

Rec Department Carnival Planned For Tomorrow

A carnival to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy will be held tomorrow at Municipal Stadium beginning at 9 a.m. The event is being sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department for the fourth consecutive year.

Unlike previous years however, all playgrounds will consolidate their fund raising efforts in the one carnival. Previously each playground held separate affairs.

Last year $1000 was raised for the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation through the playground carnivals, with the amount being announced on Jerry Lewis' telethon.

Warren Ceres, assistant superintendent of recreation, foresees even bigger receipts this year for charity because of the consolidated effort.

Ceres said in the past smaller playgrounds suffered in attendance during the carnival days because most people were attracted to the bigger playgrounds.

As in previous years, the event will feature games, food stands, chances and rides. Much of the food and prizes were donated by businesses and industries, and in some instances by residents.

"We don't care how much we raise, as long as the children get involved," Ceres said. "You'd be surprised that some of the boys and girls get more involved in this than in baseball."

If it rains the event will be held Saturday.

In Law Suit

Court Could Strip Mike Of 2 Jobs

By Nat Gottlieb

Michael Marotti could lose both his town jobs if the courts decide he is in conflict of interest serving as Commissioner and as a local detective.

Furthermore, he could be asked to pay back all his salary received since May for both positions, according to attorney John Montefusco.

Montefusco, a Belleville attorney with offices in Irvington, has filed suit for two residents asking a hearing be called by Police Chief Joseph Smith to decide if the Commissioner is violating a Police Department regulation limiting the political activity of officers.

The suit has been filed with the Chancery Division of the Essex County Superior Court but to date that court has not decided whether or not to hear the matter.

Montefusco is confident however that the case will reach the court and that it will get a speedy trial. Part of this confidence he says, comes from the fact that the court has listened to similar cases.

Although the lawyer would not comment on what the trend was in such cases, other attorneys have indicated the odds are in Montefusco's favor.

Technically the case has been filed by Montefusco for former Councilman James R. Golden and Commission candidate Salvatore LaMorte, but both men reportedly have given the attorney complete freedom in the matter.

Since filing the suit three weeks ago, Montefusco has added four amendments to his petition.

Originally the suit asked only that the court order Chief Smith to hold a departmental hearing to determine if Marotti is violating rule 58 of the local Police Code of Regulations which limits the political activity of officers. Montefusco contends Marotti is "continuously" and "flagrantly" violating this rule by serving as town Commissioner.

The attorney has now petitioned the court to make the final judgement on the matter, with Smith conducting his hearings only as a formality.

The four amendments to Montefusco's original suit are:

*That the court have complete control over the case, including the departmental hearing.

*That the court decide on the alleged illegality of Marotti's position, regardless of Smith's judgement.

*That the court order Marotti to pay the Town of Belleville any salary he might have received while holding illegal positions.

What the amendments essentially do is to force the court to make a final judgement on the matter, one which would eliminate

Extra Funds Not Sought For Cleanup

Public Works Director Mary Senatore will not seek emergency funds "at this time" to cleanup debris from last week's electrical storm.

Mrs. Senatore said she is short about $5,000 in wages, but will "take it out of the budget now and transfer funds later if possible."

She did not rule out the possibility that emergency funds would have to be asked in the long run, however. "My budget is pretty tight and I'm not so sure there will be any money that I will be able to transfer later."

If this is the case, she expects Town Fathers to okay emergency funds later. The Public Works Director said the other four Commissioners told her in caucus Monday that "this was the best path to follow."

Her crew meanwhile is still busy trying to clear curbs and sidewalks of the countless trees, limbs and branches which fell rapidly during an electrical storm August 1. Only half of the debris is gone at this point, and Mrs. Senatore speculated it would be two to three weeks before it would all be cleaned up.

The critical stage is over now, however, and Public Works employees are on regular schedules. Her men were on overtime for five days after the storm's outset.

The manpower problem from Public Works employees being on summer vacation still exists, but Mrs. Senatore expects her entire regular crew back this week. In the meantime summer help, mostly youths are handling the bulk of the load.

Register Before Sept. 23

Final registration date for the November General Election is September 23, according to Town Clerk Eugene Barnett.

Between now and then the Clerk's office will register voters during evenings on select dates, Barnett says. He particularly reminded 18-year-olds that they are eligible to vote in this election only if they register by September 23.

Seventeen-year-olds who will be 18 by Election Day may register now and vote, Barnett said.

Civilian and absentee ballots may be picked up at Barnett's office.

In addition to regular daily office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., the Clerk's office will be open from 6-9 p.m. on August 16, 23, and 30. The same special evening hours will be in effect September 7, 13, 16 and 17.

The Clerk's office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on September 20, 21, 22 and 23.

Controversy Brewing Over Big Subdivision

A sub-division proposal involving a 40,000 square foot tract of land was tabled by Town Fathers Tuesday night after heated discussion in Council Chambers.

The proposal asks the Commission to permit the tract to be divided into nine separate building lots near the intersection of Jerome Avenue and Cottage Street.

The lots would be 3,960 square feet each and would contain one-family homes valued between $45-50,000. Several area residents are unhappy with the proposal however, and it was at their urging that Commissioners tabled it for further study.

Also opposing the subdivision is Commissioner Mary Senatore, who feels the tract of land cannot adequately hold nine separate homes.

The major factor which apparently disturbs the residents is the number of proposed lots, and not the subdivision in general. Several in fact said they would accept a subdivision for six lots.

What appeared to disturb Commissioners the most, particularly Robert Laterza, was whether or not the proposal conforms with existing zoning and development laws.

Town Building Inspector Vincent Mustachio told Commissioners Tuesday night the proposal does conform to existing codes. On the other hand, Mrs. Senatore produced statements forwarded from

$140,000 Bill Is Introduced

The Town Commission introduced an ordinance Tuesday night to purchase an office building for the local Health Department. The bill would issue bonds for $140,000.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy, who negotiated with the Fisher-Stevens Corporation for the property, said the price is $7,000 below assessed valuation. He said the company originally asked $175,000 for the building.

"I think we are getting a steal with this building," Mayor McGreevy told the Times-News.

