Business Administrator Retires After 35 Years

RETIRING last Friday after over 35 years of service in the Belleville School System, was Harold Dufford, business administrator here for the past 15 years. Dufford was also feted by friends last week.

Harold A. Dufford, Belleville School System's business administrator or over 15 years, officially retired from that post last Friday. Dufford had served the Belleville System for over 35 years total. The well-liked and popular school official was feted by friends at a testimonial dinner last Thursday evening in the Galaxy in Belleville. Over 100 persons attended the affair.

Also last week, the Duffords moved to Chesterfield Court in Vincentown after maintaining a Franklin Avenue, Belleville, residence for several years. "I'll be back up in Belleville though several times throughout the year. I have many friends here," remarked Dufford. After spending the rest of the year in Vincentown, the Duffords plan to vacation in Florida in February.

Married to the former Jean Harrington of Newark over 37 years ago, the Duffords have one daughter, Mrs. Jean Sheppard, who now resides in California.

Dufford's teaching experience spans several years and most of them were in the Belleville School System. His first teaching assignment was in Pleasantville (Continued on Page 10)

Women's Lib Files Suit Against Schools System

The Essex County Chapter of the National Organization for Women (N.O.W.) has filed a complaint of discrimination against the school system of Belleville. The complaint is based on their policy of automatically placing boys in shop courses and girls in home economics courses. N.O.W. claims that such a policy of automatic placement by sex violates the N.J. Law Against Discrimination as well as Title IX of the federal Education Amendments of 1972 which states: "No person shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

N.O.W. had previously sent two letters to the Superintendent of Schools, explaining that the policy "channels students in a sex-stereo-typed manner and denies students of both sexes the opportunity to acquire important skills and to select the course of their choice, following their own individual interests", and had offered the organization's assistance in planning an imaginative program permitting all students to learn many useful skills. In the absence of any positive response from the Superintendent of Schools, N.O.W. has proceeded to file charges of discrimination

Jersey State Assembly Approves Jaycee Charter

In an especially active meeting last Thursday, the Belleville Jaycees announced its charter has been accepted, approved a constitution, and elected a slate of five officers and two directors.

The Jaycees, inactive in town since late 1971, was officially revived when the New Jersey State Assembly of Jaycees ratified the new group's charter November 11 at Cherry Hill.

Representing the Belleville Jaycees at the assembly was Joseph Primavera, whose acting president title was officially changed to president at the new group's elections.

Other officers elected by chapter members were Sam Giuffrida, internal vice president; Joe Doyle, external vice president; John Ames, secretary; and Mike Marotti, treasurer. Elected directors were Frank Pomacio and Vic

Many Belleville tenants, especially, the apartment variety are more than concerned over the ever increasing rental demands they are being forced to meet by landlords who cite increasing costs resulting from increased taxes and maintenance costs as justification for their rent hikes.

These anxious rentpayers are carefully watching a real rent control movement with good prospects of success not emerging in New Jersey. Like an invasion army, they stand ready to attack; encouraged by local Ordinances in other towns which only need favorable decision of the State Supreme Court to establish their validity or by Legislative enactments to put them into operation on a statewide basis.

To date locally action has developed, however, pressure is mounting and a smoldering fire could ignite into an inferno. The movement, no longer known as "rent control" is now known as "rent leveling" — A sweet sounding name for the same thing. 16 towns have already passed such local laws, mostly the larger communities with numerous apartment dwellings.

The laws are now awaiting a decision, expected this term of the State Supreme Court, as to whether a ruling by a lower court judge upholding the legality of the laws should be affirmed.

The militant New Jersey Tenants Organization, headed by Martin Aronow of Fort Lee, has led a strong two-year fight to get relief for beleaguered tenants.

Under the plan, rent increases are pegged to cost-of-living indexes. The landlord may pass increases in his property tax on to his tenants and his rent may also include the cost of capital improvement of his building.

The entire program would be subject to administration by a Rent Leveling Board, having the authority to grant "hardship" increases to landlords above and beyond this.

The laws are generally intended to serve a three year period or until the scarcity of available apartments is alleviated. The litigation, Judge Pashman upheld the right of a municipality, and called it a responsibility, to decide what actions are in the best interests of their citizens.

Belleville tenants beset by problems such as soaring rentals might do well to avail themselves to their right to petition their commissioners, at a town hall meeting, to do something to look after their best interests, as tenants, as has been done in other towns.

Especially, should our town leaders be alert to vexing matters affect - our citizens after returning from their expense paid junket to the State League of Municipalities Convention at the World's Playground, Atlantic City.

Having been invigorated by the embracing salt air and the generous livings that characterize such convention they should be in fine fettle to do their job in looking after the peoples best interests, on their return.

After consultation with affixed parties, I'm able to advise M. Burns, who wrote apropos to United Funds Appeal sent on Belleville stationery and the question of postage and labor, that Comm. Strumolo, who chairs the drive, only used his departmental stationery for original

Bellboys Host Lyndhurst In Turkey Day Finale

After almost two weeks of rest and relaxation, Belleville's varsity footballers again take to the gridiron, this time in the last contest of the 1972 season. The Thanksgiving Day finale is scheduled for 11 a.m. in Municipal Stadium against the Golden Bears of Lyndhurst. Thursday's game will be, of course, important for both clubs but some of the glitter is worn off for Lyndhurst. The Golden Bears (Continued on Page 11)

Legion 105 Sponsors Oratorical Competition

Belleville Post 105, American Legion, announces its participation in the 36th Annual National High School Oratorical Contest. The 1973 competition is open to all high school students in town and is one of the outstanding projects of the American Legion on a national scale, in the field of Americanism.

Principal Raymond O. Smith, BHS, endorses this event and has appointed Richard Graves, head of the department of Social Studies, to head the program. The contestant must prepare an eight minute oration and then speak extemporaneously for three minutes on some phase of the Constitution of the United States. Specific guides, rules and details are available from the High School in a brochure.

Belleville Post 105 will award 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners a gold, silver and bronze medal and $50, and two $25 prizes respectively. Should the winner reach county finals, the Department of New Jersey, American Legion, will present a first place award of a $500 scholarship. National competition first place winner will receive an $8,000 scholarship for further education.

Prior to nominations and elections, the chapter reviewed and accepted the constitution and by-laws. According to the constitution the Belleville Jaycees are bound to provide its members with "training, leadership and civic consciousness" through community involvement.

The constitution also pledges to promote the welfare of the community through constructive projects. In a project already undertaken, the fledgling organization provided men at Belleville's 18 polling places on election night to relay the town's vote to the news media.

The first major project being planned by the chapter will be its charter night banquet. Through this project the group hopes to raise funds to finance significant community oriented undertakings.

The Belleville Jaycees now are selling tickets for the New Jersey Junior Miss Pageant to be held December 3 at Belleville High School. Tickets, $1.50, are available by contacting Joe Primavera at 751-4543.

Membership in the Jaycees is open to any man between the ages of 18 to 35. Primavera has extended an open invitation to those interested to attend a Belleville Jaycee meeting on the first Thursday of any month.

The Jaycees will meet again at the Fountain Restaurant December 7.

Commission Date Is Changed Again

For the second time this month the regular Board of Commission meeting has been changed from its regular Tuesday date to Thursday. Town Fathers will meet next on November 30.

