

Senatore Nixes Town Attorney In Active Case

By Ken Moore

Commissioner Mary Senatore won a postponement Tuesday in the opening of a civil case in Superior Court in which she has been ordered to show cause why she denied a building permit to Active Oil Co., preventing the oil reclamation firm from establishing itself on property on Main Street.

Judge Nicholas Scalera postponed the hearing until Friday, October 16, in order to give Mrs. Senatore's lawyers time to prepare her case. Last Friday she engaged local attorney Lawrence Schwartz to defend her in a suit which charges she should be removed from office, besides seeking the issuance of building permits for Active Oil.

In retaining Schwartz, Mrs. Senatore declined the services of Town Attorney John Scott, who ordinarily would represent a Commissioner in a civil case. Neither Mrs. Senatore nor Scott would comment on what is considered an unusual move by the Commissioner, but it was reported the town attorney and Mrs. Senatore hold irreconcilable opinions on the case.

Also named as defendants in the complaint filed by Active Oil President George Rohde Sr. are Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio and Municipal Engineer Richard Mango. Attorneys for all parties were present in Judge Scalera's courtroom Tuesday, but only Mustacchio's attorney, Leslie Finch, filed a response to the Active complaint. Mango is represented by Jack Soriano. The other attorney will file answers at a later date.

Scott will continue to represent the Town of Belleville in areas of the suit which charge that the Commissioners acted to prevent Active Oil from legally building in Belleville.

Mrs. Senatore, since last spring has refused to allow Building Inspector Mustacchio to issue permits to Active, although preliminary permits for occupancy and demolition of old buildings had been given with no problem.

Active bought the six and one half acre plot of land last year from Tencoco, a chemical firm. After some months of negotiations with a real estate firm interested in developing a shopping mall on the land, Rohde says he

Detectives Investigate Silver Lake Murder

By Paul Stern

Belleville police and the Essex County Prosecutor's Office are continuing their investigation today of the stabbing murder early Tuesday morning of a 41-year-old Belleville man.

According to Belleville Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight, the victim, Vincenzo Razzano, was found lying "in a pool of blood" just inside the door of his two-room basement apartment at 64 Belmont Avenue. Initial reports indicated that the 41-year-old father of three died of "multiple stab wounds about the chest," inflicted some time between 6:30 and 9 a.m. Tuesday morning, said Haight. As of Tuesday evening, no suspects had been identified or arrests made.

Razzano, who was employed as a baker in Newark, was discovered shortly after 9 a.m. Tuesday when a tenant in the three-family house on Belmont Avenue saw blood seeping from under Razzano's door, said Haight. When knocking drew no response, the tenant summoned Belleville police officers Vincent Cosgrove and sergeant Joseph Oese, who forced the door and found the victim's fully-clothed body just inside.

"We have no motive at this time," said Haight, "but robbery has not been ruled out." An autopsy was to be performed either late Tuesday or Wednesday, said Haight, while the Belleville detective division and Prosecutor's Office continue their investigation, led jointly by Belleville detective sergeant Nicholas Berrigan and Anthony Mautone of the Prosecutor's Office. Razzano was last seen alive, said Haight, at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

According to the deputy chief, Razzano's wife, An-tonette, and four-year-old daughter were in Italy on Tuesday when the murder occurred. The victim's two other children, 12-year-old twins, a boy and a girl, were in Bloomfield with Mrs. Razzano's parents.

Razzano was apparently living with his in-laws at 69 Bloomfield Avenue, Bloomfield, said Haight, but he was also owner of the Belmont Avenue building that he was refurbishing.

Razzano's murder was the first in Belleville since May, 1973, when a Belleville man was charged with the stabbing murder of his wife.

Local Campaign Activity Light In Anticipation of Small Ballot

The campaign trail in Belleville has been quiet and lightly-trod this year, leading event top political leaders in town to remark on the apparent lack of concern for the upcoming November 5 general election.

Even in their own camps, Republican Town Chairman Gerard Ferrara and Democratic Town Chairman Mary Senatore say the main effort here is still in the planning stages, with the election less than four weeks off.

A partial explanation for the lack of partisan hoopla is the absence of any local candidates from what will be a small ballot in November, and a general apathy on the part of voters toward political events.

The election will decide the next U.S. Congressman from the 11th District, the election of three County Freeholders, and the County Register of Deeds and Mortgages.

The county-wide campaigns are coordinated by the respective Essex committees of each party, while Congressional candidates field their own organizations. On the municipal level, Republican and Democratic committees stump for the candidates with varying degrees of enthusiasm. Throughout the county, local committees for both parties have reportedly begun their campaigns late this year.

The county slate for the Democrats includes Mrs. Larrie Stalks for Register and Freeholders Joseph L. Iannuzzi, Mrs. Reita Greenstone and Harry J. Callaghan. Iannuzzi and Callaghan are incumbents.

On the Republican side, the lone GOP Freeholder Gerardo Del Tufo is joined by the Rev. James A. Pindar and Paul W. Nordt in a bid for the three open spots, while Deputy Register of Deeds and Mortgages William L. Stubbs seeks the top post.

An exception to the rule of quiet campaigning this year is Republican Montclair Commissioner William B. Grant who poses an aggressive challenge to incumbent Democrat Joseph Minish's Congressional seat. Grant started well in advance in his whirlwind campaign through the district and has already made several stops in Belleville. Another is planned for this Saturday, when Grant, a jogging buff, will combine exercise with work as he hoofs it from North Arlington through Belleville and into Nutley. He's expected to be at Belleville Town Hall at 10 a.m., and will stop by the Belleville-Nutley football game at Municipal Stadium later in the day.

The Town Committee Chairman take the responsibility of shepherding the Congressional candidates when they come into town and Ferrara says he's amazed by Grant's campaign style. "I was with him for three hours one day at Grant City shopping plaza and I saw him hand out 500 pieces of campaign literature — and that's a lot of literature. He's the most active candidate I've seen since George Addonizio ran against Pete Rodino in the fifties." Recognizing that Grant faces a well-entrenched incumbent, Ferrara says, "He's got a tough fight ahead but the guy is really working hard."

The Congressional session in Washington has just ended and the Minish drive so far has not reached high gear, but

Rent Levellers Press Board To Examine Subsidy Program

The Belleville Rent Levelling Board is moving on two fronts to revamp the workings of its own panel, six months old this week.

Acting chairman Daniel Del Tufo, heading the panel in place of former chairman Edward Mahler who resigned last month, has issued public statements to clarify what he says are some misapprehen-sions held by landlords and tenants alike about the rent code adopted by the Town Commission last April.

The board is also pressing Town Commissioners for a response to pending proposals made by the rent levellers, one of them a suggestion to seek federal rent subsidies for senior citizens, and another a change in the rent ordinance to include two-family apartment dwellings in the code. The ordinance presently controls apartment buildings of three or more units.

The panel this week sent a letter to the Commissioners requesting a reply to their first request on an ordinance change made to the Town Fathers last May. They also delegated one of their members, Steven Rogers, to address the Commission last Tuesday night on their proposal to hire professional consultants to seek federal rent subsidies for senior citizens.

Del Tufo announced that the rent board will also change their policy of review of applications by landlords for rent increases, by asking the applicants to make personal appearances before the board when their cases are reviewed. Previously, the board only called in applicants if they needed information not provided in the initial written request for an increase. But, said Del Tufo, "we nearly always have some unanswered questions and we feel it would be best if the applicants were present."

The temporary chairman also said the board has found that "tenants and landlords alike are often unaware of exactly what the ordinance provides. We want everyone to know, for instance, that a landlord can not increase rent on an apartment until a year has lapsed since the last increase, even if that increase was made before the rent ordinance took effect."

He said many landlords are under the impression that rent on an apartment can be raised if the apartment is vacated and put up for rent again. "Only brand-new apartments are not covered by the ordinance," said Del Tufo.

Also not covered in the ordinance are apartments in two-family houses, and the

For Reunion with a Longtime Friend

Former British Sailor Pays Belleville a Call

A JOLLY GOOD REUNION it was for retired Belleville school teacher Miss Catherine Conklin (right) and Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter from Cleethorpes, England, who visited here this week. The friendship began during World War II

It was just before Christmas in 1941, during the early part of World War II, when Miss Catherine Conklin read in the newspaper about a number of British sailors, stationed in New Jersey, who would have to spend their holiday away from home.

Miss Conklin, a retired Belleville school teacher now, remembers the madhouse at Penn Station as about 1,000 young soldiers and sailors piled off the trains from Asbury Park to meet the Americans who had invited them into their homes for Christmas dinner.

This week, especially, Miss Conklin's memories are clear and sharp, since one of the sailors she befriended returned to Belleville to pay a call. Of course the metropolitan area, and the rest of the country, no doubt, has changed a bit since John Baxter, now a refrigeration engineer in England, saw it last.

Back in 1941, for example, the Berkley Hotel in Asbury Park — where the Englishman and his comrades were stationed — was considered a modern, up to the minute building. A chief petty officer in the Royal Navy, Baxter had been sent to America to sail back a wooden minesweeper made in Wisconsin.

And Radio City Music Hall, where Miss Conklin took her guest for a Christmas movie in 1941, was closed when Miss Conklin took Baxter and his wife, Joan, there this time.

Reunions, however, are made as much of the present as they are of the past, and the Baxters and their Belleville hostess have been making the best of both during their two-week visit.

Though Baxter himself was in the United States twice during the war, neither his wife nor his 22-year-old son David have been here before. Mrs. Baxter, accordingly, is being given the grand tour of several cities in the U.S. and Canada before the family returns home to Cleethorpes, Lincolnshire, England. Son David, meanwhile, like any red-blooded young man, has been doing a little exploring of his own, finding out about

HIS NAME IS MICHAEL and he was abandoned last Sunday near the County Children's Shelter on Franklin Avenue. Belleville police are searching for the three-year-old's parents, and urge citizens to report any information they have about the youngster. (See story on page 3.)

No RR Hearing Decision

Belleville officials are still awaiting a decision from State Commissioner of Transportation Alan Sagner on whether to open new hearings on safety measures for two Erie-Lackawanna crossings in Silver Lake.

While it was reported last week that a decision was imminent, Sagner is still considering the petition by the Belleville Board of Commissioners to open hearings on the question of restoring crossing gates to replace two which were torn down by the railroad last May.

Sagner agreed to consider the Belleville request September 11 following an eight-day protest during which local residents blocked the passage of trains through the two crossings. Soon after Sagner's meeting on September 11, the Town submitted its petition and the railroad was given 20 days to respond.

On the last day before that 20-day limit lapsed last week, the railroad submitted their own affidavit. Sagner will weigh the merits of both documents before deciding.

Some local officials privately have said they expect a favorable decision on the new hearings, and Sagner has already announced that the hearings, if granted, would be held in the State Building in Newark, instead of in Trenton.

Erie had obtained Sagner's permission to dismantle the gates last April, claiming the maintenance of the gates and the salaries of two watchmen posed a financial burden on the company, for the amount of train traffic that passes along the tracks.

Census Focus On Education

A sample of households in this area will take part in the Federal Government's annual survey on education to be taken the week of October 14-18 by the Bureau of the Census.

John C. Cullinane, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in New York, said that interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about the number of school years completed by household members. There will also be questions about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten.

Questions on education will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. The survey provides a continuing measure of conditions in the labor force. The August survey found the Nation's employment situation little changed from July. The unemployment rate was 5.4 percent, up slightly from 5.3 percent the month before. Total employment was 86.2 million, practically unchanged for the past two months and up only 375,000 since January.

Unusual sounds which result from actions of the heart, are called murmurs. Some of the murmurs are referred to by physicians as innocent or functional murmurs. Heart sounds of this type may be normal for a given individual. Functional murmurs may be temporary conditions, which disappear after a time. Hypertension, which means high blood pressure, is the most common and most talked about of all conditions that may affect the heart. Cheer up! Many individuals have high blood pressure and still live to be old.

Police Seek Identity Of Abandoned Toddler

The Belleville Police Department is seeking information regarding the identity of a three-year-old boy named Michael, abandoned last Sunday near the Essex County Children's Shelter on Franklin Avenue.

Now temporarily housed in a foster home, Michael was discovered about noon last Sunday, when he wandered up to a security guard at the children's shelter, said Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight. Pinned to the youngster's red sweater was a note indicating the boy's first name and age, and that "his mommy can't take care of him," said Haight. Michael's face and body were bruised, added the Deputy, and according to the youngster himself, his father and someone named "Dawn" dropped him off near the shelter.

The youngster was described by Haight as being a male caucasian, about three feet tall and 35 pounds. Michael has light brown hair with blonde highlights, and brown eyes. He was found wearing a button-down red sweater with multi-colored stripes, a purple turtleneck shirt, blue multi-colored speckled pants, white socks and brown shoes.

Other than the bruises, said Haight, the three-year-old seems to be healthy.

Anyone with information about Michael or his parents is urged to call police headquarters at 759-4600, said the Deputy Chief.

Accepted Scavenger Contract Bids

Bids on scavenger service contract for the Town of Belleville, ordered to be readvertised after a series of court decisions went against the town, were accepted Tuesday night by the Board of Commissioners.

