

Election Review

The Candidates

Hard work and effective organization paid off for two incumbent Board of Education members and one challenger last Wednesday as Lawrence Schwartz and Matthew Pica were each reelected to a second term, while former School Seven Viola Spray won the seat recently vacated by 12-year member Mrs. Norma McCool.

As 4,993 voters went to the polls, accounting for nearly 25 percent of the over 18,000 eligible voters in Belleville, the turnout became the highest here in 14 years.

The two incumbents and Mrs. Spray easily outdistanced the rest of the field of eight candidates, as Pica topped the slate with a total of 2,370 votes. Mrs. Spray, who had closely identified her campaign with Pica, but is well-known in her own right as an educator for 46 years in Belleville, took second spot with 2,278. Lawrence Schwartz conducted an intensive campaign to overcome a Belleville voting tradition that has often seen residents shy away from incumbent School Board presidents at election time. After one term as head of the schoolers, Schwartz rolled 2,156, almost 4000 votes ahead of Rocco Constantino, his closest competitor.

Constantino drew the most vote of any candidate at a single polling place as he

The Budget

Despite a heavy turnout of almost 5,000 voters at the polls last Wednesday, only 3,276 cast ballots either for or against the Board of Education's proposed $7.7 million budget, and the package was defeated by a mere 28 votes. It would have been the first budget to be passed here in seven years.

Though many ardent supporters of the budget were frustrated by approaching so close to the long-sought victory only to slip away once more, others view the near-passage as a "moral victory" of sorts for the school system. Though the defeated budget must by law be submitted to the Town Board of Commissioners for paring, the slim margin of defeat, say some school officials, should not be taken as a mandate from the voters for a large cut by Town Fathers.

While the dictionary definition of "mandate" is "an authorization to act given to a representative," the political definition is a flexible one, and will be worked out in future negotiations between the two Boards.

Most likely, those meetings will be more conciliatory than the single session which took place last year before the Commissioners cut $450,880 from the Board's proposed $7.4 million package, and the schoolers appealed to Trenton. Both governing bodies doubtless are

The Belleville Board of Education Tuesday night elected Matthew Pica president and reelected Caesar Romano, both in 6-0 votes. Pica's election came on the heels of Wednesday's School Board election in which he topped a field of eight candidates in his bid for a second term.

He succeeds Lawrence Schwartz, also reelected last Wednesday, declined to seek another one-year term as chief officer of the Board.

Tuesday night's reorganization meeting saw a new member to the Board — former School Seven Principal Mrs. Viola Spray, who finished second in the election, running between Pica and Schwartz. She fills the spot vacated by veteran Board member Mrs. Norma McCool, who retired from the Board of Education last month after 12 years of service.

Pica and Romano were elected to the top spots in less than five minutes after the Board convened their meeting Tuesday night. Both won unanimous support in 6-0 votes; Schwartz, on vacation after the recent campaign, was not present. In his opening remarks, Pica cited the unity of the vote and expressed hope that the Board would present a united front for the coming year.

Matthew Pica, 37, is a corporate officer for Sanyo Braen's Sons, and is vice president and treasurer of the New Jersey Lumber and Building Material Dealers.

Inc. A member of the Belleville Health and Drug program, last year he originated a resolution advocating stiff penalties for hard drug dealers in New Jersey, and the resolution was picked up by the New Jersey School Boards Association for referral to state agencies.

He is also a trustee of the Craig Fund, Inc., a former member of the Belleville Educational Advisory Council and has been active in recreational and Scouting circles here.

Pica was a prime mover in the formation of the Belleville Music Parents Association, which has grown to become one of the most active civic groups in Belleville.

Married to the former Margarita Ruiz, Pica has two children, Matthew, enrolled in the seventh grade, and Lisa, in the ninth. The family resides at 59 Mount Prospect Avenue.

Pica was educated in Belleville schools and graduated from Fairleigh-Dickinson University with a

Art-Music Festival II Schedules Ticket Sale

The general public will get a shot at tickets for the Art-Music Festival II when a general sale opens Monday at all Belleville schools.

Tickets for the show, a music and art extravaganza which will see participation by over 800 students from throughout the entire school system on March 25, had previously been open only to parents of the young performers. Sales will be limited to 1,640, the capacity of the High School gymnasium where the festival will be held, and tickets are expected to sell rapidly.

Scheduled four years after the first festival in 1970, this year's show will spotlight the various choral and instrumental groups in local schools, as well as artists of several media from all levels of the system. Following the general pattern of the 1970 event, the show will be divided into two main segments and numerous side attractions. Ticket price is $1.

Committee chairmen for the festival are Assistant Superintendents of Schools Michael Rosamilia and Seymour Grossman, Director of Art Morton Birkin and Director of Music Frank Scelba.

Each half of the festival will last an hour and a half. The first half, beginning at 6:30 p.m., will feature artwork by students.

From the elementary schools there will be exhibits of weaving, ceramics, collage, painting, puppets, drawings, plaster plaques and other media.

A special attraction not seen in Art-Music Festival I is a display called "Photography Without a Camera." These are designs imprinted on light-sensitive paper by students using various designs and light levels to create striking compositions of many shapes and shades.

Artists from the Junior High School will show puppets, print-making, drawings, mosaics, collages and mixed media. The High School art production class will construct designs and decorations for the festival, while individual students will

No Tax Rate Estimate

Municipal Budget Is Expected To Be Unveiled Tuesday Night

Auditors and Town Employees are working "round the clock" to prepare the 1974 municipal budget for introduction at Tuesday night's Commission meeting — just two days before the mandatory deadline.

Since the budget was incomplete earlier this week, with the Departments of Public Safety and Public Works scheduled to submit their appropriations on Wednesday, Town Treasurer Francis T. McCoy was unable to give the Times an estimation of the anticipated tax rate for 1974. Delays in salary negotiations for Belleville municipal workers and a holdup of official figures from the Essex County Board of Freeholders have clouded the picture.

Based on unofficial figures, McCoy did say that a decrease in Belleville's assessing ratio for county taxation could mean that the local tax rate will increase as much as 18 and a half points this year for the average Bellevilleite's share of county taxes.

While Belleville 1973 assessed valuation of $230,395,900 rose only to $232,577,500 for this year, he said Essex County has lowered the Town's assessing ratio from 79.21 in 1973 to 71.46 for this year, which means that Belleville must make up taxes on another $92,887,732 for an estimated total of $4,030,688 in county taxes — an increase of $436,849, which represents about 18.5 tax points. This means the average homeowner here may have to pay $18.50 per $100 of assessed valuation for county taxes this year.

McCoy said the Town's financial statement was filed on February 1 and 5, and all department figures were expected to be in on Wednesday. After preliminary work by the Department of Revenue and Finance, the figures would be sent to the Town's auditors who would examine the budget over the weekend.

The Commissioners will still have some decisions to make before the Tuesday night introduction. They will have to decide how much of the $465,291 in revenue sharing funds on hand will be applied to the budget, and how much of the Town's $1,777,360 in surplus funds will be used to lower the 1974 tax rate.

Calculations for the municipal budget were delayed when negotiations between the Board of Commissioners and Essex Council Number One representing 143 employees here had bogged down.

Senior Transportation Plan Delayed — the Bus Is Late

The delivery of a 28-seat mini-bus to be used by the Town for free transportation of senior citizens will be held up until the first week of April. The bus had been scheduled to be delivered this week, but a strike has held up its manufacture.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo said this week the Town will acquire a 14-passenger bus through the Essex County Office on Aging. No delivery date has been set. A possibility exists another mini-bus can be purchased by the Essex office next year for Belleville, which would bring the Town fleet to three.

Three routes have already been mapped out to cover "all the strategic areas of Belleville," and senior citizens who have applied for the service will be provided with identification cards as soon as the first bus is delivered.

Town Purchasing Agent Thomas McLaughlin said this week officials at the Wayne Bus Company of New York told him the bus had been held because construction of the chassis by International was delayed when International was hit by a strike, which has since been settled.

