

Grid Coach Rocco Cafone Bows Out

EXITS IN STYLE — Grid coach Rocco Cafone left behind a final win Thanksgiving Day and is shown here as he's carried off the field by his players following the 14-6 victory over Lyndhurst.

After four years at the helm as mentor of the Belleville High grid squad, Rocco Cafone this week resigned his position. His decision came on the heels of a convincing 14-6 upset of Lyndhurst on Thanksgiving Day which failed to offset the effects of a poor 3-6 record for the season.

Cafone's resignation had been expected for some time in Belleville sporting circles after the early hopes of the season failed to materialize. Last spring, Cafone survived a petition drive to remove him after a group of his former players rallied to his defense.

The coach had enjoyed a high degree of personal popularity among his players and fans alike, but his 3-6 record this season, following a 4-4-1 mark year were part of a total 17-18 record compiled in four years at Belleville—not enough to convince fans of his effectiveness.

Though he cited "personal reasons" for leaving the position, it was reported Cafone stepped down in deference to popular opinion.

"I wasn't asked to resign," Coach Cafone told the Times, "I made the decision on my own." He added he intends to remain in his position as guidance counselor at Belleville High. Cafone has a master's degree in administration and supervision, along with 32 credits toward a doctorate.

Board of Education President Lawrence Schwartz, in announcing Cafone's resignation at a public meeting Monday night affirmed the Board's desire to see Cafone stay, and praised him as "an excellent football coach. I guess one would have to agree with (Vince) Lombardi that 'winning is the only thing,' because coach Cafone never had a good record, but he's a fine individual and a fine gentleman."

Schwartz said the Board will "immediately" begin looking for a new coach, both within and outside the school system. Applicants will be screened through the Athletic Council.

Cafone graduated Belleville High in 1954, and was quarterback of the 1953 Bellboys. He went on to play ball at Upsala College, returning to that school in 1959 to assume a position as

by Ken Moore

The Belleville Board of Education took a step back Monday night from the proposed building and maintenance bond referendum outlined in recent weeks by Board President Lawrence Schwartz.

At the outset of the public meeting Monday night Schwartz confirmed reports the Board is divided on the bond issue, and said a bond referendum in 1974 is now only a possibility. He stated the Board will study the matter further and will conduct a town-wide survey to explore public opinion to the now-tentative plans. The Board president said the trustees' deliberations will include "educational needs of the schools along with the ability of the Town to pay."

After a long private caucus, the Board emerged for the public meeting. Schwartz stated much of the recent publicity of the planned proposal of a multi-million dollar bond referendum had been premature. He said the trustees are "aware of overcrowding in the schools, and we are aware of the need for repairs to the schools. But this is not a body that rushes headlong into a decision of this kind."

The busing comment was aimed at a charge made by the referendum's chief critic, Town Registrar Ralph Risoli, who contends a 20-classroom addition to the high school building would result in empty classrooms and "would invite the state to bus students here."

Risoli was present at Monday night's meeting and engaged the Board in a free-for-all debate which saw various arguments for and against a bond batted back and forth before a confused audience.

Much of the often-sarcastic dialogue between Risoli and Board members was made irrelevant by Schwartz's earlier announcement.

After a long private caucus, the Board emerged for the public meeting. Schwartz stated much of the recent publicity of the planned proposal of a multi-million dollar bond referendum had been premature. He said the trustees are "aware of overcrowding in the schools, and we are aware of the need for repairs to the schools. But this is not a body that rushes headlong into a decision of this kind."

Commenting that "men will differ and minds will differ," he said the school board's plans would take into consideration the "tax burden" borne by Belleville residents. He added the Board will consider "other alternatives" to expansion of the high school.

A survey before the referendum would be used to give the Board feedback on voters' feelings towards the proposals. Schwartz's remarks confirmed reports the Board is sharply divided over the referendum, particularly on the issue of the addition to the high school. Soon after Schwartz first announced the tentative plans of the Board, members Matthew Pica and G. Fred Burlazzi declared they had not yet made up their own minds on the question of the addition and wanted to see more cost information.

Following that development, Risoli called for the formation of a citizens' group to oppose the referendum, saying the increase in the school population doesn't warrant an addition at the high school.

Also at the meeting, Schwartz announced a cut-back in temperatures in local schools to 68 degrees for the coming winter, in line with President Nixon's recommendations to conserve fuel.

Missing Resident Was Slain

Newark and county police are attempting to reconstruct the last four days of Bellevilleite John (Jeff) Lane Malanga, found slain by a gunshot wound to his head Friday in Newark.

Malanga, 68, was reported missing from his home at 112 Union Avenue by his daughter Joanne at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 20. He had last been seen in Newark.

Malanga, a reputed underworld figure, was found in his parked car on Third Street near First Avenue, with a bullet wound behind his right ear. Police are questioning Malanga's associates to determine his whereabouts for the four days preceding his death.

State Statistics Show

Crime Rate Rose Here in '72 But Compares Well in County

The crime rate in Belleville rose during 1972, but still compares favorably to other municipalities, a study of statistics released by the State of New Jersey shows.

According to the figures released last week by the New Jersey "Uniform Crime Reporting System, 584 major crimes were committed here in 1972, as opposed to 546 in 1971. This gives the town an official crime rate of 1,513 (based on crimes per 100,000 population) against a rate of 1,425.4 in 1971.

While the crime rate is not a true figure since it is set according to a population of 100,000 (while Belleville has only about 45,000 residents), the use of the crime rate allows a comparison to neighboring towns.

The crime rate in such communities ranged from 8,145.9 in the City of Newark to 968.1 in Nutley, while Bloomfield's rate was 1,716.0 and Glen Ridge came in at 1,370.0 for 1972.

The figure had dropped in Newark from 9,119.0 in 1971, and risen in Glen Ridge from 1,173.7, while the Nutley figure fell from 1,114.4 in 1971 and Bloomfield's dropped 1,927.8. Meanwhile, the Belleville rate was nearly equivalent to Verona

(1,408.3), and Maplewood (1,608.1), which had also experienced a rise in the crime rate from 1971.

The crime index of 584 in Belleville represented a total of major crimes committed here, including, murder, manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, atrocious assault, breaking and entering, larceny over $50 and auto theft.

While rising in most of the above crimes, the rate showed a significant decline in breaking and entries, from 190 in 1971 to 163 in 1972. A smaller decrease was registered in auto thefts, which fell from 115 to 105.

"You never know how many breaking and entries you prevent," said Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight, "but we like to think the

Principal Spray To Leave Post

Mrs. Viola Spray, principal of School Seven, will retire from that position by December 31, it was announced at a Board of Education meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Spray's career in the Belleville system spans 46 years, during which she headed four schools at different times. Board of Education President Lawrence Schwartz said Mrs. Spray will be "sorely missed" and told parents from the School Seven Organization of Parents and Educators the schoolers will immediately look for her successor and the post will be filled by January 1, 1974.

Mrs. Spray has been named as a likely candidate for the Board of Education in next February's election.

She began her career in Belleville schools as a teacher in School Four after graduating Newark Normal College. She was then appointed a teaching principal at School Nine and later a full principal there.

For one year, Mrs. Spray was principal of both School Nine and School One. When the Junior High School was created in 1964, she was placed in charge of School Seven.

Mrs. Spray is a graduate of Seton Hall University, where she received her bachelor's and master's degrees. She has also accumulated 32 credits for a doctorate equivalency, taken courses at Rutgers for psychology, special education, labor management, administration and supervision, and has received a guidance certificate.

Mrs. Spray is credited with originating the parent-teacher conference in Belleville. She is affiliated with the Essex County and New Jersey Teachers' Associations and the Essex County and New Jersey Principals' Association, along with numerous other professional organizations.

Rent Board Uncovers Senior Citizens' Plight

In a report given to the Board of Commissioners at a Tuesday night meeting, the Rent Advisory Committee proposed the establishment of a Belleville Housing Authority as a means of gaining Federal aid to help senior citizens here.

The committee reported to the Commissioners that 85 percent of the letters and telephone calls received by the panel in their investigation of rent matters here originated from "senior citizens complaining of living on fixed incomes and unable to afford rent increases."

The committee stressed their recommendation is not for the establishment of public housing here, but a means of subsidizing rents paid by senior citizens. If such a Housing Authority were created, said the committee report, "All applicants who apply are interviewed, their incomes taken into consideration and a fair rent is determined within their needs, the balance is picked up by the Federal government. This does not mean they are to be moved into low rent housing developments. They stay exactly at their present location."

The committee's recommendation to the Commissioners to "explore the possibility of creating a Housing Authority is also aimed at alleviating hardships on disabled persons."

At the same Commission meeting, Town Fathers also declined to accept bids on a scavenger service contract as had been advertised in the past month. Over the objections of two hopeful bidders, it was announced the existing contract with L. Pucillo and Sons of Lodi would be extended for two years.

The reason for the change, Commissioners explained later, was a November 22 decision by the Public Utilities Commission defining scavenger service as a utility—a non-bid item. The Commissioners opted to extend the contract with Pucillo

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The page of this paper written and edited by students of Belleville High School which appeared in the Nov. 8 issue included almost what could be considered an editorial rebuke of the discourteous conduct displayed by the students towards the appearance of the G.O.P. gubernatorial candidate, Charles Sandman.

Under the caption "Student Comment" with a by-line Liz Primamore, the capable writer, one of the students herself, saw fit in the strongest denunciation to describe the student body's display of lack of respect as rude, ignorant and barbaric. From her description of their conduct it obviously was. I can easily imagine the humiliation and anguish my old former baseball teammate Ray Smith, Principal of the High School, must have suffered by such a puerile, boorish manifestation of discourtesy to a U. S. Congressman and aspirant to the Highest office

Varsity Club Grid Banquet Set Tomorrow

A record crowd is expected tomorrow night at the Robin Hood Inn in Clifton at 7 p.m. when the Belleville Varsity Club host the 1973 Bellboy grid squad at their 29th annual dinner.

A side light to the affair will be the appearance of the 1949 football team, honored 25 years ago by the club. Rocco Westpy and Anthony Maranaio have contacted members of that squad, including Jimmy Skidmore, now president of Handy Associates in New York.

The evening will see the presentation of awards and trophies to the Bellboys, who come off a hard-fought 3-6 season.

Junior High P.T.A. Has Regular Meeting

The Belleville Junior High School P.T.A. held its regular meeting last night at 8.

On the business agenda was a report from delegates to the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers 1973 Convention.

Following the business meeting, the program for the evening was "A Parent Enlightenment Program." It consisted of a demonstration of how classes are conducted in the school's Language Department. There was also a demonstration given by the girls Physical Ed. Department.

Refreshments were served after our meeting by our Hospitality Committee.

The meeting was held in the boys gym, because of the need for ample room for our Girls Physical Ed. Program.

Belleville Crime Rate Saw Rise Last Year

decrease was due to increased uniformed patrol and public awareness of proper precautions.

"That's the hot one in any suburban town," said Haight, "because of the mobility of the persons responsible. With the intersecting roads and highways, they can come in, hit and run. They come to Belleville from places as far away as Wayne, Hudson County and Bergen County, just as they get suspects from Belleville in those areas. Mobility—that's your big problem."

In the area of auto theft, Haight said an even deeper drop can be expected next year because of safety precautions added to cars by manufacturers.

Two murders occurred in Belleville in 1972, against one in 1971. Haight said both killings were the result of family disputes. One manslaughter was reported, (an auto accident), as opposed to none in 1971.

Five incidents of forcible rape were reported in 1972, while none occurred in 1971. Haight said most of these were cases where the victim knew the suspect and "none of these were incidents where a guy grabs a woman off the street."

Haight said none of the 23 robberies in 1972 (a jump from 15 in '71) were robberies of homes, but all involved stores and bars.

One atrocious assault involved a gun (none in '71), two involved a knife (against one in '71) and four assaults were committed with other weapons or fists (none in '71).

There were 69 reported cases of larceny of over $200, against 65 in 1971, while larcenies of $50 to $200 rose from 210 to 159.

In comparison with other towns, Belleville's crime rate appears to be average, and Haight said, "for the size of the town, we have a pretty good record here." The deputy chief said this is due to the "efficiency of the force and the presence of patrols."

Medical Progress

Two major medical milestones have been achieved. From Geneva comes word that a one-shot vaccine for rabies has been successfully tested in the United States, France and several Latin countries.

Further testing is planned before the vaccine is released to the general public but the World Health Organization of the United Nations feels additional tests are certain to reconfirm impressive results already obtained.

On another front, the Food and Drug Administration's Anti-Infective Drugs

Division has announced a simple cure, by prescription, for gonorrhea. All the patient need do is dissolve some powder in a glass of water and drink it. A complete cure usually results within forty-eight hours.

Because until now from fourteen to twenty-one shots were necessary to guard against rabies infection — very hard to administer in backward and rural areas and in under-developed countries — and because a gonorrhea epidemic is now afflicting millions of Americans, these two medical breakthroughs are especially welcome.

Seasonal Fires

Outdoor fires this time of the year cost American people billions of dollars and account for a number of tragic accidents, which take many lives. The brisk fall and winter smell of leaves burning or of other rake-piles is nostalgic, but often produces a poor ending.

To avoid uncontrolled fires, and the tragic results which occur in their wake, the accident prevention unit of the Maryland State Department of Health once offered several suggestions which we think are worth repeating.

Among them weRe:

1. Burn only in areas where fires are permitted.
2. Never start an outdoor fire on a windy day.
3. Clear an area around the spot where the fire is to be started.
4. If possible, hook up a garden hose for use in an emergency.
5. Use a covered wire basket for burning trash and leaves when possible.
6. Never start a fire near wooden buildings.
7. Never leave a fire until you are sure it's completely out.

Football Time

No other sport in the world is quite comparable to American football. Europeans and other foreigners are invariably fascinated by the combination of civic interest, social involvement and color which traditionally go along with high school and college football in this country.

The beauty queen bit, band parades at halftime, cheering sections and color of the school sport are indeed unique; needless to say, the training, discipline and hard play of American football have taught many youngsters how to become men, and to work together as a team.

Sometimes of course, it is overdone, for a school sport. Too many young boys are permanently injured each fall because of the violent physical contact allowed under the rules. Probably because of this, school football can claim first place as a field sport for generating excitement.

AMA On Doctors

The American Medical Association Journal recently called upon medical societies in the various states to do a better job of policing their profession — or run the risk of government intervention.