Three companies, two of them who were parties in the 10-month legal battle, turned in bids for two, three and five years of service. Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo moved that the contract be awarded November 19.

The contract will replace that formerly held by L. Pucillo and Sons of Lodi, who, said Strumolo, has been performing the service for the Town at a cost of $428,000 per year. Pucillo was permitted to continue the service while a court dispute went on when the Commissioners, last December voted to extend Pucillo's contract without accepting bids. The Town based their position on the theory that scavenger service is a public utility, and therefore, a non-bid item.

One of the firms that was snubbed when the Board refused to accept bids last year was back to bid this time around. Capasso Brothers of Ridgewood bid $992,450 for the two-year contract, $1,579,200 for three years, and $2,836,500 for five years. It was Capasso Brothers who waged the long legal fight against the Town.

Pucillo bid $660,000 for two years, $1,077,000 for three, and $1,850,000 for five.

A third company, James Petrocello and Son of Harrison, bid $715,555 for two years, $1,099,999.99 for three, and $1,888,888.88 for a five year contract.

The bids of the three companies will be investigated to see they meet the specifications set by the Commissioners and the contract will be awarded November 19.

Also at the meeting, a communication was received from

GOOD NEWS...

Belleville to Join Events During Clean Air Week

Vincent T. Strumolo, Director of Public Affairs, announced Clean Air Week will be observed during the week of October 20 to 26.

The Suburban Air Pollution Commission, of which Belleville is a member, will sponsor many activities.

The director stated that air pollution is a public hazard which can be prevented through intelligent action on the part of government, industry and the education of the general public.

"The main purpose of clean air week is to promote educational programs working toward cleaner air for the benefit of our greatest asset — health," said Strumolo.

"These reasons constitute the abatement of all air pollution to be of the utmost concern to every citizen."

"Clean Air Week is a good time for all citizens to become more aware of community, regional, and state efforts toward cleaner air and to begin to do their share for cleaner air through public support of individuals and organizations, and through personal efforts for a better environment."

The Commissioner strongly urges all citizens and organizations to participate in the observance of this occasion and to make it the beginning of a year-round

Casino Gambling — Yes Or No?

In November, New Jersey voters will have an opportunity to vote in favor of legalizing casino gambling in New Jersey or continuing the prohibition.

At the present time gambling at racetracks is permitted — lottery gambling is permitted — bingo gambling is permitted.

We do not believe in being hypocritical. Either gambling is sinful or it isn't. Either gambling is immoral or it isn't.

We happen to believe gambling is neither sinful nor immoral. We do not visit racetracks. We visited a casino once. We do not gamble on the horses. We do not play the "numbers." We do not buy tickets in any lottery. We do not gamble at bingo. We simply don't gamble.

However we believe New Jersey voters should be consistent and if gambling is permitted at the racetrack it should be permitted in the casino.

We favor a yes vote on casino gambling at the November election.

We do not subscribe to the theory that casino gambling in New Jersey will invite organized crime. New Jersey has been the unofficial headquarters for organized crime for more than two decades — and that was without casinos. Organized crime exists where there are corrupt and/or inefficient law enforcement officials — and not necessarily where casinos are located.

Under proper state supervision, New Jersey can operate gambling casinos free of organized crime. Under the direction and control of New Jersey gambling czar Charles Carella, we have confidence that casino gambling will operate with the same integrity as New Jersey's successful lottery operation.

Backing the Board

A little less than a year ago, the Belleville Town Commission appointed a five-member panel to study the rent situation and draw a plan to alleviate whatever problems they uncovered.

The study group worked hard and found plenty that needed correcting. Many of those problems remain but the Commission is not responding to the advice of the board it appointed.

Among the early reports of the study group was a section drawing attention to the plight of local senior citizens living on fixed incomes and unable to meet rising rent increases which, in many cases, were judged fair and necessary from the landlords' standpoint. The rent panel concluded the most equitable solution would be to seek federal rent subsidies for senior citizens.

Someone in Town government decided that it would be too much trouble for Belleville to seek such relief for its elderly and the proposal was shuffled aside. But the rent levelling board has shoved it back under the Commissioners' noses again.

Since last May the rent board has also been asking the Commission, to consider revising Belleville's rent levelling ordinance to include two-family apartment dwellings. It has yet to receive an answer.

Members of the rent board operate strictly on a volunteer basis, sacrificing their time to try and make a public service concept work in Belleville. We can sympathize with the former chairman of the board, Edward Mahler, who resigned last month on the grounds the workload had begun to cut into his personal and professional life.

We can sympathize because it looks like the rent board has been given the impression they'll have to "go it alone" if rent levelling is going to work in Belleville. Our Town Fathers have concluded their responsibility ended once they appointed the panel. The buck seems to have stopped somewhere lower on the chain of authority.

If this attitude on the part of the Town Commissioners continues, we shouldn't be surprised to see more rent board members resigning. And when word gets around about how they've been treated, (or ignored), we shouldn't be surprised if the Commissioners have trouble filling vacant seats.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In response to former Belleville Health Officer Hillery's "Speak Up" letter to the editor published in the Sept. 26th. issue of this publication in which he explains his resignation came about because of poor health and that it was not forced and in which he seemingly takes exception to the fact that this was not made known, our only syrupy comment, as he refers to it, is that it would have been in poor taste to have suggested that the Health Officer wasn't healthy. Furthermore, when mention is made of resignation it is implied that it has been voluntary, not forced. We wish him a speedy recovery from his malady.

Much ado about nothing, and a tempest in a teapot is the best description that can be offered to explain the furor engendered over the removal of the railroad crossing gates in Silver Lake. The concern being manifest over the safety of school children is understandable and well taken. Citizen activity, inspired by political leaders hopeful of making political gain by their injection into the fracas, has overstimulated the populous and school board officials to the point of irrationality, however.

The stolid, unreasonable attempt to single out Commissioner Robert Laterza as the "whipping-boy" for what they contend is inadequate protection is absurd and ridiculous. Of all the local office holders, Commissioner Laterza has maintained a staid, dignified and sane approach to the situation. The fact that he has not resorted to the frenetic, histrionic display of showmanship demonstrated by his counterparts does not suggest that he has been indifferent to the importance of finding a prudent solution to the problem.

Laterza, a pharmacist, has pursued the professional approach which is most likely to produce an appropriate solution to the contretemps brought on by State Commissioner of Transportation

Alan Sagner's stupid authorization permitting the railroad to remove the gates and the watchman.

It is the responsibility of the Erie-Lackawanna, not the own of Belleville to make provisions for protecting the safety of all traversing its right of way by right of public easement. Should one person be injured through the neglect of the railroad to provide adequate warning and protection devices they, and they alone, notwithstanding Sagner's idiotic ruling, would be financially responsible. It is not the obligation of the town to assume the expense of taking on the policing or railroad property or interests. That is why there are railroad police divisions. The responsibility is that of the railroad.

Laterza, in a calm approach, has assured that until a decision is arrived at on the future of gate crossing at the intersections, there will be adequate protection, adding that now, there are two officers from the Sheriff's department at each crossing, one crossing guard at each, and one local policeman assigned for both crossings. He said, "They're there to block traffic and hold back the kids when the trains come." In view of the foregoing it would appear that instead of ranting and raving like some of our local officials, Laterza, without fanfare, has made more than adequate provisions to guard the safety of our children and all others in regards to the crossings.

Perhaps with his reserved, gentlemanly approach Mr. Laterza will have effected shortly a cordial and effective solution to the controversy. Since the railroad only runs a spur over these tracks serving factories in the area, what is to prevent an agreement with the railroad not to operate their trains at a time when the school troublesome concern now being expressed by worried parents?

In this matter Commissioner Laterza's dignified handling of the situation merits praise, not criticism.

PART OF THE SHOW — Vicki Guarino isn't resting here, she's rehearsing her part as Fanny Brice in the coming Family Playhouse production of "Funny Girl," set to open October 25. A large selection of local talent is involved. (See story on page five.)

Three More Accidents Add Weight To Pleas for Route 21 Safety Aid

By Peter Clark

One Year Ago

Town Commissioner Mary V. Senatore suffered a setback in her battle to win re-appointment of the Zoning Board of Adjustment for Anthony Agresta as the Town Commission voted 3-2 to reject Agresta. At the same meeting, her rival Mayor Joseph McGreevy elected not to second a motion to reappoint his own protege, Zoning Board Chairman Arthur DeFuria, possibly anticipating a similar rejection. Round to McGreevy.

Commissioner Michael V. Marotti announced plans to erect a senior citizen center on the old Camp Carragher grounds, complete with bocce courts, shuffleboard areas, swings and lounges and a picnic area.

Walter Kidde was granted an injunction to limit picketing to 15 strikers at plant gates as 900 members of blue collar Local 146 and white collar Local 436. A union representative said the workers and management were "far apart" on most issues.

Five Years Ago

Within 48 hours after Mayor Ken Smith had sent a protest letter to the State Highway Department, threatening to close down Route 21 unless safety measures were provided, three more accidents occurred on the ill-fated highway.

Additional letters had been filed by Town Judge Edward Abromsom and by police chief Harry Tepe. They had asked for reflectors and better lighting on the bridge abutments. No one received a reply from the state, no had judge Abromsom received a reply from Motor Vehical Director June Strelecki, for the patrol of the highway.

Within the space of one day one woman nearly lost her life when her car struck the poorly lighted abutment, and another driver barely escaped injury when his car hurtled a faulty guard rail and plunged into the Passaic River.

A bill which might significantly cut down on costs to the Belleville Board of Education for the education of the handicapped was being introduced by State Senator James Wallwork. The Senator's plans were revealed at a special meeting of the Board. The bill called for the state to assume 75 percent of the costs in educating handicapped children of a community. At that time, the State paid 50 percent, with the local community paying the other half.

A joint session of the East Orange and Belleville Boards of Education was held, with the East Orange Board offering apologies for the stoning of the Belleville buses after the Bellboy-Panther game. Mrs. Mildred Barry, president of the East Orange Board, spoke before the gathering in Belleville, saying that her community was "deeply sorry" for the actions committed against Belleville students. She said that the police protection was inadequate, and offered an explanation at a closed meeting of the Board, asking Board members not to reveal what was said to the press. Mrs. Barry further stated that she hoped that the incident would not jell into a hard attitude toward her school.

The first luncheon bridge of the season for the Woman's Club was held. The chairwoman for the affair was Mrs. Esther Adams.

Captain Ruth E. Shannon of Bremond Street was appointed air force nurse procurement officer for the New York-New Jersey area.

The Woman's Division of the Citizen's

Tax Council held what was called a very successful meeting. Mrs. Thomas McGill, president pro-tem, made the welcoming address to a standing room only crowd.

The results for the 68 Belleville students who took the National Merit Scholarship Test revealed that the "top" Belleville High School students compared favorably with other students from around the country.

County Office On Aging Plans Under Study

The Essex County Office on Aging is responsible for the planning and development of senior services in Essex County. The Office is required to submit yearly an Area Plan with an audit of the resources available and recommendations for programs to be funded from the Older Americans' Act. In attempting to fulfill this mandate, five public hearings were held during the week of September 23-27, 1974 in the municipalities of Newark, Irvington, Bloomfield, Verona and Orange to provide an opportunity for senior citizens, agency directors, municipal officials and any other interested person to express the needs of the approximately 150,000 Essex County seniors.

Notices were sent to newspapers for publication, to senior citizen club representatives, agency directors, municipal officials and the 1500 names on the Office's mailing list. More than one hundred seniors, agency directors and municipal officials from throughout Essex County testified during the course of the hearings. Also, approximately five hundred interested persons attended the hearings with almost half being at the opening Newark hearing. Press coverage by both local and countywide newspapers indicated a continued interest and concern for the plight of our older generation.

The testimony revealed that the need area of transportation was the most important priority area. The secondary most important areas were in no particular order; finances, housing, outreach, recreation, nutrition, information and referral services, homemakers, security, medical services, and the establishment of municipal Offices on Aging. Priority areas were similar for seniors in both the urban and suburban sections of Essex County.

Repeated testimony documented that transportation with escort was the key supportive service necessary for seniors to take advantage of available community resources. At every level of service, personal contact seemed as important as the actual delivery of that service.

These needs corresponded with results obtained from a senior citizen need survey at the Senior Citizen Jamboree, and several other senior surveys recently completed in municipalities throughout Essex County. Last year, the Essex County Office on Aging had established, based upon similar documentation, the areas of transportation and health services, as priorities for the 1974 Areawide Aging Plan.

In 1974, the Essex County Office on Aging was allocated approximately $100,000 in Older Americans' Act Funds for services to the county's seniors. These funds have been subsequently awarded to municipalities and non-profit agencies for programs including meals on wheels, transportation, legal services, health clinics, employment, outreach, telephone reassurance, and information and referral.

In 1975 the Office expects to receive approximately $300,000 for services to the county's seniors with at least $100,000 allocated for Newark. As a result of these hearings, however, it is really obvious that the amount of funds available is totally inadequate.

The Essex County Office on Aging intends to respond in one way to this critical situation by requesting that additional state and federal funds be made available for the 1975 Essex Area Aging Plan. Additional sources of funds on both the local, state and federal level will be necessary so that Essex's seniors have the critical services so desperately needed at this present time.

