FORMER SANCTUARY of Holy Family Church will soon become the stage area for a 272-seat theater which will attract Belleville actors and audience. Director Ray Napolitano surveys progress of the work.

In Renovated Church

An Ongoing Theater Troupe To Seek a Belleville Audience

There are not too many theaters these days with stained glass windows, but in about three months there will be one in this area. What was once the sanctuary of Holy Family Church will be the home of amateur theater instead.

The windows are about the only thing one would recognize of the inside of the building on Brookline Avenue, Nutley. Rows of pews have given way to risers. Where once there must have been a pulpit and altar, there is now a stage. The place has been christened Family Playhouse Theater, and is under the direction of former Belleville resident Ray Napolitano, a member of the parish council.

While there is still plenty of sawdust to be swept up, lights to be hung and minor carpentry work to be completed, Napolitano hopes to begin the first production in late December or early January.

The project has the financial backing of the church and its congregation; and the director will soon be in need of enthusiastic performers, stagehands, musicians and helpers to continue what he and two other men have begun. (Those interested in getting involved, by the way, may contact Napolitano through the church.)

The director's aim is to provide "legitimate theatrical productions" to not only Nutley and Belleville residents, but to adjoining communities as well. While looking to make good his sponsor's investment of several thousand dollars, "our main purpose is to entertain people." He added that he hopes the Playhouse will serve its educational purposes as well by providing not only a place for relatively seasoned performers to work, but for teenagers to also take part.

The new theater got its start about four years ago, reported the Seton Hall grad, when he and a college friend, obtained permission to open a cafe-type theater in the basement of their present building. They had formerly held two successful productions in the Holy Family School, but had to discontinue operations

Gerard R. Hickey Named Public Library Director

The Belleville Public Library this week announced the appointment of Gerard R. Hickey as Library Director.

Hickey replaces Ben E. Grimm, who resigned the position last October to become director of the Jersey City Public Library. Since then, Hickey had headed the library staff as assistant director, a post he assumed in 1969.

Prior to coming here, he had served as director of the North Arlington Public Library and was a librarian at Kearny High School. Hickey is a member of the New Jersey Library Association and currently serves on the committee procedure committee and is treasurer for the Garden State Library Circuit.

A graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University and St. John's University, he holds degrees in business administration and library science and has studied at Montclair and Newark State Colleges.

Hickey resides at 501 Centre Street in Nutley with his wife and five children, and is a member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Council 6195 Knights of Columbus, and the Nocturnal Adoration Society of St. Mary's Parish. He is also the vice president of the Belleville Historical Society. A veteran of World War II, he served in the China-Burma-India Theater of Operations with the Army Airway Communications Squadron.

School Board Lowers Course Sex Barriers

The Board of Education Monday night passed a resolution opening shop courses to girls and home economics classes to boys in an apparent relaxation of sex barriers in the school system.

Board President Lawrence Schwartz said the move was made to "take the brunt" out of a sex discrimination lawsuit filed by the National Organization for Women (NOW) against Belleville and several other school districts in Essex County.

The move was made with some reluctance by the Board, with member Richard Mahmarian and Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco both warning there may not be enough room to accommodate the coed specialty class enrollment. Schwartz said classes will be filled on a strictly equal basis — "first come, first served."

Greco said there are boys in a home economics club in the Junior High School now, but the institution of classes in shop and home ec will eventually require "more room and more space" in the schools.

Mahmarian said, "I just wonder what will happen now when a girl wants to take auto tion, drawn up after the past May Commission election, which places the Zoning Board of Adjustment under Mrs. Senatore's department, except for the powers of appointment.

However, added Scott, there are matters of political tradition in Belleville which he will not touch upon in his examination, such as the supposed "unwritten law" of courtesy which past Mayors, including McGreevy have been known to follow in allowing Commissioners to rotate the option to nominate to the Zoning Board as vacancies occur.

It is this tradition which Mrs. Senatore bases her case upon in claiming the right to reappoint Anthony Agresta to the Zoning Board. Agresta's term expired in late July and McGreevy moved for the appointment of alternate Kenneth Nash in Agresta's place.

When McGreevy made his nomination at a Commission meeting Sept. 6 and Mrs. Senatore introduced an opposite resolution to renominate Agresta, neither of the rivals got a second from the other three Commissioners.

During Tuesday night's caucus, Mrs. Senatore reaffirmed her determination to see that Agresta remains on the Board, and told McGreevy she intended to amend the Agresta resolution to every Zoning appointment the Mayor makes "from now until 1975."

McGreevy has declined to comment on the matter until an opinion comes back from Scott, but added Mrs. Senatore has changed her position on the appointments. "When the first appointments were made to the Board, Mrs. Senatore had two appointments there. Then when the others were made, she told me that Agresta hadn't been her appointment, but was (past Mayor) Ken Smith's" Mrs. Senatore vigorously denied the Mayor's statement.

Mary V. Senatore
Wants Appointment Power

Since the Commission has regularly been voting on all resolutions to name members of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, the McGreevy-Senatore dispute seems to be more of a struggle over the power to make nominations. Until now, the system used seems to have been an unwritten process whereby the "courtesy" can either be extended by the Mayor or not. Scott's opinion and a decisive vote by the Commissioners may serve to clarify the process.

In another matter Tuesday night, Public Affairs Director Vincent T. Strumolo introduced an ordinance which would move mandatory heating levels in all apartments to 70 degrees during the day and 65 at night. Presently, the mandatory levels are 65 and 60.

The proposed measure further states that heat must be furnished whenever the outside temperature falls below 50 degrees.

DeWitt Savings Held Up; Police Search for Bandit

A lone gunman fled DeWitt Savings and Loan at 463 Washington Avenue Friday carrying a bowling bag stuffed with nearly $1500 in cash.

Police are still on the trail of the bandit who walked up to a female teller, displayed a revolver and passed a note demanding cash. Leaving the scene in a stolen car, the thief eluded police on foot after abandoning the car on Passaic Avenue.

The robbery occurred at 3:44 p.m. Friday, while several customers were still in the building. The suspect, described as a white male in his early twenties, with long black hair, about 5'11" and of medium build, went about the robbery quietly and was noticed only by his victim. The teller, whose name was withheld by police, tripped an alarm, but the suspect had fled before police arrived on the scene.

The getaway car, stolen from a Newark resident, was found later by Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight and Detective Thomas Ricci on Passaic Avenue near Joralemon Street. Inside the car, police found the empty bowling bag.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been called in on the case. Police also took film from cameras at DeWitt, but have not disclosed the contents of the film.

Deputy Chief Haight surmised the suspect had fled from the bank along Tappan Avenue and over to Passaic where the car was abandoned, then ran off on foot.

Avenue Hit-Run Case Goes to Grand Jury

The case against the alleged driver of the auto which struck and killed an Upper Montclair woman on Washington Avenue August 8 was referred to the Essex County Grand Jury from Belleville Municipal Court Thursday.

Acting Judge Aaron Narol referred the charges of death by auto, leaving the scene and conspiracy lodged against Vincent Gagliano, 19, of 681 North Eighth Street in Newark who police say, ran down Westinghouse employee Miss Da-Ellen Wardrip, 64, as she was leaving the plant after work on the evening of August 8.

An alleged passenger in the car, Richard Couzzi, 21, of 628 North Seventh Street in Newark, has been charged with conspiracy in the case for his suspected attempt to flee the police.

Cuozi surrendered with Gagliano to Belleville police August 15 at Newark Airport after they voluntarily returned

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Nice to know that Sallie Addonizio with her husband George, with whom I served on the Town Council during the early sixties, as Town Councilman, celebrated her birthday recently at the Marriott Motel, Saddle Brook, N.J. It was a gala affair attended by such celebrities as Marie Sceritella and Mrs. Elvia Lavinia, of Chula Vista, Calif., who is a former member of the Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Deborah Hospita'. This fine lady wants to be remembered to all the old members and says she loves her new home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Rega and his brother Jimmie Rega and his spouse, Annette, will soon be leaving for an extended European tour that will take up much of the fall season.

Jackie, long a prominent political figure in town, contends he is not "pulling up stakes" and assures he is still a Belleville taxpayer and resident interested in all concerns that affect our troubled town. He said, "sincerely, I love Belleville and, although, I sold my business and will be located at 131 Main Ave. at Howard St. in Passaic, N.J.

"Common Cause" Quizzes Pols

Members of the New Jersey Common Cause, the Citizens' lobby, who live in the Belleville area have recently launched the organization's 1973-74 state legislative reform program, called "Open Up The System," by sending questionnaires to every local candidate for the New Jersey Assembly and Senate.

There are 11,300 members in the state of which 14 live in Belleville. The questionnaires ask for the candidates' positions on five areas of legislation: conflict of interest, open meetings, legislative roadblocks, lobbying, and the Citizen's Standing to Sue Bill.

"The questionnaires are the major tool of this first step of our project," said David Golush of Belleville, Common Cause open up the system coordinator for the (11th) Congressional District. "We expect to use them in three ways: to get as many commitments as possible for our program to Open Up The System, to publish the responses so that the public will know how our candidates stand on these matters, and to use the responses later, after the new legislature convenes in January, as a lobbying tool."

What does the United Way do for children?

If they're hungry, we feed them. If they're cold, we clothe them. If they're troubled, we try to un-trouble them. If they're handicapped, we teach them. If they need a place to play while mother works, we provide it. Most of all, we give them love, understanding and care. That's what we do for children! And for adults? We do the same thing! It doesn't matter how old you are. Neither does your skin color or religion. All that matters is that you need help. However, there is something else that matters. Money. Without it, we can't do anything for anyone. You've never let us down. Please continue giving the United Way your support. A lot of people are depending on you. Perhaps someday you may have to depend on us, too. We'll be there!

France's Wine

Now comes word from France that this country's famed red wines may have often been, in recent years, dyed, cheap white wine — sold for five times what it's worth. In fact, the broadening wine scandal centered on Bordeaux reds has become France's Watergate, now known as Winegate.

The scandal exposes the corrupt practice in France of inspectors always notifying big wineries before they make inspections — a practice which has become the general rule in many areas.

Only if inspection were lax and corruption rampant could several million bottles of phony wine have been sold to unsuspecting buyers in recent years, many of them Americans.

One recalls a similar scandal in Italy a few years back, when phony wine was sold in quantity. The current French scandal, however, is more massive. One leading figure has been quoted as saying that ninety per cent of the merchants in the Bordeaux area and fifty per cent of the growers are cheaters.

He noted that in recent years from 26 to 40 million bottles of cheap wine have been imported by Bordeaux houses, and that this cheap wine has to go somewhere. (The current scandal was touched off when one major house was discovered to be dyeing and falsely labeling this cheap wine for export.)

Interestingly, this news comes at a time when American wines have reached a state of perfection second to none. Since most people can't easily spot a phony wine, the best policy is to buy American.

The Super-Rich

For most of us, struggling with the monthly bills, it comes as either an incentive or shock to learn that in the last five years more than a dozen Americans have accumulated more than a hundred million dollars, and that another two dozen have made over fifty million!

