Thirty-Nine Colonials Changed Town's Name

By Town Historian Allan Crisp

Belleville was settled by the Dutch from New York, and Bergen (now Jersey City) and Puritans under the leadership of Robert Treat, from Branford, Milford and Guilford, Connecticut. It was technically a part of the Newark Purchase, a tract of land purchased by the Connecticut Puritans from the Indians in 1666 for a pittance.

It was first known as Second River and was not mentioned in the minutes of the Newark Town Council until the 1700s, since there was little love lost between the Dutch and the Newark settlers. However, all of the colonial maps showed Second River as a separate community, listing Newark, Second River and the copper mine (owned by the Schuyler family and directly across the Passaic River from Second River).

On June 26, 1797, 39 residents of Second River met in the home of John Ryerson and, under the leadership of Josiah Hornblower, signed a paper changing the name of the town from Second River to Belleville, declaring "that the name 'Second River' is improper and inconsistent as it originally applied to the brook and village."

There is no explanation in this document of how they arrived at the name "Belleville", but it is my personal opinion that Josiah Hornblower suggested the name. He lived in Belleville, was superintendent of the copper mine across the river and travelled by horseback up and down Schuyler Hill each day to work. "Belleville" in French means "Beautiful Village" and an 1830 painting owned by the Belleville Historical Society shows it as such.

Court Delays Signing Of Trash Pickup Pact

The Town of Belleville may not extend its present garbage collection contract with L. Pucillo and Sons of Lodi until the settlement of court action by a disgruntled bidder for the contract.

That was the ruling of Judge Irwin Kimmelman who last week ordered the Town not sign with Pucillo to add two years to the present contract after Capasso Brothers of Ridgeway filed the complaint, along with a Belleville resident.

The suit alleges the bidding procedures on the contract were handled unfairly and Capasso Brothers could have provided trash pickup at a "substantially lower" rate than Pucillo, which charges $428,000 over a five-year period.

In fact, no bids were accepted at the last Commission meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 27, when the Commissioners decided to extend the contract with Pucillo after reviewing a decision by the Public Utilities Commission made the week before. The ruling established scavenger service as a utility and therefore, a "non-bid" item. The Commissioners decided against opening the bids after duly advertising for them in a local newspaper, and then voted to extend the Pucillo contract.

Frank Capasso, one of two bidders who had showed up at the meeting protested the Board's decision and promised to respond with legal action.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy defended the Town Fathers' action, saying the bids were unopened in order to avoid "prejudicing" any legal contest of the PUC ruling.

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo of the Public Affairs Department said the "excellent service" provided by Pucillo had induced the Commissioners to seek the extension, and McGreevy added the Town would be "guaranteed" for the service without "gambling" on the price by taking bids.

Capasso, represented by attorney Richard Cooper, claims the Town is in violation of public contract law which demands competitive bidding on all services costing over $2,500 and says he was denied his "statutory right to present a bid."

Senior Citizens Partying Today

The newly-formed Belleville Senior Citizens' Club will hold their first social event with a Christmas party at the Fountain Restaurant today from 1 to 5 p.m.

Over 340 tickets have already been sold for the party after nearly every senior in town was contacted.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In a rare display of courage for a municipal employee, Town Registrar Ralph Risoli spoke up and said it as it is, when he leveled both barrels at the local Board of Education's proposal to submit a multi-million dollar bond proposal for an addition on the High School and to finance a large scale maintenance program.

Despite Board of Education President Lawrence Schwartz's denial of Risoli's contention that needless empty classrooms resulting from overbuilding would "open the door to forced bussing by the state." We must recall the furor raised when then Commissioner Marburger who headed the State Educational system strongly advocated forced bussing, a move which later contributed to his failure to be approved for reappointment by the state legislature, especially in view of the strong stand taken against him by the teacher's group.

More valor may be found in the Registrar's stand when one realizes that his own brother, James, is a member of the local Board of Education. "Rimpy" Risoli has long had his finger upon the pulse of the Belleville people and is one of the prime factors in the continued political success of his director, Commissioner

Case Dismissed

Lavergne St. Variance Back to Square One

by Ken Moore

A zoning variance battle lasting for 14 months may be waged all over again as a result of a ruling by the Zoning Board of Adjustment Tuesday, Dec. 4. The Board voted unanimously to "dismiss without prejudice" an application to erect an 84-unit apartment complex on Lavergne Street because a five-member panel can no longer be formed to hear testimony.

The case, which has been listed on the docket a dozen times since it first came before the Board in October of 1972, was dismissed when the Zoners decided one of their members, Anthony Agresta, may never sit to hear final testimony on the case.

Agresta's reappointment to the Board of Adjustment was voted down by the Board of Commissioners in a 3-2 decision last October 9. Though Agresta has the right to serve the Board until his replacement is named, he has not attended a meeting since his rejection.

(Meanwhile, Commissioner Mary V. Senatore, Agresta's chief advocate on the Board of Commissioners, has filed suit in Superior Court to have Agresta reappointed and to bring Zoning Board appointments under her control.)

The prospective buyers of the Lavergne Street property, Joseph Orlando and Joseph Brasco, now have the option to reapply for the variance.

No indication was given by their attorney, Robert Gacione, whether another attempt would be made to secure the approval for building.

Objectors to the Lavergne apartments, numbering as many as 75 at a meeting, with most coming from neighboring Smallwood Avenue, have complained the hearing was scheduled 13 times in the past 14 months, while they were able to testify at four of the meetings.

Zoning Board officials, though, said the hearings had dragged out because of requests for postponements both by the applicants and objectors, and also because of absenteeism by Board members.

At least one member of the Board suspects the Lavergne case could represent a breakdown in the zoning appeal process in Belleville. Alternate Al Schmitt made two motions at the December 4 meeting to investigate the Lavergne hearings. The first motion sought to have the Zoning Board clerk compile a fact sheet detailing the reasons for each postponement, along with the names of any member whose absenteeism caused a delay in disposing of the case. This data, said Schmitt, should then be made public.

His second motion called on the Board to ask the State Attorney General to investigate the Lavergne case, looking for "malfeasance, misfeasance or some other form of tampering with the normal conduct of municipal business."

No seconding motion was made to back Schmitt's resolutions. The Board alternate conceded he himself had no evidence showing misconduct, but said the long delay in settling the case warrants an investigation.

Schmitt said the case has been "delayed repeatedly" and said "I can't pin down the reasons, and I don't think the Board itself has the power to pin it down." Asked if there were no intermediate steps that could be taken before asking the Attorney General's office to step in, Schmitt conceded, "There could be, but this is the direction I felt I wanted to take."

"This isn't directed at any person in particular," he added. "I simply think it's in the best interest of everybody to get this resolved. I still

BHS Chorus Caroling Set At Town Hall

The Belleville High School mixed chorus will serenade Christmas shoppers on Washington Avenue with a program of carols on Wednesday, Dec. 19 at 6 p.m. The chorus, directed by Thomas Finetti, will sing on the steps of Town Hall after an engagement at Port of Authority in New York City.

A Christmas Project Brought Them Together

A luncheon at School Eight for the Home and School Association last Thursday was made a lot brighter by the Christmas decorations created by a trio of hard-working mothers.

The story behind the decorations is uplifting, too — a story of new-found friends crossing barriers of race and nationality. If Christmas is the time to renew old friendships and form new ones, then Connie Mills, Betty Keesler and Vene Desai have all got the spirit. Because of their willingness to pitch in on a project, they have become close friends, their six children know each other much better, and the school auditorium was given a beautiful interior decorating job for the holidays.

Though Mrs. Keesler is Irish-American, Mrs. Mills is black, and Mrs. Desai is a native of India, the three women have something in common. Besides the fact they all recently joined School Eight HSA, each has two children enrolled at the school — one in the second grade and another in the fifth. Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Desai have two sons, while Mrs. Keesler has a son in the fifth grade and a daughter in second.

Mrs. Keesler had first contacted School Eight Principal Nicholas Petti

WINNERS for their father-and-son projects were Pack 305 Cubs (l-r) Walter Jeffers, Frank Sinclari and Steven Brennen.

Pack 305 Presents Awards

Cub Pack 305 held its monthly pack meeting November 30. Opening ceremonies were led by Bradley Clinton, flag bearer, Joseph Murphy, flag bearer, Louis Cavitto, Mark Vangieri and Anthony Complitano.

Complitano announced that they would be having a Christmas drive for the underprivileged and aged citizens. All canned goods or toiletries would be appreciated.

All Den Mothers were introduced to parents. They were Mrs. Alice Degregorio, Mrs. Mary Santasieri, Mrs. James Castelli, Mrs. Bea Clinton and Mrs. Rene Mercier.

First year Cubs Joseph DeGregorio, Michael Alfano, David Charette, Robert

Dente, Nicholas Guy, Walter Jeffers, Wilson Lopez, Joseph Lunetta, James Castelli, Nicholas Amato, Michael Ianuzzi, Gregory Lowack, Carmine Muraglia, Jude Muzzicato, Stephen Peterson, Anthony Santasieri, Richard Ackerson, Thomas Baber, Michael Brennan, Robert Kane, Joseph La Para and Robert McGeown received their Bobcat badges in a candlelight ceremony with their parents led by Complitano.

M. Stanko, Webelo Leader, led the ceremony for the induction of all new Webelos. Each Webelo was given his cap, neckerchief and badge colors by his parent, who also joined in ceremony. New Webelos are Eddie Aldred, Danny Bell, Steven Brennen, Steven Calvito, Anthony Capaldo, Tommy Joyce, Michael Malfatto, Thomas McCormick, David Romano, Andrew Siclari, William Ziemer and Joseph Catalfamo. All these boys were also awarded their Athlete pin along with Webelos Michael Stanko, David Schoner and William Guy.

Robert Charette, Award Chairman, gave David Schoner, Anthony Capaldo and Ralph Schoner bowling patches for bowling 50 pins over averages.

The Theme of the Evening was Genius Night. Each Cub and Webelo was given at last pack meeting odds and ends consisting of wood, caps, cloth, etc. for a father and son project. Boys could make anything they wished. Projects were judged by A. Gallombardo, School 5 Principal and M. Cinquina, District Scout Executive. Trophies went to winners

Kenneth Place. He received six months on each charge.

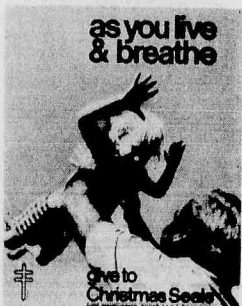

He was also charged by his father with defrauding him by signing his name to several checks October 24, and with fraudulently withdrawing $75 from the defendant's 17-year-old sister's savings account. Judge Abromson issued two six-month sentences, concurrent, for those offenses.

Argese was also charged with possessing two hypodermic needles on October 30 by officer Joseph Mulvihill, as well as defrauding another complainant, Vera Nagiewicz, 151 Joralemon Street, by stealing and using another check.

Walter Jeffers, first year Cub, Frank Siclari, second year Cub and Steven Brennen, Webelo.

Closing Ceremony, the living circle was led by Den 5 with recitation of Cub Scout Promise.

Refreshments were donated by Sue Ackerson, Connie Calvito, Nancy Dente, Mrs. Forting, Barbara Jeffers, Mrs. Romano and Bernice Vangieri and served by Marge Sirni, Connie Giardina, Terry Schoner and assisted by Guy Capaldo.

St. Peter's Guild Gives Equipment

A meeting of the St. Peter's Parent-Teacher Guild was held last Wednesday at the school auditorium.

Sister Beatrice Guider, principal, was presented with a record player, which was one of several, purchased with proceeds from a cake sale which was held on Election Day, to replace audio-visual equipment which was reclaimed by the State of New Jersey.

It was announced that the students had collected approximately 13,000 Campbell soup labels in an effort to acquire additional equipment.

A Christmas party and singing of Christmas carols followed. Refreshments were furnished by the fifth and sixth grade mothers.