Once Wayne receives the chassis, they told McLaughlin, the Belleville bus would be ready within 20-30 days.

Historical Society Will Meet At Dinner Tomorrow Night

The Belleville Historical Society will hold its second annual dinner tomorrow night at Christ Episcopal Church at 7 p.m.

About 100 members and friends are scheduled to attend the event. Tickets are available today and tomorrow at the Belleville Public Library and will be sold at the door. Ticket price is $3.50.

Edward O'Neil, chairman of the event announced this week, former Town Councilman Ralph Casale will be toastmaster for the affair. Newly-installed President Gerard Hickey, director of the Belleville Library will be introduced with other officers, and past presidents Allan Crisp and Harry Sullivan will be honored.

The guest of honor and speaker for the evening will be Robert Leckie, a well-known author and historian who resides in Mountain Lakes, N.J.

Leckie, 54, was born in Philadelphia and was raised in Rutherford, N.J. He began his career as sportswriter for the Bergen Record and went on to work for various newspapers and wire services. He served in the Marines during World War II in the Pacific and was awarded five battle stars and the Purple Heart.

He is the author of many books, including several on the U.S. Marines, sports, the war in the Pacific and also some studies of the saints. He is currently at work on a history of American wars for Harper. His writings have been European and Asian editions.

Clara Maass — More Than a Hospital

Clara Maass, to most area residents, is the name of the Belleville hospital which treats over 17,000 patients yearly. Not many recall that the institution is named for a young nurse who made national headlines briefly in the early 1900's when she gave her life for the advancement of science and medicine.

Though she was once all but forgotten in the pages of United States history, Clara Maass may be immortalized through the issuance of a special commemorative stamp in 1976. But that stamp will be printed only if a far-ranging citizens' campaign is successful. With the United States Post Office able to issue only a limited number of commemorative stamps each year, those groups who wish to honor the 25-year-old nurse who died fighting yellow fever in Cuba will have to compete with several other special interest groups. The technique used in this competition is the familiar letter-writing campaign.

For the next two years until the selections for 1976 stamps are announced, the coalition of groups working for the Clara Maass stamp will be appealing to citizens across the country to persuade their congressmen, the Post Office and the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee to make the commemorative issue. In this area, the drive will be led by officials of Clara Maass Hospital, formerly called Newark German Hospital when Clara Maass began her training there in 1893 at the age of 16.

She graduated two years later and in 1898 became

At Manor Party

Mrs. Spray Honored For Years of Service

Cited as being "one of the rarities in town by Mayor Joseph McGreevy and "the epitome of a good teacher" by Superintendent of Schools, Anthony Greco, Mrs. Viola Spray, retiring principal of School Seven, was feted with a cocktail reception party at The Manor in West Orange.

Over 300 attended the three hour event, honoring the retiree who was a teacher at School Four for twenty-seven years, then a teaching/principal at School Nine, followed by a dual principalship at both Schools Nine and One. She then became a full time educator at School One prior to her position at School Seven.

The honoree received a standing ovation at the beginning and end of her speech. She said, "I have lots of vitality, lots of get up and go, and I am going to use them." She credited her family, who were present, Mrs. Eva Dunleavy, her mother, J. Harold Spray, her husband, and daughters, Judy and Cynthia Vignola, for their understanding and assistance to achieve her goals. She was presented with a lovely charm bracelet of gold, with one charm on it, bearing her initials, by Mrs. Gilda LaVecchia, chairman of the event and president of the School organization, O.P.E.

Other committee members were Mrs. Rose Marie Scott and Mrs. Roseann Walsh. John Scott, Town Attorney and Master of Ceremonies, read congratulatory telegrams and letters addressed to Mrs. Spray. Bishop Costello led the audience in prayer.

Mayor McGreevy, in his speech, mentioned that the Town introduced a resolution honoring Mrs. Spray for 46 years of educational service. Greco also said: "A good teacher is, born, and Mrs. Spray is the epitome of a good teacher."

Since that evening, Mrs. Spray became a candidate for the Belleville Board of Education, in a desire to "serve my community", she said. She was one of three elected to the Belleville Board of Education on February 13.

Pica, Romano Win School Board Spots

Bachelor of Science degree in business management. He served in the U.S. Army Signal Corps in 1955-57.
Asked to cite his goals as Board resident, Pica said, "I want to keep the Board unified and working with two basic goals in mind: one, that the children of this town are provided with the best education possible; and two, that every dollar we spend on education will be well-spent."
Two of the chief problems facing the School Board this year, he said, will be overcrowding ("we've got to make up our minds what we're going to do about it") and pupil transportation ("I heard many complaints during the past campaign about inequities in the system here.")

was named as the Board delegate to the New Jersey School Boards Association and Pica said he hopes Schwartz might be able to mount a campaign to persuade the state to fund pupil transportation past a one-mile limit from schools. The state presently funds transportation past two miles for grades one to eight and past 2.5 miles for grades nine to 12.
Looking forward to the Board of Commissioners' treatment of the proposed $7.7 million school budget that was narrowly defeated Wednesday at the polls, Pica said, "Although the budget was defeated, I don't think it should be considered as a mandate to cut it. Twenty-eight votes is not a mandate to the 6,000 children in this system. It's a sound budget and the Board will set up a meeting with the Commissioners, hopefully this week, to sit down and see if we can come to some conclusions."
Pica stressed his resolve to see more "public involvement" in school affairs and said one of his priorities will be to ask the Board to consider setting aside two nights each month, during which the Board will meet with the general public or select groups to discuss various concerns.

Caesar Romano, who last year was elected to the vice presidency after topping a field of three in his reelection to a second term, is a public relations coordinator for the Essex County Hospital Center. Born in Madison, he attended schools there and continued his education at Tusculum College, Upsala College and Newark College of Engineering. He has been active in local Scouting and is a trustee of the Craig Fund, Inc. He and his wife Barbara live at 16 Belmoor Street with their children, Lee Alan, 15, and Robin Lynn, 12.

Romano has long been an advocate of upgraded maintenance and repairs in Belleville schools and he was a chief advocate of passage of the proposed 1974-75 budget.

reluctant to go through that scene again.
While last year's Board of Ed went before the Commissioners determined to allow no more than a cut of $50,000 in a budget that was turned down at the polls by a 3-2 margin, negotiations this year may have a decidedly more serene atmosphere. School Board Vice President Caesar Romano this week reflected the Board position when he said, "If the Commissioners feel it is in our best interests as a community to reduce this budget, I hope they'll realize they have to do it with some compassion and understanding for the students."

The vice president was impressed by the enthusiasm of those citizens who did support the budget.

pulled 491 votes at School Four in Silver Lake, his own neighborhood. That vote alone amounted to over a quarter of his total. Constantino, in his first electoral race had been expected to take several "third votes" after residents balloted for the publicized teams of Pica-Spray and Schwartz-De Luccio.

The Pica-Spray team ran strong and Mrs. Spray, also in her first election as a candidate since she retired from the principalship of School Seven late last year, was never more than a few votes apart from "running mate" Pica in any district.

Rose De Luccio, an active member of the School Two HSA and past president of the school system's consolidated PTA's, finished sixth in the field with a total of 1,400 votes.

The incumbents and Mrs. Spray (who was popularly noted as a strong candidate well before the election) were also expected to face a strong challenge from Town Registrar Ralph M. Risoli, who widely bannered his opposition to present Board policies and received a heavily promoted endorsement from State Senator Anthony Imperiale, whose November campaign was managed in Belleville by Risoli.

Like Constantino, Risoli's

main strength was in the Lake, but his 1,546 total fell over 600 votes short of Schwartz, who had taken the third spot. Risoli finished fifth in the field.

Another "protest candidate," Times columnist James Golden, collected only 817 votes, a surprisingly small total in the heavy turnout. Though not as visible as other candidates during the campaign, Golden had expected a large amount of support from "irate taxpayers" he said would support him to halt the rising school tax rates.