"The facilities are in such good shape that we can almost move right in," the Mayor said.

The building is on the corner of Washington Avenue and Joralemon Street, and covers 11,117 square feet. It is 17 years old, according to McGreevy.

The Belleville Board of Education meanwhile will be watching the fate of the ordinance closely because it hopes to rent the second floor to house its administrative offices and its special education department.

If approved, the purchase will allow Belleville to move its Health Department from a 100 year old two-story home adjacent to Town Hall to the more spacious site

Young Demo Chapter Here

A Young Democrats organization is being chartered in Belleville.

The group is being guided by Town Democratic Chairman Mary Senatore, who hopes to involve the young Bellevilleites immediately in the November General Election.

Membership in the local chapter is open to any resident 18-35 years of age, Mrs. Senatore said. When the group receives its charter from the Essex County Democratic Organization it will have one vote on the County Democratic Screening Committee, which nominates election candidates.

Mrs. Senatore's move is in response to the recently passed 26th Federal Amendment giving 18 year olds the right to vote in all elections.

The local Democratic leader provided her backyard as a setting for the first meeting of the young people. The 18 that showed up met with Essex County Young Democrats President Joseph Iannuzzi and Bob Russo.

"There was alot of enthusiasm at the first meeting," Mrs. Senatore said. "They began drawing up a constitution and scheduled their next meeting for Sunday, Aug. 29."

Mrs. Senatore said the group will conduct a registration drive aimed not only at getting young voters to register, but also to encourage those over 21 to exercise their balloting rights as well.

"They had some very good ideas and I feel they will make good Democrats," Mrs. Senatore said. "They intend on sitting with the Belleville Democratic Club to exchange views."

Temporary president of the Belleville Young Democrats is Larry Spinelli, a 1970 graduate of Belleville High School. A full slate of officers will be elected at the August 29 meeting.

Anyone interested in joining the organization is asked to contact Mrs. Senatore or Spinelli.

Board Delays Vote On Retirement Issue

By Cris Farley

The Board of Education tabled a resolution Monday night which would have frozen salaries for employees of the school system who reach the age of 65.

The resolution was introduced the hopes of encouraging retirement by employees who reached that age, particularly administrative personnel, to bring "younger blood" into the school system.

The resolution was not acted on, however, because of the absence of Boardmember Mrs. Norma McCool. It was decided "that such an important decision" required a vote by a complete board. A public meeting was scheduled for August 23.

Reached by the Times for comment, Mrs. McCool said she had missed the meeting because of illness and that she had mixed emotions on the resolution.

"I've been trying to make up my mind about the matter. I can see the wisdom of it, but yet I know many people over 65 who still have productive years. It is something I've got to weigh on the scales and see which side predominates."

She expressed concern over the general nature of such an amendment; "What bothers me is that there are many productive individuals of that age and there is no provision in the resolution for such exceptions."

"On the other hand," she continued, "I have read studies which say that a man declines in productivity at 45 or so; but I can't quite buy this because some of the most astute businessmen are over 65."

"We have been extending life, yet the trend is to lower retirement ages because of young blood. It's a sort of weeding out process, and I hate to see good individuals sacrificed."

Gripaldi Breaks Record

By John McCarthy

Phil Grippaldi of Belleville entered the weightlifting contests at the Pan-American Games last week as the defending champion and total weight record-holder. Now after the competition he still holds the middle-heavyweight title, and an increased record of 40 pounds.

The member of the 1968 U.S. Olympic team took two gold medals and two the possibility of future appeals.

"We've put it all in one big suit to get it over with as quickly as possible," Montefusco told the Times-News Monday. "I think this increases our chances of being heard by the court."

Should the court decide not to hear the case, Montefusco has said he would advise his clients to initiate a taxpayer's suit against Marotti.

As it stands, Montefusco is asking that Marotti, Smith and Public Safety Director Robert Laterza be named defendants in the suit. Laterza would be named, Montefusco said, only as a formality "to put him officially on notice."

Chief Smith entered the picture when he refused to hold a hearing after LaMorte and Golden filed complaints with his office charging Marotti was violating several police department regulations.

The Police Chief referred those complaints to Town Attorney John Scott who ruled the complaints were unfounded and said so in a letter to both Golden and LaMorte.

The two former Commission candidates were unhappy about Smith's action and charged through their attorney that Police Department regulations "require" that a hearing be held in such matters.

At this point no one else has been served with summonses because Montefusco has not received a docket number from the Essex County Clerk's office.

"As soon as I get my case number," Montefusco said, "I will serve the three men." The attorney said he can serve them before the court has decided whether or not to hear the case.

Asked to speculate on what the political ramifications would be if Marotti lost the case, Montefusco said one possibility is that Town Fathers might have to appoint a new Commissioner or hold an election for one.

A further possible entanglement could be that Commissioners might have to ballot again for the Mayorship because Marotti's vote might be declared void. Montefusco said he "didn't care" to speculate on that question at this point.

Subdivision Controversy

the Belleville Planning Board which claim the usage would violate existing standards.

The key question has to do with the street width of the proposed development.

According to the developments plans, the new street (called Jerome Court) would be 40 feet wide, while both Cottage Street and Jerome Avenue are 50 feet.

Mrs. Senatore says Belleville's development ordinance allows a street to be 40 feet wide only if the connecting street already existing is 40 feet or less.

The Commissioner's opinion is backed up by the Planning Board and Belleville's consulting engineer Ralph Sander and the town's planning consultant, Grace Harris.

Mrs. Senatore produced written statements from both Sander and Harris which the Planning Board endorsed.

Miss Harris' statement said in part that "The development ordinance provides that new streets shall not be less than 50 feet right of way unless they form a continuation of existing street of lesser width. The proposed street (Jerome Court) could be considered an extension of Cottage Street. Cottage Street has a right of way of 50 feet and therefore the proposed right of way of 40 feet on Jerome Court does not meet the requirements of the ordinance. The cul-de-sac radius of 40 feet complies although we feel this is a substandard requirement and will present problems for emergency equipment and snow plowing."

The big future question apparently will be whether Jerome Court is to be considered an extension of Jerome Avenue, a legal question which Commissioner Laterza requested a ruling on from Town Attorney John Scott.

