Golden Gloves Slap Leather Friday Night

Golden Glove boxing teams from New York and New Jersey will meet tomorrow night at Municipal Stadium in a charity match sponsored by a group of retired boxers based here in Belleville.

The Veteran Boxers Social Club of New Jersey, Inc., is sponsoring the 12 three-round fights, and will donate the proceeds to three organizations — the Craig Fabian Fund, the Cerebral Palsy Center and the Little Sisters of the Poor.

The bouts begin at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow night at the stadium, where a special ring has been built onto the track. Tickets will be sold at the gate.

In the audience tomorrow night will be many of the great names of New Jersey boxing history, including Tony Galento of Orange, Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, Tippy Larkin of Garfield and former welterweight champion Freddy "Red" Cochran.

Emcee for the evening will be Charlie Forrester. A rain date has been set for Saturday night.

The Craig Fabian fund is a local organization dedicated to aiding Belleville's handicapped, while the Cerebral Palsy Center is based here in town. The Little Sisters of the Poor are currently undertaking a building drive to replace two of their homes which must be demolished.

The Veteran Boxers Social Club is a group of about 50 retired fighters who meet regularly at the home of President Ernie Ratner, one of twelve members who live in Belleville.

Town Employees Greet Computer

A new worker came on the job last week in the Revenue and Finance Department and will soon be assigned to handling the payroll for town employees.

The new addition is a mini-computer, one of two purchased from National Cash Register at a cost of $65,000. A close watch will be kept over the computer while the payroll is converted to automation, and in fact, the payroll will be made out in the old system besides the new until October, just to make

Cite Five Policemen For Manhunt-Arrest

Five Belleville policemen were awarded citations last week for their roles in the search and apprehension of two suspects in a fatal Newark shooting.

Acting Deputy Chief George Lister and Officers Joseph Simonetti, Robert Senior, Joseph Mulvihill and Richard Fatone won commendations Thursday from Laterza. All took part in the manhunt for Eugene and Floyd Boone of Elizabeth who allegedly fled Newark after gunning down Robert Sages of Newark outside a tavern there.

After a high-speed chase down Washington Avenue, an exchange of gunfire with Belleville and Newark Police and a search through the area of town near the Essex Street Station, the two brothers were arrested and booked. They have since been indicted by a grand jury for murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

Simonetti was in the police car which first took up the chase at 1:27 a.m. May 15. Along with Officer Salvatore LoCoco, he brought the suspects to a halt at Washington Avenue and

Official Approval Won For Flood Insurance

Bellevilleites can purchase flood insurance at subsidized rates under the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development national Flood Insurance plan beginning today, Town Treasurer Francis McCoey announced this week.

McCoey added the policies, which can be bought through any regular home insurance agent, will be effective immediately as issued during the first 30 days the insurance is available (until July 28). Any policy bought afterwards will take effect after a 15-day waiting period.

Any property owners in Belleville can purchase the insurance at subsidized rates which range from 25 cents to 60 cents per $100 of insurance, depending on the value of the structure.

Contents of buildings may be insured up to $5,000 with rates ranging from 35 cents to 45 cents per $100 of insurance — non-residential contents and 75 cents per $100 of insurance on

Don't Drop Your Glass At People's

It takes a while for some news to get around, but after two months, the message should get through somehow.

That's how long local residents have been contributing to leave glass for recycling at the parking lot of People's Bank, although the bank discontinued the service two months ago.

Commissioner Mary Senatore said this week the drop-off point for glass is the Public Works garage on William Street.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

A retrospective evaluation of the Primary election results produced few surprises to this column. Watergate, internal corruption charges among those in his official family and a growing lack of confidence among seasoned G.O.P. political leaders who feared Cahill could not beat Brendan T. Byrne in the Fall election contributed to Sandman's record win over the present governor.

Locally, Mary Senatore, despite her loss which became almost inevitable, running in a district embracing two Counties with rival powerful machines pitted against each other, did exceptionally well.

A study of the local vote tabulation demonstrates clearly Comm. Senatore's political prowess. She was the highest aggregate vote-getter with 3,233. This was more than any other candidate on the ballot. Mayor McGreevy tallied 749 votes locally in his unopposed running. Despite this strong showing in the Essex portion of the new district she could not overcome the potent Hudson County powerhouse which backed her opponent.

I would hope that Mrs. Senatore would make a "test

Mrs. McCool Rebuffs Rogers' 'Retraction'

Brings Charges Into Public Eye

by Ken Moore

The charges of Steve Rogers, 21-year-old defeated candidate for the Board of Education that members of the Board allegedly engaged in "unethical and possibly illegal practices" during last February's campaign were resurrected Tuesday night at a Board meeting.

The formally dead issue found new life when Mrs. Norma McCool delivered a loud and impassioned blast at Rogers when he made a halfhearted "formal retraction" of the charges.

Though Rogers had never publicly named the two Board members, he claimed tried to arrange "deals" with him a week before the February 13 election, it became clear during a heated exchange between the 21-year-old Air Force sergeant and the 12-year Board veteran that part of his allegations had been directed at Mrs. McCool.

Rogers originally came out with the charges in late April, when he stated he intended to take his information to the Essex County Prosecutor. He never did, and little was heard from him on the issue since then.

Tuesday night, however, he said at a Board meeting he had learned the families of certain "innocent Board members" had encountered suspicion and harassment "from the general public" and he therefore presented a formal retraction. He went on to qualify his statement, though, when he said, "I regret that in order to clear the innocent, I must also clear the guilty."

Rogers was moderately chastized by Board President Lawrence Schwartz and member Matthew Picaw for his "blanket allegations," but it was Mrs. McCool Rogers' belated retraction most unacceptable.

She said that since she no longer has any children, she felt Rogers' reference to "the children of innocent Board members" was meant to single her out as being "guilty."

She indicated she has been fully aware that Rogers has privately implicated her in an attempt to "deal" with him for his vote. If elected to the Board, to hire her as accountant to the Board upon her resignation as an elected official?

She publicly denied the charges and went on to make some of her own. Speaking directly to Rogers, she said, "I've never done anything improper in the 12 years I've been on this Board. You have offered to me many improper things, though, but I patted you on the head and said, 'No, we don't do those kinds of things.'"

She twice threatened to sue Rogers. If he pursued his allegations.

References were made both by Mrs. McCool and Rogers to a meeting between them at her house in Maplewood where, Rogers contended, she offered to support his candidacy if he would vote for her to fill the accountant's job.

Mrs. McCool said she had openly sought the job, but said she asked the advice of other Board members on whether she should apply. When one member said he "thought it would put the Board in a bad light," she said she decided not to apply.

Mrs. McCool took up her attack on two separate occasions during the meeting, each time stressing her innocence throughout her 12 years on the Board of Education and each time threatening Rogers with a lawsuit.

Also at the meeting, after hearing the advice of several administrators, the Board of Education decided to reverse a two-year-old policy decision to establish the cutoff birthday for admission to kindergarten at age five as of October 1. The new policy was to have been implemented this year, but protests by parents of children whose fifth birthday falls past October 1 led the Board to re-examine the policy.

The Board voted unanimously to retain December 31 as a cutoff date, with the provision that testing will begin on the youngest kindergarten pupils to determine any signs of immaturity.

The testing will be conducted in order to finally determine what the proper cutoff date will be in the identified as flood-prone according to a map to be released by the Government. Any structure built in a flood-prone area after the map is published can be insured only at non-subsidized rates, which will run about 10 times higher than the subsidized rates.

Young Thespians Face Judges With 3 One-Act Plays Tonight

Opening night has come and gone for the local youths involved in the YMWCA summer theatre workshop, but tonight promises to hold some suspense and possibly some surprises as three one-act plays will be staged and judged by Belleville adults.

The competition, open to the public, features first-time actors and student directors who have been spending recent weeks crafting stage productions from "Run, Flies, Run," "Goodnight, Caroline," and "The Mice Have Been Drinking Again." The curtain goes up at 7:30 p.m. at Montgomery Presbyterian Church, 638 Mill Street.

Performances have been running since last Thursday in the lot for the new YMWCA program which runs for the first time this summer and features adults giving youngsters a basic introduction to all aspects of theatre.

Robert Lefebline, a junior high school English teacher already known for his work with "The Group," a local theatre organization, heads the program and is assisted by Mrs. Carolina Furno and Miss Cynthia DiBonis.

"With the exception of one fellow — Stephen Donald, who worked on a 'Group' production — this is the first time on stage for all of these youngsters," said Lefebline.

"They've really been tremendous, in spite of the fact that there hasn't been any really big turns. They give their all every second, which is great since it is the first time for most of them."

Lefebline said the summer workshop is an original project for either the Suburban unit of the YMWCA or the Newark branch. He also remarked the workshop is "experimental" in that the emphasis is placed on acting and directing techniques, without the use of elaborate sets. "We're not trying to

Busing Elders One Step Closer

Commissioner Vincent J. Strumolo's plan to charter shopping tours for Belleville senior citizens came one step closer to being a reality Tuesday night when the Town Commission approved the first reading of an ordinance authorizing the acquisition of the bus needed to do the job.

Though Mayor Joseph McGreevy and Commissioner Vincent Laterza were on vacation and therefore not at the meeting, the attending commissioners voted unanimous approval of the ordinance which would appropriate $10,000 toward the purchase of the bus which will transport local seniors, at no expense, through the Town's main shopping area on Washington Avenue, to the Patnam Supermarket, and to Solco Hospital.

Though the ordinance calls for the use of money now in the Town's Capital Improvement Fund, a section of the ordinance provides for the use of State or Federal Aid monies instead, should they become available.

According to Commissioner Strumolo, the bus (which has already been picked out) would make two runs a day, and would stop to pick up and discharge passengers at main intersections.

Budget Cut Blamed

Board of Education Cancels Planned Work-Study Program

by Beth Fitzgerald

A State-reimbursed work-study program, which was supposed to have been implemented at Belleville High School next year, has been cancelled due to a lack of the initial funds required to set it up, according to Board of Education President Lawrence Schwartz.

Three new teachers were to have been hired to supervise the program which would have given vocational students on the job training in an office or industry. The money must initially be put up by the school board, and at the end of the year, half the cost of the teachers salaries, supplies and equipment is reimbursed by the State.

George Nucera, a BHS guidance counselor and a member of the Belleville Educational Advisory Council, was appointed by the board last year to research State-funded programs. He and the BEAC recommended that the board implement three: Distributive Education, which gives students experience in selling and marketing; Cooperative Office Education, which places business education students in offices; and Cooperative Industrial Education, for vocational graphics arts, wood and auto shop, and home economics students.

According to Schwartz, it would have cost $35,000 to start the program next year. In a meeting between the board and the BEAC on June 11, Schwartz blamed the program's death on the Board of Commissioners' cut of $450,880 from the proposed 1973-74 school budget. The Commissioners took this action on March 20, after the $7.4 million budget had been rejected by Belleville voters.

The Board of Education has appealed the budget out to the State Commissioner of Education, and Schwartz said that if enough money is returned, the program may begin later next year. "I can't give an absolute commitment before we see how much money, if any, is returned," he said. Casar Romano, the Board's vice-president, said there would probably be a hearing on the budget cut in August and that the final results would be known by October or November.

