River Report Is Tangled Up In Red Tape

Officials from Belleville and three other towns on the Second and Third Rivers met in Nutley Tuesday to get a report on long-awaited flood relief under study by the Army Corps of Engineers. What they got was a bad case of the A-red tape blues.

For Belleville, the problems were even worse than those encountered by Belleville, Nutley and Clifton, who got the word that the towns are worthy of an $8 million project on the Third River — if Congress ever appropriates the money.

Belleville officials, including Mayor Joseph McGreevy, Town Engineer Peter Kiernan and Public Works administrator James Soldo, learned that requests made by the Town since Hurricane Doria in 1971 for flood control on the Second River had not even been studied in the Army Corps of Engineers report.

Apparently, it wouldn't have mattered much if Belleville had been covered for its Second River difficulties, since the Corps representatives described the situation, the estimated $8 million cost of the project is well over the $2 million limit the Corps can spend without Congressional approval. It was evident at the meeting that obtaining that approval will be a long hard climb.

Assemblyman Carl Orechio (27th District), who had arranged the meeting, mapped out a plan of action calling for a united front to persuade Congressmen Joseph Minish (D-11th) and Peter Rodino (D-10th) to move Congress to a speedy appropriation of the funds. Orechio said he will introduce a bill in the State Legislature also urging fast action.

The report delivered by Army Corps of Engineers representatives Sam Tosi and Tom Pfeiffer outlined five "trouble areas" along the Third River, four of which have interrelated problems. The project could not be approached on a segmented basis, said Tosi, so the total cost of the work was estimated to be between eight

Young Accident Victims Improve at Clara Maass

One of two schoolgirls struck by an auto at Union Avenue and Greylock Parkway last Thursday remains under intensive care while another has improved from "poor" to "fair" condition.

No charges have yet been filed against the driver of the car, Enrico Postiglione, 51, of 54 Campbell Avenue, who told police he lost consciousness while approaching the intersection as the girls crossed the street on their way to School Five at 8:39 a.m.

Police Captain Robert Russomanno said the incident is still being investigated. He said the nature of any possible charges may depend on the future condition of the two victims, who were flung against the side of a schoolbus after they were struck by Postiglione's vehicle.

Maria Nasello, 12, of 109 Adelaide Street, and Susanne Whitney, 11, of 65 Overlook Avenue, were rushed to Clara Maass Hospital by Fire Department ambulances, and Miss Nasello was reported to remain in poor condition in the hospital's intensive care unit on Tuesday. A Clara Maass spokesman said the condition of each victim had been improving and on Tuesday, Miss Whitney was moved to the pediatric unit from intensive care.

The girls were crossing east to west at Greylock from the southwest corner of the intersection and had reached the center of the street when they were hit by Postiglione's 1967 Chevrolet, which witnesses said came through a red light at a normal rate of speed.

At the same time, a schoolbus traveling east on Union and driven by Alfred Trotola, 41, passed in front of the oncoming car. Trotola told police he saw the car hit the girls and swerved his bus to avoid the impact, but the victims were thrown into the side of the bus, one of them striking the right front door.

Miss Nasello's right leg was pinned beneath the front wheel of the bus and Trotola backed the vehicle a foot to the rear. Police were immediately notified by a neighbor and Officer Robert Estelle was first on the scene as ambulances also responded.

Miss Nasello, the more severely injured of the pair,

Payroll Delayed

McCoy Will Sue Mayor for Raise

The 29 employees of the Town's Department of Revenue and Finance Department waited a full day for overdue paychecks last week while Mayor Joseph McGreevy and Town Treasurer Francis McCoy fought over a salary raise voted for McCoy by the Commission over McGreevy's objections.

Late Friday afternoon, the employees received their checks just in time to find an open bank to cash them, after McCoy followed an order from McGreevy to take his own increase off the week's payroll. McCoy announced he will sue the mayor to win his full increase.

The clash came last Thursday when the first payments under the Town's new salary guide were to be made, with retroactive raises to January 1 for the increases settled by negotiation between the Town and the employees. In that ordinance was included a raise for McCoy from his present $21,000 to $26,653. Just as he did when McCoy's salary raise was voted on in June of 1973, McGreevy voted against the ordinance because McCoy's raise was included with the other employee's raises.

Last June, McGreevy vowed he would never approve the increase when it came due this year because, he said, it was illegally passed. He said as director of the Revenue and Finance Department, he alone had the authority, under the Walsh Act, to introduce raises for department employees.

The other Commissioners had passed McCoy's salary on the argument that McCoy, as treasurer, does work for all the Commissioners and not just McGreevy.

When Thursday's payroll came around for McGreevy's signature, he made good on his threat and refused to approve it until McCoy's increase was taken off. By Friday morning, the payroll was unsigned and McCoy, whose duty it is to disperse paychecks, refused to do so until McGreevy signed.

On Friday morning, McGreevy sent McCoy a letter order to give me a payroll for the Revenue and Finance Department, giving everyone in the department including yourself the $725.00 cost of living increase.

McCoy, fearful that such a move would mean waiving his rights to his Commission-passed raise, declined to sign the order without a legal opinion from Town Attorney

John Scott, who arrived at the Department offices at 11:45 and drafted such an opinion after meeting with McCoy and McGreevy.

After some other technical difficulties, the Department paychecks came through at 4:15.

McCoy has announced he will take McGreevy to Essex County District Court for the balance of his increase, on the basis that McGreevy is violating the salary ordinance by holding up his pay hike.

"He recognized the ordinance for the other employees but not for me. If the statute applies to one employee, it should apply to all," said the treasurer. "I'm the only employee of the Town of Belleville who has not received a 1974 increment."

McCoy says McCoy's gross salary is now $24,695, which he says is appropriate for the duties McCoy performs.

Free Rabies Control: Clinic Opens Today

Pet owners throughout Belleville will have three days to take advantage of the free rabies control program sponsored by the Public Affairs Department as the clinic opens today for a two-hour session at the Health Department building at 383 Washington Avenue.

The Department will be open from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. when animals can be brought in for the free vaccinations. Tomorrow, the program moves to 60 Franklin Avenue, across from St. Anthony's Church in Silver Lake when the clinic will open from 6 to 8 a.m.

The last session will take place Saturday at the Recreation House at 407 Joralemon Street from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The rabies vaccination program is an annual service of the Public Affairs Department.

Rent Levelers Slate Meeting

Though Belleville's new rent leveling ordinance has been in effect since April 19, the five-member board appointed to implement the law is unable to take complaints from tenants or appeals from landlords.

The first meeting of the board has been scheduled for Wednesday, May 8. Complainants will have to wait until then, when the board is expected to be sworn in before action can be taken on their appeals.

Lighting Cut Has Ill Effect

Caught in a "serious profit squeeze" Westinghouse Electric Corporation was forced to shut down its Belleville plant for one day April 15, giving its 235 employees there a brief furlough from work.

Belleville works manager Harold Rourke pinpointed higher labor costs, sharp increases in material prices and inadequate prices for lamp products as the source of Westinghouse troubles, and blamed Federal Energy Office directives to conserve lighting as a contributing factor. The plant on Washington Avenue manufactures lamp parts and 25 percent of the employees there are Belleville residents.

A Westinghouse spokesman declined to reveal the extent of the drop in profits and sales which brought on the shutdown, but said no further layoffs or furloughs are planned. Future measures, he said, would depend on business conditions.

Rourke said, "It is ironical that while we are suffering from inadequate prices and sharp increases in material prices on the one hand, the plant has experienced difficulties in recent months in obtaining adequate supplies of some materials that are critical in producing lamp parts."

Brass prices have risen 51 percent, he said, while aluminum is up 55 percent and costs of gases and packaging materials have soared.

To counteract these factors, said Rourke, management has sought to improve productivity, conserve materials and seek higher prices for their products. "Unfortunately, it is extremely unlikely that these measures will be sufficient to overcome our sharply increased costs. It is apparent that only substantial increases in the prices of our incandescent light bulbs will restore our profitability to a reasonable level."

Last year Westinghouse celebrated its 50th year in Belleville.

Footloose Family Pauses Here Enroute to Rural Surroundings

John and Alana Borraggine are back in Belleville — temporarily.

By itself, that might not be considered "hot news," but the couple was recently featured in an Associated Press story printed in several leading New Jersey newspapers. The article, written by AP Day News Editor Peter Halden, spotlighted the mobile lifestyle of John, Alana and their 14-month-old daughter Laura. The family returned here for a few weeks after Easter to visit Alana's family, the Truesdells of 491 Greylock Parkway before moving on to their next address, which would be one of several they've had in the past three years.

The newsworthy angle to the Borraggines is their mobility, and the AP story traced their travels since 1971 from Ocean Township to Colorado to Massachusetts to rural Petersburg, N.Y. In earl 1973, they were in Belleville for Laura's birth, and they've already packed to leave here again for the Truesdell summer home at Lake Owassa in Sussex County. There John will set up an acarpenter shop similar to the one he had in Petersburg, where he turned out tables for sale. A four-year veteran of the Marines, he is a graduate of Seton Hall University with a bachelor's degree in government, while Alana was graduated from Kean College in Union and had taught special education in Ocean, before the two picked up their household and put it on wheels.

Halden's story recounts the beginnings of the nomadic lifestyle, when in 1971, a year after their marriage, they went on a vacation trip to Colorado. "Things haven't been the same since," said Alana.

It was in Colorado, near the town of Paonia, that they met a group of free-living young people involved in a low-pressure type of existence they'd never encountered before. More than the clean, open mesas of Colorado, the Borraggines were impressed by the attitudes of the commune dwellers. "We were there for 10 minutes and they accepted us as part of the family," John told Halden. "We even helped deliver a baby. The contrast with life here was devastating."

John and Alana both were born in Newark, but moved to the outlying suburbs at an early age. The Truesdell family came to Belleville in 1950, when Alana was two and John was raised in Union.

Alana's father, Alfred W. Truesdell had worked for Associated Press as a typesetter for over 30 years, and his wife readily concedes the family could not be called the "rootless" type. "When I was a child, my family had moved around a lot but it was different for us, because that was during the Depression and you had to go where there was work. The reason we moved was simply economical."

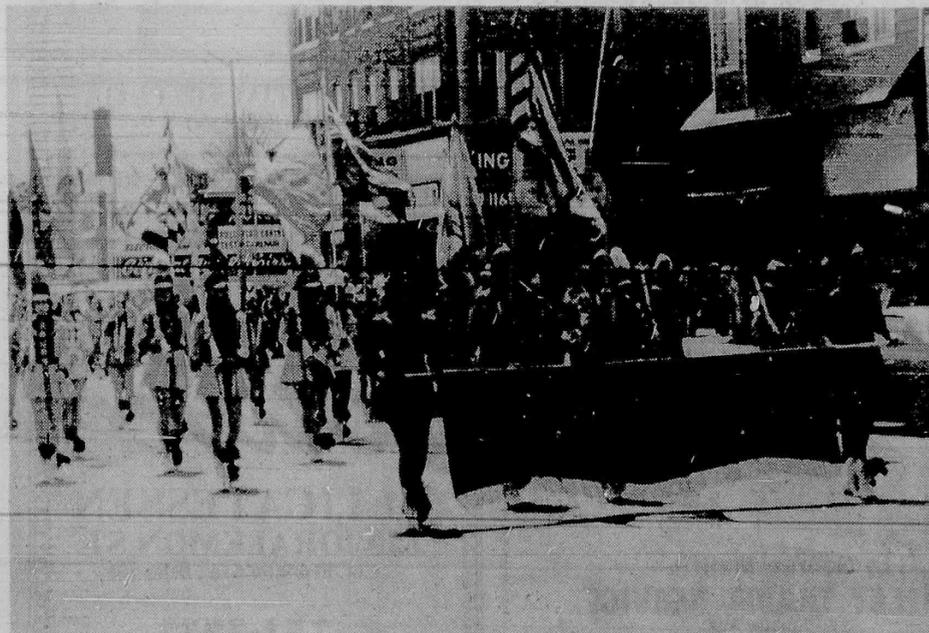

When the family moved from Newark in 1950, she said, they had relatives in Belleville and this was one of the towns they checked out "looking for a nice little house to raise children in."

"While the couple has been more or less "on the road" for the past three years, often living in summer homes and paying the rent by renovating the buildings for the owners, they frequently return to North Jersey and Belleville. We miss our families and friends and come back a couple times each year. But after a while I realize that I really miss the woods, too," said Alana. She noticed that Belleville "seems to get more and more congested, and at night I can hardly sleep with all the traffic."

 Until Laura is ready for school, the Borraggines expect to stay on the move. They concede their lifestyle "isn't for everybody," but they believe no one should be afraid to get out and move around the country.

"We've met a lot of people who are doing the same thing as we are," said John, "and I think a lot more would want to do it, but are apprehensive. Their possessions may burden them down, or they worry about losing some kind of security. They should just go out and do it, and not think about the side-effects, or after-effects."

There's no greater form of education," he said, "and in the end, if someone were to decide that this was not right for them personally, there's nothing wrong with going back to whatever they did before."

