Christmas, Chanukah

Bellevilleites of All Religions Prepare Services for Holidays

Residents will celebrate the coming holidays with various religious services to be held Sunday through Tuesday and throughout Chanukah—the Jewish Festival of Lights.

Many churches are planning vigils for Christmas Eve, pageants for church schools and Christmas worship services.

At Congregation Ahavath Achim where the first candle of Chanukah was lit last night, there will be a second candlelighting tonight, and another tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. On Saturday, there will be a 9 a.m. worship service, and a men's club breakfast Sunday at 10 a.m., where Doctors J. Grundfest and A. Fost will speak. On Friday, Dec. 28, a college homecoming service will be held.

Christian Apostolic Church will have a regular worship service tonight at 7:30 p.m. and Christmas carols will be sung by the youth of the church on Sunday at 10 a.m. There will be a regular worship service on Tuesday morning on Christmas Day.

Christmas Eve at Wesley Methodist Church will be celebrated with a candlelight service featuring hymns by the church choir. On Sunday morning, the church school group will hold a special service by the junior high school class, to which the public is invited. An 11 a.m. pageant titled "God So Loved," will involve the boys' choir, the church choir, congregational singing and church school students. Christmas stockings for Brooklyn Hospital will be hung on the tree. At the Christmas Eve candlelight service, the message will be titled "Theme for Trumpets." Wesley Church will be open on Christmas day for prayer and meditation from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A Festival of the Eucharist will be held at Christ Episcopal Church at their Christmas Eve vigil at 11:30 p.m. There will be another service at 7:30 p.m. Christmas Eve, and the choir will sing at the late service. Holy Communion will be given at 10 a.m. on Christmas Day.

The annual church school Christmas program will be held at Second Baptist Church Sunday at 3:30 p.m. and is open to the public. Children will recite, sing, and dramatize the Nativity. An 11 a.m. worship service will be

Town Yule Display Contest To Test Our Holiday Spirit

Some say the current energy crunch is putting a damper on Christmas spirits because of the noticeable lack of brightly-colored lights twinkling from houses and doorways at twilight.

The Town Recreation Department, and members of women's groups in Belleville don't think energy conservation should cut into Christmas cheer, and they're hoping other Bellevilleites will agree.

The annual House Christmas Display will be held again this year with one exception—judging will be done in broad daylight instead of at dusk, so those residents who have their houses festooned with lights won't have an edge on the energy-conscious.

Also this year, the entire town won't be covered, but judges will review only the homes of residents who request a visit. Tomorrow is the deadline to call the Recreation Department at 759-3142 if you wish to enter.

Heading the judging committee again this year is Mrs. Richard A. Shafter, chairlady of the Fine Arts Committee of the Woman's Club. She will be aided by Mrs. Joan McGough of the Junior Woman's Club, along with a staff of 10-15 clubwomen.

Mrs. Shafter said the town will be divided into five areas, with one winner to be named from each section. Divisions include Silver Lake, two sections in the Valley, the White Oak area and from Jorammon Street to Union Avenue to Mill Street.

Judges will be influenced by originality, good taste and the Christmas spirit projected by the displays. Mrs. Shafter said the theme this year will be "simplicity" and added, the decision to "de-emphasize" lighting is "more or less a patriotic sort of thing."

Recreation Director Robert Cook said, "the contest is being continued without lights but with the hope that another Christmas will see us past the worst of the fuel shortage. Belleville residents have traditionally done an outstanding job of decorating and filling our town with Christmas spirit. Let's try to keep that spirit alive through this difficult time with unlighted outdoor displays."

The Christmas House Display Contest has proceeded annually for the past 20 years, with the Woman's Club handling judging for the past eight years, during which Mrs. Shafter has been committee head each year.

Switch Senior Center From Carragher Site

by Ken Moore

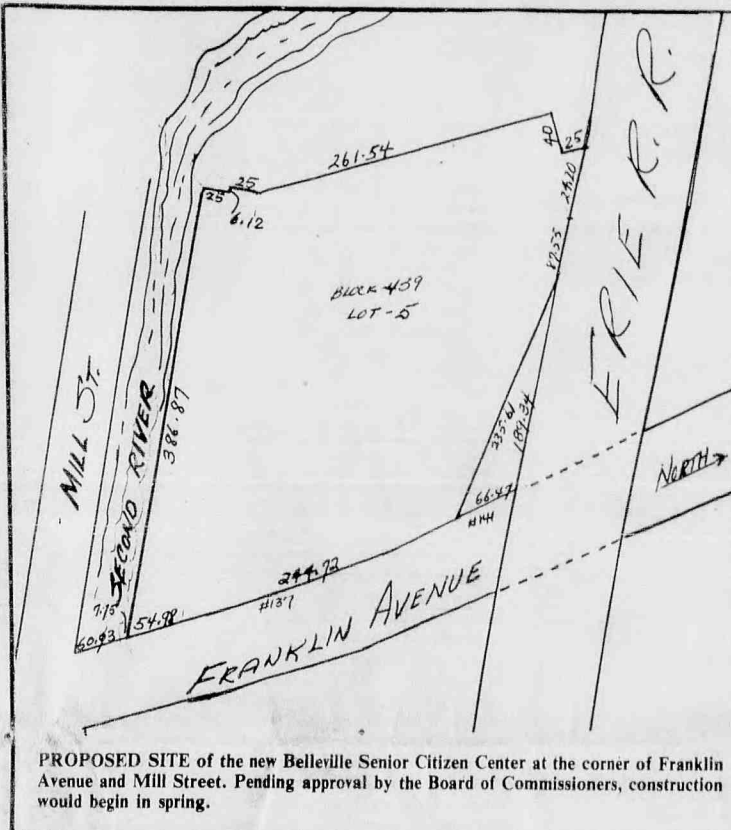

The site of the proposed Town Senior Citizen Center has been changed from the old Camp Carragher grounds to a two-acre tract of land at the corner of Franklin Avenue and Mill Street, it was announced by Commissioner Michael V. Marotti last week.

The decision to switch the site to land donated by the Andrew Jergens Company was made to centralize the location of the center, said Marotti. The new site is more accessible by public transportation and will present fewer problems in construction. The Commissioner added the proposed building will be larger than originally designed, and the surrounding grounds will hold as many or more facilities than first planned.

Local senior citizens will share the land and the building with the Belleville Farm League baseball organization, but Marotti feels there will be no conflict in scheduling between the two groups.

Marotti will officially propose the dedication of the site at the next Commission meeting on Thursday, Dec.

Library Sets New Hours During Crisis

Belleville Public Library Director Gerard Hickey this week announced a cutback in opening hours during the energy crisis, effective January 1, 1974.

On Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, the library at 221 Washington Avenue and the branch office at 30 Magnolia Street will open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. The library is presently open until 9 p.m.

The library and the branch office will close from December 22 to December 26 and on December 31 and January 1 for the Christmas holidays.

Overcomes Blindness To Become Guitarist

Seventeen-year-old Ed Scroczyński, of Union Avenue in Belleville, has been playing the guitar for seven years and is an accomplished musician. The magic sounds that Ed creates with his guitar are a result of many hours of practice, determination and an abundance of natural talent. The amazing thing is that up until last summer Ed could play any combination of notes or chords and yet not be able to tell you exactly what he was doing since he had never had any formal musical training.

A year ago last summer Ed was introduced to Dick Fieldhouse, Music Director of the Music Foundation for the Visually Handicapped. The Music Foundation is a non profit organization which provides free musical instruction and the free use of an instrument to any visually handicapped resident of New Jersey. With the help of Fieldhouse, volunteer instructors and some of the more advanced students in the program, Ed began to learn the theory behind the music. The progress Ed has made this past year has been tremendous and his newly acquired knowledge enables him to be more creative and to improve upon his playing techniques.

Ed Scroczyński is just one of over 100 students in the Music Foundation. With 50 volunteer instructors the Foundation serves in more than 50 New Jersey communities. Some ten years ago Dick Fieldhouse, a musically talented lumberyard manager from Paramus, offered to teach a young blind girl to play the guitar, he had no idea that this simple act of

Board of Ed Awards Contracts for Roofing

The Board of Education Monday night awarded two contracts totaling $53,980 for repairs to the roof of the junior high school. At the same meeting, Joseph Grosch, principal of School One was transferred to School Seven to replace Mrs. Viola Spray, who retired earlier this month.

Three bids were received on a proposal to repair the leaking roof on the junior high building. Tremco Manufacturing Company of Clifton submitted the low bid of $36,135 against two bids of $44,500 and $39,750. On bidding for repairs to parapets on the junior high school, Newman Company of Orange was low with a bid of $17,845 against one other bid of $18,640.

The school board also awarded a contract for $1,875 to Klein Electrical Service of Newark for a new electrical panel in School Five.

Joseph Grosch, appointed School One principal in 1964 after two years as head at School Nine, is a native of Newark and a Bellevilleite since his childhood. A graduate of Belleville High he went on to graduate from Montclair State College in 1943 and was commissioned an ensign in the same year after attending Midshipman's School at Notre Dame University. Grosch is a veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

He taught Business Education at Belleville High School from 1946 to 1950, returning to the system in 1954, when he taught eighth grade at School Seven, then seventh and eighth grade at School Four. He was appointed principal of School Nine in 1962.

Married to the former Adell Kleinknecht, they have three children. Grosch is now retired, from the Naval Reserve as a Commander, and was on active duty in summers until three years ago.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

On November 29, which was our 32nd wedding anniversary, my wife, Lil, tells me the cops pulled up to the house and she figured they were after me, perhaps conjuring up the ecstatic thought that she might be freed from conjuring up the ecstatic thought that she might be freed from my annoyance in messing up her tidy home for a short while at least, however, it turned out to be the delivery of information I had sought from our amiable Police Chief, Joe Smith, concerning the enforcement of the alternate side of the street parking regulations which I desired to impart to the readers of the column.

The kindly chief enclosed a photo-copy of the resolution which was adopted unanimously by our commissioners which reads: "Resolved By The Board of Commissioners of Belleville, N.J. THAT, the provisions contained in Ordinance 1814 adopted October 28, 1968,

Census Men Will Conclude Consumer Poll

Households in the Government's survey of consumer expenditures will have their last opportunity during the next few months to tell Uncle Sam how much it costs to live these days.

The nationwide Consumer Expenditure Survey, which began in January 1972, will be completed in late spring. It is being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

The survey in this area is administered from a field office in East Orange, Mrs. Marion Hartmann, office supervisor, says that households in the quarterly survey will be interviewed for the fifth and last time during January-March this year. These households have been in the survey since January 1973. Another group was also in the survey for five quarters, January 1972-March 1973.

The Census Bureau is acting as data collection agent for the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). Results of the survey will show what changes have occurred in the buying habits of the American people since the last survey was taken in 1960-61.

The up-to-date data will enable BLS to revise the "market basket" of goods and services in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) to reflect current buying habits of American consumers. Price changes for items in the market basket are measured monthly by BLS and are reflected in the CPI each month.

Sparkling Personality

Highlight Another Local Band

This week we again feature a group of young artists who have been gaining national recognition. "People" are six young and highly talented youngsters, 16 - 18 years of age, headed by 18 year old Michele Desmond, vocalist, of Bloomfield.

About four years ago the group began, at that time named: "The Underground Lightbulbs". Guided by their manager, Nate D'Amore, with their music director, Jim Dasaro (Belleville Travel), "People" moved out of the ranks of "just another rock group" to gain prominence and recognition, appearing in many benefit performances as well as professionally, with concerts, a record release, "Happy People," interviews on TV shows and, during December, they were selected to participate in the Long Island Construction Industries annual Salute to U.S.O., honoring Honorable Peter J. Brennan, Secretary of Labor. The show was carried on closed circuit TV and recorded for eight track, cassette and long playing records.

