School Board, Commission

Two Governing Bodies Okay Lease Agreement

The Town Commission and the Board of Education Tuesday night entered into a mutual leasing agreement which looks like it further solidifies relations between the two governing bodies.

In an unprecedented move, Commissioners entered into a long-term lease of the vacant second floor of the recently purchased Prudential Building to be used by the School Board for its new administrative offices. The Public Affairs Department, headed by Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, now occupies the first floor of the two-story structure. Town Fathers gave the second floor to the School Board free of any money agreement.

As if to also offer good faith, the Board of Education leased a large triangular tract of land adjacent to Belleville High School for use by the Parks and Public Property Department. Commissioner Michael Morone, who heads that department, plans to build a recreation complex there, including a new baseball diamond for the BHS varsity baseballers.

The Town received a 33-year lease with two renewal options for a total of 99 years, barring any pressing educational needs for the property. The tract measures 150 feet by 450 feet in a triangular shape. There is no money involved.

The School Board, on the other hand, received a five-year lease of the second story of the Public Affairs Building. With that they received three successive five-year term options to renew the leasing agreement. However, the lease stipulates that the building can be used for education purposes only.

Both Boards seemed relaxed and congenial at the signing during the Tuesday Commission meeting. Commissioners unanimously adopted the resolution

Reinstate Administrator Pay Hikes Says Board

By John J. Bonavich

By a solid 5-1 vote the Board of Education Thursday night voted to reinstate raises in pay to superintendent of schools. Anthony Greco and his assistant Michael Rosamilia. But the School Board, in the same action, reserved the right to take away the salary boosts December 31.

The only dissenting member of the Board, Caesar Romano, who moved the motion two weeks ago to freeze the pairs' pay, said he would submit a minority report to be placed in the minutes of the meeting. Five School Board members on June 26 voted unanimously to hold up Greco's and Rosamilia's pay hike, claiming a personal clash between the two had hurt school system operations. The Board then set a date of last Thursday to review their position.

Although the five Board members were receiving $28,000 per year and his pay was boosted to $29,624 while Rosamilia, who was making $24,780, got a jump to $26,100.

Both president Mahmorian and Board member Lawrence Schwartz made statements hinting that the whole affair had been mishandled and blown out of proportion by

Bids Are Received But Then Rejected

Thursday evening the Board of Education received bids for construction work on new administrative offices in the Public Affairs Building on Washington Avenue. Monday evening that same School Board rejected those bids.

Poor Attendance Blamed

Commissioners Shelve Pathmark Hours Bill

After a short but interesting public hearing, the Board of Commissioners decided to table an ordinance to regulate the opening and closing of certain retail stores here.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy decided to table the measure because two of the five Commissioners were absent from the Tuesday meeting.

The bill seeks to govern the retail stores and businesses selling food and non-alcoholic beverages. In calling for a maximum 11 p.m. closing and 5 a.m. opening of all food stores located in Belleville, the measure provides a maximum $500 and/or 90 days in jail as a penalty for violators found guilty.

Two Pathmark officials headed a list of about 10 persons offering an opinion at the public hearing. Of the 10, only two agreed with the ordinance in its present form. Most speakers said they saw no harm in keeping food stores open all night and said that the 24-hour opening would benefit rather than endanger residents.

The measure, which has taken well over a month to get to its present state of seeing a public hearing, was necessitated when the Pathmark food chain adopted a five-state policy to keep all its 96 stores open 24 hours per day. Some area communities have already adopted ordinance regulating 24-hour hours and Commissioners reportedly came up with the bill after studying the way other municipalities handled the problem. The only food store currently affected in Belleville would be the huge new Pathmark in the Silver Lake section of Town.

Commissioners about a month ago were polled as to whether they supported the ordinance and all of them indicated they would back the bill. Robert Laterza, director of Public Safety, is the sponsor of the ordinance. He cited that keeping the Pathmark open all night would prove both hazardous and dangerous to area residents and added that the all night opening could bring undesirable elements into the neighborhood.

Another Pathmark store on Washington Avenue closed before the all night policy was instituted and Mayor McGreevy remarked at the Tuesday meeting that he had met with Pathmark representatives on what business the food chain intends to rent the vacant building to. Mayor McGreevy added that he was grateful to Pathmark for holding up on terminating their lease to another business until the Town could study the situation and possibly make a recommendation.

Town Clerk Eugene Barnett reports that he received a petition Monday afternoon appealing to Commissioners to oppose any store other than a food store to occupy the premises where the Pathmark used to be on Washington Avenue. The petition contained 178 signatures. It is believed that many senior citizens in the area are being inconvenienced by the Pathmark closing. A number of seniors residing on Washington Avenue are without transportation and relied upon the Pathmark for

His Dissenting Opinion Challenges Greco's Post

Board of Education member Caesar Romano this week offered his dissenting opinion on the action of the School Board in reinstating the salary boosts of superintendent of schools Anthony Greco and assistant superintendent Michael Rosamilia.

Romano was the only School Board member last Thursday night to submit a 'no vote' on the two top administrators' pay hikes. He filed the written opinion Monday with Mrs. Mary Shader, School Board secretary, and a short time later, when School Board members were attending a Board of Commission meeting to witness the signing of the new governing bodies, Romano personally delivered a copy of the opinion to each member.

School Board members had no immediate reaction to the opinion. In fact, Board president, Richard Mahmorian, would not comment on the opinion, whether or not he received a copy of the dissent. Romano commented on his opinion.

The written dissent, to be made part of the minutes of both the June 26 meeting, when Greco's and Rosamilia's salaries were frozen, and the July 6 meeting, when their salaries were reinstated, disagrees with the School Board's actions at these July gatherings. June 26 the Board froze the salaries of the two administrators, claiming the pair was not working in harmony and the school system may suffer due to a personality conflict between the two.

The written dissenting opinion in its entirety follows: I respectfully request that a copy of this dissenting opinion be made a part of the minutes of both the June 26, 1972, and July 6, 1972, meetings.

It is the opinion of this minority view that on July 6, 1972, the Board of Education should not have granted the Assistant Superintendent and the Superintendent their increments for the 1972-73 school year without first having some indication as to their performance under the proposed new guidelines.

The Superintendent of Schools must assume the responsibility of the actions of his assistant, and all other subordinates, in the school system as well as the ultimate responsibility of running each and every school. If he allows personal differences to thwart his efforts without instituting any corrective measures, then he alone should assume the responsibility of his office.