The Borraggine family has no idea exactly when they'll "settle down," but whenever the time comes, they'll have plenty of ideas about where they might want to live.

Jersey Employment Up During Month of March

Nonfarm wage and salary employment in New Jersey rose by 18,000 in March announced Joseph A. Hoffman, Commissioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry. The March total was 2,742,500 compared with 2,724,500 a month ago and 2,712,700 a year ago.

REAL ESTATE VS. DOW JONES
 When talking about fortunes made in investments — the mind normally equates with the stock market. However, when we compare the results over the past decade between stock market profits and real estate increases, we'll see quite a dramatic difference in dollars.
 In the decade from January, 1960 to January, 1970, the Dow Jones Industrial average jumped from 688 to 800 — an increase of 16 percent in ten years.
 In 1960, the average sales price for a single family house in many suburban areas of major cities was $18,307. Ten years later, the average price had increased to $27,022 — an appreciation of 47.6 percent. Nationally, the increase in real estate value has been some what less dramatic — 32% — but even that is double the Dow.
 No matter how you slice the cake, an investment in real estate over the past decade has proven to double stock market increases. And the trend appears to be widening in favor of real estate.

Army Corps River Report Ignores Belleville Problems

across the Second River, in 1972. The Belleville officials had expected some attention to be given the Second River problems in the report they received Tuesday, but none was to be found. Tosi said the only Second River study he was aware of concerned East Orange. He promised to check the status of Belleville's request and report back.

There are some areas of Belleville which are included in the Third River, proposals. The River would be widened and deepened to prevent flooding along Fairway Avenue and Joralemon Street. However, the more serious problems are along the Second River and Soldo said "the bridge on Main Street is just one small part of the problem." McGreevy emphasized to the Corps spokesmen that several firms with plants along the river are very concerned with flood relief there.

Nutley's Public Works Director John Lucy said the officials of the four towns had come to the meeting "under the impression that the Army Corps of Engineers would be able to move forward on flood relief." There was some discussion of finding a way to make the maximum $2 million expenditure under a Corps project, but Tosi said this was impossible.

years — Mr. Anthony Veneiro. The new officers were installed by Mayor Joseph F. McGreevy. Commissioners Senatore, Marotti and Strumolo attended the installation, encouraged the membership and extended their congratulations.

Although the club has had a large following and has been meeting since December, there was much to be done to establish it formally. Now, "all steam ahead" with a variety of projects. Of keenest interest to them presently, is checking the site and new building which will be erected on the lot at Mill Street and Franklin Avenue. Arranging transportation will be the next engaging discussion with Commissioner Strumolo. A mini-bus schedule will be set up to accommodate those members who have not other means of transportation.

Any person over 60 years of age who resides in Belleville may become a member. Dues are one dollar annually. If you are interested please contact Mrs. Sally Hood (759-0274) or any officer of the club.

Library Books Daniels Duo

Plans are moving forward at the Belleville Public Library for the spring performance of Ann and Dave Daniels on Wednesday, May 15 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 19, at 3:30 p.m.

A Belleville husband and wife singing team. The Daniels have been delighting audiences in this area for many years. Their recent Belleville performance was at the Branch Brook Manor where they appeared in the "Merry Widow."

Seniors' Club Will Not Meet

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club will not meet Tuesday, May 7, since the membership will travel to Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange.

School Board Hotline

The Belleville Board of Education last week took a unique step toward improving communications with the public when they announced the installation of a "hotline" to the Board offices on Washington Avenue.

The hotline — 751-7418 — will have multiple uses once it reaches its full capabilities. Residents will be able to call for school cancellations in inclement weather, and the line could also be used for "rumor control," as inquiries about all aspects of the school system will be answered immediately or investigated.

Perhaps the best use of the hotline is available right now. Any Belleville citizen with a problem or complaint about the school system may use the line to arrange a private conference with the full Board of Education, which has reserved one night each month for such meetings. Such a system allows any resident easy access to the highest authorities in Belleville's schools. The Times commends the Board of Education on their interest, and we hope the public will return that interest.

The Board of Education "went public" last year in a different move when they opened the doors of one executive meeting each month to give citizens an idea of how policy decisions are reached by the school trustees. The program ran for a trial period of a few months, and after that time, the Board dropped the open caucuses when no spectators showed up.

The Times hopes Belleville taxpayers and parents of school children won't let another good idea fail. If any problem relating to local schools requires the attention of the school board, 751-7418 is the number to call.

Ely Samuel Parker

The following guest editorial was written by Col. R. R. Tourillott, Americanism chairman emeritus, Fort Monmouth Chapter, National Southerners.—Ed) An Indian Chief described the official copies of the document that ended the Civil War. Ely Samuel Parker was born on the Tonawanda Reservation, New York in 1828. His father was a Seneca Chief and a veteran of the War of 1812. His mother was an English. Reared on a Reservation, he was educated at the Baptist Mission School at Tonawanda, and at Yates and Cayuga Academies. After leaving school, he frequently represented his people in prosecuting Indian claims in Washington, D.C. There he was well received and was once a dinner companion of President Polk.

In 1852 he became Chief of his tribe, throughout his life he was the champion of his people, defending them from dishonest land schemes of the whites. He read law, but was refused admission to the bar because he was not a citizen. He then turned to engineering, taking charge of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. As an engineer he was conspicuously successful, holding various important posts. In 1857 he became superintendent of construction for various government works at Galeana, Illinois. Here he became the friend of a clerk and ex-soldier, Ulysses S. Grant.

When the Civil War began, according to Grant's custom, he returned to the reservation to obtain his father's permission to go to war. He became the Governor of New York, not the Secretary of War would commission him on account of his race. Finally, in 1863, he was commissioned a captain of engineers and eventually became his old friend, General Grant, at Vicksburg as a staff officer. In August 1864, he was appointed a lieutenant-colonel and General Grant's military secretary.

Parker was present at Appomattox Court House, April 9, 1865, when Lee surrendered. When it came time to draw up the terms of capitulation, the Senior Adjutant General of the Union Army was so nervous he couldn't write, and it was Indian Parker who, on Grant's orders, made interlineations on the penciled original, and transcribed the official copies of the document that ended the Civil War.

After the war, Parker was commissioned a Brig. Gen. of Volunteers and remained Grant's Military Secretary. Before long he was commissioned in the Regular Army, and given a brevet appointment of Brig. Gen. for gallant and meritorious service. He was married to Minnie Sackett, one of the belles of Washington, D.C. on December 25, 1867. When Grant became President in 1869, Parker resigned from the Army, and Grant appointed him Commissioner of Indian Affairs. There his changes in the existing system, designed to give justice to Indians, earned him many enemies. In February 1871, he was tried by a Committee of the House of Representatives for defrauding the government. Although entirely cleared of the charges, he was heart-broken, and resigned to go into business.

He made a small fortune on Wall Street, but lost it by paying the bond of a defaulter. Later he held positions with the New York City Police Department. He died August 30, 1895, at his country-home in Fairfield, Conn. In 1897, with impressive ceremonies, his remains were re-interred in the Red Jacket lot of Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo, New York, on land formerly owned by his tribe. — Ely Samuel Parker was a Reservation Indian, who with ambition and determination, took advantage of opportunities available to him, and became a leader in the White Man's America.

Drowning Time

Already drownings are occurring in some sections of the nation — in the ocean, and in lakes and streams.

One precaution swimmers should observe is to try to swim in groups, especially in the oceans. This offers any swimmer in distress immediate help and it also affords protection from sharks and other dangerous fish. Sharks are quite often very close to ocean swimmers, despite notions to the contrary, and it is this is doubted try fishing for them from the surf.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Those aroused residents of Rowin the vicinity of the Walter Kidde industrial plant really are "up in arms" over the annoying vibrations and stentorian sounds emanating from the sprawling plant.

In a tactful manner, observing all the amenities of protocol, they have gone through the gambit of procedure that would have opened the way for the plant management to have instituted the necessary remedies to correct the situation. However, the objectionable nuisance persists.

Already having publicly presented their protests to the local governing officials they are now anxiously awaiting correction of the constant irritant. A spokesman of the group numbering over 30 area residents advises that, in the event no improvement is forthcoming, they plan to appeal to the State Health Commissioner's office to intervene and bring about conformance with the environmental code of standards of the state.

Reports from usually reliable sources indicate that those small police cars objected to by PBA President McCabe as being unsuited for police work, will be turned over to the auxiliary police work and be replaced by bigger new type Pontiacs, but one asks why such "gas eaters," if conservation is the present objective of the department? What was the matter with the usually dependable Plymouths?

Will a new controversy be engendered by a new school board member's move to appoint an out of the system's membership to a principalship in the school system? Persistent reports indicate such a controversy is imminent with much resultant wrangling.

It could be the beginning of a move to erase local school board politics from the scene. A most beneficial trend if it can be accomplished.

Despite the fact the progressively minded Orechio brothers (Democrat Senator-Mayor Carmen and Republican Assemblyman Carl) are from Nutley, another district and of divergent political faiths, nonetheless, we recognize their progressive legislative policies and now call upon them to institute, if possible, the enactment of much needed legislative reform that could benefit all homeowners and apartment dwellers who are finding out the hard way that the fire insurance "protection" they have carried for years provides no protection against severe financial hardship when trying to restore a burned-out household.

Each year, many victims of fires in this state find out from their insurance agent that the amount of money they are to receive from their insurance carrier is nowhere near the amount on the face of the policy, and the family will have to dig deeply into its savings — to make itself whole again.

The fault is not entirely with the insurance firm. A state statute adopted during World War I — profits insurance companies from paying their clients the replacement value of their property, or from offering fixed-value policies to prospective clients.

Instead, insurance companies have to pay only the "actual cash value" at the time of the loss — which could be less than half the replacement value of the lost item.

Depreciation enters into the calculations and can prove most costly to the insured party. This rule has been on the books since World War I and no one has questioned it or tried to change it.

This column wishes that such qualified and competent legislative leaders as the Orechio brothers from Nutley would take the van in motion to correct this unfair and archaic, outmoded law which does so much to "cheat" fire victims, while playing into the hands of wealthy insurance firms. Let's hope they will soon act upon a measure to change things.

V-E Day

On May 8th, 1945, the greatest war in history ended in Europe with Germany's unconditional surrender. Looking back on that great military struggle one can see it shaped our present-day world.

Prior to World War II, there was but one communist country — Russia. But a victorious USSR engulfed eastern Europe and soon added China to the list of communist nations. Since then communist or communist-type regimes have gained power in Asia, Africa and even in this hemisphere (Cuba).

Whereas World War I produced communism in Russia, the second war spread it over the world. The other major geopolitical result of 1939-45 was to project America into the role as unquestioned leader of the free and anti-communist worlds. Germany, Britain and France saw their influence diminished.

The recent rise (primarily in economic strength) of the European Community of Nations and Japan, and the military rise of Red China, have somewhat altered the post-war picture of two superpowers dominating the world. Counting the E.E.C. and Japan on the free-world side, the recent change favors the West.

The military situation, however, apart from the economic, has changed to the communists' advantage as the free world grows richer. Japan is almost defenseless, NATO weak. Soviet arms grow more numerous, and of better quality in many cases, than U.S. weapons — as this country experiments with all-volunteer services which force more and more of the defense budget into salaries, less into weapons.

Detente and Vietnam have produced a lessening of support among the general public for a strong military; herein lies the danger of the free world. If this trend continues, at some time in the future the "hungry" nations will be tempted to use their superior military force to take what they want, and do as they wish.

Publish Fifth Installment Of 'Dissolution Of Society'

By Frank A. Orechio

This week, The Sun presents the fifth installment in its serialization of Jack R. Nageley's "The Dissolution of Society."

Throughout this series, Nageley has been developing and defining a concept he calls "dissolution." He views dissolution as both the event and process involving the building-up of society to a point where it breaks-down completely.

In this installment, Nageley explains why dissolution occurs at the "very peak" of man's struggle for survival. Society, according to Nageley, is a human defense mechanism rooted in competition and dominance. When man finally perceives that the real end of his struggle for survival is "no more than the attainment of equality among individuals," then society, as we know it today, will be futile and unnecessary.

The event of dissolution marks the culmination of man's struggle for survival. It is the state at which man attains the zenith of his dominion, yet he can no longer labor in harmony with his fellow man. It is a condition wherein civilized existence becomes impossible. It may be regarded as a condition of social entropy.

No matter how incongruous the dissolution may seem, it is to be remembered that the event involves the disintegration of a man-made institution. It is the product of man's creation and the subject of his caprice. It can endure only so long as it satisfies human necessity.

The institution of society has been necessary because of the inferiority of man. He is completely helpless in the postnatal state and automatically becomes part of the social unit known as the family. He is physically inferior to many of the animal species and must unite to insure his survival. His inferiority causes him to be a social person as well as a physical person.

It was a natural consequence for man to become a "civilized" person.

