

See Bond Referendum For BHS Expansion In Enrollment Crisis

The Board of Education is expected to decide Monday whether or not to build an addition to the senior high school.

Although Board President Leonard Back says school officials are undecided at this point, there are strong indications the majority of Board members are committed to construction and that the only real question up in the air is how many bond referendums to have.

Back has acknowledged that one topic for discussion Monday will be the number of referendums to be offered if expansion is pursued. Sources close to the Board indicate members are unsure whether to have separate referendums for the high school addition and for the purchase of administrative offices, or to combine the two in a single offering to voters.

The Board apparently will make its decision with little help from taxpayers, who have shown minimal interest in the issue.

Thus far the Board has held two special public meetings to get feedback on the expansion. Attendance has been disappointing, with only 90 people present for the April 2 meeting and about 40 for last Friday's gathering.

Despite the small turnout at the high school last Friday, Back says the Board did get feedback on the issue. "Some people raised some very intelligent questions and opened a good discussion with us," he said.

"Among the topics discussed was the possibility of a 12 month school session," Back said. "We were also asked whether we can afford to wait to see how enrollment projections turnout."

The enrollment projections Back was referring to were contained in a report on

Caputo's GOP Challenge Flops Here Despite Big 'Lake' Vote

Assemblyman Ralph Caputo's challenge to the GOP Organization failed to get off the ground here or elsewhere in Essex County's Assembly District 11-C, despite an often bitter campaign waged by the dissident Republican.

Caputo, who moved to Belleville in October, fared somewhat better here however, than he did in the rest of the district. Former Nutley Nutley-Commissioner Carl A. Orechio and incumbent Assemblyman John Dennis won here by a 4-3 ratio, turning back what apparently was a fierce local campaign by Caputo.

Caputo's only show of strength was in the Silver Lake section of town, where in Ward 1, District 11 he polled 94 votes to 13 for Orechio, and nine for Dennis. His mate Ford also did well in that district, getting 75 votes.

Orechio and Dennis won handily in Nutley (5-1) and in each of the other district towns including Bloomfield (4-1), Glen Ridge (7-1), Verona (3-1), and Montclair (4-1).

Caputo was dropped from the Regular Organization's Assembly ticket this spring when the courts redistricted the old North Newark-Belleville-Nutley district. North Newark went into other city wards while Belleville and Nutley joined other Essex suburban communities.

The GOP leadership picked Orechio and Dennis over

Caputo for the new district, primarily because it was felt Caputo's political strength rested in the North Ward.

Caputo didn't think so, quickly moved to Belleville, declined an offer to run as the organization's candidate for Freeholder and filed an opposition slate against Orechio and Dennis. Tuesday's returns indicated clearly that Caputo's strength was non-existent anywhere except perhaps in his "new" hometown of Belleville, where he trailed both Orechio and Dennis.

Belleville's voter turnout was extremely light with only 873 Republicans voting. The returns were Orechio 454, Dennis 437, Caputo 356 and David B. Ford, Caputo's running mate, 240.

On the Democratic ticket meanwhile, former Town Attorney Nicholas Amato and Tax Assessor Peter Torre Jr. fared very well.

Amato easily out-pollied dissident Democrat Jack Trugman here 755-135 in the running for the Surrogate's nomination. Amato did equally well in Nutley, 352-74 and throughout the rest of the county.

Torre, running with running mate David Conrad for the District 11-C nomination, was the highest vote getter locally, with 785 tallies. Second highest local vote getter was Charles DeMarco, who ran unopposed for the Democratic nomination for an unexpired State Senator's post. Amato was third.

Free Ads

Next week's Belleville Times-News will feature a page of "free" advertising by high school and college students seeking employment.

Students must type or neatly print their own "employment wanted" advertising copy and deliver it to our offices so that it's received no later than Monday, June 14, at 5 p.m. "Free" ads will not be accepted over the telephone.

Advertising copy is limited to 15 words and may only be concerned with students' seeking employment. The "free" student ads will be published one week only, The Times-News edition of June 17.

Scott's 'Ruling' Being Sent To Attorney Gen.

By Nat Gottlieb

Commissioner Mary Senatore says she is "completely dissatisfied" with Town Attorney John Scott's ruling on the Michael Marotti controversy and says she has asked the state Attorney General's Office for clarification on the matter.

Scott, who was asked to render a ruling by Mrs. Senatore two weeks ago, read a prepared statement at Thursday's Commission meeting which in effect said Marotti may continue in his dual capacity as a Belleville Police officer and as a Town Commissioner.

The wording of Scott's statement however, seems to have raised an even greater cloud of confusion as to whether Marotti's dual roles constitute a conflict of interest.

One particular phrase in Scott's statement has puzzled Mrs. Senatore and numerous political observers. This was the attorney's declaration that "...I can foresee that in the future the possibility of conflict might arise on certain limited issues..." Scott later in the prepared, two page statement said: "When and if a conflict arises in the future, Commissioner Marotti of course would have to abstain from voting on those issues."

The Town Attorney did not say what these areas of conflict might be, nor did his opinion make reference to any case law. It was these two points which prompted heavy criticism from Mrs. Senatore. "I don't consider Mr. Scott's ruling a ruling at all," Mrs. Senatore said.

"It was just something off his hat," she continued. "He showed no cases in point and I'm hard pressed to see where his so called ruling comes from."

"He's talking out of both sides of his mouth when on one hand he says there is a conflict and on the other hand says Marotti is not in conflict of interest as both an employer and an employee of Belleville," Commissioner

Senatore said.

Mrs. Senatore says she wants to know "What are these things he can't vote on?" (Continued on Page 19)

Taxpayers' Suit In The Making

A taxpayer's suit to resolve the Michael Marotti controversy in court is being prepared by several residents and attorneys, the Times-News learned Monday from reliable sources.

According to the sources, these residents and a crew of attorneys are studying suit procedure and preparing necessary petitions this week to bring the matter into the courts.

The sources say Town Attorney John Scott's "ruling" in the controversy would have little bearing on their future actions.

Scott ruled last week that Marotti may serve both as a detective in the local police department and as Commissioner of Parks and Public Property.

Apparently all that is needed to bring the suit to court is a petition with the signature of 25 freeholder taxpayers. The matter would then be decided by a judge in the Superior Court of New Jersey.

The sources also said an injunction will be sought on Marotti's salary as a detective until the matter is judged. Among those involved, the sources continued, are two attorneys.

Call Complaints About Garbage 'Unprecedented'

An "unprecedented" number of complaints about garbage collection have flooded town Hall, according to Public Works Director Mary Senatore.

The Commissioner says her secretary has fielded an unusually large amount of complaints the past few weeks concerning collection. In the last two weeks alone, she said, 50 complaints were filed with her secretary.

Mrs. Senatore's list was formally presented to Mayor Joseph McGreevy at last Thursday's public meeting, at which time McGreevy promised to meet with Carmen Paucillo, owner of Belleville's garbage contract.

The Mayor met with Paucillo the following day. McGreevy said Paucillo "was more than willing to cooperate in investigating the complaints." Paucillo said, according to McGreevy, that some residents were putting garbage out after the designated collection day and in other cases were not following proper procedure for collection.

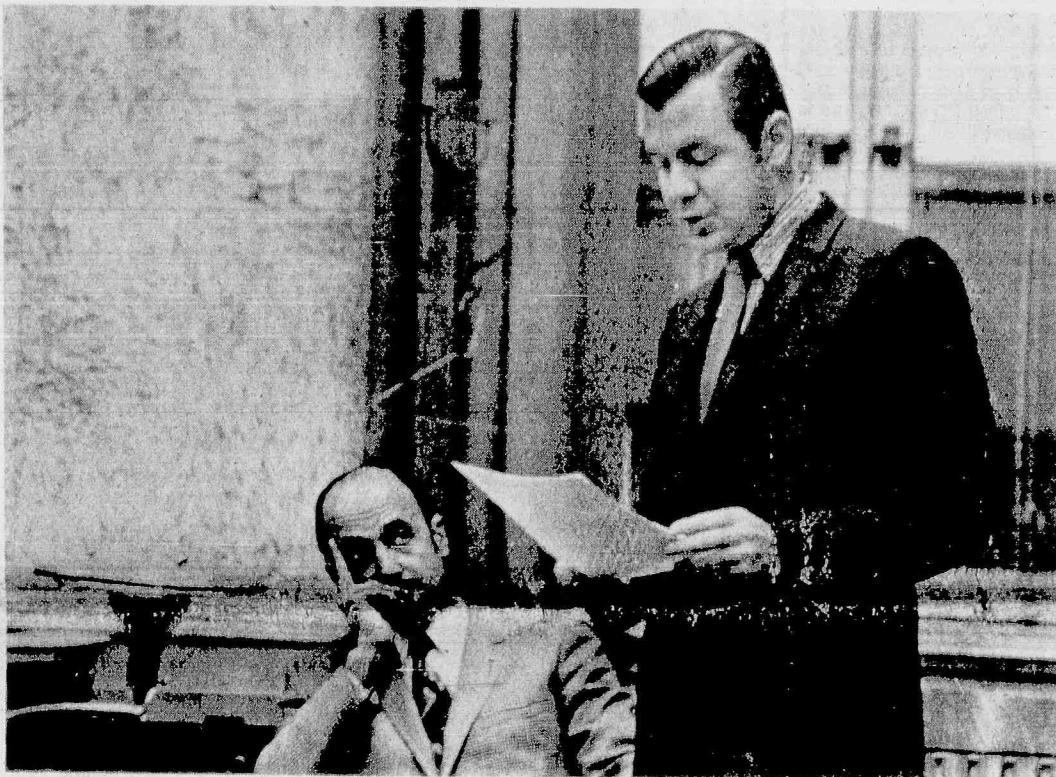

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, director of Public Affairs, had previously sent flyers to all homeowners outlining collection procedure in the new three-year contract.

That contract, which called for a $180,000 hike was the subject of bitter criticism both from officials and residents earlier this year.

The contract was referred to the state Public Utilities Commission to rule on whether the price was fair. The last communication between the PUC and the town was in April, when the PUC said the contract seemed overpriced but suggested the Town bring suit in the matter. Town officials were reluctant to do so because they said the PUC has the expertise and the power to do so itself.

