

A Budget Capsule

Since the appeal for the restoration of $214,036 cut by Town Commissioners from last year's proposed school budget has not yet been resolved, interpretation of the increase for the 1974-75 proposal can be made in two basic ways.

Board of Education officials maintain the decision by the State Commissioner of Education to restore the $214,036 would revise the 1973-74 budget to a total of $5,942,237. Using that base figure, the increase in this year's proposal would amount to $347,496.50, or a 4.6 percent hike. This amounts to approximately a 15 point tax hike.

However, after last year's cut made in the budget by Town Commissioners, the amount actually raised by local taxes for schools totaled $5,728,201. If passed by voters, the new budget would require $6,289,733.50 in school taxes — a 24 point tax increase.

Unless the appeal for the $214,036 is resolved by March 31, when local taxes must be certified, the 24-point figure stands the closest estimate of the increase in school taxes.

The following is a summary of the various accounts: as reduced by the Commissioners in 1973-74; as the funds were restored by the Commissioner of Education; as the 1973-74 taxes would have been revised without the appeal of the restoration; as the 1974-75 school taxes would be set, if passed; as the accounts would increase or decrease from last year's budget as reduced by Town Fathers.

Looking Back: Just How Great Were Those 'Good Old Days?'

By Town Historian
Allan Crisp

Our first mayor, Hughie Holmes, in his charming "History of Belleville", written in the early nineties, tells of "the good old days" in the following fashion:

"He likes to think of his boyish days, and takes pleasure in remembering the first pair of boots he wore, and how elated he was as he paced over the ground with them. It was a big thing for a boy only six years old to step in boots, and the first pair of trousers, made of seersucker, with pockets. It is very different now. Boys must have both of these as soon as they can twaddle, and some of the girls, too. These days even after they become young ladies, cling to them in preference to thirteen yards of calico.

"He remembers some incidents when he was but a small boy, how he was made to get out of bed in his red flannel night dress and before company speak his pieces, such as "The Rose Has Been Washed", etc. And going to parties where some of their plays were, if caught, to give pawns, to be redeemed by chasing the girl of their choice, and how he has chased them through the room, down stairs even to the cellar and on top of the woodpile, always sure to obey the rules laid down, after which — alone — she would return it with interest.

"And when but eight, he took from his father's box, a morsel of tobacco, to make himself a man, and how soon he felt the transformation taking place, and his resolve that if this was the way boys were transformed into men — he would remain a boy for some time, much preferring the slower and natural growth. He has the old box yet, and never looks at it but remembers his first chew to make himself a man.

"No hard coal to boil the kettle and keep us warm. Nothing but wood and turf. No matches to start the fire; nothing but flint, steel and tinder box with a shaving dipped in brimstone. No one cent postal cards, if you want to send a letter you must first pay eighteen cents. Nothing but the old, slow stage coach, or what was slower still, the passenger canal boat, which would take you one week to gain the same distance."

The only similar case to go to the civil course involved the Board of Education in Haledon versus the governing body of that town. The 1969-70 school budget in that town had been defeated and the case was appealed to the Commissioner of Education, who restored $55,000 of the money. The governing body took the case to the state Board of Education, where it lingered for a year. Meanwhile, the Haledon Board of Education committed the disputed funds, but the governing body refused to raise the money through taxation. When the Haledon schoolers finally took the case to court, the judge dismissed the case and the trustees were left with bills and no money to pay them.

The only department that has submitted its portion of the municipal budget is the Department of Public Affairs. McCoy said the deadline for introduction of the budget is February 11, but the Town can get an extension to February 28, if necessary.

Last year's tax rate was set at $5.97 per $100 of assessed valuation. Of that sum, $1.72 to the Town budget, $2.45 to school taxes and $1.72 to the county government. An additional $.08 was earmarked for veterans and senior citizens.

The Essex County budget was expected to be settled sometime this week, and that would leave only the municipal figures outstanding in the calculation of the tax rate, after Wednesday's vote on the school budget.

If the school budget is voted down, it is sent to the Town Commissioners, who recommend appropriate cuts.

Unless the Town drops the appeal, Bellevilleites are not likely to be taxed this year for those restored funds, which would amount to another nine tax points. In fact, it may be another full year before the case is finally settled.

Belleville's projected tax levies for 1974 cannot be projected yet as in past years, Town Treasurer Francis T. McCoy said this week.

The municipal budget remains unprepared, he said, and Belleville has not been notified about the amount it shares the new budget for Essex County. Only the proposed 1974-75 school budget is completed, and the anticipated taxation from that has been interpreted in different ways. School board officials say the increase over the budget as ordered revised by the state Commissioner of Education yields a net tax rate increase of 15 points but a comparison of projected school tax levies for 1974 elections had turned excessive in this campaign. The expected destruction of campaign signs, rumor-mongering and questionable electioneering, local observers say, has been carried onto a greater degree than in any election of recent years. However, no serious violations have yet been documented.

Overriding other campaign issues is the question of school financing, with incumbent Board President Lawrence Schartz and, to a lesser degree, incumbent Matthew Pica, defending present Board policies against the critical onslaughts of former Town Councilman James Golden and Town Registrar Ralph Risoli. While running separate campaigns, both Risoli and Golden have based their appeals to voters on similar allegations of "waste and inefficiency" in the school system.

Pica, meanwhile, has closely identified his campaign with that of former school Seven Principal Mrs. Viola Spray, who seeks an elective office for the first time. While Pica has widely advertised his minority stands he took during his single term on the

Daniels Seeks New Priorities

A Belleville resident for 20 years, Daniels has a convincing resume to state his qualifications to a Board seat. After graduating from Rutherford schools, he picked up his B.A. at Fairleigh Dickinson University, and a masters' in administration and supervision at Newark State College. After two years of teaching elementary school in Bergen County, he came to teach general science at School Four from 1958-62.

In 1963, he was awarded a fellowship under a National Science Foundation grant to attend Columbia University for biology and physics courses, and he has since taken courses at five area colleges.

After teaching in Westchester County, N.Y. for two years, Daniels came to Newton High School in 1964, where he teaches and coordinates the distributive education program, which concentrates on students who will not enter college after their high school graduation. Daniels is concerned that Belleville has no such program, even though most of the cost of distributive education is borne by the state. "Of all towns with such an industrial and business background, where many children don't go on to college, Belleville is a very likely town for such a program. A hundred and forty towns have it, the program is 35 years old and Belleville is just learning about it."

At Newton High, Daniels also sponsors a flying club, and he directs the students in building their own airplane. (At age 14, Daniels was America's youngest airplane mechanic during World War II). And he's bothered that the Newton school system has cut back late buses which take his students home from their after-school projects. "It's a fact that money is short and they have no way of allocating funds for projects that have real meaning."

Despite Belleville's record in rejecting school budgets (one passage in nine years), Daniels believes the people can't be blamed for mistrusting the school system. "The nationwide trend has been to turn down school budgets—it's the only tax people can vote on. But it's up to the Board to sell the town on the need for more money and work hard to get the budget passed. This board fights among themselves, they let rumors get out, they send out trial balloons. It's strictly Madison Avenue."

The current campaign is not the only event keeping Daniels busy throughout the

Constantino Views Future of Schools

"Let's Look Ahead" is Rocco Constantino's campaign slogan during his first-time bid for a Board seat. And he's been raising the issues that confront Belleville now and will continue to be with the town in coming years.

Constantino has come out for cable television hooked into the school system, updated school budget planning, increased drug education and vigilant local control of the school system, among other issues.

emphasizing his background as a business administrator for Patrick House in Jersey City, a drug treatment center which gives daily medical aid to 1,050 hard-core addicts. In his position, Constantino prepares budgets, oversees hiring of personnel and supervises maintenance of buildings at 20 different sites.

"Drug centers can't get into good neighborhoods," he says, "so the buildings are usually in pretty bad shape when we get them. So we put money into the buildings and fix them up. If the roof is bad, we repair it because we know if we don't we'll eventually have to get a whole new roof on there."

Constantino is directly responsible for $3.5 million in state and Federal grants that come into Patrick House, and he keeps a close eye on the spending. "Administration money is tight. Our concern has been for the clients first and expenses like office furniture go in the back seat."

After graduating from Seton Hall University with a degree in accounting, Constantino spent seven years at the Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington. After his ordination as a Roman Catholic priest, he served in parishes in Newark, Jersey City and Springfield from 1966-71. In 1971 he left the priesthood and soon took his present position at Patrick House, itself run by a priest.

He is a lifelong resident of Belleville, having attended School Four and Belleville High, then went on to join the Navy.

In the early 1960's he had held an appointive position with the Town as Director of Transportation.

Constantino is firm in his campaign stand for Belleville to join a pilot program which now includes four New Jersey school districts. The Planned Program Budget System would list all expense items and eliminate such categories as "contracted services" and "all other expenses," which inhibit full disclosure of budget allocations.

Constantino was one of a handful of Belleville residents to attend a Town Hall hearing on the desirability of awarding a cable television franchise here. While he's all in favor of the idea, he urged the Commissioners to "go slow," and draw their own ordinance before awarding a contract. "Belleville just wasn't ready for it at the time," he says, but expresses dismay that no local educators attended the hearing even though the school system would be allowed a channel of their own to generate programming for cable television. "It showed a lack of visionary thinking," he says.

While bussing has been brought up as a campaign issue, Constantino believes that possibility is not as likely as a consolidation of school districts by the state when a new method of school financing is devised to replace the local property tax. "This is one of the future problems the Board of Education will be faced with," he says. "My slogan is 'Let's Look Ahead' and I'm trying to tie that in with the daily problems of running a school system, such as overcrowding, salary negotiations and maintenance of buildings."

These "everyday problems" are directly related to the status of the school budget, and the candidate has some ideas on why those budgets are continually voted down.

Voters are sure those past budgets were padded. "If a housewife says she needs $50 more each month to feed a family, and her husband says he doesn't have it, then she'll find a way to scrape the money together and still feed the family."

"That's what's been happening here. Voters are saying 'they don't have the money for budget increases and then they see the Board can get along without the increase. In their minds they say, 'they must get along without the increase. In their minds they say 'the School Board must have the money in there,' and they conclude the budgets have been padded."

The Planned Program Budget System would be a big help to avoid this, he feels, and would like to explore the possibility of introducing the budget earlier, so residents could give it more study.

"I believe the major priority of the Board should be to restore the confidence of the people in the Board and restore reliance in our professional educators. This is the serious thing, the key to whether or not this Board or future Boards will be saddled with political patronage."

Constantino is married to the former Irene Monaghan, and the couple are expecting a child.

