Wow! It was sure hot in town last week. What with everyone sweating with the humidity and torrid heat for such a long, unremitting spell. Still it only served to bring brief respite from the boiling cauldron of school board differences over salaries paid the local school superintendent and the Assistant Superintendent, while at Town hall a comatose air pervaded The Commission Chamber where all significant matters were "tabled" in the absence of Commissioner Strumolo.

The weighty decision of permitting Pathmark to remain open 24 hours in the Silver Lake area, the residency preference for Civil Service qualifying applicants, other than police or fire personnel and the 200% parking requirement for new buildings were kept hanging. Mayor McGreevy had said he desired a "full attendance at any session that determined the fate of these significant matters. Sorta puts Vinnie in the cockpit hotspot doesn't it?

The running controversy between School Trustees Caesar Romano and his colleagues on the school board waxed both hot and eloquent showing sharp, divergent views over the issue of the granted salary boosts.

I received an unsigned copy of a letter sent the secretary of the school board by Hugh W. Welsh in which he lashes into the Board over their granting of the raises. He cites his latest tax bill increase of $138, explaining that these things actuate people to defeat the school budget on a number of occasions.

Mr. Welsh, whose intelligence and profound knowledge of Belleville gleaned over many years as Administrative Clerk in the Public Works Dept and who is also a licensed engineer, minces no words in stating many local residents living on fixed incomes lack the capacity to pay salaries that are higher than that paid the governors of twenty-two (22) of our states; also higher than the salaries of Mayors or managers of 16 cities of

Expected Back Next Meeting

Three Important Ordinances Awaiting Strumolo's Return

Three ordinance proposals tabled for the past several weeks are expected to be moved Tuesday evening when Commissioners meet in Chambers at 8 p.m.

The three important proposals were awaiting the return of Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, who was expected back from his Florida vacation the beginning of next week. Mayor Joseph McGreevy asked that the three measures be tabled until Strumolo's return. The director of Public Affairs has been vacationing at his Florida home for the past month. Reliable forces said he would return sometime Monday.

On the table waiting for action is an ordinance to regulate the opening and closing of food stores located in Belleville. Also ready to be moved is a measure giving Belleville residents the first crack at municipal jobs and a third measure would increase the parking requirements for multi-family dwellings from 150 per cent to 200 per cent.

A public hearing has been held on all three measures. The most flammable of the three seems to be the ordinance to limit the opening and closing of retail food stores. A number of residents spoke for the defeat of the proposal and Pathmark food chain officials too urged that the measure be voted down. Currently, only the Pathmark store in the Silver Lake section of Town would be affected by the bill. Pathmark recently introduced a 24-hour shopping policy in all its stores.

Commissioner Robert Laterza, director of Public Safety, is sponsoring the bill. Laterza has said keeping the Pathmark open all night would disturb residents and may bring undesirable into Belleville. Most residents speaking at the public hearing on that proposal dismissed Laterza's claims as sheer nonsense.

Laterza has also introduced legislation which would give Belleville residents preference at municipal jobs. The bill, in its present form, excludes uniformed employees such as police and firemen. An informal poll taken by Laterza showed that at present all employees live in the Town.

Another measure ready for vote by the Commission is a proposal to up parking requirements for multi-family dwellings. Former Town Attorney Jack J. Soriano, now operating as private counsel with offices in Newark, has called that a "discriminatory" since it names only multi-family dwellings as culprits.

Soriano claimed that the average one-family home takes up more parking space than the average unit in apartment houses.

Soriano said he was speaking "in behalf" of his client, a local real estate agent.

MICHAEL YANNUZZI, a longtime Belleville teen, has garnered a second place award for his finish in the National U.S. Championship competition of the American Accordionist Association.

National Honors To Local Teen

A 17-year-old Belleville resident recently placed second in the National U.S. Championship competition for accordionists at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D.C. The contest was sponsored by the American Accordionist Association.

Michael A. Yannuzzi of 11 New Street, an Essex Catholic High School student, has now accumulated 21 honors in both state and national competition. He began his musical studies at the age of six.

An honor student and member of the Drama and Glee Clubs at Essex Catholic, Yannuzzi was also selected a member of the National Catholic High School Chorus.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yannuzzi, the local teen has been pursuing his training at the De Bellis Music Center.

'Browsing In Belleville'

Popular Social Column To Appear Next Issue

Pat Diana, well-known Belleville personality, will begin running her "Browsing In Belleville" column in the Belleville Times starting next issue.

The popular local columnist will also institute an "Organizational Doings" section highlighting current activities and the past history of fraternal organizations in Town. Pat also plans to spotlight local businessmen on a regular basis.

"In my weekly column I center upon the good things that the little people do in Town," remarked Pat. "I center upon the local chit-chat as opposed to what the big politician is saying or doing."

Both items will appear on a weekly basis in the social section of the Times-News beginning in the August 10 issue. Pat also plans to reinstate the Belleville Bulletin Board, a community calendar listing weekly events.

A native of Kearny, where she grew up and attended the local school system, Pat moved to Belleville over 13 years ago. She began writing "Browsing In Belleville" about 10 years ago and the column now rates as one of the most popular social items in Town.

She is the mother of two children, Linda, 15, will be entering 10th grade at the Senior High School while Susan, 14, attends the Junior High School. The family resides at 104 Overlook Avenue and Pat urges residents to write her at that address to express their views and ideas.

Besides her interest in writing and civic activities, Pat has initiated a summer employment program for teens. The project is on a volunteer basis and anyone wishing to support the program can contact Pat Diana.

In her professional capacity, Pat is an executive secretary with the S. Gurnett Co. located in Jersey City. She is also a free-lance public relations consultant and creates and designs her own studio greeting cards.

She Defends Claim Owing Park Benches

Commissioner Mary Senatore this week defended herself against accusations by the Essex County Park Commission that her workers took 30 of their park benches without permission.

About 15 to 20 of the benches are now lining Washington Avenue. The county claims the benches were taken illegally but Mrs. Senatore counters that the benches were about to be thrown out when her workers took them and repaired them.

"My department received a call in January to pick up the benches and get rid of them," the Commissioner explained. "We saw that some of the benches could be repaired. My boys salvaged more than half of the benches by repairing them and replacing the slats. The county was about to throw them away."

Mrs. Senatore added that her men received a call from the Park Commission in January to come to Hendricks Field and

Essex Street Concrete Eruption Still Puzzle

Can't Determine Why Slab Rose

Public Works officials are still puzzled as to why a huge concrete slab on Essex Street suddenly erupted, causing a hazardous condition in that roadway.

