Gilda LaVecchia, are happy to find out. Raymond was one of the prize winners during the School Seven Halloween Party for Scouts held last Monday. Other photos from the party will be in next week's Times.

Bellboys Seeking Fourth

The Bellboys travel to Irvington Saturday hoping to secure their fourth victory against one loss. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Last Saturday the Bellboys thoroughly outclassed Passaic, 28-6 at the Indians' stadium. Combining a well-balanced and powerful attack with a stingy defense, the Belleville eleven was too much for a Passaic team which fell to its fourth consecutive loss.

Probably the biggest question mark at this point in the season is the Bellboy backfield, which has been one of the most publicized in the school's history.

Injuries have eaten into the once invincible backfield combo of Ricky Caruso, Doug Brown, Mark Bradley and Joe Lotruglio. Lotruglio pulled a ligament in his arm against Nutley, rebounded last Saturday, only to be sidelined again, this time with a contusion above his left knee. The junior QB is expected to miss the next two games and should be spelled by sophomore Phil Bruno and senior Joe Papisidero.

School Officials Answer Open Buildings Request

The Belleville Board of Education released a statement this week saying it would cooperate with the Town Recreation Department in providing school space for evening dances for local youth. The statement was prompted by an article in last week's Times in which Mayor Ken Smith said he would ask the School Board to provide space for dance activities.

In the School Board's release to the Times, however, it took issue with what it said were "erroneous implications" in the Mayor's remarks at last week's Commission meeting. In those remarks, Smith said in part: "We will try and get the Board of Education to open these buildings (schools). They are owned by the town and should be used by our children."

Speaking for the School

Board, President Rocco Saletta discussed the Mayor's statement, which he hinted was "buck-passing." Saletta also issued a long list of school

Pharmacologist Set To Lecture Teachers For Drug Workshop

The second in a series of six drug abuse workshops for Belleville teachers is scheduled this Tuesday from 1-3 p.m. at the senior high school.

The series is designed to enable Belleville to meet a recent state mandate that all school systems provide drug abuse classes beginning January.

Belleville has designed a three-part program to meet the mandate, under the direction of program chairman Herman Wische and Michael Rosamilia. Wische is athletic and health director for Belleville schools while Rosamilia is assistant superintendent of schools.

The program consists of the workshop series for teachers; attendance by eight local teachers and administrators at drug seminars throughout the state and the incorporation of drug instruction in the junior and senior high school health programs.

The workshops are geared to provide teachers with an awareness of drug abuse so they will recognize the mental and physical signs of a child with a drug problem or a potential problem, and to make the teacher a source of advice for youths seeking information about drugs.

Courses dealing with drug abuse will be taught in both the senior and junior high school in January by teachers who have been attending special seminars across the state.

The workshop series for all teachers in the junior and senior high schools was arranged by Rosamilia and Wische. It began last Tuesday with "The Role of Education," which featured several speakers who discussed the place drug instruction has in school education. Principal speaker was Dr. Malcolm Rainey, assistant superintendent of schools for Verona, who was chosen by the state Department of Education to

Await Artist's Drawing

The only thing preventing introduction of a proposed million-dollar recreation center to the people of Belleville is an artist's drawing of the facility, according to Mayor Ken Smith.

Smith, who is Acting Director of Parks and Public Property, says as soon as he receives a drawing of the proposed center from architect Michael Trotta, he will call a public meeting to discuss the proposals.

"We're also waiting for some plans to be completed," the Mayor told The Times, "so that we will know exactly how much this center would cost."

The Mayor appointed a Recreation Committee in the beginning of the summer to formulate proposals for a comprehensive center for construction on land adjacent to Municipal Stadium. That committee, which is headed by Mrs. Marilyn Casciano of 277 New Street, is making final preparations of its proposals in anticipation of the town-wide meeting.

The Mayor said that "recreation in Belleville at this time is very imperative. There are no places for our youth to go at night. There can be so many things planned for them with no cost if we had a recreation center, and there is capable and sufficient manpower in the Recreation Department to man such a project."

For Monday Night

Consumer Bureau Listed On Agenda

An ordinance creating a department of consumer protection in Belleville is scheduled for introduction at Monday night's Commission meeting by Mayor Ken Smith.

The Mayor said he is introducing the ordinance in response to "many complaints I've received about people being overcharged and being the victims of false advertising."

Smith said the ordinance would create the consumer protection bureau and provide a schedule of fines and regulations for the consumer's protection. The Mayor indicated the ordinance was being modeled on a similar one in operation in Nutley.

According to Mayor Smith, the new department will not bring any additional cost to the taxpayer. Smith indicated the new department would fall under the jurisdiction of Belleville's Superintendent of Weights and Measures, Joseph Donnelly, without any additional increment in salary.

If passed by the Commission, the law would give the new department four basic powers: the right to bring offenders to Belleville Municipal Court; the right to set standards (with the approval of the Municipal judge); the right to conduct hearings, and the power to issue subpoenas and render oaths of affirmation.

Using the Nutley ordinance as a standard, the penalties for violation of the department's standards would be a fine not exceeding $500; imprisonment not exceeding 90 days, or both.

Liquor Ban Removed For General Election; Registration At 16,964

Belleville residents will be able to buy liquor in town during the Nov. 3 General Election for the first time since 1933.

A recent decision by the director of the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission repealed a 1933 state law banning sale of liquor on Election Days, and left the question of sale to individual municipal bodies.

With no local ordinance on the books to prevent sale, the bars and liquor stores will be open for business as usual during Election Day.

Not every town or city however, will offer alcohol to its citizens on Election Day. Newark and Nutley, to name two, have ordinances prohibiting sale and will not allow their bars and liquor stores to open.

There will be several other towns in the area, however, which will join Belleville in allowing alcoholic consumption. Montclair, Kearny and North Arlington have indicated sale will be permitted on Election Day, while Bloomfield and Lyndhurst town officials are expected to decide on the matter by the end of the month.

The original motive behind a state wide ban on liquor during elections was the fear that drinking might produce some strange results at the polls. Some people would have you believe that people vote in pretty strange ways during elections anyway, but be that as it may, Belleville voters will be able to frequent the bars and buy liquor at the stores if they choose November 3.

According to Town Clerk Eugene Barnett, 16,964 residents of Belleville have registered to vote, though not

Villa Capri Owner Set For Courtroom Battle

By Phil White

Belleville officials will be watching an Essex County suit closely next week involving the Villa Capri and 17 officials in neighboring Nutley.

Angelo Nardone, owner of the Villa which is situated on Franklin Avenue at the Nutley-Belleville line, has charged Nutley officials with a conspiracy to injure his coffee-house business.

A similar suit alleging Belleville officials also engaged in a conspiracy, is likely to be filed.

Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth, Nutley Finance Commissioner William Jerneck and Police Chief Francis T. Buel are among the officials being summoned to N.J. Superior Court.

Nutley Town Attorney Anthony Drollas told The Times he expects the trial to run several days because of the large number of witnesses.

Charges of conspiracy leveled by the owner of the Villa Capri against 17 town officials will be heard next week in New Jersey Superior Court.

Town Attorney Anthony T. Drollas expects the trial to run several days, "perhaps more than a week," as a long line of witnesses and defendants are called to the Newark courtroom.

The trial begins Monday morning and will consider the Villa's contention that local officials "conspired to harm" Angelo Nardone who owns the coffee-house at 4 Franklin Avenue on the Nutley-Belleville border.

Nardone's suit is based on a long series of events going back seven years, almost to the day, when Nutley police raided a Halloween party at the Villa, hauled in more than 30 costumed guests and arrested Nardone for serving alcoholic beverages. The Villa has never had a liquor license.

Like many other local convictions since 1963, Nardone appealed the Halloween "guilty verdict" to higher courts and won reversals. His arrests were based on alleged building, electrical and health code violations.

High courts also forced Nutley to renew the Villa's restaurant license which had

Smith Named Director Of Massive Convention

Mayor Ken Smith is making preparations to rent every room in Atlantic City for a five day period.

Unbelievable as that may sound, the Mayor finds himself in that position as Director General for the 1974 Convention for the Imperial Council of the Shrine of North America.

The Mayor anticipates he will make arrangements to rent 13,000 rooms, to house 80,000 shriners, for what will amount to the largest single convention ever held. The Shriners will rent every room in every hotel in the city, and will reserve Atlantic City's Convention Hall—the largest in the world—for five consecutive days.

In addition, as director of preparations for the massive convention, Smith, with a staff of 150 Shriners, will arrange for two, four-hour parades, and the renting of 200 cars from General Motors for Shriner Imperial Officers. The Mayor will also make arrangements for a 200 band contest, two large banquets for 2,000 people each, and two evenings of entertainment with live name-bands and shows at Convention Hall.

Having to rent the entire City four years in advance is not an unusual practice, Smith says. "When I spoke to Atlantic City officials they told me there are reservations to the year 2,000 A.D."

Shriner officials expect this convention to be the largest of the organizations annual affairs.

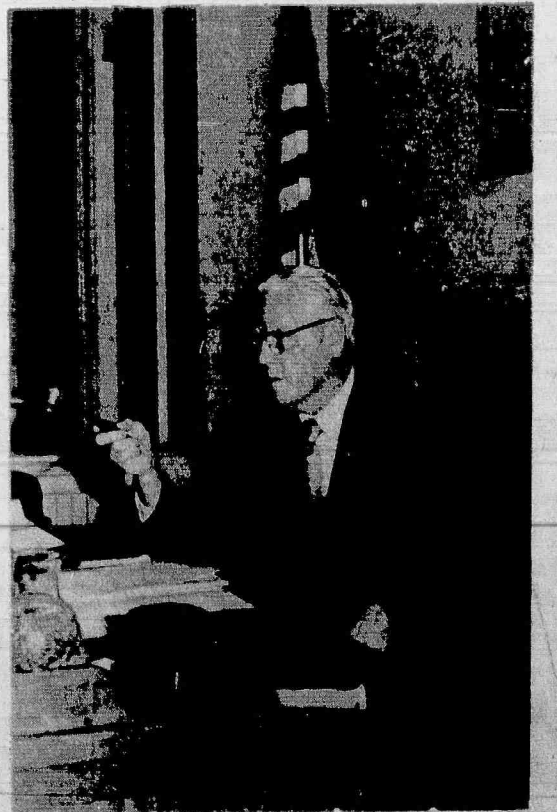

Mayor Smith, a Shriner since 1948, was tabbed for the honor by Jacob Wingarter of West Orange, who will be the Imperial Potentate of the National Shrine in 1973-74, the highest post in the organization. Smith was Potentate of the Salaam Temple in Livingston, with 8,000 members, and has also served the million-member national organization as a Deputy Imperial Marshall.

Smith has attended every convention since joining the organization. Last summer the Mayor and his wife took the family trailer and trekked to the Shriner Convention in Indianapolis, which was attended by 35,000 members.

The purpose of the Shrine is to maintain the 23 Shrine hospitals across the nation including 20 for crippled children and three for children who have suffered burns. All the hospitals service children free of charge.

