 16, family economic pressures forced him to become a high school dropout.

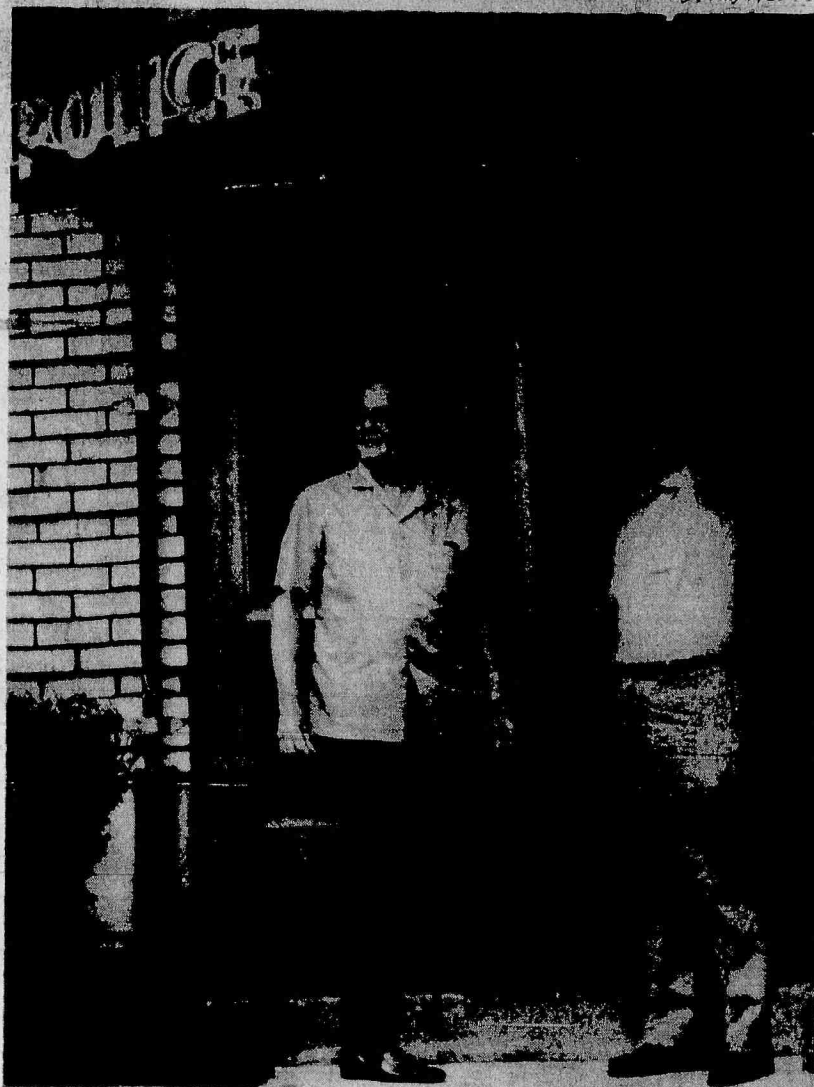

"I began working on a wholesale milk truck for Bloomingdale Dairy in Newark. My hours were 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. and it was rough work."

At 22, Don followed his love for cars and motorcycles and became a mechanic in 1927. That same year Don took his motorcycle down to the corner of Main and Rutgers Streets near the old A & P where boys and girls would pull up some milk boxes and socialize. One of the girls who asked Don for a ride on his motorcycle was Margaret Miller, who became Mrs. Donald Smith.

It was Mrs. Smith who forced Don to quit his auto mechanics job, where he had to work nights, and join the Belleville Hudson and Essex Automobile Company as a service manager. Soon after that, he opened his own shop on Washington Avenue.

In 1931 Don decided on a career with the police force, and signed on as a "chanceman," which was sort of a waiting list for future patrolman. An ordinance on the books in 1931 limited the police force to: one chief, one captain, four sergeants, 24 patrolmen and 12 chancemen. The ordinance was later changed by Commissioner George Gerard in 1935 to the extent that the force could employ "as many policemen as needed to patrol the town properly."

Don's first salary with the force was $2,000, a figure which subsequently was sliced 30 per cent because of the depression. Of his remaining salary, only 30 per cent was paid in cash, while the rest were paid in "baby bonds," which were Belleville bonds in denominations lower than ten dollars. "The bonds weren't always convenient, because shop keepers would not give change for them. Consequently if you gave him a ten dollar script and spent less, he kept it until you came back and spent the rest."

During this first year, brother Ken was a motorcycle cop, having joined the Belleville Police force in 1928.

If things weren't necessarily simpler, they were certainly quieter, Don recalls. "The pace of things was slower and there wasn't any parking on hookup.

When Don took to the cycle, Ken was assigned to the desk as a sergeant. Don drove the cycle until 1946, when he was promoted to detective, which carried with it an extra $150 the first year and $300 the second.

Available for the investigating Belleville detective, were cars which Don calls "broken down junks," but "we managed to get around."

While Don was assigned to the detective bureau, Ken was promoted to lieutenant. Apparently hampered by his drop-out status, Don enrolled in the Delehanty Institute in 1947, a police academy in New York City. Don took a captain I thought it was for a business job or something. It seemed to have little relevance to police work."

Ken, meanwhile, left the force in 1954 with the ranking of deputy chief to run for the town commission. Don says that if his older brother hadn't entered politics, he would have been named police chief in 1966.

As things had it though, Don found himself second in command, in charge of all uniformed policemen. In 1962 he became deputy chief, and when Chief Charles McGinnis retired in September of 1966, Donald Smith was named police chief of Belleville.

In the future for the retiring chief is fishing, fishing and more fishing. "I like all kinds of fishing, although I seldom go out in a boat. On the boats it's too crowded and you're always getting your lines tangled."

"When you're out for the day fishing," Chief Smith says, "you always meet alot of people who are usually pretty friendly and easy to talk to."

Don has for many years been active with the Masons. He is a member of the Belleville Masonic Lodge 108; the Royal Arch Masons 54 of Montclair; the Knights Templar, and is a life member of the New Jersey Police Square Club, which is made up of policemen who are Masons. He is past president of the Police Square club.

In addition, Don, who was given a testimonial dinner in 1968, is a life member of the PBA, having served as a delegate and trustee. He is also affiliated with the Salaam Temple in Livingston, a Shriners organization.

'...a cop had to nab a burglar by himself'

the streets overnight. Consequently you knew every car which was left on the street.

"I always had a list of stolen cars with me. I must have apprehended 250 stolen autos during my years as a motorcycle policeman."

Don's time on the motorcycle began New Year's Day of 1936, when he was assigned to a Harley-Davidson "with a 74 cubic inch engine which could do 90 miles an hour."

With his cycle, Don had to patrol the whole town, and would receive emergency calls via a special alarm system with 30 red lights hooked up at intervals throughout town.

At night if you were needed the red light would go on; in the daytime a bell system would work from the light six month course which was designed to prepare a policeman for promotion.

In March of 1948, Don was graduated first in his class, and in October of that year was promoted to sergeant. The new ranking took Don from the Detective bureau and placed him in charge of traffic control. He had a car, which for the first time had a radio system. Ken also received a promotion and now ranked as captain.