Commissioner Mary Senatore apparently is the only member of the Town

At No Salary

Mrs. Senatore Seeking Job in Her Department

Public Works Director Mary Senatore is seeking a ruling from Town Attorney John Scott on whether she can hold the job title of Superintendent within her department.

Mrs. Senatore says she has been performing the duties of Superintendent of Public Works for five years without pay and now is requesting the title officially be given to her. The Commissioner says she would not accept the $13,500 salary for that post, but is merely seeking the title recognition.

"I have asked Mr. Scott to rule on the matter," Mrs. Senatore said. "If Mike Marotti can serve as an employer and an employee for the town, then so can I," she said.

Mrs. Senatore would presumably gain tenure in the post if she is granted the title, a factor she admittedly has in mind.

"If I decide not to run for the Commission again then at least I would be protected by a title and would have a job," she said.

Youths Arrested On Drugs

Belleville Police arrested five male youths this week in connection with narcotics abuse. Four of the youths are residents.

The arrests came as a result of two separate incidents in which local police observed automobiles being driven erratically.

The first incident was Sunday, with Sgt. Ray Kimble and Patrolman Pat McCabe the arresting officers. According to Deputy Chief Frank Haight, the officers observed a car operating erratically by the intersection of Joramemon and Centre Streets.

The two policemen, Haight said, stopped the car and questioned a 22 year old Belleville youth who appeared under the influence

Silver Lake Youngsters Looking For A Park Which 'Vanished'

The first park ever built in the Silver Lake section of town has vanished. At least that's the way children in the area see things.

Two weeks ago boys and girls in "the Lake" watched eagerly as town employees carted in swings and see-saws to a vacant lot at 81 Heckel Street.

Now there are nothing but long faces on the kids in that section of town. The equipment is gone, carted away almost as quickly as it appeared.

Parents in the Lake are under pressure. They're being asked to explain to the children where the park went and when it will return, it's not an easy question to answer.

"Illegal occupancy," a complicated sounding grown-up word is what the boys and girls are being asked to understand.

If the children are a little confused, they apparently aren't alone. Town officials, who before the Commission election were quite positive they legally could slap in the park, now are a bit confused over the complications which have forced the lot to be vacated.

On April 26 former Mayor

Ken Smith and Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore hustled the Times-News up to the lot for a ground-breaking publicity shot. Finance and Revenue Commissioner Joseph McGreevy, whose department apparently had no hand in the project, nevertheless came along for the ride.

The three Commissioners, along with Public Affairs Director Vincent T. Strumolo (who was not asked, or as one rumor had it, refused to get in on the publicity shot) had unanimously passed a resolution to enter into negotiations with the owner of the lot. That resolution was voted on at a special public meeting April 19 in Town Hall, a meeting which was not advertised in the newspapers. Officials said they held the special meeting "because the kids in that area can't wait any longer." A regularly scheduled meeting on April 26 apparently wasn't soon enough for the eager officials.

The only negotiation which resulted was a verbal agreement between Commissioners and Carmen Paucillo, who it turns out,

In Enrollment Crisis

See Senior High Construction

That report alarmed local officials with enrollment projections of crisis proportions at the junior and senior high schools. The only alternative to construction the Board has considered feasible is split sessions at the junior and senior high school. The Board has indicated though, that this would probably hamper the quality of education in the system.

The enrollment crisis apparently is confined to the senior and junior high school. Schools Superintendent Anthony Greco says elementary school facilities "aren't under any squeeze." Greco said 3,200 pupils are enrolled in the lower school grades, and that the Walling Report projections have these grades peaking modestly at 3,270 in 1980. The situation is not so bright at the town's two secondary schools. The Junior High School's present enrollment is 1,412. According to Greco, the state formula for operating capacity at that school is 1,103. Using the Walling report projections, the Junior High enrollment will reach about 1,570 by 1976-77, at which time Greco says that facility would have to go use a split session.

Belleville. He told the Times-News he feels an addition at the senior high and the moving of the ninth grade to that facility would be the best solution.

Greco foresees numerous ill effects if Belleville uses the split session at its secondary schools.

For one thing, the superintendent says the double sessions would result in large groups of youths being out of school during the morning and afternoon. This he said, would tax the community to provide something for the students to do. Greco says one effect of students having more time to linger on the streets would be an increase in drug abuse.

In the split session, one half the students population would attend school from 8-12 noon, with the second half going from 12-4:30 p.m. This set-up would satisfy state requirements.

DiRienzo Is Promoted To Public Utility Post

John B. DiRienzo has been appointed general superintendent of production in the Gas Department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

DiRienzo, who is a former Belleville Board of Education member, was promoted from the post of production staff engineer. He succeeds Robert S. Emanuel, who is retiring on pension.

DiRienzo, a resident of 161 Birchwood Drive, started with Public Service in 1934 as a laborer at the Harrison Gas Plant. He subsequently held positions at the plant as holder operator, chemist, chief works chemist, plant operating engineer and Essex Division plant superintendent prior to being made production staff engineer in 1966.

While working with the company, DiRienzo obtained his B.S. degree in chemical engineering from Newark College of Engineering in 1942, and his Masters Degree in chemical engineering from Stevens Institute of Technology in 1950.

DiRienzo is a former president of the local School Board. In addition, he is past chairman of the Belleville Chapter, First Aid; past chairman of the Site Committee; member of the Belleville School Building Advisory Committee; American Gas Association;

New Jersey Gas Association and the American Chemical Society. He is also a member and director of the Harrison Rotary Club and president of the Manufacturers Club of West Hudson.

Belleville Lodge Honors 50, 60 Year Members

Twelve members of Belleville Lodge No. 108, F&AM, were honored for 60 and 50 years of membership in Freemasonry yesterday, at Belleville Masonic Temple, 126 Joralemon Street.

Arthur Owens, district deputy grand master for the eighth Masonic District, made presentations on behalf of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey.

A gold wreath commemorating 60 years of membership was presented to John H. Stafford of Bronx, N.Y.

Gold tokens for 50 years of membership were presented to 11 other members. The only Belleville resident in the group is Samuel Douthett of 340 Joralemon Street.

Other New Jersey residents to be honored were Charles C. Christian of Ocean Grove; Ernest H. Cousins of Nutley; Leroy T. Dickinson of Newark; Morton M. Hansen, Sr. of Manasquan; Wesley F. Shauger of Freehold; George A. Stanier of Short Hills; and Arthur B. Wickham of Toms River.

Three out-of-state members to receive 50-year tokens are Charles H. Scheer, P.M., of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Thomas C. Stewart of Greenville, S.C.; and Carl Stricker of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Joseph Vuono Named To Principal's Position

Joseph A. Vuono, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Vuono of 68 Berkeley Avenue, has been appointed principal of Wilson School in the Caldwell-West Caldwell school system. Vuono had been serving in as acting principal at the school.

Vuono attended Belleville School Ten and was a member of the BHS class of 1961. He received his bachelor's degree from Monmouth College and his master's degree from Seton Hall University.

The new principal has served as a sixth grade teacher at Washington School and was the assistant principal at that school until moving to Wilson.

Vuono is active in numerous organizations, including the National Education Association, the New Jersey Education Association, the Essex County Education Association and the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

He is also elementary representative to the Caldwell-West Caldwell Drug Advisory Committee, treasurer of the National Apostolate for the Mentally Retarded and Assistant Archdiocesan Director of the Mount Carmel Guild Apostolate for the Mentally Retarded.

The new principal was listed in the "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities while an undergraduate.

He is the nephew of Belleville Commissioner of Public Works Mary Vuono Senatore.

Testimonial Set For School One Teachers Thursday

Arrangements for the testimonial dinner in honor of School One teachers Miss Frances Williamson and Mrs. Augusta Klein have been completed.

Ken Place, chairman of the ticket committee, expects at least 400 former students and friends at the Branch Brook Manor next Thursday evening.

Members of the Board of Education, along with Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco, Assistant Superintendent Michael Rosamilia and Business Administrator Harold Dufford, will be in attendance.

Friends of Miss Williamson and Mrs. Klein are coming from such places as Florida, Ohio, Connecticut and all sections of New Jersey.

Former students responding range from the class of '31 to the class of '64. Donations from former students have come in from Florida, California, Massachusetts, Virginia, New York and other places.

Program chairman William Smith says Joseph Grosch, Principal of School One will give the welcome address and William Adelhelm will conduct the opening exercises.

Leonard Ronco, Henry Miller and Joseph Monahan, former students of the two teachers, will make the presentations.

Wendall Paar, former vocal instructor at School One, will sing musical selections requested by Miss Williamson and Mrs. Klein.

The committee has been meeting bi-weekly for the past four months.

Giordano Wins College Award

John Giordano of Belleville won a senior award for soccer at the recent Seton Hall University Athletic Awards Dinner. Msgr. Thomas G. Fahy and the Rev. John J. Horgan, athletic director, made the presentations to a total of 174 students at the dinner.

Scout Training Session Finishes

Belleville's Scout leaders have finished their three week Junior Leader Training Course at Wesley Methodist Church.

The Scout training session, under the direction of Assistant Scoutmaster Larry Skidmore of Troop 301, instructed Belleville's junior leaders in the use of the patrol method. This method of running meetings and camping trips emphasizes the boys controlling their fellow scouts, and running the show themselves.

Final plans are in the making for a Green Bar Weekend for the patrol leaders, assistants, and senior patrol leaders that attended the sessions to show their skills.

Incinerators vs. Garbage Dumps

During the late 20's the abandoned quarries in Nutley's southeast corner were filled with garbage — some local and some imported from surrounding communities. As a child we recall the stench which we were obliged to live through year in and year out. Eventually the garbage dumps were covered over and today the browstone quarries of old and the garbage dumps of the 20's now sport playgrounds, parks, and industrial buildings.

One of the high costs of municipal garbage collection is the skyrocketing costs of dumping grounds.

There are fewer and fewer acres of land available for garbage dumping purposes. As the weeks merge into months and the months disappear into years, there will be no more vacant land available for garbage disposal. The time is fast approaching for responsible municipal, county and state officials to examine the incinerator approach to the disposal of garbage. A new incinerator recently has appeared on the horizon whose prime claim to fame is the almost zero pollution factor that it emits. Such a dramatic introduction to incinerator operation is a scientific achievement of the kind that should invite the serious and immediate attention of municipal officials who complained loud and long about the high cost of garbage disposal.

