

Celebration of Cherry Blossoms Was Frank Megaro's Best Idea

Sunday will mark the 15th year spectators will flock to Belleville for the annual parade celebrating the immense grove of cherry blossom trees in Branch Brook Park. The yearly festival, now grown to become Belleville's biggest image, would never have come about except for the efforts of one proud resident.

Frank Megaro, who died in 1962, three years after he singlehandedly developed the Cherry Blossom Festival, was a man of ideas. Some were better than others, but most of the best were the ones intended to "put Belleville on the map." He had ideas to stage polo matches in Municipal Stadium, to bring sidewalk artists in from Greenwich Village to Washington Avenue, and to place parking lots on the hill overlooking Washington Avenue, with escalators leading to the street. But the idea he had in Aaron Cohen's jewelry shop on Washington Avenue turned out to be the greatest of all.

"He came in one day, and he was talking about this idea he had for parking in the business district. I was reading the Daily News, and I saw a story about how a Cherry Blossom queen had been picked in Washington. I said, 'We've got more beautiful cherry blossoms right here than they do in Washington, and Frank jumped up and said, 'That's right and we ought to do something about it.'"

Megaro had in mind celebrating the trees in Branch Brook Park donated to the county by Mrs. Felix Fuld years before. A retired owner of a lumberyard and several drug stores in Essex County, Megaro was president of the Washington Avenue Merchants Association, and he saw a chance to bring people into Belleville and on the Avenue through the parade. In early 1959, he started organizing the first Cherry Blossom Festival. It was hard work.

"It was hard work for me, too," remembers his widow, Edith Baird Megaro. "I couldn't leave the house with the telephone ringing all the time." Mrs. Megaro, who still lives in the beautiful home on Cleveland Avenue built by her husband, recalls the intense determination that brought the first parade off. "Once he got an idea, he never let it go. He was very tenacious."

"He was trying to do something for the town, to make it a nice place to live. He thought anything that brings people out and families together is good."

By the second festival, the celebration was well on its way to becoming a Belleville institution. While the first crowning of the Cherry Blossom Queen had been on a platform in front of Town Hall, the Essex County Park Commission in 1960 gave permission for the ceremonies to be conducted in Branch Brook Park and the festival that year attracted many spectators and dignitaries, including the governor of New Jersey.

Megaro had gone to New York, where he spoke to the Japanese consul, extending an invitation to attend the

Town Organizations Mobilizing For Annual Parade on Avenue

The weather seems to indicate that spring is finally here for good, and it's arrived just in time for Belleville's biggest celebration — the annual Cherry Blossom Festival, set for Sunday at 2 p.m.

For the first time since 1970, the parade this year will be coordinated by the Belleville Jaycees, who newly reactivated their chapter last year. Recent parades have been organized by a volunteer committee.

The parade will proceed south on Washington Avenue, beginning at 2 p.m. In the event sunny spring weather doesn't prevail, a rain date has been set for May 5.

Jaycee President Joseph Doyle is chairman of the event, along with co-chairman Ted Zuczek, Jaycee treasurer.

Doyle said the Jaycees have received substantial help from volunteers who have organized the parade in past years, including Town employees Irene Decker and Patricia Verian and the Chamber of Commerce, whose Executive Director Harry T. French arranged publicity and selection of Cherry Blossom Princesses who ride aboard the Chamber's float.

Providing more assistance are members of the Veteran's Council, Bill Lenahan, council president and Raymond Carnasciole, last year's adjutant. On Sunday, James Learn, a member of VFW Post 275 will be announcer.

The Jaycees had been responsible for coordinating the parade during the 1960's, and last year had entered a float after their reorganization. "On this parade day," said Doyle, "our men will be busy keeping the divisions rolling. We will not have time to enter a float."

Leading the parade as Grand Marshall, will be recently retired Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund, who will march at the head of ten divisions. In the first division will be Mayor Joseph McGreevy, Town Commissioners and Board of Education members, fire vehicles and the Belleville High color guard, twirlers and band.

In Division Two will be the Chamber of Commerce float, with their Cherry Blossom princesses, the Scarlet Cadets and Senior Citizens King and

Funeral Service Held For Slain Bellevilleite

Funeral services were held last Thursday, April 11, at St. Anthony's Church for Nicholas Sena, slain by two gunmen during a holdup at his Newark delicatessen the previous Sunday.

On Friday, police arrested two suspects in a Monmouth County home after the pair had fled Newark in a police car they seized shortly after their arrest on the night of the murder.

Mr. Sena, who lived in Belleville more than 50 years, had been shot several times in his store, the Newark Deli-Delight at 851 Summer Avenue after thieves took nearly $4,000. He was 61.

Mr. Sena was born in Pennsylvania and lived in Belleville at 79 Harrison Street. He is survived by his wife, Freda Beninati Sena,

Town's First Tenants' Group Forming In Wake of Rent Bill Public Hearing

Last week Belleville got its first ordinance to control rising rents here. Next week the town may see the birth of its first tenants' organization.

The hearing on the rent leveling law brought out between 20 and 30 tenants of Bellevue Gardens, who gave the first public signs of discontent at the 132-unit complex located in the northwest section of town. While their complaints of excessive rent increases were satisfied by passage of the strict rent bill, the tenants were told by the Board of Commissioners that complaints about conditions at the apartments could not be covered under the new law.

Next week a meeting is scheduled to be held at Bellevue Gardens among the dissident tenants there, and first on the agenda will be the question of forming an organization to present their gripes to the complex's owner, Robert Goldberg of South Orange.

The tenants there say they haven't had any success dealing individually with the new property manager of Bellevue Gardens, Daniel Fitzpatrick, who was appointed April 1. Since then, say the complaining tenants, they have encountered sudden pressures and harassments, and their complaints have fallen on deaf ears.

Fitzpatrick says the problem lies in communications between himself and the tenants, that he has met resistance to a new program he's brought in to upgrade conditions at the apartments, and that any of the complainants can meet with him merely by writing or phoning for an appointment.

It hasn't been that easy, say the complaining tenants. Many claim they have been unable to obtain leases, despite repeated letters and telephone calls. Communication has been a one-way street, they say, limited to form letters they have received from Fitzpatrick informing them of policy changes.

Two of those policy changes have caused the greatest uproar among the tenants, and they've concerned familiar sources of tenant-landlord disputes — children and pets.

The complex is made up of one and two-bedroom apartments, resulting in a population of singles, couples and small families. It was the families who were most concerned by a recent letter from Fitzpatrick laying down a set of rules for the behavior of children on the apartment grounds. There would be no bikes on the lawns or the walkways; no playing in front of apartment windows; no flying of kites or ballplaying in parking areas. "There is entirely too much screaming and yelling going on," he said, and told parents to confine their children to "designated playground areas." The letter informed parents "your cooperation is mandatory."

Both the tone of the letter and the content irked some of the parents at Bellevue Gardens, who pointed out that the "designated areas" are small, fenced in paved areas containing a few broken down swings which are at best unusable and at worst unsafe. "I lived in New York City all my life," said one father at Bellevue Gardens, "and I moved out here because I wanted my children to have the freedom I didn't. Now I find that they can't have that freedom."

Fitzpatrick says he's concerned with the freedom of all tenants in the complex, who have been subjected to vandalism and undue noise from the children there. "I don't think it's fair to the tenants without children to have the laundry rooms broken into, windows broken and flower beds dug up by the children there. I'm only asking that the parents at Bellevue Gardens be responsible for the conduct of their children." As for the condition of the three playground areas, the manager said, "we're in the process of spending quite a bit of money to repair those areas. The superintendent there has the word to order all new equipment."

The other group voicing complaints are the petowners, who have been told to move out their dogs and cats. They either brought the animals with them when they moved in or acquired them later, but under the previous management, the pets were allowed to stay.

Fitzpatrick says the applications for the apartments clearly stated that no pets were allowed at Bellevue. Furthermore, there is a clause in the lease forbidding pets.

In Split Decision

Schoolteachers Ratify Two-Year Salary Pact

Members of the Belleville Education Association ratified a new contract that will set their salaries for the next two years in a split vote last week.

The teachers voted 200-44 to approve the new contract, which includes no clause to reopen salary negotiations after the first year. BEA spokesmen said the dissenting members were fearful the cost of living increases in the next two years would outrun the total 9.55 percent increase in pay the contract allows.

The new agreement, scheduled for signing at Monday night's Board of Education meeting, provides for a 4.55 percent increase in the coming school year for the teachers, and a five percent increase the following year. With increments of about 2.5 percent added, the hikes in salaries would amount to about seven percent and seven and a half percent. The increases would bring the BEA an additional $275,000 in salaries next year and $315,000 the year after.

BEA Vice President Jerry Kennelly, who headed the group's negotiating team, said that discussion at the Wednesday night meeting lasted about an hour and a half and centered on the salary question, particularly the elimination of a reopening clause. "There was enough dissension in terms of the vote that we could see many of the people are very learn of the second year of this contract. They made the point very clearly they don't want to take the chance of not reopening negotiations."

The Board of Education reportedly was anxious to settle the contract with the 318-member association in order to gain a clear road for the school system's financial planning in the next two years. With the Board determined to seek a bone by Richard Mahmahian, placed high priority in gaining some stability in salaries over the next two years.

The negotiators for the Board will meet with the team representing the system's administrators next week, and will also schedule sessions with the other three bargaining units — the custodians, the 10-month secretaries and 12-month secretaries.

Negotiations with the other units are expected to follow a pattern similar to the BEA talks, with the Board of Education looking for two-year contracts without a reopening clause for salaries, and the employees seeking salary hikes in line with the increases given the teachers.

While the Board of Ed had budgeted $162,000 for 14 new staff members in teaching and counseling areas, the new agreement may require a cut-back in those positions. Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco said this week, "the budgeted staff members will be reviewed very carefully by the Board and the administrators. I think the Board will determine the degree to which they'll fulfill all the new positions in the budget pending agreement with the other four bargaining units."

