Unwelcomed suprise

Mrs. Theresa Romanell, 191 Valley Street, did her wash Monday and found her clothes dirtier after the job. It seems something went wrong with the water. Town officials had no answer, just excuses. Mrs. Romanell ended up with dirty clothes and no help.

Beauty returns

Spring is here, and Branch Brook Park is once again exploding with the beauty of the cherry blossoms. The annual budding draws people from all over the country, and Belleville boasts a better display than the famed trees of Washington, D.C.

Prosecutor asked to check signature

By CHUCK JACKSON

The Essex County Prosecutor has been asked to check the authenticity of a signature on one of Commissioner Mary Senatore's payrolls, the Times/News has learned.

Though no specific charges have been lodged, sources said the Town Treasurer's office has asked the prosecutor to investigate the possibility that a signature, supposedly Mrs. Senatore's, is forged. Sources said Town Treasurer Francis McCoy took the questionable document to the prosecutor Tuesday and was told the matter would be looked into.

Commissioner Senatore categorically denied anyone but she had signed the payroll for employee Angela Palmieri, adding, "In the nine years I have been in office, I have not let anyone touch my payroll. Nobody but Mary Senatore is permitted to sign it, and I most certainly did it myself."

McCoy, who discovered the alleged difference in handwritings Monday, said, "It does not appear to be her (Commissioner Senatore's) signature, and I have stopped payment on Angela Palmieri's check until discrepancy is cleared up."

McCoy said the payrolls of each department must be signed by the Commissioner in charge, and Belleville's other four Commissioners come into the Treasurer's office each week to do so.

Mrs. Senatore has the payroll sent to her and returns it after signing.

In light of the question now raised, McCoy said the practice of forwarding the payroll to the Commissioner of Public Works would cease, adding, "If she wants to sign it, she will have to come down here and do so in front of an employee of the Treasurer's office. We will no longer grant her the courtesy of

Board moves on appeal

The Belleville Board of Education has directed its lawyer to prepare an appeal from the Town Commission's reduction of its budget.

The Schoolers held a special meeting Monday night in the Board offices, and passed the resolution, with five of the seven members voting in favor of the resolution, one abstaining and one absent.

Board member Richard Mahmarian abstained from the vote after earlier voicing his opposition to the resolution. Michael Chieffo, vice president of the body, was absent for the vote, reportedly ill.

During the discussion preceding the vote, Mahmarian indicated he would vote against the proposal, saying, "I oppose this resolution as it stands. We are agreeing with the Commission's methods, and they are pulling the same antics which got New York City into trouble."

Mahmarian was referring to the Commission's directive to the Board ordering it to anticipate approximately $600,000 more in state aid than its had previously figured into its budget.

Board of Education president Matthew Pica countered Mahmarian's statement, saying, "We did not agree with the Commissioners. We simply discussed the budget with them, and they told us, 'Look, you can't tell us how to put this on our books.'"

The other Board members present, with the exception of Mrs. Viola Spray, who remained silent, sided with Pica.

Mrs. Spray later voted in favor of the resolution, saying, "In spite of my confusion, if my fellow Board members feel appeal is our only choice, I will vote for the resolution."

"I understand Mr. Mahmarian's point of view," said Schooler Lawrence

Schwarz, "but I don't think he realizes appeal is our only recourse."

Mahmarian said later he had checked with "others familiar with the law" and had come to the conclusion if the Board did not appeal the Commission directive, and did not receive full state aid, the Town Fathers would still have to provide

Bellevilleite busted for plane ticket sales

A 35-year old Belleville man, charged with possession of stolen airline tickets, waived an extradition hearing and was turned over to New York police Monday, authorities said.

Anthony J. DeVito, 614 Belleville Avenue, was arrested at his home last week after a 76-count New York indictment charged him with receiving stolen plane tickets and possession of forged instruments, police reported.

According to John Matthews, Assistant Essex County Prosecutor with the City County Strike Force, the apprehension was made as a result of a joint effort by New York authorities, the Strike Force, and Belleville police.

Officials said Belleville detective

Thomas Ricci was "instrumental" in the case.

Matthews said DeVito was one of the "leaders" of a ring which peddled the stolen tickets at a reduced rate. The indictment charges DeVito with selling $136,000 worth of tickets, the prosecutor stated.