To the best of my recollection, the Superintendent and his assistant have not provided us with any insight as to new procedures, methods and programs to update and modernize our curriculum. The Superintendent has yet to furnish us with details and pertinent information regarding the effectiveness of our present curriculum. In fact, he has failed to provide us with any guidelines as to where we are, where we are going, and how

Twelve Teachers List Retirement

Twelve teachers were honored last Thursday evening by the Belleville Board of Education upon their retirement from the School System here. Each teacher was presented the Testimonial Scroll of Honor by School Board president Richard Mahmorian for service rendered.

Included in the group was Dr. Samuel W. Peck, director of music, who spent over 26 years in the school system. Three teachers from School One were Mrs. Augustus Klein, 41 years; Mrs. Mary Gilroy, 27 years and Mrs. Jean Dufford, 20 years of service. From School Two, Mrs. Helen Starrs with 30 years of service retired.

Also retired was Mrs. Margaret Snyder, School Three, 37 years; Mrs. Jessie Fritts, 29 years, and Miss Evelyn Pozzo, 42 years, both of School Four; Mrs. Mae Mazza, School Seven, 42 years; Mrs. Stacy Yaskell, School Eight, 42 years; Mrs. Anne James, School Ten, 17 years, and Miss Alice McKenzie, the high school, with 30 years of service.

Delightful Trip Through Belleville, Only This One's Located In Paris

(This feature item was submitted by Nathan Gottlieb, former editor of the Belleville Times-News, who last Fall visited Paris and found to his surprise a delightful sector of that great city with the same namesake as our Town. Here are his observations and parallels of the Belleville in France and the Belleville we live in. Ed.)

A letter came last week from a friend in Paris and it got me to thinking about the time I spent in that city last fall and particularly about the Boulevard de Belleville, a delightful avenue running through the picturesque Montmartre, the oldest section of the city, lined with trees, and jammed with exotic cafes pouring out onto the sidewalks.

It is on this avenue that the oldest open-market in Paris convenes seven days a week rain or shine, sprawling eight or nine blocks down a center island dividing east and west traffic. To get a feel for the immense size of the market, you must imagine six or seven large supermarkets setting up shop outdoors, their wares spread from Rutgers Street clear to the North Newark border.

And even then we are not prepared for the site that greets you.

When the night is still upon Paris—about 4 a.m.—the trucks begin rolling in from the farms outside the city limits, bringing the fresh produce and the meat and other assorted goods which are to be displayed for the day's shoppers. The trucks park along the center island, and if you are early enough you are attracted to a fascinating sight: an endless array of food and wares, fresh, pungent, unpackaged and processed, taken from the trucks and placed on long card-table type benches, ready for display, while the stock is stacked up gingerly behind the counters to be used as needed.

But most people come upon the market when the sun is up and everything has been laid out for sale, marked, grouped into attractive displays. And what a sight it is.

I came upon the market quite by accident.

Working on a thesis with a French student, I had the better part of a day to kill and decided to ride the Metro (the French subway) and get off where I pleased and stroll until hunger would call me into one of the cafes along the sidewalks.

Naturally when I saw the Metro station stop "Belleville," I was curious, having spent three years as news editor of the Belleville Times-News, and convinced no city by that name, no street, small town or otherwise could ever quite fascinate me, perplex me in quite the same way as Belleville, N.J. had.

It is quite a sight, and undoubtedly astounded the average Belleville, used to the A&P or the Pathmark or any of Belleville's other supermarkets. And yet, our supermarkets would perplex, even amaze the Parisian, who would be totally ill at ease shopping in big air-conditioned stores, using bright metal carts to the accompaniment of piped-in music, everything neatly, stierly laid out, a dream of order and efficiency.

And the prices.

That head of lettuce you pay 39 or 29 cents for here in town will run you anywhere from 10 to 15 cents in the Belleville market. Or consider cheese, roughly 80 cents here for a good imported; there it will hit you for less than a quarter. And wine. Wine, good wine can be had for under a half dollar, with the rare vintage going anywhere from 85 cents to 2 or 3 dollars or so. And there are countless more examples of how the Parisian pays less for better quality food than his Belleville counterpart, one reason being he doesn't pay for service or the upkeep and maintenance of the store, nor are farm wages or farming costs anywhere near what they are in inflation-ridden New Jersey.

After my days spent wandering and buying in the Belleville market, picking my way past the cheeses, breads, two feet in diameter, and the large, brown, crusty breads and the fresh meat and the fruit braved with water from a sprinkler can, I found a small North African style french restaurant and had a good meal and a half bottle of rose and toasted the friends I had in Belleville, New Jersey. Paris, if they'd ever find their way to the section of Paris with the same name, wondered if any Belleville housewife who wants only the best for her family would come upon this shopper's paradise hidden far away on a hill overlooking the panorama of Paris, a city unlike any other in the world.

And I wondered some more and then I finished my wine and went home, happy I'd seen such a remarkable Belleville, and secretly smiling because the Belleville I'd been in, in its own way, was an interesting place too.

Board Member Romano Offers Dissension

we are to get there. It is as though there has been a communications breakdown at his level because of a lack of planning.

The Superintendent, in fact, has not given us a concise and detailed analysis of our present school system listing our strengths as well as our weaknesses. We have yet to see recommendations for either long-term, or short-term growth or goals. I don't think it would be unreasonable for us to expect the short-range (what we intend to do for the next year). We don't have any forecast as to what is going to happen for a long-range program (3-5 years). We have yet to determine the criteria which will be used to evaluate any new programs. The Superintendent has not furnished this Board of Education with a job description for an administrator, or a teacher applicant. He has not provided for in-service programs in the area of new procedures and curriculum. There has not been formulated to date a concise, detailed job description of the Superintendent's Office. They both share the responsibility of stifling the intangibles which are evident when people cooperate with one another which is necessary for the total growth of the system. It also creates the incentive in the teaching ranks to perform harmoniously. In short, it sets an example.

The Superintendent has not proposed an educational philosophy to guide our system which is necessary for the growth, character and stability of the system.

I most emphatically oppose the adoption of this resolution. To allow an increase in salary to these men is tantamount to allowing salary without evaluating the services rendered, and, I repeat, until there is a complete reaffirmation of the duties and responsibilities of both these administrators to the Board of Education and their performance quotient has been established, I feel that their salary increments should be held in obedience.

The Board of Education should move now to establish the criteria by which these men will be judged before the date of the first evaluation—October 1, 1972. It is certainly not professional to surprise them with an unfavorable, or favorable, evaluation without first establishing the criteria to be used to judge their performance. If we can then show the foresight necessary to determine in advance the criteria to be used to determine their effectiveness, we may avoid problems at a future date.