Both Sander and Harris say that despite the proposal's conformity to most existing zoning laws, it would not conform to several laws in the new zoning ordinance which has been prepared by the town Planning Board. That zoning ordinance has not been acted upon yet by Commissioners.

In the new zoning ordinance, according to Miss Harris, minimum lot size would be 5,000 square feet. Lot sizes in the subdivision vary from 3,960 square feet to 5,188. Only one lot is over 5,000 feet he says.

Miss Harris also found that the subdivision would be in violation of the following regulations of the proposed new zoning ordinance:

*Only eight dwelling units per acre are to be allowed, whereas this proposal has nine.

*Lot width must 50 feet or more. This proposal contains five lots with widths less than 50 feet.

*Lot depth must be 100 feet. This proposal contains seven lots less than 100 feet.

*Maximum lot coverage should be 30 per cent. The maximum lot coverage of the proposal is approximately 35.5 per cent.

*Rear yards must be 25 feet. This proposal contains five lots where the rear yard is less than 25 feet.

Apollo 15

Hours of historic entertainment for hundreds of millions, and probably significant scientific data was provided through the efforts of the three astronauts on the Apollo 15 space voyage to the moon and back.

The scientific accomplishment of U.S. industry and the military services in the Apollo 15 mission, which included a rover craft driving over the moon's surface, was impressive, and the worldwide public relations value of this space epic was considerable.

There is little doubt that the pictures sent back to earth in live television form, from Apollo 15 equipment, were the best ever seen. Their quality and views of the varied topography of the moon's surface, seen for the first time, were highly valuable and impressive.

All Americans can be proud of the work of the Apollo 15 astronauts and of the effort which sent them on their way into space, and brought them back successfully. When it's remembered that the effort cost the nation half a billion dollars, at a time when the dollar is weak and the budget heavily in the red, one must hope that the scientific benefits of Apollo 15 will prove commensurate with the heavy cost of this moon spectacular.

Heroin Seizures

The Bureau of Customs in Washington recently announced its agents had seized 937 pounds of heroin worth $409 million on the street during the year ending June 30th. The amount of heroin seized was equivalent to that taken in the eight preceding years by agents.

The success reflects an intensified and expanded effort by the Nixon Administration against drug smugglers. Progress in the year before had been good but nothing like that in the twelve months ending June 30th, in which 503 heroin seizures were made.

The amount of cocaine seized was also up, over three fold, in the year and marijuana and hashish seizures also sharply increased.

Commissioner Myles Ambrose of the Bureau of Customs speaks hopefully of the escalating progress being made by Custom agents at ports of entry, special agents and other federal agents, saying the time might eventually come when illegal drug supplies will be largely choked off.

If Customs and other federal agents, cooperating with local and state law enforcement officers and foreign agents, can succeed in largely choking off the supply, a goal now deemed possible, such progress would constitute one of the finest accomplishments of American government in behalf of the American people. Progress achieved already is a political asset to the Nixon Administration.

Latin American Dilemma

The International Planned Parenthood Federation reported recently from London that the earth's population growth rate was highest in Latin America. In absolute numbers, the population explosion is greatest in Asia.

The Federation sees a bleak future for Latin America and Asia unless measures are taken to limit population growth. The dilemma in Latin America is that the area is under the partial control of the Roman Catholic Church, which tells its members and priests to oppose birth control by the pill and certain other methods. History, however, shows that only these methods are effective among masses of relatively uneducated people.

In Asia the problem is more one of numbers. Many governments have—without having to battle a predominant church—undertaken birth control programs (as have some Latin American governments despite the church). China, Japan, and India to a lesser degree, have accomplished major progress in this direction.

Yet, says the Federation, if greater progress is not achieved on these two continents, living conditions are likely to worsen in many countries and this is always an open invitation to Communism, ironically the movement so many churches bitterly oppose.

Noise Problems Plague New Teen Discotheque

By Elaine Auerbach
One Year Ago

Joseph Smith was to be sworn in as Belleville's new Police Chief at Town Hall. Smith was to replace retiring Chief Donald Smith, who was no relation. A lifelong resident of Belleville, the new chief had served 23 years on the force. Scheduled to be sworn in as Deputy Chief was Frank Haight, who was to be in charge of the detective bureau.

An ordinance doubling the ratio requirements of parking spaces to apartment units was introduced by the Board of Commissioners. The bill would require that all new construction plans provide for "200 per cent parking," or two car spaces for every apartment unit built. The previous rule had allowed one space per unit. Commissioner Joseph McGreevy had suggested the 200 per cent spacing. He stated that "with these high prices for rents people have to pay, a man and wife don't have to work and need separate cars."

Belleville's teen discotheque, which had been open for only two weeks, was facing the threat of a shut-down in the wake of complaints by the majority of homeowners on Nolton Street. The discotheque, which had been started by the teenagers at the Municipal Stadium, have proven successful in keeping the teens off the street by giving them a place to go. Mayor Ken Smith was expected to back the teenagers and support the continuation of the discotheque.

Mrs. Carol Y. Bressor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Yochum of 94 Forest Street, was appointed director of public relations of Hartford Hospital in Hartford, Connecticut. Mrs. Bressor was assistant public relations manager at Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Denials of a party breach came thick and fast after reports of a rift between Mrs. Mary Senatore, Belleville Democratic Chairman, and Essex County Assemblyman Joseph G. Biancardi, who had been reported planning to enter the September primary with hopes of unseating the long time political figure. "There's no dispute," said Biancardi. He had been quoted as saying he would support neither "Mrs. Senatore or her opponents."

Arthur Wolman, assistant librarian at the Belleville Library, was to leave for Middletown, Ohio, to start a new job as Library Director. Some 15 members of the library board and friends of Mr. Wolman paid tribute to him during an informal luncheon at The Fountain. Mrs. Ethel Brady of Montclair praised the many efforts of Mr. Wolman, particularly his establishment of a library for the Silver Lake District of town.

