

Cable TV Firms' Hopes Snag; All Three May Be Dealt Out

The much sought-after cable television franchise award may not be given out at all when the Belleville Board of Commissioners' end their 30-day deliberation period October 23.

An informal Times poll of the five Town Fathers revealed this week at least three of the Commissioners harbor serious doubts that Belleville is ready for cable television or that residents here are even interested in the service.

The three Commissioners — Michael Marotti, Mary Senatore and Vincent Strumolo — all said it might be best for Belleville to follow the lead of West Orange and reject all three applicants in the contest. Mayor Joseph McGreevy offered no comment on the matter and Commissioner Robert Laterza said he felt residents of Belleville should be given the option to subscribe to cable television.

Commissioners said they are wary of the cable operation partly because they only have 30 days to wade through a mass of technical and financial detail surrounding the awarding of the franchise and the installation of a cable system here. Public Utilities Commission statutes stipulate the franchise must be awarded or rejected within 30 days of the public hearing, which was held September 17.

Contract questions, financial responsibility for alterations in power lines and a general lack of public interest have combined to give some Commissioners the suspicion they may be latching onto a "white elephant" if they award the franchise this month.

"What is the revenue the town will be getting?" said Commissioner Marotti. "What will be the cost to the town if we go in on this? I still haven't seen a contract or a sample contract."

Marotti is also put off by the fierceness of the competing companies. Suburban Cablevision has filed a formal complaint with the Public Utilities Commission charging rival UA-Columbia with distributing "false and misleading information" about Suburban's own cablevision proposals.

"When I see these two organizations start arguing between themselves, then I start to wonder myself."

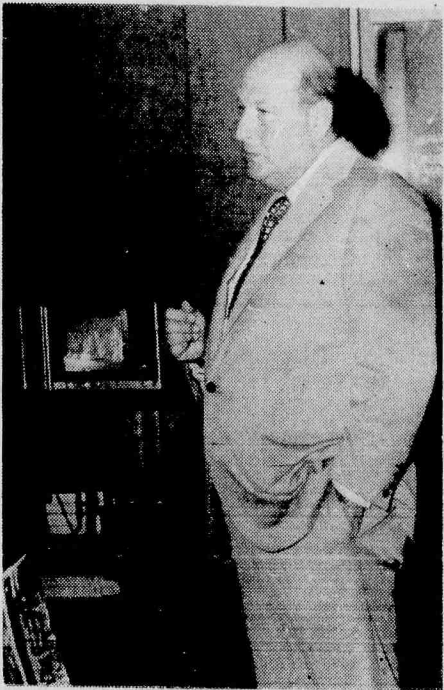

Marotti remained unconvinced by claims from the companies, which also includes International Cable Company of Newark, that cable television would provide Belleville with a wealth of local programming. "I think they all just threw that in to sell us a bill of goods. They said we'd be able to televise little league games and high school football games, and then when someone asked how about the equipment, they told us it would cost us $13,000. They also said they'd loan out their own, but suppose we go to ask for it and Bloomfield or some other town already has it?"

Marotti further commented that only five residents showed up at the well-publicized public hearing, and he surmises there isn't much demand here for cablevision. Commissioner Strumolo agreed, and added, "I don't think Belleville is ready for cable television yet. I believe it's still in its infancy and we should look into it again when it's matured and people have gotten to know it better. Here in the metropolitan New York area, we have six or seven channels available right now, and I don't think we really need it as much as other areas do."

Mrs. Senatore also said she feels cable television is in PUBLIC HEARING on cable television drew only five interested residents as company officials, like Peter Gilbert, president of Suburban Cablevision, presented their cases to the Commission.

Twelve Injured

School, Safety Officials Limit Bonfire Inquiry

by Ken Moore

Poor communications between school and public safety officials and an undefined chain of supervision emerged as partial reasons for the premature eruption of a gasoline-soaked bonfire which resulted in the injury of a dozen youths near Municipal Stadium Friday night.

Though Commissioner

Laterza said this week his Fire Department "did the job they were assigned to do" on Friday night, and Board of Education President Lawrence Schwartz said the school's supervision of the pre-football game rally was "adequate," no officials could explain why gasoline was used as fuel to ignite the 14-foot pile of wood.

Fire Captain Edward Dunleavy this week identified use of the fuel as the prime factor which led to the explosion, and Deputy Chief said the Department "would never have condoned the use of gasoline had we known about it."

Fabian said the two officers who led a detail of four firemen on standby at the scene did not step in to halt preparations for the bonfire because supervision of the building and lighting of the bonfire had been left to school authorities. He said the officers had been given verbal orders by Chief Carl Hundertfund to "stand by and watch for sparks and flying embers and to extinguish the fire after the rally was over."

High School Principal Raymond Smith said supervision of the operation was delegated to two paid teachers and 10 to 12 other teachers who attended the evening rally on a volunteer basis.

Smith added gasoline has been used in previous years as a fuel for the bonfire, with no objections from the Fire Department.

Meanwhile one youth remained in fair condition in Clara Maass Hospital as of Tuesday night. Chris Manning, the 17-year-old president of the junior class had just begun to pour gasoline onto the wood prior to its intended lighting by torch when the already-soaked mass exploded, burning the youth over his upper body, and arms. He was also gashed in the forehead by a piece of

DeWitt Suspect Arrested

Belleville police arrested a suspect in last week's $1,500 robbery of DeWitt Savings and Loan at 463 Washington Avenue when they closed in on the man at a Newark supermarket Tuesday morning.

The suspect, a 23-year-old North Newark resident, was unarmed at the time of his arrest and offered no resistance as Belleville Detectives Kenneth Place, John Marotti and Anthony Fantacone apprehended him. Acting on a tip, police had waited inside a Pathmark supermarket on Mount Prospect Avenue and caught the man as he entered the store.

The suspect was to be arraigned last night in Belleville Municipal Court and will be turned over to the FBI on Federal bankrobbing charges.

Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight commended the work of the Belleville Detective Bureau, all of whom aided in the investigation of the robbery.

DeWitt Savings and Loan was held up Friday, Sept. 21 when a lone gunman walked into the building at 3:44 p.m., walked up to a teller, displayed a revolver and passed her a note demanding cash. The teller turned over approximately $1,500, which the bandit stuffed into an empty bowling bag. After leaving the scene in a stolen car, the robber abandoned the automobile near Joralemon Street and fled on foot.

The FBI was called in on the case and police took film from the cameras in the bank, but did not disclose the contents of that film.

The charge lodged against the man in Belleville is for bankrobbing, and he will face a similar Federal charge, along with the possibility of a charge of auto theft in Newark.

Byrne Visits Belleville, Addresses School Crowd

Democratic candidate for governor Brendan Byrne was greeted by a cheering crowd of Belleville High School students last Thursday morning during a campaign appearance here.

A television crew from Channel Seven news in New York recorded the stopover, which saw Byrne deliver an address before a student assembly and then field questions from the audience.

School and Town officials were seated onstage with Byrne as the candidate praised New Jersey's youth, spoke out on current drug laws and made joking references to an upcoming football clash between Belleville and Bloomfield.

"Young people have as great a respect for good government as anybody and I realize that," said Byrne. "As a native of West Orange, I also have much respect for your Belleville football team. When I was in high school, we couldn't beat you; we got slaughtered and even stopped trying to beat you. I notice that Bloomfield High isn't that smart yet."

(The following Saturday, Bloomfield did manage to post a 21-6 victory over Belleville.)

Byrne enthusiastically backed the constitutional amendment granting the right to vote to 18-year-olds and announced his support for the amendment to give equal rights to women, with both stands earning applause from the youthful listeners.

He further went on to pledge his backing to increased environmental planning, citing the Passaic River as a prime target for cleanup. "I also believe we should protect the coastline so it doesn't become a victim of helter-skelter development," he said, then went on to attack his opponent, U.S. Representative Charles Sandman, on the environmental issue.

Asked by a student whether he supported New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller's tough anti-drug law, Byrne said he didn't, that

...And First Steam Engine

Town Historian Takes a Look At the Schuyler Copper Mine

by Town Historian
Allan Crisp

Ben Franklin, who visited Second River (Belleville) and the Schuyler Copper Mine, in 1749, was quite enthusiastic while describing it in a letter to a friend: "I know of but one valuable copper mine in the country, which is that of the Schuylers in the Jerseys. This yields good copper and has turned out vast wealth to the owners. I was at it last fall but they were not then at work. The water has grown too hard for them, and they waited for a fire-engine from England, to drain their pits." The "fire engine" did not arrive until three years later and cost the Schuylers 3,000 Pounds Sterling to be brought from England in about 12 weeks from London on board the "Snow Irene."

With this precious first steam engine in America came its designer, Josiah Hornblower, who became Belleville's most distinguished citizen. The engine and its spare parts were carefully unloaded in New York and floated up the Passaic in a barge.

Once assembled and set up by Hornblower, the engine served the Schuyler mine a decade and a half, but then a very fatal disaster overtook it. On July 25, 1768, the New York Sentinella reported: "On Monday last, a very costly and valuable Engine for Extraction of water from Col. Schuyler's Copper Mines at Second River, unhappily took fire and was entirely consumed. It is unknown how the fire began, but it is said not to be without some suspicion of Design."

The mine remained idle for a number of years. But in 1789 the New Jersey Copper Mines Association was formed. Prime movers were Philip Schuyler, who had been a brigadier general in the Revolutionary War, and Nicholas J. Roosevelt, an ancestor of both Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt. Their headquarters were in Belleville where Josiah Hornblower who had been manager of the mine, had become a substantial landowner, storekeeper and

Set Flu Shots, Diabetes Checks

Free sugar diabetes examinations will be given to Belleville residents who fall within high-risk categories Wednesday, Oct. 10 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Belleville Senior High School, Director of Public Affairs Vincent T. Strumolo announced this week. Free flu shots will be given to senior citizens the same evening.

The tests will be administered free of charge to those residents who are over 40 years old, overweight, relatives of diabetics or mothers of babies weighing 9 pounds or more at birth. Strumolo said that medical data shows most diabetics fall within these categories.

