Residents Learning To Live With Floods

Solution May Be Brewing

by Nat Gottlieb

Residents of Carmer Avenue have learned to live with the bothersome "flash floods" which plague them each sudden heavy rain.

It's a rare homeowner on the lower portion of this street who doesn't own a water pump device to cope with the water which flows over the badly damaged curbs and down into their basements.

About the only people who don't seem to mind the flooding situation are the youngsters of Carmer Avenue, who with the first sign of a downpour, change into their swimsuits and grab their rubber tubes.

Last week one of those sudden downpours gave the kids almost a half hour of swimming time, as nearly two feet of water accumulated in the streets and flooded onto the lawns and into the basements of residents.

After the rains subsided, residents stepped from their dwellings and congregated on the sidewalks to compare notes on the damage. No one seemed happy.

"This happens every time it rains" one resident said as he stood in his rubbers.

"A while ago they drilled test holes in the street to see what was the extent of the problem. Well they never even filled in the holes and now when it rains air pressure coming from below shoots up a spray that looks just like a water fountain."

"The man across the street gets water in his basement everytime this happens. Once some water got into the electrical sockets and caused a great deal of smoke which brought the fire engines."

"I guess we'll just have to live with it," a woman said in dismay.

Carmer Avenue residents are not the only ones taking this dismal outlook. Flooding equally as bad is a frequent problem in many sections of town, including Belmont Avenue, Cortlandt Street and areas in the Valley.

Commissioner Mary Senatore, who is director of Public Works, says simply

CARMER AVENUE POOL — Youngsters enjoy a makeshift swimming pool on Carmer Avenue which resulted from flash flood last week. Their parents weren't nearly as happy about the flooding conditions, which are drawing attention from Belleville officials this week. Inadequate sewers in many areas of Belleville are being cited as the cause for the floods.

Only 7 Days Left To Sale

There are only seven more days to Belleville's first annual "Late Hour Sale," a summer clearance extravaganza promising some of the best bargains of the year.

This week the Belleville chamber of Commerce reports the addition of four more merchants to the sale, bringing the total as of Tuesday to ten.

Those merchants committed to the August 12 sale indicated a large initial response from shoppers seeking additional information about the bargains to be offered.

The idea for the promotional sale is the Chamber of Commerce's, which formed a sale committee under the leadership of Stanley Slavin of Terry Shops to run the one evening affair.

On the sale evening, participating merchants will close shop from 5-7 p.m. to mark down prices, and will

Discusses Investigation

Mrs. Senatore: 'Charges Were All Falsehoods'

(Commissioner Mary Senatore, whose Public Works Department bore the brunt of the Grand Jury's investigation into alleged corruption in Belleville this month, has issued the following statement which she told the Times "gives the whole truth of the matter":

In 1968, when charges were presented to the Prosecutor's office and now again in 1970, never at any time did I become alarmed with the charges, as my only thought was that if giving services to the taxpayer is wrong, then everything in life is wrong.

Joseph Fornarotto, being a dismissed, disgruntled employee only presented these unsubstantiated statements to the Prosecutor's office after I dismissed him from the Department of Public Works. All of his complaints were based on innuendoes, half truths, and only what he wanted to believe himself were true. How ironic that from 1967 to the time of his suspension, he never thought anything wrong with the services we've extended to the taxpayers.

Mr. Fornarotto has been suspended by four previous Directors, not because they were afraid of his yelling, but only because he never performed his duties properly as an employee of the Department of Public Works.

I have been silent until now, in regards to Mr. Fornarotto's behavior, only because I cared for the "Image" of our town. But Mr. Fornarotto and the potential candidates who surround him could care less about the Town of Belleville's image. They are constantly trying to convey to the public their interest in our town, but unfortunately, they fail to tell the public the truth.

Joseph Fornarotto, through his incorrect charges concerning the various departments, only short changed the taxpayers again by wasting their money and the time of the employees, who had to lose work hours foolishly. But Mr. Fornarotto and his disgruntled associates just grin at this waste.

Any person who has been dismissed from his position in a job because of sleeping on a job, swimming in a pool, drinking in a tavern, for insubordination and many more reasons too numerous to mention and all being done on the taxpayer's monies, I'm sure the public will agree that any charges or statements he makes should be ignored as pure falsehoods and not to be glorified by persons with no knowledge of correct information.

Typical of the information and the propaganda he spreads is exemplified as far

Children's Movies Planned

Three popular children's movies are scheduled for showing at both the Silver Lake and main branch of the Belleville Public Library on August 19 and August 20 respectively.

"Stone Soup," an amusing French tale will be the first feature at 10 a.m. Also scheduled is "The Story of King Midas," a popular fairytale, and the legendary story of "The Emperor's New Clothes."

The program will last approximately 45 minutes, according to Library officials. Children in grades kindergarten through third grade only will be admitted.

Officials Exchange Charges; Problem Headed For Court

The Public Works commissioners of Belleville and Nutley exchanged charges of blame this week for flooding conditions in Nutley, and all but ruled out the possibility that the matter could be resolved outside of the courts.

Belleville Commissioner Mary Senatore told the Times Monday she has sent a letter to Nutley's Commissioner John Lucy saying flooding problems in that town's DeMuro Park area are the result of Nutley's decision to develop the site. Mrs. Senatore said she has turned over the matter to Belleville Town Attorney Nicholas Amato and indicated to the Times it was "a legal matter now."

Commissioner Lucy, who earlier said he hoped the matter could be settled between the two departments, also acknowledged that the situation would probably have to be settled in court.

Commenting on Commissioner Senatore's letter, Lucy said "I interpret from the letter that Mary Senatore has sort of taken this as a personal thing, which of course it isn't. It's something which happened before her time in office."

Nutley officials, meanwhile, estimate a cost of $22,000 to cover erosion problems in the DeMuro Park area which is located on Margaret Avenue north of Bloomfield Avenue. An emergency resolution in that amount was scheduled for introduction before the Nutley Board of Commissioners yesterday.

As for where the fault lay in the crisis, both commissioners offered differing opinions.

Commissioner Senatore said the fault was Nutley's in choosing to develop homes and a new athletic field in this area.

Lucy, however, charged that Belleville had complicated the situation through the development of the Rutan Estates.

"Keep one thing in mind," Lucy told the Times. "What she is talking about has nothing to do with Nutley's situation as far as the development is concerned. It has to do with the Rutan Estates development. We have a 36 inch pipe that comes down to the Belleville line and it was there for many, many years, when the area where the Rutan Estates now exists was nothing but swamp land. The only development that's involved here is of the Rutan Estates. When the connection was made by Belleville to our pipe it should have been at least the same size (Belleville's is 30 inches.)

Lucy also charged that Belleville has overacted to the situation and said that nobody in Nutley had ever given permission to Belleville for the connection.

Flooding, meanwhile continues in the controversial area, and Nutley reports it is faced with the possibility of lawsuits from residents,

Legion Installation Ready August 15

George Simon Jr. will be installed as commander of the Belleville American Legion Post 105 during annual installation ceremonies Saturday, August 15 at the Post home, 621 Washington Avenue.

Nine other officers will be placed in office with the new commander. Performing the installation will be Essex County Commander Victor Maffucci and his staff.

Chairman for the evening, Adjutant George Mitchell announces that dancing and refreshments will follow the program.

Those officers to be installed with Commander Simon include Anthony Mariani, first vice commander; Frank Kiernan, second vice commander; Ray Wellen, third vice commander; Patrick Lee, finance officer, and Charles Wilson, chaplain.

Also to be installed are Lloyd Monterosa, historian, Frank Kiernan, service officer; John Nolter, ritual officer, and John Wedekind, sergeant-at-arms.

Commander-elect Simon is a Korean War veteran who was attached to Attack Transport, USS Fremont, 6th Fleet Amphib. Force. The commander was trained at Brainbridge, Md. and the Great Lakes Center. He is married and lives with his wife Eleanor and daughter at 25 Beech Street.

Sewage Repairs Likely

The Belleville Board of Education expects to have repairs completed for the high school sewage system in time for the fall semester.

Bids on the work were due yesterday, and Board President Rocco Saletta indicated he was confident that "at least two companies would submit offers."

Contractors had refused to bid on repair work to broken pipes in the school's system two months ago because heavy dirt fill laying on them

To Meet With Board

Teachers Dissatisfied With Grievance Rules

The Belleville Education Association, which says it is dissatisfied with grievance procedures outlined in last year's contract, has asked the Board of Education to meet sometime before September 1 to discuss this and other problems in the teachers' working contract.

"The grievance procedure we have right now is inadequate," BEA president Jerry Kennelly told the Times this week. "It doesn't operate properly and hinders solving problems within the system."

Board President Rocco Saletta, meanwhile, indicated that the Board is willing to meet within two weeks to discuss the situation. Saletta's appraisal of the BEA request was that the teachers are seeking "a more sophisticated grievance procedure."

State law provides that teacher groups and school officials annually negotiate both salary and working conditions. Salary contracts for 1970-71 were ratified earlier this year after several stormy negotiation sessions and a threatened system-wide teacher walkout.

Kennelly indicated that other than revisions sought in the grievance procedure, last year's working contract was acceptable "with four or five minor amendments."

Apparently the key problem with the present

A Unique Craftsman

Since his retirement two years ago, Frank Forte has developed a special project of making grandfather clocks that are probably unique in the world.

Forte, who spent most of his life in Belleville, recently completed a hand-made grandfather clock that not only shows the correct time, but automatically plays "Happy Birthday" for his relatives on their birthdays and shows their pictures through a special viewer.

Besides this, the clock also plays "Silent Night" on Christmas Eve. It also chimes on the hour and half hour.

Taking over one and one-half years of daily "puttering" in his basement workshop, Forte said he believes the clock to be "unique in all the world." Handmaking the case, the movement and all electrical circuits for the clock, Forte explained that he had to work with a tolerances of less than 1,000th of an inch on some parts.

"I spent tens of hours in just making a single gear," he said. "I tried wooden, brass, iron and steel gears before I finally settled on aluminum."

