Signal campaign

Senior citizens and residents of the Branch Brook Drive area will be pleased to know the petitions they signed last spring to have a traffic signal erected on Belleville Avenue is getting results. Freeholder Joseph Iannuzzi, vice chairman of the Freeholders' Highways and Bridges Committee reports the signal needs only "routine" approval from the State Department of Transportation.

The petition drive for the signal, which would provide regulated crossing for residents using the park (among them senior citizens attending the park center) was given impetus when an 81-year-old resident was struck by a car near the intersection last June.

Iannuzzi, who accepted the petitions on behalf of residents, said the only step left to be taken is by the state, which only has to "go through the paperwork."

Hotline disconnected

Early last year, the Public Affairs Department, amid the usual fanfare, instituted a new program designed to give drug information for the asking — by phone. That "drug hotline" program was quietly folded up by the department only three months after its inception. The reason: no calls.

Town Registrar Ralph Risoli, aide to Director Vincent Strumolo, says the department's drug abuse program has been overhauled to focus on visits to parent-teacher school groups for films and lectures. Asked about the long-gone hotline, he said, "You'd have to talk to Steve Rogers about that. He's the one who had the phone installed in his home."

Rogers, a member of the Drug Abuse Advisory Council, had volunteered to take calls on the hotline during night hours, but later asked to have the phone taken out when no calls came in. "All I got were a few wrong numbers for Clara Maass Hospital," he said. "Our numbers were very similar."

Racing the weather

For Commissioner Michael Marotti, director of the Department of Parks and Public Property, autumn means more than falling leaves — it means winter's not far behind, and he's moving on all fronts to finish his outdoor projects by year's end.

Among these is the proposed senior citizens' center on Franklin Avenue and Mill Streets, a year-old plan that was progressing rather well until Marotti ran into red tape from the County, which wanted a strip of land on Franklin Avenue deeded to Essex County for an eventual widening of the thoroughfare. Marotti complied, and turned the paperwork over to Town Attorney John Scott.

After the deed is processed, Marotti will start digging on the site, probably about November 1, shooting for a completion date sometime around the end of December.

Zoning board adjourns, resumes November 12

A variance hearing for the construction of a three-story professional building on Joralemon Street was postponed last Thursday when one member of the Belleville Zoning Board fell suddenly ill during the testimony.

The hearing of the application of Nansen Belleville, Inc., 729-739 Joralemon Street, will be resumed November 12.

Last Thursday, both the applicants and their supporters, and several objectors to the construction, left the Town Hall chambers shortly after 10:30 p.m. when Board member Aldo DiChiara developed a nosebleed that could not be stopped. The meeting was adjourned and DiChiara was escorted to a hospital for treatment.

Prior to the Board member's misfortune, however, both the applicants and some of the objectors were able to present their cases. The proposed construction, which would be located in a residence A zone, has undergone several changes since its first presentation to the Board, testified architect Myron A. Vigod. Basically consisting of two floors of office space built over a ground level parking area, the revised plans call for a reduction of 4,000 square feet of floor space, and the elimination of 11 parking spaces, said the architect, leaving a new total of 71.

Former priest aided by fund

A group of Belleville residents, together with the Belleville Amvets Post 26 have formed a committee to raise funds for a former priest who served at St. Anthony's parish.

The former clergyman, Edward Scandone had served at St. Anthony's for ten years, from June 1959 to June, 1969. During that time he was responsible for all youth activities. He also served as Moderator of various adult societies. He was also involved in marriage counseling and was a familiar figure visiting the sick in local hospitals.

In February of this year Scandone was operated on for a brain tumor. The result of his illness has left him completely incapacitated. He is currently being cared for by his wife and family at his home in Hackensack.

home in Hackensack.

The committee has sent out over 1500 letters asking for contributions. In addition, a benefit night will be held on Thursday, November 21, at the Amvets Hall on Newark Avenue in Belleville. Donations are also being accepted by the Telegram. Any checks should be made payable to the "Edward Scandone Life Fund" and may be mailed to the Telegram or dropped off at any of the following stores: Sal's Deli, Newark Avenue; Joe Raimo's Delicatessen, Sylvestro's Market and L & S Drugs, all on Franklin Street and Mike's Cigo Station on Franklin Avenue. Additional information can be obtained by calling 759-3585 or 751-4557.

Kiwanis gains in cloth drive

This year's Kiwanis Cloth for Cancer Drive will break all previous records, Project Chairman Armand Russo predicted this week.

While the annual campaign to collect cloth to be made into dressings for cancer patients is far ahead of schedule, said Russo, he urged all Belleville residents to avail themselves of this opportunity to help the unfortunate cancer victims by depositing worn sheets, shirts or pillow cases of any color in receptacles placed conveniently throughout town. The final pickup by the Kiwanians will be Saturday, Nov. 2.

Drop-off locations for the Cloth for Cancer Drive are: all Belleville schools; Laterza's Drugstore; Newark Light; Louaie Men's Shop; Town Hall; Fidelity Union Trust; the Belleville Travel Agency; and Cedar Hill Oil.

At the kick-off meeting for the drive, Kiwanis members literally donated the shirts of their back.

On its way — Mayor Joseph McGreevy signs a proclamation recognizing the efforts of the United Way campaign. Also shown is Robert Kennedy, chairman of the drive in Belleville.

United Way moving

Robert M. Kennedy, assistant vice-president of the People's National Bank and Trust Company of Belleville, has been appointed Chairman of the 1975 Belleville campaign of the United Way of Essex and West Hudson, by William L. Hoffman, Suburban Chairman.

Kennedy is a native of Belleville and now lives in West Caldwell with his wife and three daughters. In addition to being manager of the Tri-City Branch of the bank, Kennedy is its personnel director. He is active in Belleville Lions Club.

Kennedy hopes to raise a record $9,000 in the Belleville residential and small business appeal. "If every resident of Belleville and every businessman does his share, we will have no trouble reaching our goal," said Kennedy. "Every family in Belleville has been helped by a United Way agency at some time — whether by the Family Service Bureau, Salvation Army, Red Cross, help for retarded or handicapped children, or youth activities like YM-YWCA or scouting. If we want these services in our town, we must all help to support them."

Kennedy went on to point out at money raised by the United Way is allocated to its over 100 agencies by a committee of community minded volunteers, from many walks of life, who serve without pay on the Board of Trustees and the Agency Relations and Allocations Committee. These dedicated volunteers make it possible for 87.6 percent of the money raised to go directly to program services, as contrasted with many independent funds which spend from 30 percent to 50 percent for campaign and administrative costs.

"The United Way helps over half a million people a year in the Essex-West Hudson area," concluded Kennedy. "Don't you honestly think the United Way deserves your support?"

'Funny Girl' tomorrow

Tomorrow is the big night for the Family Playhouse when "Funny Girl"—the first FP show of the season—opens at 8 p.m. in the local theater on Brookline Avenue, Nutley. Featuring a large cast of Belleville and Nutley amateurs, "Funny Girl" stars

Vicki Guarino as Fanny Brice, and Victor Lupinacci, a theater major at Montclair State College, as Fanny's boyfriend, Nick Arnstein.

Tickets may be reserved for opening night by calling 667-4471, or they may be obtained at the door. Seats are $3 and $4.

"Funny Girl" will run for a total of nine performances, continuing both Saturday and Sunday this weekend, and running Friday through Sunday on the next two weekends, November 1-3 and 8-10. Friday and Saturday performances start at 8 p.m., while on Sundays the lights go up at 3 p.m.

Along with Vicki and Victor, Rose Ann Truppo is scheduled to appear as Fanny's mother, Mrs. Brice. The part of Eddie Ryan—Fanny's longtime friend—is played by Jim Rosa of Lyndhurst, an 18-year-old freshman at Rutgers University.

In the part of Florenz Ziegfeld, John Notari of Belleville is cast. He's a junior at Belleville High, but has

Parents to study busing

Members of a group of irate parents who showed up to complain Monday night at a Board of Education meeting about what they termed "unfair busing practices" in Belleville were persuaded to join with the Board in seeking a solution to their complaint.

The parents, many of them from the Smallwood Avenue area, told the board they were dissatisfied with the arbitrary guideline set by the trustees which allows school-financed busing only for students who live outside a 1.7 mile limit for elementary grades and junior high school.

Fifteen to 20 parents were present to present their case to the board, but by the end of the evening, many had turned over their names as volunteers to serve on a committee to study busing here. After the residents and school members discussed and debated the issue at length, board member G. Fred Burlazzi proposed the formulation of a committee. Board President Matthew Pica gave the group until November 30 to study the problem and report to the board with "conclusions and recommendations." Member Richard Mahmarian will serve as chairman, and Board Vice President Caesar Romano as co-chairman.

Welcome to Belleville

"Welcome to Belleville."

Have you had the opportunity lately to greet a visitor with those words? Do you care that strangers to our town are given a friendly greeting and a good first impression as they cross over our town borders?

Chances are it's among the least of your concerns. No doubt you don't have the time to worry about each and every visitor coming into town, and how they'll feel about their reception in Belleville.

But you don't have to spend your spare time on the Nutley or Newark line, with your hands extended to passing motorists and pedestrians. You can join with other Bellevilleites in sending out a common greeting through a permanent landmark that will let our visitors know we're glad to see them coming into our town.

The Times-News feels a little friendly "sign language" is in order and we're forming the "Welcome to Belleville Committee" for a single purpose: to erect new welcome signs at the borders of Belleville, or refurbish existing signs until we're giving the message to outsiders that we're proud to be living and working in Belleville.

There's a feeling among many citizens today that while community spirit in Belleville may not be dead, it has gone underground. We feel there's a community of 40,000 citizens here who will give a damn about Belleville when the future of the town is at stake, and a hard look at political, social and economic trends shows that time is coming. The closing years of the '70s may be great or terrible for Belleville, but they will be critical. We can decide which way this town will go.

We'll need a new spirit if we're going to come out on top after these critical years are over. The Times-News realizes that new welcome signs will not substantially alter the character of Belleville in a material way, but it's a place to start, and if we can't accomplish even this limited goal, then we'll have to say we're wrong about the potential for town pride we think is inside each and every resident here.

What are we saying to visitors with our existing border signs? Service groups here have erected their own signs, and a few placards briefly describe Belleville as the "Cherry Blossom Capital". There's a sign urging residents to "Keep Belleville Clean," but that sign itself is plastered with political campaign stickers. There is no existing sign which lists all our worthy service groups and fine churches together.

The Times-News wants to change that, and we're looking for a committee of like-minded residents who feel the same way. Already, the response has been encouraging. Police Chief Joseph Smith and Everett Davey, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have volunteered to chair the Welcome to Belleville Committee, and officers of several organizations have pledged their support. We'll be in contact with service organizations throughout Belleville to see who's interested in helping out.

A campaign for new welcome signs can't make it on enthusiasm and hard work alone. We can't deny that money is necessary, and the Times-News will donate the first $100 toward getting the job done.

Let's show our visitors how we feel about our town. Let's make "community pride" more than a fancy phrase in Belleville.

K.M.

By due process

Judge Nicholas Scalera last week told Commissioner Mary Senatore to cease interfering with the administrative judgements of her building inspector, Vincent Mustacchio. We feel it was time for someone of authority to get this message to Mrs. Senatore.

Judge Scalera, in handing down his court order noted the position of building inspector is to be filled by a qualified and licensed expert, and the judgements of that expert are to be heeded when any person or firm applies for a building permit in Belleville. The judge said if Mrs. Senatore, or any other citizen, disagrees with the opinion of the building inspector, there is recourse to the Zoning Board of Adjustment or the courts.

There is a theory known as "due process" of the law which directs the workings of our court. The building inspector is a law enforcement official charged with upholding the zoning ordinances of this town. He must be sure he is working with the full authority of his office when pondering any administrative decision, and Judge Scalera's order has assured Vincent Mustacchio he has that authority.

Whatever decision the building inspector reaches in the Active Oil case, there must be no question that political influence or pressure was involved. Belleville is in desperate need of public officials who have the authority, conscience and determination to make decisions that are good for the Town as a whole.

K.M.

Thank you, Production

It isn't customary for newspaper people to use their publication to discuss it's company's internal affairs, but with the advent of the reborn Belleville Times-News, an exception must be made.

Those of us who first dreamed of a new paper in Belleville want everyone in town to know how much cooperation and help we received from the members of our production department at Herald Publications. Not once were we refused assistance when we needed it, and more than once it was the advice of our comrades that solved problems we couldn't handle by ourselves.

A newspaper, of course, is a very delicate thing in some respects. Its quality depends on the efforts of many hands and minds, from the publisher on down. The new Belleville Times-News is a product of cooperation born of genuine concern, and while it will never be perfect, it is a tribute to the power of community and organizational pride.

As such, we, the editors, must express our gratitude to our sales people, paste-up experts, camera men, typists, copy readers, pressmen, office staff and everyone else who took his or her time to offer a suggestion, helping hand or pat on the back. It is to them we owe the fulfillment of our hopes, and the hopes of an enlivened community spirit in Belleville, New Jersey.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

A good deal

Although it obviously seemed injudicious to those familiar with the public bidding laws for the Town of Belleville to have originally continued extension of its scavenger service contract, which had expired, without calling for bids on a new contract; none-the-less, the court ordered ruling that the town had to readvertise and call for bids has patently redounded to the taxpayer's advantage.

L. Pucillo and Sons of Lodi, who has been performing the service for the Town at a cost of $428,000 per year, joined the two parties which had instituted the legal action against the town that brought about the court order to readvertise in submitting bids.

Announced figures of the bids received indicate that not only did the present scavenger, L. Pucillo and Sons, submit the lowest bids, but that his offer to dispose of the town's garbage for the next five years at the price of $1,850,000 comes to $290,000 less than he would have been getting had he continued to receive the present $428,000 a year.

Reduced to a yearly basis this comes to a savings to the town of $58,000 which amounts to around a reduction of about 2 1/2 tax points . . . not bad at a time of runaway, soaring inflation.

Letters

Laterza rapped on parking rule

(This letter was addressed to Commissioner of Public Safety Robert Laterza. A copy was furnished to the Times-News by the writer.—Ed.)

To the Editor:

As a citizen of this community and a resident of Cedar Hill Avenue, I demand that the parking regulations recently put into effect on that street be rescinded immediately.

In their present state regulating the parking on Saturdays, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., they can only be considered intolerable. This opinion is shared by all my neighbors who are equally concerned.

The addition of Saturday to the alternate side of the street parking serves no visible practical purpose, is a nuisance to all concerned and a severe injustice to all hard-working individuals who have earned and who covet an extra hour of sleep on the weekend.