When man achieved dominion in his particular milieu, he was confronted with the need to develop knowledge. His population could not be sustained on the natural supply of food. His assurance of preservation could not be secured unless he learned to regulate his own behavior. And he had to learn to struggle collectively against the devastation of nature as well as the devastation of wars with neighboring societies. The fact of dominion destined him to evolve to a civilized society from the agricultural, the pastoral, and the primitive.

The social aspect of the struggle for survival is not a new idea. It is eloquently expressed by Alfred Adler in a frame of reference called "the masculine protest."

Adler advocates the idea that everyone is possessed of feelings of inadequacy, which feelings are induced by the physical imperfections of the individual. Inasmuch as feelings of inferiority are relative to other individuals in the human society, each individual seeks to escape his inadequacy by tending to become more perfect than other members of the society. The ultimate goal of the struggle is, of course, to attain the state of perfection personified as God.

Developing the framework set forth by Adler, it becomes apparent that the institution known as society has served as a catalyst for preservation. It is the mechanism which allows man to compensate for his inadequacies. It has been assumed to be the means by which man could attain Absolute preservation.

The concept of Adler would still operate as a complete frame of reference were it not for two unforeseeable contingencies. The dominion of the male in Adler's system of thought has given way to the usurpation of that dominion by the female. Consequently, the brute strength of the male can no longer be regarded as the basis from which perfection is measured. And whereas Adler believes that man seeks the perfection of God, it will be observed that such goal will never be realized. Instead, man will attain to no more than being "as gods."

No one can say with certainty whether man will ever know the perfection attributed to God. Nor can anyone say with certainty that God does not exist. However, in that the dissolution occurs at the very peak of man's struggle, it can be affirmatively established that the end of man's struggle is no more than the attainment of equality among individuals.

The struggle for equality may be deemed a negative end to man's labors. If God is not to be discovered either physically or psychically, it would seem there is no purpose in a continuation of a struggle which can only result in equality. However, in the ascension of man to a technological society, the need to attain to a state of social equality is as much a part of the struggle for survival as the need for air, water, food and sex. It has served to maintain the preservation of social order and, at the same time, tended to enhance social progress.

It is difficult to comprehend the fact that the development of man is regulated by a struggle for social equality because man is conditioned to believe otherwise. He knows the pleasure of dominating his fellow man. He boasts of the superiority of his sociological group. And he is proud of the achievements of his nation, whatever the particular.

In the panoramic view of man's ascension to his present zenith, his labor must be analyzed as a struggle to find the god-head. Nevertheless, in the day-to-day struggle for social survival his labor is directed to the seeking of equality in his particular society and, for the equality of his society among societies.

Belleville Guard Is Remembered

To the editor:

When Tommy Caruso was three and a half years young, he started school. He was being transported to Bloomfield, by his mother, to attend pre-school class for retarded children. He learned from his family and from his little books that a policeman plays a very important part in a child's life.

He began to recognize the school crossing guard at the busy intersection of Franklin and Belleville Avenues as a "policeman" from his hat, uniform and whistle. He soon began waving as he rode by. In time, when a red traffic light permitted, the policeman came to the car and shook hands, or said a few words to Tommy. This made him feel very special. The big, white mittens and the whistle fascinated him, and to wear the policeman's hat for a second or two was just thrilling! He would smile all the way home and tell the family about the kind policeman.

When Halloween came, Tommy's favorite policeman came up to the car, and from his pocket pulled out a huge lollipop for him.

Tommy became seriously ill in the spring, and the policeman missed him. After a six-weeks' convalescence, they were reunited at the intersection, which by now had become a landmark for Tommy. Shortly thereafter, the policeman retired from his duties as a school guard, and at special classes. They met once again at the crossing on their last day together to pose for a picture, and the policeman gave his whistle to Tommy as a keepsake. However, he continued to show concern by visiting on birthdays and holidays, and was happy to witness Tommy's First Communion.

It was with sincere sorrow that we learned of Mr. Perry Mayers' passing, but Tommy Caruso and his family will never forget the kind "policeman" who took time out to smile, wave, shake hands, and show concern for a special little child.

Spring's last born darling, clear-eyed, sweet,
Pauses a moment, with twinkling feet,
And, gold locks in breezy play,
Half teasing and half tender to repeat,
Her song of "May."

Susan Collidge.
May, which probably derives its name from Maia, the mother of Mercury, is the last spring month. It's a particularly pleasant month in the United States and most countries.

To us in the United States May also means Kentucky Derby month (May 4th), Memorial Day in most of the states, the end of school, May Day, Mother's Day (May 12th) and Armed Forces Day (May 18th).

In addition to these days, there are several most interesting anniversaries in May. Do you remember the most important of them? One concerns May 7th. It was on May 7th, 1915, off the Old Head of Kinsdale, on the coast of Ireland, that the Lusitania was sunk by a German U-boat, causing the loss of 1,150 lives. This was one of the tragedies which finally brought the United States into World War I against Germany.

Harry S. Truman, 33rd President, was born on May 8th in 1884. On May 20th the first trans-continental railroad met at Promontory Point, Utah, in 1869. The first permanent English settlement began at Jamestown, Virginia, on May 13th, 1607, when 105 colonists settled in that small port city.

And, on May 20th, 1927, Charles Augustus Lindbergh took off from Roosevelt Field, New York, and made his non-stop flight to Paris — an heroic achievement which thrilled the world.

Honey, you're not getting older, you're getting better — and a happy birthday to my husband, Fritz-Jon Bohlen...April 30 was the date.

PLEASE — if you're mailing me items, send them to the address above — NOT to the Times Office, as I don't receive this mail until weeks later — hokay?

That's what I like to hear — a Star Ledger newsboy, Jeff Dunn, found a wallet the other day. The youngster looked for identification in the wallet and then returned it to the owner — Steve Frank's daughter...for which he received an award...honesty pays and it's nice to know there are honest people, still around.

Some friends of mine read the article I wrote about Richard's Clothes Line, and ventured to the boutique where they purchased some clothes — they were very satisfied and happy with the service.

Holy Family CYO will hold their annual Card Party, Friday May 3 at 8 p.m. in the School Auditorium. Tickets are $2 and may be obtained by phoning the Rectory 667-0026. Big prize is a trip for two to Nassau...arrangements for this trip were through the Nutley Travel.

Andrea Mitchell, daughter of John and Diane, celebrated her first birthday last week — paternal grandparents are George and Adeline Mitchell, maternal — Mrs. Pominelli.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Miss Patricia Foselli who was 22 on the 22nd. A senior at Fairleigh Dickinson University, where Pat is a Sociology major, she is the daughter of Tom and Lucille and has two brothers, Robert and Thomas.

May 18th is the date set for the Sabre Cadet Square Dance, which will be held in Jackson's Auditorium, Harrison...sure to be fun for all, even if you just watch the dancers. For tickets: Barbara Welter - 759-5351.

Lorell Alling of Lyndhurst and Lewis Giacomini of Bloomfield were engaged on Easter Sunday. Lorell is employed with Hoffman International, her fiance works across the street in the production department of The Hardman Company. A wedding is set for October, 1975.

Mark your calendar — on Sunday June 2, the Belleville Historical Society will honor the four oldest Churches in town with historical markers...they include the Reformed, Christ, Wesley Methodist and St. Peter's Churches...watch this paper for details.

AND, IN THIS CORNER

I attended the Golden Gloves bout at

BHS, sponsored by the Veteran Boxers Social Club last week...first time I saw a fight, but my night was made because I met Tony Galento...it was interesting to note that many young people attended the event — my thanks to the boxers for providing entertainment which young and old alike could enjoy...who was there?

Glad to see Ernie Ratner, president of the club, up and around again...John Nelson was there, Anna Abbott, Joe Corrado (employees at the school), patrolmen: Harry Lanno, Vin Coscenzo, Bill Escott and Joe Kisal, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Biancardi (glad to see you up and around, Joe), Mike Rosamilia, Commissioner Mike Marotti, Commissioner Mary Senatore, Tony Agresta, Bucky Cairo, Pat and Joe Wynn, Jim Margretts, Bill Hanrahan, Orville Thurson, Pat Barbone, to name a few. Pat Ruggiero was the announcer...when's the next one, fellas?

PAT'S FUNNIES

What group of gals don't know protocol when it comes to their own clubhouse? They could at least appreciate what's given them and reciprocate by attending a dinner — at their own homestead, rather than elsewhere, as well as assist in renovations.

What local florist peddled drooping flowers to kids over the recent holiday? He had it in the palm of his hand, lost it, gained it back — what is this? Practice for the next election — it's amazing what people think you don't know! — remove the rose colored glasses so YOU can see.

So sweet, So demure — to the public, continually receiving thanks for this and that...charity begins at home.

Now really, how dumb can you get? Dumb, like a fox? You've been raising money all year and giving it to all and sundry EXCEPT where it logically SHOULD go...who's your dame in the big yellow house getting too big for her britches? (stop giving to her favorite charity and get back and distribute funds to those who put their lives on the line for you).

What was going on the other night? The bed broke three times and the neighbors started pounding on the walls...

Who is the most famous moonlighter in town, with the peepsodent smile and politician's handshake?

What commissioner doesn't answer letters...whoops, forgot this isn't an election year.

What happened to the boy wonder of the wheel industry? Out of business? — doubt it, but where is Robin?

Sparkling Personality

Barbara Welter Keeps Cadets in Step

A vivacious blonde, mother of three, and juggling a variety of projects is Barbara (Mrs. Ernie) Welter. Her activities outside the home which keep her hopping include the Evening Membership Department of The Woman's Club of Belleville, Unit 105 American Legion Auxiliary and the Sabre Cadet Auxiliary - sponsored by American Legion Post 105.

For the EMD, Barbara has been in charge of publicity. You'll also find her helping out as Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny - two charitable events sponsored by the club during the year. As a member of the Legion Auxiliary, Barbara is the one everyone calls when anything needs to be done, whether it's card parties, fashion shows or decorating the hall for a special event. At the testimonial dinner recently honoring past commander Frank Kiernan, Barbara made over 50 table decorations. With the attitude of "someone has to do it", she'll pitch in and "gofer" refreshments, pick up ads, visit printers, attend hospital parties at the Veterans Hospital and, spreads a ray of sunshine wherever she goes.

Her pet project, the one which she devotes most of her time to, is as a member of the Sabre Cadet Auxiliary, the parents of youngsters in the Sabre Cadets. Barbara is vice president and secretary of the group and on weekends you'll find her acting as a chaperone for the youngsters, traveling all over as they compete in neighboring states. On Wednesday evenings, when Post 105 runs a Bingo game, Barbara staffs the kitchen, selling refreshments to the players, to raise funds for the Sabres. She also handles publicity and is the chief fund-raiser for this group. When asked about her busy schedule, Barbara remarked the Sabres will be competing in 25 parades during the next few months in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey.

Her intense interest in drum corps competition stems from her dad, Ray Kinsley Sr., and Barbara remembers participating in the Pioneers - a corps he taught - for nine years where she was also color guard captain. Her devotion to working with the kids comes from the deep-rooted feeling that this type of activity keeps youngsters occupied, out of trouble, gives them something to do as well as building character and instilling confidence in a child.

Barbara's husband, Ernie, is with the Caballero Corps, sponsored by American Legion Post 199 of Hawthorne.

There's never an idle - or dull - moment in the life of Barbara Welter. She says: "It's hard to explain, but it gives you a good feeling to know you are trying to do something for somebody."

Do you sometimes need to fall asleep? Many people recommend tea, or chamomile or herb tea, brewed mildly on hour or so before bedtime. Warm orange juice or milk are often good too. Read something unexciting, mildly interesting or amusing. Get ready for bed in a hurried way by making your bathwater tepid for relaxation. Adjust windows for fresh air. Get a glass of water for your nighttable. Stretch every muscle you can think of, and relax slowly. There. Aren't you sleepy just thinking about it?

When you think of good service, think of ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 328 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. "Your Doctor Knows Us - Your Doctor Trusts Us". Convalescent aids are rented and sold and we are Medicare approved. Don't forget Mother on her special day — cosmetics, greeting cards, Whitman's and Schraff's Candies and other gifts are available. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

Obituaries

Perry Mayers, 77; Was Retired Engineer

Funeral services were held April 24 for Perry B. Mayers, 37 Dawson Street, who died April 20 at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. A Belleville resident for 45 years, he was 77.

Prior to his retirement five years ago, Mr. Mayers was an operating engineer for the Essex County Geriatrics Center in Belleville. A Navy veteran of World War I, he was born in Paterson and came here from Brookline, Mass.

Mr. Mayers is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nora Kelly Mayers; a son, Perry B. Jr. of Belleville; four daughters, Mrs. Mitzi Caruso of Point Pleasant Beach, Mrs. Eileen Brophy of Spring Lake, Mrs. Margaret Higgins of Manasquan, and Mrs. Dorothy Ehlinger of Okemos, Mich.; two brothers, Robert of Shark River, and David of Essex Fells; two sisters, Mrs. May Thompson and Mrs. Grace Wood of Ocean Grove; 18 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Reverend Chapin; Led Montgomery

Funeral services were held April 24 in the First Presbyterian Church of Hanover, East Hanover, for the Rev. Oliver W. Chapin of East Hanover who died April 20 in Morristown Memorial Hospital. Former minister of Montgomery Presbyterian Church in Belleville, he was 65.

