New bus system okayed by Board

A record number of Belleville students are now assured transportation for the coming school year, but possible teacher layoffs and other severe budgetary cutbacks may still hinge on negotiations between the Belleville Education Association and the Board of Education.

In a chaotic, crowded and often emotional meeting Tuesday, the Board voted 6-1 to implement the first hazard-based intra-district busing system in New Jersey; and tabled, on a 5-2 vote, a revised 1975-76 budget calling for the elimination of five additional Belleville teaching positions, a custodian, a secretary, and $35,000 worth of classroom furniture and equipment.

Though two teaching positions now vacant seem destined to remain so, three other grammar school positions can still be saved, said Board president Richard Mahmorian, if the BEA agrees to give up a $31,000 dental insurance plan. In a pre-meeting caucus, however, the Board rejected a tentative BEA offer to give up the Blue Tooth plan in exchange for a binding arbitration agreement and Board assurance of no staff cutbacks.

By tabling the revised budget — which reflects a $217,000 reduction in State aid to Belleville — the Board "leaves hope" that an agreement can still be reached, said vice president Matthew Pica.

Central to the Board's response to the current fund crisis Tuesday was its decision to grant a $57,000 contract to Community Coach, Inc., for implementation of the new "hazard-based" busing system which went into effect yesterday. At least two Board members said they believed instituting the system would not jeopardize the quality of education afforded by Belleville schools. Only Board member Lawrence Schwartz opposed the "pioneer" system, charging that increased class sizes and damaging losses of equipment would result from the Board's decision to allocate the required funds. Schwartz said "spending $57,000 to transport 500 of 6,000 students" would not benefit the school system "as a whole."

Mahmorian, in voting for the busing system, urged the large and vocal audience to "besiege" Commissioner of Public Affairs Vincent Strumolo with telephone calls urging him to alter current public bus routes through town. Part of the current transportation problem, charged Pica, is the result of poor public bus routing. Strumolo, said Mahmorian, has ignored the Board's many requests that the Commissioner approach the Public Utilities Commission on the School Board's behalf.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing it can't be done," said Pica. "They only have to re-route two buses. We should now demand it."

Pica was also critical of the four employees' unions. "We asked them to be benevolent this year, to kick back a fringe benefit (Blue Tooth). It was a small amount of money to give back to the people of Belleville." He hinted that in future salary negotiations the Board would take a hard line. "Until everybody kicks into the pot, we don't give any more fringe benefits."

'Nix' to apartment

The Belleville Zoning Board of Adjustment denied a variance Tuesday that would have permitted construction of an apartment building on Belmont Avenue.

In a 4-1 vote, the Board turned down a request by Salvatore Canella and Giacomo Badalamente to construct a 12 family unit on the corner of Heckel Street and Belmont Avenue. Eighteen objectors attended the meeting to voice opposition to the structure.

Arguments and testimony at the hearing centered primarily on the number of parking spaces provided and the increased traffic the building would cause on Belmont Avenue. Residents also said they feared difficulties with sewage and drainage as a result of the building's added load on the system.

Edward Centanni, 622 Bloomfield Avenue, Bloomfield, architect of the structure, testified that he had allotted room for 18 parking spaces, the

Drowned resident's body recovered by searchers

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning for Richard Schoen, 30, 53 Rutan Road, who died Saturday in an apparent boating accident on the Passaic River. Nutley police recovered his body Tuesday morning at the Park Avenue Bridge.

There will be a funeral mass tomorrow at 10 a.m. at St. Peter's Church.

Schoen, who worked for the Port of Authority as a surveyor, was born in Newark and lived in Belleville for the past 18 years. He is survived by his parents, Louis and Helen Schoen, also of 53 Rutan Road and a sister, Debra Smith of Jackson.

Funeral arrangements are being made through Kiernan Funeral Home, Belleville.

According to Nutley police, Schoen was out on the river in his 16-foot motorboat with several friends when something went wrong. He reportedly took his passengers back to shore, made repairs on the boat, and went back out alone. For some reason, the boat began to circle, and Schoen fell out. Witnesses say the boat came around and struck him in the head.

Schoen, who was not wearing a life jacket, slipped from sight. A short time later, Lyndhurst police reportedly called the Nutley police department to report the body floating on the Nutley side of the river. Attempts by Nutley, Rutherford and Lyndhurst police to locate the body were unsuccessful. Officials in Harrison and East Newark were notified since the tide had been running in that

Kenneth Smith

Former Mayor and Deputy Police Chief Kenneth Smith (right) died Saturday at 71.

Dissenter

Board of Education member Lawrence Schwartz (standing) at center, below) was the only one who opposed implementation of Belleville's "pioneer" intra-district busing program. Schwartz said town money could be better spent on teachers.

Kenneth Smith, 71; was former mayor

Private funeral services were held yesterday for Kenneth D. Smith, former Belleville Mayor, Commissioner and Deputy Police Chief, who died Saturday in Mountainside Hospital, Glen Ridge, at 71.

Described by many as "gutsy, arrogant and forceful," Smith was well known throughout Belleville as an important political leader and a faithful servant to the Masonic Order.

Beginning as a rookie policeman in 1928, Smith served Belleville in a multitude of capacities, both as a law enforcement officer and an elected official.

Born in Essex Fells, the former mayor lived in Belleville most of his life, receiving his education here. A Marine Corps veteran of World War I, he lied about his age when 14 years old to enter the service.

First a Belleville motorcycle policeman, he worked his way through the ranks and was appointed Deputy Chief in 1947. Prior to that he had served ten years as both a police captain and lieutenant.

Smith entered Belleville politics in 1952 after retiring from his position as

Carnival nets $258

A backyard carnival run recently by neighborhood children from Mertz Avenue in Belleville has raised $258 for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund.

About 45 people attended the carnival held in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn at 36 Mertz Avenue. Running the affair were Michael and Mary Jo Capitti; Donald, David and Joseph Flynn; Laurie Ann Bini and Tim Buckley. The kids also collected for Muscular Dystrophy for about a week, reported one of their mothers and spent Saturday August 23 running their carnival's food stands and games.

Rotary greets Seeger

At a recent joint meeting of the Belleville and Nutley Rotary clubs, District Governor Tony Seeger made his annual visit to the Belleville Rotarians of District 747. Also present as guests at the luncheon were Ted Sinclair, assistant district secretary, and Andy Buchan, the governor's aide.

After a welcoming speech from the Belleville Club's president, Bob Cook, Seeger addressed the members. "You would not be here now if someone had not shared Rotary with you, so share Rotary with others. Always remember: Enjoy and Share Rotary."