Only by their performance should they be granted an increment. For us to determine their performance necessarily requires time, understanding and cooperation by all parties concerned.

The ultimate responsibility of running an efficient school system rests with the Board of Education. I feel Mr. Greco's attack on me in the press reduced this to a personality conflict between he and I. While I refused to comment to the press on a personal basis, I would suggest that the Board of Education hold him directly responsible and accountable for his actions. There are no personalities involved as is witnessed by this report. It is the Office of the Superintendent that I challenge, and while I may respect both men as capable, the fact remains they have not performed to my expectations.

In any reference I wish it noted that Board Member G.

Fred Burlazzi was not in attendance and took no part in the vote.

Respectfully submitted,
Caesar Romano, Jr.
Board Member

Salary Freeze Fails

understanding," said Mahmarian. "During the next six months their (Greco and Rosamilia) job specifications will receive a thorough evaluation and the Board will look further into their job descriptions. We are entering a new era in our school system and we are moving ahead."

Schwartz, on the other hand, was stronger in his comments. "I don't think the personal business of the school system should be aired in the press," he commented at the special Thursday meeting.

The resolution states that Greco's and Rosamilia's salaries are fixed at the boost indicated from July 1 to December 31, at which time the School Board will again vote whether or not to extend those raises. Mahmarian explained that the Board is still in the process of setting up new job evaluations for both administrators. Mahmarian added that Rosamilia's job description must be expanded upon and his responsibilities broadened. The Board president was confident that the ruling by the Board was the correct thing to do.

"We feel it will work well. We will have a three-month evaluation and again another full evaluation at the end of December," Mahmarian commented. "The Board is looking to improve the system."

Mahmarian claimed "the press blew the whole thing out of proportion." As to the personality conflict between Greco and Rosamilia, Mahmarian believes the two can operate in harmony and the Board's decision Thursday evening was looked upon as a vote of confidence that the two top administrators can work together.

If you know all the answers to the problems of your friends, keep them to yourself.

Young Democrats President Is Back From Convention

Larry Spinelli, president of the Belleville Young Democrats, recently attended the convention of the New Jersey Young Dems in a three day session held June 16-18 at the Atlantic City Holiday Inn.

Spinelli was one of the eighteen members of the delegation from Essex County, the largest at the convention. All counties were represented and the number of delegates was determined according to population.

Spinelli is a junior at Drew

University and is completing his first term as president of the newly formed Belleville Young Democrats. Spinelli was the only delegate from northern New Jersey who served on the convention's rules committee. Many important resolutions were acted upon in this committee ranging from the legalization of marijuana to the Governor's tax proposal.

The convention also elected a complete new slate of officers who will serve for the next two years. The new president is Ted Yim of Mercer County who defeated Bob Russo of Newark. The convention also endorsed the candidacy of George McGovern for the democratic nomination for President.

Spinelli said of the convention, "We acted upon many problems in varied fields. Many may seem a little impractical and unrealistic at first glance. Our hope is that the New Jersey Young Dems can be the catalyst group within the regular party to get some of these needed reforms changed from words on paper to reality."

Local Pair Guilty Of Defraud Intent

Essex Employed Down Says Census Bureau

William James, 19, and John Thomas, 25, both of 20 Bayard Street were convicted of intent to defraud in Belleville Municipal Court in separate trials over the past two weeks. Judge Edward Abramson sentenced James to two months in the Essex County Corrections Center and four months probation and a $100 fine, and sentenced Thomas to 40 days in the center.

Employment in the private sector of the New Jersey economy totaled 2,121,075 in March 1971, a decrease of 44,221 from March 1970, but payrolls amounted to $3.9 billion, up $144 million, ac-ording to a report issued today by the Bureau of the Census, Social and Economic Statistics Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Essex County had the largest employment, 346,110, a decrease of 15,982, and payroll, $669.8 million, up $7.5 million from a year earlier.

The report, "County Business Patterns, 1971, New Jersey," is the latest in a series of annual reports providing first quarter economic statistics for States and counties. It presents data by detailed industry classification on mid-March employment, first quarter taxable payroll, and the number and employment size of reporting units for those private, non-farm business firms reporting to the Social Security Administration under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (F.I.C.A.). A special mail survey is conducted to obtain industry and county detail not reported to the Social Security Administration.

About three-fourths of all employees in the United States are covered in the reports for the 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa and Guam, and the U.S. Summary.

Not included are employees of Federal, State, and local governments, self-employed persons, farm workers and those employed in domestic and certain transportation services.

The detailed reports are useful to business and governments in administration and planning, analyzing market potential, setting sales quotas and budgets, and measuring the effectiveness of sales and advertising programs.

Copies of the New Jersey report are available at $1.25 from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, or from Department of Commerce field offices in major cities.

Assault, Drugs Tied

Randy Logan, 18, of 532 Mill Street pleaded guilty to two charges of being under the influence of barbiturates and one charge of assault and battery July 6 in Belleville Municipal Court. Judge Edward Abramson sentenced him to jail terms of six months, thirty days and 20 days, all of which were suspended, placed him on probation for two years and fined him $200.

Logan was arrested at his home July 26 by Patrolman Richard Gough for being under the influence of Tuinol. He was released on bail and re-arrested on the same charge the next day, when he was also charged with an assault on his step-father, Edward Utter.

bids ranged from a high of about $30,000 to a low of $20,000. "There is too big a gap in those bids," remarked Mahmorian. "Also, we received only one bid on electrical work. It is the Board's policy to reject all one-bid items."

Three general construction bids were received Thursday night as opposed to only one bid on electrical work. There were no bids received on heating and air conditioning work. The School Board has decided to throw out all bids and reevaluate.

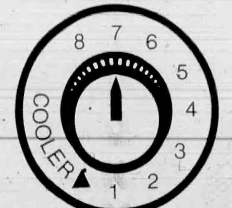

Also, the Board has decided to make cutbacks in construction plans to save on costs. As an example, Mahmorian cited the proposed platform in the Board of Education chambers.

"At first we planned to erect a platform two or three feet off the ground so the Board of Education table would be raised in the general meeting room. Now we have decided against doing that, which saves up about $1,500. The Board has done without this platform in the past and they can do without it in the future. Why spend the money if we really don't have the money," said Mahmorian.

The School Board still hasn't decided how to fund the project but two areas were mentioned by Mahmorian. First, he said there may be enough surplus in the budget to handle the construction costs or, the project may be included in a bond issue or whatever other means the Board decides to utilize in its building maintenance program.

The School administrative offices are currently housed in School No. 8 and moving offices into the Public Affairs Building would realize four classrooms desperately needed in that School.