The initial installation of the non-pollutant incinerator was made in Wanaque Borough, up high in the hills of Passaic County — and adjacent to the twenty-nine billion gallon Wanaque Reservoir — a water system operated by the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission of which the undersigned is a member. The Water Commission engineers are satisfied the next door neighbor holds a great promise for municipalities confronted with garbage disposal problems.

It is our belief regional incinerator authorities comprised of neighboring municipalities are the answer to the escalating cost of ridding communities of its garbage.

No-Fault Solutions

The trend toward no-fault litigation in the field of divorce, accidents, etc., is continuing. Florida is the latest state to pass a no-fault divorce bill, the legislature having recently sent such a bill to the Governor by a 70-40 House vote.

As one of the bill's sponsors rightly said, the new law will end the necessity of one partner finding fault, scandal or evil in the other, and halt much of the perjury taking place every day. It will help check the activities of legal racketeers in the field of separation and divorce. More heartening, it will stop the process of lawyers using obsolete laws and sentiments to bind males to unjustified alimony, payments requirements where no children are involved.

In both divorce and automobile accident fields lawyers who feed on these troubles have congested courts, delayed settlements, often charged exorbitant fees and sometimes delayed and confused proceedings for selfish purposes.

No-fault divorce and accident settlement laws will help check such undesirable activities, are inevitable and morally preferable. In the millions of marriages and accidents annually people are certain to make mistakes, being human, and they should not be made to pay for this mistake all their lives because of a primitive Puritan hangover in our laws and philosophies.

Commissioner Mary Senatore was chosen "Outstanding Italian-American Woman" in the field of government by a Metropolitan New York woman's group. Mrs. Senatore was honored by the "AMITA" organization at the Biltmore Hotel in New York City, along with twelve other Italian-American women who were cited by AMITA for achievement in various fields. Chosen from 150 nominees in the metropolitan area, Commissioner Senatore received a golden AMITA trophy from "Hildegard," an internationally known, cabaret entertainer.

Town fathers voted unanimously against a proposed 21-family garden apartment complex amid the cheers and applause of over 100 residents who jammed the Commission chamber. The decision came as some-what of a surprise to many political observers, and marked the first time in over a year that Commissioners had vetoed garden apartment construction. Commissioner Vincent Strumulo stated that he couldn't see "where a 21-family garden apartment fits into an A-zone." The construction had been proposed for 606-612 Belleville Avenue on property near School No. 10.

Belleville police and fire officials suspected arson in connection with two separate fires that had occurred in town. Under scrutiny was a blaze that had taken place in the early morning hours of June 3 at the Italian Fiorente Society Clubhouse at 34-36 Carmer Avenue. Also being looked into by officials was a fire at the Foam Fabricating Company at 740 Washington Avenue. In both instances, police said larcenies were committed prior to the blazes.

Five Years Ago

Over 3,000 petitions — to be followed by some 1,800 more later on in the week — were being circulated in town by members of the Belleville Action Committee, who planned to ask the Town Council to submit a referendum to the people in November which would call for the reorganization of the school board into an appointive body. "What is happening," said Jim Ceres, chairman of the group, "is not good for the town or its image." The Board, Ceres stated, was beset by law suits, controversy, and a "public be damned" attitude.

Little Miss Debra Current, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Current of 327 Stephens Street, was named "Little Miss Belleville" after weary poll workers finished a three-day chore that entailed the counting of some 14,000 ballots cast for 143 contestants in the contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Debra collected 2,145 votes to become the town's first contestant to win the title. Susan Sylvestri came in second and Robin Whipple placed third in the contest.

Ten Years Ago

After about an hour of humorous tales which kept the School 9 PTA members in gales of laughter, television personality Sam Levenson got down to some serious thoughts about American education. Levenson was a former school teacher who had taught high school until 1945. He said he believed too much emphasis was being placed upon students who excelled in mathematics and science. While he said he was "for the conquering of billions of miles of space," he was only in favor of it if it helped to make a better world at home.

A second "Cavalcade of Progress" was being planned for 1962 announced the Chamber of Commerce. Arthur Jackson, president, told The Times that the Chamber's Board of Directors had been reviewing the past Cavalcade's progress and after several meetings had agreed to sponsor the event again. The Cavalcade had featured exhibits of Belleville business and industries, and visitors had expressed great satisfaction with the show.

Commissioner Robert Gruhin, municipal chairman of the 1961 Easter Seal Drive, reported that contributions to the campaign totaled $489, an increase of 19 per cent. The total compared with a figure of $410 raised in 1960. Gruhin said that the money would be used to support the Easter Seal Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center at the New Jersey Orthopedic Hospital in Orange.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The Board of Adjustment, by a 3-2 vote, refused to approve the granting of an application to the Phillips Oil Company to operate a gas station and mercantile establishment at Union Avenue and Catherine Street. Max Schwartz, attorney representing Russell B. and G. Willard Phillips, partners trading as the Phillips Brothers, stated that he would file an appeal in the Supreme Court.

Robert C. Gruhin, attorney representing Rocco Raimo of 80 Cutter Street in a zoning case involving the town, announced that Justice Parker of the Supreme Court had reversed a ruling against Raimo. Raimo had been found guilty of violating Section 2 of the town zoning ordinance and was fined $25 by Judge Everett B. Smith in Municipal Court. According to Gruhin, Raimo was given permission to operate his auto painting business on Florence Street.

Mayor James J. Tully introduced an ordinance passed on first reading changing the zone of the reservoir property from B residence to C residence. Tully stated that such a change would permit builders interested in the property to construct multiple dwellings if they desired.

Striking production workers continued to picket the L. Sonne Born and Sons Inc. plant, with no immediate settlement in sight.

Forty Years Ago

Wayne Farmer, superintendent of schools in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, was to succeed Supervising Principal George R. Gerard. The announcement of Mr. Farmer's acceptance of the position was made by James L. DeRosset, president of the Board of Education.

The Wemec Dramatic Club held a business meeting in the parlor of Wesley M. E. Church and elected officers for the coming year. John R. Carlough, one of the charter members of the club, was elected president. Elmer Hosking was elected to serve as vice-president, Esther Forbes as secretary, and Gertrude Lorenz as assistant secretary. H. Vail Ryan was re-elected as treasurer to start his fifth consecutive year in that position.

Speak-Up

Minuskin Calls Laterza's Action 'Gestapo-Like'

Dear Mr. Commissioner Robert M. Laterza:

This is an open letter to you in protest of the Gestapo like actions and attitude you and your police department are using against the children, yes, I said the children of Belleville. I remember European refugees telling me, not too many years ago, of the long marches they were forced to take under the watchful eyes of their armed 'superiors' as they were driven from and within their homelands. Our children, like these people, are being made to continuously march, from corner to corner, playground to playground, candy store to bowling alley under the watchful and threatening eyes of your uniformed underlings, who, like their Nazi counterparts, are just carrying out orders.

They are carrying out your orders, Mr. Commissioner Robert M. Laterza. The children will grow to hate the police uniform and you will ask, "Why? I am only doing my job!" You job, as you told me at the last public meeting, was to keep them moving, and NOT to find a place for them to go.

This is not your job, Mr. Commissioner Robert M. Laterza! Everything that affects not only the children but all citizens of Belleville is the direct concern of every public official in every public office, whether it be his department or not. If you, Mr. Laterza, are concerned with where your children go, then remember, please, that my children, my neighbors' children and all of Belleville's children are YOUR children too. They became YOUR obligation the moment you decided to run for public office, the moment you decided to ask for the public's trust.

I am disappointed, Mr. Commissioner, that you see fit to take this attitude in a town that has no movies, a town with a two mile long waterfront, yet has no waterfront, no YMCA, no decentralized recreational areas, in short, 'no nothing.' Our Commissioner of Public Works, Mrs. Senatore is active in the Craig Fabian Fund and the Debbie McCool Fund. Shall I remind her that this is not part of her department's official concern?

Our Commissioner of Parks and Public Property, Detective Marotti is well known for his accomplishment with the Little League; they've even named a field after him. Shall I remind him that this is not part of his department? A PAL would be part of your department. Excuse me if I used a dirty word. If your whole conception of a 'job well done' consists of living strictly by the letter of job definitions without any consideration for human beings, then to you, Mr. Commissioner Robert M. Laterza, I extend my deepest Sympathies.

Legion Auxiliary Helping Others

To the Editor:

Did you wear a poppy Memorial Day to honor our War dead? This is our way of raising money to help our sick war veterans. The poppy sales have never been tainted by the slightest touch of an ad agency or paid fund raisers. Every cent taken in goes to aid veterans or their families. There are no administrative costs. Volunteers handle everything.

Even the making of the flowers helps veterans. Patients at the VA Hospital here make the flowers and get paid $20, a thousand for their efforts. It isn't much, but for the man with nothing it helps. I asked if the veterans who make poppies don't feel like they're involved in slave labor at $20 for 1,000 poppies. "Oh no" They aren't allowed to make poppies without the consent of their doctors and even then are screened to be sure they enjoy it.

It's good therapy, something to do with their hands. They sit around making poppies like a bunch of old ladies at a sewing bee. Most of the poppy makers, are long term patients and their motive for getting extra money is usually geared to loved ones on the outside. A young soldier who was run through with a spear in Vietnam and his compelling desire was to give his wife an Easter corsage. The long term patients worry most about their wives and children.

For this reason the Legion Auxiliary stocks a store full of modest Christmas gifts each year and lets the veterans pick and choose, all for free. Those on the outside who receive these gifts never know that the Legion Auxiliary was involved. The gift comes from the veteran, no strings attached.

This year as our Foreign Relations help to the rural people in Panama, we send money, freely given by the members, and sent by the American Auxiliary CARE program. One village may lack pure water or sanitation system, another may need a school kitchen.

A village committee could decide to build a bridge or road to link a community to a market for their farm produces. Villages might undertake a cattle or poultry raising project in order to earn a livelihood. Land reforms from the tropical areas enable them to own small farms. We can help to supply zinc sheets to replace thatched roofs which are a nesting place for rats and pests and breed disease.