America is still the land of opportunity; the new American super-rich are a cross-section of the population, from all classes. Of course, while these newcomers were piling up their millions, the already rich were adding to theirs in many cases. So there are both new and old rich among us, as always.

It's difficult to imagine an accumulation of $500,000,000, which Fortune Magazine says Leonard Stren did, with pet foods, in five years. It's hard to imagine enough profits to amass $300,000,000, which Fortune says Ross Perot and Edwin Whitehead managed in the past five years.

Making only five or ten million was not so special, comparatively. Those who made only a single million seem relatively stick-in-the-muds. And those of us who struggle with the monthly bills. . . .

New York's Drug Law

As crime surged to alarming levels in New York State in recent years a call was increasingly heard from victims and others for a tough law to punish hard-drug users and pushers.

Sociologists and soft-approach elements, however, convinced the state legislature the answer was not in punishing pushers and users but in trying to rehabilitate them. So an experimental system was set up, and at great cost, to provide medical therapy for drug users.

Now, after five years on such experimenting, and failure, the legislature has enacted a tough hard-drug law, the emphasis being on stern punishment for hard-drug users and pushers. Governor

Nelson Rockefeller, disillusioned with the former approach and facing statistics showing over half the crimes in New York City, for example, are drug-related, led the fight for the new hard-drug law.

Now the apprehended seller of one ounce of heroin will serve a minimum of fifteen years in jail, with no hope for parole. Other jail terms are also no-parole sentences.

The nation will watch the trend in New York State in the coming years, the soft-approach having failed; the hope of all Americans is that the new approach works, helps clean up the nation's largest city, and state.

Fischer, 1974

Bobby Fischer, chess champion of the world, will tour Europe playing against the best European players, including, perhaps, Boris Spassky. That's the announcement of Stanley Rader, his attorney.

Since Fischer has become an idol in foreign chess circles, despite his erratic behavior, and because he largely disappeared from the public view after his victory over Spassky in Iceland last summer, the upcoming tour is major news.

If the young American chess genius behaves like a gentleman, he could prove a highly valuable ambassador for his country.

Uninvited Boys Crashed Party At the Library

To The Editor.

Pistachio the Dragon presided over a lovely party at the Library on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 8, 1973. All the boys and girls who earned their dragon ribbons this summer by reading 15 books were invited. They saw "Johnny Appleseed," played a few games and then had refreshments. Unfortunately several boys, whom I suspect did not read a book this Summer, "crashed" the party and literally stole several cartons of orange drink and pretzels and cookies. One lad took 10 cartons for himself and bragged about it. A number of younger children who justly deserved the refreshments had nothing. It was a real shame and disappointment for them.

I hope all the parents in the area north of the library ask their 10-12 year old boys to read this letter and say, "if you are one of the boys who crashed the party, please don't do it again. It is not fair, and a sense of fair play is one thing necessary for growing up."

Mislaid Mail Finally Found In 2 Weeks

To the editor:

As Church Secretary for Wesley United Methodist Church, it is a part of my duties to help prepare and mail our monthly Newsletter. Up to and including the Summer (June-July-August) issue, delivery to our Belleville membership has been quite efficient, and more often than not was delivered the next day after receipt at the Belleville Branch on Washington Avenue.

Then came a change in postal procedure. It seems that now bulk mailing must be forwarded to Newark for processing, and then the Belleville mail is returned to the Postal Depot on Main Street for delivery.

On August 28 I deposited the September issue at the Washington Avenue office. Time went by, and members began to ask questions. On September 7 I called Mr. Risignano, of Belleville Carriers, and asked for help. He called Newark that day, the next, and also the following Monday-but no one knew anything about the missing mail. In the meantime, word was received from our Pastor's father in Pennsylvania that his copy had arrived during the first week in September.

Finally, on Tuesday, September 11th, the missing Newsletters were delivered to our Belleville members. They had only been received from Newark on Monday morning, the 10th.

Much of the contents of the Newsletters have a time value, and due to the lateness in receiving the September issue, many of the dates noted had already gone by. I'm sure we all realize that bulk mailing, or third-class mailing, is often delayed in favor of the first-class mail-which of course is right. However, how more than 150 pieces of mail could be misplaced for two weeks is a bit difficult to understand!

Our thanks to the Belleville Postal Service for their help in locating, delivering promptly, and courteous concern for our missing mail!
Mrs. Hetty L. Murray

He Wants to Find A Fender-Bender Who Got Away

To the Editor:

I want to publicly and personally thank the inconsiderate individual who damaged my auto in the parking lot of the A&P on Harrison Street, Nutley, on Sunday morning, Sept. 16 between 9:30 and 9:45 a.m. My auto was parked in an area that was at least 50 feet from any parking space. We went into the store for 15 minutes and when we came out we found our right door had a large dent in it and the chrome strip pulled away from the body. Surely the individual who hit the car had to realize that he or she hit something. I would appreciate hearing from this individual or possibly anyone else who may have witnessed the accident. That is a very busy time of the day and I am sure that some one other than the driver of the car had to see the accident.

The auto hit was a 1972 Oldsmobile, blue with a white vinyl top. Again, if the driver of the auto reads this please call the writer. I would be most appreciative. I know after driving over 25 years I would never inflict damage on another's property without reporting it to the owner. My phone number is 759-8698. Thank you. We all carry insurance for this one reason.

The Derby

Recent revelations concerning jazzed up soap box derby racers, one winner having been disqualified because of a hidden electromagnetic device which unfairly gave him an advantage, are disturbing.

The soap box derby is a value tradition for youngsters, and perhaps their dads. But it, like so much else, has been engulfed to some extent in commercialization.

The urge to win is natural and even desirable but winning is not everything, as one famous football coach said in recent years. Good sportsmanship, fair play and all-out effort (training, condition and practice) are the greatest values in youthful athletic competition. Winning, if it comes after that, to the most deserving, is wonderful. But winning in itself is not always wonderful, or everything.

Energy Policies & Fuel Shortages Are Becoming Much Too Political

David F. Moore
N.J. Conservation Foundation

IF IT LOOKS like there's a lot of words being written lately about energy, it's only because energy is where it's at insofar as the environmental survival outlook of everybody is concerned. Now that national energy policies and fuel shortages are getting so deeply into political vocabularies, I'd like to raise one more plaintive request for basic consideration of necessary future priorities.

It's plain to me once you cut through the vapor of words being flung about, that regardless of whether some oil companies achieve a cut in sulfur-content restriction for fuel oil this fall, to the immediate peril of air quality, it means little in the medium and long-range energy policy picture. What we've got to think about is action toward lowering the future demands.

BECAUSE FUTURE demands are following a rapidly escalating curve, even a major reduction in them can still leave us with a lot more energy needs than we must meet today. It's not something easy, and I see no serious dent being made in the situation until enough people awaken to the reality of a world without fossil fuels. When somebody says blithely that we've got centuries of coal supplies left, they fail to explain that the social and economic price for getting at most of that coal will be unbearable to our present ways of life.

Any move toward clarity in this direction may well be hamstrung by Madison Avenue efforts, backed by seemingly limitless funding of industries and groups whose security is predicated on maintaining the present leering-like stampede toward the bitter end. What we must remember is that any basic change will create as many new avenues for financial gain as it will sever.

A FEW PEOPLE are working for answers. One of the most obvious will be development of a house which can get along without external sources of energy (electricity, gas, oil or coal) for heat and light. This has been done, experimentally, and a lot more money and effort should be spent in this direction.

As one example I refer to "Prototype I," a 31-foot-diameter dome dwelling in New Mexico, fully furnished and featuring solar powered space heating and hot water, with no fuel burning backup devices of any kind. It also has wind-generated electricity powering solar pumps, lights, stereo, refrigerator, electric toilet and small household appliances. There is no city power or auxiliary fuel burning generator as backup, and it has maintained comfortable interior temperatures of 65 to 85 degrees with outdoor temperatures ranging from minus 5 to plus 100 degrees, and has run at full capacity for more than a week with no sun or wind.

IT'S THE PRODUCT of pioneering researchers who call themselves ILS Labs (short for Integrated Life Support Systems Laboratories) at Tijeras, New Mexico. The leader of the group is Robert Reines, who originated the ILS concept. They are working on prototypes of an entirely new wind and solar powered shop facility, a new solar collector built into the skin of a structure and an extensive data-taking and instrumentation system which will fully analyze and document performances of the various prototypes. In preliminary design is a kit version of Prototype I, the self-powered house, which will be competitive with prices for mobile homes.

THERE YOU ARE. Think what this spells in potential revisions of energy consumption patterns, especially if applied to commercial and industrial applications as well. And then think what could be getting designed and invented if big business could be convinced of the desirability for such a program, compared with the dedicated efforts of a handful of pioneers out in New Mexico. Why doesn't somebody in New Jersey get cracking on this kind of research?

The Massachusetts Audubon Society has started on a similar project, in that state. I'm sure there are others.

Hoffman International Realigns Top Echelons

In a major realignment of its sales and marketing responsibilities, Hoffman International Inc. has announced the appointment of three new vice presidents to concentrate on expanding corporate sales into national and international markets previously not served by the firm.

George "Kirk" Westhead of Cranford, joins the company as Vice President - Marketing, Daniel Bumby of Newton, advances to Vice President - National Sales and Antonio E. Davi joins the firm as Vice President - International Sales. The three will be based at the firm's corporate headquarters in Belleville.

company president, said that Westhead will direct the total marketing effort of the company, one of the nation's largest operators of land and water based cranes and derricks, specialized transportation systems and heavy rigging equipment.

His responsibilities will include marketing construction equipment rentals, leasing and sales; specialized hauling and hoisting services and heavy rigging contracting throughout the world. Bumby will be concerned with the domestic sales aspects of the marketing program, while Davi will handle its international phase.

Westhead's background in the construction and construction equipment fields dates back to 1959 when he was salesman for the National Portland Cement Company. Over the following 14 years, he held several executive positions, serving from 1960-69 as sales manager of Callahan Equipment of Kenilworth, N.J., as president of his own equipment distributing firm from 1969-72 and until recently as sales manager for Binder Machinery Company, South Plainfield.

Westhead was graduated from Villanova University in 1953 and attended Fordham University Law School. He served from 1954-59 with the U.S. Marine Corps. He and his wife and seven children reside at 316 Prospect Avenue, Cranford.

Bumby has held a variety of positions within The Hoffman Companies since 1967 when he joined as a sales representative for Hoffman Equipment, Inc., the firm's equipment sales subsidiary. In 1972, he became sales manager of the subsidiary and earlier this year assumed responsibility for sales operations of the parent company.

Previously, Bumby had served as an equipment salesman for A. S. Gilbert Company of Kingston and as western regional manager for the Lima Division of Clark Equipment Company. He lives with his wife and three children at Plotts Road, Newton.

Davi's career in the construction and material handling equipment field spans more than 30 years and several continents including the Americas, Africa and the Middle East. A native of Khartoum, Sudan, in Africa, he spent the first 16 years of his work experience overseas as a diesel specialist with an international firm.

He moved to the United States in 1950 and since then served in various capacities with Edward Ehrbar and Bell Equipment Company, both New York City-based equipment houses.

