St. Peter's church destroyed by fire

By JOSEPH RYAN and CHUCK JACKSON

A general alarm fire of suspicious origin destroyed the roof and extensively damaged the interior of St. Peter's Church in Belleville Monday.

Eight Belleville firemen and a Newark fireman were injured while fighting the blaze. All were treated at Clara Maass Hospital and released except for Robert Moraski, a Belleville firefighter, who was admitted to the hospital, and as of late Tuesday was in satisfactory condition after being treated for smoke inhalation.

Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight called the fire "suspicious in origin" and said an investigation of the cause is underway. Haight indicated laboratory tests were being conducted by State Police to determine whether the fire was accidental or deliberately set.

Though most police officials were unwilling to comment on the investigation, Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta said arson was suspected in the case. The Commissioner also confirmed a report that at least one suspect had been questioned by police, but no arrest had been made as of late Tuesday.

Belleville Fire Chief George Sbarra notes there have been four fires at the church since October. Several police officers have said that because of the recent fires, the church building had been locked since the day. However, in more recent weeks a decision was made to unlock the church doors.

The blaze was reported by fire alarms at 3:24 p.m., according to Chief Sbarra. All Belleville engines responded to the general alarm.

A snorkel truck from Newark was also called to fight the church fire. The snorkel truck supplemented the Belleville equipment that could not reach higher than the roof of the church to douse the flames.

It took 100 firemen more than five hours to put out the conflagration.

Chief Sbarra believes the fire originated in the altar area and climbed toward the ceiling. Once the flames reached the ceiling, the fire became hard to contain. Sbarra said it was "more difficult than the average fire" because it was "so high and smokey, we couldn't reach the ceiling."

The difficulty in fighting the blaze was mostly affected by the height of the building and concern for the safety of the firemen.

The effort was a success in confining the fire to the church. There was no damage to any other buildings in the area.

The injured firemen who were treated and released from Clara Maass Hospital were Jack Burn, Pat Dunn, Michael Fortino, Rich Triano, William Buckley, Joseph Laminn and auxiliary fireman Bill Rudden.

Newark fireman Thomas Murphy was also among those hurt.

The injuries sustained were as the result of smoke inhalation, burns, cuts and bruises, many of which were caused by falling objects which struck firemen.

Chief Sbarra said the fire completely destroyed the roof of the building and the interior damage was extensive. He called the walls and floor "still structurally sound."

While the Belleville Fire department was occupied at St. Peter's, the Bloomfield Fire Department covered the Silver Lake area and Nutley firemen covered Belleville fire headquarters.

The St. Peter's Church district was the second major Belleville fire in three months. School Three was destroyed on January 4 by a fire that is still under investigation.

Fire Chief Sbarra called the School Three blaze similar to the one at St. Peter's in principle, because in both instances, flames reached the roof and neither building had any fire barriers built into the structure. The St. Peter's blaze spread at a slower rate because, according to Sbarra, the fire got between the cathedral type ceiling and the roof but both were "very difficult to control."

Belleville police estimated the damage to the church at $750,000. Deputy Police Chief Haight has assigned Detectives Salvatore LoCoco, Raymond Caruso and Lt. Raymond Kimball to aid Fire Captain Edward Dunleavy of the Fire investigation division in determining the fire's cause.

The 63-year-old church gutted by Monday's blaze was the second built by St. Peter's Parish. St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, established in 1839, is the fourth oldest parish in the Newark diocese. More than 2,200 families are members of the parish.

Commission chops Board's budget

The Belleville Board of Commissioners has directed the Board of Education to apply the full allotment of state funds to its budget, reducing the town's potential tax increase by 25 points.

Over the objections of several of the Schoolers, the Commission unanimously passed the resolution, which in effect reduces the school budget by $590,347. The town will now have to raise $6,753,182.50 by local taxation for school finances.

The Commissioners in effect cut the proposed budget, defeated by the voters in the March 9 election, by applying more state funds than the School Board had anticipated when preparing the document. The Schoolers are now expected to file an appeal to the Commission's order with the State Commissioner of Education in order to "protect themselves."

The appeal is necessary because should the full allotment of $2.4 million not come from the state, the local system would find itself in desperate financial straits. If they don't receive from the state the entire amount anticipated, it would be up to the Commissioner of Education to restore the missing funds, officials said.

The School Board and the Commissioners met twice to discuss the budget situation, Monday night following the regular Schoolers' meeting, and again Tuesday before the Commission's scheduled session.

Board president Matthew Pica stated his group's position Monday night in an opening statement to the Commissioners, saying, "There would be an increase in our budget over last year if we did nothing. We would like to give in to the taxpayers, but we have to get off our duffs."

The meeting at times became heated, and at one point, Board member Richard Maffmarian got up to leave when his fellow members voted down his attempt to delete specific line items.

"You are unwilling to discuss specific reductions in the budget," said

Flu epidemic ebbs in BHS

After hitting Belleville hard a few weeks ago, the flu epidemic is slowly winding down and reported cases are widely scattered, says assistant high school principal George Nucera.

New Jersey has been one of the most severely affected states this winter in what has become an annual battle with the "bug." Unlike the Hong Kong flu which invaded the country five years ago and was responsible for several local deaths, this particular virus strain (Victorian) hasn't produced such severe results.

Estimates from local health departments note nearly 60 percent of the Belleville and Nutley populations have contracted the flu. The higher statistics, however, may be due to closer surveillance by health officials.

Recently, a new virus strain was located at Fort Dix which was blamed for the death of a soldier at the military base. The flu was similar to a type that caused a world-wide epidemic 50 years ago. 20 million people died from that influenza outbreak and health departments throughout the country are keeping a watchful eye on all flu statistics this year for fear of a recurrence of the epidemic of 1919-20.

Locally, the Belleville and Nutley Health Departments have been compiling statistics for the U. S. Public Health Service. During the coming months, the departments will be working to develop a flu vaccine to inoculate residents. Last October, over 300 were given the vaccine in Nutley and health officer Roy Stanley reports none of those vaccinated contacted the virus this season, adding, "at least we haven't heard of any."

Mournful sight

As firemen bravely fought the flames, hundreds of people gathered around St. Peter's church and watched its sad destruction. Many people were moved emotionally, and Bishop Joseph A. Costello, pastor of the church, said, "It was like watching someone dying." More pictures appear on page 5 of this issue.

DeLorenzo visits local Kiwanis club

New Jersey District Governor Arthur J. DeLorenzo made his annual visit to Division 13 Thursday, March 18, when a dinner and cocktail hour was held at the Fountain Restaurant.

Approximately 150 Kiwanians and their wives attended the affair which was opened by Belleville Kiwanis President Robert Laterza, followed by Mayor Michael Marotti leading the the Pledge of Allegiance. The invocation was given by past president Eugene Reilly, and proceeded with Lt. Governor Vincent Vitty introducing the Governor to the presidents of the Kiwanis Clubs of Bloomfield, Caldwell-West Essex, Fairfield, Glen Ridge, Livingston, Montclair, North Arlington, Nutley, Roseland and Verona-Cedar Grove.

Following the dinner, DeLorenzo delivered a speech on the history of the Kiwanis, reporting that to date six new clubs have been organized in the New Jersey District, National and International level.

Lawrence Gonnella, a past president of the Belleville club was congratulated on winning the District Trophy last year in the single project category, on the basis of the club's participation in the development and construction of the newly erected Senior Citizen Club Building, coinciding with last year's Kiwanis Major Emphasis theme of "The Later Years, the Greater Years."

Drug abuse talk set at School 8

Fifth and sixth grade students of School 8 and their parents are invited to attend a drug abuse program this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The program, which will consist of films, discussions, charts and a general panel discussion, will be presented by Dominic Icolari, a Newark school teacher, who will have as his assistants, D. DeFabbio, a former narcotics detective (now assigned to the Caldwell Corrections Center) T. Thompson, Director of Programs at the Caldwell institution, and four inmates currently serving time in the facility.

No children other than fifth and sixth graders will be admitted, and those admitted must be accompanied by a parent.

Following the program, refreshments will be served by third grade classroom mothers, with the class with the highest attendance receiving ice-cream.

Chairman for the evening will be Mrs. Addie Cetrulo and co-chairman, Earlene Pittaccio. Advisors are Mrs. R. Saulino and Miss C. Alterizio.

Special meeting called

The Belleville Planning Board has called a special meeting for tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

The Board made the announcement, as required by the Sunshine Law, but a spokesman for the Board did not say what would be discussed at the session.

The Planners have also announced their regular meetings will be held the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in Town Hall.

Joseph Doyle, a Board member, said the group is currently seeking someone with court reporter type background as a secretary.

'Bunny Brunch' is in April

Children from Belleville and other Essex County communities will have an opportunity to meet the Easter Bunny when the Newcomers Club holds its annual Bunny Brunch, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. April 10 at the Montclair-North Essex YMCA, 159 Glenridge Avenue, Montclair.

There will be games and entertainment for the children, as well as sandwiches, cupcakes and Easter favors.

Tickets for the brunch are 75 cents for children and 50 cents for adults, and may be purchased before April 6 from Newcomers Club members, at the YWCA office, or by sending a check and a stamped self-addressed envelope to the YWCA.

Admission will be by ticket only, and none will be sold at the door. Ms. Louise Caglarcan of Upper Montclair is in charge of special events for children.

Senior jamboree coming

The Third Annual Senior Citizen Jamboree, co-sponsored by the Essex County Office on Aging and the Essex County Park Commission, will be held at the South River Arena Wednesday, May 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The day will include free medical testing for all seniors, information booths and entertainment to highlight May, proclaimed Senior Citizen Month by Governor Brendan Byrne.

For further information, call the Essex County Office on Aging at 751-6050 or the Essex County Park Commission at 482-6400, extension 236.

Ladies to peddle goodies

The Ladies Aid of Belleville Reformed Church, Main and Rutgers Streets, will hold a cake, candy, and rummage sale Thursday, April 1, from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m., and Friday, April 2, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

According to Ladies Aid President, Lillian Schmid, the rummage sale is a long event for the ladies, but the candy and cake sales are churchwide fund raising events which will be run by various church members.

Besides bargains in many various items, Easter candy will also be available for sale.

Crew flea market April 24

The Belleville Crew Parents Alumni Association will hold its annual flea market in the cafeteria of Belleville High School Saturday, April 24, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

There will be a 25 cent donation, with refreshments available on the premises.

Proceeds from the affair will help defray expenses for the new four-man shell.

Doors stay open late

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce wants to remind everyone that tonight many of the merchants in town will participate in a late hour sale.

The participating stores will close their doors at 5 p.m. to mark down prices, and will re-open at 7 p.m. until 10 p.m.

In all, nine stores will take part in the sale. They are: Belleville Shoes, County Discount Store, Karl's Sale and Service, Joseph's Men's Shop, Louaires Men's Shop, National Shoes, The Shoe Castle, Terry Shops and Mae Moon.

The participating stores will have a special yellow sign in their windows indicating the hours of the sale.

