Town Workers And Local Teachers Will Get Economic Freeze

Belleville teachers and Town Hall employees will be affected by President Nixon's economic freeze. Teachers' salaries will be frozen at their June level. The freeze will affect the 90-day period of the school term which begins next week. Those contracts however, don't go into effect until the school term begins next week. Mayor Joseph McGreevy told the Times-News that no salary increase or wage increments will be given during the 90-day period to municipal employees.

Belleville teachers were scheduled for a $315,350 wage increase this year. The 90-day freeze could mean approximately $31,500 in salaries would be left in the budget. Board officials are unsure of what they can do with the money. Board President Leonard Back said he preferred to give the money to the teachers at the end of the 90-day period, but added "I don't know if it will be legally possible to give this rebate."

"We just don't know

Board Backs Down Over 'Forced Retirement' Plan

TOM TESTA (standing far left), president of the Belleville Education Association, shakes hands with Board of Education member Caesar Romano after school officials rejected measure designed to force teachers and administrators over 65 to retire. Also shown are (l-r) Board members Richard Mahmarian and Mathew Pica, and School Seven Principal Mrs. Viola Spray. The measure went down, 7-0, after teacher leaders spoke against it.

Reject Measure By 7-0

Teachers and administrators who have reached the age of 65 need not fear forced retirement or fixed salaries it was decided Monday night by the Belleville Board of Education. The Board voted unanimously to reject a resolution that had been designed to inject "new blood" into the Belleville school system by freezing salaries of teachers who reach the age of 65. The resolution had been introduced at an August 9 meeting of the Board but was tabled due to the absence of Mrs. Norma McCool, a voting member. At that meeting, most observers felt that the board was ready to pass the resolution. Tom Testa, president of the Belleville Education Association believed the resolution to be "morally wrong and a slap in the face to our more experienced teachers," and told the Board so.

Cafone Ready For Rebuilding

Football Camp Opens Tuesday For Bellboys

Candidates for Belleville High School's varsity football team will report for physical examinations Tuesday beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the rear parking lot of the high school. At that time, students who pass their physicals will be issued equipment, according to head coach Rocco Cafone. Cafone, who is beginning his second year in the top coaching spot, asked candidates to bring combination locks. Freshmen will report the same day at 3 p.m. at Clearman Field. With 19 seniors gone, it is obvious this will be a rebuilding year for the Blue and Gold. Only seven members of this season's squad own varsity letters. Two of these are co-captains Joe Lotruglio and Michael Pici. The seniors will be joined by fellow classmen Pat Dunn, Gary Falkman, Phil Bruno and Richard Ciallella. Junior Bob Luongo is also returning. But beyond these veterans, few of Cafone's Bellboys have any significant varsity experience under their belts. As a result, the head coach says he is making some offensive and defensive adjustments which will compensate for the lack of experience. (Continued on Page 11)

High Holy Days

Congregation Ahavath Achim has announced there are still a limited number of seats available for non-members of the congregation for the High Holy Days. For ticket information, those interested should phone Kurt Lemberger at 759-4780 or Irving Berkowitz at 759-1199. The special services will begin Sunday, September 19 and run through Tuesday for Rosh Hashanah. Kol Nidrey will be on Tuesday, Sept. 28 with Yom Kippur observances the following day. Membership information and applications can be obtained from Seymour Grossman, membership chairman, it was announced by Congregation President David Robbins. Rabbi Herbert Horowitz is spiritual leader of the congregation. A special gathering of the congregation will be held on September 11 at 9:30 p.m. to dedicate the main sanctuary to the late George Sosin, who was instrumental in the building of the new temple in 1955.

Courts May Get Final Say In Jerome Court Squabble

By Nat Gottlieb

The battle against the Jerome Court subdivision may not be over, despite the fact Town Fathers eked the land development, 4-1 at Tuesday night's Commission meeting. Objectors to the subdivision are talking about filing suit to block the project, which calls for the construction on nine one-family homes on a 40,000 square foot tract of land near Cottage Street and Jerome Avenue. Leslie Finch, attorney for 31 objectors, warned Commissioners prior to balloting that if the vote went against his clients legal action might be taken. After the voting, Finch told reporters his clients would probably decide this week whether to start suit to block the project. Should the subdivision windup in the courts, the key legal question will probably be just what constitutes a "major street," in Belleville. The "major street" issue was the focus of discussion over the comparative street widths of the proposed Jerome Court and Cottage Street and Jerome Avenue. According to Belleville's land development ordinance, new streets may be 40 feet wide only if a "major" connecting roadway is 40 feet or less. In this case, Jerome Court would be 40 feet wide, while both Cottage Street and Jerome Avenue are 50 feet wide. Finch contends that Jerome Court is an extension of both Jerome Avenue and Cottage Street, and that it cannot be narrower than the two. The intent of the ordinance apparently is to avoid presenting difficulties to fire engines, a point which Finch hammered at Commissioners. Robert Fieder, attorney for the land developers, contends that neither Cottage Street nor Jerome Avenue are "major" streets and therefore the disparity in road widths is irrelevant. Fieder also said that it is debatable whether Jerome Court is an extension of the

Announce Meeting Changes

Date changes for regularly scheduled Commission meetings in September were announced by Town Fathers. The meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 14, has been advanced to Thursday, Sept. 9. The Tuesday, Sept. 28 gathering in Council Chambers is advanced to Thursday, Sept. 23. A resolution authorizing the changes was okayed by Town Fathers August 10.

Special Hours In Park

A newly imposed closing hour of 10:30 p.m. has been placed in effect at Belleville Park in Belleville and Independence Park in Newark, it was announced yesterday by the Essex County Park Commission. The closing hour has been established at the two parks because of an incidence of narcotics violations during evening hours, according to the Park Commission. Essex County park police have been working in cooperation with local police in each municipality to prevent these incidents, the Commission said.

JIM SOLDI, Public Works Administrative Clerk, discusses dredging operation at Hendricks Dam with Commissioner Mary Senatore. The project, which will cost Belleville $30,000, was ordered by the state of New Jersey, which asked that the Second River be dredged and the dam removed to alleviate flooding conditions backstream in Bloomfield.

