

EAGER BELLEVILLE youngsters reach out to touch boa constrictor despite warning from Suzy, a representative of Turtle Back Zoo. The Zoo sent a mobile unit with small animals to Belleville's Municipal Stadium Friday as part of a summer program sponsored by the Essex County Parks Commission. The local affair was coordinated by Belleville's Department of Recreation and drew a large crowd of youngsters and parents to the Stadium. In the center is Scott Smith, emcee for the Zoo program.

With Health Dept. Back Says Joint Purchase Possible

The Belleville Board of Education is considering a joint purchase of office space with the local Health Department.

School Board President Leonard Back says he has discussed the possibility with the Commission and is waiting for an answer from Town Fathers.

The school officials hope to house their administrative offices and a those of the Special Education Department in the facility. The Board currently uses rooms in School Eight but has made it known publicly it will move as soon as space is available.

classrooms at School Eight could be relocated into the Board offices should the move be made.

"I can't say whether it would be practical to change the classrooms if we move in the middle of the school year, but if we didn't, the office space wouldn't go to waste because we have storage needs in the junior and senior high schools."

The Board reportedly has been considering including space for their administrative and Special Ed offices in a new addition to the high school. That addition will probably come up for a referendum sometime this year. The Board has appointed a committee to select possible architects for the project.

Heading that committee is Board Vice President Joseph Casale, with Board member Mathew Pica as his vice-chairman. Community members of the committee include Emanuel DeNoia, John Morello, Library Director Ben Grimm, G. Fred Burlazzi and Harold Schorr.

The Board hopes to offer a bond referendum for the BHS addition in order to alleviate a mounting enrollment crisis in both secondary schools in town. Without the addition, the Board says it will have to use split sessions within three or four years.

Mariani Gets Top Legion 105 Spot

Belleville American Legion Post 105 will hold a joint installation of officers Saturday Aug. 7, at 8:30 p.m. in the post home, 621 Washington Avenue. Anthony J. Mariani will be installed as president.

Mariani, who lives at 217 Forest Street, is a Navy veteran of World War II and is employed by Felters Co. of New York as a sales representative. He has been with that firm 36 years.

Active in Legion activities for many years, Mariani served as vice commander and membership chairman the past year, and was instrumental in leading the post to an all-time high membership mark for the sixth consecutive year.

The new commander also placed second in the running for the Essex County Silver Membership Award of the American Legion. He has been active for many years with the Verona Volunteer Ambulance Unit, the Verona Little League, and the Babe Ruth League.

Apartments Get Okay In Close Balloting, 3-2

A 10-unit apartment building was okayed by a 3-2 Commission vote Tuesday night. The building which will be located at 538-542 Joralemon Street, came to Town Fathers with unanimous approval from the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

The variance went to the Maricel Corporation, which has three partners: Paul Martino, and Gus and John Coldebella, all from Nutley.

Voting against the apartments were Commissioners Robert Laterza and Michael V. Marotti, while Commissioners Mary Senatore and Vincent Strumolo and Mayor Joseph McGreevy approved the measure.

The Mayor's vote came last and broke a 2-2 deadlock. McGreevy's ballot surprised some observers because he has voted almost without exception against new apartment construction the past five years. He also did not preface his vote with any remarks as has been his practice on matters of this nature.

Marotti meanwhile, said he voted against the building because he fears there is a trend toward increased construction of such housing in town. "I think it is about time we stopped granting these variances," he told the Times after the meeting. "I'm interested in maintaining the suburban image of Belleville," Marotti continued. The Commissioner also feared there would be parking problems in the area, as objectors had claimed during three lengthy Zone Board hearings and a debate before the Commission two weeks ago.

The matter was tabled for further study two weeks ago, presumably because of the large size of the variance on the matter. No objectors appeared at Tuesday's meeting.

Laterza said he voted no because he feels "traffic congestion is bad enough in the area."

Big Sale In Town Tonight

Twelve Belleville merchants will participate in tonight's "Late Hour Sale" being sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Participating stores will close today at 5 p.m. and mark down items to be placed on sale. The merchants will reopen at 7 p.m. to begin the special event. Closing time will be 10 p.m.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Harry French said, only stores carrying red and yellow signs announcing the sale will be officially recognized.

"This is a chance for participating stores to make final reductions on summer stock," French said, "and for customers to get tremendous bargains."

"The last such sales event was a tremendous success and the customers talked about the great bargains for many weeks," he continued.

Birthday Party Nets $3,000

Craig Fabian officials report $3,000 was raised by selling candles for Craig's "birthday party" at Municipal Stadium during the Independence Day celebration.

Currently Craig and William Greco are being aided by the fund, which is about to help a third resident, Joseph Restaino.

The fund was originally set up to aid Craig the son of Deputy Fire Chief William Fabian, who was left partially paralyzed in a swimming accident.

Fabian Fund President Michael T. Rosamilia said "I would like to express sincere gratitude to the committee and citizen volunteers of the community for their tireless efforts in raising funds."

"A great deal has been accomplished," he said, "but there is a great deal more to do."

Subway Running Again

After being shut-down for the past month, the Newark City Subway hit the rails again at 4:38 a.m. Tuesday.

"Everything is back to normal. We're on the same schedule we used before the curtailment," Herb Potterton of Public Service Transport said yesterday.

The City Subway, running between Franklin Avenue and Pennsylvania Station, Newark, carries 12,000 riders daily—many from the Belleville-Nutley area which has direct bus connections to the line.

The subway was closed suddenly June 16 after Public Service engineers found the bridge carrying the line over the Erie-Lackawanna tracks at Orange Street, Newark, was weak.

Public Service ruled the bridge too dangerous to continue operations the following morning and the subway was immediately shut-down. The Orange Street area is also the construction scene of an Interstate Highway overpass. Public Service said, however, that the Interstate construction was in no way responsible for the subway's closing.

Valley To Receive New Water Main

Town Fathers unanimously passed a $95,000 bonding ordinance Tuesday for the construction of a water main along Cortlandt Street in the Valley.

The approval was expected because of increased pressure being placed on the Commission by several large industrial firms in the Valley who are facing serious insurance problems because water pressure is "dangerously low" in the area.

