School Two Gets Principal After Debate

By Nat Gottlieb

School Two will begin the fall term with a full-time principal for the first time in its 73 years of existence.

The Belleville School Board okayed a chief administrator for that facility Monday night despite strong opposition from parents of School Ten and from former Board of Education President Ernest Arvidson.

Arthur Pico, a sixth grade teacher at the school and director of Belleville's title one program, was appointed to the $18,005 post by a 5-0 vote.

Chamber Event 'Great'

Hundreds of residents turned out Tuesday and yesterday to view Belleville's Fourth Cavalcade of Progress, sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber Executive Director Harry T. French told the Times-News he was quite pleased with the affair and had particular praise for the Belleville community.

"I think the Cavalcade committee did an excellent job," he said. "I have been running things like this all my life, and never has any community given me better cooperation."

The Times-News will carry a complete picture page of the event in next Thursday's edition.

Scouts Attack Debris

By John McCarthy

Scouts from five of the local Boy Scout troops in town participated this past Saturday in Project SOAR, a nation-wide effort by the Boy Scouts of America to help encourage the saving and protection of our natural resources.

Conservation is a part of Henry Minasian, who has served both School Two and Ten as principal the past 20 years, will concentrate in September on the 227-pupil School Ten. There are 147 pupils in School Two.

Richard Maharian declined to vote on the matter saying there were "more important priorities in the system at this time." Mrs. Norma McCool, who was hospitalized because of illness, telephoned to say she was in favor of the move, although her vote wasn't part of the tabulation.

Before any voting was actually done on the matter, an hour of heated debate took place amongst Board members and residents in a surprisingly crowded Board office.

While the pros and cons of the issue were being debated, Board member Lawrence Schwartz revealed the Belleville School body is looking into a system adopted this week by the Town of Millburn wherein one principal is assigned to two schools.

Strongest opposition to the new principalship meanwhile, came from about a dozen parents of School Ten, including Mrs. Lois Malfitano, president of that school's parent organization.

Mrs. Malfitano read a lengthy, prepared speech in which she sharply criticized the Board for creating a new principalship "instead of subsidizing the summer music program or the summer school." Mrs. Malfitano suggested the money be used for other needs in the two schools.

Former Board President Ernest Arvidson spoke several times during the meeting to oppose the move. He characterized it as an "unnecessary expenditure," and called it an example of why budgets are not passed in Belleville.

"I think the Board should start looking forward to their February budget election already," Arvidson said. "We haven't had too much luck in the past with budgets, and yet here you are already loading the budget down with big, unnecessary expenses."

For Enrollment Crisis

School Board Decision: BHS Construction Is Best Solution

The construction of a large addition to the senior high school is "the best solution" to the mounting enrollment crisis in the Belleville school system, according to the local Board of Education. The Board ruled out alternative measures in closed session last week and told the Times-News Monday night it would hire an architect "to give us some idea of what can be done."

The expansion would mean a bond referendum would be placed before voters, either during regularly scheduled General Elections, or during a special balloting. Board President Leonard Back would not speculate when the referendum would be offered.

"We are going forward with the recommendations of the Walling Report which suggests the expansion of the high school and the moving of the ninth grade to the new facility," Back said.

"At some point we will have to go to the public with this," he continued. "The only thing we are sure of at this time is that we want to expand but we don't know exactly when."

The Walling Report was prepared by a Board hired educational research team from Rutgers University under the direction of Dr. Donald Walling. The report was issued in January and contained enrollment projections which reportedly "alarmed" the Board.

Among the other recommendations of the report was that the Board refurbish the Junior High to make it a "middle school" for seventh and eighth graders, and to move the Board's administrative offices out of School Eight and possibly relocate them in School Nine.

The Board has said it will not shutdown School Nine and has indicated it will rent or buy office space elsewhere. This presumably would be part of the referendum, or be listed in a separate offering to voters.

At this stage of the game, the Board is forming a committee of laymen and Board members to "investigate and recommend" architects for the project. The committee will be headed by Board vice president Joseph Casale.

Money for the architect was not included in this year's budget, Back said, who added that it is "too early to determine what rate one would charge."

The Board President said ideally "we could hire one under the same terms that we did for the building of the

YOUNGSTERS use special telephone on exhibit by New Jersey Bell Telephone at Belleville's Fourth Cavalcade of Progress in the senior high auditorium. Thirty-four groups and

Full Day Planned

Independence Day Celebration: Emphasis On Action, Not Words

Belleville's Independence Day celebration Monday should be high on action and short on talk, says Commissioner Michael V. Marotti. The full day and night of activity is scheduled for Municipal Stadium beginning at 10 a.m.

The Parks and Public Property Commissioner says all speeches, with the exception of a brief presentation by the trustee of the Craig Fabian Fund, will be eliminated in the annual celebration. Beginning at 10 a.m. Marotti said, a full day and night's activity is planned for residents.

The festivities will kick off at 10 a.m. with the annual Field Day for children which will include sprints, relays, sack races, potato races and tug of wars. There will be trophies and watermelon for the winners.

The presentation by the Craig Fabian Fund will consist of the lighting of thousands of candles to commemorate Craig Fabian's 17th birthday. Craig, son of Deputy Fire Chief and Mrs. William Fabian, was left partially paralyzed in a freak swimming accident two years ago.

Once again the circus portion of the celebration will be arranged by Howard Olliver, whose program fare includes the Giantella Circus Orchestra; Jay Green's juggling; Ciquita's Doll Fantasy from the Captain Kangaroo Show; Tom Carey, and Jiggs the world's smartest chimp. Jiggs rides a motorcycle, rolls along on roller skates, takes photographs and understands 160 words.

Also scheduled will be Frisky and his White Miniature Arabian Ponies. The Alejandros will present a high wire act, and from Ringling Brothers Circus will be the Esquedas Troupe with their teeter board and bicycle acts.

The Rev. Robert Bedell will give the invocation, with Walter Saunders singing the National Anthem.

In Her Department

Scott: Mrs. Senatore's Job Would Be Conflict

Town Attorney John Scott has ruled Commissioner Mary Senatore cannot hold the job title of Superintendent of Public Works unless she resigns as director of that department.

Scott's decision was immediately criticized by Mrs. Senatore, who charged it was "a political opinion" and said "I don't think Mr. Scott is serving all the Commissioners."

Mrs. Senatore, who says she has been performing the superintendent's job for almost five years without pay or title, was seeking only the title in order to assure herself of a town job should she not return to office in 1975.

The Commissioner said Mrs. Senatore's ruling would not stop her from trying other means to secure the job, but declined to elaborate what her alternatives are.

Scott's ruling, which was read at the last Commission meeting, came in the form of a two-page written statement which did not cite case law, a fact which Mrs. Senatore sharply criticized. She also complained that Scott did not sign his ruling and asked him to do so during the meeting.

Mrs. Senatore said she was not surprised at Scott's ruling. (Continued on Page 1)

Town Attorney: Cop Regulations Aren't Violated

Town Attorney John Scott says Michael Marotti is not violating any regulations of the Belleville Police Department by serving as Commissioner of Parks and Public Property.

Scott's opinion was voiced in a letter sent to former Councilman James R. Golden and Salvatore LaMorte. The two men had filed a written complaint last week with Police Chief Joseph Smith charging Juvenile Officer Marotti was "continuously" violating four local Police Department regulations.

The Town Attorney came into the picture because Chief Smith allegedly forwarded

Smith had been asked by the two residents to call a hearing on the alleged departmental violations.

Contacted for comment on Scott's letter, both Golden and LaMorte said they were dissatisfied with Chief Smith's handling of the matter and hinted they would take further action. They would not comment further, saying all official statements would have to be obtained from their lawyers, the firm of Smoller and Montefusco in Irvington.

Montefusco, a Belleville resident and attorney for the local Zoning Board, spoke with the Times-News Tuesday on the possible courses of action for his clients.

The attorney said the men could either "drop the case" or file suit "to force Chief Smith to hold a hearing to see whether Marotti is actually violating any police codes regulations by serving as a Town Commissioner."

Montefusco also said if his clients did file suit, they would probably seek a restraining order against the town's dispersing any salary to Marotti until the case was decided.

Despite the non-committal approach of Golden and LaMorte, most political observers expect the men eventually will gather the 25 signatures necessary to file a taxpayer's suit against Marotti to have the matter decided once and for all in court. The request for a departmental hearing, observers say, is merely to demonstrate that taxpayers have exhausted all possibilities on the local level so that the courts will accept the case.

Golden and LaMorte complained that Marotti was violating rules 3, 4, 16 and 58 of the Belleville Police Code. Rule 58 apparently was the key regulation in the complaint. That rule limits the political activity of a working policeman.

Rule 58 provides that a policeman "shall not take part in political activity of a non-partisan nature and on an active and continuous basis...other than to vote."

Scott's opinion, according to Montefusco, "Regulation 58 constitutional," a Montefusco. "As far as we're concerned," Montefusco said, "Mr. Scott has no right to render this opinion. It should

Marotti Seeking A Park

Commissioner Michael V. Marotti is seeking land owned by Public Service Electric and Gas Company on Union Avenue for a new park. Marotti, who is Parks and Public Property director, says he has already written the utility asking for a meeting date to discuss the situation.

The land in question is near the high tension wires on the Belleville-Nutley border on Union Avenue. Marotti hopes to use the area for a recreation site for children and is considering incorporating a senior citizen's park in the project.

"We'll have to investigate the safety situation of course," he told the Times-News, in referring to the high voltage wires. "We might be able to put up fences to protect the users of such a facility, but right now the first step is to ask Public Service to sit down with me and discuss the situation."

The Commissioner also says he is looking for land in the Silver Lake section of

Msgr. DiLuca Dinner Draws 400 Friends

Msgr. Anthony DiLuca, pastor emeritus of Holy Family Church which serves the Nutley-Belleville community, was praised and honored by 400 persons, including the Most Rev. Thomas A. Boland, archbishop of Newark, at a testimonial dinner Friday evening at Thomm's Restaurant, Newark.

Archbishop Boland said he marveled at the accomplishments of Msgr. DiLuca during his 35-year pastorate at Holy Family.

"Monsignor DiLuca has never stopped working, even though he has retired," the Archbishop said. "And he's a hard worker, but shrewd - the kind of man who can get into a revolving door behind you and come out ahead."

The audience laughed and applauded as the Bishop and the Rev. Francis Blake, who succeeded Msgr. DiLuca as pastor, extolled praises and reminisced on the 65th anniversary the Monsignor was celebrating as a priest.

When all the talks were over, Msgr. DiLuca, himself rose address the dinner. He recalled how in the early 1930's he had "to go door to door, begging people to come to church."

He told how the parish grew.

"Of all our accomplishments, the greatest was the building of our magnificent church - one of the most beautiful in the entire Archdiocese," Msgr. DiLuca said happily.

"The Holy Family Church will serve to be a lasting memorial to the sacrifices of the good people of Nutley and Belleville. On my 65th anniversary, I pledge again my fidelity as a priest and to Jesus Christ."

Msgr. DiLuca said he is grateful to Father Blake "who has been with me 29 years - and is a loyal and true friend who certainly is doing a wonderful job as my successor."

The Monsignor closed his remarks by congratulating "all our parishioners - because they are the most useful people in the world - God bless you all."

Friday's testimonial was the first event sponsored by the new lay Parish Council at Holy Family. Mr. Francis Restaino of Underhill Court, Nutley, was the chairman. The event attracted church dignitaries throughout the Archdiocese including Bishops J. Contino of St. Peter's, Belleville; Bishop T. Dougherty of Short Hills, and Msgr.

Mrs. Senatore Can't Hold Job Within Department-John Scott

"I expected such an opinion," she told the Times-News. "It is nothing but a political opinion. It cites no statutes and it wasn't even signed until I forced him to do so at the meeting," she continued.

"I didn't ask for an opinion. I asked for a ruling," Mrs. Senatore continued. "Mr. Scott can't do anything but make political opinions because he has to be faithful to those who appointed him."

Apparently the key to the Town Attorney's ruling was his statement that Mrs. Senatore's "executive authority would be undermined if she, herself, were to assume a subordinate position. In essence, we can say that if you are the vice president at the same time because of the inherent conflicts in the responsibilities of each position."

The job pays $13,500 and has been vacant for five years due to the death of the previous title holder. Mrs. Senatore says she would not accept any pay as long as she remained a Commissioner.

The complete text of Scott's ruling is as follows:

The following opinion is delivered pursuant to a request from Commissioner Senatore's inquiry as to whether or not she may act as superintendent of public works and also as director of the department of public works.

The public works superintendent acts under direction, has charge and supervises the work involved in the installation, maintenance and repair of public works facilities.

Some of the specific work connected activities are as follows:

1. Gives assignments and instructions to individuals and groups and supervises their work involved in the construction, maintenance and repair of the streets and sewers.

2. Supervises the work involved in sweeping streets and shoveling accumulations into containers and trucks.

3. Supervises the cutting of brush, mowing grass and emptying refuse containers.

4. Supervises the loading of refuse and disposing of said refuse.

Among the requirements for the above position are a high school education or its equivalent. Five years experience including three years of supervisory experience in work involving construction and maintenance of the streets, storm drains and water service equipment of other public works facilities.

A thorough knowledge of the proper procedures used in making routine and complex repairs to the water and sewer equipment in the construction, maintenance and repair of the streets.

The position of public work superintendent comes under the Civil Service category. If Commissioner Senatore were to qualify for the job of superintendent of public works she would have to immediately resign her position as director of the department of public works because the two jobs cannot be held simultaneously by the same person. The commissioner, as director of the department, has the responsibility of supervising all of the various job titles within her department.

Says Scott

Cop Regulations Are Violated

come from the chief. A town attorney doesn't have the right to declare a rule or regulation previously promulgated as unconstitutional," according to Montefusco.

Scott's letter said:
"With respect to rule 58, it is my opinion that rule 58 as applied to Michael Marotti, a member of the Belleville Police Department and a member of the Board of Commissioners, is unconstitutional and in violation of Mr. Marotti's rights under the first amendment. The limitation on a police officer to engage in any political activity other than to vote is in my judgement a violation of constitution.

