Belleville's Finest Drill Team Honored for National Triumphs

The Town Commission Chambers on October 8 were visited by a unique contingent of young women in colorful uniforms, shining swords dangling from white trim belts. The occasion was the Town Father's official recognition of the past year's victories collected by the Scarlet Cadets, Belleville's premier precision marching unit.

No one would argue that the Cadets didn't deserve the framed resolution of congratulations presented by Mayor Joseph McGreevy. The 25-member all-girl unit this year took both the state and national American Legion competition titles and were named the top unit on the Metropolitan Circuit, which includes over 20 teams in the New York-New Jersey area.

These prestigious titles and trophies were added to over 100 already in the Scarlet Cadets' collection.

While many Belleville citizens are proud of the Scarlet Cadets, there's one group that has a special interest in the Cadets. A large "Welcome Home Scarlet Cadets, National Champions" sign was hung outside the post home of the Joseph J. Carbat American Legion Post 299 to greet the girls when they returned from the national American Legion convention in Miami last August. Post 299 has sponsored the marching unit since their formation in 1967, watching the girls develop the skill that won them their 100-plus awards.

And there's one person in town who, no doubt, is prouder than anyone about the success story of the Scarlet Cadets — Mrs. Violet Totorello, the unit's director since the beginning.

Mrs. Tortorello, active in Legion activities for several years, and a past president of the Essex County American Legion Auxiliary and the Honor Society of the Legion, said she founded the group seven years ago when, "I used to see girls hanging around with nothing to keep them occupied. At that age, I think girls need something to do, and this was it. I think the Scarlet Cadets gave them discipline, and something to be proud of. It gives them a chance to meet other people

Descriptions Vague

Police Still Searching For Murder Suspects

Belleville Police and the Essex County Prosecutor's Office are looking for two suspects who may have been involved in last week's brutal stabbing murder of a 41-year-old Belleville man.

Though a week of "round the clock" investigation has been conducted since the October 8 murder, detectives have obtained only sketchy descriptions of two young black men, and have established no motive for the slaying of Vincenzo Razzano, 64, Belmont Avenue, said Belleville Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight.

One of the suspects was described as being stocky and of light complexion, the other, thin and dark skinned. Both men, believed to be in their early 20's or late teens, were reported to have been wearing denim jackets when they were observed in the Belmont Avenue area, said Haight. All available detectives have been assigned to the case, added the deputy chief.

The victim, father of three children, was found shortly after 9 a.m. October 8, jammed into a corner in a pool of blood near the door. An autopsy verified initial reports that Razzano had been stabbed eight times in the chest, once in the right leg and once in the head. Police theorize that the head wound was inflicted as Razzano began to drop into the corner.

Belleville police officer Vincent Cosenzo and sergeant Joseph Oese were summoned to the room basement apartment when tenants of the three-family building saw blood seeping from under Razzano's door. When knocking drew no response, the officers forced their way in.

Investigation subsequent to the murder produced the descriptions of the two suspects, said Haight, but investigation of Razzano's background led nowhere. The 41-year-old was last seen alive at 6:30 a.m. October 8 when he left work from the De Paolo Bakery in Newark. "There's not much to go on," commented Haight.

No weapons were found, and nothing appeared to have been taken from the apartment, though police found $200 in Razzano's wallet at the scene. Shortly after the murder, robbery had not been ruled out as a possible motive, said Haight.

According to the deputy chief, Razzano's wife, Antoinette, was vacationing in Italy with their four year old daughter, Rosa, at the time of the slaying. The victim owned the three-family Belmont Avenue house, but was living at 69 Bloomfield Avenue with his wife's parents and 12-year-old twins Antonio and Antoinette.

Razzano was reported to have been remodeling the basement apartment on Belmont Avenue in order to move there with his family.

Belleville detective sergeant Nicholas Berrigan and Assistant County Prosecutor Anthony Mautone are continuing to lead the investigation into Belleville's first murder since May of last year.

County, Town Discuss Park Entrance Switch

The Essex County Park Commission was scheduled to meet yesterday to consider a request by the County Board of Freeholders and the Town of Belleville to relocate the Franklin Avenue entrance to Branch Brook Park. The Freeholders and Commissioners want to see the entrance moved south to the intersection of Belmont Avenue and Franklin Avenue, which is regulated by a traffic signal.

A meeting between members of the Board of Freeholders, James Taylor, secretary to the Park Commission and an engineer from the Commission, and Belleville Mayor Joseph McGreevy saw discussion of the merits of the change, with McGreevy and the Freeholders strongly in favor. Park Commission officials have not yet agreed, and are reportedly concerned about the effect of increased traffic through the park.

The results of yesterday's Park Commission meeting, held too late for coverage by the Times, may determine the willingness of the Commission to agree to the plan, which McGreevy says stems from a commitment from the county to Belleville six years ago to provide a thoroughfare through the park after Belleville deeded land to the county.

Freeholder Joseph Iannuzzi and McGreevy, who both attended the October 9 meeting with Taylor, said a primary consideration for the desired change is safety. The

GOP Challenger Giving Minish A 'Run' for Seat in Congress

By Paul Stern

"Excuse me a moment. Let me do a little campaigning," he said, jogging a few paces ahead to shake hands with a woman waiting for the bus on the corner of Washington Avenue and Holmes Street.

"Hi, I'm Bill Grant and I'm running for Congress on November 5th. What's your name?"

"Oh yes," responds the woman as student campaigner Brian O'Grady slips a "Grant for Congress" release into her hand. "I saw you in Montclair."

Moments later the 47-year-old Montclair Commissioner rejoins a tag-along reporter for resumption of his Saturday morning sidewalk interview.

The whole thing started a week ago when The Candidate burst through the newspaper office door hours before press time. He carried an announcement that William Grant would be "running down inflation" through several towns in the 11th Congressional District in the coming week. "We'll try to get it in," he was told after introducing himself as the very same man mentioned in the release, and he hastily departed, alone, for his next stop.

Last Saturday The Candidate returned to Belleville, this time dressed in blue jogging togs, wearing the same GRANT badge he had had pinned to his overcoat before. His mission was to jog through town and meet the voters, and to pass by every available home town newspaper office for a talk.

Basically, though sparsely viewed on this particular chilly morning, Grant's objective was to illustrate his "people-to-people" approach to campaigning and to governing. So far, he says, it seems to be working.

"The reaction that I'm getting outside the supermarkets looks very good. The comment many times is: 'Are you in now?' I say 'no,' and they say, 'Good, I'll vote for you.'"

Like many new candidates, Grant is more than happy to admit that he is not presently an office holder. With confidence in government at a longtime low, "there is no advantage to incumbency," he says. "There is starting to be a recognition that this Congress has created the problems that we have," adds the Republican — and the number one problem ("There's really no second," he notes) is inflation.

With that, he drops the two dirtiest words in the post-Watergate era: "Special Interest." Perhaps one of the worst things for a politician these days is to be known as a "special interest" candidate, and Grant is careful to avoid that label. As a matter of fact, The Candidate blames

"special interest" incumbents for causing the nation's economic heartaches.

"They're so busy watching their special interests," said Grant, "that they miss the bigger picture. We desperately need leadership — a la Truman — to identify our real problems."

Grant's special interests, quips one of his press releases (from which he quotes himself often), are the 475,297 men, women and children in the 11th District, nearly 40,000 of them Bellevilleites.

Vote-wise, "my prediction is that I will make my biggest inroads in Belleville," said the challenger. "In Belleville," he continued, "the people do not believe in the Great Society." His approach to beating inflation is to "fight to retard the spiraling growth in Federal spending programs, and to fight to halt Congress's practice of financing so many of these programs simply by rolling the presses, printing up more paper money."

In a meeting two weeks ago with President Ford, Grant spoke of the "disastrous effects" caused in New Jersey by Congress's "irresponsible spending." Congress, reminds The Candidate, since it controls the nation's purse strings, is the only branch of the Federal government capable of turning things around.

It was his low opinion of the present Congress, says Grant, that prompted him to enter the race this year. "I'm really not a politician," is how he phrased it, and compared

Two Free Health Programs Scheduled Wednesday Night

Two free health programs are scheduled by the Department of Public Affairs at Belleville High School between 6 and 9 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

The annual sugar diabetes examination program, available to those who fall into high-risk categories, will be held, along with free flu shots for senior citizens.

The "high-risk" category for the sugar diabetes program includes persons who are overweight or past the age of 40, relatives of diabetes and mothers of babies weighing nine pounds or more at birth. Data indicates that the majority of diabetics fall within these categories.

Dr. Leslie Miller and Dr. Franklin Dotoli will be the attending physicians, along with the Health Department's nursing staff. Flu shots will be given free to all senior citizens. Both programs are open only to Belleville residents.

Active Oil Suit Court Debate Set Tomorrow

The civil case against Commissioner Mary Senatore and other town officials brought by Active Oil Company is scheduled to open in Superior Court tomorrow.

Judge Nicholas Scalera has ordered Mrs. Senatore, Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio and Municipal Engineer Richard Mango to show cause why permits for construction on Main Street property have not been granted to the oil reclamation firm.

Active Oil officials, who bought the land last year, say Mrs. Senatore has frustrated their legal attempts to receive permits to build there. Mrs. Senatore has said she considers the firm's business to be "not good" for the town, and has stated her preference to see a shopping mall built on the site.