The firms, including Mattia Press, and Mansol Ceramics, feared insufficient water pressure might spell the loss of their entire plants during a fire. They also feared their insurance underwriters would not pay damages if they lost their plants because of the poor water mains.

The voting was without comment by Commissioners and less than 24 hours after a two alarm chemical fire ravaged two plants on the Newark-Belleville boundary in the opposite end of the Valley. Water pressure in the pipes of that area was sufficient, local officials say, because the mains are newer and larger.

Particularly pleased by the voting was Public Works Director Mary Senatore who has been pushing for the water main for over a year.

"I am very pleased the other Commissioners gave it consideration and realized the necessity of the new piping," she told reporters after the meeting.

"We will try to hold down costs in this project by having our water department do some of the work. Hopefully the final cost to the town will be less than the $95,000."

Mrs. Senatore said she felt Monday's fire "emphasized the gravity of the situation. At the fire I spoke to several residents and to firemen and they said the new pipe is long overdue."

The Public Works Commissioner says the town's consulting engineer Ralph Sandor will draw up specifications for bidding on the project. She indicated she hopes to have bidding and the eventual construction "over with as soon as possible to remove any danger to the industries and homes in the Valley."

The ordinance okays construction of a new main on Cortlandt Street from Joralemon Street to Bella Vista Avenue.

Mrs. Senatore says corrosion in the pipes is causing the reduced water pressure. She also said the mains were too old to be repaired and that she was unable to obtain any federal funding for the project.

There were about two dozen residents present during the balloting but none spoke against the measure.

DR. FREDERICK LONG (left), Belleville pastor and host of the WOR radio show "Inner Dimension," will discuss Multiple Sclerosis Service Organization (MSSO) President Cameron Toole (right) Sunday from 5:45 a.m. to 6 a.m. Reverend Long's show is heard in 36 states each Sunday morning. The show is presented as a public service by the Department of Radio & Television of the N.J. Council of Churches in cooperation with the Episcopal Diocese of Newark. Dr. Long is pastor of Christ Episcopal Church in Belleville. In center is Constance Feldman, program director.

Factory Blaze Draws Local Firemen, Police

Belleville Firemen aided Newark fire fighters battle a chemical fire Monday which gutted a block-long complex housing two Newark companies which manufacture bleach and chlorine products for swimming pools.

There were no injuries, but nearby Belleville and Newark residents were ordered to evacuate their homes as a precaution against the leakage of chlorine gas.

According to Newark fire officials, the two alarm fire began shortly after 12:30 p.m. in the Alden Leeds Corp., located on McCarter Highway and North End Avenue in Newark, near the Belleville line, and quickly spread to the NuVu Co., which is housed in the same building.

Nine Belleville policemen were detailed to the blaze to assist in traffic control and in evacuating the area. Three of the local policemen stayed on duty overnight at the site.

To assist the fire operation, Belleville police blocked three intersections, including Mill

Poison Warning Issued

A warning against consumption of poisonous canned soups was issued this week by local Health Department officials. The warning comes in the wake of the death of a Connecticut man and the paralysis of his wife after both ate a can of Bon Vivant brand of Vichyssoise.

Local Health Officer Edward Hillery said he has asked merchants to remove all cans of this soup from their shelves that are coded: V141-USA-71.

Hillery also said federal health officials fear 32 other soup companies whose products were processed by the Newark based Bon Vivant

WATER HOSES are stretched onto the roof by Belleville firemen who assisted in fighting a big chemical fire in the Alden Leeds Corp. in Newark by the Belleville boundary. Local Police also spent a long and hot day helping Newark fire fighters control the situation. The chemical fire released dangerous chlorine gas which caused local officials to ask for an evacuation of the area. Police blocked off three major intersections in town to isolate the area.

Street and Main, Mill Street and Washington Avenue, and Schuyler Avenue and Cortlandt Street.
Residents as far away as Belmoor Street reported smelling the gaseous smoke, and many of these people deluged Belleville Police headquarters for information about the blaze. The police switchboard in fact received calls about the fire until 10 p.m. according to Belleville Chief Joseph Smith.
Newark fire officials said their department had not determined the origin of the blaze, but an Alden Leeds supervisor said a chlorine mixture "went up" inside the plant, "probably because of the humidity."
Belleville Fire officials actually were the first to reach the scene, according to local Deputy Chief Joseph Santiglia.

Santiglia said he was alerted by local police who recieved calls from residents complaining about noxious fumes from the factory.
"We went to investigate," Santiglia said, "and when we got there there weren't any flames. But we did see chlorine gas decomposing so I called Newark firemen."
Santiglia said he detailed one engine and all of Belleville's men on duty at the time (about 15). "We also called in six extras and put the Nutley and Bloomfield fire departments on alert in case we had a fire in Belleville. Nine auxiliary firemen from town also aided our efforts."
Santiglia also said his department's efforts to evacuate the area weren't too fruitful. "We used a bull horn and loud speakers to make the announcement, but people didn't seem to respond very well."
Police Chief Smith meanwhile announced over the loudspeaker that St. Peter's School auditorium was available for residents who wanted to escape the dangerous fumes. Local School Board officials also put a janitor on duty in the Junior High School and made that facility available.

may have contaminated products.
The health officer says he has a seven page list of soups which were processed at the Newark plant, and said concerned residents could phone the Health Department if they suspect they have a contaminated product.
He said swelling of the cans indicate the presence of gas from a disease called botulism. Hillery said the danger could be removed if the soups are boiled.
Botulism, Hillery said, "is one of the most deadly poisons known to man."

Mariani Gets Top Position

Also to be installed with Mariani are First Vice Commander Dominic Turano, Second Vice Commander Raymond Wollen, Third Vice Commander Raymond Kinsley Sr., Finance Officer Patrick Lee, Assistant Finance Officer James LaMotta, Adjutant George Mitchell, Chaplain William Lenehan, Historian Henry Rose, Sgt.-At-Arms Fred Bohlen and Service Officer George Simon Jr.
The newly elected officers will be installed by American Legion Essex County Commander Jack Gorman and his staff. Gorman is past commander of the Belleville Post 105.

