Schoolers Accept McGreevy's Offer: Drop '73 Appeal, Keep '74 Budget

A year-long dispute over funds cut by the Board of Commissioners from the 1973-74 school budget came to an end this week. The Board of Education reluctantly agreed to drop their claim to $214,036 restored by the State Commissioner of Education after the Town Fathers slashed $450,880.

In return, the School Board will get an intact 1974-75 budget totaling $7.7 million from the Commissioners, who have been studying the package for possible paring since the budget was defeated at the polls by 28 votes February 13.

The Commissioners ratified the agreement unanimously Tuesday night after receiving written notice from Board of Ed President Matthew Pica that the schoolers have accepted the offer at Monday night meeting.

The school trustees had rejected the "trade" when it was first put to them by Mayor Joseph McGreevy, the architect of the plan, and other Commissioners on February 26. Board President Matthew Pica met privately with McGreevy at the mayor's office on Thursday and Saturday, then returned to the Board of Ed with his conclusions Monday night.

Pica said the Board of Ed gave a "unanimous consensus" to the plan on second hearing, and while he personally praised the arrangement and "the cooperation of the Commissioners," he admitted the School Board had no choice but to accept.

"Our only option," Pica stated, "would have been to have two budgets under appeal instead of one. Our feeling was that if we did not accept the proposal, there would have been a substantial cut in the 1974-75 budget." He added there had been no specific indication such a cut would have been made, or any figures mentioned for possible cuts at any time in the negotiations.

McGreevy also denied reports he had intended to cut for a substantial cut in the new budget if the schoolers refused his offer.

McGreevy Tuesday night stressed he had the support of all his fellow Commissioners when he first proposed the plan, and pointed out the vote by the Commission Tuesday night to drop their appeal of the Commissioner of Education's decision had been unanimous. Commissioner Mary Senatore had said last week she wanted no part of any "deals" with the School Board.

Pica said planning for the $7.7 million school budget had been made under the assumption the Boards would be involved in a long court battle for the restored funds and "many worthwhile programs" had been brought over from the previous hamstrung budget to the proposed 74-75 version. These programs, he said, include work-study curriculum, an expanded athletic program, more special services, new band uniforms, and funds for new equipment.

McGreevy, who had ordered the disputed $214,036 not to be raised in taxation this year, viewed the resolution of the controversy as "a break for the taxpayers. It's just like a cut, since they'll never have to pay that money."

The amount to be raised for school taxes in 1974 now totals $6,289,733.50. This includes $6,035,770 for current expenses; $9,267.50 for capital outlay; and $244,696 for mandatory debt service. The total will bring an increase of 21 tax points.

(Meanwhile, Belleville's taxes to Essex County are expected to require another 17 point tax rate hike here, while the municipal rate will stay the same as last year. The overall tax rate hike in 1974 is expected to be 38 points—from $5.97 per $100 of assessed valuation to $6.38.

The School Board will now ask Commissioner of Education Edward Kilpatrick to rescind his restoration of the $214,036, which he had ordered returned after the Commissioners had slashed $450,880 from the proposed $7.4 million 1973-74 school budget. The Commissioners will withdraw their appeal of the Commissioner of Education's decision, which is now pending before the State Board of Education.

Both McGreevy and Pica expressed confidence in the agreement, which they feel is beneficial to both opposing parties.

Waiting Lines Trickle

Gas Crisis Over in Belleville? Station Operators Don't Know

Those long lines that strangled Belleville service stations earlier this year seem to have withered away and if the buying public and the Federal Energy Office continue to cooperate, they may not reappear for some time.

An informal Times survey of a sampling of service station operators here indicate increased allocations, along with a reduction in "panic buying" due to the odd-even rationing system, have combined to reduce the familiar waiting lines. Their collective opinion is that enough gas will be available to fill motorists' needs in Belleville during most of March, though the situation may again "tighten up" toward the end of the month.

April allocations, however, remain a question mark. Nearly all station operators say they "don't know from one day to the next" how much gas their respective companies will deliver or when the fuel will arrive.

But for this month at least, most stations in town will open their gas pumps all day, and green flags indicating "no limit" to buying will be waving. All stations, of course, intend to stick to the odd-even system and half tank limit, which they credit with reducing the lines.

The Federal Energy Office last week announced New Jersey's March allocation will total 85 percent of the gas received in March of 1972, and stations here indicated their companies will be providing them with anywhere from 70 to 90 percent of their gas purchases in March of 1972.

Because of the delivery patterns to certain stations in 1972, this may leave some operators "swimming" in gas this month, but "high and dry" in April.

Richard Florentine of Florentine's Sunoco on Washington Avenue is one of the operators who is pumping full time this month, but is still wondering about April. He's been scheduled for five deliveries of 8,000 gallons in March but only two deliveries in April. "Unless there's a change in Washington's allocation policy, I'll be short at the end of this month, then I'll get more in during April."

If allocations remain the same, though, I'll probably have to cut back my pumping hours or close to the public for some time that month."

Speaking of the general situation of station operators, Florentine said, "We're really out on a limb. We're making '72 wages with '74 prices. The

Belleville in the Days of Old Was a Much Larger Town

(Ed. Note — Town Historian Allan Crisp this week takes us back to younger Belleville, seen through the eyes of the Town's earliest mayor, Hugh Holmes)

Hughie Holmes, Belleville's first mayor, describes Belleville around 1820, as follows: "I find the beautifully situated Town of Belleville on the westerly side of the Passaic River, included all of Woodside from Mt. Pleasant Cemetery up, and all of the present township of Franklin. In 1869, Woodside was taken off as a township by itself, and in 1874, Franklin became a township by itself. (Nuttley just celebrated the 100th anniversary of its separation from Belleville — AHC)

"This left Belleville as it now is: Franklin on the North, Newark on the South, Bloomfield on the West and the beautiful Passaic River on the East. At the commencement of this short history, there were but 75 dwelling houses from Barrick Lane (Joralemon St.) south to Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, two of them were called 'taverns'. One kept by John Williams, a stone house on the corner of John Street (now Belleville Avenue) and Main Street. This was also the stage house for passengers to New York. The other one was kept by Mr. Thomas Farrand on the corner of William and Main Streets.

"There were five stores, kept by William M. Sandford, William Holmes, John Dow, William H. Brant and William Dow. Commencing from Barricks Lane (now Joralemon St.) running north was one long hill, 20 feet high, with apple trees.

"The only streets then running westward were the Brook Road or Mill Street, William and John Streets, submerging into one, and Barrick Lane (now Joralemon Street), which was then fifty feet wide, and as this is the only street where no improvements may be seen, but, to the contrary, has gone back to the old cow path — the writer feels it his duty to give facts.

Where Mr. Eastwood's works now are, was a deep creek in which at high tide, vessels could float. The writer well remembers this, for when 14 he saw three wild ducks light. He took his gun, craw-

Rent Bill, Salaries, Lake Petition All Miss Commission Meeting

Besides the disclosure of the agreement between the Board of Ed and the Town Fathers to end their hassle over the disputed 1973-74 school funds, the big news of Tuesday night's Commission meeting was the news that didn't happen.

No discussion was brought about at the pre-meeting caucus of the recommendations by the Belleville Rent Advisory Committee to enact a rent-leveling ordinance here.

The 1974 salary guide for Town Hall employees was listed on the agenda but withdrawn after some technical flaws were found in the figures.

No Silver Lake merchants or residents appeared as promised to present the Commissioners with a petition calling for more police protection in that area of town.

John Charles was not present. (Charles, perhaps the most faithful follower of Commission activity in Belleville, was notable by his absence, a very infrequent occurrence.)

Mayor Joseph McGreevy said the Town Fathers "just didn't get around to" the rent recommendations, made two weeks ago by the rent committee, who are now waiting for the Commissioners to get together with them to discuss the committee report. McGreevy indicated to the Times this week he did not consider such a meeting necessary for the drafting of a rent measure, which he said was necessary to Belleville.

The Silver Lake petition was to have been brought by shopkeeper Joseph Raimo, who said last week the document bears over 600 names of residents who are demanding foot patrols by police in Silver Lake.

Raimo began the petition campaign in Silver Lake soon after he and his wife were held up by two armed and masked men at their delicatessen on Franklin Street on February 19. He said he placed the petitions in over 30 businesses on Franklin Street and Newark Avenue.

The immediate solution by the police to the rash of robberies was to increase the number of unmarked car patrols in the Silver Lake area. Commissioner, Laterza said at the time the patrol car method was superior to foot patrols in Silver Lake or, for that matter, anywhere in Belleville.

Survey Here to Ask About Pre-Schoolers

A survey will be conducted by volunteers in Belleville from March 15 to March 27 to determine the needs of pre-school children in their future education.

"Project Child," conducted through the Essex County education system by the State of New Jersey, will collect data particularly on the health of pre-school children.

Belleville School Psychologist Michael Zampardi said this week the effort is tied to the recently-passed $25 million bond referendum for the education of New Jersey's handicapped children. The survey will assess the individual needs of each school district in four counties: Essex, Hudson, Bergen and Union.

Donates Breathing Unit To Town Department

Angelo Mostello just about made Vincent Strumolo's week when he dropped in to the Public Affairs Department last Wednesday.

Angelo brought with him a portable breathing unit worth about $800 which he donated to the Department for use by emphysema victims who cannot afford to buy the machine or cannot get access to one. Strumolo, the Commissioner of Public Affairs, gladly accepted and announced the apparatus will be on loan as needed.

"I'm quite impressed with Mr. Mostello's generosity and hope this will prompt others in town to do the same. It helps the taxpayers and renders a great service to people in need."

The apparatus, regrettably, comes to the Town through the misfortune of Mostello, who had purchased the equipment about eight months ago for a member of his family, since passed away.

He gave the equipment to the Town on behalf of himself and Mrs. Mostello.

The apparatus is used by emphysema victims, sometimes three times daily. Strumolo said the machine would be lent to residents only on the advice and supervision of a physician.

Gas Shortage Here Eases During March

delivery schedules from the companies can change from one minute to the next." He added the base figure for 1972 allocations still does not account for the estimated 10 percent expansion each year that could have been expected by the average business.

At Vee Bee Exxon on

Joralemon Street and Franklin Avenue, John Bruno said there's been a marked decrease in waiting lines, and he's been able to pump gas from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day. "I think the panic is over, but prices may still go up," he said.

Also pumping all day is Covino's Shell Station on Joralemon Street. Operator Frank Covino, who reports he's getting 70 percent of his March, 1972 allocation, figures his deliveries "will spread out thinner at the end of the month," but generally March will not be a bad month for gas supplies. Covino said "the public has not only adjusted to the crisis, but I think they've put up with a lot. They've really cooperated during this situation."