In the strongest worded editorial in memory on the subject, the Journal editorially charged that doctors do a poor job of disciplining fellow members of the medical profession who abuse their privileges.

The Journal rightly warns that unless the profession adequately polices itself, which it has been allowed to do through public acceptance of that system, some other form of policing will be found.

Non-Smoker Discounts

Ten years ago a small insurance company in Massachusetts offered the first discount in rates for non-smokers, three per cent.

Today non-smokers get discounts from a number of companies, discounts as high as twenty or twenty-five per cent, a recent study shows.

In short, insurance companies have found non-smokers to be better disciplined people and better risks. Today's discounts apply not only to life insurance but to car and home insurance policies as well.

Many companies still offer no discounts but it's now possible to shop around and find one which does, if you're a non-smoker, which is encouraging — and a form of progress.

WHAT IT TAKES — Lola assures the Devil, Mr. Applegate, in "Damn Yankees" at the Meadowbrook Theatre Restaurant in Cedar Grove that she has all that it takes to make the young baseball phenomenon forget his loyalty to the wife he has left temporarily. Robert Morse stars as the Devil and Margery Beddow is the Devil's tool in his evil plans. The sparkling musical comedy will be at the Meadowbrook through December 23.

Play Review

Meadowbrook's 'Yankees' Holds True To Its Form

"Damn Yankees," has come a long, long way from Broadway in New York to the Meadowbrook Theatre-Restaurant in Cedar Grove. To the credit of this familiar musical, it hasn't lost its appeal along the way.

Robert Morse is the headline attraction in the production, which runs through December 23. But Morse evidently chooses to keep his considerable talents in reserve for this portrayal of Mr. Applegate, the devil-in-disguise who offers an armchair baseball follower a season of glory with the Washington Senators in return for the usual price in the Faustian drama — his soul. While Morse underplays his role, much to the loss of the audience, the vacuum is filled by young Ed Evanko, a recording artist and theater veteran who brings plenty of enthusiasm to his role of Joe Hardy, the recycled version of the baseball fan.

Besides Evanko and Terry Saunders (in the role of Meg Boyd, the wife left behind while the fan goes on his fantasy-fulfilling spree on the baseball diamond), the show offers little in the way of performances. Along with Morse, the greatest disappointment comes from Margery Beddow, who plays the vamping Lola. Though she bears a passing resemblance to Gwen Verdon, who played the role in the classic movie version of this show, Miss Beddow does not seem to be otherwise suited for the part.

Two actresses not even profiled in the playbill managed to provide many of the funnier moments in the show. Jean Even as Sister and Gayle White as Doris were delightful in their few bits which punctuated the scenes with the leading players. Similarly, the young men representing the Washington Senators also performed capably and with gusto.

But the Meadowbrook show doesn't seem to rely on the talents of its actors to make this production a qualified success. Like many local theatres, the Meadowbrook evidently follows a formula of choosing a familiar piece of material and anchoring it with the inclusion of a big name in the cast. Though Morse chooses to subdue his presence the charm of the fantasy proposed here, and the strength of its age-old theme give the show enough momentum to keep it interesting to the end, even for those in the audience who know the play and its oft-repeated tunes.

Express Thanks For Consolation

To the Editor:

Deeming it impossible to thank all in person, we take this means of expressing our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors, for their words of consolation, beautiful floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. Special thanks to the third and fifth floor nurses and Rev. Don Gunther of St. Barnabas Medical Center and Condon Memorial Home, Harrison, for their kind and efficient services rendered during the loss of our beloved husband and father, James Ward Sr.

Mrs. Edith Ward
12 Bridge Street
Belleville

Demo Chairman Thanks Workers

To the Editor:

Through the media of the press, I'd like to thank, publicly, the Belleville voters for their tremendous turnout in this past general election.

Special thanks to the Democratic County Committee Members, the Belleville Young Dems, Mr. Lawrence Schwartz, president of the Board of Education, Mr. Caesar Romano, Mr. James Risoli, Board of Education members and the Belleville High School Political Club. A successful election was accomplished only through the united efforts of all the above mentioned.

A sincere thank you to all.

Sincerely,
Commissioner Mary V. Senatore
Belleville Democratic Chairman

GOP Candidate Appreciated Aid

To The Editor:

I would like to use your newspaper as a means of thanking the many people who worked so hard in my behalf in the recent general election.

It is very nice to know that you have so many friends who volunteered their services, unsolicited, in an election and worked long hours so willingly. So my heartfelt thanks to all who worked and voted for me.

Sincerely
Mayor Joseph F. McGreevy

in state especially before the eyes of the TV cameras for all the world to see.

Miss Primamore sounded a strong note when she wrote, "Mr. Sandman did not arouse the students by using propaganda such as praising our football team or cracking jokes about 'school days.' He is a candidate for governor and his speech was relevant to his position. The younger generation demands the truth and condemns facades in society. Last Tuesday, a part of this generation had its chance. What happened?" A very good question. They muffed it.

No doubt that when Mr. Sandman left he had strong doubts as to just how much good the money spent on education in Belleville was doing with such a disgraceful disregard for the fundamental basics of respect.

This is a matter that demands the action of the local school trustees to look into. Education entails much more than book knowledge, it involves the equally important role of developing good citizens who are indoctrinated with the need to observe the amenities of proper conduct.

An orchid to Miss Primamore for her fine reporting and editorializing work. Without her most appropriate commentary we might never have known these unpleasant things. Let's hope there will be no more.

Certainly with the changing mores of the times many things long thought verboten are now meeting general acceptance by the public. Whether for better or worse depends primarily upon one's personal slant on things; While not giving much thought to the matter personally, it is to be noted that some have raised questions of the propriety of School Board Trustees being engrossed in active politics, if not as candidates themselves as campaign activists.

Leaves of brown came tumbling down in an abundance and they're still around. When in the name of goodness will the town's Public Works Dept. get around to getting them out of the streets throughout town? It has gotten so bad it represents a hazard to public safety.

Piled against the curbs almost as high as the wheels of cars they have accumulated for several weeks without any visible effort to remove them. Motorists move their cars, as regulations require, in the hope the leaves will be removed, only to find no action was taken and only an additional deposit has fallen to increase the height of the piles and mountains of leaves.

If they wait much longer, perhaps they won't have to pick them up. They will be able to PLOW them out with the snow when it falls. When will the leaves leave?

(Ed. note: Mr. Golden's column is written two weeks in advance of its publication.)

active in the band, chorus and orchestra and lists music as her favorite subject. She hopes to become a music and dance teacher and would like to attend Montclair State College.

She is also a member of the French club, the Bookend Club and is a reporter for the Belleville Times School Page.

Her hobbies include travel, swimming tennis and community activities.

Lynn Giordano is a 17-year-old cheerleader and a representative in the Belleville High Senior Senate. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Giordano of 4 Jefferson Street, she plans to attend Newark State College and major in art.

Though she lists English as her favorite subject, her hobbies are sculpture and dancing, drawing, bowling and other sports. She is a member of the Art Club at Belleville High School.

The third Belleville resident to compete in the contest is Cynthia Mackin, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mackin of 82 Nolton Street.

She attends Immaculate Conception High School, where she is a member of the Honor Society and the Glee Club, besides holding a position as co-editor of "Immaculata." A member of the New Jersey Junior Classical League, she was a first place winner in a song contest and also in a film contest.

Cynthia plans to attend Douglass College, where she would like to major in communications for a career in journalism. Among her hobbies and interests she lists sewing, shell collecting, sports and playing the piano. Cynthia has also participated in the St. Mary's Teenage Theater Guild and the St.

Mary's Summer Work Project.

Among the other 12 girls entered in Sunday's contest are the following, all aged 16-19: Christine Carroll of Irvington; Catherine Connor of Montclair; Judith Ann Althoff of Nutley; Kathy Lehman of West Orange; Chrystal Luongo of Nutley; Joanne Sparacino of Nutley; Denise Raemisch of Montclair; Sharon Sigler of Caldwell; Donna Alexander of East Orange; Karen Gasparini of Bloomfield; Sophie Sushko of Newark; and Debbie Wolk of West Orange.

OBITUARIES

Joseph F. Thalheimer, 55; Veteran Fire Captain Here

Funeral services were held Friday at St. Mary's Church in Nutley for Joseph F. Thalheimer, a 26-year veteran and captain in the Belleville Fire Department who died suddenly at Point Pleasant Hospital in Point Pleasant on November 19. He was 55.

Born in Newark, he lived here most of his life and resided at 416 De Witt Avenue. He served with the Navy in the Pacific during World War II. He joined the Fire Department here 26 years ago and served as a captain for 19 years. He was a member of F.M.B.A. Local 29, the VFW Firemen's Post 1851 of Newark and the Exempt Firemen's Association. At Captain Thalheimer's funeral, 50 members of the Department formed an honor guard.

Captain Thalheimer is survived by his wife, Madeline Donnelly Thalheimer; a daughter, Mrs. JoAnn Sorrentino of Belleville; two sons, Frank and James of Belleville; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thalheimer of Florida; three brothers, Franklin of Nutley, Wilbur of New Monmouth and Elwood of Florida; and two grandchildren.

Services were held from the Wadsworth Funeral Home at 524 Union Avenue with the Rev. P. Galdon officiating.

Interment was at East Ridgeland Cemetery in Clifton.

William T. Feltey, 63

Funeral services were held November 16 for William T. Feltey, 126 Cortlandt Street, who died November 14 at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. A retired truck driver, he was 63.

Born in Newark, Mr. Feltey came to Belleville 53 years ago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Reynolds Feltey; two daughters, Mary

Washington, D.C.; a son, William R. of Belleville; three brothers, Lester of Harrison, John of Parsippany, and Raymond of Springfield, Pa., and one grandchild.

The Rev. J. Fibelkorn of Redeemer Lutheran Church, Newark, officiated the services held at the Kiernan Funeral Home. Interment was in East Ridgeland

Teacher Interview

Curiosity Is the Key, Says Miss Schneider

by Liz Primamore

"The kids in Belleville are decent and compassionate; they are fun in class, and enjoyable to teach," states smiling Miss Ann Schneider, Belleville 'High's 11-year history teacher.

She continues to explain that she wishes to see more students exposed to outer boundaries beyond their own town. "They don't read enough," she discovers; "they should desire to see more cultural advantages in the metropolitan area such as the museums, the theater, or even Shea Stadium." The virtues of a human being are curiosity and interest. She hopes that Belleville students will attain the motivation to experiment the new.

Miss Schneider confides in a casual classroom atmosphere. "Every teacher must teach his or her own way," she expresses; "one must go along with the personality of the class." The students' ideas and comments flow freely with each other and their teacher. "A good class consists of students who express their ideas, opinions and ask questions," she defines; "their desire to participate makes a class interesting."

This history teacher has taught from slow groups of students to enriched ones. "The most rewarding aspect of teaching is to see a kid learn something from turning in a brilliant term paper to having a student simply enjoy school," she declared strongly; "if one student is reached, it can make quite a difference.

Miss Schneider happily states that our school is heading towards mini-courses. However, she supports the basic fundamentals of history. Students must understand American tradition to understand their roots. History has been composed of a series of choices and not just fate. By studying these important decisions, the students shall be able to make wise political choices.

Miss Ann Schneider Views BHS Students

She stresses seminar work for future study programs. Last year, she experimented on seminar work with her Senior Honors Class which consisted of 12 bright students. Five of these students researched independently, for one term, two research papers on the Far East and Latin America.

The results were quite favorable as the pupils learned discussion and study aloft a regular classroom situation. Miss Schneider found the program extremely beneficial to the participants concerning college preparation.

"Travel!" is Miss Schneider's main cry for fun and relaxation. Scotland's "sweater in July" weather and Montana's "God's country" have been some of the lady's favorite spots. She has also traveled extensively throughout Europe and as far west as Montana.

Miss Schneider hails to us from Wilmington, Delaware. She earned her B.A. in government at Cornell University and proceeded to attain her Masters Degree in social studies at the State University of New York. She is presently continuing her education by taking extra history courses at Montclair State.

Cheerleaders' Duties Go Beyond Cheering

by Barbara Weaver

Contrary to what many people may think, a cheerleader's responsibilities are not only limited to cheering at BHS games.

Before each game the girls decorate the teams locker room with banners and streamers, in addition to putting up home-made posters in the school hall. On the day of the game the boys receive an extra treat of jelly apples and cakes from the cheerleaders. Marching in parades is another aspect of being on the squad.

Raising money through cake and candy sales enables the girls to purchase uniforms accessories. However, this year's budget did not go through and unfortunately the nine year old uniforms could not be replaced.

WARMING UP before a game, BHS cheerleaders have a laugh as they pose for the camera. Their spirit-boosting work doesn't begin or end at the games, though, as the girls devote much of their time to related activities.

Raising Funds

Junior Senate Strives For Successful Prom

by Phyllis Rotundo

An organized group of students has been formed again at BHS for the benefit of the Junior Class. It is called the Junior Senate and exists with the main objective being to obtain funds for the Prom in April.

The Prom is a formal dinner-dance held at the Manor for the entertainment of the students, and it is an activity that is looked forward to and remembered always by everyone. The Junior Senate and its supporters are responsible for all money raised towards this happening.

The Junior Senate is controlled by the Junior Executive Council; President, Chris Manning; Vice President, Pat Caputo; Secretary, Mary Maroulakos; and Treasurer, Mike Freda. Advisors such as Mr. Wis and Mr. Salzarullo also attend the meetings and activities.

The Senate is divided into four categories: dance, Prom, advertising, and cooking committees. Senators can take part in one, or more. With the variety of classes and students a senator and an alternate were elected by each junior history class. A senator acts as representative for that class which he or she was elected from and has one vote. A Junior Senate meeting is composed of subjects being brought up to be acted upon. Opinions are voiced openly, considered by the council, and discussed by all. Such subjects are profits of a dance, an upcoming dance recent sale items: cookies, candy, etc. At this time the Junior Class is selling corsages at $2.50. A timely idea at Thanksgiving season. There are also knit hats being sold at $1.75;

another interest of the season. The turnout on these sales is fantastic!

The group is very enthusiastic in volunteering to help and to form committees. The club proves that the students are interested and concerned about their school, and it also is a lesson on organization and sales. In my opinion it is a worthwhile gathering with a goal in site.