On the local level municipalities will have to assume a greater responsibility for the financing and developing of senior services locally. An example in point was the testimony from the town of Belleville that approximately $40,000 had been budgeted this year for needed services for its seniors.

The Office on Aging intends to use the testimony from these public hearings in the decision making process of which senior programs will be recommended for 1975 Older Americans' Act funding. The Office on Aging feels that the public hearings were extremely enlightening and successful in documenting the critical needs of our county's seniors. The value of the testimony in the planning process for 1975 will be significant. The Office is faced with, however, the selection of programs for Older Americans' Act funds based, not on merit and need, but budgetary limitations.

Heart Test

Over a million Americans fall victim of heart attack every year and now there is a test which allows doctors to measure one's chances far more accurately than earlier, and with greater safety.

The test is the new exercise ECG (electrocardiogram), which utilizes a bicycle or treadmill and a doctor's constant monitoring of the patient's heart and blood pressure.

The old method, still used by less than up-to-date doctors, is to have the patient step up and down on a stool or platform for three minutes. This, however, puts too much stress on some; it can cause a heart attack in itself.

Using the bicycle method, the tester learns of the extent atherosclerosis has narrowed the patient's coronary vessels, and this has been found to be a good forecaster of future coronary disease.

Campanella Fund Sets First Dinner Dance

An Essex County Highway Department employee who lost his legs in a serious accident last summer has been named the recipient of a special fund in his name.

A committee was recently formed to head the James (Jimmy) Campanella Fund, and the group's first fund-raiser will be a dinner dance at the Branch Brook Manor in Belleville.

Jimmy Campanella, a local resident and graduate of Belleville High School, was injured on July 16 when he was struck by a car and pinned against the rear of his service truck. Both legs were crushed and later amputated.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. (Bing) Campanella of Harrison Street, Belleville, he is married to the former Phyllis Danows and they have two children, James 4 and Kim 7. Jimmy is presently in rehabilitation at the Kessler Institute.

Tickets for the fund's first dinner dance can be obtained by contacting General Chairman Mrs. Clem Christiano, 117 Belmoor Street, of Honorary Chairman Commissioner Mary Senatore at Town Hall. Ticket chairmen will be Dr. and Mrs. Michael J. Veniero.

Other members of the general committee are Mrs. Nancy Scrivo, Steven Marzano, Jerry Leopoldo, Leonard Campanella, Mrs. Sam La Monica and Raymond Peccatiello.

Donations to the fund can be submitted to any member of the committee.

Mobile Auto Testing Van Stops at Belleville High

The parking lot of the Belleville High School grounds was the scene 12st Thursday of the mobile auto testing van for annual free auto pollution visit to Belleville, sponsored by the Department of Public Affairs.

The free test was administered by technicians from the Bureau of Air Pollution Control to familiarize motorists with the test which became part of the routine automobile inspection last July.

Owners of the inspected vehicles were given information covering chapter 26 of the State Air Pollution Code.

There were members of the Belleville Senior High School present during the test, as special guests of the commissioner.

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo was very pleased with the attendance of citizens.

Cars were tested on the average of four minutes per inspection.

In attendance was Commissioner Michael V. Marotti, Director of the Department of Public Parks and Public property, who observed the testing of his department's vehicles.

School 1 PTA Slates Meeting

On October 17, the PTA of School One will hold its first meeting of this school year. A program presented by the Belleville Health Department will be entitled "Drug Abuse Program" and "Know Your Government Program", and will be given by an official of the department. All interested parties are invited to attend.

OVERLOOKING the scene at last Thursday's auto emissions testing at Belleville High School are Commissioners Michael Marotti and Vincent Strumolo.

Post 105 Legion Auxiliary Installs New Officer Slate

Essex County American Legion President Mrs. Edward Janesczewski and her staff installed the 1974-75 officers of Belleville Post 105 unit at a meeting September 26.

Mrs. William Legehen was installed as president; Mrs. Robert Fersch as first vice president; Mrs. Joseph De Luca as second vice president and secretary; Mrs. Patrick Lee as treasurer; Mrs. John Nolter as a chaplain; Mrs.

George Mitchell as historian; Miss Doris Helwig as sergeant at arms; and Mrs. John Arthur as color bearer.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of life memberships to four members for their many years of continuous active service to the unit. Mrs. Robert J. Laib, outgoing president, on behalf of the unit, made these presentations to Mrs. Joseph Heumer, Mrs. Walter Weiss, Mrs. Peter Johnson and Mrs.

Eugene Hess. Each served as Unit President and Mrs. Heumer also is a Past County President.

Following the installation, refreshments and champagne punch were served to guests who included Essex County A. L. Commander Carmine G. Petti, Department of N. J. Vice Commander George Steinbacher, several past commanders of Post 105 and members of various Essex County Posts and Auxiliary.

Family Playhouse to Open Season with 'Funny Girl'

The cast and crew of the Family Playhouse are now entering the final stages of rehearsal for the opening of "Funny Girl," the first of a long and varied series of shows slated for the fall and winter season.

Scheduled to run for nine performances over three consecutive weekends, "Funny Girl" opens October 25 at the local group's headquarters in the former sanctuary of Holy Family Church, Brookline Avenue, Nutley. A full staff of Belleville-Nutley talent is involved in the production which will also be presented October 27 and 28, November 1-3, and November 8-10.

Curtain time, for Friday and Saturday performances is 8 p.m. while Sunday matinees begin at 3 p.m. Tickets, priced at $3 and $4, are available by calling Joan the ticket lady at 667-6018 on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays; or by phoning 667-4471.

"Funny Girl" is the Family Playhouse's second production since its formation last year and subsequent production of "Oliver." Though a number of new faces will appear in the latest effort, there are also several returnees in the cast and crews.

Cast in the role of the incomparable funny girl herself,

Fanny Brice, is Nutley's Vicki Guarino. Vicki, 21, has performed as Liat in "South Pacific," and as Luisa in "The Fantastiks," while studying at the University of Miami in Florida. She also portrayed Marion in Bloomfield Talent Time's production of "The Music Man" in the recent past.

Playing opposite Vicki, in the role of Nick Arnstein, is Victor Lupinacci, a speech and theater major at Montclair State College. Victor, a Clifton resident, played in the Family Playhouse "Oliver" show as Mister Sowerberry, and hopes to someday establish a career in musical comedy and dance. He has also performed with other groups in places such as the Waldorf Astoria and the

Legion Women Ready First Exec Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Essex County Executive Committee, American Legion Auxiliary will be held on Thursday, October 6 at A. L. Post 70 on Franklin Avenue, Nutley. Following the meeting, Essex County Auxiliary President Mrs. Edward Janesczewski and her staff will host a social hour.

Garden State Arts Center.

Mrs. Brice, Fanny's mother, is otherwise known as Rose Ann Truppo. An Irvington resident, Rose is an accounting analyst with Western Electric, but also manages to involve herself with theater in such plays as "Oliver," — as Mrs. Sowerberry — "My Fair Lady," "The Sound of Music," and "The Music Man," with the St. Joseph Theatre Group in East Orange.

Jim Rosa, of Lyndhurst, is cast as Fanny's longtime friend, Eddie Ryan. Community theater work is not new to this 18-year-old Rutgers freshman. Jim has appeared in "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon," and "JB" for Queen of Peace High School. He also performed in "Anything Goes" with the Lyndhurst Drama Workshop program.

Also included in the cast are Nutleyites Susan Malizia, Virginia Babick, Diane Campanile, Robert Yanuzzi and Cathy Van Hoene; and Belleville residents Eileen C. Martorana, Denise Roselle, Michelle Ferrara and John Dillon.

"Funny Girl," as was "Oliver," is directed by Family Playhouse founder, Ray Napolitano.

Taxpayers Group Complains Ballot Laws Are Baffling

As the Legislature in late September considered several State bond-issue questions for the November 5, 1974 General Election ballot, election officials and interested observers of State Government were busily poring over New Jersey election law, searching for statutory deadlines and balloting requirements concerning such referendum. The nature of the jungle-like network of inconsistent and obsolete laws and rules is not only confusing, but frustrating, notes the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Many county election officials have expressed displeasure with the State's policies concerning notice of public questions which does not appear to have a specific statutory deadline, and which can delay printing of sample ballots while legislative action on such questions is pending. The New Jersey Constitution requires the Secretary of State advertise the text of any Constitutional amendment at least three months before the general election. Municipal clerks, in their first election notices in August, in compliance with a statutory deadline of 70 days before the election, listed the two Constitutional amendments slated for the fall-ballot — casino gambling, and reduction in voter residency requirements. Non-Constitutional statewide referenda, such as bond issues, are quite a different story. A 1932 statute indicates the Secretary of State shall not be obliged to publish, or even provide copies to registered voters, of any acts the Legislature directs to be submitted to the people. This old law may be inconsistent with post-1947 Constitution statutory requirements and contrary to the prevailing philosophy of open government, and is definitely inconsistent with language in current State bond legislation which directs the Secretary of State to see that the bond law is published in 10 newspapers in the State at least 15 days before the election. Such a 15-day advertising deadline should not be interpreted by legislators as a deadline for passage of bond legislation. While there is no specific statutory deadline for non-constitutional amendment referenda such as bond issues, it would appear that the deadline is determined by a 1953 law which states that all candidates and questions appearing on the absentee ballot must be ascertained on the thirty-fourth day (Oct. 2) before the election. That date presumably is to allow time for printing the absentee ballots which are required to be mailed to voters as soon as practicable after the 25th day before the election (Oct. 11). Since 1953, there has been a State Election Law Revision Commission with statutory responsibility for studying all statutes governing elections with the objective — a complete modernization of the law. The name and make-up of the Commission was changed in 1964. Since then two reports have been issued on limited aspects of the overall election process. It appears that the Commission could stand revitalization in order to complete a badly-needed assignment which has dragged out for over twenty years, suggests the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Roving Bunny Popping Up Is 'Harvey'

The six-foot-three white rabbit appearing unexpectedly at luncheon meetings of men's service clubs around Northern New Jersey, and greeting shoppers at the large shopping malls, is not a belated (or very previous) Easter Bunny, but a visible visitation of the pooka, Harvey, from the hilarious comedy of the same name opening at the Meadowbrook Theatre Restaurant in Cedar Grove.

The imposing white rabbit has already turned meetings of the Rotary Clubs of Pequannock and West Orange into rollicking sessions. At Kinnel's shoppers did a double take as their glances caught sight of Harvey. At the meetings and where groups gathered about her, the pooka played a tape recording by Pat Paulsen who is starring in the Pulitzer Prize winning "Harvey."

The oversized rabbit also participated in the Lottery Drawing at Menlo Park Mall, where she drew some of the numbers. The next day, she appeared at the Petting Zoo at Menlo Park, but this rabbit was not for petting.

On Saturday, appropriately, she spent the day with the hunters and fishermen featured at Willowbrook Mall.

Next week, some clubs in Montclair, Morristown, Parsippany, Dover and Paterson are on Harvey's schedule. On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, she will be at Paramus Park Mall and on Friday night, shoppers at Morris County Mall may expect the big white bunny.

"Harvey," the play, will be at the Meadowbrook through Nov. 3.

Organ Club Slates Second Program

The Metropolitan Organ Club of Northern New Jersey, Inc. will present the second in a series of three special programs in Commemoration of their 5th Anniversary, in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, 95 Washington Street, Paterson, on Saturday, October 26, at 8 p.m.

This Annual Musicale - Jubilee, which will be the main feature of the series, will include renditions by the M.O.C. Chorus, under the direction of Luella Hill, with Ruth Rieckhof, pianist and Frederick A. Trunk, organist. Also featured will be selections by Astrid Sjoblom on the Vibrabarp and Laura Simonsen on the Cello.

The special guest of honor will be Rev. Edward Menaldino* of the Calvary Temple Assembly of God in Philadelphia, Pa., who will M.C. the entire program and also render vocal numbers as well as selections on the Trumpet. You won't want to miss this special program of Jubilee! Frederick A. Trunk, organist of the Church, will be the host. Admission is free, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

CITY FEDERAL SAVINGS

New Jersey's Leading Family Financial Center now brings you...

Statement Savings

with Prestige Card!

Statement Savings is a new way developed by City Federal Savings to help you save time while you are saving money. If simplicity, ease and convenience are important to you, then our new Statement Savings account is made for you.

A Statement Savings account uses no passbook, instead we mail a complete savings account statement to you at the end of each calendar quarter. It itemizes your interest earned and all deposits and withdrawal transactions for each quarter along with your new balance on the last day of the quarter.

Prestige Card is the key to your Statement Savings Account

Prestige Card is a billfold-size plastic card that does everything that a Pass-book does, and more. It is issued to you when you open a Statement Savings Account.

Prestige Card makes your Statement Savings Account more convenient and easier to use. It will speed deposits and help make faster withdrawals because it will identify you at any City Federal office.

Stop by the New Accounts Desk at any City Federal Savings office, or simply telephone or write us a note. Our Savings counselors will be happy to help you.