Sorry to hear Belleville has lost the valuable services of town Librarian Ben Grimm who resigned to take over, in a more remunerative similar such titled position in Jersey City. Another loss for Belleville.

I see by the papers that the shoemaker who peddles shows is still making a attempt to get a free ad in the papers by assailing my evaluation of Washington Avenue's deterioration and the decline of business activity in that area.

My original effort to improve this regrettable situation was to galvanize the local merchants and the decadent local Chamber of Commerce to get on the ball and lead our town fathers to do something to improve the situation.

Apparently lacking the stamina, ability and "gets" to follow my suggestion, they come up with a "patsy" who gloats about his prosperous business in a location that exhibits all the throes of "Death Valley" under a searing sun.

The pretentious publicity releases of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce impress me about as much as do the false reports of the South Vietnamese casualty reports of the enemy. Let's forget the B.S. Buddy. The fact is, that unless something is done soon the Avenue is DEAD.

You want proof positive... When they picked the New Jersey State Lottery number in Belleville they did it where the action is, Grant's Parking lot off Franklin Avenue... NOT WASHINGTON AVENUE. They go where the people are.

Now Mr. Shoemans, lets get down to some of the nitty-gritty of real dollar and cents business facts. In the past, Come the Christmas Holiday Season, the Path-Mark paid almost half of the cost of the Xmas lighting and the cost of Electric current to light same. This year there is no Path-Mark, yet, since you claim you are so prosperous and are making so much profit I suggest that, as an example of your great and abiding confidence in the great improvement in the business aspects of Washington Avenue, that you alone assume the overall that, previously were underwritten by the now absent Path-Mark. Now what better way could be devised to establish your profound confidence in this great land of business opportunity that you contend it is?

I'll be expecting you to pick up the "tab" on this one, since you have gotten such "cheap" publicity taking gratuitous shots at others.

Notice is out that effective January 1, 1973 car insurance in New Jersey becomes compulsory. No more unsatisfied Claims after that date.

Those lacking necessary coverage had better contact authorized agents or face stern penalties of the law for failure to comply with the new requirements.

Over 250 Scouts Patrol During Annual Hike-O-Ree

Over 250 Scouts, Explorers, and leaders of Tamarack Council, Boy Scouts of America, participated in the third Annual Hike-O-Ree, which was run along the Appalachian Trail on November 11 and 12.

The Scouts, grouped in 20 patrols, began hiking at the former Camp Kenciwapac, now part of the Tocks Island National Recreation Area. Along the trail the patrols met older Scouts and Explorers who challenged them with problems in first aid, compass reading, nature, and observation, and checked them for preparedness and proper hiking technique.

Unfortunately, intermittent rain and a day-long fog prevented the boys from seeing the spectacular views of the Kittatinny and Delaware Valleys they had been promised.

At the end of the eight mile trail the Scouts gratefully put down their packs at the tenting grounds in Camp Mohican, Blairstown, N.J. Here they pitched their tents and prepared supper.

The evening campfire was enriched with a multi-media presentation on the 1973 National Scout Jamboree and a discussion of the opportunities awaiting Scouts in either Pennsylvania or Idaho next summer.

Catholic and protestant worship services, brunch, and a closing ceremony Sunday morning completed the Hike-O-Ree program.

Rape Charge Is Referred By Abromson

The case against Alfred Leon Green, 37, of 17 Melville Place in Irvington, charged with attempted statutory rape and atrocious assault was referred by Judge Edward Abromson November 9 from Belleville Court.

Greene has pleaded not guilty to both charges, which stem from an incident which occurred December 22, 1970. He is being held on $3,500.

Greene pleaded guilty November 9 to a charge of trespassing brought by Harold Preston of 281 Branch Brook Drive. Judge Abromson sentenced Greene to the time he has already spent in jail. The trespassing incident occurred October 29.

29 Million Ex-Smokers

Dr. Luther Terry, consultant to the American Cancer Society, says the percentage of Americans sucking burning cigarettes dropped from 42 to 36 per cent in the six years from 1966 to the current year. There are, he says, now 29 million Americans who have given up the unhealthy habit which kills so many each year.

However, the latest trends indicate the nation's young girls haven't learned the lesson as well as the nation's males. Among girls between 12 and 18 according to Terry, there seems to be more smoking than ever before. "That gives us great concern," the former Surgeon General declared.

To help fight the ignorance which leads youngsters to take up the dirty habit, Terry announced that the American Cancer Society was seeking to set up "cessation clinics" in every American community. While these clinics will not succeed in getting all those who attend them to quit, they have accomplished much where tried.

It's estimated that 300,000 Americans die every year because of smoking and three-fourths of the nation's cigarette smokers have indicated they'd kick the habit if they could, thus the ACS's new anti-smoking campaign should be supported by all those concerned with this tragic addition problem.

Mugging and Jail

Scotland Yard of London reported in October that tough jail sentences handed out by judges at Old Bailey recently have produced a sudden and drastic drop in muggings. In two areas where gangs had been terrorizing entire neighborhoods, Brixton and Kennington, mugging was brought to a standstill.

Scotland Yard Commander George Woolard says the stiff sentences prove a major crime deterrent. Detective Chief Superintendent Pat Sugrue concurred.

The English experience is not necessarily conclusive evidence but it is, at the least, a strong indication that tough sentences and firm enforcement of the law, plus prompt court action (so often lacking in America) will also lower the U.S. crime rate, which is far higher than that in England.

The Marines

Throughout the history of the United States the flag and defense of the nation has been superbly served by the U.S. Marine Corps. The Corps dates from November 10th, 1775. On this day the Continental Congress in Philadelphia authorized formation of two battalions to aid in the war against England.

There had been companies of marines in America, but under British command, and the two battalions were the first American marine units. The first captain commissioned was Samuel Nicholas. He opened recruiting headquarters in the Tun Tavern in Philadelphia, since considered the birthplace of the U.S. Marines.

Though the Corps was decommissioned shortly after independence was won, Congress reestablished it in its present form in 1798. Since that time the Corps has gained a worldwide reputation as the toughest fighting force under American command. Its gallant spirit and devotion to duty and country has done much to protect and preserve every American's liberty and freedom for two centuries.

Election Polls

After each presidential election the role of public opinion polls is reexamined. How much do these pre-election forecasts influence voters? Should projections be aired on radio and television in western states where the polls are still open? Etc.

If there are reasonable differences of opinion on how much effect these so-called scientific polling organizations have on voters, there should be less disagreement on publication of the betting odds of Jimmy my The Greek. Columnist Jack Anderson devoted most of his column on the Saturday before election listing Jimmy's odds.

Just as polls might have some effect on voters, lists of odds give an impression of races all over the country, impressions which are often wrong. Of course, anyone is free to compile such a list. National publication of one on election eve, however, makes it possibly influential.

Experts Believe It's Important To Preserve Jersey Farmland

By David Moore

Environmentalists have talked at length about the importance of preserving New Jersey farmland. It's necessary for food production, and may become more important for this in the future as the world's population control, recharging underground and surface waters, for scenic beauty and don't forget, for the opportunity to make land-use decisions at some future date.

Finally, farmland is important to that sturdy breed of Americans who just happen to want to be farmers.