Campaign Trail

Pica Looks Back On First Term

Incumbent School Board member and candidate for reelection Matthew Pica this week made a final appeal to local voters, issuing the following statement:

"An the campaign draws to a close, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you personally for the privilege of serving you as a member of the Belleville Board of Education. In the past three years I have striven to give you the best possible educational system available within our means. I have tried to handle the problems and challenged that face public education while at the same time attempting to anticipate and provide for the educational problems that will eventually occur in the years to come.

"I sincerely believe that the resolutions and areas I have supported as a member of your Board of Education such as the better utilization of existing staff, the involvement of administrators and teachers serving jointly on a curriculum committee, the opening of caucus meetings to the public, the establishing of a course in drug education free of charge to anyone interested in our town through the adult school, and sponsoring the formation of the Belleville Music and Parents Association, will serve the people of Belleville tell for the foreseeable future.

"However, the problems are not all solved and the battles are not yet all won, as education stands today on the threshold of a new and brighter future. I deeply want to be a part of that future, serving once again as a member of your Board of Education.

"With this in mind, I appeal to you to support my candidacy in the coming election. I am hopeful, too, that you will discuss my candidacy favorably with your relatives and friends throughout the town.

Your vote and support on Election Day, February 13th, will be appreciated.

One way to become intelligent is to remember not to believe everything you see in print.

Risoli Advocates Defeat of Budget

Board of Education candidate Ralph Risoli this week issued a statement urging defeat of the proposed 1974-75 school budget "as a matter of principle."

Without condemning any particulars in the proposed package, Risoli charged that the Board had prepared the budget in anticipation of a defeat at the polls and subsequent paring by the Town Commissioners.

"In reviewing the 1974-75 budget, I have found many discrepancies, inconsistency of presentations, and false figures," he said.

"I personally believe that the board has, as in the past exaggerated the 1974-75 budget. They are once again anticipating the defeat of the school budget by the people and eventual cut by the Town Commissioners, which will level off their needs."

"Therefore, as a matter of general principle, I recommend the defeat of the 74-75 budget until and when it is prepared in a manner that is understandable by the citizen who foots the bill.

"Of course, teachers' and employees' salaries and wages are statutory, which means they must be provided for."

Wednesday Election

Heartbeat," which provides free heart screening to elementary school students in the Belleville system. She has chosen to stress the "positive aspects" of the Belleville school system during her campaign.

Taking up the economic issue, Rocco Constantino, also a first-time hopeful, has adopted a platform calling for budget planning reform, less "politicizing" by board members, and increased drug education courses in the schools.

Another educator in the race, David Daniels, is a high school distributive education teacher and coordinator in Newton. He likewise has promised to demand more "responsibility" on the part of administrators in the school system.

The proposed 1974-75 school budget, which totals $7,753,595.50 represents an increase of $357,496.50 over last year's proposal, say school officials, who point out this would mean a net increase of 15 tax points.

However, since that proposal was defeated by a 3-4 margin at the polls, and because the Board's appeal of subsequent cuts in the budget by Town Commissioners has not yet been resolved.

The tax increase represents a hike of $561,532.50 over the budget as it was reduced by Town Commissioners. That increase would amount to about 24 tax points (see chart).

Some of the appropriations cut from last year's budget found their way back into the tentative 1974-75 package, notably a proposal for seven new teachers, mostly for the Senior High School. Three teachers would be hired for a work-study program which would be financed halfway by state aid through reimbursement next year.

Some maintenance is also back in, though not in the extensive amount which last year say the budget scheduled for over a million dollar increases from the previous year.

Increases in the budget amount to about $420,000 in instructional salaries; almost $27,000 in pupil transportation costs; $20,000 in insurance; $25,000 in athletics; $86,000 in fuel textbooks.

Board of Education Vice President Caesar Romano this week issued a statement to Belleville voters, urging them to support the proposed budget. "We want the people of Belleville to see this as their budget for their schools. By voting for this budget, they'll own a piece of the rock.

"People have to realize we

Schwartz Says Involvement Of Townspeople Is Crucial

Incumbent Board of Education President Lawrence Schwartz, seeking reelection in Wednesday's election, this week made a general statement to wrap up his campaign.

"As the campaign comes to an end, it has been most rewarding and beneficial to learn the comments of so many concerned citizens. It is heartening to see that now so much importance is being placed on this educational system as well it should be," he said.

"Certainly, if there is one thing that is vital to a town, both those with students in school and those who realize that the strength of any community lies in that system. It is, of course, so much easier to criticize instead of offering constructive suggestions and even praise where praise is due. Our townspeople must realize that this is a great town with many fine qualities.

"As President of the Board of Education this past year, I have encouraged and sought community involvement — not by proposing ideas for the purpose of self praise, but rather by inviting those concerned residents to come forward and join us in contributing to the educational process.

"The Board of Education is comprised of seven individual members with seven points of view. However, it is incumbent upon each of them to band together with one common purpose — to further the educational goals of the system. In my tenure as Board President, I am proud to say that most of the Board members had cooperated in that spirit of common purpose and that together we shall move Belleville forward, joining those other progressive communities striving toward educational excellence.

"During this campaign I have reaffirmed my loyalty and sincere dedication to assisting the educational process. I will continue to strive to implement those ideas which will improve the system and create an atmosphere of learning where the total education of the child remains paramount.

"I shall continue to be on guard against waste and ineffectiveness, always striving for accountability and providing the best educational system possible commensurate with our ability to support it.

"Education, which has made this great country prosper, must continue to flourish and improve and to this end I commit and dedicate myself.

James Golden Zeros In On Rising School Taxes

James R. Golden, former town Councilman during the 1962-1966 period, now a candidate for a seat on the local Board of Education this week issued the following statement.

"It seems that whenever the town taxes go up the people in a wild clamor of indignation 'hit' the town employees, yet, they ignore the fact that even bigger increases caused by Board of Education action, cost our taxpayers the biggest part of the tax increase passed on to them."

"Why do they only pick on Town Hall employees cost of living increases when the biggest portion of our increasing tax burden is generated by Board of Education unnecessary expenditures?"

Continuing, Golden chided such indifference by the taxpaying public calling it "costly and unpardonable." He said, "Should their continued failure to participate in the up-coming School Board election on Wed.-Feb. 13, 1974, they will be playing into the designing hands of a clever few extravagant and generous minded school trustees associated with the fringe that has, to-date, dominated local educational policy for the past several years to the disastrous end that unfortunately finds some of our students lacking in the benefits of a desired thorough and efficient well rounded education for their years. All this despite the fact we pay as much for education as surrounding communities, without getting similar satisfactory results.

Golden warned that the present school board election "is most vital since it appears that Schwartz and Pica, if reelected, will propose and advocate a needless expensive 20-room addition to our present high school which could possibly be 'sneaked in' in spite of overwhelming public opposition, by some clever, strategic gimmick resulting from public apathy."

Concluding, Golden said, "With the penny-pinching need to overcome the 'crunch' of increasing costs brought about by the present energy crises and mounting taxation on all levels, it becomes obvious our economy cannot sustain the needless construction of additional classrooms that will never be utilized, and might even be employed as an excuse to 'bus' outside pupils

Mrs. Spray Bases Appeal On Her Years as Educator

Former School Seven Principal Mrs. Viola Spray, a candidate in Wednesday's School Board election, made a final statement this week urging voters to support her election bid.

"I remember looking out the window of Number Four School some twenty years ago and watching a young boy, fists flailing, wildly, pummeling another boy his age for what I later discovered he felt was a great injustice which the boy had treated him to," she said. "When I questioned him about it, he was outspoken without being rude, and very ready to fight for the things in which he believed. I saw him again, the other night, at one of my teas, he was still honest, still outspoken, and still fighting for the things in which he believed. He has two little girls now, a home to support, and he wants a good life for his family and a good education for his children. But he is worried, like the rest of us, about spiraling costs, the seeming dishonesty of too many people who hold political office, and the future of his town and his country.

"His questions of me and other board members were sharp and exacting, and as he stubbornly searched for the best candidate to vote for, I couldn't help but feel that he was a symbol of a changing time in our history — and a change for the better. The apathy of the American voter, I said to myself, is at long last passing, and with it will go many of the aspects of our current life that our children have found so unacceptable. And more than ever I knew it had all been worth it — a half century, almost, of work in the school system, and a vigorous and demanding campaign for this board of education election.

"For this young man is like many others I have met during the past weeks; their interest and willingness for open discussion is the backbone of democratic government and the American way of life and they are the product of freedom's most important institution — the public school system.

"That is why, after forty-six years of teaching and administering in that system, I have decided to run in this election to support the continuance and progress of that system and to protect and provide for its future. I am running.

"Because I believe that spiraling costs of education can and must be controlled without making our children the losers.

"Because I believe in and support the neighborhood school system.

"Because I want to see board of education decisions made only after consultation with those involved; taxpayer, teacher, and student, and because I know how important that is to community life.

"Because I know that costs can only be curtailed if all forces in the community work cooperatively and if there is a good working relationship between town officials and school officials — devoid of politics.

"Because I feel that good education can only come through ethical procedures, and only if we make proper use of our native talent, and only if our citizenry is informed and satisfied and supports our school system.

"Good government is a give and take proposition, but I think the people of this town and of this country in general are ready for their elected representatives to do a little more giving and a little less taking.

"I want to thank those who have supported me in this election, and those who so graciously opened their homes to me for teas. I want to thank in advance the small army who will appear on election day to stand in the cold to pass out information about me, to drive voters to the polls, to caretaker voting procedures as my challengers, to telephone, to give of themselves with only one purpose in mind — a desire for a good education for the young of this town and a board of elected officials that are responsive to the people they represent.

"Finally, I want to thank all those who make it a point to get out and vote, who remember that the largest part of their tax dollar is spent on education and that if it is not spent wisely, it is a waste not only of hard-earned dollars, but a devastating blow to the future of our young.

"But most of all, I want to thank those young men and women whose education I took part in years ago, but who treat me only as their equal today, who questioned me most strongly on my thoughts on education during this election, who kept me on my toes, and who would have shown me no support if I proved to be less than the type of candidate they feel this town and this election needs.

The School Board Election

Eight candidates are seeking three school board seats up for grabs next Wednesday, February 13.

Incumbent member Norma McCool said she has had enough and chose not to seek re-election. Norma is a fantastic citizen, dedicated to building a better Belleville. Throughout the years she has given of herself, at great personal sacrifice, to meet the obligations of a dedicated school board member. We regret Norma's decision. School board members like Norma McCool are hard to come by and her refusal to run is Belleville's loss.