"Diabetes is one of our most common diseases," said Strumolo. "It is far more

NEED Center On Its Feet, Growing Rapidly

IN CONFERENCE — Bob Russo, coordinator of the North Essex Educational Center, discusses the future with a student. The center, located at 549 Washington Avenue, serves North Newark and its environs.

A Team of Storefront Advisors Offers Free Services to Many Question: How many services can a low budget, one-room service center on Washington Avenue offer?

Answer: As many as is humanly possible.

The staff of the North Essex Educational Center at 549 Washington Avenue has been defying their physical and financial limitations since their June 14 opening to make a place for themselves in Essex County. With a combination of ingenuity, enthusiasm and a willingness to attack all conceivable problems, they've firmly established themselves in the storefront office in Belleville.

The operative philosophy of the group seems to be that "no problem is too big or too small to warrant attention," and that's what they're there for — to solve problems. In fact, the functional name of the North Educational Service Center is the NEED Center.

An offshoot of Essex County Community College, the center is funded by that school and some unnamed private interests. Coordinator Bob Russo explained to the Times this week that many problems which they aren't equipped to handle themselves can be referred to other organizations, but they are able to specialize in three areas.

"We have three areas in which we're most active," said Russo. "High school equivalency seems to be our biggest concern, and we have people of all ages coming in. The youngest is about 17, and we recently helped a 62-year-old man get his diploma. The people we help are those who have dropped out of school to take a job, or because of a family situation or because they were simply turned off by school."

"The second area is tutoring for high school, college and even elementary school courses. We started by tutoring one student for SAT's (Scholastic Aptitude Test) even before we were officially opened. Right now we are tutoring about a dozen students with a staff of three work-study Essex County College students. We work at people's homes and the sessions are scheduled at their convenience."

Russo said the center's most wide-ranging services come under the category of counseling. "We help people in directing them to careers and jobs through career-

Independence is a frequently used word, especially in America, which fought for and attained its freedom from the yoke of political tyrants bent upon the usurpation and exploitation of their subjects.

The very connotation of the word suggests freedom from assistance by others or from rule by others. The replete pages of our Nation's history is predicated upon this virile reaction of courageous men and women who have faced danger and violence to conquer marauding elements that would erase or alter our established order. The one we would like to preserve.

Of late, political forces of both our principal parties, Democrats and Republicans alike, together with their hand-picked candidates, have espoused an almost obsequious pattern of truckling to the never ending demands of minority groups, which when granted have made serious inroads upon the accustomed way of life of what had been our conventional society.

The political pattern of both parties has because of expediency dictated a docile, catering attitude towards the sometimes unreasonable demands of these groups. The results, readily discernible, has produced decay of

Library Trustee Board Reelects Casale President

Joseph T. Casale was reelected President of the Board of Trustees of the Belleville Public Library at the Board's recent organizational meeting.

Casale, a native of Belleville, has long been active in local civic affairs. He is currently a member of the Varsity Club and a past member of the Belleville Board of Education. He was appointed to the Library Board in 1967 and has previously served as its secretary.

A graduate of Muhlenberg College, Casale is now a pharmaceutical representative for the Stuart Company. He resides at 213 Fairway Avenue with his wife and two young daughters.

Reelected with Casale was John D. Boyd, Treasurer. Boyd, who was appointed to the Board in 1966, is a past Vice-President of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Elected as Secretary was Mrs. Richard A. Shafter. Mrs. Shafter, who is a member of the Red Cross Board, is a past President of the Women's Club of Belleville and a volunteer at Clara Maass Hospital where she has been instrumental in the organization of a patient's library.

Convicted In Family Beatings

Gabriel Malfettano, 19, of 158 Academy Street, was fined a total of $100 September 26 in Municipal court for two counts of assault and battery. Acting Judge Salvatore Intintola also gave the 19-year-old two 30 day suspended sentences and one year's probation.

Malfettano was charged September 23 with punching his 13-year-old brother Jamie in the mouth and then pushing him down a flight of stairs. The complaint also charged the defendant with "bothering and threatening" the other members of his family for a period of two weeks.

Foes in Democratic Primary Mend Fences for November

Mary V. Senatore, Belleville's Commissioner of Public Works and Town Democratic chairlady, announced yesterday that she is endorsing Gregory J. Castano of Harrison in the race for State Senator in the 30th Legislative District and at the same time accepted an active role in the campaign. She was promptly named a coordinator.

"I intend to support Greg and campaign for him vigorously, along with the rest of the ticket."

Castano said he "welcomed Mrs. Senatore's support." "She is a proven votegetter and will be of immeasurable value to me to get my message to the Belleville voters."

A long-time personal friend of Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Brendan Byrne, Castano has been a practicing attorney since 1956. He served as an assistant prosecutor in Hudson County for six years, during which time he was regarded as the top man in the trial division, having more number of murder convictions than any other prosecutor.

Castano has served also as a town attorney in Harrison and is presently an assistant town attorney in West New York. He is also the tax assessor in Harrison.

NO HATCHET HERE — The political axe has been buried by Mary Senatore and Gregory Castano, recent rivals for the Democratic nomination to the State Senate. Winner Castano is shown here after he received Mrs. Senatore's endorsement this week.

Unemployment Aid Claimants Can Still File

Ronald M. Heymann, Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry, today issued a reminder that extended unemployment insurance benefits are available for certain individuals who qualify under provisions of a bill recently signed into law by Governor William T. Cahill.

"Anyone who exhausted entitlement under a regular New Jersey unemployment insurance claim on or after January 3, 1971 and who has not received all benefits allowable under the Extended Benefit Program prior to the interruption of that program on July 6, 1973 may be eligible for these benefits," Commissioner Heymann commented.

Claimants for Extended Benefits should report to the local office on their regularly assigned reporting day, Commissioner Heymann added. He emphasized that they should bring with them all documents pertaining to their claim, particularly their Identification Card and Claimant Record Card.

SANDMAN SELECTION — Shown here with the Republican candidate for Governor, U.S. Rep. Charles Sandman (right) is Belleville's Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, named to head the Sandman drive here.

CANDIDATE ARRIVES — Gubernatorial hopeful Brendan Byrne stopped at Belleville High School last Thursday to address an assembly of students there. He spoke on a wide variety of issues and fielded questions from the audience.

Brendan Byrne Talks To Local Students

Rockefeller's law was "indiscriminate," but agreed

New Jersey does need a stronger drug law. "As it is now," he said, "a truckload of heroin can be brought over here from New York and be unloaded at Broad and Market Streets."

For minor violations involving use and possession of marijuana, Byrne recommended judges use a statute which allows the offense to be

"decriminalized" without punishment to the defendant. Byrne recommended this practice as an alternative to legalizing use of marijuana.

Byrne also came out for "decent transportation including a railroad system that works." He said he favored having the Port of Authority take over operation of the State's railroads, and reminded the audience he had helped fight against the Port of Authority's attempt to raise PATH fares. "We won that fight and we've got to keep fighting for decent, efficient and cheap transportation."

Byrne took another shot at Sandman, claiming the Republican candidate had invited Vice President Spiro Agnew to speak in New Jersey, but then discouraged the visit after Agnew came under investigation by the Justice Department.

Sandman Taps Strumolo To Lead His Drive Here

John O'Connor, Essex County Director of the Sandman for Governor Committee, announced the appointment of Belleville Town Commissioner, Vincent T. Strumolo, as Town Coordinator of the Sandman Campaign.

The appointment of Strumolo was made at a strategy meeting of Sandman forces held this past week in the East Orange headquarters of the Campaign Committee. The meeting was attended by Congressman Sandman and many of his top aides.

Strumolo has served since 1962 as First Ward Councilman, Councilman-at-large and City Commissioner of Belleville. He is now serving his second term as Town Commissioner. Strumolo was District Chairman of the Belleville area during the successful Sandman Primary campaign.

Strumolo, in accepting this appointment, stated, "the number of people looking to Charles W. Sandman, Jr. for leadership is constantly growing. As the campaign for the Governor's chair in New Jersey develops, it becomes clearer every day, Sandman is the candidate whose views best represent the thinking of the majority of our state's citizens.

Furthermore, Strumolo said, "Charles W. Sandman is the only candidate with the experience and ability to force solutions to our states problems."

"Sandman has called for restoration of the death penalty as a deterrent to violent crimes while his opponent, Brendan Byrne, has 'lost faith in the death penalty.'"

Of Rutgers, The State University

A Legislative Investigation Needed

The Urban Extension Division of Rutgers, The State University, recently announced the permanent termination of programs designed to aid the white minority community of Newark. Heading up the project was an outstanding member of Newark's civic community, Stephen N. Aduato, who is holding down the post of Extension Specialist. During the three years of the existence of the Bureau of Community Services of the University Extension Division in Newark, Mr. Aduato was the only white.

The abolition of the white minority program for Newark by the State University of New Jersey seriously affects the future of Newark. While abandoning its interest in the white community the State University program continued its commitment to the black and Puerto Rican communities of Newark. These ethnic areas of Newark's community need the continuing commitment — but Newark's most serious problem is its dwindling white minority. One of the major reasons ascribed to Newark's plight is the flight of the whites from the City. Every possible means must be taken to keep the white citizen in Newark and develop reasons why more should return.

However Dr. Edward Bloustein, President of the University, sees it differently. For alleged budgetary reasons the aid to Newark's white minority community has been terminated. Would you believe the total budget for the program was approximately $25,000? This sum is considerably less than the new found money being spent to establish Rutgers as a big time football power. One of the programs initiated by Mr. Aduato and abandoned by reason of the termination of aid to Newark's white minority is the assistance given whites in the greater Newark area to obtain opportunities for higher education.

The legitimate needs of urban white youngsters is a central issue in this case. And it is to that question that the New Jersey State Legislature should address itself.

With respect to the emigration of the Newark white population to the suburbs the National Urban Coalition, in a post-Kerner Commission report states, "If the present trends in cities like Newark are not reversed, before the end of the 1970's, these cities will be black, brown and broke." One wonders if the recent action of the State University in terminating aid to Newark's white minority community does not signal such an event?