Donovan Brings Innovation To Monitoring of Cafeteria

by Linda Clark

Since Dr. Lally has left Belleville High School to become Vice-principal of the Junior High, Mr. James Donovan, another English teacher at B.H.S., has taken over Mr. Lally's complete schedule, including cafeteria duty.

When Mr. Lally left there was a need for someone who was already familiar with the school and students to take his place. Therefore Mr. Smith, B.H.S. principal, asked Mr. Donovan if he would consider the job.

After much thought, Mr. Donovan finally agreed. When asked what made him accept the job, Mr. Donovan replied, "One of the reasons was because I was very interested in English Literature my senior year in high school. Besides, it was time for a change." Before this change Mr. Donovan had taught only sophomores.

Mr. Donovan has also taken Mr. Lally's place in the cafeteria, as advisor to the student cafeteria monitors. The cafeteria system is working on the same basis as it was when Mr. Lally was there, but with a few more rules.

All cafeteria monitors must now wear tags with "cafeteria monitor" written on them, so the students may be easily recognized. These tags also entitle them to a free lunch, and lending a tag to a friend may result in immediate suspension from cafeteria duty.

Another rule is that cafeteria monitors are not allowed to eat or socialize while on duty. The monitors are given three warnings before they are dismissed.

Some students have already been dismissed and others have resigned because of other scholastic activities, although these students may return to cafeteria duty at any time.

Names of students who may become cafeteria leaders are submitted by teachers to Mr. Donovan and his co-workers, who feel that the student will be able to handle the responsibility of being a cafeteria leader.

Mr. Donovan came up with an idea to make it easier to handle disruptive students. Whenever a student misbehaves the cafeteria leaders are required to fill out a report form. These forms will be kept on file, and the first

by John Horutz

A Career Interest Survey was recently held at Belleville High School where the whole student body was asked to fill out a career form. On this form were numerous career choices which the students had to choose from.

The results were very surprising. In the past, teaching was a popular career choice among Belleville High students, but this year, many students chose the secretarial field. Teaching came in as second this year, with auto mechanics as third, and painting and drawing as fourth.

Other career choices which were very popular among the students include: physician, psychiatry, sports, pharmacy, chemistry, law, hotel and motel management, and computer programming.

The main purpose of the survey is to help the student to decide what he will do in the future. Especially in high school, where the student is confronted with many decisions, this helps the student to sit down and make a concrete decision.

It also helps the guidance counselors and teachers to prepare the students for his career choice and to choose the best possible colleges and vocational schools while the student is still in high school.

Two School Groups Join Charity Drives

by Anne Molloy

Helpful and considerate can best describe Belleville High School's National Honor Society and Key Club. The Honor Society sponsored their annual canned food drive for the needy people of Belleville, while the Key Club donated fifty dollars worth of food coupons towards the purchase of meat, for Thanksgiving Day.

All members of the Honor Society were stationed at every entrance into Belleville High School, from November 14 thru November 20, to collect the food. Everyone at Belleville High was urged to help their fellow neighbors and donate any type of canned food.

The Honor Society strived to double the amount of goods they received last year and they wish to express their appreciation to all for making this year's food drive a success.

18-Year-Olds' Rights Listed

by Lisajo Heimlich

This article is written for the benefit of every person who is, or will be eighteen years old. We are no longer minors, and due to this fact, we are now responsible for all of our actions.

The list of our rights and responsibilities as adults is enormous, so I will attempt to name some of the more important ones. You can:

- Sue and be sued.
- Buy, sell and drink liquor.
- Enter into contracts.
- Marry without parental consent.
- Adopt children.
- Vote in all State and Federal elections. If you do obtain a voter's registration card and you do not vote for four consecutive years you must re-register.

If you are thinking of doing this, the armed forces prefer that you graduate from high school. However it is not required.

- Establish credit.
- Admit yourself into a hospital.
- Be arrested and imprisoned.

If you are arrested, here is a list of your rights as listed by the American Civil Liberties Union. Remember them; you are entitled to them.

If you are stopped by the police for any reason:

- You do not have to answer any questions other than your name and address.
- The police may search you for concealed weapons by patting the outside of your clothing.
- Even if you are innocent, do not resist arrest.

If you are arrested:

- If you are booked you have the right to complete at least two phone calls. One to a friend, relative, or attorney, and the second to a bail bondsman.

The police must give you a receipt for everything taken from you.

- You can hire and see an attorney at once.
- You do not have to give a statement or sign any statement that you might have given.

In most cases you must be allowed to post bail, but you must be able to pay the bail bondsman's fee. If you are unable to pay the fee, you can ask the Judge to release you from custody without bail, but he doesn't have to do so.

The police must bring you to court or release you within 48 hours after you have been arrested. There are exceptions to this law, for example, if the time ends on a weekend or holiday. If this should happen, then they must bring you before the judge the first day court is in session.

- If you don't have the money, a public attorney will be appointed.

Please remember that you are responsible for what ever you do. So, try and stay out of trouble.

Girls' Basketball Squad Ready for New Season

by Lynda O'Connell

The Belleville High School girls basketball team is underway once again. Tryouts for the squad, having been completed a total of 15 girls were selected.

This year team includes three seniors, Donna Foley, Susan Paul, and Joyce Buckland. The six juniors on the squad are Linda Diana, Donna Stone, Diane Amoscatto, Gloria Barbone, Peggy Morrison, and Carol Jackson. New to the school and new to the team are six sophomores, Fatima Anderson, Nancy Skrutski, Cathy Danieli, Susan Radon, Carol Lelio, and Diane Mess.

The athletic budget of the Board of Ed. have supplied the girls with new sneakers, warm-up jackets and a rebound machine.

During this years season the girls will play against schools such as Nutley, Bloomfield, Verona, Glen Ridge, Caldwell, and Clifford Scott. The team will also be scrimmaging with more Catholic schools this season, schools such as East Orange Catholic, and St. Cecilia. Miss Fuccello, coach of the team, along with the girls are hoping to continue their winning record from last year. Also, much more spectatorship from the students.

Baton Twirlers: A 'Sisterly' Unit

by Barbara Weaver

BHS twirlers are the talented girls you see every week performing during halftime at our football games.

The girls also appear in the annual band show and musical productions of the school where they show diversity in singing and dancing as well as twirling. Parts of the show entertain at the children's shelter, hospitals and grammar schools.

To prepare for these events the girls, upon making tryouts, practice twice a week all summer and every day after school during football season. The girls work together making up all their routines. "The key to success with our twirling squad is unity in a sort of sisterly love," said advisor Miss Cook. The entire squad are fire twirlers thus making BHS twirlers unique among other local high schools.

Raising money for the annual band trip in the spring is accomplished by selling candy, decals, and having cake sales. The twirlers are now looking forward to new uniforms for the band, color guard and twirlers which will be coordinated for a more unified look.

TWIRLERS march in the last game of the season on Thanksgiving Day. Captain Kathy Pastirik heads the contingent.

Linda Baber, Anthony Casale Wed In Cape May Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cassale - nee Linda Baber

Miss Linda J. Baber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Baber of Cape May, became the bride September 22 of Anthony S. Casale Jr., son of Mrs. Ada Bridge of Nutley.

The ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, Cape May, was performed by Msgr. William A. Regan and the Rev. C. David Follansbee of Vincent United Methodist Church.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown with bodice and sleeves of Alencon lace accented with pearls. A Camelot headpiece of matching lace and pearls held her elbow length veil and she carried white roses, babies breath and ivy.

Miss Marilyn J. Baber was her sister's maid of Honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Christine J. Baber, sister of the bride, Miss Gina Brown and Mrs. Carl Garling.

Best man was Gordon Kirk. Ushering were Douglas Cunningham, John Ryans, William Beyer III and John Fleisher.

Mrs. Casale, a graduate of Rider College, is with Lowenstein, Sandler, Brochin, Kohl & Fisher, Esqs. Newark.

Mr. Casale, an alumnus of Nutley High School, Rider College and Newark State College, is a senior probation officer with Essex county.

After a honeymoon in Las Vegas and Los Angeles, the couple have made their home in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. R.F. Murphy Are Honeymooning In Florida

Mrs. Richard Murphy-nee Catherine Marcogliese

St. Peter's Church was the setting November 24 for the marriage of Miss Catherine Marcogliese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Marcogliese of 12 Arthur Avenue to Richard F. Murphy, son of Mrs. Rose Murphy of Newark and the late Mr. Murphy.

The Rev. Thomas Peitran-tonio, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony and a reception followed at Mayfair Farms, West Orange.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a dulcette satin dress with a sheer yoke of satin organza and applique s of Alencon lace. Pearls accented the lace.

Her headpiece was a chapel length lace mantilla and she carried roses, stephanotis, babies breath and pale pink roses. Gown and veil were made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. Marcogliese.

Miss Kathy Partus of Belleville was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Barbara Marcogliese of Belleville, sister of the bride, Mrs. Nancy Rowe of Freehold, Miss Doris Sabol of Clifton and Mrs. Pam Petrick of Edison.

Their gowns were of burgundy jersey with high neckline, long sleeves and cumberbund. Attached satin-lined hoods were of the same color. The honor attendant carried white starburst pom-poms, sweetheart pink and red roses in a round bouquet. The others had white pom-poms, babies breath and pink sweetheart roses.

Carl Perrone of Belleville was best man. Ushering were the groom's brother-in-law, Donald Schwoebel of Newark, Michael Ujciak of Cedar Grove, Walter Hines of Newark and the groom's cousin, Frank Rose of Irvington.

Mrs. Marcogliese chose a ruby gown with gold sequin trim. Her corsage was of baby white orchids. The groom's mother was in a jade green gown trimmed with crystal beading. Her purse corsage was a large white orchid.

Mrs. Murphy, a graduate of Trenton State College, is a language teacher in the Newark school system.

Mr. Murphy, received his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of Notre Dame, Indiana and is an actuarial assistant with Insurance Services Office, New York.

The couple are honeymooning in Orlando and Miami, Florida.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Halfway Houses

The rehabilitation and restoration to their communities' life of people who have been mentally ill is a most crucial step in bringing them back to mental health, just as rehabilitation is in, say, cases of bodily crippling from accident or injury where muscles must be re-trained.

Here is where America's "halfway houses" play a significant but often overlooked role.

A halfway house is defined as a non-medical facility in which residents live as though they were in their own homes, working during the day or otherwise occupied.

The halfway house — halfway between illness and full recovery — provides a supporting environment through offering room and board, a pleasant atmosphere, supervision in the activities of daily living, and the chance for community involvement.

Sometimes the halfway house serves patients coming from their homes, rather than only those returning from a hospital or other institution. In these cases, the halfway house serves as an alternative to hospitalization.

That halfway houses are serving a vital part in the attack on mental illness is shown by a recent report from the Biometry Branch of the National Institute of Mental Health, of the U.S. Department of Health, of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The number of psychiatric halfway houses in the U.S. is increasing, says the report, and there are now 196 halfway houses serving the mentally and emotionally disturbed. These are what are called "free-standing" or separate from — and are in addition to — similar services provided by other mental health facilities such as state mental hospitals.

An intelligent person is rarely fooled by what people say about him, or her.

Post Ladies Give Money To Research

The Ladies Auxiliary to The Veterans of Foreign Wars in New Jersey donate at least one dollar per member to Cancer Aid and Research each year. The current chairlady for the state is Grace Dunn of Paterson. Eleanor Caffrey of Metuchen is the chairlady for District 4.

Belonging to Stuart E. Edgar Post #493 of Nutley is Helen Strothkamp of 30 Highland Avenue, Nutley, who has gathered together 35 shirts and 20 sheets to be used in making cancer dressings. The Auxiliary works in conjunction with the Dutch Reform Church of Nutley. Besides Mrs. Strothkamp, those helping from Stuart E. Edgar Auxiliary are Mame Ganseriet of 17 Church Street and Bessie Kohler of 61 Lakeside Drive. Both are of Nutley.

V.F.W. Auxiliaries all over the state have elected to sponsor the following safety programs in their area: 1. Drive to survive, 2. Drug Abuse, 3. Light a bike and 4. Commendations for saving a life.

Wash Plants Now And Then

Nature's gift of green, growing trees and plants and shrubs are the oldest "air purifiers" in the world, and, because of that, indoor plants appreciate a bath now and then to wash away the dust and other impurities they collect from the atmosphere around them.

In their publication on Green Survival, the American Association of Nurserymen points out that one major city, Los Angeles, frequently washes its street trees with a detergent solution for the same reason.

Clear water at room temperature is recommended for the plant washing.

Clover Mites Common Pest

Clover mites are a common household pest during the winter. They are smaller than the head of an ordinary straight pin, darkish in color, and deposit a reddish stain when crushed.

Clover mites migrate into homes from outdoors, usually only on the sunny exposures. Fortunately, they don't harm people, pets, stored food products, or household furnishings. However, they may enter homes in such large numbers that their presence becomes undesirable.

To prevent clover mites from entering your home, apply an insecticide named diazinon to the base of the outside foundation and outward to a distance of 10 feet, suggests William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

Ear Problems

It has been said that because of its shorter ear canal, a cat is less susceptible to ear infection than a dog.

But there is one ear problem that cats commonly encounter: ear mite infestation.

The mites do not burrow under the skin but usually gather deep in the ear canal near the drum, sucking blood through the cat's delicate skin.

Signs of ear mite infestation are the cat's expressions of extreme discomfort and an acute sensitivity of the ear.

External symptoms are shaking of the head and twitching one or both ears. A balding spot and scruddy or reddened patches of skin are other noticeable indications.

To relieve the itching, cats will rub their faces along the ground and frantically scratch the ears with the hind feet. Some cats find relief by scratching the ear pinna — the short projecting part of the ear next to the head.

When the cat agitates this part of the ear, a dark brown discharge is formed in the ear canal and the skin surrounding the ear. Unless treatment is received, a secondary infection and an abscess around the ear may develop.

Only a veterinarian can positively diagnose ear mites and the first indication of frantic scratching is reason enough to seek professional consultation.

Curing ear mites should also be left to the veterinarian — your cat's ears are very delicate. Careless probing may do a great deal of harm and inflict pain and fear in the cat.

Excellent medication is available to do this job, and your veterinarian will instruct you in its use.

NATURAL GAS SHORTAGE!

PSE&G plans to import urgently needed liquefied natural gas in special tankers from overseas.