Larry Schwartz and Matthew Pica are seeking re-election. We believe both Pica and Schwartz enjoy the highest of credentials and should be re-elected. They are both capable and dedicated. Each is independent of the other. Both have a dedication to Belleville and its future. Belleville voters are lucky to be able to be in the position of having the opportunity to re-elect both Larry Schwartz and Matthew Pica.

Seeking seats on the school board in addition to Pica and Schwartz are Mrs. Viola Spray, a retired local principal; Mrs. Rose De Luccio; Ralph Risoli, our Town Registrar; James Golden, The Belleville Times-News columnist; Rocco Constantino and Dave Daniels.

Through public appearances and stories in this newspaper the voters have been made aware of the candidates qualification for office.

The best interests of Belleville's school children, the community's reputation in the educational profession, and the best interests of our taxpayers should make it easy for voters to decide to re-elect Lawrence Schwartz and Matthew Pica.

This school board election is unique for Belleville for one very simple reason — there is no paucity of qualified candidates. Six able, dedicated citizens by declaring their candidacies have told the voters of Belleville they are willing to place Belleville's educational system ahead of their interest in their personal lives. Service on the school board is a great sacrifice. Night after night after night is spent on school board work — away from the family dining rooms and living rooms. This is quite a sacrifice for citizens to make — especially when one realizes they serve without pay.

Voters also are confronted with a decision to adopt or reject the school budget.

Belleville has a history of rejecting school board budgets. Such rejections have hurt the community's name and eventually has cost taxpayers more money than they thought they saved.

The school board members who put together the budget document are responsible, dedicated taxpayers. They do not wish to waste taxpayer dollars any more than any of us do — for in the end the burden of increased taxes is their's to share also.

The perennial outlook for school board budget approval is always a pessimistic one. The budget facing the people instills the same pessimism in us as well as in most people interested in better schools.

We hope voters will vote in favor of the school budget because delayed spending infringes upon the right of the child in this school year to the best available education at the least possible cost. Needed expenditures delayed end up as great taxpayer burdens.

The Gas Crisis

In the metropolitan areas of America citizens have been faced with a gas crisis of mounting magnitude.

We saw it coming four months ago and urged adoption of gas rationing.

The people of our communities are facing a grave gasoline crisis of emergency status. The problem will give rise to heart attacks and lesser health problems—but many, many serious frustrations leading to hospitalization—and even death.

The New Jersey Legislature this week adopted legislation giving Governor Brendan Byrne authority to take whatever steps necessary to relieve the gasoline crisis.

We hope Governor Byrne acts prudently and quickly. The sooner the better. It is unfortunate the White House and the Congress have fiddled "while Rome burned."

Winegate, Again

The "Winegate" scandal in France threatens to equal Watergate in news value. The latest news is that one of France's largest cherry brandy makers has been charged with making its famous cherry brandy without cherries.

Last year the Bordeaux wine scandal broke in full force after having simmered for more than a year. It was revealed that many — if not most — of the wine makers in the famed area were using cheap wines, often imported from Spain or Italy, to mix with their product 1/3 selling the end result as a high quality wine at very high prices.

Now comes the cherry brandy revelation. False invoices for cherries never shipped or received were discovered in a government investigation which has all France agog.

The French never did like to let America get ahead, even in the area of scandals!

Energy Crisis Manufactured To Our Loss

To The Editor:

The oil crisis — Watergate — Belleville — all are synonymous. What affects a nation affects the people of a state, city county or township. Each and every member of the populace is touched. In 1973 the biggest cover-up was Watergate but in 1974 we will find that the biggest cover-up is the oil crisis, covering up for Watergate, because that is all it is.

How can a country of this wealth and magnitude find ourselves waiting to get a few gallons of gasoline — overnight? The politicians, especially those that have something to hide know that the average citizen forgets things that are past when a new crisis develops and this oil crisis was created for just that purpose. Creating hardships for a person wipes everything else out of his mind.

It is up to the press not to let our hardships deter from an infamy created by Watergate. Judas Iscariot was a child compared to the Judas we have today. He settled for 30 pieces of silver — today it involves billions. Let these present-day Judas's have their 30 pieces of silver but let the populace with their multiple problems have their peace of mind, their livelihoods, their few gallons of oil, a product not created by man, but by God and put into this earth so that man could discover and nurture.

Good Neighbor Gave a Hand At Gas Pump

To The Editor:

A contrast from the enclosed headline ("Dirty tricks at the pumps and prices still going up"), this happened at Covino's Shell Station on Joralemon and Passaic Avenue on Saturday, Jan. 5 about 10 a.m.

My wife asked me to do some errands and as I neared the station I saw they were pumping gas and the line was already a block long. As my gauge read one-quarter full I decided I better get in that line to refuel when it all happened.

In line a half-block away from the pumps my car stopped. I realize then my gauge must have been wrong and I was out of gas. I got a kind of sick feeling thinking of my predicament. I learned many years ago about the promises in God's Word and this promise came to mind which is found in Jeremiah 33:3. "Call upon me and I will answer thee and I will show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not."

What an answer I received! I got out of my car and asked the gentleman behind me if he would be so kind as to help me by pushing me along until we reached the pump. What a Good Samaritan he turned out to be. He not only pushed me but told his friend, the proprietor about my dilemma. The proprietor told his man to give me above the $3 limit to help me get started.

Neither the proprietor nor the man who pushed me would accept any gratuities for their help. I truly appreciate their kindness to me.

I later went back to the station to find out the man's name who helped me and it is Joseph Giangrasso of Belleville. My thanks again at this time for being so helpful.

Yours Truly

Praises Prompt Postal Passage

To the Editor:

In September I wrote concerning our missing Church newsletters which apparently had taken two weeks to travel from Belleville to Newark and return.

Prompt investigation by the Postal authorities found the missing mail, and it was delivered the day following its return to Belleville.

We appreciate the prompt and courteous service which we have received from both the Belleville Branch and the Newark main office.

A further thank you is most gladly sent to the Belleville depot who received our latest newsletter on Friday, Dec. 21 and delivered on Saturday, Dec. 22. I might add that the mailing was not taken to them until about 3:30 p.m. on Friday....and this prompt service despite the extra load of Christmas mailings!

Yours very truly,
Mrs. Hetty L. Murray

Valentine's Day

We have in history several Saint Valentines and most are linked to February 14th. There are several versions of how Valentine's Day became a day for lovers but probably the most reasonable explanation is that the custom grew out of the general belief of the Middle Ages that birds began to mate on February 14th.

It was the custom in many countries for names of boys and girls to be drawn from boxes on the 14th and gifts were then exchanged.

Can you remember the first school or neighborhood playmate you asked to be your Valentine? Was the offer accepted? Did it provoke giggles or did the quarry run away? How simple and nice it was, or was it?

Few will forget their first Valentine, when nature first begins to work its magnetic force on unsuspecting children starting life's long road.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Energy Crisis Brings With It Changes In American Lifestyles

By David F. Moore

N.J. Conservation Foundation

WHAT CHANGES in American lifestyles are in store for people weaned on the assurance of limitless energy sources like coal, oil and natural gas, but who suddenly are confronted with evidence that the assurance is only a myth?

Today we park cars in long lines leading to gas pumps. Rationing of gasoline is a distinct possibility. Some realize that today's shortage, its cause valid or not, is only a prelude to the real thing. Whether that final shortage occurs in our own lifetimes or our grandchildren's is unimportant; it's coming!

SHOULDN'T THERE BE more conservation of dwindling oil reserves because of their necessity for medicines and uses other than mere gasoline?

We are quickly jumping to the idea that America's vast coal reserves will take the place of oil. But the probably necessary rush to coal will have its own side-effects. A few examples of these are renewed pollution of air just beginning to be breathable again; destruction of huge sections of our countryside at a time when the need for more farming and fiber production will be mandated by world famines, and wide-ranging pollution of rivers by sulfuric acids, siltation and excessive runoff.

THESE SPELL UNPLEASANT changes in our lifestyles, for sure.

Isn't it better to innovate and try other ways of meeting the problem? Some are so obvious, and of already proven feasibility, that it's shameful they are not being followed up right now.

We've heard of the English chicken farmer, who it is said, runs his car on — you guessed it — chicken manure. It happens that manure of any kind produces methane, essentially the same as natural gas.

WHEN IT COMES to manure, this state we're in is downright wealthy. I'm not being cynical; it's a fact, thanks to this being America's most densely populated state. The practice today is to spend millions for sewage treatment, which results in boat loads of sludge which get dumped into the ocean.

There's an Alice in Wonderland quality to that situation: moving pollution from point A to point B at great cost. The sludge should be used for making methane gas to augment our vanishing supply of natural gas.

I don't expect such sludge use would solve the energy shortage, but it would help, and it would end throwing away a valuable resource.

PONDER THIS aspect for a minute: When methane is generated from sludge, the residue is excellent fertilizer. And fertilizer is exactly what a starving world is running out of, because of the oil shortage.

POLLUTION, #1 after all, is simply a natural resource that's in the wrong place. Sludge, as it is dumped in our oceans today, is pollution; but it could become a valuable resource if treated properly. Doesn't it make sense to try?

Art-Music Festival II Set for Late March

A repeat of the biggest combined school project in Belleville's history, an Art-Music Festival, is being planned for March 25, it was announced at Monday evening's Board of Education meeting.

Initially suggested by high school principal, Raymond O. Smith, the idea was taken up and implemented four years ago by a local committee. This year the Board of Education requested that the effort be duplicated, and appointed Assistant Superintendents, Michael Rosamilia, Seymour Grossman, Director of Music Frank Scelba, and Director of Art Morton Birkin to head up the program. The affair, to be held at the Senior High School will feature art exhibits by students from throughout the school system, plus a music program in the gymnasium which will feature students from grades three to 12.

Proceeds of the function, which is to be financed through the sale of tickets, are marked for the Belleville Scholarship Fund. A turnout of over 2,000 is already being predicted, with tickets on sale at $1.00 each.

A committee comprising building representatives has been selected as liaison people to seek assistance from others in the areas of traffic control, parking, fire regulations and overall coordination. The building representatives are: Francyn Clerico, Celeste Cernero, Camille Casaletto, Joia Zoppi, Judith Spray, Beulah Goodenough, Ann Marie Simini, Richard Palasciano, Jean Daley, Mike Lemongello and Ralph Corell. At this date, approximately 65 teachers have volunteered to work on the festival. Enthusiasm for the project has also been demonstrated by members of the Board of Education, Superintendent Anthony Greco, and all of the principals and administrators.

The initial sale of tickets to parents of performers is now in progress and will terminate on February 15. Since schools will be closed during the ensuing week, the general sale will commence on February 25 in each of the Belleville schools.