MAYOR KEN SMITH directs the course of a recent Commission meeting. The Mayor will need all his directorial skills as he goes about renting every room in Atlantic City for the 1974 Shriners convention. Smith is in charge of arranging the entire convention.

facilities which are open for recreation during the year. In his statement, Saletta said:

"In response to the article in last week's Times, Mayor Smith said he would try to get the Board of Education to open the school buildings because they are owned by the town and should be used by our children.

"Here again, I want to set the record straight. The Board of Education, elected by the citizens of this community, is composed of well-educated, knowledgeable people who don't have to be reminded by anyone, least of all the Mayor (who should know better), that the schools belong to the taxpayers.

"Now that the Mayor has taken it upon himself to be the head of the Public Safety Department and the Recreation Department, he should have discussed the matter with Bob Cook, the superintendent of recreation in our town. Mr. Cook would have told the Mayor that our schools are being used for all of his recreation programs. Our schools, playgrounds and Clearman Field are used for all sports imaginable. The Board of Education has never turned down any reasonable request from the Town's Recreation Department and never will unless it conflicts with a school function.

"If this town lacks recreational facilities, and every parent in this town is aware of the situation, it is not the fault of your Board of Education.

"The children could have weekly dances. Mayor Smith must request the use of the school; protect the taxpayer's property with police officers and pay the custodians overtime.

"This money comes from the town's Recreation budget, not from the budget which educates your children. Buck-passing is not the solution to this problem. Action will only solve this matter and give our children what they deserve.

"Any resident with questions concerning the schedules of activities in the schools may contact the Business Administrator at School Eight or can come to any open meeting of the Board on the fourth Monday of each month."

Saletta also listed the evening schedules of several of this town's schools.

For School One, the Recreation Department uses the gym for boys and girls basketball on Saturdays; there is a P.T.A. meeting every third Monday; executive Board meetings monthly at the call of the president, and Girl Scouts and second Tuesday, Home and School executive meetings; every Thursday Brownie and Girl Scout meetings; every Wednesday Cub Scouts; every Tuesday Boy Scouts; every Tuesday Brownie Scouts; every Thursday Jr. Girl Scouts; the first Monday, P.T.A. meeting; the fourth Monday, P.T.A. executive board meeting, and every fourth Friday, Cub Scouts.

The list issued by the Board, shows a similar breakdown of activities for School's Seven, Eight, Nine and Ten.

In the Senior High School, each Wednesday there is Men's Gym Night; on Thursday, Senior Boys Basketball League; on Saturday, Boys Basketball Clinic; on Tuesday, and Thursday, Adult School, and monthly meetings of the Belleville Education and Advisory Council, the Craig Fabian Trustees meeting, and the six meetings of the Athletic Council.

In addition, several special events were held at the school, including a music festival, a color guard show, and the Second Annual Cavalcade of Colors. The activities above represent only a partial listing of those submitted by the School Board.

At School Two, the Recreation department uses the boys gym on Wednesday for basketball, and the boys and girls gym for basketball on Saturdays. The Home and School Association of School Two uses the school every third Tuesday.

In School Three, there is girls fencing on Tuesdays; cheerleader practice on Wednesdays; a P.T.A. meeting every first Monday of the month; Executive Board meetings of the P.T.A. every third Monday, and the use of the gym every Thursday by the Cardinal Bells Color Guard.

School Four's activities include Monday girls basketball; Wednesday girls gymnastics; Thursday ladies exercise class; Saturday girls twirling practice; every third Tuesday Home and School Association meetings; every

Belleville Kiwanis To Build Park Beneath Oldest Tree

The men of the Kiwanis Club of Belleville have started work on a Kiwanis Memorial Park, to be located beneath the oldest tree in Belleville, on the corner Smallwood Avenue and Hewitt Street.

The idea came from Commissioner Mary V. Senator, Director of Public Works, who approached a Kiwanis Committee on the matter.

The plan is to surround the outer fringe with Belgian block, with a path of railroad ties on both sides leading up to the tree, which will be boarded by creeping ivy and wood chips. There would also be at least four rock gardens and the possibility of a various colored "K" which is the symbol of Kiwanis.

be trained in drug abuse problems. Also speaking were Mrs. Mary Fawcett of the Belleville Family Service Bureau; Rev. Albert Alsop of Bethany Lutheran Church, and Mrs. Marian Rubin, a social worker assigned to the Belleville School system.

This Tuesday's program will cover the pharmacology of drug abuse, and will feature Dr. Barry Berkowitz, a pharmacologist from Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. of Nutley. Teachers will also be divided into grade levels for group discussions after the lecture.

The third workshop is scheduled Tuesday, Nov. 17, with principal speaker being Joseph Lordi, Essex County Prosecutor. The topic scheduled is "Law and Law Enforcement," and will feature three panelists: Lawrence Schwartz, a local attorney and member of the Board of Education, Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight, and a representative from the Essex County Sheriff's Office.

The following Tuesday, Nov. 24, the topic will be "The Drug Scene," and will deal with the social, psychological and physical effects of drug use. Principal speaker will be Dr. Edwin Albano, State Medical Examiner. Dec. 1, the topic will be "Treatment of Drug Problems," and will feature Brendon Sexton, a director of Encounter, a center for the treatment of drug addicts in New York City. Sexton will introduce addicts to address the teachers.

The final workshop for teachers is planned Tuesday, Dec. 8, with Dr. Harold Feldman, a practicing psychiatrist from Livingston, as principal speaker. Also planned that day is a panel of local speakers, including Dr. Robert Winston, a psychiatrist and the supervisor of Special Education in Belleville; Raymond Smith, BHS principal; Austin MacArthur, principal of School Three, and Herman Knuppel, director of student personnel services at the high school. These panelists will discuss case studies they have had contact with.

Joining Wische and Rosamilla on the planning committee for the workshop are Ralph Correll, a teacher in the senior high school, Ray Smith, and Seymour Grossman, principal of the Junior High School.

Request Before County Board

Mayor Seeks Belleville Ave. Off-Street Parking

Mayor Ken Smith has asked for off-street parking facilities to be built by the Essex County Park Commission along Belleville Avenue and Joralemon Street.

The Mayor said he was seeking the new parking sites to alleviate problems caused by athletic activities in Branch Brook Park. According to the Mayor, who is acting director of Parks and Public Property, the Recreation Department schedules up to six softball games a night at the park, which in most instances involves over 100 men.

Last week Mayor Smith received a communication from the Park Commission saying it was considering building off-street parking sites along Belleville Avenue, but indicated it was skeptical about any such facilities off Joralemon Street.

In that communication, the County Park Commission said in part that "We of the staff have for quite some time been studying the possibility, desirability and feasibility of constructing off street parking facilities to serve Belleville and Branch Brook Park."

"The immediate area in question, Mayor Smith, has been included in our overall studies. It appears reasonably feasible that we may be able to construct limited off-street parking in the area, which shall be required additionally through the conversion of the building for Senior Citizen use.

"We must take care to prevent the creation of a new and more serious traffic hazard for entrance and exit onto Belleville Avenue. The problem of hazard could be lessened immediately through a control of speed which has increased significantly with all may drink. Barnett revealed that approximately 100 residents between 18-21 have registered under the new Federal law lowering the voting age. These youths will not actually vote until the Supreme Court rules on the validity of the new law.

Of that total of 16,964, Ward I shows registration of 8,564, while Ward II shows 8,400. The overall figure shows a slight decrease from the 17,805 registered for last year's General Election. Barnett told the Times that the slight decrease is normal because "more people turn out for the Gubernatorial election."

Barnett also said that any resident having questions about the Election may call his office at Town Hall, 759-9100.

Experts look into the question of why we live; average citizens might attend to the "how we live" problem.

the siding of Belleville Avenue by the County.

"The second request pertaining to the area of the golf course off Joralemon Street is a different story. This is the site that we have planned for use as a playground area to serve the apartment complex in that immediate area. We have no children's youth playground area situated conveniently to that district of the municipality. We would therefore recommend against any conversion of that property for parking purposes."

A Great Decision Ahead

Voters of Essex County will be confronted with an awesome decision on Election Day, Tuesday, November 3.

At stake in the county is control of the court house, direction of the sheriff's office and administration of the county clerk's office.

Three freeholder seats are being contested. The Republicans are running two incumbents, Freeholders Alan Augenblick of South Orange and Bill Clark of Livingston. The third candidate is former Nutley Commissioner Carl Orechio, oldest member of our family.

The justifiable claim of the Republican candidates for freeholder is that they represent proven experience and integrity in government. The Democrat opponents have not contested these claims. By and large the Democrat freeholder candidates are saying "elect us and we will give you Democrat administration of county government."

In these days of severe economic problems and crushing tax burdens the voters' best interests lie in the election of experienced public officials.

On the basis of who can best serve the people of our county we recommend for county freeholder the re-election of Alan Augenblick, Bill Clark and the election of Carl Orechio.

For sheriff we endorse the re-election bid of incumbent Ralph D'Ambola.

Despite political roadblocks placed in his way D'Ambola has been able to update and upgrade our sheriff's department that formerly served as a political refuge for the Democrat party faithful. D'Ambola has removed politics from the operation of the sheriff's office. He has organized a special squad to combat the spreading drug problem. D'Ambola's opponent has offered no constructive plans to improve upon the operation of the sheriff's office under D'Ambola. A continuation of D'Ambola's administration of the sheriff's department is clearly a requirement of good government.

The county clerk's office has been occupied for the past ten years by likeable, friendly, Nicholas Caputo, a Democrat.

We think the office of county clerk could use a change and the Republicans are offering Belleville City Commissioner Vincent Strumolo as their candidate.

Strumolo is a veteran public official, also having served under the old council-manic form of government. Strumolo's knowledge of government will serve him well in an office which has very little control over the spending of taxpayers' money. The duties and responsibilities of the office of county clerk are clearly spelled out in state laws. The clerk has precious little area to exercise personal judgment in the conduct of the office.

We think Strumolo, young and capable, will provide the new broom to sweep clean poor management procedures tied to an ancient past.

Mayor Lindsay A Phoney?

Mayor John Lindsay this week endorsed Democrat Arthur J. Goldberg for Governor of New York.

Lindsay ascribed his action to the need for new leadership at the state level to maintain and broaden liberal political policies.

By indirection Lindsay accused Republican Governor Rockefeller of being "anchored to the past." Lindsay called upon the election of Goldberg to resist "an ominous political trend to the right."

All these stands were taken by Lindsay in the name of "conscience."

Governor Rockefeller, enjoying a long-standing international reputation of being America's most forward-looking liberal commented upon the Lindsay action as follows, "For a man who made the seconding speech for Agnew in Miami to speak of conscience...."

We think Lindsay is a political phoney and a professional liberal who probably would be to the right of Goldwater were he a resident of Mississippi or Alabama.

Rockefeller has been a good Governor for New York State and his record clearly indicates no other Governor in the history of New York State has done more for the City of New York than has Rockefeller.