Tax Reform Just Fancy Way To Spend More $$

To the editor:

The cleverest way to squeeze more money from the taxpayers on a national, state or local level so that the politicians can "tax and tax, to spend and spend, so as to elect, elect", without having the sheep squeal too loudly, is to have the taxes dressed up in "tax reform". If properly disguised, it is possible to get many taxpayers ardently working to get themselves shorn.

Our state politicians are exceedingly adroit in this connection for they are enlisting the aid of the property owner to raise his overall tax burden without his realizing it. The bait dangled so temptingly before the homeowner is that the proposed $1.5 billion tax package should result in an average 40 percent reduction in his property taxes. The price to be paid for this presumed saving is merely a graduated state income tax and a statewide property tax.

Only a few years ago, New Jersey was one of the few states so benighted that not only did it not have an income tax but it did not have a sales tax. The politicians have been busy remedying such defects and modernized New Jersey to the extent that it now suffers from a state sales tax, and they are presently bent on really bringing the state into the 20th Century by attempting to impose a state income tax.

As for property taxes being reduced, there is little assurance that it will be anything like the amount assumed. It is an old but sad rumour that once a tax is levied, it endures forever, and the trend is for it to increase rather than decrease. In the 1930 depression, New York City levied a temporary sales tax of 1 percent to help the needy. Now 40 years later, this temporary tax is 7 percent. It's as temporary as death.

Of course, in order to make it appear that the politicians are keeping their promise, no doubt, at first the homeowner's property taxes will be reduced. But this will only be very temporary for as taxes in the long run go in only one direction—upwards—it can be sure that the homeowner will ultimately wind up not only with higher property taxes, but an income tax, not to mention the sales tax.

Even if one assumes that the claims of the politicians are substantiated, and the overall taxes on real property are reduced, with the slack being taken up by the income tax, such would not necessarily help present nor prospective homeowners. This is because land value constitutes such a large proportion of the assessment. If taxes are lower, it means the price of the land will be much higher, as an inverse relationship exists—the lower the taxes, the higher the price of the land. This aids land speculators, but it means that after paying an outrageous price for land, the prospective homeowner will have that much less to spend on building his home. With land so expensive, the trend will be that instead of private homes, multi-storied buildings will be erected so more of the people will be living like rabbits in warrens.

If the politicians really want "tax reform" which will benefit the people, let them implement the suggestion contained in the report of the N.J. Tax Policy Committee. One of its recommendations is to give to the larger cities in the state the right to change property taxes to a system under which "land is assessed at full value and improvements are one-half full value." This is the germ of a good idea. What actually should be done is to permit all communities to tax the value of land 100 percent and to remove all taxes from the improvements. This would mean the price of land would tend to drop to zero. Thus the prospective homeowner would have more funds available for building his home, so it would tend to be the best possible and not the cheapest. New factories and stores would be bigger and better constructed as land would cost nothing. Also present day homeowners could make extensive improvements to their homes without having any taxes levied on the improvements. Under present-day practice, the man who improves his home and makes it more beautiful and an asset to the community is penalized by having higher taxes, whereas the man who lets his home become an eyesore is rewarded by having lower taxes. (Here we have what can have some real "tax reform", rather than the phony kind the politicians are trying to foist on us.)

The building of new and bigger factories and stores would be encouraged if no taxes are levied on these improvements and as land would cost nothing. A building boom would ensue giving employment to many. Slums would tend to be eradicated. With greater employment, less welfare would be needed, and the politicians would have less of an excuse to levy an income tax.

In addition, while land is a large proportion of a homeowner's assessment, nonetheless the larger proportion is the home itself. If no taxes are levied on the home, and instead are levied only on the land value, almost invariably the homeowner will have less taxes to pay. The taxes he would be made up from the increased taxes levied on vacant land which the land speculators have been holding out of use. Also, the additional taxes will come from the increased taxes on land in the center of the community which is so much more valuable than land under homes. The owners of this valuable land have been enjoying what amounts to a subsidy for years on end at the expense of the homeowners.

So, if the people of New Jersey really want "tax reform", they will have to first deluge their representatives with letters and telephone calls denouncing the proposed state income tax and the attempt of the state to gouge them on the property tax; second, the people should, instead, insist that the state pass the necessary enabling legislation permitting communities to tax the value of land 100 percent and to remove all taxes from improvements.

Sincerely,

O.B. Johannsen

Mayor Smith Forecasts New Dawn For Town

Fifteen Years Ago

The Board of Education voted 3-2 in favor of subsidizing the Belleville Summer School for about $2,600. The voting reversed a unanimous decision by the Board not to give the summer facility funds because of overall school budget problems. The school body had hoped to make the Summer School self-sustaining through tuition increases.

Chester Prosperi, chairman of the Zoning Board of Adjustment and a member of the board for seven years, was not returned to office when the Town Commission appointed three men to vacancies on the Zoning Board. Prosperi's ouster was sharply criticized by Commissioner Mary Senatore, who had hoped to reappoint him. Named to the three vacant seats were veteran member Johnny Morello, and newcomers G. Fred Burlazzi and Anthony Laterza.

The use of town-owned property on Watching Avenue for a bocci court was approved by the Town Fathers 4-1, but the recreation facility would probably not be built because of residents' concern about narcotics abuse. Parks Director Michael Marotti said he would speak to the residents of the area, who feared that the facility would encourage the use of drugs.

Five Years Ago

The Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley held its annual installation of officers at the Friar Tuck Inn. The ceremony was conducted by Charlotte McCracken, president of the New Jersey Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Those installed were: president, Mrs. Frank LaPlaca; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Hazel White; 2nd vice-president, Ruth Williamson; recording secretary, Marion Johnson; corresponding secretary, Elizabeth Huck, and treasurer, Mrs. Chris Boughton.

Kenneth Smith, during his first speech as Mayor of Belleville, forecasted a new dawn for the town and asked citizens for their support and cooperation. "Belleville today," Smith said, "stands at its most critical crossroads. Its destiny lies not only in the hands of its elected public officials but also, in great measure, in the hands of its citizens."

Ten Years Ago

Austin J. MacArthur was appointed vice-principal of Belleville High School by the Board of Education. He had been a teacher for 12 years in the Belleville school system. MacArthur had been in charge of discipline and had been assisting Acting Principal George T. Lees in his administrative duties.

The newly reelected Town Council approved the formation of a Youth Advisory Council of 15 members as one of its first official acts at its first regular meeting. The resolution was a direct follow-up of Mayor Robert Laterza's demand at the Council's inaugural session that the entire resources of the community be mobilized to fight juvenile delinquency and all the evil influences that caused it, including drug peddling.