Belleville's commission meetings were not completely recorded in the official minutes, Mayor Isadore Padula said, the Mayor explained that it would cost the town $100 a night to have a "qualified court stenographer here" to report the proceedings of the commission in detail. Padula made the statement after a resident asked if remarks made by Town Treasurer Francis McCoy had been recorded in the minutes. The Times examined the minutes and discovered that McCoy's remarks had been abbreviated with omissions into a few sentences.

Vincent Strumulo of 64 Franklin Street announced he would be a candidate for the South Ward in the next election under the town's new charter. Strumulo, who headed the 300 member association bearing his name, had rolled up a 3,800 vote total when he had run in 1958. He later worked with those who wanted to change the charter. His association had endorsed the mayor-council form in a May referendum.

The Chamber of Commerce building was the battleground for a pre-arranged face-to-face debate between Alan Crisp and Salvatore Calabro on the merits of the school board's proposal to build a new high school in the stadium area. Crisp spoke in favor of the school; he was chairman of the Citizen's Building Advisory Committee. Calabro spoke against the new school; he was president of the Citizen's Tax Council, the most organized group opposing the school.

The Board of Commissioners granted one application for the operation of a taxi service and rejected another. Michael Cafone, a veteran, was given permission to operate two cabs on Washington Avenue, and stated he would station the vehicles in the service station at 348 Washington Avenue. The other applicant, Fred W. Gow, who proposed to operate a taxi stand at Belleville Avenue and Bridge Street, was not given permission for his service.

The Feast of Saint Bartholomew was to be held again after a lapse of six years caused by war. Religious street processions were to be held beginning at Saint Anthony's Church in the Silver Lake section of Belleville. The two day feast in August would be brought to a close by a display of fireworks on the last day.

A new policy in the athletic set-up of the school system was announced by Herbert Schmutz, president of the Board of Education. Schmutz revealed the functions of the athletic council would be assumed by the Board of Education, with the council exercising a general advisory and policy control over the Board.

Speak Up!

Split Sessions? And Why Not?

To The Editor:

This is a question which has been mulling in my mind for a long time and I am sure perhaps it might be bothering many other Belleville taxpayers. What is wrong with split sessions?

As I understand it, it means utilizing the school buildings and the teachers for longer periods of time. Isn't this what private industry calls the second shift? Hasn't it been used successfully and become a boom to profits?

Why won't it work in the school systems? We have done it for many years with the kindergarten children, are our high school students different in some way?

The high school day is no more than six hours, correct me if I am wrong. What is wrong with 8 to 2 and then 2 to 8. It might even prove good utilization of the students time. Some of them love to sleep in the morning and won't mind going to school in the afternoon. A more ambitious one might even contemplate earning some money for his own benefit.

It might even acclimate them to the kind of instruction programs they are going to encounter in college, and if they are poor students in this type of study then they are going to fail in college and they and their parents could find it out now and save themselves the millions of dollars which are being wasted today. More and more we are seeing young people come out of college without any real gain and that is part of the disillusion of the young.

This thinking on my part was prompted because only two weeks ago two very good students of two highly respected educational families stated that the four years they had spent in the liberal arts courses had been a complete waste of money and time. Both boys stated flatly that they could have learned all of it in six months just by reading the books.

I think the Board of Education should tune in on some of the things the students are revealing when they are being serious and honest. They might learn a number of ways to change things for the best use of the facilities we already have and also give the average taxpayer a sign of hope in their future as it relates to any town that must support a good school system.

Thanks Mary For Good Job

To The Editor,

I wish at this time to thank Mrs. Mary Senatore and the Department of Public Works for their excellent job. They quickly and efficiently removed the tree which fell on our house during Sunday's storm. This and all the work they did around the town show that we can be proud of our Department of Public Works and its Director.

Helen's Thing

Animals Come In Many Kinds, Shapes, Sizes

by Helen Maquire

I don't know what got me started thinking about animals this week except maybe it's because the Gross' went away for a couple of days and left us in charge of their youngest dog, Snoopy. I remember well the day Marion brought him home. She had gone to a country auction in her constant search for antiques and one of the things they were auctioning off was a litter of puppies. She was the only bidder and got her pick for a half a dollar.

He was adorable, a round ball of brown and white fluff, little and cute. And then somebody took a good look at the size of his feet and predicted that he would attain roughly the proportions of a young horse. Well, he hasn't quite lived up to expectations but, believe me, he didn't miss by much!

He and our Belle played together when they were younger. She is a year or two older than he and was able to hold her own for about six months. Then one day, he gave one swipe of his paw and sent her rolling down the terrace and there ended the friendship.

The animal population in this house, however, is not limited to a dog. We also play nursemaid to three cats. Lum and the late Abner had the unhappy faculty when they were younger of getting into fights which, since they were both altered, they invariably lost. They had an affinity for puncture wounds, the kind the hair covers and which are usually not detected until enough time has elapsed for a massive infection to set in. We were always trotting one or the other of them off to the Nutley Animal Hospital for a minor operation which entailed lancing the wound and putting in a drain and spending at least a night or often two in the infirmary.

Dr. Imhoff was located in his house at the time but plans had been drawn up for the new hospital and he had an architect's sketch of the proposed building framed on his wall. "These," he would say as we went to claim a victim, "are the Maguire bricks." We laughed as he pointed to a section of the sketch but after we had added up the cost of all the alterations, operations, injections and the like, we began to feel as if we had really paid for a part of his edifice.

One of my sisters-in-law had a dog and yearned for a cat. Her husband, Rod's brother, Tom, did not share her enthusiasm for a feline and finally compromised by buying her two mice, regretfully of opposite sexes. Before Pat knew what was going on, she found herself stepmother to half a dozen infants.

Our neighbor across the street who is able to raise successfully any species of the animal kingdom, took a pair of them and the rest went off to the Newark Museum where, presumably, they are entertaining the small fry of the surrounding communities. At least, they are not overpopulating Pittsburgh.

(Today's column is written by David F. Moore, executive director of the North Jersey Conservation Foundation.)

At the start of this column, let me stress that anything I say will be my personal view and in no way necessarily reflecting the attitudes of the North Jersey Conservation Foundation, just because I happen to be executive director of that non-profit membership corporation.

This cautious opening is important lest somebody, perhaps in Washington, might mistakenly think that the foundation is lobbying; an activity which could wipe out its tax exempt status.

