

Board of Ed Office Bidding Will Go Into Third Round

The Belleville Board of Education rejected a second round of bids on contracts for electrical and ventilation systems in their proposed new offices at the Department of Public Affairs Building and lost a low $13,600 net bid on general construction through default Tuesday night.

After the meeting was adjourned, Board Vice President Matthew Pica walked out in protest of the group's policy of caucusing in private before voting. The Board had planned a post-meeting discussion, and Pica later said he left "in the heat of the moment" and would appear at the next regular meeting on October 30 to fight for his resolution to open all Board discussions to the public.

Attorney Lawrence Schwartz was unable to attend the special meeting because of prior commitments to a client, but nearly all the Board was unanimous in rejecting every bid for both the electrical and ventilation contracts because all were too high. Mrs. Norma McCool did not vote on the electrical contract and Fred Burlazzi voted on neither contract.

Although he called the bid for general construction work submitted by area builder Pat Intindola "one of the lowest the Board has received for this type of work," Board President Richard Mahmahrian amended to have the contract rejected, knowing his motion would be voted down by the rest of the Board.

When it came time to vote on awarding the contract to Intindola, only James Rizoli and Mrs. Norma McCool voted in favor, while Caesar Romano voted no. Mahmahrian abstained and Fred Burlazzi and Matthew Pica took no part in the vote.

Intindola attended the meeting at the invitation of the Board, and told the members if a decision was not reached, he would withdraw his bid. This was the second bid submitted by Intindola and he is not expected to try again.

Mahmahrian said the Board would meet with architect Michael Trotta again this week to review specifications for the offices in an attempt to scale down costs and eventually bidding will be re-opened for a third time.

While Mahmahrian described the loss of the Intindola bid, and said the Board's vote was an "injustice" to the bidder, Caesar Romano argued the Board should not award a contract for general construction while vital bids on electrical and ventilation systems had not been decided.

Romano also contends there is a possibility the bid could be brought back up at a meeting, while Mahmahrian said it definitely cannot.

In other action at the meeting, the Board approved the hiring of an elementary school teacher, Miss Carol Marchitto, at $8,450.

Property Tax Aid by 1973

Belleville To Get $395,833 In Federal Revenue Sharing

Belleville will receive $395,833 from the federal government in 1973 for a federal relief as part of a recently pushed through Congress. The money is to be used primarily to supplement real estate tax in communities that would ordinarily be borne by the individual property owner," said Municipal Treasurer Francis H. McCoy in a statement to the Times Tuesday.

As of now it is not clear exactly how Belleville will be granted close to $400,000, while other towns receive different amounts. Nutley, for example, will be given under $250,000. John E. Trafford, Research Associate for the New Jersey State League of Municipalities in Trenton, said only that there is a formula worked out by the government on requirements of each town, and state officials use this formula in computing exact figures. It is certain, however, that Belleville will be getting the grant for the next five years at least. According to McCoy, the announcement came too late to be included in this year's budget and so will be relegated to the 73 fiscal year.

It had been moved through the House and Senate as a bill sponsored by the Nixon forces but it had Democratic approval, and in fact the Democrats had tried to make the effect more sweeping.

McCoy also pointed out that the funds will hopefully curb inflating taxes in decreased tax bills or individuals, but that he couldn't predict if the difference would be appreciable.

Bellboys Aim For First Win Against Nutley

The Bellboys hope to grab their first win of the season when they test the new turf at Municipal Stadium Saturday against a hungry and winless squad from Nutley. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Coming off a 0-0 tie against highly regarded Bloomfield last week, the Bellboys hope to get their spitting offense rolling against a Maroon Raider squad which has dropped decisions to Essex Catholic and East Orange.

If Belleville is to make it two in a row over rival Nutley, Bellboy Head Coach Rose Cafone says his squad is going to have muster some offense.

In their two games to date, the Bellboys have managed to score only seven points. Playing with an inexperienced line, and hampered by several injuries, including ones to the top two quarterbacks, the Bellboys have rarely threatened opponents on the ground or in the air.

On the other hand, the Belleville defense has been superb, and should the offense get untracked Saturday against Nutley, the Bellboys should be more than tough to reckon with.

In the two games thus far, the stingy Bellboy defense, anchored by All-State candidate Bob Luongo at linebacker, have allowed only eight points, and last week virtually held the powerful Bengal running attack to a standstill.

Both Bellboy coach R. Cafone and Nutley mentor John Federici agree you can throw out the record books when these two teams play, although Cafone, unlike Belleville coaches in the past, wants to play down the confrontation.

"There has always been too much emphasis on the Nutley game," Cafone said, "at the expense of other games on the schedule."

"Last year we took every game as a big one," Cafone continued, "and consequently we weren't as tight going into the Nutley game."

Playing at Nutley's Park Oval last year, a determined Bellboy squad dropped the Maroon in a thrilling 7-6 battle.

With last year's victory under their belts, the Bellboys are more confident this season that they can beat the Maroon, Cafone says. "I think, no I know,

The working people should be most interested in the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee's unanimous approval of a bill that would protect the pensions of about 30 million workers now covered by private pension programs.

The bill called Retirement Income Security for Employees (RISE) would require 30% vesting of an employee's pension after eight years of employment and an additional 10% increment each year until an employee is fully vested after 15 years.

A federally administered pension insurance fund also would be set up under the bill to guarantee the pension for vested employees.

The announcement was made by Sen. Harrison A.

Voter Registration Ends on Tuesday

Residents have until Tuesday to register to vote for President and Vice President in the November 7 General Election. Voter registration for all other offices was closed September 28, according to Belleville Town Clerk Eugene Barnett.

The reason for the two deadlines is that New Jersey's registration law differs from the recent Supreme Court decision allowing registration up to 30 days prior to an election. New Jersey's deadline is 40 days before the election.

Consequently, only those who registered prior to September 28 can vote in local, county, state, congressional and senatorial races, according to Barnett.

Barnett reports many "new" voters between 18 and 21 signed up to vote. He also says there was a strong turnout of the "four-year voters," those who vote only in presidential elections.

A tabulation of Belleville's registered voters has not been prepared yet.

Nine-Year-Old Loses Leg in Train Accident

A nine-year-old Newark boy lost his leg in a train accident in Belleville Friday.

The youngster, Anthony Mazza of 495 Delevan Avenue, had climbed on board a moving Erie-Lackawanna train with a friend and was attempting to jump off at Belmont and Franklin Avenue when his leg got caught under the train wheels.

Police rushed the youngster to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital where his leg was amputated below the knee.

Steve Rogers Shows He's Off And Running

Belleville's youngest candidate for Board of Education appeared at a Board meeting Tuesday night with his newly-appointed campaign manager and a petition for candidacy bearing 140 more names than he needed to file his bid.

Air Force Sergeant Steven Rogers, 20, of 27 Rocco Street, was told by School Board Secretary Mrs. Mary B. Shader that his informal petition could not be legally entered, and she provided him with an official petition that required only 10 names for entry into the race.

"I was under the impression that I needed 50 names," said Rogers, "so I set out to triple that, which I did." The 1970 Belleville High graduate had garnered 150 names.