Belleville Police and Firemen Help Battle Big Newark Blaze

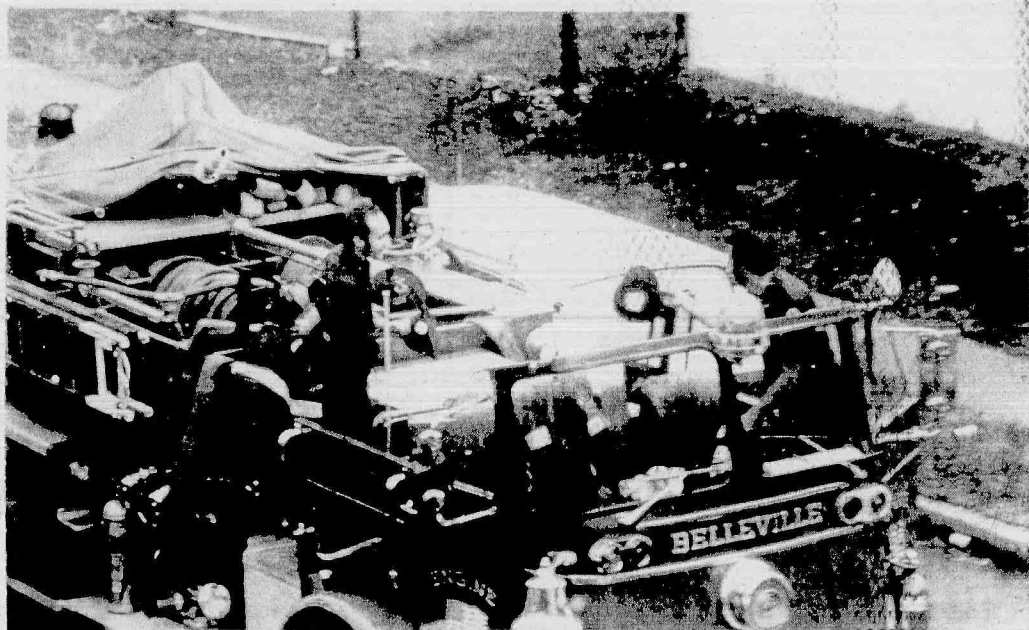

RESIDENTS from the Belleville side nearest the fire gather to watch firemen battle the blaze at the Alden Leeds Corp. plant in Newark.

A LONE fireman stands atop the roof of a nearby factory as fire hoses criss-cross attacking the blaze behind him.

BELLEVILLE POLICE CHIEF Joseph Smith uses walkie to coordinate the efforts of his men at Monday's factory fire on the Newark-Belleville line. Smith used 15 policemen at the Alden Leeds Corp. fire, which began about 1:30 p.m. The chief kept three of his men on duty all night by the site just in case there were any new developments. Local police blocked off three main intersections near the site to facilitate fire fighting operations for Newark and Belleville units. Smith said none of his men were injured during the ordeal.

WEARY Belleville firemen put on their jackets and prepare to head back to the fire house after battling blaze with Newark firemen for over five hours.

Speed Violations Getting Attention

Director Ray J. Marini today advised errant motorists to take a closer look at the New Jersey Point System Regulation. The Director explained that several combinations of two speeding offenses could result in an accumulation of 12 points or more. For example, a motorist could be assessed 6 points for one speeding violation and 7 and 8 points for another, depending upon the speed and the speed limit. Another example is the coupling of a 5-point passing violation and a 7-point speeding offense. Some motorists are under the impression that all speeding violations carry an assessment of 4 points. Smart advertisers will stress the buy-at-home theme.

August, 1971

There are a number of interesting dates in the month of August. Perhaps the most nostalgic is August 14, the day President Truman announced the surrender of Japan, ending World War II, in 1945.

Hitler committed suicide in the face of Germany's defeat and his imminent capture in Berlin by the Russians on the last day of April. Germany surrendered on May 7, 1945, ending the war in Europe. But the Japanese struggled on, even though President Truman and the retiring Prime Minister of Great Britain Winston Churchill gave Tokyo a virtual ultimatum at Potsdam on July 26, warning that unless they surrendered the nation faced "prompt and utter destruction."

The massive U.S. fleet steamed into Tokyo Bay and sunk the remainder of the Japanese fleet. Army and Navy bombers struck hard at many targets. The Japanese fought on—until the first atom bomb fell on August 6, on Hiroshima. In a few days another was used, and further warnings were issued. These new weapons and the horror of their destructive potential proved decisive. Japan surrendered, almost certainly, thereby avoiding hundreds of thousands of casualties which would have been suffered in an invasion of Japan itself.

On the 14th, in 1935—ten years earlier—social security was established in the United States, amid cries from the opposition that it would ruin the nation. Columbus sailed from Palos, Spain on August 3, 1492, in his voyage to the New World. And David Crockett was born August 17, 1786, in Hawkins County, Tennessee.

A political assassination in 1935, took the life of Huey Long of Louisiana, then the virtual dictator of that state, who was born August 30, 1893, in Winfield, Louisiana. And finally, the worst earthquake known east of the Mississippi occurred August 31, 1886. It was most disastrous at Charleston, South Carolina but was felt from Jacksonville, Florida, north to Canada and west to Iowa. (The last quake in the east was in 1811.)

For Drunken Drivers

GM recently demonstrated a device designed to prevent a car engine starting—if the driver is inebriated.

It works like this: the driver must push buttons in the right sequence. If he misses once, he can wait a few seconds and then try again, but if wrong again, the engine will not start for several hours.

The driver can start it in an emergency with a special button but this turns on a red light, the horn and a siren—to attract emergency help, most likely an officer of the law!

Better, it seems to us, would be a breath analyzer built into the car's starting system. There are enough numbers and sequences, etc., to remember in modern life as it is, without having to keep the combination of an engine starter in one's cranium.

Public Wins

The recent Supreme Court decision allowing newspapers to publish allegedly stolen government secrets embarrassed certain officials and even other governments but it has also produced a new flow of factual information to the American people.

The recent decision of the federal government to disclose details of U.S. military aid to other countries, after pressure from Capitol Hill, is one indirect result. Many other secrets are now seeing the public light, and more will.

The general public's enlightenment, it is hoped, will continue and widen. An informed electorate is democracy's best hope—though there must be, and always has been, some limit to the right of the press to publish state secrets, which the press does well to make clear.