Born in St. James, Mo., Rev. Chapin most recently was affiliated with the First Presbyterian Church of Hanover, having become minister there in 1959. From 1941 to 1959 he served as minister of Montgomery Presbyterian Church.

A 1931 graduate of Presbyterian College, Rev. Chapin was ordained in 1934 following his graduation from the Princeton Theological Seminary. Also in 1934 he took his first ministerial position with the First Presbyterian Church of Margaretville, N.Y.

Rev. Chapin was department chaplain for the Belleville Police Department and later the East Hanover Police Department. He was also a moderator for the Newark Presbytery, and active in committee work for the Newton Presbytery.

One shopping spree.
Four bargains.
Four checks.

Here at Midlantic National Bank, we have a checking account that's free. It's called Chec-King and it's really a two-service account: stand-by credit and free checking.

The stand-by credit lets you write checks even when you don't have the money in your account. It works like an immediate loan you give yourself.

Once you qualify for the credit, whether you use it or not, your checking account is absolutely free. You'll have no monthly maintenance charges, no per-check charges, and no required minimum balance.

You can apply for Chec-King at any office of Midlantic National Bank or by calling us at 266-6000.

National Oratorical Competition Held at Belleville High School

by Lynda O'Connell

BHS recently played host to the Thirty-Seventh Annual National High School Oratorical Contest sponsored by the American Legion.

The contest, which is divided into two parts, is based solely on the Constitution. The first part being a prepared oration, the contestant is allowed no less eight minutes nor more than ten. The second part, extemporaneous feature is drawn five minutes prior to delivery of speech. This feature is to test the speaker's knowledge of the subject, the extent of his research, and to discuss extemporaneously the topic related to the basic principals of government under the Constitution.

Reasoner Movie Exposes Apathy

by Phyllis Rotondo

On March 29, all senior, junior, and sophomore English and speech classes saw a movie entitled "The Detached American." The movie, narrated by Harry Reasoner, is one of a series of films being shown as educational resources for Belleville High School students.

"The Detached American" is an interesting title and an invitation to thought as is the entire movie. The theme of this movie centers around the fact that people just don't want to get involved with affairs other than their own.

The movie sets out by fixing its all-seeing lens on a stabbing that takes place in the middle of the night. Although the incident is witnessed by 30 bystanders, no one offers to help the victim. This shocking happening opens the story.

It then goes on to illustrate another facet of society. A husband and wife who think of each other in terms of market value find that circumstances clash when feelings come out. The scene looks very familiar. Men all play roles in society, but they sometimes get caught up in the acting and forget to be themselves.

testants were as follows: Brian Pastuszewski, from South Catholic High School in Hartford, Connecticut. Brian talked chiefly on the importance of the American people in the government, placing people superior.

From Madonna H.S. in Niagra Falls came Sharon Ambrosio. Sharon spoke of the Constitution as a living growing and changing one. Through the elastic clause and amendments, she stated, the constitution has made itself eternal.

Contestant number three from Morris Hills H.S. in Rockaway was Adam Eisgrau. Adam stressed the importance of being free and democratic Americans. Also stating "If liberty is ours to

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS IN SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

Pellegrino-Delano Ceremony Is Performed In Holy Family

Mrs. Anthony Pellegrino - nee Patricia Delano

Wedding vows were exchanged April 28 in Holy Family Church by Miss Patricia M. Delano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Delano of 235 Overlook Avenue and Anthony V. Pellegrino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerardo Pellegrino of Bloomfield.

The Rev. Kevin Hanbury performed the ceremony and a reception followed at Richfield Regency, Verona. Guitarists were Thomas Delano, Louis Nasti and Joseph Riccardelli while vocalists were Thomas Delano and Cathy Mathias.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white sate-peau fashioned with a high neckline, lace collar, renaissance sleeves and detachable train and accented with lace and seed pearls.

A Camelot headpiece of lace and pearls held her elbow length bouffant veil and she carried white roses, babies breath and stephanotis.

Miss Donna Gelok of Pine Brook was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Clare Testa of Nutley, Miss Donna Sessa of Belleville, Miss Anna Marie Sessa of Newark, Miss Marie Pellegrino of Bloomfield, Miss Francine Dancilo of West Orange, Miss Sharon Fontana of Bloomfield and Miss Gale Sessa of Harrison.

Their gowns were white, printed with red rosebuds with wide ruffles at the hemline, puffed sleeves and gathered bodice. White ruffled picture hats and white wicker baskets with red, pink and white carnations, white roses, daisies and babies breath completed their outfits.

Mrs. Delano chose a sea foam green gown with silver beaded bodice and chiffon skirt while the groom's mother was in a dusty rose gown with an overlay of gold brocade white chiffon. Corsages were of orchids.

The couple are honeymooning in San Francisco, Hawaii and Las Vegas and will live in Belleville.

Mrs. Peter Fazio - nee Jane Klein

Jane Lynn Klein, Peter Fazio Wed

Miss Jane Lynn Klein, daughter of Mrs. Geraldine Klein of 155 Franklin Avenue and Peter Gregory Fazio III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Fazio Sr. of Hewitt Avenue were married April 28 at Westmount Country Club, West Paterson by Rabbi Barry Greene of Temple B'nai Jeshurun. A reception followed.

The bride wore an ivory princess gown accented with seed pearls and gold beading and fashioned with wedding band collar, long trumpet sleeves and A-line skirt.

A beaded headpiece held an ivory chapel veil and she carried a cascade of yellow roses, daisies and babies breath.

Miss Franci Wohl of Spring Valley, New York was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Cuzzo of Bloomfield, Mrs. George Marino of Parlin, Miss Elisa

Harris of Woodmere, Long Island and Mrs. Matthew Ferrara of West Paterson.

Their blue gingham matte jersey gowns with ruffles of white were topped with capes of dotted gingham jersey. They carried baskets of spring flowers.

Vincent DelGuercio of Cedar Grove was best man. Ushers were George Marino of Parlin, Charles Cuzzo of Bloomfield and John Klein of Belleville.

Mrs. Fazio, an alumna of Belleville High School, is a student at Jersey City State College.

Mr. Fazio, a graduate of Belleville High School and Fairleigh Dickinson University, is vice president of Pietro Fazio Inc. Construction Firm, Belleville.

The couple are honeymooning in Curacao and Puerto Rico and will live in Glen Ridge.

St. Mary's Church Is Setting For Luzzi-Cosgrove Nuptials

Miss Donna Cosgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cosgrove of 16 Gonelli Street and Michael Luzzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Luzzi of 57 Ellen Street were married April 28 at St. Mary's Church.

The Rev. Robert Grandstrand performed the ceremony and a reception followed at Vecchiarello's, Little Ferry.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an ivory organza gown with Alencon lace bodice and sleeves, scalloped hemline and train.

A lace and pearl trimmed mantilla was worn on her head and she carried roses and gardenias.

Miss June Cosgrove of Nutley was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Sharyn Hemerick of Belleville sister of the bride, Mrs. JoAnn Luzzi and Miss Joanne Luzzi of Nutley, sister-in-law and sister of the groom, Miss Linda Gitto and Miss Kathy Kasper of Nutley.

Their halter gowns were in Nile green with hooded long sleeved jackets. The honor attendant carried yellow daisies while the others had yellow and white daisies.

Ray Luzzi of Nutley served his brother as best man. Ushering were John Hemerick of Belleville, brother-in-law of the groom, the groom's brother, Louis Luzzi of Nutley, his cousin, Chris Pollina of Clifton and the bride's cousin, Jimmy Cervena of Bloomfield.

Both mothers wore mint green gowns. Mrs. Cosgrove had a corsage of gardenias and the groom's mother had white camellias.

Mrs. Luzzi, a graduate of Nutley High School and Capri Institute of Hair Design, Clifton, is with Vincent, Clifton, is with Vincent, Franklin Lakes.

Mr. Luzzi, also a Nutley High School alumnus, is with Power Industrial Products, Inc., Rutherford.

The couple are honeymooning in Barbados, West Indies and will live in Lyndhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Ryan Married For 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Ryan of Clinton Street, Belleville celebrated their 50th wedding Anniversary on April 27th. Following a Mass at St. Peter's Church in Belleville, where the happy couple was married on April 30th, 1924, a dinner party was held at the Robin Hood Inn, Clifton where family and friends gathered to honor the couple.

Members of the family at the event were James F. Ryan, Jr. of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Keown of Little Falls, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ryan of Nutley, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Ryan of Petaluma, California, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Malloy of Nutley and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Murphy of Belleville. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan also have 13 grandchildren who were in attendance at the party.

Born in County Mayo, Ireland, Mr. Ryan came to the United States in 1912. He is retired from the Pittsburgh Paint and Glass Company, Newark and has been active over the years in many of the organizational functions in Belleville. A further distinction Mr. Ryan holds is that of being the oldest living member of the Belleville Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Mrs. Ryan, the former Julia Dunleavy, is a lifelong resident of Belleville. She is currently active in the Rosary Society of St. Peter's Church, Catholic Daughters of America and the Belleville Chapter of the Senior Citizen's Club. Mrs. Ryan is retired from the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company where she was employed for more than 40 years.

Holy Name Society's Mother's Day Breakfast

The 29th annual Mother's Day Communion Breakfast, sponsored by the Holy Name Society of Holy Family Church, Nutley, will be held on Sunday, May 5.

This event honors the mothers, living or deceased, of all the men who attend. As in previous years, Mother's Day cards will be sent to the living mothers.

This affair should be quite enjoyable as the guest speaker will be Brother Robert McNamara of Essex Catholic High School, Newark. Besides being a teacher, Brother McNamara is the coach of the championship basketball team at Essex Catholic.

Tickets at $2.75, are available from ushers or at the rectory, or by calling 751-1872.

At St. Paul's Handel's 'Messiah' Sunday Afternoon

The Community Choir, now in its fourth season, will present Handel's "Messiah", parts II and III (complete) Sunday, May 5 at 4 p.m. at St. Paul's United Church of Christ, 10 St. Paul's Place, Nutley.

Valeria W. Peed, Minister of Music of St. Paul's will direct the choir. John Rodland, Minister of Music of the West Side Presbyterian Church of Ridgewood is guest organist. He has accompanied all previous concerts.

Other assisting artists are: Beverly Bower, soprano of Westwood. Miss Bower made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera in 1965. She has sung also with the Vienna State Opera, Vienna, Austria, the National Opera Company and the New York City Opera. She has charmed audiences as at least a dozen different opera heroines in "La Traviata", "Manon", "Faust", "Fledermaus", "Cosi Fan Tutti", "The Merry Widow", "The Magic Flute", "The Abduction from the Seraglio", "Rigolette", "La Boheme", "Mignon" and many more.

In addition, her lovely voice has been heard in scores of concerts throughout the country with leading symphony orchestras and music festivals.

For the past three years, Miss Bower has been involved in concert work, solo engagements in various churches and bringing opera to young people in her lecture concerts.

Anne Cleaves, contralto of Ridgewood, is currently soloist at The Riverside Church, New York City and the Metropolitan Synagogue, New York City. The world premiere of "The Feast of the Ingathering" by Alice Parker, was dedicated to Mrs. Cleaves. Frederick Swan and the Riverside Church Choir.

She has appeared as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra in traditional Christmas performances of the "Messiah", and sung three seasons in the Philadelphia Bach Festival. She was in the premiere performance of "The Green Seasons" by Richard Marcus, a ballet with folk singers, has appeared with the Pennsylvania Ballet Company and as soloist with the Rochester Philharmonic, Crossroads Festival of Dartmouth College and Musica Sacra of Central Presbyterian Church, New York City.

Robert Owen Jones, tenor, of Manhattan, was guest soloist in December when the Community Choir presented the Christmas Portion of the

Orpheus Club's Spring Concert This Weekend

The Orpheus Club of Newark is proud to announce the Second Concert of their 86th Season will be held on Saturday, May 4, at the West Orange High School Auditorium, 120 Northfield Ave. at 8:30 p.m.

Orpheus Club is a gathering of men from all walks of life, who find joy in singing. Formed in 1888 by Samuel Ward, Newark church organist and composer of "America, the Beautiful", the club has given two formal concerts every year.

Orpheus Club will feature as soloist Cantor Norman Summers, baritone, of Congregation B'Nai Jeshurun, Livingston. Cantor Summers was born in Canada and studied at Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music and Hebrew Union College in New York. He has won many awards including the coveted William Matheus Sullivan Foundation grant, which resulted in a successful Carnegie Hall debut. He is an accomplished recitalist and has appeared with leading symphony orchestras. His vocal art has received national recognition.

The concert will include selections from folk, sacred, classical and contemporary music and should be enjoyable to all.