I strongly suggest that this oversight on your part and that of the town commission be corrected with all legal dispatch.

need to curb inflation and government spending. Mr. Grant, aside from attacking Minish votes on spending, refuses to be pinned down as to just what sacred cows he would choose to slaughter if elected to Congress. With voters hungry for courageous stands to be taken on issues, our candidate continues to speak in generalities out of fear of being "locked into" issues.

Additionally, it is difficult to see how a candidate who has come out publicly for the Rockefeller confirmation—apparently approving the former New York governor's big spending policies—can be really serious about curbing inflation and taxes and giving the average working stiff representation for a change.

Traditionally, candidates for local and county offices have had to lean on the "top of the ticket," hoping that he will bring in votes for them. In this election, the reverse seems to be true, and it is grossly unfair to municipal and county candidates of Republican persuasion.

There is still time left before election, and it is hoped that Republican voters may be able to wrench from the Congressional candidate a statement about what expenditures for defense, welfare and other government programs he feels should be cut; what should be left, alone and which—hopefully not—increased.

She wants answers, not Grant 'rhetoric'

To the Editor:

Voters are in no frame of mind for "rhetoric as usual," but this consideration does not seem to trouble our 11th District Congressional candidate, William Grant.

While speaking eloquently about the

Dear Letter Writers,

Your comments on local, national or international affairs are always welcome here, but please include your home address for those intended for publication. We cannot print your submissions without them.

Go for five

Commissioner Strumolo whose Public Affairs Department has jurisdiction over scavenger control has indicated that after proper investigation of all the bids the contract will be awarded November 19 . . . Seems to this writer that with the trend to higher prices it would be wise to go for the five year term contract with the Pucillo outfit which has done a good job over the past years.

Maybe Commissioner Strumolo should send a "thank you" card to the two firms that brought about the court verdict ordering the calling for bids . . . their action sure makes him look good . . . what other public official can boast of a reduction in cost of a municipal garbage contract with today's skyrocketing prices? With an election coming up in about six months makes the cagey Commissioner look like a shoo-in.

Bilingual Programs

Our State legislators by majority vote of both houses have sent to the Governor a bill that would require special bilingual programs in any school district with 20 students who speak a language other than English. It is expected to cost $3 million a year. While chiefly aimed at aiding Spanish-speaking youngsters, the bill would require a special program for pupils of any language. Some districts in Monmouth County might have to develop a program for Russian speaking students.

Most of the politicians "pushing" the bill are obviously only looking for votes from these people, knowing full well that they are increasing the tax burden on us all . . . As long as they get votes what do they care? Why can't we go back to the days when foreign minorities weren't catered to by politicians looking to get elected, but, learned our language and ways to become good American citizens?

By PAUL STERN

This is your editor speaking—or what's left of him.

After about 115 hours of cranking out copy, attending meetings, taking photos, writing headlines and answering crank calls, I'm pretty jerked around.

Deadline is now approaching for the first issue of the new Belleville Times-News, and my eyeballs feel like the payment on them is overdue. The office looks like a Red Cross disaster station, with coffee spills and Big Mac wrappers laying all over. In other words, things are just about normal for a Tuesday night.

This is my first column, by the way—ever. I just want you to know that, because this morning at 4 a.m. as I was cleaning off my desk to go home, I began to worry about how it would be received. I was worried also about something more important, which came to my disintegrating brain cells in a series of disjointed words: Power—Freedom—Parking Meter.

Perhaps I should explain.

I was walking down Washington Avenue yesterday morning, passing by the office of the second best newspaper in Belleville, located a few doors down from my own. Outside of that office, parked next to the curb, was a white Thunderbird, which I recognized from the press card on the sun visor as belonging to another distinguished member of The Press. Next to the car was a parking meter, as red as a Communist's underwear.

Power of the press? Frankly, seeing that got me a little ticked off. As I was snapping away with my camera I wondered if the time had just run out, or if the violation was intentional. I got even more ticked off the next day when I saw another pressmobile, a green Plymouth Duster, again parked next to the same expired meter. It was beginning to look like no accident, you know?

Intentional or not, the theoretical implications of it bothered me. Not that news people were trying to beat a parking meter—I do that all the time. The parking situation around this neighborhood is pretty sticky anyway. What bothered me was the thought that my fellow newsmen might have been using their "privileges" as newsmen—their "power of the press," to beat a parking meter.

Was Belleville's Second Best willing to sell out its principles for a crummy nickel or two? And to encourage some meter maid somewhere to go along, thus compromising the honesty of a public servant?

It was a curious thought, and I hope it was not the case. But just in case, Meter Maids take note: a press pass is issued by the State Police, authorizing legitimate newsmen and photographers to cross police lines in emergencies. It is not a free parking sticker, nor does it entitle the holder to in any way break the law.

Newsman, folks, are not special people, and often take pride in their "average guy" status. Furthermore, how can a newsman go around busting the chops of local officials for, say, abuse of power, when they themselves practice it? The Press is a certain kind of power, and where there is power, there is temptation to abuse it. That's why I'm worried about this column. Can I hack it? I've already felt the urge to flip out and wave around my credentials. And if a newsman is willing to do that, just to save some money, can he stop when it comes to handling the big responsibility of acting unselfishly, as a member of "the fourth estate"?

That, in my case, remains to be seen, I suppose. I know one thing, though. We have enough flunkies in Belleville already. We don't need anymore.

FLIGHT 897

Once again, it's off to Kansas City

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

A RETURN TRIP to Kansas City came faster than we expected or planned. But there we were again for three days last week in what is developing to be to us one of America's finest cities.

The trip around, Bill Miller and I found it more convenient to leave Newark via United, changing at Chicago to a more comfortable, more hospitable, Braniff Flight 223. Since we were the only passengers in first class — or at least it seemed that way, senior stewardess Nancy Key and her able assistant, Beth Lewallen, almost turned the cabin into a living room.

IN KANSAS CITY, the old reliables, Georgia and Bill Ratchford, once again gave us a warm welcome at the airport and on back to the impossible dream — the Crown Center Hotel — which must be one of the most remarkable hotels in the world. The Crown Center Hotel has a unique restaurant, the Top of The Crown, whose manager is articulate, jovial, Giovanni Montanari. A trip to Kansas City cannot be complete without enjoying the warm handshake of Giovanni and dining in the elegant room which he manages like an old pro. Assisting Giovanni is Linda Kroog — and would you believe that Linda is formerly from East Orange, New Jersey where she presently has relatives. The Crown Center Hotel has shopping areas on the first, second, third and fourth floors. The hotel lobby sports a lounge bar where we were delighted to give our order to Milezza, a rather efficient hostess.

THE SECOND FLOOR shopping area sports a lounge called the "25 Grand Lounge," and for men who have the need for a business meeting, they could enjoy the lounge and the attentive service of Maria Gray and Cela Doppelt. These two young ladies really give atmosphere to the lounge.

I HAVE BEEN DEALING WITH ACCOUNTANTS practically all my life and in Kansas City I met one able accountant, Mike Hogerty, associated with the certified public accounting firm of Franke & Hardin. This is a well respected firm in Kansas City whose competence I can attest to.

ONE OF THE SURPRISES of my stay at the Crown Center Hotel was a chat with Tweedy McElveen, Miss Missouri. I found her to be a very engaging and intelligent young lady.

THE TRIP BACK was just a plain old mix up. We rushed to the airport only to find TWA had cancelled Flight 368 — so off we were to Braniff Airlines located on the opposite side of the terminal. The Braniff ticket agent gave us a hard time — all he was doing was telling us the flights we could not take — and all the while Bill Miller and I were trying to make a reservation to return home to New Jersey.

In the end we were lucky enough to make a connection with another TWA flight and were served by no less a senior stewardess than Carmen Ebert, a recent Miss Mexico. I informed the senior stewardess that we had one thing in common, her first name happens to be the name of my younger brother — and so once again Bill Miller and I can report that TWA flight service is one of the best we have encountered thanks to people like Carmen Ebert and, of course, Nilsa Blake and Karen Pittman.

Who are the sr. citizens?

By BERNARD J. GALLAGHER

The plight of the aged, the incredible lack of long term planning to provide professional health services and nursing residences when they are felled by the infirmities of the passing years, the failure to have stand-by legislation to guard them against the unconscionable rent gouging which is depleting their meager incomes by leaps and bounds, is not a new problem but one of very long standing simply being compounded daily by the critical condition of today's economy.

And who are these people? Who are these senior citizens fighting a losing battle against the never ending pressures of a runaway inflation?

Permit us to paraphrase the words of Dr. Eric A. Walker, President of Pennsylvania State University in a recent brilliant address.

"These remarkable people", said Dr. Walker, are your parents and grandparents who, within the relatively short period of five decades, have by their work, increased your life expectancy by 50 — while cutting down the working day by a third, have more than doubled the per capita output". "These are the people," he continued, "who have given you a healthier world than they found and you have no longer need to fear epidemics of Typhus, Diphtheria, Smallpox, Scarlet Fever, and the dreaded Polio is no heard of". "Let me remind you they lived through history's greatest depression; they survived, they are the people who defeated the tyranny of Hitler, they were in the forefront of the civil rights struggle, and they were the ones responsible for the building of the schools making higher education a possibility for millions", he concluded.

There are the people of yesterday who are today's aged and infirm. These are the people who put a "Little Somethin" away for a rainy day but found it washed away by the torrential downpours of bills, more bills, and higher bills for rent in sub-standard housing, for utilities so stock holders could reap greater dividends, for heating fuel so that oil companies could sell less and make more.

Recent public meetings on the immediate needs of our elderly produced testimony throughout, supporting our worse fears, that inflation is forcing these fine people to their knees; that they are losing faith with all levels of government, feeling unwanted, burdensome and deserted.

The challenge ahead is to find new resources to provide the services so sorely needed — perhaps relaxing, or eliminating entirely the $2400. maximum income permitted to be earned — or increased social security, might do for starters, and perhaps other municipalities should follow the enlightened lead of Belleville by including senior citizen services as part of the Municipal Budget.

There is so much to be done. There is so much that can be done. Let us not procrastinate to the point where NOTHING can be done!

Bernard J. Gallagher, Director of the Essex County Office on Aging in Belleville, was appointed to serve in that capacity in 1973. Under his guidance, new and innovative senior citizen programs have been established.

Vincent Vitty is a 'builder'

"We Build" is the motto of Kiwanis International, and Vincent Vitty is a living example of that motto. The Bellevilleite has been active in the Kiwanis since 1962, and his string of successes with the service club was recently capped by his election as the lieutenant governor of District 13.

Vitty became member of the Belleville club's board of directors only a year after his initiation into the Kiwanis, and kept rising through the ranks as secretary from 1964 through 1970, second and first vice presidents from 1970 to 1972, and president of the Belleville chapter from 1972 to 1973. He has also served as editor of the Kiwanis Bulletin, a position he still holds.

The Cloth for Cancer drive sponsored by the Essex County Cancer Society was recently launched by Vitty and his fellow Kiwanians. His first award came after the cloth drive in 1967, when Vitty was voted Kiwanian of the year following his chairmanship of the drive.

1972 saw Vitty receive the Distinguished Service Award for furthering the Kiwanis spirit, and his award winning performance has been capped by receiving the "silver K" for distinguished service to Kiwanis.

Elected Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis District 13 at a recent Kiwanis International Convention in Atlantic City, Vitty has deepened his involvement with the club. The 13th District has 11 clubs, making it one of the largest — and busiest — in the state. As lieutenant governor, Vitty attends state meetings concerning Kiwanis policy, inducts new members into his district clubs, and serves as an advisor to those clubs.

Accompanied by the 16 other lieutenant governors of the state, Kiwanian Vitty will meet with Kiwanis International President Roy Davis on November ninth to discuss future Kiwanis activity.

A fund raising dinner dance will be held in Vitty's honor November 24 at the Amvets Hall in Belleville. The dinner is necessary to help defray the considerable travel expenses a lieutenant governor incurs while in office.

However, Vitty's involvement doesn't stop at the higher echelons of the club. Kiwanis is the father of the Key Club, which represents the Kiwanis at the high school level, and last Saturday the lieutenant governor helped the local Key Club members with a newspaper drive.

Vitty believed in the "We Build" motto long before joining the Kiwanis club. With the help of his brother, Vitty built his comfortable home on Liberty Avenue where he lives with his wife, Dorothy. They have two children, Kenneth, a former Nutley Patrolman and now a detective with the Port Authority in New York; and Virginia, a high school teacher.

A resident of Belleville for 36 years, Vitty was a carpenter until 1950. He now manages Atlas Metalcraft on Washington Avenue specializing in ornamental ironwork.

A little bit of clown — There's a little bit of clown in everyone, the old saying goes, and this Belleville High School cheerleader is no exception. Actually, her unusual sweater length might not be so bad, really, but it's unlikely she will touch off a new craze. Her team won its first ball game this year, by the way. See page 17.

Rent advisory committee sworn to investigate gouging complaints

By PETER CLARK

One year ago

Five Members of Belleville's Rent Advisory Committee were sworn into office and immediately put out a request for all tenants with complaints of rent gouging to see them about it. The panel was directed to analyze the Town's rent situation and recommend measures to the Town Commission.

Belleville Mayor Joseph McGreevy signed and delivered a check for $129,837.50 to People's Bank, and with one stroke of the pen, wiped away Belleville town debt. In an interview with the Times, McGreevy recounted how the Town was lifted out of the economic morass of the Great Depression by the creative financial leadership of ex-Mayor and Finance Director William Williams.

The news team of Channel Two invaded Belleville, but they weren't here to cover a hot story. The crew took on local Amvets in a charity softball game to raise funds for the local Cerebral Palsy Center. The game was played just for fun, with the visitors winning by a score that might have ranged from 18-0 to 9-2, if anyone had kept the score. Six hundred dollars was raised for the Center.

Belleville Police Chief Donald Smith was seeking an ordinance which would require all non-fraternal organizations to obtain licenses for their operation. The Chief's action, which would allow the police to regulate the groups activities, came in the wake of a recent raid by the Essex County Prosecutor's detectives on a Belleville "social" club, in which members were allegedly found gambling. Smith stated that the gambling was just another, more recent example of how local clubs were fast becoming a nuisance to the community.

Smith further stated that his actions came as a result of a large file of complaints by citizens who had called police headquarters to report abuses by several town clubs, including excessive noise, parking violations and gambling.

In the raid, nine men were arrested and $1,764.05 was confiscated by the Essex County Prosecutors Office, when County detectives raided a social club at 371 Lake Street, and found members playing cards with money on the table. Smith stated that the club, which opened just a few weeks previous to the raid, was typical of the type of organization which "rents a store and uses a club name to carry on illegal activities."