Board of Education President Matthew Pica said of the new agreement, "I don't think it's a bad package in view of the changing times and the value of our dollar."

The 1974-75 school budget had figured for an increase of about six percent to system employees when it was drawn up earlier this year. The new agreement give the teachers a hike of a little over seven percent when increments are added. Yet to be settled are contracts for the other 147 employees represented by the other four bargaining units.

Special Events Are Planned For National Library Week

A series of special programs are planned at the Belleville Public Library during National Library Week, April 21 thru 27.

On Monday, April 22, at 7:15 p.m., the film, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame", starring Charles Laughton, will be shown. Mrs. Carol Yudin, noted Belleville artist, will conduct an "Art-In" starting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 23. This program is open to all who are interested in trying their hand at the creation of a charcoal "still life."

Smokers, an organization devoted to those who wish to stop smoking, will present a program devoted to this end on Thursday, April 25, at 7:15 p.m.

National Library week was started in 1958 to help stimulate a greater interest in the use and appreciation of books.

"Today, with so many activities clamoring for our attention, the goals of National Library Week are still the same: Interest more people in the use of books," said Library Director Gerard Hickey. "It is the library's hope that Bellevilleites will take advantage of this opportunity to expand their horizons by capitalizing on this ideal time to visit and see first hand, the improvements that have been made at the library."

Songwriting Festival Is Open to Amateurs

Aspiring songwriters in every city and hamlet in the United States now have an open chance to win instant fame and fortune in the form of a 1974 American Song Festival.

Sponsorship of the nation's first international music competition has been announced by Sterling Recreation Organization, a radio station, movie theater and recreation center conglomerate headquartered in Seattle.

According to Malcolm C. Klein, Sterling vice president and festival president, the newly founded event comprises a multifaceted music talent hunt in which winners will receive a total of $128,000 in cash prizes and have their songs sung by leading recording artists.

Different from established festivals in Italy, Lebanon and Brazil, entries are being accepted from amateur composers as well as professionals.

Contestants may seek recognition and commercial success in one or more of six music categories: rock; pop/middle of the road; soul/rhythm/blues/jazz; folk; country/western; and gospel/religious.

Entries on recorded cassettes will be screened by a select panel of songwriting experts, Klein said. Three semifinalists in each category in separate amateur and professional divisions will eventually be nominated.

The 36 semifinalists will each receive $500 and an expense-paid trip to Saratoga Springs, N.Y., where final judging will be held Labor Day weekend at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center.

Competing songs will be performed in a national television special, Klein said.

Twelve victorious composers in the two divisions will each be awarded $5,000. An additional $25,000 will go to the overall amateur winner and overall professional winner.

Contestants may enter any number of songs in any category by an April 15 deadline. Cost of entry is $10.85 per song ($13.85 if emanating from outside the United States and Canada.)

Name, address and money by check or money order should be sent to American Song Festival, Post Office Box 57, Hollywood, California 90028.

Put Your Car on a Salt-Free Diet!

Nothing damages your car like accumulated road salt.

Salt pits the paint and the chrome. Salt dulls the painted surfaces and ruins the vinyl top. And salt takes years off the life of your car and dollars off the trade-in value.

We recommend a weekly wash schedule all winter long to eliminate salt build-up. YOUR CAR WILL LIVE LONGER (and look nicer) ON A SALT-FREE DIET.

Remember Paul Revere?

(The following guest editorial was written by Col. R. R. Tourtellot, chairman Americanism Committee, emeritus, Fort Monmouth Chapter, National Sojourners-Ed.)

The 18th of April is the Anniversary of Paul Revere's famous ride. He was a master silversmith and accomplished in many skills. His designs and engravings are highly prized even today. He was dedicated to the cause of freedom and was one of the outstanding patriots of Revolutionary times. He contributed greatly to our heritage. Of French Huguenot ancestry, he was born in Boston in 1735. His father, born Apollos De Revoire, changed his name to Paul Revere to be more easily pronounced in English.

While working as a gold and silversmith, Paul, Jr. took part in many civic activities. He helped organize and took part in the Boston Tea Party in 1773. He made frequent trips on horse back between New York, Philadelphia and Boston during 1774-1775 in the interest of resistance, and was official courier between the Massachusetts Assembly and the Continental Congress. His hard riding to Durham, N.H., alerted Colonial forces to British plans, and made possible seizure of British ammunition at Fort William and Mary, in New Castle. Thus Revere had a part in the first aggressive act by the Colonists. This ammunition was used by the Colonists at Bunker Hill.

Two days before his famous ride, while on patrol, he alerted patriots of British intentions and arranged for the signal which was displayed in Old North Church, telling how the British were coming. On the night of April 18, 1775, he was sent to Lexington, to warn Samuel Adams and John Hancock, two leading rebels, that the British were coming to arrest them, and to arouse the country-side that the Crown troops were on the march. First he had to row across the Charles River, under the very bows of the British guard ships. Once ashore, this forty year old man mounted his stoutish work-horse, and headed for Lexington. He arrived safely, delivered his message, and started for Concord. He was detained by the British, and finally released, to return to Lexington without his horse. A companion got through safely, and Colonists' supplies at Concord were saved.

Revere became a Lieut. Col. in the Continental Army and once commanded Castle Williams in Boston harbor. He served mainly in assignments where his skills could contribute the most. He engraved the first official seal of the Colonies. He designed and engraved the first Continental money. His laundry cart cannon and he manufactured gun-powder for the Colonial forces.

After the Revolution, he was active in many civic, business and charitable projects. He worked for ratification of the Constitution. He cast church bells, and he supplied all the bolts, spikes, pumps and copper accessories for the USS Constitution, "Old Ironsides". He discovered a process of rolling sheet copper, and made copper plates for the boilers of Robert Fulton's steam-boat, "Clermont". He died in 1818 at the age of 83.

Paul Revere was a quiet, unassuming man, neither an orator nor a statesman but, he engraved his name on the pages of history far more enduring than on the metals of his craft. He fore-saw representative form of government of free people dedicated to Religious liberty. We Americans should be grateful to this man for his contribution to our American Way of Life, and on this anniversary of his spectacular effort, rededicate ourselves to preserving and passing on, that great heritage, which he helped to give us.

Air Fares

A suggestion has been made that airlines, having cut out unprofitable flights and increased both fares and the load factor, should charge less for flights at inconvenient hours.

It's a good suggestion (and this has been done to an extent in the past by some airlines) because the special lower fares help fill flights at unpopular hours and enable those who must economize, the poor, to do so. The Civil Aeronautics Board should encourage this approach.

It has also been suggested the airlines charge slightly more on the popular runs, from city to big city. It's argued these popular routes — the income from mass travel over them — should properly subsidize flights on less popular routes, so the nation can have a complete air transportation network, giving all citizens reasonable access to adequate service.

Justification for a recently-granted fare hike to the airlines was questionable because of the reduced number of flights and the present heavier load factor, which is surely putting most airlines nicely in the black. The increase was granted by the CAB on the basis of higher fuel costs, among other things.

As the emerging profit picture for 1974 becomes clear, the CAB would do well to act to increase the number of flights, where needed, and to lower fares, where possible, assuming airline profits are sharply up — which seems highly probable.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Very much flattered by having been quoted in the interesting story about Belleville written by Martin Gansberg which appeared in the Sunday March 31, issue of the respected New York Times. The vividly represented tableau said it as it is, pulling no punches, which we understand has angered the Mayor and has him fuming in a blue funk, but then he always seems to be annoyed about something.

***

In response to the letter of "an angry taxpayer" sent to the paper's office regarding school board matters, be assured this matter has been brought to the attention of a most capable, dedicated member of the school board and your letter turned over to them. I'm confident careful, impartial review will be accorded the subject. The column appreciates the interest of such concerned citizens.

In a fulminating effort to gainsay some views expressed in the column concerning the mayor's office, His Honor forwarded to the paper's office several photo-copies of correspondence and a CS-6 Civil Service form of Jimmy Byrne which apparently were intended to suggest Mr. Byrne might have become the Tax Collector. Examination and review of these copies by both the editor and myself spell out very clearly that Mr. Byrne never was the Tax Collector, having only served in an ACTING capacity with an unclassified appointment under Civil Service.

Likewise, Mr. Byrne's correspondence consistently revealed his deep concern to retain Civil Service protection in his classified position of Assistant Tax Collector in the absence of a permanent appointment as Tax Collector such as the Mayor has given the newly appointed Tax Collector with a four-year term after which on serving even another day he will have acquired tenure which is even greater security than Civil Service offers.

The fact that Mr. Byrne had to continually seek additional six month leaves of absence from his protected position as Assistant Tax Collector to serve in the unclassified Acting Tax Collector role was forcibly brought to Mayor McGreevy's attention by Mr. Byrne in a letter sent to him dated March 2, 1972.

That letter by Mr. Byrne stated, "In the event you cannot see your way clear in granting me this leave of absence on or before Friday March 3, 1972, it leaves me no other alternative than to resign from this unclassified Tax Collector position effective at the end of the work day of March 3, 1972."

Obviously, from such correspondence Mayor McGreevy should have detected that Mr. Byrne was becoming anxious to either get a permanent appointment as Tax Collector, such as the newly appointed Tax Collector has received, or that he would be "sand bagged" which loomed as a distinct possibility.

Apparently after becoming tired of waiting and in despair on January 29, 1973 Mr. Byrne wrote Mayor McGreevy as follows: "Dear Mayor McGreevy: After careful thought and discussion with my wife, I have decided for personal reasons not to ask for another six month leave of absence from my permanent title of Assistant Tax Collector....As of February 28th, 1973, the end of my current leave of absence, I want to revert to my permanent title of Assistant Tax Collector....Would you please have the necessary CS-6 form prepared."

Mayor McGreevy, apparently in an attempt to refute my contention that Jimmy Byrne got "shafted," has furnished me with the necessary information and material, by giving it to the editor, that substantially justifies my belief that had Mayor McGreevy given Mr. Byrne a permanent four year appointment as the Tax Collector, whereby he might have gotten tenure, as he has now given the new appointee, there can be little doubt but that Mr. Byrne would have "grabbed" the opportunity he deserved after twenty years of loyal and capable service.