Only a small per cent of Panamanians 1 1/2 million people are engaged in industry and Canal related work. At their farming they make about $48. a year. Very few own land. The men cut trees for lumber and build schools. The land is given by the government for this purpose.

But they need our pennies to buy books and desks for the children who have to walk a long ways to get to the school. So this year we have tried to help our neighbors, whom we will never see, so that the rural people could get an education, so that they could be trained for work in the industrial work. And their children could go on further in their education, learn to become teachers and in their turn help others too.

An Employee Dies And Leaves Sadness Behind and this would have been true if they had 20 years of service behind them.

Cincinnati surprised me. In the first place I thought it was north of New Jersey and, therefore, the weather would be cooler. To my surprise the weekend temperature was in the mid-90's — and one more thing, Cincinnati taxicabs are not air conditioned — how do you like that for a progressive city!

The place to eat in Cincinnati is the elegant Maisonette whose maitre d' is a likable chap named Don Whittle. I had the pleasure of dining with Senator Bell and three of his associates and it was only because of the Senator's importance that we were able to obtain a table since the restaurant stopped taking reservations 48 hours earlier. If ever your travels take you to Cincinnati, I suggest the Maisonette for good food and if you want good service too, ask for Georgia Placke who hovers over you like a doting mother.

For lodging I found the TravelLodge Motel across the Ohio River in Newport, Kentucky to be very enjoyable. The TravelLodge employees were extremely courteous and one, a 21-year old front desk clerk is worthy of a TV screen test. She is Diane Landwehr a native Kentuckian. The TravelLodge is only three minutes from downtown Cincinnati.

THE RETURN TRIP Sunday night aboard American Airlines Flight 384 was superb and somewhat unique. Stewardesses Anne Wutkowski and Margaret Froelich could not explain why there was no food served. "All the drinks you want," commented Anne, "but the best we can do for you in the way of food is hickory-smoked almonds." So — I had to content myself with a couple of hickory-smoked nuts and all the drinks I wanted. The girls were serving the passengers in the forward cabin of the three-engine 727 stretch jet.

It has been a long time since I have flown American — and I must say the plane was exceptionally clean, the services furnished by Anne and Margaret could not be improved upon, and the hour and fifteen minute ride was very comfortable.

The occasion of my visit to Cincinnati was the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publisher's Association Research Institute. It was a fantastic experience. Judging by the electronic marvels I inspected at the various show booths, civilization must prepare itself for convulsive, fundamental changes in mankind's work habits and way of life. After a few hours of walking from booth to booth, I came to the conclusion that the computer is probably the single most important invention that is and will affect our way of life, our society, our earning power, the air we breathe and just about everything that any human being touches or is touched by.

Incidentally, taxifares are very cheap in Cincinnati. For $1.40 I rode from downtown Cincinnati to Newport, Kentucky — and there is no way you could beat that price. It costs only $5.00 to travel ten miles from Covington, Kentucky to the airport — and that is cheap.

Cincinnati impressed me as a honky-tonk town, loaded with girlie shows, restaurants and night clubs bearing outlandish names like "The Hustler, featuring the Hustler Queens", "the Brass Ass" whose namesake has a sparkling diamond on top of an important part of its anatomy. Its slogan is "get lucky, we have a gimmick — plenty of girls." Across the river in Newport, Kentucky there is a theatre called "Cinema X Theatre" — and you do not need any imagination to speculate on the kind of entertainment one can find there. It is a city that I probably will find no reason to return.

However there is a cultural side to Cincinnati which I didn't have time to explore. The Art Museum, the Tyler Davidson Fountain, the Eden Park Conservatory, Cincinnati Historical Society, the Zoological Garden, Contemporary Arts Center and 24 places of worship — so it really isn't all bad.

of a narcotic. The youth did not have his drivers' credentials in his possession and offered to take the policemen to his apartment to get them, according to Deputy Chief Haight.

Once there, the officers found another 22 year old Belleville youth who also appeared under the influence of a narcotic. Both were arrested and charged with being under the influence of a narcotic and with possession of illegal drugs. The driver was also charged with possession of a hypodermic needle. Both are out on $1,000 bail pending a June 23 hearing before Municipal Court Judge Edward Abromson.

Subsequent investigation, Haight said, led to the arrest Tuesday of a 21 year old Belleville youth in his home. He was charged with use of narcotics and possession of a hypodermic needle. He is out on $250 bail pending a June 23 hearing. Arresting officers were Detective Sgt. Hank Olivier and Detective Ronald Thompson.

Two more youths were arrested Tuesday in a separate incident involving drugs.

In this case, Sgt. Albert Koelsch observed a car on Franklin Street being operated erratically. When Sgt. Koelsch approached the car, Haight said, an object was thrown from it. The Deputy Chief said the object was later found to be a hypodermic needle.

Upon checking the car, a set of narcotics paraphernalia was found. Two youths were arrested on charges of possession of a hypodermic needle. Haight said one youth was 19 and a Belleville resident, and the other a 24 year old resident of Bloomfield. The two are out on $150 bail pending a June 23 hearing before Judge Abromson.

No Bids On Dam

accept bids at the regular scheduled meeting of June 22.

The state's instructions are a result of a formal complaint filed by the Town of Bloomfield which charged Belleville with narrowing the stream by dumping debris in it.

Belleville hopes to correct the situation in two stages. The first includes the destruction of the dam and the lowering of the stream bed for 300 feet. The final stage, for which future bidding will be conducted, will be the lowering of 800 feet more of the stream bed.

The dam was constructed in the early 19th century by the Hendricks Brothers, who used it to make water available for the first copper rolling mill in the United States.

didn't in fact own the land. Paucillo, who owns the garbage contract in Belleville, is the son-in-law of the owner of the lot, Fred Fierro of East Orange.

Thursday, parents from Silver Lake jammed to Town Hall looking for their park. Parks and Public Property Commissioner Michael Marotti, who wasn't an official when the mix-up occurred, was asked by Mayor McGreevy to explain the situation.

According to Marotti, the town had been requested through Fierro's lawyer to remove all equipment and paving material because the owner did not want to lease the land to Belleville. Fierro's attorney, Marotti said, indicated Belleville would assume all liability for any injuries to children on the lot if the equipment was not removed.

Both McGreevy and Mrs. Senatore told the gathering they had assumed Paucillo owned the land when they made the verbal agreement, an agreement by the way, which former Councilman James Golden had criticized as illegal as soon as the matter was publicized.

This moved one citizen, Norman Hood of 66 Fairview Place to say: "This is why I'm opposed to private caucus. If this thing had been done at a regular public meeting we could have told you Paucillo didn't own the land. I think this is just poor business practice."

Marotti, who ran for the Commission on a pledge to improve recreational facilities in town, appeared concerned for the situation left him by his predecessors. The Commissioner announced he was looking at other land in the area for a park.

"I don't want to deprive these boys and girls of a park," Marotti said, "but when the owner says you've got to remove the equipment, we have to obey."

"I have been checking into town-owned land in the area," Marotti continued. "The only lots we own are on Watchung Avenue, but putting a park on any of these lots would mean the children would have to cross Franklin Street and I don't think it would be safe."

Marotti said one other possibility is to secure a portion of the shopping center under construction on Belmont Avenue. He said he would contact the developers to see if something could be negotiated.

A further suggestion was made at the meeting by Commissioner Senatore, who claims Paucillo has offered to sell land at its assessed value to the town, a stretch of land between Belmont Avenue and Heckel Street.

Mrs. Senatore said she would try and get Paucillo and Marotti together for negotiations.

In the meantime, children of the Lake are waiting for their park to come back.

School 8 Pupils Will Raise Flag From Washington

An American Flag which flew over the Capitol Building in Washington will find a new home at Belleville School Eight.

The flag will be raised during a special ceremony at the school on Flag Day, Monday at 2 p.m.

The flag was originally presented by Congressman Peter Rodino to Town Hall officials to fly over that facility. It was former Mayor Ken Smith's wish that the flag be given to School Eight.

Rodino's presentation to Town Hall was the result of a request by children at School Eight who were involved in activities to promote patriotism.

Board of Education member Caesar Romano will raise the flag on behalf of the Board. All members of the Town Commission and School Board have been invited to attend.

The event was guided by the School Eight Home and School Association.

Mediterranean Test Exercise For John Bell

Navy Seaman John Bell, son of Mrs. Marie Bell of 48 Wilson Place, Belleville, is aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS F.D. Roosevelt which is participating in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) training exercise "DAWN PATROL 71" in the Mediterranean Sea.

The exercise involves more than 60 ships, ranging in size from aircraft carriers to fast patrol boats, and 300 aircraft from the U.S., Greece, Italy, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

During the exercise, the combined NATO force will perform simulated wartime air strikes, anti-submarine warfare tactics, air defense, surveillance, and amphibious operations.

"DAWN PATROL 71" is designed to test the skills of ships crews and evaluate the reliability of their equipment.

TEACHING sports and games to young boys, not only for recreation, but also for physical and personality development, is an important part of Seton Hall University student Dennis Saake's work at the Garden School for Emotionally Disturbed Children in Belleville. He has been a teacher at the school as part of the Community Internship Program of the University's department of Sociology.

26 Get Scholarships

Twenty-six Belleville students have been awarded state scholarships by the State Scholarship Commission. It was recently announced. These students will be entering college in the fall.

Brownies Occupy Park on Play Day

The Annual Brownie Play Day for all Brownie Scouts in Nutley was held in Booth Park on Saturday, May 22.

Leaders and girls, 179 in all, enjoyed this packed-full-of-fun event that lasted until 2:30 p.m.

The weather lent itself to the program, which was under the direction of Mrs. Michael LePree, community chairman for another big day in the life of a Nutley Brownie.

Play Day opened at 10 a.m. with a flag ceremony conducted by Washington School. Singing, relay games, eating, hiking and sit-down quiet games put together another successful event.

Prizes were given to the winners. Mrs. LePree explained to the Brownies that everyone should leave a place just a little cleaner and better than when they came, hence each girl's exit from the park involved five pieces of litter to be put in the trash container.

The day ended with all the girls singing "The Golden Sun" and "Taps."

James Lawlor; Soccer Player

James E. Lawlor of 322 Washington Avenue, Belleville, died suddenly, May 28, in Lyndhurst. He was 58.

