For Health, Schools

Joint Use Of Building Proposed By Boards

Discussions were reported to be "cordial" Monday night when Town Fathers faced the Board of Education for the first time at School 8. The meeting was the first phase of plans to use the newly purchased Fischer-Stevens Building on Washington Avenue jointly by the School Board and the Department of Health.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy reported that "nothing was finalized" at the 25-minute meeting between the boards but the two sides came closer to agreement of joint use of the building. Town Hall purchased the building for $140,000 last month. It covers 11,117 square feet and is reported to be 17 years old. Commissioners claim they got a bargain price on the building.

If current plans are followed through, Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo will run his Public Health Department from the first floor of the establishment while the School Board will utilize the second floor. Board of Education members are scheduled to meet at the site Monday with Commissioner Michael Marotti, director of Parks and Public Property, to map out plans for the use of the second floor.

School Board members hope to rent the upstairs at "a nominal fee" to house its administrative offices and special education department.

According to Commissioner Strumolo, his department may move into the building "by Thanksgiving." The downstairs space is already mapped out for the Health Department but more extensive work must be completed upstairs before School Board offices can move there.

All that we need downstairs is a coat of paint," said Strumolo. "After that, all I'll be waiting for is the green light."

School 8, where the Board offices are currently housed, is to be used for additional classroom space if the plan is approved and then finalized.

Local Church To Celebrate 180th Sunday

As the oldest Methodist church in this area, Wesley United Methodist Church, Belleville, will mark its 180th anniversary in a two weeks' celebration, starting this Sunday, Oct. 24.

At 10 a.m. on that morning, a member dressed as pioneer circuit rider, Bishop Francis Asbury, will ride a horse from the original church along the Passaic River (now a commercial building) to the present church on Washington Avenue, followed by members of the congregation, young and old, dressed in colonial costumes.

Monsignor Robert Egan will add an ecumenical touch to the occasion by loaning a horse from Boystown in Kearny to the Belleville Methodists.

After welcoming "Bishop Asbury" the Robert Bedell will lead the congregation inside the church and the Rev. Robert Payne, district superintendent, will deliver the morning sermon. A coffee hour will follow, served by the Misses Diana and Linda Frazier, Debbie Reiman, Gail Stone, and Pam Natale.

The following Sunday, Oct. 31, Bishop Prince A. Taylor, Jr., Resident Bishop of New Jersey, will deliver the morning sermon, to be followed by a luncheon for one and all. David Haight will offer the blessing.

Police Auxiliary Needs More Men

James V. LaMotta, director of Civil Defense, reports that applications are now being accepted into the Belleville Auxiliary Police and Fire Departments.

"Civic minded men, 19 years and over, who have an interest in Belleville and would like to participate in helping protect their Town should apply for the open positions," he stated.

Duties of the Police and Fire Auxiliary include patrolling areas in Belleville in Police Auxiliary vehicles, learning the use of radio equipment, and becoming a part of a very active group. There is also available to auxiliary policemen, membership in the Essex County Pistol Range. Belleville's participation in this activity won them second place in the last scheduled competition.

Persons interested in joining any of the two organizations may contact Irene Decker at Town Hall, phone 759-5100, or Captain Rocky Landolfi at 759-3144 between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily.

Halt 'Bank' Operation

Gambling Raids Here Strike Four Homes

Belleville police along with special agents from the County Prosecutor's Office raided four homes here early Saturday afternoon allegedly used as gambling operations. The local arrests were coordinated with 43 raids in a five-county area spearheaded by the 24-man Newark-Essex County Organized Crime Strike Force.

Included in the strike here was a raid on a Branch Brook Drive home where police officials say a "bank" was operating. The Branch Brook Drive home was reportedly the central operation of gambling in the area doing a $120,000 per week business. In that raid police arrested a 49-year-old Nutley man and a Belleville man charged with maintaining a place of gambling. The Nutley resident was booked for possession of lottery slips; bookmaking; working for a lottery and maintaining a place of gambling. Belleville Deputy Chief Frank Haight called the home the central location for betting in the area. Local detectives Thomas Ricci and Barton Rossi spearheaded the raids in Belleville.

"It will take weeks for us to sort out all the gambling receipts found at the Branch Brook Drive residence," Deputy Haight said.

The Nutley man discovered running the operation there is being held on $25,000 bail until an Oct. 28 preliminary hearing at Municipal Court.

County officials called the Branch Brook Drive home a central lottery location for Essex, Hudson and Union counties controlled by James (Jimmy Breeze) LePore. Officials said "It will take a long time to count all the money confiscated there."

In other raids here Saturday law enforcement officers smashed a Continental Avenue residence. There they arrested a 66-year-old resident being charged with bookmaking; possession of lottery slips; working for

Host Irvington Saturday

Bellboy Gridders Seek Third Straight Victory

By John Bunevich

The keynote this week at Bellboy grid practice is the sound of "a new season" echoed by ballplayers and coaches alike. The varsity squad have compiled two straight wins to even their mark at 500 and are now setting their sites on Irvington High School. Belleville hosts the Campers Saturday, 1:30 p.m., at Municipal Stadium.

Last week the varsity gridders disposed of Passaic in a tough defensive contest at the Stadium field but this Saturday an offense battle may be expected. Irvington comes to Town with one of the best quarterbacks in the area. George Muller has excellent size for a high school signal caller at 6'4" and 180 pounds and Belleville scouting reports say he can whip the football with ease 55 to 60 yards in an almost effortless motion.

The Campers will be coming off a 24-22 comeback win over Vailsburg where Muller rallied his squad for two touchdowns in the final stanza. The pressure will be on the Bellboy secondary as Muller, who likes to throw long, completed 10-17 in the victory over Vailsburg. It was the first win of the season for the Campers so both teams will have momentum going for them.

Veterans Council Refuses To Break With Tradition

Although Veteran's Day this year will be celebrated nationwide this Monday, Oct. 25, the annual Vet's Parade in Belleville will not break with tradition. They will hold the affair Thursday, Nov. 11. The decision was made recently by the local Veteran's Council.

Congress recently changed the national observance from its traditional November 11 date, the anniversary of the World War I armistice, to October 25, so citizens can enjoy a three-day holiday. But Veteran's Council officials in Belleville voted to stay with the old tradition of the November 11 observance.

Members of Belleville Post 105 said that although the date of the Veteran observance is different, it should still remain as a date of great significance to all Americans.

"The rescheduling of this holiday from its former date of November 11 to the fourth Monday in October in no way detracts from its dedication to the attainments of an honorable world peace. Hundreds of thousands of gallant Americans have made the supreme sacrifice in pursuit of that goal. Other countless thousands bear the marks of combat incurred while meeting the highest obligation of their citizenship," the Post said in

Wesley Methodist Is Steeped In History

By Allan Crisp
Town Historian

(The following is a guest article by Town Historian Allan Crisp, telling the history of Wesley Methodist Church in tribute of its 180th anniversary this Sunday.-Ed.)

In paying tribute to Wesley, we honor generations of devoted men, women and children who have drawn spiritual strength and guidance from its ministrations and who now stand in a long line of splendour reaching back to 1774.

1971 is also the 200th anniversary of the arrival of Francis Asbury, the circuit riding "Johnny Appleseed of Methodism", sent here by John Wesley to become to this country what Wesley had been to England, "the very soul that over England flamed."

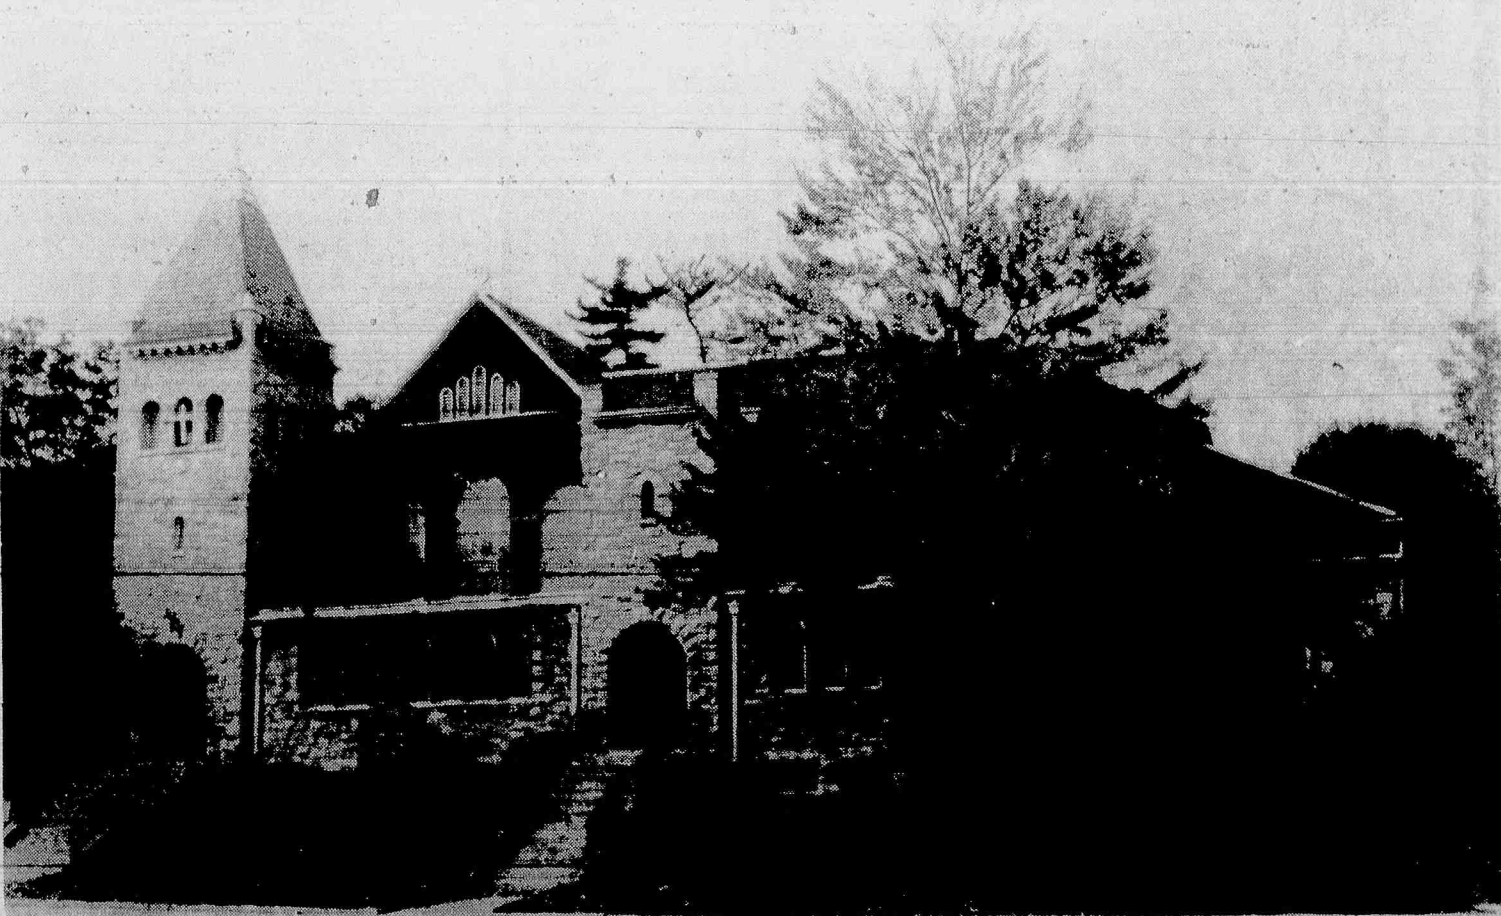

Asbury first preached in Belleville, then known as Second River, on August 29, 1774 and under rather unusual circumstances. Belleville was first settled by the Dutch in the 1600's. The services at the Dutch Reformed Church at its present location, Rutgers and Main Streets, were not conducted in English until 1794.