Most recently, Davi served as managing director and vice president of Bell's Caribbean subsidiaries, with responsibility for directing the sale and lease of heavy construction and material handling equipment in South America and the Caribbean.

Davi, who became a U.S. citizen in 1955, now lives with his wife and two children at 37 Stonegate Road, Ossining, New York.

STOPPED IN at Parillo's last week and met with members of The Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook Belleville. Haven't seen the fellows in awhile and caught up on some of their "happenings" - they recently visited the Children's Shelter and played host to about 80 children for an annual picnic; a barn dance will be held September 29th; Installation of 73-74 officers will be held October 2,(that's also my mother's birthday, guys), but I'll try to be there) and the Past President's Night will be held November 6, also at Parillo's. My good friend, Bill Pirk, is now Lt. Governor in the Kiwanis and will officiate at the Installation. The guest speaker for their meeting the night I was there is a very interesting person - Samuel Angelo, a Freeholder from Nutley who appeared with Neil Fitzpatrick. Blast and Thunderation - I misplaced his business card, but hope to pass the information on to you readers shortly, as Sam is a very compelling speaker and will be happy to visit your group, explaining about the jobs of Freeholders.

Westley Methodist Church, Washington Ave. at Academy St., has a lot going - (1) Church School for all ages, (2) nursery school so parents may attend Church services (3) Ecumenical Youth Group (which combines with Fewsmith Presbyterian Church) and (4) a Junior High and (5) Senior High group...always something for everyone.

Jim Cozzarelli had a birthday party earlier this month, and just about everybody was there...Frank and Angie Cozzarelli, Joe and Antoinette Cozzarelli, Vin and Ray Cozzarelli, Joe and Mary Padula, Rev. Albert Alspach and the lovely Jeanette Dwyer - Jim's special friend, Jim's sister Annette will be 13 next month, his other sister JoAnne Strafasi and her husband Sal heralded the arrival of their first born child, Jeanine and on September 27 (that's today...Jim's mother Olympia celebrates her birthday).....

Tony Giampetro, who owns the candy store on the corner of Union and Overlook, returned from a traveling vacation...welcome back. Tony visited with his daughter and son in law, Mary Ann and Arthur Assantes - who are expecting their second child, in Manchester Connecticut for two weeks. Then he spent some time with his son Anthony and his wife Lanora who welcomed their first child - David John in August. The family live in Franklin Township and the new arrival weighed in at 10 lbs - 1/2 oz.

I would especially like all you club program chairmen to read "Sparkling Personality" this week - it's about Steve and Evelyn Frank, and they could present a unique program for you.

LAST WEEK, stopped in at Congregation Ahavath Achim, where they were holding a Chinese Auction to raise funds for their educational projects. Very busy ladies there were chairmen of the event - Mrs. Dave Robins and Mrs. William Taffet. Also saw Carol Yudin helping out and there were about 400 in the audience!

I hate to harp again, but this week, I threw out three articles for the Belleville Bulletin Board, because they came too late. Remember, I must have your information early - even if you phone it in.

Here's an interesting young man about town - 13-year-old James Graham, son of Susan and James who is in the ninth grade at BJHS. This past weekend James danced at the Garden State Arts Center, for the Scottish Heritage Day, with three girls from Kearny. Last June, he won an award for dancing at the Art Expo there and he spent four weeks in Scotland, returning home with five medals for dancing. Two of his brothers, John - eighth grader at the Jr. High and Malcolm, a fifth grade student at School Nine, also are dancers. James has a younger brother, Robert who attends School Four - congratulations for a job well done.

Bob Monaghan wants me to make sure you all know he has recently purchased a flagpole and flag which he flies proudly - "all the time, not just holidays"...That's the spirit, Bob.

Stopped for Lunch at the Princeton Bowl on Joralemon Street, and Kay and Margie - the busy and friendly waitresses there - want me to spread the word..."Soup's on!" Seems during the summer no soup was served during lunch, so c'mon back and slurp some soup.

Hello to Albert H. Rafta, Jr. who is the president of Rafta Machine Company Inc. on Stephens Street. The firm makes machinery for the sheet metal industry - nice to meet you.

Oh, boy, that Lou Diaz gets around saw his pic in the Star Ledger recently. He was attending a New Jersey Men's Retailer Merchandise Mart. Lou, of course, heads Louaires Men's Shops on the Avenue.

MR. NICE GUY

When a group of your employees get together and throw a retirement dinner for you - dot's nice. But - when you're not ready to retire yet, and they give you a Testimonial Dinner just because you're you...that's tremendous! William VanEmburch of Van Reyper Place was feted by many of the "boys he had worked with" on September 14 at the Robin Hood Inn. The invitation is in Van's honor long before he thinks of retiring... (though we doubt he ever will)" Van has worked all over the country entering new firms, training young blood, teaching, guiding and showing his "boys" how it's done. Van has worked for such firms as Delica, Weston and Federal Sweet, in a top executive capacity and says, "Sales is my forte"

Knowing Van, he just likes people and it shows. He feels there is little enough people do to help each other, so he always comes on strong when help is needed, such as helping Ken Smith at Boystown a few years back. Van and his wife "Sally" have three married daughters - Adeline Brehm, Dorothy Goodrich and Marilyn Azberger; five grandchildren - Bill Brehm, Bonnie Smith, Gary and Tom Johnston and Lee Goodrich, and two great grandchildren - Wendy Brehm and Christopher Todd Smith.

$172,056 In SLEPA Funds Received

Essex County Grant Aimed At Drug Traffic

Essex County will initiate a coordinated, county-wide drive against illegal drug operations with the aid of a $172,056 grant from the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency.

The grant was one of six totaling $565,881 awarded by SLEPA for anti-crime projects in the county. Other grants will support youth service programs in the county and in West Orange and police service projects in Irvington and Orange.

The drug enforcement grant will and the County Prosecutor's Office in the establishment of a full time regional force that will operate in all of the county's 21 municipalities. It will raise to nine the number of counties to set up such units with the aid of SLEPA funds.

The program is designed to overcome problems created by municipal and geo-political boundaries and limited resources. Manpower will be drawn from the prosecutor's and county detective staffs and from the detective bureaus of Newark and other municipalities. Narcotics violations in Essex have been increasing steadily over the past five years. Officials say enforcement efforts have been hampered by lack of sufficient intelligence, frequent duplicative efforts by individual municipalities and the lack of men who aren't recognizable by offenders.

Essex will use a $116,988 grant to continue for a third year the Probationfields project which provides alternatives to incarceration for youngsters. Designed for youths who don't respond satisfactorily to regular probation supervision, the program provides a variety of counseling and treatment services.

A third year grant of $73,-

Minish Bill Would Survey Energy Crisis

Congressman Joseph G. Minish will introduce legislation shortly calling for the establishment of a Joint Congressional Committee on Energy.

Citing the invaluable service rendered by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and those on taxation and the economic report, Minish declared that the urgent and complex nature of the energy crisis demanded the creation of a similar specialized committee.

Congressman Minish pointed out that the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy was established by the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 because of the nature of the subject. It has maintained complete jurisdiction over atomic energy legislation and has been described in terms of its sustained influence in Congress, its impact and influence on the Executive and its accomplishments, as probably the most powerful congressional committee in the history of the nation.

"The energy crisis in 1973," Minish stated, "demands a similar crash program to develop U.S. energy sources and thwart the effort of the Arab states to play oil politics. All our major problems — security, the dollar, trade — are woven into the energy problem. It is estimated that within the next three years there will be a $17.5 billion balance-of-payments deficit from imports of petroleum alone. Moreover, the hefty increases now demanded by the 11 major oil exporting companies, if granted, would inevitably push up drastically the cost to the American people of gasoline and fuel oil."

After years of concentrating solely on supplying the energy to the consumer as quickly as possible, Minish pointed out that now we are compelled to face up to replacement cost, foreign exchange, national security, and environmental factors.

Gov. Cahill Proclaims National Highway Week

Governor William T. Cahill has proclaimed the week of September 23 to 29 as National Highway Week in New Jersey.

In his proclamation the Governor noted that this year's national slogan is "Better Roads, Better Living" and "better living means more than luxuries, for highways deliver goods and services that are the necessities to live."

947 will support educational activities of the Essex Youth House. Approximately 300 residents entered equivalency training programs during the past year. The program, which also includes special reading assistance, has resulted in more than 70 youths returning to school or going to college.

West Orange's model youth services bureau project was awarded a $90,007 grant. The

MAYBE (Many Aiding Youth By Experience) program has provided services for nearly 400 youngsters during its first two years of SLEPA funding and has been credited with helping to produce a 26 percent decrease in juvenile crime activity.

According to the West Orange Police Department which sponsors the project, only 55 percent of the 181 youngsters referred to the program during the past year were involved in further offenses.

Irvington will utilize a $65,417 grant to establish a police special crime alleviation team that will utilize computerized data to pre-position forces to meet forecasted criminal activity. Irvington reports increases of 195 percent in aggravated assault offenses and 450 percent in robberies since 1967.

The Orange Police Department also will implement an automated data system for allocation of police resources with the aid of a $47,276 SLEPA grant.

Grant's Will Be Grant City

Robert Roblenski, Manager of the Grant Store at 345 Franklin Avenue, today announced that his store is one of more than 450 in the 1,200 store W.T. Grant chain of general merchandise stores that is officially changing its designation to "Grant City". Identification on the store front and in all its advertising will carry the "Grant City" name.

Roblenski noted that his Company in the past five years has opened many large new stores across the country; "stores big enough to offer its customers full lines of apparel, housewares, home needs and major appliances, along with everyday family needs. It is our management's conviction that there are now sufficient number of such larger stores to provide them with special merchandising and promotion...make them dramatically different from the smaller Grant stores which offer limited lines of merchandise," he stated.

THE ORIGINAL — Shown here is the first Grant's store, opened by W.T. Grant himself 67 years ago in Lynn, Mass. Today there are more than 1,200 stores across the country. The Belleville store, like 450 others, has expanded and changed its name to Grant City.

Start Perennials In September For Good Results

A perennial flower border can provide color and interest in your garden from early spring until late fall.

September is a good time to start a perennial border. This soil is in good condition for planting and the plants should be well established before cold weather sets in. Most perennials grow well in full sun.

Plant the smaller perennials in groups to provide plenty of color when they bloom, advises William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County. Iris, coralbells, poppies, and garden pinks are examples of flowers which are better in groups.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

One To Grow On

As a part of the emphasis being given to child mental health nationally and through local and state community services, the National Institute of Mental Health has launched a new program called, "One To Grow On."

The program is to help teachers bring mental health to their classrooms. The idea for the program grew out of the basic concern parents, teachers, and mental health workers have for decreasing the need for "specialists" by helping to prevent the child from becoming "special" in the first place.

A teacher who is sensitive to the young person's needs and feelings, and appreciates his skills, can provide important help in promoting positive mental health which prevents mental illness.

More time is spent with children and parents by teachers than by any other professional group.

In many instances, the teacher is representative of the community for the child. The school, therefore, has the potential to help a child understand his and others' dependencies, feelings, tears, and joy.

Teachers can help children understand why people act as they do. They can help a child develop self-esteem and an understanding of what are good and bad human relations.