Scott's opinion on rule 58 apparently echoes rulings made by the courts which have already found such regulations on police officers unconstitutional.

According to Montefusco, Scott said he found no evidence that Marotti was violating rules 3, 4 and 16.

Architect Sought

Seek BHS Construction For Enrollment Problem

high school in which the architect agreed to receive his fee only if a referendum was passed."

Whether the Board will ever get a referendum passed in this town has become the immediate number one topic for debate among local political observers who are too quick to point out that nine of the Board's last ten budgets were defeated at the polls.

Should voters reject the referendum, the Walling Report says a split session would have to be used at the senior high in 1973-74. Back says the Board hopes to avoid a split session because "it would be disruptive to many programs in our system."

A staggered session, in which some students start school earlier and leave later than others, is already in use at the Junior High. Back says a partially staggered session is being planned for the fall at the senior high.

Enrollment at the high school is now 1,202. State formula for operating capacity at that facility is 1,052. Enrollment projections in the Walling Report show BHS population reaching 1,470 in 1973-74.

The Junior High School's present enrollment is 1,412, with the state formula recommending 1,103. Enrollment projections say the facility will peak in 1976-77 at 1,570 pupils.

Much of the blame for Belleville's crisis is being placed on the increasing numbers of parochial and private school students transferring to the junior and senior high, presumably because of increased tuition charges at those facilities.

Blame has also been leveled at new apartment construction in town, most particularly by former Board of Education President Rocco Saletta. No study has ever been done however on the relation of apartment construction to enrollment.

Apparently the enrollment crisis is only threatening the junior and senior high schools. Enrollment, according to local Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco and the Walling Report, is under control, the lower grades.

because "the price was too high."

"I've found another empty lot in that area however, and intend to check it out. It's pretty hard but we're working on it."

Belleville Boy Scouts Do Conservation Share

the nation-wide effort made by troops across the country to dramatize the more than common help needed in the conserving and protecting of our natural resources.

The local project was cleaning out the drainage stream that flows along Franklin Avenue in the Essex County Parks Commission Golf Course (Hendricks Field), and into the second River at Mill Street.

For the stream to be cleared and allowed to flow freely, the Scouts had to remove the general debris of the ditch. This included such things as a "No Parking" Sign, three shopping carts, a rusty kidie car, much litter, and natural debris such as fallen trees, backed up leaves, and large rocks that diverted the water and thus eroded the sided of the ditch.

To help remedy the last situation that of the unnecessary bends and turns in the steam the Scouts lined the banks of the stream with the rocks that they removed to maintain a good run-off of water and not top-soil.

Working in the porject (that took from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.) were 33 boys from Troops 301, 302, 375, 387, and 388. Lending a stronger hand were eight adult leaders from the same troops who helped organize the effort with the senior leaders to remove the larger trees, dispose of the trash taken from the stream, and transport the boys.

To protect the boys from stray golf balls, (several of which were found in the stream) hard plastic caps were provided by Tesco, a local oil distributor. Equipment such as a garbage truck, and several rakes was provided for by the Essex County Parks Commission. Many other tools such as saws, shovels, and more rakes were provided by the troops and the boys themselves. The MacDonalds hamburger chain provided the boys with plastic garbage bags to dispose of the waste and a meal ticket good for a free hamburger, drink, and French Fries at the end of the day.

Arthur Pico Named

School Two Receives Principal After Debate

"These children are not being denied a good education at School Two," Arvidson continued, "and I base this on my own observations as a past Board member."

The former Board leader suggested the Board spend the money to bolster the vocational work-study program at the high school, which he said "needed two more teachers to function properly."

Andy Pica of 221 Brighton Avenue, a School Two parent, was the only one to speak from that school. "It seems like everytime we are up for something at our school we have to fight tooth and nail," he said. "Other schools get everything, but not us."

Board President Leonard Back hinted that Monday night's meeting was not the time for residents to voice opposition to the principalship. He asked where all the opposition was when the budget was first introduced at public hearing. The budget originally called for the School Two principalship and no verbal opposition was raised at that public meeting.

"It is interesting," Back said, "that we have almost as many people here (25) as we did at the public hearing on the entire budget."

Back also said the $18,005 salary was not the actual tax hike which residents would pay. He told the gathering that Pico, who holds a masters degree plus 32 credits, was already making $16,000 and that he would be replaced in his teaching post by a new instructor at the beginners salary range, "so that the increase we are talking about is closer to $9,000."

Mahmarian argued that there were other areas of the school system which more urgently needed the money, adding that "there haven't been any complaints about a part-time principal from School Ten."

He also said that since "the Number Two School District voted down our budget 2-1, I read that as meaning they don't want a principal."

This remark prompted Back to say "It was not the parents of that district that necessarily voted down the budget, it was the voters in general, many of whom have no children."

One parent from School Ten who was present at the meeting and had worked for the passage of the budget remarked he probably wouldn't do so next year, "I worked for the budget and tried to convince my neighbors. But I can't honestly go out and convince my neighbors who don't have children to vote for a budget that has an expenditure like the one you are making tonight."

Mrs. Barbara Romano, a School Eight parent and wife of Board member Caesar Romano, asked why complaining parents didn't suggest the removal of the principal of School Nine. She said the school population of that facility is about the same as the School Two.

Board member Mathew Pica, a graduate of School Two, remarked "I went to School Two and I always felt I was cheated by not having a full-time principal."

This promoted Arvidson to remark that "Despite what Mr. Pica says about his education, he seems to have done pretty well in life as evidenced by his membership on this Board."

Arvidson also criticized Back's statement about the hiring of an inexperienced teacher to replace Pico. "While you are not actually adding $18,000 - to the budget, you are losing a good, experienced teacher and replacing him with one with no experience. This is something to consider," he said.

Board member Lawrence Schwartz, an attorney, introduced another angle to the discussion, that of liability. He suggested that if a child injures himself in a situation where an administrator could have prevented the mishap but was not present, the school could be charged with negligence.

Arvidson responded to this by saying "I don't think in 73 years we have had an emergency where we would need administrative decision. The Board should not listen to scare tactics."

There was also considerable debate as to why a full-time principal at the school was needed in the first place. Board member Caesar Romano and Mathew Pica took the position that it would add to the quality of education, a point challenged by several of the parents.

Asked to show how education at School Two would improve with a full time administrator, Romano said: "Mr. Minasian now has two plants to worry about. With only one he would have more time to devote to helping the teachers and increasing community relations."

Minasian was praised frequently for doing "an excellent" job in the dual position.

A Worthy Testimonial

Last week almost 500 local citizens attended a testimonial dinner honoring the Rt. Rev. Anthony DiLuca, pastor emeritus of Holy Family Parish which covers portions of Nutley and Belleville. Msgr. DiLuca is the oldest living priest in the Archdiocese of Newark, serving 35 years right here in the Nutley-Belleville area.

Blessed with a strong body, a brilliant mind and man's indomitable will to win against all odds, Msgr. DiLuca, almost with his bare hands, constructed two new church buildings, a school, a convent, a rectory, and a youth center. In the process he built a parish that now serves more than 3,000 families.

What Msgr. DiLuca accomplished in 35 years would require two or three ordinary lifetimes but this human dynamo undertook the burdens of his wildest dreams at a time in life when most men start to coast downhill — and succeeded.

For those of us who enjoy younger years than Msgr. DiLuca, his example must prove inspirational. It has been said time and again that today is the first day of the rest of your life. This philosophy, coupled with an obsession to serve the cause of God regardless of odds, has brought to the life and times of Msgr. DiLuca amazing accomplishments. They will be eternal memorials inspiring the young and old alike that given ambition, determination, and belief in God, seemingly impossible goals can be achieved. We are thrilled that a portion of Msgr. DiLuca's life has touched ours for we feel richer for the experience. We are happy that it is our good fortune to have lived during the time this great man of God toiled in the side streets of our community aspiring to reach one goal — to spread the word of God in a meaningful way. Each of us at one time or another may wonder as the years pass by what useful purpose our short visit on earth will serve. Msgr. DiLuca need not address himself to this question. He has accomplished his purpose so well that the other night hundreds of his neighbors paused in their labors to join him at the banquet table as a manifestation of their appreciation for his contributions in bringing happiness to their families and advancing the most noble cause to which men dedicate themselves — service to God.

Fifty Years of Service

The month of June marks 50 years since the Zinicola family founded the Zinicola Baking Company and, if some of us happen to appear overweight, much of the problem might well derive from eating the Zinicola goodies.

The pioneer and founder was the late John Zinicola, Sr. and his sons, Mario and John, Jr., have carried on the family business expanding upon the neighborhood business which they inherited.

In these difficult times of cutthroat business competition, it is gratifying to see family enterprises thrive and expand. We congratulate the Zinicolas on celebrating their 50th business year and trust the good Lord will continue to preserve their health and that they enjoy a brighter future.

Commissioner Cullen Stuns Town By Resigning Position

By Elaine Auerbach
One Year Ago

Commissioner William Cullen handed in his resignation, stating that the reason for his decision was based on the fact that he was moving out of Belleville. However, The Times speculated that there was much more to Cullen's action than he gave in his letter of resignation. Most town officials said they were taken by surprise, except for Commissioner Mary Senatore, who commented: "I could see a lack of interest on his part in commission and town affairs." She declined to speculate, however, why Cullen might have lost interest.

After the State Highway Department installed temporary safety features on Route 21, one of the long range improvement ideas which were to come under study would be a second entrance northbound in Belleville. Acting Police Chief Joe Smith told The Times that a possible site had been selected for the entrance, which Belleville police hoped would enable them to respond faster to the frequent accidents occurring along the northbound "death strip."

John Lauterette resigned as chairman of the Belleville Zoning Board of Adjustment. John Morello, board vice-chairman, was to assume Lauterette's duties. Named to fill the vacant spot on the five man board was Sam Giordano, who had been an alternate member of the organization. Lauterette told The Times that business activities had forced him to miss "too many meetings" and indicated that it kept him from "doing justice to the job."

Charging that critics of the $275,000 bond issue referendum for an addition to School 2 were "unrealistic and uninformed," School Board president Ernest Arvidson urged Belleville voters to go to the polls and approve the measure. Arvidson declared that such an action would provide "an equal educational opportunity" for the children of the community. The school board president had taken issue with figures that had been used by opponents of the $275,000 bond issue.

The entire state, including Essex County, was pitted against an army of invading ticks in what had the possibility of becoming a serious struggle to avoid diseases. Dr. Oscar Sussman, of the New Jersey Health Department, stated that the creatures were appearing in larger numbers than usual. He emphasized that ticks were parasites that could only thrive when in direct contact with a warm-blooded animal. One of the many known diseases that the ticks could carry was Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. Miss Catherine McMahon, of 14 Ideal Court, Nutley, was the happy recipient of the grand prize trip to Miami Beach in the newspaper bingo contest sponsored by The Times. Miss McMahon won a week in the Carillon Hotel in Miami Beach, and was to travel there on an Eastern Airlines Whisperjet. Eighty people had been eligible for the big award that Miss McMahon unexpectedly but joyfully received.

Ten Years Ago

Paul W. Jones, of 518 Prospect Street, Nutley, was to leave his job as principal of School No. 3 to begin a new assignment as Superintendent of Schools in North Arlington. Mr. Jones was to be in charge of four elementary schools and a six-year high school. Mr. Jones had been with the Belleville system for twenty-five years.

Six area service clubs were to provide canoes for use at Camp Mohican, the summer camp and training center of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, located at Blairstown. Pearce Shepherd, president of the Council, said, "The gifts of canoes by service clubs and other groups will replace eleven canoes destroyed in collapse of a roof of a building at camp a few weeks ago." The Belleville Rotary Club, Lions Club, Unico Club, and North Newark Kiwanis Club were the contributors to the cause.

School Board president Domenick A. Lally clashed in a bitter debate with Lee Garson, of the Citizens' Tax Council. Lally challenged Garson's authority to speak as spokesman for the Tax Council. Lally rapped Garson after he had asked whether or not the site of the proposed new high school would be on high ground or on the so-called bog area at the Municipal Stadium property. Lally said he didn't know. However, other board members and several members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee were positive that the school would be built on high ground.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The Belleville-Nutley Rotary Club was to install Siegfried G. Bart as president for the year 1946-47. Mr. Bart succeeded B. Thomas Aitken of the Peoples National Bank. Other officers that were to be installed were: Frank McFadden, vice-president; G. Crosby Hiss, secretary, and Harry Naylor, treasurer.

James J. Tully, Mayor of Belleville and the youngest mayor in Essex County, was married to Miss Marie G. Wertz of Bloomfield in Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield. Mrs. Tully was a graduate of Montclair Secretarial School. Mayor Tully, a former U.S. Marine Corps Lieutenant, has been elected to the town commission in May with the highest vote in a field of thirteen candidates.

The Elmer S. Hyde Group, composed of friends and workers during the May election to promote the candidacy of the standard-bearer for a commission post, elected officers at a dinner held in the Kraft Homestead. Officers of the newly formed group were: James Lampman, president; Nick Candura, first vice-president; Mrs. Theresa Flick, second vice-president; Elmer Gibbs Jr., recording secretary, and Ronald G. Brunner, treasurer.

Forty Years Ago

The Elks prepared for a midsummer dance. John Garrison, chairman of arrangements, announced that "sports attire" or "anything comfortable" would be worn. Bill Camaratta's radio orchestra was to play for the dance.

James F. Lynch, president of the Recreation Commission, and Edward Lister, a member of that body, took part in the camp fire program marking the opening of the day camp at Davey's Woods for the boys of the local playgrounds.

The Right Time

To the Editor:

It seems a case of being in the right place at the right time, turned out to be a most pleasant surprise for these eight women: Mrs. Marie Vander Zwan, Mrs. Rita Kellenbence, Mrs. Kay Barbone, Mrs. Grace Purdue, Mrs. Loretta DeSantis, Mrs. Dahlia Pignatello, Mrs. Eleanor La Badia and Mrs. Viola Narucki on Thursday, June 3rd, 1971.