Engineers Tour Hospital Facilities

Last year's energy crisis caused long gas lines, high gas prices, and a lot of concerned debate. This week it also brought 15 of the leading consulting engineers in Austria to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

The engineers came to see the hospital's energy conservation equipment, known as Regen-X-Pak.

Regen-X-Pak manufactured by the Heat Recovery Corporation, Kearny, is a heating and cooling system which utilizes only on/half the energy normally required to operate such a system.

According to Edward S. Stevens, president of Heat Recovery Corp., Clara Maass Memorial has the largest of these systems in the Northeast. "Clara Maass has shown a great deal of foresight," Stevens said.

Methodist Women Set Attic Sale

An attic treasures sale, sponsored by the United Methodist Women of Wesley United Methodist Church, Washington Avenue at Academy Street in Belleville, will be held at the Church on Friday, October 18.

Hours of the one-day-on-sale are 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

"Joseph Sullivan, hospital assistant director, installed this system over eight years ago, long before the energy crisis."

The heating and cooling system is in effect in 50 percent of the main hospital and in the entire Continuing Care Center.

The Austrians' visit was sponsored by the Heat Recover Corp. and the Austrian Public Health Service.

Rotarians Hear Library Director

Belleville Public Library Director Gerard R. Hickey addressed a luncheon meeting of the Belleville Rotary Club Wednesday, Oct. 9, outlining the services available at the local library and improvements in standards there.

Hickey pointed out any book in print can be ordered if not already on library shelves, and if not immediately available, can be traced, obtained and delivered here.

He said there are currently 330 films available for public use at the library, and the stock of records, magazines and books is constantly on the increase.

Republican Candidate Opposes Surtax Plan

William B. Grant, Republican candidate for Congress in the 11th District said this week "I oppose the imposition of any additional taxes on the already overburdened middle income citizens of this country." Commenting on the inflation program proposed by President Ford, Grant said, "It is a sad commentary on the role the Congress has played during the past ten years that this program, or any program, to fight inflation should have to originate in the White House."

Pointing out that Article VIII of the Constitution imposes upon the Congress the duty of raising and spending federal tax money, Grant charged: "The Congress has defaulted on its responsibility. For years, the Congress has voted for deficit spending but now it offers no effective program to fight an inflation which is eating up the purchasing power of our middle income citizens."

Grant asserted, "The plain fact is that if the Congress had lived up to its responsibilities and had refused to vote for programs unless the money was available to pay for them, we would not now be facing the double digit inflation which prevails." Calling his opponent, Congressman Joseph Minish, "Mr. Inflation", Grant said "My opponent, in all of the twelve years he has spent in Congress, has typified the attitude of those who are really responsible for inflation."

Calcium, phosphorus, iron and iodine are the minerals most likely to be inadequately supplied in one's diet. But sodium, potassium, magnesium, manganese, sulfur, chlorine, fluorine, and copper are also important.

Two students were awarded for contest-winning efforts submitted during Fire Prevention Week, October 6 to 12 at School One last week.

Thurmond Davis, grade three and Nancy Stahl, grade five, were declared winners of a poster and essay contest held at the school and judged by local fire officials. In the primary grades, posters depicting the causes and prevention of fire were created by the students, while children in the upper grades wrote essays on the subject: "Fire Prevention in the Home."

The posters and essays were judged on October 9 by Fire Chief George Sbarra and other officers, who also demonstrated the uses of four fire department vehicles.

After the display, Superintendent of Schools

Anthony Greco and Assistant Superintendent of Schools Seymour Grossman presented trophies donated by Principal Patrick Forte to Thurman, who was followed in the

Debut Date Near For 'Funny Girl'

Only eight days to go and the cast and crew of the Family Playhouse production of "Funny Girl" are working at a fever pitch.

Scheduled to open October 25 in the local theater group's headquarters in the former Holy Family Church, sanctuary on Brookline Avenue, Nutley, "Funny Girl" is the first of a long season of amateur shows slated for later this year — all featuring local performers.

Though opening night is October 25 (a Friday), director Ray Napolitano has opted for a long run of his second Family Playhouse show. "Funny Girl" will also be presented October 26 and 27, November 1-3, and November 8-10.

Curtain time for Friday and Saturday performances is 8 p.m. while Sunday matinees begin at 3 p.m. Tickets, priced at $3 and $4, are available by calling Joan the ticket lady at 667-6018 on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays; or by phoning 667-4471.

"Funny Girl" is the Family Playhouse's second production since its formation last year and subsequent production of "Oliver." Though a number of new faces will appear in the latest effort, there are also several returnees in the cast and crews.

Cast in the role of the incomparable funny girl herself, Fanny Brice, is Nutley's Vicki Guarino. Vicki, 21, has performed as Liat in "South Pacific," and as Luisa in "The Fantastiks," while studying at the University of Miami in Florida. She also portrayed Marion in Bloomfield Talent Time's production of "The Music Man" in the recent past.

Playing opposite Vicki, in the role of Nick Arnstein, is Victor Lupinacci, a speech and theater major at Montclair State College. Victor, a Clifton resident, played in the Family Playhouse "Oliver" show as Mister Sowerberry, and hopes to someday establish a career in musical comedy and dance. He has also performed with other groups in places such as the Waldorf Astoria and the Garden State Arts Center.

Mrs. Brice, Fanny's mother, is otherwise known as Rose Ann Truppo. An Irvington resident, Rose is an accounting analyst with Western Electric, but also manages to involve herself with theater in such plays as "Oliver," — as Mrs. Sowerberry — "My Fair Lady," "The Sound of Music," and "The Music Man," with the St. Joseph Theatre Group in East Orange.

Jim Rosa, of Lyndhurst, is cast as Fanny's longtime friend, Eddie Ryan.

Masquerade Party Set by Young Dems

Music Parents Set 'Babes in Arms'

"Babes In Arms" will be presented at the Belleville Senior High School Auditorium on Friday, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Barbara Romano, Chairlady of the Ways & Means for the Belleville Music Parents announced this first fund raising event will be presented by the Halpenny Playhouse players for a one night performance only. Tickets for this family entertainment show are adult tickets - $3.00, student tickets

It is requested that your arrangements for this performance be made early since tickets are limited.

"Babes In Arms" is a popular Rodgers & Hart musical comedy of the 1930s which was later made into a motion picture.

Seniors Supporting Bill on Food Prices

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club voted at a Thursday meeting to endorse a bill before the State Legislature aimed at food price gouging.

The 380 club members voted by show of hands to back State Senator John Horn (D-Camden) whose bill, S-577 would make it illegal to sell any food at retail unless the price is plainly marked. The senior citizens' resolution urged all state senators to support the passage of the bill.

Under the bill, the reduced prices of food would have to be listed at the checkout counter. Horn said his bill would prevent prices from being raised several times in a short period. Violations of the proposed law could draw a fine of $100.

A New Beginning

Next week this newspaper will assume a new shape and adopt new objectives.

Under the direction of Editors Ken Moore and Paul Stern, the Belleville Times-News staff has been working for the past few months putting together the technical pieces that are required in order to produce the quality of newspaper which our readers will see for the first time next week. It will be of a design which is among the most advanced in the country. The publication will contain additional features, extended news coverage, and a more aggressive style and commitment that will challenge laxity in political leadership.

We have taken pride in the quality of newspaper our staff has published in the past. However it isn't pride alone that drives us to create and publish a better newspaper. Belleville needs the best of everything — industry, commerce, homes, streets, people, government, politicians and yes — the best newspaper. Our motivation in making this new and broader commitment to Belleville is to provide our readers with the best medium of communication available with the resources at our command.

Community pride in Belleville has been sagging for a long time. It appears that generally, Belleville has lost its "get up and go." Sure, Belleville town government has no debt — but the same can be said for the poverty stricken millions of India. A debt-free society does not necessarily equate itself to the best society. If everyone among us was obliged to refrain from buying a home or car until she or he had the total purchase price, it is quite likely that few, if any, among us, would ever be able to buy a home — or an automobile.

The Belleville Times-News staff is determined to renew its effort to become an advocate of issues and problems for too long ignored by politicians. We may not win any popularity contests when measured by standards established by local politicians — but then on the occasions we stepped out front on major issues confronting the community we never were applauded by the politicians who kept their heads stuck in the sand.

The Belleville Times-News was founded in 1909 — 65 years ago. During those 65 years the fortunes of Belleville have been up — and they have been down. Right now it is at a low mark and Belleville, the town — needs all the help it can get. The Belleville Times-News intends to provide all the help it can to restore to a fine community the luster of a great past. In this endeavor we trust mutual interests will provide our citizens with the incentive to help us help them make Belleville a better town in which to live and work.

Gerardo L. Del Tufo

An Unusual Public Servant

Incumbent Freeholder Gerardo L. Del Tufo is seeking re-election this November. Mr. Del Tufo is a unique public servant. Totally dedicated to good government, the former senator is the lone Republican on the nine-member County Board of Freeholders.

Jerry Del Tufo has become an Essex County institution — and legend. His honesty and personal integrity are a matter of public record. His constant desire to save taxpayer dollars has been made absolutely clear over his years in public office.

Jerry Del Tufo has earned the right to be re-elected to the Essex County Board of Freeholders. Del Tufo not only represents minority representation on the Board of Freeholders but more importantly, an informed and knowledgeable minority.

