Fourth candidate makes school bid

Robert Sebben, a 27-year-old engineer for New Jersey Bell Telephone, has officially become the fourth candidate in this year's upcoming Board of Education election, he announced this week.

Sebben, who enters the race as "a concerned parent," will vie with Board president Richard Mahmarian, incumbent Caesar Romano, and challenger Ralph Risoli for two seats on March 9, school election day.

Though conceding "I haven't been very active in school matters up to now," Sebben said he believes there is a need for more parents to become involved. The newest, and youngest, candidate said he is also "annoyed" that funds to education in town are "given such a low priority" by taxpayers.

According to Sebben, the recent

Split Commission moves nearer revaluation here

By PAUL STERN

The revaluation of all local real estate came one step closer to accomplished fact Tuesday, but the step was an awkward one at best.

In what can only be described loosely as a 3-2 vote, Belleville's Board of Commissioners approved on first reading an ordinance authorizing a special $149,000 appropriation to carry out the project.

Though last month the revaluation plan won the unanimous approval of the Commission, Tuesday Commissioners Mary Senatore, Vincent Strumolo and Rocco Saletta expressed reservations about the idea. Strumolo voted in favor of the ordinance on the condition revaluation is court ordered. Saletta expressed similar sentiments, adding "I refuse to vote on this." While Commissioner Joseph McGreevy and Mayor Michael Marotti cast definite "yes" votes, Mrs. Senatore said only: "I'll pass on this for now."

Though a public hearing must be held on the proposal February 10, 7:30 p.m. in Town Hall, the tentatively revaluation ordinance would authorize the Realty Appraisals Company of West New York to conduct a home-by-home revaluation inspection. The program is necessary, says those in favor of it to protect Belleville from losing thousands of dollars in tax payments from local industry.

According to Marotti and McGreevy, Belleville has already begun losing money on appeal, and will probably lose more before a revaluation is conducted. A new law, commonly referred to as "Chapter F23," will soon go into effect enabling industries to claim tax reductions based on a formula tied to the residential "sales ratio," or difference between true market value and assessed value of local property.

In another action Tuesday night, the Commissioners unanimously approved on first reading an ordinance which would allow Belleville to finish payment on its recently acquired building complex on Cortland Street. Though the Town had initially decided to purchase the property formerly owned by Hoffman International on a long term basis, the new ordinance, if passed, will save the Town about $12,000 in interest.

The Commissioners also passed on first reading another ordinance authorizing the Mayor and Town Clerk to enter Belleville into cooperative participation in a community development revenue sharing program funded by the federal Housing and Urban Development Commission.

Though the Commissioners were undecided whether to participate fully in the program or simply "lend" Belleville's population to the joint project, Please see "Board" on page 3.

State seeks 'racial balance'

A condition of "racial imbalance" at School One has been ordered corrected by the State Commissioner of Education, Schools Superintendent Anthony Greco disclosed this week.

Though Belleville school officials say they do not believe the school is racially imbalanced, Commissioner Fred Burke, in a January 16 letter to Greco, has ordered "a fully developed explanation" on the Board of Education's plans to reduce the black and Hispanic population of the school, located in the Valley section of Town.

"The Board is at this point in opposition to the letter," said Board president Richard Mahmarian, "and believes the same feeling prevails among the students and parents." Greco has already objected to Burke in a letter, he said, but no formal Board discussion has yet taken place on the subject.

Currently, said Greco, there are 94 black and Hispanic students enrolled at School One, representing about 44 percent of the 213 total. Of the 94, 54 are black, he said, representing about 25 percent of the student body. According to Greco, officials from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare

"don't like to see more than 25 percent blacks," said Greco, "but they've added the Hispanics in there. Add in the Italians and you have about 78 percent."

After speaking with PTA representatives and others from the school, Greco said he feels the parents would oppose any efforts to redistrict the student body. Educationally, he added, curriculum at School One is the same as at every other local grammar school.

In his letter, Burke has also asked for an "outline of staff preparations for teaching students of different ethnic backgrounds," but according to Greco, that is already the case. "We use a multi-text," he said, which incorporates racially diverse materials with standard history and reading.

"I don't know what these guys want," said the Superintendent.

According to Greco, Burke has been misled by the raw ethnic data supplied to him through HEW. Several mathematical solutions to the situation are available by next school year, however. "Sure, we could shift a few kids over to School Nine and everything would be fine," said Greco, "but many of the parents in the School One area are

No. 15 line safe—temporarily

The No. 15 bus line scheduled for elimination February 8 will not stop running after all, the Public Utilities Commission ruled this week. The reprieve, however, may only be temporary, pending the outcome of a public hearing scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday, February 6, at Nutley Town Hall.

We have sent Transport of New Jersey a notice directing that all operations on the 15 line be continued until after we have resolved this matter," Vernon J. Minetti of the PUC told the Times/News this week. Minetti is chief of the PUC's Bureau of Rail and Motor Carriers.

Though last week TNJ announced it would discontinue all service on the 15 route after Friday, February 6, when its State subsidies run out, officials in Trenton say there is now a good chance additional subsidies will be approved before that time.

"If additional funds are voted and Transport of New Jersey then decides it wants to continue the 15 line under subsidy, there would be no need for our public hearing," Minetti said.

The criteria used to determine whether to permit TNJ to discontinue service will be "the effect upon public convenience and public necessity," Minetti said. When asked if the PUC had a low cutoff on ridership or a minimum average of riders below which service usually is curtailed, Minetti repeated "it depends solely upon the public convenience and necessity."

The 15 line runs from Darling Avenue in Nutley, south along Franklin Avenue into Belleville, passing the Essex County Geriatrics Center, Belleville Senior Citizens Center and Clara Maass Memorial Hospital on route to the Newark City Subway terminal. The bus continues on for a loop through the Silver Lake portion of Town, then back to the subway.

In addition to affecting workers and volunteers at the hospitals, senior citizens have expressed concern with the proposed curtailment of the 15.

The line is also used by residents working in areas of Newark served by the subway, most notably the college campus areas of Rutgers and New Jersey Tech. The route also provides the fastest and cheapest access to the Manhattan financial district via Path, riders say, and is used by residents of both towns who work in places served from Penn Station rail lines to Jersey City, Hoboken, Elizabeth, Rahway and the New Brunswick area.

Residents in some places served by the Petitions seek change in local zoning code

Petitions requesting two significant changes in the Belleville zoning code will soon be reviewed by the Board of Commissioners and the Planning Board.

Submitted by residents as an outgrowth of a controversial plan to build an apartment house on Harrison Street, the petitions ask the Commissioners to change the area's zoning status from a

"C" residential zone to a "B" residential section and also a change in local parking requirements.

Mrs. Angelina Castellano, 40 Cuozzo Street and Mrs. Mildred Pennetti, 41 Sanford Avenue, presented the petitions, each bearing 125 signatures, to the Commissioners at the Board's January 13 meeting. Town Clerk Eugene Barnett accepted the petitions on behalf of the Board, and Mayor Michael Marotti said later copies of the documents would also be sent to the Belleville Planning Board for review.

The parking petition asks that the Manufacturer's Association elects Demler president

Lester Demler, vice president of Wallace & Tiernan Division of the Pennwalt Corporation, has been elected president of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association, it was announced this week.

Beginning its 45th year of service to Belleville industries, the Association also elected other new officers and trustees.

Along with Demler, John D. Crowley, president of the Belleville Wire Cloth Company, was elected vice president; William W. Bush, president of Lloyd Engineering, was elected Treasurer; and John P. Dailey, an officer of DeWitt Savings and Loan, was elected secretary.

Named to the Association's board of trustees (in addition to Demler, Crowley, Bush and Dailey) were James Hardman, president of Hardman Incorporated; Lyndon Keller, president of Wallace & Tiernan; Valentine J. Miller, personnel manager of Walter Kidde, Inc.; Merwyn Rayner, president of the Edison Battery Division of McGraw-Edison Company; and W. Lee Stewart, board chairman and president of H&G Industries.

The officers were elected at the Manufacturers' Association's annual meeting held January 20.

Brothers' charges before a grand jury

Two Belleville brothers facing drug charges had their cases sent to an Essex County Grand Jury following January 14 proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court.

Santiago Galasso, 19, and Robert Galasso, 25, both of 103 Washington Avenue, waived their right to a probable cause hearing in Belleville and Judge Carl Stier ordered the cases sent to the Grand Jury.

Robert Galasso was arrested December 27 for possession of methadone, possession of the drug with intent to distribute, and possession of a dangerous weapon, a four inch straight knife.

Santiago Galasso, arrested on the same date, is charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and possession of a drug in an unlawful container.

Both men are currently free on bail pending the outcome of court proceedings. Robert was released on $1,000 bail and Santiago on $500.

Belleville police officer Anthony LaVista arrested both men.

Jaycees plan candidates' night

Belleville's Board of Education candidates will present their views and answer questions next Thursday, February 5 at what might be called a "mini" candidates' night sponsored by the Belleville Jaycees.

All declared candidates are invited to attend the event which will take place at the Fountain Restaurant at 8 p.m., preceding the Jaycees' regular business meeting.

news briefs

Scott chosen as FMBA head

Harry Scott has been elected president of the Belleville Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association Local 29; the organization announced this week.

Elected vice president was Thomas Caruso. Albert Lowack will serve as treasurer; Thomas Nisovocchia as secretary, Richard Hangge as sergeant at arms, and August DeFranza as delegate.

Each officer will serve for the remainder of 1976.

Bicentennial arbor

A grove of trees will be planted at the new Belleville Senior Citizens Center on Franklin Avenue as part of Belleville's Bicentennial celebration, the Belleville Bicentennial Commission has announced.

According to Mrs. Catherine Butler, Commission publicity chairman, local civic associations will be asked to participate in the project, headed by Mrs. Richard Shafter. Mrs. Shafter will be assisted by Christopher Long.

Belleville's Bicentennial Commission is headed by The Rev. Frederick Long.

'Godspell' is held over

The overwhelming response to Family Playhouse's latest theatrical production, "Godspell," has caused the show to be held over for two more nights, director Ray Napolitano announced this week.

With near sell-out audiences at almost every showing, the rock musical will run again tomorrow, 8 p.m., and this Sunday at 3 p.m. Bellevilleites are advised to make reservations in advance by calling 997-5626. "Godspell" is an unusual, funny, yet reverent interpretation of the Gospel according to Matthew. Tickets are $4 and $3.50.

Pre-school play program opens soon

There are still some openings in Belleville's pre-school play program for four-year-olds, the Recreation Department announced this week.

The program, held in morning and afternoon sessions, consists of handicrafts, stories, games and songs, outside play when weather permits, a short rest period and occasional holiday parties specially designed for pre-schoolers.

Morning sessions are from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. The afternoon class is from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. Classes are limited to 25 youngsters.

According to Mrs. Patricia Nigro, in charge of the program, the mothers of the accepted children will serve one duty day about every nine days according to a schedule provided by the Recreation Department. The program is in session for 15 weeks. There is a $27 charge for each youngster. More information may be obtained from the Recreation Department at 759-3142. The program begins February 2.

Science fair February 2

A science fair in commemoration of Catholic Schools Week will be conducted next Monday, February 2, at St. Peter's School in Belleville.

Scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. that day, science projects made by the students will be on display in the school auditorium. Guided tours of the St. Peter's School building will be made throughout the evening.

All community residents, especially those not familiar with the school, are invited to attend.

Sunshine at the Library

In accordance with the requirements of New Jersey's recently enacted Open Public Meetings Act, the Belleville Library Board has announced its meetings for the calendar year 1976.

The Board meets ten times a year, 7 p.m. This year's meetings will be held February 13, March 12, April 9, May 14, June 11, September 10, October 8, November 12 and December 10.

Optimists cited by national president

Optimist International president Patrick L. Grady of Indianapolis, Ind., announced this week that the Belleville Optimist Club has been awarded a "Presidential Citation" for accomplishments during the 1974-75 administrative year.

