Candles for Craig on Sale Field Day, Circus, Fireworks To Highlight July Fourth Fete

A traditional Belleville-style Fourth of July celebration will take place tomorrow at Municipal Stadium, with a field events, a circus and fireworks highlighting the schedule. Candles to celebrate Craig Fabian's 20th birthday will be sold by the Craig Fund, a charity organization which aids four handicapped years) age groups. Events will include sack races, an obstacle race, three-legged races, dashes, relays and tug o' war. There will be trophies for the winners and residents.

The field day events will begin at 10 a.m., with contests for children in the junior (6-10 years) and senior (11-14 years) age groups. Events will include sack races, an obstacle race, three-legged races, dashes, relays and tug o' war. There will be trophies for the winners and residents.

The circus, scheduled for 7 p.m., is promoted by Howard Oliver, who has arranged every one of the July Fourth circuses, except one, for the past 24 years. Among the acts will be Jay Green, a juggling unicyclist and a national champion, the Winns, a high wire act, the Barger chimpanzees, Thaddeus, the clown balloonologist, the thrilling "Slide for Life" and Janet and her ponies and dogs. The featured act will be the Winns, with a death-defying high wire act with motorcycles.

At darkness, the audience will light candles to salute Craig Fabian, a handicapped youth whose birthday is traditionally celebrated at the annual stadium ceremonies. Craig will be 20.

The Fourth of July festivities are sponsored by the Department of Parks and Public Property under the direction of Commissioner Michael Marotti.

The sale of candles for Craig Fabian's birthday is one of the most successful fund-raising drives staged by the Craig Fund, realizing several thousands of dollars annually for the local charity. Candles have been on sale throughout Belleville in recent weeks and can be purchased at a special stand tomorrow at the stadium.

Besides Craig Fabian, the original recipient of Fund benefits, other handicapped Bellevilleites receiving aid are William Greco, G. Dewey Imhoff and Joseph Restaino. The Fund last year financed specially-equipped addition to Imhoff's home, and installed a electrically-powered hoist by which Imhoff can transport himself from the street to his raised sidewalk.

Price Drop $3,000 Town Wins New Deal On Next Senior Bus

by Ken Moore

Negotiations for a second senior citizens' bus ended Monday with Town officials gaining release from a commitment to purchase the vehicle for $11,500 and winning a new price of $8,600.

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo said the bus will be running by September on a route that will complement the existing schedule put in effect for the first bus in June. The Board of Commissioners last week had resolved to appropriate $11,500 for a bus which would have been delivered no earlier than a year from now.

The late delivery was the reason given by the only company to bid for the bus purchase, Wayne Bus Sales of New Jersey, Inc. for the $3,000 increase over the first bus bought by the Town last year. George Enslin, the company's owner, explained that another company which manufactures the chassis for the bus could promise deliver in no less than a year, and the cost was computed with rising inflation figured in, thereby raising the price $3,000.

Apparently anxious to order the bus, Strumolo at the meeting explained the Essex County Office on Aging had promised to pay for the new senior citizens' bus and had already turned over $8,500 to the Town. He predicted the County office would be willing to pay the balance of the price and the contract was awarded to Wayne.

However, last Monday, Enslin met with Strumolo, Town Treasurer Francis McCoy and Town Attorney John Scott and agreed to sell the Town a bus for $8,600, only $300 higher than last year's price, and delivery would be made within a few weeks. Strumolo said the new bus, like the one already running a route through town, is a 24-passenger 1974 International. The only variations, he said, are that the seats are two inches narrower and the ceiling five inches lower.

Strumolo said he will ask his fellow Commissioners to approve the purchase by emergency resolution at a meeting Tuesday night. Commenting on the apparent relationship between rising inflation and the bus prices, he said, "the longer we wait, the more we have to pay." The Commissioner thanked Enslin for releasing the Town from the commitment for the $11,500 sale, saying the Wayne Bus Sales Company was selling the Town a bus that had been designated for another purchaser.

Strumolo said he'll confer with his transportation committee to draw up a route for the new bus. "We'll be working on 'covering areas' that aren't covered by the existing route," he said, indicating the committee will consider primarily the central section of town and the White Oak area. Some of the streets to be considered, he said, are Garden Avenue, Joralemon Street, Passaic Avenue, Meacham Street, Union Avenue, Hickory Court, Bremond Street and Linden Avenue, and "definitely" Washington Avenue. He said he expects the new schedule to be in effect by September.

Strumolo said the existing bus route serving senior citizens has been busy, with "upwards of a dozen people on the bus at any one time." The main influx of passengers is at Pathmark Supermarket and Grant City, said Judy Oliveri, who heads bus operations for the Department of Public Affairs, and she added the total passenger count averages about 25-30 each day.

Strumolo said the Department is not considering opening the bus route to the general public, but will keep it restricted only to senior citizens. "We're not in the bus business," he said, "we're just trying to serve the senior citizens who are living on fixed incomes, and need to do their shopping and get around. We're trying to take care of the forgotten people."

The bus presently runs a route four times daily, in about an hour and 15 minutes on each trip. A 15-passenger station wagon will be purchased and is intended for use to chauffeur senior citizens who do not live within walking distance of a scheduled bus stop.

'Helping Hand' Guards Your Children at Play

Some Belleville residents may be a little puzzled by the 25 street signs that have sprung up around town proclaiming the streets to be protected by "Helping Hand." Many of the adults aren't too sure what it means, but the kids know. They know because Helping Hand is here to protect them.

Helping Hand has been looking out for youngsters in School Nine and Four areas (the Valley and Silver Lake areas respectively) for over seven years, and within the coming year, the whole town may be dotted with their signs on the streets and in the windows of homes of adults who join the group. Safety-minded mothers from the existing organization will be appealing this summer to local school groups to support Helping Hand, and to find mothers who will be willing to open their homes to children in trouble.

That's the sole purpose of Helping Hand. The aim of the group is to have one designated house on each block, where children know they can find aid and comfort in a serious emergency, which can range from a bad injury to a threat from a suspicious stranger. In the School Nine and Shawger School areas, Helping Hand has been working. The kids know all about it. A Times reporter spoke to a few last week about the signs.

Asked what the Helping Hand sign means, young Cheryl Reed said, "It means if we're ever hurt or chased by a car, we can go to a house and get help."

"Any kind of trouble," added Joe Nigro, "but we're not supposed to use it foolishly, like if you get a little cut, don't run to the house screaming bloody murder."

The children all knew where the Helping Hand houses in their neighborhood were located, and of course, what to do if trouble came up and there were no Helping Hand houses around — "ask someone to call a policeman."

The children learned about the program through school.

SIGNS LIKE THIS are appearing all over town to let children and adults alike know the kids can play safely.

Independence for Woodside: From Belleville to Newark

For Independence Day, Town Historian Allan Crisp gives a special report on a "declaration of independence" the Woodside section of Newark made from the Town of Belleville in 1869. The secession turned the tables on Belleville, which had proclaimed itself as a municipality years earlier.

The Woodside section of Newark was originally part of Belleville. But in 1869, this section took a leaf out of Belleville's own history and made itself independent of Belleville.