All of those are good and valid reasons why farmers should be encouraged to keep on farming, thus letting the private sector maintain a sizable amount of open space in New Jersey. Now there are zoning or land use laws being proposed which would force the continued use of farmland for farming, instead of say, housing developments, shopping centers and the like.

It's easy to understand why a farmer, after a lifetime of struggle might want to pick up his marbles, and sell out to a developer at a fantastic price and retire to a warmer climate. A lot of farmers distrust environmentalists who they suspect would impose laws which would keep them from making such a profit on their land.

Here's no reason why farmer and environmentalist should not be friends. No one is suggesting that land suitable for agriculture, which happens also to be suitable for housing or commercial use, should be substantially lowered in value by zoning regulations. There are ways to keep prime agricultural land for that use and still fulfill public purposes.

These are conservation or scenic easements, tax incentives such as farmland assessment (but with longer term guarantees), purchase by public agencies followed by leasebacks, or sellbacks with restrictions at lower values, as well as the purchase of options or "first refusals."

When such forms of payment are made, the public must directly benefit. This can be pretty scenery to look at, but not walk upon or preferably public access for various recreational purposes. In cases of land not suitable for building, like flood plains, the public should not be forced, along with future owners, to subsidize development there through flood insurance, flood relief or payments for losses of value resulting from banning things which should never be allowed there anyway - like houses.

After all, people didn't make such land unsuitable for development. Nature did. Therefore, no farmer should have to pay taxes on potential uses of land which nature decrees should never happen!

In New Jersey the agricultural community feels farming should be encouraged in every way possible, to keep the land in agriculture. Conservatism's completely agree. What we need is the way to do it; compensating farmers for the values the public gains and at the same time not making public goods to land speculators. It can be done; we'd better get busy and do it!

One new idea may help solve this. It's the purchase and sale of "rights." Development rights could be established on farms and other areas deemed best kept undeveloped. They would then be legally undevelopable, but the owners of such lands could then sell the land, but the buyer would know he couldn't develop it.

At the same time, owners of lands which are deemed suitable for development could not do so until they had purchased the required development rights from the owner of land which could not be developed. This is complicated and would require some fancy mathematics, different in each municipality, to properly relate the total amount of development rights in relation to the amount of developable land.

There are some instant arguments against this system which come to mind. For example, a few owners of development rights could gang up and inflate the prices developers would have to pay. Or, the owner of undevelopable land potentially worth a million dollars might logically want a better deal than a man who owns undevelopable land of less potential value. Or, the man owning developable land is penalized if he can't buy rights at all, or at a same price.

These are a couple of aspects which would have to be worked out, and more will surely emerge as the concept gets talked about more. But it looks like something worth some time and study.

This plan could please farmers and environmentalists alike. It would require careful assessment of exactly where development should occur, which means that municipalities would have to undergo comprehensive inventories of natural resources and other characteristics. But as it is, farmers are paying more taxes than they get back in services, so maybe society owes them the back up data necessary to make such a plan succeed.

It's that general vacuum in our land development sophistication which has made New Jersey undergo random growth into a veritable "spread city." One result is that we all pay more than we should for services from various levels of government.

Three Belleville Teens To Jr. Miss Pageant

By Elaine Auerbach

Five Years Ago

The Belleville Woman's Club held a unique and long-awaited ceremony at the Bethany Lutheran Church. The mortgage on the clubhouse at 51 Rossmore Place was burned after being held for 40 years by the Irvine Family. Mrs. David Parry, past president and chairman of the Clubhouse trustees, along with Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield and Mrs. John Denike conducted the ceremony in the memory of the late Mrs. William Irvine Sr. who had served the group for more than 35 years as treasurer.

Three Belleville girls were to compete in the Essex County Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees at the Nutley High School auditorium. Those competing were Maureen Gaudio, Patti Hickey and Diane Rappa.

Gerson T. Ram, Belleville Health Officer, was denied a permanent restraint order by Judge Ward Herbert of the Superior Court, thus eliminating his chances of preventing Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo from carrying out his suspension. Final steps were to be taken when Ram and his attorney met with Strumolo and Lawrence Schwartz, legal counsel, to see if the five disciplinary charges against Ram called for the direct action of the Civil Service Commission.

For the first time in nine years, the Bellboys stunned Nutley's Maroon Raiders by an impressive 32-12 score, led by the outstanding running of Greco, Luzzi, Tomaszewski and Senesky. Belleville proved its strength as a group IV championship contender.

The annual Distinguished Service Award was presented by the Elizabeth Junior Chamber of Commerce to Robert A. Mayers of Belleville, personnel manager of the Thomas Betts Company for leadership and service to the community since 1962. The presentation was made at the annual Jaycee Banquet held in the Kingston Restaurant, Union.

In a brief letter to his choice for the position, Mayor Isadore Padula, Director of Revenue and Finance notified his secretary, Mrs. Mary Anderson, that she was to be named Town Clerk succeeding Mrs. Florence Morey, who had decided to retire after serving as clerk for 27 years.

"Belleville Forward" became the town-wide battle of a revitalized Belleville. Admitting that he had had in mind what the City of Newark was doing in the field of rejuvenation, William J. Orchard, president of the Belleville Foundation, called for a concerted effort of all facets of the community toward the improvement of the municipality. He called for a general examination of government, industry, business and professional organizations in order to march forward with greater progress and success.

The Belleville Veterans Council announced that plans had been submitted to Commissioner Elmer S. Hyde for a new Veterans Memorial to replace a wooden structure that had been causing maintenance difficulties. The new memorial was intended to have a modern simplicity. Its 15-foot high arch of spun aluminum, signifying "War to Peace" was to form a frame for pink granite stone which was to be etched with the words: "To Those Who Served."

The Ecology Program Is Still Growing

To the Editor:

One year ago, October 9, Belleville's first recycling program was initiated. The first attempt to get people of our town involved in an ecology drive was started by the girls of Cadette Girl Scout Troop 688. In cooperation with Commissioner Mary Senatore, all 18 girls of our troop were out behind the A&P supermarket on Franklin Avenue at 9 a.m. will set up with several barrels for the first day. Under the leadership of Mrs. Ann Teuscher and Mrs. Mary Cavanna plus with the help of Mrs. Joan Connolly, we cleaned and stored glass containers until about 2 p.m. At this time Public Works Department sent up two trucks and picked up all that we collected. Because of very little publicity, only 4 barrels and 15 boxes of glass were collected that first Saturday.

With the help of the Belleville Times and posters throughout the town, the word spread. Later we expanded to cans and papers along with glass because glass is not the only thing that needs recycling.

Each week, more and more people come with their recyclable articles. People who came were friendly and willing to help. Because of the cold weather and other reasons we were forced to stop collecting in early January.

Although we did want to help solve the solid-waste problem, our main goal in reclaiming glass cans and papers was to show the people of Belleville that something can and must be done to fight pollution before it is too late. When ending this program we just had hope that our message of ecology had reached at least a few years.