Sometimes we feel we have to shout to make it clear that New Jersey and the rest of the nation are in the midst of a critical gas shortage. Domestic production of natural gas simply has not kept pace with the nation's rapidly increasing demand. This has forced PSE&G to turn to alternate sources and methods in an attempt to assure an adequate supply to our customers. By 1985, the company will need almost twice as much natural gas as is used today. Frankly, our success in obtaining and providing these new natural gas supplies depends on a myriad of governmental approvals at the local, state and national levels.

Delays in obtaining these approvals for PSE&G's gas projects could result in even higher costs and prices in providing gas to our customers. This is especially true for liquefied natural gas which PSE&G hopes to import from Algeria. Without prompt approvals, we face the loss of our contracted supplies to other nations who are also equally negotiating for these gas reserves.

We urge your support of PSE&G's efforts. In the meantime, you can also help by conserving natural gas at home and at work. In New Jersey, we can't afford to be without it.

Two Residents to Appear In Noel Coward Comedy

Two Belleville residents will be appearing in "Fumed Oak", an unpleasant comedy by Noel Coward tonight, Friday and Saturday at The Studio of Performing Arts, 23 North Harrison Street, East Orange.

Bob Laterza Jr. will portray Henry Gow in the production, presented by The Balzac and Misty Morn Players. Laterza worked with the Studio as an assistant director in their last production, "Clutterbuck". He is a graduate of Villanova University and the son of Commissioner and Mrs. Robert Laterza. His sister, Eugenie Stelanelli, teaches in Bloomfield High School and directed plays while a student at BHS.

Lee Marra of Mill Street has appeared in BHS plays and had a leading role in "Up the Down Staircase". Miss Marra, who also sings, is appearing as Mrs. Rockett in "Fumed Oak" and has participated with the Studio of Performing Arts in production work. She is scheduled to direct their next play.

Other actors in "Fumed Oak" are Barbara Przelomski of Union and India Ruth Hayes of East Orange. The Balzac and Misty Morn Players will present a second one act play the same evening.

Before saying "never" remember "never" is a long, long time.

St. Peter's Schedules Novena for Tonight

The annual solemn novena in honor of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary will begin at St. Peter's Church tonight and conclude Friday, Dec. 7, the eve of the Feast day of the Immaculate Conception.

There will be two services each day; weekdays at the 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. Masses; Sunday at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Reverend Albert Pellicane, C.P. of the Congregation of the Passion (Passionist Fathers) will conduct the services and preach at all devotions. Confessions will be heard following each devotion.

Father Albert Pellicane, a native of Jamaica, Long Island is presently stationed at St. Michael's Monastery, Union City. Father Pellicane has conducted Missions and Retreats throughout the country.

Masterwork Choir Schedules Concert

The public is invited to attend a Holiday Concert by The Masterwork Boychoir conducted by Daniel DeFilippis on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16, at the Auditorium, County College of Morris, Route 10, Randolph, New Jersey. The concert will begin at 4 p.m.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Vincent Cazzaro, R.Ph.

In any season Vitamin C is of vital importance to life. Early sailors learned that without vitamin C they would die of scurvy and regularly carried on their voyages fresh lemons, limes, and other citrus fruits. Today, vitamin C is available in many forms. Fresh fruits and vegetables are a good source; remember that cooking destroys vitamin C. New processes of canning and freezing preserve vitamin C as well. No matter how you get it, vitamin C can be extremely important to you and to everyone in your family!

It's important to us to provide efficient, yet friendly service. Call or visit ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968 for all your prescription, convalescent aids, camera, film, gift, Timex Watches or transistor Radio needs. with Pat Diana
(write me at 104 Overlook Ave. or call 751-6861)

There are some pretty nice people in this world, and I just happen to meet them all. For example, three teachers at the Belleville Junior High School have been giving a great deal of their "spare" time lately to help some kids in a drama workshop. If they haven't been thanked by the kids, or their parents, or the guy who acted as the headmaster, then I'm going to thank them! Robert Leffelbine, English teacher, also directs the Group productions at BJHS. Bob, who lives in Linden, was the first to offer to work with the teens. Assisting him were Mrs. Carolina Furno - Art teacher and Bill Hollis - Spanish teacher.....thanks, you all.

Have you been down to American Legion Post 105 lately? There have been some changes made. The interior has been tastefully redecorated, creating an intimate atmosphere. A new bar has been installed, new bar stools added, and a backdrop of smoked mirrors, with threads of gold also add to the motif. The lighting effects, of dropped petal-like bulbs in pastel shades was the work of Harvey Niemeyer. The planning and credit for the renovation should go to Pat Wynn, Chateau Chairman. Further decorating is still planned and when it's done, the Cocktail Room at 105 is sure to draw admiring glances.

Thanks to you...it's working! My pet project, to create a Belleville Directory is receiving results. To bring you up to date, I am planning to have a brochure that will list everything that's available in town. Here are some of the categories: (1) Retail/Manufacturer (2) Church (3) School (4) Civic/Social clubs (5) Entertainment groups (6) Service Organizations, i.e. Red Cross, Library, Chamber of Commerce (7) Restaurants.

Any one of you who wish to be included only have to do one thing - send to me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I will forward the Reference Fact Sheet for you to fill out. Please remember, even if I have continuous coverage with your group now, I don't have the time to follow you and see if you wish to be included. This is a separate project, and is scheduled for publication in the spring of 1974. There is no charge to be listed. ...

What are you doing Sunday, December 2nd at 2:30? Well, don't forget the 1974 Miss Essex County Junior Miss Pageant, which will be held at BHS. The event is sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees and is always an entertaining affair. "People," the group of youngsters sponsored by Muscarda Music, will perform. Michele Desmond is the lead vocal; John Mancini, brass guitar, Pam Natale - organ and vocal, Jeff Kinder, drums and vocal, Phil Veniziano - guitar and local and Wayne Desmond, trumpet and vocal. "People" has made many professional appearances around the state, appeared in concerts with some well known groups and also released a record for Delite, "Happy People"....I know you'll enjoy them.

Let's meet the three Belleville gals who will be competing for the title Lynn Lynn Giordano is the daughter of Louis and Isabelle. The 5'7 blonde has brown eyes, is a cheerleader at BHS where she is a senior and a representative of the senior senate club. Lynn also enjoys dancing and art, bowling, roller skating and other sports. She plans to attend Newark State College as an art major.

Cynthia Mackin is 5'4-1/2" and a blue-eyed blonde. She is the daughter of William and Genevieve and attends Immaculate Conception High School where her favorite subject is English. Cynthia belongs to the National Honor Society, New Jersey Junior Classical League, won first place honors in a song contest and first place in an original film contest. She is also co-editor of the school paper, belongs to the Glee Club and was on the Jr. Prom decorating committee. She plans to attend Douglass college, majoring in journalism or communications.

Mary-Jo Padula is the daughter of Joseph and Mary. The 5'2 brown eyed Miss, has light brown hair and says music is her favorite subject. Mary Jo belongs to the French Club, Future Teacher's Club, Belvilletes singing group, has played in the band and orchestra and is on the honor roll at BHS where she is a senior. She works part time for Rossmore Pharmacy and plans to attend Montclair or Jersey City State with the goal of becoming a music teacher. Mary Jo loves to travel, dance, play the piano and sing.

It wishes to all contestantsbut it would be nice to see a Belleville girl crowned....some recent winners included Marilyn Casale and Carol Cornish.

The Belleville Reformed Church will celebrate "Christmas City" on Saturday, December 8th, from 10:30 - 7. The public is invited, here's what you'll find - handmade articles, country store, canned goods, toys, home made cakes and a "letters to Santa" box. Pastor of the church is Rev. Paul Ruter. The event is chaired by Mrs. Paul Veltrie assisted by Mrs. Fred (Dorothy) Schaedel.

November 20 was the birthday of Jennie Gaccione...member of the Metropolitan Organ Club of Northern New Jersey - happy day, Jennie.

Here's a new item that just came to my attention. A Macrame class for beginners - adults, both men, women and high school students, will start January 7. There are seven weekly sessions on Monday evenings from 7:30-9:30, as well as Friday afternoon course from 3:30-5:30 starting January 11. Clara Karlan is the teacher and the courses will be held at the Nutley Art Center, 200 Chestnut St. For information you may phone 661-2280. I'm told classes are limited, so phone early.

A Winter Carnival will be held by the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, 444 Union Avenue. The date is December 1, the time 10-6. It's an opportunity for youngsters and parents to purchase Christmas gifts. There will be a large selection of games, refreshments, boutique tables, white elephant and handmade items as well as Santa Claus making an appearance. The funds raised enable the Jr. Woman's Club to assist in local charities.

Congratulations to Mrs. Eva Dunleazy of Newark...on her 90th birthday December 1. She is the mother of School Seven principal Mrs. Viola Spray and Mrs. Hilda Krazeski of Newark. Mrs. Dunleazy also has three grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Working behind the scenes for the preparation of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" is Mary Jane Izzo, a junior at BHS. Mary Jane has designed the set and with other students, built it, decorated it and prepared the entire stage scenery and props, which include a fireplace and birdcage.

This evening, Unit 105, American Legion Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting. The program is on Acupuncture and the public is invited at no charge, according to Mrs. Joan Laib, unit president. Marion L. Skelly, R.N. of Nutley will present slides and an informative talk. Miss Skelly is a registered nurse in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. She received her BS Degree in Nursing from Syracuse University as well as Master's of Science degree. For the past two years she has studied Acupuncture and was awarded a diploma and licentiate of Acupuncture from the College of Chinese Acupuncture in Kenilworth, England. She is presently studying for a Bachelor's Degree in Acupuncture.

You know, sometimes people invite me to a meeting and then they forget to show up...who dat? I made plans to visit a cub scout meeting (won't say which one) and my friend either came later or not at all. I was most interested in the cub scouts however, as it impressed me the number of youngsters attending and, the number of parents. After about 15 minutes, though I left for my next stop....maybe, next time?

Nicholas Fausto, 75; Was Postal Worker

Funeral mass was held November 21 at St. Peter's Church for Nicholas A. Fausto, 60 Charles Street, who died at home November 18. A retired postal worker, he was 75.

Born in New York City, Mr. Fausto came to Belleville 31 years ago. He was employed by the U.S. Post Office for 31 years before his retirement, and was a member of the U.S. Post Office American Legion Post 300. During World War I, Mr. Fausto served in the Navy.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Amelia Fuscaldo

Fausto; a daughter, Mrs. Henry (Rosemary) Maksymo of Belleville; a son, Nicholas A. Jr. of Belleville; a brother James of East Orange; two sisters, Mrs. Marie Fernicola of Newark and Mrs. Katherine Cardone of Brooklyn, N.Y. and two grandchildren.

Services were directed by the Kiernan Funeral Home, and interment was in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

The newspaper without any mistakes has never been published.

J. Kaiser, 70; Was Retired As Accountant

Funeral mass was held November 21 at St. Peter's Church for Joseph J. Kaiser, of Verona, who died November 19 at Morristown Memorial Hospital. Brother of Belleville resident Mrs. Justin M. (Grace) Maguire, he was 70.

A former accountant, Mr. Kaiser is also survived by his brother, Robert G. of Hohokus; and three other sisters, Mrs. Andrew Frederick and Mrs. Bernard Schaitbrand, both of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Anna May Kaiser of Parsippany.

The Rev. Joseph Masiello officiated the services directed by the Kiernan Funeral Home. Interment was in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, East Hanover.

For years, leasing a car was the alternative to buying. Now Fidelity gives you an alternative to the alternative. Leasing from a bank.

These days, getting the car you want can be as simple as dropping in at your nearest Fidelity office because Fidelity has just gone into a brand new business.

Auto leasing.

Leasing may turn out to be the best route for you. There are often tax advantages. There is no heavy cash down payment. And there is no shopping around and haggling.

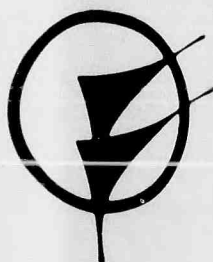

You'll be covered by full manufacturer's warranty. If you like the car, you'll have the first option to buy it when the lease is up. Of course, if you decide not to buy, we'll take it back.

And at Fidelity there is no restriction on car choice, equipment or color. Lease whatever you like, from a mini-compact to a Rolls Royce. For as long as you like: 12, 24 or 36 months.

One more thing. Fidelity won't charge you the sales commission an auto leasing company would.

So, leasing from us not only saves you time and trouble and the worry of doing business with a stranger: quite possibly it will save you money as well.

Why not come in and talk it over. One way or another, we want to put you into the car that you want to drive. Lease it from us, or if you prefer, we can lend you the money to buy one.

Spoil Undefeated Record

Gridders Jolt Golden Bears, 14-6, To Close Books on 3-6 Season

by Ken Moore

The Bellboy gridders took to the field Thanksgiving morning determined to erase the "losers" image created by their 2-6 record for the season. When they came back from their 14-6 victory over the previously undefeated Golden Bears of Lyndhurst, they had a 3-6 record and a new image.

Though it was a difficult season for the Bellboys and their head coach Rocco Cafone, who resigned his position this week, the convincing win ended the schedule on an upbeat, as the Blue-Gold defense held the Bears to two first downs and snatched three interceptions, while running back Steve Senatore capitalized on fine blocking to run in two scores. Lyndhurst cracked the Bellboys' kickoff defense at the opening of the second half to produce their only TD of the game.

Cafone credited much of the win to key passes executed by senior quarterback Bill Telesco, piloting the Bellboys in the last game of his high school career. Telesco completed three out of seven passes to spark a drive for the winning goal. Along with Telesco's arm, Cafone said offensive line play had opened the way for the Belleville backfield and the alert defensive backs had devastated the Lyndhurst air attack.

To deal with the Bears' unique "stand up" defense which saw as many as eight men on the line, Cafone attacked with an unbalanced line. "We knew they had a tremendous defense which had completely turned off Elmwood Park," said Cafone. "We also knew we'd have to be able to run against them if we were going to win. So we went with an unbalanced line since we felt if they didn't shift, we'd have a hole ready-made to run through, and even if they did stunt, we were ready to double-team. The line play was critical. I feel that's where all the games are won."

Cafone said the Belleville lead plays with Joe Napolitano blocking also helped to crack the Lyndhurst line where "they had everybody loaded up. They knew we were going to run right at them."

The game's first quarter was a see-saw battle in which neither team was able to mount an effective drive, though Belleville carried through a nine-play series bridged by a 15-yard penalty against Lyndhurst.

