Name Candidates For School Board

A field of five candidates is expected when voters fill two seats on the Belleville Board of Education in February. Leonard Back, current president of the School Board, has indicated he will run for another term but vice president Joseph Casale, this week revealed he is not seeking another term.

Mary Shader, Board Secretary, reports that although several petitions have been taken out, as of Monday only three have been returned to her office. Remaining candidates have until tomorrow, Dec. 30, to file petitions, up until 4 p.m. Back and another resident are expected to make the deadline. Drawing for position on the election ballot comes Friday at 8 p.m. in the Board of Education chambers.

Kindergarteners' Age Sees Change

Official candidates as of Monday morning include Charles Miele of 60 Mt. Prospect Avenue; Carl C. Garofolo of 297 Union Avenue and G. Fred Burlazzi of 18 Mt. Pleasant Avenue. Only Burlazzi, who is currently serving as a member of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, was a candidate in last year's school board race. In the February 1971 election Burlazzi finished strong and just missed out on taking a

N.Y. Jets May Play In Town

Final arrangements to have several members of the N.Y. Jets professional football team here in a benefit basketball game should be completed sometime next week.

The pro gridgers turn to the hardwood during the winter months and officials of the Craig Fabian Fund are now in the process of securing them for a contest, followed by an autograph session, at Belleville High School. The N.Y. Jets will play the Craig Fabian All-Stars, senior members of the best of Belleville's Recreation League teams.

Caesar Romano, a member of the Board of Education who is also serving the Craig Fabian Fund, heads the project to bring the N.Y. Jets here. Although he reports that no definite date for the contest has been established, it is expected that the game will be held sometime in February.

Subscription Price Slated To Increase

The annual subscription price of The Belleville Times-News will be increased from $6 to $7 beginning January 1. The newsstand price will remain at 20 cents per copy.

The subscription rate increase was forced primarily by the 10 per cent rate hike approved by the Nixon Wage Price Board for newsprint which goes into effect next month. Newsprint purchases represent the single largest expense for The Times, it was noted in announcing the subscription price increase.

Originally, newsstand prices were to have increased also on January 1. However, the Wage Price Board has delayed a postal increase plan which would have resulted in a 35 per cent cost hike for The Times.

The N.J. Press Association this week reported that newspaper postage rates could still be increased during the coming year.

The Belleville Times will also increase its advertising rates next month to help defray increased costs.

First New Year Baby To Receive Honors

It will be well worth while to have your baby born as early as possible on New Year's Day this year. Several Belleville businesses have banded together to honor the first resident born in 1972. A special program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and headed by Mrs. Sol Sherman will honor the first tot born to Belleville parents in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Sherman, who heads the Chamber's special projects committee, reports that the infant and parents will receive appropriate gifts for the occasion.

This year, an all-time high in gifts from business supporters will be ready to greet the first baby born to Belleville parents.

Mrs. Sherman, in her latest tally, reports that many area firms and stores have pooled their efforts. To date, gifts or gift certificates have been received from The Belleville Kosery, Louie's Men's Shop, Newark Light Company, the De Witt Savings and Loan Association, The Glass Company, W.T. Grant Company, Kondreck Photographers, Andrew Jergens Company and Hardman Incorporated.

Pre-Holiday Raid By Special Cops Nets Drug Haul

Now in its sixth year, the program has grown over the years and is currently one of the most popular events run by the Belleville Chamber.

Pre-holiday raids by county and local police officials netted four young men suspected of selling dangerous drugs and a Salter Place resident accused of maintaining a gambling house.

The narcotics raid, coordinated by special agents from the Essex County Strike Force with assistance from Belleville Detective Sergeant E. Olivieri and his detective squad, was reported by Deputy Chief Frank Haight as the largest of its kind in several months here.

Four Belleville males, all in their 20's, were arrested December 16 in a Greylock Park way home after two squads of police entered the premises at 6 a.m. Confiscated in the raid was 13 individual 10-ounce bags of marijuana, a pipe believed to be used for smoking marijuana and scale thought by police to have the dangerous substance weighed for eventual sale.

Held in lieu of $2,500 bail is a 29-year-old for sale of heroin. Police report that two 23-year-old residents are also being held for illegal sale of heroin, both on $5,000 bond.

Case Against Marotti Gets Written Decision

Yet another delay has again plagued the law suit against Commissioner Michael Marotti. Attorneys involved in the case now report that a final decision will not be rendered until after New Years.

The suit deals with the legitimacy of Marotti holding down two posts with the Town. Besides serving as Director of Parks and Public Property, he is a juvenile detective with the Police Department.

According to John Montefusco, a Belleville attorney with offices in Irvington, New Jersey Superior Court Judge Brendan T. Burns may give his ruling in 10 days. Judge Burns was expected to rule on the matter last Tuesday, Dec. 21, but at that time he reserved decision. But the magistrate promised a written opinion within the near future.

Both John Scott, Town Attorney representing Marotti, and Montefusco, who is handling the case for former Belleville Councilman James Golden and defeated Commission candidate Sal LaMorte, have filed briefs with the court. Montefusco reported this week that his partner Mike Smoller actually wrote the brief. Smoller resides in East Orange.

"I have no idea what is in the judge's mind but I'm still confident that we can get a decision in our favor," remarked Montefusco.

Scott, who is out of town this week could not be reached for further comment.

Montefusco does not know if he will further pursue the case further if a decision goes against him and his clients. The next step would be sending the matter to the appellate division.

"That is up to my clients and they have not indicated to me what they want done," he added. "But it will take a lot of money."

Local Girl To Enter Snow Queen Contest

Rosanne Castellano of 91 Tappan Avenue, a sophomore at Belleville High School, will represent St. Peter's CYO in the 24th annual Snow Queen contest to be held next month in Cedar Grove.

The 1972 queen will be crowned Friday evening, Jan. 14, at the Snowball Dance in the VFW Memorial Post Hall. Tickets are $8 per couple for the buffet-dance.

Sponsored by the Essex County CYO, Rosanne earned the right to enter the contest by being named the St. Peter's CYO queen. Interested persons wishing more ticket information may contact the Castellano home or ask any St Peter's CYO member.

Fabian Holiday Drive Picks Up Momentum

Officials representing the Craig Fabian Fund report that their special holiday season drive is picking up momentum. Residents are urged to send contributions to help support the worthy efforts of the Fund.

In its first two weeks of the holiday drive, the fund has received over $150 from area residents. Most of the donations come to the Fund in lieu of Christmas cards, annual contributions to charities, or death memorials.

This is the first year the Fund has used the Christmas and New Year holiday season to solicit money. Officers believe that by initiating the drive during the holidays, they can realize more donations than during any other season.

Already, the box score of donors shows many contributors. Included is Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patterson, $10 in memory of mother Pat; the Baber family, $8; and from Anthony Marella, a $10 donation; a gift of $21 received from the faculty of School No. Five; $2 from anonymous

Also arrested was the Greylock Parkway resident, who was also aged at 23, charged with possession and sale of marijuana. He is being held on $2,500 bail.

Belleville Municipal Court hearings for the four are scheduled on January 13.

The City-County Strike Force was also involved in a gambling raid in Belleville on December 21. The special unit was assisted by Belleville Detectives Thomas Ricci and Barton Rossi. The police entered the home at 8 p.m. while the raid was only a part of a three-county effort to crack down on illegal gambling. Raids took place the same day in Essex, Union and Middlesex Counties.

seat on the school board.

Sources close to School Board president Back say he will run again but as of Monday petitions were not filed.

Casale, who is just completing his first full term in office, said he is not running "because of the pressure of personal business."