Being disadvantaged or underprivileged is not the exclusive property of any one race in our society. If our state university cannot recognize this fact of life then perhaps it is time Rutgers University abandon the pretense of being a genuine state university.

Criticizing the abandonment of the program are Mayor Kenneth Gibson and Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr.

By a strange coincidence almost at the same time the aid to Newark's white minority was terminated, LeRoi Jones made a personal pitch to President Bloustein calling for the termination of the services of the Extension Specialist assigned to work in the white minority community of Newark.

In retrospect one wonders whether the letters from LeRoi Jones to Dr. Bloustein had any significance with the decision of Rutgers University to abandon the project to aid Newark's white minority community.

Leaving personalities aside — the New Jersey Legislature which annually appropriates taxpayer's dollars to Rutgers, the State University, has an obligation to immediately investigate the circumstances leading up to the decision to abandon Newark's white minority by the State University.

Yom Kippur—Day of Atonement

by Rabbi Herbert Horowitz

(Saturday is Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, the holiest day of the Jewish faith. The Times today presents a guest editorial by Rabbi Herbert Horowitz of Congregation Ahaveth Achim, who highlights one facet of this religious holy day.)

Judaism is essentially a faith based on deed rather than on creed. This unique concept of worship without words finds appropriate expression in a classic Jewish story whose events occurred on Kol Nidre Eve.

Rabbi Israel Salanter, the founder of the modern Jewish ethics movement, once failed to appear in the synagogue on Kol Nidre Eve. His congregation waited, and when the rabbi did not appear, the members became worried and went out to search for him. After several hours of effort they found him in a neighbor's barn.

They wondered what had happened to prevent their rabbi from being in the synagogue on the holiest night of the year. It seems that on the way to the synagogue Rabbi Salanter had found a neighbor's calf which had strayed and had become entangled in the brush. With great difficulty he tenderly freed it and brought it back to the barn. When the men of the congregation found him there, he was tending the animal's wounds.

They protested, saying "How could you do that? Don't you know that your first duty as a rabbi is prayer?"

He answered gently, "God is called Rahmana, the Merciful One. An act of mercy is a prayer, too."

Therefore, the Day of Atonement is expressed by Jews, not only in terms of the meticulous conformity to external ritual that wins forgiveness, but reflects more profoundly the essence of the human moral spirit, inward sincerity.

THREE TO SHOW — Julia Schleicher (right) of 305 Union Avenue, Belleville, joins Helen Down (left) and Piara Vienti (center), both of East Orange, in selecting their work for an exhibition which opened Thursday (September 27) at the Glenwood Office of Midlantic National Bank (formerly National Newark & Essex Bank), East Orange.

She Praises Teens' Show At Restaurant

To the editor:

On Wednesday evening, (Sept. 26), a near-packed audience filled Branch Brook Manor for a simply delightful evening.

The food was delicious and the youngsters that performed in the cast of "West Side Story" were superb.

The audience seemed numbed with awe at the talent and showmanship that these youngsters exhibited.

Many people came to merely support the kids while others felt an obligation to Ann and Dave Daniels who gave so unselfishly of both time and experience to train the cast, yet all were utterly amazed to find the performers were professional enough to hold an audience.

This is an example of youth that all should see, because we are too often unable to see the good but merely criticize the teens unmercifully.

Perhaps this idea will flourish and more young talent will make just such a program available more often.

Thank you, cast and the Daniels, for a lovely evening.

Bonfire Explosion Injures Twelve

debris hurled from the pile.

Besides Manning, also close to the explosion were the supervising teachers, who stood about seven or eight feet away. Near the teachers was the cheerleading squad and behind them were a crowd of over 100 students and parents. Spectators were hurled to the ground and showered with burning debris and sparks.

A fire engine was on stand-by on Division Avenue and after the explosion, which sent a concussion throughout town, other engines were rapidly dispatched to the scene.

All injured persons took private transportation to Clara Maass Hospital, where officials said they treated a dozen youths, many with only minor injuries such as sprained ankles. Among the high school students treated for burns were Chris Manning of 602 Union Avenue; Lynn Giordano of 4 Jefferson Street; Mary Ruth Cavanaugh of 16 Leslie Terrace; and Anthony Bialore of 155 Nolton Street. Most victims were treated and immediately released.

The intention of the bonfire organizers had been to soak the perimeter of the pile with gasoline and send two runners with torches to light the blaze Olympic-style. Four gallons of gas had been poured around the wood before Manning approached the pile with his two-and-a-half gallon can.

Captain Dunleavy theorized that the gasoline fumes, being heavier than air, sank to the bottom of the pile, and were then ignited accidentally.

Dunleavy said no eyewitnesses have been able to remember anybody near the pile with a lighted match or cigarette and nothing was seen to indicate a match was thrown. At this point, said Dunleavy, there is no way to determine if anything was thrown into the fire, and he said he has ruled out any intentional lighting of the fire. Dunleavy's phase of the investigation is closed.

Also ruled out by school and fire officials is the possibility of negligence in the supervision of the operation. Smith said this week he "doubts whether there will be another bonfire again," but said the practice is a long-standing Belleville tradition and "there had never been any trouble before."

The bonfire was organized by the Executive Council at the High School, a group of students representing each class.

Student organizers delegated the responsibilities of the bonfire project among them, which include notification of police and fire officials.

Deputy Police Chief Harry Tepe, in command for the vacationing Joseph Smith, said this week the Police Department had received no notification of the bonfire.

Smith responded the students had informed the Fire Department and were told by officials there the police would be contacted.

Commissioner Laterza said this week permission was given to the school to hold the bonfire "as long as it was properly supervised," and said his men had no idea gasoline was to be used in the fire.

Deputy Chief Fabian, in command for the ailing Chief Hundertpfund, said this week if bonfires are going to continue as a tradition in Belleville, there will be far greater controls and restrictions from the Fire Department.

Board of Education members have expressed views both for and against future bonfires, while many students, including Chris Manning would like to give it a try again next year, also with better controls.

No bonfire was held last year, and the rally is traditionally reserved for the first home game or the first game against arch-rival Nutley. This year, through, students asked to hold the rally before the Bloomfield.

1278 & 1973

The two rulers of Andorra, a small mountain state on the France-Spanish border, met recently to review problems which have arisen in recent years.

The rulers are the French President, who inherited that right from the French kings, and the Spanish Catholic Bishop of Urgel, who still retains his ruling authority, which goes back many centuries.

Angorra is a largely quiet country of only 20,000 inhabitants, and there is not much business, or many problems, to be dealt with officially. But President George Pompidou and the Bishop met at the end of August, agreeing it was time for Andorra's rulers to meet again. The last meeting occurred in 1278; a number of developments have transpired in the interval.

Seeks Fischer

Last summer Bobby Fischer electrified the chess world (with his bad manners and brilliant play) and took the world chess title from Boris Spassky, and in effect the Russians, who have dominated the game in recent years.

This year elimination tournaments have been going on in various parts of the world to determine the four best challengers to Fischer. A few days ago a prodigy, like Fischer, won the right in one of them to play in the final four-way elimination. His fans think he's the one man who might beat Fischer. He admits that's what he's living for.

The surprise winner of one was a 21-year-old Brazilian, Henrique Mecking. Mecking defeated seventeen other competitors, including top Russians, to become one of the top four challengers.

If he wins the final elimination, and this is far from certain, it will set the stage for a world chess championship between two former child prodigies (Mecking was Brazilian champion at 13). That would be the second dramatic turn in chess in recent years. Fischer has done much to popularize the game in North America and Mecking is accomplishing the same thing in South America.

Give Free Tests At Eye Screening

The Medical Society of New Jersey has announced the annual statewide eye health week during the week of October 7-13, 1973.

In Belleville, it will be held at Clara Maass Hospital on Wednesday, Oct. 10 from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. The physician in charge will be Dr. Philip N. Fiebler. Anyone who wishes to take advantage of this free eye test and does not have available transportation, please call the Belleville Red Cross 759-4610 and they will gladly accommodate.

The Medical Society states that the two major causes of blindness are glaucoma and cataract. Blindness from both conditions can usually be prevented. The eye test which takes only a few minutes, can save a lifetime of sight and is available to anyone who is 35 years or older and is not currently under medical eye care. This eye test is not a complete eye examination, but a simple quick test for distance vision with present glasses, inspection of the eye and most important - a pressure test for glaucoma done by an ophthalmologist. There will be no prescription for glasses or medication given at the screenings.

Today, one of every eight blind persons is a victim of glaucoma. If detected in the early stages, it can be controlled to prevent blindness. A simple test of the eye pressure is an effective way to protect vision.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

our cities, staggering welfare rolls and worsening increases in violence and crime.

We must be equally vigilant in our determination to preserve our independence by guarding against invasion and subversion both from within, as well as from without. With few exceptions, it would appear, we can neither look for nor expect too much help from the leaders of the Party politicians who, under the pretext of Party loyalty, will adopt the "middle-of-the-road" pattern espoused by the "bosses."

Independence is a frequently used word, especially in America, which fought for and attained its freedom from the yoke of political tyrants bent upon the usurpation and exploitation of their subjects.

The very connotation of the word suggests freedom from assistance by others or from rule by others. The replete pages of our Nation's history is predicated upon this virile reaction of courageous men and women who have faced danger and violence to conquer marauding elements that would erase or alter our established order. The one we would like to preserve.

Of late, political forces of both our principal parties, Democrats and Republicans alike, together with their hand picked candidates, have espoused an almost obsequious pattern of truckling to the never ending demands of minority groups, which when granted have made serious inroads upon the accustomed way of life of what had been our conventional society.

The political pattern of both parties has because of expediency dictated a docile, catering attitude towards the sometimes unreasonable demands of these groups. The results, readily discernible, has produced decay of our cities, staggering welfare rolls and worsening increases in violence and crime.

What then is the great white hope to combat the uncomfortable feelings spreading among the inhabitants of this area, who by struggle and sacrifice have created a culture and society to their liking, which they are determined to preserve for their children?