She Wins An Award For Voice

Miss Susan Santiglia, 14-year-old daughter of Deputy Fire Chief Joseph and Phyllis Santiglia, was the recipient of an Amita Inc. Scholarship Award for Voice during ceremonies held at the Plaza Hotel, New York.

Currently attending the Villa Walsh Academy in Morristown, Miss Santiglia won the Essex County CYO March of Talent, placed second in a Garden State Arts Garden State Arts Center this past summer.

She also received the Young Artists Award of the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation and studies with Donald Gage of Montclair. She has two sisters, Joanne and Cynthia.

Daniels' Team Will Produce Next Dinner-Theater Show

Ann and Dave Daniels, the husband and wife singing team who brought to Belleville "WEST SIDE STORY" this past fall, will produce two dinner-theater performances of "The Merry Widow" at the Branch Brook Manor, 13 Washington Avenue, on Friday, February 22, and Sunday, February 24, 1974.

As a community service in the summer of 1973, the Daniels' taught a free acting workshop for young adults

Probationer Sent to Jail For Violation

Albert Baxter, 364 Littleton Avenue, Newark, was sentenced last Thursday to three months in the Essex County Correction Center on a charge of violating probation lodged by Belleville probation officer Joseph Caputo.

Judge Edward Abramson sentenced Baxter for failing to report to Caputo following the defendant's conviction of intent to defraud. A fine and probation period issued after the original conviction were terminated.

which resulted in two semi-professional performances held at Belleville High School and a dinner-theater show at the Branch Brook Manor.

"The Merry Widow" will be a fund-raising event for the Daniels' to again host a teen workshop in the summer of 1974. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels will have leading roles along with other well-known professionals in the Chappell Edition of the Opera by Franz Lehár.

David Daniels is presently accepting speaking engagements with local clubs

Chaplain at Hospital Named Region Rep.

Rev. Donald E. Blume, Director, Department of Chaplaincy Services, Supervisor of Clinical Pastoral Education at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, Belleville has been appointed as one of the nine Regional Representatives of the College of Chaplains, the national professional society for clergymen who minister in institutional settings. Chaplain Blume's region includes Connecticut, Delaware, N.J., N.Y., Penna. and Puerto Rico.

End Blood Drive

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital co-operating with the Essex County Blood Bank conducted their second successful employee, student and community Blood Bank Drive recently.

Leonard Finkel of East Hanover, Laboratory Supervisor of the hospital and General Chairman of the drive stated that more than 140 members of the hospital family and community pledged themselves and donated a pint of blood. Finkel further stated that all those who registered at the blood bank station are assured blood for themselves and members of their immediate family, if the need should occur within the year.

The Economy

Though the oil shortage has produced widespread pessimism about the economy in 1974, in this country and others, there are several encouraging trends which somewhat offset the bad news.

The October trade surplus, for example, released at the end of November, totaled $527 million. It greatly enhanced chances that this year, for the first time in three years, the United States international trade balance will be in the black.

If that occurs, it will be a dramatic turnaround from the situation of a year ago. International trade in 1972 showed a deficit (more bought than sold) of $6.4 billion. It will be recalled that this constituted something of a crisis, and it was not known at that time whether the slide could be arrested within a year.

The dollar is now showing encouraging signs of strength, and in recent months its value has moved up sharply on European money markets. The improved trade picture undoubtedly helped the dollar, which now seems safe from further devaluation for some time.

Corporation and personal income, likewise, was high in 1973 and business good. Unemployment was down significantly, and thus the picture—were it not for the present oil crunch—would be unusually bright. The energy crisis, then, is the critical economic and political issue the Nixon Administration faces in 1974.

First Flight

On December 17th, Orville and Wilbur Wright of Dayton, Ohio, made the first successful heavier-than-air flight near Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. Three other flights were made that same day, one with a passenger.

Man had dreamed of flying through air for ages but until that day on the sand hills near Kitty Hawk no human had done so. The Wrights had built a four-cylinder gasoline engine producing sixteen horsepower, with which they launched the air age.

Balloons had earlier carried men great distances and to great heights, so the Wright Brothers ushered in the heavier-than-air powered flight age, not the entire air age. Balloon flying, however, depended on wind direction and was slow. Powered flight opened the skies to travel and commerce.

World War I began less than eleven years after the Wrights flew and almost from the first aircraft began to engage in combat in the skies. By the end of the war—although aircraft had been used in Mexico and Italy and Turkey in war a few years earlier—engine and airframe development had progressed tremendously. Four-engine bombers carrying many crewmen were flying from Germany to England regularly. From 1918 until today the air age launched by the Wrights has reached as far as the moon, the most breathtaking technological advance in history.

Vinnie Strumolo. There is much merit in his position in forming an Anti-Bond movement against an unnecessary exorbitant expansion program and the idea of engaging the services of an architect which very well could run into many thousand dollars of wasted town funds, since there is very little likelihood the voters would ever approve such a referendum issue.

Many citizens look with jaundiced eyes upon the newly created administration positions, with their fancy salaries, our school trustees have set up. Few school systems in this area have such positions. Had some of the money which has been spent upon salary hikes and these new jobs been set apart for improvements in the school system's physical plant, there would be less need for the correction of badly neglected conditions. But that is the bane of an elected school board system...buildings don't vote, but, teachers and school administrators do. They also influence others to vote their way by subtle persuasion. What school age child's parent wants to antagonize his kids teacher

While it may be said, there is politics in Hell. It surely seems there has been an increase of politics in school affairs in town since we made the mistake of going for an elected Board of Education. Perhaps Mr. Risoli should plan a move to bring about a return to an appointive Board again.

It is the opinion of this writer that in view of the strong opposition mounting against the proposed school bond issue, that before any mad dash into any extravagant expansion movement is undertaken, our school trustees should heed the cogent views of High Education Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan who speaks of projected dropping school enrollments within a few years due to the sharp decrease in the live birth rate which shows a 29 percent drop.

Dungan stated the state would no longer seek funds for capital construction, except in schools needing some improvements and refurbishment. "There will be no building for enrollment growth in the foreseeable future," he stated.

In cases where space is now limited, Chancellor Dungan noted that to build would lead to overbuilding when the demand drops. He suggested, "We'll have to make funny argovhose (overcrowded) students by providing wider use of present space of those arrangements."

In view of the foregoing pronouncements by one of the State's highest ranking educators; Would it not appear logical for our local school trustees to accept the rational guidelines set forth by him?

Indeed, more studied deliberation and consideration of alternate proposals seems in order to provide a more practical and less costly solution to a mere temporary school system situation...one which will largely correct itself in a few years through the natural declining birth rate.

Speak Up!

Gives Views On Repairing Local Schools

To the Editor:

I am recommending to the Belleville Board of Education that they abandon their efforts to request that the town of Belleville pass a bond issue this coming February. However in place of the bond issue I will request that the Board of Education direct Mr. Brecka, superintendent of Plant Operations to develop a 13-year building renovation program for all Belleville public schools.

Under this program the $7.4 million budget which was brought to the public last February could be substantially reduced due to the fact that we will not be allocating all of our funds to each school at one particular time, instead we would allocate all funds available in the Plant Operations Budget to one or possibly two schools per year using a maximum range of 13 years and a minimum range of five years as our goal. The schools receiving the funds first would be selected on a priority basis using hazards, and safety violations as a guideline.

I realize that 13 years is a lot of time, but when you look back at the last 13 years you find we have reached a dead end. No one in Belleville is against education; it seems the people think that there is a better and less expensive way to educate the Belleville student, and I agree with them. In the past the Board of Education has blamed the people for the present conditions of our schools, but let's face it; the fault lies on the management level, from top to bottom.

The people should not shrink from the responsibility of educating young Americans, and the Board of Education should not shrink from the responsibility of representing the people who elected them to office.

We can educate the Belleville student in an inexpensive way, it will take time to devise such a program, but NOW is the time to start planning in a productive manner.

Voter Praises Rep. Minish For Action

To the editor:

The following is a letter recently sent to Congressman Joseph Minish (D-11th Dear Congressman Minish:

The customary procedure for the majority of taxpayers is to complain bitterly whenever some stupid decision is made by the Government, and immediately pass on these complaints to their Representatives by telephone calls, letters and telegrams. More often than not this is done in an accusatory manner, which also questions his sanity for being a part of the Washington scene where such fouled up schemes are hatched, and he, in turn, becomes suspect for allowing such things to become law regardless of whether he had any hand in it. Then, it becomes his duty to try to unravel it, or too often to ignore it because of the many other problems of Government he may be involved in at the moment. But, in any case, whether he acts or not, he then can expect to accept the full blame for the problem, and too often the easier path would be to ignore it and let some other poor soul stick his neck out.

The truly sad part of your job is when you do take on a responsible action and successfully manage to get it resolved, the people you have gone to bat for turn to themselves, "well, it's about time they got something squared away," but these same people who complain the loudest, never show any appreciation to the man who really deserves it. Well done, Representative Minish! We appreciate what you have accomplished in your battle with the E.P.A. on that employee parking fee stupidity. With all the current car problems the N.J. taxpayer is trying to cope with, that would have really sent us back to the horse and carriage for sure.

Instead of the anticipated - "There's a Ford in your future" - I sure hope it is instead - a Minish! He'll never diminish!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Rose Murphy

They Thank Vets For Dinner Gift

To The editor:

A dinner was held on Sept. 11 and Sept. 28 for the Junior League All Stars and the Clippers baseball teams.

We wish to thank the D.A.V. chapter 22 of Belleville for making this possible. Again our thanks to them for coming to our aid and donating $250. for this cause. We wish to publicly thank Commander Nuzzio Cupo who so graciously thru the D.A.V. as in the past gave us a helping hand.

Sincerely,
Parents and boys of the Junior League Baseball Teams.

Congress, which only a few years ago usually adjourned in August or thereabouts, and which was officially reorganized in the postwar years to insure earlier adjournment and a limited number of committees, has extended its life this year to December.

That means, since Congress meets each January, members are in session all year. They—in effect—are citizens of Washington, D.C. They get home only for brief visits.

Not only has Congress thus ignored its own reorganization act but, until President Nixon put a stop to it, or most of it, Congress was also regularly ignoring limitations of the budget, spending far more than the federal government's income.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Municipalities Have Already Passed Environment Protecting Ordinances

David F. Moore

N.J. Conservation Foundation

Environmental impact statements are now widely recognized as an intelligent approach to examining the commitment of bits and pieces of this state we're in to development of one kind or another. The idea is to identify the bad side effects before the thing gets built, and then to design it to avoid them, and even in a few cases, to pick it up and put it somewhere else. In some unusual situations, the impact may be judged to be bad enough to cause the project to be scrapped.

A few municipalities already have ordinances requiring the use of such environmental assessments during the planning stage. Governor Cahill has provided such a rule for state projects, and the National Environmental Policy Act has done the same for federal actions - NEPA so called.

Impact statements do a number of things for towns - provide a look into the future to assess problems, point to places where changes can be made in plans to minimize planning and provide leverage to make the right things happen. To ignore the process is to deny the townspeople a really useful tool, and to insure that developers will take on a "business as usual" attitude.

The whole thing becomes worse than pointless when a project gets rubber-stamped and the impact statement is ignored, or when the statement is superficial and misleading and accepted anyway. In the latter event, some consultant gets rich and everybody else gets poorer in various ways.

A case in point involved a major impact statement reviewed by the NJCF. We found the statement poorly prepared, inaccurate and misleading. Despite such obvious gaps, the planning board quietly granted approval for a very big project.

The project involved construction of massive facilities which will pave and roof over a lot of land, originally planned as open space. The impact statement should have been rejected until it included important assessments and base line information, and documentation of a number of secondary impacts like, for example, automotive air pollution. The plan calls for parking lots which will draw great numbers of cars. An alternative might be to add parking space at railroad stations elsewhere in the region with shuttle buses taking workers to their final destination, but no such alternatives were discussed, in fact, no alternatives were discussed at all.