Sidewalk Sale Set In Town

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will hold its second "Sidewalk Sale" tomorrow and Saturday offering numerous bargains on all summer stock. The sale will also feature specials on fall merchandise. Seventeen merchants will participate in the event, which runs 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, and from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Public Works Men To Test Union Question

Belleville Public Works employees will decide whether to join Local Teamsters 97 in a special departmental election September 22. The men have met several times with Teamster officials and are expected to follow the lead of Nutley and several other public works employees in the area by joining the union. Teamsters Secretary-Treasurer Henry Garrod told the Times-News Monday "this is an offshoot of the Nutley thing," referring to the decision by public works employees of that town two years ago to become the first members of Local 97 from a public works department in New Jersey. Since then, Garrod said, several towns have followed Nutley's lead, including Dover Township, Randolph Township, Rutherford and East Orange. "Basically most of the workers in the Belleville Public Works Department feel Civil Service has not given them the proper protection and representation," Garrod said. The Teamsters Local 97 official also claims local workers have complained to him of "favoritism and

Change Planned At BHS

Belleville High School will open without homerooms this year. On Wednesday, September 8, at 7:55 a.m. senior students will report to the girls' gym and junior students will report to the boys' gym. At 8:45 a.m., sophomore students will report directly to the auditorium. Schedules will be distributed at this time. All public schools in Belleville meanwhile, will open their doors Wednesday, September 8. Students who have not registered for the new term may do so from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, September 7. If help is needed to determine the appropriate school, students are asked to call the Superintendent's office, 759-2600. New students should have with them a transfer card.

On Tour Musician Back From Europe

Bruce M. Creditor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Creditor of Belleville, has recently returned from a European concert tour with the Concordia Youth Wind Ensemble, in the position of first chair solo clarinet. This organization was founded by Professor William A. Seymour, associate dean of the Boston Conservatory of Music in Boston, Massachusetts, and is composed of high school and college students who have met the requirements of musical talent, moral character, and good personality. The expressed purpose of the Concordia Youth Organizations is "to give their members a truly complete musical experience and musical education with the unspeakable thrill of learning in perspective." The Wind Ensemble was conducted by Mr. James L. Roth, music director and conductor of the Reading Symphony Orchestra in Reading, Massachusetts.

Pastor Fulfills Dream Of Twelve-Year-Old Girl

Rev. Benedetto Pascale has conducted countless wedding ceremonies during his 57 years as pastor of the Silver Lake Baptist Church, but his latest one was something special. Rev. Pascale was sent a round-trip plane ticket to officiate at a marriage ceremony in Angola, Ind. recently, an outdoor affair which was preceded by a concert and a carnival. The pastor was asked to conduct the wedding by Nancy Ball, a former parishioner who moved to Indiana when she was 12 years old. Before she left however, 12-year-old Nancy told Rev. Pascale that when she got married she wanted him to perform the ceremony. "When she called me to come to Indiana I had almost forgotten what she had asked me when she was 12," Rev. Pascale said. "I thought at first that it was just a joke. But my daughter said it is the dream of a little girl and I must go," he said. Nancy was married to Robert Robbins in a ceremony which was pretty unique. It seems Nancy's father runs carnivals and concerts in Angola (he used to run the circus at Olympic Park in Irvington). The wedding took place immediately after one of the concerts, and about 1,000 spectators remained to watch the nuptials. "After the show we set up flowers, palms, a pulpit and a kneeling bench (Continued on Page 3)

Times that "If they pass this age law we'll (NJE) have them in court in 24 hours."

He speculated that "They (Board of Education) are not going to win this; they'll only waste the taxpayer's money."

The Board returned to unanimously reject the measure. President Leonard Back stated the opinion of the Board: "It wasn't worth the effort if it dented the morale of the teachers." He emphasized that their rejection was not the result of Gould's declaration of NJEA intent.

Gould, however felt that his presence had a lot to do with the decision. "There is no question that if we hadn't come tonight, that bill would have been passed," he contended.

Board member, Matthew Pica, also had strong words against the proposal. "This resolution is a kick in the pants to our older teachers," he charged. "Don't pussyfoot with a backdoor measure, come right out in the open. Determine teachers fitness and either fire them or continue to raise their salaries."

Reached for comment after the meeting, Testa was glad that the measure had been defeated. "I felt it was illegal and morally wrong and I'm glad to see that the board had stable heads."

giving concerts in Saarbrücken, Freiburg, Rothenberg, and Heidelberg, Germany; Lucerne and Sargans, Switzerland; Meran, Italy; Innsbruck, Vienna, and Salzburg, Austria.

The high points of the trip were Vienna and Salzburg. They attended music workshops and visited the sites of the great musicians: Beethoven, Brahms, Bruckner, Haydn, Mozart, and Strauss. In Vienna they attended a formal Viennese Ball at the Auerberg Palace, held especially for the Concordia Youth Organizations.

In Salzburg they visited the Mozartum Music Academy, where Bruce hopes to study sometime in the future. The group returned to New York from Luxembourg on August 4 after "a most thrilling, exhilarating, and enjoyable experience."

Bruce is a June 1971 high honors graduate of Belleville High School, and in September he will attend the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, majoring in performance on clarinet. He will also pursue his studies in composition and conducting.

Most recently Bruce was a member of the 1971 American Youth Performs National Orchestra which was conducted by Maestro Morton Gould and Louis Campiglia with performances in Carnegie Hall which was also televised. This was Bruce's second consecutive year with this organization. He also had the position of first chair solo clarinet with the 1970-71 New Jersey Symphony Junior Orchestra conducted by Frank Scocozza, concertmaster and assistant conductor of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra.

For the last two years Bruce has performed with the Youth Symphony Orchestra of New York.

Freeze Will Affect Town's Employees

accepting the freeze with a grain of salt. Teacher leaders across the nation are still hoping the Federal Government might exempt them from the freeze.

Locally, Belleville Education Association President Tom Testa said "We teachers are behind President Nixon".

"There is still a lot of misunderstanding involved with this thing," Testa said, "and we will have to wait until it is legally worked out. We will go along with it and see what happens."

Testa said he hoped "teachers don't get the brunt of the freeze. We don't mind taking our lumps as long as the others take theirs."

"We could all use the raise," he continued, "especially with the cost of living what it is. But we'll cooperate with the Board and I am sure they would like to be fair about the whole thing."

assignments," Garrod charged. "There is also a lack of a grievance procedure. Right now the commissioner can invoke a five day penalty without recourse."

Commissioner Mary Senatore, who is director of Public Works, would not comment on the election except to say "It's up to the boys; it's their business."