A luncheon "togetherness" before summer vacation started was planned at the Marriott in Saddle Brook. After a most delicious lunch and an exchange of pleasantries, they were informed by their waiter that their "tab" had been paid for by a mystery guest who had enjoyed seeing them having such a nice time and wished to remain anonymous. An unbelievable surprise to all of them is to say the least, and a questioning of waiter and Maitre-d could not pry the secret from their sealed lips.

Your kindearthedness will always be an unforgettable memory to the eight of us so thank you kind sir, whoever and wherever you are, and God Bless.

Mrs. Viola Narucki

P.S. We have sent a thank you to the Maitre-d of the Sirkin & Saddle Room to convey to our host but maybe someday you can "News" it out for us, it might make for a very interesting story.

An Old Dream Sails The Passaic

"Spectators came from miles around...grandstands were erected...crowds on both sides of the river cheered their favorite crew or sculler. . . boat clubs and bathhouses lined the river."

The above is a quote from an article that appeared in a newspaper in 1933 recalling how attractive the Passaic River USED TO BE.

In 1946 an article appeared entitled "Agencies Gain in Fight to Purify New Jersey." In 25 years here we are still fighting but with deeper concerns.

The hope for a beautiful Passaic River is an old, old dream. Even as early as 1890 a change set in and there were no more regattas and gradually the Passaic River had become an open sewer.

American Progress—I believe that is what it is called. Instead of homes and spacious parks along the Passaic, industry moved in and if there were some homes left the odor was so terrible that they couldn't stay.

The Belleville area along the Passaic River at one time was one of the nicest sites. Many boat races were conducted near the Bridge St. area, there were parks and benches along the River, and Hugh Holmes, Belleville's first Mayor, in an article he wrote in the late 1800's recalls the fish he USED TO CATCH.

Here we go again!!! How long do we have to dream?

Various organizations are being established in an effort to get the Passaic River clean again.

At the present time the Passaic River is being considered by the President's Council on Environmental Quality for a Model River Project. This means that if the Passaic is chosen our dream will finally have come true.

The Passaic River, however, is not the only river in contention. All the organizations established will not be beneficial unless we get the cooperation from the people. Every citizen is urged to write to their Congressman, Senator and Gov. Cahill at the State House, Trenton, New Jersey expressing their desire to have the Passaic River chosen as the Model River.

The Belleville High School's crew still uses the Passaic River for their activities, however, it can be costly. With all the debris in the River, many shells are ruined. The students are very fond of this sport and it would be a shame if it would get to a point where the Passaic just wasn't fit for this kind of activity. Don't let this happen!

The Passaic River is in dire need of clean-up measures and in view of the fact it flows through one of the most urbanized sections of the nation, we stand a very good chance of being lucky enough to be selected. However, this will only occur if you, you and especially YOU join with us in a letter writing campaign.

Give Him Time

To the Editor:

This is an open answer to Julius Minuskin's open letter to Commissioner Robert Laterza published in The Belleville Times on June 10.

The commission election was held on May 10 and you are already criticizing Commissioner Laterza of Gestapo-like actions and attitudes toward our children and I find I must disagree with you.

I myself live closer to Washington Avenue than you do and see, watch and hear a great deal of which you speak, all the way from seven year olds on up to teenagers and find their actions and the language used by both boys and girls deplorable. Some of the words sicken me, and I have as yet to see a police car pull up to chase these children, as you call them, from corner to corner — but don't let me quote your letter the way you wrote it.

I am sure Commissioner Laterza could hardly have accomplished all your changes in one month.

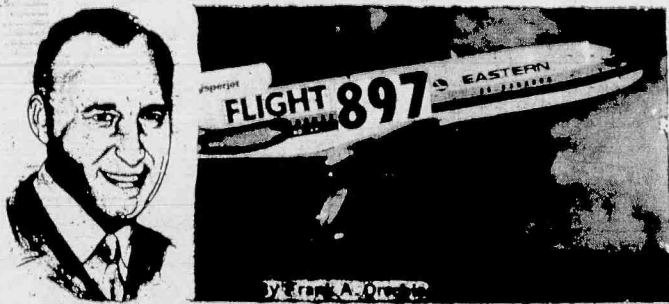

To me, good manners, examples of street conduct and any way of conducting oneself is started in the home by the parents, so instead of criticizing Commissioner Laterza, suppose you examine your own conscience?

Marijuana: A Re-Examination Of This Hallucinogen Is Needed

MUCH HAS BEEN WRITTEN ABOUT MARIJUANA — nothing good of course — but the weed has defenders as well as critics.

The latest professional to write a book on the subject is Dr. Lester Grinspoon. The author of the book published by the Harvard University Press is a professor at Harvard University. Last Sunday his book was reviewed in The New York Times Book Review Section by Dr. James L. Goddard who served as Commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration during the years 1966-1968. During his government service, Dr. Goddard built up a reputation for being a tough administrator.

Dr. Grinspoon, a Harvard Medical School Psychiatrist, believes "we must move to make the social use of marijuana legal." Dr. Goddard favors "legalization only if I were confident that a controlled system could be devised to preclude widespread usage by adolescent."

Because of the importance of the subject of drug use and anticipating no objection from The New York Times, it appears to be in the public interest to give Dr. Goddard's review of the book "Marijuana Reconsidered" the broadest readership. With this thought in mind, Dr. Goddard's complete comments follow:

Pot use "leads to violence and crime. . . opens the mind and enhances creativity. . . smoking is the first step in the use of such drugs as cocaine, morphine and heroin. . . is an aphrodisiac. . . has a causal relationship to psychosis. . . is an extremely safe drug when compared to scobarbital and alcohol."

Each of these partial quotations from Lester Grinspoon's recent book "Marijuana Reconsidered" can become the departure point for an evening-long discussion with one's friends, reaffirming for the cocaine- and the amphetamine- and the demonologists are in our midst. Having tilted on numerous occasions with those whose minds have been captured by the "demonology" of marijuana I am particularly sensitive to how deeply we as a society have been committed to a position that is based on superstition and undocumented hearsay. For three generations misinformation about this drug has been embedded into our literature, our minds, our ethos and, increasingly, our laws.

How well this misinformation has been planted and carefully nurtured is attested to by our continued inability to use the available scientific evidence to modify Federal statutes which are not only unrealistic but Draconian in nature. This societal "blindspot" has created a dilemma. One facet of the dilemma is the Alice-in-Wonderland relationship we have fashioned between marijuana and alcohol.

On the one hand we find that possession of alcohol, a central nervous system depressant which has produced physical dependence in an estimated 6,000,000 Americans and psychological dependence in perhaps five times that number, is not only free of penalty but its use is even encouraged by our society to such a degree that nonusers of the drug are regarded by most as being somewhat peculiar. On the other hand mere possession of marijuana, a mild "hallucinogen" incapable of producing physical dependence and whose ability to create psychological dependence is judged to be less than that of alcohol and tobacco, is considered a heinous crime punishable upon conviction by imprisonment for varying periods up to 99 years.

Grinspoon, a Harvard Medical School psychiatrist, analyzes this and other aspects of the marijuana problem and concludes that, "we must consider the enormous harm, both obvious and subtle, short range and long-term, inflicted on the people particularly the young, who constitute or will soon constitute the formative and critical members of our society by the present punitive, repressive approach to the use of marijuana. And we must consider the damage inflicted on legal and other institutions when young people react to what they see as a confirmation of their view that those institutions are hypocritical and inequitable. Indeed the greatest potential for social harm lies in the scarring of so many young people and the reactive, institutional damages that are direct products of present marijuana laws. If we are to avoid having this harm reach the proportion of a national disaster within the next decade, we must move to make the social use of marijuana legal."

Before reaching this conclusion Grinspoon covers, in an unusually well documented fashion, the biology, chemistry, pharmacology and toxicity of marijuana the potential medical uses which merit further study of the psychological effects of using the drug; and the social and legal implications of usage both with regard to the individual and society. For the serious student who seeks original sources a 42-page section of notes has been provided.

That there will be criticisms of the conclusions and the manner in which they were reached goes without question, for the issues involved are so emotionally laden that reason will be cast aside and specious arguments introduced. There will be critics who will find fault on the grounds that the potential dangers have been minimized and that we know too little to legalize usage at this point in time. Others will argue that undue bias was involved in the exclusion of reports which document the problems associated with usage of cannabis sativa (marijuana).

As to the first criticism the author in anticipation states, "It is quite true that among the hundreds and hundreds of papers dealing with cannabis, there is relatively little methodologically sound research. Yet out of this vast collection of largely unsystematic recordings comes the strong impression that no amount of research is likely to prove that cannabis is as dangerous as alcohol and tobacco." On this point I would agree that research may not be able to demonstrate equivalent dangers, but I would hasten to point out if usage were at the same level and over as prolonged a period of time we might find that lung cancer, or emphysema or other disorders would occur as often as with tobacco. This does not invalidate Grinspoon's conclusions but rather suggests that if the use of marijuana were to be made legal it should be made available in dosage forms that are potentially less dangerous.

On the second point concerning the bias in selection of material, having personally reviewed the English portion of the world literature in preparation for Congressional hearings, I can only express my admiration for the manner in which Grinspoon has extracted, analyzed and synthesized the most relevant literature to present the reader with a coherent, logical case. He inevitably leads to the conclusion that, as a society, we were systematically coerced into making the same mistake in 1937 with marijuana that was made earlier with alcohol by the passage of the Volstead Act.

It is difficult to understand why this "error" was made by many of the same legislators who just a few years earlier had in repealing the Volstead Act recognized the wisdom of Spinoza's admonition: "He who seeks to regulate everything by law is more likely to arouse vices than reform them." Difficult, at any rate, unless one speculates that the liquor lobby played a critical, albeit subtle role in the "legal onslaught" which occurred during the early and mid-thirties and culminated in the passage of the Federal Marijuana Tax Act of 1937.

2 Attend Citizenship Institute

By Marilyn Casciano

This year, as in many years past, the Evening Membership department of the Belleville Women's Club has sent two lovely Juniors from Belleville High School to attend Douglas College Citizenship Institute for Girls. The girls chosen to receive this honor this year are: Miss Lu Ann Roccia and Miss Rose Mary Morra.

The purpose of Citizenship Institute is to provide training in good citizenship; to encourage awareness of the social and political problems of contemporary society; and to encourage original thought on women's role in the coming decades. Background story on Rosemary Morra of 76 Salter Pl.; Age 17. Attended James G. Shawger School. Editor there of her school newspaper for two years and thought up its name. The 4 Star Bulletin which is still used today.

She feels that her greatest influences there were Mrs. Murray her 5th grade teacher and Mrs. Gialanollis, her 6th grade teacher. She continued writing for the newspaper in the Junior High School, "The Bridge". Here she had her own column, "Dear Gabby" which was quite similar to Ann Landers.

As a child she always enjoyed twirling and was very fortunate in the 9th grade to make twirling and has been on the twirling squad (fire twirling) for three years. In High school she is very active with the clubs. She belongs to the debating club, the teachers club, ski club and archery. Recently she participated in the student teachers day in which she taught Mr. Sylvestri's Algebra II classes.

She is very proud to have been elected as Secretary of the Student Council. She enjoys other activities such as swimming and would like to learn how to surf this summer.

In her future years she would like to attend Penn State to study psychology. She also likes to write poetry and hopes in the near future to publish a book.

She would like to thank Mr. Degnin, her guidance counselor, who has helped her throughout this year.

Lu Ann Roccia attended Three School in Belleville. She had wonderful teachers. One teacher who she feels influenced her a great deal was her fourth grade teacher Mrs. Harry Del Plato. She left a lasting impression on Lu Ann. She was firm, but gentle.

Lu Ann loves to read. Her favorite sports are swimming, horse back riding, and water skiing.

Last summer she worked in the Welfare Dept. of Essex County. She found it very rewarding. She intends to work there again this summer.

When she was four years old the children on De Witt Ave. voted Lu Ann Miss Popularity. On Christmas Eve she would go Christmas Caroling with her younger sister and her cousins. The money they made they donated to the March of Dimes. Of course they ate the cookies that were given to them.

Upon completion of High School Lu Ann intends to study law, and become a lawyer.

The girls will speak before

All men are endowed with brain capacity but few of them have the necessary will power to use what they have.

the Evening Membership Dept. of the Belleville Womens Club next fall, about their trip and as always we will look forward to their visit.

Tri-Town Presents Scholarships, Awards

Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley held its regular monthly dinner meeting on May 27 at the Park Methodist Church, Broad and Park Streets in Bloomfield.

This was the annual Flora Loudon Memorial Scholarship awards night and Miss Elsie Ciccone, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, announced the winners of the $400 awards given to girls graduating from the high schools of the three towns. They are: Mary Oertel of Belleville, who plans to continue her education at Caldwell College for Women; Sally Eng of Bloomfield, who will attend Glassboro State College; and Susan Clare McGuire, who will attend Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School in New York.

In addition, Carol Fried of Belleville, Patricia Ann Salvatoriello of Bloomfield and Theresa Ann Ricca of Nutley will receive $100 bonds as winners of the typing contests conducted in the three high schools. The awards winners, their mothers and Tri-Town members heard Mrs. William Genne, national vice president of the YWCA, chairman of their College and University Division, and member of the Civil Rights Commission for Montclair, speak on "Women's Role in a Changing World." She spoke from a considerable background of personal experience and understanding when she challenged women to recognize that they have a most important and strategic part to play in the world and must commit themselves to bringing about the changes that will help people be more human. To do this, she said, they must be sensitive and discerning and must continue to grow in knowledge as long as they live. Continuing education is but one step of the way.

The Nominating Committee, under the chairmanship of Miss Eleanor Storer of Nutley, presented a slate of officers to the membership for the 1971-1972 year and the following were elected: President, Miss Ruth Williamson of Belleville; first vice president, Mrs. Marion Johnson of Nutley; second vice president, Miss Alice Fleming of Rutherford; recording secretary, Miss Marion Hansen of Bloomfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Josephine Robustello of Belleville; and treasurer, Decay, Termites, Which Is It?