From all outward appearances, that matter was resolved last evening at the Branch Brook Manor when an overflow throng from all about this area turned out en-masse to assert unequivocally their independence from political party shackles, so that they might wholeheartedly support and back the independent candidacy of that bold, aggressive, courageous champion Anthony Imperiale.

In periods of strife and emotional tension there are qualities more necessary in our leaders than the accepted educational and cultural training alone. While not lacking in these essential attributes, Tony Imperiale has demonstrated much more in his rise to prominence and universal acceptance as a leader among his people.

As Part Of Nov. 6 Election Ballot

Essex Lists Charter Study Referendum

Voters in nine New Jersey counties will find the following referendum question on their voting machines on Tuesday Nov. 6:

"Shall a charter study commission be elected to study the present governmental structure of Essex County, to consider and make findings concerning the form of county government and to make recommendations thereon?"

Freeholders in Atlantic, Bergen, Camden, Essex, Hudson, Mercer, Middlesex, Passaic and Union have enacted resolutions to place the question before the voters of their respective counties. In addition to voting "yes" or "no" on the question, voters can vote for nine candidates for the charter study commission. Candidates must have been nominated by petition of at least 200 registered voters in the county. The vote outcome depends first on a majority vote in favor of the study. If approved, the ballots for the candidates will be counted and those nine receiving the largest number will be declared elected. Candidates run without party or other designation or slogan.

Specific statutory duties of the nine member charter study commission are to study the form of government of the county, to compare it with other forms available under the laws of the State, to determine whether or not in its judgement the government of the county could be strengthened, made more clearly responsive or accountable to the people, or whether the county government's operation could be more economical or efficient under

Sen. Williams Praises New Rehab Law

U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D-NJ) says he sees "New hope for handicapped Americans" in a strengthened vocational rehabilitation program which has just become law.

In a special report to readers of New Jersey weekly newspapers, Williams called enactment of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973, "a major step toward helping thousands of handicapped persons to lead productive, satisfying lives"

Williams sponsored the measure, which was signed into law last week, and is chairman of the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare which had jurisdiction over it. The bill was the first bill developed by the new Sub committee on the Handicapped, which Williams established, to become law.

"This law authorizes the expenditure of more than $1.5 billion over the next two years to continue, expand, and strengthen programs of vocational rehabilitation," Williams explained. "Simple, human compassion demands that we increase these efforts to help the handicapped help themselves. But in addition, it also makes fiscal sense to do so because these rehabilitation programs have an excellent cost-benefit ratio. It is estimated that for every $1 spent on vocational rehabilitation, anywhere from $3 to $5 are returned in the form of additional tax revenue, or in savings in public assistance or other governmental expenses."

Currently, Williams pointed out, rehabilitation programs serve about 1.1 million people nationwide, including some 20,000 in New Jersey. This represents only about three percent of the handicapped persons in the country.

Major provisions of the new law include:

Authorization for the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to create an Office of the Handicapped to coordinate all Federal services to the handicapped.

New requirements for the states to give priority to serving the severely handicapped.

Expansion of the basic vocational rehabilitation program.

Expansion of the research and training functions of the Federal government, with special emphasis on bio-engineering research.

Prohibits discrimination against handicapped persons in employment under all Federal contracts, and in all programs assisted with Federal funds.

a changed form of government.

Members of the charter study commission serve without compensation but are entitled to reimbursement by the county for necessary expenses incurred in performance of their duties. During its study, the commission shall hold public hearings, may hold private hearings, sponsor public forums, and do anything else to provide for the widest possible dissemination of information and stimulation of public discussion in connection with its work. At the end of nine months the commission must file its final report with the county clerk. If a majority of study commissioners recommend change in the form of the county government, the proposal must be approved by the voters before change occurs.

Air Pollution Commission Starts Clean Air Contest

The Suburban Air Pollution Commission, a regional air pollution control agency representing 14 communities — Belleville, Bloomfield, Caldwell, East Orange,

Hillside, Irvington, Livingston, Maplewood, Nutley, Orange, South Orange, Union, Verona and West Orange — in order to promote the nationwide observance of Cleaner Air Week, is sponsoring "Project Air Lift" on Sunday, Oct. 14, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Eagle Rock Reservation in West Orange.

As Part Of Nov. 6 Election Ballot

Essex Lists Charter Study Referendum

Voters in nine New Jersey counties will find the following referendum question on their voting machines on Tuesday Nov. 6:

"Shall a charter study commission be elected to study the present governmental structure of Essex County, to consider and make findings concerning the form of county government and to make recommendations thereon?"

Freeholders in Atlantic, Bergen, Camden, Essex, Hudson, Mercer, Middlesex, Passaic and Union have enacted resolutions to place the question before the voters of their respective counties. In addition to voting "yes" or "no" on the question, voters can vote for nine candidates for the charter study commission. Candidates must have been nominated by petition of at least 200 registered voters in the county. The vote outcome depends first on a majority vote in favor of the study. If approved, the ballots for the candidates will be counted and those nine receiving the largest number will be declared elected. Candidates run without party or other designation or slogan.

Specific statutory duties of the nine member charter study commission are to study the form of government of the county, to compare it with other forms available under the laws of the State, to determine whether or not in its judgement the government of the county could be strengthened, made more clearly responsive or accountable to the people, or whether the county government's operation could be more economical or efficient under

Sen. Williams Praises New Rehab Law

U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D-NJ) says he sees "New hope for handicapped Americans" in a strengthened vocational rehabilitation program which has just become law.

In a special report to readers of New Jersey weekly newspapers, Williams called enactment of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973, "a major step toward helping thousands of handicapped persons to lead productive, satisfying lives."

Williams sponsored the measure, which was signed into law last week, and is chairman of the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare which had jurisdiction over it. The bill was the first bill developed by the new Subcommittee on the Handicapped, which Williams established, to become law.

"This law authorizes the expenditure of more than $1.5 billion over the next two years to continue, expand, and strengthen programs of vocational rehabilitation," Williams explained. "Simple, human compassion demands that we increase these efforts to help the handicapped help themselves. But in addition, it also makes fiscal sense to do so because these rehabilitation programs have an excellent cost-benefit ratio. It is estimated that for every $1 spent on vocational rehabilitation, anywhere from $3 to $5 are returned in the form of additional tax revenue, or in savings in public assistance or other governmental expenses."

Currently, Williams pointed out, rehabilitation programs serve about 1.1 million people nationwide, including some 20,000 in New Jersey. This represents only about three percent of the handicapped persons in the country.

Major provisions of the new law include:

Authorization for the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to create an Office of the Handicapped to coordinate all Federal services to the handicapped.

New requirements for the states to give priority to serving the severely handicapped.

Expansion of the basic vocational rehabilitation program.

Expansion of the research and training functions of the Federal government, with special emphasis on bio-engineering research.

Prohibits discrimination against handicapped persons in employment under all Federal contracts, and in all programs assisted with Federal funds.

a changed form of government.

Members of the charter study commission serve without compensation but are entitled to reimbursement by the county for necessary expenses incurred in performance of their duties. During its study, the commission shall hold public hearings, may hold private hearings, sponsor public forums, and do anything else to provide for the widest possible dissemination of information and stimulation of public discussion in connection with its work. At the end of nine months the commission must file its final report with the county clerk. If a majority of study commissioners recommend change in the form of the county government, the proposal must be approved by the voters before change occurs.

Air Pollution Commission Starts Clean Air Contest

The Suburban Air Pollution Commission, a regional air pollution control agency representing 14 communities — Belleville, Bloomfield, Caldwell, East Orange,

Hillside, Irvington, Livingston, Maplewood, Nutley, Orange, South Orange, Union, Verona and West Orange — in order to promote the nationwide

observance of Cleaner Air Week, is sponsoring "Project Air Lift" on Sunday, Oct. 14, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Eagle Rock Reservation in West Orange.

Last May, quite a few teens signed up with the YMCA to form a drama workshop. Bob Leffebine, English teacher at BJHS is the instructor and he is ably assisted by Mrs. Carolina Furno - Art teacher at the school. The youngsters put on their first performance in June - a series of three one-act plays. Get set! They are now working on their second production; most likely set for late October. The title is: "Everybody Does It" - a Comedy Revue with Music. Sounds verry interesting. The cast (in alphabetical order) includes: Mariruth Cavanaugh, her brother, Richard, Patty Connolly, Vivian D'Alessandro, Pamela DelPeschio, Jeri Dooley, Herminia Gioino, Patti Klinger, Debbie Long, Nancy Long, Linda Peterson, Barbara Simeone, Joseph Sutula and Diane Williams.

Welcome home from Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, ZoAnne Dymond...nice to see you're better, honey.

Bob Miller (one of the Nice Guys) reporter for Channel 7 Eyewitness News was at BHS last Thursday (along with some other networks) to view political contender Brendan Byrne. My daughter Sue, along with hundreds of other kids was seen on the 6p.m. broadcast. In those few minutes I also saw Mike Rosamilia, Anthony Greco and Commissioner Mike Marotti.

COULD BE YOU

The 12th Annual Essex County Junior Miss Pageant, sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees, is seeking girls, between the ages of 16 and 19 and presently in their senior year in Essex County high schools to participate in the event. Over $500,000 in scholarships will be awarded and through the years, I have witnessed some Belleville gals make waves in this contest - Miss Marilyn Casale - now a teacher in Belleville, and Annette Guardabascio are two I remember fondly. Why not participate? Winners are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, school activities, personality, poise, and talent in the creative and performing arts as well as personal ambitions. For details, phone Mike Paolino, 667-7315...NOW!

A KITCHEN BINGO was held September 21 by the Woman's Club of Belleville EMD. The proceeds were to help aid the Mathing School for Children and Young Adults, afflicted with Cerebral Palsy. Ann Kiskiel and the president of the group, Ida Biesiadecki, greeted guests at the door. Some familiar faces were Mary Nolter, Aggie Bradley, Shirley Quist, Dolly Bennett and Barbara Welter. Pat Morrison and Ann Kiskiel cochaired the event, with Ann Spera and her daughter Ann and Janice Stewart assisting. Prizes were plentiful and everyone had a great time.

