12 Petitions

Commission Race Picks Up Steam

It's beginning to look like the May Commission election is going to be a lively and hotly contested affair.

Seven residents have already declared their candidacy, including the four incumbent Commissioners, who threw their hats in the ring this past weekend at various affairs throughout town.

Joining Commissioners Mary Senatore, Vincent Strumolo, Joseph McGreevy and Mayor Ken Smith in the ring, are former Councilman James R. Golden, retiring Board of Education President Rocco Salletta, and Juvenile Detective Michael Marotti.

Although these seven have declared their candidacies, none have actually filed petitions with the required 57 names with Town Clerk Eugene Barnett.

Barnett reports that as of Monday, 12 petitions had been taken out, with the deadline for filing April 1. In addition to the seven declared candidates, the other five residents who've taken petitions are Mrs. Ruth Dillon, Frank Racapelli, Nicholas Raimo, Salvatore LaMorte and Julius Minuskin.

Conservative estimates by political observers are that at least 17 residents will seek the five available seats on the Commission.

Incumbent Commissioners took advantage of weekend parties to declare their candidacies. Mayor Ken Smith tossed his hat in the ring before a large crowd of 500 people gathered at the Fountain Restaurant for a testimonial in his honor.

Commissioner Senatore announced her candidacy during a crowded birthday party for her mother, Mrs. Jenny Vuono, at Vuono's Tavern. Mrs. Vuono celebrated her 85th birthday, with all of those years as a Belleville resident.

Public Affairs Commissioner Strumolo took the occasion of his Association's annual dinner to announce he would seek reelection. Revenue and Finance director Joseph McGreevy declared his candidacy before a meeting of the Belleville Elks.

Marotti, a Belleville cop for 19 years, announced his candidacy with impressive backing at the Amvets Post home. The juvenile detective waved petitions with over 4,000 signatures to his enthusiastic supporters, a number which if translated into votes would probably assure him of the Parks and Public Property seat he is seeking.

Salletta, who just finished two terms on the School Board including two years as president, announced his candidacy at a large victory celebration for Lawrence Schwartz at the Belleville Social Club.

Former Councilman Golden, who served from 1962-66 under the Council-Manager form of government, declared he would seek office during a speech made at the last regularly scheduled Commission meeting. Golden, who was defeated in 1966 by 35 votes for reelection, was also unsuccessful in the 1967 commission race.

declared his candidacy for the Commission election before over 500 enthusiastic supporters.

Smith Blasts Freeholders

By Phil White

Belleville was the best represented Essex town at last week's attempt by suburban mayors to cut Freeholder spending this year. But as far as Mayor Kenneth Smith is concerned, the session was largely a waste of time. And Smith made no bones about making his feelings known either.

The Belleville Mayor interrupted the staid proceedings in midafternoon by standing up and urging the session to address itself to specific ways of cutting the $112.9 million county budget.

"This budget is up 23 million dollars," Smith said in an angered tone, "and I for one don't want to sit here all afternoon wasting my time." He was referring to what amounted to constant political bickering which took up most of Thursday's proceedings.

Smith's sentiments were echoed by his majority colleagues representing every Essex Municipality except one, South Orange (?).

The session, called for noon, continued until nearly 6 p.m. although Smith apparently became further disgusted with the lack of progress because shortly after 4 p.m., he and the rest of the town's delegation abruptly departed.

Although the meeting was hailed by Freeholder Director

Walkout Possible

Three Big Issues Face New Board

Belleville's reorganized Board of Education already finds itself with three controversial issues on its hands and the promise of several difficult weeks to come.

The Board, which elected new officers last night, has its lap filled with a rejected school budget, a possible teacher walkout, and unrest amongst student leaders at the high school.

Although the Times-News went to press before the Board's meeting last night, it was expected that Leonard Back would be named to succeed Rocco Salletta as president of the school body. A Board source told the Times Monday that Back had "at least four votes"; and that Joseph Casale would probably return as Board vice president.

The budget, which local voters rejected for the ninth time in the past ten years (an Essex County record), now goes before the Commission to readjust.

The School Board will be asked to sit in during the commission's inspection of the financial bill, and according to Revenue and Finance Director Joseph McGreevy, "give us some indication of where we might make reasonable cuts."

Commissioner McGreevy said Town Fathers have not discussed the school budget yet and would wait until the document arrives from the Board of Education. McGreevy dismissed rumors that Commissioners were $13,000 from the budget.

A possible teacher walkout, meanwhile, came one step closer to reality this week when the frustrated Belleville Education Association asked for a "fact-finding" session, which teacher negotiator George Nucera called the last alternative before a walkout.

Previously, the Board and teachers failed to arrive at a salary agreement during standard negotiations and a mediator from the Public Employee Relations Commission (PERC) was called.

Mediation, however, also failed, and so the teachers called a fact-finding session this past Tuesday. During that meeting both sides presented their case to the mediator, who then returns a "non-binding" recommendation for settlement within five days.

Nucera said, however, that the "non-binding" label was misleading, and felt the mediator's recommendation carried "a bit more persuasive power than is technically recognized."

"I wouldn't necessarily call it non-binding," Nucera told the Times Monday. "Legally it isn't, but it carries with it a moral weight, plus the weight of the commission (PERC) office, a weight both parties acknowledged by agreeing to sit with the mediator."

The teacher negotiator also said if the Board rejected PERC's recommendations, "after that the only thing left for us would be to walk the streets."

Nucera charged that the Board "hasn't been willing to move at all from its first offer," and felt the Board did so because "it is trying to present a good political budget." Presumably, Nucera was referring to charges by some political observers that some expenditures were kept from the budget to enhance Rocco Salletta's image during his bid for a Commission seat. Nucera said he refused to comment further.

Students Claim: Talk, No Action Causing Unrest

By Nat Gottlieb
and
Beth Fitzgerald

"All talk and no action" seems to be the verdict of Belleville High School student leaders on repeated promises for "increased communications" made by administrators and Board of Education members.

Last night students crowded the Board office during the annual reorganization meeting to express discontent for what they claim is the unresponsive attitude of school officials to student needs.

The student action comes after last Thursday's demonstration at the high school in which 200 BHS pupils refused to return to classes after an assembly program. That action also centered around alleged communication failures between student leaders and top school administrators.

Much of the discontent expressed by Student Council President Brenda Cameron and Senior Class President

Commissioner Mary

Senatore has agreed to cut $9,000 from her Public Works budget after meeting with a 16 member resident committee.

The meeting was called by the Commissioner, who received several suggestions about her budget, which shows less than a point increase.

Joe McGreevy After Reelection

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy announced he would seek reelection last Wednesday night during a meeting of the Belleville Elks Club.

In making his announcement, McGreevy emphasized what he said were his fiscal accomplishments during his term as director of Revenue and Finance.

"During my term in office," McGreevy said, "$874,000 was paid off on town bonds and notes, and $182,000 in water utility bonds and notes. The surplus cash was increased by $619,000, improving the town financial picture by $1,675,000."

Commissioner McGreevy also said that with the introduction of the 1971 budget the town will have a total bonded debt of $108,000 and $40,000 in water bonds payable in 1973.

The commissioner said his department had 27 employees in 1967 and now has 24 due to a death and two retirements. His 1971 budget, he says, is $610 less than his budget for 1969 and 1970. He also claims to have returned $131,000 from his four budgets to the town treasury in unexpended funds.

In his statement, McGreevy also took exception to what he said were remarks made by Board of Education president Rocco Salletta that the school budget's defeat was due in part to the introduction of the municipal budget the day before election. He also addressed himself to "Salletta's comment that commissioners were going to cut $130,000 from the school budget."

McGreevy said that "the town budget was introduced at a regular meeting with the press in attendance and that it was a mere coincidence that it was the day before the school election." He also said "the $130,000 that Salletta talks about must have been included in the budget in case it was voted down because the Commissioners have never discussed the school budget and intend to invite the School Board to a meeting on that

Rejects Aid Bid

The State Department of Transportation has rejected Belleville's application for $12,600 in state aid for the construction of a storm sewer in Cross Street.