That might be too late, according to BHS Principal Raymond O. Smith. "For the work-study program to function properly, the teacher has to begin in August to place the students in jobs," he said. The BEAC has been working for the program for the past three years, according to secretary Mrs. Lucille Casiewicz. She said she was not optimistic about the chances of getting the program for next year.

During the meeting with the board, Mrs. Casiewicz remarked that it was foolish for the group to meet and plan for a work study program when they were not sure that they were on a priority list. Schwartz replied, "It is foolish when a town defeats the school budget." He added that the program would be given "quite high priority" by the board.

Work-study has also been included in last year's school budget, according to Schwartz, but was removed when that budget was rejected by the town's voters.

Belleville High would not have to invest in much new equipment to start the program, according to Nucera. "A work study program makes it possible for us to send students to work in industries that have equipment we could never afford to buy for the school," he said. "The whole idea is to make the students more employable, so that they don't have to pick-up experience and training after they leave here."

Nutley High School has had these programs for five years and now has about 175 students participating, according to principal David Broffman. Half of the cost of the salaries of the three supervising teachers is reimbursed each year by the State.

Broffman estimated that between 75 and 80 percent of the students would remain with their employers after graduation.

Kearny High School is now in its ninth year with the Cooperative Industrial Education program, and will place about 65 students next year, according to program coordinator Anthony J. Malakas.

Belleville does have what Nucera called a "loose work-study program, in which some of our office education students participate. But the students receive no credit for it, because it is not certified by the State."

Two such students work afternoons at Hoffmann-LaRoche, Inc. in Nutley. Mrs. Ann Paluba works full time as liaison between Hoffmann-LaRoche and a number of local high schools, including Nutley High.

Gettysburg, 1973

The most fateful battle in the history of the nation might have been Gettysburg. Here, on July 1st, 1863, began a three-day struggle that ended General Robert E. Lee's best chance to force Washington to agree to independence for the South.

General Lee, probably the greatest field strategist to emerge from the war, and greatly admired on both sides (he had freed his slaves before the war and like many distinguished southerners fought the war because he believed in a state's right to secede from the Union), had invaded Union territory once before, in 1862.

But in a bloody at Antietam, Maryland, the result of the capture of General Lee's campaign plans by enterprising Union soldiers, Lee had been turned back. Since the U.S. Navy commanded the seas, and its blockade was slowly starving the South, the Confederacy's only chance was to strike hard enough to force Lincoln to agree to independence for the eleven southern states. (Lincoln and others had prevented Maryland from seceding only through the arrest of members of the state legislature.)

Gathering about 73,000 men (President Jefferson Davis refused him two more divisions then stationed in the Carolinas which Lee said would mean success), Lee started north in July of 1863 from the mountains of Virginia, moving west and north of the national capital, which was thrown into near panic. He had just won one of his great victories at Chancellorsville. But there, too, he had lost the brilliant Stonewall Jackson. At first he planned to cross the Susquehanna at Harrisburg, and march on Philadelphia. He changed his plans when he learned the Army of the Potomac was in Maryland.

Lee was disappointed that more families did not rush to join the Stars and Bars as he moved north, and he met a determined force when he collided with General George Meade's army of about 82,000 defenders, unexpectedly, at Gettysburg. Both sides rushed in reinforcements and for three days the contest continued, at great loss of life. On the third day, Lee ordered the famous charge of Pickett's brigade, decimated by fierce artillery fire and accurate, determined rifle fire, though at high tide the Confederate wave lapped the forward federal position before receding.

When Lee began his retreat on the fourth day, the last chance of the Confederacy to win independence on the field had expired. Meade had proved himself the ablest Union commander at Gettysburg, and two more years of fighting changed nothing.

The battlefield, now a national park, a beautiful one awaits all who would know America's history, and how the Blue and the Gray struggled, heroically, at Gettysburg, a hundred and ten years ago.

July, 1973

The linden, in the fervors of July,
Hums with a louder concert.

-Bryant.

July always ushers in the second half of the calendar year. It's the first month of the fiscal year and has more than ordinary importance in the business world.

July is named for Julius Caesar, a change from its former name of Quintilis, changed on the order of Mark Antony, and was the month in which Caesar was born. For Americans July is an especially historic month. Our independence is celebrated on the Fourth, of course, and the Battle of Gettysburg was fought during the first three days of July in 1863.

The Thames

Good news in the war on pollution comes from England. The famed river Thames, so badly polluted ten or fifteen years ago fish didn't live in it, is clean and beautiful again. Over fifty species of fish are now found there even haddock!

The city of London first cleaned up its smoggy air (and then its public buildings) by ending the causes of air pollution. The Thames had for many years been polluted by sewage, detergents and chemical wastes. Authorities enacted regulations barring such polluting, over a period of years. And the regulations were enforced.

Now one can catch edible fish in the Thames, enjoy its beauty to a far greater degree. The future is open to new forms of wildlife, beauty and usage. The story is one many American communities, located on badly polluted streams and rivers, will find encouragement in.

Seems Only Yesterday

Tony Imperiale's Forces Are Patrolling Belleville

By Peter M. Clark

One Year Ago

Belleville's two highest school officials received a sudden shock during the meeting of the Town School Board, when they were denied their annual raises. The salaries of Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco, and Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Rosamilia were frozen at their present rate, pending action by the School Board on July 6.

In what was considered to be a surprise move by many political figures in Belleville, Commissioner Mary Senatore threw the monkey wrench into two ordinances which had been sponsored by Commissioner Robert Laterza. The bills which were to have been considered dealt with residency requirements for Belleville Town employees, and drain on the capital improvement fund, which amounted to more than $18,400. On the first bill, Commissioner Senatore had the ordinance tabled for further consideration, while the second failed to receive the necessary four votes. Commissioner Laterza stated that he planned to re-introduce the two bills at the next meeting.

Department of Public Works employees and members of the Belleville Fire Department assisted Nutley firefighters in locating a gasoline leak mixing with sewer water, near the Belleville-Nutley line. Belleville firemen hoped to find the leak with equipment used for detecting explosive materials in sewers. A possible cause of the leak was heavy rains the week before, which had raised the Belleville water line a great deal. A number of Nutley homes had to be evacuated after a small explosion rocked the neighborhood.

Five Years Ago

Anthony Imperiale hoped to gain support for his North Ward Citizens Council, which had been described by many as a "vigilante and extremist organization." The group had been patrolling the Belleville-Nutley area with fifteen unmarked radio cars, than the entire combined rolling force of both the towns at any given time. Imperiale had been booted out of a Nutley bar, after the bar owner had been warned by Nutley's Mayor Harry Chenoweth that he was in danger of losing his liquor license if he continued to hold the meeting in his establishment. The leader of the Nutley-Belleville wing of the organization, Thomas Benecchi, had chastized Nutley's mayor for spending $40,000 in riot control equipment which had deemed ineffective and insufficient. He stated that the Town should buy police dogs, which he stated were proven to be the best method of controlling riots. Representative Peter Rodino, of the Nutley-Belleville area had deemed the group and its actions as "extremist."

Father Francis Blake, of Holy Family Church in Nutley, was named the new pastor of that church, and was expected to be installed later that week. Father Blake had become pastor after the retirement of the old pastor, Father Anthony Dilucca, four months before. Elsewhere on the clerical scene, Father Hennessey, of St. Mary's Church in Nutley, was transferred to Our Lady of the Visitation Church in Paramus.

Two of Belleville's loveliest took first and second in the beauty contest sponsored Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Corporation. Sandra Ferguson, 19 years old of Arthur Street in Belleville, was named Miss Mutual Benefit Life of 1963, and Queen of the beauty contest, which had highlighted the events of the Newark based insurance company's annual outing.

The head of the Belleville based construction company, the Moro Construction Company, Edward Moro of Brighton Avenue in Belleville, died in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, at the age of 74. He was succeeded by his son Anthony, who described his life as "full and active."

Norman Lauterette, of Elena Place, Belleville, was recuperating from major surgery. Norman was Chairman of the Belleville Alcoholic Beverages Commission, and an executive in the National Yeast Corporation. He had been operated on at the N.Y.U. hospital.

Fifteen Years Ago

William R. Farina, 22, formerly of Summer Avenue in Newark was being held by the Essex County's prosecutors office. Farina was a suspect in the beating of Mrs. Mary Crowley, a 52 year old Belleville resident. Farina had been found by police department hiding in Greenwich Village, and was immediately arrested because of an APB issued by the Belleville Police Department. The Newark man was accused of beating Mrs. Crowley unconscious, on the corner of Main and Williams Streets. Mrs. Crowley hovered near death for a week because of the beating. Farina was held without bail, on the charge of atrocious assault and battery. At time of his arrest, he was under two years probation for breaking and entering. Farina had been taken into custody after detective had checked an anonymous phone tip as to his whereabouts, and he had waived extradition. The police had deemed the beating "senseless, cruel, and totally devoid of humanity."

A honey of a story:
Some local boys went into the yard of Ed Littig's wood working shop, and stole a beehive. Mr. Littig, a manufacturer of cabinets, and secretary of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, reported the incident of the police. But before the police could see the hive it over to his shop, Littig discovered that the queen bee had flown up a tree to escape the assault by the boys, and that she had taken most of her followers with her. With the help of a borrowed hive, Littig managed to coax the haughty lady back down, and so regained the most valuable member of the hive. The hive itself was found two blocks away, with all of its cells rags smashed and broken. When Littig got away from his business and his hobby of building a boat, he planned to construct yet another new castle for his favorite honey.

The American divorce rate took a deep dive in 1947, the first major decrease since 1932. The explanation that follows was released by the Belleville Family Service Council. "A passing of the peak of marital breakdowns in the hasty wartime marriages and a general favorable readjustment to peace time living have been held in more than 89 cities, and the 45,000 divorces represented a 26.6 per cent drop from the previous year when, when 61,000 couples decided to unite the knot."

Mrs. James K. Morse took the lead role in a religious drama at Fawcett Church, where her husband is the pastor. The play entitled "He Came Preaching," began at 8 o'clock. The public was invited to attend, and musical entertainment would be provided by Dr. Morse and James B. Morse.

Speak Up!

Castano Man Returns Salvo To Senatore

To The Editor:

In the June 21 issue of the Belleville Times in the "Speak up" column, Mary V. Senatore, the Belleville Democratic Chairwoman, lashed out at the Hudson County "bossism" and a Belleville "minority group" blaming them for her recent defeat. Insinuating that the Hudson County machine used "Nazi tactics" to achieve a victory is ludicrous, to say the least. Mary Senatore evidently has had a lapse of memory regarding her relationship with the Essex machine, and the "bossism" she has exerted in the Town of Belleville as its Democratic Chairwoman. It should also be noted that the Hudson "machine" supporting the Byrne Castano ticket that Senatore refers to is headed by a group of reformers that want to see change brought within the system in order that respect by the people towards our political processes may be restored. The Kennedy machine of yesterday is no longer as prevalent and the reformers in Hudson are doing a damn good job to make sure their "power" remains corrupted. (i.e. the recent mayoralty election in Jersey City.)