Promotions came in succession now for both Don and Ken, and they both achieved high grades in the newly installed Civil Service promotion system (1946). In 1952 Don made Lieutenant. In 1956, with "the exams getting tougher and tougher," he was promoted to Captain. "When I took the exam for

Rotary Club To Hear Adoption Society Head

Miss Barbara Smith, executive director of the Children's Aid and Adoption Society of New Jersey, whose headquarters office is located in East Orange, will be the featured speaker at the July 15 meeting of the Rotary Club of Belleville. The meeting of the Rotarians is slated to be held at 12:15 p.m. at the Fountain Restaurant, according to Rotary vice-president Michael Mercuno.

Miss Smith, who now enters her 30th year of work with children, will discuss the unmet needs of New Jersey's children and how more of these needs may be resolved through close cooperation between child care agencies such as CAAS and citizen leadership groups such as Rotary.

In her presentation Miss Smith will trace the growth of the burgeoning unmet child-care situation in New Jersey. She will also demonstrate how an unprecedented upsurge of children's problems seemingly has out-distanced the present capacities of agencies, both state and private to adequately cope with needs—and will suggest ways and means to better deal with these situations.

Miss Smith is also expected to touch on the special needs of children categorically described as "hard-to-place". These are homeless children for whom it is difficult to find homes. Miss Smith will tell how these special child placement situations, including children for whom remedial medical treatment of long duration is often needed, are resolved so that such children may be made ready and available for adoption.

is objecting to several specific features of the proposed construction.

There are currently 15 one family homes, four two family homes within 200 feet of the lot in question.

Schwartz said that also existing in the "B" zone is several commercial establishments, including a gas station, a grocery store, a meat market, a parking lot, a three family house; an oil company, a dancing school, a barber shop, a bar, a laundromat, two apartment houses and a lumber yard.

Boys Club Considered

A five man committee of residents has been appointed by the Town Commission to study the feasibility of building a boys club facility in Belleville.

Named to that committee was Joseph Marino, Joseph Russo, Albert Cairo, James La Motta and Paul Simpson. Vincent Sorrentino will be alternate member of the group.

The boys club idea was originally sponsored by Mayor Ken Smith, who asked for a residents committee.

RADIANT ELECTRIC HEAT

All of these houses use Radiant Electric GLASSHEAT panels for heat. They are in good company. Over one half million homes, hospitals and business establishments are now equipped with this super-comfortable, healthful, economical kind of house heating.

Here's why the owners of these houses are so enthusiastic about heating with Radiant Electric Glassheat panels:

- Their houses have never been so comfortable.
No more chilly floors and warm ceilings . . . each room individually controlled with its own thermostat. Flip heat on and off as easily as light switches. Radiant heat floods the room and eliminates "hot spots" and "cold spots". Corners are as warm as the center of the room.
- Their houses have never been more healthful.
Radiant heat doesn't dry out the air you breathe . . . reduces dried out nasal passages and sinuses which cause congestion and difficult breathing. And radiant electric heat is the same heat given off by the sun, its purifying rays reduce germs and viruses in your home.
- Their houses are heated economically.
Check the houses pictured above and see how closely your heating bill comes to the house that resembles yours. With our Electric Radiant panels there's no wastage of heat up the chimney or in rooms you're not using, or in rooms you wish to keep cooler than others. You get the exact heat you want — when you want it — through individual thermostats that control the heat in each room. Then let us show you how much you can save with Electric Radiant Glassheat panels.
- Their houses have all the advantages of modern heating.
All flames, burners, smoke and ash are completely eliminated. So are the heating equipment headaches for there is no noise; no fuel worries; no tank; pump or boiler repairs; no valves to leak or fans to burn out; no chimneys or air filters to clean; no damage from leaking pipes; no sludge; carbonizing, clogging jets, oil lines, or burner nozzles, no maintenance, repair or replacement ever!

Let us demonstrate how good Radiant Electric heat feels in a few minutes in your home. Then we will show you, without obligation of any kind, how much Glassheat panels can increase the comfort of your home and decrease the cost of heat compared with your present heating system. Just phone us or send us the coupon.

32 Residents Get Rutgers Degrees

Thirty-two Belleville residents received academic degrees during commencement exercises at Rutgers University.

Included on this list of graduates were:

Jo Ann Bergamini of 10 Campbell Avenue, who received her BA degree with a pre-medical major in zoology at the Newark campus.

Miss Bergamini was both treasurer and social chairman of the Delta Phi Delta Sorority. In addition, she was junior class secretary, a varsity cheerleader, and was a member of the biological society, the pre-med, pre-dent club, and the Encore staff.

She is a graduate of Belleville High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society, the student council and the drill team.

Michael Burt of 9 Clearman Place received his AB degree while at the Newark campus of the state university.

Graduates Hear Walter Hickel

Four Belleville residents received academic degrees from Stevens Institute of Technology at the 98th commencement exercises of that institution on June 6. Key speaker was Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel.

Receiving undergraduate degrees from Belleville were: James Cangelosi of 10 Celia Terrace with a bachelor of engineering degree.

A dean's list student, Cangelosi was recipient of a Uniroyal Scholarship and a New Jersey State Scholarship. At Stevens, Cangelosi served as vice president and president of the Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. He was also active with WCPH, the college radio station.

Cangelosi is a Belleville High School graduate, where he was graduated with high honors and was a member of the National Honor Society and the football and crew teams.

He is employed by ITT Avionics Division of Nutley, and will pursue a masters degree in electrical engineering on a part-time basis.

Louis Alfieri of 6 Tiona Avenue received his bachelor of science degree while majoring in mathematics. He was a member of the Reserved Officers Training group.

A graduate of Essex Catholic High School, he has enlisted in the Army, and is stationed in Fort Dix.

Receiving a masters degree was Frederick Singer, formerly of Belleville, for study in electrical engineering.

Singer is a 1950 graduate of Newark College of Engineering and a 1944 graduate of Belleville High School. After graduating from high school, he served in the Navy during World War II and continued in the Navy Reserve, eventually serving in the Korean War.

He joined ITT in 1952 when it was called Federal Telecommunications Laboratories, and is presently a senior technical specialist.

Singer is married and lives with his wife and five children in Bloomfield. He is the son of retired Belleville Police Lt. Frederick Singer of 144 Liberty Avenue.

Receiving his doctorate degree from Stevens was Peter J. Palmadesso of Rahway, formerly of Belleville. He received his Ph.D. for work in theoretical plasma physics.

Prior to beginning studies at Stevens, he was employed as an aerospace engineer by the Boeing Company in Huntsville, Ala.

Palmadesso received a BS degree from St. Peters College in Jersey City and a MS degree from Rutgers University in New Brunswick.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Palmadesso of 14 Oak Street Belleville.

Glasboro Graduates Greg Fink

Gregory Fink of 725 Joralemon Street received his BS degree from Glassboro State College. He majored in industrial education and technology.

While at Glassboro, Fink was active in football and was a member of the Industrial Arts Club.

He is a graduate of Bloomfield School of Technology, where he was class president and vice president of the Key Club.

The recent graduate plans to pursue a masters degree. Presently he is assistant director at a summer camp for diabetic children.

Sports Corner

By John McCarthy

A couple of weeks ago, I thought it might be a good idea if I tried to find out where some of Belleville's seniors were planning to go to college. It was sort of a way to pay tribute to them for giving Belleville one of its best years in sports.