Sincerely,
Joanne Connolly

Questions For Readers To Answer

By Helen Maguire

QUESTIONS. Why does the gorgeous double oak tree which arches so gracefully over the stone wall, which belongs out onto my neighbor, Charles M. Gross, which provides such welcome shade in the hot days of summer and which otherwise behaves itself in a most exemplary manner, think it has a bounden duty to drop virtually 75% of its leaves in my yard? Retribution. Our double oak which adorns our front lawn, which arches so gracefully over the street, which provides a haven for birds and squirrels, which thinks it has a work out of its bounden duty to drop over half of its leaves on Charlie's property.

Why should the three Maguires of a raking age prefer to watch the football game on T.V. on a Sunday afternoon rather than weed rakes and dispose of nature's bounty?

Why does something so normal seem so strange? For the first time in over seven years, Rod has Saturday and Sunday and probably the holidays off and it seems weird. To gain this treasure, however, he has to work out of Port Authority Terminal in New York and that white haired gentleman dispatching the (191 and 192 buses is none other than my spouse.

WHY DOES Gavin look so angelic in his choir robe that his father and I had a hard time recognizing him as he walked down the aisle? Is this the toothless wonder, the delay, linger and wait kid, the reluctant table-clearer who inhabits the house? What magic has transformed this imp into a passing copy of a saint?

Why, and this is a real puzzler, do I invariably put a load of clothes in the machine and start it up before I get into the shower and never remember what I have done until the first icy stream hits me? And why do I need five laundry baskets while other women manage handily with one?

Why does every plant I try to grow in this domain, with the sole exception of philodendron which anyone, and I mean anyone, can cultivate, take approximately one week or sometimes even less to give up the ghost and call it quits? And why, when wished on my aunt, does this same piece of greenery suddenly take on new life, flourish and bloom and make me look like a fool? I take it back. I also have fantastic luck with snake plants and that should label me for all time with plant growers.

WHY DOESN'T anyone remember where the hardware is for the storm door which does off the summer porch for the winter? Did some little elf abscond with it during the hot months just to tease us when the winter arrives?

Why do we have to have a special day to be thankful when our blessings are with us every day of the year? My husband, my children, my relatives and friends, good health, food and clothing and a house to live in, a job I enjoy, freedom to live as I please until I interfere with someone else's freedom and the knowledge that someone needs me even, if at times, it's only to bandage a finger.

Happy Thanksgiving from the eight Maguires.

Community Affairs Dept. Issues Renter Guide

In response to overwhelming public demand, the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs has issued a second printing of "Do You Rent?" a small, handy legal guide for apartment renters in New Jersey.

About 10,000 copies of the pamphlet, which briefly outlines some of the legal rights and obligations of tenants, have been reprinted by the Department's Office on Aging for distribution to the general public, particularly senior citizens. A first printing was issued in August but the supply of 10,000 was depleted in three months.

The Office on Aging had received permission to reprint the pamphlet from the New Jersey League of Women Voters, which originally printed the publication in June.

Copies will be distributed to New Jersey's 18 county and three municipal offices on aging and to model cities, local legal services and community action (anti-poverty) agencies. These agencies also received copies in August. Pamphlets also will be gratified that this pamphlet has been so well received. Community Affairs Commissioner Lawrence F. Kramer noted, "The tremendous demand it has generated indicates it is performing a valuable function for many apartment dwellers who are unaware of their rights and obligations as tenants under New Jersey law."

"We hope the pamphlet will assist them in understanding tenant-landlord laws and

Teachers Lack Confidence In Marburger, NJEA Says

Thousands of New Jersey teachers are looking for Commissioner of Education in whom they can have confidence, the New Jersey Education Assn. said today in calling upon the State Senate to deny Dr. Carl L. Marburger reappointment to a second five-year term.

"Dr. Marburger has lost the confidence of an overwhelming majority of New Jersey's public school teachers," said Warren D. Cummings, NJEA president. "This one, indisputable fact alone should be reason enough for the State Senate to oppose his reappointment."

His record to date has instilled him in the minds of most teachers as a "management" man, a servant of the employer rather than as a professional educator who is truly dedicated to education and the instruction of children," said Cummings.

"This becomes clearly evident in the fact that the State's school superintendents, the school boards and the State Board of Education are lobbying heavily, some with public funds, to keep him in office as their man, Cummings said. "What we really need in the office is a man respected and admired by all parties concerned."

Cummings reported that petitions "with over 20,000 signatures by teachers from all sections of the state have been collected within the past week or so, and all oppose Dr. Marburger's reappointment."

"We hope that the wishes of teachers, the ones closest to the students and instruction will be considered when Senators take their vote," he said. "Teachers do not want this man serving as Commissioner of Education for another five years."

—A letter to State Board of Education members, NJEA urges them to consider carefully a 13-page document detailing reasons why teachers oppose Dr. Marburger's reappointment.

Instead of relying "upon perceptions transmitted by the Commissioner and his top aides," states the letter, the NJEA encourages members of the State Board "to visit schools and talk directly with elected leaders of teacher representative organization."

"The insight they can share with you hopefully can prevent the kind of misunderstanding that now casts a cloud over our New Jersey schools," the letter concludes.

WE ALL know what a terrific music system Belleville has, and, especially our own High School Band. One evening this week I heard the band, and found out the kids were marching up and down each street, selling candy to raise funds for their trip to the Bermuda. So, I dashed out, took a pic, and bought some candy. It was quite a large group, including flag twirlers etc. For the first time I met Robert Wing-also saw Tom Finetti.

The kids were really enthusiastic as they paraded around that cold, cold night. My "candy-sellers" were Aida Stefaneli and Janice Smith. The kids were protected from traffic by our "good guys" the civil defense auxiliary police: Sgt. John Nicotia, Mike Nicoletti (a former BHS BHS band member), and one who cannot name him and say "look, man, no cavities!" Charles Barone (reason is, he was eating candy he bought as he drove the CD truck around) and hand to help were mothers of band members Mrs. Jim DeLonge and Clo Westphale. Ladies, if you wanna help the kids call them to buy some candy-759-8206, or call BHS office. With the holidays coming up, a box of candy, selling for $1, would be a delightful gift.

You And Your Pet Overcoming Superstitions

By Raymond Minor, D.V.M.

Superstitions are hard to overcome, whether they refer to stepping on cracks in the sidewalk or feeding your dog. One of the most common of the dog feeding fallacies is that "milk makes worms." This would be true only in the unlikely event that there are worm eggs in the milk you feed your dog.

Another "old wives' tale" is that onions cure worms. Worms are only eliminated through medicine, even if the odor from the medicine is not as strong as the onion's.

Still another common and incorrect belief is that dogs cannot digest potatoes. This has been disproved by scientific tests.

As to the right way to feed your dog, the most important objective should be a balanced diet. And because most important food substances are not stored in a dog's body for any extended length of time, the proper nutritional balance must be maintained at every meal.

One way to ensure maintenance of the proper balance is to serve your dog ready-to-eat food produced by a reputable manufacturer. Your veterinarian can suggest possibilities.

There are three basic types of dog food: dry, moist and canned. Many people think that the dry foods are cereal and the canned foods are meat. But this is not the case.

Canned products that are completely meat are not "dog food," in the sense that they do not provide a complete diet.

One way to tell whether you are feeding too much is to watch the dog as it eats. If it leaves the dish while there is still food in it, or if it stops eating to pace off into space, the chances are you are feeding too much.