If Mary Senatore felt Mr. Castano's candidacy is illegal why did she not take immediate action in presenting the issue before the courts before the election instead of waiting and using it as her only campaign issue? Fortunately many did not listen to her "issue" and realized his dual candidacy may serve as an advantage in relating to the problems being faced by the community. As stated, many of our problems are different than those of Hudson County. Since Mr. Castano also maintains a suburban residence he will be more fully capable of comprehending the welfare burdened suburban Essex as a city of Newark is carrying. Had he not been paying taxes in Hudson, he may not be as understanding towards the problem since welfare is not as severe in Hudson County. The same is true of the present method of raising funds to support the school system. Since most of the financing comes from the property tax in Belleville and does not have its industrial ratables that exist in Hudson, he will understand the need for reform in order to relieve the already overburdened property owner.

Hudson County has welcomed us into their community. They did not go around during the election saying should they win they "will send us down the river" as was stated publicly by the Senator voters during the campaign. It is agreed that many of our problems are not comparable with these of Hudson; however, at this point it is almost an impossible task to change legislative districts. Change was possible when the districts were being drawn up last year. Obviously, the political leaders in the community, specifically Mary Senatore, voiced no objection, reacting favorably to the division, saying "it will be a clear advantage if we can elect a senator from our district." Mary Senatore has abruptly changed her mind. Is it because the phrase "senator from our own district" should have read "Senator from our own district", and she own self interests prevailed over that of the entire community she represents as its Democratic Chairwoman? Thank You.

Sincerely yours,
Rocco Ferraro

She Appreciated Columnist's Help

Dear Pat Diana:

Just a few words of appreciation for all the assistance you have given over the years for the publicity to the school organizations. I fully realize the amount of criticism you receive when certain activities are not covered and I am aware of the effort involved in obtaining the news.

I am therefore writing this letter to thank you personally and to hope all organizations in town will see that their publicity members will find the time to become acquainted with you and enable you to give them better coverage and meet a very warm-hearted person that is truly interested in not only the town of Belleville and its image, but the safety and happiness of children. It has indeed been a pleasure to work with you.

Sincerely yours,
Lorry Tindall

AT&T Leads

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has shown the way by announcing it will sell its stock to shareholders by mail, without forcing them to pay a fixed fee to a broker.

AT&T will be selling its own stock, not stock traded in a market. The program gets underway July 2nd, stockholders of that time being allowed to purchase as much as $3000 of AT&T stock per quarter. In addition to the $12,000 they can buy annually, shareholders may also invest dividends in buying a fee.

The largest corporation in the nation sets an example for other corporations to follow. There is, of course, no valid reason all who wish to invest in a major corporation should be required to pay a brokerage fee.

Your Letters

The Times welcomes comments from Belleville residents on all matters, but readers are reminded to include names and addresses on all letters intended for publication. To reduce the possibility of misquotation, writers are asked to submit typed, double-spaced letters.

State Legislature Failed To Deal With Those Deep-Water Oil Ports

By David F. Moore

NOW THAT The New Jersey Legislature has seen fit to shrink from the responsibility of dealing with deep-water oil ports, lobbied to death as it was by labor and business interests and now that the coastal protection bill leaves Middlesex and Union Counties the role of state septic tank, one might think this state we're in has suffered a telling blow.

There's another arena in which New Jersey folk can try to win some sensible protection for their own and their children's futures. It's the U.S. Congress, which lately has been getting a needed shock treatment to restore its identity as an equal third of Constitutional government.

THE QUESTION of deep water ports is going to receive a full-scale assessment in July before three important Senate committees. One cannot guess what this will mean in terms of eventual legislation, but one can at least hope that such an airing of the complexities of energy, environment and American economic systems will at least bring better perspectives to the whole controversial mess.

The hearings will be conducted by the combined Senate Interior and Insular Affairs, Commerce and Public Works Committee. They will be in Washington on July 23, 24 and 25, to, according to an Interior and Insular Affairs Committee announcement, "receive testimony concerning the authorization, construction, operation and regulation of petroleum tanker terminal facilities."

They will elicit testimony from government, industry, labor and, let's hope, environmentalists. The announcement is heartening because it says that federal legislation to control deep water port development will have to consider, not only petroleum supplies, but secondary industrial growth and land use, marine transportation systems and environmental quality control as well.

MANY PROBABLY think we environmentalists are mainly nervous about the threat to the marine environment, and beaches and lifeguarding coastal marshes. I suppose that's the first and most dramatic thing to consider. It's hard not to worry about the impacts of spilled oil from a tanker as big as the Empire State Building.

But like everything else, this problem is more complicated than all that. That's why I hope the combined committee gives a top priority to that matter of "secondary industrial growth and land use" they mentioned. In New Jersey terms that means taking the nation's most densely populated state and giving it a sudden new city or two complete with environmentally hazardous industry, and the usual assorted shopping centers, garages, sewage and air pollution problems, demands for scarce potable water and similar necessities and unwanted byproducts.

NEW JERSEY FACES enormous growth without getting a dose of new city and industry created by an off shore (or on-shore, for that matter) oil terminal. Despite the unwarranted fears of labor and big business, together at last against their common out-misjudged opponents, the environmentalists, a little clear thinking will show that New Jersey doesn't have to worry about future jobs. It just needs to worry about keeping a half-decent place in which to have those jobs, and to live and raise families.

Throwing oil on this state's troubled environmental waters won't calm anything.

New Scholarships Given to Three

by Beth Fitzgerald
Three new scholarships were awarded last week to two 1973 Belleville High graduates: Susan Winship, valedictorian, and John Uhrynovich, The De Witt Saving and Loan Association and the Fidelity Union Trust Company each gave $250 to Susan, while the Cerami Construction Company awarded $300 to John.

Susan, who had also received a $250 award from the Junior Woman's Club, will attend Muhlenberg College in Pennsylvania, where she plans to major in chemistry. John will start at Lincoln Technical Institute in October.

Charles Cerami said that the scholarship would be awarded annually in memory of his parents, Charles and Betsy Ann.

Cesar Romano, Board of Education vice president, had earlier in the year contacted the donors and secured the scholarships. He stressed that these awards are given on the basis of scholarship, rather than need.

Few people will argue with you when you're telling them how smart they are.

Airman Mazza Assigned

Airman Robert J. Mazza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mazza of 56 Fairway Avenue, was graduated at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force weapons mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained to load and inspect the weapons used in Air Force jet aircraft, is being assigned to Lukeville RAF Station, England, for duty with a unit of the U.S. Air Force in Europe. America's overseas air arm assigned to NATO.

Airman Mazza is a 1972 graduate of Belleville Senior High School.

Belleville High Saw Madrigal Renaissance

by Beth Fitzgerald

In sixteenth century Italy it was the custom that after dinner the host and his guests would sing madrigals, building each song around whatever voices were present. This difficult, intricate music had a renaissance this year at Belleville High, under the direction of Thomas Finetti.

All 18 members of the madrigal group read music; this was one of Finetti's requirements when he auditioned them in September. "Madrigals are difficult," said Finetti, "because each voice part is important. The song is composed of strands of melodies, which go on at the same time. Since they are sung without accompaniment, there is no help from the piano."

Finetti defines a madrigal

The driver of a passenger automobile rarely crowds a big truck off the road.

A hick town is where an individual develops character instead of reputation.

as a "composed song, based on love, mythology, or nature, and which has two or more parts." The form originated in Italy in the early 1500's, and spread to France, Spain, the Netherlands and Germany, flowering in England before it began to die out in the late sixteenth century, according to the director.

Last year the group performed at the high school, and for the Belleville Women's Club and other local groups. Their repertoire included "Since First I Saw Your Face," by Thomas Ford, "April Is In My Mistress' Face," and "Fire, Fire, My Heart," both by Thomas Morley.

Finetti also directed the concert choir, which met at least three times a week at 7 a.m., and three classes of mixed chorus, which was scheduled during the school day. The madrigal group usually rehearsed at night. Donna Tsoulinikas and Susan Griwert, two of his students, would often play piano during concert choir rehearsals, leaving Finetti free to direct. The students found the madrigal group, the most difficult of the three. James Dahlquist, '73 graduate, noted that "The madrigal group performs music on a higher level, in terms of the technical work we have to do."

When rehearsals resume next September, Finetti expects to have a force of 20, which will perform in musical dress.

Finetti began teaching at Belleville Junior High five years ago, and now divides his time between the Junior and senior high. He has a bachelor's degree from Jersey City State College, and earned his master's at New York University.

Students describe Finetti as a demanding conductor. Said Karen Mostello, a class of '73 graduate: "You know you have to work hard, and it's satisfying. He gets excited if we are performing well, and it makes us feel good."

Donna Monteleone, who also graduated this year, said: "He expects you to be at rehearsals, he expects you to know the music, and he also expects you to who doesn't. He wants you to be inspired."

Revenue Department Brings in Computer sure no bugs are lurking about.

The next job for the new worker, according to Town Treasurer Francis McCoy, will be the annual municipal budget, a project which usually keeps the Revenue and Finance Department employees up to their elbows in adding machine tape for three months out of the year.

It won't be done any more quickly because of the new computer this year, because, again, the work will be rerun through the old system for accuracy's sake.

After the computer is fully integrated into Town Hall procedures, a twin model will be brought in as a backup in case of emergencies and to handle tax calculations. The price of both machines, plus a feeder, have been covered in the 1972 budget.

The decision to automate the Revenue and Finance Department was made nearly two years ago, when officials realized the present machines, built in 1957, weren't going to keep on humming forever.

"They were getting old," said McCoy, "and we were faced with either replacing them with identical machines or modernizing by buying the computers."

McCoy himself has already taken two courses in computer management (all expenses paid by IBM) and five ladies who work in the department will attend classes in computer processing. NCR will pick up the tab.

sets, is really tough, especially for beginners." Lefebvre said the idea to have the three plays judged by local adults is also a new concept, and he thinks the competitive spirit has given a boost to the quality of the productions. "The kids have been working as a unit, but there's bound to be one actor or actress who will stand out, and because of the cameraderie that's developed, there's sure to be one play that will also stand out."

There are 28 youths involved in the productions, working as actors, directors and technicians. "Each one has a job," said Lefebvre, "and they're learning makeup techniques, lighting and sound systems. They're getting an overall view of theatre, and this is more important than creating an actor — or a ham."

Nancy Long is the student director for "The Mice Have Been Drinking Again," which stars Stephen Donald, Pamela DelPeshio, Jeri Dooley and Joe Satala.