A drug salesman with the Stuart Co. of California also runs the Wise Owl Nursery here with his wife and he said that is a major factor in his decision not to seek re-election. According to Casale, the nursery may be expanding in the near future and it would not be fair to the voters if they re-elected me and then I couldn't give enough time to being a board member," Casale added. "I don't physically have the time for the board."

It was a combination of factors in Casale's decision not to run again. As president of the Library Board of Trustees, he would like to devote more time to that position. He is also active in the Belleville Varsity Club and the Landolfi Welfare Association.

"I feel that to an extent I have been neglecting those organizations in favor of the board," he said. "I would like to devote more time to the other activities."

Casale ran for the Board of Education four years ago but failed to secure a seat. The next year he was more successful and gained popularity during his term until two years ago he was named the vice president for the board.

"I may come back again but at the present time it is impossible," Casale added.

A lifelong Belleville resident, Casale married his high school sweetheart, Carol Damiano. After graduation from the high school here in 1956, he entered Muhlenberg College and received a bachelor of science degree from there in 1960. He was a biology major.

The Casale family resides at 213 Fairway Avenue. The couple has two children. Cheryl is 10 years old and Tracy will be five this month.

Greco also foresees a move toward greater and more comprehensive attention to children in the three to five years age bracket in preschool classes in the next five years. "Look at the Soviet Union," he pointed out. "They are way ahead of the U. S. in educating their youngsters. If we can get more state aid, we will be able to put this program into operation here."

As far as the new age requirement goes, Greco said that several schools in the area have already changed their age stipulation as Belleville is doing now.

In all, about 20 children will be affected by the new date out of a total of just under 500 pupils but, Greco says, "call me in September and I'll give you the exact amount. Until then all we can do is speculate."

The First Taste Of War

Back in 1942 thousands of young Americans got their first taste of war, in World War II, on November 7th. On that day American and British troops landed in North Africa — to begin the fight against German and Italian forces which ended the next year.

Vichy French troops were in control where American and British forces landed. In some areas they didn't fight much, if at all, and the landings were carried out with little or no losses. In other landing areas, however, they opened fire on their former allies, the British, and the Americans who had joined the war after the French surrender.

Careful study of the U.S. campaign shows that it was not all glorious for the U.S. forces and command. Although we heavily outnumbered the Germans, who rushed into Tunisia to the east as a result of our landings, our troops were badly mauled in many of the battles. And despite films glamorizing certain U.S. tank heroes, by an objective measurement we came out second best in this ground campaign against the Germans. In the air the USAAF learned that its P-38's and P-39's were no match for the Luftwaffe's best fighters, the Me 109 and FW 190.

Viewed from the longer term, however, the North African campaign, having been won primarily with overwhelming numbers, nevertheless provided American troops with a blooding, with battle experience to prove invaluable in later campaigns; until this campaign, of course, the U.S. Army had been untried and untested in modern warfare. That is why, on occasions, a few hundred German troops sometimes forced thousands of Americans to retreat, using superior tactics, confidence and skill. The Americans learned their lessons, however, and became more efficient.

New Self-Service Banks

The next step in the swift march of banking automation and progress is the self-service bank-banks which offer seven-day service from offices filled with automatic machines, and no employees.

The Huntington National Bank in Columbus, Ohio, in keen competition with City National Bank, which recently announced its acquisition of automatic teller machines, says it hopes to have its first automatic branch bank open shortly after the first of the year.

The self-service bank office will contain an automatic teller machine, currency and coin changer, a stamp machine and scale for package mailing, a night depository, telephone line to the main bank, and a closed circuit television monitor to guard against vandalism. The customer can deposit funds, withdraw funds from checking or savings accounts, make loans, etc., by using a special card with magnetic coding in the teller machine.

Using self-service banks, then, one no longer has to look a Vice President in the eye when borrowing money. Development of a machine to automatically pay off the loan would be a welcome next development.

Johnson's Memoirs

A former President's memoirs are always interesting reading, inevitably revealing, and Lyndon Johnson's, now available in book form, are no exception. For example, Johnson writes that he was a reluctant candidate in 1964, when he won an overwhelming victory, and that he knew he would not offer for reelection in 1968.

Of course, he couldn't have been reelected in 1968, according to practically every reliable poll and analysis at the time. That might well have been a big reason he didn't let his wife change his mind then, as in 1964.

Not only did his wife make the 1964 decision for him, in effect, but he depended on her for pro and con written arguments which outlined his duty, the good of the country, the party, etc. Thus Johnson confesses to having been a man, to a large degree, controlled by his wife. That is neither tragic or evil but is eye-opening, and peculiarly American.

The Johnson memoirs, of course, contain much of value and are worthy of study. Moreover, its probable history will rate him one of the most productive and successful Presidents in the domestic field in U.S. history. But history's verdict is likely to be, also, that the former President was over his head in the field of foreign affairs, especially as to Vietnam.

Seems Only Yesterday Essay Contest Winners Announced By VFW Post

Five Years Ago

Mrs. Josephine Izzo, of 34 Van Houten Place, became the first woman to enter the race for a seat on the Board of Education when she filed her petitions with Mrs. Mary Shader, Board secretary. "It is time to call a halt to the overly obstinate attitude, unsound politics, and impractical methods the Board has employed over the past year," she declared. Mrs. Izzo would join Mrs. Thomas McCool as the second woman on the Board if elected.

Bernard O'Connor, a tough, 37-year-old ex-Marine sergeant, won his fight to retain his position as Town Plumbing Inspector when a hearing before Town Manager John R. Burnett cleared him of any wrongdoing after he had served three months without his plumbing license. O'Connor had passed the examination for plumbing inspector administered in Trenton and was firmly established in his position. Vincent Mustaccio, who had been acting plumbing inspector, filed charges against O'Connor claiming that he had falsified his qualifications for the job with Civil Service.

Three Belleville High School students were named winners of the 20th annual "Voice of Democracy" essay contest sponsored by the Younginger Olden Jr. VFW Post 375 and its ladies auxiliary. The winners were Patricia Porzie, 18 Arthur Avenue; Susan Muscara, 37 Clearman Place, and David Fersch, 30 Lincoln Terrace.

Ten Years Ago

Belleville voters accepted a school building program for a new senior high school for $2,982,000 and additional all-purpose rooms for Schools One and Four by a vote of 2,438 to 2,357. A light vote in all districts was seen to be the key to the proposal's success. Especially jubilant at the success of the referendum was the Board of Education. Board president Domenick Lally commented: "This is a step in the right direction. I am assured that we will be one of the best school systems in New Jersey."

Commissioner Nuncio R. Pico, Director of Public Affairs, was to seek election to an at-large council seat in the new council-manager government. Already in the race was Commissioner George F. Kiernan, Director of Parks, who had announced he would be a candidate for one of the three at-large seats. The new form of government had been adopted by voters in the spring. A five man council and town manager were to replace the five-man commission system.

Belleville High School students honored Hugh D. Kittle, their principal, at an assembly program. Kittle, who had been principal since 1935, was to retire at the end of the year. He was given a standing ovation from the students when he entered the auditorium. Students presented him with a television set as a gift. Making the presentation was W. Ralph Carrell, faculty member, who also gave Kittle a Santa Claus doll "to smile at him" and a five pound box of candy for his sweet tooth."

Twenty-Five Years Ago

As a wrap-up of the year 1946, The Belleville Times headlined its last paper of the year with a summary and comment of the preceding year which read as follows: "Shortages, particularly housing, food, and clothing, plagued the people throughout 1946. Exactly a year ago, a survey of the news of the year featured the ending of the great world conflict, and then the many veterans' problems that arose with the coming of peace. Today, little has been accomplished in the space of twelve months. The housing shortage is still desperately acute and in Belleville more than 350 applications were received for 52 temporary housing barracks. Prices of homes have skyrocketed, along with many essential items. The OPA controls were removed on practically everything except rent and cost of living continues an upward trend. Economists predict, however, that a recession will set in during 1947 and prices will shortly begin to level off and then drop."

