Mrs. Pelia Withdraws

Field Falls to Three In Board of Ed Race

By Ken Moore

Mrs. Evelyn T. Pelia, a candidate who announced late for the Board of Education, withdrew abruptly from the race Friday, leaving the two open seats to two incumbents and a young Air Force sergeant.

In her announcement of withdrawal, Mrs. Pelia cited "a sudden and serious matter of health within my family." She further said to her supporters, "I pledge to you that as soon as this health problem has been relieved I shall once again actively seek to implement our goals for the benefit of the children of Belleville." She later told the Times she would run again for the Board, "possibly next year or the year after."

Mrs. Pelia, a political unknown at the time she announced her candidacy, had drawn the top position on the ballot for the February 13 election. That spot will now go to Steven Rogers, a 31-year-old Air Force sergeant making a strong bid for a Board seat.

Incumbent Caesar Romano moves to the second spot. Romano said the withdrawal of Mrs. Pelia will not alter his campaign strategy, which he described as "low-key and objective." The campaign, said Romano, will center around the $7.4 million budget proposed this year by the Board of Education. He indicated he is prepared to defend the appropriations included in the budget for emergency maintenance in Belleville schools, but said the Board has not yet considered "a real preventive maintenance program."

Ruford Mahmood, out of the state earlier this week, could not be reached for comment on Mrs. Pelia's withdrawal. President of the Board for the past year, he is also expected to campaign hard in defense of the budget.

Rogers, who opened his drive last August, was well-received at a personal appearance before the Belleville Woman's Club Monday, and has come out swinging in the first few weeks of the campaign. In reference to pay raises recently voted by the Board for the Superintendent of Schools and his assistant, he said, "The Board has been looking out more for the needs of the administrators than the needs of the taxpayers and the children who attend the schools. Physical plant and maintenance should be a priority in the schools before pay raises. In other words — no luxuries first."

Congregations to Join In United Services

Belleville's Christian churches will join together for a service of Christian unity Sunday at 3 p.m. at the St. Peter's School auditorium at 152 William Street.

The service, to be celebrated for the fifth consecutive year, will be conducted by clergymen of 14 Belleville churches and hymns will be led by members of various choirs. Preacher for the afternoon will be Dr. Norman Pease, Professor of Religion at Bloomfield College, and special music will be provided by the Concert Choir of Belleville High School, under the direction of Thomas Finetti. Organist for the ceremony will be Mrs. Eric Hulme.

The program is sponsored in conjunction with a week of prayer for Christian unity, January 18-25, called by the National Council of Churches.

The Belleville service was instituted in 1968 when the Knights of Columbus invited clergymen from different local churches to an informal gathering at Christmas time. The idea of an annual service was suggested and has been carried out every year since then except one, with 500 to 600 attending each year.

Participating this year are the Second Baptist Church, the Silver Lake Baptist Church, Christ Episcopal Church, Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church, Wesley Methodist Church, Little Zion UAME Church, Fewsminth Presbyterian Church, Belleville Assembly of God, Montgomery Presbyterian Church, St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Grace Baptist Church, Belleville Reformed Church and Trinity Church.

The committee of clergymen who organized the event is composed of the Reverend Gerald Rounds of Wesley Presbyterian Church, the Reverend Paul Ruter of Belleville Reformed Church and Father Richard Groncki of St. Peter's Church.

The Reverend Albert Stone Jr., of Fewsminth Church.

At School 8

Board Will Explain Budget to Taxpayers

The Belleville Board of Education will present their 1973-74 school budget for public scrutiny Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m. at the School-Eight auditorium. Following the public hearing, the Board will meet to vote on adoption of the $7.4 million financial blueprint.

As the Times went to press, Board members were debating whether to change the presentation format from past years by including charts and a slide show to give a detailed visual breakdown of the budget appropriations.

In past years, the audience has received budget booklets giving descriptions of each account included in the proposed budget. After varying interpretations of the appropriations to the taxpayers, Board members have in the past fielded questions from the audience. This format is expected to be maintained again this year.

The total budget, advertised in today's Times (page 7) is set at $7,408,861, representing a $995,113 increase over last year's tight budget.

The 15 percent increase is earmarked for teacher's salaries increases amounting to $270,000 and for emergency repair work on Belleville schools which Board president Richard Mahmood said, "absolutely must be done."

Belleville voters have repeatedly voted down appropriations proposed by the Board for the past 11 years. The denial at the polls seems by now to be almost a reflex action, as public interest, either for or against the budget, is rarely visible. The annual public introduction by the Board rarely draws a crowd of over 100, and a break in that pattern occurred last year only because a teachers' group appeared to protest for or against the budget, a rare sight.

Last year's $6.4 million budget, a tight one which represented a slim 4.8 percent increase over the previous year, was rejected by voters by a mere 32 ballots.

The breakdown of the 1973-74 budget includes $7,074,456 for current expense, $102,200 for capital outlay and $232,205 for debt service.

Where Will The $ Go?

The 1973-74 Board of Education budget goes before the public next week.

The $7.4 million plan, as prescribed by law and tradition, will be presented to Belleville taxpayers at a public hearing at School No. 8 January 25.

The Times publishes today on page 7 the coming year's tentative school budget.

Rematch for Jets Against All-Stars

The New York Jets will come to Belleville again this year on February 17, no doubt seeking revenge for the painful upset handed them by the Craig Fund All-Stars last time around.

The basketball game will again benefit the Craig Fund, set up to aid Belleville's handicapped. This year's collection of football stars turned cagers is scheduled to include Ed Bell, Rick Caster, Bob Tucker, Emerson Booser, Ron Johnson, Roger Finnie, John Dockery of the Steelers, Phil Villapiano of the Raiders and Bob Davis. Matt Snell may also attend, depending on the outcome of surgery.

Tickets may be purchased at various stores in Belleville and at the high school. The game will be held in the Belleville High gym, and the Jets will be available at halftime to sign autographs.

Will the Jets get their revenge or will the All-Stars again be victorious? Come and find out!

Businessmen To Promote Washington Avenue Stores

Washington Avenue merchants, members and non-members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, have been meeting in an effort to develop an advertising program to reach a maximum number of Belleville's high-income families.

The impetus for the meetings was provided by the recent closing of the Acme Food Market and the boarding up of the old Pathmark store, located across from the Belleville City Hall.

Washington Avenue merchants estimate the street contains over 150 service, professional and mercantile stores. Collectively they provide shoppers with a one-stop shopping opportunity.

Spokesmen for the Washington Avenue merchants point out that public transportation facilities are as convenient to reach Washington Avenue as any other part of the Belleville Community.

A public relations — sales promotion — 13 week campaign begins this week in The Belleville Times. This effort is a forerunner of a series of programs designed to increase

Register Pools, Says Mary's Bill

Swimming pool construction will be regulated and "spite fences" between neighbors' yards will be lowered if two ordinances introduced by Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore at the last Board of Commissioners meeting are passed.

The pool ordinance would require all prospective owners to file plot and building plans with the Town Building Inspector before construction of any permanent or portable pools. The Health Officer and Plumbing Inspector will also check plans before a permit can be issued.