Arent Schuyler, wealthy owner of the copper mine across the river from Belleville, established a substantial trust fund in the family's name with the provision that they would always occupy the pew at the southwest corner of the sanctuary and that they could pass upon the choice of the minister when a replacement was required.

In the 1770's a dispute arose between the Schuylers and the minister and they forced him to resign. For two years the church was without a minister and it was during that time that Francis Asbury recorded in his diary, "I visited Second River, where a number of Low Dutch attended the word, which was delivered with a blessing." He added, "J.K. (Joseph Kingsland), one of our local preachers, has been made useful to the inhabitants of this neighborhood."

The Revolutionary War caused a cessation of

WESLEY METHODIST CHURCH, oldest of its kind, in the area, is celebrating its 180th anniversary beginning this Sunday with two weeks of festivities. Located at 235 Washington Avenue, several dignitaries from the Methodist Church in the U.S. will be on hand to help the Rev. Robert Bedell bring in the 180th year of the Church in Belleville.

Wesley Methodist Was Founded In 1770's

(Continued from Page 1) much Methodist activity. To organize matters after the war, the English Wesleyans sought to remain within the Anglican Church as a Society of Methodism. Asbury led an informal organization of 83 circuit riding preachers, who met in the Lovely Lane Meeting House in Baltimore on December 24, 1784 and organized the Methodist Church as a separate entity with no connection with the Anglican Church in England. Incidentally, the average age of the circuit riding founders was only 35, for riding the circuit was a grueling, hazardous experience and few lived to a ripe old age.

In 1791, the year of John Wesley's death, Wesley Methodist Church, Belleville, was organized through the efforts of two young women, Miss Margaret Dow and Miss Mary Ann Stewart, who were inspired by a visit to the old John Street Methodist Church in New York and first conducted meetings in their homes.

The startling growth of Methodism was due to the circuit riders, an institution which Methodism did not invent but brought to its fullest flower. His saddle bags were stuffed with scriptures and tracts and he usually served a circuit of some 20 or 30 points of ministry. Bishop Asbury once estimated that he covered about 6,000 miles a year on horseback, preaching and exhorting. In December 1802, a meeting was held in the home of John Dow at which a subscription list for a church edifice was prepared. In 1803, an edifice was erected on the west side of Main Street at the corner of Belleville Avenue (then John Street). It has been described as "standing back from the street about 30 feet, of stone covered with mastic down on the ground with high backboard seats and a high, pineapple shaped pulpit. It was built at a cost of $2,145.

As the "Mother Church of Methodism, the oldest church in the Eastern District, Wesley has played an important part in the expansion of the Methodist Church. In 1808, members of Wesley were responsible for the founding of the first Methodist Church in Newark. First known as Wesley Chapel, later as the Halsey Street Methodist Church, John Williams from Wesley served as a trustee of Wesley Chapel for many years. In the same year, Wesley helped to organize the North Belleville

Methodist Church on Passaic Avenue in the Franklin section of Belleville (now Nutley). In later years, this congregation built a fine new church on another site and changed its name to the Vincent Methodist Church. In 1846, the original church was torn down and a larger building erected on the same site at a cost of $3,753. This building is still standing and is in commercial use. In 1900, the congregation followed the town's lead from the river and "up the hill" to Washington Avenue and Academy Street where the present edifice, a much larger and more adequate one, was erected. The congregation looks back with gratitude and humility to 180 years of service to God, Methodism and the community.

Vet's Parade Staying With Traditional Date

A prepared statement. The Belleville Veteran's Day Parade will be held November 11, 7:30 p.m. The Parade will start at Greylock Parkway and Washington Avenue. Numerous bands, color guards, veterans organizations and fraternal groups will be represented in the parade. It is sponsored by the Belleville Veterans Council and the Belleville Town officials.

Principal speaker at the Parade is Mayor Joseph McGreevy. Grand Marshal will be Ray Camasciole of the D.A.V. Chapter 22 with Anthony Mattia of Post 299, American Legion, as the Parade Adjutant. The Parade coordinator is George Sbarra of V.F.W. Post 6265.

"As we pause from our day-to-day routine to observe this significant holiday, let us think how we, as Americans, can express our appreciation to the men and women who have helped to preserve our heritage," continued the Post 105 statement. "First and foremost, we can respond simply by being Americans-Americans who are alert Americans who are not afraid to face the challenges of today. Americans who understand the gravity of the world situation. Americans who will express in completely understandable terms and actions their support of our national purpose to attain world peace with honor.

"Today, as never before in the history of our country, we must show the world that we are a nation united in pursuit of this lofty goal. "This is our message for this Veterans Day 1971. In honoring the more than 27 million Americans who have served during World War I, World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War, we point to the fact that their service was not for the attainment of an additional square inch of territorial possession. They served their country not to subjugate any person.

and maintaining a lottery. A husband and wife pair was arrested in Belleville at their Greylock Avenue home. The husband is charged with bookmaking; possession of lottery slips and maintaining a lottery and working for a lottery. The wife, held on $10,000 bail, is charged with maintaining a lottery.

Also Saturday, police raided a Mill Street home where a suspected house of gambling was being run. Although they found no one at home at the time, officials later arrested the Mill Street home owner in Newark and charged him with maintaining a lottery. The raids were coordinated after a two-week investigation by Belleville police and officials from the Essex County Prosecutor's Office, along with the Gambling Task Force. Officials reported they used electronic devices in their investigations, including phone taps.

FALLS are a great disaster to more than 400,000 workers every year. As many happen on the level as from elevated places. Falls may be the result of stumbling, slipping, or loss of balance. Usually they are caused by plain carelessness - objects left in the middle of the aisle or on stairs, spilled oil, grease, or water, waxed floors, or icy exterior walks. Rushing up or down stairs can throw an individual off balance. Stairs should be walked up and down slowly with feet firmly planted on each step and the handrail used.

Breaking And Entry Charge Is Referred For Jury Action

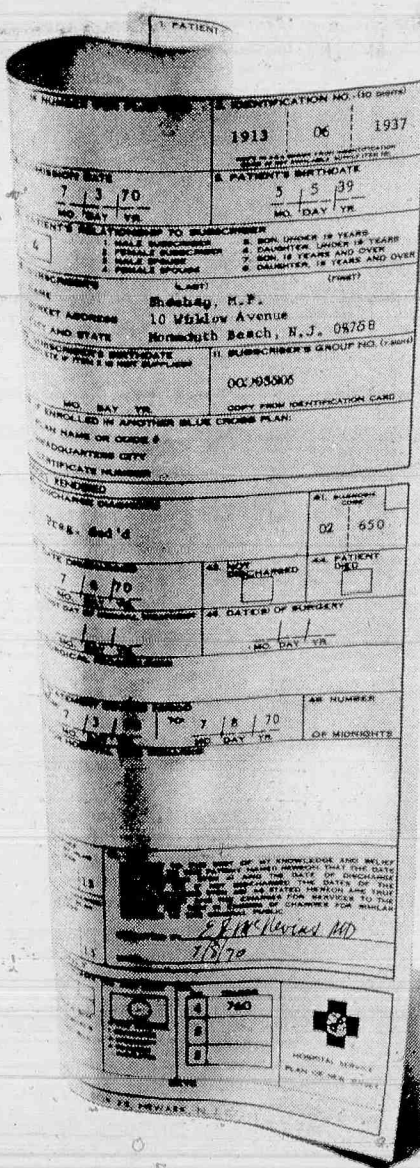

A Newark man was charged with attempted break and entry and had his case referred to the Essex County grand jury October 14, in Municipal court.

Edward Kolbinskie, 19, of 668 Ridge Street, Newark, was arrested at 9:45 p.m. October 10 by Belleville detective Martin Natale in response to a complaint by Lawrence Colallo, owner of Belleville Shoe Store, 153 Washington Avenue, that there was someone trying to break into the rear of the store.

Kolbinskie failed to give a good account of himself and Belleville judge Edward Abromson held the case for the action of the grand jury.

Why we shrink...and unshrink...our paperwork.

Handling the medical and health records for our 3½ million members could bury us in a mountain of paperwork. But it doesn't.

Some time ago we installed a highly effective microfilm system. Each day it takes the nearly 12,000 paid claims and forms that come in and shrinks them to 1/25th of their 8½" x 11" size. Then it "files" them on film and indexes them so they can be retrieved almost instantly. If a claim or record has to be checked, the system locates it, unshrinks it to its full size and produces a photo copy if required. The danger of misfiling is minimized since nothing ever has to be taken from the "files".

Come to think of it, it helps us shrink a lot more than paperwork. Along with the other advanced equipment we use, it helps shrink our operating overhead to under 6%. Which is several times lower than the other insurers.

An Election, Remember?

On Tuesday, November 2, New Jersey voters will be entitled to visit their respective polling places to elect a new legislature.

In Essex County the election stakes are high. To be elected are five full term senators, ten assemblymen, three freeholders and one surrogate.

Incumbent Senators James Wallwork, Milton Waldor and Michael Giuliano are running for re-election. Joining them on the Republican ticket are Essex County Republican State Committeemen, Fred Remington and Montclair Mayor Mathew G. Carter.

Wallwork, Waldor and Giuliano have served well the people of our county and state and deserve re-election. Fred Remington, an industrialist offering a successful business background, and Mayor Carter, an executive at Hoffmann-LaRoche, bring to the Republican ticket business and governmental experience which equips them with the necessary tools to perform a good job in Trenton. We recommend to the voters of Essex County the election of the five Republican senate candidates. "The sixth senate seat, an unexpired two month term, we recommend Nicholas La Spina whose name appears on Line B along with the other Republican candidates.