Forty Years Ago

Three hundred paid tribute to Town Clerk John J. Daly, Democratic leader, at a dinner given at the Belleville Elks club to further his candidacy for nomination for county clerk. Frank A. Neary, of North Newark, former town commissioner, was toastmaster.

John Travers, of the Board of Assessments, resigned from his post with the statement that he believed the task of preparation and levying of long outstanding sanitary sewer assessments was beyond the capacity of the board.

Fifty Years Ago

Mayor Waters endeared himself to the people of Belleville by playing Santa Claus to the poor and giving coal to those who were in need at Christmas.

Mrs. Samuel Ridden of Cortlandt Street had as guest on Christmas Day Mrs. George Osborne, Mrs. Walter Lines, and Miss Elizabeth Darnley of New York.

Governor Sitting On Dynamite

To the Editor

Anthony Imperiale is that one man in a million who entered the political field as the hope of the people and is well liked by all, black and white, from his district.

As a marine, he served his country with honor and distinction; and was chosen by the people as their voice in Trenton by defeating both party candidates for a seat on the Assembly. He is their light and hope for the future.

I believe the statement made by Governor Cahill was in bad taste. Because of Tony's upset victory, the Governor is now sitting on a keg of dynamite. Since the statement created a storm of protest by his followers, and was a slap in the face to all the people, it will be remembered the next time around.

Tony has stated he is not a rubber stamp and his vote is not for sale. He will support anything that is good for the people.

During the campaign for Governor, Tony supported Cahill. He also received the backing of thousands of Italians and Irish. I was his ghost writer.

How can Tony think the way the Governor does when his way is dangerous and could create more serious problems; such as those created by the Vietnam War.

Tony is a friend of the people. His voice will be heard. They demand it. He should not be denied his day in Trenton because he does not agree with the policies of the Governor. His first interest is for the people. They have many problems.

Fond Memories Of The Season That Linger On

LITTLE GLIMPSES of the Christmas just past. Nothing significant, just what stuck in the memory of this mother.

Three days before Christmas. A fast trip to Newark to finish some last minute shopping. In a generous moment, I asked Ryan if he wanted to go. Delighted! As we waited on the corner of Alexander Avenue and Kingsland Street for the 28 Summer Avenue, a man turned the corner. My gregarious son greeted him. "Hello!" said Ryan. "Hello," replied the stranger. "Are you waiting for Santa Claus?" The innocent answered, "No, I'm waiting for the bus!"

Bamberger's. Bedlam. On the seventh floor, I finally found the mini broiler I had been looking for. Delivery before Christmas? Forget it. The longer I carried it, the more it weighed and as I trudged through the basement toward the restaurant, I was followed very closely by my young son, not so feared of losing me as of losing lunch.

Thursday. Trimming the tree with two eager helpers who were more anxious than skillful but who cares. Finding old and dear decorations in the boxes that brought back memories of Christmas past. Trying to impress on two darling demons that the tree was to look at, not touch and that ornaments, when dropped, break.

CHRISTMAS EVE. Putting Baby Jesus in His manger bed and lighting the stable. I wish I could have put the stable down lower so the little boys could look at it to their hearts' content but this year, discretion had to be the better part of valor and the fireplace mantle seemed the only safe place.

Assembling doll strollers and Ryan's tractor-trailer. Rod was working midnights so he went to bed around eight and I was left to cope with nuts and bolts and axles and wheels and other things foreign to this female. Hanging up four stockings and filling them with little things.

Christmas Day. Explaining to the boys that Daddy wouldn't be home until shortly after eight o'clock and we didn't go downstairs before then. And yes, I would have a look and see if Santa Claus really came. And when Rod got home, watching Gavin and Ryan chomping at the bit but gently leading the twins down the stairs and letting go of the little hands only when the sisters were safely at the bottom.

AND THE JOY. When something on the list sent to Santa appeared out of the wrappings and the acceptance when told that Santa had said no to that particular toy. Rod and I got a big kick out of watching the twins latch on to the strollers and baby dolls, hook a pocket-book on an arm and go off for a walk. We have gotten so used to trucks and airplanes and other "boy" toys that we really enjoy the clutter of dolls and dishes and toy brooms and mops.

It will come again, the birthday of the Babe of Bethlehem and a child's delight in what Gavin calls "the bestest time of the year".

The '71 World Has Been One Long Slaughter House

twelve member juries to six? Well, as you multiply judgment you reduce the margin for error. Right?

Someone said, "Worry is interest on a debt that never comes due." So among your New Year resolutions add "Worry no more."

It seems as the New Year emerges on the horizon the world has been one long slaughter house throughout 1971. When will the human race wake up and stop killing each other. A few years back many women leaders were blaming wars on men. Well, how about the two brilliant gals who lead India and Israel. Peace lovers? It has been said that Mercy is the highest attribute of Man. Should we dare add "Women"?

The 18-percent interest charged on BankAmericard accounts has been ruled to violate West Virginia's usury law. Maybe New Jersey's too?

THAD ROLAND, the Montclair GOP leader, recently compiled "a few facts and several observations regarding 1971 General Election results." Among the Comments Thad makes in his observations is that "It seems interesting to me that Orechio (Carl) ran 2,000 votes ahead of (Jack) Dennis (the two GOP Assembly C district winners), in Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, and 1,000 behind in Glen Ridge, Montclair, and Verona." There is a simple explanation, Thad. Montclair, Glen Ridge and Verona is an area which Dennis has represented in Trenton for four years. It is his home-ground, hence an area where Dennis was expected to garner more votes than Carl. Belleville, Nutley, and Bloomfield were home territories for Carl, thus it was possible to predict that he would lead the ticket. Carl's presence on the ballot brought strength to the GOP line.

A Happy New Year to Flight 896 attendants, blonde-bombers Mary Jones and Sandy Reed, Brunette Ann Marie Crawford and the eloquent Captain Hellmut Hetz and his capable flight deck crew.

Stews Jones and Reed did a superb job looking after the first class passengers returning to New Jersey after spending an 80-degree Christmas in Florida.

AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR to our readers, customers, advertisers, my wonderful employees, public officials, Republicans, Democrats, Independents, Young, Middle-aged, Old, and especially to Mom, my ever-loving wife Edith, my sister Mary, my brothers Carl and Carmen, my nieces, nephews, all my relations and near-relations, and Toni and Susie.

Belleville Man Serves As Account Executive

Charles E. Sutter of Belleville is one of two dozen account executives serving as the sales backbone of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce.

An employee of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. in Newark, Sutter is also active in the Belleville Red Cross program as a water safety instructor. He holds BS and MBA titles from Seton Hall University.

Urban Chambers of Commerce have changed dramatically in the past decade, reflecting the desire of business to meet head-on the problems of the American city. But at least one constant remains: the need for a strong financial base, and, considering the scope of Chamber goals, particularly in the Newark area, it has taken on perhaps even more importance.

Kiwanis Club Hears Of Trip

Joseph Zipt of 206 Fairway Avenue, Belleville, spoke before the Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook recently to report on the annual holiday excursion sponsored by the Bloomfield Kiwanis Club to Martinique, French West Indies.

Zipt described the living habits of the local citizens of the island. He also told of visiting a local Kiwanis club and described their activities and the food served during the meeting.

A long-time resident of Belleville and a past president of the Branch Brook club, Zipt represented the local club in this venture with the Bloomfield group.