For four days last week Town workers excavated the section of road and administrative clerk James Soldo ran tests to determine why the concrete slab rose up from the rest of the road. Soldo speculates that water channeled underneath the slab but to date workers have yet to find the source of the water.

"I've never seen anything like this in all my years of work here," remarked Soldo. "It certainly is a puzzle."

The troublesome concrete slab on Essex Street, located between Washington Avenue and the old Erie railroad station, erupted shortly after tropical storm Agnes dropped heavy rains on the area. Residents of a large apartment complex in the area have complained that the slab has caused a parking dilemma for them. Also, they say traveling over the bump can cause damage to their autos.

The condition has lasted over a month without receiving attention but Commissioner Mary Senatore, director of Public Works, said that the men assigned to the job have been on vacation. Last week those employees returned to work and full-scale excavating operations have begun.

According to Soldo, who conducted drilling tests under the concrete, there appears to be a small two-inch channel under the slab where water is allowed to

Variance Tests Are Set Tuesday

Two public hearings on variance applications are scheduled before the Board of Commissioners Tuesday.

Huge Bargains In Offering This Week

Local merchants will be selling their wares this weekend at discount prices as the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a sidewalk sale on Washington Avenue. Residents may take advantage of the sale tomorrow and Saturday.

Rain date for the sale is August 11-12. It was erroneously reported in the Belleville Times-News last week that the sale days were July 28-29.

Hours for shopping tomorrow are 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday's shopping hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The sale, developed and operated by the Sales Promotion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has proved in the past to be one of the most popular sales events in Town.

Town Fathers will vote on allowing a printing business in a building on Belleville Avenue and a builder is seeking approval to build a two-family dwelling on High Street.

The Board of Adjustment has already given its unanimous approval to the two variance applications but Commissioners must determine the final opinion.

Nicholas Di Chiara of Roseland has applied for a building permit to build a two-family home on a vacant lot at 29 High Street in a one-family residence zone. He is represented by local attorney Robert Gaccione. Walter Saunders is the current owner of the property.

Five area residents have listed objections to the variance application. The five appear to object to parking problems in the area and claim the two-family dwelling would only worsen the already bad situation.

Di Chiara wants to build the home on a 33 by 100 foot lot.

run. Soldo speculates that when a large amount of water ran through this channel it lifted the concrete slab.

Still, Soldo is amazed. He said it would take a terrific amount of pressure to lift the slab. Soldo reports the slab is about 10 by 15 feet and eight inches thick. The whole thing weighs upwards of 15,000 pounds.

Public Works has decided to continue operations on Essex Street until the source of the water is found. According to Soldo, two large storm sewers in the area have been checked and there appears to be no leaks there. The next step is following the channel to its source.

"Our next step is to follow the void to its source," announced Soldo. "We are checking every facility in the area."

The Public Works Department had a crew of six men working on the project for four days last week, from Monday until Thursday. Operations were temporarily halted but Soldo assured that he will continue checking the area until the mystery has been solved.

deals with a full-scale offset printing business seeking to move into a building on Belleville Avenue. Currently, an antique and used car business is located at the 202 Belleville Avenue address. The owner of the property, Ernest Schneider, has applied for the variance. According to Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio, the building is located in two zones, making it a non-conforming use. Mustacchio reports that the building is located in both a business and residential "B" zone.

get rid of the benches. James Taylor, the county park commission's secretary, tells a different story. Taylor claims she took the benches from its stockpile "with inferred permission" and proceeded to repaint them and bolt them to the ground on Washington Avenue. Mrs. Senatore said she will keep the benches since the county was to discard them when her employees rescued them from the scrap heap.

The Eagleton Tragedy

The haunting refrain will always remain for Tom Eagleton, "Did I do the right thing by agreeing to withdraw as the Democrat candidate for Vice President in 1972?"

To the question, millions of people will step forward with their own versions of what Tom Eagleton should have done in the circumstances.

Some of the major newspapers in the United States clamored for Eagleton's scalp.

"Tom has to go," demanded The New York Times.

"Tom must be dumped," observed the important Washington, D.C. Post.

The prestigious Los Angeles Times claimed, "Democrat Presidential candidate McGovern didn't stand a chance in November unless McGovern shed himself of the Eagleton liability."

Now that Tom Eagleton is no more a part of the Presidential Ticket in 1972, there is no one who could supply the answer to a November encounter between Nixon-Agnew and McGovern-Eagleton.

The tragedy of Eagleton's withdrawal will follow him to the end of time.

We have lived through an historic week, witnessing history in the making. It is sad the experience resulted in a human tragedy.

"The week that was" will not end up being Senator McGovern's best week. His own behavior from last Tuesday through Monday night—seven days later, raised questions about McGovern's own credibility and personal judgment.

McGovern's campaign staff is saying the poor fellow only had 18 hours to reach a decision. One wonders how many hours McGovern as President would have if it came to the question of pushing the atomic button? Sometimes the most important decisions a public official is obliged to make give him no time to think. In such a circumstance his instincts must guide his judgment.

Of course we don't even accept the premise that McGovern had only 18 hours to pick his Vice Presidential running mate. McGovern was a candidate for President since 1968 and over the past five years lurking in the deep recesses of his mind at different times was the question of who should be selected as his Vice Presidential candidate.

Tom Eagleton was no Johnny-come-lately to Senator McGovern. They had known each other for more than three years as U.S. Senate colleagues. For weeks it was common knowledge that Tom Eagleton was seeking the Vice Presidency. McGovern was aware of Eagleton's interest in the Vice Presidency—and so was McGovern's staff. During the Miami convention it was common gossip within the Missouri delegation that Tom Eagleton had a medical history and this information was imparted to members of McGovern's staff. Despite this knowledge McGovern and his staff never raised one question with Tom Eagleton concerning his medical background.

But let's not stop there—when McGovern and Eagleton held the original press conference to announce Eagleton's medical background George McGovern said, "If I had known before Tom Eagleton's selection as my running mate that he had this medical history, it would not have changed my decision to select Tom. We have an irrevocable ticket and I am 1000 percent behind Tom Eagleton."

While Tom Eagleton's withdrawal as the Democrat Vice-Presidential candidate removes his medical record as a campaign issue—if it ever existed—the incident introduced a new issue—a far more serious issue—McGovern's credibility and his personal judgment.

Monday night McGovern should not have insisted that Eagleton withdraw. McGovern should have given Eagleton the opportunity to go before the public on TV with the doctors who attended him during his hospital stay together with the medical records of those days.