The club this season has been under the able direction of Donald Gage, well known musical artist, teacher and conductor. Robert Pagano will be piano accompanist. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children and are available at the door. Two Nutley residents are members of the club: Henry M. Ohlandt and Misak K. Murchician.

It's fine to think you're usually right, as long as you can keep it a secret.

The best way to get your share of the wealth of the country is to work hard for it.

VFW Rehabilitation Program Help Many In Need

V. F. W. Rehabilitation programs provide the following services: They help sick veterans to enter V.A. Hospitals, inform GI's of educational benefits, where to get death certificates, marriage licenses, birth certificates, divorce papers, counseling on job opportunities, disability compensation, pension, hospitalization and dependent benefits.

Orphans, widows, aged, emotionally disturbed are helped thru auxiliary programs. Veterans and dependants are advised by qualified persons on burial provisions and benefits due them. Many needy veterans receive emergency financial help for medical and dental care, eye-glasses, artificial limbs, fuel and summer camp for their children.

In times of disaster, auxiliary volunteers provide food, clothing, household needs. Many handicapped and aged persons depend solely on volunteer drivers to take them to and from clinics and doctors offices.

Bergen Auxiliary Honors President At Testimonial

Bergen County American Legion Auxiliary sponsored a Testimonial Dinner Danc honoring State Auxiliary President Mrs. Ethel Huggard on Saturday April 27th at Imperial Manor, Route #4, Paramus. Ticket Chairman was Mrs. Clifton Everson of Teaneck. Mrs. James Lindsay, also Teaneck, was Dinner Chairman.

Mrs. Huggard, now residing in West Milford, has been an active member of Dumont Auxiliary Unit #110 since 1949 and was its President in 1952. She served on many important County Committees and in most offices prior to her election as Bergen County President 1963.

On the State level, she held all major Chairmanships, served as the Auxiliary Representative to East Orange V.A. Hospital two years and to Lyons V.A. four years, and has an outstanding record in all offices held since election to the Department staff in 1968.

Mrs. Huggard has two daughters and four grandchildren, works as a secretary at Greater Paterson General Hospital, Wayne, and is active in community affairs in any "spare" time.

At the next Department Executive Meeting, 9:30 a.m. May 4th at the Post Inn, Iselin, all County 1st Vice-President (or the one expected to serve as County President 74-75) are invited to attend.

Mothers, Kids Tour Sub At Hackensack

On Wednesday, April 17, the Youth Department of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville sponsored a very interesting excursion to the Submarine Memorial Association located at the Hackensack River in Hackensack. Mrs. William Van Holland, chairman of the Youth Department, arranged to have 60 mothers and their children tour the USS LING which was stricken from the Navy Register in December, 1971, and donated to the Submarine Memorial Association to be preserved as a memorial.

Needless to say, the tour which lasted close to one hour was most fascinating to mothers as well as their children. They were allowed to tour the Control room, Manuevering Room, Forward Torpedo Room and the Main Engine Room while also being encouraged to touch instruments.

The Submarine Memorial Association members agreed that the USS LING was too valuable a part of history to be lost and they petitioned the Navy to bring the submarine to Hackensack and make it available to the public for tours. Members of the Junior Woman's Club and their children are most grateful that the Navy agreed with the request. Don't miss this most exciting and informative experience!

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director National Institute of Mental Health

Keeping Up
The most notable trend in the mental health movement in recent years has been the shifting of patients from the large State mental hospitals back to their home communities.

The trend has been paralleled—and facilitated—throughout the country by the establishment of community mental health centers.

This has created a tremendous need for trained professional personnel—including nurses.

Jamboree Attracting Big Names

Bernard J. Gallagher, director of the Essex County Office on Aging, today announced that several prominent county senior citizens have agreed to perform at the free Senior Citizens Jamboree. The Jamboree is open to the public and will be held on Tuesday, May 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at South Mountain Arena in West Orange.

Director Gallagher said that invitations to perform had been accepted by the senior choral groups of R.S.V.P., Essex County College, The Montclair YWCA and the Newark Day Center.

Also, there will be additional senior performances by Mildred Blessing, a duet of Alexander and Perrante of Nutley and well-known Danny Hope. Any other talented seniors who would like to perform should contact the Essex County Office on Aging at 751-6050.

It was also announced that approximately fifty agencies serving the county's seniors have already agreed to be present to provide information and services. Some of the participating agencies include community nursing service of Meals on Wheels, the County Nutrition Project, United of VAULTS BURG Service Organization, Mt. Carmel Guild, East Orange Senior Outreach, Red Cross, Essex County College, Newark office of Elderly Affairs, Jewish Vocational Service and more. It was expected that by Jamboree time there will be participation by some seventy-five different agencies and groups serving our county's senior citizens.

Director Gallagher also announced that through cooperation with some local health departments and hospitals free medical tests will be offered to the seniors.

Exams will be given for hypertension, diabetes, eyes, hearing, hemoglobin, dental and vital capacity. The Senior Citizen Jamboree, the first of its kind ever held in Essex County, is being sponsored jointly by the Essex County Office on Aging, by the Essex County Park Commission and the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders. Any interested citizen is invited to attend this free day of recognition for our county's seniors.

Seniors are reminded to pack a picnic lunch at the facilities at Turtle Back Zoo which will be available free of charge.

For further details, Gallagher urged citizens to contact his office located at 520 Belleville Avenue, Belleville, 07109; (201) 751-6050.

Minish Asks Up Tax Exempt Rate

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District - New Jersey, this week will reintroduce his legislation to increase the personal exemption rate to $1,000.

Minish, who is a longtime sponsor of legislation to boost the exemption rate, called for prompt action on the proposal.

In a letter to Chairman Wilbur Mills of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, Minish said the increase "is necessary at this time in order to prevent a recession by giving hard pressed low and middle income citizens additional take home pay."

"Last week's dismal news that the nation's GNP declined by the extraordinary amount of 5.8% in the first quarter of 1974 makes clear that the economy has slipped badly in recent months," Minish said.

"If we can get more purchasing power into the hands of consumers," he argued, "we can blunt the recession before it takes hold and we can help offset the terrible impact high food and fuel costs have had on every family's budget."

"Even so-called affluent consumers," Minish said, "are finding it extremely difficult to make ends meet today. For those who are forced to live on fixed incomes, such as many of our elderly, it is impossible!"

Minish maintained that "the $750 exemption rate per dependent was out of date when it was first enacted in 1969 and it is completely unrealistic today."

Goodwill Regatta Can't Be Called

Belleville oarsmen will be looking for two things Saturday when they face Kearny and Nutley on the Passaic at about 9:30 a.m. — the return of the Goodwill Trophy to Belleville, and a .500 season for the varsity crew.

The results of last Saturday's triangular race with Nutley and Poughkeepsie capitulated the Bellboy rowers within reach of both goals. As the Blue-Gold swept all three races — varsity, jayvee and freshman — the varsity record rose to 2-4 and the three teams showed they could best the rival Maroon Raiders.

But whoever wins Saturday's regatta among boathouse rivals Belleville, Nutley and Kearny will not do so without engaging in some blistering competition. Opposing coaches state definitely that the three teams haven't been evenly matched in years and head Bellboy coach Sam Giuffrida won't make any predictions on the basis of past performances this season.

With the scoring system for the Goodwill Regatta giving two points to the winning team in each of the three races, and one point to each second place team, almost anything is likely to happen.

While Giuffrida flatly states "we aren't taking any race for granted," it looks like the Belleville freshmen have a strong edge on the Cardinals and the Raiders in their race.

The Blue-Gold frosh have defeated Kearny by 24 seconds in their dual race and Nutley by 18 last Saturday.

The jayvees have met Nutley twice this year; the first time Belleville won by two seconds, but last Saturday they finished with a winning margin of 11 seconds. They beat Kearny by eight. They look forward to win Saturday.

The varsity race is impossible to call. Nutley has beaten Kearny a full five and a half seconds in the opener on the Passaic, while Nutley then Belleville by one second in their dual meet; but Belleville came back to shade the Raiders by inches last Saturday. Anything can happen in the Goodwill, and Kearny can't be ruled out as a competitor. The varsity race will prove crucial, however, because Belleville will likely need that race in order to insure complete control of the trophy that was handed over to Nutley last year.

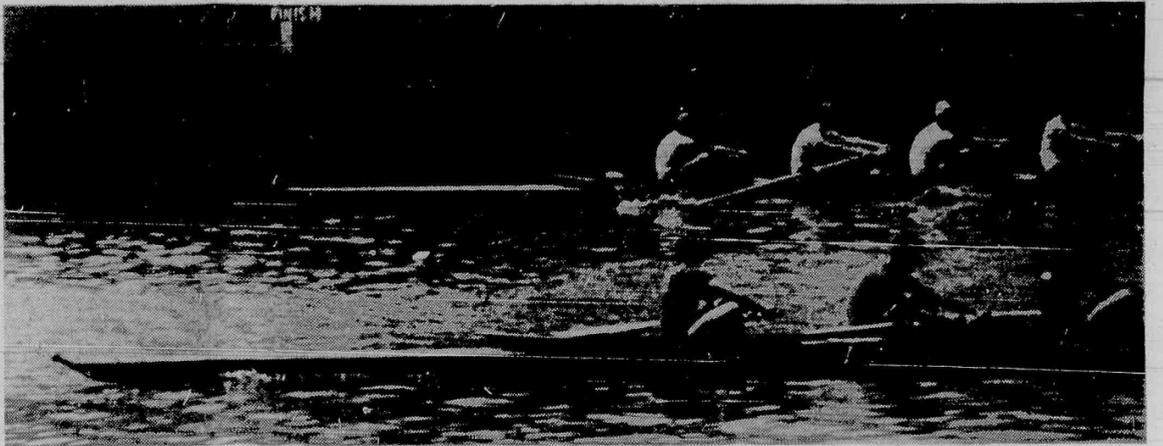

what it will come down to, says Giuffrida, is "the team that wants it the most is the one that's going to get it. This will be the last time the varsity will race as an eight-man boat, because they're breaking up into fours for the Poughkeepsie Regatta. They're a close-knit crew and they know they have a potential for a .500 season. That's what we're gunning for."

Freshman: Belleville, 5:22;

Nutley, 5:40, Poughkeepsie, 5:25.

Varsity: Belleville, 4:58, Nutley, 4:58, Poughkeepsie, 5:08.

Giuffrida candidly admits The Bellboys pulled it out for the win, but not by much. Saturday will be a hard-fought battle, and discounts the Bellboy win asyosure sign the varsity race is sewed up. "We weren't satisfied with the mile we rowed. We had a substantial lead most of the race, nearly by a length at the third quarter. Then Nutley put on a good surge and we were even at the bridge.

Bellboys Take Tumble Down to Fourth Place

by Pat Caputo

After a busy week which saw Belleville compete in five games in five days, the Bellboys must look ahead as they were set to face the Bloomfield Bengals for the second time in a week last Tuesday, and will also be put to the test against Irvington on Friday, and Nutley next Tuesday. All contests are away.

Of the five games played last week, three were played against other Big Ten competition. The Bellboys went into these contests in first place in the Big Ten Conference; however, by the end of the week they had tumbled into fourth place. The local nine could only manage a victory over lowly East Orange 8-1, and dropped decisions to Bloomfield, 7-0, and Columbia, 7-3. Bloomfield now leads the competition in the Big Ten with only one loss in the conference, Belleville has three.

East Orange was the first of the three teams to visit Belleville and they could only supply one run on three hits. Dennis Nadzan pitched five innings to earn the win, and Jerry Hoban and Mike Dondarski each pitched one inning to wrap up the victory and to have a little work, too, since neither hurler had pitched in a while.

The Bellboys jumped early, scoring four runs in the first frame. Vin Lipoma walked and stole second to lead off the inning. Bill Telesco's double could only advance him to third as the left fielder almost fielded the ball. Lipoma scored on a ground out by Joe Cerza. Telesco scored and Cerza took second when the throw got by the first baseman for an error. Vin DeNotaris singled Joe to third and he scored on a single by Joe Panlone. As the throw got by the cut-off man at second base, speedy DeNotaris scored.

Two more runs were added in the second. Pitcher Dennis Nadzan walked and took second on a fielder's choice. He scored on a safetie by Joe Cancelliere who took second on the throw to the plate. Joe, in turn, scored on a hit to left by Joe Cerza.

In the third Nadzan reached on an error, took second on a fielder's choice and scored when Telesco lined a single to center. The final run was added in the fourth. Joe Cerza walked and Lou Grasso ran for him. He scored all the way from first on a long double by Vic Pasquariello.

Riding on top of the Big Ten on Tuesday, they were shot down on Wednesday by an impressive squad from Bloomfield. Behind the brilliant pitching of John Stanford, the Bellboys were held to two hits. Steve Senatore started on the ound for the Belleville Diamondbacks was inability to put the ball over the plate accounted for six walks in three and one-third innings, which was directly responsible for three of the four Bengal runs in the fourth. Until that point, it was a pitching duel between Senatore and Stanford, both fireballing righthanders. Senatore only allowed three hits, and if he can display some more control in the future, he could provide a big lift to the squad.