Classroom mental health holds the potential for enhancing every child's ability to develop his humanness, skill in decision-making, empathy and concern for other people, self-understanding, and a sense of responsibility.

Although still in the developmental stage, the "One To Grow On" program is planning to include instructional texts, films, discussion guides, and other materials for which teachers express a need.

Teachers, parents, and, indeed, anyone with ideas to contribute — or who wish further information — may write to "One To Grow On," NIMH, Room 15-99, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

Peonies, chrysanthemums, and New England asters can be planted separately since each plant produces a large clump with many flowers.

Transplant peonies this month. Chrysanthemums can also be purchased now in bud or bloom. Iris and daylilies can also be planted now as well as spring-flowering bulbs and lilies. You can complete your perennial garden next April.

NJHA Head Has Praised Mountainside

The President of the New Jersey Hospital Association (NJHA) has praised the Mountainside Hospital leadership for its "considerable foresight and responsive attitude" upon the official opening of its new Schumann Pavilion.

Speaking on behalf of the state's 143 other health care institutions, Jack W. Owen, said that Mountainside's new pavilion "is testimony to a healthy relationship between the hospital and the communities it serves."

Dedication events at the hospital included a medical symposium on Saturday September 22 and formal ceremonies on Sunday September 23.

The Schumann Pavilion, a major segment of Mountainside's $22 million program of expansion and renovation, houses a comprehensive array of expanded ancillary services and 106 beds, raising that institution's bed capacity to 469.

"The construction was made possible largely through the generosity of the Schumann Family of Montclair, the Schumann Foundation and many other donors," Owen continued. "It is the support of the community-at-large that serves to motivate and buoy the health care professional and institution."

Owen noted that the opening of the Schumann Pavilion represents "yet another example of the brand of competency and leadership regularly displayed by John C. Imhoff at both the state and local level."

Imhoff is executive vice president of Mountainside and a member of the board of trustees of the New Jersey Hospital Association.

Little Work Can Restore Wornout Lawn

With only a little work you may be able to restore a thin, yellow, rundown lawn to its original attractive condition. And this is just the time of year to do it. According to William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County, you can turn your lawn into one you'll be proud of it contains at least half of the desirable lawn grasses. These are Kentucky bluegrass and red fescue.

First, eliminate weeds, Mr. Munk suggests. Use such chemicals as 2, 4, -D or 2, 4, 5-TP (silvex) to get rid of the broad-leaf weeds that most lawns have.

If you have neglected liming your lawn during the last three years, apply ground limestone at the rate of 75 pounds to 1,000 square feet.

Fertilize in early September and again in early October at 10 pounds to 1,000 square feet of 10-6-4. Or be more precise and fertilize according to the results of a soil test from your county extension service.

If you use weed killer allow two weeks for the chemical to disappear, then re-seed bare areas or those that have less than desirable grass.

Vic's Citgo Station: A Nice Place to Visit

Where's a nice place to visit? According to TV ads, it's a Citgo station. According to residents in town, it's Vic's Citgo, 485 Washington Avenue.

Vic Fazzari's Citgo Station on the corners of Little Street and Washington Avenue has been a nice place to visit since he started business on February 21, 1968. Due to his pleasant manner, and expertise in the mechanical field, his business has become the place to go...when your car won't.

Vic is a native of Newark and, after some time in the National Guard and the U.S. Special Forces, he continued his schooling to gain more knowledge in his chosen field. He attended Vocational School, Bloomfield Tech., Lincoln Tech and then management School, sponsored by Cito. He also took a course given by Delco, for brakes. Keeping up with what's new to offer the customer better service, he recently installed pollution check equipment - a service which the state may make mandatory for motorists - checking your car and repairing it against pollution.

Vic specializes in tuneups, brake work, electrical work, exhaust and preventive maintenance for car owners. He was nominated twice by the New Jersey Petroleum Council for the "cleanest station in his category" no mean feat, when you consider the contest encompasses all oil companies in the state. He is a member of the Jaycees and the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, and has a brother, Vinnie who works with him.

He and his wife, Toni, have two children, Christie Anne, is a second grade student at School Five, Anthony Victor is two years old.

Due to the present gasoline shortage, the hours of Vic's Citgo Station, right now are: Monday to Friday 7-7 and Saturdays, 7-4. They are closed on Sunday. For information on repairs, call Vic at 759-9781.

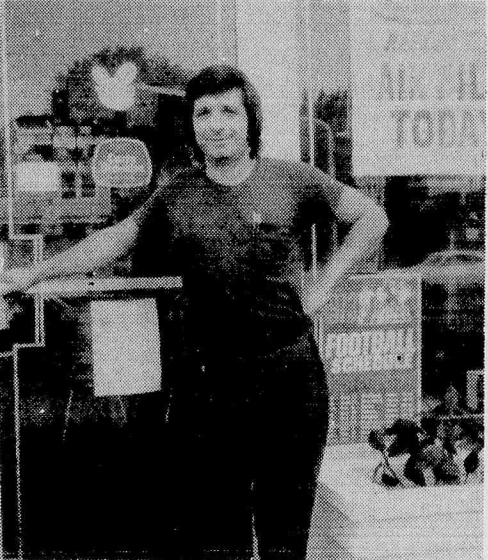

Montclair Museum Sets American Art Lectures

A series of lectures on American art in the 19th century will be given at the Montclair Art Museum on Thursday mornings beginning October 4.

Kevin Killeen Is Promoted To Corporal

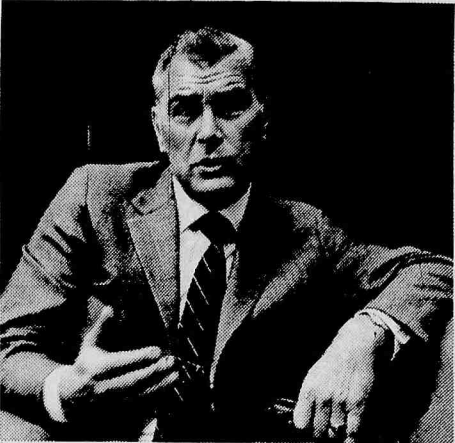

Marine Cpl. Kevin M. Killeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Killeen of 59 Hornblower Street, Belleville, was promoted to his present rank while serving at Marine Corps Base here.

A 1970 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1971.

“People expect more from the phone company.

So being good isn't good enough.”

Our job is to provide you with telephone service that is ever more reliable, convenient and enjoyable to use. How well we do it will depend on our success in many areas. But none is so important as the performance of our people.

At New Jersey Bell we do a lot of talking about 'spirit of service.' It's easy to see this spirit in action during storms and natural disasters when telephone employees work round-the-clock to get service back in order. Or when a telephone operator spends agonizing minutes on the line trying to calm a frightened child.

These examples come readily to mind. And rightly so. But what about the everyday commitment to service?

Some people feel it died back in the fifties. And not just at the phone company. They say people don't care these days. And that 'telephone employees aren't what they used to be.' Well, they're not. Our people look, think and act differently. They fill different roles, too. As a result, we now have male operators and female craftsmen.

In the old days, corporate concepts about devotion to duty and spirit of service were clear-cut and accepted without question. Not so today. Telephone people— young and old alike— now ask questions and demand answers. They want to know why doing something one way is better than another. They want to know that their work is meaningful and important in terms of service to others.

And this is good. Because it leads to better performance; makes for a better working atmosphere; and results in a better end product.

Sure, technology plays a large part in our business. But even the best technology in the world is only as good as the people who put it to use.

That's why we rely so heavily on the individual performances of our people. And why we back them up with good training and the most modern equipment possible.

It's also why we're spending over one million dollars every working day on construction programs. Building new facilities and expanding existing ones. We're developing new equipment, new training methods. By 1974 we plan to complete our new multi-million dollar training center.

All these things will help us do a good job. But people are, and always will be, our most valuable resource. People make the difference.

I'm proud of today's telephone people. They're better educated, better trained. And they're faced with a job that is much more complex than it was years ago. I think they have done a good job of meeting that challenge. But people have always expected more from the telephone company. So being good isn't good enough.

Our people know this. And because they're concerned and committed to helping you, they're going all out to do the best job possible.

Finding Entertainment Is Their Specialty

Meet the husband and wife team of Evelyn M. and Steve H. Frank. For many years, the couple's avocation has been in the theatrical field, where they are personal representatives for entertainers. Their services, titled "Gateway to Pleasure" will provide you with a belly dancer, comedian, and any number of bands from one person to a whole group.

Steve Frank had his own band for about 20 years, the "Blue Devils". Employed with the Wallace & Tiernan firm in town, he spends his spare hours on his hobby - placing bands and entertainers for programs, dances and the like. When he retires from business in a few years, he smiles and says "this will keep me busy." He stresses the fact that the talent he promotes is reliable and consistent - most of them having been in business more than seven years. He is very particular about the clients he represents, so he may offer to the public "only the very best." Steve is available to lecture before any civic, social or other group in town on entertainment possibilities; he may be reached at 759-2130.

Evelyn is employed by Walter Kidde & Co. in Belleville and is a member of the EMD, The Woman's Club of Belleville. She has helped her husband with publicity, telephone calls, and placing their clients in programs. The couple will send you information on available entertainers if you wish. Their mailing list covers the entire state and their services have been used by many veteran organizations as well as civic and social clubs.

Some of the talent they represent include such bands as "Notesmen," "Billie Kile" and "Mickey Sirs" and the Franks can fill your requirements whether for a one man band or an entire group. All types of music is played, including, smiled Evelyn, "one night we had a request for Greek music, which isn't easy to play, but we filled the job."

Also, Jay Renee - a magician; the "Puppeteers" for children's programs and "Tara" who presents an Oriental Dance, lectures on the advantages of Belly Dancing and instructs in the interesting art.

The Franks children include son Stephen and his wife Stella of Freedom, New York, with their children - Stephen, III, Cole, Eric, Curtis and Robert; daughter Jean and her husband Ken Hawkins of Jersey City with their three children - Evelyn, Terri and Kenneth; daughter Susan Wolfe, and her daughter Erika of town and son Charles and his wife Lin of Winchester, New Hampshire with their three children - Solange, Javed and Raoul.

LOOKING for entertainment? You can hire a comedian, band or belly dancer for your next party by calling Steve and Evelyn Frank.

Historic Walking Tour for Seniors

Senior Citizens are invited to be honored guests of The Essex County Cultural-Heritage Commission, in the first of a planned series of walking tours of historic sites. The tour will take place on Saturday, Oct. 13, beginning at 1 p.m. on the steps of City Hall, with a welcome from Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson, and ending at Sacred Heart Cathedral with an organ concert by Mr. John Rose.

Ms. Mazie Biasi, chairman of the Commission, promised that the initial walk has been carefully designed for the enjoyment of senior men and women through a path of glorious Newark landmarks which are both significant for their historic and architectural value, and for their familiarity to long-time residents.

Six of the most interesting edifices in Newark will be visited en route. Every consideration has been given for the senior guests, including rests and refreshments, and transportation between sites too far to walk with ease.

