

Sbarra Named Acting Chief Of Fire Dept.

Deputy Fire Chief George Sbarra was named Acting Chief this week to serve out the term of Carl Hundertpfund, who will retire April 4 after 38 years with the Department.

Commissioner of Public Safety Robert Laterza this week announced Sbarra will be installed Fire Chief in an April ceremony. Until then Hundertpfund will take his final leave of absence and Sbarra will remain provisional chief.

Sbarra, 54, joined the Fire Department in September of 1948, was promoted to captain in 1953 and deputy chief in 1958. He is senior officer among the Department's five deputy chiefs, and placed third on a Civil Service list behind Deputy Chiefs Joseph Santiglia and Robert Shughnessy.

Praising the outgoing Chief Carl Hundertpfund, Laterza said "he has been very dedicated to the Town of Belleville. He is a man who was never afraid to do anything he asked his men to do. He's been a great service to the Town."

The Commissioner said the position of Fire Chief, which pays $21,258 annually, "is well suited to Chief Sbarra's type of abilities," and pointed out he has taken special courses in fire prevention.

Sbarra attended Delehanty Institute in New York to study the science and technique of fire prevention, fire protection and fire extinguishment. At Rutgers University he studied the principles of fire administration, and arson and fire investigation.

Born in Newark, he attended Central High School there.

After enlisting in the New Jersey National Guard in 1940, he was assigned to the Infantry and served overseas in Europe during World War II.

He is married to the former Rose Papisidero. They have four children: Mrs. Mary Tritto of Toms River; Mrs. Angela Ponzio of Belleville; and Georganna and Samuel, who live with their parents at 34 Perry Street.

After he left the service and moved to Belleville in 1944, Sbarra worked for a wire company. In 1948, he took the examination for fireman and joined the Department shortly afterward.

Earlier this year, Sbarra was named "Man of the Year" for 1973 by the Belleville Italian-American Civic Association.

HEAD FIREFIGHTER — Acting Chief George Sbarra will be installed as chief in an early April ceremony.

Silver Lake Holdups Spark Petition Drive

A string of holdups in the Silver Lake area have moved businessmen and residents to organize a petition drive demanding foot patrolmen be assigned there.

The petition, which reportedly carries over 600 names, will be presented to Town Commissioners at their next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday night, said Joseph Raimo, a leader of the petition drive and victim of an armed robbery at his Franklin Street delicatessen February 19.

The fourth in a series of seemingly unrelated robberies occurred Saturday night when a Garden State Farms employee was held up at 9:30 p.m. just before making a night deposit at People's Bank on the corner of Belmont and Bloomfield Avenue. Police are investigating the theft, although the victim had no chance to see the robbers.

The petition calling for foot patrolmen has been placed in 30 businesses on Franklin Street and some on Newark Avenue. Raimo said he alone has 200 names on the list. He has not yet contacted police or town officials.

Commissioner of Public

Safety Robert Laterza said this week unmarked cars "over and above" the usual patrol throughout town have been cruising Silver Lake since the robbery rate there increased about a month ago. "I don't believe we can do any better with foot patrolmen," he said. "Three blocks away from the scene of a crime, a foot patrolman certainly can't do any better than a man in a car."

Laterza said the recent upswing in crime in Silver Lake is "unfortunate" and conceded "the merchants

Drop Appeal, Keep Budget Mayor Offers 'Swap' To School Trustees

by Ken Moore
Trading on a mandate of 28 votes, Mayor Joseph McGreevy has proposed to the Board of Education they drop their appeal for $214,036 cut from last year's budget if they want to see their proposed 1974-75 package remain intact.

That was the message McGreevy and three other Commissioners gave to the School Board at a meeting held February 26 to decide the fate of the budget, defeated at the polls February 13 by 28 votes.

After a caucus, the schoolers came back and turned down the offer. They were told by the Commissioners the budget would be subjected to further scrutiny.

New Board President Matthew Pica announced he would seek a meeting with McGreevy to work out an agreement which would be submitted to both boards for approval. McGreevy was in Washington early this week, but Pica was optimistic some headway could be made in the latter part of the week.

McGreevy's proposal called for the Board of Ed to withdraw their request to the State Commissioner of Education that $450,880 be restored to the 1973-74 school budget. The Commissioner had restored $214,036 of that sum in early January, and the mayor immediately started the appeal process. This year's municipal budget carries no appropriations to award the schools the $214,036.

Even though the trustees did not accept McGreevy's suggestion, reportedly because a majority felt the Board would be discredited by withdrawing an appeal which firmly stated the schools here were in need of the cut funds, the Commissioners gave no indication how much might possibly be cut from the proposed budget.

The possibility remains a severe cut may be made.

However, a poll of the four Commissioners who could be contacted by the Times this week indicates at least three Commissioners are convinced the 28-vote margin does not constitute a mandate to inflict a deep cut in the proposed $7.6 million school budget, which includes an increase of $561,532 over last year's reduced school budget.

Commissioner Mary Senatore stated flatly she wants "no part of any deals" that have been or might be proposed, and said she believes that school budget remain intact.

Commissioner Michael Marotti said he intends to study the budget further to see "what can be cut without depriving the children." As for the question of the "mandate," he said "anytime you lose it's a mandate," but said he would "take into consideration" the slim margin of opinion between the voters.

Strumolo said it is this closeness of the vote which has prompted voters who took issue with the budget, I think we should give it a second review." Like Marotti and Commissioner Robert Laterza, he said he approved of the mayor's plan to offer an intact budget in return for the dropping of the appeal, but said because the Board of Ed refused the proposition, he would not be moved to cut the (Continued on Page 2)

Mrs. Senatore Blasts 'Majority Bloc' Vote

As the smoke cleared away after last week's resolution of the Commission fight for control of appointments for the Board of Adjustment, Mrs. Senatore fired parting shots at the Commissioners who had opposed her unsuccessful attempt to have Anthony Agresta renamed to the Board.

In what she said was her final statement on the matter Mrs. Senatore detailed her complaints against Commissioners Michael Marotti, Vincent Strumolo and Mayor Joseph McGreevy, who had joined to vote Rocco Constantino to the Zoning Board, and had supported McGreevy's appointment of Kenneth Nash from alternate to regular member. While Mrs. Senatore had openly fought McGreevy, who had formerly supported the reappointment of Chairman Arthur DeFuria to the Board, her last release held the sharpest blast for Marotti.

While neither McGreevy nor Mrs. Senatore could field enough votes to approve their original candidates, Marotti proposed each submit new names, both of which he would support.

Marotti publicly stated the names should be brought in for the February 26 meeting, or the three other Commissioners should make the appointments themselves. McGreevy nominated Nash, already an alternate, and Mrs. Senatore sent the mayor a letter rejecting the proposal.

This week she said the resolutions naming the two new members had not been brought up at a pre-meeting caucus, and were introduced only after she left the Commission meeting for another (continued on Page 3)

Zoning Board Meets With All Members

For the first time since last September, the Zoning Board of Adjustment Tuesday night met with a full complement of five members. In the reorganization meeting, which saw the installation of new members Rocco Constantino and Kenneth Nash, John Stetz was elected chairman and Aldo DiChiara vice chairman.

The meeting was the Board's first since Constantino and Nash were appointed members by the Board of Commissioners February 26. Constantino replaces Anthony Agresta, who had not attended a meeting since he was voted down for reappointment by the Commissioners last September, and former chairman Arthur DeFuria, who was never reappointed after his term lapsed in late July.

All-Star Footballers Come Here Tomorrow

Tickets will be sold at the door tomorrow night when a team of N.F.L. gridder-turned-cagers challenge the Craig Fund team in the third annual game of a series. The contest will be held at Belleville High School.

Tickets sell for $2.50 to see the local team play against the likes of Ed Marinaro, Hank Bjorkland, Rich Caster, Emerson Boozer, Mike Siani, Phil Villapiano, Ed Bell, John Dockery, Jerome Barkum and Bob Davis. All proceeds go to the Craig Fund, a local charity which aids the handicapped of Belleville.

Halftime will be highlighted by an autograph session, and a "mystery prize" will be raffled off.

Though the Craig Fund All-Stars narrowly won the first game of the series two years ago, the return of the pro gridder saw the N.F.L. work hard for a 108-98 victory.

The Craig Fund aids in medical expenses and services for four handicapped residents of Belleville.

Art-Music Festival Plans Include Full System Effort

The Art-Music Festival planned for March 21 include a total effort of the entire school system, bringing together the talents of students from the elementary to the senior high levels.

Tickets are still selling rapidly and can be purchased at any elementary school or by contacting Frank Scelba at the Senior High School.

