Town Turns to High Court To Protect Trash Contract

by Ken Moore

Belleville's court battle to retain the Town's present scavenger service without seeking competitive bids for the contract may become a test case before the State Supreme Court this fall. A resolution of the controversy will affect methods of contract awards throughout the state.

The Town of Belleville, along with its present scavenger service, L. Pucillo and Sons of Lodi, filed a petition for review of the case by the highest court in the state Tuesday, after a three-judge panel in the Appellate Division of Superior Court ruled June 28 to uphold a previous decision that went against Belleville.

The Appellate Division backed up Superior Court Judge Irwin Kimmelman's January 2 ruling that scavenger contracts must be put up for competitive bidding, even though trash collecting service is defined as a utility and is regulated by the Public Utility Commission.

Kimmelman barred Belleville from extending its $428,000 per year contract with Pucillo for another two years, and said the Town must readvertise for bids. The suit was brought against Belleville and Pucillo by another scavenger firm, Capasso Brothers of Ridgeway, whose bid was returned unopened at a November, 1973 meeting of the Board of Commissioners, when the Town Fathers voted to extend the Pucillo contract after three years of service.

The Town had already advertised for bids on a new contract but refused to accept them from Capasso and another contractor. That move touched off the court battle which may go to Supreme Court chambers next fall.

Until a final decision is rendered, the Town continues to use Pucillo's firm at the $428,000 rate. If the Supreme Court refuses to hear the case, the Appellate Division ruling will stand and the contract bids must be readvertised and accepted.

If the court hears the case, which is yet to be decided, a ruling will probably come down this fall. Commissioner of Public Affairs Vincent Strumolo, who sponsored the Pucillo contract extension, this week speculated if the Town wins the case, the two-year extension would probably be marked from January 1, 1974. "It's up to the judges," he said. "In the meantime we're getting the benefit of the price by staying the way we are."

Economy, said Strumolo, is the reason the Town wants to extend the Pucillo contract for two more years, thus beating mounting inflation. The proof, he said, was shown earlier this year when neighboring Nutley, with about 6,000 less people than Belleville, had to agree to pay $442,961 on a trash contract.

Only one bidder, Intercity of Lyndhurst had come forward on the Nutley pact, however. Furthermore, at the time Capasso's bid was rejected by Belleville, the contractor insisted he could offer a better price than Pucillo, though he would not divulge his bid.

Strumolo also pointed out "the excellent service" the Town has received from Pucillo, and Mayor Joseph McGreevy backed up the original Commission vote by saying extension of the Pucillo contract avoided "gambling" with a price hike by taking bids.

Economy, however is not the basic issue the Supreme Court would consider if it hears the case. Opposing attorneys agree the heart of the matter is the status of scavenger contracts up for award by municipal governing bodies — does the law say they must be submitted to competitive bidding?

The Commissioners based their November, 1973 decision to reject the unopened bids on a Public Utility Commission (PUC) decision made only the week before defining scavenger services as a utility. The assumption made by the Commissioners after the PUC ruling (which was based on a Saddle River case) was that scavenger service, like other utilities such as water and electrical service, need not be put up for bid. This is the simplified form of the legal argument posed by Town Attorney John Scott and Pucillo's lawyer, Mark Lerner, who has handled most of the litigation on behalf of the Town.

In 1970, the Solid Waste

Management Act and the Solid Waste Utility Act placed regulation of the scavenger industry under the PUC, which has the power to designate franchise areas and approve rate increases after public hearings.

Judge Kimmelman supported attorney Samson's argument that existing public bidding laws still govern the industry, and those laws require municipalities to permit competition for contracts exceeding $2,500. The PUC, Samson said, regulates scavengers in some areas, but the existing public bidding laws still apply.

The PUC, last March after the Kimmelman ruling went against Belleville, did in fact recommend that the public bidding law should apply until franchise areas are set up, as do exist for other utilities. That ruling apparently was made to comply with Kimmelman's decision, which must be supported by the Supreme Court.

Human Error Caused Collision Of Erie Lackawanna Trains

Erie Lackawanna Railway investigators have tentatively identified human error as the cause of a head-on train collision which caused minor injuries to 35 passengers late Monday afternoon on a section of track near Franklin Avenue and Mill Street.

An Erie spokesman said two passenger trains bearing over 300 commuters collided at 5:18 p.m. after "confusion over the interpretation of a schedule" placed the two four-car trains on the same track headed in opposite directions. Though two cars were derailed, one of them demolished and a cab of another train severely damaged, the most seriously injured passenger apparently suffered only a broken leg. Police units from Belleville, Newark and the Essex County Park Police responded immediately, along with the Belleville Fire Department and ambulance squad, and the Nutley first aid squad. Passengers were treated for shock, multiple cuts and bruises and transported to three area hospitals. Two train crew members were detained for treatment, but one of them, engineer Arthur Scott, 50, of Upper Saddle River was later released. Fireman Joseph Accordia, 22, of Irvington was listed in fair condition at Clara Maass Hospital Tuesday.

The wreck involved the 1001 train running westbound from Hoboken to Dover, carrying two passengers and four crew members, and the 1040, eastbound with 301 passengers and four crewmen, from Lincoln Park to Hoboken. The Erie spokesman said the posted speed limit for trains in that area is 45 miles per hour, "and we've been told both trains were travelling well under that speed." He said tapes which were taken from the cabs of the trains will establish their respective speeds at the moment of impact.

The accident occurred, said George Eastland, manager of public affairs for Erie Lackawanna, because repairs to a bridge at Williamson Avenue in Bloomfield had caused a shutdown on the westbound track. This, said Eastland, "is a very common practice and not particularly unusual." While the westbound track was out of service for the past week, he said, a dispatcher in Hoboken made up special schedules to alternate trains running in opposite directions, along the route. It was this schedule which broke down Monday causing the collision.

The westbound 1001 was pulling four cars with 300 passengers, while the eastbound 1040, had four cars being pushed by an engine. The 1001 held to the tracks at impact, though the passengers were thrown about, causing injuries. The last three cars on the nearly deserted 1040 were derailed and one was ripped open and thrown nearly on its side.

Authorities reported no panic ensued among the commuters. Eastland said the passengers were delayed for one or two hours.

Sergeant Patrick Linfante of the Essex County Park Police was on patrol in Branch Brook Park, which borders the scene of the crash, and called for a detail of officers immediately. He said his detail administered to about 20 passengers and tran-

Board Opposes Income Tax

Belleville's five Commissioners, including Town Democratic Chairman Mary Senatore lined up foursquare behind a resolution opposing Governor Brendan Byrne's proposed state income tax plan Tuesday night.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy sponsored the resolution, which he said characterizes the people of Belleville as "nearly 100 percent opposed to a state income tax. McGreevy said no formal survey has been taken to measure reaction to the plan in Belleville, but he said he based his conclusions on "the people I've talked to and the calls I've received." He said he has received 70-80 calls since last Thursday about the plan, and every one of the callers gave negative reactions. McGreevy has seen no written reaction against the tax proposals.

Mrs. Senatore formally broke with Democratic Governor Byrne by joining the other four Commissioners in the resolution.

School Board Finds Shortage of Bidders

Though the Belleville Board of Education initiated the 1974-75 budget by awarding nearly $20,000 in contracts at a special meeting July 1, they are forced to readvertise for bids on four other important items.

Board members expressed some surprise that no bids have been submitted for masonry work at School Four and repaving at School Three and Belleville High School, but that's what happened and the trustees will try again to find bidders for the work, along with major repairs on a high school chemistry lab.

It's not as if area contractors don't know the items are up for bid. Under law, the School Board is obliged to advertise in the Newark Star-Ledger for contractual work. "We have as many as 10 or 12 people coming in to pick up bids on some of these items," said Mary Shader Secretary.

School Business Administrator. "It depends on the size of the job."

Though some Board members were heard make comments like "I thought contractors were looking for work" when items like the masonry contract saw no

Break Ground For Center This Saturday

Ground breaking ceremonies for the Belleville Senior Citizens' Center at Franklin and Mill Street will take place Saturday at 10 a.m., Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Michael Marotti announced this week.

Town Commissioners and all senior citizens are invited to the ceremony, including members of Amvets and Kiwanis and other volunteers who are working on construction of the building.

bids, there remains no definite explanation for the apparent lack of interest in Belleville school contracts. School officials speculate, however, that area contractors simply don't have the time to take on any more jobs. And since only one of the items, the installation of roof ventilators in the chemistry lab, has to be done in the summertime, the Board will probably wait until business conditions aren't so brisk to seek bidders. "The Board will most likely postpone many of these until contractors aren't so busy."

A couple of other items only attracted one bidder, and while the Board can legally award a contract on a one-bid item, they are reluctant to do so. One member in particular, Richard Mahmarian, took particular care at the meeting to see that single-bid items were awarded "at reasonable prices."

Senior Citizen Park Concert Slated Today

All Senior Citizens and their guests are cordially invited to attend the Third Annual Senior Citizen Outdoor Concert in Belleville Park today at 10:30 a.m., sponsored by the Belleville Park Senior Citizen Clubs.

On stage will be the "Final Act," the 50th Armored Band and the Musicians Union Band, and as a special added attraction, the Belleville Park Senior Citizen Choir. The festivities will begin at 10:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. All Seniors are invited to bring a lunch and chair, though hot dogs and hamburgers and chairs will be available.

The host clubs of the Belleville Park Senior Citizen Clubs have extended their personal invitation to all other county clubs to join them for this year's concert.

A Happy Birthday for Young Tommy Cerbo

By Pegi Adam

Tommy Cerbo, of North Arlington, celebrated his 11th birthday June 18, and it was a treat he will never forget, thanks to the kindness of Belleville's Parillo's Restaurant, his host for a wonderful dinner and birthday cake and Millburn's Paper Mill Playhouse, which treated him to a children's production of "Wizard of Oz." It was a very special day in more ways than one, for it was not only Tommy's 11th birthday, but a celebration of his very life. For, three months ago, Tommy lost his left arm and shoulder to bone cancer, the same bone cancer that claimed the leg of young Teddy Kennedy. "If I hadn't had my arm amputated," says Tommy, "I probably wouldn't have been here for my 11th birthday."

Tommy was a southpaw before his operation, and so had to relearn such basic skills as eating, writing, drawing (which he does like a professional) and playing baseball (his favorite sport). But three weeks after leaving the hospital, he had accomplished all these things. Now, he plays center field for North Arlington's Little League and he rides his new ten-speed bike with proficiency.

His family, which consists of his mother, stepfather, two brothers and two half-sisters, have given him the freedom to develop his skills. "We don't help him," says his mother, Mrs. John LaScola, "no matter how much we want to. He must try to do things for himself. Oh, sometimes I get so frustrated watching him that I want to run over and do whatever the task is myself, but my husband always stops me." She smiles as she mentions Johnny. "Without him, we wouldn't have pulled through this ordeal."