Rabbi Nathan Lerer, who had just recently accepted the pulpit of the Congregation Ahavath Achim, was to be officially welcomed to his congregation by a party to be held in the Sisterhood Hall, it was announced. Rabbi Lerer had studied under Cantor Jacob Koussevitsky, and holds a Cantorial Certificate from Cantorial Training Institute of Yeshiva University. He had the unusual distinction of having been twice ordained; by the Grand General College, Yeshivath Torah Haim, Jerusalem, and by Beth Hamedrash of L'Rabbinam of Brooklyn.

The Belleville Board of Education's decision to suspend all athletic activities with East Orange High School, due to the student riot following the Bellboy-Panther football match there, remained firm, despite the placing of that school on probation by the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association. The probation announcement prompted criticism from Board President Dr. Frank DeRuggiero, who was angry that the Board received no official notice of the probation. The Board learned of the move by reading their Tuesday morning paper.

Iannuzzi cites gains by Demos

Major improvements and new services achieved by the Essex County Board of Freeholders over the past three years were cited by Deputy Director Joseph L. Iannuzzi.

The Deputy Director of the Board of Freeholders called for an "overwhelming vote of confidence for the Democratic majority" in the November 5 general election, "based on the significant progress achieved by the Democratic majority."

Iannuzzi, an educator who has been on the Board for the past three years, cited a 12-point cut in the Essex County tax rate during his term of office.

"The Democratic majority achieved this historic feat at a time when the cost of government as well as household costs skyrocketed everywhere."

"We were able to achieve the tax cut because we were able to encourage both residential and business development within Essex County to offset rising costs and we are pledged to continue to do so," Iannuzzi said in calling for the election of the entire Democratic Team on Line A. Iannuzzi's running mates are Mrs. Larrie Stalks for Register along with Reita Geenstone and Harry J. Callaghan for freeholder.

GRANT SPEAKS OUT

Bill Grant is the Republican Candidate for Congress in the New Suburban 11th District.

What can Inflation do to America?

Ask the people of Germany who suffered the greatest inflationary spiral in modern history during the 1920s and 1930s. Defeated in World War I, Germany had embarked upon a republican form of government with hopes of building a new democratic society. But the German people lost everything they had hoped for when, frustrated by an inflation which destroyed their currency, their bank accounts and their belief in themselves, they turned to a political opportunist who promised them jobs and stability.

Adolf Hitler did not come to power in 1933 in Germany by promising the people he would conquer Europe. He came to power promising jobs and economic stability.

Had the runaway inflation which prevailed in republican Germany after World War I been controlled, the entire course of modern history might well have been changed and millions who died in the holocaust of World War II might have lived full, productive lives.

To win this fight which is so essential to our future, we must turn away from politicians who, like my opponent Joseph Minish, vote for programs costing in excess of the government's tax income. These votes have meant the Congress has, in effect, resorted to the printing press to create new money.

Joseph Minish is truly "Mr. Inflation", for by his votes for deficit spending over the past twelve years, he has fueled the inflationary fire now consuming our purchasing power.

As the Congressman from the 11th District, I will fight the battle against inflation for the good of all of us. I will support those programs necessary for our economic future, but will vote against spending for the pure sake of spending.

This is the way to win the fight against inflation and return this nation to its former pattern of consistent, broad based economic growth.

Senior news

By CHRIS MANNING

Since the beginning of the school year, the Senior Senate has been striving to obtain a more uniform and unique class. The Senate, under the guidance of Mr. Grasso and Mr. McDonough, advisors, has agreed that the primary objective of the class should be to make an attempt to unify itself. They feel that a united class is a successful class.

The class officers, President, Chris Manning; Vice President, Michael Freda; Secretary, Maria Angeline and Treasurer, Barbara Lopusnak are planning a year of activities. The first of these functions was a dance which featured the local group "Rage". It proved to be a huge success for the senior class and many more dances such as this one will be common occurrence at the Belleville High School Gym. On October 25, the class of 1975 is sponsoring a Halloween Dance which has a great perspective of being one of the best dances of the year. The gym will be decorated in a Halloween motif to create the proper mood for this special occasion. For this dance, an equally talented group called "Destruction" will supply the entertainment for the evening.

Hopefully, the dance will reach its climax when a prize of $10 each will be given to the best costume worn by both a girl and boy. All those who attend the dance need not wear a costume but when there's money involved we can be sure to expect all the usual bashfulness to disappear and a good turn-out in costume. The senior class hopes for a good turn-out and promises an enjoyable evening.

On Sunday, October 13, the Class of '75 held a picnic at the Riverdale County Park in Lyndhurst. Those who attended had an enjoyable day and plans are in the makings for another picnic later on in the year. The Senior Council hopes there will be a significant turn-out. An activity such as this picnic was not created to produce money for the senior class treasury; rather, it was held for the sole purpose of establishing closer relations between the senior class students. The communication gaps that exist between the several different "Cliques" of the class must be broken down before the class can truly get together and enjoy their final year the Belleville High School.

Between the senior class play and the senior class trip at the end of the year, the Class of '75 has a great year to look forward to. With the assistance and cooperation of the entire student body, the class will reach limits no other class has ever been able to accomplish in the history of Belleville High School.

Then as this century comes to a close, the alumnae of this particular class can look back and remember all the good times and good friends and be proud that they were a part of the "Class of '75".

Details of the senior class play and the trip and other planned activities will appear on the "Student Page" in future articles.

Two teachers join faculty at high school

By ROXANNE BELLAVIA

Miss Mango, who has joined the Belleville High faculty will be teaching sophomore and junior English classes this year.

Having gone to school in Belleville, Miss Mango has much spirit and will be advising the twirlers, color guards and flag wavers, along with Mrs. Grancagnolo and Mrs. Bonavita. She plans to continue her education by going back to school for her masters degree. Miss Mango enjoys writing, poetry and cooking.

Mrs. Grancagnolo has joined the English Department this year. She will teach college English to sophomores and seniors.

Mrs. Grancagnolo, who is presently going for her masters' degree in choreography will help advise the senior play this year. She will also be one of the advisors for the twirlers, color guards and flag wavers, along with Miss Mango and Mrs. Bonavita.

Although Mrs. Grancagnolo is very much involved with the school, she still finds time for her hobbies of dancing and theater work.

Seniors visit Watchung H.S.

By JENNIFER CISERO

Watchung Regional High was recently host to twelve seniors from Belleville, the purpose being to observe and compare the different activities and surroundings to B.H.S. and perhaps find new and better ideas to improve our school.

Starting the day off, Chairman Pat Caputo, President Chris Manning, Vice President Michael Freda, Secretary Maria Angeline and Treasurer Barbara Lopusnak met with Watchung's executive council. From there, they were allowed to explore the school and attend various subject classes.

The group found Watchung had a much bigger athletic department, more land, and offered more subject courses. The school itself was better looking and had a two year old addition added to the original fourteen years old school.

The group was impressed deeply by one fact. It seems the cheerleaders and twirlers were allowed to paint the floor of the school with designs you normally would find on a football poster along with the football players' names. The purpose of this, was to arouse school spirit in the students. A project similar to this might be a good idea to present to our Belleville students. Watchung also offered senior privileges like having a television set in their lounge and being able to leave the school during lunch periods.

Although Belleville High School isn't as fully equipped as Watchung, the students did prefer Belleville's atmosphere. They felt Belleville's teachers have a good understanding and better relationship with their students. Watchung's teachers are strictly there to teach, and their student-teacher relations was more formal than friendly.

Soph and junior girls cheer jayvee teams

By DIANE GIANSAITI

This year the Belleville High School has a new addition to its school spirit — a junior varsity cheering squad. Junior and sophomore girls for this squad were chosen to help support the Junior Varsity football and basketball players at home games.

The squad was suggested by many girls in the past, but because of the lack of school funds the suggestions had to always be turned down.

The varsity cheerleaders were receiving new uniforms for the coming season. Upon hearing this, Maria Markese went to Mr. Smith, principal of B.H.S. requesting to use the old uniforms for a J.V. Squad. A petition had to be signed by all the people in favor of having cheerleaders at the J.V. activities. Besides many of the student's names, the petition included the names of football and basketball players.

Seeing how much the cheerleaders were wanted, Mr. Smith agreed to help and the necessary funds were provided.

The rest of the work was now left up to the girls interested in trying out for the squad. They had to begin to practice and to start preparing themselves for the big day.

Try outs were September 24. The girls were judged by out-of-town women, having some knowledge of cheering. The selections for the new Junior Varsity Squad were publicly known on September 28. The girls were notified through the mail.

The girls were chosen to represent the high school to the best of their ability. They also must maintain a "C" average in their school work.

The new junior varsity cheering squad consists of the following girls: Maria Markese, captain, Jeanne Ciccone, Barbara Ann Del Russo, Cindy Kasalka, Laurei Nappie, Janice Nazziola, Valerie Olivio, Jean Ritschel, Paula Tortoriello and Sue Voccaturo.

Jayvee founder is interviewed

By PAT CAPUTO

Maria Markese is the person responsible for the initial year of JV cheerleading at Belleville High, and I was fortunate enough to interview Miss Markese, a junior.

Q. - How did you begin to organize and plan this project?

A. - I went to Mr. Smith with my plans last June and he agreed with me that it was a fine idea. He told me that I needed a petition with one hundred names and permission from the Board of Education.

Q. - Was the process easy?

A. - Getting the petition signed was easy enough and the Board said they would approve the plan if the girls raised all the needed funds themselves.

Q. - How did you pay for the uniforms?

A. - We were fortunate to be able to use last year's varsity cheerleading uniforms since this year's squad has new ones.

Q. - How many girls will be on the squad?

A. - Either 10 or 12, depending on how many uniforms are in suitable condition.

Q. - When are the tryouts and who is eligible to tryout?

A. - They were on September 24, for all juniors and sophomores.

Q. - Who is the advisor and who will judge the tryouts?

A. - Miss Hosley is the advisor and two independent judges are hired to choose the best girls.

Q. - Why did you take this progressive step to organize this whole thing?

A. - Cheerleading is one of the best activities for girls. The girls who aren't chosen for the varsity squad can still stay active by participating in JV Cheerleading. Besides, the JV ballplayers work as hard as the Varsity and deserve some more moral support.

Q. - Do you travel on the team bus?

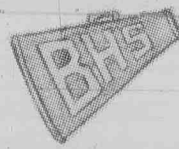

A. - No, we can only cheer at home games.

Q. - Is there anything that you may want to add to this that we haven't covered?

A. - I just want to remind everyone to come out after school on Mondays and join with the JV Cheerleaders in supporting the JV football team.

RAH!

By REGINA RITACCO

Another season has begun for the Belleville High School varsity cheerleading squad.

The girls began participating in August and are well on their way to the fifth football game. They've been practicing three times a week, however, with the start of basketball and wrestling seasons sneaking up, practices are likely to increase. At least until the season's cheers are learned.

Among other responsibilities that the girls have they must pay weekly dues which are saved up and added

Leffelbine will direct class play

By SUE COWAN

This year the director of the senior class play "Mame" will be Mr. Robert Leffelbine. "Mame" is an uproarious story of an eccentric and scatterbrained woman who tries to cop with the problems of rearing her nephew.

As a first year director at BHS, Leffelbine is certainly no amateur. He directed for six past plays in Belleville and teaches dramatics and English four at Belleville High School.

The tryouts for the play will be in December.

to the profits of other fund raising activities. This money is spent on special dinners given to the football, wrestling and basketball players at the end of each season. After that, if enough money is left over, a trip is planned for the cheerleaders themselves.

Cheerleading has its problems; it is not all fun and games as most people believe. Last year the girls had a problem trying to get new uniforms, but after several attempts they succeeded in convincing the Board that they were a necessity. This year the girls were in need of a permanent advisor. Mr. Smith and Mr. Seelha held the squad together as temporary advisors until Mrs. Muscatello saved the day.

Time must be taken now to congratulate the girls who tried out and didn't make it. Yes — CONGRATULATE!

They don't deserve a simple slap on the back and, "Better luck next time." They deserve recognition for going through the work of preparing, the nervousness of trying out and still most important, the agony of defeat. Even more so the girls who come back to try again deserve something better than a simple uniform.

The 1974-75 squad is made up of sixteen girls, in alphabetical order they are: Sue DiGiovanni, Mariann Gomulinsky, Ruthie Iacullo, Cheryl Manning, Dawn Marchese, Debbie Marchese, Donna Marchese, Leslie Norton, Sharon Norton, Melinda Pico, Regina Ritacco, Donna Rotundo, Kim Sheridan, Kim Smith, Ellen Ventura and Leslie Zarra. The girls need your support not only during football season, but during the wrestling and basketball seasons also.

Cops, commissioner confer

Public Safety Commissioner Robert Laterza confirmed this week he has entered into preliminary discussions with both police and firemen on new contracts for 1975.

At this early stage, said the commissioner, he and the uniformed workers are conferring only the agenda for the upcoming contract talks, and he has accepted requests for the areas of discussion. He said he'll give the employees an answer in two weeks, and negotiations will begin soon after.

Cancer check-ups

Commissioner of Public Affairs Vincent Strumolo, acknowledging an increased awareness toward breast cancer by women following the heavily-publicized illnesses of Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Rockefeller, has announced that free breast cancer examinations will be given at the department's weekly clinic on Wednesdays from noon to 3:30 p.m. Strumolo says the examinations, given by Dr. Leslie Miller, will be provided free of charge to any Belleville woman, but asks that appointments be made in advance by telephone.