Some nationally famed artists and groups People have appeared with include Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons and Frankie Avalon at the Garden State Arts Center. Their recording, "Happy People" is produced by Delite Records, and made the charts in several areas. "People" were featured entertainers for the recent Miss Essex County Junior Miss Pageant, sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees and held at Belleville High School.

In addition to vocalist Michele Desmond, the other members of "People" are: Pamela James, organ, of Belleville; Jeff Kinder, drums-vocal, Bloomfield; John Barrett, bass guitar and

There is no diet, or food, that either causes or cures arthritis. There simply is no valid scientific evidence to back such claims. The best approach for someone with arthritis is to keep his weight down and eat foods chosen from the four food groups - milk, meat, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals.

The Lamp Of Freedom

Guest Editorial by Rabbi Herbert Horowitz of Congregation Ahavath Achim of Belleville

Jews throughout the United States and the world will begin the observance of Chanukah this week. The prescribed ritual calls upon each family to light one candle on the first night and to light an additional candle until the full eight candles of the "Menorah" are kindled.

Why is the Jewish holiday of Chanukah celebrated in this manner? If the Maccabees won a military victory against the Syrian Greeks over 2100 years ago, why is there not a military parade in celebration of this great event? The answer, in light of the Yom Kippur War of October 6, 1973, is both striking and timely.

The Maccabees of ancient Judea revolted against the tyranny of the Syrian Greeks in order to proclaim religious liberty throughout the land. Their struggle against overwhelming odds was a struggle of man's spirit and yearning for freedom. The use of military power was only a means toward that end, the goal being the right to exist as a people, free to pursue life according to the tenets of Judaism. Thus, the miraculous victory gave the Jewish people the honor and privilege to light the lamp of freedom for the 2100 years.

The modern Maccabees of Israel have answered the latest attack upon their very existence on the holiest day of the Jewish calendar year with the same fighting spirit and self sacrifice of the Maccabees of old. When the torch of freedom is passed from one hand to another throughout Israel this year the words of the Prophet Zechariah will have the most profound meaning for all human beings who have faith in God and in the dignity of man: "Not by thy strength, but through my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

Christmas Eve

In many countries of the world December 24th is as much fun as the 25th. In England Christmas carols are sung on Christmas Eve. In Scandinavia and in many American homes a family dinner the afternoon of the 24th ushers in Christmas.

The custom of lighting candles (now lights in most cases) in windows on Christmas Eve originated, in this country, in Boston. The Santa Claus legend comes from Germany but it has been expanded and changed in America, with greater emphasis on toys for children. And Christmas Eve night, of course, is the high pitch of anticipation for millions of youngsters.

Many churches have special Christmas Eve services. Some church choirs still go about singing carols on Christmas Eve.

The great Christmas rush, unfortunately, reaches its hectic climax for millions of parents on the 24th. If one can plan ahead and enjoy a leisurely Christmas Eve, it can bring as much pleasure, fulfillment and reward as the 25th.

Santa Claus

While some in this country choose not to observe the Santa Claus tradition at Christmas, which is their privilege and not to be criticized, for most American children Christmas Eve is a magic night unmatched for the rest of the year.

How many have tried to stay awake Christmas Eve night, to hear Santa land on the roof? How many have left food by the fireplace? How many have thrilled to the marrow at a glimpse of him, in red and white? How many millions of letters have gone out to him, of childish hopes for wonderful toys and fun?

If it can't last, and it can't; if it isn't real life, and it isn't, it is nevertheless a magic time of joy and excitement and wonderful anticipation for youngsters, and even more reward for parents. For young and old the sweet memories never die—and help keep the home a nostalgic, loved centerpiece in our long agos and memories.

A Resolution

One resolution millions would like to see come true in 1974 is a resolution on the part of the television networks to mercifully end the continuing round of specials honoring various television stars or so-called comedians.

Many of these whingdings represent a kind of show-biz nepotism, and the specials are swapped back and forth among the New York types who dominate commercial television today. The latest catastrophe inflicted on American viewers was a Milton Berle special.

Very few overpaid U.S. television performers deserve specials dedicated to their ego and future earning power. The sugar tossed back and forth is often so phony, the high praise so undeserved, and the star buildup so obvious, one develops indigestion before he or she can switch to another channel.

A Canadian Telling It As It Is

To the Editor:

Please publish the enclosed reprint from "U.S. News and World Report" in your paper.

I, too, am tired of hearing of America's faults blared forth on T.V. and in newsprint, without giving credit where credit is due. Here is a Canadian telling it as it is.

Jack O'Brian, W.O.R., was kind enough to send me the enclosed copy.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles W. Howe
143 Mountainview Avenue,
Nutley

(In these days of unrelieved foreboding and gloomy news, all of us in this country could do with a little bucking up.)

Isn't often that we get a chance to see ourselves as a neighbor sees us—and be cheered by the image.

Some time ago Gordon Sinclair, the Canadian radio and TV commentator, broadcast an editorial from Toronto. Any number of people in this country heard it or have since read it, as it has been widely reprinted in newspapers in the U.S. It was inserted in the "Congressional Record" and became the subject of many editorials.

Mr. Sinclair's commentary makes especially heartening reading right now. For the benefit of those who have missed it, excerpts are presented here.—Howard Flieger, Editor.)

This Canadian thinks it is time to speak up for the Americans as the most generous and possibly the least appreciated people on all the earth...

Germany, Japan and, to a lesser extent, Britain and Italy were lifted out of the debris of war by the Americans who poured in billions of dollars and forgave other billions in debts. None of these countries is today paying even the interest on its remaining debts to the United States.

When the franc was in danger of collapsing in 1956, it was the Americans who propped it up, and their reward was to be insulted and swindled on the streets of Paris.

I was there. I saw it.

When distant cities are hit by earthquakes, it is the United States that hurries in to help.

...This spring, 59 American communities (were) flattened by tornadoes. Nobody helped. The Marshall Plan and the Truman Policy pumped billions upon billions of dollars into discouraged countries. Now newspapers in those countries are writing about the decadent, warmongering Americans.

I'd like to see just one of those countries that is gloating over the erosion of the United States dollar build its own airplanes.

Come on, let's hear it!

Does any other country in the world have a plane to equal the Boeing Jumbo Jet, the Lockheed Tristar or the Douglas 10?

If so, why don't they fly them? Why do all the international lines except Russia fly American planes?

Why does no other land on earth even consider putting a man or woman on the moon?

You talk about Japanese technocracy, and you get radios. You talk about German technocracy, and you get automobiles.

You talk about American technocracy, and you find men on the moon—not once but several times—and safely home again.

You talk about scandals, and the Americans put theirs right in the store window for everybody to look at.

Even their draft-dodgers are not pursued and hounded. They are here on our streets, and most of them—unless they are breaking Canadian laws—are getting American dollars from Ma and Pa at home to spend here...

When the railways of France, Germany and India were breaking down through age, it was the Americans who rebuilt them. When the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central went broke, nobody loaned them an old caboose. Both are still broke.

I can name you 5,000 times when the Americans raced to the help of other people in trouble. Can you name me even one time when someone else raced to the Americans in trouble?

I don't think there was outside help even during the San Francisco earthquake.

Our neighbors have faced it alone, and I'm one Canadian who is damned tired of hearing them kicked around.

They will come out of this thing with their flag high. And when they do, they are entitled to thumb their nose at the lands that are gloating over their present troubles.

I hope Canada is not one of these.

Christmas Seal Campaign

More than 60 million American families and businesses have received their 1973 Christmas Seals in the mail. The Christmas Seal campaign is a traditional reminder that the battle against lung diseases is yet to be won. About 35 million men, women and children suffer from such respiratory ailments as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma and tuberculosis. Social Security disability payments to chronic lung-disease victims last year totaled $400 million, according to Robert S. Deasey, President of the Essex Northwest TB-Respiratory Disease League, which sponsors the annual campaign in Essex county.

This year's national honorary chairman is Johnny Bench, all-star catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, who last year underwent lung surgery for removal of a lesion caused by a rare fungus disease known as valley fever.

Last year's Christmas Seal campaign raised a record $38,000,557. Of this total, 90% was retained by community and state associations for various locally-oriented programs. Today's fight for healthy lungs is everyone's problem. As you live and breathe, give more to Christmas Seals. They fight air pollution and cigarette smoking, too.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Now We Should Start Enforcing Environmental Laws That Exist

By David F. Moore

N.J. Conservation Foundation

WE OFTEN HEAR the line, "Why worry about new environmental laws when we're inadequately enforcing the ones we've got?" I can think of plenty of new laws that are urgently needed, but unfortunately there's some truth in that observation.

Take Chapter 199 of the Public Laws of 1954, for example. Somebody should. It's a scary example of government's frequent tendency to let the foxes guard the chickens. Chapter 199 is optimistically named "The Realty Improvement Sewerage and Facilities Act," and sets the rules for installing potable water supplies and sewerage systems for places like housing developments.

ANYBODY WHO LIVES in those houses are the chickens being guarded by the foxes. The foxes are an advisory committee called for in Chapter 199 to set construction standards for things like septic systems "to insure their safety, adequacy and propriety..."

Of the nine members, one each is named from the Department of Environmental Protection and Health. Fine. But the other seven? Are you ready? They are picked from lists offered by the state Association of Real Estate Boards, Health Officers Association, Society of Professional Engineers, League of Municipalities, Home Builders Association, Institute of Municipal Attorneys and Title Insurance Association. With the possible exception of the Health Officers Association, it would be hard to find a more self-serving group where housing developments are concerned, in no way concerned with environmental effects.

THEY ARE PEOPLE who suggest the code which says how far a septic system can be from a stream, lake or water supply like a private or public well. These standards bear scant relationship to the realities of intelligent pollution control.

This all-star team is now involved with the required two-year revision of the rules; but a year later! Construction changes are going to be hard to come by even though home septic systems are one of the biggest pollution sources in this crowded state we're in.

WITH THE RIGHT regulations, septic tanks are one of the best ways of treating home sewage. They recycle water and nutrients on the spot, for almost immediate reuse. But a number of things must happen efficiently. Effluent, partially purified by bacteria in the septic tank, is then allowed to soak into the ground, through a filter bed - a series of sieve-like pipes just below the grass roots.

The rate at which the water seeps into the ground is called the "percolation rate." It depends on the makeup of the soil, and the level of water underground so the size and design of the disposal system must be geared to the ground it enters. If the percolation rate is too slow, dirty water rises to the surface and into streams, creating a health hazard all the way. If it's too fast, effluent can get into water-bearing formations which feed nearby wells before soil bacteria can clean it up.

The numbers now incorporated into Chapter 19 to regulate the sizes of systems and the distances they may be placed from wells and water bodies, as well as the numbers defining percolation rates, bear little resemblance to recent research, nor any other factual base.

Too many developments have been built without proper heed to these basics. Too many engineers have "faked" percolation tests. Too many boards of health have looked the other way. Too many back yards smell like cess pools.

THE TIME HAS COME for the public to demand better protection from the State Department of Environmental Protection as well as from local boards of health. After all, septic tank owners do operate their own sewer plants!

As I write this column, Christmas is only ten days away . . . driving around town I see many delightful decorated homes and stores, Flowerama and Abbott's Drug Store caught my eye in particular. I was invited to Fidelity Bank to view an unusual decoration. It seems that employee Robert Thomson took individual pictures of all 14 employees and then they were artistically arrayed on a simulated Christmas tree hung on a door. Quite fetching! The young lady who had the idea for the unique tree was Mary Jean Speduto, a Teller. Also on hand while I took a picture was second vice president, Fred E. Kirsch, Jr.