The recent success of the "Midnight Tour of Historic Sights of Newark" served as inspiration for the County and Social Agencies to continue this kind of program. Once it was decided that the first tour would be for older adults, a group of sponsors was invited to meet at the office of the Cultural-Heritage Commission, in the Hall of Records in Newark, to plan the special event.

Guaranteed.

National Newark & Essex Bank's Guaranteed 7% Four Year Savings Certificates of Deposit yield 7.35% annually with our daily compounding.

Sure, other banks are advertising high-interest Certificates of Deposit...but read the fine print. In many cases, those interest rates are tied to other rates such as Treasury Bills which may go down in the next four years. So what may have started out as a 7% or 8% Certificate could fall to the regular passbook rates.

Our 7% interest rate on $1,000 minimum deposit Certificates is guaranteed for the full four years.

Daily compounding of interest results in an effective annual yield of 7.35% on your savings if your money remains on deposit for a year and the accumulated interest is not withdrawn.

Should you wish to make a withdrawal of the Certificate before maturity, you're still entitled to do so. Federal law and regulation permit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity if three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate.

So if you've got $1,000 or more you can spare for four years, why not take out a 7% Certificate of Deposit with us? The nice thing about it is, it's guaranteed.

We're your size bank.

Blank West Essex, 14-0

Blue-Gold Eleven Snap Wishbone; Grab Onto Another This Saturday

by Ken Moore

After snapping one wishbone last Saturday, the Blue-Gold gridders will try to crack a tougher one when they host the Bloomfield Bengals Saturday at Municipal Stadium.

Sam Cavallaro's Bengal's are not only bigger than the West Essex Knights defeated by the Bellboys 14-0, but are known to be more adept at the flashy wishbone offense than last weekend's foes, who never crossed the Belleville goal line.

Coaches and fans came away satisfied and much encouraged by the Bellboy performance Saturday, which warmed up from a lax first half to a power packed second stanza which saw quarterback Bill Telesco shoot two short passes to back Joe Napolitano and end Vinnie Lipoma for the winning scores.

Though inexperience showed through in many plays, said head coach Rocco Cafone, breakdowns were not total, and he indicated both offensive and defensive units are off to a healthy start for the season.

"Especially in the first half, there were some breakdowns in the offensive and defensive line, and we had the ball in terrible field position the whole time," said Cafone. "But the mistakes were being made by one man at a time — it wasn't the whole units collapsing — and these single errors can be corrected."

The game started off with West Essex's Brian Nelson kicking a blooper into the Belleville front ranks and the Knights to steal the attack. "After we looked at the game films, the kick seemed to be an intentional outside kick," said Cafone. "Our guys were on it, but it just squirted away from them. They took the offense and all through the half, we just couldn't get out of our hole. We couldn't generate offensively, or go to a wide-open offense."

The strongest inroad made by the Knights came in the first half when they forced Belleville to take their punt and move the ball from the three-yard line.

"Both teams made a lot of mistakes in that first half," said Cafone, "but when we went to the locker room at the break, we took each unit and went over the mistakes. And when we came back out in the second half, we had their backs to the wall."

A march down the field with Bill Telesco alternating with Jim Di Modica at the quarterback spot saw passes going to Steve Senatore and Anthony Nicosea, who combined on the ground with Napolitano to take the ball inside the ten, where the drive sputtered. But a fumble by West Essex's Bob Lossasso was scooped up by Joe LaValle and the stage was set once again for Telesco to hit Napolitano for an eight-yard touchdown pass. Telesco booted for the extra point.

With the clock running out, West Essex took to the air, but Jim Mauncele was in to steal another Lossasso fumble, and the Bellboys went on the attack again.

All backs shared the chores in a march down the field, and Cafone credits the ground pressure with opening up the way for the Telesco-Lipoma TD pass, which was called on the field by the senior quarterback after Lipoma saw he was being neglected by Knight defenders.

"It was an ideal moment to call the play," said the coach. Bill made a short fake to the middle and that brought the linebackers up."

Cafone doubts that an aerial attack alone will bring down the Bengals Saturday. "We couldn't win on a short passing game. We've got to have balance. That's how we scored with Lipoma, for instance. Those linebackers were sucked up and he was open for the pass. They would have had the area covered if we weren't pressing on the ground. We've got to make the running game go if we're going to score with the passes."

Fans Saturday can expect to see a ground-chewing attack from Bloomfield in the wishbone offense, which also works from a power-T. Cavallaro, who compiled a 3-4-2 record last year using a wishbone, has the potent runner Wayne Ripley as one of his six returning lettermen, along with Mike Casale. Though last season's mark didn't measure up to Bloomfield's fine reputation, Cavallaro explained that bad weather and injuries had combined to undermine the Bengal progress. "The wishbone is no good in bad weather," he explained, and was not encouraged by reports that showers may continue into the weekend. So far, he said, there are no injuries on the team.

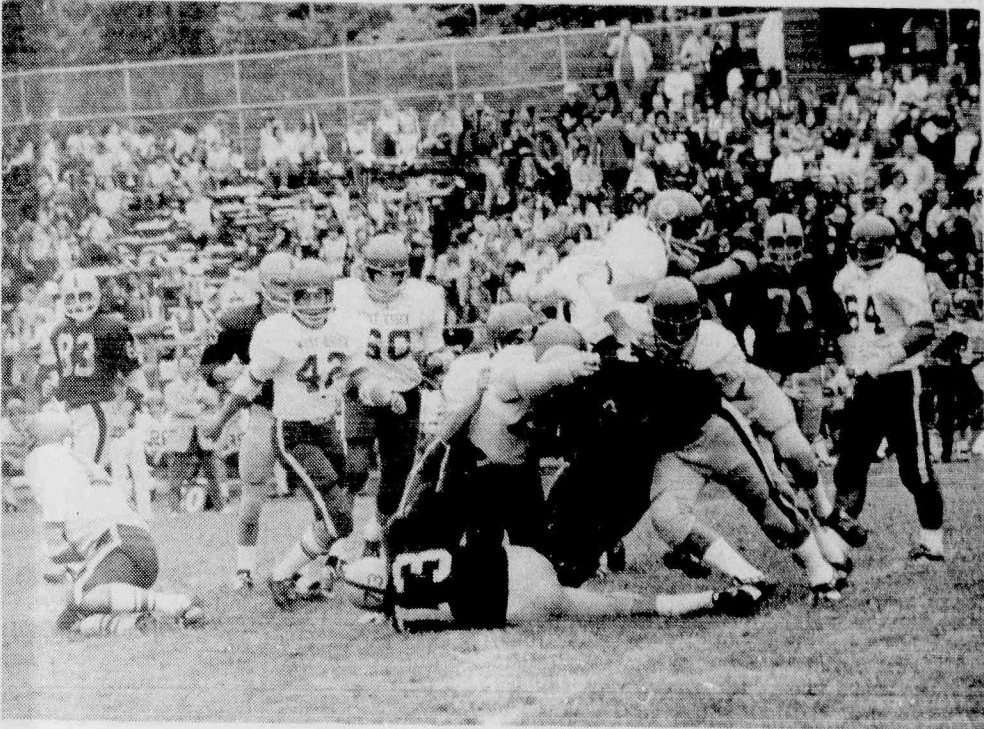

The Bengals are coming off a 7-7 tie with Seton Hall last Saturday, and in that game Seton Hall scored their goal after capitalizing on a Bloomfield fumble.

Cavallaro has heard that Telesco's arm is accurate, but claims his Arkansas slant defense with its five-man line will be able to handle the aerials.

"Our scouts thought Bloomfield was better than Seton Hall," said Cafone, "and Sam Cavallaro is always prepared. Also, they've got a very big team. They have one returning tackle, Tripucka, who's listed at 6-7, 245 pounds. We have nobody to compare with that kind of stuff."

Cafone has already impressed his squad with the football fact of life that they're going to be number two, sizewise, throughout the season, and they'll have to try harder. Both coaches expect the neighboring-town rivalry to pump up emotions for the game.

Looking at individual performances from last Saturday, Cafone said, "all our backfield men showed pretty well, although there were some breakdowns. Jim LaConte and Joe Cerza, who both came off a layoff last season, did very well. And Steve Gerard in the defensive secondary was knocking passes down right and left in the second half."

BEARING A LOAD of West Essex tacklers, Joe Napolitano works for those few extra inches of ground that make the difference between a first down or a punt. Action is in the third quarter.

Columbia Cougars Pack Top To Hand Local Harriers Loss

by Bob Cohen

The Belleville High School Harriers, despite a valiant team effort, were defeated last Friday by the Columbia Cougars 34-21 in a race that was held at Cameron Field in South Orange.

The results of the race, though recorded as a defeat, shows the progress that this year's squad has made over last year's team. Last year's meet, which was held in Belleville ended in a 50-15 loss to the Cougars. However, this year's run was a lot closer than the score might indicate.

Jim Davis and Jim Somers crossed the finish line simultaneously as Columbia recorded first and second place in the meet. The two juniors finished their race at 17:46.

The position of third place was very critical if there was to be any hope for the Bellboys and it turned out to be one of the more exciting finishes of the day. Involved in this ending were seniors Bill Goodwin of Belleville and Kevin Reiss of Columbia. However it proved to be a Cougar day as Reiss nipped Goody at the wire to finish up at 18:11 as opposed to Goodwin's 18:13.

Next came Cougar Mike Butterly at 18:56, but the next four runners to cross were all from Belleville: Nelson Seda, Steve Budrick, Jim Beck and Walt Siubis. Their time ranged from 19:09 to 19:25.

But the race was decided when Columbia finished 1-2-3,

Coach at Paul VI CYO Leagues Form Is Belleville Man

A quartet of new assistant football coaches have been appointed at Paul VI High School in Clifton according to an announcement made by the Rev. Thomas Suchon, director of the school.

Joining head coach Mickey Guarduci and returning assistant coach Tom Meierhofer on the grid staff are: Joe Tesei, of Belleville, Rich McDermott, of Clifton, Tom Brogan, of Clifton, and Tony Popple, of Orange.

Tesei, 23, will be the offensive back coach. He played varsity ball for three years at Bloomfield High before graduating to Seton Hall where he also participated in football. Tesei competed for the Pirates on the gridiron for four campaigns and was co-captain in his senior year as the Hall went 8-1.

Punt, Pass and Kick Deadline Tomorrow

There are just two days remaining for youngsters in Belleville and Nutley to register for the local Punt, Pass & Kick competition.

Mead Ford, Ford Dealer sponsoring the popular youth activity in this area, said that registrations would be taken through Friday, September 28. The Belleville and Nutley PP&K Competition is scheduled for Saturday. For location and time contact the Nutley Jaycees or Mead Ford in Belleville.

"Although time is growing short, any youngster eight through 13 years of age can still compete," said George H. Mead, Jr. "All a contestant need do is come into our showroom, accompanied by a parent or guardian, and fill out the PP&K registration form. There's no entry fee or charge of any kind, and that goes for all six levels of competition, up to and including the National Finals."

The Ford Dealer pointed out that trophies will be awarded for first, second, and third place in the local competition in each of the six age groups. Increasing the youngster's chances of winning one of the 18 trophies is the fact that each contestant competes only against others of the same age. And since there is no body contact, an entrant's size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place-kick for distance with accuracy.