Crime Up

In 1972, for the first time in seventeen years, the rate of crime in the United States was reduced. Unfortunately, the rate was up again last year — according to a report from Attorney General William Saxbe.

"The renewed upsurge in crime is very disturbing to me because statistics give no clue as to what is causing it," Saxbe says. "Every American has a stake in the fight to lower the crime rate. The safety of our families, our businesses and our neighborhoods demands it," the Attorney General added.

Saxbe asks Americans to cooperate with law enforcement agencies in an effort to reduce the crime rate; it's a request all citizens should respond to.

The well-being of the nation depends on a reduction in the scandalously high crime rate in America (far higher than in western European countries); a start is needed in eradicating television violence, of course. Meanwhile, the ordinary citizen should do his part to help those seeking to maintain order and peace in our communities.

Publish Third Installment Of 'Dissolution Of Society'

considerations, man is interested in his own glorification. He ponders the question of world-ascendancy and whether his nation shall be supreme. He anticipates the colonization of the solar system and the eventual permeation of the Universe. He believes that knowledge is the equivalent of power and that man is capable of Omnipotence.

Man evolved to his attitude as an outgrowth of human necessity.

When the existence of man was finally established, he had to embark upon an endless struggle for knowledge. He had to learn to supplement the natural supply of food because it could not sustain his increasing population. He had to develop knowledge of transportation and communication in order to preserve his expanding society. As he became the more removed from the struggle with the specie, he had to acquire the power to survive the struggle with his fellow man. Finally, he felt it necessary to develop the technology that would render his struggle devoid of all pain.

In view of man's enormous achievements, it was a natural concomitant of his growth to believe an event had value only in relation to him. In this frame of reference, wherein the human life became the supreme value, the satisfaction of human need became the essential consideration. The interval between birth and death became the alpha and omega of everything. And the existence of a personalized God became an obsolescent myth.

Now that man has reached the limits of geographic expansion, he is being pressed to the new necessity of reevaluating his role in the life process. He is being shocked to the reality that he escaped the struggle with the specie only to face necessities which are beyond his power.

Man is being made to realize his inadequacy by problems which defy knowledge. He knows and understands the problem of population but cannot control it. He realizes the consequences of nuclear war but has no solution for its menace. He realizes society is in the process of disintegration but has no remedy for the event.

Man is brought to realize he has exceeded the warrant for human life having isolated himself on the planet earth. He is becoming increasingly aware that he must concern himself with the very survival of his specie rather than the continuation to human perfectibility. He is being compelled to recognize his blindness — to the belief there exists a force in comparison to which man's powers are a nullity. He is being compelled to wonder whether his life process was foreordained and, whether his civilization is merely the last to the next one. Man is being made to realize the wisdom of Herodotus who said "Of all the sorrows that afflict mankind the bitterest is this, that we should have consciousness of much and control over nothing."

Brighton Ave. Variance Foes Raising Funds

To the Editor:

Andrew Pica, Program Chairman of the Brighton Avenue Fund, announced today that the organization will sponsor a Buffet and Dance on April 27, 1974. The event will be a fund-raising activity to support the organization's program. The affair will be held on April 27, 1974 at the Belleville Amvets Hall at 100 Newark Avenue, Belleville at 8 p.m. The Program Committee has engaged a well known local group to provide music. The Buffet will consist of hot and cold plates prepared by volunteers. Tickets will be available at the door.

The Brighton Avenue Fund is an outgrowth of the efforts of some neighbors who opposed a zoning variance who banded together to fight the matter in the courts. The group expanded as people throughout the Town of Belleville lent their support to the fight. Recently in an almost unprecedented decision, the Superior Court of New Jersey upheld the Position of the Brighton Avenue Group. The other party has decided to fight the matter in the Appellate Court. Since the group is a ad hoc group of neighbors without large resources, the fund-raising event has become a necessity. In the words of Andy Pica "We are proving that it is possible to fight City Hall; when you have fight on your side."

Praises Cleanup Around Clearman

To the Editor:

I am pleased to see that the area around Clearman Field has received a general clean-up. The sight of dog feces, broken bottles, cartons and other debris has been reduced to a minimum.

The Board of Education is to be commended on a job that will improve Belleville's image to those who travel Union Avenue on their way through town.

Unfortunately the dogs are still walked and the litterers will continue to litter. Therefore, I hope this is only the beginning of a good maintenance program.

Earth Day Begins Sunday

By David F. Moore

WITH SUNDAY being Earth Day, 1974, and with the spectre of an energy shortage still with us, and with the outcries of our utility companies pushing for more power plants, it seems timely to take a quick look at what's being done.

Quick is adequate, because practically nothing is being done about reducing our energy consumption and even less about finding an alternate energy source for fossil fuels and nuclear power. People not wasting electricity get credit for cutting energy consumption.

The only thing is, by doing that they mainly succeeded in making electric companies demand higher rates because they are selling less electricity. Aside from the sick humor of that situation, I get a big charge (non-electrical) out of it for another reason:

THE HIGHER somebody's electric bill gets, the more incentive and economic justification there will be to find a substitute. Find a substitute for electricity? Hardly. Just find a substitute for our friendly investor-owned utility.

This is how American ingenuity can prevail. While Washington puts heavy funding into nuclear power, oil shale technology and other fossil fuel-related gimmicks, it is barely engaging in tokenism insofar as solar energy is concerned. Which is where the little man in his basement workshop comes in.

Take as an example what they are doing at the University of Delaware. They are operating a modern house with a rooftop panel of solar cadmium sulfide cells which charge a bank of automobile batteries which power a house. Heat comes from other solar panels using special salts as storage. Amateurs are beginning to tinker all over the country — in fact, a recent edition of "Maine Times" was devoted to do it yourself solar energy systems, most using water as a storage medium.

TOO MUCH EMPHASIS has been put on finding ways to beef up vast power grids, and too little on making the average house and office complex independent of the electric company. If the latter could be accomplished, our energy problems would for all practical purposes vanish, provided the solution spares fossil fuels and is not home nuclear plants.

Probably our utility scientists are correct in assuming that solar energy is still unfeasible for big power hooks. But individual houses may prove different. Ditto wind power. A combination of solar panels and rooftop wind generators may be the ultimate answer. The wind has a way of blowing frequently when the sun is obscured, also — you need more heat on windy days.

Back in the 1930's and 1940's, vast reaches of the United States still were without the blessing of power lines. People in those days bought a Sears, Roebuck wind generator and a set of storage batteries which provided their homes with a 32-volt lighting system. Of course, this technology disappeared with the spread of power lines. You can hardly buy a wind generator today, and then only for a lot of money.

BUT DEMAND does wonderful things for availability and price. On Earth Day, spend a little time dreaming about cutting away from the utility company. Maybe you will be the one to make the big break-through.

Maybe, like the song says, "The Answer Is Blowing In The Wind!"

By Frank A. Orechio

This week, The Sun presents the third installment in its serialization of Jack R. Nageley's "The Dissolution of Society." Nageley, a prominent Miami attorney, believes that modern man is rapidly approaching the point of complete social break-down — or dissolution.

So far in this series, Nagely has defined and explained his theory of dissolution and offered evidence of its occurrence in past civilizations. In this week's installment, Nageley depicts modern man as a self-realized demigod who is just beginning to realize that his present knowledge and technology are neither limitless nor able to solve all the problems confronting him. What Nageley is saying is that mankind is becoming more and more aware of its need to expand its consciousness but has not yet found a way to do so and until such a method is devised, society will continue moving closer toward dissolution.

At the eve of dissolution, man is all powerful on earth. He sculpts nature to his needs and uses the specie to suit his purposes. He has prolonged human life and now knows the fact of creation. He has catapulted himself beyond the atmosphere and envisions the conquest of the solar system. His successes have caused him to believe his power can be absolute.

Man believes he is entitled to exercise dominion because he alone is a "rational" being — that his unique ability to reason gives him the right to supremacy. His ascendancy is also attributed to characteristics deemed peculiar to him, such as: the faculty of prehension; chronic sexuality; a proportionately larger brain; and the ability to use symbols. Whatever the cause — be it a combination of characteristics or the mere fact that man is the present end of evolution — the issue of dominion is taken for granted.

Man assumes dominance because there is no apparent force to challenge his station. He no longer fears the specie because of his awesome power for destruction. He no longer fears the Unknown because he believes every event in the Universe is deterministic. He has evolved to an era in which he has no concern except for his struggle with his fellow man.

The attitude of man is evidenced by the change in his academic interest. He no longer considers implications of human enterprise such as upsetting the balance of nature or the development of perils to human survival. He no longer argues the existence of an anthropomorphic God or the actuality of Divine Intervention. He has even ceased to wonder about his origin — whether he is a creature of evolution or the product of Divine Creation.

Instead of theological and metaphysical

Student Named Family Leader

Mary Jo La Morte has been named Belleville High School 1973-74 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow. Mary Jo won the honor by competing with other seniors in the written knowledge and attitude examination on December 4. She is now eligible for state and national honors and will receive a specially designed award from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of an annual educational scholarship program.

State Family Leaders of Tomorrow receive a $1,500 college scholarship while state second-place winners receive a grant of $500. The state winner also earns for his or her school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America", from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

In the spring, state winners and their faculty advisors will be the guests of General Mills on an expense-paid educational tour which will include Washington, D.C. and Minneapolis, Minn. A special event of the tour is the announcement of the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $5,000. Second, third and fourth place winners will receive scholarship increases to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

A $1,000 nutrition scholarship is also available again this year from General Mills. The winner of this grant is a participant in the Betty Crocker Search who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, ranks among the highest in his or her state on the overall examination and scores highest on the included nutrition questions.

This year, 703,074 students from 14,463 schools were enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search, which for the second year, included senior boys. Since the program began in 1954-55, approximately nine million students have participated and scholarship awards total more than $2 million.