The meeting was held at Parrillo's Restaurant in Belleville and was presided over by Sig Swiderski, president of the Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook.

On December 14 the club held its annual Christmas party in conjunction with a ladies night at Parrillo's Restaurant.

Bellevillites Dress Dolls; Earn Ribbons

Three residents of Belleville received prize ribbons for dolls they dressed in the 14th annual doll program sponsored by The Salvation Army at the Prudential building in Newark. Mrs. William Cahill, guest of honor, presented plaques to the grand prize award winners.

Prize winners from Belleville included: Miss Teresa S. Farina, 98 Forest Street; Mrs. Charlotte Butler, 7 Carpenter Terrace; and Miss Charlotte Butler, 7 Carpenter Terrace.

The award-winning dolls were among 2000 on display in the main lobby of the Prudential offices on Broad St., Newark. Supplied by the Army, the dolls were dressed by employees and friends of 15 companies in Newark, as well as the Madison National Bank, and the Colonnade Beauty Salon, Morristown. Many were dressed in native costumes representing the 71 countries throughout the world where The Salvation Army serves mankind.

The Salvation Army will distribute the dolls during the Christmas season to needy children through its traditional "Toy Shop" where mothers referred from various agencies select gifts for "Santa" to bring to their children on Christmas morning. Many of the dolls will also be given to children in hospitals throughout Essex County.

CYO Happenings At Holy Family

county competition with Barbara Michelli as runner up. Cathy, a senior at East Orange Catholic High School, is majoring in chemistry but loves acting and singing. She has been an active member of the CYO for three years. Escorting the new queen was Pat Triano, a senior at Essex Catholic. Music for the dance was provided by the Omega Band.

Local Nurse On S.S. Hope

Miss Veronica Rempusheski, R.N., a medical-surgical nurse from Belleville, was on board the S.S. HOPE when it arrived in Baltimore, Maryland, last month. She has served as a member of the permanent staff during the ship's ten month teaching-treatment mission in the West Indies.

Miss Rempusheski received her nursing education at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville and attended Fairleigh Dickinson

IN THE FINALS—Twelve contestants from Holy Family Church appeared in the county finals of the CYO Talent Contest. Nine winners were chosen to represent Essex County in the Archdiocesan contest and six of these nine are from Holy Family CYO. Winners in the Junior Division shown above are Jody Meola, singing, Louis Nosti, playing guitar and Karen Pepek, dancing.

SENIOR DIVISION—Members of Holy Family CYO who will represent Essex County in the Archdiocesan contest are Barbara Michelli, dancing, Tom Delario, singing and Cathy Mathias, doing a pantomime. Other finalists who will compete in the contest are from St. James Church, Newark and Our Lady of Lourdes in West Orange.

Say Thanks To All The Birds By Feeding Them In Winter

Are you just a little bit grateful for all the help you got from the birds during the spring and summer? Forget about the few berries they stole and try to imagine how many thousands of insects they put out of the way. But now the good times are over the livin' is not so easy. It's up to you to show some appreciation, says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

You don't need a lot of gadgets to feed the birds. Simple feeders will do, and almost every supermarket sells birdseed. Coconut shells make excellent feeders and so do baskets, old pie tins or cake pans. If you're lucky you may coax some birds to feed right at your windowsill.

In addition to birdseed, crumbs and certain scraps, birds like suet. The simplest way to feed suet is to tie a chunk of it to the limb. And the cheapest feed of all is water. Keep the bird bath filled and free of ice all winter and you'll be surprised how many birds you attract. A simple box fitted with roosts and a hole cut in the bottom makes a winter shelter.

Highlights of the groups activities include dances, cocktail parties, ski trips, and travel to many well known area resorts.

The group's objective is to provide a proper, pleasant atmosphere, through which Jewish single men and women can become acquainted on a social level. The organization is open to the public at all times. Membership is not required to participate. New Evergreens Need Protection Newly planted evergreens should be protected from the wind and sun during the winter months, says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County. There are several reasons for this needed protection, especially in the later winter months, but the most important one is to avoid burning which is caused by the lack of moisture.

The root system of a newly planted evergreen is not fully reestablished and able to absorb moisture, and very often the upper soil is frozen. In other words, the plant is losing moisture from the top faster than it is being replaced from the bottom.

If the buds at the tips of the branches of pine or spruce are burned you'll end up with a badly deformed plant because this is the only place new growth starts.

The middle of December is a good time to put screening around your plants. Burlap or reed matting mounted on a frame or wire makes an excellent screen. Do not cover the top.

Another means of protection is to spread 3 or 4 inches of coarse mulch such as wood chips, pine bark, pine needles, or licorice root, says Mr. Munk. The mulch will let the moisture and melting snow seep through. It also helps keep an even temperature.

Candidates Are Entering Snow Queen Contest

Holy Family CYO of Nutley and West Orange's Our Lady of Lourdes have entered the first two candidates for the 1972 Essex County CYO Snow Queen Contest. The successor to Miss Rosita Rooney of Our Lady of Lourdes will be crowned Friday evening, January 14 when the CYO sponsors its 24th annual Snow Ball dance and buffet at the VFW Memorial Post Hall in Cedar Grove.

tered parish in the Snow Queen Contest. Candidates must register with the Essex County CYO Office, 425 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair before Friday, Dec. 31.

Tickets for the buffet-dance, priced at $8.00 per couple, are also available at the CYO Office. Dress for the dance, social highlight of the CYO calendar, is formal or semi-formal.

Early entries in the Snow Queen competition are the Misses Anne McCarthy of 6 Stewart Terrace West Orange and Catherine Mathias of 75 Emmett Street Belleville the Holy Family hopeful.

Dance chairman Steve Seplaky of St. Peter's CYO in Belleville has announced that music for the occasion will be supplied by Satan's Jury.

High School girls from throughout Essex County are eligible to represent any char-

Ladies Nite At Meadowbrook

Your Weekly Horoscope

January 1 through January 7

Brought to you as a courtesy of

NICOLS PARK ESSO

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Week starts with a BANG! and ends with a whimper, Ari. But in the meantime, you make headway concerning personal decision. Use your imagination as well as your wits. Seek to understand motives behind action of one who annoys. Above all, be discreet: Know when to lower your voice.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Capricious action could cause the walls to come tumbling down on first day, Taurus. Avoid making promises which you know darn well are impossible to keep. By mid-week, make supreme effort to return to world of cold reality. Do not let delays depress you. Eventually, message arrives which will give your shattered ego a lift.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Mindless chatter on first day could get you into uncomfortable social snarl, as well as sap you of energy which you will sorely need later in week. Financial transaction looms. Be honorable and you wind up winner. Cast honor aside and everything goes down the old tube.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Tendency toward excess could lead to trouble, Moonlove. Basic responsibilities take top priority this week. Burden lightens if you tend to your knitting. Play around and you're sure to get the needle. Follow the straight and narrow, dear heart, and week ends on note of optimism.

LEO (July 23-August 22): A friendly roar is in order on first day, Leo, but after that keep your trap shut about what's troubling you. Talk may aggravate situation, which just may fade away if you don't make a federal case of it. Watch your behavior. Be like Caesar's wife... above suspicion.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): After initial splash of excitement, week calms. Energy may sag. Don't brood over matters which you cannot control. Only a fool tells the west wind which way to blow. As week ends, you see your way out of maze which presently exasperates.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): A teeter-totter week facing you, Lib. You are up and down emotionally. Moments of delight apt to be followed by feelings of despair. Don't hoist the white flag yet, love, for you have many a fling still to be flung. (Not this week, perhaps, but SOON.)

