

Erasing Town's Debt Wasn't Done in a Day

When Mayor Joseph McGreevy signed a check in the amount of $129,837.50 and delivered it to People's Bank last week, he had cleared Belleville of all Town debt with the stroke of a pen. But as the mayor later explained, putting the Town back on a cash basis after 132 years was not at all that simple.

As McGreevy announced at last week's Town Commission meeting, Belleville has no debts outstanding, either permanent or temporary, and nothing owed for water utility. "Everything's now on a cash basis and we hope to keep it that way."

Only a little over 40 years ago, at the outset of the great Depression, the prospects for a debt-free future were slim. With a Town debt of $8 million on its back, Belleville was seeing whole towns in New Jersey declaring bankruptcy. McGreevy recalled for the Times last week the brilliant stroke of financing that pulled Belleville out of the downward spiral.

"When William Williams came into this department as mayor and director of Revenue and Finance, he was faced with a debt of $8 million, and most of that wasn't funded," said McGreevy. "The town had only $30,000 in cash assets. By the time he left, he had salvaged the Town from bankruptcy and set up a schedule of payments which would have had Belleville debt-free by 1963."

The emergency measure used by Williams in 1931 was the issuance of "baby bonds," paper notes about the size of dollar bills which could be used to pay off back taxes with five percent interest over three years. All Town employees and schoolteachers were paid their salaries in this currency and then cashed the currency in with local merchants who owed back taxes.

McGreevy didn't enter Town government until after World War II, but when asked whether Town and school workers were happy with this arrangement, he replied, "I don't imagine they liked it very much but most of the local merchants cooperated and took them."

Williams issued $10,261,186 in "baby bonds" over a four-year period and the back taxes were cleared up. "Other towns in the country attempted the same program," said McGreevy, "but it only worked here because it was well-handled. A lot of big companies wanted the bonds for investment purposes."

In 1933, Williams served on the Princeton Survey Commission, which drew up rules and (Continued on Page 24)

Rent Panel Diet: Tenants' Beefs

by Ken Moore

The five members of the rent control advisory committee were sworn in at their initial meeting last Wednesday and promptly prepared to take any and all complaints from local tenants and landlords.

Edward Mahler was elected temporary chairman of the group and he outlined for the Times this week the direction the panel is taking.

The panel was appointed to look into all phases of tenant-landlord relationships in Belleville and also to study the need for a rent-leveling ordinance here. Mahler said this week the panel is prepared to receive a considerable flow of complaints and will guarantee confidence to anyone who comes before the committee. Furthermore, he said, the five will take on the larger question of rent control, seeking to determine first if its necessary. That, he said, would be greatly dictated by the amount of gripes they receive from tenants.

Mahler said the panel will seek copies of rent control ordinances adopted in other New Jersey towns, and will find out why some towns chose to reject the notion.

The emphasis of the study will be on the gathering of complaints and Mahler said such complaints should be submitted, preferably in writing, to Miss Marion Malcolm in the Town Attorney's office in Town Hall. Miss Malcolm was elected secretary to the committee.

Other members include Steven Rogers, an Air Force sergeant; Daniel Del Tufo, a local realtor; Vincent Vecchione, a Westinghouse engineer; Mahler works with Reilly's Real Estate Agency. "We're trying to get out to the public the fact that we're now taking complaints and if anyone has one they should bring it to Miss Malcolm," said Mahler. Mahler indicated the committee, besides gathering facts, may also intercede with the Board of Commissioners on behalf of a complainant. "Instead of people complaining to the Commissioners, they'll bring their problems to us and we'll act as sort of a buffer."

Still unresolved is the extent of the investigative powers of the panel. Under the present circumstances, said Mahler, any landlord who receives an inquiry from the committee can simply refuse to answer questions.

Mahler said many complaints may be covered by various Town sanitary ordinances. "I think they'll boil down to rent gripes. Any others we'll refer to other Town departments."

"We'll have to judge each complaint on its own," he added, "but if we find there seems to be a trend in Belleville, we'll recommend appropriate legislation. If we find that some landlord is really zinging his tenants we'll go out there and find out."

"The majority of people realize that in times of inflation rents are bound to increase moderately, but when tenants start getting really big increases, they begin to wonder."

"Once people realize their names will not be used by us, I believe they'll start to come forward."

It was decided the committee would meet on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month, with the next meeting set for Oct. 24.

The ordinance empowering the committee calls for full attendance in order to hold a meeting, but the panel feels this would be impossible to achieve at each meeting and will ask the Commissioners to lower the required number.

At present, the panel holds only one complaint, but the inflow is expected to increase as early as by the next meeting of the committee.

With Federal Funds

Sewerage System Set For Massive Facelift

Belleville and other member towns of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission are conducting preliminary surveys for a 1974 project to completely overhaul the sewerage system in this area.

Plans call for the establishment of a secondary treatment facility to remove chemical pollutants from sewage in the Passaic Valley network. The $380 million project will be 75 percent funded by the Federal government, 15 percent by the State of New Jersey, and the 28 member towns of the Commission will supply the remaining 10 percent of the cost. Meanwhile, the Federal government is picking up the tab for a $4 million survey which will decide the size of the treatment facility and will pay for repairs to some systems along the Passaic River.

The local project is part of a massive nationwide program instituted by the 1972 Water Quality Control Act which parcels out funds across the country for clean water projects.

Furthermore, the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission is under a Superior Court mandate to establish a secondary treatment facility, which goes beyond primary treatment of mechanically eliminating pollutants by removing chemical waste from water. Treated water from Passaic Valley is piped into New York harbor.

The study presently being made by the Commission checks the amount of infiltration of ground water and inflow of water into local sanitary sewers. The object is to determine if reconstruction of systems should be made or simply to allow infiltration and treat the excess water at the new plant.

James Soldo of the Belleville Public Works Department said the Town is cooperating fully with the Commission to compile Belleville's share of the needed data.

"The project is supposed to start in 1975 and that's not really as far off as it sounds. It only allows a year for preliminary studies.

The study must be completed if the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission is to be eligible for state and federal funding.

Primary treatment of sewage means that garbage and other floating materials are removed from waste water by screens, then grit and sand are taken out in grit chambers. Sediment is next removed and then bacteria are killed with disinfectants.

Animal League Now Shelters Rescued Dog

A mongrel rescued last week after a six-day entrapment in the shallow waters of the Second River is being temporarily housed by the Belleville Animal League.

Members of the league took the dog from GIGI Kennels Monday in order to spare the female canine from being put to sleep. Anyone wishing to give the dog a home can contact Miss Esther Wilensky at 759-2819.

Belleville Park Seniors Split into Third Club

Belleville senior citizens are currently the center of attention for County and Town officials as a new County club was started here and the Town plans to begin construction on a recreation center.

In the wake of Commissioner Michael Marotti's announcement of the beginning of work in two weeks on the old Camp Carragher off 44th Street, Essex County Park Commission officials decided to expand their Belleville group.

The Belleville Park Senior Citizen Club has had to start a third club. The new Senior Citizen Club will be meeting on Tuesdays from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. each week. The Wednesday Club and the Thursday Club have grown in membership so fast that the third club is needed to accommodate all the Seniors.

The Essex County Park Commission staff who work with the members on programming are hoping the Tuesday group will draw seniors who are looking for creative, artistic or useful projects programs. "We want to stress crafts, hobbies, art, projects and educational programming on Tuesdays" states Ben Schaffer, ECPC Staff Administrator.

All three clubs participate in large group programs such as trips, parties, dances, concerts and contests. Although the groups meet on separate days, the central council assures that all three clubs have a chance to participate equally in the major activities.

Some of the past major events included two four-day trips to Wildwood, a trip to Italy, a day at the race track, an out door concert, party and bocce tournament. They have built floats, enjoyed many parties and shared many speakers. Coming up will be the senior citizen

Halloween dance, a trip to Radio City Music Hall, a Christmas party and many other enjoyable activities.

Federal Jury Indicts Dewitt Heist Suspect

Herbert J. Stern, United States Attorney for the District of New Jersey, announced today that a Federal Grand Jury sitting in Newark has returned an indictment charging Anthony Stakiwicz, 23, of 373 North 6th Street, Newark, with robbery of a savings and loan association.

According to Stern, the indictment charges that Stakiwicz took $1,560 from the DeWitt Savings and Loan Association, 463 Washington Avenue, Belleville, on September 21. Stakiwicz was arrested shortly thereafter by Belleville detectives. He was brought before U.S.

Magistrate Jerome D. Schwitzer in Newark and was ordered held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Stern stated that if convicted, Stakiwicz faces a maximum sentence of 20 years imprisonment and a fine of $5,000.

Stern praised the Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the members of the Belleville Police Department for their work in connection with the case. Assistant U.S. Attorney, G. Donald Haneke presented the case to the Grand Jury.

Lally Takes Post Of Vice Principal

Michael A. Lally assumed the position of vice principal in Belleville Junior High School Monday, succeeding Mario DiMaggio, who became principal after last summer's administrative reshuffling throughout the school system.

Lally, an English teacher in Belleville for 12 years and former varsity crew coach, is a North Caldwell resident and a 1961 graduate of Upsala College, where he received a bachelor's degree in English.

He earned his master's degree in administration and supervision at Seton Hall University in 1967, and also acquired additional credits in English and guidance.

He began his teaching career at School 10 in Belleville in 1961, but was soon transferred to Belleville High School, where he taught English through freshman to senior grades. He coached the crew teams from 1961 to 1970, six years with the varsity.

His wife, Dorothy, is a schoolteacher in the Newark system. About his new post, Lally said, "I'm looking forward to the challenge and I'm thankful for the opportunity to contribute something to the system."

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

There is little doubt but that the inflammable Donnybrook Fair atmosphere which presently pervades the corridors of town hall, resulting from the smoldering controversy between Mayor McGreevy and Comm. Mary Signore over an appointment to the local Zoning Board of Adjustment, will eventually spill over into the next municipal election, scheduled for May 1975.