Unfortunately though, the college-bound idea was thrown out last week when John Amabile abruptly announced his resignation. Now that some of the Amabile furor is out of our system, let's keep going on the college plans.

Roy Newman—Rollins College

Lots of times a captain of a sport will be accepted at a college and expected to play his sport, but what does a captain of two sports do?

Roy Newman had quite a lot of help in deciding which sport he would put his time into. A scholarship for most of his college expenses helped Roy decide on Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla. Rollins is known pretty well in crew circles for having top flight shell.

In his sophomore year, Roy was around when a representative from Rollins came to Belleville. Roy was on the JV shell that year, rowing number six, a position he was to have on the varsity the next two years. Roy also played football, and spent two years as varsity defensive tackle.

With a lot of help and recommendations from Crew Coach Mike Lally and Senior High Principal Raymond O. Smith, Roy has been given a scholarship for $2,880 a year to Rollins, where complete expenses run about $3,600. The rest is going to come from a National Defense loan.

Roy, a B-student, will major in Business Administration and possibly go into accounting. If his marks at Rollins are high enough he will be going to the college's well known business school, the Crummer School of Business.

Frank Fury—Montclair State

A kid going through elementary school learns to admire the town's football coach, especially when the team is doing well.

Frank Fury may just yet get to play under Tom Testa, the head coach at Belleville when Frank was a little kid. Testa is an assistant coach at Montclair, and Frank cites Testa as being one of the reasons he's going to Montclair State.

Fury, who led Belleville this year in tackles as the left linebacker, has lettered for two years in football and baseball. Baseball is not yet certain, as Fury wants to wait and see how the grades go.

The B-student will be a Business Administration major, and sees the only difference between college linebacker and high school as being that the "players play tougher." He sees Montclair's 8-2 team as being "bigger and better each year."

Rich Corbo—Ottawa University

Rich Corbo will be playing next year for Ottawa University. Yes, you read it right, Ottawa University has a football team. Ottawa is in Kansas, not the one you were thinking about in Canada.

Rich has played for three years under John Amabile as a guard, and sees Ottawa as a pretty high rated school.

Sal Bivona—Essex County

A man has to make plans for his future and if Sal Bivona's plans work out, in a couple of years we'll be addressing him as Trooper Bivona.

Sal plans on going to Essex County College night school and then transferring to Montclair State where he hopes to wrestle and play football. Sal eventually plans to be a State Trooper, but can't enter trooper school until he's 21, so he'll go to college and major in law.

Sal has played two years of varsity football and has been the 178 wrestler also for two years. It would have been three, but Sal went to Essex Catholic High School in Newark and played frosh football before coming to Belleville.

Cardinals Clobber Yankees

The Farm League Cardinals, coached by Toby D'Ambola, ended their regular season undefeated with a come-from-behind win against the Yankees, 13-7.

Losing 5-2 in the bottom of the 4th, the Cards explored for 11 runs on 8 hits and 4 walks. Tony Cortese started the inning with a double followed by a walk to Kevin Smith.

Nicky Cancelliere tripled in two runs and then scored on a single by Joe DeGuglielmo. The tie-breaking run was scored by a bunt by Jeff Fink. Fourteen men batted before the inning ended.

Smith, who started as the pitcher, was taken out at the top of the 5th and replaced by DeGuglielmo, who got the save.

This left the Cards with an 8 and 0 record for the season and they are looking forward to playing in the Farm League World Series.

American League Tight

Lions Roar Into First With Victory Over PBA

The Lions Club has roared into first place in the National League after its stunning 1-0 shutout victory over the second place PBA. The Lions face the Amvets this week and a win could enable them to clinch first place honors for the second half of the Little League season.

In the American League, anyone can still take first place honors, with the Colony Club, the Rotary Club and Wallace and Tiernan all in the running. Picking up the victory for the undefeated Lions (6-0) was star hurler Greg Petite, who tossed a nifty five hitter. Petite's pitching adversary, John Guarino allowed only one hit in this game which Little League spectators agreed was one of the best played this year at the diamond.

Colony Club, which is leading the American loop with a 4-2 mark, was upset last week by the Varsity Club which registered its first victory of the second half. In this game, Joe Goscinski was the whole show, pitching a one hitter and driving in the only run of the game in the fifth inning. He had the only two hits for the winners. Joe may well make people forget the pitching powers of his older brother John Goscinski, who is a star hurler for the

Championship In Sight

Can Anyone Stop Belleville? The Next 5 Days Will Tell

Belleville's amazing legionnaires travel to West Orange today for the first of four important games which should decide whether they will reign as eastern division champs and earn a ticket to the district playoffs.

Tuesday, Belleville defeated Montclair 7-4 for their fifth straight victory in a row, which upped their league-leading record to 8-2-1. Nutley also won, however, and with their 8-4 mark are only one point behind in the standings.

The Belleville nine has five games remaining on the schedule, while Nutley has only four.

In Tuesday's victory, Joe Ritacco, amazed nearly everybody when he broke up a 4-4 tie in the sixth inning by singling and then stealing second, third and home. Frank Petite picked up his third victory without a loss, but again needed help from John Goscinski, who retired three men in a row in the seventh inning.

Vailsburg comes to Belleville tomorrow, with Caldwell away Saturday and Bloomfield Monday. By that time the Belleville Legionnaires should know just how good they are.

Right now the Bellboys have a near dream squad, with a super-powerful attack, the best infield in the league, and a more than competent pitching staff.

Oddly enough, the top hitting is not coming from the two athletes most people expected big things from earlier in the year. Both John Goscinski, who is being scouted by the pros, and Frank Petite, Belleville High School's highly lauded sophomore, are flirting with the .300 mark, but should be hitting well beyond it.

Instead, the two are aiding the team with their arms. Both Goscinski and Petite are unbeaten from the mound.

Pacing the team in the hitting department is Charlie Ziegler, whose .473 batting average (through ten games) is drawing much attention from the record crowds turning out to watch the team play this year. (Last year you were lucky if six people showed up.)

Right behind hot hitting Ziegler is Brian Waters, who after a so-so season with the Belleville High School varsity this spring, is tearing up the league with a .428 average, including a team leading 12 hits. Right behind, as of the first ten games, is Ray Campbell at .363; Joe Papasidero at .333; Joe Vitiello at .322; Joe Ritacco at .312, and Danny Dunn at .312. Goscinski was hitting

.294 going into Tuesday's game and appeared on the verge of hitting up to his potential.

The team's collective average, including regulars and non-regulars, is a phenomenal .321, and you can't get much better than that.

Marking this year's squad is a very strong team spirit, which has started with the coaches and worked its way down to everyone on the team.

Frenchy's And Circles Share Softball Lead

Frenchy's and the Circles continue to share the lead in the Recreation Department Monday Softball League. So far these two leaders have beaten each other and lost once to other teams. Frenchy's has dropped one to John's Tavern and the Circles have lost to Jolly Cleaners. Jolly Cleaners is tied at 4-4 with Olga's Bar & Grill. Ajax Morors and the Johns are tied at 2-6.

Undefeated, the MacDonalds are in command of the Tuesday League with an 8-0 record. Rosellis and the Chip Inn at 5-3 share the second slot. Another tie exists between the Belleville Political and Social Club and Frankies Amoco at 3-5. Westinghouse is still looking for that first win.