Don't expect everyone to agree with you; variety of opinion is what makes the world interesting.

Overnight Trip

School Chorus Travels For Washington Date

by Anne Spera

Recently, a select group from the Belleville High School chorus was invited to perform at the Washington National Cathedral and the Martin Luther King Memorial Library in Washington, D.C. An overnight stay, March 30 and 31, the chorus stayed at the Marymount College in Arlington, Virginia.

An estimated 66 students attended along with 11 chaperones including teachers and music parents. Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Finetti, the chorus sang a number of religious songs, including the "Kyrie", from the Schubert Mass in G. An increasingly popular song among schools, "The Creation", by Bobrowitz and Porter, was also sung in both the Cathedral and the library.

The "Kyrie" included a soloist from the Junior High School, Robert DiStasi who was also "Amahl" in "Amahl and the Night Visitors", performed at Belleville High School during the Christmas season. Other soloists included Bonnie Berkowitz, Jeff Stone, Ronnie Fraga, Kenneth Westpy, and Karl Wehmeher. Bonnie, Jeff and Ronnie were soloists in the "Creation" and all four boys sang a quartet in "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," which was sung at the library. Also, piano soloists included Donna Tsouhnikas, Maryann Dyba, John Gilbert and Mr. Kutzelman, a student teacher of music.

The students took this trip quite seriously and acted like mature young adults. Despite the weather, the tour of Washington, D.C. was cancelled, but the students made use of the indoor pool that was lent to them. Mr. Finetti commented, "They sang beautifully, just as I had predicted before hand."

Belleville should be very proud of these students for singing at one of the largest and greatest Cathedrals in the world, and representing our town in the manner in which they did.

Scholarships Are Awarded Through State

The New Jersey State Scholarship Commission today announced the awarding of more than 5,400 State Scholarships to New Jersey high school seniors and college freshmen.

The scholarship is worth $500 a year and may be used at any approved university or college in the nation. Of the approximately 19,000 students who applied, awards were made to those with the greatest financial need and the highest record of academic achievement.

These awards are renewable throughout the student's undergraduate years. Award recipients who plan to attend a New Jersey college or university may receive additional aid to cover tuition charges which are in excess of the $500 award. The annual maximum a student may receive is $1,000.

Funds Raised In Book Fair For Library

The Belleville High School Library sponsored its annual Book Fair on April 1, 2, and 3. The BHS students had time to visit the fair during their English classes.

This year, there was a wide variety of books from which to choose. There were books on sports, government, teenage life, college admissions, mystery and comedy.

The library receives twenty per cent profit from the books sold at the fair. The money received from the fair will be used toward the purchase of a charge machine and other library equipment. Mrs. Dorothy Roche, librarian, termed the fair "successful."

Browsing Belleville

with Pat Diana

(write me at 104 Overlook Ave. or call 751-6861)

Qie a bit of news was left out of my April 4th column, including the fact that members of American Legion Post 299 and their Auxiliary Unit 299 were holding a Chinase Auction that evening. Oh, well, at least it got in the Bulletin Board.

A happy birthday March 28 was wished for Miss Connie Cwynar, now 17 years old and a junior at BHS.

SE PEOPLE have told me it's difficult to get tickets to the upcoming card party to be held by The Kiwanis Club of Belleville April 25. . .tain't so — call Sy Grossman, Mario DiMaggio (Jr. High) John Iannuzzi (Flowerama) or any other member.

"Oklahoma" produced by the Theatre Guild of Nutley and consisting of many, many Belleville youngsters was a smashing success. Frank A. Cocchiola, Director — Department of Parks and Public Property, thanked one and all for their personal interest. The show was directed by Sharon Baumann, with Bob Wing as Music Director, Linda Bocchino — Art Director and Dom Rutherford — Technical Director.

So you wanna get away from it all? Well, a friend of mine is running a weekend bus trip to Montreal Canada June 22. The bus trip, accommodations at the Seaway Motor Inn in downtown Montreal, plus a 2½ hour tour of that famous city costs $55. . .Interested? Call Misty Morn at 674-8335.

The seventh graders at the Jr. High had a treat when Allan Crisp — town historian — visited and spoke about Belleville history. "Uncle Allan as he is known to one and all is one of the most entertaining and humorous speakers for your programs, as well as knowing so much about our town's history. The Crisp's (Allan's wife is the talented artist, Nancy) now reside in Glen Ridge, but their hearts are in Belleville. . . lining up your programs for next year? Do consider Allan Crisp. He is represented by Steve and Evelyn Frank, so call 759-2130.

NEWS from Fewsmith Church, which is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year — May 19th is Youth Sunday, June 1st Strawberry Festival — all are invited, watch this paper for details.

That ends the April 4th news. . .let's catch up to this week's happenings.

News from the Belleville Senior Citizens Club. . .the following members had or will have birthdays this month. Virginia Bradley (April 16, 1902), Mary Castellano (4/18/08), Helen A. Cook (April 5), Josephine DeFabbio (4th), Josephine Frunzi (4/30/99), Olga Moncine (28th), Filomena Palmieri (11th), Mrs. Jean Riskey (10th), Rose Sampier (4/4/06), Isabel Simon (25th), Doris Strothers (4/1/11), Mary Tobia (6th), Ann Torsiello (4/7/11), Martin Ventura (4/8/08), Joseph Villano (4/15/98), Olive Wille (4/8/1900), and Florence Zimmer (4/19/03). . .congratulations and a very happy birthday to each of you. . .get well wishes to Olive Willie and Joseph Villano in Clara Maass and Doris Strothers who suffered a heart attack two weeks ago. . .Doris is a gal that loves to sing and dance and she was welcomed back to the meeting last week — singing yes, dancing no (not yet). . .God Bless.

Mrs. Eleanor Arthur, teacher at School Eight told me about 40 Belleville Board Members, Administrators, educators, parents and interested citizens attended the Essex County Education Association Legislative Dinner this month.

SCHOOL SEVEN held their nomination of officers for 1974-75: president — Diane Lombardi, first vice president — Rose Marie Carnevale, second vice president — Joe Primavera, treasurer — Pat Cardillo, corresponding secretary — Judy Dominick, and recording secretary — Rosemarie Buccino.

Get well wishes are in order for Ernie Ratner, president of the Veteran Boxers Social Club of Northern New Jersey. . .Ernie is in Clara Maass and everyone is hoping he will be better by the time the group has their golden gloves bout at BHS on April 26. . .

John Gilbert, talented organist-pianist of Belleville, recently performed at the VFW Postrooms in Livingston and for the Belleville B.P.O. Elks Lodge. . .during July and August John is scheduled to perform at Roland's in Roselle Park and the East Cove Restaurant, Lake George, New York — wow! such a talent this young man has. . .for availability of booking John as a soloist and/or with his trio for Society music, contact Steve Frank 759-2130.

There's a public building in town where the flying flags could use cleaning, or sewing. . .parades are coming up, how's about new flags, felias?

STOPPED IN at the Belleville office of the TIMES, and it now looks real inviting and clean, with Minerva Stinson's help.

Met some nice people this week at People's National Bank and Trust. . .hello to Frank J. Bolen, Executive vice president and trust officer and B. Thomas Aitken, president and chairman of the Board.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE of New Jersey Anchor Club, Branch 77 traveled to St. Joseph's Home for Blind Children in Jersey City where they presented a check, gave gifts and brought refreshments. This is the 20th year the club has donated to the Home for the Blind. . .Who was there? Retired Army Capt. John F. Crowley, advocate, William Davey and president Al Carragher. . .Sister Mary Quicken received the check on behalf of the Home. . .thanks for the news to Ed Chelel, secretary. Sorry, fella's — the pic you sent wouldn't reproduce. . .I'll get it back to you.

Harold Coppla of the Garden Meat Market Inc. (Business Spotlight recently) and his wife welcomed their tenth child, Colleen Marie. . .congrats.

Coming up on April 28th — is the annual Pancake Breakfast held by members of The Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook Belleville. . .the place: Parrillo's Restaurant. . .the time — 8 — noon. . .don't miss this great event.

Carol Collins, receptionist at Hoffman International on Cortlandt Street, had a birthday on April 14 — Easter Sunday. She was feted by her co-workers, with a delicious cake from Alexander's (Grant's shopping center plaza) — it had a cute telephone on it. . .and a floral piece from Flowerama as well as an orchid corsage from Iannuzzi's palace. . .the delivery boy who appeared with the flowers was none other than Sy Grossman, who happened to be "just passing".

YOU STILL HAVE time to buy tickets to attend the dinner/dance honoring past commander of American Legion Post 105 — Frank Kiernan. . .it's this Saturday — April 20th. Frank was "sparkling personality" in last week's paper, and a few items were left out of that story — "He is more than proud of his two daughters and his grandchildren. Nancy and George Kotz, live in Farmingdale, Long Island with their children Tommy Ann 4, Theresa 12, and Thomas 18. Mary Jane Deegan, also of New York has three children, Kathleen 16, Ann Beth 11 and Timothy 15. Frank Kiernan is a humble man. Of all the dignitaries that will be on hand to pay him tribute at his dinner, his greatest thrill would be having his whole family there.

Chairman of the dinner honoring Kiernan is Pat Wynn. For tickets, please phone him at 759-9650 or 759-9329."

Per capita consumption of chilled orange juice, since its introduction in the mid-1950's, has increased from 1.7 to 8.5 pounds, on a fresh equivalent basis.

Child And Pet

How old should a child be to have a pet? The answer is that there is no firm minimum age. In fact, with a little help from mom or dad, even very young children can enjoy a pet and learn some important lessons about responsibility.

Just as important as the age of your child is consideration of the type of pet you want. Temperament, size and sturdiness (of the pet) will determine whether the pet and your child will complement one another.

For a young child, a simple bowl with a fish or two may be best. Children will be fascinated by the color and movement — and financial outlay and periodic cleaning will be kept to the minimum for the parent.

If you want to buy a cat or dog, and have toddlers at home, wait until the children grow out of the grabbing and poking stage.