The voting will be conducted by PERC, the state Public Employees Relations Commission. It will be a secret ballot with a simple yes or no being asked of the workers. To swing the election to the union, one vote more than 50 per cent of those casting ballots is needed.

New Cars

New models of American-built cars are now appearing earlier than usual this year; prices are expected to average about four per cent more than a year ago. This would mean an added $150 for the average U.S. purchaser. After the 1st of the year the increase might be slightly more, when buzzers (if seatbelts are unfastened) are to be required by law.

American Motors has stolen a march on its larger competitors by announcing a new and more complete guarantee, for the first year or 12,000 miles. This move might set off a guarantee war of sorts, among U.S. makers. The consumer hopes so. There have been complaints in the last year that guarantees meant little. (Only a few years ago another guarantee war produced five-year guarantees, etc., but these were discontinued.)

Model changes this year are minor, compared to average post war changes. Many 1972 models have former extras included as standard equipment, and this runs their cost up several hundred dollars.

The test for the automobile industry, and the national economy in a sense, will be whether new-car sales in the next few months achieve a brisk pace. If they do, it will be a sign the economy is perking up.

The Interview

The interview of the month was no doubt the long session New York Times Columnist James Reston recently had with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai. A reading of the complete transcript of that interview is of interest to all Americans (August 10th issue of the Times).

Clearly, Chou En-lai is not offering to change Chinese policy. But he is like the first Russian to exhibit a willingness to compete peacefully and discuss all problems with westerners fifteen years ago, Nikita Krushchev—hoping to improve relations with the United States. While that may not be much, if it is something. It is, in fact, the necessary first step in the achievement of any progress.

The interview shows clearly that the Chinese fear of both Russia and Japan is pushing them toward the idea of rapprochement with the United States. The fear of Japan is more openly expressed, and of greater depth, than most Americans had realized.

Thus the slow rearming of Japan and Japan's amazing industrial growth and strength, and massing of a large Russian army on China's northern boundary and continuing strain between Peking and Moscow, offer Washington a chance to begin a practical dialogue with the most populous nation in the world.

Even if there is no immediate accomplishment, such a dialogue will be an improvement over the situation of the last twenty years, in which Washington's official policy was that Red China didn't exist. For better or worse, Peking exists, and must be dealt with by the rest of the world.

Air Comfort

For many years, air travel being something of a novelty, the airlines have packed passengers into crowded seats and accommodations something like sardines. In addition, non-smokers were required to breathe the stale tobacco smoke of smokers.

This month American Airlines announced it was providing spacious lounges on its 747's flying from the northeast to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Dallas and San Juan. It published pictures of the lounges in leading newspapers. Also included in the seating arrangement was a no-smoking section in both first and economy classes.

Thus, at last, the comfort of the passenger is being considered. There's no reason why private rooms, with bed and bath, and other comforts can't now be offered by the airlines. And those which offer the traveler the most comfort are likely to get the business. The air traveler has been "squashed" in too long.

Schools Get Psychologist After Frustrating Search

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

The Belleville school system hired a head-psychologist after several frustrating months of searching for a qualified man. Dr. Robert Winston, a 33-year-old psychologist with a diversified educational and clinical background, was to assume administrative control of the Special Education Department in the fall at an annual salary of $18,000. Dr. Winston's salary was higher than the 15,000-17,000 range that had originally been outlined by the Board of Education. The Board had had to extend the figure in order to acquire an experienced psychologist.

A Belleville woman who had been born during the Russo-Polish conflict of 1870 celebrated her centennial birthday. Mrs. Mary Yaskell of 18 Reservoir Place began her second century August 15 amid the well-wishes of countless friends and relatives and a pledged continued interest in reading and tending her garden. Born in Poland in a small town near Warsaw, Mrs. Yaskell's 77-year old sister and 80-year-old brother were on hand to offer their congratulations on her 100th birthday.

Five Years Ago

Former Town Councilman James R. Golden, who for over two decades had worn the dubious mantle of town critic in affairs of politics, was arrested after being hauled in handcuffs from a regular meeting of the Town Council. Golden was charged by Mayor Nuncio Pico with being a disorderly person and disturbing a public assembly. Golden was scheduled to appear in municipal court for a hearing, where he said he would plead innocent.

The much heralded and long-awaited job and title classification for town employees made its debut, and after lengthy discussion the ordinance passed on first reading by a 3-2 vote. The survey — conducted by the New Jersey State Civil Service Commission — fixed titles and suggested salaries. The measure had been opposed by Councilmen William Cullen and Vincent Strumolo.

Town Manager John R. Burnett recommended that two bills signed into law by the governor be implemented by local ordinance. The first ordinance provided for registration tag fees for dogs, which would increase the fee to an amount of 50 cents. The minimum fee was to be $1.50 and the maximum $3.50. Burnett stated that the fees would be placed in a fund which would take care of all "dog expenses." Mrs. Norman Hood of 77 Fairview Avenue charged that Frank Grohman, a Lodi dog warden, received the dollar for every dog he rounded up, in addition to his contract fee of $2,600. Burnett denied Mrs. Hood's charge.

Ten Years Ago

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, who had served nine years as assistant superintendent of schools, was to be promoted to the superintendency by the Board of Education. School board members had received applications of candidates seeking the position at an executive conference. Although differences of opinion had been voiced by board members concerning the selection, it was expected that Durkee's appointment would be by a unanimous vote. Dr. Durkee was to fill the vacancy left by the sudden death of Mr. Evan Thomas.

Memorial services were to be held to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the death of Clara Louise Maas, the heroic nurse for whom the community hospital had been named. Clara Maas was one of the first graduates of the hospital's School of Nursing in 1895. While serving in Cuba, she had offered herself as a human "guinea pig" during the Yellow Fever experiments and sacrificed her life so that others might live. By coincidence, dedication of the hospital's new School of Nursing and Residence was to take place three days after the anniversary commemoration.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

A petition was presented to the Board of Commissioners signed by residents of Brighton Avenue, who complained about the nature of the revival meetings held near their homes. The residents objected because the meetings often lasted until eleven o'clock at night, disturbing their sleep. Public Affairs Director King, who stated that the group had been given permission for the revival, asked if residents would be satisfied if the meetings ended at seven o'clock, but those who complained said they preferred to have it stopped altogether.