Both antagonists are politically popular, draw a large following and might be considered rather opinionated: All of which leads to the inevitable indication that the ensuing months will see a widening breach in the cordiality of relations between the two. The fact that both are of different political parties does little in the way of assuaging matters. Look to see the rift widen.

"The performance of the Postal Service has been most disappointing with increases in rates accompanied by deteriorating service. It not only causes great inconvenience and actual hardship to individuals and businesses but is alarming from the standpoint of our national interest that requires an efficient national communications system," so writes our Congressman Joe

Newsmen Dominate Diamond Ratings

New York City's Channel Two News Team came to town Sunday, but it wasn't to cover the arrival of a gubernatorial candidate, the homecoming of a POW, or even a tank of molasses running into the sewers. They were here for a pickup softball game.

The match with the Amvets, set for last Sunday on two short week's notice, was staged to benefit the Cerebral Palsy Center located in Belleville. By the end of the day, the Center had nearly $600 in cash, the Amvets had a needed workout, the kids had a lot of fun, and the New Yorkers had made a date to return next year.

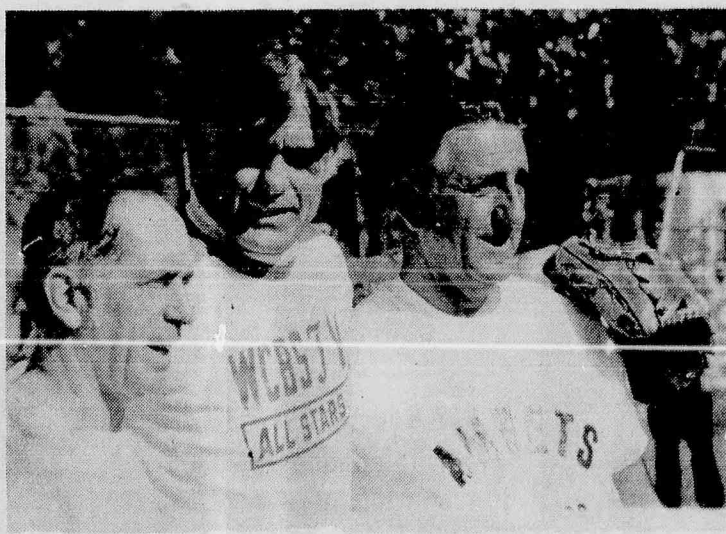

The match was staged at Clearman Field, with a healthy crowd gathered to glimpse celebrities like Jim Jensen, anchorman and pitcher and Tony Hernandez, sportscaster and shortfielder. Along with the two on-screen broadcasters came an enthusiastic team of cameramen, soundmen and studio workers.

The Channel Two All-Stars won the slugfest, but the final score was anywhere from 18-0 to 9-2, depending on where you figure the ballplaying ended and the clowning began. The score didn't matter, because it was a day for the kids, especially those from the Cerebral Palsy Center, who were guests of honor for the afternoon. The Amvets came to the field loaded with free candy for all the children who attended.

Amvet Joe DiModica gave the crowd one of the afternoon's biggest laughs when he strode to the plate with a bat whittled from a four-b-four, an instrument similar to a cricket paddle. Joe connected, but didn't reach base.

The news team, which has played 48 games already this season, all of them for charity, was in peak form Sunday and two of their batsmen cleared the fence at Clear-

Park Group Seeks Leaders for Seniors

The Essex County Park Commission is presently developing a list of county residents who have an interest in working with people, particularly senior citizens. The areas most in need are instructors and group leaders.

The group leaders are needed to work one or two afternoons with Senior Citizen Clubs. As an example, the Belleville Senior Citizen clubs that meet in the Belleville Park Senior Center could use a painting leader for their Tuesday and Thursday Clubs. This person would work with the Seniors to help coordinate their activities from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on those particular afternoons. The E.C.P.C. staff will train or guide those who feel that they might lack in experience of senior citizen programming.

The special instructors that are needed vary from crafts to bridge activities. Hopefully the Park Commission is looking to contact many of those people who have talent or training in different special areas and are not now using that talent.

Most of the programs designed for the senior center are developed around educational experiences. The seniors have responded extremely well to all the learning experiences thus far. They seem to have an uplifting effect and make life continuously interesting for them.

Diet Specialist Talks at Library

Mrs. Phebe Chin, a member of the Essex County Heart Association speakers bureau, addressed members of the Belleville Public Library yesterday.

"Eat To Your Heart's Content," the subject of Mrs. Chin's address, covered the minor changes in daily eating habits that can reduce the risk of heart disease among all members of a family. "Limiting beef, pork, lamb and ham to five moderate size portions per week, and using liquid vegetable oils and margarines tends to lower the level of cholesterol in the blood, and thus reduces the risk of heart attack," Mrs. Chin suggested.

A film on nutrition, narrated by Tony Randall, was also shown.

Mrs. Chin, dietitian-nutritionist at the East Orange General Hospital is a graduate of the City University of New York and a member of the American Dietetic Association.

Ms. Carol A. Emmens, Assistant Reference Librarian, Belleville Public Library, arranged the program thru the cooperation of the Essex County Heart Association, 70 East Park Street, East Orange.

Hospital Observes Fire Safety Week

During the past week, fire departments throughout the nation have been emphasizing the fact that fire prevention is the responsibility of everyone. Carelessness has been termed as the leading cause of fires and its resulting in loss of life.

In an effort to keep its students and employees informed, Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, in cooperation with the Belleville Fire Department, has been holding a week-long program on fire prevention and the proper uses of fire equipment.

The program began on Monday when Captain Edward Dunleavy and members of the Belleville Fire Department conducted experiments for the student nurses, showing the flammability of many ordinary household items, as well as electrical faults.

At the conclusion of the program, a participation-type demonstration on the use of fire extinguishers was held.

In the eighteen hundreds, three important events took place which make medicine what it is today. First of all was the introduction of anesthesia under surgeon Joseph Lister. Secondly, the study of germs became most important to medical science, including studies done by such famous men as Robert Koch and Louis Pasteur. Third, men were beginning to use more accurate instruments and to be more accurate in their diagnoses. It was a lucky century for us!

Agnew Pleads 'Guilty'

Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew traded in his vice presidency to avoid a jail sentence.

Conceding income-tax evasion and acknowledging receipt of money gifts last week Spiro Agnew pleaded no contest to a Department of Justice charge he falsified his 1967 income tax return.

Part of the agreement that led up to the Agnew-plea was insistence by Attorney General Richardson that a statement of the Justice Department's findings be part of the court proceedings. The Justice Department accused the former vice president of bribery, extortion and falsification of income-tax returns.

There are many people who are angry because they believe Mr. Agnew got off very easy with only a $10,000 fine.

We believe there is much merit to the total package which resulted in Agnew's resignation as vice president and the government's acceptance of his plea to filing a false tax return for 1967.

America could not stand a year or two of legal entanglements involving the Vice President of the United States when even at this hour we have a president who may not be beyond impeachment and/or indictment. The final word on President Richard Nixon is not in.

At least we can find comfort in the knowledge a new vice president, unencumbered with accusations of bribery, extortion and false income-tax filing, is available should catastrophe, in one form or another, overtake President Richard Nixon.

Upon Sandman

An Outrageous Attack

A slashing attack was made upon Congressman Charles Sandman, GOP gubernatorial candidate, by a reporter for the "New York" magazine.

We have been in many political campaigns and have seen new lows established in attacks upon candidates. The attack upon Congressman Sandman published in the current issue of "New York" is probably the lowest form of political reporting we have ever read. One headline example which appears in the article is "at least he's our bastard," said one Republican politician. "If Sandman makes it, we'll all get a piece of the action"...

The author of the article used an anonymous source for the quotation. This is character assassination at its worst.

Throughout the feature Charlie Sandman is portrayed as the political boss of South Jersey.

The Republican with the most influence in South Jersey for 30 years prior to 1969 was former Atlantic County State Senator Frank "Hap" Farley. Since 1969 Governor William Cahill has been the Republican holding the leadership reins of Republicanism in South Jersey.

It was only a couple of years ago that Congressman Charles Sandman was in danger of losing his congressional seat because of an intra-party Cape May County fight for control. Sandman forces lost the battle but he was able to retain his congressional seat.

It is one thing to criticize a candidate for public office on the record, it is another thing to assassinate a candidate's character using innuendos and falsehoods.

We have known Congressman Charles Sandman for almost 20 years. We know nothing about his business dealings in South Jersey. One thing we do know is that Charles Sandman never has been a political boss and for most of the past 20 years Congressman Sandman has won public office with his reputation standing the test of time.

Articles as appeared in this week's issue of the "New York" magazine and writers of such articles should be condemned.

When Congressman Sandman was asked to comment upon the article he said, "I don't comment on trash"-and indeed-trash it is. Unfortunately such printed commentary is believed in some quarters, thus consummating a fraud with lasting damage to our democratic institution - the citizen's vote. If lies and half-truths form the basis for one casting his vote the result is outright thievery of votes — a despicable crime.

Three Months

Americans are rightly disturbed by inflation, especially sharply higher food prices. There are consolations, however, most of us should keep in mind.

First, American prices are still only half what the buyer in West Germany pays, for example. In most other advanced countries, including the Scandinavian countries, food prices are also much higher.

Second, there are indications many food prices have peaked. As farm production increases, some may recede. Third, there's a wider selection of foods available to Americans than to other buyers.

Fourth, although inflation has affected Americans, it's also true real earnings, (purchasing power) have risen. This lightens the blow.

Of course, prices can't continue to rise during the rest of the year as they have in the first nine months without changing the picture. Thus the period from now to Christmas is probably the crucial test for the Nixon Administration in its efforts to slow inflation.

Very truly yours,

An Electrifying Personality All The Way From Ireland

AN ELECTRIFYING PERSONALITY, all the way from Ireland opens in the Maisonette Room of the St. Regis Hotel on October 29 for a two-week engagement.