Your muscles are never completely relaxed, even when you are sleeping. The slight but constant contraction of your muscles — called tonus — keeps on whether you sleep or not. Because of tonus, your muscles are all ready to start an action as soon as a signal comes from your brain. A muscle is like a runner crouched at the starting line, waiting for a signal to start. A rested body has an increased tonus, were as when you become tired, your muscle tonus decreases.

The School Board Election

We are pleased school board members Larry Schwartz and Matthew Pica won reelection by handsome majorities. Mrs. Viola Spray was chosen by electors to fill the third vacancy.

Mrs. Spray has excellent qualifications, is a dedicated public servant and a fine replacement for outgoing member Norma McCool who chose not to seek re-election.

We are disappointed the school board budget was defeated. One can find comfort in the school budget defeat in the knowledge only a handful of votes made the difference. Perhaps next year a more aggressive effort on the part of citizens interested in improving Belleville's reputation in the field of education will lead to an affirmative vote on the school budget.

It is time Belleville citizens recognized that outsiders judge a community by the interest and support it demonstrates for its school system. Annual rejections of school budgets are no way to attract high income people to Belleville.

Have A Heart

The American Heart Association continues its national educational campaign to create public awareness and recognition of the early signs of a heart attack.

Since heart attack is the greatest killer in the United States more than 660,000 annually, all should be interested in telltale signs which give the first indication of its approach. The AHA says the most common warnings are: (1) Prolonged oppressive pain or discomfort in the center of the chest; (2) Pain radiation to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw; (3) Sweating accompanying the pain, perhaps nausea, vomiting or shortness of breath.

These symptoms, the AHA says, often subside and return at a later time. Those experiencing the symptoms should call a doctor at once, because the first hours of a heart attack are often the most critical, and the time in which the most can be done to limit damage.

The AHA campaign is set for February but awareness of warning signs of heart attack should be stressed twelve months a year; executives between the ages of 35 and 64 are most vulnerable; but all in that age bracket are highly vulnerable.

Speed Reading

The editor doesn't pose as an expert on speed reading. Like millions of others, editors have in fact been impressed by demonstrations showing how much faster one reads after learning speed reading.

Without question speed reading results are often beneficial. For certain purposes, it is almost a necessity certainly a business advantage.

However, now comes word from a California State University professor that speed reading may not be the end of ends. Most students tested after speed reading tend to lose comprehension as their speed increases, Dr. Richard Graf says. He found, in a test of 31 students, they suffer a memory drop of about a third. Some were reading three times as fast in speed reading as they had previously. But the memory loss averaged about a third among the entire group, no matter what the subject was. All of which is only common sense and what some have suspected from the beginning of the speed reading craze.

Nevertheless, if one reads three times as much as formerly, while losing a third of what he reads, he's still ahead of the game. But it's not the most dependable of reading, and not best for every purpose, a factor which might be kept in mind.

A Matter of Life and Breath

Today many lung diseases could be prevented. If people knew the facts, and if they took action. Your TB-RD League can give you the facts and the League takes action for you.

What people breathe into their lungs — cigarette smoke, pollens, germs, pollutants—determines the kind of lung disease they develop. Some lung diseases are inherited, some are contagious. But most of them are not.

Severe lung disease are among the fastest-growing causes of death in the country today. Cigarette smoking is the major cause of chronic bronchitis, emphysema, and lung cancer. Air pollution contributes its share of damage.

The TB-RD League, supported by the Christmas Seal Campaign, fights all these respiratory diseases, as well as tuberculosis. Christmas seal dollars pay for medical research, community health services, and health education for school children and adult groups.

But the League is short of the funds it needs this year. The energy crisis, shortages, and unemployment have caused a drop in contributions. When your "reminder note" comes in the mail, please make a gift, or a second gift, if you can. IT'S A MATTER OF LIFE AND BREATH.

Speak Up!

She Criticizes Commission Government

To the Editor:

Like the little squirrel, I too, like to hoard things. It's just one of my bad habits. However, occasionally, I peruse my collectives. One in particular, gives me food for thought and I'd like to share it with my Belleville friends. That one, your editorial dated October 14th, 1965:

"WELL, IT'S A BEGINNING ANYWAY...Belleville councilmen proved they can get down to business when necessary Monday night — when they try. The usual hour-after-hour discussions...the routine charges and counter charges...were - as we poets say - "conspicuous by their absence."

"...the meeting was conducted on an unusually high level. By 10:45 p.m., the councilmen...had waded through some 40 items on the agenda, heard several citizens comment on public affairs, and two hours and forty-five minutes later folded their briefs away and called it a day. If this keeps up, Belleville may well lose its tarnished reputation as a do-nothing band of incompetents."

* Belleville citizens might recall those council meetings used to start at 8:00 o'clock on a Monday evening, and the "two hours and forty-five minutes later" mentioned in that editorial above, means that the meeting lasted well into the wee hours of the next morning. Would you not agree that back there in 1965, Belleville's citizens were well informed as to what their elected representatives discussed as to our town's business? Not to mention those previous Thursday's preliminary caucus meetings where the citizen was allowed in, to listen and occasionally permitted to speak, which further informed interested citizens as to our elected local officials plans and intentions for the good of our community.

Perhaps, Mr. Editor our readers by now have knowledge of what I am trying to convey. However, I perused another of my collectives! This one:

"Newark Evening News, Saturday, October 28th, 1967: "Commission government is a little like the cigarette habit. It's been around a long time, the experts have repeatedly warned against it, and towns that give it up must often battle the temptation to return. Belleville dropped the Commission form in 1962 but this year went back to it...unfortunately the Walsh Act governing commissions lacks a label warning the public that its contents may be hazardous to municipal health. But the record of Commission government with EVERY elected department head a KING and no central control, ought to be a fair warning..."

So what do you say, you interested Belleville citizens and voters- let's once again get rid of this type of Commission government in our beloved town, yes, once and for all times- and when we again do- let's keep it out and fight those who shall ever attempt to return Commission form here. Twenty-five minutes is too short a time for any town's officials to fully inform interested citizens as to their plans. I, personally, make an effort to attend all of our town's regular meetings, which start at 8:30 p.m. and I am home one-half hour later, 9:00 P.M./Where am I to learn what is considered to be considered emergencies, what is discussed at caucus meetings and how my elected representative felt about each resolution? I believe the time is now for a change in our local form of government!!! Perhaps we could have four wards- nine officials- to represent us- The Citizens.

Respectfully yours,
Sally F. Hood

Disabled Vet Wants to Hear From Writers

To the Editor:

It has been a long and dreary winter for me since I am disabled. I used to live in Belleville in 1966 for 11 months. It would make a disabled veteran very happy if you, the editor, would have my letter published in the Belleville newspaper.

I am a disabled veteran of World War II. I had four operations before I had my left leg amputated and I had seven more operations after I had my left leg amputated. I have very poor circulation in my right leg and may lose it, too.

It would make me very happy to receive get-well cards or letters or anything people would wish to send me to read to cheer me up. Since I am disabled I have a lot of time to read and it makes me very happy to receive mail these long dreary winter days.

Thank You,
A disabled veteran

Praises Town's Men in Uniform

To the editor:

"Ask and it shall be given" was the result of my doctor's call to the Belleville Ambulance crew to take his patient, Mrs. Keeney, home from Columbus Hospital after a foot operation. Four young men weathered the storm January 9 and with the best care anyone could have, brought me home.

Again, when I needed assistance to go to my doctor, I asked for help to get up and down my 20 steps and right on the dot the police and firemen came. I can hardly find words to express my appreciation for their kindness. I have never been refused when I needed help. Perhaps I have revealed one reason for being a Belleville citizen.

Many, many thanks,
Lenora R. Keeney

THE STATE WE'RE IN

A Tradition Of Labor Movement Is Improving The Environment

By David F. Moore
N. J. Conservation Foundation

ENVIRONMENTAL AND LABOR movements have a lot more in common than many have realized

It should be self-evident that environmental blight impacts hardest on those of limited means, the ghetto people and those in rural areas whose subsistence revolves around sharecropping or migrant farm work. It's nothing new. Are you old enough to remember the westward migration of people forced off their land by the dust storms of the 1930's?