Eagleton should have had the opportunity to produce the doctors and the medical records before the American people on TV and subject the doctors and the medical records and himself to the savage cross-examination of a David Brinkley or a Jack Anderson. Were Eagleton given this opportunity—one that we consider an act of fair play, the people of America could have evaluated the medical testimony and records concerning Eagleton's hospitalization and reacted to the evidence.

If the preponderance of evidence was negative, the people could have reacted in like manner.

On the other hand if the medical record and testimony supported Eagleton's assertions, the American people could be relied upon to be fair and decent—and it is our belief the American jury would have found Eagleton fit to be President of the United States.

However McGovern refused to give Eagleton this opportunity and thus the act of fair play, language that McGovern used in connection with the California delegate dispute, was missing from the drama.

For six days McGovern assured Eagleton he was for him 1000 per cent. But on the seventh, something happened to McGovern and that thousand per cent turned out to be zero.

We guess the moral of the story is beware of the guy who tells you he is for you 1000 per cent.

Seems Only Yesterday

Town Council Votes, 3-2, New Administrative Code

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

The Town of Belleville was negotiating with a private corporation for purchase of a large office building at the corner of Washington Avenue and Joramelon Street. The facility was to be used as a Public Health Building. A $140,000 offer was made by the town for the 10,000 square feet which was owned by the Fischer-Stevens Corporation of Clifton. According to Mayor McGreevy, the offer made was for the assessed value of the property and did not bind Belleville in any way.

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo said that the severe storm which had swept the town proved his point about the need for a railroad crossing guard at Franklin Street. Heavy winds from that storm had ripped off two of the four wooden rails at the crossing and forced the guard to regulate traffic with a hand signal. Eric Lackawanna had wanted to replace the guard with an automatic warning light, a move which the commissioner had been in opposition to because of safety reasons.

The state Public Utilities Commission denied a Public Service Coordinated Transport request for discontinuance of all bus service on its Belleville-Silver Lake bus route No. 37. In a report dated July 27, the PUC found that there was a substantial need for a weekday route travelling east to west from Belleville to Bloomfield and that the need outweighed Public Service's contention that continuation of the route was financially unfeasible.

Ten Years Ago

Nick Petti was unanimously elected as the new head coach of the baseball team. Nick, a 1953 graduate of Belleville High School, had been recommended to the Board of Education by the Athletic Council. He had come to Belleville in 1961 and his coaching and teaching talents had been successful. Nick had coached both the freshmen football and basketball team at Belleville.

The Capitol Cab Company of 360 Washington Avenue had been operating under a handicap following the theft of two of the firm's fleet of taxis. One cab had been stolen across the street from the Lyndhurst Diner at 3 a.m. while the driver was away from the car and the second cab had been stolen from the front of the cab office while the driver was sleeping inside. Both cabs were found in Newark.

The Town Council, by a 3-2 vote, adopted the new administrative code. Mayor Robert Laterza and Councilman Vincent Strumolo voted against the code while Councilmen James R. Golden, Thomas Greco and G. George Addonizio voted for it. While neither Laterza nor Strumolo explained their negative votes, The Times-Le learned that they were dissatisfied with a code provision for a $1500 salary for each councilman. Both men during their campaign had pledged themselves to work without pay.

Fifteen Years Ago

Jack Carroll, Belleville baritone, returned from Hollywood where he had a featured role in a 20th Century Fox Western: "Forty Guns." He commented that he was interested in remaining in the motion pictures as a full-time career. "To be perfectly honest, I was quite a ballplayer a few years ago," he said, "I even had a chance to go with the Giants." Carroll was hoping that a recording he had made of songs he had sung in "Forty Guns" would help him along the way to stardom.

A master plan for the Third River flood control from its source to its outlet into the Passaic River was to be drawn up by the Division of Water Policy and Supply of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development as a consequence of a regional meeting of officials of Essex County and the state in Newark. Under the master plan, the river would be deepened and widened and curves would be straightened to facilitate a speedy flow of flood water.

The Nereid Boat Club dominated the scene at the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta in Canada, winning three championships out of five events. Jim Kelly, promising young oarsman, walked off with the high school singles toga, the Belleville High School four-man crew won the three-quarter mile race and the team of Al Walker and Ward Whitehead added the mile and five-sixths crown to the belt of the Nereid Club.

Herbert Schmitz, chairman of the teachers' committee of the Board of Education, announced the appointment of eight teachers for the 1947-48 school term. Those appointed were: Margaret Cronyn, Katherine Fiscella, Jean Stanton, J. Carmine Rando, Hector Gialanella, Ruth Bruce, Esther Shank and Helen Holcombe. Installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Union Avenue and Greylark Parkway was scheduled to begin in August according to Public Safety Director Noll. Noll pointed out that the intersection had become a very busy thoroughfare since Greylark had been extended to become a through street from Washington Avenue to Passaic Avenue. Noll stated that the town and the county would share in the expense of the light.

Forty Years Ago

The Mystery Couple, who had danced for 285 hours with masks covering their faces in the VFW Walkathon dance marathon in the Riviera Ball room were married at 11 o'clock. Vito Casperio, took Grace Domenico as his bride while 5,000 spectators looked on. The night was not without its incidents. Three women fainted and were quickly revived by members of the hospital corps. Numerous policemen patrolled the hall on the lookout for pickpockets.

Belleville's second playground located in Cortlandt Street between Holmes and Joramelon Street opened with Miss Florence Carywell of 97 Brighton Avenue in charge.

over 450,000 population. "Education," Mr. Welsh charges, "is being milked to the hilt by an organization of well organized individuals whose choice to go to jail than do what they were hired to do. TEACH."

Mr. Welsh calls for a halt of the tax onslaught on our burdened taxpayers and feels the town will decay unless the burden changes. He points out the loss of supermarkets and industry exodus which adversely affects the tax base. He concludes urging the salaries of school supervisors and teachers be put in their proper perspective. Terminating his letter with the observation that an article appearing in the daily press indicates the salary of a New York City policeman to be $16894, in 1973. "His job, in my opinion," said Mr. Welsh, "requires more learning and guts than any school official."

Mr. Welsh is both well known and respected for his intelligence and forthright courage. While the views he expressed were entirely his own; they are, no doubt shared by many.