Landolfi's Home for Funerals enjoys a 9-0 record in Recreation Wednesday League.

Summer Fun Again In Town

The 1970 Summer Recreation Program opened Monday, June 22, under the Direction of Robert E. Cook, Superintendent; Camille Casaleto, Playground Supervisor and Irene Muscara, Handicraft Supervisor. Various activities such as handicrafts, special events, special activities, and tournaments are all a part of the summer program.

The playground at the Recreation House began with much enthusiasm with over 160 children registering. The boys on the playground organized their softball teams and on Tuesday, an exciting game was held with a final score of 9-7. The triumphant winners included Vinnie Tortoriciello, Mark DeGiacomo, John Gelpi, Gary Carnivale, Louis Ferrieri, Scott Langlands and Garry Gelpi. The girls, with daily improvement, have been involving themselves in games of dodgeball and kickball. It seems that Cindy Coris is one of the outstanding girl athletes.

The younger children at No. 9 playground have been enjoying such games as Cat & Rat, Spud and No. 9's original game of "Monster". The usual competitive fervor has arisen over kalah, checkers, ping-pong and

Three Straight Victories Propel Post 105 Into Division Lead

by John McCarthy

Post 105's Legion baseball team has a comfortable lead in the Eastern Division of the Essex County American Legion Baseball League, after winning three games in a row last week.

The most important win was an 8-0 shutout for John Goscinski against Nutley on Saturday afternoon. Nutley had beaten Belleville 10-1 the last time they met. By winning, Belleville moved three points ahead of Nutley with only a week left in the season.

Besides shutting out Nutley, Post 105 also shutout Vailsburg 7-0, behind Frank Petite, and squeaked past Maplewood 2-1. The previous Maplewood game ended in a 7-7 tie.

The Nutley victory was only half due to Goscinski's pitching. The other half came from sparkling Bellboy bats that collected 13 hits off Nutley's Dan Bouton.

Besides pitching, Goscinski went 2-4 with a double and a homer, both of which went out of Nutley's Park Oval.

The pitcher was overshadowed, however, by the bats of Joe Vitiello and Charles Ziegler who both went 3-4. Vitiello provided the long balls for 105 as he doubled twice and added a homerun. Two of Joe's shots went out of the Oval.

Ziegler collected three singles, and although he didn't get any extra base hits, "Zig" made up for it with speed. Zig was the only Legion player to steal a base. He also got on base in his fourth at bat on an error by the second baseman.

Danny Dunn picked up the Legion's sixth extra base hit, knocking in Dunn, and Brian then scored on a double by Joe Papasidero. In the fifth Brian was the only Bellboy to reach base, but was cut off shot that was about a yard away from being a ground rule double.

Besides getting credit for the Nutley win, Goscinski got credit for the Maplewood victory in which he pitched two innings in relief of Chipper Haines, who was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Goscinski walked two batters and another got on an error by Frank Petite before Belleville scored the tie breaking run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Petite had opened up the seventh by flying out to right field before Joe Vitiello was walked. Joe Ritacco (2-3 that night) and Brian Waters then singled back to back to load the bases with one out.

Coach Charlie Craig then lifted the next batter, Rocco Marotti, for pinch-hitter Bob Nicastro. Craig figured that Nicastro was more likely to hit the long ball, but Bob never got a chance. He was walked on four straight pitches giving Belleville the win.

Petite's shutout against Vailsburg was the all-county player's second win in two starts. Petite struckout nine Vailsburg batters and walked only one while allowing four hits.

Vitiello, Waters and Ray Campbell were the top hitters for the night, collecting two hits each.

Vitiello's triple in the first inning knocked in the first three runs and his double in the fifth set up the final run. Leftfielder Dunn knocked Vitiello in with another double.

Waters' doubles came in the first and the third. In the opening inning Brian's double knocked in Dunn, and Brian then scored on a double by Joe Papasidero. In the fifth Brian was the only Bellboy to reach base, but was cut off pop-up doubleplay.

Campbell's hits were singles in the first and fifth innings.

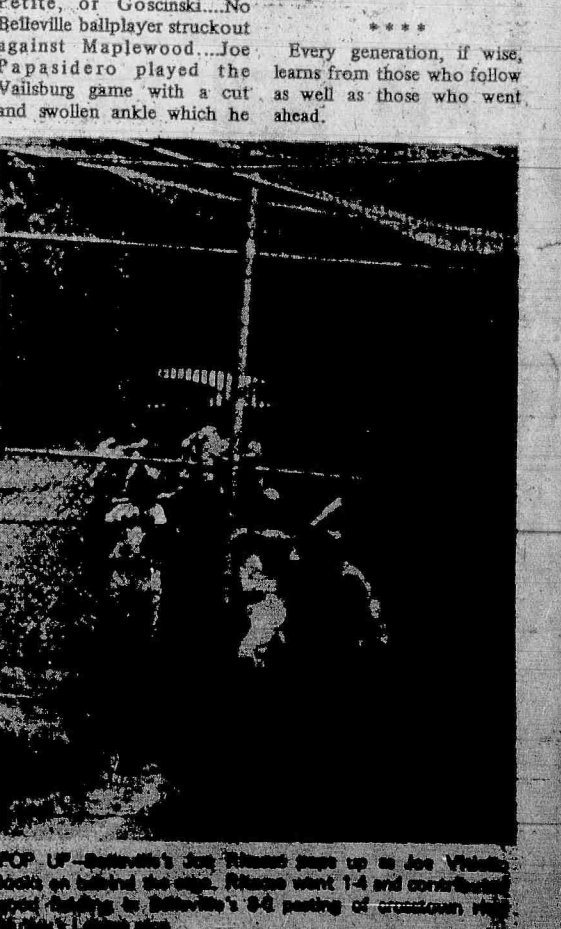

Post 105 scored six runs in the first inning against Vailsburg on two walks, an error, a triple, two back to back doubles and a single.

LEGION LINES: Maplewood, Vailsburg and Nutley all have another thing in common besides losing to Belleville: None of those teams managed to pickup an extra baschit off Haines, Petite, or Goscinski....No Belleville ballplayer struckout against Maplewood....Joe Papasidero played the Vailsburg game with a cut and swollen ankle which he got after taking a late throw from Haines in the fifth inning against Maplewood where a DP seemed possible. Joe was taken out of the play by the runner....Johnny Goscinski's second hit at Nutley was called a homer by plate umpire Weiss, but the call was reversed by second base ump Goldberg, who said the ball went through the fence instead of over it. It would have been Goscinski's second homer in two trips to the plate.

Every generation, if wise, learns from those who follow as well as those who went ahead.

POP UP — Belleville's Joe Ritacco popped up as Joe Vitiello looks on behind the plate. Ritacco went 1-4 and contributed most heavily to Belleville's 8-0 posting of cross-town rival Maplewood last week.

Joe Goscinski Does It All In 1-0 Upset

The Varsity Club, behind the one hit pitching of Joe Goscinski, upset the Colony Club by the score of 1 to 0.

The only hit given up by Goscinski was in the first inning by Greg Dunleavy. Goscinski struck out 10 batters and had the only two hits for the Varsity Club.

