No Vote on Van Dyk Again; Protestors List Grievances

Mrs. Senatore reminded Pomaco there was a chance she herself would be absent from the next meeting, due to an out-of-town convention, and Pomaco said he would consent to another postponement in that case.

The public hearing, however, was conducted, giving the objectors a chance to air their complaints about the prospect of a one-story structure being expanded from the existing warehouse at 125 Main Street. Residents were concerned about the safety of chemicals at the building, an Van Dyk manufactures chemicals used in the making of cosmetics. Other objections cited the traffic flow on Main Street, the threat to property values in the area, and an overriding trend toward industrialization in the Valley section.

Frank Devita, attorney for the objectors, summarized the recent history of the lot, which has a 90-foot frontage and is zoned for one or two-family residences. He said a two-family residence did exist on the lot until last year when it was bought by Van Dyk and intended to use the house as a residence and allowed it to deteriorate until it was no longer usable as a residence. He charged Van Dyk never intended to use the house as a residence and allowed it to deteriorate to support their argument that the land is not suitable for residential use. He said this "circumvents and subverts the zoning law, and makes a mockery of the laws that are designed to prevent this in the first place." Devita urged the Commission to prevent "further erosion of the community" by denying the industrial use of a residential zone.

John Grant, who lives next door to the lot in question at 133 Main Street criticized the traffic situation caused by the loading and unloading of trucks at the Van Dyk warehouse and said he doubts the new extension would adequately relieve the congestion. Grant said the street is used by Van Dyk fork lifts driven against the one-way traffic pattern and said the transportation of chemicals in the street posed a hazard to children in the first place.

Most important, he said, "I fear for my safety and the safety of my family if a warehouse is build on that property." He said his children's bedroom is located 10 feet from where the warehouse would sit, and he, like other objectors, remained unconvinced by Van Dyk chemists that the materials to be stored in the warehouse would be safe from fire or explosion.

Michael Catennacci of 42 Stephens Street, who said he moved into the Valley three months ago, said, "I like the neighborhood. The people are nice, and I don't think the neighborhood is run down. I do think there are a lot of factories there, and I've seen what a factory can do to make money, not caring for individual people."

Joanne Giuliano, president of the School One P.T.A. said the group is opposed to the erection of any chemical storage warehouse in the area. The Rev. Paul Ruter, pastor of the Belleville Reformed Church, of the proposed warehouse as an advancement of urban decay in Belleville.

"In the long run, in the long trend, as urban decay happens, it goes from one main street to another main street to another," he said, "and people pull away from the shopping areas." He pointed out that Main Street used to be the main thoroughfare in Belleville, "then it became Washington Avenue and next it will be Franklin Avenue."

Eunice Conover, another objector, supported Grant's request that the Town Planning Board consider the question. "If the Planning Board can't make recommendation to the Board of Adjustment, then we should do away with the Planning Board entirely."

Supporting Van Dyk, Pomaco argued that Belleville Fire Chief George Sbarra had inspected the factory twice and found that the warehouse would be safe for chemical storage. He also said the new extension would rectify the traffic problems of the area by providing room for tractor trailers to move off the street for loading.

Pomaco urged the Commissioners to consider only the status of the property in question, which he argues is uniquely unsuited for use as a residential plot, evidenced by the fact that part of the property has remained vacant for several years and no interest was shown in developing a house there.

Pomaco said it has not been industry, but the advent of Route 21 which hurt the residential character of the Valley. "The people should be mad at Route 21."

Norman Hood of Fairway Avenue said the residents of the Valley have been treated as "second class" citizens and invoked the denials of the Commissioners when he implied the vote on the could already be predicted at 3-2 against granting the variance.

Over RR Crossing

Meeting Tonight To Oppose State

Local politicians will try to drum up popular support for their fight against the State Department of Transportation at an 8 p.m. meeting tonight at School Four in Silver Lake.

A bi-partisan team of officials including U.S. Representative Joseph Minish (Dem., 11th), Town Commissioner Vincent Strumolo and State Senator Anthony Imperiale (Ind., 30th) went before television news cameras last Friday to criticize what they termed "inadequate" safety precautions at the Erie Lackawanna Railway crossing at Heckel Street and Franklin Avenue. Over 100 residents were present to protest and to watch the events.

Minish was expected to go back to the crossing yesterday with Federal railway inspectors to examine portions of the track which the politicians had knocked Friday as "deplorable."

The Town of Belleville is moving to the courts in order to reverse the decision by State Transportation Commissioner Alan Sagner to allow Erie Lackawanna to dismantle crossing gates at the site and discontinue the use of watchmen. Sagner condoned the Erie plan to use a "stop and flag" system whereby trains approaching the crossing would halt while a crew member flagged-down traffic to stop during crossings.

Governor Brendan Byrne has backed up the ruling by Sagner, incurring the wrath of his longtime foe, Senator Imperiale, who vowed Friday to lay across the tracks to halt train traffic through Silver Lake.

Commissioner Strumolo this week sanctioned the use of the "lay-down" tactic, saying he would join Imperiale. "There's no protection for kids at that crossing and I'll lay across the tracks to stop those trains. I do it, I know the senator would do it, and I know the people there would do it, too."

Strumolo said he wants to see "proper protection" at the crossing "by the time school opens" — next Wednesday. Tonight's meeting, said Strumolo, is to update residents on the drive to reverse the Sagner decision. Strumolo said Imperiale became involved in the issue "because he's our state senator and this question is in the hands of the state government."

Imperiale had written to Sagner, making three demands, that the area of the crossings be cleaned up; that gatemen be again stationed at Franklin and Belmont Avenues, and that the tracks near Belmont Avenue where railroad cars are stored be protected.

Sagner replied: "After careful investigation, it was determined by Department engineers that the new form of crossing protection offers greater safety than the previous method. Our records indicate that this is a track used by freight trains only with one train-movement up and one train-movement back each day at no more than 10 m.p.h. He said the "stop and flag" method was safer than the manually operated gates.

Sagner asked Imperiale's advice on protection of the siding near Belmont Avenue and informed the senator that cleaning up the crossings was an enforcement problem for the municipal government.

Friday's tour of the site centered on the conditions of the tracks, and the politicians took turns jumping on loosened rails, ties, and spikes. Imperiale voiced his intention to block train passage "if no action is taken by the first day of school."

An Erie Lackawanna vice president was quoted as saying "if they (the Town of Belleville) have a complaint, they should take it to the Public Utilities Commission. That's their proper remedy." But Strumolo this week said Belleville had gone to the PUC, and hearings were held. He said he felt the PUC would not permit the discontinuing of watchmen at the crossings, but the PUC was superseded by Erie's request to the Department of Transportation, granted by Sagner.

"We've been to the PUC since 1971," he said, "and they were more or less taking our position that we do need protection there, before they were superseded by Sagner."

Minish, a chairman of the House subcommittee on urban transportation, wrote to Town Attorney Scott saying he agreed "an expenditure of $50,000 to install automatic protection for the citizens of Belleville, particularly the children, is a small amount to pay. The safety of all of the people who have occasion to use the grade crossings is the paramount issue."

Erie Lackawanna had petitioned to discontinue the watchmen on the grounds it was a financial burden.

Imperiale has also demanded that until the gates are reinstalled, the crossings should be patrolled by Essex County Park Police and Erie Lackawanna Police during times of train crossings.

Yesterday's inspection by Federal authorities was to concern only the condition of the tracks and not the question of safety at the crossings, which is a problem for the state.

Traffic counts were taken for the PUC hearings, but the survey was conducted during the summer when school was not in session. Children cross Heckel Street from School Four and St. Anthony's School each day. St. Anthony's Church is also in the immediate area of the crossing.

Updated Fire Code Passes In Town Commission Vote

The Town of Belleville replaced its 1965 Fire Prevention Code with an updated 1970 edition by unanimous vote Tuesday night. The new regulations are effective immediately.

The vote came after a public hearing on the substitution of the 1965 code. Businesses will be affected more than residences, as the rules apply mainly to standards for the construction of new buildings in town.

The revamping of the fire code, a stated objective of Fire Chief George Sbarra, who assumed the position earlier this year, is expected to aid in lowering fire insurance rates in Belleville. A principal factor considered by insurance underwriters in setting rates is the comprehensiveness of fire codes in each municipality. The Town of Belleville adopted the revised 1970 Fire Prevention Code recommended by the American Insurance Association, while the rules dating from 1965 have been dropped.

The most notable feature of the new code calls for establishment of sprinkler systems in all new structures or additions to buildings which hold 20 or more people, excluding residential buildings, and any structure designed as fireproof. Also, basements over 2,000 square feet and used for the manufacture, sale or storage of com-modest goods or merchandise.

Basement areas used for work or storage and exceeding 2,000 square feet must have a sprinkler system in the areas in use, while an entire basement area exceeding 4,000 square feet must be protected. The old code covered basements over 5,000 square feet.

All new construction in Belleville, including factories and large apartment complexes, will have to provide for fire lanes in blueprints.

The Fire Code provides for the establishment of transportation routes for trucks carrying explosives and flammable materials, which will guard against past instances which saw gas trucks stuck on rail crossings with ruptured tanks.

The Fire Chief will administer the code and denial of building permits under the rules of the code may be appealed to the Director of Public Safety within 30 days of denial.

Violation of the code is classified as a misdemeanor, with penalties ranging from $100 to $500, or by imprisonment of 30 days or both.

The code was drawn up by Laterza and Fire Chief George Sbarra, who announced his intention to revamp the code soon after his appointment to the top spot in the department earlier this year.