Some semblance of municipal independence had already been bestowed on the section four years earlier when the State Legislature passed an act by which "All that part of said township of Belleville, lying between the Second River and Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, be set off from the township of Belleville and made and constituted an election district to be known and called Woodside."

The law also provided for an election wherein the inhabitants were to decide whether they preferred full independence to continued existence as "Woodside polling district," under the municipal supervision of Belleville. Particularism ran high, and Woodside decided to go it on its own. But as C.C. Hines, whose father had been one of the prime movers in the Woodside independence fight, pointed out in his Hines Annual: "Alas, on the fifth of April, 1871, our independence was lost forever and most of us were turned over to the tender mercies of the Newark politicians, who have ever since exercised a wonderful ingenuity in taxing us poor inhabitants to the limit and given as little in return as possible. In fact, the only thing we get for our taxes, aside from the fire department service, is an occasional policeman, who comes twice a year with tickets to sell for ball or excursion."

According to Hines, "The transition from independence to slavery was engineered by three men for personal and selfish motives, one longed to be sheriff, but must live in Newark to secure nomination, and did not want to remove from this pleasant land; the two others were holders of considerable property, and it was their hope that a boom in building lots would set in that would materially fatten their pocketbooks, and so in some dark and mysterious way our model township was ceded to Newark."

"But the politician failed of election and the lots did not sell and one of the disappointed real estate owners, like Judas Iscariot, went out and hanged himself."

'Helping Hand' Looks for Support

assemblies visited by Helping Hand mothers and Police Captain Robert Russomano. The assemblies are just a few of the appearances made by the mothers as part of the volunteer work for Helping Hand. Most of the other chores are organizational work, such as visiting other schools to present the program. In the years following the founding of the Helping Hand program at School Nine, the original members made several of these visits. It was in 1966 that the idea began at School Nine, after two incidents in which children were approached (though not harmed) by strangers. Mrs. Lois Servidio, a mother who had children in the school read an article in "Reader's Digest" outlining a program to guard against child molesters, called, in various locations, Helping Hand, Block Parent Program, Block Watchers. She contacted a friend, Betty Rovell, and the two went to work. They first contacted Captain Russomano (then a lieutenant), who had tried unsuccessfully years earlier to put a similar program in effect. "Captain Russomano was terrific," said Mrs. Servidio. "He was our right arm through all of this." They went to the Legal Aid Society, which then had an office in Belleville, to check the legal limitations of such a program. The Belleville Jaycees gave their backing to the project and turned out to help.

Under the direction of Mrs. Loretta De Santis, and the School Four Home and School Association got behind the program soon after the mothers at School Nine. Today there are over 50 mothers in the School Four area on the program and about 30 in the School Nine area, plus many more who watch over an area that extends from Main Street to Washington Avenue, and from the Newark line to the Nutley border, covering all of the Valley section.

The signs of the Helping Hand are displayed in homes and stores to let children know where to go for help. The Helping Hand volunteers operate under strict standards, and for instance, can give no first aid, except in case of excessive bleeding or if a child stops breathing. Their primary purpose in case of emergency is to protect a child until police arrive. Mrs. Servidio said, though, "the main problem is the small ones, who easily lose their sense of direction. This happens mostly in September."

All Helping Hand volunteers must be carefully screened by local police. The responsibilities of each block parent are limited; for instance, they are not required to allow their homes as "comfort stations" for children, nor are they expected to break up fights between kids. Primarily, their duties are to act as an extra pair of eyes and ears for law enforcement, administer emergency first aid, be on call when children are normally on the street, report any suspected molesting to police and school, and, in general, aid and comfort any child in trouble.

The founding members of the Belleville Helping Hand went to a lot of trouble in 1967 to find support for the program, even to the extent of obtaining a letter from Congressman Peter Rodino backing the program. The Board of Education here also approved the project. Yet today, only two out of ten school groups in Belleville have adopted the program. According to Mrs. Servidio and Mrs. Rovell, the original drive to develop a town-wide Helping Hand organization met resistance from some school principals and parent groups, and had to face the charge their program was "alarmist." They were told that having mothers watching out for child molesters in Belleville is unnecessary, and the resistance to the program sometimes turned into open hostility. Mrs. Servidio and Mrs. Rovell say that, other than Michael Nardiello at School Four and A.J. Gallombardo, then at School Nine, the school principals in Belleville reacted half-heartedly or negatively.

Part of the reason Helping Hand has not spread through town, said Louise Sylvestro, past chairman of the project at School Four, is that not enough publicity has been generated about their work. "I'd like to see this go town-wide," she said. "I can't see how this can be turned down, and I don't think it's an alarmist measure."

She said many other communities across the country have such a program, and commented, "It seems Belleville is always the last town to do something like this. I'd like to see us be the first."

The women argue that Helping Hand is aimed only at aiding children, and it has other benefits besides safety. "It gives many of the children confidence," said Mrs. De Santis.

The new effort for a town-wide program is being aided now by the Kiwanis Club, who are helping out by purchasing the Helping Hand signs for the group. There are plans to contact the Consolidated P.T.A., and to ask the Board of Education for a resolution sent to school principals and parent and school groups.

At School Four, Marie Olivo will chair Helping Hand in September and the chairwoman at School Nine is Marlene Lazaro.

Anyone wishing information on Helping Hand can contact Lois Servidio at 214 Ralph Street or Marlene Lazaro at 349 Stephens Street, or by calling School Nine.

There remains a lot of work for the Helping Hand volunteers, who will need 200 signs if they are to even start to accomplish their goal of locating a Helping Hand home on every block of Belleville. But more important than the signs is enlisting the support of parents and school administrators this summer.

The volunteers are determined to do what couldn't be done seven years ago, said Mrs. Servidio. "We'll make it if we have to go door to door through Belleville."

A Correction

The Times last week incorrectly reported that Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco will resign in September, 1975 after serving six years in that position.

Greco came to the Belleville system as superintendent in 1967, and will have served eight years when he steps down next year.

Imperiale Blasts Income Tax As Contrary to 'People's Will'

Senator Anthony Imperiale (Ind., Essex-Hudson) announced his opposition today to Governor Brendan Byrne's proposed tax reform package scheduled to come before the state legislature in early July.

"The citizens of New Jersey," stated Imperiale, "have made it perfectly clear through the past three administrations that they are in overwhelming opposition to a state income tax. Yet the bureaucrats continue to try to impose a personal income tax."

"I maintain that despite the court's ruling to revise the method of financing public education throughout New Jersey," noted Imperiale, "the entire topic of taxation is a legislative responsibility rather than one of a judicial nature."

"I don't think that Governor Byrne should try to force something down the throats of New Jerseyans that is clearly not wanted. I maintain that we in the legislature should concentrate our efforts on devising a plan of budgetary efficiency rather than milk the public even further," said Imperiale.

"I also don't see any sense to the proposal to reduce the percentage of property tax and replace those lost revenues with an income levy. All we would be doing is adding another segment bureaucracy with more employees, more administrative activity and more state expenses to collect the same amount of revenue as we now realize," commented Imperiale.

"I have always stood firm for the property owners of my election district and throughout the state," explained Imperiale. "I will continue to seek any sensible relief for them. However, I will not camouflage the real effects of a state income tax by making people believe that they will be totally relieved of their property tax payment responsibility. I think they deserve to know the whole story, in terms that they can easily understand, before they are asked to support a plan of the type proposed by the governor."