Rogers, who has been making his presence felt at recent Board meetings, gathered his names by canvassing Belleville neighborhoods and pounding the pavements along Washington and Franklin Avenues.

"I got a lot of younger voters to sign," he said, "but I was genuinely surprised at the number of people a generation away from me who signed and gave me encouragement."

To direct his campaign, Rogers has tapped Nicholas D'Alessandro of 218 Forest Street, D'Alessandro, a 1971 graduate of Belleville High School, said he is joining the Rogers bandwagon because "it's time the youth of America, particularly in Belleville, took part in government."

Asked why the candidate is on the campaign trail so early for the February elections, D'Alessandro replied, "right now, Steve is getting acquainted with the public. The

McGovern Ruffles Feathers

George McGovern ruffled the feathers of some recently when he took a swipe at the size of the salaries of some of U.S. industry's top executives. He noted that the head of Ford, a Mr. Iacocca, drew $400,000 last year. He told listeners obviously the man's wife didn't worry about an increase in the cost of hamburger meat.

Such talk is effective stuff at working-man rallies, because the U.S. salary system is obviously out of balance. But McGovern was careful to avoid naming popular movie stars, who often do far less to earn their even higher salaries, than corporation executives. It is, of course, easier to stir an emotional reaction against industry's fat cats.

But resenting inflated salaries of entertainment types or corporation heads is much easier than proposing a system that would limit them, and still be open, free and democratic. For example, are bureaucrats in Washington to set a limit on salaries? Is the tax on high income to be drastically increased? If it is, McGovern will be one of those to suffer; his earnings were in six figures last year and he only recently purchased a very expensive mansion as his home in Washington.

Drinking And Driving

Much has been written on the subject of drinking and driving but the most impressive data yet produced came recently from a special report ordered by the President, which he sent to Congress.

The report-a study of U.S. road deaths-showed almost half the 55,000 U.S. deaths last year were linked to drinking. Thus the problem of the drinking driver is even more serious than has been believed.

One startling feature of the report is the finding that of every twenty-five cars on the road at night, one is driven by an intoxicated driver. In driving at night one risks serious accident or death-through no fault of his own-to a considerable degree.

Considering that in addition to the 55,000 killed last year, on U.S. roads, four million were injured, the staggering cost and tragedy of drinking and driving is brought home with impact. Obviously, our states and communities must renew and strengthen efforts to lessen this grim toll.

On Herbal Medicine

In the old days quacks peddled many bottled wonders, supposed to cure anything from chest pains to a broken leg. Various brands of herbal medicine attracted the loyalty of various people, but much of the attraction was in its alcoholic content.

Now comes Dr. E.G. Dimond, of Kansas City, after a second trip to China in two years, who says that herbal medicines are often used effectively by the Chinese. (Dimond was one of the first U.S. doctors to believe there was something in acupuncture.)

He says the Chinese have a tremendous amount of information recorded and codified on their herbal medicines and that they can be effective in some cases. While the United States has turned completely to synthetic, abandoning analysis of botanical medicine, Dimond suspects there is a place for both.

For one example, he says he has seen case histories where herbal treatment has alleviated heart disease.

There might be something, after all, to the use of roots, herbs and plants in treating humans.

Buy Back America

A special study by the Conservation Foundation, undertaken at the request of the White House, has found that the nation's thirty-seven federal parks are often overcrowded, that they are too far from the cities, in which four out of five Americans now live.

The group urgently recommends the government begin buying land for the creation of new parks near large U.S. cities, a program which would bring the parks within reach of millions who never visit them and alleviate overcrowding in presently existing parks.

The "buy-back America" program recommended by the study group is a sound proposal, one which would create recreational opportunities for some 80,000,000 people living near the nation's thirty-three largest cities - badly needed opportunities in view of today's urban congestion and crime, and a less costly one than many of the remedies proposed to help the cities.

Mrs. Ellsworth Jockel captured first prize in the New Jersey State Fair in the Domestic Arts Division for the second straight year. She was awarded the prize for her portrayal of the "Death of Woodgate Station" in oils. Mrs. Jockel had been interested in art since childhood and had enrolled in an art course at the Belleville Adult School. After four years she had become known as one of the best artists in town.

Orlando Calcano, a Belleville resident and featured baritone with the Opera Theatre of New Jersey, was to sing during the special Columbus Day Program of Italian American entertainment at the Garden State Arts Center. Calcano was to appear with other opera stars, headed by "Met" favorite Licia Albanese, during the classical portion of the program entitled "America Italian Style."

The Belleville Commission held a special meeting to authorize the Town Treasurer, Francis McCoy, to pay $140,000 for the purchase of an official building for the Department of Public Health. Only Mrs. Mary Senatore, Director of Public Works, was absent from the meeting. She had voted against the building resolution.

Bernard E. O'Connor resigned as Director of Civil Defense and Disaster Control. He said it was impossible for him to go along with the directive of Town Manager William Sommers that no town employees engage in political activities. Mr. O'Connor was an elected official of the Democratic Party representing the 1st Ward 8th District. "Involved in Mr. Sommers' decision as I see it," commented O'Connor, "is the establishment of two classes of citizens for Belleville. I believe workers of the Democrat and Republican parties are Americans first and party workers secondly."

G. Fred Burlazzi of 16 Mt. Pleasant Avenue was elected chairman of Belleville's new Planning Board. Dennis Simonetti of 63 Passaic Avenue was elected vice-president and Theodore Wells was chosen to be secretary. At the board's initial meeting the discussion centered upon ideas for Belleville's master plan. Charles Boyce and Joseph DeChiara, representatives of Urban Planning Associates, explained the need of a master plan to the board members.

Chief Spatz said that the problem had been on his mind for a long time, especially since a Belleville boy of ten had died after having collided with a mail truck on Hornblower Avenue. The Chief stated that bicycle riding presented hazards that the police could do little to combat.

Belleville's long awaited new ambulance on order since early spring finally arrived. $2,660 of the total cost of $4,787 had been raised by public subscription in 1941-42 when the need for a new vehicle first became evident for Commissioner William D. Clark had initiated the drive to collect funds for the purchase of the ambulance and it was decided that the emergency vehicle would be dedicated to his memory.

Williams Jr. from New Jersey who is committee chairman and Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) ranking minority member. Sen. Williams is hopeful of full Senate approval of the measure before adjournment.

Both men spoke of how badly needed this protection of worker's pensions is. They mentioned many cases where witnesses tell of how they worked for and depended upon this security in old age only to suddenly see it vanish when they lost their jobs or companies went out of business or merged as was the case in Ballentines closing.

Calling the situation "intolerable" Sen. Williams explained "The bill's vesting provision would guarantee an employee's right to his pension while the federal insurance would guarantee funds for the pension. After eight years of employment an employee would be vested or guaranteed 30% of whatever pension benefits he was eligible for under the plan and after 15 years of employment an employee would be guaranteed his entire pension when he retires. Strict rules of conduct are imposed to provide sound investment to properly secure the liquidity of the funds."

This is a much needed piece of legislation and should pass and become law to protect the pensions of our senior workers.