Officials said the investigation indicated DeVito would contact people by phone asking them if they would be interested in purchasing tickets. He would then, Matthews said, leave a pay telephone number where he could be reached.

After questioning people who used the tickets, said Matthews, "in most cases,

Cable petitions circulated

By JOSEPH RYAN

Live coverage of Belleville Commission meetings and sports events from Madison Square Garden are among the possibilities for living room reception if a local petition drive for cable television is successful.

Jerry Fazzini, spokesman for a committee seeking to bring cable television to Belleville, has said a municipal channel "could be run by the town itself" if a cable system was installed.

A signature petition will be circulated within the next two weeks, according to Fazzini, to see if Bellevilleites are enthusiastic enough about cable TV to warrant installation.

Fazzini said cable television reception would be better because the picture is transmitted by wire rather than broadcast through the atmosphere. He added that cable reception could provide 25 to 28 channels. The additional channels would include independent stations in Montclair and Paterson, a 24-hour news and weather service, and a channel for the reception of Knicks, Rangers, and other sports contests live from Madison Square Garden.

The cost of cable reception would be $6.00 to $7.50 per month, according to Fazzini. The installation of the cable to a customer's set would cost about $15.00. Fazzini points out initial installation is often free to the first customers in order to generate interest in the town.

The installation of cable TV in Belleville would not cost the taxpayers "five cents" according to Fazzini. He added that a municipal station could eventually be developed to be used as an educational tool in the local school system and for the sending it to her. Everyone else comes here and signs, and she will now be required to do the same."

Mrs. Senatore said she was willing to comply with McCoy's request, commenting, "As long as the other Commissioners do it, I am willing to do the same."

Late Tuesday, Mrs. Senatore confirmed the fact that McCoy had gone to the prosecutor's office, and she expressed confidence in her position.

"He can go to the prosecutor," said Mrs. Senatore, "he can go to the Attorney General and he can go to the President of the United States. I don't care, because that is my signature."

The problem with the signature is only the latest skirmish in an on-again-off-again battle involving Mrs. Senatore, Treasurer McCoy and Civil Service, revolving around the employment of Miss Palmieri.

Working in Mrs. Senatore's department, Miss Palmieri is a full-time "provisional" (temporary) employee on the Commissioner's office staff. She has been employed by the Public Works Department since 1973, and in that time has had her job title changed several times. Each change in title moved Miss Palmieri's job, at least temporarily, out of the realm of Civil Service testing.

While Commissioner Senatore has admitted Miss Palmieri has not come out on top in placement tests, she has maintained she is keeping Miss Palmieri on "because she is a good worker."

McCoy last fall labeled Mrs.

Senatore's title changing practices "a possible circumvention of Civil Service law."

Miss Palmieri is currently working under a waiver from the Civil Service department, it has been reported, while her position is once again looked into.

Commissioner Senatore has consistently denied any wrong-doing. According to the Public Works head, a town ordinance has been passed changing Miss Palmieri's title.

Miss Palmieri is currently working under a waiver as an account clerk typist, and despite the Commissioner's claim, Civil Service is reportedly still checking the validity of the appointment.

Fazzini suggested a cable television company could be selected by a competitive bidding process. Once a company had been selected, there would be no obligation by anyone to buy the cable service. Fazzini said those who received the cable could cancel at any time by notifying the company. First run movies, he added, would be available on cable reception for a monthly fee of about $15.00.

Bellevilleites involved on the committee to bring cable TV to town are Fazzini, George Rieppe, Ben Torre, and School Board members Michael Chieffo and Matthew Pica.

funds to run the schools.

"Once the expenditure portion of the budget is certified," said Mahmarian, "we are obligated to operate the school system with that amount. If we did not appeal, the Commissioners would still have the onus placed on them. They would be forced to raise the money. They could go and take it out of their reserve."

School Board attorney Max Schwarz was also critical of the Commission's handling of the budget, saying, "The Commissioners went about this in the wrong way."

They confined their thinking exclusively to school funding under the law," continued Schwarz. "At no point did they tell us how to run the schools. This is wrong."

Schwarz said the Commission's function as the body which had final say on the budget was to direct the Board's operations, "not speculate on the state funds we may or may not receive."

Board members said they will carry through with the appeal to the State Commissioner of Education only if they do not receive the full allotment of $2.4 million in state aid.

"We won't pursue it if we get all the money," said Pica.

Should the Belleville system not receive all the money it is anticipating, the appeal would be asking the State Commissioner to supply the missing funds.