"Run, Thief, Run" is directed by Michael Falzanno, and stars Shawn McCabe, Richard Cavanaugh, Mari Ruth Cavanaugh, Patti Klinger and Debbi Long with June Wagner as stage manager.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(June 30 through July 6)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Honesty is key for success in week ahead. Ari, through introspection, you arrive at self-understanding. Don't be surprised if you meet the enemy and he/she is YOU. If you feel that you have been demoted to court jester in your private castle, this is the week to take off that silly hat you're wearing. You can and must control your own destiny.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Week ahead apt to resemble a tennis match. Taurus, you begin with plenty of bounce. Your strong serve is returned by opponent. Important spectator pulls for you. Should you lose, don't be depressed. After leaving court you hear encouraging news. So, press on, pet.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your ruling planet is Mercury, Gem, and you are possessed by a fever to know, to experience and to create. In week ahead, this fever soars. You can accomplish much. Do so. Don't permit pill-pusher to administer intellectual/emotional aspirin.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Much action during first part of week. Moonbaby. Demands and challenges made. Old fashioned fortitude will be required just to muddle through. Continue to keep secret plans secret. For a week starting with a bang, it tends to ends with a whimper. Sorry.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Energy may be low first part of week, but by third day you revive and, in typical Leo fashion, are ready to grapple with the entire universe. Rapprochement between you and one who has been difficult can be restored. You make first move.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Don't become tangled in too much action. Virg, slow down and give thought as to where you are going and why. Ponder this question: What makes Virgo run? Consider, too, the possibility that in running after the "good life," you may be running away from peace.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You've plowed many a straight and narrow furrow in recent weeks, Lib. Now it is time for you to slacken your pace. Let the fields of your mind lie fallow for at least two days. Follow advice and later in week the seeds you sow will produce bumper crop. Last day is fruitful.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): If travel is planned, Scorp, exercise caution. If you drive, drive defensively. Observe routine safety measures. Buckle up. That you can buckle down to a good time. If you don't intend to follow Olga's advice, then STAY HOME.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): First, read message to Scorpio. Bear in mind; Sai, that the nicest gift you can bring back from your roaming is yourself unscathed. Concerning relationship with member of another generation, time is ideal to mend broken fence. While you're at it, it wouldn't hurt to give that tacky, old fence a fresh coat of paint. Message clears.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Questions of personal nature apt to be asked. One who probes too deeply should be put off. If you permit yourself to become gabby, Cap, you may end week drowning in a sea of your own words. Always tell the truth, sweet thing, but don't always be TELLING it.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): You may have vague feeling that you are trapped in an emotional cul-de-sac. If so, week is ideal to break out of routine. New doors are just waiting to be opened but, my dear Aqual, you have to turn a few knobs. Use that wonderful, imaginative mind that heaven has blessed you with. Do so, and week ends on note of joie-de-vivre.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): You should experience temporary seizure of sanity when pieces of jigsaw puzzle fall together into one big, beautiful picture. You then may have overwhelming urge to kick the going around. So, kick. Just be cautious, Pisces, not to stub a toe. Olga can't bear the thought of you limping through July, you know.

case of her charge that her opponent "is not a true representative of this district." Certainly, if the winner doesn't live in the District he represents he probably would do very little in the way of looking after the best interests of the Essex County side, especially, since he did so poorly there.

The Belleville High baseball team had one of its most successful seasons this Spring finishing up high in the ratings and in Conference play. We hope this new trend will indicate a return to the days of the early Thirties when B.H.S. was a powerhouse in scholastic baseball circles. Remember players Mac Lamb, Eddie O'Neil, John Daly, Charlie Christell, The Bonavita brothers, John Schwab, Warren Knight, Moe Sasso, Ralph Casale, Truk Byrnes, Nick DeJure Fuzzy Rider, Mike Hanly. Boy! Those were the days when the boys would "hang out" at Hank Hafner's ice cream parlor and chit-chat about the games. This was "red-hot" baseball town back in those days.

McCclear-Conroy Nuptials Are Held

Seton Hall University Chapel was the setting May 19 for the marriage of Miss JoAnn Theresa Conroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conroy of Newark to Nicholas W. McClear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard McClear of Newark.

The Rev. Michael J. O'Grady, pastoral chaplain of Bergen County, performed the ceremony at a nuptial mass. A reception followed at The Manor, West Orange.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an A-line, long puff sleeves, high necked gown of satin peau de soie adorned with Venetian lace with a flowing cathedral train of the same fabric and lace as on the gown.

A matching Camelot headpiece held her fingertip mantilla veil bordered in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses, lily of the valley and ivy.

Miss Kathleen Conroy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Cannata of Newark and Mrs. Kevin Moriarty of Cedar Grove.

The attendants were dressed in floor-length gowns of voile navy and white floral print with long sleeves, low cut back and white bow. They wore matching Camelot headpieces and carried baskets of miniature white carnations, blue cornflowers and yellow daisies.

Michael Feniello of Norfolk, Virginia, was best man and Joel DiTrollo and Louis Lanesie ushers.

Mrs. Conroy chose a mint green gown of peau de soie trimmed with beading and pearls. The groom's mother wore a sleeveless lilac chiffon gown with a paisley cape and hood.

Mrs. McClear, a graduate of Seton Hall University

College of Nursing, is an in-service instructor of nursing at St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston.

Mr. McClear was graduated magna cum laude in cursu honorum from Fordham University where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He recently received his J.D. degree from Columbia Law School. Starting in the fall, he will be associated with the Newark Law firm of Hellring, Lindeman and Landau.

Hospital Establishes Dr. Wm. Anderson Fund

The late Dr. William A. Anderson has been a member of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Medical Staff for many years before his death on April 18. During his 35 years of practice he developed a tremendous following of patients and friends. Doctor Anderson believed in young people and encouraged high school students to seek a career in the medical profession; therefore a committee has established the Dr. William Anderson Student Scholarship Fund of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Each year, upon completion of the 3 year certificate course the hospital School of Nursing graduates 30 and 40 nurses, many of whom remain at the hospital as staff nurses.

The purpose of the fund is to assist those who meet the academic qualification and ability to provide superior patient care but need financial aid to pay their tuition.

Anyone wishing to identify themselves with the project may send their tax free contribution to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Attention Mr. H.C. Widman, Fund Development Director, Franklin Ave. Belleville, N.J. 07109.

ACHING FEET — Despite the inclement weather, the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Physical Medicine Staff were determined to add up the mileage for the recent March of Dimes Walkathon. Miss Lynda Frazer of Belleville, Mrs. Edith Munzing of Nutley, Miss Robin Ennis of Nutley and John King of Cranford totaled 72 miles almost matching the age of one of the walkers. Mrs. Munzing, a volunteer, who has contributed 8,750 hours to the Hospital, chalked up 12 miles. The foursome brought $129 into the March of Dimes treasury. Above, they gaze at the whirlpool they could have used to care for their aching feet.

Dogs Ears

How do you treat an injury to your dog's ears VERY CAREFULLY!

Some dogs suffer ear injuries caused by their overanxious owners, who probe or try to clean the ear with a hard or pointed object. Whatever the cause, dogs may suffer from various kinds of ear infections.

If you suspect your dog has ear trouble, the best thing to do is to leave the ear alone and consult your veterinarian.

The more noticeable symptoms of ear ailments are black caking around the canal just inside the ear. Your dog may also paw at his ear, or shake his head a lot, or hold his head at a strange angle.

If the surface of your dog's ear seems to be dry, it is safe to wipe it with a mild ointment. Or, if the surface appears to be moist, as if from a mild discharge, you can dust it with a powder containing boric acid.

You may notice a strong, cheesy odor coming from his ear, or thick waxy material and matted hair on the ear surface. Or, the ear turns red and becomes inflamed.

These more obvious symptoms usually indicate infection. You should avoid using medications or insecticides you have around the house. They may only worsen your dog's condition. Instead, consult your veterinarian.

Sometimes ear ailments are caused by nothing more than an insect bite, a minor ulceration, or a small pimple. But even these minor inflammations can upset your dog. He can become quite annoyed and irritate the ear until both you and he are frantic, and the situation worsens.

Whatever the ailment, when the ears are involved it is better to be too careful than to be nonchalant. Neglecting a relatively simple matter may lead to something more serious.

Hematomas swelling that contains blood sometimes occur in the middle of the skin of the ear flap. They may result from a sharp blow which ruptures the blood vessels in the ear, or by your dog scratching and shaking his ear as a result of ear inflammation or an infection.

The swelling, which may greatly distress the ear, must be treated by your veterinarian.

Long eared and floppy eared dogs are particularly subject to hematomas, for there is little air circulating inside the ear. A scratch or laceration which would heal ordinarily can become worse because the dog's ear flap may prevent air circulation.

Occasionally, dogs suffer from otitis media and inflammation of the middle ear. This condition comes from an infection of the external ear passage or the nasal passage.

The banquet on Saturday evening, a highlight of the Convention, was presided over by Miss Jean Porte, State Junior Chairman.

Awards were presented to Junior Clubs in recognition of outstanding work accomplished in the fields of welfare, education, and civic participation.

Juniors Earn Many Awards At Convention

The Junior Membership Department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs has concluded its 46th Annual Spring Convention, entitled "A Summer Garden" in Atlantic City at Chalfonte Haddon Hall. Mrs. P. Barry Brock of the Junior Woman's Club of Bloomfield served as Convention Chairman.

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville was represented by Mrs. Thomas Spillane, president; Mrs. Robert McGough, American Home and Art chairman; Mrs. Felix Forlana, first vice-president; Miss Jeanne Benedetto, membership chairman; Mrs. Nicholas Landolfi, financial secretary; Miss Regina Ventura; Mrs. Jesse Todd; Mrs. Daniel Riordan; Mrs. John Mc Nally; and Miss Catherine McNally.

Miss Jeanne Porte of Totowa, State Junior chairman, presided at the Business of the Convention on Friday evening. Reports on achievements of clubs throughout the state were read by State Board members. Mrs. Hans L. Kratz, State Finance chairman, announced that the contributions to Federation projects and charitable organizations totaled $283,000. Delegates voted to elect officers, department chairmen and district advisors to serve on the 1973-74 State Board. Spaulding for Children was selected by the delegates as the 1973-74 Junior State Project.

Mrs. Donald T. Bixby, president of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, was the guest speaker at the luncheon on Saturday afternoon. Scrapbook, Pressbook, and individual awards were presented. Mrs. Robert McGough won a First Place Award for "Pressed Nature Crafts" and another First Place for "Boys Wardrobe." Mrs. Robert Gacione won a First Place Award for "Crewel Embroidery."

The banquet on Saturday evening, a highlight of the Convention, was presided over by Miss Jean Porte, State Junior Chairman.

Awards were presented to Junior Clubs in recognition of outstanding work accomplished in the fields of welfare, education, and civic participation.

by way of the Eustachian tube the tube connecting the middle ear with the upper part of the throat. Common symptoms are pain, fever, ear discharge, and possible loss of balance. Immediate treatment by your veterinarian is essential.

Often chronic ear irritations are caused by mites that settle in the ear. Symptoms of this infection are the same as for other ear infections. Again, you may observe a waxy, dark secretion accompanied by a sour cheesy odor.

Even though your veterinarian appears to have flushed out all the mites, a few might go undetected. Prompt attention to mites can give your dog temporary relief from your misery. Regular treatment from your veterinarian can provide him with extended control.

Mrs. Teichholz New President

Mrs. Jack Teichholz of Nutley, was installed June 6, as president of The Bergen County Pharmaceutical Auxiliary for the 1973-1975 term of office. The installation was held at a luncheon at Danny's Steak House in Closter. Mrs. James Croucher of Wyckoff was installed as vice-president together with Mrs. Robert Martini of Hillsdale as secretary, Mrs. Charles Gratz of Tenafly as recording secretary, and Mrs. Samuel Ginsburg of Bergenfield as treasurer.

Mrs. Teichholz appointed Mrs. Raymond Ricciardi of Hillsdale, who is a trustee of Rutgers University, as their liaison representative at the Rutgers' College of Pharmacy, and Mrs. Emil Martini, Sr. of Hackensack, a former president of the N.J. State Pharmaceutical Auxiliary, and noted member of the Women's Division of the N.J. State Safety Council will be the liaison representative at both of these organizations.

Mental Health Effort Is National Concern

Major Advance
Intensified research on drugs and drug abuse is paying off, as is shown by a recent discovery which marks a major advance toward understanding and treating narcotic addiction.