New swimming pools will be limited to 50 percent of a rear yard and must be five feet from abutting sideyards.

Four-foot fencing will be required and artificial lighting banned under the proposed law. The ordinance will require residents who present lawn pools to erect fences within 45 days after the ordinance is passed. All pools, present and future, will be registered with the building inspector. "I certainly don't want to take anyone's pleasure away," said Commissioner Senatore last week. "This ordinance is a protection and precaution against tragedy. So far we've been lucky in Belleville. Our town is later than others in proposing this type of measure."

The new law would require "poolowners" to arrange for

Young Actors Slate Comedy

The curtain rises January 27 at the Belleville Junior High auditorium on "George Washington Slept Here," a George Kaufman-Moss Hart comedy to be staged by "The Group," the Junior High's theatrical organization.

Directed by R. W. Lefebvre, a faculty member, the play will run January 27, 28 and 29. Lefebvre and several students will star in the play and a cameo role will be held down by Junior High principal Seymour Grossman.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In much the manner of a swan showering flattering compliments upon his lady-fair, such as telling her of her beauty, even if she be as ugly as sin, my publisher, Frank A. Orzech, views Belleville through rose-tinted glasses that he claims reveals beauty, a vibrant business section with customers fighting to get into overcrowded stores and an efficiently run community that is affluent and prosperous.

Well! It's his paper and he can view it that way for several reasons. One, perhaps, to make his advertisers feel good and to bolster the morale of the local Chamber of Commerce which he has long sponsored. My evaluation of his editorialized observations are that they represent a very far-sighted view obtained by gazing into some strange crystal-ball that mystically embellishes everything into a fair wonderland.

As this is being written, the Acme, the last food-market on the Avenue, is closing its doors; leaving the main-drag without a place for the ladies to food shop. That ain't good Frank. That's very bad. Maybe that crystal ball you're looking into doesn't focus too good.

Some express opinions which are contradicted by fact. My observations, from on the scene location, are at variance with the publisher's. Let the readers be the judge.

In response to the newspaper delivery driver, Mr. Iaroli, who didn't like the exposure of some reprehensible practices that make the lives of the delivery boys miserable, permit me to say that I fully realize these miserable experience problems, but, he acknowledges many of the failings they are guilty of exist by saying they are "the exception rather than the rule."

It is irrelevant who pays these men; with the death of the Newark News where Mr. Iaroli formerly worked, it is fortunate he still works at his trade and escaped the cruel fate that befell the Ballantine Brewery men.

Surely, Mr. Iaroli must be a union man who knows that if working conditions are bad that they should be corrected by bargaining negotiations between this union officials and those with whom they contract to deliver for.

Belleville Supermarkets Shut Down And Some Townspeople Open Up

Aid Pedestrians In Food Search

Since the closing of two Acme markets, December 30 and the shutdown of the Pathmark food store on Washington Avenue early last year, Belleville has been making adjustments in their shopping patterns. For some, this has not been easy.

"There's no supermarkets from Washington Avenue to the Valley area," said Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore last week. "In fact, I doubt there's even a store where one could buy a quart of milk. I think it's a very serious matter."

For some, the matter is more serious than for others. Senior citizens have been particularly inconvenienced, since many do not drive automobiles and have always walked to neighborhood grocery stores and supermarkets. Deprived of the neighborhood stores, without an automobile or the earning power to buy one, hampered by the shrinkage in public transportation, the average senior citizen is finding that Belleville is no longer able to adequately and conveniently provide food. But people must eat to live, so food must be gotten somewhere, and on a regular basis.

"The supermarket chains say they carry over 10,000 articles in each store," said Mayor Joseph McGreevy last week. "They say they need over 30,000 square feet in each store, and the Belleville stores aren't that big. As a matter of fact, there are eight other Acme markets in northern New Jersey that are closing. It's the same situation as in the 1940's when the supermarkets knocked the small grocery stores out of the box."

"It's a dire problem," continued McGreevy, "but you can't club people over the head to keep them in business. We're trying our best to attract supermarkets to Belleville."

Until another food chain does decide to move into Belleville, residents are going to have to find their own methods to handle the problem. The initiative right now is coming from private citizens, those who understand the problem and are willing to help others less economically marooned by the closing of the local food stores. Miss Louise Mingle of 48 Rossmore Place was aware of the impending Acme shutdown well before it happened. Years ago, she had been employed at the Washington Avenue store and later worked at an Acme supermarket in Montclair before retiring three years ago. She shopped at the Washington Avenue store and was friendly with the salespeople there, who tipped her off about the closing.

"I tried my best to stop it," said Miss

Mingle, "and I even tried to buy the building, but it was beyond my means. So before the store closed, I went there and put a sign on the window right next to their notice of closing. My sign was 'as big as their's but I said that people who had to walk to get their food shopping done could call me to arrange a ride.'"

Nobody from the market took down Miss Mingle's sign and she got a couple of responses in the following week. But she wanted a little more.

Her suggestion turned up another woman who was willing to help out, and the car pool is now operating Wednesday and Saturday afternoons with two or three cars driving a moderate number of older (and younger) Belleville residents without autos to the Montclair Acme. Reverend Ruter is hopeful that once word spreads of the service, those offering help will keep pace with those who need it.

"To me that's what the church is all about — if a problem arises in the community, the church should try to solve it or take some kind of action to alleviate it. We couldn't prevent the Acme from closing, but we are looking for ways to deal with the problem."

"Eventually," he added, "the Town may even be able to provide bus service for the senior citizens to reach a supermarket."

Census Bureau Surveys Consumer Buying Here

The Federal Government's nationwide survey of consumer buying habits enters its second year in this area this week, according to Timothy C. Moriarty, Supervisor of the survey area office in East Orange.

The survey is being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, part of the Department of Commerce's Society and Economic Statistics Administration. The Census Bureau is acting as collecting agent for the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS).

The undertaking, called the Consumer Expenditure Survey, will provide information needed to update the BLS Consumer Price Index (CPI) which measures monthly price changes. New figures covering the years 1972 and 1973 will replace the information on consumer buying habits last gathered in a survey covering 1960-61. The Census Bureau will collect the new data and turn results over to BLS for analysis and revision of the CPI.

A sample of approximately 250 households in the areas covered by the East Orange office have been interviewed once each quarter during 1972. They will be interviewed for the fifth time during January, February, or March of this year. As these households are being interviewed for the last time, another 230 households will enter the survey and be interviewed for the first time during the same months. They will remain in the survey through March 1974 for a total of five quarterly interviews.

Organization Doings

Jr. Woman's Club of Belleville One of Busiest Town Groups

Perhaps one of the busiest groups in town is the Junior Woman's Club which meet the second and fourth Mondays at 8 p.m., 51 Rossmore Place.

The club's main project this year is working with the Essex County Geriatric Center. Under the direction of Art Department chairman, Mrs. Robert McGough, the members made over 100 turkey trays favors for Thanksgiving. 20 Christmas madonnas (statues) for the salarum and 250 Christmas Santa favors in addition to distributing Christmas cards and cookies while caroling for the patients. Other activities included a Halloween party at the Children's Shelter and a Children's Puppet Show, with proceeds going to Federated charities.