Seeger stressed the importance of regular attendance at the weekly meetings. In almost all of the clubs he has visited so far, attendance has been slack because of summer vacations. He urged members to visit other clubs and learn about their Rotary programs.

The Rotary Club is a service organization for businessmen, among their activities are fund raising projects, vocational scholarships, Rotary Information Institutes, and their youth exchange program. This year, Rotary sponsored a Nutley girl, Debra Buchanan as an exchange student in Brazil.

Drigo Fund is off to a flying start

The Gary Drigo Benefit Fund Committee held its first meeting last Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Nettie Sibilia on Holmes Street, and according to organization officials there was an encouraging turnout.

The organization, which is planning a buffet dance in October, will raise funds to aid Gary Drigo of West Orange, who will soon undergo a pacemaker implant operation. The father of three children, Drigo has multiple sclerosis, is now confined to a wheel chair and has little use of his arms and body. The operation may help him walk again and regain his coordination.

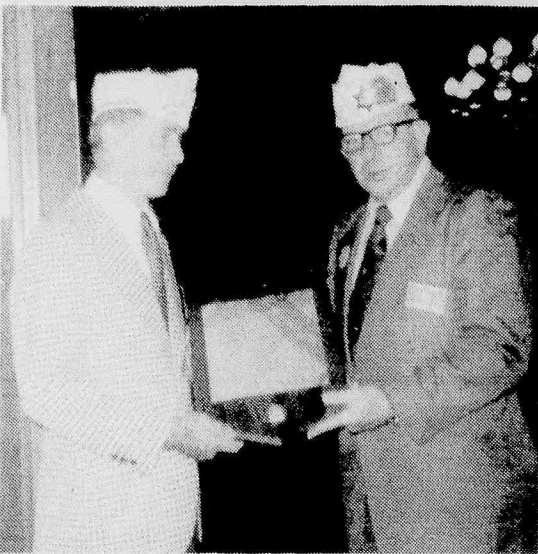

North Ward Councilman Anthony Carrino and Essex County Supervisor Philip Rotondo were selected as co-chairmen of the group, with Italian Tribune News publisher Ace Alagna, Belleville Mayor Michael Marotti, County Clerk Nicholas Caputo, Telegram publisher Joseph Biancardi, Freeholder Director Joseph Iannuzzi, Belleville Commissioners Mary Senatore and Rocco Saletta, Anthony Guiliano and Printer Romeo serving as honorary co-chairmen.

Other positions include Mrs. Sibilia as treasurer, John Marotti and Mrs. Grace Rotondo as ticket chairmen for the October buffet; "Speed" DeBenedictis, public relations; seating, Joseph Granese, Anthony Cuozzi and Carmen Fernicola; and Mrs. Jean Palumbo, Mrs. Marge Rosania and Mrs. Nettie Tarascio in charge of invitations.

The buffet, say the organizers, will be held at the Fountain on October 22.

Rotary luncheon — In a joint luncheon last week, the Belleville and Nutley Rotary Clubs welcomed Rotary District Governor Tony Seeger (above, center). Greeting him were (l-r) vice president Bob Gaccione, treasurer Ik Silverman, secretary Vinnie Padula and Belleville Rotary president Bob Cook.

Amvets award — Joseph Fornaratto (left) past commander of Amvets Post 26 in Belleville was recently presented with a plaque for helping generate the largest membership renewal in the state. The plaque is handed over by Paul C. Walsh, new national commander, at the annual Amvets convention in Des Moines, Iowa.

Mead announces luncheon speaker

Observance of motor vehicle advertising and service regulations will be the keynote of the address of Virginia L. Annich, new director of the N.J. Division of Consumer Affairs, at a special luncheon sponsored by Essex County Automotive Trade Association on Monday, September 8, at The Manor, West Orange, according to George H. Mead, Jr. of Belleville, association president. Joseph E. Carley of Montclair is chairman of the luncheon.

Because of the keen interest of auto dealers in the consumer, affairs regulations and the proposed amendments, invitations have been extended to auto dealers in neighboring counties. There will be a question and answer period following Director Annich's message.

sociation, New Jersey Retarded Children's Association, and the Civil Air Patrol.

A parishoner of Christ Episcopal Church, Smith spent what spare time he had pursuing his interest in gardening, travel and a large and unique gun collection.

Besides his wife, Gladys Minion Smith, the fraternal leader is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Rocco (Marie Jean) Milano of Belleville; a brother, Donald— former Belleville Police Chief; three sisters, Mrs. Marion Galtiere of Florida, Mrs. Doris Williamson of New York and Mrs. Marjory Conover of Bloomfield; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Special Masonic funeral services were conducted for the former mayor Tuesday night. Funeral arrangements were by the Wadsworth Funeral Home.

School break-in is broken up

Two Newark men were arrested by Belleville police last weekend and charged with breaking and entering in two separate incidents, officials reported.

Jesse W. Zachry, 28, of 572 North 7th Street was apprehended in St. Anthony's School August 31 after police received a signal over an alarm system, said authorities. The other man, Peter P. Solecki, 29, of 219 Mount Prospect Avenue, was arrested after a witness identified him as the man who was seen leaving a burglarized Washington Avenue apartment, reported Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight.

According to Haight, Zachry was arrested after a silent alarm from St. Anthony's School was received in police headquarters. Lieutenant Harry Sullivan and officers Carmen Pedalino and Charles Oese responded to the call said Haight. Officials say the officers found a broken basement window at the scene, and after notifying the custodian, entered the building. While searching the building, officer Pedalino found Zachry crouched under a bench, police said. He was taken into custody and charged with breaking and entering and attempted larceny. He is being held in lieu of $250 bail. A court date has been set for September 4.

The second arrest came on Monday. According to Haight, police received a report from a resident of 353 Washington Avenue that he observed a man leaving one of the apartments in the building with a radio. Police investigated and found a rear window had been forced and the apartment ransacked, Haight said.

A description of the suspect was sent out to all patrol cars, and officers John Drop and Michael Petrillo stopped a man fitting the description at Union Avenue and Mill Street. The man, Solecki, was taken back to the scene of the burglary, officials said, and identified by the witness. Police charged Solecki with breaking and entering and larceny. According to the Deputy Chief, all the merchandise was taken from the apartment, including a television and a radio.

As of late Tuesday, no bail had been set for Solecki, and a court date of September 24 was arranged.

Haight praised the police officers involved in both arrests, saying the quick apprehensions came about as a result of "vigilance and good police work on the part of the officers."

direction at the time of the mishap.