Although a registered Republican, Jerry Del Tufo enjoys the respect and support of many Independents and Democrats. He is a man of great compassion, concerned more with human welfare than he is with any personal interest one may have in public office. We urge Del Tufo's re-election on November 5.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The old adage about things being "dirt cheap" is no more. The Highway Departments of various states are learning that their highway construction requiring dirt-fill is costing them considerably more than it had in the past, thus raising their operating costs which naturally are being passed on to we already overburdened taxpayers. With soaring inflation nothing is dirt cheap anymore. Let the lady of the house confirm this by showing you her latest food shopping bill.

***

With the confinement of the lady of the house at Mountainside hospital after surgery this writer is really having a hard time trying to keep up with things. A guy just can't imagine how much the ladies do about the house and with the shopping until they are placed upon their own. It's a tough assignment. You readily learn to appreciate all they do when they aren't around.

The American public are getting damn sick and tired of shelling out more tax dollars to support and aid foreign governments while many needed essentials are neglected and ignored on the home front. How far are we supposed to go in having those who work, support and care for many who could, but won't? Appointed President Ford's idea of a surcharge income tax is absurd. Is he planning to tax us all into poverty? What's wrong with cutting out the extravagancies of the federal government with its fancy salaries and many needless sinecure positions? Why can't we look after keeping our own house in order, instead of roaming all over the world telling everybody else how we want them to live and putting up the money, our taxpayer's money, to carry out politicians "pipe dreams" as world "do gooders?" Let's think America first.

We must "take our hats off" to our U.S. Senator Harrison "Pete" Williams and our district's Congressman Joe Minish for their untiring and sedulous efforts in finally persuading President Ford to relent and indicate his approval of a mass transit plan designed to provide some $200 million in operating subsidies over the next six years for New Jersey mass transit facilities.

With all transit facilities throughout the country operating at a loss it is doubtful if they could much longer continue in operation without the federal "shot-in-the-arm" the Williams-Minish bill provides.

President Ford's threatened veto had held up approval of the much needed measure until the suasive arguments of many of the Nation's larger city's mayors such as Beame of N.Y.C. and Gibson of Newark, together with Williams and Minish convinced Ford of the urgent need for subsidies to keep these vital people movers going.

The Goldberg Biography

In the news this week and probably for the next several weeks are stories concerning a biography of former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg published during the 1970 New York gubernatorial campaign.

Mr. Goldberg labeled the publication of the biography a political campaign "dirty trick."

Mr. Goldberg leveled the charge despite his admission that he never read the book. And foolishly, Vice President Designate Nelson A. Rockefeller, in response to a demand by Goldberg, publicly apologized for the "derogatory" nature of the biography — and again, accompanied with an admission by Rockefeller that he did not read the book.

One wonders how can Arthur Goldberg label a piece of literature a dirty trick when he never read it?

And one wonders why an intelligent Nelson Rockefeller apologizes for something he never read.

With respect to Mr. Goldberg, the truth is that he indeed did read the book. During the New York Gubernatorial campaign of 1970, Mr. Goldberg held a strategy session to determine how to handle the negative aspects contained in the Goldberg biography.

At this stage in the Goldberg "publicity" campaign, the former Supreme Court Justice has expressed a desire to appear before a congressional committee that he hopes will examine the circumstances surrounding publication of the biography. We hope a hearing will be held — and that Mr. Goldberg will be asked to testify under oath. A number of former campaign aides of Mr. Goldberg are ready to testify also — and their testimony will put the lie to Mr. Goldberg's claim that he never read the book.

As for the contents of the book, at no time has Mr. Goldberg charged libel. The biography contains facts and the author's interpretation of those facts — and that is all.

We consider Mr. Goldberg's effort to blow-up this incident into a moral issue, as nothing more than an effort to smear a great American who has dedicated his total adult life to the service of his state and nation.

The motive behind the smear-Rockefeller campaign is obvious. We hope people like Congressman Peter W. Rodino, U.S. Senators Clifford P. Case and Harrison A. Williams will not be sucked into this smear-Rockefeller campaign.

With the smear-Rockefeller campaign getting up a head of steam one wonders how much more dirt will be thrown at him.

Kansas City A Stop To Make When Planning To Go West

to be the world leader. Now we find it difficult to lead ourselves. We used to inspire the world. Now we find it difficult to find self-inspiration. The dollar was the most sought after currency in the world. Today the Arabs are practically using it for wallpaper.

IT HAS BEEN A LONG TIME since I have travelled aboard a TWA aircraft. The trip from Newark to Kansas City via TWA with a change of aircraft at St. Louis, Missouri was rather uneventful — except for the fact that we were about two hours late. The return trip aboard TWA Flight 368 was something else. The two stewardesses serving the forward cabin are probably among the best I ever encountered. The senior stewardess Karen Pittman, a native of Seattle, Washington, is a graduate of Central Washington State University. A blue-eyed, aggressive, attractive, blonde, Karen is completing seven years with TWA. Her sidekick was stewardess Nilsa Blake, a Puerto Rican beauty contest winner who graduated from the University of Puerto Rico. Nilsa is into her seventh year with TWA. We were in a holding pattern over Chicago with a hundred planes ahead of us — and try to grab a handle on that scene if you will. Disgruntled passengers were all over the place and Karen and Nilsa handled the situation like major leaguers. They did an absolutely fantastic job under the most difficult of circumstances. Bill Miller and I boarded Flight 386 in Kansas City, Missouri at about 3:00 p.m.

and it wasn't until 9:45 that we landed at Newark Airport — and through it all Karen Pittman and Nilsa Blake made the trip feel like a picnic — a rather unique experience.

NUTLEY COPS SEEM TO BE concentrating on ticketing local citizens for parking violations while places like Frank's Diner are being knocked off by live burglars. I would bet my last buck the crime rate in Nutley is going up while our cops concentrate on intimidating local officials by concentrating on parking violators.

Citizens Give Energy Tips To President

(As a result of his recent appeal for tips on conserving energy, President Gerald Ford received nearly 2,000 letters. Below are excerpts from some of them.)

If citizen advisors to the President had their way about it, all Americans would become walkers or bicyclists or bus riders or, at least, car poolers.

Suggestions for keeping the family car idle or in very limited use appear most frequently on the lists of Americans responding to President Ford's plea for advice on conserving energy and beating inflation.

Other suggestions dealing with the family gas buggy call for combining various shopping errands into one trip, observing the 55-mile speed limit, and keeping tires inflated at 30 pounds to improve gasoline mileage.

Advice to substitute light bulbs of lower wattage except in reading lamps came from a Milwaukee realtor, who also urged:

"Just because you can afford it, don't hoard scarce items. It may drive the prices out of sight for poor people with big families. Don't feel it is necessary to eat and drink everything in sight. Just consume what you need for good health. You'll be rewarded by a better figure, too."

The same man urged that housewives fill the oven when they bake, alternate the use of vacuum cleaner with an ordinary carpet sweeper to save electricity, and use warm or cold water in the laundry instead of hot whenever feasible.

He further advised repairing tears "to realize big savings in clothing and linens," and added:

"Adopt this philosophy in buying clothing and furniture: 'If I'd have to borrow the money to pay for it, I'll wait until I've saved the money first.' You'll save an amazing amount in interest, also; and you'll buy everything more wisely when you've had to plan and save for it."

A Chicago trade paper publisher was primarily concerned with turning off unnecessary lights — not just those in his own house but those in office buildings.

Said he: "I drove along Lake Shore Drive the other night around 1 a.m. and the office buildings were lit up like Christmas trees. This goes on all over the country and it costs millions of dollars in energy. It must be stopped."

A Yonkers, New York, woman was concerned that people not burn lights on sunny days and that housewives wait for a full load before using the dishwasher.

A Washington, D.C., woman urged that high school students walk or ride bicycles to school instead of driving.

On a broader scale, she urged that consumers engage in "careful buying and boycotts" to force grocery prices down, that government agencies enforce anti-trust and price-fixing laws, and that all possible alternatives to imported oil be developed for heating and transportation.

A Jamaica, New York, woman had a more novel idea — that all large corporations place their employees on a four-day week instead of laying off people.

Closer to home, a Albuquerque, New Mexico, man advised taking stock of groceries in the house and not buying items that are in ample supply in the pantry, buying in economical lots and joining with a neighbor in large-lot purchasing, sharing unneeded items with a neighbor, and maintaining all home and automotive items in the best possible manner.

A Fort Lauderdale, Florida, tax accountant urged turning the hot water heater down to where you can take a shower with just hot water instead of tempering it with cold — then turning it up the evening before the woman of the house plans to wash clothes. He says this saves at least 20 per cent.

The same man adds: "I ride my bike. My car moves only about every other day. I love it."

A Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, man was primarily concerned with speeding and the development of solar energy. Since this will cost billions of dollars, he said, a special tax should be levied on gasoline, heating oil, cooking gas, electricity, coal and fireplace wood to pay for solar energy research and development.

Perhaps the most novel idea for fighting inflation came from a Belleville, Illinois, man, who urged the Government to sell a new issue of Series E bonds to be known as "Inflation Bonds."

His plan calls for these bonds to bear a more attractive interest rate than the current Series E bonds and to be purchased through payroll deduction, bond-a-month plans, and private checking and savings accounts.