"It's about time our elected officials display the courage to respond to the will of the people," stated Imperiale, "and this is the perfect opportunity since the decision of our residents is so obvious."

"Many other states in our country have implemented methods of financing public education without the need for an income tax," noted Imperiale, "and in many cases their level of education

Field Study Tours Explore History

NJEA Backs Gov. Byrne on Tax Plan

The New Jersey Education Association's Delegate Assembly has given qualified support to the general concepts of school finance and tax reform proposed last month by Gov. Brendan T. Byrne.

As the elected policy-making body of the NJEA's 78,000 members, the Delegate Assembly expressed support for the Governor's plan, or equivalent proposals, subject to several considerations.

These considerations, as outlined in an NJEA School Finance Committee report, are not spelled out in the Governor's general outline, but many are expected to be covered in proposed legislation now being drafted by the Governor's office.

NJEA officers and staff will continue to work with the Governor's office, the Legislature, the State Department of Education, and all other cooperating agencies and organizations in attempting to secure passage of an adequate school finance and tax reform program that embodies principles set by the Association.

The NJEA has been on record for a number of years as supporting "either a general sales tax (with food and drugs exempt) or a personal income tax, or a combination of both, or such other taxes as may produce the amount required" to provide increased State support for public education.

The Legislature reconvenes June 13 to hear specific proposals on school finance and taxation. The Legislators must complete their work by July 12 if any reform proposals that involve constitutional amendments (for classifying property taxes, for limiting future municipal property tax increases, etc.) are to go on the November referendum.

NJEA believes the process must be completed by the end of the year to meet the deadlines imposed by the State Supreme Court in its decision overturning the present New Jersey system of funding public education.

"What is clearly needed — and what is clearly in keeping with NJEA's past traditions of supporting full, adequate State equalization aid for the benefit of all school districts — is not a floundering in the Legislature and a drift into a Court-imposed solution," says the NJEA School Finance Committee report to the Delegate Assembly.

"Instead, New Jersey needs an extensive program of school finance reform — one that guarantees equity to the neediest school systems without damaging the gains already made by some of our best. New Jersey needs to meet the Court mandate for guaranteeing a 'thorough and efficient' system of education for all children without taking away opportunities many children already have," continues the report.

The NJEA Delegate Assembly appeared to be expressing "cautious optimism" with the Governor's proposals. One member cited the plan as "infinitely better than what we have now, but we must reserve final judgment until the actual bills are introduced."

The Governor is recommending an increase in State aid to public schools of approximately $550 million for the fiscal year 1975-76. The State would guarantee every child equal fiscal resources, regardless of the school district. His State aid plan, basically a "shared cost" or "percentage equalized matching" formula, would guarantee tax resources equivalent to twice the average equalized valuation per pupil (which is now estimated at $53,000).

The plan allows the State in future years to provide additional money for districts that now offer less than a "thorough and efficient" system of education. It would also allow higher spending districts to increase spending for their schools, but at a lower rate, so that eventually the discrepancies in per pupil spending from district to district are "narrowed" and become more equitable for all pupils. The plan, however, permits the leveling in an upward direction, rather than downward.

In addition, the Governor's plan promises state assumption of many of the costs now paid by counties and municipalities with local property taxes. For example, the state would pay the costs of courts and municipal and county welfare systems, make payments to municipalities in lieu of taxes for state-owned property, make full payment of the tax differential on tax abate or otherwise subsidized public housing, and provide formula grants for municipal tax equalization.

Swelling ankles. The condition is often caused by something as simple as ill-fitting shoes, or too tight shoelacing. Sitting too long in one position, overlong walks, pounding hard pavements, hot weather, or lack of exercise of feet and legs. Vigorously shake your ankles once in a while to keep them limber. If you are sitting longer than two hours, take a break, stand up, open a window, go for a short walk. If they're a real problem, a fifteen minute rest with ankles elevated will often help. You'll have no problems getting your prescriptions filled if you bring them to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. The Sky High Interest Rates

Interest charged to borrow money today is a real human tragedy. Before people go off half cocked blaming the financial institutions for the high rates of interest charged to borrowers let us reflect upon the facts.

The financial institutions would love nothing better than to charge a low interest rate to borrowers. Unfortunately the rate of interest which financial institutions charge is beyond their control. The federal government indirectly determines what you and I will eventually pay for the use of money. At the moment the Federal Reserve System is the pace setter for interest rates. This federal office is supposed to act independently of the Executive Office (The Presidency).

We believe the interest cost to borrow money is confiscatory. Something must be done about bringing down the interest rate charged to borrowers. Almost daily we hear the Congress of the United States telling anyone who cares to listen it is an equal branch of government with the Presidency. Well, if the President's economic advisers are wrong on establishing high interest rates then why doesn't the Congress of the United States assert its alleged equality and initiate legislation which would make mandatory low interest rates to enable people to purchase homes and other essentials. The high rate today makes it prohibitive for the average American to indulge himself in the purchase of a home. Even the purchase of personal belongings like furniture and automobiles is becoming too expensive today because of high interest charged. If there is one single item which is destroying the economy of this country we believe the finger can be pointed at the exorbitant interest rates the average American is compelled to pay for the use of money.

We urge our readers to write to their congressmen and United States senators demanding they do something other than participate in the "Watergate game." Two years of Watergate has taken its toll of our country, its people and its energy. We cannot much longer meet the confiscatory interest rates without a catastrophic financial collapse.

We believe the economic advisers to the President are wrong and we believe the Congress and the United States Senate are failing in their duty to the American public when both Houses of Congress fail to take affirmative action to place a reasonable ceiling on interest rates charged to borrowers.

Polls And Government

Public opinion polls have become highly popular in the United States in recent decades. Not only do they often foretell the outcome of elections, but they also provide the public with entertainment, and to a degree, news.

But public opinion polls, though represented as scientific, are not always reliable. They do not justify government action. Instead, the leaders of the nation must do their best in carrying on the country's official business, as they were elected to do.

If polls were the basis for government action, as some suggest, American governments (administrations) would in reality be operating under the English parliamentary system. Under that system if the government loses majority support (in Commons), it is turned out.

If American governments fell when they lost majority support in public opinion polls, we would have taken a step toward the instability feature of so many western European governments. That was one of the themes behind Secretary of State Kissinger's undiplomatic remark recently (for which he later apologized) that Europe has few legitimate governments, and has had few in recent years.

What Kissinger had in mind was the superiority of the American system because of its stability, which allows an administration four years to accomplish its goal, or eight if the administration wins reelection, as contrasted to the splintered, factionalism of certain western democracies, rendering them almost incapable of continuity of policy.

Most American Presidents would have been turned out of office at one time or another if tenure had been depended on public opinion. Presidents cannot and should not engage in popularity contests to stay in office. Unless tried by the Senate after impeachment and "fired," they should serve their terms, public opinion polls notwithstanding.

July, 1974

The linden, in the fervors of July,
Hums with a louder concert.

-Bryant.

July always ushers in the second half of the calendar year. It's the first month of the fiscal year and has more than ordinary importance in the business world.