Police Nab Suspect For Attempted Rape

A three-month-old case of attempted rape was solved Friday when Belleville police took charge of a suspect arrested by Matawan authorities. Deputy Chief Frank Haight announced this week.

After positive identification by the victim, said Haight, Belleville officers were able to obtain a warrant for the arrest of the 18-year-old Newark youth, who was picked up by Matawan police last Friday.

Haight said the assault took place May 31, at about 11 p.m., when a 15-year-old Belleville girl walked home from a local hamburger stand. She was accompanied by the suspect, whom she had met earlier that evening and who had offered to escort her home.

In the vicinity of Washington Avenue and William Street, said Haight, the suspect pushed the girl into an alleyway, struck her on the face and neck, attempted to rape her, and robbed her of a "few dollars" before fleeing.

Detectives Nicholas Berrigan, Anthony Fantacane and William Escott pursued the investigation and took charge of the suspect, now held at the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail and charged with atrocious assault, attempted rape and robbery for a September 4 court appearance.

Haight praised the "cooperation between police departments" as the key factor in the arrest.

She Gives New Look To Old View of Town

LOOKING BACK — Local artist Kathie Janiec shows the painting she did of Belleville as it looked from across the Passaic River over 100 years ago. The painting was done after an old engraving.

Kathie Janiec sees a different Belleville than you or I. Her Belleville is a town of the 1850's, and last spring, she put her impressions of the old Belleville in watercolors and ink for the Historical Society.

The result, shown above with the artist, has been displayed at various historical churches around town as an accurate rendition of the town in its former rural glory. Kathie, a speech and commmercial art student at Jersey City State College, used an engraving from a history book on New Jersey which she and her sister Mary Lynn had used while researching the Rutgers family for the Historical Society. Kathie, 19, and her sister are the group's youngest members.

The painting shows Belleville as seen from North Arlington at the Rutgers Street Bridge.

Seems Only Yesterday! Board Places Ban On Public Drinking

by Peter Clark
One Year Ago

St. Bartolomeo's statue was carried through the streets of the Silver Lake section of Belleville, as residents handed money to Mary Grace Valvano and Laura Labadia to pin to streamers on the statue. Contributions went to St. Anthony's Church in Silver Lake.

The Belleville Board of Commissioners unanimously approved a new ordinance to outlaw the consumption of alcoholic beverages on sidewalks or other public property. The new law was sponsored by the director of Public Safety Robert Laterza, and was aimed at eliminating public drinking at playgrounds and on street corners. Laterza admitted that the town hadn't had any real problem with the drinkers, but that he had received complaints from several local residents who were irked by the drinkers' drinking.

Five Years Ago

Belleville public schools were scheduled to open Wednesday morning with an accent on curriculum innovation and the possibility of a serious problem of overcrowding. The newest addition to the elementary school system would be an updated science program, with heavy emphasis being placed on student experimentation. Also of importance in the elementary schools were the completion of a history program begun the year before and new reports cards, aimed at giving parents a more comprehensive look at their children's progress. In the high school, a progressive work study program was being installed, along with the expansion of the business education department. While officials were excited about these innovations, there was an underlying cloud of fear over the possibilities of overcrowding in the schools, especially because the Board

Mayor Nuncio Pico moved to gain firmer control over the Town Council meetings, which, in the past, had degenerated into top-of-the-lungs shouting matches between Councilmen and citizens. Pico wanted an orderly flow of business and discussion, not "verbal brawling."

The purchase of a new $17,000 ambulance was passed over the objection of Councilman James R. Golden in a special two day session of the Town Council.

Charles M. Martin, machinist's mate second class, USN, was promoted while serving aboard the destroyer USS Compton, which was operating as a part of the sixth fleet in the Mediterranean.

Construction of Route 21 in the vicinity of Bayard Street near the Newark line created a great deal of confusion and hazardous traveling conditions for motorists.

Fifteen Years Ago

Resident of the Rutan Estates appeared in a mass meeting at the Town Council. They were complaining of bad water, no fire boxes, no sidewalks, high taxes and the need for a traffic light.

Peter Torre Jr., special activities assistant to Belleville Commissioner George F. Kiernan, director of Parks and Public Properties, submitted his resignation, in order that he could take over the State Motor Vehicle agency.

The Women's Division of the Citizen's Tax Council of Belleville was officially organized at a tea sponsored at the new Council headquarters at 599 Washington Avenue.

Twenty Years Ago

The Sisterhood of the Congregation Aharai Achim held their annual membership dance at 317 Washington Avenue. A musical program under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Mantelli was presented. Mrs. Seymour Fersko was chairwoman of the affair.

The members of the Robert C. Gruhin Association appointed a committee to plan a dinner dance, to be held at the Fountain. John Gualtieri, president announced the members of the committee.

Thirty Years Ago

Clearman Field was used for the first time and showed a daily average attendance of 271. Most popular activities under the direction of Bill Chapman and Frank Spots were softball, baseball, volleyball, basketball, horseshoes, table tennis and checkers.

The Belleville-Nutley ration Board began compliance with a new directive from Washington OPA which liberalized gasoline regulations covering servicemen on furlough. Under the ruling, servicemen got one gallon of gas for each day of furlough, from three to thirty days long.

Citizens Group Questions Legality of tax Initiative

The Federation of N.J. Taxpayers has questioned the constitutionality of the actions of Governor Brendan T. Byrne in calling the Legislature into special session to act on tax bills which he had originated.

E.S. Wachter, spokesman for the statewide taxpayers group, said the State Constitution provides that all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the General Assembly.

"It is public knowledge that the defeated income tax bill, along with similar tax proposals, originated in the Governor's office and not in the Assembly," said Wachter, "and the fact that he called the Legislature into special session for this purpose makes it all the most pertinent to ask whether the Governor did not exceed his authority and has, therefore, ignored the very Constitution which he swore to uphold when he took office.

"Two wrongs do not make a right," said the taxpayers' official, and continued: "There has been a gradual yet fundamental breakdown in the constitutional system of the State of New Jersey, as evidenced by the fact that tax measures in recent years have originated in the executive branch of Government and have then been forced through the Legislature in violation of the Constitution. Were the law strictly enforced, the last three governors of New Jersey would all be in jail. Just because the two previous governors set a bad example is no reason to let the present governor get away with it."

The Federation spokesman added that, under these circumstances, any legislator who promoted the tax bills has also acted in violation of the Constitution. "Can the Governor and certain legislators violate the Constitution with impunity?", the Federation asks.

Sbarra to Be Feted

Plans are now being formulated to honor newly-appointed Belleville Fire Chief George Sbarra.

A testimonial for Sbarra will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1974, at Thom's Restaurant, 80 Park Avenue, Newark.

Sbarra will be cited not only for his fire-fighting abilities, but his civic activities as well.

Those wishing to attend please notify Jude Olivieri 751-6324 or Ralph Risoli 759-2832.

Mintz Named to head Essex GOP Campaign

Hymen B. Mintz, Essex County Register of Deeds & Mortgages has been appointed campaign manager for this year's Essex Republican candidates, it was announced today by Frederic Remington, Jr., Chairman of the Essex GOP organization.

"Having been a successful campaigner so many times himself," Remington said, "Register Mintz knows the nuts and bolts of building a hard-hitting campaign team and how to develop issues and get them across. We are fortunate to have him on board.

"As a life-long resident of Essex County and through firsthand experience as an elected official, he has a broad understanding of the electorate as well as the many problem-needing the immediate attention of those elected to serve them.

"It is heartening that he is lending his organizational skills and political acumen to our effort to elect one of the highest caliber slates selected in recent years to run on the Republican line," Remington concluded.

Mintz was a two-term Assemblyman during the mid-1950's serving on the Appropriations Committee and as Chairman of the Legislature's Middle Income Housing Commission. He was elected to the Board of Freeholders in 1966 and the Register's post in 1969.

Long active in United Jewish Appeal activities, Mintz is a graduate of Upsala College and the Rutgers Law School. He has been President of the Upsala Alumni Association and was recipient of their alumnus of the year award in 1968.

Mintz, a Livingston resident, declined the Republican nomination this Spring to seek re-election as Register in order to devote more time to his private law practice in Newark. He is a member of the Essex County and New Jersey Bar Associations.

Heading the GOP count ticket is Former State Senator Gerardo L. Del Tufo of Newark, the only Republican on the nine-member Board of Freeholders. He is teamed with Rev. James A. Pindar of Seton Hall University, businessman Paul W. Nordt of North Caldwell for three Freeholder seats at stake in November.

William L. Stubbs of Newark is running for County Register of Deeds & Mortgages. He presently serves as Deputy Register under Hymen Mintz who is not seeking re-election.

A Hospital and an Alumana Celebrate Their Birthdays

Clara Maass Memorial celebrated the 17th anniversary of its move to Belleville on August 18. That same day a young woman of Van Buren Street in Newark celebrated her 17th birthday. Her name is Clara Maass Ramos Nunes. A coincidence — not really.

On August 18, 1957, the hospital staff was readying themselves and their patients for the move from Newark up to the new building in Belleville. Mrs. Irene Jordan, an admitting clerk headed up to the new building around 7 a.m. to get ready for the 9 a.m. opening.

s. Jordan walked to the entrance, she saw a very nervous Manuel Nunes and his very expectant wife, Elizina, sitting on the curb. Mrs. Jordan quickly got the door unlocked, rushed Mrs. Nunes to the deserted Maternity Ward, and called Newark for a doctor.