Greylock Exxon on Washington Avenue likewise is easily handling present customer demand, but the supply there is uncertain for the end of the month. Hours presently are back to 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Frank Martorelli of Union Avenue Sunoco said "We're still not going to get the gas we need for March, but the panic is over." He figures his April allocation will be about 90 percent of the same month in 1972, which should be sufficient as long as the demand stays on a steady keel. Assessing the chances for a good gas supply in Belleville in coming months, he said, "it boils down to what we get from the companies. We have to rely on them for our deliveries."

While Governor Brendan Byrne and state officials continue to press the Federal Energy Office for an increased allocation of gas to New Jersey, it appears the service stations in Belleville are handling the present demand well. The more critical time will come at the end of the month as the operators await their April deliveries. Some will be stretching their March supplies; others may not have to.

Unless the public again sharply increases their buying pattern to what had occurred earlier this year, waiting lines at local gas stations will be at a reasonable length for most of March. But not even the service station operators themselves can predict the April outlook.

Scout Spirits Hold Up During Wintery Blasts

Windy cold and rain did not dampen the competitive spirit of 100 Scouts and 18 adult volunteers last weekend as they completed the annual Belleville District Winter Rally at Scout Acres near Den-ville. Except for a few weather mandated changes in traditional procedure and a goodly number of wet, muddy uniforms, the weekend schedule went off as planned. It was climaxed by the traditional Scout "campfire," in which the campers present skits and entertainment for their fellow campers, but instead of the exterior bonfire, the Scouts basked in the light from a fireplace in one of the cabins on the Scout reservation. Weather made it impracticable to hold an outside event.

Church services were also held indoors. Rev. Richard Shanklin of Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, held a Protestant Service Saturday evening. Father William Mink and Father Paul Lehman of St. Peter's Church, Belleville, conducted the Catholic service Sunday morning.

Winners in the patrol competition were: The Panther Patrol of Troop 307, led by Scout Kevin Mostillo took first place; The Flaming Arrow Patrol of the same troop, led by John Deoffinger came in second, and the Cobra Patrol of Troop 350 led by Robert Tomaselli and Neckerchief Patrol of Troop 387 led by John Taurozziti tied for third place.

Joseph Brooks was leader of the Golden Eagle Patrol of Troop 372, which captured top honors in the Camp Olympics. The Panther Patrol of Troop 307 took second place and the Twilight Patrol of Troop 302, headed by Kevin Dayenport came in second in that competition.

Rev. Richard Shanklin of Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, held a Protestant service for the Scouts Saturday evening. Father William Mink and Father Paul Lehman of St. Peter's Church, Belleville, conducted the Catholic service Sunday.

James Goff, Senior Patrol Leader of Troop 387 was chairman of the outing. Louis Rossi, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 302 was vice chairman.

Advisors for the trip were Walter Poniken, camping chairman of the Belleville Scout Council and H. Max Carroll, Belleville Roundtable Commissioner.

Troops which attended the Rally are: Troop 301, Wesley Methodist Church, Nicholas

Auriemma, Scoutmaster; Troop 302 of Bethany Lutheran Church, Alexander Symonies, Scoutmaster; Troop 304, School No. 4 Home and School Association, Allen Gibson, Scoutmaster; Troop 307, School seven O.P.E., R. Robert Weiss, Scoutmaster; Troop 350, Fewsmith Church, Charles Hill Scoutmaster; Troop 372, Reformed Church, Kent A. Robinson, Scoutmaster Troop 387, St. Anthony's Church, Thomas Sibilia Scoutmaster and Troop 388, Christ Episcopal Church, Robert Comus Scoutmaster.

They Took an Abandoned Gas Station, And Expanded Their Family Business

FATHER-DAUGHTER TEAM — Mary Patricia Desmond mans the telephone as her father directs.

James Desmond and his daughter, Mary Patricia, are directors of the Wadsworth Funeral Home at 524 Union Avenue. The Desmond family came to town about 20 years ago, when Desmond worked with the former owner of the funeral parlor. In 1968, Wadsworth Funeral Home came under the ownership of Jim Desmond and, with his wife, Ginny, and their daughter, Mary Pat, have come about many interesting and intriguing changes.

Desmond, a graduate of the McAllister School, met his wife, an Army Nurse, while in the Army Medical Corps and the career of the two has combined with that of their daughter who, last year, graduated from her father's school and became a licensed New Jersey Mortician.

Reassuring a family that they are with them in time of need has become a 24-hour a day vocation for the Desmond family. They consider themselves advisers and counselors in the sensitive situation where the services of a mortician are required.

There are multitudinous details which must be performed with maximum effort in minimum time when someone dies. Though primarily James Desmond and his daughter, Mary Patricia, are directly involved, Mrs. Desmond takes a great deal of interest in the proceedings and assists in paperwork and telephone calls.

A deep-rooted feeling for their fellow man is evinced by all the Desmonds. Three services performed at the Wadsworth Funeral Home are: Preservation, Sanitation and Restoration. "Ginny" Desmond adds another — Compassion. Financial arrangements for a funeral — whether simple or elaborate — are based not only on what the family would like to do, but also on the family's resources.

Not only to the individual family in need do the Desmonds feel a trust. The community in which they live and work receives a great deal of their time and effort. Desmond conducts groups of clergymen through his establishment to acquaint them with the funeral director's relationship to the clergy's job. A past president of the Funeral Directors Association of Essex and Union, he is also president of the Belleville Rotary, a trustee for the Craig Fund and member of the National Funeral Director's Association with his daughter, Mary Pat, who is also a member of Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's group. Mrs. Desmond is a newly elected member to the advisory board of the Belleville Red Cross.

The Wadsworth Funeral Home has seen many changes. From a modest beginning, there was an addition built to harmonize with the original and afford more space.

Touring the new viewing and smoking rooms, it is difficult to imagine the car wash and lift conveyor of the old gas station. Desmond had the foresight to project the finished product — his wife and daughter, the artistic talent to create — combining pastel colored walls with matching drapes, and designing new covers for sofas and chairs.

The entrance to Wadsworth Funeral Home — where Ginny Desmond welcomes strangers as friends to "her" home — is quietly elegant, with a grandfather clock put together by Jim Desmond, a fieldstone fireplace and an overhang in the doorway, to protect visitors from the elements.

The Desmond family of Wadsworth Funeral Home feel "it is vitally important to put people at ease." No matter the time of day or night, they feel a family responsibility to the individual in need.

The normal heartbeat in the normal adult heart is about seventy beats per minute. This adds up to about 4200 beats an hour, 100800 beats a day, and 36,792,000 beats a year. And this is when a person remains fairly quiet, calm and not frightened. If a person is upset or exercising, the number of beats increases. ## But Americans First!

(The following guest editorial is written by Col R. R. Tourtellott, Americanism chairman emeritus Fort Monmouth Chapter, National Sojourners-Ed.)

As we look forward to celebrating our Nation's 200th Anniversary, let's review who we are! — There's not a single person in our Country, except those descended from American Indians but whose ancestors came from a foreign land. Earliest settlers came for adventure. Others came in search of freedom and religious liberty. They were Protestants, Catholic and Jews.

Some of our ancestors were shipped to America to clear the crowded British debtors prisons. Some were brought here forcefully as slaves. Later many came seeking a land of economic opportunity. Each of these groups brought something of value which has contributed to the welfare of our Nation.

But regardless of their origin or why they came, our ancestors worked of fought to gain freedom and to establish and preserve our Nation. They were proud that they and their children were Americans. Because there were many with similar backgrounds, many groups organized clubs or societies so that they might assemble together, review the traditions of their ancestors and keep alive some of their interesting customs. Thus we have German-American, Irish, Italian and Jewish groups, French-Huguenot Societies, Spanish-speaking groups, Afro-American and many other similar organizations of fine, loyal Americans. All this is good, is interesting and educational.

But sometimes some of these groups forget that they should be Americans first! Some urge that because of their ancestry, they should have special treatment which, if granted, would serve to keep them forever separate from other Americans. Some want schools conducted and civic instructions presented in the language of their ancestors. This is the United States, our language is English and every American, for his own good, should learn to read, write and speak in as early as possible. One of the foremost purposes of each ethnic group should be to develop love for America, knowledge of our history and the blessing of our form of government, understanding of citizenship responsibility, the need to obey the law and respect for the rights and property of others. We should all maintain inviolate our own personal honor and integrity in all our endeavors. We must pass these things on to our children and help them become dedicated Americans.

Regardless of our backgrounds, we should not now categorically blame present day Britons for the abuses of George III or all Catholics for the Massacre of St. Bartholomew, all Protestants for the denial of religious and civic rights to Catholics in early Maryland, all Gentiles for discriminating against Jew, nor present day whites for enslavement of blacks or all Americans for the mistreatment of Orientals and American Indians. All loyal Americans deplore these abuses. Regardless of how our Ancestors got here, most of us are now glad they came and would not wish to return to the land of our forebears.

President Theodore Roosevelt said once, "The first requisite of a good citizen in this Republic of ours is that he should be able and willing to pull his own weight." We may be ever proud of our ancestral and religious backgrounds but always aware that we are first citizens of the finest Nation on earth! It isn't perfect but it's the best there is! One of our responsibilities is to become involved in the civic activities of our communities and work to strengthen and preserve our heritage by being Americans first!

March Dates

The last of March contains many memorable dates for Americans, including St. Patrick's Day, on the 17th, which dates from the death of the patron saint of Ireland on that day in 493.

Roger R. Taney, an early opponent of slavery in the United States and fifth Chief Justice, was born in Calvert County, Maryland on the 17th in 1777. The 17th is also Evacuation Day in Boston—dating from the withdrawal of British troops in 1776.

Grover Cleveland 22nd and 24th President, was born in Caldwell, New Jersey, on the 18th in 1837, the son of a preacher. He left office in early 1897 highly unpopular but within a few years was recognized as having been a wise leader and soon regained wide popularity.

William Jennings Bryan was born at Salem, Illinois, on the 19th in 1860 and was to be for many years a leader of the Democratic Party—opposing Cleveland on the question of the free coinage of silver.

John Tyler, 10th President, was born at Greenway, Virginia, on the 29th in 1790; one of his historical decisions was to assume the Presidency (from his position of Vice President) when the President, Benjamin Harrison, died.