"Winners can continue on up through the zone, District, Area and Division contest to the National Finals," the Ford Dealer said. "It's possible that one or more of our Local winners could wind up in the Finals, which will be held at the Super Bowl Game in Houston on January 13."

"Registering for PP&K right now in our dealership could mean all that for some youngster or youngster here in Belleville or Nutley but they should register right now," the dealer concluded.

Sixteen parishes have entered teams thus far for the Essex County CYO's Grammar School Boys' Basketball League.

Registrations are still being taken for the Crammar School Girls and Senior Girls' leagues.

OFFENSIVE VEHICLE sputtered throughout the first two quarters, but moved all over the field in the second. In this picture, Anthony Nicosea (35) has taken the ball from quarterback Bill Telesco (11) and moves behind the blocking of Steve Senatore (22) and Joe Napolitano (33).

Ration Fuel First Half; Explode in Second

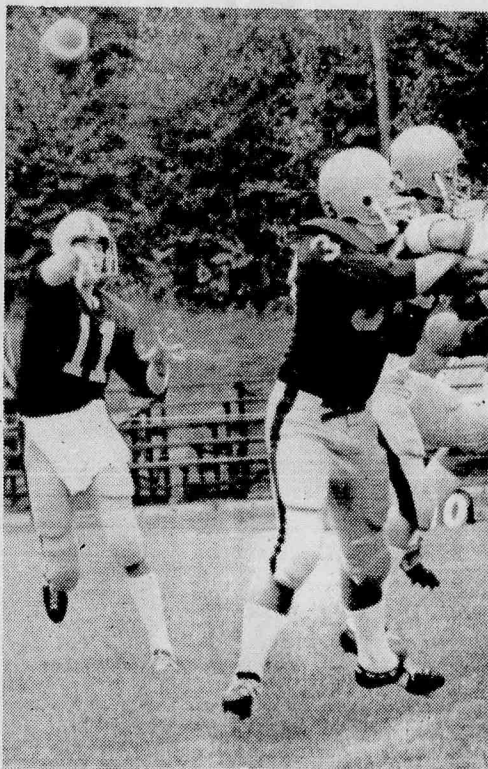

THE SCORES — The end results of two drives into West Essex territory are shown here. At the right, end Vinnie Lipoma legs it out after snaring ring Telesco's aerial, and on the right, Joe Napolitano dives backwards over the goal line.

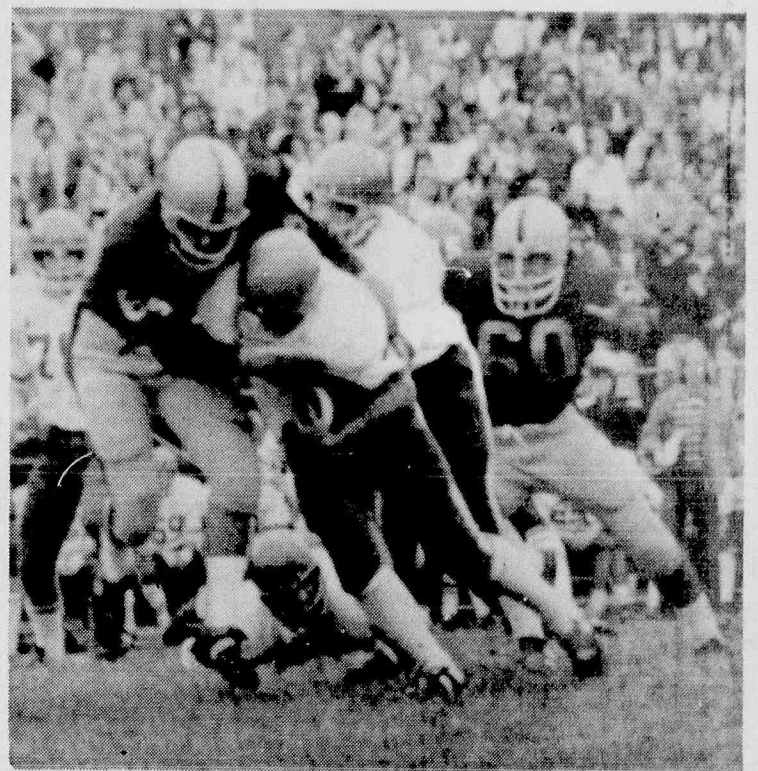

BALL BATTER — Pass defense held up well through the afternoon. Steve Gerard (16) is shown here as he swats down two Knight bombs. His cohort, Jerry Giordano, pulled down an interception late in the first half.

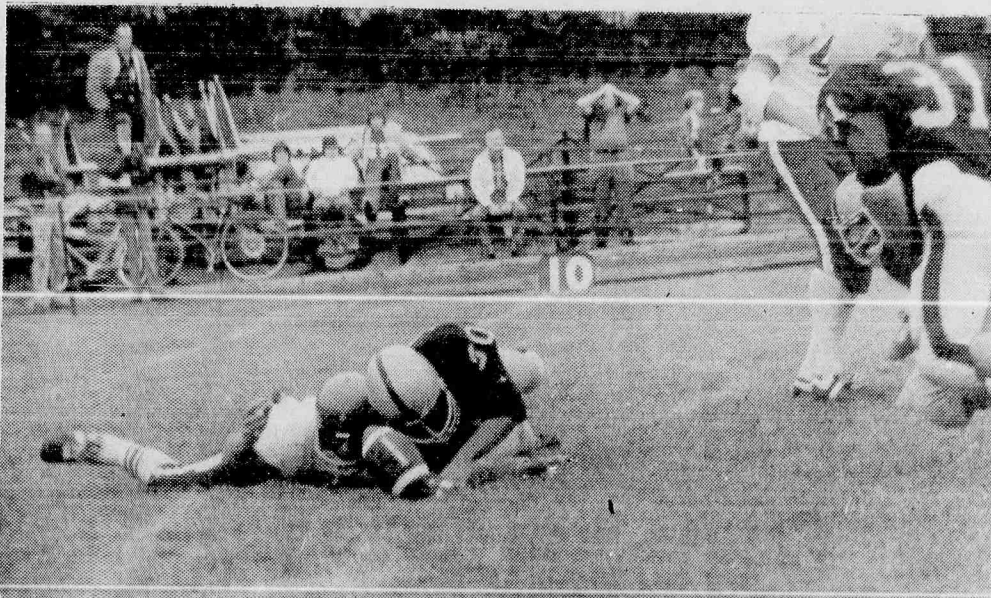

A PRETTY LINEUP — Belleville High twirlers take the field during halftime activities. They were part of the large contingent of marching entertainers sent by Belleville High.

FIELD GENERAL Bill Telesco lets loose a pass as Napolitano and Senatore provide the blocking.

"COME WITH ME, PAL" — Jim LaConti bulldogs an unidentified West Essex runner as Gary Goglia moves up to assist. LaConti, coming off a one-season layoff, was singled out by Cafone for his work Saturday.

A BREAK came late in the third quarter when Joe LaValle (50) knocked the ball from Knight quarterback Lossasso's grip and recovered the pigskin. Moving in at the right is Jim Mauncele (31), who later was able to claim a recovery himself.

COACH CAFONE is hoping he'll keep that happy look on his face all season. Among the many Bellboys shown here are Allen Cervasio (44) and Joe Napolitano (33) as the gridders cross the field to meet their rivals at game's end.

Although phonographs have reached a stage where they need very little attention, once in a while they also need repair.

The most vulnerable item is the record changer, the mechanism is a little complicated. In time the oil and grease which is needed on the moving parts, accumulates dust and "gums up," as we say in the trade. Gradually the drag cuts down on the speed. Many people do not hear the change in the tone, while others are keenly aware of the changed pitch. If this happens, it is almost invariably due to the gumming up of the grease and oil, which has to be cleaned out. It is not enough just to put some more oil or grease on the moving parts, the old gum has to be cleaned out first. Manufacturers recommend that this should be done every two years. If the drag becomes too great, the motor may be damaged and the rubber drive wheels have to be replaced, and this can run into some money. Given this little attention, a record changer will last for a long time. Although a record changer will take 10 records if they are perfectly flat and not warped, we suggest that you load it up with no more than 4 or 5 records.

The same goes for the stylus. If your records are clean, this will also last a long time. If the records have accumulated dust in the grooves this acts like grit and in time will wear out the hardest substance, even a diamond. It is a good policy to check the diamond stylus periodically, depending on the amount of use the changer gets. A worn stylus is bound to damage the record.

Fall Is Hurricane Season

(Fall is hurricane season, and Belleville Civil Defense Director James La Motta recently issued the following information in order to keep Bellevilleites prepared for any emergency. — Ed.)

"Alice", the first tropical storm of 1973 made her debut early this summer but died a few days later when she ran out of wind.

Acting Director J. Morgan Van Hise of the State Civil Defense-Disaster Control Division, however, had issued annual precautions to New Jersey residents on the hurricane season.

"The Environmental Services Science Administration

(ESSA), the federal agency responsible for tracking hurricanes, warns that other ladies are waiting to make frontpage news — as hurricanes," Van Hise said. "Additionally, hurricanes that strike the Eastern United States are born in the tropical and subtropical North Atlantic Ocean, the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico. Although the Atlantic hurricane season is from June to November, most occur in August, September and October."

The State official said residents are advised to use common sense, the primary requisite for safety during the hurricane season. A hurricane causes sea level to rise above normal tidal heights, with giant wind driven waves and strong unpredictable currents.

• Know the elevation of your property above mean sea level.

• Have a safe evacuation route planned.

• Learn the storm history for your area.

State CD-DC, working in conjunction with ESSA, is making copies available of a wallet-sized card entitled, "Survival in a Hurricane." They may be obtained at local and county CD-DC offices or by writing to the New Jersey Division of CD-DC, Eggert Crossing Road, P.O. Box 979, Trenton, N.J. 08625.

Also a limited supply of a booklet "Hurricane Information and Atlantic Tracking Chart," is available from the same source.

By international agreement, "tropical cyclone" is the general term for all cyclonic circulations originating over tropical waters, classified by form and intensity as follows:

"Tropical disturbance:" rotary circulation slight or absent at surface but sometimes better developed aloft, no closed isobars (lines of equal atmospheric pressure) and no strong winds, a common phenomenon in the tropics.

"Tropical depression:" one or more closed isobars and some rotary circulation at surface, highest wind speed 39 miles per hour (34 knots).

"Tropical storm:" closed isobars, distinct rotary circulation, highest wind speed 39-73 miles per hour (34-63 knots).

"Hurricane:" closed isobars, strong and very pronounced rotary circulation, wind speed of 74 miles per hour (64 knots) or more.

"Hurricane watch:" If the hurricane continues its advance and threatens coastal and inland regions, a hurricane watch is added to the advisory, covering a specified area and duration. A hurricane watch means that hurricane conditions are a real possibility; it does not mean they are imminent. When a hurricane watch is issued, everyone in the area covered by the watch should listen for further advisories and be prepared to act quickly if hurricane warnings are issued.

