May Try Commission

Saletta Bows From Race For School Board Seat

Board of Education President Rocco Saletta will not seek a third term.

"I feel that I have accomplished what I wanted to in my six years on the Board," Saletta told the Times last week.

In making the announcement, the retiring Board President hinted strongly that he would throw his hat into the ring for the May Commission election.

Mrs. Norma McCool, meanwhile, indicated yesterday she was leaning strongly toward running for a fourth term, but that "personal factors might force me to withdraw at the last moment."

Two residents did announce their candidacies, bringing the total of committed competitors to three. Last week Board member Lawrence Schwartz, named in June to fill the seat of the late Dr. Frank DiRuggiero, also announced his candidacy.

The two newcomers to the race are Mathew Pica of 59 Mt. Prospect Avenue and G. Fred Burlazzi of 18 Mt. Pleasant Avenue. Because the Times went to press Saturday, the list of candidates is probably not complete. There were estimates by observers that as many as ten residents would vie for the three contested seats.

Saletta's announcement did not surprise many observers, particularly those who have been predicting his candidacy for the Commission election.

"I would say that with the up and coming Commission election I'm giving very serious thought to running," Saletta said.

"Friends of mine have been asking me to run for the Commission and I would like to serve the community in that capacity, but it requires some thinking on my part," the retiring Board president continued.

"When I did tell some of the teaching staff yesterday that I wasn't running they felt badly. Some were surprised and felt I should run again, but when I mentioned I might run for the commission they seemed pleased at the idea," Saletta said.

The outgoing Board leader said he definitely would campaign actively for candidates in the February 9 election, but said he preferred to withhold endorsement until the field was complete. It is expected however, that he will back Schwartz and Mrs. McCool should she decide to run again.

In looking back at his six years on the Board, Saletta said his most rewarding achievement was that "I've got the citizens to be more aware of the educational system in

Teacher Pact 'Crucial'

Tight Budget Predicted By Board

Teacher-salary negotiations and the Wallings Report were singled out this week by School Board president Rocco Saletta as the key factors which will affect the 1971-72 school budget.

Saletta told the Times this week that because of the Wallings Report, the budget might only increase to meet the cost of living, a six or seven per cent hike.

The Board President said, however, that teacher salary negotiations, just underway, could change the whole outlook for the budget.

The Wallings report, according to Saletta, will probably result in the cutting of from $100,000 to $135,000 in stop gap measures from the new budget.

That report, compiled by a Rutgers research team under the direction of Dr. Donald Wallings, was released in preliminary form a week ago to the Board, and contained "alarming" enrollment projections.

A final report, to include a detailed analysis of school and future trends based on studies and land use analysis, is expected the second week in January, Saletta said.

It is expected that the Wallings report will contain several recommendations for construction, and that a large bond referendum would be offered to the public as a result.

It is because of the anticipated referendum, Saletta said, that the Board would delay certain "stop-gap" or short range measures to meet physical and enrollment problems within the system.

The Board meanwhile, has been meeting two and three times a week on the new budget and should have a preliminary budget to the County Superintendent of Education's office by the January 14 deadline, Saletta said.

"I have given instructions to our superintendent of schools and to administrators to trim their budget needs as much as possible without hurting the schools," Saletta said. "In this time of economic recession, we have to be realistic about the things such as new furniture."

Saletta said teacher-board negotiations would probably be a major factor in the budget offered to the public. Saletta reports the negotiations have been on for several weeks, but only this week have approached salary discussion. "They gave us a preliminary figure which we rejected," Saletta said. "We've got to realize, Saletta continued, "that with the economy we're in today a 13-15 per cent increase is not warranted."

Last year, salary negotiations reached the critical point between the Board and the Belleville Education Association (BEA), and only a last minute snow-storm and some concessions by both sides saved a teacher walkout.

Both Saletta and BEA President Jerry Kennelly said it was impossible at this time to predict how negotiations would go. Kennelly told the Times that his group has lowered his preliminary figure, but that he could not comment on figures at this time.

Commenting on Saletta's statement about the economy, Kennelly said "The economy doesn't stop whether we get a raise or don't; we still have to go on and find out how we aren't oblivious to the economy but we still education should bear the brunt of it and that includes teacher salaries."

Both Kennelly and Saletta said school systems throughout the county haven't announced teacher contracts figures yet. Kennelly speculated that "each system might be waiting for

Frank Opinions Mark Alumni Return To Belleville High School

By Beth Fitzgerald

Belleville High School's Seventh Annual Alumni Tea, conducted by the guidance department under Mr. Herman Knipple, was well-attended, in spite of snow. Some 280 alumni of the class of 1970 returned to their alma mater on December 23 to share with Belleville High School seniors their experiences in college, the service, and in the labor market.

The festivities were lead by Student Government Organization President Brenda Cameron. She welcomed the alumni, and began the opening proceedings. Traditionally, prizes are awarded to the two students, male and female, who attended college the furthest distance from Belleville. This year's prizes went to Eileen Finnegan and James McCann, both attending the University of New Mexico.

Brenda asked a number of questions of the alumni, the first concerning exams. Last year, all students with A averages were exempt from finals. John Longo, who is at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, said "Any college you go to today weighs most of your mark on your exam, and if you don't know how to take exams, forget it."

Speaking for state schools, Steve Banda, president of the class of '70, disagreed. "If you don't have any exams, don't worry about it—you don't need it."

The alumni were asked if high school had adequately prepared them for college. Nancy Ippolito, who attends Upsala College, replied, "Definitely, this high school did not prepare me for that college. I was not prepared in any of my subjects. I think the standards should be higher and the work should

LAST WEEK was a busy one for Dr. Samuel Peck and his choral groups—the Bellaires and the Baker's Dozen. ## Christian Unity Week Planned By Churches

Belleville's Protestant and Catholic Churches are planning a "Week of Prayer for Christian Unity" January 17-24. Highlight of the week will be a joint service Sunday, Jan. 17 in St. Peter's RC auditorium led by both clergymen and laymen within the community.

The special week is being sponsored by the Belleville Ministerium and is being coordinated by Rev. Alfred Stone of Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Monsignor Henry G.J. Beck of Lyndhurst, a renowned theologian, will be the guest preacher.

Rev. Stone said the week of prayer is "an attempt on the part of Christian churches to witness the fact that we have a common unity with the lord and a common baptism."

Rev. Stone said that in addition to his church, others participating included Bethany Lutheran, Fawcett Presbyterian, Wesley Methodist, Montgomery Presbyterian, Belleville Congregation of God, Silver Lake Baptist Church, Grace Baptist, Belleville Reformed, Christ Episcopal, St. Peter's R.C., St. Anthony's RC, Second Baptist and Little Zion AME.

Each church will observe the prayer week in separate ways except for the common service at the week's end. The common service will be led by various clergymen and lay members of the community. Scheduled for the 600 seat St. Peter's RC church is a brass ensemble from the Belleville High School Band.