Surrogate Thomas R. Farley is a former Essex County Republican Freeholder. A lawyer, Farley is a graduate of Notre Dame and Rutgers Law School. He is a former member of faculties at Rutgers, St. Peter's College and the Institute for Continuing Legal Education. Farley's performance in office both as freeholder and surrogate warrant his return to the office of surrogate on November 2.

We will make our freeholder and assembly analyses and recommendations in the next issue of this newspaper, and offer our recommendations on the three referendum questions appearing on the same ballot.

Overhead Utility Lines

An Excellent Decision

The state Public Utility Commission this week banned the installation of overhead electric and telephone cables in New Jersey's new residential communities.

The decision bans overhead installation in any newly developing residential area of over three lots as of December 31.

The cost of underground electric cabling is allegedly higher than the overhead method but the advantages and the need are too obvious to permit the continuance of the ancient system of stringing electric wires on poles above ground.

Bell Telephone has been installing underground cables in more than 70% of all new residential projects for over a year.

We believe the safety factor involved in eliminating the overhead electric cabling should require the removal of existing overhead cabling, placing all wires underground.

The Public Utility Commission should be commended for its action. It is too bad the prohibition of overhead cabling did not take place at the beginning of the postwar period. However, late is better than never.

Neighbors Rights' Ordinance

This week Essex County Court Judge Leon Kapp upheld the Nutley ordinance which requires dog owners to remove the droppings of their pets from neighbors lawns and sidewalks. Judge Kapp characterized the proliferation of the droppings as a "scourge" and a "threat to public health and safety."

The law suit stemmed from an appeal by James Fofney of 171 Nutley Avenue. Fofney was appealing a $10 fine for violating the ordinance.

Judge Kapp voided a portion of the local ordinance which required dog owners to walk their pets only in the street. We agree with the judge completely on this point. Such a restriction would expose both the animal and the owner to a great personal hazard.

The "pooper scooper" ordinance as it is widely referred to throughout the world, was necessary to protect the rights of neighbors who live in an area where large dogs are permitted to roam at will. Owning a pet is a privilege — but with the privilege goes the responsibility of seeing to it that the neighbors rights are not infringed-upon.

Judge Kapp ruled properly in upholding the Nutley "pooper scooper" ordinance.

Seems Only Yesterday

Residents Are Permitted Liquor On Election Day

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

Belleville residents were to be permitted to buy liquor in town during the November 3 General Election for the first time since 1933. A decision by the Director of the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission repealed a 1933 state law banning the sale of liquor on Election Days, and left the question of sale to individual municipal bodies. With no local ordinance to prevent liquor sales, bar and liquor stores were to remain open for business on Election Day.

An ordinance creating a department of consumer protection in Belleville was scheduled to be introduced at a Commission meeting by Mayor Ken Smith. The Mayor said he was introducing the ordinance in response to "many complaints I've received about people being overcharged and being the victims of false advertising." Smith said that the ordinance, modeled on a similar one operating in New York, would create a consumer protection bureau that would provide a schedule of fines and regulations to prevent fraud.

Mayor Ken Smith was appointed Director General for the 1974 Convention for the Imperial Council of the Shrine of North America by Jacob Wingerter of West Orange, the Imperiale Potentate of the National Shrine. The Mayor was to arrange for the rental of 13,000 rooms to house 80,000 shriners for what was to be the largest convention ever held. The Mayor, acting on behalf of the Shriners, would have to rent every room in every hotel in the city.

Five Years Ago

Peter S. Bridge of 136 Beech Street was appointed executive director of the Bergen County Republican Organization. Prior to his resignation, Bridge had been a reporter and Kearny Bureau Chief for the Newark Evening News. In his new post, Bridge would be responsible for coordination of all activities of the organization.

The Belleville Citizens for Commission Government announced plans for filing some 4,000 petitions with Town Clerk Eugene Barnett in a move designed to change the form of government from Council Manager to that of Mayor-Commissioner. The group, led by Thomas Apicelli, had set a target date of September, but had delayed presentation of the petitions because of the necessity of checking out or validating each signature.

Superior Court Judge Walter H. Conklin handed down a ten-page decision calling for Belleville to revalue all real property. His decision had ended a 25-month fight by the Town to carry on a year-to-year assessment by Tax Assessor Peter Torre. Mayor Nuncio R. Pico, upon hearing of Judge Conklin's decision, had commented "We're not going to give up so easily."

Ten Years Ago

Mrs. Ruth La Baugh Miller of Belleville Post No. 105, The American Legion, was elected to the state post of Department Historian at the American Legion convention in Wildwood, New Jersey.

Mrs. Miller, of 174 Cedar Hill Avenue, was the first Belleville woman to join the United States Marine Corps Reserve in 1943 and had served in the corps until 1945.

The Board of Education was to submit the question of a new high school to another referendum vote as soon as it was legally possible. A move to obtain voter approval for a new high school had been defeated for the second time in six years. A similar proposal had been rejected in 1955 by 613 votes out of 5,075 cast. The margin for the most current vote was 732, with a record turnout of 6,856 going to the polls.

Newly elected officers were installed of the Belleville Chapter of UNICO. Those installed were: Domenick Marchitto, president; Frank DeMarco, 1st vice-president; Peter S. Coccia, 2nd vice-president; Robert Laterza, treasurer; Arthur Malanga, secretary, and Peter Pedalino, sergeant-at-arms.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

In a tightly packed, tense but quiet Council Chamber, a resolution introduced by Mayor James Tully removing the power of appointment and the jurisdiction of the Recorder and Recorder's Court from Public Safety Director Noll passed by a 3-1 vote. Tully, Public Works Director Waters and Public Affairs Director King voted in favor of the resolution. Tully then gained the power of appointment which prevented Noll from ousting Recorder Everett B. Smith.

The State Civil Service Commission granted a motion to dismiss charges against three Belleville policemen alleged to have failed to comply with department rules. According to representatives of the Police Commission, the charges that had been lodged against the three officers failed in showing how they specifically violated an ordinance. The motion for dismissal was made by defense attorney Charles E. MacCraith.

B. Thomas Aitken, chairman of the Belleville Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced the appointment by the board of directors of Mrs. Muriel J. Taggart as executive director of the Belleville Chapter. The board had appointed a special committee to propose changes in the Chapter's organization. The committee had recommended the creation of the executive director's position, combining the executive secretary's position with the service secretary post.

Sewage in River Not New Says Former Resident

To the Editor:

I was born in Belleville on Miff Street 62 years ago and I spent many of my childhood days along the banks of the Second River. Now people are talking about raw sewage polluting the Second River, due to a broken sewer pipe!

I would like to tell you that this is nothing new, as far as I know. There has been raw sewage floating in that river for over 47 years. Who are they trying to fool? When I was 12 years old I used to swim in this river with raw sewage floating around my neck. There was no other place to swim. Your politicians were to blame for that. Both the Essex County and Belleville politicians just ruined all the natural environment and beauty that was once the beautiful town of Belleville.

There is not one landmark in Belleville of the old days. The commissioners destroyed everything, right up to the present day.

The Third River is a good example of what they allowed these contractors and home builders to do with the natural environment. They made it so narrow with the dumping of land fill and pushing the river to make more land that the river will flood over this land fill for many years to come. The town commissioners gave the Passaic River waterfront to the Essex County Park Commissioner as a free gift. The Park Commission sold it to the State Highway Department.

I wonder who is skimming off the top.

You can ask some of the old-timers in town, such as Willie Wells or the Barnets from Soho. There has been sewage floating in the Second River since before I was born. You could see the open manholes of the sewer line on the bed of the river just in back of the old Forest Hill Golf Course, or clubhouse in Soho. On the first tee, you could look down and see the manholes with no covers.

Helen's Thing

All Machinery Breaks Down But Why Now?

By Helen Maguire

I HAD A TRAUMATIC experience last week. My washing machine broke. I don't really blame the old thing for conking out. I don't think I could stand the strain it's under seven days a week for very long.

Anyway, Jack put a jacket he wanted for school the next day in the machine Tuesday night and when he went to transfer it to the dryer after a decent interval, it was still floating in a tub of water and the monster refused to empty. After jiggling a few knobs with no success, he wrung the jacket out by hand and came upstairs to break the joyful news.

I CALLED SEARS the next morning as soon as they were open. The woman on the other end of the line was charming, most helpful, efficient etc. She took down the information including how I intended to settle the bill (with a service contract, praise be) and then she lowered the boom. "Alright, Mrs. Maguire," she said. "The man will be out Monday."

"Monday!" I croaked. "You've got to be kidding. I don't think I can last until Monday with six kids and two adults all engaged in dirtying clothes at a fantastic rate." She was immovable. "We are terribly busy right now especially repairing washing machines and the like and Monday is the best I can do." I thanked her and hung up before she got annoyed at me and postponed the whole thing until a later day.

IT WAS GRUESOME. The pile of wash in the cellar got bigger and bigger and the supply of clothes in the drawers dwindled alarmingly. The one thing that couldn't wait was the diapers and they got wished on Layne with regularity. Finally, by Friday, things had reached disaster proportions. "You've got to go to the laundromat," I informed Rod. "I'll eliminate everything nonessential and split the whites and coloreds into two bags. It shouldn't take more than four or five loads." He was not too keen on the whole idea until I pointed out that if he intended to take a shower that night and didn't take the wash, he was going to end up drying himself with a dish towel.

The Sears man came Monday morning and it's been a long time since I was so glad to see anybody. He replaced the pump and the lever that controls the spin process and assured me that the old relic was back in business for the moment anyway.

IT IS NOW TUESDAY afternoon. I washed all yesterday afternoon and evening and got rid of the last load this morning. Fortunately, Barbara Ryans arrived for a visit an hour ago and as I type merrily away, she is up to her ears folding wash.

Washing machine, don't do that to me again.

Pleasant Surprise Is Seen On Flight To Fort Lauderdale

the credit to her Eastern Airlines' experience. For stewardesses a DC-9 plane is difficult to service, especially with a full load but Diane and her assistant, Mrs. Izzo, handled the chores with time to spare. Throughout the flight Diane performed like a real pro.

PATRICIA MULLEN, one of the more attractive female sight-stoppers at Hoffmann-LaRoche, recently celebrated a birthday. An interesting thing about this birthday child is that she enjoys embroidery, crocheting, sewing and visiting museums. One would never make such a deduction by a quick look at, or a short talk with Patty.

THE GIANT STEP RESTAURANT on East 64th Street in New York is a place to visit if one wants to hear two brothers with swinging guitars. They are Steve and Frankie Ray. The boys, Navajo Indians, are from Bergenfield, New Jersey. They provide excellent entertainment while guests can enjoy the cuisine and cordiality of a fine restaurant. The brothers, Steve and Frankie, are coming out with a new record, "Hello Friends", which according to all reports should be a big hit.