From where we sit on this side of the Hudson River there isn't a candidate running for Governor of New York today who has anywhere near the experience and knowledge to run the great State of New York as has Rockefeller. We can't vote for Rocky but we are pulling and praying for him.

Tavern Owners Present Petition On Beverage Sale

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

Excitement in Belleville High School basketball had been rare in past years, but suddenly everyone was talking about Bellboy cage fortunes. The reason for all the fuss was one man: Herman ("Jitty") Wische. The high school athletic director agreed to fill the vacancy created when Paul Szem resigned unexpectedly as head coach.

John Robinson Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Baker of 209 New Street, was selected as one of America's Outstanding Athletes for 1969. John's name, along with a biographical sketch and his numerous athletic achievements, were to appear in the 1969 edition of the annual biographical compilation of Outstanding College Athletes of America.

Miss Veronica Rempuscheski, daughter of Mrs. John Rempuscheski of 24 Hilton Street, Belleville, had been given the opportunity of appearing in an educational film produced by the Eli Lilly Company entitled "Dialysis Procedures." Miss Rempuscheski, a nurse who had received her training in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, was assistant head nurse in the Dialysis Unit of the Los Angeles County University of Southern California Medical Center.

Ralph M. Risoli, in-again, out-again Town Hall employee, was named by the State Civil Service as a temporary registrar of vital statistics pending an open competition examination for the post. Risoli, frequently embroiled in jurisdictional disputes over the post, was a senior clerk in the Belleville Registrar's office at an annual salary of $4,800.

Disgruntled tavern owners were clamoring for a new ordinance that would prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages to the public anywhere but at licensed taverns and some ten Belleville service organizations. According to Charles Rossi, president of the Belleville Tavern Association, the group wanted the Town Council to stop issuing "club licenses."

Belleville kids were encouraged to mark up windows for Halloween by the Chamber of Commerce. Joined by the Town Recreation Department, Belleville businessmen were again using their annual "window decorating" contest as a constructive measure toward providing a vandal-free Halloween for the town.

Miss Gail Casale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Casale of 427 Third Avenue, North Newark, came in second in the 1965 Miss Columbus Day beauty pageant at the Robert Treat Hotel.

Ten Years Ago

A public hearing on an ordinance which would force all barbershops to close every Wednesday was scheduled for a commission session. The ordinance had been introduced at a Commission meeting four months previously, when the Commissioners were confronted by the Belleville Master Barber's Association, which favored passage of the proposed law.

A proposal that government provide public transportation in Belleville and other similar suburban cities and towns was being studied by the State Attorney General's office. The proposal had been made by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and was presented in detail to Senator Donal C. Fox by the Chamber's board of directors. Basically, the plan proposed by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce was for a governmental agency to provide needed bus transportation "where private capital refuses to accommodate the needs of the citizens."

Fifteen Years Ago

The Better Schools Committee issued the first of its findings on school and educational matters in Belleville. The Committee came out solidly urging all eligible residents to vote for transfer of town-owned land to the Board of Education. "There have been no capital improvements or additions made on schools 1, 2, 3 and 4 in a generation," the Committee said. "Pupils in several of these schools can boast that portions of their buildings are older than their grandparents."

Contract additions for Schools 3 and 7 were awarded by the Board of Education. The costs, totaling $541,378, and equipment was about $127,000 less than the bond issue that was authorized in the April referendum, according to Mrs. Edward Rochau, president.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Robert C. Gruhin of 352 Washington Avenue, an attorney with offices in Belleville and Jersey City, announced his candidacy for the post of Democratic Assemblyman from Essex County in the November 6 election. Gruhin was the only Belleville candidate on the county ticket from which the county clerk, register, justice of the peace, three freeholders and twelve assemblymen were to be elected.

Plans for the transfer of School 2 pupils to School 10 were blocked when parents of School 2 pupils protested its closing at a meeting of the Board of Education. The protest followed a meeting of parents with members of the Board a week before when they had objected on the grounds that the longer walk to School 10 was a safety hazard for the children, and the closing of School 2 would cause a reduction in real estate values within the school district.

A presidential citation for distinguished service in war transportation was awarded to Norman D. Lauterette, chairman of the local war transportation committee. The award came from Col. J. M. Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, who was directed by President Harry S. Truman to extend the citation to all local transportation directors throughout the country.

Forty Years Ago

Taking the place on the school board of Mrs. Judson R. Stickle, who resigned because of her removal to a residence in Short Hills, was Mrs. Porter F. Sheldon of 221 Jerusalem Street, prominent in affairs of the local Woman's Club and one time teacher in the Newark and New York school systems of domestic science.

Fifty Years Ago

The Columbus Club was defeated by a Poughkeepsie team on Columbia Oval by a score of 3 to 1.

Bernice W. Gibson of Brooklyn spent the weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gibson of Washington Avenue. Mrs. Esther Gibb of Ashbourne, Pennsylvania, was also a guest at the Gibson home.

Announcement was made of the engagement of Mrs. Maude P. Aschenbach of Academy Street and Verner W. Forgie, superintendent of the local post office.

Mayor Tells Her To Get Facts Straight

To The Editor:

Seldom do I answer critics who write letters to the newspaper. However, I do feel that Mrs. Donna Rodano of 60 Walnut Street should get her facts in order before writing a letter to the Editor. It is very easy to criticize when you sit on the outside.

Mrs. Rodano states "Commissioner Senatore and Mayor Smith are running the town" - yet, in the next breath she tells us "Commissioner Strumolo is doing a fine job". In my book that is three Commissioners.

I must say, that I feel the way Mrs. Rodano does, that Commissioner Strumolo is doing a fine job in his department. I also feel that Commissioners Senatore and McGreevy are doing a yeoman job.

Then too, Mrs. Rodano states "Mayor Smith is running two departments". This is not entirely to my choosing. It is the law that in the absence of a Commissioner, the Mayor shall take over that Department. Mrs. Rodano should know it would require three votes to replace Commissioner Cullen - Mayor Smith has only one and cannot replace this position alone. It requires three Commissioners to act on town business and three votes to pass any Town Legislation.

Mayor Kenneth D. Smith

Says Gross Cares About Drug Abuse

To The Editor:

Much is being written these days about the narcotics problem. Questions are being asked about whether penalties for users should be lessened or made more severe. In my opinion, we should enforce those laws already on the books and discourage our youngsters by all means possible. We cannot afford to allow this generation to become a truly "Lost Generation".

The permissive attitude of too many legislators has made it possible for pushers to smuggle heroin and marijuana with impunity. It's time New Jersey sent someone to Washington who is aware of the dangers of the problem, someone who is not afraid to take the steps required to cut off the supply at the source. Nelson Gross, the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, is such a man.

Before beginning his campaign, Mr. Gross made a round the world trip that included stops in Turkey, source of most of the illegal heroin. What he found there leads him to conclude that we should use every possible pressure to make the Turkish Government stop its farmers from growing the poppies from which heroin is made.

Nelson Gross is courageous and knowledgeable in this area that should be of concern to every parent. He's not afraid to give us the stronger laws we need to stop pushers in this country. His opponent even voted to cut in half the penalties for marijuana pushers.

Every concerned parent should vote to send Nelson Gross to the U. S. Senate, where he can fight to protect our children.

Belleville has its share of drug users and pushers. The problem is not any worse than other towns but certainly not any less. For your child's sake become interested.

Says N. Gross Could Shake-Up U.S. Senate

To The Editor:

"The quality of our air today is poor." This is the constant comment of TV weather reports, day after day, in the metropolitan area. What can we do? Equip ourselves and our children with face masks? Possibly. Move further west? The pollution is spreading, not only in the air but in our rivers, lakes and now our oceans are used for dumping grounds.

I've read in the papers that in Cleveland, the pollution in the local river is so bad that they've actually declared that the river is a fire hazard. How long will it be before the same thing happens to our Passaic River?

One answer that makes sense is an idea that came from Nelson Gross, the Republican who is running for the U.S. Senate. He says New Jersey's pollution is getting worse because federal funds are going to states where pollution isn't a great problem. He gave the example of the state of Kansas and said that Kansas has its sewage treatment plants completely up to date, yet the federal government keeps sending more money to Kansas than it sends to New Jersey for water pollution.

We seem to be running out of time. Perhaps a fresh new face with a determination to do something about this mess is needed now. Nelson Gross might well be the man to shake up the Senate and get us some financial aid where it is needed, right here in Belleville.

Yours,
Lillian Ferrara

Death Claims A Man For Whom Life Was So Worth Living

Monday night was PTA night at Nutley's Washington School. These were important occasions in his life for he had a total commitment to his eleven year old son for whom he bore special love.

Monday night also would be the eve of a scheduled visit to his plant by an IBM inspection team, the Tiffany in the field his fledgling corporation serves.

While he joined in the parent-teacher activity at Washington School his devoted wife would be at his East Rutherford plant putting in five hours, working until one in the morning, hanging new, crisp drapes and making certain everything was neatly in place for the arrival of the distinguished visitors on Tuesday.

About a dozen years earlier he founded the company on nothing more than his wife's encouragement, personal ambition, determination, and the confidence of his family and small circle of intimate friends.

Within ten years, overcoming the handicaps of an introverted personality, induced in large measure by a severe speech defect, and keen competition from long established firms of national and international repute, he was acclaimed a phenomenal success by leaders of his industry.

The oldest of his two children, a college freshman, the apple of her daddy's eye, shared his love with her younger brother. He loved them both with equal fervor. His heart matched his six foot two frame, and it was the exclusive property of his intellectual, compassionate wife for whom he bore unbounding adoration.

He was a loyal, family man. Only Sunday, while on a weekend trip with his family, spent in Pennsylvania's beautiful Quaker country, he was boasting of his family relations - how each weekend his brothers would visit with him and engage in family small talk at his beautiful, recently remodeled Nutley home.

So here he was Monday night, a 6' 2" healthy man, one step away from his life's summit - a proud, happy husband and father enjoying a law-abiding maturing family, a wife dedicated to his personal and business success, a prosperous business growing all the time, trusted employees sharing a mutual fondness, a citizen devoted to serving the needs of veterans, their families and survivors, and the recipient of the respect and admiration of his personal family and in-laws. And who would not say that for him, life was worth living.

He was a young man with strong, personal convictions. He didn't have an ounce of meanness in his 200 pounds. His friends would often say this man would not harm a fly.

Tuesday morning he arrived at his office a few minutes behind schedule, anxiously surveying the handwork of his wife's preparations of the night before. Within minutes, his day was done - suddenly at age 50, he was no more - death claimed my brother-in-law Phil - the victim of a coronary.

My niece Kathy, and my nephew Patty, inherit the name and character of a noble man - their father. My courageous sister Mary, inherits the joy and the job of overseeing the continuing education and maturing of her wholesome, God-fearing daughter and a young, loving son for whom only the passage of time will unfold the full impact of growing up without a father.

The experience of widowhood is not new for our world. Girls of less personal strength than my sister have experienced similar tragedy - confronted the elements - and won.