Monsignor Beck is a native of New York and received his bachelors degree, magna cum laude from Seton Hall University. His theological and historical studies were done in Italy and France.

Choral Groups Busy

John Smickle, who is attending Montclair State College, suggested, "If I can quote from my Communism book from last year, all high school does is make you a very small cog in a very large machine."

The alumni seemed to prefer living at school to commuting. Frank Cozzarelli, representing "the contingency from Rutgers" (New Brunswick), including Edward Mocarski, John Longo, Gary Trainer, Joe Smith, and Martin Fuchs, seemed to prefer living away, primarily because of the social life available. "The social life is fantastic, and in order to get into it you have to live there."

Larry Spinelli, who is commuting to Seton Hall, urged the seniors to "go away to school if you can afford it."

Brenda then questioned those alumni who arrived in military uniform. Sal Bivona, a member of the Marine Corps, felt that it would be better to enlist than be drafted, since you then have some choice in where you will be stationed. Bob DePass, also a Marine, said that educational opportunities were somewhat limited the Marine Corps being the smallest branch of the service but that there are "many technical programs and tremendous opportunities for advancement."

Glory Ann Pugliese, who attends Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School, spoke approvingly of the education she is getting. "I've really learned a lot up there, and I've increased my speed in typing and steno."

Both Debbie Matira and Valerie Bochino are attending the Berkeley School. Valerie said if one does well in the business course in high school there is no need to attend secretarial school. "The secretarial training program at Belleville High School is very good, but you have to work at it."

Those alumni who are working rather than studying were asked about the advantages of working. David Touw called working "a bore. I don't like working, and I'd rather be in school. I'm working to get money to go to school." Said Pete Marino, "There's no advantage to working, if you haven't gone to school. People take advantage of you, and you do a lot of things you really wouldn't want to do."

The alumni were asked about their feelings, in retrospect, about Belleville

High. Lonnie Bunch, who is attending Howard University in Washington D.C. said, "I go to a black school, and it seems strange coming back to Belleville High School. I've thought about how I didn't learn anything here. I learned about academic things, but I didn't learn anything about relating to black kids." He urged black students to "leave Belleville High School and go away to a black school." John Longo felt that students in Belleville High tend to take the school for granted. He believes that he received good preparation here, praising the math and science departments particularly.

Krupple, asked if the tea had been a success, said he was thinking of changing the format next year, to better accommodate the many people who attend.

TONY COZZARELLI (with microphone) tells Belleville seniors that social life at Rutgers is "great," and that the students should learn to "drink beer now, particularly Budweiser."

He is a charter member of the American Bishops' Ecumenical Commission for Dialogue with the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches and is at present chairman of the joint Presbyterian-Catholic Sub-commission for Work and

He gave the keynote address at the Third National Workshop on Church Unity held at St. Louis in June, 1966. In 1968 at Dallas he conducted the annual retreat for the clergy of the Presbyterian Synod of Texas and in 1969 for the Christian Reformed clergy at Grand Rapids.

He is pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Lyndhurst, N. J., and New Jersey State Chaplain for the Knights of Columbus. He has appeared on the CBS Church of the Air and on the NBC Lamp unto My Feet.

In this area, Schwartz said he had beefed up several local advisory committees to the Board, including the Business and Industrial Advisory Committee, the Athletic Council and the Adult School's Board of Directors. Those committees were raised in membership from 14-26, 7-16 and 5-8 respectively.

Pica, a financial manager for a manufacturing firm in Wickoff, is a lifelong resident of Belleville. He attended Schools Two and Five and Senior High School. He holds a BS degree from Fairleigh Dickinson with a minor in data processing.

In a statement to the Times, Pica said he was running for the Board because "I see a need for an objective thinker there." He said the Board needs "better guidelines for administrators and teachers to follow."

"The Board should be a policy-making body and set guidelines," Pica continued. "The Board doesn't seem to be doing so and there is a lot of friction between the members and administrators."

The Board should work in a more business like manner, similar to the way a corporation runs," Pica said. "As it works now there are too many personality conflicts on the Board. I hope to accomplish better working relationships among the Board, administrators and teachers."

Pica said he felt the overcrowding crisis in the system was the major problem facing the Board and said his familiarity with the construction business would aid in this area.

BHS Choral Groups Perform For Port Authority

DR. SAMUEL PECK, director of the Belleville High School choral groups - the Bellaires and the Baker's Dozen, leads the group in Christmas caroling at New York's Port Authority building December 15, as part of annual celebration for the terminal facility.

Samuel Peck, sang programs of traditional Christmas carols and songs. When the choir performed "Hallelujah," Peck invited those members of the audience who knew the music to come on stage and sing with the choir. The result was spontaneous and enthusiastic.

The piano accompaniment was provided by Susan Griwert and Bruce Creditor. Bruce also played a clarinet obligato accompaniment to Charles Neining's solo, "O Holy Night."

The concert marked the first performance of the nucleus of the high school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Louis Kosma. His small group of strings were joined by five junior high school violinists: Bonnie Berkowicz, Donna Gasawicz, Donna La Placa, Patty Kimmel, and Evelyn Morel; their teacher, Mr. Oliver James, played viola. Kosma extended special thanks to the junior high school members, saying he would like to continue the practice of cooperation between the music departments of the two schools. The orchestra accompanied the choir and a cello solo, "Greensleeves," performed by Kosma's wife Donna.

This concert was the last of a series of Christmas programs by choral groups under Dr. Peck. Last week, the Baker's Dozen and Bellaires performed at Newark Airport, and had previously sung at Clara Maass Hospital, Port Authority Bus Terminal in New York, and local elementary schools.

The Baker's Dozen and the Bellaires sang at the Port Authority Bus Terminal on Tuesday, December 15.

For 15 years, the terminal has been providing commuters and Christmas shoppers with holiday entertainment, and Belleville High was one of the first schools to present a Christmas program there.

Tuesday marked the terminal's twentieth birthday, and the BHS group was invited to help commemorate the event.

Port Authority Manager Marvin Weiss presented Dr.

Peck with a plaque for "15 years of outstanding and entertaining contributions to the annual Christmas music program for the commuting public." The students sang "Happy Birthday" to the bus terminal, and joined in the celebration, which featured a cake in the shape of Port Authority.

The student sang in the "fish-bowl" area above the Greyhound Line. Normally a waiting area for commuters, Tuesday it served as a stage for the BHS singers, who presented a Christmas program ranging from "Deck the Halls" to "Hallelujah."

Commuters, either passing on the two adjacent elevators or remaining to listen, were an attentive and enthusiastic audience.

Supreme Court Clears Confusion

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision not to allow 18-year olds to vote in state and local elections has cleared up a lot of the confusion which surrounded the February 9 Board election.

Mrs. Mary Shader, Board of Education secretary, reminded residents of a new procedure which expands the scope of absentee ballots.