Another missed opportunity was to spread out various segments of the project, time-wise so that the total impact on the community would have been softened. This would have made for a gentler taxpayer readjustment necessitated by municipal improvements which cost money and come with the spin offs of such development. Things like hiring more policemen, building more roads, building more schools, sewer plants, water systems and similar capital investments. The slowing of secondary impacts also allows the natural systems we depend upon for pollution control to have a chance to adjust too. It would also allow time to judge and check the accuracy of the initial predictions for the development.

We have some good examples of effective impact statement analysis - the Bedminster Planning Board and Environmental Commission have been negotiating via the impact process with AT&T Long Lines for several months, the State of New Jersey has been dealing with the Shell Oil Company for a new refinery in Logan Township for well over a year via the same system. The impact process resulted in major beneficial changes in the plans of the Sports and Exposition Authority in the Hackensack Meadows - documented by five weeks of public hearings on the impact statement.

The impact statement is designed to assess future costs, enabling a town to be politically conservative in that those who are responsible for causing such costs to a town would be made to pay a larger and more fair share of them than the innocents who happen to live there.

It seems ironic to me that so many ultra-conservatives want the right to pollute, and thus increase their own profits at the expense of the public. This seems to me to be the opposite of what a true conservative should want. As it so often turns out, the so-called liberal environmentalist is the fellow who wants everybody to internalize the environmental costs, so that the damage is paid for on a fair and equitable basis - it's strange.

BROWSING BELLEVILLE...

WITH PAT DIANA
(Write me at 104 Overlook
Ave. or Call 751-6861.)

What a delightful Christmas luncheon the Retired Men's Club of Belleville had at Fewsmith Church on December 5. I was the only gal with 66 men!.....sitting at the head table were the officers - Andrew Dougal, president, Ed Canis, secretary, Harold Ross, treasurer and Robert Metcalfe, second vice president. The only one missing, due to jury duty, was Tony Adams, first vice president. Also at the head table was Jim Desmond, who has been providing the entertainment for the Retired Men's Club, each Christmas, for the past seven years. The entertainer was Charles Danvers of Pennsylvania who made lively with music on his accordion. John Hnatew, a member of the club, made the lovely revolving Christmas tree.

The ladies of Fewsmith Church UPW again cooked and served the delectable luncheon. Chairmen of the cooks were Lillian Metcalfe and Nancy Patterson, ably assisted by Grace Orth, Bess Horman, Jessie Leythan, Ella Long, Lillian Winfield, Dot Farrar, Lenora Keeney, Gladys Craven, Mary Kelly and Bernice Taggart.

CELEBRITY

Meeting John Hnatew is an event. I interviewed this charming young, octogenarian some years ago, and since then he has been featured on page 1 of the Belleville Times in 1971, and last month a large article appeared in the Star Ledger....and...he was on Channel 50 a few weeks ago!

Why? Well, John a hobby that takes talent, imagination and a great deal of time. He collects all sorts of odd things - insides of a washing machine, old drums, rubber ball's, airplanes....to name a few - and he puts them all together in a display that revolves around or moves or plays music. You get the idea.

Many of his "items" are lawn sprinklers, but the largest display is of his Christmas novelties. He made the news most recently because he created a Christmas tree with a thousand lights, lit by only one - 100 watt bulb - thus observing the energy crisis. Hnatew keeps up with the times and has quite an interesting arrangement of the sputnik and rocket with John Glenn. Touring the workshop of John Hnatew is an experience for children - of all ages, 6-60.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

On Wednesday, December 12, the Jr. High held a Christmas program, under the direction of Bob Gizzi. Youngsters in the orchestra, band and choruses performed for the many parents and friends. Understand the next musical event coming up is a string program conducted by Bernard Evans at School #3 on December 19th. Unfortunately I can't get to all these fine shows, but if any proud parents want to call me and let me know more details about the show, please do.

ART SHOW

The Nutley Art Group is sponsoring an exhibit by two artists during the month of December at the Nutley Art Museum, 65 Church Street. Adele Scott displays acrylics while Ann Chase shows her oils. Open to the public at no charge every Sunday from 2 - 5.

MAYBE YOU?

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will again honor the first baby to be born to Belleville parents at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital after 12 midnight on New Year's Eve. Any merchants or group who wish to join the Chamber and contribute a gift, may contact Mrs. Sol Sherman, chairman at Sherman's Children's Wear or call the Chamber of Commerce at 759-4848.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING

Have you been to Grant City lately? It's like wandering around Willowbrook and, with all the hecticness of the season, tempers are likely to be short....but I would like to recommend an outstanding sales lady at Grant's....in the curtain department, her name is Connie. If Grant's gives an award for employee courtesy, I nominate this gracious gal.

A few stores away from Grant's you'll find many tempting treats at Alexander's Bakery where Mark Chesner and Sid Samio offer every conceivable delicacy from a carrot cake, made with cream cheese and butter icing to chocolate cream cheese, breads, stollen, etc, etc. They are specialists and will "create" to meet your desire. The bakery has been in Belleville three years now, you may remember reading the March 29th issue of this paper - when Alexander's was the Business Spotlight holidays are coming. Mark and Sid ... what's to eat?

50th ANNIVERSARY

On January 6, 1974, Fewsmith Presbyterian Church will hold a Fellowship Breakfast, followed by a Family Communion Worship Service at 10 a.m., to celebrate their 50th anniversary. Tickets are by reservation only and are limited—adults $1.75, students $1, call Tom Patterson - 759-6919 or Harvey Guerin - 751-7037, co-chairmen. The Couples' Club of Fewsmith will have a pot-luck supper on Saturday, December 15 at 7 P.M.Ladies of the UPW offer lovely place mats for sale as well as a new selection of paper dinner and cocktail napkins....they are also collecting lightweight sweaters for men or ladies, lap robes, warm socks, etc., for patients in Essex County Geriatrics Center (Soho), if you can help, please contact Jessie Leytham at 751-4946.

TO BE FETED

The O.P.E. of School Seven is sponsoring a Retirement Cocktail Reception to honor their principal, Mrs. Viola Spray on January 11 at The Manor, West Orange. Tickets are $16 per person and may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Gilda LaVecchia, president of O.P.E. and chairlady of the event 759-5839, or her committee - Mrs. Rosemarie Scott 751-5566 and Mrs. Roseann Walsh, 751-3118.

HELLO THERE

Made a trip to East Orange to see young Bob Laterza perform in a play, "Fumed Oak" with the Balzac and Misty Morn Players. I was quite impressed with his acting, perhaps we'll be hearing more about Bob in the future. The same evening I was pleased to see Dave Lieberfarb who began a new assignment with the Kearny Observer this past week....much luck, Dave.

O.K. you history buffs, now hear this. In my travels around town I spotlight many businesses and am amazed to find the majority are family-held corporations through the third and fourth generations!

For example, Hardman, Inc. is a recent "business spotlight" and my tour was so interesting, but there wasn't space enough to really get into details....so settle back and read on.

The firm was founded in 1879 in town, by James Hardman, Jr. He first made rubber for pencil erasers, but the interesting part is that through the years they were located in various parts of town, and were also known as the Cortland Tire and Rubber Company at one time.

Touring the vast, modernized facility in the Valley, I was most interested in the research laboratories, where every product is checked and rechecked prior to shipment....also, the many intricate machines in the plant were fascinating. One item in particular, dubbed the "Double-Bubble" is made of parts "A" and "B" together in a small pouch. Equal amounts are dispensed forming a strong adhesive - all done by machinery - it's fantastic! Even the printing on the packs is done in one processand it was amazing to find some "Double Bubbles" in Japanese!

How many of you remember the Old Cotton Mill? That's where Hardman's had its beginning in 1879. Belleville's businesses have contributed greatly to its history....

CONSERVE NATURAL GAS!

New Jersey is in the midst of a critical natural gas shortage — as is the entire nation! PSE&G is doing everything possible to provide new supplies of natural gas to its customers, but the success of these projects depends on urgently needed governmental approvals. It's been tough getting them. In addition to supporting PSE&G's efforts, you can help now by using natural gas wisely at home and at work. Conservation is especially important during the winter when huge quantities of natural gas are used for heating.

We've prepared a special new booklet which describes many ways you can save gas (and electric) energy at home. We urge you to obtain a free copy simply by returning the coupon below.

Meanwhile, PSE&G will continue its efforts to provide new gas supplies. We have already completed the nation's first synthetic natural gas (SNG) plant at Harrison and more facilities are under construction. However, these alone cannot overcome the shortage. Liquefied natural gas (LNG) imported from Algeria is urgently needed. So is the gas PSE&G has discovered in Louisiana and the Gulf of Mexico.

Please use natural gas wisely. In New Jersey, we can't afford to be without it.

Hoffman Acquires Madsen Contract

Hoffman Equipment, Inc. of Elmsford, N.Y. and Belleville, N.J. today announced it has been designated as northern New Jersey distributor by The Madsen Division of Clark Equipment Company for its line of asphalt plants and asphalt plant equipment.

Hoffman Equipment is the equipment sales subsidiary of Hoffman International, Inc., one of the nation's largest operators of land and water based heavy cranes and derricks, specialized transportation systems and heavy rigging equipment.

William A. Hoffman, Jr., corporation president, said the acquisition of the Madsen line "adds a new dimension to the expanding Hoffman product line by offering asphalt equipment and plants for the first time in the firm's history."

Madsen produces a variety of stationary and portable asphalt plants, including models with batch capacities ranging from 4,000 to 10,000 lbs. It also offers a full line of related equipment, including aggregate dryers, feed bunkers, dust collectors, wet scrubbers and pug mill mixers, and other asphalt plant components.

Hoffman said trained servicemen are available from both Madsen and Hoffman to handle all warranty needs and to assist customers in planning the proper layout and configuration of equipment to insure maximum efficiency of the entire operation and use of the area available.

He added that Madsen plant systems "comply with and even surpass federal government environmental codes, strictly confining emissions to the air and water from its asphalt plants."

Hoffman Equipment, Inc. sells and leases a complete line of construction and material handling equipment anywhere in the world. It is the franchised dealer in the New York - New Jersey metropolitan area for the Lima Division of the Clark Equipment Company, the Pettibone Corporation, the Drott Division of J. I. Case Company and, in Bermuda, for the Harnischfeger Corporation.

Job at Bamberger's Is Part of Training

Miss Vita Marie Duva of Belleville is now working at Bamberger's in Newark as part of her course of study at the laboratory institute of merchandising.

Twice each year, the Laboratory Institute of Merchandising arranges supervised work projects with pay for each of its students with leading department stores and other merchandising organizations. This gives the students the necessary practical experience to supplement their classroom study of merchandising.

Miss Duva, who is now a senior in L.I.M.'s Associate Degree Program, will be spending the next six weeks working at Bamberger's in Newark. She is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence Duva of Belleville, N.J. and is a graduate of Academy of St. Elizabeth High School.

The Laboratory Institute of Merchandising, which occupies its own building at 12 East 53rd Street, New York City, is a coeducational institution which has for 34 years trained people who are highly sought after for their executive potential by retailers, publications, and other fashion-oriented businesses.

Tri-Chem Reports Net Sales

Tri-Chem, Inc. today reported record sales and earnings for the third quarter and nine months ended September 30, 1973.

This was the fifteenth consecutive quarter in which earnings have exceeded the comparable quarter of the preceding year. In twenty-six of the last twenty-seven quarters, both sales and earnings have been ahead.

For the quarter, net sales rose 28 per cent to $2,626,655, from $2,049,818, while earnings per share amounted to $.27, up 29 per cent from $.21 in the same period last year.

NOTICE OF CHANGE IN REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting date of the Belleville Board of Education for the month of December, 1973 will be held on Monday, December 17, 1973 at 8 p.m. in the Board of Education office 383 Washington Ave., Belleville.

By Secretary,
Board of Education

A weekend three minute coast-to-coast call can cost

70¢, $1.40 or $3.55

It's up to you.