We have a full range of Statement Savings Accounts available paying up to 5 3/4% and, of course, we continue to offer a wide range of Saving Certificates that pay up to 7 1/2%. (substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal on Certificate savings.)

On 'A Separate Peace'

Ignore the war, it will disappear.
It never existed anyway
Enjoy your life play sports You'll suffer enough next year.

You try to make the war seem like a joke
But it is moving toward you
Your friend is emotionally crippled through war
And through your bravery test.
You fall from not only a tree
But from your fantasy world
Next year is here.

You're maimed.
No more sports
No fighting in a war
That to you didn't exist
Until your separate peace was crushed.

Riddle Me This!

The following brain twisters are from Mr. McFarland's creative writing course. Answers appear below.

1. I'm as sweet as a pound of sugar and can grow as big as a human but I can also die as fast as I grow.
Tony Nicosia, '75

2. I'm like a plunger but much smaller. I'm skinny and silver in color. I always get hit which is not fair but after I get hit I usually keep things together. Sometimes I bend and sometimes I don't.
Billy Townsend '75

3. As silly as putty, I can be hard or soft, sunnyside up or scrambled and can even be tossed.
Anthony Avino '75

4. I am as loud as two cars crashing together. I blink on and off like a traffic light. I rage and knock things down like two people fighting. I frighten many people for I am as powerful as an ogre.
Cindy Esposito '75

5. I can control a happening, I can let the wind blow or stop it. The sun shines whenever I want. I can stop sound. I can make a room happy or quiet.
Kim Lindsay '75.

1. Bubble gum. 2. A nail. 3. An egg. 4. An electrical storm. 5. A door.

RIGHT IN STYLE — Members of the Belleville High band and other marching units got a chance to show off their new uniforms under sunny skies last Saturday.

Rain Doesn't Stop Marching Band

By Kathi Hammell

Rain may have greeted the first football game of the season, but that didn't stop the band from marching on the field.

Despite a heavy deluge, the Belleville High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Wing, marched bravely onto the field to play before the game and sat, in thin plastic raincoats, through the first half of the game while West Essex's band retreated to their bus.

The pre-game show included "Across The Field" along with the traditional "Star-Spangled Banner" and the "Alma Mater". Rain prevented the performance at halftime during which the band packed everything up and went home.

Band practice has been going on since the second week of school with all members working hard to achieve the right effect. Fortunately the weather conditions of the Bloomfield game were good enough to allow us to view the band's performance more easily than at the first game.

Other activities planned for the future include the Columbus Day Parade in Newark on Sunday and the Veterans Day Parade on November 11.

First Pep Assembly Sparks School Spirit

By Judy Halbert

The first pep assembly took place in the gym Friday, Sept. 27.

Cheers were led by cheerleading captain Dawn Marchese, who later introduced Mr. Herman Wische, director of athletics. Head football coach Mr. Thomas Testa then presented the 1974-75 football squad and his coaching staff.

To highlight the program the twirlers, headed by captain Debbie Sorice, color guard led by co-captain Debbie Bradley and Nancy Verian, and the flag twirlers led by captain Jeanine Canavina performed while the Belleville High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Wing, played, "Doublemint Will Do It".

The cheerleaders performed four or five more cheers and it was at this time captain Dawn Marchese introduced the 1974-75 cheerleading squad. Senior members are: Susan DiGiovanni, Ruthie Iacullo, Leslie Norton, Sharon Norton, Melinda Pico, Kim Sheridan and Donna Rotunda. Junior members are: Mariann Gomulinsky, Debbie Marchese, Regina Ritacco, Kim Smith, and Ellen Ventura. The sophomores include Cheryl Manning, Donna Marchese, and Leslie Zarra.

Also present at the pep assembly was the Booster Club, under the supervision of President Joanne Manzo. The pep assembly helped introduce the various squads to the school and promote school spirit in hope of a good turn out at this season's football games.

Local Groups Draw From HS Art Talent

By Fred Lardaro

"The next time you need an artist just look in the yellow pages and call your local art service center." Well...this may not yet be the case, but here at the Belleville High School there is a new course being offered to those students who are specializing in commercial art.

It is known as Art Production and was originally created as a unique art service program set up to stave off the increasing demand for artistic skills in our town. It had become a common occurrence for an art teachers yearly plans to be interrupted because some outside group needed creative aid.

Now in its second year, this class, which is worth one full credit and is taught by a real 'pro', Miss Cook, has plunged into their work with aggressive zeal and have polished off some truly remarkable productions.

At this very moment, they are working on decorations for the Home and School Association Card Party in November and also on an Eks Club Poster Contest which will signify Elk accomplishments or the needs of Elk involvement in dealing against crippling diseases. Their assistance was recently requested by the Belleville Crew team, to design booster decals and many times art production will be working on special showcases and bulletin boards.

In the future, art production may become one of Belleville's most popular courses and their highly successful projects will not go unnoticed.

The Great Passaic, Part I

Seems Some Things Have Never Changed

(The School Page this week presents the first of a series of articles by Michael Perrone based on analysis and testing of Passaic River water done by Belleville High science students.)

"WE ARE DRINKING FOUL SEWAGE WATER," "CONVINCING PROOF AS TO THE FILTHY STATE OF OUR WATER." So read the headlines of the May 29th issue of the Jersey City-based newspaper, the "Sunday Eagle."

"The Eagle," concerned about the serious situation being created by the large amounts of pollutants discarded into the Passaic River by municipalities and industries located along the waterway, began circulating a petition among its subscribers to have the water analyzed by Dr. Albert Leed, a well-known chemical expert, and Chairman of the Committee of Analysis of the New Jersey Board of Health.

Dr. Leed did analyze the water and confirmed that the river was heavily polluted and created a potential health hazard to the people of the towns who receive their water supply from the Passaic River. The water was found to contain large amounts of bacteria which thrived on the tons of raw sewage poured into the river daily. Also found were a variety of toxic chemicals which were traced to dye factories in Paterson, and oil which had seeped out storage tanks in Passaic.

Listed as one of the major sources of pollution was the town of Belleville where an inadequate sewer system was responsible for discharging large amounts of harmful waste into the river.

At one point, the situation seemed so grave, that the idea of constructing a dam in Belleville, where the sewage could be collected and treated was seriously considered, but later ruled out.

That was the "Sunday Eagle." That was Dr. Albert Leed. That was May 29, 1887. That's still the Passaic River.

New Students Review BHS

By Jo Ann Calabro

A new year has begun and the excitement and the hustle and bustle of another school year brings many new students to our school. Several sophomores were interviewed to get their opinion of the school and to acquaint us with what some of the underclassmen are interested in.

Sue Mocarski, was asked her opinion of the school and it's overcrowdedness. Sue said, "I like the high school much better than the junior high because here you're treated as an adult not like a little child." She also thinks that split-sessions would really help but not many of her classes are crowded. Sue is a member of the color guard squad, the mixed chorus, the orchestra, and the madrigals.

Kim Lanno said that she likes the high school better and feels that you are treated more like an adult, whereas at the junior high you are treated like a baby. Kim also thinks the school is overcrowded since she couldn't get any of her classes changed because other classes were too crowded.

Dana Paul, is a sophomore with many hobbies such as sewing, cooking, reading, and collecting stamps and coins. She thinks the high school is okay although the teachers are harder, and give more work than the junior high. When asked about split-sessions, Dana said, she feels they would be good since the classes would be smaller allowing the teachers to help the students more on a one to one basis.

HSA to Meet On Wednesday

The Belleville High School Home and School Association will hold a meeting Wednesday, Oct. 16, 6:45 p.m. at Belleville High.

During the evening, parents will have an opportunity to go through a scaled-down version of their children's schedules, visiting the classrooms and meeting teachers.

The Fifties Return

Bob-Shoo-Bop: Rock It to Me!

By Chris Manning and Billy Townsend

That's just what the popular nostalgia group called "Bob-Shoo-Bop" did to the mixture of adults, B.H.S. students, and teenyboppers on the night of September 26 in the High School auditorium. The show began at 8 p.m., cost $3.00 "per person to view, and was sponsored by the Cooperative Educational Department, coordinated by Mrs. Miriam Cerami, Mr. Nick Grande and Mr. Ralph LaConte.

As a feeling of suspense filled the room, the growing crowd became restless while waiting for the show to begin. Then the lights grew dim and the nationally famous disc-jockey, Murry-The K, stepped out on stage and opened the show by telling a number of jokes. He was to be the M.C. throughout the night.

Suddenly with a burst of radiance, Bob-Shoo-Bop ran out on the stage and took position. Their wardrobe ranged from tight leather jackets to cute little skirts, depending on who they were imitating. This band consists of nine fairly young men. The vocalists are Fred Campbell, Johnny Jackson, Mark Mulrine, "Moon" Morley, and Bob Bradbury. Steve Travato is on the guitar, Geoff Brothers is on the drums, Stephan Munter is on the sax and Rob McCasky is on the bass guitar. All nine men are extremely talented and versatile.

Bob-Shoo-Bop derived its name from the rhythmic background of the song, "I Only Have Eyes For You."

The band got its start at a concert at Rider College, and played several near-by colleges and high schools. They have traveled to New England, Maryland, Delaware, and a number of other states. However, their involvement in show business was only part-time because they all had other jobs. In the summer of 1973, they all quit their jobs and joined the group as a full time job. When asked if they like being in show business, they said, "It's a great way to make a living."

Contrary to popular belief, Bob-Shoo-Bop feel this fifties revival is not fading out. Movies like "American Graffiti" and "The Lords of Flatbush" are prime examples of the thriving nostalgic era.

The band has no recording contract as of now; however, they would accept a bid from a decent company. Since they don't have any records out, their success depends on word of mouth which is better than any other publicity. Bob Bradbury, vocalist of the group, feels that the audience participation type of music they play really helped them make it, along with their costume changes, which distinguishes them from other oldie groups like Sha-Na-Na and many more.

The three dollar admission charge was well worth it, the proceeds going to the Cooperative Educational Department. Every minute of the show was enjoyable and everyone was jumping, dancing, singing, yelling, and having a good time all around. These men possess a great deal of talent and give the audience just what they want which has led to their enormous success.

They have surely added a little something to the lives of those who attended this short little trip back into the fifties. If the students say "yes" and Bob-Shoo-Bop says "yes", Belleville High School will be rockin'-n-rollin' once more.

A Few Impressions Of a Rock Concert

By Ken McKay

A smash hit. That's what it was on the evening of Thursday Sept. 26 when the Bob-Shoo-Bop appeared at Belleville High School.

Over eight hundred people showed up to watch the sensational group perform the greatest hits of the Fifties.

Backstage before the performance the Bob Shoo Bop told me "We judge a town by the way it rocks and rolls."

The curtains flew apart, the Bob Shoo Bop leaped out on stage and the crowd roared in excitement, screams, and whistles, and the thunder of clapping came from all directions of the auditorium.

Three people jumped from their seats and started dancing, and thirty seconds later there wasn't a person sitting down. Everyone was jumping up and down, dancing in the aisles.

The Belleville High School vibrated with the sounds of the Fifties. It was the first time Belleville had so much excitement in a long time.

CHIARELLO FOUNDATION

Miss Gail Montesano, daughter of Constant and Mary and a 1969 BHS graduate who attended Masters Beauty School in Passaic and then opened her own shop in Nutley — The Hair Company — held a 30-hour marathon at her beauty parlor and the Chiarello Foundation of Bloomfield were the recipients of all funds.

The Hair Company at 289 Franklin Avenue is for both men and women and, indeed, when I stopped by during the marathon held last Thursday and Friday, both men and women were getting beautified. The reason for this unusual undertaking is that Gail had a cousin, Eugene Montesano who died after an unsuccessful kidney transplant. So, the idea was a memorial to Eugene and a way to help the Chiarello Foundation, assist others with kidney problems.

The Chiarello Foundation started in 1968 to help two youngsters, Charles and Nicholas Chiarello, who had kidney ailments. Interest quickly spread and, though the boys died, the Foundation continues today to help others. There are about 250 volunteers in the Foundation. George Connor is the president, and other trustees I met were Nick Reciniello, Harriet Puglio (also a technician at the Foundation), Felicia Leo (secretary) and Jim Blanda (treasurer). The Chiarello Foundation has given 550 treatments to people with kidney disease so far this year. For information on how you can help, phone 748-2578.

TO GET BACK to Gail, she said the 29th hour was the toughest, but she and all her helpers really enjoyed themselves. The mayors of Bloomfield and Nutley dropped by as did many people — some just to leave a donation towards the fund. There was a great deal of planning involved in this 30 hour marathon. Many Nutley stores around the area contributed also, such as Colony Three Liquors, Nutley Wine Shop, McDonald's of Belleville and McDonald of Bloomfield, Nature's Way Nutrition Store, Nutley Shoprite and Teamsters Local 97 of Newark. Barbara Bernstine, Gail's cousin, entertained the customers with her guitar and song. Gail has two brothers Douglas who attends BHS and William who works for NCR and a married sister, Janice Feason. All helped during the marathon. The workers who were the entire 30 hours were: Jean Koch, Jo Ann Natusch, Lee Lucia (manager), Joanne Nardone, Linda Weedem, Bette Lynne Karlson and Consuela Genovesi. Others who helped included Gail's mom and dad, Lorraine Saelerno, Joanne Granelli and Louis Gerrard.