Thomas Spillane, president of the Belleville club, in making the announcement said, "We are of course most pleased that our club, through good administrative procedure and civic-minded endeavors was adjudged to merit this citation. Much credit must go to Rocco Saletta, who led the club through this period." Of the 3,300 clubs in the international organization, the Belleville club was one of 413 recognized with the award.

"We are most grateful," said Spillane, "for the public support given the club and are pleased to be of service to Belleville." The Belleville chapter is only in its second year of existence, noted Spillane, "which makes the award even more commendable."

School One to sell lapel pins

The P.T.A. of School One, in conjunction with teachers and students, will hold a "Spirit of '76" lapel pin sale during the month of February.

Proceeds of the sale will help to cover the cost of a puppet show, "An Hysterical Historical Revelation of the Revolution," by Ms. Marion Zaccaria and company, and/or a bicentennial field trip.

In other news from the same school, fourth grade teachers, Miss Barbara Ferraro and Miss Virginia Connella are busy with their classes practicing their play, "The Voices of 1776," which will be presented sometime in February.

Another bicentennial program, headed by sixth grade teachers, Mrs. Judy Miller and Miss Pamela Pomerico, will feature a background of the many great events which led up to our country's independence.

BEA made 'scapegoat' group's spokesmen say

The Belleville Education Association charged this week it has been made a Board of Education "scapegoat" in the controversy surrounding reinstatement of the Belleville High School behind the wheel driver's education training program.

Though the course was restored last week by the Board, BEA president Michael Harvey and chief negotiator Jerry Kennelly claimed Monday the Board is "giving the public the wrong impression" of the BEA's stance. Both leaders denied any effort by the teacher's organization to "pressure" its members not to take the part-time driver's education jobs, offered at a reduced $5 per hour rate.

According to Harvey, the Board has cast the BEA as a villain in order to increase its leverage in current teacher salary negotiations.

"The BEA is not and never has been against the program," Kennelly told the Board Monday. According to the organization spokesman, "The BEA has taken no stand" on the issue, and "you have not discussed the program with us."

Various Board members, however, took exception to Kennelly's statements, charging that "the facts speak for themselves." Board president Richard Mahmarian insisted he had discussed the program with the BEA, though "I don't know at what length."

Matthew Pica, Board vice president, read into the record a letter, written by Harvey in October of last year, pointing out to all teachers that the driver's education wage was reduced from $7 per hour to $5. Though most Board members seemed to feel the letter was negatively phrased, Harvey insisted its intent was to prevent dissention and argument among BEA members.

"I don't go around and sell a job or not sell a job," said Harvey. "The membership should know why the others refused to apply."

"If people choose because of administrative reasons or policy not to take the jobs, that's their business," added Kennelly.

The conversation became, at one point, a heated exchange between Kennelly and Mahmarian over the accuracy of a Times/News story about the driver's education program.

"Is the quote in the press correct?" asked Kennelly.

"Are you calling me a liar?" retorted Mahmarian several times. "I don't have to answer to you. I just let the people interpret the facts." Mahmarian said the Board had already discussed the situation "ad nauseum."

Said Pica: "We've operated according to your contract, if you have a grievance, file it according to your contract."

Statistically, however, School One contains a large number of minority group students compared to other Belleville schools. Of the system's 5,845 students, 425 (or slightly over seven percent) are listed as black, hispanic, American Indian, Asian or "other."

Minetti said the PUC has also notified the New Jersey Public Advocate, The Essex County Board of Freeholders, the County Planning and Transportation Boards, competing bus carriers and labor unions which would be affected by the elimination of the No. 15 line.

The law mandates that a public hearing be held, Minetti notes.

they voted unanimously in approval. At least some Commissioners are leary of the program, which requires allotted funds be spent in projects directed toward low and middle income groups. Both Commissioner Senatore and Mayor Marotti, who attended a special meeting about the program, favored the idea of "lending" Belleville's population in the effort to obtain the funds, while holding back on any specific programs.

Commissioners Saletta and McGreevy shared the idea that, in McGreevy's words, "there's no sense in lending if you don't take part."

Saletta said "I'm in full favor of the thing." He noted that other towns are receiving thousands of dollars, putting in sewers and all sorts of things, while Belleville sits back. He said he has been assured the Town will not be required to build middle or low income housing with whatever federal monies it might receive.

Residents want zone change present ordinance, which, in effect, requires a builder to provide space for one and one half cars per apartment, be changed so building owners must provide two spaces per unit.

Mrs. Castellano said the parking situation in the neighborhood is at the critical stage now, adding, "People are going to start some kind of war for parking places soon."

The request for the change in the zoning status would affect Cuozzo Street, Highland Avenue and Sanford Avenue. Though, according to Mrs. Castellano, there are several one and two family homes in the neighborhood, the entire area is zoned as commercial property. As a result, the construction of apartments is permitted.

An application by Linda Klein and other members of her family for permission to build a 30 unit garden apartment house at 55 Harrison Street apparently brought on the petition drive.

An application to the Zoners was necessary since part of the property involved extends into a "B" residential zone. Though the Zoners rejected the request, the case may still be appealed.

Mrs. Castellano said she and her neighbors were not opposed to all construction in the neighborhood, but she added, "The change to a 'B' zone would prevent the construction of high rise apartments and the increase in the required number of parking spaces to 200 per cent would allow enough facilities for people to park on their own property."

Threat on life brings complaint

An 18-year old Newark man was fined $75 January 14 in Belleville Municipal Court for threatening the life of a woman and using foul language.

Patrick W. Burns, 17 Halleck Street, was arrested January 2 for yelling obscenities in the hallway of 620 Washington Avenue and for verbally threatening and attempting to grab bodily Catherine Wilhelms of that address.

The defendant pleaded innocent to the charges, but Judge Carl Stier

Suspected burglar charged by police

The case of a 27-year old Nutley man charged with several burglaries was referred to an Essex County Grand Jury following January 7 proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court.

Michael J. Fede, 22 Brookfield Avenue, was arrested January 6 for break and entry at 118 Mill Street. Subsequent investigation by Belleville detectives also resulted in his being charged with a December 22 break in at 482 Joralemon Street and the theft of jewelry and a stereo from that location. He was also charged with attempted break and entry at another apartment at 482 Joralemon Street on the same date.

Fede waived his right to a probable cause hearing before Judge Carl Stier, and the judge ordered the case sent to the Grand Jury.

The defendant, who was arrested by detectives Robert MacDonald and Salvatore LoCoco, is being held in lieu of $2,500 bail.

Adult School head named

In a split, 4-3, vote Monday, the Board of Education named Frank Abate, an Essex County College employee, director of the Belleville Adult School.

Though Board members Matthew Pica, Mrs. Viola Spray and Michael Chieffo said they had no doubts as to Abate's qualifications, all three voted against the appointment. Pica said he believed Abate's compensation from the college would duplicate the $1,000 per semester salary of the Adult School Director. Mrs. Spray and Chieffo said they felt there were equally qualified applicants "within the system."

Though Abate personally took objection to their remarks at the Monday night meeting, Mrs. Spray said former director Leonard Marciano's reason for resigning played an important part in her decision. "He felt he could not coordinate the Senior and Junior High School English programs" and also devote proper time to the Adult School, she said. It would have been better to hire someone with more available time, she said.

Both Chieffo and Mrs. Sprays said they would prefer to hire someone from within the system.

Addressing the Board after the vote, however, Abate said the time he has previously spent working with the Adult School program "is my own." His responsibilities with Essex County College (which cooperates in running the local adult school) "are solely with the NEED Center, not the Adult School."

Abate also cast doubt on the advisability of having a director who also works in the Belleville school system. "This week alone," he said, "my office received over 500 phone calls." Abate also indicated he has participated heavily in arranging the current college-adult school cooperative program—the only such program in the county.

"I also want my neighbors to know," said the new appointee, "that I have the recommendation of the former director and of the vice president of the college who has assured me there is no conflict of interest."

Board president Richard Mahmarian, who voted in Abate's favor, said he had obtained a legal ruling from Board counsel Max Schwartz to the effect that there was no conflict.

We need the No. 15

The announcement all service will be terminated on the number 15 bus line is a crying matter, as well as disgustingly indicative of the cancer in Trenton.

As of the moment, what limited service is left on the 15 line will be ended on Monday, February 8. Two days earlier, we've been told, a public hearing has been scheduled by the Public Utilities Commission at Nutley Town Hall. How a meeting on Friday night might restore service the following Monday morning is somewhat of a mystery, but we should do everything possible to support both the town fathers and the riding public of Nutley and Belleville who depend upon this mass-transit service.

In the past several months, the topic of service cuts on the 15 bus has been in the headlines. Here are a few reminders of some of the pertinent points brought out by town fathers, individual citizens and other community leaders who have either written to us, or expressed their thoughts at public meetings and hearings concerned with the 15 line:

- Many working men and women in recent years have moved to homes and apartments along the route of the 15 bus, simply because this bus was there. If the bus stops forever, these people will either be forced to move or quit their jobs.

- Many volunteers at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, as well as some employees there, have already given notice to that institution's personnel department: Once the 15 stops running, they no longer will be able to continue working at the hospital. The 15 line is the only bus which connects Nutley with the hospital — and no one need remind anyone of the role Nutley volunteers play at Clara Maass.

- Students of Newark Rutgers and New Jersey Tech use the 15 to connect with the City Subway which quickly and efficiently speeds them to classes. Student groups at Rutgers, we learned last week, are already organizing car pools as a means of survival after the 15 bus is gone. But parking is at a premium around the college community in Newark.

- The 15 bus goes right by Belleville's brand new senior citizens' complex on Franklin Avenue. One of the reasons the senior citizen center was built there in the first place was because of the availability of service provided by the 15 line.

- Several residents of Nutley and Belleville testified under oath at a public hearing last summer that the 15 bus is critical to their work. Many use the bus to reach suburban trains at Newark's Pennsylvania Station. Face the fact: for anyone working along the Penn Central (Elizabeth, Rahway, New Brunswick) or along the Path (Jersey City and Hoboken), there is no alternative transportation.

- Transport of New Jersey at Friday night's hearing will be saying that alternate transportation is available. Very true. We've figured it out that for many in Nutley, the fastest way to reach even some points in Newark will be to take a bus into New York and then another express bus back.

- The bus provides the only link for residents of Belleville's Silver Lake area with Clara Maass, the subway, the senior citizens complex, and via connection to Washington Avenue's business district.

- Many riders of the 15 line have frequently cited the fact that they take the bus to work each morning, but are unable to use the service for the return trip at night. The reason? The last bus leaving the subway terminal departs at 6:10 p.m. For many, this means a few minutes delay in leaving the office or a missed connection. A strong case has been presented to increase service on the 15 rather than eliminate the line completely.

- Transport of New Jersey is also proposing to eliminate a subway feeder line originating in Bloomfield. If TNJ has its way, no doubt they'll be back in a year or so citing decreased subway ridership and asking for an elimination of that service as well.

- Don't forget about people coming the other way: Hoffmann-LaRoche, which is responsible for much of the 15's riders (it's the only suburban bus stopping at Roche's complex in Nutley) reports that several of its workers use the Path-subway-15 bus route to reach work each morning.

- Don't forget the cost. For a trip to downtown New York, the 15 bus not only provides the fastest way of getting there, but the cheapest. From the Roche area in Nutley, it's possible to be in the financial district of Manhattan for only 80 cents each way. One can't even reach the Port Authority Terminal faster or cheaper on other routes.

- And a final point, in considering the use of alternate routes which TNJ will emphasize, think what your reaction would be if tomorrow morning it suddenly took you three times as long to reach your place of business — three times as long in the morning, and three times as long at night.