Chances are you know that you save money by dialing long distance calls without operator assistance.* And that you save even more by calling during bargain calling times — on weekends or after 5 P.M. on weekdays.

What you might not realize is just how much you can save.

To give you an idea, look at the chart on the right. It demonstrates that a coast-to-coast weekend call using the services of an operator costs you at least twice, and maybe five times as much as a directly dialed call.

So always remember to dial direct and call during bargain calling times. You'll save every time. Try it. We think you'll be surprised.

Weekend rate for three-minute, coast-to-coast calls (tax not included)
	Dial-it-Yourself	Operator-Assisted	Person-to-person
8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Sat. and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sun.	70¢*	$1.40	$3.55

*Direct dialing rates do not apply to operator-assisted calls such as credit card, collect, third number billed, person-to-person and coin phone. The rates for intra-state calls of less than twenty miles do not change after 5 p.m. on weekends.

Social Seminar

A new term is seeping into usage in communities throughout the country. The term is "Social Seminar."

What in the world is a "Social Seminar?" This may be the question if your community or State hasn't experienced the Social Seminar as yet.

In brief, the Social Seminar is an important new resource for drug abuse education. Its full title is "The Social Seminar: Drugs, Education, and Society."

The National Institute of Mental Health and the Office of Education, two agencies of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, have cooperatively developed the Social Seminar and are actively supporting its spreading use.

The program — which can be used by any community because of its flexibility — is designed for:

• Educators: teachers, administrators, trainers, schoolnurses, psychologists, counselors, and others.

• Community agencies and leaders in many fields.

Special components of the program, such as films for special use, can be used with students (secondary and college), parents (PTA's and religious organizations), and civic, political, fraternal, and similar groups.

The core of the Social Seminar consists of a multimedia package including films, discussion guides, learning and teaching materials, a programmed text covering factual and pharmacological drug information, and other materials.

The Social Seminar has already been "showcased" in some 31 communities around the country; and it will be demonstrated in 12 additional States this fall and winter.

Its use to date illustrates the unique adaptability of the program and suggests ways in which Social Seminar can be used by groups with a wide diversity of attitudes and in a variety of situations.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Beautiful Holiday Decorations Can Come From Your Garden

Beautiful Christmas decorations aren't a matter of money to the wise gardener. Many seasonal decorations can be made with greens from the garden.

So says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

A number of ornamental evergreens and shrubs with berries are excellent sources of material for making Christmas decorations. Greens from your garden will remain fresh and provide variety for your wreaths and holiday table arrangements.

Pruning yew, Japanese and American holly, false-cypress, juniper, red cedar and arbutus will give you lovely greens. This pruning during the holiday season won't stop new growth from the tips, but will give you a more compact plant next year.

Austrian and white pine, Douglas fir, and Norway spruce are also sources of greenery.

However, use only the inside branches, and select and remove them carefully to avoid spoiling the shape of the tree. Pine and spruce do not produce new growth from the cut tips.

Cones are a big holiday decoration plus. Your older pine, spruce and fir trees will supply cones to decorate wreaths and arrangements.

Fruited shrubs provide a beautiful addition to holiday trims, but many of the berry-producing shrubs have soft fruit which is either eaten by birds or frozen before Christmas.

However, several American holly varieties have beautiful berries and foliage at Christmastime.

Such New Jersey holly varieties as Farage, Judge Brown, Old Heavyberry, Maurice River and Manig have a fine display of berries. You can see these hollies in the Rutgers Display Gardens.

If you grow your own holly, provide adequate pollination by planting a good male, or pollen-producing variety nearby. Examples of such varieties are Jersey Knight, Isaiah, and Tom Brown.

Couple Feted By Children On Anniversary

A surprise party was given for Mr. and Mrs. George Mawhir by their son and daughters in honor of their 45th wedding anniversary November 28. The affair took place at the couple's home at 548 Franklin Avenue.

Mr. Mawhir, a retired Public Service bus driver, is a school crossing guard.

BREAKFAST BRIEFS

FOR A GOOD DAY... START WITH A GOOD BREAKFAST

Don't create an energy crisis for yourself. Remember, A GOOD DAY STARTS WITH A GOOD BREAKFAST.

MAKE BREAKFAST PART OF MORNING ROUTINE

Fall is the time when we get back into a routine. And breakfast should be part of that routine each morning. Studies at the University of Iowa showed that people do better work if they eat a good breakfast — one that gives them about 1/4 of the daily needs for vitamins, minerals, protein and calories. One easy-to-fix breakfast that meets these recommendations is juice or fruit, cereal with milk, toast and milk to drink.

VARY CEREAL FOR BREAKFAST

If the biggest problem in your home each morning is getting the family to eat breakfast, try something just a little different. Serve cereal topped with ice cream, pudding or yogurt instead of milk, or substitute fruit juice for water when cooking hot cereals.

Add a glass of juice, toast and milk to drink for a quick-to-fix nutritious breakfast.

LOW IN CALORIES BUT HIGH IN NUTRIENTS

For a breakfast low in calories but high in nutrients, start the day with fruit or juice, a bowl of your favorite cereal with non-fat milk, a slice of enriched toast with margarine and a glass of non-fat milk to drink. This breakfast provides only about 400 calories but contains many of the more than 45 nutrients needed daily for good nutrition.

Junior Women Treat Children At Shelter

On the evening of October 29, members of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville brought the spirit of Halloween to children at the Children's Shelter. William Hobson performed a variety of magical tricks for all the ghosts, hobgoblins and witches present. He later taught the children how to perform the tricks themselves. Richard Horline, better known as "Sammy the Clown" also mingled among the trick or treaters. At the conclusion of the program, the Belleville Juniors served refreshments for all!

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville also had a Halloween party for their own children, October 27, at the Woman's Club. Approximately 42 children and 20 adults attended the party where Mr. Hobson presented magical tricks for everyone. Bobbing for apples, a mask making contest, and puppets created by the Drama department were featured for the children.

Hairballs

Hairballs are an ever-present condition that may develop as your cat begins to shed.

Shedding is a continuous process that makes way for the new coat. When it begins, your cat's old hair becomes loosened. This makes the cat irritable and uncomfortable. Instinctively it tries to rid its body of the loose hairs.

In your home you may see your cat rub along the carpet or sofa. If it becomes irritated out of doors, you may see it rolling in the grass. It will lock its forefeet and use them to rub its face and body — performing what resembles face washing. Frequently your cat will use its tongue to get rid of loose hairs.

This process appears to be harmless. But, beware! — it may be ingesting a considerable amount of the loosened hair.

Once in the stomach and intestines, these hairs join into mats and ropes. The mats and ropes cause retching, coughing and vomiting, and they can develop to the extent of interfering with elimination. In severe cases they may even cause death.

If you suspect the presence of hairballs, a check with your veterinarian is the safest approach.

If a home remedy is indicated, there are several things that you can do:

Give a teaspoonful of olive oil or mineral oil every week or so while the shedding is evident.

If your cat objects to medication administered in this way, drop the oil on a favorite food like sardines or minced shrimp.

A small amount of margarine or butter on the cat's tongue may also help.

When administering any home remedy to relieve cat hairball obstruction, avoid strong purgatives like castor oil. They can trigger other intestinal disorders.

Regular grooming, beginning at about five months of age, can forestall hairball formation. Avoid the use of a steel comb at the early stage — it may frighten the kitten.

ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. John Mauro of Bloomfield celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary recently by taking a trip to Spain and going out to dinner with their children, James and LuAnn. The couple were married in Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield on November 28, 1948.

Choose Your Xmas Poinsettia With Care For Lasting Beauty

The poinsettia is the most popular Christmas plant. Careful selection can make these beautiful plants a most rewarding part of the holiday season.

Consider the location in which the plant will be placed and choose one with a suitable height, suggests William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

Poinsettia bracts are most attractive when viewed from above rather than from the side. Look for plants with strong stems covered with dark green leaves he suggests.

The flowers of the poinsettia are inconspicuous but are surrounded by showy bracts which are usually red, but there are also white and pink varieties. Bracts should be large and symmetrical.

There are two general types of poinsettia plants, branched and unbranched. A florist produces a branching plant by removing the growing tip early in the season.

This results in the development of side shoots so that each individual plant has two or more flowers. The florist usually plants several branched poinsettias together in a single pot to form a typical Christmas specimen.

Unbranched plants have only one flower to a plant, but are grouped together in the same way. The bracts of the branched plants are usually smaller but more numerous.

In general, these plants are more informal in appearance. Unbranched plants are more uniform and have very large bracts in proportion to their size.

Was Seriously Injured

Manning Writes about Bonfires; He'd Like to See Another One

(The following is a letter to the School Page written by Chris Manning, a BHS student seriously injured when a football rally bonfire exploded September 28)

First of all, I ask that all who read this article, please remember that what I am about to tell you is what I saw through my eyes and not the stories of others. Many other peoples' views have been expressed in several articles that were printed; therefore, I thought it was about time to tell the story in a little more depth.

It all started about the beginning of the third week in September. A meeting of the Executive Council took place, and its members decided to have a bonfire. A bonfire, in simple terms is a pep rally before a rival team is to be played. In this case, Bloomfield was our first home game, so the bonfire was set for that preceding Friday night. We talked about all the preparations that had to be made before hand and considered all the proper authorities that had to be notified. Carmin Minardi, one of last year's Council members, was in charge of asking permission to have the bonfire. This bonfire was set up more than a week in advance with the proper authorities notified to the best of my knowledge.

Mr. Smith was very helpful in his advice about getting the wood and other things needed that would make the bonfire a success. I took charge of digging a shallow pit to lay the gathered wood in, which was for safety precautions. On Wednesday, September 26, Danny DeSantis, Carmin Minardi, Jerry Dillon, and I dug the pit and placed rock piles around its perimeter. Everything was going smoothly and getting the wood was no problem because donations of wood had been offered by several of my friends.

That Thursday night, Michael Freda, Mary Maroulakes and I went to various parts of town gathering wood that people wanted to get rid of.

No cans or bottles were taken for the pile, no matter what anyone says!

Finally, Friday arrived, and we were awaiting the lighting of the bonfire. Harry Baumgartner, George Mango, Carmin Minardi, and I finally collected enough wood to make a fifteen foot pile. My father supervised the building of the bonfire wood pile. I remained fixing the pile until I was really proud and satisfied of the job we did. Before I left, I told Carmin to bring some gas to start the bonfire. Gasoline has been used on just about every bonfire Belleville has put on, and there was no question in my mind about using the gas, as long as it was limited.

I returned at seven o'clock and people had already begun to come. It became dark fast and the crowd anxiously awaited the activities to begin. The cheerleaders made a circle about fifteen feet around the pile. They also made a dummy football player, which was placed on top of the pile. The twirlers and members of the band were warming up, too. The plan was to have Jimmy DiModica in a warriors outfit run from the top of the hill near the new baseballfield and light the fire with a torch. But, he never got the chance.

Danny DeSantis had just finished pouring the can of gas and looking the pile over, when the cheerleaders began cheering.

I was standing there looking at the pile when I saw a flash of light before my eyes, and I stood there in shock. Suddenly, I felt myself being thrown in the air like a cannonball. I had been standing on the very rocks surrounding the pile of wood. I didn't realize I'd been thrown over ten feet in the air and landed on my back. The doctors said it was the blast that saved my life, because if I hadn't been pushed away from the pile, I would have been caught in the midst of the flames.

I can truly say that as I laid there, I thought I was dead. Then, I heard the screams of the crowd, and I tried getting up to run. As I picked up my head, a piece of wood came down and hit me in the forehead, putting a hole in my head the size of a silver dollar, and down to my skull. I laid there for a few minutes more, then, got up on my knees looking for someone to help me. What I saw that night I hope I never see again. I watched for awhile, then got up and started running.