When you do buy a dog as a companion for children in elementary school, choose a breed known for even temperament and steady nerves. Basset hounds and golden retrievers are good examples. Many mongrels also have the patience to put up with active children.

If the pet is intended to be the sole responsibility of your children, match up the animal with the child's ability to care for it. Don't expect an 8 or 10-year-old to groom a long-haired cat every day or to walk a St. Bernard. Small pets (like box turtles, parakeets or fish) are much more manageable.

When you buy a pet for your child, see that it is healthy by scheduling an early visit to the veterinarian. It is cruel to give a child a pet to love — only to have the pet and child suffer because of pre-existing disease.

DR. MINOR REGRETS THAT HE IS UNABLE TO PERSONALLY ANSWER LETTERS FROM PET OWNERS. HE SUGGESTS THAT READERS CONSULT THEIR OWN VETERINARIANS WHEN THEIR PETS HAVE PROBLEMS.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

People Helping People

A fall, a broken shoulder — and an elderly woman lay on the floor all night, unable to get to the telephone. Fortunately, her son stopped by in the morning and found her.

That was before the "lifelines" were set up by Project Interact in Bingham County, Idaho, so people who live alone could check on each other by telephone. Each of the 3 lifelines consists of 8 people who call at regular intervals in a chain sequence, with the last person calling the one who starts the chain.

The lifelines quickly proved their usefulness. The first week, a woman was found sick in bed and unable to prepare food. A doctor was sent; medicines and food were provided.

Project Interact was designed by county volunteers with consultation and support by the Federal Government's mental health agency — the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Its aim was to reduce loneliness, alienation, and boredom and to promote better mental health through various kinds of interaction among people who needed more human contact as well as practical services.

The idea, in brief, was to enable people to help themselves by helping each other.

And help themselves they did — with surprising gusto. One lady, 86, who had spent most of her time in a wheel chair, going weeks without a visitor or even opening her door, is now managing one of the lifelines as well as assuming responsibility for an older lady across the street. She seldom takes a nap nowadays, and keeps her door open all day as she busily watches her charge.

Another lady, withdrawn and friendless, was talked into visiting a woman she had decided 20 years back to dislike. Now the two are inseparable.

Bingham County is primarily rural but the project reaches most of its population through activities in Blackfoot and several smaller towns.

Activities so far include preparation of "interest kits" for use in a hospital and a nursing home and "rap lines" which allow young people to telephone for counsel or just to talk out their problems, wants, gripes, and wishes.

Programs like Project Interact don't just happen. This one started with a steering committee, a survey of needs, and support by radio, newspapers, and volunteers speaking at service club meetings and churches.

The Bingham County project is an effective demonstration of how citizen participation can help improve conditions that affect mental health.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to the National Institute of Mental Health, ADAMHA, Parklawn Building, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

Alumnae Club Spring Meeting Next Friday

The Douglass College Alumnae Club of Essex County will hold its Spring meeting on April 26, at 8 p.m. at the home of Janice Capaccio Scheer, 6 Highview Drive, Livingston.

The special guest of the evening will be Jane O'Grady, a Douglass alumna who is presently the Legislative Representative for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, AFL-CIO, based in Washington, D.C. Miss O'Grady, who was called "the leading lady labor lobbyist" by "Newsweek" magazine, will discuss the current labor situation in Washington, as well as her position as a lobbyist.

Other topics on the meeting's agenda will be the results of the second annual "Dollar for Douglass" scholarship fund drive, an announcement to the new club officers and a discussion of possibilities for future club events. Current club officers are Adriana Ricci O'Toole of Montclair, president; Helen Kraszewski Traczewski of Cedar Grove, vice president; Edna Harris of Upper Montclair, secretary; Doris Cohen Halprin of Caldwell, treasurer; Una Fitzpatrick Christ of West Caldwell, Alumnae Council Representative and Virginia Fritsch Wentworth of Belleville, program and publicity chairman.

Tenants' Organization Cash Social Security Checks Quickly Would Be First Here

"We will send out a lease to anyone who requests one," says Fitzpatrick. The new manager says he's trying to implement a new repair program at Bellevue. "I've got a lot of good ideas to improve the apartments. I want to paint the exteriors. The garages will be repainted, and all the entrance doors. I want to retile all the vestibules. I'm going to check all the stoves and refrigerators to see which ones need to be replaced. I have a landscaper who's going to put in $600 worth of shrubs there. I've contacted a garbage firm to put in four more dumpsters for the trash and to replace those that need to be taken out."

None of these renovations would meet opposition from the tenants at Bellevue Gardens, who complained to the Times about most of the conditions. Fitzpatrick says he'll repair. The policies on children and pets remain to be resolved and, most likely, the new tenants' organization will have something to say about them when they draw up their list of grievances at their first meeting this week.

Fitzpatrick says he has not discouraged any complaining tenants from seeing him, and that he has been to the complex "four or five times," already, and spoken to 18 tenants who wrote to him with complaints. He said if the tenants at Bellevue feel it's in their best interest to form an organization, "they can come to me individually or collectively, and have an open, rational discussion on any complaints."

Whether or not the gripes of the tenants are valid is open to debate. But the rumblings at Bellevue Gardens signal the introduction to Bellevue of yet another urban phenomenon — the tenants' rights group. It may not get off the ground at Bellevue, or it may flourish.

Supplemental security income checks should be cashed within a reasonable time to prevent loss or theft — even though there's no time limit on cashing them, according to Arthur H. Quallo, social security manager in Newark.

The supplemental security income program has established a national income floor for people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over, or blind, or disabled. Checks are delivered in the first week of every month.

It's a good idea to sign your supplemental security income check in front of the person who will cash it," Quallo said. "If you sign a check and then lose it, it could be cashed by anyone who finds it."

People whose supplemental security income checks are lost, stolen, or destroyed should get in touch with the nearest social security office at once and explain what happened, according to Quallo.

"Your check can be replaced," he said, but it will take a number of days. It's in your interest to handle your checks carefully. You can make arrangements with any social security office to have your supplemental security income check mailed to a bank or other responsible financial institution. But a supplemental security income check cannot be made out to someone else to pay off a debt."

People who get a supplemental security income check they know is not due them must return it to the U. S. Treasury Department.

"The return address is on the envelope in which the check was delivered," Quallo said, "and you should enclose a statement of your reason for returning the check."

"Or," he said, "you can take the supplemental security income check to any social security office. People there will give a receipt and return the check for you."

The program is run by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. "But a supplemental security income payments are funded by general revenues, not by social security contributions," Quallo said.

The Newark social security office is at 970 Broad St. The phone number is 429-8200.

FIDELITY PRESENTS 4 WAYS TO MAKE YOUR TAX REFUND GROW.

Are you one of the lucky ones getting money back from Uncle Sam? This year, make it show for something. We think you'll find worthwhile goals in our regular checking and savings plans, or in these high-interest refund growing clubs.

The Prepaid Christmas Club

Deposit your refund, or any amount you like from $100 up, and we'll pay an extra bonus 5 1/2% interest annual rate compounded daily. Then on November 20, 1974, we'll return your refund plus all the interest. It's the easiest Christmas Club ever.

The Vacation Club

Think how much fun you'll have if you pay your way before you go! Leave a minimum of $100 on deposit for at least 12 months, and we'll pay 6% interest per year compounded daily. That's an effective annual yield of 6.18%. Or, if you're going this summer, just 90 days at Fidelity will increase your refund at an annual rate of 5 1/2% interest compounded daily. *Whichever club you pick, stick to it. Federal law and regulations prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate.

The Free Checking Account

Use your refund to maintain a minimum balance of $300, and you won't have to pay service charges. If you're presently paying $1.50 or more a month in service charges, Fidelity's Regular Personal Checking will save you money.

The Passbook Loan

If you deposit your refund in a regular Passbook Savings Account, minimum $250, you can use the account as collateral for a secured loan. Since interest on a Passbook loan is only 2% higher than savings account interest, in effect you'd have a loan at 2%. And when the loan is repaid, you'll still be drawing interest on your tax refund.

Think them over. Four good ways to turn your refund into a reward. But don't wait too long—these special offers expire July 1, 1974. To make it easy you can do it all by mail with the coupon below. Or if you want more information call Colin Scott at 621-8600, ext. 613.

The Bloomfield Federation of Music presents the Bloomfield Civic Chorus, celebrating their 40th anniversary, in THE RED MILL on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 19 and 20 at 8:15 pm at North Junior High School, Huck Road, Bloomfield. Donald Gage is conducting the presentation. This is colorful production in complete in costumes, scenery, and supported by a 20-piece orchestra. Admission is free.

The Red Mill's cheerful background is in Holland where two American boys find they have run out of money on their European tour. Thwarted in their attempts to escape without paying their hotel bill, they stay and become, effectively involved with the romantic problems of the local Burgomaster's daughter who is in love with a sailor captain but unhappily must instead marry the Governor. Fortunately, through some interesting twists of events, everyone ends up smiling and happy. Leading roles are played by familiar names such as Lila Gage and Albert Weber of Nutley, Barry Lambert Tom Behr, Ray Schroeder, Adelaide Warren, Edmund Warren, Carol Schroeder, Judith Von Busch, Ed Marsh, as well as John Ey, Charles Waage, Ed Fitzgerald, Jim Bernarduzzi. The Bloomfield Federation of Music is sponsored by the Bloomfield Recreation Commission.

The Bloomfield Civic Chorus has Lila Gage performing the lead roll of Gretchen in THE RED MILL. It is virtually impossible to state all her vast experiences, awards, special features in a small space. This talented soprano has performed in operatic roles throughout the major cities of the U.S. as well as Milan, Italy, Quebec, Toronto, Montreal. In the New York City area she has performed with the City Center, Metropolitan Opera Studio, Town Hall with the NBC Symphony, and has sung in TV Operas such as NBC Opera, The Hallmark Hour, and many opera cameos. Lila has been featured soloist many times at Radio City Music Hall, with her longest run there being five months — four shows per day. Lila Gage received her music degree from the Verdi Conservatory, Milan, Italy, and has had voice training as well as dramatic training in both the U.S. and Europe.