William Dunleavy Is Named Belleville Fire Chief by Noll

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

Strong feelings had been rumbling behind closed doors for almost six weeks and finally became public when the Board of Education voted 3-1 to appoint Rocco Cafone football coach of the Belleville High varsity team. The voting revealed dissent among the Board members, with Caesar Romano casting the only opposition vote. Mr. Romano said he was not attacking Mr. Cafone, but rather had disapproved of the Board's choice "to go outside the system for the appointment."

The Board of Education said it would undertake a study of its system to prepare for the future possibility that no transportation company would accept a contract with the school system. Board member Richard Mahmarian commented that "once again only one bus company has submitted a bid to the school board." He asked that the board prepare a study to see what would happen if the Public Service Transportation Company decided to discontinue its service to Belleville Schools as it has done in Newark and East Orange.

The damaged Belleville High School sewage system, which no contractor would touch in two months, appeared earmarked for repair. Contractors had refused estimates on the job because of heavy dirt fill laying on the pipes which prevented repairmen from suggesting an accurate extent of damage. The contractors decided to start submitting bids after Pat Samaro, acting under emergency conditions, was hired to dig out most of the fill to expose the pipes.

Despite steaming temperatures Town Councilmen coolly waded through some 57 items on the agenda that included approval of a public question on whether or not the town needed a swimming pool. Councilman Ralph A. Casale made the proposal for the pool which was seconded by Robert E. Westpy. Vincent Strumulo objected to the motion, claiming that it left too many questions unanswered, among them how much it would cost and whether or not the town really wanted a pool.

Linda Zoppa, a 19-year-old Belleville pianist, was awarded a "master lesson" at the Juilliard School of Music. Her instructor was to be the internationally famous interpreter of Chopin, Guiomar Novaes. Linda, the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Zoppa of 342 Stephens Street, was chosen for the honor by her instructor, Madam Luisa Stojowski. To earn the award, Linda played preludes and sonatas by Bach and Chopin.

Councilman Vincent Strumulo, community chairman of Belleville, was cited by County Cancer Crusade Chairman John Kress for "outstanding leadership and success in the 1966 American Cancer Crusade." Kress reported that Belleville had exceeded its quota for the fourth year in a row, going twenty per cent over the top. He commented that it was truly a "magnificent community effort."

Donald C. Contestants, who were professional accordionists of all ages, represented most sections of the United States. Hulme was to represent the United States in the 1961 World Olympic Accordion Championship contest to be held in Milan, Italy.

The general plan and map for the area for the proposed new Belleville High School was released after school board members considered cost figures for the project. Total cost of the high school project and the building of two multi-purpose rooms at Schools 1 and 4 was estimated at $2,900,080. While school board members were to act on the actual figure, schools' superintendent Evan Thomas said that the $2,900,080 was just about on the nose.

William E. Dunleavy was named Belleville Fire Chief by Public Safety Director Noll. The new chief succeeded Robert A. Reid who had retired July 1. A veteran of 26 years in the department, Dunleavy had joined the volunteers in 1920. The new chief resided at 9 Preston Street with his son, William E. Dunleavy.

Celebrating their twentieth anniversary in the talking pictures field, Warner Brothers revealed that they were so intent that nothing should interrupt their plans for talkies that they had established an armed guard to protect the installation at the Belleville Theatre. The first talking picture for Warner Brothers had been "Don Juan" starring John Barrymore in 1926. Al St. John, one of the original keystone cops, asserted that talkies hurt as much as helped comedy in that the audience had to control their laughter in order not to miss a gag.

There have been numerous requests for bike riding in the evening at about seven, so for those who would like to do so, we will also comply. You may recognize some of the above listed names as your friends and neighbors, so if you would like to join in the fun, do come join us — "The Bicycle Set."

I have had numerous calls from women who would so much like to bike ride but had given away bicycles, if there are any bicycles about to be discarded, I would so much like to hear from you.

Again, many thanks for printing my letter and sharing it with all. "Good Sports."

Helen's Thing

Marion, Layne My Hat's Off To You Both

By Helen Maguire

PERSEVERENCE! What a glorious trait to possess! How satisfying when you have finally reached your goal or completed the task or mastered whatever it is you set out to conquer.

Have you ever watched a baby or a little child try over and over again to do something and eventually succeed? What could match the delight of an infant when he turns himself over for the first time or reaches the top of the stairs after many tries and near mishaps. Or what could mean more to the kindergartner than the first time he ties his shoes by himself and they stay tied.

Or speaking of adults, take Rod and his guitar. The dear man has owned it for over a year, faithfully strums away on it, plans to enroll in the adult school course in the fall and firmly believes he will someday play it very well. More power to him. My money is on him succeeding.

But the prime example of perseverance or sticktoitiveness I have come across lately involves two of my neighbors who took a look in a full length mirror one day and decided enough was enough. Some of the excess poundage would have to go! They hid themselves off to the local Weight Watchers chapter the next week and enrolled in the course. And came home with the diet and wondered how they would ever endure it and then took another look in the mirror and decided it was sink or swim.

THE MAIN PROBLEM they encountered, other than cutting out about a million things they really liked to eat, was eating the amounts that were set for each day. It was too much! "You don't realize," quipped one of them, "how much tuna fish it takes to make six ounces or how big a six ounce hamburger can be and as for the liver, forget it."

They learned early in the game that one little taste of something forbidden could play havoc with their progress and that if they missed a meal (catch this one), they gained weight instead of losing it. When they came over for coffee, they brought their own sweetener or carted in one of the fruits of the day and a special "diet slush" and passed up the cookies or cake or whatever.

THEY EACH REALLY GOOFED ONCE. Marion had a week where she tasted everything and Layne went to the Elks' convention with Jack and nearly cooked her own goose. But they finally made it. They reached their goal weight last week and had lost between them the grand total of 15 pounds and if you think I'm kidding, just how much, think again. I like them too much to risk losing their friendship.

by Patty Voigt

(Substituting for Frank Orechio today is Patty Voigt, a college student who is working on the editorial staff for the summer.)

ON JUNE 2, I returned to Sunbank Newspapers for my summer job after a two-year absence. The difference was that my previous position at the newspapers was to sit in a dimly lighted room and research the material for the Seems Only Yesterday column. However, in my recent return, the exact duties of my position were never defined. I was hired for general office work: typing, filing, etc. I was quick to learn, however, that my new job was to include everything from chauffeuring to party-planning.