Born in Harrison, Mr. Lawlor came to Belleville 34 years ago from Kearny. He was a machinist for the Walter Kidde Co. in Belleville.

Use Extra Care Bedding Plants

There is still time to plant petunias, geraniums, and other bedding plants, says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

He suggests a little extra care in planting will get these plants off to a good start. Be sure there is good contact between the roots and the soil.

If plants are in peat containers, moisten the pots before planting. Peat is very dry and is difficult to wet. Extremely dry pots may form a barrier between the roots and the soil.

Press the soil firmly around the roots, leaving a slight depression at the base of the plant. This will concentrate the water in the root area when you apply water.

Protect plants from sun and wind as much as possible immediately after planting. Planting late in the evening helps.

Tall plants with small root systems can be shaded with branches or baskets until they are established.

Essex Dental Society Sets Dr. Verniero In Top Spot

Dr. Michael J. Verniero (Newark), has been elected president of the 800-member Essex County Dental Society. Dr. Verniero succeeds Dr. George V. Newman of Livingston. Other officers elected for the new year include: Dr. Jerome Moray of West Orange; president-elect; Dr. William Harper of Orange, vice president; and Dr. Charles Riley, Montclair, treasurer. Dr. Samuel Konwiser of Newark was re-elected secretary.

Rheumatism too often makes money for the quack who promises relief from pain. If only people would remember that what most quacks and quack remedies relieve is the victim of his money, many in the world would be happier! If you suspect the onset of arthritis, seek the aid of a physician who is competent. Do not even listen to friends' advice; while they may be well meaning, what worked for them may not work for you. Do not use "wonder" drugs. What your doctor prescribes will ultimately be of the greatest benefit.

Wedding Vows Exchanged By Grace Miller, John Dick

Mrs. John Dick - nee Grace Miller

St. Peter's Church was the setting April 4 for the marriage of Miss Grace Doris Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller of 332 Franklin Avenue to John H. Dick of Rutherford.

The Rev. James Heavey performed the ceremony and a reception followed at The Manor.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin and Alencon lace gown trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned in the Victorian style. Her headpiece was a full length heirloom mantilla and she carried a single white glabella.

Miss Judith Crane of Fort Lee was maid of honor and Miss Sharry May of North Bergen was bridesmaid.

They were attired in purple gowns with white appliques and matching headpieces and carried nosegays.

Frank Baldassare of North Arlington was best man and John Marchese of Little Ferry ushered.

Mrs. Dick is a teacher in the Lyndhurst school system and Mr. Dick is a C.P.A. with Ernst & Ernst, New York.

The couple have made their home in Rutherford following a honeymoon in Aruba and Curacao.

Junior Scouts Model Their Own Fashions

Junior Girl Scout Troop 906 had a busy month of April this year. They participated in the monthly meeting of School No. 5 PTA and visited the Newark Museum.

On April 5 at the PTA meeting the girls modeled their own fashions which they had sewn. After earning their sewing badges, the girls went on to sew bell bottoms and tunic and pants sets, under the direction of Mrs. Marie Mundy, Mrs. Phyllis Zarra, Mrs. Ann Graffeo and Mrs. Jean Guarino. Mr. Gallombardo, principal, invited them to model at the meeting of the PTA.

Modeling School Graduates Two

Diana DeBerto, 14 and Donna Moller, 16, both of Belleville, have been graduated from a comprehensive 15-week course of personalized instruction, including grooming, at the Barbizon School of Modeling of Montclair.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick DeBerto, Diana is in the eighth grade at St. Anthony's School and hopes to become a professional model.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Moller, and is a junior at Belleville High School, where she is a member of the Booster Club. She hopes to become a model or actress.

Pacico, Karen Pellegrino, Deborah Scheder, Denise Zarra and Donna Zarra.

On April 12 the troop visited the Newark Museum, where they saw a replica of an 1800 House, the planetarium and the various art exhibits.

The trip was coordinated by Mrs. Dolores Goris. The following leaders and girls made the trip, Mrs. Eileen Demgard, Mrs. Phyllis Zarra, Mrs. Marie Mundy, Mrs. Dolores Goris, Mrs. Mary Mikowski, Elyse Bedikian, Cathleen Callahan, Aurora Catala, Laurie Clark, Laurie Demgard, Linda Demgard, Lisa Gibbons, Andrea Goris, LuAnn Graffeo, Debra Guarino, Patricia Hull, Gina Iannuzzi, Elaine Mikowski, Patty Mundy, Lisa Pacico, Karen Pellegrino, Denise Zarra and Donna Zarra.

The girls enjoyed the trip very much, especially the 1800 House, where they learned how people used to cook, how butter and candles were made and many other interesting items about those days.

Auction Sale By Rosarians

Rosarians of Holy Family Church held their Chinese auction May 24 in the school auditorium. Members were invited to bring guests and all enjoyed short meeting followed by an enjoyable evening with many prizes. The vice-president, and chairlady of the Program Committee put much effort into this event, along with her committee members. The evening was a huge success with an enormous turnout.

Next on the agenda, was the annual Mother and Daughter Communion Breakfast on June 6, Chairlady Lenore Maurillo's favorite project. Mothers were urged to bring a relative or niece if they did not have a daughter available.

Junior Women's Club At Spring Convention

Approximately 1400 civic minded young women from all over the state of New Jersey attended "Fantasia '71", the 44th Annual Spring Convention of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs Membership Department held at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall in Atlantic City on May 14, 15 and 16. Miss Rosalie Fuino of Jersey City served as the convention chairman.

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville was represented at the convention by Mrs. Thomas J. Spillane, president; Mrs. Harry Reitz, delegate, and Mrs. Carl Clemente, Miss Jean Benedetto, Mrs. Felix Forlenza, Miss Diane Glass, Mrs. Nicholas Landolfi, and Mrs. John McNally.

Mrs. John J. Quigley, Jr., State Junior Chairman, presided at the business session which was held on Friday evening. Reports of the year's activities were given by the State Department Chairman. This year Mrs. William J. Haddock served as State Braille Chairman. Delegates voted to elect officers, department chairmen and district advisors to serve on the State Board of 1971-1972. The Ruth Gottscho Kidney Foundation was selected by the delegates as the 1971-1972 Junior State Project.

Mrs. George F.

Weinheimer, Jr., president of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, was the guest speaker at the luncheon on Saturday afternoon. Scrapbook, Pressbook and Individual awards were presented. The Belleville Juniors received the Guest Book Award.

The highlight of the weekend was Saturday evening with Mrs. John J. Quigley, Jr., the Junior Chairman, presiding over the banquet. Awards were presented to Junior clubs in recognition of outstanding work accomplished in the fields of welfare, education and civic participation. The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville won Third Place in Best All Year Around Work in the Membership Department. The report was submitted by Mrs. William J. Haddock, first vice-president.

The Belleville Juniors had a very rewarding first convention.

Debbie Doll, Christine Herb, Annette Herter, Susan Mocarski, Kathy Pellechio and Penny Schenck play Swanhilda's friends. The girls will tell the story in pantomime and dance.

New Food Program For Weight Watchers

A new type of food program has been incorporated in the Weight Watchers classes held at Nutley's Temple B'nai Israel, 192 Centre Street and at Belleville's Congregation Ahavath Achim at 125 Academy Street.

A person in the new food program may actually sit at a meeting and munch popcorn or peanuts," said the spokesman, Lester S. Fein, area director with headquarters in Livingston.

"And the person on the new program doesn't bulge over the side of a chair, wear extra clothing or walk in fear of buttons popping," he added.

Guiding "Weight Watchers" in its new program is its medical advisor, Dr. William H. Sebrill Jr., director of the Institute of Human Nutrition at Columbia University's College Physicians and Surgeons; Miss Fay Burnett, its staff nutritionist who formerly had been at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City; and Franco Palumbo, its executive chef, who had been in charge of kitchens in some of the world's best known hotels.

The new "Weight Watchers" program is its supplemental maintenance plan. The person on the maintenance plan may have lost weight in "Weight Watchers" or may simply be fighting weight, but is now learning how to keep it off while eating pizza, potatoes, bread-and-butter, cake, pie and ice cream, Fein added.

He explained, "Such a person is learning how to maintain normal weight."

"The secret is that 'Weight Watchers' has learned to adapt its famous portion control program for every day eating. It is this portion control that supercedes the need to count calories. It enables one to eat normal foods without gluttony," he revealed.

All "Weight Watchers" groups now include maintenance plan sessions, Fein said. As a result "Weight Watchers" has dropped its former restriction that one needs to have a minimum of 10 pounds to lose in order to join. Any one who has lost weight or who wishes to keep from gaining may join the maintenance plan without prior membership in "Weight Watchers".

However, "Weight Watchers" still retains its insistence that every member check his food program and progress with a physician of his own free choice. Classes are held at Temple B'nai Israel at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and at 9:30 a.m. on Thursdays. Ahavath Achim holds classes at 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays.

This way to save money.

Dial calls yourself.

Here is a pointer on how to save money on out-of-state phone calls: Dial them yourself without the services of an operator.

No matter what other state you call (except faraway Alaska and Hawaii), it always costs less when you dial station calls yourself. Especially on weeknights and weekends when savings are big.

For example, During weekend bargain-calling times*, a 3-minute coast-to-coast station call costs $1.40 plus tax—if you use the services of an operator.

But the same call is reduced even more—way down to 70¢ plus tax—if you dial it yourself without the services of an operator.

So, dial your own station calls without an operator. And save.

Chojnacki Crowned Miss All-Sports

Eileen Chojnacki was crowned as the first Belleville "Miss All-Sports" this past Friday night in the Belleville High School Gymnasium as the highlight of the first All-Sports dance held by the coaching staffs of the school's interscholastic sports.

The dance was held to help raise funds for the drive to get a "Universal Gym" to be used as a workout machine and conditioner for all varsity sports. While presenting the trophy and crown to Eileen, head wrestling coach Jim Silvestri said that he hopes that another dance will be held next year and another queen crowned, possibly earlier in the school year to make it a bigger occasion. Approximately 300 people attended this year's dance.

The reign of the first queen will be a short one. Eileen is a senior at Belleville High and after graduation plans to enter college as an art major. Presently she is waiting for a letter of acceptance from Ocean County College.