In the second quarter, Steve Senatore picked up some good blocking and returned a punt 50 yards to the Lyndhurst 11-yard line. After two runs of five yards apiece, Senatore leaped the final yard over a pile of blockers and would-be tacklers for the first touchdown of the game. The extra-point attempt failed.

In the following Lyndhurst series, Vinnie DeNotaris broke up a third down pass to force a turnover. Belleville was unable to put together a drive, but Gerry Giordano quickly intercepted an aerial by Jeff Gleeson to regain possession. The final minutes of the first half passed without event.

The opening of the second half saw the Bears drive a double wedge up the field on the kick off combined with a fake reverse which scored Gleeson on a 25-yard run. "We knew what they were going to do because we had an identical play," said Cafone. "In fact, we called it twice, but they didn't kick it deep enough. When they used it, their wedge took out some of our guys and their fake also worked on others."

On the Lyndhurst extra-point attempt, Vinnie DeNotaris charged in to block the kick.

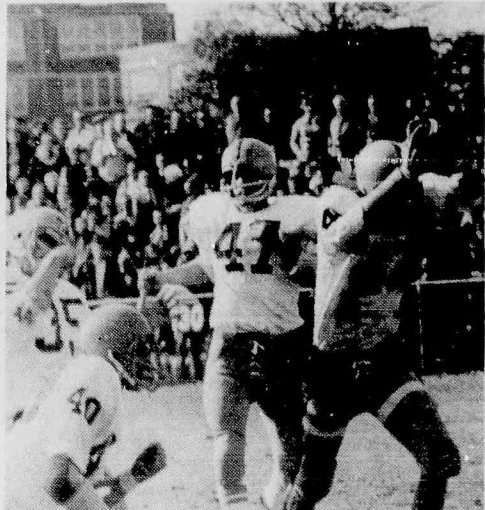

The offense shifted back and forth until Joe Panlone picked off another Gleeson pass at the Belleville 25-yard line and the Bellboys proceeded to march up the field in 16 plays for another touchdown, with Telesco hitting Tony Nicosia, Vinnie Lipoma and Senatore with key passes. Senatore shed a host of Lyndhurst tacklers in his seven-yard touchdown run. Joe Cancelliere ran the ball across for a two-point conversion on a faked kick.

For the balance of the game, the offense continued to change hands, with Cancelliere stealing a Lyndhurst pass in the final two minutes to put the game away.

"Our boys did everything we asked," said Cafone. "We got some breaks, the kids stuck in there and we didn't make any mistakes at crucial times. Lyndhurst was a very good team—the interceptions they threw were their only real mistakes—but our boys were determined to win that game, no question about it. They wanted to prove a point, I guess—that we do have a good team."

THEY'RE UP — Tony Nicosia (35) and Gerry Giordano (42) vie with Lyndhurst's Mark Thorne for a second quarter pass meant for Thorne.

HE'S GOT IT — Giordano proudly displays the pigskin after hauling it down to sabotage the Bear's final drive of the first half.

Seven Lettermen Return

Cage Chief Dan Grasso Goes to Work Molding 73-74

by Bob Cohen

November 15 marked the opening day of winter sports for the teams belonging to the N.J.S.I.A.A. On that day, students from all over the state begin their preparation for the start of their prospective sports. And so the 1973-74 edition of the Belleville High School basketball team took to the court to work on the improvement of last year's rather dismal showing.

On Friday, Dec. 14, the Bellboys will see how far they've progressed when they take on the alumni in a predicted hard-fought game expected to be played before a capacity crowd at the high school. The results of this game, according to state high school rules, will count in the won-loss column.

Over 50 people showed up for the first day of practice, a hard, double session workout. Next day's practice was a repeat of the first as again the boys went through tough conditioning drill and ran some basic plays. Twenty candidates were cut during these practices as the coaching staff wasted no time in developing a workable unit for the start of the season.

In an effort to improve on last year's 3-17 mark, many changes were made over the off-season since the entire coaching staff was reshuffled and the Belleville basketball program was revamped. Gone are Bob Palma and J. Alan Gavitt, last year's respective varsity and junior varsity coaches. They have exited to Columbia High School in Maplewood where they acquired new teaching positions.

Their resignations were filled when Danny Grasso was named the new head mentor and last year's frosh coach Jon Semcer accepted the J.V.

post. The sophomore team has been eliminated and in its place there has been established a seventh and eighth grade team. Last year's sophomore coach Carmine Mineo will direct this new squad.

Grasso has served as an assistant at St. Joseph's in West New York for the past three years. He has worked with Al LoBalbo, now the head coach at Fairleigh Dickinson University and shares many of his ideas on defensive basketball. "We'll concentrate on a man to man defense this year," Coach Grasso has said. "In past years Belleville has played basically a zone."

This year the team will concentrate on defense using the theory that a good defense is your offense. "Mentally the boys are beginning to understand this new system," "Grasso continues, "but physically they have got to improve. Playing good defense requires a solid team effort."

Seven returning letterman will be the nucleus of this year's team. Lost to graduation were guards Mark Corino and Vin Turturiello and forwards Mark Canyon and Ed Colon. Yet the void should be filled by the seven returning players.

Helping out the varsity this year is Jim Catalano, Catalano, who has proved very valuable in aiding in the evaluation of team personnel, offers his help to the team by working with the players at the practices. This is another example of how the coaching methods have changed.

Scrimmages are for the purpose of seeing how far the team has improved and this year's pre-season tests figures to be a big indicator. Last Sunday the team met with St. Joseph's. On Dec. 1 the team travels to Hunterdon Central. Dec. 3 the squad is home against Newark Tech but on the eighth they are back on the road against Union Catholic. Proving again that the pre-season is no picnic, the cagers will meet last year's parochial runner up, Our Lady of the Valley on Dec. 11.

Grasso, who has served as an assistant to Paul Szem at Belleville from 1965 to 1967 appears to have his work cut out this year. His ability to prepare the team for Big Ten caliber basketball seems to be the key to the season. He will wisely use his time for team preparation for that all important opening tipoff on December 14.

Bag 85 Birds at Rec Shoot

There were over 500 targets shot in this year's Recreation Department Turkey Shoot as an enthusiastic group of Belleville families joined the fun at the Pistol Range, Sunday, Nov. 18.

Commissioner Marotti was on hand throughout the day and enjoyed the event as much as the many participants. From before 11 a.m. until the 4 p.m. closing there was a steady line of shooters and eighty-five turkeys found their way to Belleville tables.

On the firing line was Matthew J. Callahan, Belleville Recreation's rifle instructor, who directed the activity at that point. Callahan was ably assisted by Jim (no relation) Callahan,

With these two qualified leaders the shooting was conducted efficiently and safely.

There were two ties during the day, actually three, because Joe Downey and Mike Stefanelli each had the same score in their flight and then tied again in the shoot-off. In the second tie-breaker shoot-off Joe Downey edged Mike out. Another tie occurred between Bob Rockwell and Keith Sheppard with Bob Rockwell winning in that tie-breaker.

Following is the list of winners in the order of the flights in which they shot: Ken Place, Sr., Richard Tyrapak, Bob Tyrapak, Joe Massa, Bob Tyrapak, Annette Ardino, Frank Ardino, Vin Cappetta, Andrew Sielari, Joseph Catalano, Vinnie Sorrentino, Joe DeRose, Chicky Favrazzo, Bob Boyer, Don De Hagara.

Other winners were Mike Hyland, Gregory Passalero, Tom Jones, Keith Waddell, Wayne Worly, Ed Leverich, Paul Martine, Ben Patrizio, Willard Moskowitz, Wayne DeFeo, Jim Callahan, Joe Pospisil, Phyllis Sargentelli, Rich Bradley, Ed Dunleavy, Peg Hemmer, Lee Hughes, Mike Paoletto, Ken Moore.

Predicted Grid Upset

FINAL WINNER in the Belleville Times "What's the Score?" contest is Robert Mullaney (right) of 22 Smith Street, shown here as he accepts gift certificates from Bob Van Tassel of Sportman's Haven, 136 Washington Avenue. Mullaney, who predicted the exact score and was only one yard off the total yardage of the Bellboys, is entitled to enter a drawing along with eight other winners for a portable television.

CYO Slates Polar Bear Track Meet

The Essex County CYO will join forces with Essex Catholic High School to hold the first Polar Bear Track Meet for elementary school boys. The first of what is expected to become an annual event will be held on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 8 at Essex Catholic High School in Newark.

Gerald J. O'Connor, who directed the very successful CYO Cross Country Meet earlier this month, will be in control of the Polar Bear event.

Competition will be held in two age groups 12 and under and 13 and above.

Events to be included in the meet, which will start at 1 P.M., are the 60-yard dash, 220 yard run, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, mile run and 440 yard relay in which each boy will run 110 yards. Trials and semi-finals will be held before the 60-yard dash finals.

Varsity Club Dinner Set Tomorrow Night

Frank will have the Reverend Kevin M. Hanbury of Holy Family Church deliver the invocation and the guest speaker will be Bill Dioguardi of Montclair State College.

Members of the Varsity Club Dinner Committee include John Shelesky, Bill Ellis, Vinnie Sorrentino, Jim Donahue (chairman), Jim Halbert, Bill Napolitano, Mike Marotti, Mike Casale, Charley Grasso, Bob Cassin, Dick Covey and Joe Grosch.

Last year 440 persons attended the dinner and more are expected tomorrow night.

Guest speaker Bill Dioguardi has been an outstanding coach in high school and college circles and is now a leading administrator at Montclair State College.

In 21 seasons at the helm of Montclair State College baseball team, Dioguardi led his teams to 300 wins while losing only 139 games. During 20 of those seasons, the Indians were five hundred or better.

Bill's first collegiate coaching assignment was while studying for his master's degree at Notre Dame when he coached the "Fighting Irish" freshman baseball nine.

Cited many times for his outstanding coaching, Dioguardi has four times been named "Coach of the Year" by the New Jersey State College Conference.

Dioguardi has also served as an assistant coach in both football and basketball at MSC for seven years.

In addition to his duties at the College from 1955 to 1968, Dioguardi served as director of athletics and coach at College High (a demonstration high school operated by Montclair State).

As head coach of College High's six man football team, Dioguardi posted a record of 66 wins while losing 14 games. The Ponies went undefeated six times during his tenure, 1955, 57, 58, 60, 65 and 67.

Dioguardi led College High to the Metropolitan Six Man Football championship in 1955, 56, 57, 58, 60 and 65 while taking the Tri-State Six Man crown in 1967. He also handled varsity basketball for 13 years and had an overall record of 168 wins and 58 losses.

A graduate of Kearny High School, class of 1941, Dioguardi played his baseball under Coach Warren Fogerty. His basketball coach was "Doc" Loughridge.

CYO Basketballers Are Ready To Play

Forty-two teams are scheduled to compete this season in the Essex County CYO basketball leagues for elementary school boys and girls, and for senior girls.

Heaviest registration is in the elementary boys' category where 24 teams will do battle in four divisions.

Division A teams will play on Saturday mornings at Mt. Vernon School in Newark, starting Dec. 1. Teams include St. Paul the Apostle and St. Leo's of Irvington, St. Ann's of Newark, Our Lady of Lourdes, West Orange, and St. John's and St. Venantius, Orange.

Division B squads include Newark entries St. James, St. Benedict's, Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, St. Casimir's, Holy Family and Blessed Sacrament. Games will be played on Sunday afternoons, beginning Dec. 2 at St. James School.

Competing in Division C at Essex Catholic High School in Newark will be St. Michael's, Stella Wright and St. Thomas Aquinas of Newark, St. Aloysius of Caldwell, Holy Name of East Orange and St. Joseph's, West Orange.

Division D games will also be played on Sundays at Our Lady of Sorrows School in South Orange. Teams include Our Lady of Sorrows, St. Joseph's, Maplewood; Queen of Angels, Newark; St. Thomas the Apostle, Bloomfield; Sacred Heart, Bloomfield and Immaculate Conception, Montclair.

Division A in the grammar girls' league includes St. Paul's of Irvington, Our Lady of Sorrows, South Orange; Queen of Angels, St. Ann's and Blessed Sacrament of Newark, St. Joseph's of Maplewood and Holy Name, East Orange. Games will be played on Saturday mornings, beginning Dec. 1, at St. Paul's.

The senior girls' league will open in early January. Games will be played at St. Peter's School in Belleville, and teams will include St. Peter's, Holy Family, Nutley; Holy Spirit, Orange and St. Benedict's, Newark.

Beck's Column.

Some customers who came in to buy a new color TV set, want a set with transistors. In the course of the conversation it comes out that they are under the impression that there will be practically no trouble with transistor sets.

We would like to clear up this misunderstanding. If the best and proven design finally has been evolved, there will be less trouble with transistor TV sets, but they won't ever be free of all troubles, this much is clear already.

One advantage of transistor sets compared to tube sets is that the tubes, which wear out in due time, do not have to be replaced. In theory, transistors should last "forever". In practice some of them don't. Some factories use plug in transistors. In this writer's opinion this is not the answer, because the connectors of the transistors and the socket into which they have to be inserted, mean contact troubles. Contacts of all kinds have to be avoided as much as possible. One can not avoid them entirely, because a defective unit has to be replaced one way or another. Probably we will have plug in modules with rugged connecting pins and sockets with strong springs and non-corroding metal surfaces. Most repairs will be made in the home, simply by exchanging a whole circuit board instead of taking a set to the shop for repair. It will take some time until the best design evolves.

Cafone Resigns After Four Years

assistant coach. He came to Belleville from Upsala in 1970.

Cafone brought to this town a classic brand of football, an offensive attack balanced between the pass and the run, along with tenacious defensive play, a quality that made Belleville's reputation in the eyes of opposing coaches.

"I think we gave the fans an exciting four years," Cafone told The Times. We played with small teams and we went for ball control, always looking for good field position. This was our philosophy and our kids never got bombed in any game. The highest score ever gained on us in one game was 23 points. We must have accomplished something, because the kids never quit—they stuck their noses in there and played."

"I felt we had a tremendous relationship with the young men here. The proof was that they stuck it out when things were going badly, they never quit."

To illustrate his point, Cafone recalled last year's West Essex game when the opponents, leading 8-7, stood at first down with the ball on the Belleville five-yard line in the closing seconds of the contest. The Bellboys held the line, said Cafone and added, "the referee came over after the game and said to us, 'Those Belleville kids don't know when to quit!' And we've told the boys that if they play that way in school and in life, keep plugging, maybe someday it'll eventually go their way."