Birkin reports that there will be demonstrations of art techniques, including oils, sketching and pottery. Door prizes will be given out, consisting of pottery, paintings and jewelry of the students. Slides and tapes will be coordinated to show student activities from throughout the system.

Scelba says some 700 students will participate in the music demonstration. Bands and choruses will be featured from the elementary, junior and senior high schools.

The program tentatively calls for an initial browsing period of an hour and a half, followed by a concert of similar length in the gym.

Business Spotlight

Henry Happ Located Here for 11 Years

What's the common denominator for a secretary, executive, businessman, telephone lineman and reporter? Simple — they all like good food, so they gather at 529 Washington Avenue, where Henry Happ of "Happ's Restaurant" reigns supreme.

"Happ" as he is known to one and all, followed his dad in the business of restaurant. During his tour in the U.S. Army, he headed the largest "mess" hall, the Nuremberg transit Mess Hall in Germany, feeding some 3/4,000 men a day, including the war criminals.

He had a hankering to open up his own catering business, but instead opened a restaurant in Clifton. He also was Manager of Frozen Foods for Dugan's Bakery in Bloomfield. Luckily for Bellevillites, Happ decided, eleven years ago December, to open his restaurant in town. All the food is home-made, with the exception of a few pastries.

Happ's is open Monday through Friday from 5:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., on Saturdays, he closes at 1:30. So, whether it's breakfast, lunch or dinner, you're sure to enjoy a gourmet's delight at Happ's. From eggs "any style" to a roast beef dinner, soup and pies, it's guaranteed you won't walk away hungry...and...you'll leave a clean plate.

Working in the restaurant with Happ are his wife, Ruth and sister, Terry Buono, Betty Bocchetti and Susie Reeve. No matter how busy, the gals always have a smile and a kind word. Assisting in the kitchen is Al Maggison.

Happ still dabbles a bit in catering, to help out friends. He and his family live in Clifton. The daughters are Joann, a teacher at Paterson Catholic School and Ruth Ann Love, who works for General Electric Credit Corporation.

Eating at Happ's Restaurant...is an Experience.

Instrumentalists Keeping Active

by Mary-Jo Padula

The diversified interests and talents of the members of the band and orchestra are being exploited to their fullest this year.

The Wind Ensemble was formed early this year from students who showed special promises in performing on their instrument. The group with its almost professional sound is capable of playing any musical orchestrations. Of course, they have Mr. Wing as their director, who holds practice twice a week. You will be able to hear them at the Music and Art Festival in March.

The clarinet Quartet was started as a "joke", but Mr. Finetti didn't think it was funny. He chose to cultivate and make the quarter a part of the performing orchestra. They play an entire song with no background accompaniment. This newly formed quartet is composed of Mary-Jo Padula, Joan Cassan, Mark Rossi and Mary Baker. They were heard for the first time at the Winter Concert on January 31.

The students wish to thank their teachers for taking interests in their abilities.

She Asks What Happened To BHS School Spirit?

by Diane Frazier

What has happened to school spirit in Belleville High? The cheering crowds have vanished from all the sports events and the dancers from dances.

It wasn't very long ago when the students would not think of missing a basketball game or wrestling match. Now the only spectators that show up for sports events are the parents and close friends of the participants.

Is it society that has ruined things for this generation, or is it the lack of interest among themselves? Not much is offered to the high school student as far as recreation is concerned but that just may be their own fault.

If the students want more offered to them they must show some interest in something. A cry may be answered but, when everyone sits back and has nothing to say, how can anything get done?

If there are any students that want anything done, they must speak up. Ralph Waldo Emerson put it nicely, "Nothang great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." If anyone would like to show some enthusiasm it just may be the start that is desperately needed.

If you have an opinion, view, or an answer to this problem, please write to the School Page, c/o Belleville High School. All replies will be printed in future editions.

Musicians Successful With Winter Concert

by Ken Westpy

It's 8 p.m. the house lights go out. The audience is in total darkness. Behind the closed curtain, on a darkened stage, the conductor gives a cue. A low "C" drones softly. The curtain opens while a voice introduces the Belleville High School Orchestra. Three trumpets, sounding like one, play as familiar melody. Then, suddenly, the orchestra goes into a familiar chrd change.

The stage lights brighten slowly as the orchestra starts the Annual Winter Concert with Richard Strauss, "Also Sprach Zarathustra," known to many as the theme from the movie "2001" "A Space Odyssey".

The audience burst into a thunderous applause. And that's how the Winter Concert went for the rest of the evening.

After the orchestras opening number, there followed the "Telemann Sinfonia", a good concert piece, which was also well received by the audience. The orchestra then followed with "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face", the "March from Carmen", the "Pizicato" from the Ballet, "Sylvia", and finally a "West Side Story", medley consisting of "I Feel Pretty", "Tonight", and "One Hand, One Heart".

Academy Semester Break Includes 'Mini-Courses'

Ask any student to give her opinion of the week between semesters at Mount Saint Dominic Academy and the answer would very likely be "Hip, hip hooray!" The reason for this enthusiasm is evident when one examines some of the more than 50 course titles including Silk Screening, Film Study, Decoupage, Candlemaking, Yoga, Ballet Nursing Care, Under the Hood, Understanding Yourself along with Dancing in the 40's.

The teachers of these courses included students, faculty members, parents and adults from the surrounding communities. Dr. Abdol Islama and other associates from St. Barnabas Medical Center were guests speakers in a course entitled Medical Problems. The participants were very grateful for the many insights they received from Dr. Islama.

week culminated with an activity which brought together the entire school. On Monday a liturgy in honor of the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas was celebrated. Another activity included a Student-Faculty Volleyball Game which found the younger set a bit more agile than the faculty but when rematched against the seniors the faculty proved victorious.

"The week took a great deal of planning, organization and creativity, not to mention long hours of patience, perseverance and hard work," commented Sister Jeanne Adrienne, Principal of the private academy for girls. "The entire school is grateful to Sister Judith Foloky, Student Council moderator, and to all the girls who did so much to make the week such a wonderful learning experience."

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS IN SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

Clinic Medical Director Will Address Auxiliary

Dr. George R. Reding, new Medical Director of the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic, will be the speaker at an upcoming tea to be given by the Auxiliary of the Clinic. The tea will be held on Tuesday, February 5, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jerome Hamburger, 105 North Road, Nutley. All members of the Auxiliary and friends of the Clinic are invited to attend.

The Clinic, which is located on the second floor of the former nurses' home of the Essex County Geriatrics

Hospital and which serves the towns of Belleville, Bloomfield, and Nutley, plays a very important part in shaping the lives of many children of these towns. The counseling the children receive there enables them to function in a productive and happy manner which would be impossible without professional assistance. The Auxiliary wants everybody in the area to be aware of the work done at the Clinic and to be informed of the important role it plays in filling one of the most urgent needs of many of the children of these three communities.

Senior Citizens Ready For Home Nursing Jobs

The first group of senior citizens to complete a new pilot Red Cross Advanced Home Nursing course and become qualified to give skilled home nursing care, received their certificates this week at a brief ceremony held at Essex Chapter.

The names, home towns and home telephone numbers of ten of the thirteen women have been placed on a roster which will be provided to anyone needing this type of help, by the Health Services Department of Essex Chapter. All arrangements to secure the services of these women will be made directly between those needing the care and the women listed on the roster.

According to Mrs. Ruth Tonak, R.N., director of Health Services for the chapter, who designed and taught the Advanced Home Nursing Course, the program will provide skilled, non-professional help to senior citizens, and others, for a fee of not more than $2.00 an hour. This rate is less than half of the amount charged by other agencies for similar services.

It also offers other senior citizens an opportunity to learn a skill which will enable them to supplement their income.

Mrs. Tonak explained that the training course, which will be given by the chapter on a regular basis, is offered free of charge to anyone but designed specifically for senior citizens. She pointed out that the Red Cross will not act as an agent or registry for this service, a factor which makes possible the low fee.

Students taking the course are taught to prepare patients meals and special diets, take temperatures, keep records, give bed baths, and administer medications, make occupied beds, give fleet enemas and get patients in and out of bed or wheelchair properly, among other skills.

Mrs. Tonak emphasized the fact that only those students successfully demonstrating their thorough knowledge, ability, and proficiency will be eligible to have their names added to the chapter roster. The current group of women started training last October, with 22 members. Thirteen successfully completed the course.

The next Advanced Home Nursing course will begin Tuesday, February 12 at noon at Essex Chapter headquarters, 106 Washington Street, East Orange.

Auxiliary's Annual Meeting At Mountainside

Demonstrations and explanations of new Red Cross safety program were given at the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of The Mountainside Hospital on Wednesday, February 6.

Hospital president Mrs. Kendall B. DeBevoise, executive vice president John C. Imhoff, and Robert Arson, M.D., president of the Medical Staff, addressed the group. Hospital volunteers were honored at the meeting.

Exhibit of Prints Shuns Traditional Graphic Techniques

"Liberated Printmakers", an exhibit of 29 original graphic techniques, may be seen in the Campus Center Art Gallery at Caldwell College, Caldwell, New Jersey, from February 12 through 28.

The fourteen artists represented are all New Jersey residents, and all women, but the title of the exhibit refers to the liberation of the printmakers art from the restrictions of traditional techniques and the move toward a greater freedom and flexibility.

Among the more unusual prints in the collection is a multifaceted statement by Roslyn Rose on over-population, congestion and warfare which is entitled, "When We Are Cursed, We Bless." The most intriguing aspect of the black and white photographic silkscreen on plexiglass is a delicate plastic bubble which magnifies an individual object of beauty situated in the midst of turmoil.

Baseball fever is now spreading fast.

WHY WE'RE MAKING 1974 THE YEAR OF

Yes

It's being called the year of uncertainty. But whatever the future holds, New Jersey Bell is convinced that an attitude of "Yes" in everything we do will go a long way toward making even an uncertain year a successful one.

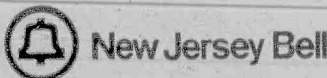

A new idea? Hardly. When we encourage our people to think yes, say yes and act yes in their day-to-day jobs, all we're really doing is reinforcing the "Spirit of Service" that has grown up in the Bell System over the years.

No one knows better than we do that our success can't be measured solely in terms of how many phones we install, or how many calls are made. But rather, by how well we serve your individual needs.

The "Yes" button each of us has received is merely a symbolic reminder that even though we number our customers in the millions, we serve them one at a time. The real effect of this program will be seen and felt by you in the way we respond to your requests and solve your communications problems.

We want you to get the most out of your phone service.