Sometimes it takes experience to tell whether soft wood in a building is a result of termite injury or wood rot.

If there are no channels and the wood merely becomes spongy and soft, the trouble is wood rot, according to Mr. William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

The term "dry rot" is often used, indicating that some fungus may be living in completely dry material and still cause damage. Even with "dry rot" the fungus must have contact with moisture, though the source is not apparent.

Mr. Munk says he has found a fungus rotting out timbers on the second floor of a dwelling with no visible connection between wet soil and the rotting timber.

In such cases careful detective work may show strands of fungus extending from the rotting wood and the second floor, down through rotten timbers to the first floor, and from there to the soil. The strands of fungus act like a wick to conduct the moisture upward.

Paps Out For Season With Fracture

A player's attempt to take a short-stop out of a double play caused both players to be taken out of the game and one to be out for the rest of the season. The result of the play was a fractured thumb to Belleville's Joe Papasidero and a cut across the eye of Livingston second-baseman Mike Reynolds, which needed 13 stitches.

Joe Paps required four stitches in his right thumb as he had a compound fracture of the thumb's first joint. This hopefully won't affect the bending of his thumb but will cause him to miss the rest of the season. He probably will be back into throwing condition and into his regular form by the fall or winter, so he should be able to continue with the college career that he plans at Montclair State.

The play that caused the mishap was a routine double play ball hit by Livingston's Mike Durkin to Belleville's Brian Waters. The second-baseman flipped the ball to Paps, who was about to complete the play to his little brother Frankie on first.

Instead of going to Frank Paps, the ball went into Reynolds' face just above the eye. Reynolds continued to move forward with his momentum and Paps' follow-through took his hand into either Reynolds' helmet or his glasses, and contact was made with the edge of the thumb first.

Mike Reynolds was the starting second-baseman on the GNT Championship team from Seton Hall. According to his American Legion manager Lee Hammer, the stitches are supposed to be removed tomorrow night and the steady hitter for Livingston should be able to return to the line-up before the season is over.

The Legion Post 105 of Belleville will find it hard to replace the fielding and batting ability of the winner of both the American Legion Most Valuable Senior Baseball Player Award, and the William Chapman Memorial Award of the Colony Club to the outstanding senior athlete. The coaches will try one of a few combinations though, which could see John Goscinski or Brian Waters moved to short-stop and Alan Frank or Rich Giordano moved to third or second to fill the vacant spot.

SanFillippo Signs With Expo's Farm Club

Belleville's Rich SanFillippo, a June graduate of Montclair State College, signed a contract with the Montreal Expo's this past Monday morning in Livingston in the home of Montreal scout Honey Russell.

The contract that SanFillippo and the former Seton Hall University coach verified sent the co-captain of this year's 19-6 Montclair squad to the New York-Pennsylvania League of the Class A minors yesterday to suit up with the Expo's Jamestown farm team with most of the other first year players.

SanFillippo spent two days up in Jamestown, New York early in June for what he called a "look and see" session for him and 13 other Major League contract hopefuls from the Eastern United States. The actual work-out only lasted an hour and a half according to Rich, but evidently this and the games that Montreal has scouted this past season were enough to warrant a contract.

Rich realizes that this does not mean a chance to the instant stardom that younger players dream of. "I haven't the slightest idea whether or not I'll be moved up to the majors or even up to Class Double A ball this season," explained the short stop.

Just Wants A Chance To Show

"I have a lot of confidence, though. I just want a chance to show them my playing. As for my chances of making it into the bigger leagues (Class AA, AAA, and the Majors), a lot depends on doing the right thing at the right time, and getting the right people to see you when you're doing the right thing."

The league that Rich will play in has a 65 game schedule, which has already started. The schedule puts a game almost every day and includes some double headers which help it get all wrapped up by August 31.

Rich commented that it will be a challenge to get to play every day rather than the one or two times a week that he has played for the West Orange team of the Essex County Semi-Pro League. He hopes that nothing has been lost of his ability that he had while in college. "At school," he explains, "you get to see a ball every day, not once every three or four days like the Essex County League. This league gives a guy some practice, but you lose a little of your timing. It should take a good hitter only three or four days though, to get it back if he plays every day under game conditions."

Senior Season Ended At .330

Rich's senior year at Montclair saw him play his best season ever. The co-captain was the lead-off man on the team and belted seven home runs while hitting .330 with a total of 19 RBIs.

In his sophomore year at Montclair, Rich was the Most Valuable Player for the local state school with a .296 average. As a junior he hit .271.

SanFillippo was the short-stop on the Belleville High School Big Ten Championship Team in 1965 and 1966. He made the first team on the All-County roster in both his junior year and his senior year (1967). He also was named to the All-State High School list on the third team.

After this ball player finished his season in late August, and unless he makes a move up a notch or two in the farm system, he will start a job that he considers a "real good deal."

The future Glen Ridge elementary school physical education instructor will be the head coach of the town's freshman football team and the junior varsity baseball coach.

Rich's credentials for the coaching jobs include more all-county honors in baseball. Rich capped his three years as a starting player on the BHS varsity grid iron as a defensive halfback and offensive end with All-County honors his senior year. At college, though, Rich found football as a conflict of interest with baseball and decided to continue on the diamond.

Champion Aces Top All Peanut League Squads

By Warren Ceres

Action came to a close in the National Division of the Recreation Peanut Baseball League last week with Lou Pomponius Aces topping the field. Second place went to Dan Krotchko's Bears. The Aces lost only two games, one to the Bears and one to Bob Haug's Indians. It was also only two losses for the Bears, one to the Aces and one to Al Malfitano's Dodgers. The difference was one tie game for the Bears at the hands of Charles Miele's Tigers. The Dodgers finished third and the Indians were fourth. Following is the order of finish of the remaining teams: Carls fifth, Tigers sixth, Bombers seventh and Clippers eighth.

One thing was apparent in the closing games of the League and that is that regardless of where their teams finished a lot of little boys learned a lot of baseball. Every team showed greatly improved capability and baseball know-how. Every coach can feel justifiably proud of his contribution to this total baseball effort. Members of the Recreation Coaching Staff for the National Division are John Carlo, Ron Concato, Bob Haug, Dan Krotchko, Al Malfitano, Charles Miele, Lou Pomponi and Frank St. John.

Things in the American Division were not so simple at the end of last week. In a battle of the Titans the Braves won a beautiful 2-1 victory over the White Sox. Both teams played superbly and the great sportsmanship

Joe Fractures Thumb

Loss Of Papasidero Dims Chances For American Legion Division Title

Belleville's American Legion baseball team will have its last chance of the season to take the title of the Eastern Division of the Essex County American Legion Baseball League tonight as they host the Division Leaders of Vailsburg.

The team had their chances hurt Monday night by more than just their loss to Livingston. The Legion also lost their first string short-stop Joe Papasidero as he was taken out of the play on a broken up double play and fractured his right thumb.

The Newarkers will be travelling into Belleville Municipal Stadium with a 6-1 slate after spoiling their perfect record Monday night with a 4-2 loss to Caldwell. Caldwell is tied for first place in the western Division with a 4-2 record, while Livingston has a 4-0 record, for the same position.

Livingston handed Belleville an 8-6 defeat Monday night to drop Belleville's record to 3-4. This means that for Belleville to take the Division crown, they will have to win two more of the remaining six ballgames than Vailsburg does. Should the Newarkers win tonight, that means Belleville will hope Vailsburg will get beaten by four of their remaining opponents, and for Belleville to win all six.

The players on the Belleville team will definitely be out for revenge as they lost their first game of the season to Vailsburg by a score of 10-0.

Belleville had a lot of trouble getting hits that night as All-State pitcher Ron Sarno of Saint Benedicts pitched a three-hit shut-out.

But that didn't mean that Belleville was a push-over for Vailsburg. Danny Dunn, a first string All-Parochial Division pitcher from Essex Catholic, held the Vailsburg Post to only two hits, while losing the game on a close play at the plate in the top of the first inning.

After the big contest tonight, Post 105 will visit the Park Oval in Nutley on Monday at 3 p.m. for the Annual Independence Day Game.

That game is almost always one for revenge as seen last year when Belleville lost at home to Nutley Post 90 by a score of 10-1 and then came back to take the July Fourth game on an 8-0 shut out. That same Nutley squad won the Eastern Division title of the Essex County American Legion League, with Belleville placing second.

This year the situation is almost reversed, so Belleville will have to stay on its toes to gain a sweep of the teams two contests. Belleville toppled Nutley 8-1 in the home game of the pair this season.

Football Stars To Upsala

Two Belleville High School athletes have signed letters of intent to pursue their academic studies at Upsala College and to participate in the school's athletic program.

Thomas Jones, a 185 pound guard, and James Patrick Miele, a hardhitting first baseman outfielder, will enter Upsala in the fall and will be candidates for the college's football and baseball teams. Upsala Athletic Director Donald Walker said the incoming freshmen will bring with them not only excellent athletic credentials but good academic backgrounds that will enable them to obtain well-rounded educations.

Jones played football for four years at Belleville High and also was a member of the high school's wrestling and crew teams.

RON KULIK, former Belleville High School track coach now residing in Nutley, receives Bulova watch from Mr. Hart of Hart's Jewelers for placing fifth in a field of 39 starters at the National AAU Walking Championships in Cedar Grove Reservoir.

Amvets Keep Rolling

4 Unbeaten Teams In Little League

Four teams are sporting unbeaten records in the Belleville Little League, two in the National loop and two in their American circuit.

The Amvets (3-0), first half winners and unbeaten all year, hold a half game lead over Jolly Cleaners (2-0) in the National League. In close pursuit is the Knights of Columbus at 3-1, with the highly rated pre-season favorites the Lions Club at 2-2.

Both the Rotary Club and the Elks are tied for the league lead in the American loop with 3-0 records. Riefolo, which topped the league last week with a 2-0 mark, lost both its games last week to fall to third.

Amvets Explode
The Amvets spotted Milt's

Photo three runs in the top of the first inning and then roared back with 13 big runs in the bottom of the inning to begin a 17-5 pasting of Milt's. Nick Sicurelli led the hitting for the Amvets with three safeties, followed by Frank Mozeicka and Anthony Bialeore with two a piece. One of Bialeore's hits was a homerun in the fourth inning.

Ken Nicosia had three hits for the losers.

Colony Shut Out
The Colony Club, behind the four-hit pitching of Rick Loma defeated the Biancardi team 5-0. Joe Norton had two hits for Biancardi to top all batters. Jim Clenaghan pitched a three-hitter for the losers but his team couldn't muster any runs for him.

Lions Clawed

The Knights of Columbus handed the Lions Club its second defeat of the second half, 4-2 in an exciting ball game. The Knights took the lead in the first inning when Doug Stone hit a homerun with a man on base to take a 2-0 lead. The Knights scored two more runs in the third inning with only eight players on the field, no more on the bench, and the time limit already surpassed.

Legion Takes Two Of Three For Rebound

The Irvington game was a little happier for the team, but also provided a lot of tense moments. The only two runs of the game were scored in the first and last innings and Belleville left a total of 12 runners on base in between. Dunn handled Irvington rather well, picking up his first win against one defeat as he pitched a two-hitter, striking out six and walking only two.

Belleville scored off the Campers on back to back singles by Joe Paps and Dunn in the first with the RBI going to Pettie on a sacrifice fly to center.

Pettie figured in the scoring again in the seventh as he doubled down the right field line, went to second on a bunt single by John Goscinski and scored on another single by Waters.

Belleville picked up a total of seven hits off the two Irvington pitchers, Dean Uhlick (now 0-2 against Belleville this season) and his reliever Joe Sonn. The pair also let up as many base on balls to Post 105, but Belleville left most of these free passes on base.

Nutley provided a little opposition for Belleville as Post 105 collected at least a hit an inning and cut down their men left on base to six from 12 in the previous game.

Joe Paps started things off against Nutley. The lead-off batter poked a 2-1 fastball

MAX BECK

A customer asked us the other day, "How it is possible to see a color picture, so to speak, out of thin air." After trying for a while to explain it, we found out that it is nearly impossible to make the phenomenon understood in a sentence or two. As a matter of fact, we could not even explain it to our own and the customer's satisfaction without many more sentences.

This reminded the writer of his grandmother who would not touch a light switch. She called it "devil's stuff" and she did not want any part of it. We had gaslights before we got electricity and all the attempts of the whole family to explain to her that one could not see gas either, she insisted that one had to light the gas with a match. As long as she lived, somebody had to turn the light switch on or off for her.

The writer had the same experience with his own mother. When we built our first crystal detector set with earphones, about 25 years ago and heard the first sound, the writer called his mother to listen to it. She also called it "stuff of the devil" and no good would come of it. Of course she was wrong. It revolutionized the whole system of communications, and hope-fully, would bring the world closer together, for the good of it. So far, unfortunately, this has not happened. The world is still the same, only worse. Sometimes one wonders whether grandmother and mother weren't right?

way past the Nutley Center fielder for a homerun to score the first run of the game in the bottom of the first inning.

Pettie followed with a single and after stealing second went to third as Goscinski reached through the courtesy of the Nutley infielders. The Maroon short-stop crossed the diamond to take an infield pop-up but was tripped by the second-baseman and Goscinski was on. Goscinski stole second, and both runners were knocked in on a single by Waters.

Frank Paps scored Waters with a single, and Gerard Mongrella sent little Paps around from first with a triple for the final run of the inning.

Frank Paps scored Waters again in the fifth with another single, and came home again on an extra-base hit by Mongrella, this time a double. Alan Frank knocked Mongrella in for the final run with a single that same inning.

to take a 4-0 lead. The Lions came back with two in the fourth to tighten up things. The Lions however, left the bases loaded three times during the game and that proved to be the difference. Stone and Howie Barnett had two hits for the winners and Fred Racioppi and John Clarizo had two hits for the losers.

Spear 1-Hits
Anthony Spear just missed pitching a no-hitter to lead the Biancardi Club to a 7-1 victory. The no-hit bid was broken in the sixth inning with two outs by Mike Giacomo. Jim Clenaghan had two hits for the losers.