It's welcome back to Lou Long at Olympic Lanes. Lou is recuperating from an operation and works at the bowling alley on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. He and his wife, Ruth, recently became grandparents for the eighth time! Daughter Ruth Ann and her husband Gary Gray gave birth to a baby girl-Jody Ann in November. It is the first grandchild for the paternal grandparents, Stan and Jean Gray.

I made a boo-boo in last week's column and left out some pretty important people involved in the Christmas concert at Belleville Jr. High. Ron Hackling directed the seventh and ninth grade choruses, Mr. James had his dance and jazz band, Miss Kim Dunne, led the eighth grade chorus and Lou Kosma directed the orchestra. Bob Gizzi helps out with the orchestra and directed one song. Understand many parents attended and really enjoyed the program. Messrs. Evans and James led students at School Three on the 19th with Miss Carol Cobianni.

School Eight held a Holiday Luncheon at the school. Chairman of the event was Marie Kimble, assisted by Pat Concato. A hot and cold buffet was served, catered by Marbach's, also the mothers made cookies. Lou Pomponio (one of Belleville's Finest) played Santa and handed out gifts. About 100 people attended the luncheon including superintendent of Schools, Anthony Greco, principal Nicholas Petti and his wife, and the School Secretary, Mrs. Jean Broo. The HSA president at the school is Carmella Meglio. The committee for the luncheon included Diane Roselli, Lillian Norton, Lois Conklin, Dot Dalla Riva, Toni Snowman and Velora Auriemma. Table prizes were made by Donna Vollero and the gym was decorated by Betty Keesler and her committee.

On December 18, School Eight held its Christmas program, with Mrs. Drewes and Miss Cajohn's second grade classes performing in a play. Miss Cobianni conducted the fifth and sixth grade choir, Miss Simini accompanied her sixth grade girls on the guitar as they sang. Mrs. Eleanor Arthur (sixth grade teacher) led the Teachers Choir and the audience in a sing-a-long. Diane Roselli, chairlady of the fund-raising trip to the Poconos made somebody happy, but as of this writing we don't know who the lucky winners were.

Dave Daniels is wally flying around town, promoting the forthcoming show, "Merry Widow" . . . he has spoken before Unit 105, American Legion Auxiliary, Kiwanis Club of Belleville, The Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook Belleville, The Woman's Club of Belleville and the EMD, The Woman's Club of Belleville. If interested in a program by the Daniels, please call them in the evening at 759-4913. He relates how the teenage workshop he and his wife, Anne, started, keep the kids off the streets and busy.

Speaking of the Kiwanis Club of Belleville, they are having a Social at the Amvets Hall on January 5th, completed their cloth for cancer drive (Jim Dasaro was chairman this year), are assisting Schools Nine and Four in a Helping Hand Program, and . . . the news you've all been waiting for . . . are planning their annual card party for April 25. Larry Gonnello is general chairman.

A surprise birthday party was held for Josephine ("Jo-Jo") Malanga who was 19 on December 12. Jo-Jo is a 1972 BHS graduate, now a keypunch and computer operator in Kearny. The daughter of Anthony and Lucy, her sister Donna Marie also had a birthday in December. The Jr. High student was 12 on Dec. 8. Jo-Jo has a brother, Anthony, Jr., who attends BHS. At the party were many school friends, Linda, Camille, Donna, Maria, Theresa and Jim. Happy Birthday, Jo-Jo — from mom and dad.

There's much going on at School Seven. I received their newsletter, H.O.P.E. Happenings In the Organization of Parents and Educators. Today, Dec. 20, there will be a Christmas Party and Santa will visit. There is a Christmas flower sale for you to purchase poinsettia plants, which started Dec. 19. The flower sale will continue today and tomorrow, the 20th and 21st from 9 to about 3.

The O.P.E. is honoring retiring principal, Mrs. Viola Spray with a cocktail reception at The Manor, West Orange on January 11th. Tickets must be reserved no later than January 4th. Please call Mrs. Gilda LaVecchia 759-5839, Mrs. RoseMarie Scott 751-5566 or Mrs. Roseann Walsh, 751-3118. Tickets may also be purchased at any of the schools in town through the school secretary.

School Seven has a Jr. Girl Scout troop who will meet on Monday afternoons from 3:15-4:30 . . . 14 new Brownies attended the investiture held recently, Troop 964 now has 22 members . . . NEWS . . . School Seven will hold their annual Card Party on March 14 at The Fountain.

The December meeting of the O.P.E. had over 500 people in attendance. The program was by the Kindergartners through fourth graders. Mrs. Spray received matched American Beauty roses from the youngsters and upon announcing her retirement, the principal was given a standing ovation.

More on School Seven next week. The Men's Club of Congregation Ahavath Achim will feature two speakers at their monthly breakfast on December 23. Dr. Jack Grundfest's topic: "Surgery-Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow", Dr. Arthur Post will speak on "Allergy-Old and New".

At the regular monthly meeting of The Rosary Altar Society of St. Anthony's Church, the newly elected president, Mrs. Lydia Salzano was installed. A Christmas social was held following the business meeting and plans are being made for a Chinese Auction February 11, in the School cafeteria, No. 7th Street Newark. Mrs. Esther Moro is chairlady, for tickets, phone her at 759-6722 or call the Rectory 759-2882.

Congratulations to George Dulski and John Servidio from Pack 350, for coming in first place in their division in the Essex County Junior Bowling Congress Tournament.

The Explorers Division of the Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, has developed a program for young adults to explore a vocational field of special interest to them. The Rotary Club of Belleville will be learning more about this unique program at their January 9th meeting, "Explorer Impact Luncheon", according to James Desmond, president. If you are a business or professional person interested in helping youngsters learn more about your business, please contact Angelo Venezia at 751-2800.

December 15 was the date Rick McGarril turned 17. The son of Fred and Sue, he is a senior at BHS and on the Honor Roll.

Business Spotlight

Hardman Started with Pencil Erasers

I wonder if James Hardman, Jr. knew what he started, when, 94 years ago he moved his first business to town? At that time he had a small extrusion shop, making rubber for pencil erasers.

Today, Hardman, Inc. has 60,000 sq. ft. of office and plant facilities at Greylock and Cortlandt Street in Belleville's Valley section; this year, they added 20,000 sq. ft. when they opened their new Triplematic Equipment Division in Cedar Grove, and their products are marketed internationally.

Hardman designed and built automatic mixing and dispensing equipment to make their epoxy cement practical in the production of paint brushes. The dispensing pump, under the registered name of Triplematic, is licensed for manufacture in Europe and sold on a world wide basis. This application developed new customers for Hardman, outside the brush field.

The products at the Belleville location are epoxy adhesives and depolymerized rubber. Hardman has long been a supplier of epoxy based compounds to the brush industry and offers a superior adhesive for many diverse applications. Hardman products are found in hammer heads, golf clubs, deck coatings, hypodermic syringes, road markers, coffee pots and digital computers, to name a few. Mayor Gordon Cooper's Faith 7 and the X-15 rocket plane carried Hardman's epoxy adhesives.

The only company in the U.S.A. to use the process of depolymerized rubber, Hardman changes crude rubber to a liquid state, which is used as sealants and fillers for electric cables as for an example, in the automotive industry.

The colorful history of the firm began with James Hardman, Jr., who moved to Belleville in 1879. One of his three sons, Herbert, joined the business, followed by his son, Kenneth and his two sons, James and Jack, who presently manage Hardman Inc. James is the president of the corporation, while Jack is vice president.

The Hardman family has made personal contributions to Belleville as well. The founder served as Treasurer of Belleville in the '1880's and was instrumental in forming the Volunteer Fire Department, as well as acquiring the first hook and ladder. Herbert served on the Selective Board in the mid-40's and was a member of the Nereid Boat Club.

The great grandsons of the founder are active in the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Board of Directors and numerous trade associations.

The foundation and heritage of Hardman, Inc. is Quality and Service, which has adhered through 94 years and four generations of the Hardmans.

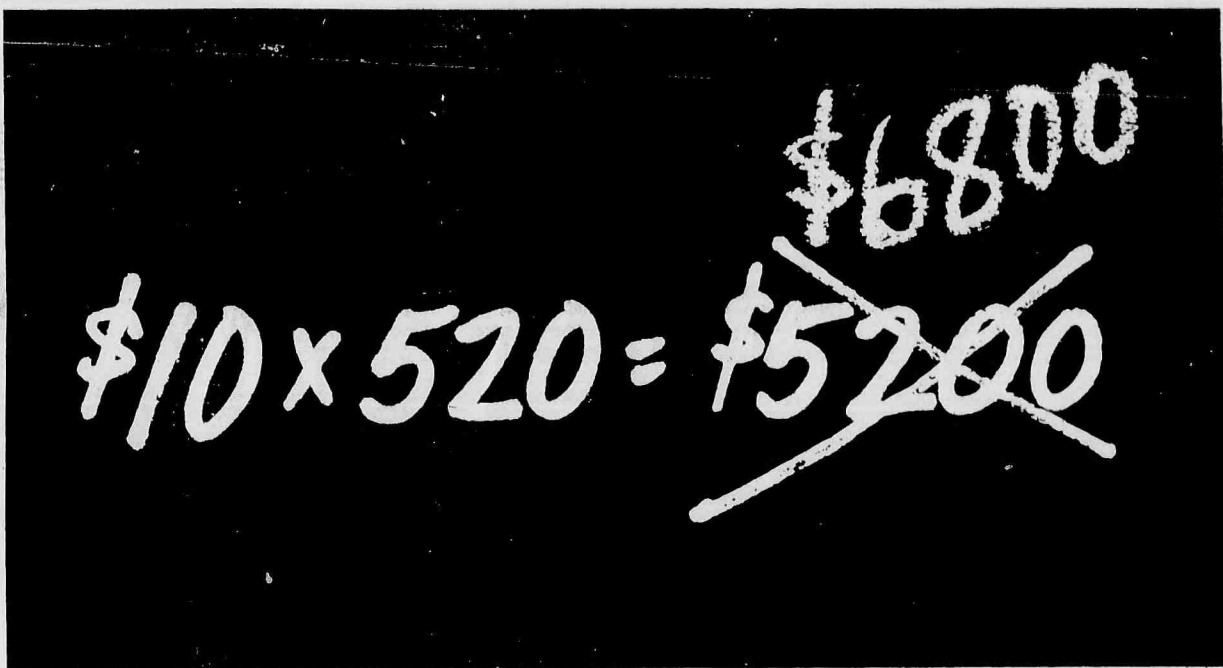

(Editor Note - to have your business spotlighted, write Pat Diana, 104 Overlook Ave.)

Home is what the family makes it.

HARDMAN, INC. — The Belleville plant grew from a small shop making erasers for pencils 94 years ago to the bustling concern located in the Valley section today at Greylock Parkway and Cortlandt Street.

Counseling Service Aids Local Families

For individuals or families with problems, our town offers the Family Counseling Service of Belleville, located at 103 Belleville Avenue.

The unit is a suburban adjunct of the Newark Family Service Bureau and serves, in addition to Belleville, an overflow from the West Hudson area of people who need professional guidance in their daily living.

Marital problems, parent/child relationships, adjusting to changes in life are some of the areas in which the director, Al Iuspa, lends his talents. Sometimes with children, especially during adolescence, the school or the Welfare Department would refer a youngster for this service.