My first unorthodox assignment was to coordinate the Belleville Times-News booth for the recent Cavalcade of Progress. On two weeks' notice, and not an idea in my head, this seemed like an impossible task. As the days wore on and the ideas began to grow, I found that the project was not impossible, simply monumental. I decided a "Yesterday and Today" theme would be an interesting one (I was influenced by the Seems Only Yesterday Column, and the fascination I had with the old copies of the paper on microfilm when I worked with them.) And so for the "Yesterday" section of the booth we brought the microfilm reader and several tapes for the visitors to view.

THE "TODAY" SECTION temporarily stumped us. Not that we didn't have anything interesting going on at the Sun-Times, but we decided that our progresses would have to be shown in a unique way to make them interesting. For example, who would want to look at pictures of a printing press? But if we could bring the press to the Cavalcade, then we might create an interesting atmosphere. Realizing that both of the aforementioned notions were out of the question, we brooded over an alternative.

We decided that it would be interesting to exhibit our closed circuit television equipment. However, we were again faced with the dilemma of imaginative display. We finally came to the conclusion that the people in Belleville would be most entertained watching the people in Belleville on TV, and so we set plans for videotaping Belleville.

Three days later we set out on the back of a pick-up truck, loaned to us by Frank Cocchiola's A&F Garage, with two television cameras and audio equipment to film "A Day In The Life Of A Reporter." We figured that this was a good way to intermingle the newspaper angle with an interesting presentation.

We interviewed people on Washington Avenue, Silver Lake, in the Parks, at the Recreation House, the Police, the Firemen, and just anyone we could find who looked interesting. It was almost as much fun for us as for the people we were interviewing. It would have been a terrific publicity stunt. Many who saw us remembered us and when they came to the show they commented "Was that you on the pick-up truck with all that TV camera stuff?"

ALTHOUGH DURING the school year I majored in technical theatre, it was my first exposure to television equipment, and when we saw the results of some of my novice camera work, we were slightly skeptical about its premier to the public. But time limited our perfectionist's natures and so the show went on. Most of the viewers did not notice the flaws in camera work and were beguiled watching their fellow townspeople, or possibly themselves. At the display there was always someone keeping the vigil in the front of the set.

ON THE SECOND DAY of the exhibit we added a slide show of the production end of the newspapers. Among other things the presses and our computers. What made it an interesting display was that we had three projectors running simultaneously, each rendering a different view of a piece of equipment.

The innovation of the tri-slide projector created one small problem. No one had as yet invented a three sided slide screen. So, the next day found me in the new (crowded) editorial quarters, hastily assembling three room dividers, and covering their faces with white paper so that the original brown masonite surfaces would be adequately useful projection screens.

Sounds of my drilling and hammering drew a small crowd to our office and now I have the reputation of the "carpenter of the editorial department." This was unnecessary publicity as I had already gained notoriety riding my motorcycle to work and parking it with unprecedented ease in our crowded company parking lot.

The slides had a flat line; we tried to trace a press release as it came from the reporter's typewriter until it went into print in the paper. We wanted to make a running vocal commentary to accompany the slides, but again time was our adversary, and alas we ran silent movies. The slides ran while I was rewinding the videotape, and therefore the lull in audience that was deleted on the second day.

THE ENTIRE EXHIBIT ran for two days, from 9 am to 10 pm. The only obstacle was the weather. Mother nature had cursed us with two of the hottest days of the summer and the ventilation in the auditorium was next to nothing. Therefore despite the festive aura, the 13 hr. shifts became long and tedious. I'm not sure, however, that the heat wasn't conducive to good communications. As mutual suffers the people making the booths became very friendly. We tried to relieve the heat by passing the time in conversation or sharing cold drinks.

My neighbors to the left were the Belleville Public Library, who, incidentally were showing an excellent film, which I caught glimpses of when I could sneak away from the booth for a few minutes. To the right of Modern Millwork, distributing pamphlets and raffling off an electric car, were people like many other contacts we had. I didn't win.

TOMORROW someone suggested, I start planning for a party of 1,000 guests to be held in September. I've been asked to be a speaker at the party. I will give a talk on "The Future of the Newspaper."

Gripaldi To South America For Pan-Am

The man who is perhaps the most widely known athletic figure from the town of Belleville is off again to another competition to add to his world renowned reputation as well as his collection of medals, awards, and titles.

Phil Gripaldi left this past Saturday morning for South America, where he will enter the Pan-American Games in Cali, Columbia. In this contest, Phil will be trying to repeat his last effort of four years ago when he came away with the gold medal for the weight-lifting competition.

The Belleville strong man is travelling with the Keasby Eagles Weightlifting Club, which he has done since the last Pan Am Games for this type of competition. The coach for this squad is Jim "Butch" Toth.

To be selected for this United States team, the weightlifters are picked more by their reputation and most recent achievements rather than an elimination contest.

In Phil's last big championship event, he placed second in the National Senior Championships, which he had won three times previously. Phil was also second in the World Championships held last fall in Ohio.

Just to mention some of his other accomplishments Phil has also been a member of another weightlifting team representing the United States. That was on the U.S. Olympic squad that entered in the Mexico City events. In his first major competition, Phil was sponsored by the Belleville Kwanis when he went to California and placed second in the Junior National Championships. That same year Phil also entered the Senior Nationals and placed second there too. He is the holder of the world teenage press record and the year after he started in his big meets he became the National YMCA Champion.

For the Pan-Am competition, Phil will perform the three Olympic lifts that are standard in major events. These are the military press, the two-hand snatch, and the clean and jerk. Each contestant will be given three attempts with the highest attempt posted and the winner determined by the highest total score.

Marano Rowing With Naval Academy

Frank Marano, a June graduate of Belleville High School, has already been out rowing with the crew team for the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis and he's only been there a month.

The honor graduate and co-captain of the BHS crew team found things working rather quickly at the academy as they are already teaching him a new style of rowing. For four years Frank was used to the style used by Belleville High where an oarsman turns his wrist as he completes a stroke. Now at the academy, he is learning a style which he says is almost entirely different where the wrists are snapped as the oar is raised.

The first few days were "kind of rough" as Frank explained to his parents, but now things are "fabulous". The BHS varsity 178 pound wrestler lost five to ten pounds in his first three weeks, as the class of 1300 lost over 100 students.