Commissioner Mary Senatore, director of Public Works expressed disappointment at the state's action, and said she hoped a similar fate was not in store for her application for $73,500 for the reconstruction of Division Avenue.

The Cross Street funds were sought by the Commissioner to alleviate severe drainage problems resulting during flash floods. Mrs. Senatore said she would abandon the $14,000 project which had planned for construction of a 200-foot, 14-inch storm sewer from Belmont to Watchung avenues.

Mrs. Senatore said she has sent copies of the rejection to area residents.

Running Independently

Mrs. Senatore To Seek Reelection As Director

Commissioner Mary Senatore took the occasion of her mother's 85th birthday to announce she would seek reelection this May.

Mrs. Senatore, who is director of Public Works, spoke before a large gathering of relatives and friends in Vuono's Tavern, where her mother, Mrs. Jenny Vuono was being honored.

In her statement, Mrs. Senatore said she had lived up to all campaign promises of 1967, and that "if reelected I will continue to serve the people of Belleville with the sincerity, friendliness and dignity of my past term."

The commissioner, who said she would run independently, spoke at length of her work in the Public Works Department.

"I feel I have instituted many improvements to the department, such as the resurfacing and reconstructing of many roads, sewer lines, and have provided constant and efficient services to the people. I have also financed much of our department's work through federal and state funds."

Mrs. Senatore also said she would continue "to have an open door policy at my office or home to listen to the complaints of both young and old."

"I have kept my budget to a minimum and take pride to have served as an elected official this past four years," she continued. "As a life-long resident of this town I have been concerned with all of our problems. I believe the town is now enjoying the reputation the people of Belleville rightfully deserve through this Commission form of government."

BELLEVILLE OFFICIALS were among the numerous Essex County officials who joined forces at a special meeting last week to protest the proposed Board of Freeholders budget. Commissioner Joseph McGreevy (center) and Commissioner Vincent Strumolo (right) compare notes with Nutley's Mayor Harry Chenoweth during the meeting. Also representing Belleville were Mayor Ken Smith and Town Treasurer Francis McCoy.

Belleville Officials Protest Essex County Budget

Dr. Wynona M. Lipman as one conducted "in a spirit of mutual interest," that description most often was out of place.
When delegates returned from lunch, for example, mimeographed sheets had been distributed. No one seemed to know just where the sheets came from, but they attempted to show some spectacular jumps in the costs of municipal operations during the past decade.

It was Belleville Town Treasurer Francis McCoy who spoke up the first on this score.

"Where did these figures come from?" McCoy demanded to know. Again, no one could answer the question. McCoy then produced evidence indicating the figures on the mimeographed sheet had attributed Belleville with spending about $2 million over actual appropriations in recent years. Finally, it was discovered that the mysterious sheets had incorporated the county's share of the local budgets over the years. McCoy called the distribution of the figures "misleading." Others had even more disparaging remarks to make.

In addition to Mayor Smith and McCoy, Belleville was represented by Commissioners Vincent Strumolo and Joseph McGreevy. The delegation was the largest of any suburban town at the hearing. Nutley was represented by Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth.

The Belleville officials were given moral support from the audience where two well-known town hall critics, Mr. and Mrs.

Norman (Sally) Hood, spent the afternoon.
The session accomplished very little, in retrospect. Mayor Smith proposed the county consider spending some funds for a professional survey of Essex operations. That met with mixed reaction.

Smith made the recommendation after asking a series of questions of Freeholders, and each time getting a conflicting response. "Obviously, the trouble with this budget is that you freeholders aren't familiar with it," Smith said.

Commissioner Mary Senatore wasn't at the Hall of Records last Thursday, but her name popped up in debates throughout the afternoon. Commissioner Senatore recently was given a $10,000 job as secretary to the Essex Planning Commission.

Sen. Milton H. Waldor noted that Mrs. Senatore is the Democratic Party's town chairman in Belleville.

"It's not so much the $10,000 as it is the concept of government that's being followed by this board of Freeholders," Sen. Waldor charged.

"By hiring Mrs. Senatore as a $10,000 secretary, you are telling the people of Essex County that you are unconcerned about money," Waldor continued.

The Senatore appointment also was lambasted by Montclair Mayor Matthew G. Carter.

"I raise serious question about a secretary for the Sheriff's Office and the Planning Board office at $10,000 respectively," the Montclair Mayor said in a prepared statement made in behalf of the Essex County Conference of Mayors.

"Surely, a competent secretary can be found for the Planning Board office for less than $10,000," he said, referring to Commissioner Senatore's new position with the county.

Most of the Mayors at the session spoke. None, however was sufficiently familiar with the Freeholder budget to make specific recommendations for budget cuts.

There were many generalized suggestions - like returning each budget to the respective department head for across the board 10 per cent reductions.

The Mayor of West Caldwell urged the Board of Freeholders to take three positive steps: place a freeze on all jobs, discharge all temporary county employees, and eliminate all overtime costs.

Freeholder Director Dr. Lipman assured the session that "this board has not stopped trying to find ways to cut this '71 budget." She placed much of the blame for increases on "state mandated" costs.

Although Dr. Lipman seemed to present convincing argument that as much as 60 per cent of the Essex Budget was mandated by state programs, Sen. Waldor addressed himself to the same point and charged the Freeholders with using state monies to "build a political party machine" and said that in actuality, state monies were being returned to Essex in increasingly greater percentages.

"The very first piece of legislation enacted when the Republicans took control of Trenton was to increase the state's share of welfare costs from 50 to 75 per cent. That meant dollars returned to Essex County," Sen. Waldor said. "But where are those dollars today?"

He noted there are bills presently before legislators to increase the state's share to 90 and 100 percent of county welfare cost.

In Belleville, the picture is similar. Local municipal operations are reflected by a 21 point increase while the assessment of the County Board of Freeholders takes up 40 points in the local tax rate.

"matter."
The Commissioner told the Elks he would "continue to pursue his aim of four years ago to get the town on a cash basis and to keep a tight hold on the town finances by strict economies."

He added that he would seek the Revenue and Finance office again as an independent candidate, and would take his campaign "to the people personally by ringing doorbells as I did four years ago."

Commissioner McGreevy is married to the former Jane Higgins and has a son Michael. He was educated at St. Patrick's School in Belleville, St. Benedict's Prep in Newark, and holds a B.S. degree from Seton Hall University. He is a lifelong resident of Belleville.

The School Board Election

The voters demonstrated good sense in returning to office School Board members Mrs. Norma Mc Cool and Lawrence S. Schwartz. The voters showed further good judgement in electing Matthew Pica to the third vacancy.

We are disappointed with the voters' rejection of the School Board budget. It was the fourth straight year that a Belleville School budget was turned down by local citizens.

The school election contest was conducted on a reasonably high level and voters owe a debt of thanks to the candidates for minimizing personalities and concentrating on issues.

The Town Commission now has the job of reviewing the School budget and coming up with a modest reduction.

We hope next year when prosperity is expected to return to the people of our country, perhaps voters may finally vote approval for a school budget.

The announcement on election day that Belleville taxpayers would be faced with a 78-point tax increase this year obviously did not contribute citizen's desire to approve the school budget regardless of how frugal a document it is.

The Abused Abraham Lincoln

The most venerated President of the 19th century was Abraham Lincoln—the most abused in southern states until shortly after his death.

Lincoln in recent years has been abused by some who criticize him for not being liberal enough in the field of racial relations; he has been faulted for limiting his famed emancipation proclamation to blacks in seceded states (which actually freed few) and for arguing, just before the Civil War, against a vote for blacks.

But Lincoln was a man who altered his views as he learned, a man with almost infinite patience, tolerance and forgiveness—a man bigger than contemporaries around him realized.

If indeed there might have been someone who could have avoided war, history does not tell us who he was; history does confirm that Lincoln held the nation together and championed the cause of individual freedom to an unprecedented degree at that time. These are monumental and everlasting accomplishments.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hardin County, Kentucky on the 12th in 1809, the family having derived from England and Scotland; various members settled in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky. Lincoln's father lived many years in various places in Kentucky, then moved to Indiana, then to Illinois, where Lincoln practiced law and entered politics. He was elected to the state legislature at 25, to Congress at 37, and defeated at 49 in his bid for the Senate (by Stephen Douglas).