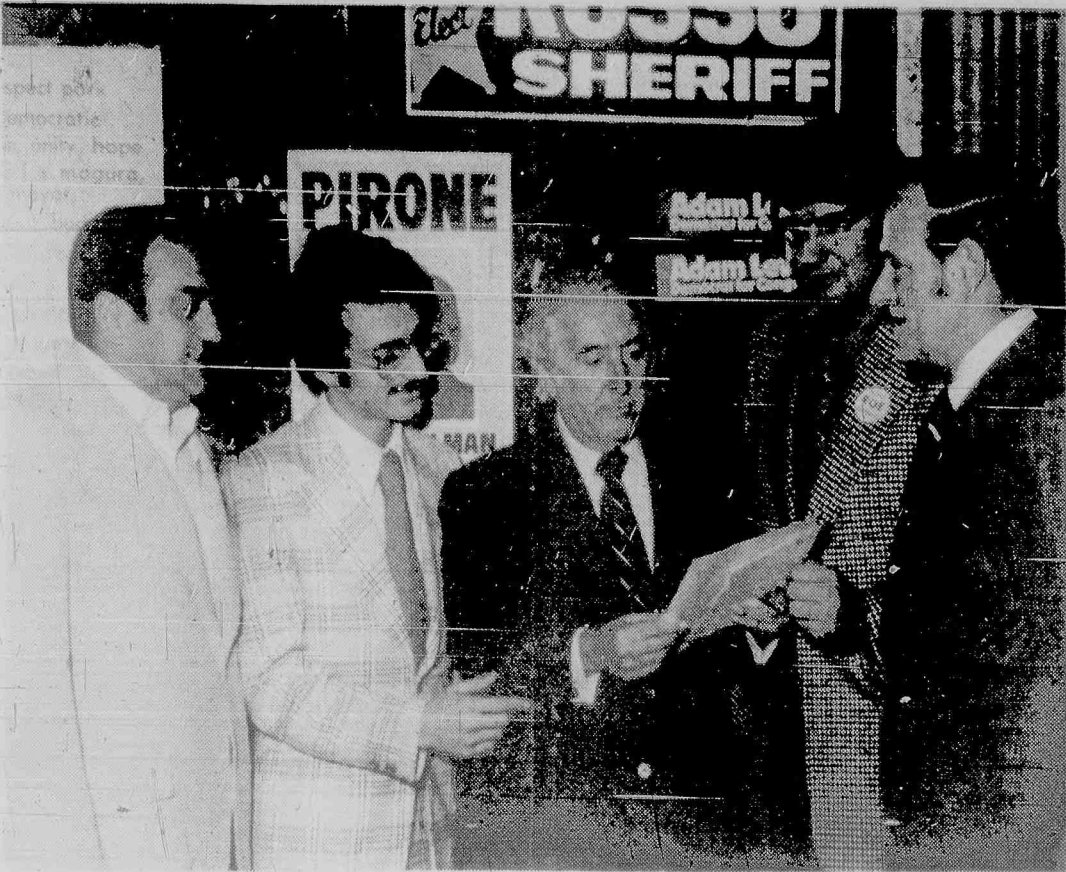

Looking for room

Eleven months ago, the Belleville Planning Board sent a letter to the Board of Commissioners recommending a branch library facility be included in the newly-renovated Friendly House. They recently followed up on that suggestion with another letter, and this week, Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Michael Marotti said he'll invite Planning Board Chairman Joe Grande to tour the Friendly House with him, but he indicated there's not much hope of finding room for a branch library there.

Noting that there is an existing branch at School Four, Marotti said rooms at the Friendly House must first be considered for youth recreation activities. Once the facility is complete, those activities will include space and equipment for weight-lifting, gymnastics, basketball, swimming, ping pong, pool, swimming and youth meetings.

Planners rehired

The Belleville Planning Board was given permission this week to go ahead with the signing of a new contract with the North Jersey Planning Association. The local board will renew a one-year membership starting November 15.

Grant casts self for middle class

William B. Grant, Republican candidate for Congress in the 11th Congressional District, said last night that "the average working middle class citizen is badly underrepresented in the councils of our government."

Terming the middle class as "absorbed in the daily problems of earning enough to pay the bills", Grant said that the interests of these citizens have not been given adequate consideration by political leaders. Grant continued that: "All the 'big political stars' seem to feel they must project an image of concern for the poor. Certainly, poverty is an economic and social illness and we must work to cure it. But, there must be concern, too, for the average working citizen."

Grant said that such citizens are at a disadvantage because "They have no lobbyists, no pressure groups and few politicians who really care what happens to them. Furthermore, they have little time for political activity in their own behalf."

Calling the Republican party "a natural as a vehicle to express middle class concerns", Grant said his election to Congress would "give the average citizen a voice in the House of Representatives."

"My opponent, Joseph Minish, has not given the average citizen his due. He has," Grant said, "voted against the interest of the working citizens of the 11th District again and again by supporting deficit spending, thus increasing the pressures of inflation on the paychecks of the workers of his District."

What do you do when you wake up in the morning? Do you groan, get out of bed with your eyes shut, feel your way to the kitchen for your first cup of coffee? Why not change that wake-up routine? The best way to do this is to have plenty of fresh air in the room. Toss off bedclothing, way off, even from your feet. Push away the pillows and lie flat. Stretch legs and arms one at a time and make them feel long. Then tense abdominal muscles, relax, tense and relax. Limber your neck the same way. Climb out of bed easily. ## Annette Salvato an August bride

Miss Annette Salvato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Salvato of 31 Beverly Court, Belleville, became the bride August 4 of Joseph James Bucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bucci of 82 King Street, Nutley.

The Rev. Peter Galdon performed the ceremony in St. Mary's Church, with a reception following at Wayne Manor, Wayne.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory, sate-peau with an empire waist, high neckline, illusion bodice accented with Alencon lace and seed pearls, renaissance sleeves and detachable chapel train.

A Camelot headpiece held her elbow length veil and she carried a large white orchid surrounded by white baby roses, stephanotis and babies breath.

Mrs. Marianne Vitiello of Belleville was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were another sister, Miss Michele Salvato of Belleville, Miss Frances DiRuggiero of Belleville and Miss Andrea Cabrelli of Newark.

Their halter gowns and ruffled capes were of powder blue dotted swiss and they carried pink and blue roses, stephanotis and babies breath.

Victor Linfante of Belleville was best man. Ushers were the groom's brother, Jimmy Bucci of Nutley, John Drabik of Belleville and John Spezaferra of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Bucci, a graduate of Belleville High School, is a medical secretary with Fulton Massengill, M.D., Newark.

Mr. Bucci, an alumnus of Nutley High School, is a security guard at Essex County Court House.

The couple honeymooned in Bermuda and are living in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bucci — nee Annette Salvato

Milakovich-Theriault rites held in St. Peter's Church

St. Peter's Church was the setting September 15 for the marriage of Miss Maryann Theriault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Theriault of 282 Union Avenue to John A. Milakovich Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Milakovich Sr., of Cleveland, Ohio.

The Rev. Mink performed the ceremony and a reception followed at The Manor, West Orange.

The bride was escorted by her father. Her princess gown had a silkened organdy skirt applique with lace and pearls. Lace accented the wedding band neckline, empire bodice and cap sleeves.

A chapel length mantilla of white illusion was trimmed with lace and fell from a caplet of lace and pearls. She carried a small cascade of white sweetheart roses and large roses.

Miss Elayne Theriault was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Karen Zimmerman, Miss Sharon McGuire and Miss Roberta Kaplonski.

Their shrimp sleeveless gowns were of crepe maracaine and white straw picture hats were trimmed with embroidered shrimp daisies and white flowers. They carried bouquets of shrimp and white daisies.

Best man was Michael Durler. Ushering were Robert Oster, Frederick Szeles and Richard Planisek.

Mrs. Theriault chose an apricot maracaine gown with beading and a matching sleeveless coat. The groom's mother was in a green polyester gown with chiffon sleeves and lace appliques. Corsages were of white gardenias.

The couple are living in Cleveland after honeymooning in Bermuda.

Mrs. John Milakovich — nee Maryann Theriault

Miss Lenore Vizzone to wed Joseph Peldunas

Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Vizzone of 123 Carpenter Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Lenore to Joseph Peldunas, son of Mrs. Viola Peldunas of Fairway Avenue and the late Mr. Alphonse Peldunas.

The troth was made known September 27.

Miss Vizzone, an alumna of Belleville High School, owns and operates Lenore's Canine Clippery in Nutley.

Mr. Peldunas, a graduate of Engine City Technical Institute, Union, is a diesel mechanic at Beacon Fast Freight Co. Inc., Kearny.

A 1976 wedding is planned.

Miss Lenore Vizzone — Joseph Peldunas

Linda and Donald Russoniello will make their home in Italy

St. Mary's Church, Nutley, was the setting September 29 for the marriage of Miss Linda Biondi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario N. Biondi of 147 Floyd Street

Belleville, to Donald Russoniello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo A. Russoniello of 32 Hudson Street, Nutley.

The Rev. Nardino of St. Francis Xavier Church,

Newark, performed the ceremony and a reception followed at Wayne Manor Wayne.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza gown with Venice lace fashioned with a Juliet collar, bishop sleeves and chapel train.

A Juliet headpiece trimmed with lace held her full length veil and she carried white roses, fuji mums and blue babies breath.

Mrs. Barbara Myers of Nutley was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's cousins, Miss Dolores Nardone of Bloomfield, and Miss Joyce Mazza of Newark, Miss Amelia Pacilli of Newark and Miss Suzanne Patrick of Belleville.

Their royal blue halter gowns were of satin crepe. Matching blue jackets had attached hoods and they carried multi-colored nosegays.

Louis Alfieri Jr. of Nutley served as best man. Ushering were Robert Sisbarro of Livingston, cousin of the groom and brothers of the couple, Mario Biondi and Nicholas Russoniello of Nutley and Richard Russoniello of Cape St. Claire, Maryland.

Mrs. Biondi chose a peach satin crepe gown accented with beading while the groom's mother was in Nile green crepe maracaine. Corsages were of white baby orchids.

Mrs. Russoniello, a graduate of Our Lady of Good Counsel High School, Newark, was with Givaudan Corp., Clifton.

Mr. Russoniello, an alumnus of Catholic University, Washington, D.C., is studying medicine at the University of Padova, Padova, Italy where the couple will make their home. They honeymooned in Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Russoniello — nee Linda Biondi

Women's Club EMD opens new season

The Woman's Club of Belleville, Evening Membership Department, opened its Fall season with a successful Smorgasbord Supper, followed by the monthly business meeting.

Plans are now being formulated for "Pictures with Santa", to be held December 13th to 23rd, and "Pictures with The Easter Bunny" in March. These projects are held to aid some worthy cause in the Community. A card party is also planned for February 28th. Details will be given out later.

The E.M.D. is open to all women who cannot attend Club meetings in the daytime due to working hours, responsibilities at home or children who are dependent on them. Prospective members and guests will be given a hearty welcome at our meetings, held the third Wednesday of the month at the Club House, 51 Rossmore Place, Belleville, or you may call our Chairman, Mrs. Tucker at 759-7413 or Membership Chairman Mrs. Schenke at 759-0427, for further details.

Note to contributors

Because they do not print well, color photographs will no longer be accepted for publication in the Belleville Times. Please also note that there is a good chance Poloroid pictures will not print to satisfaction either.

It is illegal to mention games of chance such as Bingo, raffles or sweepstakes of any description in printed matter that goes through the mail. This eliminates mentioning them in the Times.

Phone numbers must be included on all releases in case of emergency situation where it is necessary to contact the contributor.

BELLEVILLE REFORMED Church senior choir will sponsor an Autumn Harvest Banquet Saturday the 26th. Turkey dinner with all the trimmings from 5 - 7:30 p.m. $3.00 for adults, $1.50 for kids.

The Men's Club of Congregation Ahavath Achim are having a card party Saturday October 26 at 8 p.m. All are invited for fun, fun, fun.

Let's not forget the Holy Family Rosary Society dinner dance November 9th at Holy Family. Time is 7:30. Tickets are $10. Call Rose Brosius for tickets at 751-2318.

Last Sunday at the breakfast of the Men's Club of Congregation Ahavath Achim, lawyer Bob Gruhin was the speaker. His topic: President Ford's Economic Policy.

St. Anthony's is having their annual Fall Dance in the School Cafeteria 8 p.m. For tickets at $3 per, phone Jennie Rafanello 481-2467.

PLANS are underway for the 10th reunion of Belleville High School's 1965 class. We're telling you early enough so you can join the fun. A fantastic time will be held October 11, 1975 at the Wayne Manor. Don't be left out, if you are, or know of, a 1965 BHS graduate, make sure they contact Bob Iracane, 47 New England Drive, Lake Hiawatha, N.J. 07034.

Marge Hyer was recently feted at a surprise birthday party held at the home of her daughter, Lorrie Tindall. Best wishes for the coming year, Marge.

Reminder — a testimonial dinner will be held, honoring retired Fire Chief Carl Hundertpfund on November 14 at The Fountain. For particulars, phone Walter Cole at 759-1503.

Reminder — the Belleville Chamber of Commerce will hold their Annual Dinner Dance, Saturday November 2 at the Branch Brook Manor. Music by Arthur Prince and dancing with The Bellaires Orchestra. Phone Harry French at the Chamber for tickets 759-4848.

PAT'S FUNNIES

This guy better reconsider before running for a Commissioner's office. There's enough dirt to bury him AND his piggy bank of siphoned-off funds. And his sunglasses won't protect him from the public's glare either.

Who's the 6'7" cutie who sported a lipstick at a recent women's bash? We all know he was kidding and it provided a good laugh.

Who are the two meanest women in town? They should insure their wagging tongues as someone has a good case for a libel suit.

Who pulled a cookie caper, ran off with the dessert, only to present it to those who missed out? 'Twas a nice thought, don't you think?

A person who works with youngsters, should be above reproach, wouldn't you agree? How in the world did they select him?

Come on now, honey, you ordered the tickets, the least you could do is pay for them.

There could be a local Watergate if the head guy doesn't surround himself with better men. Don't be blinded by loyalty. In this case it's ridiculous.

I pulled a doosie last week

by Helen Maguire

I HAVE pulled some real doosies in my day and gotten rid of numerous things I had absolutely no intention of disposing of. Carried away by the spirit of the moment, I have sold items at garage sales and regretted it the next day. There's something about seeing "junk to you, treasures to others" going out and money coming in, that seizes you with the urge to increase the wealth and as the pile begins to dwindle, the impetuous among us add things we had no intention of selling and rue it later.

A friend of mine had a garage sale a couple of weeks ago. She was doing a brisk trade in assorted goodies but as the day wore on, she was still left with two chairs, a table and a lamp. No takers, not even many lookers. The one thing she was sure of was that none of these things was going back into her house and in a flash of brilliance, she arranged them in a small grouping, table with lamp in the middle, chair on either side. Along came a young couple who were smitten with the four piece setting and carted them all off for the blanket price of $40.

THE FUNNIEST thing though was the man who came driving up around 3 in the afternoon, got out of the car and came over to my friend. "My wife saw a pair of end tables here this morning," he said, "and she's been after me all day to come and buy them." "I'm sorry," said the vendor, "I sold them an hour ago." "Thank heavens!" exclaimed the man as he beat a hasty retreat to his car and took off.

"By the end of the sale," reported my friend, "we were so intent on getting the merchandise sold that prices were dropping all over the place and my husband was offering himself as delivery man or assistant mover if the piece was too big for one man to handle himself. The last thing we unloaded was a refrigerator which worked when it felt like it and commandeered the magnificent sum of $5."

WHEN I started this column, I had absolutely no intention of discussing garage sales. What I intended to relate was a doosie I pulled the other week which almost cost me dearly.

I took the twins to the shoe store to buy them oxfords for the winter. They were wearing sneakers when I announced we were going but just before starting out, Erin got hers wet in some way and was forced to wear her Sunday shoes. Nora was certainly not appearing in public in old, seen far better days sneakers, if sister was wearing her best and she changed into Sunday shoes too.