At 2:22 p.m. Mrs. Nunes gave birth to the first baby of the new hospital, a five-pound twelve-ounce girl. The baby's name was to be Amelia, but because of the circumstances of her arrival, her parents decided to name her Clara Maass Ramos Nunes.

Today Clara Nunes is 17-years-old, and is entering her senior at Eastside High School in Newark. She is seriously thinking about a career in nursing after graduation, perhaps studying at the Clara Maass School of Nursing.

The Greatest War

It was on September 1st, 1939, that the greatest war in history began, and September 3rd that it was declared. Hitler attacked Poland before dawn on the 1st. England and France, after an ultimatum, declared war on Germany on the 3rd.

There was scant justification for Hitler's all-out attack, though the Germans had grievances against Poland, wrongs forced on Germany by the 1919 Treaty of Versailles. Lloyd George warned at the peace conference that these injustices were sure to sow the seeds of a new war. Hitler proved him right.

The victorious allies of 1918 had cut a corridor through Germany, somewhat as if a victor nation had cut a corridor through Georgia, separating Florida. The corridor separated East Prussia from greater Germany. It was a certain source of trouble and Hitler moved to ease this artificial situation and incorporate Germans who had been included in Poland by the treaty.

If this had been Hitler's only aggression, England and France might have stopped short of war but Hitler had been seizing territory regularly (every six months) since the spring of 1938 when Austria was annexed. (There is evidence most Austrians approved of the takeover, however.) In the fall of 1938 Hitler won the Sudetenland by threatening war. In the spring of 1939 he seized most of the rest of Czechoslovakia. So it was the pattern of aggression that convinced England and France they must fight.

Curiously enough, Hitler was probably right in wanting war earlier than his generals. Although the Germany Army was not ready in 1938, the Luftwaffe would probably have been able to decimate the R.A.F. that year, or even in 1939. By 1940 the British had caught up — in the air. And they were paramount on the sea. And this military power checked Hitler, and influenced him to turn east — his fatal mistake.

Without having subdued England, but having conquered all Europe, Hitler attacked Russia in June, 1941, refusing to believe his own intelligence experts' estimates of Russian tank production. His excellent army cut through Russian armies like a knife through a potato, but finally wore themselves out, and Russian numbers, cold and distance ended the German invincibility on the ground, and eventually bled Germany white. (The lack of coordination by Axis powers cost them defeat in Russia; had Japan attacked in Siberia when Hitler attacked, in June of 1941, Russia and communism might well have been eliminated. But instead Japan went her own way — she desperately needed oil — and attacked the United States, England and Holland six months later.

The year 1942 was Germany's last chance. With America hard-pressed by a winning Japan, with General Rommel still an advancing threat in Africa, and having survived the winter in Russia, unlike Napoleon, Germany bid for victory with another massive offensive. It carried to Stalingrad, but Hitler recklessly hung on there, losing heavily, in street to street fighting, while winter approached, and U.S. aid to Russia increased. By November of 1942 the Russians were ready with their massive counter offensive, which broke the northern German flank (held by Rumanians) protecting the Stalingrad salient.

Hitler lost his Sixth Army, over 300,000 men, and Rommel having been overwhelmed in early November at El Alamein in Africa, it was the end for Germany. Six months later (May, 1943) radar carried by air broke the back of the U-Boat threat. In September of 1943, Italy surrendered.

After six months of unbroken Japanese victory, U.S. forces had turned the tide in the Pacific against Japan and by 1943 it was evident Japan also was doomed. Hitler committed suicide after prolonging the war until May, 1945. Two atomic bombs persuaded Japan to surrender in August of the same year. (Russia had also attacked Japan that month, which helped speed the surrender.)

Divided Germany today, communism strong in many places in the world, a weakened England, a super-power Russia — these, and many other results of that war, which affected every human, are still very much in evidence. Twenty-five years ago on the 3rd, it all began.

Labor Day

The first man to suggest a day to be set aside in honor of labor — the working man and the spirit of industry in the nation — was probably Peter McGuire. He was President of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America in 1882 when his suggestion was adopted by the Central Labor Union in New York.

The first Labor Day, then, was observed in 1882. In 1884 the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions, which later became the American Federation of Labor, adopted the suggestion and states (Oregon was the first) began to declare the first Monday in September a holiday.

By 1894, when Congress declared the day a holiday in all federal offices and territories, some thirty states had acted to make Labor Day a legal holiday.

This year Labor Day is on the 2nd. As on other holidays, there will be many accidents; in observing it this year take care to see that you live to observe others.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Summer is waning with the crepuscular twilight creeping upon us earlier with each succeeding evening as we now prepare to welcome September Morn and the lingering golden days of early Fall. School bells will be beckoning the students to the halls of learning and the lazy carefree pace of vacation days will fade into memory as we gird ourselves for the rigors of colder and costlier days soon to come.

The energy crisis with mounting heating fuel prices and soaring gas and electric rates, coupled with food costs that are out of this world project ominous portents of a Winter which could be harsh and expensive. We will attempt to offset these probable inconveniences with the diversionary outlets which help to provide the palliative that leaves us momentarily oblivious of the annoying pangs of depression we must endure.

The thought of the generous aspect of Nature's variegated riot of colorful foliage in tree lined countryside, the rich harvest of the fields, the annual Fall Classic, the World Series, which sets every rabid baseball fan wild with statistics, predictions of its outcome and the wagers, well or poorly placed, which won't be lightly ignored by the little woman no matter what; then, too, not to be forgotten is king football that drives housewives "dippy" trying to drag the "old man" away from those interminable Sunday TV football double-headers that leave him bleary eyed, especially, after his having abandoned her Saturday afternoon, to watch the local high school team play with his barroom buddies.

With such distractions from the serious problems which may beset us, perhaps we may weather the storms of life and Winter's bleakness in the hope of an early Spring and return to stability and sanity in all places. Let's hope so.

Factoryville, Pa., is a small community too rough for borough councilman John Walter. He resigned for safety sake saying, "I am unwilling to sacrifice the safety of myself because of uncontrolled misconduct of borough residents."

Walter was injured by a resident who didn't like the installation of some stop signs. He said he was hurt. Other councilmen wondered why police were not called, but found out later the Mayor, who runs the police department, was at the scene. He said when the altercation started, he "got out of there fast because I was in the line of fire."

Would you believe it? The days of home brewing may soon be back... and legally too. Yep. The Treasury Department has asked Congress to legalize home brewing of beer.

Under a proposal sent to the Senate finance committee, anyone 18 years of age or older would be allowed to brew 100 gallons of beer at home each year. In homes with more than one adult the limit would be 200 gallons a year.

It is presently legal to make wine at home but the law as now written has no provision for beer. Thus, it is technically illegal to make it now, although enforcement appears nonexistent where small scale brewers are concerned.

Many may wonder where they stored that old vat after repeal in 1933.

The State Income tax may be dead for the present, but, $300 million is needed to close the state budget gap anticipated next July. The Legislature, when it returns from its Summer recess, will face the challenge of raising up to possibly $1 billion in new revenues beginning next July.

Several proposals are being studied... all providing for additional taxation to comply with Court ordered overhauling of school financing.

No we are definitely not free from the scourge of more and increased taxation which keeps growing. The lads in Trenton, under the cupola of the golden dome, only postponed the agony, helping them get by another election in November... then BANG! We'll get it then. More and bigger taxes.

The American colonies fought the Revolutionary War demanding representation. Maybe we got too much of it. Seems like almost everybody that gets elected to represent us comes up with new-fangled ideas of how to tax us in a new and different way.

Thomas Jefferson said, "Those people least governed, are best governed." Seems like the old boy had it figured out right.

The Last Of Summer

Though some may feel that with school's opening summer comes to an end (in a way it does), the calendar tells us summer will linger through two thirds of September.

The last weeks of summer, according to the National Weather Service estimate, will bring more than normal precipitation to most of the country — but below normal amounts to the southeast and west. It will be colder than normal in northern and western states, about normal in most of the rest of the nation except in the lower southeast and Texas — where it should be warmer than normal.

Autumn will arrive on the 23rd of September and remain until just before Christmas — December 21st. For those millions who see fall as the prettiest time of year, the last weeks of summer can't end soon enough, and the best of seasons lies ahead.

But for others millions summer's departure always brings sadness and things will not really be right again until the warm blue skies return in the summer of 1975.

Citizen Nixon: Letter Writer Asks Justice

To the Editor:

In rebuttal to an editorial in the Belleville Times-News, Thursday Aug. 8, 1974 by Mr. Frank Orechio and a letter sent to the editor by Ruthellen Dirlam of Nutley, I humbly submit the following:

Mr. Nixon should be put on trial and if found guilty — I repeat, if found guilty — should be given a suspended sentence and disbarment proceedings should follow.

He should be given his pension, but the taxpayers should not have to pick up the tab of some 90,000 dollars for his office and staff.

As far as the media is concerned, newspapers, TV and radio, we should thank God that they are trying to do a good job in exposing these corrupt officials.

I say they must continue this fight to keep our politicians in line.

As for Mr. James R. Golden, your paper brought forth that Sen. Carmen Orechio's telephone bill in April cost the taxpayers of New Jersey only $2.23 while Anthony Imperiale's average monthly bill is costing the N.J. taxpayers $325.

I am quite sure a check of this will be found to be more personal than state business.

In most instances, where there is smoke — there is fire.

Respectfully submitted,

Block Party Is Still a Hit On Walnut St.