This came when two Johns Hopkins University scientists in Baltimore recently announced that they had identified specific sites in the brain where heroin and other opiates are believed to attach themselves in order to produce exhilarating effects on the body.

The research pharmacologists, whose work is supported by H.E.W.'s National Institute of Mental Health of the Health Services and Mental Health Administration, reported their work in the scientific journal, Science, earlier this year.

In addition to providing the first direct evidence of the sites in the brain where narcotics act to produce a "high" and other effects, the investigations appear to have important practical applications for immediate use. Using a new, simple test-tube technique they devised, the scientists now can easily determine the relative potencies of various opiates and other drugs.

This will permit rapid screening of large number of new and potentially non-addicting pain killing drugs, as well as possible "narcotic antagonists," compounds for the prevention and treatment of addiction but which do not leave the harmful effects of the opiates.

"These findings in laboratory work will help speed progress on many fronts toward better understanding and clinical treatment of addiction," said Dr. William E. Bunney, Jr., Director of the Division of Narcotic Addiction and Drug Abuse at NIMH.

The Division has also funded seven drug research centers, in addition to one at Hopkins, to broaden knowledge of the basic biochemical processes in addiction and drug abuse through cross-fertilization with clinical studies — and thus speed the application of new insights to the prevention and treatment of drug problems.

His Salute Harkens Back to Class of '63

By Donald Messina

Honored guests, parents, and friends. Nineteen sixty-three was only ten years ago, but much has been done to Belleville High School in this short span. It was a year when the high school existed on the corners of Washington Avenue and Holmes Street, now used as a junior high school. BHS was then a four-year program, keeping freshmen through seniors in one building, with a population of 1,000 students. There was, however, a serious problem in our school at the time, since on November 15, 1961, Belleville High School had lost its accreditation because of inadequate facilities, serious overcrowding, and a limited program.

But 1963 marked a new and exciting era in the history of Belleville High. The new principal, Mr. Raymond Smith, had then just rejoined the faculty and administration, and his vice-principal was Mr. Austin MacArthur.

A decade ago showed many excellent department heads, who now have either retired or are in some other facet of the Belleville Education System. The English Department had Mrs. Regina Degnin as its chairman, while Art was headed by Mr. P. Webster Diehl. The Mathematics Department chairman was then Mr. Mario DiMaggio, Language headed by Miss Helen Holberg, and Social Studies by Mr. Henry L. Miller. The Music Department of 1963 had Dr. Samuel Peck as its department chairman, while Mr. Charles Scholze headed the Business Department. The Director of Physical Education was Mr. Herman Wische.

The history of the Class of '63 began in September, 1959. During their four-year "experience," the student was considered the core of the school, in both spirit and determination. The National Honor Society, Student Council, the Magazine Campaign, and a new Booster Club were just some of the extra-curricular activities. In more specialized fields of interest, Belleville High School then had a girls' Drill Team and a Glee Club. The "Spotlight" was the main newspaper, but a Math paper called "Math Lite" was also circulated throughout the year. BHS was one of the few schools which had such a paper.

Nineteen sixty-three marked the year for a new boys service organization called the "Key Club," sponsored by the Belleville Kiwanis. Its sponsor, Mr. Herman Knuppel, is still in charge of the organization, showing us great progress in the past ten years.

It was also a great year in the field of sports. The varsity football team had an eight win and one loss season. They displayed their talents by winning the eight games in a row, five of which were shutouts. It had been their best season in over thirty years!

The varsity crew team was outstanding for that year. They used the same coxswain and oarsmen from 1962 which led Belleville as sixth in the country in the National Schoolboy Rowing Association's Annual Regatta.

Many students of the Class of 1963 also displayed their talents in plays and music. The Senior play was called "Henrietta the eighth," an original situation comedy. On the other hand, the Music Department, lead by Dr. Peck, consisted of many organizations. The most enthusiastic and energetic group of the time was the Bakers Dozen.

Nineteen sixty-three! It does not sound like a long time until one examines such a period. Still in all, students always share the same thoughts, for regardless of the year, the time, or the school, we are one in the same. It was the best of times, it was the worst of times.

GRAND ENTRANCE — Boys and girls of the Class of 1973 file into Municipal Stadium for the start of the high school's 76th annual commencement ceremonies. The threat of rain didn't deter thousands of parents and friends from jamming the stands to observe the proceedings. Three hundred seventy-nine seniors received diplomas.

Stadium Ceremonies Honor Belleville High Class of '73

PRESIDENT of the Board of Education Lawrence Schwartz, extends congratulations to the Class of 1973.

MUSIC was provided by the Belleville High band, who played the standard "Pomp and Chivalry," and the popular song, "Oye Como Va," under the direction of Frank Seelba.

DIGNITARIES who attended commencement included (l-r) Commissioners Mary V. Senatore, Robert Laterza, Michael Marotti, Vincent T. Strumolo and former Board of Education President Rocco Saletta.

"TODAY'S THE DAY" — An overjoyed senior shows his enthusiasm while waiting with friends to receive his diploma.

SUPERINTENDENT of Schools Anthony Greco accepted the class after a presentation by Principal Raymond Smith.

DONATION — Rudolph Petrole, class president, presents to Principal Smith a check from the class to be used to purchase picnic tables so succeeding classes may eat lunch outside in good weather.

He Cites Overcrowding As One Problem in '83

By Mark DiQuattro

Honored guests, Parents and Friends of the Class of '73, you have just heard about our class and class of '63. I would now like to paint for you a possible picture of the Class of '83. This picture may be accurate or inaccurate because I can only guess what the situation will be in ten years. However, one thing is certain - it is we who will paint the real picture.

Perhaps the Class of '83 will attend school in a brand new building, constructed to accommodate the ever-growing student body. If this does not happen, we may see either additions to the present high school or split sessions. The return of freshmen to the high school is another possible event that would remind us of the grade setup of 1963. This could happen as a result of the Junior High School being incapable of holding its student body, which is also growing very quickly. I think that the presence of the freshmen in the high school would increase unity in the academic, athletic, and extra-curricular programs. There would be only one English department, Math department, etc., and the courses would probably be closely related. The freshman athletic teams would have closer contact with the Junior Varsity and Varsity teams. This would minimize the disadvantage of freshman athletes having to adjust to a sometimes different system of play. All these possibilities leave us with an uncertain future. We may see a high school without freshmen in which half the students come in very early and leave around noon, and the other half enters at noon and is dismissed at perhaps five o'clock.

In the midst of this uncertainty, I am sure that the Class of '83 will be in many ways like our class and the Class of '63. The students will surely grow, and make new friends, work hard, and experience both successes and setbacks, just like we have. They will be taught by many of the same teachers. Some of my classmates here may be in the school, not as students but teachers. New victories will be won on the gridiron, the court and the diamond. We will continue to see plays and performances by the students.

I hope the Class of '83 resembles the classes one and two decades before in other positive ways. Perhaps there will be another school newspaper like the one that was printed in 1963. Hopefully, the football field, baseball field, and universal gym will be upkept and utilized. I feel that the girls' athletic program is worthwhile and could be expanded. I would also like to see the Soccer Club reach varsity status, and perhaps some other sports will be introduced.

Looking Ahead

Valedictorian Recalls Graduates' Milestones

By Susan Winship

Welcome, honored guests, parents and friends of the class of 1973.

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. It was an age of wisdom, it was an age of foolishness. It was an epic of belief, it was an epic of incredulity. It was the season of light, it was the season of darkness. It was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair."

These words from Charles Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" aptly describe our three years in Belleville High School that are being climaxed tonight in this graduation ceremony. Each of us can look back over the preceding years and recall a kaleidoscope of events both humorous and sad and times of successes and failures.

Belleville High School has offered us innumerable opportunities to grow physically, mentally and emotionally. A glance in the yearbook of 1970 would reveal that most individuals have changed a great deal in appearance in three short years. Mentally, all of us have matured for every event encountered has surely influenced our thoughts and taught us that we have received a firm educational foundation for future endeavors whether they be work, armed forces, college, or trade school. Our emotional makeups have also undergone considerable alteration since our entrance into Belleville High School. The education we have received has been well-rounded so that we not only acquired academic knowledge but our emotions were prepared for facing the pressures of a materialistic, competitive society.

Attending a public high school has afforded us the opportunity to meet individuals of all races and religions. Through numerous school sponsored activities including clubs, sports and departmental programs, each student had an excellent chance to acquire new friends and come to understand the diverse attitudes and opinions of fellow classmates. Participation in this year's senior play, "The Nifty Fifties," or the musical, "Anything Goes" presented by the band, allowed us to work closely with teachers and other persons in our own age group. The triumph and joy of victory and the despondency of defeat were jointly experienced by coaches and young people on athletic teams. Through these school sponsored activities, we have obtained the much needed knowledge of human emotions and relationships that will help to mold us into mature understanding adults.

The Class of 1973 has enjoyed many "firsts" in high school experiences. The prom sponsored by this class last year as juniors marked the beginning of the affair at the Manor in West Orange. Our class was also a primary force in the fund raising and acquisition of the universal gym that has aided athletic programs and contributed to numerous victories. During our three years here in the high school, we witnessed the institution of two female sports on the varsity level: basketball and softball, and the addition of soccer on the club level for boys. We were also fortunate to have two new sports areas, this football field and the varsity baseball diamond on my right.

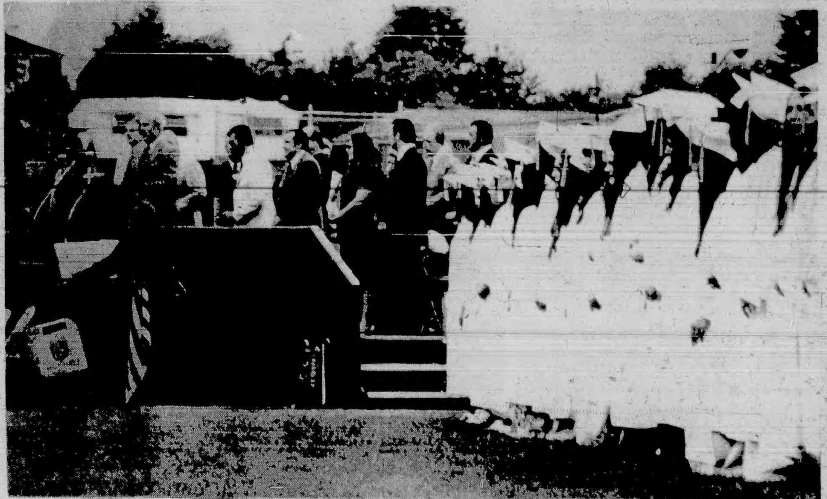

This year was also the first time that a calculus math course was offered for seniors as, the conclusion of a math experiment in which students were given algebra in eighth grade instead of ninth. This trial was a progressive step in better preparing high school students for college courses. During this 1972-73 school year, over one hundred students were given the opportunity to visit and attend classes at other high schools, namely Hunterdon Central and Raritan-Bridgewater East. We experienced firsthand the diverse courses that these schools offer.

This year was a revolutionary one in student travel. The members of the Belleville High School Band and affiliated organizations took the first plane ride by a school group to Bermuda.

"Kaleidoscope of Events"

WELCOMED by Belleville High Principal Raymond O. Smith, the students, parents and officials open the ceremonies with a rendition of the national anthem. The invocation was given by the Rev. Gerald Rounds of Wesley Methodist Church. Invited officials included members of the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners.