At approximately 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, the bridgekeeper at Park Avenue in Nutley notified police that Schoen's body was between some piles on the South side of the structure.

Members of the Nutley First Aid Squad and the Nutley police department arrived and succeeded in getting the body onto the bridge about a half hour later.

Police are tentatively listing the cause of death as drowning. According to one person at the scene, the body did show signs of being struck in the back of the head.

A small crowd of spectators and members of the news media gathered at the body recovery scene. Police had to use the winch from a tow truck to lift the corpse from the pilings onto the bridge. Before the body was moved from the scene, two priests from St. Mary's church arrived and said prayers over Schoen's body.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

Quite a lot has happened since we went on vacation two weeks ago. Read in the paper about the theft of the stereo unit from the new club house. What kind of diabolical mind would prompt anyone to steal anything from our senior citizens? We had been counting on this source of entertainment after we move into the new clubhouse.

The Retired Men's Club of Belleville has resumed regular meetings on Wednesdays at the Fewsmith Church at 9:30 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hallbauer will celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary on September 18. Congratulations to this popular couple.

We are saddened by the death of Tom Tracy, a member of this organization and also a member of the Old Guard of Nutley, on August 22. Ed Canis is back after being ill. Charles Zimmer of this club and of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club is at the Hartwick West Nursing Home on Route 23 in Cedar Grove. Drop him a line.

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club, Inc., reports that Marie Rainho is out of the hospital and getting better, for which we are happy. Tony Bove is to go into Clara Maass for an operation— our best wishes for a speedy recovery. Dolly and John Whalen are in St. Barnabas, Livingston, for tests — in the same room, yet.

Many of the members enjoyed a concert by Lester Flatt, the recording artist, at the Garden State Arts Center. The same club will be sponsoring a gala to the Arts Center on September 10 to see the musical, "Guys and Dolls." The trip to Wildwood Crest is shaping up. Many good times are ahead for the friendly people of this organization.

Cop killer paroled

Anthony Russo, a 35-year-old Bellevilleite sentenced to death in 1961 for the murder of a Newark policeman was paroled last Tuesday.

Russo was sentenced to death by an Essex County jury after it found him guilty of killing Joseph Hagel, 63. Russo killed the off-duty patrolman during the robbery of a Newark tavern.

Two others were also convicted in the crime. James Bisignano of Lodi was also sentenced to death after being found guilty as an accomplice in the crime, and Robert LaPierre Jr., driver of the getaway car was given life imprisonment. LaPierre was 17 at the time of his conviction.

Russo and Bisignano had their sentences commuted to life in 1972 when the Supreme Court banned capital punishment. Both men had appealed their convictions through state and federal courts without success.

Bisignano was paroled two years ago, in April 1973.

The prosecutor in the case was Governor Brendan T. Byrne, then with the Essex County Prosecutor's Office.

Woman pleads guilty to prostitution

A 27-year-old Belleville woman was fined $300 and given a 30 day suspended sentence for prostitution last week in Belleville Municipal Court.

Lynn M. Butkus of 725 Joralemon Street pleaded guilty to the charge at last Thursday's proceedings before Municipal Judge Edward Abromson.

Miss Butkus was arrested August 21 following a week long investigation by Belleville police. She was charged with soliciting unlawful intercourse and other sexual acts for a price of $25.

According to Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight, this was the first arrest for prostitution in Belleville since the 1960's.

Miss Butkus was reportedly doing business with four to five men a day. She paid her fine in full immediately after the court proceedings, and Judge Abromson waived probation.

Senatore group dinner-dance nears

The first annual dinner and dance to be sponsored by the Mary V. Senatore Civic and Welfare Association of Belleville is scheduled to be held Saturday, September 27 at the Westmount Country Club, Rifle Camp Road, West Paterson.

The cocktail hour is slated to start at 7:30 p.m. with dinner following. Dancing will be to the music of Ralph Tubello, with Sam Lombardi appearing as the guest star.

Serving as chairman of the affair is Ralph (Bobby) Tunis, while ticket chairman is Joseph Ciccone.

Reservations for the gala evening may be made by contacting either Mr. Tunis at 751-4468 or Mr. Ciccone at 751-6540.

The regular monthly meeting of the Mary Senatore Civic and Welfare Association will be held Wednesday, September 18 at 8 p.m. at Parillo's Restaurant.

Breakfast begins Russo's campaign

A campaign kick-off breakfast for Daniel R. Russo, Assembly candidate will be held Sunday, September 28 at 10 a.m. at Thomm's Restaurant, 80 Park Avenue, Newark, according to Chairlady Judi Oliveri.

Guest speakers at the affair will include North Newark Ward Councilman Anthony Carrino, State Senator Anthony Imperiale, and North Ward Chairman Anthony (Toto) Couzzi.

Russo is seeking the assembly seat in the 30th district, which includes Belleville, parts of Newark, Kearny, Harrison and Secaucus.

Tickets for the breakfast may be obtained by calling 751-6324.

The Israel Egypt pact

All the world knows another decision has been reached through the efforts of Henry Kissinger to bring peace to the Middle East. There is something about the Arabs that makes us wonder about Israel's future.

It is our judgment the interim agreement between Israel and Egypt, and various aspects of the Sinai desert does not mean peace in the Middle East. The agreement represents the first time that Israel has surrendered territory, conquered in the 1967 war, as a result of negotiation rather than violence. The agreement includes political commitments between the two parties—a first in history.

We don't trust the Egyptians, but one can not turn away from an offer to make a deal in order to buy peace in our time. Realistically, Americans must recognize the stationing of United States civilian technicians on the Sinai between the two enemies, commits America to a strange military arrangement. Better if the Congress adopted a treaty with Israel stipulating that American force would be used to defend Israel against an attack by the Arabs, who encircle her. Still to be resolved is the fate of three million Palestinians, the root cause of Middle East violence. Moreover, the fate of the Holy City of Jerusalem remains unresolved.

We welcome the Israel-Egyptian agreement if for no other reason than it buys time to bring permanent peace to the Middle East.

The High Holy Days

(The following is a guest editorial by Rabbi Herbert Horowitz, spiritual leader of Congregation Ahavath Achim in Belleville.)

The relationship between God and Israel is a close one during the entire year. However, the Jew meets God most solemnly and intimately on Rosh Hashanah (New Year) and Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement).

In preparation for these sacred days, which tradition terms the "Days of Awe" - and which are today called the "High Holy Days," the Shofar is sounded at the conclusion of each weekday morning service in the preceding month. Its piercing, plaintive sounds summon the worshipper to prepare spiritually for the forthcoming rendezvous with his Maker.