"But one good thing has come out of this, and that is that we discovered how many really good people there are in the world, a fact I think we all

Officials Blast Plan To Dump in River

One Year Ago

If Environmental Improvement Commissioner Cosmo S. Pelia were to get his way, there would be a special bicycle path running through Branch Brook Park on Sunday. The idea was to block off a mile and a half of road in the park, a move that wasn't much favored by the Essex County Parks Commission. Pelia therefore planned to lobby the Essex County Board of Freeholders. Pelia pointed to similar projects in neighboring Nutley and in Central Park in New York, where cars are prohibited on Sundays. His major statement in favor of the program? "It wouldn't cost a dime."

Although 40 mail carriers were transferred from the Main Office on Washington Avenue to the Main Street Annex, Mayor Joseph McGreevy assured town residents that he had a solemn promise from officials that customer service would be continued at the Washington Avenue Post Office. McGreevy stated that the carriers had been moved because the Washington Avenue office had become "too small."

Nutley American Legion Post 70 burned Belleville 3-0, in the annual Independence Day encounter, held in the Nutley Park Oval. Belleville had managed eight base runners on six hits and two walks, but had failed to score.

Five Years Ago

With the undesirable prospect of 100 million gallons of sewage being dumped into the Passaic River by the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, Belleville officials Mary Senatore and Vincent Strumolo raised the possibility of a lawsuit against the Commission to block the dumping. Belleville announced its plan to block the sewage move, after Nutley announced that it would use any means necessary to block the dump, including that of a lawsuit. Commissioner Strumolo, head of the Health Department, was indignant about the idea, and about the possibilities of the pollution, and stated the sewage dumping, which would occur while the Sewage Commission repaired a sewer main in Newark, was "intolerable."

Belleville Police answered more than 29 complaints concerning firecrackers, from July 3-6. A police spokesman stated that the Department had been deluged with calls, many of which could not be answered.

Ten Years Ago

The Town Council investigated plans for the repairing of sections of the Municipal Stadium. Several appraisals of the cost for different plans were looked into, and immediate improvements, under the control of the town, were expected to be undertaken.

Belleville Lodge 1123 of the Benevolent Order of Elks conducted their annual observance of Flag Day. The Lodge was assisted in their services by several local Boy Scout Troops.

Fifteen Years Ago

The Rutan Estates Company filed suit against the Town of Belleville for not granting building permits for 19 of the houses which were to be constructed as a part of the Rutan Estates. The Town claimed that the construction of the extra homes would be in violation of the local zoning ordinance, while the Rutan Estates people claimed that there was no such violation.

John F. Kidde was elected chairman of the Walter Kidde and Company of Canada, Limited. I.J. Hammill was elected president and chief officer of that same company.

Twenty Years Ago

Miss Nancy Glenck of 61 Bremond Street, 9 years old, formally requested, by letter, that the Town block off the street in front of her house on the day that she was planning to hold a carnival in her back yard.

2nd Lieutenant Edward W. Costendubder, Jr., of Fairway Avenue, was awarded his Air Force pilot's silver wings in graduation ceremonies at Vance Air Force base, in Oklahoma.

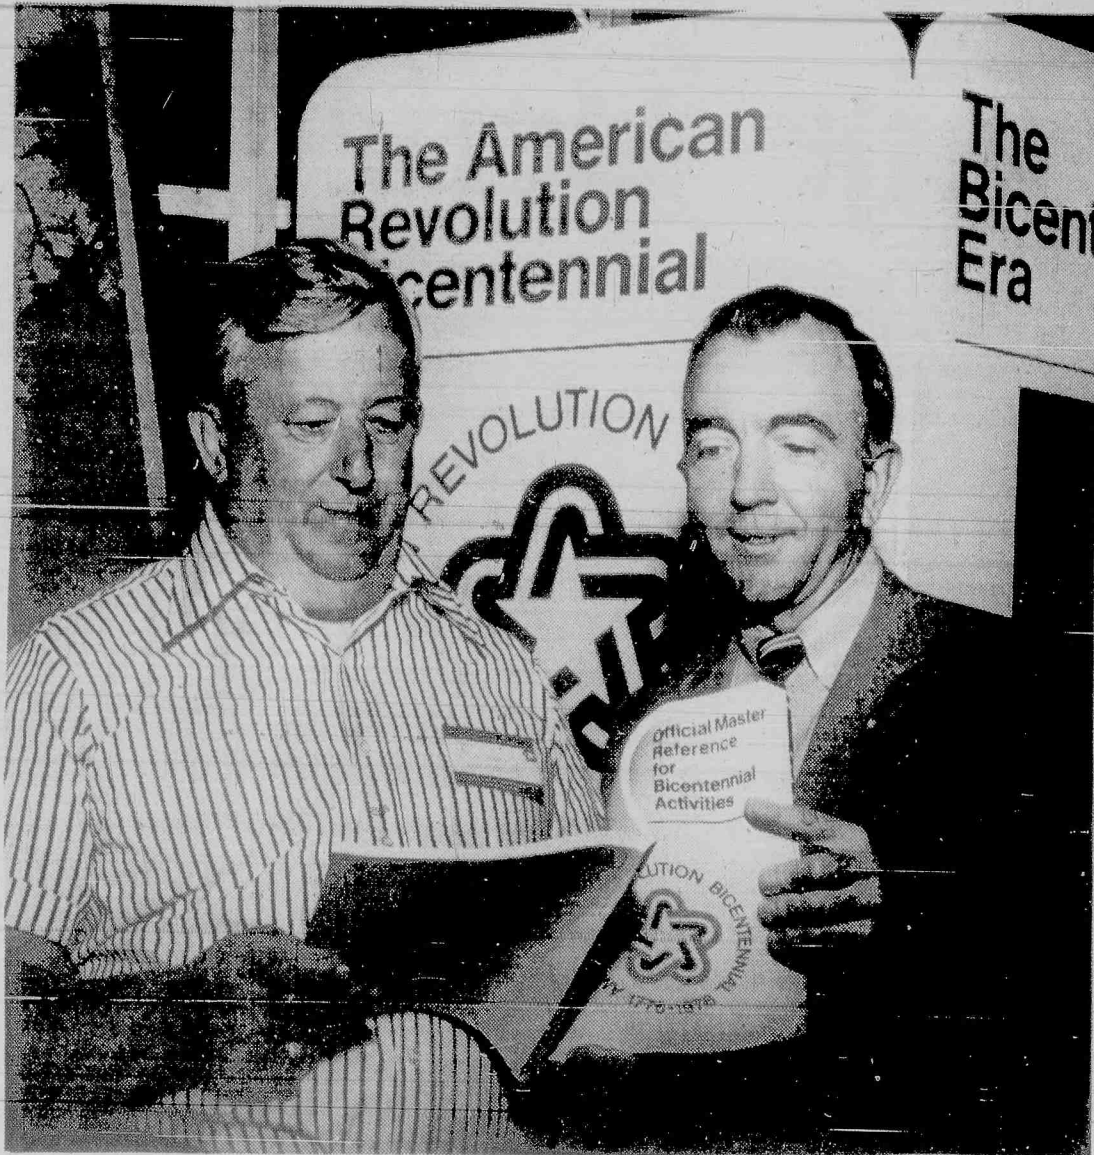

Thirty Years Ago

The appointment of Dr. Martia M. Meehan of Washington Avenue, Belleville, as a member of the Belleville/Nutley ration board was announced by chairman Herbert C. Schmutz.

Eugene J. Kelly was honored by the Belleville Knights of Columbus at St. Peter's Hall. He had been Grand Knight for the preceding two years.

Forty-Five Years Ago

The Zoning Board refused to endorse the Commission's proposed Town-wide rezoning map. The revision, sponsored by Commissioner Gibson, was to zone areas for apartment houses, which Gibson claimed that the Town needed. The Zoning Board rejected the proposal because, they said, a new map was not properly studied and planned.

BIRTHDAY PLANNING — Mayor Joseph F. McGreevy, left, at the U.S. Conference of Mayors in San Diego recently discussed Belleville's plans for the Bicentennial observance with John Nolan, Region Director, ARBA Bicentennial Communities. The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration has designated more than 1,000 cities and counties across the nation as official Bicentennial Communities. To date these communities and various state Bicentennial commissions account for the more than 2,000 major Bicentennial projects that are listed in ARBA BINET national computer information system.

Resident Participates In Town Government

The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs has announced that Larry Spinelli of 17 Crescent Terrace has been selected to be a participant in their "Interns in Public Service" program. The program, in its seventh year of operation, attempts to place undergraduate and graduate students in a government agency or office on the state, county or local level. The intern program continues for the entire summer and it attempts to stimulate interest in government as a possible vocation.

Spinelli will spend an 11-week period serving in the capacity of administrative assistant to the town administrator of Secaucus. He will be involved in the planning, developing and enacting of many programs that are essential to the community of Secaucus.

Spinelli recently graduated from Drew University.

Remedial Reading Program Ready

Arthur M. Pico, Director of the E.S.E.A. Title I Belleville Remedial Reading Program has announced that the Belleville Board of Education will begin processing the formal application for the E.S.E.A. Title I Program for 1974-75.

Once approved, the Program will be available in Schools one, two, four, and nine to grades one, two, and three, as these schools fall within the Federal guidelines.

Hydrant Wash May Cause Dirty Water

Belleville residents can expect some temporary discoloration of their drinking water at some time or another this summer. Commissioner of Public Works Mary Senatore said this week. The reason will be the necessary flushing of fire hydrants around town.

Each of the 700-800 hydrants will be flushed to remove sediment at a rate of three or four each night, and the result often is dirty tap water, which will clear overnight.

Mrs. Senatore said her department has already received some complaints of dirty water, but she attributed it to an early opening of the hydrants by children at play.

OVERTURNED SHELL is all that remains of a passenger car that bore the brunt of the oncoming cab. A crane was used to disengage the two smashed cars and the wreckage was cleared off the tracks by 3 a.m.

Over 300 passengers rode one of the trains, while only six were aboard the other. There were no fatalities.

sported 15 to hospitals. The injured were taken to Clara Maass Hospital, Marlton and Mountaintop. "There was no confusion," said Sergeant Infante. "All the passengers were relatively calm and the conductors were assisting them off. There was no screaming, no excitement. Most of them were concerned with getting home."

Along with the many County Park Police and Belleville Officers on the scene, the Erie Lackawanna Railway sent their special investigators to examine the wreckage and a crew was brought in with a derrick to haul out the wrecked cars. The tracks swarmed with newsmen from metropolitan area television stations and daily newspapers. Police continually had to chase youngsters off the tracks and a large crowd of curious residents gathered on Mill Street and in the park to catch fleeting glimpses of the cleanup operation, which remained mostly hidden behind high shrubbery.