To The Editor:

Three years ago, I wrote a letter to the editor of the Belleville Times which you were kind enough to print. This letter was regarding a miracle which took place on this beautiful street full of beautiful people. At that time we had our first block party and I wished to publicly thank all the people who call this street home for their fun, cooperation and warmth.

Now, three years later, after our third annual block party, I wish to take time out to say again, "thank you" the two most important words in anyone's vocabulary. Neighbors have come and gone, passed on and returned but once again the people of Walnut St. performed as fine, fun-loving, decent human beings.

Thanks to all employees who so truly cooperated in making our third annual event a success. As I said in my letter to the Editor three years ago, I feel that what the world needs now is "love sweet love" and lots more block parties.

With most sincerest thanks,
Mrs. William F. Connelly, Jr.

Young Dems Invite Others To Join Club

To the Editor:

In the past year the Belleville Young Democrats have achieved their initial goal, to bring together young people between the ages of 18 and 35, politically and socially. We have become involved with the political process, through participation in elections, and have held a very successful Christmas party.

Many social, political and community action projects are scheduled for the coming year and we hope to include many more of our Town's youth. Voter Registration drives are our goal this year.

The Young Dem's are involved on a Local, County and State level, also. One of our members is presently serving as an office of the Essex County Young Democrats.

Anyone interested in joining may do so by contacting the President of the Belleville Young Democrats, Donna Monticello, 759-3884 or by attending our Re-Organization meeting September 10, 1974, 8:30 P.M. at the NU-PLAS, 538 Union Avenue, Belleville.

Hoping to see you there.

SEN. CASE REPORTS

We'll Be Paying More For Food Unless Drastic Action Is Taken

By Sen. Clifford P. Case

UNLESS DRAMATIC ACTION is taken soon it is likely Americans will again be paying more for food this fall and winter. Even so, they will be more fortunate than their counterparts in many parts of the world who will confront a severe scarcity of food stocks at any price.

This is the grim prediction of experts and observers who have analyzed the food shortage problem. While there is no single cause for the expected rise in food prices, the experts suggest a number of contributing factors.

TO BEGIN WITH, the rise in the price of oil significantly affected an already inflated price market for cereal and food grains. Modern high yield farming, as in the United States, depends on oil based or natural gas based fertilizers.

In poorer countries the higher cost has meant a cut back on their purchases of fertilizer and other petroleum products and consequently a drop in production.

Weather conditions have added to the problems in many areas. In our own country drought has damaged the corn, soy bean and sugar beet crops. There is fear that drought also threatens the Spring wheat crop. In Canada drought has cut back an expected bumper wheat crop. In Mexico it has severely affected the cattle industry. And in the Sahelian region of Africa and in Ethiopia it threatens the lives of hundreds of thousands of people.

JUST THE OPPOSITE is the case in Bangladesh, Pakistan and India where heavy floods have disrupted the lives of many thousands of people and contributed to a major food crisis.

Unfortunately, even though more bad news comes in daily, the Department of Agriculture has not changed its basic approach. In essence, the Department's program is to get the natural market forces work their will.

This means, for agriculture, an erratic market with prices rising and falling, and that is exactly what we are experiencing now. For example, dairy breeder stocks and calves are being slaughtered because the market is now depressed and prices for dairy products have not kept pace with rising costs for feed grains and shipment costs. In a few months there may be a shortage of milk and cheese and a corresponding rise in price. Similarly, unless poultry and pork prices go up under the current system, experts say there is a threat that breeder stocks of chickens and pigs will also be liquidated.

I THINK the agriculture market system can and should be improved and stabilized. If we had only to concern ourselves with our own country I would not now be so worried — but we are dependent on a number of factors we cannot control, such as rising foreign demand for foodstuffs, the continued high price of oil, the changes in the value of world currencies, and hunger and starvation threatening many throughout the world.

We need to establish a marketing system for food grains that will control on a rational basis the amount that can be exported, set aside stocks for national emergencies and for emergencies elsewhere in the world, and still give the farmer a fair and defendable price for his produce.

I DO NOT APPROVE of rigid export controls from which almost no one benefits imposed when a crisis is fully upon us. We need a rational policy that everyone understands and can depend upon, both consumers and farmers, here at home and abroad. More than that, we need international agreements with other major grain exporting countries — such as Canada, Australia and Argentina — to coordinate policy and assure price stability.

I have proposed and sponsored legislation in the Senate to achieve these goals. In the past these proposals were blocked by powerful lobbies and vested interests. But that is beginning to change. The Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee is now studying this new approach and is pressing for action soon. With affirmative action in the offing the United States will be better able to make a positive contribution to the World Food Conference which will begin this November in Rome.

CLEARLY NOW is the time for action.

Clara Maass Volunteer Takes the Mystery Out of Hospitals

Young children seldom see the inside of a hospital. To them it's a frightening place where people only go when they're sick. It's a place where their parents aren't always around. And it's a place where there are a lot of strange things like bedpans, stretchers and stethoscopes.

So when 30 seven-year olds from Camden Street School in Newark visited Clara Maass Hospital in Belleville on August 5, hospital personnel introduced the youngsters to all types of hospital equipment, and showed them the bright side of hospital life.

The youngsters, a part of the summer Primary Reading Center at the school, were accompanied by teachers, Miss Oliver and Mrs. Morgan.

Most of the visit was spent in the Pediatrics Unit. There the young visitors met Student Nurses Barbara Komlo, Diana Corbo, and Pat Gaffney; Nurse Beverly Cohen, Fran Hunter, and

Joan Fornarotto; Dr. Salvador Zaydas; public relations staff member, Ann Brubaker, and Volunteer Robert Whiting.

The children were shown how to use a stethoscope and listened to their hearts. Bed-pans, stretchers, and wheelchairs were shown and explained, and nurses demonstrated how they take temperatures and give medicine.

While Robert Whiting of Nutley entertained the children with animal balloons, and doctor and nurse puppets, the youngsters took turns visiting patient's rooms. They cranked the mechanical beds, tested the overhead tables, and checked out bathrooms and closets.

After Pediatrics, the group visited the Recreation Therapy Department where Mrs. Nancy Winkler, department assistant director, helped the children play ping-pong, shuffleboard and skittle pool.

At the conclusion of the tour volunteers gave the visitors paper nurse and doctor hats and medals. Both the teachers and hospital personnel knew the trip was a success when one little girl said, "You know that hospital is pretty nice, and you know what else, that doctor we saw looked just like my daddy!"

MAKING HOSPITALS FUN — Robert Whiting of Nutley displays some handwork with balloons for a group of visiting youngsters from the Camden Street School in Newark at Clara Maass Hospital. Whiting, a volunteer at Maass since 1971, breaks down children's fears of the hospital atmosphere.

e poorer countries the higher cost has meant a cut back on their purchases of fertilizer and other petroleum products and consequently a drop in production.

Weather conditions have added to the problems in many areas. In our

ing costs for feed grains and shipment costs. In a few months there may be a shortage of milk and cheese and a corresponding rise in price. Similarly, unless poultry and pork prices go up under the current system, experts say there is a threat that breeder stocks of chickens and pigs will also be liquidated.

I THINK the agriculture market system can and should be improved and stabilized. If we had only to concern ourselves with our own country I would not now be so worried — but we are dependent on a number of factors we cannot control, such as rising foreign demand for foodstuffs, the continued high price of oil, the changes in the value of world currencies, and hunger and starvation threatening many throughout the world.

We need to establish a marketing system for food grains that will control on a rational basis the amount that can be exported, set aside stocks for national emergencies and for emergencies elsewhere in the world, and still give the farmer a fair and dependable price for his produce.

I DO NOT APPROVE of rigid export controls from which almost no one benefits imposed when a crisis is fully upon us. We need a rational policy that everyone understands and can depend upon, both consumers and farmers, here at home and abroad. More than that, we need international agreements with other major grain exporting countries — such as Canada, Australia and Argentina — to coordinate policy and assure price stability.

I have proposed and sponsored legislation in the Senate to achieve these goals. In the past these proposals were blocked by powerful lobbies and vested interests. But that is beginning to change. The Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee is now studying this new approach and is pressing for action soon. With affirmative action in the offing the United States will be better able to make a positive contribution to the World Food Conference which will begin this November in Rome.

CLEARLY NOW is the time for action.

Citizen Nixon: Letter Writer Asks Justice

To the Editor:

In rebuttal to an editorial in the Belleville Times-News, Thursday Aug. 8, 1974 by Mr. Frank Orechio and a letter sent to the editor by Ruthellen Dirlam of Nutley, I humbly submit the following:

Mr. Nixon should be put on trial and if found guilty — I repeat, if found guilty — should be given a suspended sentence and disbarment proceedings should follow.

He should be given his pension, but the taxpayers should not have to pick up the tab of some 90,000 dollars for his office and staff.

As far as the media is concerned, newspapers, TV and radio, we should thank God that they are trying to do a good job in exposing these corrupt officials.

I say they must continue this fight to keep our politicians in line.

As for Mr. James R. Golden, your paper brought forth that Sen. Carmen Orechio's telephone bill in April cost the taxpayers of New Jersey only $2.23 while Anthony Imperiale's average monthly bill is costing the N.J. taxpayers $325.

I am quite sure a check of this will be found to be more personal than state business.

In most instances, where there is smoke — there is fire.

Respectfully submitted,
Jack Guest

Block Party Is Still a Hit On Walnut St.

To The Editor:

Three years ago, I wrote a letter to the editor of the Belleville Times which you were kind enough to print. This letter was regarding a miracle which took place on this beautiful street full of beautiful people. At that time we had our first block party and I wished to publicly thank all the people who call this street home for their fun, cooperation and warmth.