BY MAX BECK

We had a preview of RCA's fall merchandise recently, since the manufacturers show their dealers the sets which we are going to sell during the coming up heavy selling period. This fall and winter (we hope) RCA has 2 "lines", one using predominantly tubes and the other one using transistors. The latter one is the higher priced line. These more expensive sets carry one year guarantee warranty, whichever you want to call it (there is no difference) on parts and tubes. So far the guarantee was one year on parts, 2 years on the picture tubes (this has not changed) and 90 days labor (service). Now the labor is included for one year. The prices for this merchandise are rather steep. No doubt there is a certain amount of money added to the price to defray the cost of the one year service. This has to be, of course. In the final analysis it really does not make much difference whether one marks up a set, including the amount for labor or lists a lower price and adds the money for service. Still, some people think they get the service without cost, which is not so. You pay, one way or the other.

We hoped that we would see the widespread use of station selectors which do not have contacts. Everybody who has a TV set at one time or the other is plagued with an erratic tuner. The metal used for the contacts tarnishes in time. The result is that the station does not stay "put", it goes into lines, the picture disappears or the sound goes off. This could be eliminated, but the manufacturers claim that this would make the sets much more expensive. RCA has such a station selector, unfortunately it is used only in a very high priced set, but at least it is a beginning.

Summer Fun Begins For Children

nok-hockey. On Tuesday, a nok-hockey tournament was held in which 16 of the playground's best players participated. After winning three games each, Phil Ottalagano and Connie Sougelas met in a final round. After a fine and exciting game, Connie was pronounced the winner.

Bike races were held at Kelly Playground this week with such winners as Keith Hannan, Pablo Martinez, Joe McConnon. McConnon was the winner of the day. A 200 yard dash was held with Carlos Martinez finishing first and Gary Wilkes finishing second. Richie Clarella, the playground aide, organized a softball team and will try his hardest to have his team in a top notch position. Because of complete team participation, Red Rover became the most popular game at Fairway playground. The children also engaged in games such as Snatch the Bacon, Brownies and Fairies, and Run For Your Supper.

Later on in the week,

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Klein Will Reside in Miami, Florida

Mrs. Michael Klein-nee Marion Jakway

Miss Marion Bernice Jakway, daughter of Leo Ernest Jakway of 240 New Street and the late Mrs. Julia Jakway became the bride June 28 of Michael Martin Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Julius Klein of Closter.

The ceremony was performed and the reception held at Temple Beth Torah, Wanamassa. Rabbi Jacob Friedman and Cantor Harry Bettman officiated.

The bride wore an empire style peau de soie and Chantilly lace gown trimmed with seed pearls. A matching mantilla was trimmed with lace and pearls and she carried a Bible covered with phalaenopsis and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia Jakway, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids included another sister, Mrs. Richard McCourt of Bricktown and Mrs. S. McCabe of Springfield. Flower girl was the groom's sister, Elizabeth Klein.

Best man was George Klein of Closter, brother of the groom. Ushering were other brothers, Alfred of West Allenhurst, Eric of Ocean and Jonathan of Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Klein, a graduate of Newark State College, formerly taught at School No. 5, Belleville. She taught in Spring Lake this year.

Mr. Klein, an alumnus of Anderson School, New York and Leicester Jr. College, Massachusetts, is a district sales manager for Standard Keil Hardware Mfg. Company, a division of Instruments Systems Corporation, New York. He served as lieutenant in the Air Force.

The couple will reside in Miami, Florida after a honeymoon in Bermuda.

Mrs. Michael Cicerale Jr.-nee Frances Machonis

Cicerale-Machonis Nuptials Are Held

Miss Frances Machonis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Machonis of 54 Stephens Street, became the bride July 5 of Michael A. Cicerale Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cicerale Sr. of 60 Stephens Street.

The ceremony was performed in St. Peter's Church by the Rev. Groncki and followed by a reception at VFW Hall, Belleville.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless gown of embossed silk taffeta fashioned with an empire waist and topped with a matching long sleeved coat. A petal headpiece studded with rhinestones held her elbow length veil and she carried a nosegay of carnations, roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Diana Price of Belleville was the matron of honor in a pink chiffon gown trimmed with satin. Her headpiece was a pink satin bow with short veil and she carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations and roses.

Frank Cicerale of Belleville, brother of the groom, was best man. Mrs. Cicerale Jr., a graduate of Belleville High School and American Institute of Banking, Newark, is a secretary with Mansel Ceramics Company, Belleville.

Mr. Cicerale Jr. also a Belleville High School alumnus, is with Lloyd Engineering Company, Belleville.

The couple will live in Lyndhurst following a honeymoon at Lake George and Montreal, Canada.

The man who earns what he gets will be under obligations to no man.

Mr. and Mrs. Pigninelli Honeymooned In Bermuda

St. Anthony's Church, Belleville was the setting June 27 for the marriage of Miss Josephine Joan Aldiero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Aldiero of 64 Frederick Street, Belleville to James Anthony Pigninelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pigninelli of 171 Nolton Street, Belleville.

The Rev. Serritelli performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Wayne Manor, Wayne.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a peau de soie gown with an Alencon lace bodice beaded in pearls and crystals and fashioned with a high collar, short puffed sleeves and cathedral length train.

An orange blossom headpiece held her finger tip veil and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of one blue carnation circled with pink roses and surrounded with babies breath and white carnations.

Honor attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Susan Aldiero of Belleville and her cousin, Mrs. Joan Nigro of Bloomfield. Bridesmaids were Miss Terry Aldiero of Fords, Miss Joan Masterly of Colonia, Miss Rose Mary Stuso of East Rutherford and Miss Kathleen Brzezinski of Garfield.

The honor attendants were attired in green culotte gowns with white lace vests. Headpieces were petal veils and they carried cascades of green carnations. The others were similarly attired in apricot and carried apricot carnations.

Anthony Pigninelli of Belleville served his brother as best man. Ushering were Fred Cuccolo and Len Luongo of Belleville, Donald Stuso of East Rutherford, Joseph Stuso of Pompton Lakes and Larry Creekmore of Chesapeake, Virginia.

Mrs. Aldiero chose a green peau de soie gown with mandarin collar and trimmed with crystal and green beading. The groom's mother was in a melon chiffon gown with crystal and gold beading. Corsages were orchids.

Mrs. Pigninelli, a graduate of Belleville High School and Newark State College, works part time for Sun Life of Canada, East Orange. She is a member of Alpha Theta Pi sorority.

Mr. Pigninelli, an alumnus also of Belleville High School, is a senior at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and a member of the football squad.

After a honeymoon in Bermuda, the couple will live in Virginia until Mr. Pigninelli is graduated next March.

Anne Celfo Cited By Upsala College

Anne Celfo of 121 Tappan Avenue, Belleville, has made the honors list at Upsala College for high academic achievement during the spring semester of the 1969-1970 school year.

Miss Celfo, daughter of Cecelia and Joseph Celfo, is a graduate of Belleville High School and is majoring in mathematics at Upsala. She will be a senior in the fall.

To qualify for the honors list, a student must attain at least a slightly better "B" average.

Pinals Celebrate 50 Golden Years

Mr. and Mrs. Jose B. Pinal of Mary Street were honored at a surprise dinner given by their children to commemorate their golden wedding anniversary July 3 at Wayne Manor, Wayne.

The couple were married July 3, 1920 in Spain and came to Newark immediately following their wedding where they resided until 1963.