If you are in his presence but don't look up to see the face one would bet that it was the voice of Tom Jones coming from the lungs of John MacNally. MacNally has a confident stage manner, his performance is laced with Irish humor and usually draws more than one standing ovation. In a recent performance one lady was overheard to comment about John MacNally, "He's sensual and sexy, but an urbane gentleman at the same time." His rendition of "Danny Boy" brings the house down. "Old Man River," "Impossible Dream" and "Bridge Over Troubled Waters" are magnificent. MacNally is at home with contemporary or Irish folk medley. His range is most impressive, from tenor to baritone to bass and his range changes are as smooth as a Mark IV Lincoln Continental.

MacNally's co-managers are two old friends of mine, Dick Cami, owner of the famous Hollywood, Florida, Top of the Home Restaurant, and Gil Davis, the young Canadian Teamster leader.

"BROTHER LOUIE," recording, made the big time, being number one on the Hit Parade for the past few weeks. Lead singer, Ian Lloyd, of the rock group "Stories," which "made" "Brother Louie," is the son of our good friend, Professor Buonconsiglio, Peter, in his own right, enjoys a national reputation in the music profession. He was first violinist of most of the important symphony orchestras in the United States. Currently Peter is keeping busy with TV commercials and an occasional concert. His son, Ian, was born in 1947. As a child he played both piano and violin. From left to right are Steve Love, Bryan Madey, Kenny Aaronson, Ian Lloyd and Kenny Bichel.

- Call the hospital or blood bank for an appointment.
- At hospital or blood bank prepare Blood Donors form and specify blood is for:
Account No. 3903 IMPACT

On behalf of IMPACT and my son, I thank you all very much.

Very Sincerely,
Mrs. Barbara DeAngelis

Belleville

IMPACT is a new organization whose membership consists primarily of mothers and fathers who have children with malignancies. Many of its members feel that by talking over common problems it can help them in terms of supporting themselves and their children during a difficult time. With the advent of new drugs and new therapies to treat leukemia and other malignancies of childhood, many children survive longer and are even cured. This presents additional burdens on the family, in view of the fact, that the length of time where the family has no answer to whether or not their child is going to die is prolonged. This causes many difficult family problems and the parents feel they can handle them together.

Another goal of the organization is to see whether or not some financial aid can be given to these families who are in need. Many of the visits are out patient visits and as we know many insurance plans do not pay for out patient visits. These visits can become quite expensive when the median survival time of a leukemic child is in the order of three or four years. These children must be seen at monthly intervals at the very minimum.

This organization has the support of the New Jersey College of Medicine's Pediatric Department and the American Cancer Society. Several meetings were held last year and on September 11, 1972 our first organizational meeting was held. At this time Mr. Lester Naegle of 24 Hillspring Road, Sparta, New Jersey was elected president.

A Blood Bank is very important for children with malignancies. We would have to divide up the children that we see into two groups. Those with leukemia and those with solid tumors.

Children with leukemia often need blood because the malignant cells crowd out the bone marrow and do not allow this tissue to then function normally. One of the functions of the bone marrow is to make red cells and to make particles called platelets which aid in clotting. Therefore, a child who initially presents with leukemia often needs a blood transfusion. Anemia is often the presenting sign of this disease. He may need a blood transfusion because of blood loss, the failure of the platelets to stop the bleeding. When a child goes into remission with the drugs that we use, often the drugs suppress the bone marrow and occasionally the patient may need a transfusion, even during the time the child is in remission.

Fifty percent of these children at sometime will have a relapse of their disease and at that time again blood may be indicated. This may take place a year, two or three after the diagnosis has been made.

Children with solid tumors often need blood at the time of diagnosis when surgery is contemplated. Occasionally surgery may be indicated again several months after the initial diagnosis for a look to see what is happening to the tumor. Again, these children are put on drugs which suppress the normal bone marrow and therefore, may need blood during the administration of these drugs.

In addition to making the cost of treating children with cancer much much lower and much less complicated for the parents, the more blood that we generate and is given through our program, the less we will have to rely on people who are called professional donors. These professional donors are people who sell their blood for a fee. This screening process is usually not very good and many addicts and drunks give blood frequently through the year to make money. This blood often is contaminated with hepatitis. The more blood that we get from private donors the less blood we have to use that is given by a professional donor.

These are good reasons why a contribution to our IMPACT Blood Bank would be beneficial to the children that we are treating. Now some fifty-five.

Sincerely,
Leonard F. Vitale

Skylabs

The successful 59½-day flight of the three astronauts manning Skylab II indicates man is able to live in space for long periods without suffering ill effects.

The Skylab III mission is currently being planned; there is talk of a 70-day attempt. In the future spacemen will likely be able to spend months aloft, and in greater comfort than today's small vehicle allow.

Four paragraphs were cut out of last week's column, apologies, and here they are.....referring to the Fun Fair at School Seven.....

"Mrs. LaVecchia wanted to say a special thanks to Viola Brothers - who supplied the wood to make the games as well as the sand, and Riccardi Paint - who supplied the paint for all the games.

"Commissioner Mike Marotti also make an appearance while I was there. The committee for the Fun Fair included: Diane Lombardy, chairlady, Ann Marie Cosenzo, Marie Haight, Betty DiGori, Pat Cardillo, Rose Buccino, Alba Clemente and Rosemary Carnavale. Others who were especially helpful were: Nancy Yaniga, Rose Bongo, Isobelle Giordano and Vinnie Femano.....publicity ladies were Rose D'Agostino and Carol Butterfield.

"As I walked around the grounds, saw many youngsters with hearts, flowers and green freckles painted on their faces or arms.....one of the most appealing booths to the kids it was easy to see."

Now, on with this week's news....

JIM GOLDEN mentioned something in his column that I've always advocated - - - opening up the Capitol Theatre for a teen rec center...let's go! You know, a lot is being done for the seniors in our town as well as the kids....what about those that fall in between - like me?

A young man walked into a restaurant, pointed to his open mouth and said: "Aah"....I've always wanted to do that, but the young lady behind the counter at McDonald's only hesitated a minute and answered "A-ha!"....and a trillionth hamburger was served.

Abbott's Drugstore, corner of Overlook and Washington is all dressed up for the halloween holidays...windows look nice.

Saw Kim Smith in her cheering outfit, she looked real cute. Understand the Norton twins, Leslie and Sharon are enjoying their first year as cheerleaders.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for principal of the Jr. High and his wife - Mario and Angela DeMaggio - they added son Christopher James to the family...they have another son, Mark.

If you're reading the Bulletin Board, you'll note that our Recreation Department has a lot going on - one of their new programs offered this year is fencing for adults. This course is taught by Wally Hauber and is held Tuesday evenings at School Three.....wanna' try it?

Get well wishes are in order for Pete Rainone..

I believe I've mentioned this before, but it's worth repeating. The BHS orchestra, under the direction of Louis Kosma, will be selling original greeting cards made by Mrs. Ella Keenan of Nutley this week. Proceeds will help the kids in their proposed exchange trip to Cranston R.I. in the spring. The cards are fantastic, so phone Mr. Kosma at the high school if you haven't had a BHS orchestra member visit you.

WELCOME HOME, you lucky people - Leonard and Jean Back toured the Hawaiian Islands....they visited Honolulu, the Islands of Maui, Kauai and stopped in Las Vegas enroute to Belleville. Watta' way to go! Mrs. Buck said words just can't describe their trip, it was "just gorgeous".

Congratulations to these nice people who celebrated anniversaries - Mr. and Mrs. Philip DeCroce, 35th; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lazaro (Marlene is the DeCroce's daughter), 14th; and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeCroce racked up 11 years. The family hailed the event with a trip to the Meadowbrook where Pat Cooper entertained. (And, Marlene - thanks for your nice words about my column...keep the news coming).

DID I tell you members of the Belleville Reformed Church are holding a Square Dance? The date is October 27, at the Church, Rutgers and Main Street. Tickets will be on sale Tuesday-Friday at the church from 9-noon...only $2. Proceeds are for refurbishing the Church.

Now don't forget - October 24-27 is the First Annual "Third River Handicrafts Show" to be held at Nutley Savings & Loan, Franklin Ave. Nutley. About 50 exhibitors will show their products, and it's a nice time to purchase Christmas presents, as well as benefit the Reinheimer Perry Boys Club. (as I said the only two I know exhibiting are my mom, Doris Murphy and Mrs. Ella Keenan - do look for them).

Standard and Advanced First Aid Courses will be taught at the District Headquarters of the American Red Cross, 234 Washington Avenue starting Wednesday Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. If interested, please call Mrs. Bade at 759-4610.

BILL HOLLIS, Spanish teacher at Belleville Junior High, joined his "buddies" - Bob Leffelbine and Carolina Furno, in volunteering their time to teach dramatics to teens at the "Y". Bill, a teacher at BJHS for 3 years, was in two of the Group productions as a star - "Don't Drink the Water" and "George Washington Slept Here". He lives in North Arlington and is attending Montclair State, studying for his masters. Understand he was a former disc jockey at the College. For the "Y" youngsters, he will be the technical producer and function as a sound technician.

You will note, in this issue, we have a column on "Organization Doings" - come on, have your group spotlighted, just call me.

Stan and Nancy Zaczowski tell me that the square dance lessons they are teaching are well attended. Just thought I'd remind you, Stan is available as a "caller" for all your square dances. Phone him at 751-1329.

Mert and Josephine Marx celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary by a trip to Miami to visit her brother, Eugene Griwalski. While there, daughter Linda flew down from Denver Colorado, to join the festivities with her young brothers Ray and Eugene. The WHOLE Marx family - Mert, Jo, Ray, Eugene, Linda and now Cpl. Guy Marx had a party this past week. Sort of a welcome home to Guy, who has been stationed in Hawaii with the Marines, as well as celebrating Guy's 21st birthday.

She is planning to enter college next year to major in foreign languages.

Lions in New Jersey have supported this state institution by providing recreation facilities and counseling starting with the donation of a swimming pool about 20 years ago. The swimming pool project was instituted by the Belleville club.

Greeting Card Sale At BHS

Members of the Belleville High School orchestra are selling handpainted greeting cards to raise funds for their proposed exchange trip to Cranston, Rhode Island in May of 1974.