ACTUALLY the 30-hour marathon went into 31 hours and it was a happy, though tiring event. Another lady I met at the marathon who, with her husband, the mayor of Passaic, are steady customers, was Mrs. Susan Goldman. The proceeds will be given to the Chiarello Foundation on October 17. Nice work, Gail Montesano of Belleville.

After 21-0 Loss to Bloomfield

The Bellboys Want Nutley Blood When They Meet This Saturday

By Paul Stern

The Belleville varsity football team is now bracing for a real knock-down drag-out game this Saturday when it meets undefeated arch rival Nutley, 1:30 p.m. in Municipal Stadium.

Head coach Tom Testa and his winless warriors are seeing red after a 21-0 stinging by the Bloomfield Bengals last Saturday, and two full platoons of Bellboys will dive into the fray this time.

Following a partial defensive collapse in the second half of the Bloomfield contest, coach Testa is now realigning his forces for the third go-round of the year. In the second half of the Bengal encounter, the Bellboys "lost their crispness," commented the coach, and the contrast between the skillfully executed first half left him "just as confused as anybody else," he said. The Bengals, meanwhile, capitalized fully on the Belleville weakness, putting their speedy halfbacks Joe Testa and Wayne Wallace into full play. Testa scored three touchdowns and a two-point conversion against the Bellboys in the last two quarters.

In an effort to bolster the home squad's defense, coach Testa is rearranging his line-up. Wingback Tony Nicosia and split end Joe Panlone got transfers this week to one-way assignments on defense, and Alan Cervasio (5-10, 175) will be added to the offensive backfield.

Panlone, after a good defensive performance against the Bengals, will be reserved for that function against Coach Mario Cocchiola's Maroon, and Jim Russell (6-1, 170) and Jerry Hykey (5-11, 160) will split split end duties.

"No doubt," said Testa, "Nutley will be favored because they're winning, but that doesn't faze us at all." Testa "had a good talk" with his warriors Monday, and appointed mighty tailback Steve Senatore official team captain for the year. After his 105-yard performance last week, said Testa, "he was certainly worthy of it." Vinnie DeNotaris also "added considerably to the running game," Testa said, "while continuing his fine blocking."

Biggest sore spot against the Bengals—at least in the second half—was tackling, apparently. While the explanation for that is elusive, the solution, thinks the head coach, will be in a sound chewing out and the extended two-platooning. Like the Bengals, Nutley will "keep the pressure on" throughout the game, and the Bellboys will have to respond accordingly.

"There will be no surprises," predicted the Belleville general, "just sound football. We hope to put a game up before them."

Tactically, the Bellboys can expect the triple-threat Raider backfield to run right at them.

Nutley halfback Lou Saporito (5-10, 185) has done big damage to his foes in the last two times out, and his lighter but faster counterpart, Mark Cofone (5-10, 175), is dangerous, quick and smart. Though Cofone did much of the scoring for Nutley last week, it was Saporito's 116 yards in 15 carries that moved the Maroon within range.

New to the Nutley running game is fullback Lou Alessio (5-11, 190) a powerful but inexperienced runner. An end last year, Alessio is more dangerous on defense where he plays linebacker.

The Maroon passing game, conducted by quarterback Ricky Greco (5-9, 165), has so far only been used to keep the defense honest. "We haven't had to use it yet," said Cocchiola. "We haven't been behind." Greco looks for Cofone, veteran end Vito Cucci (6, 185) and other end Bobby Arnold (5-10, 175) when he fades to throw.

A See-Saw Game Until Second Half

It was like two different ball games last Saturday when the Belleville varsity met the Bloomfield Bengals. In the first half, neither team could show itself truly superior, and for the most part held each other at bay. In the second half, however, the Bengal offense seemed to spring to life, flashing by the Bellboys, 21-0.

First Quarter

Belleville quarterback Steve Gerard's kickoff sailed out of bounds at the Bloomfield 25, and according to schoolboy regulations, the Bengals took possession on their own 40. They didn't maintain it long, though. After Bengal halfback Wayne Wallace zipped off five quick yards, the Bloomfield unit could go no further. Punting specialist Terry Gorny kicked it away, and the Bellboys took over at their own 15.

As might have been expected, first Belleville carry of the day was by tailback Steve Senatore, who was stopped for only three yards. The Bellboys were eventually forced to punt, but took advantage of a lucky break when Wallace fumbled on the run-back and Belleville's Tony Biafore was there to recover at the Bloomfield 42.

Senatore was again put to work, along with Tony Nicosia, and in five plays the Bellboys were on the Bloomfield 22. The Bengals pushed back hard, however, when Gerard went to throw, downing him 13 yards behind his own line. Bellboy Vinnie DeNotaris came on strong with a 14-yard getaway to make up for it, but by that time it was fourth down and eight. Gerard threw unsuccessfully, and it was the Bengals' turn.

Bloomfield had its own problems in the penalty department, however, and despite a five yard completion from quarterback Chris Gemgnani to halfback Joe Testa, the Bengals could not make up a 15-yard setback. Belleville returned to the offensive, driving to midfield on 17 yards by Senatore and eight by DeNotaris.

Second Quarter

The see-sawing continued full tilt in the second quarter — only more furiously. Belleville picked up another first down and Senatore grabbed a pass for nine yards before Bloomfield recovered a Bellboy fumble on the Bengal 41.

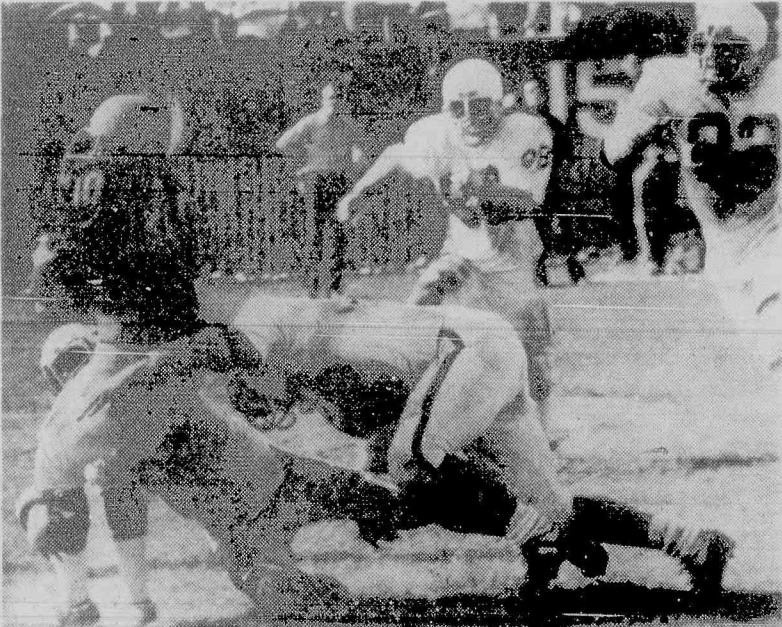

Again the Bengals were hit for another 15-yard penalty — this one for holding — and Gemgnani began a serious passing effort to pull his team from the hole. After three tries and a near interception by Bellboy Domenick Cicalese, Gemgnani connected with Testa, but for only one yard. Bloomfield punted again.

The Belleville squad immediately picked up another first down, but when Gerard, too, took to the ROUGHING THE REF A game official accidentally got into the action late in the third period when Bengal Ron Rowe (76) intercepted a Bellboy pass. Steve Senatore tackled Rowe at the Bloomfield 47, but had to move the official to do so.

HIT HARD after claiming a Belleville first down in the third period is fullback Vinnie DeNotaris (40). He carried 38 yards against the Bengals last Saturday.

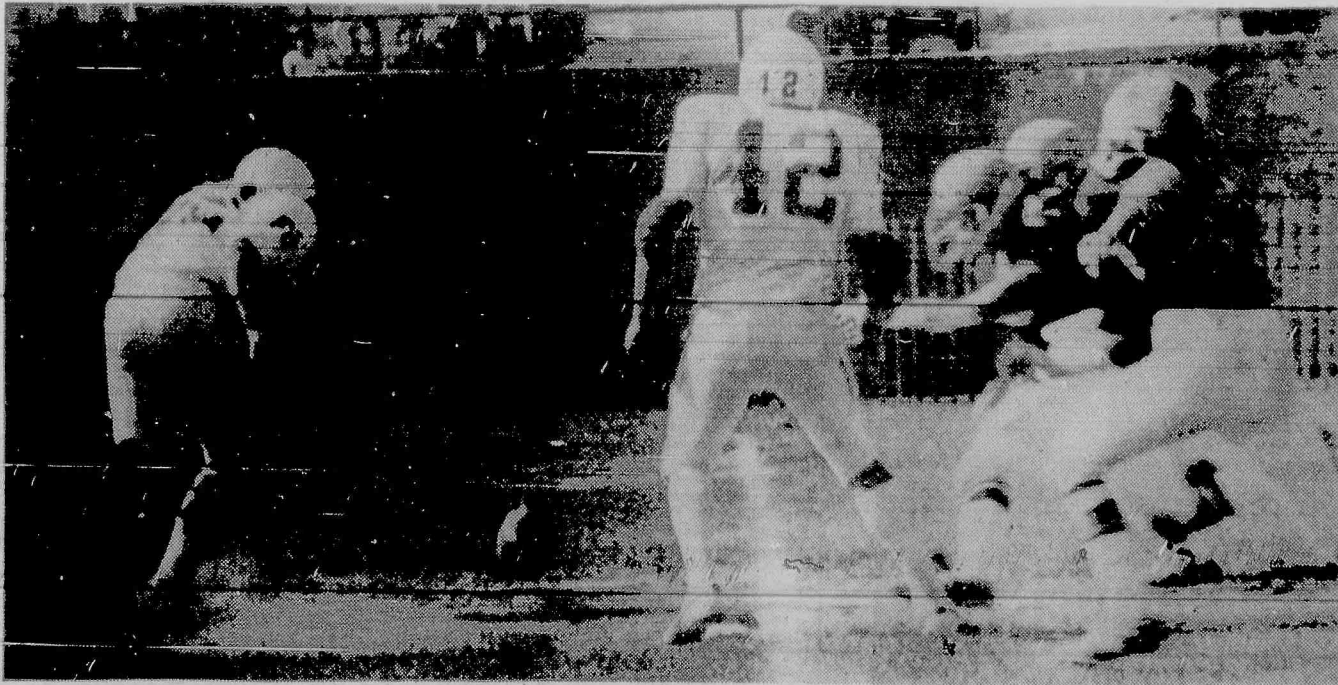

A GRIM LOOK for a grim second half is flashed by head coach Tom Testa. He'll two-platoon against Nutley.

STEVE SENATORE glances into the crowd while waiting for the offensive to resume. He was named team captain last Monday.

NO TOUCHDOWN for Bengal second string quarterback Charlie Woods (13) in this one. Belleville's Joe Panlone makes the tackle in the end zone, but a penalty nulled the play.

MUFFED KICK A bad snap to Bloomfield fullback Rich Goldsmith (42) caused the pigskin to get away before Bengal kicking specialist Terry Gorny (left) had a chance to put his toe into play. The charging Bellboys at right snuffed any running possibilities, leaving the score 6-0 Bloomfield at that point.

BELLEVILLE QUARTERBACK Steve Gerard (15) did his share of running against the Bengals, as he is seen doing here pursued by Domenic Catalupo (31). Gerard completed four of eight throws.

Now Two Full Platoons

Testa Shuffles His Lineup

TAKING AIM late in the Bloomfield game is Bellboy understudy quarterback Richard Loma. He is pressured by Bengal Derek James (73). The pass was incomplete

As pass defenders, Nutley has been fairly potent. Cornerback Jim Ginter (5-9, 170) has on Irvington interception to his credit, and works well with partners Chuck Gregoire (5-10, 170) and Brian Imperiale (6, 170). Saporito also hangs around back there in the secondary.

The Maroon Raider line, though young, has been more than adequate so far. At the tackle posts are Nutley's two biggest warriors, Vinne Guadenzi (6-1, 220) and Jim Parmigiano (6-1, 220), both two-way performers. At center is Len Larcara (5-8, 180), flanked by guards Ralph Cio (5-8, 175) and Bob Weidmann (5-9, 175). So far, the offensive front has cleared many acres for the Nutley backfield.

The remaining Nutley one-way performers fill in the defensive line and one linebacker post. At middle guard is Rico Malitano (5-9, 185) and Bob Sibilia (5-11, 185) is the linebacker. Sibilia, a standout jayvee last year along with Malitano, is very strong.

The Maroon will obviously be watching for Senatore ("We understand he's a good ball player," says Cocchiola), but will also have to look out for DeNotafis who got away from the Bengals several times for long gains.

Whether the Maroon Raiders have a psychological advantage is an open question. While the Nutley men have the benefit of two wins, neither of those wins were over winning teams. The last Maroon victory, 41-0 over Passaic, was hardly a contest at all. "We treat everyone as if they're the best," responds coach Cocchiola.