CONNIE FRANCIS, our local girl who made Belleville famous is scheduled to open a two-week stint at New York's Copacabana on Thursday, November 4. Standing room only crowds are expected.

STEWART AND MARY MACFARLANE together with their three children are leaving Nutley today in their family station wagon, moving bag and baggage to Naples, Florida. Stu sold his Coeyman Avenue home and his business, Mac's Ezzo at Bloomfield and Kingsland, Nutley. Stu and Mary hit upon Naples last year during a vacation trip. At 31 it is my judgment Stu is making the right decision. Much as I love Nutley there is no place like southern Florida for my money. Naples is located on the Gulf side of Florida's tip directly opposite Fort Lauderdale. To the MacFarlane's go my best wishes for a happy life in Naples. Good citizens that they were, Nutley and their neighbors will miss them.

ONE OF THE FINEST RESTAURANTS catering to Greek-American appetites is the Dionysos at East 48th Street. The front lounge hostess is a real beauty, Nancy Sarson, a former Miss Universe contestant who is constantly being invited to make TV commercials. Yes, she is that attractive. It wouldn't surprise me if she ended up in Hollywood some day. She has the charm, graciousness and poise to complement her good looks — and after all that is said, she also has brainpower.

Observances Planned By Tri-Town BPW For Business Women's Week

National Business Women's Week is being celebrated throughout the country from October 17 through October 23. This week has been set aside each year since 1928 to honor all working women, to pay tribute to their accomplishments and to call attention to this source of leadership and ability which is available to help solve the problems we as a nation and as individuals face today in an effort to create a better world for all.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, of which Tri-Town BPW is a member, was founded over fifty years ago, with the objective of elevating the standards and promoting the interests of business and professional women, bringing about a spirit of cooperation among them, and extending opportunities to them through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities. Two years ago the Federation set up a Talent Bank consisting of a list of women qualified for policy-making positions. President Nixon has made several appointments from this list and his staff assistant, Barbara Hackman Franklin, recently paid tribute to the National Federation for organizing this talent bank and expressed appreciation for the help and support she has received from the Federation.

Tri-TownBPW has always been mindful of the aims of the Federation and of the needs of the community. Through its annual spring card party, the club raises funds to maintain the Flora Loudon Memorial Scholarship Fund to advance young women in the professions. Each year scholarships have been given to graduates of the high schools in each of the three towns. Three more receive bonds for winning typing contests. This year Tri-Town was able to award from $50 to $100. increase the scholarship award from the usual $300 to $400 and the typing award from $50 to $100.

A baby-sitting course has been sponsored for teenage girls at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville. A monthly donation of cake mixes and an annual party are given for the children of the Essex County Children's Shelter in Belleville. In 1962 the club initiated the "Christmas in February" program, which is an annual event. Members present gifts to senior citizens at the Essex County Hospital in Belleville, especially to those who rarely have other visitors. Stuffed toys are made and presented to the Family Service in Nutley, the Christmas Bureau of the Family Service in Bloomfield and the Essex County Children's Shelter in Belleville.

In observance of National Business Women's Week, Tri-Town BPW has displays in the libraries of each of the three towns. In Belleville the "Dictionary of American Portraits" is on display, with pictures of famous women, past and present—Dolly Madison, Annie Oakley, Clara Barton, Frances Perkins, Ivy Baker Priest and Shirley Temple Black as a delegate to the United Nations, to name a few. The Bloomfield Library is displaying pictures of some of these women. The Nutley display includes the biographies of famous women plus dolls dressed to represent them. In addition to the abovementioned women of the past, there are dolls dressed as Mary Lyon, the founder of Mount Holyoke College; Dee O'Hara, the astronauts' nurse and Judge Sara Hughes, who swore in Lyndon Johnson as president of the United States.

Essex Mothers' Monthly Meeting

The Essex Catholic High School Mothers' Club will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Election of the freshman vice president will take place and plans for the November card party will be discussed. Following the meeting there will be a Macrame demonstration given by Miss Barbara DeAnthony of West Orange. Refreshments will be served by the junior mothers. Mrs. Olga Semler of Newark, junior vice president, is in charge. Mrs. Rose Rispoli of West Orange is program chairman.

Cypoliski and Senior Troop 981, Reformed Church, District Chairman, Mrs. A. Verhagen.

Saturday morning's program included the learning of basic first aid and knots and the making of medallions for all Junior girls. Cadette and Senior girls, meanwhile were experimenting with macrame, the newest fad of knot tying for belts and head gear, origami, the Japanese art of paper folding, and charcoal sketching. All levels participated in square and folk dancing.

After dinner, cooked over charcoal grills and fireplaces, 69 girls and adults hiked to So. Mt. Arena and enjoyed an afternoon of ice skating. Other groups toured Turtle Back Zoo, hiked to Summit Field for a cook-out, or remained at the encampment for individual troop activities and games. Troop 476 tried their skill at tie-dyeing.

Around the campfire as darkness fell, each troop entertained fellow scouts with novelty songs and skits, introduced by members of Senior Troop 981.

Following a 7:15 a.m. flag ceremony, Father Thomas Smith Pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Newark, and the Rev. Robert O. Shaver, Reformed Church, Belleville, conducted religious services. After breakfast the clean up crews took over as cabins were swept, gear packed, and tent city slowly disappeared. The weekend was concluded with a closing flag ceremony and the presentation of camporee patches.

Personally, we are tired of being polite to intoxicated brethren.

PACKING UP--Janet Russi, Gail Chatham and Suzette Dinis of Troop 591 have almost completed packing up to go home after camping out for the weekend. Even inclement weather didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the girls from Belleville.

Speaking Free System Works

By Bill Hamilton

A week ago, I stated in this column that the Belleville Board of Education had cut the Behind-the-Wheel Program of the Driver Education Course offered at the High School. I also promised an investigation into the matter with the results published here in my column. This has been done.

On Monday night, October 11, Mark Stabiński, Tony Portuese, Mike Zarra, and I went to the Board of Education meeting in search of a solution to the dilemma at the High School regarding B-T-W. We were surprised to find the Board both co-operative and concerned with our problem, and after about an hour of discussion, we left with their promise of offering B-T-W to every senior if at all possible. We decided to put our faith in the system, at least for awhile, in hopes of achieving our goal of all seniors receiving Behind-the-Wheel training.

On Wednesday, October 13, Mr. Raymond O. Smith, Principal of Belleville High, announced over the public address system at the High School that all seniors, barring any mishap or unforeseen problem, will in fact receive this all-important Behind-the-Wheel portion of their Driver Education.

The system of communications with the Board of Education which has often in the past proved ineffective, has worked. It is now simply a question of "wait and see" on the part of the students who have now been told that they will receive this program.

But this matter, and many problems of this same nature, are yet solved. I learned a great deal at that Board meeting on October 11, and much of what I had thought to be true was proved as a result of that meeting.

I am neither complimenting nor condemning this current Board of Education, (though I reserve the right to do so at a later date) but the problems that confront the students, parents and teachers are caused by a basic, sad fact regarding this town: Belleville does not pass school budgets. It is not my intention to beg you to vote for the school budget nor to give some stirring words that will convince you to give the students in the school system of Belleville a chance, but I do blame the Behind-the-Wheel problems, the cutting of Girls' Sports, lack of modern equipment in the school and countless other educational setbacks on the failure of this community to pass a school budget.

Maybe those of you who are adults reading this say, "Why the hell listen to a kid? If I vote for the school budget, my taxes will go up!" Despite the fact that taxes will go up anyway, I ask you to remember when you were a student... how would you have felt if the voters cut-out athletic programs, Driver Education programs (sure we may have it this year, but what about next year... and the year after??), or maybe you didn't have these things when you went to school; don't be so self-centered as to deny the students now the opportunity of learning all that this day and age has to offer.

I am not writing this as a plug for the Board of Ed. nor the school administration (I disagree with many of their policies and decisions), but rather this is simply the revealing of a fact. All I ask is that you consider what I have written when the budget is to be voted in February. The decision is yours.

Outlook For BHS

Another School Year: Towards The Future

By Mark Stabiński

With the closing of summer and the advent of another school year, its time we, as students of Belleville Senior High School, begin to get back into the stream of things and look ahead.

Last year was a period marked by student frustrations and administration difficulties, the major failure being the breakdown of communications on the part of the two groups. This is the principle objective we must then strive for this year. If any real progress is to be made this gap must be bridged.

Messrs. Raymond Smith and John Westlake, principal and vice-principal of Belleville High School, are two individuals whom I feel are concerned with student affairs and would like to be responsive to our requests. While it is true that the student and the administrative head may see things differently from time to time, both desire as little turmoil as possible, thereby giving way to compromise in most cases.

With a little effort on the part of both parties, it seems very likely that a great deal can be accomplished. Another problem which was evident last year was the passive attitude on the part of most students. While vocally much was said, little if any of their complaints were relayed onto their student

A Maze Of Tests

Function Of Guidance Seen By A Student

by Al Truesdell

Recently, I attended a college preparatory lecture sponsored by our guidance department. After being bombarded with test offers and fees (I never realized what a booming market we college bound students create), I began to contemplate the function of our guidance department.

We, the students, are pawns in a giant chess game. Victory is success, competition is the game. We are all hurled out into a vast sea. It is either sink or swim. The guidance counselors are the gods, amused at the spectacle. They offer no sympathy to drowning pawns, only stone cold logic, "Learn to swim and you won't sink." I am not condoning all the failures, nor am I offering pity to floundering students. I am merely aroused at the sight of human beings dealt with as pieces in a big game. We students are not regarded as human beings with emotions, but as mechanical robots programmed to follow orders. There is no communication between student and counselor. We are dealt with in a cold, impersonal manner with no concern for the individual shown at all.

Have you ever tried to drop a subject? It would be easier to try to get a date with Raquel Welch. It gives the office some extra paperwork. They would rather see you fail than switch. It doesn't matter that you, your mother and father, and the rest of the world want you out.

It doesn't matter that you hate the subject, or have absolutely no ability in that area at all. Just like in our mixed-up society a CHANGE is always frowned upon: the guidance council regards students as silly, immature, spoiled children, who don't yet know what's good for them.

If you have extra credits the only way to get out of a class is to simply boycott it. After making several appointments with my guidance counselor and listening to phony promises, I walked out of French class. Only then did I receive any action.

This year I am carrying the minimum amount of credits required, so I must replace the subject I wished to drop with another. When I was denied this with no reason why, my only alternative was to threaten a boycott. The sweet old lady held the knife at my throat. "You don't want to graduate do you?" she said with the same wicked smile of a cat, before he kills the rat.