According to tradition, Rosh Hashanah, occurring in the early fall, is the birthday of the world. On this anniversary of creation, the Jew stands before his creator. He exposes himself to the Sovereign Judge in all his frailty. As co-worker with God, man engages in self judgment, in spiritual stocktaking. The two days of this solemn holiday are spent in synagogue worship. In the company of fellow worshipers, the Jew finds strength to face his God and himself.

The Holy Days of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are profoundly connected. The awesome prayer known as Unetaneh Tokef depicts the solemnity and holiness of these days. "Oh Rosh Hashanah the decree is signed and on Yom Kippur it is sealed; How many shall pass away and how many shall be born; who shall live and who shall die. . . who by sword, who by thirst, who by hunger. . . who shall live in tranquility and who shall be harrassed."

But each human being must not surrender to despair in the face of what seems to be blind fate, for this section is climaxed by the challenge:

"But Repentance, Prayer, and Good Deeds can annul a harsh decree."

Kol Nidre, chanted as the setting sun ushers in the Day of Atonement, has become the most moving of Jewish worship experiences. Why has this prayer which is an abrogation of vows considered of such significance? The answer is in the Kol Nidre prayer itself. It signifies the loyalty of the entire congregation and its triumphant affirmation of faith in the God of Israel.

Throughout the day the worshipper is reminded and taught what his affirmation imposes upon him. As the day draws to an end, the concluding service, Neilah, closes the gates of heaven to prayer, we prepare to depart from God's House, cleansed and purified in soul, ennobled in resolve to fulfill our duties to God and our fellow human beings in the New Year ahead.

Busing stance is 'assinine'

To the Editor:

The following is in rebuttal to certain editorial comments made by Mr. Frank Orecchio in the August 21, 1975 issue of the Belleville Times News. Mr. Orecchio assailed an administrative proposal by the Dept. of Motor Vehicles to photograph all N.J. drivers as "the most assinine thing we have heard in a long time."

Mr. Orecchio, I must disagree with you. Your further observations on Transportation vs. Education and the new intra-busing system win the Assinine Comments Award of the year. May I quote, "The new busing system will cost the Board in the area of $50,000. . . Let the kids walk. Let them learn to walk."

Just a glance at the headlines in the Times substantiate my personal fears that I must allow my two daughters to walk 1.8 or so miles to and from the Junior High School daily. I must admit that in "your day" children did walk or ride their bikes to school. But you must admit that times have drastically changed since then.

Belleville has MINIMAL public transportation available. Further, some years ago the Belleville Board arbitrarily reduced the mileage requirements for busing children from the state-aided 2.0 miles to 1.7 miles, an added burden to the supposedly fundless Board. The intra-district busing system by far proves to be more feasible because it tries to eliminate blatant discrimination and introduces hazard as a criteria to busing instead of favoritism. It offends my sensibilities to hear supposedly informed adults condemn a system that evolved from the hard work of a group of dedicated, concerned parents/citizens of this town.

I agree that the loss of teachers which would lead to crowded classrooms is harmful to our children's education. However, I also feel that advocating 7th, 8th and 9th graders to walk to school no matter what the hazards equally harmful. There must be better solution to the problem we Belleville parents face than that which you editorially proposed.

To the Editor:

It's been a pleasure to look at and walk around Clearman field. I do hope that it's kept up. There is nothing like cleanliness.

Thank you for printing the picture of the filth that was around Clearman Field, and also want to thank Mike Chieffo of the Board of Education.

CAROL ANN BLITZ. That's a name that may not mean much to other people—but to me it has meant a great deal. For the better part of two years, Carol has been the administrative mainstay of Video Graphics, Inc., one of our companies run by Bill Miller. If any organization could boast of an indispensable girl, Video Graphics would have to nominate Carol Blitz for such an honor. Friday, August 29th, was Carol's last day at 777 Bloomfield Avenue, Nutley. Her husband's career obliged Carol to leave her Nutley employment and move to Lancaster, Pennsylvania, the land of the Amish people. It is always a sad experience to exchange Good-bye's with someone who has been so good and decent as Carol.

MY OLD FRIEND, Tony Veziano, the former maitre d' at New York's Mercurio's Restaurant, is now holding forth on the same street but in another first-class restaurant, the Ristorante "Il Rigoletto," 232 E. 53rd Street. Whenever I think of Tony Veziano, I think of quality—and class. So may next time out for dinner in New York may very well be an adventure in dining at Ristorante "Il Rigoletto."

MY FORT LAUDERDALE family Doctor, Louis Amato, has finally decided to call it quits at age 66. Twenty-six years ago, Dr. Amato was a pioneer specialist in geriatrics. Widowed last year, Dr. Amato finds himself in the same situation as many other retirees. Prior to his wife's death, Dr. Amato's retirement plans included study in Italy, his native land from which he migrated at the age of six. Now that he is alone, Dr. Amato observes, "When you are alone, you need to plan carefully. How much golf could I play? I could travel, but after a couple of months that would get old." At the moment he is about to make a decision to establish a counselling service for older people, dwelling on the physical, emotional, social, and financial aspects of growing old. Not a bad idea.

In 1953, a New York City-trained doctor decided to establish a medical practice in Fort Lauderdale. In just a few years, the ambitious, young doctor established the Fort Lauderdale Beach Hospital. Last week at dinner, Dr. Amato looked and talked much younger than his 66 years. A great human being, fine medical practitioner, Dr. Amato's services will be missed.

THIS LABOR DAY WEEKEND is probably the deadeast three-day weekend that Fort Lauderdale has seen in the past ten years. Despite the National Airline strike, planes are leaving Fort Lauderdale less than full. In holidays past, stand-bys and wait-listed passengers more often than not were unable to board the flights they desired.

Streets of Fort Lauderdale were almost barren of life this weekend. The beach crowd was so sparse I was able to count the number of people using the facilities and enjoying the sunshine. My trip back from Fort Lauderdale

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Deputy Police Director Joseph Granese is performing yeoman service in carrying out the program of Commissioner Saletta who is Director of Public Safety. J.G., as Mr. Granese is generally referred to, is putting in considerable time in developing a new image and relationship between the lawman and the general public. He is accentuating a courteous, cooperative rapport approach that will reflect a more solicitous regard for the concerns of our citizens.

The new deputy police director is a stickler for discipline and close attention to observance of departmental regulations. It is known that he has procured a copy of the Police Department manual of regulations and is giving it close study. Mr. Granese is not a harsh nor unreasonable man, however, having conducted a highly successful and profitable business that engages several employees he does insist upon loyalty and honest dedication of those who serve under him. We can be certain he will be no less demanding of those in the local police division now under his wing.