I am discussing the existence of twin bills in Congress which would permit tax exempt organizations to lobby for passage of bills, or voter approval of referendums or specific candidates, without facing Internal Revenue Service removal of their tax exempt status. When a non-profit corporation loses its tax exemption, people can't donate money to it and then deduct it from their income tax.

This can effectively destroy such an organization. The threat of such action pangs most public service groups, like conservation organizations, and often makes them less effective than they otherwise would be. This is especially true of regional or local groups, the assassination of which would attract less publicity than one of the big national non-profit corporations.

In New Jersey there are a number of such groups which want to speak out, for instance, in favor of legislation against pollution or for the green acres referendum coming up in November.

What happened to the Sierra Club is still a horrible example to smaller organizations. The giant environmental group lost its tax exempt status when it leaned over the edge too far in successfully fighting a proposal to build dams on the Colorado River which would have flooded the Grand Canyon. It got its ears pinned back by the IRS. Sierra enemies failed to see it disappear, however, because the public rallied to its support and today it is bigger and more influential than ever; so far, at least. But the little organizations doubt, probably correctly, that their fate would generate that much uproar.

The bills that would amend the Internal Revenue code to give tax exempt organizations the right, as their wording says, to "advocate directly before Congress on an equal basis with private business," are S1408, by Senator Edmund S. Muskie from Maine and H.R. 8176, by Representative James Symington of Missouri. A few conservation oriented citizens have already let New Jersey's elected representatives in both Houses of Congress know that their constituents support these measures.

If it were feasible, there would be a lot more visible support in New Jersey from environmentally related organizations which favor adoption of a state law which would establish a legal standing of individuals and groups to sue polluters of our air and water. At present someone must prove unique harm suffered by himself before he can take such court action.

The proposed change in legal status is embodied in A1268, a bill introduced by Assembly Majority Leader Thomas H. Kean, R-Essex. It met instant opposition from several Trenton lobbyists representing the state's commercial, industrial and agricultural sectors. They clamored that it would encourage inept suits which could impede efforts of the State Department of Environmental Protection, would lead to "spite" suits and would flood the courts with trivial actions.

The truth is, costs of pushing suits through all appeal levels being what they are, only reasonably well-need environmental organizations with ample technical and legal expertise, would be likely to embark on such actions. But it's a cinch they would, if A1268 were because of it," she continued.

Mrs. McCool said illness prevented her from attending the meeting, and indicated she might have introduced an amendment to the resolution to provide for exceptions. This she felt might cause trouble: "I know you might have a problem because such an amendment might be discriminatory. Anytime you leave a grey area in a resolution it could become a political football," she added.

Mrs. McCool said she will attend the August 23 meeting and hopes to have reached a decision by then. "I'm hoping to get back into full swing and be really active on the Board in September."

Max Schwartz, attorney for the Board of Education contends that the resolution as it stands lacks force: "For a secretary to merely serve notice to those people of 65 years that they will have a fixed salary is not enough. The resolution should be amended to make retirement mandatory, that

W. Kidde's Income Is Up For '71

Income and earnings per share of Walter Kidde & Company, Inc. increased more than 15 per cent in the first half of 1971.

Income before extraordinary items rose to $13,063,000 for the six months ended June 30, 1971, compared with $11,125,000 for the same period of 1970. Pretax profit was $27,393,000 in 1971, against $23,172,000 a year earlier.

In the 1971 period Kidde had extraordinary income of $7,056,000, including a gain of $6,416,000 resulting from a public offering of a minority interest in LCA Corporation, an 80 per cent owned Kidde subsidiary, and gains totaling $640,000 from the sale of two small operations.

Net income in 1971 totaled $20,119,000.

Primary earnings per share in 1971 increased to $1.20 before and $1.88 after extraordinary income, against $1.04 in 1970. Earnings per share on a fully diluted basis were $1.15 before and $1.77 after extraordinary income in 1971, against $.99 in 1970. Sales and revenues for the 1971 period were $345,207,000 against $405,070,000 the prior year. Year earlier figures include the results of United States Lines, Inc.

"The business outlook for Kidde's continuing operations during the second half of 1971 continues to be favorable," said Fred R. Sullivan, Kidde chairman and president.

Kidde is a diversified company with principal operations in safety, security and protection products and services. Based in Clifton, New Jersey, the company operates more than 130 manufacturing plants and other facilities worldwide.

way the resolution will have some teeth in it."

Schwartz also pointed out that most private industries provide for compulsory retirement at this age. He explained that "people of this age have invested experience, but lack necessary freedom of approach. The factual question here," Schwartz added, "is the decision that one must make between the experience of age and the aggressiveness, objectivity and freshness of youth."

The question is expected to be decided on August 23 in a special public meeting.

There are some who still preserve the old myths about sickness. "You will not be sick the following year if you dip your head in the ocean on January 1." That is a sample of one of these myths. Belleville Pair In Upsala Guide

Two June graduates of Belleville High School have found their way into the 1971 Fall Sports Guide for Upsala College in East Orange.

The pair of football players were both members of the 5-4 BHS squad coached by Rocco Cafone, a BHS and Upsala grad himself. Jim Miele and Tom Jones will be vying for spots on the Vikings' varsity squad in their rookie seasons as the local liberal arts college does not have a team for freshmen only.

Evidently this is not an impossible task if the two turn out to be the right material for college ball. According to the sports brochure, eight of the 25 returning lettermen for the Blue and Grey were freshmen last season.

Last year's Viking team had the first losing record in six years as they dropped their last game of the season to Albright College 15-7 for a 3-4-1 record. For the three prior years Upsala had a 4-4 record each season.

Miele and Jones will begin practice with the squad on September first in hopes of making the starting line-up for the opening game at Viking Field on September 25 against Drexel.

A defensive half-back and wing-back at BHS, Miele was listed in the Sports Guide just as a half-back as the college anticipates that some backfield positions will be hard to choose.

In the defensive backfield, Upsala boasts that returnee Jim Lynch came up with four interceptions last season, but adds a reminder that three of the four regulars have been lost due to graduation.