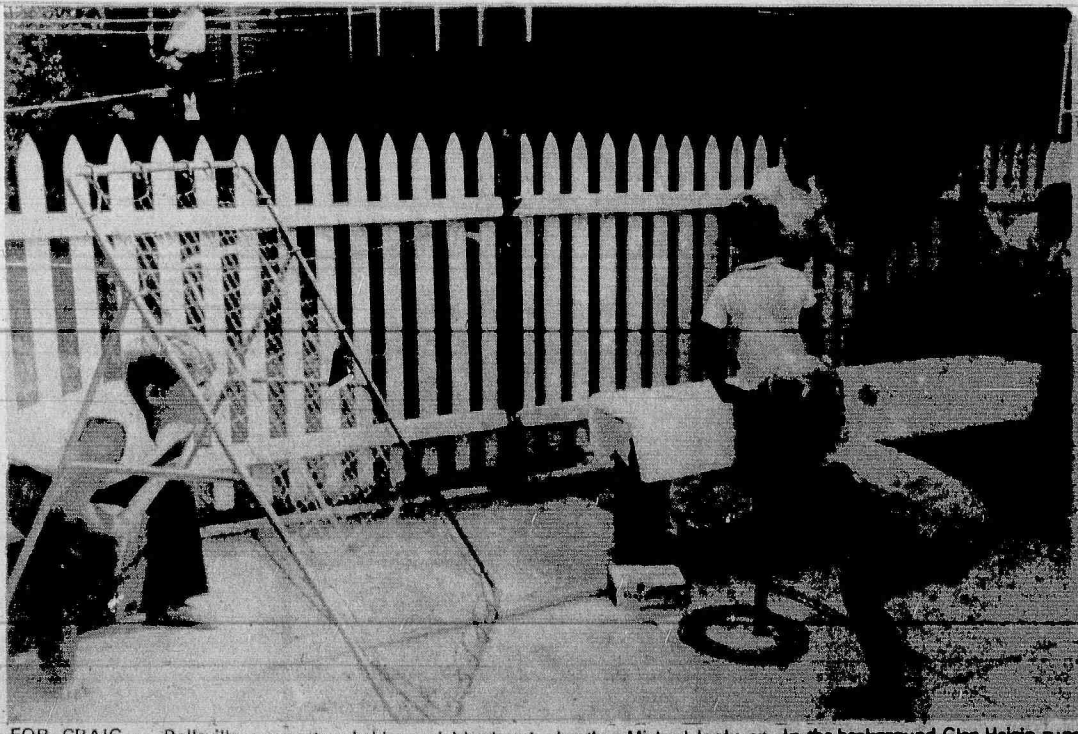

Also amazing is the fact that Forte made the whole clock in his workshop with mostly second hand equipment. For making the gears he used a small drillpress, and painstakingly cut hundreds of unusable gears before constructing one with the correct tolerance.

All totaled, the grandfather clock is set for Forte said he believes the clock to be 15 birthdays and on Christmas Eve. It plays "unique in all the world." Handmaking the

Commendation Medal Given To Belleville's Captain Mazza

Captain Louis S. Mazza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Mazza, 58 May Street, Belleville, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Minot AFB, N.D.

Captain Mazza, a communications officer, was decorated for "meritorious service" with an Air Force unit in Paramus.

He is now at Minot in a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The captain, a 1961 graduate of Belleville High School, received a B.A. degree in history in 1965 from Rutgers University, New Brunswick, where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He is a member of Pi Lambda Phi fraternity.

His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Cenci of 20 Mermaid Road, Toms River.

Beck's Column

BY MAX BECK

In a recent column we wrote about the beginning of radio for home entertainment about 50 years ago.

Between 1922 and 1924 the number of radio stations increased from 600 to 1400. Most of these stations were operated as promotional sidelines of other businesses or hobbies. The programs were amateurish and the schedules inconsistent. As the novelty wore off, the mortality rate of these stations was large, the number went down from 1400 in 1924 to 620 in 1926. This was a rapid decline and there were voices which predicted the demise of radio. How wrong they were!

Some of sighted men recognized the need for regular, professional program service on a national basis, and the National Broadcasting Company was established, for the purpose to "provide the best programs available, not only through the New York station WEFB, but also by making these programs available to other broadcasting stations throughout the country."

All of this has been accomplished and is history now. Instead of remaining national, the exchange of broadcasts of radio has become worldwide. One day in the not too distant future we will be able to make our own connection with anybody who has a telephone, anywhere on our earth. To this may be added a direct connection with future inhabitants of the moon. And after that, maybe next will be Mars. Who knows?

A Time For Reason

Flooding problems that beset southwest Nutley appear to be headed directly into the courts.

Nutley officials claim the flooding conditions arise because of inaction on the part of Belleville officials.

The flooding occurs at the Belleville-Nutley line. Nutley Commissioner John Lucy contends the Belleville drainpipe is of a size substantially smaller than the Nutley pipe. Because of this circumstance, on the occasion of heavy rains, the drain-off into the Belleville pipe system results in flooding of Nutley streets and homes.

Commissioner Lucy estimates the condition can be corrected if Belleville spent about $20,000 to install a larger pipe.

Public Works Director Mary Senatore of Belleville last week indicated a desire to sit with Nutley officials to develop a mutually acceptable plan. Nutley Commissioners contend "We've already sat with Belleville — many times in fact.

What we want now is action, and we want it immediately."

Because of a common boundary, Nutley and Belleville officials must find a way to live together in peace for as long as Nutley and Belleville remain independent communities. Home owners are entitled to flood-free homes and streets. Their elected public officials have an obligation to satisfy the legitimate demands of taxpayers.

We believe it is in the common interest for officials of both towns to confer at the earliest possible moment to resolve this long-standing problem — without a law suit.

18-19 Voting Age

The U.S. Congress adopted legislation permitting 18-year-olds to vote. President Nixon signed the bill with reservations over its legality. It is Nixon's belief a lowering of the voting age requires a constitutional amendment. Nixon has asked for a speedy challenge of the law in the courts to determine its constitutionality. In the meantime all the states have been requested to advise the Attorney General's office in Washington whether or not the individual state will accept the provisions of the 18-year-old vote legislation. Governor Cahill has replied in the affirmative for the State of New Jersey.

However, despite all of the above, on the New Jersey November ballot will appear a proposed constitutional amendment reducing the voting age in

New Jersey to 19. There is a possibility the courts may declare the federal 18-year-old voting law invalid. Because this possibility exists we urge readers to vote in favor of the New Jersey amendment appearing on the November ballot — just in case the courts knock down the 18-year-old federal legislation.

Nineteen-year-olds have demonstrated time and again they possess the maturity of an adult. Nineteen-year-olds for the most part are just as capable of casting a reasonably intelligent vote as are their elders.

Tax On Alimony—Unfair

There is a federal income tax on alimony payments. They are deductible as an expense item on the income tax return of the payer.

While alimony might be a payment for "services rendered" we believe it is unfair to tax such income. In the pragmatic sense it is not a salary or a wage. Call it a gift if you will — but most certainly it should be tax free. Isn't there a Congressman or United States Senator around willing to eliminate this unfair burden upon a special group of taxpayers?

Mrs. Fornarotto Says: 'I Have Been Silent Much Too Long'

I have been silent much too long and I feel it is about time I speak the truth.

My husband, Joseph Fornarotto, has been fired from his position in the Department of Public Works. The reason given, Drinking!

This man may be guilty of having (1) glass of beer on a very hot day at break time, but he is not deserving of the accusations that he is a drunkard. We have been married for (21) years, we have (4) lovely children, we own our home and Joe has neither the time or money to go around drinking. I have never in our (21) years of marriage seen my husband drunk.

No, the reason for Joe being fired goes far deeper. You see, he decided to run for democratic district leader in our area against the wishes of the Dept. of Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore. When she became aware that Joe was seeking this non-paying political position, she telephoned our home and warned him to back out or else. Little did I know what she meant but I was soon to find out.

All overtime was taken away from Joe, he was constantly watched. A civil service exam for Sewer Foreman was held and Joe came out in 1st position. She has refused to give him this job and has instead a man as acting foreman who was taught whatever he does know by Joe.

When this acting foreman went on vacation, instead of Joe being foreman she put a laborer on. This laborer was also having a glass of beer with Joe, as a matter of fact he suggested the idea. The trap was set. Joe was fired! The laborer, (3) days suspension!

On another occasion she telephoned and asked to speak to Joe who was not at home. She then had the audacity to scream at me, "God is going to punish that boy."

I do not know what, if any, religion you are Mrs. Senatore, but in our religion, God does not punish.

Says Rutan Estates Group Aided In Sidewalk Repairs

To the Editor,

I am writing this letter as a private citizen and taxpayer of Belleville. The ideas and questions included are my own.

Reference is made to an article on page one of the July 23, 1970 issue of the Belleville Times-News entitled "Discovery Of 1967 Civil Suit Leads To Rutan Estates Repair."

1. Did or did not your office Mrs. Senatore, receive a letter from this writer as Secretary of the Rutan Estates Homeowners' Association dated April 27, 1968 reminding the Town of the availability of "over $3,000" for repairing the streets, curbs, and sidewalks of the eastern portion of Rutan Estates? This money had been received by the Town from a bonding company for these repairs.

2. Did or did not the Town Engineer of Belleville verbally tell an officer of the REHOA that "the worst spots would be repaired" in 1968, which is two years ago? Why were these facts to be supplied in writing but never were?

3. Did or did not your office receive another letter from this writer as Secretary of REHOA dated November 8, 1969 again requesting action concerning this matter?

4. Did or did not you respond to the latter in a hand written letter dated December 1, 1969 stating "Your first question on the $4,000 (about) your (you are) correct. I have found the monies. I've discussed it with the Town Attorney and (in the) early spring I will correct only whatever sidewalks are listed in the suit, as the law states."

5. Then, how can you or the Belleville Times state that the action was prompted by a recent telephone call from a resident of Rutan Estates?

After about six years of requesting action concerning this matter and three years since the then Town Council accepted the bonding company settlement this writer is very grateful for some action concerning these repairs. It must be remembered however that the Council-Manager officials only had less than six months to act on this matter before being removed from office. I repeat, wasn't your office notified of the availability of these monies over two years ago?

Why were the facts, or only part of them plus personal opinions, presented on the front page of a local paper?

Also, when will the repairs scheduled for Plenge Drive, Carolyn Road, etc. be conducted? This writer has observed numerous repairs have been completed on Bernice Road and Gregory Terrace. I am sure that the homeowners that have received these repairs are very grateful to the Town.

Nixon And Thieu

Each time hope grows that the United States might be able to negotiate a peace with Hanoi ending the fighting in Vietnam President Thieu of South Vietnam all but dashes these hopes. The story is usually about the same. The State Department favors allowing all elements of the population to be represented in the Saigon government, plus internationally supervised free elections.

President Thieu then announces he will not allow Communists in the government, that he will suppress any South Vietnamese advocating a coalition including the Communists and that he will never accept the imposition of a coalition regime. President Nixon then announces he will never force Thieu to accept any such coalition.

There are, unfortunately, those in South Vietnam who would vote for Communists and some who favor the Communists. They are a minority. There are, of course, Communists in most of the western democracies, including the United States. Not many years ago we had a Communist member of Congress (from New York City).

Thieu, of course, knows this well. The one man among anti-Communist forces who could bring about a negotiated truce with a democratic posture, he continues to put his hopes in undemocratic principles and procedures of government.

They Explain Grand Jury Appearances

(The Essex County Prosecutor's recent investigation into alleged corruption at Belleville's Town Hall resulted in several town employees being subpoenaed before the Grand Jury. The following statements were submitted to the Times by four members of the Belleville Public Works Department who were among those to appear before the Grand Jury — ed.)

To the Editor,

I, Harry Mendl of 186 Passaic Avenue, Belleville was called before the Grand Jury for no reason at all. All statements were proven false.

I, Ralph Becker of 425 Washington Avenue, Belleville was called before the Grand Jury and they have found nothing wrong with my duties as a truck driver.