THE SHOEMAN left the oxfords on the girls' and put the Mary Janes in the girls' boxes and they landed up in the girls' bedroom when we got home. Cleaning up the next day, I came across the boxes and still thinking in my feeble brain that they contained garbage/bound sneakers, threw them out. Sunday morning came. A frantic search for the good shoes with mama muttering about little girls who couldn't remember where they put things until suddenly, light dawned. They had missed the garbage man by a scant two hours. And can you top that one?

Funeral mass was held October 19 in St. Peter's Church for John Wengrin, 239 Stephens Street, who died October 14 in St. James Hospital, Newark. A chemical operator for the Diamond Shamrock Chemical Company, Harrison, he was 46.

Born in Simpson, Pa., Mr. Wengrin came to Belleville 18 years ago from Carbondale, Pa.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ann R. Goret Wengrin; two daughters, Ann Marie, at home, and Mrs. Alfred (Catherine Ann) King, of Bloomfield; two sons, Michael A. and Joseph, both at home; four brothers, Michael, of Downingtown, Pa., Nicholas, of Coatesville, Pa., Stephen, of Avenel, and Theodore, of Simpson, Pa.; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Gerick, of Simpson, and Mrs. Evelyn Klapatch of Olyphant, Pa.

Mr. Wengrin was predeceased by another son, the late John J. Wengrin.

Services were handled by the Kiernan Funeral Home, and interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, North Arlington.

Wesley Church board zaps casino gambling

Casino gambling was the topic October 8 at the regular meeting of the Wesley United Methodist Church administrative board—and the group says it's against it.

In taking this stance, Wesley joins other churches of all denominations across the state, as well as the New Jersey Council of Churches, in opposition to the referendum on the November 5 ballot. The church board's vote of opposition affirmed the United Methodist Church's position on gambling as "a menace to society, deadly to the interests of moral, social, economic and spiritual life, and destructive of good government."

According to the Rev. Gerald J. Rounds, Pastor of Wesley United, "the polls seem to indicate that the referendum will pass two to one. The State's voters historically have never defeated a gambling proposal on the ballot. But this is not Bingo or games of chance—this is big business and an open invitation to organized crime. And the State government is not above corruption."

Rev. Rounds and his administrative board side with the Coalition of the Christian Religious Bodies of New Jersey to Oppose Extension of Legalized Gambling. That group, reports the pastor, does not feel casino gambling is the proper way to solve State fiscal problems, and would eventually lead New Jersey residents into a "gambling addicted culture." The Coalition also stated casino gambling may cause an increase in taxes, citing the sales tax increase that followed the adoption of the State Lottery. Casino gambling could also force a rise in the cost of law enforcement, said the group.

Woman's Day is held at Little Zion Church

tober 13, presenting awards to four local women for their work in the community.

All are invited to hymn sing Sunday night

Bellevilleites in the mood for filling the air with a joyful noise might want to attend a community hymn sing this Sunday, 7:30 p.m., at the Wesley United Methodist Church, Washington Avenue and Academy Street, in Belleville.

Sponsored by the Belleville Ministerium, the program is called "Sing Out The Good News," and affords local Christians an opportunity to share their favorite hymns. Each church participating will sing a representative hymn, but there will also be time for requests.

Pastor Prince Hamilton termed the annual event "a grand success," and noted that 70 members attended the affair, held for the 40th year.

Honored were the following women: Miss Doris Wynn, for her work with children in the community and for religious education; Mrs. Myrtle Dickinson for community work; Mrs. Julia Wells for her work among senior citizens; and Commissioner Mary Senatore for community relations.

The chairwoman of the program was Mrs. Jesse Salters, a trustee of the church, and the guest speaker was Mrs. Gladys Nunnery, a retired Jersey City teacher and an elder in the Presbyterian Church.

Legion women hear talk on hospital

A presentation by the Essex County Hospital in Cedar Grove, was given at the regular meeting of the Essex County Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary at Nutley Post 70 on October 10.

An audience of delegates from 22 Auxiliary units in Essex County head a hospital spokesman's urgent plea for volunteers to assist the patients in various units of the hospital. Although he stressed particularly the need for geriatric patients to have visitors, there are teenagers and patients of all ages who are not only capable of relating to volunteers but whose recovery

Anniversary dinner is set for Reverend Pascale

A dinner-dance will be held November 22 to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the Rev. Benedetto Pascale at Silver Lake Baptist Church.

Rev. Pascale, thought to hold the greatest longevity at one church among all New Jersey ministers, came to Silver Lake to do missionary work in 1914. A graduate of the Colgate Theological Seminary, he was ordained into the ministry at the Silver Lake Church in 1916. Under his leadership, the church became financially self-supporting and a playground area was developed on property alongside the church. Rev. Pascale was honored many times by fellow clergymen, educators and public officials.

Mayor appoints new trustee Family Playhouse auditions

Mayor Joseph F. McGreevy has appointed Mrs. Eleanor A. Finnegan as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. The service agency is located on the grounds of the

Essex County Geriatrics Center at Franklin and Belleville Avenues, Belleville. A long-time resident of Belleville, Mrs. Finnegan has taught for nearly fourteen years in School Four in classes for the educable mentally retarded. Her husband, William, is an instructor at Wayne Vocational and Technical High School. Mr. and Mrs. Finnegan have five children, two of whom live in Belleville, and four grandchildren. Traveling is a favorite interest of the Finnegan who have visited Alaska, Hawaii, St. Thomas, California and Greece.

Mrs. Finnegan and Michael Nardiello are representatives of the Mayor on the Board of Trustees. Other Belleville members on the Board include Irwin Folk, Mrs. Lenore Keeney, Mrs. Ann Robinson, Mrs. Sylvia Taffet and Mrs. Mildred Underwood.

Though tomorrow is opening night of the Family Playhouse production of "Funny Girl"—the local theater group's first show of the season—director Ray Napolitano is already thinking about his second show, and has set dates for casting, "A Man For All Seasons" will be the second presentation this season, and tryouts will be held Saturday, Nov. 2, 11 a.m. at the local troupe's theater in the former Holy Family Church building on Brookline Avenue, Nutley. According to Napolitano, "A Man For All Seasons" is scheduled to open December 20 for a nine performance run, and 11 male and three female roles are open. The troupe is also in need of costume, set, and advertising workers. "Funny Girl," which opens tomorrow night at 8 p.m., is the first of five planned Family Playhouse offerings this year. Following "A Man For All Seasons," the group has scheduled "Prisoner of Second Avenue," "Stop the World," and "Wait Until Dark." For further information on the theater or its performances, contact Napolitano at 997-5626.

Republicans rap Demos on finances

"Fiscal sleight of hand by the Democratic-controlled Essex County Board of Freeholders during the last five years makes it clear they cannot meet their own 'government under glass' test," it was charged today by the Republican candidates for county offices.

In a joint statement, Gerardo L. Del Tufo of Newark, Rev. James A. Pindar of South Orange and a Seton Hall University faculty member and North Caldwell business executive Paul W. Nordi, Freeholder candidates, and Deputy Register William L. Stubbs of Newark running for Register of Deeds & Mortgages, said "The Democrats have been less than candid with Essex County taxpayers."

Del Tufo, the lone Republican on the nine-member Freeholder board, has frequently criticized the absence of GOP membership on key committees including the Finance Committee responsible for county budgets.

"These are times for economy in government," the candidates asserted, "yet the costs of Democratic-controlled county operations have soared from $89.6 million in 1970 to $144.8 million for the current year...there's still lots of time for so-called emergency appropriations before year's end."

"The Democrats would have the public believe that taxes have gone down over the last four years from a rate of 1.398 per $100 of assessed valuation in 1971 to 1.303 this year, but this is sheer bunk. The rate in 1970 was only 1.188."

"A more accurate gauge of their claimed fiscal wizardry is to examine their total budgets for these same years and the increases, yes increases, in spending and the tax levy," the Republicans continued.

"Appropriations for 1970 totaled $89.6 million and for 1974 will hit the astronomical high of $144.8 million. Their claimed accomplishment has actually meant increased annual spending of $21.6 million in 1971, $9.6 million in 1972, $12.2 million last year and at least another $11.9 for the current year."

Democrats take credit for tax cut in county

The attraction of new ratables to Essex County through a continuing cut in the Essex County tax rate was cited today by the Essex County Democratic ticket.

Essex County Freeholder Harry Callaghan, speaking on behalf of his running mates for County offices, Mrs. Larrie Stalks for Register and Freeholder candidates Joseph L. Iannuzzi and Reita Greenstone, credited a 12-point reduction in the County tax rate achieved by the Democratic majority over the past three years with bringing in more than $400 million in new ratables each year.

"The fact that Democratic Freeholders have succeeded in lowering the tax rate is largely responsible for this tremendous increase in ratables because it attracts both business and residential development within our County," Callaghan said.

Sign language

As it turns out, what sounds like a relatively simple idea, is actually fairly complex when considering the factors involved.

"Whatever it is," points out Davey, "it has to be a joint venture."

"Signs have to be designed, produced, erected and maintained," added VanderZwan, and all of the Bellevilleites contacted so far by the Times-News were careful to throw in the word "budget."

According to Chief Smith, Belleville now has about 12 major entrances, not counting two exits from McCarter Highway. There are also considerations of space and size, points-out Davey — and wording.

"More important than whether we have attractive signs at the town limits," commented Moore, "is whether this community has the will and desire to pool its resources and steer a course for the next generation. If we can put up the signs, then we will be able to tackle some of the tougher problems of the community."

The present state of Belleville's border signs varies from area to area. Most of them around town have been erected by individual clubs, indicating their meeting places. The Kiwanis, for example, have staked out the intersection of Belleville and Franklin Avenues, with relatively small emblems on a bus stop they built, and several sign posts.

At the southern end of Washington Avenue, motorists, if they notice it, see a sign reading "Help Keep Belleville Clean," signed by Mary V. Senatore, Commissioner of Public Works. It is inconspicuously mounted beneath a "Trucks, No Parking" notice, just beyond the Second River bridge.

A few yards down is an American Legion Post 105 welcome, and beyond that a Woman's Club of Belleville sign.

Chief Smith believes it might be wiser to erect one sign on behalf of all service groups and fraternal organizations, while some people are thinking along the lines of a directory.

At the border of Belleville, entering motorists — if observant — will notice this collection of welcome signs. At left is the first thing one sees as he drives into Belleville from Newark on Washington Avenue, and next to it (center) a sign erected by the Woman's Club of Belleville. At far right is what happens to some signs when they are posted too low. This particular specimen is on Washington Avenue near the Nutley border.

Active Oil blasted

Both Scott and Marotti said Mrs. Senatore at a Commission caucus on September 24 rejected any discussion of the Active question, maintaining it was a departmental affair for her to handle.

Mrs. Senatore revealed that McGreevy had met with Active owner George Rohde and Mustacchio a year ago. McGreevy said that Rohde had requested the meeting after he bought the property and wanted to find out what he needed to do to comply with town ordinances. McGreevy said he contacted the building inspector and Acting Fire Chief Joseph Fabian.

"Did I ever call a meeting of your employees without you?" demanded Mrs. Senatore. "Out of courtesy, you should have called me."

"I couldn't find you," answered the mayor.

"You find me when you need me," rejoined Mrs. Senatore, to the applause of the crowd.

Senatore had approved the original permit for Active Oil, to which she replied the permits were footage and demolition, not for construction. She maintained she never saw site plans for the company.

McGreevy told the audience, "There are 20 things that could go on that property that would be more advantageous to the Town," and added, "there isn't one Commissioner on this board that wants Active there." But, he said the matter is presently before Mustacchio.

Commissioner Michael Marotti temporarily satisfied the irate residents when he proposed that the five Commissioners meet with Mustacchio to discuss Active Oil. No vote was taken to affirm the suggestion, but his fellow Commissioners offered no objections.

The meeting was visited by Assemblyman Michael Aducci, who gave brief remarks indicating he sided with the residents. "I'm not a lawyer," he said, "but I have learned there is no law that is above the people." He drew loud applause with that remark.

Joanne Juliano, president of the School One PTA, announced that a meeting Thursday night produced a unanimous vote against Active.

Old fools are not more foolish than young ones; they just look sillier.

Drive in motion

From 10 (by one Board member) to 40 (by a Greco partisan). Among the reasons for retaining the superintendent, they said, are his involvement in community affairs and "his rapport with the teaching staff and community."

Albanese told the Times-News the group had not mobilized to keep Greco earlier because "his resignation took place in the summer, when no one was around." However, there has already been one public Board meeting at which no mention was made by anyone to keep Greco in his post.

Present among the Greco partisans was former School Board President Rocco Saletta, who recalled Greco's hefty salary increase passed by the Board, 6-1, at the same meeting they accepted his resignation.

"When the Board gave him a raise the same time they accepted his resignation, that raised a lot of questions. If he deserved an increase, he must be doing a good job."

Albanese said the group will gather petitions "if necessary" to keep Greco here.

Also at the meeting, the Board voted unanimously to recommend the system-wide implementation of the Block Parents Program, also known as Helping Hand. The program, already used at Schools Nine and Four, designates various homes in neighborhoods where schoolchildren may seek aid if harassed by strangers or injured.

The Board also authorized extra payment for teacher-advisors to cheerleading, twirling and color guard advisors at the high school and junior high school. Joseph Vitiello was appointed an assistant freshman football coach and Leonard D'Armiendo, Anthony Salese, James DiGiovanna, Michael Cheri and Elsie Winship were appointed to the girls' and boys' basketball programs.

Bedside care

All the department nurses have agreed to be on emergency standby on weekends. Each of them is registered and licensed, and by the new state law, have the power to give medical treatment and diagnose in some cases.

Strumolo said he realizes some patients will still require a full-time nurse, which they would have to hire themselves, but he said "the 12 or fifteen dollars our residents can save on visits by our nurses can be better spent on medicine or other necessities."

The Commissioner said the Home Health Care reflects a more efficient use of the Town nursing staff. For the past three months a survey was taken to determine the response to the existing Free Maternal and Child Health Program, which had nurses visiting new mothers every time a birth certificate was filed with the department. Strumolo found only one out of 10 mothers felt a need for a nurse for child care, but many were reluctant to tell the visiting nurse.

Now, instead the department sends a card to new mothers, and if they want a nurse to visit, they may contact the department. "This is where we're picking up the hours for the new program," said Strumolo.

He added many new mothers are more aware of proper child care, so the department is switching away from the old program.

Now, cashing a check is as easy as flashing a card.

For the first time, one card lets you cash your checks at 84 places all over New Jersey.

It's our Confidential Cash Card (so confidential, your signature is invisible to everyone but us). And, if you have it, you can cash a check up to $100 at any Midlantic Bank.

We don't see why you should have to go from line to line, teller to officer, waiting for an "okay" to get your hands on your own money. So at Midlantic, you can just write your check, show your card to any teller and collect your money. It's as easy as gaining 15 minutes on an already busy lunch hour.