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Your health is highlighted this week, Scorp. Decisions you make now concerning daily habits have long-range consequences. Live one day at a time and savor the joys of Nature. Keep things simple. There will be plenty of time for shenanigans when you are feeling more fit. Trust Olga — and the stars.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Series of puzzling events may occur, Sag, which could cause you anxiety. Don't attempt to put pieces together at this time. Cycle may be low and judgment poor. Coast through week as best you can, and conserve energy. On last day, raid memory's ice-box and have a little midnight snack.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Week begins on note of chaos, Cap. Avoid temper tantrums. Loved one may unwittingly hurt your feelings. If so, play role of Pagliacci. Smile, even though your heart may ache. As week draws to a close, energy returns and you are your old sweet self again. Last day could be a real pip!

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Unspoken dialogue begins between you and member of opposite sex. This just could be the start of something BEEEG. Keep your antennae in good condition. Fuzzy picture clears before last day.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Ooh, la, la! Week ahead c'est magnifique. You, Pisces, are one of the natural joy spreaders, and in days ahead you do just that. You go forth and sow seeds of joy which later are harvested tenfold.

don't MAKE IT ONE FOR THE ROAD !

Not if you want to make it into '72! That slightly out-of-focus vision, that not-quite-perfect coordination can get a lot of laughs at a party. Out on the road it brings tears.

Drunken drivers aren't the only staggering figures. The statistics on car accidents caused by them are pretty staggering, too. And, a lot of people became statistics... courtesy of that chap who had to have just one more for the road.

It is the season to be merry. It is the time for good fellows to get together to celebrate. And we want you to keep right on celebrating—all through the year.

Remember. Tomorrow is the beginning of the rest of your life. Be here to enjoy it. Don't make it one for the road. Make it home safely instead.

Grapplers Romp Over Columbia In Successful Season Opener

By John McCarthy

Four second period pins, four decisions, and a default gave Belleville High School's varsity wrestling team a season-opening win over Columbia by a lopsided score of 42-12.

For wrestling coach Jim Silvestri, this is the third time in a row that his team has tamed the Cougars after being unable to do it for his first four years as Belleville mentor.

The pins came to three of Belleville's greenest wrestlers and to their best. First year men Ramon Lijo at 98 pounds, Mike Resciniti at 115, and Bill Natale at 157 recorded three of Belleville's pins, while the fourth was gained by team captain John Mustacchio.

Lijo opened the match with the first six points for the Bellboys as he took down Columbia's Ray Marks in the first period, exchanged reverses with his opponent in the beginning of the second and recorded the pin at 3:44.

After Lijo's pin, Fred Arena, last year's varsity 98, nipped Columbia's Jeff Metzger 5-4 at 106 pounds. Arena's victory came as a result of his scoring a three point near-fall, while his opponent only managed a predicament. Both wrestlers also tallied a reverse. Metzger was also the varsity 98 for Columbia last year with a winning record and was the District Champ as a sophomore at 98 pounds the year before. Arena was a sophomore last year and had a 6-7 record.

Belleville's Mike Resciniti moved into his pinning combination at 3:02 of the second period while leading Columbia's Mark Sanborn 9-3. Both 115 pound wrestlers are sophomores and were in their first varsity match.

At 123 pounds, Brian

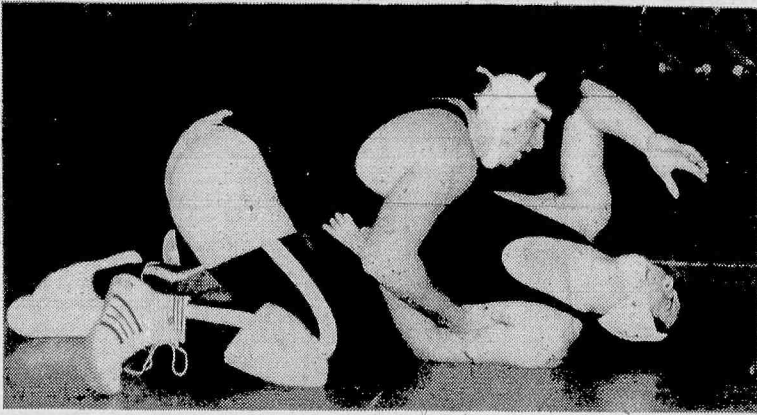

Banda beat Columbia's Dave Moskowitz 6-4 on a third period reverse. The two met last year at mid-season and Banda won that match 2-0 on a second period reverse.

The 130 pound bout between seniors John Mustacchio and Columbia's Gene McNany, started off as a scare for Belleville but turned out to be one sided with "Boff" scoring his pin at 3:36. McNany was awarded the takedown after only 10 seconds of the first period and a near fall 11 seconds into the period, and got ahead by scoring two near falls before the period ended.

The second period looked like Boff would be unable to pin as he reversed in six seconds, but could only move McNany into two more near falls. McNany gained control for a few seconds later on before Boff reversed, positioned another near fall and HEAVYWEIGHT John Smith leans back as Columbia's Steve Adams cries out in pain. Adams was unable to continue after injury to ankle during this hold.

PRESSING DOWN HARD on Belleville's Steve Andrews competing in the 136-pound division during last week's season opener is Columbia grappler Sean Stoddard. In just a few moments the ref will signal that the Bellboy wrestler has been pinned as Andrews lost in 3:29 of this match. Bellboys for the most part gave good showing in topping Cougars for first win of the season.

REFEREE Hoscin Payne signals a two-point takedown for Columbia's Dave Moskowitz. Belleville's 123-pounder Brian Banda came on with a third period reverse to win 6-4.

TEAM CAPTAIN John Mustacchio reaches out to grab Gene McNany in the first period of 130-pound bout. Mustacchio pinned McNany at 3:36.

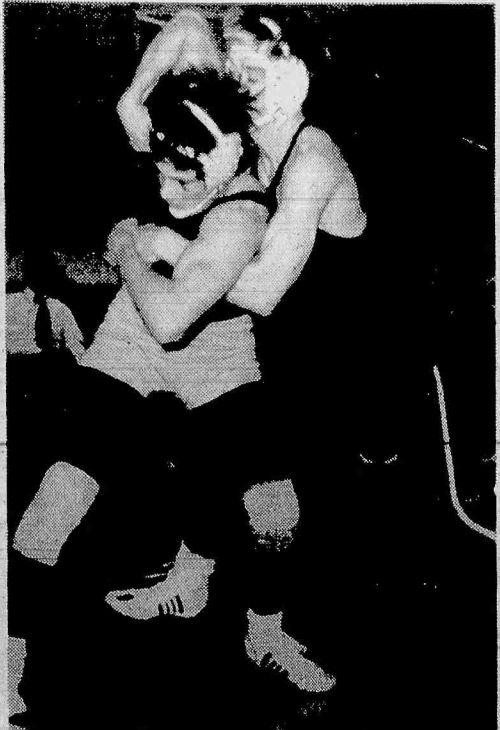

LOOKING UP at Columbia's Dan Moskowitz is Rich Sulenski, Bellboy competing in the 130-pound division. Columbia's Moskowitz took control of the match to register 3-0 win.

HEAD WRESTLING coach Jim Silvestri comes onto mats to dispute a call made by ref Hoscin Payne. Ref penalized Brian Banda of Belleville for ripping off his

Blows Open Ballgame

Orange Spoils Home Opener For Quintet

By Tony Calabrese

The Orange Tornados broke open a relatively close ballgame with a 37-point third period to defeat the Belleville Varsity Basketball Team by a score of 99-72 in the cagers home opener. Paced by star forward Walt Wright's 23 points, Orange relied on their fast breaking offense to maintain a steady advantage throughout the game. Senior co-captains Ken Zoppa and Mike Petronaci led the Belleville attack with 17 and 16 points respectively.