Two ordinances were passed on first reading by the Board of Commissioners pertaining to Public Safety Director Noll's police and fire department. An amendment to a previous ordinance removed the limitation on the number of firemen and policemen to be employed by the town. The other ordinance provided for the creation of a detective bureau. The ordinances were simply additional steps in Noll's progress to increase the efficiency of the department.

An interesting collection of souvenirs and relics from the Revolutionary War and World War II were on exhibit at the Public Library. The World War II collection was a group of Japanese souvenirs. Among them were two guns, samurai swords, flags, fans, and letters written in Japanese, which were loaned to the library by Raymond Dangelowicz.

Forty Years Ago

The licensing of thirty-two alleged "speakeasies" caused considerable debate at a meeting of the town commission. Commissioner Frank Carragher and Commissioner William H. Williams were against the ordinance which was passed despite their objections.

A rally in behalf of A. Harry Moore's candidacy for Governor was to be sponsored by Henry W. Winfield at 49 Preston Street. The candidate was to speak in front of the Winfield House. The street was to be closed to traffic between Greylock and Overlook Avenues. Music for dancing in the streets was to be supplied by a thirty-two piece band and amplified radio.

Leo At 65

Leo Durocher, who once reportedly said nice guys finish last, has learned better. Though a salty talker and a baseball manager who expects his players to hustle like the best players have always done, he is now considered a nice guy.

At 65 he is actively managing the Chicago Cubs as many younger managers retire in ill health. He believes age means little, that it's the condition of one's mind and body which makes him old or keeps him young, to a large degree.

This winter I spent 7 days in East Orange Hospital and then came a series of daily visits to Black-Stevens-Tumor Center at Presbyterian Hospital, Newark. That is when my eyes were really opened to the extent of the Motor Corps and its staff of devoted volunteer drivers. The drivers are composed of men, women and young adults; some retired, some working part time and full time, housewives and college students, all who volunteer their time to aid the people of our community.

For the duration of the long dreary cold and miserable months, these volunteers came to my home daily to transport me to the hospital for my treatments and returned to pick me up and drive me back to Belleville. During rain, snow, sleet and just plain cold they were on the job and on your time schedule.

This special article would hardly be complete without a mention of a few other phases of Motor Corps services. In addition to their transportation of patients to doctors offices, clinics etc. they aid local blood banks, deliver dressings from East Orange for cancer victims, transport veterans from East Orange Veterans Hospital for recreation, and other calls too numerous to mention.

Anyone needing the services of the Motor Corps should call as soon as they have their appointment. Contact Mrs. Bade at 759-4610.

Helen's Thing

A Night Free, A Single Son, A Convention

By Helen Maguire

THIS COLUMN is a hodge-podge of little things with no central theme and no point to make so it doesn't really matter whether you start at the beginning or in the middle or near the end. In fact, if you want to skip the whole thing, go right ahead. I don't think you'll be missing too much.

Saturday night, Rod and I had a whole evening to ourselves. Jack was up on the farm with Charlie Gross, the little girls were in bed, the boys were bathed and in pajamas, and Dennis had volunteered to babysit. Do you know we couldn't find any place to go?

We left the house about 7:30 and rode up to Paramus to look for an unpainted bureau for the girls' room and when we got there, discovered the store was closed. Scratch bureau hunting. What made it slightly annoying was that a look in the window confirmed the fact that they had just what we wanted. It was a floor sample priced to sell quickly and by the time we got the chance to go up again, I'll bet more than even money it'll be gone.

"Look," I said to my spouse, "we can't just go home. Let's stop at the Garden State Plaza and have a look around." Well, we stopped and every store we were interested in was locked up tighter than a drum so that ended that.

On our way back to Nutley, I suggested a drive-in but that was quickly vetoed when Rod reminded me of the mosquito menace and the fact that although drive-ins provide screens, he doubted if they had nay to fit a Volkswagen bus' windows.

WE DROVE, into the Styretowne Shopping Center and headed for Liggett's Drug Store where they were having their annual watch sale. Rod has a birthday tomorrow and wanted an extra watch for a present and since he has had fantastic performance from the last watch we bought at Liggett's, he requested another one from there. Forget it. Whole store shut.

"Now what do we do?" I queried. "Call up the Dempseys," said my husband. "Ask them if they want company for a while." I called up the Dempseys alright and after the phone had rung a dozen times, came to the reluctant conclusion they weren't home.

"How about taking in the movie down at the Franklin," I asked. "Too late," decided Mr. Maguire. "I have to get up for work in the morning." Do you know what we ended up doing? We stopped in at the local pub, I had a Tom Collins and Rod had two beers, we went home and had retired for the night by ten o'clock. Now, next weekend, when we have to hire a sitter and probably can't get one for love or money, I bet we can think of a million things to do and a score of places to go.

GAVIN ANNOUNCED the other day that he intends to remain a bachelor and live at home for all of his life. "Even when I get to be an old man and have to walk with a stick, I'm still going to stay with you," he vowed. "Good grief," remarked his father, "you mean we're never going to get rid of him?" But I think we have hope. Last night, he announced he was going to be a daddy when he got bigger and when I told him he had to be married to be a daddy, he reluctantly agreed to take a wife.

Detergents Are Big Issue In Environmental Pollution

Today's column is being written by David F. Moore, executive director of the North Jersey Conservation Foundation.

ONE OF the hottest environmental issues at the moment is phosphates — as used in detergents. These cleaning compounds are being blamed for damage to America's lakes and rivers. Like so many complicated problems, there's probably no simple answer — the most obvious is to make detergents without phosphates. As we shall see, however, we can jump right out of the frying pan into the fire if we don't watch out.

First, let's outline the problem. The dirty word to learn now is "Eutrophication"; the process which causes a stream or lake to grow old before its time, get clogged with decaying vegetation and lose its ability to assimilate pollution and to maintain a healthy population of marine life. Such waters are much more difficult to treat for potable supplies and can even become health hazards by harboring bacteria. Eutrophication is the normal fate of most lakes, but in nature the process can take thousands of years. In Lake Mohawk, Mountain Lakes, Budd Lake and many others in New Jersey, it's happening while we watch.

Phosphates are necessary to the growth of plants. Living things which die, naturally recycle their phosphates and other constituent parts back into the environment. But thanks to the magic of advertising and the design of today's automatic washers, detergents are suddenly injecting a walloping big load of phosphates into the environment. Although technology can produce a sewage treatment plant which will eliminate phosphates from effluent, don't hold your breath until you find one. Most sewage plants fail even to do a good enough job on old-fashioned sewage.