Wowing the crowd at the School Two talent show January 21, these girls were among the students who "showed their stuff" for parents and friends. The show revealed a potential gold mine of talent in School Two, so, Hollywood, watch out.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In discussing that dreaded spectre revaluation — which surely will cost property owners up to 35 percent more in their tax payments, over their present assessments — we must pose several interesting questions and try to justify our reservations over the stealthy manner under which it was unanimously, yet unofficially, agreed upon by our Commissioners.

We all recognize Commissioner Joseph McGreevy has steadfastly called for revaluation. He, as Finance Director, had little choice. He realized the deplorable, exhausted state of the town's financial plight caused by expanded payrolls and salary increases which he might have thwarted had he exhibited the same forceful, hardline economy austerity imposed by former Belleville Mayor William H. Williams, the man he tries to emulate.

Commissioner McGreevy rightly observes the devastating effect of the ratio system's penalty provisions available to industry, as established by a damn poor neighbor, Wallace & Tiernan, who brought the action that got them a tax rebate. This is the same company that somehow in the "strangest manner" got gratuitous title to an abandoned portion of old State Highway 21 which should have been given to the town to dispose of. It is unlikely that any other civic-minded local industry interested in the town's best interest would follow the selfish pattern of W&T by bringing action for a tax rebate.

While we may commend Commissioner McGreevy's staunch stand of candor in consistently calling for revaluation, even in the face of an election when the issue was "hot" and unpopular, much less can be said of the others who campaigned on the platform of unending, strong opposition to revaluation under any circumstances.

Oh, how they lied. All of which proves most politicians will do or say anything that's popular to win an election.

What made them change their minds and position now? Was there a deal made?

How come things suddenly have become more "chummy" down at the hall? Why will the revaluation appraisal contract be given to the Realty Appraisals Company of West New York, whom I believe did the last revaluation appraisal, WITHOUT a bid? That hardly seems the best way to do business.

Not only is revaluation "bad news" for Belleville taxpayers, there are many factors that enter into the glum prospects for the ensuing year ahead tax-wise. Belleville is now down to a 65 percent ratio, which occasions the need to make up 35 percent to realize the required 100 percent valuation criterion. Last year Belleville was required to make up 33 percent in the County's tax adjustment levy against the town when we were down to 67 percent of "true value" on property.

Nutley presently has dropped to an unofficial 57 percent ratio equalization, indicating a big hike for our northern neighbor.

Regardless of any County tax increase, Belleville must make up the difference according to a 100 percent ratio count. However, this is only factor that will contribute to an increase in our local taxes — the biggest blow being the loss in revenues caused by Governor Brendan T. (for taxes) Byrne's administration's order to withhold sales tax distribution to local municipalities, distribution of gross bus receipts replacement revenue, and distribution of the business personal property tax.

These items represent, in Belleville's case, almost $250,000. Such funds had been anticipated by law in the 1975 town budget. However, because of the Governor's refusal to authorize the distribution of these pledged revenues, the 1975 loss and the 1976 loss will all have to be raised by increased local taxation which should amount to over half a million dollars or an increase of 25 tax points.

Little animals, watch out!

To the Editor:

Today, more than ever, with our ecology dissipating through man's modern technology, newly elected Rocco Saletta, in order to satisfy a political debt, has appointed Mr. Joe Granese as Game Warden of Belleville.

When asked by a citizen of Belleville at the Commission meeting if we have any wildlife in our town, Mr. Saletta answered that we did, "pigeons and squirrels." The audience unanimously responded with hearty laughter, and Mr. Saletta said he didn't think it was funny.

I agree with Mr. Saletta that this isn't funny. It's disgusting and an unnecessary expense to our taxpayers, especially when after investigating I find — and by Mr. Saletta's own admission — Mr. Granese has no experience in the use of a firearm.

I fear that Mr. Granese might start shooting up these innocent little animals in Branch Brook Park, which I consider a real crime, not withstanding the fact that some poor innocent child or person might be the recipient of one of the stray bullets from the weapon of the untrained and inexperienced deputy Police Commissioner and Game Warden.

Mr. Saletta, it would be wise for you to find another way to pay off your political debts rather than spending $1,100 of the taxpayer's dollars and perhaps save the town the expense of going through a recall.

Raised sidewalks cause woman's fall

To the Editor:

Attention Mrs. Mary Senatore, Director of Public Works:

On January 17 I fell on Bernice Road and was taken to Mountside Hospital with one broken right wrist, one sprained left wrist and finger, facial wounds to the forehead, nose mouth and chin. My fall was a result of a raised sidewalk pavement.

If you will examine Bernice Road, you will find that this situation exists al-along this street. Apparently when the trees were planted by the town they were not planted deeply enough and the roots are now lifting the sidewalk. I understand that some of my neighbors have complained about this, and there have been other falls. Your immediate attention to this matter would be appreciated by all of us.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the Belleville paper. I would like it

THE EDITOR'S JOURNAL

As expected, Imperiale replies

(The following is an editorial rebuttal by State Senator Anthony Imperiale concerning my column last week opposing reinstatement of the death penalty. Like the headline last week said, "Here we go again." — P.S.)

I am not shocked at the attitude of immature men such as yourself, who sincerely believe that America would be returning to the Stone Age, primarily because I have asked for the reinstatement of the death penalty.

If this is the concept in the thinking of Paul Stern, then he should write a new article welcoming to the Stone Age many states which have reinstated the death penalty. It is very possible that Mr. Stern can disagree with the concepts of gun control; but in his disagreeing with me, he stoops to a very low tide in taking the opportunity of injecting name calling to one's beliefs. I cannot understand what is so hypocritical of my statement on gun control. I am willing to debate Mr. Stern any time or place he chooses with the public concerning what gun control really is. The present legislation pending by liberal legislators, which also includes the banning of ammunition to be used by law enforcement officers, is an outright insult of the public's integrity and intelligence.

I have never heard of a revolutionist, anarchist or criminal ever purchasing a weapon or weapons legally for their demented actions against honest citizens. The pending legislation on gun control merely makes the legitimate avenues of owning a weapon harder to obtain. When a criminal in any category you choose can go to any black marketer of the underworld and purchase a weapon immediately. The type of legislation needed is legislation that would severely punish black marketers, which I am proud to say, I have instituted dealing with this type of action.

True, at times my grammar may be horrendous, but I find that the people I represent, whether you like it or not, have no problem understanding my honest intent. I believe Mr. Stern has difficulty in adjusting to dealing with an honest legislator. Mr. Stern states that he was unable to comprehend my statement that "I will continue to pursue this course of action in restoring this badly needed legislation, for to me, as well as for most Americans, life is very dear and precious."

If Mr. Stern would take time out from being vindictive with one he disagrees with, and not be blinded by his ignorance and arrogance as a journalist, I am sure he can comprehend that statement knowing that life is dear and precious, so why should it be snuffed out by criminals who are coddled by people such as Paul Stern?

Let him explain that theory to the widows and families of murdered victims of criminals who have no regard for human life.

While life is dear and precious to me, as a representative of the people, I must choose between the lives of innocent Americans and those who are criminals. While I am concerned with both, it is the lives of the hard-working people that built America that I am concerned with primarily, and not the murderer, who is also protected by the Constitution of the United States.

If you, Mr. Stern, feel that my hands are dipped in the same blood that I condemn others for spilling, you will find a difference in that blood. Until society comes up with a better method of protecting our citizens, I prefer to see that the murderer's blood spilled rather than the decent citizens'. While you refer to me as a half-pint deity, I wish to inform you that I am in no way fitted into the category of half-god or any other God. I am an American and a human being.

One final point. While I am concerned with the faulty and haphazard parole system, which is headed by political appointees of the Governor, who your paper supported, we have a tendency to waiver from the issue at hand. Premeditated murderers, who are habitual offenders,

ALBUM REVIEW

Rankin's 'Inside': heaven to the ears

By ANTHONY BUCCINO

We used to think Kenny Rankin was too mellow a performer to listen to, much less anyone worth seeking out albums for in a store. One day Kenny's new "Inside" album turned up. We said, "Ho-hum, it's only Kenny Rankin." A couple of days later after tiring of Dylan's "Desire" we put Rankin's "Inside" on hoping for something good but not expecting very much.

The first song we heard grabbed us, slapped us, and tickled us. We were pleasantly surprised by "Roll-A-Round," in fact it was the best thing we did all day. "Roll-A-Round" is a jovial prelude, it features the infectious laughter of children dancing with their jubilant parents. We feel this song could have made even W.C. Fields like children.

"Lost Up In Loving You" sets its own mood, that of a candle light dinner. "Lost Up In Loving You" is the look in young lovers' eyes transposed. "Creepin'" a Stevie Wonder song for lovers, allows Rankin to display his personal capacity for warmth. Excellent harmony is provided by Yvonne Rankin who with Michael Stewart produced this "love album."

"Inside" is a "good feelings" song, it seems like it could have the "sneak up behind you" effect of Rankin's "Peaceful." In the brief sprint of lyrics the daydreams of the music continues as thoughts flow by: "My mind is hostile for all the wrong reasons... the need to be brother is tremendous." What Kenny Rankin speaks softly here is heard around the world.

"Up From The Skies" sure doesn't sound like the Jimi Hendrix we know and love but Rankin serves up a clear cut pleading. Rankin has a mellow voice, alright, and his voice has none of the coarseness of Randy Newman. Still, Kenny Rankin singing Newman's "Marie" is heaven to our ears.

Kenny also treats John Sebastian's "She's A Lady" to his golden throated interpretation. As if he were singing merely for the joy of singing—a very touching feeling with no one, we hope, breathing in his ear.

'Crises? What Crisis?'

We heard our first track from "Crisis? What Crisis?" while fighting rush hour traffic past the Sports Complex. If the construction based delays were going to give us a complex, Supertramp was a taste of valium, soothing, cheering, and relaxing us. We just had to find out more about our early morning savior.

The first track we heard was later identified as "Another Man's Woman." The music of this song compares to "Sgt. Pepper" and The Who "Lives At Leeds." It strikes us as cautiously refreshing. It is also the best song on the album, the culmination of all the practice and irony of love as portrayed on the cover. It's a lot like being sick for a day; you don't have to go to school but you end up with daytime television.

Whistling along with the surf, a quick song as interesting as a freshly spawned secret. "Easy Does It" leads us into "Sister Moonshine" before we know it. "Sister Moonshine" is easy enough to listen to but it's hard to see what Supertramp is after.

"Poor Boy" presents a very fresh way of saying what has been said so many times before, i.e., the pledge of love. "Ain't Nobody But Me" is part put-on, what is left is maudlin. "A Soapbox Opera" does not come off as parody. The music and orchestration are fine but the story line is lacking.

The lyrics are almost predictable in "Just a Normal Day," a dialogue most likely recorded sometime near four a.m. It is an emotional confession trying to get through another night.

"Just a Normal Day" and "Lady" share a haunting similarity to the "Tommy Overture." "Two Of Us" echoes in falsetto, but the theme has been heard before in at least three different songs by Paul McCartney, Stephen Stills, and Badfinger. This conglomeration is not especially inspiring.

Supertramp carried with it throughout this album the ghosts of songs we've heard somewhere. It's like a musician's mystical nightmare through the golden hits of the British Invasion. "Crisis? What Crisis?" has all the influence of that English music taking us along a distorted tour of songs gone by. It is all being explained quite clear, no doubt, somehow by a mute guide.

Looking back to where we first heard of this album, all we can say is, misery loves company.

noted that I laid on the sidewalk while many cars passed me by. One courageous young man, not afraid to get involved, stopped his car and came to my aid.

In all the confusion I never got the young man's name. May I say when you are lying bleeding and unable to get to your feet, having another human being voice his concern and offer help makes the pain a little less.

Many thanks to my good samaritan.

'Bad apples'

To the Editor:

Newspaper stories tell me we have some bad apples in all branches of government. At this time when many cities in this State and others are faced with serious problems, and fighting for survival, our elected Commissioners changed the color of their skins to that of a pussy cat.

All should be removed from office by changing our form of government. Under the present form they cannot be recalled.