Elks Rally
The Elks Club rallied for six runs in the last three innings to overcome a four run first inning by Riefolo to defeat them 6-5. Randy Matton and Joe Gelpi had two hits each for the winners, while Bart Benni had two safeties for the losers.

Firemen Score
The F.M.B.A. defeated the Kiwanis Club 7-3 by scoring six big run runs in the fifth inning. The Kiwanis actually out-hit the firemen, 9-6, but could not get the hits with runners on base. Lou Lavalie led the winners with two hits, while Greg Gueslin had three hits for the losers, followed by Don Tswokinski and Gerald Sorce with two hits.

Knights Surge
The Knights of Columbus went on a hitting spree to score 5 runs on Mill's Photo to win 15-4. Ted Serritella led the hitting for the winners with three hits, followed by Doug Stone and Ronnie Krych with two apiece. Dan Borgo and Greg McTigue each had two hits for the losers.

Rotary Scores
The Rotary Club came up with three runs in the fifth inning and one in the sixth to defeat Wallace & Tiernan by the score 6-3. Bob Nebelung had two hits for the winners and Andy McMannua had two for the losing cause.

Varsity Shutout
Anthony Gammara won a pitching duel with the Colony Club's John Leverich as the Varsity Club won 3-0. Both pitchers allowed only three hits.

that prevailed throughout the game continued afterward when the Sox gave the winners a cheer with as much enthusiasm as though the victory had been their own.

This win gave the Braves a slender lead by virtue of their 11-1 standing as compared to the White Sox 11-2. Joe Norton has a finely honed team in his Braves. Al Nufrio has done an equally great job with his White Sox. Meanwhile each of these teams must face the same formidable foe in the third place Giants, coached by Joseph Riccio and the Braves

Joe Cervasio Is Destined For Success

Joe Cervasio never quite achieved the athletic goals he set for himself while participating in high school and college athletics. But, the lifelong Belleville resident seems destined for greatness in the profession he has chosen.

Now 23, Cervasio has joined the sales team of Boise Cascade Recreation Communities in its Clifton office, which is embarked upon the assignment of selling nearly 3,000 homesites at The Hideout, a brand new recreational community located in the heart of Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountains.

Although he has been employed by Boise Cascade for just six weeks, Cervasio has already distinguished himself as one of the firm's most industrious and enterprising salesmen. It is expected that his initiative and diligence soon will make Cervasio a leading salesman, according to Bill Murphy, Division Sales Manager at The Hideout's Clifton office.

Cervasio is best remembered in this community as a football player at Belleville High School in 1963 and 1964 when he was an outstanding halfback.

After Cervasio led the Bellboys to an upset of East Orange in the opening game of his final season at Belleville High, he began to dream of All-State honors. In the next game against Bloomfield, the 5 foot, 8 inch, 175-pound speedster twisted an ankle which was never the same for the rest of the season.

"I was forced to become strictly an inside, straight-ahead runner because the ankle injury reduced my speed," Cervasio said. Although he still had a good year for the Bellboys (5-3-1), gaining 1,002 yards in 156 carries, he fell short of his All-State aspirations and was named to the All-Essex County team.

Cervasio had another chance at All-State honors in the spring when he captained the Belleville baseball team to one of its best records (22-5). After 12 games as the Bellboys' centerfielder, Cervasio was hitting .340 and leading the club in runs batted in.

"I really thought I had a shot at All-State again," Cervasio said, "but my back began bothering me and, after a doctor's examination, it was discovered that I had an extreme curvature of the spine. I was ordered to quit the team immediately."

An outstanding student, Cervasio ranked third in the Class of 1965 at Belleville High, he matriculated at Cornell University where he dreamed of becoming an All-Ivy League halfback. Those hopes were never achieved, he said, mainly because he was not big enough to be an outstanding college halfback.

He was a starter for the Big Red in his junior and senior years, and excelled as a kickoff return specialist. His teammates generally acknowledged Cervasio as the hardest worker on the squad.

While he may have been frustrated on the gridiron, Cervasio continued to perform well in the classroom. He was a dean's list student and was graduated in 1969 with a bachelor's degree in Industrial Labor Relations.

350 Seniors Make Their Final March

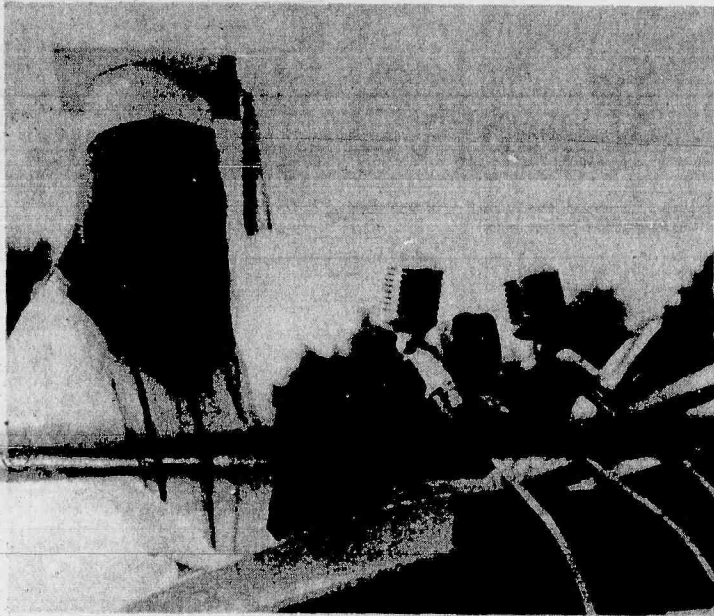

MICHAEL ALBERTINE leads the male seniors onto the field at Municipal Stadium to begin ceremonies for Belleville High School's Class of 1971 graduation.

MARCHING for the last time as Belleville High School students are the first line of senior girls as they enter the Stadium for commencement exercises.

Salutatorian

Karen Gaschke

KAREN GASCHKE, Salutatorian, delivers her speech on Man's environment to the parents, classmates and friends at the Stadium exercises. Karen is headed for Monclair State.

Honored Guests, Parents and Friends of the class of '71, Welcome to June 22nd, the night of the chameleon. Though I realize that you are all here tonight because you wish to share in the graduates' happiness and recognition, would you please participate in my speech? Listen for three minutes. The language is simple, the moments will pass quicker than you think, but the conclusion of my talk depends entirely upon you.

Believe or not, the class of '71 has the alternative of yielding to past theories and offering themselves as slaves to tradition or they may utilize their freedom with regard to personal opinions and causes. Now, don't get excited! I'm not about to burn the flag or harass the President with fanatical phone calls. The traditions we should replace are those mythical conceptions which shall cause us future misery.

This can all be related to Darwin's survival of the fittest. For example, my cat, docile as she may seem in the house, does a smashing job of preserving the balance of nature outside. The birds and mice she victimizes couldn't have been very alert in the first place.

Well, how alert are we to conditions surrounding us? Do we know who our enemies are? All too often they remain invisible to our ignorant vision. And do you know why we can't see them? Because we ourselves are our own enemies.

Think, feel free to recall the many times a candy wrapper has been flung to the sidewalk or the faucet was left trickling those precious drops of liquid. Although the consequences of these and other apparently trivial actions are widely publicized, what impact does it have upon the average American, if there is such a thing? None of us paces in our rooms at night worrying about the air, the water, the nature that may soon cease to be. Ah, but that's just it! Have you ever heard of man living without air or water or bread or milk? Have you ever seen man living without an environment?

Freedom — that alone is the saviour which shall lift us from the dredges of extinction and oblivion. If one is free to think then one is free to change as well. Man is surprisingly adept at adapting to new and perplexing circumstances. Imagine that your family doctor has just informed you that only three months from now you will be introduced to death. After the shock and fear have subsided a bit, you would probably schedule your remaining hours to enjoy and experience life as much as possible.

Well, why wait? Can't we condition ourselves to think in terms of the future all the time? Try to imagine that you will be here a century from now. You will, you know, for some trait of yours will appear within your future kin. Will your blue eyes appreciate the sting of a carbon dioxide atmosphere? Do you think Aunt Sylvia's strong white teeth will enjoy crunching into a Macintosh apple? Will there even be Macintosh apples? Will your sister's dainty ankles manage to plod through piles of garbage?

You see, we are all active participants in the struggle for survival and the struggle for the future. Every action must fit into the divine jigsaw puzzle. While God formulated the rules of the game, we, the pieces must click together to create the total picture. I implore you, pieces of the world, unite! Whatever the dark abysses of time may usher forth, nothing is more powerful than millions of jigsaw puzzle pieces fervently living with the future as their bible.

Thank you

BRENDA CAMERON, president of the Student Government, reads the list of graduating seniors. Brenda received a standing ovation when her diploma was presented to her by Principal Raymond Smith.

DORIS MARANO receives her diploma and a handshake from Board of Education President Leonard Back. BHS Vice Principal John Westlake is in the center.

MEMBERS of the Class of 1971, which made its farewell appearance June 22.

Valedictorian Alan Grossman

ALAN GROSSMAN, Valedictorian, tells his class the most important factor for Mankind is the health of his environment. The top student is headed to the University of Pennsylvania.

Honored guests, parents, and friends of the class of 1971:

The most crucial factor in the continued well-being of Man is the HEALTH OF THE ENVIRONMENT in which he lives. Ecological conditions are NOT SOLELY dependent upon Man: countless OTHER organisms have also contributed to the development of the highly varied biological universe of which man is but a part. If this bio-ecological equilibrium is distorted, HUMAN LIFE, in its present state, will be seriously threatened.

Man possesses an amazing ability to adapt to conditions extremely different than those from which he initially evolved. As civilization advances, there is increased belief that through social and technological innovations he can modify his life-forms without risk to his continuity. Unfortunately, there is NO JUSTIFICATION for this theory since Man adapts ONLY BIOLOGICALLY to the environment. His development is therefore limited by the potential of his genetic mechanisms. We must accept this fact, that MAN CANNOT SUCCESSFULLY SOLVE the biological problems of adaptation with which he is forced to contend—the piercing sounds of modern equipment, the exhaust of automobiles and factories, the innumerable synthetics that pollute our AIR, FOOD, and WATER.

The limits which must be imposed on our social and technological innovations are determined NOT BY practical ingenuity or scientific knowledge, BUT RATHER by the biological nature of Man, which is essentially unalterable.

Naturally, we are most concerned with the effects that the environmental crisis has for us in the immediate future. Nevertheless, these are inconsequential when COMPARED with the menacing effects this crisis will have on the human beings who are being exposed to it throughout their ENTIRE development.

The increase in world population is a major cause of the ubiquitous ecological crisis. Unfortunately, the environmental danger inherent in increasing population is MORE SERIOUS in the United States than in less industrialized nations. Overpopulation of ANY species upsets the delicate ecological balance.

In less advanced societies, overpopulation breeds starvation and disease. In the United States, however, it would produce an inordinate amount of environmental waste. A citizen of the United States employs MORE of the world's natural resources and destroys them MORE QUICKLY than any other individual.

We Americans may be the LARGEST CONTRIBUTORS to the pollution of our environment and of the earth as whole. It is also true that the destructive capability of each American on the environment is greatly multiplied by numerous TIME-SAVING devices and the vast quantities of energy at his disposal.

In view of these disheartening circumstances, LET US STRIVE, to the utmost of our abilities to combat the ecological crisis which we face. No longer can we rationalize the destruction of our TOTAL environment with technological advance. In the future, these materialistic achievements MUST be controlled if WE, THE HUMAN RACE, are to continue to exist.

As Stuart Udall, former Secretary of the Interior once said: "If, in our haste to 'progress', the economics of ecology are disregarded by citizens and policy-makers alike, the result will be an UGLY America." Therefore, as the future leaders of this nation, it is OUR RESPONSIBILITY to HEED Mr. Udall's words and safeguard what nature has endowed and prevent future materialistic exploitation of our natural resources. MOST IMPORTANTLY, by protecting the environment, we can revitalize the PIONEER SPIRIT, which made this country great.

Thank you

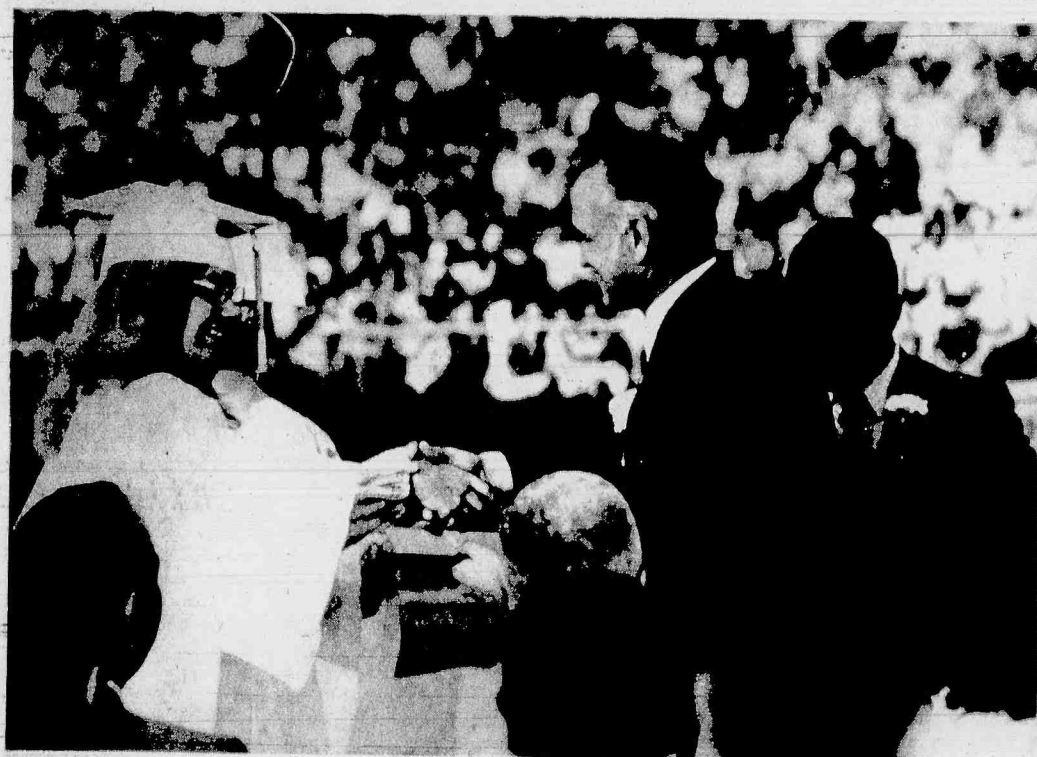

REV. ANTHONY DI QUATTRO, father of honor student Janice Di Quattro, gives the invocation during Belleville High School's 74th commencement exercise.