Lila has been the recipient of a number of awards which include those from the Lincoln Center Foundation, Ford Foundation for Opera Award, and Sullivan Foundation Winner.

Meet Montclair Tomorrow

Late Rally Shades Nutley Nine

by Pat Caputo

The Belleville diamonders pulled off some last-minute heroics last Thursday as they defeated Nutley 2-1 in Belleville. The local nine will try to continue their winning ways tomorrow as they travel to Montclair. Monday's home game with Bloomfield was postponed due to wet grounds and the Bellboys played Orange on Tuesday.

Belleville may have delivered Nutley their most heartbreaking loss to Belleville in a long time. Nutley had the lead, 1-0, since the second inning. Until the final frame, no Bellboy could score although they did threat on a few occasions.

With one down in the seventh, Joe Arminio, who had another perfect day, singled sharply to left field. Nick DeFillipis ran for Arminio and stole second base. After a roller to the box that did not advance DeFillipis, the tension mounted. Steven Gerard was sent in to pinch hit for pitcher Mike Dondarski. In Steve's first official time at bat in varsity competition, he dropped a solid single into center field.

As Nutley centerfielder, Don Kiwor, made a futile attempt to throw out the tying run at the plate. Gerard was running "heads up" and took second base on the throw. Now the pressure was mounting again as the winning run was now on base. Vin Lipoma this time answered the call and singled to left and Steve Gerard raced home with the winning run. No sooner had he slid into the plate was he swarmed by the entire jubilant Belleville bench, led especially by Mike Dondarski and Steve Senatore, the pitchers of the afternoon.

Both hurlers were making their first appearance this season. Nutley could muster only two hits off the Bellboy aces, both coming in the second inning. In that inning

Nutley scored their lone tally of the day. After two were out Mike Sammarro singled to right field. Rich Pizzano drew a walk. The number eight man in the line-up Jack Behan, then singled into right, scoring Sammarro. This was the last Maroon hit. Senatore was not exceptionally sharp, allowing six bases on balls, however, he was effective.

In his first start this season, Steve seemed to run out of gas in the sixth inning. A lead-off walk to Don Kiwor, a sacrifice bunt which Senatore fell down fielding and another walk, this one to Mark Corey, loaded the bases with none out.

Coach Charlie Travers brought in senior Mike Dondarski to put out the fire left by the junior "Stife". Mike took charge. Sammarro bunted, but a fine defensive play by third baseman Joe Cancelliere forced the runner at the plate. Pizzano popped out to Cancelliere and Behan flew out to DeNotaris. The same trio that was responsible for the lone Nutley tally was retired in order with the bases filled.

Coach Sees 'Improvement'

Belleville Oarsmen Outsprinted By Rival Raider Varsity Crew

Although Nutley came from behind to edge out Belleville's varsity oarsmen for the first time since 1970 in Saturday's featured race on the Passaic, head coach Sam Giuffrida is taking an optimistic view of the outcome.

"Our last two races were pretty depressing," said the coach, "but I saw a big improvement Saturday, and I think we're really ready to move now." The Belleville rowers had held a good lead for most of the race, but lost in the final sprint as Nutley turned in a time of 5:01.5 for the mile to the Bellboys five minutes flat.

is mostly an inexperienced team of juniors and seniors in their first year of varsity competition.

That vitally-needed experience has been picked up in each of the season's losing efforts. "In the Nutley race, though," said Giuffrida, "for the first time the boys weren't bewildered at what happened. They know what mistakes they made. They know it should have been their race."

The big mistake, said the coach, came in the final 200 yards, as Nutley pulled away to win by a second. "We didn't take up the stroke for the final sprint, and Nutley was able to do so. We've been practicing that a lot this week — what we call our 'takeaway sprint.' But overall, the race was quite encouraging, since we did go in as an underdog, and the boys are really looking forward to the next time we meet Nutley."

The next race against the Maroon Raiders will be on April 27, when both Nutley and Belleville squads travel to Poughkeepsie for a three-way race. Later on in the season comes the Goodwill Regatta, which already looks destined to be one of the most hard-

By Score of 6-1

Error-Laden Orange Falls to Bellboy Bats

The Bellboy diamonders will meet Montclair, the top-ranked team in the state tomorrow with one more win under their belts. The victory came Tuesday as Orange fell, 6-1, when errors combined with key Bellboys hits for the win.

Belleville now stands at 2-1 in the Big Ten conference, while Montclair, hampered by the rains, has played only two games, winning both.

advanced to third on a hit by Vinnie Lipoma, he scored on Bill Telesco's sacrifice fly, which brought Lipoma to third base. He scored on an Orange error.

The fourth inning saw two more Belleville runs when Vic Pasquariello walked; then stole second. He took third on an infield hit by Joe Arminio, who, moved to second on a bad throw. The biggest hit of the day, a ground rule double by Lou Grasso, scored Arminio.

Nick DeFillipis and Arminio both scored later in the game on Orange errors.

Despite the single error which let in the Orange run, Belleville defense held up for the day. Lipoma led Bellboy batters with two hits out of five, while Orange produced four.

Belleville Runners Eighth in Relays

by Bob Cohen

Competing in the Big Ten Relays, which is held annually at DeMuro Park in Nutley, the Belleville High School track team copped eighth position in the to Big Ten competition. Finishing last in the relays v. Orange who had failed to score at all.

Although some excellent times were recorded for Belleville, the winner of the highly prestigious meet was Columbia who had collected 16 points on the day. The rest of the teams that finished in order were Kearny-13, Nutley-10, Montclair-8, East Orange-7, Bloomfield-5, Irvington-4, Belleville-3, and Orange-0.

Competing in the two mile relay, the team of Jim Beck, Bill Goodwin, Mike Fortino, and Steve Byba placed fourth with a time of 8:58.4. Coming from far back, Bill Goodwin was the factor that put Belleville in contention. The half mile splits recorded for the runners were, 2:17.4, 2:11, 2:12, and 2:18. Kearny won the event with a time of 8:33.7.

Belleville also placed fourth in the mile relay as Ken Drake at 61.5, Ralph Castellano at 59.0, Bob Cozzarelli at 57.0, and Bob Sanders at 58.1 finished up the mile jaunt with a total time of 3:55.1. Nutley edging out Belleville at the wire at 3:55. East Orange easily won this event with a time of 3:31.7.

The Bellboys also finished fourth in the 1 7/8 mile medley relay. This event, which consists of an 880 run, a 440 run, a 220 run topped off with a mile run, was run by Belleville in the time of 8:16.6. The split times were an excellent 2:02.9 for Steve Budrick, 56.1 in the quarter for Wayne Kellenbence, 24 seconds in the 220 for Brian Wood, and 4:54.5 in the mile for sophomore Nelson Seda.

Competing in other events, the 440 quartet of Tom Sanders, Bob Cohen, Jerry Hickey, and Greg Bunch, finished in sixth place, just missing out on qualifying for the final heat. Their time was 47.8. Montclair won this event with a time of 44.1.

In the shot put relays the team of Bob Feldman at 34.7, George Vechos at 39.7, and Vito Quarino at 33.9, failed to place in this event.

In Clifton Saturday

Top Jaycees Bowlers Enter Region Finals

Four winners of the Belleville Jaycees' junior bowling tournament are heading to Bowlero Lanes, Clifton, to compete this Saturday in the North Jersey Jaycee regional finals.

Two boys and two girls, who had the best series scores in the local Jaycee tournament April 6, will represent Belleville against bowlers from Morris, Passaic, Essex and Bergen counties.

Linda Windship and Jeffery O'Neil hold the hopes of the junior grades, 7 to 9; while Sylvia Bilobram and Howard Evans are Belleville's representatives of the grades 10 to 12.

Linda won her chance by topping girls in her grade level competition with a 508 series. Jeffery's three game set of 520 was best among younger boys.

Sylvia rolled a 371 series, high among senior girls; while Howard Evans enjoyed the best day of all competitors with a high series of 538 which included a 225 game.

Each winner was awarded trophies, and a number of McDonald's certificates for hamburger meals. The finalists will also be hosted to a noon banquet this Saturday. Others receiving awards at the local tournament were, in junior grades; Gene Kryzynski, high game; Perry Corbo, second high series; Grace Ross, high game; and Karen Yaniga, second high series.

Girls in the senior grades who also won trophies were Marty Pilchman, high game; and Lettie Leone, second high series. Senior boys were Tom Golubic, high game; and Dave Boxer, second high series.

The local Belleville Jaycees tournament was held at Brunswick Olympic Lanes. Tournament chairman was John Doyle, whose committee members were Ralph La Conte, Tom Perezluha, Angelo Corino, George Riepe, Bill Sayegh and Gerard Walsh.

has a good team, led by top singles players Dave Williams and Juan Simpson, who also team for the first doubles combination.

"All our singles players are good," says Pearson. "We expect very good things. Drew and Dowling are tough but I think we're tough, too."

Last year's season was disappointing in more ways than the dismal record. Simply, Pearson could never keep his team intact.

"We once went into a match with three players," he recalls, "and we won two of those matches. Many times the opponent didn't have much but you can imagine what we had. Sometimes I've just could have managed to get six guys at a match, we could have won."

Thus far, Pearson has more players than spots. Following Williams and Simpson in the singles lineup are Andy Manczuk, Dave Wise, Bob Keller and Jeff Greenberg. In doubles, Manczuk teams with Wise and Keller with Greenberg.

"If I can keep this team together," says Pearson, "we should be very good. Last year we had two pretty good singles players in Williams and Simpson. Now we have six good ones."

"I'm extremely optimistic."

to take second at a time of 4:47.9.

In the two mile, Bill Goodwin took second and Walt Slubis had third with times of 10:26.5 and 11:03. Coming in first was Cliff Hampson, premier two mile in Essex County.