Now, three years later, after our third annual block party, I wish to take time out to say again, "thank you" the two most important words in anyone's vocabulary. Neighbors have come and gone, passed on and returned but once again the people of Walnut St. performed as fine, fun loving, decent human beings.

Thanks to all employees who so truly cooperated in making our third annual event a success. As I said in my letter to the Editor three years ago, I feel that what the world needs now is "love sweet love" and lots more block parties.

With most sincerest thanks,
Mrs. William F. Connelly, Jr.

Young Dems Invite Others To Join Club

To the Editor:

In the past year the Belleville Young Democrats have achieved their initial goal, to bring together young people between the ages of 18 and 35, politically and socially. We have become involved with the political process, through participation in elections, and have held a very successful christmas party.

Many social, political and community action projects are scheduled for the coming year and we hope to include many more of our Town's youth. Voter Registration drives are our goal this year.

The Young Dem's are involved on a Local, County- and State level, also. One of our member sis presently serving as an office of the Essex County Young Democrats.

Anyone interested in joining may do so by contacting the President of the Belleville Young Democrats, Donna Monticello, 759-3884 or by attending our Re-Organization meeting September 10, 1974, 8:30 P.M. at the NUPLAS, 538 Union Avenue, Belleville.

Hoping to see you there.

Clara Maass Volunteer Takes the Mystery Out of Hospitals

Young children seldom see the inside of a hospital. To them it's a frightening place where people only go when they're sick. It's a place where their parents aren't always around. And it's a place where there are a lot of strange things like bedpans, stretchers and stethoscopes. So when 30 seven-year olds from Camden Street School in Newark visited Clara Maass Hospital in Belleville on August 5, hospital personnel introduced the youngsters to all types of hospital equipment, and showed them the bright side of hospital life. The youngsters, a part of the summer Primary Reading Center at the school, were accompanied by teachers, Miss

Oliver and Mrs. Morgan. Most of the visit was spent in the Pediatrics Unit. There the young visitors met Student Nurses Barbara Komlo, Diana Corbo, and Pat Gaffney; Nurse Beverly Cohen, Fran Hunter, and

pans, stretchers, and wheelchairs were shown and explained, and nurses demonstrated how they take temperatures and give medicine. While Robert Whiting of Nutley entertained the children with animal balloons, and doctor and nurse puppets, the youngsters took turns visiting patient's rooms. They cranked the mechanical beds, tested the overhead tables, and checked out bathrooms and closets. After Pediatrics, the group visited the Recreation Therapy Department where Mrs. Nancy Winkler, department assistant director, helped the children play ping-pong, shuffleboard and skittle pool.

At the conclusion of the tour, volunteers gave the visitors paper nurse and doctor hats and medals. Both the teachers and hospital personnel knew the trip was a success when one little girl said, "You know that hospital is pretty nice, and you know what else, that doctor we saw looked just like my daddy!"

MAKING HOSPITALS FUN — Robert Whiting of Nutley displays some handiwork with balloons for a group of visiting youngsters from the Camden Street School in Newark at Clara Maass Hospital. Whiting, a volunteer at Maass since 1971, breaks down children's fears of the hospital atmosphere.

Playhouse Seeks
'Funny Girl' Cast

Amateur actors, actresses, stage hands and musicians looking for nine months of steady involvement may want to check out the Family Playhouse Theater soon.

Auditions for "Funny Girl"—the first of five scheduled shows—will be held September 5 and 7 at the troupe's permanent home in the former sanctuary of Holy Family Church on Brookline Avenue, Nutley.

According to Family Playhouse director Ray Napolitano, casting will begin September 5 at 7 p.m., and will be held at 11 a.m. on September 7. Two days have been scheduled, he said, because "Funny Girl" requires a very large cast.

Aside from actors and actresses, the director needs carpenters, electricians and designers, he said, and would welcome anyone—including willing senior citizens—who wish to help out.

"Funny Girl" is scheduled to open October 25, reported Napolitano, and will be presented three weekends for three nights—a total of nine performances, and an unusually large number for an amateur production.

"This is experimental," he confessed, "but we'd like to get people back into the habit of going to the theater. I also did it for the actors," he continued. "After all the rehearsals, they want to present themselves more than once or twice."

The next show on the Family Playhouse agenda will be "A Man For All Seasons," which is scheduled for tryouts on November 2. Calendar watchers will notice that November 2 falls before the end of the "Funny Girl" run. By overlapping the casting and rehearsals, said the director, the public will only have a wait of about three weeks between shows. The newly constructed theater will also be put to constant use, he added.

Following "A Man For All Seasons," Family Playhouse will present Neil Simon's "Prisoner of Second Avenue," (opening February 14), "Stop the World I Want to Get Off," (opening April 18) and "Wait Until Dark" (opening April 22 for only six performances). "We chose these plays," said Napolitano, "because they contain interesting characters and should have a wide audience appeal."

Hopefully, continued the director, the five performances will help raise enough revenue for airconditioning—without which summer theater is impossible. Because of the long runs of each show, group bookings and season tickets will be available, and further information about them or auditions can be obtained through the Holy Family Rectory at 667-0026.

Spray And Paper Cups Protect Sweet Corn

Mr. William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County has a couple of good ideas to keep the sweet corn in your garden safe from insects and blackbirds.

One of the most unpopular critters around during corn season is the ugly green, pink or brown earworm that likes to feed on the tender kernels beneath the husks.

Mr. Munk suggests a spray schedule beginning when you estimate that 15 percent of the ears show silk. They spray every 4 to 5 days without fail until 1 week before harvest.

Spray with 50 percent Sevin wettable power (2 level tablespoons, plus several drops of non-sudsing liquid detergent to a gallon of water).

For best results, spray the silks until they are wet, advises Mr. Munk. Don't miss a spray, though, or you'll have the same unwelcome visitors.

Be sure to read the label and follow all safety precautions.

To keep birds from stripping your corn down, firmly place over each ear a cone-shaped paper cup with the end cut off about an inch from the tip.

This simple remedy saves the corn for you and keeps the black-birds out of the corn.

Are Your Plants Being Attacked

White flies are beginning to be noticed on zinnias, chrysanthemums, azaleas and other ornamental plants. As their name suggests, they are very tiny white flies that take flight in large numbers when the leaves of infected plants are disturbed.

Materials such as Diazinon or Malathion can also be used. However, repeated treatments are necessary at shorter intervals.

A new material called Resmethrin offers effective control if you can find it at your favorite garden center.

Bruins Rip Crown from Soverels

"The new kid on the block" — the Belleville Bruins — capped their first season in the Essex County Baseball League Sunday by knocking off three-time state champions, the South Orange Soverel for the league title.

The Soverels fell in a double-header captured 6-5 and 3-0 by the Bruins to hurtle the hometown squad into the State Championship tourney later this week. The Bruins, sponsored by the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association, finished their premier season with a 26-14 record. Led by manager Dennis Sasso, head baseball coach at Essex Catholic High School, the team had earlier captured the Northern Division title four games ahead of Verona-Cedar Grove, then went on to knock off Southern Division champs, the Soverels.

The title was to go to the winner of two out of three playoff games in a Sunday double-header which would have been followed by a Monday tie-breaker. But the Bruins swept to wrap up an early decision.

In the opening game, played at Seton Hall University, the Soverels jumped to a one-run lead in the second inning, but the Bruins came back with two in the fifth. Jim Rake walked and scored on Jimmy Szep'n long triple. A single by Joe Mirabella brought in Szep.

In the top of the eighth, the Soverels, sparked by Bob Schiffner's triple, came back with three runs for a 4-2 lead. But when the Bruins took their turn at bat, they turned out four runs for a 6-4 lead.

First Nick Restaino singled and scored on Kevin Goy's double to left. Rake walked to put runners on first and second with two outs, when player-manager Sasso hit a long home run over the right field fence for three runs.

The Soverels threatened again in the ninth, put their rally was stymied after one run.

Len Glowzinski, a tall righthander from Seton Hall University, told the story for the Bruins in the second game when he shut out the Soverels, 3-0, giving up only three hits while striking out six batters.

Belleville picked up their scores in the seventh inning, when Szep singled and Frank Petite laid down a sacrifice bunt. A throw from the pitcher pulled the Soverel shortstop off the bag as Szep slid in at second base. Another perfect bunt by Bobby DeJianne turned into a base hit to load the bags.

Bill Otskey then rapped out a single to left field to score Szep and Petite and DeJianne scored by capitalizing on a throw to third base went wild.

The victory ended the three-year regime of the Soverels as state champions and sent a convincing message about the Bruins ahead to prospective competitors in the upcoming Tournament of Champions of New Jersey.

The Soverels were also promptly dethroned as five-year champs of the Essex County league.

The Soverel reign was held by a capable squad buttressed by several ex-minor leaguers. The Belleville team, formed in December at Marotti's direction, is anchored by eight starting members of the Montclair State Indians, who advanced their school team to the number two regional slot in last spring's NCAA championships. Mike Welsh, a Bruin team member, worked closely with Marotti and Sasso in founding the squad. Besides the Indian veterans, several top-notch alumni of Belleville High and Essex Catholic High School joined in the triumphant first season.

The Bruins fought their way to the top of a nice-team Essex County league, starting their rivals in a late-season drive highlighted by a seven-game winning streak that put them four games ahead of Verona-Cedar Grove, their nearest competition.

Details of the state tournament were to be decided at a Tuesday night meeting in Montclair, when the time and place of the playoffs were to be decided.