Ralph J. Bowman was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Orange Council, Telephone Pioneers of America. He was past-chairman of the Orange Council, H.G. McCull Chapter, No. 12. The Orange Council was one of 16 Councils in New Jersey and had 742 members. There were more than 200,000 members in the United States and Canada. Mr. Bowman was employed by Western Electric and had been with the company for 37 years.

Due to the stormy protests of approximately a dozen Washington Avenue motorists, Mayor Isadore Padula promulgated the possibility of a parking authority in order to create a parking lot adjacent to Town Hall, despite the fiery protests of James R. Golden. Golden labeled the revelation as something to be used as a personal advantage of a select few.

Jerry Lepre turned in a brilliant golf exhibition on July 4th to win the Class A club championship at the Forest Hill Field Club. He defeated one of the state's most outstanding tournament players, Hal Pembroke, a new member at Forest Hill but a veteran tourney performer. The match was carried to the 37th hole for, after the gruelling battle in the humid weather over the 36th hole route, the finalists were all even and had to play sudden death and extra holes.

In answer to questioning by James R. Golden, Harry J. Sullivan, Director of Public Safety, said an ordinance giving police powers of closer regulation of the private clubs in Belleville would be introduced at a Commission meeting. Golden had read a letter at a Commission session from residents in the Silver Lake section of town who had charged that there was gambling going on in the private clubs.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Fred B. Handlon, whose dismissal as Recorder's Clerk by Public Safety Director Noll had been upheld by the Civil Service Commission, was to appeal the case to the New Jersey State Supreme Court. A Civil Employees Association attorney was to file application for a writ of certiorari. Another development in the case that had caused considerable discussion in town was the rumor that a move was under way to circulate petitions calling for the recall of Commissioner Noll.

The Board of Commissioners passed on first reading an ordinance governing the prevention of fires and establishing new and more rigid regulations for the town. The ordinance was introduced by Public Safety Director Noll who stated that the new regulations would insure the town an eventual savings in fire insurance premiums. The provisions of the ordinance would move Belleville from a "C" rating into the "B" category.

The discussion of poor relief problems took up much of the time at a Board of Commissioners meeting. The Workers-Taxpayers Council, a group from Silver Lake, which had been demanding remission from taxes and charging that relief was not being given to the needy of the area, submitted a letter to the board in which they cited six individual families who they claimed deserved relief but had been turned down.

A sign had been posted on the gate which said "Beware of the Dog" as Joseph DelVezchio, seventeen, of Newark, was peddling vegetables, but Joseph didn't believe in signs. He went in anyway. Minus the seat of his trousers and suffering bites on both thighs, he was taken to the office of Dr. Martin Meehan for treatment.

Municipalities Should Be Freed of Welfare Costs

(Trenton) — Debate continues here in the Legislature considers the tax reform bills which are making daily headlines. Assemblyman Carl Orechio continues to discuss his views on tax reforms in his column today.)

I agree that municipalities through their county governments, should not pay the cost of welfare and the county court system, and also that the cost of elementary and secondary education should not be borne by the municipalities.

Let us stay with welfare for a moment. There are no proposals for welfare reforms—merely a transfer of increased costs and taxes. No provision for looking into fraud, mismanagement, poor regulations and more accountability. Still tax forces should be sent into the cities and counties that have the problems in an effort to correct them and probably save the taxpayers untold millions of dollars.

Until recently, the state had been paying 50% of our welfare costs—a year or two ago we enacted legislation to the effect that the state pick up an additional 25% of the bill. Did you note any saving in their tax bills? Of course not. The present proposal calls for the state to assume the entire cost of welfare which really means an additional 25%. How much do you think it is going to affect your tax bill?

The proposal does not achieve the "equal education for all" the Judge Better decision mandates, because under its provisions municipalities may by referendum raise more money. I am not sure the Boards of Education would retain full control under the proposals. As a matter of fact, I think they would have to give up part of their autonomy. The $1 per $100 of assessments for education could be increased at any time. The legislature must define specifically the powers and duties of the commissioner of education and reserve for the Boards of Education their traditional decision-making authority.

The implementation of the Governor's Tax Package at this time would benefit the urban areas, while in some instances penalize the suburban communities. This is the reason we hear of the Mayors and Legislators from the larger cities supporting the Governor's proposals.

We continue to hear of an average 40% reduction in property taxes. Why not 40% off each taxpayer's bill if we are going to adopt this package?

The implementation of the proposals would in many situations benefit the worst governed municipalities while penalizing the taxpayers in the better governed municipalities.

The tax package provides for two additional welfare taxes, which the municipalities are manipulated to suit politicians or special interest groups almost at any time. Once these taxes are implemented they are "forever" regardless of what happens to the legislation before the federal government.

If and when we must go to an income tax at some time we will be sure we enact a constitutional amendment mandating that decisions forever be dedicated for education until such time as federal government takes over.

I believe tax reforms are necessary. I believe we need tax restructuring. But if we are really sincere, let us do something about "reforms." Let us also give some real consideration to a study to determine the feasibility of eliminating the proposed statewide property tax on one and two and three family owner-occupied homes making an adjustment on the proposed income tax. We certainly do not need additional tax. Statewide Real Property Tax?

We see all kinds of statistics relative to the proposed Statewide real property tax. I have three sets of figures all different, purporting to show how the adoption of the S.W.P.T. will affect different municipalities.

I cannot understand how anyone can realistically use any figure to demonstrate the comparative impact of a statewide property tax.

Property values vary from one part of the state to the other. Let me respectfully repeat, time is not of the essence.

I propose and repeat—that a new committee review all that has transpired relative to our "fiscal" problems then recommend several palatable alternatives to be submitted to the voters and taxpayers of our state.

While I, as a legislator, would have no hesitation to cast a vote if the matter were to be submitted to the Legislature, I feel a proposal of such magnitude and importance should have the benefit of review and a decision by the citizens and taxpayers of the state.

Swim With Care

With vacation time in full swing, we offer a word of caution to the swimmer. Judging from the experience of other years, approximately 3,500 lives will have been lost by accidental drowning these next few months. This represents only about half of the total number of people drowned each year.

The annual death toll in the United States from drowning grows larger each year. More than one-half of those dying in this manner are young persons under twenty-four years of age.

Every vacationist should be careful this summer.

POSTAL HIKE: HAVE GONE INTO EFFECT this week that will cost six cents to mail a single copy of our newspapers. Second and third class mail hikes will increase to 150 percent over the next couple of years. This simply means that at some point in the future the squeeze will be ever tighter and newspapers which rely primarily upon the mails will be obliged to up their rates.