Taking time from his business, which he relates is costing him $60 a day, Mr. Granese personally runs down complaints from troublesome areas and talks with the aggrieved parties in an effort to correct or relieve complicating problems. As deputy police director he refers difficult matters to the proper agencies to provide a solution such as the juvenile officers of the detective bureau. He keeps a scrapbook of notations of all matters he look into with a complete rundown of their disposal.

Careful study is presently being given to traffic problems throughout the town with a view to establishing one-day street pattern to facilitate the flow of traffic where feasible. J. G. conducts many nocturnal inspection tours in the manner of Nutley Mayor Carmen Orecchio to establish his charges are doing their job.

J.G.'s is a welcome addition in the Public Safety Department.

While on the subject of police activity it is interesting to reflect the views of writer Jon Zimek who prepares the column "EYE ON TV" in the Star-Ledger. In a recent article captioned, "Police Shows Trample on Constitutional Rights", he cleverly points out that according to the television broadcaster's code, criminal acts depicted on the air must be punished. The code, he explains, isn't mandatory—which is lucky. Because if it were, Kojak, Baretta and almost every other TV cop would have been stripped of his or her badge and kicked off the force by now. They're law breakers.

His column indicates a recent study of television programs revealed blatant violations of the U.S. Constitution such as illegal searches, theft of evidence, coercive "third-degree" questioning and a variety of other illegal acts by TV police officers.

The study, he points out, was done by two attorneys who are specialists in the Fourth Amendment, which pertains to illegal searches and seizures. They used tapes of police shows as examples of how not to conduct criminal investigations. Among them, "Kojak," "Hawaii Five-O," "Get Christy Love," "Dragnet," "Adam-12," "Streets of San Francisco," "Police Story," and "The Rookies." Only "Police Story" was without fairly obvious violations of the Constitution according to one of the attorneys who conducted the study.

He said, "It's a good thing the criminals usually confess on these shows—although the confessions are often obtained illegally, too—because if they were ever to go to trial the judges would laugh at "Kojak" and his fascist colleagues and throw the cases out of court."

The lawyer, Mr. Arons, said "People get so caught up in the story line that they don't really pay any attention to these constitutional matters." He concluded, "Things that are plainly police-state tactics evoke no outrage from people who watch the shows."

It might be wise to remember when viewing these shows that it is "play-acting."

Bellevilleites stir up the water

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

There was still protest about Sagner's decision at the Silver Lake train crossing. All indications pointed to the strong possibility that demonstrators would use their bodies to block train traffic along the railroad, rather than to abide by the decision to remove gate crossings and watchmen from two sites.

With school due to start, Senator Anthony Imperiale, Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, Belleville Mayor Joseph McGreevy, and other local officials vowed to demonstrate with disobedience if Sagner did not withdraw his decision.

Because of rioting and tension in the neighboring town of Newark, Belleville police doubled their patrols for what they termed "strictly precautionary measures."

The closest Belleville came to disorder, was in Newark, on Chester Avenue, which is ten blocks from the Belleville border.

The Belleville police switchboard carried a host of phone calls from anxious and curious citizens, but most calls came after much of the Newark riots on T.V.

Although Belleville police have a mutual pact with Nutley and Glen Ridge, and are able to move into these two towns on request, they were never asked to stand by to aid Newark police. The reason was that even if a request was made to the Belleville police for help, permission would have to be granted from the Essex County Prosecutor's Office before other municipalities could move police forces into Newark.

The Newark disturbances were sparked during a Puerto Rican festival held in Branch Brook Park during which time 22 persons were injured, two men shot and 14 others arrested.

The cause of the riot was uncertain, but police were blamed by festival-goers, and festival-goers were blamed by police as having started all the trouble.

The cleanest people lived in Belleville! At least that's what the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority blamed the dirty water on — increased usage by Belleville residents, which stirred up sediments in the pipes!

Belleville and Newark public officials searched for a cause to the town's breakout of "dirty" water. The officials reached conflicting answers and it was expected that only further investigation would bring a definite solution to the problem.

Mary Senatore stated that the probable cause was repairs being done on a 48 inch water pipe on Main and Orange Street in Newark.

FOR SENIOR CITIZENS:

Nation of nations

(The following is one of a series of special Bicentennial articles focusing on the elderly. It was written by William Pierce Randel, Professor Emeritus, University of Maine.)

In the long series of group migrations to North America, from the founders of Jamestown to the war-weary refugees from Viet Nam, few if any have arrived without fixed attitudes toward aging and special traditions for treating their elders. The variations are many; but they have not had much influence on the development of any form of "ageism" recognizable as distinctively American.

For the first three centuries of our history we had a rather colorless or neutral behavior toward our elders. This came about largely by default. The first shiploads of settlers, mostly from Great Britain, had almost no older people (by whatever definition of "older"). Hewing livable space out of a wilderness called for the best in brawn and good health. Only when a few of these "founding fathers" (and mothers) survived their fifties and settled into less strenuous labors, was there even the appearance of an older group in the community.

We know some of these lucky few by name and reputation. Anne Bradstreet, for example, our first poet of any substance, lived to be sixty, and her formidable husband Simon stepped down as Massachusetts governor at 89. We know the dissenter Roger Williams, who founded Rhode Island as a haven for religious liberals, and who, at age 72, served as a militia captain in King Philip's War.

We recall with special pride the many-sided Ben Franklin; 70 when appointed to help draft a Declaration of Independence, 82 when he finally retired from public life. And it amuses us to read the diary of Samuel Sewall, former judge in the Salem witch trials, as he records his courting of Widow Winthrop in his late 60s. (She turned him down.) But — and this is a very important but — the stress on age in this colonial sampling is a recent addition; what individuals did, in early times, was what really counted, not how young or old they happened to be when they did it.

If this sounds like the Puritan Work Ethic, it was. There was an urgency, hard to imagine today, about the whole colonial venture. Time was of the essence, and idleness was unforgivable. Children began contributing to the household economy as soon as they could, and the oldest members continued to as long as they could, incidentally retaining their self respect by doing so.

Smaller and later groups of immigrants might maintain their ethnic traditions, privately, while outwardly adopting the cultural mode of the British-based majority. That majority, quite obviously, was not likely to yield to newer groups. But none of the newer groups brought over particular customs so outrageous as to invite suppression — for example, the exposure of the helpless aged to barren mountainsides, where they quickly died. At the other extreme, we have never, as a nation, seen fit to honor the aged as the Japanese do. They have a special term, otoshiyori, meaning "the honorable elders," and a national holiday, "Respect for the Elders Day." They even recognize the 61st birthday as the onset of old age, with ceremonies resembling bar mitzvah, christening, or confirmation.