My sister Mary, God granting good health, endowed with the gifts of strong character and family love, will keep her rendezvous with destiny -- a winner.

Choir Charms School 5 Youngsters

Friday Concert

By Beth Fitzgerald

The Belleville High School Choir, under the direction of Dr. Samuel Peck, performed last Friday for the students of school five. The concert featured a girl's quartet, three soloists and a rock group. Accompanying were junior Susan Griwert on piano, and senior Bruce Creditor on piano and clarinet.

The 56-member choir sang such popular tunes as "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head" and Dylan's "Blowin' In The Wind." Seniors Bonnie Allen, Susan Kellenbence, Linda Oliveri and Linda Smith performed, "I Enjoy Being A Girl," and Lee McGinnis sang "Where Have All the Flowers Gone" accompanying herself on folk guitar.

A rock group, "Tight Fit" performed their interpretation of the Jefferson Airplane's "Somebody to Love," and Cream's "Spoonful." The group's lead guitarist, Bill Radom, started playing folk guitar at age 12, and is now more into blues, rock, and jazz. He refuses to define the group's music, simply saying that they play everything they can get their hands on. Sophomore Susan Weaver joined the group about two weeks ago as a vocalist. Theodore Pitera plays drums and Jimmy Serritella is the group's bassist.

Charles Neining sang with "Tight Fit" and is also the group's organist. He has an interesting musical background, having spent the last two years on the Princeton University campus studying with the Columbus Boys' Choir. "Charlie", as he is called, sang Mendelssohn's "Elijah" with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra, and last January toured with the Boys' Choir from mid-Canada east, and from mid-United States east, and south to Canada. He is a sophomore and a member of the Bellaires, a male vocal ensemble also directed by Dr. Peck.

DR. SAMUEL PECK directs the Belleville High School Choir during performance last Friday at School Five.

SINGING A SOLO is Donna Idamarco during concert at School Five. The Belleville High School choir was received enthusiastically by the School Five youngsters.

Belleville High Club For Arts Is Organized

Bookends, a new club devoted to the appreciation of theatre and the arts, has just been organized by Belleville High students. The club's 35 members plan each month to see a film, play, concert, museum, television show, opera or ballet. Each student has chosen one of these areas to research, and the officer will organize each trip. Solomon Adler, a senior, has been elected president of Bookends, and seems to have more than enough enthusiasm to make it work. The success of the club will probably depend on its ability to overcome financial obstacles.

Most of the planned activities cost money, and if they are happening in New York City, transportation costs of a least two dollars per person will have to be considered. "The most important things," says Sol, "will be time, money, and, of course, cooperation."

The club is the brainchild of Mrs. Andrea Schultz, a reading specialist who joined the Belleville High faculty this year. She plans to act only as advisor—the students will be responsible for the club's activities. Other club officers are vice-president Pan Pomerio, Secretary Linda Frazier, and treasurer Cathy Higgins.

Mrs. Shelia McKenna, a former actress, will address Bookends on Tuesday, October 27. The club will see its first show "Hello Dolly" on November 4.

Amabile Team Gets Off Slow At Middletown

By Marc Feldman

John Amabile, former head football coach at Belleville High School, has gotten off to a rough start at his new coaching job at Middletown High. His team has dropped two of its first three games to Matawan and Long Branch with the lone victory over Toms River North.

Amabile inherited an undefeated (9-0) team at Middletown, but most of that team graduated and he had to start from scratch.

In three years of coaching at Belleville, he compiled a composite 12-15 record. His best season was 1969, when Belleville captured six of nine contests including a stunning victory over defending state champ, East Orange.

John Amabile

Monday Contest Brings Comments

The following question was put to some of the spectators at the Belleville-Nutley football game.

"Was it more difficult to come to today's game than Saturday's regular games? In what way? Here are a few of the answers:

Frank Papisidero-43 Heckel Street, Belleville. "No. It was no problem, I just had to detour from the traffic. It didn't take me away from my business because I work midnights."

Pete Cooper-156 Chestnut Street, Nutley. "No. I'm on vacation so it didn't take me away from anything."

Carmine DeMaio-66 Perry Street, Belleville. "No, I didn't find it hard to come. I'm supposed to be working, but I couldn't miss this game!"

Basic Course Over For Greg McElroy

On September 11 Greg J. McElroy of 174 Smallwood Avenue, Belleville, graduated from recruit training at Parris Island, S.C., United States Marine Corps training center. Pvt. McElroy is now stationed at Camp Lejeune for advanced training.

Council through Annette Guardabascio, president of both organizations.

Many of the senior students helped in its preparation. Charlie O'Neil and Jack Scarpelli dumped many truckloads of wood to the site beforehand. Also contributing was Ralph Liloia, Bob Heerbrandt, Brenda Cameron, Patricia Gerard, Patti Tortorello, Angelo Zoppi, Dorothy Jackson, Patricia Ippolito, Charlie Ziegler, Neil Sciacca, Pamela McCoy, and a few others. Some of the students who helped setting the wood and crates was Mark Bradley, Joe Valvano, Ron Muscara and Jerry DePaul.

Cheerleaders and Band members set the atmosphere while Bellboys threw dummies representing the Maroon Raiders made also by the students into the fire. An unusual item thrown in too was a casket painted maroon and grey with a body protruding from it named "Klos", Nutley's star grid player. This was made and contributed by Ralph Liloia and Bob Heerbrandt.

Only an intelligent man has sense enough to recognize his own limitations.

Miss Spatola, Wm. Sutton Exchange Wedding Vows

Mrs. William Sutton-nee Yvonne Spatola

Wedding vows were exchanged September 20 in Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield, by Miss Yvonne Lois Spatola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Spatola of Bloomfield and William Sutton, son of Mrs. Dorothy Sutton of 155 White Oak Terrace.

The Rev. James Heavey of St. Peter's Church, Belleville, performed the ceremony and a reception followed at Thomm's, Newark.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a candlelight satin gown trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls and fashioned with a high beaded neckline, bishop sleeves, A-line skirt and full detachable train.

An Alencon lace Juliet cap trimmed with pearls held her veil and she carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Beverly Spatola of Bloomfield was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Head and Miss Madeline Zazzara of Bloomfield and the groom's sister, Miss Cathie Sutton of Belleville.

The honor attendant was attired in a pink and rose culotte gown with long sleeves and a matching rose cap. The others were dressed in sky blue and royal blue and had royal blue caps. All carried cascades of matching mums.

Information Service Opened By League

Governor William T. Cahill, assisted by Mrs. Robert Klein, president of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey "cut the ribbon" inaugurating the League's Telephone Information Service: TIS, at the new Trenton Information Center, 162 West State Street.

Volunteer League members from all over the state will man the telephones at the League's offices from now until Election Day, November 3, Mondays through Fridays, from 10 a.m. through 4 p.m. TIS supplies nonpartisan voting information for the forthcoming election to any citizen willing to call 746-1465, or, the new Trenton Office, 609-394-3303.

Previous experience shows that most people call about military ballots, absentee ballots for themselves, ill relatives or young people away at college, and for information about candidates. The two proposed constitutional amendments are also expected to evoke explanations.

Model Mystique
by Peter Conlow

I heard a woman on one of those TV talk shows the other night saying that exercise is hard work, and it's just one of those unpleasant things you simply have to do.

Nonsense. Exercise is fun. As a dancer, I know that good feeling you have after a thorough workout. Sure, it's work in a sense, but so is playing tennis, or swimming. It's the kind of work that's fun.

Besides toning the body, exercise clears the mind. I tell the students at our school in Montclair to chase the blues by exercising. It works for me, it works for them, and I'll bet it will work for you.

And it's a safer and smarter way to get rid of a gloomy feeling than taking a pill or going on a shopping spree.

Some exercises are better than others. We teach special routines to our students that not only tone the figure but also make the body limber, leading to graceful movement.

That's important to the model or to any woman who wants to be attractive. It's part of the Model Mystique. You can share in the Model Mystique by calling 783-4030 in Montclair.

Drug Abuse News No. 7

HOW DOES LSD ("ACID") ACT?
ITS "TRIPS" ARE SCARY.

LSD is so powerful that an amount covering a pinhead can turn a person into a monster. It enters the brain and confuses the senses. A sound may appear as a color. A fire seems to be a fragrant flower, so that the user reaches for it or puts his face to it and suffers a severe burn.

A feeling of lightness can influence an LSD user so that he thinks he can fly and he does, right out of the window to his death. He is out of touch with reality. If he has a "good trip," he can recover. But, months later, he can get the LSD effects without taking another dose.

LSD does not improve the personality or increase one's creativity. A "good trip" just gives you some new experiences. A "bad trip" can make you mentally unstable. Your brain might not be able to take it. Keep away from LSD.

The next of these Public Service messages will discuss Marijuana or "Grass."

American Engineering Schools Offer Diversity

American engineering schools most broaden their program offerings and offer a variety of curriculums so that both "practical-minded empiricists" and research-minded young people can find their place in the engineering profession, according to Dr. William Hazell, president of New Jersey's largest engineering school.

In the Fall issue of NCE, Today, an informal quarterly newsletter produced by Newark College of Engineering,

THE AUTUMN BREEZE TURNS THE LEAVES TO GOLD

This beautiful time of year, when plants and trees are starting to change their color, reminds us that from nature have come so many of the wonderful medicines that help us to live longer and healthier lives. We always like to recall our study of Advanced Botany in Pharmacy School where we learned how these life-giving drugs were extracted from their natural environment.

When a new drug comes on the market for safe use we of course read all the available literature, and this always details the source of the product. You would be surprised how many drugs in this age of synthetics and technology still are coming from Mother Earth. We stock them.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Nardone Battles Officials

been revoked for about a year in 1964-65.

Nardone also won acquittal after being convicted of stealing fire wood from the Town Garage in 1966.

In recent years, he has been hauled into Nutley and Belleville Court nearly 50 times on such charges as storing building materials on town-owned property and erecting a fence that was non-conforming to ordinances.

Nardone has always charged that local police were not providing adequate protection at The Villa where windows have frequently been smashed and the building defaced.

As early as July 1965, he told The Sun "town officials are out to get me." After winning a colorful case involving the theft of $15 in firewood that resulted in another acquittal for Nardone in the County Courts in February 1966, Nardone announced he would file suit against the town.

"Now it's time to begin my counterattack," Nardone said after the town's final charge against Nardone had been resolved at that time. "Town officials have ganged up and are out to get me," he said. And James McTague, Jersey City attorney, almost immediately confirmed that papers were being prepared to initiate the Nutley suit.

To be sure, Nardone has lost a few cases, but nothing quite as consequential as those which saw his Villa closed for more than a year.

"They ruined me," Nardone repeated again this week. He says he never was able to regain the business lost through Nutley's closing the Villa. During the past year, he attempted to convert the coffee-house into a private club, a discussion group concerned with the arts.

"But that's not working very well," Nardone said this week.

He's talked for years about making all sorts of physical improvements at the Villa but readily admits his cash supply is low. His tax and water accounts with the town have traditionally run behind scheduled payments.