Thursday, July 27th was the banner day for Belleville Senior Citizens. All the props were pulled to give these fine old-timers a big day at the Shore. Seven bus loads filled in from town hall for a day of mirth and gaiety by the beautiful sea. Leaving time was 10:00 A.M. and for the occasion the guests of the Belleville Recreation Department, under Comm. Mike Marozzi who sponsored the outing parked their cars in the Municipal parking lot gratis, without fear of the meter-maid's "ticking" them. The weatherman smiled upon them and they enjoyed a fine lunch which was on-the-house. It was a grand day for all.

Must say Comm. Senatore kept her word about the Essex Street road problem. Her men and trucks were there first thing Monday morning to start the repair job, like she said they would be. Pavement has been dug up. Now tests will be made to determine cause of lifted slab.

That Liquor license transfer of Villa Italia from Little St. to Joramelon St. on Wash. Ave. which was approved by the majority of Commissioners, sitting as an excise board, over the objection of another licensee, Eddie Effenberger, trading as Princeton Bar and Grill, because it was within 1250 feet of his establishment has been denied, on appeal, by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. Finch and Gaccione represented Effenberger. The matter will now be appealed to the Court.

Nutley's Mayor, Carmen A. Orechio, sure is on the ball when it comes to looking after the interests of his people. In no time flat, he got off a communication to William E. Ozzard, President of the State Board of Public Utilities, expressing his shock and amazement at the Utility Board's grant without formal public hearings, of curtailed bus service.

Calling the people seriously affected by this decision, and resentful over not being given a chance to be heard he insisted upon a formal public hearing. Likewise, he said, are Belleville residents and independent conferences between himself and Belleville Commissioner Strumolo would be held to prepare joint action to obtain improved public transportation for both towns.

While loath to discuss the details, Ralph Risoli, Belleville Registrar, indicated that broad, improved plans are in store for improvement of the town's health care and services. Comm. Strumolo's return from vacation will probably set the timing of this announcement.

Seems like many of the internal political squabbles on the school board that were hidden by the innumerable closed caucus doors are now filtering into the open, with School Trustee Caesar Romano's minority report on salaries voted by the board. Maybe a few conflicting political views also will burgeon into the open, indicating the disharmony that has been concealed until Romano's contentions.

Urges Protect Us Against Eye Quacks

Dear Editor:

The New Jersey Optometric Association believes the State Board of Medical Examiners is failing to protect the public from "quackie" eye examiners at highway eyeglass centers.

The Medical Board recently adopted a rule for a minimum eye examination to regulate the physicians—MDs and osteopaths—who are performing "quackie" eye examinations at mass-production eyeglass centers.

But, this rule is an attempt to delude the people into believing they will now receive an adequate eye exam from physicians at these drive-in eyeglass stands.

The eye exam rule adopted by the Medical Board imposes no requirement that a physician at the highway eyeglass centers have any qualification to examine eyes and requires only that four procedures, instead of sixteen, be performed by the examiner.

Earlier this year, separate investigations conducted by the NJOA and the State Division of Consumer Affairs revealed that some physicians with no specialized training in eye care were performing two-minute eye exams that resulted in harmful prescriptions.

None of the exams was performed by an optometrist. Unlike physicians, optometrists are required, by law, to perform a sixteen-point exam that lasts at least a half-hour. Optometrists are also prohibited, by law, from practicing in a commercial establishment. Both laws were proposed by the NJOA.

The NJOA calls upon the Medical Board to require that only qualified eye specialists be allowed to perform eye examinations for corrective lenses and that these examinations include the sixteen vital procedures followed by optometrists.

The time has come to protect the people, not delude them.

Sincerely,
Harvey A. Wilson, O.D.
President

Memories of Mario's Smiles Will Linger With Us Forever

order to obtain broader police protection. THE OPENING of the New Jersey Nixon Headquarters was in grand style. Governor William Cahill was the lead-off speaker and performed eloquently. For an 11:30 a.m. headquarters opening, the ball room was packed, an indication of Republican enthusiasm for the Nixon ticket. Everybody who spoke with at the opening was optimistic over the November results.

We've Done Some Ordinary Checking with people around the area asking questions about a Belleville proposal to prohibit retail stores from remaining open 24 hours a day. We were surprised to learn that almost unanimously people favored around-the-clock store opening.

We continue to believe Belleville Town Commission would be wise to drop the 24-hour opening prohibition until the activity becomes a nuisance or poses a problem for municipal officials. We don't ever think that will be the case. At the same time, a 24-hour opening is better service for the people, and after all this appears to us to be the name of the game when citizens are elected to public office to serve the people.

IRIS MAXWELL, formerly based in Miami, Florida handling the Miss Universe Contest and apartment-hotel promotions like the Carriage House, in the recent past married James Powers of Los Angeles, California. Iris continues to be active in the PR field as Vice President of the James R. Powers & Associates public relations firm. In the mail this week we received a memo from Iris accompanied by a photograph which includes Liza Minnelli taken during the taping of the Singer Company television concert "Liza with a Z." In Florida, Iris Maxwell was among the top PR people. Apparently her California activity has placed her at the top rung of the PR ladder in California.

AT THE END of a long, long journey, sometimes a journey filled with pain too much to ask a human being to endure, our childhood friend and neighbor, Mario Zincola, finally is no more. Death claimed this fine, noble human being in the early hours of Tuesday. Like many before him afflicted with his illness, Mario's body was racked with pain and his mind and soul suffered the tortures of hell. The end finally came with Mario in complete control of his senses, fully aware that life was leaving his body.

Here was the kind of guy the world should have more of. Here was a good soul without an enemy in the world. His life-long mission was a constant effort to make people happy and he succeeded many times in instances where other people with less commitment failed. We'll miss Mario but the memory of his cheerful smiles will linger on forever.

THE PUBLIC SAFETY Department program of Mayor Carmen Orechio to assign firemen to police duties should be the type of development which would invite the eager interest of firemen who are looking to better serve their town. Nowhere in the Mayor's proposal is there any suggestion he would want to sacrifice fire protection in

Nutleyites Back From Festival In Spoleto, Italy

Josephine Anne Falzone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Falzone of 68 Manhattan Court and Michael Imperiale, son of Mr. and Mrs. P.F. Imperiale of 406 Hillside Avenue, members of the Westminster Choir, returned July 10 from Spoleto, Italy where they spent six weeks as chorists in residence at the famous Spoleto Festival.

During the first two weeks, the choir spent a grueling nine hours a day rehearsing for a major new production of Kurt Weill's opera "The Rise and Fall of the City of Mahogany."