ANNETTE GUARDABASCIO, outgoing president of the Class of '71, makes official greeting to newly elected senior class president of '72, Tony Portuese.

MARC FELDMAN, an honor student and staff writer for the Belleville Times-News, shakes hands with Board President Leonard Back during commencement exercises.

HEIDI WEISS accepts her diploma and congratulations from Board of Education President Leonard Back during commencement exercises June 22.

ANTHONY GRECO, Superintendent of Schools, accepts the class of '71 from High School Principal Raymond Smith. Greco gave a brief address to the students.

Janice Di Quattro Honor Student

Honored guests, parents, and friends of the Class of '71 tonight we have been speaking about environment because there is a growing concern among the people of our nation about America's changing environment. It has become increasingly evident that unless plans are initiated to rectify present damage and prevent further destruction, our environment will become man's end.

We have already heard how man has affected his environment and what effect this environment has had upon man. To continue with our environmental concepts, I would like to be more specific. In order to make any significant change in our environment we must think, plan, design, and construct. In these ways we can progress in our attempts to obstruct further environmental exploitation.

What areas can we concentrate on to enable us to achieve our new goals? In the case of environment there are five areas of concentration: scientific, economic, political, technical, and educational. How can we, the Class of '71, help to preserve our environment and prevent it from becoming man's end? The answer lies in becoming involved and utilizing the five tools I have mentioned.

Let us briefly examine the significance of each of these tools. The scientific task is to measure, understand, and predict environmental changes. Economists can provide essential information for decisions about environmental actions when they are able to determine the losses from environmental deterioration in dollars and cents. Furthermore, they can be of assistance in estimating the monetary value of things people want but are willing to forego in order to maintain or improve environmental quality. Politically, the national government can implement plans by using subsidies, tax incentives, condemnation, and publicity. Technology is one of the primary tools because often a solution can be obtained by a technological innovation which will remove or ameliorate the problem. Much of our environmental deterioration has been the direct or indirect result of advances in technology, and it is ironic, therefore, that remedies can be found in further technical developments.

Finally, education can also play an essential role in environmental improvement. The functions of education in this aspect are the production of many kinds of specialists who will be required to deal professionally with the problems, the formulation and inculcation of the moral and intellectual values on which environmental improvement must rest, and the creation of the heightened sensitivity among young people to the world around them. We can thank our teachers, guidance counselors, and parents.

To a great extent the obsolescence and the deterioration of our environment has been caused by the apathy of people toward environmental conservation. I challenge this class to be different. WE have the potential to become the scientists, economists, politicians, technologists, and educators that are required; and I urge each member of the Class of '71 to rise to this unique responsibility.

JANICE DI QUATTRO, senior honor student, tells gathered parents and students to use their resources to combat the threat to our environment.

Your Weekly Horoscope

July 3 through July 9, 1971

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Write off first two days, Lib honey, because you're not going to accomplish a blessed thing. By third day, after allowing your fertile mind to lie fallow, the creative juices will be flowing freely. Remainder of week fruitful.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Domestic waters may have been a bit choppy of late, Scorp, but now all will be tranquil. But you, dear heart, must do your share. One who loves you needs attention. Give generously, with tenderness.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): You, Saj, will be in great demand socially in days ahead. It's summertime and the livin' is easy. Take pleasure from the many simple joys which surround you. Just open wide those sassy eyes of yours and see. Week winds up on note of fulfillment.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): After a jazzy two days, things will go downhill, Cap baby. Member of opposite sex may say something that hurts. If so, don't sit about whining. This person isn't worth it. So there.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Stand up to coming week with confidence, Aquari. You simply can't strike out. Arrange meetings with important associates. On fourth day, sally forth into sunshine. As week ends, you will not only have survived, you will have actually flourished.

Resident Cited By Company

Joseph F. Koribanick, general agent for American United Dollar Round Table, Life Insurance Company in signifying leadership in sales Totowa, was recently honored for ten years of service to the company. He and his wife live in Nutley and are the parents of two children. Koribanick has been a general agent since 1961. Last year

PISCES (February 19-March 20): First two days for mending fences around your garden. Another flower fancier may have eyes on one of your pet blooms. Do a little weeding. Lately you've been more than just lax, you've been downright lazy. Week ends on lyric note.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Week starts quietly but builds swiftly to a wild crescendo. Friends, old and new, rally 'round you, Ari. Time excellent for new and dramatic move. By mid-week you should hear interesting tidbit from trusted buddy. Last two days of week ideal for planning trip. Or for going on one.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): New chapter is about to begin, Taurus baby. The drab days are over, and soon your life will resemble a richly-textured tapestry. Complicated, yes. But also intensely fascinating.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Week filled with wonder for Olga's Gems. Delight can lie in surfing, sailing, swinging or simply sniffing the wildflowers in the woods. And sometimes the wilder the flower, the sweeter the perfume.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You, Moonlove, are one of the givers. It is so much a part of your nature that often those close to you feel smothered. In week ahead, let one who is dear to you do the giving. Accept gracefully. And show your appreciation with enthusiastic display of affection.

LEO (July 23-August 22): First two days are full of fun and fireworks, Leo baby. But you may be all fizzled out on third day. Take two aspirins and, if the pain in the psyche persists, weather it out. Before last day, new friendship will be offered. Could be a Saj. Respond.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Capricorn pal plays important role in days ahead, Virg. There will be a great deal of tumult in the tepes. Try not to be so demanding. By fifth day tensions should subside.

Jersey Highway Authority Reports Toll Abuse Increase

The New Jersey Highway Authority is apprehending an increasing number of motorists who fail to pay tolls at automatic collection booths on the Garden State Parkway. Chairman John P. Gallagher of the Authority, which operates the Parkway, today reported that 1,440 toll evaders received summonses from the State Police in the first five months of this year. This is the highest total ever for a five-month period, he noted. The comparable number was 899 in 1970. It was 747 in 1969.

Lions Elect International President

ROBERT J. UPLINGER

Robert J. Uplinger of Syracuse, New York, was elected President of Lions International at the Association's 54th Annual Convention in Las Vegas, Nevada, June 22-25. Serving as the 55th President of the world's largest humanitarian service organization, Uplinger leads some 960,000 members in 25,300 clubs located in 146 countries and geographic areas throughout the world.

Lions International is best known for its aid to the blind and sight conservation activities, international relations programs, and its many community service projects. "Lionism is Commitment" will be the primary theme during Uplinger's 1971-1972 Presidential Year. The development of the local Lions Clubs through the individual member's commitment to all aspects of service will be emphasized.

Those who need advice rarely want it; those who ask it seldom follow it.

The span of life is too short for any man to learn enough to brag about.

Not Only Bus

Public Service's Past Includes Trolley, Ferry

Public Service Coordinated Transport has operated more than buses and the Newark City Subway in its past.

In earlier years it operated ferries between Edgewater in New Jersey and 125th Street in New York City — the Riverside and Fort Lee Ferry company between Staten Island and Bayonne — the Port Richmond and Bergen Point Ferry Co. The former was dissolved November 15, 1949; the latter sold in 1937. Another transportation facility that was operated by Public Service was Yellow Cab, Inc., a subsidiary of Public Service Coordinated Transport. Yellow Cab, Inc. operated taxicabs in Newark, the largest city in New Jersey. In 1952 Yellow Cab's assets were sold and its operation discontinued.

The original Public Service Railway Company was essentially a streetcar or trolley car operation. It was formed on August 20, 1907, when the largest streetcar properties being operated by the Public Service Corporation were consolidated.

On November 14, 1917, the corporation organized a subsidiary called the New Jersey Transportation Company, which three days later began the operation of buses between Tenafly and Camp Merritt in Dumont, Bergen County (an army embarkation camp in World War I). This was the first operation of buses by Public Service, but the company did not seriously enter the bus field until six years later. On June 7, 1923, the name of New Jersey Transportation Company was changed to Public Service Transportation Company and the bus became more and more of a factor in the street car transportation business.

In 1926, for instance, 396 new gas-electric buses were put into service to replace streetcars. A need arose to coordinate streetcar and bus service and on January 31, 1928, Public Service Railway Company and Public Service Transportation Company were joined to form Public Service Coordinated Transport. The substitution of buses continued until 1952, when the last of the streetcars was replaced, leaving only those on the Newark City Subway Line, which began operating on May 26, 1935. The subway was constructed by the City of Newark in the old Morris Canal bed.

Fewer Accidents in 1970 On Garden State Parkway

The Garden State Parkway carried an all-time high volume of over 158 million vehicles during 1970, but it dropped traffic accidents and injuries in the same period to a level below the year before.

Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Parkway, said recently in a year-end report that all categories of traffic and travel on the toll road were up over 1969, while its safety record showed generally reduced totals and ratios of accidents. The 158,702,000 vehicles which used the Parkway in 1970 represented an increase of 8.75 per cent from the previous year's volume and traveled on the road for an aggregate distance of some two billion, 276 thousand miles. The latter total was also up by some 6 per cent over the year before.

The 173-mile Parkway had a numerical and rate (per 100 million travel miles) decreases in total accidents, injury accidents and personal injuries. The reduced numbers ranged all the way up to a 10.6 per cent drop for injury mishaps.

Exception to the downward trend among traffic casualties was in fatal accidents where 27 deaths resulted from 25 mishaps as compared to 24 fatalities from 21 collisions The year before.

The fatality rate of 1.19 per 100 million miles of travel for 1970 still left the Parkway close to its nationally-low toll road mark in 1969. The Parkway has been a perennial safety leader among toll roads of the nation, with a top rating in nine of the previous 15 years. The final rates for all the superhighways last year are due out in March.

A Message to Mothers from Uncle Sam

And for their fathers and doctors, too.

An important message.

With vital information for mothers with children who simply can't learn in the ways most children learn.

You may have a child who is like seven million other American youngsters who are absolutely OK but for something which prevents their absorbing knowledge or, perhaps, simple everyday skills.

Maybe it's deafness or hearing difficulty, blindness or impaired vision, or some bodily defect. Such handicaps may not always be curable—but even so Special Education methods can teach these children a great deal.

And if a child has a mental or behavioral learning handicap, Special Education can often not only teach him, but also help to reduce or even overcome the condition.

If your child is hard to teach, write for the name and address of the nearest school or clinic having Special Education facilities. The information is free—from Uncle Sam.

Fred is going slower today.

Every year thousands of Freds take this final drive. Because they drove too fast. And they take thousands of innocent victims with them. Driving too fast caused more than 18,000 deaths last year. That's nearly one third of the nation's traffic fatalities.

Speeding, for any reason whatsoever, is courting death. It just isn't worth it.

Because we sell new cars, we're especially concerned with safe driving. We want you to use your car sensibly. And drive at reasonable speeds always. Automobiles last longer that way.

More importantly, so do people. National Automobile Dealers' Association

Grand-Dad Clock Interest Revived

Emperor Clock Company of Fairhope, Alabama has succeeded in generating a revival of interest in the traditional grandfather clock. The renaissance began just two years ago.

"General acceptance of grandfather clock ownership has been nationwide," reports George Fowler, President. "Sales have been so good that it pushes production to meet the demand. It appears that the traditional grandfather clocks are a national status symbol," Fowler added.

"Grandfather clocks are among the most treasured furniture pieces handed down as heirlooms from generation to generation. They grow in value and survive the changes of time," Fowler said. "The Emperor Clock Company enhances the beauty and charm of cherished grandfather clocks by using modern manufacturing methods. The heretofore high cost of quality grandfather clocks is thus reduced to a popular price range," Fowler stated.

Each clock features the well-known Westminster Chimes. Other models offer a choice of the Westminster, Whittington, or St. Michael Chimes.

Wood, cut from solid mahogany and walnut, under the skill of southern furniture craftsmen, and movements, imported from West Germany, give Emperor Grandfather Clocks a warm, rich beauty and lasting dependability as a time-keeping instrument.

Emperor Clock Company not only sells assembled, unfinished cases without movements, and completely finished clocks with movements, but also offers detailed blueprints for building your own grandfather clock. Emperor Clock Company in addition offers plans of each model at normal cost.

New Education Concept

Prizewinning Yantacaw Essays Declare Pride In United States

An imaginative new concept in Education, designed to motivate students to work with enthusiasm to their individual potential and meaningfully relate to their community was recently introduced by Stephen Hornyak, principal of Yantacaw School, to the combined sixth-grade pupils, assisted by Robert Loffredo, Miss Lucy Anello and Miss Nancy Vladyka, class teachers.

Residents of Nutley with noteworthy experience in their respective fields of endeavor will be invited to share them with the students assigned to a course of reading and study in these subjects. Mrs. Lythe DeJon of Nutley, well-known world traveler, lecturer and educator, was selected to initiate these talks, collaborating with the current Social Studies program.

Two illustrated travel talks on South-East Asia and the Far East were given by Mrs. DeJon assisted by Mr. DeJon. "The results of these lectures" declared Mrs. DeJon "were amazing. At the conclusion of the talk the children presented me with over one-hundred beautifully written and illustrated essays, posters and thank-you notes, which they had voluntarily voted to do, all high-individual and showing obvious further study from books in the Nutley Public Library."

"I was so overwhelmed" continued Mrs. DeJon "that I promised a prize for the best essay," spontaneously adding "You have asked how you can thank me for coming. As you know I have now been in every country in the world, so you can thank me by remembering that I told you, that there is not one other country on this whole earth which, in spite of our present grave problems, gives you the opportunity to realize your dreams for a truly well lived successful life as does your own United States of America. I would like all those to rise who are truly proud to be Americans."