In November, the Braille department hosted a workshop for all Junior Clubs in the Eighth District. Mobiles were made and donated to St. Joseph's School for the blind. The main fund raiser will be a Dinner/Fashion Show to be held March 8 at The Fountain, proceeds to benefit Mt. Carmel Guild pre-school deaf programs and the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic. Tickets may be purchased from members or by phoning the club president, Mrs. Thomas Spillane at 759-0219. Deanna's of Nutley will present Spring fashions.

The Junior Woman's Club helped the Woman's Club of Belleville by taking pictures with Santa in the mobile trailer at Town Hall. They were awarded the Diamond Dozen Award at the state convention last May, an award given to the 12 best all around clubs by the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Junior Woman's Club was formed in 1970 and became federated in 1971. It is sponsored by The Woman's Club of Belleville, but it is a separate, independent entity. Membership is open to Belleville women, age 18-35, who are interested in participating in civic and social philanthropic activities. The group seeks new members, and anyone interested may attend the January 22 meeting, which will be an open house.

Orechio Fighting Reapportionment

Assemblyman Carl A. Orechio has advised the New Jersey Re-Apportionment Commission of a growing concern among District 11-C voters that one or more of the six municipalities comprising the Northeast Essex District might be re-assigned to new districts composed primarily of non-Essex County residents.

In a letter to Sen. Raymond H. Bateman, Commission Co-chairman, Orechio said he was "convinced that the residents of Belleville, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Verona and Nutley residents fear the possibility of being 'arbitrarily cut off by a computer and tacked on to an area or municipality with which they would have nothing in common.'"

"solely to achieve precise mathematical balance."

Belleville and Nutley, both on the Passaic River, are bordered to the east by Bergen County, while Bloomfield, Montclair and Verona are adjacent to Passaic County.

Orechio views the Passaic River and State Route 3 as "physical barriers which have historically deterred the development of strong inter-municipal ties" between these communities and their non-Essex neighbors.

On the other hand, the Republican Assemblyman contended the northeastern Essex communities "have long historic ties which have produced over the years a spirit of joining together" in several governmental and non-governmental endeavors.

"The physical appearances of their adjoining neighborhoods are so great that strangers cannot even tell when they are crossing municipal boundaries."

Expressing an awareness that the current 11-C District "will surely be altered to accomplish the one-man, one-vote principle," Orechio asked the Commission "to respect established county and municipal boundaries where possible."

Orechio cited provision of Article IV, Section 2, of the State Constitution that districts be composed of contiguous territory, as nearly compact in the number of their inhabitants as possible.

Implicit in this, concluded Orechio, "is the point that such a geographical configuration will contain a constituency with more common than different characteristics. I am sure detailed analysis of the 1970 United States Census will reveal the similarities in the socio-economic nature of these Northeast Essex municipalities."

The New Jersey Re-Apportionment Commission, a ten-member bi-partisan body, has been studying a variety of maps with little progress toward final realignment of election districts.

A Killer Lauded

Last Sunday, black activist Stokely Carmichael heaped praise upon Mark Essex, a young black who was shot and killed in New Orleans, January 7, after allegedly shooting six persons to death and injuring 17 others.

Using a Newark public school, (Weequahic High School), from the audience stage Carmichael said, "We should understand that brother Essex carried out our struggle to the next quantitative level, the level of science. We are plagued by being landless, by capitalism and by racism. The only way to end those afflictions is to destroy the American capitalist monster." Continuing Carmichael declared, "The destruction of American capitalism and imperialism is our historic mission. We have to do it," Carmichael said Essex's action illustrates "that black people should have a common ideology to aid the Pan-African movement."

Carmichael described himself as a revolutionary who wants to tear down the whole system and rebuild it. A revolutionary's main concern is creating and building, but to do that you have to destroy something. It's simple scientific fact that two things can't occupy the same space at the same time.

Carmichael was introduced to the audience by LeRoi Jones, head of the "Committee for a Unified Newark," whom Carmichael described as "a brother who has been out from for a long time and who refuses to allow setbacks to discourage him in organizing our black community."

Standing next to Carmichael and applauding his every word was LeRoi Jones, the black activist who is the leader and promoter of Newark's controversial Kawauda Towers project.

It is obvious that LeRoi Jones gave his approval to the language, thoughts and words expressed by Stokely Carmichael.

If ever city and state officials had a legitimate reason to block the construction of Kawauda Towers, LeRoi Jones and Stokely Carmichael gave it to them on a silver platter Sunday.

Carmichael's speech was a call to arms for the black community. It isn't difficult to conclude that Carmichael condoned killing whites because the "whites are standing in the place where blacks should be," Carmichael said. "It's simple scientific fact that two things can't occupy the same space at the same time." The Carmichael crowd obviously is willing to kill in cold blood to remove a white man from a spot which they think should be occupied by a black.

Murder in cold blood is worse than anarchy-it is worse than a civil war-such behavior even brutalizes the black community itself. We cannot imagine the responsible, sensible black members of our community remaining silent in the face of a call to murder-and a justification of murder by the likes of revolutionist Stokely Carmichael.

Only yesterday Newark Assemblyman Anthony Imperiale bemoaned the fact that Newark's Mayor Kenneth Gibson remains silent while the Stokely Carmichaels call for murder. Imperiale asks-and so do we-is this responsible behavior of a Newark Mayor? Is not Gibson's silence eloquent evidence that Gibson is basically a racist? One wonders what Gibson's reaction would have been if the tables were turned and a white man called for the cold-blooded murder of black people?

The Nation's Land

Failure of Congress to change an old mining law to meet today's conditions is allowing companies to improperly mine and ravage millions of acres of land in our western states.

The law that governs hard-rock mining on public land, the Federal Mining Law of 1897, is a plumb for today's mining companies for it allows them, for $5 an acre, to dig the miners' mine do it mark such claim with four stakes and file its location.

Taking advantage of the obsolete law, passed when almost all the west was public land and people were being encouraged to go there, modern day operators move into national forests with helicopters, bulldozers and other massive destructive equipment and often destroy growth and vegetation which took a century to develop, leaving scarred and barren land in their wake.

No one even knows how much of the eleven western States' public land has been claimed but some estimate half. It's not claimed but some estimate half. It's not claimed but some estimate half. It's not claimed but some estimate half.

The Sierra Club and other conservation groups propose this unlimited invitation to miners be withdrawn, that the Bureau of Land Management be given the responsibility to manage the public's land. The price of land, to miners, should be made realistic, punishment should be provided for offenders.

Series of Blazes Here Threatens Town Center

By Elaine Auerbach

ONE YEAR AGO

Although the Board of Education lost its fight to get an additional wing in the new Public Health Building, educators agreed to take the entire second floor for its administrative offices. Commissioner Vincent Strumolo and his department of Health were relocated to the building at 383 Washington Avenue, but it was expected to be at least six months before the school board could move.

School officials were to introduce the tentative 1972-73 budget in the School 8 auditorium. The current budget, which was termed "tight but workable," by the officials, called for a total tax package of $5,157,886, which was $238,116 or 4.8 per cent increase over 1970-71. About 100 residents were expected to turn out for the budget hearing.