A TRADITIONAL MISSION of the American labor movement has been improving the working environment. Recall the struggle of the United Mine Workers to improve the safety and health prospects of coal miners. Just recently the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union struck the Shell Oil Co., campaigning for reduction of job hazards stemming from toxic materials to which the men were exposed.

THIS STRIKE represented something of a milestone because important segments of the environmental movement threw their support behind the strikers, recognizing that it's up to all of us to fight for a better environment, whether it's where we live or where we work.

Michael McCloskey, executive director of the Sierra Club, spoke at the annual convention of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers last August, and I think he made some points which are especially valid right here in New Jersey.

HE MIGHT HAVE been speaking directly to the New Jersey Legislature, for example, when he said, "Environmental protection cannot come at the cost of social justice, and conversely progress toward social justice will become ephemeral if it is earned at the price of a healthy environment."

McCLOSKEY CONTINUED that thought by adding, "...a mercenary society that is callous about the fate of workers and the unemployed is apt to be callous about the fate of the public's health and the rights of other living things and future generations." It's almost as if he were addressing himself to those special interests which preach against the right of the New Jersey citizen to sue on behalf of environmental quality.

He made one of my own favorite points in his address. It is simply that "unless growth occurs within a properly defined framework, there is no guarantee it will prove to be beneficial." He echoed practically all environmentalists when he said "it is no more logical to be against all growth than it is to be for all growth."

THIS BUSINESS of growth is one of the rallying points for some labor interests in New Jersey, which brand the environmentalists as simplistic types who would destroy everybody's job prospects. Yet, it's interesting to note that some big unions, like the United Auto Workers for one example, have consistently sided with the environmentalists of this state on major questions. McCloskey's closing words to the labor union bear repeating:

"LET THOSE OF US who are infused both with a social conscience and with the environmental ethic join together in finding a common way. By cooperating, we shall each have a far greater chance of succeeding. And if we each succeed, the future for us all can't help but be richer."

Essex Jr. Miss Wins State Title

Donna Alexander, crowned Essex County Junior Miss at a pageant held at here last December, has gone on to become the first black girl in the country to win a state Junior Miss title. A 17-year-old East Orange High School senior, she is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Alexander and the late William Alexander.

Sixteen girls from various counties throughout the state competed in the finals of the pageant held at Cherry Hill High School East. All the girls were in Cherry Hill for a full week of tours, visits, appearances, and rehearsals. The pageant climaxed Saturday evening, Feb. 9, with the crowning of Donna Alexander as New Jersey's Junior Miss for 1974.

Before winning the state title, Donna was victorious in the Essex County Junior Miss Pageant held at Belleville High School. In the Essex County Pageant, Donna was named by the judges as "Most Talented" for her interpretation of the eulogy from the funeral scene of the play "Purlie Victorious." The Essex County Junior Miss Pageant was sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees.

Donna is extremely active in school affairs and is the recipient of a number of honors. Currently she is the editor of the school yearbook, co-captain of the varsity cheerleaders, chief justice of Girls' Court, track team statistician, a member of the Principal's Advisory Board, Student Council representative, National Honor Society, Who's Who Among American High School Students, National Achievement Scholarship and National Merit Scholarship Letter of Commendation winner.

BROWSING BELLEVILLE

With Pat Diana

(Write me at 104 Overlook Ave. or call 751-6861)

The flu put me out of commission for a week and what I missed! — School Nine Founders' Day Program (I hope somebody from there will call to give me the details), a Red Cross Executive Board Meeting (of which I'm a new member), Cub Pack 307 Blue and Gold Dinner and invitations to teas for Mrs. Spray, Matt Pica, Larry Schwartz and Mrs. Delucchia... sorry about that.

The Belleville Senior Citizens had a grand time at their Valentine Party held at The Fountain... understand Dave Daniels was MC and Commissioner Marotti with Mayor McGreevy also attended. A King and Queen were elected, and I don't have their names yet... but understand the Seniors danced the afternoon away to music by Ken Westpy, John Gilbert, Russ Purdue and Gary Carnivale. Mrs. Viola Spray was presented with a bouquet of red and white carnations as the first member of the group to be elected to public office.

School Seven O.P.E. had a nice turnout for their general meeting this month... Understand the parents toured an Art Exhibit by the youngsters and the 6th grade students made illustrated stories and fairy tales for the lower grades to enjoy... IT the 5th and 6th graders had also made costumes and the halls were decorated by all the children in the school. The parents were invited to try their hand at different art techniques, such as block or pastel. The program included all BOE candidates who spoke briefly, (except Dave Daniels — HE had the flu). Mrs. Florence Labenski, program chairlady, was also the moderator of the panel session with the candidates along with Mrs. Beverly Wilkerson. The auditorium was decorated with a Valentine Day theme and also had children's posters on ecology and pollution. Refreshments were by third grade mothers.

Just a reminder that on March 14 School Seven will hold their annual Card Party at The Fountain. Fashions again this year will be by the Jeanette Shop, Nutley... hand made items by moms will be raffled off... theme will be "Around the World". Mrs. Pat Cardillo is the chairlady, tickets are $2.50 and may be obtained from principal Joe Grosch at the school, there are NO reserved tables and, of course, bring your own cards.

TWO GALS from Hoffman International were treated to lunch on Valentine's Day, honoring their birthdays — me and Marilyn D'Angelo were the birthday gals... and thanks to Lorell Alling, Melanie Noonan, Mariann Goldrick and Barbara LaMotta for the delicious repast of polynesian food at Lee's in Lyndhurst.

Best wishes are in order for two of our Auxiliary, Police... Stephen Rea — who attends Paterson State announced his engagement to Ellen Sands (the only gal on the force). Ellen is employed at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. A July, 1975 wedding is planned.

The Home and School Association of School Three is holding their annual Card Party on April 5th, 7:30 p.m. in the All Purpose Room at the School. Fashions will be Sherman's Children's Wear, with the children of the school modeling. A color TV and other prizes will be awarded. Mrs. George Mobilio is chairman, refreshments will be served. Donations are $2.00. Please call the school at 759-1580 for tickets.

(I should say at this point — since the men have their football and baseball season, it seems the gals retaliate with umpteen card parties during the winter months... and, why not???)

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S., District No. 4, Essex County Council, in cooperation with the Town of Belleville and the Belleville Veteran's Council will host the Annual Loyalty Day Parade on Saturday, April 27th at noon. Grand Marshall will be Bishop Joseph A. Costello; Honorary Grand Marshalls: Mayor Joseph McGreevy, Frank Thomas — District 4 Commander and Frank Petrucci, Commander, Essex County Council. The Parade will take place rain or shine. Any groups wishing to participate in the parade should contact the Veteran's Council prior to March 29th. Pasquale DeAngelis is General Chairman; Nicholas Guarino co-chairman; Sheldon C. Huber, parade adjutant, with John Freda, Ray Carnasgiola and Michael Resciniti, assistant parade adjutants. Carmine Delorio is secretary, Charles E. Kinney and James Leary, Parade Announcer, James G. Caffrey Jr. and Tony Mattia, parade coordinators, Andrew J. Tomasko (is that YOU, Butch?) and Edward Fisher, awards chairman and Robert Wallace with John G. Mooney — publicity chairman.

THE KIWANIS CLUB of Belleville has some new blood, and welcomed two new members — Jim Lapore and John Bruno.

The Belleville Recreation Department has done it again — be sure to check the Bulletin Board for new events — one interesting new item — tennis lessons for adults. Tennis, anyone?

Some February birthday and anniversary people at Wesley Methodist Church are: 1st — Eldon Shawyer, 3rd — Mrs. Dorothy Metz, 4th — the James Simpsons, 6th — Mrs. Carol Smith; 7th — Rev. Rounds, 8th — Linda Peterson and 9th — R.W. (Bill) McMullen.