"I have known many memorable moments in my adventurous life" concluded Mrs. DeJon "but none more dramatic and heart-warming than that moment when all those children, glancing neither to right nor left, quietly rose and stood straight and tall. How I wished that all who have lost faith in our youth could have been present."

The following letter for which I offered a special prize was declared first prizewinner by the following judges: Miss Hazel Hyde, internationally-known American Educator of New York and Pasadena, California; Miss Maybelle Brown, New York publisher and Mrs. Gertrude Guenzler, well-known civic leader and past-president of the Nutley Historical Society.

"Why I am proud to be an American" by Marc LaBella

I am proud to be an American because I am part of a country where you are basically free. America is a democratic nation where we, the people, elect our own officials and make our own laws. The Bill of Rights guarantees our rights of freedom of speech, movement, association, worship, press, and equality for all.

My country's accomplishments make us a leader among other countries. It is a leader in manufacturing, science, medicine and technology. There are fine educational systems and fine colleges.

I am proud when I read or hear about the many great Americans who contributed much to our country. I hope some day that I, too, may be able to make a contribution to my country.

I feel great pride and patriotism when I display the American flag. I am proud of my country's military forces, our aviation progress and space travel. One of my proudest moments, as an American, was when we landed the first man on the Moon, and Astronaut Neil Armstrong made his historic statement, "One small step for Man, one giant step for Mankind."

I am proud to live in the United States of America, the land of the free and the home of the brave." The judges also awarded prizes to: Joseph Freda, Eve Zachgo, Diana Powell, Cheryl Ann Ciccone, Joanne Ciccone, Owen Holliday and Travel prizes to Steve Morra (Nepal, 1st prize) Lisa Goldman, Brett Riffin, Mary Anne Citrino, John Audemma, Sandy Hacker, Billy Madden, Tony Baratta, Donna DeMajo, Barbara Della Penna, Nancy Corso, Cathy Hendrickson, Elaine Adams, Grandall Bailey, Diane Kerestes.

Rodino's Gift Is Accepted

An American Flag which flew over the Capitol Building in Washington D.C. was raised over School Eight in Belleville during Flag Day ceremonies, June 14. The flag was obtained by Congressman Peter W. Rodino through the efforts of the School Eight Home and School Association. The entire school was present and town Commissioners when the flag was raised.

The ceremony began with the singing of "America" with the organ accompaniment of sixth grader Donald de Hagara. An introduction was then given by Mrs. Barbara Romano, program chairman for the Home and School Association who coordinated the entire project.

A letter from the architect of the Capitol was then read by sixth grader Sal Sorice, followed by presentation of the certificate for the flag by Raymond Ouellette of the sixth grade.

After the singing of America the Beautiful, Mayor Joseph McGreevy presented the flag to the children on behalf of Town Hall, which had actually received the flag first from Rodino. A speech about the flag by former Mayor Ken Smith was then read by sixth grader Robin Montalbano.

Alfred Cozzi then presented the flag to School Eight Principal, Thomas Gryczka and the Board of Education. The flag was raised by Board member Caesar Romano with the aid of his son Lee and fellow sixth graders John Burlazzi and Gabriel Cestaro.

A parent, Nicholas DeHagara, played a trumpet solo, "Parade the Colors."

The following are comments on the ceremony written by some of the students at the school:

Kerry Theodos
On June 14, Flag Day, Number Eight School had a Flag Day ceremony. The ceremony was held to receive the flag that had flown over the Capitol. We sang songs about loving God and our country.

When the flag went up the flag pole I felt proud of our country and I had the chills.

We all felt proud and honored to receive the flag that had flown over the Capitol Building in Washington D.C.

As I looked at the flag it seemed like the wars would come to an end and everyone would love and help each other.

Donald Roll
I liked Flag Day because it taught me the true meaning of the flag. I was glad Peter Rodino was able to get us this special flag and proud that it was to fly over my school. No one should forget the Flag Day ceremony because it was so truthful to what we Americans believe in.

Corrie Costa
I think it was a great honor for the flag that waved over the United States Capitol to be waving over School Number Eight. I was proud to be part of the ceremony.

Ziva Adler
It is a symbol of freedom, the freedom of religion, speech and press. Red stands for boldness; white stands for peace and blue for freedom. On Flag Day at School Eight all these things were displayed.

Judy Belmont
Our Flag Day celebration her at Number Eight made me remember our service men who fought and died for our country so that we can live in a free nation. The flag is a symbol for what our nation stands for; liberty justice and the pursuit of happiness.

Wan Chang
In a parade there are American flags flying all around. The flag is so bright with the three beautiful colors red, white and blue.

The flag stands for our country. Our country is a brave country. We honor the flag every morning. I like our country.

Cheryl Minker
The raising of the flag gave me a feeling of pride and glory. The feeling that the same flag which flew over the Capitol Building in Washington was presented to School Number Eight and is now flying over our school.

The flag represents the 13 original colonies and the 50 states. It is the symbol of peace and love and it shall remain in my heart forever.

One Accent Piece! Total Room Wake-Up

Spring is the time to freshen up rooms, but a big make-over job isn't always possible with budget demands of summer camp and vacation. If that is the case, don't sigh and reconcile yourself to the same old settings for one more season. You could, of course, wrangle a few dollars for some paint or fabrics. And if you have the time, that's a great way to face-lift a room.

But if your time demands are as great as budget ones (and they usually are) consider the purchase of an accessory piece. One special piece of furniture can spark an entire setting the way a new scarf or piece of jewelry gives new life to an old dress.

Forget the essentials. You already have beds, chairs, tables, basic chests. What you need now is a special piece, a one-of-a-kind variety. Just as surely as a cooking spice makes all the basic ingredients taste better, so will this special piece pick-up the personality of all of your furniture.

You will, of course, want this piece to be functional. Few homes today permit any item of furniture to just sit around and look good. It must work. But you're in luck when you're shopping today; function is built-in even the most decorative item.

Take a hour to walk through your home and re-examine the space. Chances are that the most available space you have is the wall. How about a tall slender piece that takes little floor space but stretches up the wall, a book-case, perhaps, or etagere or modular unit? Or maybe you've been undecided about what to do with an awkward narrow spot in your foyer or living room. Wouldn't a curio be just the thing, especially if you have special treasures to display, your grandmother's antique glass, a unique collection or family travel mementos?

Kennedy Out; Muskie In? Wake-Up

Senator Edward Kennedy (D-Mass) has told friends he is definitely out of the 1972 presidential nomination derby, that he will refuse to let his name be entered in any state primary. In addition, he has expressed the opinion that Senator Edmund Muskie (D-Me) is all but in, as the party nominee.

The Kennedy assessment is politically significant because of his contacts with Democrats all over the country. His admission Muskie is far ahead is a boost to the Muskie campaign, and clears the way for members of the Kennedy circle, such as Sergeant Shriver, to work for Muskie.

If you really prefer a little surface in that spot, think about a commode, perhaps one that uses exotic woods or paints, the sort of distinctive design you might hesitate to fill a whole room with, but will set off your more conservative pieces.

Maybe the simple addition of a new cocktail table, topped by your favorite table sculpture and a flower arrangement will pull together a fresh new conversational grouping—and a fresh new look in the process.

Give special thought to adding an enclosed bookcase. Who ever has enough? Probably any room in your home could use a functional bookcase, especially if its purpose is sheathed in handsome woods.

Accessory pieces, because they are unique in character, serve as the perfect leavening—livening up a woody room with a dash of color, contrasting quiet woods with a flamboyant configuration, transfusing a practical no-nonsense setting with design excitement.

Belleville-Nutley Residents Are Too Honest on Their Income Tax Returns

The chances are considerably better than even that you will overpay your Federal income tax this year!

So says H&R Block's Belleville-Nutley Manager, John R. Amato, who continues, "There is an even stronger possibility that you will overpay your state (or city) tax. You won't even know it. Neither will the government."

Proof of these statements comes from analysis of over 500,000 individual tax returns prepared by H&R Block, America's largest income tax service. "Nearly 75% of the people who come through our doors for help on their income taxes," says Mr. Amato, "have actually been giving Uncle Sam more than his fair share."

"To sum it up another way, 3 out of every 4 Belleville-Nutley residents are 'overly-honest' on their income tax returns."

According to Mr. Amato, by far the largest reason for overpayment is ignorance of tax law, not too surprising in light of the constant changes and revisions. The taxpayer fails to take a deduction simply because he is not aware of it.

Plain old carelessness is the second cause, usually brought about by the last minute rush of filing.

Many people overpay through fear—fear of an audit or of being caught in a mistake. They intentionally tip the scales in favor of the government.

The most difficult category to cure is the man who hands the government extra money every year because "it only amounts to a couple of bucks, and I can't be bothered" by keeping the proper records. Uncle Sam does insist you have proof of each deduction.

The most frequent specific errors came from failure to list property losses; failure to file joint returns or filing jointly when individual returns would be more profitable; failure to list all contributions, sick pay exclusions, hospital insurance, child care, exemptions and retirement income credit.

These costly mistakes, and many others, are made in spite of the many books and articles published to assist the taxpayer on his Federal return. State returns are usually worse. In many cases, state tax forms are more complicated, and helpful information about their preparation is seldom readily available to the ordinary taxpayer.

"While the IRS does check the mathematical accuracy of every return," Mr. Amato explains, "They have no possible way to analyze each return for tax theory. If you fail to take a deduction to which you're entitled, no one will tell you about it."

In 1955 eighty percent of all taxpayers filed their own returns. Since that time, H&R Block has grown from one office to a nationwide network of over 5,000 offices, including Puerto Rico, Guam, Canada and New Zealand, by providing a low cost service which assures the taxpayer that he is receiving all deductions available to him without exceeding the legal limit.

"We sell peace-of-mind," is the way Mr. Amato words it. The company also guarantees each completed return, promising that Block will pay any penalty or interest which may result from any error the company makes. The use of specially developed translucent forms, and a $5 minimum charge for both Federal and State or city returns have also contributed greatly to the firm's growth.

According to Mr. Amato, the worst part of an overpayment in taxes is that over the years it can accumulate into quite a sum, and many of the families who overpay are the ones who can least afford to do so. He notes that often claims can be made to recover past errors:

This year H&R Block offices anticipate preparing over 7 million individual returns of the 68,000,000 filed by the April 15 deadline, and most will be figured for the average American who will pay Block an average fee of $10 for the service. All Block offices throughout the country follow the same schedule of charges which deal only with complexity of each return. The amount of money a taxpayer makes or the size of his refund does not enter into the charge.

FABRIC DECORATING

Fabric as a wall covering can be installed with Vinyltak tape, a new pressure-sensitive tape from Arno. High-tack adhesive on both sides of the tape adheres to fabrics and walls simultaneously.

OUTDOORS, REMODELING COULD lead to a many-duty redwood deck. This one has combination paint and stain trim to match the style of the house. Trellis keeps out direct sun. One area is left uncovered for sunning, while another area is privacy-screened for dining.

St. Valentine's Day

There were three Saint Valentines, all living in the second half of the third century; one is thought to have been a priest of Rome, another was a bishop and little is known of the other. But they were all martyrs and were connected in the popular mind with the people.

Later, in Middle Ages Europe, the day known as St. Valentine's Day was associated with lovers and it was said this was the day on which the birds mated. The birds—as Kenneth Clark has pointed out in "Civilisation," were then thought by many to be a special example of the Creator's beauty.

However it came about, boys and girls soon began exchanging Valentines. And hearts still beat faster when one's best girl, or best beau, sends an especially lovely Valentine. The custom has spread to husbands and wives and others, and is a nice one—even if over-commercialized.

It's good to be remembered and to be loved and Valentine's Day prompts such expressions. The world unquestionably needs more love, and less hatred, and that is, in part, the message of February 14th.

Decks Expand Living Space

Outdoor living space can sometimes be the most pleasant living space of all, and wooden decks can make the outdoor area around the home usable from the first sunny days of spring until the lingering afternoons of autumn.

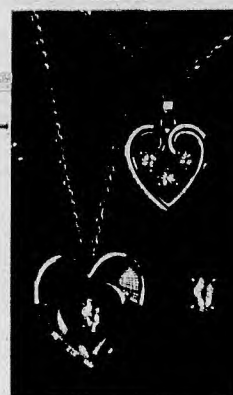

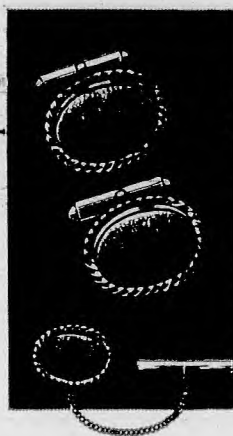

To enlarge and improve a living room, dining area, family room or even a bedroom area, consider adding a durable redwood deck.

Then the family can breakfast, dine or entertain outdoors without mud or leaves underfoot. Overhangs or screens can protect from too much sun or wind.

Decks of insect-resistant redwood can be left unfinished or water-repellent treated to preserve natural color. They can also be stained or bleached to match or contrast with the house.

PREVENT STICKING

After painting window sashes, move window up and down when paint is partially dry, to stop sticking.

BECK'S BUDGET PLAN AVAILABLE

Creating Comfort

Despite talk of more leisure time, the truth is we have much more choice of activities to fill our leisure and too little time to really relax in our own homes.

When we do find the opportunity to put our various activities aside, we want real comfort and a pleasant atmosphere. This, then, is the basic purpose of today's living rooms. The average homemaker's goal in buying furnishings is to create an atmosphere of gracious comfort for her family and their friends.

She doesn't look at a sofa as merely an attractive or fashionable item. She sees it as the place where her husband may stretch out to take a nap or read the paper, perhaps forgetting to take off his shoes.

A chair to her may be just the item to complete a conversational grouping, as well as serve as a touch of just the right color to complete her decorating scheme.