Before the choir left Spoleto, composer Gian Carlo Menotti, founder of the festival, met with Dr. Flummerfelt, conductor of the choir, informing him that the choir was invited to come back as often as it wished, and that he wanted Dr. Flummerfelt to help in the planning of the 1973 festival to insure that the choir might better be utilized and occupy a more central place in the festival activities.

How to mistake a Realtor for someone who isn't.

It's simple, if you think that everyone in real estate is a Realtor. But it's not the case. You see, a Realtor isn't just anyone in real estate. He's the professional in real estate who is pledged to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

You can recognize one by his use of the term "Realtor." Or the Realtor seal, like the one shown here.

So when you're looking through these classified pages, look first for a Realtor. Someone who'll look after your best interests.

Many Plants Are Pretty Poison; Death, Illness Attributed To 700

House plants, gardens, meadows and woods all add to our good weather pleasure, but poisoning can be part of the pretty picture if precautions are not taken.

The New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents today urged parents to convince their small children to dine only at the table and not nibble on flowers, plants, shrubs and trees.

There are more than 700 species known to cause death or illness. "Fortunately, relatively few children die from eating toxic plants," said William H. Stevens of Bloomfield, president of the 5,000-member agents group, "but many become seriously ill."

The appeal, based on the play of the same name, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," is not grounded in medical advice, because daisies themselves are not poisonous.

"But they won't do your children any good, either," said Mr. Stevens. He added that these common varieties are toxic:

Lily of the valley, holly, yew, rhododendron, mountain laurel, azalea, oleander, foxglove, daphne, wisteria, hyacinth, narcissus and daffodil. A particular problem, he said, are plants used for food: One part may be a delicacy, the other a threat. Rhubarb stalks make for tasty pies, but the leaf blades are poisonous and should be carefully separated and discarded.

Peaches are delicious summer eating, but the leaves are toxic. They contain hydrocyanic acid, a dangerous poison.

Other toxic plants, Mr. Stevens said, include buttercups, jack-in-the-pulpit, mayapple, water hemlock, pokeweed, nightshade and some mushrooms.

If plant poisoning is suspected, a physician, the nearest hospital or a Poison Control Center should be contacted immediately. And follow these guidelines, said Mr. Stevens: Stay calm, know the name of the plant or provide a careful description of it, and follow instructions exactly.

Marcia Peck - Edith Rieber

Marcia Peck Appearing At Grand Teton Music Festival

Marcia Peck, daughter of Dr. Samuel Peck of 21 Clearman Place gave two cello recitals in the Philadelphia area recently, collaborating with Edith Finton Rieber, professional pianist from Berwyn, Pa. Marcia is a member of the Minnesota, formerly the Minneapolis, Symphony Orchestra and last week began a five-weeks series of summer concerts as cellist in the Jackson Hole, Wyoming, Symphony Orchestra as part of the Grand Teton Music Festival.

Miss Peck graduated from Belleville High School in 1963 and from the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia in 1968. She then studied with Antonio Janigro at the Robert Schumann Conservatorium in Dusseldorf, West Germany, for two years, and this past year had lessons with the eminent Russian cellist, Mstislav Rostropovich. While in Europe she won prizes at the international cello competitions in Florence, Italy, in 1969 and in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in 1970. She won first prize at the National Cello Competition held in Mainz, Germany, following the Prague contest.

Mrs. Rieber, her accompanist for the past two years, studied piano first with her father, and later with Boris Moiseiwitch at the Gnesnykh

Musical Institute in Moscow, USSR.

Miss Peck's father retired on June 30 from 43 years of teaching, the last 27 of which were spent as director of music in the Belleville Public Schools.

U.S. Growth Rate Now Lowest Ever Recorded

The birth rate in the United States (Births per 1,000 population) dropped from 18.2 in 1970 to 17.2 in 1971, the lowest ever recorded. The national growth rate in 1971 was 98 percent. This is only the second time since 1940 that the rate has dropped below 1 percent. The growth rate in 1970 was 1.09 percent.

You And Your Pet Worms-A Dog's Worst Enemy

By Raymond Minor DVM

Worms are your dog's most common affliction.

There are five main types that may infest your pet - heartworms, hookworms, roundworms, tapeworms, and whipworms.

If not treated promptly, infections from these parasites will seriously injure your dog's general health and, frequently, result in death.

Some of these parasites, for example, roundworms and heartworms, cause diseases that can be transmitted to human beings.

The roundworm found in dogs is essentially a parasite of puppies, with the majority of infections occurring by the prenatal route - the larvae being transferred from the pregnant dog to the fetus.

Puppies will show evidence of infection a few weeks after birth. The puppies then will release millions of eggs which are passed out in the feces.

These eggs may adhere to the pup's paws and hair, and children should not be around puppies or nursing mothers until successful treatment has been completed.

Heartworm disease, which can result in death to your pet, is transmitted by an intermediate host - various mosquito species.

This parasite's life cycle in man begins with a bite of the mosquito and follows the same probable course as in dogs.

Fortunately, it appears that the heartworm cannot reproduce in man - thus dead-ending the parasite.

Since the presence of a few worms is of little pathogenic importance in the well-nourished growing or mature dog, the main problem consists of preventing exposure to massive infections, especially in young puppies.

Strict sanitation is the key to preventing nearly all parasite infections.

The puppies' quarters should be spotless. The dog should be maintained on dry runways, or washed surfaces, such as concrete, which are exposed to sunlight as much as possible.

Shaded, moist earthen areas offer an especially favorable environment during the warm weather for the parasite's eggs. By eliminating these conditions, your dog's infection potential will be considerably reduced.

Among the symptoms associated with worms are a dry, dull haircoat; excessive scratching, coughing, weight loss, listlessness, diarrhea - or a pot belly. However, these same symptoms may well signify many other problems.

To check your dog for worms, bring a stool sample to your veterinarian for examination. I would suggest discussing this with your veterinarian as soon as possible after purchasing a new puppy or older dog, regardless of what the pet shop owner or previous owner told you.

Your veterinarian will probably have the dog examined for worms at least twice a year, even if he appears the healthiest thing on four feet.

While there are commercial remedies for worms at most pet stores, I would like to remind you that successful treatment depends on two factors: accurate diagnosis of the specific type of worm, and the correct dosage of medication prescribed with knowledge of your dog's past medical history and an evaluation of his present health.

DR. MINOR REGRETS THAT HE IS UNABLE TO PERSONALLY ANSWER LETTERS FROM PET OWNERS. HE SUGGESTS THAT READERS CONSULT THEIR OWN VETERINARIAN WHEN THEIR PETS HAVE PROBLEMS.