Other trains were rerouted through Morristown to Dover and freight trains were sent through northern Bergen County until the tracks were cleared away by 3 a.m.

Belleville Mayor Joseph McGreevy, who had in the past joined Bloomfield Mayor John Kinder in criticizing Erie's maintenance of tracks in the area, noted that "the physical aspect of the track was not involved" in Monday's accident, and attributed the accident to a "blind turn" along the track. "Thank God nobody got seriously hurt," he said, and said "the cooperation among the N.J. State Police, Belleville and Newark emergency services was tremendous."

The track curves about 500 yards east of the crash site, and about 100 yards from the scene is a stone trestle over the Second River.

Just Plain Madness

Interest rates have gone up again this week. The rate banks charge their best customers is officially pegged at 12-1/4 — that is at this writing — and by the time we go to press only God knows whether the interest rate may go to 13.

It is sheer madness on the part of government to permit such an unreasonable increase in the cost of money. We are not — and we don't hold ourselves out to be economists — or any kind of expert in the world of high finance. Despite this handicap it just makes common sense to us to believe that the outrageous interest rates that prevail will drive honest little businessmen to bankruptcy. Big business must suffer too. Even the federal government — and when we speak of the federal government naturally we are talking about the masses of people that make up this great Republic of ours — cannot afford to pay today's current rate of interest.

The industrial explosion in the last 50 years has been primarily based upon credit buying. America's high standard of living is structured on the basis of credit. Credit means the payment of interest. And even a grammar school kid can see the folly of repressive interest rates.

It is time somebody in Washington woke up to the fact that partial control of the nation's economy must lead to chaos. Instead of establishing an artificial rate of interest, why doesn't the federal government let the law of supply and demand govern. The shame is that history has proven most of the times government gets involved in attempts to control people's life styles it ends up messing up the works.

Domestically the country is in bad shape. We still continue to believe the Congress of the United States should initiate legislation to eliminate the onerous interest rate.

Fat & Cancer

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, a pioneer researcher who has long linked America's heavy fat diet with cancer, told the American College of Nutrition meeting in Chicago recently that half of all female cancer and a third of all male cancer might be related to nutritional factors.

Wynder is not referring to food additives such as artificial sweeteners but is speaking of deficiencies and excesses in the daily diet. He believes too much fat can be traced as a cause of many colon cancers, and also of kidney and pancreas cancers.

Wynder's arguments are supported by recent efforts of researchers who have made statistical studies of races and groups which eat less fat than the average American (Japanese, Seventh Day Adventists, etc.) Their efforts reveal a far lower rate of cancer of the colon, kidney and pancreas among those who eat less fat than among average Americans, with their high fat diet.

Thus the evidence is now more persuasive than ever that most of us should reduce our intake of fat, especially animal fat.

July Days

Following Independence Day and the anniversary of Gettysburg, the latter half of July could hardly be so interesting, historically, yet several late July anniversaries are worthy of mention.

Florida was ceded to the United States on the 17th in 1819, to become a state in 1845 (the Seminole Indians having been defeated in the meantime). The state had first been settled by French Presbyterians but the Spanish drove them out in 1565 and held the territory almost two hundred years until the English gave Spain Cuba in exchange for Florida. The Spanish regained Florida eighteen years later and held it until the United States obtained possession peacefully thirty-eight years later.

The third week in July has long been noted as the time of the ripening of cherries (and the Cherry Festival) in the Traverse City area, Michigan, dating from 1908 when B.F. Morgan planted the first cherries in the region.

John Rutledge, second Chief Justice of the United States, died July 23rd, 1800 — he was born in Charleston but the date is not known. The 24th is Pioneer Day in Utah; it is Mormon Pioneer Day in Idaho. (Frontier Day is also observed in Cheyenne, Wyoming.)

Some still observe the Anniversary of Crater Day in Virginia (Petersburg), dating from the battle of July 30th, 1864, when defenders repulsed a Union assault touched off by a spectacular underground explosion which devastated Confederate lines.

The powerful Jesuit movement is remembered on the 31st, the anniversary of the death of Inigo Lopez de Recalde in 1556 in Rome, who had founded the militant order to restore the authority of Catholicism and counter the Protestant Reformation.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The public announcement of School Superintendent Anthony Greco's resignation, with an accompanying 18 percent salary hike up to 37,000 raises some interesting observations. The most significant is WHY?

When we attempt to interpret the significance of the schoolmaster's quotes that his job had become "no fun any more," and further elaborating said he had encountered "too many personal and professional compromises in the position" we grasp the hint that this highly capable man had encountered serious problems. With pupils? Staff? Board members? Come on Tony — Clear the air.

Getting back to school board action... How come the board doesn't publish, as the town, a list of all their administrative personnel's salaries?

We realize that, unlike the case of the town, it is not legally required, however, since these individuals are public employees it would seem fitting that a listing of their salary ranges be published. The public's right to know principle seems sufficient justification to request the School Board to observe such an informative policy. After all we do have to "foot the bill" for the salaries the school board members choose to pay these administrators.

It now looks like we won't be getting that new American La France pumper the new fire chief sought... economy he has been advised prevents it. The original budget proposed by the director called for appropriations to provide automatic index files for the detective bureau, scuba boat and equipment, a new signal department truck with lift and improvements in the fire-house communications center... Mayor McGreevy, trying to emulate the mastery of former Mayor Bill Williams under whom he worked as a veteran's guidance director, insisted these improvements be deleted from the Public Safety Department budget.

Thus in a move which may prove to be false economy the new fire chief, who is doing a good job, isn't getting the new pumper he wanted, especially, at a time when the motor block on one of the Seagraves engines developed three cracks which necessitated an emergency resolution by the commissioners to let him go ahead without the delay of public bids to replace the motor in the disabled fire-engine. Likewise, observation of fire department regulations have been more strictly enforced under the leadership of Chief George Sbarra, with resultant improvement in efficiency in the department's operations.

Without commenting upon the merits of the commissioner's passage of the Public Safety pay provisions, providing time and a half for overtime, the question does "pop-up" could the ordinance be contested legally on the question of conflict of interest? With the Mayor and the Public Safety director absent the Ordinance passed 3-0, but the necessary third vote was provided by Comm. Mike Marotti, himself, a police officer of the town, no on leave of absence, because of the ruling of Governor Byrne, when a judge. Should he return to duty he might benefit from a measure he voted to enact. A conflict of interest?

YOU CAN TELL it's the Fourth of July again when you spot kid-filled sacks bounding along the turf at Municipal Stadium. This year's field races, circus and fireworks were as big a hit as they have been in the past.

Speak Up!

High School Commencement Called 'Fiasco'

To The Editor:

As a taxpayer and citizen of our so-called "great" community of Belleville, I was enraged and disgusted over the chaotic exhibition that ensued during the commencement exercises of the high school on June 18, 1974.

How can the school officials and the Police Department have allowed so many people to gather at an occasion of great importance to witness and do nothing to correct the situation of total disarray, too many unnecessary spectators, who did nothing but shout and jump up and down as if they were at a circus, not to mention the "stink over the noise. What is wrong with the people? Have they no regard or respect for an occasion such as this? Is this the example to be set for our future adults?

I feel that the high school graduation exercises should be confined to the parents of the graduates only and tickets should be issued in order to keep out the people who do not appreciate what it all means.

I had family and friends from out of town (my daughter graduated) who expected to see what I felt, in the past, was a beautiful and meaningful ceremony. Instead, I was horrified and revulsed at the total fiasco that was held at the so-called graduation.

Something should be done about it!

Helping Hand Appreciated Laterza's Aid

To The Editor:

The "Helping Hand" organization has been in existence in Belleville since 1967. Helping Hand, oock Parents as they are called, are on duty when a child is going to and from school. They act as an extra pair of eyes for law enforcement. Their homes may be used as a refuge for a child being followed home from school or an emergency situation.

Helping Hand signs have been in windows of homes and stores in the school districts of Number Four and Number Nine. With the added influx of traffic from the Path Mark, the James G. Shawgermo and School Association sent correspondence to Commissioner Laterza, Director of Public Safety asking to have street signs erected with the helping hand symbol visible for all to see. We now have the signs that were made by the Essex County Corrections Center in Caldwell installed in our school districts.

It is for this reason that I would like to use the news media to publicly thank Commissioner Laterza and his department for affording our children the extra added protection these signs offer.

On behalf of Mrs. Rita Charles, president of James G. Shawger Home and School Association of School Number Four and Mrs. Cora Boice, president of the Parent Teacher Association of School Number Nine, I sincerely thank Commissioner Laterza and his department for their community spirit in assisting us with our plight.

Very truly yours,
Louise Sylvestro

Summertime

No other season quite matches summer, with its outdoor fun, vacation freedoms, water sports, camping, travel, lazy days and exotic nights. Blue skies and sunshine, of course, cheer up those who get away from big cities to enjoy them; outdoor living is also good for the soul, and health. And summer is often the only time families can play together at a favorite vacation or holiday spot.

Yet summer is primarily a hot ordeal for some, especially in metropolitan areas, and it is also a dangerous time for those on the highway, and at vacation spots on the water. Too many are killed on the highways each summer or are drowned in boating and swimming accidents.

Many return from long vacation trips exhausted. Good planning this summer, taking into consideration the need to conserve gasoline, can make summertime, 1974 more enjoyable.

Four-Day School?

In Cimarron, New Mexico, last year the energy crisis prompted officials to reduce the traditional school week from five to four days. The four days were lengthened to compensate for the lost hours of the fifth day.

This fall officials will continue the plan — because it proved popular with both parents and children. The more than four hundred students in Cimarron will again have Mondays free of school.

This innovation is not altogether new. Some firms have adopted four-day work weeks for employees and in many cases the four-day work week has proven popular.

The temptation to rationalize is a danger in such plans but if the school or work week can be arranged so that learning or production doesn't decline, the idea has much to commend it. Reduced driving (and school children often drive to school these days), commuting time, gasoline consumption and the opportunity to enjoy long weekends are some of the benefits of the four-day week.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

State's DEP Sometimes Irks Environmentalists With Its Bills

By David F. Moore

N.J. Conservation Foundation

NEW JERSEY'S usually well-founded Department of Environmental Protection, like any other individual or institution, sometimes makes a move environmentalists consider foolish. Here's a current sad example.

IT INVOLVES the Passaic River system and, some probably well-intentioned but certainly badly focussed legislation which the Department now administers. The bill provided $4.1 million in grants to "dredge and deslag" rivers and streams to avoid flood damage.

We at the North Jersey Conservation Foundation wonder if the projects have been subjected to the tests of environmental impact statements in accordance with an executive order by the Governor to review every project using state money that way.