Proper Humidity Provides Warmth With Economy

Proper humidity indoors in winter provides comfortable warmth at reduced temperatures, according to Cooperative Extension Service experts at Rutgers University.

"Maintaining the appropriate humidity—about 30 to 40 per cent—can also reduce your heating costs, but too high humidity can cause condensation damage in the walls," say W.J. Roberts and Martin Decker, both Extension specialists in the Department of Biological and Agricultural Engineering, and Gena Thames, Extension specialist in housing and furnishing, at Rutgers Cook College.

To achieve the proper humidity levels with a forced-air furnace, install a controlled humidifier on the plenum of your furnace.

Irrington Bows

Grapplers Psyche Up For Nutley Challenge

Belleville High's scrambling matmen, riding the crest of late-blooming good fortunes, will fight to tie for first place in the Big Ten tomorrow afternoon when they host the imposing Maroon Raiders from Nutley at 4 p.m.

The match will come as both teams reach the peak of the season, with Belleville having bested Irrington Friday night, 34-19 to hold a 2-4-1 record (2-1 in the Big Ten)& Nutley, meanwhile is undefeated in the Big Ten, but lost to Wayne Valley last week$ 22-21 for the only blemish on their record in eight starts.

The Bellboys were scheduled to travel to Caldwell yesterday to meet Caldwell, but the Times went to press to early to report the results of that confrontation.

While the Maroon Raiders have been tearing their way through Big Ten competition, bent on claiming the conference crown from defending champs Belleville, the Bellboys themselves have been slowly pulling themselves together after a slow start this season, during which they dropped their first four matches.

The last three matches, in particular, pointed the way up for Belleville, as they tied Paterson-Kennedy to break that squad's 45-match winning streak, and then fought their way past Bloomfield.

Losses were held to a minimum Friday against Irrington, and coach Jim Silvestri said his grapplers are now competing "with more confidence and they're using more moves." Silvestri switched back from a temporary lineup used for Kennedy and Bloomfield, and featuring sophomore Vinnie Mustacchio in the 108-pound class and co-captain Ralph Fabiano iZ the 158-pound slot.

Mustacchio was back at 101 against Irrington as he racked up another win in a 9-2 decision to put Belleville off on a good start. Sophomore Carl Arlt, moved up from the lead position to 108 pounds defeated his opponent, 5-0, and Bob Cozzarelli (115) won, 6-2. Anthony Villano (122) pinned his Irrington foe in 1:18 to jump Belleville to a 15-0 lead.

Don Liloia (129) battled to a 4-4 tie, and was followed by sophomore Chris Tremel (135), who suffered a pi8 in the closing seconds of the first period. Roger Luzzi lost his match at 141 by a score of 2-9, as Irrington narrowed the gap to 17-11.

Ralph Fabiano, back at his 148-pound position, came through with an 8-0 victory, but Michael De Joseph (158) was pinned in the first period for a to set the score at 20-17, the closest the Campers came to catching Belleville all night.

Jim Mauncele (170) took a 3-3 tie, then 188-pounder Jim LaConti pinned his opposition at 3:32 to place the score at 29-19.

To wrap up the Blue-Gold's biggest win of the season, heavyweight Ken Milano pinned Irrington co-captain Steve Richards in 3:35. Although Milano was behind, 6-5, he escaped the Camper heavyweight's hld in the second period and came back for the pin to make the final score, 34-19Z.

Nutley promises to be nowhere as easy as Irrington. The Maroon powerhouse has already destroyed Essex Catholic and Montclair this season, two teams which posted wins over the Bellboys (though Montclair's margin of victory was only one point, while the Eagles romped over the Bellboys, 42-7).

But if comparisons are in order, it should also be pointed out that Wayne Valley last Thursday shaded the RaidersZ 22-21, while the Bellboys, in their season opener, lost to Wayne Valley by 27-26, also by a one-point margin.

But that isn't going to fool Silvestri or his wrestlers into over-confidence. "I don't know how Nutley lost to Wayne Valley," he said this week. "They just must have not been up for the match. They're one of the finest teams in the area. They're powerful, they have moves and they've got experience." The Bellboys have a shot at the match, he says, "because we're starting to gain the confidence we need. The experience is really beginning to show."

Belleville's jayvee squad was unable to duplicate the varsity performance against Irrington$ as they lost 18-39, forfeiting four matches&

Bowlers Roll Sweep Week

The Belleville High kegglers were swept twice in three matches last week by Bloomfield and Montclair, but came back strong to destroy Livingston in the same manner.

Despite competitive efforts by Dave Boxer (539 pins) and Howie Evans (549), Bloomfield took three straight games on Monday. Belleville lost the second game by one pin, although Boxer contributed a 203 game to the cause.

On Wednesday they faced league-leading Montclair, who outclassed Belleville through three games. Top bowlers for the Blue-Gold were Fred McGarril(542), Howie Evans (532), and Al Ciccone (532).

After the six straight losses, Belleville came back to rip Livingston for three games, led by captain Howie Evans (557) and Dave Boxer (552).

After a team effort to win the first game, Belleville took the second by 180 pins after Howie Evans rolled a 202 and Clark Sutton scored 193.

Behind the strong bowling of Dave Boxer, who bowled 201, Belleville took the third game for a sweep of the match.

TANGLING at the knees, Bellboy Abdel Anderson and a Hillside opponent keep their eyes on the ball during second quarter action.

Final Score: 66-40

Hillside Comets Are No Duds As They Shoot Past Bellboys

by Bob Cohen

successful in their out of conference games, but whenever one of these teams come to play the cagers, you know to expect an exciting contest. Take for instance the game against Wayne Valley earlier in the season. The locals lost that exciting contest as the Indians spun off 65 percent shooting from the floor, yet the margin of victory was only six, 81-75.

Hillside played well, to the extent of breaking open a fairly close ballgame at the end of three periods to a 66-40 run away victory. This was achieved as the Comets had a 20-point quarter advantage in the final eight minutes. To make this loss more revealing is that Belleville only managed one point in a stretch that covered over 10 minutes of play. In that same amount of time, Hillside ran off 26 tallies.

Yet I don't want to take away from the fact that was more apparent to the large crowd than the score itself. It was the play of Harvey Wooton, one of the most naturally talented ballplayers to play in Belleville. Like an Abdel Anderson stuff, Wooton electrified the crowd like few others have done on the hardwoods.

To make the contest more exciting, these two big men played each other. Wooton outscored Abdel, 21-17, yet other aspects of play were very close. Rebounding was also close, 10-8 in Wooton's favor. The edge in assists would have to go to Wooton as he had five dazzling assists credited to him in the final period alone. As one spectator put it, Harvey Wooton has moves you don't teach a ballplayer. "Wooton is definitely a good ballplayer," Abdel said after the contest. "He is really one of the quickest and most skilled ball players that I ever played against." The win lifted the Comets to a better than .500 slate. Their record as now 8-7, Belleville is a 3-11.

The Bellboys are coming down to the final stretch of the season. Tomorrow is Orange, currently the number one team in the state. This game will be played at Orange with game time set for 3:45. On Tuesday the Bellboys hope to avenge an earlier loss to Irrington as they meet the Campers at Irrington. The start of this contest is also slated for a 3:45 start.

Wooton (of course) opened up the scoring in the game as he went to the line for two (Continued on Page 12)

Bellgirls Blast Past Bengal Squad

The Bellgirls scored a convincing 61-33 victory over neighboring Bloomfield last Friday. Belleville dominated the game in scoring, passing and rebounding.

The Bellgirls overruled the first quarter by out-scoring Bloomfield 21 points to two points& Bloomfield's only points came in the last seconds of the quarter. Donna Stone controlled the opening jump ball which led to the first Belleville field goal by Joyce Buckland. Donna Foley then sank four 15-footers from the corner and three foul shots, while Joyce Buckland hit the boards for two field goals and three foul shots.

Donna Foley scored ten of her 19 points in the first quarter while Joyce Buckland scored nine of her 15 points.

The second quarter continued in the same manner. Gloria Barbone intercepted a Bloomfield pass and assisted Donna Stone in a field goal. Then Donna Stone intercepted the ball and assisted Donna Foley for two points. Gloria Barbone scored two points, while Linda Diana Paul went to the foul line for one of their two shots. The score at the end of the half was 34-14.

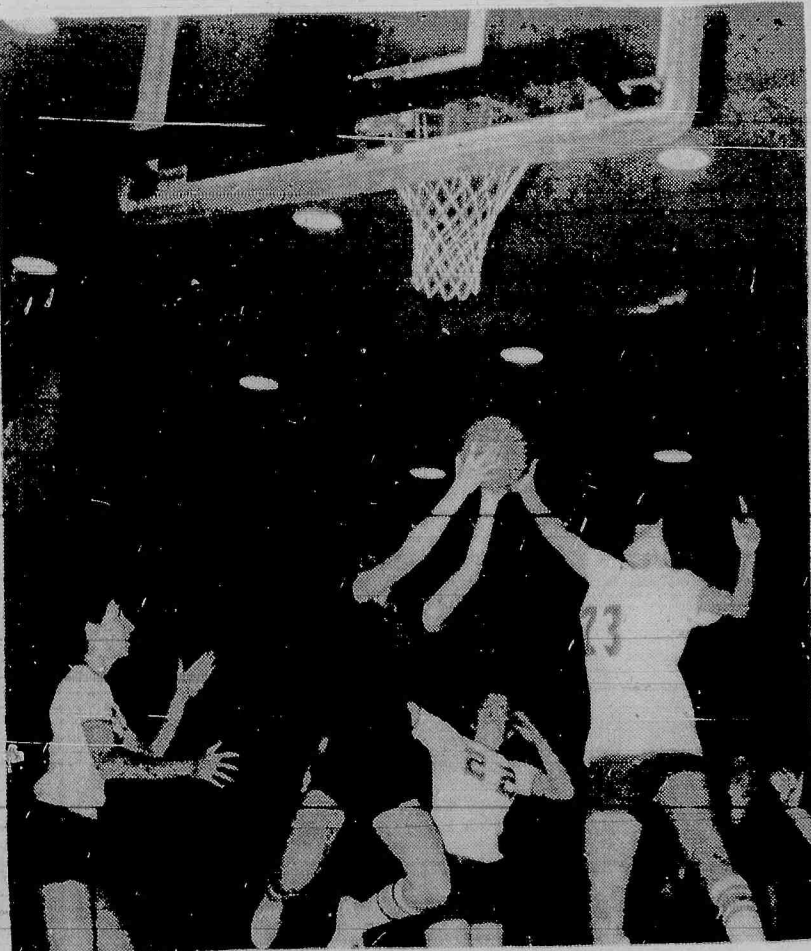

The third quarter moved slowly with Belleville scoring only 10 points while Bloomfield scored 12 points. Carol Jackson scored two field goals and went to the foul Plummer. The Bellgirls led at the end of the third quarter 44-26.