James Risoli, a candidate for the Board of Education, announced his opposition to any cross-county busing program. He said that busing may, in some instances, "endanger the health and safety of children."

FIVE YEARS AGO

A major milestone in Belleville's growth history was marked when the Belleville Times-News became the fifth largest weekly newspaper in New Jersey and the second largest in Essex County. The paper was received into the homes of 10,000 Belleville citizens. The major circulation increase was the first in a series of moves by The Times to provide Belleville citizens and merchants with a public platform and forum with readers who would assist in building a "better Belleville."

Firemen and police were catching their breath after a series of fires in town that ravaged several homes and destroyed an apartment house and businesses close to the core of the town's commercial center. The fire department fought 27 blazes — in freezing weather — and suffered an assortment of injuries. One fireman was placed under intensive care as a result of being crushed by a brick wall. Community organizations joined together in a massive attempt to raise $30,000 for homeless fire veterans.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

A testimonial dinner in honor of Eugene Kelly, retiring member of the Board of Education, was held at the Fountain Restaurant. Over 400 people paid their respects to Mr. Kelly, who was commended throughout the evening by the many speakers and guests for his outstanding work as a member of the Board of Education for eight years. Max Schwartz, local attorney, was the master of ceremonies for the event.

Continuing to press the Essex County Park Commission to reopen the questions of creating a park along the Third River from Harrison Street to Joralemon Street, Mayor Isadore Padula told the county board that he considered the patching up of Belleville Park, following the departure of an army detachment, to be "a poor substitution for the Passaic Riverbank Park." The Mayor appealed to the Commission to give equal consideration to the park proposal submitted by the Passaic Valley Citizens Planning Association.

A ten-point rise in the county tax-rate appeared likely as the Board of Freeholders tackled a county budget of $34,188,661 swollen by $3,639,492 more in expenditures than was contained in the 1957 budget. Included was a single item of almost one million in pay raises for county employees.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A history making school budget for Belleville was adopted by the Board of Education. The total amount for the school year 1948-49, $1,071,558 was to be presented for approval to the voters at the annual school election on February 10. The figure marked an increase of $98,597 and called for $902,997 to be raised in district taxes.

Anthony Giuliano, Clean Government designation for the right to represent the 10th Congressional District, was to be the guest speaker at the Woman's Club. Giuliano received the nomination after lengthy consideration by the Belleville Republican Forum. Clarence Van Sickle was to preside at the meeting.

Newly elected officers of the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church were ordained and installed at the worship service. The following members participated: Elders: Harold Ross, Arthur Leytham, William Maser, William Homan; Deacons: Walter Burman, Liel Sheir, James Pepto, Robert Jackson; Trustees: Fred Kristen, William Kelly, Lavon Cox, Alexander Thomas, and Paul Van Ness.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Nutley High School's basketball team went on a scoring rampage in the first half of their "burying of the hatchet" game with Belleville. A 14-4 score in the opening half enabled the Maroon and Grey to coast to a final 29-20 victory. Al Cukin ran wild for Belleville, tallying 11 points for his individual score.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

J.H. Stines, manager of the Belleville All Star Jugglers, claimed the town basketball championship for his team.

Social Security Hike Examined

To the Editor:

My subject: The Social Security increase for the elderly. A blessing in some cases, disaster in others.

It took a long time for our federal lawmakers to grant a necessary increase for the elderly, but in doing so failed to introduce provisions very necessary in some cases. Where income received was slightly above the limit requirements, causing loss of medicare. Included was this proved to be a disaster, causing local taxpayers, municipalities to pick up the tab in needed cases of confinement.

Many needs were pointed out by the speakers at the Nov. 28, 1971, Presidents Conference on Aging and should be enacted as follows:

Property tax relief, by 50% thru State or Federal grant or deferred property taxes with the state or federal government placing a lien against the property.

Reduce transportation costs on off hours by 50%.

Eye care and glasses — dental care and teeth — pedicure treatments and special shoes — covered by medicare.

The Lord has said ask and it shall be given unto you. I ask all the senior citizens to write to Senator Frank Church, Chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging and to their respective representatives both state and federal pointing out the foregoing needs and asking for their support in implementing them.

Sincerely,

Phyllis W. Bell

I gather from his comment that the issue should be resolved by his Union and the Newsdealers Supply Co. In the meantime, I hope the drivers will please try to have a few LESS union conventions. A rule that gives the paperboys so much grief.

 Few, unfamiliar with the ways of our generous lawmakers in Trenton, are aware that a real Santa Claus Governors' pension bill almost got enacted and probably would have been, had it not been for the publicity it got in the papers.

The bill, seemingly, was designed to take care of former Gov. Hughes, since he had given up a $15,000 pension when he resigned as judge in 1957 to enter private practice, leaving him with his present State pension of $3,000.

The Santa Claus bill would have increased Hughes' pension to $17,500, which was half his salary at the time he retired from office. Then the liberal lawmakers decided to amend the bill and take care of the present Governor by providing Mr. Cahill with a $17,500 pension after two terms and at 65.

Having taken good care of both a Democrat and a Republican Governor, past and present, the Legislature, being in a majority, decided to go a step further by amending the measure to provide a $10,000 pension for ex-Gov. Al Driscoll who doesn't want nor need it. And it would have boosted from $6,000 to $15,000 the pension of ex-Gov. Meyner who didn't ask for it.

As the criticism mounted, Gov. Cahill stated that — while he felt the bill was "fair and proper" — it was not Bill Cahill's idea.

"This was Hughes' idea," said Cahill.

The bill died when Assemblyman Fay protested he wasn't aware of any ex-governors in dire need of "CARE packages."

Bowing to those legislators who felt the bill was too liberal, Assemblyman Woodson, who had sponsored the measure, withdrew it. He admitted he got a few letters "of the type that said all politicians are bums."

This time it failed, but just wait. They'll try again.

Back in the thirties our state legislators received $800 a year and considered it an honor to serve the public. Today, the solons have converted the role into a lucrative career with pension privileges provided under the Public Employees' Retirement System. The system has fixed rules and regulations which involve contributions from both the State and the employee. The amount of the pension depends on the age at which a member joins the fund as well as final salary.

Meyner gets a pension because he joined the Retirement System at an early age and served the minimum 15 years—as school district attorney, state senator, then governor.

Hughes, also a member of P.E.R.S., gets his present smaller pension because he met another requirement, he left office after reaching age 60.

Driscoll, although he served as State Senator, ABC director and two-term governor, got no pension because he never joined the pension system.

The legislative pension recently signed into law requires legislators to join the pension system and contribute. The benefit is 3% of the legislative salary for every year of service. It is vested after eight years. Which means the lawmaker who serves eight years may receive, at sixty years of age, 25% of his legislative salary.

His maximum would be two-thirds of salary after serving 22 years. At the present scale of $10,000 salary, this would give a veteran legislator a $6,666 pension.