The counseling is not a miracle. What is done is that with training, Mr. Iuspa helps an individual or couple function on his own so that he doesn't need any more therapy. It is, rather, encouraging each person to be independent, find out who he is, what he is and what he wants to do.

The Family Counseling Service is not meant to be a crutch, but rather a bridge, enabling a person, through therapy, to build a firm connection between the problems he can't handle alone, and thus adjust to every day life. A non-profit organization, funded by private firms and the United Fund, the Family Service group is non-sectarian and bases their fees on a sliding scale basis, according to a client's ability to pay.

The Family Counseling Service of Belleville is open Monday, 1-9, Tuesday, 11-

Lions Host Peggy Klein

In a heart-warming display of affection and generosity the Belleville Lions Club gave a Christmas party for Peggy Klein at their December 13 meeting at the Fountain Restaurant. Peggy is a senior at Belleville High School. She is blind and without family and the Lions have "adopted" her.

At the meeting Peggy was presented with a Lions emblem on a lovely chain necklace, a beautiful corsage and a Braille wrist watch. In addition there was a large pile of presents from the ladies of the Lions for Peggy to take with her for her Christmas celebration at home.

After rooming at different locations in Belleville Peggy has settled with Mr. & Mrs. Charles O'Neil who reside on Division Street. O'Neil is a member of the Belleville Lions Club.

One of the principal activities of Lions Clubs is to help the blind and conserve sight.

The modern miss is the one who put the "it" in fit.

Demler Honored Byons

At the December 13 meeting of the Belleville Lions Club at the Fountain Restaurant Lester E. Demler received the 100 percent Presidents' Award from Lions International for his term of office 1972-73.

The award was earned by meeting the criteria and achieving the goals set by Lions International for a successful club. These include: a good financial standing, submittal of reports on time, net increase in membership, a major service activity, a major fund raising program and attendance at zone, district and international meetings.

During Demler's tenure the Belleville Lions conducted an eye screening program for preschool children and held a benefit theatre party.

In presenting the award Edward Howell, the current President of the club, pointed out that it was one of three earned in District 16E of Lions International comprising 68 clubs in northern New Jersey. He also pointed out that it was two in a row for Belleville with former president Donald A. Ross also having earned the award the year before.

Demler is a Vice President of the Wallace & Tiernan Division of Pennwalt Corporation and President of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association.

Christmas Toys

Picking the right Christmas toys for your pet is often done with the same care as selecting the right gift for a close friend or relative.

An amazing array of attractive toys and gifts is available for pets. There are toys that roll, bounce, squeak, and even talk.

When purchasing a Christmas toy, however, you should be aware of some problems they may present.

Covered squeaking toys are great favorites and safe enough, until they are torn apart and the metal squeaker is uncovered. If this should happen, your pet stands a chance of injuring itself.

Although they are attractive, cotton-stuffed animals can be stripped of the covering by energetic pets. The cotton stuffing may be chewed and swallowed, causing dangerous internal problems.

Avoid painted toys; they may prove to be poisonous if your pet chips and swallows the paint. Also, avoid soft rubber balls that can be torn to pieces and toys with strings and threads that may unravel.

Mechanical toys have the same disadvantage for pets as they do for small children — you must keep winding them all the time.

It is a good practice, if you do purchase a toy for your pet, to stay with him until you are certain that he cannot rip it apart or chew it up in pieces.

Some owners enjoy making toys for their pets. If you are one, then there are many safe and uncomplicated toys you can make.

Spools rate high on the list of enjoyable playthings. But they must be large enough so they cannot be swallowed. Spools used for basting thread are excellent for this purpose.

Empty cardboard boxes are perfect gifts your pet can crawl in and out of and rustle about the floor.

Bones make good toys, provided they are hard enough not to splinter.

Registration Open For YMHA-YWHA Summer Camps

The announcement that registration for the 1974 summer season of the New Jersey YMHA-YWHA Camps opened on Monday, December 17 was made this week by Morris Reisen, President of the New Jersey Federation of YMHA's and YWHA's. Mr. Reisen stated that the registration would take place in all of the 16 affiliated YM-YWHA's throughout the state of New Jersey and that record attendance was expected for the 1974 season.

It was reported by Mr. Reisen that substantial investment of capital funds this past fall had resulted in a great improvement in facilities and that this, in addition to the extremely successful experience of 1973, was expected to result in an increased demand for places at the 'Y' Camps. Choice of registration, it was added by Mr. Reisen, would be for a four week or eight week period.

The New Jersey YMHA-YWHA Camps which are located in the Poconos of Pennsylvania include four different operations, each designed to specially serve the needs of a particular age group. Their well-known names are: Teen Camp (for 14 to 16); Cedar Lake Camp (for 12 to 14); Camp Nan-Jee-Wah (for 10 to 12); and Camp Long Lake (for 7 to 10).

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Depression Drugs
The depressive illnesses comprise one of the largest and most serious groups of mental illness. They are estimated to affect between four and eight million Americans.

Here we are talking not about mild depression, the kind of "glue feelings" anyone has at times.

Drugs are employed in the treatment of depression, with varying results, and there is a good deal of research needed to evaluate those now being tried and to uncover and test new ones. Research is turning up findings that are helpful in depression treatment, as a project sponsored by HEW's National Institute of Mental Health and the Veterans Administration shows.

Lithium carbonate, a drug used in the treatment of manic-depressive patients, is highly effective in preventing relapse following hospital discharge, a multi-hospital team of investigators found.

The study involved a two-year, post-hospital treatment program; and the results bore out earlier promise of the drug's effectiveness.

If lithium's use is combined with regular clinical appraisals and strict adherence to medication schedules, it is effective as a preventive medication, the researchers reported. At present, lithium is approved by the Food and Drug Administration only for the treatment of acute mania. This is one aspect of the depressive illnesses, which psychiatrists often term "affective disorders."

The study provides definite findings on the preventive value of lithium carbonate in management of an important segment of the mental illness problem. Side reactions were minimal.

ning to give. Decorative dishes, working cameras, new and used camera cases plus items of new, unused clothing are also available.

How To Feed Your Family Well While Cutting Down On Energy

The energy crisis has many ramifications, not the least of which is how to feed your family well while cutting down on the use of gas or electricity while cooking.

The big job of course is to provide enough calories to keep those precious bodies warm and healthy through the winter months.

There are numerous ways to accomplish this while still minimizing the energy output required to prepare three square meals a day, says Sheldon Sosna, Director of Marketing for Pantry Pride Supermarkets.

Here are ten suggestions from the Pantry Pride's Consumer Affairs Department, which has just researched "How to Conserve Energy in the Kitchen":

1. Cook double portions of a meal at a time. Instead of making stew for one night's dinner, double the portion and freeze it. Or just cover it tightly, refrigerate, and use it later in the week.

2. Invite your neighbors in and cook a "pot luck" meal together. This provides an enjoyable evening while conserving cooking energy at the home of the guests.

3. Cook the entire meal in the oven — vegetable, potato, meat and appetizer. Don't open the oven for unnecessary checking because the oven temperature drops 25 degrees. It then takes more energy to make the temperature rise again. Cooking everything in the oven instead of on top of the stove uses less energy because it is an enclosed area.

4. Defrost meats fully. They cook quicker. Some frozen vegetable can be thawed before cooking, without any loss to vitamin content.

5. Since schools and businesses are turning the heat down to at least 68 degrees, your family needs a warm start in the morning. So serve a breakfast filled with protein — oatmeal, eggs, toast, juice and hot chocolate or coffee. This is "stick-to-the-ribs" food and will keep them alert and warm until the next meal. You might also consider such high protein items as tuna fish, peanut butter and cheese.

6. Why not hide chocolate bars in a secret place for a quick energy pick-me-up? Skiers carry chocolate with them on the slopes just for that reason. Also put a candy bar in your child's lunch box as a favorite dessert or snack.

7. Cook dinner in a fondue pot. Beef is an easy meat to cook and serve right from the pot. Try chocolate fondue.

Leftovers are fine food, a convenience, and they help out on refrigeration, cooked vegetables, for example, do lose some of their vitamin C. Then re-heating takes an additional toll. So plan as wisely as you can, and avoid having leftover cooked vegetables if you can.

Weather Eased Crisis

The weatherman is cooperating with the energy crisis too, according to the monthly report to the National Weather Service, issued by Prof. Patrick White at Union College's Meteorological Station, a cooperative station of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

November 1973 featured unusually warm temperatures, Prof. White states, with the mercury soaring to 76 degrees on November 15. That day also registered the highest daily average for the month at 59 degrees. The mean temperature for the entire month was 47.2 degrees, a departure of 1.8 degrees above normal.

November 15, 1973 was only one degree shy of matching the record for the warmest November day on record at the Union College station. On November 2, 1971, and November 4 and 5, 1961, 77 degrees was reached on the thermometer.

School Boards Assn. Raps State Trustees

Declaring that "it is the duty and function of local boards of education to keep the schools open whenever and wherever possible," and charging that the State Board of Education "violated the concept of local control of public education" by mandating that school districts extend the winter holiday recess until January 7, the Delegate Assembly of the New Jersey School Boards Association, meeting on December 8, voted to "strongly urge the State Board of Education to refrain from further mandates but rather to provide options to local boards of education which they can adapt to local conditions." The State Board's directive means that the schools will be closed for three days longer than the period provided by the school calendar.

The NJSBA delegate body, which is made up of board members representing all of the state's school districts, also approved a resolution urging priority status for education under the federal government's mandatory fuel allocation program.

Affirming the school boards' association's long-standing policy of seeking abolition of the public vote on school budgets, the assembly defeated a motion to reverse the association's position "in favor of preserving the public vote on the school budget..."

In other action, the delegates voted to seek state assumption of all school building costs incurred subsequent to the Supreme Court's affirmation on April 3, 1973 of the decision in Robinson v. Cahill; approved motions calling for studies on the feasibility of constructing school facilities in conjunction

Minish Asks For Energy Investigation

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District, today called for a full accounting of the energy situation in the United States.

In a letter to the newly designated Energy Administrator, William E. Simon, Minish said "the first order of business must be a full and unvarnished public accounting of the energy crisis."

"The American people," Minish said, "are being asked to sacrifice, at the minimum, their comfort and convenience. A great many are encountering real hardship with the actual or threatened loss of their jobs and businesses. Yet, they are left without any clear picture of the problem and with an uneasy feeling that the burden is being placed disproportionately upon them. The confusing and conflicting reports of the extent of the shortages have aroused questions and doubts that must be promptly and satisfactorily resolved."

"For example," Minish continued, "we are told that only a little more than 10 percent of our requirements have been coming from Arab countries. However, indications are that the Arab boycott now threatens the U.S. military posture. Minish expressed concern at reports that the Arabs have cut off the supply of petroleum products to American forces stationed around the world forcing the U.S. to supply the Sixth Fleet by a massive air and sea lift."

"One need not be a military expert," Minish declared, "to grasp the enormous advantage this gives the Arab-Russian alliance in the explosive Mideast situation."

with commercial facilities and on state reimbursement for operation of the schools on a 240-day basis; and passed measures designed to permit school districts to control wearing of firearms by special police and to provide stiffer penalties for drug pushers. The assembly also moved to seek liberalizing of licensing requirements for driver education students; asked amendment of the statutes pertaining to special education to include "gifted children whose needs must be met," and asked that school districts be allowed to paint chrome yellow and affix black identification letters on all vehicles used for pupil transportation.

The school boards legislative body approved a final report by the NJSBA Bond Bank and School Plan Study Committee, recommending that no action be presently taken by the association in regard to establishing a bond bank.