Jerry Hyckey held on for third place in the 220 as he finished up with a time of 24.5, the best Belleville time recorded in this event this season. And in the 330 only Bob Sanders took a position at third with a time of 45.8, in the 880-run, Steve Budrick, running his best race ever, came from behind to edge Pete Brancaseio of Nutley with a time of 2:03. Coming in third for Belleville was Jim Beck with a time of 2:13.4.

George Vechos took second place finishes in the shot and discus as he had respective throws of 42'9" and 114'2". Paul Haverick had third place in the shot with a toss of 41'9".

In the only other events that Belleville placed in that afternoon, the finishes were only for third as Doug "Action" Jackson took the thirds in the broad jump at 18'2 1/2" and in the high jump at 5'6".

While the performances of Nutley were impressive, they were nothing in comparison to the one man show the Jerry Morgan put on for Vailsburg. He had collected 14 points on the day, his points being the difference in the race.

Ken Drake copped second in the hurdles at a time of 17.8. However in the 330 intermediates only Bob Sanders scored for Belleville as he too took second with a time of 44.6. Drake failed to place in this event as he fell while clearing one of the hurdles.

In the awaited 100-yard dash, Vailsburg finished one, two, three on a poor, Belleville running surface. After the surface was pounded by the heavy downpour on Sunday, Morgan recorded a winning time of 9.9. Also finishing with the same time was Jim Washington.

Belleville turned things around somewhat as they made off with first and second in the mile as Mike Fortino and Nelson Seda had times of 5:04 and 5:06.2.

Bill Goodwin easily paced himself to first in the two mile event as he won at 10:42.3. Coming in third was Doug Wamsley at 11:43.

Wayne Kellenbence had third in the 440 with a time of 57.4. Morgan and Washington came in first and second.

In the 880 Steve Budrick overcame an early challenge to win at 2:15.1. Jim Beck had third at 2:32.2.

The Bellboys, overlooked a serious height and weight disadvantage in the discus as the locals took first and second place honors. George Vechos had it at 130 feet and Tom Sanders at 127' 2".

Competing and finishing first and third in the high jump were Doug Jackson and Rich Filipek with heights of 5'4" and 5'0. John Dougherty took first in the pole vault at 9'6" and Barry Dunleavy had third at eight feet even.

In the final event of the day, Belleville took the mile relay with a time of 3:54.6. In the race were Ralph Castellano, Wayne Kellenbence, Bob Cozzarelli and Brian Wood running anchor.

fought in years as Nutley, Kearny and Belleville carry teams of nearly equal stature.

The Nutley race saw some slight changes from the past varsity lineup, with Bob Falco now taking the number two position, Tom Della Torre in the four spot and Joe Vazquez in sixth.

The Jaycee victory was the third straight this season, against no defeats. "It was a scrappy race," said Giuffrida. "They're an undersized team compared to Nutley, and they only average about 135 pounds. They didn't row a good mile, but they took the lead at the start and hung in there to the end, even though Nutley came on strong. We're really proud of the Jaycee team — they row practically on guts alone."

The freshmen, praised by Giuffrida as a "hard-working team," also won their third straight, putting a 21-second gap between themselves and Nutley.

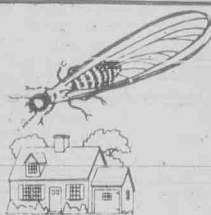

While the head coach is unfamiliar with the quality of the Upper Merion crew the Bellboys will meet today, the record books show the Philadelphia area team has never bested Belleville, and lost last year to the Blue-Gold by a full 18 seconds.

A win would go a long way to "salvaging the season," Giuffrida said. The varsity squad now stands at 0-3, with few dual or triangular races left in the season.

It Was a Big Week for Nutley-Belleville Rivalry

EMERGENCY REPAIR find Belleville jayvee oarsmen hurrying to fix a broken seat moments before the start of the race.

GOOD LUCK — A passerby offers an encouraging handshake to a Belleville jayvee before the boat is launched on the Passaic.

BOATING FASHIONS — Various styles of headgear were used by oarsmen as their trademarks or simply to protect against the rain. Shown above (clockwise from upper left) are Larry Oszowski of Nutley, Mike Connors of Belleville, Roger Smith of Nutley and Ted Perih of Belleville.

Crew: Raider Rowers Sprint to Victory

ACE HURLER Steve Senatore of the Bellboys went to the sixth inning, consistently stumping Nutley batsmen.

JOE ROSOLA of Nutley hung in all the way, keeping the Belleville threat down to the final inning of the game.

FORCE OUT is made at home plate by Bellboy catcher Joe Arminio on Raider Don Kiwor to break up a sixth inning Nutley rally.

Baseball: Seventh Frame Pegs Win

LAST LEG of the final event, the mile relay, finds Raider runner Chuck Gregoire passing the baton to anchorman Rich Clark while Belleville's Steve Budrick waits for approaching Bob Cozzarelli. Final score of the meet was 93-29.

Track: Unbeaten Maroon Cleans Up

Town's Weightlifters Keep Copping Honors

The Belleville Barbell Club continues to garner honors in A.A.U. weightlifting competition.

Archery Workshop Slated by Area 'Y'

A Weekend Archery Workshop will be held at the N.J. School of Conservation, Stokes State Forest, May 3-5. Residents are welcome to join the chartered bus, leaving the Passaic Clifton YWCA, on Friday afternoon, May 3.

The trip is open to men and women and teens, ages 14 and over. The archery workshop is being held for its 11th year, and will have activities for both inexperienced archers and also for those who have had some skill and experience in archery.

Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Rudy Fisher, at the "Y," at 779-1770. All equipment will be supplied by the Outdoor Education Project. The weekend will include target and field archery, bow fishing, clout shooting, tournaments, safety procedures, and selection and care of equipment. Each participant will learn how to make his or her own arrow. Those persons desiring to teach archery in summer camps will gain enough experience and knowledge to instruct beginning archery.

The weekend workshop will be conducted by outstanding archery instructors, certified by the American Archery Council. Noted archery consultants from this area, who will be present are Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Fisher, of Passaic.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Vincent Cozzarelli Reg. Ph.

Ever hear of tooth grinding? It turns out that this is not a technical procedure performed by your dentist, but an unconscious, although damaging habit among many people. Believe it or not, breaking the habit is both difficult and frustrating. Now, at the Walter Reg. Medical Center, tooth grinders, were instructed to clench the jaw as hard as possible for five seconds, then relax the jaw for the same amount of time, then repeat the procedure five times and to continue the exercise six times a day for two weeks. This seemed to help many break the habit.

There are many things that are difficult and frustrating these days, but one that isn't is the fine service given at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. "Your Doctor Knows Us—Your Doctor Trusts Us." Sale and rental of convalescent aids including walkers, wheelchairs and crutches. Our stocks include cosmetics, toiletries, baby needs and greeting cards. Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HELPFUL HINT: Rub talcum powder on playing cards to prevent them from sticking.

Their most recent meet was the Eastern States Championships held in Schenectady, N.Y. Bob Giordano easily won the 181 lb. class with lifts of 260 in the snatch and 320 in the clean and jerk. Finishing third and just missing second in the same weight class was Alvin Morgenstern who made 235 and 315. In the 242 lb. class, Bruce Klemens made 260 and 310 but did not place among the top three. 324 pound Terry Manton, who had won the Collegiate Championships two weeks earlier placed third in the Superheavyweight class, making 260 and 370.

All of the above lifters plus several others will be representing the Belleville Barbell Club in the Jr. National Championships being held May 4-5 in Fairfax, Virginia. This is the second most important meet held in the U.S. after the Senior National Championships and is open to any lifter who has made the qualifying total and has never won the Juniors or Seniors previously.

Naturally, this rules out four-times, Senior National Champ Phil Grippaldi, who recently returned from the Soviet Union after competing in the Friendship Cup and making 303 in the snatch and 413 in the clean and jerk.

In other local weightlifting developments, Tom Cairo and Rene Gabbai of the Belleville Barbell Club received certificates from the A.A.U. for being among America's best teenage lifters in Jr. Olympic competition for 1973. Both were ranked third nationally in their respective weight classes in the 14-15 year age group. Cairo in the 114 lb. class and Gabbai in the 123 lb. class.

Seminar to Cover Retirement Plans

A new eight-session retirement planning seminar designed to assist employers in providing helpful retirement preparation information to employees has been developed by Action for Independent Manurity (AIM), a division of the 6-million-member American Association of Retired Persons.

Covering such subjects as financial planning, legal affairs, housing, health and attitudes and role adjustments and meaningful use of time, the seminar includes a complete package of needed resource materials. Included are special sessionbooks for each seminar topic for use by participants, audio-visual materials, an administrator's manual, and a discussion leader guide providing detailed guidance on conducting the seminars.

AIM Director Cliff Fichtner said the program was developed in response to requests from business, labor and government employers for assistance in helping employees prepare for effective retirement.

"There is a growing awareness among major employers," Fichtner said, "that corporate responsibility toward employees extends beyond the actual working years. Helping workers prepare for satisfactory retirement can be one of the best morale-boosting, yet inexpensive, fringe benefits provided by a company."

The new AIM Seminar program is designed for presentation in eight two-hour sessions under the direction of a discussion leader, assisted by a knowledgeable resource authority on each topic.

"All seminar materials and formats have been refined through pilot tests in both business and government settings," Fichtner said. "On the basis of these tests, we believe the program should be presented for a group of no more than 20 employees and their spouses, to insure thorough involvement by the participants."

A company which establishes the seminar program and purchases the basic "presentation kit" — which includes the leadership guides and audio-visual components — can then schedule the seminars on a regular basis for employees approaching retirement.

Employees participating in the seminar program will receive a one year membership in AIM, which provides a wide range of benefits and services to members aged 50 and over. Included are low-cost, high quality health and life insurance programs; worldwide travel programs; mail-order pharmacies service and a seniors magazine — Dynamic Maturity — edited especially for men and women in the 50-65 age bracket.

Membership dues in AIM are $1 per year, or $8 for three years. Both AIM and AARP are non-profit, non-partisan organizations serving older Americans.