You can apply for a Confidential Cash Card at the office where you have your account. Or, if you don't already have an account with us, you might want to open one up to take advantage of this unique checking privilege. It makes any Midlantic Bank your size bank.

Karen Sysol ends Mundelein studies

Karen Sysol

Karen Elisa Sysol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Sysol of 49 Tappan Avenue, Belleville, was graduated recently from Mundelein College, Chicago. She was awarded a bachelor of arts degree with a major in English.

Miss Sysol is a high school graduate of Mount St. Dominic Academy in Caldwell, where she worked for the literary magazine and was a member of the year-book staff.

She hopes to take additional courses at Mundelein in the fall and would like to pursue a career in journalism or advertising.

Pack 350 meets

Cub Scout Pack 350 of Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church recently held their first meeting, presenting several awards to the attending scouts and various leaders.

A Save Our American Resources (SOAR) ribbon was given to the pack to be placed on the pack flag. Thank you letters to the pack were received from Fewsmith Church for flowers planted on the lawn of the church by the scouts, and from the Essex County Children's Shelter for brand-new toys given to the center by members of the pack.

Individual scouts and leaders receiving awards included the following:

Patrick Morrison and Joseph Tracy received Bear badges, second year pins and became Webelos. Patrick also earned gold and silver arrows.

James Paone, Tommy Lowe and Nicky Massa received second year pins, became Webelos and accepted silver arrows, Nicky earning two.

Silver arrows also went to John Morrell, Brian Murphy, Peter Rozewski, Andrew Pascale and David-Fulda. Peter and David received recruiter stripes, while Andrew accepted a one-year pin, as did David.

Billy Cook and Billy Corbalis received two-year pins and became Webelos.

Four boys became Bobcats: John Callahan, Brian Cook, Danny Ward and Michael Carbone. Lenny Cardinale became a Boy Scout.

Four-year pins went to Committeemen Dick Kochanski, Bill Cook, Tony Lusnia and Ron Wohltman. Three-year pins for committeemen went to Jack Hammel and Chris Botta.

Two-year pins were given to Den Mother Juanita Ottenstroer and Cub Scout Brian Woods. One-year pins went to Henry Fink, Larry Yaizer and Michel Barton.

Edward Kessler, registration committeeman, became the new Webelos leader. Former Assistant Webelos Leader Mary Jo Cardinale received a one-year pin, thanks card and thanks pin.

Barbara Lowe, former assistant den mother for Den Six, received a one-year pin, thanks card and thanks pin.

Public library sets heart care program

The Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Avenue, will present a program for the Preschool Mothers' Group today, at 10 a.m. titled "Healthy Children — Healthy Hearts."

Mrs. Portia Watson, of the Essex County Heart Association, will discuss eating habits designed to benefit children and parents, and reduce the risk of heart disease.

Mrs. Watson, M.S., project nutritionist for the Atherosclerosis Research Group, Montclair, is a member of the American Dietetic Association, New Jersey Nutrition Council and the New Jersey Public Health Association.

"Stop Rheumatic Fever," a film, will also be shown, and literature on nutrition and rheumatic fever will be available.

Miss Kathleen Mollica, Librarian, arranged the program thru the Essex County Heart Association, 70 East Park Street, East Orange.

Bellboys psyched for Camper game

Win number one was a long time coming. Belleville head coach Tom Testa hopes it's not a long time gone.

The Belleville varsity won its first game in four starts last Saturday, downing the winless Passaic Indians, 16-0. Now the Bellboys face the Irvington Campers, 1:30 p.m. this Saturday in Irvington, and though the Campers have not yet won, they are one of the meanest gangs of losers to ever come down the pike.

Besides the fact that coach Fred Manuel and his team have encountered some of the toughest teams in the county, losing by respectable scores, they are slightly bigger than the Belleville men. "I hope our speed compensates for their size," said Testa, who did not have to mention the improved Bellboy psyche which resulted from the Passaic victory.

The Passaic victory was not the hollow one some fans predicted on the basis of past Indian performance. The Bellboys had to play hard-nosed ball to earn the win. "Passaic was certainly no pushover," noted Testa, "they made a lot of charges on defense, evidently."

For the first time this year, coach Testa depended heavily on the running of Anthony Nicosia as well as that of his unstoppable tailback, Steve Senatore. While the Indians hounded "Stife," as Senatore is known, Nicosia kept them off balance, and scored Belleville's second TD of the day. Wingback Steve Gerard, who is now showing himself to be a definite threat as a receiver, collected the other TD on a 63-yard dash after taking a pass from quarterback Rich Loma.

Coach Manuel, accordingly, will have more to cope with than just Senatore this Saturday. Out last game on injury, Vinnie DeNotaris may be ready to go against the Campers, reports Testa, which will add some more important blocking to the Belleville offensive. On the Bellboy line, a number of younger players have been moved into starting spots, as part of what the Belleville head coach calls his "youth program." Several seniors showed less spunk than did their younger counterparts, said the coach, so he decided to go with them. Among the new faces are Ralph Ameano, and John Valvano at defensive tackle, who, along with several other young Blue-Gold, has shown "a lot of life and fire," said Testa.

Coach Manuel has a little life and fire on his squad, too, and also some pretty hefty players.

Jimmy Pawlyk (5-10, 180) is

Brutal..

was the only way to describe the running last Saturday of Belleville tailback Steve Senatore, shown here walking (almost) on the face of Passaic's Harold Ferguson. The Bellboys, in general, walked on the Indians, but the Passaic squad had a few good moments, too.

Smilin'

Despite the nippy weather, it was a happy day for Belleville sports fans, among them these to cheerleaders bundled up before the game. Later the cheering squad got on its feet and helped work up the fans.

Gripping

This magic moment of the game might have been a breath-stopper, but resulted in zilch. Neither Bellboy receiver nor Indian defenders could put their fingers on the pigskin, in the Belleville end zone, no less.

One in a row

The Belleville Blue-Gold achieved its long awaited first win of the season last Saturday by trouncing the Passaic Indians, 16-0, at Passaic.

Led by the passer-receiver duo of quarterback Rich Loma and wingback Steve Gerard, and by the running of Tony Nicosia and Steve Senatore, the Bellboys ran up their double-digit score with touchdowns in the second and fourth periods, and a good luck safety only moments before the clock ran out. The harried Indian squad performed better than it had in past encounters, but could not crack the Belleville defense. It happened like so:

First quarter

Belleville thwarted Passaic's hopes of going on the offensive immediately by recovering the Indian's on-sides kickoff on the Belleville 31 yard line.

Head coach Tom Testa's unit then proceeded to march downfield to the Passaic 15 on a series of drives by Senatore and Nicosia. Rising unexpectedly to the occasion, however, the Indians halted the downfield journey by the Blue-Gold, and took possession on their own ten yard line.

Passaic's possession was short-lived, however. Fred Wiggins fumbled and Belleville recovered on the Passaic five. A Bellboy holding penalty moved them backwords 15 yards, though, and the three remaining downs were not enough to overcome the Passaic line. The Indians took control on their own 27.

Passaic fought its way toward the Belleville goal line, but was again forced to punt by the strong Bellboy defenders. When the Indian punt came down, it landed in the arms of Belleville end Joe Panlone on his own 20. On the next play from scrimmage, Senatore slashed upfield for 13 yards and another first down, leaving the Bellboys on their own 33 with a second and seven at the end of the quarter.

Second quarter

Belleville hit big with its second play of the period when a pass from Loma to Gerard turned into a 63-yard romp, ending in the Indian end zone and putting the Bellboys ahead 6-0. The reception was the high point of Gerard's performance against the Indians, but was by no means his only excellent reception since being moved from his old quarterback post. At any rate, sophomore Mike Spear made good his second kicking attempt of the year, adding another point to the Belleville tally.

Though Passaic's kick off return was squashed on the Indian 23-yard line, coach Tom Elsasser's warriors did manage three first downs, reaching the Belleville 40 before a bad lateral threw the attackers for an eight yard loss and forced them to punt.

Senatore returned the punt for 23 yards, but a clipping penalty returned the Blue-Gold to their own 15. Belleville resumed its march forward behind the running of Senatore and Nicosia, but two more infractions left the home squad four and 12 at the Passaic 32.

Passaic latched onto Belleville's punt and began another futile drive deep in Assistant grid coach Bill Trimmer, new to Belleville this year, was so busy with the headset he almost missed his first win.

Columbia dismantled by Blue-Gold booters

The Belleville jayvee soccer team is walking around smiling this week. Why? Because they won. Really won.

Though the fledgling unit notched a forfeit win over Irvington a few weeks back, this time the Blue-Gold booters faced up to the competition and were victorious. Catching fire in the final period last Friday, the Bellboys downed the Columbia Cougars, 2-0.

"I was hoping it would turn out that way," modestly confided coach Tony Cahill. Libby Iantelli racked up the first Belleville point shortly after the fourth period began, and Al Venturelli followed suit some time later with another. Herman Borja was credited with both assists, while goalie Nick Semaca had a perfect day with 11 saves.

Though noting that the Bellboys were "a little flat" during the first two quarters, "we were playing fairly well the first half" in general, said the coach. The Bellboy booters had a few shots on goal, but they didn't go in. Columbia, meanwhile, was "rather disorganized," Cahill said.

At any rate, the Belleville mentor expects to make few changes in his lineup when the Blue-Gold meets Kearny tomorrow at Harvey Field in Kearny.

"We lost our first game to Kearny — our first ever — 5-0," said Cahill, "but this time I think it should be a completely different ball game."

With a season mark of 2-3 (one of those losses a disputed one), "things are progressing," said the coach. His starters are learning to play together, and several injuries are beginning to heal. John Pontrella, earlier named a captain for his outstanding play last week, got back into the action for three more quarters this week after falling prey to a vicious muscle spasm. Left wing Mike Polega is also back, carrying several stitches in his wrist.

The Kards, nevertheless, are no pushovers, and the Bellboys will be in for a real tussle if they want to keep up their winning momentum.

In general, however, "things are rolling along," said the Belleville coach, especially since the arrival — finally — of the new uniforms.

The Bellboys are only half smiling about that, however.

Delivery on the new duds has been delayed for some time, noted Cahill, and this week when they came, they came in the traditional Belleville colors, gold and black. Right. Black. The company ran out of blue.

Cahill decided to keep the new shipment anyway, since the uniforms the Bellboys have been using were 20 years old this year. All the Bellboys need for the 15 new black and goal suits are 15 sets of white numbers for the backs, which as of Monday night had not arrived.

Following the Kearny encounter tomorrow, at any rate, the Belleville unit will return to Columbia suited up and ready for the first of two back-to-back games. After the October 31 return to Maplewood, the local squad takes on Bloomfield, who according to Cahill know what the game of soccer is all about.

Harriers limbering up for Big Ten tomorrow

The Belleville High cross country team collected two more wins in the last week of action, bringing the home squad tally to 5-3 overall.

Last Tuesday the Bellboy harriers edged out Irvington 25-30 on the Bellboy course after doing a similar number on Eastside last Friday, 26-31.

Next tilt for the Blue-Gold is tomorrow at Branch Brook Park, when they and all the other Big Ten runners get together. Then, on November 1, the Bellboys resume dual-meet competition against what may be a high hurdle — Bloomfield.

The Irvington tussle, remarked Belleville coach Rich Ruffalo, was "back and forth."

Jim Beck and Nelson Seda captured second and third spots for Belleville with identical times of 15:59, but might not have done so if the number two runner for Irvington had not gone the wrong way on the course. The Camper second seater was disqualified from the running, leaving quite a 48 second gap between winner Jim Nugent (at 15:11) and the Beck-Seda duo.

Finishing fourth was Ralph Elsen for Irvington, six seconds ahead of Bellboy Walt Slubis's 16:27. Slubis, who was ill last week, was this time able to perform up to snuff, staying six seconds up on the Camper on his heels.

Meanwhile, ten seconds back, Doug Wamsley and Brian Wood were having it out with Camper Mike Horbert. The two Bellboys ultimately finished in front: 16:43 and 16:44 respectively.

Cheerleader Kim Smith doesn't look too cheery here, but she perked up considerably once the game began. Who's she lookin' at?

Can they do it again?

Irvington's leading running back, and racked up 121 yards against Montclair earlier this year. Against Union, in a 16-13 Camper loss, the senior running back was good for 108 yards.

Camper quarterback Ernie Meyer (5-9, 160) executes his plays from Irvington's slot-I offense, and throws about nine times per game, says his coach. Testa's scouts report that Meyer likes to roll out, and the Bellboys will try to stop him.

The rest of the Camper backfield is occupied by Phil Monticello (5-8, 160) at fullback, and Alex Grohol (5-8, 165) at tailback.

On the line, coach Manuel is hoping for the return this week of Arnold Gallina, the Camper's 260-pound tackle. He's been out the last two games, but is reportedly getting better.

In the Irvington defensive unit, Reggie Kimbro (6, 195) is a definite full time threat at linebacker, as is Phil Lisnicchia (6, 195) on the line.

Manuel uses three players both ways, sending the rest of his men in and out as Testa does almost totally. One major difference between the two similar teams, however, may be penalty accumulation.

Last week, and in earlier weeks, the Bellboys have been socked, for heavy losses on penalties at crucial times. Testa feels the flaws were the result of Bellboy anxiousness to rip the other teams apart, but he is trying to contain that overzealousness as best he can, he says. Irvington, on the other hand, committed no infractions in opening game against Nutley, and have since that time committed few. No one knows, of course whether that's an indicator of skill or lack of spirit, but it should become evident on Saturday.

Commenting on the Camper morale, Manuel noted that "it's hard to say," just how the Irvington players are holding up after four losses. "It could go either way, but I guess it's my job to get them up."

Testa, meanwhile, is hoping that "this will be the beginning of something," forgetting, with typical Testa optimism, to add the word "good."

Broncos lose again

The Belleville Broncos took their second setback for the year this week as St. Paul's of Jersey City defeated the local unit to a 16-0 tune.

The Broncos are now 4-2 overall, and St. Paul's shot into the league lead with five wins and one tie. Next encounter for the plucky Belleville team is this Saturday, 7:30 p.m., against the Nutley Junior Maroon Raiders, in Belleville Stadium.

In the first quarter of the St. Paul's game, John Ocasio scored for the winners on a three-yard run climaxing a ten-yard drive. The Jersey City team began that attack after recovering a Bronco fumble. The run for the extra point was stopped short, and St. Paul's led, 6-0.

however, Ocasio got away for a big one. He scampered 70 yards for his second TD. Kevin McDonald kicked the two-point conversion, to make the tally 14-0.

The only score in the fourth quarter occurred when McDonald tackled Mike Nicosia in the end zone for a St. Paul's safety. A pass for the extra point was incomplete.