That is, should the Board receive $600,000 less than the anticipated amount, they would ask for that amount.

Should that happen, next year, the Commission would have to raise an equal amount in taxes, causing a potentially devastating tax hike in town.

DeVito was the contact."

According to authorities, the investigation is continuing and charges may be presented to an Essex County Grand Jury. Matthews said people who purchased the tickets may be open to criminal charges.

The tickets sold, police reported, were a segment of 19,000 stolen from travel agencies in New Jersey and Florida. According to Matthews, the New Jersey agencies robbed were located in Newark, West Orange and Willowbrook Shopping Mall.

The thefts were reported by the Air Transportation Association, a security agency for the airlines, officials said, and it was noted not all the tickets have been recovered.

Matthew said the tickets were blank when taken and could be filled out for any destination, making their value difficult to calculate. DeVito is specifically charged with selling passages to Florida, Hong Kong, Thailand and Japan, the prosecutor added.

The airline passes were validated by hand stamping machines made by the thieves, officials said.

Sergeant Anthony Paddon of the Strike Force and detective Ricci made the arrest, authorities said, and bail was set at $50,000, and DeVito was still in custody as of late Tuesday.

Last Friday, DeVito voluntarily waived his right to an extradition hearing, and was turned over to New

State-wide cancer check being readied for April

Oral Cancer Screening Programs will be held in Hospitals throughout New Jersey April 28, which Gov. Byrne has proclaimed as Oral Cancer Detection Day.

The program is being conducted on a state-wide basis for the first time in an effort to help reduce the increasing of oral cancer which has one of the highest mortality rates of all cancers, according to Dr. Charles Trad, Associate Director of Surgery at Point Pleasant Hospital, who is chairman of the state screening program.

Cerami case finally settled

The Zoning Board of Adjustment completed one of its lengthiest cases March 28 when the group unanimously recommended to the Town Commission an application to build an office building and two warehouses in the Valley.

The Zoners voted 5-0 referring to the Commissioners an request by the Cerami Construction Company to build the facility at 292-312 Cortlandt Street. Approval by the Board came after more than three months of hearings and a final five hour session which ended at 4 a.m.

The main objector in the case was Mrs. Pauline Gruhin, 15 Van Reyper Place, represented by her husband, attorney Robert Gruhin. Robert Gaccione was council for the applicant.

The final meeting was highlighted by legal wrangling, and the Board adjourned several times in order to get legal opinions from Board attorney Jon Campbell.

Gruhin, who was to present the objector's case, triggered the legal mess when he attempted to have himself sworn in as a witness for the objectors.

Attorney Gaccione objected to the attempt.

Board counsel Campbell questioned the propriety of the move, saying, "In a court of law, an attorney could not be a witness except under very special circumstances. Here, because this is a quasi-judicial body, we are presented with an interesting question."

Gruhin claimed he was testifying as "an expert as far as the area concerned." Gaccione again objected, saying, "I do not see how Mr. Gruhin can be an expert in any field except law."

Gaccione's colleague, attorney Tom Zampino, added his voice to the protest, saying, "How could Mr. Gruhin question himself? He would begin a narrative on the case."

After retiring for a private caucus regarding the matter, the Board overruled Gruhin, citing a rule in the state ethics code for attorneys.

Lawyers still fighting no-fault car insurance

Any passage of federal no-fault automobile insurance law is being vigorously opposed by the New Jersey State Bar Association.

"Pending legislation in the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives would, in effect, eliminate the present New Jersey no-fault program," notes Joseph M. Nolan, president of the 10,000 member association of attorneys. Nolan has written to New Jersey's Senators and Congressmen, urging defeat of S.354 and H.R. 9650.

"We should not have an intrusion of federal legislation while our own plan is still in its experimental stage," Nolan said. The New Jersey law has been in effect since January, 1973.

School One children learned a little more about what options they will have when they finish their schooling last week, as the school held a Career Awareness Program. ## Library Week

All year during this Bicentennial celebration we've been talking about our national priorities: jobs, a clean environment, better housing and medical care for all.

We don't hear anybody mention information — because we already have it, in what is unquestionably the world's largest and finest network of libraries in schools and in communities nationwide.

We expect libraries to collect all the books and periodicals we need to tell us about the past and present developments in everything from medicine to math, from accounting to zoology.