The selection of Miss All-Sports was handled by the coaches through the advance sale of tickets. All students who purchased their admission tickets prior to Friday night were handed a ballot and directed to cast their vote for the queen in cafeteria during the school day. A photograph of each contestant had been submitted earlier and was posted for a week in the cafeteria bulletin board showcase.

Music Donated By Two Groups

Music for the evening was donated by two local groups, Fuel and Midnight Confession. The four man groups alternated their playing and played their best arrangements of contemporary rock music. Some of the hits performed were "Joy To The World" and "Feeling All Right" of Three Dog Night, "Color My World" of Chicago, "Inside Looking Out" and "Heart Breaker" of Grand Funk, and "Black Magic Woman" and "Como Va" of Santana.

The four BHS sophomores in Fuel are Ralph Avalone on the drums, Mike Ritacco on the organ, Frank Arena on lead guitar and Don Capaneer on bass.

Midnight Confession, the winners of several "Battle of the Bands", consists of Henri DeFrance on drums, Joe Covey on the organ, Gary Guibilo on guitar, and Mike Cisero on saxophone and rhythm. DeFrance and Covey are BHS juniors, while Cisero is a BHS soph, and Guibilo is a Bloomfield Tech junior.

The major fund raiser for the Universal Gym will be the sale of calendars in the fall. These calendars will give the date of every game, meet, or event for every senior high school sport from the sophomore to varsity levels.

Advertisements on each of the calendars will be used to pay the initial cost of printing, and according to the coaches, they have now received about twenty out of the thirty ads necessary from local businessmen and merchants. The sale of the 1971-72 calendars will be at one dollar apiece which should come close to the amount necessary for the gym.

Varsity Club All-Sports Dinner

Since its the end of another school year, its time again to honor those who have performed for the school as well as help encourage the future sports squads.

The Belleville Varsity Club recently held its Annual All-Sports Banquet at the Robin Hood Inn.

After a welcoming message from the Club's president William "Doc" Ellis, an invocation by Reverend Anthony DiQuattro and the dinner hour, two special awards were presented, the William Chapman Memorial Award of the Colony Club to the outstanding Senior Athlete and the American Legion Award to the Most Valuable Senior Player of the Baseball team.

To almost no one's surprise, Joe Papasidero, Belleville's sharp fielding, hard hitting and fleet footed shortstop took the Legion Award. Joe led the High School team in runs scored and stolen bases while placing second on the team in RBI's. That's not bad for the lead-off batter. Paps also made only four errors in 96 chances as the shortstop.

As soon as Paps sat down with this big trophy, he was called up again. This time to receive the Chapman Award. According to Nick Monstell, who presented the award, this was not only for his three years as a varsity shortstop, but his three years as a varsity football player and his college scholastic ability as well.

Another special award presented at the dinner, this time not to an athlete, was the President's citation for a member of the Varsity Club who has been in good standing for ten years. Club president Ellis presented this honor to George Zoppa, a past president and official for both football and wrestling.

Twelve Get Double Trophies

Twelve seniors were awarded a double trophy for lettering in two or more sports. Athletes receiving these trophies were John Atherton, Tom Jones, Frank Marano, Brian Waddell, Robert Zarra, Rocco Marotti, Ed Mazza, Louis Dalcero, Raymond Horman, and this columnist. Two of the senior managers also received the double trophies for their important parts in the preparation of the teams. These were the Class of 1972 valedictorian Alan Grossman and Belleville Times sports writer Marc Feldman.

Members of the Baseball team receiving trophies were; Richard Della Terza, William Haines, James Miele, Rocco Marotti, Sal Mineo, Ronald Muscara, Joseph Papasidero, Charles Ziegler and Marc Feldman.

For Basketball, awards were presented to: Richard Caravetta, Ralph Macri, Rocco Marotti, Steve Tremel, Alan Cohen and Marc Feldman.

Bowlers receiving trophies were; Dave Mc Mullen, Emilio Santin, Robert Sienna, John Spezzaferra.

The night before they went out and won the Tri-Town regatta, these crew members were awarded trophies; John Atherton, James Drexler, Jack Fersko, Tom Jones, Frank Marano, Robert Zarra, and Alan Grossman and John Resciniti. For golf there was only one senior award, presented to Gerald Nardiello.

The runners of the Cross-Country team receiving trophies were; Louis Dalcero, Raymond Horman, Edward Mazza, John Mc Carthy, and Robert Silver.

Trackmen that were given awards by the Club were Donald Black, Mark Bradley, Douglas Brown, Frederick Caruso, Louis Dalcero, Raymond Horman, Edward Mazza, John Mc Carthy, and Thomas Vitiello.

Wrestlers Get Their Awards

The senior wrestlers honored were; John Atherton, Edward Duncley, Felix Fabiano, Charles Gingerelli, Tom Jones, Frank Marano, Vito Marcogliese, Carmen Russomano, Frank Savastano, Brian Waddell, Robert Zarra, Angelo Zoppi and, Alan Grossman.

The members of the band also were awarded by the club. These were; Bonnie Allen, Mary Beischer, Richard Bradley, Alan Cohen, Bruce Creditor, Albert Cutro, Vincent Cutro, Nick D'Allesandro, Laura Della Torre, Susan Drake, Marc Feldman, Karin Gaschke, Georgeann Gonnello, Dorothy Healey, Susan Kellenbence, Karen Leurs, Victor Linfante, Frank Marano, Mike Marano, Denise Miele, Al Pepe, Joyce Simeone, Anna Spagnuolo, Fred Tripple, and Stephen Xenios.

Cheerleaders on either the wrestling or football squads were; Donna Cervasio, Joni Fornarotto, Margaret Di Chiara, Rhonda Mabie, Cheryl Moore, Marybeth Salamone, Camille Di Costa, Mindy Serritella.

Senior members of the Color Guard awarded were; Joanne Bedford, Joyce Brechtbill, Patricia Burns, Charlotte Leary, Margaret Marino, Felicia Visco.

Twirling: Jayme Freedman, Carole Ferriol, Judy Hollweg, Janice Rosania, Sandra Roselle, Kathy Mc Guire, Janet Montarelli, Pamela Pomarico, Nelle Saletta, Linda Smith, and Susan Swerling.

Tough Schedule Ahead

Belleville's Legion Nine Is Fired Up For Season Opener Against Irvington

American Legion Post 105 will open its season tomorrow night at 6 p.m., hopefully, against Irvington at the Stadium. The game scheduled for Monday night against West Orange was postponed to a later date because the West Orange High School team is still in the State Tournament.

West Orange High played Tuesday night against Wayne Hills, and the 17-8 Cowboys had half of the West Orange Legion team on its roster. When Belleville faces West Orange later, the date still to be determined, Brian Trifolios and Steve Dolce will be their top players.

Brian is the younger brother of Mike Trifolios, an All-Stater who has elected to play in the Essex County Semi-pro League. Brian is the top W.O. catcher and a strong hitter.

Another strong hitter for West Orange will be Dolce. The third baseman is not in the State Tourney since he attends West Orange Mountain High School, but hit .350 this season.

Irvington will present its own problems. They won their opener Monday night against Caldwell, 4-3. Dean Uhlick was the winning pitcher and probably will go again tomorrow against Belleville. Uhlick hit over .400 for the Irvington High team as a pitcher and outfielder. He knocked in one of the runs Monday night as Irvington got all four runs in the same inning on four hits, their only ones for the game.

Another hit and RBI were picked up by Greg Sonn, also another pitcher-outfielder. Sonn hit .320 for the Camper's high school team and is in his first year of Legion ball.

Irvington Post 319's manager Anthony Pilone noted that all the members of his squad are juniors and sophomores. Only three of the players returned from last year's squad, which split their two contests with Belleville, a 9-1 Belleville victory in the first game and a 3-2 Irvington victory in the second. Pilone also stated that his main goal is for a successful high school squad and that is why he takes underclassmen.

Belleville's schedule will pick up to three games a week starting with Monday's game in Cedar Grove. The schedule has been shortened this year by a loss of clubs in East Orange and Montclair. Legion Posts in those two towns found that they could not field enough players for a team. As a result, the Essex County Legion League has lost a team in both the East and West Divisions.

Belleville's annual encounter with Nutley on July Fourth at the Park Oval is scheduled for the usual 2 pm start, and hopefully Belleville could repeat last year's shutout win. Nutley won the Eastern Division Championship last season, but their manager Matthew Miesieski observed after their 10-0 shellacking Monday night from Vailsburg, that Nutley this year is a "very young team".

Miesieski noted that the team is mostly comprised of sophomores and juniors with only one player returning from the starting team of last year, Anthony Pastore, the third baseman.

"Where it's hurting us most is at the bats. The fielding has come around. But we have to scratch out the hits," explained Miesieski in an interview Monday night.

Vailsburg will be the top contender with Belleville in the East as both squads have almost their whole team returning. Ron Sarno was the winning pitcher for Vailsburg Monday night. Last year he beat Belleville 3-1 as the two teams split their encounters. This season they will meet June 16 and July first. (See page 12 for schedule—JMC)

Petite Is Top Bellboy Batter For '71 Team

By Marc Feldman

As the Belleville varsity baseball team completed its most successful campaign in four years last Tuesday with a victory over rival Nutley, the time for evaluation of season's efforts in batting and pitching statistics began.

Junior Frank Petite again was the team's leading hitter with a .361 batting average on 31 hits in 86 times at bat. Petite finished his second varsity season with 62 varsity hits and another outstanding season in 1972 would give Frank a shot at 100 career hits, an extremely rare milestone. The third baseman, who was recently named to the Essex-Morris County All-Star team by the N.Y. Daily News, has a two year batting average of .400.

Joe Papasidero, often referred to by this publication as "Belleville's flashy shortstop" was certainly that in 1971. Papasidero handled 96 of 100 chances for a .960 fielding percentage, at the most difficult spot in the infield. Joe was not idle at the plate or on the basepaths either.

Batting in the important leadoff spot for most of this season, he reached base almost 45 per cent of the time and averaged one run scored per game for a total of 26. Papasidero played in 71 varsity games in three years and missed about four innings of action in all. This season, Papasidero batted .326 and stole 22 bases in 25 attempts.