WE REALLY DON'T wonder very hard, because we know very well that, except in extraordinary circumstances, such stream-straightening jobs are environmentally and socially destructive, as well as eminently infeasible, and therefore wouldn't stand the impact test. Here's why:

The usual stream channelization job removes trees and brush well back from the stream, removes all obstructions from the channel, piles silt by the stream, straightens curves and widens the channel. The following things then happen:

THE STREAM speeds up, causing much more erosion, carrying sediment downstream and depositing silt in slow-moving places. This causes the water to be cloudy and unable to assimilate pollutants, while smothering stream life and reducing the oxygen in the water which fish, and critters upon which they feed, need in order to stay alive.

Because the water speeds up, it causes a greater flooding downstream. Any debris the water carries hits bridge abutments harder and gouges out embankments, causing even more damage.

With trees and shrubs gone, their roots no longer keep stream banks from washing away. Absence of the overhead foliage warms the stream because of unobstructed sunlight, with yet another loss of dissolved oxygen.

WHAT WITH ALL this disturbance of the stream bed, aquatic life is dislodged, uprooted and otherwise rendered locally extinct. It doesn't come back easily. Some ecologists estimate as much as 40 years are necessary.

For most streams in such circumstances, the absence might as well be considered eternal. This is "because natural conditions such as slope, soils, rock structure and the like dictate the course of the water and with the return of natural curves and siltation build-ups, the engineers will have to come back and do their silly thing all over again — probably in less than 10 years.

SO NOW WE have the Department of Environmental Protection administering this patently unenvironmental set of stream-straightening grants. Towns and counties are always lusting for grants, but in this case it's like extending a poisoned carrot.

I can understand the traditional engineering mentality operating at the local level, so wrapped up in technical showmanship that it couldn't care less about lousing up the environment. But the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection?

Browsing Belleville

with Pat Diana
(write me at 104 Overlook Ave. or phone 751-6861 after 6 p.m.).

That was a nice way to start our week — visited American Legion Post 105 where the Sabre Cadet Auxiliary held a spaghetti and meatballs dinner...mmmm good! Barbara Welter and Mary Ellen Giovenelli were waitresses. Betty Kinsley and Walt Price dished up in the kitchen, Eli Price, Ray Kinsley and Rita Van Houten were on the cleanup brigade with Rose Giovenelli at the door. Speaking of the Sabre Cadets they paraded July 3rd in Fairfield and July 4th at Maywood and Warwick, New York.

Eotta birthdays around our way — Debbie Senatore, Nancy Tronio and Ralph Labriano...best wishes for a good year.

Get well wishes are in order for Mary Nolter — to send a card, she is at Presbyterian Hospital.

RECEIVED a note from a young lady who posed a very interesting question...how about letting teens ride the Senior Citizen Bus when they do such good deeds as volunteer at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital? The days are hot for walking, and it is one way to give the kids an incentive — a way to get where they are going...any answers or comments?

Did you enjoy the celebration at BHS stadium on the Fourth? It would have pleased me immensely if, when the fireworks displayed a flag, the entire stadium sang "God Bless America", "My Country 'Tis of Thee" or, better yet, "The Star Spangled Banner" — thought for next year?

Speaking of our National Anthem — I usually read Erma Bombeck's column. She is quite a humorist and depicts everyday happenings such as teething babies to teen doings, etc. The only time I disagreed with Miss Bombeck is this past week when she suggested a new tune for our National Anthem...true, it is difficult to sing, but I've been brought up on seeing the flag displayed and hearing the Anthem at every civic event. Remember when you went to the movies? Seems sad to me, but patriotism isn't what it used to be...comments are invited on changing the National Anthem.

This week was a guest of The Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook Belleville. My program was courtesy of Hoffman International Inc. of Cortlandt Street, "The Total Service Company" — a film was shown...interested? Call me.

SPEAKING of programs, most groups are preparing for the fall...if you seek publicity, photographs, or even bands and entertainment...I've got it all for you — give a whistle.

As you can see from the length of this column, there's not too much doing during the summer — thank goodness, I get a rest — however, be sure to invite me to any whing-dings you may have — block parties, etc., that you want in the paper...I can't get to them all, and in most cases you can just give me the info over the phone.

The Nutley Belle-Girls — my softball team is coming along pretty good — we've been challenged by one of Belleville's softball teams — more coverage on that later...as you know my group belongs to a Nutley Rec League as we play in the evening...and, I am finally learning the difference between football and baseball (to which my husband says: "amen").

Best wishes are in order for my nephew Don Durkin of Nutley — on his engagement to Miss Kathy Knight of Massachusetts.

Missed out on attending Memorial Services at High State Park sponsored by the American Legion — a case of ptomaine poisoning kept me home (no, silly, I didn't cook it).

Congratulations to my daughter, Linda Ann Diana — she made the All Star Team at the Northern New Jersey Basketball Camp. Linda is spending the summer as a counselor at Camp Dawson (p.s. she's a softball champ, too and coaches a pigtail team).

Members of the Metropolitan Organ Club of Northern New Jersey with birthdays this month: Dorothea Abbey, Patty Cernero, Elaine Cunard, Linda McCloud, Mildred Steidel and Marjorie Trunk...have a happy...p.s., please learn to spell my name right — I've been married two years it's "Bohlen".

PAT'S FUNNIES

Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow? Well, the gardener is not a she, it's a he, and he can be contrary such as having a Victory garden growing in quite a public place...actually, it just LOOKS like a garden — the stakes are helping flowers grow...and they ARE pretty, so there!

Hard to believe two bus drivers went drag racing up the Avenue the other day...no wonder they say "leave the driving to us" — there is no room for cars.

Hey gals, if you're visiting a certain establishment, make sure you're wearing slacks — rumor is beneath the bar is a one-way see-through mirror and a little revolving door for the bartender to put his hands through...there were shrieks and squeals of (1) fright? (2) joy? (3) disbelief? Aw, Pat, kwitcheekiddin'.

Bruce Creditor Performs Joplin Rags

Bruce Creditor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Creditor of Belleville, will be performing in two tours this summer with organizations from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, where he is entering his senior year.

The first will be as clarinetist in the Grammy award-winning New England Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble, conducted by NEC President Gunther Schuller. This ensemble, founded in May of 1972 during a festival of American Romantic Music, has contributed much to the current revived interest in the music of Scott Joplin and other ragtime composers — an art which was neglected for too long, and corrupted by too many 'honky-tonk' pianists and Hollywood soundtrack composer/arrangers.

The group has made two recordings, with a third in the works: The Red Back Book (Angel) which received the 1973 National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences Grammy for 'Best Chamber Music Performance' and many 'record of the year' accolades; and More Scott Joplin Rags (Golden Crest) which promises to be another best selling album and already has received glowing reviews and praise for "the Joplin magic". The summer engagements for the Ragtime Ensemble include appearances at Saratoga Arts Center, The Temple University Festival, Wolf Trap Farm Arts Center (Washington, D.C.), the Blossom Music Festival (Cleveland), Mississippi River Festival in

Edwardsville, Mo., the First Annual Scott Joplin Festival in Sedalia, Mo. (where Joplin composed many of his rags), Ravinia Festival (Chicago), the Newport Music Festival (R.I.), Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood, and in Rochester, N.Y. and Ottawa, Canada.

Old Geranium Flowers Must Be Picked

Most good gardeners know that old flowers must be picked if they want the plant to continue blooming. The primary reason is that plants produce seeds and then stop flowering if old blossoms remain on the plant.

Disease prevention is another good reason for picking flowers from geranium plants, advises William F. Munk.

Check Fidelity

If you write checks freely,
Regular Checking lets you write them for nothing.

As long as you maintain at least $300 in your account, Regular Checking is free.

There's no monthly service charge.

And there's no charge per check—you can write as many as you like.

If you write a lot of checks each month, our Regular Checking account can probably save you a lot of money.

And, if your balance should drop below $300 some month, the service charges are small:

Minimum Balance
$300 or more	Free
$200 to $300	$1
$100 to $200	$2
Under $100	$3

If you keep bigger balances, Executive Checking may be a better deal.

Especially useful for people who are paid monthly, Executive Checking is free as long as your average balance is $800 or more.

(The average balance is the sum of the daily balances for the month divided by the number of days in the month.)

So even if your balance gets very low for a few days, Executive Checking is still free as long as your average balance for the month is $800 or more.

And for balances below $800, services charges are reasonable:

Average Balance
$800 or more	Free
$600 to $800	$1
$400 to $600	$2
Under $400	$3

If you do very little checking,
Special Checking lets you check for very little.

There's absolutely no minimum balance required in Special Checking—the ideal account for people who do a minimum of checking.

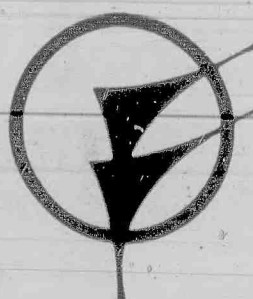

You only pay for the checks you write: 10 cents per check plus a monthly service charge of 75 cents.

No matter which type of account is right for you, you'll find that keeping a personal checking account at Fidelity is easy, convenient, and pleasant.

And your cancelled checks will automatically provide the receipt of payment that's so vital in our lives today.

Stop in at any of our 21 offices.

And check into Fidelity checking.

Tommy Cerbo's Happy Birthday

And seemingly people still can respond to the needs of their fellow human beings. At least, they certainly have rallied to make life as happy as possible for Tommy. When the Paper Mill was queried about giving him tickets for "Wizard," they complied immediately, despite the fact that their own finances are in need of a boost. Mrs. Winslow, their public relations director, said that, although Paper Mill is THE state theatre of New Jersey, it receives no financial aid from the state. It is entirely self-supporting, and among its projects are not only drama and musical comedy and children's shows, but a ballet company and an orchestra.

Tommy was entertained royally, with a tour backstage and an introduction to the actors. He was wide-eyed as he wandered among the props and costumes, the first time he had ever seen a backstage area. We wondered what could follow this treat. And then we went off to Parrillo's for dinner — and found out.

The host, Tony Fierro, greeted us genially and took us to our own room set up for our dinner. Soft music floated in and the party was served a delicious Italian meal, topped off with a birthday cake from Tony's partner, Francis bakery.

"I make many donations to various charitable organizations and never see the results," says Tony with tears in his eyes. "When we were asked to do this for Tommy, we immediately said yes, this is something we just wanted to do — the important thing is, did Tommy enjoy it?" Tommy beamed over his piece of cake. "We're open for lunch and dinner six days a week," continued Tony, "and we can cater as many as six parties at one time. We've been the owners for ten successful years, and now we plan to expand. I'm starting to keep a scrapbook of the successful parties we cater; that's where I get my satisfaction, knowing people have had such a good time that they send me thank-you notes and enclose their pictures." Save room in your album for Tommy's thank-you photo, Tony.