July is named for Julius Caesar, a change from its former name of Quintilis.

changed on the order of Mark Anthony, and was the month in which Caesar was born.

For Americans July is an especially historic month. Our independence is celebrated on the Fourth, of course, and the Battle of Gettysburg was fought during the first three days of July in 1863.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

It is so discouraging to listen to the captious complaints of some of those mentioned in the column who express displeasure over some of the disclosures and revelations which are annoying to them. It is not uncommon to be told my copy is "crap" and that most people "laugh-at" my literary effort.

Also, the only redeeming feature in the way of reward for my feeble efforts is the gratifying satisfaction that so many choose to read the column with a rapacious and avid interest. In the matter of informing the public it is seldom possible to make everybody happy.

Many Belleville old-timers familiar with the town's history and development and that of our northern neighbor, Nutley, will be richly rewarded should they pick-up at the news stand an 100-page copy of the Nutley Sun issue of July 3rd, which commemorates the 80th Anniversary year of publication of that paper, the sister publication of the Belleville Times-News.

The issue will be replete with interesting disclosures of that town's growth and history. It will be a valuable family heirloom. Copies also may be purchased at the Sunbank Building located at one Town Hall Square, Nutley, N.J.

With all the ado and fanfare about getting a traffic signal installed at Belleville Ave. and Branch Brook Drive, near the site of the Belleville Park Senior Center, which is "hanging fire" pending State authorization; notwithstanding, the recommendation of the County that it be erected and the more than 500 names on a petition calling for such a traffic control, a simple approach seems available to solve the long delay of its installation....Passage of Assembly Bill No. 33.

Assemblyman Carl Orechio of Nutley, "in a pre-filed for introduction in the 1974 session of the State Assembly," introduced the following bill: "An Act authorizing municipal governments to determine the location and operation of traffic control devices and otherwise regulate traffic on the streets of the municipality which are not county or state roads or highways."

Be it Enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. Any law to the contrary notwithstanding the governing body of a municipality may, without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner of Transportation, the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles or any other State official, determine the location, placing and operation of all official traffic control devices and signs and establish speed and parking regulations for the public streets and thoroughfares of the municipality which are neither county or State roads or highways, provided that such governing body has obtained the approval of the county traffic safety coordinator or, if not applicable, the county engineer.

2. This act shall take effect immediately.

Our local Commissioners should pass a resolution memorializing the State Assembly and Senate to enact into law the Orechio bill and call upon our legislative representatives in Trenton to co-sponsor Assembly Bill No. 33. Its enactment into law would obviate all the obstructive "red-tape" and give a "green light" for the immediate erection of this sorely needed traffic control at this hazardous location.

With the publication of my column containing reference to Commissioner of Transportation Alan Sagner's "brush-off" of the column's plea for a study by his agency to correct the traffic mess on state highway #7 (Washington Ave.) resulting from the "Drive-in-window" lane of the local branch of the Fidelity Union Trust Company we "clipped" two copies of the column and attached them to the following letter we mailed to the affected parties referred to therein.

"My Dear Mr. Sagner:

Rather than replying to your correspondence of June 4th, apropos to my plea for relief from the traffic mess locally engendered by the use of YOUR state Highway #7 by the local branch of the Fidelity Unionist Co. bank at the location of Washington Ave. and Belleville Ave., a County road, as a "Drive-In-Window" lane, I am enclosing my written reaction to your patent disinterest in the matter, an attitude I take strenuous exception to, as you will note should you be so kind as to read my remarks.

Since I entertain the conviction that the gentleman who is responsible for your appointment, His Excellency, The Governor, might be interested of the manner in which you chose to handle this affair I am forwarding a similar copy of my copy to him.

Sir, there are, indeed, no personalities, in this matter, but, I do, properly, feel we are entitled to a little bit more than just a perfunctory "brush off."

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES R. GOLDEN.

CC. to Governor

We pay these "Birds" a damn good penny. The least they could do is "look-into" a situation affecting their department, not to just ignore it. If they took the trouble to investigate they sure would find out the facts. Money may talk, but, we're going to "get in" our licks also.

On Free Enterprise

Most Americans would defend and retain the free enterprise system, convinced it is best among all systems yet devised by man; nevertheless, the American system constantly needs improving and is far from perfect.

In recent days, for example, while many were threatened with hunger, U.S. growers were slaughtering millions of young chicks — because the price of poultry fell so low growers couldn't afford to take the impending loss in raising the chicks for marketing.

Six months ago we were demanding more and more meat and the price of poultry jumped because the supply was less than the demand. Today the supply is so much greater numbers in an effort to push prices up — which would enable them to earn a profit, which they are, of course, entitled to.

Most of us scream when the federal government intervenes in private industry to what we feel is an excessive degree. Yet in the killing of so many small chicks in recent days one wishes the government could have moved to prevent the wholesale slaughter.

The worst feature of such an action is the realization that this poultry would be marketable at a later date, in this country and elsewhere in the world.

Also, there is something unacceptable about Americans reducing food supplies on such a wholesale basis when so much of the world is hungry. Surely some of the billions Washington spends in aid to other countries could be applied in cases such as this — a move which would help U.S. growers with the aid money allotted to foreign recipients, thus making double use of these taxpayer dollars.

July 4th

On the Fourth of July of every year the people of this country take note of the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, which ranks as one of the most important documents of history.

In it, Thomas Jefferson, the author, set forth the inalienable rights of man and the theory that governments are instituted by men, not set up by God, and, therefore, derive their powers from the consent of the governed.

This was something of a revolutionary doctrine in 1776. Moreover, the Declaration makes plain the right of the people to alter or abolish their government and to institute a new government in such a form as they may deem most likely to provide for their safety and happiness.

The historic Fourth has become identified as a day of leisure, marked by deaths, accidents, games and amusement, but there are occasional programs which point out the significance of the Declaration and the principles that it expresses, too often forgotten.

Better Mileage

This fall's new automobiles will get better gas mileage than earlier models with anti-pollution devices, and much better mileage than experts felt likely just a year ago.

The latest estimate is that many 1975 models will achieve a gain of twenty per cent or better of 1974 models. Russell E. Train, administrator of the Federal Environmental Protection Agency, says that agency's earlier 7 per cent improvement estimate was too conservative.

Some estimates for General Motors cars are that gas savings of better than twenty per cent are possible on some 1975 models. The increased mileage is due to improved anti-pollution devices.

Those who have recently bought gas guzzlers may eventually benefit from the new technique also, though all that's certain now is that new-car buyers will get more miles per gallon — which will tend to reduce fuel consumption. That, and continued observance of the 55 m.p.h. speed limit, could prevent a new fuel shortage in coming months.

Tough Steak?

If your steak is tougher (if still eating steak) it may be because today's beef steers are not being sold to feeders before slaughter.

The Department of Agriculture says operators of feeder lots, who normally fatten steers for slaughter with corn, have been forced to curtail operations because of the high cost of corn and lower prices being paid for beef on the hoof. That squeeze has already produced losses for many feed lots.

Thus the steak you eat today often comes from a steer sold by the cattleman directly to the slaughter house. In that case, instead of corn the steer would have eaten grass on the ranch or farm before being slaughtered.