He had made such an impression in that losing race, however, he was nominated for President two years later (1860) and at 51, was elected. He took office in 1861, directed and won the war, and died only days after Lee's surrender at Appomattox at the hands of an assassin, and has been one of the two most venerated Americans throughout the world since.

Seems Only Yesterday

Zone Board Alternate Gets Full Membership

One Year Ago

Anthony Agresta, an alternate member of the Zoning Board, was appointed to full membership to succeed Richard Dacey, who had resigned. Agresta came to the job with three years of experience as an alternate to the board. John Gualtieri was to take Agresta's place as alternate.

The Essex County Board of Freeholders was to vote on a proposal to erect a bridge across Belleville's Third River at Carolyn Road. Mayor Kenneth Smith had been seeking the construction of the bridge for three years to alleviate what he called a potentially "grave fire hazard" for the Rutan Estates. With increases in traffic traveling over the Third River on Joramelon Street, the Mayor pointed out that it would pose some difficulties for fire engines attempting to reach the Rutan area.

Belleville Public School Eight dropped the PTA system in favor of the increasingly popular Home and School Association set-up. The institution joined schools number Two, Four and the Senior High in abandoning the national association. Leading the movement to spur other groups into joining the Home and School Association was Christie Albanese. Albanese had made appearances before several PTA's, and stated that many were in favor of the move toward such educational decentralization.

Five Years Ago

Belleville's Local Assistance Board held its annual organizational meeting at Belleville Town Hall. Appointed to the Board were Mayor Nuncio R. Pico, Right Rev. Monsignor Joseph M. Kelly and Rabbi David P. Prince. They joined the other board members who were Mrs. William Gagnon and the Reverend Henderson E. Goldstein. Mayor Pico was elected chairman of the Board.

The long sought-after acquisition of the Jergens-owned plot of land at Franklin Avenue and Mill Street became a reality when the Town Council unanimously agreed to accept the $51,000 gift from the Andrew Jergen Cosmetic Company. The land had been offered several times before, but a conflict between councilmen had forestalled the transaction. The Jergen Company had offered the land free for use in constructing a complex of municipal buildings.

The Belleville Board of Education trimmed some $85,000 from its defeated budget—the second consecutive year that the budget had been defeated—and announced it would resubmit the scaled down fiscal request to a public vote on February 21. With the new figures, the estimated tax increase amounted to 25 points, stated Town Treasurer Francis McCoy, based on an average $16,000 home, which meant $40 per taxpayer.

Ten Years Ago

If Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero resumed his disparagements on the school board's relationship with architect Alfonso Alvarez, board member Ernest Arvidson said he would introduce a motion to censure the senior board member. Some school board officials said Di Ruggiero had come close to being censured at a special session called to direct him "to divulge... information and data (concerning) the school architect." The resolution concluded with the stipulation that if Di Ruggiero did not comply with the directive, "the board shall take such action as it deems necessary and proper."

The Belleville school board was to reorganize with Arthur M. Pico as its newest member. Pico drew the largest number of votes when he and Richard H. Drake, an incumbent, were elected to three year terms on the Board. One of the first problems of the new board would be another election on a school budget. Town voters knocked down the $2,738,515 budget. Another aspect of the election was the defeat of Mrs. Violet Rochau, who had served on the Board for eight years.

New minimum health standards set by the state and which were to become law throughout New Jersey municipalities on April 1 were already having an effect on the Belleville Health Department. A citizens' committee headed by Dr. Melvin Freundlich of 1 Louise Court was surveying the Belleville department with the aim of providing the state with information to enforce its new standards on the town.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The upcoming Commission election received an injection of interest in what had been a very quiet preliminary, when Elmer S. Hyde, who was making his fifth attempt to gain a commission berth, and Robert C. Gruhin, prominent attorney, announced their intentions to run. They joined the previously announced candidates of Anthony Pascal and Humbert A. Guglicelli.

In spite of a record budget showing an increase of $95,979, and a total of $690,106 to be raised by taxation, only 63 ballots were cast in the annual school election on the adoption of the budget. According to Ruel Daniels, district clerk of the school board, five of the ballots were rejected, and 41 of the votes were cast by school system employees.

Members named to the Girl Scout Council were Miss Helen McNair and Mrs. W.G. Forrester, members of the faculty of Greylock School; Mrs. Lawrence Willette of 137 Stephens Street, Negro author, playwright and lecturer and Mrs. Seymour Olion, wife of the director of the Silver Lake Community House.

Forty Years Ago

"There are probably 100 or more boys and girls in town who spend their days hanging around poolrooms, on the streets and in speakeasies, instead of going to school," declared Recorder George Fitzsimmons. Along with Truant Officer Berry, Fitzsimmons hoped to return the young people to their proper place—the schools.

Commissioner William H. Williams accused Town Counsel John B. Brown of failing to meet his legal obligations by "deliberately maltreating your (the town's) opinions in an attempt to confuse." The dispute arose over the misunderstanding on the number of votes required to pass the 1931 budget.

Two classes for subnormal students were to be established in the school system. The Board estimated that thirty pupils were in need of special instruction. Supervising Principal George R. Gerard was instructed to make a survey, taking into consideration not only pupils who were regarded as subnormal, but also those who had failed to pass their grades two or more consecutive years.

Youth Leader Says Council Keeps Working

To the Editor,

Many students feel that there is a need for some weekend activities, but what the Youth Council needs are some ideas to work upon. We would appreciate any suggestions citizens or students may have concerning new activities for the high school teenagers in Belleville.

During the summer and fall we began the successful stadium discoteque "Our Place". To dispel any rumors as to a reason why it was closed (for example, some say the police closed it because of complaints about noise), I would like to say that the only reason was because of the weather conditions. In the winter the enclosed area of the discoteque is too cold and damp, and as the snow thaws it leaks inside—just as the rain does. Being that the students enjoyed it so much, it will be reopened when the weather starts improving.

As for dances at School Three—we had some, and would have had more if no other activities had been planned such as the basketball games or Elks Club dances. Since other things were held, it seemed foolish to schedule something else and work against them because both were (and still are) trying to achieve the same goal—to give the young people of our town something to do and a place to go. On any open Friday night when nothing in Belleville has been planned, that's when our Youth Council will hold a dance.

Though many people may realize that boredom among the teenagers is evident, we are asking you to please help the Youth Council by telling us what you would like. Please send suggestions to me at 29 Princeton Terrace in Belleville, and we then can look into any workable ideas. By doing something like this you are showing your interest and not just sitting back to complain about something you can help.

By the way, the Youth Council will hold a dance at School Three tonight with live entertainment by "Fresh Air." The dance runs from 7:45 to 11 p.m. and admission is $1. Students must bring their membership cards.

Youth Council President

Sees Budget For This Year As 'Shocking'

To the Editor,

The budget for Belleville has been announced and everyone is suffering from a case of shock. The question is whether that shock will turn into resignation, or an anger born of frustration. The frustration of having listened to the federal government talking about inflation and then taking steps which has caused wholesale unemployment, a freeze on salary increases, and in some cases, people having to take a cut in salary in order to keep working. Even with all this, our budget will increase up to sixteen percent this year. This is a substantial increase over the ten percent of last year and the nine percent from the year before. At this rate I'll begin to believe community property has a different meaning than originally intended.

The question that each taxpayer should ask at this time is whether he is receiving full value for his tax dollar. Each taxpayer must satisfy himself in this respect by accepting the increase without question or by attending the public hearing at the high school on March 8 at 8 P.M. and question the spending of his money. If you're still not satisfied with either the manner in which your money is being spent or the amount that is being spent, then you can show it at the polls in May's election.

It should be evident to everyone by this time, that steps have to be taken soon or the taxes we paid in 1969 will be double by 1977. It's not a prospect we can afford, since our earnings will not increase at such a rate. National statistics has substantiated that inflation is on the increase and it has been very evident in our government, so the preceding theory contains more fact than fiction.

If you think that your attendance at the public hearing will not accomplish anything, then remember this, your absence from the hearing is your acceptance of the budget. Therefore, you can't expect cuts in future budgets if you're so willing to accept increases.