Belleville gained an early 3-0 lead in the ballgame on a foul shot by Vin Turturiello, and a lay-up by senior forward Gary Soldo. However, Orange soon caught up and went ahead, led by nine points to lead Belleville in the quarter 23-18. Turturiello had 7 points to lead Belleville in the quarter, and the Bellboys also hit all ten of their foul shots during the first period.

Orange jumped out to a 28-18 lead at the beginning of the second period before the Bellboys started to turn things around. Zoppa's 10 points helped to spark a 16-10 burst for the home club. Baskets by Mike Petronaci and Joe Lotruglio brought the Bellboys to only four points of the period for a 42-34 halftime lead.

The opening minute and a half of the third quarter saw Orange maintain their eight point lead at a score of 46-38. At this point Belleville's center Ken Zoppa picked up his fourth personal foul forcing his removal from the game. With Zoppa out of there Orange took over total command of the rebounding over a much smaller Bellboy club on the floor. Larry Hill hit on a lay-up and Walt Wright hit two jumpers in a row, and Orange was on their way. With eight different players scoring, Orange outscored Belleville 37-15 in the period, thusly taking a 79-49 advantage into the fourth quarter.

Things went much better for the Bellboys in the fourth period as they outscored Orange 23-20 in the quarter. The 23 points represented the most that Belleville has scored in any one quarter this year as is the 72 points they had in the game, being a high for the year. The loss dropped Belleville's record to 1-3 on the year while the victory was Orange's third victory in four tries.

Frosh Cagers Beat Garfield

Using an aggressive man to man defense and a patient offense, Belleville's freshman basketball team, nurtured an early 10-1 lead to trounce Garfield's frosh 60-14.

Garfield scored the first point of the game on a free throw in the first moments of play, but the Baby Bellboys scored the next ten points and never were behind again.

Anthony Carr and Abdel Anderson combined for 39 points to lead the offense.

Outstanding defensive performances were handed in by Arthur Cetrulo, Steven Gerard, Ted Perih, and Victor Pasquillo. These four players were important figures in allowing Garfield to score only two points in the second half.

Wrestlers Get First Victory At Columbia

Belleville's first loss of the day came at 136 pounds. Columbia's Dan Moskowitz, twin brother of the 123 pounder, shut out Belleville's Rich Sulenski 3-0 on an escape-take down combination in the second period.

The second loss came at 141, where Steve Andrews was pinned at 3:29 by Columbia's Sean Stoddard. Both Andrews and Sulenski are first-year varsity grapplers for Belleville.

Walt Bennett got Belleville back on the right track as he shut out Columbia's Steve Frampton 4-0 at 148. Walt scored on a take down at 1:55 of the first two minute period, controlled for the whole second period after starting on top, and scored again in the third period on a reverse at 0:55. Walt and Mustacchio were the only two Belleville wrestlers to receive first place seatings in today's Bloomfield Holiday Tournament.

Bellboys Lose Fourth As Mounties Breeze

The varsity cagers of Belleville High School saw their season record fall to 1-4 last Thursday evening as they lost to Montclair by a score of 85-53 in Belleville. The Bellboys played the game without star forward and co-captain Mike Petronaci who was out of action due to a shoulder injury suffered against Orange. Belleville's other co-captain Ken Zoppa did a fine job in trying to pick up the slack which Petronaci's absence left by scoring a game high of 26 points. However, Belleville fell behind early in the ballgame making it an easy night for the Mounties.

Montclair's Seth Hillman scored the opening basket of the game for his team, and Vin Turturiello of Belleville countered to tie the game at 2-2. However, a basket by Chuck Clark and three buckets in a row by Charlie Moses gave Montclair a 10-2 lead, a lead which they never lost for the rest of the night. Frank Petite scored for the Bellboys

Freshmen In Tight Contest

Coming back from as many as 17 points behind, the Belleville freshman basketball team nipped Essex Catholic's frosh squad by a score of 53-52.

Essex held a 20-7 lead at the end of the first quarter, but lost ground in the second period as Belleville closed the gap to 9 points at the half, 28-19.

In the second half, Belleville took over. They outscored Essex 34-24 after intermission for the final score. Steven Gerard gave the freshman a big lift in the fourth quarter by netting 12 points.

It was not all offense though, the Belleville defense stopped Essex just often enough to protect the offense. Arthur Cetrulo and Ted Perih lead the defensive charge for the Baby Bellboys. Belleville's 6'4" guard also helped. After getting into foul trouble in the first quarter, Abdel Anderson held Essex's top scorer, Clark Anderson, to only six points in the second half, while Abdel had four fouls.

High scorer for Belleville was Anthony Carr with 25 points. Carr's 9 points in the second quarter helped Belleville regain its footing.

making the score 10-4, but then the Mounties with a 15-6 burst, featuring 8 points from Dave Coleman, took what amounted to a 25-10 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Two foul shots by Ken Zoppa and a jumper by Mark Corino brought the Bellboys within eleven points at 25-14

Initial Win Is Scored By Jayvee Grapplers

The Belleville junior varsity wrestling team romped on Columbia's jayvee squad by an even larger score than the varsity. The JV's recorded six pins, two decisions, and a forfeit victory against two decisions and a pin for Columbia. Both teams also scored under the new rule of an extra team point for an individual decision won by ten or more points.

Three of the pins for Belleville came in the first period, while another three came in the second period of the respective bouts. First period pins were scored by Bob Cozzarelli at 115 pounds, Bob Willette at 123 and Charles starting the second quarter, but once again Montclair took over command. Sparked by ten points from substitute forward Guy Whitlock the Mounties steadily increased their lead to the point that they were leading at halftime by a score of 50-23.

Bogart at 136. The second period pins were scored by Charles Rilli at 106 pounds, Jerry Frunzi at 168, and Robert Luongo at heavyweight.

The four point decision was scored by William Mazza at 130 pounds, where he topped Columbia's Pertal 1-1. Another decision was scored by Joe LaValle 7-6 at 141.

The forfeit was awarded to Jim LaCanti at 178 pounds.

Belleville's losses came at 98 where Pat Donoyan lost 4-0 to Columbia's D'Amico, at 148 where Fred Taylor was pinned in the second period by Columbia's Jeff Pans, and at 157 where Mike Servidio was beaten 12-0 by Columbia's Buchler.

BECK'S COLUMN

MAX BECK

The consumer electronics industry is on the threshold of a whole new series of products and services. The exact timing is difficult to pinpoint, however most of these things will be around within a span of about 5 years.

We are talking about (1) over the air subscription TV (STV), (2) multichannel two way cable TV systems (CATV), and (3) video playback and recording devices.

All of the above is in existence now, in limited areas and in relatively small quantities. All of these systems have one thing in common, they will use the color television receiver as the basis. A new range of entertainment, education, information and other services will become available. In repeated surveys a large number of people have indicated that they want greater variety and quality that advertising sponsorship alone cannot support.

Probably STV (over the air subscription TV) is going to be the first of these services available to the public. The feasibility has been explored for about 20 years. Law-suit after law-suit and Government regulations galore hampered an earlier start. All seems to be cleared away by this time and it may not be long until you will be able to pick programs not available otherwise. The system requires a so called "decoder". Without this device you see only a scrambled picture. You have to insert a card into the decoder which registers the program you selected and unscrambles the picture. By the end of the month you mail the card to a billing office. You may figure out the cost yourself or wait until you receive a statement, which you pay just the same as any other bill.

New Year Driving Risky

With the approach of New Year's Eve, motorists were warned today to beware of what the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association terms "The four deadly D's."