The cards are handpainted by Mrs. Ella Keenan of Nutley, known as "Mom K" to local residents. She is aided by her daughters, Mrs. Edna Rippe, and Miss Ruth Keenan, author of "Fire and Gold."

Sale of the cards is under the direction of Belleville High teacher Louis Kosma. The cards can be purchased by contacting any member of the group or by calling or writing Kosma at the school.

HARD AT WORK — Mrs. Ella Keenan handpainted greeting cards as her daughter, Ruth, looks on and another daughter, Mrs. Edna Rippe, helps out.

Fencing Mentor at Fairleigh Teaches Sport to Local Adults

Wally Hauber of Belleville Avenue retired from his job with Western Electric, yet now juggles a schedule that includes being Fencing Instructor for our town Recreation Department, Head Coach of the varsity fencing team at Fairleigh Dickinson (on two separate campuses) and a Physical Education teacher at Fairleigh. Wally has been teaching these courses for about 20 years, the only difference is, while working full time it was rather hectic; now that he's retired he can devote more time to his activities.

Born in Winnipeg, Canada, Wally has been fencing since the age of six. He started because his father was an international news reporter. "In Europe, tradition required journalists' sons to learn fencing for self-defense. I kept learning more and more until, finally, I was in open tournaments." In 1954, he won the international dueling sword championship at a competition in his native Canada. He attended St. Anne's Academy in New York and received his B.S. at New York University.

Wally's sparkling eyes and red cheeks amply express the mental and physical exhilaration he gets from fencing. "Fencing is like a game of chess played at a rapid clip, or a debate without words. You gain a lot of insight into a person's character just by fencing with him for a few minutes - how he reacts to psychological pressures as well as physical contact. It requires quick decisions and coordination."

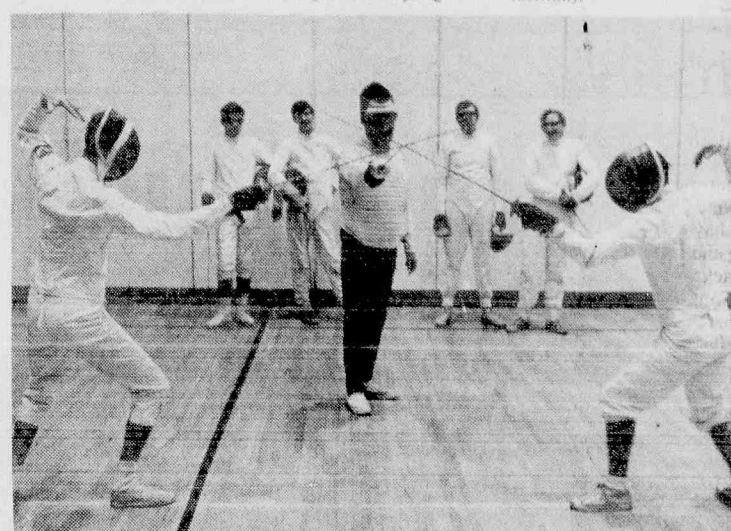

Fairleigh Dickinson fencers call him "Uncle Wally" and he's an honorary member of one of the campus fraternities. Wally was feted at a dinner and his team gave him a commemorative sword, a spontaneous and unexpected sign of their high regard for him.

Under the Recreation Department, Wally began instructing adults in fencing last week. He says it is a good form of exercise and acts as a toneup both physically and mentally.

"EN GARDE" — Fencing instructor Wally Hauber (center) referees a bout between two students. Head coach for Fairleigh Dickinson University, he also teaches fencing for the Town Recreation Department.

Organization DoingsAuxiliary Police Sacrifice Time

What do a machine operator, plant manager, can manufacturer, truck driver, food store owner and metal stamp contractor have in common? They are all volunteer members of Belleville's Auxiliary Police Department.

The Auxiliary Police were organized during World War II. In the late 60's, under the direction of Mayor Ken Smith, group was revitalized, with Ed Littig as Deputy Chief.

Though volunteers, the members receive the same instruction as a regular police officer and should certainly command the same respect, as their assignments are given to them by the Belleville Police Department. A volunteer must attend a 16 week course at Civil Defense Headquarters in Livingston and must pass a firing of arms test as well as many others. Courses such as first aid, riot control, traffic and other subjects are studied. The courses are taught by Civil Defense officers, State Policemen and local Police Officers.

After completing all courses, the volunteer is then assigned to the Duty Roster in Belleville and spends approximately 15 hours a month assisting our Police Department as a back-up man.

Some of their duties include patrolling streets, checking the schools for vandalism, crowd control at parades, and ball games as well as special assignments. These men could be at home, watching a ball game but prefer to spend their off hours helping their community. Rocco Landolfi is the Deputy Chief, and when asked why volunteers join the organization, he said it was not only their civic pride, but many of them use the training to them become regular policemen. Rocco says of his 50 some volunteers - including one woman "I couldn't find a better bunch of men."

Recently, quite a few of the Auxiliary Police attended a cardiopulmonary resuscitation course at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. This was not a required subject, they decided to further their knowledge on their own time, and after the 8 hour course, received certificates stating successful completion.

Last Saturday, the Belleville Auxiliary Police held their Sixth Annual Dinner Dance - this year at the Branch Brook Manor. Bob Cook of the Belleville Recreation Department was the guest speaker, with Ed Littig as Toastmaster.

State's Savings Banks Watching Deposits Leave

New Jersey's 20 savings banks continued to experience a net outflow of deposits during the month of September of approximately $25.5 million, according to Harold J. Patterson, Jr., president of the Savings Banks' Association of New Jersey. He said that just over $2.5 million of the total was due to continued "disintermediation", or depositor withdrawals being attracted by other types of investment. The remaining figure of approximately $23 million actually represents total dividends for the month paid out on all savings accounts by member banks of the association.

Card Shop Is Now Pete and Bernie's

The Card Shop at 51 Franklin Street in Belleville's Silver Lake section, has had a change of management. Formerly known as the "Franklin Card Shop" it will now be "Pete and Bernie's".

Touring this delightful, busy emporium, many, many items were artfully arrayed such as gift wrappings, earrings and other jewelry, gift items including watches and wallets, boxes of candy, a complete line of Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls.

Also, there are wedding albums, party supplies from soup to nuts, film and flashbulbs and, the store is a U.S. Postal sub-station, offering greater convenience to residents in that area.

The new owner, Pete McDermott, opened for business on October 1. He attended St. Peter's grammar school, graduated from BHS and was in the U.S. Army. He has been a mailman in Belleville for 15 years, ten of which were in the Silver Lake district. In January, he will marry Miss Bernadine Cook of Bloomfield, hence - "Pete and Bernie's".

Pete is Past Exalted Ruler of B.P.O.E. 1123 and has headed the Crippled Children committee for the group the past five years. He has also been an advisor for Camp Governor Moore in northern New Jersey, which houses crippled children.

Pete's father, John, and his two brothers, Martin and Joe, were among the well-wishers when the Card Shop opened. Many friends had sent plants and flowers which adorn the shelves. Pete's prime product is, of course, Hallmark greeting cards.

Will Patty Straniero still be at the teller's window now that National Newark & Essex Bank has changed its name to Midlantic?

Of course.

Even though the name—Midlantic National Bank—is new as of October 1st, you'll recognize the familiar faces you've always known.

When you come in, your favorite teller will still be here to give you the same prompt, courteous service and personal attention you've come to expect over the years.

As always, our people are here to help you with all of your day-to-day banking needs. Like cashing checks. Arranging loans. Traveler's checks. Doing all kinds of things to make your dealings in our bank as smooth as possible.

After all, the only change is the name. The people are the same. The hours are the same. Your account number is the same.

When we do make innovations, they'll be to improve our service rather than merely change it. You can bank on our new name.

Powdery Mildew On Many Lilacs

This has been a bad year for powdery mildew disease on lilac bushes.

The disease makes the leaves roll and turn gray. Unroll a leaf and you'll see a surface coated with white.

Look closely, suggests Mr. Munk, and you'll see many tiny black dots. These are bundles of spores or microscopic seeds of powdery mildew.

You'll waste your time spraying now, he says. But if you'd like to control the disease next year, try one of the benomyl products such as Benlate. Karathane can also be used. Spray during July and August at 14-day intervals.

Leaves become infected early in the summer, but leaves don't curl until fall.

Mrs. James Siegendorf - nee Patricia Pucciarello

Dog Nutrition

Dog nutrition is really a simple subject. But one of the things that makes it seem complicated are the many feeding fallacies that have sprung up over the years. Some time ago, I discussed a few of these fallacies like "milk makes worms," (milk only "makes" worms when there are worm eggs in the milk) and "onions cure worms" (only medicine can eliminate worms). Here are some more of these common misconceptions:

"A dog needs bones." Actually, bones are not at all necessary for a dog, and small bones may splinter in his throat with possibly serious consequences.

"Raw meat will make my pet wild." Raw meat if your dog will eat it — is often preferable to cooked meat because cooking destroys vitamins.

"If my dog skips a meal there is something wrong with him." No dog starves himself. If he does not eat, pick up his food and wait until the next meal. Of course, if your dog shows no appetite for several days, see your veterinarian.

"A lot of fat is his diet will make my dog's coat gleam." The average dog needs a maximum of 10 percent fat in his diet. An excess will probably make him ill.

As to the right way to feed your dog, the key is a balanced diet. And since most important food substances are not stored in a dog's body for any extended period, the proper nutritional balance should be maintained at every meal.

One way to insure maintenance of a proper balance is to serve your dog ready-to-eat food made by a reputable manufacturer. Your veterinarian can suggest possibilities.

There are three basic types of dog food: dry, moist, and canned. Many people think that dry foods are cereal and the canned foods are meat. This is not true. Canned foods that are completely meat are not "dog food" in the sense that they do not provide a complete diet.

There is no precise way to determine how much to feed your dog. One way to get an idea is to watch the dog as it eats. If he leaves his dish while there is still food in it, or if it stops eating to gaze off into space, the chances are you are feeding too much.