Great! I just love this kind of event - the United Methodist Women of Wesley United Methodist Church will hold an Attic Treasures Sale at the Church on Friday, Oct. 12...doors open at 9:30 a.m. and close at 3 p.m.

Here's another card party date...the Areme Chapter 73, Order of the Eastern Star will hold their card party on October 11, 7:30 p.m. at the Belleville Masonic Temple, 126 Joralemon Street. For tickets - you may obtain at door, or call Mrs. Margaret Schafer 759-6499.

Our neighboring town, Nutley has something great coming. The First Annual Third River Crafts Show '73 will be held October 24 - 27 at the Nutley Savings and Loan Association, 371 Franklin Ave. It is sponsored by, and to benefit, the Reinheimer-Perry Club, for youth and senior citizens. Admission is free and exhibits are open from 1 - 9 p.m. Over 50 handicrafters will show their wares and you have an opportunity to make your purchase and also help this good cause. For example, my mom, Doris Murphy, is one of the exhibitors. You know, she can do anything and some of her handicrafts will include beautiful organdy aprons (permanently starched), Christmas stockings and Christmas skirts - made out of felt, with 3-D figures such as Santa or a Christmas tree, decorated with tiny ornaments - and gosh, just a lot of lovely things.

ANOTHER LIVELY young lady (at age 96) who will be in the show is Mrs. Keenan from Nutley. At 95, "Mom K" as she is known to one and all, began her own business of creating original greeting cards. I put Mom K in touch with our local BHS, and the result is during the week of October 15 and 22nd, members of the BHS band will be selling Mom K's greeting cards. They are lovely and four to a set - each different - for only $1, which will benefit our great kids in town.

To sum up....those are just two of the exhibitors I know, and there will be many more interesting ones there...don't miss it.

Please meet a young miss from Nutley. She was in the West Side Story production with the Daniels, and when my story appeared in the Sun, somehow or other, MARGARET PALMIERI's name was left off. She is the daughter of Peter and Trudy and a senior at East Orange Catholic High School. She was named to the Society of Outstanding American High School students and is a member of the National Forensic League. Margaret enjoys working with underprivileged children and played leading roles in Essex Catholic High productions. She also stages shows for CP children and plans to major in Psychology for rehabilitation counseling work.

SHOW BIZ

Speaking about the Daniels, I must, of course, give you the reaction to their three performances of West Side Story. The Friday and Saturday night performances at BHS were wildly enthusiastic and the auditorium was filled each night. The dinner/show held at The Branch Brook Manor was really tremendous. Over 450 people attended - all ages, sizes, types. Looks like Belleville really appreciates this kind of entertainment. Here's credits to John Karpel - owner of the Manor - everyone thought the roast capon dinner was delicious. My phone has been ringing off the hook about how professional the performance was. Only sour note was that Ann Daniels couldn't make the Manor performance - the lovely singer was home in bed with a strep throat. Hope all is well now and let's have some more shows.

PAT'S FUNNIES

Who's the dizzy dame who always has to go you one better and hides her sharp claws behind a saccharine smile? Figuring that her word wasn't good enuf (I guess), she had to resort to the mails, using company time and postage (?) to prove her point. Maybe people shouldn't be so nice to her and forget her name on party invitations?

What group (with local members) has to revise their admitting requirements? The discrimination had nothing to do with sex.

She moaned she got no free bananas....yet when someone else invited her at no expense, she turned thumbs down...sour grapes!

Hey, listen you Bobbsey Twins (nothing could separate you) when you're invited to the next to-do, don't make waves and show your jealousy...you might learn something.

A certain party's baby is two weeks late...egads! I need some news, so move it!

Who is the candidate with the Shallow Smile? His handshake is also like a wet fish and his campaign promises will be just that - promises.

After Bloomfield Defeat

Line Battle Looming for Monday

by Ken Moore

A bone-crunching line battle is expected Monday, 2 p.m. at Nutley's Park Oval as the Bellboys engage the neighboring Maroon Raiders in a hard-nosed, down-to-the-basics game of football.

With similar fast guns holstered in both teams backfields, it may be the infantry in the front lines who decide the outcome of the contest, as both local mentor Rocco Cafone and first-year Nutley coach Mario Cocchiola are known to rely on "ball control" tactics, sticking to conservative but proven offensive attacks.

Belleville comes off a 21-6 loss handed to them by the Bloomfield Bengals who came here Saturday and demonstrated the considerable talents of All-County candidate Wayne Ripley, who chewed up nearly 100 yards of ground, ran for three touchdowns and stole three Belleville aerials.

Ripley was supported heavily by a bulky Bloomfield line, and in Cafone's analysis, size was the critical factor that brought the Bellboys low. "Our kids were there on every play," he said this week, "but they were beaten physically throughout the game. They had a runner the size of Ripley, and with the size of their line, they were able to break him out. We were able to break Senatore out, too, but we just weren't big enough to match them."

Critical plays, said Cafone, occurred in two passing situations when Bloomfield's Mike Casale hit John Stanford to set up touchdowns. "We had them for third down and long yardage to go, but with their big line they able to pass effectively on us."

Bloomfield's third big break came in the third quarter when a snap from Belleville's George Mango to punter Nick DeFillippis was fumbled in the exchange and Bloomfield recovered on the Belleville 37-yard line.

The resulting touchdown put the game out of reach for the Blue-Gold. They went in from the half leaving the score at a tight 7-6. Though Bloomfield had sustained a convincing 80-yard drive up the field to score on their first offensive series, the Bellboys posted their goal in the second quarter when Steve Senatore erupted from the line on a first down situation from the Belleville 11 to take it all the way.

Senatore came from behind the blocking of Joe Napolitano and Anthony Nicosia, who flattened a linebacker. "Then Steve made a beautiful cut up the middle and Vinnie Lipoma came from his split end position to cut down a defensive back," said Cafone. "Steve cut away from another defensive back and he was clear from there. It was executed beautifully."

Cafone, figuring on a close game and hoping for an early morale booster, tried to seize the lead with a two-point conversion, a pass play from Cancelliere to Napolitano, which failed on an overthrow.

The extra points didn't prove crucial to the game, however, as the Bengals continued to pound at the Bellboys throughout the second half. Cafone said Bengal coach Sam Cavallaro was hungry for a fourth touchdown, which the scrappy hometowners denied.

"I didn't have to call any time outs toward the end of the game," said Cafone. "Sam was calling them all, and we knew he was going for that fourth goal. I'm happy that the kids didn't let up, though. No one has ever scored a fourth touchdown on

Strategy Beats Barringer

Harriers Snap Loss Streak

by Bob Cohen

The Belleville High School cross country team ended a 17 meet losing streak last Tuesday by defeating Barringer High School in a meet held at Branch Brook Park in Newark. Later in the week the Harriers saw their record dip to 1-2 as they lost to Montclair 17-42.

This week sees the schedule filled as the cross country team meets three opponents. On Tuesday, the harriers took on the notorious Kearny Cardinals. Today the team meets Glen Ridge in Belleville Park beginning at 3:30 p.m. On Saturday the team will take on Bayley Ellard, a parochial school located in Madison at Belleville.

In a fine display of team running, Belleville took eight of the first 12 finishes in the Barringer race. Senior Mike Freamon of Barringer copped first place with a time of 16:10 over the 3.1 mile course. Bellboy Bill Goodwin took second place at 16:21.

The next four finishes were very exciting. In the battle for third place, Steve Budrick and Barringer runner Robert Freamon appeared about even with fifty yards to go. But Freamon then poured it on as he sprinted to a two second advantage over "Bud" with a 16:32 finish. Next came Jim Beck and James Key as they locked horns in a 16:53 tie. They were followed 10 seconds later by Belleville runner Nelson Seda at 17:03. Behind him at 17:08 was Mike Fortino. The last Barringer runner among the top twelve was Dave Davenport at 17:09. He was leading Bellboys Walt Siubis, Doug Wamsley, and Steve Dyba whose times ranged from 17:22 to 18:18.

Belleville had a definite plan entering into the race and the ability to keep to the plan was a key factor in the victory.

The strategy was for Belleville to run in a pack. The reason to run in a pack has a two-fold purpose. One is to keep the runners close to the leader so that he does not build up an insurmountable lead. The second purpose is to set a pace that enables the weaker runners to keep close to the rest of the field.

This strategy worked. After a mile, the Freamon brothers

"I picked Bloomfield over Belleville because I knew Wayne Ripley is a very skillful runner, but I'll be picking Belleville in the majority of the rest of their games," said Craig. Details of the Times "What's the Score" appear at the right.

us," he said, referring to his four years as coach, "and they had the pride to hold Bloomfield even when the game was lost."

On Monday, Cafone's team will be facing a squad coached by an old college football buddy, Mario Cocchiola, who played alongside Cafone at Upsala. Cocchiola is also a former Belleville coach, having served as an assistant under Tom Testa in the early Sixties.

Nutley has posted two wins over mediocre opponents — Irvington and Passaic, allowing only eight points in both games and tearing up over 200 yards on the ground in each contest. The score of the Irvington game was 20-8 and they shut out Passaic Saturday, 27-0.

The Nutley passing game is untested so far. Cocchiola works a driving running attack balanced between three competent runners — Dave Verdi, Dave Moscara and Don Kiwor. Muscara has had runners — Dave Verdi, Don Kiwor and Dave Moscara, the last of which has had the most success so far, totaling 220 yards this season.

Cafone figures the Nutley passing game is an unknown quantity because Cocchiola hasn't had to use the pass yet, and he's right. "It's a question of what we have to do," said Cocchiola this week. "We haven't been forced to go to the air, but we think we're adaptable and can do it."

Cocchiola readily admits

Belleville is their toughest opponent to date. "I know the Belleville kids are tough, and I know how they feel about this game." Both coaches agree that line play will be critical to the fortunes of the game.

"That's where it's going to be Monday," said Cocchiola, "right up front."

Though the Nutley team is slightly bigger than Belleville on the front line, Cafone doesn't figure that factor will haunt the game as it did last Saturday. "Defensively, we're not going to become erratic. Because Bloomfield was able to run on us and get the big passes, we're not going to change our defense. We've proven it can work against West Essex and Barringer, during the pre-season scrimmage."