According to a new law passed two weeks ago, voters who are unable to cast ballots because of job commitments, may obtain absentee ballot forms. Mrs. Shader said residents falling in this category must apply for the ballots and sign an affidavit attesting to their inability to reach the polls.

"We'll have to take the voter's certification at face value," Mrs. Shader told the Times. She indicated it was impossible for a resident to cast two ballots in this manner because his absentee ballot status will be marked on his registration form.

Previously, only those residents temporarily out of state such as students and servicemen, were allowed the absentee ballot privilege.

William Bixby Chosen To Dimes March Post

"It started with dimes being sent to the White House over 33 years ago and although our smallest coin has lost most of its silver, it still shines brilliantly when used by our March of Dimes," declared William C. Bixby of Fidelity Union Trust Company as he accepted re-appointment as Belleville's 1971 Treasurer in the fight against birth defects.

He called upon every family and businessman in Belleville to send a generous check c-o Fidelity Union Trust Company, 144 Washington Avenue, Belleville, New Jersey 07109.

Money received by the March of Dimes supports continuing programs in research, education, patient care and community services aimed at prevention and treatment of birth defects. And Bixby pointed out that each patient receives individual attention at our local "Center" here in Newark.

"When you help the March of Dimes help others, you are taking the first step toward combating a growing problem. Birth defects are not simply the problems of other people. They can happen in any family, regardless of race, color or creed. And they can be unrecognized and invisible, making themselves known in later life. For the sake of those in need - please give generously," Bixby concluded.

At thirty-six, Bixby is one of the younger generation of bankers, but has nevertheless achieved a record of more than a doz. years experience in his chosen field.

A graduate of Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn., he came to Fidelity Union Trust Company in 1956 as a participant in the bank's management training program. His banking career was interrupted by a tour of duty with the U.S. Army in Korea, to be resumed in August 1958. His well-rounded experience with Fidelity includes three years in the Credit Department, a period in Branch Administration, and several years as assistant manager in various units of the bank's extensive branch system.

In March 1964, he was elected an assistant treasurer of the bank, and was assigned managerial responsibilities at Fidelity's Wilson Avenue branch in 1967. Last year he became manager of the Belleville branch and was promoted to the rank of second vice president. Bixby has continued his education in banking by completing numerous special courses at the American Institute of Banking, and is a 1969 graduate of the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers.

Always active in civic affairs, Bixby is a director of the Chamber of Commerce of Belleville and a member of the Rotary Club. He has been active in service of the Boy Scouts of America, the Madison YMCA, the Newark Jaycees, and the Rosedale Civic Association. He lives in Madison, N.J., is married to the former Frances Hussey, and has a son Mark, aged seven.

Local Police arrested a 70-year old Belleville man last week on charges of possessing horse race betting slips.

In the year 1895, the German, William Roentgen, produced a new kind of ray resulting from the impact of a cathode ray against the glass of a vacuum tube. The ray, which bounced, he called X, on the principle that X is the name for anything that is unknown. The X-rays could penetrate opaque matter and, in the hands of inventors, became, as we know, one of the greatest aids to surgery ever devised. Roentgen's discovery spread throughout the scientific world an epidemic of inquiry. From that time on other scientists began to experiment further into the possibilities of other elements penetrating opaque substances.

The Real Estate Tax Burden

Essex County Senator Gerard L. DelTufo has proposed that real estate taxes be frozen at present levels and that federal funds be made available to subsidize educational costs throughout New Jersey.

DelTufo's proposal makes a great deal of sense and should be given serious consideration. For the most part, local public officials have very little control over the size of our real estate tax bill. It takes 40 per cent of our tax money to operate our school system. The budget covering this expenditure is approved by the voters every February.

The cost of county government runs around 30 per cent of our total tax levy and the remainder of our tax dollar is required to maintain municipal services. In this area of public expenditures our Town Commissioners have almost no control over the size of the budget to provide community services.

Real estate taxes already have risen to the point of being confiscatory. People cannot afford any further increases in real estate taxes. An end must come to the annual hikes.

Senator DelTufo's legislation should be adopted at the earliest possible opportunity.

The Department of Justice

The U.S. Attorney for New Jersey, Frederick B. Lacey, last week disclosed he is stepping into a Federal Judgeship to which he was appointed a couple of months ago.

To replace him, Lacey is urging the appointment of his chief assistant, Herbert J. Stern, a very able prosecuting attorney. Stern's promotion to Lacey's job is necessary to continue the vigorous fight against organized crime in New Jersey.

For years New Jersey was known as the organized crime capital of the world. Along came Lacey and Governor Cahill, and between the two of them, New Jersey now has become a very uncomfortable place for organized crime operators.

U.S. Senator Clifford B. Case has urged Attorney General of the United States John N. Mitchell to appoint Stern as Lacey's successor. Up to this point Case has not been successful in his efforts. We hope in the end he prevails.

Enzymes Warning

The chairman of the Federal Trade Commission and The Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration have called upon the soap industry to conduct immediate tests on the effects of enzymes in laundry detergents.

In letters to the soap manufacturers the government has received hundreds of complaints from housewives and others - that the enzymes sometimes cause an allergic reaction, or skin irritations of various forms.

The soap industry, contacted by the President's representative on consumer affairs sometime ago, agreed in principle on a study. But the study proposed would take too long to suit the government. That is the reason for letters from the two government agencies calling for immediate tests. There is no justification for any further delay in testing the detergents.

Seems Only Yesterday

Women's Lib Started Here With Elks 50 Years Ago

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

Town Commissioners entered into a long, often stormy discussion, before narrowly passing an ordinance which would guarantee maximum salary to any town employee with 25 years of service. The controversial bill was to appear again when the town fathers would cast their final ballots on the law.

Board of Education member Mrs. Helen Rudden stated that she would definitely not run for re-election in the February Board election. John Di Rienzo, who occupied the other Board seat up for grabs, was undecided at the time.

Decision on the permanent status of the 1969-70 Belleville school budget was delayed because of the State Department of Education's failure to supply Town Commission lawyers with transcripts pertinent to the case. The Town Commission, which was appealing the State Commission's decision to restore $128,000 to the Belleville school budget, originally had been directed to present its appeal brief in Trenton before December 29.

Ten Years Ago

Michael Egidio managed to secure 169 signatures out of 209 registered voters of a three block area on petitions for a change of the town government to the Mayor-Council Plan D of the Optional Charter Law. Egidio obtained the signatures, constituting nearly 85 per cent of the possible total, in eight hours of voluntary house-to-house visiting.

Construction of four five-story apartment buildings in Belleville was expected to start in the spring, according to Commissioner Robert Gruhin, who unveiled plans for such a development at a Board of Commissioners meeting. The five buildings would house about 320 families and would be built off Jorammon Street on property being used primarily as a dump. The Lobsitz property near the Third River bridge was to provide the entrance to the development.