Tommy is looking forward to his last day of school for the year and a summer filled with Little League, bicycle riding, tree climbing and drawing. Though he always liked school prior to his operation, he now has come to hate it. "The school has refused to let him participate in gym class," says Mrs. LaScola, "even though his surgeon wrote them a letter giving explicit permission for him to take part in all school activities. When I hounded them about it, they practiced delay tactics, saying it would be brought up at a board meeting, etc. Well, it has not been resolved and now the school year is over, which is just what they wanted."

"I'm sick about it. His doctor stressed the fact that he should be treated as though he were normal, not babied, not catered to, allowed to try anything he wanted to do, including playing sports; and the school is frustrating his recuperation. Last week, he was so upset, he walked out of school and told the principal he wouldn't return until he could play gym. Finally, they agreed to 'let him watch' — a big thrill for a kid who loves playing sports the way Tommy does! Well, their troubles are far from over with him; there's always next year, when they'll have to face the issue again!"

Tommy's recovery has been nothing short of miraculous. Doctors feel there must be a special property in his blood that has aided his regaining his strength and dexterity so quickly. While in most cases of amputations, the amputee must relearn balance, compensating for the lost limb, not so in Tommy's case. The day after his operation, he stood up and walked as though the arm had never left him. "And I still feel like I have two arms," he says. "When I bat a ball, I just pretend I have two arms, and I really smack that thing. Last week, I hit a home run for Little League — but we lost the game anyway."

The only element of Tommy's life that hasn't returned to normal is the bi-weekly visits to New York's Sloan-Kettering Institute for chemotherapy treatments, an all day affair for Tommy and that he dreads. "But," says his mother, "he knows it's a matter of life and death, so he submits." The operation and the subsequent treatments have amounted to a cost well over $10,000 but the LaScolas have yet to see a bill. "We're hoping Medicaid will come to the rescue," says Tommy's mother — the family could never swing paying the bills for Tommy's cure.

DeWitt Executive Named to Serve As Committeeman

John P. Dailey, DeWitt Savings and Loan Association, Belleville, New Jersey has been appointed to the 1974 Trends and Economic Policies Committee of the United States League of Savings Associations. The appointment was announced by George B. Preston of West Palm Beach, Florida, president of the League.

The United States League, major trade association for the savings and business, numbers among its membership more than 4,600 savings and loan associations which represent 98 per cent of the assets of the business.

League committees are appointed by the president in conjunction with the Executive Committee. Some committees are concerned only with policy in fields such as legislation and federal regulations, while others are concerned with operating procedures.

Mrs. Mortimer C. Keeney of Belleville was recently elected Regent of Yantacaw Chapter DAR of Nutley. She will serve for a two year term.

Mrs. Keeney, also a member of Nutley Branch AAUW, is a graduate of Penn State and Columbia Universities. In 1972 she retired as Supervisor of Home Economics in New Providence.

Always active in the affairs of her community, she serves on the Board of the Newark Nutley Family Service Bureau and is on the Board of Trustees of Belleville-Nutley-Bloomfield Community Mental Health Service. She is a member of the Woman's Club of Belleville and attends Fawcett Presbyterian Church in Belleville.

The new Yantacaw Chapter Regent and her Hospitality Chairman, Mrs. John Rosengren of Nutley, participated in a New Jersey State DAR Workshop for new officers and chairmen on June 19th at the Molly Pitcher Inn in Red Bank.

Mrs. Mortimer Keeney

Miss Lee Elizabeth Melow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melow of Glen Ridge, became the bride of Joseph A. Deitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deitch of Little Falls, on May 11.

The Rev. Dull of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Nutley, celebrated the nuptial mass.

A reception immediately followed at The Glen Ridge Women's Club.

Escorted by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. Susan Langan of North Plainfield, sister of the bride; Mrs. Mona Deitch of Ronkonkoma, L.I. sister-in-law of the groom; and Miss Ann Marie Barry of Middletown.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin and old fashioned lace featuring a high lace collar, long tapered sleeves and an A-Line skirt. A finger-length veil was accented with live stephanotis and babies-breath.

The bridesmaids were attired in long sleeved jersey gowns with square neckline and gathered bodice.

The matron of honor wore pastel yellow and the bridesmaids pastel green.

Best man was Alan Bernard of Boston, Mass. Ushers were Edward Deitch, Jr., brother of the groom, and John Langan, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Deitch, a graduate of Glen Ridge High School, also attended Fairleigh Dickinson, Rutherford, and Montclair State.

Mr. Deitch is a graduate of The United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland and is a pilot for Eastern Air Lines.

After a wedding trip the couple are residing in New Hampshire.

DiGregorys Celebrate 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gene DiGregory entertained a number of close relatives and friends at a reception in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary at the Fountain in Belleville on June 23.

Guests and relatives came from Long Island and Pennsylvania to help celebrate the gala event.

Mrs. DiGregory is a housewife and Mr. DiGregory is associated with Builders General Supply Co. of Cranford.

MRS. SWEETWOOD spreads her affection to each patient as she waves a fond goodbye as they return to their rooms. To the left is Mrs. William Kinloch, publicity chairman of the club.

MANY PATIENTS were entertained by the members of the Woman's Club Choral Group with a comedy skit and some old familiar songs.

ENJOYING the afternoon's program are some more patients in the Essex County Geriatric Center located in what many members as Soho Hospital.

Pinkerster Gall Attacks Azaleas, Rhododendrons

If the leaves and flowers on your azaleas and perhaps your rhododendrons have little white or pink balloons on them your plants are suffering from a fungus disease called Exobasidium or pinkster gall.

Research at Rutgers University has indicated that none of the present fungicides do a sufficiently good job to warrant their use, says William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County.

In 1971, there were plastic greenhouses on 157,370 Japanese farms.

Legion 9 Clings To Title Hopes

The Belleville American Legion Post 105 ball club, with a 6-3-1 record, is still alive in the Essex County Legion championship race, with a chance to pull it out in post-season playoffs.

The team was scheduled to play the last game of the regular season yesterday against visiting Caldwell, too late for the Times to report the outcome.

Recent defeated foes of Post 105 include Montclair, Cedar Grove, Maplewood, and Livingston, while they fell to Nutley and were rained out in a strong effort against Orange.

In a wild, come-from-behind drive, the Legionnaires overtook Montclair in the seventh inning for a 7-6 victory.

Joe Cerza pitched six strong innings before being relieved by Ricky Loma, who stepped in to yield only a single and strike out two batters in the final inning, relying on a blazing fastball.

Belleville started off by ripping Montclair's starting hurler Bob Cummings for two runs in the first inning. After two outs, Lou Grasso walked and Joe Cerza singled, and Fred Racioppi came in to run for Grasso. Joe De Franza singled in Racioppi and Cerza came in on a wild pitch.

The Belleville squad gave away the lead in the fourth inning when costly errors helped Montclair to pick up five runs.

In the fifth inning, Mike Sperduto smashed a triple to deep right center field, but was nailed at the plate coming in on Joe Arminio's fielder's choice. John Guarino walked, a wild pitch moved all runners one base and Ron Goy hit a sacrifice fly to score one. Chipper Biafore singled in another.

Montclair added another run in the sixth, and coming into the seventh inning, the Belleville club was down 6-4. Lou Grasso belted his second double of the game, and Vinny Lipoma came in to pinch-run. Joe Cerza reached first on an error, De Franza legged out a bunt to load the bases. A sacrifice fly by Sperduto scored Lipoma. Arminio walked to reload the bases and John Guarino singled to score the decisive winning run.

The Belleville boys pulled out another one the next day, June 27, against Livingston, a tough squad which felt 3-3 to Belleville. Livingston pitcher, Mike Fisher had a two-hitter going for the first five innings, but as the Livingston nine coasted on a 3-0 lead, the bottom fell out in the sixth inning.

De Franza led off with a single, followed by Arminio with a base hit and Guarino with another for the first Belleville run. Ron Goy walked to load the bases, and Vic Pasquariello also walked to force in another run. Finally, De Franza took a free trip to first for another score.

The Belleville pitching staff combined for the victory, with Greg Petite started throwing three innings, Loma another and Guarino finishing, with credit for the win.

The team went four innings against Orange, compiling a 2-0 lead before rain halted the game twice, the second time for good. Vic Pasquariello had singled in Joe Arminio in the third inning, then in the fifth, Pasquariello bunted with Arminio on third, and the Belleville catcher charged

Never Mind Baseball These Girls Seek Ice

Continuing controversy of whether little girls should have the right to play baseball with little boys certainly won't have any bearing on yet another concept of female sports involvement, ice hockey.

"The girls will have the opportunity to get involved," says Branch Brook Manager Jack Sheik. It has now been confirmed that area girls from ten to fourteen will have the chance to enroll in a ten week hockey school program, effective August 5. This is tentatively scheduled to take place at Branch Brook arena in Newark. Arena Manager Jack Sheik said that approximately 500 applications were sent out to a number of youth in the Newark vicinity. Sheik said that a class of about 30 or 40 girls would be appropriate, so as to keep the class small enough for individualized instruction. He added in saying that at present there are about 15 girls who have applied to the program.

According to Jack Sheik, the Essex County Park Commission will be the first organization in the New York metropolitan area to offer a girls hockey school program.

A similar school was organized in December at South Mountain Arena, in which area girls participated in learning the sport of ice hockey. Sheik said that the program which is being offered in August will provide two qualified instructors, who will teach the girls everything they need to know about performance on the ice. Basic skills of the game will hopefully be mastered by the ambitious girls, as they will be planning scrimmage games, so as to try out their new skills.

The response by parents having their "little girls" undertake such a feat has in itself proved favorable. The parents of some 15 or so girls who have signed the applications for this endeavor are backing their sportsters all the way. West Orange resident Ralph Manger, himself a

Pick Carty MSC Assistant Gridder

Kevin Carty has been named an assistant varsity football coach at Montclair State College, director of athletics William P. Dioguardi recently announced.

Carty, who served three years as a defensive secondary coach for William Patterson College in Wayne, will coach the receivers for head coach Clary Anderson in the fall.

A 1971 graduate of Trenton State College, Carty was an outstanding defensive back there and lettered three times.

He majored in health and physical education.

After graduating St. Luke's High School in Ho-Ho-Kus, Carty matriculated at Blinn (Tex.) College. He attended the junior college for one year before transferring to Trenton State.