I, Elisha Barrett of 11 Terrace Place, Belleville only performed the necessary duties as a truck driver and never committed any wrong duties as suggested by a suspended employee.

I, Ralph Chimento of 54 Liberty Avenue, Belleville was called down by the Grand Jury to be questioned on false statements by an ex-employee. I answered all questions they found nothing.

Joe Defends His Actions; Cites Issues

To the Editor,

Viewing some budgets of different department is what prompted me to make the following assessments to the Essex County prosecutor!

1. Easter Sunday a private contractor received salt from the public works garage and delivered it to three locations in the city of Newark and two locations in the town of Belleville. I feel that no contractor should get salt from the town while the tax payers pay for it.

2. Mrs. Senatore used town stationery for personal and political purposes. We have to pay for our stationery and so should she.

3. Heavy town equipment was used for private uses. If we need a machine to do work home, we must hire one.

4. Town cars are being used for personal use, and any expenses occurred with the repair of these cars are being paid for by the tax payers.

5. A dead man was carried on the 1969 payroll budget.

Why? Where did this budgeted money go? Whenever there is a wrong doing you know of and you keep silent you are as guilty as the person committing this wrong doing.

I hope the Belleville tax payers will soon wake up and realize that their money is being wasted.

Adds Thanks To Group

To the Editor,

Last week in the Belleville Times a story was released concerning the Rutan Estates Homes and the sunken sidewalks. In the release I failed to mention the cooperation of the Rutan Estates Homeowners' Association in connection with information concerning the court case.

American Women

In athletic competition between U.S. track and field teams and those from western European countries the record shows U.S. females have done poorly for years. Time after time U.S. men win more points than their French, German or English opponents but U.S. women almost invariably lose.

This summer the U.S. track and field team which has been meeting teams in various European countries has fared as had been expected. The men have excelled but because U.S. women have not been able to match the performances of other countries' females matches have been lost. The meet against a Russian team in Leningrad was not even close because of the poor showing of American women.

It's true European girls ride bicycles and work more than American girls — and they probably do more physical work, especially as youngsters. They have, as a result, healthier bodies. Many Europeans, especially in the northern European countries, probably benefit from a more nutritional diet, also. (Americans eat much undated and stale packaged and canned food, and more artificial flavor, color and additives than any other people.)

Can American girls catch up? By proper exercise (perhaps more emphasis on healthy exercise, honest work, and walking) they undoubtedly could.

Tight Coal Supply Causes Winter Woes

One Year Ago

A crowd of over 200 attended the annual installation of officers for the Belleville Amvet Post 26. The new officers installed were: Joseph Di Modica, commander; Sal Vicari, first vice-commander; Ralph Chimento, second-vice-commander; Jack Franzi, third vice-commander; Angelo Domenick, judge advocate; Joseph Fornarotto, adjutant; James Messina, provost marshal and Orazio and Leo Giangrande, trustees.

Belleville's second straight weekend of serious crime had left Belleville Detectives Harold O'Reilly and Thomas Ricci weary with fatigue. The two men, along with Detective Sergeant Hank Olivieri and Patrolman Lee Quinn, were instrumental in capturing a homicide suspect. The previous weekend, the men also had lost sleep investigating a near fatal shooting in Silver Lake area.

Prospects of a tight coal supply for the winter increased by five times the number of persons applying to District OPA for permission to convert the fuel oil. Rationing executive, H. Sherman Beatty, explained that the shortage of coal was not a valid basis for permitting coal users to change to fuel oil, and pointed out that fuel oil had been cut a third by rationing, while coal burners were permitted to buy four-fifths of the normal supply.

Pollution In Large Cities Affects Towns

QUESTION: Recently, New York City was put on a pollution alert because of the high level of poisonous gases in the atmosphere. Do you think the high level of pollution there has any affect on communities in this area?

ASKED: Of Nutley and Belleville residents. Pat Compton, 28 Vreeland Avenue, Nutley:

Indirectly, the pollution in the city does affect us here, but we probably create much of our own pollution. I suppose the biggest culprit here is the automobile. The fumes from the exhaust creates much of the problem. One fast and sure way of eliminating this problem would be to give the police the right to ticket each and every car that has excessive exhaust. A large city like New York has to go on some type of alert when pollution is high but here in town I don't think it ever gets that bad as to ban cars from the streets or anything like that.

Joseph Zarra, 12 Norton Street, Belleville: I would say that New York shouldn't be the only place they need a pollution alert. The problem is probably just as bad right here in Belleville. Most persons don't seem to realize that there is a problem here. They rather look to the larger cities. But those larger cities are only a few miles away. When you talk about pollution, you don't say just New York, you have to include the whole metropolitan area. The government has to come up with some type of restrictions on industry and the automobile if they are to beat this problem. Each individual has to make sure he is not polluting the atmosphere.

Kathy Volmer, 347 Passaic Avenue, Nutley: I think the problem is confined mostly to New York, although we in Nutley must have some pollution because we are so close to that large city. I don't know how high our pollution index is compared to New York's, but the government here should exercise the same type of controls as in the city if the need arises. I blame the problem mostly on the cars. There should be some type of restrictions on them if they ever want to stop the pollution problem. People have to realize that the problem affects every one of us.

Jackie Coleman, 91 Ralph Street, Belleville: I don't think the pollution problem in New York City affects us that much. The people there are right in setting up standards to protect themselves when the pollution level is very high, but I also don't believe it will happen here. Belleville is not as urban a place as is a large place like New York, so we won't have the problem of that large city. Here in the suburbs there aren't that many cars nor is there the large industry. You can't do that much about the pollution problem if most of the people aren't behind you. It can become a serious problem.

THE GETTY GAS Company is certainly sprucing up the town in spots. The Bloomfield Avenue and High Street intersection shines brighter and appears cleaner because of what the Nelson boys did with their acquisition of a Getty Gas franchise. Our boyhood friend, Mike Vitterito has gone Getty with his station at Centre Street and Bloomfield Avenue. The gas station looks more like a drugstore than the garage-type gas dispenser of old.

Last week Phil White reported in his column that the Nutley Police Department functioned recently without a Shift Commander in charge. Police Manuals require that a Command Officer hold the rank of lieutenant or higher.

For short periods from Saturday, July 25 through Tuesday, July 28 an unusual situation developed as a result of which the platoon leader, a police sergeant, was the officer in command. Three different people in the course of one day called the Police Department asking to speak with the Chief. The desk officer replied the Chief was on vacation. When asked to speak to the Deputy Chief the same information erroneously was given. When the caller asked to speak to Captain Gus Negra a similar response was given. Finally calls came to The Sun complaining that no senior officer was on duty. These calls provoked Phil White's comment of last week.

Deputy Chief Dimichino was out of the office part of the time because of a death in his family. Chief Buel was absent part of the time because he attended the funeral of former Chief Charles Rummel. Captain Negra already was on vacation. This incident points up the probable need to upgrade maybe five of the ten police sergeants to lieutenant rank, thus always providing a Command Officer to manage the police desk.

The civilian defense siren atop the public safety building malfunctioned last Sunday afternoon causing quite a commotion in the area.

It's been a long time since I had an opportunity to chat with Dr. Maximilian Perlman but last week we were both headed for the news stand at the same moment. It only took seconds to involve ourselves in a discussion of pets with Dr. Perlman telling me about an exciting visit he made to the Animal Medical Center (formerly the Ellen Prince Speyer Animal Hospital) on New York's East Side. The Speyer institution has all kinds of animal specialists, eye, heart, lungs - you name it and there is a specialist for almost any kind of sickness. Pet owners patronizing the hospital come from all walks of life - the hippie, the truckdriver, the doctor, the banker, the retiree, the little 10-year-old girl, the aging spinster, the retired publisher - all with their problems, and all showering love and attention upon their ailing pets. Dr. Perlman complained that he lacked the power to express what he saw in writing. The esteemed doctor reports that a visit to the waiting lounge of the Animal Medical Center is equal to a college course in human relations.

The Tom Infusino family motored out into the Atlantic Ocean recently in their Seabird cabin cruiser. Drift-fishing off the coast of Hollywood, Fla., Estelle was the only one in the fishing party who caught any fish - and her catch was two medium size dolphins. Drift-fishing in mildly turbulent seas - three and four foot waves - was too much for Tom, Jr. and his pal Bruce Ciccone, Jr. Their reaction to the ship's rolls required Tom to abort the fishing trip and return to the comfort of Fort Lauderdale soil.

with 103 degree fever. Nutley Commissioner Hank Ludwig is in the Hackensack General Hospital because of an injury sustained on the golf course a few weeks ago. We hope both boys make a speedy recovery.

A really sharp young man recently has been appointed Deputy Director of the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles. He is 32-year-old Charles H. Mellon, 3rd. Prior to accepting the M.V. post Mellon was the assistant vice president of the Bankers Trust Company, International Division. The new Deputy has been very active politically. Mellon served with the Nixon-Lodge crowd in 1960, Rockefeller for President in 1968 and in the fall of that year was enlisted to serve in the Nixon-Agnew campaign. Despite his past political activity Mellon is about as nonpolitical as any member of the judiciary.

There are some who say that Monday is a terrible way to spend one seventh of one's lifetime.

For a long time the morbid philosophy that you can't fight city hall has paralleled the erosion of the high moral standards which were reflected in the social, political and business world of yesterday.

It was Thoreau who wrote "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears however measured or far away." The message Thoreau was trying to get through to us was that a person should feel free and think free.

U. S. Department of Justice boss in New Jersey, Fred Lacey put it on the line this weekend on TV when he proved that not only can City Hall be taken on - but the fight could be successful. In a sense Mayor Kenneth Gibson proved the truth of this statement on June 16.

Glen Drabik, the road map reader for our Herald Publications, tells the one about World War I. The Kaiser was worried at the news of Chateau Thierry. He rushed into General Ludendorff's headquarters and asked him in a worried voice, "Have you any real dope on the Western Front?" "Only your son, the Crown Prince," answered the General.

Recently while sitting in a Newark City Hall waiting room of Mayor Kenneth Gibson I was pleasantly surprised to chat with a former employee who worked for us in our O K Electronics Corporation. Fifteen years ago young Pearl Beatty performed a vital part of the job of manufacturing vacuum fuses and thermal relays. Mayor Gibson's first appointment to a city post was awarded to Pearl Beatty as Executive Secretary of the Newark Insurance Fund. The title belies her City Hall standing. At Mayor Gibson's Newark City Hall Pearl is "Mr. Big."

PICKED UP EN ROUTE....Beware the fury of a patient man....character is higher than intellect....we must destroy war or war will destroy us....it isn't what you're eating that counts, it's what's eating you....the mill will never grind with the water that has passed....our youth we can have for today; we can always find time to grow old....our doubts are traitors and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt....it is hard for an empty bag to stand upright....it is much easier to be critical than correct....today it is a condition which confronts us, not a theory....it matters not how a man dies, but how he lives....it is better to give than to lend, and it costs about the same....famous people are usually more friendly and simple than are small people who pretend to be great....gratitude is the fruit of great cultivation; you do not find it among rude people....don't boast, the whistle does not pull the train....discontent is the want of self-reliance; it is the infirmity of the will.