The N.Y. Times Business-Finance section of Thur. Aug. 17, 1972 on pages 4-53 ran an informative story about the "brain-child" of one of Belleville's better known citizens, Sal Calabro. The story was accompanied by pictures and a vivid account of Automated Technology Corporation's forging to the front in the highly competitive battle to win the contracts of the major utility companies in their quest to overcome the manual reading of electric gas and water meters.

Sal Calabro is no stranger to Belleville voters. He spear-headed the drive for the change in the form of the town's government from commission type to Mayor-Council. His objective won't although his own candidacy fell short of victory. As a candidate however he demonstrated exemplary extemporized eloquence and strong suasive powers which left little doubt of his keen intellect. It is not surprising that he should now emerge as a luminary heading a small technology corp. which appears on its way to accumulating a gross income of over $7.5 million which makes every share on the market most attractive.

The monitoring functions of Mr. Calabro's patented plan not only reads meters through its selective encoder which can read all meters; gas, electric and water by means of a wire connection but also offers company preventative maintenance which can reduce repair costs.

With an estimated 300 million gas electric & water meters in the U.S. at a $25 installation cost Mr. Calabro may soon be a plutocrat.
Best of luck Sal.

Talk of that commissioner recall seems to be petering out since some of the boys got together with the political king-makers. Seems some sort of "deal" may have been made to preserve the status quo for the present but with a change the next time around.

Wonder why every time something "big" happens Jackie Rega takes off? This time to Europe. What's up Jackie? You know.

Incidentally now that I think about it how come Jackie arranged for my interview with Sal Calabro about his business venture that looks so promising especially with Jackie being one of the principal stock-holders in this booming undertaking. The story is "solid." N.Y. Times is accurate but I know Jackie loves to be a "King-Maker." Will Sal be his next candidate all past allegiances to be forgotten? Notwithstanding Sal should be run would be an excellent and most qualified candidate who could contribute to our town's betterment. I wish them both luck. If that's the pitch?

It was very nice to read in Lloyd S. Glicker's Fifth Quarter Column about one of Belleville's own John J. Tague and the wonderful job he has and is continuing to do to keep Essex Catholic up there on the top of school football teams in this area. John is a real dedicated guy I know anything he undertakes he puts his heart and soul into it. What is a better cause than helping to preserve high school football for a grand bunch of kids who really have established their keen talent in the sport? A lot of plaudits to John for his wonderful contribution to this worthy cause. We should all do what we can to see his program drive meets with success.

It's summertime and, like in the unforgettable Gershwin lyric, "the livin' is easy." It's easy as long as we don't suffer a brownout or blackout or some other sudden decay of our life styles, anyway.

I'm reminded of this eventuality because of the growing "back-lash" being fielded by business and industry against the tenuous environmental movement. One of the favorite ploys as the temperature rises is to dolefully proclaim the unfortunate prospect for mammoth electrical breakdowns, all because of those unthinking and irrational environmental freaks who have held up construction of needed electrical generating plants.

What reminds me of that tired argument right now is a newsletter from the National Audubon Society which warns, "Don't be fooled by any such over-simplification."

National Audubon quotes a recent statement by Dr. James R. Schlesinger, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, who said in regard to delays in power plant completions:

"Slippage of the schedule has been due only in small measure to the activities of environmental groups. The basic reason... has simply been inadequate time to build the plants."

According to National Audubon, of 35 fossil fueled power plants originally scheduled for operation this summer throughout the country, 29 are expected to be ready and the other six are experiencing technical or construction problems.

I can only agree with National Audubon when it observes that although brownouts may well be in store for many parts of the country this summer, the main reason will be that regulatory bodies have fallen down on the job of coordinating planning and policies for energy production and conservation.

And let's not forget, while environmentalists may be "blamed" for delaying some power projects, they should also be "credited" with standing up for everybody's heritage by protecting resources, human health, recreation and other priceless aspects of the world we share.

Like I've said before, and undoubtedly will again, one big reason for today's power shortage is not a lack of power plants as much as it is a surplus of electrical use - demand in other words.

And nobody but our friendly, investor-owned utility companies have been more active in urging everybody to "live better electrically." They have done such a good job in promoting electrical consumption that now they can't keep up with it.

This is not to subtract from the merits of any electric company which decides, even at this late date, to start advertising for everybody to use less electricity; like Con Edison in New York, which now says, "Save a Watt."

There are some people who believe that any kind of electrical advertising, even telling people not to use so much, is a subtle form of imprinting "electrify" on the minds of anyone venturing forth to buy a new heating plant or some other kind of gadget.

The same people will point out to you that the only way an electric utility company can charge more for its juice is to increase its capital investment in power plants, transmission lines, etc. That's because of the regulatory laws on electrical production and sales.

They will also claim that the best way to reduce electrical demand is to change the rate structure so that somebody using more power has to pay more per kilowatt hour. Right now the system is weighted in favor of the big consumer of electricity - the factory owner instead of the poor guy plugging in a new television set. Today sliding scale of electric rates lowers the unit price the more the customer uses.

Business Throws Weight Against Environment Drives

Nat Faronea

Belleville's Personalities

By Pat Diana

Some twenty years ago, Nat Faronea was donating blood to the Red Cross. Little did he realize he was embarking on an avocation to which he would donate countless hours during the next two decades. In speaking with some volunteers at the Brooklyn Chapter, American Red Cross, Mr. Faronea became a volunteer driver.

When he and his family moved to Belleville thirteen years ago, Nat transferred his "spare" time to the Belleville Chapter and is the chairman of the Driver Transportation division which means he is on call 24 hours a day. A variety of calls, some of emergency nature, include manning the coffee wagon at fires in town, taking people to state clinics for treatment, to name a few. Nat recently drove Craig Fabian to Ramapo College and, as he was being interviewed, Nat mused on the many, many people he transported through the years, wondering where and how they were now.

A few years back at the big fire on Washington and Williams Street, Nat with the red cross wagon was first on the scene and last to leave in the zero weather, offering hot coffee to the battle-weary fire and policemen. He recalls taking an ill veteran from East Orange Veterans Hospital to Bayshore, L.I., and back, so the man could attend services for a deceased relative. Nat has ten drivers under his jurisdiction, but always needs more. He states that the Red Cross is "willing to help anybody within limits," and told how schoolchildren make favors to distribute at local hospitals during holiday time.

The Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross is part of the Civil Defense of Essex County and, as such, Nat works as Disaster Control which meets in East Orange and he related how he received radio dispatching and receiving instructions as part of his training. Nat feels the Red Cross does much to help many in need-and spoke about his son who was on a carrier in Spain who had been brought home quickly due to Nat's grandson's illness. The Red Cross did it. To this day, Nat uses a razor that the Red Cross gave to his uncle way back in World War I, just before he embarked overseas. In local disasters, the Red Cross strives to find emergency clothing, food and shelter for families who are in need.

Crutches, wheelchairs, hospital beds are housed at the Red Cross building, 557 Washington Avenue and are available for loan to Belleville citizens. If you make a donation to the Red Cross, it should be earmarked, "Belleville Chapter" so the funds can be used to assist those in town, remember this during the annual Red Cross drive in March.