Drive Seeks Stamp Honoring Miss Maass

the hospital's head nurse at 21, quite an advancement for the East Orange girl, born the eldest of nine children of poor German parents.

Nursing was the career that lifted the young Miss Maass from the drudgery of life as a $10 per month worker at the Newark Orphan Asylum and she took the profession to her heart. In response to her dedication and her heroic sacrifices, "R.N. Magazine," a national publication for nurses is spearheading the newest campaign to honor Miss Maass with a postage stamp.

It was the efforts of the journal's publishers which created the impetus for the latest drive, which comes after a series of other efforts dating back to 1946, when Pastor Arthur Herbert, head of the Newark Lutheran Memorial Hospital (an earlier name for Clara Maass Hospital) first began crusading for commemorative stamps in the U.S., and every country that had been afflicted by the dreaded yellow fever — Cuba, the Philippines and Panama among them. A bill sponsored by then-Congressman Hugh Addonizio was blocked in 1949 when authority for stamp issuances was turned over to the Postmaster General, who said that consideration would be given to Clara Maass in 1951, the fiftieth anniversary of her death.

Though the campaign in America failed again in 1951, that same year saw the dedication of a Cuban stamp honoring Miss Maass, brought about chiefly through the efforts of Cuba's Medical Director, Dr. Fernando Lopez-Fernandez, who today is medical director of a Chicago Hospital and one of the leaders of the revived stamp drive here in the U.S. He came to Clara Maass Hospital last Thursday to address officials here on the progress of the movement and was presented with a copy of a resolution passed recently by the Belleville Board of Commissioners who have lined up foursquare behind the effort. Also enlisted have been the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Clubs of Belleville and Nutley, Assemblyman Carl Orechio and State Senator Carmen Orechio. The next two years are expected to bring out more campaigners, all through the country as well as in this area of Clara Maass's birthplace and education.

In 1898, soon after her appointment as head nurse of the Newark German Hospital, Clara Maass volunteered for service in the Spanish-American War, which had just broken out. After a brief stay in Jacksonville, Florida, she was stationed in Santiago, Cuba, where she was first exposed to the yellow fever epidemics which swept through the city. In 1900, she was discharged and immediately she volunteered for service in the Philippines, where again she saw the prevalence of the disease. She was sent back to Newark from there in 1901, when she contracted another tropical illness, known as "breakbone fever."

That year she answered a telegram from General William C. Gorgas in Cuba, who with Dr. Walter Reed was preparing a series of dangerous but necessary experiments designed to prove or disprove a 20-year old theory proposed by Dr. Carlos Finlay of Havana that yellow fever was transmitted not through unsanitary conditions, but by the bite of the Stegomyia mosquito.

Though she was planning marriage to a New York businessman, Clara Maass again traveled to Cuba, where she was assigned to Las Animas Hospital. According to the plans of the experiment, Miss Maass and six Spanish immigrants (all men), allowed themselves to be bitten by the Stegomyia mosquitoes. Two of the immigrants died but she recovered quickly from a mild case of the fever.

Though doctors advised her she was not immunized by the first attack, she volunteered again to be exposed on August 14. After the second bite, she went through 10 days of intensive suffering and died.

Convinced they had found the carrier of yellow fever, doctors suspended the experiments and searched for ways to eradicate the mosquito. Clara Maass's story was told in American papers in the following days and eventually her body was brought to Fairmount Cemetery in Newark after disinterment from Havana's Colon Cemetery. A small Army stone marked her American grave.

Though her death had provided the means to combat yellow fever throughout the tropics, including Panama, where construction of the Panama Canal had been made impossible by the disease, Clara Maass was soon virtually forgotten except for a portrait which hung in a memorial room in the Newark Memorial Hospital (another early name for the present Clara Maass Hospital). Her story was remembered again in 1930 through the efforts of Miss Leopoldine Guinther, hospital superintendent, and, then again by Pastor Herbert in 1946. But as yet, no efforts by Dr. Lopez or Clara Maass Hospital (renamed for the courageous nurse in 1952) to have a stamp issued in her honor have been successful.

The various groups have united for the new drive, which will culminate in 1976, the 100th anniversary of Clara Maass's birth. Harold C. Widman, administrative assistant at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, says the principal means for success this time will be "an inundation of letters from private citizens."

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Constructive Change

Change in behavior that will turn hard-core heroin addicts off destructive behavior and set them on the road to progress toward normal life is being sought in an innovative research study in Florida.

There, testing is underway on a new and little known drug abuse treatment technique called contingency contracting. The study is supported by HEW's Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration.

Contingency contracting is a method in which the patient or "client" and the counselor sign a binding agreement. Then they work together to bring about a constructive change in the addict's behavior, including a break with drugs.

Participants in the study are young men and women, all heavy drug users, who have tried and failed in other forms of therapy, including methadone treatment. They are, however, sufficiently motivated to seek out and meet the rigorous conditions of the research-study-treatment program.

Upon admission, clients sign a legal contract tailored to their needs. Typically, a contract requires the client to abstain from drugs of abuse, undergo urinalysis checks for drug use, deposit pay checks into a joint account controlled by his case manager, maintain a continuous record of activities and thoughts, and report these at regular intervals.

Extremely close contact is maintained between the case manager and his client; and, during the first part of the treatment, the client reports by telephone seven times a day.

The program has received friendly encouragement from the community, whose merchants donate as bonuses country fried chicken dinners, department store gift certificates, and clothes. These are used as rewards for improved behavior.

The average period of treatment lasts for 12 months. It ends when the client's recorded data show a positive stabilization of behavior, confirmed by negative urinalysis. In the first 5 months of followup only one client slipped back to drug use and that client did it only once.

Clinic Medical Director Speaks At Auxiliary Tea

Dr. George R. Reding, newly appointed Medical speaker at a tea recently given for the Auxiliary by Mrs. Jerome B. Hamburger at her home on North Road, Nutley.

Dr. Reding, a native of Belgium, was graduated from Brussels University Medical School in 1950. He completed his post-graduate psychiatric studies at Columbia University Psychiatric Clinic, at the New York State Psychiatric Institute in New York City, and in Geneva, Switzerland. Dr. Reding presented to the group some of his thinking on the place of the guidance clinic in the communities it serves.

It is his belief that it is imperative that those working with children in various areas see each child as a whole human being and that they strive to meet the needs of the child by referring to all information available on the child being helped. This means coordinating the work of all agencies which may be working with the common objective of helping the child function in a happy, productive manner.

He further stated that the people of the communities should be aware of the work being done by various local organizations and the steady improvement in the lives of many of its citizens which result therefrom. There are many areas in which a child may need professional assistance and it is Dr. Reding's belief that people who are qualified to give this help should work together in whatever capacity the situation might demand. He also said that it is very important that citizens in the communities know about the Clinic and its functions as the Clinic wants to reach all children who may need the services which it has to offer in dealing with emotional or behavior problems.

The North Essex Child Guidance Clinic is located in the Essex County Geriatric Hospital complex in Belleville.

Frost Seed Now To Repair Lawn

You can repair bare or thin spots in your lawn by seeding as long as the present alternate freezing and thawing weather conditions continue. Just scatter the seed evenly over the surface of the soil and let nature take its course. The alternate action of freezing and thawing will work the seed into the soil.

Farmers have been frost seeding it for years and Mr. William F. Munk, Senior County Agricultural Agent of Essex County, suggests it for certain lawns.

A lawn with bare spots no larger than three inches across and with a thin stand of grass can use this extra help.

After the freezing-thawing

In an effort to widen the cultural horizons of members of the Club, many trips of this nature are planned for the future.

movement is over, the soil will warm up and the seed will be ready to germinate and get off to an early start.

For success, the seed must come in direct contact with the soil, so rake up any old clippings or other dead organic matter on the surface before you scatter the seed.