The answer may lie in lower corn prices, reduced middle-man profits or higher beef prices, again. Whatever it turns out to be, perhaps a combination of the above, steaks might be slightly tougher for a time.

Publish Final Installment: 'The Dissolution Of Society'

The final installment of Jack R. Nageley's "The Dissolution Of Society" appears below.

Concluding his dissertation on dissolution, Nageley describes the moment of final confrontation between the world's major military powers. This confrontation, says Nageley, will not occur for moral purposes, but for economic reasons more specifically, Nageley claims that this final confrontation will be caused by a fight for control of oil in the Persian Gulf.

What will be the result of this confrontation? Although Nageley does not whether the struggle for world dominion will be decided by nuclear arms of other means, he does believe that China will emerge victorious while the United States and Russia become second rate powers.

Evolution. Revolution. Dissolution. The cycle is nearing its end. It will be complete before the twenty-first century.

The blueprint for the next twenty-nine years is taking a final form. United States is seeking rapprochement with China to prevent economic decline. China is encouraging trade to expand its technology. Russia has aligned with India to contain Chinese aggression. Japan is preparing a military complex to protect its growing industry. All of the parties are gearing for world dominion.

It is predicted that the issue of dominion will be determined at Armageddon — the place where the forces of good and evil shall clash — the place where Mohammedanism, Judaism, Christianity and Atheism will have their confrontation — the place where man will finally pay for having raped nature.

When the nations clash at, or near Armageddon (also known as Megiddo) their leaders will not be motivated by reasons of morality. The reason will be purely economic. The ultimate struggle will be a fight for control of the oil in the Persian Gulf.

The Gulf area is the key to the power struggle because it holds sixty-five percent of the oil reserves of the world. It produces about fifty percent of European and ninety percent of Japanese consumption. It is anticipated that it will produce fifty percent of United States consumption by 1980. It is further anticipated that it will be the only source of supply for Europe, Russia and China by the year 1985.

It is an obvious fact that the oil in the Middle East must be obtained by passage through the Suez Canal and the Persian Gulf. Therefore, the nation that controls the Red Sea and the access waters to the Persian Gulf holds the key to technological dominion.

In the realization that a technological society cannot survive without oil, the Soviet Union has allied with Egypt to control passage through the northern end of the Suez Canal. It has also allied with Yemen and India to control access to the Persian Gulf by way of the Indian Ocean.

It is a self-evident truth that the United States, China, Japan, and Europe will not allow their industrial complexes to perish for the lack of oil. Therefore, they must find alternative sources of energy or become involved in military destruction.

Whereas it may appear that nuclear power can prove a satisfactory substitute for oil, it will be observed that all energy can pollute whatever its source. Man will need more and more energy as each of the technological societies become increasingly complex. Therefore, man is offered choice between death from pollution or from nuclear destruction.

There is imminent danger that the world conflict will be resolved by nuclear warfare simply because the United States will have no other weapons by the turn of the century. It is becoming a second rate power in a nuclear age. Its citizens have lost the will to fight.

In the next twenty-nine years the United States will continue to decline as an economic power because labor has priced it out of the world market. Every attempt to revolutionize its economy will further erode the initiative of its citizens. Japan will continue to grow industrially until it also destroys itself through wages, inflation, military expenditures and pollution. Russia will emerge supreme until the "have nots" of China become the economic master through their initiative, their intellect and their will to survive. Then, it may be as Nostradamus predicted — in 1999 a great power will come out of Asia and conquer the world.

If any nation is predestined to conquer the world, it must be China. It will have had the cheapest labor. It is the only nation with sufficient population to police the world. Conquest has no savor without dominion.

The issue of dominion will not be resolved so long as the United States and Russia maintain a balance of nuclear power. This stalemate will give China sufficient time to gain technological parity. It will give the Arabs and the Israelis more time to rouse the hatred which will ignite the holocaust. It will also give man an opportunity to build another Ark if it is so destined.

Meanwhile, man will dwell beneath his Tower of Babel awaiting the final curtain. He will listen to false prophets. He will await the Messiah. He will never lose hope.

Citizen Groups Cool to Stadium Renovation

One Year Ago

A street resurfacing contract of $18,626 was awarded by the Belleville Board of Commissioners to the Warren Brothers Company in Prospect Park. Warren Brothers was the same company which received the go ahead the year before for similar work which was never begun, due to an onslaught of cold weather which made street resurfacing impossible. Those streets missed the year before were to be resurfaced, along with seven new streets.

The Belleville Public library announced that the children's room would host a children's hobby show. They invited Belleville children to exhibit examples of their special collections or hobbies. Prizes were offered for the most unusual collection as well for other categories.

Five Years Ago

Dr. Frank Di Ruggiero, president of the Belleville Board of Education, ended the last meeting of the school year with a plea to Belleville parents to "be more aware of the cost of school vandalism in Belleville." The Board president stated that vandalism cost the Town $5,536.98 for the preceding year. Glass repairs alone totaled $1,198.06.

It appeared that local Belleville organizations were apathetic to plans to spend over $100,000 to improve the Belleville Municipal Stadium. Only eight local organizations sent representatives to the special meeting of the Belleville Athletic Council, which had been called to discuss the town's role in future stadium improvements. More than 40 invitations were sent to Town organizations.

Ten Years Ago

Mayor Nuncio Pico and Town Councilman James Golden helped turn out the first spadeful at the ground breaking ceremony for Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

The Board of Education tightened up its chain of command in appointing Martin W. Lang as the head of the Mathematics Department for Belleville High School, filling a spot that had gone vacant since the departure of the old department head.

Town Fathers and celebrities turned out to dedicate and open a new playground and recreation facility at Fairway Court.

Fifteen Years Ago

The Town of Belleville was paid a fee that must have really broken the pocket books of the National Advertising Companies, for the use of the perimeter of the Police Pistol Range. The organization had paid the Town the exorbitant sum of $1.00.

Harry Sullivan, the Commissioner of Public Safety and his staff were closely examining the question of whether or not to make Belmont Avenue, by Clara Maass Hospital a two way street. The move was favored by residents, who thought that it would speed up travel time to and from work, but was opposed by the hospital, which feared that it would interfere with emergency vehicles who wished to get through the traffic.

The PTA elected Mr. R.F. Joscak president.

Twenty Years Ago

Belleville residents were finally able to whiz from one side of Town to the other, as work was finally finished on repairs to Franklin Avenue. Sections of the street had been repaved, and some of the many pot holes filled in again, to facilitate traffic.

Rev. Lo Bianco was ordained and was assigned as curate for Holy Family Church in Nutley. His new duties would include the running of the summer school program of the Church.

Holy Family was proud to announce that they had been able to increase their enrollment to such a great extent that they were able to add an eighth grade to their school for the first time. This, in turn, allowed them to graduate their first complete class.

Thirty Years Ago

Belleville gained two more spiritual leaders, as Rev. Francis Ignocuinis joined the clergy at St. Peter's parish and Rev. John F. Migliano was assigned to a position at St. Anthony's.

John Carlton resigned from Belleville Public System, after more than nine years instructing the printing shops in the High School.

Edith Frey was awarded top honors for her beautiful vie at the annual Griffith Music Foundation musical competition.

Howard Head was installed as president of the Belleville Symphony Society.