PRINCIPAL Raymond O. Smith lists the many individuals and organizations which contributed towards scholarships for Belleville High seniors headed for higher education.

CO-CAPTAIN of the football team Robert Luongo takes his diploma from Board President Lawrence Schwartz as Vice President Caesar Romano looks on. Also shown is senior advisor Daniel Grasso.

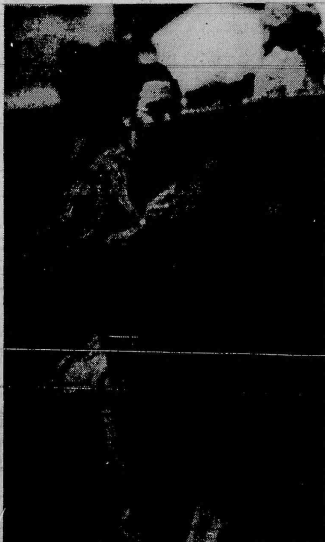

THE LINEUP — Senior girls chat while on line to be given their diplomas. Cheers and applause were heard for each of the 379 students as they took the prized certificates.

HAPPY GRADS relax after receiving their diplomas during the individual presentations from the podium.

ADDITION — This senior decided to add a little dash to his blue graduate robes.

IN A HURRY — This grad couldn't wait to show his friends his diploma — or else, he was thinking about the many parties scheduled around town that evening.

IT'S FOR REAL! — Belleville High senior girls read the certificates that represent three years of hard work and treasured memories.

THE AFTERMATH — Boys and girls alike tore off the field as the last student, class President Rudolph Petrole, was handed his diploma.

ONE MOMENT — Friends of three graduates would like to capture the day on film, but another subject, who won't be graduating for quite some time, doesn't seem ready for the cameras.

Jr. Olympic Wrestler

Racioppi Claims National Crown

Belleville's Robert Racioppi, 13, last week won the A.A.U. National wrestling championship after he defeated two opponents in matches lasting less than 30 seconds each.

Bob was one of 1,000 young wrestlers from across the country who traveled to J.P. Stebbins Regional High School in Dayton, Ohio for the National Junior Olympics.

The 126-pounder was accompanied by his father and coach Joe Zarra. Bob's expenses were covered by the Kiwanis-Rotary Athlete's Aid Fund, while the Recreation Department paid for Zarra's costs. Bob has received his training from Rec Department coaches Zarra, John Peraino and Bobby Arlt.

Couch Zarra reported that the meet was beautifully run, with eight mats in use to accommodate the 1,000 wrestlers. He said competition ran from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., and added as an interesting sidenote that one of the official referees was a woman.

One major problem confronted Zarra at Dayton — his wrestler was three pounds overweight. So the first evening was spent wrestling and running to shed the surplus.

Another problem had been resolved prior to the trip. The Nationals are conducted with international free-style rules, while all of Bob's wrestling through the Division championships has been under scholastic rules. However, after an A.A.U. clinic at Rutgers and some work on the Belleville High mats, Bob was ready for the changeover.

Bob was still 12 years old when he won the New Jersey Division One championship in Phillipsburg which qualified him for the Nationals.

His victory is the second national championship brought to Belleville this month. Earlier, Phil Grippaldi won the National Weightlifting Championship in the middle-heavyweight class.

Belleville's Recreation wrestling program, started only two years ago, has already borne fruit. Of 32 entries in the A.A.U. District Championship, 27 took place. Of the seven wrestlers entered in the Division One Championship, there was one first place and two second place winners.

Peanut Giants Beat Yanks To Capture League Lead

OVERDRESSED? — Roberto Ortiz, Peanut League catcher for the Cubs, seems to be in need of a snuggler outfit.

The Giants, now the number one team on the American Peanut League, played their best game of the season last Thursday night as they defeated the Yankees 22-19.

All the boys on the lineup had hits and everyone on the team contributed to the victory.

Most of the action occurred in the sixth inning when Bruce Ruopp, drove what some observers called the longest hit of the season — out of the ball park for an automatic home run.

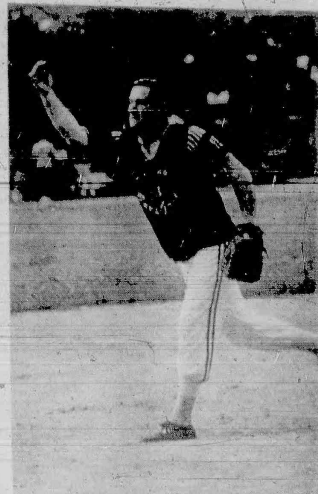

Following Bruce's performance, Chris Paolelo, played short center, singlehandedly was responsible for three outs — two fly balls and a force at second base. Joe Pontrella, after being struck in the face by a line-drive, returned to the game in the fifth inning and gave an excellent performance.

CONNECTION — A Frenchy's hitter lays the lumber on a DeBacco pitch during a Monday League game played at Branch Brook Park. Frenchy's is battling for the lead with Cerami Construction Co.

HURLER Jake Bartholomew for Frenchy's is shown during the team's Monday night loss to IMA, which is now tied with Frenchy's for the second place spot in the league.

Maplewood Blanks Legion, 5-0

by Tony Calabrese

The Belleville American Legion baseball team lost their second game in four outings this past Sunday evening in Belleville, when they dropped a 5-0 decision to the Maplewood Legion team.

This was the second time that the Belleville Legionnaires were shutout this year. It was a frustrating game for Belleville, and was a letdown after the big victory over Bloomfield. Both their fielding and timely hitting deserted the Bellboys. The team committed five errors

Belleville received a very encouraging performance from Hoban, as the hard throwing right-hander allowed only an unearned run but one hit, striking out two and walking two. Centanni hurled the last inning in his usual fine style allowing a hit while picking up a strikeout.

After the two runs in the first, Maplewood got two tallies in the second as the usually reliable Belleville fielding deserted Sergio Rodriguez. Bill Hector looped a shot to center field where Joe Ross missed a shoestring catch by inches. Hector went into second with a double. A wild pitch moved him to third. After a strikeout, Sergio did get some help when Kevin Gray made a diving stop on a ball hit to his right by Matt Jamer, to hold it to an infield single leaving runners at first and third. However, Bob Fritzen's grounder was thrown away by the infield allowing one run to score and

Second Placers Pushing Top Little League Teams

Riefolo and Jolly Cleaners, each with undefeated 4-0 records for the second half of the Little League season, lead their respective leagues this week.

In the American League, Rotary and Landolfi trail Riefolo by one game. Each team has a 3-1 mark. Posting the same record, Kiwanis and Amvets share second place in the National League.

Some recent action in the Little League circles:

Amvets pounded out 15 hits to score 12 runs in their 12-9 victory over the Knights of Columbus. Bill Murphy had three hits for Amvets, while Anthony Domenick, Joe Fiore, and Mike Murphy had two. Ken Barnett came up with two hits for K of C.

Jim DeAngelis threw a one-hitter in F.M.B.A.'s 7-1 win over P.B.A. DeAngelis knocked out two hits for F.M.B.A., along with Mark Hahn, while Bennie Lepore had the only P.B.A. hit.

Rotary smashed Varsity Club for a 28-5 win behind the six-hit pitching of Jim Kelley, who also blasted four hits, as did Pat Nufrio.

Wallace and Tiernan defeated the Elks Club, 12-1. W&T banged out 12 hits, led by Billy Rossi and Steve Kochanski with three hits and Ray Vitello with two.

Landolfi blasted 14 hits to defeat Biancardi, 15-10. Leading hitters for Biancardi were Joe Franchini, Dante DeNotaris and John Vaccaro, all with three hits and one homer apiece. Ray Vitello, for Franchini and DeNotaris, Tom Bianchi and Keith Feinstein both had two hits for the losers and Mike McElroy hit a home run.

Kiwanis won over F.M.B.A., 12-2 as Sal Postiglione pitched and batted for a grand slam. Gary Chamberlain hit a home run for F.M.B.A.

Rotary fell to Riefolo, 8-2, as Riefolo produced 11 hits, with two coming from Jerry Fazzini, Phil Valenti, and Felix Rodriguez. Fazzini pitched a three-hitter for the winners. Amvets upset Mi's Photo, 9-3, as Bill Murphy, Anthony Domenick and Joe Leone

Belleville Breaks the Bloomfield Jinx

The Belleville American Legion Post 1055 baseball team upped their record to 2-1 a week ago Wednesday evening when they defeated the Bloomfield legion team by a score of 3-2 in a game played in Belleville.

Belleville it was a thrilling victory as it marked the first time in the lifetime of the boys on the Legion team that they had beaten this crew of Bengal players in a baseball game. Over the last couple of seasons, Bloomfield has been a thorn in the side of the Belleville varsity baseball team defeating Belleville in all four of the two teams meetings during the last two years, and to add on to the streak the Bloomfield Legion team composed of virtually the same players as the varsity squad, beat Belleville 3-1 in an American Legion game last year.

In this game, the Belleville Legion team got some help in their conquest from a couple of players who did their high school playing for Essex Catholic, and they too had a revenge motive on their mind.

Essex Catholic, as it was the Bengals who knocked Bloomfield out of the Greater Newark Tournament this past season. These two legions drove in all the Belleville runs in the night, a total which amounted to three, and all of these came across the plate in the bottom of the first inning.

In the first Belleville got things started across Bloomfield's Arrihond Sasso, (an old player from the last two seasons) when Joe Ross walked. Ross went to second on Joe Cuzzo's single to right field. With two outs the usually flawless Sasso committed an error when he balked the two basemen up one base, and Kevin Goy and the Bellhows were quick to capitalize. Goy had a two-run scoring single to right-center off the Bloomfield southpaw. Kevin then went on to attempt a steal of second, and should have been out except for the fact that Bloomfield second baseman Bill Flannery became separated from the baseball as Goy slid in, and on this error, Kevin made it all the way to third. On the next pitch, Goy's fellow Essex Catholic buddy Joe DeFranza bloomed a hit into right field for what proved to be the winning run. The person who benefited the most from this uprising was the Belleville hurler on the evening, ace right-hander Rich Centano. Again, as so often in the past, Centano came up with another strong pitched game in a big ballgame. Of the two runs he gave up only one was earned, he allowed only four hits, while striking out seven and walking five. Bloomfield scored off of him in the first on walks to Messina and Jim Clemente. Messina's steal of third, and a throwing error. The final Bloomfield tally crossed the plate in the third on a infield single by Al Bispo, a solid line single by Steve Schmidt, and walks to Sal Rosamilia and John Stanford, the last walk forcing in a run.

That's the way things stayed until the seventh inning, when Bloomfield had a big threat, but didn't score.

Montclair Wins Funds For Upward Bound

Montclair State College has received a grant of $72,000 from the United States Office of Education to continue its Upward Bound program for the eighth summer, according to an announcement by Senator Harrison Williams of New Jersey.

The grant will enable 60 high school students with college potential from disadvantaged areas to spend six weeks on the Montclair campus, starting last Saturday. They will be given special courses and enrichment programs, as well as a complete schedule of sports and recreational activities. Follow-up tutorial sessions will be held throughout the school year to augment the intensive summer program.