If Miele does not move into this open territory, but gets put on the offensive squad, he will have a team leader to follow. Halfback Ted Ciesla, an Upsala Junior, led the 1970 team with 430 yards in 123 carries for a 3.4 yard average. The 5'7" 160 pounder will be joined by returning Mike Nicoletti, one of last year's freshmen letter men, who averaged 3.1 yards per carry with 132 yards on 39 carries. Miele averaged 4.8 per carry for Belleville with 115 yards in 24 attempts.

The third position of wingback or flanker won't be open too easily. Upsala's reception record-holder Joe Scarpelli is a senior and looks good for the position in his last year. As a junior, Scarpelli caught 49 passes for 865 yards and seven touchdowns.

'I'll Take Anything'

As for a preference, Miele commented, "I'll take anything I can get to start. Wherever I can play, I'll play."

Lineman Jones will be in for some good competition to an offensive guard position. The roster lists four returning to this position, two juniors and two sophomores, as well as three freshmen looking for the position.

The two juniors Pete Norris and Bill Donohue, will be looking to return to their starting positions. Jones fits right in with these two, at least physically. Norris is 5'9" and 190 pounds, and Donohue is 6'0" and 180 pounds while Jones is 5'11" and also 180 pounds.

While playing high school football, Jones was moved to middle line backer when Bob Luongo was injured. With the same basic 6-1-4 used by Upsala coach John Hooper and his former assistant, Cafone, Jones could find a second position to play.

The position was held last season at Upsala by Dwight Mitchell a 5'9" 180 pound junior from Orange, who led the Vikings in tackles.

Both Miele and Jones will attend Upsala on sports scholarships. Miele plans on playing football and baseball while majoring in business. The left-fielder lettered in both sports for two years at Belleville High.

Jones was a three letterman for BHS in his senior year, but plans on just playing football at Upsala. For two years the future chemistry major lettered in football and crew and during his last season received a letter for wrestling.

Summertime Is 'Activity' At Playgrounds

At Fairway playground, the children were actively involved making octopus dolls from sheets. They painted and decorated them in a gay variety of colors. Nok-hockey is still a big attraction with all of the children. Mark Castro is still trying to beat the directors but he reigns as champ among the participants. There was quite a big turnout for the Friendly House on Thursday.

Many of the children are learning how to swim and how to take safety precautions in the water. Making bulletin boards has been a big success - even the boys want to make them for their mother's kitchens. The younger children enjoy playing Duck-Duck Goose and a new game called Balloon Volleyball. The rules are similar to regular volleyball but a balloon is used instead of a ball.

King of the Mountain was the special event for the week at the Stadium. Hide-and-Seek was another favorite. Both games attracted boys and girls between the ages of four and ten. Bicycle riding has become a big event on the playground. Not only are the children involved in it, but also the adults. Each morning the neighborhood mothers ride their bikes five miles within one hour by riding twenty consecutive times around the Stadium track. Physical Fitness seems to attract all age groups!

By cutting a design on one half of a potato, applying paint to the surface and pressing the potato on a piece of paper, a colorful print is transformed. The children at the Rec playground were involved in creating some of these creative and attractive prints. A swing contest was held early in the week, the winner of which was Elayne Cerami. The high of the week was a costume party. Each child contributed candy, cookies, or potato chips. Acts were performed by Lotus Sun, Cheryl Contralto, Nimiski Patel, and Lisa Sasso. Costumes were judged and the winners were selected. First place winner was Nimiski Patel, second place, Maria Gilbert, and third place Maria Montoto.

A big event at number 9 playground was the decoration of soda bottles. Some looked like people and others looked like funny creatures. Among those who enjoyed the activity were Lisa, Cheryl and Debbie Record, Nancy Long, Jeanette Vicaro, Vicki Moraski, and Sharon Roberts. The girls used macaroni and crepe paper for their decorations.

Fifty children enjoyed the lemon ice party at number 10 playground. Following this was the Best Dressed Pet Show - Susie, Anthony and Robert Gingerelli's black French poodle won. She was dressed for the beach in a bikini and sunglasses, Kathy and Peter Burton's beagle was dressed as a little girl. Donna Kalinowski's german shepherd was also a contestant.

The children put on a talent show on Friday afternoon. Kathy Burton, Laurie and Susie Godliza danced Hawaiian style. Bobby Rodriguez did an admiral impression of Flip Wilson's "Geraldine". Pat Barbone offered an impression of President Nixon. We commend the children on their creativity and originality.

Stick ball is still a very popular activity at number four playground. Most of the better ball players participate in this activity such as Ken Stein and Mike Dondarski. Soccer has grown immensely these last few weeks. The players have chalked the boundaries and the goals on the asphalt. The participation has been very good and many of the players are becoming very proficient. Some of the proficient players are Jay Messina, Kenny Brown, Joe DiGiovanni, Teddy Serritella, Steve Dondarski, Gerard Venezia and Mike DelVirginia.

Last week a whiffle ball game was held at number 3 playground. The "older" children versed the "younger" children. Greg Patroske, Nicki Lembo, Gary Chamberlain, and Bobby Nissivochia participated. Mary Beth Dillon, Lucille Parillo and Tara Sherman were among the girls who worked with popsicle sticks and aluminum tooling. Interesting and creative things were turned out by the girls. A chess tournament was also held in which Tommy Montabano won.

At number 1 playground tournaments have been running high in both number and in enthusiasm. The foul shooting tournament held Thursday drew the largest crowd. Tony Coleman came in first for the activity by getting eight out of ten shots. Champion of the Nok-hockey tournament

Clippers Top Farm Circuit

The 1971 Belleville Farm League series was played by the National League champs, Pirates with an 11-0 record and the American League champs, Clippers with a 12-0 record. The two undefeated teams played the best two out of three games series.

Both managers Vinnie Falcatano (Pirates) and Morris Renna (Clippers) had their boys ready for the series, which was played at the Michael V. Marotti Little League Field.

The winning Clippers swept the series in two games to conclude their incredible season undefeated. Two fine pitching performances from Mark McGill and Mike Borgo, with support from the remainder of the well trained Clipper team, outplayed the Pirates on the diamond to become the 1971 Belleville Farm League Champs.