James M. Lynch resigned from the Board of Education. This came, quick on the heels after receiving the Board's six year commendation.

Forty-Five Years Ago

The Town Commission held a stormy session, as it turned down Commissioner Pat Waters attempted repeal of a controversial bill which would close local hardware stores on Sunday. Local store owners complained that the ordinance was hurting business, as most people putter around their house on Sunday, rather than during the week. A serious break in the relationship between commissioners Clark and Waters resulted when Waters accused Clark of being "yellow" for not changing his vote on the ordinance.

The High School graduated 80 students, a new record for the Town.

Assessment reduction applications jumped to over 500, even though Chairman Isaac Schoenthal of the County Board of Assessors announced that Belleville had been under assessed by more than two million dollars.

Hamsters

Although it may seem hard to believe, almost all hamsters sold in the United States today are offspring of one litter found in the Syrian desert in 1930. They were first brought to the United States for lab use, but quickly gained favor as household pets because of their small size and docile nature.

Hamsters are extremely prolific, with the female capable of having a litter of seven babies each month after she reaches two months of age. If all the offspring of a pair of hamsters were allowed to breed and rebred at will, the possibility exists for the pair to have 100,000 descendants within twelve months!

Hamsters are easy to keep if you observe a few simple rules. First, line the bottom of the cage with an absorbable material. Wood shavings or crushed corncobs are good. The hamster is a neat animal and will choose a special corner for urinating.

BELLEVILLE JUNIORS who earned awards at the recent convention include Mrs. Philip Ciaravino, American Home Award for Beginning Household Crocheting and Newspaper Award for club newspaper, "Woman to Woman"; Mrs. Robert Gaccione, Pressbook Award and Public Relations Award; Mrs. Robert Landolfi, American Home Award; Miss Joan Luisi, Drama Department Award and Mrs. William VanHolland, Youth Department Award.

A hamster with a well-balanced diet should have few medical problems. A basic diet of commercially pelleted hamster chow with a weekly supplement of fresh fruit or vegetables will keep him healthy. Dry dog food will serve as an acceptable temporary substitute. Diets composed entirely of mixed bird seed are not satisfactory and may lead to constipation or vitamin deficiencies.

Your hamster will care for minor injuries himself. He will lick small cuts or bruises and keep them clean and infection free. However, some problems are best handled by a veterinarian. These include broken or decayed teeth, and stubborn colds that last more than a day or two.

If you wish to keep more than one hamster, separate males from females. Animals of the same sex are more compatible as cage mates, and you can always change the arrangement if you want to breed your pets.

When you choose housing for your hamster, remember that he is strong for his size. Provide a latched doorway or a top heavy enough to prevent an energetic hamster from nudging it off. Many hamsters escape from converted aquariums by climbing up water bottles or large exercise wheels.

Hamsters — and other rodents — appreciate toys or other diversions in their cages. A running wheel provides exercise and recreation at the same time. Also include short lengths of hard wood for gnawing, so your pet can keep his constantly growing teeth at the proper length.

A hanging water bottle that dispenses only a drop or two at a time is a good investment. Hamsters do not drink well from a dish — and may catch pneumonia from walking through it.

Squaws Still Build Winners Cagers Led at Bloomfield

Montclair State College continued the trend of building winners as its women's softball team concluded a highly successful season with three straight wins.

Coach Marilyn Taigia's Squaws, who haven't experienced a losing campaign since its maiden season in 1966 when they were 2-3, closed out the schedule with victories over Queens, Lehman and Ursinus colleges. They ended with an 8-2 record and registered the most wins in a season and the second highest won-lost percentage.

The eight victories better the seven games won in 1969 and the 800 percentage is second best to the .875 (7-1) mark recorded in 1969.

Sophomore third baseman Randi Burdick of East Brunswick was the Squaws' leading hitter with a .466 average. She also led the team in doubles with three and shared the lead in base hits with 14.

Junior first baseman Linda Primerano of Lyndhurst batted .451 and shared the lead with Burdick for most hits.

Frank Giovanucci knew he had something special when he began drilling Bloomfield College's basketball team last October. He knew it and then the team proved it.

The Deacons surged through their first six opponents and finished the regular season with a 16-8 record, earning a berth in the NAIA District playoffs, where they lost to Southampton.

That outstanding performance was the highlight for Bloomfield's year in sports, a year which produced some disappointments, some pleasant surprises.

A combination of both marked the Deacons' soccer season with the team managing only a 2-12-1 record. However, goalie Steve Pachman of Glen Rock earned all-star honors in the Central Atlantic College Conference. He'll return in the fall as a junior to anchor what should be a vastly improved team.

The basketball team was deep in preparation for its season then and, once it began, Bloomfield fans flocked to home games. The record soared to 6-0, then 12-2, thanks to some outstanding play of Senior Vinnie Costantino of Belleville.

Throughout the season, seniors Pete Calabrese of Ridgefield and Paul Van Dyke of Dumont were the steadiest performers. Calabrese earned All-State honors from the New Jersey Basketball Writers Association.

for the second straight year while Van Dyke was named to the second team. Each was an honorable mention All-American.

That the season ended with the disappointing tournament defeat to Southampton could not detract from one of the Deacons' best years ever.

There was, for example, a triple overtime victory over Monmouth, which eventually won the District 31 tournament. Then there was the regular season triumph over Southampton.

With much of the talent now graduated, Bloomfield will rely upon Barry Pasko, a guard from Irvington and Mike McNamara, a forward from Jersey City.

Most people have some good in them and all people have some evil.

Indians Arrange Fall Grid Slate

Montclair State College's football team, the defending New Jersey State College Athletic Conference champions, will play a 10-game schedule this fall athletic director William P. Dioguardi announced today.

Coach Clary Anderson's Indians closed out the season last year with three straight wins over Trenton State, Jersey City State and Glassboro State to gain the conference crown. The wins capped a 6-4 campaign.

Montclair State has scheduled five night games to be played at the Indians' Sprague Field. It opens the season Sept. 14 at home against Kutztown State at 8 p.m. and ends the season at Glassboro State on Nov. 16.

The only change of opponent on the schedule is the depletion of C.W. Post College in favor of Wagner College. The Wagner game, on Oct. 19, has been designated as the Homecoming game for Montclair State.

September
The schedule: 14. Kutztown State; 21 — East Stroudsburg State 28 — William Paterson.
October
5 — At Cortland State; 12 — At Central Connecticut State; 19 — Wagner (Homecoming); 26 — At Southern Connecticut State.
November
2 — Trenton State; 9 — At Jersey City State; 16 — At Classboro State.

Montclair Seek's Tough Opponents

Nothing can replace the strength of an opponent and Montclair State College wrestling coach Larry Sciacchitano has gone out to get the best possible opponents for the forthcoming 1974-75 season.

Once again the Indians will wrestle 26 matches. However, Montclair State has added some nationally recognized foes and the schedule features a trip to the Midwest during the month of January.

Montclair State, which compiled a 12-8-1 record last year, will entertain the likes of Clarion State College, California State Poly, the University of Florida and Wilkes (Pa.) College.