Bloomfield controlled the jump ball as the final quarter began. However, before Bloomfield could score, Donna Stone intercepted the ball and assisted Donna Foley in a field goal. Then Donna Stone intercepted a Bloomfield pass and drove down for an additional two points. With only a minute left in the game, Carol Lelio intercepted the ball and assisted Donna Stone in a field goal. The final score was 61-63.

IT'S OFF! — Belleville co-captain Joyce Buckland (33) lets loose a jump shot in the heat of opposition from Bloomfield rivals. (Belleville-Bloomfield photos by Perry A. He.)

TWO TO ONE — Carol Jackson's hands outnumber her Bloomfield foe's as she lays ahold of a rebound during the game which saw the Blue-Gold come out 61-33 winners.

CLAIMED — Junior Bellgirl Linda Diana (41) pegs a rebound for the Blue-Gold.

Comets Fell Cagers In Fatal Second Half

(Continued from Page 11) shots. He gave Hillside a 2-0 advantage before Abdel completed a three point play to put the Bellboys up. The lead was exchanged after each basket as both teams were playing deliberate first period ball. With the score knotted at nine, the Comets finished the period in an 8-2 spurt to give them a 17-11 lead. Wooton had 11 points in that quarter. Anderson had seven. A look back at Wooton's stats show that he used his quickness to greatest extent, tossing in four points on layups as well as four from outside. Three points were from the line. Four of Abdel's points were from inside.

As the second period got under way, The Bellboys found themselves down by eight as a Wooton layup made the score 19-11. Belleville fought back to make the deficit two when a Gary Tufo layup followed by four points by guard Harry Baumgartner made the score 19-17.

Hillside then ran off a 6-1 streak interrupted only by an Anderson free throw. Yet characteristic of Belleville play in the first half, they again fought back this time to tie it by running off a seven point streak of their own. Baumgartner hit the front of a one and one situation to make the score 25-19. Anthony Cotugno banged in a jumper and Baumgartner followed with his patented layup to make the score 25-23. Finally Anderson hit a jumper to tie the game as time ran out. Baumgartner had seven points in the comeback second quarter. Anderson had three. Tufo and Cotugno had two each. Wooton led Hillside with six.

Tom Barnett opened the third quarter as his jumper was good. Anderson tied it on a layup to make it 27-27. Abdel challenged Wooton again and was fouled. Wooton's third with 6:12 remaining in the quarter. Anderson made both tosses to put Belleville in the lead.

Al Carasio completed a three point play that gave Hillside a one point lead, but more importantly originated an eleven point run. At its end, the lead was 38-29.

Belleville made its last stand at this point as the team again fought back. Anderson hit a jumper. Bob Sanders had a layup. John Frize had a layup for Hillside, but Cotugno answered with a jumper. Bob DiQuattro had a layup and then Baumgartner faked out all the Comets to go in for an uncontested layup. Hillside called time, now only up by one, 40-39.

Whatever Hillside called in its timeout worked. For more than seven minutes Belleville did not score. Coming off the time out, Barnett made a free throw with the second one being tipped in by Vic Wells. Barnett hit a jumper to make the score 45-39.

the only thing to do was to hold down Wooton in order to get back in the ballgame. With the crowd watching, including the scouts who dotted the stands, Anderson limited Wooton to two points, which were free throws. Wooton had trouble going to the basket as many of his attempts were knocked away by Anderson. The key was then to contain Vic Wells whose 16 points were second best. His layups triggered by Wooton's outlet passes, some of the behind the back nature was the mark of the last quarter. Anderson scored the sole Bellboy point with 5:09 remaining in the contest.

Nutley Gals Fight Off Threat from Belleville

by Elaine Drake
The Bellgirls hosted neighboring Nutley to a close game. Belleville fought hard throughout the game but fell short as the final seconds ran down, and Nutley emerged victorious 30-27.

Susan Paul went to the foul line for one of her two shots an she was fouled by Tensen for the first Belleville points. Joyce Buckland scored two field goals. Then Donna Foley intercepted the ball and assisted Donna Stone for two of her 10 points. The Bellgirls trailed at the end of the first quarter 9-10.

The Bellgirls dominated the second quarter by out-scoring Nutley ten points to four points. Donna Foley sank a 15-footer from the corner, while Donna Stone broke the Nutley defense for a lay-up shot. Donna Foley intercepted the ball and drove down for a field goal to make the score at the end of the quarter 19-14. #MThe third quarter moved slowly with both Belleville and Nutley scoring only four points. Joyce Buckland intercepted the ball and handed it to Donna Stone, who drove down for a field goal. The other two Belleville points were scored by Donna Foley. The score at the end of the third quarter was 23-18.

The Bellgirls weren't able to penetrate the Nutley defense or stop their offense. Nutley scored 12 points while Belleville only scored four points.

Close-to-Home Ice Rinks Boom During Gas Pinch

As predicted by many observers, the current energy crisis, and particularly the gas shortage, is affecting the social patterns of many Americans. The long Sunday drive is out, ditto many Friday-to-Friday skating weekends. But at the Branch Brook Ice Center in Newark and West Orange's South Mountain Arena, it's a different story.

These two recreational facilities of the Essex County Park Commission are but a thimble full of gas away for many, many thousands of persons.

"People still want recreational activity especially on weekends," said Paul McInnis, general manager of the Park Commission's skating rinks, "so we're working diligently to meet the increased demand for the best public skating possible."

As a result, both Branch Brook and South Mountain have become the recreational mecca for not only skilled skaters but for those who just want to get out for some exercise and for those who enjoy the party-like atmosphere of the weekend crowd. And there are some weekend crowds.

At Branch Brook, similar weekend hundreds of skaters converge on the park rink to meet with friends on the ice or just skate aimlessly for a couple of hours.

The same is holding true for weekdays at both facilities. Morning, afternoon and evening fun seekers are finding it possible to their thing.

Though a majority of skaters are youngsters, senior citizens and mothers and housewives and even businessmen regularly make the scene. For example, there's Fred Link of Englewood Cliffs. He's 79 years old.

"I skate three times a week," said Link, who was born in Germany. "It keeps me fit. I need the exercise. I don't want to give up and sit in an armchair. It helps my circulation plus I meet a lot of nice people."

Fred Link used to ski but he's given it up for skating.

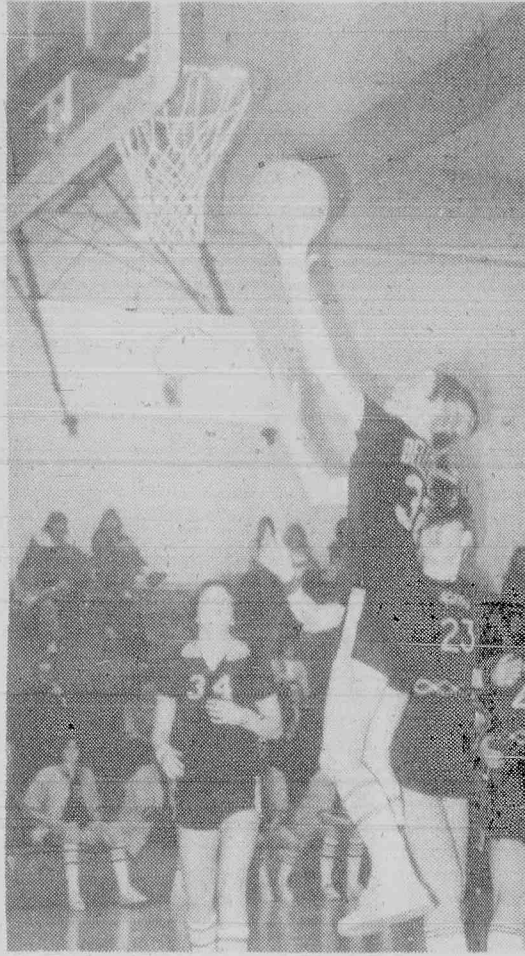

Adding to the gala atmosphere at both Branch Brook and South Mountain are the snack bars both rinks offer and the lively music either piped into the rinks or the live kind supplied by either an organist or a rock band. recently added an auxiliary outdoor rink which it now makes available for skating parties as well as hockey and figure skating groups. A call to the Arena can fill in details concerning reservations.

Between Branch Brook and South Mountain local skaters have a short distance to travel. South Mountain is surrounded by West Orange, Livingston, South Orange, Millburn, Maplewood, Orange and Florham Park, while Branch Brook is within minutes of Bloomfield, Belleville, Hidside.

AREA ICE CENTERS are picking business due to the current energy pinch as many residents spend gasless Sundays close to home. South Mountain Arena in West Orange and the Branch Brook skating rink are the two leading arenas.

BECK'S COLUMN

In the "good old days" it was easy to buy things. You went to the store where you were known and you knew the storekeeper and he advised you on your purchase. All this has changed today, it is not easy any more to buy something, because there are so many different choices where to buy.

First there were the "discount" stores. Many of these started in garages or lofts. There were just bare walls and shelves, no frills or conveniences. You took whatever you bought and that was the end of the transaction. If there was something wrong with your purchase, you had to see for yourself to have it taken care of. Gradually these primitive outlets offered more and more services, delivery, time payments etc., they came much closer to the conventional department stores, only they do not supply any service on the products they sell. Prices went up, of course, because their overhead costs went up. A later version of the original discount stores are now the so-called "catalog order stores". They show samples or catalogs and you pick the item, which is brought from the warehouse and you take it home. Then there are "membership" outlets. Some of these charge a fee, others don't. Another type are the "transshippers". This is not a complete list, there are several more. Essentially shopping today has become a search for the lowest price. All these outlets do not supply service on the products which they sell. For them "service" is a bad word, a nuisance and too expensive. For the buyer it is strictly a gamble. If the item you bought needs service, you are in trouble.

Our store still is the old fashioned type. We show complete selections, advise our customers on their intended purchase, deliver and most important of all we service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV Hi Fi Appliances Nutley 667-4225

WE NEED..