Tickets Are Still Available In Cage Action For Jaycees Football Classic

The annual Jaycee Football Classic is rapidly shaping up to be the most important contest of the pre-season thus far for veteran players on both the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles.

The annual clash, slated for Saturday at Palmer Stadium, Princeton, will be the first "hard hitting" contest for the vets who sat out the opening weeks of pre-season in a contract dispute with the club owners.

"Fans are anxious to see names like Norm Sneed, Roman Gabriel, Ron Johnson and Bill Bradley on the field," a Jaycee spokesman said, "and it has been reflected in ticket sales since the vets returned to camp."

Junior Stars Fell Rival Nutleyites

by Richard Caravetta

The Belleville Junior League All-Stars defeated an All-Star team from Nutley 58-52. The game, played August 19 at Belleville's School Eight, was an exciting contest from start to finish.

For Belleville, Dean Campana tallied 16 points to lead all scorers. Tom Smith scored 12 and Ted Zangari came off the bench to score 10. Joe Pepe scored 11 to lead Nutley.

limited Nutley to one shot at the basket. Ted Zangari's four free throws and Don Tucci's two baskets helped ice the game. The margin of victory was provided by the excellent defense played by Belleville. The constant defensive pressure spearheaded by center Tom Smith, forced Nutley turnovers which eventually led to the Belleville victory.

"The aggressiveness of the boys pleased me very much," said League Director Mark Corino. "The caliber of play in the game typifies the tremendous improvement in our players."

Corino also expressed thanks to the eleven All-Stars for the time they gave for practices in preparation for the game, and wishes to thank all parents who attended the game.

Indians Line Up Football Slate

Head coach Clary Anderson, invited 65 candidates as Montclair State College began football practice Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. on Pittsfield Field.

Anderson's Indians, who will practice twice a day for the first week, will be preparing for their season opener on Saturday (Sept. 14) at home with Kutztown (Pa.) State College. Montclair State's first three games are at home with East Stroudsburg (Pa.) State College and William Paterson College following the lidlifter.

and threw for three touchdowns in pacing Montclair State to a win over conference foe Glassboro State College. Ray VanderMay is a solid fullback while Jim Gwathney and Herb Hush show promise as runners. Neil Torino and Tim Kelly head the line.

Montclair State, which compiled a 6-4 record last season and won its final three games to take the conference crown, plays Wagner (N.Y.) College and Trenton State College at home, too. Wagner invades Sprague Field on Oct. 19. Homecoming Day at Montclair State, and Trenton State comes to town on Nov. 2.

The optimism is shared but feelings about the potential outcome are reversed. In the Eagle camp where Coach Mike McCormack has been drilling the team twice a day since the vets returned. Such outstanding athletes as Gabriel, Bradley, All-Pro wide receiver Harold Carmichael, 1973 Rookie of the Year tight end Charles Young, and middle linebacker Bill Bergey.

Bronco Coach Luzzi

Former Standout BHS Gridder Is Passing On His Knowledge

Belleville's newest football squad, the Broncos of the Essex Junior Football League give their debut performance against Our Lady of Mercy of Jersey City at Jersey City on September 15. The man in charge of shaping 35 boys aged 11 to 14 into a winning grid unit is Rich Luzzi, one of Belleville's leading athletes from the early 60's.

Luzzi, 29, played four years of football for Belleville High, and his obvious talent at the halfback position won him spots on the All-County, All-Metropolitan, All-State and Scholastic All-American teams in 1962. The following year, the Town of Belleville named him Citizen of the Year. In 1962, he led the county and placed second in the state for scoring.

He went on to Greenbriar

State in West Virginia, where he was voted outstanding athlete at the school in 1963. (He also played baseball at Greenbriar, as he did at BHS.)

At Clemson University South Carolina, he was named All-Atlantic Coast Conference defensive back and cited by the Newark Star-Ledger as a New Jersey College All-American form an out-of-state school. He still holds the NCAA record of 108 yards for a missed field goal runback.

After his eligibility at Clemson, Luzzi stayed on to coach the freshman unit then spent a year coaching the Newark State defensive backfield.

Luzzi sees the role of the Broncos in Belleville as filling a vital gap for youngsters between Recreation Department football and the freshman unit at BHS. "Besides the fundamentals," he says, "we're trying to teach them something about the game itself, so they'll have a good concept of football by the time they try out for the freshman team. We're not necessarily going into all the finer aspects, but we are teaching the different terminology and offensive and defensive strategies."

Luzzi believes the most valuable part of the Bronco experience for the boys will be "playing boys from other towns, and getting an idea what it's like. In Recreation football, one or two of the boys on each team might have exceptional talent and run all over the other boys. When they play boys their own age from other towns they'll find out how good they really are."

He points out that many of the towns on the Belleville High schedule have already instituted programs like the Bronco club, and the new addition to Belleville football will help bring the town up with the others.

"But my purpose is not to build Belleville into a football power," says Luzzi. "I just want to give the boys a chance to get to know the game. I think football builds character, and I don't believe losing builds character. If we can develop a winning attitude in the boys they'll always be looking to win at whatever they choose to do in life. We have a good group of boys and they want to play and learn."

Soccer Opener Set At County College

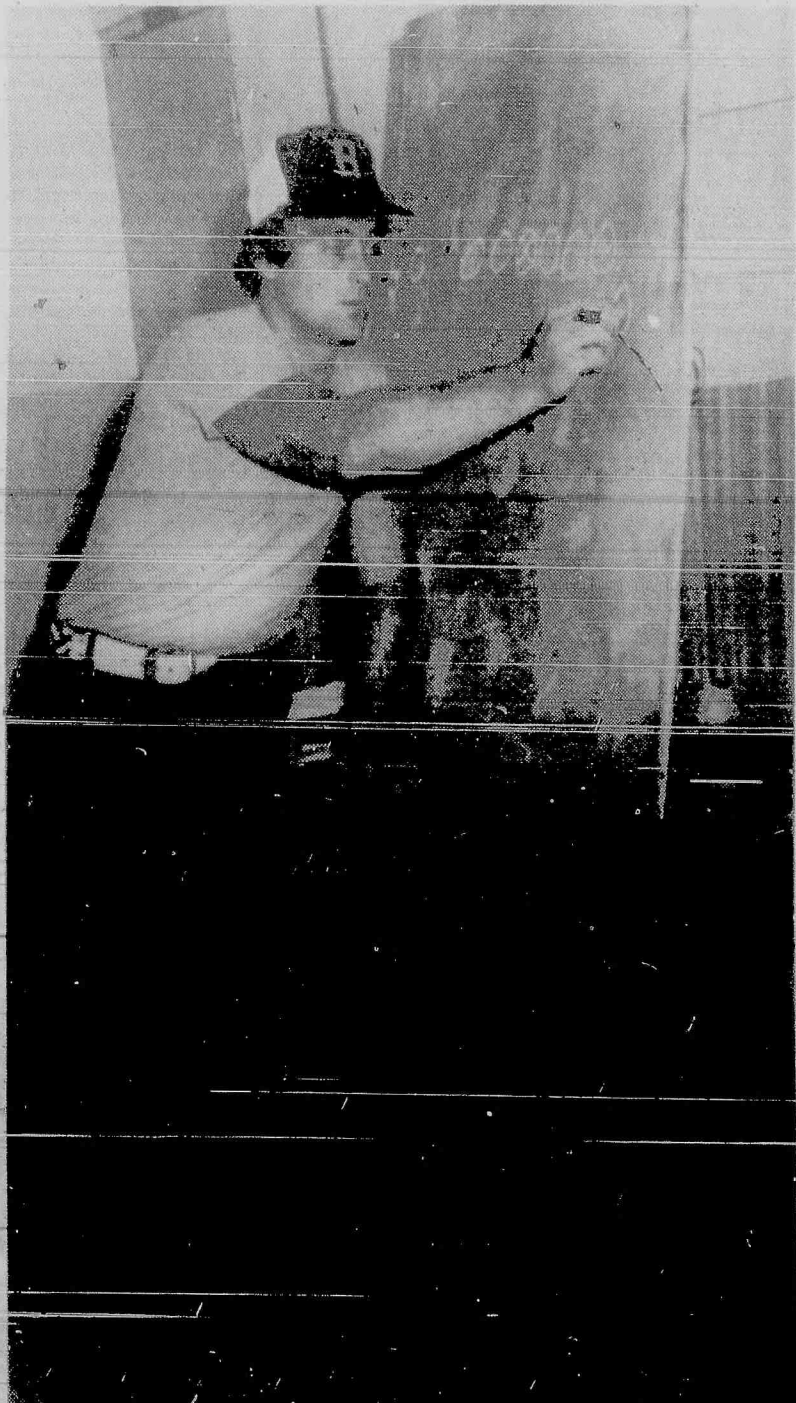

The Essex County College 1974 Fall sports season gets underway September 13th when the soccer team travels to Rockville, Maryland to take part in the Montgomery Soccer Festival. Cross country events for ECC will begin on September 14 at the Glassboro Invitational. The dates mark the beginning of 13 contests for each of the teams.

The soccer team, coached by Harry Nowick, plans to bounce back from a disappointing 1973 season record of 1-7-1. Under the direction of coach Russ Rogers, the cross country team hopes to duplicate its outstanding 1973 16-1 record.

EARNING THE GAME — The talent of the Belleville Broncos, a new grid squad for youths from 1 to 15 years old, pay close attention at a Monday evening

"chalk talk" given by head coach Rich Luzzi. The team opens in Jersey City September 15.