At the time of the Revolutionary War, as Benjamin Franklin observed, the colonies had twice as many marriages as Great Britain, and twice as many children per marriage. If someone wished to portray the most representative American during the war years, the figure would have to be a young woman leading her oldest child by the hand, carrying her second across one shoulder, and unmistakably pregnant with her third.

Soldiers were less numerous, despite the fighting, and old people were scarcer yet. Young people under 15 made up about half the population. It was a very young country — and it stayed young for the next century and more. As late as 1900, only one American in 25 was 65 or older.

Then things began to happen. The commodious family home, with "always one more bed," became as rare as the family horse and carriage. The family itself exploded and reformed in unfamiliar shapes. Pensions gave retirement a welcome new dignity and encouraged independent action, but compulsory retirement at a fixed age was a price tag not always welcome. Health improved, and average life span was extended.

Out of this massive upheaval, this cultural revolution, old age has emerged as a myth, a set of beliefs with slight if any basis in fact, and as much in need of correction as any older ethnic slurs that hopefully are in decline today. Defining and measuring the hardening stereotypes is difficult, and for this reason we must be grateful for a recent study conducted by Louis Harris & Associates for The National Council on the Aging, with the arresting title, "The Myth and Reality of Aging in America."

What this poll indicates is that a great many in the 18-64 age group hold negative views of people 65 and older. Two out of three, for example, consider their elders not very good at getting things done. Only three in ten view them as very bright or alert, and only one in five considers them very open-minded and adaptable. These opinions seem to reflect a general fear of old age, a belief that most people over 65 are frail and helpless.

But the poll also demonstrates that most older people view their condition as better than they thought it would be, and better than younger people believe it is. Most of them say they do not lack money enough to live on, and even more insist they can usually find meaningful activities. Older people spend far less time in sedentary passivity, like watching television, than younger people believe they do. As a matter of fact, old and young spend about the same amount of time sleeping, reading, "sitting and thinking," participating in organizations and going for walks.

Anniversary celebration— August 18 marked the 18th anniversary of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital's move to Belleville, and some members of the Nursing Service Department celebrated the occasion by taking time out for a piece of cake. Pictured here are Nutley resident Mrs. Lorraine Jackson, R.N., Operating room Supervisor (center) and Belleville resident Miss Carmela Nardi, R.N., Staffing Coordinator (right) giving a cake to Mrs. Concetta Fiorellino of Newark. Mrs. Fiorellino's daughter, Mrs. Nancy Masiello, R.N., M.S., is Director of Nursing Service at Clara Maass.

The couple continued on the coastal route to Caribou, Nova Scotia, around Prince Edward Island, back to Caribou via ferry and on to New Brunswick again.

Another ferry trip took them to Miguasha, Quebec and following the coastal route around the Gaspé Peninsula, brought them to Quebec City and St. Anne deBeaupre.

The Himes then drove to Montreal to see "Man and His World" and crossed the Canadian border into New York State.

Bruins compete in state tourney

The Belleville Bruins had more than their share of action last week, as they competed in the State Tournament of Champions, and then on Tuesday and Wednesday made their bid for the title in the Essex County League.

The finals of the county league were scheduled to be held under the lights in Lyndhurst Park, and results came in too late for this week's edition of the Times/News. The Bellevilleites took on the South Orange Soverels, a team the Bruins took in four out of five match-ups this season. Team manager Mike Welsh and his men were fairly confident of the outcome of the games as of early Tuesday.

The hometowners did extremely well in the opening rounds of the Tournament of Champions, taking their Saturday game away from the Plainfield Essels, 2-0, and romping over their second opponent, Wall Township in a Monday afternoon clash. The final score of that game was 11-1.

The Belleville batsmen jumped to an early lead over Wall Township when they put three runs on the board in the bottom of the first. Designated hitter Tom Scull gets the credit for the early lead, since it was his home run blast over the left field fence that drove in Teammates Tony Leopoldi and Frank Petite.

The Wall gang rallied for one run in the top of the second, and held their hosts scoreless for that frame. In the third, however, Belleville came rocketing back in the third for three more runs.

Joe Papasidero and Leopoldi led off the inning with walks. The pair then executed a neat double steal, with both men ending up safe — Papasidero on third and Leopoldi on second. Hard hitting Frank Petite added two more runs to the tally when he slapped out a double, allowing Papasidero and Leopoldi to score. Scull took his base on balls, and Jim Rake was safe at first after an error by the second baseman. Dan Dunn then hit into a force play, and Petite got caught trying for home. On the throw to first for the double play, however, the ball went into right field and Scull crossed the plate.

The Bruins put four more runs in the bag in the sixth inning, and by this time it must have been obvious to everyone there that the hometowners had the game. Dunn led off the inning with a home run shot to right. Billy Otskey then doubled, and Papasidero was safe on an error by the shortstop. Papasidero then stole second, and Otskey took advantage of the throw to zip home safely on a delayed steal. Leopoldi then doubled in Papasidero, Petite singled, and Scull hit a one bagger to allow Leopoldi to score.

The last run of the game came in the seventh when Otskey sent the ball for a ride over the left center fence.

Mike Zayac pitched the game for the Bruins. He registered his 11th win of the season when he struckout one batter, walked five and allowed just six hits.

The win on Saturday was iced in the first inning when the Bruins got the only two runs of the game on the scoreboard. Papasidero led the game off with a walk, and Rake followed him with a single. Leopoldi then doubled to center to drive Papasidero across the plate, and De-

Gridders in gear

The relative quiet that surrounds Belleville High School during the summer came to an abrupt end Monday, as head football coach Tom Testa started gearing down for a tough season by getting his men out of the field to practice.

Though admittedly too early to really gauge the quality of the team, the coach said he was pleased with the first day workout. About 105 grid candidates showed up for the session, giving Testa and the rest of the coaching staff a lot of material to work with and a lot of weeding to do.

The initial practice was devoted to primarily offensive movements. The Bel-boys lost a good portion of their attacking strength to graduation, and the coach is looking over prospects to plug the enormous gaps.

About the only familiar face returning on the offensive division is Ricky Loma at quarterback. Loma played the last five games of last season, and Testa said he was looking strong for the spot again. He is getting competition, however, in the persons of Joe Gelpi and Dean Catana.