Choose a high quality seed mixture, preferably one that contains a high percentage of Kentucky bluegrasses or Merion Kentucky bluegrass and red fescue, advises Mr. Munk. Sow at the rate of 2 to 3 pounds to 1,000 square feet of lawn area.

Nutley Looms Large

Grapplers Eye Tourney Crown After Wasting Columbia, 46-Zip

After devastating the Columbia Cougars in a 46-0 shutout Friday evening, the Belleville High matmen will stalk Nutley in one final confrontation this season during the Essex County Coaches' Tournament to be held at Belleville High School tomorrow night and Saturday.

While six schools are lined up for the first such tournament in county history, Nutley is the heavy favorite over Belleville, Irvington, Saint Benedict's, Our Lady of the Valley and Glen Ridge. But even though Nutley bested Belleville, 28-18 in one-on-one competition earlier this season, Blue-Gold coach Jim Silvestri figures his matmen have a good shot at the victory, "if we can get some help from the other schools." According to Silvestri, Nutley, Belleville and Irvington should be bringing the strongest teams to the tournament.

After the tournament, the Bellboys will wind up their dual match schedule for the season as they face the Kearny Cardinals at home, Tuesday, Feb. 26. "Kearny will be skyhigh for us," Silvestri said. "They really want us." The match could be very close, with some of Kearny's best wrestlers scheduled in the lower weight classes, where Belleville is also strong.

Everybody was strong last Friday night as the Bellboy squad ripped through the Cougar lineup. No matches were forfeited by Columbia and the Bellboys pinned or decisioned their way to a 46-0 blanking, the second for Silvestri in his 10-year career at Belleville. The win put Belleville's record at 3-5-2.

"I was proud of everybody's performance," Silvestri said afterward. "Jim Mauncle and Jack Vogel, in particular, did particularly well." Both wrestlers are juniors and posted their first wins of the season.

Vinnie Mustacchio (101 pounds) won an 8-1 decision to start the match, and Carl Arlt followed up at 106 pounds with a 9-0 decision.

Another decision was won at 115 pounds by Bob Cozzarelli with a score of 5-3 and Tony Villano (122) came through with a 5-1 victory.

Don Liloia (129) pinned his opponent in the second period for another six points. In the HANGING ON to every move on the mat, wrestling coach Jim Silvestri and his grapplers watch the progress of one of their own during their shutout over Columbia. Silvestri hopes the sweeping victory will provide the tonic the team needs for tomorrow night's opener of the Essex County Coaches Tournament.

Bellgirl Cage Five Knocked Out In Round One of State Tourney

by Elaine Drake

The Bellgirl Basketball Team entered the state tournament with a 10-3 record, and came up three points short, losing 56-53. Drawing Columbia High School, a team which was defeated by the Bellgirls in regular season by one point, the Blue and Gold performed brilliantly after overcoming a poor first quarter, but their hopes were dashed as Columbia emerged victoriously.

Beginning the game without the services of point guard Donna Stone seemed to spell disaster for the Blue and Gold, as they could only put four points on the scoreboard compared to Columbia's 13 points. Diane Amoscatto assisted Donna Foley in the first field goal of the game, but Belleville was unable to score until forward Linda Diana broke through the key to sink a lay-up shot in the final seconds of the quarter to make the score 13-4, Columbia.

The second quarter began with the Bellgirls playing catch up basketball. Joyce Buckland intercepted a Columbia pass and drove down for a Belleville score. This was followed by two quick field goals by Gloria Barbone and Donna Foley, while Susan Paul went to the foul line for two as she was fouled in the act of shooting by Byrd. At the end of the half, Belleville trailed 25-17.

In the second half, it was a different ball game. Belleville set their full court press into motion, and blazed away at the backboards, outscoring Columbia 22 points to fifteen points. Four of the Bellgirls 21 points were scored at the foul line by Joyce Buckland and Susan Paul. Donna Foley intercepted a Columbia pass and assisted Gloria Barbone in a field goal. Donna Foley repeated the play to assist Joyce Buckland for another two points. During this quarter, co-captain Joyce Buckland scored twelve points including a reverse lay-up which had the fans in awe. The score at the end of the third quarter showed the Bellgirls down by one 40-39.

The fourth quarter continued in the same manner of fast breaking, running basketball. Joyce Buckland intercepted the ball and drove down for a field goal to put

by Elaine Drake

The Bellgirls continued their domineering offense combined with an aggressive defense as they defeated Glen Ridge 67-19 last week.

Donna Stone controlled the opening jump ball and assisted Diane Amoscatto in the first field goal of the game. Carol Jackson and Susan Paul both scored while Donna Foley sank a 15-footer from the corner. The score at the end of the quarter was 15-7.

The Bellgirls dominated the second quarter by out-scoring Glen Ridge twenty-three points to four points. Donna Foley intercepted a Glen Ridge pass and assisted Joyce Buckland in a field goal and a foul shot. Donna Foley sank two 15-footers from the corner to widen the Bellgirl lead, 38-11.

The third quarter continued in the same manner as the Bellgirls out-hustled and out-scored Glen Ridge 19 points to six points. Donna Stone intercepted the ball and assisted Susan Paul in a field goal. Donna Foley then intercepted the ball and drove down for an additional two points. The Bellgirls led at the end of the third quarter 57-17.

The final quarter moved slowly as the Bellgirls scored only ten points to Glen Ridge's two points. Peggy Morrison intercepted a Glen Ridge pass and assisted Gloria Barbone in a field goal.

the backstroke with a time of 32.1, and won the butterfly event for 11-12 year olds in 31.3. He then helped his team to a victory in the medley relays.

Against Red Bank, he took a third in the backstroke, and a first in the butterfly with a time of 30.8.

Anthony had previously taken a first place in a meet against Scotch Plains in the 50-yard freestyle in his age class with a time of 28.9 and won the 50-yard backstroke with a time of 32.7.

Swimmer Domenick Takes AAU Crown

Anthony Domenick of Belleville took first place in the recent New Jersey AAU swimming championships for 11-12 year olds with a time of 1:09:00 in the 100-yard backstroke. The meet was held at Red Bank.

Anthony has been a mainstay on the "Tunas," the Montclair YMCA boys' swim team which recently won two dual meets back to back as they defeated Red Bank, 115-92 and Westfield, 126-81.

Against Westfield, Anthony took first place in

Cotugno Leads Rally

Scrambling Cagers Run Down By Favored Panther Quintet

by Bob Cohen

The Bellboyus completed their 1973-74 home schedule last Friday afternoon in high fashion. They gave the 11th ranked East Orange Panthers a real score before falling to them by the score of 68-58.

The loss put Belleville at 4-14 for the season. They are 3-13 in the Big Ten. For their completed home slate the team is 4-7.

On Tuesday afternoon, the cagers close out their season as they take on the Columbia Cougars in a 3:45 encounter. This game will be played at Columbia High School in Maplewood.

One thing about the loss is the close margin. In four of the home defeats the point margin averaged at slightly over four points. Nestled among those losses was the 52-50 squeaker to Montclair and the 44-43 heartbreaker to Irvington.

Yet never forget the come from behind scramble to out-class Mike Calicchio and the Nutley Maroon 69-62. That game, coming on the heels of an eight-game losing streak, ranks as one of the more exciting contests of the season. In the East Orange encounter, the Bellboys were sparked by the play of Anthony Cotugno. The loquacious Cotugno put in fine back-to-back efforts in his last two games. He shot 12 for 24 from the field for an impressive 50 percent.

It was important for him to take over the scoring chores because of the less than healthy condition of Abdel Anderson. Anderson, battling a fever all week long, was less than up to par for the contest. In fact, even though he finished the day with 17 points, he only managed three points in the first half.

However his efforts were good enough to put him in front of Seton Hall's Kevin McDonald in the Herald News scoring poll. As of last Friday's results, Abdel has tallied 442 points this season. McDonald trails with 437. Yet on a per game average, McDonald is winning based on 17 games played as opposed to 18 played by Belleville. In that respect Abdel trails by a 1.3 point per game average.