To save money, Nardone personally walked around Nutley to serve the officials involved with the court subpoena. "I did it myself so I wouldn't have to pay a constable," Nardone said.

The Rev. Edward H. Flannery, consultant to the Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, will speak that evening about the Vatican's "Declaration on the Jews."

Tickets for the lecture are one dollar and may be obtained at the door or contacting Temple B'nai Israel 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Father Flannery has figured prominently in Catholic social thought and action. He is a member of the national board of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; the American Theological Society; a charter member of the academy of Religious and Mental Health of Rhode Island; editorial consultant of the Oliver Tree Press of John XXIII Center of Fordham University, and executive secretary of the Secretariat for Catholic-Jewish Relations of the Bishop's Committee for Ecumenical and Interreligious Affairs, with offices at Seton Hall.

In 1965 Rev. Flannery received the National Brotherhood award and in that same year the award of the Rhode Island unit of American Jewish Committee, the sixth annual Edith Stein Award, the National Catholic Book award, the Jewish War Veteran's award for brotherhood. He was at this time editor of the "Providence Visitor", a diocesan weekly.

Educated at LaSalle Academy, Providence; St.

Charles College, Baltimore, and the Seminaire St. Sulpice, France, Rev. Flannery has translated "An Essay of Christian Philosophy" by Jacques Maritain and "Words of Faith" by Francois Mauriac.

Heavyweights Hitting Leather

In action in the Recreation Heavyweight League the American Legion came roaring back from their defeat at the hands of the Biancardi's to pound out a 33-13 victory over the Devons.

Alan Cervasio tossed a 30 yard pass to John Codomo to put the Legion on the scoreboard first. Then it was Cervasio who went in on a 30 yard quarterback draw.

Joe Panlone was next, going in from ten yards out for another Legion Touchdown in the second half Devons scored

Petite's Passing Paces Jayvees

Two key passes by jayvee quarterback Frank Petite opening the second half of Monday's game against Passaic gave Belleville's underclassmen a 8-6 victory over the Indians at Belleville Stadium.

Passaic had taken off to a six to nothing lead at halftime, but a 70 yard pass play from Petite to Mike Poreco tied the score. Poreco broke four tackles on the score.

Petite added the final two points on a quick jump pass to

Alan Frank, the only only sophomore on the Jayvee team

Gary Falkman, a varsity end and JV fullback had the longest run in the game. Falkman ran 40 yards at the end of the fourth quarter, but was pulled down on the three yard line, and Belleville didn't score.

The JV's now have a 2-0-1 record after beating Passaic and Bayonne and tying against Bloomfield 14-14.

Halbert, Jeanne Austin, Kathy Sheridan and Peggy Buckland. Oh yes, that guy at the end isn't a cheerleader, he's Bob Wing, director of the BHS band, who's a veteran at freezing during halftime.

Best Mark In 5 Years Registered By Harriers

A victory over West Orange in the first of last week's two cross-country meets gave Belleville's harriers their best record in five years at 2-6. The Harriers will face Nutley away on Monday, their fifth away meet in a row.

West Orange was taken 22-33, but when the harriers faced Irvington last Friday, fate was on the other side as the Campers shut out the Bellboys 15-48.

Times for both of the away races were slower than normal times. At West Orange's course in South Mountain Reservation, the entire 2.5 mile trek is made in one lap, which after a quarter mile flat start goes downhill for a mile and curves uphill for a mile and quarter to the homestretch.

At Irvington, a slightly longer course, 2.6 miles, run in four laps with almost no hills at all, seems to be the opposite type of layout. But it had the same effect on Belleville's runners, who are used to the 2.4 mile course in Branch Brook Park run in three laps with quarter mile downhill and uphill stretches.

The Cowboys sent out a rabbit against Belleville but he proved ineffective as Belleville's top five let him take off and passed him in the middle of the race. A rabbit is a runner who takes off at a sprint pace knowing he won't be able to keep the pace, but hoping to tire out the first few runners on the opposing team to weaken them.

John McCarthy and Lou Dalcero paced the Bellboys with times of 14:23 and 14:50 respectively to take first and second as none of the West Orange runners besides the rabbit made any challenge.

Bob Silver came in fourth as the number three Belleville Harrier with a time of 15:17. Ray Horman was two places behind Silver, as the fourth BHS senior took sixth with 15:23. Junior Rich Sulenski finished the Belleville scoring at 15:46 with ninth place. The rabbit placed twelfth, just ahead of BHS soph Bob Brown.

Irvington took the first six places for a shutout, and Belleville only placed three runners in the top ten.

Top runner McCarthy started out too fast and ended up finishing seventh with a time of 14:24. Lou Dalcero was

Valvano-Della Terza

Meet The Bellboys

Joe Valvano

Senior center Joe Valvano has been playing football next to senior right guard Rich Della Terza for four years now, and in that space of time a valuable interior line harmony has developed. There has, however, been one moment which both of them would like to forget.

It was back in their freshman year, when the two hefty linemen were just beginning to learn their trade in high school competition. Della Terza, who normally plays both offensive and defensive guard, was given a chance to play linebacker for the first time.

Now if you know anything about linebackers or would-be hampered the past two games with a pulled hamstring, and head coach Rocco Cafone says he won't be sure whether the powerful senior fullback will be ready until tomorrow.

To complicate matters, Brown's substitute, Rich Ciallella found his debut last week a rough one, pulling his medical collateral ligament which may require a cast.

As it stands, the only healthy starting backs are Caruso and Bradley which wouldn't be a bad status for most teams. Last week Caruso put it all together to rack up three touchdowns, 140 yards rushing and 58 yards on six pass receptions. Bradley has been performing consistently all season, and last week came up with 63 yards on 14 carries. Brown, despite his injury, gained 30 yards on six carries.

Even if the Bellboy backfield in at half-strength, the Campers must still put together an offensive attack against one of the top defensive units in the area.

Saturday, the rugged Bellboy defense was phenomenal, holding Passaic to minus 17 yards on the ground while the Bellboys were piling up a total of 244. Particularly strong were defensive ends Ron Muscara and Gary Falkman who combined for 12 tackles in the limited time Passaic had the ball. Muscara also blocked a punt which he ran back for a touchdown.

Once again the Bellboys committed their share of penalties, to put it mildly, racking up a total 65 as opposed to 36 for Passaic.

Leading the Bellboy defense in statistics was junior defensive end Gary Falkman who registered three solo tackles with five assists. Sophomore linebacker Bob Luongo again turned in a fine effort, with three solos and three assists, and continues to show promise as a tremendous defensive lineman for Belleville's future.

Muscara had three solos and one assist, and was remarkable at keeping the Passaic running game inside. Vito Marcogliese, playing for the injured Ciallella, turned in a good effort with two unassisted tackles and two assists.

The interior lineplay was sparked by big John Atherton, Mike Albertine, Rich Della Terza, Tom Vitiello and Joe Valvano, all of whom are seniors. These defensemen have been working together as a unit since their freshmen year, and given the Bellboys a line which has stopped every opponent on the ground, even Nutley.

Ironically, more Bellboy fans showed up at Passaic's spacious Stadium Saturday than did Indian fans. Braving cold winds, the fans cheered the team on and helped them rebound after that disappointing loss to the Maroon Raiders.

Most Bellboy fans expect the team to breeze through its schedule, but coaches and players are taking them one at a time. Belleville's stiffest test remaining will probably be Garfield, which comes to Municipal Stadium on October 31. The following week, a surprising West Orange team with two victories and one loss to its credit will make the trip to the Stadium. After that, it's Kearny on November 14 and Orange on Thanksgiving, both away. Neither of the last two teams have been very effective against opponents this year.

Irvington boasts 17 lettermen returning from last year's squad, which went 4-5 and was a stubborn loser to Belleville 26-14. The tans' captains include a pair of senior linebackers, Charles Beach and Warren G. Gross. Both are 5-10 and 170 pounds.

Sports Corner

By John McCarthy

Preparation for the biggest crew races of the spring season begins in the fall when the most dedicated of the oarsmen take to the Passaic River to keep themselves in condition for one of the most rigorous sports on the varsity level.

The Poughkeepsie Regatta, the Goodwill Regatta and the National Junior and Senior Eight Championships are all the zenith of the crew season memories when victories come their way, but come win or lose (and there's not too many of the latter) its those tough workouts before the spring season and in the special fall training season that are the most important.

According to Mike Marano, one of the varsity oarsmen last year, these sessions are "good to keep you in shape. Not only in the physical aspects of the sport, but also in the technique. A nine month layoff is long, but if you break it in half, it's okay."

Mike is one of the 20 oarsmen meeting four days a week with Varsity Crew Coach Sam Giuffrida down at the Belleville-Nutley-Kearny boathouse for the fall training which runs September 15 to November 15.

It's Tough Practicing In Fall

The two shells, comprised mostly of sophomores up from the freshman program, face strenuous practices whether the tide on the giant oil slick is in or out.

When the tide is out and the oarsmen can't get the shells in the water to row, they go through two sets of exercises and running. The running amounts to two and a half miles in each set, and the exercises include a total of 75 pushups and other exercises to build up strength in the oarsmen's arms.

When the tide is in the two shells go up to Passaic and back, a total distance of about eight miles along the river.

The first of these shells consist of the varsity and jayvee oarsmen from last year. Mike Marano, Frank Marano, Jim Drexler, and Jack Fersko are the returning lettermen out for fall rowing. Out from the jayvee shell are John Resciniti, Brian Waddell, Tito Sanzarro, Al DeMasi, and Bob Zarra, the coxswain. Six of the varsity lettermen from last year will be returning in the spring, but right now John Atherton and Tom Jones are playing football.

This years varsity will be under the helm of Giuffrida for the first time. Giuffrida has been the JV and frosh coach for a number of years now, and last year his JV shell posted an 11-2 record.

Giuffrida Takes Over For Lally

Giuffrida is taking over for Mike Lally, probably one of the most successful coaches in any BHS sport. Lally's varsity went 7-3 last year, and had compiled a 43-21 record in all his years at Belleville.

Two of the three losses last year came from Nutley and Kearny in the Goodwill Regatta. The oarsmen will tell you that these losses are due to the fact that Belleville was given the lane along the highway. The lane is a slight bit longer because of the turn at the bridge, and is harder to maneuver through because of a cove on the bank. This cove is especially difficult when the tide is coming in as it was in the Regatta.

You'll realize that this is no story about "the one that got away" when the crew men and fans remind you that the Bellboys beat Nutley once before the Regatta in a tri-meet, and beat Kearny twice before the Regatta.

The oarsman will face both Nutley and Kearny in an exhibition race on November 4 on the Passaic. Nutley has its entire varsity shell out for fall crew, and according to some of the Bellboys, "looks strong." Kearny seems to have mostly freshman participating in their fall program.

Its too early to make any predictions, as crew seems to be one of the most unpredictable sports, but former coach Mike Lally had an interesting comment. "They had a 7-3 season last year and it could have been 9-1. Belleville will have six of last year's oarsmen returning, so draw your own conclusions."