Tyler was elected as a Whig, but broke with the Whigs and worked with the Democrats and later, after failing to be renominated, was elected many years later to the Confederate House of Representatives but died before taking his seat.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Hey Mayor! Don't try to fool us by suggesting Jimmie Byrne didn't want the Tax Collector job. Had it been offered to him, as a permanent position, rather than in an acting capacity there is little doubt the little fellow would have grabbed the post. Most people around the Hall felt he richly deserved a better deal. Why the 4 yr. appointment for the new man, giving him prospects of tenure, Mayor?

The sudden surge of prominence and popularity of Rocco Constantino in the arena of public affairs isn't too difficult to understand. The one time priest is affable, informed, related to respected and prominent leading personalities in the business community of the Soho-Silver Lake section of town and enjoys the strong support of his buddy Comm. Mike Marotti, who raked in the highest vote in the last town election. Don't be surprised, come next year's town election doesn't find Rocco one of the stronger candidates for a seat on the town's governing body. The surprisingly strong showing he made in the school Board election bodes trouble for some of the Commission incumbents.

The marked improvement in the thoroughness of news coverage in preparation of difficult news stories, such as explaining the intricacies of municipal budgets, attests to the fact that this paper's editor, Ken Moore, has done his homework and has gleaned valuable facts to be passed on to his readers. I liked his story about the Nutley High School teacher Toby D'Ambola's complaint about those taxes. Would that more such qualified young people took the same keen interest and spoke out against spiraling, burdensome taxation.

Mr. D'Ambola is sure right when he complains about the fact we taxpayers don't get a chance to vote on the costly extravagances that keep pushing up our taxes. If we did, certainly many of the generous raises handed out to government workers would be more in conformity with wages and salaries in private business and industry. Politicians vote themselves raises and are generous with our money by passing out big raises in expectation of winning reelection by winning favor of the public employees who are mostly political vote-getters. We pay.

Well, it happened again—TAXES GO UP TO $6.35. Every year the Belleville taxpayer gets clobbered with a big new tax-bite with little in the way of improvements to show for it. Even though next year is an election year just don't look for any relief then either because from the looks of things they have "thrown in" everything but the kitchen sink to try and hold down this year's rate.

The way things are shaping up at Town Hall with ever increasing taxes, bitter infighting between factions on the commission and bickering over appointments, it would appear there is much merit in Mrs. Sally Hood's proposal to get rid of Commission government.

Her contention things seem "cut and dried" when sessions last but 25 minutes and matters that aren't on the agenda are brought up, without even caucus discussion, tend to indicate we might be better off with a Council of nine members with five wards and a mayor elected by the people.

Railroad Foes Urge Locals Go to Hearing

To the editor:

The committee representing residents of Bloomfield who are protesting night freights on the Erie Lackawanna Greenwood Lake Line, have received numerous inquiries regarding a recent daily newspaper headline which stated "PUC Rejects Bloomfield Bid To Halt Erie Freight". Actually, the article was referring to a resolution that had been adopted by the Bloomfield Town Council to halt transportation of piggyback freight through Bloomfield on the E.L. Greenwood Lake Line, and this news item had no connection whatsoever with the PUC hearings that are currently being held in Newark ordering the Erie Lackawanna to show cause why their nightly freights on this line should not be discontinued.

These nightly freights are interfering with sleep and destroying the health of townspeople. In addition, the transportation of explosive and inflammable material through towns along the Greenwood Lake Branch right-of-way is endangering the lives of residents. The above conditions have caused property values and resale values of homes in the affected areas to drop.

Mayor Kinder, Councilman Joseph Barry and other officials in the town of Bloomfield are to be commended for their deep concern and untiring efforts to rid Bloomfield of a menace that threatens to affect the lives of all of its residents. The excellent presentation of the case by Mr. Henry Sant' Ambrogio, Attorney for the Town of Bloomfield, has been a source of tremendous pride to the Bloomfield residents in attendance at the PUC hearings. State Assemblymen Robert Ruane and Carl Orechio have joined forces with the Bloomfield residents and their Town Officials to halt the operation of these heavy freights.

It is extremely important that residents of Bloomfield, Belleville, Kearny, Montclair, Glen Ridge, Cedar Grove, Little Falls, Totowa and West Caldwell give full support to the local and state officials by attending the next PUC Hearing which will be held at the PUC Offices at 101 Commerce St., Newark, N.J. at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, March 20.

Mr. & Mrs. Raymond J. Meyer

Believes Nixon Is 'Fall Guy'

To the editor:

The crisis we are facing today is being felt all over the nation; it started with the Watergate scandal which is an ugly thing. There are many other Watergate scandals which are not being investigated.

The President is the fall guy. He is being made the scapegoat for the mistakes made by others. I am not interested in what his critics or politicians have to say; they know how to jump the fence when the going gets tough.

President Nixon has no control over school tax, city tax, county tax, state tax or higher rents. That is the responsibility of all other branches of government appointed or elected by the people. There are two sides to every story. All the good things this man has done are going down the drain. He ended the war which he inherited from a Democratic president and brought the prisoners back home. He has one of the best foreign policies in American history. He is being tried and convicted by his critics without a trial.

If he was aware of a coverup at that time he would have fired the lot. The office of the President of the United States is the highest in the nation and should be treated with respect.

It must be remembered that a Democratic Congress has refused to allow the Alaska pipeline for several years which could have prevented chaos here. That was an opening for the big oil companies to create the fuel shortage and raise prices. If gasoline goes for a dollar per gallon, you can have all the gas you want.

Again it must be remembered many big corporations who have a right to make a profit have laid off thousands of people and others have closed their doors because of the outrageous salaries paid which made these companies lose millions of dollars.

The unions must share in the blame. In my opinion the people need Nixon now more than ever to bring the nation together, in these critical times without the cooperation of a Democratic-controlled Congress. We are faced with a very serious depression worse than the one we had in 1929.

I do not believe the President will be impeached or convicted for any wrongdoing without proof. No charges of any kind have been made against him, because there are none. His income tax returns are legal under the law.

All this talk about impeaching the President is a lot of baloney like the fuel shortage.

Uncle Sam is the biggest employer in the nation. He saved the taxpayers millions of dollars by abolishing some programs that did not do the jobs they were supposed to do. These people he tried to help are now his critics; they threw both barrels at him and he came through with flying colors for the country.

Support your President. He knows how to deal with other nations and the problems we face here. He deserves a vote of confidence from the people.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

National Land-Use Legislation Has Been Dealt A Fatal Blow

By David F. Moore
N. J. Conservation Foundation

DESPITE THE NAME of this column, sometimes we have to look beyond New Jersey and comment on the state the country's in. Like now, just after the disheartening news that Congress appears to have dealt a fatal blow to national land-use legislation.

Passed by the Senate last June, S-268, was not really all that radical. The bill, introduced by Washington Senator "Scoop" Jackson, would have established the framework for coherent planning across state lines, mandating by means of a money "carrot" more active participation at the statewide level.

MEANWHILE, down in the House, Arizona Congressman Morris Udall got sponsorship of another version, HR-10294 after the House Environment Subcommittee agreed on provisions generally approximating the Jackson bill. The Interior Committee of the House subsequently approved the Udall measure.

But it hit a reef on its way through the House Committee, which by a 9-4 vote decided to defer action on it "indefinitely." And there we are; nowhere unless one of the Rules Committee members who voted against it decides to switch and calls for reconsideration.

FROM WHAT I READ in the newspapers it would appear that a White House toe was extended to trip the bill, which had been seen by its adherents as pretty much headed for success. I don't delve into politics in this column; no matter how white my knuckles get as I crush my ball-point pen.

Whatever the reason for the Rules Committee action, there reportedly is a division of opinion in the Executive Branch, inasmuch as Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton is said to still favor the legislation.

IT TAKES an unholy lot of compromises and arguments to get legislation of this magnitude and innovative concepts through either house of Congress. It's not hard to guess where opposition comes from. The same interests that clog the legislative halls in Trenton are at work on Capitol Hill. The only difference is that the heaviest hitters wind up in Washington.

Real estate interests and their ilk, represented by chambers of commerce and other lobbies, are the main opponents to a federal approach to land-use policymaking. It figures. We can watch television or read magazines anytime and see the size and identity of the big-time developers now hustling retirement havens and second homes in places like Florida, Arizona, Colorado and even the nearby Poconos. New Jersey is by no means exempt from the same kinds of pressures on the shore and in the mountains of north west Jersey.

AS FATE WOULD have it, none of those places have been equipped by nature to withstand sudden, massive development. The southwest has a built-in water shortage. So does Florida, with sewage disposal compounding things as any half-sensitive nostril can attest during a ride south on Interstate 95. The same goes for the Poconos, and major parts of the ex-garden state.

We can look about us and see that states and their municipal parts have too little ability or political courage to control development. People everywhere have been banking on a precedent from Washington, but for now at least it looks like somebody broke our bank.

THOSE CONCERNED with the problem are writing to Rep. R.J. Madden, Chairman of the House Rules Committee, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

School Board Changes Date For Meeting

The next meeting of the Belleville Board of Education will be held Monday, March 18, instead of March 25, officials announced this week.

The change was made to avoid a conflict with the Art-Music Festival, a major system-wide event scheduled for March 25.

The Board of Ed meets at their offices at 383 Washington Avenue at 8 p.m. Public meetings are usually scheduled for the last Monday of each month.

I'm doing this as a public service, so newcomers will know all Belleville has to offer.

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club must be "just what the doctor ordered," according to one active member. People get together for a few hours at 92 Montgomery Place (Little League Field), have coffee, donuts and conversation. Meeting date is every Tuesday 12:30 to 3 or whatever... here are some birthday members: Anthony Arena — March 5, Eleanor Benvenuto — 22nd, Rose Clarke — 15th, Mrs. M. Dixon Diehl 20th, Anna Ellis — 27th, Louise Gonsalves — 25th, the newly elected Valentine Queen, Lucy Gutilla — 5th, Louise Halbauer — 18th, Mildred Harlowe — 27th, Gervase "Gerry" Jordan and Freda Olschner on St. Pat's Day — 17th, Geraldine Marone — 26th, Elsie Noonan — 19th, Anthony Paul — 21st, Alexander Petrillo — some time this month, Albina Piscopiello — 6th and Anthony Sardo — 25th. I'm not giving the year of birth, cause age isn't important with these lovely active people... today (3/14) they will have a corned beef and cabbage dinner at The Fountain.

Active Bonnie Low Has Eye on Future

A 16-year old, with her eye on the future, is Miss Bonnie Low, daughter of Ruth and the late Sol A. Junior at Belleville High School, where she is a flag twirler, Bonnie attended School Five and the Junior High. During her junior high days, she was on the year book staff, editor of the newspaper, sang in chorus and was the female vocalist with a band.