Nat is active in other areas, too - Secretary of the Lions Club, where he works with the eye screening committee. He is a Knights Templar of the Masonic Lodge, member of the Shriners, active in the Eastern Star (just prior to being interviewed, he had spent his Saturday morning collecting aluminum to sell, proceeds to benefit the Eastern Star in working for the Cancer Society. Oh, yes, he is also an Essex County Democratic Committeeman.

Nat and his wife Bridgette (a Belleville native) have four children: Nat, Jr., with wife Jean and their three children - Nat III, Frank and Anthony. They reside in Lyndhurst. Nat and Bridgette's other children are Santo, John, a 9th grader at the Jr. High and Josephine, a 7th grader at the Jr. High. When I asked Mr. Faronea how he can devote so much time to helping others, he told me his wife is very active in the Eastern Star and Red Cross and recently earned her Nurse's Aid certificate.

Since he volunteers his time in so many different areas, I was curious how Nat kept his records separate... "simple," he told me, "I have a big file cabinet."

What I'll never forget about Nat Faronea is the time when I had an automobile accident and I walked with a cane and had my arm in a cast. I was able to work, but unable to get myself there, so Nat picked me up early in the morning, drove me to work in the Red Cross Wagon, then went on to his own business. That's really volunteering above and beyond the call of duty.

Business Spotlight On John's

There's no getting away from it...this store is filled with money-saving values on housewares, domestics and soft goods. John's Bargain Store has been in town for thirteen years and is part of the Stratton Group, Ltd., of which there are 200 John's stores in the New York-Pennsylvania-New Jersey area.

Herb Douglas has been the manager for the past year, having been with John's in Miami Florida. He tells me the reason for their fantastic bargains is due to the volume and off-season buying which allows a big discount to the customer. The store is conveniently located on the corner of Washington Avenue and Rutgers Street; however, with the closing of Pathmark, John's (as well as other merchants on the Avenue) doesn't receive the walk-in trade it used to.

Employees are: Frances Sagarese, Phyllis Stellato, Ann Peterlin and Janet VanLaverde. By the way, Herb was very satisfied with the summer employees he hired through Pat Diana's Summer Employment Program for Teens—Bob Cohen and Jerry Senatore.

"BEAUTY TIPS"

By Justin

To rescue a protruding eye, use a deep blue or deep mauve shadow. Brighter, paler shades bring out eyes. Quick and easy way to take off nail polish: dip an old toothbrush in remover, and swish over nails. Wipe away excess with tissue (it won't shred, as it does when you use it for the entire job.) Tuck a just-empty bottle of perfume in the bottom of your facial tissue box to get scent mileage out of the last remaining drops of fragrance. Skin experts say dry or normal skins need a facial mask at least once a week — oily skins, twice a week. You'll see the difference!

Did You Know That? You can purchase rollers which do not require clips or pins to hold your hair in place. Ask for "Sobico" rollers at Justins

You And Your Pet Spay Your Animals Now

By Raymond Minor, D.V.M.

Have you ever seen a dog or cat wandering the street, peering into trash or garbage looking for food? Have you ever noticed a kitten or puppy huddled under a porch seeking shelter? In all probability, you have. And in all probability the animals were strays — victims of the pet population explosion.

Today there are at least 90 million dogs and cats in America. Of these, almost half — more than 15 million dogs and 25 million cats — are homeless. Puppies and kittens are being born at the rate of 105 a minute, or more than 9,000 an hour. This amounts to almost 3 quarter million a day.

Most of these young animals, unwanted by their owners and passed on to whomever will take them in, are eventually abandoned to die of starvation, disease or exposure.

The public is hardly aware of this problem because there are not great numbers of homeless cats and dogs at any one time in any one locality.

But as one homeless animal dies, another unwanted cat or dog is abandoned to take its place in the streets, thereby continuing the endless chain.

One method of preventing the cruelty to companion animals begins with preventing the birth of the excess millions. "Neutering" also termed spaying, is the only certain method of preventing animal reproduction.

This operation can be performed on a healthy animal at any age, but with a younger animal, recovery is more rapid. When done by a skilled veterinary surgeon, it is a relatively simple operation. A general anesthetic is used so there is no pain, and very few animals show any sign of discomfort after the operation. Five or six months is considered the optimum age.

Many pet owners believe that spaying affects their pet's personality and makes him fat and lazy.

There just is no truth to this. This is no evidence that spaying affects the personality of a pet beyond the fact that once the pet loses its interest in the opposite sex — which it does after spaying — it becomes more attached to its human companions and thereby makes a better pet.

As for becoming fat and lazy, overweight is due to caloric intake. And, in those instances, where pets get fat after spaying, they are simply being fed too much or not exercised enough.

Nutted pets make ideal house pets. They are more settled around the house and are less likely to wander off. And, believe it or not, a cat does not need to have kittens to be happy.

A spayed female is really a marvelous pet and companion. Almost all "Seeing-eye" dogs are spayed females.

You may have the neutering operations performed at the animal hospital of your choice, but you should consult your own local veterinarian for more specific advice.

DR. MINOR REGRETS THAT HE IS UNABLE TO PERSONALLY ANSWER LETTERS FROM PET OWNERS. HE RECOMMENDS THAT READERS CONSULT THEIR OWN VETERINARIANS WHEN THEIR PETS HAVE PROBLEMS.

In this day and generation there's so much information that one finds it difficult to select what to believe.

Cahill Sets Aside Week for Handicapped

Governor William T. Cahill today signed a proclamation calling for recognition of the first week in October as Employ the Handicapped Week by the State of New Jersey.

This action is in support of a special act of Congress which regularly sets aside the first week in October as National Employ the Handicapped Week.

Governor Cahill's proclamation calls upon the citizens of New Jersey to observe the designation and urges all employers to give full and equal consideration to handicapped men and women in filling jobs.

Ronald M. Heymann, Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry and Chairman of the Governor's Commission to Employ the Handicapped, noted that this plan, while advanced for the benefit of the handicapped worker, represents sound business practice as well.

"Experience has shown that handicapped workers have records of good performance and above average attendance," Heymann said. "In this light, handicapped workers can be great assets to a firm."

Patricia Foselli On Dean's List At Fairleigh Parkway Temporarily Closing Express Lane

Patricia Foselli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foselli, 56 Walnut Street, has made the dean's list at Fairleigh Dickinson University. Ruthford, Pat is a 1970 graduate of BHS and works part time in Grant's 5 & 10.

In addition to earning her tuition, Miss Foselli spends her spare time volunteering at the Essex County Children's Shelter.

Middle age is the time of life when you should watch your middle.

A massive earth-moving operation involved in the construction of four new express lanes on the Garden State Parkway has necessitated temporary lane closings during non-peak traffic hours for a six-mile section of the existing roadway.

Masterson Finishes Navy Tour of Arctic

Coast Guard Petty Third Class Ronald N. Masterson, son of Mr. Woodrow W. Masterson of 26 Hilton Street, Belleville, participated in "Arctic West Summer Operations 1972," a scientific research operation in the Arctic, and has returned to his homeport at Long Beach, Calif. aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Clacie.