Non-essentials take up too much time in life but why be different from those about you?

Frenchy's Blows Wrap-Up Game In Recreation Softball League

Last week Frenchy's had their first chance to wrap up the Recreation Monday Softball League. They only needed one more victory to put the whole thing on ice.

Since their opponent was fifth place Ajax Motors they had every reason to expect that victory because Frenchy's had beaten Ajax before. However it was not to be. Ajax toppled the League leaders 10-8.

Frenchy's must still find that one more win and they must get it either from Roberts Toyota or from second place Ogas. Neither of these teams is a pushover. In other games Ogas picked up a win over Toyota and Wallace and Tiernan dropped games to Parkway and Ajax Motors.

McCabes in the Tuesday League, closed the gap on the leading Rosellis. The McCabes picked up wins over Frankies and Local 426 while Rosellis bowed to the Belmonts before defeating the Circles. What this boils down to is that Rosellis really has to beat Frankies in their last game because the McCabes face the Circles in their curtain act and they have twice mastered them before.

With two games to go in the Wednesday League it looks though DeBacco's have it, but the very strong Garden Liquors team is on their trail.

DeBacco's must have one more win to pick up the Wednesday marbles or Garden Liquors must absorb one more loss.

In the next game DeBaccos plays fourth place NuPlas which should clear the title for the leaders. Garden Liquors has posted two wins over Landolfis and must face them again on Wednesday.

This will not be a game they can take for granted. Park View House continues to dominate the Thursday League. Last week they added two more victories to their record as they defeated first the Third Rail and then the second place Manor. They now enjoy a two game lead.

In their next two games the Park Views face a very tough Jolly Cleaners team and again face the Third Rail. Both the Manor and Jolly Cleaners must be considered in contention and the Manor has a good chance for two wins when they go against the fifth place Hudsons and the last place Shamrocks.

The Recreation Men's

Softball Slow Pitch program will soon come to a sharp focus when the respective winners of the four leagues go into the playoffs for the Commissioner Michael V. Marotti Trophy which is emblematic of Townwide Championship.

Last year's winners were the Magnificent Men now playing as the Parkview House in the Thursday League. It would appear that all four leagues, this year are stronger than last and the playoffs should be great contests.

Offering Free Swim Lessons

This summer the Belleville Recreation Department will be offering swimming lessons as part of the regular playground program. The lessons will be given each morning in the Friendly House on Frederick Street in the Silver Lake section of Belleville and are open to children of all residents of the Town.

The instruction by qualified instructors, will be specifically aimed at improving the skills of those children in the beginner group. However, it should be emphasized that the lessons will involve a great deal of individual instruction as each child's skill requires.

Although the purpose of these lessons is intended to teach non-swimmers the basic swimming skills, it will also provide an opportunity for those children who can swim to come and improve the skills they already have acquired and receive instruction in more advanced swimming styles.

Herb Attends Cage Camp

The first New Jersey All State Basketball Camp held at Monmouth College has been completed.

Among the more than 150 boys to complete the camp was Jerry Herb, of Belleville, who attends Belleville Jr. High.

Democracy survives in spite of the process at the parties' nominating convention.

Clippers Named Farm Champions

The Clippers, under the leadership of their manager Morris Renna, won their second consecutive World Series Title in the Belleville Recreation Farm League.

The Clippers posted their first victory over their admirable opponents, the Cubs with a score of 13-1. With the hard-hitting Clippers erupting the first inning with five runs and continuing this strength of play, the Cubs found the lead just too insurmountable.

The second game was viewed as one of the finest pitched games of the year. Mike DeFeo of the Cubs pitched a two-hitter and still absorbed the loss by a 3-1 margin. The highlight of the game was when the Clippers turned in the series only double-play from pitcher to first to home.

With their last victory, the Clippers have won 28 straight games the past two seasons. The members of the winning World Series Clippers this season are as follows: Victor DeFiorio, David and Mark Andorra, Ray Malboudian, Rocco Falcitano, Peter Schemplin, Barry Bambo, Tom Petrillo, Allen Azenda, Mike Bambo, Mike Colonita, Mike Gecca, Miguel Ortiz, John Klein, Frank Del Re, and Vinnie Celano.

Chuckie Wells' chess set.

This past week was tournament week at No. 9 Playground. Dawn Tosi was the Kaloh champ and Russ Wilson won the checker tournament. Ken Saunders was the high scorer in O.U.T. and Phil Maraski was undefeated in Nok-Hockey. The children were also taught the fundamentals of tennis by the directors.

Dolls out of pot holder loopers were made at No. 3 Playground this week while the children at Kelly were involved in several tournaments. The winners were Abdel Anderson for ping pong, Ben Van Tessel for Nok-Hockey, and Gary Wilks for checkers.

Essex Cycling Race Set

What has now become a much looked forward to biking event to many Essex County residents, the annual Essex County 77 mile road championship has been set to take place on September 30.

This event, sanctioned by the amateur Bicycle League of America, draws out the real enthusiasts to try their skills of distance, speed and endurance.

It is a well known fact that biking has swept the country with unbelievable interest over the past few years. In fact, the manufacturers have had difficulty keeping up the supply.

Races Conclude Instruction

Safety Stressed At Bicycle Field Day

Last Friday afternoon a bicycle field day sponsored by the Recreation Dept. was held at the Clearman Field with many children around the towg participating. Included in the activities of the event were a slow race, fast race, and a coasting race.

After going through a preliminary check of the condition of their bikes, Eddie Colombrito and Brian Kelly proceeded to win in their respective heats of the slow race. In the girls division Nancy Swineford was the winner. Carmen Cerami and Eddie Colombrito were the champs in the boys' division of the fast race while Michelle Ciallella won the girls' division.

The final event of the day was a coasting race won for the boys by Brian Kelly and Eddie Colombrito and for the girls by Michelle Ciallella. Others participating in the event were Lou Riccardi, Vinnie Galante, Mario Colombrito, Monique Ciallella, Mark Cammarato, Sandra Colombrito, Ricky Nisovoccia and Anthony Calabrese.

Handicrafts Program Keynote Is Variety

This past week has been one of variety for the Belleville Recreation Department Crafts Program. One of the main events has been making dolls from pot holder loopers and styrofoam balls finished with decoration of felt for dresses or vests. Some of the playgrounds that made these were School 1, 9, 10, 2, 3, and the Stadium.