Chinese auction slated

The Belleville Music Parents Association will sponsor its third annual Chinese Auction in the Belleville High School gymnasium this Saturday at 7 p.m.

The affair will feature live entertainment, a treasure chest, a white elephant sale, sweepstake prizes and a 50-50 raffle.

Admission will be $2 per person, and includes dessert, coffee, and ten bonus Chinese Auction tickets, with additional tickets and sweepstake chances available.

Tickets for this affair will be sold only at the door the evening of the auction.

Strumolo heads cancer drive

Vincent T. Strumolo, Director of Public Affairs, who is entering his 14th year as Belleville's Chairman of the American Cancer Society, and educational drive in Belleville, said "We are entering a new era in the fight against cancer." He is asking local residents to support the Society's program of Research, Education and Service through the Crusade.

Local ladies' group gets eight awards

The Woman's Club of Belleville was the recipient of eight awards when the Eighth District Achievement Day was held Wednesday, March 17 in Lyndhurst.

The American Home Department, chaired by Mrs. Nello Chiavini, received five awards, with a colonial predesigned quilt placing first in its category. The quilt club project was designed by Mrs. Ralph M. Allaire, Miss Andree, Mrs. Nello Chiavini, Mrs. John E. DeNike, Mrs. Gerard J. Ferrara, Mrs. James Ferraro, Mrs. William Kinloch, Mrs. William R. Kropp, Mrs. Charles G. Maise, Mrs. Arthur Mooney, Mrs. Irving Russell, Mrs. George Thomas, and Miss Frances Zeiss.

First place in crochet afghan went to Mrs. Edward Bahr, who also received third place in the knitting garment category. Mrs. Arthur Mooney was awarded second place in predesigned needlepoint and also placed third in the preserved sauce and condiment contest.

In the conservation and garden department, Mrs. Arthur Mooney, club chairman, received second place for her African Violet, double bloom.

In the art department, Mrs. Jesse L. Sparkman received third award for oil painting in Beginner classification, entitled "Liberty's Thunder." Under Crafts, Mrs. William R. Kropp was awarded Best of Show for her beginner's collage, and early American scene, executed in fabric.

Student guest on radio

Radio came back into focus this past Sunday when eight and a half year-old Joseph Giangrasso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giangrasso, 9 Floyd Street, appeared on his grandfather's new radio show.

The show, "Italian Holiday," hosted by well known stage, screen and recording star, Phil Brito, was launched Sunday, March 14, on WJDM-AM (1530 radio dial) and features old and new recordings of famous singers, plus intermittent and interesting chat by Brito and guests.

Joseph, (a third grader at School Three until a recent fire) was Brito's guest Sunday, and voiced his views about his former school and his new School Seven. As a result, calls flowed into the studio; not for Brito, but for the youngster, from fellow schoolmates who learned of the youngster's appearance through circulars drawn up by School Three principal, Austin McArthur, publicizing the program.

years, Bishop Joseph A. Costello, auxiliary bishop for the Newark diocese was at the chancery office in Newark when the fire began. The Bishop said, "on the way back I saw the smoke down at Montclair, and then, my heavens, when I got there and just stood there helplessly watching-it was like watching someone dying."
Bishop Costello also said the parishioners of St. Peter's have been a great source of encouragement to him since the fire. He stated, many people from the parish, who were at the scene of the fire, approached him and said, "Don't worry Bishop, we'll raise it up again."

The Bishop also said he would like to extend a tribute to the firemen and the police who were at the fire. "They were fantastic, they were marvelous," said Bishop Costello.
The pastor of St. Peter's also had praise for the children of the neighborhood and parish who have approached him on the street and volunteered to help in any way possible.

Bishop Costello acknowledged the reports that the church had been locked during the day until recently. "We had a few incidents and we reluctantly closed the church," said the Bishop. He explained the church was reopened in the day during the Lenten season to encourage the people to visit for devotions.
When the church was reopened, custodians were assigned to check it at regular intervals. On Monday, the church was checked at 3 p.m. about 15 minutes before the fire broke out, according to Bishop Costello. The custodian, who inspected the church at three, found nothing unusual.

In the immediate aftermath of St. Peter's fire, there are no formal plans for rebuilding although Bishop Costello said a meeting of the parish council had been scheduled for Wednesday night.
As far as rebuilding on the remaining structure is concerned, the Bishop said, "we're waiting, still checking these things." The Bishop elaborated that the parish would wait for official estimates on the condition of the walls and floor of St. Peter's before it decides if building a superstructure is feasible.

Bishop Costello said he had no idea on a cost estimate of the damage to St. Peter's.
In the wake of the fire, masses at St. Peter's have been moved to the school hall and the rectory meeting room.
Saturday mass will be said in the school hall at 7 p.m.
Sunday masses are scheduled in the school hall at: 6,7,8,9:30, 10:45 a.m. and 12 noon.

Weekday masses will be offered in the rectory meeting room at 6:30, 7:15, 8 and 9:00 a.m. A Saturday morning mass at 9 will also be said in the rectory meeting room.
Confessions will be heard Saturdays in the school hall from 4 to 5:30 p.m. and after the Saturday night mass until 9 p.m.
A mass for the children in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine class will be said on Sundays at 10:45 a.m. in the school cafeteria.

Commissioners lop off 25 points

Malmorian, "but you will sit here with the Commissioners and talk about reducing the budget by $600,000. I give the Board back to you all and I am going home."
The Board and the Commission postponed a final decision on the budget until Tuesday, giving Town Treasurer Francis McCoy and Board Secretary Mary Shader an opportunity to work out an agreement acceptable to both bodies.
Several members to the Board objected to the Commission's plan to reduce the budget by $590,347, a larger cut than the Board had expected.

"You wanted zero increase," said Pica Tuesday, "so why not just reduce the budget by $527,000? Here, you are asking us to reduce it even further so that you can have a three point tax reduction."
The Board also objected to part of the resolution which indicated the Board and the Commissioners had "unanimously agreed" on the reductions.
Board member Lawrence Schwarz and Board attorney Max Schwarz both pointed out "unanimous" agreement by the Schoolers might be held against them on an appeal.

Pica also requested before the meeting broke up that the Commissioners cut the budget by $527,000 and not the $590,000 proposed.
The Commissioners passed the resolution during the regular meeting, with the "unanimously agreed" phrase deleted in two sections.
The reduction of the Board's budget cuts Belleville's probable tax increase down to 47 points. Last year the taxes rose 37.
In dollars and cents, the increase means the owner of a $25,000 home in Belleville, the average median cost of a house in town, can expect his taxes to increase by $94.

The Commission's reduction of the school budget came as no surprise to the Board members, however, some objected to the further reduction to the $590,000 level. Some hinted privately the reduction was designed to impress the taxpayers.
It was also pointed out that should the state aid not come through in the amount expected, and the State Commissioner of Education had to provide the extra funds, Belleville's taxpayers would have to raise that amount next year.

Toll free loan info to homeowners

How much are you good for?

This method of borrowing has become so popular that literally tens of thousands of homeowners file applications every year.
BIG MONEY LOANS SMALL PAYMENTS
Under this method a homeowner can borrow any amount from a few hundred dollars up to $25,000 and sometimes much more. The money can be used for any purpose at all including debt consolidation, payment of taxes, medical expenses, college tuition, purchase of an automobile, new furniture, or even for business purposes. This type loan permits for long term payout, therefore payments can be as small as needed.
NO OBLIGATION
Modern Acceptance Corp. of Roselle, N.J., better known as THE MONEY STORE, with 13 offices throughout New Jersey, is making this service available free of charge, even though the caller may have no intention of borrowing. So why not find out "how much you are good to cash in on the equity for." The toll free number to call is 800-492-4031.

probably was responsible for containing the flu before it reached full epidemic proportions, contend local school officials. At one point, 12 of 83 high school staff members were out with the flu but attendance was back to normal the week following the short vacation.

Flu wreaks havoc with the sports programs each winter and this season was no exception. Herman Wische, Belleville athletic director, notes, "The flu seems to have slackened off recently but just after Christmas it seemed like everyone had it. The flu spreads very quickly in a school and the athletes pick it up easily from teammates."

For those who haven't had the flu yet this year (and haven't been vacinated) there's still a chance of contracting the virus. There's little to do to ward off influenza short of going into hibernation, explains the health department. After it hits, the best solution is to "stay away from everyone, especially the elderly and very young. Just wait for the virus to run its course."

Gallagher opens radio show

In Essex County 70% of the senior citizens 65 years and over are paying more than 35% of their income for rent. More than 63% of the renters and 38% of the homeowners in that same age group have an annual income of under $3,500 according to statistics received from the Housing Division of the State Department of Community Affairs.
"The solution to these inequities and many of the other ills which beset the Essex elderly can be found through senior citizen housing," says Director of the county Office on Aging, Bernard Gallagher. "Every municipality must give serious consideration to meeting their seniors housing needs."

Gallagher and Freeholder Reita Greenstone will speak on the issue of senior citizen housing over the West Orange radio station WFME, 94.7 FM, on Friday March 26 at 3 a.m. and 6 p.m.
They will address some of the myths attached to senior citizen housing; explain the support services available to seniors in a housing site; name the housing complexes available to senior tenants and explore some of the ways in which the average senior citizen can help to develop support in his community for senior housing.

Courageous display

No lives were lost and there were no serious injuries caused by the tragic fire at St. Peter's Monday. This is the best that can be said for the event described by St. Peter's pastor, Bishop Joseph A. Costello as "a terrible experience."

The best that could be demonstrated by the emergency was demonstrated by the Belleville Fire Department's men and the Police Department personnel who fought the blaze. Their display of prudent courage at the scene of the catastrophe was a perfect example of what Hemingway called "grace under pressure."

We salute the efforts of the firefighters and sincerely hope their talent for coping with disaster is not put to the test soon again in our community.

We wish fireman Robert Moraski a speedy recovery and extend thanks to the Newark firemen who were called to the alarm and the Bloomfield and Nutley fire crews that guarded the rest of Belleville while the St. Peter's conflagration was fought. It often takes a major emergency to awaken our awareness and appreciation for the people who serve our town in the police and fire departments. If this is true, Bellevilleites should be doubly appreciative of our men in blue. Two major fires now within 90 days should highlight the value of people who dedicate their careers to the well-being of the community.

One possible area for future study suggested by the situations of both recent fires is the capability of Belleville's fire equipment to handle major blazes. The trucks from surrounding towns might not always be available.

We wish Bishop Costello and the parishioners of St. Peter's a quick recovery from their sad loss.

We urge anyone with any information on the St. Peter or School Three fires to contact the police or fire department.

Tocks Dam deauthorization advances

By DAVID F. MOORE

There's progress toward getting Tocks Island Dam and Reservoir deauthorized by Congress and thus rendered extinct.

A bill introduced in the U.S. Senate S 3106 by Senator Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, and a duplicate of it introduced in the House of Representatives H.R. 12462 by New Jersey Congresswoman Millicent Fenwick, will do the trick, if passed by Congress and signed by President Ford.