The Bellboys, meanwhile, have faced two tough foes—

Beck's Column

Beck's Column.
During the weeks before Christmas, many more phonographs and tape recorders have been bought than at any comparable time during the year.

We would like to give some pointers for the best use and preservation of the new instruments.

There is not much to do about tape recorders. In time the recording - play heads have to be cleaned. The tape which slides past them, leaves a deposit of oxide. If this happens, the sound becomes distorted. Most manufacturers recommend that the heads be cleaned with alcohol. Please take notice what it says in the descriptive folder which comes with every unit. It could very well be that some factories prescribe a different cleaning fluid. And you better use it and nothing else. You can see a slight red color on the heads when it is time to clean them. Otherwise you can not do anything. Don't get the idea to oil the motors. If you do, you ask for trouble. If you have problems other than the above, it is a job for an experienced repairman.

Almost all phonographs today are automatic. It is by far the best practice to load the record(s) on the player and set them off to play automatically. Don't set the tone arm on the record by hand, more likely than not you will damage the record, possibly also the tone arm or the stylus. The greatest enemy of records is dust. If there is a small brush in the front of the tone arm, clean it frequently. It is a good practice to clean the stylus itself by a slight stroke with a soft brush. With the greatest precaution, it is inevitable that in time impurities accumulate on the brush and the stylus. You will be surprised how much and how often this happens. Do not leave any records on the player when you are through, put them back in their jackets, that's where they belong. Depending on the condition of the records, a stylus is good from a few hundred times playing to a thousand. Occasionally it should be checked for wear. Needless to say that a worn stylus will damage the records. Don't oil the motor or mechanism, that is a job for an experienced repairman. If you observe these few precautions, you will have a long time of enjoyment from your instruments.

Buy Tickets In Advance

Belleville High School athletic director Herman Wische this week urged all Belleville football fans to buy their tickets for the Nutley game in advance if possible.

Tickets will be on sale at Belleville High from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. tomorrow at the usual prices. Extra advance tickets sales, said Wische, will hopefully diminish the long lines at the Municipal Stadium gates when they open on Saturday.

THE BELLEVILLE SQUASH IS applied here by Roger Luzzi (31) and George D'Allesandro (53) just as Bengal QB Chris Gemgnani lets one go.

BHS Harriers Now Sporting A 3-2 Record

The Belleville High cross country team now stands with three wins and two losses after one of each in the past week's action.

Tuesday the Bellboy legmen had their wings clipped by Montclair, 21-35, after edging Glen Ridge, 27-28, last Friday in what coach Rich Ruffalo termed "the most exciting race of the year."

This coming Tuesday, at home in Belleville Park, the Blue-Gold harriers host undefeated Nutley, and though hoping for an upset, don't see it as likely.

Tuesday, against the Mounties, the Bellboys may have lost their chance for a win early in the race, Montclair's first four runners got out in front at the onset, and the top Bellboy runners simply couldn't catch up. "If we had stayed with them," speculated coach Ruffalo, "we'd have been all right. We could have split up their first four."

As it turned out, however, the Mounties took the first four positions, all of them finishing together at 16:47 after 3.2 miles.

The Bellboys had the corner on the next six spots, however, led by Jim Beck who flashed in at 17:01.

Right behind Beck was Nelson Seda at 17:07, then 43 seconds later the rest of the Bellboy bunch finished up. Walt Siubis clocked in at 17:50, followed by Mike Fortino, 18:22; Doug Wamsley, 18:25; and Brian Wood at 18:30.

The outcome of the Glen Ridge race, said Ruffalo, boiled down to the ability of Glen Ridge's Keith Gesell to "out lead us" at the finish line. The Glen Ridge harrier's head crossed the finish line first, said the Belleville coach, which is the part of the body by which the judges judge. Beck and Seda were barreling in at the same 16:59 time as Gesell, and "for all I know, our feet may have been ahead," said the Bellboy coach — no pun intended.

At any rate, after Beck and Seda took two-three honors, Glen Ridge put two more of their squad over the line. Then Bellboys Siubis (at 18:03) and Wamsley (18:11) charged over for sixth and seventh positions respectively.

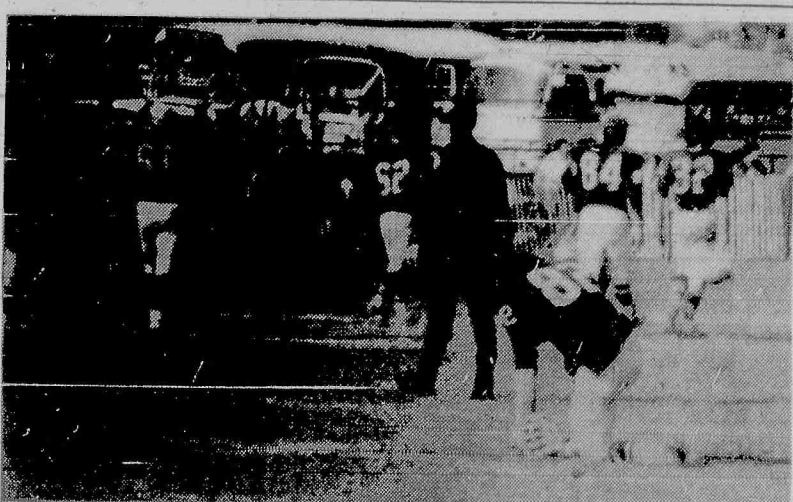

Both teams traded finishing positions from that point on, and the Belleville win became the result of the Beck-Seda old "one-two," as the Bellboy coach would call it.

Belleville's next race with Nutley may be one of the toughest so far, and Belleville's success or failure may again rest on the performance of its two best men.

Coach Ruffalo concedes that none of the Bellboys will be able to catch number one Nutley man Howie Hirsch, but he is not so convinced that the Maroon Raider follow-up cannot be beaten. "I'd like to see an upset," he said.

BENGAL KICKER, Fiore Esposito (40) saw a little backfield action late in last Saturday's game, but didn't get too far before being sacked by Bellboy Michael Ranucci (33).

SHOCKED, and perhaps disbelieving, the Bellboys trudge for their buses after a 21-0 defeat by Bloomfield. This Saturday the Belleville squad meets Nutley at home.

Soccer Team Wins Forfeit From Irvington

Even though the Belleville High School soccer team has played only one game so far this year, the season record now stands at 1-1 following last Friday's forfeit by the Irvington junior varsity.

Coach Tony Cahill and his Bellboys arrived in Irvington set to compete, he reports, but a communications mix-up caused the Camper team to miss the would-be action. It wasn't a total loss, however, added Cahill, because Irvington's full-sized field was a great place to hang around and practice.

Yesterday, after the Times-News went to press, the Bellboys were slated to encounter the Montclair jayvees, away, and coach Cahill expected them to be rough competitors.

"The Montclair varsity beat Columbia 3-0 last Friday," said the Belleville coach, "so I would assume the jayvees will be pretty good. Montclair is building a program."

Last Monday the Bellboy unit put in one of its best and most encouraging practice sessions so far this year, said the coach, and Tuesday went through just a few light drills.

Next Tuesday the Belleville booters are scheduled to again meet Irvington for the third test of the year, and this time, said the coach, he's pretty sure the competition will show up.

Bloomfield Too Fast to Handle

air. Bengal giant T.K. Tripucka was there to bat the aerial down. Gerard, perhaps shaken up in the exchange, was replaced by his understudy Richard Loma, who threw unsuccessfully. Gerard returned to punt.

This time Bloomfield made greater gains than before as Testa and Wallace both ground out the yards for two first downs. Another 15-yard infraction spelled the end of the drive, however, and Belleville returned to the offensive at midfield.

With little time remaining in the half, Gerard limbered up his arm and on his second consecutive heave, connected with Senatore for 10 yards. The Bellboys remained in Bengal territory only briefly, however, before a penalty rocked them backwards 15. Senatore exercised one option, passing with no result; ran six yards on third down; and the Bellboys punted on the last play.

Third Quarter

No one suspected at the kickoff of the second half that Bloomfield would soon monopolize the rest of the game while the Bellboy defense deteriorated along with Belleville's chances of winning.

Joe Pantone gathered in the kickoff at his own 10-yard line, and scampered 22 yards upfield. Slapped with an off-sides penalty on their first play from scrimmage, the Blue-Gold had 15 yards to make up and, ultimately, not enough steam to pull it off. Senatore was stopped short twice, and a completed-pass from Gerard to Nicosia gained nothing. Gerard punted out of bounds at the Bloomfield 47, and the Bengals got their first touchdown four plays later.

The bulk of the yardage in Bloomfield's 53-yard trek came in two big chunks — both produced by Testa. The speedy halfback sprinted 23 yards in the first play of the series, then 16 around Belleville's left for the touchdown. Wallace also took a 12-yard gouge in Belleville territory. Terry Gorny's kick for the extra point failed, and with 7:52 remaining in the period, Bloomfield was leading 6-0.

Belleville began its next attack effort from its own 31-yard line, picking up a first down to the 41 after a six-yard dash by Gerard. Two plays later, however, a hand-off between Gerard and wingback Joe Pizzi got loose in the transition, and Bengal end John Gilbert smothered it for Bloomfield on the Bellboy 37.

The Bengals, between their two halfbacks, proceeded to rip off 34 yards in three plays, a 22-yard sprint by Wallace putting the Bengals three yards from pay dirt once again. Testa dove over for the second score, then repeated his performance for a two-point conversion, bringing low the Bellboy's chances of a comeback. With 4:07 remaining in the third quarter, it was Bloomfield 14, Belleville nothing.

DeNotaris returned Fiore Esposito's kickoff 25 yards this time, and he and Senatore carried the Bellboys 15 more yards downfield in the next series of three runs. Bengal veteran linebacker Ron Rowe put the skids on the Blue-Gold advance, however, when he snagged a pass intended for Panlone. The ball was turned back over to Bloomfield on the Bengal 47, and in the remaining minutes of the quarter, Bloomfield moved ahead for another first down.

Fourth Quarter

Though stopping the Bengals several times for only short gains, the Bellboys were still stung twice by Testa and Wallace who got away for two long gainers and two more first downs. Wallace charged from the Belleville 19-yard line, moving the ball to the seven-yard stripe, and Testa squeaked out the rest around right end with 9:47 left showing on the clock. Gorny's kick was good. With the score now 21-0, all coach Testa and his men could hope for was to prevent further damage.

After a retake on Esposito's kickoff, the Bellboys again took possession, and this time made considerable forward progress. Senatore broke free for 30 yards in two carries, bringing the Blue-Gold unit to its own 45.

The Bellboy luck did not hold, however. In the next series, a fancy Gerard to Nicosia, Nicosia to Mark Cosenzo double pass play ended up incomplete, and on the next attempt Gerard was sacked for a loss. Though that loss was nullified by an unnecessary roughness call on the Bengals, coach Testa's team was forced to punt.

G.I.L. League Is Expanding

In only their second season, the five remaining coaches of the Grammar Independent Basketball League have voted to expand their league to eight teams.

The League coaches met with League president Bob Mallack and Treasurer Bob Conway to discuss expansion last Tuesday night. Among the teams already in the league are St. Peter's of Belleville, last year's Champions, St. Rose of Lima from Newark, St. Valentine's of Bloomfield, St. Thomas of the Lake of Verona. The League had ten teams recommended by the coaches for the three openings this year. The teams up for consideration are Holy Name of Jesus in East Orange, St. Benedict's of Newark, St. Cassian's of Montclair, St. Joe's from Maplewood, St. Anthony's of Belleville, St. Venatius in Orange, Our Lady of Mount Carmel (Montclair), Immaculate Conception in Montclair, St. Joe's from West Orange and Blessed Sacrament of East Orange.

The League also voted to do away with the shooting of backcourt fouls unless the team is in the penalty situation. They also voted to do away with the automatic time-out with one minute left to go in the first and third quarters. They will keep the one-minute time out in the second and fourth quarters however. Each team will be allowed five time-outs for a game.

The coaches decided that they will meet again on October 29 with the new coaches, when they will discuss the 1974-75 Schedule.

Broncos Are Still Undefeated, But Tough Montclair Is Next

The undefeated Belleville Broncos won their fourth game as they defeated the East Orange Colts by the score of 7 to 2 in a game played Sunday at Belleville Stadium.

The Broncos were led by thier fine defensive platoon who continually shut the door on the colts, holding them to a total of 59 yards. Members of this unit are D.E. — Angelo Santanelli and Felix Rodriguez; D.T. — Dante DeNotaris; Mark Montemarano, John Pravata, Art Trimarico and Joe Franceschini; M.G. — Joe Garafolo and Carl Lordi; L.B. — Mike DeMayo, Mark Donatiello, Sam Cerasiello, Mike Greene and Tom Cecere; C.B. — Anthony Dondarski and Tom Bianchi.

safety — Guy Vicaro. So far, these boys have surrendered just two touchdowns in four games.

First Quarter:

The colts received and ran the kickoff back 70 yards for an apparent touchdown. However, a clipping penalty brought the ball back to East Orange's 40 yard line. Three plays brought the ball to their own 48 where on fourth down they punted to the Broncos 12 yard line. On first down Q.B. Jerry Fazzini went back to pass, was forced out of the pocket and eventually tackled in the end zone for a safety. Colts 2 — Broncos 0.