At the Academy a lot of emphasis is placed on the correct procedures. Frank has been placed in a "tank" and a "barge" to help. If these terms don't sound too closely associated with the general sculling terms such as shell, an explanation may be needed. The tank is an indoor rowing device used to correct the form and give the individual a chance to concentrate on just that. The barge is not the familiar two shells bolted together that used to float down the Passaic. This one is an anchored boat in which the new oarsmen practice.

The style wasn't the only thing that happened quickly at Annapolis. On his first day out, Frank was surprised when his coach came up to him and greeted him by his first name. Frank had never seen him before but evidently the coach had checked Frank out.

Frank was also told that he would be going out for the football squad or playing in the drum and bugle corps. He lucked out after choosing to continue with his music. There weren't enough bugles to go around, so now he's waiting to hear about the dance band. A member of the concert band at the Academy, Frank's interest in music stems from his father's professional career as a musician in the New York, New Jersey area. Frank's twin brother Mike, headed for the University of Miami was an All-State saxophone player.

DATeline: AUBURN, ALABAMA. The Sports Corner is also doing a little travelling of its own. Right now, yesterday and today, it's down here in the South visiting the University of Auburn where it will take up temporary residence starting this September. Between now and then we'll be trying to keep up on where BHS grads are heading and who's heading out for practice fields for Belleville High School's upcoming seasons to give a head start in the coverage this fall.

Olgas Continues To Top League

Olgas continued their domination of the Monday Mens Recreation Softball League with a 10-2 standing. However Frenchys (9-3) closed the gap in their last outing by defeating the leaders. Jolly Cleaners share the second place with Frenchys in this tight league. Kings Court at 6-6 are just about out of reach or the playoffs. This week's games are crucial in this league as they pit Frenchy against the Kings Court and Jolly Cleaners against Olgas. This league, with three games to play, is still wide open. The Jollys still have to face Frenchys and Olgas face a tough one against the Kings Court.

In the Tuesday League the Zig Zags remain undefeated at 11-0 while their arch rivals the Chip Inns breath on the backs of their necks at 10-1. Ironically these two powers must meet twice before the season is decided, once on regular schedule this week and once to pick up a rained out game. Each of these games is critical. The only other team with a ray of hope in this league is Rosellis with a 7-5 standing.

Lifetime Sports Coming

By Bob Cook

The Belleville Recreation Department has begun a new phase of its program. An emphasis is being placed on "Lifetime Sports". Lifetime Sports are defined as sports that can be played and enjoyed throughout one's life, that both men and women can enjoy, that do not require team organization and for which facilities are readily available. The Recreation plan is not to discourage the varsity type of sport but rather to add to it.

Starting on the summer playgrounds with a program directed to boys and girls of ages 13 thru 17 the program included at present tennis, volleyball, weightlifting, archery and swimming. Basic instructions are being given in each of these by qualified instructors. In addition a part of each session is given to playing the sport. Eventually the program will be expanded to include bowling, golf, hiking, cycling, skiing, skating, fencing, badminton, pingpong and shooting.

These activities will be carried on into the indoor Recreation program this Fall. It is hoped that each of the offered activities that they will become enthusiastic about at least two of them and that they will have equipped themselves with a knowledge that will always afford them wholesome, enjoyable activity.

In the Fall much of the thrust of the program will be directed toward the adult sector of the community. It's never too late to learn a true Lifetime Sport. Many people are well into their adult years and never have had the opportunity of learning any of the games in this program. By joining in the Lifetime Sports Program such people could be playing tennis and volleyball at the beach club next summer as well as knowing how to exercise intelligently.

In this day and age of concern over health, this age of more leisure time and of longer life it behooves everyone to be prepared with worthwhile recreational skills. If you are thirteen thru seventeen years of age you can still enter into the program by registering at the playground nearest you. If you are an adult just telephone the Recreation House and discuss your interest. This will assure your likes being included in the plans for this Fall.

Whip Montclair Again

Bizarre Season Finale Marks Close Of Senior Stars Circuit

The Belleville Recreation Department Senior League All-Stars whipped Montclair 5-1 and then had their final game of the campaign called off in mid-game during a bizarre match with Parsippany.

Against Montclair, Mike Dondarski sparked the Belleville club by hurling a three hitter while walking three and striking out nine.

Belleville waited until the second inning to get on the scoreboard. Barry Dunleavy started it off with a perfect bunt down the third base line which was thrown over the first baseman's head, allowing Dunleavy to reach second.

Steve Gerard then lined a hard shot off the shortstop's glove into leftfield. Dunleavy scored on the play and on the throw, Gerard went to second.

Dave Fierstein then hit a Texas Leaguer into left. Gerard held up waiting to see if it was caught, and when it fell in he dashed to third but was thrown out.

The inning was not over. Fierstein stole second and was sacrificed to third by John Megna. That brought up Belleville's All-Star catcher Vic Pasquariello. Vic was hit with a pitch and took first. He stole second the next pitch to Mike Dondarski. Dondarski then collected his second hit of the game to drive in two more runs.

In the third inning Ronnie

Goy singled and went to second on a passed ball. He scored on a single by Gerard.

Belleville's final tally came in the fourth, when with two out, Pasquariello beat out an infield hit and went to second on the overthrow by the shortstop. Dondarski then singled home the run.

Montclair scored its only run in the sixth. The victory raised Belleville's mark to 4-1. Dondarski pitched 14 innings, allowing only six hits and striking out 20 for the two games he pitched in.

The last game of the campaign was a doozy. The tilt was played in Parsippany, and will be one the Belleville Stars will long remember.

Vic Pasquariello led off the game with a grounder and was safe on an error. He attempted to steal second and slid and was standing on the bag, he was called out. The umpire originally called him safe, but once the hometown crowd called "Out", he reversed his call.

Dennis Nadzan was safe on a fielder's throw into the outfield. Joe LaMin then drove the runs in with an outfield hit.

Nadzan was pitching for Belleville and had the handicap of hurling with saturated baseballs and on a wet field. He gave up a run in the second on a walk, a stolen base, a wild pitch and a balk.

Belleville was the victim of bad calls in the second third and fourth innings, but finally erupted in the fifth.