In an elaboration of the theme that gasoline and alcohol don't mix, the Association cautions: "This is the time of year when drugs, drinking and dangerous road conditions can, in any combination, advance from the realm of potentially hazardous to deadly."

"Now more than ever," the NJPhA continues in a warning issued from its office in Trenton, "driving must not be combined with drinking and must be tempered to take into account use of drugs, even legitimate use, since dangerous road conditions are likely to prevail."

"At best," the Association asserts, "driving while partying is an invitation to disaster. The threat is heightened if the driver is taking medication for flu or any of a number of other ailments."

"Antihistamines make for drowsy driving, and so do sedatives and tranquilizers. They can temporarily impair vision, cause dizziness, interfere with concentration. Judgement is undermined, inhibitions released and reaction delay increased."

"When icy or snow-covered highways are added to the other threats, along with the intensified traffic flow always associated with holidays, it should be plain to all the safest course is to leave the driving to working professionals."

Teachers Assn. Wins Allegiance

A little noticed political campaign has been waged in New Jersey over the last three years to win the allegiance of the state's public school teachers. Almost universally, the winner has been the professionally oriented New Jersey Education Assn. over quicker-triggered teacher unions affiliated with the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO.

In three successive recent weeks, representation elections have been held in communities selected by the teachers' union as the best places for them to challenge incumbent professional associations. In all three places—Trenton, Matawan, and Linden—the N.J.E.A. affiliates won lopsided victories.

The Public Employment Relations Act of 1968 gave teachers and other public employees negotiations rights for the first time in New Jersey history and permits them to select an "exclusive representative" for collective negotiations by designation or by election.

After passage of the act, teachers in almost all of New Jersey's 575 functioning local school districts designated the N.J.E.A. affiliate—the local education association—as their bargaining agent. The exceptions came in three communities that traditionally were considered general union strongholds—Perth Amboy, Woodbridge, and North Bergen.

Because blue-collar membership in organized labor was declining, some national union leaders were campaigning to sign up white-collar workers at the time the act became law. One group eyed by labor was the nation's force of over two million teachers.

However, since 1968, the teacher unions have taken only two districts away from N.J.E.A. affiliates. Both union wins—in Newark and Bayonne—have been attributed to local issues and conditions.

Meanwhile, N.J.E.A. has continued to grow. Since the end of World War 2, its paid membership has increased annually. In 1968, when the negotiations act became law, N.J.E.A. had 59,441 active members. In the school year ending last June, 68,117 teachers elected to pay dues to the organization. N.J.E.A.'s services and staff have grown proportionally.

The union's biggest election win came in November of 1969, when the Newark Teachers' Union unseated the Newark Teachers' Assn., an N.J.E.A. affiliate.

At the time, union officials proclaimed that teacher unionism would spread from Newark, first reaching New Jersey's other big cities and eventually taking over in suburban and rural school districts throughout the state.

This has not happened. Despite labor hopes, teacher unionism has not spread in New Jersey for several reasons.

Your School Administrators

Frank S. Scelba Chairs Music Department At The Junior High

The following is the first in a series of articles designed to familiarize the public with the Belleville School Administrators. Many of our administrators have a variety of backgrounds, not only in advanced education, but in a variety of professional areas. These experiences enable our school leaders to understand more thoroughly today's problems and thereby communicate and relate with our young people.

Frank S. Scelba is the Music Department chairman at the Belleville Junior High School and he serves as supervisor of the instrumental music K-9 for the School System. He received his testimonial certificate in flute from the New York College of Music. He received his bachelor of science degree in music education from Westchester State, his masters degree from Montclair State, a supervisor's certificate from William Paterson College plus additional graduate credits from Fairleigh Dickinson University. He is a member of the Belleville Administrator's Association.

Before coming to Belleville, Scelba was director of music at Hackettstown Public School System and also served three years with the U.S. Military Academy Band at West Point.

For the past four years he has been a member of the adjunct faculty at Jersey City State College where he is a member of the faculty woodwind quintette, teaches graduate and undergraduate flute students, and lectures on the evolution of the flute and its literature. For thirteen years, he was music director of the Wallace and Tiernan Glee Club. He also served for one year as choral director of the Belleville Jewish Temple at which time he arranged an instrumental overture to the cantata "What is Torah" and performed it with a children's choir.

During his nineteen years in the Belleville Public School System, Scelba has been directly responsible for many curriculum innovations in the music department. Mainly, he initiated the "Survey of Music"—a ninth grade elective course for students especially interested in music.

This course, which offers full credit, uses the talents of different music teachers and touches on the science of sound, the human ear, history of instruments, evolution of music literature, theory and vocal. Scelba conceived and originated the Fifth Grade Instrumental Music Projects which have been taught in Belleville for the past ten years.

This instrumental project has been written in the New Jersey Educational Journal and is advocated by curriculum specialists and copied in many school systems. Scelba originated the All Grammar School Orchestra, All Grammar School Band and the Annual All Elementary Instrumental Music Festival which has been in effect for the past nineteen years in Belleville. Eight years ago, Scelba along with Seymour Grossman, principal of the Junior High School, set up the present music schedule in the Junior High which allows all instrumentalists to have one period of band or orchestra per day, plus one group lesson on his instrument per day, plus one group lesson on his instrument per week. Any student may participate in any of the three choruses which meet daily. Although the Junior High structure in Belleville is only eight years old, neighboring systems who have had the junior high concept much longer have copied some of this scheduling system.

At the suggestion of Anthony Greco, superintendent of schools, on October 30, Scelba submitted a comprehensive report on the "Evaluation of Belleville Music Curriculum and Suggestions for Bettering the Program". As a direct result of the recommendations of this report, Scelba was asked to develop a totally coordinated program in music in grades 7-12. This program was initiated in our school system this year. In developing the program, Scelba had to work closely with Raymond Smith, principal of the Senior High School, Grossman plus the Guidance Departments of both schools.

In addition to his busy teaching life, Scelba has managed to be flute soloist with orchestras, such as N.J. Symphony, Opera Classics, Valley Opera, North Jersey Philharmonic, N.J. Opera Society, Bergen Mall Theater Orchestra, Garden State Symphony and college community orchestras of William Paterson, Montclair and Jersey City State Colleges. He was featured soloist with Met opera star Roberta Peters at the Garden State Arts Center before a live audience of 8000 people. Some of the concert artists he has accompanied are Marianne Anderson, Van Cliburn, Marilyn Horne, Jan Peerce, Beontyne Price, Wm. Warfield, plus many others.

The concert field is not his only interest. Last year, Scelba played at the Garden

Arts Center for Tom Jones and Jose Feliciano. In past years, he has accompanied such pop artists as Jack Benny, Joey Bishop, Pat Boone, Dick Clark, Rosemary Clooney, Connie Francis, Edie Gorme, Bob Hope, Alan King, Steve Lawrence, Rowan and Martin, Fred Warling, plus many others.

At present, Scelba is involved with two special projects with Mort Birkin, director of art, which affect the Belleville Curriculum:

1. A Music and Art Lecture Demonstration Concert—an awareness program for all of the sixth graders in Belleville.

2. An effective music and art program at the Garden State School. Scelba is married to the former Irma Rizio, a third grade teacher in the transportation workers, 8.9 East Paterson School System, He has three teenage children, David, Paul and Carol.

Essex Teachers Expecting More From Contracts

Essex County teachers are now placing boards of education on notice that they will be expecting substantially more in negotiated benefits in their 1972-1973 contracts. So stated Ralph Mazzocchi, president of the Essex County Education Association, last night at a meeting of representatives of the 21 Essex County teachers' associations.