A good rule is to let your dog eat for 30 minutes and then pick up the dish and dispose of the uneaten portion. Feed it less the next day.

Most grown dogs require only one meal a day. If they are fed twice a day they will eat more than they require. The extra food will only lead to extra expense for you or unnecessary fat or extra waste matter for your dog.

Between meal snacks merely spoil a dog's appetite. This will lead to make a pesky beggar of your pet.

In the case of newborn pups where the mother is unable to do the feeding, the following formula can be given from a baby bottle: 1 pint homogenized milk, 2 teaspoons cooking oil and 2 egg yolks. Feed every two hours when first born and then gradually space out feedings to every four hours at about two weeks of age.

Supplement with cereal, cooked egg and scraped meat as soon as the puppy can lap solid foods.

A normally healthy dog has a good appetite, is active and has a well formed bowel movement.

If his appetite fails or his bowel movement is not well formed over a period of 24 hours, consult immediately with your veterinarian.

As for care of dog food, the rules of human consumption should be followed. Frozen food should be used soon after thawing. Milk should be kept refrigerated. Unused canned food should be kept refrigerated in a jar or plastic container.

I don't believe this, but I just report the facts. It's true-Francis Wellen was 17 on Nov. 20th-it's debatable-his dad, Ray, was only 21! Ray's wife, and Fran's mother, Sis, just smiled and said: "my

Olympic Bowl Interests All

A recreation center, where every member of the family can participate, is the Brunswick Olympic Bowling Lanes, 679 Washington Avenue. Back in 1966, the Brunswick Corporation added the local lanes to their group. The philosophy of the corporation is "...to prosper, while doing the greatest good for the greatest number of people, keeping in mind the interests of all."

From 6 - 60, and even younger and older, the sport of bowling has become increasingly popular. "You only have to be old enough to hold a ball, say, five years old," related evening manager of the lanes, Hank Prendergast. Emphasis is stressed on the enjoyment of the game, rather than the competition. The establishment caters largely to leagues, children as well as adult, but there are long lines of people waiting for "open bowling", too.

Day Manager is Ben

Brainin; employees, including the luncheonette and bar, number 28. Doors open at 9 a.m., but may not close until the wee small hours of the morning. Localities employed include Carmen Argese, program director, Lou Long, Gus deFranza, and Vivienne Bono counter control. Carmen has been responsible for the success of the many programs, including birthday parties for the young set, according to Prendergast. Lou enjoys his job, saying "I like being with people, and seeing them happy."

With the accent on "a family type place", the problem of teens' hanging around to disrupt bowlers was solved by a rap session, resulting in the teens now becoming avid bowlers. Last weekend, a two day competition was held by the Brunswick Olympic Bowl. Saturday evening and Sunday is open bowling. Remember that old adage...the family that plays together, stays together....so, have fun!

Always Busy Season For Fire Auxiliary

The Belleville Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary has been around for quite a number of years. A social and charitable group, they meet the second Thursday of each month at the Recreation House, Joralemon Street.

The requisites for membership are, of course, having a member of your family in the Fire Department. On a social level, the similarity of problems, discussions and aims of the family member (usually their husband) in the Fire Department makes the ladies a tight-knit group.

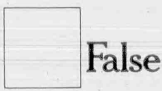

Their charitable endeavors include distributing Thanksgiving baskets, Christmas gifts, and other delicacies during the year to Essex County Isolation Hospital and the Pediatrics Department at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Officers are Mrs. Eleanor Fortino, president; Mrs. Suzanne Malfatto, vice president and publicity officer; Mrs. Nancy Cancelliere, recording secretary; Mrs. Ann Dambrà, corresponding secretary.

New Jersey Bell ought to do more to make phone service better.

We're doing a lot about phone service right now.

In fact, we're in the midst of our largest construction program ever. Spending over one million dollars every working day this year, doing such things as installing more cable underground, bringing electronic switching to more localities, making Dial Tone First and Touch-Tone® service available to more people.

That's a pretty good record. But we'll have to do even more in the years to come—because being good isn't good enough.

To meet your soaring demands, we see the need to spend $2.5 billion on construction programs in the next five years alone. Doubling our investment in facilities, and in effect building a new New Jersey Bell. To do this, we must earn well in order to justify the investment of such massive amounts of new capital.

Good service, good earnings—they're closely related. In the long run, you can't have one without the other.

We've set a high standard for telephone service in New Jersey. We're doing our best to live up to it.

Being good isn't good enough.

Community Affair Department Creates Planned Unit Program

Community Affairs Commissioner Lawrence F. Kramer today announced establishment of a new program designed to assist municipal and county governments in the orderly development of "new communities" and "planned unit developments" in New Jersey.

The Community Affairs Department, Kramer said, has received a $120,000 grant from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the innovative program, to be administered by the Department's Division of State and Regional Planning.

"New communities" is primarily a privately-sponsored comprehensive planned approach to land development. It is designed to provide a balance of residential, commercial, industrial, recreational and educational land use. In addition, the approach encourages provision for community facilities, cultural activities, and mixed housing to allow for a variety of life styles. Planned unit development (PUD) is a similar but smaller scale version of "new communities."

According to Kramer, the "new community" concept originated in Europe and only recently spread to the United States. The concept has emerged in response to developmental pressures and rapid population growth which continue to produce haphazard urban and suburban sprawl.

Kramer pointed out that various forms of federal guarantees and supplemental grants are currently available under Title VII of the Federal Urban Growth and New Communities Development Act of 1970 for "new communities" which meet federal guidelines. Because of the availability of such assistance, Kramer said, it is expected that more developers in New Jersey will begin to explore the "new communities" approach.

He said the New Communities Section, composed of planning experts, has been organized to develop and recommend an overall state policy for the anticipated development of "new communities" and "planned unit developments."

According to Richard A. Ginnman, acting director of the Division of State and Regional Planning, the section will develop policies and standards as part of a continuing procedure which will be established to evaluate proposals for "new communities." The state's program will include a thorough review of the impact on state facilities, on the environment, and on the municipalities affected. These standards will also be based on an in-depth review of the experiences of new community programs in New Jersey and throughout the country as well as on information obtained from developers, builders and municipalities involved in this type of development.

Ideally, "new communities" should be almost self-supportive, Ginnman explained, with means for attracting industry and stores which can provide revenue for school construction, health facilities, cultural and religious centers and other needs. In fact, all the services and opportunities which the city provide should be incorporated into the new community.

"New communities" may be designed as self-sufficient units completely apart from metropolitan areas; as satellites within suburban areas, as new towns within the central cores of major cities, or as additions to smaller towns and cities to facilitate economic growth.

Ginnman noted that the "new communities" approach offers a possible alternative to New Jersey's often haphazard growth patterns. Pointing out that New Jersey adds an average of 100,000 persons yearly to its total population, he said the state "has been faced with a steady outflow of stream from cities to the less densely populated areas. Residential developments, he noted, have sprung up to house the newcomers, but too often services to meet education, recreation, transportation and other needs have not kept pace. However, he added, "new communities" as planned development approach, can serve as a viable means of effectively accommodating this inevitable expanding population.

"These standards," Ginnman said, "will be designed to serve as a guide for municipalities which are considering 'new communities' or PUDs for their areas and have turned to the Division for technical assistance. Our ultimate aim is to provide local officials with all the facts on 'new communities' the pitfalls as well as the benefits so they are equipped to make sound decisions on the value of such a development technique for their community."