They have four children, Alfonso of Wayne, Mrs. Eleanor DeBurgos of Bayville, Emilio of Newark and Mrs. Telbina Santin of Belleville and nine grandchildren.

PLEASE BE FAIR TO YOUR HAIR

Just as in many other phases of life, where we only get one chance, so it is with our natural head of hair. Everyday care: shampooing, conditioning, brushing, etc., is most important if hair is to stay healthy, and of course careful attention to any scalp condition is a must.

There are many products available, some on a doctor's prescription, that can help keep hair healthy by controlling even a severe dandruff crusted scalp condition. But, beware of "Baldness Cure," quacks and rely on your physician to help you with any scalp or hair problem.

Summer Weather Barbecues Can Mean Easy Living For All

Now that summer weather is upon us we can begin to enjoy cooking and eating outdoors again. If you don't have a fireplace outside, portable grills are very inexpensive and easy to find these days.

A bean bake may be just the recipe you are looking for if you plan a party in the near future.

The warmer stone of this menu is canned beans! What a relief for the cook. By adding some molasses, mustard and vinegar the beans take on an added snap. When you top this bean casserole with alternating slices of tomato and onion, your dish will be attractive as well as tasty.

Serve this bean casserole with grilled hamburgers and a bowl of raw vegetables. A choice of salad dressing "dips" will add interest to the meal.

OLD-FASHIONED BEAN BAKE

1/4 Cup molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 cans (1 pound each) baked beans in tomato sauce
2 medium onions, sliced
2 tomatoes, sliced

Blend together molasses and mustard; add vinegar and mix well. Turn beans into casserole or baking pan; stir in molasses mixture. Arrange onion and tomato slices on top of beans, or layer with beans. Bake in 375 degree F. oven 35 minutes. YIELD: 8 servings.

BASIC BARBECUE SAUCE

1 cup molasses 1 cup prepared mustard 1 cup vinegar

Blend together molasses and mustard. Add vinegar; mix well. Cover tightly; store at room temperature or in refrigerator. Sauce will keep indefinitely. Use on hamburger, spareribs or chops. YIELD: 3 cups.

VARIATIONS:

Tomato Barbecue Sauce: Add 1/4 cup catchup to 1 cup Basic Barbecue Sauce.

Herb Barbecue Sauce: Add 1/16 teaspoon each, dried leaf marjoram, oregano and thyme to 1 cup Basic Barbecue Sauce.

Curry Barbecue Sauce: Add 1 tablespoon curry powder, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/2 teaspoon Tobasco pepper sauce to 1 cup Basic Barbecue Sauce.

Miss Serefini Teaches Arts To Retarded

Miss Beverly Serefini of Belleville will again be supervising arts and crafts at Camp Hope, the day camp sponsored by the Essex Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children.

This will be the start of the 15th consecutive season for the camp, located in a beautiful rural setting in East Hanover, just over the Essex County line.

The season will run for eight weeks through August 21 and will feature a new and unique specialized program for the 200 retarded persons attending.

The camp serves mentally retarded children, teen-agers and young adults residing in the communities of Essex and West Hudson counties.

The public is invited to view the camp grounds. A call to the Essex Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, East Orange, is all that is required.

Silver Lake Branch Library Plans Program

The Silver Lake Branch Library is the scene this summer of many programs for children. Every Tuesday a story hour for grades K-2 will be held. Stories filmstrips and simple games will be highlighted. All the programs will begin at 10:00 a.m.

In the past the film programs have always been successful. Every Wednesday during July and August films will be shown. Each week a different age group will be invited to the program.

The "Sights, Sounds and Surprises Session," is a new idea! There will be an emphasis on handicraft projects such as drawing and designing. Singing, films, puzzles and drama programs will also be a part of the program which will be conducted every Friday at 10:00 a.m.

Admission to all the programs is free.

Bellevillites Attend Dinner For Democrats

A contingent of Belleville residents, led by Commissioner Mary Senatore, attended the $100-a-plate dinner held recently for Essex County Democrats at the Robert Treat Hotel.

Joining the commissioner, who is Democratic town chairlady, were residents Harry Visconti, Chester Prosperi, Anthony Agresti, Mrs. Mildred Benaguisa, Joseph Pannullo, Town Attorney Nicholas Amato, Paul McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Padula, and State Committeewoman Mae Mead Mazza.

The local citizens heard speeches from many of the most prominent Democrats in the state, including Congressman Peter Rodino and Joseph Minish, and Democratic County Chairman Harry Lerner.

Guest speaker for the affair was former Governor Richard Hughes. Congressman Carl Albert, considered by many to be a candidate for speaker of the House of Representatives, also spoke.

Mountainside Offering Fall Refresher Course

A Refresher Course for Nurses will be given at The Mountainside Hospital starting Monday, October 5, 1970 and running through Friday, December 4, 1970. The classes will meet on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The course consists of 210 hours: 50% theory and 50% supervised clinical practice. It is developed to renew skills, build confidence and familiarize the Nurse with the advanced procedures and techniques.

The requirements for the course are: 1) that you have been inactive for at least three years, 2) a physical examination including a urinalysis and a chest x-ray, 3) uniform, white shoes and stockings, school cap, pen and scissors, 4) a current New Jersey license or a letter of permit from the Board of Nursing.

There is no fee charged for the course; however, you must pay for meals and parking.

If you are interested, please call Christine T. O'Connor, Nursing In-Service Coordinator at 746-6000 ext. 435.

Melons, Cucumbers Can Grow Together

Contrary to popular belief, it is quite safe to plant cucumbers and melons in the same garden. In fact, they can be planted side by side without ill effects, advises John J. Kupcho, county agricultural agent of Essex County.

The two species will not cross, nor will either impart its flavor to the other.

Pollen carried by bees from muskmelon blossoms will stimulate fruit set on cucumbers, but the fruit will be without seed.

Even though they are in the same family, cucumbers and melons will not cross with squashes and pumpkins.

However, many of the squashes and pumpkins will cross with each other, Mr. Kupcho points out. If seed is to be collected from the squashes or pumpkins, each species must be grown in isolation.

If your interest is only in the fruit, a cross will make no difference and they can be grown together in the same garden.

To do a good job with any of the species in the cucumber family you need adequate space. Also, they must be planted after the soil has become warm, since germination is poor in cold soil.

When seed is planted in rows, the rows should be 6 to 7 feet apart, with the plants thinned to 2 or 3 feet in a row. Cover seed about a half inch with soil.

Cucumbers and gourds do best when trained on a fence or trellis.

Refreshing Frozen Desserts
Can Make A Plain Meal Special

It's getting to be the time of year to think of frozen desserts. Light, cool and refreshing, they can make a plain meal something special.

Frozen desserts are usually divided into three categories; ices, ice creams and parfaits or mousses. The ices or sherbets are most frequently stirred during the freezing process. Ices are frozen fruit juices; sherbet are fruit juices with the addition of egg white, gelatin and possibly milk or cream.

Ice creams can be classified into several types. Philadelphia, custard, French and American ice creams are popular. Frequent stirring during the manufacture of ice creams will give it the desired smooth texture. Custard and French ice cream are made with different types of custard bases. American ice creams are similar to the french but made with fewer eggs. Philadelphia ice creams start with sweetened, flavored light cream.