The Indians will wrestle eight opponents in 10 days during their tour of the Midwest. Included on the schedule are the University of Michigan, the University of Indiana, Indiana State University, the University of Notre Dame, Coe College, the University of Iowa, Iowa State University and the University of Northern Iowa.

Also on the road Montclair State will face East Stroudsburg (Pa.) State College and Army and will compete in the Temple University triangular meet with Princeton University.

Winner of last year's tourney, Montclair State will wrestle in the University of Delaware Invitational Tournament in January and will defend its Metropolitan Intercollegiate title.

Union College Set For Fem Cagers

Union College will field its first women's varsity athletic team next winter when the basketball team "graduates" from club status to the intercollegiate level, according to an announcement today by Dr. Albert E. Meder, acting president of the college.

Union's team will play in the women's division of the Garden State Athletic Conference, joining the men's varsity team in that conference, according to athletic director, William Duncombe.

On the club level, the Union women's team compiled a 10-8 record over the past two years. Former members of the team have gone on to play for Rider College and Kean and Montclair State Colleges.

In the GSAC, Union will be vying against community college teams from Atlantic, Bergen, Brookdale, Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Gloucester, Middlesex, Morris, Ocean, Salem and Somerset.

In the 1974-75 academic year, Union College will also field varsity squads in cross country and soccer in the fall, wrestling in the winter, and golf and tennis in the spring as well as a men's varsity basketball team in the winter.

Beck's Column

Every year around this time we receive a number of calls from customers who have large trees in the vicinity. Such a tree full with leaves may have a profound effect on TV reception. Usually the complaint is ghosts or an unclear picture, which in this case is the same as ghosts, but not as pronounced as a double image. Unfortunately one can not do anything about this condition short of cutting the tree down, which should not be down, of course. This condition changes again in the fall when the leaves come off.

If your antenna has been on the roof for several years, it should have a check up at this time of the year. Many times we find that the heavy winds and changes in temperature loosened the fastening bolts and the antenna has shifted. Or the bolts which connect the wire to the antenna have corroded, which may cause flashes when there is wind. The lead in wire develops tiny cracks under the exposure to wind, sun and weather and has to be replaced after a few years, depending on the exposure. An antenna is not any different than anything else, there is a certain amount of deterioration taking place and it has to be looked over. One common complaint we hear often is, that the picture is poor when the lead in wire is wet, during or after a rain. If you find this condition, it is a sure sign that the wire has cracks and should be replaced. Now is the time for this kind of work.

A Good Week for Lifting: Club Leads Vineland Open

At the Vineland Open Weightlifting Meet held last week in Vineland, N.J., the Belleville Barbell Club emerged victorious in the team competition after a tight struggle with several other teams.

Led by individual first place finishes by Bruce Klemens (242 lb. class) and Terry Manton (unlimited), and second place by Brian Derwin (198). Belleville scored 13 team points to edge the powerful York Barbell Club, of York, Pennsylvania, which finished with 11 points. The McBurney YMCA of New York City was third with 10 points.

Only July 20, two of the younger members of the Belleville Barbell Club will be journeying to Tulsa, Oklahoma, to compete in the National Junior Olympic Weightlifting Championships, open to teenagers throughout the nation. Belleville's lifters will be Rene Gabbai and Tom Cairo, who will both be competing in the 132 lb. class, 16-17 year old age division.

They are receiving financial assistance for their trip from the Ki-Ro fund of the Belleville Kiwanis and Rotary. Both these young athletes have proven themselves to among the best in their class and should do very well in Tulsa.

Phil Grippaldi Captures Title As Top Lifter

Belleville's Phil Grippaldi lifted an American record (198 lb. class) of 441 pounds in the clean and jerk at the Senior National Weightlifting Championships held last week in York, Pennsylvania. In the process, Phil also won his fifth national championship.

Phil faced his strongest competition from Mike Karchut of the Sayre Park Weightlifting Club of Illinois. Karchut, who had been 181 lb. class champion for the past several years, decided to move up to the next class this year. In the snatch competition the two lifters tied at 314 pounds each, which meant the winner would be decided by the highest clean and jerk. Karchut made 418 to temporarily take the lead over Phil who had missed 413. However, Phil then made a strong success with 425 to gain the lead, forcing Karchut to try 430. He missed.

Already the victor, the Belleville lifter asked for an American record of 441 pounds to add the proverbial icing to the cake. Phil proceeded to lift this weight with such ease that observers felt him capable of at least 452. Incidentally, all these poundages were converted from kilograms, hence the odd figures. 441 pounds equals an even 200 kilograms. Additionally, Phil Grippaldi was chosen to represent the United States at the World Weightlifting Championships to be held September, in Manila, The Philippines.

Belleville Man Was Big Gun For NCE 9

Steve Montague of Bloomfield, a senior shortstop, and Jim Schak of Rutherford, the pitching standout, led Newark College of Engineering to a successful 12-9 record during the recently completed baseball season.

Freshman Frank Papasidero of Belleville was the extra-base-hit leader with five doubles, a triple and two home runs.

The 12 victories represent a new NCE season record, 11 wins in 12 games being the previous high in the fall of 1971.

Montague suffered through a slow start before finding his batting eye. A late surge carried him to a .333 average and a team-leading 22 hits. His fellow co-captain, Bob Hill of Nutley, batted .304 and led in runs-batted-in with 17.

Schak topped the NCE mound staff in most departments, including wins, with seven. He lost four games. The senior righthander struck out 70 in 61 2/3 innings, gave up 51 hits, 34 runs, 21 earned runs, and walked 24. His final ERA was 3.06. He pitched a one-hitter and three shutouts along the way.

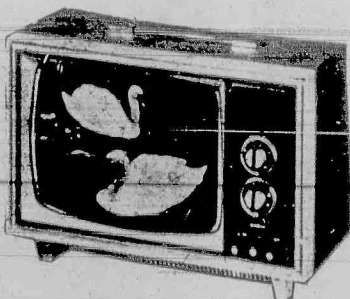

Coach Gene Schmid loses six seniors from the 1974 squad. Papasidero and Frank Johnston of Newark, a sophomore pitcher, will co-captain the 1975 team.

It's sizzling summertime again and, while there are not too many formal meetings, I'm sure picnics and block parties will abound....keep your social news headed this way. Please remember if you are not having regular monthly meetings during July and August to let me know so the Bulletin Board items are kept straight....since I don't expect to be as busy during this time, will try to put together the Belleville Directory which will list all social, civic, church and school organizations, as well as veteran groups, retail and manufacturing plants. Did you send in your form?

The Essex Chapter, American Red Cross, Belleville District collected a whopping 164 pints of blood in their recent blood drive - thanks to all of you. Volunteers were: nurses: Virginia Desmond and Marilyn Gashke; registrars: Virginia Campbell, Florence Smith, Rosemary Cobianni, Shirley McEligot, Irene Wirtz and Alice Hiltnerhaus; Bob Zimmerman and his cousin Anna from Germany helped out at the canteen; Sophie Bade - executive secretary of the Belleville Chapter was on the canteen and escort brigade with James Ryan on transportation.

The Belleville Historical Society will hold their July meeting on the 9th at Christ Church Parish Hall, 8 p.m. The program will be a review of the erection of historic site markers, honoring four of the oldest churches in town. A film, "The Great Swamp" will be shown, public invited.