Police Are Lauded For Extra Effort

To the Editor

Recently, there was a squirrel in my house. I called the game warden, but his office refused to come. I was told to open the windows and doors to see if the squirrel would leave by itself. If it did, then they would come and get it on the outside (So, who needs them then?).

I called the Police Department, and they immediately sent Patrolman Charles Oese and Patrolman Robert McDonald. They got the squirrel out. This is not their job, but the Belleville Police are always ready and willing to help.

My gratitude and thanks to these two patrolmen and the Police Department. They are the finest around.

I believe that the Department of the Game-Warden should be looked into when they refuse to come to the aid of citizens in need.

PEOPLE ACROSS THE COUNTRY are experiencing an economic squeeze in varying degrees. While incumbent politicians at the national level speak of a "slight recession", the 14-month slack in our economy must be considered a depression of great magnitude. In two weeks National Airlines is eliminating some flights and laying off more personnel right across the board. The only airline that hasn't scheduled a cutback in personnel is Eastern Airlines — and if things don't get better soon, it is quite likely that Eastern will follow its competitors and make substantial layoffs.

For the second successive week, we flew on a twin-engine DC-9 jet and we are convinced the loudspeaker system installed in this type equipment is N.G. Passengers simply cannot understand the captain's message regardless of how attentive they are.

While the DC-9 is scheduled for a two hour and thirty-six minute flying time trip between Newark and Fort Lauderdale, it simply never happens. The twin-engine jet requires between two hours and forty-five minutes and three hours to complete the journey.

I was pleased to see my old friend Bill Casey, a prominent New York lawyer, appointed by President Nixon as Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Casey is a law partner of former Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall. He is a recognized authority on legal, tax, financial and economic subjects. In accepting the $40,000 job, Casey is probably sacrificing at least $100,000 in additional income.

FORMER JUDGE WALTER D. VAN RIPER is one of the most inspiring men I have met in my lifetime. The ex-judge served as State Attorney General under former Governor Walter Edge. He doesn't smoke and according to Walter, "I never had a drink in my life". As a toastmaster he is unexcelled. Despite the fact that Van Riper has an ailing wife, frequently he accepts speaking assignments and on those occasions he never fails to call his home several times during the course of the evening to comfort Mrs. Van Riper. Van Riper is a good guy — a man's man — and a fellow who is entitled to a testimonial dinner just because he deserves one.

GEORGE WALLHAUSER, Jr., the Essex GOP Chairman and newly appointed Public Utilities Commissioner, has gained the respect of his two colleagues on the PUC. With only one month's service behind him, George already has made major contributions to policy decisions of New Jersey's most important public body.

I was having dinner Saturday night in Vincent Bruno's Capra's Restaurant, located on Miami's Biscayne Boulevard, when all of a sudden the waiter showed a mini-sized table next to mine. A couple was immediately seated and within minutes a crowd gathered round the gentleman with handshakes all over the place. I didn't recognize the celebrity but a few minutes later we were deeply engrossed in conversation which lasted for a couple of hours. He turned out to be Shecky Greene, one of the country's top comedians, who debuts Friday night in the Eden Roc's Cafe Pompet. Shecky proved to be quite an interesting fellow and has his pulsebeat on many subjects other than entertainment.

SOMEONE SHOULD REMIND ME never to travel on a four-day weekend. This past weekend was nothing but mass confusion — at the Newark Airport, Miami Airport, restaurants and highways.

The flight attendants who wrestled with the problem of children and impatient grown-ups were Senior Berti Hartmann, Gwen Barton, Cynthia Miller and Sharon Hazel. Inconsiderate passengers made the girls' jobs difficult but they handled their problems with the aplomb of professional diplomats.

RECENTLY THE PRESIDENTIAL COMMISSION on Obscenity and Pornography submitted its report to the President and would you believe the Commission's report is now being sold as pornography.

In the report the Commission suggested more laws on pornography be repealed. Not too long ago President Nixon denounced the report as "morally bankrupt."

The 352-page softcover edition is being retailed at $12.50 per copy. It contains hundreds of photographs explicitly depicting wide varieties of sexual activity. Pictures in the edition include advertising photos of X-rated movies, excerpts from underground comic books and explicit photos of sexual practices. The section on bestiality is profusely illustrated. An introduction to the volume by Dr. Eason Monroe, Southern California Director of the American Civil Liberties Union, states, "Noticing this volume on a display rack, some people might think it was a 'dirty book'. Anybody led by that impression to hastily and avidly thumb its pages for sexual stimulation would be due for a disappointment." The United Press International observes that Dr. Monroe obviously was not referring to the illustrated version. On the basis of the UPI report, I think the product of the Presidential Commission of Obscenity and Pornography is something our society could do without.

Schwartz Wins Case In Court

Belleville attorney Lawrence Schwartz won acquittal for a man accused on three charges of gambling. The decision was handed down in Essex County Criminal Court by Judge Joseph B. Sugrue and a 12-member jury, February 4.

The defendant, a Garden State Parkway toll collector, was found not guilty of charges of bookmaking, possession of lottery slips, and working for a lottery. Schwartz is a member of the firm of Schwartz and DePlato, 353 Washington Avenue.

Budget Looked At

Recommendations by the resident committee were that no new employees be hired, and that new heavy equipment be bonded and brought up to date by a five year program.

It was also requested that the Planning Board give a more thorough explanation of its requested funds. Mrs. Senatore reports the Planning Board was sent a letter asking a representative be present. No one from that Board, however, showed up.

The meeting took place February 10, and according to Mrs. Senatore, residents agreed "the Department of Public Works held the line on its budget."

Candidate Night At Shawger School

Candidate Night was held on Tuesday evening February 2 by the James G. Shawger Home and School Association. All the candidates attended and briefly summarized their qualifications and the goals they hoped to achieve if they were elected. Rocco Saletta, Board president, outlined the upcoming School Budget with Mrs. Norma McCool, Richard Mahmarian, Caesar Romano, and Lawrence Schwarz giving their views and explanations on the various expenditures, but all stressing the extreme need of its passing in order to provide quality education for our students.

The Bakers Dozen and the Bellairs, under the direction of Dr. Samuel Peck, provided the evening's entertainment with some classical selections which were enjoyed by everyone. Here again was an excellent example of one of the extra curricular programs that Belleville is fortunate to offer its students and of the dedication and hard work put forth by our educators.

While refreshment were being served an informal discussion was held during which the Board Members participated and answered questions by the parents.

Public Service Electric and Gas Company is notifying more than 5,000 of its large-volume industrial and commercial gas customers this week that it is placing restrictions on additional gas service. The restrictions do not affect residential customers. In all, Public Service has 1,250,000 gas customers.

Girl Scouts To Mark Their Special Week

Plans for the observation of Girl Scout Week, March 7 to 13 are underway for all Belleville troops as they celebrate their 59th year of scouting in the U.S.A.

The first American troop was started in Savannah, Ga., on March 12, 1912, as a result of the belief of Juliette Low that girls could work for and achieve world friendship by learning, understanding and helping others around them.

It's remarkable how many foolish statements wise men make.

Eating is easy and natural except when you are not familiar with the food or the language of the country. Ordering your way in the next country does not guarantee the same success in the next. For example, in Germany, if you ask for two 4-minute eggs, it will suit your taste. However, if you ask a Florentine waiter in his own language, he will bring you two raw eggs four minutes after you've ordered them and crack them into a water glass. A ham sandwich is often just a slab of brown bread with several wafer-thin slices of raw ham. Eating in Europe is an outstanding experience and you should treat yourself to a few more expensive meals in every country you visit.

THE GENERAL PRACTITIONER

Over the years we have seen many old and familiar favorites pass from the scene. Often without comment. Recently we read that although the actual number of physicians had increased in the last five years the number of G.P.'s (General Practitioners) is growing less each year. In twenty years the percentage has dropped from almost 50% of physicians to about 20% and one-fifth of them are over 65 years old.

We will miss seeing and working with physicians who have the grand old label of G.P. Surely it represents progress and more specialized health care, but these dedicated men were part of a time that we look back upon with fond memories of their dedicated service.