Offensively, Cafone will be testing the Raiders with both the run and the pass, looking for the cracks in the Nutley defense. Cocchiola contends he won't find any, and points out the Raiders pulled down four interceptions against Passaic.

Last Saturday's Standouts

BELLBOY COACHES named three players as top performers in last Saturday's clash with Bloomfield. For the offense was (right) Anthony Nicosia, junior, wingback, 5-9, 165, while top defensive players were (left) senior Joe Cancelliere, linebacker, 5-8, 175, and Steve Senatore, junior, safety, 6-1 190.

were ahead of the field. However at the halfway mark, the Belleville harriers were able to catch up to the duo and eventually pass Mike Freamon who then fell in back of the pack. Other finishers for Belleville included Pete Fitzpatrick at 18:55 in 15th place, Kevin Bradley in 17th at 19:59, Tom Coughlin 18th at 20:35, Dominic Mobilio 20th at 21:07, David Ritacco 21st at 21:51 and Joe Vincenti rounding out the field at 24:45 in the 22nd position.

The race, unlike the Columbia meet, did not cover any large hills, but did include a swamp which can hamper any runners pace.

The last cross country victory was against East Orange and the margin of victory was a single point. This time the difference was a close five points, yet still a win for the jubilant cross country team. On Friday, the team took to the road for the third consecutive away meet when they raced Montclair High School at Brookdale Park in Bloomfield. It is a course shared with Bloomfield High School but the Mounties ran like the field was theirs as they recorded a sound win over the Bellboys. Orechio Association and Morris Long Bar remained unbeaten as the Belleville Touch Football League completed its fourth week of play.

Rich Luzzi caught two touchdown passes from Jimmy Corino and kicked a 25-yard field goal as Orechio beat Club Ebony 17-7. The Orechio defense, led by Frank Cocchiola, John Immediato, and John Pucciarello kept Club Ebony scoreless until the closing minutes of the game.

Morris Long Bar made Murray's Pub its fourth victim by a 26-6 score.

In other action, Jack Ferrughelli threw two touchdown passes as DeBaco beat Hoffmann-La Roche 14-7. End Zone and McCabe's Tavern played to a 6-6 tie. Gary DeGrazio to Allen Frank accounted for the End Zone score. John Gasperetti threw to Gary Massitell to pull McCabe's even.

the win place and show positions, coming in at the identical time of 16:58, wrapping up a team victory at the same time.

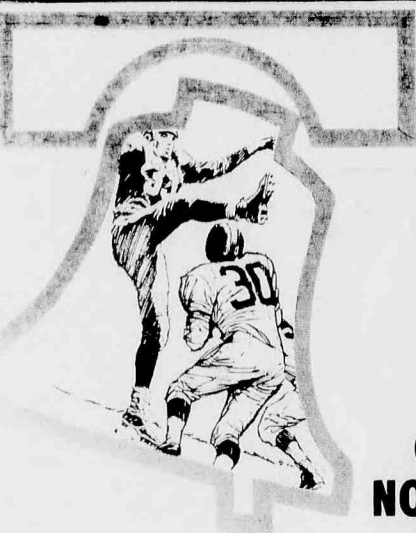

Captain Bill Goodwin could only take fourth place at 17:14. The second Belleville finisher was Steve Budrick who finished in seventh place at 17:59. Jim Beck and Nelson Seda finished ninth and tenth respectively with times of 18:06 and 18:07. Walter Siubis Doug Wamsley, and Mike Fortino finished up 12th through 14th with times of 18:27 and a tie of 18:38. Steve Dyba finished in 16th at 19:20. Trailing last were all Belleville runners with Pete Fitzpatrick at 20:25, Tom Coughlin 22:03

Dom Mobilio 22:09, David Ritacco 25:09 and Joe Vincenti at 25:45.

Yet the thrill of victory runs deep and snapping the losing streak will stand out as one of the highlights of the season.

Beck's Column

As we mentioned in an earlier column, more record players and tape recorders are bought around Christmas than any other time of the year. We wrote already how to preserve the records. Today we would like to write a little about tape recorders.

Fortunately there is not the dust problem with tape recorders as with records. However, instead of dust on the records, there is the problem of deposit of oxide from the tape on the recording respectively playing heads, as the tape slides past them. In time, this deposit builds up to such an extent that it will cause distortion of the sound. It is not difficult to remove this deposit. As a rule a little alcohol (not the drinking type!) on a small brush or a clean rag to wipe the deposit off is all that is necessary. There are different types of tape in use which may need some other cleaning fluid than alcohol. The instructions which come with the units are always very explicit and they should be followed exactly. Don't try to improve on the people who build it, they know what is best. Otherwise there is nothing much you can do about a tape recorder if it does not perform right. This is strictly a matter for an expert. Many a tape recorder has been ruined by the profuse application of oil or lubricant. If you think that the mechanism should be oiled, take it to the shop.

THORN IN THE SIDE — Bloomfield's Wayne Ripley (30) bulls his way through the Belleville line behind the blocking of quarterback Mike Casale (17) and end Wayne Caputo (86). Ripley amassed 97 yards on the ground against the Bellboys.

BENGAL LINEMEN, considerably outweighing their Belleville opponents managed to keep pressure on quarterbacks throughout the afternoon. At the left, Ronald Rowe closes in on Jim DiModica as the junior gets off a pass, but Bill Telesco (right) wasn't so lucky as 6-7 T.K. Tripucka bats down an aerial.

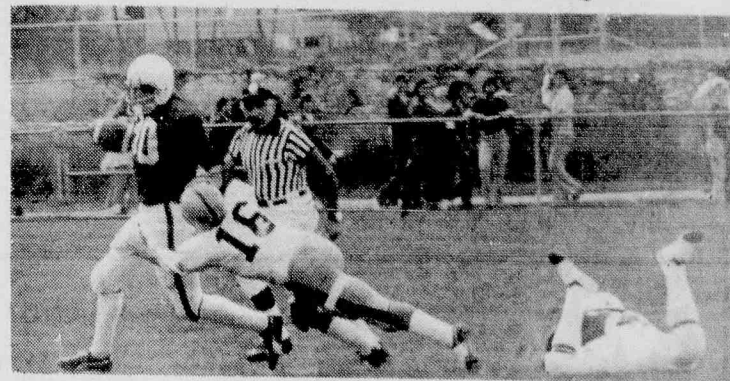

CONTACT! — Co-captain Joe Cancelliere is shown just as he connects with Wayne Ripley. The defensive stalwart made or assisted in 80 percent of the tackles Saturday.

ANOTHER ONE for Cancelliere, who tenaciously uses every method possible to bring down his man. Give him a finger and he'll take an arm.

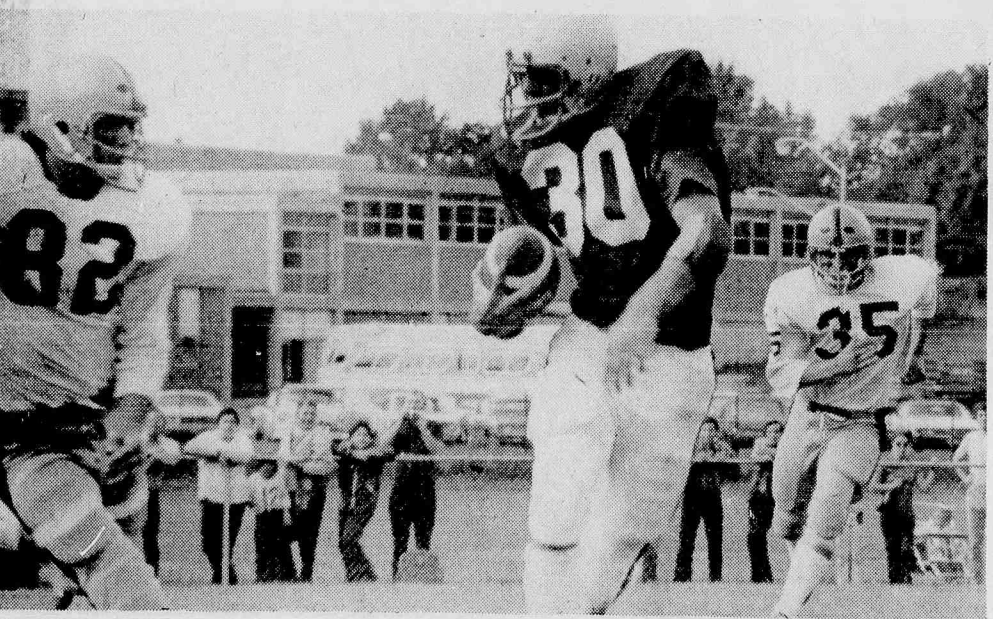

Bengals' Attack Stifles Bellboys

CLOSING OFF the outside lane, Belleville's Steve Gerard hauls down Ripley to hold the Bengals to a gain of five yards during this first quarter punt return.

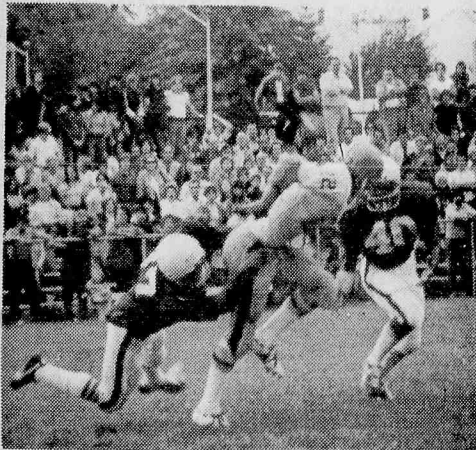

PARADING THE COLORS — Members of the color guard display the flags of the various states and countries which have hosted the Belleville High School band and other marching units. The performers staged pre-game and half-time shows.