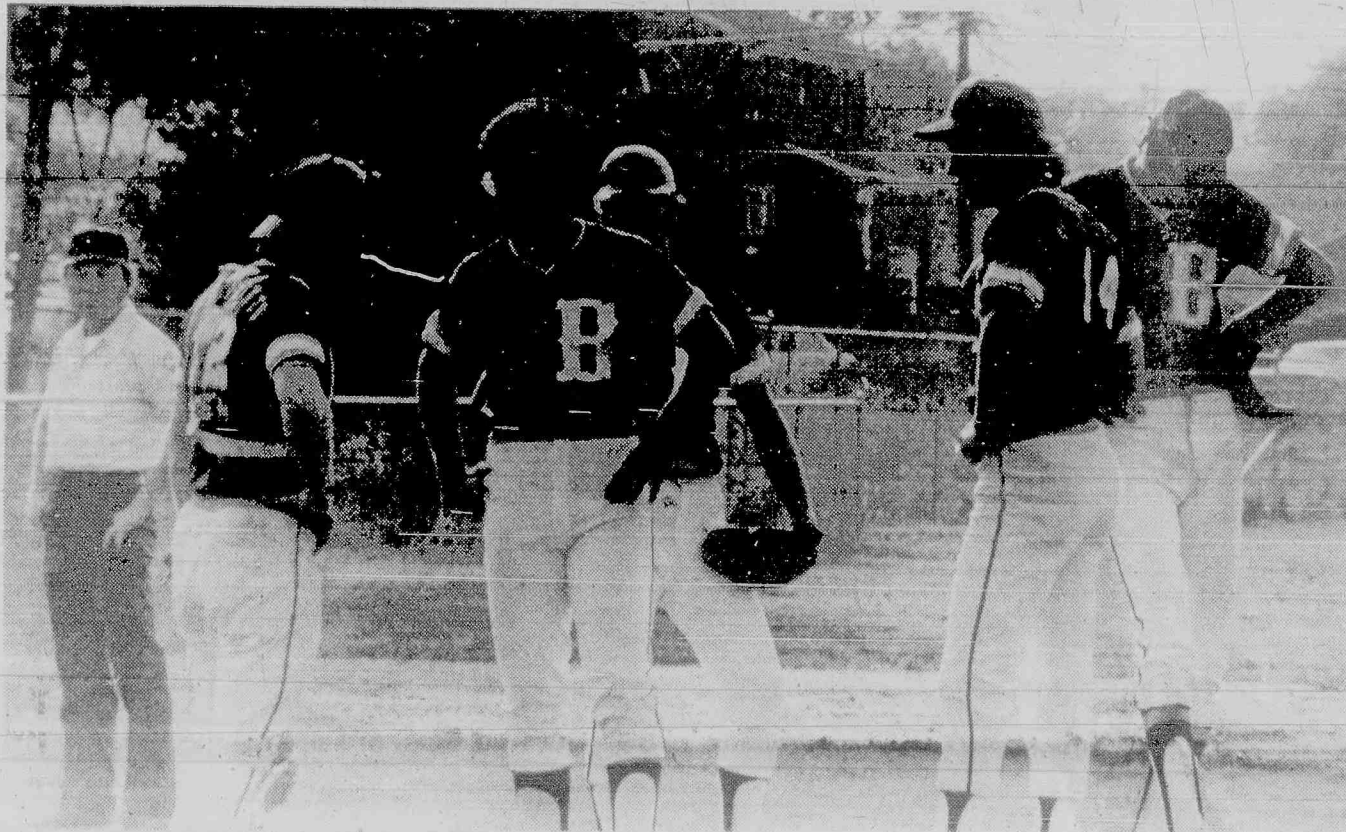

The 26-year-old resident of Lodi teaches in the Wayne school system. He's a health and physical education instructor at George Washington Junior High School.

LEADING HITTER for the Bruins is Jim Rake, co-captain of Montclair State's cage squad and member of the school's ball club.

PEGGED — Bruins catcher Bill Otskey nails Ron Diamond of the Red Sox in a play at home plate in last week's game. The play proved crucial as the Bruins won the contest by one run.

Papisidero, Armond Sasso and Kevin Goy. The Bruins pulled ahead late in the game for the win.

Bruins Upset S.O. Champs; Near Mid-Season at 11-8

The Belleville Bruins of the Essex County Baseball League Monday night slipped past the South Orange Soverels, last year's state tournament champions, for a 2-1 victory. The win gave the local nine a 11-8 record at about mid-season.

Saturday, a Union squad will visit to meet the Bruins at 2 p.m. at Belleville Municipal Stadium, and Verona-Cedar Grove will visit on Sunday, also at 2 p.m.

Armond Sasso pitched a four-hitter against the Soverels Monday, as the Bruins cranked out two runs in the fourth inning to win. Bob James led off with a double, followed by Tony Scarlatelli's single. Danny Dunn brought in a run with a sacrifice fly and catcher Bill Otskey singled for the second run. South Orange scored their only run in the sixth inning.

Last Wednesday, against the Kearny Bullites, Rich Waller struck out 15 batters and Bob Di Jianne hit a two-run homer to lead Belleville to a 4-2 victory. Waller gave up only two hits as he threw for his second victory over Kearny in a week.

Kearny scored in the first with a home run by Ray Cozzarelli. Belleville took the lead in the third inning when Joe Papisidero walked and then stole second. Jim Rake singled in one run and Dennis Sasso doubled in the second. Kearny tied the game with a run in the fourth inning, but Belleville took it away in the fifth when De Jianne homered with one man on. Di Jianne holds two home run records at Montclair State College: most home runs for a career (23) and most home runs in a season (12).

The day before, the Bruins lost a 2-1 decision to the Soverels. Frank Petite was on the losing end of a tough pitching duel against Neal Gold of the Soverels. South Orange's Schiffner and D'Innocenzo hit back-to-back doubles in the sixth to break the 1-1 tie.

On July 1, the Bruins scored a dramatic upset of the West Orange Red Sox when Joe Papisidero smashed a homer with two men on and two out in the last inning to give Belleville a 6-5 win.

West Orange scored three runs in the first inning and two in the second off Belleville pitcher Armond Sasso, but Sasso gave up no more hits for the balance of the game.

Down 5-1 going into the last inning, the Bruins rallied as Di Jianne doubled and Petite gained first on an error by a Sox fielder. Tony Scarlatelli singled in one run, followed by another run-scoring hit by Danny Dunn to make the score 5-3. Then, with two outs, Papisidero clobbered a dramatic three-run homer to clinch the 6-5 victory.

The Bruins swarmed over the South Orange Dolphins, 15-1, June 30 as Danny Dunn and Jimmy Rake combined for a two-hit pitching game.

In the Belleville fourth inning, Dunn doubled, Bruno Giordano singled and Tremarco walked to load the bases. Papisidero singled in two runs and Rake doubled in two more.

Scarlatelli led off inning with his second home run of the season and two runs were scored.

Dedicate Race To B.I.A.C.A. At Monticello

The Belleville Italian-American Civic Association recently took their annual trek to the races at Monticello race track. Officers of the group report it was an enjoyable evening, with some members winning and most losing their money.

The sixth race was named after the association and a plaque was presented to Don Patterson, the jockey who rode Sun Dancer, the winning horse. Christie Albanese, president of the association, presented the award.

Chairman of the affair was George Sbarra, and on his committee were Aldo Di Chiara, Patrick Rotondo, Christie Albanese, Frank Ceres and Nicholas Guadagnuolo.

All-Star Fems Set Challenges

Now that the regular playing season of the Recreation Ladies Softball League is over the girls will next go into some intercommunity competition. An All-Star team has been selected and they expect to play ten or twelve games with other towns.

Audrey Roll will be captain of the Belleville All-Stars. Audrey who was also captain of the undefeated Belles will work with a staff composed of the other three captains of the League. Teams were allowed to propose players according to their finish in the League with the first place Belles providing five players, the two second place teams, the Dazzlers and the Sluggers providing four players and the Wizzards providing three.

Members of the 1974 All-Stars are: Betty Rosamilia, Rose Wallace, Marianne Stetz, Lucille Burlazzi, Audrey Roll, Linda Todd, Claire Liotti, Connie Genovesi, Dolly Wagner, Suzanne Schwartz, Pat Scheible, Rhoda Nagy, Gerry Paoletto, Jo Ann Friend, Terry Matlo, Jo Torsello.

STARTING OUT — Kim Clark and Kathy Manger, members of the Essex County Park Commission's girls' hockey school, get instruction from hockey coordinator John Warchol: "First, let's get the hair out of your eyes."

GOAL REACHED — "We've come a long way, baby," could be the slogan for Kathy Manger of West Orange and Christina Hersens of Short Hills, members of the girls' hockey school sponsored by the Essex County Park Commission.

Jockey Alvarez's Win Record Reads Like 'Blazing Saddles'

Serious horse players often spend hours on mathematical calculations to pick a winning horse from past performances.

For the more casual racing fan at Monmouth Park, quick figuring from a glance at the jockeys' standings in the program shows that Fernando Alvarez is a good bet.

Alvarez has caught on like wild fire at Monmouth. He rode just 84 horses during the first 28 days of the meeting, as compared to leading rider Carlos Barrera's 175 mounts, and scored with 17 of them for the highest winning percentage (20 percent) among the 10 top jockeys in the standings.

Currently in a tie with Mike Miceli for fifth place in the standings, Alvarez' win percentage is not the only impressive facet of his riding record here. A total of 44 percent of his mounts have finished in the money.

"I guess I got lucky and got the right horses at the right time," says the quiet spoken Alvarez. "I was here about nine years ago, and every year I've been thinking about coming back. I make my home in California, and I rode the Santa Anita meeting this year and then came here."

Since the majority of Alvarez' experience in this country was on the West Coast, his name is less familiar than a Barrera, Perrel or Blum. Horsemen know him, however, both for his steady everyday record and his big victories on stakes horses through the years.

After breaking into American racing in California in 1963, Alvarez headed for New York with agent Camilo Marin.

"I was lucky and got to ride Roman Brother when he was a 3-year-old," recalled Alvarez. "We won four stakes, three of them $100,000 races — the Jersey Derby, the American Derby and the New Hampshire Sweepstakes."

"I spent one year in New York and then went back to California, where I decided to stay. It was too cold in New York," he adds with a grin.

Roman Brother was not the only stakes winner Alvarez rode regularly. In a long association with Quicken Tree, Fernando guided him to victory in the 2-mile Display Handicap in New York in 1967 and 1969, and in the Santa Anita Handicap and San Juan Capistrano at Santa Anita in 1970. Other $100,000 races Alvarez won in California were the 1967 Santa Anita Derby Abouard Rugan and the 1969 Charles H. Stroh Stakes with Dignitas in 1969.

This winter, Alvarez won divisions of the Camino Real and San Luis Obispo with Captain Cee Jay at Santa Anita.

Alvarez' best day at Monmouth was June 26, when he brought in four winners. He has had even more on other occasions, but none of those days compared to "the time I was most happy — March 7, 1970. I won the Santa Anita Handicap on Quicken Tree that day, and it was the 16th anniversary of when I started to ride."