Mrs. Violet Rochau, Belleville Board of Education president and candidate for re-election, answered statements made by Arthur M. Pico in a previous edition of the Times. Pico had insisted that a new high school was not needed in the town, adding that he had favored a new addition instead. Mrs. Rochau remarked that the question of a new high school was for the voters to decide. Pico had issued statements critical of Mrs. Rochau's position and that of Richard Drake, vice-president of the board. The sharp exchange of criticism led to the conclusion that the key issue and possibly the only issue of the school election campaign would be the question for and against the construction of a new school.

Fifteen Years Ago

"Definitely an arson job" was the way Fire Chief Harry White termed a fire started in the Alto Lincoln-Mercury Dealers at 25 Washington Avenue. Investigation disclosed kerosene sprinkled in the show room and the rear garage. Firemen responded to a call at 1:16 a.m. to the agency where they fought a small blaze in the front showroom in a manner of minutes.

Belleville Town Commissioners awarded a contract for collecting the town's garbage to Lorenzo Pucillo & Sons of East Orange. The contract was awarded for five years at an overall rate of $629,500.

Faced with the refusal of Belleville,

Newark, and twenty other Essex suburban towns to comply with its order to bring all assessments on real estate and personal property to 100 per cent of true value by January 10, the Essex County Tax Board rescinded the order. Mayor Isadore Padula, director of Revenue and Finance, had declared it would be a physical impossibility to comply "even if we ran all the machines 24 hours a day including Christmas and New Year's Day."

Twenty-Five Years Ago

A headline in the Belleville Times read: "End of War Spotlight News for 1945." The following paragraph was a short summary, printed in the Times, of news items of 1945

—"The end of the greatest conflict in the history of the world featured the news for 1945. Taking place over all events, the word of the war's end set the town off in wild celebration, but was still tame when compared to the signing of the Armistice in World War I.

The death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt came as a great shock, and recently another great figure passed away, when the great and colorful General George Patton was the victim of an automobile accident while with the Occupation troops in Germany.

Locally, the returning of many servicemen and their multitudinous problems had taken a feature spot in the headlines. The particular problem is housing, and with an acute shortage all over the nation, Belleville is no better off. Veterans are trying to create their own housing but have run into some belated opposition.

Politically, the return of the police department to Public Safety Director Joseph King after Mayor Williams had taken it from him in October, 1944, proved a setback to the Mayor. Action in the political front had been comparatively quiet of late with the coming election in May of 1946 playing a big part in the on-the-surface harmony existing in the commission."

Forty Years Ago

Harry C. Naylor was elected the second president of the Belleville Republican Club at the annual meeting held in the Masonic Temple. Floyd F. Bragg, retiring president, was named as a possible candidate to succeed himself but Mr. Bragg declined the honor.

An ordinance authorizing the opening of Forest Street from its present terminus north of Greylock Parkway to the Nutley town line was passed on final reading by the Board of Commissioners. The improvement was to cost the town $12,000.

Fifty Years Ago

The local lodge of Elks celebrated their first ladies' night. An address of welcome was made by Exalted Ruler Davis, followed by a musical program.

Saint Peter's Social Society elected the following officers: president, Mrs. R. P. Scaine, vice-president, Mrs. E. P. Cousins; financial secretary, Miss Mary Glynn; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Hood; trustees, Mrs. George T. Burke and Mrs. George Hacker.

Motor Vehicle Director Asks Safe Holiday

To The Editor:

I would like to extend my best wishes to you and your staff for a safe, happy holiday.

Also, I want to thank you for your cooperation in encouraging safer driving habits through public awareness.

So far, we have been successful in stemming the tide of holiday fatalities, provided we make the end of the year effort to drive cautiously. There were 1197 deaths as of this morning. This is 75 fewer than last year's 1272 total and 155 fewer than 1968's highest ever of 1352.

Nevertheless, the fact that over one thousand people die on our highways is a tragic loss of life.

I trust as you prepare your holiday editions and programs, you will continue to emphasize the need for traffic safety.

Several releases are enclosed for your use over the next two weeks. For radio stations using the Division's safety spots, your tapes will arrive under separate cover.

If any of your reporters or feature editors wish to either expand coverage or do a special holiday article on traffic safety, I will be happy to provide them with additional information.

Once again, thank you for your assistance. Best wishes for 1971.

Director, State Division of Motor Vehicles

New Year's Great Time For Resolving

IN KEEPING with the season, I have compiled my list of New Year's resolutions which always look so good on paper.

I resolve not to yell, throw anything or get visibly upset when son number two, the official in charge of the garbage, forgets to take it out at night for the ninety ninth time and the cats scatter it all over the kitchen floor. I may murder him in his bed but I will not yell, throw or get upset.

And speaking of beds, I resolve not to show the slightest annoyance when the two teenagers depart for the day leaving both beds unmade and the room looking like a disaster area. I will pick my way gingerly through the dirty socks, shoes and copies of the New York Times with all the dignity I can muster.

I resolve not to mention to Rod again that he is getting slightly obese around the middle because yesterday, I got a good look at myself sideways in a full-length mirror and if he can stand the shape I'm in, I can live with his figure too.

I resolve never to make chicken casserole for dinner again unless I am eating alone and the last time I ate alone, I was single and solvent.

I resolve not to shriek when Lum Cat brings me home a dead mouse as a present, not even when he dumps it on the kitchen floor in front of me when I am cooking breakfast. After all, it's the spirit of the thing that counts, not the actual present, right?

I resolve to keep my cool when I get the twins dressed alike and one of them spits up on the outfit and both of them have to be changed.

AND AS FAR as twins go, I resolve not to put the whammy on anybody ever again and all I can say, Pat Palker, is that you'll really enjoy the double arrival once it arrives. Keep calm, cool and collected but never pick up up somebody's duet again.

I resolve not to scream at the Great White Father, alias Philip R., when he and I disagree on something. I shall use logic, persuasiveness and tact and when that fails, then I'll scream.

I resolve to be very understanding when the cacaphony from WABC which passes for music, becomes more than I can bear. I will not smash the radio or commit other mayhem. After all, not everybody is addicted to WPAT and there's always cotton in the medicine chest.

I resolve to be all sweetness and light when the little kids drop such things as uncooked eggs, jars of jelly, full quarts of milk or pancake syrup. And I shall do my best to be a calm mother when I get bacon and eggs or pancakes or French toast cooked for breakfast and they all decide they want cold cereal.

I resolve to refrain from whacking Ryan's tail the next time he unstuffs a stuffed animal just before company is due to arrive. I shall employ reason and understanding and vacate the room before I forget what I just resolved.

I resolve to wish all of you a very Happy New Year and that's probably the only resolution I'll keep.

Moral Decay Is Fed By Envy; Worst of Seven Deadly Sins

Today's Flight 897 column is a recent article on moral decay by Russell Kirk. Mr. Orechio's column will be resumed next week.