Various playgrounds also enjoyed making popsicle stick projects such as jewelry boxes, houses, hotplates and letter holders, while telephone wire is still a favorite in making rings, animals or any abstract design.

A "Christmas in July" occupied much of the kids time at the Rec House this week. They kept busy making decorations such as paper Santas for the tree and Christmas wreaths for the door.

The stadium was fortunate to have a boy who was able to obtain some scrap leather and suede which kept the kids happy making chokers, bracelets, arm bands, purses, and belts and decorating them by gluing on designs and punching fancy holes.

The ivory soap figures are still popular as are the fun film flowers. There are still numerous requests for these items. This coming week will be spent in setting up for the Belleville Rec arts and crafts show which is to be held at the Belleville Public Library Wednesday through Friday, August 2 through 4. Everyone is welcome!

AT THE STARTING LINE are Belleville boys participating in the Recreation Department sponsored cycling program held last week in Clearman Field.

CELEBRATING CHRISTMAS in July at the Recreation House are (left) Karen Ferriero and Bernadette Dempsey. Unique program was run for fun.

BICYCLE SAFETY is instructed to local youths by recreation program coordinator Bob Cook of Belleville who is a well-known cyclist. Program, which stressed bike safety, was concluded with bicycle races.

Both Need Quarterback

Giants, Vikings Share Same Football Field

When The New York Giants and the Upsala Vikings share the same football field on the Upsala College campus for a month starting September 4, don't be surprised if their respective coaches have more than a huddle on the subject of quarterbacks.

Both teams must seek replacements for last year's signal callers and with their seasons scheduled to open around mid-September, coaches Alex Webster of the Giants and John Hooper of Upsala will be in the midst of deciding who will be at the quarterback positions for their teams.

During the practice sessions, there will be no less than 11 quarterback candidates on the Upsala field. The Giants, who will practice at mid-day, have three in Randy Johnson, Norm Sneed and Ed Baker. One of Baker's top rooters is his cousin, Carole Baker of West Orange, a secretary in Upsala's alumni office.

Upsala, on the other hand, will have eight candidates including Seniors John Dominant of Kinnelon; Lou Perrochio of Edison; Jim Lynch of Haverhill, Mass.; Scott Schaefer of Clark and John Flynn of Hackett and freshman Ralph Sapio of Orange; Bobby Ryoul of Roxbury and David Lynch of North Andover, Mass.

"We're going to throw so many bombs, people will think it's the London Blitz," said Coach Hooper. "Anybody not wearing a helmet will do so at his own risk."

Upsala will practice in early morning and late afternoon until regular classes begin and then the footballs will fly at only once a day practices in late afternoon.

Webster, of course, will have an advantage in selecting his quarterback since the Giants will have been in training since July. Their regular season opener is September 17 against the Lions at Detroit.

Silence is an underplayed virtue.

Plan Exhibition Against Chile Nine

Plans for an exhibition basketball game to be played between the Chilean National Basketball Team and the Montclair College varsity basketball squad here at the Indians Panzer gym has been announced by Bill Dioguardi.

The contest, one of 25 that the Chilean Team will play against various college teams throughout the United States during the Fall and early W 3 will take place on Tuesday evening, November 7 with game time scheduled for 8 p.m.

Dan Peterson, former head basketball coach at the University of Delaware, is coach of the Chilean quintet. Peterson is no stranger to Montclair State teams having met the Indians twice while at the University of Delaware.

In addition to Montclair, the team will play a number of the top collegiate powers in the United States including Maryland, Princeton, North Carolina, Marquette and Wisconsin.

Peterson, hired by the Chilean Olympic Federation through the United States Peace Corp. has been in the South American country for eight months coaching and conducting clinics.

Although the Chilean team has whipped through 23 consecutive victories against local opponents, Peterson has no illusions about maintaining the team's perfect record when the quintet comes to the United States. "There is no comparison between Chile and the United States in basketball," Peterson said. "Here you're dealing with kids who have never eaten properly in their lives or had decent coaching. You start at zero in Chile."

Electric Consumption Is Up Four Per Cent

Sales of electricity by Public Service Electric and Gas Company in the first six months of 1972 reached 12.9 billion kilowatt-hours, a 4 percent greater than the like period of last year; sales of gas in the period totaled 1.2 billion therms, about the same as in last year's six-month span.

Operating revenues of $495 million in the six-month period of 1972 were 7 percent ahead of revenues in the same period of 1971. However, net income in the first half of 1972 declined 18 percent from the year earlier period.

Earnings available for Common Stock in the first half of this year were $1.29 per share on the 39,475,486 average shares outstanding in the period, compared with earnings in the first half of 1971 of $1.84 per share on 35,974,638 average shares.

Earnings for the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1972, were $2.47 a share on the 38,614,404 average shares outstanding, down from $2.78 a share on 35,126,192 average shares in the comparable 1971 period.

Earnings comparisons with the prior year's periods continued to be adversely affected by a milder than normal 1971-72 winter, higher gross receipts taxes in 1972 (which are based on the substantial increase in 1971 revenues), and increased purchases of power from interconnected utilities due in part to outages of certain base load generating equipment. In addition, electric revenues in June 1972 were lower than anticipated due to exceptionally cool weather and the absence of any meaningful air conditioning load. Cooling degree hours in the sales month of June were 56 percent below normal and the lowest since 1958.

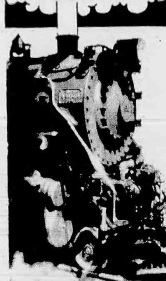

Also, the increased number of average shares of Common

DeWitt Hosts Party

Dual Fete At Forest Hill

DeWitt Savings killed two birds with one stone at a dinner party at the Forest Hill Field Club on Wednesday night, July 12.

The occasion marked the Association's 30th Anniversary and also celebrated the attainment of $50-million in assets. Both events occurred simultaneously. Guests included Mayor Joseph F. DeWitt of Belleville, officers and directors of the Association, DeWitt counselors and auditors, and Savings and Loan League officials.

Robert M. Williams, president of DeWitt, in welcoming and introducing the guests, announced the anniversary and the assets achievement. He reviewed briefly the history of the organization from its founding and compared its financial situation today with its position in 1942, noting that its expansion was an internal development as contrasted with many savings institutions that rely on mergers for growth.

John P. Dailey, DeWitt chairman, spoke briefly and expressed his, and the Association's gratitude to all who have had a part in making DeWitt Savings an asset to Belleville and the surrounding communities. Even more impressive than the anniversary is the fact that in such a short period of time DeWitt has experienced such substantial growth." Mr. Dailey said "It's a tribute to the people of Belleville and their faith and loyalty to our Association."