Essex County Blood Bank Votes Kammerer President

Robert C. Kammerer, managing director of the North Jersey-Essex County Blood Bank, has been elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the American Association of Blood Banks as director of its Northeast District. He will serve a two-year term, beginning this month.

The American Association of Blood Banks is a nationwide organization of more than 1,300 voluntary, non-profit blood centers which sets standards of accreditation for its members and operates the National Clearinghouse Program, which makes possible the exchange of blood and blood credits anywhere in the country.

Kammerer has headed the North Jersey-Essex County Blood Bank since 1953. In that time it has grown to be the single largest voluntary community blood facility in New Jersey. It supplies over 50,000 units of blood and its components annually to hospitals in a six-county area in northern New Jersey.

A native of Logansport, Indiana, he received his B.S. degree from the University of Chicago. Prior to his appointment here, he worked in community relations, public relations and campaign departments for various national and statewide funds and charities, including the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the United Fund of Philadelphia.

Kammerer and his wife Sylvia live in Upper Montclair.

Hold Line on Essex Catholic Tuition

In these days of costs rising everywhere, the Newark Archdiocesan Board of Education has decided to hold the line and has determined that there will be no change in the tuition rates charged at the 13 regional Catholic high schools serving Bergen, Essex, Hudson and Union Counties. The Board at its monthly meeting accepted the recommendation of its Finance Committee and voted unanimously to keep regional high school tuitions the same for the next school year. The Finance Committee had consulted with Archbishop Thomas A. Boland and the administrators of the various regional high schools prior to making its recommendation. Tuitions in the various regional high schools vary according to location. The lowest tuition rate is charged by Essex Catholic High School which assesses each student $600. The highest tuition rates - $750 - are in force some Hudson County schools and the Union County schools. The remaining schools in Hudson and Bergen Counties charge a $700 tuition. The 13 regional high schools educate approximately 12,000 students in the four counties.

The energy crisis received considerable attention from the Board. Msgr. William J. Daly, School Superintendent, advised the Board on the steps taken to extend the Christmas vacation until January 7, curb unnecessary school activities, and conserve energy in so far as possible.

Bike Thefts On the Rise, Say Insurers

"Imagine a line of bicycle, fender to fender, going more than two times around the world. That's how many bikes are now being used in the U.S. — about 60 million," states the Insurance Brokers Association of N.J.

"About 14 million new bikes are sold each year, costing about $14 billion, and this has brought many problems. Among them are bike thefts, and protection against suits and judgments for bodily injury and property damage for the ever-increasing number of accidents.

"Bike theft has now become big business. Theft 'rings' have been uncovered that have been sweeping thru and area, filling a truck with stolen bikes, and then taking them to a factory. There they are sandblasted, serial numbers filed off, repainted, and sent out as new bikes.

"Controlling bike theft is extremely difficult. Most communities don't require registration; many owners don't know the serial numbers; and some don't even remember the maker's name.

Grapplers Open Today Against Wayne Valley

A Young Squad Will Defend Title

by Ken Moore

Wrestling fans will get their first look at the 1973-74 matmen today at 4 p.m. at Belleville High School when Wayne Valley invades for the first contest of the season.

It will be the first meeting between Belleville and Wayne Valley, which is new to the Bellboy schedule. The match will provide vital experience for the largely inexperienced Blue-Gold grapplers, many of whom are sophomores or graduates from last season's Jayvee squad. On Saturday, Dec. 29, will see the first major tournament of the year, as the Bellboys face rugged competition from seven area schools.

A tentative lineup given by head coach Jim Silvestri, now in his tenth year as mat mentor, shows the Bellboys to be working with a nucleus of six varsity veterans bolstered by two candidates from last year's undefeated frosh squad and numerous former Jayvees.

Silvestri sees lack of experience as the major obstacle facing the new matmen, but reports the team has been progressing through three pre-season scrimmages. Although he saw "very little finesse" in the first two meetings with High Point and North Bergen High Schools, the final match with Becton showed some improvement.

Although Silvestri says he began last season in a similar predicament with inexperienced wrestlers, the pre-season outlook this year indicates the team will face an uphill battle in order to recreate their 12-2 record which last year won them the Big Ten title.

Silvestri this year has lost the talents of five graduates from the championship team: district crown winners Rocco Cuozzo and John Smith, along with Bob Willete, Brian Banda and Ramon Lijo.

A change in weight classifications enacted in the past year by the New Jersey Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association is expected to make no real difference in competition this season. Silvestri's tentative lineup for today's match shows the following assignments:

At the new 101-pound classification, (which replaces the 98-pound category) is Vincent Mustacchio a sophomore who enjoyed a perfect season on the freshman team last year. Silvestri believes Mustacchio, like other sophomores on the team "will find the competition keener on the varsity level," and added Mustacchio "has plenty of natural ability, but he's got to get his finesse." Mustacchio steps in to replace graduate Rocco Cuozzo, who claimed a district crown in the 98-pound position last season.

Junior Bob Smith was undefeated last year as a Jayvee, and will see his first varsity match today when he wrestles in the 108-pound match. "Bob's very aggressive and strong," said Silvestri, and he's still picking up plenty of moves." Smith will also fill the shoes of a graduate, Ramon Lijo, who wrestled at 106 pounds last year.

A two-year veteran of Jayvee competition, Bob Cozzarelli will step into the 115-pound class. "He's really come into his

by Bob Cohen

It was a matchup of the graduates against the schoolboys and experience versus the not so experienced. These were the two advantages the alumni had against the Bellboys. Then they met to open the 1973-74 season last Friday and the cagers neutralized all their opponents' experiences and went on to win by the score of 75-55.

Tomorrow night, the Bellboys will have their toughest contest to date when they clash with Coach Cella's Bloomfield Bengals on the Bengals home court. The time of the contest is 8:00. On Wednesday December 26, the Bellboys will host Wayne Valley at the high school for a non-conference game. The time of the post Christmas contest is 8 p.m.

The results of the contest were clearly very encouraging. The man to man defense proved to be very effective as they forced the alumni into many turnovers and made them shoot most of the evening from outside. Only 24 fouls were called during the contest with 11 on the varsity. This was a very positive note as foul trouble seemed to plague the Bellboys throughout the scrimmages. No one came close to fouling out in this game.

The game opened up into a quick 6-0 lead on a jumper by Anthony Cotugno, a jumper by Abdel Anderson, followed by a jumper by Cotugno. Steve Tremel broke the ice for the alumni as he connected for two. But the early 6-2 lead was never to be lost. Playing a ball control game, the cagers used their most consistent weapon, Abdel Anderson. The 6-6 junior poured in 11 points in the quarter on his way to a big evening. He finished up with 33 points and nine rebounds. Jim Catalano was the high scorer in the period for the alumni as he poured in seven points by combining fine outside shooting with tough inside play. Frank Petite and Mike Petronici added two points each. Anthony Nucera added a free throw to total 14 alumni points. Cotugno and Gary Tufo added another two points each as the Bellboys totaled 19 points in the period.

Anderson opened the scoring in the second quarter on a layup as the quarter got under way. In the quarter, he had added 14 more tallies. Abdel clearly dominated all his opponents as he hit from outside and scored from underneath. He shared the scoring with Gary Tufo. Tufo tossed in eight points during the quarter as it was his most potent session. Anderson and he combined for 22 of the teams 24 points. Bob DiQuattro added two free throws to round out the scoring. The alumni spread out the scoring as a total of nine players saw action. Bob Baumgartner and Mike Petronaci each added four points. Catalano, Rich Caravetta, Frank Russomanno, and Mark Corino all added two each.

One of the more interesting matchups of the game was when the two Baumgartners locked up in a matchup in the guard position. Harry, playing for the varsity, intentionally played his brother Bob on defense. The intensity was just as great when Harry brought the ball up court. The results would indicate that the elder brother had the advantage, scoring 10 points as opposed to his brother's four.

Going into the second half, the Bellboys held a comfortable 43-30 lead. Cotugno and Anderson shared scoring honors in quarter number three as they poured in eight and six points respectively. Tufo and Baumgartner each threw in two. Bob Baumgartner added six and Catalano tossed in four. Petite added another two. Yet the Bellboys managed to outscore them 20-14 as the score blossomed to a 63-44 advantage for the Bellboys. Complementing Anderson was forward Anthony Cotugno. Cotugno had a fine evening as he scored 16 points and pulled down four rebounds.

The fourth quarter was a low scoring affair yet the cagers managed to hold on to a 12-11 quarter advantage. Senior Bob Sanders was the high scorer in the period as he tossed in four points and grabbed six rebounds. Baumgartner, Cotugno, Anderson, and Pat Hogan added two points apiece to finish the cagers scoring for the evening.

As the Big Ten competition grows in intensity, the Bellboys will quickly find out how much they have improved over last year's squad. As it has been mentioned before, the competition has improved greatly. Tomorrow's contest with the Bengals will be a good indicator of the Bellboys progress. At Bloomfield the team will play before a large crowd at the big Bloomfield gym. The game stands right now to be one of the biggest of the season.

Skating Enthusiasts in Area Can Spend Holidays on Ice

Skating fans and hockey enthusiasts will have a gala holiday of activity when the Essex County Park Commission opens the two-week Christmas-New Year's skating programs at the South Mountain Arena, West Orange and the Branch Brook Ice Center on the Newark-East Orange city line, Saturday, Dec. 22.

To accommodate the number of school youths whose vacations have been extended through January 6, both rinks have added special sessions as well as scheduled hockey games. It promises to be fun for all.

Between the two facilities, there will be public skating sessions every day except Christmas and New Years, high school, minor league and semi pro hockey games.

At South Mountain, the holidays get off to a festive start Saturday, December 22, with three public skating sessions and concludes with a hockey doubleheader Sunday, January 6.

South Mountain will provide three sessions each day except for the two holidays and Sunday evenings when hockey takes the spotlight. Otherwise there will be morning (9:30-noon), afternoon (3:30 to 5:30) and evening, 8-10:30 and 8:30 - 11:00 on Friday throughout the week. The weekend will offer a wide variety of skating times with morning sessions from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., afternoon sessions from 2:15 to 4:30 and a Saturday night program from 8:30 to 11 p.m.

Then there's high school hockey. During the two-week schedules 16 North Jersey Scholastic Hockey League games will played with doubleheaders each day between December 24-31 and a tripleheader on Friday, Dec. 28. All opening games will start at 12:15 each day.

The South Mountain Rockets will add their excitement to the program with three games for the vacationers. Sunday, Dec. 23, the Rockets faceoff against the Koho Americans; December 30 they host the Lenox Jerseys in a Northeastern U.S. Hockey League clash and Sunday, January 6 the Rockets conclude the holiday activity in the nightcap of a doubleheader, facing the rejuvenated Newark Brewers, at 8 p.m. Seton Hall meets Montclair in the opening game, a NJSHL encounter.

A doubleheader played before 400 enthusiastic fans at St. Peter's gym recently opened the basketball season for the Grammar School Independent League.

The games featured St. Rose of Lima of Newark against St. Thomas of Bloomfield, with St. Valentine's taking on hosts St. Peter's in the nightcap.

In the first game, St. Rose battled evenly with St. Thomas, but pulled out to win in the second half, 35-25.

In the nightcap, St. Valentine's ran into a cold streak went the entire first half without a field goal, and were down 26-7 by the end of the first half. The game didn't improve much for them in the second half as St. Peter's breezed to an easy 55-26 win.

In other league action, St. Bridget's of Newark outpointed Our Lady of the Lake (Verona) by the count of 44-24.