Of the Seven Deadly Sins, the vice of envy always has seemed to me the most repellent. Founded on hatred of unusual talents and achievements, if envy triumphs it pulls down human society altogether. We need to be on our guard against envy, for there exists a good deal of it in America. One thinks of the American democratic dogma as mordantly described by Mark Twain: "One man is as good as another, or maybe a little better."

These musings are stimulated by a new book, Professor Helmut Schoeck's "Envy: A Theory of Social Behavior" (Harcourt, Brace & World). Although this book has been widely reviewed in Britain and Germany, it has received curiously little attention in these United States - possibly because we Americans try to ignore the problem of envy.

In Marlowe's tragedy of Doctor Faustus, personified Envy addresses Faustus: "I am Envy, begotten of a chimney sweeper and an oyster wife. I cannot read, and therefore wish all books were burnt. I am lean with seeing others eat. O, that there would come a famine through all the world, that all might die, and I live alone! Then thou shouldst see how fat I would be. But must thou sit, and I stand? Come down, with a vengeance!"

As Professor Schoeck points out, "envy" and "emulation" are not the same thing. John Adams argued that the desire to emulate is one of the two principal forces in human improvement. The man who emulates is a person who admires someone else's achievement, and asks to do the same, or nearly as well. But the man who envies, being bitterly jealous, desires to harm or to besmirch - a destructive passion.

Paradoxically, however, often envy has worked for good - in the sense that envy has to be controlled, if a people are to prosper. To curb aggressively envious people, simple societies have developed social controls upon them - and so have moved toward orderly civilization. Any society in which envy is little restrained must be either a very primitive society or else a very decadent one.

Some envy lingers in even the best men and women, just as all the sins afflict all of us in some degree. One of the most ruinous consequences of envy, if this passion becomes powerful in a community, is that envy rouses guilt feelings among the people of remarkable abilities or among whom these guilt feelings are so obsessive that individuals eat only at night, when no one can see them consuming their food. If the able and industrious are made to feel ashamed of their achievements, then no one dares accomplish anything conspicuous, and the whole community suffers: the triumph of the doctrine of equal misery.

Envy is not easy to restrain by statute, and it is impossible to create a utopia in which envy would not exist. Only the religious or philosophical checks upon this vice are at all effective.

But if men cease to believe in an abiding, transcendent moral order, then the passion of envy tends to take command: people of small talents grow jealous of those who are stronger or swifter or handsomer, of those who are more thrifty or more intelligent or more artistic. The passion of envy - which led to economic and social leveling toward the lowest common denominator - was one of the influences that pulled down the later Roman empire, as Rostovtzeff and other historians have pointed out.

Professor Schoeck hopes that we modern folk are beginning to waken to the perils of envy. "Francis Bacon had already realized that nothing is more calculated to exasperate the envious man and to feed his discontent," Schoeck writes in conclusion, "than irrational action, an abdication from a superior position with the removal of his envy in view."

Formal schooling is no sure remedy for envy: some learned professors of my acquaintance have been among the most envious of men, denigrating any colleague whose teaching or writing receives widespread admiration. Authors, too, are notoriously envious as a class. Among the least envious people I have happened to meet have been certain crofters and small farmers on either side of the Atlantic: poor and obscure though they may be, they accept their life as in the nature of things - and do not aspire toward pulling down somebody else.

What is the alternative to envy? Why, to love one's neighbor as one's self. This may be difficult, but it is the only cure for the ravenous ego. If one accepts the Great Commandment, then every remarkable achievement (if honestly accomplished) becomes an occasion for congratulation and emulation, not for carping.

Former Stars At Alumni Tea

Belleville High School held a reception for their Alumni last Wednesday, and with the largest crowd ever to attend the annual event, (285 persons) were some of Belleville's former sports stars, a few of whom have continued on the college level.

Football players seemed to be in the majority as they always are in Belleville High. Some of those in attendance were Joe Ritacco, Steve Banda, Bill Tlumacki, Roy Newman and Vinny Costantino (1970 co-captains), Sal Bivona, Lonnie Bunch, Frank Fury and Rich Corbo.

Ritacco and Bunch were the only two who played on their college's football squads, while others went out or are going out for other sports.

Ritacco played as an outside linebacker for Boston College's freshman team. Joe played mostly on the kickoff team, but got in for the whole fourth quarter in Boston's frosh victory over Holy Cross. The business major finds the major difference between college and high school ball being the quality of the players. The fact that some kids play only because they've received scholarships plays a minor part in the players' attitudes, although it seems to irritate the former Belleville end.

Lonnie Bunch of Howard University played some ball as a linebacker on the frosh team. Lonnie refused to comment on the frosh record but did bring up the fact that the varsity went 10-2. Bunch hopes to be on the Howard varsity squad next year, and seems to be quite optimistic.

Roy Newman is going to Rollins College in Florida, a place where crew teams seem to be held as sacred as football is in Belleville.

The 1970 lineman spent this fall practicing three days a week for the frosh crew team. The Bellboy with a three-quarter scholarship will start his spring season January 5. (This of course is due to the Florida weather.)

Russ Jerusik, also on the 1970 crew team, played soccer for Upsala this year. The biology major was a right halfback on the 4-5-1 team.

Ron DeJonge was never out of football, but can boast about his college's team. The baritone sax player and JV oarsman at BHS played the clarinet in Westminster College's band at halftime for the Westminster gridders, who were ranked number one in the nation for small colleges.

Vic Squitieri was the top scorer on last year's track team scoring 125.5 points in dual competition as a discus thrower, sprinter and low hurdler. The second place finisher in the Big Ten low hurdles championship will concentrate on the hurdles at Seton Hall this spring, he announced at the Alumni Tea, and may try the javelin.

Another runner, Bob "Red" Forrest, was also present. Red took first place in eight of 11 Cross-Country meets last year as the only senior on the harrier squad.

Red worked in the spring rather than go out for track, so that he could go to NCE. The A-B student replied "maybe next year" when asked if he would go out for the track club that has reportedly been gaining ground towards becoming a reality at NCE.

Joe D'Alconzo of Vorhees Technical Institute was a star on last year's Belleville basketball team. Unfortunately, Vorhees doesn't have a varsity basketball squad, but the automotive technician may go out for intramurals.

Atherton Robbed Of Position

Belleville's varsity heavyweight wrestler, John Atherton, was literally robbed of a top position in yesterday's Christmas Tournament held at Bloomfield High School.

The senior had a respectable 6-5 record last year, missing only two matches, Irvington and Lyndhurst, due to an injury. In the opening match of the season John lost to Bloomfield's heavyweight, Don Kend of Bloomfield 14-4, which caused some problems in Atherton's seeding for yesterday's tourney.

There are two simple requirements for seeding: First, a wrestler must have been in 6 or more varsity matches in the prior season, and second he must have had a .500 season or better.

From these two, Atherton deserved a number two seeding, only behind Denice of Irvington (7-3). But the third requirement placed Belleville's griddler-oarsman in an awkward position.