That ain't hard to take it folks? Too bad we poor suckers have to pay for it. It does, you know, come out of our tax dollars. Politicians are expensive by-products you will get to know. That's why many people are becoming disgusted with the politics of this Country. Small wonder. Why shouldn't they?

How far can we go when the taxpayer, who makes less than the governmental help, pays taxes to support those governmental employees who make more than the taxpayer earns? What shop owner would continue in business if he had to pay his help more than he made in profits? That, unfortunately, is the path we now seem to be following. It can't continue for long.

Unless our governmental leaders recognize the dilemma they are causing by the generosity in granting pay raises beyond what the average taxpayer gets we'll be in great trouble.

By Frank A. Orecchio

CHINESE FORTUNE COOKIES TELL ME, "The life you lead should be your own... You are to display noble courage in making an important decision... the great wisdom you show in business will reward you richly."

FOR EIGHT WEEKS I HAVE BEEN TRYING TO GET our news department to publish a feature, prepared eight weeks ago, about one of our lovable native boys who has made good in all fields, the pushcart business. The young man to be featured is "Cousin Ben" Cafone who in the early 40's and mid-50's owned "Cousin Ben's Diner." The establishment was located on the southeast corner of Park and Washington Avenues — and as a kid I was there munching some of the goodies that Cousin Ben dished out.

If I amble along any further I would be disclosing the feature story. I promise you that if our news department doesn't catch up within I will use this space to relate an interesting story about one of Nutley's nicest guys.

DAVE SPAL, Certified Public Accountant, with offices in Nutley's Sunbank Building, drew our attention to a federal tax report which reviewed a very peculiar decision handed down by the U.S. Tax Court. It brought me a couple of belly laughs and in the thought that you might react in much the same way that I here it is for your laughing pleasure: "On December 29, 1968, the taxpayer, who managed an armored car service, took a large sum of money from his employer's vault. In January 1969, he surrendered to the authorities and voluntarily returned the money, title of which he had spent. The Tax Court ruled that the embezzled funds were taxable income to him in 1968. He had unrestricted use and control of the money for a few days during that year."

(CCH Rewrite Bulletin, 8280.)

DAVE SPAL FURTHER SUGGESTS that taxpayers with unreported cash who have invested in U.S. Series E savings bonds in the past as a refuge for untaxable cash will no longer be able to go that route. A recent U.S. Tax Department news release states, "Issuing agents (banks, post offices, etc.) will be required to include the Social Security number (taxpayer account identifying number) of the owner or first named owner of Series E savings bonds issued October 1, 1973 or later."

JUDY WINICK HAS BEEN IN THE NUTLEY SCHOOL SYSTEM five years and in a confidential note to a friend disclosed, "I love it." Judy taught for three years at Washington School and is in her second year at Yantacaw — quite a testimonial to the Nutley school environment.

LAST WEEK SPACED DID NOT PERMIT ME to reproduce a bulletin board of the Nutley, England, Parish of St. James-The-Less Church which, in addition to announcing Sunday services, also revealed that Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Eisenfelder of Nutley, New Jersey were special guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. Leslie Shone, the Reverend being the Vicar of The Parish.

Minish Wants Year Round Savings Time

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District-New Jersey, will introduce legislation this week to provide for year-round daylight savings time.

Minish said his measure is aimed primarily at reducing crime during the early evening winter hours.

"Police statistics," Minish said, "clearly indicate that criminals prefer the early darkness that winter and Standard Time so conveniently afford."

Minish argued that year-round daylight savings time also would reduce traffic accidents during afternoon commuter-rush hours in the winter.

"Moreover," Minish declared, "the time change will result in savings on electrical and fuel bills, more after school play time for children, greater utilization of parks and other public facilities, and elimination of time-change confusion."

According to Minish, the proposed shift to year-round daylight savings time "is supported by a growing number of police, traffic and insurance company officials who recognize that it would reduce crime and traffic mishaps."

"In effect," Minish commented, "the legislation proposes that we set a new Standard Time, one hour ahead of the present Standard Time in order to bring our clocks more into line with the needs of our modern, urban society."

Minish said he is "hopeful that this proposal will be

Charity isn't always a matter of indiscriminate giving. The only way to get anything done is to start doing it. A symbol is worthless unless you know what it stands for.

Browsing In Belleville With Pat Diana

My "organization doings" column this week features the Jr. Woman's Club of Belleville. The members want me to extend an invitation to girls 18-35 to attend their Jan. 22 meeting which is an open house. Speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Carolyn Strunk, senior psychiatric social worker at the North Jersey Guidance Clinic. (For details, see page 8.)

The Jan. 10 meeting of BHS' Home and School Association was attended by more than 150 people. Mrs. Grace Purdue, president, announced that, as a result of a successful card party, two scholarships will be awarded in the amount of $200 each—one, to a student attending a four year college and one to a student going to a vocational type school after graduation. Applications will be available from the Guidance Dept. in the spring. The program that evening was presented by the Guidance Dept. and covered a variety of things, i.e., scheduling, college entrance, tutoring service offered by Key Club. Speakers included Anthony Greco, Herman Knuppel, Miss Ehl Williamson, Miss Heretick and Richard Graves.

Get ready for another interesting evening at BHS, the Home and School Association will host a talent night, March 14. Watch this column for details.

Betty Doeffinger and daughter, Lisa spent a rollicking weekend with 21 girl scouts from Belleville at Rocking Horse Ranch in Highland, New York. They went with a group from Hudson County CYO and had a real jolly time at the pool, sauna and, of course, horseback riding. Under the supervision of Yvonne Klinger, too, Betty tells me she forgot her lipstick, and I asked her if she banned her bra, too. (my big camping story last summer, remember?) Bet said she had a little difficulty with her horse, he wouldn't start! Congratulations, it's a boy for Jeanne and Steve Fritts. Mom is the former Jeanne Travers of Greylock Parkway. The new heir apparent is Jack Brian who weighed in at 8 lb. 11 oz. and 21 inches long on Dec. 13. The couple now reside at 451 Edgewood Ave. Clifton, should you care to send a card.

Jack Throckmorton, Sr., of American Legion Post 105, tells me that February 24 is the date set aside for the dinner honoring past post commander Tony Mariani. For ticket reservations, call the Post at 759-9650 and ask for Jack, Pat Lee, or George Mitchell.

I wanted daughter Linda to think we had forgotten her birthday, hence, nothing in last week's column. It was Jan. 12 with daughter Sue's help, we had a small surprise party and, she was surprised. Happy Sweet Sixteen Linda Ann Diana.

You know, I must apologize to Gene Muscara of Muscara Music. He was my business spotlight interview last week and a most interesting personality. Somehow...somehow...one whole page disappeared and his article was printed minus this last important page.

We reprint it here, in its entirety.

While I waited to interview Gene Muscara, entrepreneur of Muscara Music, I chatted with a young lad who told me his mother had come from St. John's in the Virgin Islands to the States to purchase another instrument. Muscara has had customers from all over the world, the Philippines, Quebec, Canada, London. There's a secret to his success...he really enjoys people. Gene Muscara started playing the accordion at age 8.

Cool it...One way we're helping to overcome the gas shortage.

again be met from domestic supplies. It will cost more, but liquefied natural gas will help provide dependable, supplemental supplies of gas in the future.