A Note On A Late Game Plan

Football Coach Rocco Cafone noted that against Passaic Joe Lotruglio and Phil Bruno were used for mostly short passes. "We didn't want to throw any long passes. In a sense we took Nutley's game plan and put it against Passaic. It's just a shame that we couldn't have known it to use against Nutley."

Joe Has More Than Made Up For It Rich Remembers That Penalty

linebackers like Della Terza, you know they lay awake the night before the games dreaming of running back the big interception for a TD. Della Terza had his chance the very first time out.

Picking off a pass on his own one yard line, Della Terza, who even then was a chunky boy, barreled and rumbled downfield 99 yards for a spectacular touchdown. But as fate would have it, Della Terza's friend, Joe Valvano decided he could best help the touchdown by holding down his man, which is a good tactic except for being illegal.

So Rich Della Terza never got his touchdown. But neither did he hold a grudge against his friend Joe Valvano, and if today the Bellboys are riding the crest of a 3-1 season, a lot of that success has to do with the interior line play of the two seniors, who are playing together now for the fourth year in a row.

Valvano is the bigger of the two, standing 6-0 and weighing 220 pounds, the second largest Bellboy beef (after Big John Atherton at 6-4, 230 pounds).

Della Terza stands 5-10 and weighs a shade under 200 pounds. The senior right guard has been one of the most consistent performers on both offense and defense this season.

Born and raised in Belleville, both boys have been active in this town's recreation sports programs for many years, and are avid sports enthusiasts.

Valvano is a graduate of School Five and the Junior High School, and is the oldest child in the Valvano family. In addition to Joe at home there are two sisters, Christy, 14, and Maryann, 10. To brighten up the faces of Bellboy coaches, there's Joe's kid brother John, who at 13 is already a big fellow tearing up the Little League football program.

Joe himself is a product of that Little League system and has been playing at the center position since he began football at the ripe age of eight. At 17 now, the senior center is already quite a seasoned veteran.

In addition to football,

Valvano played freshman baseball the past few seasons, and was a standout on the JV team last year. He has also become a competent wrestler, recording a 6-0-2 record as a JV last year, including six pins. For the grappler varsity, he was 0-2-1, and lost his match in the districts in a double overtime thriller.

To his credit, Valvano has two varsity football letters as starting center the past two seasons. He missed qualifying for a varsity wrestling letter by one match last season, but figures to be back with fellow-footballer John Atherton trying for the top heavyweight spot.

Valvano has an optimistic outlook for his team, which has believes can go 8-1 this season. "Garfield is the big one," Valvano says. "The rest of our schedule isn't as tough and shouldn't bother us if everybody stays up."

In the future he hopes to attend a state school—hopefully Montclair—and pursue football. For a career he plans to enter the printing field and utilize the four years of training he's received in this field at BHS.

Della Terza attended St. Anthony's School and the Junior High School. Unlike Valvano, however, he is not a product of this town's Little League football system. "I was too big," Della Terza says. "I was always over the weight limit."

Because of this, Della Terza's love for the game sent him out to play what is commonly referred to as "street ball," a rough brand of unorganized tackle, which, if not always safe, does develop some tough instincts in a ball player.

He did, however, play in this town's Little League baseball program, and the Recreation Department's basketball system.

The senior right guard is not the first Della Terza athlete to star on the gridiron for the Bellboys. Rich's oldest brother Anthony, 25, was a speedy halfback for the BHS eleven, and was also a track star. Lou, 21, also was a grid standout, going both ways at tackle. Also in the family is a non-football playing sister, Victoria, 23.

In addition to his football playing, Della Terza has played three years of baseball, batting .320 as a frosh and .353 on the JV squad last year. Like Valvano, he is a two-letter winner in football.

Della Terza considers the Passaic and Bayonne games as his best so far, and like Valvano, admitted he was very disappointed in the big loss to Nutley.

twice, first with Steve Gerard pounding through on a short run and then with Joe Waldemore doing the same. Panlone then put the icing on the cake with a sensational ninety-yard kick off return for one score and a 35 yard intercepted pass for another.

Jolly Cleaners, in the second heavyweight game, served notice that it is a team with championship intentions as it rolled over the very powerful Biancardi's 31-6. The Jolly rampage was opened by Tony Nicosia who went seven yards off tackle for the first score. Next Vic Pasquariello scored on a broken play. This was followed by Joe hitting for another on a Q. B. sneak. Biancardi's first and only score was posted by Vinnie DeNotaris on a twenty yard run. In the second half Larry Maccia and Tim Mallack each punched over Touchdowns for Jollies.

The Middleweight League action saw the Auxiliary Police roll up a 21-6 win over the Vee-Bees. It was a heyday for Ricky Loma who scored two touchdowns for the winners, threw the touchdown pass to Tom LaMin for another and scored all three points after. Mike Sikora drove through from two yards to give the Vee Bees their only score, the point after attempt failed.

In a shutout 29-0 game the Design Graphics romped over the Fountain. A two yard plunge by Doug Jackson started the scoring. Next the alert Graphics caught a Fountain back in the end zone for a safety. Joe Gelpe lofted a beautiful pass to hit Bob Giordano for a 40 yard strike. Another score came by way of a fifty yard punt return by Nick Cancelliere and this was followed by yet another as Daniel Cunard scored the final touchdown.

More spirited competition marked the play in the Lightweight League. Starting with a score on the first play of the game the Kiwanis piled up a 26-6 victory over the Lions. This first score was on a 15 yard pass from Richard Baker to Frank Bialore. Tom DeBonis then scored another Kiwanis touchdown off his left guard. The Lion's single score came in the first half when Harold Scudieri caught a 40 yard pass from Pat Barbore. In the second half the Kiwanis rolled again with scores by Greg Sutton and Frank Della Riva.

It was a 7-6 squeaker as the Elks edged the Varsity Club. After a scoreless first half the Varsity hit first in the second half when Ron Grolmond galloped on a forty yard punt return. The point after attempt failed. Then Bob Freda went in for the Elks on a quarterback sneak. Bob Kittle then made the critical point after for the Elks. This game was distinguished by fine defense by both teams. The Elks went with a 6-3-2 while the Varsity employed a strong 4-4-3.

Recreation Football is played each Sunday afternoon with games starting at 1:30.

Beck's Column

This is the 50th anniversary of radio. Some wild-eyed optimists predicted in 1920 that the time would come when every American family would own a radio. There were many who branded this a ridiculous prediction. Nobody at that time imagined that some day every member of the family would own a radio.

At the beginning, radio seemed to be merely a hobby for technically minded amateurs, but not a product for the public. However, it developed very soon into a flourishing market, in 1921. Then followed a slump in 1922. Many fly by night radio manufacturers sensed a quick dollar and they turned out really bad sets. People listened to the so-called loudspeakers on the outside of stores and turned away, stating: "If that is radio, I don't want it." It did not take long and the product was much improved. First the loudspeaker was separate, of course, but Magnavox came out with a wholly built in set, with better quality of sound than others. Magnavox has never lost this lead in sound reproduction and still today is the leading producer of radio - phonographs.

The greatest drawback with these early radios was the need for batteries. RCA was the first to bring out a kind of adapter to eliminate the batteries. This was not satisfactory, as often new developments are apt to be. Zenith came out with a set in 1926 with "the first commercially produced set to operate on AC current," which was followed by the RCA RADIO LA 17, which they claimed to be "the first real AC receiver using AC tubes." And so it began. We are going to give a little more information on this in a following column.

CARL A. ORECHIO for FREEHOLDER CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

561 FRANKLIN AVENUE • NUTLEY, NEW JERSEY 07110
TELEPHONE: 667-1234

Dear Friend:

Some time has passed since my candidacy for election to the Essex County Board of Freeholders was announced, and I'm afraid that try as I might, I have not been able to contact personally the many friends I would like, to ask for aid in the campaign.

Campaigning on a county-wide basis, I find, is a little different than campaigning for Commissioner. Obviously, you have to cover so much more ground and it just takes a lot more time, money and effort.

If you are one of our friends who has volunteered to help and hasn't been contacted - or a friend who would like to help, please contact my office at 667-4000 or Campaign Headquarters 561 Franklin Avenue, Nutley at 667-1234.

We need your help and would really appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Carl Orechio

P.S. In the interim, I would appreciate your contacting relatives and friends in our Essex County municipalities and asking them to consider casting one of their three freeholder votes for me on Tuesday, November 3. I'm on Line B. Many thanks.

Paid for by Citizens For Orechio.

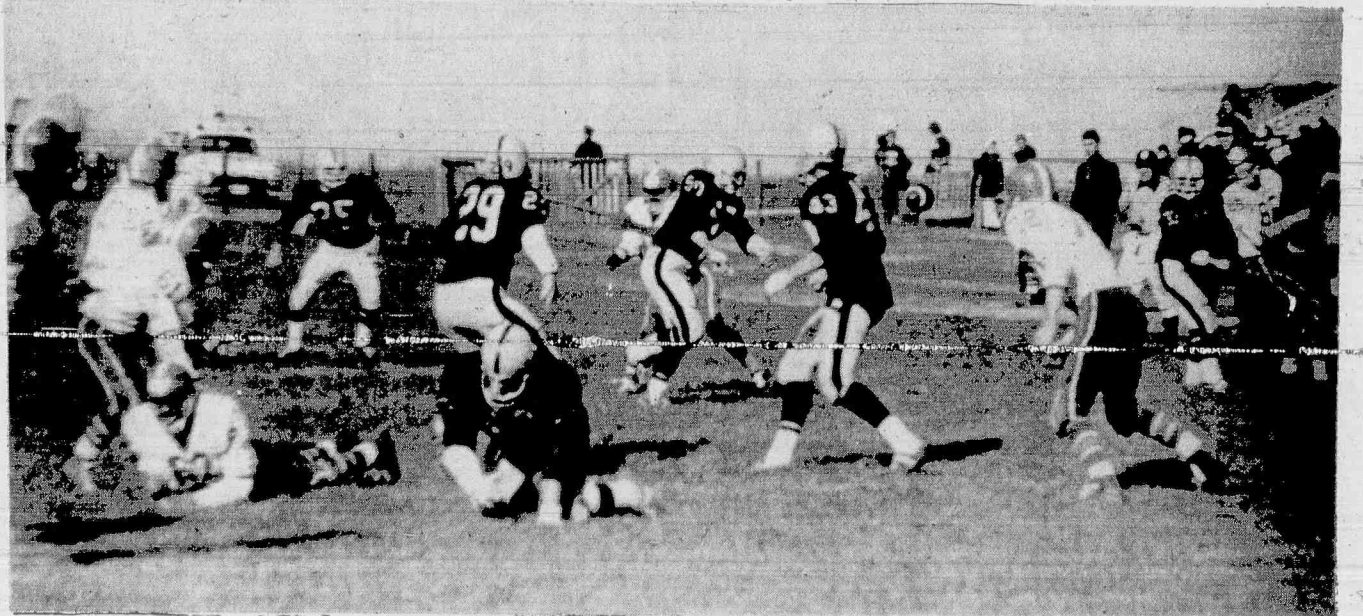

Bellboy Pride Helps Squad Rebound, 28-6

GETTING INSTRUCTIONS from Bellboy coaches in the stands is Ricky Caruso, who listens over the field telephone while keeping an eye on the action. The fleet senior halfback scored three touchdowns, piled up 140 yards on the ground on 31 carries and 58 yards on six pass receptions.