Most people probably think Tocks Island Dam and the years of conflict it triggered are safely behind us because the Delaware River Basin Commissions last summer voted, in effect, to put it on the back burner. But it's still authorized by Congress and a change in the lineup of governors comprising the Basin Commission could bring it right back to life.

For those few who may be unfamiliar with the issues, the Basin Commission and the Army Corps of Engineers wanted the dam, and environmentalists and others preferring a natural Delaware River didn't. To be located six miles north of the Delaware Water Gap, the dam would impound a 37-mile lake reaching practically to Port Jervis, New York.

The situation is confusing because Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, land for which is 75% bought or optioned, is favored by environmentalists. It was originally conceived as essentially surrounding the artificial lake.

The Association of New Jersey Environmental Commissions (ANJEC) is pleased about the action of Senator Case and Congresswoman Fenwick last September ANJEC adopted a resolution calling upon New Jersey's Congressional delegation to support deauthorization of Tocks, completion of the recreation area and completion of land buying for the reservoir, with that section to be added to the recreation area.

The Case and Fenwick bills include all those requests. With the exception of New Jersey Senator Harrison Williams, the Case bill is co-sponsored by all the senators from the four basin states of New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New York.

Congresswoman Fenwick's bill is co-sponsored by, among others, New Jersey Congresswoman Helen Meyner, in whose district Tocks would be located, and Congressman Andrew Maguire.

In addition to damming a free-flowing river and filling a beautiful valley with a reservoir which would fluctuate in depth from day to day or season to season, the project if built would probably destroy the Delaware as a breeding place for shad. Its artificial beach-type recreation features would draw hundreds of thousands across New Jersey where they could go to a real beach more easily, and the spectre of green slime and unhealthy conditions may well be in the reservoir's future because of water enrichment by nutrient runoff from upstream.

Those are some of the arguments against the reservoir, authorized by Congress for flood control, recreation, electric generation and potable water supplies. It's been well established that all those purposes could be fulfilled in less destructive ways.

Good drivers — The members of the Belleville Association of Retired Persons recently took part in a defensive driving course, and club president Frank Wolenski (right) stands with two other graduates. The seniors held graduation ceremonies last week, and all pronounced the course valuable. They should now have finely polished driving skills, something many people could use.

Taxes and officials attacked

To the Editor:

Because of reckless and wasteful spending of taxpayers' money, and new jobs created by some Commissioners, the county and the state, all helped to create serious problems harmful to all of us. They are now demanding the people bail them out of the mess they created by paying higher taxes.

With new jobs being created, and higher taxes necessary at this point, coming at a time when most of us living on a pension or social security have our backs to the wall.

The town of Nutley, the best in the state, under the leadership of Mayor Carmen Orechio, is financially sound and it is about the same size as Belleville in area and population. Their problems, if any, are minor compared to Belleville and other communities caught in a crunch.

If we had representatives in Belleville like the Orechios, this nightmare would never happen.

Nutley has a much smaller police and fire force than Belleville, but their jobs are well done with less men.

If Belleville can't get any help from the federal government — a government that sends billions of dollars across the ocean — to help relieve the burden of the taxpayers, then it is time for our elected officials to take a good hard look at all departments, including school personnel, and begin handing out "pink slips."

That is the only solution to save "the goose that laid the golden egg" — those who paid taxes all their lives, helping others.

Most of the new laws enacted in Trenton, to bring billions of dollars in extra revenue to the cities and schools are jokes. That money goes into the general fund, and our taxes go higher and higher.

Four votes to pick 'veep'

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

Now that school Board elections were over, School Board members had a difficult time electing within their own group.

It turned out that the new Belleville Board of Education had to vote no less than four times in order to select a new vice president for the governing body.

Though Richard Mahmarian was unanimously elected as Board president, the Board cast three sets of tie votes before finally choosing Matthew Pica for the vice presidency, 4-3 over James Risoli.

Mahmarian who served four years before as president of the body, became the only choice for the position when Caesar Romano declined nomination.

Mahmarian succeeded Pica as the School Board's chief officer.

Local police raided a Belleville apartment which had been targeted as the headquarters of a million dollar a year gambling operation.

A man and his wife were prime figures in the operation, and were scheduled for a preliminary hearing stemming from three charges made as a result of the raid on their premises.

Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight said that the couple had been charged with bookmaking, conspiracy to commit bookmaking and maintaining a gambling establishment.

The Belleville Community Council elected Richard B. Morgan to the presidency of the five year old service organization.

Morgan was to replace Dr. Jack Grandfest, who had chaired the local civic council for three consecutive terms.

The doctor received a plaque honoring him for his "dedicated service" at a special dinner meeting for the occasion.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

After the harsh, cold winds that wreaked their biting sting upon the proud and happy marchers of New York's colorful St. Patrick's Day Parade (which so many of us attentively watched on TV) it was pleasant and welcome return of spring we greeted at 6:50 a.m. last Saturday morning. The sunrise brought forth a bright and resplendent sun with its warming rays which bring about the rebirth of nature's magic touch and inspires new life and hope. How good it is to be freed from the rigors of winter's frigid grasp.

As the crippling bus strike goes into its third week, we marvel at the high spirits and morale of the affected employees and their loyalty to their union leaders' instructions. There have been many instances of valor and sacrifice which could not go by unnoticed, all of which more closely cement and bond together the brotherhood, spirit and unity of the workers.

By the same token, there have been generous evidences of kindness and sympathetic concern demonstrated by local businessmen who have lent a helping hand to assuage the difficulties and hardship that have been heaped upon the strikers.

"Thanks" to the proprietor of Ron's Pub, popular Ronnie Vogler, for sending up to the striking pickets in line bags of his delicious corned beef sandwiches, all on the house.

Prosperous and well-liked Jackie Rega, who operates Jackie's Corner, delivered a truckload of wood to feed the fire used to give a degree of warmth to the chilled pickets, who, by rotation, serve around the clock. He later made available a more efficient stove that produced better heat, almost as much as the warmth and compassion as in the kind hearts of these considerate town merchants.

It is small wonder that they prosper in their respective business undertakings — they deserve to. The guys pulling picket say thanks and want to let you know that when they get a buck in their pockets, if the strike ever ends, they won't forget what you did for them and they know where you are.

It may have been a few oversights that no mention was made of Mayor Marotti and Commissioner McGreevy attended the President's Mayor conference in Washington, D.C. a short while back. However, it is quite an honor that we should be proud of, and since much of the topics considered at the conclave concerned federal revenue sharing for towns and cities, it indeed could redound to our town's advantage, because this revenue sharing helps defray the expenses of many of our essential services. That would lighten the tax load for us all.

BIC. Yea! It's a very good pen, most of us know that, but what are all these reports of Belleville BIC? Curiosity hasn't produced much in the way of anything definite, but much in the manner of those curiosity ads that spring up all over, which suggest, it's coming soon.

BIC is coming. BIC will be here soon. We just get annoyed over wondering what in hell is BIC — that is, Belleville's BIC? Anybody got any ideas what this is all about? What or who is it? What could it be for or against? Maybe it's only some silly myth, but then again, it might be for real. Sure wish I knew.

Just to put our local motorists on notice, let me remind you that starting next Thursday, April 1, the enforcement of the alternate side of the street parking for street cleaning purposes goes back into effect, following suspension for the winter.

So, even if it is April Fool's Day, big motorcycle officer Alex Freda won't be fooling around and he hasn't forgotten how to write out those unwelcome tickets, either. So, don't put the officer on the spot, get the "buggy" on the right side of the road.

Application for a license for a pool room to be operated by the Davenport Pleasure Club of 12 Heckel Street was deferred pending an investigation by the Public Safety Department.

Director Noll, of the department, recommended that an ordinance be drawn up covering rules and regulations which pool rooms would have to abide by.

One of Noll's recommendations was that the pool room should be on the ground floor with an unobstructed view from the street.

A sad, day for St. Peter's

Helpless — Hundreds of Bellevilleites stood by and helplessly watched as the church burned. Mayor Michael Marotti (center) and police officer Rocky Westpy were among the onlookers.

Thick smoke swirled around the firemen as they performed their jobs. Several of the men were hospitalized, but most were quickly released.

Reaching — for an axe to break one of St. Peter's windows, this Belleville fireman heads up a ladder on the south side of the building. It took nearly two hours to get the blaze under control.

Retreating — Belleville firemen used their extension ladders to reach the flames high in the church's ceiling, but had difficulty in controlling the blaze. After attaching a hose to the top of the ladder, this fireman headed back to earth.

Staring in awe as the church went up in flames, these youngsters and many others wandered about the cemetery surrounding the church.

More than 100 firefighters responded to the general alarm sent out. Here, several higher ranking firemen take a brief breather as they supervise the fight.

Quality of telephone better in New Jersey

The overall quality of telephone service in New Jersey was better at the end of 1975 than it was when the year began, Robert W. Kleinert, president of New Jersey Bell Telephone Company said in the company's Annual Report.

"It was a good and successful year by the standard that counts the quality of the job we do on behalf of our customers. But it wasn't an easy year," he said in the president's message in the report.

New Jersey Bell felt the effects of inflation and recession, just as everyone did. Although revenues increased by 10 percent expenses increased even more—by nearly 11.5 percent. "We had to cut back on expenses and postpone some projects," Kleinert noted. "But we did not cut back on customer service. We are especially proud of that, because, as a regulated public utility, we do not have all the options that other businesses have when the economy goes askew.

"Our public charter—not to mention our moral obligation and our sense of responsibility—requires that we provide good service in good times and bad."

Reviewing New Jersey Bell's efforts during 1975 to maintain high quality telecommunications service, Kleinert said, "We had to take extraordinary measures to offset, at least in part, the effects of inflation and receding growth rates.

"For the first time in 17 years, we found it necessary to furlough a considerable number of employees...hiring was suspended...projects were postponed...cost reduction efforts intensified...and energy consumption sharply reduced.

"But These measures were not enough to compensate for the enervating effects of recession and inflation. Nor was the moderate, though welcome, increase in rates granted us in September. Hence, late in the year, we made the hard and reluctant decision to apply for another rate increase."

The adverse reaction of certain of our customers was not unexpected, Kleinert noted. "But we hope they will come to accept and understand... (that) our expenses have increased faster than our growth in revenues; telephone rates in New Jersey are a bargain by almost any measure, and our business has been managed efficiently. We firmly believe the maintenance of a financially-sound telecommunications business in the state is essential to the progress and

Area Catholics sacrifice to ease world's hunger

Archbishop Peter L. Gerety of Newark has asked Catholic in the archdiocese to eat a "more modest" main meal each Wednesday during Lent and to contribute the monies saved to the world's hungry population.

This is a part of Operation "Rice Bowl," a special effort on the part of the American Catholic Church to alleviate hunger in this country and throughout the world.

In Operation "Rice Bowl," each Catholic family is asked to combine prayers for the hungry of the world with a weekly "sacrificial meal." The savings from the meal are kept in a household "rice bowl" until Sunday when they are brought to church and placed in a parish "rice bowl."