This rule makes it necessary for a wrestler to be prevented from being seeded above an opponent who has beaten the first wrestler. Atherton was placed in with the wrestlers who weren't able to break .500 last season, and had his position picked out of a hat, since Kend had a 5-6 record and couldn't be seeded.

Atherton Still Not Worried

Atherton seemed not to be too worried about facing Denice, the number one man, while carrying the number eight, out of eight wrestlers.

John reasoned that since he was replaced by Joe Valvano as heavyweight for the varsity against Irvington due to an injury, and Denice beat Valvano 2-1, he has a chance to win.

Valvano faced Atherton many times during the season, but never won a wrestle-off, and remained the JV heavyweight. Denice's victory over Valvano came on a penalty point awarded to the Irvington grappler for a lock up by Valvano. Therefore, the two are almost equal, and Atherton's match should have been similar to one of last years wrestle-offs with Valvano.

Bellboy Cagers Challenge Bloomfield In Tilt Tonight At Bengals Home Court

By Marc Feldman

The Bellboy cagers plays powerful Bloomfield tonight at the Bengals home court at eight. The cagers also are scheduled for away games with Irvington January 2 (8 p.m.) and rival Nutley January 5 at 3:30 p.m.

Defending Big Ten champion East Orange, relying on superior height and rebounding, coasted to a 68-38 victory over Belleville last Tuesday afternoon at the Belleville gym. Although the Panthers were playing without their high scoring forward Mike Dabney, the rebounding and scoring of 6'8 inch Wayne Groves and 6'6 inch Darryll Gregory were enough to carry the Panthers to their 25th consecutive Big Ten victory.

Evidence to the Panthers' domination of the boards was their 40-25 edge in rebounding and 73-40 margin in attempted field goals. The tremendous 33 shot difference more than compensated for the Panthers' low 44 per cent shooting.

Belleville did manage to have the game's two highest scorers in Bob Visco and Rocco Marotti. Visco and Marotti each scored 14 points, for the bulk of the Belleville scoring attack. Co-captain Gregory of East Orange led his team with 12 points and guard Ivan Bryant chipped in with 11.

Visco was easily the outstanding player in the game for the Bellboys. At only 6 feet, Visco played center for most of the game against players who had six to eight inch height advantages on him. He hit on two shots from the field, one, a layup with his back turned to the basket. He also spent a lot of time at the foul line where he connected on ten of 15 charity tosses.

Although Marotti scored 14 points, he was not in top form. He was on target only 7 of 22 times from the floor, and missed his only two foul shots.

East Orange jumped off to an early 8-0 lead, but the Bellboys did not let the contest get out of hand, as happened in the Montclair game on December 18. The Panthers expanded their margin to 18-5 early in the second quarter, but the Bellboys refused to fold up their tent. Playing the heavily favored Panthers on an even basis for the rest of the half, Belleville was down by only 16, 29-13 at the midway mark.

Belleville never cut the lead any further but their effort in the third quarter was quite encouraging. Led by Marotti and Visco, the Bellboys were only outscored 21-19 by E.O. Belleville trailed 50-32 after three quarters. The subs played most of the final period, and the Panthers expanded their lead to thirty points by the game's end, by far their largest advantage of the game.

Thus far, the Bellboys have faced three of the toughest teams in the Conference. Games with teams of comparable ability are coming up, and hopefully, wins will not be as hard to come by.

Sophomore Cage Squad Loses 2

The sophomore basketball team has gotten off to a slow start as they were beaten 55-45 by Montclair Friday night and 75-44 by Clifton in their opening game last Wednesday, both times on third quarter surges.

Donald Dolph was the high scorer for the Belleville sophs in both games, scoring 23 against Montclair and 18 against Clifton.

The sophs were beating Clifton 16-11 at the end of the first quarter, but Clifton edged ahead 29-24 at the half and poured it on in the third quarter running the score up to 57-31. The Clifton sophs kept it going in the final period outscoring Belleville 18-13. The Mustangs consistently got the rebounds on offense and defense, and

Warriors Topped In Rec Action

The Knicks evened their record at 1-1 by defeating the Warriors, 43-30. The Warriors are still looking for their first victory. Paul Frank pumped in 17 points, while teammates Victor Pasquariello and John Racioppi combined for 22 points. Chris Tremel hit four out of five field goal attempts, he also made his four free throws to become high scorer for the Warriors with 12 points.

Abdel Andersons 32 points paved the way for the Supersonics to rout over the Bucks. Abdel was held to 10 points in the first half, he exploded for 22 in the second half. Jim Jones contributed 13 points for the Bucks. At the end of the half the score was Supersonics 18-Bucks 13.

H. Mallack Leads Knicks To Win

Aided by Hugh Mallack's six point performance, the Knicks started the Elementary League season with a 16-11 win over the Trotters. Francis Norel had four points in the first half to keep the Trotters within two points of the Knicks. However, the Knicks scored six points in the second half, four of them by Hugh Mallack while the Trotters could only throw in three.

A strong team effort enabled the Hawks to overwhelm the Lakers by a 28-5 margin. Davis Palumbo led the Hawks scoring with ten points, while teammates Bruce Dolph and Paul Cunard each added six points. The Lakers committed a large number of turnovers and were unable to hold down the fast break of the Hawks.

The Celtics were down 6-0 at the half but came back with six points of their own before falling two points short in the fourth quarter, 8-6 to the Bucks. Steve Scrivo and Jeff Fink brought the Celtics back in the second half while the only basket by the Bucks was a big one by Joe Lemongelli to keep them ahead. Tony Speer led all Buck scorers with four points.

Bennett was picked for third as only the first two wrestlers at 136 were selected. Bennett (1-2 last year) faced Irvington's Tom Collins, picked for sixth with a 0-0 record.

A Case Of Too Much Height

CAPTAIN RICH Caravetta is dwarfed by East Orange defenseman as he attempts to drive to the basket.

OBVIOUSLY UNDERSIZED, senior Rocco Marotti tries to locate the basket over the outstretched arms of one of East Orange's tall and talented cagers.

BOB VISCO hits the floor as referee calls the obvious foul. Visco played one of his best games, but the powerful Panthers were just too good for the winless Bellboy cagers.

Grapplers Enter Bloomfield Tourney

By John McCarthy

Seven of Belleville's 12 varsity wrestlers received positions in the top four for their respective classes at yesterday's Holiday Wrestling Tournament in Bloomfield. (The Times went to press before the tourney.)

These positions hopefully gave the grapplers a better chance of getting into the final rounds for their classes. The first place wrestler got matched with the number eight man, two against seven, three against six, and four against five, thus giving the best the easiest match, and the middle the fairest. It also made it hard for the number eight man to win since if he beats number one, he faces the winner of four and five. Team Captain Carment Russomano received the highest position, and the team's only number one position. Carment's 7-4 record last year, his second place in the same tournament and third place in the districts made him the top contender at 168 pounds.