Tri-Towners Watch Movie of Moon Walk

The Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, N.J., watched man's first walk on the moon during a New Jersey Bell Telephone Company lecture on the manned space program presented by George Young at Tri-Town's monthly dinner meeting.

The lecture program, "Destination Moon," included color film footage taken during the Apollo 11 spaceflight. It took the audience from blastoff to recovery, including exciting film of the first step and walk on the moon.

"Stars and Stripes" was the theme chosen for the annual card party, which will be held on April 24 to raise funds to continue the club's scholarship program.

Two new members were welcomed to the club, Miss Elreta Blackman of Orange and Miss Mildred Ritchie of Bloomfield.

Belleville Girls Are Presented At Cotillion

Four Belleville residents were among 200 new members of sororities at Montclair State College presented at a recent cotillion in the New York Hilton.

Presented from Belleville were Daria Cali, Shawn Kirwin, Sandra LaSala and Jean Tremel. Miss Cali, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cali of 10 Springer Street, and Miss Kirwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirwin of 47 Belmoor Street, were presented as members of Theta Chi Rho.

Miss LaSala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel LaSala of 49 Reservoir Place, is a new member of Chi Kappa Xi sorority. Miss Tremel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tremel of 449 Greylock Parkway, is now a member of Delta Alpha Chi sorority.

The affair is sponsored annually by the Inter-Sorority Council, which is composed of representatives of the college's 14 sororities.

House Plants May Develop Fatal Disease

Once in a while you may notice that one of your house plants has a gall, or enlargement, on the stem at the soil line. If you dig around with your fingernail you will find a hard, nut-like object growing on the stem. This is a result of Crown Gall disease. A bacterium causes Crown Gall. Once it is in the soil other plants placed in the same soil may get the disease. If any of your plants do have the hard knots on them, discard them and the soil, urges William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

Use Fertilizer Instead Of Salt For Icy Walks

When ice and snow cover the sidewalk or driveway a homeowner may automatically reach for the salt bag. This does a thorough job of turning the ice to water and temporarily getting rid of the problem.

However, during the late spring and early summer the homeowner may be amazed to find dead grass and shrubs along the walkway, states William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County. Many times a fungus disease or an insect is blamed for the trouble caused by the salt.

Recent work done in one of our state universities suggests the use of ordinary garden fertilizer instead of rock salt.

They give several advantages to this change in the chemical. The fertilizer is claimed not to be so corrosive as the salt.

However, from the horticultural standpoint there is much in favor of the fertilizer. When the snow and ice melts the water then carries with it a fertilizer to help the shrubs rather than the salt which will injure the roots.

It's Out Of Season For Mowing But Not For Buying A Mower

Mowing the lawn is out of season now but there's no better time to think about buying a mower or preparing your present mower for spring work. If you're looking for "best buys" you're apt to find a bargain now, according to William F. Munk, senior agricultural agent of Essex County.

From the stand-point of the cutting action of the mower, you have two choices - the rotary and reel type. The rotary mower cuts by the impact of a rapidly revolving blade. The reel type cuts much like scissors, with a revolving blade rubbing against a bed knife. Properly sharpened and adjusted, each type of mower can give satisfactory results.

However, each mower has its distinct advantages and disadvantages, says Mr. Munk. The reel mower will produce a neater appearing lawn because of the cleaner type cut of the grass. The rotary mower will tend to injure or bruise the grass blades. However, when the rotary mower is kept sharp, this tendency is greatly minimized.

One of the biggest faults of home owners in using a rotary mower is failure to keep the blade properly sharpened. The rotary mower is better suited in weedy lawns and when the grass is allowed to become too tall between mowings. When used in wet grass, a rotary mower tends to clog up easily with clippings and to leave clippings in bunches over the lawn rather than evenly spread.

From a safety standpoint, rotary mowers tend to be more dangerous than the reel type. Satisfactory performance of the reel type mower requires careful attention and proper adjustment.

The type of mower to buy is the one that fits your situation best - the reel mower for the finest type lawns - the rotary for the rougher type lawn. If you are not in the market for the lawn mower, it is also appropriate to remind you that the winter is the best time to prepare your present mower for the start of the mowing season next spring. Don't wait until the day before mowing to get it in proper condition, cautions Mr. Munk. Attention to this matter now may possibly save you a great deal of aggravation next spring.

Take A Walk Around Estate

Mean weather ahead. The groundhog said so when he retired to his underground home for another six weeks.

So it'll pay you to stroll around your estate to see if your growing things have all the protection they deserve. The howling winds of February and March can bring real disaster to evergreens exposed to them.

Give the stakes holding your burlap windbreaks a couple of whacks to anchor them more firmly in the ground and make sure the burlap has no gaping holes to let the wind through.

Take a special look at the living Christmas tree you planted out after the holidays, maybe in a hurry.

The rains and thaw could have settled the roots so the tree leans.

If the roots and soil ball have not frozen fast, better straighten the tree and guy it with wires to hold it straight. Even at this late date it may pay you to shelter it with a windbreak.

These seasonal reminders come from Mr. William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County, who made some notes during a tour of his own grounds.

As usual, he wishes for the all-winter blanket of snow that would give plants the natural mulch they need.

He had to do some work with his own mulch and maybe you will too, so that frost action won't push roots up out of the ground.

Troubled Children Helped By Clinic

The North Essex Child Guidance Clinic, which serves emotionally disturbed children and their families in Belleville, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge and Nutley, is well-known to troubled children in these towns. Schools, doctors, lawyers, religious leaders and "satisfied customers" keep the Clinic so busy with referrals that it has not been able to serve all of the youngsters who need help, because of its limited funds and staff.

Yet many residents are unfamiliar with the work of the Clinic. They do not know that the Clinic is located on the grounds of Essex County Geriatric Center in Belleville, and that it is the only out-patient low-cost psychiatric facility serving emotionally disturbed children of all economic, ethnic and social levels in this area.

The following unhappy children were referred to the Clinic within one month. A first-grade child with a terminal cancer, frightened and anxious about her limited future. Her behavior, as she tried to deny her illness, drove teachers, parents, brothers and sisters to tragic distraction.

A pre-schooler who lived alone with his mother after his parents' divorce. Angry and hurt at the father's desertion, he took out these feelings in self-destructive ways. He was having many accidents (23 stitches in 5 months). Unable to sit still in school, he was learning nothing although he was intelligent. Over-protected by his mother, he felt himself to be smothered and inadequate.

An adolescent, with a violent temper, was keeping bad company, and would not confide in his parents. He stayed out late threatening to run away if his demands on his parents were denied.

One child who cried, wet the bed and had nightmares after the birth of a baby sister; another who stuttered and had temper tantrums; a third who was unable to adjust to school because of bizarre behavior; a fourth hospitalized for an appendicitis attack which turned out to be a "false alarm" - an attack of anxiety.

Two sensitive grade school children who felt themselves to be unloved, friendless and neglected. One child withdrew; the other had frequent temper tantrums, biting and hitting his playmates.

These children represent personal heartache for themselves and for their parents. Classrooms are upset, teachers are distracted, and those around these unhappy children are affected to the point of anger and hopelessness.

In helping these youngsters and their families the Clinic reaches out to ease the lives of many others in the homes, schools and neighborhood where these children live.

Board, Principal Under Fire

Students: 'All Talk, No Action' Causing Unrest

"Our Senior Senate met with the Board last October," Annette told the Times-News. "And everybody was enthusiastic after expressing their feelings."

"The Board said they wanted to meet with us once a month," Annette continued, "and we were even willing to meet twice a month. Brenda, however, has been requesting meetings since October and has gotten nowhere."

Brenda also expressed frustration to the Times. "We've called Mr. Greco's office (Anthony Greco, superintendent of schools) during some of our student meetings and only got to speak with Mrs. Shader (Mary Shader, Board secretary). She told us Mr. Greco wasn't in his office and she couldn't give us definite information on anything."

Brenda also said Board notes promised to them concerning the October meeting "have never been delivered."

The student council president also said she has spoken to Board members "when I could catch them at basketball games," and that they promised to find out what was holding up meetings, "but have never responded."