Admission will be limited because the High School gymnasium, the site of the art-music festival, can seat only 1700 people.

Art students are busy making sketches of the town commissioners, members of the board of education, and Mr. James LaMotta, president of Music-Parent's Association.

The festival will be a two-part affair. From 6:30 to 8 p.m. there will be a browsing period in which parents can see art exhibits displayed in the high school corridors. At 8 p.m. the music portion of the festival will take place on two stages set up in the gymnasium. Approximately 800 students from all school instrumental and vocal groups will perform selections for the crowd.

Eleven groups will perform in concert, each for six minutes. The two stage set-up will speed up changes from one group to another. This portion of the program will consist of the combined elementary band and orchestra, the combined elementary chorus, the Junior High School orchestra, the Junior High mixed chorus, N.F.L. ALL STARS Phil Villapiano (with ball) and Emerson Boozer (32) are shown in action during last year's game. The third match of the series comes off tomorrow night.

The Generals Review the Battle of Brighton

The Battle of Brighton Gardens may change the face of Belleville's neighborhoods in years to come. But the fight is usually never waged in the neighborhoods.

In the past five years, the struggle has been carried from the Board of Adjustment hearing room to the Commission Chambers and on to Superior Court. The volleys have been traded back and forth in Latin legalese, backed up by tax maps and deeds, and the ultimate decision will emerge from New Jersey's decades of zoning law precedents. But the human side of the conflict was expressed most eloquently last Friday, out in the parking lot of Brighton Gardens. That was when Al Schmitt and Luciano Calandra came together in a rare out-of-court meeting.

Schmitt is one of the leaders of an ad hoc citizens' group that opposes the addition of 11 apartments in the basement of Brighton Gardens. Calandra owns the building. The two are natural opponents.

Schmitt was on the grounds of the building showing a reporter what he felt was wrong with the expansion plans. Soon after they arrived, Calandra and his long-time friend, Frank DeRose, emerged from the building and came striding across the lot. As they approached, the reporter felt some apprehension. Calandra did not look happy. Schmitt moved forward to meet him.

As the two came together, they reached out and shook hands and immediately launched into a point-by-point debate on zoning philosophy. Nobody inquired about the wife and kids, but just the same, no threats were passed or voices raised. For the most part, everybody got to finish their sentences. Everybody listened to one another.

One question was on Calandra's mind above all others: "Why have I been singled out? I want to improve my property. My improvements won't hurt the town."

No, denied Schmitt, Calandra was not being singled out. No, he disagreed, the plans for the apartment would hurt the town. Schmitt, who was appointed an alternate to the Zoning Board after the dispute had entered its third year, enumerated a list of laws that stood in Calandra's way: the density ordinance which permits no more than 22 families per acre in a residence "B" zone, while Brighton Gardens, he says, would have 46 units per acre; limits on the number of basement apartments allowable; a restriction of 2 1/2 stories to a "B" zone building; rear yard depth requirements.

For each point, Calandra had an answer, but he wanted to state his case in a larger context. In Brighton Gardens, he said, there are only single family apartments. "My tenants are couples or retired persons. They're good people. I check my tenants before they come in. I bring no children into the town, and into the schools here, and I pay more taxes after I make my improvements."

Frank DeRose had another way to look at it. Taking the reporter's arm, he gestured toward Brighton Gardens, an immaculate building set in a seemingly-spacious parking lot. Then he turned the reporter around to show him the lot next door. On a small plot of land squatted a rambling shack, with a junked Volkswagen for company, and assorted pieces of trash providing atmosphere.

point was forcibly made. But no, said Schmitt, that was not the point. He allowed the building was very well-kept, but wanted to know what it would look like not five or ten years from now, but many years in the future. If building of garden apartments is not firmly restricted, he said, what would all of Belleville look like?

 "As long as I own this building I will make improvements and keep it clean," vowed Calandra. "I am not a slum lord."
 He's not a slum lord, he's a businessman. And while his expansion would bring the town more tax payables and no more schoolchildren to support, it would also bring him more profits. How much, the reporter asked.

There was some general discussion, but no specifics. Frank DeRose, who is a businessman himself, owning a deli on Union Avenue, fielded the question.
 "Whether he makes five, 10 or 15 percent, it doesn't matter. But let's say he'll make 10 percent on his investment. If his boiler goes, he doesn't make his 10 percent. If his roof goes, he doesn't make the 10 percent."
 The point being that the business world is tough, and a landlord won't exactly get rich off 11 new apartments, especially if he's trying to maintain his building as well as possible.

points of view, that can't be denied.
 So the parking lot debate ended with no real resolution, if there was any possible one to be reached, and Schmitt and Calandra parted amicably, knowing the real Battle of Brighton Gardens would be won or lost in the courtroom, on the strength of legal briefs, precedents and transcripts.

stated "The 1974-75 budget represents a good start toward putting a fair sized dent in some of the emergent items for maintenance. As it stands, it puts us on the road to coming out of the doldrums."
 Pica described the February 13 meeting as "amicable" though no decision was reached between the boards. He added a quick resolution, if reached with the mayor, could be submitted rapidly to the Board and effectuated once a final answer comes from the Board of Commissioners.

 While 85-89 percent of the budget is devoted to fixed costs which cannot be reduced, other programs, such as work-study, and some maintenance would be endangered by a deep cut. The work-study program, which would entail the hiring of three new teachers, would see the Board win a 50 percent reimbursement from the state after the program runs one year.

SCHMITT why he was so concerned with Calandra's building when he doesn't even live within a 250-foot radius of Brighton Gardens. (He lives on Hill Street).

"My reason for opposing this expansion," he said, "is that if this is allowed to happen in this part of town, it could happen next in mine."
 Schmitt further clarified his stand by saying he isn't anti-apartment, and he's not against a man making a profit on his business. What he does oppose is what he considers a loose interpretation of zoning laws which makes it too easy, in his opinion, for developers and apartment owners to win variances.

There isn't likely to be a "peaceful agreement" between men like Calandra and Schmitt, except the final decision of the courts. Of the three who came together at the apartment parking lot, De Rose is longest in Belleville, with 21 years here; Schmitt has lived here for 13; and Calandra had lived here eight years before moving to Livingston.
 They all claim to have the best interests of Belleville at heart. From their separate

"The Group" to Debut Zoning Appointment Votes Simon Smash Tonight

Broadway comedy at its best is due when Belleville Junior High School's "The Group" presents "Plaza Suite" on March 7, 8, and 9. The uproarious Neil Simon

Ask More Protection

(Continued From Page 1) have a right to feel as they do. If it comes to the point where they feel it may be better to put foot patrolmen there, it may be better to do that."

Rainio, who was handcuffed along with his wife by two men armed with revolvers during the recent robbery, says he isn't particular about the type of protection in Silver Lake. "It doesn't make a difference whether there's patrol cars or foot patrolmen here, as long as the people know it, and these characters know it, too."

He stressed that he has "no squawk with the police. They come just as soon as anybody calls, but we just want some added protection here." He said an increase in population and large stores, such as Bamberger's warehouse and Pathmark supermarket has brought more people in the area, with a resulting need for greater police coverage.

Police Chief Joseph Smith said the force is currently under-strength by six men, and the department is investigating candidates for the openings. As for the idea of foot patrolmen, he said, "For every foot patrolman we were to put there, we'd have to take one out of our cars."

The director of "Plaza Suite" is R.W. Lottelbine who also directed earlier "Group" productions of "The Impossible Years," "Don't Drink the Water," and "George Washington Slept Here". Co-director is Carmine Guineta.

Marotti said this week he has recommended such a policy, but said the Zoning Board appointments were brought in on resolutions, not ordinances.

Mrs. Senatore further said that Marotti and Stramolo had expressed a desire to see "new faces" on the Board of Adjustments. Speaking of the appointment of Nash as a regular, she said he "has served for many years as an alternate, presently hearing a few of the cases as a regular Board member."

Marotti said he considered Nash a "new face" since "he has not been a member of the Board, but an alternate, and if regular members of the Board hadn't been out sick or away from the meeting, he wouldn't even have had to be there."

Mrs. Senatore concluded her statement, "To the majority bloc or anyone else, I intend to perform for the people of Belleville without vindictiveness, or continuing running press releases. Belleville's image has improved, and I, at no time, want the good name of Belleville to go 'backwards'."

Remember Clara Barton?

(The following guest editorial is written by Col R. R. Tourtellot, Americanism chairman emeritus Fort Monmouth Chapter, National Sojourners-Ed.)