A great deal of credit for the success of the Clippers was directly responsible to their manager M. Renna, who devoted all his spare time to teaching his entire team the basic fundamentals of baseball, and all the Clippers thanked him.

Beware Clippers. Renna is secretly training the Clipper fathers for their September 22 scheduled Father & Son game.

The De Vito girls earlier performed a duet, while Karen was part of a duet which did "Raindrops."

The event of the week at Kelly playground was a balloon fight. The playground has never seen so many children. Lisa Russano and Donna Russano were first and second place in picking up the most pieces of broken balloons. An ice cream sandwich party was our other big event with Lenny Luciano, Doug and Neil Downey, Barry Pimentel and Francis Kochler winning free soda.

Their team was successful in winning a basketball relay. Almost every afternoon you can see softball being played at number 8 playground. The practice has paid off because the senior boys team is undefeated. The children at the playground were actively involved making vases by pasting macaroni on various shaped bottles. After they completed pasting, the bottles were sprayed with gold paint. Most of them were very attractive and the children enjoyed doing them.

The children who participate for swimming lessons at the Friendly House are progressing very nicely. They have been practicing their forward Mathematical chickens love our checking accounts.

Mathematical chickens are people who have the flutters at the idea of balancing their books. Anytime.

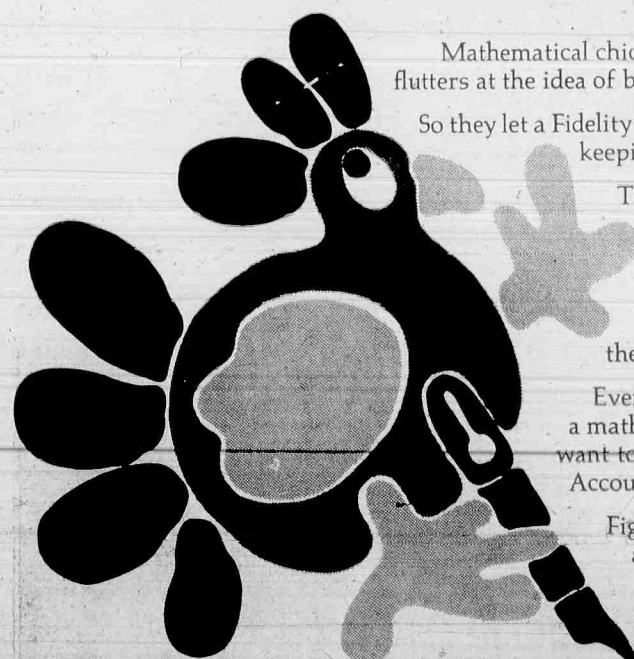

So they let a Fidelity Checking Account do their book-keeping—all the time.

They receive a monthly statement that shows how much money they've spent.

Plus they have cancelled checks that prove they paid. And what they spent it on.

Even if you don't consider yourself a mathematical chicken, you may still want to open a Fidelity Checking Account.

Figure the time you'll save. Because a Fidelity Checking Account will keep you from laying an egg with your finances.

Mrs. Ronald Colley, chairman, reports admission has been reduced to $2.00 per family with each group bringing its own food. The Civic Association will provide soda and dessert for everyone.

P. Farabaugh Wins Fidelity Scholarship

Peter J. Farabaugh of 505 Kingsland Street is one of four young law graduates honored by Fidelity Union Trust Company with tuition scholarships at the Institute for Continuing Legal Education in Newark. Announcement of Farabaugh's award came at a Fidelity luncheon at the Downtown Club.

A cum laude graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University in 1967, Farabaugh received a J.D. degree from Fordham University Law School in June of this year. He and Mrs. Farabaugh, the former Margaret Mylod of Nutley, have three young sons — Peter John Jr., Andrew Edward and Craig Thomas.

Farabaugh is employed by Hoffmann-La Roche here in Nutley. According to John T.C. Low, senior vice president of Fidelity's Trust Department, the bank initiated the awards because of the growing importance and complexity of estate planning and to help members of the legal profession gain a better in-depth knowledge of trust management.

In New Jersey, completion of the course of study covered by Farabaugh's scholarship replaces the traditional nine-month law clerkship requirement. Recipients are selected by the Institute, an organization sponsored jointly by the New Jersey Bar Association, the New Jersey Institute for Practicing Lawyers and Rutgers—The State University.

William LaDucer Renamed To Lead

William J. LaDucer of 95 Lakeside Drive has been reappointed to the Nutley Volunteer First Aid Squad for a three-year term.

LaDucer's appointment was made by Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth as director of Public Safety. The new term began July 6.

APOCRINES AND ECCRINES EVERYBODY HAS THEM

Your body has millions of tiny sweat glands which prevent the body from overheating by secreting a clear odorless liquid that is mostly water. In areas where this liquid can not evaporate, the underarms and on the feet, the sweat can be noticeable and uncomfortable. But, this wetness alone does not cause body odor. Body odor can come from the less numerous apocrine glands which work mainly in the underarm area. These glands secrete a complex organic fluid that is broken down by normal skin bacteria to form a smelly substance. A deodorant will just hide a body odor but an anti-perspirant works against both odor and wetness. We carry a complete selection of these products and can recommend one to you that is non-irritating.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

A Good Time To Visit Local Garden Centers

Home gardeners will find shopping at garden centers during the slow month of August a wise policy, says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

Although most plant markets have already held their clearance sales, bargains galore remain for the alert shopper, according to Munk. And the pace of doing business is a lot slower than it was during the spring rush.

A visit now will give you the opportunity to see many shade trees in full leaf, unlike the dormant branches of early spring.

On A Sunny Day Playgrounds Hold Friday Parties

SIX YEAR OLD Diane Pannorfi (center), digs into watermelon with gusto, using her fingers to best advantage. Diane was one of many youngsters at Playground Two who enjoyed a special Friday afternoon treat sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department.

SCOTT HIGGINS really enjoys his watermelon, compliments of the Belleville Recreation Department, which sponsored a party Friday at Playground Two. Scott was one of the first done with his piece although it did take him longer than most to clean up afterwards.