Arctic West Summer Operations 1972 was conducted by Coast Guard Academy cadets and scientists from the Coast Guard Oceanographic Unit, Smithsonian Institution, Oregon State University, University of Connecticut and U.S. Geological Survey. It was designed to establish an ecological baseline and to determine the feasibility of shore oil operations with minimal risk of oil spills caused by ice damage.

Executive Director John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Parkway, today said a Troop E State Police, detail on duty in the area shuts off one travel lane at a time northbound and southbound to permit a small army of trucks to transport the earth.

Some 250,000 cubic yards of earth are being hauled from the area between Interchanges 117 and 120 to the vicinity of the Chesapeake Service Area. Excavation is needed for the roadbed at the former site while embankments are being built at the Chesapeake location.

"We are trying to use as much fill dirt as possible in the operation without having to purchase it," Director Gallagher said.

Lane closings are at the discretion of the State Troopers on the scene and are timed according to satisfactory traffic volumes, Director Gallagher noted. The northbound closings, he added, usually affect the entire six-mile stretch but the southbound closings generally are for a shorter distance because they are limited to the immediate area where trucks, then empty, head back toward the loading area.

'Red Hot Lovers' Packs Wallop at Meadowbrook

An appropriate sub-title to the Broadway hit, "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers," would be "The Education of Barney Cashman." In this Neil Simon mad comedy at the Meadowbrook Theatre Restaurant in Cedar Grove, Barney, the middle-aged owner of a fish restaurant, learns the hard way that it isn't easy to find "something beautiful" in the sexual revolution.

Barney comes to life in the performance of Frank Sutton for five years in the Gomer Pyle U.S.M.C. television series. His portrayal of the upright citizen trying for a one-time fling is sensitive and understanding of the deep conflicts within the character. Barney has been brooding over the possibility of his life nearing an end without his ever having known anything but the tranquility of 23 years of marital fidelity, preceded by seven years of courtship of the girl he married. In three attempts he tries to find an experience that would be "fulfilling, something beautiful to remember" for the rest of his life.

Frank Sutton has caught all the nuances of Barney's urge to cheat, his golden anticipations that turn into dross, and his frustrations as a measure of his conscience rather than any real force on the part of the possible co-partners.

The third of the invites to his mother's apartment is his wife's best friend, played by the special guest star, Selma Diamond. Her characterization of a woman suffering from a melancholia induced by her husband's unnecessary confession of an affair with her close friend, is expert. Both funny and pathetic, this comedienne carries the audience with her in her every line. The act, which involves (really satirizes) the problems of the middle-aged, was relished as much by the young as by the older. Certainly, Sutton and Miss Diamond "wing the most out of every moment on stage."

The other two invites were played by Judith Jett as an over-sexed blonde to whom Barney was attracted in his restaurant, and Ginger Flick, as a kooky scatterbrain with ambitions to be a television star. Miss Jett as Elaine Navazio gives a bold performance that scores off the romantic Barney. Miss Flick ends up terrifying Barney with her wild tales of past lovers, jealousies and propositions.

This education of Barney Cashman. The Last of the Red Hot Lovers, provides a laugh-laden evening from the opening scene to the final moment when Barney tries by phone to persuade his wife to a clandestine meeting with him in his mother's apartment. It is a show not to be missed either for laughs or for devotion to the king of comedy writers, Neil Simon.

To Richard Michaels goes credit for the fine direction. Scene designer Larry Aumen has done it again with a set of taste and imagination. John Beavin, the producer, and Marvin Sprague, associate producer, add to their laurels with this production.

State Warns on Phoning Lottery Number Early

Don't dial 990-1234 before 11:30 a.m. on Thursdays for the winning New Jersey Lottery number, advises Ralph F. Batch, executive director of the State Lottery.

Should you dial before that time, Batch says, you're likely to hear the winning number for the previous week. The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company charges 10 cents for each call to the Lottery number announcement service, similar to the charge made for weather information.

"We don't want a Lottery patron to waste his 10 cents by getting last week's number which he already knows," Batch explains.

State Lottery drawings are held at 11 a.m. each Thursday and the winning number is usually known by 11:20. The number must then be recorded on tape at State Lottery headquarters and transmitted to the 27 N.J. Bell Telephone centers throughout the State. That is why Batch urges Lottery ticket holders to wait until 11:30 before they dial 990-1234 for the new winning number.

Reflecting a substantial broadening of its scope of activities over the last decade, Hoffman Rigging & Crane Service, Inc. of Belleville today announced that it has changed its corporate name to Hoffman International, Inc.

William A. Hoffman, Jr., president of the company, said the new name was adopted "because the former name, in use over 20 years, no longer accurately described the breadth of our corporate operations."

The firm is one of the country's largest operators of land and water based heavy cranes and derricks, specializes transportation systems and heavy rigging equipment.

Founded in 1920 as Hoffman's Motor Transportation, the company now employs more than 150 people and operates 100 major pieces of equipment, including the largest fleet of heavy lift truck cranes in the nation. It also provides specialized hauling and rigging services in the maritime and construction industries and sells and leases a complete line of material handling equipment to both industries anywhere in the world.

And recently, Hoffman International inaugurated a unique land-sea transit system featuring a fleet of newly acquired high capacity derrick barges - the largest and most powerful of their kind on the East Coast. The barges, with maximum lifting capacities ranging from 150 to 500 tons, are equipped to hoist heavy cargo onto and off of ships and docks and to transport it throughout New York harbor and the East and Gulf coasts.

"As we continued to expand and diversify our operations, it became clear that our former name not only did not describe the company's activities, but imparted an extremely narrow and restrictive connotation," said Hoffman. "Therefore, we selected a name that stresses our geographic scope without trying to exhaustively describe all of our functions."

Hoffman said the company's geographic base of operations has grown from a single facility in Belleville to a network of branch offices in Baltimore, Elmsford, N.Y., Port Newark and Bermuda. Its market area encompasses the continental United States, with a concentration in the East, and it has contracted for work in Greece, Bermuda, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and other Caribbean islands, and South America. It has done consulting work in the heavy equipment field in the Far East, as well.

PSE&G to Share Nuclear Station

Atlantic City Electric Company and Jersey Central Power & Light Company will share in the ownership and electric output of the world's first offshore nuclear generating station, Edward R. Eberle, president of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, announced yesterday. Jersey Central and Atlantic City Electric will each have a 10 per cent share and PSE&G's share will be 80 per cent, according to agreements signed yesterday afternoon.

PSE&G, which serves nearly six million people, or 80 per cent of New Jersey's population, signed a contract with Offshore Power Systems for two floating nuclear power units on September 18. The two units will have a generating capacity of 1,150,000 kilowatts each for a total output of 2,300,000 kilowatts. The units will be located behind a storm-proof breakwater at a site 12 miles northeast of Atlantic City and 23 miles out in the ocean. The breakwater, which will rise 54 feet above the ocean, will be able to withstand hurricane winds of 156 miles per hour and tornado winds of up to 300 miles per hour. Total cost of the project, including the breakwater, has been estimated at approximately $1 billion. The first unit is scheduled for operation in 1980; the second in 1981.