Rookie Coach Leads Legion To Crown

Leading the fortunes of this season's championship Nutley American Legion Post 70 baseball nine was rookie coach Matt Miesieski.

Matt has done in one year what other coaches have not been able to do in the recent past history of local legion baseball.

He produced, directed and led a winning team in Nutley.

Nutley this year topped cross-town rival Belleville for laurels in the Eastern Division of the Essex County American Legion League and then beat Western Division leader Bloomfield for the county crown.

The local nine defeated Sayerville in a three-game set to gain a berth in the district II finals before losing to Lyndhurst last Saturday and Sunday in a record breaking 19 inning battle.

A longtime coach and official in the Nutley Boys League, Miesieski has been associated with that organization for over 10 years. He served as president there for three years and was treasurer for two seasons besides coaching many Boys League teams.

Born in Belleville, Miesieski still considers himself a "lifetime" Nutley resident.

"My family moved to Nutley right after I was discharged from the service," he said. "And I've resided here ever since then."

Miesieski took over the reins of this season's legion team from Frank DeMarco, who coached the local nine for three seasons.

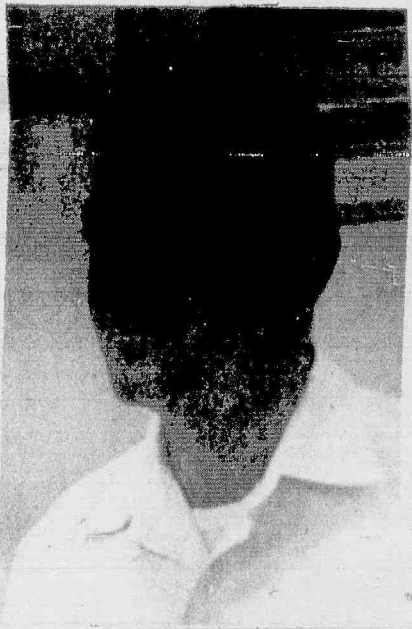

"I was asked by Nutley Legion Commander Rudy Berg to head this year's team," he explained. "At first I had doubts about becoming manager because of my longtime commitment to the Boys League. But when I learned that there may be no 1970 Nutley representative in the Legion League because a coach couldn't be found, I accepted."

Miesieski knew most of the Legion players before becoming manager. His son, Bob, played with the team for four seasons but was ineligible this year because of age.

Miesieski was married in June of 1948 to the former Harriet Zytkeiwicz of Nutley. The couple reside at 35 Entwistle Avenue and have two children: Bob is 20 and Barbara is 21 years old.

Highlight of the season for Miesieski was, of course, defeating Sayerville to gain a berth in the district championships.

"But I believe our best played game was the 1-0 win over Vailsburg to clinch the Eastern Division crown," he added.

Merchandize I've Promised Never To Buy

I saw an ad in the paper last week which greatly appealed to me. It offered fresh shrimp at a beautiful price at one of the local supermarkets. I hid myself over and purchased two pounds and by the time I had it cooked, shelled and deveined, I had added fresh shrimp to the list of things never to buy again.

Don't misunderstand me. The salad that I constructed from the little beasties was delicious. Rod and I thoroughly enjoyed it. The rest of the group tolerated it. But the thought of spending another hour getting it ready, soured me on shrimp for good.

This list of things never to buy again has grown gradually over the years and includes among numerous items, white coats. I went to Europe one summer and took with me a white wool coat which I had purchased to top a bright red suit. The coat was very attractive, comfortable to wear and certainly went with everything.

I think that coat saw the inside of every cleaner in England, Scotland and France. It got to the point where it only had to be looked at to get dirty. I spent more money on cleaning than I did on souvenirs. When I finally got it home again, I took it post haste to the cleaner and had him dye it black. Unfortunately it shrank a little in the dying and ended up in the Goodwill bag.

High on the list of never agains is a punch bowl. I had one once, a delicate piece of glassware, etched with fruit and leaves. One christening day, I mixed up a goodly quantity of punch just before the guests arrived, tasted it and decided that a soupcon more of lemon would enhance the flavor. I added the lemon, gave one final stir and put the ladle right through the bowl.

The company walked in as strawberry colored punch flowed merrily down the dining room wall and collected in a puddle on the floor. There ended any love I might have felt for a punch bowl and any desire to own another one.

Close to the top of the list is contour sheets without elastic ends. Have you ever engaged in a more frustrating, discouraging battle than trying to get that fourth corner on the mattress? It is a job meant only for a contortionist with the strength of a Charles Atlas. Our sheet collection now contains only a few of the elasticless variety and when their turn comes to go on the bed, I make sure my better half is around to do battle with the monster.

I could add other things like glam baby bottles and dining room curtains that aren't permanent press but why bother. You all have your own lists, right? I thought so.

Board of Education Discovery Proves Beyond Doubt That Pilgrims Came Here In 1392

The Belleville Board of Education convenes regular, special and super-special meetings every so often which are billed as PUBLIC extravaganzas but somehow one always comes away feeling the show marquee is misleading.

The Board's PUBLIC meeting usually kicks off with some sort of sermon chastizing a subversive phantom Board member who has dared divulge the inner-most passions of executive committee meetings, which are held frequently, privately and one is led to suspect, in a vacuum container.

In any case, the sermon takes about ten minutes of the PUBLIC meeting and makes anywhere from 20 to 30 cross-references to privately discussed issues which the public has no knowledge of.

The poor phantom Board member(s), meanwhile, chills with fear at each sermon because in the back of his mind he thinks: If they don't let me leak (secrets) I'll have to repress all the super-duper BOARD tidbits, which will make me neurotic as hell.

Usually about half-way through the PUBLIC meetings, the Board gets into a heated discussion, and just when things are stirring, someone moves the Board use its famed "convertible clause", wherein the members put up the top, much like you do in an automobile during a rainstorm, and retire to closed chambers to work out just what information can be made public at the PUBLIC meeting.

The latest Board secret to leak out was the discovery in closed executive session of a rare historical document which proves that a group of pilgrims actually discovered and settled in America in 1392, well ahead of Chris C's Nina Pinta Santa Maria Expo '92.

The document was discovered, according to Board leaks, buried beneath Junior High School Principal Sy Grossman's intercom system, and proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that the pilgrims settled in what is today Belleville, in 1392.

Just what happened to the settlers was not altogether clear because of conflicting reports from three Board leaks.

But from all indications, it appears that a one Lord Saletta de Pontetta led a party of about 11 across the Atlantic from Sicily aboard the Budgettoon, a ship which Sicilian cynics said was too top heavy in the masts to ever make the long voyage to the edge of the horizon. "It surely will go down," they warned.

LORD SALETTA, de Pontetta's hearty group braved the perils of a top heavy mast and took to the sea in February of 1392, the document says.

After nearly six months at sea, the water, food and morale, which at the beginning was high, sank to the barest levels. The ship's official diary recorded rumblings of mutiny.

An unofficial diary kept by Lower Lord Casale de Me-too, spoke with concern for the strange behavior of the ship's captain, Lord Saletta de Pontetta.

"I'm worried about the Lord. He's taken to climbing up to the crow's nest in the dead of night, where he begins howling 'LEAKS, LEAKS,' we must stop the leaks. What leaks can he be talking about?" So said Lower Lord Casale's unofficial diary.

Then, when hope appeared to have deserted the weary soldiers, Duke Romano de Cee, screamed from the bow: "Land, I've sighted land."

From below came a loud: "LEAKS. LEAKS. I won't have any of this."

"But sir, I've discovered a way to save us from these heavy sails and the threat of starvation."

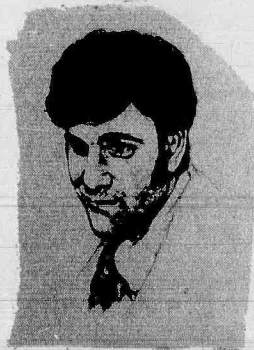

The text of the document at this point is blurred, according to one board leak, who asked that he not be revealed to the other leaks. He did say, however, that it appears that an eraser was applied, apparently unsuccessfully, to this section. This same leak was confirmed by two other board leaks.

The document goes on to give a detailed description of attempts by the crew to establish a stabile community called "Belleville de Lunacia" on the banks of the Passaic River.

APPARENTLY THE fatal crisis came for the settlers with the recurrence of Lord Saletta's concern for leaks.

"I won't have any leaks about my discovery. None. Absolutely none whatsoever do you hear me?"

The nine companions of Lord Saletta de Pontetta therein ate with red faces the carrier pigeons they'd all hid under their shirts. When all had done so the Lord smiled and said:

by Nat Gottlieb

"To guard us against any leaks, I'll have the Budgettoon sank," and did so, much to the dismay of his compatriots.

"But now sir," Lower Lord Casale said, "how will Sicily know what we are doing and what we have discovered? And worse, sir, how will we, or rather you, win the Queen's Commissionship this Spring if we can't communicate?"

Lord Saletta looked around, then, obviously troubled by this said:

"Let someone swim to Sicily and bring back a ship."

"I'll go," shouted Duke Romano.

"No thanks," his Lordship blurted quickly.

"But he's the only one who can swim," the all-male crew groaned.

Carmer Avenue: An Unwanted Swimming Pool

Flash Floods Cause Havoc To Residents

"the town grew too big for what is underground."

By this she means Belleville's sewer system, which was laid over a quarter of a century ago, "is largely inadequate in many areas to meet the increased demands from new housing and construction."

The problem is not going unnoticed by the Public Works Department, Commissioner Senatore says. "We have already begun a study of the situation with reference to needed repairs and to how we best can finance the operation."

The commissioner says her department has already surveyed Holmes Street and other Valley areas where she says sections of the sewer pipes are corroded and are far too small to handle the flow.

Solutions to what apparently is a town-wide problem are dependent, the commissioner says, on many factors, the primary one being cash. The Public Works director says her department successfully alleviated a flood problem on Cortlandt Street, but indicated "we don't have the manpower to handle all these jobs nor the funds."

Paying attention to the sewers has actually become a Friday ritual Commissioner Senatore says. "Every Friday our boys are down cleaning the sewer lines in five key areas of town; on Carmer Avenue, Lake Street, Fairway Avenue, Cortlandt Street and Stephens Street."

But these measures are obviously only temporary, and some sort of long range attack on the outdated sewers seems imminent.

The commissioner indicated that the state legislature is presently considering a new flood control bill to aid municipalities, and said "we are constantly in touch with Trenton about it."

The problem on Carmer Avenue apparently is the result of an overloaded sewer line. The present line on this street begins on DeWitt Avenue and flows underneath Washington Avenue where it is used by Westinghouse Company and several factories in neighboring Nutley.

The proximity of Nutley to Carmer Avenue has actually prompted the commissioner to speculate that some of this street's flooding may be due to Nutley's use of the pipe system. She says her department is considering this possibility in its study of the situation.

A rough estimate of the funds needed to fix the sewers on Carmer Avenue is $10,000 according to Commissioner Senatore. Complicating matters is that the sewer line runs across Washington Avenue, which is a state roadway, and means Belleville cannot effectuate any repairs without state approval.