Presently, Bonnie is a statistician for the boys varsity basketball and track teams. Hobbies include tennis and swimming. The attractive blonde has a yen for travel and has visited her sister, Mrs. Jennifer Weisenthal in California, toured Canada and went to Bermuda with the BHS band in 1973. The summer before that, Bonnie and another young lady traveled with school teacher Mr. Early to Europe for six weeks, visiting Italy, Paris and London. It wasn't all "social" either, as Bonnie had to study Italian at a school three hours each day. She feels travel is a broadening experience and will be going to Washington D.C. with the school chorus this spring. A Liberal Arts major, her sights are set on a Florida college.

Last year someone mentioned to Bonnie she would make a good model — X tall, good bone structure and fair skin. Bonnie's mother had tried to interest her daughter in many activities but nothing "took" until Bonnie decided to become a model. She graduated in January from the Barbizon School of Modeling, after a fifteen week course. Really enthused about the Barbizon course, Bonnie was taught walking, speaking, appearance, conversation (such as an interview with a potential boss) and, in short, "How to put yourself together."

As a graduate model, Bonnie now wants to gain some experience. Not that she is thinking of modeling as her sole career — perhaps fashion merchandising will be her field. But, modeling would be an opportunity for an income while she attends college. Our tall, blonde, new Barbizon graduate has offered to model free for any fashion shows held by town groups. She recently appeared in a show for the Junior Women's Club. Please contact Bonnie at 89 Belmoor Street, if you need a model.

In addition to her heavy schedule — school, social activities, modeling, Bonnie also works. She is employed as a cashier and orthopedic technician for Walk Rite Shoes in Newark. Bonnie is also active in the United Synagogue Youth Organization.

Recently, Miss Low read in this paper about the Miss New Jersey Teenage Pageant, so she sent for an application. Judging will be on poise, personality and appearance, plus a 100-word essay on "What's Right About America". The Essay portion of the program will be presented May 31 at the New Brunswick Holiday Inn, public invited. The following evening, June 1, the five best essays will be read during the Pageant and Miss N.J. Teenager will be selected; again, public invited. Tickets are $3.00.

Bonnie Low feels 16 is the age to become concerned about the individual — the future. She wants an education, but intends to be

Belleville High Halls to Assume Greenwich Village Atmosphere

By Robin Bressman

On March 25, the corridors of Belleville High School will become the streets of Greenwich Village, lined with lampposts and booths. Songs and music will be ringing in the streets, and art exhibits will decorate the lighted pavements.

The affair will begin at 6:30 p.m. where parents and friends will view the many art showings, including ceramics and portraits of members of the Board of Education, town commissioners, and Mr. James LaMotta, president of the Music Parents Association. There will also be some ongoing activities in ceramics and some on the scene sketching of people going through the halls.

This will be the first half of the night's festivities, and at 8 p.m., the second part will begin. It concentrates on the musical portion of the affair, and it takes place in the gymnasium, where two stages will be set up. Almost like a three-ring circus, the two stages will be labeled blue and gold and will switch from one to the other throughout the performance. Approximately 800 students will perform selections for the crowd of an estimated 1700 people. Eleven groups will perform in concert, and each group will have six minutes to perform. This portion of the program will consist of the combined Elementary Band and Orchestra, the combined elementary chorus, the Junior High School Orchestra, the Junior High Mixed Chorus, the Junior High Concert Band and Stage Band, the High School Madrigal Singers, the High School Orchestra, and Band and Wind Ensemble. Performing with the high school band will be the twirlers, color guard, and flag bearers.

Performers have to come in at certain doors in order to prevent any confusion that's unnecessary. Each student will be issued an I.B.M. card which will determine the time and entrance each will take, and the cards will have colors to determine this.

The committee in charge of this complex affair includes,

Mr. Michael Rosamilia, assistant Superintendent; Mr. Seymour Grossman, assistant superintendent, Mr. Frank Seelba, music director and Mr. Morton Birkin, art director.

Obviously, the amount of work put into this huge and very time consuming performance is inestimable, but the people who attend will make this endeavor worth inestimable value.

In January of 1970, the first Art and Music Festival was held, and it was a sell-out. With hope that four years later the same will happen, much luck and admiration is wished for all those who have worked so hard to make it happen.

'Resin,' 'Blue Rage' Rock Local Concert

By Diane Frazier

A rock concert featuring Resin was held at Belleville High School on Friday, February 15th. Blue Rage played along with Resin for the audience. Resin and Blue Rage are two local groups consisting of boys that have schooled in the Belleville area.

Blue Rage preceded Resin and began the evening by playing a number of popular songs. They played well and were appreciated by the audience.

Resin then took over and captivated the audience's attention. They played a variety of well known songs and did an excellent job with them all. They set the mood for the audience by playing some of songs by the Rolling Stones. RESIN also did "Key to the Highway" by Eric Clapton that could only be surpassed by Clapton himself. The group has been together for some time and Friday night proved their frequent practices are much to their benefit.

Now that they have made their real debut, Resin will probably become more popular among the students of B.H.S. and the neighboring areas.

Members of Blue Rage include Jim Del Guercio, Jim Matthews, Jim Lanno, Ronny McManus and John Clarizo.

School Repair: Lots of Talk, Little Action

By Gloria Kelly

In late January, the Belleville Board of Education held an open meeting on the adoption of the proposed 1974-75 school year budget, with the designation of amounts to be raised by the district taxes here in Belleville. A total budget of $7,753,595.50 was unanimously adopted by all the Board members.

This represents the fact that nearly eight million dollars will be invested in the improvement and upkeep of our school system, a facet of the community which affects at least 90 per cent of Belleville residents, as students or the parents of students. Yet, even with the significance that the funds will have on our school programs and the more outstanding facts that a great portion of the extensive program will have to be made up from local taxes, less than 30 citizens were interested enough to find out anything about the new budget, or to make suggestions, recommendations, or even criticisms.

People harp constantly about the high taxes and the condition of the Junior High, for instance, but does anyone show up at an open function to seek any information or even state their view about it? Obviously not.

Yet, in the midst of this pathy, there were people there primarily to see what Board President Lawrence Schwartz and his members specifically had in mind for the Senior High. There was mention of the BHS auditorium being repaired and painted, and it was also agreed on the necessity of having iron grates (?) installed outside the lavatory windows.

his was about the extend of the action until senior students started asking for essentials — such as doors on the girls lavatories, (never mind the outside windows), better gym equipment, newer textbooks (some people are using books over 15 years old) and new cheerleading uniforms to replace the currently aging ones. Also desvite a figure of nearly ten thousand dollars for combined operation and maintenance of the school, someone complained about a broken window, left unrepaired for three months.

Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco placatingly agreed to "look into these matters" while appropriating $12,500 for an architect to "look around the Junior High."

Eight million dollars is no paltry investment in terms of keeping an educational system functioning. The Board stressed the fact that they are accomplishing less than half of what they had in mind, as far as renovations and improvements go. It's valiant effort, but a lot of things are going to be put off until next year, again, if not longer.

Still, as long as less than three percent of the Belleville population alone continues to make known their interest in the future of education in our community, we'll be waiting quite a while before we see a new Junior High, let alone girls' athletics.

AFTER NEW YORK SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE...

NEW JERSEY DID IT.

In favor of the $302,000,000 Meadowlands Sports Complex? Opposed to it?

Wherever you stand, we think you should know the facts of how that $302,000,000 came to be raised—the critical $50,000,000 of it overnight, for a project mandated by the State Legislature for the development of the Meadowlands and the growth of the State. It's a New Jersey story and one that every New Jerseyan can take pride in.

Why?

Because for the first time in the financial history of this State, New Jersey raised over $300,000,000 without the help of any major New York bank.

When the Sports Complex bond issue was first announced, there was "deafening silence" from the giant New York banks across the river that traditionally have stepped in to help finance a project of this magnitude. For political and competitive reasons many leaders in New York did not want the New Jersey Sports Complex built. The State turned to New Jersey's financial community with an even stronger bid for assistance than at the outset. And we responded readily with a pledge of $70,000,000. Other pledges were made... the underwriting of the $302,000,000 bond issue seemed assured. Included in the commitments was one from a single, mysterious source for $50,000,000.

Remember that $50,000,000 figure! It was to create a crisis situation that suddenly put the New Jersey financial community to the real test.

How?

On January 16, 1974—with the bonds about to go on public sale—that vital $50,000,000 pledge was cancelled.

Without that money the bond issue could not be underwritten.

Without complete underwriting, the bonds could not be offered for sale.

No Sports Complex...and New Jersey continues to play a secondary role in major American sports.

The Sports Complex Authority officials doubted the money could be raised with the major out-of-state banks still remaining silent. Although many felt it was an insurmountable task, the New Jersey financial community was asked for an "11th-hour miracle".

Throughout the day and night of January 16th, then, telephone calls and hurried meetings among leaders of the New Jersey banking and insurance communities took place. $50,000,000 was needed.

By 4:30 p.m. of January 17th, the $50,000,000 had been raised.

With the bond issue now completely underwritten, it was offered for public sale.

At the outset, we said that this story had nothing to do with how any particular person felt about the Sports Complex.

And so it doesn't.

What we are pointing out, is that New Jersey's financial community has now proved it can meet any New Jersey financial need. ## Soph Vinnie Mustacchio Takes Crown in Regionals

Vinnie Mustacchio, who held down the lighter end of the Belleville High mat squad at 101 pounds this season, became the school's fourth regional champion last weekend and the first sophomore in BHS history to win the honor.

He defeated Antonio Guzman of Essex Catholic, 6-2, only a week after beating the same wrestler in the District Seven finals last week. Tuesday night Mustacchio was scheduled to compete in the first of a possible four matches that could make him a state champion. The tournament is being held at Jadwin Gym in Princeton and continues Friday night at 7 p.m., then Saturday at 10 p.m.

Tuesday Mustacchio was scheduled to meet John Mulligan of Hunterdon Central in the opening of the tournament preliminaries. The Times went to press too early to report the results of the match, but will provide full coverage in next week's issue.

Ralph Fabiano (148) lost to Montclair's John Ford in the semi-finals of the Region Two championship, while Jim La Conti (188) was knocked out by a Leonia opponent, also in the semi-finals. He was pinned in the consolation round by Lou Alessio of Nutley, while Fabiano picked up third place after defeating Caldwell's Frederickson, 15-3.