In summary, the homemaker is creating a living room, not decorating a parlor. Although she wants it to be attractive, she doesn't want to sacrifice comfort for beauty. Today, with space age materials, the modern homemaker can have beauty, style and comfort. Fabrics are elegant in appearance, yet completely practical for the active family because they are protected by stain repellents. Comfort and durability are assured by such cushioning materials as foams and polyester and dacron.

Even comfortable reclining chairs have evolved into sophisticated stylish designs. These new chairs are available in just about every style to fit into formal as well as informal rooms; modern and traditional designs.

EXCITING EXTERIORS

Stone-on-plywood panels provide the homeowner with easily-installed, virtually maintenance-free exterior siding. Sanspray panels, a product of U.S. Plywood, are available in Traditional or Contemporary designs, with colorful large or small size stones.

February Dates

Few months are as filled with as many memorable dates as February. This year Washington's birthday is remembered on the 15th for the first time, the same day the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana, touching off the Spanish-American War, in 1898.

The Cubans were at the time revolting against Spanish rule, which had been tyrannical, and the Navy sent the Maine to Havana, where it docked close to a Spanish battleship. Some Spaniards resented the Maine's presence in the harbor (Americans were sympathetic to the Cubans) and when the ship was blown up with the loss of 252 Americans relations deteriorated quickly into war, though the Spanish probably weren't guilty of the sinking.

On the 23rd, in 1847, General Zachary Taylor defeated a much larger force of Mexicans at Buena Vista, forcing Santa Anna to retreat southward and helping to win the Mexican War. (General Winfield Scott was operating with an army near Mexico City.)

Chester Nimitz, the great naval commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet in the Second World War, was born on the 24th in 1885 at Fredericksburg, Texas, a German-American settlement. William F. Cody was born on the 26th in 1846 in Scott County, Iowa. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born on the 27th in Portland, Maine. Ann Lee, founder of the Shakers in America, was born on the 29th, in 1736, in England.

Insurance Too, Needs Updating

When the Baxter family's 20-year old house was completely destroyed by fire, they at least had the consolation of knowing it was insured. Then came a second disaster—they discovered that the insurance benefits they received when the claim was paid were not enough to rebuild a home to the size and quality of the one that had been destroyed. Their home had been insured for its original purchase price, along with the furniture and other contents. But because of inflation, their homeowners insurance fell below replacement costs.

Problem Grows

Most homeowners are happy to hear that their homes are growing in value each year—but, at the same time, this creates for them an insurance problem that is growing worse each year, as the Baxters discovered. "Insurance coverage purchased 10 or even five years ago might have seemed more than adequate then," says Stephen P. Janco of CNA/insurance. "But in today's market, the same amount of cash would not replace more than a fraction of your home."

Increases Coverage

One new development of offering some protection from this hazard is the new inflation guard endorsement to the homeowners policy. It provides a graduated increase in coverage, ranging from one per cent on the date the policy has been in effect three months, up to 12 per cent after 33 months. Another new trend in homeowner's insurance gives the policy-holder a chance to upgrade his coverage more frequently. Until recently, most homeowners policies were written on a three-year basis. Today, this insurance can be written on an annual basis in most states.

Keeping Noisy Pipes Quiet

Bothered by water hammer? If pipes slam or shudder when water is suddenly turned off, it may be because they have become limed up with hard water deposits. There are anti-hammer, shock-absorbing devices which can be installed on these pipes. Or, relief can be gained by fastening pipes to supports more securely, particularly where a pipe turns a corner.

Why Water
Isn't Hot

Water heaters are very good. That's why many families often run out of hot water. Paradoxical as it seems, the above conclusion is the simple truth. Most manufacturers build such a long life into their water heaters that one may be working at high efficiency, from the mechanical standpoint, long after its gallon capacity has lagged behind the growing needs of the family. Just getting a "larger" water heater isn't the whole answer. Ask a plumbing contractor to figure existing and anticipated water needs. This should include all plumbed-in appliances, present or planned for.

Tax Preparation Is Big Business

Not many companies figure tax for over 7 million American families who have a total income of over 52 billion dollars; but, H&R Block, Inc., does.

This year H&R Block, America's largest tax service, expects to prepare taxes on a combined gross income of over $52,000,000,000.00 for some 7 million individual taxpayers, or approximately 9% of all individual returns filed. For this service Block will charge the average taxpayer $10.00 which includes both his Federal and one state return.

"It has been our experience," says Henry Block, President of the company, "that three out of every four taxpayers who come to us for the first time have actually been overpaying their taxes. Most of them save far more than our fee."

"This year we are expecting to do a volume of over $70 million from the more than 4,000 offices we operate throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, Guam, and New Zealand. At the peak of our business we will employ about 30,000 people; 20,000 of them actually preparing tax returns, and 10,000 in clerical positions to back them up."

Across America literally thousands of lawyers, accountants, bookkeepers, school teachers, even barbers and beauty shop operators are in the business of preparing income taxes. It takes no investment, just a pencil, a supply of free government forms and a little knowledge. Thus, the question of how H&R Block was able to become a Goliath in just fifteen years is a valid one.

Part of the answer is quality work; nominal charges, free parking, and year-round accessibility. But it goes way beyond that, into Block's understanding of the psychology of the average wage earner. Instead of emphasizing the "fear" aspects of our complex tax system, Block tries to make a visit to any of its offices a pleasant experience.

A company policy makes it mandatory that a client is greeted with a smile and a handshake. He is offered a cup of coffee and soothed by soft music. The chairs are comfortable, the office is bright and clean. "I feel courtesy has built our business as much as quality," is the way Henry Block phrases it.

From its inception, Block felt that the company should stand behind its work, and pioneered a written guarantee whereby the company assumed the responsibility for the accurate preparation of every return. In addition, the company is glad to accompany any client to an audit at no additional charge if and when such a procedure becomes necessary.

ABOUT YOUR

HOME

Would you like to start some seeds indoors for spring planting? This makes a wonderful family project. Children are always interested in growing things.

The seeds, in order to do well, will need certain definite things: warmth, plenty of light, enough water, but not too much, and nourishment.

The best temperature to start your seedling is between 60 to 70 degrees—night and day. Start them in a sunny window or under fluorescent lamps.

Never allow them to dry out but provide good drainage. Consult seed packets for the best planting time.

Use vermiculite or shredded sphagnum moss to start the seeds in.

A good container for growing your seedlings can be made by lining a flower pot with plastic or aluminum foil. Make a tent over the top with plastic held in place with a rubber band.

Sprinkle fine seeds on top of the soil or moss. Large seeds should be lightly covered with soil. Place the pot in a pan of water and leave until moisture shows on top. Always water from below.

After the seedlings show their first leaves you can give them a weak feeding of liquid food once a week. Before planting outdoors, place the pots outside for a few hours each day in the shade. This will acclimate them. Transplant after danger of frost is past.

A REFINISHER'S REFRESHER

RELUCTANT "do-it-yourselfers" long postponed home improvement project. If the task involved is refinishing a piece of furniture, Dagwood can hardly be blamed for preferring a nap on the couch. Removing the old paint usually takes a lot of time and several processes—first paint remover, then steel wool, then sandpaper.

A young man in Montclair claims he has the solution—a sal soda both which strips most paints in a matter of minutes.

It is the recently patented Houck Furniture Stripping Process, and the young man, Richard Mordwin, has the Essex and Union County franchise. He will graduate from Bloomfield College this year, and he decided to go into business for himself rather than taking a job. His shop at 68 North Willow St., Montclair, is called POOR RICHARD'S FURNITURE CO.

He said his first customer brought in a rather unprepossessing looking stool, covered in chipped paint, and apologetically explained that his wife seemed to think something could be done with it.

After it was dipped in the freshly mixed, secret ingredient solution in a 1,000 gallon tank it emerged a glowing tiger striped maple with the unmistakable aura of a genuine antique.

"It was a surprise even to me," said Mordwin, who also has an associate degree in forestry from

Paul Smith College, Saranac Lake, N.Y. "It was probably worth a few hundred dollars after a $3.50 job of stripping, which removed about coats of paint."

"Most of the fun of restoring furniture is in refinishing," he (Continued on Page 17)

Poor Richard's Rick Mordwin soaks an antique high chair to remove unwanted paint, above. Rick Lo Re, Mordwin's former partner, shows some of the furniture pieces stripped by the firm.

said, "The preparation is drudgery and by usual methods takes about 70 per cent of the time needed for the entire job."

"Of course, when really great wood shows up, refinishing is unnecessary with the exception of wax," he said. "This doesn't happen too often, but often enough to add a little suspense to every day's work."

Customers usually bring in the furniture to be treated, but occasionally Mordwin, a husky six-foot-one, calls for it. On one such pick-up, a woman had several pieces of furniture to be stripped, but did not think a dresser with a mirror was worth doing. She was pleased when Mordwin offered to ~~take it out and told him she just wanted to be rid of it.~~

When dipped it turned out to be solid mahogany. "Of course, the customer saw it and wanted it back, so I had to return it," Mordwin said.

Other such finds included a table, covered with scarred white enamel, that turned out to be rosewood; solid walnut chairs that were hand pegged and hand carved and hidden under black enamel and gilt, and a battered love seat with a hand-hewn, hand-carved solid cherry frame.

"Of course, many people know the value and history of the things they bring in. We have a desk in the shop now that belonged to Grover Cleveland. It will eventually be sent to the White House. It's huge and heavy and needs a museum-like setting," he said.

The process takes anywhere from five to 45 minutes and customers are usually served while they wait. Mordwin recommends a three or four-day drying period before refinishing.

The process also works on metal, and antique car buffs are among Mordwin's customers. Wrought iron garden furniture, and town and private mail boxes also show up in the shop.

Mordwin is also an occasional exhibitor at Essex County antique shows, where he displays pieces that have been partially dipped. There is never any need, he noted, to indicate "before" and "after" on the unstripped and stripped areas.

George Washington

George Washington's birthday is observed on the third Monday (the 15th) this year for the first time. Heretofore observed on his actual birthday anniversary, the 22nd, the day of remembrance for the father of this country was changed by Congress last year, along with several other observances, so that it would always fall on Monday, providing the working man with a long weekend.

Memorial Day this year will fall on the 31st, Columbus Day October 11th and Veterans Day on October 25th—under the new system.

George Washington, first President of the country and the soldier who did more than any other to defeat British armies in the Colonies and win independence for the United States, was born in Westmoreland County, Virginia, in 1732. His father then was a well-to-do planter and educated older sons abroad but he died when George was twelve. This meant George only received the practical and elementary teaching of Colonial Virginia. He took to the outdoors, forest life and sports. At this time he was engaged by Lord Fairfax, who has come from England to look after inherited property and worked with him and acted as his companion for some three years. Thus he learned much of the manner and habits of an English gentleman of that time.

It was through his older brother, Lawrence, that George entered into military prominence. Lawrence, in failing health, gave George his place in the militia before he died and Governor Dinwiddie gave him a commission. Washington's first efforts against the French—in the area of the junction of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers against the French at Fort Duquesne—were unsuccessful. When he returned to Virginia he was unfairly reduced in rank. That was in 1754.

Next, England sent General Braddock and 2,000 regular

THE WORLD OF

THAT'S THE WAY IT IS

Elvis Presley's latest film, "That's The Way It Is," is more or less a documentary beginning where he was first discovered to his present popularity.

One conclusion of this film is that Elvis has come a long way since his gyrations (questionable at that time), guitar pickin' and his song "Hound Dog."

Much of the film concerns early rehearsals and development from a callow youth surrounded with starry-eyed, screaming girls to a mature, relaxed performer making preparations for a Las Vegas act.

Whether this performer is your cup of tea or not—credit is due Elvis in his ability to keep his rating at the top over the years—and, at the same time, improving his accomplishments in the entertaining media as a singer and actor.

This film is rated "G"—no restrictions. That's also to his credit—willing to appeal to the young without the usual sex and nudity in what some are calling entertainment in the 1970's.

George Washington

troops to Virginia and they marched on the French again. Washington this time was on Braddock's staff and the Americans tried unsuccessfully to warn Braddock that fighting in forests was far different from Europe-style warfare. Braddock paid little attention to the warnings and the French attacked and defeated the Anglo-American force again. Washington took over when Braddock died and prevented a rout.

Finally, in 1758, Washington and General Forbes, of the British Army, set out for the French again—who were still intruding on English territory in London's view—and this time defeated the French and took Fort Duquesne.

When fighting broke out between the Colonies and England, almost two decades later, Washington—who had hoped for conciliation—was chosen to lead the American armies. His first success came when he forced the British from Boston in March of 1776 but it was to be a long and bitter struggle which only ended in the British surrender at Yorktown, October 19th, 1781. In the years between Washington had often been unable to pay his men, unable to prevent widespread desertion and often forced to retreat to save his army for another day.

That he held his forces together and won the loyalty and support of the various states is something of a miracle. He was modest by nature and his character was such that all those who once learned to know him admired him and this influenced the new country into choosing him as its first President. Had it not been for his reluctant agreement to enter politics unity might not have been possible among the states. After eight years, in which he set many sound precedents, he refused to again be a candidate. Three years later he died—in 1799—at Mount Vernon.

DeWitt To Celebrate Dual Presidential Holiday

Belleville, New Jersey — Mr. Robert M. Williams, President of DeWitt Savings and Loan Association of Belleville, has announced that the Association will close for the four-day holiday weekend celebrating the dual Presidential Holiday. The Association's office will be closed from Thursday, February 11 until Tuesday morning, February 16.

Mr. Williams stated that it has always been traditional to completely dedicate two days to the memory of the Father of Our Country, George Washington, and The Great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln.

The conjunction of the two holidays this year is the result of a law passed by Congress two-and-a-half years ago making four national holidays fall by legislative fiat on Monday. February 15 was designated this year as the Monday on which to celebrate Washington's Birthday, which fortuitously occurs in the same weekend as the traditional date for celebrating Lincoln's Birthday, and provide an extended four day celebration.

Mr. Williams wants everyone doing business with DeWitt Savings to be aware of the closing sufficiently well in advance in order that there will be no customer inconvenience.