There is a saying "power corrupts". People love to play the role of God. After a life of timidly obeying orders, when they receive a little power it totally goes to their heads. The guidance counselors know that they hold our future in their hands and how they eat it up. They love to tell us how free we are to leave if we choose, but they know if we want to attend college and secure a decent future we must do whatever they say.

IT is time students were dealt with in a more personal and individual manner. It's time for the STUDENT'S welfare to receive some consideration: IT'S TIME WE RECEIVED SOME GUIDANCE!!!

Students Claim Neglect

Girls' Sports Are Cut At The High School

By The Girls' Basketball Team

It is our belief that education is the process by which youth may expand and improve their mental and physical abilities. The reason this article has been written is to acknowledge that the Board of Education has neglected this area of physical improvement. Money has been given for football, baseball, crew, and wrestling, all for boys! Nothing but ignorance has been given by the Board for the physical activities of girls! Female students comprise more than half of the school population.

Due to the overwhelming interest displayed by the girls in sports, a physical education teacher, Miss Karen Fucello, answered the need for female sports. Miss Fucello established basketball and softball teams for girls. For the past two years, she has given of herself, from November to late June, to the teaching and training of girls in athletic competition.

The girls participating have learned much more than the fundamental rules of the game. They have learned to compete honestly and to the best of their ability, while remaining females. Unlike many other places where girls act like animals, Belleville can be proud of the performance given by their female athletes on the court and off, while practicing in the early mornings before school and at night, whenever the gym is available. This shows tremendous interest by the girls to participate. Yet the Board of Ed. refuses funds and refuses recognition of girls Varsity and J.V. sports.

We honestly feel that some amount of money could be found to allow Belleville to fulfill its education of its youth. Furthermore, recognition by the town by presentations in such form as a varsity letter is not beyond availability.

School Key Club To Conference

By Don Messina

The Key Club Regional Officers' Training Conference (New Jersey District) of Divisions 10, 11, and 13 was held at the Montclair Academy on October 10 at 11 a.m.

Calling the meeting to order was Bill Hamilton,

Lieutenant Governor of Division 11. After the Pledge to the Flag and the Star-Spangled Banner, the many Key Clubbers were introduced to the advisors and others involved in the meeting.

The International Theme Presentation was then given by Bob Goodman, Lieutenant Governor of Division 10. This year's theme is "enrich man's existence" and was presented in the form of a filmstrip. It showed the problems Americans face from urban conflicts to air pollution, and how Key Club can aid in conquering these battles. Members were then able to attend different forums which pertained to the position the Key Clubber held. They ranged from forums for Presidents and Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, Treasurers, Membership Responsibility, and Public Relations.

After a buffet-style lunch, Key Club members were told of the district project ALSAC, which collects revenue to go to St. Jude's Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee for leukemia. The Hospital is sponsored by Danny Thomas, and the Belleville Key Club will begin the project within the town very shortly.

The second set of forums began directly after and were of a more contemporary form.

Strumolo To Kick Off Clean Air Program

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, Director of Public Affairs, announced that the Suburban Air Pollution Commission will kick off Cleaner Air Week activities this Sunday, at Eagle Rock Reservation, West Orange, at 2 P.M. with "Project Air Lift."

Commissioner Strumolo further stated that "Project Air Lift" is part of a program to promote greater public interest in the air we breathe. Meteorological effects on the transport of air pollution will be demonstrated through the tracking of released helium balloons. Controlled emission and propane powered automobiles will also be on exhibit.

During Cleaner Air Week, a poster contest is being sponsored throughout all schools in municipalities who are members of the Suburban Air Pollution Commission - Belleville is a member. The Atlantic Richfield Clean Air Caravan will test automobiles for excess emissions.

The Commissioner announced that all interested citizens are invited to attend the kickoff.

Resident Joins Large Symphony

Marcia Peck, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Peck of 21 Clearman Place, has accepted a position with the Minnesota Orchestra, formerly known as the Minneapolis Symphony. Miss Peck, a cellist, placed sixth in the world cello competition held in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in May of 1970, and went on to win the All-Germany cellists competition held in Mainz the following month.

Marcia auditioned for the National Symphony, whose home is the new Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. last June, and tied with a male cellist for the job. The decision was in favor of a man for the position. Marcia then went to Jackson, Wyoming, to play for the third successive year as a cellist in the Grand Teton Summer Music Festival.

Miss Peck graduated from Belleville High School, the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, and the Robert Schumann Conservatory in Dusseldorf, Germany, at which places she studied, respectively, with Mary Wortreich of West Caldwell, Orlando Cole, and Antonio Janigro. Marcia's father is director of music in the Belleville Public Schools.

Robbery Charge To Grand Jury

Martin Stephens, 20, of 1993 McCarter Avenue, Newark saw charges of robbery against him referred to the grand jury October 14.

A plea of not guilty was entered for Stephens by judge Edward Abramson in municipal court in connection with the robbery of a young Belleville girl September 12 in the Belleville section of Branch Brook Park.

THIRD RIVER SCENE has Commissioner Mary Senatore, director of Public Works, viewing repair work on banks of the stream in area of the Bridge Brooke Apartments. Owner of apartments is widening river and constructing rip-rap retaining wall in effort to alleviate flooding conditions in area. Fairway Avenue residents should benefit from repair work.

Prison Term For Drug Use

A Belleville man was given a six-month prison sentence October 14 in Municipal Court for possession of a hypodermic needle and set.

John McDonald, 28, of 312 Franklin Avenue was arrested February 5 by Belleville detective Ermin Olivieri in possession of the paraphernalia.

Judge Edward Abramson accepted McDonald's plea of guilty and imposed the sentence to run concurrently with a three-year sentence now being served by McDonald in Trenton State Prison.

Bellboys To Face Irvington

Pressure Is On Secondary In Camper's Aerial Attack

Belleville will have to capitalize on Irvington's weak point, its defense. Bellboy head coach Rocco Cafone reports that his squad will have to put points on the board in an effort to overcome the passing of Muller. The coaching staff expects Irvington to score so Belleville will have to score more for the win.

"Teams have scored on Irvington's defense," said Cafone. "We hope to score on them and then keep them down."

In topping Vailsburg, Irvington gave up 22 points. In their three losses this season the Campers have yielded a total of 69 points. In their outing against West Orange they were defeated 33-8. The second game of the season, Montclair, one of the strongest squads in the area, outscored the Campers 32-6 while they lost to Union in their third contest by a 34-0 count.

Belleville, on the other hand, got their offensive game moving for the second time this season. Signal caller turned running back Joe Lotruglio ran for 135 yards against Passaic Saturday while Phil Bruno and quarterback passed for a touchdown. Bruno, although under par in his passing game, hit his receivers when it counted. He completed three aeriels for 100 yards.

The Bellboy defense, excellent against the run, will be tested heavily this Saturday at the pass. Coach Cafone will be looking for a strong pass rush by his front line to offset the size difference in his secondary. As usual, Irvington will field a bigger club than the Bellboys but coach Cafone said his troops proved they can outmuscle a bigger team in their victory over Passaic.

"We showed ourselves that we can play against the

At The Fountain

Grippaldi Fete Tomorrow Night

Plans are now being finalized to honor Philip Grippaldi tomorrow night, 8 p.m., at the Fountain Restaurant on Watsessing Avenue in Belleville at a dinner-dance.

Grippaldi, an outstanding weightlifter on the national scene, received more honors this week when Mayor Joseph McGreevy named the week of October 22 "Philip Grippaldi Week" in Belleville big boys," Cafone said. "That was the most gratifying part of the win." This shows that if we fight we can win ball games."

The key to victory over Passaic, Cafone said, was shutting down their passing game. Cafone was confident that Belleville could stop the Indians' rushers but the secondary was almost untested. They rose to the occasion.

"Our secondary will be tested again this week," the coach added. "We have to put pressure on Muller if we expect to win. He has a 'shotgun' arm and if he gets 'on' we could be in for a long day."

According to Cafone, Irvington uses a lot of counter and reverse plays. They shift from a five to a six-man line on defense and their offense is geared to just to establish the run to set up the pass.

Irvington coach Fred Manual, who is subbing for head mentor Charles Reitz, confined to the hospital the last three weeks, is looking for a tough game from the Bellboys.

"It isn't often we beat Belleville so our team is looking to upset them this year," he said. "We will have to watch for Lotruglio, who is most of the Belleville offense. On defense we will have to block out their linebacker (Bob Luongo)."

Coach Manuel reports that Irvington has a young club composed of mostly sophomores and juniors. His top quarterback Muller, is only a junior but already he has a year's experience by guiding the club all of last season. Out of seven returning lettermen, four are out for the year with injuries, reports Manuel.

"We mixed up our passing and running against Vailsburg and it proved successful," Manuel added. "Muller threw for two touchdowns."

Irvington's running attack relies upon Luke Hosintz, a senior halfback, who is not fast but deceptive. He is much the same type of runner as Belleville's Lotruglio. Hosintz goes 5'8" and weighs 150 pounds.

The Big Ten battle will see Belleville trying to leap over the 500 mark while Irvington is looking to extend its victory skein to two. The Bellboys will have to put points on the board while the defense has to stop the Irvington pass.

Local Distance Runners Are Plagued By Injuries

Upon reaching the midway point in the season, Belleville's cross-country squad still has yet to register a running victory. Besides a forfeit win early in the season, the Bellboys have yet to record a score.

After facing a tough Bloomfield harrier squad Tuesday afternoon at Belleville Park, the local distance runners host Glen Ridge tomorrow. Glen Ridge is one of the smaller

Joe Lotruglio Sparks Squad In Victory Over Passaic

The running of quarterback turned rusher Joe Lotruglio and the key passing of signal caller Phil Bruno gave Belleville's varsity squad a 12-6 win over Passaic. The tilt was played Saturday afternoon over a stubborn Passaic squad.

The victory was the second straight for the Blue and Gold while the Indians suffered their third defeat of the current campaign. For the first time this season Belleville was able to generate good offense with two long scoring marches. Both Bellboy touchdowns came in the third quarter. One march was for 61 yards while the other tally came after a 52-yard drive.

Belleville also won the battle of the statistics. The local eleven showed a total yardage of 248 to the Indians' 169. Belleville was most impressive on the ground and for the first time had a rusher in the three-figure mark. Lotruglio, who saw duty at both halfback and quarterback, ran for 135 yards in 19 carries for a 7.1 average.

The Bellboys ran for 148 yards on the ground. Mistakes in the game were minimized. Passaic had one turnover in an interception but it didn't cost them. The Indians also fumbled once but they recovered their own miscue. Belleville played errorless ball, which contributed in large part to their victory in the tough fought battle.