A nation is as strong as its average citizen.

Harold Dufford After 35 Years

High School from 1932-37, where he instructed geography, bookkeeping, general business training and law. In 1937 he entered the Belleville School System and was an acting principal from 1942-43. Over the years here, Dufford taught law, economics, bookkeeping, consumer education, general business training and record keeping. He also was an instructor in the Belleville Adult School from 1939-40.

Besides being the System's business administrator for over 15 years, his administrative experience includes acting principal of Belleville High School. He was instrumental in expanding the Guidance Department here and was an innovator in establishing alternate lunch periods.

Over the years, Dufford held many positions in the industrial field, which gave him an excellent background as a business administrator. His job experience spanned from a bank clerk to a Bond Break salesman.

Previous jobs, both part and full time, held by Dufford over the years include a clerk in the Hunterdon County Trust Co. during the summer of 1928 and soon after he was employed by a department store and became an assistant buyer in the luggage department. The diversified Dufford also has other unusual positions over the years as a supervisor in a chair company, a Bond Break salesman, an inspector and checker in the Stock Dept. of Wallace and Tiernan Co. in Belleville and he even served a stint in the pasteurizing department of Ballantine Beer in the summer of 1945.

Dufford received his high school certificate from Roxbury in June of 1928. He went on to Drexel College of Technology in Philadelphia and was graduated from there with a bachelor of science degree in June of 1932. He completed his master of arts degree at Montclair State College in supervision and administration. Dufford also has completed 32 credits beyond his master's at Rutgers University and he has both an elementary and secondary principal certificate.

Dufford-headed the Belleville Teachers' Association in 1942 and '46 and was general chairman for the senior class here for 17 years. He served as president of the Teachers' Welfare Organization and was in charge of discipline in the high school from 1946 to '53. Other civic posts include chairman of the House to House War Chest Drive. At one time he served as faculty manager of athletics and was in charge of attendance at the high school.

Instead of replacing Dufford, the Board of Education has decided to expand the duties of Board of Education secretary Mrs. Mary Shader and to hire a person to be in charge of buildings supervision.

Gridders Seek .500 Season When They Meet Lyndhurst

were shooting for an undefeated season and had notched seven consecutive wins before encountering East Paterson last Saturday. The Crusaders, however, handily squashed the Golden Bears' dreams of a perfect season by topping Lyndhurst 43-8.

The Bellboys, on the other hand, will be bidding for a well-deserved .500 season when they take the field Thursday morning. In a way, it has been a disappointing season for the Bellboys and a win over Lyndhurst could salvage some prestige. Even if the Bellboys win Thursday and reach the respectable .500 mark, they deserved a better fate. The varsity was battling to the end in each of its eight games and in most cases only one "big" play or a penalty at the wrong time or a "bad bounce" prevented the Blue and Gold from garnering the victory. In fact, Belleville has yet to be beaten by worse than a one touchdown margin this year.

The Bellboys defeated Lyndhurst quite handily last year but head coach Joe Cipolla this year has assembled a much more powerful team. Heading the roster of Golden Bears is versatile halfback Bob Wallace, who is recovering from a pinched nerve. Quarterback Frank Vuono has good size at 6-2 and the talented junior can both run or throw. The Golden Bears too have excellent size on both the offensive and defensive lines and will outweigh Belleville at those positions by several pounds.

The Bellboys though, have been facing bigger and stronger teams all season long so by now they are accustomed to the lopsided advantage in weight. What the Belleville squad lacks in size, they more than make up in quickness and toughness.

Lyndhurst is joining the Bergen Scholastic League next year so this may be the last time Belleville will be meeting the Golden Bears. Tomorrow's game fulfills the last half of a two-year contract with Lyndhurst and head coach Rocco Cafone has indicated that the Bergen County club will not renew that agreement due to their commitments to the new league.

Lyndhurst has their best team in recent years and the club has already notched the Passaic Valley Conference championship. Although their loss to East Paterson Saturday has taken away some of the prestige of the team, Lyndhurst is still rated a strong favorite going into the game.

What effect Lyndhurst's losing to East Paterson has on the Turkey Day encounter is unknown. The Golden Bears could be "down" after the loss because it dashed their hopes for a perfect season, or the team could be "super up" for the contest by regaining some of their slippage in the state ratings.

Either way, Bellboy coach Cafone says his team will be ready for the game. Although the Blue and Gold has had almost two weeks of inactivity, the coaching staff has been conducting rigid practice sessions to keep the club tuned. Lyndhurst runs a unique "stand up" defense where the linemen actually stand up before the snap of the ball. Belleville has had to readjust their blocking assignments for that type of defense, though coach Cafone and his staff are familiar with that alignment for last season Lyndhurst's Cipolla ran the same type of defense against the Bellboys.

Although all-state candidate Bob Luongo missed the Kearny game at linebacker for the Blue and Gold, the stalwart senior may be ready for the Thanksgiving Day contest. The final decision, however, rests with Luongo's physician. The defensive captain injured his ankle three weeks ago against Seton Hall.

Lyndhurst was ranked 16th in the state before last week's loss to East Paterson but the Crusaders' Tony Zappala staged a one-man offensive show against the Golden Bear defense to bust their bubble.

Thursday's contest, however, most likely will be a low-scoring contest with the Blue and Gold staying on the ground with a ball-control type game. The Bellboy defenders, on the other hand, will attempt to shut-down the Golden Bears' Wallace-Vuono combination.

Cross Country Squad Ends Dismal Season At Sectionals

The Belleville cross-country squad closed out a dismal season Saturday at Warinaco Park, Elizabeth, when they finished 11th out of 13 teams in the Group III sectional championship.

Bill Goodwin was the top Belleville runner, placing 38th. He finished with a 13:59 time. Goodwin was followed by Steve Budrick in 58th place with a 14:40 time. Sophomore Walt Subis took 67th place while Mike Fortino could do no better than 70th.

Rocco Cuozzo, the team captain, and Steve Syba and Peter Fitzpatrick placed behind Fortino respectively.

On Tuesday the local hurriers finished their dual meet season by losing to Passaic. The final score read 20-43. The only high note of the competition with Passaic was that Belleville's top runner, Goodwin, for the first time this season finished a regular race in first place. "Goody" ran a 14:28 pace on the 2.7 mile course in Passaic.

The talented runner was followed by Subis, who could only manage 10th place with a 15:30 clocking. Budrick copied the 13th spot with a 15:58 time.

Head coach Ray Hanke termed the current season "disappointing" but pointed out that he was without the use of his number two and number three runners for the majority of the Fall season.

The best time of the year by Belleville was registered by Goodwin when he ran an excellent 13:29 time at Branch Brook Park in Newark at the Big Ten Conference Championship meet. The majority of the Belleville distance runners will be seeing more action in the Spring when they sign on for the track team.

The Bellboys fielded 10 underclassmen this season and all of the runners indicated they will be returning next

Chadwick Running Strong

Penn State co-captain Matt Chadwick of Belleville, was among nearly 200 runners entered in the 64th running of the ICAAAA Cross Country Championship at Van Cortlandt Park, N.Y., earlier this month.