Other scorers for Belleville were Joe Dunn with seven, Pat Hogan with four, Gary Tufo three, Harry Baumgartner two and Bob Sanders with one.

Mike Booker paced East Orange to the win by scoring a game high 29 points. He also led in rebounds with 18. The win left the Panthers with a Big Ten record of 13-3. The Bellboys took an early 3-2 lead on a Cotugno jumper followed by a Gary Tufo free throw. Booker then connected on a jumper but Tufo made one of his own. It made the score 5-4. It also marked the last lead the Bellboys would maintain in the ballgame.

Abdel Anderson scored his one first period point on a free throw to bring the score to 8-6. Following his point were a Ken Young layup and a Joe Dunn layup which kept the E.O. lead at two 10-8.

What followed next was a 17-2 Panther spurt that opened things up considerably in the game. Booker led with 10 tallies. Reggie Baker had four. The sole Belleville basket was scored by Cotugno on a jumper.

After the spurt Belleville and East Orange played even for the remaining time left in the period. It was Cotugno again who led the Bellboy scoring. He had six points. Anderson had four and Sanders had one.

Only a portion of the unemployed are out to find employment.

Men interested in the truth rarely get emotional in a discussion.

PANTHER Mike Booker is out of reach as he hits for two points against the Bellboys Friday, though Abdel Anderson (30) and Joe Dunn (24) try to halt the inevitable.

in the quarter with eight points. Anderson had seven. Tufo had two and Dunn had one.

Belleville opened up the third stanza of play with a six-point spirit that gave them the lead. Joe Dun had a jumper. Abdel had a layup and Cotugno followed with a layup to give Belleville a 34-31 lead. However Garfield replied with a six pointer of their own to give them a 37-24 lead. Ed Kopyra had four of the six tallies.

Belleville took the lead one more time in the quarter as Cotugno and Anderson both had layups to make the score 42-41. Kopyra with a jumper made the score 43-42 in favor of Garfield.

It was now the fourth quarter and the frustration of Belleville's falling scoring attempts were beginning to mount. Garfield scored one more time and the way the game was being played it looked like it might be enough to wrap things up.

A big play because it seemed to spark a sagging Belleville was a stolen inbounds pass by Cotugno and the ensuing layup in which he was fouled on. It tied the game at 45.

With 4:05 left to play, Abdel was whistled for his fifth foul and it looked like the scoring would get even tougher. Belleville was trailing at the time by three. Tufo hit a jumper to make the score 50-49.

The key in the last three minutes of play was the failure of Belleville to make their free throws. They failed on three opportunities including two one and ones. And so to the delight of the boisterous Garfield crowd, the homers captured their second victory of the season.

Union College's wrestling team, which made a strong bid for the Garden State Athletic Conference crown, will take part in a post-season competition tomorrow and Saturday, Feb. 22-23 in the Mid-Atlantic District Championships at Clark Summit Pa. High School gym.

The Owls, who finished third in the GSAC with a 7-2 record, will send a 10-man aggregation to Mid-Atlantic championships, being represented in all weight classes.

Belleville ahead by one point. The battle began as Columbia sank a field goal, followed by a Belleville goal. Diane Amosato assisted Carol Jackson in a field goal while Linda Diana went to the foul line for two, as she was fouled in the act of shooting. As the final seconds of the game approached, the Bellgirls trailed by three points as Columbia kept the game out of reach to win 56-53.

Senior forward Joyce Buckland was again outstanding for the Bellgirls as she excelled at both ends of the court. Joyce scored 21 points, and pulled down 18 rebounds. Another fine effort was contributed by junior Linda Diana who chipped in 12 points, and had 13 rebounds.

Reflection on the loss, Coach Karen Fucello expressed disappointment, but felt that despite the adverse conditions of playing without starting guard Donna Stone, the Bellgirls performed with a lot of pride. "I don't want to sound bitter, but with our record, I feel that we should not have drawn Columbia on the first round.

Grapplers to Close Season With Match against Kearny

135-pound match, with Chris Tremel, a sophomore, subbing for Chuck Rilli, the Bellboys gained a superiority win as Tremel rolled up 14 points against none by his foe. Bill Mazza (141), decisioned his opponent, 9-4, and Ralph Fabiano (148) won a 6-0 victory.

At 158, Vogel posted his first varsity win with a 6-1 decision, and Mauncele (170) followed with a 10-7 decision. Jim La Conti (188) pinned his opponent in three minutes.

Heavyweight Ken Milano won his second match of the season as he did his first — with a pin. He flattened his foe in 5:19.

Tomorrow night's tournament, beginning at 7 p.m. with preliminary bouts, represents two years of campaigning by Silvestri among other Essex County coaches. The second round will begin Saturday at 10 a.m., and consolation are set for Saturday afternoon.

Commenting on Friday's match, Silvestri said, "The shutout shows we've been improving all through the season, and I just hope it's a good sign for the tournament."

Silvestri is keeping a low profile for the match against Kearny, his hometown. "I haven't even mentioned it to the boys," he said Monday. "When they bring it up, I try to talk it down."

Silvestri said the Cardinals are strong at 101, where veteran Mike Mulligan will meet Bellboy Vinnie Mustachio; another senior, Mike Marino, will go against Belleville's Bob Cozzarelli at 115. Other tough matches are expected at the 129 and 141 weight classes. Belleville has defeated Kearny in their past three encounters.

Bellboy Errors Cause Campers to Edge By

by Bob Cohen

A Bellboy comeback led by Anthony Cotugno was almost successful in the encounter against Irvington, Tuesday, Feb. 12. Yet key mistakes in the final minutes of play led Belleville to its 13th defeat of the season, this time by the score of 51-47.

As frustration dictated the outcome of the game, so did the personal fouls. In fact when Belleville star Abdel Anderson picked up his fifth personal foul with just 2:46 gone in the final period, the Blue-Gold really had their work cut out for them. It was Abdel who got hot in the closing minutes of the third period that brought Belleville back from a six point deficit to give them a three point lead, 33-30. Now with Anderson out, it looked as if the attack would sputter.

This was not to be the case. At the time that Anderson fouled out, the Bellboys were up by one, 35-34 on a Joe Dunn jumper. Then Irvington ran off on a 8-2 spurt interrupted only by a Gary Tufo jumper. The Campers were paced by six points from Rodger Stephens.

Anthony Cotugno, with only two points accounted for in the three previous quarters, then took over the Belleville attack. At the time the score was 42-37 in favor of the Campers. Then Cotugno hit a jumper. Following his pop, he stole the ball from Irvington and drove in for the layup. With 3:02 remaining in the game Belleville now trailed by only one, 42-41.

The tides seemed to turn

Montclair Matmen Prep for Tourney

The last time Larry Sciacchitano won a Metropolitan Intercollegiate Wrestling championship at Montclair State College was in 1964 when he competed in the heavyweight class.

Sciacchitano will get the opportunity to gain another Met title at Montclair State — this time as a coach — when his team competes Friday and Saturday with a t least 15 other schools in the metropolitan area.

A four-time Met champion, Sciacchitano's Montclair State team closed out its dual meet season last week with a 12-8-1 record. The Indians, which captured the University of Delaware Tournament in January, are ranked second in College Division II by The Amateur Wrestling News.

"We have a good chance of winning it," Sciacchitano says. His club finished second last year behind Trenton State. "C.W. Post and Trenton State should be contenders, but we beat both of them handily," he added. Montclair State defeated C.W. Post, 31-9, and downed Trenton State, 26-15.

"We should be favored," Sciacchitano continued, "although Post will be tough. They have a lot of good individuals. They don't have balance but good individuals is what usually wins it."

If that holds true Montclair State shouldn't have any problems. The Indians will have six former Met champions in their lineup. Ed Alber of Massapequa will be out to defend his crown at 118-pounds. Unbeaten Nabil Guketlov, (126) of Paterson is a two time champion at 118 and 126 while at New York University in his freshman and sophomore season.