PHOSPHATES ARE put into detergents to keep dirt and oils from settling back into the laundry, once it's been cleaned. Thus the heavier duty for which the detergent is intended, the more phosphate it probably has to contain. Releasing the phosphate-laden water into the environment is just like putting fertilizer in your garden: Things grow better, (phosphate is a component of fertilizer, too.) In water the things that grow better are algae and larger weeds. Their "bloom" makes the water surface unsightly and by shutting out sunlight, impedes nature's course of events below. They can also extract "dissolved oxygen" from the water during their life cycles. But the big blow comes when the excess vegetation dies and begins to decompose. That's when eutrophication is speeded up, and the dissolved oxygen gives out, resulting in stinks and dead fish.

Dissolved oxygen should not be confused with oxygen in the familiar H<sub>2</sub>O formula for water. Dissolved oxygen is present in the form of microscopic bubbles, like carbonation. It gets there by absorption through the surface from the atmosphere, especially when splashing occurs, and from vegetation as part of the process of photosynthesis. Decomposition in water, whether it be of dead vegetation or human sewage, is accomplished by bacteria, which require oxygen to do their thing. Once they remove the available oxygen, the bacteria can't work and an ugly mess results.

ALL THE DETERGENT companies are hastily researching ways of making your wash whiter without using any, or very much, phosphates. Some are marketing detergents based on things like salt and soda ash. Others are coming out with untied chemicals which might very well be a bigger curse than phosphates. More responsible ones are decreasing phosphate content but are refusing to go off half-cocked with things which some scientist are afraid might bounce back in our environmental faces, like N.T.A. Meanwhile, the detergent industry is spending a lot of money to spread the word that sewage plants can be built to get rid of phosphates, which is true, but which no realist expects to happen soon enough.

In Suffolk County, N.Y., (the eastern half of Long Island), the sale of detergents has just been banned because local water supplies come from wells in sandy soil which is being polluted by home septic tanks in areas which should have sewage collection and treatment systems, but don't. This same condition exists in Cape May — where the water taken from the ground must be returned. The problem is not only one of phosphates but of detergents' ability to make sewage ooze through underground formations extra quickly. That same ability makes your wash water "wetter" and is what floats the dirt out of the laundry. Detergents were almost outlawed a few years ago because of this quality — they kept their chemical identity and were starting to cause an alarming spread of pollution below the ground, as well as causing streams to foam.

The detergent industry quickly got the message and perfected "biodegradable" products. Biodegradable means that the same bacteria which destroy sewage can wipe out the detergent action, if given a chance. One important reason we are going into this apparent side-issue at this point is that we've spotted a few brands of detergent which now proclaim themselves "biodegradable" in big, arresting letters. That's just Madison Avenue's way of capitalizing on confusion and letting you think that biodegradable means low in phosphates.

Forget it, it's a whole different thing. Phosphates will do their damage whether or not the detergent is biodegradable. It would be nice to know what's in the stuff that's sold to us — but no labeling is required — and some companies have prepared some very strong alkaline substances. A warning should appear in the package — but sometimes doesn't. Testing procedures by both private and government agencies are also misleading, manufacturers often change formulations while keeping the same label. Consequently, the various lists of phosphate levels differ. Testing methods also obviously have an influence on the lists.

Jewish people throughout the ages. The prophet Ezekiel has developed and molded the synagogue and sanctuary and has proclaimed its supreme importance by equating it as a miniature of the great and holy Temple of Jerusalem. "Jewish life in every country of the world and in every city of our great nation without exception has fervently grasped the meaning of these two ancient ideals and has produced great sanctuaries of their own. Our community of Belleville is enthusiastically included in this great chain of sanctuaries throughout time.

"Its beginning was a small synagogue on Washington Avenue in 1919, but as the community grew, men of vision saw the need to provide a House of Worship that would serve the needs of the Jewish community as well as inspire them. Thus, in 1955 a structure befitting the title Mikdash Miyat (miniature replica of the Temple) was erected on Academy Street.

"Among these farsighted men was the late George

Sosin, whose dedication and drive helped insure the completion of our synagogue, the heartbeat of Jewish community life. The entire Congregation recognizes and appreciates the contributions of the man, and will perpetuate his memory among our most devoted brothers, by gathering on Saturday, September 11, at 9:30 p.m. to dedicate our main sanctuary which will be known as the George Sosin Chapel.

"Let us hope that our Congregation will continue

Local PBA Will Back Up Mike Marotti

A spokesman for the Belleville P. B. A., Pat McCabe, has said that organization is taking a strong stand against a rule of the Belleville Police Department that would prohibit any officer from engaging in any political activity except to vote.

That particular regulation has been the subject matter of a controversy involving Commissioner Michael V. Marotti who is also a detective in the Town of Belleville.

The P. B. A. spokesman indicated that his organization is absolutely against this rule which deprives officers of their right to engage in political activity. McCabe said this provision which is presently a part of the Belleville police regulations is outdated and outmoded and not in line with current trends in public affairs.

He also stated his organization was seeking the repeal of this provision which in effect makes second class citizens out of police officers.

McCabe said that he has conferred with both the attorney for the P. B. A., Leslie W. Finch, and John R. Scott, Belleville Town Attorney, with respect to this matter.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE HEAT EXHAUSTION OR SUN-STROKE?

Heat exhaustion and sun-stroke are both caused by the same thing — over-exposure to extreme heat. But, they are very different and you should know how to tell them apart.

With sun-stroke, the skin is very hot and very dry. It is more serious than heat exhaustion and a doctor should be called at once. A cold water bath or sponging, ice on the head, moving to a shaded area and undressing can help until the doctor arrives. With heat exhaustion, the skin is cold and clammy. Move the person to a shady place, keep head lower than the body and loosen tight clothing while waiting for the doctor.

UNICO Fights Mental Disorders

Establishment of the UNICO National Mental Health Research Center to uncover the causes of mental illness was announced today by Dr. Benjamin J. Cottone, a Scranton, Pa., physician and the service organization's newly-elected president.

Sponsorship of the research center was approved unanimously by the 500 delegates representing UNICO's 5,000 members at the annual convention at the Hilton Hotel, St. Paul, Minn. The UNICO Mental Health Research Center will be located in Newark, at the headquarters of the Mount Carmel Guild, a 40-year-old pioneer organization in the field of mental health.