Two of Belleville's grapplers who received second place berths were selected for the positions while the third received it on a drawing done by Coach Jim Silvestri.

At 157 Frank Savastano was picked to take the number two position. Only one wrestler in his class had a season better than .500, and that was Alemedia of Seton Hall, who was ranked first.

By placing second, Frank (2-7) faced Witherspoon of Kearny (0-0).

Angelo Zoppi at 106 was in the toughest weight class for the tournament. Angelo was ranked second with a 9-3-1 record, but six of the eight wrestlers had winning records and went in at least six varsity matches last year, so only two had to be picked.

Another wrestler selected for second place was Vito Marcogliese Belleville's 130. Vito had an 8-4-1 record last year and faced Mountain High School's Preziosi 0-0.

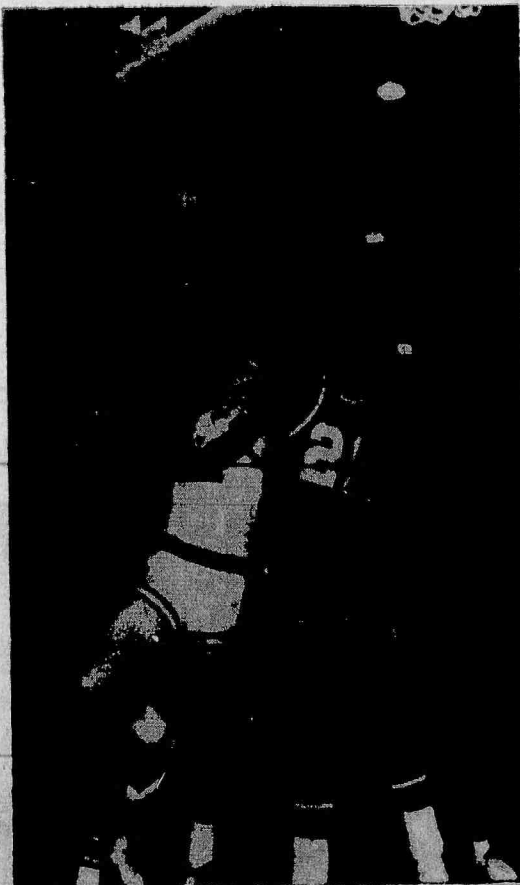

Picked for third place from Belleville were John Mustacchio at 123 pounds and Walter Bennett at 136 pounds. Mustacchio had the best record of any wrestler at 123, but Kearny's Habenthur beat "Boff" in last year's districts. Habenthur had a 7-4-1 record and Saint Benedict's Ramano had a 6-2 record, so a special drawing was held for first second and third at 123 lbs. and Mustacchio wound up third.

Bennett was picked for third as only the first two wrestlers at 136 were selected. Bennett (1-2 last year) faced Irvington's Tom Collins, picked for sixth with a 0-0 record.

KEN ZOPPA lofts a shot over the outstretched hands of a Panther defender for two points in losing effort.

Frank Marano at 178 received the number five position to go against Kliven (2-4) of Montclair. Marano

Beck's Column

Some time ago we wrote that Mrs. Knauer, the President's watchdog on consumer affairs bitterly complained about the large number of problems reported to her office about appliance and television repairs. This had gone on now for years, a lot of complaining and enacting of laws and licensing of servicemen. As if this would solve the problem. The solution is as simple as can be, train more men. The only thing is that it is not easy to train the large number of mechanics needed. More and more appliances, gadgets and TV's, not to speak of new inventions coming out all the time, are spewed out by the factories. Our young people have been told for years that they should go to college, whether they have the ability or not. Many young men and girls are not college material, this is well enough known. After a year or 2 they drop out. Still they don't want to get their hands dirty. Instead of learning a trade, they go into sales, so they are lost for mechanical trades.

We have stated here, repeatedly, that the problem can be solved only from a different angle. The Construction of a TV set has to be such that a whole new circuit is plugged in the chassis, the same as with the replacement of a tube. This could become a do it yourself project. It certainly would not require a highly trained mechanic to handle such a repair and sets would hardly ever have to be taken to the shop. Some day in the not too distant future we will have this arrangement. In the meantime, our customers do not have to worry. You still can call us before 1 p.m. and a technician will be at your home before 6. If you call after 1, he will be there before 12 the next day.

went 1-1 last season and has been very impressive this season.

Sophomore Brian Banda was picked for the number seven spot at 115. A wrestler last year as a frosh, Banda faced West Side's Kassa, 8-2 varsity last year.

Three of Belleville's wrestlers will be picked for eighth position, which means they will face the number one wrestler in their class.

At 98 pounds Fred Arena, a soph, faced Arminto of Seton Hall, 2-3 last year on varsity as all eight positions were picked by the coaches.

Brian Wadell went 148 for the Bellboys against Seton Hall's Caprio. Wadell had an 0-4 record last year while Caprio was 12-0.

At heavyweight, John Atherton was picked for eighth. Atherton had a winning season last year, but had to be placed behind Kend of Bloomfield since Atherton lost to Kend, but Kend had a losing record last year, forcing Atherton to be grouped with the other heavyweights that had to be picked.

scored many of their points on layups under the boards.

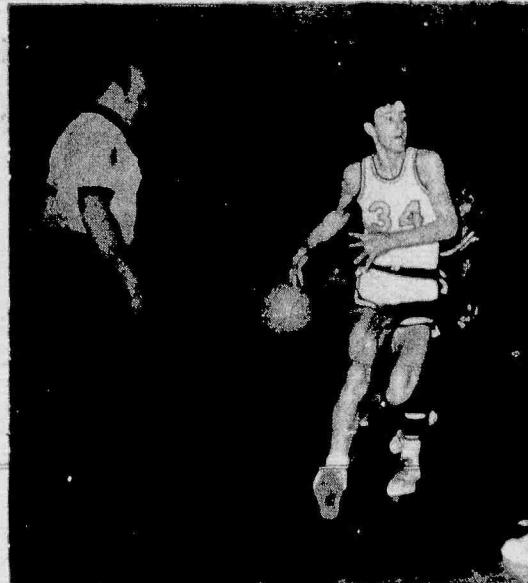

The number two scorer for Belleville in the first two games is Phil Cuzzi. Phil scored eight against Clifton (tied with Ed Colon) and ten points against the Mounties, when Colon was held to only two foul shots for two points

The Mounties held a 14-7 lead at the end of the first quarter, and scored 15 points to Belleville's 12 in the second quarter to lead at the half by the same ten point margin as the final score. But it was the 11-6 third quarter that wrapped up the game, as it made the score 40-25, making Belleville's 20-15 scoring edge in the final period a futile effort.

STEVE TREMEL (32) reaches in vain for rebound against easily outclassed the Bellboys, both on the boards and in taller East Orange defender. The tall and talented Panthers shooting.