Sophomore Carl Arlt (108), who placed second in District competition, was defeated in the preliminaries, 5-3, by the tournament's eventual second place winner, Mark Holland of West Orange.

The mat squad this year accumulated a 5-5-2 record, winning the Essex County Coaches' Tournament and placing second in the District Tournament. Their final ranking in the 32 teams in Region 9 was ninth.

Four straight losses at the start of the season seemed to signal a sudden and shocking decline for the Bellboys, who had captured last year's Big Ten crown and placed second in the District VII tournament. The opening match of the season developed into a 27-26 shading with Belleville on the losing end against Wayne Valley at the Bloomfield Christmas tournament, the Blue-Gold placed third in a field of eight teams, all of whom were completely dominated by powerful Seton Hall.

The second dual loss of the season was only slightly less dramatic, as the Bellboys were beaten, 25-21, by West Essex.

In both matches, the Blue-Gold had beaten their foes in individual matches but suffered the losses as they were consistently outpinned by Wayne Valley and West Essex.

The third tumbling the matmen took was a true disaster as Essex Catholic literally took the squad apart in a 42-7 beating. It was, by far, the most humiliating loss of the year, and the Bellboys never allowed it to be repeated.

And there was still no end to the losing streak; Belleville suffered one more heartbreaker, to Montclair by 26-25, before they began their climb back up.

They started by taking on the high-ranked Paterson-Kennedy grapplers, tying them 26-26 to end a 45-match win streak. The psychological boost gained from the hard-fought tie carried over to the meeting with Bloomfield two days later, when the Bellboys showed they were a winning club with a 25-22 victory.

Next to fall was Irvington, beaten 34-19, and then Caldwell High fought Belleville to a tie, the Blue-Gold's second and last of the season.

Next came the season's long-awaited battle between the Bellboys and arch-rival Nutley. The Maroon Raiders, heavily favored, wrestled a 28-18 win from the determined home team.

That match proved only a warmup for Belleville's most convincing demonstrations of power in the whole season — back-to-back shutouts of Columbia and West Orange. Columbia was blanked, 46-0, while West Orange took it much harder in a 61-0 score.

CYO Baseball Deadline Nears

The Essex County CYO announces that next Thursday, March 21 will be the deadline for teams to enter the Grammar School Boys' Baseball League for 1974 season. League play will open in early April with games being played once or twice each week at diamonds throughout Essex County.

Holy Family of Nutley won the county title last year, defeating St. Joseph's of Maplewood in the championship matchup.

Last year, 20 teams played in four divisions, and even more entrants are expected this Spring, according to CYO Program Director Robert F. Larkin.

Plans for the league will be discussed tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the county office, 425 Bloomfield Ave., Montclair when the baseball board of directors holds its annual get-together.

Serving on the board this year are John O'Connor of West Orange; Frank McElroy of Livingston; Daniel Sansone of Maplewood; Michael Jones of East Orange; Roland Foster of Montclair; Ollie Mitchell of Orange; and Joseph Huber of West Orange.

Belleville for the Essex County Coaches' Tournament, and Belleville took its revenge by defeating the Raiders and four other teams for the tourney title.

In the final dual match of the season, Kearny was hit hard for a 40-0 defeat by Belleville.

In the District Tournament, it was Essex Catholic above Belleville by 23 points; but Bellboys Mustacchio, La Conti and Fabiano won District crowns, while Carl Arlt placed second.

Buttressed by co-captains Ralph Fabiano (158) and Jim La Conti (188), along with veteran Anthony Villano (122). Silvestri's squad was spurred by an influx of tough sophomores, notably Mustacchio and Arlt. Balanced against this stock of talent was the early season injury of co-captain Craig Davis (170) and the loss of Joe Vazquez. Also lost early on in the season were junior Bob Smith and senior Bill Mazza, who recuperated from his injury later on and returned to the squad.

Filling the other spots were various juniors and seniors, most of them with little or no varsity experience. At the outset of the wrestling year,

Silvestri pinpointed that lack of experience as the key problem, and was pleased to say by the end of the season his squad had overcome it. "We started out with three lettermen, but they matured and improved and showed themselves to be real wrestlers by the end of the season," he said. "I hope this attitude will continue over into next year."

Mustacchio, undefeated in his freshman year, posted a 10-1 mark during his first season as a varsity grappler. Mustacchio generally stayed in his 101-pound class, but

Two Bellevilleites On Seton Squad Win in Districts

Two Bellevilleites on the Seton Hall Prep wrestling team won District XIII championships held at Irvington High School earlier this month.

John Hanrahan (115 pounds) of 134 Linden Avenue, defeated John Salerno of Irvington, 2-1, in the final match for the crown.

Frank Godino (170) of 16 N. 9th Street, a winner in the 1973 Garden State Open in the 178-lb. class and the 1973 Bloomfield Invitational Tournament, defeated Jerome Morgan of Vailsburg, 7-1 in the finals.

Belleville Cagers Fall From Tourney After Linden Charges Ahead, 71-49

by Bob Cohen

Linden High School defeated Belleville last Wednesday night in Group four state tournament action by the score of 71-49. Despite the score, Bellboy play in the first half has to be singled out as one of the most adept performances staged all year on the hardwoods.

The loss knocked Belleville out of any further play in the tournament. They therefore ended their season with a 6-16 slate. Linden improved to 20-2.

High scorer in the game was, of course, Abdel Anderson. He had more than half of the Belleville total with 28 points. Anderson has now rung up 527 points this season, bringing his two year total to 789. He has averaged 24 points a game. In rebounds, he snared 280 for an average of 12.7. And remember he is just a junior.

Senior Anthony Cotugno continued his consistent backup role by scoring 11. Other scorers were also seniors as Harry Baumgartner had six and Gary Tufo had four points.

Linden Center Al Bakunas led his team in scoring. The muscular pivotman had 20 points. Larry McGhee and sophomore Dana Chapman had 12 point each.

The pace was deliberate as both teams appeared tense in the opening minutes of play. McGhee hit a jumper to open up scoring but Anderson quickly retaliated with a jumper. Linden soon bulged to a 10-4 lead but Belleville battled back to tie it up. Baumgartner on a layup and Cotugno with a jumper and Linden knotted the game at 10. The game remained tied as each team answered each others scores until McGhee hit a period ending jumper to give Linden a 16-14 advantage.

From a Belleville standpoint, it was possibly the best played quarter all year. It was marked by many Anderson blocked shots along with good ball handling. It was really an inspired group that took the floor that evening.

Belleville responded with six straight points to grab a 20-16 advantage as second period action began. Cotugno had four and Abdel had two in that drive.

Bakunas however tied it up as he connected on a jumper and two free throw opportunities. Baumgartner popped one from outside to put Belleville back on top, but six straight Linden points made the score 26-22. Belleville drew back as Anderson made two foul shots.

Abdel went 10 for 10 from the foul line as Belleville was playing its first varsity game using wooden backboards. "It was different not having to play against glass," noted a weary Anderson after the game. "It was like being back in the junior high."

An Anderson jumper tied the game again at 26. Belleville managed to keep the game tied as Anderson was the impetus in the second half. He had twelve points in the quarter to keep Belleville in contention. With Belleville up by two, 32-30, Linden scored the last five points of the half to put them up 35-32. Bakunas with six was high man for Linden in the quarter.

Abdel Anderson opened the third quarter with a jumper to ring Belleville back within one, 35-34.

Then Linden ran off an eight point spurt. This proved to be the turning point of the game as Belleville failed to overcome this disadvantage. The key to this drive however was the play of sophomore Dana Chapman. Appearing in his first varsity contest, Chapman sparked Linden by scoring six of the eight points in the spurt.

At one point in the quarter, Belleville had a 7-2 advantage that made the score 45-41. The scoring was broken down with Abdel having four, Baumgartner two and Cotugno one. This was as close as Belleville would come to the lead as Linden scored 10 unanswered points for the rest of the period. At the end of three periods of play the score read 57-43.

Linden scored the first eight points of the fourth quarter to add to its lead 63-43. The only offense generated by Belleville in the quarter was by Adel who had six points. For Linden Jeff McCloud, one of three McClouds to play in the game, and Chapman led the home team with four points. Abdel's jumper was the last to the overall productivity of the

Training Program For Weightlifters

Aspiring weightlifters, aged 12 to 18, are invited to take part in a weight training program sponsored by the Montclair State Student Recreation and Park Association and the Student Intramural Leisure Council. The program will be held in the weight room of the college's Panzer Gymnasium from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday evenings, starting March 13 and running through May 18.

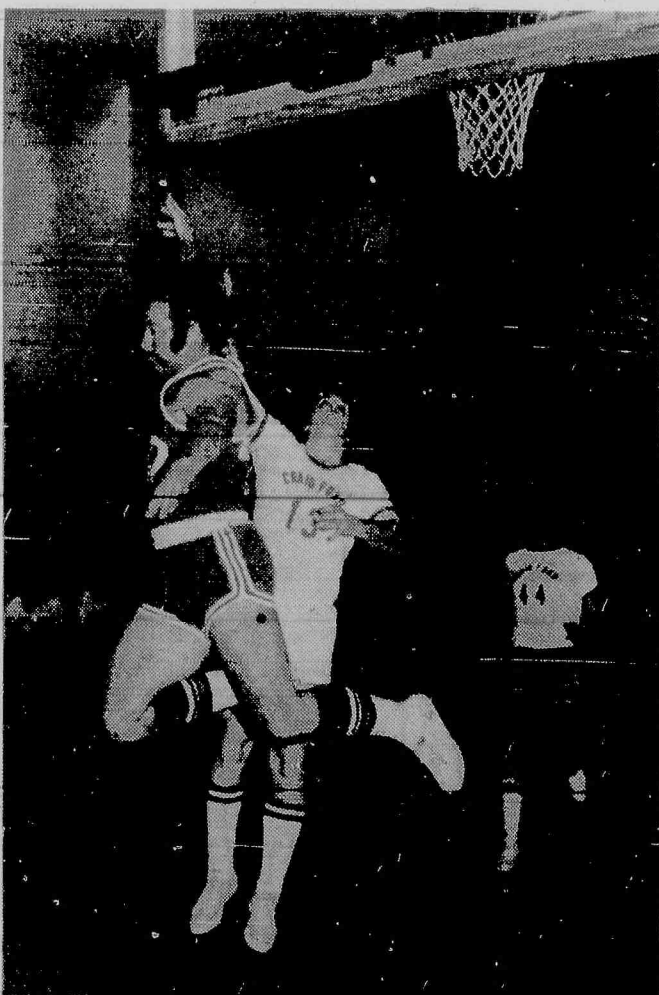

Discussion of the values of weightlifting, proper nutrition and fitness will be offered in addition to demonstrations of proper techniques. Participants will be given an opportunity to practice and develop their own skills in weightlifting. Instructors will be MSSRPA members with backgrounds in weight training and members of the Montclair State Weightlifting Team.