UNICO, a 30-year-old service organization of Americans of Italian descent, has long been committed to mental health. Dr. Cottone observed. Local UNICO chapters will continue to foster mental health in their communities through continued financial support of youth and adult activities and now, from a national standpoint, UNICO's total resources will be concentrated on the development of pioneering insights into preventing mental health problems before they appear, he added.

Dr. Cottone noted that, "This ambitious project comes at a time when government and private funds have dwindled sharply in the fight for better mental health. UNICO National recognizes the urgency of a concentrated, comprehensive effort, and is combining its total strengths in response to this national need."

Mathematical chickens are people who have the flutters at the idea of balancing their books. Anytime.

'Young' Harriers Prepare For Season

Belleville High School runners are preparing to begin the 1971 Cross-Country season by practicing on their own before they get together as a team on September 1. This year's team was termed as "young" by Coach Raymond B. Haneke, who will start his fourth season as the harrier coach.

Even though Haneke pointed out that graduation took all of the varsity lettermen from the 1970 team, there are ten runners expected to come out for the team. This large showing, for Belleville at least, possibly comes as a result of the 6-6 season that Haneke's 1970 track team had, his first time reaching the .500 plateau.

Heading the list of returning harriers will be Rich Sulenski. The senior was the number five man on last year's team and managed to score in three varsity races. Besides Cross-Country, Rich was out for the track team in his freshman and sophomore years while joining the wrestling squad for the past two seasons and posting an 8-4 record on the junior varsity mats.

To improve his final season at BHS, Rich is maintaining a schedule of five or six miles a day, along with occasional weightlifting workouts. Rich runs from his home in the Rutan Estates area along Joralemon Street down to the Valley for his practice along with Gary Horman, a Junior High School freshman. Horman is the younger brother of BHS graduate Ray Horman now a freshman at Seton Hall.

Sophomore Shows Promise

Perhaps the biggest thrill of the Cross-Country season this year will be to watch Charles Goody, a sophomore who shouldn't have too much trouble scoring varsity points.

"Goody" has already run a 2.5 mile course in a time that is only seven seconds off the top of Belleville's runners from last season. While running in an AAU Cross-Country meet at Warinaco Park in Elizabeth, Goody turned in a time of 13:20.

Part of the sophomore's ability comes from being quick to pick up improvements in style right away, and also rugged training.

This summer Goody has been training with two former BHS runners, Jerry Figurelli and Jim Harvey. The trio goes out to South Mountain Reservation and runs on the course there that serves both Seton Hall, where Figurelli runs, and West Orange, one of Belleville's dual meet opponents.

Besides the AAU Cross-Country race in which he placed eight, Goody has also entered the mile run at times, turning in performances between 5:22 and 5:14.

Two other seniors besides Sulenski who are expected to go out for the team are Bob Drake and Ed Wehmeyer, both of whom caught on with the sport on last spring's track team.

Drake has run cross country for two seasons, and when moved into the quarter mile, found his race. His speed could be beneficial to helping set a good pace.

Wehmeyer's first track season came as a junior, and if he goes out for the harrier squad, his experience in the mile run will help.

A pair of juniors with one year experience also are anticipated to show up. Rocco Cuozzo ran Cross-Country last season and has been working out this summer for the team. He will come out with classmate Chuck Hill, who started with the track team this spring.

Three sophomores possibly going out after running on the Junior High School's freshman team last season are Bob Cozzarelli, Ed Fortino, and George Banta. "Cozz" was a sprinter who would be looking to gain the endurance, while Fortino and Banta were both milers for the fresh team.

Physicals Tuesday At 9 P.M.

Physicals for both the Cross-Country team and the football squad will be held this coming Tuesday at 9 A.M. in the senior High School. While some prospects have been made already about prospective players and runners by the coaches and other team members, all hopefuls are reminded that starting players and winners are not determined officially until the day of a contest and are encouraged to show up.

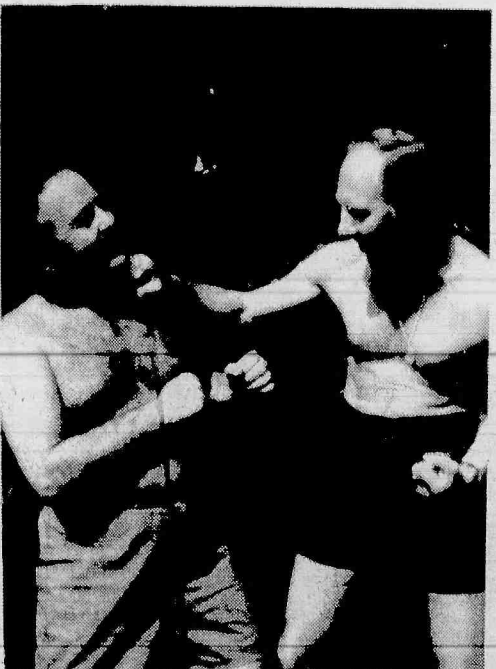

The harriers will begin their official season practice with Coach Haneke the day after the physicals at 8:30 a.m. in Belleville Park. Their season will begin September 22 against their annual opening day rival Orange High School.

The football team will be issued their uniforms at the physicals and will also be instructed about reporting for the first practice at that time.

Sports Calendar Coming Out

Belleville High School's 1971-1972 sports calendar are now off the press and awaiting for distribution by the coaches to their players as soon as school begins. These include the dates of all major school events and the schedule of each of the varsity teams.

Top Boxers Return

CHARLEY FUSARI, (right) former world welterweight contender, squares off with Eric Mayer, a Prospect Street resident and member of the town Shade Tree Commission during a visit last Sunday. Fusari promises not to be so charitable to Tippy Larkin in their bout for Cerebral Palsy, September 14, at the Westchester Civic Center.

Cafone Is Ready

Rebuilding Year Starts Tuesday For Bellboys

Lack of experience is not Cafone's only problem, though. Lack of tall players, a weakness which plagued the Bellboys in the defensive secondary and in the quarterback slot, is still with the coach. As a result, some of the offensive and defensive adjustments will be geared to size problems.

For instance, both major quarterbacking candidates—Joe Lotruglio and Phil Bruno—are relatively short. Last year Cafone says this caused many pass interceptions, "because they couldn't see over their own blockers or over the rushing linemen."

To compensate, Cafone says fans should expect Bellboy quarterbacks to employ the roll out option more often, which not only would solve the size problem, but would take advantage of the running ability of Lotruglio in particular.