MATT PICA-2A

VIOLA SPRAY-3A

RE-ELECT

IT MEANS HAVING A LEADER WHO UNDERSTANDS THIS TOWN AND ITS SPECIAL NEEDS

- Educated in the Belleville public school system, Matt went on to receive his BS at nearby Fairleigh Dickinson.
- Married and a resident of this town, with youngsters now attending Belleville public schools, he is a corporate officer with Samuel Braen & Sons. He has also served as a chairman of the Credit Managers Association, New Jersey Concrete Association, and vice president and treasurer for the New Jersey Lumber Dealers Association.
- His civic involvement is widespread: A member of the Belleville Board of Education for three years, he is also a former chairman and current committeeman for Cub Pack 301, a former member of the Belleville Educational Advisory Council, a trustee for the Craig Fund, and a member of both the Belleville Health and Drug Program and the Belleville Music and Parents Association.

IT MEANS DECISIVE ADMINISTRATION. MATT IS THE MAN WHO

- Opened Board of Education caucus meetings to the public.
- Supported stronger enforcement and prosecution of illegal student entrants to our schools.
- Favored the relocation of the Board offices to relieve the overcrowding in School Number Eight.
- Calls for constant review and evaluation of personnel, to assure maximum efficiency.
- Sponsors a program of employment of qualified Bellevilleites in our public school system.
- Promotes agreement on the need to improve and refurbish existing facilities.
- Sponsored a resolution requesting stronger penalties for drug pushing in the State of New Jersey.
- Supports a program of total cooperation between the Board of Education and all other town officials to reduce overlapping of services and provide the best buy for the taxpayer's dollar.
- Aided in the formation of the Music and Parents Association.
- Favors strict financial management and accounting.

ELECT

SHE IS A PROFESSIONAL WHO UNDERSTANDS EDUCATION IN THEORY AND IN PRACTICE, AND BELIEVES THAT

- Because life situations today are complex and constantly changing, educational decisions must be made carefully, and in the terms of the welfare of all children, through ethical procedures by knowledgeable people, by those with an intimate understanding of the classroom and the fears and pressures and joys of being a student.
- Spiraling costs of education must be controlled without making children the losers.
- The people of Belleville are entitled to understand clearly all facets of education, its needs, its problems, its possibilities for the future.
- Better communication is desirable between the town governing body and the educational leaders to create a better public image for the town, but that freedom between and within the groups must prosper, so that education is free of political sanction.
- Neighborhood schools must prevail on a primary level; children must attend schools near their homes.
- Membership on the Board of Education is policymaking, planning, and careful and prudent evaluation. All decisions can only be properly made after consulting, or at least sounding out, those who will be affected by them — the taxpayer, the educator, the parents of students, and the students themselves. This is honest government. This is democratic government. This is a basic American tenet, and if we are losing it, we must get back to it.

SHE IS A WOMAN WHO KNOWS THIS TOWN AND HAS ALREADY SERVED IT WELL

- A graduate of Seton Hall, with both BS and MS, with additional credits in administration, labor management, psychology, all facets of dealing with the atypical child, and a director of guidance certificate.
- A teacher in Newark, a teacher at Belleville's School Number Four for twenty-seven years, principal at Belleville Schools Number Nine, One-and-Nine, One, and, finally, Seven.
- An active and constructive member of the NJEA (both teacher and principal groups), a life member of NEA, and a member of the Essex County Elementary Teachers Association and Principals Association, and of Deborah.
- A longtime resident of Belleville. Both of her daughters have also served or are currently serving as teachers in the Belleville school system.
- Always ready to improve education, Mrs. Spray has been invited to work on several local and statewide panels to improve reading, guidance, grading, and purchasing systems in our schools.
- Active in civic affairs, she has also worked with the Red Cross at School Number Four and served on its board of directors, was an area chairman for the March of Dimes, a secretary and trustee of the Craig Fund, a foot soldier for the Community Chest and the United Fund, an organizer and promoter of the Parents Guild at St. Vincent's Academy and St. Peter's School.

Sparkling Personality

This Working Mother Really Works: Manages 2 Departments and 4 Kids

Girls are made of sugar 'n' spice and everything nice. That just about describes Mrs. Clothilde (pronounced Clotild) Westpy...if you add a few dozen more items, that is. She is a wife, mother of four, chauffeur, chief cook and bottle washer at home, and, at business, she manages two departments — both functions formerly staffed by a man, and, she is Ways and Means Chairman of the Belleville Music Parents Association.

The daughter of Anna and Manuel DeBastos, Clothilde was raised in Newark, where she graduated from East Side High. After attending Washington School for Secretaries, she was employed at P. Potential, where she worked on overdue premiums.

She left the business world for awhile and devoted her interests in her husband, Fred, a sales manager, and raising their four children — Ken, 16, is in "everything" at BS — orchestra, band, chorus and the Madrigal singers. Eric, who will be 14 on February 21, is a 9th grader at Belleville Junior High where his sister, Cynthia, 12, is a 7th grader. Craig will be 10 in April and is in the 4th grade at School Seven.

In February of 1968, Clothilde took a part time secretarial job with H & G Industries, Inc. of Belleville. She must have been doing something right, because her talent, expertise and interest in the firm led to her being appointed Credit Manager and Manager of Sales and Service in 1970. She then studied for her new role of credit manager taking a Dun & Bradstreet course. As manager of Sales and Service, it was more or less on-the-job training.

The dual role is inter-related. In Sales/Service, a customer may wish to place an order. To accomplish this, his credit must be approved. Clothilde manages both departments with facility, a touch of humor, yet firm hand.

For example, an 80 year old man once phoned and spoke to Clothilde, seeking a shaving brush — "like the one I bought 30 years ago." The gentleman had called many firms, only to receive a brush-off, but at H & G, Clothilde Westpy listened, with compassion, then remarked her company did not make that particular item. She carried it a step farther and gave him a list of firms where he might locate his antique item. The gentleman said: "you said no, but at least you were polite about it."

Another test of her ingenuity occurred when, as manager of Sales/Service, she had to tell a customer the credit department wouldn't approve his order. The customer then asked to speak to the credit manager. Which rather put Clothilde Westpy — as the credit manager, too, on the spot. But she carried it off and had another satisfied customer for H&G.

She works a four day week, ten hours a day. As for "equality", she feels it just isn't so...after her business hours she doffs the hat of wife, mother and major-domo at home. She says "men can just leave work and come home to eat...I leave work and come home to more work." But, she says it with a smile.

When asked if she believes in Women's Lib, Clothilde emphatically said: "Definitely! — between 9 and 5."

As Ways and Means Chairman for the Belleville Music Parents Association, Clothilde is again involved in finances — this time, the object is to raise money to benefit the youngsters in the chorus, orchestra and band at BHS. On February 9, the Association will hold a Chinese Auction, with live entertainment and an evening of fun planned for the whole family.

Clothilde Westpy doesn't do things by halves — she's totally domestic — even sews and knits, and, she's totally feminine, yet doing a man's job in a man's world, in a totally lady-like way.

Belleville Man Is Instructor In Heart First Aid Course

Douglas Weir, 136 Overlook Avenue, Belleville, will serve as instructor for the Essex County Heart Association course in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation to be given at The Mountainside Hospital, Bay Avenue, Montclair on four consecutive Wednesday evenings from 8 to 1 p.m. beginning on February 13.

Training in this technique, which is offered to first-aid squad members, safety personnel, and interested lay persons, can mean the difference between life and death to victims of heart attack, drowning, electric shock or other types of heart stoppage.

Prompt action within four to six minutes can keep a victim in the gray area between life and death until he reaches a hospital or a physician arrives.

The course will be under the direction of Dr. Francis X. McGinn, attending cardiologist at the Mountainside Hospital. In addition to Mr. Weir, who is Captain of the Hoffmann-La Roche Rescue Squad and Vice President of the International Rescue and First Aid Council, Mr. Louis Leisner, Vice Chairman of the 6th District New Jersey State First Aid Council, will also serve as Instructor for this course.

Registration by telephone to the Essex County Heart Association, 667-0880 is required; there is no charge for this course.

Members of Junior High School civics class spent a day at Essex County courts January 29.

Thirty students, along with teacher Pat Forte, who was recently endowed with a $1,000 "mini-grant" from the state Department of Education, observed the court during a field trip financed by the grant.

The students interviewed Sheriff John Cryan, toured the identification and fingerprint bureau and sat in as a narcotics case proceeded in Judge Harry Clinton's court.

Carol Butterfield handles publicity for School Seven O.P.E. She tells me the Organization of Parents and Educators held a Welcome Tea for new Principal, Joseph Grosch and his wife. About 150 parents attended and Joe managed to visit each table to chat with all. Mrs. Gilda LaVecchia, president of O.P.E., presented Mrs. Grosch with a corsage. The auditorium was delightfully decorated with individual tables of four, a white centerpiece and blue cloth with candles and the buffet had a floral arrangement, silver coffee urn and teapots. The decorating committee were Gilda LaVecchia, Rose Marie Scott, Judy Dominick (who poured the coffee), Roseann Walsh, Joyce Frade, Rose Bongo (who poured the tea). Helpers who served the guests included Diana Lombardi, Pat Cardillo, Betty DiGiorgio, Joan Schmidt and Ross Marie Carnevale.

And, please — include the time.

CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Mrs. Jerry Macaluso held a social for Mrs. Viola Spray at The Princeton last week. Co-hostess was Cora Boice. I saw many familiar faces — Yodando Russo, with her son, Mark, Tony Giampetro, Mr. and Mrs. William McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Friel, Mr. and Mrs. Jim LaMotta, Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Throckmorton, Jim Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Arvidson and Mr. and Mrs. Phil DeAngelis were some of the 55 guests present. I also met Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Orrega, Bob Conway, Cynthia Tsairis, Richard and Phyllis Maxwell, Connie and Gaspar Siciliano and Mike Chieffo. It was a most gala event, much enjoyed by all.

Jim LaMotta was Master of Ceremonies who introduced some of the notables present, including Mrs. Clothilde Westpy of the Belleville Music Parents Association. (see Sparkling Personality this week). Of course, Matt Pica and his wife were on hand...Matt spoke to the audience who were very enthusiastic. Some of Matt's platform items include — continued maximum educational value for the taxpayer's dollar...sincere and honest effort to update the education of our children...a continued effort to open all caucus meetings to the public. George Mitchell and Ernie Arvidson also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Viola Spray makes an impressive appearance. She is every inch the lady, feminine and gracious, yet in a firm and knowledgeable manner got her points across & She strongly feels the trust that citizens would place in her as a member of the Board. She cites one reason for her candidacy as "one who understands the Belleville schools and their needs." Further, Mrs. Spray says "I feel an obligation to make whatever contribution I can for the betterment of the schools and our community."

Mrs. Spray listed some qualities a good board member should possess: "background experience and knowledge, willing and able to spend the time necessary to perform required responsibilities, understands the complexities of life today and able to plan the education of the children for the future."

She went on to say she would like to be a board member "out of a sincere desire to serve the community, rather than for personal glory or personal objectives."