Up on the line, things are also tough. Testa says the guard spots look pretty good, with Mike Cancelliere coming back and Vito Guarino as another hopeful. The coach says there are other boys eyeing the position, some with game experience to bolster their ambitions, and he predicts, "a real good battle for the guard spots."

There are also slight scrambles going on for the positions of offensive tackle and center. Greg Dunleavy and Tom Zarra are both looking good at center, says Testa, and Nick Zarra and Bill Kennedy are trying their hands at the tackle spots, vacated when Al Nufrio and Bernie DelCortivo both graduated.

Looking towards the tight ends, Testa sees John Guarino and Greg Grasso as full fledged candidates for the spots. Based on what they've shown so far, they look pretty good. James Russel and Anthony Speer are also looking good and their quest for starting spots may find them as wide receivers.

In the backfield, the coach says the team is looking good as far as the number of candidates, and he is cautiously optimistic about filling that huge void with up and coming players. Chris Cervasio, John Clarizio and James DelGrasso all are looking like contenders for the wingback or slotback position. Testa is predicting a real fight for the fullback chair, with Alan Cervasio, Mike Rancui, Pete Loloia and Frank Mozeika all grabbing for it. Joe Pizzi and John Argeiri round out the picture in their individual drives for the tailback slot.

Defensively, the coach says the team looks fairly strong, with more

14-year old Cassese takes Jersey golf title

Joseph Cassese, a 14-year-old Bellevilleite has developed a habit that makes him feel good, but is a curse to some others — he wins at golf.

Last Thursday, Cassese picked up the New Jersey State Golf Association's boys championship title when he slipped by Jim McCarthy of Montclair in a sudden death finish. Earlier in the link season, Cassese took his second straight boys' public course title. The swinging Bellevilleite will become eligible for the BHS golf team this year, and it's a sure bet that coach Mike Salzarulo is looking forward to welcoming Cassese on board.

McCarthy, a 14-year-old student at Montclair Academy, had a two hole lead on Cassese after the 11th hole. McCarthy, a runner up in the Met Boys championship seemed to choke on the 12th, however, as he sent two drives sailing out of bounds. Cassese, on the other hand, sparkled, especially when he dropped a 35-foot birdie putt into the cup on the 12th.

The boys ran neck and neck from there on, finishing off the course locked into a tie.

The boys then moved into extra holes, but Cassese took the advantage on the first and ended the contest. While McCarthy found himself in a trap on the hole, Cassese eased in with a par four to win the championship.

Soccer team enters first varsity season

Belleville high's soccer team started getting ready for the season last Monday, and coach Tony Cahill made sure it was a program of total immersion, driving the boys through a double session.

This will be a red letter year for the team, since it will be the first time the squad has competed on a varsity level. As a result, coach Cahill admits he is a little nervous about what lies ahead for the team, saying, "We know it's not going to be easy, but like you always say, we are going to be competitive."

About 35 students came out for the team this year, an improvement over last year's crop, and a definite morale booster for Cahill. Though all the boys won't stay, the increased number gives the coach a lot more latitude in his choice of varsity booters. The majority of the men out have played the game before, but Cahill says there are some completely green sophomores trying their hands, or rather feet, at the sport.

The only obvious soft spot in the Bel-boys squad is at the mouth of the goal, where Cahill finds himself light an experienced goalie. Last year's net defender didn't return, and the coach is now in the process of trying different men out at the spot. He says that three men are currently working on the position, but another player may be added to the list of potential ball-stoppers.

The coach says the team is strongest in the middle of the field and he predicts that the center forward, center halfback, and the fullbacks will probably be the supporting beams of the team. Right now, however, the coach is most concerned with the shape his men are in.

Cahill said he is working on conditioning in this early part of the practice season, commenting, "The boys were huffing and puffing a little more than I had hoped for, even those who had played during the summer. The lack of conditioning was noticeable on the first day of practice, so we'll spend some time building that up. Work on the skills of the game will come later."

Last year, the team ended the season with a 4-7 record. Though he is hoping for a better showing this time around, Cahill is not approaching the season with stars in his eyes. He points out that some of the teams the boys will be competing with have strong soccer programs to draw from. Schools like Irvington and Columbia, he says, field strong squads with frightening consistency. The teams from Bloomfield and Kearny are nothing to sneeze at either, and Cahill sees a long hard battle from the opening whistle until the final game in November.

Cahill says he is going to work at making his players take a more physical approach to the game. He hopes that this tactic will counteract any lack of skills that the squad may possess. He says he is going to try and develop it as the team's strength, training his men to be "as physical as is legally possible."

Practice makes perfect, and the Bellboy gridgers took to the field at the first opportunity to tune up for the coming battles. Here, quarterback candidate Joe Gelpi goes through some offensive maneuvers on the first day of practice. Coach Tom Testa said most of the team's early work will be at filling big gaps left in the attack squad by graduation.

Back to practice and back to basics. It was the same story at soccer as it was at football. Coach Tony Cahill spent some time showing his men the proper way to throw the ball into play. Though he went over some of the basics, most of the practice session and those to come will be devoted to conditioning. There's going to be a lot of huffing and puffing on the soccer turf.

Coach Tom Testa gives some directions to center Greg Dunleavy (51) and his teammates. It was the first day of practice, and Testa worked his men hard. The coach is cautiously optimistic about the team's chances this year.

Responding well — Eight-year-old James Cleffi, son of former Belleville residents James and Vivian Cleffi, rides the shoulders of New York Yankee pitcher Catfish Hunter during a recent benefit. A benefit celebrity softball game will be held tonight at Lyndhurst County Park to raise funds for the expensive therapy the eight-year-old is undergoing for treatment of leukemia.

The clock radios with the usual dial face are gradually going out of style. One sees more and more so-called "digital" clocks which display numbers. Some of these systems flip a small leaf every minute. This causes a slight amount of noise, a faint click, which for some people may be noticeable in a quiet bedroom. A different type uses endless belts and the third type has a revolving drum on which the numbers are displayed. The latter two types as a rule are illuminated from behind the numerals. This method provides a good display in a dark room. Recently a new type of numbers display has been added. This is an electronic display similar to the display of the numbers on those small calculators.

An important feature of these new clock radios is that they have a 24 hour set up. In the older dial type clock radios the alarm would go off at the set time, but twice within the 24 hour period. This often turned out to be a real nuisance. This is not the case any more with the digital display type sets, they alarm only once in the 24 hour period. Otherwise the features are pretty much the same. The tiny knob to change the clock setting, which also was a real nuisance, has been replaced with a more substantial dial or slide control. There still is the alarm delay control which you press after the alarm goes off and you want to turn around once more before it goes off again after a few minutes. Also you still can set a control so that it plays on for a period of up to a couple of hours before it shuts off by itself. All radios have transistors, of course.

boys must live in Belleville, be ten through 13 years of age, weigh at least 70 pounds but no more than 145 pounds and must have their parents' permission to play.