This coming Saturday's game with Nutley might be a little more encouraging for the Broncos, say their coaches, since Nutley, like Belleville, is in its first year. The Junior Maroon have also suffered a few injuries, report the scouts.

In the third frame,

Nicosia, Gerard score to defeat Passaic

Indian territory. A ten-yard decision against the Indians combined with a strong Belleville defense left the Indians fourth and ten on their own six, and again they punted. This time Belleville returned to the Passaic 31, and the Bellboys were in sight of the Indian goal post at the end of the half.

Third quarter

Passaic's Fred Wiggins returned Belleville's kick off to his own 33, but another five yard penalty put the Indians first and 15 on their own 28. Under pressure, the Indians limbered up their passing game, and subsequently caught fire. Quarterback Frank Crockett hit Andrew Lewis on a 33-yard aerial near the sidelines, raising a loud cheer from the Passaic rooting section. The Indian fans' happiness was short lived, however, when the Bellboys again applied the screws and made Passaic punt.

The Bellboys couldn't hang on to the ball very long either, and Passaic was in good position after recovering a fumble by Senatore. But three incomplete passes by Crockett exhausted the Passaic attack, returning the ball to Belleville at the Blue-Gold 35. The Bellboys could not claim the first down, nor could the Indians in their next effort, especially after a clipping penalty. Another Passaic punt and Senatore and Nicosia were on the move again, picking up two first downs before the gun went off.

Fourth quarter

When play resumed, the Bellboys were standing on the Passaic 43, first and ten. More high stepping by Senatore and Nicosia powered the Belleville team downfield to the Indian 19 in only eight plays. A hand off from Loma to Nicosia, and the speedy fullback went the remaining distance for the score. Spear booted the extra point to drive the score up to 14-0 as the Passaic unit faced its fourth defeat in as many starts.

Belleville's next kickoff was returned to the Passaic 33 by Wiggins, but again the Belleville line forced a punt after three downs.

Nicosia returned the punt five yards to the Belleville 32. Passaic's defense had its last spark of life, forcing Testa's warriors to punt from the Belleville 40. The Indian offense couldn't muster the strength to capitalize on this development, however, throwing two incomplete passes. Passaic halted on Belleville's 45.

Scarlattelli named All-district slugger

Tony Scarlattelli, Montclair State College's premier left-fielder, has been named to the National Collegiate Athletic Conference District 11 Baseball Team for 1974, in a recent announcement.

The Bellboys were just getting into the swing of things, however. Gerard made good again with a 20 yard gain on a pass from Loma. Coupled with the running gains of the Belleville running duo, the Bellboys thundered down to the Passaic seven. On a fourth and two situation, however, Passaic stopped the drive and took over.

At this point, a seemingly good situation became a nightmare for the Indians. Quarterback Crockett had hardly finished his signals and stepped back when an alert Michael Ferrara sacked him in the end zone for a two point cap on Belleville's score.

As is the custom after a safety, Passaic kicked off from their 30 yard line, and moments later—after a final Belleville penalty, the buzzer sounded. The Belleville fans marched happily away, along with the Indians who gallantly accepted their fourth scoreless loss.

Clary sets record with four straight

Montclair State College football coach Clary Anderson established a personal collegiate coaching record this year as his Indians scalped Cortland State, 27-7, marking the first time the legendary mentor has opened the season at the college with four straight wins.

"At the beginning of the season I had hoped, anticipated and expected that we would be 3-0," remarked Anderson. "Then I felt that the next four games with out-of-state opponents would be tremendously taxing."

Beck's Column

Beck's Column.
You read a lot of "Bait and Switch" these days in the newspapers. Sears has been charged by the Federal Trade Commission with this practice and Zenith accuses certain dealers of indulging in it.

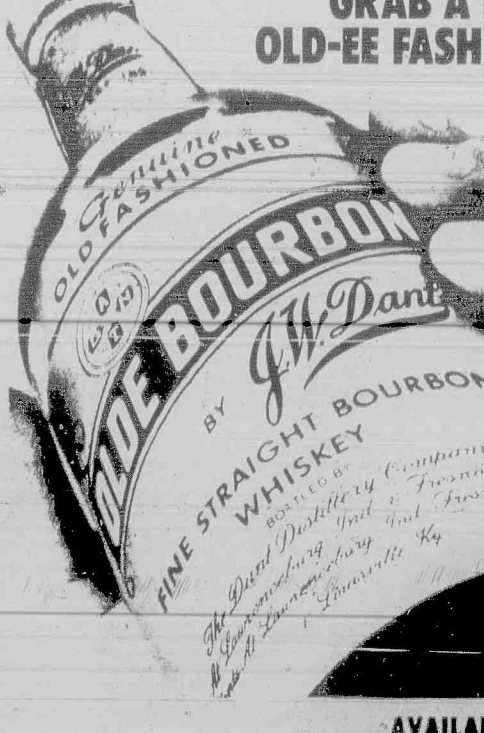

Of course this method of doing business is nothing new. Certain stores do this all the time. It is their manner of operation. It is a well known fact that in such stores a salesman does not last long, if he sells the item which is used as the "bait" or "hook". As a rule this piece of merchandise is advertised at cost or below. Nobody could exist selling merchandise without making a profit. They have to sell different merchandise on which they make a profit.

The reason why dealers try to discourage customers from buying Zenith sets is simply because they do not have a sufficient margin of profit to exist. Instead of allowing the dealers to make enough profit, Zenith and other companies as well do a lot of advertising to bring the customers in the store and, as they call it, "create a demand". Much money, which should go to the dealers, is spent for advertising.

These methods are not our way of doing business. We do not have any reason to switch and we don't use any "bait" of course. We only sell one line of electronic merchandise. Magnavox, and one line of appliances, which is Whirlpool. Both are top quality brands and there is no need to switch.

Bellboys notch first win, thumping Injuns, 16-0

Pretty

That's how Belleville sat at the half when Drum Majorette Anita Corriveau, with the Belleville color guard, twirlers and band, performed on the Passaic field. Anita, along with every other Belleville fan, was smiling broadly at the end of the contest. The spirit shown at halftime was carried into the second half of action on the grid—resulting in nine more Belleville points.

Frustration

Makes Anthony Nicosia (32) kick in disgust as flying Bellboy Anthony Bialore (20) soars to intercept Passaic QB Crockett's pass to Craig Hawes (84). The pass ended incomplete, with both receiver and defender face down on the turf. Passaic's offense completed three passes in 12 attempts, but could not light up the scoreboard. This was about as close as the Indians came all day.

Incomplete...

Is the story of this pass and Passaic's entire game. Indian quarterback Frank Crockett is pestered by Bellboy Bob Eicholtz in this desperate fourth quarter attempt by the Indians to make a dent in the scoreboard for the first time this year. Belleville regained the ball shortly after this throw.

Paydirt

Indians John Cherami (66) and Fred Perry (23) glimpse Anthony Nicosia's heels as the wingback dashes 20 yards for the touchdown after a handoff from quarterback Rich Loma. After Nicosia's sprint the Bellboys stood 13-0.

Stomping downfield

Agile Steve Senatore is pursued by frustrated Indian Vander Johnson as Belleville's big tailback dodges his way to yet another first down against the harried Indians. When finally caught, Senatore was at the Passaic 3 with a full head of steam for the next quarter. Anthony Nicosia followed this run with another first down which fired up the Belleville boiler even more. The Indians couldn't hack it.

Overkill?

The powerful Steve Senatore (42) is pursued by a horde of Passaic defenders. Three Indians are forced to their knees to halt the mighty tailback's strides, but their efforts proved futile when the buzzer rang out Belleville's victory. The Blue-Gold carrier was stopped this time, but the Indians could not stop the running game overall. Senatore was good for 159 big ones.

Harriers win two; are now five-three

"I underestimated Irvington," admitted Ruffalo afterward, who continued by saying he judged the Campers on their race with Belleville last year. The Belleville coach is now concentrating on improving his team's strategy while running, urging the runners to move out more quickly at the start, rather than trying to make up ground toward the end of the race. At the present, analyzed Ruffalo, some of his runners seem a little gun shy, probably for fear they won't

At any rate, the Bellboys had enough steam to down Eastside last Friday, much the same as they did Irvington later. Beck and Seda again finished two and three.

As for the Big Ten race, "it's wide open," said Ruffalo. Favored to win are either Montclair, Kearny, Columbia or Nutley, which is a wide range of possibility. While several teams have one, two or three fast runners, the team with the five best collectively should take it, said Ruffalo. "You might finish three guys near the top," he said, "but if your number five man comes in 87th, you're not going to win."

Frosh win third in row

The improving Belleville freshman football team won its third game in a row last Friday, beating previously undefeated Seton Hall, 28-0.

G.I.L. now bigger

Three new teams have been added to the roster of the Grammar Independent Basketball League.

St. Anthony's of Belleville, St. Benedict's of Newark, and St. Joe's of Maplewood will all sport teams this time around. The total of eight teams will play each other twice, for a 14 game season — four more games than were played last year in the League's first season.

Trophies will be awarded to the championship team and top cheerleading team, and to individual players who demonstrate good sportsmanship.

Defending champs St. Peter's of Belleville began tryouts this week, and will announce the picks next Sunday night. Meanwhile, head cheering coaches at St. Peter's, Clariese Bianchi and Susan Clenaghan, have chosen eleven regulars and one substitute.

Jersey Sweepstakes Scheduled Saturday

The New Jersey Lottery's "Jersey Sweepstakes" to be run at Monmouth Park on October 26 has focused new attention on New Jersey's important horse breeding industry.

With its $40,000 purse making it the richest race ever run exclusively for Jersey-breds, the "Jersey Sweepstakes" has people talking about some of the great thoroughbreds that were bred in New Jersey. . . . And one magic name comes rushing out of the past, Regret, the only filly ever to win the Kenucky Derby.

Regret made racing history that still stands unbroken today when she won the 41st Kentucky Derby in 1915, preserving for New Jersey a unique spot alongside her name in the record book.

Regret was a chestnut filly bred at Brookdale Farm, near Holmdel. Her father was Broomstick and her mother was appropriately named Jersey Lightning. She won the Derby under the colors of her owner, Harry Payne Whitney, a member of the famed racing family.

You Are The Detective

In response to a phone call from Sheriff Dan Ryan, you hurry to a cottage on the edge of town where you find Sheriff Ryan standing in the living room beside the body of George Turner. You note the bullet hole in the victim's right temple, and a small pearl-handled gun lying on the floor near his outstretched right hand.

"His housekeeper, Mrs. Sarah Parker, phoned me," says Ryan. "Told me she found him like this when she arrived here this morning. She lives with her husband about five miles from here and has been arriving here every morning in time to cook Turner's breakfast for him. He's a bachelor. She told me Turner was always a very mild-tempered man, easy to work for and that she knows of no reason at all why he should have shot himself."

"Has he any relatives?" you ask.

"Only a brother — Albert Turner, who's married and lives on the other side of town. I tried to phone him about this, but no answer. He and George here were law partners, and it may be that you can get hold of Albert Turner at his office. Would you mind stopping there on your way back to town?"

Twenty minutes later you are ushered into the law office of Albert Turner and tell him, "I have some very sad news for you. Your brother — he's dead. Apparent suicide."

"What? I can't believe it!" Albert Turner exclaims. He leans back in his chair with a dazed expression on his face.

"It's true," you say. "I've just come from his home. I'm wondering if you can tell me any reason why your brother should have taken his life."

"No — I'm afraid not. Of course, he was despondent at times — the fact that I am so happily married, and that he never managed to find the right woman seemed to depress him at times. Often he said it seemed so useless for him to be working so hard and to be making so much money with no son or daughter to leave it to. It does seem strange," he goes on musingly, "that George should have picked the way he did to do away with himself. He was always so fearful of guns...never would even touch one. I wonder why..."

"I'm beginning to wonder, too," you break in. "I'm wondering if this was suicide at all. I think I'll take you with me for some intensive questioning!"

What has aroused your suspicions?

On the block — Several fine art pieces went up for sale October 13 at the Clara Maass Hospital Guild's Art Auction, which saw over $600 raised for the hospital. Shown here (l-r) are Mrs. Lawrence Pinilis, Mrs. Frank Giancespro, Mrs. Francesco Crocenzi, Mrs. Viola Mantell, Mrs. Charles Tedesco and Steve Suskauer of David Gary Ltd., which conducted the auction.

Music parents set 'Babes in Arms'

Belleville High School Auditorium will be the scene of the musical comedy "Babes in Arms" Friday, Nov. 1 at 8:30 p.m.

Families are planning on attending the first fund raising event of this year being sponsored by the Belleville Music Parents' Association. The professional players of the Halfpenny Playhouse have been engaged to present "Babes in Arms" for this one night performance. Tickets are limited and selling well so seating can be assured by obtaining tickets from: Mrs. Mary Guancione, 759-4073; Mrs. Nancy Deusch, 751-0741, or Frank Seelba, music director at Belleville High School.

"Babes in Arms" is a light hearted musical comedy which tells the story of a summer stock company of young actors trying to gain success in the theatre. The musical was turned into a motion picture starring Gene Kelly and Judy Garland and most recently, segments of this film were shown in the very popular picture, "That's Entertainment". "Where or When", "My Funny Valentine", "This Can't Be Love" and "Johnny One Note" are but a few of the popular musical numbers of this play.

Art auction at hospital

Picasso, Chagall, Giacometti, Miro and other fine artists took center stage at the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Guild's Art Auction on Sunday, October 13.

The Art Auction, conducted by David Gary Ltd. was the second held by the Guild.

"Once again the auction was successful as well as enjoyable. We made over $600 which will be donated to the hospital," Mrs. Francesco Crocenzi of Montclair, auction chairman said.

Besides feasting their eyes on art, those attending also feasted on homemade cakes and cookies provided by the Guild members.

Others taking part in the auction were: co-chairman Mrs. Lawrence Pinilis, Maplewood; Mrs. Viola Mantell, W. Orange; Mrs. Charles Tedesco, Montclair, and Mrs. Frank Giancespro, Glen Ridge.

TELLERS
(Head-Tellers)
If you're doubtful about your chances to move ahead in your present position and if you're an experienced teller consider what we have to offer.
First National State begins by paying excellent salaries and providing unequalled benefits. But that's only the start! What we're looking for is banking talent, people who want a future commensurate with their abilities. Busy, dynamic First National State with its headquarters in Newark and 30 branch offices is building its future on people of talent. With our rapid growth and our policy of promoting people from within, there is plenty of room for you to move ahead.
Please apply any weekday 9 A.M. - 11 A.M. or 1:30 P.M. - 3:30 P.M. at our Personnel Dept.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(October 26 through November 1)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): If you're looking for a free lunch, Ari, forget it. It simply doesn't exist. One way or another, you pay. You had better accept this little tip from Olga, for it's probably the only thing you'll get this week that is completely gratis.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Love is a verb in days ahead, Taurus. An ACTIVE verb. Your personal antennae should pick up a new channel. The picture may be a bit fuzzy at first, but before week is over it will be in beautiful focus. So be patient, pet, and don't switch channels. Is that clear?