"These agreements insure that power from this station will help meet the growing demand for electricity in the southern and coastal areas of our state," Eberle said.

Two other agreements executed yesterday by PSE&G and Atlantic City Electric will help meet power needs over the next two decades.

Atlantic City Electric agreed to share 10 per cent of the cost and electric output of the Newbold Island Nuclear Generating Station. This is being planned by PSE&G on the Delaware River in Bordentown Township, Burlington County. Two units of 1,100,000 kilowatts each are scheduled for completion in 1979 and 1980.

PSE&G agreed to assume an interest in the 4,500-acre "Bayside Site" owned by Atlantic City Electric near Greenwich, Cumberland County on Delaware Bay. PSE&G will own 80 per cent; Atlantic City Electric 20 per cent.

Bellboys Battle Bengals to Scoreless Tie

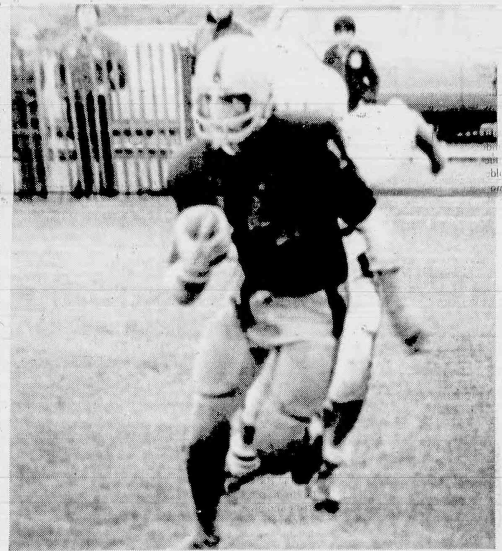

HOME FROM THE WAR, a battered and muddy Bloomfield High football player reflects the frustrations of the day as the Bengals and Belleville High fought to a standoff 0-0 tie at mud-soaked Foley Field.

BELLBOY QUARTERBACK last week was Michael Dondarski who tried gamely to get things moving. On this series he got a pass away to Joe Troise but in the mud the ball fell short. Providing the blocking are Belleville running backs Phil Cuzzi(30) and Joe Rose(25).

RUNNING STAR of the day at Foley Field was Bloomfield's All-State candidate Felix Flores (30) who went everywhere except into the endzone thanks to the dogged pursuit of the Belleville defensive unit. They were responsible for salvaging a tie. Here Steve Senatore(22) comes up to make the stop on Fleeting Felix.

RON BORGO, couldn't generate much steam as he tried to get into the open on this punt return. He wasn't alone though as neither team could mount any sort of drive in the rain.

A BEATEN BENGAL is ushered from the field by Bloomfield coach Sam Cavallaro in Saturday's game. It might have only been exhaustion from trying to navigate the sea of mud.

A MEETING OF THE MINDS is arranged here between Felix Flores of Bloomfield and Belleville Co-Captain Robert Luongo (50). Flores also pulled a train consisting of Belleville's John Ciallella (61) and a Bengal player doing double duty as caboose.

Palma Hopes For A Good Cage Season

Although their first practice session is still a month and a half away, the Belleville High School basketball team holds a very optimistic view over their up and coming season beginning on December 8. This confidence was exuded recently, when I was recently talking to head coach Bob Palma, and his only two returning lettermen, Mark Corino and Vin Turturiello, about the prospects for the coming season.

Coach Palma is looking forward more to this season, than any other in his three years as Belleville's basketball coach. He feels that for the first time in years that Belleville will be able to put some height on the floor, thus helping to cut down the tremendous rebounding disadvantage that Belleville always suffers in its games.

He feels that his team will be more dedicated than any other that he has ever coached. In fact the only real detriment he sees with this team is that except for Corino and Turturiello, none of the other boys have had much experience in varsity ball. However, in spite of this youth coach Palma can see Belleville pulling off a couple of big upsets at home against some of the powerhouse teams of the Big Ten Conference which Belleville belongs.

Palma expects about 50 candidates to try out for the team, and says that there will be a wide open competition for positions on the team, which will all the more contribute to a better team.

In talking to lettermen Corino and Turturiello, the first thing they pointed out was that they felt the team attitude must improve for the team to go anywhere. All petty jealousies the team had in the past must be put aside. As far as the actual playing of basketball goes, Corino feels that the team will have to tighten their defense considerably. Mark and Vin, along with many of the other potential team members worked on this aspect of the game this summer at the Al LoBalbo Basketball School. Turturiello also claimed that the school helped him to build a great deal more confidence in himself in many other aspects of the game of basketball.

Corino and Turturiello are both guards and according to coach Palma will be the ones that the team will look to for leadership, since they have a good deal of varsity experience. However, Mark and Vin know they cannot do it all alone and will be looking to many other teammates for vital contributions. The number one hope for Belleville this season and for future years will be 6 ft. 6 in. Abdel Anderson, a sophomore.

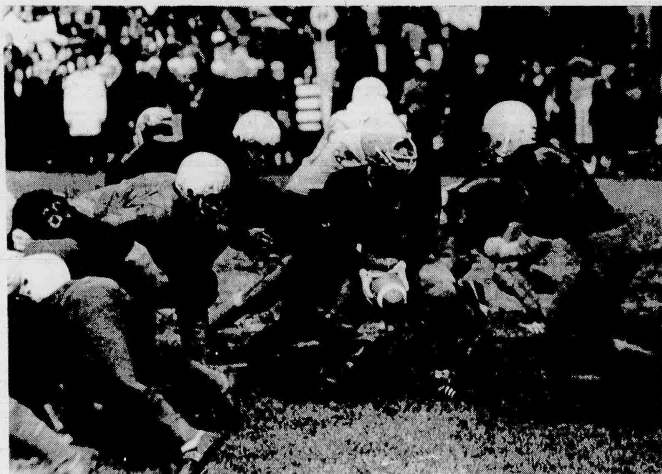

He possesses good moves, is a fine shooter, and an excellent rebounder and defensive player. Junior Gary Tufo is expected to be a big help as a big, solid, 6 ft. 3 in. rebounder. He is also a fair shooter in close to the basket. Juniors Satch Sanders and Harry Baumgartner will be looked to for help also, the former as a rebounder while the latter as a scorer.

Two seniors who showed promise on the front line last year were Mark Canyon and Ed Colon who should help out the team this year. There are also bound to be some surprises in training camp from the vast field of candidates, so there seems to be some general talent about to populate the team this year.

On the floor the team according to Corino should win 7-8 games and be a decent ballclub. They expect to beat Garfield, Nutley, Columbia, and Hillside, while putting up strong performances against Kearny and Irvington. The team also knows no matter what its record it will be in the State Tournament under new state rules, and possibly pull a surprise against a team they have never seen before. Therefore, with a totally committed team, and a group of promising kids backing two old veterans, Belleville basketball should be much improved this year.

QUARTERBACK Mike Dondarski hands off to fullback Phil Cuzzi for a gain up the middle. Dondarski, a junior, started and went the whole game for the Bellboys.