March is Red Cross month, and we think again about that courageous and persevering woman, Chrissa Harlowe Barton. She was born in North Oxford, Mass., December 25, 1821. As a child she was shy and timid about meeting people, but always courageous. Her father had served in the Indian Wars under Mad Anthony Wayne, and he taught her about Army lore. To overcome her timidity, her mother gave her a great deal of responsibility. With her mother's encouragement, she became a teacher at 15, and successfully taught for 18 years, part of the time in Hightstown, N.J. Later she promoted a free school for the poor in Bordentown, N.J.

She was never physically strong and suffered several periods of nervous exhaustion, brought on by her strenuous work. In 1854, Clara Barton was appointed a clerk in the Patent Office in Washington, D. C. At the outbreak of the Civil War she learned that much of the suffering at the front was caused by scant supplies. She resigned her clerkship and single handedly organized supply depots for needy soldiers. Later she served as a volunteer nurse in Army hospitals and on the battlefield. In 1864 she was appointed Superintendent of Nurses for the Union Army. She was seen so often close to the fighting front that many called her, "The Angel of the Battlefield". After the War, President Lincoln placed her in charge of the search for missing men of the Union Armies.

She went to Europe for her health in 1869 and immediately became associated with the International Red Cross of Geneva, and studied their activities. She did relief work in the Franco-Prussian War, for which she was twice decorated.

On her return home in 1872, she campaigned to organize a Red Cross in the United States. Although the United States was one of the fourteen nations which drew up the treaty at the Red Cross Convention in Geneva during 1864, it did not sign the treaty until 18 years later. One historian says that beginning in 1873, Clara Barton badgered politicians, diplomats, generals, professors, and editors; distributed brochures and pamphlets and appealed to three Presidents! Her irresistible drive finally overcame resistance, and in 1881 the American Branch of the Red Cross was organized. She became its first President. The next year the United States signed the treaty. In 1905 the organization was reincorporated under a charter from Congress and renamed the American National Red Cross.

For 23 years Clara Barton directed the Red Cross work in every great disaster. She was not primarily a nurse. Her service was that of gathering supplies for relief of the suffering and getting them promptly to the place of need. In 1904, at the age of 83, she resigned as an active worker. She wrote and lectured extensively. She died April 12, 1912 at the age of 91, and was buried at North Oxford, Mass.

Let us not forget Clara Barton, philanthropist, humanitarian and patriot. She organized this often life-saving service for our military men, their families and for other Americans, as well as disaster sufferers anywhere, who face difficult problems. Let us each one, with a feeling of patriotism and citizenship responsibility, lend every support to this grand organization which demonstrates every day that, "We the People —" really care about fellow Americans in distress.

New TV

Perceptive viewers addicted to the television tube can sometimes obtain a clear view of the deficiencies of modern productions by viewing some old ones. Two which come to mind — far superior to today's fare — are "Perry Mason" and "The Untouchables."

The original Mason series, which ran so many years, was done in good taste, and with the average communities' sensibilities kept in mind. They were good entertainment because they were believable, not super-dramatic shock stuff.

They were that in large part because they were taken from Earle Stanley Gardner's very good books, and then adapted with intelligence and judgment, whereas today the "smart" producer is all out for attracting audiences with shock, immorality, sadism and anything else-repulsive.

As with Sir Arther Conan Doyle, and his great Sherlock Holmes series, often the earlier Perry Mason shows ended well; there was a goodness and a dignity about most of the characters, there was hometown humor the average American could react to. In short, they were believable stories. The same is true about "The Untouchables," because these stories were based on actual incidents, and narrated by a newsmen.

Today's typical whodunit is so filled with hypocritical characters, plus sadistic, conscienceless crime, by the coldest, most remorseless glamorized criminals (unfortunately sometimes imitated by impressionables in real life) one is sickened to view it.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

That big blow-up about a state grand jury probing alleged highway construction graft and having secured a truckload of records from the Franklin Contracting Co. which had been subpoenaed, going back well before 1968, reminds one of the "run-in" Town Treasurer McCoy had with that firm back in the early sixties.

At the time, McCoy had withheld payment of some of the bills from Franklin because he questioned the possibility of inflation of contract. A development which extends the original bid-upon contract considerably beyond the stated amount first announced.

The town treasurer contended any contract extension beyond 10 percent might be questioned legally, whereas, the Franklin Contracting Company's formal agreement with the town had been increased about 110 percent. McCoy adamantly withheld payment, in spite of a threat of suit by the contracting firm, until the town Commissioners, in extremis, at their very last meeting before turning over the reins of government to the new Council-Manager type administration, passed a resolution directing the questioned payment. Such direction reposed the responsibility for making the questioned payment upon the elected public officials and absolved McCoy of any responsibility in the matter.

The Deputy Attorneys General Peter Richards and Edwin Stier, in charge of the state grand jury Special prosecutions, have stated in previous court remarks the highway probe, which centers in North Jersey, involves allegations of shortweighting, collusive bidding, inflation of contracts to pay kickbacks to public officials, and allocation of territories by contractors.

It might become a strange coincidence should McCoy, at this late date, be subpoenaed to testify before the state grand jury to relate his experiences, as town treasurer, in questioning the propriety of the Franklin Contracting Co. dealings with the town in the early sixties. Time and ensuing events may well provide the validity of his firm stand in the above referred matter.

School Trustee Mahmarian now becomes the key pivotal "swing-vote" on the local school board, possessing the possible deciding vote between bloc tied to rival political camps. This makes him an important factor in shaping policy.

The disclosure brought out in the explanation of the County's two point dip in the tax rate, which incidentally won't help Belleville taxpayers much since the town's assessing ratio for county taxation has been decreased and may mean a hike in the local tax rate of 18 points to provide Belleville's share of county taxation, did, however, open the door to a slight bit of relief.

It established that dental insurance and medical prescription coverage for public employees is not authorized by statutory authority. In fact, no public employee contract may include items not authorized by state law, yet, our local Board of Education with an eminently capable school board attorney with many years of experience with Title 18A (school law) and its past Board president, a lawyer himself, seemingly were oblivious of this fact or they chose to ignore it, which is a very culpable act for a Bar member.

Belleville Board of Education employees are now receiving such coverage which has been ruled unauthorized and in fact a major Newark-based insurance company refused to quote premium costs for such coverage, noting a lack of statutory authority for such coverage for public employees. In view of these public disclosures it becomes incumbent upon the local school trustees to rescind this unauthorized coverage for its employees. Immediate action is called for.

The column extends its best wishes for a speedy recovery to its friendly target of banter, Jackie Rega, who has been "holled-up" in Clara Maass with hernia surgery. Hernia... it must have been caused by carrying too much money to the bank. The poor guy in Jackie's room, Paul Bowles of White Oak Terr., threw in the towel; He's going home to recover... can't stand all the phone calls and many visitors popular Jackie has. Lotsa Luck Jackie your many customers are anxious for your early return to your old stand at Jackie's Corner. Get well quick!

She Remembers Her Grandmother In Prose, Poem

(Editor's Note — the following was written by the 15-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Edna Verhagen of 52 Rossmore Place, who died February 22 after a lifetime of service in Belleville.)

My Grandma

"A woman, old in experience but young, so young at heart. So willing to give up and sacrifice the things she loved for the church, the Girl Scouts and her family. The woman, pitching a tent and unrolling her sleeping bag, was always at home with nature. She loved the fresh air and wide open spaces but she also loved the city. The city Belleville was her whole life, so many things that she did for this great city will go unnoticed, unappreciated, but still they were done by her. She was a proud woman, proud of herself, her husband and her family and work."

The Girl Scouts were a great part of her life. She was in Girl Scouts for 40 years. She taught beginners' department Sunday School and sang in the choir of Belleville Reformed Church. I read a poem once I'd like to share it with you.

"There are many kinds of people in this world.

All sizes, big and small,
But of all the people I know,
My grandma was best of all.
She never was a president,
She never stopped a war,
But in her house she was a queen
When she walked in the door.
She'd talk to me about my problems,
And they'd always seem alright.
She'd comfort me when I was scared,
Or when I had a fight.
She was just an average loving woman,
Never got a Ph.D.
She never won a medal,
But she was the best, I'm sure
For you and me."

To me and all of you and all of those lives that touched hers she gave hope, love and music — music to be heard long after the last strains of her voice will be gone from the earth. So as the trees continue to blow in the wind and the sun continues to rise, I know my grandmother died only physically, knowing love, appreciation and joy. While we see the photographs she snapped, and the words she scribbled, we realize life will always be made of conflicts, happiness and sadness, but I'm thankful that by knowing, loving and being loved by this special lady, the happy times outnumbered the sad ones by far. I thank the Lord for sending and lending us this wonderful and caring woman.