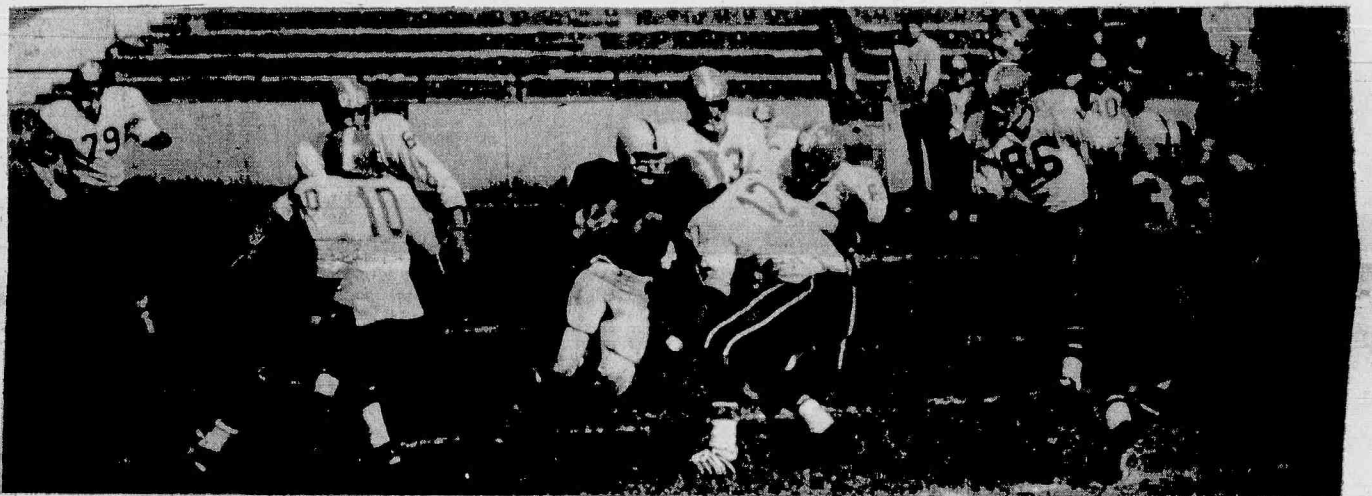

JIM MIELE (25) makes a spectacular play, knocking down a pass from Passaic's Horace Hill in the fourth quarter.

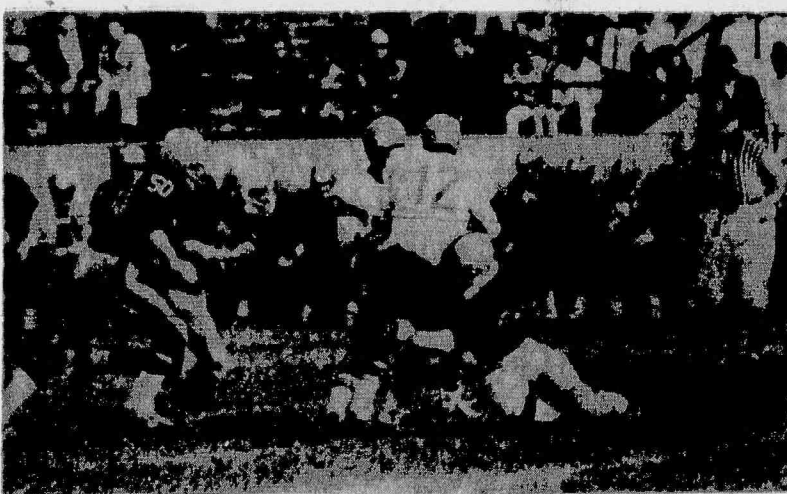

BELLBOY LINEBACKER Bob Luongo (50) bats away the last pass of Passaic's Horace Hill in Saturday's game on a third 12 yard situation late in the last quarter on Passaic's 18 yard line.

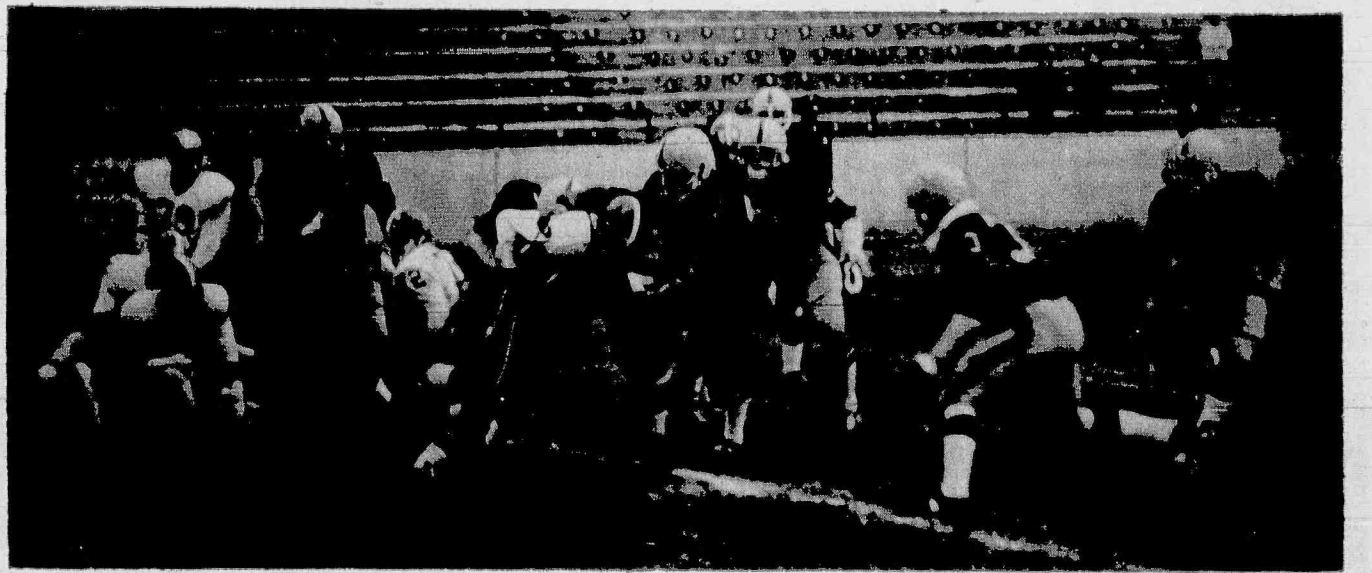

JOE PAPASIDERO'S fancy ballet performance evidently had its effect on Passaic's Ken Slappy on a second quarter pass play.

STAR HALFBACK Ricky Caruso catches a Joe Lotruglio screen pass on next to last play of first half, and finds himself surrounded by Passaic tacklers. The shifty runner managed to squirm his way through for nine yards.

PUTTING THE STOP on Passaic quarterback Horace Hill (12) is junior Bellboy end Gary Falkman (30), who throws Hill for a two yard loss in the second quarter on the Passaic 44 yard line.

MIKE ALBERTINE, in center, pulls down James Ancrum at line of scrimmage as Bob Luongo (50) Gary Falkman (30) and Rich Cialella (31), move in to assist.

A Defenseman's Dream: Muscara Blocks Punt, Then Scores

A DEFENSEMAN'S dream begins, as Bellboy end Ron Muscara (34) gets the jump on Passaic punter Mark Hill (43) on fourth and one on the Passaic 43.

HAVING BLOCKED THE punt, Muscara finds himself along with the ball, with nothing standing between him and payday....

WITH THE BALL safely tucked away, Muscara heads for the goal line as a Passaic runner makes a futile try at the high-flying defenseman, on his way to a dream touchdown.

Knights' Blood Bank, Dance, Are Scheduled

The Belleville Knights of Columbus 835 have scheduled a Blood Bank Friday, October 30, at the K of C Hall. The following evening, the Knights will hold their annual Halloween Barn Dance, also at the K of C Hall, 94 Bridge Street.

The Blood Bank is run in conjunction with the Red Cross, the Belleville Craft-smen's Club and the St. Peter's Holy Name Society. Eugene Barnett, chairman for the Blood Bank, announces donors may contribute from 3:30 to 6 p.m. Barnett reminded residents that after donating to the Essex County Blood Bank, the entire family of the donor is eligible for free blood in the event of future need.

Rec Department Sets Halloween Contest Sites

The Recreation Department has announced the 1970 Halloween costume contests are scheduled on Friday, Oct. 30, at 4 p.m. One contest will be held at the Municipal Stadium and the other at School four if the weather permits.

In case of inclement weather the contest at the Stadium will be held indoors at the Friendly House. Trophies will be awarded to the winners and there will be the traditional lollypops for all participants. Judging will be done by the ladies of the Woman's Club of Belleville. Four winners will be selected at each contest. Originality is the most important consideration in selecting the winners and judges in the past have leaned toward home-made costumes.

September Unemployment Shows All-Time High

Total unemployment in New Jersey was at its highest level for any September since 1958 despite an over-the-month drop in the number of persons unemployed.

Joblessness fell by 19400 from August to a total of 160700 in September, according to preliminary estimates prepared by the Division of Planning and Research of the Department of Labor and Industry. At the same time, the unemployment rate dipped by 0.5 to 5.2 percent of the work force (the highest September rate since 1961).

Drug Addiction Costs Everyone Says Candidate

New Jersey citizens are literally being robbed of more than a quarter of a billion dollars annually by drug addicts in the state who must steal to support their narcotics habit.

Nelson G. Gross, Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate from New Jersey, cited those official government estimates this week in calling for an all-out war on drug smuggling.

"There are an estimated 10,000 drug addicts in New Jersey," said Gross. "Each of those addicts requires $10,000 a year to keep himself supplied with drugs." In order to obtain the money to buy drugs, addicts usually turn to theft, burglary and robbery to raise the money.

"Because of the difficulty in disposing of stolen goods, addicts must steal property whose value is as much as five times more than the cash return they are able to receive," said Gross. "Generally, an addict must steal up to $50,000 worth of property in order to get the $10,000 he needs for drugs."

Gross said the dollar loss is only minor when compared with the social repercussions of the drug problem.

"The real loss to the state is the alienation of a growing segment of our youth," Gross said. "Youth is our most powerful resource, and this is being destroyed by the activities of drug smugglers."

Gross recently returned from Turkey where he checked into what is being done to stop the illegal entire Middle East as well." Gross said the inadequate U.S. overseas drug control program is a legacy of prior administrations in Washington.

"The Democratic leaders of the 1960's almost completely ignored the situation," Gross said. "While the Nixon administration has devoted more money to the program, what we really need is an all-out crash program."