"Hurricane warning:" When hurricane conditions are expected within 24 hours, a hurricane warning is added to the advisory. Hurricane warnings identify coastal areas where winds of at least 74 miles per hour are expected to occur. A warning may also describe coastal areas where dangerously high water or exceptionally high waves are forecast, even though winds may be less than hurricane force.

When the hurricane warning is issued, all precautions should be taken immediately. Hurricane warnings are seldom issued more than 24 hours in advance. If the hurricane's path is unusual or erratic, the warnings may be issued only a few hours before the beginning of hurricane conditions. Precautionary actions should begin as soon as a hurricane warning is announced.

"Small-craft warning:" When a hurricane moves within a few hundred miles of the coast, advisories warn small-craft operators to take precautions and not to venture into the open ocean.

"Gale warning:" when winds of 38-55 miles per hour (33-48 knots) are expected, a gale warning is added to the advisory message.

Town Officials Push For Railroad Flagmen

The Town of Belleville has been engaged since 1971 in a legal dispute with the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad, which has sought to remove flagmen from the grade crossing at Belmont Avenue and Franklin Street.

Last Thursday, Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo and Town Attorney John Scott attended a hearing of the Public Utilities Commission on the question.

The town in an earlier proceeding had been successful in convincing the Public Utilities Commission that additional protection would be needed at the Belmont Avenue and Franklin Street crossing. The Erie Railroad, however, petitioned the Department of Public Utilities for a re-hearing claiming that it did not have sufficient monies to add the extra protection that was ordered. The Board of Public Utilities had ordered that one flagman be provided at each side of the crossings.

Commissioner Strumolo testified at the recent hearing and pointed out there were two schools and one church in the immediate vicinity of the grade crossings. He stressed the fact that Franklin Street was a county road with very heavy pedestrian and vehicular traffic. The Commissioner added that with the development of the Path Mark store in the area, additional traffic and pedestrians were using the crossings.

Attorney Scott contended that the length of some of the freight trains would be such that they would pass through the Belmont Avenue crossing and the Franklin Avenue crossing at the same time. He argued that sufficient protection could not be afforded unless there were flagmen on each side of the train.

Scott indicated that a decision is expected in the near future.

Rotary Schedules Heart Specialist

The Rotary Club of Belleville meeting Wednesday, October 3, 12:15 p.m. at The Fountain, Watessing Avenue, Belleville, will feature a talk by Dr. Lester Zitowitz of the Essex County Heart Association. Dr. Zitowitz, senior scientist in cardiovascular disease, Schering Corporation, Bloomfield, will speak on "Science and Your Heart", covering recent developments in heart research, and the guidelines provided for avoiding the "risk factors" in heart disease.

"Understanding the part that smoking plays in heart disease, makes it easier to drop the habit", Dr. Zitowitz suggests. "Diet, exercise and control of high blood pressure are other important factors in maintaining a healthy heart". Dr. Zitowitz will also show slides illustrating various aspects of heart research.

Mr. E. H. Davey, Rotary Club Program Chairman, arranged the program thru the cooperation of the Essex County Heart Association, 70 East Park Street, East Orange.

Dennis Pindar Completes Test For Marines

Marine PFC. Dennis J. Pindar, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Pindar of 215 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, has successfully completed the General Education Development Test at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Successful completion of the test is accepted by the military and many businesses in place of a high school diploma.

where I shall continue a similar business as before, I, none-the-less shall always continue to manifest my deepest concern over what is best for Belleville." Knowing Jackie, despite his myriad peccadilloes, and I know he has many, I believe he truly cares about the welfare of the town that has done so much to provide monumental success as a businessman.

Notice must be taken that our illustrious town Commissioners saw fit to move up from Tues evening, the regular scheduled Town Meeting from Sept. 11th, to Sept. 6., so they could all attend the F.M.B. A. Convention at Atlantic City. For many years this has been known as a "freeloading expedition that constitutes a 'junker' for public officials on the local level to 'curry favor' from the Vamps for support in local elections if they 'play ball' in giving the firemen what they DEMAND in special considerations as town employees. New after all, they do feel they can and do control may local voter's views in deciding the outcome of local elections. It seems they do, too, from my own observations. Maybe that's why our local politicians "knuckle under," as they do." Which don't do much to aid the taxpayers in their quest for reduced taxes.

What has happened to the conventionally accepted concept of what is proper and right in our society? Rampant, unrestrained MURDER, THEFT, ASSAULT and is accepted and almost condoned. It is disgraceful that an adult, lawfully indoctrinated society should condone such atrocities. Must we as a lawfully constituted society, continue to suffer these repugnant lawless inroads upon what our teachings advise us are improper and unlawful? It is beneath our dignity to continue to suffer such outrageous affronts upon our accepted concepts of what is right and proper.

High and High Schools. The complaint filed last November by NOW alleges that the policy of automatic placement by sex violates New Jersey discrimination laws and the Federal Title IX, which specifically bans the practice.

Greco had met with a representative from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and it was the superintendent's recommendation to pass the resolution opening the classes.

The suit was filed by the Essex County Chapter of NOW and said the automatic placement policy "channels students in a sex-stereotyped manner."

from Florida, where they were located after two female passengers in the car spoke to local detectives. Both women, Marie Nisoviccia, 21, of 7 Tennis Place in Nutley and Debra Benucci, 22, of 184 Broughton Street in Bloomfield, were released on bail after being held as material witnesses.

Gagliano has entered an automatic innocent plea on his charge of death by auto and Cuozi also has pleaded innocent to conspiracy.

The 1969 Buick allegedly driven in the slaying was recovered in Newark by police there and turned over to Belleville detectives Sergeant Cornelius Berrigan, Thomas Ricci and James Pindar for analysis on Monday, Aug. 13. Police traced the auto to the father of Miss Nisoviccia, who came in to police headquarters voluntarily the following evening and spoke to police. The two male suspects were then located and contacted in Florida.

Theater Finds Home In Renovated Church

there when the church needed the space for other purposes.

After having already begun work, Napolitano was offered the upstairs of the building; and shortly thereafter his friend, Owen McAvoy, had produced a set of blueprints. After hours of discussion with the church's pastor, priests, and committees, things got under way in earnest, and a third man, John Van Hooke, volunteered his carpentry skills toward the ambitious undertaking.

Now, three years later, while pinching pennies as much as possible, the project has already exceeded its budget but boasts a seating capacity of 272, risers nine and a half feet at their highest point, a large stage, and lighting. The theater has yet to obtain an occupancy permit, but after another months work it should have it, said Napolitano.

Of course there were a few snags along the way, admitted the director, many of them a result of inexperience. The risers, for example, had to be nearly ripped down and rebuilt in order to meet the approval of the Nutley building inspector. The stage, too, had to be shortened to open more fire exits. As for the stained glass windows, guard rails were ordered installed "to keep people from falling out," laughed the builder.

Despite these flaws, the project was designed with considerable care, said Napolitano, and a lot of caution was employed in the purchase of materials. The seats, said the director, have been arranged to afford a minimum of neck-craneing for the audience; while each individual chair was purchased after four months of shopping for one dollar apiece. All 272 of them, purchased from a man who specializes in salvaging the remains of burnt down theaters, were carted and assembled, piece by piece, by Napolitano and his helpers. "They may not be very comfortable," said the director, "but if what we put on the stage is good enough, the people will forget about what they're sitting on."

Lighting was another thing purchased inexpensively. After considerable searching, Napolitano found a whole system, dimmer boards and all, for $1,500. The wiring, done by professional electricians, cost more. One thing the director has not been able to obtain, however, is sound equipment, but he is hoping the acoustics will be adequate without it.

When completed, the theater will be put to constant use, said Napolitano, except in the summer months when the former sanctuary gets too hot. His goal is to put on seven or eight shows in the remaining months, which, again, is ambitious. The first show will probably be a musical, and the next a comedy.

When not being put to theatrical use, Napolitano may offer the theater for lectures, children's theater, or even a rock concert. Once off the ground, Napolitano would like to see others, beside himself, directing some of the plays, though just for starters, he expects to do the first few shows himself. Beside his two shows at Holy Family, Napolitano was active in Seton Hall theater while he was studying communications and theater there. He has also taught acting at the Newark YMCA, and performed in several other local amateur productions.

RAY NAPOLITANO, director of the Family Playhouse Theater surveys a work area in the sanctuary of the old Holy Family Church, soon to be a theater.

Will your monthly checking statement arrive at the same time when National Newark & Essex Bank changes its name to Midlantic?

Our Terri Carrino says yes.

If you always receive your monthly statement on a particular date each month, you'll still receive it on the same date.

And it will still have your same account number on it.

The October 1st change to the new name — Midlantic National Bank — is the only change.

And if you make out a check payable to us, but you make it out to National Newark & Essex instead of to our new name, Midlantic National Bank, don't worry. It will be honored and appear on your monthly statement, just as it always has.

After all, the only change is the name.

The people are the same. The hours are the same. Your account number is the same.

When we do make innovations, they'll be to improve our service rather than merely change it.

For Oral Hygiene

Dental Society Head Urges Early Education in Flossing

"Children should learn flossing techniques beginning with the advent of their second teeth, or about eight years of age," advocates Dr. Stuart M. Ratner, president of the 800-member Essex County Dental Society. "It will give them a headstart in practicing effective oral hygiene throughout their lifetime."

Flossing with unwaxed floss removes plaque and debris from between the teeth, especially near the gum line where the toothbrush is less effective. Plaque is a sticky film consisting of bacterial colonies which form on teeth and is considered a major factor in the development of tooth decay and periodontal (gum) disease.

As astounding as it may seem, adults, too, need educating in flossing techniques. Ratner points out that according to a recent survey made by the National Opinion Research Center of the University of Chicago, only 24 per cent of a random national sampling of adults revealed that they had ever heard of dental plaque, and only 20 per cent had been shown how to clean their teeth completely.

On the subject of plaque, 80 per cent of those interviewed said they knew about periodontal disease, but only 20 per cent associated it with plaque. Nevertheless, more than half of the respondents said they would advise cleaning one's teeth as a means of preventing periodontal disease, the survey showed.

Therefore, in order to educate a child in flossing techniques - which must be a team effort between the child, parents, and dentist - the parents, too, must be willing to learn.

Ratner urges eight-year old children and their parents to visit their dentist together and learn "how to floss" properly. Then the parents should supervise the child flossing at home daily. When the child makes his semi-annual visit to the dentist for routine check-up, his flossing techniques should be checked out by the dentist to be sure he is getting maximum effectiveness from his daily at-home flossings.

Based on reports of various flossing investigations at the elementary school level, which was recently reported in the Journal of the American Dental Association, eye-hand coordination and age are the best combination of variables known today for predicting the time it will take eight to 11-year olds to learn to use dental floss effectively.

It was shown that girls may be slightly ahead of boys in their ability to perform eye-hand coordination tasks including the flossing technique, and eight-year old students were slower at learning than their nine to 11 year old classmates.

Highway Official Calls For Safety in Cycling

Kay J. Marini, Governor Cahill's highway safety representative today called for increased public awareness of safe bicycling practices.

According to the New Jersey Office of Highway Safety, 22 New Jersey bicyclists were killed and more than 1,800 injured last year. Of the 22 fatalities, 18 were under 15 years of age and 12 of these had not reached their teens.