Catholic School Week Successful

To the Editor:

The week of February 17th was designated as Catholic Schools' Week. Inspired by gratitude for our children's education, we the parents of Holy Family School would like to take this opportunity to express publicly our sincerest appreciation to the Priests, Sisters and lay teachers of our school, with a special note of thanks to Fr. Blake, Pastor, and Sr. Ascenza, Principal.

It has been through their patient and untiring endeavors that our school has become a reality. It has been through their endless efforts of aggressiveness that our children's educational program has none but the best to offer. As the children of Holy Family School ascend the ladder of higher education, their good deeds will reflect on them and may they be a lasting tribute to them. They will always be remembered for their endeavors to make them outstanding citizens.

Their cheerfulness and cordiality have made them friends. Their patient compassion and zealous honor have encountered power works. May Christ, the Master Teacher spare them many years, so that, through their ardent zeal, God's Kingdom may be better known and loved.

Buy At Home

Every resident of this community has a stake in its future, an obligation to join with others in making it a better place in which to live.

In this connection, dollars spent at home have a tendency to recirculate in the community, to be spent and enjoyed by other local citizens. Dollars sent out of the community seldom return.

Likewise, contributions to good causes, deserving unfortunates, charities, youth and educational programs, are best made here at home, where results can be seen and appreciated, and which benefit the community.

Civic pride and cooperation among citizens of this community can and will make this a better place to live in.

Big Oil

The moguls who make strategy decisions for big oil might be underestimating the little man in America. If it's true, as reported, that the major companies have cut back on imports because they are dissatisfied with federal oil policy, if the excessive profit reports of many firms in late 1973 are accurate and if the oil companies are, in general, maneuvering primarily in this time of crisis for millions to jack up prices rather than bring in, and refine, all the oil they can, they're inviting Congress to set up a permanent and stringent regulation on their industry.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Many Problems Still Surround Deep Oil Port For New Jersey

By David F. Moore

THE NEW JERSEY Legislature is considering establishing an authority through which the state would administer a so-called deep-water oil port. In case you've forgotten, it's the same state which already has one of the world's biggest concentration of oil refineries and, interestingly, what looks to me like the country's worst gasoline shortage.

Aside from the fact that the proposed legislation relegates the Department of Environmental Protection to a mere advisory capacity, and then only if asked for the advice, and that creating an authority not unlike the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey to dictate New Jersey's future may send chills up many spines, there are a few other factors to consider.

MORAL ONES for instance. Like, should tiny New Jersey sacrifice itself so the other 49 states can live better petroleum-wise? Presence of a deep-water oil port would automatically dictate proliferation of more petrochemical industries, with pollution and urban growth where there now is mainly pleasant seacoast and its enormous recreation business. The Army Corps of Engineers in its assessment of impact makes that consequence very clear.

And, an obvious question comes to mind. If, as President Nixon says, this country is going to make itself independent of foreign oil, why do we need a deep-water oil port anyway?

IN REGARD TO POLLUTION,

probably the present system of dispersed oil importation facilities is as bad as a deep-water port, although not as bad as today's facilities plus a deep-water port. With a deep-water port, the potential for big oil spills is vastly greater because it would accommodate much bigger tankers.

ECONOMICALLY, a deep-water port would undoubtedly provide cheaper operations for the oil companies. But some would say they are already doing pretty well economically.

A few years ago, Mr. Harry Bridges, President of the Shell Oil Company predicted that the world can count on oil as a valuable resource for only 50 more years. If the New Jersey coastline were wracked with oil and petrochemical development and accompanying urbanization just for 50 years' worth of activity, it seems too bad. After all, optimists like to think that life could continue longer than that along the New Jersey coast as elsewhere. Destruction is forever.

WHAT IT BOILS DOWN to is that a decision must be made by the Legislature. Will our elected representatives vote in favor of fast dollars in today's economy (the only one many are concerned about) or will they prove themselves true statesmen and vote for keeping our shoreline in the business of providing healthy living conditions for people, breeding grounds for fish and shellfish, and similar purposes that the character of the land has mandated?

Won't it be interesting to find out?

Sign Of Spring

Major League baseball bats are now cracking horsehides to infield and outfield, in Florida and in Arizona and California. That means spring is around the corner.

All this month the Major League clubs play exhibitions and early in April the 1974 season gets underway; twenty-four teams from all parts of the country will vie for what is somewhat boastfully called the world championship (only American teams are eligible).

Baseball's attendance has risen slowly but steadily in the last five years, with the exception of the strike year of 1972, and there's much to be said for it as our National Pastime. It's not limited to big bruisers, or tall freaks and it's not physically violent, but a game of skill and ability; a game all youngsters have a chance to play, and in which each member of the team has an equal chance to star, offensively.

Organization Doings

Historical Society Annual Dinner

In 1962, Allan Crisp organized the Belleville Historical Society which received little support and floundered. A few years ago, the group revitalized and now has over 200 members. Allan Crisp headed the efforts to bring to the attention of townspeople the historic sites and interesting history of Belleville. In 1973, the second president of the group was Harry Sullivan, who just finished his term and, at the Second Annual Dinner held on February 22, the new president of the Belleville Historical Society was welcomed — Jerry Hickey, director of the Belleville Public Library. Under Allan Crisp's leadership, many tours of buildings, churches, cemeteries and the like were offered to the public; a carriage stone from the Hendricks estate was dedicated at the Library, followed by a reception at Congregation Ahavath Achim. With our history dating back to the Revolutionary War, there is a great deal to learn. Many of our streets were named after families in town, such as Josiah Hornblower — who brought the first steam engine over from England and, in fact, the first steam engine to be built in America was built here in Belleville. The Roosevelt ancestors were active in organizing the Belleville Machine Works and an experimental boat was run on our own Passaic River even before Fulton came up with his discovery.

Morse's first experimental telegraph line was made in our town — only one of a series of "firsts" Belleville is noted for. Last year, one of the Society's charter members — Neil Horne, put together films of Belleville from the 1920's, '30's and 40's, which were shown at Belleville High. Other officers of the group are: board chairmen: George Gabrian, Ralph Casale and Dwight Streeter, Len Bade is financial secretary, Sue Greenhut, corresponding secretary and Viola Mitchell, vice president. The Belleville Historical Society seeks new Members. For information, please contact Jerry Hickey at the Library, 759-9200.

INTEREST DOWN COST UP

Are you waiting for interest rates drop before you buy a home? Do you think that this will save you money? The home you have your eye on will cost you more in monthly payments two years from now — even if the interest rate drops one percent.

For example, take a home that costs $25,000. With a 20% down payment and financed with a 25 year, 8 1/2% mortgage, the monthly payment would be $161.00. But two years from now, if prices keep rising at the average rate, the now $25,000 home would likely cost $28,000. If, miraculously, the interest rate decreased to 7 1/2%, not only would the down payment be $600 more, but the monthly payment would increase to $165.54. If the interest rate stayed at 8 1/2%, the payment would come to $180.32.

So, it's obvious that the overall value of the home — not the interest rate — makes the biggest impact on your monthly payment.

Contractual services for garbage and trash-removal, etc.
Printing and advertising, utility services, insurance and many other items essential to the service rendered by municipal government.

The "Summary of General Section of Budget" statement develops the local municipal tax levy which includes the Reserve for Uncollected Taxes or cash basis "overlay" not only for local needs but for school and county purposes as well. While school and county taxes are expressed only in amounts of cash needed for their payment, additional taxes must be raised, and included as part of the local levy, so that collections will meet requirements.
County tax is estimated on information presently available and will ultimately be set by the County Board of Taxation. Local School Tax is based on the amount to be submitted for approval by the voters.
The Budget for 1974 produces an estimated Real Property tax rate of 6.35 per $100.00 of assessed valuation compared with the 1973 tax rate of $5.97, an estimated increase of 38 points.
The following table shows the composition of the estimated 1974 tax levy and tax rate in comparison with the actual elements for 1973:

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Plant a Patch

"Someone cares about me" — friendship — is one of the most powerful medicines in the fight for mental health. This was pointed out by the Montgomery County (Maryland) Mental Health Association, and many other associations throughout the country, during the recent holiday season.

"Never is friendship so important as at holiday times," said the Maryland group. "In our State's mental hospitals there are more than 7,000 patients, many without family or friends to remember them. Asking for volunteers to aid, the association said: "The interest shown, the help and understanding shown, the help and understanding extended, play a large part in the recovery of these patients."

This is certainly true; and the holiday season is one of the important times of the year for showing that someone cares. But it is also true that year 'round concern is needed. There is a continual need for volunteers to work with mental health associations and other groups, such as those set up specifically to help mentally and emotionally disturbed children.