John and Verna Norton celebrated their 20th anniversary on June 26th, with a family dinner given by their maid of honor. The couple have a son, John Jr. and twin daughters Sharon and Leslie. It couldn't happen to a nicer couple.

Get well wishes are in order for Jean Marino of Garden Avenue who is at Clara Maass....and Carol Collins of Hoffman International also at CMMH.

The Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary have two scholarship winners: Linda

Smith and George Vilano Jr.; awards will be presented in September.

Anderson, Marie Bowden, Cynthia Ann Fabian, Kim Pagliaro, Shirley Adele Reeve, Barbara Carol Smith, Glenn Borgo, Walter E. Cole, Jr., John Andrew Driscoll, David W. Hill, Ronald R. Jung and Jeffrey William Stone. Other Church news: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cypolski announce the wedding of their daughter, Lynn to Harold Brennan Jr. of Parlin on Saturday July 27th - much happiness; The Metcalfs celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on June 30th - congratulations; David Pospisil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pospisil was invested in to the National Honor Society on June 4th congrats.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

To the good old U.S.A.! The Fourth of July traditionally means picnics, fireworks, etc. Let's also not forget that it stands for the birth of our Independence, for which we should give thanks. In 1976 the United States of America will be 200 years young - and still growing. Plans are underway in town right now to celebrate this great event. In this time of Watergate, Killings and bad politicking, let's all pull together and insist on decency for our once-proud nation....In short, next time there's an election - exercise your vote....your voice does count. Have a happy and safe Fourth - see you at BHS.

Sparkling Personality

American Legion Officer Carmine Petti Proclaims, 'I'm Happy I Can Help'

Carmine Petti of Lincoln Terrace was installed as Essex County Commander, American Legion last month. Petti, a member of American Legion Post 300 - perhaps the biggest post in the county, has served as Commander, Adjutant, Trustee and worked with the annual Oratorical Contest prior to election as Adjutant on the County Staff in 1970-71. As Commander of the Essex County staff, he is responsible for 39 posts and some 6,000 members. His prime responsibility is to see that all county posts are run properly according to by-laws and constitutions. He will also officiate at the High Point Memorial Service later this month, an annual event commemorating deceased veterans.

During his Army years, Petti was attached to the Eighth Air Force in England where, with the service group, he made motion pictures. A member of the American Legion for 27 years, he has served the same length of time with the United States Post Office in Newark as a distribution clerk. When asked why he devoted so much time to Legion activities, Petti replied, "I feel that the Legion, being the largest veterans' organization, has done the most for the veteran". He spoke about Boys' State where 62 youngsters from Essex County have an opportunity to attend Ryder College and learn about government, complete with elections, 27,000 youngsters across our country participate in Boys' State.

Another area the Legion assists youngsters in is the Legion Baseball of which there are 15 teams in the county. Still another area is the annual Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Legion in which local winners go on to state and national competitions.

The Legion assists widows of veterans, assists in obtaining benefits, holds hospital parties at Veterans Hospitals and is quite a powerful force as evidenced by the fight waged by the American Legion for enactment of the GI Bill of WW II.

Carmine Petti walks softly, but carries a big stick in this new tremendous area of responsibility. He and his wife, Rose, have become well known throughout the State, traveling to various American Legion posts. They leave a lasting impression of devotion to duty, sincerity and warmth. By this time next year, this reporter is sure Carmine Petti will have made some tremendous inroads for the benefit of American Legionnaires in Essex County.

Carmine, a native of Belleville, is the son of John and Frances Petti. The couple has two daughters - Camille Heany, a graduate of Montclair State who, with her husband Clyde have a son Christopher. Another daughter, Joan, lives at home and also attends Montclair State. Rose's mother Carmella Bianchino and her daughter Marie also live with the Petti's.

Petti has been a councilman of the Belleville Adult School Advisory Committee for six years, and is a member of the Knights of Columbus. He has an avid interest in education and was defeated by a small vote when he ran for the Board of Education. His activity in the Legion now prohibit him from any extracurricular activities; but he doesn't mind, he smiles and says, "I'm happy I can help."

Minish Calls for Embargo On Export of U.S. Wheat

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District - New Jersey, today recommended that the United States temporarily embargo the export of wheat.

In a letter to Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, Minish said, "we should act promptly to restrict wheat shipments to foreign nations in order to hold down the price of bread and other wheat products in the United States."

Minish pointed to recent reports by the Agriculture Department itself which forecast a smaller U.S. wheat crop this year than was originally expected.

On June 11 the Department's Crop Reporting Board said the 1974 winter wheat crop estimate is down 81 million bushels from the estimate made in May.

"Winter wheat," Minish explained, "comprises about three-fourths of the nation's bread grain and is much in demand for export."

Minish introduced legislation last year to mandate an embargo on exports of wheat and other grains. Today, he asked Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to use his authority under the Export Control Act of 1969 to curtail the wheat exports.

Minish, who has been highly critical of the Russian wheat deal, maintained that the high price of wheat is due in large part "to the large amount of this crop which has been exported in recent years." He argued that "the American people are tired of the same old policies which have driven food prices to record highs. We must protect the consumer here at home from more of the same rampant inflation. With the level of today's supermarket prices, even supposedly well-off families are having difficulty making ends meet. For many of the elderly and others living on fixed incomes, it is virtually impossible."

"Unless the Administration moves decisively and promptly," Minish warned, "the consumer will also surely find himself victimized by another round of price increases for one of the essential items of every diet - bread."

Compensatin Bill Backed By Institute

Stating that New Jersey cannot afford to be underbid by other states in attracting new businesses and keeping established firms, the director of the Newark Archdiocese's Institute of Social Relations called for bi-partisan support from N.J. federal legislators for the federal workman's compensation bill being sponsored by Sen. Harrison A. Williams (D-N.J.).

"The continued efforts to improve the state's workmen's compensation program by organized labor in New Jersey have actually had an adverse effect on the job organized labor in New Jersey have actually had an adverse effect on the job market," said the Rev. John L. Paprocki. "Because industry must pay the costs of higher benefits, many businesses are lured away from New Jersey to states with inferior - and less costly - programs, and new industries pass over our state in the search for cheaper labor."

If you're NOT a
First National State
customer, you could be getting only 4%
or 4½% on your
Regular Passbook
Savings Account.

If you ARE a
First National State
customer, you'll be happy to know

We CONTINUE to pay the highest legal rate...

And you don't have to wait.
Your money is yours whenever you want it...
Even by mail.

Put whatever amount you like in your account. Leave it in as long as you want. Take it out whenever you want. And your money is safe... it is insured up to $20,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Currently we pay 5% per year... the highest legal rate allowed a commercial bank! On balances of $25.00 or over, you earn interest on the full amount compounded quarterly!

And you'll like doing all your business with one bank, where you can write a check, make a loan, put a deposit in your savings account and place some important papers in a safe deposit box... all in one short visit. Don't you think you should be doing business with New Jersey's largest commercial bank?

Want to switch? Just bring your passbook to any one of 30 convenient offices of First National State Bank or mail* it with the coupon in this ad. That's all. We'll do the rest.

*P.S. Do your banking by mail and save time and energy. We pay postage both ways.