In the Bloomfield fourth, Tom DeBald led off with a double. Stanford and Bob Morton walked, filling the bases. Mike Casale singled in two runs. Rickie Wells singled in a run off reliever Mike Dondarski, and Dave Fumosa drove in Casale on an infield out. Dondarski allowed three runs, two in the seventh when Stanford homered deep to left against the wind with DeBald aboard. This Bloomfield baseball team displayed a fine defensive show for the Belleville fans, which is something they are not truly accustomed to see. The Bengals are a cohesive force of talented juniors and seniors, most notable Tuesday being Stanford.

A loss to a team of the likes of Bloomfield is easily acceptable, but the Bellboys played poorly on Friday and dropped one to a so-so Columbia squad. Joel Cerza fell victim to his teammates as he is charged with the loss yet five of the seven Columbian runs were unearned. Joe pitched a complete game. The Bellboys were held to three hits and three runs, yet needed three errors from Columbia in the fourth to score two of the runs.

Vin Lipoma led off the inning and was hit by a pitch. Bill Telesco and Joe

Rec League Action Close This Season

After a week of action in the Recreation Mens Softball Leagues it seems apparent that this years' competition will be tougher than last.

In the Monday League all three games were very, very close with Cerami sliding by Garden Liquor 13-11, the I.M.A. winning over Wallace & Tiernan 5-4 and Viola Bros. taking a 2-1 victory from M & M.

In the Tuesday League the Belmonts was over Frankies by a comfortable 18-11 and the Ciroles took the Corine Motel handily at 15-4 but the Roselli — Who Is It battie was tough all the way with Roselli's finally winning it 11-10.

Wednesday's League saw Landolfi's squeak pas the Circle 11 by 5-5 in a well-played game while the Chip Inn routed Garden State 22-3 and Park View trounced Edson Tool 39-5.

All three contests in the Thursday League were quite close as Salvatore's took Belleville Shoes 8-6, Branch Brook Manor defeated the Corner 5-4 and Murray's Pub won over the Third Rail 17-14.

CHARTER MEMBER of the Belleville Little League, Michael Marotti, Amvet coach gives batting tips to Robert Scurelli as Dan Lane catches. The Little League opens its 25th year Sunday.

Worley, Casale Chair Varsity Club Dinner

Tom Mack, president of the Belleville Varsity Club, has named Wayne Worley and Joe Casale to co-chair the Annual All Sports Dinner which will be held on Friday evening June 7 at the Robin Hood Inn. The affair will honor approximately 100 seniors of Belleville High School who have earned a letter in a winter and spring athletic teams or associated activities.

Wayne Worley, employed by the Board of Education, is a 1957 graduate of Belleville High School. While in high school, he lettered in football and was captain of the 1956 team. He is married to the former Grace Casale, and have a daughter Debra.

Joe Casale, a salesman for the Stuart Pharmaceutical Co., graduated from Belleville High School in 1956. A graduate of Muhlenberg College, Joe lettered in football and crew in high school, and football at college.

Frustrated in Two Meets, Cindermen Stalk Orange

by Bob Cohen

It was a very frustrating week of running for the Belleville High cindermen last week as the team dropped two to Mountain High in West Orange and then last Thursday losing to Columbia.

It marked the fifth consecutive loss for the team after starting off the season with two straight wins. The season slate now reads 2-5.

Today the Blue-Gold eson Orange High School. The race, which will be run at Belleville, will begin at 3:30. Then coming up this Saturday, will be the highly competitive and exciting Big Ten meet which will be run at Montclair with the time of the first race scheduled for 1 p.m.

Bob Sanders and Ken Drake seized first and second places in the high hurdles with the respective times of 18.2 and 18.4. They gave Belleville a quick 8-1 lead. Then Mountain tied things up in the 100 yard dash as Belleville could only come away with a third place showing. Bob Cohen had third with a time of 11.6.

Belleville finished second and third in the mile run as the respective times of 5:00.7 and 5:03 for Mike Fortino and Nelson Seda could not better the time of Gary Peters.

In the next event, the 440 run, Brian Wood took third with the time of 56.3.

Drake and Sanders put Belleville back on top with a second consecutive sweep of the hurdles as Sanders had first with 44.7 and Drake second with a time of 44.8.

Steve Budrick kept his unbeaten streak alive as he finished first in the 880 with a time of 2:08.8. His win acted as an inspiration point to the two mile crew as Bill Goodwin at 10:21.7 and Frank Salerno at 11:12.7 grabbed off first and third positions.

In the weight events, Tom Sanders took first with a tss of 132.6", Paul Haverick finished third at 128" 10". In the shot George Vechos was third at 41' 5" and Haverick had second at 40' 7-1/2".

Ken Drake was the only

Bellboy to place in the broad jump as he took third with a toss of 18' 1". However in the high jump, Doug Jackson and Rich Filipek were finishers at second and third with heights of 5' 8" and 5' 6". Finally in the pole vault, Barry Dunleavy at a height of 9' 6" took third place.

Belleville was in a position to come away from the meet with a tie as the final event of the day, the mile relay was about to take place. Yet, Mountain easily held off the challenge from Belleville to win with a seven second advantage at 3:39.8. The final score of the meet, 66-56.

Belleville gave it everything they had against last year's Big Ten champs Columbia but fell on the short end of a 68-54 score.

Ken Drake had finished second and Bob Sanders third with the times of 16.8 and 17.2. Jerry Hychkey had third place in the 100 with a time of 11.0. Then in the mile, Mike Fortino could only take third place but with a very good time of 4:54.8.

Bill Goodwin failed to finish first in the 2 miles but held on for second with a time of 10:18.

Brian Wood grabbed second for Belleville with a time of 55.2. Then Wood, running in the 220, took third with a time of 25.2.

Competing in the 330 intermediates, Ken Drake and Bob Sanders finished first and second with the times of 44.6 and 44.8.

Steve Budrick continued his dominance of the 880 run with a time of 2:07.3. This marked the seventh straight win for Budrick this season. Sophomore John Matera finished third for Belleville at 2:19.4.

In the weights, Belleville throwers were perfect at they took every event that afternoon. In the discus Tom Sanders 137' 11", George Vechos 118' 10", and Bob Feldman-Paul Haverick recorded this prestigious happening for Belleville. Then Haverick Vechos, and Jim Lanno completed the sweep for Coach Semcer's boys, as

Little League Opens Sunday

The Belkleville Little League will open its 1974 baseball season at the Michael V. Marotti Little League Field, located at 92 Montgomery Place, on Sunday, May 5 at 1 p.m.

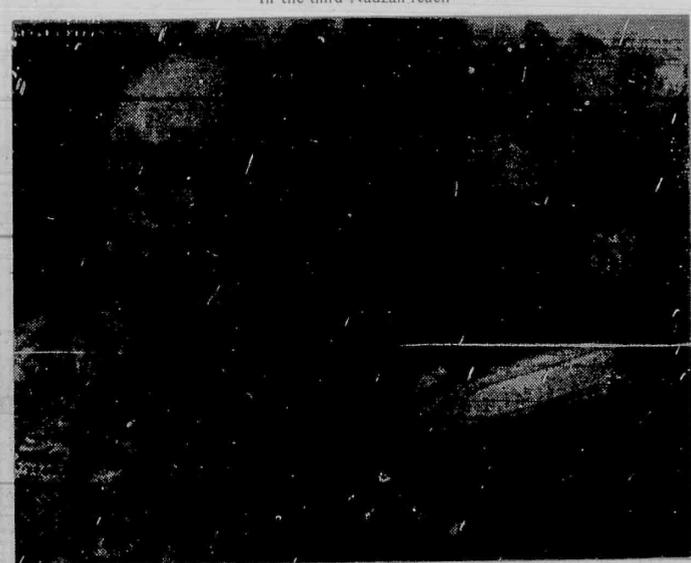

The ceremonies will begin at 1 p.m. with the Little League teams marching onto the field with the Belleville High School Band.

All 16 teams have new double knit uniforms purchased by the Belleville Little League. The following have sponsored a team in the Little League: In the National League: Amvets, P.B.A. 28, F.M.B.A. 29, K. of C. 835, Lions Club, Kiwanis, Milts' Photo, Jolly Cleaners; in the American League: Rotary, Elks 1123, Riefolo, Belleville Italian American Civic Association, (B.I.A.C.A.) Biancardi, Varsity, Landolfi, and Wallace and Tiernan.

Cancelliere each reached base on an error by the second baseman. In the meantime, Lipoma was picked off third. After a double steal, Vic Pasquariello drove home both runners with a single to center.

In the seventh, Lou Grasso singled, Joe Armino walked, and pinch hitter Nick DeFillipis singled to load the bases. Grasso scored on an infield out. However, it was the common "too little too late" stereotype rally. The damage had been done in the Columbia sixth. With the score tied at two, Tom Battista walked. Chris Tivenan singled him to second. Tom Caffrey hit what appeared to be a routine grounder. It turned out to be an error which allowed Battista to score and Tivenan to reach third. Battista then scored with a steal of home. The batter was to bunt but the pitcher was in the dirt, and Tivenan never stopped until he had crossed the plate. Two more walks loaded the bases and the final two runs of the inning scored on a grounder that was thrown away at the plate.

A sweep of the games of the week could have sent the Bellboys flying to their first Big Ten championship under the leadership of Coach Charlie Travers, who has taken second the last three years. Even a loss to one would have left the Bellboys in a tie for the lead. However, the season is not even half over, and anything can still happen, especially if the Bellboys took revenge last Tuesday, a game that is too late for the Times to report.

The pitching staff this year has looked very promising for the remainder of the year, and if the hitters would recover from their current slump, this year will be far from over, and this Belleville squad could surprise many people. During their worst hitting dryspell of the season, the Bellboys failed to score in 12 straight innings covering three games, and failed to put an earned run on the board in 16 innings.

"Action" Jackson finished in the high-jump at a height

The loss was a complete turn about of last years decimation as Columbia reached the centennial mark. Belleville. Although unhappy with the loss, Coach Hafke was none the less content with the times turned in by most of Belleville's runners. "It was a pretty close race. A place here and there could have had a different outcome. But still it was a good race."

Jayvee Win Skein Now at 6 Games

by Dennis Guckley

Belleville's jayvee diamonders extended their streak of victories to six games by defeating East Orange, Bloomfield, and Columbia. These three triumphs, all at home, make it six straight out of as many decisions.

Against East Orange, Greg Petite won his third game of the season. Petite pitched three innings, allowing no runs and no hits and striking out six. Jim Zaccone pitched three innings allowing four hits and E.O.'s only two runs.

"Zac" struck out seven while Fred Racioppi, who finished the game, wiffed one. John Guarino led the hitting attack with three singles as Tony Cortese contributed two hits. Guarino scored three runs; Petite, Zaccone, and Steve Gerard each scored twice, and "Chipper" Biafore, Ricky Toma, Luke Suppa, and John Pontrella all scored once to chalk up Belleville's thirteen runs.

The Bloomfield Bengals came in only to be held to three hits and one run. Guarino, the triumphant pitcher, tossed the ball for four innings in which he struck out six and allowed one run on two hits. Zaccone Racioppi, and Joe "Blade" Baccaro insured the victory from the hurler's point of view.

On the offense, Lou Grasso, Guarino, Biafore, and Mike Cancelliere all had one hit and scored one run each. Grasso, a varsity star, hit a double, the only extra base hit of the game. Also scoring for Belleville were Cortese and Suppa.

Guarino, whose record is 3-0, combined with Bobby Giordano to shut out Columbia 7-0. Columbia's only hit was a "scratch" single off the glove of Guarino by the first hitter in the game. Guarino pitched four innings, striking out seven as Giordano "K'd" three in three innings.

Petite, the Cancelliere cousins (Mike and Nicky), and Anthony Marino cracked two hits each as Guarino and Giordano each hit one. Nicky Cancelliere smashed a two-bagger and scored twice as Petite Guarino, Greg Dunleavy, Giordano, and Marino each crossed the plate once.

Most of our customers know that almost all our business is done within about 110 minutes ride from the store. Once in a while a "stranger" comes in, who lives a greater distance away from us. Almost inevitably he has heard about our service facilities and we have to disappoint him.

Service, of course, is the main reason why we restrict ourselves to this limit. Service for the good of our customers. Our service is the backbone of our business. If we extend ourselves over to great a distance, our technicians have to spend too much time traveling instead of fixing the sets in our customers home. As a result we would have to raise our service call charge, which we try to keep as low as possible. Since we handle mainly Magnavox sets, our technicians are thoroughly familiar with this brand. Our trucks carry a supply of replacement parts for Magnavox merchandise. It would be impossible to carry parts for several different brands.

We also handle air conditioners and offer free surveys. If you should have any difficulty call our hot line no. and ask for LEO.

All in all we are geared to render fast efficient service at the lowest possible rates.