Cafone said he has no plans to seek another coaching position.

Athletic Director Herman Wische emphasized the school will be taking applicants from inside and outside the system.

Contacts of all kinds have to be avoided as much as possible. One can not avoid them entirely, because a defective unit has to be replaced one way or another. Probably we will have plug in modules with rugged connecting pins and sockets with strong springs and non-corroding metal surfaces. Most repairs will be made in the home, simply by exchanging a whole circuit board instead of taking a set to the shop for repair. It will take some time until the best design evolves.

We service what we sell.

Cafone Resigns After Four Years

assistant coach. He came to Belleville from Upsala in 1970.

Cafone brought to this town a classic brand of football, an offensive attack balanced between the pass and the run, along with tenacious defensive play, a quality that made Belleville's reputation in the eyes of opposing coaches.

"I think we gave the fans an exciting four years," Cafone told The Times. We played with small teams and we went for ball control, always looking for good field position. This was our philosophy and our kids never got bombed in any game. The highest score ever gained on us in one game was 23 points. We must have accomplished something, because the kids never quit—they stuck their noses in there and played."

"I felt we had a tremendous relationship with the young men here. The proof was that they stuck it out when things were going badly, they never quit."

To illustrate his point, Cafone recalled last year's West Essex game when the opponents, leading 8-7, stood at first down with the ball on the Belleville five-yard line in the closing seconds of the contest. The Bellboys held the line, said Cafone and added, "the referee came over after the game and said to us,

"Those Belleville kids don't know when to quit!" And we've told the boys that if they play that way in school and in life, keep plugging, maybe someday it'll eventually go their way."

Cafone said he has no plans to seek another coaching position.

Athletic Director Herman Wische emphasized the school will be taking applicants from inside and outside the system.

Bellboys' Final Game Becomes Finest Effort...

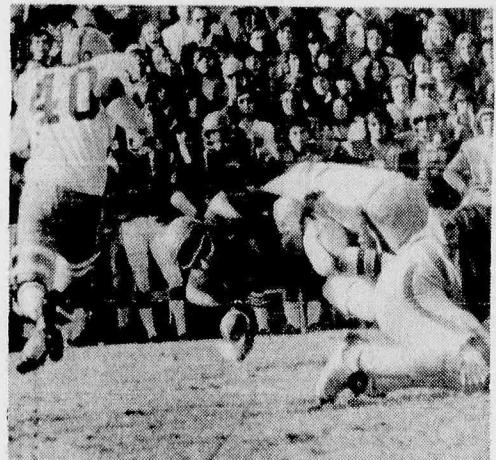

STOPPED after a one-yard gain is Lyndhurst's Bernie Heffern, who's nailed here by Jim LaConte (64), Jim Mauncele (27) and Joe Cerza (61). Coach Rocco Cafone praised the work of Belleville's interior line, who "shut off" the Bear ground attack.

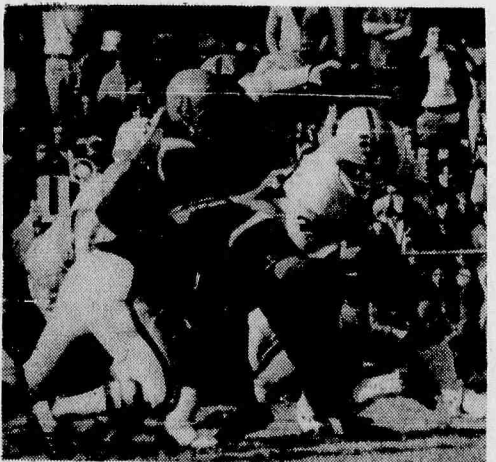

OPENING UP — Steve Senatore dives through the hole opened by the Bellboy front line in this third quarter play which netted five yards. The Bellboys marched 73 yards for their second game-clinching touchdown.

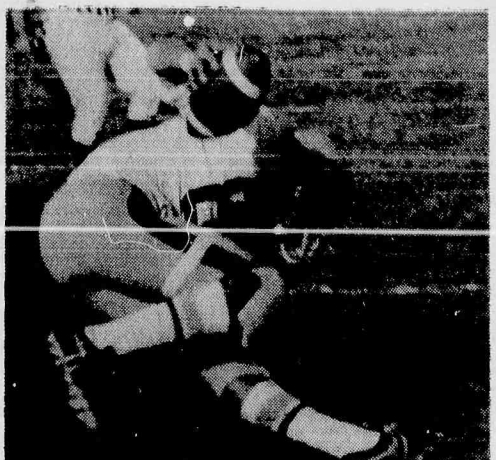

HELD UP — Senatore is limited to short yardage on this fourth quarter play.

QUARTERBACK Gleeson of the Bears is brought down after a five-yard run in the fourth quarter.

EARLY run by Joe Cancelliere netted two yards. Cancelliere started the season on defense, later went both ways.

CRITICAL PASS play on fourth down in the fourth quarter was successful as Vinnie Lipoma took in a 13-yard aerial from Telesco and was downed.

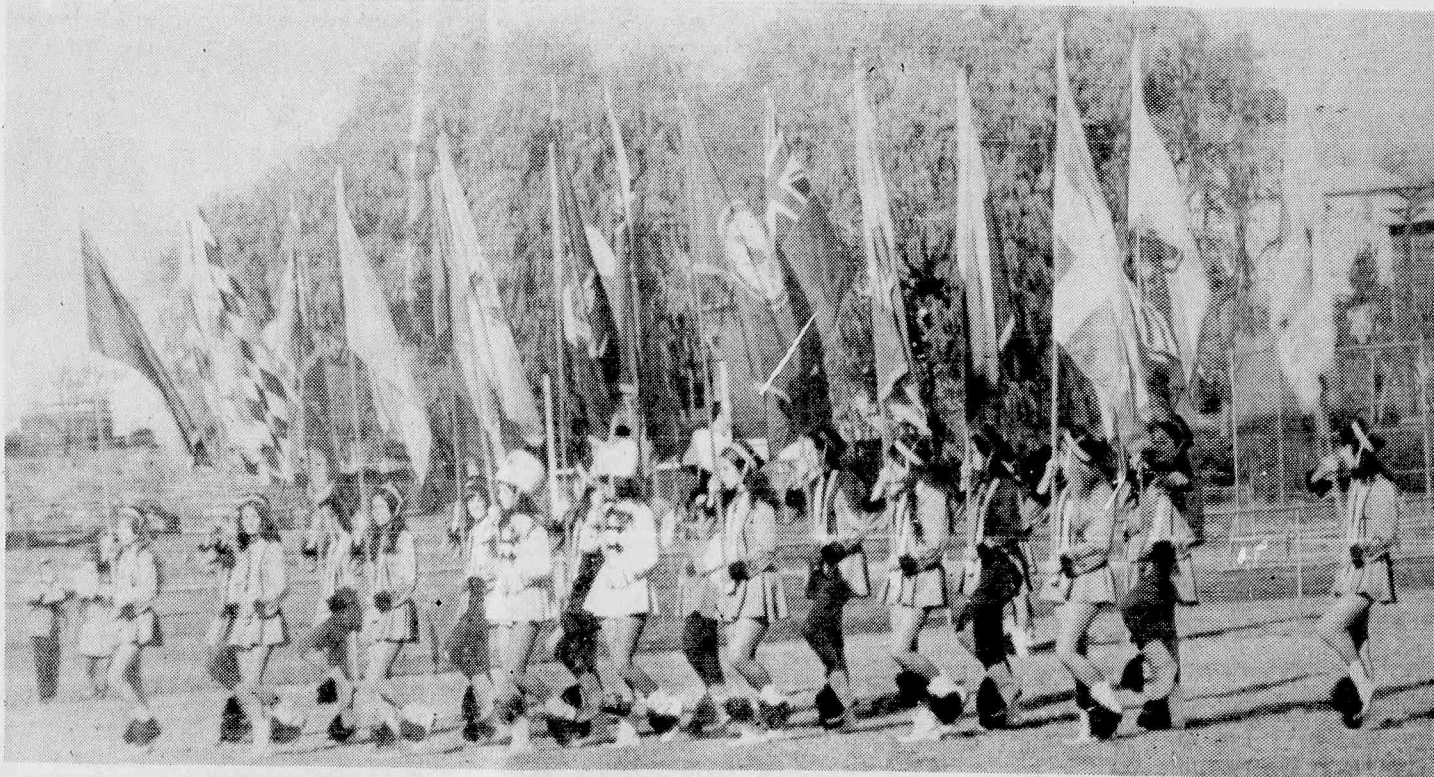

Other Gridiron Performers End Their Own Season

MARCHING BAND treated the crowd to a final half-time show. Football season has seen the band and other marching units practicing daily for their half-time and pre-game shows.

COLOR GUARD — The precision drill team is shown at the Thanksgiving Day game. The 12 girls are headed by captain Beverly Wancho and co-captains Debbie and Gail Stone.

LAST OUTING for the flag twirlers on the gridiron came Thursday. These girls, carrying flags representing the different countries, states and events in which the band has competed and performed, can still be seen in parades in Belleville and other high school events. Captain of the squad is Rosanne Amoroso and co-captains are Erin Carr and Barbara Santangelo.

DRUM MAJORETTE Geraldine Palmissano is shown after receiving a gift of flowers during halftime ceremonies which saw the marchers depart from their routine to say goodbye for the season.

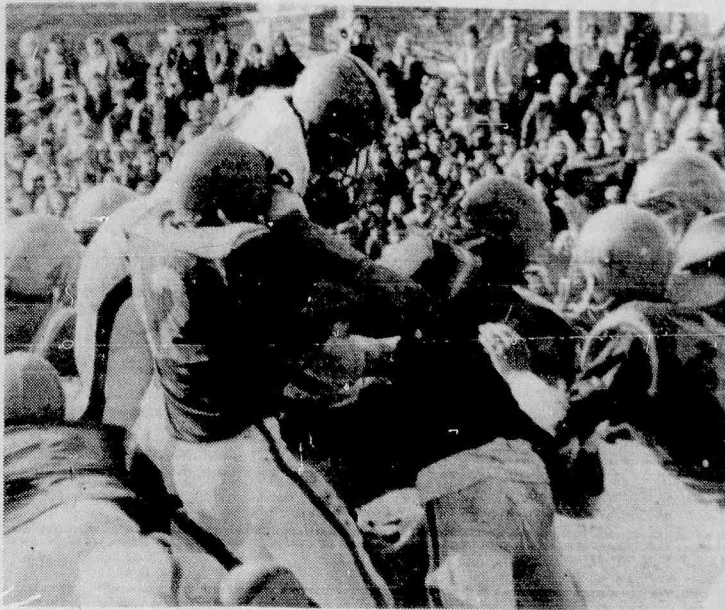

FOND APPRECIATION — Twirler captain Kathy Pastrik (right) thanks advisor Miss Bonnie Claire Cook for a bouquet of flowers and months of help with the squad's routines. Members of the units bestowed flowers and thanks on all advisors.

Touchdowns Courtesy of Senatore; Extra Points by Cancelliere

AIMING his elbow squarely for the other side of the goal line, Steve Senatore gets ready to celebrate the game-winning touchdown which came in the fourth quarter of the contest against Lyndhurst. Senatore scored on a seven-yard run.

OVER THE TOP was the route taken by "Stife" on his first tally, a one-foot plunge over the battling bodies of Bellboys and Bears. A 50-yard punt return by Senatore set up the goal.

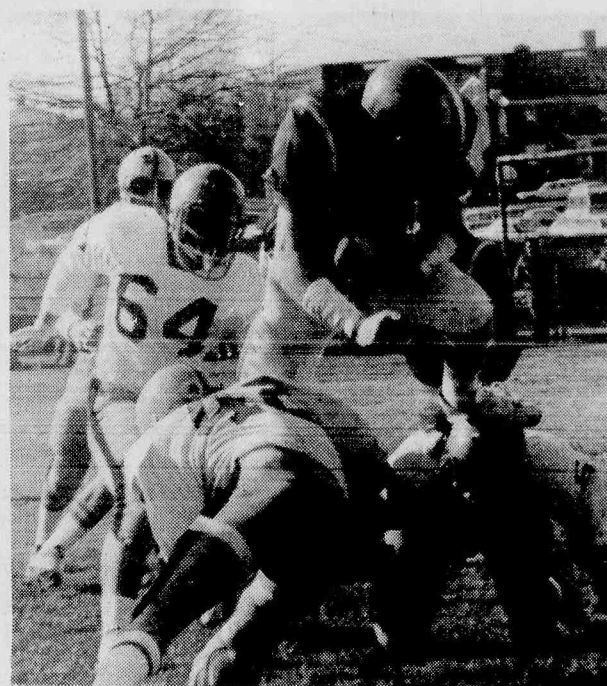

FAKING a kick for the extra point, Joe Cancelliere runs the ball across after Belleville's second TD.

As They Break Bears' Win Streak, 14-6

SKIRTING a tackler on his first quarter punt return, Senatore zips down the sidelines. Unseen are Bellboy blockers who cleared the way for the dash.

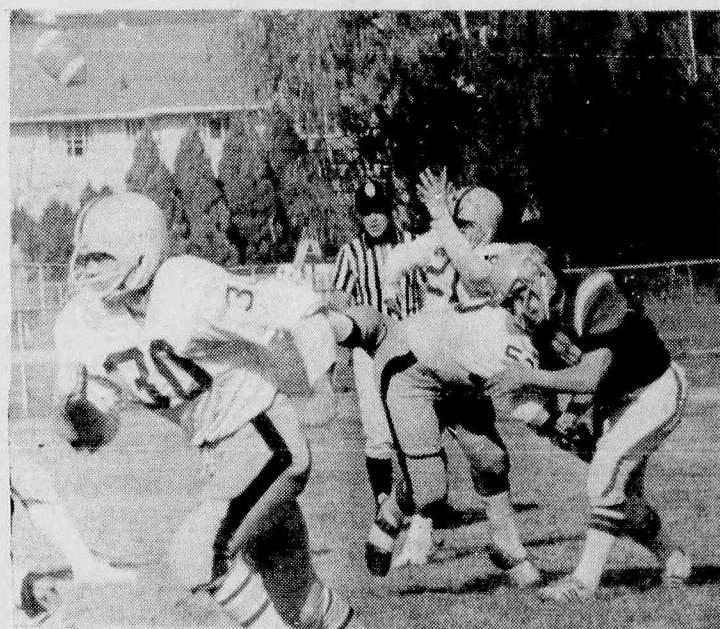

STEPPING STONE — Bear's John Nottle seems to be using Bellboy Joe Cerza's helmet for leverage in this four-yard run for a first down in the first quarter.