As the league swung into its second week, St. Bridget's had to hold off a strong St. Thomas rally and win by five points, 58-53. Then in one of the most exciting games seen in area grammar school play, St. Peter's battled evenly with a strong St. Rose club until breaking it open in the final two minutes to win their second game by a score of 49-41. Valentine's of Bloomfield hosted Our Lady of the Lake of Verona and came out with a hard-fought 56-43 win.

After two games, St. Peter's leads the league in scoring with a 52 points per game average. The Petreans also lead in defense, giving up 33.5 points per game.

own this year," said Silvestri. "He's been a very good wrestler to begin with, but he's shown 100 percent improvement."

Cozzarelli will compete in the spot formerly held by Anthony Villano. This season, the junior who copped a district crown has moved up to 122 pounds. "He had a very good season last year," said Silvestri, "and he's improved his abilities since then. I'm hoping he's state material."

At 129 pounds will be Donald Liloia, a senior with two years on the Jayvee squad under his belt. Although he had been narrowly edged out for the position last season by Bob Willete, who has since graduated, Liloia did see some varsity competition.

Chuck Rilli, a senior, who also spent two years on the Jayvee team and was hampered by injuries last season, will hold down the 135-pound position this year. His greatest asset, said Silvestri, "is a vast knowledge of moves."

Coming in during the last half of the varsity season last year was senior Bill Mazza who, said Silvestri, "possesses plenty of speed and strength, and did well in the matches he wrestled last year."

Co-captain senior Ralph Fabiano a regional contender last year, has "improved every day" this year, according to his coach, "and he's been competing in tournaments all summer." Silvestri said Fabiano had developed well as a wrestler last season, and like Villano, is expected to go far this year in the 148-pound class.

Joe Vazquez, another senior veteran from last year's winning team, is slated to open at the 157-pound position today. "Joe still lacks a few moves, but he's picking them up," reported Silvestri. This week, the senior was still facing a challenge for his spot from another sophomore who enjoyed an undefeated frosh season, Michael DeJoseph.

Senior co-captain Craig Davis, who was slowed down by injuries last year, will compete in the 170-pound class, and Silvestri says this switch from 178 will help, since it's closer to Davis' own weight. "He's drilling hard and improving every day, and barring injuries, Craig should do well this year."

At 180 is the squad's third co-captain, Jim La Conti, also a senior who had a good year on the mat last season. "He's got a good deal of strength and is picking up speed," said Silvestri, who expects continued success from La Conti this year.

Heavyweight class remained a question mark this week as two contenders were expected to "wrestle off" for the position. A junior, John McManus will face a sophomore, Ken Milano, who saw no defeats in his frosh competition. Both weigh about 210 pounds.

The potential of the Wayne Valley visitors remained a question mark this week, but Silvestri believes the December 29 tournament will give a truer indication of the Bellboy power than will the opening match. Top caliber competition will face the Bellboys in Seton Hall, Bloomfield, West Essex, Irvington, West Orange, Kearny and Glen Ridge.

Besides the Bloomfield Invitational and the Essex County Coaches Tournament, the schedule this season carries 10 dual matches.

Xmas Tourney Foes Listed

After a Monday night meeting of coaches for the Bloomfield Invitational Tournament scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 29, Belleville mat mentor Jim Silvestri announced the Bellboys lineup will face the following opponents.

Vinnie Mustacchio (104) against Fennell of West Orange, seeded number two.; Bob Smith (108) versus del los Reys of Seton Hall (no seed); Bob Cozzarelli (115) will oppose fourth-seeded McMahon of West Essex; Anthony Villano, seeded second, will go against Updegrave of Bloomfield in the 122-pound contest; Don Liloia (129) will face third-seeded Kowalczyk of Irvington; Chuck Rilli (non-seeded) versus Glen Ridge's Smith at 135 pounds.

Bill Mazza (141) will oppose number two seeded Danning of Irvington; Ralph Fabiano (148), in the second seed will go against Sisco of West Essex; Joe Vazquez (158), also in the second seed, versus Bloomfield's Ward; Craig Davis (170), seeded first, against Leao of Glen Ridge; Jim La Conti, last year's tournament winner, is seeded second and will wrestle in the 180-pound event against Seiler of Glen Ridge; heavyweight Ken Milano (non-seeded) will meet Mueller of Glen Ridge.

Playground Jobs Open at Rec Dept.

The Recreation Department will conduct interviews for summer playground positions on December 27 and 28. Men and women who would like to be playground directors should telephone the Recreation office for an appointment, 759-3142 or 759-3121.

Directors with experience in conducting games teaching arts and crafts and working with youngsters from age six thru fourteen are being sought. Directors who have worked previously and wish to return must also re-apply.

HSA Displays Fur Fashions

by Liz Primamore

The Belleville High School Home and School Association sponsored its annual card party on Friday, Nov. 30 at 8 p.m.

The show featured a fashion show from the Flemington Fur Company. Fifty-nine fur pieces ranging in price from $495 to $7500 dollars were displayed by 14 models who paraded on an elevated ramp before 500 spectators.

Each model and his apparel were described by Miss Winifred Height from the company. The models were Barbara Rossi, James Attamante, Susan Lohle, Jim Cozzarelli, Marilyn McGrath, Ann Holsey, Judith Knight, Kay Shaughnessy, Susan Wientrob, Laura Mae Sudder, Esther Maltz, Ann Mattern, and Ethel Williamson.

Carl Frederic, director of public relations, stated that the purpose of the show was to entice people to come to the store. A similar show was presented at Belleville School Three and the outcome from this program was described as "great".

Over 70 prizes were raffled after the fashion show. Most merchandise was donated by local businesses and individuals. The larger prizes were a trip to Las Vegas and a television set.

Publicity was sponsored by committees from the Home and School Association.

VITAL LEARNING — Mrs. Andrea Schultz is shown while teaching one of three classes in reading at BHS. Sponsored by the English Department, there is a program for any student desiring to increase his reading skills.

Mrs. Schultz Teaches

Reading Courses Help Develop Key to the Learning Process

by Anne Molloy

Reading is the key through which we live our lives. At Belleville High School, teaching students to read effectively with sufficient comprehension is a main goal. The Reading Program, an integral part of the English Department, is under the supervision of Mr. Leonard Marciano.

The courses, taught by Mrs. Andrea Schultz, are divided into three levels which extend half a year each. A Reading Skills program is offered to the advanced college bound student. This class offers skills such as speed reading, vocabulary growth, and comprehension improvement. The next level is Corrective Reading, where the student builds up his reading capabilities compared with others in his grade level. The third level is the Remedial Group. Students placed in this level are generally poor readers and much time is spent on comprehension and development.

The Guidance Department works closely with the English Department by referring students to this course. Students enrolled in these classes must take a test to reveal their personal weak reading areas. At the completion of the course, the students take an evaluation test. These scores are then compared with the students initial scores. Mrs. Schultz is very pleased to state that there is usually a significant improvement in the students work.

"Our aim in the Reading Program is individualization," states Mrs. Schultz. "The teacher must gear herself to each student's particular needs. Developing good reading skills are essential; they affect every area of study.

Students are given access to such materials as the controlled reading machine, which emphasizes speed reading. The tape recorded readings are used for listening and reading skills. Newspaper work is also stressed. Articles are read aloud and questions concerning each one are asked of every student.

Mrs. Schultz teaches six classes a day, two of each level with an average of thirteen students in every class. She prefers smaller classes so that she may assist each student and give them her full attention. The friendly atmosphere within her classes results in everyone working together as one. Students are given the opportunity to openly discuss any difficulties they may have.

Looking towards the future, Mrs. Schultz sees a need for enlarging the program to accommodate more students. This will call for additional staff, a larger working laboratory, controlled reading stations, audio visual materials and a greater assortment of working books. A class for the foreign born, to teach students English as a second language, is also needed. Presently, Mrs. Schultz tutors these students outside normal class time.

Getting the Facts About Alcoholism

by Phyllis Rotundo

When you drink too much, do you get romantic? violent? punchy? sleepy? Did you know that if the average person drank one alcoholic beverage per hour, he would not be affected?

Education about Alcoholism is being taught to the sophomore health classes. Gilbert Decker from the New Jersey Council on Alcoholic Problems, visited Belleville High School's tenth graders recently. He talked about alcohol and answered any questions the students had.

His speech covered five major points: What alcohol is, what its effects are, reasons for drinking too much, driving effects, the problem drinker.

Mr. Decker stressed the fact that alcohol is a drug and should be treated as such. There is one alcoholic per four families in America. This makes it a number one social and drug problem. It is the third most critical problem next to heart and mental diseases.

Knowledge and education can bring down the horrible statistics of problems within families, on the job, driving, and male-female relationships. Mr. Decker believes that a new look is needed and it isn't so much the use but abuse of liquor.

Gilbert Decker speaks at schools, clubs, colleges, and churches. He has given the speech 35,000 times to 3/4 of a million people in the past ten years. He is involved with New Jersey people under twenty-five as well as older adults. When asked why he is interested in this type of work he replied, "I enjoy my work and am concerned".

This manner is a direct way to impress upon students the dangers of drinking. The same technique should be used to inform students about other problems of today.

Latin Language Dead? Not to These Students

by John Horutz

Does it sound strange to attend a Latin Class at 7:30 in the morning? Six girls are doing just that! Rachael Romero, Donna Stone, Mary Jane Izzo, Kathleen Fitzgerald, Connie Meyers, and Sandy Cronauer meet 7:30 to 8:00 a.m. Monday thru Thursday with Mr. Donovan to learn the fundamentals of Latin.

The students asked Mr. Donovan if he would conduct this class since Latin is not offered in the curriculum. The girls are receiving no credit for the course; however, Mr. Donovan has no doubt the students will be awarded the credit for their special interest in the subject. He also added the attendance is excellent and the class is progressing rapidly.

In March, the Latin class will participate in the National Latin Examination, administered annually, worldwide by the Association for the Preservation of Latin. Students throughout the nation scoring in the top third on the Examination receive a scholastic award.

Mr. Donovan summed up his views by stating, "I hope this class will rekindle the interest of the student body in Latin."

Two Dates To Remember

Dec. 26

Seniors who are planning to take the Achievement Tests in Belleville High School can still register up to this date, but since the regular registration is passed, you will have to pay a $4.00 late fee, for the January 12, 1974 test date.

Dec. 27

Deadline for the regular registration for the Scholastic Aptitude Test on February 2, 1974. (Belleville High is not a center for this test, but you can take it at other high schools.)

Reminder

All seniors should send in their applications to state colleges before the Christmas holidays. If you have not sent in at least one application, see Mr. Knuppel or Miss Williamson, before or after school.

School Four Kids Present Musicales

The second grades of School Four presented a Christmas musicale on Tuesday, Dec. 18 to the enjoyment of all who attended.

The teachers, Mrs. Magistro and Mrs. Balnichi put together some Christmas carols in a new way which proved delightful. Also included were the fifth and sixth grade chorus under the direction of Miss Snow who provided the audience with a group of Christmas Songs which put all in the holiday spirit.

The children in the special classes added to the festivities with a few holiday songs.

Christmastime

It starts in your own home—with little children's faces lighting up in joyous wonderment. The glittering tree. The beautiful and mysterious packages to be unwrapped. It's the time for families and friends to be together—sharing warmth and pleasure. It's the time to give thanks for all these good things. And, finally, it's the time for prayer. May joy and love and peace be everywhere. Soon. That's Christmastime.

Building Contractors Predict Sharp Drop in Construction

Building Contractors Association of New Jersey forecasts a sharp reduction on building construction in the state next year, (1974) based on a survey of the Association's general contractors.