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Because of your personal charm and conviviality, Gem, you are much admired. Even those who do not always agree with you find you great fun. In coming week, you have chance to play role of joy-spreader. You get standing ovation, as usual.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You have many interests, Moonbaby, but the three main ones are: food, sex and money — though not necessarily in that order. Close on the heels of these is number four: politics. In days ahead, your interests are scrambled. Week ends with an audible sigh.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Because you are a Sunchild, Leo, you have a highly volatile personality. When you feel strongly about a cause, your passionate eloquence is unrivaled. You have chance this week to dominate and invigorate life of those around you.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Week ahead apt to resemble a game of billiards, Virg. Your opponent will play brilliantly, with one stroke following another piff, paff. To win, you must stay alert all the time. Slack off and you'll be racked up.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You are a natural champion of liberty and opponent of exploitation, Libra. Don't permit remarks of associate to quiet you. Continue to speak up. SHOUT, if necessary.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): New associates can give your intellectual life cohesion and vitality. Open up the windows of your mind and allow fresh breezes to invigorate. Week babbles to an interesting close.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Many of your public acts are admired, Sai, but it is your private charm and warmth which really endears you to your friends and family. Before last day, gather loved ones around you and pass the port with homie.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): On your way to your destination, Cap, take time to enjoy the journey. Long-range goals are just dandy, if they don't blind you to short-time joys.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): This autumn is a beautiful time of year for you, dear friend. You get your bearings. The brisk winds of the season help to blow away cobwebby old memories. You make new start.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Though your judgment of others is shrewd, Pisces, still you often find yourself incapable of acting upon it. Fish who hesitate too long this week wind up in aspic.

County law force aided by anti-crime funding

Essex County and two of its municipalities were awarded six anti-crime grants totalling $405,498 recently by the governing board of the New Jersey State Law Enforcement Planning Agency (SLEPA). The funds are part of an $18.6 million block grant awarded to SLEPA under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act to reduce crime and improve the criminal justice system in the State.

Included in the grants were $131,405 in start-up monies awarded to the Essex County Juvenile Domestic Relations Court to implement a court intake program similar to the successful one now operating in Morris County also under a SLEPA grant.

Due to the critical juvenile delinquency rate in Essex County as well as large caseloads and overcrowded detention facilities, efforts at screening and diverting cases away from the court process have been sporadic and unorganized. The new intake program will establish staff as well as a system to handle this problem providing better services to juveniles involved in the judicial process. Hopefully, the program can reduce by 15 percent the recidivism rate of juveniles in the court process while reducing county operating costs by about 50 percent in the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court, the Essex County Youth House and related services such as court attorneys, probation officers, and welfare liaisons. The program will provide central screening of all juvenile matters reducing the time between charge and case disposition substantially and accommodating cases even where no complaint is filed as well as prepetuating other time saving and efficient benefits.

An additional $104,995 was awarded to the Essex County Correction Center to continue a vocational training and counseling program which provides inmates with seven vocational shops including auto transmission, major appliance repair, general maintenance, landscaping, welding, auto air conditioning and small diesel engines. All inmates involved in the shops receive three hours daily of educational classes in their skill area. Basic educational courses in English and math are also incorporated daily using an individualized learning approach.

Some $43,000 went to the County Prosecutor's Office to continue, and expand its Bureau of Narcotic and Controlled Dangerous Substances. By developing liaison and coordinating with all local police departments in the county, the program operates across jurisdictional lines, following suspects and known narcotics dealers to bring about arrests and convictions which stem the flow of drug traffic in the county.

West Orange was awarded $46,900 to continue its Many Aiding Youth By Experience (MAYBE) program which provides a community-based alternative to handle juvenile needs and problems.

MAYBE is a counseling, referral and outreach program which works closely with the West Orange Juvenile Conference Committee, the County Juvenile Court, Essex County Probation Department, and the West Orange Juvenile Aid Bureau.

The City of Orange Police Department will be aided through two of the awards. Some $41,398 will go toward the continuation of a computerized program designed to provide better allocation of police resources in the community as well as an additional $38,000 to establish an improved police communications system to reduce response time to citizen calls for assistance.

The computerized allocation of police resources will use existing information and records to act as a base for the prediction of trends in crime from past occurrences so that proper patrol can be provided and crime reduced.

In the City of Orange, areas exist where no communications can be established with the existing equipment and in many areas where communications capabilities exist, it has often been poor or marginal in the degree of efficiency. Through the implementation of the new dispatching facilities and the new radio equipment made possible through the SLEPA grant, response time should be reduced considerably providing better police services to Orange's citizens.

New building is dedicated at Turtle Back Zoo event

Recently, Turtle Back Zoo held a dedication ceremony celebrating the opening of the Alice and Leonard Dreyfuss Building. This is Turtle Back Zoo's biggest dream come true. A beautiful building both inside and out, it has enabled the zoo to not only expand its facility, but to carry further its goals of recreation, education and conservation aimed mainly towards its visitors and the public.

Well equipped, the education building's interior has offices, a first aid room, rest rooms, a lecture hall, an animal compound and a kitchen where animal diets are prepared.

The animal compound may be seen by visitors as they pass directly in front of the viewing window outside the building. The compound will house a variety of animals, including mammals, birds and reptiles. At intervals, animals in the compound will be changed in order to give visitors a chance to see a number of different species throughout the year.

Many programs are presently being planned for the Alice and Leonard Dreyfuss Center. Steve Gill, Turtle Back Zoo's Assistant Zoo Curator, is the man who will see to it that the building is utilized to its full potential and will personally plan and organize the activities for the center.

"The first thing I'll set up," said Steve, "are animal lecture programs for both organized groups and individual visitors. Though still in the planning stages, the lectures may be scheduled on a regular basis so that all who come to the zoo on any one day will have the opportunity to attend. Large groups will be able to make reservations for a lecture/tour and special requests as to topics discussed will be considered."

"The education center has a lot more in store for the future," Steve said. "We hope to have films and slide shows in addition to the regular animal lectures. Invited guest speakers from outside the zoo will talk on a wide range of subjects, broadening the scope of the center and the zoo. The center will also be opened for evening programs which will include college courses and workshops." Steve would also like to see the center begin research in such fields as zoology, ecology and veterinary medicine.

The education center's programs and activities should begin in November and announcements will be made as to time, date and type of program it will be.

Turtle Back Zoo is located at 560 Northfield Avenue in West Orange. For more information, call Steve Gill at 731-5800.

Pollution control financing set

Guidelines implementing New Jersey's Industrial Pollution Control Financing Law (Chapter 376, P.L. 1973) were announced today by the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP).

The guidelines, effective at once, spell out the procedures industries must follow in applying for DEP project certification under the financing law.

Environmental Commissioner David J. Bardin said these guidelines explain department requirements and should help industries in their environment clean-up efforts. He said that two projects in Cumberland and Warren counties have already received DEP approval, and enabling resolutions are under consideration on several other counties. (Owens-Illinois, Inc., Bridgeton, Cumberland County, will construct air pollution control facilities costing $5.5 million. J.T. Baker Chemical Company, Phillipsburg, Warren County, will install 1,000 feet of 78-inch concrete sewer pipe costing $550,000.)

The New Jersey Industrial Pollution Control Financing Law applies to all forms of pollution abatement including air, water, solid waste, thermal, noise and radiation controls. Projects are funded by the issuance of tax-free bonds bearing municipal-type, lower-than-market interest

Realtors oppose new tax plan

The 13,000-member New Jersey Association of Realtors (NJAR) has sent an urgent appeal to Congress urging opposition to a pending tax reform bill that they say would discriminate against the real estate industry throughout the nation.

Sidney H. Koorse, president of NJAR, in a message to the New Jersey congressional delegation, urged 11 members of the House Ways and Means Committee not to apply the Limitation on Accounting Losses (LAL) Rule to real estate investment.

Tragedy wrenches Active Oil case

By KEN MOORE

Human tragedy forced a turn of events in a political dispute last week when a massive heart attack struck Building Inspector Vincent Mustacchio, a key figure in the Active Oil controversy.

The 50-year-old official, who remained in critical condition at Columbus Hospital in Newark as of late Tuesday night, was under court order to grant or deny a building permit to Active Oil Service for their proposed oil reclamation facility on Main Street. Judge Nicholas Scalera on October 18 had given Mustacchio ten days to make a decision; he suffered a massive coronary on Wednesday, five days later.

Both Active Oil and Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore, Mustacchio's superior who for several months had him under a standing order to withhold a building permit from Active, were awaiting the building inspector's decision. Mrs. Senatore, under pressure to process other administrative work in the department, is expected to name a temporary deputy building inspector this week to handle the work for a four-month term.

Yesterday, however, Mrs. Senatore's attorney, Lawrence Schwartz, conveyed her request to Judge Scalera that the new appointee be explicitly held off the Active Oil case. The Times-News went to press too early to report the judge's answer. "I want the judge's decision that whomever I appoint does not have to act on Active Oil," she told the Times-News. "This man will just be here for daily work. I don't think it's fair for either (George Rohde, Active Oil owner) or myself to have to take a decision from a man who's had nothing to do with this case so far. A new man wouldn't know what has happened or be able to look at the files."

The Commissioner said a backlog of 14 requests for inspections has already built up in the first five days Mustacchio was off the job. "This is the peak season," she explained. "Everybody wants to get their work done before the cold weather sets in."

Casino question may aid Demos

By PAUL STERN

Voter reaction next Tuesday to the referendum on casino gambling may have a significant impact on the outcome of individual races for congressional and county seats both in Belleville and elsewhere in Essex County, political observers are speculating this week.

The polls will be open in Belleville from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on November 5 during which time voters will decide upon one Congressman, three Freeholders, a Register of Deeds and Mortgages, and six public questions — including the one on casino gambling.

On all levels, Republican candidates are bracing for an uphill fight all the way, both locally and statewide, hoping, in

New hearing

The long-awaited word came up from Trenton this week — Transportation Commissioner Alan Sagner has agreed to reopen hearings on safety precautions at two Silver Lake railroad crossings.

Independent

That's what Toni Ward says she is, and that's the ticket she's running on this Tuesday. The 58-year-old Bellevilleite launched an eleventh-hour bid for Freeholder just one month ago.

Boo!!

Today's the day, and these three Halloweeners are ready with some handpainted pumpkins found at Jackie's Corner. The smilin' boys are (l-r) Richard Conklin, Joseph Vocaturo and James Light. Trick or treat!

Sagner agrees to listen

Officials and residents of Belleville will have their chance to argue for a reversal of State Transportation Commissioner Alan Sagner's controversial decision to allow removal of railroad crossing gates at two sites in Silver Lake.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy announced this week he has received a letter from Sagner informing the Town new hearings on Belleville's request to replace the gates will be held in Newark on Monday, Dec. 9. In order to pave the way for the hearings, Sagner requested the Town withdraw a suit in Appellate Court demanding a court reversal of Sagner's April 18 order. The Town is expected to comply.

Sagner's letter to McGreevy was a fulfillment of a bargain struck between the two officials when they met on September 11 at the height of an eight-day demonstration by local residents at the Erie-Lackawanna Railway crossings at Franklin Street and Belmont Avenue. McGreevy promised to urge the protesters to discontinue the sit-in which blocked the passage of freight trains in return for Sagner's pledge to consider opening new hearings on the matter. The demonstration was disbanded the same day after Town Fathers and State Senator Anthony Imperiale asked the residents to accept the "truce."

Ed Scandone isn't forgotten

"More like a family" was how one member of St. Anthony's parish described the church when Edward Scandone was around. "He was always there when you needed him," said another about the former priest. "He put himself completely into things."

Now Scandone, after serving St. Anthony's parish for ten years, is permanently disabled, and his "family" has not forsaken him in his time of need.

Last December, the first inklings of tragedy began to creep into the former Belleville priest's life. He began having trouble with his eyes, and the diagnosis revealed a brain tumor. An operation in February dashed hope for a recovery, and left Scandone completely helpless.

Those who knew and respected Scandone during his stay in Belleville have not forgotten him, however. A large number of his friends, in conjunction with the Belleville Amvets Post 26, have initiated Arrangements have been made to hold the hearings in Newark instead of Trenton, the usual location for such sessions. Deputy Commissioner of Transportation Manuel Carballo will chair the hearings, scheduled for 10 a.m. December 9 at the New Jersey State Building, room 212, 1100 Raymond Boulevard.

Sagner's decision to reopen the hearings answered the petition submitted by the Town after the September demonstrations. Town Attorney John Scott submitted a brief citing the existence of two schools in the area and heavy pedestrian traffic by schoolchildren as a compelling reason to consider a new examination of safety precautions at the crossings. Scott argued these facts were not brought out at the Department of Transportation's initial investigation.

Sagner's letter came later than was expected, and he indicated in response to a complaint by Senator Imperiale

Fighting Toni Ward is off and running

Belleville's only hometown candidate in the November 5 general election is a "dark horse" independent aiming for a position on the County Board of Freeholders. Mrs. Toni Orio Ward embraces the independent label with vigor, and she's determined to make herself the most distinctive dark horse ever to hit the ballot here.

Mrs. Ward's candidacy surfaced late in the campaign — about a month ago, she says, when her friends in the area circulated a nominating petition while she was in Florida. When the 58-year-old travel consultant returned and learned she was a candidate for Freeholder, it was left to her to decide whether to make the run or pull out. "I was thinking of pulling out," she says, "but my friends called me a coward, so I stayed in. I'm not a coward."

Once she entered the race, she went in to the hilt, which seems to be Mrs. Ward's style. In placing her name on the ballot, her friends realized Toni Ward would have no trouble raising and speaking out the issues. No doubt they were also counting on generating enthusiasm through Mrs. Ward's unorthodox campaign style: she is pushing her bid without any formal campaign organization, she has no "platform," and, perhaps most significantly in this age of Watergate politics, she is accepting no contributions.

"I feel why should I say what my platform is? With all the corruption going on, how do I know what I would inherit when I get in and whether I could fulfill my promises? When I get in — if I get in — I will do what I think is right."

She's got no lack of ideas on what is wrong, however. Ask Mrs. Ward what she thinks needs correcting, and you'll find out just as fast as you can listen.

"There's a lot of money coming in from the Federal government, nobody seems to know where it's going. I'll tell you where: it's going to salaries, big, fat salaries and administration fees. It should be going to the older people and to education."

"They've got these caucus meetings — they're secret because they don't want the public to know what's going on."

"I believe that the youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow. But as soon as a