Arts Center Confirms School Shows

With Federal assurance that fuel will be made available for educational field trips, and school officials enthusiastic about the quality of programming to be offered, the New Jersey Highway Authority today announced that it has scheduled free shows at the Garden State Arts Center for 210,000 school children in the spring and fall.

Commissioner Joseph C. Irwin of the Authority, which operates the Arts Center on the Garden State Parkway, said arrangements have been completed for 42 musical productions — 26 in the spring and 16 in the fall — under the auspices of the Garden State Arts Center Cultural Fund.

Commissioner Irwin said uncertainty over the fuel situation had handicapped planning for the children's events, but doubt was removed by a recent Federal Energy Office announcement that fuel would be made available for trips like those to the Arts Center.

"Based on this information, plus strong endorsement by the National Endowment for the Arts," Commissioner Irwin continued, "a questionnaire was sent to the superintendents and principals of all public, parochial and private schools in New Jersey to determine whether, in light of the favorable news, they would send pupils to the Arts Center if the free shows were offered again. An enthusiastic response from the school officials prompted us to complete plans for both the spring and fall series."

"The delay in receiving the encouraging information from Washington," the Commissioner said, "made it necessary to cut down on the number of programs this year, but we nevertheless are pleased that we will be able to provide top-flight entertainment of educational and cultural value to some 210,000 children."

Authority Executive Director John P. Gallagher said that brochures describing the programs and including reservation forms will be sent soon to all public, parochial and private schools in the State. Reservations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis, he pointed out.

Director Gallagher noted that separate spring and fall announcements were made in the past but both sets are being listed now so as to permit schools to make reservations for the entire season.

"We are pleased to advise that free programs were arranged for more than 300,000 New Jersey youngsters last year," the director added. "We would have liked to expand the programming further this season but the apparent restrictions of the national fuel emergency made it necessary to plan a curtailed rather than an enlarged schedule."

Director Gallagher pointed out that four professional companies, all outstanding in children's theater, will perform. They are the Performing Arts Repertory Theater, the Prince Street Players Ltd., the National Theatre Company and the Gingerbread Players and Jack.

The Performing Arts Repertory Theater will present Freedom Train, the story of Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad, twice daily on May 28, 29 and 30. This show is recommended for grades 5 through 12.

The Prince Street Players will offer Pinochio twice daily on June 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7. This is for grades 1 through 4.

The National Theatre Company will stage The Swiss Family Robinson twice a day on June 10 and 11. This is for grades 5 through 8.

The Gingerbread Players and Jack will offer Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf? twice daily on June 12, 13 and 14. This is for grades 1 through 4.

The Performing Arts Repertory Theater will present The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere twice daily Sept. 23, 24 and 25. This is for grades 5 through 8.

Recycle Waste Paper, Council Urges Public

"Unneeded waste paper can be turned into instant cash," said Besley. "Prices being paid for newspapers, cardboard and other scrap paper are at an all-time high."

The state Bureau of Solid Waste Management, in Trenton can provide the name of the nearest waste paper dealer or recycling center. The phone number is (609) 292-7645. Buyers of waste paper may also be found listed in newspapers or phone book.

The council is co-sponsoring an all-day public policy forum on paper recycling Tuesday, April 9 at Cook College, Rutgers University, New Brunswick. The forum will be held in the Food Science Building from 9:30 to 3:45. Speakers and panel members from leading environmental groups and resource recovery industries will examine the problem in depth.

Besley, a professor at Cook College, urged the public to support local programs for municipal collection of newspapers and also, lend encouragement to local recycling centers in their effort to ease the paper shortage.

According to Besley, statistics show that about half of the average town's solid waste is paper of on kind or another, with newspapers alone making up 20 percent of that total. In some towns, municipal newspaper collection programs are providing cash income to help ease solid waste collection and disposal costs, he said.

He noted there are shortages in all products made from paper fiber and said the shortage in raw materials is pushing up the cost of consumer goods. This shortage also is causing a cutback in recycling programs just at a time when resource recovery is desperately needed, said Besley.

The council headed by Besley was established under New Jersey law to advise the state Department of Environmental Protection on solid waste management matters.

Registration is now open in a new six-week photography course to be held Thursday evenings at The Masterwork School of the Arts beginning April 25. The course which will be taught by noted New Jersey freelance photographer Jay Jones will be given at The Masterwork Music and Art Foundation, Morris County Park Commission Cultural Center, 300 Mendham Road, Morristown, New Jersey.

The course will cover both black-and-white as well as color photography with special accent on such areas as proper camera control, lighting-on-a-budget, and photography for profit. "We're also going to try to delve into areas of special interest to those particular people taking the program," says Jones. "Practical application and technical know-how have as much a place in any good course as the esthetic aspects of photography."

Jones won two First Place and one Third Place awards for the Bernardville News in the 1973 Best Newspaper Contest sponsored by the New Jersey Press Association recently.

To register for this course or for further information, those interested can write to The Masterwork School of the Arts or call the Masterwork office weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at 538-1860.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(April 20 through April 26)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Surprise is in store, Ari. One with unorthodox ideas enters picture and stirs your already vivid imagination. Don't be too quick to change patterns. Remember, dear friend, that today's avant-garde may be tomorrow's cold potato. You have chance to experience unusual joie de vivre before end of week.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Minor setback may occur first part of week. Don't fret, Taurus, for it will be just a temporary thing. Press on. Tell treader that if he tries to mess with your private affairs, he will be impaled on horns of double dilemma. Week ends on key of B, for Bravo.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Plan ahead. Life is full of contingencies, you know, and you must not rely on mere chance to get you through coming week. Study notes and maps with care. You know from past experience that the best laid schemes of mice an' Gem gang oft a-gley.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Maximum stress test may be presented in relationship with one who is near. In the past, you have been most tolerant. Is it because you just don't care, or because you hope for tolerance in return? Olga knows. Do you? Give this question some serious thought. Week swivels to a dizzy close.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Desire may be almost overwhelming to wing neck of one who nags. Olga's advice is to ignore, ignore. Your blood pressure, as well as your reputation, is at stake. Besides, this person isn't worth it. End of week ideal time to untangle romantic entanglements.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Something rare will be offered in days ahead, dear Virg. Like an unspoiled child, you will know its value, for it will be potent with the true meaning of life. Week tangos to a fancy finish.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You can convey your innermost thoughts with both clarity and charm in week ahead, Lib. So take advantage. Speak up. Toward end of week, close your eyes to certain events which take place at home base. This is one of those times, dear one, when blindness is the better part of vision.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Pluto is your ruling planet, Scorp, and governs your social and erotic life. In week ahead, you have a very active social schedule — and then some. Your life is buoyed.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Keep your eyes and ears open and your lips zipped. Sag, and you will learn an important lesson. Olga knows how difficult it will be for you to keep your usually flapping trap shut. But try you must. Before end of last day, love comes whistling down the pike.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): As far as significant relationship is concerned, Cap, you have already reached second base. Don't rely totally on verbal communication. You've passed that phase. From now on, dear heart, it will be ACTION that counts.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Review long-range goals. Some may need to be updated. Be most careful about small, seemingly insignificant details. Concerning secret plans, be decisive. Try your best, sweet thing, not to be fussbudgety.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): You will want to be generous, perhaps to the point of foolishness. O.K., so your generosity in the past may not have been appreciated. So what? Today is brand new. If you do give, Pisces, you should give as the flowers do of their perfume, because it is your nature, not because you expect anything in return. End of sermon.

for the Garden State Arts

by George M. Wallhauser, Sr., Chairman of the New operates the Holmdel amphitheater. Wallhauser stated, "We have been fortunate to have once again engaged some of the great names in the entertainment world. Our season this year has been curtailed to 11 weeks due to the energy crisis, but we are confident the schedule will have something for everyone."

nounced 5 Wednesday evening dates: June 26, the National Symphony Orchestra with James DePreist, Conductor, Christopher Parkening soloist
in a program of Debussy,

Faun", Rodrigo, "Concierto De Aranjuez", and Berlioz, "Symphonie Fantastique".
On July 17 the National

Murry Sidlin conducting, defected to the west.

On Wednesday, September
4 the Pittsburgh Symphony

Steinberg conducting, Mischa Dichter Soloist.

Garden State Ballet School To Give 100 Scholarships

100 ballet scholarships will be awarded by the School of the Garden State Ballet in Newark this spring as part of an expanded scholarship program made possible with the assistance of the National Endowment for the Arts and the N.J. State Council on the Arts.

Fred Danielli of Nutley, founder and director of the non-profit ballet school, has stated that the spring scholarships will be offered to boys and girls in the Newark area who would not otherwise have the opportunity to study.

The ballet school has always maintained a firm policy under which "no child having the talent to pursue train because of a lack of means."
The broad based scholarship program will offer free introductory courses to Newark area children each year. The program will also aim to seek out gifted children who will be offered an accelerated program of free instruction in ballet and related dance courses.

Danielli expressed his enthusiasm for the expanded program stating, "There is a great store of talent among the youngsters in urban areas lying undeveloped only because of the lack of opportunity to train. The multi-ethnic population of the city holds a vast reservoir of young talent yet to be discovered, nurtured and developed." Danielli who has been cited by Adam Pisker, national president of Association of American Dance Companies, as "one of the finest teachers of ballet in the country...if not the world..."
realizes his greatest satisfaction in training the children.
The children's response to his "let's roll up our sleeves and get to work" approach to teaching his craft, has paid off for a long list of illustrious graduates of the ballet school who have enjoyed prominent careers in major dance companies; such as the New York City Ballet, American Ballet Theatre, Joffrey Ballet, Alvin Ailey Company. There are presently six New Jerseyans on the roster of George Balanchine's New York City
Ballet who had their start under Danielli's tutelage. In the soloist category are Teena
McConnell-Glen Ridge,
Gloria Govrin-Bloomfield
Lynda Younith-Maplewood,
plus Marjorie Spohn-

Livingston, Christine Redpath-Montclair, and Victor Castelli of Cedar Grove.