Those who wish to play should pick up an application form at school, or at the Recreation House at 407 Joramemon Street. Then on Monday, September 8, they are to report to the Municipal Stadium at 6 p.m. for weigh-in. They must bring their application, signed by their parents, with them.

In Recreation Football there are two leagues, Lightweights and Heavyweights. Within the leagues the teams are carefully balanced by a scientific method that takes into consideration both the age and the weight of each player. The players are equipped with helmet, shoulder pads, hip and kidney pads, pants and jersey.

Great attention is constantly paid to the safety of the boys both in practice and in the games, through the eighteen year history of the leagues during which well over three thousand boys have participated, the record for safety has been excellent.

Hit 'em— Coach Tom Testa had his men hitting the tackle dummies on the first day of practice, gearing up for the real thing in the not too distant future. According to the coach, it's the offense that needs the most work, since graduation put a real drain on those specialists. Competition is keen for positions, since a grand total of 105 men hit the grid Monday in hopes of making the varsity squad.

SPICY LUNCHEON FARE

When you want something a little different for your next luncheon, consider corn bread. It has a flavor all its own that your guests will welcome. Combined with a spicy beef sauce, it makes a tasty entree.

A fresh fruit salad is the perfect partner for color, texture and taste. Everything can be prepared in advance, arrange fruit on lettuce leaves and place corn bread on a broiler pan to toast all together while the beef sauce is reheating. Your hostess duties are few for this menu so you can enjoy your guests.

SPICY BEEF SQUARES

Makes 6 servings

Corn Bread:	1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup enriched corn meal	1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour	1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup sugar	1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder	3 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 egg	One 4-oz. can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 cup milk	1 cup cooked green beans
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted	One 5-oz. jar dried beef, torn into bite-sized pieces
Sauce:
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion

For corn bread heat oven to hot (425°F.). Sift together corn meal, flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into bowl. Add egg, milk and melted butter; mix until smooth. Bake in greased 8-inch square baking pan in preheated oven (425°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Cut into 6 pieces. Split each piece in half horizontally. Toast corn bread pieces until golden brown.

For sauce, sauté celery and onion in butter until tender, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and blend in paprika, pepper and flour. Return to heat, gradually add milk, stirring to combine. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in Worcestershire sauce. Add mushrooms, green beans and dried beef; stir to distribute ingredients evenly. Warm over low heat.

To serve, place 1 piece of toasted corn bread on each plate. Spoon sauce over corn bread. Top with second piece of corn bread and more sauce. Serve immediately.

Zoners nix building

minimum number required by ordinance for a 12 family dwelling. He added that the times the cars would be leaving the parking lot would be staggered and therefore would present no appreciable additional traffic on Belmont.

Michael Pizzi, 184 Heckel Street, spokesman for the objectors, expressed concern that the additional cars would not only cause traffic congestion on the street, but would also pose a threat to school children in the area. He pointed out that school buses park on Belmont Avenue in front of the proposed sight, and grammar school children on their way to Number Four School pass in front of the area.

Pizzi asked Centanni, "What's going to happen when the kids are going to school or waiting around for the buses and all those cars start coming out? We are worried about the safety of the children."

Centanni responded, saying, "There are always some problems whenever you put up an apartment. A child will learn that cars will be coming out of that area and learn to be prudent. A 12 or 14-year-old child can surely see a car."

In response to a question about sewage disposal, Centanni said the flooded basements the residents complained about could be caused by any number of things and the construction of the apartment would not necessarily mean a worsening of the conditions.

Representing the land owners, Jack J. Soriano argued that the residents were using problems now existing in the area as reasons to prohibit the building's construction, saying, "They talk about the ills of their own neighborhood now. Will we extend those ills? I don't think so."

Soriano pointed out that the request for the variance was the result only of the shape of the property. He said his clients were not asking for a permit to build an apartment in a residential zone. Because of the irregular shape of the lot, he said, it was necessary to come before the board and ask for its approval. He asked for the variance, saying "Isn't it better to have an apartment building, the type of building ordained by your town in this area?"

Following the arguments, Board members Aldo DiChiara, Rocco Constantino, Peter Clarizio and Kenneth Nash all voted against the variance. Board chairman John Stetz cast his vote in favor of it.

After the meeting, DiChiara indicated that the Board rejected the request largely on the strength of the questions raised by the residents relating to traffic flow, parking and sewage. He indicated that there were additional reasons that would be included in the Board's resolution to be read at the group's next regular meeting.

In other business, Peter Clarizio and Dolores Freedman were sworn in as members of the Zoning Board. Mrs. Freedman, an alternate on the Board, is only the second woman to hold such a position. She was appointed by the first woman zoner, Commissioner Mary Senatore.

Two BHS grads at Gettysburg, Pa.

Michael Freda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Freda, 264 New Street, and Christopher Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manning, 602 Union Avenue, are two of the nearly 630 freshman students who arrived yesterday at Gettysburg College for orientation and registration.

Classes for the 1,850 men and women at this southcentral Pennsylvania campus begin Monday, September 8.

That evening, Carl T. Rowan, distinguished journalist and government official, will address the convocation officially opening the school's 144th.

Bike theft attempt draws $300 fine

A Newark man was fined $300, given a 90 day suspended sentence and placed on one year's probation last week in Municipal Court for attempting to steal a bicycle.

Gregory McCullers, 26, of 57 Broad Street, was arrested August 1 by Belleville police officer John Covone while attempting to take a bike belonging to Michael Madden. McCullers had cut the chain and lock securing the bicycle.

McCullers pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Edward Abromson last Thursday.

Elk Scout leader briefs local lodge

Lawrence Dempsey, scout leader of Elks Troop 364, sponsored by the Belleville Lodge 1123, B.P.O. Elks, recently presented a discussion of activities, awards and other activities which were held during the summer by the scouts.

Following his talk, there was another speech by James Salmon, who spoke about the Elks National Foundation Fund's distribution of scholarships, student awards, and emergency education provided for in its funds.

The entire meeting was presided over by Elks Exalted Ruler Raymond Mac Donald, who brought up the names of four new prospective lodge members: Rudolph Gross, John F. Crowley, Lawrence Fink and Thomas Cook.