The program is free and is open to both girls and boys. Anyone interested in registering for it may do so by calling the association at 201-893-5959.

Scholastic All-Stars Set for Hockey Clash

The North Jersey Scholastic Hockey League will mark the culmination of its biggest and most successful season ever with the announcement of the 1973-74 league All-Star team Sunday, March 17, prior to the start of a hockey doubleheader at the South Mountain Arena, West Orange.

Separate all-star teams from the A and B divisions will be honored as well as the season's Most Valuable Player, the goalies and leading scorers in each division. Balloting for the positions was done last week by the league's coaches.

The NJSHL, founded 16 years ago with only eight original teams, expanded to 15 teams in two divisions with the addition of three teams to the B Division this season. Joining the league were Montclair Academy, Clifton and Newark East Side.

The races this season were the closest ever with Morrisstown-Belvidere edging a strong Clifton team for the B championship by two points and Brick winning the A season winning streaks to wrap up their respective division crowns.

The Gordon Cup Playoffs opened last Saturday to full-house crowds and may culminate tonight (faceoff at 6:30). Should the series be tied in the double elimination tournament after tonight's result, the title game will be played next Friday, at South Mountain Arena.

In the finale to the evening, the South Mountain Rockets host The Allentown, Pa. Eagles, in a semi-pro hockey matchup.

was occasionally bumped up to 108.

Silvestri singled out another sophomore, Carl Arlt (108) for an excellent performance this year. Like Mustacchio, Arlt enjoyed an undefeated record in his freshman year, and was brought up from the Jayvees in mid-season to replace the injured Bob Smith. Arlt, who weighs in at 100 pounds, fought his way to a 7-1 record, and earned a trip to the regional tournament.

The best record of the team was put together by junior Anthony Villano (122) who amassed an 11-1 score for the year, but was injured in District competition, suffering a wrenched arm which put him out of contention for the title.

Ralph Fabiano (148) held the position of premier matman for the squad. The senior posted a 10-1-1 mark in dual meets.

Other big winners for the team included seniors Jim La

Conti (188, 9-3) and Chuck Ritti (135, 8-2). Also graduating this June are regulars Bob Cozzarelli (115, 6-6), Don Lloia (129, 6-4-1) and Bill Mazza (141, 4-3).

The injured Davis was replaced by Jim Mauncele early in the season, and the 170-lb. junior posted a 2-6-1 record.

At heavyweight, Ken Milano eventually claimed the starting position and after an uneasy beginning, got on the winning track. The sophomore finished the year with a 4-6 record.

Other wrestlers who came into the lineup during the year included Chris Tremel (135, 3-3), Jack Vogel (158, 2-4) and senior Roger Luzzi (148).

Undoubtedly the matsquad was a late-blooming team this year, but the performances toward the end of the trail more than proved their abilities, particularly in the Essex County Coaches' Tournament, the high point of the year, as Belleville squeaked past Nutley to win the first of the annual series. The victory came only because three Bellboys — Ralph Fabiano, Ken Milano and Jim LaConti, defeated their Nutley opponents who had bested them in the earlier dual seasons.

When the team lost, it was usually close — two matches slipped away by one point, another by four. When they won, they could do it with tremendous force — as their back-to-back shutouts proved. It was a team that came together and worked to overcome a beginning that would have demoralized a lesser squad.

The best speaker is even better when he is brief.

Anderson Names Indian Captains

Montclair State College baseball coach Clary Anderson has named tri-captains for the forthcoming season.

Shortstop Karl Gordon of Irvington, third-baseman Tony Scarlatelli of Bloomfield and rightfielder Bob Dehianne of Millburn, will represent the Indians this spring.

Gordon, who holds a pair of single season records, is a veteran who has averaged 326 in his two previous varsity seasons. Holder of the longest consecutive game hitting streak at 17, Gordon is conceivably within reach of several Montclair State career marks.

Selected to a number of all-star teams, Gordon's strikeout ratio is .061. He has fanned just 13 times in 211 at bats. He sports a .326 average for his two varsity campaigns.

Beck's column

BY MAX BECK

Color TV manufacturers are hammering away in their advertisements that they have the "brightest picture ever" each one in his own words, making it appear as if the brighter the picture the better it is.

This is incorrect. Contrast is more important than brightness. Of course, there has to be the proper balance of both. The fact of the matter is, as we pointed out in a recent column, that we find far too often when we visit our customers that they have the brightness turned up too high. The result is a "washed out" unsharp picture and unnatural colors. If you missed reading the column pertaining to this, we would like to repeat that you try to turn down the brightness control. If the setting is correct, the colors become too dark as you turn the brightness control lower. If it was too high, you will be amazed how much more natural the colors will come out.

The fact that an automobile engine has 350 or more horse power in itself does not mean anything, if you can not translate it into speed, which is restricted. The same goes for the brightness on a color TV picture tube. What good is it if you can't use it? It is best to pay no attention to these mostly exaggerated claims. We have all of them on display and will be glad to demonstrate them to you.

team. "They certainly were appreciated," noted Coach Dan Grasso. "Few people really know how much work we really put into our program this year."

Some observations made of the large turnout was of the small contingency from East

Orange, who were intently watching the results of the game. E.O. is also in Group IV. After stopping to talk to coach Bob Lester after the game, he too could only use superlatives to describe the play of Abdel Anderson during the contest. It seems that Abdel always receives great raves wherever he plays. The big question now is whether or not he has attracted the attention of the basketball selection committee who will decide to whom county and state honors will go.

NJSBA Raps Bill In Senate

Emphasizing that control of educational standards must remain a public function rather than an employee function, Dr. Mark W. Hurwitz, executive director of the New Jersey School Boards Association today stated the Association's opposition to Senate bill 674 which would create a teacher-dominated Teacher Standards and Certification Council to succeed the present State Board of Examiners.

The State Board of Examiners as presently constituted is an administrative arm of the State Board of Education and is empowered to issue and revoke teaching and administrative certificates subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the State Board of Education.

The proposed Teacher Standards and Certification Council — a major legislative goal of the New Jersey Education Association — would not be subject to control by the State Board and its final administrative determinations would be subject only to appeal before the Appellate Division of Superior Court. Thus, there would be no public voice in the credentialing of teachers.

"Our major objection," said Octavius T. Reid, Director of NJSBA's Governmental Relations Department, "is the proposed majority of teachers on the council." Reid testified against the bill in hearings Monday before the Senate Education Committee.

The bill calls for a 15 member council, eight of whom would be classroom teachers designated by the NJEA.

"It is our belief that control of teacher credentialing must have sufficient public input in order to insure the most equitable assessment of these public employees," said Reid.

"However," he emphasized, "we are not opposed to professional input, and as the State Board of Examiners is presently constituted, it recognizes the indispensability of expert judgment. Ultimately, however, the State Board, which is composed of public representatives, provides guidance to the profession," he continued.

Reid stressed that in ten years, fewer than 123 tenures have been reversed under the present system. "I think this proves," he said, "that the present system has demonstrated to be equitable."

"Our goal is the highest level of teacher competency this state can achieve."

Trial Group Readies Video Demonstration

A demonstration and analysis of the courtroom use of video-taped depositions will be a feature presentation at the General Membership meeting of the Trial Attorneys of New Jersey on March 21.

Trial Attorney President Robert R. Witt has extended an invitation to the entire New Jersey Bench and Bar to witness the detailed video demonstration which will be held starting at 8 p.m., Thursday March 21 in the Don Quixote Room of the Ramada Inn, Exit 9 of the New Jersey Turnpike, East Brunswick.

Among members of the Judiciary participating in the demonstration are the Hon. Leonard I. Garth of the Third Federal Circuit Court of Appeals and the Hon. H. Curtis Meador of the Appellate Division of the New Jersey Superior Court.

Attorneys participating in the demonstration include such trial veterans as William McElroy of Newark, Joseph Kenney of Camden and Myron Bromberg of Morristown. The general program will be under the direction of Raymond Tierney of the firm of Shanley & Fisher of Newark.

Trial Attorney president Witt said that the evening's proceedings would include an interrogation of an expert witness which will be videotaped in the process. The tape will then be introduced at a mock trial with the presiding judge posing the technical and legal questions involved and then finally deciding on its admissibility as part of the trial.

Craig Fund All-Stars Defeat Gridders, 73-71...

SCOOTING AROUND the Fund's Rocco Marotti, Hank Bjorklund of the Jets drives in for a basket. The speedy Bjorklund showed himself to be a proficient ballhandler and field strategist.

AT THE READY — A young shutterbug seeks to preserve the moment on film as he waits for some ballplayers to move into view.

ANNOUNCER Bob Gaccione follows the action during the closing minutes of the tight battle.

He Cops a Keepsake

FINAL TOUCHES to the game ball, signed by all ballplayers and raffled off are applied by Ed Marinaro before the ball is given to winner Russell Purdue (right) as game chairman looks on.

POSING for a group shot, the gridders and Craig Fund cheerleaders clown for the crowd. The affable pro stars were available for autograph sessions and talked with the many kids that turned out to see their foot ball heroes.

BELLEVILLE DAD watches the game as his daughter looks on with somewhat less keen interest.

As over $2,000 Is Raised for Local Charity

BOB DAVIS is at the autograph desk, furiously signing his name for local youngsters as agent Saul Rubin drops by to see how things are going.

G. DEWEY IMHOFF, one of four Fund recipients, keeps a close eye on the fortunes of the local team throughout the game.

"HERE YOU GO" — Hank Bjorklund of the Jets returns a newly-autographed ball to a local youth after personally applying his monicker.

MOVING IN on Jim Le Pore, about to shoot, is gridded Charlie Evans, who attempts to block the shot.

LOOKING for a way out is Craig Funder James Corino, who's got the ball as two gridders close in to harass. The game netted over $2,000 in funds for Belleville's local charity group.

CLUTCHING a rebound, Phif Villapiano protects his prize from the onslaughts of the local team. Billy Orr is in the background.

Real Estate Test
Set at 8 Centers

Persons taking the Real Estate Salesmen and Brokers Licensing Examinations in New Jersey can now choose any one of eight test centers in the state. The centers are located so that one is within 35 miles of nearly every New Jersey resident.