Most of us are born with more acute hearing than we need. Nature starts us out with the kind of hearing primitive man needed to keep alert in the presence of invisible dangers. Many people retain acute hearing through long lives, and if, in the second half of life, hearing (especially for high tones) shades off a bit, most experts agree that this is nothing to worry about. But if you have a hearing loss serious enough to be a handicap, by all means do something about it. There are at least 15,000,000 people in the United States that are hard of hearing.

Most people agree — friendly, efficient service is yours when you come to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. prosperity of New Jersey and all its citizens."

The fact that 1975 was a successful year in terms of customer service is, Kleinert said, "a tribute to the skill and dedication of telephone people at every level of the business. It affirmed again the soundness and effectiveness of the Bell System's integrated structure.

"We simply could not have served New Jerseyans as well as we did in 1975 without the invaluable of Bell Laboratories' innovative scientists...or the skills of the people of Western Electric Company...financial support and planning on the part of our parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, or without the integration of long distance switching facilities provided by its Long Lines Department."

Kleinert noted that there are those who feel that just because the Bell System is big it ought to be broken up. "Such dismantling would destroy the very things that have enabled us to bring Americans the world's finest telephone service at a price virtually everyone can afford.

"The integrated structure of the Bell System works—and works well. It by no means provides immunity from the economic problems that beset other business, or from competition." He said competition is intense and growing and he urged that consumers and their representatives in government carefully review Federal regulatory decisions that threaten "that Bell System's ability to go on providing high quality basic service at traditionally low price levels."

In concluding his message, Kleinert said, "America celebrates its 200th anniversary this year, the telephone its hundredth. It is our purpose to mark these twin celebrations by continuing to bring New Jerseyans the world's finest telephone service.

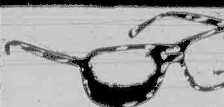

The company reported operating revenues in 1975 of $1,169,363,000. Total operating expenses were $734,548,000; total operating taxes, $230,064,000; and net income was $144,550,000. This compares with operating revenues of $1,062,121,000 in 1974. In that year, total operating expenses were $659,605,000; operating taxes, $212,865,000; and net income, $133,762,000.

Cost of construction drops. architect group reports

The cost of construction throughout the country on all levels—industrial, commercial, residential—is dropping, the New Jersey Society of Architects said today, making it cheaper to build now than ever before in more than a decade.

The reason, according to the society, is that contractors are absorbing increased material and labor costs, pressing for higher worker productivity, reducing overhead and cutting profits in an attempt to maintain their organizations and to keep working.

Taking note of the trend, Engineering News Record, a magazine of the trade, said: "Public and private owners looking to build will find plenty of bargains."

Board Schedule set

The Belleville Board of Education held its annual re-organization meeting last week, and passed a resolution setting its regular monthly meetings.

The monthly business meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the Board of Education Administrative offices, 383 Washington Avenue on the following dates, all of which are Mondays:

April 26, May 24, June 28, September 27, October 25, November 22, December 20 and January 24, 1977.

The Board also passed a resolution setting public executive sessions at 8 p.m. in the Board offices on the first, second and third Mondays of each month. If any of those dates are holidays, the Board said, the meetings will be held the following evening, Tuesday, at 8 p.m.

Bicentennial materials going to high schools

Every secondary school in New Jersey will receive special-curriculum materials on government and voter education through a grant from the New Jersey Bicentennial Commission.

Graduates of the Belleville high class of 1926 will hold their 50th anniversary reunion April 24, and these former students are trying to organize the affair. Front row, left to right, Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, Mrs. Adeline Castner, Mrs. Lillian Westcott and Kathryn Conklin. Back row, left to right, Wilfred Yudin and Walter Milward.

BHS class of '26 will hold reunion

The Belleville High School Class of 1926 is holding its 50th anniversary reunion Saturday, April 24, at 7 p.m. at the Chandelier, 338 Franklin Avenue.

All 80 seniors that graduated Belleville High that year are invited to attend, as well as underclassmen, who were students in the school at that same time.

Those interested in making reservations for the reunion dinner are asked to call Miss Kathryn Conklin at 759-1154.

Wise Owl School gets a new room

Construction of a new room has begun at Wise Owl Nursery School, giving the children much to see these days. By looking out the window they can see various pieces of machinery working to make their school bigger.

Plans for this new addition as well as a total inside renovation are expected to be completed by this fall. Children enrolled for September 1976 will be greeted by a new school inside as well as outside.

Begun in 1969 by three former public school teachers, Wise Owl has acquired an outstanding reputation. The nursery school is designed to meet the physical, emotional, and social growth of the pre-school child. The new nursery has been specifically designed for the pre-school child through the professional help of the teachers, architects, and State specialists.

Wise Owl, located at 617 Washington Ave., is dedicated to a two and one half hour pre-school program. Concentration is solely on nursery school education and in no way is the school affiliated with day care programs. Children experiment in the fields of art, music, reading, readiness, language and science. The school is purposely housed in a home like setting so children will feel comfortable with their first educational experience away from home.

Students spend part of their time in a big yard equipped with a variety of outdoor toys. Trips are also taken throughout the year to the library, fire house, park and other places of interest.

With the completion of this new room, Wise Owl will be able to accept more children who until now have been on a waiting list. Enrollment is being taken for September 1976 now. Anyone interested in a pre-school program should contact the school at 759-1211. The director, Carol Casale or the teachers, Claire Klem, Cornie Rossi or Barbara Doyle will be glad to help you.

Four sessions to examine new ways for degrees

Mary Slavitt of Millburn, coordinator of certification programs and a member of the faculty at Kean College, will be the instructor for the four-session EVE workshop, "New Ways to a College Degree" beginning Tuesday April 13, 1976 from 7-9 p.m.

The workshop will provide an orientation to college studies as well as an opportunity for each participant to examine educational plans.

Explanation of Appropriations for "Other Expenses"
The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries and Wages."
Some of the items included in "Other Expenses" are:
Material, supplies and nonbondable equipment.
Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.
Contractual services for garbage and trash removal, fire hydrant service aid to volunteer fire companies, etc.
Printing and advertising, utility services, insurance and many other items essential to the service rendered by municipal government.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT
Due to the uncertainties surrounding the determination of the Local School Tax Levy for the school year 1976-1977 and the present lack of complete information as to the ultimate County Tax requirement for 1976, the overall estimated rate for 1976 is not developed in this statement. This budget does develop the "Local" tax, which must include provision for the "Reserve for Uncollected Taxes" or the cash basis "overlay" for estimated County and School purposes as well as for town needs.
The "Local Tax for Municipal Purposes" for 1976, indicates a rate of $1.97 per $100.00 of assessed valuation, compared with $1.64 for 1975, an increase of $0.33. The 1976 rate for Veteran and Senior Citizens Tax Credits will be $0.08 per $100.00 of assessed valuation, the same as for 1975. The following table sets forth the components of the levies and rates for these "Local" purposes.

	Tax Levies		Increase	Tax Rates		Increase

The increase in the estimated tax levy for Municipal Purposes (excluding the Reserve for Uncollected Taxes) for 1976, in the sum of $716,826.12, appearing above in the comparative table of levies and tax rates, can be summarized as follows:
Net Increase in 1976 Appropriations for Municipal Purposes $596,697.50

Over 1975
Plus: Deficit of General Revenues Anticipated in 1976 over 1975 93,099.19
1975 Bank Stock Tax 27,029.43
$716,826.12

Revenues for 1976 have been anticipated at near-maximum levels of realization. Operating appropriations for 1976, after departmental hearings and Commission deliberation, have been set at minimum amount deemed adequate by each Commissioner to provide services in his or her particular area of responsibility. The increase in "Deferred Charges and Statutory Expenditures" is due primarily to increases in pension cost requirements and employee benefits and provision for an emergency declared in 1975 for retroactive police salaries.

The Board of Commissioners will be ready to answer and discuss, at the public hearing, any questions regarding items in this budget subject to its control and discretion.

Richie: exceptionally good

by MIKE LAMBERTI

Basketball is usually referred to as the tall man's sport. In fact the average height of a high school basketball player is about 6'2". But for every rule there is usually an exception. In this case the exception of this rule can be found on the Belleville varsity basketball team. The player's name is Wayne Riche and he stands five feet five inches tall. According to his coach Mr. Dan Grasso, "Wayne plays with the heart and desire of two seven footers combined."

Wayne is currently a senior at Belleville High School and has just completed his second year of varsity basketball. He is a starting guard on the team and in the opinion of the team's captain Doug Jackson he is one of the best ball handlers in the state. Wayne is hoping to go to Rutgers University in Newark upon graduation and continuing his basketball career there. The Belleville Varsity basketball team did not have a super year this season as they finished with a 2-20 record. When asked what kind of season the 75-76 season was, Wayne commented "the season was a bit of a disappointment especially with the injuries the team suffered but the team stayed together all season." Wayne also respects his coach Dan Grasso, saying that Mr. Grasso is a very good coach who is well informed about the sport. He also thinks that Mr. Grasso would be a good coach on the college level.

Wayne's determination in this sport was especially proven on the night of Dec. 29, 1975. On that date the Belleville Basketball team was scheduled to play Bogota in the first round of the Fort Lee Christmas Tournament. Early in the second quarter of that game Wayne injured his knee in a collision. He played the rest of the quarter and at half time mentioned that the knee was sore. It was examined and was temporarily taken care of. Wayne played a strong second half and led Belleville to their first win of the season as they stopped Bogota 66-60. The injury, however continued to give him pain and in the middle of January he had the knee re-examined and was then told he had water in the knee. He would have to sit out the next 2 weeks. Despite the fact that he missed three weeks, Wayne still came to all of the teams practices and learned some of the team's new plays. He came back to action when Belleville played Columbia on Jan. 2. He scored 18 points.

Wayne Riche is an all-around ball player and if he does or does not continue his basketball career at college he will always be remembered at Belleville High School as a great ball player with "the heart and desire of two seven footers combined."

'Dolly' opens soon

By JOANNE SANTIGLIA

"Hello Dolly" with its opening less than two weeks away seems to be steadily progressing along the road to eventual success. The cast has been engaged in a diligent routine of rehearsing four days a week, including all-day Saturday.

Mr. Robert Leffebine, director, Miss Jean DeLanno, assistant director, Mrs. Marilyn McGrath, choreographer and Mr. Jeff Stone and Miss Jane Izzo, music director, both graduates of Belleville High School, helping on the set design, respectively, have willingly given their time and effort along with some others to aid in the production.

The work crew, made up strictly of volunteers, has been regularly available six days a week for "work call" with the purpose of building flats and scenery.

Mr. Leffebine is, of course, slightly anxious about his production. When asked his feelings on the production's success he said, "Because of the complexity of the show, the pre-production pressures have seemed greater than in the past, especially since the effectiveness of the production lies predominantly through the use of dialogue. Yet I am confident that the finished product will be the very best we can offer."

Those in charge are all in agreement that the cast and volunteers are displaying as much enthusiasm as there could possibly be and as much as they have ever seen, in every aspect of the upcoming production.