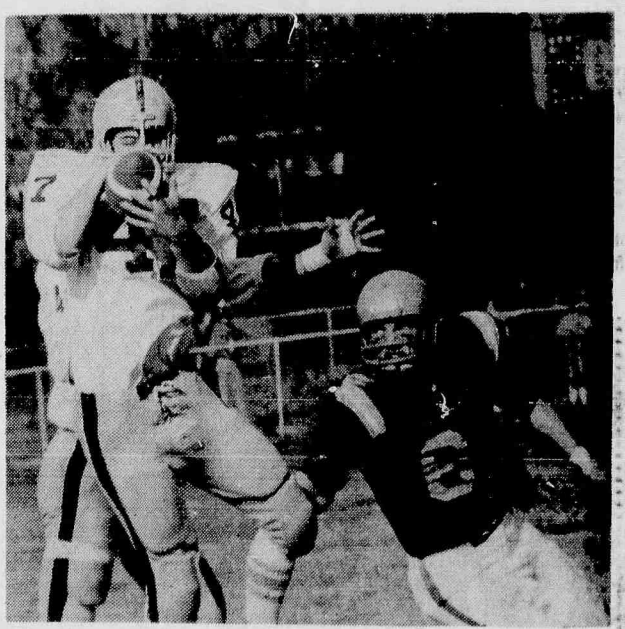

HIS LAST GAME at Belleville was a victory for coach Rocco Cafase, shown here as he leaves the field with the game ball.

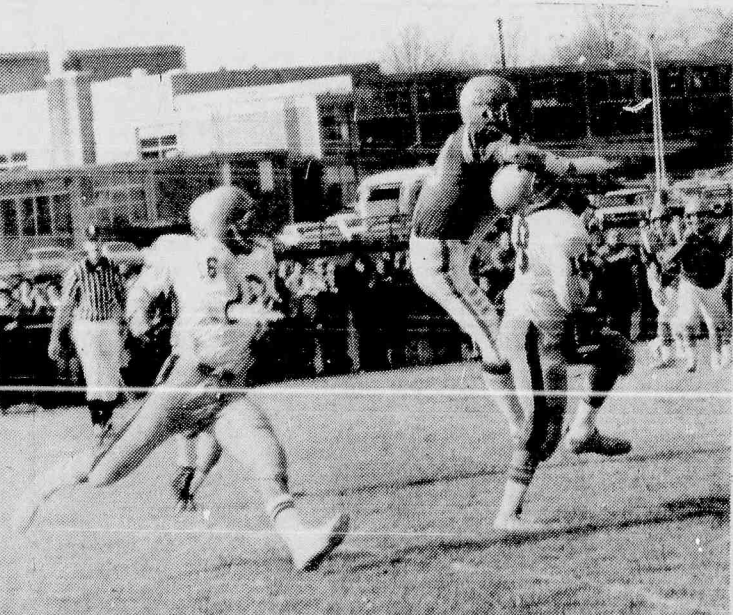

OPENING PLAY of the second half saw Bear's Jeff Gleeson dash down the field past Bellboy defenders for Lyndhurst's only score of the game.

BELLEVILLE BREAK — This first quarter punt by Nick De Filippis resulted in a 15-yard roughing-the-kicker penalty on Lyndhurst, giving the Bellboys a fourth down.

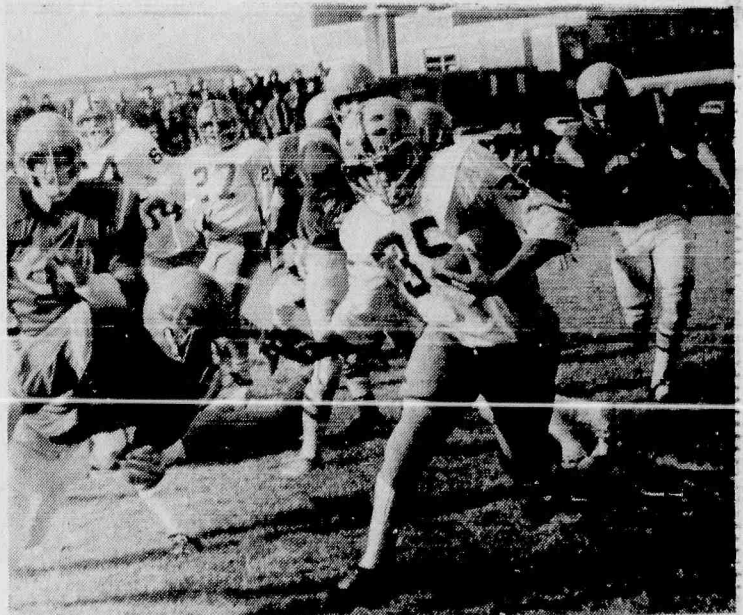

KEY THEFT — Jo Panlone (47) steals an aerial intended for Lyndhurst's Malcolm McPherson in the third quarter to pave the way for Belleville's second touchdown.

BREAKING UP a pass play in the fourth quarter, Bellboy Mark Cosenzo feels the weight of Lyndhurst's Mark Thorne.

BRUSHING ASIDE a Lyndhurst tackler, Tony Nicosia runs for four yards in the fourth quarter.

NICOSIA AGAIN, this time in an 11-yard run in the fourth quarter, aided by good blocking from fellow backfield men Joe Napolitano and Steve Senatore (not shown).

Masterwork
To Perform
6 'Messiah's
"To our knowledge, The Masterwork Chorus is the only group in the entire metropolitan area to give six performances of the same work. The increasing demand for tickets to our 'Messiah' performances has caused us to increase our original single performance of 1961 to a total of six performances this year," says David Randolph,
director of The Masterwork
Chorus. "With over 100 new members joining the Chorus
since September," Randolph adds, "the present group is the strongest chorus that we have ever had. It should result in the most musically rewarding performances."

The Masterwork Chorus
and Orchestra will perform
Handel's "Messiah" in New York for the twelfth consecutive Christmas season in December. The concerts will be presented in Carnegie Hall on the evenings of Friday,
Dec. 7, and Saturday, Dec. 8,
and the afternoon of Sunday,
Dec. 9, and the afternoon and evening of Sunday, Dec. 23 at Avery Fisher Hall (formerly Philharmonic Hall).
"Messiah" will also be presented by the Masterwork
Chorus on Sunday evening,
Dec. 2, at St. Peter's Church,
Morristown. Tickets for all these performances are available through The Masterwork Music and Art
Foundation, 300 Mendham Road, Morristown, New Jersey 07960.

David Randolph's unusual interpretation of "Messiah" has received much attention from critics. In his review of Randolph's "Messiah", The New York Times said, "This Messiah' as conceived and expertly led by David Randolph, was wonderfully refreshing."

In addition to conducting
The Masterwork Chorus,
David Randolph is also Music
Director of The Masterwork
Music and Art Foundation.
When not occupied on the concert platform, he is busy as commentator, author and lecturer on musical topics.
His radio program, "The David Randolph Concert", which has won four awards,
can be heard each Tuesday evening at 8:30 p.m. and each
Saturday at noon on Station
WNYC-FM. He was host of the "Lincoln Center
Spotlight" on WQXR. Mr.
Randolph's book on music appreciation "This Is Music", recently published by McGraw-Hill, has now been published in paperback by Mentor. It was designated one of "The Best of the Year" by The New York Times.

Randolph is Professor of Music at Montclair State
College in Upper Montclair,
New Jersey and also gives two courses for the layman at The New School on Thursday evenings.

Because of Shortage

State Eases Sulfur Limit For Types of Fuel Oil

Commissioner Richard J. Sullivan of the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) today announced a temporary relaxation of the state's sulfur-in-fuel requirements, effective at once and continuing until March 15, 1974.

The action is being taken to help the state meet its needs for heating, electric generation and industrial fuels and help minimize the effects of the energy shortage.

The administrative order was issued by Sullivan under emergency powers conferred upon him by the New Jersey Administrative Procedure Act.

The action follows a review of testimony taken at a public hearing held Friday in Trenton at which time no major objections were voiced to the proposed plan. Testimony was presented by representatives of the oil industry, public utilities companies, major industrial firms, and environmental groups.

The regulations adopted today reflect no significant changes from the proposal presented Friday. The federal Environmental Protection Agency's Region II office in New York also was advised of the temporary amendment to the New Jersey plan.

Under the administrative order, the regulations controlling sulfur content in fuel oils and coal (N.J.A.C. 7:27-9 and 7:27-10, formerly known as Chapters 10 and 10-A of the state air pollution control code) will be temporarily modified.

The new rules will permit the burning of higher sulfur fuels statewide, but to a lesser extent in the state's five most populous counties which are responsible for 52 percent of the state's total fuel oil consumption.

Milk production on farms in the entire country is down from three to five per cent from last year.

Spend $1.5 Million

New Jersey's Ski Resorts Prepare for Winter Boom

New Jersey's ski resort industry is spending more than $1.5 million to expand and improve facilities for an expected heavy influx of sports enthusiasts this winter, according to a pre-season survey by the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry.

A new $500,000 installation — Holly Mountain — is New Jersey's 13th and southernmost ski area, just 60 miles north of the Mason Dixon Line at Penns Grove, near Wilmington, Delaware.

Four of the state's largest ski areas — Great Gorge, Snow Bowl, Vernon Valley and Craigmeur — have reported a 10 percent increase in advance sales of season tickets, and registrations for ski schools and clinics. All four are projecting Thanksgiving as an opening date for the 1973-74 season.

"Ski fans aren't taking chances on the possibility of a third warm winter in a row," said Herman C. Simonse, director of the State's Division of Economic Development. "They know whether it snows or not, New Jersey's slopes will have a 24-inch base of man-made powder, less than an hour from New York or Philadelphia."

Eleven of the state's 13 ski areas are fully equipped for snowmaking and nighttime skiing. Eleven offer ski instruction and equipment rentals, while four even provide nurseries for the too-young-to-ski crowd.

In northern New Jersey, Great Gorge, at McAfee, the State's largest ski area, offers 25 slopes and trails up to 3 miles long, graded to challenge everyone from toddlers to speed demons. Experts can try the Alpine Ski Center where NASTAR — the national standard race — is run daily over an electrically timed course. Eight double chair lifts and two rope tows provide an uphill capacity of 12,000 skiers an hour. Snow is jet-propelled from ten miles of pipes by means of a Curtiss-Wright J-65 engine that can lay down a 24-inch powder base on major slopes in a single 24-hour period.

At the South Base Lodge, skiers can dine in the Barnstube, a Swiss-themed restaurant that means "a cozy room," relax sore muscles in the cocktail lounge which adjoins two dining areas overlooking the slopes, or grab a hot snack at the high-speed cafeteria. Across the valley, the $20-million Playboy Hotel Club offers 700 rooms, each with a balcony view plus a wide range of recreational facilities, including indoor and outdoor pools, health clubs, boutiques, sports shops and snow bunnies.

Only 45 minutes from George Washington Bridge, Snow Bowl at Milton, has installed a new $500,000 airless electric-gun, snowmaking system. Two double chair lifts and three T-bars with an uphill capacity of 6,000 skiers an hour, serve seven trails and four open slopes.

Non-skiers can make year-round use of their bikinis in a heated outdoor pool, or go ice skating, or browse the ski boutique or unwind in any of six restaurants. The three-level base lodge is topped by an elegant dining area, La Vision, with floor to ceiling window walls overlooking the slopes. Ski rental equipment, valued at nearly $100,000 is completely new this year.

Twenty-five minutes due north, the 800-acre Vernon Valley guarantees 100 days of skiing to season pass holders, thanks to a $1 million pollution-free Centac Air compressor that throws 40,000 cubic feet of air per minute — reportedly more snow-making capacity than all of Vermont's ski areas combined. By mid-season last year, snow depth was upwards of 6 feet, all man-made. Five double chairs and a rope tow with a capacity of 7,100 skiers an hour serve 12 trails ranging from novice through expert. The base lodge features a Hexagon Lounge, cafeteria and Italian restaurant as well as a panoramic view of slopes and valley below. Future olympians, aged three to seven can learn skiing at the Snow White Ski School. Hot chocolate, cookies and instructions on a special ski slope are all provided by Snow White and her helpers.

At Craigmeur in Newfoundland, twenty minutes from Vernon Valley, you can ski, ice skate or toboggan in a friendly, informal atmosphere suggesting a private estate rather than a public ski area. A broad novice slope, where beginners can traverse back and forth without sliding into skiers using the more difficult trails, is served by a 940-foot rope tow. A T-bar reaches two main trails and three slopes, all strictly non-competitive and far removed from high speed, high pressure racing slopes at nearby resorts. The ski lodge bar and restaurant are casual and intimate, decorated with 500 hand-painted skis. At Craigmeur Inn you can sleep in pastel painted bedrooms, enjoy breakfast in bed and relax in a recreation lounge with fireplace, stereo and a pool table.

Seventeen per cent of turkey meat output in 1972 was cut-up, ready-to-cook, and 36 per cent was further processed into frozen turkey rolls, roasts, dinners, pot pies, and ground patties.

Recycling Could Help Alleviate Nationwide Newsprint Shortage

Americans are being threatened with a jolting change in their lives. It is the shrinkage, and in some cases the disappearance of, their daily and weekly newspapers.

Overtaxing of American and Canadian abilities to supply newsprint, on which newspapers are printed, will continue for several more years, according to industry sources. Now the problem is being made worse by increasing sales of old newspapers overseas, principally to Japan, Taiwan, and Korea. Those old newspapers can be a critical factor in the degree of America's present and future newsprint shortage.

A survey made for the Garden State Paper Company, Inc. shows that exports of used newspapers from California to the Orient have tripled in the past year. Garden State, a subsidiary of Media General, Inc., Richmond, Virginia, is the world's largest recycler of newsprint into new and the only one utilizing that source entirely. The company De-inks 400,000 tons of old newspapers yearly to make 360,000 tons of fresh newsprint in its three plants.

Richard B. Scudder, chairman of the board of Garden State, recently termed it "essential" that the Secretary of Commerce use powers of the Export Administration Act of 1969 to limit exports of used newspapers at a point of peril to domestic users. He spoke before the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee.