I didn't feel my forehead wound, because I was in too much shock to really feel pain. Mr. Grande, one of the teachers in Belleville High, was helping everybody he could. Finally, after about ten minutes, Mrs. Winship, another teacher, noticed that I was burned pretty badly and got someone to get the police. Many people say that the supervision that night was insufficient; however, I feel there was plenty of supervision. The police and fire department did all they could to help us. People like Lynn Giordano, who had severe burns on her legs, ended up running around looking for some help.

I was taken to Clara Maass for second and third degree burns of the arms, side, and face and a lacerated forehead. I was in the hospital for thirteen days and had plastic surgery done on my forehead. Nine of these days were spent in isolation.

I'm feeling great now, and happy it's all over. It's too bad that this happened, but there is absolutely no reason why Belleville's tradition of the bonfire should cease to exist because of one accident. Of course, it should be gone about differently in the future for complete safety.

I think I have a right to say this, because no one else was hurt as badly as I was. It was a horrible thing to see the faces of my friends that night, with half the people knocked right off their feet and the others running. The wood poured down like rain and it was striking people. Some say that gas pockets formed at the bottom of the pile, and a match or cigarette might have accidentally been thrown into the pile. I'm not sure what happened that night, but it was not a gas can that was thrown into the fire.

From the bottom of my heart, I thank everyone who has stuck with me during these trying times, and it proves that Belleville is still one of the greatest towns in this whole country. All of you kept me striving to get better and back in the step of life. If I could thank each and everyone of you, I would gladly do it. God was with me that night. Those people who wrote in about keeping the bonfire traditions should be congratulated for voicing their own opinions, and I hope they keep writing in. All that I can truly say is thank you for your cards, gifts, and especially, your prayers.

Ed. note—I was deeply touched by Chris's article, but I was most impressed with the amount of honesty and sincerity with which it was written. Chris wanted to tell it like it really was, but he also wanted to impress upon the people even more, that this was an accident, and there should be no reason for the bonfire tradition to be broken in the future years.

Looking for a Record Shop?

by Linda O'Connell

There's really only one place in Belleville where you can go to get all the latest records, clothes, jewelry, and head gear you want. If you don't know the name by now, it's the "Circus", on 65 Washington Avenue.

Pete Vaccarelli, a 1970 graduate of BHS., is the present owner of "Circus". Pete's store, being the first to receive new releases on records and tapes in Belleville always has all the latest music. The new "Ringo" album, Paul McCartney and the Wings latest "Band On The Run", Bette Midler, Alice Cooper and Emerson, Lake, & Palmer are now available at "Circus".

And if you're into glitter shirts and all the latest fashions in blouses and pants, or just want a pair of blue denims, the "Circus" has what you want.

Prices on all merchandise will surely suit your student pocketbook, because they're the cheapest around. Bargain hunters will go crazy with the large selection of $1.99 albums.

The special feature of the "Circus" record shop is that all students of Belleville High receive a 10 percent discount with the presentation of their ID card.

With Kenny Saunders and Valarie Napolitano, also graduates of BHS, as Pete's assistants at "Circus", you'll find a pleasant atmosphere.

Belleville High Creates Its Own 'Youth Corps'

Through the cooperation of Herman D. Knuppel, Director of Student Personnel Services at Belleville High School a group of students from grade nine through 12 are working on "school projects"

These students, with economic need, are working for $1.75 per hour, paid by the state and federal governments. They are working for a total of 20 hours every two weeks and receive their pay checks every other Friday. The girls and boys in the program have been assigned to the following work and learning areas: guidance office, maintenance department, custodial department, Belleville Public Library, Special Services Department, and Educational Need Center.

Pay roll forms are turned in to Mr. Knuppel by area supervisors at the conclusion of each working period for verification and submission to the Essex County Youth and Economic Rehabilitation Commission.

The major purposes of this project is to provide these students with an opportunity to earn money while they receive skill training in learning situations.

An Editorial

Writer Thinks Dropping 'Hair' Was a 'Dark Ages' Decision

by Linda Clark

It has been a tradition at Belleville High for the senior class to put on a play to help pay the costs of the senior trip. This year the seniors chose "Hair" for their play. The play was banned because people said the play was not suitable for high school students. If these people would take some time they would realize that most of the original Broadway cast were close to high school age.

Besides, I don't see anyone forcing them to come see it. I think it's sad that these people are still living in the dark ages and they would be shocked out of their Victorian morals if they were to witness a play where a four letter word was used.

Their senior class would have been able to put on the play if they had cut out all obscenities and all controversial scenes. This is completely ridiculous, for if it had come about, there would be no reason to have the play, since the total meaning would be lost. Since this decision, Mr. Rafferty, senior class advisor, and Mr. Bakalian, science teacher, have written another play entitled, "School Days."

I can't see how the people of Belleville can be so blind to think that their kids are so un-informed, they should be kept away from sex and violence. I would like to know why some of the B.H.S. administration who had the authority to put our play down didn't? Are the people of Belleville so naive that they can't see that this play is actually outdated? Come on Belleville, isn't it time we wake up and face facts?

I know that this editorial is too late to help the class of '74, but maybe it will help future seniors. Those who agree with me please write to the student page.

Open Tomorrow Night

Height and Experience Advantages Could Make Contenders of Bellboys

by Bob Cohen
The scrimmages have been completed and the tedious repetition of plays that accompanies continuous practice has come to a gradual halt. The Belleville High School varsity basketball team is now ready to begin its 1973-74 schedule. The cagers will put it on the line tomorrow night when they tangle with the alumni before an expected capacity crowd at the high school. The time of the season opener is 8 p.m. Preseason results have figured to be a true indicator of the progress that this team has made. None of these contests were easy as every game matched the Bellboys with a strong squad, each one carrying strong credentials. Some of the more notable teams were St. Josephs, Hunterdon Central and Our Lady of the Valley, last years parochial runner-up. Each of these teams lived up to their reputations as good, aggressive squads with some exceptional shooters. In each of these contests, the cagers showed vast improvement over the last scrimmages and more importantly displayed better overall ability than last years team did at this point in the season. The reason for the success has to be attributed to the success of the defense. Belleville's chances lie in its proper execution by the players.

Again the Bellboys will have 16 games against the Big Ten teams and as usual these contests will be the focal point of high school basketball in the state. All these teams seemed to have improved and even the doormat clubs will be battling for the lead. Such teams, as Nutley and Columbia, who did not fair too well last year are vastly improved by student transfers as well as the better output by last years players.

Montclair will be a contender in the conference and the main reason would be the return of junior guard Cecil Stinson. Complementing Stinson will be 6-1 Bill Wilson, a versatile player who will make the Mounties very tough.

Bloomfield will bring a very tall yet inexperienced team into this years race. Joining co-captains T.K. Tripuka (6-7) and Rennard Austin (6-2) will be 6-11 junior Ken Murray. In the backcourt will go Joe Donahue (5-11) and 5-9 Rob Morton.

Nutley will be carrying a vastly improved team this year, being strengthened by transfers from Weequahic and East Orange. Joining the two transfer students will be last year's 20 ppg guard John Calicchio. Also returning are Rich Clark and Mark Corey.

Kearny will take a team hampered by injuries into the race. They will be centered by 6-5 Mark Halicki and the guards will be Charlie Russel and Rich Fash both at 5-11.

Columbia, headed by first year coach Dick Walker, will have to work very hard to equal last years 8-15 record, with many members of last years squad lost to graduation. Leading the team will be 6-2 Pat Giordano, 5-9 Darryl Hargett and 5-11 Roger Wolf.

Irvington will be returning only one letterman and will have to gel fast in order to im-

Local Brothers Swim to Wins

The Peddie Fall Swim Festival in Hightstown was recently the site of a smashing victory for the 9-10 year old girls and boys from the swim teams, the "Marlins" and the "Tunas", of the Montclair YMCA.

In a meet starting on a Friday evening and running all day Saturday and Sunday, the youngsters broke eight records and led their younger and older teammates to take 39 of the 58 medals won by Montclair swimmers that weekend as well as one individual, and one team, trophy.

Competing were over 3,300 contestants representing 56 teams from Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and New Jersey. Two local boys, Anthony and Angelo Domenick of Belleville brought honor to the "Tunas" for their performances that weekend.

Anthony took a second place and a silver medal in the boys 11-12 year 100-yard backstroke over a field of 56 contenders with a fine time of 1:10.6.

Angelo represented the "Tunas" 8 year old entrant in the winners circle. Angelo swam in many events and waited patiently from morning until night, from Friday until Sunday. Each day he went to the pool early in the morning while his brother swam. His own ever s did not end until late in the evening. But he's an old hand at this and know what to expect. In between cheering for his team-mates, playing with his friends and snacking he even was able to take a nap.

The wrestling room at Peddie was the waiting area for several hundred contestants each morning and afternoon, and had a nice soft mat covering the entire floor. Among piles of clothes, towels and blankets, kids played games, performed acrobatics for their own amusement, read and slept. But Sunday night Angelo wasn't sleeping when he swam the 100 IM and took a 6th place medal.

The older champions were exciting to watch in action but the very youngest swimmers were a joy and a wonder, for they were in truth the real heart of all the swimmers.

Led down strange corridors like tiny gladiators into a large beautiful tile pool area filled with hundreds of spectators, they climbed onto starting blocks almost taller than they were. There the kind starter helped them to compose themselves quietly. They stood, poised, like six little statues, all bottled energy and hope, waiting for the fun to sound, the signal that would send them flying through air and water to do their very best.

Matmen Face Uphill Battle To Retain Big Ten Crown

"Rebuilding" is the key word for Belleville High wrestling coach Jim Silvestri these days. The mat mentor will be trying to mold a relatively inexperienced team into a squad that can duplicate last year's capture of the Big Ten crown.

Though Silvestri maintains the team was in a similar situation at the outset of the last championship season, he concedes he was hard-hit by the loss of five veterans through graduation. Not returning are two district crown winners, Rocco Cuozzo (98 lbs.) and John Smith (heavyweight), along with three others who placed in district competition last year: Bob Willete, Brian Banda and Ramon Lijo.

Still here to form the nucleus of the squad are two other matmen who placed well in last year's district competition, junior Anthony Villano (122 lbs.) and Ralph Fabiano (148). Other veterans on the team are Joe Vazquez, Craig Davis, Jim La Conti and Bill Mazza.

It was these grapplers who came into last season as green rookies and emerged with a 12-2 record and the Big Ten crown. Turning the trick this year may be a little more difficult, said Silvestri, who admits performances in two recent scrimmages weren't as convincing as they could have been.

Wrestling against High Point last week and North Bergen on Monday, Silvestri found "very little finesse. Many of the boys reverted to sloppy street wrestling."

The cure for that, he added, "is a lot of work. We're going to have to emphasize basic wrestling." Many of his star wrestlers this season had come along slowly last year, but developed into winners after a few matches under their belts. However, graduation last June took a greater toll than the previous season.

Co-captains for the 1973-74 grapplers are Fabiano, LaConti and Davis. "Ralph really learned how to wrestle throughout last season and I expect great things from his year," said Silvestri. Davis, who was injured through part of last season, "is now wrestling at his own weight of 170. Last year he was at 170, but wrestled in the 178-pound class. Jim LaConti only had to lose a few pounds since football season, and he says he feels pretty strong at his weight. He's pretty strong to begin with."

Weight classes this year have been shifted around by the New Jersey Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association, moving from collegiate standards to an Olympic-style classification. Silvestri said the changes should enable more lighter youths to wrestle but will cause no real effects to Belleville's title hopes. Competition in the early season will be rugged, West Essex, Essex Catholic and Kearny all scheduled in January. One of the biggest powerhouses in the Big Ten—Nutley—will wait until February, a break for the Bellboys, who will need the time to gain experience.

The grapplers open at home next Thursday, 4 p.m., against Wayne Valley, a team of unknown quality new to the Bellboy schedule. Win or lose, the match will initiate rookie grapplers for their first real test—the Bloomfield Invitational on Saturday, Dec. 29. Besides Belleville, the field will be Seton Hall, West Essex, Irvington, Bloomfield, Kearny, West Orange and Glen Ridge. Such a collection of top-flight competitors will provide a good barometer for the early part of the season.