UNHAPPY — Residents of Carmer Avenue gather on the sidewalk to assess damage during flash flood last week. The citizens say the condition has existed for many years with no apparent relief.

back as the budget hearing where he and his associates had absolutely no knowledge of a budget, such as a statement Mr. Fornarotto made concerning a dead man. Any person knows that upon death of an employee, an insurance policy is paid and then the name is removed through the book-keeping department. Fornarotto would like to think a Director would make a mistake such as he indicated.

Each and every charge made at the public hearings as well as to the Prosecutor's office were all false statements and I personally as the Director of Public Works would like to commend the Prosecutor's office as well as the persons serving on the Grand Jury for a job well done.

It was most encouraging to know 23 persons sitting in judgement of my department felt as I did in reference to this disgruntled, dismissed employee, that all his charges were unfounded.

As Director of the Department of Public Works, I have sat through three Civil Service hearings of which nothing but untruths were given by Mr. Fornarotto and his wife. Both have advocated under oath their reasons for the suspension saying that I called their home and asked Mr. Fornarotto not to run for district leader. At no time did I ever concern myself with Mr. Fornarotto's ambitions to become a Democratic Leader. I have never spoken to him or his wife over a phone. This once again is an alibi by both. Other employees have been suspended by myself, but this was for a first offense. Mr. Fornarotto had so many that I, as Director of Public Works had an obligation to the taxpayers to discharge and suspend him for lack of service to the taxpayers.

Upon completion of Mr. Fornarotto's Civil Service hearing, I will publicly inform the taxpayers of the many charges that have been heard.

Kiwanis Make Repairs

Branch Brook Belleville Kiwanis members for the past two weekends have given a total of 84 man hours cleaning and repairing summer furniture and painting the 285 foot cyclone fence surrounding the playground area at the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center located on the grounds of Clara Maass Hospital.
The group worked in two shifts under the direction of the agriculture and conservation committee. They also pruned the trees, raked and cleaned the yard.
A five-week summer camp program is provided for 40 severely handicapped youngsters. Here, under the direction and supervision of the professional staff the children swim daily and enjoy the playground and picnic area without interruption of therapy.
Mrs. Viola Vernick, Director of the Center said that because of a shortage of funds, this work had not been done. Thanks to the Branch Brook-Belleville Kiwanis for helping with this emergency.

Cryan Seeking To Control Drugs

John F. Cryan, Democratic candidate for Essex County Sheriff, called today for greater cooperation between the sheriff's department and suburban police departments to combat the growing menace of drug traffic in the county.
Cryan asserted that during the past three years there has been a marked increase in the drug traffic in the county, particularly in suburban communities.
"If the present sheriff spent as much time fighting narcotics as he had selling honorary deputy badges, perhaps the problem would not be as grave as it is today," Cryan declared. "We in Essex need a sheriff who is more interested in day to day tough law enforcement rather than politics and publicity."
Cryan, a former under sheriff and former state assemblyman, said:
"As sheriff I would institute an intensive narcotics training program for all suburban Essex police departments and work closely with all law enforcement officials in developing the intelligence needed to ferret out drug pushers."
The Democratic candidate also vowed an all out effort to "stiffen our narcotics laws so that a minimum sentence for selling drugs on a first offense would be at least 10 years imprisonment or more." He emphasized that he was referring to drug pushers, and not the addicts.
"I find no mercy in my heart for those who profit from the drug traffic by exploiting the misery of human beings trapped in the bondage of drug addiction," Cryan declared.

"These pushers, who in the beginning give away for free small doses of drugs to entrap their youthful victims for future profits, are among the vilest creatures in our society."
"These drug pushers must be removed from our midsts and I strongly urge stiffening our laws."

Gilbert E. Howley; Lifelong Resident

Gilbert E. Howley of 89 Dow Street, Belleville, died August 2 at home. He was 66.
A lifelong resident of Belleville, Mr. Howley was a retired trucking firm manager. He belonged to the Belleville Council 835 of the Knights of Columbus, the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's Church, the Juvenile Conference Committee of Belleville and the Belleville Association of Exempt Firemen.

He also served Belleville as a volunteer fireman for many years and was a member of the Ironbound Businessmen's Association.
He leaves his wife, Mrs. Frances P. Barlow Howley; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Roos of Belleville; two brothers, Aloysius of Arkansas and Joseph of Belleville; two sisters, Mrs. Lillian McEligot of Whippany and Mrs. Dorothy Carolan of Newark, and two grandchildren.

Services were August 5 from the Kiernan Funeral Home in Belleville followed by a Mass in St. Peter's Church.

Income Tax Examination Policy Set

All face to face audit examinations of Federal income tax returns in Internal Revenue Service offices in New Jersey are now conducted on an appointment basis. Each letter notifying a taxpayer that his return is to be audited specifies a date, time and place for the audit. Each notification also has a telephone number to be called if the scheduled appointment cannot be kept. Requests for postponement or change should be made as soon as the need is apparent.
According to IRS District Director Roland H. Nash, Jr., this procedure is an improvement over the former system in which a taxpayer was told to report his own convenience during a stated period. Taxpayers often appeared in large numbers at certain times such as Monday and during lunch hours. Many had long waits and auditors' work loads were erratic.
Taxpayers receiving "invitations to appear" should read their letters carefully and bring all necessary records with them on their first visit. It will help if cancelled checks, receipted bills and other substantiating evidence is properly sorted and arranged. Some relatively simple audits are handled by correspondence rather than through interviews. Letters from Internal Revenue on these audits specify the material to be submitted and include a self-addressed envelope for mailing it to IRS.

Meeting Planned

Grievance Rules Said To Be Unsatisfactory

grievance system is that "it tends to put personalities on the spot."

"The system as it is now constructed tends to make a grievance into a confrontation between individuals. We are seeking a system which enables us to put the Association's name on the grievance and not the individuals," Kennelly said

"Right now it usually is my name or George Nucera's which finds its way onto the grievance."

Kennelly reports that the BEA filed "a couple" of grievances last school term "which the Board considered resolved, but we weren't satisfied." The teacher leader declined, however, to mention the nature of the grievances, and said the fault lies not necessarily with the Board but with the grievance procedure.

Whether in fact the BEA can legally register a grievance as a group figures to be a key question. Kennelly said that Board of Education Attorney Max Schwartz has indicated the Association cannot do so according to state law, but the teacher leader says "this is an interpretation," and indicated the BEA is seeking legal advice. Schwartz was on vacation and unavailable for comment.

A second change being sought in the grievance outline is "more secrecy in the filing procedure."

"Right now if a grievance is made, the contract allows the whole administration to read it. This makes solving the situation difficult and we feel this is not fair."

automatically at 7 p.m. on the correct day.

The clock case is also completely handmade. It is constructed from cherry and birch wood with a special finish. Forte uses a special "sealacell" process that reportedly lasts longer and seals deeper than conventional finishes.

Forte spent over three days just sanding the cabinet before adding the sealer. He then applied three coats of the special sealer.

Forte lived all his life in Belleville before moving to Nutley 11 years ago. He now lives at 230 Whitford Avenue with his wife, Mary. His children are all married and Forte says he intends to construct similar clocks for each of them.

He is now working on his second grandfather clock which, he says, will have numerous improvements over the first model.

"I'm putting special 'Westminster chimes' in this one," he said.

"Also, there will be a larger viewer for his relatives birthdays, with more pictures to be shown through the viewer."

The most difficult and involved part in constructing the grandfather clock was getting it to automatically play "Happy Birthday" at the correct time on the correct day.

Forte said this was done with a complicated system of electric circuits that would trigger the mechanism.

Luckily, he worked for over 25 years as general manager in specializing in electric circuits at a factory, so he was familiar with construction of such an apparatus.

Forte admits that to truly appreciate the clock, you first have to work on it.

"Everything is hand-made," he said. "I wouldn't put a price tag on this clock because it is invaluable to me."

Forte added that he is constructing clocks for his children and a close friend before he will even think of getting into constructing clocks for profit.

And at 70 years of age, he's beyond worrying about it.

Allen Pontiac Tops In Sales Contest Again

Allen Pontiac, 645 Washington Avenue, Belleville, winner of the

Norman Allen

Pontiac National Sales Contest for the fourth year in five years, has again garnered another sales achievement award.

The local dealership has won the Pontiac Zone Award which will send them to the Chateau Champlain in Montreal, Canada.

Norman Allen, owner of the dealership and Mrs. Allen, have just returned from an all-expense paid trip to Germany, France, Holland, Switzerland and Norway which was won in a previous sales contest.

Allen has given the latest award of the Canadian trip to sales manager Joe Freda in recognition of his outstanding service to the dealership and customers of Allen Pontiac.

Students Help In Reading

Girls and boys of the St. Peter's CYO have been participating in a "one to one" reading program under the guidance of Mrs. Richard Fantin, Mrs. Michael Parillo and Mrs. Rudy Forte for the past five weeks.

Assisting the program have been CYO moderator Rev. Richard Groncki and a corps of Belleville High school students who have donated their time to the project.

Among those BHS volunteers are Roseanne Castellano, Patti Cullen, Doreen Davis, Mary Ann Demco, Sue Eisenhard, Theresa Fairchild, Donna LaPlaca, Patricia Lynch and Elizabeth Wilson.

Also participating are Mary Lou Martin, Sharon McCarthy, Joan Petti, Joyce Pizzino, Donna Senior, Emma Sparkman, John Sullivan, Cathy Tronick and Margaret Whelan.

Dracula To Haunt Belleville

Students are invited to see a special film showing of "Dracula" at the Belleville Public Library on Thursday, August 13. A classical horror tale, this film version was originally made in 1922. In many ways the film has never been equalled.

The program begins at 10 a.m. and the film is 30 minutes in length. This film will also be shown at the Silver Lake Branch Library on Wednesday, August 12, at 10 a.m.

Lions And Colony In World Series

The first place teams of the Belleville Little League's American and National divisions will meet some time in the next week for the Belleville Little League World Series, according to Michael V. Marotti. Marotti wasn't too sure of the exact date, but said Monday night that the game should be played "within ten days."

Members of the two teams in Monday night's Little League All Star Game between Belleville and Bloomfield all received trophies after the game for their performances. The winners, Bloomfield's Southern League All Stars, each received a statue of a ball player inscribed with "District Champs." The team coaches, Jerry Mattia and Jerry La Vacca were presented with a pennant for the team's home field.

Belleville's team, the losers of the 4-3 game, also all received trophies, proclaiming "District 2 - Second Place." Coach Marotti seemed surprised with the teams playing, as he commented, "they don't usually give any runs away," evidently referring to the teams six errors, all of which caused runs.

TWO OUTS — Mike Marotti, manager of the National League All-Stars shouts that there is two outs during championship game with the Bloomfield Southern League All-Stars.

As the winners of the District Eight championship game, Bloomfield Southern will travel to Englewood Cliffs to meet the District Six Champs, presently undetermined.