Their promises against revaluation were political gimmicks to win re-election. Too many mistakes have created new jobs for special friends and handed out fat wage increases to many on the Town's payroll.

The county is also to blame for the conditions that exist. Instead of laying off to balance their budget like is being done elsewhere, they raised all salaries and increased their budget by millions of dollars. They are now demanding a revaluation program which has been defied by the City of Newark for years to pay for their mistakes.

So the people, who have their backs against the wall once again, are the guinea pigs for the politicians.

The biggest mistake made by the Commission was when they entered into the real estate business removing from the tax roll income producing property. The difference must be made up by the homeowners.

Revaluation is a weapon used by the county to keep all county help happy. Laws are made and can be broken when they hurt the homeowners who must pay the bill regardless of their financial condition.

This change of heart does not look good for the Commission. I believe they are in violation of the rights of the people they were elected to represent. There should be no revaluation. It will increase the taxes on all property owners $300 and more.

The county and the State have millions in tax exempt property and should be made to pay taxes since they are included in all revaluation programs at the expense of the homeowners.

Inflation is one thing, but taking extra dollars from older people who worked all their lives, now retired or living on a pension and who cannot afford to pay, that is something else.

This new gimmick is very dangerous at this time. Many more factories are laying off and moving away, and will create serious trouble for all of us. I am ready to work for a change if the people are.

Fornarotto: new Vets head

The service of one's country takes different forms. The most common is, probably, joining the military forces of the United States.

Usually, after putting in the time, men leave the military far behind them and go on to work in more mundane walks of life.

Joseph Fornarotto, 50, put his time in the service during World War II with the Navy. Now, in addition to his regular job, Fornarotto is still, in a way, serving his country by helping those who were once in the military.

Fornarotto was recently selected chairman of the Belleville Veterans Council, a group made up of the various veterans' organizations in town. The new chairman is approaching his job with all the energy and enthusiasm he approaches everything with.

A life-long Bellevilleite, Fornarotto is involved in more things than you could shake the proverbial stick at. In addition to his work with the various veterans groups, he also finds time to work with a variety of civic and charitable groups. Among other things, he has acted as chairman of the Kidney Fund Drive, president of the Zarro Civic Association, and worked to raise funds for the Cerebral Palsy Center. Added to all his other work with the vets, it seems as though Fornarotto would have difficulty in finding time to eat.

He does find time, however, to spend with his family, and also to indulge in his hobby: raising homing pigeons.

Fornarotto is a member of the Bloomfield Homing Pigeon Club and an avid enthusiast of the sport of racing the birds.

"It's a beautiful hobby," said Fornarotto. "Many people think pigeons are dirty, but these are pedigree birds not like the wild pigeons, what we call 'roof rats.' Racing pigeons is a terrific sport."

Fornarotto is also a big booster of Belleville. A member of the Bicentennial Commission, he said the town has a lot to offer its people in the way of sight-seeing, adding, "Our Belleville has a lot of Revolutionary sites. You would be surprised at the historic importance of this community."

Of course, Fornarotto's biggest passion is probably working with the veterans groups and helping others. He frequently stresses the work done by the veterans, both in helping disabled vets, and in assisting many people in obtaining benefits they may not be aware of.

"We urge every veteran to join his nearest post. Many are not aware of the benefits that exist. A lot of them are also bashful when we try to help them. We would like to see the veterans from the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam War join these organizations."

Fornarotto helps everyone, he can, he said adding, "I'm interested in youths, senior citizens, all people. I try never to refuse anyone. I love this town, and the people who live here are great."

Fornarotto is a Rent and Housing investigator for the Essex County Welfare Board. He has been there for the past two years, and prior to that, he worked for 10 years with the Belleville Department of Public Works.

Fornarotto resides at 523 Union Avenue with his wife, Jeanne. The couple has four children, Kathy Nan, 24; Joan, 21; Jeanne, 13 and Joseph, 19.

Grid fans, players attack coach

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

James Risoli, an incumbent, became the third and it seemed, the last candidate, to announce his bid for the annual Board of Education election.

Risoli, a staff assistant for the Public Service Electric and Gas Company, was seeking a second term on the board.

He finished second in the 1972 election, and was the only incumbent seeking reelection last year.

Anthony Pratola, a former resident of Belleville, and a vice president of the South River Board of Education, led a group who sought to ask the Board of Education to not rehire Thomas Testa as football coach the following fall.

Pratola, among several remarks, accused Testa of calling the players vulgar names, of failing to supply photographs one player needed for a scholarship potentially worth $20,000, and finally of making fun and light of a player's injury, which, Pratola said, later required surgery. Testa was not present at the School Board meeting to defend himself against the allegations.

Still in question was the status of Schools Superintendent Anthony Greco, who earlier in the year had submitted his resignation to the Board.

One member of a citizens group, Chris Albanese, urged the Board to act immediately on Greco's recent letter asking the Board to rescind his resignation, saying that he was afraid that the Board's decision would become political if it were to be delayed until after the March School Board election date.

Two years ago

An unexpected Sunday meeting brought Belleville teachers and the Board of Education together after avoiding a job action the previous week to step up contract negotiations with the Board of Education.

Members of the Belleville Education Association who voted to stage the action would have entered and left the school with the bell schedule and would have performed only their teaching assignments, with no non-contractual duties.

An agreement was reached, however, to call off the action and go to the bargaining table after a meeting was called by Board President Lawrence Schwartz.

Attorneys for Essex County Number One of the New Jersey Civil Service Association were scheduled to respond to the commission's only answer to the Belleville unit's salary requests and 15 non-wage demands. A few weeks before, the Board of Commissioners agreed to grant a $500 across-the-board increase over the next two years to each of the 150 association members on the Town Hall payroll.

Eleven years ago

At the annual meeting of the DeWitt Savings and Loan Association, Belleville resident John P. Dailey was elected president.

Sixteen years ago

The fundamental issue in the Board of Education election was the question, "What is the relationship of the superintendent of schools to the Board of Education?"

Twenty-one years ago

An ordinance that would have permitted funeral homes in residential areas died in the making. The vote was 3-2 against the measure, with Mayor Isadore Padula casting the deciding vote.

Thirty-one years ago

Two bandits led Belleville police on a two mile chase over icy streets after they staged a hold-up with a blank gun at a liquor store.

Officer Harry Winfield's target practice came into use when he wounded one of the fleeing men. The car that the two men were driving, crashed into a Belleville apartment house and that is what led to their capture.

Hardware stores wanted to remain open on Sundays.

The Town commission showed its power by voting unanimously against the ordinance that would permit those stores to operate even on Sundays.

Byrne's 'yes men'

To the Editor:

Last week, Governor Byrne appointed Assemblywoman Betty Wilson (D-Union) to a newly created $30,000 a year position with the Department of Environmental Protection. The appointment has been strongly opposed by many outraged legislators who have correctly termed the new position as a political pay-off for past favors. Our two assemblymen, Michael Aduabato and John Cali, have praised the governor's move, stating that Mrs. Wilson would be an asset to the DEP.

How can our Assemblymen laud Mrs. Wilson, history teacher turned legislator, as a competent and qualified assistant commissioner of the DEP? Mrs. Wilson will be in charge of a program concerning flood hazards in the Passaic River Valley—a position which, if it is necessary at all, requires a person with a technical background and a strong knowledge of the environmental field. It appears that Mrs. Wilson has neither of these qualifications.

In a time of higher taxes, state aid cuts and a 13 percent unemployment rate, our Governor has deemed it both fitting and proper to spend our money in a reckless manner, through political favoritism, and our two Assemblymen find this action to be a praiseworthy one.

We elected Mr. Aduabato and Mr. Cali to the General Assembly as our representatives. It is their duty to act in the best interest of the people in our district, not as yes men for the Governor.

Keywanettes receive charter

Almost 70 young women from Belleville High School entered the ranks of the Kiwanis Club organization this week when they received their official charter as Keywanettes.

At a meeting held Thursday at the Fountain Restaurant, members of the Belleville Kiwanis Club officially welcomed the new club, roughly the equivalent to the popular Key Club for young men.

Donna Berrigan was installed as president of the group, while other officers elected were: Lorri Giordano, vice president; Joan Metzger, secretary, and Gardenia Lijo, organizer of past presidents.

Joann Rosanio, Belleville High School twirling captain and class clown was present at the ceremonies, as was also Mary Jo De Santis, town resident widely recognized for her talent as a figure skater.

Also to be mentioned, and keeping things in order for the evening were Jimmy Dasaro, first vice president and Larry Gonnello, past president of the Kiwanis.

The newly formed Keywanettes was organized by Susan Radon, Donna Berrigan and Doni Lijo.

Other important individuals who contributed to the ceremony faculty advisor for the group, and Lawrence Gonnello and Vincent Sorrentino, who will serve the girls as Kiwanis representatives.

Donald Tucci, boys and girls chairman, was instrumental in making many of the arrangements for the charter, while final ceremonies were conducted by Vincent Vitty.

Orientation Monday at BHS

On Monday, February 2, the Belleville High School Home and School Association will present its fourth annual Orientation Program for parents at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The evening's program for the parents of ninth graders who will enter tenth grade in September will be the presentation of pertinent information.

The Belleville High School Guidance Department Staff will explain the high school program offered, career planning, proper selection of courses, extra curricular activities, and the advantages of long range planning by parents and students for financial assistance for college or employment selection.

In addition to the presentation by the guidance staff, Raymond O. Smith, principal will explain innovations for the 1976-77 school year and the opportunities for a comprehensive education in the high school.

Parents will receive the "Guide to Program Planning" booklet, the new schedule worksheets and other printed material on careers, institutions of higher learning and jobs.

At the conclusion of the program there will be a question and answer period.

The chosen two — Maryann Dyba (left) and Donald deHagara, both music students at Belleville High School, have been chosen to play in the Region One Orchestra and Symphonic Band.

Two BHS musicians chosen for Regional gig

Maryann Dyba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Dyba, 88 Charles Street, and Donald DeHagara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeHagara, 79 New Street, both music students at Belleville High School, have been selected to play in the Region One Orchestra and Symphonic Band.

Dyba, a senior, will play first violin in the Region One Orchestra, while DeHagara, a junior, will play second clarinet in the Region One Symphonic Band.

Auditions were held January 3 at Clifton High School, Clifton, for all Region One high school students (Region One includes all of northern New Jersey) with those accepted eligible for entry into an all-state organization.

Dyba, concert mistress for the Belleville High School orchestra, plays first violin in addition to accompanying the lessons in both piano and violin, and upon graduation plans to attend the Manhattan School of Music, New York, with a view to becoming a concert pianist.

DeHagara plays clarinet in the Belleville High School band and orchestra and sings in both the chorus and concert choir. Also adept in playing the piano and saxophone, the junior plans to major in music education after graduation.

The Symphonic Band is scheduled to perform at Whippany Park Sunday, February 1, while the orchestra will perform in concert Sunday, February 8.

Frank Scelba, Director of Music at Belleville High School, represented the two students at the audition.

Louis Kosma is Dyba's teacher, while Robert Wing has the boy as his student.

Miss Janet Imperato - Raymond Luzzi

Miss Janice Lucille Imperato will marry Raymond P. Luzzi

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Imperato of Lyndhurst announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Lucille to Raymond Philip Luzzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Luzzi of 57 Ellen Street, Nutley.

The troth was made known Christmas Day.

Miss Imperato, a graduate of Lyndhurst High School and Mr. Luzzi, graduate of Nutley High School, are both alumni of Capri Institute of Hair Design, Clifton. They are employed at The Shear Shack, Nutley.

The wedding will be held next year.

Tri-Town members at board meeting of state Federation

Among the more than 350 members and guests who attended the State Board meeting of the N.J. Federation of Business and Professional Womens Clubs, Inc. January 17, at the Pine Manor in Edison, was a delegation of members of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield, and Nutley, N.J. Inc. headed by Miss Marion Johnson, of Nutley.