Charlie Ziegler was the unsung hero of this club as he led the team in runs batted in with 17 and batted an even .300. Although a sprained ankle slowed him down early in the season, he had many clutch hits and batted close to .400 for the second half of the season. His two triples against Columbia, one with the bases loaded, were instrumental in the Bellboys' two victories over the Big Ten champion Cougars.

Rocco Marotti was a big factor in the Bellboys' quick 8-2 start as he batted .430 over the first ten games. Although he tailed off during mid-season, he remained an excellent first baseman and got some key hits in the last few games to wind up at .276.

Another senior, Jim Miele, was one of the most consistent players on the team. After 21 games, Miele was hitting a solid .321 but his average slipped to .274 by the end of the year. Jim had four doubles, two triples, and one home run among his 23 hits and had a two year batting average of .300.

Gary Falkman had the most puzzling year of anyone on the team. Falkman led the team in extra base hits with eight, including two home runs, but his lack of singles (five) left his batting average under the .200 mark. Soph Rich Gior-

Peldunas Has Bellgirls On Three Game Streak

Hard hitting centerfielder Martha "Marty" Peldunas has hit a torrid 12-13 in leading the Belleville High School girl's softball team to successive victories over Nutley 31-2, Queen of Peace 10-8, and Irvington 11-4. The Bellgirls are now 3-1, their wins immediately following an opening game loss.

Marty had her best day against Nutley. The junior went 6-6 that game and scored five times, including twice on home runs. The round trippers helped give her a total of eight RBI's for the game. Besides the homers, she hit a triple, a double, and two singles. The whole team had a good day while romping the Raiders. The team collected 39 hits in five and a half innings while batting 54 times.

Susan Gasparini was the lead-off batter in both the first and second innings. In the first she reached on an error, and in the second she led off with a solo homer, one of her two for the day. Sue went 4-7, also reaching on two singles.

Brenda Cameron also homered for Belleville. Brenda was 4-5 at the plate also with two doubles and a single. She reached base five times, her fifth coming on an error in the third inning.

Queen of Peace held Marty to only one extra-base hit, a double. But Marty went 4-4 with three singles and scored three times.

Cindy Ferro started the Bellgirls' scoring with a home run in the top of the first to score Joyce Brechtbill and herself. Cindy was 3-4, also hitting a

Joe Papasidero Captures Top Senior Honors

By John McCarthy

When Belleville's shortstop Joe Papasidero was given the American Legion's Most Valuable Senior Player of the Baseball Team, at the Varsity Club's Annual All-Sports Banquet, he figured that he had received the highest local honor possible for his best year on the varsity diamond.

The Bellboy team leader in two batting categories and second finisher in a third, was also with the highest senior batting average. So he had thought the whole thing had been figured out.

"But I had no idea in the world that I was in for the Chapman Award," claims Paps. This award, the William Chapman Memorial Award is presented annually by the Colony Club of Belleville to the most outstanding senior athlete of the year.

Paps was definitely surprised, but at the same time he more than qualified. Joe's other varsity sport, football, saw him lead the team in interceptions, a column that had been hated by the same player the year before.

Joe was a quarterback on the varsity eleven in both his sophomore and junior year, sharing the spot with Joe Vitiello and Joe Lotriglio in respective seasons. Then as a senior, a gap was noticed in the

Unbeaten Amvets Top Nationals; American Loop Race Still Tight

Three teams are scrambling for the first half title in the American League, while the unbeaten Amvets apparently will go untouched in the National loop.

In the American League, the Varsity Club absorbed its first loss of the season, to the Colony Club, but still leads the loop with a 5-1 mark. Following closely in pursuit is the Rotary Club and the Colony outfit, both with 4-1 records. At this stage of the game it is possible the three teams could tie for the first half title.

The Amvets, meanwhile, are 5-0 and have only two games left - one against the Kiwanis Club (0-4) and one with the F.M.B.A. (2-3). If the Amvets, coached by Commissioner Michael Marotti, win both, they will capture the title. Chasing the leaders is the Lions Club, which sports a 3-1 mark.

The second half of the season will start Sunday at 6 p.m.

The league standings look like this:

AMERICAN	W	L
Varsity Club	5	1
Rotary Club	4	1
Colony Club	4	1
Elks	3	2
W & T	2	3
Biancardi	2	4
Landolfi	1	4

P.B.A.	3	2
F.M.B.A.	2	3

Kiwanis	0	4

Here's a rundown of the hot action in the Little League:

Cops Nip
The P.B.A. roared back with five runs in the last inning to nip Milt's Photo 8-7. Milt's outfit hit the cops 11-4, but the losers gave up too many walks. Nick Cancelliere and Ken Nicosio had three hits each in the losing cause, including Cancelliere's homerun. Mark Veniero led the winners with two hits.

A One Hitter
Wallace & Tiernan blanked Riefolo 5-0 behind the tight, one-hit pitching of Andy McMannus. The only hit off McMannus was a single by the first batter of the game, Jerry Fazzini. Jim Mallack collected three hits for the winners.

Clarizo Superb
John Clarizo put on a superb hitting and pitching exhibition to lead the Lions Club to a 7-0 win over the F.M.B.A. Clarizo allowed only one hit - a single by Vic Pissaro in the third - to shut out the Lions. In addition,

JV Nine Hits 18-4 Campaign

By Tony Calabrese

Belleville's Junior Varsity Baseball Team ended a fine season on a sour note, as they lost to West Orange 4-1, and Nutley 1-7, in their final two games of the year. The squad helped coach Ralph LaConte finish with his finest record as a coach, winding up

Unbelievable Clippers: 58 Runs in 3 Games

The Clippers of the Farm League have literally pulverized three straight opponents in the American League circuit. The squad, managed by Morris Renna, has amassed 58 runs in just three tilts, while allowing opponents a scant three runs and two hits.

Renna, whose coaches are Eddie Cimunno and Anthony Pelligrino, attributes fine the season with a record of 18-4.

Coach LaConte credited the team's success to a never say die attitude, and a willingness of the boys to play as a team and not just a group of individuals.

Against West Orange, the Bellboys managed only four hits off of two Cowboys pitchers. Their only run came in the sixth inning, when with two outs, Mike Sharra's fly ball was dropped for a two base error, and was followed up by a single to left by Mario Malfitano.

Malfitano, pitching his third game in eight days, was the loser, striking out 5 while allowing eight hits. Two

Junior Varsity Nine Registers 18-4 Campaign

(Continued from Page 11) outs, but failed to score any runs. A nine run, nine hit, barrage staked Nutley to a 10-1 lead after three innings in their game with the Bellboys. Three Maroon home runs and a triple were the big blows in the inning. Belleville bounced back with four runs of their own in the fourth, as a triple by Joe Ross scored Mark Restivo, Mike Sbarra, and Rich Cupparo. Ross later scored on a bashed by losing pitcher Tommy Cosgrove. The final Bellboy runs of the day and for the season came in the sixth when Ross and Bill Angelo scored on a single by Steve Lenihan.

Belleville Athlete Honored

A former Belleville High School standout heads the list of 10 Montclair State College athletic standouts chosen to appear in the 1971 edition of "Outstanding College Athletes of America." John Bellavia, a wrestling star for the Montclair State Indians, captured the grapplers. He led the college wrestlers to their 12th consecutive winning season. The grapplers had a 57-21 record in four years of competition.

Also selected for listing in the publication are football, Pete Contaldi and Mike Van Zile; basketball, Harry James; baseball, Carmine DeSimone; golf, Bill Asdal; soccer, John Smith; fencing, Bruce Kinter and Davy Bryer and track Greg Weiss.

Selection is made on ability plus community and college campus activity. Other criteria include strength of character, leadership both on and off the playing field and scholarship.

Labor and Health Standards Agreed By State-Federal Govts.

The State of New Jersey and the U.S. Department of Labor have recently signed an interim agreement relating to labor safety and health standards to be enforced while the State is developing its program for full participation under the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, Ronald M. and Industry announced Heymann, Commissioner of today.

R CORRECT PROBLEMS EARLY
HAVE YOUR CHILD TESTED

Three health problems that can often be the cause of a child doing poorly in school are speech deficiency, poor hearing and bad eye sight. Any or all of these can strongly inhibit the desire for a child to learn and to enjoy the friendships of companions at school.

Many schools will make arrangements for children to be tested for these problems as part of their program or you can ask your family doctor to do it for you. Don't take a chance on having difficulties interfere with what should be a happy time for your child.

"This is Children's Month"

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Essex Schools
Open House
Set Wednesday

The annual open house program of the Essex County
Vocational and Technical Schools will be held next Wednesday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

This program provides an opportunity for parents and the general public to see the shops and classrooms at the schools which are located at Sussex Avenue and First Street, and 300 North 13th
Street in Newark, Myrtle Avenue and University Place in Irvington, and 209
Franklin Street in Bloomfield.

The vocational-technical schools provide tuition free programs for young men and women in Essex County who plan to enter employment after their high school training, and also those who are seeking preparation for work after graduation from local high schools. Open house is designed to acquaint all residents with the training facilities provided.

Thousands of young men and women have been prepared for trade and technical careers in these programs.

Your Weekly Horoscope

June 10 through June 16

ARIES (March 21-April 19): If last week you did not take action or arrive at long overdue decision, Ari, then get off your tuffet on first day and MOVE.
For not to decide is, in a sense, to decide. Mind Olga and, as week progresses, tensions should slacken. Message comes before last day from bona fide world mover. Listen, but postpone action. Timing out of joint.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Active week for you, Taurus. Travel and money highlighted. That which to date has been in the shadows comes forth into the sunshine. Whoopie! Interesting encounter occurs by fifth day. Last day will find you smiling and basking in the miracle of NOW. Celebrate. For life is to be lived, Taurus, not avoided.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Play in which you have had key role is rapidly approaching denoue-ment, Gem. As events unravel, scene could get messy, so keep broom handy. If you don't need it for defense, you will need it to tidy up the joint as week draws to a chaotic close. Good luck, baby.
You're going to need it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Absolutely yummy week for old Olga's Moonbabies. Time ideal to kick up your heels. Should you go tripping, take flamboyant friend. What evolves will then be twice as nice. (Should pal be a Pisces, you just might think you're in Paradise.)