Future BHS Baseball Greats

With the All-Star games over, it's time to look over the players performances to find future prospects for Belleville High.

John Guarino definitely will have a bright future on the mound for Belleville if he picks up a little speed. Guarino has good control, especially on a "sucker pitch." The pitch looks like it will break right at the plate for a strike, but stays up and the batter generally winds up swinging too low to hit it.

Guarino also looks like a good hitter. His double in the third inning of the Bloomfield game was the first hit and the only extra-base hit for Belleville.

Belleville also seems to have another pitcher coming up by the name of Joe Goscinski. Goscinski is the brother of former all-stater John Goscinski, who led the American Legion pitching staff. Little Joe hurled for the Belleville American All-Star team against Bloomfield Northern All-Stars, and won 10-1. Joe pitched a one hitter and struck out 14 batters for Belleville.

Bob Giordano also seems to be a good prospect. Monday night Bob played right field and three times kept Bloomfield from getting hits. Bob caught a fly in the second inning that ended Bloomfield's two run rally, on a shot that might have been a hit with a slower fielder. In the fourth and the fifth he also snagged balls that might have been hits.

Help Wanted Desperately

WANTED: At least twenty Belleville High School Boys, grades 10, 11 and 12. Time of employment will be during the sweltering heat of September afternoons, October winds and November cold in nothing less than a pair of running shorts and a tee-shirt. Please report to the cross-country physical at the end of the month, or to the coach himself, R.B. Haneke, in his homeroom, at Room 219 during the first week of school.

In all seriousness, Belleville High School's Cross-Country suffers from under nourishment during it's fall season. Most schools have between 20 and 30 runners, but for the last few years, Belleville has only been able to come up with about 7 harriers.

Little League Stars Knocked From Championship Tourney

Errors Costly In 4-3 Defeat

by John McCarthy

Six errors proved costly to the Belleville Little League's National division All-Stars, as they dropped a tough 4-3 decision to Bloomfield's Southern Little League stars at the Michael V. Marotti Field Monday night.

Bloomfield capitalized on Belleville's errors in the first, second and seventh inning, tallying runs in each. The Bengals only got two hits off Belleville's John Guarino with only one accounting for a run. That one was the final score in the seventh inning.

In the opening inning Bloomfield's centerfielder Carl Capasso was walked as leadoff batter. The next batter lined out to Belleville's third baseman Chris Tremel. Tremel threw to first to catch the Bloomfield runner, but the throw was wide and Capasso wound up on second. The runner went to third on a wild pitch by Guarino, and scored on Tony Biafore's fielding error a play later.

Bloomfield scored again in the second inning on errors by shortstop Biafore and pitcher Guarino. The leadoff batter reached first on Biafore's error and came around on Guarino's two errors. One of the batters that got on via Guarino's muffs also scored on a fielder's choice.

Belleville came back in the fourth and fifth inning with three runs, on three hits. Tremel reached first on an error and was out when Tom Mushio hit into a fielder's choice. Mike Cancelliere sent him to third as he reached second on a wild throw by Bloomfield's second baseman. Both runners scored on a single by Mike McTigue.

The third run came on two back-to-back singles by Bob Giordano and Chris Tremel. Bloomfield scored its winning run in the seventh inning.

The Bengal's centerfielder reached first on an error by Chuck Finelli. Belleville's shortstop, Capasso scored on a single by Angelo D'Argenio. D'Argenio's hit was his second single of the game, both accounting for all of Bloomfield's hits in the championship.

In pitching the two-hitter Belleville's Guarino struck out five and walked four. The walks came in the first four innings of the game, when Guarino had an evident case of the "gitters." He finally settled down and struck out all five batters in the last three innings.

Belleville's All Stars collected four hits while striking out nine times. Most of the whiffs came from swinging at bad pitches, and on a few seemingly bad calls by the home plate umpire. Nevertheless the young

Men's Softball

Action in the Recreation Mens Monday Softball League last week really tightened things up. The Jolly Cleaners upset Frenchys Tavern in a 14-1 thriller. Meanwhile the Circle Bar blanked John's Tavern 7-0.

All of this puts the Circles in first place while the Jollys and Frenchys are tied for second but only a half game out. This league now stacks up as follows: Circles 10-3; Frenchys 9-4, Jolly Cleaners 9-4, Olgas 6-7, Ajax Motors 3-10, and Johns 2-11.

In the Tuesday League the MacDonalds Tavern has it made as their 13-2 win over the B.P.S.C. put them out of reach, with a 12-1 standing and just two games to be played. Roselli's Service drubbed Frankies Amoco 16-7 to continue their second place standing of 9-4.

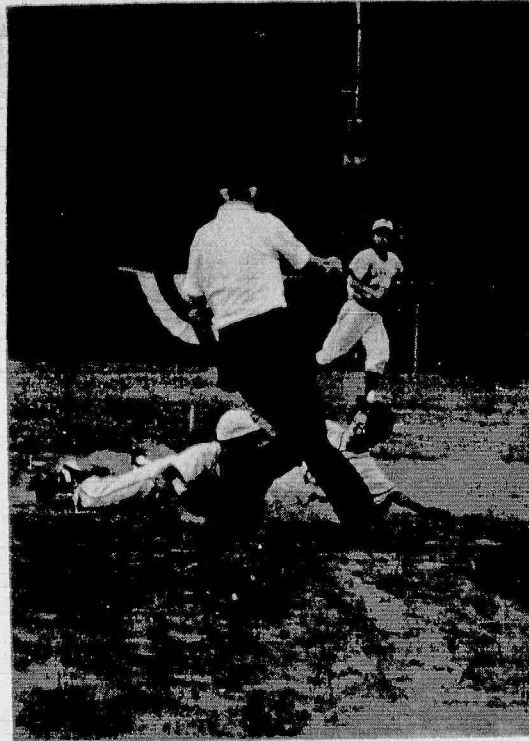

Belleville baseball players showed great promise of turning into fine high school sports prospects (see today's Sport's Corner). The errors were apparently the result of the tremendous pressure placed on the boys in this championship game and weren't indicative of the fine glove work displayed by the youngsters this season.

Still left on the Little League schedule is the World Series which at press time had no definite date set. The big series will pair the Lions Club of the National League against the Colony Club of the American loop, at the Michael V. Marotti Field.

Seniors Bop Nutley Nine; Seek More Competition

Cosgrove Spins Nifty Two-Hitter As Stars Put Down Nutley, 6-1

The Belleville Senior League All-Stars tasted their first victory last Saturday as they put together some nifty pitching, steady fielding and power hitting in downing the Nutley All-Stars 6-1.

Tom Cosgrove spun a two-hitter while striking out six Nutley batters. Through the seven inning game, he allowed only one walk and but two balls hit to the outfield. Mixing his pitches up beautifully he had the Nutley batters off balance throughout the game. The lone Nutley run came in the sixth inning on an error, stolen base and a run producing single. Other than that, only one Nutley batter was able to reach second base as Tom was in control all the way.

The Belleville squad got off to a roaring start as leadoff batter Vince Turturiello boomed a line drive homerun on the third pitch of the game. His shot set the stage for a day that saw but six hits from the Belleville squad, but three of them were for extra bases.

In the third inning, Ron Borgo led off with a solid two base hit which was promptly followed by a walk to pitcher Cosgrove. With two on and none down, catcher Phil Cuzzi ripped a liner over third that was still heading north as he crossed home plate. His three run homer put the score at 4-0.

Leading off in the fifth, Cosgrove gained first base by means of being hit by a pitch. His day was marked with free passes to first as he walked twice and was hit twice to round out his near perfect day. Cuzzi followed with a single to left, his second hit of the day. Following a double steal attempt which produced only an out at third on a bang-bang play, Bob Diquattro made his way on through a Nutley error and Joe Troise walked to load the bases. Ken Stein promptly singled sharply up the middle driving in the last two Belleville runs.

The Belleville squad will meet this same Nutley team again at the Belleville field to finish out the home and home series with Nutley. Other games with neighboring towns are being sought in the hope that this team can be kept in action.

The first New Jersey Junior Football Camp enters its final two weeks Monday with potential area grid stars between the ages of nine and fourteen still registering to get in on the action.

Playground Softball Is Swinging

Dempsey, Mark DiGiacomo, and Steven Sheldon. The final score was 23-18.

A hot potato champ was named at the end of the week — David "Baby Bing" DiGiacomo. Robert Sheldon remains the checker champ of the Rec. Ray Branca remains the nokhockey champ, while Vin Torturelli reigned as pingpong champ.

A unique pet show was held during the week. This pet show was held with plush animals. It was unusual but it was enjoyable.

Softball games seem to be the topic of conversation at No. 4 playground. The Boys Junior League suffered its first defeat in a 12 inning battle. Joe DiGiovanni, hitting 3 for 5 against school No. 3 dominated the batters' box. Mike DeJoseph pinch hit a single which brought in a tying run. The team pulled itself together to defeat Fairway. Mark Venerio contributed to the victory with his two hits. Mike Dondarski hit a triple to drive in the winning run. Volleyball has been a favorite at No. 4 playground. It seems this is their first outdoor net and the boys and girls of all ages join in the games that result in exciting finishes.

Another new game has gained popularity. It is called OUT punch ball. Valerie Olivio has become an excellent player beating many of the boys. At the end of the day the last game is called the "Playground Four Death Match."

At No. 2 playground the children demonstrated their creativity in various ways. One way was constructing doll furniture from empty spools, popsicles sticks, small cardboard boxes, fabric remnants, toothpicks and corrugated cardboard. Last week the main feature was a tie-dying party. Everyone brought a T shirt from home and selected red, blue, or purple dye and achieved a variety of designs by knotting the shirts or by gathering the shirts in different places and tying them with elastic bands to create a ring effect. The playground became a jungle of multi colored shirts hanging in the sunlight to dry. The week ended in an ice pop party.

At Fairway playground, a Hawaiian Luau changed the playground scene to a Wai-Ki-Ki scene. The children designed and made their own costumes and took part in the Luau games.

A contest was held for the most original costume with Donna Dellasso as the first place winner and Donna Matturi as the second place winner. For the boys, Rocco Cuzzo took first place and Wayne Kellenbence was the second place winner. Free ice cream was given to the four winners. Watermelon was enjoyed by all the contestants.

Leather handicrafts have been a big hit at Fairway. The children have been involved in making arm bands. The members of the boys' softball team had a barbecue in celebration of their first victories. Mark Cosenza, Rocco Cuzzo, Tommy DeBonis, Jimmy DeBonis, Mike and Kenny Guiliano, Frank Arneo, Sal Freda, Mark Castio, Wayne Kellenbence, Paul Deming and Tommy Smith could have been seen at the barbecue devouring hot dogs and hamburgers.

Yankee Baseball Top Star Set For Palisades Park

Danny Cater, whose batting is so timely that his hits are almost "catered to order" and Lindy McDaniel, who has become baseball's best relief pitcher, will put on a Yankee Baseball Party for boys and girls at Palisades Amusement Park, New Jersey on Friday, August 7th at 11 A.M.