Announcement was made of the Federation's annual Mary L. Johnston scholarship awards. This year they were presented to the N.J. Institute of Technology, Newark; Trenton State College, Trenton and Glassboro State College, Glassboro. These scholarships in the amount of $300 each, are presented to women enrolled in the colleges who are residents of New Jersey, have a satisfactory scholarship record and who are in need of financial aid.

The luncheon program for the meeting featured Michael Rapoport, of the State Board of the A.C.L.U., who discussed the "Right to Privacy."

Two workshops were offered prior to the meeting, "How to Give Oral and Written Reports" and "Spanning B.P.W. 1919 through 1976." They were conducted by Miss Charlotte McCracken and Mrs. Mildred deSimone both past state presidents of the Federation.

Paprika, plates and plays

by Helen Maguire

BITS AND PIECES:
Kudos to the Junior Woman's Clubs in Nutley and Belleville for a play and a plate. My two healthy kids, two friends and I spent a delightful and insuractive hour Saturday viewing "Pocketful of Pride" written and produced by the Nutley Juniors. It's theme was simple: pride in our community and in ourselves is not something that suddenly emerges when we reach adulthood. It has to be fostered from the tenderest of ages. What appalled and fascinated me was thinking of all the extra equipment or services that could be provided for our children if the Board of Education wasn't forced to part with so many tax dollars to replace broken windows in the local schools. Vandalism is very costly indeed!

THE BELLEVILLE Juniors elected to commemorate the nation's bicentennial by producing a plate depicting several historic scenes and buildings dear to the hearts and memories of Bellevillites. People purchasing the plate are accomplishing two things: they are gaining an attractive memento of their town and supporting the Juniors in their charitable work.

Thought I had finally flipped the other day. I went down to the center, purchased some wool, needles and directions for making a pair of socks. Granted, I haven't knit socks in many a year but my ability to follow directions has not deserted me and when I turned the heel four times running and was unable to accomplish the next step which this $1.50 book required, I began to think I had had it! Not so. Took the book back to the store where the proprietor discovered that the printer had left out a small but essential paragraph. Greatly relieved.

I HAVE SEEN some funny advertisements and assiduously purchased items at 2/49 or 5/99 or 3/69 because, even though a simple mathematical computation confirmed I was only saving a cent or two, saving even that made me feel virtuous. But this takes the cake. On my way home from the Dental College Tuesday, I passed an emporium dispensing jeans, tops, suits. The jeans were advertised at 2 for $5, the tops ranged from $1 to $4 and the suits were tagged 3 for $100!

The Maguire award for keeping one's cool goes this week to a friend of mine who shall remain nameless because she wasn't too thrilled with what I said the last time. I personally have nothing against fleas, but some people do. Anyway, last week when the temperature was heading for 0 degrees and a minor blizzard was raging, the lady, who is truly one of the kindest people I know, called an aged aunt who lives quite a distance out of town and is virtually immobile, to see if she needed anything desperately. If so, she was prepared to venture forth and get it for her. "Yes," said the aunt. "There is something I must have and I'm all out of it and my neighbor doesn't have any either!" Visions of milk and bread danced in my friend's head. "What is it?" she inquired and the reply came back, in all sincerity. "Imported paprika!"

Centennial dinner, dance is planned by St. Mary's Church

1976 marks one hundred years of service to the people of Nutley and Belleville by St. Mary's R.C. Church.

One of the highlights of the Centennial year will be a dinner dance at the Regency House in Pennant, on Saturday, April 24th beginning with a cocktail hour at 7:00 p.m. Invitations will be going out shortly to parishioners.

The dance committee is hoping to contact any former parishioners who may wish to attend. Anyone who would like more information please call reservation chairmen - Mr. & Mrs. W. Reeves at 667-3778.

Denise Luongo is Snow Queen

Denise Luongo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Loungo, 704 Church.

The 14 year-old, who is a student at Queen of Peace for the past two years.

At 14 becoming Snow Queen is an accomplishment, and her being nominated and chosen at the local parish does not end with the wearing of a beautiful gown to the Cotillion, which is scheduled for March 5, at the Friar Tuck Inn, Cedar Grove.

Sometime before Friday, February 13, the contest winner has to write an essay explaining why she would like to be chosen Essex County CYO Snow Queen, and at a date in mid-February, Denise, along with CYO parish queens from all over the county, will be interviewed for half an hour with a contest judge in Montclair. In addition to all this the lass will be required to raise money for Cotillion tickets, prepare a speech for the night of the Cotillion and be prepared to speak at various gatherings of the Rosary Society, Knights of Columbus, and meetings of parents and teachers.

At the night of the Cotillion, Queen, Denise, as well as the other contest aspirants, will be attendance, and sometime during the evening will be given an answer will serve as the concluding test, and from there on in, judges will be contemplating the name of the winner, who will be known to all later on that same evening.

Bicentennial plate

Belleville Juniors produce plate to commemorate our Bicentennial

"We wanted to do something to commemorate our nation's Bicentennial that would be uniquely Belleville," said Mrs. Pamela VanHolland, president of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville, commenting on the Bicentennial plate just offered for sale by the Club. "Proceeds from the plate sales will be used to support various town-affiliated charities," she continued. "This project is our main fund raiser for the year."

The plate measures ten inches in diameter and is of a neutral color with reproductions in Federal blue and rimming in 22 carat gold. The pictures represent old Belleville, once known as the Second River Section of Newark, later separated from its sibling, Bloomfield and incorporated as a separate township in 1839.

Viewing the plate in a clockwise order (from 12) Town Hall (circa 1913) is the first building followed by the earliest mill in town, Bennett's Mill which opened in 1796.

Belleville's initial firehouse (at 3 o'clock) was called Valley Hose Company Number One and answered its first call in 1882. Beneath the firehouse is the town's oldest house of worship, the Dutch Reformed Church which dates back to 1697. The church had many influential Bellevillites as members of its congregation. The Hornblowers, Joralemons and Van Rensselaers attended services there and are buried in the cemetery at the rear of the church at Main and Rutgers Streets.

Halfway around the plate is Belleville's oldest building constructed in 1683. This edifice, originally known as the VanCortlandt-VanRensselaer Mansion, later became the Belleville Hotel, a stately structure whose days of pomp and elegance were abruptly ended when the building was completely destroyed by fire. Today, the Wallace & Tiernan plant stands on the old hotel site at Main and Mill Streets.

The next reproduction is of the sailing of the first steamship on the Passaic River in 1798. Although unverified, its name is reported as the "Polacca". Above the ship is the old School One, originally known as the "Academy", built in 1853 and housed on the property of the Dutch Reformed Church at Academy and Stephens Streets.

Completing the circle is a replica of the water wheel which was used to power the first steam engine in the United States. The year was 1754 and the wheel was located very near where the Senior Citizens' building now stands.

Centering the plate is a view of Belleville in 1790 as seen from the Kearny side of the Passaic River. The "beautiful village" today encompasses an area of 3.2 square miles and has a population of 39,000.

Reference information used to prepare the Bicentennial plate was obtained from photos and writings which belong to the Belleville Historical Society and the Belleville Public Library. The art work and design of the plate was prepared by Mrs. Lois Gaccione of the Junior Women's Club and photographs were reproduced by Kondreck Studios of Belleville. Silk City Calendar Company, Paterson, is the manufacturer.

The plates retail for $5 each and may be obtained from Mrs. JoAnn McGough, plate chairman, at 759-7746 or Mrs. Barbara Spillane, Federation secretary and public relations chairman, at 759-0219. They will be available at selected sites in the community in the near future.

Items contributed include clothing, bedding, books, kitchen utensils, food, lollipops, crayons, coloring books, puppets, cosmetics, jewelry, grooming articles etc., birthday cakes and gifts. Many hours have been spent with the Girl Scouts, counseling summer camps and teaching arts and crafts.

YOU AND YOUR PET

House pets

Although the majority of pet owners seem to prefer cats and dogs, the variety of animals suited for becoming household pets is enormous. Each species is unique in some way, with its own attractions and disadvantages.

Before you buy any pet, it's a good idea to make sure that it will be compatible with your lifestyle. First, how much room do you have? An apartment or small house can easily accommodate a cat, small dog, birds or fish. But it is unwise to try to match up a large, active dog with anything less than a large house, with room for outdoor exercise.

Almost as important as space is your available time. Cats or dogs should be fed every day and are not suitable for persons who are frequently away from home. On the other hand, rodents (guinea pigs or hamsters) can be left alone with several days of dry food and water, and manage quite nicely. And if you have enough natural greenery in the tank, fish may also not need any care for several days.

If you are buying a pet for a child, make sure the pet is healthy by scheduling an early visit to the veterinarian. It is cruel to give a child a pet to love — only to have the pet and child suffer because of pre-existing disease. This examination will also physically safeguard the child, since some bacterial and fungus diseases are transferable from pets to people.

If the pet is intended to be the sole responsibility of your children, match up the animal with the child's ability to care for it. Don't expect an 8 to 10-year-old to groom a long-haired cat every day or to walk a St. Bernard. Small pets (box turtles, parakeets or fish) are much more manageable.

Pets also make good companions for the elderly. A small, active breed of dog, for example, can provide an ideal reason for some needed daily exercise and some daily cooking by its owner. Even for an invalid, pets can provide companionship and an interest to relieve the monotony of a restricted environment.

It's not uncommon for people to purchase pets with an eye toward home decor. Brightly colored fish or birds can go far in establishing an individualized look in your living room or den. But remember that brightly colored animals are often native to the tropics and demand more specialized care. Tropical fish need a carefully adjusted tank temperature and compatibility with others in the tank must also be taken into account.

Birds are similar in their needs for warmer temperatures and special foods.

Exotic pets should not be purchased unless you are completely familiar with their special needs. Snakes and lizards do not need daily feedings, but they do prefer live food. Some reptiles may starve during cold seasons when insects and other natural foods are not available. Though they may be cute on television, monkeys can be destructive at home. Monkeys may also be carriers of human disease. Some wild animals, like raccoons, will need both canine and feline rabies and distemper shots.

Regardless of what pet you choose, remember that it is a living creature, dependent upon you for its well-being. It requires clean living quarters, regular feeding and appropriate medical attention. And most important, you pet will need love and attention if it is to thrive.

We do not have to see God to love Him, but we have to love Him if we want to see Him.

— Daniel Haughian

Growth strategies repeated at YW

Power, Personal Values and Decision Making are the topics for a three session workshop series entitled "Strategies For Growth" to be held January 29, February 5 and 12 at the Montclair-North Essex Y.W.C.A., 159 Glenridge Avenue, Montclair.

Led by Kaye Andres, director of the Second Careers Program at Montclair State College, this popular series offers many helpful insights into identifying questions and surveying options.

Hormones are produced by the body in pretty small doses, but the smallest amount of a given hormone can have an extensive effect. Hormone preparations are generally considered most appropriately prescribed by doctors. Why? The extreme potency of these substances, combined with gaps in our knowledge as to their total effect, makes it necessary to use all hormones with some caution. It is really advisable not to use hormone preparations except on the advice of your physician. If used improperly hormones can do great harm.

All prescription preparations can be handled by us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. James DiModica, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DiModica, 92 Continental Avenue, has been named an honors student at the Milford Academy Preparatory School, Milford, Connecticut.

DiModica plans to study journalism, and is now waiting for acceptance at Yale University, Ithaca College or Alfred University.

A number of Belleville residents have been named to the Honors List and Dean's List at Fairleigh Dickinson University's Rutherford Campus. On the Honors List (which requires a 3.5 average) are: William F. Alexander of 140 Overlook Avenue, Robert Anderson of 161 Beech Street, Arthur Franz of 94 Bell Street, Ralph Lukowiak of 11 Mt. Pleasant Avenue, Kevin McGonigle of 128 Division Avenue, Mare Notari of 18 Preston Street, Lozo Osaki of 261 Belmont Avenue, and Richard Seale, 164 Academy Street.