Tom Torsello reached on a two base infield throwing error and Gary Tarsini ran for him. Bispo singled to left leaving runners at first and third. Centano got an out when he struck out Schmidt. On a one strike pitch with

Messina at the plate Bloomfield tried a suicide squeeze hunt, however, Belleville catcher Phil Cuzzi called for a pitch, and had a sliding Tursini by plenty to spare. On the next pitch Messina fled out to Joe Ross in centerfield to end a most satisfying triumph.

Bob Racioppi Cops Junior Olympic Title

Hoban came in for the next inning and the tally off of him came in, the fifth. Cicchino walked, and Hoban hurt his own cause when he made a wild pick off throw to first, moving Cicchino to second.

One out later Pete Gioia, who had been jammed by a pitch yet managed to bloop it about 100 feet inside of the left field foul line for what proved to be a double and a run.

Top Montclair Batsmen Posted Heavy .300 Mark

Five regulars, led by sophomore catcher Stu Richter of Somerville with a hot .413 mark, turned in a batting average of .300 or better during the recently completed 1973 baseball season at Montclair State.

The Indians, with a team batting average of .286, pounded out 233 hits in 815 official trips to the plate.

Following Richter were junior shortstop Karl Gordon of Irvington at .333, junior outfielder Bob De Jarnette of Millburn (N.J.) at .330, junior outfielder pitcher Jim Rake of Newark at .319 and infielder-pitcher Dan Dunn of Belleville at .300.

Richter punted out 33 hits in 80 trips to the plate while appearing in 23 games. His total hits was a high for the Indians.

Gordon, drafted recently by the San Francisco Giants of the National League, led the team in doubles (9) and shared the lead in stolen bases with De Jarnette.

De Jarnette's hard swinging outfielder, led the team in runs batted in with 24 and shared the leadership in home runs (3) with third baseman Tony Scarlatelli of Bloomfield and stolen bases.

Rake, who also turned in a first mark as a pitcher with four wins and no losses, led the team in triples with three.

Senior Bill Collins of Port Monmouth was the leading winner on Coach Clary Anderson's staff with a 6-2 mound while posting a fine 1.77 earned run average. Rake, working 33 innings on the mound posted the best earned run average with a mark of 1.36.

Rich Waller, highly promising freshman out of Clifton led the team in strike outs with 81 in 173 innings. He posted a 3.3 mark and had a very fine 1.69 earned run average.

During the 1973 season the Indians posted a record of 16 wins and 8 losses for the eighth straight winning year and 23rd in the last 24th, dating back to 1949.

Coch Anderson's nine placed second in the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference with a record of six wins and four losses. The Indians placed second in the Eastern Conference Athletic Conference Region Two baseball tournament losing in the final round to Adelphi University, 6-5.

Anderson, who completed his 31st year as head coach with the baseball season, has upped his mark to 74-24 after four years as head diamond coach.

MSC Publishes Book On Its Sports History

"Play Action," a complete forty year history of Montclair State College's Intercollegiate athletic program written by Bill Dioguardi, director of athletics at Montclair State College, has been published.

The book, covering the first forty years of Montclair State's history in athletics after becoming a four year college in 1928, has been four years in the preparation.

Dioguardi's effort has already received a good deal of praise. Barbara A. Wolf, president of the Montclair State College Alumni Association, in the foreword of the book wrote, "On behalf of the Montclair State College Alumni Association, I congratulate William Dioguardi on this contribution to the history of Montclair State College."

"Without his careful documentation of these athletic achievements, most of the details presented here would be lost forever. Thanks to his dedication 'Play Action' will become a part of the fine tradition of which every Montclair State Alumnus can be justly proud."

The eleven chapters of the book cover all sports and detail the careers at Montclair State of such outstanding coaches as Chet Pitterer, Ernie McCoy, Al Coder and Henry Schmidt.

Copies of the book may be purchased from the Montclair State College Athletic Department or the college's book store. All receipts, after publishing costs, will go to the MSC Tribe Scholarship Fund.

Messina Makes Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest honor society in the United States, was founded at the College of William and Mary in Virginia in 1776. Students are elected on the basis of high scholastic averages and substantially liberal programs of study.

Members were informed of their election by mail. The initiation ceremonies were held on May 29 at the Manor in West Orange.

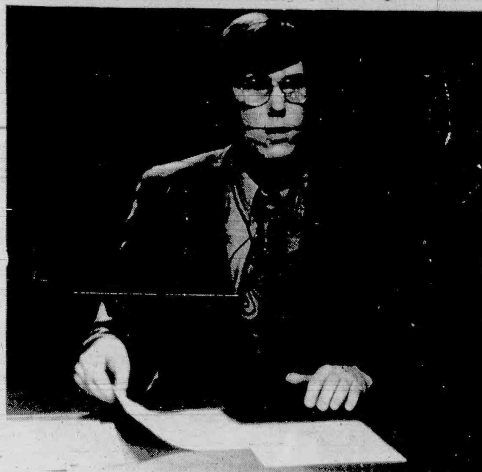

Charles P. Messina, of 91 Cedar Hill Avenue, Belleville, has been elected to the Alpha of New Jersey Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Messina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Messina, also of Belleville, is a senior at Rutgers University, in Newark, where he is majoring in geology. He was also elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, the College Honors Program of Rutgers University, and is past president of the Earth Science Club there. He will begin graduate studies this fall at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island.

Bellevilleite Is Sports Director Of Ohio University TV Station

Kenneth Broo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Broo, 132 Fairway Ave., Belleville, has been appointed Sports Director of WOUB AM-FM-TV, Athens, Ohio. Broo received the appointment following three years of work at the Ohio University Telecommunications Center in Athens.

For the past three years, Broo has handled the sports segment on WOUB-TV's nightly news program, "Newswatch." His duties have included writing, producing and on-camera delivery of the sports. He has also delivered daily radio sportscasts over WOUB AM-FM, affiliates of the ABC Information Radio Network.

During that same span, Broo has broadcast Ohio University hockey, baseball and Athens High School football on both radio and television. Next year, he will assume the duties of sports commentator on the Ohio University football network and play-by-play of Ohio University basketball in addition to his other work.

This summer, Broo is serving as an intern at WCPO-TV, Script-Howard broadcasting, in Cincinnati. He plans graduation in June, 1974 and a career in sports casting.

STEPS UP — Kenneth Broo of Belleville was recently appointed sports director for an Ohio University radio-television station. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broo of 132 Fairway Avenue, he will graduate next year.

His Spring Semester Spent in Internship

Robert Giordano, of 588 Union Avenue, Belleville, was a participant in Fairleigh Dickinson University's Internship Program.

During Spring semester, Robert worked one day a week at the Division of Manpower Development and Training of the New Jersey

Joseph Meglio, of 61 Parkside Drive, Belleville, was elected president of the Bloomfield College Evening Student Association for 1973-74.

Back's Column

During the last few years, about 13,000 persons have been killed every year due to fires. One third of all fires occur in residences. One third of the deaths are children and an almost equally large number were old people.

You don't think a fire can break out in your home? You probably are wrong. If a member of the family smokes, your risk of fire is considerably greater than in a family of non smokers.

The Magnavox Company has made available an "Early warning fire and smoke detector." It is completely self contained and powered by batteries. It does not require any external wiring. It operates on a single battery. There is a switch to test the unit and it will sound a trouble signal intermittently to alert you when the battery is low. The measurements are 7" by 7" by 1 1/2". The unit detects fire in the earliest stage and warns with a loud sustained alarm. It is inexpensive.

Some time ago we were called by a frantic customer who had installed an air conditioner and plugged it right in the nearest socket, being misled by tricky advertising. The lady claimed that, as she put it, "The whole wall is on fire." Although she did not buy the unit from us, our name came to her mind in her excitement since we service her color TV set, which she bought from us. The electric cable was overheated and caused smoke where it touched wood. Fortunately there were no flames yet when our technician hurried over. We had told her on the phone how to shut off the electricity.

This brings up a point which we have stressed in this column many times. Don't become a self styled expert when you want to buy an air conditioner. Call us for a free survey, which would avoid a problem like the above. There is no charge or obligation for this survey.

Twice as nice insurance.

That's Double-Dip insurance from INA — car and home insurance combined in one convenient, money-saving policy.

You only get one bill, one premium, where you used to have two. And combined merit saving can make that premium lower and lower — on your house and car, even on your valuable personal articles and boat, if you like.

Double-Dip insurance is guaranteed renewable, so long as you live in the same house, pay your premiums, and everyone who drives your car keeps his driver's license.

We'd really like to show you how Double-Dip insurance can save you money and give you better protection than the coverage you have now. Call us and we'll tell you more.

My mom always told me not to speak to strangers...but I meet such interesting people that way. Heard sounds of music on Little Street the other day and found some young men rehearsing their act, the name of the group is "Blues Rage", featuring a variety of sounds for parties and dances. The group is composed of Ron McManus, Jimi DelGuerro, Jim Matthews and John Clarizio...for information call 751-2873.

Get well wishes are in order for Herman Boeglin, school guard at School ten. He is in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. I first heard of him last Christmas when, at the last minute, he filled in as Santa Claus for the youngsters at School seven. He did this on his lunch hour and rushed back to work after making many kids happy. How about a get well card to him?

Also sorry to report that Mary Eder, a member of the executive board of OPE at School seven and chairlady of health for the group, is spending some time in St. Barnabas...a cherry get well to you, too.

A surprise 35th wedding anniversary party was held for Sandy and Bob May on June 4...actual date of event was June 3rd. The party was given by their children Pat, Bob and Kathy May at the home of their sister Carolyn (Ryan) and Tom Ryan, in Indian Lake, Denville. Over 34 people attended the happy event. Bob and Sandy have lived in town for 34 years and Sandy was recently spotlighted as a "Sparkling Personality". Congratulations.

WHERE ARE YOU?

The tenth reunion of members of the 1963 graduating class of Belleville High School will be held November 23 at the Chanticleer. The committee is still trying to locate some classmates, so spread the word, please. You may phone Angela (Cuzzo) Zarra, chairman of the event, after 5 at 759-1087. Others on the committee are: Lucille Priolo, Sylvia (Francesco) Priola, Angela (Perrone) Horvath, Carol (Lavanco) Ombalsky, Maria (Sprella) Zinna, Loretta Melitto and Janet (Petrusz) Zarra. Sure to be a fun event, the band is the "Duminoes"...don't be shy, attend your class reunion.

The youngsters in the YMWCA drama workshop presented their first performances last weekend (check bulletin board for this week) and I happened to be mistress of ceremonies for the opening night. It was quite a lot of fun and the kids were good. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for kids...so please support their efforts - it keeps kids off the streets and busy. The group had only been practicing for one month and were really professional. A big thanks should go to the adult volunteers - Bob Leffebell, Carolina Furno and Cynthia DeBonis - BJHS teachers.

Happy 19th birthday to Miss Kathleen Sheridan - Kathleen is the dancing teacher at the "Y" - a pert, pretty young miss.

A very nice luncheon was held at the home of Lucille Gasiewicz last week, feting the 1973 officers of BHS Home and School Association. Usually I run out of flashbuds when I cover a story...this time, I left the film home. Oh, well, the food was delectable and arranged beautifully, and Lucille will always be remembered for her champagne punch. The guests included: Grace Purdine, Loretta DeSantis, Vi Narucki, Esther Parillo, Audrey Taskalos, Joan Sheehan, Anna Sylvestre, Margie Lombro, George Nucera, Mr. Westlake and R.O. Smith, principal of BHS.