Steve Gerard got the rally going with a line single up the middle. He stole second and the call was loudly applauded by Belleville fans. Dave Fierstein then got an infield hit to move Gerard to third. Fierstein then stole second. Joe Troise was at bat and lined a single to bring home two runs to tie the game at 3-3.

Troise went to second on the throw home. Dondarski walked and Nadzan beat out an infield shot to load the bases. LaMin was safe on an error and Belleville led 4-3.

There were two out with Barry Dunleavy at bat. He laid down a perfect bunt (Continued on Page 7)

BECK'S COLUMN

MAX BECK

We received an unusually large number of favorable comments about our little lessons, so we are going to continue.

Lesson No. 3 was about the first phonograph which was transcribed and reproduced by mechanical means. Today we are going to talk about the tremendous change which the use of electricity made.

You may remember how we explained the receiver of a telephone. The first "microphones" of the telephone had a carbon capsule, which responded to the sound waves from our voice. Since the voice needs only a narrow band of frequencies, a micro-phone for voice only does not need to be very sensitive. Things are different if we want to reproduce the complete scale of tones (or waves or frequencies) of a musical instrument. The primitive carbon microphones were not good enough for this. Very sensitive mikes were developed which could handle all the low and high tones with very little loss. The next step was an electronic amplifier which could amplify the small power of the mike, without any losses at all. On the other end we have a very fine stylus of a very little weight hung without hardly any friction and moved by a magnet. Thus we avoid all the great mechanical losses of the original phonograph or Victrola as they were called. Electricity in connection with electronics started a wave of phonograph records and created a large new industry. It made it possible to record and preserve the voices of great singers and orchestras for the future. End of lesson No. 4.

Montclair State Plans Early Registration Date

Robert MacVane, director of the Evening Division at Montclair State College, has announced that registration for evening classes for the fall semester will be earlier than usual due to a change in the college calendar.

In order to permit a three-week, innovative period between semesters, classes will begin on September 9, instead of September 16, as they would have under the traditional calendar. This period will be used by undergraduates in the Daytime Division for independent study, field trips, and other special projects.

Mail registration for matriculated graduate students in the Evening Division will be accepted until August 22, according to Mr. MacVane. Graduate students not currently in programs at the college may avail themselves of mail registration after presenting evidence of their B.A. degrees and obtaining departmental signatures for courses. This may be done in person on August 3, 4, and 5 from 1:30 to 2:30 in the office of the Evening Division.

before the pitcher fielded the ball. When the pitcher threw home the umpire somehow called Dondarski out, a call which even surprised the Parsippany crowd.

In the top of the seventh, with Belleville having its strongest batters scheduled up, the biggest surprise of all came. The Parsippany coach went to see his umpire and it was decided to call the game because there were no dry white balls. The Belleville manager Bob Conway quipped that there hadn't been any dry white balls all night. Then one of the Belleville players brought out one of his own baseballs to finish the game but the Parsippany team refused to continue.

Belleville has issued a challenge to the Parsippany team to come to Belleville but there has been no response.

Manager Conway said, at the season's end, that "it has been the greatest honor and privilege of my entire life to work with this team."

The team was composed of: Bob Cohen, Rich Goscinski, John Megna and Joe Troise from the Braves, Dennis Nadzan and Jerry Hoban from the Cubs, Nicky DeFillips, Mike Dondarski, Dave Fierstein, Denny DeSantis and Barry Dunleavy from the Giants, Vic Pasquarello, Ron Goy, Ki Kevin Goy, Bob DiQuattro and Steve Garcia from the Pirates, and Mike Servidio, Mark Restivo, Mike Sbarra, Fred Taylor and Joe LaMin from the Yankees.

Olgas Still Hot In Rec Loop

Funerals has broken the Wednesday League tie by beating the DeBaccos. Top four teams in the League are Landolfis 10-2, DeBaccos 9-3, Hillcrest 7-5 and Garden States 6-6 with the Giordanos and Salvatores at the bottom with 2-10. Landolfis face a tough opponent this week in the Garden States while DeBaccos have to get by the rugged Hillcrest team. Thereafter Landolfis finished their schedule against the two bottom teams while DeBaccos will still have to face the Garden States in their last scheduled game.

Jolly Cleaners, after losing to the Magnificent Men in the second round have continued to win ball games and now sit on top of the Thursday League with their 10-1 standing. The Magnificents (9-2) will get their last chance at the League leaders this week. Meanwhile the Recs, who dealt one of the two losses to the Magnificents, are just within in reach at 7-4 with three games to go.

Softball League Stable

By Robert E. Cook

There were no position changes in the Recreation Men's Softball Monday and Wednesday Leagues. Olgas, with a win over the Jolly Cleaners, solidified their first place position and helped put Frenchys in second. Frenchys who had been in a second place tie with Jollies took sole possession of the number two slot by beating the King's Court. The final battle in the Monday League is among Olgas, Frenchys and Jollies. Next week Jollies faces Frenchys and Olgas still face a tough contest in the last week of the league when they meet the King's Court.

In an upset the Chip Inn defeated the Zig Zags and moved into a tie 11-4 standing. It's all between these two because the third place Rosellis are at 8-5 with only two games to go. A postponed game remains to be played between the two leaders on August 9 and this game could very well decide the League.

Landolfis, in the Wednesday League, have it just about wrapped up. They moved to an 11-2 standing by beating the strong Garden State Deaf in a close game. Meanwhile DeBacco's who have been strong all season were upset by a scrappy Hillcrest team. DeBacco's in second, now stand at 9-4, Hillcrest at 8-5 is in third place.

Crafts Group Active

For the past week the Crafts Group of the Rec Department has been continuing with the macaroni bottles and fun-film flowers as well as experimenting with a new item-metal tooling with aluminum foil. The children were to create their own designs and impress that design upon the foil. The projects were then finished by painting them with a water soluble glaze. The projects turned out so far were both original and attractive as well as fun to do.

In the next few weeks the group is looking forward to getting in leathercraft. The children will learn how to design their own patterns for their leather projects and how to tool them. It will be interesting to see the outcome.

The crafts program has also centered upon the making of fun film flowers. They were easy to make as well as being very attractive. The children were also to make their own creations, such as butterflies, sailboats, and mobiles.