Volunteers in mental health are indispensable; and everyone has some skill or interest that can be put to use. You can help in your community by contacting your State or local mental health association, mental health center, health department, or other community service agencies.

Finally, you can also help fight mental illness by the things you do in your personal life. You can, as someone has said, "plant a patch of mental health," and here are seeds that you can plant at any age:

- Be as kind to someone you don't like as to someone you do.
- Be skin-colorblind.
- Understand that people who behave badly may be very sad inside.
- Get a very shy person to talk to you.
- Be patient with people who learn slowly — even if you are one of them.

Keep a crippled child in touch with the world. Support the Easter Seal Society — it's looking out for the handicapped.

No Shortage Of Elbow Grease

Use a carpet sweeper for light pick-up from rugs and carpets and for light cleaning, brush the stairway carpet with a whisk broom, and dust furniture, trim, and doors with a lint-free absorbent cloth instead of using the vacuum cleaner.

Those are a few of the hints offered by the Cooperative Extension Service at Rutgers University for cutting down on the use of electricity when cleaning house.

Gena Thames, Extension specialist in housing and furnishing at Cook College, has included these and other ideas in a new publication which she's preparing with W.J. Roberts and Martin Decker, both Extension specialists in the Department of Biological and Agricultural Engineering at the college.

Conservation doesn't mean that homemakers have to stop using vacuum cleaners, though. "Vacuum cleaners can accomplish a great deal of work while using only a small amount of electrical energy if properly and efficiently used," notes Ms. Thames.

She advises keeping vacuum cleaners in good condition, planning their use, and organizing the attachments to save time. "Change the bag in your vacuum cleaner frequently and keep the filters clean so that the vacuum will work as efficiently as possible," she added.

As far as floors are concerned, "If you have resilient flooring in your house, avoid using wax and electric waxers and buffers," she advises.

Apply a tough acrylic water white finish to dry, freshly washed floors, says Ms. Thames. The acrylic will be easy to keep clean and reapply.

Academy Day, Antiques, Art

Antiques and fine art will be the focus at Montclair Academy May 11 in the largest fund raising effort ever attempted by parents and alumni of the school.

The gala Montclair Academy Day, which is open to the public, will open with a silent auction of American and English antiques and fine art. A parent-alumni cocktail party and dinner will conclude the festivities.

Sponsors of the event are the Montclair Academy Parents' Association and the academy Alumni Association. Mrs. Ronald H. Dreesen and Mrs. David L. Kerr, both of Essex Fells, are general chairmen. The Alumni Association chairmen are Dr. Walter Spierling of Upper Montclair and William Thompson of Verona.

The silent auction, at 11 a.m. in the school dining room, will feature a variety of donated items. All items will be displayed and bids will be made in writing. Box lunches will be sold during this time.

Wrong Location Can Spell Doom To Garden

Probably more failures in vegetable gardening are caused by selecting the wrong location than for any other reason, says William F. Munk, senior county agent of Essex County.

Although many gardeners have little choice in locating a garden because of the size of their property, care should be taken to choose the best place available, advises Mr. Munk.

The most important factor to consider is sunlight. Vegetables such as tomatoes, eggplants, and peppers require full sun at least 8 hours every day.

Leafy crops — lettuce and spinach — will grow moderately well with fewer hours of sunlight, or even in partial shade.

The garden site should be in an area where the soil is well drained. Soil saturated with water leaves little space for air, and plant roots must have air to grow properly.

Garden soil should also have an adequate amount of organic material. Decayed compost is an excellent source.

Most soils are suitable for vegetable growing. However, shale, rock ledges, and hardpan make gardening difficult. Clay soils need to be loosened with organic material or other additives. Sandy soil warms up early in the spring but requires a lot of irrigation and liberal amounts of fertilizer. So, dig down into the subsoil to see what you have to work with.

For more tips on selecting a site for your vegetable garden, ask your county agricultural agent in your county for Leaflet 329, "Plan Your Vegetable Garden."

Flower & Garden Show Tribute To Garden State

The 1974 N.J. Flower & Garden Show will present spectacular displays of native plants, towering trees, woodland settings, landscaped patios and cascading fountains and streams — all in tribute to the Garden State.

The show, largest of its kind in the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area, will be held Saturday, March 9 through Sunday, March 17, at the Morristown National Guard Armory.

As the traditional salute to spring, the show promises to be more beautiful than ever this year.

Its theme, "Enjoy Life With Living Beauty," will be illustrated by D'Alessandro Garden Center of Pine Brook. The largest exhibit in the show, their natural wood garden will feature 30 foot birches, white pine trees, as well as pink dogwood, shadblow and azaleas. A waterfall will cascade into a pond. Daffodils and primrose will be scattered throughout a wooded setting.

Friends of Frelinghuysen Arboretum, under the direction of horticulturist, Quintin C. Schlieder Jr., will create a Garden for the Blind, "Brail Trail", emphasizing texture, sound and scent. Prickly Yucca, evergreens and twisty plants, Harry Lauter's walking stick, will be planted for touch. Pungent peppermint, geraniums and 300 white hyacinths will provide fragrance. A trickling pool will supply sound.

An early spring garden, cut out of the hillside, will be the display for Tree-Land Nursery Inc., of Paramus. Upper slopes will be crowned with forsythia, azalea, rhododendron and red and yellow tulips. A large white pine, clumps of mountain laurel and white birch will complete the setting.

A dozen live ducklings will paddle in the eight foot pond and add animation to the exhibit of Madsen & Christensen of Wood-Ridge. This late spring garden will have azaleas and evergreens, an outdoor living area and a small drinking fountain. (The ducklings will be donated to the Bergen County Park system after the show.)

Spring is also the theme for the garden of Julius Roehrs of Farmingdale, featuring apple trees, birches and a profusion of azaleas and multi-colored tulips.

Gerritt Dykstra of Rockaway will create a summer garden, displaying coleus, marigolds and cannas, all surrounding a patio and seven-foot fountain which will cascade in three stages.

Hanging baskets of a hundred different species of plants that can be grown in the state, will be the exhibit of the N.J. Plant and Flower Growers' Association. The baskets will be suspended from a dramatic redwood T-Bar and contain such favorites as geraniums, fuschias, petunias and bromeliads.

Ritters Nursery & Garden Shop of Clifton will have a garden set in three different levels. Large willows and hemlocks will provide the background to two pools and two patios, a rock ledge and split rail fencing. Dogwood, juniper, azalea and rhododendron will border a ground cover of curly ivy.

The N.J. Association of Nurserymen, Inc., will provide a terrace with a pool and fencing and a variety of hanging baskets of plants.

A yellow and blue garden designed by the Bergen County Shade Tree and Park Superintendents. Association will have over 1,500 yellow "lemon drop" marigolds and argemone alyssum, as a floral carpet surrounding playground equipment. Next to that will be a rock garden with a weeping hemlock, weeping birches and dwarf evergreens.

Junior Women Participated In Festival

On Thursday, February 21, ten members of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville participated in the Music Festival at the Essex County Geriatric Center. This festival was sponsored by Junior Woman's Clubs in the Eighth District including Belleville, Arlington, Lyndhurst, and Nutley.

Mrs. William Sayegh was chairman of the Belleville Juniors at their initial participation in a Music Festival. The theme was International and each girl greeted the patients by saying "hello" in a foreign language — ten languages in all. The girls were also dressed in native costumes of the countries they represented.

The administrators as well as the patients greatly appreciated the program presented by the Junior Clubs and they hope to see similar events in the future which indicate that the senior citizens are remembered by all of us.

Special guests of the day were: Mrs. John C. Roff, State Music Chairman of the Junior Membership Department of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs; Ms. Paula Lordi, Eighth District Music Chairman and coordinator of the Festival; and Mrs. Frank Pezzolla, Eighth District Advisor of Junior Women's Clubs.

Feeding Cats

Like all living creatures, the cat has certain nutritional requirements. And to stay healthy, a cat must be properly fed.

The task of feeding the 22 million family-owned cats in America has been made easier with the surge in production of prepared cat food. Right now, cat foods account for a substantial part of the 115 varieties of pet foods available on the market.

There are canned, dry and semi-moist foods available with a variety of flavors and ingredients. Your veterinarian can tell which have the proper nutritional balance.

A cat can exist entirely on prepared food. But it may not choose to let it. For those who do not wish to depend solely on cans and packages, here is a brief guide:

SCRAPS: Leftovers may be good, poor, or even worthless depending on what they are. Meat, fish and poultry are best, but even bread and butter can be good for your cat.

MILK: It has been called the cat's best friend and a "complete food". But it is practical only to a point. A cat cannot normally hold enough for it to be the sole source of protein.