We're also making our own synthetic natural gas and have formed a drilling company to explore for new gas sources of our own.

Is the Country Running Out of Gas?

No, at least not in the very near future. However, since 1967, our domestic consumption of natural gas has exceeded the quantities of newly discovered supplies, resulting in a continuous decline of proved gas reserves. And drilling in search of new gas reserves has declined sharply. For example, in 1960, a monthly average of more than 1,700 drilling rigs were searching for gas and oil in the United States. A decade later, fewer than 900 rigs were at work, primarily because of governmental policies such as those relating to the price of gas in the field, reduction of tax incentives, and land leasing procedures.

Will PSE&G Have Enough Gas to Meet the Demand in the Foreseeable Future?

Yes...if, and this is a big IF, our planned supplies become available on schedule. The realization of each of the major methods for supplementing our gas supply depends on numerous approvals at the federal, state and local levels. The time required to secure the necessary approvals is great. Any delay in obtaining the necessary approvals could force PSE&G to impose even more stringent sales restrictions.

We urge our customers to support our programs to help overcome this very real energy crisis. Sufficient supplies of gas energy will assure that no unemployment will result in New Jersey's industry as a result of the gas shortage. And they will help assure that your homes will continue to receive the uninterrupted convenience of gas all year round.

How To Help Trees, Shrubs Weather Storms

The snow and ice storm over the holidays broke, swayed and bent trees and shrubbery. In some areas plants stayed ice-covered several days but in warmer places the ice soon melted and everything that hadn't broken more or less returned to normal. We usually get more than one storm like this during the winter, so what can you do to be ready for the next one? The key is one plant that suffers from ice and heavy snow damage, so you can follow the lead of some homeowners who build a sort of chicken-wire basket around their yews. Or tie their branches together with stout twine.

What if trees and bushes get glazed over with ice again? The worst thing you can do is to whack at them with a broom or snow shovel, because everything is frozen, and you'll be sure to do some damage. Just let the ice melt and the tree or shrub will return to its normal shape. In case of light, fluffy snow, though, you can relieve the burden on the plant by gently bumping the limbs upward to shake the snow loose.

And be ready for the next storm with the information you'll find in "Storm-Injured Trees," a free leaflet you can get from your Essex County Agricultural Extension Service, 900 Bloomfield Avenue, Verona, N.J. 07044.

A good way to get burned is to fall asleep smoking a cigarette.

Wait Until Springtime To Plant Living Trees

Each year more gardeners are buying living Christmas trees which can later be planted in the garden. Live trees require a little more care, but the efforts are rewarding when new growth resumes next spring.

Select a tree with a good burlapped soil ball, then wrap this in a large sheet of plastic, advises William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

If you have no plastic, set the burlapped soil ball in a large tub and surround it with peat moss. Keep the ball and peat moss moist.

After the holidays, place the tree and tub in a protected place until you can plant it in late March. A garage or sheltered corner of a porch are good locations; away from sun and wind which dry out the needles.

Presented by Theater of the Hill, this is the second in a series of three offerings during the 1972-73 season. Groups of friends or an organization buying 15 or more tickets are invited to inquire about the group discount.

Arranged by and for the residents of communities surrounding Caldwell, the Theater program is in its second year, and holds its performances at Caldwell College. Grapplers Gird for Cardinals After Splitting Two Encounters Bellboy matmen scrap with a Kearny squad in Kardinal territory tomorrow in a battle that Coach Jim Silvestri expects to be one of the closest of the season.

The Bellboys come off a split of their last two engagements. They fell hard to a high-ranked Essex Catholic squad last Wednesday and were buried under a 40-13 score for the first loss of the season. Two days later, though, the grapplers triumphed West Orange, 33-12, to put their mark at 4-1.

"We didn't expect to lose that badly against Essex Catholic," said Silvestri this week, "but I guess the boys were a little psyched out after they started losing."

The only bright spots for the Bellboys in their first defeat came when Rocco Cuozzo (98 lbs.), "Chico" Lio (106) and heavyweight John Smith won their bouts with pins. An injury to co-captain Brian Banda (130) came as a big disappointment.

Banda recovered quickly enough to pin his West Orange foe for the following Friday. Also collecting victories in the 33-12 romp were Cuozzo, Lio, with a pin, Bob Willette (123), Mike Resciniti (136) and John Smith, also through a pin. Bob Coate (147) and Joe Vasquez (157) came through with their first victories of the year.

While Silvestri said West Orange was "not as strong as we expected," Essex Catholic was ranked fourth in the region according to the Star-Ledger poll.

Silvestri predicted the

Keglers Flounder After Nutley Win

The Belleville High keggers took only one out of three games from a tough Sesito Hall team Thursday, despite good bowling from Jim Dahlgquist and Bob Greco.

The Belleville team lost the first game by 30 pins and dropped the second by a close six. They came back strong in the third, however, to grab the win. Rolling high for Belleville were Dahlgquist with a 515 series and Greco with a $10 total for the day.

The previous Monday Belleville met Irvington, the team with whom they shared the conference lead. The Belling High team, competing on an off day, won one game and dropped two. High man against Irvington was Howie Evans with a 543 series.

On January 4, the Belleville keggers faced against a tough opponent in their arch rival Nutley. In the opening game against Nutley the Belleville High team shot an 896 game. The high bowlers in the first game were Jim Dahlgquist who rolled a 207, Howie Evans who shot 200, and Warren Beck who had a 180 game. The Belleville Keglers went on to win the second game with Greg Revello leading the scoring with a 199. The Belleville team lost a close third game to Nutley. Against Nutley the high men were Jim Dahlgquist who had a 556 series and Greg Revello who had 555 total pins on the day.

Rec League Gridders Accept Awards Today

The Belleville Recreation Department will be honoring the champions of their recreational football leagues today at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Each boy will be given a trophy and a pen inscribed "Belleville Recreation Champion".

Guest speakers will be Mr. Nick Grande, a former Bellboy, and now the offensive line coach at Belleville High School and Mr. John Senesky, a former star at Belleville High School and Montclair College. Mr. Senesky is presently the head Freshman Coach at Belleville Junior High School. Mr. Grande will be showing films of this past season on the gridiron.

This year four teams in a three league division will be honored. In the high weight division there was a tie at 5 wins and 1 loss between Kiwanis and the Varsity. These two teams are coached by Bob Haug, Coach Pagano and Coaches Longo and Van Tassel respectively. Landolf's Nutley the high men were Jim Dahlgquist who had a 556 series and Greg Revello who had 555 total pins on the day.

By Ken Moore

Nutley and Belleville battled Tuesday afternoon at Nutley to decide who would persevere over the cellar of the Big Ten and when the dust cleared over the hardwood, the Bellboys had to go downstairs. The score was 52-46.

The game didn't quite approach the drama of the previous meeting this season between the two luckless teams, although a furious final quarter saw the Maroon pull away in the final few minutes to win by a mere six points.

Neither team was able to maintain momentum throughout the contest and the game was marred by sloppy ball-handling and haphazard offenses. The key to the Nutley win was an edge under the backboards, in spite of their height disadvantage, and good shooting by Pete Frazza and Mike Calichio.