AFTER AN ABSENCE OF SEVERAL YEARS I visited Haiti last weekend. What I found was most interesting and encouraging. The new 20-year-old president, Jean-Claude Duvalier, has opened up the island to the world. Prior to my visit I thought of Haiti as an armed camp. During my 72-hour visit I did not observe even one soldier. There were two motorcycle cops who gave us a police escort from the airport to our hotel. On Sunday morning I saw a police car parked outside the square in front of the church where a special Mass was being held to mark the anniversary of the new President's succession to his late father's post.

In terms of present day America, Haiti has a long way to come. However, the new President is anxious to escalate Haiti's progress. He is doing everything in his power to encourage tourism, making sure that visitors to the island are not fleeced by local merchants or hotels. Despite the lack of air conditioning in the public areas of the hotels, a visitor has a comfortable feeling in Haiti. The natives are extremely friendly and on the weekend they are dressed in their Sunday best, well scrubbed and rubbed. The contrast between the natives of Haiti and those of Jamaica and Nassau is very outstanding—Haitians have great humility and far greater respect for Americans than do the natives of Jamaica and Nassau.

Haiti has a French culture, with almost every native speaking French or a French dialect plus English.

Haitian native artists are experiencing a greater demand for their works. Newspaper reproduction of the art in black and white does not do justice to the works, for much of the beauty of Haitian art is in the blends of various colors used by the artists.

I spent 80 percent of my time in Haiti with Mayor George A. Athanson of Hartford, Conn., an attorney and former professor at the University of Hartford who is probably the only mayor in the United States currently earning his money as a disc jockey. A great guy, Mayor Athanson could very well be mayor of the United States and go off throughout the world as a good-will ambassador. He did a terrific job in Haiti.

While on the subject of jobs well done in Haiti, a special bow toward the direction of Robert Francis Jordan, Attache of the U.S. Embassy in Haiti. He was very tremendous, very cooperative, very understanding and very willing to be of assistance to U.S. citizens in Haiti. Anyone visiting Haiti should stop in at the U.S. Embassy and rap with Bob Jordan. He is a career diplomat with the U.S. State Department and during his years of service was assigned for several years to the U.S. Embassy in Rome. If we had a week, it would not be enough time to enjoy the dialogue of Bob Jordan.

Of course the man who is greeted by every Haitian on almost every street corner is Jean-Claude Bordes of the Haitian U.N. Delegation. Bordes is phenomenally popular in his home country. Young and old, male and female, all stopped to greet Jean-Claude—and rightfully so. Jean-Claude Bordes is an easy guy to like—nothing phony about this diplomat.

NUTLEY'S CARL BORINO is doing a bang-up job as a member of the Fort Lauderdale Police Department assigned to the Division of Community Relations. "I love Nutley, it will always be home to me but I'll never move out of Fort Lauderdale," says Carl.

Nancy Dean On Dean's List At Russell Sage

Miss Nancy Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, 50 Hickory Road, has been named to the dean's list at Russell Sage College, Troy, N.Y., where she is a junior majoring in history.

LIFE EVERLASTING!

This is the greatest good news the non-Christian world has ever had. The Christian God of unselfish love has guaranteed everlasting life, not alone to Christians but to every one else living or dead. (John 5:28-29; 1 Tim. 2:3-6; 4:10; 1 John 2:2; Mat. 25:31-40; Rom. 2:10)

In God's new world to come, he is giving the non-Christians a second chance to take advantage of his generous offer. All of us who have accepted Jesus Christ in this world will enjoy special privileges and the Israelites in deed will benefit from their unique relationship with God. (1 Chron 16:16-18; Acts 3:21)

If you are interested in the following, write for "Free Bible Facts", M.W. Hart, Box 53, Glen Ridge, N.J. 07028. The four kinds of Christians; from the wolves in sheep's clothing to the Saints; "life immortal" (Rom 2:6-7; 1 Cor 15:53) "partakers of divine nature" (2 Peter 1:3-13); the "second death" (Rom 2:8-9; Rev 2:11); the miraculous or supernatural nature of Christianity; "baptism of the Holy Spirit" (Mat. 3:11; Acts 19:1-7); "the dead know not anything" (Ecc 9:5-6; Job 14:20-21; Ps 65; Dan 12:2). Your own status in the world to come should be important to you.

"BEAUTY TIPS"

By Justin

Choose eyeglass frames with low bridge to shorten a long nose — a high bridge does the opposite trick. Nails still wet, and you're in a hurry? Put hands, with fingers spread wide, into the freezer for a few seconds. For a really even tan, give midriff, tummy and chest a head start while legs, arms and back stay covered with sunblock lotion. Spread soft butter on hands and under nails for protection when you garden — it neutralizes any acid or base elements in soil.

Lovely, warm Renaissance look for brunettes starts with creamy foundation in a tawny shade, blushing cream or gel to burnish cheeks then deep, reddish-brown cream eye shadow, blending up to beige at browline.

DID YOU KNOW THAT? You can buy permanent eyelashes at Justin's. Discount price of 3.00 for a tray of 100 lashes.

Perfect Apple Not On Market

The crunchy bright apple you eat today may have taken 40 years to produce. It takes a heap of patience and careful selection to develop the superior apples we are now able to buy.

In most parts of the country where apples are grown, it takes many years to grow and evaluate an apple from seed to bearing age, another 10 to 12 years to propagate and test it, and then additional years to produce it commercially.

Apple varieties (at one time there were 8,000 named varieties) do not reproduce true from seed. Each seed planted will produce a seedling tree different from the others. Seeds from one apple will bear fruit different from the other seedlings and entirely different from the parent apple. Is it any wonder why there have been so many thousands of varieties throughout history?

Plant breeders develop better varieties of apples through carefully controlled programs. Characteristics that they look for are: yield of tree, age that tree bears fruit, evenness of the fruit ripening, insect and disease resistance, pollination requirements, winter injury, texture of apple, degree of acidity, keeping qualities how long it takes to ripen and flavor, texture, juiciness, etc. These are only a few of the considerations in selecting and breeding apples.

Melons, Cukes Are Compatible

Who said you couldn't grow cucumbers and melons in the same garden?

Many oldtimers believe this but the truth is they can be planted side by side without ill effects, according to William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County. The two species will not cross, nor will they contaminate the flavor of the other.

Pollen carried by bees from muskmelon blossoms will stimulate fruit set on cucumbers, but the fruit will be without seed.