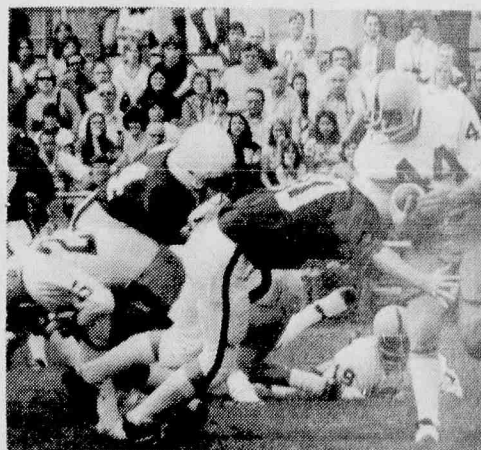

CONFRONTATION — Mark Cosenzo (82) moves in on Wayne Ripley, after the two-way ballplayer picked off one of three interceptions during Saturday's game. Anthony Nicosia (35) moves up to help out.

THREADING his way through a crowd of tacklers is Bellboy back Anthony Nicosia (35), aided by the blocking of Joe Napolitano, who takes out Wayne Ripley. Nicosia averaged a steady 5.6 yards per carry.

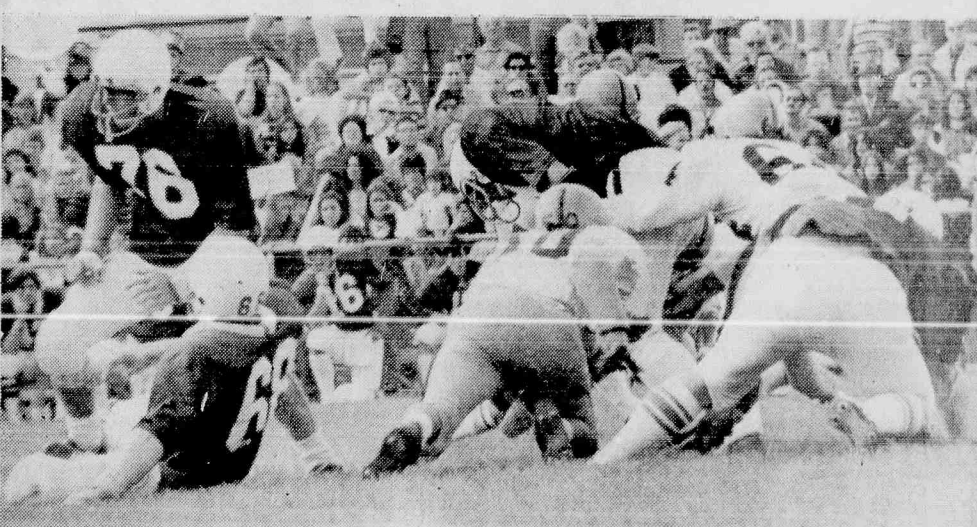

WORKING his way past two Bengal tacklers, Steve Senatore is shown in third quarter action. His 89-yard dash posted the only home TD in third quarter action.

ALLEN CERVASIO, on a kickoff return meets with Bengal resistance during this first quarter play.

BACKFIELD BLAST — Anthony Nicosia (35) cuts behind Joe Napolitano (33) and Steve Senatore (22) as the three backs attack the Bengals' left flank.

STOPPING RIPLEY was no easy task, and Bloomfield coach Sam Cavallaro realized he had a good thing going as the star fullback carried on nearly half of the Bengal's offensive plays. Action here is in the second quarter.

We'll turn your $1,000 into $1,328 in four years. Guaranteed.

Midlantic National Bank's Guaranteed 7% Four Year Savings Certificates of Deposit yield 7.35% annually with our daily compounding.

Sure, other banks are advertising high-interest Certificates of Deposit...but read the fine print. In many cases, those interest rates are tied to other rates such as Treasury Bills which may go down in the next four years. So what may have started out as a 7% or 8% Certificate could fall to the regular passbook rates.

Our 7% interest rate on $1,000 minimum deposit Certificates is guaranteed for the full four years.

Daily compounding of interest results in an effective annual yield of 7.35% on your savings if your money remains on deposit for a year and the accumulated interest is not withdrawn.

Should you wish to make a withdrawal of the Certificate before maturity, you're still entitled to do so. Federal law and regulation permit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity if three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate.

So if you've got $1,000 or more you can spare for four years, why not take out a 7% Certificate of Deposit with us? The nice thing about it is, it's guaranteed.

We're your size bank.

'Rage'—Local Rock Group to Debut Recreation Dept. Enters Fall and Winter Phase

The premier concert debut of Rage, a five member Belleville-based rock band, has been set for Friday evening, October 26 at the Center for Italian Culture Auditorium, 985 So. Orange Avenue in Vailsburg-Newark.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(October 6 through October 12)

ARIES (March 21-April 20): Associates play games and you, Ari, are called upon to act as referee. Observe calmly, but act incisively. Rules may be violated. Send team member who gives you any lip to the sidelines. You are in charge all the way, Ari. Week slams to a noisy halt.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Be generous with dear one, Taurus. Forgive old hurts. And then FORGET them. In week ahead, two dramas unwind on same stage. One is serious, one is funny. The line which separates giggles from tears is a very fine one indeed. Key for beautiful week is belief.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A mishmashy week ahead, Gem. Personal desires may have to be postponed to achieve career goals. Now, don't sulk. Sure, fun is fun, dear heart, but you mustn't expect to laugh 365 days a year. Not unless you're a hyena.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Bittersweet memories return to haunt. Hold the remembrance of the past in check, and embrace the future. In many ways, Moonbaby, as far as you are concerned, the best is yet to be.

LEO (July 23-August 22): No fair mainlining dreams, Leo, and not too brilliant either. Now, be reasonable, sweet, and in week ahead concentrate on business. You just may enjoy the change of pace. Member of another generation observes you and is taking mental notes.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): You learn what member of opposite sex is concerned about. You grasp understanding of where your place really is in current situation. One who has assumed dependent role suddenly resents support. Keep your emotional teeter-totter in balance, Virg, and you will avoid brouhaha. Week rumbles to a close.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): A topsy-turvy week ahead, Lib. Dear one may behave in way which will have you completely flummoxed before third day. Hold off making rash decisions. Play waiting game. You have a chance to correct past mistake. True, you seldom make a mistake, Lib, but when you do ... it's a doozie.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Beastly week ahead, Scorp. Batten down the hatches and prepare for both rejection and suppression. Member of opposite sex involved. To understand reasons for actions you must dig, dig, dig. By last day, Eureka! you strike gold.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Personal problem which has been submerged comes to surface. Seek advice from one whose opinion you value. Time ideal to take first step toward solution. Week ends on note of D, for Determination.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Steer clear of one who wastes time gabbing and enjoying high-powered gargle. Days ahead are too precious to fritter away. Creative ideas should flow. Act on them. Pop out of bed early and enjoy the poetry of dawn breaking.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): If lately you have felt like a dray horse, this is week to cut loose and trot off on your own. Stay on main drag, however, for bride paths are strictly off limits. Avoid associate who makes a career of sowing wild oats.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Avoid ruckus with daily associate first part of week, Pisces. Gap which already exists could widen. By last day you'll feel more relaxed and will want to slip into something more comfortable. Like a happy mood.

Auditorium, 985 So. Orange Avenue in Vailsburg-Newark. Russel M. Girod, Concert Director, announced this week.

"After several months of rehearsal and guidance, we've put together a three-hour presentation of the latest rock hits and original Rage material for the Concert. Rage is going to please and surprise a lot of people with the talent they have developed," Girod enthused. "This concert will introduce Rage as a headline band to a new and much larger audience. Some of the program will be taped for a new recording to be made early in November, and Scorpius hopes to launch the group into prominence as a major rock band, with this Concert as its beginnings," Girod added. Members of the band are Mike D'Andrea, vocals; Frank Corsi, guitar; Bart Romano, Bass; Joe Luciano, guitar; and Vinnie Strumolo (son of Belleville Commissioner, Vincent Strumolo, Sr.) on drums.

Also appearing with Rage on the concert program will be Mist, a rock and pop music group with a growing following in the Metropolitan area. Members of Mist are Jerry Baeski on organ, Bob Romeo on drums and featuring Al Ruggiero, vocalist, all of North Arlington.

"Both bands will play together for the last set of the concert and will feature both drummers and brand new rhythmic innovations we've developed for introduction at this concert. The last set will highlight a tremendous amount of effort by drummers Bob Romeo and Vinnie Strumolo, blending African and Latin rhythms with traditional hard rock rhythms in a series of well-known and highly popular current rock hits. The acoustics of the auditorium are fantastic, the songs are great and Rage and Mist are really up for this concert. Everyone's going to have an outrageous night," Girod promises.

Concert tickets are available from ticket outlets listed in Scorpius Newspaper advertisements or from Scorpius Productions at 733-3278. Tickets may also be available at the Center for Italian Culture on the night of the performance however Scorpius Productions indicates that the concert may be sold out in advance.

Wesleyans to Join In World Communion

Members and friends of Wesley United Methodist Church will join hundreds of millions of Christians throughout the world at World Communion this Sunday, Oct. 7. The Church is located at Washington Avenue and Academy Street in Belleville.

"More Than Bread" is the 1973 theme. The world needs bread for physical survival, but we need more than bread, we need the bread of life - Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior. We need Him in our lives to help overcome our feelings of anxiety, confusion, despair," said Rev. Gerald Rounds, the Pastor.

"We need more than just to receive and own, we need to give.

In the 1940's a famous philosopher, Sir Charles Sherrington, wrote these words: "Suppose a wound severs a nerve of my arm....At once after the injury the nerve fibers start to regrow from their cut points even far up the arm. For eighty years and more, my nerve fibers have given no sign of growth. Yet, after this wound, each fiber, whether motor or sensory, would start again to grow stretching out toward its old goal in muscle or skin." It is words like these, true as they are, that make us realize how wonderful the human body is.

Natural Gas shortage reaches new critical stage!

Additional Gas not available from PSE&G after October 12, 1973.

Effective October 12, 1973, Public Service Electric and Gas Company will be unable to fill any requests for new gas installations. This restriction will apply to requests involving all uses of additional gas service, ranging from appliances in the home to production machinery in industry.