The Maroon defense was up to par, although the compiled 25 fouls to Belleville's 16 and found themselves in their chronic situation of losing key players on fouls. Belleville converted the breaks well, with Abdel Anderson in particular pouring in 11 of 12 shots from the line.

Anderson had his difficulties throughout the rest of the game, however, as Nutley coach John Brugler kept a man in front of him and another behind, in a successful maneuver to negate Anderson's height.

The Bellboys were able to get off only about 37 shots in the entire game due to the tenacious Maroon Defense, but Nutley, on the other hand, was able to make good on about 30 percent of their shots from the floor.

Unlike the first Nutley-Belleveille encounter this season, when the Bellboys blazed from behind to throw the game into overtime, Belleville this time lost a six-point lead to the Maroon. In fact, the gap between both clubs never varied more than six points from the start to finish of the game.

While Pete Frazza and Mike Calichio were Maroon standouts, with 21 and 17 points respectively, for the Bellboys the top scorers were Anderson with 17 and Tony Cotugno 12.

Nutley held a two-point lead after the first quarter, while the second saw both teams scoring 11 to put the Maroon up at halftime. While Belleville dominated the third stanza to claim the lead, Nutley outscored the blue and gold 17-9 in the last period for the victory.

Tomorrow evening the Bellboys host the Cardinals, also for the second engagement of the season. The first time around, the faced off, the Bellboys came out losers by seven points, 79-72.

Fouls proved to be the difference in that game, with the rambunctious Bellboys losing Colugno in the third quarter and Anderson and Bob Sanders both in the fourth.

Next Tuesday, again at home, the Montclair Mounties meet the Bellboys.

Campers Hit Cagers With 76-53 Touncing

by Tony Calabrese

The Irvington Campers administered the eighth loss in ten games for the Belleville High School basketball team last Friday evening when they beat the local cagers by a score of 76-53 in a game played in Irvington.

The loss left Belleville in a tie for last place with neighboring Nutley in the Big Ten Conference, and the rivals were able to determine who owned the bottom spot in the conference standings this past Tuesday in Nutley.

Tomorrow evening the Bellboys return home to play the Kearny Cardinals at 8:15 p.m., and last time Kearny and Belleville got together the game was exciting throughout, with a late closing drive by the Cardinals winning it for Kearny in the last couple of minutes 79-72.

As far as last Friday's game went, the local cager did not play as bad as the final score may indicate. The Campers were just super in the first half, hitting on a stunning 16 for 29 from the field, all of which led to a 36-21 lead at halftime for Irvington. While Belleville didn't commit many turnovers they were badly beaten off the boards, suffering from a superior height disadvantage, as even both Irvington guards stood well over 6 ft. tall, a most unusual fact in high school basketball.

Irvington got a 27 point performance out of senior forward George Mueller, and also 12 points from guard Harry Doctor to lead their attack. Belleville had three men in double figures with sophomore center Abdel Anderson leading the way with 18 points. Guards Vin Turturiello and Mark Corino had 13 and 10 points respectively as a contributing factor on the Belleville side.

The game was tied for the last time at a 6-6 midway through the first quarter when Irvington took the lead for good. The Campers ran off eight points in a row and never trailed the rest of the night. Doctor's jumper, Mueller's tap in, another Doctor bucket, and a long shot by Herbie Jones made up the streak. Corino's driving lay-up and Turturiello's foul shot brought Belleville close again, before Jackson, by Mueller and Reggie McClood gave Irvington an 18-9 lead at the quarter. Doctor and Mueller had 6 apiece in the quarter for Irvington, while co-captain Vin Turturiello led the way for Belleville with five points.

In the second quarter Irvington continued to shoot well while Belleville had a little trouble finding shots going through, all of which added up to a 18-12 Irvington edge in the quarter, and a 36-21 Camper halftime lead. Mueller again led Irvington with six points in the quarter, and McClood added another five as six different Campers contributed to the attack. For Belleville all the members of the starting line broke into the scoring column in the second stanza as co-captain Mark Corino led the way with four points.

For the second half Belleville continued to play rather well and battled Irvington on even terms for the most part in the half. In the second half the game got quite rough, as the referees let a lot of pushing and shoving go, all of which led to a little scuffle near the end of the game, and also put the Bellboys in quite a battle with the officials who slapped five technical fouls on

Bellgirls Zoom to Fourth Win By Powdering Kearny, 56-26

The Girl's Varsity Basketball Team zoomed toward their fourth straight victory of the season by defeating Kearny High School 56-26.

Joyce Buckland caught the opening jump and drove down court for the first points of the game. Thirty seconds later, Joyce then intercepted a Kearny pass, and threw a court length pass to Donna Foley for a score. Guard Susan Gasparini then caught Kearny off guard by stealing the next pass, throwing to Donna who passed it to Joyce. At the end of the first quarter, the Bellgirls were ahead, 8-2.

The second quarter began with Belleville continuing their domination of the Cardinals when Donna Foley threw a long pass to forward Sue Winspish for the first two points of the quarter. Donna Foley was fouled as she drove in for a fast break. She went to the foul line and coolly sank two free throws to further widen the gap.

Sue Winspish caught the opening jump ball at the beginning of the third quarter and passed to Debbie Malone for the first two points of the second half. Sue "Spear" Gasparini made a fast break down court for Heather Bellgirl score. Joyce Buckland made an exciting jump interception and assisted Donna Foley for a basket. The third quarter ended with the Bellgirls ahead 35-18.

With forty seconds into the fourth quarter, Donna Foley intercepted a pass and drove down for a score. Later, Diane Amosato threw a long pass to Donna Foley for another two points. Linda Diana intercepted the ball and quickly passed it to Donna Foley, who assisted Susan Paul for a basket. Donna Stone made two consecutive interceptions and drove down for two Bellgirl scores. Diane Amosato then assisted Donna Stone for an additional two points. With only five seconds to go, Diane Amosato intercepted the ball and scored for the last play of the game. The Bellgirls won 56-26. The high scorer was Donna Foley with 14 points, followed by Joyce Buckland and Donna Stone each with 12 points. Sue Winspish led the rebounding by pulling in 10 defensive rebounds.

BELLGIRL SCORE — Donna Stone shoots for the basket during the encounter with Kearny as Debbie Maloney (44) and Diane Amosato (12) cover for the rebound. Donna was third highest scorer for the Bellgirls, who soundly beat their Kearny foes, 56-26.

the club in the second half. However, between all the hectic situations there was some basketball played and for the third quarter most of the playing was being done by Irvington's George Mueller and Belleville's Abdel Anderson. Mueller scored 13 of Irvington's 17 third quarter points mostly on lay-ups and short shots in close. Doctor had the other four Irvington points in the quarter. Abdel on the other side of the court had 11 of the 15 third quarter Bellboy points as he scored on hooks, lay-ups, and a jumper. Corino and Mark Canyon each had a bucket to round out the Belleville scoring. After three quarters the score read Irvington 53, Belleville 36.