THAT OLD SAW

I would like to remind you that I require at least one week notice in order to attend any event. Last minute calls are difficult to fit into my schedule to say the least, and when I don't appear, people get angry. I appreciate being invited to give publicity, but please...don't call me one hour before an event is going on - ok? Thanks.

PAT'S FUNNIES

I know of at least three individuals this case would fit...how about you? What "playboy politician" was at a popular eatery and, upon entering a washroom, met a stranger. He didn't know the stranger and promptly proceeded to speak against the washroom facilities, stating there should be a state law covering space, etc. His face was red when he was introduced to the stranger - who was a candidate for governor!

What teacher had the attention of her entire class, but especially the boys - when she went to school bathroom?
What two women - one blonde, one wigged - were sharing a laugh at the antics of two who had imbibed too much...same time, same state, each week?
On June 14th, this sub-column mentioned another town election...the pow-wows held by the Indians at a local merchant's shop were null and voided...the cavalry had landed, upset their plans and it's a whole new ballgame...the pigs got roasted, sorry about that.

SEP

Good thing it's a woman's prerogative to change her mind. As to my summer employment program, there are a few changes. I am not going to run it under the auspices of the "Y". I will continue to run it from home, free of charge, as a community service.

Here's what I'd like to interest youngsters to do: On July 5, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. come to my home, 104 Overlook Avenue, to pick up a registration blank.

I have one adult volunteer to help try and find jobs for the kids, I certainly could use more help...please call me. The kind of jobs we're seeking are those either in businesses or around the home - lawn care, babysitting, clerical, pool cleaning, etc. Please help a kid this summer. At this point, don't know if we'll have a car wash, no one has come forward to offer a place to hold it.

We're doing something special for people who are really serious about saving.

We're now compounding interest daily instead of annually, semiannually or quarterly on our high-yield savings plans.

So your 5 3/4% account with us will now yield a nice, big 6% annually.

Which is a mighty nice way to get a minimum deposit of $500 for two years really working for you.

For more impatient savers, we have a 90 day, 5% Gold Star Savings plan, with an annual effective yield of 5.20%.

Or our 1 year, 5 1/2% certificates of deposit, now yielding 5.73% annually.

It all adds up to an easy, secure and profitable way for you to do all your banking under one full-service roof.

Ours. There are 36 offices to choose from in Essex and Warren Counties.

We're your size bank.

Local Airman's Unit Cited For Outstanding Service

Airman First Class Michael R. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Sanders of 483 Union Avenue, is a member of a Strategic Air Command squadron which has earned the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Airman Sanders, an aircraft mechanic, is assigned at Castle AFB, Calif., with the 93rd Organizational Maintenance Squadron which received the award for exceptional meritorious service from July 1, 1971, through June 1972.

His unit was cited for professionalism and excellence in its support of the 93rd Bomb Wing's flying activities and for outstanding scores in several maintenance inspections and evaluations.

Airman Sanders will wear a distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

The airman attended Belleville High School.

Clean Air Advocate
Calls Drive 'Washout'

"Clean air is a washout," one of the founders of the anti-pollution movement told a clinical session of the American Medical Association convention meeting here Tuesday.

"We haven't made much progress in clearing up our dirty air over the past 10 years," Dr. Frank Rosen, a Maplewood, specialist in allergy-told physicians representing every field in medicine.

"The problem is, too few people are interested, including doctors," said Dr. Rosen. "Everyone asks why someone else doesn't do something about it."

It was only when he told a businessman's group how pollution was affecting the sex drive of some animals that both media and public interest took an upswing, according to the specialist.

"Newspapers, television, and individuals all over the globe wanted more information on what air pollution could do to human sex drives," declared Dr. Rosen. "But, although response was fantastic, people didn't care about the dirty air, it was sex they were concerned about," he declared.

However, Dr. Rosen cautioned, since the people is not responding to the threat, "it's time for doctors to start viewing their patients, and themselves as both the victims and the causes of air pollution."

Auto exhaust, smoke from incinerators, burning leaves, jet plane fumes, all are taking their toll on asthma and lung disease victims, he warned. Those who do not have these afflictions, said Dr. Rosen, also suffer especially when

He's Joining
Midland Bank

Robert Leake

Robert S. Leake of Bloomfield has joined The Midland Bank & Trust Company as assistant vice president and manager of the bank's Bergen Mall Office in Princeton.

The announcement was made today by Thomas E. Stagnitti, president of the Midland Bank, which has five offices in Englewood and Paramus.

A banker since 1956, Leake previously was employed by the First National State Bank, Nutley, and the Montclair National Bank & Trust Co.

An army veteran, Leake has graduated from the American Institute of Banking in Newark, and the New Jersey Bankers Association Data Processing School in Princeton. He currently is attending Bloomfield College in the evenings.

He is a member of the Bergen Mall Merchants Association. Active in local affairs, Mr. Leake is vice president of the Bloomfield Little League Minors and a member and usher of St. Valentine's Church, Bloomfield. He served as auditor of the Nutley Red Cross and the Stutley Family Service Bureau.

Leake, 34, resides at 132 Birch Street, Bloomfield with his wife and two children, Robert III, and Debbie.

Maturities Offered
By First National

First National State Bank of New Jersey announced today that it is offering to individuals a new series of six-month, 6-1/2 percent certificates of deposit that, compounded daily, will yield $2.90 interest on an annualized rate. The minimum amount is $100.00.

In addition to the six-month maturities, certificates will also be offered for periods of 12 and 18 months.

All Second-Class, Some Bulk Publications
To Get Mailing Rates Increased Next Week

Newark Postmaster: Mailings of second-class publications, some third-class nonprofit bulk material, and some special fourth-class material (mainly books and records) will be increased effective on July 6, 1973.

A typical second-class weekly publication mailed for delivery within the same county will go from six-tenths of one cent per piece to seven-tenths of one cent.

A typical publication of a nonprofit organization mailed for delivery outside the county will go from three-fourths of a cent per piece to nine-tenths of a cent.

A typical commercial second-class publication weighing about 9 ounces will go from 2 1/2¢ per piece to 3 1/4¢.

A typical commercial third-class bulk rate material consisting of booklets weighing more than 3 ounces will increase by 1¢, from 8¢ to 9¢ per pound.

They Haul 100-Ton Girders

Through a unique and elaborate land and water-transit system, Hoffman International, Inc. recently completed a four-stage delivery of four outsized steel girders weighing more than 100 tons from the fabricator's plant in Piscataway, N.J., to Consolidated Edison's electrical generating station in Astoria, Queens.

The move, which took three days to complete for each girder, involved the use of the variety of Hoffman's arsenal of heavy-specialized-hauling and rigging equipment, carefully selected local and federal highway routes approved by State transportation authorities, police escorts, and a battery of company officials, employees, safety officers and standby equipment crews.

William A. Hoffmann Jr., company president, said nearly one-fourth of the firm's total work force of 150 was deployed to transport the girders some 40 miles over land and water to their permanent location at the east River site. He said the move required the use of high capacity trailers, tractors, cranes and derrick barges equipped to haul and hoist extremely heavy cargo.

Hoffmann International, founded in 1920 is one of the nation's largest operators of land and water based heavy cranes and derricks, specialized transportation systems and heavy rigging equipment. It operates 100 pieces of major equipment, including one of the largest fleets of heavy lift truck cranes in the country and heavy hauling systems capable of transporting loads up to 700 tons.

The first stage of the journey for one of the girders began in a steel fabricator's plant in the New Market section of Piscataway Township, located in northwestern Middlesex County, about 25 miles southwest of Newark. From there, mounted on a specially designed 300-ton capacity low-bed trailer, it was taken to Berth 61 at Port Newark by the close of the day.

In keeping with State transportation directions, the trailer followed a designated route going north on Washington Avenue through Dunellen to U.S. Route 22 and continuing east to the junction of U.S. Routes 1 and 9. From there, it proceeded north on U.S. 1 to its destination at the port.

Summer Serenades Slated at Paper Mill

The New Jersey Symphony will perform three Summer Serenades at the Paper Mill in Millburn on July 12, 17 and 19.

Henry Lewis, the Orchestra's Music Director, will conduct beginning with an all-Mozart program on July 12, featuring Berlioz's "Symphonie Fantastique" and the "Violin Concerto No. 5 in A Major," K. 219, and the Second Act of "Marriage of Figaro" with Eleanor Steber, Robert Gaddlee, John Macurdy, Leona Mitchell and Olivia Stapp as soloists. The Orchestra will round out the program with "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," "Divertimento for Winds," K. 325, and the "Divertimento for Flutes, Trumpets and Kettledrums," K. 187.

An all-Mendelssohn evening is planned for July 17, with Rudolf Kirksby as soloist in the "Piano Concerto No. 1 in G Minor." The Orchestra will open with the Overture to "A Midsummer-Night's Dream" and close with the "Italian Symphony" (Symphony No. 9 in A), The Overture in E Flat Major for Strings" will round out the program.

Thursday, July 19 "Serenade" will include excerpts from Beethoven's "The Creatures of Prometheus" Ballet and "Choral Fantasy" (with the Monmouth Civic Chorus and Malcolm Frager, main soloist); Schubert's "Unfinished" Symphony and his "Forest Night" and "Song of Spirits over Waters."

"The Symphony Serenades," said Frank Carrington, producer of the Paper Mill Playhouse, "will be a taste of a larger festival of music, ballet and opera to come next season. Paper Mill has great plans for inclusion of all the performing arts in its future programming."

"Twigs" with the much-acclaimed actress, Sada Thompson, will be on stage at the Playhouse through July 1. The regular fall season will open on September 18.

When in doubt about a controversial subject, keep quiet.

Indecision is costly but hasty action sometimes costs more.

Dip in State's Employment Laid to Building Strikes

New Jersey's nonfarm wage and salary employment dipped by offset season gains in trade and services, announced Ronald M. Heynand, Commissioner of the N. J. Department of Labor and Industry. The total of 2,696,700, estimated by the Department's Division of Planning and Research, was 43,300 above that of a year ago.

Strikes in the construction industry resulted in a reduction of 14,900 at a time when employment in that industry would normally be expanding. This adversely affected the seasonally adjusted figures which showed an atypical decline of 19,200 construction jobs in May. While seasonal adjustment eliminates distortions caused by seasonal influences, it does not take into account isolated occurrences such as strikes.

Fractional changes were reported among the State's major manufacturing industries in May. Total manufacturing was up by 1,200 with most of the increase reflecting a recall of 1,000 workers in the apparel industry.

Nonmanufacturing employment suffered a setback of 6,500 in May largely because of the construction industry strikes. Gains of 5,400 in services and 4,400 in trade could not offset the 14,900 reduction in construction.

There was an over-the-year increase of 36,900 in nonmanufacturing employment and 6,400 in manufacturing employment for a total increase of 43,300 in May.

GIANT GIRDER — A huge 170 ton steel girder, carried by a specially adapted high capacity hauling system by Hoffman International, Inc. of Belleville, travels slowly along Route 22 in Union County enroute to a Port Newark where it was placed aboard a barge for transit to Consolidated Edison's electrical generating station on the East River in Astoria, Queens. Hoffmann transported four of the girders over the 40 mile land-water route from Piscataway.