Every dollar invested in Inflation Bonds would slow the pace of inflation. Since vast sums of money would be coming in to the U.S. Treasury from the sale of such bonds, the Treasury would no longer have to compete in the money markets for the billions of dollars per year necessary for the debt service on our national debt, funding defense spending, foreign aid, etc. When Uncle Sam stops competing for dollars on our money markets, interest rates would start to come down, and many other desirable things would begin to happen, (such as) more money for home mortgages.

"THERE'S A BOMB IN YOUR BUILDING," and with that statement the caller hung up. The phone call came last Friday at about 9:10 p.m. The building houses our offices, computer and art department, and our home. Nutley detectives responded to a phone call, the building was evacuated, no bomb was discovered, thus ended the sorry chapter of the anonymous caller's effort to scare us.

It has been suggested the call was prompted by a PBA sympathizer who disagrees with our editorial position concerning the intimidation campaign generated by the PBA. We cannot believe a sympathizer of any cause would stoop to the level of initiating a bomb-scare phone call. However the bold truth is, the phone call took place and Nutley police are at a loss to furnish a logical explanation. In the absence of any hard evidence to explain away the motive for the bomb-scare phone call our friends are wondering — so am I.

HAVE YOU BEEN TO KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI LATELY? Well if you haven't and you plan to go out West this is one city we recommend. Bill Miller and I were out there last week for three days and discovered a building complex sponsored by the Hallmark Card Company which astounded us. It is one of the most beautiful sites we have ever seen. The Crown Center Hotel is a unique building situated on the side of a large rock which rises to a height of six stories.

The Crown Center Hotel is an amazing complex of shops and business center — simply fabulous. Among the fine people we met was John Barry, Executive Vice President of the Grand Avenue Bank and Trust Company, who expressed a viewpoint that is held by many Americans throughout the land — and that is, the mass media, and people generally, appear prone to put everybody and everything "down". "Instead of telling the world what's good about America we find many TV announcers and newspapers emphasizing the bad. Instead of looking for the good in man we are tending to underscore the bad. This erosion of confidence in the motivations of America and Americans bothers me very much," comments John Barry. And with this viewpoint we agree totally.

It is a modern day tragedy that Americans are at the quick to believe the worst but hesitate to accept the good. Well, this will pass too — and we hope it will pass before much more damage is sustained by the land of the free and the home of the brave. We used

AMERICAN FACES A CRISIS CAUSED BY RUNNING INFLATION

During all its history our nation has depended upon the support of its middle class citizens who pay the bulk of the nation's taxes and do the bulk of the nation's work.

The middle class is the bulwark of American democracy. Right now, it is the middle class citizen who is being crushed by the pressure of rising prices and decreasing purchasing power.

If the middle class loses its faith in America's future because it can see no future for itself except crushing inflation and debt, then all the rhetoric of the academic theoreticians and politicians who have built their public images around liberal concerns will not save poverty programs or solve any of the major problems now facing our Republic.

That is why the entire effort of our government and people must be directed toward solving the problem of inflation.

To solve this problem, we must first understand why we have it.

Article VIII of the U. S. Constitution charges the Congress, not the President, with raising and spending federal tax money. And so it is the Congress which is responsible for the economic health of the country! It took 176 years (through 1965) for the Congress to reach the 100 billion dollar budget level. It has taken only 10 years for our incumbent congressman "Mr. Inflation" and his fellow Congressmen to triple that figure. Has your income tripled in the last 10 years?

Much of this multiplying increase in Congressional spending has been covered by deficit financing, in effect rolling the presses printing new paper money.

The economic consequences have been disastrous: shortages, unemployment and inflation.

Belleville's Ballet Talent To Appear in New York

A stellar line-up of current stage, screen and television favorites has been assembled by Lythe Orme DeJon, co-director of the DeJon Studios of Music and Drama, Nutley, this year's Chairman of the Theatre, Motion Picture and TV Program of the Woman's Press Club of New York City, at the Hotel Statler-Hilton, New York, Saturday, October 26, President Violet Van Wagner Lopez presiding.

"The United States—Today's Leader in the Arts" is the program's theme. The art of the ballet will be illustrated by Geraldine Palmisano, the talented ballerina-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Palmisano of Belleville, a former student of the June Barrett Studios and presently studying ballet technique with the famed Jean Hamilton, a former pupil of the renowned Anna Pavlova, at the American Ballet School under the direction of Robert Joffrey.

Geraldine, a graduate honor student in acting and speech of the DeJon Studios, consistently winning honor certificates in these media from Trinity College of London, for which annual examinations the DeJon Studios prepares its students, will perform Odette's Solo from Tchaikowsky's "Swan Lake."

The distinguished speakers include the famous director and playwright of Stage and Screen Reginald Denham, who will discuss "Broadway Today." Denham has directed over two-hundred plays in the U.S.A. and Gt. Britain. Some of his Broadway hits include "Hostile Witness" (with Ray Milland) "Dial "M" for Murder" (with Maurice Evans) and "Bad Seed" (with Nancy Kelly) "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" (starring Elizabeth Bergner) "Janus" (with Margaret Sullivan) "Ladies in Retirement" (with Flora Robson.) Mr. Denham has also directed over 20 films, one in Rome with Gina Lollabrigida and Vittoria deSica. A successful playwright, Denham has recently finished his latest play "The Cover Up", written in collaboration with Mary Orr, the male lead in which, according to columnist Jack O'Brian, has been offered to ex-New York Mayor, John Lindsay.

Actress-Author Mary Orr, who has a long and distinguished record of theatrical and literary achievement, will discuss "Why write a book?" Her latest successful novel "The Tejera Secrets", recently published by Dial Press, has already been selected for the paperbacks by Bantam Books. Mary Orr is the lady who first revealed all about Eve (Eve Harrington) the budding actress who flowered into a full-fledged deadly nightshade. Miss Orr wrote the original novelette published in Cosmopolitan "The Wisdom of Eve," from which descended the Oscar-winning film "All About Eve" and eventually the stage and TV smash musical "Applause," which captured a Tony award.

Mary Orr's short story and television adaptations are too numerous to list. As an actress (most recently featured in a coast-to-coast tour of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit") Mary Orr has appeared in the principal cities of the world; her career is a veritable Who's Who and What's What of the American Theatre.

Guests of honor include the Broadway and Hollywood favorites Elnora Hayes of stage, screen and TV, Eleanor

Cody Gould, actress, Producer, director and veteran actress Anne Ives, whom theatergoers still remember in "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

GERALDINE PALMISANO, premier ballet talent of Belleville will appear on the New York stage October 27 in a multi-media show celebrating American arts.

Proceeds of $650 from the "Standing Room Only" benefit performance were donated to the Children's Shelter of Essex County and the Edna B. Conklin Child Welfare Home.

The Montclair Academy of Dance begins its eighth season with a variety of dance curricula, beginning with creative pre-school classes for younger children from age 3 to 5, and proceeding on to include pre-ballet classes for children 6 to 8 years old and ballet classes for children and adults. One of the most popular of the variety of courses offered is the exciting modern jazz class for pre-teens, teens, and adults. Also of special interest to adults are the classes in Slimnastics and Yoga.

Souvenir Ad Book Supports The Bureau

Souvenir Ad Book Chairmen for this year's Annual Family Service Bureau's Charity Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garruto, report that letters to numerous business and professional people in Town soliciting their support for ads, patrons, sponsors and professional sponsors have gone out and the response is good, though not one hundred percent as yet. Mr. and Mrs. Garruto urge all those local businessmen/women who have not as yet returned their ads for the Souvenir Ad Book to do so as soon as possible.

The Souvenir Ad Book was introduced seven years ago as an additional means of support of the many services provided by the Nutley family Service Bureau to the community. The Book has increased in popularity through the zealous efforts of the Garrutos and the chairmen who preceded them.

Mr. Garruto, a pilot with United Airlines and his wife, Barbara, were the former owners and proprietors of the Nature's Way Nutrition Center in Nutley. They and their five children reside on Prospect Street.

Too many people claim to know all the answers.

to 11th District incumbent Congressman Joseph Minish, perhaps he isn't. So, in spite of that, or because of it, the challenger says he thinks he has a good chance of being elected in November.

The national Republican Party honchos apparently agree, says Grant, pointing to the $5,000 campaign donation it made as evidence. Beyond that, Grant's war chest is comprised of one $1,000 private contribution, two of $250, and the rest individual small donations from $100 down, he says.

Congressman Minish's fund, says Grant, is much larger than his own, and the list of contributors "reads like Who's Who of American Unions. They think it's necessary to flood money into this guy." The Candidate added.

So, Grant will be continuing his challenge with some additional jogging through Caldwell, Verona, Montclair and Bloomfield again this coming Saturday, meeting more people and stopping at more newspaper offices in his own version of the campaign favorite walking tour.

Even if it doesn't get him elected, it will keep him in terrific physical shape.

a "short-cut." Estimates of the cost of such a project are not yet firm, but the price tag could fall between $150,000 and $200,000. Discussion at the October 9 meeting touched on the possibility of gaining financial aid from the State Department of Transportation.

Since the land belongs to the Park Commission and Franklin Avenue is a county highway, the Freeholders and the Park Commission would share costs, but the Town of Belleville may also have to chip in. Taylor said the project would probably be a "cooperative" venture and, "in the long run, it could be all three parties may be involved."

McGreevy confirmed the possibility of Belleville's financial involvement, saying he agreed that the Town would join in, "after all the other avenues were exhausted." Commissioner of Public Works Mary V. Senatore also noted the recent move to relocate the entrance is a continuation of a six-year-old campaign. Former Mayor Kenneth Smith was deeply involved in discussions at the time.