On the Fairleigh Dickinson Dean's List (which requires a 3.2 grade point average) are: Bruce Alexander of 88 Columbus Avenue, Robert Barretta of 80 Division Avenue, Donna Hope Batkin of 148 Newark Avenue, Anthony Caputo of 246 New Street, Patrick Mazzillo of 3 Crescent Terrace, and Vito Mesce of 63 DeWitt Avenue.

Two Belleville residents have been selected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for 1975-76 from Jersey City State College. Selected by their fellow students and faculty on the basis of academic achievement and college and community involvement are Kathleen A. Janieg, 368 Washington Avenue, and George Villano of 136 White Oak Terrace.

Villano, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Villano, is a Belleville High School graduate and is majoring in special education. Active in student government, he is a member of the school's Senate Committee, past president of his freshman class, vice president of the Council for Exceptional Children, and a member of the senior class screening committee for special education.

AFTER NOVEMBER INCIDENT

Orange off '76 grid slate

By CHUCK JACKSON

Violence following the Belleville-Orange jayvee football game last fall has resulted in the Tornados being removed from the Bellboy grid schedule, it was revealed at Monday's Board of Education meeting.

According to Herman Wische, director of athletics at BHS, the Belleville team bus was stoned after the game at Orange, resulting in slight injury to a Blue-Gold player and damage to the vehicle.

Though the Tornados have been dropped as a football opponent, the two schools will continue to compete in all other sports. Earl Spivey, Orange athletic director, said the two teams have since played each other in basketball without any incidents. Orange is also on the Belleville wrestling schedule.

Wische said the decision to eliminate Orange has been under discussion ever since the November 3 incident.

"We thought it might be best to stop for awhile," said Wishe. "There was a tension between the two schools and we wanted to get rid of it. What were we supposed to do? Wait until somebody was severely injured? No athletic contest is worth that much to me."

Frank Biafore, a jayvee griddier, was struck in the head with a stone after the Orange-Belleville contest, and was treated at Orange Memorial Hospital for a cut.

According to athletic director Spivey, the rock throwing incident was a carry-over from the Saturday varsity match when several of his players were spat upon and verbally abused by some "young fans."

Wische said he was unaware of any incident at the home game until after the trouble at the jayvee game in Orange.

Spivey said his school agreed with the Belleville decision, saying, "Both parties felt it was better to stop the competition. It's not so much the athletes as it is the fans. If the fans can't get along and enjoy the activities, there is no sense in continuing to play each other."

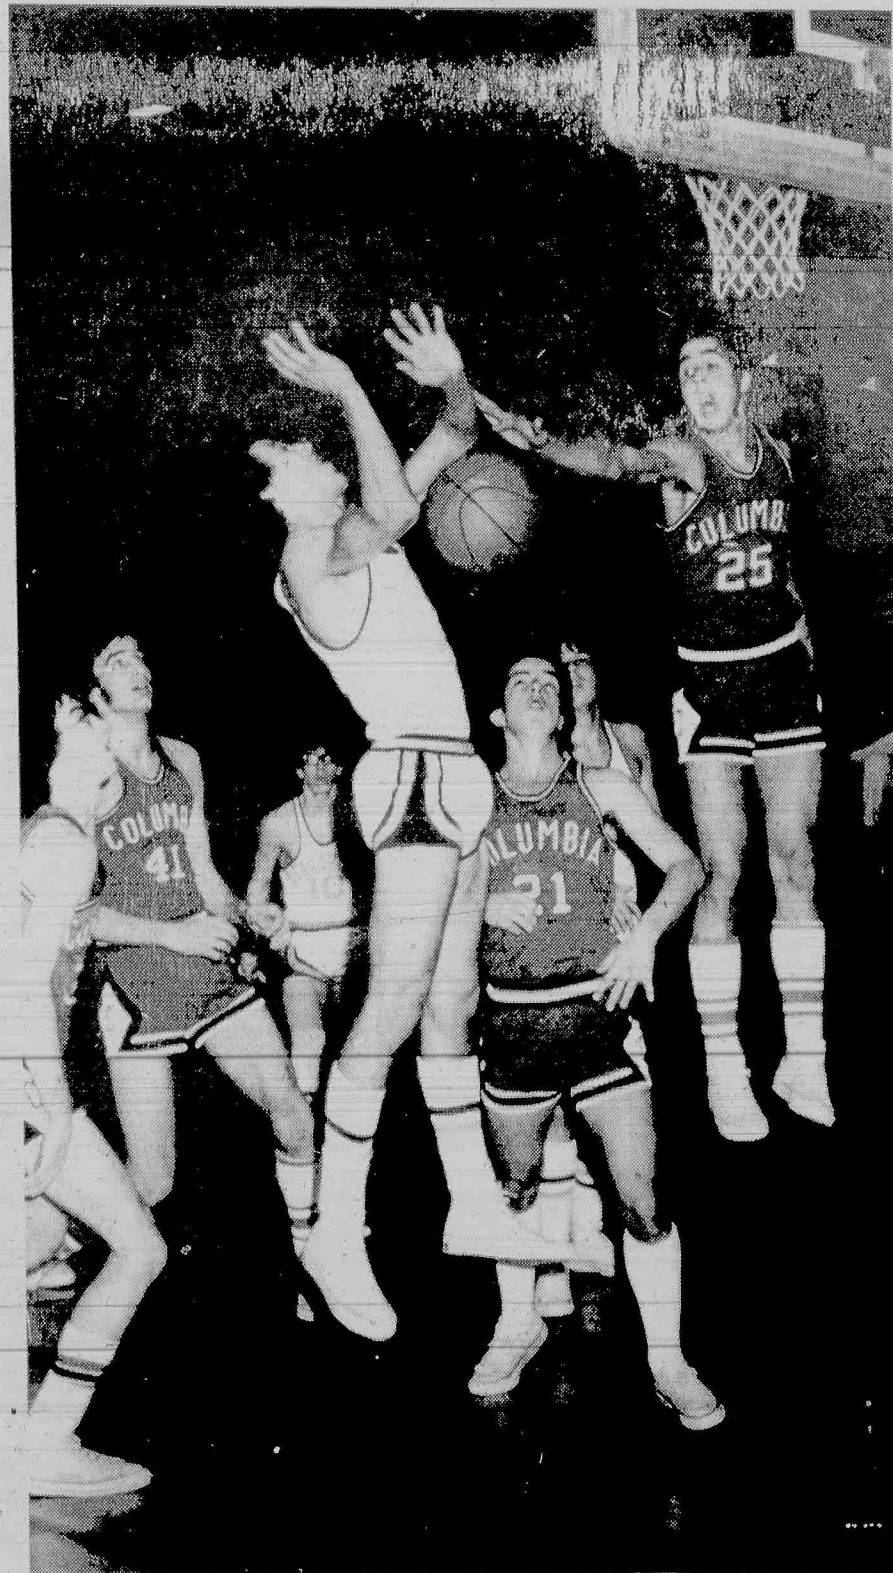

Spivey also said he thought it was unlikely the two teams would ever return to grid competition. Both schools are now in the process of searching for replacements to their schedules.

Both athletic directors played down the bitter feelings which have apparently sprung up in connection with the football games. Spivey emphasized the fact that, with the exception of the recent incidents, BHS and Orange high are on good terms.

"There is no animosity between the schools," said Spivey. "We usually don't become involved in situations like this, but in order to save the meaning of this particular sport, this was a wise decision."

Bumped again — The Belleville varsity basketball team went in search of its second victory of the season last week, but ran into a tough Columbia Cougar club and suffered another loss. Above, Blue-Gold hoopster Tom Smith rises above the masses to haul down the rebound as teammates Mark Montagna (right) and Doug Jackson come in for support. Below, Bellboy Tom Smith attempted a lay-up, but found his path and the trajectory of the ball blocked by a leaping Cougar. It was a frustrating night for the Belleville team as it continually struggled to catch up to the Columbia team. It never succeeded and the final score had the hometown hardwooders losing, 64-30.

NOW STAND 9-1

Wrestlers unstoppable

The Belleville varsity grapplers, like an unstoppable machine, rolled over two more opponents last week, grinding Paterson Kennedy to dust, 49-11, and then crunching Irvington last Saturday, 36-19.

Yesterday, the team was scheduled to defend its 9-1 record against Bloomfield high, but results came in too late for this edition of the Times/News. Tomorrow, the squad travels to Kearny to take on the tough Cardinals. The match is bound to be a tough battle, but coach Jim Silvestri and his men are always up for Kearny and this year will be no exception.

The Irvington Campers rode into Belleville Saturday with a very good reputation and a Big Ten record unscathed by any losses. Their reputation may still be intact, but their record no longer is. Belleville handed them their first conference loss.

The Blue-Gold men had to follow a rough path to get to their victory, and early in the match it looked like the prize could go to either side.

Though Belleville jumped to an early lead due to Carl Arit's 4:25 pin of Tony Uva in the 101 pound class, the teams saw-sawed back and forth with wins and losses.

Bob Freda wrestled for Belleville at 108 and had the misfortune of running into Glenn Mansfield. Mansfield went at 101 last year, and was the only wrestler to really give Arit a hard time all season. He gave Freda a tough run too, finally pinning the Bellevilleite after five minutes and 11 seconds.

Vin Mustacchio broke the point tie and put the Bellboys back out in front by decisioning Bob Appleby 10-1 at the 115 level. The win put Belleville out in front, but only temporarily.

Mark DeGiacomo was next to the mat, and though he fought hard, he went down before John Salerno, 6-2. Considering Salerno's skill, DeGiacomo looked good, and coach Silvestri praised him, saying, "I thought Mark wrestled very well. He was feeling a little under the weather before the match, but still put up a helluva fight."

Ron Grolimon took up the 129-pound challenge and avenged the loss by gaining a decision over John Ganning 3-2.

Once again, the Campers came back, this time in the person of Clem Salerno, who decisioned Bob Racioppi 10-2 to take the win at 135.

From that point on, however, it was virtually Belleville all the way. Tom Zarral led the charge, decisively whipping Jack Florenza, 11-0 to win the 141-pound crown.

Robert Villano came in at the 148-pound plateau and threw another log on the Belleville scoring fire by crushing John Appleby 16-3.

The 153-pound match, featuring Chris Tremel versus Delman Cannon brought the crowd to its feet. Tremel and Cannon had met before, once in AAU competition and once at the Bloomfield Tournament. Each boy had won once, and this time...

Very depressing

If it hurts to lose, coach Dan Grasso and the BHS varsity basketball team must feel like they are being treated to slow torture.

The hoopsters' record dropped to a new low this week as the team took two more shots to the tally, a 64-30 loss to Columbia last Friday and a 65-37 defeat at the hands of the Bloomfield Bengals Tuesday. The squad's ledger sheet for the year now reads one win and 12 losses. Very depressing indeed.

Tomorrow, the team will make the trek to Irvington to take on the Campers, the first team the Bellboys played this season and the first team to beat them. The game will begin at 8 p.m.

The Campers have a height advantage, and they also have a finely honed outside shot that could cause the Blue-Gold hardwooders big problems. It definitely will not be an easy game for Belleville, but then the Campers shouldn't consider the game won before it starts.

The Bellboys jumped to an early lead in the Bloomfield contest, but the Bengals regained their balance and started to put together an attack which eventually overtook and then overwhelmed Belleville.

Belleville played well defensively, but it was the Bloomfield defense which really hurt them more.

The Bengals threw a full court press at the Blue-Gold basketballers which wreaked havoc with their offense. The Bloomfield men forced Belleville into a high turnover rate, and also forced BHS starter Doug Jackson into foul trouble.

Jackson picked up a few too many penalties early in the game, and as a result had to ride the bench a good deal of the time. There were few other foul opportunities, however, and the Bengals were successful in making only one free throw.

At the end of three quarters, Belleville was down by 17 points. The game was still within reach at that point, but Bloomfield managed to sustain its attack and pulled far away in the fourth quarter, handing the hometown hoopsters loss.