EGGS: Are good for cats of any age. Egg yolks, a fine source of minerals, fats and vitamins, can be eaten raw. But the egg whites should be cooked to be easily digested.

VEGETABLES: With some exceptions, the ordinary cat will not eat them — unless accompanied by goodly portions of meat or fish. Vegetables are useful for their laxative properties.

As to the amount of food required by a cat, there is sharp disagreement among experts. Perhaps the best guide is your own observation or the advice of your local veterinarian.

If your cat cleans his plate, keeps his weight down, and remains active and good-natured, his food intake is probably right.

If he doesn't finish his dinner, common sense would indicate you are giving him too much. When in doubt, visit your veterinarian.

Remember that kittens or pregnant queens have different food needs.

FINISHING UP his district tournament work, Bellboy Ralph Fabiano (top) holds Ken Jackson of Barringer steady as the ref looks for the pin. It didn't come, but Fabiano won the match, 11-1. His next date is for regional competition.

Four Matmen Earn Tickets To Regionals

Four Belleville High matmen will travel to the Regionals championships tomorrow night at Paterson-Kennedy High School, although Essex Catholic overwhelmed opposition to cop the District VII crown here last Saturday.

Sophomores Vinnie Mustacchio (101), Carl Arlt (108) and senior co-captains Ralph Fabiano (148) and Jim La Conti (188) were the four from head coach Jim Silvestri's squad who will compete in the 32-school tournament beginning tomorrow night at 7 p.m., continuing with semi-finals Saturday at 1 p.m., then with consolation at 6:30 p.m., followed by the final round.

Essex Catholic completely outclassed opposition in the early stages of the district tournament, and Belleville fought it out with Lyndhurst for the number two spot.

While powerful Essex Catholic, a tough team for the Bellboys every year and a nemesis this year, completely dominated the tournament, Silvestri's victory was in seeing his four prodigies on to regional tournament.

The final rankings of the tournament were as follows: Essex Catholic—86½, Belleville—63½, Lyndhurst—50, Bloomfield—42, Kearny—29, Glen Ridge—26, Barringer—17, St. Benedict's—7.

Junior Anthony Villano (122) suffered a tough break in semi-final competition with Glen Ridge's Mike Fusco, as the Bellboy was taken to hospital with torn ligaments in his arm. Villano had previously beaten three wrestlers going into the regionals in his class.

Heavyweight Ken Milano also was undem'd in semi-final competition. "He wrestled a good match," said Silvestri, "but his opponent got in four quick points from him, and even though Ken completely dominated the rest of the match, he couldn't catch up." Milano went on to win the consolation round.

While it looked like sophomore flash Vinnie Mustacchio (101) might have fallen ill before the tournament as he suffered a nearly sleepless night, his problem was eventually diagnosed as a simple case of pre-match jitters, and the young grappler went through his opponents to finally defeat Antonio Guzman of Essex Catholic, 2-0. Mustacchio will bring an 18-1 season record to the regionals.

Carl Arlt (108) also a sophomore was bested 10-3 by another Essex Catholic foe, but Arlt's second place performance wins him a trip to the regionals. There he'll put his 11-2 mark against such wrestlers as Nutley's undefeated Wayne Horvath (16-0) who defeated Arlt earlier this year.

Bellboys Bump Off Jefferson To Keep Alive in Tourney

by Bob Cohen

Do you remember the last time Belleville won a ballgame on the road? It was on a Friday night in Maplewood as Belleville overtook Columbia. The date of that contest was December 30, 1971.

It was time to change all that and so in the state tournament game against Thomas Jefwon, Belleville nipped their opponents by the score of 45-44. It left the season slate at 5-16 but more important the Bellboys keep moving until they are stopped by another team.

Belleville was paced by Anderson who had eighteen points on the evening. Second was Anthony Cotugno who had ten. Phil Cooks had eleven for the Jefferson squad. Abdel Anderson at this point has a season total of 499 tallies. Combined with his total from last year, he has scored 761 points, in his high school career.

Scoring was almost non-existent in the opening minutes of this ballgame. Cotugno finally got things moving as he hit a jumper. After the score was tied at two, Belleville ran off a six point streak that gave them an 8-2 lead. Anderson, Cotugno, and Hogan had the points in that spurt.

It looked as if it were to be a lowning when Abdel was called for his third personal foul with 6:53 gone in the first period. However Belleville was still able to hold the lead as two Cotugno foul shots made the score 10-4 as the period ended.

Jefferson had a complete turn about in the second period as they went to a patterned offense and began to connect on their field goals. John Moretti with six points sparked Jefferson in the period. Hooks was equally adept as he put in five tallies. Cotugno and Joe Dunn did all the scoring in the period for Belleville as they had four and two points respectively.

What seemed to be the key in the comeback drive was the effective mid court trap that was employed by Jefferson. It forced Belleville into many turnovers in the quarter.

Belleville was always fighting back in this contest. As the third period got underway, Harry Baumgartner hit on a jumper to bring Belleville within one, 19-18. Remind yourselves that this is the third quarter. Belleville went ahead as Anderson popped in a jumper. The lead see-sawed back and forth until Joe Dunn completed a three point play to give Belleville a 27-25 advantage. Greg Hayes had a layup to tie the game up and that is how the quarter ended. Both teams exchanged a few more baskets and ended the quarter in a 33-33 deadlock.

In a close game such as this you would think that the scoring would go all the way down to the last seconds of the ballgame. This was not to be the case. After 6:35 was gone in the final period, not one more point was scored in the ballgame. But the game didn't die there, not by a longshot.

With the score tied at 35 in quarter number four, Anderson hit on a layup. He followed with a two point effort from the charity strip which gave Belleville a 39-35 advantage. Hayes made a pair from the line to bring Jefferson back within two, but Anderson responded with two more foul shots for Belleville.

A Jefferson score followed by an Anderson score made the tally read 43-39. Moretti had a free throw with 2:46 remaining. Harry Baumgartner hit on a clutch jumper at 2:15. It gave Belleville their final points of the ballgame. Sam Oliver and Elvis Coleman each had jumpers to bring Jefferson back within one, 45-44.

In a bizarre ending Belleville managed to hold on to the win. With :43 remaining in the ballgame it was Belleville ball. The ball got tied up with 40 seconds remaining so they jumped it up. With 30 seconds remaining Belleville threw the ball away. With time running down, Coleman took an off balanced shot under great pressure but came up short. Jefferson managed to grab possession and called time.

With 15 seconds remaining, Anthony Cotugno intercepted errant pass. It was Belleville

Bellgirls End Cage Season At 12-4 Mark

by Elaine Drake

The Bellgirls ended their season Friday by traveling to Kearny to defeat the girls from St. Cecilia, 55-28. The Bellgirls continued the same dominating game that they displayed in the past to end their season with a 12-4 record, 10-2 for the regular season, not including tournaments.

St. Cecilia controlled the opening jump ball, but they were unable to penetrate the Belleville defense throughout the entire first quarter. Joyce Buckland cut the key for a lay up shot to score the first field goal of the game. Then Joyce Buckland assisted Susan Paul in a score. Six of the Bellgirls 12 points were scored at the foul line during this quarter. Susan Paul, Joyce Buckland, and Carol Jackson went to the foul line as they were fouled in the act of shooting. The score at the end of the first quarter was 12-0.

Donna Stone controlled the jump ball in the beginning of the quarter, and she drove down for a quick two points.

On the next play, Donna Stone was sent to the foul line for two points as she was fouled in the act of shooting. Then, Gloria Barbone intercepted a St. Cecilia pass, and assisted Carol Jackson in a field goal. Donna Stone scored eight of her twelve ball with 11 seconds. Was the game safe? We have a jump ball with seven seconds to play and with six seconds remaining it is Jefferson ball. Hayes then proceeded to throw the ball away and Cotugno picked up the loose ball. With one second remaining, he went to the line. He missed his opportunity but time finally ran out on this thriller.

Belleville yesterday advanced further into state competition as they played highly (continued on Page 12)

Ladies' Softball

Because of the outstanding success of last year's Recreation Ladies' Softball League the Recreation Department is proceeding with plans for the 1974 League. At a meeting held at the Recreation House last week it was decided to try to expand the league to six teams.

Ladies who wish to play this year are asked to call the Recreation office where they will be assigned to teams.

Each team will start with a roster of 20 players. League action will begin in May and will finish about the end of June. Games will be played on Mondays and Wednesdays and will start at 9:30 a.m. Practice for teams will begin about the first of May.

Those who played in the league last year are also asked to call the Recreation office to let them know what they will be playing and if they wish to remain on the same team. Both new players and the veterans are asked to contact the Recreation office no later than March 22 so that teams can be set up for practices.