Aiding Silvestri in training the 45 candidates for the assorted mat squads will be Jim Donovan for the jayvees and Dennis Villano for the freshmen.

William Sierchio Earns Grid Letter

Robert J. Hendrickson, Athletic Director of the Newark Academy, Livingston, presented local student with athletic letters for Fall Sports during a special assembly held recently at the school.

The letter winners represent eight teams - Varsity Football; J.V. Football; Midget Football; Varsity Soccer; J.V. Soccer; Midget Soccer; Cross Country and Field Hockey.

William G. Sierchio, 89 Montgomery Place, Belleville earned an award for midget football.

Pre-Season Successes Lift Hardwood Hopes

prove on last years 12-10 record. Returning is 6-2 Mike Fenner, a guard with a 9 ppg average.

Orange will be the favorite to take this years conference race. The starting five are all back and they all averaged in double figures. Captain will be 5-10 All Group 1 guard Ed Butler. He will be joined by 6-1 Greg Tynes. Center will be 6-4 Dick Johnson and the forwards will be Dennis Holmes and Don Wells.

East Orange will battle the Tornadoes for the lead with guards Ken Young and Reggie Baker. Their front line will consist of Tyler Jenkins, Mike Booker, and Cleveland Wugene. They finished last year at 24-4.

Just as every team is improved, so too are the Belboys. They perhaps have the best combination of talented players that was ever displayed in quite a few years at Belleville. For the first time in quite a while, the cagers can display to their fans a tall team with good defensive players, a team that has good ball handlers as well as some exceptional shooters. Well executed basketball will be on the agenda for this season much to the delight of their long awaiting fans.

Here is a rundown of the players for this years team.

Harry Baumgartner; senior, 5-11, 165 lbs., guard:

Baumgartner will be in the backcourt this year for the Belboys and most of their success will be attributed to the result of this play making guard. A good ballhandler, he will be responsible for directing the offensive movements of the ballclub. Harry has also developed a good jumper which might prove to be deadly this year.

Abdel Anderson; junior, 6-6, 175 lbs., center:

Clearly Abdel will be the dominating figure in many of Bellevilles games. At 6-6 he can dribble, jump, and shoot with amazing accuracy. As a sophomore, the Belboy pivotman has already totaled over 400 points. Coupled with a good Belleville record, Anderson should be in contention for All-County recognition.

Anthony Cotugno; senior, 6-2, 180 lbs., forward:
With Cotugno having a good year, it could be the additional support that the cagers need to have a successful season. An excellent ballhandler with the ability to hit on the jumper, he will be the man the team will look to in close ballgames. Noted for his defense last year, Cotugno can contribute heavily to the team's season.

Joe Dunn; sophomore, 6-0, 170 lbs., forward:

The sole sophomore on the team should develop into quite a ballplayer in the future. With the addition of playing time, Dunn can gain confidence in his ability to contribute to this team. He has displayed a fine jumper up to this date.

Bob DiQuattro; senior, 5-10, 175 lbs; guard:

This senior guard's greatest contribution to the team will be in his leadership ability. He will be the stabilizing force who will keep the team together. A very aggressive player, Bob's forte has been his defensive ability as he hopes to make his mark felt off the boards.

Dave Marra; junior, 5-9, 150 lbs. guard:

Marra is a good ballhandler who along with his shooting ability, can be a plausible factor in the Belleville attack. With added playing time, this junior will be part of Belleville's future plans.

Gary Tufo; senior, 6-3, 205 lbs., forward:

This big senior will operate around the boards this year, as he is expected to be a factor off the boards. Gary has a good jumper but his main contribution will be to help out in the middle.

Pat Hogan; junior, 6-2, 160 lbs., forward:

Hogan is a player who will help because of his leaping ability, as well as his shooting ability. An aggressive player, Coach Grasso is very pleased with the success this junior had in the scrimmages.

Lauman Goon; senior, 5-8, 160 lbs., guard:

An excellent ballhandler, Lauman will contribute in his ability to succeed coming off the bench. He has a good jump shot that is somewhat consistent. Goon will be called upon many times to uncoil his jumper in many close ballgames.

Tom Della Torre; senior, 6-5, 200 lbs., center:

This is only Tom's second year in the high school basketball program but he has shown the ability to quickly pick up the game. An earlier muscle injury sidelined Della Torre which hampered his progress. He is very strong off the defensive boards.

Brian Wood; junior, 5-11, 140 lbs., guard:

Wood is a good ballhandler who is exceptionally quick on the court. Playing behind Baumgartner, DiQuattro, and Goon, he will probably not log too much playing time, but should prove to be a pleasant surprise to next years squad.

The game after the alumni match will mark the beginning of Belleville's Big Ten season. The opponent is Kearny and this game is scheduled for 3:45 p.m. at Belleville High School.

Met Pitcher To Appear in Area

Henrik Tvedt, President of First State Savings & Loan, has announced that Jon Matlack, sensational New York Met pitcher will make a second appearance at the Association. Everyone is invited to come and meet the World Series star. Jon will greet guests and autograph photos for his many friends and admirers on Saturday, Jan. 5, from 10 until 2 at First State's Belleville Avenue office.

In 1972, his first season with the big leagues, Jon was voted National League Rookie of the Year. This year he led the Mets in their drive to the National League title after being hit by a line drive early in the season. During those final incredible weeks at Shea Stadium the Mets to their spectacular championship. Many are acclaiming the young pitcher as one of the coming greats of the national pastime. To further that claim Jon won the fourth game of the World Series against the hard-hitting Oakland Athletics.

O'Donoghue Led Indian Harriers

The individual brilliance of Tim O'Donoghue, a junior from Kerry, Ireland, highlighted the 1973 cross-country results at Montclair State College.

The slim hill and dale star was the individual winner in the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference championship meet and took the Collegiate Track Conference championship for the second straight year.

In dual meet competition, O'Donoghue finished or tied for first place with teammates Joe Kornarkowski, a senior from Bloomfield (NJ) in nine of the 15 dual matches the Indians took part in during the season.

During the 1973 season the Indians as a team placed third in the Collegiate Track Conference championship meet and seventh in the New Jersey Intercollegiate Cross-Country championships.

In the 65th annual IC-4A College Division meet, the Indians' Coach George Horn's team placed 14th.

Against the toughest schedule in MSC history in cross-country, Horn's team posted a mark of seven wins, seven losses and one tie. It was the fifth nonlosing season in a row.

Horn's record for nine years is now 68-49 and 2. In the last three years the Indians have been 32-9-1.

In the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference the Indians were 1-2-1.

Judging from the reports from our suppliers, the fuel shortage won't be the only shortage we will have to reckon with. As a matter of fact it is expected that a number of things will be in short supply. This does not mean that supplies will dry up, but there may not be so much choice as one is used to have.

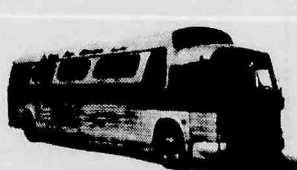

If a manufacturer is confronted with the choice to use his material in more expensive or less expensive products, it stands to reason that he will make items that give him the better return. This is exactly the situation that the TV industry is confronted with. There is talk about curtailed production of portable color TV sets, which are not as profitable as consoles. That does not mean that there won't be any, only the choice may be limited. Instead of making, as is usual, 6 models with the same size picture tube, there may be only 2 or 3 models. No doubt we will see this in many other lines. The lowest priced items will dry up. A similar situation exists in the automobile industry. Large cars go begging and sell at a premium. But it is not easy to change production from large cars to small ones, it takes one to two years. Let's hope that these dislocations will be more an annoyance than a hardship.

Her Imagination Is Her Key To Success as Maass Printer

In August of 1956, shortly after Clara Maass Memorial Hospital moved to Belleville, Marguerite Hanrahan began employment on a part-time basis, working a mimeograph machine. She is now Print Shop Supervisor, responsible for all the Hospital printing which includes programs, passes, booklets, cards, numerous forms and procedures, etc., processing some 300,000 impressions a month.

As the Hospital grew, so did the Print Shop and Mrs. Hanrahan's responsibilities. Twenty years ago there were a few pieces of equipment. Today the department houses a 1010 Varityper Composing Machine, Tandem offset press and Xerox 4000 copier, in addition to many smaller machines, providing a vast diversification in capabilities and savings of money for the Hospital.

Mrs. Hanrahan is a southerner, born and raised in Louisiana. The lady printer is not a women's liberationist but finds infinite challenge and creativity in her position; a job normally held by a man. For example, some items she has devised include a program for a student nurse spaghetti dinner. On the face of the booklet was a tempting dish of spaghetti, which looked good enough to eat. Marguerite's secret was she cut a photo out of a magazine and with the print shop equipment was able to make a lifelike transition. She also made multi-color Christmas

A graduate of Louisiana University, she was secretary to the Superintendent of Schools in Monroe, La., while waiting for an opening on the teaching staff. As part of her duties she operated a mimeograph machine and prepared stencils; also, she had a friend with a letter shop where she gained some on-the-job experience. The result was that the world lost a teacher, but gained a printer and she operated her own letter shop in Monroe for two years before coming north to New Jersey with her family.

Marguerite's family include seven children. William P., a priest at Our Lady of Fatima Church, North Bergen; Marguerite Ann (Mrs. Joseph M. Ward), a former CMMH student nurse, now a registered nurse in Bricktown; Jude J. - a pre-law student at Paterson State; Eileen M. - an RN at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital; James E. - a student at the University of Georgia; Maureen D. a second year student at Holy Name Hospital School of Nursing, Teaneck and John E. a senior at Seton Hall Prep. Her husband, Bill, is employed with Wheeling Warehouse in Elizabeth.

Mrs. Hanrahan is a charter member of the Garden State Reprographics, Inc., an organization of people who manage in-plant printing shops and meet to exchange ideas; she is also serving a second term on the Board of Directors for the group.

The Print Shop is under the direction of Mr. Arno Michlowitz, Director of Purchasing at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Assisting Marguerite in the printing department is William Pisciotto. Just these two people process all the printing for the Hospital.

'Education Should Top List'

Schools Want Fuel Allocation Priority

Where does education stand on the list of priority customers for fuel allocation? This is the question to which the New Jersey School Boards Association is seeking a definitive answer.

In a letter to the administrator of the federal Office of Petroleum Allocation in Washington, Dr. Mark W. Hurwitz, executive director of the schoolboards organization, asks the government "to not only place education high on the final priority list but also to create education as a separate category on said list." Education deserves the highest priority, says Dr. Hurwitz, because of its value to society as a moral force; it prepares people for useful, productive citizenship, thus constituting an investment in human capital; and because it is one of the largest and most stabilizing sectors of the nation's economy now vying with defense as the country's largest industry.

To place education anywhere but at the top of the priority list for fuel allocations, according to Dr. Hurwitz, might well be to create great economic instability for the entire economy as well as tremendous social upheaval. Youngsters, he pointed out, could be thrown out on the streets with little or no constructive outlet for their energies; working mothers could find themselves in a dilemma; senior citizens might be cut off from sorely-needed recreational programs; other citizens with curtailed educations and limited vocational training might be unable to continue with school-offered improvement programs. Not to be ignored either, noted the school boards executive, is that many children receive their only nourishing meal of the day when they are in school.

Dr. Hurwitz's plea is an added voice to that of Barbara D. Reimers, president of the National School Boards Association. Speaking for school board members nationwide, Ms. Reimers told a school board group in Spokane, Washington, that the nation "will teach a sad lesson if we give higher priority to non-essential use of energy and lower priority to our more than 50 million school children." Ms. Reimers said she agreed with Casper Weinberger, U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, that schools and hospitals "should constitute our very highest priority when it comes to fuel supplies." On the other hand, she called upon the schools to conserve energy wherever possible, through create solutions to the energy shortage rather than over-reacting with ill-conceived programs of closing schools.