DRAWING PLANS for success is Rich Luzzi, 29, head coach and organizer of the Broncos. A former grid star for Belleville High School, Luzzi has previously coached college units.

SSI Payment Is Hastened By Good Info

People who plan to apply for supplemental security income payments can save time by first getting together some information about themselves, according to Arthur H. Quallo, social security district manager in Newark.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 and over or blind or disabled. "People can apply for the payments at any social security office," Quallo said.

"When applying," he said, "it's a good idea to have with you as many of the following as possible: a checkbook, if you have one, to show how much you have in the bank, any savings account books, stocks and bonds, life insurance policies, automobile registration cards.

Browsing Belleville

With Pat Diana

(Write me at 104 Overlook Ave or phone 751-6861)

Well, I just finished typing the Bulletin Board and here I am right into the first week of September. Can hardly wait to get on board all the happenings in town. Let's begin by telling all you readers it is time to once more hear from you as to who would be your choice for the following columns: (1) "Sparkling Personality" - this is usually a person that has an unusual job, does some civic work or is of general interest. (2) "Merchant of the Week" spotlights a business in town that YOU particularly enjoy doing business with and (3) "Organization Doings" - this highlights the background of a civic or service organization and tells how they help our community. I'm ready, it's all up to you. Just drop me a note or a phone call will do, giving me your choice for the spotlight columns. Thanks.

The following is a letter from Violet Tortorello, Director of the Scarlet Cadets who recently became national champs at the American Legion Convention in Miami, Florida:

"The Scarlet Cadets Junior Color Guard, directed by Mrs. Violet Tortorello and sponsored by American Legion Post 299 of Belleville, travelled to Miami, Florida to compete in the American Legion Nationals. On Saturday, August 17, they became National Champions with a final score of 91.6. The Scarlet Cadets also hold other Champion titles. They are Champions of the Metropolitan Circuit and are All Eastern Champions. They are also Champions for having the best rifle and sabre sections.

"They have won over one hundred trophies, including many first place and traveling trophies. They are the first and only corps to bring a Champion flag to Belleville. The Cadets also performed at Disney World in Florida.

"Assistant Director Joann Pollina put a great deal of time, effort and diligent work in making the Scarlets Champions. To her, we owe a special thanks. Also, to our secretary-treasurer Rose, Cicchino, instructor Judy Walch, rifle instructor Ginny Wildt, to our quartermasters Post 299 Commander John Freda, Larry Cicchino and Jim Byrne a big thank you for also doing so much to make this all possible. And, to our Mothers' Auxiliary whose enthusiastic cooperation in all our projects helped finance the Scarlet Cadets Corps, we also say thank you.

"To all these wonderful people and diligent untiring workers, I'm proud you are all members of this wonderful corps. Belleville, be proud of the Scarlet Cadets!"

Thanks Vi, for the letter, I'm sure we all owe you a vote of thanks, too.

The Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook Belleville had some birthday celebrants - Frank Pitt, Tony Narciso... have a happy, fellows.

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville had Frank Bolen of Peoples National Bank as a guest speaker recently. Armand Russo will be the cloth for cancer chairman, a drive which starts October 1. The men will all doff their shirts as part of the drive at their October 3 meeting, the first meeting, incidentally, where Larry Schwartz will preside as president.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will have publisher Frank Orechio as speaker at their September 16th meeting. His topic: "One Man's Plans" For the Future of Belleville" - sounds interesting, can I come, Frank? Frank was the prime mover in getting the Chamber of Commerce formed back in 1960. New member of the Board of Directors is Harold Rourke of Westinghouse Electric Company. This year's annual dinner dance will be held November 2.

Police Beef Up Labor Day Shift

Major Eugene Olaff, Acting Superintendent of State Police, has issued orders to his Troop Commanders to have all available personnel assigned to traffic patrol duty during the long Labor Day Weekend.

State Police plans for the weekend, beginning Friday evening, August 30, through Tuesday morning, September 3, are as follows:

In addition to station personnel, backed by detectives and other specialists, five State Police helicopters will patrol over the State's heavily traveled traffic corridors to assist ground patrols in spotting trouble areas and coordinating the free flow of traffic. Troopers will also fly as observers in the Turnpike and Parkway helicopters.

Schedules have been arranged to provide saturation coverage by tactical patrol units, task force, radar, VASCAR and breathalyzer operators with special emphasis on the critical hours between 5:00 p.m. and 2:00 a.m. when most fatal accidents occur.

Marked patrol cars will be used to the fullest advantage, particularly where traffic flow is heavy. Dismounted posts will be taken at strategic locations and Troopers will make personal contact with motorists and pedestrians as required to help the public get where they are going safely.

Troopers will concentrate enforcement on the drinking driver and accident producing violations such as: driving too fast for conditions; following too closely; failure to keep right; improper passing; disregard of stop signs; improper left turns; and improper crossing or walking on the roadway.

The alcohol factor continues to be present in more than 50 per cent of all fatal accidents. This means that driver or pedestrian impairment contributes to the majority of causes, emphasizing the need to be mentally and physically alert.

Highway fatalities on a statewide basis are down 237 compared to last year's total of 867 as of August 21. Since there is no "acceptable" number of highway fatalities, every motorist should be working to help reduce this statistic to "zero."

America's top women players, and other stars of the tennis world will be added attractions at what promises to be a most exciting evening.

generally caused by neurological or brain impairment.

According To Annual Tabulation

.....And Essex Goes 'Deeper In Debt' Application Forms Now Available

Gross debt of New Jersey's 21 counties rose by a record $105.3 million last year to a total of $637.9 million on December 31, 1973, according to an annual tabulation prepared by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association on the basis of official county debt statements. Gross debt consists of authorized debt of the county government, both issued and unissued, but excludes debt of independent county authorities.

Since 1969, gross debt of the counties has risen $209.6 million. The 1973 increase is greater than the combined increases of the three previous years. Five counties had increases of more than $10 million in total gross debt in 1973. Top increase, $22.5 million, was in Middlesex County, primarily to finance county vocational school facilities. Burlington, Camden, and Hudson counties increases were also mainly for vocational school construction, while Somerset County's debt increase was largely for county college

Minish Backs Lowering Those Interest Rates

Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District — New Jersey, today called upon the Federal Reserve Board to act to lower interest rates.

Minish is a ranking member of the House Banking and Currency Committee and has introduced legislation expressing the sense of Congress that the Administration should move to control interest rates.

Minish pointed out that the Banking and Currency Committee has reported legislation to provide for a Cost of Living Task Force to monitor the economy including the level of interest rates.

"However," he said, "we do not need a Cost of Living Council to tell us that interest rates are intolerably high today. What we need," Minish continued, "is to bring them down so that ordinary people can again buy homes, furniture, cars, and other durables; so that credit-starved small business can survive; and so that needed public and private capital projects can be funded."

"Interest rates," Minish wrote to Burns, "must be brought down, and bringing them down is the job of the Federal Reserve Board. We have lived too long with promises. It is now time to give the American people some results."

Cop Examinations Drops Its Height Weight Standards

The New Jersey Civil Service Commission at its meeting on July 30, voted unanimously to abolish minimum height and weight requirements for police officer candidates in local government jurisdictions. This new ruling is effective for the first examination announced after July 30.

The dropping of minimum height and weight standards for police officer candidates follows by approximately one year a similar Civil Service decision on behalf of fire fighter candidates in local jurisdictions. Both rulings have come as the direct result of new job-related physical fitness performance tests carefully developed by the Department's Division of Examinations.

Five separate events are included in the new job-related physical performance test for police officer candidates. In the first, a candidate is given two opportunities to scale a wall seven feet ten inches high. Failing these a six-inch takeoff platform is introduced and the candidate is given two additional opportunities to go over. The candidate's score is lowered accordingly.

The other four events include: A "Dummy Lift and Carry," during which the candidate is expected to lift and carry a 190 pound human dummy seventy-five feet; a "Dummy Drag" during which the same 190 pound dummy is dragged seventy-five feet; an "Agility Run" of 100 yards which includes three trips over a shorter course during which the candidate is expected to pick up and return to the starting point a small object such as a hockey puck on each trip; and finally, an anemometer measurement in kilograms of "Hand Grip Strength" for each hand, the sum of the two separate measurements giving the candidate's total score for the event.

facilities. Only four counties — Atlantic, Cape May, Cumberland, and Gloucester reported declines in their gross debt.

Per capita county gross debt rose from $72.14 in 1972 to $86.24 in 1973. This ranged from a low of $16 in Hunterdon to a high of $175.78 in Somerset. Morris, Cape May, Mercer, and Middlesex counties each have over $100 per capita gross county debt. NJTA's annual debt tabulation showed that Essex County's gross capital debt totaled $90,907,000 at the end of 1973. This represented an increase of $3,773,000. On the basis of 1973 population estimates, per capita debt in this county stood at $96.27.

If you're so rich, why aren't you smart?

So you're making a good salary. But you're not saving any of it. Instead, you want to go after the "big deal" that's going to make you a cool million. Maybe.

What happens if your big scheme goes sour? You've still got to get through the future. And, let's face it. Nobody can afford to take tomorrow for granted.