NEARS 500 — Abdel Anderson, star center for the Bellboys, was expected to score his 500th point of the season this week in a state "tournament game against Linden.

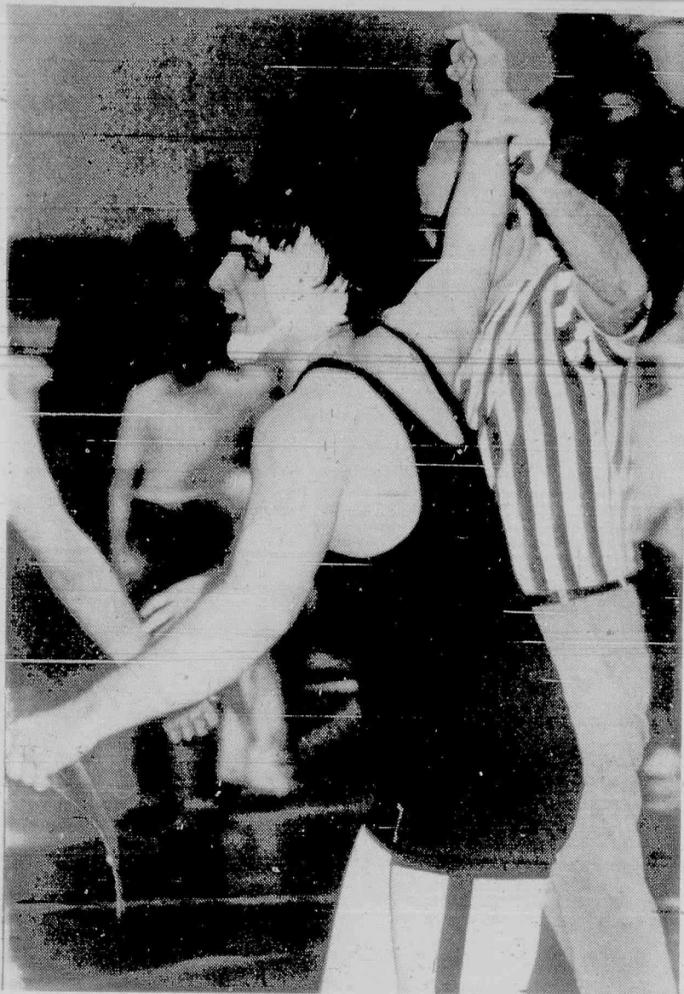

BELLEVILLE LIFTER Phil Grippaldi is honored on the cover of the booklet for the Amateur Athletic Union's National Collegiate Weightlifting Championships to be held Saturday and Sunday at Montclair State's Panzer Gym.

Tourney: 4 Matmen Win Titles

(Continued From Page 11) — (148) will also meet up with a Nutley rival, Steve Stoute, Fabiano, decided on Barringer's Kenneth Jackson, 11-1, for the tournament title. Both Stoute and Fabiano are expected to meet sometime in the regional matches, probably in the finals. "With their comparative records, I think they can stay separated until the finals," said coach Silvestri. I hope so, because then both could go to the state tournament no matter who won and I'd like to see that."

Under a new ruling this year, both first and second place winners will travel to the state tournament. Co-captain Jim La Conti put in his most convincing display of the season during the tournament, as he pinned three opponents to move up the ladder to the crown. In the final match in the 188-pound class his opponent was another Belleville resident, Dave Weydecko of Essex Catholic. Weydecko was pinned in the second period.

Silvestri said he was happy with the success of the wrestlers who won, but added he is "disappointed" that more couldn't be taking the coveted state tournament.

HE'S SATISFIED — Co-captain Jim La Conti knows where he's going — to the regional tournament at Paterson-Kennedy this weekend. The senior 188-pounder pinned three opponents to win the privilege.

Bellgirls Trounce Cecelia's

The Bellgirls dominated the third quarter by out-scoring St. Cecelia fourteen points to ten points. Donna Stone intercepted the ball and drove down to assist Gloria Barbone in a field goal. Donna Stone then assisted Joyce Buckland in a score. Joyce Buckland went to the foul line for one of her two shots as she was fouled in the act of shooting. This was followed by two quick field goals from the top of the key by Nancy Strutskie. The final field goal of the quarter was made by Joyce Buckland for two of her fifteen points. The score at the end of the third quarter was 49-22.

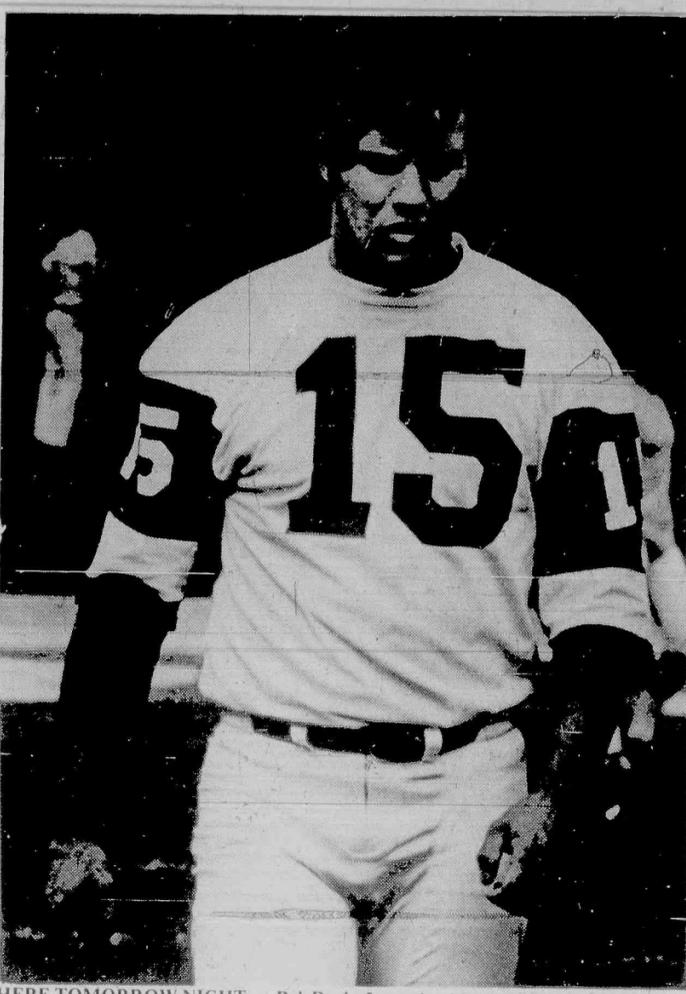

The final quarter moved slowly as both teams only scored six points. Linda Diana went to the foul line for two points as she was fouled in the act of shooting. Gloria Barbone assisted. Carol Jackson in a lay up shot. Then Gloria Barbone intercepted the ball and assisted Donna Stone in the final field goal of the game to make the final score 55-28.

Standout Montclair Hefter Is Ex-Belleville Gridder

Like a good many young men in America, Bob Giordano was brought up on an athletic diet of football, wrestling and baseball. In fact he became good enough to become a New Jersey District wrestling champion while attending Belleville High School and won the school's outstanding athlete award in his senior year.

When he entered Fairleigh Dickinson University in 1969 he continued to participate in club football plus making the varsity squads in wrestling and baseball.

A chance happening as sophomore brought the six foot, 181 pounder into contact with weightlifting and a real love affair developed. Giordano's chance meeting came at the Belleville Barbell Club when he was seeking out ways to improve his conditioning program by weightlifting.

Helped by Floyd De Spirito, veteran weightlifter and Phil Grippaldi, Giordano's fellow teammate now at Montclair State, the former Belleville High School standout quickly became one of the best in his weight class, 181 1/2 pounds.

Now a fulltime graduate student at Montclair State, he was a 1973 political science graduate of F.D.U. Giordano will bear watching in the forthcoming Amateur Athletic Union's National Collegiate Weightlifting Championships scheduled to be held at Montclair State College's Panzer gym on Saturday, March 9 and Sunday, March 10.

Last year, Giordano set a new collegiate snatch weightlifting record by handling 280 pounds. However, his failure to get into top-flight condition cost him dearly in clean and jerk. Speed is Giordano's number one asset in weightlifting and this may explain why he is far better in snatch than in clean and jerk.

An articulate young man, Giordano believes that weightlifting needs only exposure to become a bigtime sport in America. "All we need is to be able to draw good athletes and we can do anything we set out to do here in America," Giordano points out.

Dedicated to weightlifting, despite handling a fulltime teaching job in the Orange school system and being married, Giordano's big goal will be to make the United States Olympic team.

Knowing that it will take a tremendous amount of work, Bob feels his best chance will not come to make the team until 1980.