The party, at which Yankee broadcaster Frank Messer will be master of ceremonies, is another in a series of on-location events with star players, sponsored by Getty Oil Company service dealers.

Buy Poultry; It's Economical And Delicious

Poultry always seems to be one of our most economical foods to serve. Maybe after you've returned from vacation this will be just the thing to buy.

When buying poultry look for an inspection sticker and grade mark. This shows that the poultry has been inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture. The inspection mark is a circle with wording signifying that the poultry has been inspected. This means that the chicken is wholesome, truthfully labeled and has been processed in a sanitary manner.

The shield shape mark is the official grade for poultry. It tells the quality of the bird. U. S. Grades for poultry are A, B, or C.

The following tips on poultry will help you to serve the best possible quality to your family. Keep frozen poultry hard frozen until it is time to thaw it, then cook it promptly.

Use fresh chilled poultry with one or two days of purchase.

If you have left-over poultry, separate stuffing from meat and refrigerate both, covered, in separate containers.

The following recipes are sure to become family pleasers all year round.

CHICKEN PAPRIKASH

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 frying chicken (3 1/2 lbs.)
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 tablespoons paprika
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (13 3/4 oz.) chicken broth
- 2 cups (1 pint) dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1 pkg (8 oz.) medium noodles, cooked and drained

Melt butter in large fry pan. Sauté chicken pieces until lightly brown. Remove chicken pieces from pan, add onion to pan drippings. Blend in flour, paprika, salt and pepper. Add chicken broth and cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Stir in sour cream and Worcestershire sauce. Mix half of sauce with noodles and pour into shallow 3 quart casserole. Arrange chicken pieces on noodles. Spoon remaining sauce over chicken pieces. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees F. about one hour, or until chicken is tender and noodles hot and bubbly. Makes six servings.

CHICKEN HUNTER'S STYLE

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, 2 1/2 to 3 lbs. cut up
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup butter, margarine or cooking fat
- 1 cup tomatoes
- 2 medium onions, sliced
- 1 green pepper, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 bay leaf
- 4 sprigs parsley
- 1/2 cup tomato juice
- 6 mushrooms
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Coat chicken pieces with the flour and salt mixed together. Brown chicken in butter, margarine or cooking fat, turning pieces frequently to brown evenly, 15 to 20 minutes. Reduce heat. Then add remaining ingredients except the mushrooms and lemon juice. Cover and cook over low heat until thickest pieces of chicken are fork-tender, about 25 to 30 minutes. Add mushrooms and lemon juice and cook until blended into sauce and heated thoroughly, about 5 minutes. Remove parsley and bay leaf before serving. Total cooking time: about 45 minutes. Makes four servings.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION — Mrs. Paula DeFresco of 90 Glandale Street, Nutley was honored recently at a party commemorating her 82nd birthday tendered by her children July 11 at the Belleville Amvets Hall. Mrs. DeFresco was born in Italy July 12, 1888 and came to the United States in 1900. She was married in 1906 to Dominic DeFresco who passed away in 1964 at the age of 84. The couple originally settled in New York before moving to Belleville in 1910. For the past six years, Mrs. DeFresco has been a resident of Nutley and lives with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Stabile. ## Good Gardeners Insects Cause Black Sooty Mold On Plants, Awnings, Patios Etc.

Late in July and early August is a good time to buy or transplant your flower garden.

This will give them time to become reestablished before winter, says John J. Kupcho, County Agricultural Agent of Essex County.

Iris are easy to grow and require a minimum of care. They will tolerate poor soil as long as there is full sunshine on the garden. Iris are also very drought-resistant, which is a real asset in dry summer.

The German, or bearded, iris need a well-drained location. The beardless types, such as Japanese and Siberian iris, grow well in moist soil along a pond or stream.

Plant your iris with the thick underground stem, or rhizome, partly exposed on the soil surface. New roots will soon grow from the underside of these rhizomes.

In dividing older iris clumps, each "fan" of leaves with attached rhizome will form a new plant. It will usually take these plants about two years to flower. Larger clumps with several "fans" of leaves will flower next year.

The black "sooty-like" material you see on plants, awnings, garden furniture and patios is a fungus called sooty mold, says John J. Kupcho, county Agricultural Agent of Essex County.

The condition can become serious when there are a lot of bugs and little or no rain. There has been a big buildup of aphids and other insects in many of our shade trees. These insects excrete droppings or honeydew as a result of their feeding, explains Mr. Kupcho.

The honeydew is an excellent growing medium or food source for the particular fungi called sooty molds.

So, anywhere you have a tree shading smaller bushes, garden furniture or a patio, you have insect honeydew and this is what the mold is growing in.

In most seasons we have occasional rains to dilute or wash away the insect droppings. With little or no rain, the sooty mold builds up to quite a problem.

What to do? Have a good arborist identify the insects causing the problem, and spray to control them. Or just relax and enjoy the warm weather knowing that sooty mold is not a disease that is hurting your plants.

Self-satisfied is not necessarily self-righteous.

Trees, Shrubs Wilt In First Hot Spell

Warm, dry weather can have a noticeable effect on ornamental trees and shrubs, says John J. Kupcho, County Agricultural Agent of Essex County.

Forsythia, dogwood, lilac, and other shallow-rooted plants show signs of wilting early in a hot, dry spell. The leaves of the willow, tulip popular and other drought-susceptible trees are among the first to turn yellow and drop.

Mr. Kupcho's advice is to thoroughly soak the trees and shrubs that were planted this past year about once a week unless a good rain comes in the meantime.

Rodino Hails Passage
Of Bill for Safe Streets

Rep. Peter W. Rodino has hailed House passage on June 30 of legislation to amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, terming the bill "a major improvement to our law enforcement assistance program."

The New Jersey legislator, who is ranking member of the House Judiciary Committee
which developed the original act, noted that the bill authorizes $650 million for fiscal year 1971, more than double the amount available in the previous year.
Financial aid under the bill's authorization would rise to $1 billion for fiscal year 1972
and $1.5 billion in fiscal year 1973.

"In enacting the Safe Streets Act two years ago," Rodino stated, "we fully recognized that the crimes which most concern all Americans are local in nature and properly the responsibility of local and state law enforcement agencies."

"Homicide, robbery, rape
and aggravated assault menace that spreads through every street and every alley in every neighborhood, forcing people to determine their activities not by choice or desirability but by fear. These pervasive street crimes have,
in effect, severely limited the lives of our citizens, and particularly those who live in our cities."

Rodino explained that the act provides desperately needed financial assistance to local and state police to help control the street crime that is of such immediate and terrifying concern to everyone.

"In New Jersey," he noted,
"a small action grant - $860,000 - made possible
several promising programs, including a narcotics education project and a project to improve the response time of police to radio calls. It also enabled the state police to hold a unique school on organized crime."

"A large portion of the initial year's funds went to implement Project ALERT -
a portable radio system
reserved for emergency use and operating on the same frequency regardless of location. I was pleased to learn that an additional $100,000 discretionary grant has been approved, for the year beginning July 1, to expand the project to keep pace with the changing pattern and nature of civil disorders."

"This legislation," Rodino added, "is urgently needed to make law enforcement aid

more directly responsive to the needs of high crime areas, and should help to eradicate the menace of street crime that has resulted in a nation of terrified individuals scuttling in fear between work and home, and living behind locks and bars."

Rep. Rodino also announced that he is conducting an intensive campaign to urge that prompt action be taken both by the United States Congress and by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to impose the strongest possible controls on countries which fail to take appropriate steps to curb the illegal production and flow of opium, heroin, cocaine and morphine.

Rodino, who is the dean of the New Jersey delegation, has written to Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, urging that committee to give prompt consideration to a bill introduced by Rodino that directs the President to suspend economic and military assistance to any country which fails to take appropriate steps to prevent narcotic drugs produced in that country from entering the United States unlawfully.

"It is outrageous," Rodino stated, "that we are financially assisting some countries, which, despite our help, do not curb the illegal production of opium and other narcotics. Turkey alone, a country which is receiving a $40 million development loan, now grows 80 per cent of the illegal opium eventually smuggled into the United States."

To further emphasize the urgency of the problem created by the international drug traffic, Rodino has joined with Rep. Emanuel Celler, who is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee
and dean of the House of Representatives, in sending a letter to all members of the House apprising them of the contents of the proposed bill
and asking for their support.
Rodino and Celler anticipate that the proposal will be endorsed by a large number of members of congress from both parties.

Realizing that Congress
alone cannot completely stop illegal drug traffic, Rodino, who in addition to being a member of congress is also vice chairman of the NATO
North Atlantic Assembly's
Scientific and Technical Committee, has sent a cable to that committee urging that the drug problem be placed on its agenda and given a high priority. With respect to the role of the North Atlantic

Assembly, Rodino stated:

"To the extent that narcotic addiction has become a national epidemic in the United States, it is undermining not only our domestic society, but also the well-being and security of all of our allies. As a result, I will do all in my power to call the seriousness of his situation to the attention of my colleagues in the NATO Assembly and to urge all of the NATO countries to join in an intensive campaign against the illegal drug traffic."

Today's films require very little talent or script.

Hurricane Season:
How To Prepare

Deputy Director J. Morgan
Van Hise of the New Jersey
State Division of Civil Defense and Disaster Control today issued an annual reminder to New Jersey residents to prepare for the hurricane season. He noted that most of the hurricanes that seriously affect the Atlantic Seaboard are born
during the months of August,
September and October.

The State CD Division
works closely with the Environmental Science
Services Administration (ESSA), the Federal agency responsible for the tracking of hurricanes, tornadoes and other severe weather conditions, to relay
information to the public
when a hurricane threatens
New Jersey.

Through its own Statewide
communications network, plus supporting
communications systems, Civil Defense has the capability of rapidly getting emergency information to all 21 counties and 567
municipalities and to the news media.

In addition to these standard communications facilities, Civil Defense in cooperation with the New Jersey Broadcasters Association, can activate its Emergency Weather Network.
Nearly all of the State's commercial radio stations participate in this network which would receive information from the Weather Bureau in Atlantic City via a radio station in that city.

Van Hise said a limited amount of booklets called "Hurricane Precautions", produced by the Division of

'Environmental Pollution'
Set For Saturday Night
Staff members of Washington University's Center for the Biology of Natural Systems will discuss
"Environmental Pollution"
on A TIME TO SPEAK THIS Saturday (3:30 - 4:) in color on WCBN-TV, Channel 2.

Dr. Barry Commoner, the Center's director, will lead the three-man discussion of the institution's efforts in defining abuses to the environment and developing appropriate countermeasures.

A TIME TO SPEAK is produced by KMOX-TV St.
Louis in cooperation with Washington University. It is that station's contribution to the CBS Owned stations'
Community Affairs Program
Exchange.

Essex Talent Expo Set This Saturday

The 1970 Essex County Talent Expo will be held in Vincent Methodist Hall at 1 p.m. this Saturday.

About 50 contestants from 13 to 18 years of age from throughout the county will compete in this first step to the state finals. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend and cheer their favorite entrant on to the next plateau.