Second Quarter:

In this quarter the Broncos scored on a fine run by Mike DeMayo of 26 yards. However, Belleville was guilty of being off sides. Late in the quarter the Broncos drove down to the East Orange 11 yard line where the time ran out. Score at halftime: East Orange 2 — Belleville 0.

Third Quarter:

Neither team threatened in this quarter as both defenses dominated the others offense. At the end of the quarter the score stood at 2 to 0.

Fourth Quarter:

Again it was a defensive struggle until the Broncos blocked a punt and took over on East Orange's 35 yard line.

Two plays brought the ball down to the 30 yard line where on third down Sam Cerasiello swept left to score behind some fine blocking by Anthony Dondarsky. Jerry Fazzini passed to John Klein for the extra point. The clock showed just 1:35 to play. East Orange received the kickoff and returned it to their 33 yard line. They tried four plays but ended up losing five yards back to the 28 yard line. Belleville ran one play before the clock ran out. Final score Belleville 7 — East Orange 2.

Next Sunday the Broncos travel to Montclair for a 1:00 p.m. game at Woodman Field.

Timothy F. Sullivan, a member of the physical education faculty at Montclair State College, has been appointed executive director of the New Jersey State Special Olympics for 1975.

The first and largest international sports program for the mentally retarded, Special Olympics was founded in 1968 by Eunice Kennedy Shriver, executive vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation. Since then, a network of year round sports training programs has been developed involving almost 400,000 young athletes and 150,000 volunteers.

In New Jersey, where the Special Olympics is funded by the Department of Community Affairs, some 20,000 took part in 1974. Mr. Sullivan is looking forward to developing the program on a grass roots level with the establishment of an organization to enhance physical education and recreation programs for the handicapped in each county.

The new director sees the program as giving the retarded a "feeling of belonging" by offering membership in a national athletic club and a "sense of pride" by giving them a chance to compete and win awards on their own levels. He needs volunteers to help carry out this work and invites anyone who may be interested to call him at (201) 893-5243.

Mr. Sullivan has been active in the program for the past three years, serving as a county director for one year and regional director for two. He recently took part in the Special Olympics National Conference in Park City, Utah.

Demo Candidates Cite Education

The Democratic commitment to quality education at the County level was cited by Essex County Democratic slate of candidates today.

The County Democratic slate includes Mrs. Larrie Stalks for Register and Freeholder candidates Joseph L. Iannuzzi, Mrs. Reita Greenstone and Harry J. Callaghan. Both Iannuzzi and Callaghan are incumbent freeholders.

In speaking for the Democratic slate, Freeholder Callaghan said that the current year's budget includes a record $9.1 million for educational purposes including the upkeep and expansion of the Essex County College system, the County Vocational School system and elementary and secondary programs at the various county institutions including the Youth House and the Children's Emergency shelter.

"County participation in educational programs has been mandated by the state and the citizens of Essex County and full responsibility to the mandate through the construction of a major county college campus and the maintenance of excellent programs in the vocational fields.

"Our County College and vocational school programs are recognized as the best in our state and probably in the nation, as is our progress in making sure education is not neglected for those who are consigned to our institutions.

"We continue to seek additional federal and state grants to ease the cost of these vital programs on local taxpayers, but our commitment to our educational responsibility remains firm," Callaghan said in speaking for the entire Democratic slate.

Byrne Proclaims Clean-Up Weeks

Governor Brendan Byrne today proclaimed Oct. 7-21 as Clean-Up Weeks in New Jersey.

The Governor's proclamation is part of a "Clean-up: Fix-up, Paint-up" Campaign being sponsored by the Department of Community Affairs and the New Jersey Association of Realtors and the Make America Better and Urban Task Force committees of the latter group.

In the proclamation, Governor Byrne called upon all citizens, civic groups and governing bodies in the State's 567 municipalities to participate in the clean-up campaign.

GOP Slate Backs Home Rule

Pledges "to establish bona fide working relationships between county and municipal governments and to respect the home-rule rights of Essex County's 22 municipalities" were announced today by the Republican candidates running for the Essex Board of Freeholders and Register of Deeds and Mortgages.

Gerardo L. Del Tufo of Newark, Rev. James A. Pindar of South Orange and a Seton Hall University faculty member and North Caldwell business executive Paul W. Nordt, freeholder candidates and Deputy Register William L. Stubbs of Newark seeking the Register post, in a joint statement said they intend "to establish a genuine dialogue and closer liaison with all Essex communities."

Del Tufo, the lone Republican on the current nine-member Freeholder board, has been a frequent critic of the Democratic majority "for failing to take the suburbs seriously" and has repeatedly urged special meetings "to iron out dissatisfactions."

"Things are in a sorry state," the Republicans asserted, "when discussions about secession from the county because of the insensitivity shown by the Democrats to local objections raised against the unwelcome intrusions of the Essex County Improvement Authority.

"We support the concept of home-rule and will oppose any move to shove a county-operated airport or solid-waste disposal plant down the throats of Fairfield and neighboring communities. They should have first crack at developing their own areas and their ratables should not be removed from the tax rolls against their wills.

"It's the same old story," the GOP candidates charged. "Democratic politicians continue to take it for granted they can get away with anything they want in the suburbs. We intend to support hardworking suburban taxpayers to protect their legitimate prerogatives and encourage them to become even more vocal and highly visible to safeguard their rights.

"Suburbanites have every right to be indignant about the callousness shown by the Democrats during the recent Fairfield furor. One major daily newspaper even cited an East Orange politician for asking who needs their votes anyhow — we have more votes in any one of our apartment houses.

"Such contempt for our smaller municipalities should be rejected at the polls on Election Day, for next they could just as well write-off Glen Ridge, Millburn, South Orange, Nutley, Livingston, Maplewood, Montclair or any of the other West Essex communities," the Republicans concluded.

Essex Girl Scouts Meet At Macy Training Center

The Edith Macy National Training Center in Briarcliff Manor, New York was the scene of an ambitious workshop conference held for all of Essex County.

Staff as well as a volunteer contingent of over 100 Leaders attended one of six workshop sessions.

While the format for each group remained consistent, that is one or two experts conducted a class of anywhere from 10 to 30 participants, the classes covered a broad spectrum of topics.

"Every Troop Has One," conducted by Mrs. Charlotte Kohn, Executive Director of the Orange Youth Service Bureau, dealt with the areas of problems, with such personalities as the 'giggles', the 'know-it-all', the 'pest' and the 'disrupter'.

Paul Camitta, Assistant Superintendent of Recreation of the Essex County Park Commission, conducted a seminar on 'How to Find and Use Available Resources'. Camitta shared his segment with Commissioner Theodore MacLachlan, Director of Public Safety of Montclair.

"Tomorrow's Fun Starts Today," directed by Mrs. Ann Hartmann, Program Director of the Summit Y.M.C.A., dealt with the ways and means of initiating interest and direction in the long planning of trips to distant places, projects of profound interest etc.

One of the most stimulating areas of discussions was titled 'Don't Be An Ostrich', conducted by Reverend Dorothy Specht, Assistant Minister of the Presbyterian Church in Livingston, and dealt with facing the facts and problems of teen-age girls as they attempt to establish values and systems to deal with alcoholism, drugs and sex.

The seminar was concluded with singing on the steps of 'Great Hall' and closing ceremonies by Mrs. J.W. Riehm, National Volunteer of Bronxville, New York and Sandy Cowan of Taconic Council.

Parish Group Plans Winter Trip to Miami

Under the direction of Father Eugene Marcone, a group of St. Mary's parish friends are planning a two-week winter trip to Miami Beach, Florida. In conjunction with the Nutley Travel Agency, the trip will extend from November 30 to December 14.

Father Marcone plans to have the group stay at the well-known Versailles Hotel. It has an atmosphere of old world charm and is a modern paradise of vacation pleasure.

Although their first meeting was held, reservations are still being taken for the vacation of sunshine, ocean and pool swimming along with "night-on-the-Town" evenings are also being planned for the trip.

For further information or details, anyone interested can contact either Father Marcone (235-1100) or the Nutley Travel Service (235-1234).

Medical Aides Schedule Tea At Hospital

The American Association of Medical Assistants, Essex Chapter, will have their annual membership tea October 13, at Clara Maass Hospital at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in learning about the organization or who wishes to join, may do so at this time.

For more information, please contact Mrs. Mary Bankston at 672-1637, membership chairman.

Zinna Named

The Zoning Board approved the necessary variance last year.

Schmitt, said Zinna, instituted his legal action prior to being appointed to the Zoning Board. The new Board attorney says he foresees no conflicts regarding his involvement in the case, since all legal papers have been filed in Appellate Court, awaiting only oral arguments and a decision. The Zoning Board is no longer directly involved in the matter anyway, said Zinna, but if any conflict arose, he said he would "ship the case out."

Though the position as new Board attorney is Zinna's first paid municipal post, he is also chairman of the Nutley Juvenile Conference Committee, appointed by the County Juvenile Domestic Relations Court.

Though Zinna, his wife Maria and their five-month-old son Michael are now living in Bloomfield, "my heart's in Belleville," said the new appointee. Born and raised here, Zinna remains active locally and is a coach of the Belleville Broncos football team.

NEW ATTORNEY for the Belleville Zoning Board is Frank J. Zinna, a former resident here, who took over work from John Montefusco on October 1.

Town Committees Planning Final Stages of Campaign

The candidate has been in Belleville recently, as Chairman Senatore introduced him to football fans at a pep rally for the Town Recreation Department Broncos football team. Mrs. Senatore says Minish and Governor Brendan Byrne will be at a Democratic breakfast Sunday, Nov. 3 to cap the campaign.

Neither local committee has even opened a campaign headquarters on Washington Avenue this year — a departure from tradition. Both Ferrara and Mrs. Senatore pleaded financial hardship, saying landlords are asking as much as $300 per month for a storefront office. At those prices, the visibility of the office is apparently not worth it. Campaigning by the committee members is much less formal than on the county or Congressional levels. Many of the projects are backyard affairs or cocktail parties, and the larger efforts are not scheduled to come until later in the campaign. Mrs. Senatore says the Belleville Democrats will slate three rallies for different sections of town.

The Republicans will probably stage rallies themselves, although plans are still being formulated. Ferrara said the local committee concentrated on registering voters this year (he estimates Republicans are out-registered here by about three to one by Democrats) and says the new mail registration enabled them to send out 200 forms to prospective voters.

Both chairmen agree the campaign is far from peaking, and the real activity is yet to come.

'Right to Know' Day for Women

Women with questions about their rights and their roles in today's world will find some answers on November 9, when the Montclair-North Essex YWCA presents "Rights to Know Day."

Six workshops on women and religion, genetic counseling, sexuality, second careers, legal rights and consciousness raising will be lead by women with career or life experience in each field.

Rent Levellers Press Board

rent panel last May asked the Commission to bring those buildings under the code, Del Tufo said when the panel first studied the rent situation in Belleville, they had advised the Commission to limit the restrictions to houses of four units and over. "The Commissioners turned around and included three-family houses, and we feel this is discriminatory to owners of three-family houses," said Del Tufo. "You could have a two-family house next to an identical house where an apartment has been made in the attic. One house will be controlled, while another is not."

Last year, when the panel was drafting a rent law, they discovered that the most seriously affected tenants were senior citizens supported by fixed incomes who were unable to meet rising rents, even those that could be considered fair to the landlord.

A proposal was sent to Town Commissioners asking them to study the possibility of gaining federal rent subsidies for the seniors. It was reported this would entail the establishment of a housing authority here and the idea was never pursued by the Town Fathers.

The rent levellers Tuesday night proposed the Town consider hiring a professional firm to lobby for funds in Washington. Del Tufo said, "There's a lot of red tape involved in this process of getting federal money and we need someone qualified to do it, someone who's up to date and can handle these matters. I don't think we have anyone in Belleville who can do that right now."

"All over American small towns are getting federal money," he added. "The money is there, and it's just a matter of finding out how it can be obtained."

The senior citizen problem is still the largest one faced by the rent levellers, he said, and the panel in many cases has little control over many cases, especially when a landlord is asking a fair increase in rent. Del Tufo estimated as many as 30 to 40 rent complaints come in each week from senior citizens.

He added that the panel cannot initiate investigations of violations of the code by landlords, and relies on tenant complaints to enforce the law.

Active Hearing Postponed; Scott Dropped by Senatore

attempted to go ahead with his original plan for an oil reclamation operation, but was stymied by Mrs. Senatore when she ordered Mustacchio to hold up permits and refused to allow Active to make a sewer connection necessary to the firm's operation.

Mrs. Senatore has never denied halting the issuance of permits, but maintains she is preventing the entrance of Active Oil into Belleville because of the nature of their business. Active Oil cleans industrial oil burners and reclaims usable products from the sludge.

Mrs. Senatore has charged Active is "the number one polluter in the state" and maintains they were ordered to cease operations at their Carlstadt plant because of water pollution from their operation.

Active Oil officials have maintained their project in Belleville has received clearance from all proper authorities, except Mrs. Senatore, Rohde said. Mrs. Senatore insisted he cooperate in developing a shopping center on the land instead of moving in his oil reclamation facilities.