Many performers are on the work crew who along with other volunteers strive together to make both tasks blend well in a true spirit of cooperation.

Mrs. Marilyn McGrath, choreographer for the production and in charge of the show's twenty four dancers, summed up the enthusiastic anticipation of the shows opening when she said, "It's terrific to see students devoting their time, talent and energy to so worthwhile a production as this play. I'm sure their spirit and excitement will be responsible for the very successful presentation of "Hello Dolly".

It seems that through the enthusiasm of the cast and crew and the unselfish effort of all the adults involved, "Hello Dolly" will have ultimate and eagerly received success.

Italian ski trip: a roaring success

By DENISE FRANZ

Sunbathing in the snow of the Italian Alps? Yes, that is what 21 people from Belleville did during the school's mid-February vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Giuffrida and Mr. Ted Hahula acting as chaperons for the 17 students, who went.

The trip took them from Boston to Switzerland, where they rode a bus to Chamonix, France, then followed the Mt. Blanc Tunnel south to Italy.

Once in Italy, the group settled in an ultra-modern hotel in Cervinia. Fashioned in the tradition of the Swiss Alps, Cervinia is a small, yet modern town.

Most of the groups' time was spent on skiing. There was a large selection of trails from which to choose, and they conveniently began in front of the hotel. Some of the trails were located 14,000 feet above sea level and took as long as 2 hours to complete. The group would stop half way down the mountain, still above the clouds, sunbathe and eat lunch. Nightlife was provided by several discotheques which played mainly American music. However, after an exhausting day of skiing, the 17 BHS'ers occasionally passed it up.

The majority of the towns people spoke their native Italian, but some spoke French and German. Many of the students and chaperons spoke enough of the language to get by.

Originally, it was planned that the group would ski from their location to Zermatt, Switzerland. However, conditions were not good enough and the plan was abandoned.

Two students study track team talent

By ROSS SHERMAN

Men's track

March marked the beginning of the 1976 track season. As expected, there was a large turnout for the first practice. Between 40 and 50 boys and girls were out on the track preparing for the upcoming season. Especially pleasing was the turnout of underclassmen to the team. Though graduation ceremonies this June will leave many vacancies in the squad, there will still be quite a few replacements which will please Coach Richard Ruffalo somewhat.

This year unlike last, Mr. Ruffalo has decided to let the team vote, for two captains. Last year, the coach chose the lead leaders himself. This year there will be captains chosen for the running events and the field events such as the shot put, discus, and pole vault. In order to be a captain, the candidate must be a returning letter winner. The election for captains took place on March 9th. They are Vito Guarino in the field events and Nelson Seda as captain of the runners. These two people were chosen according to their qualifications and will provide excellent leadership for the remainder of the year.

Assisting Coach Ruffalo are Mr. Jon Semcer the man responsible in training the shot put and discus men. Since it is necessary to learn the proper form and techniques involved in throwing either the shot or discus, if one is to excel, it is Mr. Semcer's job to go over the techniques step by step until perfected. A great help to Coach Ruffalo is the fact that there is a growth of interest in track and field at the freshman level. The man responsible for this growth is Mr. Michael Pollard, the Freshman coach. Since Belleville High School is a three year school, whatever points are scored by a freshman in a varsity meet are not counted. However the experience gained by a freshman involved in varsity competition is valuable.

The team will have its first meet April in Nutley. Since most teams in this area have an indoor program, Belleville is at a disadvantage since these teams have had more time to get in-shape for the spring. However, with some hard work and much desire, Belleville can and should have a team which is the equal or better of any team in the area.

Women's team

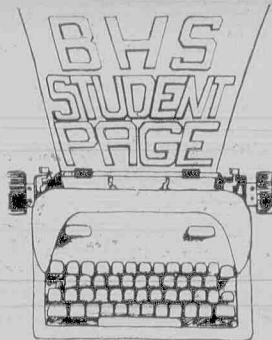

By LISA HAYES

Spring is on its way and with spring comes many sports, track among them. Each year, new faces are seen and every year more and more of those new faces belong to girls.

What attracts a girl to track? Is it the freedom of running, the hunger for competition, or a way of proving equality among the sexes? Perhaps because Americans live in a society where woman's lib is a household word, the girls are attracted to formerly male sport of running.

It is very evident the girls are serious about their running. At the end of track season instead of hanging their spikes up in the back of the closet until the next season, there are some girls who continue running on a daily basis. The girls are not joking when they join.

There are nine girls on 75-76 BHS track squad. They are: Susan Smith, Jill Harris, Debbie Scheder, Patricia Connelly, Laurie Clark, Marygrace Valentinsson, Lorraine Romano, Patti Gudaitis and Barbara Stefanczyk. Coach Richard Ruffalo doesn't mind having girls on the squad, but he believes the girls should have their own team. He feels it isn't fair to the girls to have to compete with boys. Susan Smith agrees with her coaches philosophy. "It is very discouraging to run against boys who may be more athletic than yourself."

"American Sampler" debuts April 10 at Franklin School

The Historic Restoration Trust and the Nutley Parks and Recreation will sponsor the Pusheart Players in their Bicentennial play "American Sampler" April 10, 2:00 p.m. at the Franklin School, Franklin Avenue, Nutley. Proceeds from the $1.50 tickets will go toward the renovation of the Kingsland Manor, Kingsland Street, Nutley.

"American Sampler" is an original play for young audiences written by Carole Wechter, Ruth Fost, Gretchen Johnson with choreography by Colley Ballou. The play is a musical journey through our American past via authentic folksongs, the songs telling the story, and are stitched together with colorful scenes from the various significant time periods which contributed to the growth and development of our country. The fabric of the play is woven by the simple folk whose hard work, bright ideas, pleasures and pains helped bring about the America we know and enjoy today.

The past performances of the Pusheart Players, "Three Apples Fell From Heaven" and "The Lightest Baggage of All" were enthusiastically received by children and their parents when presented last year.

Tickets are available through Nutley Parks and Recreation and will be sold at the door. Discount tickets are available for groups of 15 or more. For further information on reservations call 661-4923.

Jolly Cleaners owner attended seminar on cleaning process

Arthur Jackson, owner of Jolly Cleaners, 300 Washington Avenue, Belleville, and his son, Bruce, manager and vice president of the 20 year old firm, recently returned from a two-day seminar in Cleveland, where they became licensed to sell a new drapery cleaning process, MASTERCARE.

MASTERCARE is an innovative process whereby cleaning of drapes where they hang may be done on the premises of any establishment. At the same time, the drapes may be flameproofed, which is an essential element in any public meeting place. The chemical propensity of MASTERCARE has met the most stringent state fire laws, California Code-76.

Jolly Cleaners started as a garment cleaning firm in 1955. Both Jackson and his son have received technical training at the International Fabricare Institute of which they are members. In 1970, Jolly added a new drapery cleaning service, Aduust-A-Drape, a 12-1/2' high machine which guarantees exact length, even hemlines and offers perfect alignment in the decorator fold of drapes.

Jackson said: "In my 40 years as a dry-cleaning technician, never has so innovative a service been offered as MASTERCARE." The MASTERCARE process of cleaning drapes where they hang offers a time-saving propensity for public establishments, as well as homeowners.

Arthur Jackson was Charter President of The Belleville Chamber of Commerce and still finds time to serve as a member of the North Caldwell Boy Scout Committee where he served as Scoutmaster for ten years.

BHS oarsmen will open April 3

By JOSEPH RYAN

It takes a dedicated athlete.

Crew is a demanding sport with little glory in it. The Bellboy recruits to the team start practice six weeks before a relatively short season. It is the middle of the winter when try-outs begin and to survive, all a rower has to do is row a cold 15 to 20 miles a day while remaining academically qualified.

Crew coach Sam Giuffrida believes that Belleville has many such dedicated athletes and his oarsmen's dedication may result in a very good season.

The need for experience is emphasized by the young average age of this year's varsity eight crew. Two sophomores, Doug Dorval and Joe Donnamaria are joining the varsity eight along with juniors Paul Denning, Paul Melchionne, and returning letterman Rich Budrick.

Seniors rounding out the varsity boat include Donald Paterno, and coxswain Mike O'Connor who are rowing with lettermen Mike Davis and Mike Barbone.

Keith Waddell, a member of last year's varsity shell, is out at at the beginning of this year's river season due to a separated shoulder incurred during the wrestling season.

Giuffrida calls this season's varsity eight, "one of the biggest crews I've had and one of the youngest." The Blue-Gold first boat averages six feet one inch in height and 180 pounds for each rower. It is the ideal type crew, according to Giuffrida, "the long, slender, lanky type."

The dual meet record for last spring's Bellboy crew was 5-2 with a group that improved as the season went on into the regatta meets. Giuffrida again plans to enter a senior four boat composed of members of the varsity eight crew in the regatta meets like he did last year's Stotesbury and Princeton meets.

"We certainly have to be considered on a national level for the senior four," said Giuffrida.

The Bellboys of the Passaic will be

Cindermen are strong

For fourteen years the track record for the Belleville cindermen was bleak. Then, last year's Blue-Gold track team put together an 8-6 dual meet record that was the first winning season for track and field at BHS in fifteen years.

This year the runners and jumpers will test their old habits against their newly found winning ways by attempting to win most of their meets for the second consecutive year. No one is quite sure when this last happened to a Belleville track team.

This is also the second year as coach for Rich Ruffalo and he expects the prospects for the team are at least equal to last year's winners. According to Ruffalo, "if the desire is there, they can definitely have back to back winning seasons."

Ruffalo says that the team has a solid core of returning lettermen but the lack of depth could hurt the team. Four meets that were lost last season were lost by a total of 27 points, a close margin that could have been overcome if the Blue-Gold just had more people on the field competing for the school.

A rejuvenation of the track facilities at BHS is currently underway and Ruffalo hopes that the improvements made by the recreation department will draw a larger field of track recruits in the future.

The track renovations include the moving of the high jump and pole vault area to the football field. In the past the long jump was under water for part of the season in a swampy area. The cinder track is also being resurfaced as a part of the improvements and coach Ruffalo is hoping for an all-weather track in the future.

The Bellboys still lag behind in some areas of facilities however. The school is one of only two in the Big Ten that do not compete in indoor track and Ruffalo misses the chance for his team to run during the winter and meet the competition.

The opportunity to compete against the most schools and the best in the area is also denied by the policy of not permitting the team to enter Saturday invitational meets. Ruffalo hopes that the success of the Belleville cindermen and their hard work will prompt the allocation of funds needed for the invitational meets.

Blue-Gold cindermen returning in the effort to continue the victory trend include: quarter miler Jerry Hykey, half-miler Keith Allum, miler and co-captain Nelson Seda, and two-miler Doug Wamsley.

Seniors Nick Semaca and Mark Romanell will be jumping the 120 high hurdle event and Jim Del Guerchio will handle the sprint chores.

Co-captain Vito Guarino is putting the shot and Ruffalo is looking for Guarino to go over 50 feet in the shot putt event this year.