Although Bruno was less effective in the passing department than previous efforts he did connect with three of his strikes for 100 yards. All were for long gainers. Joe Troise caught two passes for 65 yards while Mike Poreco had one reception for 35 yards.

The first half of the Saturday contest ended in a scoreless tie with Belleville holding the ball most of the half. Passaic on their opening series in the first half did enter into Belleville territory but the Indians were halted after the Blue and Gold adjusted to the end sweep. Passaic had most of its success on running the ends until the Bellboys made their adjustment.

The Bellboys opened up the third quarter in better shape. After stopping Passaic on the opening series of plays the Bellboys took the ball after a punt a put together a 60-yard scoring march, climaxed by Lotruglio's one yard plunge. Lotruglio supplied most of the offense punch in that drive, eating up yardage around both ends. The extra-point attempt was wide to the right for Bruno. It was the first time this year that Bruno missed a point-after-touchdown attempt. Usually the senior booter is steady on his kicks.

Belleville again scored in the third stanza, opening up a 12-0 margin over the Indians. Bruno on this drive hit on a pair of key passes while Lotruglio again was successful with the run, opening the defense up for the long gainers on the pass. The drive ended with a SIZE DIFFERENCE between Belleville and Passaic is clearly shown above in the pre-game coin toss when captains take the field. Joe Lotruglio (12) and Michael Pici (53) are quite a bit shorter than Indian counterparts.

SMOTHERED by the charges of the Belleville defense is Passaic rusher (30) S. Kline. The Indian fullback got little yardage on the play as the Belleville defense limited Passaic to under 100 yards rushing on the day.

SHORT YARDAGE is gained by Joe Lotruglio on this first quarter play. The Belleville rusher was the workhorse of the day. He carried 19 times for 135 yards. Above play was good for four yards on first down.

nine-yard toss to Troise for the touchdown. Bruno and the Bellboys lined up for the two-point conversion but after the quarterback threw to one of his ends the pass was ruled by officials as trapped and not caught. The pass was low and the Belleville receiver had to dive for the ball.

With a comfortable 12-0 lead Belleville stayed with the running attack while Passaic was forced into an open passing game. Unable to move the ball on regular formations and plays the Indians resorted to a razzle-dazzle offense. After a disputed penalty against Belleville for unsportsmanlike conduct, Passaic scored its only touchdown of the contest.

They capped a 51-yard drive in the final period when Passaic wingback Keith Gerald passed 32 yards to Pete Lawson for the score. Belleville's defensive secondary was fooled on the play as Lawson caught the ball and scampered into the endzone with not a Belleville defender near him.

Passaic tried an unsuccessful onside kick that went out of bounds. Belleville took the ball at the 50-yard line and with tight hand-offs on rushing plays ran out the clock for the win.

Mayor Honors Grippaldi

Grippaldi's feats include winning the Gold Medal and being named the outstanding weightlifter in America. At 17 he was crowned the junior state champion of weightlifting. In 1970 he won a Silver Medal in the World's Championship. He was the Pan-American Champion in 1967.

The local resident's weightlifting feats have made him a popular figure on the Belleville sports scene.

A customer called our service department and he wanted us "to do something with his antenna." He said that ever since the broadcast stations put their antennas on the new Trade Center building, he can't get several stations as good as before, when the transmissions were from the Empire State building.

Of course we told the customer that there has not been any change; everything still comes from the same old place, but he did not want to believe us. He insisted that it must have some bearing on his reception, maybe it obstructed the wave pattern "or something", as he put it.

We got out a map of New York City and surroundings and held a ruler on the line from the approximate location of the customer's house to the transmitters and another one from the Trade Center building to the customer's house. There could not possibly be a bearing on his reception at the existing angle.

When we looked at our records, we found that we regularly got a call from this customer every year in the fall, complaining about the same condition. One of our technicians who is assigned to this particular customer knew right away what the problem was. The customer's home is surrounded by large trees which lost many leaves already. One would be inclined to think that the disappearance of the leaves would improve the reception. Strangely enough this is not the case in this instance. When we brought this to the customer's attention, he remembered that he had complained about the same thing in previous years. Such a change in reception is not at all unusual. As a rule the change is more pronounced in the spring, when the trees grow the leaves rather than in the fall, when they lose them.

teams in the area but again the Bellboys are expecting tough competition. Last Tuesday the harriers went against defending Big Ten and Essex County champs Bloomfield, rated the strongest team in the area. The distance runners should be "up" for Monday's meet when they host arch-rival Nutley in the last of five straight home meetings. The local squad has a history of doing well against the Maroon.

Injuries to key performers have plagued the already undermanned Belleville squad. Against West Orange last week Bill Goodwin, a sophomore rated Belleville's best runner, pulled up lame after running only a mile of the two and one-half mile course. Goodwin is nursing a bruised left heel. He went for x-rays earlier this week and is expected to be lost to the team for at least another week.

In losing to West Orange, Belleville was also without the services of steady performer Steve Budrick, who was sidelined with a cold. Rich Sulenski, a senior and captain of the squad, also reported turning his ankle before the meet. He will be lost for two weeks. Bill Ivanwater of the Cowboys placed first with a 13:37 time. He was followed by several other West Orange performers before Frank Salerno of Belleville was seen in seventh place. Rocco Cuozzo was eighth and Bob Cozzarelli, a sophomore, finished in ninth place.

Belleville lost to Irvington, 15-48, last Friday at Belleville Park. Although the Bellboy runners showed

When we looked at our records, we found that we regularly got a call from this customer every year in the fall, complaining about the same condition. One of our technicians who is assigned to this particular customer knew right away what the problem was. The customer's home is surrounded by large trees which lost many leaves already. One would be inclined to think that the disappearance of the leaves would improve the reception. Strangely enough this is not the case in this instance. When we brought this to the customer's attention, he remembered that he had complained about the same thing in previous years. Such a change in reception is not at all unusual. As a rule the change is more pronounced in the spring, when the trees grow the leaves rather than in the fall, when they lose them.

A customer called our service department and he wanted us "to do something with his antenna." He said that ever since the broadcast stations put their antennas on the new Trade Center building, he can't get several stations as good as before, when the transmissions were from the Empire State building.

Of course we told the customer that there has not been any change; everything still comes from the same old place, but he did not want to believe us. He insisted that it must have some bearing on his reception, maybe it obstructed the wave pattern "or something", as he put it.

We got out a map of New York City and surroundings and held a ruler on the line from the approximate location of the customer's house to the transmitters and another one from the Trade Center building to the customer's house. There could not possibly be a bearing on his reception at the existing angle.

Bellboys Top Passaic,

Register Second Win At Expense Of Indians

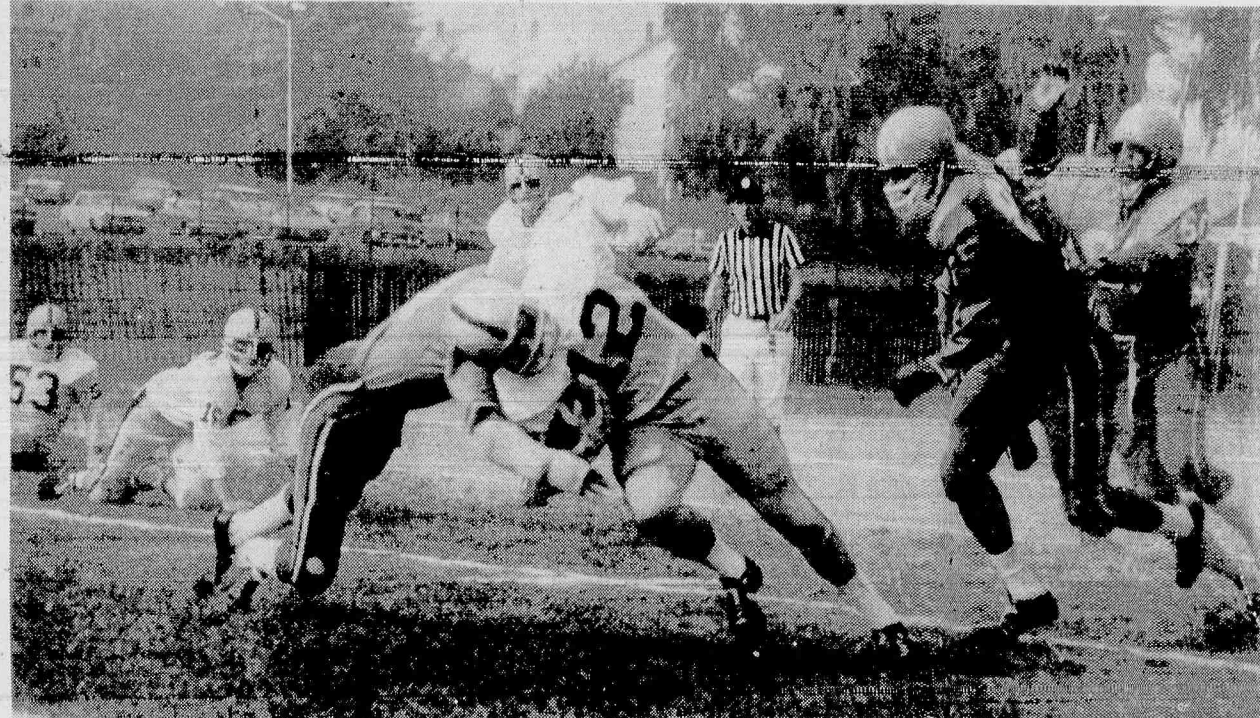

EXPLOITING the left side of the Passaic defense is quarterback turned runner (12) Joe Lotruglio seen gaining short yardage in second quarter action. Lotruglio as a running back broke the 100-yard mark. It's the first time this season a Bellboy has surpassed the century marking.