On the side we also decorated bottles. This was done by either gluing macaroni on the bottles and spraying them gold or by gluing on them different colored crepe paper, both types making very attractive vases.

The playground directors have also been presenting material to their own particular playgrounds such as bulletin boards, bean bags, mobiles, collages, potato print, and water gun painting.

Belleville Student In Summer Program In Hospital System

Six Rutgers students including Manuel Vega of Belleville, are working within the system this summer in Newark. The system is hospitals, specifically the administration of hospitals, and the problem is that minority students rarely identify hospital administration as a career choice. The problem becomes more relevant when it is realized that those who are most affected by the inadequacies of the health care system are the poor and disadvantaged.

The National Work-Study Recruitment Program in Hospital Administration is providing minority students with the opportunity to observe and participate in the health care system. The program was initiated in the summer of 1970 with thirty-five students participating in Baltimore and New York City. This summer, with support from the National Urban Coalition, Weir Foundation, Wieboldt Foundation and local Model Cities Programs, the National Work-Study Program has been expanded to five urban centers - Newark, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore. The Association of University Programs in Hospital Administration is the coordinating agency for the new program in cooperation with the National Association of Health Services Executives.

It is planned that the twelve week summer program will provide the students with an introduction and an orientation to hospital administration. The student will also be given an opportunity to observe the effects of the hospital organization on the health and economy of the community. Seventy per cent of the students from the 1970 program have identified health care administration as a career objective and some seniors from the group have already been accepted for graduate school in the Fall. Martland Medical Unit of the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry and St. James Hospital are the two institutions participating in the National Program in the Newark area.

The students were selected on the basis of their academic record, potential for admission to graduate programs in hospital administration and identification with the objectives of the program. Many students from Rutgers University applied to participate in the program but only six students were chosen due to the limited number of Newark hospitals who agreed to participate in the program. Students assigned to Martland Medical Unit are Christine Shipman, Louis Lopez, Robert Douglas, Odell Stewart and Frank Louie. Manuel Vega of 186 Union Avenue, has been assigned to St. James Hospital, Newark. The students receive a weekly stipend financed by the participating hospital and outside support.

The program continues during the academic year with counseling and other assistance for students interested in admission to a graduate program in hospital administration or a management position in hospitals.

During the summer educational institutes and seminars will be provided for the students. The educational sessions will concentrate on a dialogue among students and leaders in the health care field.

Robert Detore, Director of the Office of Student Affairs for the Association of University Programs in Hospital Administration and Staff Director for the National Work-Study Program commented that, "It is our hope that the National Work-Study Recruitment Program in Hospital Administration for Minority Group Students will not only provide students with an awareness of the importance and complexity of the health care system, particularly in Newark, but will also provide them with the challenge and encouragement to improve the system through a career in hospital administration."

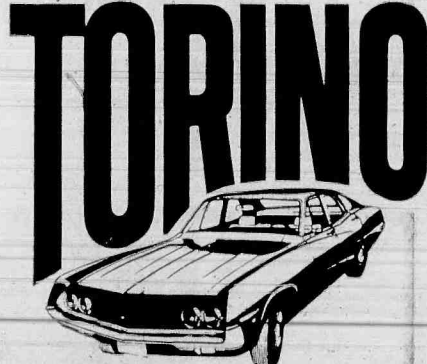

The Championship

The Belleville American League All-Stars will host the Livingston Little League All-Stars in the championship game tonight at six at the Michael V. Marotti Little League Field. The local National League entry was ousted by Livingston earlier this week to prevent an all Belleville championship.

MANUEL VEGA (right), a Rutgers University Student and a resident of Belleville, is shown at St. James Hospital in Newark where he is spending summer as an administrative intern as part of National Work-Study Recruitment Program in Hospital Administration. He is shown with (l-r) Robert Detore, director of the National program, and Sister Marie de Pazzi, administrator at St. James.

Joseph Benucci Warns Of Theft On Summer Vacations
Newark Postmaster Joseph
J. Benucci today warned persons planning to take vacations this summer to take precautions against theft in the mails by letting their carrier know in advance of their departure so that their mail can either be forwarded or held at the post office until they return "An overstuffed mailbox is an open invitation for depreciation and vandalism", said Benucci.
"If you plan an extensive stay of three or four weeks", he added, "either rent a post office box for the period or write your local postmaster giving him the name of a friend or relative who will be responsible for your mail."

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Fling yourself into orbit in week ahead. Pisces love. And kick off anything that restricts or binds. Be a flying fishie. You can soar, baby, and this is the week to do so. Happy Landings!

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Arrange to get creditors off your back in week ahead, Aquari. Get yourself squared away, so you will be beholden unto no one. And in the future do not extend credit, and do not ask for it. Last day finds you full of vinegar.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Choose one day in week ahead, Scorpio, and reaching out to dear one offer love. Just love, nothing material is needed. Or even wanted. Response may astound you. Thus you exorcise old ghost. Week passes quickly.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Week ahead has all the makings of a real dazzler, Sag. Time perfect to throw your duds into a shopping bag and bug out for the beach. However, should you go off the deep end emotionally, Olga recommends you keep water wings handy. Week ends with a splash of extravagance. And why not?

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Lie back in week ahead, Cap, and let life just happen. All your little heart desires will come your way, given enough time. (Well, maybe not ALL, but a heck of a lot.) Hunches will be strong. Follow them. Pisces involved.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Dear one needs you, Libra love. Give of yourself. Your time. Your talent, whatever it may be. Write a little poem, or sing a song or tell a funny story. All tend to open lines of communication. Mind old Olga, you hear? Then week ends on note of harmony. Otherwise, it's down the old drain.

Garden Arts Center Sets Italian Festival

The Italian-American community of New Jersey will sponsor a special program of their dancing, singing and other performing talents to be held at the Garden State Arts Center on Columbus Day. The Italian Festival will be presented for the benefit of the Garden State Arts Center Fund, which underwrites free performances at the showplace for school children and senior citizens of New Jersey.

Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Arts Center on the Garden State Parkway, said he welcomed and applauded the Italian-American community's interest in the Fund program for the benefit of the young and old.

Alphonse A. Miele, former President and Executive Secretary of Unico National, has been selected as General Chairman of the Festival planned for the Arts Center in the early afternoon of Monday, October 11.