LEO (July 23-August 22): Predicament arises before midweek. First impulse will be like that of lion with his foot caught in a trap - to gnaw the foot off in an effort to escape. Use wits instead of teeth to solve problem. If you don't, you'll hobble through life an emotional cripple. As week wanes, money matters take priority.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Small conflict could arise before end of second day. Will involve one who is currently your main squeeze.
Please Virg, don't withdraw. Confront. Understanding follows. Secret message to Virg in Olga's words to her Gems.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Tendency to live for tomorrow should be curbed, Lib. If you are always preparing for the future, today slips away unenjoyed. Let your restless heart drink in all the beauty which surrounds you. Everyone has a song
- and especially Olga's beautiful Libras.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): You have been walking about with your own personal nuclear warhead dangling by a thread, and only the luck of the Scorps has kept you from disaster. In week ahead, Taurus individual should enter picture and de-activate you. Like permanently. Don't worry. It won't hurt. In fact, you won't even put up a decent fight. You'll capitulate completely, enjoying every moment.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21):
Part of your personality is a resisting part, Safi. And this segment contains vitality and strength. In week ahead, you will draw on this very strength to help you accomplish long and arduous job. Property, money and legal documents are highlighted at end of week. Listen to advice, if offered by an astute Aquari.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Friendship will be offered in week ahead, Cap. Offer will be genuine. And don't ever

James Hunt Gets Dental School Degree

Dr. James T. Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt of 543 Union Avenue, Belleville, was recently graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson School of Dentistry.

A graduate of Belleville High School, Dr. Hunt attended Fairleigh Dickinson undergraduate school in Rutherford and after three years was accepted into their dental school.

Dr. Hunt received his BS degree from FDU. In his freshmen and sophomore years at the dental school, Dr. Hunt was the ADA representative and was elected vice president of the senior class.

Presently he resides in Hackensack with his wife, the former Gail Heitzmann of Weehawken and their 15 month old daughter, Tracy Lynn.

Dr. Hunt is also a veteran of the U. S. Army and plans to open his practice in Essex County.

The new doctor was the guest of honor at a graduation celebration given by his parents for the immediate family and friends at the Galaxy, Belleville.

Teacher Opens Computer World

By Beth Fitzgerald

Belleville High students can get an introduction to the computer world by enrolling in Mr. Larry Arakaki's Basic Machines Course. The success of the 32 week course is the result of Arakaki's ability to make the language of the computer understandable to students whose acquaintance with office machines may go no farther than a typewriter.

Arakaki, a native of Hawaii, attended high school in Honolulu, and studied business administration for three years at the City College of New York. He then switched to New York University where he took data processing courses, and is now the systems analyst of Newark College of Engineering. Mr. Arakaki finds that the constant growth of the computer field is what makes it exciting. "You can't master it," he said. "The manufacturers change so fast that you can't keep up. You must always keep going to school."

This is Arakaki's third year teaching the non-credit basic machines course at Belleville High. Classes are held on Saturday morning from 8:30 til 11:30 and run from October to May. This year nine students are enrolled: Susan Drake, Sharon Davis, Mary Oertel, Carol Nye, Ed Dunkley, Tom Vigilante, Shiela Bruda, Mona Freeman, and Debbie Paladino. They have been taught to keypunch, and to operate the sorter, the 402 accounting machine and the reproducer. In the past couple of weeks, Arakaki has been teaching the students Cobol, or Common Business Oriented Language — the universal language of computers.

In addition to being a computer expert, Arakaki is a skilled teacher. He can explain the technicalities of each problem in such a way as to be completely understood by his students, and considering that he is translating the language of modern technology into human terms, this is quite an accomplishment.

Arakaki feels that one sign of the success of the course is the number of students who have found jobs in the computer rooms of the colleges they attend. A number of the students took the course with that in mind.

Senior Susan Drake entered the class because, "It was something new to learn, and I thought it might help me get a job. In this world computers are being used a great deal, and I wanted to get a little knowledge of it." Mary Oertel gave as her reason for taking the course: "It's on Saturday morning, it's free, and it's an opportunity to learn something I wouldn't learn in school."

Mary hopes to work her way through college with a job in computers. Said Debbie Paladino, "It's a different course from what people normally study. You learn a different language for machines. There are a lot of complicated ways to do the problems, and the machines are stupid — you have to tell them every detail of what you want done."

Marotti Controversy To State

Do they pertain to money, and if they do, won't this hamper any appropriations the Commission might pursue, since we need four votes on money-matters.

"This was just a pacification handed down by Scott to keep Marotti on the payroll. I've asked the Attorney General for a ruling and told him the taxpayer's of Belleville don't want a part-time Commissioner," she went on.

Mrs. Senatore also criticized Scott for not addressing himself in his ruling to the question of whether Marotti can be the employee of another Commissioner.

The Times-News has tried to contact the Town Attorney since Friday but has been unable to reach him for comment.

The following is the complete text of Scott's prepared statement at the Commission meeting:

"This opinion is furnished pursuant to a request from Commissioner Senatore which was made at the Commission meeting on May 25, 1971. At that time Commissioner Senatore charged that Commissioner Marotti was in conflict in holding the position of Commissioner in charge of the Department of Parks and Public Property and also the position of detective in the Juvenile Division of the Belleville Police Department.

Mellace Named To Rutgers List

Dominick R. Mellace of 125 Tappan Avenue, Belleville, was named to the dean's list for high scholastic achievement for the fall term at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science.

"The term conflict of interest is a conclusion and therefore we must look to all of the facts surrounding a particular situation in order to determine if the conclusion is valid.

"I have analyzed the duties and responsibilities of Commissioner Marotti as a detective in the Juvenile Division of the Police Department as well as those assigned to him as Director of Parks and Public Property. I can foresee that in the future the possibility of conflict might arise on certain limited issues. The question becomes whether or not, because of a possible future conflict, Commissioner Marotti should be barred from holding the two positions referred to above. When and if a conflict arises in the future Commissioner Marotti, of course, would have to abstain from voting on those issues.

"It is my opinion that simply because the man is on the Belleville Police Force he should not be deprived of his opportunity to make a living while he is, in good faith, performing all of the duties of his position. In my analysis of Commissioner Marotti's position I feel that his duties and responsibilities complement each other because of his work with juveniles in the Police Department and the fact that the recreation program will be geared primarily for juveniles.

"I feel that the job will not be in conflict and that Commissioner Marotti may continue to serve in both his capacities as detective in the Juvenile Division and as Commissioner of Parks and Public Property."

Cerami Gets $25 Bond For Poster

Carmine Cerami of St. Peter's School in Belleville was awarded a $25 Bond for second place in the elementary category of the AAA School Safety Poster Contest. The state level prizes were chosen a month before the nation judging of the contest.

Geralda Scalaverno, also of St. Peter's School, received a $10 check for third place in the elementary category.

These winning posters were sent to the AAA headquarters in Washington, D.C. for judging in the national contest.

Senator Wallwork Is Guest Speaker

The annual meeting of the Belleville Cerebral Palsy School will be held on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at the Treatment Center. Keynote speaker will be Senator James H. Wallwork, who will speak on the topic "Legislation for the Handicapped."

Combined installation of officers to the Board of Directors and the Parent-Teacher-Therapist Association will also be held, and volunteer awards will be presented by Mrs. Viola Vernick, Executive Director of the Center.

Savings Bank Association Conference Set At Resort

The 63rd Annual Conference of the Savings Banks Association of New Jersey will be held at The Monmouth Hotel, Spring Lake Beach, Friday and Saturday, June 18 and 19.

Challenge Flops

Organization Democrats and Republicans won the only two contested district leader contests. In Ward II, District 3, organization Republicans Raymond Boxer and Rose Gombucz tallied 26 and 24 votes respectively to turn back the challenge of Richard and Josephine Iacobelli, each with 17 votes.

In Ward II, District 1, Regular Democrats Frank Pulidore and Eunice Conover tallied 73 and 84 votes respectively to beat Thomas Godfrey with 32 votes.

Town Democratic Chairman Mrs. Mary Senatore says her district leaders will meet Monday to reorganize. Mrs. Senatore says she was pleased with the way the action went at the polls, although she was somewhat disappointed at the voter turnout, which was 1,970 out of the town's 17,262 registered voters. Last year 3,240 citizens cast ballots out of 17,406 eligible to do so.

Union College Registration For Summer Opens

Registration for Union College's annual Summer Session will open on Wednesday and continue on Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Cranford Campus, it was announced today by Dr. Bernard Solon of Westfield, director.

CAMP ARROWHEAD this summer will be using these spacious facilities at Crestmere Lake in Pompton Plains. Directed by William Farkas of Nutley High, the new site became available when Camp Arrowhead merged with a similar operation at Crestmere.

Roche Wins Jaycees 'Good Citizen' Award

Hoffmann-LaRoche was given the Newark Jaycees "Corporate Good Citizen Award" in a luncheon program last Wednesday. The award is based upon community service. Walter W. Weller Jr., administrative vice president of Roche, accepted the presentation made during a luncheon at Newark's Robert Treat Hotel.

Previous years have seen the award given to Bambergers, Prudential Insurance Co., National Newark and Essex Bank, and the Star-Ledger.

Weller accepted the award for Roche, "not as a corporate award, but as a Roche peoples' award in recognition of the wide civic community commitments which our employees have undertaken."

Richard Hoffer, president of the Newark Jaycees, said Roche was selected for "providing meaningful and satisfying employment underprivileged and minority groups, undertaking basic research without regard to commercial gain and its many community commitments."

State Health Commissioner Dr. James R. Cowan addressed the business luncheon attended by about 250 persons. Cowan's talk concerned the growing drug abuse problem.

Soph Class Leader

By Marylou Martin

The 1970-71 Sophomore Senate has worked in unison this year under the able leadership of President Donna Monteleone. So far, they have had a successful candy sale and a dance. Donna hopes they will be able to have a car wash and sweatshirt sale to raise money.

Donna plays violin with the Belleville High Orchestra and sings in the Baker's Dozen. Donna has performed as a member of the Belleville High Color Guard and holds the position of Color Guard Captain with the Woodsiders Drum and Bugle Corp. Donna also serves on the school's Student Faculty Curriculum and Exam Revision Committee.