The discus will be hurled by Robert Feldman and Fran Morel, who is also competing in the long jump and pole vault event. Doug Jackson is the Blue-Gold entry in the high jump and according to Ruffalo is a prospect to clear six feet this year.

Casual observers of the Belleville track team this year will notice cinderpersons on the field. Girls are on the team this year and coach Ruffalo says he hopes that their initiative will lead to a girls Blue-Gold track contingent. Ruffalo says the establishment of a girls team will enable them to compete at their own level and expand the sports program at BHS rather than curtail it.

Ruffalo calls track a sport that doesn't hurt you but helps you. His philosophy of fielding a team abides by the maxim, "it you practice you run." His Bellboy and Bellgirl team will be

Rec hardwooders compete in playoffs

Chandelier has upset previously unbeaten Bellevue Tool to win the Recreation Department's senior league basketball playoffs.

The Chandelier team took the title by outlasting the Toolers through two overtime periods to win by a hair, 47-46.

The margin between the two teams was never more than four points. John Hurko scored ten of his 18 points in the fourth quarter to fire the Chandeliers over Bellevue and lead his team's scoring. Chandelier playmaker, Greg Petite hit for 12 points before fouling out in the last quarter.

Fran Morel scored the winning basket with 13 seconds remaining in the last overtime to clinch the victory for Chandelier.

Bellevue's Chipper Biafore was the game's high scorer racking up 20 points in the losing effort.

Bellevue had a one-and-one foul shot opportunity in the final two seconds but missed the shot and lost the championship.

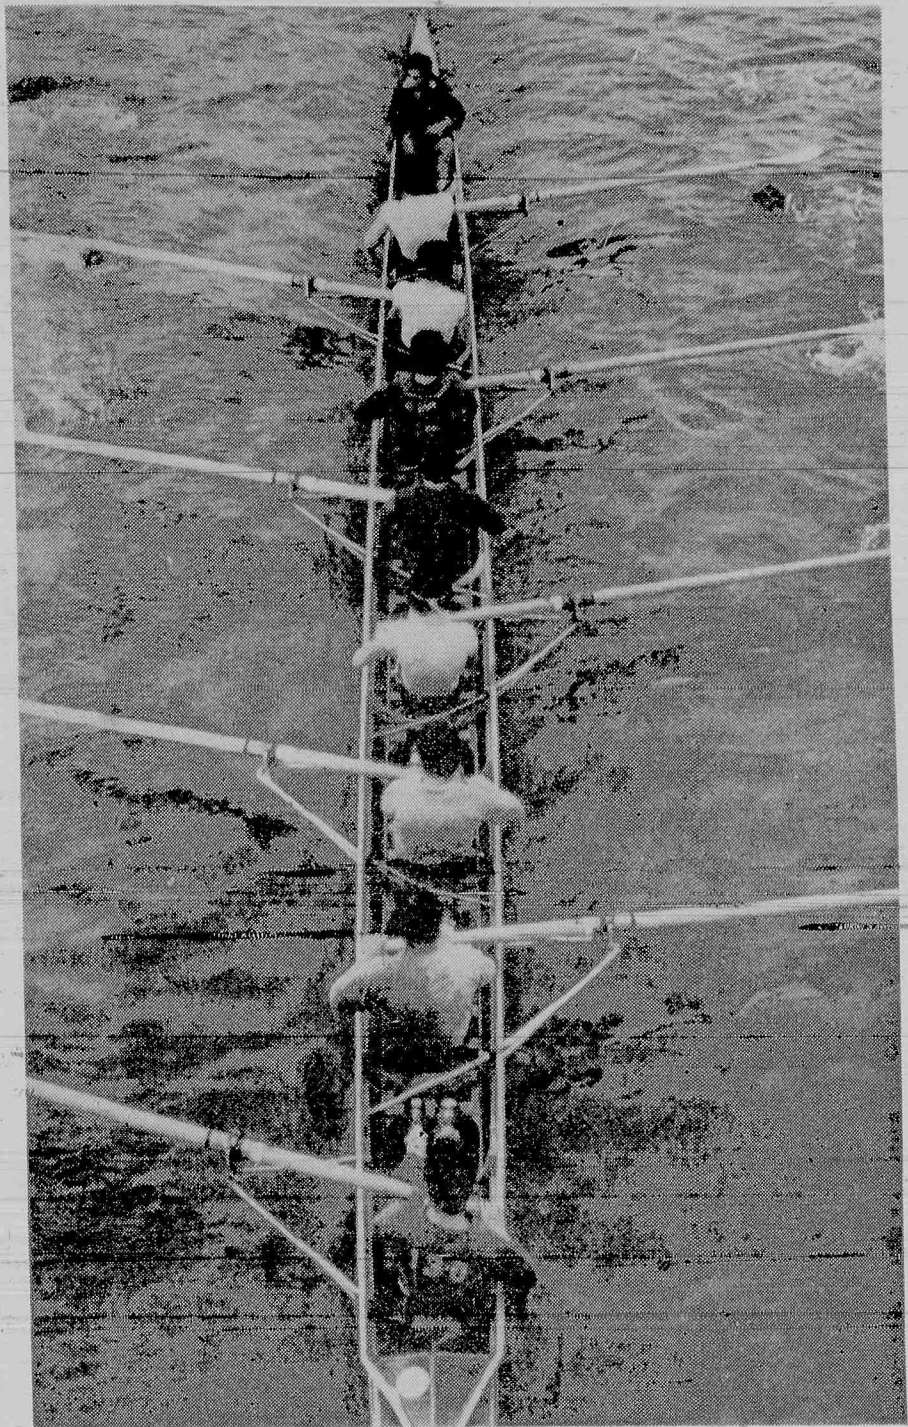

Smith swipes NCAA title

Brian Smith, a Belleville resident and a senior at Columbia University, won the National Collegiate Athletic Association sabre championship last week at the University of Pennsylvania.

Smith took the crown by defeating the defending champion, Yuri Rabinovich of Wayne State, 5-3, in the finals.

A graduate of Essex Catholic High School, Smith posted what a spokesman for Columbia University described as an outstanding year on the way to his national victory. In dual meets Smith compiled a 27-6 record and scored a 17-3 win in the Intercollegiate Fencing Association meet, taking the individual title with a 7-1 score in the final round.

Sabre champion Smith won his national title in the first NCAA championship meet he attended.

Rollin' on the river

The Bellboy crew team has been out cruising on the Passaic since the end of February in preparation for the opening meet against Kearny on April 3. Above, the jayvee shell slices through the water under the Rutgers Street bridge. Coach Sam Giuffrida points out the rigors of preparing for a river season and indicates there's no smooth sailing for aspiring rowers. Below, Sam Fusaro and Guy Westpy exhibit the mixed emotions of a long day of practice at the oars.

Bellgirls to meet Campers in opener

The Bellgirl softball team will challenge Irvington in the opening game of the season on April 2, 3:45 p.m. at Clearman Field.

Eve Lautenschlager, in her third year as coach, forsee a good season for the diamonddeers once the games begin.

With only four starting players from last year's squad back on this spring's team, Lautenschlager is looking for her new ballplayers to accumulate game time to sharpen their skills.

"They need playing time, they don't react as fast as they should," said Lautenschlager.

There are no returning pitchers on the Blue-Gold softball staff this year but coach Lautenschlager says that four girls have pitched with enough consistency in practice to qualify for mound duty.

Senior Sharon Brady, sophomores Joann Corsi and Karin Sciacca, sophomores on the hurling staff will be joined by Toni Sperduto, a freshman.

This is the first year that frosh have been permitted to compete on the regular girls softball team, so with Sperduto from the class of '79 will be Denise Zarra, Leslie Zehr, Cheryl Thomas, and Cathy Kokas.

The returning diamond Bellgirls from last year's 12-9 team will include seniors, Carol Lelio and Ginger Pitaccio, and juniors, Lydia D'Amato and Marita Hockstuh. Janice Monahan and pitcher Brady are the first year seniors for the Blue-Gold.

The juniors on the basepaths will be Lisa Vitiello, Maria Lepore, Phyllis Longo, Terry Tatoli and Michelle Tramutola.

Soph pitchers Corsi and Scicca will take the field with classmates Joann Conte, Michelle Lelio, Michelle Giordano, and Paula Angelino.

While the playing facilities could be better—Clearman Field is still very rough and littered with debris—the Bellgirls are out daily getting in shape for possibly the second winning season in a row. Coach Lautenschlager expects Kearny to be the toughest opposing team in the Big Ten and expects her Bellgirl ballplayers to improve as the season progresses.

Domenick brothers flash to high finishes

With top points scored by Anthony Domenick and Angelo Domenick, Montclair YMCA swimmers trounced the opposition to win the championship trophy at the YMCA Middle Atlantic Region Northern District Championships Saturday at Bergen Community College.

Trailing the Marlins' 194 tally were Fanwood-Scotch Plains YMCA, 109, and Somerset Hills YMCA, 107. Twenty-two Y teams competed.

Anthony Domenick displayed his power and versatility as he earned two gold medals. He easily outdistanced the competition in both the 13-14 200 yard individual medley (all four strokes), posting 2:11.225, and the 100 yard backstroke, clocking 1:00.79. Domenick additionally powered the butterfly leg for the third-place 200 yard medley relay, which combined to clock 1:52.65.

Angelo Domenick, racing in the 10-and-under age group, earned a silver medal in the 50 yard butterfly when he touched second in 32.024. He was a sixth-place finisher in the 50 yard backstroke, timed at 36.454.

The Marlins, coached by Joe Slowinski and Bob Domenick, qualified a total of 25 swimmers, including the Domenick brothers, for the final championship competition in York, Pa., this weekend. There they will compete against top qualifiers from southern New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware.

off and running at their first dual meet April 1 against Nutley. Today, weather permitting, the team will end the pre-season practices with the traditional Blue-Gold intra-squad meet at 3:45 p. m. at the newly improved BHS track.

Tremel honored January athlete

The Optimist Club of Belleville announced last week that Chris Tremel of the BHS wrestling team was picked for the Athlete of the Month Award for January.

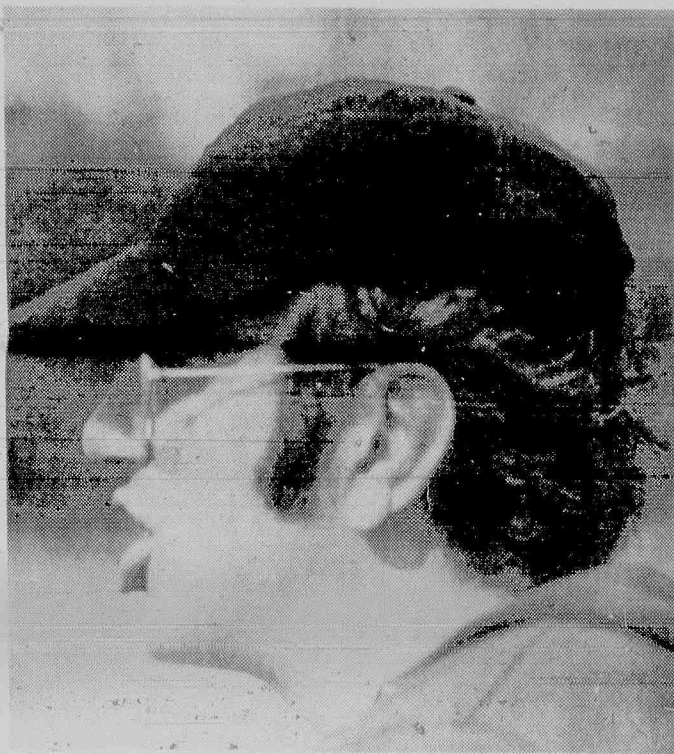

Tremel, a 158-pound grappler, won the Christmas and Essex County Coaches tournaments in addition to placing first in district competition. Tremel was also a prime candidate for regional and state honors until he was injured during the regional meet.