After 7-3 Loss to Nutley

Belleville Gridders Will Zero In On Troubled Passaic Indian Unit

By Paul Stern

Belleville head coach Tom Testa and his winless warriors should be smelling a victory in the wind just about now.

After losing three close contests to three of the meanest teams in the county — the latest loss a 7-3 burn by Nutley last Saturday — the Bellboys travel to Passaic this Saturday, 1:30 p.m., where the Indians have some heap big troubles of their own.

Specifically, the Passaic team, under new head coach Tom Elsasser, is afflicted with an acute case of growing pains, with complications, and has to date been unable to score a single point. The Bellboys, in contrast, though also three-time losers, "are probably the best 0-3 team in the state," commented Elsasser this week, "and in order to win this game, we're going to have to play some super football."

Coach Testa, meanwhile, is quietly confident in the Blue-Gold's ability to beat the Indians, especially after the way his unit fought in the Nutley contest. "The kids are hungry after the way they've been playing," Testa said Monday, "it was a terrific effort, a very fine game, and I'm proud of them. The kids showed a lot of courage and gave up ground grudgingly."

Belleville's biggest problem against the Raiders, continued the head coach, was getting the ball, and once again key penalties in key situations prevented the home squad from capitalizing on their progress.

The Nutley game was in one respect a landmark or the Bellboys, however. Late last week the head coach transferred former quarterback Steve Gerard to the wingback post, and moved second string quarterback Rich Loma into the fray. The result: an improved passing game. Loma hit on six of 15 throws, two of those passes caught by Gerard for 64 yards. Mark Cosenzo nabbed four others for 43 yards, leaving the Raiders slightly off balance.

"I figured we had to do something," commented Testa on the switch, "and Loma showed well during the week. He's a good passer, but needs a couple of games experience." Gerard, meantime, put in "some outstanding play at slotback," furthered the Bellboy general. "It was a change for the better, and kept us in the ball game with Nutley keying on Senatore." Gerard didn't mind the change either, said his coach. "He's a team man, which is what we like."

At any rate, the Loma-Gerard combo will again see action against the Indians, who will now have to handle a double threat offense. Though bruiser tailback Steve Senatore was held to a slim 46 yards against Nutley, he should have less difficulty cutting through the Passaic defenders. "Senatore is one of the better backs in the state," said Elsasser, "and we have trouble bringing down less outstanding ones."

The only key man Belleville may have to do without is Vinnie DeNotaris, who sprained his ankle in the Nutley fracas.

Testa is also experimenting with some of his younger players, he says, and has already found one sophomore, kicker Mike Spear, who will contribute to the Bellboy game. Spear scored Belleville's only points last week on a 20-yard field goal late in the first half, and to the Bellboys "those three points were big at the time," said Testa.

For Passaic, any point any time is a big one, since the Indians have so far been unable to score. They have not given up trying, however, and for a newly refurbished team, are improving as a unit each week, said Elsasser.

"We haven't come into our own yet," the Passaic coach explained. According to Elsasser, this is Passaic's first year of exposure to a technical game, and the players, many of them juniors and sophomores, are still adapting to the "new" system. Add to that the emotional let down of being beaten three times on double digit to nothing scores.

The Indians employ, like Belleville, a slot-I offense, and stick mainly to the ground. First year quarterback Frank Crockett (6, 195) is a little shaky on his passing, but does do a bit of running. Joining the hefty junior in the offensive backfield is another junior, Gene Dul (5-6, 140) who works the slotback spot, while sophomore Ed Scheider (5-8, 160) plays fullback. The only senior in the Passaic backfield is tailback Bob Molnar (5-10, 175), who is one of three performers who sees action both ways.

The Passaic front line, besides being inexperienced, is somewhat lighter than what it will be looking at all afternoon on Saturday. Senior Ken Dismuke (5-11, 200) at right tackle, is the heaviest Indian on the Passaic roster, and he lines up alongside right guard Jim Minneo (6, 141) one of the lightest players, save slotback Dul, who will see action.

At center will be two-way performer Mario Savvides (5-11, 190), one of Passaic's more experienced linemen, and to his left will be guard Howard Horowitz (5-10, 180), a sophomore, and brother Ted Horowitz (6, 195) at tackle. Split end for the Indians is Ira Lewis (6, 160), and Tony Mickolajczyk (5-10, 155), another sophomore, plays tight end.

Passaic's defensive platoon uses a "Penn State" formation, which looks like a 6-2, said Elsasser. While the Indian offense is young, not so the defense, which is almost completely made of seniors.

While Savvides takes care of right defensive tackle duties, Pete Boyadjian (5-7, 175) handles the left. Molnar and Tommy Navarro

Bellboy Aerial Game Falls Short of Mark

Despite its first full-blown aerial attack and 20-yard field goal by sophomore Mike Spear, the Belleville varsity football field was overcome for the third time this year, 7-3, by a powerful Nutley ground game.

Belleville's main runner, Steve Senatore, could only carve out 46 yards in 14 carries against the Maroon resistance, and several miscues tipped the scales in Nutley's direction. It happened like this:

First Quarter

Receiving the opening kickoff, the Bellboys set up their first offensive shop on their own 27, following a 12-yard return by Joe Pizzi. Head coach Tom Testa's warriors could move only two yards in the next three plays, however, before being set back five on their first infraction. A five-yard slash by Vinnie DeNotaris was not enough to save the home club from punting.

Taking the pigskin on their own 48, the Maroon powered almost 40 yards upfield, mostly on big to medium gains by Nutley halfback Lou Saporito. On the eighth play of the Raider series, however, a hard tackle shook loose the ball, and the Bellboys took possession by recovering the fumble on their own 15.

In this attack, the Nutley line zeroed in on Senatore, holding him down to two yards in two carries. Coach Testa then unleashed his passing game, and starting quarterback Rich Loma hit last week's quarterback Steve Gerard on a 49-yard bomber into Nutley territory. Though some of that yardage was eaten up when the anxious Bellboys went off-sides, the home squad moved ahead five more yards via DeNotaris legs before again having to punt.

In the last six plays of the quarter, Nutley barged ahead 44 yards on runs by halfback Saporito and fullback Lou Alessio, moving the Raiders to the Belleville 35 by the time the gun sounded.

Second Quarter

When play resumed, Nutley was hit five yards for being off-sides, and head coach Mario Cocchiola instructed his quarterback, Ricky Greco, to throw. Greco never got the chance, however. The unlucky Raider was sacked twice by Bellboy defenders, for a total loss of 12 yards. Nutley punted.

On the next play from scrimmage, Senatore found a hole and raced 15 yards upfield to his own 34. Still not out of danger, however, e Bellboys continued the ground offensive, Senatore and Gerard picking up eight more

HALFTIME at the Belleville-Nutley game was the occasion for some smiling as these two twirlers, along with the whole band, got their first chance to perform at home.

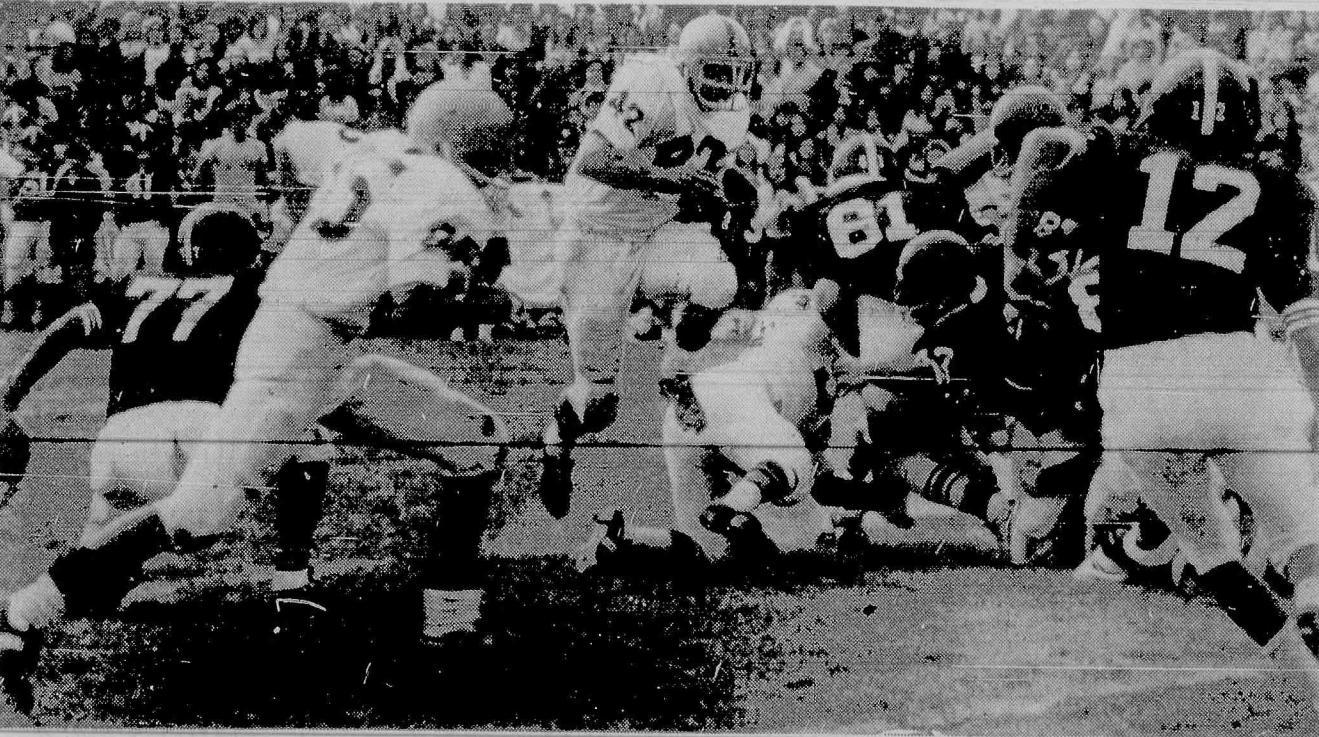

A TOUGH BELLBOY COMBO is found in Rich Loma (10) and pass protector Steve Senatore. Loma unleashed Belleville's first full-blown air game Saturday.