The New Jersey School Boards Association, representing over 600 school boards with approximately 5,000 members, is established under New Jersey statute to encourage and promote all movements for the betterment of public education in the state.

Two Orechio Brothers Make Political History

Carl A. Orechio
Republican Assemblyman

Carmen A. Orechio
Democratic Senator-Elect

Political history of sorts will be made next month when the New Jersey legislature inducts its new senators and assemblymen — and the Nutley-Belleville area will be responsible for that unique event.

In what apparently is a first for New Jersey politics, brothers from a Nutley-Belleville pioneer family will be sworn into different legislative offices during the same session. As if that isn't enough, the two brothers are representing different parties in their different positions.

While Nutley Mayor Carmen A. Orechio is being inducted as a new state senator representing the Democratic party in the 27th district, brother Carl A. Orechio takes his place again for another term as Republican assemblyman.

Senator-elect Orechio defeated his Republican rival, Senator Michael Giuliano, by better than 4,500 votes in the Democratic landslide. Assemblyman Orechio, on the other hand, narrowed out a victory in the 27th by a mere 600 votes, although state political buffs saw the win as a major accomplishment in bucking the state-wide Democratic trend.

It was the second consecutive time the local product had been elected to a state assembly seat. Prior to entering state politics, he served eight years on the Nutley Board of Commissioners.

Senator-Elect Orechio has decided to keep his mayoralty too while serving his constituents on the state level. The Democrat was elected to the Nutley post in May of last year.

"Both serving as state senator and mayor are part-time positions and my business affords me more than ample time to competently handle both seats," remarked Orechio.

It's the first time Mayor Orechio has been elected to state office. He unsuccessfully bid for an assembly seat in the November, 1969 elections.

Will Help Those Citizens 65 Or Older

New Fed Assistance Program Boosts Seniors

Several thousand senior citizens in the Nutley-Belleville area may benefit from a new supplemental security income program for the aged, blind and disabled that is beginning next month.

Seniors wanting more information about the new federal assistance program may contact any social security office or the senior citizen representative at Town Hall.

The Federal Government will make monthly cash payments starting in January 1974 to people in financial need who are 65 or older or who are blind or disabled.

The new program will take the place of the present Federal-State program of public assistance payments to people who are 65 or older or blind or disabled. But States will continue to provide them with other services, and some States will add to the Federal payment. Until Federal supplemental security income payments start in January 1974, State and local public assistance offices will continue to make payments in the usual way.

Aged, blind, or disabled people now getting State or local assistance payments are assured that their income will not be reduced because of the new Federal program.

People who have little or no regular cash income and who do not own much in the way of property or other things that can be turned into cash, such as stocks, bonds, jewelry, or other valuables, may get Federal supplemental security income.

The aim of the program is to provide supplemental security income payments, when they are needed that anyone who's 65 or older or blind or disabled can have a basic cash income — for one person at least $130 a month, and for a married couple, at least $195 a month. These amounts will increase to $140 and $210 a month in July 1974. This doesn't mean that every eligible person will get that much from the Federal Government every month. The amount will depend on how much other income he has.

A person who is single (or married but not living with his spouse) can have assets — things he owns — worth up to $1,500 and still get Federal payment. The amount for a couple is $2,250. Not everything owned counts as an asset. For example, a home generally doesn't count. And the Federal Government will not put liens on the homes of people getting supplemental security income payments.

Personal effects or household goods also will not count in most cases. Insurance policies or a car may not affect eligibility either, but will depend on their value. People also can have some money coming in and still get supplemental security income. (The income limits are based on the amount of money coming in during each calendar quarter—3-month periods which begin January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1. The figures in this leaflet, however, are for monthly amounts to make it simpler.)

The first $20 a month in income generally won't affect the Federal payment. And people may be eligible for a supplemental security income payment even though they work part time. The first $65 in earnings in a month won't count against the supplemental security income payment, and only half of the rest of any additional earnings will count.

Apart from earnings, any other income above the first $20 a month generally will reduce the amount of the Federal payment. This includes social security checks, veterans compensation, workmen's compensation, pensions, annuities, gifts, and other income.

Also, for eligible people who live in someone else's household—a son's or daughter's home, for example—the basic Federal payment may be reduced. Even though the Social Security Administration will run the new Federal program, supplemental security income is not the same as social security. The money to make supplemental security income payments will come from general funds of the U.S. Treasury—personal income taxes, funds of the U.S. Treasury—personal income taxes, corporation taxes, and other taxes.

Social security benefits are paid from contributions of workers, employers, and self-employed people. Social security funds will not be used to make the supplemental security income payments.

People who get social security checks can get supplemental security income, too, if they are eligible for both.

People who are getting State welfare payments because they are 65 or older, blind, or disabled don't have to do anything now because of the new Federal program. The Social Security Administration and the States are working together to provide the new payments automatically in January.

Senators Lauded By B'nai B'rith

New Jersey's two United States Senators were honored last week by the New Jersey Regional Advisory Board of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Clifford Case and Harrison A. Williams, Jr. received the League's 1973 Americanism Award for their efforts in combating discrimination and racism.

Sanford L. Hollander, Chairman of ADL's Regional Advisory Board in presenting the awards acknowledged their "sensitivity towards human rights for all—both home and abroad. They have been staunch supporters of the rights of Soviet Jews to freely emigrate and have supported Israel as this little nation struggles to survive and live in peace and harmony with its neighbors."

Hollander also indicated that both Senators have been vigorous opponents of extremists and have been vocal in their condemnation of anti-Semitism whenever and wherever it occurs.

Senator Williams, in accepting the award, praised the League for its sixty years of service and efforts to "secure just and fair treatment for everyone."

LIFE HEALTH AND CHIROPRACTIC The Spine

Why it is called the "backbone" is pretty hard to understand. Maybe it's because no one ever stopped to consider that a solid bone doesn't often get around to bending in all sorts of directions like the human spine.

Actually, there are 24 movable segments, or vertebrae, in the "backbone" or spine. Between each segment is a soft cushion called a disc. The disc serves as a ball bearing and shock absorber for the vertebrae.

Inside the spine is a tube which contains the spinal cord, the "lifeline" of the nervous system. The spinal cord runs from the brain through the spinal column. Between the vertebrae are pairs of nerve roots leading from the spinal cord and carrying millions of nerve fibers to the various parts of the body.

Displacement of any of the vertebrae or the discs of the spine impinges delicate nerve fibers, and vital organs served by the nerves can be affected.

Disease is the result.

The spinal column, the spinal cord and the nervous system are the areas in which the chiropractor is scientifically trained. He locates the impingements and, by gentle adjustments, removes the offending pressures and restores the vital flow of nerve energy to the affected areas. Nature's healing from within restores the feeling of health and well-being.

Is This Picture Upside Down?

NO, says the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. This artist's concept of NASA's Space Shuttle shows how the vehicle will actually fly the first leg of its journey into space. It will be flown upside down so that the airplane-like orbiter spacecraft on the bottom and its flight crew will be protected from high wind forces in the earth's atmosphere by the shuttle's big liquid-fuel tank as well as its two large solid booster rockets. The orbiter is now being designed by Rockwell International Corporation and the giant fuel tank by Martin Marietta Corporation. Huge solid-propellant rockets in the power range of those being jettisoned above are already in production at United Technology Center, a division of United Aircraft Corporation. After the solid rockets burn out and fall away, the rest of the space ship is turned rightside up for the remainder of its flight.

New Dining Guide Classifies, Profiles N.J. Restaurants

The only definitive restaurant guide for dining in the state of New Jersey has just been published by the Eagle-Courier Newspapers in Madison and Chatham.

Titled "Dining Round & About", the book is a handy volume in soft cover that presents profiles of 240 New Jersey restaurants. Entries are digested from columns of Kenneth Haynes, former publisher of the newspapers.

Restaurants are listed alphabetically. An index classifies them by county, type of cuisine, as well as historical heritage. A supplement also profiles 22 South Jersey restaurants. The book sells for $3.00 including tax and is available by mail from the Madison Eagle, 41 Kings Road, Madison, N.J. 07940.

Co-publishers William and Louise Easton say that the guide is published in response to readers who have followed the weekly Dining Round & About column for more than five years.

Daniels' Team Will Produce Next Dinner-Theater Show

Ann and Dave Daniels, the husband and wife singing team who brought to Belleville "WEST SIDE STORY" this past fall, will produce two dinner-theater performances of "The Merry Widow" at the Branch Brook Manor, 13 Washington Avenue, on Friday, February

Essex Dentists to Ask School Children to Smile
The 800-member Essex County Dental Society will sponsor a "Smile" Contest for elementary school children of Essex County in observance of the annual Children's Dental Health Week, February 3 - 9, 1974.

The contest is designed to highlight the dental week theme "Kick the Sweet Snack Habit" for good dental health. All elementary school children in the county are eligible for the contest. Winners will receive prizes. Judging will be on photographs submitted. Winners will be notified by mail and announced in the newspapers.

22, and Sunday, February 24, 1974.

As a community service in the summer of 1973, the Daniels' taught a free acting workshop for young adults which resulted in two semi-professional performances held at Belleville High School and a dinner-theater show at the Branch Brook Manor. "The Merry Widow" will be a fund-raising event for the Daniels' to again host a teen workshop in the summer of 1974. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels will have leading roles along with other well-known professionals in the Chappell Edition of the Opera by Franz Lehár.

Some Recipes For Appetizing Mushrooms

If you're trying to think what to serve guests at parties and buffet suppers or stand-up cocktail parties, why not start with something as irresistible as Crab-Stuffed Mushrooms? You can make the nicely seasoned filling a few hours before the event and fill the mushroom caps, topping them with buttered bread crumbs. Tuck them in the refrigerator and pop them into a moderate oven just before they are to be served.

The recipe given below gives "about 18" as the yield. These would be comparatively large — and very luscious looking mushrooms — but you can stuff any size fresh mushroom, from the really big 12-to-a-pound size to dainty little caps, about 36 to the pound. Actually, the size of mushrooms doesn't affect either flavor or texture. Mushroom pickers can tell by touch when a mushroom is ready to be picked. It's undoubtedly a good thing that size varies somewhat in a pound of fresh mushrooms. This lets guests select a size they prefer, one-bite or two-bite size.

Mushroom Vegetable Antipasto is another flavorful thing which can be served either as a sandwich accompaniment or as a first course when there's to be spaghetti or a hearty casserole. This is a real prepare-ahead tidbit since the vegetables should remain in their marinade for several hours, or, better still, several days.

CRAB-STUFFED MUSHROOMS

1 pound large fresh mushrooms Oil
4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided 1/4 cup minced onion

1 package (6 oz.) frozen crab meat, thawed, drained and flaked

1/4 cup dairy sour cream
1 egg, lightly beaten
2 cups soft bread crumbs, divided

2 tablespoons chopped dill or parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper

Rinse, pat dry and remove stems from mushrooms. Chop sufficient stems to make 1 cup (save any remaining stems for soups, stews, etc.). Brush caps with oil; set aside. In a medium skillet melt 2 tablespoons of the butter. Add chopped mushrooms and onion; saute for 4 minutes; cool. In a medium bowl combine mushrooms and onion mixture with crab, mix lightly. Spoon into mushroom caps, mounding slightly. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons of the butter. Add remaining 1 cup bread crumbs; mix lightly. Sprinkle over top of each stuffed mushroom. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 F.) for 15 minutes or until hot. Serve immediately.

YIELD: about 18 stuffed mushrooms

MUSHROOM VEGETABLE ANTIPASTO

1 pound fresh mushrooms
1 cup bottled Italian salad dressing

2 cups diagonally sliced carrots
4 cups sliced cauliflower

Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms; set aside. In a large saucepan heat salad dressing to boiling point. Add carrots; return to boiling point; reduce heat; cover and simmer for 5 minutes. Add cauliflower. Cover and simmer for 5 minutes. Pour mixture into a large bowl; cool for at least 2 or 3 hours before serving. If desired, cover and marinate in the refrigerator for 2 or 3 days or longer.