A good rule is to let your dog eat for 30 minutes and then pick up the dish and dispose of the uneaten portion. Feed it less the next day.

Many grown dogs require only one meal a day. If they are fed twice, they will be eating more than they require. Similarly, between meal snacks merely spoil a dog's appetite. Snacks also tend to make your pet an annoying "beggar."

INSTALLED — The 1973-74 Slate of Officers for the National Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars is shown at the close of the National Convention in New Orleans, Louisiana. Alcoholism Help

For too many years there was almost no place at all to which a person suffering from alcoholism, or his family or friends, could turn for help. Although there are still far from enough resources to cope with the massive problem, which affects at least 1 in every 20 adult Americans, the picture is beginning to change for the better.

Public attitudes are beginning to change — and improve. The "funny drunk" is no longer so funny; and the movies and TV are realizing that alcoholism is, like cancer, no laughing matter.

Laws that once dealt with alcoholism as a crime are being revised to treat it as an illness — which it really is.

A number of employers, including the U.S. Government, are beginning to provide problem drinkers with opportunities for treatment instead of shunning or shaming or forgetting them.

This new thinking and action about alcoholism is causing new programs to spring up across the Nation where alcoholics can get help.

Not all types of programs are available in all communities by any means. Some communities have none at all. In general, too, there is a shortage of services for women. Society tends to forget that women can fall victims to the illness, although unfortunately a considerable proportion of the overall problem is made up of women who abuse alcohol or are alcoholics.

But progress is being made, and resources are growing. Where you can get information and help on alcoholism (as well as important facts about it) are contained in an authoritative publication of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, a part of HEW's National Institute of Mental Health. For a free copy, ask for "Alcoholism and Its Treatment." Address: National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

Famous Films to Run At Montclair Library

by Liz Primamore

How many old flick buffs are there lurking out yonder? Do you possess the yearn of nostalgia for the 1930's and 40's? Once again ringing in our ears we hear Garbo's "I want to be alone," Mae West's "Come up and see me sometime," or see the affectionate love gesture of James Cagney smacking grapefruit upon Mae Clark's cheek.

Are you tired of consuming No-Doz to watch the Late-Late-Late Show?

Friends, fret no more. The Montclair Library's 1973 Film Festival repeats many of these classics. The admission is free and each show begins at 7:45 p.m.

The schedule is:

Oct. 24 - "Night Must Fall" (1937), R. Montgomery, R. Russell.

Oct. 31 - "Long Voyage Home" (1940), J. Wayne.

Nov. 7 - "The Philadelphia Story" (1940), Hepburn, Grant, Stewart

Musical Notes

Discipline Is the Key To the Band's Shows

by Mary-Jo Padula

Have you ever wondered how many hours of preparation are required to put on a ten minute performance by the band, orchestra or vocal groups at the high school?

The School Page this week begins a series which will spotlight activities of our Music Department, beginning with an article on the band.

This group which members 120 band members, 21 twirlers, 12 color guard, 17 flag bearers and one drum majorette must work every day at specific routines until they are perfected. The band plays the same songs over and over. They march outdoors every day for two hours in warm or cold weather. Finally, with the help of the advisor of each group they are ready for Saturday's football game. Truly it takes much discipline for each student.

The same members of the band and it's associated groups put on stage shows and concerts. They must practice each evening singing or playing sweet musical notes rather than loud tones. All this is to entertain the rest of the members of the student body and members of their community.

Of course this same group has to finance the trips they take to perform in other states. They must sell decals, candy, tickets to plays and concerts and pay $50 dues every week. So it's not at all a bowl of cherries and free vacations and missing classes! It's a lot of hard work requiring many hours away from personal entertainment.

Showcase in Front Lobby Displays Study in Shapes

by Anne Molloy

The study of shapes is the art exhibition presently shown in the front lobby at Belleville High School. The showcases are filled with various designs in shape created by the Art two and three classes, under the supervision of Mrs. JoAnn Puleo.

Mrs. Puleo is the new art instructor at the high school. "Each student," she stated, "was told to begin working with simple geometric shapes and from them, develop their own original shape which would reflect their personality."

The media used to produce the designs was black india ink on white mat board using pens and brushes.

Mrs. Puleo pointed out that the project gave her the opportunity to distinguish individualization among her students. "At first, students did not understand how a shape could reveal their personalities or why I felt shape was so important. However, in the following weeks, each class was able to openly discuss each drawing and form their own opinions and identification about them."

Business Clubbers To Host a Tea

The Future Business Leaders of America Club is sponsoring a "tea" for members of the faculty on October 25.

The Question at BHS: Another Bonfire Rally?

by Lynda O'Connell

What happens when a crowd of enthusiastic people anticipating a bonfire witness a sudden explosion? How do the ideas of these people alter when several students are injured? The answers to these questions are not yet apparent but are being debated. The main idea is "should we have another bonfire?"

On the eve of the Belleville-Bloomfield game the proposed bonfire exploded after four gallons of gasoline had been poured on the dry wood. Fumes had apparently developed at the bottom of the wood pile and were set off when a match was lit by an unidentified spectator.

Chris Manning, junior class president at B.H.S. who organized the bonfire was seriously injured, receiving second degree burns on his arms and legs and a lacerated forehead. Chris, however, feels that this should not discourage future bonfires. Most students at Belleville feel the same way. Some are even looking anxiously for a bonfire in the near future. On the other hand there are a few teachers and students who feel that a bonfire is an unnecessary danger and should not take place again at Belleville. Few adults feel that the students are not responsible enough for such a happening.

Over the years B.H.S. has seen several bonfires in which all went smoothly, which does prove that we can't let one accident spoil any efforts for another bonfire. This school activity which creates a stronger moral for the football team and a great spirit for the kids is also "good clean fun". One individual stated, also saying, "It would be a shame to see this exercise abolished."

Key Club Lines Up Coming Year's Work

by John Horutz

The Belleville High School Key Club, which is a boy's service organization, under the direction of Herman Knuppel, has slotted their yearly projects.

Along with their many school activities which include: guiding parents for open house, guiding numerous adult students to their classes in the adult school, ushering people to their seats at various sports events, and tutoring students in certain subjects, they plan to serve the community in numerous ways this year.

Starting at the children's shelter, where many children are extremely lonely and need guidance, a group of boys are going to spend a day making these unfortunate children happy. Another community project which is planned this year is keeping the numerous Kiwanis bus shelters clean and making sure they are not damaged.

The club's main money-maker this year is going to be a pretzel sale which will take place at the wrestling matches and basketball games. This pretzel sale was held last year, and turned out to be very successful, earning an extremely large amount of money for the club.

An extra-special project being planned by the Key Club is a scrapbook which will display the year's events. This is a first-time project which will involve a lot of time and effort.

Robert Cozzarelli, president of the organization, stated that he and the club are willing to help with any other community projects in town.

Band in Parade

by Jan Pitera

The Belleville High School Band, Twirlers, Color Guard, and Flag Wavers paraded for some 300,000 persons who turned out for the Columbus Day Parade in Newark.

They were one of the 34 uniformed groups that traveled along Bloomfield Avenue in the North Ward to the Belleville line. The Belleville High School Band under the direction of Robert Wing played along the two mile stretch as the Twirlers, Color Guard, and Flag Wavers displayed their talents. The group was then seen on several television networks that night.

The parade, which took six months of planning and preparation proved to be a huge success. The directors of the Columbus Day Parade plan on an even larger event for next year.

Host Irvington Saturday

Regroup After 7-0 Indian Upset

by Ken Moore

Rocco Cafone is stiffening his offensive line attack again this week for Saturday's battle with the Irvington Campers. Coach Cafone and Bellboy gridders are determined to avoid a repeat of last weekend when the visiting Passaic Indians upset the local eleven, 7-0.

Belleville will host again in the effort to boost their 1-3 record at the expense of the Campers, who stand at 2-2. Coach Fred Manuel will bring in a medium-sized squad which developed rapidly over the past two weeks after initial defeats by Essex County kings Nutley and Montclair. Union fell to Irvington, 17-8, and last week the Campers downed Vailsburg, 14-0. Montclair had trounced them earlier, 29-0, but against Nutley, the Campers put up a strenuous fight, losing, 14-8.

The Bellboys had apparently been unable to shake off the demoralizing effects of their earlier 21-8 loss to Nutley, and last Saturday's performance against Passaic saw Blue-Gold offensive attacks undermined by penalties and failed pass plays. The backfield was bottled up for most of the game, and Cafone said this week's drills will stress sustained blocking. Cafone says his linemen have been "firing out" to meet their foes, "but they've got to do more than block — they've also got to turn their men," he said.

Blocking was a big problem against Passaic, said Cafone, but not the only one. "We came out on the first series and moved right down the field," he said, referring to the opening drive which took the Bellboys from their 39-yard line to the Passaic nine in seven running plays. "What stopped us was a 15-yard holding penalty that left us at third-down and long yardage, and we had to pass." On the attempted aerial, quarterback Bill Telesco was sacked for a loss of 11 yards.

The penalty problem recurred throughout the game, said Cafone. "As we were moving the ball, several penalties stymied us, because we were forced to go to the air. We like to pass on our own terms, on second down and short yardage. But Saturday we were forced to go to the air at critical points."

The passing record against Passaic was an unimpressive

1-7, with two overthrown by passers, two dropped by receivers and two picked off by Passaic defenders.

As for the running game, said the coach, "we feel we have good backs, and we've got to get the running game more consistent. The offense has proved it can go, but we've got to stop these mistakes. The linemen aren't inexperienced anymore and by this time they should be able to make the blocks and sustain them."

Defensively, Cafone wants to give more support from the linebackers and the free safety to the ends, which were under heavy fire by Passaic runner Bart Allen Saturday. Allen took the ball around the right side in a nine-yard run to score after a pass play from QB Keith Lee to Allen set it up in the final quarter.

The Belleville defenders showed they still deserve their fierce reputation when earlier in the game they staved off a Passaic attack from the Belleville four-yard line. When the ball was turned over and the Belleville offense sputtered, it was punter Filippis who pulled the Blue-Gold out of the hole with a 64-yard boot.