FINNS DIFFERENT

Evergreens, particularly the fir tree, were often held sacred in ancient times, but not by the Finns, who use straw rather than the evergreens for Christmas decorations.

In Finland the evergreen is considered a sign of mourning.

The Easy Way To Tell What Kind of Tree It Is

Learning to identify your Christmas tree by its correct name is easy if you follow a few simple rules, says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

If there are two or more leaves in a cluster bound together at their bases where they attach to the twig, you can be sure the tree is a pine, says Mr. Munk. If the leaves are singly attached to the twig, the tree is a spruce or fir.

Individual fir needles are flat; spruce needles are four-sided. Remove a needle from a tree and try to roll it between your thumb and finger. If it rolls, the tree is probably a spruce. If it doesn't roll, it's a fir.

Among the firs you'll find in market, the balsam fir is most common. It has flat, stubby waxy buds. Douglas fir has long, sharp pointed buds.

The spruces are usually the Norway, white, or red varieties. It's difficult for anybody but an expert to tell them apart, so just call them spruce, says Mr. Munk.

White pine has five leaves in a cluster. Scotch pine has two leaves in each cluster, each leaf usually 2 to 3 inches long. Austrian pine also has two leaves in a cluster, but the leaves are 3 to 5 inches long. The pines have become increasingly popular for Christmas trees.

MAX GREENWALD

Germany, colorful, various, exciting, and traditional, waits for you. Come and see the farmer's wife who puts on her old folk costume on Sunday, the chimney sweep in his top hat, the Hamburg carpenter in his traditional Guild uniform. Try the leather trousers, brass bands, put the dachshunds, feast on beer and sauerkraut. There is Hamelin, the town of the immortal Pied Piper, Bad Pyrmont, where princes meet. The dramatic white rock-walled Prink Castle. Visit Franconia, the land of wine, Bayreuth, the land of Wagner. Germany, colorful, traditional, various, welcomes your visit.

GREENWALD TRAVEL SERVICE, 114 Market St., Clifton, 472-5700, 667-6555, waits for you with everything in the way of travel. You name it we'll do it. No service is too small for us to handle. ## R

WE ARE GLAD TO OBLIGE

Because a pharmacy is intimately involved with health, the service it must provide goes much beyond any possible profit motive or advantage over a competitor. The best example of this pharmacy ethic is the cooperation between ordinarily competing pharmacies when time is an urgent factor.

Although we usually have most prescribed drugs in stock, or can get a medicine delivered to us the same day, we occasionally must have it that same hour. When this happens we will ask another pharmacy to "oblige" us and let us borrow from him the needed drug until we can replace it. Other pharmacies will follow the same procedure in getting an urgently needed medicine from us. The health of the customer must always be the primary concern of every pharmacist.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Scouts Study Patrol Method At Conference

Boy Scouts of Tamarack Council studied patrol method and leadership at a Junior Leader Training Conference held Saturday, December 5 at the Rutherford Junior High school. Tamarack Council serves youths in Rutherford, East Rutherford, Carlstadt, Wood-Ridge, Moonachie, Lyndhurst, North Arlington, Nutley and Bloomfield.

As the 96 Scouts signed in, they were given a quiz to test their knowledge of the Patrol Method, which was stressed throughout the day as the only correct way to run a Boy Scout Troop. The Scouts then divided into four groups for classes on how to teach, the ingredients and execution of patrol meetings and of troop meetings and patrol activities and jobs in the patrol.

The afternoon program began with a patrol rally featuring such diverse events as knot tying and first aid, basketball foul-shooting, and a creative brainstorming session based on the Scout motto, "Be Prepared." Afternoon classes considered demonstrations (of the non-riotous kind), the Troop's boy officers, ceremonies, and the formation and function of the Green Bar, or Patrol Leader's Council.

Year-End Information For Aliens

Dominick F. Rinaldi, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their addresses each January. Throughout the United States, almost 30 per cent more applications for naturalization are received during the months of January, February and March than are received during other months. Rinaldi attributes this sudden rise to the Alien Address Report Program.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats and those persons accredited to certain international organizations.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January. Rinaldi indicated that aliens desiring information concerning naturalization or similar matters should obtain the forms at the Newark office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service where personnel trained in those fields will be available to answer inquiries.

This year the procedures to comply with the reporting requirements have been broadened so that aliens may mail the completed address report cards directly to the nearest office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

New Tax Reductions Are Not Effective Yet

Elderly homeowners are not yet eligible for increased property tax deductions approved by New Jersey voters in the November 3 election.

Edward L. Donohue, director of the Division on Aging of the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, explained here today that the referendum approved by voters simply clears the way for the State Legislature to enact legislation that would double the present $80 property tax deduction to $160 for homeowners 65 and older.

Such legislation also would exempt Social Security benefits in determining income eligibility requirements, but the current $5,000 annual income limit would remain the same, Donohue said.

After approval by the Legislature, the bill would go to Governor William T. Cahill for signature before the changes actually could become effective, he added.

"It amounts to a four-step process," Donohue explained. "First, the Legislature placed the referendum on the ballot; then the voters overwhelmingly approved it. Now two more steps remain: enabling legislation must still be prepared, introduced, and passed by the Legislature and the bill must then be signed into law by the Governor."

Garden State To Give Free Safety Holiday Drinks

The Garden State Parkway is extending its 14th annual program of free safety drinks for New Year's eve and morning motorists to add a cup or glass at Christmas as well.

Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Parkway, said the program for the first time will present free coffee, tea or per cent more braking distance than regular tires on glare ice, and even old ones provide 13 per cent more. Traction on ice with new studded tires is 218 per cent better, and with old studded tires, 183 per cent better.

Drivers should keep in mind, however, that studded tires should be marked so that they can be placed on the same wheels each winter. The studs wear at a slight angle, causing them to lay over slightly on one side, and this can reduce much of their effectiveness if they are installed to travel in the opposite direction.

Now that studded tires have at last gained almost nationwide acceptance they're now legal in all states except Louisiana and Mississippi, as well as in 10 Canadian provinces—it's ironic to note that ominous signs for their future have already begun to emerge.

Last September, Ontario, one of the 10 Canadian provinces currently allowing studded tires, announced a ban on them to become effective April 30, 1971.

Government officials said that their safety value was being outdistanced by the highway damage they caused. Ontario's highway and transport experts found that runs from a quarter to a half-inch were found to result in the pavement during a single season of driving. The government estimated the ban would save $127 million in highway repair over the next 10 years. The new restriction also will apply to outsiders traveling on Ontario's highways.

And if a study begun recently by the governments of Minnesota and Michigan comes up with similar findings, the use of studded tires may be prohibited, or sharply restricted, in this country.

The report won't be forthcoming for at least a year, however, and any all-out ban on the tires following it will probably take the form of a phase-out operation. So, says Vialle, car-owners could go ahead and purchase studded tires for the 1970 and 1971 seasons.