In the fourth quarter there was much substitution by both coaches as the teams continued to battle to the wire even though the issue was no longer in doubt. Nine different players combined to score 23 points for Irvington in the last quarter, with reserve Jeff England leading the way with five tallies. Seven Bellboys combined for 17 points in the last stanza, with Turturiello's five points leading the way.

Stargazers Aim To Buy Big Telescope

A $50,000 fund-raising campaign, has been launched by Amateur Astronomers, Inc. for the construction of a 24-inch reflector telescope for the William Miller Sperry Observatory at Union College, it was announced today by John Bauman of Westfield, campaign chairman.

AAI, which jointly operates the Sperry Observatory with Union College, has already completed the design work on the new instrument and is testing mirror grinding techniques on a practice blank. The organization is seeking outside funds to contract that part of the work that is too large for members' home shops and to expedite constructors. With the additional funds, AAI members anticipate that the telescope can be completed within three years. It would otherwise take up to 10 years to complete.

More record players are bought around Christmas than any other time of the year. Following we would like to give some pointers for the best use and maintenance.

A worn stylus and dust are the greatest enemies of records. There is a direct connection between these two. A stylus will last longer on a clean record than on a dust covered one. The dry friction between the record groove and the stylus will wear even the hardest substance. Except at the very cheap toy phonographs, which may use a suppling, all stylus today are diamond tipped. If there is dust in the grooves, it acts like an abrasive. If there is a little brush attached to the pick up head, it has to be cleaned frequently. This is basic. Dust can be removed with a lint free rag. You can buy specially treated cloth to record stores which pick up impurities from the record. The finger tips should never touch the grooves, because they leave a slightly oily film to which the dust will stick. We found that the best way to clean a record which can not be cleaned with a dry cloth, is to moisten a lint free rag and wipe the record with it. Some loose particles which settle in the grooves came out during the first playing after the cleaning.

Manufacturers of stylus claim that they perform satisfactory for about one thousand hours. As mentioned above, this depends greatly on the condition of the records. To be on the safe side, it is good to have your stylus checked much more often than 1000 hours. Every record or electronics store has a microscope, where you can take your stylus and have it checked. It should be smooth and conical. If the stylus has a flat spot, it surely is going to cause wear. A little care goes a long way to preserve your records.

Standardized Exams Still Pose Problems

Weaknesses have plagued standardized exams since the mass-testing movement began 49 years ago. "They're still around," reports one of the nation's leading experts, "only they have taken on some new rather scary dimensions."

"More people than ever are unaware of the problems with which conscientious testers themselves have been perennially concerned," says Dr. Henry S. Dyer, retired vice president of the Educational Testing Service of Princeton.

Dr. Dyer explains his reservations in an article in the current issue of the NJEA REVIEW, the monthly journal of the New Jersey Education Assn.

drainage of their pools and water may no longer be discharged onto the streets. "There are chlorine marks on a lot of the streets around town in summer," said Mrs. Senatore, "and I've often seen children wading in water drained from pools. I think the new ordinance will make pools in Belleville a lot safer and healthier."

Violation of the proposed ordinance would carry a fine of $200 or a 90-day jail term.

Fees for the pool permit applications will be $1 for the first $1,000 of construction and $3 for each successive $1,000 construction, but permits under the proposed fence ordinance will be free. That law would set a four-foot limit on front yard fences and a six-foot limit in rear yards in residential areas. Dangerous materials like barbed wire or spikes will be banned from the construction of new fences. In non-residential zones, the height limits for fences in front and rear areas will be six and eight feet respectively. Corner lot fences will be held at three feet to assure clear vision for motorists.

Another section of the ordinance provides that "a fence or other structure deemed by the Building Inspector to be designed primarily to cause annoyance or damages to an adjoining property owner shall in no case be permitted."

This section is aimed at preventing the further erection of "spite fences" in town.

Their heads are bursting with questions.

The Columbia is bursting with answers.

Start their college education now with the encyclopedia created right on a college campus.

It's the most important gift you can give your children today. In this complicated, competitive world, education is the only sure road to success. Yet statistics show that only 7 of every 10 grade schoolers will finish high school. Only 2 finish college.

Will your child be one of those?

Yes, if you take positive steps. If you instill the right habits, provide the right tools. A first-rate encyclopedia right in the home is one of the best possible tools. And the Illustrated Columbia Encyclopedia in 22 volumes is a first-rate encyclopedia.

The text of the Columbia was created right on a college campus. It was compiled by over 200 experts and published by special arrangements with the Columbia University Press. It has been acclaimed by educational leaders everywhere.

More than 75,000 accurate, lively articles cover everything your children will need to know for school assignments, from the elementary level right through high school and college. And the articles are highlighted by over 7,000 illustrations, more than 1,000 in full color.

But the Columbia offers more than just answers to academic needs. It deals with the pressing problems of the day—from narcotics addiction to the place of marriage in society.

Answers tough questions with real facts. An informed child is more likely to ward off trouble than an uninformed child. An educated person is more likely to succeed. Give your children their chance at success. Start building your set of the Illustrated Columbia Encyclopedia today.

Will Belleville Bus?

Reverend Ruter was referring to an idea that has been floating around Town Hall for a while and has gained a lot of momentum, particularly in Mrs. Senator's office, since the Acme closings December 30.

"Many of these senior citizens don't have children to help them out," Mrs. Senator told the Times last week. "I've already received some telephone calls from some senior citizens trying to find out what they can do now. I think the town should come in with a mini-bus to provide a ride for these older people."

"It's a very serious matter," she added. "A friend told me some of the older ladies even had tears in their eyes when they found out the Acme was closing."

Mayor McGreevey, equally disturbed by the situation of Belleville's elderly citizens, is right now checking into the feasibility of purchasing and operating a bus. "There would be problems connected with a town bus service," he said. "There would have to be insurance taken out and there would have to be a regular schedule to be met."

To Mrs. Senator, though, it's a lot simpler than that. "My department already uses an eight-passenger station wagon to take senior citizens to Thursday meetings at the center at Branch Brook Park. I don't see why the insurance for a bus would be any higher. We could use a man from my department to drive the bus and make trips twice a day, even once a day would be beautiful."

Miss Mingle, when asked for her opinion of a town bus service, indicated she thinks it's a good idea. "Until it becomes a reality, though, she'd like to get the car pool in full swing," she can be contacted through the Reformed Church.

Are you physically fit? entails the following: all parts of your body must be in good functioning order. When you work hard your body should respond without becoming overly fatigued. You have a sport which you enjoy and at which you are reasonably proficient. If these three things are true of you, chances are that you are fit. If you do not qualify all the way, then perhaps now is the best time to do something about it.

Friendly attention, full stock of drugs and efficient service are three of the reasons people bring their prescriptions to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1056, 759-1968. MANTAS

LUXUS•RALLYE•OPELGT WAGON•1900 SEDANS

Til now, your choice in European cars has been pretty much like this: You could pay a big price and get plenty of styling, comfort and performance... or you could pay a low price and perhaps not get the things you really want in an automobile.

We've changed all that. With a line of Opel Mantas that are beautiful to look at, very comfortable to sit in, extremely good on the road and easy to afford.