Scudder said the pinch in recyclable newspapers has been felt first in California, but warned that the problem has spread to the Midwest and East at an alarming rate. Inflation in this country, two devaluations of the dollar, and premium prices paid overseas spur the exports, he explained.

Ironically, the shortage comes when the public is pitching in to help recycling campaigns which have increased the supply of used newspapers. But the suppliers buying the newspapers are heeding the higher export prices instead of selling them domestically. Even with public support, a very small percent of the potential used newspaper supply finds its way into recycling.

Scudder illustrated the situation by noting that his company normally supplies newspapers in California, Nevada, and Arizona with 10,300 tons of recycled newsprint per month from its facility at Pomona, California. However, it was able to obtain only 7,000 tons of old newspapers for that plant per month during the summer.

The paper drain represents an added blow to the American balance of international payments, according to industry sources. Based on the $170 per ton cost of imported newsprint, Scudder noted that Garden State's annual production represents a savings of about $60 million annually to the United States balance of payments. Garden State has its main mill and corporate offices at Garfield, New Jersey, and operates a mill jointly with Field Enterprises at Alsip, Illinois.

Newspaper recycling is a growing industry because of environmental and basic supply problems. The same is true of other kinds of paper which are used in growing amounts here and abroad each year.

Shifting American life styles are reflected in the per capita consumption of paper and paperboard over the years. In 1899, each American used 57.9 pounds of paper and paperboard, reports the U.S. Census Bureau. By 1972 that figure had shot up to 615.2 pounds, according to an American Paper Institute interpretation of preliminary census data.

Newsprint consumption alone in 1972 came to 99.2 pounds for every man, woman, and child, compared to 80.1 pounds in 1962, according to the same sources. The United States produced 3-

408,190 tons of newsprint in 1972 and imported another 7-100,536 tons, mostly from Canada. Deducting exports of 14,886 tons, in 1972 this country used a crushing 10,363,840 tons of newsprint. Only ten years earlier that figure was 7,473,057 tons.

Nothing in those figures reflects a diminished American appetite for the printed word despite alleged inroads by television, yet they bring small comfort to harried publishers wondering where their next ton of paper will come from.

Many experts see the newsprint situation as an early proof of somber predictions that the world is really on the brink of a calamitous breakdown in the age-old system of supply and demand. Right now, the American demand for newsprint exceeds the supply. The same is true in the Orient and in Europe, so that old newspapers which could be recycled for domestic use are migrating across the Pacific and Atlantic at an increasing rate.

The world suddenly needs more newsprint than customary wood sources can produce. It staggers most imaginations to think that the seemingly limitless treescape on the upper half of this continent can be overtaxed; but it is happening now, and nothing suggests that demands for paper and wood products will do anything but increase.

Coincidentally, this newsprint crunch came along on the heels of the American awakening to environmental problems, which by now has come to be a fact of political and economic life. While most industries warily try to adjust to unprecedented demands for pollution controls, energy savings, and conservation of natural resources, the big exception is the recycling industry. It suddenly finds itself in step with the new wave of environmental concern.

In most cases, something can be recycled with far less energy cost than making it from virgin materials. With newsprint, it's only 25 percent as much. For newsprint, the virgin material is a tree, now being held in growing regard because, aside from its beauty, it renews our oxygen supply, helps control continental rainfall patterns, and encourages the rain to soak into the earth instead of rushing seaward.

The knowledge that about 15 stately trees must be cut down to provide the ingredients for a ton of newsprint achieves new meaning in the context of that 1972 statistic of 10,363,840 tons. What it really means is 155,457,600 trees in one year!

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(December 1 through December 7)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): That charm you have been using with such devastating effect suddenly loses its oomph, Ari, and you're deflated. Don't worry, though, for if you hadn't got your comeuppance now you would have later — and would have hurt a lot more.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): There you go tinkering with facts again, Taurus. You must learn that if you HAVE to tell little white lies, you also have to cover all those little dark tracks leading straight to you. Next time try the truth.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): The taller you stand, Gem, the bigger the shadow you will cast and the more people will be impressed. This week particularly good for saying out loud what you believe. Don't worry if it makes for sound and fury. You can do with a little storm this time of year.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Person you once disliked now turns out to be a pearl among oysters. Don't apologize for past appraisal, Moonbaby, it's a time for action, hot for words. Week ends with a great and happy blaring of trumpets.

LEO (July 23-August 22): First days of week superb for doing all that picking up and fence-mending you've avoided for weeks. Then, even if the weather's bad, get outside long enough to breathe and remember you're part of the land and the wind and the sky.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Old Olga worries about you, Virg. You have been running off in all directions and that can tear you apart. So COOL IT! Relax and relax some more; take a little more time in bed, at either end of the night. By last day, you will know what direction to take.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Creative juices flow like molasses in early part of week, Lib, so put that imaginative job aside for the time being. Pick it up again later and you'll find it far easier going. Your ideas will take wing almost by themselves.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Pride goeth before a fall, Scorp, and you're bound to take a header if you don't stop acting as if you were Emperor of the Universe. What you really are is a fragment of cosmic dust, like all the rest of us. Get wise to this right now or lay in a supply of iodine and adhesive tape.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Most of this week you could pass up without being any the loser. But near the end a big opportunity will swing by and you won't even know it if your eyes aren't open. Stay awake, Sai, and you'll be a winner.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Whether money or the color of your true love's eyes, green is the hue for you this week, Cap, so watch out for it wherever it may be. A lonesome child or pet will crave affection from you. Give.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Week starts out exciting and promising even more. Promise may be fulfilled but only if you, Aquari, don't dope off. Be slow and befuddled and you may later look back on this week as the one that could have changed your whole life. And didn't.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Well, little fishy, if you insisted on biting that bait hanging there so tempting and yet so suspicious, why are you surprised that you got hooked? Consider yourself lucky to get away with nothing worse than damaged pride.

Yule Decor Cutback Affects Parkway, Too

The New Jersey Highway Authority is preparing to light the Garden State Arts Center's special Christmas tree on Thursday, December 6, but otherwise, in the interests of energy conservation, will eliminate illumination elsewhere on the Garden State Parkway.

Authority Commissioner Sylvester C. Smith, Jr. today announced plans for the traditional tree-lighting ceremonies at the Arts Center and at the same time told of steps being taken by the Authority, which operates the Arts Center and the Parkway, to restrict holiday illumination.

In an effort to save electricity in the current energy crisis, Commissioner Smith said, the Highway Authority decided to have non-lighted Christmas decorations at its Administration Building in Woodbridge, all toll plazas, service areas and other Parkway installations that in the past illuminated yule trimmings.

The only Christmas lights on the Parkway this year will be those on the Arts Center tree and on an older landmark, the 310-year-old holly tree in the Shoemaker Holly Picnic Area in Cape May County. Incidentally the Commissioner noted, the lighting of the Arts Center structure itself, the Authority Administration Building and other Parkway installations have been reduced whenever and wherever possible since President Richard M. Nixon on November 7 called for measures to conserve energy.

The December 6 ceremonies will feature yuletide music and free refreshments. The public is invited to take part in the program, which will start at 7:30 o'clock and end by 9.

Five musical groups that won acclaim in the 1973 High School Band and Choral Festival at The Arts Center last June 1 will take part in the tree-lighting program, Commissioner Smith said. They are the Randolph High School Concert Choir of Randolph Township, the Edison High School A Cappella Choir of Edison, the Haddonfield Memorial High School Concert Choir of Haddonfield, the Bridgewater-Raritan High School West Advanced Choir of Raritan and the Fair Lawn Senior High School Concert Band.

Each of these groups will present a holiday program and then all five will join with the general public in the singing of traditional carols.

Santa Claus and his helpers, as portrayed by Highway Authority employees, will distribute candy canes to children who attend the program. Hot chocolate, coffee and cookies will be served without charge to all comers. The refreshments will be provided by the Howard Johnson and Holiday House firms, which operate the restaurants on the Parkway.

The tree, a 42-foot Colorado blue spruce, is on the mall in front of the Arts Center, located just off Parkway Exit 116 in the spacious Telegraph Hill Park.

Oratorio Society Slates 'Messiah' At Area Church

The Oratorio Society of New Jersey, joined by the choirs of First Congregational Church and Central Presbyterian Church, will present Handel's "Messiah" on Sunday, Dec. 9, at 4 p.m., in Montclair's First Congregational Church, 40 South Fullerton Avenue. John Meszar, Director of Music at Central Presbyterian, will conduct, and Nixon Bicknell, Director of the Oratorio Society and First Congregational choir, will accompany on organ.

Singing the tenor solos in this favorite work of the Christmas season will be David Bezona, soloist at First Congregational Church. Bezona has a diverse and distinguished musical background, having performed in operas, oratorios and orchestral concerts across the country. His operatic repertoire includes leading roles in "Der Rosenkavalier", "Rigoletto", and "The Magic Flute", and his oratorio work has ranged from Bach's "Magnificat" to Berlioz's "Requiem". He holds a B.S. in Music Education from Ohio State University, and has done advanced study at several schools, among them the Eastman School of Music, where he was awarded a vocal performing fellowship. A resident of Glen Ridge, Bezona is now studying with Winifred Cecil, having previously studied with Adele Addison and Josephine Antoine.

The other soloists for this performance are Sandra Bicknell, soprano; Virginia Brobyn, mezzo-soprano; and Calvin Matzke, bass.

The Oratorio Society invites residents of Montclair and neighboring communities to attend this free concert, and to join in the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus at the conclusion of the concert.

People who violate the sound laws of nature will pay the penalty without fail.

Someone should invent a dry-cleaning process for some jokes and some joke-tellers.

Seek Ice Queen At Local Arena

The fifth annual South Mountain Ice Queen Contest is now underway at the South Mountain Arena in West Orange and will be conducted over a two-month period, culminating with the crowning of two queens, one in each of two age categories.

The ever-popular competition drew 140 contestants last year with young ladies ranging in age from 8-14. This year, contest chairman Jerry Mattia of Bloomfield, expects an even larger turnout and a more competitive event.

"Every year it has been improving," says Mattia. "We should have our biggest and best event this year. There's real enthusiasm about the whole thing. Some of the boys get a real kick out of seeing the girls they go to school with in a beauty contest. It's been a highly successful thing and a real plus socially."

During the two-month period, photos of all candidates will be taken and posted in the arena's lobby. All attending the public skating sessions may vote as many times as they wish for the girl of their choice, but only once per session.

Due to the overwhelming response in the younger group last year, the tournament committee has rearranged the grouping in order to give each girl a better opportunity at winning the title. This year the competition will be divided into an 8-10 junior age group and a senior class, age 11-14. A queen and two runners-up will be selected in each class.

All the suspense reaches its peak on Sunday, December 23, when the two queens will be revealed to an expected overflow crowd before the start of the South Mountain Rockets' senior hockey game. Paul McInnis, general manager of the Essex County Park Commission's ice arenas, along with last year's winners, junior Laura Schimpf and senior Debbie Cook, both of West Orange, will present the laurels to this year's titlists.

Along with the title go the queen's booty which includes a skating outfit, consisting of skates of the girls' choice, skirt, bag, tights and all the accessories and a season's pass to the arena.

The runners-up will receive limited passes for the current skating season at South Mountain.

The contest is open to Essex County residents only and applicants should contact Mattia, the chairman who will also handle the photography, at the arena. No entry fee will be charged, says Mattia, it's all for the fun and enjoyment.

Mitzi Gaynor Booked At Playboy Club-Hotel

Mitzi Gaynor, who has blossomed as a show business superstar, will bring her new act to the Penthouse of the Playboy Club-Hotel at Great Gorge here Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9-10.

Billed as "The Mitzi Gaynor Show, starring Mitzi Gaynor and a Cast of Thousands," the new offering opened to rave reviews in Las Vegas.

Staged and directed by Tony Charmoli, the revue features singing, dancing and comedy, including tributes to the 1940s, Latin-American music, Dixieland, rock, contemporary pop and gospel, to name a few musical highlights.

Mitzi Gaynor, star of movies and television specials, exudes "presence, charisma, personality and charm," says the Hollywood Reporter.

Not only is her talent featured, but her wardrobe and hair styles are always distinctive. Called the top female song and dance star by the Los Angeles Times, she has often been cited as best-dressed, and is known in the business as a "perfectionist."

She performed one of the outstanding Academy Award songs of all times several years ago with her acclaimed rendition of "Georgy Girl," choreographed by Ernie Flatt.

Sr. Citizen Half-Fare Bus Program Readied

Transportation Commissioner John C. Kohl today reminded all Senior Citizens that beginning December 1 only the official State identification card will be accepted in the half-fare bus program. The use of Medicare cards will not be permitted after that date.

Miss Marjorie J. Smith, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner, said the Department has received approximately 174,000. Applications are being received at the rate of about 5,000 per week, down from a weekly high of 25,000.

She said the staff of the Special Services Office has completed approximately 10,000 ID cards per week, with as many as 160 other Department employees assisting on a part-time basis to speed the processing of the ID cards.

The Department's objective is to eliminate the backlog of applications by the end of November, Miss Smith said. Thereafter, applications will be processed as soon as they are received.

Senior citizens who have not applied for their official ID cards should do so immediately. Applications and information are available at all banks, savings and loan associations, and county Offices on Aging.

The consulting firm which is conducting a Statewide survey of half-fare program has been examining ridership on some 6,000 scheduled weekday bus trips on approximately 260 bus routes. The survey also includes the nearly 190 jitneys in Atlantic City.

Bus operators have been cooperating with the consultants and the Department by providing data on ridership, in some instances through tallies kept by the bus drivers. After the survey is completed, no further reporting functions will be required of the bus operators.

Called Supplemental

New Social Security Program Helps Needy

Applications are now being taken by the Newark Social Security Office for the new Federal assistance program from needy aged, blind, or disabled persons according to Arthur H. Quallo, District Manager.

The new program called Supplemental Security Income, provides for the Federal takeover beginning January 1, 1974, of the adult welfare categories previously run by the State and County welfare departments.

People now receiving welfare will not be required to file again.

Although administered by the Social Security Administration, the program differs from the Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Inurance program in many ways, primarily because Supplemental Security Income benefits are paid based upon a person's needs.

Quallo added that the payments to blind and disabled persons under the new program have requirements similar to those for the original social security benefits.