Fem Diamond Squad Fights Nutley Girls to 6-4 Victory

by Sue Cowan
 "An easy win," might have been the thought running through the heads of the Nutley Fems on April 25, in Boy's Park in Nutley. If it was, the Belleville softball victory of 6-4 was a startling event!

The Bellgirls started the game slowly, with two strikeouts and another gal being tagged at first. Nutley scored two of their four runs in the first inning. In the second inning, Bellgirl Gloria Barbone, pitcher, made a single and stole second base. However, Gloria's effort proved to be fruitless when she was accompanied by three outs. Nutley began to slip back in this inning and made three easy outs, which caused much joy in the Belleville stands.

Victory began to prevail, as in the third inning Bellgirl

Karen Guancione broke the ice with a single and stole second and third bases. Accompanying Karen was Bellgirl Sharon Peckrol, who made her way to second base. Unfortunately the girls didn't see home plate this inning, as Raider Pitcher Adrian DeMatteo struck two girls out, with another being tagged out at third.

"Dynamic, fantastic, unbelievable!" were the cries heard from Belleville spectators during inning four. Bellgirls Diane Amoscatto, Linda Diana, Debbie Sheridan, and Terry Freda all scored runs, bringing the score to 4-2, at the top of the inning. The Raider pitcher began to "crack" as the Bellgirls overcame her bullet-like pitches.

Both teams held the score for the fifth and sixth innings. Easy outs became realities as the Belleville varsity worked together, as a unit.

Ending the game, in the last inning Bellgirls Gloria Barbone and Ginger Pitaccio both scored, bringing the runs 6-3. Nutley scored only once more, and thus ended the game 6-4.

RALLY SNUFFED — Bellgirl third baseman Terry Freda puts the tag on Nutley's Nancy Bottge in Nutley's final serious effort during last Thursday's game. Final score saw the Bellgirls win, 6-4.

Blue-Gold Boys Win Two In Wessex Double-Header

by Pat Caputo

Rebounding off their two game losing streak, the Belleville baseball team swept a double-header from the Knights of West Essex.

The first game was a thrilling 2-1 contest, and the second game saw the local nine score four times in the third to win 4-1. Steve Senatore pitched the nightcap going all the way for his second victory in three decisions. He went all the way striking out six and not allowing a run until the seventh inning.

Completely shattering last year's trend of poor baseball on Saturday mornings, the Bellboys' twin-killing gives them a 3-0 record for these week-end contests. These victories could not have come at a better time, as it raised the spirits of the team and restored confidence not only in their followers but Galso in themselves.

Coach Charlie Travers was tremendously pleased with the results of his pitching during the day. Besides the excellent performance from Senatore, Jerry Hoban picked up his first win and a new foundation for the future may have been laid in the first game. Sophomore Greg Petite saved the victory in the first game, in his first varsity appearance.

With Belleville ahead 2-1 in the seventh the West Essex Knights tried to come roaring back. With two out, Bob Toth walked and Bob Brindisi doubled deep to right field. At this delicate point, Travers decided to go with Petite. John DeStefano was the batter and he drove home the only run for West Essex in the first inning. Petite struck him out on four pitches as Jerry Hoban led the victorious Bellboys out onto the field to congratulate the nervous, young "star of tomorrow". Petite is undefeated for the jayvee squad where he is the ace pitcher. Last year with the freshmen, he didn't allow a single earned run, finishing up with a perfect earned run average of 0.00. He performed well under pressure for Travers and it will not be surprising if Travers goes to him again later in the year when the schedule gets busy again.

The "nightcap" was all Senatore. His fastball was zipping in like it normally does but his control was much better. Senatore, a junior, did not allow a runner to third until the sixth inning. In that inning, a walk and an infield error followed by a wild pitch left runners on second and third with no one out. "Stife" then got a strikeout, a pop out and a dribbler back to the box to end the threat.

His mates put four runs on the board in the third. After two were out, Steve Gerard singled sharply to left, and Bill Telesco singled sharply to right. Joe Cancelliere grounded deep into the hole, which the shortstop booted allowing two runs to score. Joe Arminio doubled "Canoe" to third. Then Joe Panlone came through with a fine single to left to drive in two more.

These two victories have put the Bellboys back on the winning track and they plan on staying there.

Before you invest in long-term Certificates, take a long look at the terms!

REMEMBER, Federal Regulations require all Financial Institutions to charge a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals on all Certificate Accounts!

ACTUAL EARNED RATE AFTER PENALTY ON CERTIFICATES IF "CASHED-IN" BEFORE MATURITY

What This Penalty Means

For example: you might own a two-year certificate and may wish to withdraw from it or cash it in after eighteen months. In this event you would be entitled to only fifteen months of interest at the passbook rate currently being paid, regardless of the rate stated on your certificate.

The chart shows how your rate of interest declines as a result of early withdrawal. However, even if you withdraw prior to maturity, you earn more at a savings and loan, since the passbook rate is higher than that authorized for commercial banks.

The percentages shown here are nominal rates, not effective annual yields which take into account the effects of crediting or compounding interest.

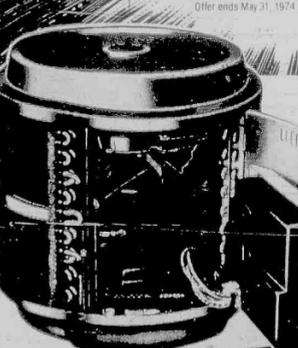

Please note that an early cash-in or partial withdrawal from a certificate issued or renewed prior to July 5, 1973 also carries a penalty. Consult a savings officer about the details of this penalty.

If Withdrawn Between	Savings Associations	Passbook Rate	Commercial Banks
	5.25%		5.00%
90 days and Under	0.00%		0.00%
6 mos. - 180 days	2.62		2.50

Make the Switch

At the Eastern Division of GTE Sylvania, Make The Switch means becoming involved in the development of the most advanced Computer Controlled Circuit and Message Switching System ever conceived.
On April 16, 1974 the Eastern Division, because of its demonstrated superior technical expertise, was awarded a major communications contract to develop a tri-service computer controlled circuit and message switching system that will for the first time ever... permit the switching of digital voice communication.
This next generation system will utilize all applicable current, state-of-the-art technology... optimize existing design techniques and in fact will be an outstanding system design and integration achievement.
The selection of the Eastern Division to undertake this major long term program clearly establishes our engineering organization as the world leader in this technology, a technology that has practically unlimited future application.
At the Eastern Division, The Switch represents the beginning of a new era in the field of major electronic systems programs.
We invite professionals of demonstrated ability in computer controlled circuit and message switching systems and data communications to investigate major career opportunities.
The Eastern Division is unquestionably the place to be.
Right now, we are seeking highly qualified professionals with experience in the following disciplines:

SYSTEM ENGINEERING
ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING
MECHANICAL ENGINEERING
SOFTWARE ENGINEERING
MATHEMATICS
INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING
MANUFACTURING ENGINEERING

Technical areas encompass tactical circuit and message switching systems; data and voice transmission and processing; systems engineering and design; real time systems integration; test planning; simulation; traffic analysis; secure digital voice switching; information processing; and LSI including MOS and CMOS.

Please forward your resume outlining SALARY HISTORY to
J. Paul Costello, GTE Sylvania, Eastern Division, 77 "A" Street,

Tougher Emission Testing Delayed until Feb. 1975

Because the original time schedule was delayed and the mandatory phase of the auto-exhaust emissions testing program has been in operation only three months, the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) plans to hold off until February 1, 1975 more stringent test standards which would have become effective on July 1 of this year.

Richard D. Goodenough, director of DEP's Division of Environmental Quality, said, "We have always felt there should be a full year of on-line operation between the various stages of the testing program. At each stage over a three-year period the test criteria for carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons become more stringent," as stipulated in the state air pollution control code.

Goodenough pointed out that adjustment to the original timetable becomes necessary inasmuch as the legislature delayed the start of the mandatory phase of the program for seven months

Republican Women Plan Atlantic City Convention

The New Jersey Federation of Republican Women will hold their forty-fourth annual convention on Thursday, May 9 and Friday, May 10 at the Holiday Inn in Atlantic City. The key note address will be delivered by Mrs. Virginia H. Knauer, Special Assistant to the President and Director of the Office of Consumer Affairs. Prior to her presidential appointment in 1969, Mrs. Knauer was the Director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Consumer Protection.

from July, 1973 to February 1 of this year. (The program was inaugurated on a pilot basis in July 1972 in order to give motorists and the service industry a full year to become acquainted with the testing procedures. Thus far, only about 25 percent of the state's 3.5 million registered autos have been tested on a mandatory basis and it was felt that in fairness to the remaining motorists phase two of the program should not be implemented until they had experienced the less stringent first phase.)

The decision to delay implementation of the second more stringent phase, Goodenough said, was reached following a consultation with John A. Waddington, director of the State Division of Motor Vehicles.

A public hearing on the new timetable and other proposed revisions to the motor vehicle emissions standards will be held June 11 in Trenton. The hearing is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Cultural Center Auditorium.

Among the new provisions to be considered at the public hearing are tough new emissions standards for 1975-76 model vehicles and testimony is invited from auto manufacturers. These are the first vehicles to be equipped with catalytic exhaust devices as prescribed by the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

A further amendment would require that new car dealers actually test and record emissions data for each new vehicle they sell, thus assuring the customer the vehicle meets emissions standards specified by the manufacturer or the standards contained in the New Jersey regulations.

Under the proposed regulations, the commissioner of DEP in concert with the director of Motor Vehicles also would be empowered to set variances for certain classes of pre-1968 vehicles.

The third phase of the testing program, slated to go into effect July 1, 1975 would be delayed until February 1, 1976, under the new schedule.

Under the current standards which went into effect February 1 of this year the allowable emission levels for vehicles up to and including 1967 are 10 percent for carbon monoxide and 1600 parts per million for hydrocarbons. For 1968-69 autos, the allowable levels drop to 8 percent and 800 ppm respectively, and for 1970-74 models the levels are 6 percent and 600 ppm.

Classic Cars Are Becoming New Hedge Against Inflation

A new commodity is attracting the attention of those who invest in such items as jewelry, coins and stamps as a cushion against the diminishing value of the dollar. According to those who know, this commodity can give even better value than the more traditional items. What's more the object in question is functional and an owner can use and enjoy it while it is appreciating in value.

The new investment possibility is a car - not just any late model job whose appreciation value is nil and whose depreciation is certain - but antique and classic American cars from the early 1900's up through the early 1950's.

Authority for this information is Jack Wishnick, owner of a classic American car museum called New Jersey Antique Auto Museum. Unlike almost all other museums it has the unusual feature of offering all of its cars for sale. The museum was, in fact, the first museum willing to sell its precious commodities. One of its first acquisitions back in 1962 provides a classic example of the soaring values in old automobiles. It was a 1929 custom made American Rolls Royce, that had been commissioned from Inskip, Inc., the Rolls dealer at that time, by Thomas Fortune Ryan of the famous copper family. The most unusual feature of this extraordinary car was the metal; all of it, radiator, grill work and bumper was made of 18K gold! The Museum bought it for $5,000 and sold it soon after to a doctor in Connecticut for $7,500. The original cost of $30,000 and in today's market it would go anywhere from $75,000 up. While this was a once in a lifetime opportunity, there are other examples.

A 1931 Model A Ford roadster in excellent body and running condition, as are all of the Museum's cars, sold for $2,500 five years ago. Three years ago the same model sold for $4,000; eighteen months ago its selling price jumped to $6,000 and today the exact same automobile would go for $8,000. It doesn't take a computer to see the appreciation in value.

And the market keeps growing. According to Wishnick, "The demand for both pre-war and post-war (we're talking about World War II) cars is increasing year by year. Everyone has a second car but not everyone can have an American classic in their garage. It's a combination of nostalgia for the past, fun, utility and, you can't deny the investment aspect."

In 1962 when the Museum which was then called Roaring '20 opened antique car buffs derided the idea of a Museum that featured post-war as well as the old antique cars. But for a new generation "old" is 1920, 30, 40 and even the early 50's. Much of this nostalgia for the past has been generated by TV and the movies. In the mid 1960's a TV show starring Anne Southern called "My Mother The Car" featured a delightful, if unauthentic, Model "T" touring car. While the show wasn't a huge success, it brought a number of people into the Museum asking to see an automobile like "My Mother The Car". Musicals such as "The Boy Friend" a story about the 20's have also fostered the remembrance of things past.

As with all investments, you can invest a little or a lot. The price range of the cars at the New Jersey Antique Auto Museum runs from a low of under $1,000 up to $25,000 and $30,000, with the majority in the $3,000 to $7,000 category. At the low end you might pick up a 1950 Pontiac or Studebaker Sedan, both of them in good running condition and with good exteriors and clean interiors. At the upper end of the scale is a 1929 Cadillac "V8" seven passenger Sports Phaeton with a huge 140 inch wheelbase, a navy blue and silver/lin stripe body, leather trunk mounted on the side, canvas top, musical horns, tonneau cover and side curtains and a Body by Fisher. The price is around $25,000.