Mayor McGreevy congratulated the DeWitt officers, directors and employees on their achievements and forecast continued rapid development in an ever-increasing economy. He stated that he looked forward to being with the group again to celebrate their next milestone at a very

Unity Course To Highlight China Travel

China from north to south as seen through the eyes of the famous Danish author and explorer, Jens Bjerre, will be shown Sunday afternoon, December 3, on the Unity Institute Travel Course.

In a departure from the tradition of Thursday night travelogues, Unity is presenting this very special film on a Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The Sunday afternoon showing will enable more people to attend, particularly young people.

In the film Bjerre explores and explains what happened in China during the tumultuous years of the cultural revolution when the nation was completely sealed off from the outside world. He also shows what is going on in China today. All aspects of Chinese life are pictured: education, sports, art, medicine (including the practice of acupuncture), fishing, farming, the sciences, heavy industry, and the military. Bjerre takes the audience by train, plane, riverboat, bus and more often by truck from Manchouli at the Soviet border through Manchuria, Harbin, Peking, through the Nanling Mountains, along the Pearl River to Canton and on to Hong Kong. The audience will see the Red Guards, visit the people's communes, and witness life in the cities with their bazaars and theaters.

According to Bjerre, the main feature in the new China is the military style of life in all segments of society. Factories, farms, schools (from kindergarten to university) - all institutions are organized into squads, companies and brigades. China is one great school for inculcating Mao Tse-tung's thought, thus molding human nature to an amazing degree of uniformity and loyalty to the state and the revolution.

Midlantic Bank Reports First Half Earnings

Midlantic Bank Inc., New Jersey's first registered bank holding company, today reported consolidated income before securities gains for the first half of $4,979,114 or $2.14 primary earnings per share.

The First Half results, which include the operations of Citizens National Bank, a Bergen County bank acquired June 30, compare with combined income before securities gains of $5,233,044 or $2.23 per share for the first six months of 1971. This reflects a 4.0 percent decrease in primary earnings per share. Fully diluted earnings per share before securities gains, computed on the assumed conversion of all Midlantic preferred stock into common stock, of $1.99 compare with $2.06 for the First Half of 1971.

Net income of $5,230,290 compares with $5,561,631 a year earlier. Primary earnings before taxes for the First Half 1972 of $2.27 were 5.0 percent lower than the $2.39 for the 1971 First Half. On a fully diluted basis, the net income earnings per share of $2.09 compare with $2.19.

Total resources on June 30 were $1,226,320,988 up 6.0 percent from $1,156,612,800 a year ago. Deposits totaled $1,057,519,291 on June 30, an increase of 6.3 percent over the $994,826,180 total on June 30, 1971.

Custaver E. Widenmayer, chairman and chief executive officer of Midlantic, told its shareholders that resources reached 1.2 billion when Citizens National Bank, Englewood joined the holding company. He pointed out that during the last three months, two other banks, Madison National Bank and Midlantic National Bank, both in Morris County, have joined Midlantic giving it 65 offices throughout the state. He also noted the establishment of the first Midlantic off-shore office in Nassau, the Bahamas, and the realignment of senior management in light of the current growth of the organization.

Turnpike Extension Stresses Beauty

The Toms River-South Brunswick Extension planned by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority will be more than an extension of its travel facilities.

It will be an extension of the Turnpike's beautification program, placing a "parkway within a turnpike" along the 38 miles of the new road's alignment from Toms River to South Brunswick.

(By State Senate resolution adopted this week, the new road will be known as the "Governor Alfred E. Driscoll Expressway" in honor of the Turnpike Chairman and former Governor under whose administration the Turnpike was built 20 years ago.)

The expressway is designed under guidelines to protect the environment in the tri-county area it will traverse, producing a facility that will be pleasing to the eye.

Field studies to that end are being completed by environmental consultants commissioned by the Turnpike Authority. Every conceivable ecological factor in the Middlesex-Monmouth-Ocean area is being probed by experts whose studies will be submitted to Governor William T. Cahill for his approval under legislation authorizing the construction of the Extension.

Two months later the Legislature made the studies a requirement to the law it passed authorizing the Extension.

The environmentalists are proceeding in depth in their studies, and during the next two months recommendations will be made on the roadway's final alignment and configurations, all designed to preserve the natural state of the area.

The use of native trees and vegetation, the topography and wildlife is a prime consideration. So is the economy of the area, social and educational institutions, and community services.

There will be no disruption of school districts and travel patterns. As part of the Authority's beautification program, already underway along the existing Turnpike, the design of the new facility will take into account the protection of the open spaces and green belts abounding in the roadway's alignment. And it will help to remove some eyesores, such as auto junkyards or other undesirable sites. The resources of the Turnpike's horticultural division, headed by David Grimm, will be employed in the beautification program.

Another important benefit will be the increased safety the Expressway will provide, relieving the traffic on Route 9 and the Garden State Parkway, with which the Expressway will connect at Toms River.

Motor Vehicle Director Ray J. Marini and Education Commissioner Carl L. Marburger today announced new steps in New Jersey's drive for school bus safety.

A jointly-proposed regulation will allow Motor Vehicle Officers to perform unannounced, in-depth inspections of school buses on the highway or on bus terminals. It is expected to become effective August 1 in time for the new school year.

"Since well-maintained buses are critical to pupil safety, we felt their semi-annual inspections at Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations just weren't enough," Marini explained.

"Through our Enforcement Officers, we intend to conduct extensive, internal inspections throughout the year."

To meet our new, more stringent standards, every school bus owner or lessee must be concerned about safety every day not just prior to Motor Vehicle inspections twice a year," he added.

School buses which do not pass the terminal or roadside inspection will be declared immediately out of service, and cannot be operated until all repairs have been satisfactorily completed.

In addition, the new regulation will require that school bus drivers fill out a daily vehicle condition report.

This will serve as an early warning on buses with defects which could lead to safety hazards," Marini said.

The daily driver reports will become part of school bus inspection and maintenance procedures, to be administered in accordance with manufacturer's requirements, or at least every three months.

Once a year, owners and lessees must certify to the Director that the prescribed inspection and maintenance have been carried out.

Any owner or lessee who does not conform to this regulation will be subject to suspension or revocation of his New Jersey license and registration.

Noting that many young school children die as pedestrians, Marini again reminded New Jersey motorists to help insure pupil safety by driving with extreme care especially in the vicinity of a school or school bus.