Parfaits and mousses are made without stirring. They are made with whipped cream and a variety of sweetened syrups and beaten egg whites. Technically speaking the parfait you order in a restaurant is not the same thing as a parfait described above.

It is fun to make ice cream at home, but not everyone has an ice cream freezer. You can make ice creams in your refrigerator without too much trouble. The following recipe has many possibilities for use with various fruit sauces.

VANILLA ICE CREAM
2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/3 cup corn syrup
1/8 teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
2 cups cream, whipped
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 tablespoon vanilla

Scald milk with sugar in top of double boiler. Add corn syrup and salt and cook over hot water for ten minutes. Add a portion of the hot mixture to the egg yolks, mixing well. Return to double boiler and cook three minutes longer, stirring constantly. Soften gelatin in cold water and fold into first mixture. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill, then beat until light. Combine whipped cream with stiffly beaten egg whites and fold into chilled mixture. Add vanilla, blend well, and pour into large freezing tray. Freeze without stirring 2 to 3 hours. Makes 1 1/2 quarts.

LEMON SHERBET
1 cup sugar
juice of 2 lemons
1 pint sweet milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup heavy cream
few grains salt

Mix milk, sugar, lemon rind and lemon juice and partially freeze to mush. Beat whites with sugar, until stiff; add beaten cream, fold into partially frozen lemon and milk mixture. Freeze without stirring.

HAWAIIAN WHIP
1 tall can (1 2/3 cups) evaporated milk
1 can (20 ounces) crushed pineapple
1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt

Chill evaporated milk in freezer tray of refrigerator until ice crystals form around the edges. Drain crushed pineapple; if desired, reserve two tablespoons for garnish. Heat pineapple syrup until it comes to a boil. Dissolve gelatin in hot syrup. Add sugar and salt; stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in drained crushed pineapple. Whip chilled evaporated milk with rotary beater or high speed of electric mixer; fold in chilled gelatin mixture. Turn into individual dessert dishes. Chill until firm. To serve, garnish with reserved crushed pineapple and mint leaves. Yield: 6 to 8 desserts.

Compliments cost little and yet produce excellent returns anywhere.

The marriage of Miss Linda Ann Biondi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Biondi of 14 Agnes Street to Richard Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dillon of 421 DeWitt Avenue took place June 27 at Holy Family Church.

The Rev. Robert Cozzini officiated at the ceremony. A reception followed at Jerry's Villa, Montvale.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk peau de soie with a Chantilly lace panel, collar and cuffs trimmed with pearl applique.

Her French illusion floor length veil was bordered with lace appliques and held by a peau de soie and pearl band. She carried roses, miniature carnations and babies breath.

Miss Rosemarie Biondi of Belleville was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ann Corino of Belleville, cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Jo Dillon of Belleville, sister of the groom, Miss Linda Vacarri of Belleville and Mrs. Judith Johnson of Hampton, Virginia. Flower girl was the bride's cousin, Theresa Biondi of Bronx, New York.

The honor attendant and flower girl were in golden poppy chiffon gowns with Empire waists, long sleeves and high collars. Their headpieces were matching bows and they carried baskets of pale apricot miniature carnations. The others were similarly attired in pale apricot and carried golden poppy carnations.

David Dillon of Belleville was his brother's best man. Ushers were Bernard Small of Beachwood, Robert Fredericks of Kearny, Mark Dillon of Belleville, brother of the groom and James Del Guercio of Parsippany, cousin of the bride. Ringbearer was another cousin, Joseph Curcione of Parsippany.

Mrs. Biondi chose a pale pink pant dress with a beaded waist and collar and matching accessories. Her corsage was a dozen pink baby roses. The groom's mother was in a turquoise pant dress with silver accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Temple, an alumna of Belleville High School, is an analyst with Atlantic Chemical Company, Nutley.

Mr. Temple, a graduate of Essex Catholic High School, is a junior at Newark College of Engineering. He served in the Air Force and is with Argus Service Company, Hillside.

Following a honeymoon in the Poconos, the couple will live in Clifton.

Miss Ward Plays
In Music Festival

Christine J. Ward of 16 Dorthea Terrace, Belleville currently is participating in the Sixth Annual New College Summer Music Festival, a three-week event devoted to chamber music teaching and performance.

A clarinetist, Mrs. Ward is studying with a faculty of eleven drawn from the top ranks of musicians from all parts of the nation.

The Summer Music Festival is sponsored by New College, a private, co-educational college of the liberal arts and sciences, now also in its sixth year.

Under the Stars Concerts
Scheduled For This August

Arrangements for the "under the stars" concert of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra at The Knoll Golf Club in Parsippany, on August 27 are being completed with a forward look to future years.

CASH AWARDS - "Cash for your ideas" is the password these days at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Some months ago, a group of employees suggested that a formal procedure be instituted to encourage recommendations and ideas that would benefit the hospital and its patients. A committee was appointed and the suggestion system was born. Albin H. Oberg, executive director of the hospital, recently presented checks to the first group of employees who submitted suggestions that were adopted by the hospital. Receiving awards from Mr. Oberg are Joseph Andriola, Mrs. Ann Chiappinelli, Miss Mariann Li Pira and Mrs. Ann E. Hosie.

Plan Your Travel Wardrobe
Well In Advance Of Departure

A vacation wardrobe is something you should think about well in advance of your departure. A small wardrobe which will suit your needs will be best. Too many clothes may create problems if there are not enough porters available to carry all your suitcases!

Realistically, you should use care to select garments that will serve for more than one occasion. A suit can be varied with a plain, sport or dressy blouse. Sometimes a large scarf can be folded to look like a turtle neck blouse.

A tunic dress with matching pants can do double duty in some situations. With styles as short as they are, the tunic can be worn as a dress where pants may not be permissible.

Don't try out new shoes for the first time if you are travelling. Take two pairs of well broken-in shoes. Alternate wearing the shoes so that you are not wearing the same pair every day.

When packing the vacation suitcase it is best to lay out all the clothes and toilet articles first. Near the hinged side of the suitcase pack heavy or bulky items. Some of these might be shoes, jewelry cases, handbags or other odd shaped items. Fill in spaces with lingerie or clothes that can be crumpled.

Pack small clothing items next. These would include blouses, sweaters, skirts, pants, etc. They should be folded as few times as possible.

The largest items such as dresses, jackets or coats are packed last.

It is wise if you are travelling a way other than by car to keep a small overnight bag with you that has one change of underclothing, cosmetics and a facecloth. Remember that all our aerosol spray containers can take up a lot of room in a suitcase. This overnight bag idea will give you extra space for clothing.

One word of caution - don't travel with your good jewelry or items that have sentimental value. It's best to leave these items at home or in a safe deposit box. Loss of things that mean a lot to you can ruin your entire vacation.

For information on Home Economics Extension Service activities for Essex County residents please write Mrs. Janet Spong, County Home Economist, Essex County Extension Service, 25 Thirteenth Avenue, Newark 07103 or call 642-7800, Extension 421.