Late in the second quarter, an interception of a Jim DiModica toss by Passaic's Tom Wilson found the Indians again threatening deep in Belleville territory, but Steve Gerard then turned the trick himself as he stole a Passaic aerial to regain the ball for the Bellboys, though time ran out in the half before a drive could be executed.

The Bellboys couldn't mount a sustained push longer than six plays, nor penetrate deeper than Passaic's 40-yard line for the remainder of the game, despite what Cafone termed as good running by Steve Senatore and Joe Napolitano. The coach singled out the efforts of linebacker Joe Cancelliere, who also spelled Napolitano at fullback on a few plays.

"Joe was either in on or made at least 80 percent of the tackles again this week. He deserves all the credit in the world for his work. He was all over the field Saturday."

John Valvano has been replacing the injured Joe LaValle at interior guard on defense.

Cafone mentioned the specialty units have been outstanding and deserve quite a bit of recognition for the job they've done in all our games this season."

Though coach Manuel of the Campers announced his respect for the spirit of the Bellboys and the running of Steve Senatore and Joe Napolitano in particular, he figures they'll be matched by his running backs, Dexter Brown and Harry Giunta. Likewise, though he concedes Bill Telesco "can throw a nice, long pass," Manuel

Now 5 Straight

Runners Tack Two Victories Onto Streak

by Bob Cohen

The amazing Belleville High School cross country squad stretched its streak to five straight victories as they knocked off top rate competition from Irvington East Side last week by the respective scores of 16-46 and 24-33.

This afternoon the squad will take on the Bengals of Bloomfield before they meet the Nutley Maroon Raiders on Monday. Both of these races will be held in Belleville Park beginning at 3:45. On Wednesday the harriers travel to East Orange to take on the Panthers.

The Irvington meet was of added importance because it was a meeting of two Big Ten teams and Belleville is now definitely in the running for the Big Ten crown. Captain Bill Goodwin kept his personal streak alive when he again finished first. For the fifth straight time. His time was 15:40.

He was followed by Steve Budrick who showed signs of being on his way back as he was timed for second at 16:08. Nelson Seda and Jim Beck were pegged for third and fourth respectively although they were given the identical time of 16:21. Roman Car was the first Camper across as he finished up at 16:31. Next was Bellboy junior Walt Siubis at 16:40 preceding Mike Fortino who ended his run with a time of 16:57. Doug Wamsley was in at ninth place with a time of 17:07. Steve Dyba followed at 17:08. Pete Fitzpatrick was 13th at 17:49.

The race was never in doubt as the Bellboys sprinted out in their packs and simply pulled out of reach of their nearest competition.

It was Belleville's second romp this season as they upped their record to 5-3. Irvington dropped to 2-4.

On Saturday, the two "super-sophs" from Belleville, Nelson Seda and Jim Beck traveled to Bernardsville where they competed in the sophomore invitational. There, in a field of 90, they finished 19th and 33rd respectively. It was still another encouraging sign for he hopes of future cross country teams.

On Monday, the harriers met a red hot squad from East Side High School in Newark at the home course in Belleville park. Manny Cordeiro and Ralph Ocasio of East Side quickly set out into the lead which for some reason or other seemed to bother Belleville's top runner Bill Goodwin. At the half-way mark the results of the race were pretty apparent as the field shaped out with Manny Cordeiro first, "Goody" second, Nelson Seda third and Jim Beck fourth.

The ending was very exciting in the battle for first. With a third of a mile to go, Goodwin was trailing by 50 yards. Cordeiro, however, was able to hold off the effort of the Belleville captain and finish first at 15:49. Goodwin who had his personal string snapped, finished at 15:51. Nelson Seda came in at 16:30 and Jim Beck ended at 16:41. After Ralph Ocasio and Carlos Viera took fifth and sixth for East Side, Steve Budrick and Mike Fortino were timed for seventh and eighth at 17:13 and 17:23. Doug Wamsley took 10th at 17:30 and Steve Dyba 11th at 17:47. Walt Siubis was 12th at 18:10. Pete Fitzpatrick closed out the field in the 14th position at 18:26.

After the victory, the Belleville cross country record jumped to 6-3. East Side is now 4-3. The harriers have now established themselves as the winningest fall sport in the high school and with almost two thirds of the schedule completed, are virtually assured of their first winning season in over six years.

In the upcoming week the three meets against Big Ten teams can decide Belleville's chances for first, an amazing turn of events in such a short period of time.

Carteret Savings Net Reported for This Year

Carteret Savings and Loan Association, the largest state-chartered savings and loan in New Jersey, reported net income for the first nine months of 1973 of $1,960,000, an increase of $516,000 over the first three quarters of the previous year, or 36 percent.

CLAIMS PRIZE — Rose Figurelli of Belleville, N.J. and Roy White hold a $50 check which Rose won in DeWitt Savings & Loan's "700 Plus" Contest. She was a third place prize winner. Looking on are Robert M. Williams, President of DeWitt Savings and Loan and little Dawn DeDolce.

Teacher Wins DeWitt Contest

Robert Williams, President of DeWitt Savings and Loan, announced that Mrs. Alphonse Fulcoli of Nutley was the winner of the "700 Plus" Contest conducted by the Association. Mrs. Fulcoli received $713 dollars based on the total number of lifetime home runs hit by an active major league ballplayer through the 1973 season. Mrs. Fulcoli lives in the Enclosure in Nutley. She is a teacher at Belleville Jr. High School where she teaches English.

Her hobbies are reading and gardening. Her son Jeffrey is a student at New York University.

G. Trombetta of Wayne was the second winner. He received $150 dollars. Mrs. Rose Figurelli of Belleville won the third prize of $50 dollars.

All winners were selected by Roy White, popular Yankee ballplayer. Roy also autographed his picture for the hundreds of fans who greeted him during his stay at DeWitt on Wednesday, Oct. 3.

SCOTT MURRAY of Holy Family School, sees a different star now than the ones he saw when he fell out of a tree recently. He's Roy White, Yankee left-fielder, who autographs Scott's cast at Dewitt Savings and Loan's "700 Plus Contest Day" on Wednesday, Oct. 3. Roy autographed hundreds of pictures for his many fans.

FIRST MILE of the Belleville cross country squad's meet with Irvington saw the local harriers group (l-r) Jim Beck, Mike Fortino and Bill Goodwin. Partially obscured is Kevin Bradley.

added his Steve Panek has connected in the air for four touchdowns this season.

Sizewise, he said, the Campers are "medium, maybe a little shorter than most other teams." Offensively, the Campers work from a power-I and slot formations.

Manuel's assessment of Saturday's contest saw defense as controlling the outcome of the game, and he pointed out that his squad had the Nutley contest in doubt until the final four minutes of the last quarter.

A CLEAN HIT is executed by Joe Cancelliere, one of Belleville's biggest assets, as he meets Bart Allen, top Indian runner. Allen carried 24 times for 84 yards, including a nine-yard drive which scored the only touchdown of the game.

FAILED PASS — Bill Telesco (11) seeks end Vin Lipoma in the Passaic end zone in this first quarter play from the Passaic nine-yard line. It was as close as the Bellboys got all day as the pass, which fell incomplete, was called back on a penalty and the Blue-Gold march was ended.

Indians Tumble Bellboys in Fourth Quarter

UNDER PRESSURE — After Passaic intercepted a Belleville pass deep in the hometown's territory, Coach Rocco Cafone holds a hurried sideline conference with Joe Cancelliere.

PICKING UP Roger Luzzi (25) for blocking, Allen Cervasio (44) hoofs it on a kickoff return after the Passaic touchdown.

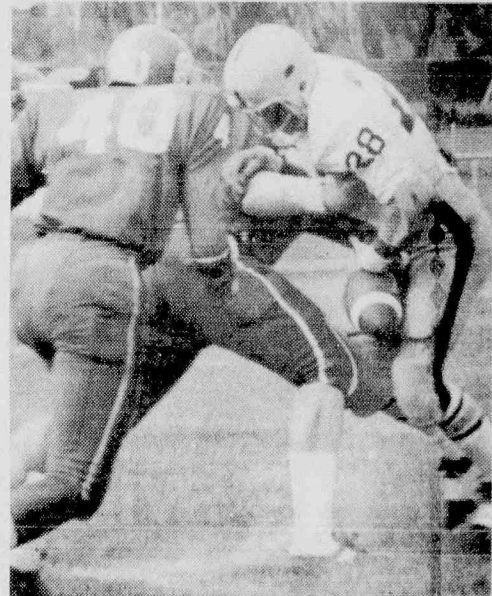

FIRST DOWN is achieved by Joe Napolitano in the closing minutes of the game after the Passaic TD was scored. For the most part, Bellboy runners found themselves bottled in by a surprisingly tough Passaic defensive line.

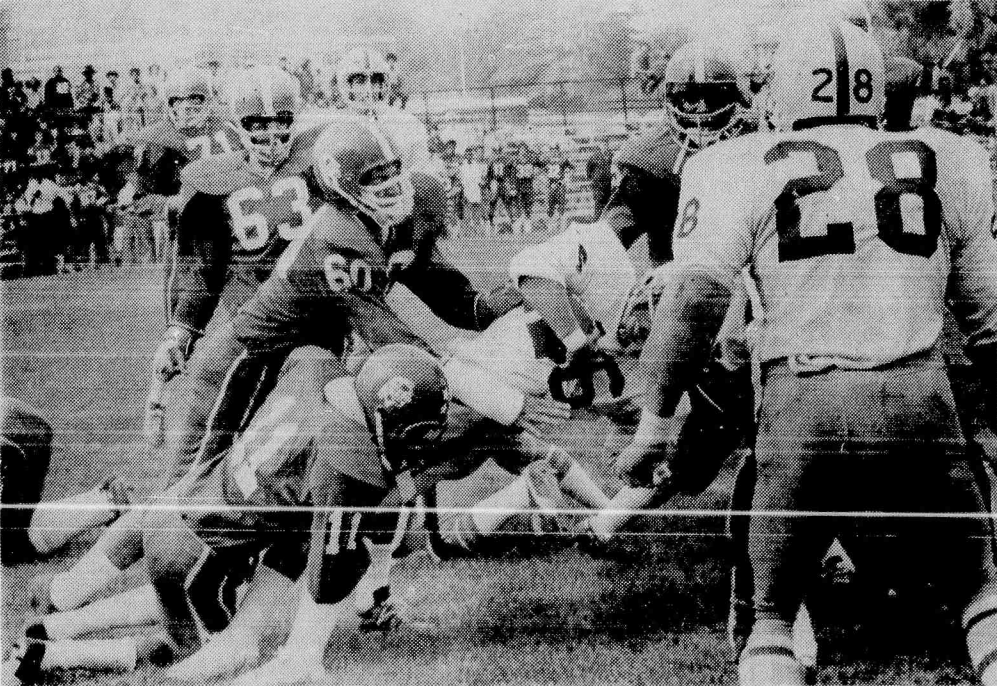

LOSING Gen Dul of Passaic in the dust, Steve Senatore (25) beats it around the end for ten yards and a first down in the opening series of the game, Belleville's only successful drive.