"More than a half-million New Jersey elementary students are receiving bicycle safety education," Marini reported, "but the mature bicyclist and motorist must also familiarize themselves with safe riding techniques."

Many motorists and bicyclists are unaware that bicycles are subject to the same laws as motor vehicles. Marini emphasized that cyclists who violate the law receive fines and penalties just as motorists do.

According to OHS, almost all bicycle accidents and fatalities are caused through disregard of traffic regulations or through insufficient control of the bicycle.

Leading infractions of New Jersey bicycle laws include: traveling on the wrong side of the roadway and against traffic; improper or no lights for night riding; more than one rider on a seat; inaudible warning device; stunts and other illegal maneuvers; steering with one hand, except when signaling.

"The recent nationwide surge in the popularity of bicycling has contributed to the increased bicycle deaths and injuries," Marini noted. "In addition, it has put even greater demands on the motorist to safely coexist in the traffic environment."

Marini urged the State's municipalities and public and private organizations to institute adult bicycle education programs. Representatives of the OHS will be available for guidance in establishing program format and curriculum.

The finding also indicated that teachers, hygienists and dentists can begin developing effective dental flossing programs at the eight-year old level if the pupils have at least ten days for a concentrated program in dental hygiene.

Ratner notes that "a successful dental disease prevention program in school or at home cannot take place without a continual rededication to practicing preventive dentistry techniques."

With a determined effort on the part of children, parents and their dentist - children should be able to develop positive oral hygiene habits that may enable them to enjoy good dental health for the rest of their lives.

The Essex County Dental Society is comprised of more than 800 practicing dentists who stress a year-round program of preventive dentistry, of which the flossing technique is an integral part.

Parkway to Post New Safety Signs On Toll Booth

Signs saying "Use Seat Belts For Safety" will be appearing soon at toll plazas along the Garden State Parkway.

The seat-belt alert will replace a "Drive Safely" message in an array of signs the New Jersey Highway Authority uses to promote safe driving on its toll road, according to an announcement today by Authority Commissioner Sylvester C. Smith, Jr.

The safety signs are posted at the entrances to toll lanes at the 11 across-the-road plazas and are changed from time to time, Commissioner Smith noted.

"The Authority finds the plazas are excellent points for the dissemination of information to motorists," Commissioner Smith said. "The panels with terse messages can be seen readily as drivers slow down to pay tolls."

Among the panels presently in use are: "Traffic Hazard Ahead," "Traffic Delay Ahead," "Fog Ahead-Caution," "Ice Ahead-Caution," "Lights On, Please," "Fire Hazard, Use Ashtrays," and "Drunk Drivers Will Be Prosecuted."

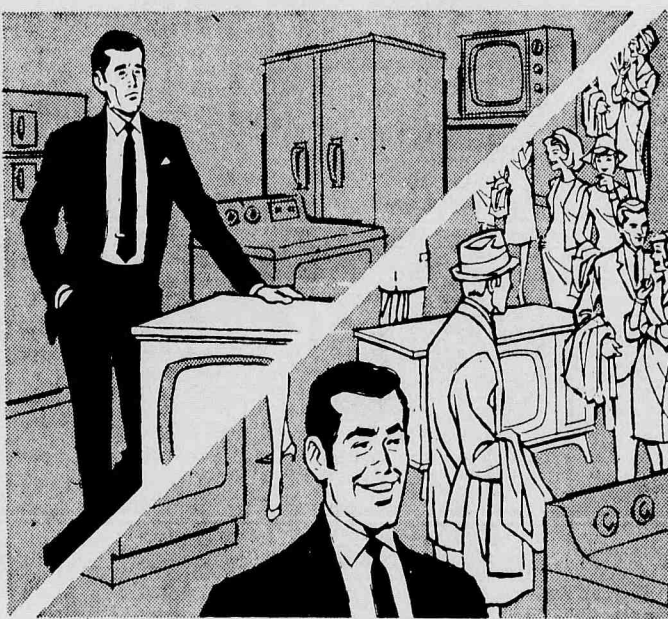

The "Lights On" legend generally is posted on a period of time after Daylight Saving Time yields to Eastern Standard Time. The "Fire Hazard" message usually is put up in dry spells which intensify the perils of brush blazes.

"The signs represent one phase of the Commissioners' constant efforts to advance the cause of safe driving on the Authority-operated Parkway," Commissioner Smith said. "The latest addition hopefully will serve as a valuable reminder to car occupants who might have forgotten to fasten their seat belts."

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(September 29 through October 5)

The Piscean is sensitive, kind, highly intuitive and deeply compassionate — though natives of this sign can also be easily confused and vague. Some readers of this column have accused me of favoring Pisces and have written that Pisces is "Olga's Pet." Do you think so? Let me know, care of this paper.

ARIES (March 21-April 20): You may find yourself in a quandry concerning personal matter. Seek help in getting to root of problem. You can get at the truth, Ari, if you put forth necessary effort. Before week is over, alley cat comes prowling. Hide the tuna.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): One who thinks that you're the berries will perhaps drive you bananas during coming week. Deal with this person honestly, but gently. Local hotshot presents scheme before last day. Be wary, Taurus, and circumspect.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Behind-the-scenes activity is more meaningful now than what is easily observed. Don't be fooled by what appears on surface. As week ends, Cupid waits in ambush.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Don't permit yourself to be trapped by boredom, Moonbaby, for when you are bored, you behave foolishly. Get in touch with special person who has been on your mind lately. You know who. Now, scoot!

LEO (July 23-August 22): There are those who would manipulate you, Leo, by trying to convince you that you have certain "needs" that can best be met by certain services which only they can render. Don't be hoodwinked. "Wants" and "needs" are not always the same thing, you know. Be foxy.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Inside information is available concerning important move. Ethical problem may be involved. One who recommends pragmatic approach to solution does not have all the answers. Listen to your inner voice, Virg.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Now you can open lines of communication which have been clogged. Humor is the key. A bridge leading to family harmony lies ahead of you, Libra. Cross it. And on your way over, stop and spit on old troll below.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Don't let flak of daily associate rile you on first day, Scorp. By noon of second day you will have thorny situation under your thumb. Don't whine about pain, at least you are in position of control. Before week is over one who is sympathetic offers to remove thorn. Greet this person like a long-lost friend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Personal magnetism soars. You are in position to swing and sway others with your arguments. You have chance to "do your own thing." Just be jolly well sure, Sai, that your own thing is worth doing.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Personal matters take top priority. You have been lax concerning certain duties, Cap, and you know which ones. Bits and pieces of puzzle come together. You realize that the whole is GREATER than the sum of its parts.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Study Capricorn message. Be practical concerning business dealings. One with elaborate plans is motivated by self-interest. Don't be bamboozled. Week slams to a close.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Personal drama takes on new dimension. You play lead role, but you should know that a sweet-talking smoothie is hanging in the shadows just waiting for you to fall on your face. Denouement is reached before last day.

Film Festival to Offer Tribute to John Ford

This year's International Film Festival, sponsored by Montclair State College's English Department, is being dedicated to the prize-winning American film director, John Ford, who died earlier this month. It was announced today by assistant professor of English Theodore Price, co-director for the annual festival.

Two of Ford's most famous films, "Stagecoach" and "The Informer" will be featured during the festival. They will be shown on Oct. 16 and Nov. 13, respectively.

Opening the festival will be a double feature: "Day of Wrath," about witch-burning and incest by the great Danish director Carl Dreyer, and "Marnie," the psychological thriller directed by Alfred Hitchcock and starring Sean Connery. The first film program, beginning with Dreyer's film at 7:30 P.M., will be presented in Memorial Auditorium, Tuesday, Sept. 25. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The remaining schedule for the film festival for the fall semester is as follows: Oct. 9, "Streetcar Named Desire," with Marlon Brando and Vivien Leigh; Oct. 16, "Stagecoach," with John Wayne and Thomas Mitchell; Oct. 23, "You Only Live Once," directed by Fritz Lang, with Henry Fonda and Sylvia Sydney, and "Spellbound," directed by Alfred Hitchcock, with Ingrid Bergman and Gregory Peck; Nov. 13, "The Informer," with Victor McLaglen and Wallace Ford; Nov. 27, "My Life to Live," directed by Jean-Luc Godard; Dec. 11, "Le Bonheur" (Happiness); and Dec. 18, "If," directed by Lindsay Anderson.

All film showings will begin at 7:30 on Tuesday evenings. Admission is always free, and program notes are provided. Except for the opening double feature, the location will be announced at a later date. Information can be obtained by contacting Montclair's Public Information Office 893-4143 or the English Department 893-4274.

Montclair State's undergraduate and graduate film course offerings are among the most extensive in the East, with full semester courses offered by the English and French departments and the School of Fine and Performing Arts, according to Prof. Price. Film courses are given at Montclair in co-operation with the college's Media Center.

Co-director with Prof. Price of this year's film festival is David Meranze, an associate professor of English.

Subscribers Are Welcome At Paper Mill

Members of the opening night audience of "No, No, Nanette," starring Dennis Day, Helen Gallagher, Barbara Britton and Lillian Hayman were invited to become subscribers of the Playhouse. A committee under Mrs. Peter Baab of Summit is taking charge of inviting future audiences to become subscribers.

"We are one of the few regional theatres," said producer Carrington, "which does not have a large core of subscribers who will subscribe on a season-to-season or on a yearly basis. We have depended entirely upon our daily box office sale as does Broadway."

"I am very happy that Mrs. Baab and her committee and Mrs. John Tennant of Summit and Alexander B. Lyon of Short Hills, chairman of the Paper Mill Guild, are working on building up other committees to work for the Playhouse to insure Paper Mill's reputation as one of the foremost theatres in the country."

Dog obedience and psychology starts Monday, Oct. 8, from 7:30-10 p.m. "The object of this eight week course is to learn how to make pets more enjoyable to everyone," according to Instructor Inga Holm, a veteran "Y" volunteer.

Tuesday, Oct. 9, is the start of four adult classes, drawing and painting, beginning and intermediate golf, and oriental dance (belly dancing). Drawing and painting, a 10-week course for beginners and intermediates, will include detailed and personalized instruction in the basics of drawing and composition, will meet 7-9 p.m. under the instruction of Kenneth LaBarre, commercial artist, illustrator and painter. Steve Morton, golf pro, at the Montclair Golf Club, will be teaching basics for the

The eight-week course for beginners will meet Tuesdays from 10:30 a.m., and experienced golfers meet Tuesdays from 10:30-11:30 a.m. The beginners oriental dance (belly dancing) begins Tuesday, Oct. 9 for eight weeks from 7-8 p.m. and Thursday Oct. 11 from 1:15-2:15 p.m. The instructor, professional oriental dancer Linda Mathe, will teach the classes with exercise and enjoyment as the features of this class.

An ethnic and modern jazz evening class, and a tennis clinic highlight the Wednesday Oct. 5 programs. The ethnic and modern jazz class (8-9 p.m.), under the instruction of dancer Carol Benson, will specialize in providing a delightful, healthful and meaningful experience. For all of those future Billie Jean King's and future John Newcombe's, there is the tennis clinic.