Craig Spencer (134) of Wayne and Larry Hayspell (142) of Paterson were champions last year and will seek their second straight title. Steve Strellner (177) of South Tama and John Reid (190) of Somerville have won gold medals in the past. Strellner reaped the honor in 1971 while Reid accomplished the feat in 1969.

Oscar Zavala of Lincoln Park was the runner-up last year at 150 pounds. Bob Woods of Suffern who was undefeated in the conference this season, will have a shot at the 158-pound crown. Another grappler that Sciacchitano feels should gain some team points is 167-pounder Tom Stokes of Vineland. "He'll have a tough time winning but he should place," Sciacchitano says.

The preliminary round begins at 4 p.m. Friday with the quarterfinal round immediately following. The semifinal round starts at 1 p.m. Saturday with the consolation and finals slated for 7 and 8 p.m. respectively.

Admission for Friday night's and Saturday afternoon's action is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. For the consolation and final rounds admission prices are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students.

The response to the Magnavox Factory-Sponsored Annual Sale appears to be becoming greater every year. Customers realize that the savings offered in a Magnavox Sale are real.

The great interest seems to be in the high-priced Stereo Phonographs, particularly those with the "air-suspension" speaker system. This development gives literally a new realism to music reproduction. It is difficult to describe; one has to hear it. It is amazing to see the face of the listener as we instantly switch from one instrument to the other. This is the only way to compare. It takes much too long to change a record from one set to the other; it has to be done instantly.

There are some combinations which have been reduced. More and more people buy them which costs a little more than the better TV console sets, particularly in view of the present price reductions. Most dealers do not stock any or only a few combinations. We stock most all of them and probably this is the reason why we sell so many.

Prices for Color TV sets have been reduced also. Please come in and "browse" around.

East Orange Overcomes Tenacious Bellboy Attack

The high score in the quarter was again Mike Booker. He drew nine points for a total of fifteen in the first half. The score at the end of two periods was East Orange 35-Belleville 19.

Belleville was not playing poorly in the game, it was just that they could not click on a high percentage of field goal attempts. But something began to happen in the second half, usually a time when the Bellboys go flat.

Following a free throw by Baker and a Booker jumper, Anderson, Cotugno, then Anderson again had layups. It was a small streak yet an effective one. Following a Booker layup it again was all Cotugno. He had a layup, a jumper and another layup to pace the Bellboys. Harry Baumgartner had a steal which resulted in a layup and suddenly the 16-point deficit was now only nine, 42-33.

However, following their sport, the Bellboys could only manage three point while the Panthers had ten. This seemed to be the key to the game; that Belleville could not ignite a prolonged scoring drive that would totally upset East Orange. Booker with ten was high in the quarter. Cotugno was Belleville's big gun with eight. Abdel come on with six. Baumgartner had two and Dunn had one.

The exciting fourth quarter was certainly all Belleville as the home team ripped into all of the East Orange lead. In fact to count out the final two and a half minutes when E.O. went into a stall, Belleville was tops with a 20-10 advantage.

Abdel opened up the fourth by connecting on a corner jumper. Following two Booker layups, The Bellboys struck back. Anderson had a layup. Joe Dunn made good on two foul shot opportunities and Cotugno's jumper was good.

Joe Dunn made good on two foul shot opportunities and Cotugno's jumper was good.

Following was a slight streak by the Panthers as Young, Baker and Mel Hall each had jumpers to give them a 62-46 lead. Then Belleville began its most serious drive in the game.

Joe Dunn hit a jumper. Abdel had a layup. Cotugno and then Pat Hogan had layups. Then Anderson had a jumper. The clock showed 2:58 to play and Belleville trailed by six, 62-56.

At this time East Orange went into it's stall and it effectively killed the Belleville momentum. It is interesting to note that a team like East Orange rarely goes into a stall. Coach Bob Lester must have been very cautious around the tenacious Bellboys. What followed was five points by Baker and one by Booker. Between each score the effectively ran down the clock put Belleville into a deep hole. Finally Pat Hogan hit a jumper to close out the scoring for Belleville and the contest.

Notice of the proposal to raise the speed limit from 50 to 55 on certain State highways, will appear tomorrow in the February edition of the New Jersey Register, the State's official publication containing notices of proposed rules. The proposal to amend existing speed regulations can be officially adopted after a twenty-day waiting period.
The new maximum speed limit will apply only to those State roadways that have at least two lanes in each direction separated by a physical barrier and which were posted 55 or 60 miles per hour prior to Nov. 1, 1973.

The Department estimates that once the amendment becomes law, it will take approximately one week to change signs from 50 to 55 miles per hour. The enforceable speed limit is the speed posted.

With the onset of the energy crisis, the Department, on Nov. 13 made the maximum speed on State

Highways 50 miles per hour.
This required that about 600
signs be changed.

The Department will seek

100 percent reimbursement from the Federal Highway Administration for the cost involved in both speed sign changes.

Exhaust Testing Begins

Chapter 15 of the New Jersey Air Pollution Control Code, which requires all registered vehicles subject to inspection by the Division of Motor Vehicles to comply with emission standards on carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons, began earlier this month.

The code was promulgated under the state Motor Vehicle Air Pollution Control Act of 1966. The effective date, originally set for July 1, 1973, was postponed by an act of the legislature.

All vehicles tested in New Jersey's 68 state-operated inspection lanes will be required to comply. By keeping vehicles in good condition to conform to standards, every owner will have a part in helping to clean the air, save precious gasoline and enjoy better vehicle performance.

New Jersey has the highest motor vehicle and road density in the nation and cars, buses and trucks combined are the greatest source of air pollution. The state inspection system is expected, through the exhaust tests, to result in a substantial reduction in emissions.

The program will have its greatest effect in the downtown congested areas of towns and cities where it is expected that up to 24 percent of the carbon monoxide will be removed.

The Bureau of Air Pollution Control in the Department of Environmental Protection estimates that almost nine out of ten cars will pass inspection for pollution. The bureau recommends tune-ups for greater assurance in passing.

No add-on devices will be required. Bureau personnel have noted that many people have the erroneous notion that they will have to buy some kind of anti-pollution device and install it on their cars. This is not the case. The 1966 law is based on the principle that proper maintenance of the vehicle will keep exhaust emissions down to a reasonable level, and the regulation, (Chapter 15) reflects this principle.

William A. Munroe, chief of the bureau, said "There is a real energy deficiency that for years to come will affect the way we live. We will just have to face up to it. Two ways to help are to drive fewer miles and make sure that every mile we travel down the road we are making maximum use of the fuel in our gas tanks. It's wasteful and expensive for any of us to leave a trail of unburned gasoline behind us everywhere we go. We can avoid this by maintaining our cars in efficient operating condition. The hydrocarbon test at the inspection station is in reality measuring wasted fuel passing out the tailpipe. Reducing this pollutant will result in a more efficiently operated engine."

The inspection station exhaust test takes only 30 seconds.

The state Clean Air Council, which met in Trenton today (January 21), strongly endorsed the beginning of mandatory pollution inspection without further delay.

The bureau's detailed information indicates that there are at present enough service stations, new car dealers and diagnostic facilities with state-approved testing equipment to handle the testing and maintenance work needed to bring into compliance practically all the cars that fail the test. Of the 6800 such facilities in New Jersey, 875 have the approved equipment. Munroe said if every rejected vehicle went to one of these stations for maintenance, the workload on each of these stations would be less than two tune-ups per day. He pointed out that some cars are virtually beyond repair and shouldn't be on the highway anyway. These cars will usually be rejected for smoke emissions as they have been in the past.

Examiners of the Division of Motor Vehicle will hand out lists of repair facilities having approved testers. The lists will include the name, address and telephone number of the facilities to enable motorists to shop around if they wish. All 875 stations have been supplied posters to put in their windows with the department's emblem (a bird over a wave in a circle signifying the earth) to help motorists find stations with approved equipment.