Watermelon, Balloon Fights Highlight Day

CAMILLE CASALETTO, a supervisor of counselors for the Recreation Department, was asked to join the fun at Playground Nine Friday, and certainly appears to be doing so. Camille had a busy day checking on all the parties held at the different playgrounds around time, so no one can fault her for a few moments relaxation.

RAINDROPS was the name of the song as Karen Ferriero (left) And Debbie Fanelli join in a duet complete with costume and umbrellas during sunny day of skits at the Recreation House Friday.

A NOK-HOCKEY game is a big favorite at Kelly Playground. Youngsters like to play and watch the summer playground favorite. Friday they also had refreshments during a party.

Blood Bank Cites Knights of Columbus

Six organizations, including one from Belleville, have been cited by North Jersey-Essex County Blood Bank for service each year during the period of blood drought.

They are Public Service in Newark, the Montclair-Glen Ridge Chapter of the American Red Cross, Bobst-Champlain in Roseland, P. Ballantine & Sons, Newark, St. Michael Hospital in Newark and Knights of Columbus No. 835 of Belleville. These banks will be held on August 4, 12, 16, 17, 19, and 27 respectively.

Blood Bank officials said these organizations each year help to maintain the supply of fresh whole blood for hospital patients by holding their banks during the summer months when blood usage continues but blood donations go down.

Julius Schmid, Inc. of Little Falls has joined the list of affiliated organizations. Since this company has a large Spanish-speaking personnel force, the Blood Bank will send a bi-lingual staff with its mobile unit for this drive which will take place on August 25 at the Schmid headquarters.

One blood drive during the month of August will be to seek blood for a young man who is a hemophiliac. He is Joseph Cascio of Roxbury Township. This bank will be held in Roxbury High School, Elyland Avenue, Succasunna.

Other organizations holding blood banks this month are the West Essex Community Blood Bank at St. Aloysius Hall in Caldwell on August 10 and the Essex County VFW at Blood Bank Headquarters on August 26.

Army Course In Leadership Is Completed

Cadet Leonard A. Izzo, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Izzo, 33 Van Houten Place, Belleville, completed six weeks practical work in military leadership at the army reserve officers' training camp advanced summer camp at Indiantown Gap Military reservation, Annville, Pa.

Izzo, who received his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering in 1971 from New York University, Bronx, is one of more than 13,000 students who receive ROTC summer training at six installations in the United States.

The army ROTC advanced camp is devoted to the practical application of leadership principles. Field training emphasizes the exercise of command and the making of sound decisions under pressure. These lessons reinforce the essential mission of army ROTC - to provide the nation with young men who have excellent civilian educations and who voluntarily qualify themselves during their student days for commissions in the army.

Olga Knows

Your Weekly Horoscope

August 14 through August 20, 1971

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Verbal duel arises before noon of second day. Adversary is tricky talker, and will set up straw men, then knock them down, hoping to rattle you. Don't come unglued. You best this person in final round. Energy builds and before week ends you meet one who could destroy you. Ohhh, those EYES!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Take a long cool look at yourself, Taurus, and do that which will upgrade your image. Too much energy has been spent on others lately. Time now for Taurus to take care of Taurus. Tell one who would sap you of strength to go jump in a lake. Preferably one filled with piranhas.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Do not permit circumstances to control you completely in coming week, Gem. Time excellent for you to sit in director's chair. Offer inspiration as well as instruction. If producer cooperates, and that's likely, your little drama could wind up as a whacking good show.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Argument with associate may end in hurt feelings. If so, don't sit about exhibiting emotional bruises. Save yourself the humiliation. Nature tells us to flee that which is unpleasant. Nature's no dummy. Do so. Split to the seashore, the mountains, any place. Just go. Week ends on note of fun.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Another good week for Leos to take it easy, relax. Tell one who is albatross to get out. Reach, touch and really get to know loved one. In the best sense. The heavens smile on you, Leo. Make the most of last two days.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Quiet companion plays key role in week ahead, dear Virg. Treat this person gently. Relationship grows into something meaningful. Let your feelings be known concerning future. No need to wear mask. Honesty, laced with prudence, does it, baby.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): If you are not careful in week ahead close associates could cause you trouble, dear Lib, by making you a scapegoat. To avoid this, let your presence be known at all times. As well as rings on your fingers, wear bells on your toes. Strange bird may try to invade your territory. Week ends. At last.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): No fair living on happy dreams, Scorp. And not too brilliant, either. Fun is fun, but you want to laugh 365 days a year. Now, be reasonable. In week ahead, get down to business. And, miracle, of miracles, you may even enjoy the change of pace.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Desire strong in days ahead for you to seek newer, greener pastures; Sag, and to shake off old image. Move gingerly, love. Words to Sag: "You sent message to Sag. Study carefully."

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Week ahead should be a doozie for Olga's Caps. Money matters highlighted favorably. Social scene promising. Personal worry dissolves, leaving you bright-eyed, bushy-tailed and full of the old pizzazz.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Loved one may behave in way which will have you completely flummoxed before third day. Play waiting game. This week, time and Olga are your two best friends. Week trails off innocuously. (Calm before storm?)

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Don't be depressed in week ahead, Pisces, if you want to raise Cain, but you're not quite able. Your day is coming. Personal problem nags. Give it air. A tight bandage will only cause it to fester. Week ends quietly.

Child Guidance Clinic Talk Set For Rotary

Established late in the 50's the clinic is funded by allocations from the three municipalities and the state of New Jersey. In addition, fees on a sliding scale are paid by clients. Occasional gifts and funds are donated from voluntary organizations and foundations. One of the features planned for the fall is an open house where the Memorial Room to the late Mildred Levin of Nutley will be dedicated.

The event is the one scheduled by the Arts Center for ethnic groups of New Jersey. Like the first, an Irish Festival held July 24, the Italian program will benefit the Garden State Center Fund in its financing of free shows for school children and senior citizens of New Jersey.

The Slo-pitch Senior Softball League, sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation, has scheduled its postseason playoffs with a final three games set to determine the league champion.

The first game is scheduled for this Tuesday, Aug. 17, with the first place American League team pitted against the second place National League finisher. Next Thursday the American League second spot finisher will meet the champion National League squad.