The Active Oil complaint also asks the court to award a total $572,436 in damages in return for money spent on the land, investment potential lost and taxes paid since the land was bought in September of 1973.

Local Woman Hosts Englishman's Family

America, as his father puts it, "in his own way."

"I should imagine there are quite a lot of people who still keep in touch," comments Baxter on the origins of his friendship with Miss Conklin. He points out the spirit of mutual respect between Englishmen and Americans that grew out of the war. "Too bad we can't have that spirit without a war," he adds, "it's a great pity."

From what he can tell, "you've got the same problems we've got today," said the visitor. "Teenagers, muggings — things we've never experienced before." The American and British ways of life differ more on a day-to-day basis, one would gather, than they do on the social and political level.

Take the weather, for example: "To us it's warm," says the Englishman about fall in Belleville. He and his wife also find wooden houses somewhat extraordinary, since everything in England is built of brick.

The Baxters' biggest regret about this area, however, is that nowhere can they find a good, hospitable English pub — the center of much community activity where they come from. "If I had the money," says Mrs. Baxter with a nod, "I'd build one right here."

It's not what a man makes but what he saves that gives him security.

Demo Candidates Cite Education

The Democratic commitment to quality education at the County level was cited by Essex County Democratic slate of candidates today.

The County Democratic slate includes Mrs. Larrie Stalks for Register and Freeholder candidates Joseph L. Iannuzzi, Mrs. Reita Greenstone and Harry J. Callaghan. Both Iannuzzi and

In speaking for the Democratic slate, Freeholder Callaghan said that the current year's budget includes a record $9.1 million for educational purposes including the upkeep and expansion of the Essex County College system, the County Vocational School system and elementary and secondary programs at the various county institutions including the Youth House and the Children's Emergency shelter.

"Our County College and vocational school programs are recognized as the best in our state and probably in the nation, as is our progress in making sure education is not neglected for those who are consigned to our institutions.

"We continue to seek additional federal and state grants to ease the cost of these vital programs on local taxpayers, but our commitment to our educational responsibility remains firm," Callaghan said in speaking for the entire Democratic slate.

Byrne Proclaims Clean-Up Weeks

Governor Brendan Byrne today proclaimed Oct. 7-21 as Clean-Up Weeks in New Jersey.

The Governor's proclamation is part of a "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up" Campaign being sponsored by the Department of Community Affairs and the New Jersey Association of Realtors and the Make America Better and Urban Task Force committees of the latter group.

In the proclamation, Governor Byrne called upon all citizens, civic groups and governing bodies in the State's 567 municipalities to participate in the clean-up campaign.

GOP Slate Backs Home Rule

Pledges "to establish bona fide working relationships between county and municipal governments and to respect the home-rule rights of Essex County's 22 municipalities" were announced today by the Republican candidates running for the Essex Board of Freeholders and Register of Deeds and Mortgages.

Gerardo L. Del Tufo of Newark, Rev. James A. Pindar of South Orange and a Seton Hall University faculty member and North Caldwell business executive Paul W. Nordt, freeholder candidates and Deputy Register William L. Stubbs of Newark seeking the Register post, in a joint statement said they intend "to establish a genuine dialogue and closer liaison with all Essex communities."

Zinna Named

The Zoning Board approved the necessary variance last year.

Schmitt, said Zinna, instituted his legal action prior to being appointed to the Zoning Board. The new Board attorney says he foresees no conflicts regarding his involvement in the case, since all legal papers have been filed in Appellate Court, awaiting only oral arguments and a decision. The Zoning Board is no longer directly involved in the matter anyway, said Zinna, but if any conflict arose, he said he would "ship the case out."

Though the position as new Board attorney is Zinna's first paid municipal post, he is also chairman of the Nutley Juvenile Conference Committee, appointed by the County Juvenile Domestic Relations Court.

Though Zinna, his wife Maria and their five-month-old son Michael are now living in Bloomfield, "my heart's in Belleville," said the new appointee. Born and raised here, Zinna remains active locally and is a coach of the Belleville Broncos football team.

NEW ATTORNEY for the Belleville Zoning Board is Frank J. Zinna, a former resident here, who took over work from John Montefusco on October 1.

Town Committees Planning Final Stages of Campaign

The candidate has been in Belleville recently, as Chairman Senatore introduced him to football fans at a pep rally for the Town Recreation Department Broncos football team. Mrs. Senatore says Minish and Governor Brendan Byrne will be at a Democratic breakfast Sunday, Nov. 3 to cap the campaign.

Neither local committee has even opened a campaign headquarters on Washington Avenue this year — a departure from tradition. Both Ferrara and Mrs. Senatore pleaded financial hardship, saying landlords are asking as much as $300 per month for a storefront office. At those prices, the visibility of the office is apparently not worth it. Campaigning by the committee members is much less formal than on the county or Congressional levels. Many of the projects are backyard affairs or cocktail parties, and the larger efforts are not scheduled to come until later in the campaign. Mrs. Senatore says the Belleville Democrats will slate three rallies for different sections of town.

The Republicans will probably stage rallies themselves, although plans are still being formulated. Ferrara said the local committee concentrated on registering voters this year (he estimates Republicans are out-registered here by about three-to one by Democrats) and says the new mail registration enabled them to send out 200 forms to prospective voters.

Both chairmen agree the campaign is far from peaking, and the real activity is yet to come.

'Right to Know' Day for Women

Women with questions about their rights and their roles in today's world will find some answers on November 9, when the Montclair-North Essex YWCA presents "Rights to Know Day."

Six workshops on women and religion, genetic counseling, sexuality, second careers, legal rights and consciousness raising will be lead by women with career or life experience in each field.

rent panel last May asked the Commission to bring those buildings under the code. Del Tufo said when the panel first studied the rent situation in Belleville, they had advised the Commission to limit the restrictions to houses of four units and over. "The Commission turned around and included three-family houses, and we feel this is discriminatory to owners of three-family houses," said Del Tufo. "You could have a two-family house next to an identical house where an apartment has been made in the attic. One house will be controlled while another is not."

Last year, when the panel was drafting a rent law, they discovered that the most seriously affected tenants were senior citizens supported by fixed incomes who were unable to meet rising rents, even those that could be considered fair to the landlord.

A proposal was sent to Town Commissioners asking them to study the possibility of gaining federal rent subsidies for the seniors. It was reported this would entail the establishment of a housing authority here and the idea was never pursued by the Town Fathers.

The rent levellers Tuesday night proposed the Town consider hiring a professional firm to lobby for funds in Washington. Del Tufo said, "There's a lot of red tape involved in this process. We need someone qualified to do it, someone who's up to date and can handle these matters. I don't think we have anyone in Belleville who can do that right now."

"All over American small towns are getting federal money," he added. "The money is there, and it's just a matter of finding out how it can be obtained."

The senior citizen problem is still the largest one faced by the rent levellers, he said, and the panel in many cases has little control over many cases, especially when a landlord is asking a fair increase in rent. Del Tufo estimated as many as 30 to 40 rent complaints come in each week from senior citizens.

He added that the panel cannot initiate investigations of violations of the code by landlords, and relies on tenant complaints to enforce the law.

attempted to go ahead with his original plan for an oil reclamation operation, but was stymied by Mrs. Senatore when she ordered Mustacchio to hold up permits and refused to allow Active to make a sewer connection necessary to the firm's operation.

Mrs. Senatore has never denied halting the issuance of permits, but maintains she is preventing the entrance of Active Oil into Belleville because of the nature of their business. Active Oil cleans industrial oil burners and reclaims usable products from the sludge. Mrs. Senatore has charged Active is "the number one polluter in the state" and maintains they were ordered to cease operations at their Carlstadt plant because of water pollution from their operation.

Active Oil officials have maintained their project in Belleville has received clearance from all proper authorities, except Mrs. Senatore. Rohde said Mrs. Senatore insisted he cooperate in developing a shopping center on the land instead of moving in his oil reclamation facilities.

The Active Oil complaint also asks the court to award a total $572,436 in damages in return for money spent on the land, investment potential lost and taxes paid since the land was bought in September of 1973.

Local Woman Hosts Englishman's Family

America, as his father puts it, "in his own way."

"I should imagine there are quite a lot of people who still keep in touch," comments Baxter on the origins of his friendship with Miss Conklin. He points out the spirit of mutual respect between Englishmen and Americans that grew out of the war. "Too bad we can't have that spirit without a war," he adds, "it's a great pity."

From what he can tell, "you've got the same problems we've got today," said the visitor. "Teenagers, muggings — things we've never experienced before." The American and British ways of life differ more on a day-to-day basis, one would gather, than they do on the social and political level.

Take the weather, for example: "To us it's warm," says the Englishman about fall in Belleville. He and his wife also find wooden houses somewhat extraordinary, since everything in England is built of brick.

The Baxters' biggest regret about this area, however, is that nowhere can they find a good, hospitable English pub — the center of much community activity where they come from. "If I had the money," says Mrs. Baxter with a nod, "I'd build one right here."

It's not what a man makes but what he saves that gives him security.

What we give you free,
you can't get on most cars
at any price.

Walk into just about any automobile showroom and start asking some questions. Like

"Does the car come with electronic fuel injection?"

"No."

"What about just fuel injection? Forget about electronic."

"No."

"Can I get a timed preheater with the car?"

"Sorry, but..."

"Four-wheel independent suspension?"

"Nope."

"Steel-belted radials?"

"Sure. But you've got to pay extra."

"How about the Owner's Security Blanket?"

"The what?"

"With Computer Analysis?"

"With what?"

Our point is simple. When you buy a Volkswagen 412, you get everything you've just asked for. For nothing. That's right. You don't pay anything extra for the "extras."

And since our car is a luxurious Volkswagen, it also comes replete with plush seats, thick carpets, big windows, floor-thru ventilation, and room, plenty of room. Also at no extra cost.

Getting anything for free these days is a luxury in itself.

Kids' Shows At Paper Mill

The Fall Season of the Paper Mill Children's Theatre will open this Saturday (Oct. 12) with a production of "The Princess and the Frog" performed by the Gingerbread Players and Jack. There are two performances - at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Next week "The Yates Family Theatre" will present "Jack and the Beanstalk."

Both performing groups have been presenting professional theatre for children at Paper Mill for a number of years and are favorites at the Playhouse.

A highlight of the children's theatre series will be a production of "4776."

(abbreviated for children) with the same music and even some of the original Broadway cast! Don Perkins will head the cast as "John Adams." (Note to press: other children's theatre schedule enclosed. Please save for future reference.)

"In these days," said producer Frank Carrington, "when there are so few plays, movies and entertainments to which parents may take their children, we are happy to announce that besides children's shows geared to a younger audience, our three adult productions of the Fall Season are also suitable for family entertainment."

This Week's Horoscope
(October 12 through October 18)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Improvising is fine in its place, Ari, but isn't it time you followed your script again? Otherwise, some of your life may end up on the cutting room floor, and that would be a criminal waste of talent!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A temporary change looms on the home front. Partner/mate may be snarly. To keep the peace, give in to minor demands, but stand firm on matters of paramount importance. Avoid impulse buying, Taurus, and rathole a few bucks for that inevitable emergency.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): In week ahead, you have strength to follow through with idea involving cash outlay. Don't permit minor crises to scramble your brains. Choppy seas are suddenly calm. Your horizons e-x-p-a-n-d!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Now see here, Moonbaby. Love is not a dictatorship, nor a democracy. Love is anarchy, impure and unsimple. But it's the only game in town, and this week you play it for all it's worth.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Using a charm and brilliance scale from candle to floodlight, you, Leo, are the sun itself. Try shedding some light on another's problem — the reflection will prove revealing. Week glimmers to a warm, snuggly conclusion.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Well-meaning associate offers advice concerning money. Listen, but do not be hustled. Caution pays dividend. Concerning relationship with partner/mate, do not parcel out affection in small doses, Virg. Instead, give lavishly, willingly, and with abandon.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Sometimes even you need to have your wheels balanced, Lib, your windshield cleaned and your oil checked. And while you're at it, have a new muffler installed. You've been a little overbearing lately, and the rest of us can't hear ourselves think.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): New phase shapes up, Scorp, and you have unusual opportunity to broaden your base. Your interests expand. Don't permit Grumpy Gus to put the kibosh on your zest and enthusiasm. One who is a real corker enters scene. Week bubbles to interesting close.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): You are an 11-letter word for energy, Sag, but don't overload the circuits. If you burn out, it's with a flash, not a flicker. Here's a five-letter prescription for recharging batteries: RELAX.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Both affairs of state and of the heart should prove highly interesting. Information is fed to you. You have chance to gain new insight into old, perplexing problem. Local guru offers sage advice. Take it. Then get off your fancy fanny and ACT.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): As far as problem concerning dear one is concerned, ignorance may be bliss ... but it is also asinine. If you continue to poke your head in the sand, then you are just begging for a good swift kick where you are most vulnerable.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Don't take life so seriously, little fish. Life, a wise Indian once said, is the flash of a firefly in the night, the breath of a buffalo in winter. So keep your eyes open, don't hold your breath, and keep on keeping on.