Chadwick and his teammates attempted to better their fourth place finish of last fall. In that race, Chadwick was 39th.

An elementary education major, Chadwick was third in the ICAAAA outdoor six-mile race. He was the fourth American in the NCAA six-mile.

This fall Chadwick led State to the Big Four championship with a first place finish. Overall, State completed its second consecutive unbeaten (4-0) season while winning the Eastern Regional USTFF, Pennsylvania Federation and Big Four titles.

Mini-Gridders Knock Heads Each Week

The sporting fans of Belleville were treated to an exceptional display of football over the weekend in the Recreation Football League. The contact was crisp, the play selection was of high caliber and the execution was flawless.

The lightweights took the field on Saturday morning to ensure them of being able to complete their game before darkness set in. The first game matched two exceptional teams, Kiwanis who were undefeated until this game with a 4 and 0 record and the Varsity who suffered their only defeat at the hands of Kiwanis 14-0. The first play of the game set the tone of what was to follow. The defensive rose like the Great Wall of China to stymie all offensive strategy. It was as if we were treated to a miniature copy of a game between the Dallas Cowboys and the Purple Gang of the Vikings.

In the second half the Kiwanis defensive line weakened a little and the Varsity capitalized by sustaining a drive that consumed 90 yards and precious time to score the game only T.D. and win 6-0.

Hundreds Vie For Bird At Turkey Shoot

BIDDING FOR A BIRD are these six residents, all lined up and ready to shoot. Only one of six was awarded turkey certificate.

LOADING HIS RIFLE in preparation to compete in Recreation Department sponsored turkey shoot Sunday at the Pistol Range is this Belleville resident, Jim Callahan.

SQUEEZING the trigger in his bid for a turkey is John Shelesky. He was only one of hundreds of residents to try their luck at Recreation turkey shoot Sunday.

TAKING CAREFUL AIM before shooting is Fred Alfino, who was one of six residents competing on this line.

STARTING LINE for Sunday's turkey shoot sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department is seen here at the Pistol Range. Residents competed in groups of six for the prize of a 12-pound turkey picked up at local supermarket. Turkey shoot was held despite drizzle that hampered competition.

Essex CYO Polls Coaches

The Essex County CYO, for the second straight year, is polling high school football coaches, team captains and sportswriters from throughout Essex County to elect the county's top schoolboy lineman and backfield performer.

Last season, the coaches and writers tabbed Baringer's All-State halfback Pete Shaw as the county's outstanding back, and named Mountain's Dan DeTore, a big two-way tackle, as the No. 1 lineman. This year, the CYO Office has decided to let the captains of each county football team join in the voting.

Beck's Column

We wrote repeatedly about the 4 channel sound system, the latest development in sound reproduction.

CBS and RCA, the largest manufacturers of records, are battling again, each with its own 4 channel system. They did this once before, RCA came out with the 45 revolution record and CBS with the 33 1/3 speed. In this case it was relatively easy to make the record changers with 2 speeds and an inexpensive adapter.

As far as the new 4 channel system is concerned, it requires entirely different, expensive apparatus and even with this it is complicated to use the same basic sound amplifier for both systems. Practically it can not be done, one has to decide for one system or the other. This is bad.

There is a strong and a well known Hi-Fi Dealers Association of Delaware Valley, which issues an extensive advertising supplement in a Philadelphia Newspaper. This group flatly advises customers against purchase of 4 channel sound configuration which can easily and inexpensively be used with present equipment in the hands of the consumers.

All we have to say to this is: Amen.

Cops Winning Season

Clary Anderson Tape Yet Another Milestone

Montclair State College's head football coach Clary Anderson passed another big milestone in his unbelievable career when his Indians triumphed Jersey City State, 42-21.

The victory, Montclair State's sixth in football this season against three losses, assured Anderson of his 31st consecutive winning season as a head football coach.

The former All-American from Colgate University now has a combined high school and college football coaching record of 239 wins and only 31 losses over 31 years. Six games he has coached in football have ended in ties.

Since coming to Montclair State in 1969, Anderson has posted marks of 9-2, 9-1, 7-2 and is 6-1 with one game to go this season.

The Indians enjoyed the best season in its history under Anderson's direction in 1970 posting a 9-1 mark and capping the season by winning the Knute Rockne Bowl championship at Convention Hall, Atlantic City by down-

Halfback Runs Wild

Through its long history, Roosevelt Stadium has been the scene of some of sports great moments since it opened in the 1930's. However, none of these big moments could eclipse the "one man" show put on here Friday night November 10th by Montclair State College halfback Bob Hermanni.

The "Little Flea Halfback" of Beachwood wrecked previously unbeaten Jersey City State almost all by himself. The physical education major junior, who looks more like the team's manager than its top running back, scored three touchdowns and passed for a fourth in an amazing first half demonstration.

Hermanni, who played his high school football at Toms River South, gained 170 net yards on 13 carries plus completing two passes for 61 yards to give him a total of 231 net yards gained. In addition, he returned one kickoff for 36 yards and returned two punts for 33 yards.

Each one of Hermanni's touchdown runs were of the "home run" variety that had the decaying and ancient Roosevelt Stadium rocking with the cheers of its small crowd. Hermanni started his big night off with a bang roaring 67 yards for a touchdown on his first play from scrimmage.

The speed merchant scored in the second period on a brilliant 65 yard run for his second touchdown. In rapid fire order he took a lateral from quarterback Gary Acker and raced 24 yards for a touchdown to move the Indians to a commanding 28-9 lead over Jersey City State.

Rainout Games Are Necessary

The Belleville Recreation Football Leagues have had several postponements in their schedule due to the inclement weather and poor field conditions. Many aspects are taken into consideration before a decision is rendered in regards to the postponement of a scheduled game. The safety of the child has to take priority over any other consideration.

The Recreation Department requires that all boys either wear sneakers or short rubber football shoes for practice and the actual games. It's impossible for the boys to keep their feet under them on a soggy field, this leads to many unnecessary accidents. The players are more susceptible to muscle pulls, sprains, damaged knees, fractures of their limbs and also the common cold. All of the players in the league have the possibility of continuing up the ladder in sports, it would be a shame if a boy got stuck on a rung because of an injury occurring on an unsafe field.

A reminder - the telephone number to call to check on the status of the football games is 759-3121 on Sundays after 9:30 a.m.

Ex-Belleville Resident Publishes Biography

"A forgotten master of the American short story" is the way 1948 Belleville High School graduate Dr. Martin Bucco describes the subject of his latest critical biography, "Wilbur Daniel Steele."

Since 1963 Bucco has been a professor of English at Colorado State University. But he read his first Steele story "How Beautiful with Shoes" when he was at BHS, where he was senior class president, a varsity football player, a member of the National Honor Society, and a TIMES-NEWS correspondent.

Bucco's book is in the celebrated Twayne's United States Authors Series (NY, 1972) and it throws new light on Steele's rise and fall as a literary artist in the 'twenties and 'thirties.

According to Bucco, "Steele won the O. Henry Memorial Prize so often that people started calling it the Wilbur Daniel Steele Memorial Prize." Bucco's book finally bridges the critical gap between the "old" and "new" story traditions, between O. Henry and Hemingway.