So maybe you'd better join the Payroll Savings Plan now. Just sign up at work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way, you can still afford to take a few financial risks, if that's your bag. But you'll always have a solid cash reserve to fall back on. And that's being smart.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years. 14% the first year. Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen or destroyed. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(August 31 through September 6)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Do not expect to gain instant respect by unveiling your thoughts, Ari. Instead, let your intelligence be measured by your ability to elude direct questions. Message clears. Week wiggles to a weak end.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): If you didn't spend so much of your time and energy mocking and caricaturing, Taurus, you'd have more steam for loving. Stop ranting against surroundings and try ignoring. Then you'll be The Little Engine That Could. And should, and will and MUST.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Home/income/security highlighted. Be on your toes. Do not borrow and do not lend. If The Village Sponge comes whining around your back door, hang out a sign: GOT THE POX.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Sparks fly. You smoke. Tumultuous days followed by nights of uncertainty. Primitive urge nudges. Nudge back.

LEO (July 23-August 22): You, Leo, have no need of wine to find life intoxicating. Permit yourself to float through days ahead in your natural euphoric state. Before week is over, romance taps you on the shoulder. Try not to appear too startled.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Message arrives. A strong truth is delivered with great delicacy. A page is torn from the book of life. Read it with care. And don't forget, Virgo, that there are two sides to every page.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Do not permit yourself to become anesthetized by boredom, Libra. Keep your awareness intact by taking time to REALLY see that which surrounds you. One who loves you wants very much to help you remove scales from your eyes.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): You live in a world of reality and illusion, Scorp. We all do, but you do especially. Make no mistake about it, you need your little illusions to help you deal with the cold realities. Don't kill illusion with too much analysis.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Get out and mingle with the milling throngs, Sag. Good circulation is important for emotional as well as physical health. You come into contact with one who will have you doing mental push-ups, which is great, for you are thus strengthened for future intellectual combat.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Concerning affair of the heart, Cap, time is on your side. All fruits do not ripen as early as the strawberry, dear Cap. Some, like the grape, need more time.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): That which begins in a hurry, ends in a hurry. Enjoy each day to the fullest. Week ideal to make up your mind concerning personal matter. Do it. Indecision is the thief of time.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Venus looks on you and is pleased, Pisces. You are most fortunate, indeed. Love's smile is honey-sweet. Make the most of every day, for it may be some time before you have another beautiful like this week.

Food Stamp Promotion Campaign Brings in Thousands of Requests

Largely because of the support rendered by New Jersey Food Council members, a program to encourage greater use of food stamps in the State became a success even before it was officially started.

By the time Governor Brendan T. Byrne signed a proclamation in late July officially declaring Food Stamp Week in New Jersey, the State Department of Institutions & Agencies already had received thousands of telephone calls from prospective food stamp eligibles. They had been responding to signs, flyers and ads prepared and distributed by New Jersey Food Council member food stores urging calls to the Food Stamp Hot Line.

The hot line is a toll free (in New Jersey) telephone number, 800-792-8660, which rings in the offices of the New Jersey Department of Institutions & Agencies. The degree of success of the program could be measured by the fact that at the outset the telephone company reported as many as 5,000 busy signals a day on the hot line number. This prompted the State to add still more lines to handle the flood of incoming calls. The hot line hookup will continue at least through August.

"Any eligible person has a legal right to food stamps," Governor Byrne said during proclamation-signing ceremonies at the Institutions & Agencies offices. "It's not a welfare program; it's a nutritional program." The Governor completed the formal program by accepting several telephone calls on the Food Stamp Hotline which was established to answer questions regarding eligibility.

Along with Governor Byrne and Institutions & Agencies Commissioner Ann Klein, NJFC President Thomas P. Infusino (Nutley Park Shop-Rite) was on hand to answer questions from the media. The Governor, who admitted to being a former grocery store delivery boy, commended the NJFC for its efforts toward making the program so successful.

Commissioner Klein said she hopes for a 25 percent increase in federally funded Food Stamp use in New Jersey as a result of this public information program. She said "while many food stamp users are public assistance recipients, we hope to attract thousands of people who are eligible, but perhaps are not aware of that fact." Commissioner Klein noted that the federal Office of Economic Opportunity has approved an $85,000 grant to permit the state to hire and train 34 new certifiers to assist in qualifying Food Stamp applicants.

The NJFC's Consumer Affairs Committee had worked with the Department of Institutions & Agencies for the past two months in preparing much of the materials being used in this program. Members of that committee on hand for the kickoff were Chairman Dorothy Strauber (Foodarama); Ruth Covell (Pathmark); Carla Janoff (Food Fair/Pantry Pride); Kathy LaPier (Grand Union); Sylvia Nadel (Wakefun); and Nancy Sechrest (Kings).

Perspectus Tennis Classic Offers $35,000 Prize Pot

The first annual Perspectus Tennis Classic will be held September 9 to 15 at the beautiful Bradford Bath and Tennis Club high atop First Mountain in Cedar Grove. Joint announcement of the $35,000-event, latest on the exciting men's professional tennis tour, was made here today by Donald P. Rinaldi, president of Perspectus, Inc., a Manhattan-based communications agency with offices at Hilton Head Island, South Carolina and Palm Beach, Florida, and Allen B. DuMont Jr., president of the Bradford Bath and Tennis Club.

"We at Perspectus are delighted to be able to give members of the 'net set' in the metropolitan area the chance to watch their favorite tennis professionals, and even play with them in a pro-am event," Don Rinaldi said.

Soviet Troupe Will Appear In Montclair

The Soviet Georgian Dancers and Tbilisi Polyphonic Choir will be appearing on the Unity Institute Concert series, Thursday evening, Dec. 5, at the Montclair High School auditorium.

The company comprised of 80 dancers, singers, and musicians is making its long awaited United States debut tour. Hailed by Igor Stravinsky as a "major find," they are the living exponents of the virtuoso performing tradition of the folk music of Georgia and the Caucasus. The male dancers are the only ones in the world to dance "en pointe" and their spectacular dances are combined with one of the great choirs of the world; the Tbilisi Polyphonic Choir.

The Choir will sing the sacred songs of the Caucasus a capella, and the marching songs and mountain airs accompanied by native instruments. Igor Stravinsky called their amazing yodel ("krimanshuli") "the most virile vocal performance I have ever heard."

Other events on the Unity series are: Claude Kipnis Mime Theatre, Friday, October 4; L'Orchestre de la Suisse Romande, Thursday, October 24; Eugene Istomin, Isaac Stern, Leonard Rose, piano, violin, cello, Sunday afternoon, November 24; Alvin Ailey City Center Dance Theater, Saturday, January 25; Claudio Arrau, pianist, Sunday afternoon, March 16; Itzhak Perlman, violinist, Sunday evening, April 20.

"The age-old query of 'Tennis, anyone?' has given way to the spirited 'Tennis everyone!' Throughout the country, and particularly in this area, tennis fever has reached a new high, and the accessibility of the excellent clay-court facilities at Bradford, only 30 minutes from Manhattan, should assure the success and perpetuation of the Perspectus Tennis Classic," Rinaldi went on.

"Coming as it does the week following the U.S. Open at the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills," Rinaldi added, "the Perspectus Tennis Classic should attract top rated players such as Cliff Drysdale, John Newcomb, Cliff Richey, Tony Roche, Harold Solomon, and Dick Stockton." He went on to explain that the Perspectus Tennis Classic has been sanctioned by the Association of Tennis Professionals as a result of negotiations with Jack Kramer, head of ATP in Los Angeles, and will be an annual event.

Rinaldi also announced that Jeff Podesta of Glen Ridge, New Jersey, former head tennis professional at Orange Lawn Tennis Club, has joined Perspectus as Vice-President, Marketing, for Perspectus Sports, the wholly-owned subsidiary that will promote not only the Perspectus Tennis Classic, but other major events throughout the country.

Rinaldi also said that negotiations are under way with major television outlets in the metropolitan area for live coverage of the Perspectus Tennis Classic.

According to Rinaldi, a number of leading business organizations in the metropolitan area have already expressed keen interest in the Perspectus Tennis Classic, an event that will provide them an outstanding opportunity to promote their goods and services through participating sponsorship, advertising in the Classic program, and purchasing strips of tickets for both customers and employees.

The concept of the Perspectus Tennis Classic is one that will be extended on a national basis through Perspectus Sports," Rinaldi concluded, "and will embrace a number of popular recreational activities."

Businessmen interested in exploring the merchandising and promotional possibilities of the Perspectus Tennis Classic are urged to call Don Rinaldi in New York on 212/832-1166.

Craft Work Is Displayed At Cladwell

An unusual array of decorator pieces in macrame and wood construction, including tables, window treatments, French doors and a chess set, will be exhibited at Cladwell College, Cladwell, New Jersey, from September 3 to 30. The exhibit, in the Campus Center Art Gallery, is the work of Miriam and Roy Wise. Together they have taken the art of macrame far beyond the usual handbags and wall hangings into the realm of sculpture and furnishings.

Miriam Wise, an artist-craftswoman from Denville returned to her art after interruption to raise a family. She began experimenting with macrame several years ago and now teaches it at home, at the Hobby Hand in Denville and recently at Caldwell College. She has also returned to Caldwell to complete a liberal arts degree. Mrs. Wise who believes that an artist must be fully aware of her environment, finds philosophy and psychology courses particularly exciting.

Enjoy Your Holiday, But Take Precautions

Labor Day — American's most two-faced holiday. The Insurance Information Institute reminds you that Labor Day Weekend is not only the most popular holiday weekend of the year, but also the most tragic. Since Labor Day is the last holiday of the summer, everyone tries to get away to enjoy it. The result is a startling number of injuries, traffic deaths and home burglaries every year. As you take off for the beach, ballpark or backyard barbecue you'll find that overcrowded roads step up chances of an auto accident and the home you leave behind often issues its own invitation to burglars.