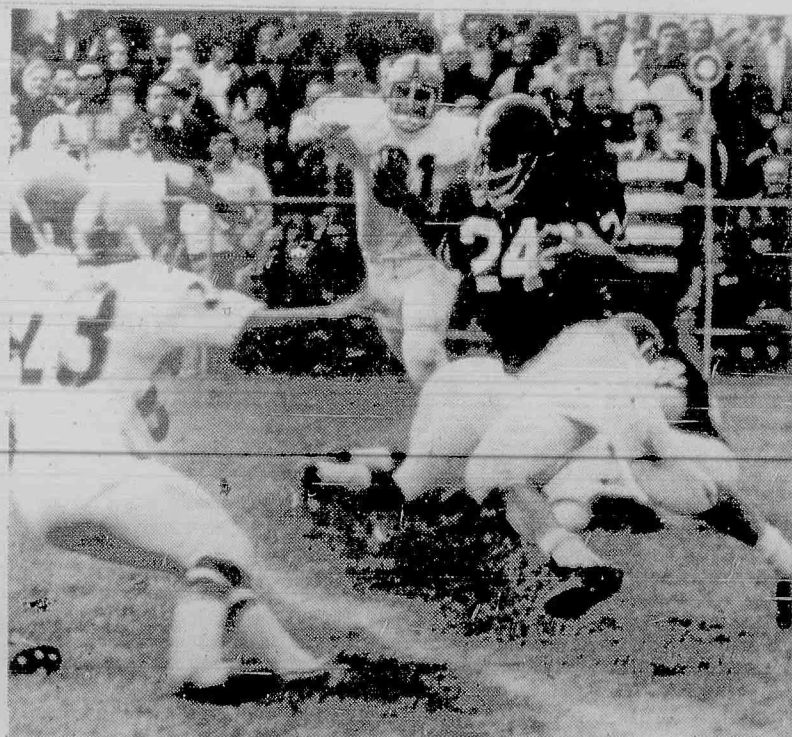

THE TALENTED TOE of Bellboy place-kicker Mike Spear gives flight to the football held by Rich Loma (10). This successful field goal attempt came midway through the second quarter. Belleville's only score came after a drive which started when the Bellboys recovered their own punt on the Nutley 30 yardline.

TOUCHDOWN RAIDERS! Buried beneath the pile-up somewhere is Maroon fullback Lou Alessio and the football he carried over for Nutley's (and the game's) only touchdown. Mark Cafone (23) and Bob Arnold (41) beat the referee to the punch with upraised arms.

GARGANTUAN RUNNING BACK Steve Senatore hurtles through a hole in the Maroon line. However, the gap was speedily plugged by Brian Imperiale (12) amongst others who held the Bellboys top rusher to six yards on this play. Senatore and Nutley defenders jostled each other all day as Senatore rushed for 46 yards.

LOU SAPORITO runs with agility as well as power. Here he reverses his field and heads to his right. Bellboy defenders, including Domenick Cicalese (23), are wise and hold Saporito for 4 yards.

Kiwanis Club Sets Homecoming Day

November 9 has been selected as the date for the fourth annual Belleville High School Homecoming Day, sponsored by the Belleville Kiwanis Club.

According to Kiwanis president Larry Gonnello, program chairman Frank Ritacco will hold the organizational meeting tonight, 8 p.m., in the Department of Parks and Public Property office in Town Hall. Those interested in assisting the Kiwanis effort are invited to attend this meeting, or to contact Gonnello at 751-0699 or 746-2424.

As in the past, the colorful event will start with a parade from Town Hall to Municipal Stadium, and will include the Belleville Kiwanis float, carrying the 1974 Homecoming queen.

Belleville Harriers Snagged by Nutley

The Belleville High cross country team was clipped 17-44 last Tuesday by a high ranked Nutley squad, leaving the home team with a season mark of 3-3 so far.

The Bellboys "took it on the chin," however, said coach Rich Ruffalo, and the Blue-Gold are expected to beat Eastside tomorrow, 3:45 p.m., in Belleville Park.

Tuesday, against the Maroon Raiders, Bellboy Nelson Seda learned a lesson about trying to keep pace with someone who's in the process of breaking the course record. Seda stayed in hot pursuit of Nutley's Howie Hirsch for two miles before plummeting from second to seventh place, while the Nutley runner ripped off a winning time of 14:46, —14 seconds better than anyone has ever run the Belleville course before.

Top Belleville finisher, it turned out, was not determined Seda, but teammate Jim Beck at 15:37 for fourth place. Mike Hirsch, meanwhile, the winner's brother, dropped from third to sixth spot when he tried to keep Seda in his sights. The undefeated Nutley squad took all but fourth and seventh spots in the top nine, while coach Ruffalo's third-ranked Bellboy, Walt Siubis, tried to run but could not keep up due to illness.

Siubis's illness and Seda's miscalculation, said the Belleville coach, resulted in a somewhat lopsided looking score. Belleville's big cluster finished tenth through 14th in the contest, Doug Wamsley leading the way with a 17:03 time. Behind him were Brian Wood, 11th, at 17:06; Kevin Bradley, 12th, at 17:15; Mike Fortino, 13th, at 17:18; and Keith Allum at 17:23. John Matera was the last Bellboy in, save Siubis who had to stop twice during the race.

From here on out, at least, the Bellboys should have clear sailing right up to the last meet of the season with tough Kearny. If all goes well, says coach Ruffalo, "we should win the next five," which would put the Blue-Gold runners at 8-3 by the time they meet Kearny on November 19.

After Eastside, the Bellboys host Irvington, October 22, then meet Bloomfield, also at home, October 29.

Broncos Suffer First Loss

The Belleville Broncos lost their first game this season last weekend when Montclair hosted the local club and sent it home on the short end of a 26-6 score.

The Broncos are now 4-1 this year, and have yet to meet several other tough opponents before the Essex Junior Football League season comes to a close. Next week, on Sunday, Oct. 20, the Broncos face St. Pauls of Jersey City, 2 p.m., at the Jersey City State College gridiron next to Roosevelt Stadium.

The Montclair-Belleville

game went like this:

First Quarter

Belleville received the opening kickoff and returned the ball to its 38 yard line. The Broncos then drove to the Mountie 20, where they were held on downs and turned over the ball. Montclair, in turn, barreled to the Belleville 14 before being stopped.

Second Quarter

Midway through the second period the Montclair unit scored on a 25-yard reverse run by Deryl Jackson. A pass for the extra point was incomplete, and the Mounties led, 6-0. Belleville received the kickoff and drove to the opponent's 11-yard line for a first down. In four plays the Broncos could not hit pay dirt, and the half ended 6-0 Montclair.

Third Quarter

On the first play of the second half, Mountie Tom Racioppi scored on a 44-yard run over left tackle. The extra point was no good, but Montclair had stretched its lead to 12-0. Belleville failed to move the ball in the next series, and punted to its own 49. Again on first down, Racioppi broke loose through the left side and raced 49 yards for another score. An extra point aerial from Racioppi to Jackson was good, and Montclair was up 20-0.

Fourth Quarter

Montclair increased its lead to 26-0 in a four-yard dash by Brendon Smith. The Broncos did not give up the ship, however, and scored on a 29-yard run by Jerry Fazzini. The attempted Belleville conversion pass failed, leaving the score 26-6. That was not the end of the Bronco attack, however. Still determined to put up a fight, the Belleville unit recovered an on-sides kick and drove to the Montclair 16 yard line, where four passes were incomplete and time ran out.

Tom Racioppi was the star of the day, carrying 13 times for 216 yards.

The Bellboys scored first against the Campers on Tuesday, and kept the opposition on the run until a fourth quarter Camper goal broke a 2-2 tie.

Libby Iantelli will go down in history as the first Belleville soccer player to score for his alma mater, and Mario deVoogt had the first assist. Though the Campers tied it up 1-1 in the second period, Herman Borja put one past the Irvington goalie to again move the Bellboys ahead. He was assisted by Mike Freda.

The campers summoned their forces (composed of several varsity players as well as jayvee) to tie the game 2-2 in the third, and when Bellboy defensive ace John Pontrella had to leave the game with a muscle spasm, the Campers moved in for the kill.

Named captain of the week earlier by coach Cahill, Pontrella "played an unbelievably good defensive ball game." The rest of the Bellboys, too, put in sound performances, while goal keeper Nick Semaca was credited with 15 saves.