Educational Testing Service (ETS) of Princeton, the consultant for the New Jersey Real Estate Commission's examinations, says that this arrangement will be more convenient for aspiring salesmen and brokers, especially in the face of the current energy crisis. Before, persons registering for the tests could not specify the centers of their choice, and occasionally were assigned to centers some distance from their homes.

Now each choice of test center will be honored, unless the capacity of a particular center is reached. In such cases, ETS will assign persons to other centers in the same region.

The eight centers are located at Blackwood, Dover, Edison, Hackensack, Pomona, Newark, Toms River, and Trenton.

The real estate examinations were developed at ETS in 1970 and are required by more than 20 states. New Jersey began requiring them in June of 1973 and since then 5,488 sales examinations and 364 brokers examinations have been administered in the state. The numbers passing each test were 3,268 and 135, respectively.

The tests are given every month except December, and are scheduled on the fourth Saturday of each month.

Registrations must be received by the New Jersey Real Estate Commission by the first of the month in which the test is to be taken.

For further information about registration, contact the Commission at 201 East State Street, Trenton, N.J. 08625.

Many Tax Exemptions
Can Ease April Bite

The importance of taking advantage of all available Federal Income Tax exemptions to help cut an individual's tax burden was emphasized today by Louis A. Chismar of Neptune, president of the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants.

"Any person who is a member of the taxpayer's household and meets the citizen or residence, income and support requirements, and does not file a joint return of his own can be claimed as a dependent," Chismar said, and added, "in the case of parents, children and certain other close relatives, it is not even necessary that they live with the taxpayer."

He also explained that if support of a parent or other dependent is shared with others, with no single individual providing more than one-half of the support, any one individual providing more than 10 percent of the support may claim the dependency exemption. The others will have to declare on Form 2120 that they will not claim an exemption for the individual that year.

Chismar described the various exemptions which may be claimed.

A taxpayer's first exemp-

Rationing Brings Jump
To Real Estate Sales

Mandatory gasoline rationing on alternate days has sparked a burst of activity in New Jersey's residential real estate market, according to Sidney H. Koorse of Jersey City, president of the 10,000-member New Jersey Association of Realtors (NJAR).

Koorse said, "While other sectors of the economy remain uncertain about the effects of the Garden State's new rationing plan, the real estate industry is seeing a direct and beneficial effect of the system. More and more families are leaving their homes to shop for new and previously-occupied homes."

"Although there are other factors that have spurred this renewed activity in the housing market, reports from throughout the state show the gas-rationing plan is working for the benefit of the homebuying and selling public," Koorse said.

Koorse pointed out that most waiting lines at service stations have been drastically cut and that many stations are opening to sell fuel for longer periods.

Because it is now possible for motorists with less than a half tank to secure gasoline on Fridays or Saturdays, they are no longer fearful of being stranded on house-hunting trips over the weekend, traditionally the heaviest part of the week for such activity," Koorse said.

"Our Association publicly congratulates Governor Brendan T. Byrne for ordering the stagger system. He was a giant step ahead of his counterpart in New York State," Koorse said.

He said that other factors also were helping the real estate market in New Jersey.

"There is today more money available for home loans since the sharp credit crunch of last October and November. Raising the ceiling on mortgage interest rates to 8-3/4 percent has brought more money into the mortgage market and some loans are coming through below that ceiling."

"Two other bright spots in the housing picture are the fact that the prime interest rate is coming down and that the weather has been relatively good for house-hunting motorists. There appears to be a return to normalcy in the real estate market and with spring rapidly approaching we look forward to a healthy upswing in activity in the next month," Koorse said.

"The rules which apply to natural children also apply to stepchildren and those who have been adopted."

Chismar noted that any otherwise qualified dependent who was living at any time during 1973 might also be taken as an exemption. "This applies," he said, "to one who might have died on January 1 and to one who was born as late as December 31. If a spouse died during 1973, one may still file a joint tax return with the deceased spouse, unless the taxpayer remarried before the New Year."

Chismar suggested that those taxpayers who may have unusual problems should seek professional assistance from a CPA.

Citizens' 'Pothole Patrol'
To Locate Road Cavities

The Department of Transportation today asked New Jersey motorists to help eliminate dangerous potholes from State highways by reporting their locations to the Department.

The citizen "pothole patrol" will supplement the regular daily battle of the Department's maintenance crews to fill potholes and patch road surfaces throughout the winter months.

Reports of potholes on the State highway system should be made by telephone to the regional offices between 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Calls between 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. and on weekends should be made to the Department's security office in Trenton, 609-292-3472.

The day numbers to call are:

Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Union, and Passaic Counties - 201-648-2278

Hunterdon, Somerset, Sussex, Morris, and Warren Counties - 201-347-4415

Rutgers Has
'How to Own'
Bus. Course

University College, Rutgers' degree-granting division, has recently instituted a new course which provides practical experience for students who eventually may own their businesses.

Eleven students are currently enrolled in the "Independent Study in Management, Entrepreneurship and Consulting" course, and are working on a one to one basis with single proprietors, small manufacturing corporations, wholesalers, retailers and service firms in analyzing and solving business problems.

Assistant Professor Russell Mass, who teaches the course at the Newark campus, and is a faculty member of the Rutgers Minority Business Program at the Graduate School of Business Administration, is showing much enthusiasm over the course, which commenced as a pilot program instituted by the Small Business Administration to assist beginning and established small businesses, which have been referred by the SBA.

In speaking about the benefits of the program, Assistant Professor Richard B. Tyler, who teaches the course at the New Brunswick campus, claimed that many single proprietors and small businessmen need help in sorting out problems peculiar to their operation.

Kenneth Drake
Takes First Place
Poster Contest

Once again this year the Health Careers Poster contest was sponsored by the Auxiliary of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital under the direction of Mrs. William Kropp in cooperation with the N.J. Hospital Association of Hospital Auxiliaries and the American Hospital Association.

This state wide Poster Contest is launched to arouse an interest in health careers and it is hoped that the project will stimulate high school students to contact their guidance counselors and libraries for information. The poster competition is one facet of the New Jersey & American Hospital Association's overall careers education and recruitment program.

The response from the local high schools brought 31 entries which were judged by three professional artists, Miss Ruth Keenan of Nutley, Mrs. William Clark and Mrs. Gladys Sherman both of Belleville.

Kenneth Drake and Frank Bambo both of Belleville received 1st and 2nd awards respectively.

'Success Card' Gives
Incentive to Student

New Jersey teachers have found a new way to give deserving students a pat on the back. It's called the Success Card.

The Success Card gives teachers the immediate chance to recognize any school achievement by any kind of student, reports the New Jersey Education Ass., which developed the idea and is distributing the cards statewide.

"In the past, when the parent has heard from the school, it has usually meant that their child had done something wrong," says Kathryn Stilwell of Fair Lawn, president of the 78,000-member teacher association. "We devised the Success Card so that parents could also hear about what their children are doing right. By use of the Success Card, the teacher can easily give credit to any member of the class, at any time, for working hard and making progress."

Last spring, NJEA sent sample Success Cards to teachers in every New Jersey school district. The samples bore this message:

"When was the last time parents of children in our classroom heard some of the good things that happen to these youngsters in your school? Here's one way you can encourage more positive communications between schools, teachers, and parents."

"Stop once each week. Think about two or three highlights when children achieved in ways that otherwise might never come to the attention of their parents. Take a minute to drop a note to those parents. Two or three cards a week can help spell continued success for the children in your class as well as continued community support for quality education."

NJEA has since distributed more than 171,000 Success Cards to teachers throughout the state. A Spanish-language version — "Noticia de Exito" — has been developed for Hispanic children. Teachers in several other states have picked up the idea.

Success Cards fill a communications gap that the report card cannot meet, Miss Stilwell says. "The purpose of the report card is to report. The purpose of the Success Card is to commend."

The parents of a top student might get a Success Card saying: "Johnny's studying paid off on Friday's algebra test. He got the highest mark in the class."

But any parent could get a Success Card reporting: "Susan is working very hard on phonics and now knows the sound of all the long vowels. She is a diligent member of our class."

In appearance, the Success Card resembles an oversized post card. Red letters at the top identify it as a "Success Card." The 4 by 9 inch card just fits in a business-size envelope, but it's stiff enough so that the teacher can write the message on one side and place the address and a stamp on the other.

"Many teachers have little direct contact with many parents of their students," Miss Stilwell says. "The Success Card is a new way to open needed lines of communication."

respond to the reports as quickly as possible.

The seasonal pothole problem occurs at this time of year because of temperature changes below and above the freezing point. A pothole develops when moisture below the pavement expands with the drop of temperature below freezing. When a thaw occurs, a small cavity is created under the pavement as the subbase recedes. The weight of passing vehicles crushes the pavement into the cavity and a pothole begins to develop.

Trial Lawyers to See
Television Testimony

A demonstration analysis of the courtroom use of videotaped depositions will be a feature presentation at the General Membership meeting of the Trial Attorneys of New Jersey on March 21.

Trial Attorney President Robert R. Witt has extended an invitation to the entire New Jersey Bench and Bar to witness the detailed video demonstration which will be held starting at 8 p.m., Thursday, Mar. 21 in the Don Quixote Room of the Ramada Inn, Exit 9 of the New Jersey Turnpike, East Brunswick.

Among members of the Judiciary participating in the demonstration are the Hon. Leonard I. Garth of the Third Federal Circuit Court of Appeals and the Hon. H. Curtis Menor of the Appellate Division of the New Jersey Superior Court.

Attorneys participating in the demonstration include such trial veterans as William McElroy of Newark, Joseph Kenney of Camden and Myron Bromberg of Morristown. The general program will be under the direction of Raymond Tierney of the firm of Shanley and Fisher of Newark.

Trial Attorney President Witt said that the evening's proceedings would include an interrogation of an expert witness which will be videotaped in the process. The tape will then be introduced at a mock trial with the presiding judge posing the technical and legal questions involved and then finally deciding on its admissibility as part of the trial.

Chairman Tierney said that answers would also be provided as to the advantages of the video tape in trial testimony, the techniques required in its process, various types of equipment and cost.

"I believe this demonstration into a procedure growing in use and popularity will be most beneficial to all members of both the Bench and Bar throughout New Jersey as well as law students, court stenographers and others who are generally involved in litigation proceedings."

"I would hope that all those interested would take advantage of President Witt's offer to be guests of the Trial Attorneys at this demonstration," Chairman Tierney said.