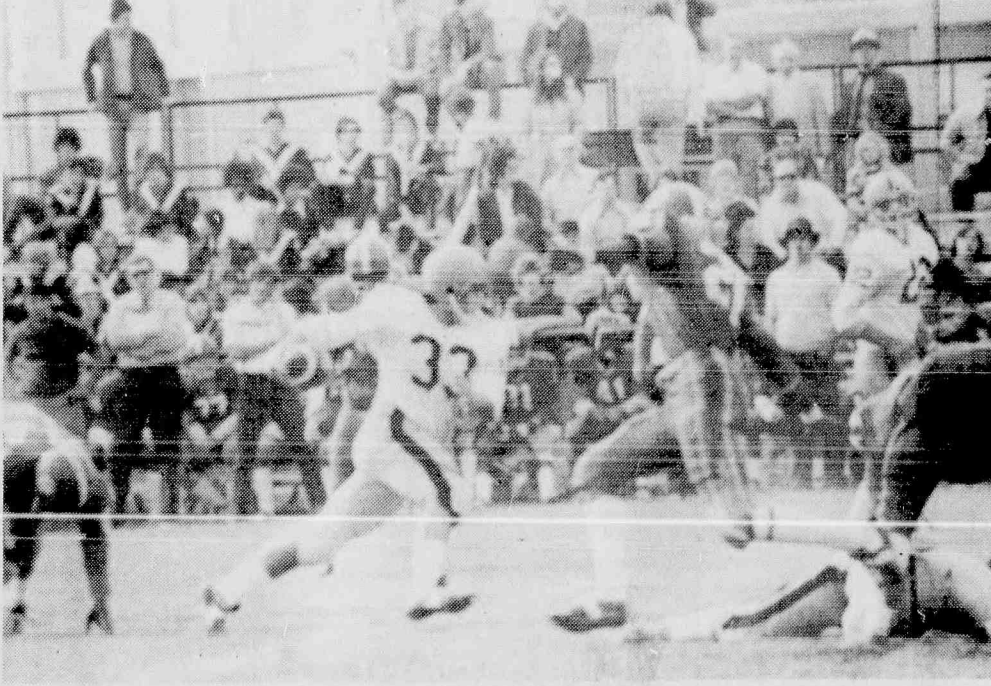

DRUM MAJORETTE Gerri Palmisana leads the Belleville High School band during half-time activities at Municipal Stadium. Saturday's show included the Wrigley gum jingle.

SOMETIMES dabbling in the offensive backfield, defensive specialist Joe Cancelliere saw the pigskin squirt from his arms on this play. Belleville recovered.

BROUGHT DOWN after shutting off an Indian threat with an interception, Steve Gerard (16) hits the ground. Gerard picked off Keith Lee's aerial at the Belleville seven-yard line. Action is late in the second quarter.

STRIDING into the Passaic line, Joe Napolitano finds Fred Wiggins (21) swooping down on him. The senior Bellboy halfback carried five times for an average of 4.2 yards. Action is in third quarter.

man field. When WCBS's Gonzalez powered a drive that caromed off the fence and was held at second by the umpire on a ground-rule double, Jensen remarked at the uniqueness of a "400-foot double." Jensen pitched the entire route, and everyone of the 22 Amvets took up a bat to test his skill. (It was later reported Jensen had come close to joining the Chicago Cubs in his younger days).

The local team, eager to get back on the diamond after some time of inactivity, put up a good battle against the younger Channel Two team, and later hosted their former foes, with wives and families, at a dinner in the Amvets Hall.

"They were at the hall until 6:30," said Joe Fornarotto, who arranged the entire affair, along with Commissioner Michael Marotti. "Most of them stayed to see the Mets on television with us. They were a very sociable bunch of guys."

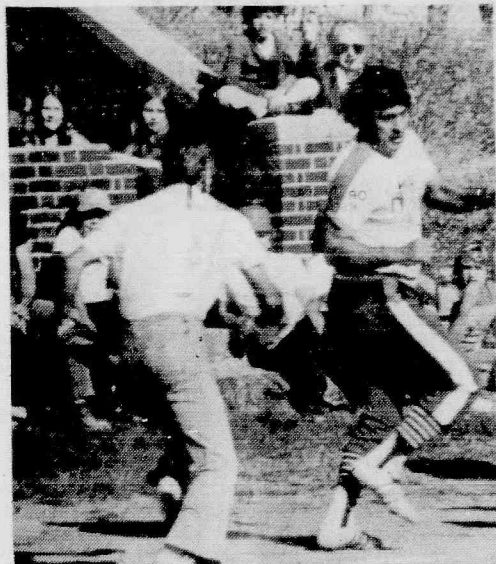

HONORED GUESTS — Children and instructors from the Cerebral Palsy Center were given seats on the baseline for Sunday's softball game between the Channel Two newsteam and local Amvets. The game netted nearly $600 which will be donated to the Cerebral Palsy Center. An even bigger turnout is expected next year.

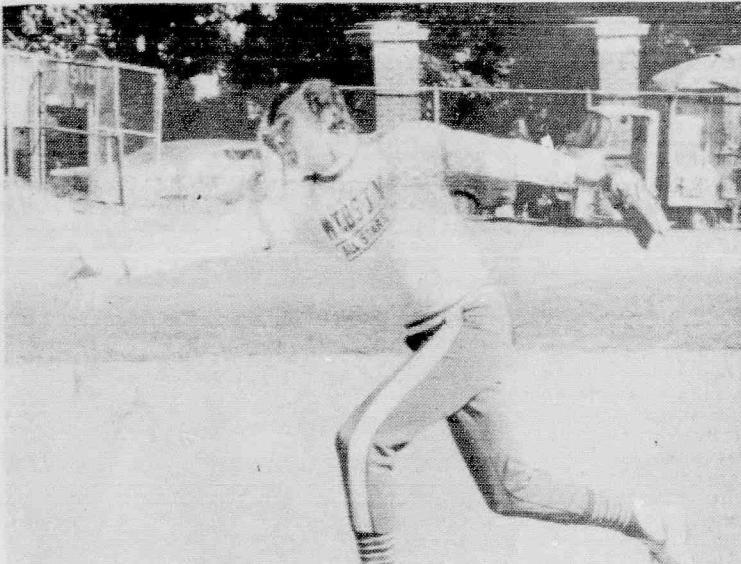

CHANNEL TWO'S Mancini leaps to avoid a low inside pitch, but is a little slower than the ball. Amvets' finesse came out as the game moved onward.

WATCHFUL WAITING — Prefer of WCBS sticks to first place while Amvets' Mike Marotti covers the infield.

TRAPPED — Amvets catcher Tony Bruno pursues Channel Two's Restivo down the third baseline in a run-down which saw the New Yorker put out.

ANCHORMAN-PITCHER Jim Jensen shows his form as he hurls one across the plate. Jensen went the route for WCBS, lending some weight to reports that he was a prospective player for Chicago in his younger days.

Experts Reviewing The System

Conference To Examine Standards

Should New Jersey seek to consolidate its small town police departments?
Should the state move to eliminate plea bargaining?
Should vagrancy and drunkenness be decriminalized in the state?

These are just three of nearly 500 questions which 200 of the state's foremost criminal justice authorities will begin wrestling with when the first New Jersey Conference on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals is conducted on October 17-19 at the Ramada Inn in East Brunswick.

The conference has been designed to permit officials from virtually every area of New Jersey's criminal justice system to thoroughly review the 420 proposed criminal justice standards and 73 recommendations contained in the report by the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals entitled "A National Strategy to Reduce Crime".

A second conference tentatively scheduled for early next spring will be aimed at producing decisions on which standards and recommendations should be adopted in New Jersey together with a statewide strategy on how best to implement them. About half of the standards and recommendations are already in effect in the state.

Individual sessions at the conference will deal with recommendations in five categories: the overall criminal justice system, police, crime prevention, courts and corrections. Representatives from state, county and local criminal justice agencies will serve as panelists. The conference is being sponsored by the Board of Governors of the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency and is being arranged by the Public Service Institute of New Jersey with the aid of a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

Orechio Asks Bill Outlawing Price Fixing

Assemblyman Carl A. Orchio (R-Essex) announced today he will introduce legislation to "outlaw" the setting of minimum retail prices in New Jersey.

Already the sponsor of four separate bills to prohibit the price-fixing of milk, gasoline, alcoholic beverages and appliances, Orchio said his new bill would provide "Across the Boards" protection to the state's consumers.

"My legislation would eliminate once and for all the price-fixing of anything under the deceptive name of fair trade and thus enable the consumer to shop around for the best deal he can get on price and service," Orchio explained.

Retailers are required under New Jersey's current Fair Trade Law to sell at the price indicated by the manufacturer, or no lower than a base price so indicated, except for closeout, damaged-goods or court-ordered sales.

"Advocates of so-called fair trade," the Essex lawmaker asserted, "often use the ridiculous argument that the 'removal of such regulations would lead to disastrous price wars and drive small merchants out of business.'"