In assessing the upcoming Columbia match, the Belleville coach took into consideration, he said, some injuries in the Bellboys ranks that hopefully will be healed by tomorrow. Against the Campers, Cahill had to do without left wing Mike Polega, whose absence on injury forced Cahill to rearrange his lineup.

Tuesday's performance represented a considerable

(5-9, 170) serve as inside linebackers, and Harry Ferguson (6, 180) and John Cherami (5-11, 170) are linebackers outside.

Offensive guard Minneo may see action as a defensive end, along with Mike Massenzio (5-11, 175).

Fred Wiggins (5-8, 155) at safety is one of Passaic's few underclass defenders, joined in the secondary by defensive halfbacks Picky Perry (5-7, 140) and John Stephens (5-10, 160).

Whether the Indians are green or not, coach Elsasser is not conceding the ball game, he hastens to add. Anything can happen any time on a football field. "If it wasn't that way, we wouldn't be out here."

Testa wants to see the Bellboys in the winner's column, and plans to play some "steady football" to satisfy that desire.

Those who believe all they hear are relatives of those who believe all they read.

improvement over a match one week ago with Montclair. The Bellboys lost that one 3-0, though one shot into the goal by deVoogt was nullified on a penalty. After that third period episode, the Bellboys lost their aggressiveness, said the coach, and Montclair scored all three of its goals.

The best sign in the upcoming Columbia match is Belleville's performance earlier this year against the Columbia freshmen. The frosh Cougars have consistently knocked the socks off their jayvee counterparts, and when Belleville met the Cougar youngsters, the game went into overtime.

After Columbia, the Bellboys are scheduled to meet Kearny, October 25, away

Frosh Unit Zips Nutley A la Pizzi

The Belleville High School freshman football team is today sporting a 2-1 record after clobbering Nutley 26-0 last Friday in the Nutley Park Oval.

Tomorrow the Bellboy frosh are looking for win number three when they meet the Seton Hall frosh, 3:45 p.m., at Clearman Field.

Last Friday, against the Maroon Raiders, Belleville's Frank Pizzi was a regular point machine as he zipped off three touchdowns in the course of the afternoon. Pizzi's first trek into the end zone came on a 12-yard dash in the first period, and Mike Limongelli converted.

Later, in the same period, Bellboy quarterback Dean Campana connected with Flip Francesco over a 14-yard span in the end zone, and Limongelli again put his trained leg to good use.

Pizzi went back into action in the second period, catching a Nutley punt and returning 80 yards for the touchdown, putting the Maroon Raiders 20 points points in arrears. Though an attempted two point conversion pass failed, Pizzi wasted little time in scoring again before halftime, this time on a 15-yard run into the zone, much to the pleasure of coaches Carl Carino and Joe Vitello.

The Bellboy freshman last week beat Columbia 32-12 after losing to West Essex 12-0 in the season opener.

School No. 5 PTA Sets First Meeting

Belleville School No. Five will hold its first Parent-Teachers Association business meeting for the 1974-75 year on Monday, Oct. 21. Also included will be a fashion show presented by the Cerebral Palsy Association featuring teachers from the staff of School Five modeling.

Beck's Column

Beck's Column.

While talking about a service contract for a color TV, a customer stated that he would not buy it for his automobile.

There is a vast difference, of course. A car is a very rugged piece of machinery, while a color TV set is the most complicated and sensitive apparatus in the house. But not only that, a color picture tube in many cases costs as much (or more) than the rest of the whole set in the smaller sizes. Even for a color TV set which costs about $600. — the picture tube represents about 40% of the price. There is not one part in an automobile which costs 40% of the total price. If there is a defect in the transmission, the motor or chassis, it is one or possibly several relatively inexpensive parts which are needed. None of them cost even nearly 40% of the price of a car, including a whole new set of new tires.

The above is an oversimplification, of course. There are a lot of other things which can not possibly be compared. We service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV Hi-Fi Nutley 667-4225

You want to say "Happy Birthday" to Aunt Mary in Los Angeles, but you can't see spending the person-to-person premium rate. And you don't want to call collect, or charge it, or make it a third number billed call, or a coin phone call (all of which cost extra because they involve an operator). So, you take the least expensive option of all: get the area code from the front of your phone book and dial Aunt Mary yourself.

Varsity Scores Field Goal, But Loses, 7-3, to Nutley

for the Blue-Gold. When a Loma-Gerard pass failed on the next play, Belleville punted, then recovered the ball when the Nutley punt returner couldn't hang on to it.

Amid the howls of approval from the Belleville stands, the Bellboys again assumed the attack, putting the marbles in Senatore's hands for the next four plays.

The Raiders, however, were getting wise to the mighty tailback's ways, and with each run gave him less and less yardage. Loma again took to the air, and Mark Cosenzo was in perfect position to snag the pigskin for a 15-yard gain to the Nutley six-yard stripe.

What seemed a certain touchdown drive was ill-fated, however. For all their previous progress, the Bellboys could not penetrate further — at least on the ground. An illegal motion call cost the Blue-Gold five yards, though that was regained by Senatore. DeNotaris was hit five yards behind the line, and Loma could not connect to make up, leaving the Bellboys fourth down and five.

The most logical thing was to try the field goal, and sophomore Mike Spear deftly put the ball through the uprights for the first score of the game.

Nutley spent the rest of the remaining minutes of the half scrambling for a quick comeback score, and on the strength of a 25-yard pass to end Bobby Arnold, was moving inside the Belleville 20 when the gun went off.

Nutley kicker Jeff DeBarbieri converted, and the Maroon had the lead, 7-3.

Belleville's troubles were not over, however. Senatore was hit by a Nutley tackler at the line of scrimmage on the first play after kickoff, and the pigskin was dislodged straight into Saporito's waiting arms on the Bellboy 29.

Testa put Loma back to work, and Joe Panlone snared the opening pass for a 13-yard gain. When Senatore could go nowhere, Loma threw twice more, finally hitting Panlone for five more yards. Too little too late, though, and the Blue-Gold punted once more.

This time around the Maroon went on a 15-play spree, eating up valuable time in the process.

Fourth Quarter
By the time the Bellboys stopped the Raiders, there was little left for an offensive. Scoring would not have been impossible, however.

Senatore was good for nine yards on the first drive, bringing the ball about one inch from a first down. On his next effort, however, the mighty tailback stumbled and fell two yards behind the line; and on a third and two situation, Loma threw unsuccessfully. Too deep in their own terrain to risk going for it, the Bellboys punted away what appeared to be their last viable opportunity to come from behind.

Though the Blue-Gold defensive machinery damped the next Nutley offensive, there was only moments remaining in the game by the time the Bellboys regained possession.

Loma reeled off six passes, two of them caught by Gerard and Panlone. Another bounced off the back of Senatore's head, as if to indicate the futility of the endeavor. The gun final gun popped as the Bellboys turned over the ball.

SQUELCHED behind the line is Bellboy fullback Vin DeNotaris.

Third Quarter

Nutley's consistent ability to move the ball became most apparent following Bellboy Mike Cancellieri's kickoff opening the second half. Starting from their own 37, the Maroon moved downfield and into the end zone in 14 plays, most of that yardage accumulated by Saporito, who avoided Belleville tacklers like the black plague.

Nutley quarterback reco also got off a 13-yard aerial to halfback Mark Cofone, bringing the Maroon nine yards from pay dirt. Saporito carried twice more for seven yards, and fullback Alessio threw himself over a pile of Bellboys for the touchdown. The Bellboys, who were apparently not altogether convinced that Alessio's dive had succeeded, were noticeably upset.

Two BHS Class Presidents Lead Student Senate Efforts

By Diane Floria

Among the senior and junior senates are two figureheads known by all: Chris Manning, senior class president, and Vito Guarino, President of the junior class.

Chris, originally from Belleville, attended school five followed by Belleville Jr. High. Among his pastimes are, collecting "oldies," and enjoying a mountain view. Chris enjoys many sports, however, he does not participate in school sports. In the future, Chris would like to study medicine and eventually become a doctor.

Vito Guarino, another alumni of school five, is the junior class president. Vito is a member of both the varsity football and track teams. Vito plans to someday be a lawyer.

Both presidents have positive plans for the present school year. On the agenda are dances, sales, student activities, and hard work to help the faculty and student body become a whole.

The senior senate is now working on non-profit activities such as a senior citizens dance and work in the orphanage. A committee is being formed to paint a mural on the cafeteria wall. Another project which is going to keep the seniors on their feet is a play. For the juniors much will be done to raise money for their upcoming prom.

If ever you need to contact either president you will most likely find them in the halls of Belleville High School. They would be the ones saying, "Buy a ticket to the....."

Journalism taught by Mrs. Weintraub. In this course, a student learns about the newspaper and its parts, he learns how to interview someone or research a topic and then report on it. Each week the best articles are published on the student page of the The Belleville Times. The history of journalism and its theories are also taught.

The second course offered is Contemporary Periodicals which is taught by Mrs. Applegate. This course is a different approach to the study of English. It gets away from the normal English literature course. The students study the parts of the magazine and read the articles, then discuss them. They also study techniques in advertising and what influences people to buy the magazine.

The third course is Creative Writing, which Mrs. McFarland teaches. This course shows a student how to use words more creatively and descriptively. The student learns how to use his imagination and observe things

After-School Gym Program Keeps Hardwood Crowded

By Brian Wood

Students at Belleville High School last month were informed of a relatively new athletic program in school: students wishing to play basketball after school, would be permitted to play in the gym from 2:35 to 4:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The after-school basketball should run up until the beginning of the basketball season in mid-November giving players plenty of time to perfect their skills for the coming season and letting others just enjoy the sport of basketball and the tough competition.