In between are the cars for the average investor. The style most in demand are pre and post-war convertibles. Since the car manufacturers are phasing out this style, they will appreciate most in value. Generally the pre-war as they are more scarce. For the post-war convertible you will pay somewhere around $3,000 to $4,000. You will be buying a stylish convertible that looks like new, has low to moderate mileage and is in good running condition. The Museum only buys cars from the original owner or those that have been carefully restored. Wishnick says, "A junker is a junker. If you're a car nut and want to get an old car from a junk yard and work hours restoring it, fine. That's not our market.

For the person with more money to invest, the pre-war convertibles are the ticket. These run from around $5,000 and up depending on the condition, style, make, year and mileage. Some of the models are becoming rarer than the proverbial hen's teeth, and the prices jump accordingly.

But suppose you only have $1,000 or $2,000 or less. Is the classic American out for you as an investment or just as a campy second car? Definitely not. Those bulky four door sedans, big heavy cars with lots of space and head room can be picked up for that price. And according to Mr. Wishnick, they're a great buy because their engines were less sophisticated than those in today's models.

Meditation Program Being Offered Here

The International Meditation Society will present a program on Transcendental Meditation as taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi at the Nutley Museum on Church Street next Thursday, May 9, at 8 p.m.

Transcendental Meditation, or TM, is a simple, natural, effortless technique which anyone can learn in order to improve all aspects of their daily life. TV has gained increasing popularity in recent years due to the increasing scientific validation of the technique's benefits. Scientific research conducted at such institutes as Harvard Medical School and Stanford Research Institute have shown TM to provide a deeper quality of rest than experienced during a normal night's sleep. This deep rest allows an individual to dissolve deep-rooted stresses and strains in the nervous system.

For further information contact the International Meditation Society 109 Valley Road, Montclair, 746-2120.

Insurers Are Joining Mandated Association

State Insurance Commissioner James J. Sheeran today announced plans for organizing the New Jersey Property Liability Insurance Guaranty Association.

The association, which 460 property-liability insurance companies admitted or authorized to do business in New Jersey are required to join, was authorized in a recently-enacted law. It will provide protection against financial loss to policyholders and other claimants in the event of insurance company insolvencies.

Sheeran said he has notified the 460 companies that the organizational meeting will be held at the State Cultural Center, 225 West State Street, Trenton, on May 9 at 10 a.m.

The association will be an unincorporated, non-profit legal entity. The protection it provides will extend only to property-liability insurance.

Assessments against each member company, to be based on the amount of premiums collected in New Jersey, will be used to establish a fund from which payments of claims, subject to a $50 deductible limitation would be made in the event of an insolvency of an insurance company.

At the meeting, a board of directors of not less than five or more than nine persons will be selected. Two of the members, one representing a mutual insurance company and the other a stock company, will be appointed by Commissioner Sheeran. The others will be elected by the member insurance companies, subject to the Commissioner's approval.

Shun-Costly Meat

Cut Bills, Go Vegetarian, Advises Rutgers Botanist

In a time when most Americans, feeling the food price pinch, are trying to match incomes to grocery bills, a Rutgers Newark botanist submits that a balanced, nutritionally sound, meatless diet can be easily and relatively inexpensively prepared to feed millions of people in the U.S.

Dr. Sydney S. Greenfield, professor of botany at the College of Arts and Sciences, contends that a diet of legumes and grains, with a variety of vegetables, some fruit and milk would be adequate nourishment for all of us.

While he says there is nothing wrong with eating meat, the cost of luxury and meat products has risen so much that many American families find it impossible to serve most cuts of meat as often as they would like.

"I think that the so-called food crisis we are experiencing will be with us for a very long time," Dr. Greenfield said. "Food shortages and high prices are worldwide problems that have been developing over a long period of time. The world's capacity for producing abundant food at reasonable prices has not kept up with the rapid growth of the population and rising expectations in standards of living. There simply is not enough food to feed us all."

Dr. Greenfield suggests Americans change their eating habits, eliminating all or most meats, and substituting legumes such as peas and beans, and grains like wheat, corn, and rice as their main sources of protein.

"We must get an adequate supply of protein," he said, "but it is important that the protein we eat contain all of the amino acids essential to human nutrition. Animal proteins, such as we get from meat, eggs and milk contain these, whereas plant proteins generally lack some of the essential amino acids."

"However," he added, "we can get all of the essential amino acids by combining cereals and legumes in our diet. They complement each other."

The botany professor recommends that cereals such as corn, wheat, rice, barley, and oats and legumes such as peas, beans, lentils, chick peas, soybeans and peanuts, be used in a variety of interesting ways to prepare not only nourishing but delicious meals.

Dr. Greenfield doesn't suggest that everyone become a vegetarian, however. "On the contrary, if you can afford them and like to eat them, use meat, eggs, fish and poultry."

Betsy Palmer Set to Star At Paper Mill

"South Pacific" opening May 15 at the State Theatre of New Jersey. Paper Mill Playhouse, will star Betsy Palmer in the role of Nellie Forbush and Metropolitan Opera bass-baritone, Jerome Hines, as Emile de Becque. A classic of the American musical theatre, "South Pacific" has had several revivals since it was written 25 years ago.

On May 17, Paper Mill hold "All-Fresco Benefit II," a benefit for itself for some badly needed repairs to its stage and box office and for the establishment of a permanent Endowment Fund. A special performance of "South Pacific" will be held that evening at 9 p.m., preceded by a buffet supper under carnival tents on the Paper Mill grounds.

May 17 has been declared "Paper Mill Playhouse Day" by the Hon. C. Thomas, mayor of Millburn, in recognition of the theatre and its accomplishments.

Arthur Treacher Will Make Kearny Showing

Arthur Treacher, famed actor, comedian, and raconteur will be making a personal appearance at his newest Fish & Chips Shoppe in Kearny at 300 Belleville Turnpike on Friday, May 3, from 12:30 to 2:00 and again from 4:30 to 6:00.

Familiar to movie-goers as the world's perfect butler, Treacher is now "serving" one of the world's most famous dishes, fish and chips. The fish is prepared in a special batter and cooked until golden brown. The chips are the English version of french fries.

Treacher, English-born, came to America in 1926 to appear in a Broadway revue "Great Temptations," and has been a prominent performer in American entertainment ever since. His dramatic stage career included a starring role in "Caesar and Cleopatra" with the late Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and he toured with Tyrone Power in "Back to Methuselah." His offer Broadway shows include "School for Scandal" with Ethel Barrymore, and the "Ziegfeld Follies" with Milton Berle.

In 1934, he went to Hollywood, where he starred in the first of nearly one hundred films. His most famous role was as "Jeeves," an erudite and suave butler, or, as Treacher puts it, "Definitely a gentleman's gentleman." His film credits include "Wunderbar" with Al Jolson, "National Velvet" with Elizabeth Taylor, "David Copperfield" and several other films with Shirley Temple. His latest role was in the award-winning movie, "Mary Poppins," starring Julie Andrews.

Arthur Treacher also starred weekly on the Merv Griffin Show on CBS, as Merv's side-kick.

Summing up his philosophy of show business, Treacher says, "Read your lines, get your money and go home."

Treacher and his wife, the former Virginia Taylor of Atlanta, Georgia, have been married for 33 years, and live in Douglaston, New York.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(May 4 through May 10)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Honest, straightforward, overly candid Ari, you really know how to zero in on a target, don't you? In week ahead, you must face and hear the honest opinions of another. You can dish it out, now let's see how you can take it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Don't dribble away your days on trivia, Taurus, for the whole earth is out there waiting for you. Honestly, you have so much to offer and there is one person in particular, who is anxious to accept that special kind of attention which only you can give. On last day, go fly a kite.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): In week ahead, you have chance to better understand ancient truth. You experience small epiphany. Share your joy with loved one. Lovely spring days drift by like puffs of smoke.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Chill a bottle of May wine and invite in friends. This is the month for beginning, dear heart, and you have chance to make fresh start concerning personal goal. As week floats to a finish, you experience strange feeling of deja vu.

LEO (July 23-August 22): One with clear head and heavy foot apt to appear on scene. Meeting will be brief but can be meaningful. This person may help dispel personal gloom which has been bugging you. Week ends on key of C for Confidence.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Week ahead for positive action, Virg. For digging, assimilating and learning. Try to take as well as give. You gain control concerning personal problem. Listen to your heart, dear friend. It contracts and expands. It gives and takes. Should you do less?

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): In order to carry on sustained relationship with dear one, Lib, you're going to have to shift gears. Into reverse. Time ripe to tear old, outmoded plans to smithereens in order to make room for the new. Before last day, make commitment, complete and total.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): You have chance to progress in coming week. Scorp, but please don't use friend as ladder. You can move horizontally, you know. In fact, there are times when horizontal is far superior to vertical. This is one of those times.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Energy should zoom. You can accomplish much, Sag, if you don't fritter vigor away in pursuit of gaudy nothings. Before end of last day, Cupid strings his bow and aims his arrow. Week quivers to a close.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Honest criticism may be given. Don't slink away and pout. Learn. Dispatch note/gift to one who has been generous in the past. On last day, you can put one and one together and wind up with a small slice of paradise.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): No exhilarating highs and no depressing lows in days ahead, Aquari. Sound blah? Well, Olga can't invent excitement for you, you know. Besides, unseen forces are at work shaping future. Use this breather to prepare for travel visitors.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Secret plans can be brought to fruition through charm rather than force or reason. Though it rankles you to be thought of as a "sex object"—still, you ARE a charmer, so why not use this charm to best advantage? Waste not, want not.

The true believer in the merit, or honor system, will accept nothing that he hasn't earned.

Area planners Set For Working Session

"Changing Concepts in Planning and Zoning" will be the theme of the 26th Annual Meeting and Conference of The Planning Association of North Jersey, May 28th. There will be workshop sessions starting at 4 p.m. followed by a dinner. The Conference will be held at the Pennington Club, Passaic.

The conference is being designed as a real working session with the emphasis on discussion by the participants. Each workshop will have a moderator and two experts but there will be no speeches. The participants will discuss a series of prepared questions with the aim of reaching decisions on some issues; referring some issues to the Planning Association staff for further research; and referring other issues to Association study committees.

The questions to be discussed will relate to changing concepts of planning and zoning in New Jersey; whether the municipality, the State or the Courts should make planning and zoning decisions; what is the effect of recent court decisions on planning and zoning; which planning problems should be approached on a local level and which on a regional level; what is the effect of deterrents to growth such as sewer bans and other moratoria, what will be the effect of proposed flood plain regulations.

The conference is being planned by an Association committee chaired by William Houthuysen, Clifton architect. Other members of the Committee are William Papke of Public Service, Lee Van Gorden of 1st National Bank of New Jersey and Grace C. Harris, executive director of the Association.

Geometric Art To Be Shown

Three dimensional geometric paintings by Vitalia Hodgets will be displayed in the Foyer Showcase of the Campus Center, Caldwell College, Caldwell, New Jersey from May 1 to 31. The paintings use close color harmonies for structural and illusory effects.

Miss Hodgets, a Cedar Grove resident, won an award from the Allied Artists of America Annual Exhibit, and received first place for professional oils in the Roseland outdoor exhibit. She has had one-man shows at the Korby Gallery, Empire Savings Bank in New York, the Women's Clubs of Caldwell and Upper Montclair, and others, and has been included in national juried shows. Her work has been exhibited in the Audubon Artists juried exhibit at the National Academy Galleries, New York City, and the Art Center of the Oranges. She studied at the Art Students' League and Port Washington School of Art. She has taught at St. Catherine of Siena School in Cedar Grove and currently conducts private art classes.

The public is invited to view the exhibit weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Sunday to 11 p.m.

Blood Bank's Mobile Unit Will Visit

A variety of Essex County organizations will act as host to the mobile unit of the North Jersey/Essex County Blood Bank in May, donating volunteer blood to aid the ill and injured in the area's hospital.

Twelve groups in all will sponsor May blood drives. Montclair State College led off the month's donor activity yesterday (May 1) with an on-campus drive. Among the others, the following drives are open to public participation: Montclair Red Cross Chapter, Park St., on May 9 from 3-7 p.m.; Our Lady of the Valley Church, Orange, on May 16 from 4-7:30 p.m.; Nutley Red Cross Chapter, Chestnut St., on May 20 from 3-7 p.m.; and The First Presbyterian Church, Caldwell, on May 21 from 3:30-7:30 p.m.

In addition, these groups will hold blood drives for their members: Newark Board of Education; Mountainside Hospital, Montclair; Federal Executive Blood Bank, Newark; Schering Corp., Bloomfield; Bloomingdale's, Short Hills; Prudential Insurance Co., Newark, and Englehard Industries, Newark.

Ray Charles will be at The Waldorf Empire Room this weekend. Will you?

Far fetched, no. Far out, yes. And why not? You owe yourself (and family), a weekend at the Waldorf. Special weekend rate includes all the family (with special children's room service and menus and baby-sitting service available) in a luxurious double room and easy access to the excitement of New York—"The Big Apple."