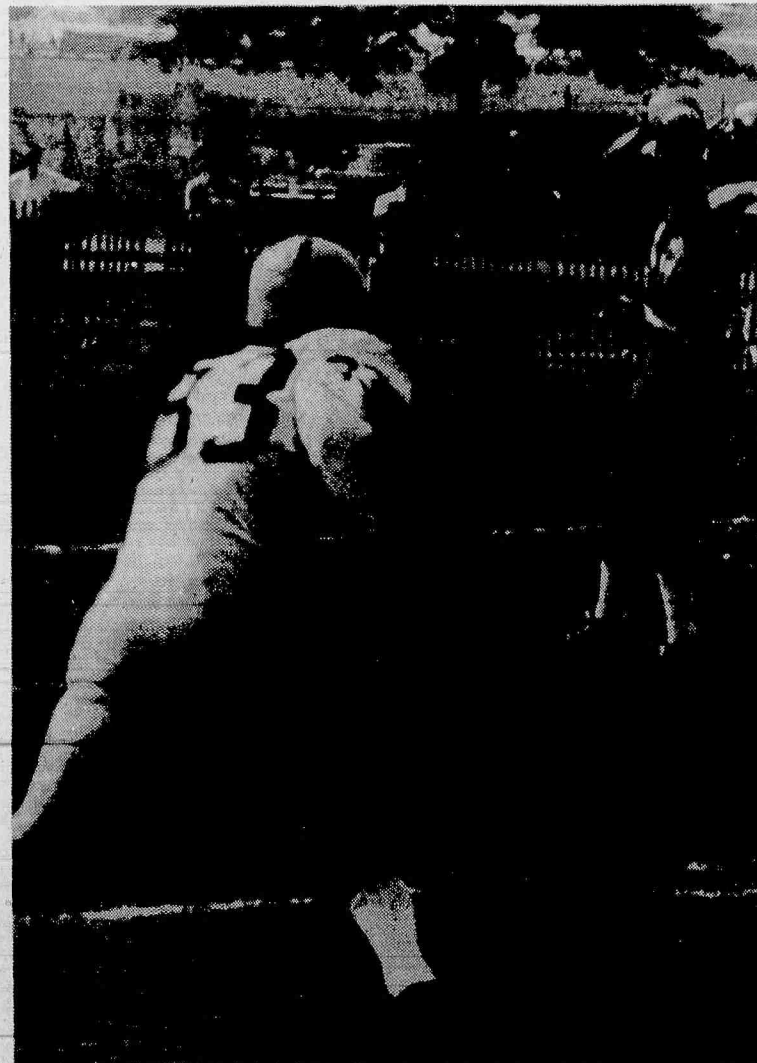

STOPPING Passaic's running game was the specialty of the Bellboy defense Saturday. The Blue and Gold defenders halted the Indians' running for only 66 yard for the game. Above, (21) S. Cook of Passaic is piled up after two-yard gain.

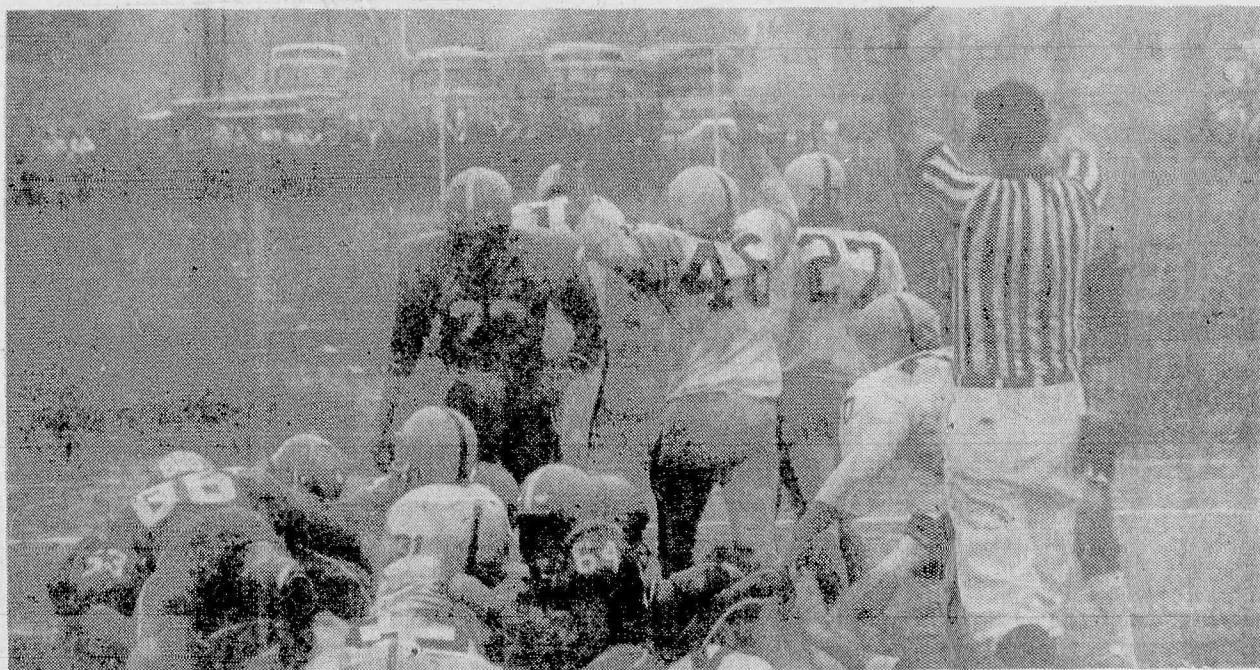

OPEN FIELD TACKLE is made by Belleville's Gary Falkman (33) on Passaic rusher B. Kline on opening series of play for Passaic Saturday. Kline made four yards for the first down but Bellboys stopped threatening drive.

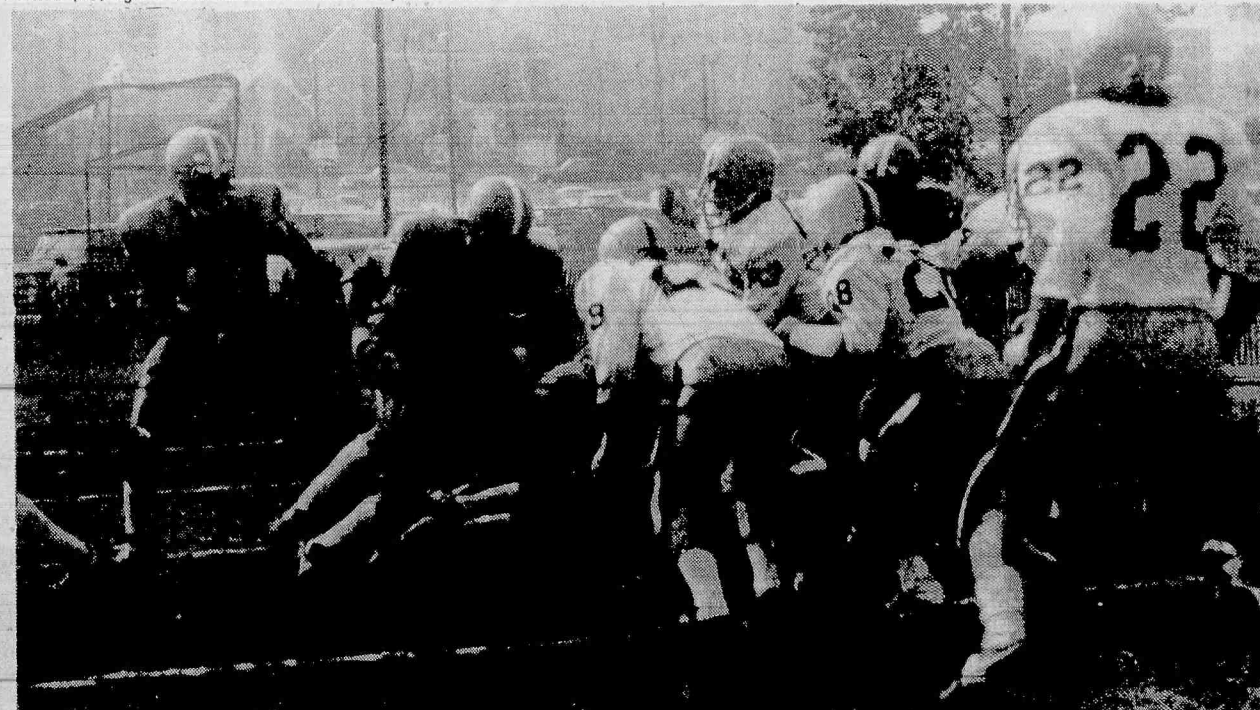

FIVE-YARD GAINER is made the hard way by (12) Joe Lotruglio in the field day running against Indians with 135 yards in 19 carries and a first quarter of Saturday's contest at Municipal Stadium. Lotruglio had a one-yard plunge for a touchdown.

INDIAN CATCH is made by Passaic's K. Gerald in first quarter Saturday. Reception was good for 12 yards but Passaic needed 17 yards for a first down. Coming up to make the tackle is Belleville's Gary Falkman, who plays left defensive end.

TOUCHDOWN for Belleville is recorded by Joe Lotruglio (partially hidden) on a one-yard effort in the third quarter. Belleville's Henri De France (46) agrees with the ref's call. Bellboys scored on 61-yard march bolstered by the running of Lotruglio. It was the first of two touchdowns for Belleville.

PASSAIC FUMBLE on this play by (44) B. Cook was the only one of the game by both sides. Indians recovered their own miscue but registered no gain on the play. Belleville's tough defense against the run helped shut down the Indian scoring machine until late in final stanza.

Three Arrested On Purse Snatch

Belleville police last Friday arrested two East Orange young men and a Bloomfield 20-year-old on charges of purse-snatching after receiving information of their whereabouts from the new All-County Alert System.

Police officials said the new radio system, installed at headquarters last year, was instrumental in the apprehension of the alleged snatchers.

Police report that a 73-year-old Newark woman was exiting from shopping at the A & P Mart on Franklin Avenue Friday afternoon when two young men asked her if she needed assistance. Police said the woman declined aid and began putting shopping bags in the trunk of her auto. It was then, police said, that the men grabbed the women's purse and fled.

An all-county alert was put on the wire by Belleville police after a description of the thieves and their license plate number was received from the woman and witnesses on the scene.

Glen Ridge police stopped the car in that Town a short time later and alerted Belleville police they had detained the suspects. Local detectives brought the woman to Glen Ridge, and she identified the suspects as the purse-snatchers.

The three are free on $100 bail each pending a Belleville Municipal Court hearing Thursday, Oct. 28.

Commission To Vote On Pool Hall Hours

A public hearing and final vote on an ordinance by Town Fathers to permit pool halls to stay open until 2 a.m. comes up Tuesday night at the Belleville Commission meeting.

It is the second time in as many years that the ordinance has been introduced. Last year the Commission turned down the ordinance.

The only pool hall in Belleville is the Guys and Dolls Lounge on Washington Avenue. The ordinance, if passed, would allow that establishment a 2 a.m. limit on hours.

Pool halls in Town are now permitted to stay open until 12 midnight, under a 1927 statute governing those businesses. The law also included bowling alleys but in 1960 legislation was passed to allow the Olympic Lanes here to stay open all night to accommodate late night bowling leagues.

'Cleaner Air Week' Is Proclaimed Here

Mayor Joseph McGreevy, in an announcement last week, has named the week of October 24 to 30 as "Cleaner Air Week" in Belleville.

In his proclamation, the Mayor said:

Throughout the nation, the week of October 24-30 has been designated as "Cleaner Air Week" so that people may better understand that preventable air pollution in any form is a public hazard which can be corrected through intelligent action involving engineering, equipment, research, and education.