Harriers Lose 3 Times

Belleville Cross-Country suffered three defeats last week to remain winless in the first five encounters of the young fall track season. That trio of losses, however, was against three undefeated teams, and several individual Bellboy performances could shed a light of hope on the rest of the season.

Last week's first meet was run Tuesday at Belleville Park against Barringer. The Bears defeated the Bellboys by an 18-45 score with Mike Treamon of Barringer taking first place with a time of 13:48. Belleville's first runner, Bill Goodwin, came in third, 17 seconds behind Treamon.

Next in line for Belleville was soph Walter Sibbs who took ninth in a time of 15:17. Other finishers were Rocco Cuozzo and Mike Fortino. (Continued on Page 13) who came in right behind Sibbs. Peter Fitzpatrick and Steve Budrick pulled out of the two and a half mile run, Fitzpatrick with a leg cramp and Budrick with a bad knee.

The Belleville team traveled to West Orange Thursday to run against a strong Mountain High School team. The Rams improved their record to 6-0 in taking the first six places before Goodwin could break up the shutout. He finished in 14:23 while the team score was 15-49.

CYO to Distribute Decals In Essex

The Essex County CYO announces that it will soon be distributing CYO decals which can be sold as a fund-raising project by CYO organizations throughout the county.

Parish groups will be asked especially to promote "CYO Sponsor Decal Week" which will be observed from Oct. 29 thru Nov. 5 — National Catholic Youth Week. The theme of this year's Youth Week is "Come My Friends," aimed at encouraging youths of all faiths to join together in a spiritual motif.

At the conclusion of National Catholic Youth Week, the Essex County CYO will sponsor its annual Ice-Breaker on Sunday, Nov. 5 at 2:30 P.M. in the VFW Memorial Post Hall, Pompton Avenue, Cedar Grove. Adult advisors and youth chaplains from throughout Essex County will be urged to attend this social kickoff to the CYO season.

Decals, which can be placed on school books, loose-leaf folders and car windows, can be sold by local CYO units for one dollar apiece.

The attractive orange-and-white decals may be sold outside of churches following Sunday Masses or on a door-to-door basis by CYO members.

Belleville also took 11th through 16th places, but were outclassed by the strong Mountain team.

The following day Belleville went at it again against Montclair, another unbeaten club (4-0). The Mounties won by a 17-40 margin with Greg Crandel taking first place in 13:21 for Montclair. The Bellboys did break up a clean sweep of the first five places by taking fifth and sixth. Goodwin took fifth in 14:03 and Sibbs ran his best varsity race, finishing behind Crandel in 14:31.

Fortino finished eighth with his best time, 15:10. Juniors Wayne Kellenbeck, Peter Fitzpatrick and Steven Dyba finished 11th, 12th and 13th respectively, while Ron Lamoureux was 14th in a time of 15:49. Only one person can win a race, but sometimes back in the pack is an excellent performance by a runner who didn't happen to come in first. In Montclair's meet, just such a performance was put on by Danny DeSantis of Belleville who ran 14th in 16:22 but who bettered his previous low time by almost two minutes. Quite an accomplishment in track and field.

Captain Rocco Cuozzo was sidelined for the Montclair run with a virus but is expected back this week, when the Harriers face another strong Kearny squad, and on October 13 against Irvington, away.

Beck's Column

We wrote in an earlier column that the color TV manufacturers are switching more and more to "solid state" chassis. Such sets do not use tubes any more, they use transistors instead, which don't burn out, do not get hot, use much less current and (supposedly) last forever. This latter claim has to be taken with a grain of salt, of course. But it is a fact that there are far less break downs in transistor - than in tube sets.

We also wrote that, the prices for solid state color TV sets are higher than for sets using tubes. The question is whether one should pay the higher price and what are the advantages. One can expect that a transistor set has less break downs, which means less expense for service over the life of the set. Color TV service is expensive. The difference in the purchase price between a tube and a transistor set will be saved in time. However, you have to look for a transistor set which is designed in such a way that the different sections, so called circuit panels or modules, can be replaced in the home. This is most important. Be sure to ask this question when you buy a transistor TV. The initial guarantee on transistor sets is far more extensive and longer than on tube sets. All in all it pays to spend the higher price for a transistor color TV set, as long as you make sure, that it has circuit panels which can be replaced in the home.

We service what we sell.

Waldor Asks Tax Relief For Parochial Parents

Milton A. Waldor, the Republican Congressional candidate in the 11th District today announced that if elected he would work for the enactment of broad legislation to allow tax deductions for education expenses incurred by parents sending children to private or parochial schools, or to college.

"There is a definite need for steps to insure that our private and parochial schools do not disappear from our educational system," Waldor said. "Unless we do something to make it possible for parents to withstand the expense of a private or parochial education, we are in danger of losing these schools, which are vital to our overall system of education."

At the college level, expenses are climbing to heights that will drive the cost of a college education beyond what middle income families can afford," Waldor said.

"If this continues, we are in danger of losing these schools, which are vital to our overall system of education."

"I demand a guaranteed insured pension, adjusted for cost-of-living increases, be provided to all American workers," declared Jim Klimaski, People's Party candidate for Congress in the 11th District.

"This will eliminate the anxiety of having to face a forced retirement without pension benefits due to the whim of management. It would free the American worker from being tied to a specific job or work-place."

"Companies are moving out of this area and out of this country at an alarming rate," Klimaski went on. "The people who work for these companies are usually unable to follow this move, and they therefore lose valuable pension credits."

"Ballantine and Studebaker-Worthington shut down their plants in our area. Uniroyal is closing its Passaic plant, despite the plant's healthy profit-margin and Uniroyal's current inflationary profit-margin of 73%."

"People who have put in 15 or 20 years of their lives working for these and other companies are without pensions, without anything."

Waldor of having a college education become largely the private preserve of wealthy families, or those at the poverty level who receive government support," the candidate declared.

"The young people who go to college are an important resource for the future of America," he continued. "It stands to reason that we cannot let the parents of these young people bear the entire heavy financial burden of their higher education without some form of relief."

Minish to Waldor: Stop Hoodwinking Public

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District - New Jersey, has renewed his battle to secure full funding for the Federal anti-cancer program.

In a letter to Senator Warren Magnusen, chairman of the Senate subcommittee which has the cancer appropriation under consideration, Minish urged that the National Institute of Cancer be allotted its full authorization of $492 million.

Last week, Minish came under attack by his opponent in the November general election for his efforts in behalf of the cancer program. Milton Waldor alleged that Minish only became interested in cancer legislation for political reasons.

Minish said "it is obvious that my opponent is desperately manufacturing issues in an effort to hoodwink the voters of the 11th District." "It's hard to believe," Minish commented, "that Waldor would stoop so low as to attack me, or anyone, support for an intensification of the Federal anti-cancer program, but that is exactly what Milton Waldor has chosen to do."

"Despite Mr. Waldor's vicious and false allegations," Minish said, "the fact is that I have been working to upgrade and improve the cancer research program since April of 1970 when I sponsored a resolution calling for a national commitment to cure cancer."