Annette expressed concern that she and other student demonstrators had been portrayed as "disrupters" and nothing more in the daily newspaper coverage of last Thursday's incident at the high school.

"The students in Belleville are decent kids and all they want is communication with officials; they're sick of being pushed around. Maybe I'm just expressing what I think a lot of the kids have within them but are afraid to say," Annette, who is also president of the Belleville Youth Council, had carried her concerns to a budget hearing at School Seven February 8, in which she questioned the procedure for administrative salaries, saying it should be based more on responsibility than on ratio scales.

Annette says she doesn't consider herself a radical student: "I'm just someone who wants to open up things. We have been sent around in circles by the Board and the school principal."

"All we are trying to do," Annette continued, "is to get Mr. Smith to listen to our problems on many subjects. All our previous attempts have failed because Mr. Smith keeps putting us off with excuses."

Last Thursday's demonstration apparently was fueled by student impatience with Smith, whom they feel should have permitted Annette to speak during a talent show assembly.

The trouble began about 9:40 a.m., when Smith refused to give Annette the microphone after the administrator had dismissed students.

Annette had not asked Smith beforehand if she could speak, but said she hadn't done so because she doubted if he would have seen her. Junior class president Bill Hamilton was actually scheduled to address students about the approaching prom, but because the assembly ran overtime, he too was not allowed to speak.

Most of the students went to their next period, but about 75 gathered in the lobby by the girls gymnasium. Smith told students they had "five minutes to clear the area" or he would call the police. The students refused and the police were called.

By the time local cops arrived, student ranks had swelled so that they filled the lobby and half an adjacent corridor.

Seniors David Brown and Michael Kramer say they were blocking the doors to keep students in the building, when police arrived and allegedly said: "Alright, if you want to leave then get out." Dave, whose shirt was ripped in the scuffle, claims to have been thrown out of the building by police.

Both Annette and Brenda also say they were blocking the doors, urging students to remain inside. A fire alarm went off however, and the entire school body left the building. The student leaders say they did not want a walkout and that police and the fire alarm had forced one.

Belleville Police Chief Joseph Smith told the Times he was aware a scuffle had broken out, but couldn't say who originated it.

"Our police report that Mr. Smith wanted the students to either leave or return to classes," Chief Smith said. "Some pushing started I guess, and then some of the students were put out of the building by police."

The demonstrators, about 200, remained outside for a half hour while Juvenile Officer Michael Marotti arranged a meeting between them and Principal Ray Smith.

At 10:40 the students returned to school and an eleven member committee was chosen to meet with Smith, Marotti, Mrs. Shaughnessy (an office staff member), and faculty members George Nucera, Mrs. Jones and Nick Grande. The committee included Annette, Brenda, Bill Hamilton, Angelo Zoppi, Michael Kramer, Dave Brown, Doug Brown, John Abriedello, Alan Sierchio, Mark Dillon and Pat Antonelli.

After a two hour meeting, the entire school was called to assembly in the gymnasium.

Kramer opened the assembly by asking students if they accepted the 11 member committee; the response was enthusiastic.

The committee said it was angry Mr. Smith had not permitted Annette to either speak at the previous assembly or hold a meeting of the senior class.

They also complained Smith should have set a definite date for installation of $500 worth of stereo equipment and for the first meeting of the Student-Faculty Curriculum and Exam Committee.

Discontent was further expressed for an abrupt change in administrative policy covering hall, telephone and lavatory passes.

Both Brenda and Annette said they have often tried to set dates for senior class meetings, but were thwarted by Smith. Smith, however, says the students fail to go through proper channels. By this he presumably means Annette or Brenda should clear meetings first with the Senior Senate, then with class advisor Richard Graves.

Smith's counter complaints centered on his claim of disorganization within the senior class government, and said "class officers do not listen."

The policy of corridor, telephone and lavatory passes was created last week according to Smith, to reduce traffic in the halls, prevent outsiders from entering school premises to sell drugs, and to thwart possible smoking of marijuana in bathrooms.

On this latter score, Brenda feels some students are worried their names are on a list of some 50 suspected drug users allegedly compiled by the Belleville Police Department.

As an outgrowth of the meeting, the stereo system was scheduled to be installed yesterday with the help of faculty member Nick Grande. Student discontent over delays on a proposed student lounge was a concern apparently voiced last night before the Board.

The committee apparently will become a permanent body to channel communications between Smith and the students. Suggestion boxes are being installed throughout the school so the committee receives a complete sampling of student opinion.

Walkout Possible

3 Controversial Issues Hit New School Body

Teacher-Board relations have never been considered "good", but this year's talks apparently have been more bitter than most. One Board member told the Times he saw no bitterness on the surface during negotiations, but admitted "some tensions are there."

Nucera also said there was bitterness and hinted a lot of it results "from the Board's attitude that compromise means losing." Nucera said "the teachers don't feel that way. We feel that by compromising you help solve a problem."

Some bitterness is also expected to linger from the BEA's statement the day before the election urging voters to "bring three new faces" to the school body, an apparent move to bloc the election of incumbents, Mrs. Norma McCool and Lawrence Schwartz. Nucera said the BEA did so because "we hoped to stop the block voting on the Board, and we felt the incumbents were part of that bloc."

Also facing the Board is pressure by student leaders at the high school for increased communications amongst students, administrators and Board members. (See article on page one by Nat Gottlieb and Beth Fitzgerald)

Big Victories

Caldwell, Nutley Bow To Bellboys

before facing Waddell.
While facing District Champ Steve Restaino, Brian wasn't able to continue his streak, as Nutley's senior won a tight 6-5 decision over the Belleville upperclassman.

Angelo Zoppi lost 6-1 to Caldwell's Rich Surbrize and bounced back with a 4-0 shutout over Nutley's Joel Feitler.

Both of Zoppi's opponents were their teams' top wrestlers as Feitler, a senior, owns one of Nutley's best records, 6-3, and Surbrize is a highly regarded sophomore with a 7-2 record.

Ed Dunckley is now 8-3

after second period scores enabled him to chalk up two more wins.
Dunckley out scored Nutley's Ted Potter 5-3 in the second period on takedowns and escapes to account for most of 7-3 final score. The BHS senior reversed Caldwell's Steve Schrier in the second period, and after losing control scored a second reverse to build up a 6-2 lead which became 8-2 with 2:50 riding time.

Walt Bennett started his second rally in two matches with a 4-3 decision over Caldwell's Curt Swanson, but the Bellboy junior lost by an identical score to Nutley's Chris Kir, setting his record back to 5-3.

Heavyweight John Atherton is 7-4 after pinning both opponents. Caldwell's Neil Zimmerman was given a full view of the ceiling at 1:34 of his match with Atherton, and Nutley's Jim Caio had a chance to look at his home school's roof at 4:27.

Sophomore Fred Arena and Senior Charles Gingerelli lost both of their two matches each this week to make their records 5-6 and 0-4 respectfully.

Bob Zarra at 130 pounds, lost 4-1 to Caldwell's Paul Rosin to make his record 1-5.

Two Defeats Mar Junior Varsity Mark

Nutley's Mariano, Nate's pin was the only Belleville jayvee win at Nutley.

Joe DeBacco pinned Kearny's Schlagenhal in 1:07 of the 178 match in Kearny, and decided Caldwell's Alvino 5-2, but was pinned by Nutley's Steve Cremon.

George Villano (JV-106) won the two matches this past week, one 7-4 at Kearny, and the other on a forfeit from Caldwell.

Ramon Lijo (JV-98) was 1-1-1 with a 4-2 loss to Kearny, a forfeit win from Caldwell, and a 1-1 tie in Nutley.

Charles Bogert was pinned at 123 in Kearny, but went 1-4 against Caldwell and tied 4-4.

Rich Sulenski (JV-130) won 6-2 against Caldwell, but was pinned in Nutley and shutout 10-0 by Kearny.

Steve Andrews won on a pin over Kearny's 136, but was pinned by Nutley's 136, and lost to Caldwell 8-4.

John Smith came back from a hand injury to take a forfeit win from Caldwell, but suffered a shoulder separation in Nutley and lost on a medical default.

State School Districts Now Reach 600 Mark
New Jersey now has a total of 600 school districts.