A 36-year-old native of Santiago, Chile, Alvarez was not a youngster who became infatuated with racing and had to beg his parents to let him quit school and become a jockey. Quite the opposite.

"My father liked racing, but he didn't have anything to do with it other than as a fan," he said.

Handicapped Compete At Special Olympics

Cloudy skies with occasional light mist did not dim the enthusiasm of approximately 1,400 participants in the New Jersey State Special Olympics held last month at Fort Dix.

Participants, ages 8 through 19 (and over) vied for state honors before an estimated crowd of more than 1,500.

John R. Spannuth, representing the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, spoke of the growth of the olympics.

Miss Tricia Cahill, daughter of former New Jersey Governor and Mrs. William T. Cahill, brought greetings and encouragement to the participants.

The olympic competition, starting at 11 a.m., included bowling, swimming and track and field.

In an interview following the opening ceremony, Mr. Spannuth said: "Somebody asked me why I am here today because I do not go to many Special Olympic games. My major reason for being here is I heard so much about the tremendous amount of work here that I wanted to see it for myself."

"And the thing that impresses me more than anything else is that instead of having the usual Armed Forces Day observance, Ft. Dix is having Special Olympics Day and this is a very important part of the new image that I can see being developed by our armed services."

"But the basic idea behind the program is to encourage every mentally handicapped individual in the world to participate in some type of physical activity for the rest of his life."

There were many well known sportsmen who attended and conducted various sports clinics. Among them were Bill Bradley, safety, Philadelphia Eagles; Harold Carmichael, split end, Philadelphia Eagles; John Thomas, Gold Medal winner, high jump; Don Bragg, pole-vaulter, Olympics; Buddy Young, National Football League; Frank Budd, "Fastest Human Being" track, Olympics; Judy Melick, swimming, Olympics; Franco Harris, running back, Pittsburgh Steelers; Jersey Joe Walcott, heavy weight boxer; Tom Hardiman, handball; and Ike Williams, boxer.

Manger has summed up his response to his two young daughters who maintain a dire need to a part of the new hockey school. "They love it," says Ralph proudly as he pointed out that the exciting sport makes Maureen, aged 13, and Joanne, aged 12 happier youngsters. Mrs. Manger is also in favor of the skating duet to take advantage of this worthwhile opportunity. Of course the greatest advantage of such an opportunity is that the girls will undoubtedly be able to form their very own team, either during the ten week program or shortly thereafter.

There are two summer sessions scheduled, the first beginning on August 7th and continuing until August 16th. The second will begin on August 21 and will run until August 30th. Both sessions will meet at 7:30 PM and end at 8:30 PM. Information on this unique hockey school program can easily be obtained by calling or writing the Branch Brook Ice Center, c/o Essex County Park Commission, 115 Clifton Ave., Newark, N.J. 07104.

in for the score.

Post 105 won its fourth straight game when Maplewood was toppled, 3-1, with Cerza hurling a five-hitter. The game was a pitchers' duel, until Belleville took over in the eighth inning.

Post 105 took a 1-0 lead in the first on the strength of singles by Cerza and De Franza, while Maplewood caught up in the sixth.

The game went into extra innings, and Cerza blasted a double to bring in Lou Grasso, then was replaced on the basepaths by Greg Petite, who scored on Arminio's single.

The annual Fourth of July encounter saw Nutley Post 70's Paul Stefan throw a one-hitter against Belleville for a 5-0 defeat.

Belleville fell behind early in the game and couldn't start any fireworks against righthander Stefan, who had a no-hitter working until late in the sixth when De Franza lined a single to right field.

Against Cedar Grove, Cerza picked up his third win and Loma his third save as they combined in a seven-hitter for a 7-4 Belleville win last Saturday.

Belleville came out smoking in the first inning, as Pasquariello started off with a single and scored on a double by De Franza. Lou Grasso's triple brought in De Franza and first baseman Grasso scored on Cerza's single.

Cedar Grove came back with three runs to tie the game up in the second inning. But Belleville came back with two more runs in the fourth as Chipper Bialef walked, stole second, reached third on a sacrifice by Chris Tremel. Greg Dunleavy beat out an infield hit, and Joe Arminio came in to run for Dunleavy, stealing second. The Maplewood catcher tried to pick off Bialef at third and overthrew the ball to left field. Both runners scored easily.

Cedar Grove picked up another run in the fifth to make the score 5-4. In the bottom of the fifth, Chris Tremel singled in Nick Cancelliere.

Rick Loma came in for the final two innings, striking out two in the sixth. Also in that inning, back-to-back doubles by Joe De Franza and Lou Grasso scored another run.

In the seventh inning, Loma struck out two runners before giving up a hit, then fired three strikes to Maplewood's last batter to end the game.

Beck's Column

It is a known fact, that the cabinets on Magnavox TV and stereo sets are exceptionally well made and beautiful looking. Many customers conclude that the prices are very high. The contrary is the case.

The Magnavox Company owns a number of furniture factories and they seem to make an extra effort to fashion specially good looking designs. While many or most other manufacturers buy cabinets and apparently pay considerably higher prices, this does not apply to Magnavox, since they make the cabinets themselves. This is only one reason why Magnavox sets cost less than other brands. There is another reason. We buy our merchandise directly from the factory. The middleman's profit is eliminated. Thus, contrary to the belief of many people, Magnavox prices are lower than other brands.

It is well known that almost all major manufacturers either have their own factories, mostly in Japan, Formosa, Korea or other Asian countries or in Mexico. Magnavox sets are all made in this country now. This gives them far better control of cost. In addition, the Magnavox Company is very much service minded. We like this particularly well. It also should be mentioned, that Magnavox sets recently were rated best in a leading consumers magazine.

TAKE A BREAK — Post 70 ballplayers gather around the water jug to slake their thirst in the intense July 4th heat. A good-sized crowd of Belleville and Nutley residents also braved the temperature to watch the annual confrontation.

STANDING WATCH — Over at the Belleville bench, coach Mike Limongelli is shown with his charges on the sidelines as the visiting squad watches the events on the field and takes in the July 4th sun.

ON TARGET — a view from behind the backstop shows the Stefan style which the Nutley right-hander used to keep Belleville bats quiet in his one-hit effort.

FAST HAND — Greg Petite was too fast for the camera to catch. The Post 105 hurler was tagged for five runs by Nutley batters, though.

ALREADY OUT — Mike Calicchio of Nutley, trots out the last steps of a run to first base while Lou Grasso sends the ball back to pitcher Greg Petite, who fielded Calicchio's hit for the out.

TELLERS is your experience adding up to the career you deserve?
Take a long look ahead. If you're certain that the position you hold now promises ample rewards for capable effort — now and in the future — we advise you to stay right where you are. But if you're doubtful about your chances to move ahead, consider what we have to offer.
First National State begins by paying excellent salaries and providing unequalled benefits for savings and commercial tellers. But that's only the start! What we're looking for is banking talent, people who want a future commensurate with their abilities. Busy, dynamic First National State with its headquarters in Newark and 30 branch offices is building its future on people of talent. With our rapid growth and our policy of promoting people from within, there is plenty of room for you to soar. The future may be closer than you think.

Postal Service to Remind America of Energy Needs

New Energy Stamp

The U.S. Postal Service will focus attention upon the urgent national problem of energy conservation by issuing a new public service postage stamp in early fall.

The 10-cent stamp, which thematically highlights the major challenge facing the nation in the current fuel shortage, will be issued on September 23 in Detroit during the World Energy Conference there.

Another 10-cent stamp closely allied to the Energy Conservation stamp in theme, the Preserve the Environment stamp, was issued last April in connection with the opening of Expo '74, the World's Fair in Spokane, Washington.

A Postal Service spokesman noted today the two new stamps, when considered together, highlight the critical issue now facing the United States: Protecting and improving the environment while dealing with the fuel shortage.

"These urgent national requirements unfortunately conflict in some instances," the spokesman said. "The most abundant fuels are not at present the cleanest fuels. Environmental considerations have contributed to the difficulties inherent in conversion to cleaner power sources such as nuclear energy."

The spokesman added that the twin goals of a clean environment and sufficient fuel supplies are not mutually exclusive. "They are just difficult to achieve," he said. "We are using the important communications medium of the postage stamp to urge all Americans to work toward achieving them," he added.

The Energy Conservation stamp was designed by Robert W. Bode, of Chappaqua, New York, designer of the Johnny Appleseed and Davy Crockett stamps in the American Folklore Series. Bode currently specializes in portraits and paintings of golf scenes, a logical interest for a seven-handicap golfer.

The Energy Conservation stamp design features the words "Energy Conservation" superimposed upon bright sunlight. At the lower right is "United States 10" and at the lower left appear molecules, a drop of gasoline and a drop of oil. These symbolize containment of different forms of energy.

The Postal Service recently announced that it is using substantially less energy to handle more mail, operate more facilities and make more mail deliveries than ever before.

Reports from nearly 17,000 offices, comparing February 1974 consumption with February 1973 (the peak heating month), showed that natural gas use was cut by nearly 25 percent. Cuts in other categories were: heating oil, down 15 percent; electricity, down 17 percent; steam and propane, both cut by more than 18 percent.

The announcement also said that the Postal Service is making progress in reduction transport fuel consumption, although the number of postal-owned vehicles is increasing to make carrier operations more productive.

For roughly the same comparative period, gasoline consumption declined by more than four percent while the number of vehicles was up by more than seven percent.

Rural route carriers increased their gasoline use by nearly two and one-half percent. This was due to an increase in rural route mileage of from 4,343-million miles to 4,460 million miles during the period.

Postal contract transportation carries reduced their fuel consumption by less than one percent. With a nine percent increase in miles traveled, this represents a savings of nearly 1.5-million gallons.

The Postal Service goal is to cut energy use by ten percent for transportation and twenty percent for buildings.

The Energy Conservation stamp will be painted by a combination of offset and intaglio methods on the Giori press. The colors are black, yellow, pink, green, orange, and blue. The modeler was Ester Porter and the engraver was Howard F. Sharpless, both of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. There are 50 stamps to a pane, and there will be one plate number.

The stamp size, from perforation to perforation is 0.84 x 1.44 inches or 25.146 x 39.878 millimeters.

Requests for first day cancellations should contain the proper remittance and be addressed to "Energy Conservation Stamp, Postmaster, Detroit MI 48233." Request must be postmarked no later than September 23, 1974.

Minish Advocates Bill To Aid Mass Transit

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District — New Jersey, has introduced a new omnibus mass transit assistance bill.

Minish is the chairman of the House Urban Mass Transportation Subcommittee and a leading House advocate of an improved and expanded Federal role in the development and support of mass transit systems.