A spokesman for the Optimists called Tremel "a clutch performer always pulling through for the team and for Belleville High School."

The local Optimist club presents the award monthly to an outstanding Belleville High School athlete who has demonstrated athletic and leadership qualities.

getting the government to take the cost." The Army Corps of Engineers is responsible for the dredging of the river channel and Gualliridda hopes that the Army can be persuaded to cooperate in a community project for the benefit of all the schools that use the dock. Come high tide or low, the Bellboy crew season will begin in a dual meet against Kearny on April 3. Giuffrida says that Kearny is always a tight race but he has hopes for his oarsmen, especially his lanky and young varsity eight.

Sam's song —“Get the blade fully unfeathered before you go! Control your hands. Don’t lean to port, Louie!” Crew coach Sam Giuffrida calls to the oarsmen in the third Blue-Gold shell, telling each rower how to improve his technique. Contrary to popular belief, Giuffrida never yells “stroke, stroke!”

BHS students visit FDU conference

By SAL TAIBI

Mr. Tom Testa and his physics classes recently spent a fascinating day at Fairleigh Dickinson University for the Winter Physics Conference.

Along with Mr. Testa, 35 students arrived at the university at 9:00 a.m. for registration and coffee. From 10:00 to 12:00, all attended a general session that consisted of three lectures. The first lecture was entitled "A Solar Energy Collector," the second "Superconductivity," and the third "Far Infrared Spectroscopy."

At 12:15, the group broke for lunch and returned at 1:30 for a split program. The first session lasted until 2:30 and the second lasted from 2:45 to 3:45. The students chose two of three lectures entitled "Inquiry Techniques in High School," "Similarities All Over the Place," and "Advanced Placement—Its Worth?" and attended one during each session.

The lectures included experiments and demonstrations on topics including sound, optics, fluids, lasers, and electronics.

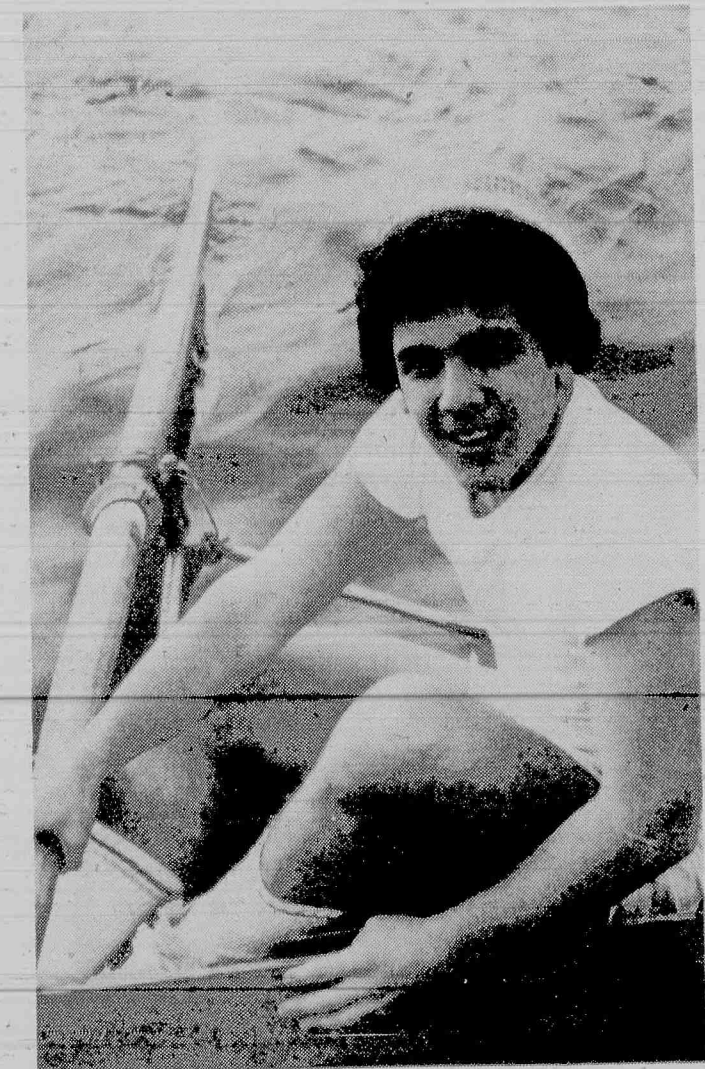

Tom Coughlin, a senior that attended the conference, felt that "some of the lectures became very technical, but it was a very interesting experience."

Philosophy — A sports philosopher has posted this reminder in the third shell of the Blue-Gold crew team. Do it Now is the best way to make progress towards doing it better later.

Cruising — The BHS oarsmen have been spending many long days of the Passaic River smoothing out their technique. This crewman is working hard to be ready for the team's opening race against Kearny April 3.

Why is this man smiling? It takes a special kind of athlete to spend an inordinate amount of time out on the Passaic River. This man obviously has found some joy in the pursuit of the perfection of his powers.

All 5% interest rates are not created equal.

Although these four savings accounts all give a 5% interest rate, they each earn different amounts of money. Because they each compute the interest differently, Midlantic Bank computes its 5% interest using the "Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal" method. As you can see, this is the one that earns the most money for you.

Another advantage of our 5% savings plan is that it doesn't require a passbook. Instead, you receive a statement in the mail every three months that shows you everything a passbook would.

Come in and we'll be glad to assist you in opening a 5% Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal Savings Account and answer any questions you may have on why our 5% interest rate is just a little more equal than some other banks' 5% interest rate.

A.F. Colannino honored

Andrew F. Colannino, Jr., vice president of Modern Millwork and Supply Company Custom Kitchens, 624 Washington Avenue, was named "Contractor of the Year" at the National Remodelers Association's 34th annual National Home Improvement and Remodeling Exposition held recently at the New York Hilton.

Colannino, selected from nationwide entries, received the coveted award for his activities in enhancing the image of today's contractor by maintaining a high level of professional competence and expertise, and also by his involvement in the community and trade organizations.

Modern Millwork, in the remodeling business in Belleville for thirty years, was founded by Andrew F. Colannino, Sr., and specializes in custom designed kitchens and interiors. The firm also serves as a dealer for most major appliances and floorings.

Colannino, who joined the firm after graduation from Bloomfield College, is president of the National Remodelers Association of New Jersey, serving his second term in that capacity. He is vice president of the Belleville Lions Club, a member of the Board of Directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, and serves on the Buildings and Grounds Committee of Holy Family Parish Council.

The National Remodelers Association is a national trade association, representing remodeling contractors in all parts of the country. The award given to Colannino is offered each year, by the association, to the contractor who has contributed the most to the image of the industry during the entire year.

Colannino lives in Belleville with his wife and two sons.

Disco night ready at YMHA Saturday

The Alliance of Jewish Student Organizations will hold a Disco II Night this Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the YM-YWHA, 760 Northfield Avenue, West Orange.

Co-sponsors are the Jewish Student Unions of Montclair State, Rutgers Newark, New Jersey Institute of Technology, Upsala and Drew, the Jewish Student Association of William Paterson, and the Jewish Student Organizations of Kearny and Union College.

Seton Hall's Chorale at YMHA this Sunday

The Seton Hall University Chorale will be appearing with the Metropolitan Y Orchestra at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey in a concert honoring Jewish Music Month this Sunday at 3. Carmel Zori, a young Israel violinist praised by both Isaac Stern and Alexander Schneider will be the guest soloist.

The community is invited to attend the performance and also a reception for the artists immediately following.

The Seton Hall Chorale, conducted by DaCosta Dawson, has over 40 members. At the Y, they will be performing four excerpts from The Creation by Haydn.

Miss Zori will play the Violin Concerto No. 1 in G Minor by Max Bruch.

Other works being performed are Bravos for Benny, a tribute to Jack Benny, by Newell Long and the Romeo and Juliet Overture - Fantasy by Tchaikovsky.

Michael Bartos conducts the 70 member Metropolitan Y Orchestra. Since last fall's concert was a sell out, it is suggested that tickets be purchased as soon as possible.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

The North Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens will be having its first annual assembly on Saturday, April 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Montclair State College. All registered senior groups are urged to send representatives. Issues for action will be discussed, and election of officers will take place.

This is an active senior citizens organization that has taken part in the recent Public Utilities Commission hearings in an effort to keep utilities' rates from getting above the affordable level.

Commissioner Strumolo has announced his health office is open for eye examinations every Monday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. There will be a doctor in attendance. An appointment is necessary for this service.

The Park News has announced the Pan American Circus will take place this year at the South Mountain Arena. Special rates for seniors are $2 per ticket. Senior groups take note, the date is May 3 at 1 p.m. Order your tickets early by calling 731-0551 or 482-0102.

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club held a St. Patrick's Day party and opening celebration at Parillo's on March 17. It was well attended by happy members, plus Mayor Marotti and Commissioners Strumolo and McGreevy. The other Commissioners sent their regrets, since they had other commitments.

To all members of the Belleville Retired Men's Club, don't forget the 20th anniversary luncheon on April 7.

obituaries

Rose M. Sorrentino, 75

Funeral mass was held March 19 in St. Peter's Church for Rose M. Sorrentino, 75, who died March 16 in Clara Maass Hospital.

Mrs. Sorrentino, who was born in Newark, lived in Nutley before moving to Belleville 50 years ago. She was predeceased by her husband, Anthony J., and is survived by one son, Vincent A. of Belleville; one brother, Al Caputo of Long Island; two sisters, Mrs. Silvio (Clara) Benecchi of Lyndhurst and Mrs. Cornelia Frichione of Fort Lee and six grandchildren.

Carmine Vitiello

Funeral mass was said March 5 in St. Anthony's Church, for Carmine Vitiello, a former Belleville resident, who died March 2.

Mr. Vitiello, a resident of Point Pleasant, was predeceased by his wife, Josephine, and is survived by two sons, Daniel of Point Pleasant and Armand of South Plainfield; three brothers, Jerard Vitiello of Nutley, John of Bloomfield, and Nick of Utica, N.Y.; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Holy Redeemer Cemetery, South Plainfield, after a funeral from the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

band, Anthony J., and is survived by one son, Vincent A. of Belleville; one brother, Al Caputo of Long Island; two sisters, Mrs. Silvio (Clara) Benecchi of Lyndhurst and Mrs. Cornelia Frichione of Fort Lee and six grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Kiernan Funeral Home, followed by burial in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

Patrick J. Cahill

Funeral mass was held in Holy Family Church, Nutley, March 4 for Patrick J. Cahill, who died February 29.