"No one can deny the current economic situation has aroused consumer demand for lower prices, and if it takes a few price wars to give them a square shake, so be it! I am certain responsible businessmen have the ability to continue rendering quality service and thereby stay in business."

P.O. Closed Veteran's Day

Newark Postmaster-Manager Joseph J. Benucci announced no regular delivery or window services will be available at the Main Post Office, Stations and Branches (Belleville, Nutley and Irvington) Veterans' Day, Monday, Oct. 22. Collections will be made from street letter boxes according to the holiday schedule, and pickups will be made from airmail boxes.

Special delivery will be provided as usual, and the lobby of the Main Post Office in Newark will be open for access to locked boxes and to stamp machines.

this first conference to recommend specific changes in the system," said John J. Mullaney, SLEPA executive director. "The aim is to review and weigh the recommendations. After the issues have been thoroughly studied, we can come back in the spring to make recommendations."

The National Commission has set as action priorities over the next decade the prevention of juvenile delinquency, improve delivery of social services, prompt determination of guilt or innocence and increased citizen participation in activities to control crime. It has proposed as a major goal a reduction in "high fear" crimes of 50 percent by 1983.

Guard Against a Tragedy On 'Trick or Treat' Night

Is "trick or treat" going to turn into terror and tragedy for your family this Halloween?

Unfortunately, the spooky pranks played by children — and adults, too — on Oct. 30 can haunt them for the rest of their lives, warns the Department of Safety and Research of the Hearthstone Insurance Company of Massachusetts.

The company's safety experts found in a study of various holidays that Halloween is one of the most dreaded occasions in emergency wards of hospitals. That is the night most of the patients are children, who are brought in suffering from burns, cuts, fractures and food poisoning.

W. Clemente Stone, chairman of Hearthstone, called for a national Halloween safety alert as one means of preventing the accidents usually related to this annual observance.

"Halloween is supposed to be a celebration of the harvest season," Stone said, "but too often the harvest that is reaped is one of property damage, injury and even death."

In support of Stone's proposed dawn-to-dusk Halloween safety alert, the Hearthstone Insurance researchers urged parents to keep watch on their children as they venture into the night disguised as witches, skeletons, clowns and goblins — and to watch their own step as well.

For children, the experts recommend that the safety alert include the following precautions:

- Special attention should be given to costumeing the child safely for his adventures. Wrapping him in a sheet and sending him out to be a ghost can be risky, for the young wraith may find himself tripping over his raiment.

Costumes should afford maximum freedom of movement and carry as their principal adornment strips of reflective tape that shine under the glare of headlight.

- Fire is a special hazard on Halloween. No costume should be made of paper, even if the label says it was been treated against flame, for all paper is flammable. Fire-retardant materials should be used. Since jack-o-lanterns lit with candles are extremely hazardous in the hands of children, flashlights should be inserted in them to make them glow.

- Children should be disguised with makeup rather than masks, which often interfere with breathing and seriously impair vision, particularly in crossing streets. Ten-cent stores have plenty of inexpensive cosmetics.

- Small children should be supervised. It is advisable for an adult or a responsible teenager to accompany them on their rounds.

Earth, Sun and Mars To 'Come Together'

The Earth, Sun and the planet Mars have been "going around together" for eons of time, but they only see eye-to-eye every 26 months. When this astronomical amiability is in effect, Mars is conversely declared to be in "opposition."

Prof. Patrick J. White of Warren, director of the William Miller Sperry Observatory on Union College's Cranford Campus, clears the Red Planet of any disjunctive dissidence by explaining that, in this case, "opposition" means Mars' orbit around the Earth has taken it to a position directly opposite the Sun. While astronomers describe this point of arrival as syzygy, laymen will be correct in saying that the three traveling companions have aligned themselves in almost straight-as-an-arrow team formation starting the Earth at center with Old Sol and Mars at either end.

The 26-month cycle will soon be over as Mars comes into "opposition" on Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Prof. White points out that the intense reflection of the Sun cascading off the surface of Mars during this period will enable the Red Planet to reign as the brightest in the heavens during most of the night-time hours. For approximately two hours after sunset, Venus' spotlight will be the most powerful. However, after the "Evening Star" slips below the horizon, Mars takes over as the starring attraction with Jupiter playing a supporting role.

Although "opposition" occurs on October 24, Mars will have made its closest passage to the Earth eight days earlier when, on October 16, a mere 40,532,000 miles separated the two planets. The mean mileage between Earth and Mars is logged at 43,000,000 miles while the Sun averages out at 93,000,000 miles away.

Although Mars will open a stellar show on October 24, it will not compare with the one the planet put on during 1971. "Opposition" that year brought the Martian meanderer to within 33,000,000 miles of the Earth, resulting in a brilliance greater than can be expected in 1973. Still, the upcoming performance should be a bigger hit than the coming attraction for 1975. Twenty-six months from now, Mars is expected to pay us a visit from farther out in space, causing a much dimmer "opposition" appearance.

Prof. White extends an invitation for those interested in the heavens to participate in the Friday-night public observations at the Sperry Observatory. The only exception is the third Friday evening of the month when Amateur Astronomers, Inc., holds its regular meetings. The Observatory is operated jointly by AAI and the College. Friday, October 26, powerful permitting should be an excellent opportunity for scanning Mars only two days after "opposition."

'Nanette' Duo Both Collect Rare Finds

Barbara Britton and Dennis Day, on-stage husband and wife in the Paper Mill Playhouse production of the nostalgic "No, No, Nanette," are both collectors and owners of antique shops with their respective real-life husband and wife.

If a recognizably familiar face appears somewhere in northern New Jersey at almost any antique show, shop or flea market from now until November 11 when "Nanette" closes, it will probably be that of Dennis Day. Since the opening of the show, he has spent his off-stage hours "antiquing" in New Jersey.

'Baby Bonds' Staved Off Bankruptcy

regulations for municipal financing still in effect today in New Jersey. The laws which emerged from the Commission prevent overbonding and overspending on the local level.

McGreevy said there are still a few hundred dollars in "baby bonds" floating around, and many local residents, like himself, have kept one or two souvenirs.

There aren't many left from the bonds that were first issued, however. The mayor said "the original bond looked so much like a dollar bill that the Secret Service made the local printers destroy the plates."

From 1945 to 1949, McGreevy served as Williams' secretary, and McGreevy stayed on in Town government when Williams departed, leaving behind the payment schedule which extended to a supposedly debt-free 1963. But other expenses came up and Belleville took on more debts. When McGreevy took office in 1967, the burden was at $2,075,246. Year after year, that sum was lowered as tax revenues paid off an annually budgeted sum.

The key, said the mayor, is project planning. "It's the most important thing to keeping a town out of debt. For instance, we're going to have to undertake another big project in the Water Department before long when we replace some old pipes. It will cost a minimum of $500,000 altogether, but what we'll do is budget part of it every year and do the work piecemeal. That way we can stay on a cash basis."

McGreevy also believes the

capital improvement fund and the water capital outlay fund should be built up in order to provide for Town emergencies.

William Williams is now in retirement in Clearwater, Florida, where he has just left the Board of Education of Pinellas County after many years of service. McGreevy spoke to him by phone last week and reported the former mayor was "elated" to hear that his dream had been realized.

The mayor pointed out that not only was the debt erased in one day; it also wasn't done by one man. "This took the work of the whole Finance Department. They knew what I wanted to do and they worked for it."

Golden Comments

By James R. Golder

Minish.

The Congressman states, "I have repeatedly pressed for corrective action and sponsored legislation, recently passed by the House, that would recapture some measure of jurisdiction over the Service by Congress. Be assured of my continued efforts in this important issue."

As if to prove the Congressman's point, a recent news story, under a Washington date-line by AP, captioned POSTMAN RINGS NEVER went on to read...

"Joseph Lahey of New York complained to his congressman that the Post Office kept sending back mail properly addressed to him, stamped 'addressee unknown.'"

The congressman, Rep. Jonathan Bingham (D-N.Y.), wrote Joseph A. Matukonis, the Congressional Liaison Officer for Government Relations.

Matukonis wrote to Bingham that "the improper handling of Mr. Lahey's mail was caused by a mechanical failure in newly implemented central mark-up system."

Bingham took Matukonis' letter and enclosed it with a letter of his own to Lahey, telling him that the problem was corrected.

Unfortunately, Lahey did not get the letter. It was returned to Bingham, stamped "ADDRESSEE UNKNOWN."

From the above you can readily observe how right our congressman, Joe Minish, happens to be in his drive to improve the Postal Service and put it back under control of the people's representatives in Congress. Incidentally, the mailmen aren't "happy" about the new set-up either. They don't like it.

The long recognized exalted stature of our former Congressman Pete Rodino, who was "stolen" from us in Belleville by a gerrymandering bit of chicanery by the State Legislators, reached a new and greater height when his acumen and powerful influence as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee proved the main force in swaying House Speaker Carl Albert to reject an attempt to take Vice President Spiro T. Agnew off the hook by stating the House would not take any action at this time on matters before the courts.

Pete who will always be a friend of the Belleville people, even if they deny him the right to be our representative by phoney political tricks, won condign editorial praise from the Star-Ledger when it wrote, "The main force for this approach is Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-10th Dist.), who assumed the chairmanship of the powerful Judiciary Committee last January. It appears that Mr. Rodino has done his homework on this controversial matter, a fortuitous circumstance for his colleagues who appeared to be caught unawares by the surprise Agnew move asking for a House inquiry to stave off a grand jury proceeding into allegations he was involved in a political kickback scandal in Maryland."

Junior High Schooler Tops Essay Competition

ESSAY WINNER — Patricia Mundy, 12, a seventh grade student at Belleville Junior High School is shown with Principal Mario DiMaggio and social studies department chairman Mrs. Pat Forte after winning a Columbian Foundation essay contest entitled "The characteristics of Christopher Columbus and how we can use his example in the fight against drug and alcohol abuse." Patricia was awarded a $100 savings bond.