PAT PREDICTS

Unfortunately, I wasn't invited to meet the rest of the candidates before the election and, before this issue-before-election goes to press. Nevertheless, with rumor rampant all over town I'd like to make my own little prediction — which has nothing to do with my feelings, as I personally know five of the candidates. The three winners will be Spray, Pica and Schwartz & I do hope this time more people will reflect on the budget and at least cast a vote. Whoever the winner — good luck to all candidates.

PAT'S FUNNIES They are not supposed to be little boys anymore, but it smacks of infancy when they go around stealing candidate's signs.

And, who is the Mighty One who makes telephone calls but doesn't say anything?

And, if a political party leader has to take a BOE candidate by the hand to introduce to residents, who was the one not known well enough?

And, who's making goo-goo eyes at the dumb (like a fox) secretary?

And, what well known bakery truck hit the car and traveled on?

And...who got out of town REAL fast and why?

"...our children and youth are our most important asset and resource. But there are few resources in this country with a potential so largely undeveloped. . ."

HIS PLEDGE:

1. I will strive to insure that the people are accurately informed about our schools.
2. I will recognize that my responsibility is not to run the schools, but to see that they are well run.
3. I will confine my board action to policy making.
4. I will refuse to surrender my independent judgement to special interest or political groups.
5. I will recommend to the Board of Education that we study for consideration the restoring of the K-8 and 9-12 system,
6. I WILL OPPOSE ANY NEW ADDITIONS TO THE SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL.
7. I WILL FIGHT VIGOROUSLY TO PREVENT ANY OUTSIDE SCHOOL BUSING.

HIS STATEMENT:

"I would try to advance constructive and consistent planning in all areas of our school system. We need strong leadership on the Belleville Board of Education to create unity throughout the entire school system.

We must also bring about modernization of existing facilities with the objective of obtaining a more efficient and economical operation."

Piano Virtuoso Hollander To Solo With Symphony

Lorin Hollander, piano virtuoso, will appear as guest soloist with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, Feb. 17, 3:30 p.m., at Montclair High School, 100 Chestnut Street, Montclair, N.J.

Hollander, only 29, is in his seventeenth season as an internationally-renowned touring artist. The son of violinist Max Hollander, who was Arturo Toscanini's concert master for many years, Hollander has been playing chamber music since he was a child.

He recently appeared with the Tokyo String Quartet in New York's Philharmonic Hall's Mostly Mozart Festival, and at Rudolf Serkin's Marlboro Festival in Vermont. He has also been a guest artist with the New York Philharmonic, The American Symphony, the Cincinnati Symphony, and several other orchestras in the United States and Canada, in addition to touring Europe, Asia and Australia.

Hollander's personal crusade for several years has been to communicate and to expose all kinds of people to music and ideas. He explained:

"Once you have gained a special knowledge, you must touch other people with it. It's a universal in all religions - to help other people find their own path. I have a gift, and I have the chance to touch people who cannot make sounds for themselves, the chance to tell them what such a gentle man as Schubert or an enigmatic man as Mozart had to say about their lives. If I could not do it on the stage, then I'd do it on the street."

In 1971, Hollander was the first pianist to give street concerts in New York, playing the Baldwin Electronic Concert Grand in two performances under the auspices of the City's Department of Cultural Affairs. Two years earlier, he had introduced the Baldwin Electronic in the first classical concert at Fillmore East, New York's former rock theater.

In the Autumn of 1972, he was featured in a 10-System. He has also presented numerous college seminars, and participated in experimental educational programs in public schools.

Hollander has also brought music to inner-city children throughout the country. He described his approach to these groups:

"I go in and talk of many subjects: life and the news and gang warfare and drugs, and the typical frustrations and anxieties they live with."

"Then I sit down and play, and the ones who stay look at each other and don't talk. One asked me why I play another man's music, and I explained how we interpret the past - but he wanted me only to improvise, without notes on paper. One played the saw, and we jammed - it was beautiful!"

"So I have an afternoon, I go into a schoolyard and do this."

Concerning the college seminars, he explained:

"I try to tie our studies of the arts into a religious and metaphysical view of the universe. I underscore the common themes that run through man's religions and bring them together in re-examining our search into the creations

Practically everybody hates to go through a proctoscopic examination. Frankly, for a moment, it's uncomfortable, even embarrassing.

But it's as important to examine your colon and rectum as to examine your heart and lungs. Especially if you're over 40. Anything suspicious the procto will show and the sooner it's spotted, the better.

You could stand a few moments of discomfort, couldn't you, if it could save your life?

The London Sunday Times added that he "offers immaculate technique with a crisp, dry articulation

Close-to-Home Ice Rinks Boom During Gas Pinch

As predicted by many observers, the current energy crisis, and particularly the gas shortage, is affecting the social patterns of many Americans. The long Sunday drive is out, ditto many Friday-to-Friday skaing weekends. But at the Branch Brook Ice Center in Newark and West Orange's South Mountain Arena, it's a different story.

These two recreational facilities of the Essex County Park Commission are but a thimble full of gas away for many, many thousands of persons.

"People still want recreational activity especially on weekends," said Paul McInnis, general manager of the Park Commission's skating rinks, "so we're working diligently to meet the increased demand for the best public skating possible."

As a result, both Branch Brook and South Mountain have become the recreational mecca for not only skilled skaters but for those who just want to get out for some exercise and for those who enjoy the party-like atmosphere of the weekend crowd. And there are some weekend crowds.

At Banch Brook, similar circumstances prevail. Each weekend hundreds of skaters converge on the park rink to meet with friends on the ice or just skate aimlessly for a couple of hours.

The same is holding true for weekdays at both facilities. Morning, afternoon and evening fun seekers are finding it possible to to their thang.

Though a majority of skaters are youngsters, senior citizens and mothers and housewives and even businessmen regularly make the scene. For example, there's Fred Link of Englewood Cliffs. He's 79 years old.

"I skate three times a week," said Link, who was born in Germany. "It keeps me fit. I need the exercise. I don't want to give up and sit in an armchair. It helps my circulation plus I meet a lot of nice people. I skate from two to two and a half hours each time I come here and I'm in excellent health."

Fred Link used to ski but he's given it up for skating.

Adding to the gala atmosphere at both Branch Brook and South Mountain are the snack bars both rinks offer and the lively music either piped into the rinks or the live kind supplied by either an organist or a rock band. recently added an auxiliary outdoor rink which it now makes available for skating parties as well as hockey and figure skating groups. A call to the Arena can fill in details concerning reservations.

Between Branch Brook and South Mountain local skaters have a short distance to travel.

Jaycees Focus Upon Woman Problems

The Junior Chambers of Commerce from eight Essex County communities will meet jointly at Montclair State College on Sunday, Feb. 10, for a program designed to give members of this all-male organization an insight to problems women face in employment. The program, "The Work Ethic of Women and Man: A Double Standard," is part of a series being presented throughout the academic year by Montclair State College under a grant from the New Jersey Committee for the Humanities, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Each presentation consists of a playlet, "Adam and Even" with a professional cast and a panel discussion.

#MThe panel for the Feb. 10 session, to be held in the college's Student Center at 2 p.m. will be moderated by Professor Rita Jacobs of the English department.

Minish Says End Tax Cuts For Oilers

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District — New Jersey, has introduced legislation this week to end three major tax breaks for oil companies.

"It is simply not right," Minish said, "for oil company profits to soar to unconscionable levels, largely as a result of tax loopholes, while our citizens are forced to make considerable sacrifice."

Minish said his bill would eliminate entirely three major tax concessions now granted for the foreign operations of oil companies. The three are the oil depletion allowance, intangible drilling expenses, and the foreign tax credits. In addition, he also has sponsored legislation to cut off the depletion allowance for domestic operations.

The depletion allowance, Minish explained, permits the owner of an oil well to deduct 22% of the selling price of oil from his taxable income, while the intangible drilling provision allows oilmen to deduct all costs involved in drilling, whether or not a well produces oil.

"These two loopholes," Minish said, "cost the American taxpayer over $2 billion a year."

"The most unjustifiable bonanza for the oil tycoons," Minish said, "is the foreign tax credit. This device, which allows oil companies to subtract payments to foreign countries from their U.S. tax bill, now costs the American taxpayer about $2.5 billion a year and will rise sharply unless it is modified. Minish's bill would convert the credit to a straight deduction similar to that enjoyed by other businesses.

"It is absurd," he argued, "to expect the American taxpayer to continue to provide subsidies for these companies who in turn subsidize countries which refuse to sell us oil or refuse to sell at a reasonable price."

Minish maintained that major oil companies "have experienced windfall profits in the midst of the 'so-called' energy crisis."

Exxon, for example, saw its profits increase from $1.5 to $2.4 billion last year, a 59% jump. Overall, the 31 largest oil companies had sales of just under $82 billion in the first nine months of 1973, up to 22 percent from the same period in 1972. Nearly three quarters of those sales were made by the giants of the industry — the eight largest companies.

"At the same time," Minish pointed out, "the oil companies, through the use of tax loopholes, pay little or no Federal income tax. In 1971, for example, the oil companies paid an average of 6.7 percent in Federal income tax — less than a wage earner with a family of four earning $8,000 would pay percentage wise."

"It is time," Minish said, "to restore justice to our tax code by ending the loopholes granted to the oil tycoons."

Sale of PSE&G Stock Goes to Underwriters

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has completed negotiations for the sale of 4,500,000 shares of Common Stock to a group of underwriters headed by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated at a price of $18.99 per share.

The underwriters began offering the shares to the public today, at a price of $19.75 per share.

Members will be Dr. Margaret Reilly, chairman of the economics department; Professor Linda Levine of the Spanish department; Ms. Shirley Grill, director of Bohn Hall dormitory; and Professor Stephen Johnson of the philosophy department.

Participating Jaycees come from Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, Montclair, West Essex, Cedar Grove, Verona, and Livingston. Past "Work Ethic" programs have been presented at the Montclair and Bloomfield Public Libraries and Montclair YMCA and for the League of Women Voters and Chambers of Commerce of the Greater Montclair area.

Future presentations are scheduled for the Paterson Public Library, Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association of Essex County, and National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. All of the programs are open to the public without charge.

PTA Asking Repeal Daylight Savings Time

Immediate repeal of daylight savings time legislation has been recommended by the Executive Committee of the multi-million-member National PTA at a recent meeting in Chicago.

"Our concern for the safety of children has compelled the executive Committee to take this emergency action," said Mrs. Lillie E. Herndon, National PTA president. "It is obvious that daylight savings time is a grave mistake, and we feel it should be repealed as soon as possible."