According to the State Department of Education, the 600 figure was reached with the recent formation of a regional high school district made up of the Borough of Netcong in Morris County and the Borough of Stanhope and Township of Byram in Sussex County.

The number of school districts in New Jersey has increased by 45 in the last 20 years and the steady climb is contrary to the national trend to reduce the number of districts. A proposal was made two years ago in the ~~Massachusetts~~ Massachusetts to considerably reduce the number of school districts in New Jersey, primarily by regionalizing small districts.

Bellboy Cagers Top Nutley For Revenge

Maroon Raiders scored the first three points of the overtime on Danny Bouton's basket and a free throw by Vernon Shepard. Junior guard Mike Petronaci got Belleville's first points of the extra session with an 18 foot jumper. With 1:01 left in the overtime, Nutley's Shepard went to the line for a one and one. He made the first, missed the second, but Nutley grabbed the rebound to retain possession.

Fifteen seconds later, Rocco Marotti stole an errant Raider pass and his outlet triggered a fast break. Charlie Carr was off target from 15 feet but Zoppa grabbed the rebound, made the shot and was fouled by Jim Arant. The basket tied the score at 62 and Zoppa swished the free throw to give Belleville the game. Nutley still had a chance with 32 seconds remaining but Shepard missed and Zoppa grabbed the rebound.

Both teams made terrific comebacks to force the game period, the Maroon made it 18-13, but Belleville tied the score again on scores by Brechtbill, Ferro, and Debbie Maloney. At the end of the third quarter, Nutley lead 22-18.

The Maroon built up a 27-22 lead halfway into the final quarter. A foul shot by Sue Chamberlain, a field goal by Brechtbill, and finally two foul shots by Maloney tied into the overtime period. The opening six minutes produced a 10-10 deadlock but Nutley asserted themselves first and grabbed a 16-10 lead at the quarter. The Raiders extended their advantage to 11 points in the second quarter, but baskets by Rich Caravetta and Bob Visco cut the Raider lead to 27-20 at the half.

For the first six minutes of the third period, Nutley was still in command as their lead fluctuated between five and nine points. The Raiders led 41-32 with two minutes to go in the quarter. Over the next six and one half minutes, bridging the third and fourth quarters, Belleville transformed a nine point deficit into an eight point lead. The Bellboys outpointed the Raiders 24-7 over that span for their best sustained rally of the season.

In the streak, Kenny Zoppa had 10, Rocco Marotti, 8, Mike Petronaci, 4, and Charlie Carr, 2. The Bellboys also converted six of seven free throws during the streak. Nutley was down but not out, with the score standing at 56-48. In the final 2:34, the Raiders rallied for 10 points to Belleville's two to end regulation time tied 58 all. Eddie Auricchio, who finished with 17 points, triggered Nutley's last second comeback with 3 baskets.

Belleville and Nutley may not be the best basketball teams in the state but every game they play is a dogfight down to the wire. The last three games played in the series have been decided by a total of five points.

BECK'S COLUMN

The TV manufacturers are playing up their new and brighter picture tubes in the advertisements. In reality, the main advantage is better contrast rather than more brightness.

A color picture tube contains a so-called Matrix, which is a plate with over a million tiny holes. The matrix is now jet black and it absorbs the light that is reflected back into the picture tube from the room. Another improvement is the use of more brilliant phosphor. Behind each tiny matrix hole there is a tiny deposit on the picture tube face plate of red, green or blue phosphor dots. As these dots are struck by an electron beam emanating from the rear part of the picture tube, the so called "gun", they light up and this makes the picture.

The brightness one can use is limited. If it is too bright, the picture becomes unpleasant for the eye. It also tends to become blurry.

Different picture tube manufacturers call these tubes by different names, but they are the same. The fact of the matter is that tube manufacturers interchange their developments. If you read the advertisements carefully, you note that one of the other manufacturer states "originated by (XXX)", that does not necessarily mean that only they use the new development.

All factories work constantly in their labs to improve performance. Many older picture tubes can be replaced with the new types.

EXPLANATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR "OTHER EXPENSES"

The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries and Wages."

Some of the items included in "Other Expenses" are:

- Material supplies and nonbondable equipment.
- Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.

Contractual services.
Printing and advertising, utility services, insurance and many other items essential to the service rendered by municipal government.

The "Summary of General Section of Budget" statement develops the local municipal tax levy which includes the "Reserve for Uncollected Taxes" or cash basis "overlay" not only for local needs but for school and county purposes as well. While school and county taxes are expressed only in amounts of cash needed for their payment, additional taxes must be raised, and included as part of the local levy, so that collections will meet requirements.

County law is estimated on information presently available and will ultimately be set by the County Board of Taxation. Local School Tax is based on the amount submitted for approval by the voters.

The Budget for 1971 produces an estimated Real Property Tax rate of $5.40 per $100.00 of assessed valuation compared with the 1970 tax rate of $4.61, an estimated increase of 79 points.

The following table shows the composition of the estimated 1971 tax levy and tax rate in comparison with the actual elements for 1970:

TV Puppeteer Set At Library

The Children's Department of the Belleville Public Library will again present a performing artist in its monthly series of special children's programs.

Mrs. Jean Rapicano, nationally known TV Puppeteer, will present two performances at the Library on Saturday, at 10:30 and again at noon.

Admission is free to all Belleville children but tickets should be picked up in advance at the library, corner of Washington Avenue and Academy Street.

Mrs. Rapicano and her puppets will need little introduction to her audience; they have appeared on Channel 9 as guest stars of the Bozo Show and more recently appeared twice on Channel 13 Christmas and New Years Eve specials. Mrs. Rapicano has also performed at Lincoln Center and at the New York State World's Fair.

Belleville Still Lags Behind Fund's Pace

Charles H. Jones, suburban chairman for the United Community Fund campaign, this week reported that Harry French, Belleville chairman, is now at 84.8% of goal.

The drive will continue until February 24 with an awards luncheon and annual meeting of the Fund to be held at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark on that day.

Stephen B. Wiley, general chairman of the campaign which includes Essex and West Hudson counties, said this week, "In my remarks at the beginning of this campaign I referred to the quality of perseverance. Now it is important that we demonstrate that quality to make our goal for the 113 health, recreation and welfare agencies which benefit from the campaign and do so much to serve all our communities."

"Although the drive is running well ahead of prior years, we must follow through on all solicitations and appeal to those who have not yet contributed to send in their gifts now," he said.

The over-all campaign now stands at $3,968,974 for 98 percent of the $4,050,000 goal for this year.

Honor Group
In Engineering
For Resident

Thomas J. Borek of 14 Ackerman Street, Nutley, was recently initiated into the Newark Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society for College Men. Borek is a senior majoring in chemical engineering at Newark College of Engineering.

The initiation ceremony took place at Thomm's Restaurant in Newark. In attendance was ODK member Dr. William Hazell, President of the College.

Omicron Delta Kappa recognizes and encourages achievement in scholarship; athletics; student government; social and religious affairs; publications; and speech, music, drama, and the other arts.

In addition to ODK, Borek is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma National Honor Fraternity, Omega Chi Epsilon National Chemical Engineering Honor Society, of which he is vice president; the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the Sigma Pi Fraternity of the United States of America. He has held the posts of secretary and treasurer of the NCE Student Senate, and has participated in various other activities at the college.

A former resident of Newark, Borek moved to Nutley when he married Miss Marjorie Crawford earlier last year. Borek's future plans include working towards a master's degree while employed as an engineer. He will receive his bachelor of science degree in Chemical Engineering this June.

Walter Worrall Elected
Quality Weeklies Head

Walter Worrall, publisher of the News-Record of Maplewood and South Orange, was elected president of Quality Weeklies of New Jersey at its annual meeting. He succeeds Mary Louise Sprague, publisher of The Item of Millburn-Short Hills, who remains as a member of the executive committee.

Quality Weeklies is the national advertising representative for 53 newspaper in 12 northern

New Jersey counties. The Nutley Sun and Belleville Times-News are both members of the group.

Pat Faiella, who is general manager of Quality Weeklies, reported sales were at an all-time high during 1970, up 39 percent over the previous year, and that 2,621,869 aggregate lines of advertising were placed with member newspapers.