Fuel and material shortages lead the major six reasons given in the survey for the depressing prediction. Building Contractors Association of New Jersey is the largest organization of its kind in the building and construction industry in New Jersey, representing contractors engaged in commercial, industrial and institutional building.

Because of the critical fuel and material shortage, the Association through its Managing Director, D. Bruce Evans, is suggesting to the New Jersey Users (Construction Council and organizations representing architects, that new building contracts contain clauses stipulating that, "In the event of unreasonable delay, disruption, or change occurring in the work as a direct or indirect result of the shortages, or energy related material shortages the owner or his representatives will have the responsibility to make an equitable adjustment in the contract price and the contract time."

The prediction of the construction reversal next year is based on a survey of Association members completed December 16, 1973. The key factors mentioned as detriments to new construction are:

Forty percent of the contractors indicate fuel shortages; forty percent indicate material shortages; thirty percent cite environmental restrictions; twenty percent mention interest rates; ten percent cite new Occupational Safety and Health Regulations, and six percent mention zoning restrictions.

"We also must bear in mind that with each passing week the fuel and material shortages/percentages in construction increases," Evans said.

He said his findings in the survey show a thirty-nine percent in new construction in 1974. He added: "Airport construction shows the biggest loss—100 percent percent—not one contractor can foresee any new airport construction. Our information indicates an overall reduction of 37 percent in educational construction, 29 percent in hospital construction, 28 percent in private construction and 23 percent in public construction.

The only optimistic note in the entire survey is that there is indicated a sixty percent (60) increase in waste treatment facility construction by our members.

It is also interesting to note that 40 percent of the respondents forecast an increase in construction management, 20 percent indicate an increase in design-build, and 20 percent indicate that 1974 will show an increase in turnkey operations.

In his message to New Jersey Users Council and the architects, he said that because of wide spread construction interruptions there is a logical hesitancy on the part of contractors to bid new work. And many owners are already indicating that they are afraid to request new bids because some may well be unreasonably high to cover the risks the contractor now has to assume.

The goal in seeking contract clause covering delays caused by shortages, Evans explained, "is to promote the orderly flow of bidding and contract awards at reasonable prices despite the shortages and the unforeseeable risks and problems they create for contractors and owners."

Safety Advice On Wallet Cards

In an unprecedented sweep, two million licensed drivers will be advised that drinking and driving do mix — to a point.

"Don't Drive Over Point Zero Five" is the message imprinted on two million wallet cards being distributed statewide with registration renewal applications by the N.J. Division of Motor Vehicles. Alcohol Countermeasures Project.

Roger Surprenant, ACP Coordinator, says, "The wallet cards are unique because they are the only available indexes that focus on a safe blood alcohol level — that is, point zero five. And it is highly unlikely that a driver who follows the .05% guidelines will ever be convicted of a drinking driving offense because at point zero five a driver is legally presumed sober." He added, "There is no presumption of sobriety beyond .05%."

Although studies have proven that measurable impairment begins at a blood alcohol concentration below .05%, all other wallet cards circulated nationwide concerning drinking driving include BAC levels in safe, risky, and unsafe categories. Point zero five represents a reasonable liquor consumption varying with weight that still allows most drivers to operate a motor vehicle responsibly.

Surprenant notes that the national 20,000 to 25,000 alcohol related traffic deaths are comparable to wiping out one-third of the populations of Hunterdon and Warren Counties each year. "When drivers modify their behavior, that is, when they become more conscious of their use of alcohol before getting behind the wheel, there will be significant relief from the drinking driving problem," he says.

Noting that alcohol affected crashes have an impact beyond the resulting grief and heartbreak which cannot be measured, he reports that alcohol related traffic deaths are a financial burden to the people of New Jersey in excess of $15 million annually and may be as high as $75 million, depending on whether a value is placed on life expectancy.

"As drinking drivers respond to our 'Don't Drive Over Point Zero Five' watchword and become cognizant of its implications, we hope to see a gradual reduction of drinking driving fatalities," says Surprenant. However, he notes that results will only be evident after long-term study of accident statistics. The Alcohol Countermeasures Project, funded through the Office of Highway Safety, operates in Bergen, Middlesex, Warren, and Hunterdon counties testing most effective measures that will eventually be implemented statewide.

Shakespearean Comedy At Wm. Paterson Tonight "As You Like It," one of Shakespeare's most popular comedies, will be performed by the National Shakespearean Comedy at William Paterson College tonight.

Under the sponsorship of the Student Government Cultural Affairs Committee, the production will be presented at 8 p.m. in Shea Auditorium on the campus at 300 Pompton Road in Wayne. General admission is $2.00, $1.50 for senior citizens. Tickets will be available at the door or at the Cultural Affairs office (201-881-2335). Free parking is available to those entering the campus via gate three.

Farm Milk Prices Rises 11 Cents from October

A uniformed price of $8.70 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for November milk deliveries to pool handlers under the New York-New Jersey marketing order was announced today by the Market Administrator, Thomas A. Wilson. The uniform price was $8.59 in October and $6.87 in November 1972.

The butterfat differential for November milk testing higher or lower than 3.5 percent is 8.6 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat.

Parkway Launches Winter Safety

The New Jersey Highway Authority today launched its annual winter safety campaign on the Garden State Parkway with emphasis on the need for careful vehicle maintenance and the value of using car seat belts and tough-tread tires in cold weather.

"In the interests of safety," Authority Commissioner Harry D. Sussna said, "It is important to keep vehicles in good operating condition, to fasten seat belts and to have adequate tires at all times, but these precautions become increasingly more vital under the hazards of winter driving. Through our annual special efforts on the Authority-operated Parkway in the wintertime, we seek to arouse greater public awareness of the need to follow these safety steps in the cold-weather months of December through March."

Recommended precautionary measures, he noted, include the keeping of adequate supplies of gasoline in car tanks, the checking of batteries to make certain they have sufficient life to meet the needs of cold-weather starting and driving, the use of sufficient anti-freeze ingredients in car radiators.

Byrne Urged To Postpone Auto Deadline

The Public Affairs Council of the New Jersey AAA Automobile Clubs today urged Governor-elect Brendan Byrne to introduce legislation that would postpone the rapidly approaching February 1 deadline by which all New Jersey automobiles will have to meet tough air pollution control standards. On that date the state's auto inspection station are scheduled to start rejecting cars that cannot meet emission standards.

Frank Quinn, chairman of the AAA council, emphasized that implementation of the new program could have a disastrous effect on New Jersey's dwindling gas supply. "It's a recognized fact that any of the approved air pollution control devices drastically reduce gasoline mileage," Quinn said. "I cannot think of a worse time for the state to insist that drivers meet these new standards and thereby either increase gas demands or reduce the mileage a motorist can expect on his present gas supply."

Quinn said the AAA also believes that state and federal officials directly involved in the energy crisis should examine the tremendous gas savings that could result if emission controls on '72, '73 and '74 models could be temporarily disconnected during the emergency. Quinn said leaders in the automotive field point out that substantial savings in gasoline could be achieved by this method.

He cautioned, however, that there are certain models of cars on which emission controls are an integral part of the engine design, and emphasized that the AAA is not suggesting that anyone attempt to disconnect emission controls on late model cars until and unless official approval is given.

Bike Thefts On the Rise, Say Insurers

"Imagine a line of bicycle, 'fender to fender,' going more than two times around the world. That's how many bikes are now being used in the U.S. — about 60 million," states the Insurance Brokers Association of N.J.

"About 14 million new bikes are sold each year, costing about $1.4 billion, and this has brought many problems. Among them are bike thefts, and protection against suits and judgments for bodily injury and property damage for the ever-increasing number of accidents."

"Bike theft has now become big business. Theft 'rings' have been uncovered that have been sweeping thru and area, filling a truck with stolen bikes, and then taking them to a factory. There they are sandblasted, serial numbers filed off, repainted, and sent out as new bikes."

"Controlling bike theft is extremely difficult. Most communities don't require registration; many owners don't know the serial numbers; and some don't even remember the maker's name. Even where such information is available, it frequently doesn't help, as stolen bikes are usually sold in distant cities."

"Because of the frequency of losses, bike insurance has become a difficult problem. Some protection is provided by Homeowners and Tenants policies, usually with a $50. deductible. Bicycle 'floater' policies are available in some companies, covering theft and other physical damage, but where obtainable, they don't provide any protection for bodily injury, property damage, or medical payments for 'members of the public'."

27, and he expects building to begin in the spring.

Marotti said the original Camp Carragher site off Hill

Street between Liberty and Chestnut began to look less attractive when neighbors questioned the possibility of heavy traffic in the area.

Marotti said an investigation showed possible problems in the laying of water and sewer lines to the proposed building. Then it was noted the new senior citizen mini-bus route was to run past the Mill Street property donated by the Jorgens Company many years ago. Marotti said he decided to take advantage of the boon to transportation and erect the clubhouse on the Franklin and Mill site. A semi-circular driveway will allow the bus to pull up to the doorway of the clubhouse, eliminating any traffic hazards.

The building itself, originally planned as 30 feet by 70 feet, may now become as long as 80 or 90 feet, said Marotti, and will be equipped with removable room dividers which can break down the one-room structure into three smaller rooms. Besides rest rooms, the building will include a kitchen, will be air-conditioned and heated.

Behind the building will be a baseball field, two bocce courts, two deck shuffle layouts and several barbecue pits. "We also plan to put in lighting," said Marotti, "and when the energy situation permits, we'll be able to turn them on at night." The entire area will be landscaped.

Cereal foods are great extenders. Used with more costly protein foods, they help make more servings - like spaghetti and meat balls, for example. Oatmeal can be used in meat loaf. Dry milk makes the loaf larger, too.

Golden Comments

with respect to the enforcement of alternate parking between December 15, 1973 to and including March 31, 1974, is hereby suspended and will take effect immediately upon final passage in accordance with law." The measure was adopted at the Nov. 27, 1973 meeting.

Thanks a lot, Chief Joe Smith. I appreciate your kind consideration in assisting to advise our readers of the suspension of the regulations and also commend our town commissioners for their understanding consideration of the great inconvenience that might result from enforcement of the measure during heavy snow accumulations.

Despite the gloomy picture looming on the horizon affecting our mobility as a result of the gasoline shortage, with its prospect of rationing, one bright spot seems to appear. While it is only now in the discussion stage and unofficial, it does seem likely, through the persistent efforts of Commissioner Vincent Strumolo and the diligent work of his efficient coadjutor Ralph M. Risoli, that additional restored public transportation may become available to our citizens in sections now lacking service.

If plans now contemplated and Public Utility Board approval is granted it appears likely that improvement will be offered in Transport of New Jersey service on what used to be the old No. 28 Summer Ave., Route, through both Nutley and Belleville which will offer 22 trips in both directions throughout the day between 6:17 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., with varying intervals spread to accommodate the periods of heaviest riding. The new service, if instituted, will be designated 13 A. a leg of the heavily ridden Broad line. The new leg would, going into Newark, start in Nutley at Darling and Kingsland Aves., follow the route of the old No. 28 line, and Kingsland Aves. follow the route of the old No. 28 line over Franklin Ave. to Joralemon and Union Ave., then continue down Joralemon St. to Washington Ave. where it will turn right and proceed on the regular 13 Broad route. Return trips of the new 13 A Broad line would follow the same course in reverse pattern.

If sanctioned and put into effect appropriate schedules will be available for the riding public. The contemplated new service should offer a little better means of getting about and Comm. Strumolo merits compliments for his long, persistent efforts to bring about improvement in our community's public transportation needs.