Chamber Ensemble
In Museum Concert

The New Jersey Chamber Ensemble will play at the Montclair Art Museum this Sunday, March 17, at 4 p.m., in the last of the museum's March series of Sunday afternoon concerts.

Members of the Ensemble are: George Jones, clarinet; James Scott, flute; Noel Da Costa, violin; Daniel Schuman, viola; Robert Martin, cello; Paul Kuefer, piano; Ann Goodson, mezzo-soprano; John Powell, baritone; Valerie Goodall, narrator; and guest artists Stephen Briggs, Elizabeth Tu, Lisa Lyons, Miriam Nelson and Mary Tu.

The program on Sunday will include "Unanswered Question" by Ives, "Pierrot Lunaire" by Schoenberg, and a selection of songs by both composers.

News Stamp Pays Homage To Versist Robert Frost

Design of a postage stamp honoring Robert Frost, four-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize for poetry, was announced today by the U.S. Postal Service.

The 10-cent stamp will be issued March 26, the centennial of Frost's birth, at Derry, New Hampshire. Much of his writings epitomizing New England, were done at his home on a farm nearby.

The stamp continues the American Poets Series of stamps. Previous issues honored Edgar Lee Masters, Emily Dickinson and Sidney Lanier.

The vertical stamp is from a pencil drawing of Frost by Paul Calle of Stamford, Connecticut. It was modeled by Frank J. Waslick and the engraving was by Arthur W. Dintaman (vignette) and Robert G. Culin Sr. (lettering). The three are with the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Beneath the stamp in three descending lines are: "U.S. 10," "Robert Frost" and "American Poet." The stamp, which will be printed in black on the Cottrell press, measures 0.84 x 1.44 inches. It will be issued fifty stamps to the public and there is one plate number.

Frost, who died at 88 in 1963, was the dean of American poets. Many critics regard him as the most widely read poet of his day. Much of his verse epitomized rural New England and its people, whom he regarded as sturdy, untouched by change. He wrote:

"I'm asked if I should say our stock was petered out."

And this is my sincere reply:

"Yankees are what they always were."

Perhaps his most quoted line is "Good fences make good neighbors."

Frost's four Pulitzer Prizes were for "New Hampshire: A Poem with Notes and Grace Notes" (1924), "Corrected Poems" (1934), "A Further Range" (1939) and "A Witness Tree" (1943).

Although the Frosts had come to America in 1834 and for seven generations had remained within a day's walk of their landing place near Rye, New Hampshire, Robert Frost was born in San Francisco on March 27, 1874.

Despite his West Coast birth and a period he was to spend abroad, the son of a newspaper editor and a teacher was to improve true to his heritage — he was a New England Yankee to the core.

Frost returned East when he was about 11 and began absorbing the New England scenes he would preserve in his poetry. While in his teens, Frost recognized that he wanted to become a poet. Recognition as a poet came considerably later, however. First he was to be a bobbin boy in a textile mill, a shoemaker, a newspaper reporter, a teacher and a farmer.

Frost sold his farm in 1912 and went to England, where he published "A Boy's Will" and received the critical praise of Ezra Pound.

An American literary magazine that for 20 years had been rejecting Frost's poetry suddenly wanted his verse. He resubmitted rejections and they were printed.

Amherst College then beckoned and Frost was to be "poet in residence" there for 20 years.

Stars to Appear At Meadowbrook

A series of top-notch entertainers are scheduled for Friday and Saturday night appearances during March and April at the Meadowbrook Theatre Restaurant in Cedar Grove.

Enzo Stuarti heads the bill for Mar. 8 and 9. The popularity of this singer-actor practically assures sell-out performances, so that earliest possible reservation are suggested in order to avoid disappointment.

On the same program, comedian Lou Cary will share the spotlight.

An Evening with Norm Crosby is set for Mar. 15 and 16. Television viewers have seen the comedian as co-host on the Mike Douglas Show and filling in for Joey Bishop.

In addition to guest spots with Ed Sullivan, Dean Martin, Glen Campbell, Merv Griffin and Johnny Carson, Crosby's appearances in night club performances have been in combination with Robert Goulet and Tom Jones, as well as solo.

A special attraction on the same program will be Tony Darrow, the Fort Lee young man whose star is rapidly rising as a rock singer. His performance on the program when the New Jersey Drama Club presented its awards, was received with great enthusiasm. He has just completed an engagement in Las Vegas with Buddy Hackett.

A return engagement of comedian Pat Henry is scheduled for Mar. 22 and 23. In addition to his night club performances in which he appeared with Frank Sinatra, as a regular with Sammy Davis, Jr., and on tours with Tom Jones, Pat Henry has filled numerous film roles. He starred in "Lady in Cement" and was featured in the "Detectives."

Paper Mill Finds a Hit In 'Prisoner'

Jerry Stiller and Anne Meara played to an audience which obviously enjoyed itself on opening night of "The Prisoner of Second Avenue" at the Paper Mill. The combination of "funny man" Neil Simon and Stiller and Meara made for a thoroughly enjoyable evening of humor with a twist played by one of America's funniest comedic couples.

The play, Simon's 10th hit, was written in 1971 and some of its lines which were then laughed at are now being laughed with. If anything, the play is more applicable to today's living than it was three years ago. Since then many of Simon's situations have become reality rather than an exaggeration of a possibility.

Stiller and Meara play "The Prisoner" to the hilt. They bring a this-has-just-happened-now freshness to the play with timing that can only come from 20 years of togetherness! The play is Simon's but the Stilless make it sound as if it was theirs.

The story, briefly, is one of current New York living in a modern, overpriced "eggbox" apartment on Second Avenue where nothing works and neighbors are noisy. Jerry loses his job and has a nervous breakdown. Anne goes back to work as a secretary. His family steps in to help and life goes on with the frustrations of city living and dreams of moving to Vermont.

Anna Berger, Sylvia Gassell, Estelle Omens and Sy Travers are ably cast as Jerry's three helpful sisters and brother.

"Prisoner" will play at Paper Mill Wednesday, Thursday, Friday at 8:30; Saturday at 5 and 9:30; Sunday at 3:00 and 7:30; Thursday matinee at 2 until March 24. Tickets by phone at the box office 376-4343.

Effect of Energy Crunch On Economy Is Mounting

There was a definite slowdown in the New Jersey economy, along with mounting evidence of energy-related job losses in January, announced Commissioner Joseph A. Hoffman of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry today.

Commissioner Hoffman cited a report in the current issue of "New Jersey Economic Indicators," a monthly business conditions analysis prepared by the Department's Division of Planning and Research, which showed that nonfarm employment declined in December contrary to seasonal expectations while the unemployment rate edged up from 6.9 percent to 7.2 percent.

Although the impact of energy shortages on the state's economy was relatively small in December, says the report, it has been mounting since then. Arthur J. O'Neal, Director of the Division of Planning and Research, said that this month's analysis shows a loss of at least 8,200 jobs by the end of January that can definitely be traced to petroleum shortages. He noted that this excluded many scattered layoffs by gasoline service stations and other small businesses which are known to have occurred but have not been tabulated.

Most indicators of general business conditions reflected an economic slowdown, says the report, but it was not due entirely to the energy crisis. There were signs of weakness before the Arab Oil embargo precipitated the sharp drop in fuel supplies.

The number of new business incorporations has been declining since early 1973, according to the report. In December new incorporations totaled 1,066 on a seasonally adjusted basis. This was the fewest since March 1970.

Sluggish consumer behavior was clearly evident in statistics on retail sales and new passenger car registrations, the report says. While the sales of retail stores rose in November, the latest reported month, the dollar total was less than earlier in the year despite higher prices. A key factor in the sluggishness of retail trade has been the reduced pace of auto sales since last summer as reflected in new car registrations. The number of new passenger car registrations (seasonally adjusted) tapered off during the fall after peaking in the April-

July period, and then dropped sharply in December. Despite this decline, 1973 was still a good year for auto sales, according to the report. New car registrations in 1973 were 2.2 percent above the 1972 total.

The number of building permits issued for dwelling units, an indicator of planned homebuilding, has been declining sharply since last winter following a 1972 boom in housing starts. The number of building permits issued through November was 21 percent below last year's comparable period, says the report, and a further drop in December was anticipated.

Experiment in Housing Discussed on Television

Socialized housing will be the subject for study on "Places for People," during "Assignment: New Jersey" March 20 and 24 at 8 p.m. on Channels 23, 50 52 and 58.

This Week's Horoscope

(March 16 through March 22)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Act on principle rather than on impulse first part of week. Ari. Concerning secret plan, be sure you have everything in order before you move. Then do so quietly and with alacrity. Week springs to an interesting close.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): It's that time of year again, Taurus. Remember last Spring? You were completely sprung before April arrived. Think of yourself as a natural resource, dear friend, and entertain the idea of being a conservationist. It's the only patriotic thing to do.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You gain new perspective concerning old, nagging problem. Use that inventive mind the heavens have blessed you with, Gem, and dare to be experimental. Week skips to a cheery close.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): One who is petty tyrant may try to rob you of what you hold most dear. Don't permit others to dictate terms concerning money. If legal papers are to be signed, be sure you understand completely. Ask questions and demand answers. Week ends on note of suspense.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Daily associate may try to hassle you. Be unflappable, and this sorehead will sink away. Before week is over, flowers appear, birds sing and you hear the voice of the turtledove. Week ends on key of C, for Coo.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Ideal week to launch new plans. Keep promise you made to yourself concerning diet, exercise and health. You should have strength to conquer bad habit. Try. As week winds to an end, prepare to have your fancy turned.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You are the aristocrat of the Zodiac, Lib, but in week ahead you would be wise to mingle with the hoi polloi. Join in common cause. Spring into action. Before week is over, you hear tender words of love. What beautiful timing!

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Keep eagle eye on your possessions, Scorp. Secure your money belt and hang on to your heart. In week ahead, either both could be stolen.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Week ahead can be difficult if you do not practice the virtue of patience, Sag. Desire for instant gratification must be curbed. You cannot always have your own way NOW. Message clears. Mind Olga and week ends on bright note of D, for Daffodil, Daisy and Delight.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Personal drama approaches denouement. Minor character may try to grab spotlight. If so, don't make a scene, Cap, but try to remain calm. Masks fall before last day and you have chance to gain new insight.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Game you will play in week ahead will be for real, Aquari, so keep your wits about you. Hold cards close to chest. As week shuffles to a close, Cupid may wave. If so, wave back.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Travel light in days ahead, Pisces. Dump cargo which tends to slow you down. Flotsam and jetsam you simply do not need, you know. Filipp of excitement brightens routine as week cruises to a close.