Gross said he favors a three-point plan to stop heroin smuggling into the U.S.:

Increasing the 20 American narcotics agents now deployed world-wide to at least 100.

An international conference, with or without United Nations auspices, to apply pressure against nations growing opium.

A program to eradicate opium cultivation world-wide.

Gross said that Turkey has laws against opium smuggling, but these laws are often ignored.

NEW YORK TIMES EDITORIAL PAGE, OCT. 19

... and Congressional Choices

Tenth District: Incumbent Peter Rodino, Jr., (Dem.) is a good man with a reasonably good voting record who has failed completely to speak out against the intolerable corruption in Newark politics. We favor his replacement by Griffith H. Jones, a moderate Republican who has worked with Urban Coalition, favors Congressional reforms and gives the district a chance to register a protest against a pervasive political corruption.

Broke Probation

Addict, 19 Jailed By Nutley Judge

Failing to comply with rules of probation resulted in a six-month penitentiary sentence for a 19-year-old Belleville man at Nutley Criminal Court, October 14.

Arthur J. Cacella of 576 Union Avenue pleaded guilty to the charge. He was represented at the hearing by attorney Donald Friedman of the Public Defender's office.

Judge Edwin J.C. Joerg ordered Cacella to jail after probation officer Richard Talty told the court the defendant failed to report for scheduled visits to his office in September of this year.

"He also made no payments on his fine," Talty added.

Cacella was fined $100 by the Nutley Court in September of 1969 after being found guilty of illegal narcotics use.

"We are asking that his probation be revoked," Talty concluded.

Attorney Friedman admitted that Cacella was "a hard-core drug user" but added that a jail term wouldn't benefit him.

"He needs to be placed in a program that can help his problem," Friedman said. "The defendant reverted back to drugs in September which is why he didn't report. But he knows better now."

Judge Joerg levied two six-month jail terms, one for each infraction of probation, and ordered Cacella to remain in the Essex County Penitentiary Drug Program.

Nutley Man Caught In Belleville Raid

A Nutley young man, after pleading guilty to illegal possession of a hypodermic needle, was fined $250 and given a six-month suspended jail term by Judge Edward Abramson at Belleville Criminal Court, October 15.

Allen Nappi of 44 Jefferson Street also pleaded guilty to charges of possession of a legend drug and resisting arrest.

The defendant was arrested by Detective Edward Malla of the Essex County Sheriff's Department during a drug raid on a Brighton Street, Belleville, home in late July.

Judge Abramson suspended a 30-day jail term on the resisting arrest charge and levied a six-month suspended penitentiary stay and two years probation of the possession of a legend drug offense.

An optimist is usually an individual who feels good.

DRUG SMUGGLING — Nelson G. Gross is shown a field of opium poppies in remote area of Turkey by a farmer. Gross, Republican nominee for the United States Senate, visited Turkey to learn about U.S. and Turkish efforts to control the import of heroin to America. Eighty per cent of all illicit heroin in the U.S. comes from Turkey.

Your Weekly Horoscope

October 22 through October 28

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be forthright and free with daily associates in week ahead, Ari. Knock off the neurotic nonsense. Get yourself together. Tho you are very clever with words, in week coming up you would do well to talk less and rely more on gesture to get your point across, as far as loved one is concerned. In the final shuffle, talk is a pale substitute for action.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A great deal of movement is again on the agenda, Taurus baby. And this will no doubt help relieve some of your inner tensions. At least it will rechannel them. Short-term plans can be brought to fruition thru charm rather than reason. Tho it rangles you to be thought of as a mere "sex object," still, you ARE a charmer. So why not use your charm to best advantage? Waste not, want not.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Linking is key verb for days ahead, Gem. Perhaps linking of personalities. Linking will result in warmth and because of it. Only good can come. No one, no matter how cool they may appear to be, is untouchable. Least of all Gem. Last three days of week are favorable for new encounters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): How did last week go, Moonchild? Did you discover that interest had increased? You did? Good. Now it is time to go back to the old grind. Sorry, but you can't have cherries 'jubilant' day-in and day-out, you know. One must sing for one's supper from time-to-time, and lately you haven't even tried to hum. So no grumbling. Just put your shoulder to the wheel, and keep your eyes on the stars, and your feet on the ground.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Leo loves love and drama. And in week ahead both will be highlighted. You, of course, will play the royal role of ruler. Your subject will be both interesting and interested. Could be one of most important weeks of the year. Lead on, Your Highness!

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Listen and learn, Virg. You may encounter one of unusual wisdom sometime during coming week. Put prejudice on the shelf. Wisdom seldom comes from expected sources. As you listen, in silence, allow old, outmoded images to fade. They only prevent you from REALLY listening. Last day of week excellent for getting in touch with old chum. You make the first move.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Another good week for Olga's Libras: Affairs of state and of the heart should prove both interesting and highly satisfactory. Message from unexpected source should be forthcoming before fifth day. Hidden message in Olga's advice to Virg.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Hope Scorp managed to muddle thru last week. Because week coming up is another heller. Full of unexpected riddles which MUST be solved. And soon. Just for survival. Now stop looking so depressed. You want to know, don't you? Contrary to the cliché, ignorance is NOT bliss. At least not so far as Scorp is concerned. So keep your head clear in week ahead. You'll need every bit of acumen you can muster.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Desire for freedom will be strong, Saj. Freedom, perhaps, from the burden of bad memories or painful experiences. This desire is not to be confused with complete freedom. Which can only be found in complete solitude. You, Saj, do not need too much aloneness. You are too much the social being. Seek those with whom you are most comfortable in week ahead. Don't force any issues. Let events flow naturally. Perhaps then week will end on a small note of joy.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 21): Make NO legal moves during coming week, Cap, unless you consult best authority. Then don't be too quick to follow advice. Postpone any action of this nature until later date. Beg off any way possible. Legitimate or otherwise.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Quiet week ahead for Aquarius. One for physical as well as mental and emotional recharging. Take advantage of every chance to be alone. You, perhaps, need to re-evaluate your long-term goals. And this can scarcely be done while surrounded by the multitudes, now can it?

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Things and events should start looking up as far as Pisces is concerned, in week ahead. One whom you hold most dear could seek solace from another person. Don't let this happen. You be on hand, baby. Like available. Twenty-four hour service will do. Last two days of week tensions diminish and wine and roses are highlighted.

Next Concert Of Symphony On Television

Channel 13, Newark's educational TV station, will televise the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra youth concert at Symphony Hall next Tuesday. The concert will be directed and narrated by Henry Lewis, the Symphony's Music Director, and will begin at 10 a.m.

Channel 13 presents a weekly two-hour community affairs program entitled "Here and Now" and has selected the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra youth concert as the program to be shown on the same evening at 8:30. Aside from a tape of the musical program, the cameras will pick up the reactions of students and teachers to Lewis' unique presentation of the music.

GUYS — Larry Mach (left), as Harry the Horse, and Frank McCormick, (right) as Big Jule, listen to Roy Imhoff, as Nathan Detroit, explain his problems in "Guys and Dolls." Play by the Nutley Little Theatre is set for November 6-7.

Drug Scene Coming Here November 5

The off-Broadway production of "The Concept" will be presented by the original cast in a special Nutley presentation set for Sunday, Nov., 8, at 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The production deals with narcotics and its participants are all former addicts. The off-Broadway cast is being brought to Nutley by the municipal Drug Abuse Advisory Committee, an agency established by the Board of Commissioners more than a year ago.

Tickets for the November 8 presentation are being distributed by all Nutley pharmacies and may also be obtained at Nutley Town Hall.

nation, but we have eight months of winter. We long for the sunshine." When he found the sun in California, he settled down and became a citizen.

When speaking of "The Sound of Music," Erik beams. Aside from Baroness von Trapp's compliment, he feels he identifies with the role, since his own nation was taken over by the Nazis while he was just entering manhood. He knows what it is like to have your nationality stripped away and your identity denied. But, remembering the show's happiness, he attempts to describe it.

"It's children, it's freedom, it's love, and—" (he pauses to think of the happiest thing he knows) "it's sunshine!"

'South Pacific' Opening Nov. 5 at Meadowbrook

The chances are that Ezio Pinza would change the present day cultural scene of those under thirty, were he appearing today as Emile de Becque in "South Pacific." Twenty years ago as the considerably matured French planter (Pinza was in his late fifties), the opera star displaced young juvenile actors as the current romantic heart-throb.

Actually, the romantic attraction of graying-haired men for young females is not an uncommon phenomenon in theatrical history. Stage plays such as "Accent on Youth," "The Professors' Love Story," "Daddy-Long-Legs" etc., all told the story of young girl's enthusiastically surrendering their hands in marriage to men old enough to be their fathers.

At the Meadowbrook

Theatre Restaurant in Cedar Grove, Jean Pierre Aumont, as de Becque, will bring his French charm to bear on nurse Nellie Forbush in a presentation of "South Pacific" which opens November 5.

The history of "South Pacific" is a record of superlatives. The authors, Richard Rodgers, who wrote the music and Oscar Hammerstein II, who wrote the lyrics and was co-author of the book, were at the peak of their reputations with such successes as "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." Joshua Logan, co-producer, director and collaborator with Hammerstein on the libretto, was one of the top craftsmen. The original story, James Michener's "Tales of the South Pacific," was a Pulitzer Prize winner.

COUPLE — Barbara Meister, as Maria, and Erik Silju, as Captain George von Trapp, continue to charm audiences as "The Sound of Music" rings the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn. The Rodgers and Hammerstein hit runs through November 1.

'The Sound Of Music' Playing At Paper Mill

In all the years of "The Sound of Music", there have been many portrayals of Captain George von Trapp. In the opinion of many — including the original Baroness Maria von Trapp — Erik Silju, now starring in the hit musical at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn, does one of the best jobs ever in the role.

Sil-who? It is unfortunate that this swarthy Scandinavian is not better known. The girls swoon when they discover that Erik Silju (rhymes with "till you") is the Erik who is the best thing from Scandinavia since the blonde.

"It's been six years since I made that commercial," Erik says, brushing his wavy locks from his forehead. "Yet people still remember me. Mothers run up and introduce me to their children whom they've named 'Erik' with a 'k' simply because of the commercial."

A boys' choir member at age 10 and an actor for some time now, he is amused at people who "know" him only for the TV commercial and say, "Oh, and does he sing, too?"

Erik Silju does sing, too. He came to the United States from Norway as a soloist in the singing Boys of Norway. His bass voice tells you of his fascination with this country when he arrived.

"I had read about and wanted to come to America. Norway is a very western

Belleville Man Gets Probation In Local Court

A Belleville man was placed on two years probation with a 60 day suspended sentence by Judge Edward Abromson during Municipal Court on October 14.

Mario Nardone of 287 Hornblower Avenue received the judgement during the Wednesday night court session.

Nardone's case originally was sent to the Essex County Grand Jury by Judge Abromson on a breaking and entry charge, which is an indictable offense. The Jury, however, found no grounds for indictment and sent the case back to local court to be heard as a disorderly persons offense.