Beck's Column

The Annual Magnavox sale has started. As usual, we had many early customers who picked some sets where we had only one of a kind or floor models.

As most customers know, this annual sale is the only time when dealers are free to set their own prices for certain models. The rest of the year the prices are set by the factory. Many customers begin to ask about this sale already months in advance and they put off buying a new set until sale time. The reductions vary, on some models they are more and on others less, although there is a reduction on almost every model TV, HI FI or stereo.

Some people ask why there is a sale at all? Everybody makes mistakes. The factory may have produced too many sets of certain models or styles which customers did not take to. The same goes for dealers. In other words the sale is an occasion to correct one's mistakes. Mostly the price reductions are due to styling. Quality is the same, since the same chassis is built into a number of different cabinets. You don't have to fear that you may buy inferior merchandise during the sale. This is definitely not market for a TV, Stereo or radio, please come in. We may just have what you are looking for, at a considerable discount from regular prices.

Seeding Arrangements For Regionals Listed

Seedings for the Region II championships to be held tomorrow night at Paterson-Kennedy High School were settled Monday night.

For Belleville's four-man contingent the following berths were arranged:

Vinnie Mustacchio (101): seeded first to meet Randy Riva of North Bergen High School.

Carl Arlt (108): non-seeded to meet Mark Holland of West Orange.

Ralph Fabiano (148): seeded second against Warren Coven of Fort Lee.

Jim La Conti (188): seeded third to face Les McNeil of Paterson-Kennedy. In the dual match between Belleville and Paterson-Kennedy, La Conti had beaten McNeil with a pin. In Fabiano's case, his seeding will probably prevent his facing his arch-rival, Steve Stoute of Nutley, until the final round.

According to a new ruling, both first and second place winners this year will enter the state tournament.

Bellboys Win Tourney Game

(Continued From Page 11) — touted Linden at Linden. The results of that game were recorded after the times went to press for this week.

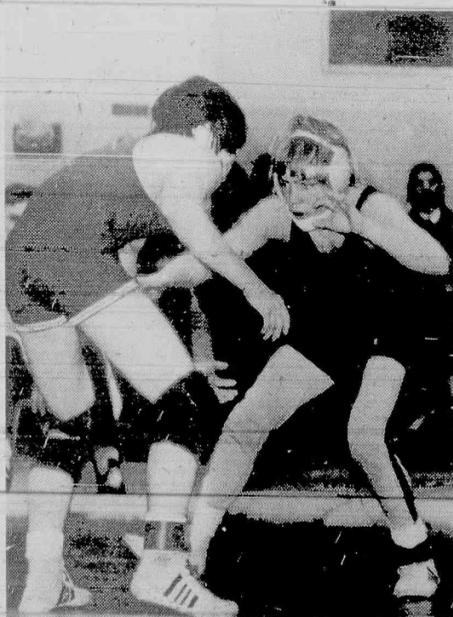

Earlier the Bellboys suffered a 63-50 loss to the hands of the lowly Columbia Cougars. The loss, the fifth in a row, concluded the regular season. Belleville concluded the year with a slate of 4-6 for the season, while going 3-13 in the mighty Big Ten competition. Columbia had ended with a 5-11 Big Ten record.

On February 27 I attended the first in a series of seven Lenten Breakfasts at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church. Come on out - time is 6:50 a.m. to 7:30 and it was really nice. I saw so many, many friendly faces at that early hour. Rev. Howard Day was the speaker. Call the Church office to sign up - Phone 759-6869. $1.75 for adults and $1 for students. I was a guest at the Belleville Historical Society dinner held at Christ Episcopal Church last month. (See "Organization Doings" featured in this paper). Saw so many acquaintances - Marie Daniels, Kay Spang and her dad, Ken, Sophie and Len Bade, Commissioner Michael Marotti, Mayor McGreevey and Commissioner Mary Senatore making her usual stunning appearance; Winnie Tucker, Norman Thompson, Eunice Conover, and, of course, Alan Crisp, Neil Horne, Ed O'Neil, George Gebrian, Harry Sullivan and Gerry Hickey of the Society.

The committee worked hard and did an outstanding job. Catherine and Louisa Mingle did all the shopping for the roast beef dinner, arranged flowers and Louisa played the piano for the National Anthem, which was sung by the audience. (This always gives me thrills). Danny Dunn mashed the potatoes and was the butt of many jokes, as he was teased the potatoes were lumpy. (they weren't). Ben Zenkiewicz, the custodian at the Church, helped with the cooking, setting up the hall, and a thousand and one other things. Also Mary Gilchrist - chairman of the home-made cakes and Catherine Senior, Viola Mitchell was the official greeter at door. Waitresses were Toby Mallow and her two teenage daughters, Myra Gilbert, Barbra Driscoll and Marge O'Neil. John Driscoll led the Pledge of Allegiance and Neil Horne did his "thing" - he took films and pix of the whole event. (even took one of me - from behind - taking a photo of the officers) If I've missed anyone, please let me know - my personal thanks to Ed O'Neil for his help. Guest speaker that evening was author Robert Leckie.

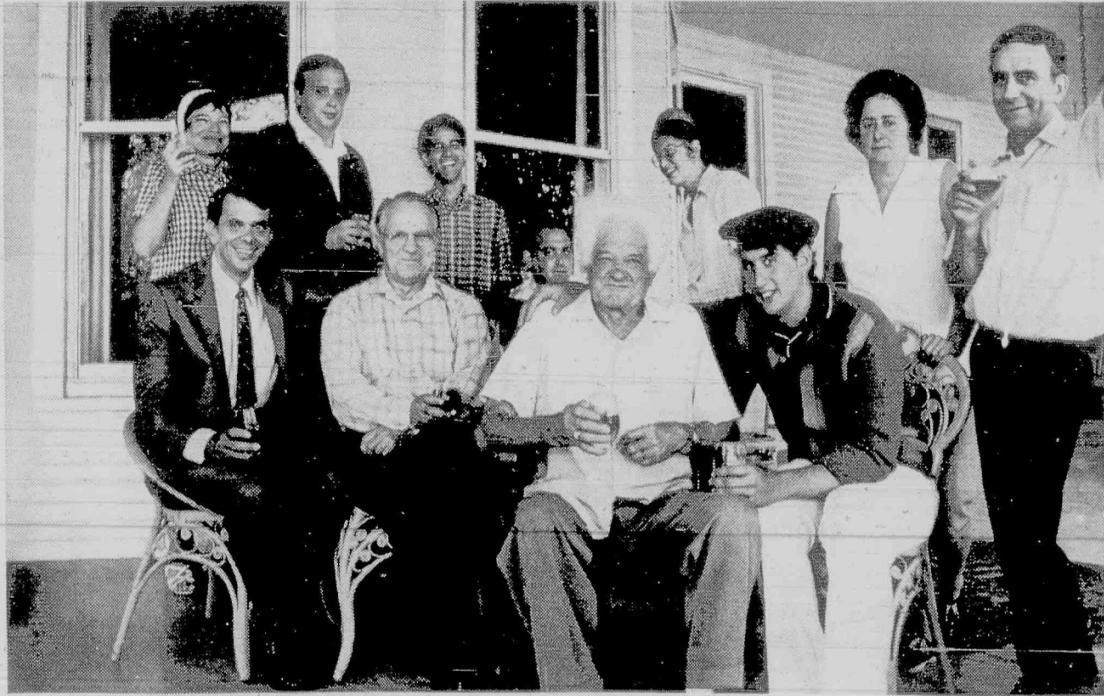

I'm sorry to report of the passing of one of Belleville's beloved leaders - Mrs. Edna Verhagen who will be long remembered for her work in Girl Scouting. My sympathy to her family.

There was a Grand American who called his family together on July 4th, 1961.

He'd come from the old country with nothing but his honor, his pride, and an aptitude for hard work. Now his family included railroad men, teachers, builders, businessmen, truck drivers, scientists, clerks, paperboys and mothers, young and old. All shared his sense of honor, his sense of pride. All had his aptitude for hard work. All were good, honest Americans. Schenley was there that Fourth of July, part of the celebration. It was the best doggone whiskey they could get then. And it still is. It still has the classic smooth taste of Schenley, the unique honest flavor, the heritage of celebrated good times. And it's 100% American whiskey, the Grand American Whiskey.

Schenley
The Grand American Whiskey.

We've shared some good times together. Let's share a few more.

Although timely, concern over rising decibel levels is by no means a recent development. Concern about increasing noise pollution dates back to ancient Rome when the lawmakers of that period placed restrictions on evening chariot traffic in an effort to reduce nocturnal noise levels.