While discussing the increasingly important role buses must now play in transporting people in this emergency gas-shortage age, I should be remiss were I to neglect to mention the recent appointment of Mr. Samuel Spinelli of 144 Pake St., Nutley N.J. by Transport of New Jersey to the position of District Superintendent of maintenance.

With his 38 years of service in keeping the behemoth vehicle of TNJ's huge rolling stock in excellent mechanical condition it is imperative that now, in this energy crisis, that we may call upon his highly trained skill and experience to keep our big buses rolling. Without them, how else could we get about to our jobs or meet our other travel needs? We need them now. He will keep them rolling.

This Week's Horoscope

(December 22 through December 28)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): What you have searched for can be found, Ari, but you will discover it only if you abandon the festive lights. Seek out the quiet places. Delightful gift lies waiting. (And not under the Christmas tree, either.)

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Key to successful week is careful planning. Chaos results if you don't get your affairs (?) under control. Chances are you've already left too much to chance. Member of another generation needs you, Taurus. Not words, not gifts, just YOU. On last day, relax with friends. Kick off your boots and enjoy a hot toddy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You are much admired, Gem, so ignore words of chowderhead who, out of jealousy, would like nothing better than to blow your ego to smithereens. Surprise arrives. In this case, Gem, it is not so much the thought that counts, but the gift itself. So relax your bones and enjoy, enjoy!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): It will be "over the meadow and through the wood" for most Moonbabies. Journey can have happy ending as vital, new relationship is launched. Those of you sweet things who remain close to home have opportunity to tighten old ties. Study words to Gem for secret message.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Travel highlighted. What seems highly unlikely to occur is very likely to happen this week and you, Leo, will relish every crazy minute. The sweetness of friendship will be offered. Relationship can be rare one, based on laughter and the sharing of mutual goals. Eros smiles on you before week jingles to an end.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Those of another generation drain you of energy. Seek help from trusted friend. It isn't really necessary for you, sweet Virg, to do ALL the chores, you know. Before last day, take a little time for some fa-la-la-la-ing.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Be totally liberated in week ahead, Libra, and loiter under the mistletoe every chance you get. You have a shy admirer who stands in the shadows just waiting for you to take notice. So what are you waiting for?

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Stay as close to home as much as possible, Scorp. And remember, dear Scorp, home is where your love is. Accept with grace unexpected gift. Contrary to popular opinion, it is often more blessed to receive than it is to give. On last day, jingle your little bell (or belle) whichever the case may be.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Travel and messages highlighted. Others find you stimulating. (More than usual, that is.) In truth, Sai, your flashing charm will put all holiday decorations to shame. Unexpected encounter could prove to be beginning of something rather special. You call the shots.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Enjoy holiday mood, Cap. Contact those who love you. It is written that if you spread one joy, you dispel a hundred cares. A fire kindled long ago apt to blaze anew. Keep your asbestos poncho handy.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18), One with secret key may open hidden door to your heart. New bond can be formed. You're a natural giver, Aquari, and in week ahead you have chance to give, give, give. However, you would be wise to hold back just a smidgen as far as energy is concerned, because next week you're REALLY going to need it. Week ends on note of sheer delight.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): New chapter about to begin, Pisces. Say good-bye to the drab days. With a little effort on your part, your life can begin to resemble a richly-textured tapestry. Complicated, yes. But intensely fascinating.

STAR SKATERS — The skillful skating of Jo Jo Starbuck and Ken Shelley, U.S. National Pair Champions, highlights the excitement and glamour of Ice Capades at Madison Square Garden January 8-20.

Parkway to Offer Free Coffee, Tea

The New Jersey Highway Authority's version of "one for the road" will be continued during the Christmas and New Year's eve-morning periods, when free drinks of non-alcoholic varieties will be served to its Garden State Parkway patrons.

Authority Commissioner Harry D. Sussna today announced that the restaurants on the Authority-operated road will offer coffee, tea or milk—and Toll House cookies too—without charge from 9 p.m. December 24 to 9 a.m. December 25 and during the same 12 hours of December 31 and January 1.

"The program, the 17th annual, is conducted in the interests of safe driving," Commissioner Sussna said. "It could be called the 'pause that refreshes' during the festive holiday season. We recommend that all Parkway motorists, especially those who have been partying, interrupt their holiday travels by stopping at roadside restaurants for a drink lacking alcohol."

When the Parkway launched the free-drink idea on January 1, 1958, it confined the offer to New Year's Day. Later on, it added Christmas to the program. Meanwhile the concept caught on elsewhere and became an annual holiday practice among toll roads in general.

Commissioner Sussna said that toll collectors on both of the coming holidays will present invitation cards with safety messages to drivers as they pass the toll booths, but the Parkway restaurants will give the free refreshments to all who ask, even if they don't have the formal requests in hand.

The safety message on the invitation calls attention to the new 50-mile-an-hour speed limit adopted by the Parkway because of the current energy emergency and also to such safety needs as keeping right and passing left, using car seat belts and replacing bald tires.

"If your car breaks down," the safety message notes, "don't walk on the Parkway. Help will come."

The safety drinks with cookies will be offered by the Howard Johnson and Holiday House operators of Parkway restaurants. All of the food sites on the toll road will be involved except the southernmost, Seaville, which is closed every winter.

'Bicycle Mania' Has Its Pitfalls

"Imagine a line bicycles, tender to tender," going more than two times around the world. That's how many bikes are now being used in the U.S. — about 60 million," states the Insurance Brokers Association of N.J.

"About 14 million new bikes are sold each year, costing about $1.4 billion, and this has brought many problems. Among them are bike thefts, and protection against suits and judgments for bodily injury and property damage for the ever-increasing number of accidents."

"Bike theft has now become big business. Theft rings have been uncovered that have been sweeping thru an area, filling a truck with stolen bikes, and then taking them to a factory. There they are sandblasted, serial numbers filed off, repainted, and sent out as new bikes."

"Controlling bike theft is extremely difficult. Most communities don't require registration; many owners don't know the serial numbers, and some don't even remember the maker's name. Even where such information is available, it frequently doesn't help, as stolen bikes are usually sold in distant cities."

"Because of the frequency of losses, bike insurance has become a difficult problem. Some protection is provided by Homeowners and Tenants policies, usually with a $50 deductible. Bicycle 'floater' policies are available in some companies, covering theft and other physical damage, but where obtainable, they don't provide any protection for bodily injury, property damage, or medical payments for 'members of the public.'"

"It is thought that before long one or more companies will offer complete bicycle insurance, along the lines of automobile and motorcycle insurance. Until then, bike owners who aren't covered by Homeowners or Tenants policies should secure Per-

Wins Science Award

Thomas Sanders, 485 Union Avenue, was named winner of the annual Bausch & Lomb Science Award last week at Belleville High School. The presentation will be made by Raymond O. Smith, principal at the annual awards buffet dinner.

"The Bausch & Lomb Science Award is especially significant because it recognizes our senior with the highest scholastic standing in science subjects," Smith said.

As winner of the award, he is eligible to compete for a four year Bausch & Lomb Science Scholarship at the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y. Scholarship winners are selected on merit and stipends, based on need, could range up to $4,500 per year.

The Science Award — bronze Medal — is presented each year to winners at more than 8,600 participating schools throughout the United States and Canada.

Surveys indicate that the award has encouraged more than 30 percent to the winners to follow scientific careers.

kindness would grow into such a worthwhile and expanding project.

Dick's first student did so well and derived so much pleasure from her lessons that other visually handicapped youngsters came to Dick for lessons. In just a few years the number of his students grew to 15, the Fieldhouse basement was converted into a music studio, and Dick and his wife Martha were devoting all their evenings and weekends to their work with these youngsters. Members of the community, hearing about this meaningful project, offered their help in increasing numbers. In 1969 the Music Foundation for the Visually Handicapped was officially established. Today with Dick Fieldhouse as its full-time music director the organization has 50 active members and 100 associate members.

The popularity of the program among the visually handicapped is due to the variety of opportunities, both musical and social, offered to every student. Guitar, banjo, bass guitar, drums, organ, piano and clarinet are just some of the instruments taught. All students are taught initially by ear with the use of simple chords. Music theory is introduced gradually as the student progresses. Along with individual instruction all students are provided with lesson and song books, in braille for the totally blind and in bold print for the partially sighted. Musical tapes are also supplied to each student so that they can practice along with the songs they are learning.

The Music Foundation has six performing groups and these groups meet for practice on a weekly basis at the Emmanuel Baptist Church in Ridgewood. The students have performed for various social organizations throughout the state. The encouragement and praise given to the students by the public builds confidence and creates a great learning incentive. Among the many performances planned for the following year the students will perform for the Lions Annual Convention in Atlantic City in June.

Group practices, performances and the other social gatherings of the Foundation provide an opportunity for social interaction often lacking in the lives of the visually handicapped. Meeting with new people and discussing common interests and problems has a positive effect on all the MFVH students, both young and old. By the way, there is no age limit set for students and as of today the age range is from 6 to 56.

Many New Jersey social clubs are giving their support to the Foundation. The Lions International have been of great help to the program and the Lions of District 16 A have made the Foundation a major project. The New Jersey Federation of Junior Womens Clubs as well as many Rotary and Kiwanis clubs have also given a good deal of assistance in the growth and expansion of the MFVH. If the Music Foundation is to be able to provide its services to the more than 11,000 visually handicapped residents of New Jersey, and this is its goal, then much more help is needed. Financial support, help with transportation, and the organizing of chapters throughout the state are on the top of the list. Dedicated volunteer instructors, especially in guitar and banjo are being sought. Good ear players as well as those more knowledgeable in music theory are eligible to teach. Teaching aids and expert counseling are provided to all instructors.

Information about the MFVH program, student and instructor applications as well as applications for student performances or a showing of the MFVH film can be obtained by writing to Music, Box 569, Ridgewood, New Jersey 07451. Information about the Music Foundation's Annual Charity Ball, which will be held on April 13, 1974 at the Imperial Manor, Route 4, Paramus, can also be obtained through the same source.

To understand the significance of the Music Foundation program one has only to look at Ed Scrozynski, Ed, who lives in Belleville, during the school year, is completing an extremely active senior year at Jersey Prep in Newark. Ed commutes from Belleville to Ridgewood several times a week in order to practice with the main performing group and help instruct other students in the less experienced groups. The Music Foundation is giving Ed the opportunity to learn more about the music he loves, and Ed in turn is helping the Music Foundation by sharing his knowledge and experience with other students. Somehow this seems to make life a little more pleasant for Ed, for the Music Foundation and for all of us.

SHARING HIS TALENT — Eddie Scrozynski of Union Avenue is shown as he teaches another blind youth some fine points on the guitar. The Music Foundation for the Visually Handicapped encourages student involvement in the teaching process.

LIFE HEALTH

CHIROPRACTIC FOR Pinched Nerves

PAIN — headache, backache, shoulder pains, arm and chest pains, a multitude of assorted pains in all parts of the body — develops quickly when the spinal cord or one of its nerves is pinched.

Pain may appear at the point where the nerve is pinched, or it may make its appearance in that part of the body served by the pinched nerve.

A pinched nerve can, and often does, lead to the development of disease conditions in the kidneys, bladder, liver, lungs, heart or other vital organs.

The chiropractor is an expert in one of the most advanced healing arts known to man. Through his soothing, professional spinal adjustments, he restores the normal flow of powerful nerve energy through the spinal cord and the nervous system to all muscles, organs and other vital parts of the body to bring lasting, effective relief.

With proper nerve energy flow restored, nature heals from within, eliminating discomfort and banishing disease.