This program is under the watchful supervision of Mr. Daniel Grasso head coach of the Belleville varsity basketball squad. Mr. Grasso is not permitted to give instruction to the players until after the official season begins, but is willing to devote his free time to keep things under control in the gym. He feels this action will get more students involved in the basketball program at B.H.S.

As of this writing, the program has proven to be a huge success, with players filling nearly all the six courts in the gym.

Many players feel that the open gym is an excellent idea, giving one the use of the fine equipment, plus the advantage of playing on a wooden court.

The divider between the boys' and girls' gym is removed exposing a full court which again is an advantage giving the players the opportunity to play all out, similar to real game conditions.

All hope this program will be put into effect next year for it has proven to be a very successful idea for high school students.

Little Theater Prepping For Merriment, Mishap

If you think other people have problems with their taxes these days, come up and see the merriment, and mishap that befalls Bob and Mary McKellaway, when after nine months of being divorced, they have to get together to straighten out their tax forms. All this and more will be happening when Nutley Little Theatre presents "Mary", "Mary" by Jean Kerr, Friday, October 25, and Saturday, October 26, in Nutley High School auditorium, 300 Franklin Avenue, at 8 p.m.

Tony Betta, a resident of Irvington, is directing the play and Sally Goodson is in charge of production. Appearing as Mary is Linda Greenberg, of Montclair, and Dennis Harding will play Bob.

The part of Oscar Nelson, Bob's tax lawyer, will be played by Jack Althoff. Jack attended Yale University's graduate school of drama where he acted with the Yale University Players. Jack also appeared in summer stock productions at the Harbor Playhouse in Massachusetts and the Mount Gretna Playhouse in Pennsylvania. Jack acted in N.L.T.'s production of "Irish Rose" and "Harvey."

Ray Ciccone will act the role of Dirk Winston, one of Bob's old Navy buddies, who went on to become a movie star, and now wants Bob to publish his memoirs. Ray has acted with the Baltimore Actors Theatre in Maryland and also has had a T.V. show in Baltimore called The Family Counselor. More recently Ray has acted in "Auntie Mame" with the Livingston Players.

The part of Tiffany Richards, Bob's fiancee will be played by Jeanne Lidlow. Jeanne has come to Nutley from San Antonio, Texas, where she acted in several plays such as "You Can't Take It With You," and "The Night Of January 16th."

Valley residents slam Active Oil

By KEN MOORE Times-News staff writer

A vocal band of Valley residents packed Commission chambers Tuesday night and bitterly denounced the attempt by an oil reclamation firm to move their operation onto Main Street.

The outcry of opinion, preceded by picketing outside Town Hall before the meeting, came on the heels of an order by Judge Nicholas Scalera in Superior Court Friday demanding from Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio an issuance or denial of a building permit for Active Oil Service within 10 days. The Judge also barred Public Works Commissioner Mary V. Senatore from exerting any "influence or coercion, either direct or indirect" on Mustacchio during his deliberations. Mrs. Senatore has had Mustacchio under standing orders to hold up the permit for Active since spring.

Mustacchio said this week he will comply with the judge's order to make his decision and provide written reasons for that decision.

After Mayor Joseph McGreevy opened the floor for comments from citizens Tuesday night, the following occurred in rapid succession:

• Gus Servidio of 214 Ralph Street asked all five Commissioners to go on record with their opinion of Active Oil Service, a firm which cleans industrial burners and reclaims usable oil from the sludge. Mrs. Senatore and many Valley residents maintain the firm will be detrimental to the welfare of the community, having been ordered by a Superior Court judge to cease the operation in Carlstadt for water pollution.

Mayor McGreevy responded that Mustacchio must make his decision under court order and he did not want to prejudice the building inspector's position by public comment.

• Mrs. Lois Servidio told the Commissioners that if Active Oil comes into the Valley, "God forbid anything should happen, will you be able to live with yourself?" Commissioner Michael Marotti angrily replied, "you're blaming the five Commissioners for this and I have yet to even see a plan." Commissioner Senatore said "I haven't seen a plan either. The site plan for Active Oil is missing, and it's the first time in seven and a half years anything was missing from that office."

"You worked on Active Oil for a year," responded Marotti, "and not once did you come before the Board of Commissioners."

• Mrs. Senatore announced she would take the case to the Board of Adjustment if Mustacchio grants the permit to Active. Judge Scalera on Friday said this is the only proper recourse, outside the court, she can take to overturn a decision by the building inspector. She called on the other four Commissioners to back her in the challenge.

• Town Attorney John Scott, who was passed over in favor of local attorney Lawrence Schwartz to argue Mrs. Senatore's case, asked the Commissioner what grounds she would use before the Board of Adjustment. Scott said he sympathized with the residents but could find no legal grounds to bar Active.

Drive in motion to retain Greco

An apparently spontaneous drive was set in motion Monday night to retain Anthony Greco as Superintendent of Schools. The School Board accepted Greco's decision to resign last June by a 5-2 vote after awarding him an 18 percent salary increase for his last year in office.

Though spokesman Chris Albanese asked the Board at its Monday night meeting to reconsider accepting Greco's resignation, Board President Matthew Pica assured him the schoolers would discuss the matter. Albanese told the Times-News the group would return to the next regularly scheduled Board meeting, set for November 25, to get their answer.

There had been no advance signs of a groundswell of public opinion for Greco's retention, and the superintendent said he had not and would not take any initiative to change the Board's mind. However, the seven-year superintendent would not say his decision to resign was still final. He confirmed he has not contacted any other school systems about future employment, but said, "there's a lot of things I could do and intend to do, I'm too young to throw in the towel now."

Estimates of the size of the group present to push for Greco's retention ranged

Belleville sign language

Question: what's the first thing you see in Belleville when you drive into town from Bloomfield?

Answer: that's hard to answer, because it's hard to tell where Belleville begins and Bloomfield leaves off.

Does it matter? Well, to the Belleville Times-News it apparently does.

Please see editorial on page 4.

This week the Times-News has begun a campaign to place "Welcome to Belleville" signs — or something equally appropriate — at the main entrance points to Belleville. A number of local service clubs and organizations have agreed to help out with the project, which is designed to promote better community spirit and community awareness, and to show that spirit to passers-through.

"We developed the concept for this campaign in conferences with our Publisher," said Times-News editor Kenneth Moore. "We've all got to think about Belleville's future," he added, "and we decided the place to start is at the borders of town. We want to find out what Belleville people think of their town, and what they want their visitors to think of Belleville."

According to Cornelius VanderZwan, public relations chairman of the Belleville Kiwanis, the "Welcome to Belleville" sign campaign is not the first. Harry French, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, confirmed that, noting that an effort by the Belleville Rotary to set up border signs representing all local service and fraternal groups somehow never got off the ground. "What you need is an impulse from the Times," said French, and offered the Chamber office as a place to meet with representatives from all local organizations.

In conjunction with co-chairmen of the project, Chief of Police Joseph Smith, and Everett Davey, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, editor Moore is now formulating plans on how best to approach the situation.

Health Dept. initiates bedside care program

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo of the Department of Public Affairs announced this week the opening of a free bedside nursing care program for patients recuperating after a stay at the hospital.

The program, which goes into effect Tuesday, will make public health nurses available to Belleville residents for an hour each day, upon doctor's order only. A letter was sent out this week under Strumolo's name to all Belleville physicians announcing the plan. Under the terms of the program, the Town cannot administer the free nursing care without an initial instruction from a patient's doctor, except for non-medical services.

The program is designed basically for patients returning from hospital care, and without anyone to help them during their recuperation period. Each day, they would be visited for up to one hour by one of six nurses employed by the Health Department. According to Strumolo, no new nurses have been added to the staff, which has remained at six for the past 20 years. Under a new state law, public nurses are now permitted to give injections and perform other vital services, with doctor's approval.

Public Affairs aide Ralph Risoli said he believes the new Home Health Care Program to be the first of its kind in the state. The program has been in planning for two years.

Van Dyk Inc. to leave town

Van Dyk Inc., a chemical manufacturer at William and Main Streets and a loser in a recent variance decision, will leave Belleville soon.

The disclosure came from Mayor Joseph McGreevy during the course of Tuesday night's heated Commission meeting at which over 70 Valley residents showed up to protest efforts by an oil reclamation firm to move into Belleville.

Like Active Oil Service, the oil company, Van Dyk was the target of Valley protestors in recent months when they sought a variance to expand their Main Street warehouse. McGreevy, during Tuesday night's wide-ranging debate, injected that he had learned of Van Dyk's plans on Monday.

Reconsidering?

Maybe. Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco would not deny he would reconsider his resignation submitted last June to the Board of Ed, if the Board were to ask him back. Although there are no signs the Board is inclined to do so, a group of residents Monday night told the schoolers to think about it.

Signing in

The sign at the left is one of the better-looking ones welcoming visitors into Belleville at various border points. Can something better be found? A broad-based community effort will find out.

Lovers?

Yes and no. The hectic romance of Fanny Brice, played by Vicki Guarino (left) and Nick Arnstein, played by Victor Lupinacci will be recounted in a Family Playhouse debut tomorrow night. See story on page 3.