Mr. Cahill was predeceased by his wife, Mary C., and is survived by one son, John D. Cahill, of Belleville; one daughter, Miss Patricia Cahill of Nutley; one sister, Mrs. Dorothy Lyman of Brick Town, and three grandchildren.

Burial took place in Glendale Cemetery, Bloomfield, following the funeral from the Landolfi Home for Funerals.

Steven Michael Treamont

Funeral services were held March 19 for Steven Michael Treamont, 30, who died suddenly in New York City, March 15.

Mrs. Abbosso, 93

Funeral mass was said March 20 in St. Anthony's Church for Mrs. Domenica Abbosso, 93, who died Wednesday at her home.

Mrs. Abbosso, who was born in Italy lived in Belleville for 88 years.

The Azro Funeral Home, Bloomfield, took charge of the funeral arrangements.

Born in Newark, Mr. Treamont lived in Belleville much of his life. He was self-employed, working as a freelance artist, and resided Julia Treamont of Belleville; a brother, Gary, of Belleville; and two sisters, Barbara Baron of Lyndhurst and Patricia Lawton of Howell.

The Rev. Paul Z. Ruter of the Dutch Reform Church of Belleville officiated at services held at the Irvine-Cozzarelli Memorial Home.

Quality of Telephone Better in New Jersey

The overall quality of telephone service in New Jersey was better at the end of 1975 than it was when the year began, Robert W. Kleinert, president of New Jersey Bell Telephone Company said in the company's Annual Report.

"It was a good and successful year by the standard that counts the most: the quality of the job we do on behalf of our customers. But it wasn't an easy year," he said in the president's message in the report.

New Jersey Bell felt the effects of inflation and recession, just as everyone did. Although revenues increased by 10 percent expenses increased even more—by nearly 11.5 percent. "We had to cut back on expenses and postpone some projects," Kleinert noted. "But we did not cut back on customer service. We are especially proud of that, because, as a regulated public utility, we do not have all the options that other businesses have when the economy goes askew.

"Our public charter—not to mention our moral obligation and our sense of responsibility—requires that we provide good service in good times and bad."

Reviewing New Jersey Bell's efforts during 1975 to maintain high quality telecommunications service, Kleinert said, "We had to take extraordinary measures to offset, at least in part, the effects of inflation and receding growth rates.

"For the first time in 17 years, we found it necessary to furlough a considerable number of employees...hiring was suspended...projects were postponed...cost reduction efforts intensified...and energy consumption sharply reduced.

"But these measures were not enough to compensate for the enervating effects of recession and inflation. Nor was the moderate, though welcome, increase in rates granted us in September. Hence, late in the year, we made the hard and reluctant decision to apply for another rate increase."

The adverse reaction of certain of our customers was not unexpected, Kleinert noted. "But we hope they will come to accept and understand... (that) our expenses have increased faster than our growth in revenues; telephone rates in New Jersey are a bargain by almost any measure, and our business has been managed efficiently. We firmly believe the maintenance of a financially-sound telecommunications business in the state is essential to the progress and prosperity of New Jersey and all its citizens."

The fact that 1975 was a successful year in terms of customer service is, Kleinert said, "a tribute to the skill and dedication of telephone people at every level of the business.

"We simply could not have served New Jerseyans as well as we did in 1975 without the invaluable of Bell Laboratories' innovative scientists...or the skills of the people of Western Electric Company...financial support and planning on the part of our parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, or without the integration of long distance switching facilities provided by its Long Lines Department."

Kleinert noted that there are those who feel that just because the Bell System is big it ought to be broken up. "Such dismantling would destroy the very things that have enabled us to bring Americans the world's finest telephone service at a price virtually everyone can afford.

"The integrated structure of the Bell System works—and works well. It by no means provides immunity from the economic problems that beset other business, or from competition." He said competition is intense and growing and he urged that consumers and their representatives in government carefully review Federal regulatory decisions that threaten "that Bell System's ability to go on providing high quality basic service at traditionally low price levels."

In concluding his message, Kleinert said, "America celebrates its 200th anniversary this year, the telephone its hundredth. It is our purpose to mark these twin celebrations by continuing to bring New Jerseyans the world's finest telephone service.

The company reported operating revenues in 1975 of $1,169,363,000. Total operating expenses were $734,548,000; total operating taxes, $230,064,000; and net income was $144,550,000. This compares with operating revenues of $1,062,121,000 in 1974. In that year, total operating expenses were $659,605,000; operating taxes, $212,865,000; and net income, $133,762,000.

New officers elected by Belleville Elks

New officers for Belleville Lodge 1123, B.P.O. Elks, for 1976-77 include: Warren Natusch, Exalted Ruler; Raymond Mac Donald, Esteemed Leading Knight; Albert Murphy, Esteemed Loyal Knight; Vincent Mirra, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; Fred Hagin, Secretary; Thomas Goldrick, Treasurer; James Taylor, Tiler, and James Salmon, August Mitschke and Donald Grewcock, Trustees.

Installation of officers will be held Friday, April 2, at 8:30 p.m. at the lodge home, 254 Washington Avenue.

August Mitschke, Past Exalted Ruler of the Belleville Lodge has been elected Vice President of the Elks District 11 by a unanimous vote of all the exalted rulers, present and past, in the district, at the Irvington Lodge 1245. Attending that function were Mac Donald, Hagin and Walter Fink, from the local lodge.

Exalted Ruler Raymond and Marie Mac Donald; August and Judy Mitschke, Warren Natusch, Fred and Lee Hagin and Vincent and Pearl Mirra attended the Vice President's dinner-dance at the Irvington Lodge. In the meanwhile, during the same evening, Steve and Evelyn Frank attended functions at the Nutley Lodge 1290 and Kearny Lodge 1050.

Mac Donald and Frank attended the Elks Quarterly State Meeting at Union Lodge 1583, and Nitschke and Frank attended the Crippled Childrens Committee Meeting at the Harrison-East Newark Lodge 2326.

Locals open in Newark

Cilque Brown, 22 Cortlandt Street, president of the New Horizons Social Club, will present the club's spring entertainment, "Typical Day in Puerto Rico," tomorrow evening at Old Pere's East, Newark.

Brown, who directs the show, is affiliated with Black Beauty Modeling Agency, and the Ernie and Johnnie Martinelli Theatrical Agency, both New York.

Other in the cast include Judith

Wells, 29 Belleville Avenue, Margo Carey, 133 Main Street, and Eugene Harvey, 10 Quinton Street.

A newcomer, Shirley Harris, a Cilque Brown Model, currently with the Negro Ensemble Company, New York, will also be featured.

Invited guests include William Boone of the First National State Bank, lawyers from the State of New Jersey Public Defenders Office, and Newark Mayor Kenneth A. Gibson.

Playhouse presents 'Charlie Brown'

Family Playhouse, 28 Brookline Ave., Nutley, will bring up the curtain April 2 at 8 p.m. on the delightful, funny and imaginative musical "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown". From Nutley Bob Molloy will be playing Charlie Brown. Molloy was last seen at Family Playhouse in our most recent production of "The Fantasticks" and was seen earlier in the year as Ben Franklin in "1776". Last season Mr. Molloy played Captain Von Trapp in our production of "The Sound of Music".

Jim Alden of Nutley will be taking the role of Schroeder the concert pianist and the apple of Lucy's eye. Alden is currently studying voice with Donna Schutz of Montclair. He is a student of Middlesex County College. He was last seen at Family Playhouse as Robert Livingston in "1776". He is currently touring with the Half Penny Playhouse as Caesar Rodney in "1776". Mr. Alden is repeating his role in Charlie Brown as Schroeder. He played the part for the Nutley High School Drama Department.

Vicki Guarino of Nutley will be playing Patty, Lucy's little friend. Ms. Guarino is making her comeback at Family Playhouse. She was last seen over a year ago in "Funny Girl" and played the role of Fanny Brice. She has also been seen in numerous productions of "The Fantasticks" and last season was seen in "Bye Bye Birdie", for the Nutley Town Recreation Department. She has also held the leading role of Marion the librarian in "The Music Man" for talent time. She is currently studying voice with Laura Anderson formerly of Nutley.

Helen Steblecki of Jersey City will be seen in the role of Lucy. Robert Strauch of Kearny will be taking the role of Linus. He will be seen in the show singing one of the highlight songs called "My Blanket and Me". Darrell Carey of Newark will be taking the part of Snoopy. All three were in the Family Playhouse production of the smash hit "Godspell". The musical is being directed by Family Playhouse founder Ray Napolitano who last directed "Godspell" for the theatre.

The musical "Charlie Brown" is based on the peanuts comic strips. It deals with the average day in the life of Charlie Brown. Written by Charles M. Schultz, Charlie Brown is a show for the whole family and all ages. It has a lot of funny moments and cute music and lyrics that fit the mood of Peanuts. It is a light, entertaining show. The show will be running April 2, 3, 8, 9, 10 at 8 p.m. and April 3, 4, 10 at 3 p.m. For information call 997-5626.

Bob-Shoo-Bop band bounding into town

The Campanella Fund of Belleville will present a Rock 'n Roll Revue Show featuring the Bob-Shoo-Bop in concert on April 9-10, at 8 p.m. at the Belleville High School Auditorium.

An unusual aggregation of performers, singers and musicians, combine to offer a revue that links today's teenagers (and even their parents) with the sounds and spirit of the 1950's.

Is this another long-haired rock and roll group? Definitely not! These seem to be throwbacks to the 50's when fellows wore their hair greased back into DAs, black leather jackets, saddle shoes and crooned to an elusive Betty Lou. The group is composed of 20 to 27-year-old college students and graduates, all of whom appear to have acquired their PhD in rock and roll.

This group is "New Jersey's answer to Sha-Na-Na."

John S. Wilson of the New York Times had this to say "...a two-hour show that is visual, vocal, atmospheric and as redolent of the high school agonies of the fifties as they can make it... They put the songs in a 1950's setting with costumes (a greasy, slicked-back effect with rolled up jeans, T-shirts and sun glasses; a Beach-Boy style; and a supper club appearance—bow tie, black suit, ruffled shirt) as well as choreography, an obnoxious MC and such devices as 1950's trivia contests with tubes of Brill Creme and fifties' records as prizes."

Tickets cost $4.00 for additional information contact Joe Raimo at The Crescent Diner in Bloomfield, Ralph DiRuggiero, Sal Tramantana, Belleville or Nutley Optimist Club.

A sleazier bunch of men has probably never existed, but beneath those somewhat rough exteriors beat the hearts of true musicians. The Bob-Shoo-Bop band will be in Belleville April 9 and 10 doing concerts for the Campanella Fund.