SALES LADY
Janette Nutley Center
Has the nicest people come into its store, which caters to Women & Children. Therefore, its personnel must reflect the desires and wishes of its customers.
Our store has been expanded once again and several positions for Sales Personnel will soon become available in its Sportswear, Girdle and Bra, Intimate Apparel and also in its Coats, Suits and Dress Departments on the Fashion Floor.
Experience preferred, but not necessary. Poise, dress, sincerity towards customers, a willingness to be helpful and the ideal personality for sales are more important. All the fringe benefits of larger companies are here at JANETTE NUTLEY CENTER for our personnel including hospitalization and major medical.
If you are interested, please apply for application and interview with Mr. Mazzola, Manager or Mr. Arcaro, Personnel Director any morning or Monday and Friday evenings when store and office are open.
Janette Nutley Center
(No phone please—thank you) 7/30

TYPISTS (BLOOMFIELD LOCATION)
TYPISTS - TYPISTS - TYPISTS!

We have several openings in two, different work areas. Read on, one of these might be just what you're looking for. Do you enjoy typing, and can you type accurately at 35 wpm? If so, you're just the person we're looking for. You'll be trained to type information from actual claim forms in a special way, so that it can be processed by an optical scanning machine. Sound complicated? It isn't really because you'll be trained by our instructors and earn while you learn.

We also need clerk-typists. These are jobs that entail very light typing combined with general, clerical duties in our busy processing department.

In addition to a 35-hour week and paid holidays, we offer a full, company-paid benefit package and scheduled salary increases.

Please come to our Personnel Department during our weekday interviewing hours, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. We are located just two blocks off Bloomfield Avenue via Newark Avenue.

LOCAL CONCERT—The Dells, popular singing group will be the stars of the third concert of the Essex County Park Commission's Summer Music Festival July 12 in Orange Park. Well known throughout the world of rhythm and blues and contemporary folk music, The Dells have appeared on television, toured with Ray Charles and have performed at Carnegie Hall.

Orange Park Concert To Feature The Dells

The third concert of the Essex County Park Commission's Summer Music Festival will feature The Dells, July 12, in Orange Park.

Brenda and the Tabulations, Irene Reid and Lou Donaldson, will also appear on the show, which is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

The two previous programs in the Music Festival, which starred Ray Charles and Amhad Jamal, were counted as tremendously successful by the Park Commission. Upwards of 25,000 people were reported to have attended the Ray Charles performance in Branch Brook Park in Newark last month.

The Festival, which will comprise a total of six free concerts in the county parks, was made possible through funds raised from business firms in the Greater Newark area. It is sponsored by the 75th Anniversary Committee of the Essex County Park Commission, spearheaded by Robert R. Ferguson Jr., president of First National State Bank of New Jersey.

The stars of this concert are well known throughout the world of rhythm and blues and contemporary folk music. The Dells have appeared on television's Hollywood Palace, The Ed Sullivan Show, the Della Reese Show, as well as on the Joey Bishop, David Frost and Johnny Carson programs.

The Dells toured with Dinah Washington and with Ray Charles in concert and college tours. They have performed at Carnegie Hall as well as in the finest night clubs from Las Vegas to New York.

The group of five men have been singing together for 17 years. Their universal acceptance and their music, which has been called "the very heart of Soul," is listened to and enjoyed by all people.

Starting some years ago with a recording "Darling, Dear, I Know," which netted the group a total royalty of $60, they finally achieved the number one spot on the rhythm and blues charts in 1969, with "Oh What A Night." Since then their recordings have consistently been in the top 20 on both the rhythm and blues and the popular charts.

Tickets may be obtained by phoning, writing or visiting the box office of the theater.

Expenses Are Up For Utility

Western Electric Company spent $395 million in New Jersey on wages and supplies in 1969 — $60 million more than 1968. Western Electric is the manufacturing and supply arm of the Bell System.

Nationally, Western spent $3,716,609,770 on wages and supplies last year. About 90 per cent of Western's suppliers in New Jersey are small businesses, those with fewer than 500 employees.

The company's outlay in the Garden State included $205.2 million for wages to 21,629 employees, and $190.2 million for purchases from 3,841 suppliers in 350 New Jersey communities.

The company has manufacturing locations at Kearny, Jersey City and Clark, an engineering research center and a corporate education center near Princeton, and a service center in Union. Western's northeastern regional headquarters are located in Newark. The region includes all of New England, New York and New Jersey.

Clifton topped the list with purchases totaling $3,909,305 from 77 suppliers. Western made purchases amounting to $3,578,204 from 30 suppliers in Nutley.

Purchases exceeded $1 million in the following municipalities: Clifton, $3,909,305; Nutley, $3,578,204; Morristown, $3,286,807; and Hanover, $1,572,815.

Murder Mystery Opening Tonight

Frederick Knott's latest mystery, "Write Me A Murder," tonight opens a seven-night run, spread over two weeks, at Upsala College's professional Carriage House Theatre.

Knott also authored the play, "Dial M for Murder" and "Wait Until Dark."

Performances also will be given on the nights of July 10, 11, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Patricia Wise, Joseph Sopher Perform Next

Lovely soprano Patricia Wise and operatic tenor Joseph Sopher will join guest conductor John Green and the New Jersey Symphony in its salute to the music of Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein next Monday and Tuesday at the Garden State Arts Center.

The Martin P-Q Singers, a group of more than 20 vocal harmonists, also will take part in the salute to the giants of musical comedy at the Arts Center on the Garden State Parkway.

The program for the concerts will consist of music from "The Sound of Music," "Oklahoma," "Carousel," "South Pacific," "The King and I," "State Fair" and "Cinderella."

Pet Clark Joining Buddy Rich Now Through Saturday

Songstress Petula Clark and drummer Buddy Rich and his band have taken over the stage at the Garden State Arts Center this week. They will perform tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

Highly successful in her native England and in France, Miss Clark burst upon the United States musical scene a few years ago with a smash hit, "Downtown."

She followed this with a string of hit single records and albums, before making her American film debut in "Fanny's Rainbow" with Fred Astaire and Tommy Steele.

Mitzi Gaynor Set For August Show

The Mitzi Gaynor Show, the music and comedy revue which earned the vivacious Hollywood star entertainer-of-the-year honors out West, has been added to the Garden State Arts Center season program.

Miss Gaynor's singing-dancing comedy show will appear at the Arts Center on the Garden State Parkway for six nights, Monday through Saturday during the week of August 3.

The week-long show will include comedian George Carl and other attractions to be announced later. It replaces on the 1970 season schedule the Robert Goulet Show, which advanced its Arts Center engagement to the June 22 week in order to fill the vacancy caused by cancellation of "Hello, Dolly!"

Miss Gaynor, whose singing-dancing-plus performances were acclaimed in Las Vegas and California, will make New Jersey's Arts Center one of her few selected stops on a first show visit to the East Coast.

The truth is a great enemy to conversation.

Local Playwright Goes To Theater Conference

Edward LaDuca

Edward LaDuca, young Nutley playwright who received critical acclaim for his recent play, "The Assassins," has been accepted to the Eugene O'Neill Theater Foundation summer conference.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaDuca of Bayard Street, he will participate as an intern at the conference.

A recent graduate of Bloomfield College, LaDuca has written a number of plays, including "The Assassins" which won the New Jersey Theater League's award for Best Original Drama. The O'Neill Foundation has been in existence since 1963 and was the testing ground for such professional playwrights as Israel Horowitz, Ron Cohn, John Guare and Frank Gagliano.

Located in Waterford, Conn., the conference will run from July 3 to August 2.

LaDuca's award winning play centers around an assassination. The playwright said he was moved to write the play after viewing the casket of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.