She-shooters sharp, but not sharp enough

There were some signs of improvement and a few brief glimpses of promise this week on the BHS women's basketball team, even though the girls dropped two more games and let their record slip to 2-10.

Friday, the girls took a shellacking at the hands of the Columbia Cougars, losing 54-17, and Tuesday lost 55-46 to Bloomfield.

Tomorrow, the team will play host to the Irvington Campers. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:45 p.m. in Belleville high gym.

Coach Karen Fuccello was, naturally, disappointed when her team lost to the Bengals Tuesday, but she was still pleased with the way the team performed, particularly in the first half.

The coach characterized the play during the first two periods as "beautiful," and she added, "We just did all the right things. There was a lot of teamwork and good communication offensively. Our zone defense also did a fine job of keeping the Columbia team away from the basket."

The Bellgirls had the lead as the first half ended, thanks in part to the solid shooting of Carol Lelio. Lelio finished the game as the team's high scorer with 15 points.

The Bengals worked out their Craig Fund team to meet pros

Plans for the annual Craig Fund benefit basketball game are nearing completion, and already a friendly but intense rivalry is beginning to heat up.

The game scheduled for February 28 at Belleville High School gym, will feature professional football players pitted against local hoop All-Stars. This year, the pros will be coached by fund president Michael Chieffo and the All-Stars by Belleville Bronco coach Rich Luzzi.

A tentative partial list of the bigtime gridders slated to appear has been leaked to the press by coach Chieffo, perhaps in hopes of intimidating Luzzi's men. The football five will feature Bill Villapiano of the Oakland Raiders, Ed Marinaro of the Minnesota Vikings and Jets Emerson, Boozer and Rich Caster.

According to Chieffo, "My team will take Luzzi's by at least 15 points. The All-Stars can run, but they can't hide."

All-star coach Luzzi scoffed at Chieffo's prediction, adding, "All I'll say right now is that we will be there. We have a few special things planned, and coach Chieffo may be surprised."

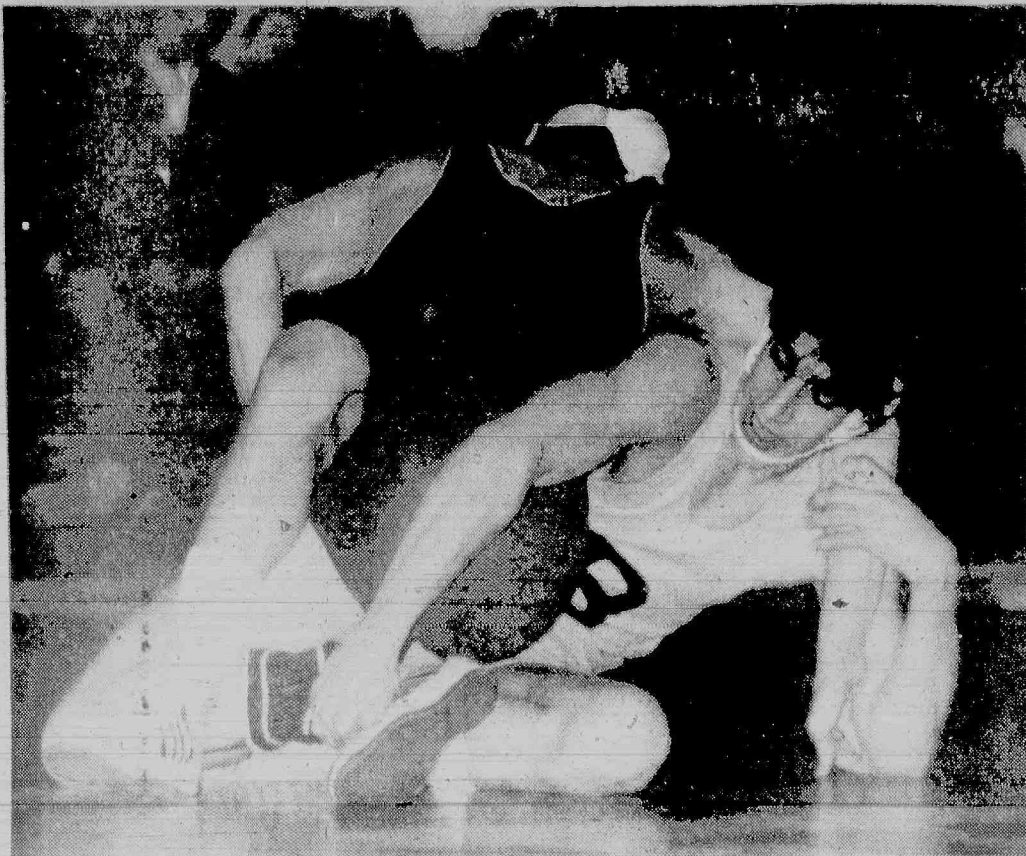

The All-Star team hasn't been selected yet, and Luzzi claims Chieffo is attempting to guide his choices.

"He's putting me on the spot," growled Luzzi jokingly. "He said he wants to pick the team and then I have to coach it. He would like to set an arbitrary height limit of five foot seven inches on my players. I don't think I like that idea."

Whatever jockeying for position goes on behind the scenes, both men said they can assure fans an exciting contest. Youngsters will be able to line-up for the autographs of their favorite grid stars at the traditional half-time signing session and perhaps snap a few pictures for their scrapbooks.

Tickets for the event will go on sale shortly, it was reported, and the Times/News will print all vital information when it is released.

Twisted into a human pretzel, Mark DeGiacomo and Camper John Salerno battle for the 122 pound victory. Though DeGiacomo lost in a 6-2 decision, coach Jim Silvestri praised the young grappler, saying he wrestled a "helluva match."

Will grapplers tumble the house of Kards?

was the rubber match. The electricity in the air was shot alive, however, because in just one minute and 45 seconds, Tremel had Cannon on his back for the count. The win fired up everyone, and Keith Waddell came out right after the Tremel victory and brought more glory home by holding 170 pounder Tom Donahue to just one point while amassing 13 for himself. Ken Milano had it a bit rougher, however, when he went up against

Arlt named month's best

Belleville varsity grappler Carl Arlt was named Athlete of the Month for the month of December at the Optimist Club meeting January 21.

The 101-pound co-captain of the BHS wrestling squad was presented an award for his achievement by his coach, Jim Silvestri.

A three year veteran on the varsity mat, Arlt has wrestled at both the 108 and 101 pound levels. He is currently undefeated and untied this year in varsity competition, and was the 101-pound winner of the Bloomfield Christmas Tournament.

Arlt appeared on Channel 50, New Jersey's educational television station last week, demonstrating wrestling techniques.

Carl Arlt

Rolling — Bellboy Robert Freda and his opponent Glenn Mansfield strike a frog-like pose as they tangle during the Belleville-Irvington wrestling match. Freda lost the 108 pound contest when the highly rated Mansfield twisted him into pin position after five minutes and 11 seconds. The Bellboys won the overall competition.

Cagers start strong, but lose to Bengals

It was another ride down the chute for the Bellboys last week, this time, it was the Columbia high basketball team which gave them the shove. The final score was the Cougars 64 and Belleville 30.

The Columbia team took hold of the reins right at the start, firing in twelve points immediately to take a heavy lead.

It seemed as though the Blue-Gold cagers just couldn't do anything right. They were having difficulty hitting the bucket, and had difficulty in controlling the rebounds.

The only inspiration at all came at the last second, literally, when Wayne Riche took a shot from about 40 feet out and found the mark as the buzzer went off.

That little trick seemed to give the team a bit of a boost. During the second period, the BHS hoopsters cut the lead down to 13-8 at one point, but it was the same old sad story as

Water wonders pick up points

Belleville's water wonders, Angelo and Anthony Domenick continue to pile on the points, helping the Montclair YMCA Marlins pick up win after win.

Following dual meets January 17 against Somerset Valley and January 10 with West Essex, the Marlins now have a perfect 5-0 record and lead the Northern N.J. YMCA Boys Swim League.

The Marlins took 15 of the 18 individual races against Somerset Valley and three of the four relays.

Anthony Domenick, racing in the 13-14 age group, won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:01.2, and powered to the wall and a three-way tie for first in the 100-yard butterfly contest. His time there was 1:01.2. He also sprinted the second leg of the winning 100-yard free relay squad, contributing to the team time of 1:43.2.

Angelo Domenick, racing with the 10-and-under group, took first place in the 50-yard butterfly event and took second in the 50-yard backstroke contest. His times were 33.4 and 36.3, respectively.

Nine times, the Somerset Valley squad felt the power of the Marlins' "one-two punch" as Montclair Y racers finished ahead of their opponents.

The Montclair Marlins are coached by Joe Slowinski of Pine Brook and Bob Domenick of Belleville.

the Cougars ripped the rug out from under them by scoring seven straight points at the end and re-establishing their superiority.

For all intents and purposes, the game was just about over at the half. The Columbia team had managed to raise its lead to 13 points, upped it to 15 early in the third period, and just kept on going after that.

They showed the Bellboys absolutely no mercy, and added insult to injury by scoring the last 14 points of the game.

Riche was in the game, coming off an injury, and performed rather well. Though none of the Bellboys scored really big points, Riche came out on top with eight.

DeWitt Rangers back in action

Belleville's DeWitt Rangers will take to the street hockey arena Sunday when the team travels to DeMuro Park in Nutley to clash with that town's Flyers.

The Rangers have had some trouble arranging a steady schedule this season, but the team now has a record of 4-1-1 and is looking to add Nutley to its growing list of victims.

The Flyers, on the other hand, are sitting pretty on a comfortable 8-0 record and they expect to give the Rangers a run for the money.

The game will begin at noon on the tennis courts in DeMuro. Ranger fans are invited to drop by and cheer on the local bruisers.

problems during the halftime break, however, and found a way to handle Belleville. The Bengals finally were able to break through the Blue-Gold zone, and started to pump in the points. At the same time, the Bellgirl scoring dropped off sharply and Bloomfield was able to gain and retain a lead.

A nearly complete absence of any offensive power resulted in last week's overwhelming loss to the Columbia Cougars. The Bellgirls lost the contest, 54-17.

'Dirty Harry' showing will aid crew team

On Wednesday, February 4 at 7 p.m. the Belleville Crew Parents Association will present the movie "Dirty Harry" in the auditorium of the senior high school.

Tickets are $2 each, and may be purchased by calling 751-1134 or from any member of the organization, with additional tickets available at the door the night of the performance.

Proceeds of the evening will help to purchase a new four-man shell for the crew.

business review

Paul J. Alfano, 68 Eugene Place, has been promoted to programmer in the actuarial division of Prudential Insurance Company, Roseland.

Alfano joined the company in 1969 and served as a computer operator in the computer systems and services area before transferring to the actuarial department in 1973. He was an assistant programmer before his promotion.

The Bellevilleite and his wife, Diane, have two children, Andrea and David. Alfano is currently working toward an undergraduate degree at Rutgers University.

Dr. Philip A. Rispoli of Belleville has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy was formerly called the American Academy of General Practice. The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years.

Belleville resident Amitabha Chatterjee was one of eight Essex County residents who recently received certificates as licensed professional engineers. Chatterjee received his license at ceremonies sponsored by the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers.

Former Belleville resident Anthony J. Allora has been appointed assistant vice president of the 37 office New Jersey Bank.

Allora joined the bank in 1970 as a management trainee upon his graduation from Fairleigh Dickinson University. Following assignments with the branch administrative department, in 1971 he joined the mortgage department, where he became manager of loan originations earlier this year. He now lives in Bloomfield with his wife, Josephine.

Ralph Palumbo of Belleville was honored recently by the Becker CPA Review Course for his achievement in the May 1975 CPA examination.

A commemorative plaque for ranking second highest in the State was presented to Palumbo, a former Becker student. The presentation was made by William Odell, lead instructor, at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark.