Upsala Theater Show Tonight

James Goldman's "The Lion in Winter" will open a run at Upsala College's professional Carriage House Theatre tonight.

Performances also will be given on August 7, 8, 12, 13, 14 and 15. The play is under the direction of Upsala Professor Robert Marcuzzo.

The play is the fourth of the summer season. The season will close with "The Waltz of the Toreadors" by Jean Anouilh. Performances will be given on Aug. 20, 21, 22, 26, 27, 28, and 29.

host the festivities as the second in a series of youth activities this summer. Mike Paolino will coordinate the event, assisted by Vic Malanga, Mike Viola, Joe Thor, Dave Cooper, Larry Pearson and other Jaycees.

Tony Vincent, radio personality with station WFOU, will be master of ceremonies. Besides spinning records Vincent is also associated with a recording studio in Bloomfield.

Winners of the Saturday contest will proceed to the regional contest, with the ultimate goal being the state finals at the Garden State Arts Center Sept. 19. Last year one winner and one runner-up started in the Essex County contest.

The young talent will appear in seven categories: classical instrumental, classical vocal, popular instrumental, popular vocal, vocal group, vocal instrumental group, and dance.

A qualified panel of judges will evaluate the young performers in each category. Judging will be based on four areas: technique, material, effectiveness and delivery.

Russian Dancers Coming To N.J.

When the exciting Moiseyev Dance Company from Moscow makes its appearance at New Jersey's Garden State Arts Center for the week beginning September 8, three members of the Moiseyev family will be there in connection with the performances.

The Company, the world's acknowledged leader in the field of folk dance, is on its fourth tour of North America during which it will appear in 20 cities under the aegis of S. Hurok.

Igor Aleksandrovich Moiseyev, founder and director of the company, will be very much in evidence. He

Jayne P. Morgan Opening Tomorrow At Meadowbrook

Jayne P. Morgan brings her songs to the Meadowbrook tomorrow and Saturday. Showtime is 10 p.m. both evenings and doors open for dinner starting at 7 o'clock.

The following weekend will feature country and western music with Waylon Jennings.

The August 21-22 weekend presentation will highlight Buddy Rich's Orchestra in concert with two shows at 10 and 11:30 p.m.

Television Is Helpful For Child

Movies and television programs can stimulate a child's interest, imagination, and curiosity. These experiences increase his information about and understanding of his world.

The characters that are portrayed also serve as models for the child's behavior. A child may learn new words, imitate a pattern of speech, or see behavior which he may decide is an appropriate response in a particular situation.

Children become emotionally involved in what they see. Thus they experience, to some degree, the fear, the joy, the humor, and the sorrow, of the characters.

The outcomes of a single viewing are numerous, and the cumulative outcomes over a period of months and years are even more so. Concerned parents should give attention to the types of programs and movies children see and to the amount of time spent in this activity.

Sharing these experiences with the children, even listening while working in an adjoining room, makes it possible to discuss how the child has interpreted what he saw.

Science fiction may be the means through which a child is prompted to ask, "Is it really possible?" On the negative side, frequent viewing of some types of programs leads children to find "robbers" in the basement, and often, to express fear for their safety.

Television and movies can provide positive and pleasurable learning experiences when a parent guides the children's selections.

Shelly Berman Set For Steel Pier Show

George A. Hamid's fabulous showplace — The Atlantic City Steel Pier — will be a haven for talent oriented patrons and performers during the week of August 9-15.

These special days will see an array of stars headed by the incomparable Shelley Berman. This comic extraordinaire will make the Music Hall Theatre ring with mirth and song as only Shelley Berman can.

Anyone who has seen Shelley on the Johnny Carson show or Ed Sullivan will appreciate how Berman literally becomes a man of the whole theatre in addition to being funny.

An extra added feature in the Music Hall Theatre, along with Shelley Berman, will be terrific singing trio, The Kane Sisters.

One-half mile at sea, in the Steel Pier's Golden Dome Ballroom, Woody Herman and his orchestra will swing to the sway of the ocean as listeners sway to the swing of musical magic, Herman style.

The reason Woody swings on and on is because he insists on having a young, exciting band that knows what's happening today. The Herman touch accomplishes this without giving up the sound and style that has made Woody Herman a

State Is Leading The Nation In Infectious Syphilis

Citing current statistics which show New Jersey leading the nation in an upsurge of infectious syphilis, the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association urges that all health professions and appropriate governmental agencies work together to combat the menace.

"Emergency action in the form of venereal disease control programs is essential in view of the latest upswing," said Isadore Singer, NJPHA president.

Singer revealed the results of a survey for the fiscal year ended June 30 conducted by the American Social Health Association which shows New Jersey with a 55.3 percent over 1969-70.

legend in the field of big band music for 30 years.

The Golden Dome Ballroom will also play host to Jam Factory, a unique rock group with something to say.

Jazz, country, rock, pop, hard funky sounds and soft lyric passages are all presented with conviction. The only clasp is chromatic.

The High Diving Horse, Water Thrill Circus, Ed Hurst Dance Mixer with Eddie Nixon, Tony Grant Children's Theatre, two family type motion pictures, exhibits and fun houses are all included in the one low admission to the Steel Pier.

An extra attraction in the pier lobby is the actual Gemini VII space craft, flown over five million miles in space by Astronauts James A. Lovell, Jr. and Frank Borman. The Gemini VII is on loan from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

No Outer Space Men, Just Meteor Shower

On Wednesday evening, August 12, if the skies are dark and clear, make sure you are sitting outside, underneath the romantic heavens. But don't succumb to sentimental thoughts—stay alert. You probably won't see angels or communicate with men from outer space, but you just might view the Perseid Meteor Shower.

That's the word from Patrick J. White of 144 Mountain Avenue, Warren Township, director of the Sperry Observatory at Union College, Cranford.

On August 12, under dark and clear sky conditions, as many as 50 meteors per hour could be observed, Mr. White said. This is unusual—the normal nightly average is seven per hour.

White pointed out that meteors or shooting stars are very small, solid particles moving in orbit around the sun. These objects become visible through intense heating when they chance to

Musical Course At Upsala

Upsala College has inaugurated a unique private instruction course, called "Performance," for students with musical experience.

Dr. William Deguire, chairman of the college's fine arts department, said the course is unique because the students will be able to avail themselves of the services of some of the best professional musicians in New York and New Jersey and earn credits for their instruction.

"The metropolitan area has the most fantastic market of first rate musicians in the world and we at Upsala feel our students should have an opportunity to study with them and earn credits for their work," Dr. Deguire stated. "No college or university could possibly include all this talent on its faculty."

Your Weekly Horoscope

August 6 through August 12

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Peak week facing you Ari. Spiritually you may experience several epiphanies. If so, ponder well before you act. Study maps carefully. Make important telephone calls. Get letters on way that may mean money. Stress could be maximum. Flex your intellectual muscles.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Do not be led astray by inane flattery in week ahead, Taurus my love. The one who whispers it has only mischief in mind. The nefarious type. Of course old Olga understands you Taurians, and your desire to give in to desire. But just this once, pull in your horns and back off. Let ya be gored.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): It will be talk, talk, talk, in week ahead, Gem. But then, Gem is big on rhetoric. Just be sure in week ahead that you really have something of import to say, for there will be one listening who could help you considerably. Careerwise. And otherwise.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Brief moments of insight for Olga's Moonchildren in week ahead. In fact, it is quite possible that you begin a psychic journey which could lead you thru many tunnels and down several lonely byways. Roam freely and without fear. Much is to be learned.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Did you mind old Olga last week, Leo lover? Or did you ram around in the Sun and get yourself all tucked out? If you are in good shape, you will want to take advantage of offer which will be forthcoming before fifth day. On the other hand, if you're not up to snuff, you would be wise to "pass." Offer too nice to miff, and will be available again. Soon. Could involve a Gem or Libra.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Olga hopes that Virg made new contact last week. If events didn't dovetail, perhaps the week coming up will be more exciting. Of course, Virg must help too. Like being on the scene. Where the drama of life is constantly happening. No fair hiding in the shadows. Last day of week ideal for getting money matters organized. Double-check check book.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Spontaneous word from attractive person sets events in motion which just could tide Libra over for the rest of the summer. Listen carefully. Last three days of week are for getting your own way concerning most important matter. By hook, Or by crook. Hopefully by hook.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Rather decent week coming up Scorp. Not that you necessarily deserve it, you understand, but the old Heavens simply work that way. Romance and social life will be most rewarding during first part of week. As week wanes money tends to take over, and you should hear from one who is in position to do you a great deal of good financially. Now, howzat for a future?

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): In spite of your enthusiasm for new idea in week ahead, Sag, you will be the only one around who will be able to assume a critical stance. Associates will be annoyed at first, but before the week is over they will be muttering in their beer: "Thank Heaven for Sag." Last two days of week good ones for getting helter-skelter plans organized.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Emotionally trying week facing you, Cap. But you will live thru it. Your ability to weather almost any storm is one of your outstanding characteristics. "Screw your courage to the sticking place" and all will work out for the best. Honestly, Olga doesn't kid around. Especially not with Cap.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Last day of last week leave you all undone, Aquarius baby? Well, if you didn't jump out of a basement window and stub your toe, then maybe week ahead will be more promising. Promising of what, you want to know? Well, that will be more-or-less up to Aquarius. Possibilities are unlimited. You just may arrange a financial coup and pull it off with great derring-do. Why not give it a whirl?

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Good grief, Pisces, next seven days will be most important. Do not allow desire to dally around in the Sun keep you from most important tasks. Especially those of a legal nature. As week wanes, one close to you may present you with a rose. Watch out for the thorn.

Earl Wild Set To Appear In Concert

Earl Wild will appear as guest pianist with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra in an all-Gershwin program on August 26 and 29 at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel. Both concerts will be directed by Henry Lewis, the symphony's music director.

The performance on August 26, a Wednesday, will begin at 8:30 p.m. and the August 29 concert, a Saturday, is scheduled for 9 p.m.

Wild will play Gershwin's "Piano Concerto in F" and "Rhapsody in Blue" with the orchestra. Also on the evening's program is the composer's lively work, "American in Paris," and music from "Porgy and Bess."

Strongly identified in the music world as one of the foremost interpreters of Gershwin, Wild has appeared with every major orchestra on both sides of the Atlantic, performed before five American presidents and recorded a vast repertoire of Romantic piano literature.

Apart from his accomplishment as a pianist, Wild is also a composer of orchestral works and musical scores for television. After a solo recital in New York City, the New York Times critic wrote: "You never heard such cheering in your life. A stunning display of piano playing in a grand manner."

Two other well-known soloists will appear on the program with Wild, Veronica Tyler, a leading soprano with the New York City Opera, and William Warfield, a baritone of international fame and popularity. They will sing selections from "Porgy and Bess," and will be accompanied by the 110-voice Monmouth Civic Chorus. During the evenings' performances — including the orchestra, chorus and soloists, there will be as many as 215 artists on stage.

The August 26 and 29 concerts are part of the Garden State Arts Center classical subscription series. Tickets for either concert may be obtained by calling the box office at 264-9200.