Cafone also says he will use a short passing attack more often, presumably off the difficult-to-defense roll out pattern.

Changes are also expected in the style of the defensive secondary. "We might use a combination man-to-man and a zone" Cafone said. "We would use the man-to-man most of the time but shift into the zone when we expect a long pass."

Another offensive change fans should look for is the increasing use of the "slot position" in the

T-Formation. Last year Belleville went with a wingback, which is a halfback split permanently about a yard beyond either end and two yards into the backfield. The slot man instead fits between a split of the end and the tackle.

"We feel the slot formation would strengthen our off-tackle plays and our end sweeps," Cafone said.

The head coach says however, he will still go with the wingback formation often, and in fact indicated the post will be an important factor in this year's offensive power.

"We are looking for a wingback that not only can run and catch, but can also block, and you can underline that," Cafone said. "We feel that blocking in that post was a weakness last year," he added.

Cafone is also "looking for" a running back and a strong fullback.

Outside of the quarterback post, the entire backfield departed during graduation exercises in June. Rich Ciallella and Gary Falkman have some experience at the fullback post, but neither has seen regular action there.

Ciallella in fact saw hardly any action last year because of a knee injury. The senior apparently is fully recovered and is expected to see action in the backfield and possibly in the linebacking spot.

The linebacking position is perhaps the strongest spot on this club. In addition to Ciallella, Bob Luongo and Michael Pici are expected to see plenty of action.

Luongo, who is the brother of former Bellboy All-Stater Len Luongo, was a standout performer linebacking last year as a sophomore. He steadily gained experience and confidence and will probably be the key defensive performer this year.

Pici also saw alot of action at the post last year. Since being named co-captain, Pici has lost 30 pounds, and according to Cafone, is loaded with spirit and "ready to go."

If Cafone is confident about anything in this rebuilding year, it is his defense against the running attack.

"No one ran through us last year. I don't think anyone scored a touchdown on the ground. It was always the bomb. We still feel we can stop the ground attack."

Cafone expects several juniors to make the big step to the varsity, including defensive end Alan Frank and fullback Phil Cuzzi. He also expects seniors Ken Robinson (defensive end) and Michael Olivieri (tackle) to come into their own.

Cafone will get a quick test of his rebuilding processes on opening day, when the Bellboys travel to powerful Bayonne for a Friday night game September 24.

There are two changes on the Bellboy schedule this year. Traditional Thanksgiving Day rival Orange has moved up to the fifth game slot to take the place of departing Garfield. Lyndhurst, a small but very spunky team with a good reputation will take Garfield's place and will play in the Thanksgiving slot. Cafone also hinted this may be the last appearance for West Orange on the schedule.

Another factor which would affect this year's squad is Cafone's familiarity with his personnel. Last season Cafone had to take over the squad with relatively no knowledge of the players and their abilities.

"I do feel better about beginning my second year," he said. "It does give you a sort of confidence in that you know what to expect and can be more realistic."

St. Peter's Church Finishes Summer Children's Program

During the months of July and August, a Saturday Morning Children's Program was initiated at St. Peter's Church. The program, which begins at nine o'clock and finishes at noon, consists of religion, arts and crafts, outdoor recreation, and refreshments.

Moderator of the project was Reverend William J.

Mink, a graduate of both Seton Hall Prep and University. He served as a seminarian at Guardian Angel in Allendale, and St. Michael's and Queen of Angels both in Newark, and All Saints, Jersey City. As a deacon, Father was stationed at Our Lady of the Visitation in Paramus.

Father Mink has had experience in religious education at St. Theresa's in Kenilworth and Mt. Virgin in Garfield.

The program has sponsored a Communion Breakfast for the First Communion children and their parents. Guest speaker at the affair was the Most Reverend Joseph A. Costello, pastor of St. Peter's, who also presented the youngsters with statues to commemorate their First Communion. Plans are now being made to hold another Communion Breakfast for the children on Sunday, August 29. Reverend Thomas F. Olsen, C. Y. O. Director for Hudson County, will be the guest speaker.

Father Mink feels that some of the program's success can be attributed to the cooperation of the parents and children and the concern and interest of the

Magnificent Men Sit On Top Of Rec Loop

A new team in the Recreation Mens Softball Leagues has fought its way to the top. The Magnificent Men, playing their first year in the Recreation League, first won the Thursday League Championship, then defeated Landolfis Home for Funerals, the Wednesday Champs, in the first round of the Playoffs; and finally took the formidable Zig Zags two straight in the best two out of three final playoff.

On Monday, the first of the final playoff games the Magnificents were a well oiled machine making no errors and playing with an obvious spirit. On the other hand the Zig Zags were a little loose, in the early innings and allowed the Mags to build up an early lead of 5-1. Never a team to give up the Zig Zags stiffened up and, in the remainder of the game played great ball. However the deficit was too great and the Mags walked off the victors 9-6. Tuesdays game was a tough ball game right from the outset. Both clubs had come to play ball and there was no carelessness. After a well played, hard fought game it was again the Magnificent Men, this time 7-5. So in three successive games the Mags finished their first season in the Leagues by winning the Town-Wide Championship. The seasons bitter rivalry which sometimes burst out in heated eruptions was brought to a sportsmanlike close as these two great teams lined up and shook hands man for man.

Jaycee Classic This Saturday

Ivy-covered Palmer Stadium will be the site for New Jersey's only National Football League game of the 1971-72 season when the New York Giants face the Philadelphia Eagles Saturday in the tenth annual New Jersey Jaycee Football Classic at historic Princeton.

Fans should arrive in Princeton well before game time (2 P.M.) to enjoy the many quaint shops and sites before picnicking near Lake Carnegie on the Princeton University campus.

Football buffs may still purchase good seats for the traditional contest from local Jaycee chapters, Ticketron outlets, or by calling the classic office in Princeton between 9-5 (Continued on Page 12)

Lucky for some businessmen there are stenographers who can spell.

There's a vast and fundamental difference between promise and performance. Today through tomorrow, a 35 mile relay walk will be made by women for women.

Women Set Relay Walk

Yesteryear, starting from the Crestmont Savings Bank, Prospect and Springfield Avenue, Maplewood, at 1 p.m. groups of women from all over New Jersey began a women's walk for women to dramatize and emphasize the growing power, solidarity, and political acumen of women in New Jersey. Relay teams of women will carry a banner from Maplewood to the terminal point, beautiful Holmdel Park where a rally will conclude the three day event at 4 p.m. on August 26.