The new Minish bill, which was originated in the Senate by New Jersey Senator Harrison A. Williams, would more than triple the presently authorized Federal transit effort by providing $18 billion over the next five fiscal years.

Minish said this commitment is necessary "if we are to build the new systems which our nation's continually expanding urban areas need so desperately, while at the same time preserving and improving our already existing systems which now teeter on the verge of bankruptcy due to ever-increasing operating deficits."

"The present overemphasis on more and more highways must be ended and a sense of balance instituted with regard to transportation policy," Minish argued.

Minish explained that, under the measure, $12.5 billion would be available at a rate of $2.5 billion per year for capital expenditures and $5 billion, or $1 billion each year, would be allocated for either operating aid or capital improvements at the discretion of the locality involved.

Additionally, $100 million a year would be set aside for nonurban mass transportation on a population basis.

The Federal share of the cost of all projects under the bill would be 80 percent, and the operating aid would be disbursed according to a formula similar to that in the earlier Minish-Williams transit bill, which has been tabled by the House Rules Committee. Funds would be distributed under the operating section on the basis of population, passenger, and miles traveled of a mass transit system. The more of each factor, Minish explained, the more funds an urbanized area would receive.

Minish estimated that the new bill would mean about $250 million in operating aid alone to New Jersey over the next five years. In addition, the State would be eligible to apply for its share of the $12.5 billion which would be available for capital grant expenditures.

Minish said the formula in his bill "is much more equitable than that contained in the Administration's mass transit proposal, which would distribute funds solely on the basis of population."

"It would be illogical and unfair," Minish said, "to allocate mass transit operating aid on the basis of population only. Such an approach," he contended, "would shortchange those cities and urban areas which have already made a substantial investment on their own and with local tax money, for the development of mass transit systems."

Minish said it is "essential that this Congress deal effectively with the needs of mass transit in two important ways. First, by passing the pending Minish-Williams Emergency Transit Aid bill in order to give an immediate infusion of relief and aid to mass transit, and, second, by enacting this longer-range, comprehensive legislation which has now been introduced in the House and Senate."

"Any further delay," Minish warned, "will only lead to continued deterioration of transit service, worsening of future fuel shortages, and environmental degradation."

Minish Asks Lung Disease Benefits Bill

Congressman Joseph G. Minish today announced that he has introduced legislation to provide federal benefits for workers who suffer death or total disability due to lung disease from occupational hazards.

Minish, a sponsor of the Black Lung Act which provided for federal benefits to coal miners, explained that his bill covers other industrial production workers who suffer similar disabilities of the lung and respiratory tract from inhaling toxic substances.

"There is no longer any scientific doubt about the causal relationship between employment in certain hazardous industries and the development of serious, disabling lung disease," Minish said.

"Asbestos workers, painters, workers exposed to silicon dust, textile workers, and others are exposed to the same types of hazards as coal miners," Minish said.

"A mounting tragedy occurs each year with fully 10,000 men and women dying each month from occupational disease," Minish noted, "with well over 400,000 workers developing occupational disease each year."

"It is time to recognize that the costs of hazardous production should not be borne by the employees alone who are in no position to protect themselves," Minish said. "Rather," he continued, "the costs of hazardous production should be recognized for what they are — legitimate costs of production."

Minish explained that his bill, entitled the "Employees Comprehensive Respiratory Disease Compensation and Registration Act," serves two important functions. "First," Minish said, "it provides for benefits in cases of total disability due to respiratory disease at a realistic and humane level. Second," Minish continued, "it establishes an information source and data bank to ensure the timely detection and early prevention of lung disease before the critical stage of infection is reached."

Minish argued, "we must and should provide for adequate federal assistance to provide a measure of safety and support for the eight million workers endangered by the hazards of industry."

"It is clearly recognized," Minish concluded, "that respiratory and chronic related diseases are the second major cause of death in America today. It makes sense to attack this major cause of the problem."

Arts Center Taking Orders For Free Youth Programs

Seating reservations are available to summer youth groups for six free daytime programs to be presented in July and August at the Garden State Arts Center.

Commissioner Joseph C. Irwin of the New Jersey Highway Authority today announced the following calendar of free events to be staged: Billy Joe Royal on Thursday and Friday, July 11 and 12; the Allen Family on Thursday and Friday, July 25 and 26; and Talent Expo Showcase on Wednesday and Thursday, August 7 and 8.

Each program will start at 11 A.M. and will run for two hours, with an intermission during which the Arts Center refreshment stand will be open. This is a departure from the past practice for the summer youth events, which usually ran for an hour.

Commissioner Irwin pointed out.

Billy Joe Royal is a recording artist whose singing has produced such million-record sellers as Down on the Boondocks and Cherry Hill Park. He performs with a back-up group of fine musicians.

The Allen Family of four talented brothers and their 14-year-old sister is the latest rage among family singing groups. The quintet offers varied entertainment from barbershop harmony to pop rock.

The Talent Expo Showcase will be a repeat performance of the acclaimed program put on by the teen-agers who were adjudged the best in the 1974 Talent Expo, Statewide competition among promising young entertainers. These singers, dancers and musicians prove what New Jersey youngsters can do if they are given the opportunity, Commissioner Irwin commented.

Seating will be by reservation only, Commissioner Irwin emphasized.

'Wayward Way:' Pure Americana

With the current mood of nostalgia abroad today, pure Americana, such as "The Wayward Way," fits perfectly into the sentiment for a return to what are imagined to be the simple, uncomplicated ways of life. The musical, based on "The Drunkard or The Fallen Saved," which is coming to the Meadowbrook Theatre Restaurant in Cedar Grove, is a lively melodrama that revives the spirit of the theatre of the late 1800s.

Although the play originally was written in 1843, its subject, Temperance, seems to be most strongly associated in the 19th century with the years of Carry Nation's "hatchetations," which began probably about 20 years or more later.

Carry Nation, whose last name was assumed on her marriage to David Nation, must be viewed as the most controversial female personality in American history. Probably, no other woman so radically affected the course of its social living. The results of her violent attacks on saloons and all places that dispensed alcoholic drinks, eventually lead to national prohibition. Where individual small-time bootleggers followed her into midwest town as saloons were destroyed, concomitantly with the Volstead Act, bootlegging syndicates became a hydra-headed force, seemingly incapable of annihilation.

But Carrie Nation was not against alcohol only — she rallied against sex, smoking, women's immodest dress (today's Woman's Lib would have loved her for her protestations against corsets). She suspected the honesty of every politician and police department, all of whom she took on many times in physical combat.

While "The Wayward Way" has no immediate connection with Carrie Nation, except in its story of the evil of drink, it is a story of the downfall of the hero caused by drink. Played with all the old-fashioned over-acted technique of the old melodramas, it is hilarious and will delight audiences of all ages.

Adding to the fun and spirit of the time, the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre will be transformed into the Meadowbrook Music Hall for the duration.

"The Wayward Way" will open July 24 and run through Aug. 31.

Two New Series From Blue Shield

Blue Shield of New Jersey reminds its subscribers that it has available two new programs which provide high payments for eligible services.

It urges groups or individuals to upgrade from the old 500 Series to one of the new programs which, it says, "are more realistic in today's market."

Blue Shield is the nonprofit prepaid medical insurance program which covers eligible physicians' services for more than half the population of New Jersey.

The new programs are the 750 Series, a fixed-fee schedule, and the usual, customary or reasonable fee program. The 750 Series provides payments for eligible services some 45 percent higher than those under the 500 Series. It also provides paid-in-full benefits to a greater number of persons.

This is because of Blue Shield's service benefits program, a program which provides paid-in-full benefits for eligible services for low income subscribers. Under the old 500 Series, families must have a total annual income of less than $7,500 to be eligible for paid-in-full benefits from participating physicians.

Under the 750 Series the eligibility for paid-in-full benefits from participating physicians is a $12,000 family income, thereby providing these service benefits to greater numbers of subscribers.

The UCR fee program provides paid-in-full benefits no matter how high the family income if the subscriber goes to a participating physician. Participating physicians are those who have agreed to accept the Plan's payment as payment-in-full for eligible services.

Blue Shield is the only medical insurance program which provides a service benefits program. The key to the program is the utilization of participating physicians.

Emissions Schedule Enacted

Environmental Commissioner David J. Bordin today promulgated an order to restore the original schedule of the automobile exhaust emissions testing program, and provide a variance procedure for specific classes of pre-1968 motor vehicles.

The implementation of the emissions testing program is divided into three phases. The program is now in phase one. The second phase of testing originally was to have gone into effect one year after the beginning of phase one. Last year, the legislature voted to delay the start of phase one from July 1, 1973 to February 1, 1974, but neglected to adjust the start of phases two and three accordingly. The order promulgated today will re-establish the one-year duration of phases one, two and three as originally intended.

"At each stage over a three-year period, the test criteria for carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons becomes more stringent," Bordin explained, "and a full year of on-line operation between stages is called for in the program. It is necessary to adjust the start of the second phase to February 1, 1975 because of the original delay voted by the legislature. The date for the beginning of phase three also is changed from June, 1975 to February 1976."

The variance procedure adopted today provides a means by which the Division of Motor Vehicles, after approval by the Department of Environmental Protection, can waive the testing requirements for certain classes of pre-1968 vehicles which, because of their design, cannot meet the standards no matter how well they are turned. Such vehicles represent less than 0.2 percent of the New Jersey automobile population.

Bicentennial Is Planned By MSC

Montclair State College will celebrate the American Revolution Bicentennial with a rich array of conferences, workshops and cultural events, spanning three years and looking to the past, present, and future.

Dr. Helen Royer, chairman of the College's Bicentennial Steering Committee, announces the opening conference, entitled "New Jersey on the Eve of the Revolution," has been scheduled for next spring on April 11 and 12. A series of monthly programs exploring various facets of the Revolution will be given during the Bicentennial year of 1976, and a final conference on "Unfinished Business" is planned for the Spring of 1977.

The Spring 1975 conference, will be of interest to teachers, students, and the general public, Dr. Royer said. Workshops will present political, economic, social, cultural, and technological aspects of the pre-Revolutionary period. A special workshop will give elementary and secondary school teachers an opportunity to become acquainted with literature and materials related to teaching the Bicentennial.

Red Cross Sets New Aid Course

A new course in Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care will begin on Wednesday, July 17 at Essex Chapter headquarters, American Red Cross, 106 Washington St., East Orange.

Classes will be held each succeeding Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 pm until the minimum requirement of 40 hours has been completed.

The new training course is available to anyone 18 years of age or older, free of charge.

The new Red Cross Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care textbook will be used during the course and will be available for purchase at $2.50 a copy at the first training session.

To enroll in this new course, or for further information, contact Eric Rice, assistant to the director of Safety Services, Essex Chapter, American Red Cross, at chapter headquarters of telephone 676-1616 no later than Tuesday, July 16th.