We will honor gas service commitments already made. Any commitments resulting from requests for gas service, under the existing limitations, received through October 12, will terminate on December 1, 1973, unless installation or construction work is underway by the December 1 date. All requests which cannot be honored under this new policy will be placed on a waiting list in order of receipt. The new restriction will stand until the shortage of natural gas is eased.

New Jersey — and the nation — has been increasingly affected by a critical gas shortage. This all-encompassing restriction on new uses of gas in PSE&G territory is the result of a new Federal Power Commission "end-use" policy and proposed allocations of liquid fuels by other governmental agencies. Under its new policy, the Federal Power Commission is pre-empting PSE&G's control over its natural gas supplies. The Commission is apparently diverting gas for which PSE&G has firm contracts with our normal pipeline suppliers to areas outside our territory.

The fuel allocation program being considered by the federal government could void existing contracts for the purchase of kerosene, naphtha, propane and butane which PSE&G uses to manufacture gas on the coldest days of winter. As much as 25% of the gas used on extremely cold days when the demand is high is derived from these sources. Now, even this supply is in jeopardy. Failure to get these fuels means we would not be able to operate our various gas manufacturing plants throughout the state.

The delivery of gas found as a result of PSE&G's drilling in the Gulf of Mexico area must be approved by the Federal Power Commission. Also, projects involving the importation of liquefied natural gas from overseas still have not received necessary government approvals. Therefore, it is impossible to know how much gas will be allocated to the PSE&G area this winter.

All this leaves us with no alternative. We regret that we simply cannot fill any requests for new gas installations, but it is the only way we can assure, as far as possible, a continuing supply of gas to our present customers.

New Gas Sales Policy

1. Public Service Electric and Gas Company will no longer fill requests for new gas installations after October 12, 1973.
2. The company will honor gas service commitments already made. Any commitments resulting from requests for gas service under the existing limitations received through October 12 will terminate on December 1, 1973, unless installation or construction work is underway by the December 1 date.
3. Replacement of existing gas heating systems, equipment and appliances, will be permitted.
4. All applications received subsequent to October 12, 1973 will be placed on a waiting list in order of receipt.

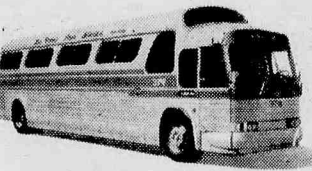

Conserve natural gas. In New Jersey we can't afford to be without it.

Schuyler's Copper Mine Visited by Ben Franklin

operator of the old ferry across the Passaic. As the designer of the steam engine, he also aided and advised Schuyler and Roosevelt.

Before mining operations properly could be resumed, it was necessary to pump the drowned mine dry. It occurred to Roosevelt, who was possessed of vast technical knowledge and mechanical ability, to construct the required engines right on the spot instead of ordering them from England. The outcome was the formation of the Belleville Engine Works, the first machine shop of its kind in the United States. Roosevelt called their plant "Soho" after the famous plant of Boulton and Watt at Birmingham, England. For 13 years, this Soho of the New World manufactured the first steam engines in America, including one which ran the first steam boat, the Polacca, on the Passaic River.

Next door to Roosevelt's Soho plant, on a six acre tract bought from Hornblower, the New Jersey Copper Mines Association erected their own stamping mill where the ore was crushed and refined. Power for the mill was provided by the Second River. This plant was later sold to the Hendricks Copper Rolling Mill in Belleville for over a hundred years. This plant expanded over the years and provided copper sheeting for pioneer locomotives built by the Baldwin Locomotive Works.

Woman Draws 30-Day Term For Needle

A 30-year-old Belleville woman was sentenced to 30 days in the Essex County Correction Center September 27 in Municipal Court on a charge of possessing a hypodermic syringe.

Gertrude Smith, 28 Watchung Avenue, was sentenced by acting judge Salvatore Intindola following her arrest August 20 by Belleville officer Fred Puleo. The sentence is to run concurrently with another she is already serving from a prior conviction.

NEED Service Center Opens Doors To Essex Residents With Problems.

IN PREPARATION for an upcoming book fair, volunteer worker Rick Whelan watches as a student draws an advertising poster. The book fair is one of the NEED Center's many works-in-progress.

(Continued from Page 1) oriented and job-oriented education. We advise those people who are unsure about what college they'd like to attend or who are unsure whether they even want to go to college or a technical school. We've even placed some people directly in jobs."

The NEED Center works at developing and maintaining good relations with local high schools. "We've got pretty good rapport with the counselors in the schools. We're here to complement them, not to try to replace them."

Given the range of services offered, what has emerged at the storefront is "an all-around drop-in center," said Russo. "If we can't help someone with a problem, we can refer them to an agency that can." References are usually to Essex County College, "if they have the specific service available."

The center's staff includes one full-time employee —

Russo himself. There are also the three work-study tutors, two graduate students enrolled in the Essex County College urban studies program, a part-time administrative aide and a host of volunteers. "The volunteers come primarily from Nutley and Belleville, and they mostly do the typing, filing and general housekeeping. We've really survived here on part-time volunteer help," Russo said the major problem facing the center is staffing. "We need the full-time help, but the money just isn't available right now."

Plans for the future include "on-site courses," a project which is already underway, as the office is now used for some extension course and a Tuesday night architectural class for about 30 building maintenance inspectors.

Russo said they hope to make the office available for many more courses, including an ambitious lecture series.

Laterza said he too would like more information, and he, along with the other Commissioners, are waiting to receive the transcripts of the public hearing for study.

Laterza said he would consider bringing cable television into Belleville if an option were given whereby the town could pull out if dissatisfied with the service.

West Orange officials recently announced their intentions to reject all three cable applicants.

Grant City Opens SoonA new Grant City will open on Franklin Avenue at the end of this month as a huge expansion onto the current Grant Store, 345 Franklin Avenue. Renovations are being made by Fucetola Brothers, Nutley builders.Robert Roblenski, manager of the Grant Store, reports that his outlet is one of 450 in the 1,200 store W.T.
Grant chain of general merchandise stores that is officially changing its designation to "Grant City." Identification on the store front and in all its advertising will carry the "Grant City" name.Roblenski noted that his Company in the past five years has opened many large new stores across the country."We've opened stores big enough to offer its customers full lines of apparel, housewares, home needs and major appliances, along with everyday family needs. It is our management's conviction that there are now sufficient number of such larger stores to provide them with special merchandising and promotion...make them dramatically different from the smaller Grant stores which offer limited lines of merchandise," he reported.THE OLD AND THE NEW — Above is the first Grant's store, opened by W.T. Grant himself 67 years ago in Lynn, Mass. Below is an artist's rendering of the newGrant City to open at the end of this month on Franklin Avenue. Renovations are by Fucetola Bros., Nutley builders.

Ernie Ratner Inducted Into 'Hall of Fame'

On Sunday, Sept. 23, Ernie Ratner was inducted into the New Jersey Boxers Hall of Fame during ceremonies held at Diamond Jim's in Malawan. "Ernie Ratner" is the professional name used by Anthony Nardiello of Malone Avenue.

Ernie was born March 30, 1912 in Montclair and has lived in Belleville since the age of eight. He recalls fondly the early days in town and, though modest, this reporter uncovered the story of Ernie and three of his friends - Joe Lamanna, Rocky Capnear and Angelo "Shy" Falcone - in their effort to bring sports to the children of Belleville via St. Anthony's.

It was 18 years ago, and Father Minigus of St. Anthony's spoke to Ernie about keeping the kids interested and off the streets. Ernie and "the guys" talked to all their friends in the boxing circles and begged, borrowed and bought - at bargain prices - equipment to set up a gym at the Church. Ernie was at the gym five nights a week for over six years. His pals also helped out and the venture was a success, thanks to a Mrs. Joe Grande who donated the ring, mat and heavy punching bags for the kids. (Mrs. Grande's husband owned the gym where Ernie trained as a young fighter) Ernie also helped out at the Church by working with the Bingo committee.

Ernie Ratner is a slight, slender man, with snowy white hair, a twinkle in his eye and a smile of fond remembrance of many memories. He helies the fictional fighter we imagine - that of a "tough" guy and says that most of his friends in the profession are similar - quiet, polite, well-mannered and, gentlemen. He credits his trainers for his success - Dick O'Connor and Neal Ferraro. He and his wife, Antoinette, say the early days in Belleville were the greatest - with a community spirit and feeling, when block dances and clambakes were going on all the time.

In a ring career, spanning 12 years, Ratner had 275 fights. He retired from boxing in 1937 and began working for the Town of Belleville in the Dept. of Public Works. Ernie was injured in a near-fatal accident in 1959 and now uses crutches and a cane to assist him in walking. He is president of the Veteran Boxers Social Club and was instrumental in bringing to Belleville the first match between New York and New Jersey Golden Gloves this summer. The proceeds from the fight went to three local charities.

Ernie's brother, Michael, is Principal of School Four. Married 40 years, Ernie and Antoinette have two sons, two daughters and five grandchildren. Vin and Shirley Nardiello live in Old Bridge with their children Anthony, Gregory, Cheryl Ann, Conchetta ("Chetta") and her husband Phil Falzarano live in Belleville with their children Felicia and Andrew.

ROGERS TO BATTLE FOR CUSTODIAL & MAINTENANCE EMPLOYEES

Citizen's of Belleville;

Today I am seeking your support for my new Priority Evaluation Act which will be presented to the Belleville Board of Education in the near future. This act is designed to guarantee the Custodians and Maintenance men of our school system first preference for positions which become vacant within the custodial and maintenance career field. I am convinced that the practice of hiring individuals from 'outside' the system to man supervisory positions is creating an unhealthy atmosphere for the school system.

'Priority Evaluation' will take into consideration the seniority, performance, and dedication of individuals from within the system who apply for promotions, transfers, etc.

What Belleville must come to realize is that we have the finest custodians and maintenance men in the State of New Jersey and I strongly believe you should support legislation which would give these dedicated workers an opportunity to advance themselves in their respective occupational areas.

Again, I ask for your support of this act.

Steven L. Rogers