Even though they are in the same family, cucumbers and melons will not cross with squashes and pumpkins. However, many of the squashes and pumpkins will cross with each other. Mr. Munk points out, if seed is to be collected from the squashes and pumpkins, each species must be grown in isolation.

If your interest is only the fruit, a cross will make no difference and they can be grown together in the same garden.

To do a good job with any of the species in the cucumber family you need adequate space. Also, they must be planted after the soil has become warm, since germination will be poor in cold soil.

When seed is planted in rows, the rows should be 6 to 8 feet apart, with the plants thinned to 2 or 3 feet in a row. Cover seed about a half inch deep.

Cucumbers and gourds do best when trained on a fence or trellis.

NATURE'S WAY

Frank Gurrato

Last week we talked a little about vitamin E and said we'd look into women's special need for E. During pregnancy the need for E increases. Vitamin E apparently strengthens muscles, for when pregnant women are not given E the babies are born with such weak muscles that their heads wobble. Dozens of studies show that women who had miscarried two or more times or had given birth prematurely have delivered healthy, full-term infants after taking E, in most cases. One physician states that out of thousands of infants he has delivered, as long as both parents had adequate E before conception and the mother continued the vitamin during pregnancy, not one baby has been malformed or mentally defective. A statistician stated that suffering is decreased when women take 600 units of E at the onset of labor. Oral contraceptives also increase the need for E. And during menopause vitamin E deficiency appears to be widespread. Coldpressed vegetable oils furnish E as well as whole grains, nuts and wheat germ.

"Much depends on how well it goes this year," commented Fran Booth. "We're hoping for a good day. We know we have the riders; we'd like to see a good crowd, because we know they will enjoy the day."

Kivans beat the Lions Club 7-3 behind the four-hit pitching of Don Tsoukakis. Steve Dondarski scored three runs for the winners. Biancardi defeated B.I.A.C.A. behind the no-hit hurling of John Herko. The score was 2-0. The top batter for Biancardi was Mike long list of prizes has been gathered and are in accord with A.B.L. standards. The Nutley Bicycle Club has

In the featured "Jeffrey Husse Memorial Race" lap prizes will be awarded to the ABL competition takes place throughout the United States, and generally on weekends. In towns like Nutley, Somerville, New Jersey, is one of the most noted bike races in the country today and annually many as 40,000 persons to the Kugler-Anderson Memorial Race. On May 29, of this year Roger Young of Detroit, Michigan added his name to the list of winners of this prestigious race. It was the 29th running of the classic event. Young is expected to ride in Nutley.

Two Somerville "name" riders are also expected to make the Nutley Tour; they are: Current New Jersey State Road Champion Steve Desmond, winner of the 205-mile New Jersey State event, and fellow townsman Joe Saling, who defeated two-time Olympic Champion Alan Bell at the Kissena, New York race.

making a simple mistake, they invent new stitches and pass their ideas to the rest.

Some of the playgrounds also made hotplates out of popsicle sticks, wooden beads and elastic. They brought good results, especially from the playgrounds where there is a younger group of children. Making hotplates, the little ones enjoy a feeling of accomplishment because they need very little assistance from the directors.

As a result of bad weather and the long fourth of July weekend, the past week got a late start. The past few days were spent making macaroni vases out of bottles and different shapes of macaroni, and for a finishing touch, spray paint. As well as being fun to make they were very attractive. The children employed their imaginations creating new and exciting designs with the macaroni. The younger as well as the older produced beautiful as well as unique projects.

It's great to see the directors and the children putting their minds to work thinking of ways to use left over materials or those brought from home. #2 Playground for example, is experimenting with macrame using left over beads and string. The stadium kids made soap sculptures by mixing Ivory Snow with water.

throughout the game. Both the Bears and the Yankees showed the hitting and fielding that got them to this final game.

The Bears came to bat in the bottom of the 6th trailing 6-5. They scored two big runs to take a 7-6 lead. The Yankees got two quick hits in the top of the seventh, but good fielding by the Bears stopped them from scoring and the Bears became the Peanut League Champions.

Beck's Column

Occasionally customers ask us which color TV is best. The answer is: all brands of color TV are good, generally speaking. Of course, there are some differences and it is best to stick to well known brands, if you do that, you can't go far wrong.

Taken for granted that there is not much difference between the different manufacturers' products, which one should you prefer? As we have pointed out in this column many times, just as important, as the brand, if not more so, is the service that goes with the set. It stands to reason that a store that supplies its own service, won't sell merchandise which is troublesome. This really is your best guarantee.

As many people found out to their regret, they really had trouble on their hands when a TV set failed, particularly if this happened during the guarantee period. It is unfortunate that so many TV sets are sold in stores where they have no service facilities. They give you a telephone number to call if you have trouble and if it is a portable set you may have to bring it to Newark, Elizabeth or Jersey City. These are the places where most of the better known brands offer service facilities. This means travel on congested highways, for many people lost wages and the inconvenience of being without the use of the set until it has been repaired, plus another trip back and forth. That can't happen with us, because became the winner. In the Nok-Hockey Tournament, Eddie Aulisi was champ, and Jackie Baumgartner won the ping-pong tournament.

A new game at #9 playground, Four Square was introduced to the children after their morning exercises. It was such a success a tournament was held. Anthony Insano defeated all competition to become the winner. The younger girls participated in relay races. The members of the winning team were Debbie Record, Linda Insano, Kathy Tighe, and Annie Tighe.

At #4 Playground stickball is very popular. Eight teams with two boys on a team played in a tournament. The first place winners, Dominick Scion and Anthony Ferrara, were rewarded with lemon ice. Angelo DeJoseph and Anthony Dondarski won second place. In other tournaments, Lu Ann Kressler and Steven Dondarski won first and second place respectively, in Nok-Hockey and Rick Sylvestro and Stephanie Teal were the first and second place winners at ping-pong.

Chuck Wells and Tony Coleman tied in the Foal Shooting Contest at #1 playground. Each made 17 baskets in a row. After 2 days of competition, Judy Mitchell became the Nok-Hockey Champ.

The young children at #8 playground have been busy doing handicrafts. They enjoy making pot holders, key chains and hot plates.

A new type of kickball was instituted at Kelly Playground. Runners are required to complete exercises at each base. Each baseman must also do their exercises. Lynn Marr, Lisa Pizzella and Trudy O'Connell were among those who enjoyed the game.

A busy week at #2 playground ended with a birthday party for both Sal

Pannorfi and Lisa Della Torre.

On Friday, #10 playground had a watermelon party. After the children enjoyed their treat a contest was held to see who could find the most pits. John Zecua was the winner. The children also made hotplates out of popsicle sticks and beads.