Palumbo, 27, is an undergraduate of Montclair State College and a graduate student at Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, where he is working toward his master's degree in accounting. He is currently employed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and is a member of the Federal Government Accounting Association.

Barbara S. Menendez of Belleville has been elected Trust Officer- Assistant Secretary of the Fidelity Union Trust Company, board chairman C. Malcolm Davis has announced.

Mrs. Menendez, a graduate of Indiana University, serves in the Estate and Trust Division of Fidelity's Trust Department.

Former Belleville resident Mason Ford has been appointed to the newly created position of manager, international marketing of the Patent Scaffolding Company. Now a resident of Fayson Lakes in Kinnelon, Ford was born in Belleville.

obituaries

Samuel Garruto, 93

Funeral mass was held January 23 in St. Mary's Church, Nutley, for Samuel Garruto, 591 Union Avenue, Belleville, who died January 20 in St. Barnabas Medical Center after a brief illness.

Well-known throughout the Belleville-Nutley area as "the Sausage King," Mr. Garruto was 93.

Founder and operator of Garruto's Pork Stores in Nutley and Newark, Mr. Garruto was born in Italy in 1882. At age 18 he came to the United States and eventually opened a grocery in Nutley. He eventually switched into strictly the sausage business, opening another store in Newark.

Mr. Garruto served four years in the New Jersey State Military Reserve.

Predeceased by his wife, the late Mrs. Lena Ferraro Garruto, Mr. Garruto is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Pelhemus of Nutley, and Mrs. Jean Reboli of Bloomfield; a son, Frank, of Belleville; three brothers, Felix of Belleville and Angelo and Michael, both of Italy; a sister, Mrs. Louise Grasso of Italy, and eight grandchildren.

Services were arranged by the Biondi Funeral Home, Nutley, and interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Alfonse Fabiano

Funeral mass was said January 24 in St. Anthony's Church for Alfonse Fabiano, 63, who died January 21 in Clara Maass Hospital.

Mr. Fabiano, who was born in Newark, lived in Belleville for the past 23 years. He was a custodian at School 3 for three years, and before that was a supervisor at Diamond Shamrock, Kearny, where he was employed 25 years. He was a member of the North Arlington Knights of Columbus.

Survivors include his wife, Mary; two daughters, Mrs. Rose Marie Verdi and Mrs. Marion Lorenzo; three sisters, Mrs. Ang DiGuliam, Mrs. Louise Montesano and Mrs. Helen Piccione; four brothers, Joseph, Anthony, Frank and Felix, and three grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

Henry Denison, 82

Memorial services will be held later this month for Henry Lyman Denison, of Stratford, Conn., who died suddenly January 15 in Stratford. A former Belleville resident, he was 82.

Born in Provo, Utah, Mr. Denison moved to Connecticut 20 years ago. Formerly employed by Sherwin-Williams Paint Company, he was the son of former Belleville Mayor C. Lyman Denison, and a vestryman of Christ Church in Belleville. He was also a member of Belleville American Legion Post 105 and the Belleville Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Denison is survived by two brothers, Philip of Cape Coral, Fla., and Ward of Rumson, and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Crane of North Caldwell.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick

Funeral mass was said yesterday in Holy Family Church, Nutley, for Mrs. Margaret Fitzpatrick, 84, who died January 24 in Merry Heart Nursing Home, Succasunna.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who was born in Ireland, lived in New York and Newark before moving to Belleville 50 years ago. She was a charter member of the Holy Family Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. May Scudato, Miss Kathleen Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Peggy Hickey; three sons, James P., John J. and Bernart T., and 22 grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the S.W. Brown & Son Funeral Home, Nutley.

Mrs. Constance S. Bauer

Funeral mass was held January 26 in St. Mary's Church, Nutley, for Constance S. Bauer, who died January 22 in Clara Maass Hospital.

Mrs. Booth, 75

Funeral mass was held January 22 in St. Mary's Church, Nutley, for Elizabeth T. Booth, who died January 19 in Clara Maass Hospital.

Mrs. Booth, who was 75, was born in New York City and came to Belleville from Newark 60 years ago. She was the widow of Charles F. Booth and is survived by three daughters, Mildred and Elizabeth Booth, at home, and Mrs. Lawrence (Ann A.) McShane of Kearny; a son, Charles of Nutley, 11 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, North Arlington, following a funeral from the Kiernan Funeral Home.

Gladys M. Brauer

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Gladys M. Brauer who died January 18 in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Brauer was born in Newark, and lived in Belleville for the past 60 years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Gloria Davis; a son, Emil, and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were handled by the Wadsworth Funeral Home.

Mrs. Bauer was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., and then moved to Connecticut before coming to Belleville 28 years ago.

She is survived by her husband, George F.; two daughters, Joan Bauer of Philadelphia, Pa. and Mrs. Alice Callahan of Belleville; two sons, Lt. Col. Richard Bauer, U.S.A.F., Shalimar, Fla., and Major George Bauer, U.S.A.F., Hampton, Va.; two brothers, Alden Quintard of San Diego, Calif., and George Quintard of Newton, Conn.; one sister, Miss Janet Quintard of San Diego, Calif., and 13 grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Kiernan Funeral Home, followed by burial in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

H.S. Beatty, 75

Funeral services were held January 21 for H. Sherman Beatty, of Belleville, who died January 18 in Mountsinide Hospital, Glen Ridge. He was 75.

Born in New York, Mr. Beatty lived here 40 years. Prior to retiring, he was employed for many years as general manager of the Ford Agency in Paterson. He was also a member of the Belleville Masonic Lodge 108, and the Belleville Rotary Club.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy.

Funeral arrangements were by the Wadsworth Funeral Home, Belleville.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

Last Wednesday the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs met at the Civic Center in Bloomfield. The concern about the rising utility rates was the main issue of discussion, and this organization will wholeheartedly oppose any increase in utility rates at this time.

Senior citizens organizations in the county are urged to attend the hearing on February 4 to protest these intended increases.

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has requested a 25 percent boost in rates, and Bell Telephone is asking for an increase of about 20 percent.

While the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs has been hoping for a decrease in utility rates, at this moment it will be fortunate to hold the line to prevent any increase. As most of the readers of this column know, the problems of the elderly are uppermost in our minds, and being in that age category we tend to keep close to their (the senior's) needs.

Any increases, even small ones, affecting our people who are mostly on fixed incomes means that some individuals will have to do without other necessities of life.

The Public Utilities Commission hearings will take place at their offices at 1100 Raymond Boulevard, Newark, on the second floor. The attendance of seniors is urgently needed to protest these unpopular rate increases.

Banks seem to have a language all their own. We speak yours.

When you put your hard-earned money in a bank, that bank owes you a feeling of confidence and trust. We think that this trust only comes from clear, thorough communication about what you are getting for your money.

That's why in our advertising, and in our banks, we won't be talking to you in numbers and textbook banking words as if you were a banker. We'll be explaining our full-service programs to you in language you can understand.

For instance, we'll be telling you something no other bank has ever told you: why all 5% interest rates do not earn the same amount of money for their depositors.

And why some banks' free checking accounts can end up costing you money.

Perhaps you're confused as to when it's advantageous to lease an automobile rather than buy one. We'll end your confusion.

Won't someone ever explain to you why there are all those different Savings Certificates with different rates of interest and different lengths of time? We will.

You don't have to be a lawyer to understand how our tax shelter retirement plans can benefit you. Not the way we'll explain them.

We believe it's a bank's obligation to see that you understand what it gives you in return for the privilege of using your money to make money.

We intend to meet our obligation to you.

Offices in Essex, Warren and Passaic Counties. Member FDIC

MIDLANTIC
The straight-talking bank.

Teachers are helping your children to read with a new TV series the children probably will never watch.

But their teachers will. No one is more aware of what TV has done to erode reading skills than your child's classroom teacher. No one is more concerned.

That is why NJEA, in cooperation with Monmouth College, will begin a 12 week graduate course "Teaching Children to Read."

"Teaching Children to Read" will be telecast weekly over the facilities of New Jersey Public Broadcasting Channels 23, 50, 52 and 58 — starting January 27th. It will dig deeper into the rationale behind individualized reading instruction, illustrate alternative techniques, explore innovative concepts, document examples. And most of all, it will help your children to learn — and enjoy — reading.

This new television classroom is just one of the ways NJEA fulfills its commitment to quality education in New Jersey. For NJEA cares about your children — not just in the classroom, but in every phase of learning.

should not be paroled. To support my theory, we have recently witnessed a murderer furloughed, come home to Newark, kill a man, take off his clothes, jump in the tub and dismember the victim which was dispersed in two states, clean himself up and go back to his cell.

I have no ego to be dealt with, and if Mr. Stern has any constructive criticism in aiding me as a legislator, to perfect the parole system, I would be willing to utilize the suggestions. I disagree with public executions whether on Sesame Street or in the rooms where journalists sit.

'Wizard of Oz' tickets available

Nutley Little Theater has announced that rehearsals are under way for its annual children's show. This year NLT will present the musical favorite "The Wizard of Oz," to be directed by Tony Beta of Irvington.

NLT's children's theater has become a popular event, having delighted local audiences for over 10 years.

"The Wizard of Oz" will be presented Saturday, February 28, and Sunday, February 29, at Nutley High School, Franklin Avenue, Nutley. NLT plans two performances each day at 1 and 3 p.m.

The cast includes Gabe Getting, Frank McInerney, Jack Althoff, Don Attanasio, Melissa Sandberg, Joan Scheckel, Mary Ann Braun, Mike Capaccio, James Hughes, Carol Saueremilch and Jan Meyer. George Henderson of West Orange will act as musical director.

Tickets are $1.25 and group sales may be arranged by calling 667-8189. Local ticket offices will be announced at a later date.

Window breaker fined

An 18-year old Belleville man was fined $50 and court costs January 14 in Belleville Municipal Court for breaking the window on a car.

Edward O'Connor of Franklin Avenue, was charged with breaking the vent window on a car belonging to Lisa O'Malley, 44 Devon Street, Kearny, and opening the mail on the seat of the car.

However, just for a point of information, in countries where public executions prevail, it has certainly acted as a deterrent.

While you, Mr. Stern, profess to have passed the barbaric practices and beliefs of our forefathers, you continually resort to the barbaric practice of the poison pen.

God bless you and your family. Stern replies: Senator Imperiale apparently misread my remark on gun control. I don't disagree with him on the issue. I also agree with his remark about not paroling convicted killers.

I also believe capital punishment is immoral — as immoral as murder.

Senator Imperiale wouldn't know a poison pen if he sat on it. (I make this last remark in the interest of preserving my "immaturity," "arrogance," "ignorance," "vindictiveness" and ability to "stoop to a very low tide."

NOTICE TO PERSONS DESIRING ABSENTEE BALLOTS

If you are a qualified and registered voter of the State who expects to be absent outside the State on MARCH 9, 1976 or a qualified and registered voter who will be within the State on MARCH 9, 1976, but because of illness or physical disability, or because of the observance of a religious holiday pursuant to the tenets of your religion, or because of resident attendance at a school, college or university, or, in the case of a school election, because of the nature and hours of his employment, will be unable to cast your ballot at the polling place in your district on said date, and you desire to vote in the kindly write or apply in person to the undersigned at once requesting that a civilian absentee ballot be forwarded to you. Such request must state your home address, and the address to which said ballot should be sent, and must be signed with your signature, and state the reason why you will not be able to vote at your usual polling place. No civilian absentee ballot will be forwarded by mail to any applicant unless request therefor is received not less than 7 days prior to the election, and contains the foregoing information. Any civilian absentee voter who fails to apply within the 7-day time prescribed above may apply in person to the county clerk for an absentee ballot on any day up to 3 P.M. on the day before the election.

In the event of sickness or confinement, the qualified voter may apply in writing for and obtain an absentee ballot by authorized messenger so designated over the signature of the voter. The county clerk is authorized to deliver to such authorized messenger a ballot to be delivered to the qualified voters.