"We will expect parity with that already granted nearly six million workers in 1972 contracts, all of which exceed the 5.5 per cent general wage and salary standards set by the Pay Board," Mazzocchi emphasized. "Why should the 5.5 per cent standard apply to teachers in Essex when the Pay Board has already approved salary increases which exceed that limit?"

The Pay Board has already approved salary increases of 16.8 per cent for coal miners, 11.9 per cent for construction workers, 9.5 per cent for third grade teacher in the transportation workers, 8.9 per cent for those in the service industry, 8.1 per cent for those in wholesale and retail trade, and 16.5 per cent and 16.3 per cent raises for those in paper and food processes, respectively. "No other industry or profession has been treated so shabbily in recent years as teachers," Mazzocchi remarked. "We are tired of being accused of being non-patriotic while simply trying to catch up."

An NEA (National Education Association) survey shows that the average salary increase of beginning teachers with a B.A. degree was 3.1 per cent this year compared with 7.3 per cent last year, or the lowest increase since the 1964-1965 school year. The increase at the maximum salary level is even lower—only 2 per cent compared to 11 per cent in 1970-1971.

The Association leader continued, "Perhaps teachers could live with 5.5 per cent if everyone else agreed to also, but teachers have always lagged behind other industries. We do not intend to perpetuate this practice while inflation continues to wipe out our ability to keep up with the cost of living and to accumulate some savings."

No matter what other state you call (except faraway Alaska and Hawaii), it always costs less when you dial station calls yourself without the services of an operator. Especially on weeknights and weekends when savings are especially big.

For example. During weekend bargain-calling times*, a 3-minute coast-to-coast station call costs $1.10 plus tax—if you use the services of an operator.

But the same call is reduced even more—way down to only 70¢ plus tax—if you dial it yourself without the services of an operator.

Golden Agers Will Be First On Bus

Members of the Golden Age Club next Tuesday will be the first riders on the Parks Department's new 26-passenger bus. Two shuttle runs will be made around town to pick up Golden Agers in time to attend the group's regular meeting planned for the Elks Club. An elaborate time-schedule was worked out by George Pignatore, the town's new senior citizens' counselor. "We're leaving a little extra time on the running schedule until we know exactly how long each trip will take," Pignatore remarked when asked about the seemingly lengthy 45 minutes given for each of two around-the-town trips.

The bus was donated to the Parks Department by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Amiano and has since been refurbished by the town. Acting Parks Commissioner Carmen Orechio says the vehicle will be utilized for town-sponsored youth activities, such as field trips, in addition to assisting senior citizens in getting to and from events such as next Tuesday's meeting of the Golden Age Club. "We hope to launch a service to and from the shopping district of our town for senior citizens too," Orechio reported.

In releasing the bus schedule for next Tuesday, Pignatore notes the entire trip for each run will be 45 minutes.

Macbeth

By Bill Hamilton

There comes a time in everyone's life when he or she must read the great works of the old masters of the pen. The time has come again in my life. After countless hours of reading such titanic masterpieces as Julius Caesar, As You Like It, and Othello, the time has come for Macbeth! A great many Seniors at Belleville High are now struggling over its countless "methinks" and "wherefores", suffering much of the mental and emotional torture that was endured by Macbeth himself.

For those who are not familiar with this play, it was written in the year 1606, although we are not sure, since it did not really appear until several years later. Macbeth was most likely written by William Shakespeare, but it may not have been. As a matter of fact, there may well have never existed a man named William Shakespeare, and even if he did live during this time period, he may not have written any or all of the plays for which he is given credit. Confused? We've only just begun!

Macbeth was a general in an army in Scotland, which was ruled by a king named Duncan. Macbeth meets three witches, who may not have actually existed, but may have been in Macbeth's imagination. But this other general, Banquo, also sees them. ...but maybe he only said he saw them. Anyway, these witches tell Macbeth that he is to become king. Macbeth, certainly not displeased with the idea eventually gets around to killing the king and having Banquo murdered, because his wife nagged him. She is named, quite imaginatively, Lady Macbeth. Eventually, Lady Macbeth jumps to her death and the tormented Macbeth fights someone named Macduff, and loses his head over the whole thing. If you have managed to stay awake throughout my slaughter of Macbeth, you are a lot better than the average student. Imagine reading the real thing! Some say that Macbeth is a play of ambition; others insist it is a play of human nature; still others contend that this is a work on man's emotional instability; I believe it is rather sleep-inducing. One thing is for sure in Macbeth, and that is that nothing is for sure.

My point is this: Macbeth is a play, and plays are not meant to be read. Plays are created to be performed--acted out! Much more could be gained in several hours of watching Macbeth performed on stage or by seeing the movie made from it, than by reading it over a period of several weeks. And why not read and see something a little more modern? Something does not have to be old, to be good!

On behalf of the staff of the Student Page, I wish to express our hope that this holiday season may be a happy one, and may it bring a lasting peace to all.

Alumni Tea Gets 250 Participants

The Annual Alumni Tea was held at Belleville High School on Tuesday night, Dec. 21. This was the first Tea to be held at night and the turn-out was very good, with about 250 Seniors and Alumni returning. This year's Tea honored the Class of 1971.

There were excellent refreshments served prior to the program, which were made by Mrs. Agnoli's Vocational Home Economics Classes. Mrs. Agnoli and her classes have a reputation of excellence both in the school and the community for their fine work.

The program was an informal question and answer session which proved inspirational and rewarding for all concerned. Adding to the success of the evening was the reunion-like atmosphere of the Tea, where old friends met each other for the first time in many months.

Everyone Has Right Being Wrong Sometime

By Anthony Buccino

Everyone everywhere has the right to be wrong. Being wrong is a misconception. No one is ever right while no one is ever wrong. Man's Conscience is the lawmaker of the Universe. General laws are often broken. When one breaks a law, he may or may not believe that it is wrong. In his mind, it may be right. This is his individual prerogative.

If we take away man's ability to err, he would be dehumanized, a robot. Robots have no wills, only computer minds. Computers cannot think, they can only perform what they are programmed to.

There is an accepted right and wrong. This is needed to preserve civilization as we know it. Rules are basically for the betterment of the majority. The minority usually thinks only of itself, the radical minority that is. In proving this, they strongly defy the laws set up by the majority. The world would be a sad sight if there were absolutely no minority consent. Violent minority is incarcerated for the preservation of peace in society.

Kindness may be the panacea necessary to cure the violence present here today. Kindness is too often exploited. There is no total solution which would end strife but that is because there is not supposed to be one.

Holiday Sale For Key Club

The Belleville High School Key Club held a periodic meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 21. President Steve Rovell brought up a few important fund raising campaigns coming to a close.

The first was the sale of Christmas wrap and bows by the members to raise money for the treasury. The second, was a campaign by the Key Club International to raise funds for the hospital for handicapped children. Money was collected by the distribution of canisters throughout the town in different stores.

The club has also been active in its usual business matters such as maintenance of bus shelters and ushering school activities. Recently, many club members have participated in the program for basketball and wrestling ushering for home games.

On Tuesday, the Key Club had a guest speaker from West Point. He was a senior cadet from the famed military academy. He told about life at the academy both socially and academically. He also informed us how to go about getting into the academy, and the advantages and disadvantages. At the close of the meeting the cadet passed out initial forms for entrance to those boys who were interested.

Soccer Team Lauded

By Anthony Buccino

Coach J. Alan Gavitt received a trophy from the Belleville High School Soccer Club in "deepest appreciation" for his "untiring" efforts aiding the Soccer Club. The Trophy was presented at the December meeting held after school in the high school. Eighteen members of the soccer club received their certificates and a group picture of the team which are suitable for framing. The soccer club is open to all Belleville High School members who wish to join. The team met every Wednesday evening during the summer at Municipal Stadium.