The purpose of "Cleaner Air Week" is to promote a united educational program for cleaner air and to help build a better and stronger America. Our nation's greatest asset is the welfare and health of its people. For these reasons the abatement of the air pollution nuisance is of utmost concern to every American citizen.

"Cleaner Air Week" is a good time to do your part at least during this week by becoming more aware of your community's efforts being made in your behalf for cleaner air. Clean air is important to you. Remember, you are equally important to cleaner air in obtaining public support.

Therefore, I, Joseph McGreevy, Mayor of the Town of Belleville, do hereby proclaim that October 24-30 is "Cleaner Air Week," and I strongly urge all citizens and organizations to participate

What Candidates Are Telling Us

(The following is a summary of press releases submitted by candidates and political party offices. Space limitations prevent the publishing of all releases in their entirety — Editor.)

Dr. Lipman Will Lead Boycott Of Products to Combat Drugs

"No greater threat confronts the lives of all Americans more than the cancerous growth of drug abuse...and no single state can effectively cope with it." The statement was the opening line from a release dispatched by the Essex County Democratic Committee in behalf of Freeholder Director Dr. Wynona M. Lipman and her senatorial running mates, Ralph DeRose, Frank Dodd, Martin Greenberg and Henry

Aside from pledging to cooperate with law enforcement agencies, Dr. Lipman is quoted as saying that the Democrats will "personally lead a boycott by the American consumer of all products and services produced by those countries which contribute to the narcotics problem." No specific products or countries, however, were mentioned in the political release.

Caputo Is Rejoining Essex GOP; Pledges Support Entire Ticket

Essex GOP Chairman George Wallhauser Jr. released a statement reporting that Assemblyman Ralph R. Caputo has been appointed campaign director of the Republican senatorial, assembly and county ticket. The statement is significant because Caputo dropped from the regular GOP line in in the primary to oppose the organization's assembly ticket of incumbent John Dennis (Verona) and Carl Orechio of Nutley.

Caputo, who moved this past year from Newark to Belleville, was supported by Gov. Cahill which lead to further friction among party officials.

The statement issued by Wallhauser says Caputo accepted the post with "strong enthusiasm." Caputo himself is quoted as saying, "I endorse our entire GOP ticket. I will work for the victory of

Casta Says GOP, Demos Think Alike

Dr. S. Louis Casta, bi-partisan candidate for state senate, complained this week that "our state fiscal policies are taking us down the road to ruin."

He attacked both Republicans and Democrats for financial irresponsibility. "There is no difference between them...they both think and act alike," Casta declared.

He then went on to note that despite the sales tax and the lottery "which has proven to be far more successful than their wildest dreams...and still we are told they cannot afford to render the services we require."

Casta implied there was wrong doings in Trenton. "Where does all the money go??? I will demand...a public accounting of monies received," the candidate said.

Candidates Have Varying Views On N.J.'s Educational Problems

State aid to private and parochial schools was one of the topics debated by political candidates at the annual dinner of the Essex County Federated Boards of Education held at Barringer High School, Newark, Thursday night.

Sen. Milton Waldor (R-Essex) spoke against public tax funds going toward private or parochial education. Waldor and two of his Republican running mates, Senator James Wallwork and Montclair Mayor Matthew Carter, were the only senatorial candidates to address the Essex school officials. The Democrats for the most part were attending other political events.

Belleville Tax Assessor Peter Torre and his Democrat running mate, David Conrad, both candidates for the N.J. Assembly, were the only representatives from their party to address the Essex group. Also attending was Carl Orechio of Nutley, a Republican Assembly candidate. Orechio left early, however, and did not address the gathering.

Orechio, however, did tell the Nutley delegation at the dinner, however, that he did not agree with Waldor's position opposing state aid to parochial schools. Orechio said he favored tax funds being budgeted to aid private schools, noting that should Catholic schools close, for example, "the burden would be unbearable for the taxpayer in Essex County."

Most members of the Nutley Board of Education — as well as those from other communities — seemed to side with Sen. Waldor and against Orechio on the private school aid question.

Sen. Waldor was applauded when he declared, "I am unequivocally and without reservation opposed to any tax monies being budgeted for non-public schools." Waldor said he based his opinion on three points: (1) he feels such aid is unconstitutional; (2) he feels aid to private schools would not be accompanied with any substantial controls as to how the funds were to be utilized; and (3) the state government's first obligation is to support the public school system — "and there's no question that we have many school districts in New Jersey that are in grave financial situations which need any additional monies available before we start granting aid to private and parochial institutions."

Senator Waldor said he thought it "very unlikely" that all Catholic or private schools would suddenly close as some have suggested. "Even if that happened," Waldor said in response to a question by Torre, "I could not compromise: the state would then have to step in and assume its basic responsibility. The state cannot shift its responsibility in this area simply because of expediency."

Mayor Carter, who is seeking a N.J. Senate seat on the Republican ticket, spoke briefly on the prospects of state controls over local school districts increasing proportionately as state funding programs are expanded. Carter said he opposed state controls over local boards, "but I have a feeling home rule will diminish...a feeling based on simple history."

Sen. James Wallwork, another Republican, was kept at the rostrum longer than any of the other candidates as he fielded one question after another. Wallwork was questioned in particular on progress being made in special education and state health programs.

He noted his work in the Senate in providing additional funds for handicapped children. One bill he has authored would create "regionalization programs" for special educational programs with neighboring school boards participating much in the manner that Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield have shared responsibilities in this area for several years.

Specifically, Wallwork disclosed that he has asked Gov. Cahill to earmark $10 million of lottery monies for handicapped children. He didn't say how well he expects his proposal to be received, "but when I mentioned $10 million to the Governor, he took three steps backward," Wallwork said.

David W. Conrad, a Montclair attorney who is Torre's running mate on the Democrat ticket for Assembly, said his party's platform includes a plank supporting "the take over of most local school expenses by the state...and I and Mr. Torre are in strong support." Conrad said the crucial question for urban counties is increased state can survive, much less progress, if they have to be constantly concerned with the affect their budgets are having on local property tax rates," Conrad said.

Earlier, Sen. Wallwork on the same topic supported a different approach. "I would rather see the state take over the cost of the welfare program and thus free more local tax revenues for education to be applied by local control," Wallwork said. That approach, the Senator noted, would not create the problems of state control over local school districts.

Torre's talk concerned his own background, primarily, although he did say that if elected, he would follow a policy "of granting funds without any strings attached." Torre said such an approach, for example, would make it possible for Trenton to grant local school districts financial assistance — "and if it was done with no strings attached, then there wouldn't be any threat to home rule," Torre told the Essex officials.

-ELECT -
GERADO L. DEL TUFO
Essex County Freeholder

Jerry Del Tufo is completing a four-year term as one of your Essex County Senators. In the New Jersey Senate, Jerry serves on the important Federal-State Relations Committee and the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee. He was a prime mover to enact legislation providing for a railroad spur to service Newark Airport from the Pennsylvania Railroad.

As Senator, DelTufo has advocated legislation to freeze real estate taxes because he believes home owners cannot afford higher real estate taxes.

As Senator, Jerry led the fight for a state-subsidized school lunch program which became so significant that in Governor Cahill's Special Message to the Legislature last year the Governor made reference to Senator Del Tufo's efforts in this regard--a gubernatorial comment which is very rare.

Jerry Del Tufo is now a candidate for membership on the Essex County Board of Freeholders.

His proven record as a public servant with integrity and cautious handling of taxpayers' money has made Jerry Del Tufo one of the most outstanding legislators in New Jersey.

As an Essex County Freeholder, Jerry Del Tufo can be relied upon to provide honest government at the lowest possible cost.

Unity Concert Schedules Virtuoso

Julian Bream, the English virtuoso of the classical guitar and lute, will give a recital for the Unity Concert Course tomorrow evening, 8:30 p.m. in the Montclair High School auditorium.

A review, following Bream's very recent recital at the Alice Tully Hall, spoke of his incredibly light-fingered dexterity on both guitar and lute, and of the immediate bond of communication he established with his audience. Bream makes the most of the rubato phrasings, delicate harmonics and achieves dramatic sonic effects.

Julian Bream's program for the Unity Concert will include: LUTE
Walsingham - Alman, Pavan, Alman Cutting (C. 1596)
Toccata e Canzona Frescobaldi (1563-1642)
Three Fantasias Di Milano (1497-1543)

GUITAR
Partita in D Weiss (1686-1750)
Five Preludes (1940 Villa-Lobos)
Fantasia (1971) Malcolm Arnold (Fantasia was written especially for the guitarist this year and offered in its American premiere)

For reservations or further information, Call Barbara Russell, Unity Institute, Montclair, 744-6770. Tickets may also be purchased at the door, priced at $6.50, 5.50, 4.50 and 3.50.

Essex CYO Sponsors Annual Talent Show

The Essex County CYO will sponsor its annual "Stars of Tomorrow" Talent Show during the week of November 15 according to Cultural Director Bruce Byrnes.

Deadline for entering the contest, open to any member of a chartered County CYO parish, will be Saturday, Nov. 6. Winners in the contest will advance to the Archdiocesan CYO finals which will be held Tuesday, Dec. 7 at a time and site to be announced.

The talent contest will be split into two divisions - ninth and tenth graders will compete in the Junior Division, with high school juniors and seniors vying in the Senior Division.

Each division will have solo and group entries in singing, instrumental, dance and miscellaneous. This latter category would include monologues and pantomimes.

Qualified judges will determine the winners on the basis of selection of material, talent and presentation. Each parish is encouraged to hold its own Talent Search in preparation for the countywide competition.

Local Doctor Attends Scientific Assembly

Physicians from around the nation are convening in Miami Beach this week to exchange ideas and data on the practice of emergency medicine. The Third Annual Scientific Assembly of the American College of Emergency Physicians is the occasion and among the over 600 physicians, hospital administrators, nurses and other para-medical personnel is a distinguished local physician.

He is M.B. Hosseini, M.D., emergency room physician at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

The theme of the Scientific Assembly is "Inside the Emergency Department" and will focus directly on the care of the acutely ill or injured patient and the emergency treatment of that patient.

Among the outstanding medical speakers will be Roger O. Egeberg, M.D., special assistant for health policy and special consultant to the president on Health Affairs. Prior to assuming these duties Dr. Egeberg served as assistant secretary for Health and Scientific Affairs.

Other speakers include George R. Gay, M.D., San Francisco, "Drug Use and Abuse"; Barry Levine, M.D., Boston, "Appropriate Use of Blood Gases"; Donald R. Germann, M.D., Kansas City, "Emergency Radiology"; Peter Block, M.D., Boston, "Recognition and Treatment of the Life Threatening Arrhythmia and Myocardial Infarction"; William H. Havener, M.D., Columbus, "Management of Eye Emergencies"; and Alexander J. Walt, M.D., Detroit.