Bucco's brother, Ronald, lives at 63 Charles Street in Belleville.

This book in TUSAS the first full-length study of Wilbur Daniel Steele (1886-1970), one of America's master story writers from the mid-1910's to the early 1930's. The author emphasizes the writer's literary achievement, making full use of letters, documents, and manuscripts not yet available to other Steele scholars at Stanford University, where the bulk of the Wilbur Daniel Steele papers are cataloged. This study, then, offers generally unknown biographical information on Steele, facts which shed new light on his mind, methods, tradition, and reputation.

Since Steele's works are out of print today Professor Bucco has treated all of his books stories, novels, plays as esthetic wholes, clarifying the intricate relationship between character and incident and focusing attention on Steele's thematic use of the "surprise" ending. The author shows how Steele often transcended the limitation of the commercial "surprise" ending formula by wedding the "newer psychology" to it. In fact, he puts the case for Steele as not only a superb craftsman but also an unrecognized literary pioneer, an important transitional writer between the older O. Henry-Poe tradition. In the best of Steele are fused the best of these two traditions.

This book aims to satisfy the need in American literary criticism for a compact and unitary view of Steele, and it will be of particular use to the humanities scholar and to the many students of the American short story.

A professor of English at Colorado State University, Martin Bucco was born in Newark, New Jersey, in 1929. He attended public schools in

The Tradition of Freedom... Our Cherished Legacy

Freedom is a tradition in our great nation. From the earliest beginnings, the courage of our Pilgrim forefathers made it possible. The will and faith of our people have kept it alive. It will remain ours with vigilance and dedication. So—the past, the present and the future are inextricably woven together. Through freedom. Today we give thanks for this precious legacy. We remember and cherish our tradition. We pray that freedom will become the inalienable right of all nations.

Hunters Are Ignoring Steel Leghold Traps

The new state law prohibiting use of the steel jaw leghold trap is not being observed by the public, according to the New Jersey Branch, Humane Society of the United States. Branch officials have concluded that the general public is not yet aware of the new law and state personnel are not adequately briefed on the law.

According to W.J. O'Hara, Executive Director of the Society, "We have received reports from people who have found trapped animals and reported them to their local police, only to be told that the activity is legal. "In addition, both pet and wild animals continue to be mutilated by these illegal traps."

"Obviously, there is a desperately urgent need for public education, and especially education of the police, who are empowered to enforce the law," said Mrs. Valerie Maxwell, Humane Society Director for Wildlife Preservation.

To help achieve this How You Can Use Them to Help End Animal Suffering. The leaflet describes the cruelty of leghold trapping and includes a compilation of the most essential laws which relate to this subject. A copy of this leaflet has been sent to each police chief in the ten counties in which leghold trapping is banned, and to all county police chiefs. The letter which accompanied the leaflet points up the new anti-leghold trap law, and requests that a memo regarding the laws be

Jade Fountain
NORTH ARLINGTON
602 Ridge Road (Rte. 17) • (201) 991-5377

This Is Not A Fairy Tale!

IT'S THE TRUTH... IT'S A TRAGEDY!

Every one of the youngsters marching to the tragic tune of narcotics is a tragedy...for himself...for his family...for the community.

Can you say with assurance that yours is not one of these marching?

KNOW THE ENEMY! JOIN THE FIGHT! RID THE COMMUNITY OF NARCOTICS!

Another Jade Fountain To Open In The Area

The Jade Fountains of Ridge Road in North Arlington and of Route 17 in Paramus will soon have a new sister, starting Thursday December 7 according to the management of the highly successful chain of restaurants. Peter Chin, spokesman for management, indicated that the purchase of the former Berlin's restaurant in Clifton was a necessary move, in order to better serve the overflow attendance of the North Arlington Jade Fountain. Accordingly he says, service will be almost instantaneous, with "no waiting" for seating arrangements during lunches or dinners.

The newest Jade Fountain will be located at the former Berlin's restaurant at 321

River Road in Clifton, opposite Russ's Hut. The building is presently undergoing massive interior and exterior redecoration work with emphasis on Polynesian and Chinese Mandarin motifs. A free-form, sunken-lounge installed is expected to be the greatest innovation in comfort and service. Seating 20 people in an area, with a complete view of the ballroom, from every seat. The new Jade Fountain in Clifton, will comfortably seat over 220 for Luncheons and Dinners with an area, distinctively set aside (on a lower level) for Catering weddings, meetings and small or large affairs housing an additional 200 people.

Added to the smashing success of "Yum Cha" on Mondays and Tuesdays for Lunch or Dinner—a kind of oriental Smorgasbord offering a variety of 12 appetizers and 8 entrees, plus beverage and dessert for a nominal charge will include a choice of Polynesian treats and a host of American dishes too.

Chin, innovator of the All-you-can-eat "Yum Cha" Smorgasbord, indicates that the new Jade Fountain is particularly geared to serving the busy executive and variety seeker for lunches and dinners in addition to a new Catering service for parties family reunions, etc.

He said "Consistently excellent food is a must for us—we wouldn't settle for less—and the same hot foods are part of our 'take-out' policy. It must be ready-hot and perfect when families or individuals call for and rely on our food and take-out dishes.

Peter Chin, Harry Chin, Kenneth Gee and Frank F. Gee boyhood friends, and owners of the Jade Fountains in North Arlington, Paramus and soon in Clifton too, also announced a new executive outside catering service that delivers the food at offices, or homes for meetings or special occasions hot, ready-to-eat, in time for the affair with experienced personnel handling the arrangements. This is what Chin calls the magic of the Jade Fountain.

Joerg fined him a total of $335, revoked his driver's license for two years, sentenced him to a suspended jail term of six months and placed him on probation for a year.

The drug charge arose from his arrest by Officer Joseph Rego. Edwards was again

One of our coaches...

Bob Leake is an operations expert when it comes to helping you with your banking needs—all your banking needs. And he's part of the team at your service at First National State Bank of New Jersey.

A banker since 1956, Bob is at our Franklin Office at 350 Centre Street, one of First National State's four offices in Nutley. And he's there to help you solve your financial problems, whatever they may be—whether it's opening an account, arranging a loan, starting one of our savings programs, securing a safe deposit box, or sending funds to a firm near Fujiyama.

Such coaching is nothing new for Bob. He still plays a touch of softball and basketball, but he gets just as much fun now out of his role as a vice president of the Little League and giving advice to the youngest generation from the sidelines. (His son, Robert, made the All-Star team last year.) He can set up a financial program for you as quickly as he can rearrange the Little League schedule.

He makes time in his busy schedule for the youngsters just as willingly as he contributes hours for other civic needs. He's been an auditor for the Nutley Red Cross for over half a dozen years and filled the same role for the Nutley Family Service Bureau for almost as long. To say nothing of collecting for the United Way and ushering at his church.

An Army veteran, he has attended Bloomfield College and he's a graduate of the American Institute of Banking as well as the New Jersey Banker's Data Processing School. And, oh yes, he's a notary public too.

Our team calls First National State the "Whole Bank" because we're ready to put a full range of services at your command. Plus, of course, all of our talent. So if you have a banking need you'd like to discuss, come in and see our Robert S. Leake. Bob may help out in the Little League, but as a financial coach, you'll find he's a pro.