Worrall acquired the News-Record in 1968 when he formed the Worrall Publishing Company. His entire business career has been in newspapers, first as a compositor with the Paterson Evening News, then as advertising manager of the Citizen of Morris County for ten years prior to taking over the Maplewood-South Orange paper.

Walter Worrall

Worrall's paper is a charter member of Quality Weeklies, which was founded 28 years ago.

John A. Sullivan III, advertising manager of the Caldwell Progress was elected vice president. Donald E. Mulford, executive vice president and associate publisher of the Montclair Times and executive vice president and secretary of the Verona-Cedar Grove Times, was re-elected secretary. William M. Litvany, general manager of the Bloomfield Independent Press and the Glen Ridge Paper and secretary-treasurer of the East Orange Record, Orange Transcript and West Orange Chronicle, remains as treasurer.

The terms of two executive-board members were extended for another year. William Klaber Jr., editor and publisher of the West Essex Tribune in Livingston, and Gordon Glover, editor and publisher of the Citizen of Morris County in Denville.

Man, 20, Tries Defending
Himself Only to Lose License

A 20-year-old Belleville man tried for nearly 30 minutes to defend himself on charges of loaning his driver's license to a friend. When the case was over, Glenn R. Frank, 217 Greylock Parkway, was found guilty, fined $35 and had his license revoked 30 days.

Frank was arrested by Patrolmen Richard J. Moran and Leonard Smalldone shortly after 5 p.m. on February 10. The Policemen said Frank's car went through a red-light at Franklin and Centre.

Frank, who remains in custody on a narcotic's charge, was led into the courtroom handcuffed. He pleaded not guilty to the motor vehicle charge, waived his rights for an attorney, and then proceeded to defend himself.

Frank told Judge Edwin J. C. Joerg that the driver of the car was Michael Dillan of Division Avenue, Belleville. Apparently, when police asked for Dillan's license, Frank testified, one of the front seat passengers reached into the glove compartment for the documents.

"One guy gave the license to Dillan who without looking at it gave it to the officer," Frank testified. The men in the car, however, couldn't locate the registration and were taken to Police Headquarters.

When police traced the car's owner to Dillan's parents, they asked Frank why he was driving the car. Frank said that was the first indication he had that it was his license that had been taken from the glove compartment.

"It was an honest mistake," Frank said.

However Ptl. Smalldone and Frank Rusignuolo, who was at Police Headquarters, both testified Frank admitted that he had "given Dillan his license because Dillan didn't have one." Frank denied making such a statement.

"All I said was that it was my license. I didn't know the police had my license until we were at headquarters," Dillan said.

After the guilty verdict was announced, Frank was handcuffed and taken back to jail.

Stereo
Stolen

Two stereo units and records together valued at over $600 were reported stolen from two apartments at 221 Harrison Street, said Nutley police.

According to detectives, there was no forced entry into the apartments. Police speculate the thieves must have had a key to the door of the apartments.

Is our future in the bag?

Some scientists give our planet thirty more years. Then population zero.

No mushroom cloud to ring down the curtain. Just pollution. Silent and simple-minded. Like people scattering trash. Paper. Glass. Plastic. Deadly trivia. That's our destiny. Unless we change our ways. Government and industry are spending millions to do away with pollution. But there's one source of pollution they can't control. People. We have to do that job ourselves.

Your automobile is a good place to start. Don't throw trash from your car. And above all, don't forget the fundamentals... keep your engine in tune. You'll cut harmful emissions decisively. Change your oil and filter on schedule. Try the new, improved gasolines. Service your car's pollution control device regularly. If you don't have one, install one.

All these steps take a little effort. But they must be done. Now.

We have a thirty-year deadline.

Your Weekly Horoscope

February 18 through February 24, 1971

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Impulsive action on your part, Ari, could get you into a real bind. Especially if it concerns loved one. Which it no doubt will. Weigh words carefully. In fact, if you could manage to play like the Sphinx you might wind up week in position of advantage. Run off at the mouth and you end up with the proverbial Morning Times.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): Rotten week facing you, Taurus. Olga begs your pardon, but you were never promised a rose garden, you know. On the other hand, one would suppose that you would have more to look forward to than weeds, weeds, weeds. Bumble thru next seven days as best you can. And beware of a Frenchman bearing Scotch. He could be your undoing. (It could be fun, but your undoing, nevertheless.)

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): You have fine intuitive mind, Gem. And in week ahead it will be to your advantage to put it into action. Maximum stress test may loom on horizon. Vibes will be strong. Hidden message to Gem in words to Libra.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Your sign is that of the Crab, Moonbaby. But do not for one minute take offense. The crab symbolizes tenacity. And that you do have. And in abundance. It is that quality which will see you thru many a difficult storm. But small word of caution: Do not cling blindly to old, outmoded forms. Seek, instead, substance within.

LEO (July 23 - August 22): Rather quiet week for old Olga's Leos. Your usual need to dominate surroundings will ebb. Accent on inner thoughts. Guard health. Avoid excesses. On fifth day contact friend who is always good for a laugh. Arrange to meet soon. Partner/mate may try to talk you into task which is boring in nature. Turn deaf ear.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22): Good week for Virg baby to get it on. Really live. Do your own personal thing, no matter how outrageous it may be. Do not permit a member of family to make you feel guilty concerning your chosen life style. Last day for making new connection. Read message to Cap for additional info.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22): Unusual experience may occur before fifth day. Pisces may be involved. Circumstances surrounding event may give you the willies. Don't freak out. Learn. Postpone any important moves until time is more favorable. Better times are coming, love. Trust Olga. And stop fretting.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21): Critical week for Scorp as far as dealings with member of opposite sex are concerned. (So what else is new? you may ask.) Play game boldly. And with dash. You have much to gain and nothing to lose. Should you feel that you have experienced a setback in this area, it is only of a temporary nature. NOTHING holds a Scorp down for long, you know. Week ends on note of concern.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21): Dream your little dreams, Sag. They are most important, no matter what others may say. Hang on to that which you know is right for Sag. Pressure mounts on fifth day. Deal rationally. Read message to Ari.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19): Bright days for Cap in week ahead. Message of import. And perhaps financial gain. Not a bad forecast, right? New contact looms on horizon. Career change may be offered. Make no commitments. Read words to Virg for extra message.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18): Prepare to spend a good part of week on tenterhooks, Aquari. Problems will abound. However, solutions will be available. You will come to conclusion that there is no way over. And no way back. The only way is thru. Now git.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20): Week starts out in high and continues to build, excitementwise. Be with those who are comfortable companions. Don't look for trouble. You might find it. What then? End of week may find you worn to a nub. If so, use your time for dreaming. Fantasies can be great therapy. And inexpensive.

W. Gibson; Pupils Former Make Resident Film

By Kathy Fitzgerald

William H. Gibson of 650 76th Street, Brooklyn, formerly of Belleville, died after a short illness, February 11, in Ingelmore Nursing Home, Livingston. He was 92.

A longtime resident of Belleville, Mr. Gibson was a purchasing agent for the transit lines before his retirement.

A member of the Richmond County Golf Club in New York, he also belonged to the N.Y. Railroad Club. He also was a member of the Crystal Wave Lodge 585 and the Mens Club of Bayridge, Brooklyn.

Predeceased by his wife, Mrs. Eva Wadsworth Gibson, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Coester.

A film of the hazards of environmental pollution concerning Belleville was put together by a group of eighth grade history students under Mr. Samuel Guiffreda.

It began in late January. The students filmed part of the Passaic River which receives pollution from factories. They recorded traffic and other sources of noise pollution. A script was written by the students and narrated by Angela Mossa. Directors of the film were Pamela Tuccino and Christopher Manning.

The students worked on this project for three weeks. Guiffreda assisted the students in various ways, but they did not need much help.

The movie was made because the class felt it necessary to bring the problem to attention. It was shown at the school's Educational Fair February 8, and was so well received that it is being shown to Guiffreda's other history classes, and to other history students in the school.

open date for March 31 and April 7, the Rev. Alfred W. Stone Jr. of Fewsmith Church.