DeWitt Passes $ Milestone

Robert M. Williams, president of DeWitt Savings Association has reached and passed the $50-million mark in assets, setting a new financial and growth record for the institution.

"Assets at the end of June were $50,765,157," Williams said. "This is an increase of $3,341,290 in 6 months alone and a growth ratio of almost 20 percent on a full year's basis," he continued.

"Member's savings increased $45 million," Williams said.

Williams also noted the comparison between this year's financial picture and that of 30 years ago when the Association was founded. In June of 1942 DeWitt's total assets were $659,516. Member's savings totalled slightly over $600 thousand and mortgage loans were somewhat over half a million dollars. Williams observed that DeWitt's growth alone for the past 6 months exceeded the Association's 1942 assets by a factor of five.

Williams also stated that the completion of the Association's computerization of savings accounts has introduced new efficiencies and savings in time that make DeWitt a still more attractive place at which to do business.

In the near future mortgage accounts will go "on line" as a further convenience for customers. The recent acquisition of additional land adjacent to the office will provide additional parking facilities and provide space for another drive-in window in the near future according to the DeWitt president.

Grand Jury Receives Three Local Gamblers

The case against three Belleville men charged in connection with a May 6 gambling raid were referred to the Essex County grand jury from Belleville municipal court June 22 by Judge

Edward Abramson.

All three suspects were arrested by members of the City-County Strike Force. Daniel Pacillo, 33, of 88 Columbus Avenue is charged with working for a lottery.

Caesar Rotunda, 61, of 2 Brook Street, was released on $50,000 bail and is charged with conspiracy.

Salvatore Sorice, 40, of 9 Maier Street is charged with conspiracy.

Belleville Cops Grab Newark Auto Thief

Albert Baxter, 27, of 364 Littleton Avenue in Newark was convicted of unlawful use of a motor vehicle July 6 in Belleville Municipal Court. Judge Edward Abramson sentenced him to a 30-day jail term, which was suspended, fined him $50, placed him on probation for a year and ordered him to make restitution to Mead Ford on Washington Avenue.

Baxter rented the car from Mead on October 1, 1971, but never paid the bill or returned the car. He was arrested November 18, but never appeared in court. Baxter was again arrested July 5.

YESTERDAY, TODAY, and TOMORROW

A MESSAGE FROM THE MANAGEMENT AND STAFF
AT DeWITT SAVINGS
AS WE ENTER OUR 4th DECADE OF SERVICE

1972 marks our 30th Anniversary of service to the residents of Belleville. Thirty years of growth from assets of less than $1 million to over $50 million. We are very proud of this, but more importantly what does it mean to you? It means many things. Let's look at some:

YESTERDAY — It is hard, now, to picture conditions in 1942 when DeWitt started. This Country, still stunned by Pearl Harbor, waged total war against formidable world powers. Many expected total defeat.

Many more didn't — among them the DeWitt founders, who decided to face the future by building for it. DeWitt established for Belleville citizens, as it provides now, a source for mortgage loans based on a realistic repayment plan, and a savings program offering security and substantial earnings.

TODAY — Our members who came with us then have been repaid many times over. Today we can offer savings plans with interest unsurpassed in the State. Today, throughout Belleville, you can see the results of investments made through us by you, our neighbors.

TOMORROW — As we look into a future that, despite its problems, is far less uncertain than that of 30 years ago, we foresee an inevitable growth and rejuvenation outstripping the past.

We want to thank our neighbors who have been with us before, and are with us now — and we want to welcome you who will join and help us build for a future which is, after all, your own.

Rights On Product

Tri-Chem Inc. Regains Foreign Distribution

Saul Skoler, president of Tri-Chem, Inc. in Belleville, announced today that an agreement had been entered into with a former British distributor of the products of Tri-Chem, Inc. in the United Kingdom and 44 other countries, terminating all rights of the British distributor with respect to Tri-Chem's product line in the United Kingdom and throughout the world.

Skoler said that the settlement agreement represents the successful culmination of an arbitration proceeding commenced by Tri-Chem in 1969 seeking to regain distribution rights because of the unsatisfactory performance of the former British distributor. Royalty income from this former distributor was insignificant and none has been received since March 31, 1969.

Skoler stated that the successful outcome of this proceeding opened a wide range of possible future markets for Tri-Chem's products. He emphasized, however, that Tri-Chem had not made any specific plans for exploiting this new market, but was studying the marketing problems for possible alternatives in order to position the company to enter these markets in the most effective manner and at the most suitable time.

Fred Burlazzi, who is self employed, participated as an instructor in the two-week course June 19-30.

The course, for advanced students of appraising, stressed application of special mathematical techniques to analysis of the return from real estate investment.

Scouts Name Smith To Head Fun Fair

The Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, has named J. Harry Smith, president of Essex County College, as chairman of the steering committee for the Scout's Fun Fair slated for November 11 and 12 at Newark College of Engineering.

The Fun Fair, one of the major highlights of scouting activities in the Fall, will be a huge exhibit of scouting skills, encompassing recreational, outdoors and civic activities.

Smith, a Maplewood resident, is a member of the National Advisory Council on Adult Education. He earned his undergraduate and graduate degrees at Seton Hall University and is a member of that school's Board of Trustees.

A World War II veteran, Smith also served with the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War. He is a former president of the Urban League of Essex County and is a member of numerous civic and educational organizations.

He and his wife, the former Marilyn Horton, have three children.

Also named to serve on the committees with Smith, were Charles Hall of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, ticket sales chairman; Lloyd Levernore of the First National State Bank of New Jersey, program and participating chairman; and Dick Reynolds of Bamberger's, public relations chairman.

He and his wife, the former Marilyn Horton, have three children.

Also named to serve on the committees with Smith, were Charles Hall of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, ticket sales chairman; Lloyd Levernore of the First National State Bank of New Jersey, program and participating chairman; and Dick Reynolds of Bamberger's, public relations chairman.

Pair Guilty On Narcotics

Ronald Riccio, 25, of 1 Duval Court in Fairfield and Amadeo Restaino, 22, of 352 DeWitt Avenue in Belleville were found guilty of possession of heroin and narcotic paraphernalia June 23 in Belleville Court. Judge Edward Abramson gave each suspended six-month sentences and placed them on probation for two years, on the condition that they complete drug rehabilitation programs. Abramson fined Riccio $200, and Restaino $250.

The two were arrested June 2 by Detective Ermin Oliveri and charged with possession of a hypodermic needle and heroin. The charge of possession of narcotics was amended to possession of under two decks of heroin.