The idea for this dramatic 35 mile walk was conceived by Poppy Kennedy of Middletown and will be carried out by women from the growing ranks of the women's liberation movement in New Jersey.

Groups sponsoring the walks are Alliance of Women for Equality (AWE), National Organization for Women (NOW), and the Daughters of Bilitis (DOB). Participating groups are Passaic County Women's Liberation Group, Alliance for Third World Women, and all the women in New Jersey.

The rally on August 26 afternoon will feature women well known inside and outside the movement such as Dr. Winona Lipman Democratic Candidate of Essex County for State Senator, Marge Wyngaarden, Candidate for the New Jersey State Assembly in 1971, Florynce Kennedy

Attorney and Author of ABORTION RAP, Myrna Lamb, playwright author of MOD DONNA and SCYKLON Z, Wilma Scott Heide, National Chairwoman of NOW, and other local feminists.

At the August 26 rally feminists from North Jersey will perform guerrilla theater and Maureen Deakin will perform a modern dance on women.

The theme of the walk and rally is, "Women Unite, Make the 70's Ours." Said Marge Wyngaarden, "This country was founded on the constitution that denied that non-white males and all women were full citizens. Liberty and justice for all were beautiful words—but the ugly fact was that liberty and justice were for white males only." "No democracy without women," is her motto. Florynce Kennedy said that women of New Jersey dedicated this walk and rally to the defeat of all forms of institutionalized and legalized abuse of women.

BECK'S COLUMN

MAX BECK

Almost all of our major electronics factories have plants in Taiwan. Others are in the process of building such facilities. The reason, of course, is the tremendous difference in wages plus the apparent capability of the oriental people to handle the very small parts used in electronic assemblies.

A notable exception seems to be the Magnavox Company. They do not have, and don't intend to have, a factory in the Orient. Magnavox has gained a reputation for being very much service-minded. The main reason why they won't manufacture in the Orient, according to a very recent statement by the president of the company, "We could not assure ourselves that quality-control would be effective. Whenever we had a problem out there, we couldn't envision flying an engineering team from Fort Wayne to Taiwan".....

Since we sell almost exclusively Magnavox products, we were very glad to know this.

We service what we sell.

Lumberman Finds HOW TO SLEEP LIKE A LOG

"I'll admit it — unless I get a good night's sleep every night, I'm all tired and worn-out the next day. But here's what I've discovered — if I take a Dormin Capsule at bedtime, I'll sleep like a log and wake up feeling like a Million."

Dormin is sleeping discovery that's 100% non-narcotic, 100% non-habit-forming. Proved effective in 9 out of 10 clinical cases, professionally supervised and observed in leading government hospital. So safe no prescription needed. Get Dormin today.

County Taxes Up, Says Remington

Placing a priority on continued low-cost state government", business executive and Republican state committeeman Frederic Remington launched his campaign for the state senate yesterday. Remington compared a savings of $16.7 million in the state budget resulting from recommendations of Governor Cahill's Management Commission with the 24 per cent, $21.6 million increase in the 1971 Essex County budget under democratic control.

Nutley taxpayers' county taxes increased by $851,939.30 to $3,972,363.72 as a result, he said.

"The dollar increase in Essex County's budget this year under the Democrats was larger than for the three previous years of Republican leadership combined," Remington noted. "In comparison, the Cahill administration and the Republican legislature produced a no-new-tax, balanced budget, an accomplishment managed by no other major industrial state this year."

Remington said implementation of additional efficiency recommendations by the Cahill-appointed panel of business experts should result in further savings in the months ahead. Creation of a new fiscal watchdog agency, the Office of Fiscal Affairs, will provide continuing review of existing state programs, he added.

"Making state government more economical and efficient, the first step in achieving fiscal reform, is well under way," Remington said.

Revised Water Standards Set To Help Environment

Quiet Times Return To Turtle Back Zoo

The quiet time will arrive at Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange when thousands of area children return to the classroom early in September. This is the time when Zoo officials encourage parents to bring pre-school children for a visit with the animals.

The hustle and bustle of older children has ended and little folk can have the Zoo, its 200 animals, miniature train and Eating House practically to themselves. The animals can be more closely observed at a child's leisure and the questions answered can be his—rather than those of big brother or sister.

"Zooettes", the uniformed ladies who can explain the animals to young guests, have more time for answering questions of wee tots.

Baby animals, born this spring and early summer at the Zoo, are now hardy enough to enjoy playing in company with the youngsters. The weather is cool and delightful on the side of the tree-shaded hill where Turtle Back is located.

Wallhauser Sees Fiscal Integrity

Essex County Republican Chairman George M. Wallhauser Jr. said today that he sees the slogan of the Republican county ticket as the sign of candidates who will provide fiscal integrity for Essex residents and continue able leadership for them in the State Legislature.

"Best for Essex," the slogan which the county Republicans adopted for their 1971 campaign," Wallhauser said, "means exactly what it implies to the voter."

"The Republican candidates, based on experience and performance in government and community affairs, will as a unit be able to enact safeguards that will keep Essex from following a tragic path of insolvency," Wallhauser declared.

The Republican Chairman, addressing party delegates at the GOP headquarters in East Orange, drove hard into a Democratic county budget which he said "represents a spending program at the taxpayers' expense unlike anything in the history of Essex."

"The Democrats have pushed county taxes up to such a level," Wallhauser said, "that they have threatened the ability of middle income families to meet their tax obligations."

Citing an example of record high taxes, Wallhauser pointed to a homeowner in Maplewood with a $25,000 house who this year has to pay $195 more on his tax bill. The chairman said increases such as the one he illustrated have become a horror story for Essex County taxpayers who are recoiling from the Democrats' excessive tax program.

"Each page of the Democratic story is more chilling than the other," Wallhauser said.

"The final chapter for the people of Essex is jeopardy with the Democrats...but it can be peace and happiness with the Republicans," Wallhauser declared.

In contrast to the runaway tax program in Essex where the county tax levy skyrocketed from $69,720,421 in 1970 to $88,266,720 this year, Wallhauser referred to the accomplishments of the 1970-71 Legislature.

The Legislature, under Republican control, he said, shot down Democratic attempts to enact new taxes while at the same time Republicans pioneered new roads into social and economic expansion.