THE ATOMIC AGE — Charles Amato, nuclear engineer for New Jersey and graduate student at Rutgers University examines the nuclear generating station at Oyster Creek. Surveillance of radiation levels is the responsibility of the state's Department of Environmental Protection.

State Keeps Close Eye On Nuclear Power Sites

Much of the concern now surrounding nuclear power plants is caused by the fact that people are finally taking them seriously, an expert on radiation hazards believes.

"Throughout most of the Sixties you could exhibit scale models of reactors, label them 'Future,' and no one was very much disturbed," says Charles Amato, nuclear engineer for the State Department of Environmental Protection and a graduate student in environmental sciences at Rutgers.

"But the future is now — true even if a cliché — and nuclear energy should be evaluated on its own merits."

In New Jersey, this evaluation takes place within the Department of Environmental Protection. A Large part of Amato's job consists of assisting and advising in the review of power plant applications.

Other aspects of his work involve keeping abreast of radiation surveillance in air, water and foodstuffs throughout the state, with particular emphasis on the Oyster Creek generating station which began operating in December 1969.

"Surveillance since then has shown no significant increase in radioactivity anywhere near the reactor area," he says. "In fact, the so-called thermal pollution — discharge of warm water into a canal leading to the sea — has attracted fish and improved both circulation and dissolved oxygen levels."

"We also find that levels of radioactivity in general have declined in many locations since the 1963 agreement banning nuclear weapons testing in the atmosphere."

Amato, who is studying for his Ph.D. in environmental sciences, believes that many engineers, as well as the public, have failed to take nuclear energy seriously and educate themselves as to the pros and cons.

"My own academic experience is a case in point," he says. "I completed classwork for a master's degree in nuclear engineering in 1967. But the industry was then in the doldrums, and my program was phased out just as I had completed it — with the result that I became the only nuclear engineer ever graduated from Rutgers."

"Soon afterward the industry 'took off like a rocket,' and demands for nuclear

Scouts Plan Busy Month

Belleville Scouts will have a busy month in October. For one thing, the Cub Scouts "Pow Wow" of the Robert Treat Council will be held in Belleville, Saturday, Oct. 14 beginning at 9 a.m. and running until 4 p.m. at Belleville Junior High School, 279 Washington Avenue.

The Pow Wow is a fun-filled conference of Den mothers, Den fathers, committeemen, Cubmasters and prospective leaders.

Lunch can be bought at the affair or participants can bring their own. Registration is $1. Included in the fee is a Pow Wow section book and a program.

A minimum pack attendance should be six adults, one in each of the following sections: Pack management, Cubmasters' section; Pack management, Park committee section; games section, man or woman committee or Den leader, crafts section, Den leader or Den leader coach; skits and puppets, Den leader or Den leader coach, and Webelos section, Webelos leader or dad from Webelos Den.

Cub and Boy Scouts will be selling tickets this month under the direction of Chairman Rocco Saletta for the Annual Exposition - Fun Fair - for the Robert Treat Council. Ed Solberg is district Fun Fair chairman. The event will be held at the Newark College of Engineering. For more information call 622-2488.

Three dates have been set aside for training sessions for Scouters' keys and Scouters' training awards. Under the direction of Jim Donohue, training chairman, and Tom Balsamo, the sessions will be held at Fewsmith Church, 444 Union Avenue, on October 10, 17 and 24, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Local Scouts, in cooperation with the Belleville Shade Tree Commission, have begun a glass recycling program. The next recycling session will be held at the Belmont Avenue Pathmark supermarket, Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

engineers are presently taxing the supply. But Rutgers was left without a nuclear engineering program."

Currently, 21 graduate students are studying for degrees in the various aspects of radiation science, according to Francis J. Haughey, associate professor of environmental sciences, at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science.

Killington Ski Area To Present Festival of Bluegrass, Banjo

Killington Ski Area in central Vermont will be the site of the Second Annual Vermont Bluegrass and Banjo Festival, to be held at 1:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 8th.

In addition to a number of nationally known Bluegrass acts, such as High Country, The Hagers and Mike Seeger and the New Lost City Ramblers, the program will also feature many of Vermont's finest banjo players and fiddlers.

Killington's Snowshed Area will provide a natural amphitheater for this outdoor festival, with music scheduled to continue throughout the afternoon.

Meet Jo Ann Roberts, Dollar Stretcher:

She checks against ineligible claims for non-group members to help conserve your health-care dollars.

The payment of ineligible claims contributes to the cost of everyone's health-care protection. And that's why Jo Ann and her team of experts check to make sure we don't pay hospital claims for ineligible pre-existing conditions.

Jo Ann, who is Assistant Manager of the Blue Cross Claims Processing Section, is an important part of our staff responsible for seeing that members and their families get all the benefits to which they are entitled, but that no ineligible claims are paid.

Jo Ann Roberts. It's your dollar she's stretching. She's another of the many reasons New Jersey Blue Cross and Blue Shield deliver more health care for your health-care dollar.

750,000 Shares Of Stock

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the registration of 750,000 shares of a new series of cumulative preferred stock (par value $100 per share). It is expected that the shares will be offered October 18, by means of a negotiated public offering through a group of underwriters led by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith Incorporated.

The proceeds from the sale will be used for general corporate purposes, including the payment of a portion of the cost of the company's current construction program and payment of outstanding short-term obligations.

Public Service To Offer
750,000 Shares Of Stock

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the registration of 750,000 shares of a new series of cumulative preferred stock (par value $100 per share). It is expected that the shares will be offered October 18, by means of a negotiated public offering through a group of underwriters led by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith Incorporated.

The proceeds from the sale will be used for general corporate purposes, including the payment of a portion of the cost of the company's current construction program and payment of outstanding short-term obligations.

Parkway Grows Another Garden

Another garden is growing on the Garden State Parkway.

This one is in the form of a beautiful landscaping project which-like icing on the cake, is topping off a million-dollar improvement of the restaurant facilities at the Montvale Service Area.

During the major reconstruction work at Montvale, the restaurant parking lots were relocated. Instead of putting back more concrete in their place, the New Jersey Highway Authority decided to put in more grass, flowers, shrubs and trees, with brick walkways added to enhance the beauty.

Actually, the landscape project involves a series of small gardens rather than one large layout. The work, still in progress, is being done by the Maintenance Division of the Authority, which operates the Parkway.

"The re-planting program at Montvale is another step to make the service areas more 'Parkwayish' and the restaurants more attractive to the motoring public," Authority Executive Director John P. Gallagher said today. "It promises to make the Montvale site one of the more attractive as well as one of the most functional and busiest on any expressway."

Under the million-dollar overhauling, the dining and parking capacities were doubled at the Montvale area, northernmost food-and-fuel stop on the 173-mile-long Parkway. The project was the biggest in a series of actions carried out by the Authority to upgrade the attractiveness of service sites in the interests of public service and safety.

"We hope this newest touch of Parkway beauty will serve as an extra invitation for the motorist to take a respite from the high-speed pressures of modern highways," Director Gallagher said. "One of our objectives in making the restaurants more attractive — in service, prices and food portions as well as in appearance — was the safety factor involved in taking a rest from the burdens of traffic."

The call of duty, it seems, usually leads a man to the highest salary offered.