YIELD: 6 cups

accepting speaking engagements with local clubs or organizations to explain the concept of the community service he and his wife developed for young adults and teenagers who came from over ten Essex County communities.

Tickets and information may be obtained by phoning the Daniels at 759-4913, or by writing to them at 1 Rutgers Court, Apt. A-6, Belleville. The February 22 performance will feature dinner at 6:30 p.m., show time at 8 p.m.; on Sunday, Feb. 24, dinner will start at 5:30 p.m., the show at 7 p.m.

The performances are to raise funds for the Daniels to again instruct a full spectrum of theatre arts at no charge to teenagers and young adults during the summer of 1974. Tickets for the dinner and show are $10.

Museum Portraits Show Ship

Clipper ships, painted both here and in foreign ports, naval vessels, yachts, whalers, and steamers, of the early 19th to the early 20th centuries, are shown in an exhibition called "Ship Portraits Owned in New Jersey" opening at the Montclair Art Museum on Sunday, Dec. 16.

The difference between ship portraits and marine paintings, according to Curator Ann Rogerson who organized the exhibition, is that in the former genre, the ship itself dominates. Mrs. Rogerson assembled the paintings from 14 New Jersey collectors.

The portrayals include an American man-of-war, painted in Japanese waters at some time before Perry's mission to Japan; and American ship in the war of 1812, painted by the English artist George Webster; and the engagement of the Serapis and The Bon-Homme Richard, painted by M. Felice Corn'e. There are a number of paintings by Antonio Jacobsen of Hoboken and James E. Buttersworth (who painted clipper ships for Currier and Ives), an early painting by the Montclair artist Charles Parsons, and two paintings by James Bard of whom shipbuilders said they "could lay down the plans of a boat from one of his pictures, so correct were they in their proportions."

Queen of Burlesque Deplores 'Obscenity'

Ann Corio, who brings her highly successful "This Was Burlesque" show to the Playboy Club-Hotel at Great Gorge here on Friday and Saturday (Dec. 14-15), estimates she has undressed in front of five million men.

This is her new show, and it co-stars comedian Jerry Lester, who originated late-night television talk shows.

"Many were Harvard students and sailors; and some were tycoons and Supreme Court Justices," she says, "but I can assure you that none of them saw me as completely as my mother and pediatrician have seen me."

"At Harvard there was a saying 'you could not truly be graduated until you had seen Ann Corio.' When I played the Old Howard Theatre in Boston, I may not have been the most distinguished instructor Harvard ever had, but in the course of Anatomy One, presided over by Prof. Corio, I never flunked a single student."

"No department at Harvard can match that statement!"

"My most famous student, over 90 years of age, was Oliver Wendell Holmes," Miss Corio continues. "As an associate justice of our Supreme Court, Mr. Holmes never missed the appearance of our troupe at the Gaiety Theater in Washington."

When one of his aides expressed shock at his regular attendance he said, "Well, I thank God I'm such a man of moral character. I love American humor and I adore American beauty."

Now starting its eleventh year, "This Was Burlesque" originally ran three and one-half years on Broadway and has toured the nation every year.

Miss Corio, who has made enough money never to have to worry about where the next G-string is coming from, announced her retirement from the show after its last year.

"I was almost dead from fatigue," she said, "and I just couldn't face the grind of another tour. But after a month of complete rest, I felt like a million dollars and started to crawl the walls from inactivity. Then pressure was applied for me to return to the show."

Miss Corio regrets the passing of legal minds like that of Justice Holmes. She says:

"Have these nine men of the U.S. Supreme Court become dirty old men by permitting anything to go? All of us resent censorship, but a few fast-buck producers, by overstepping the limits, may force our society into setting up some form of censorship."

"This is not surprising in a society that had polluted the air, polluted the water, and now chooses to pollute the mind."

"Obscenity in the performing arts can only lead away from the beauty of love and to the sordidness of unnatural sex acts. This in turn could lead to more homosexuality and what healthy society needs that?"

The following weekend, Dec. 21-22, Cyd Charisse and Tony Martin will appear in the Penthouse.

Tickets Available For Masterwork

Tickets are still available for the two remaining performances of Handel's "Messiah" by The Masterwork Chorus and Orchestra, conducted by David Randolph, to be presented in Avery Fisher (formerly Philharmonic) Hall, Lincoln Center, New York on Sunday afternoon and evening, Dec. 23.

The New York Times has said of their performances, "This 'Messiah' as conceived and expertly led by David Randolph, was wonderfully refreshing." Philip Truckenbrod, music editor of The Newark Star Ledger, said in his review, "There was a fleetness of movement and agility of flow which distinguished this Masterwork Chorus from the run-of-the-mill 'Messiah' choir."

This year's series of five concerts marks the twelfth consecutive year of Masterwork performances in Carnegie and Avery Fisher Hall.

The concerts on December 23 will be held at 2 and 6:30 p.m. Tickets for the performances are available through The Masterwork Music and Art Foundation, 300 Mendham Road, Morristown, New Jersey 0760 or at the box office.

Lavergne St. Case Dismissed

think we should be doing something to ferret out what's been delaying this case. Other members of the Board felt there are other ways of going about doing it."
When the variance was originally applied for last year, the issues involved possible violations of the density laws which designates the maximum number of families per acre, and possible safety hazards involving the nearby Erie Lackawanna railroad tracks. The density dispute concerned the first 100 feet from the front boundary of the property, and the safety issue saw an Erie lawyer testify the erection of the apartments would mean the building of an access street property to Willett Street.

However, if the case is brought before the Zoners again, another factor will have to be considered. While the case was pending over the last year, the Board of Commissioners passed an amendment to the Zoning laws barring the erection of apartments in an industrial zone.

Christmas Project Unites Trio

decorating the auditorium and was given the go-ahead. Then she herself received calls from Mrs. Desai and Mrs. Mills, who each volunteered their help independently of each other. The three women then went to work on the job, and over the next two weeks they found themselves at the school from 8:30 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon, on Saturday nights and Sundays.

They found a lot of help from Petti and the school's teachers, not to mention the children who joined in. (One display includes posters bearing the signatures of all the children enrolled at Eight.)

The ladies were especially grateful to the school custodian, Harry Murphy. Said Mrs. Keesler, "He gave us his aspirin, his tables, gave up his lunch and stayed late after school to help us."

Mrs. Keesler has had plenty of experience in the type of art and wall decoration that needed to be done. "When Connie and Veene called me, they said they didn't know anything about art, but I told them, 'By the time we're through, you'll know everything there is to know.'"
"When we first got together, it was Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Desai, and Mrs. Keesler," — now we're all on a first-name basis. Our children knew each other from scouting, but they're all closer friends now, also."

It was all quite an experience for Mrs. Desai, since Christmas is not celebrated in India. "We have New Year's there, but it isn't on the same day as here, because we have a different calendar," she said. She joined in the School Eight decorating because, "I like my children to be able to do the same things as other children here."

At School Eight, where there are children of many races and nationalities, including Chinese and Japanese, it will be a "good old-fashioned American Christmas," as Mrs. Keesler put it.

It was a lot of hard work to put the decoration together, but the ladies knew it was worth it when a little blind girl, a student at the School, approached them and asked what was being done in the auditorium. They took the little girl, named Emma, to their workroom, and she touched all the decorations — the cutouts, the cloth, and then told the three women, "Thank you for bringing Santa Claus to School Eight."

Afterwards, Mrs. Keesler said, "You've heard the expression, 'Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus?' Well, to me, that meant, 'Yes, Emma, there is a Santa Claus.'"

Shirley Reeve Is Featured In Ballet Show

Shirley Reeve of Floyd Street, Belleville, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. George Reeve is a featured soloist in 'Fred Danieli's Newark based professional troupe. She dances, the soloist role in the beautiful Waltz of the Snowflakes and will appear as Dew Drop in the Waltz of the Flowers. A student of Belleville High School, Shirley has been studying ballet at the South Orange and Newark studios of the School of the Garden State Ballet for the past seven years.

They are appearing in Fred Danieli's 50 member Christmas spectacle which is expected to reach audiences totaling more than 30,000 during an 11-city, 26 performance tour of the state under joint sponsorship of the Garden State Ballet Foundation & Guild, a state membership auxiliary.

Performances for family audiences are set for Rider College, Trenton tomorrow - 7 p.m. Summit High, Sunday, 2 p.m., Glassboro College, Tuesday, 7 p.m., Maplewood's Columbia H.S. on Sunday, Dec. 23 - 2 p.m., Westfield H.S. on Sunday, Dec. 30 - 2 p.m. Eighteen school hour performances will also be presented for youth audiences in northern, central & southern New Jersey. The public performances will feature New York City Ballet soloist Teena McConnell and Rosanna Seravalli, former soloist American Ballet Theatre, alternating in the featured Sugar Plum Fairy role. Paul Russell, the renowned Harlem Dance Theatre soloist will appear as the Cavalier.

Reserved tickets for the public performances have been scaled at 'family-priced admissions' of $3. for children and $5. for adults and are available by mail and phone reservations at the Garden State Ballet office 45 Academy Street Newark, N.J. 07102 (201) 623-0591. Tickets for performances will also be available at the box-office on the night of performances.

George & Betty's VERY SPECIAL HAPPY HOLIDAY RECIPES

SOUR CREAM DIP

1 cup dairy Sour Cream
1/2 cup catsup
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 teaspoons finely chopped chives
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
Combine all ingredients. Blend well. Refrigerate.

HOLIDAY PUNCH

1 qt. orange drink
1 qt. grapefruit juice or orange juice
1 pt. bottle light corn syrup
1 qt. bottle ginger ale
1 pt. orange sherbet or vanilla ice cream
Pour orange drink in punch bowl. Stir in fruit juice and corn syrup. Just before serving add ginger ale, ice and sherbet. Makes about 3 qts. or (18-24 cup servings).

DONUT WREATHS

8 donuts
1/2 gal. ice cream
jar butterscotch topping
red granulated sugar
Use 8 large Garden State sugar donuts. Place on individual plates. Put a scoop of ice cream (Maple Walnut or Vanilla) in the center of each donut. Heat butterscotch topping to pour over each serving. Sprinkle with Christmas stardust (red granulated sugar).
Note: You may also place a small red candle in each ice cream scoop and light just before serving.

DOUBLE EGGNOG PUNCH

1/2 gal. egg nog
1/2 gal. egg nog ice cream nutmeg
strawberries (fresh or frozen)
Fill your punch bowl with fresh Egg Nog (1/2 gallon). Then add scoops of Garden State Egg Nog ice cream and swirl with nutmeg. For Christmas color, add large, whole, thawed strawberries to float on top.

INDIVIDUAL IMPERIAL ALASKAS

1 sponge cake
1/2 gal. ice cream
6 egg whites
6 tbs. confectioner's sugar
1 tsp vanilla
1/2 tsp. salt

Cut heavy corrugated board into six 6-inch rounds and cover with aluminum foil. Slice VanHouten Sponge Cake (or Angel Cake) horizontally in 1-inch thickness. Then cut the slices into 5-inch rounds and place on foil. Rounds may be slightly hollowed out. Place one or two large scoops of ice cream on each round. Choose Neapolitan, Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, or Mint. Place in freezer until day you wish to serve. To complete your Alaskas make a self-rip meringue the morning of your party.
Use 6 egg whites
1/2 tsp. salt
6 tbs. confectioner's sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Beat at high speed until soft tip forms. Hold in refrigerator. Preheat oven to 300. Then use spatula to swirl meringue over the ice cream-cake rounds. Be sure to seal all edges, covering completely with meringue. Top with almond slivers if desired. Place the individual Alaskas on a cookie sheet and bake just about 5 minutes until meringue is lightly browned. Serve immediately. Special note: You may also freeze the Alaskas with their browned meringue topping and serve cold.