We also increasingly expect libraries to help us in more mundane matters like planning a trip, borrowing a film, finding a job, tracing the family tree and getting answers quickly. It's good to know the information and assistance is there.

But somehow our expectations don't take into account that the library can also use our support, both vocal and financial. At a time when libraries are putting our more and more in the way of services, costs are swelling and coffers are shrinking.

Libraries all over the country have been forced to cut back their hours, their staffs and their book and periodical budgets this past year.

And that's an insidious type of cut-back. Because books that aren't purchased today won't be on hand tomorrow when we need them.

A celebration is scheduled this month that should start us thinking about the important role the library has played in our lives and in our democracy.

Free public libraries, in fact, are barely a century old. Up until the mid 1800's, books were pretty much a private affair.

That's why we should take special note of National Library Week (April 4-10) in this Bicentennial year and acquaint ourselves with the incredible richness offered by our country's libraries.

American libraries store a vast information bank for us — available on call. All you have to do is to deposit your own interest and concern. While American libraries invite you to come by and get rich ... you might just also ask what you can do to help them.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The Belleville American Legion Post 105 celebrated its 56th anniversary in a joyous party March 21 at its hall on Washington Avenue, amid all the trappings and bunting appropriate for such a military organization.

A plentiful assortment of delicious foods, prepared by the ladies of the post, graced the buffet table with an unending supply of liquid refreshment close at hand, and all this to the accompaniment of well played accordion music.

In a fitting ceremony, a plaque was presented to Ray Kinsley, Past Commander of Post 105 by Pat Wynn, honoring Kinsley's fine work as commander in 1975.

In an impromptu, unscheduled attraction, popular TNJ bus driver Eugene Clark made frequent trips to the "mike" to say a few words. He made so many introductions and spoke so frequently, it was decided he was entitled the award of having the sobriquet "Gabby" added to his name. So, henceforth, you may now refer to Mr. Clark as Eugene "Gabby" Clark.

All in all, it was a most enjoyable affair, with everyone having a most pleasant afternoon. Among those in attendance were Legionnaires Walter Weiss, Pat Wynn, his son, Pat Wynn Jr., Gene "Gabby" Clark, Kenny Caragher, Frank Kovats, Joe Wynn, Don Bellog, Jim Magyarits, Janice Stewart, David Purdie and Fred McGarrill.

Information pertaining to that mysterious Belleville BIC is still fragmentary. Reticence, even by those prone to discussing matters of this nature, seems the order of the day. Those who seemingly should know aren't talking. When this occurs in Belleville, you can almost be certain something big is or is going to happen. But what in goodness could it be?

Could it be another dissatisfied splinter group? There are so many dissatisfied in town, I imagine so.

While we know it isn't practical nor logical for one to buy or subscribe to two home town weekly newspapers under normal conditions, especially if they are neighboring communities, but for those groups planning to check the worksheets or breakdown of Belleville's departmental budgets, it might well be to their advantage to pick up the Nutley Sun edition that carries that town's budget. Compare it with Belleville's town budget, which appeared in last week's paper.

The comparison is shocking. Once they considered Nutley a smaller town and justified Belleville's higher taxes because of its "bigness." They implied it was more modern and progressive, boasting of its industry and considered its northern neighbor a rural, rustic town. That, they said, was why Belleville's taxes were higher than Nutley's.

Let's look at the situation today. Most would say Nutley is the nicer, better administered home town community with lower taxes and equally, if not better, run departments. Why? Politics is the answer.

Why do Belleville employees and officials receive more in remuneration than those in Nutley performing the same services? Why are there so many relatives of town politicians on the town payroll in Belleville and are their sinecure jobs really necessary? Why do we buy air-conditioned cars out of taxpayers money for our Commissioners and also pay for their telephone bill? Some of them have unlisted numbers you couldn't get if you wanted to converse with them. Why do we grant tax deductible allowances to our Commissioners and give longevity pay to employees in the same manner that broke New York City?

Why? Because people had a buck in their pockets, times were good and everyone thought it would go on forever. However, times have changed. Money is tight and people are jobless and now we must pinch pennies. We have to force our politicians to give a damn for the tax-paying public and forget buying votes by playing up to the public employees who are never satisfied for their votes.

Blossom boast

Ah, cherry blossom time! Winter's recession has finally been officially signaled by the burst of color and light in Branch Brook Park. Everything is peaceful.

But what's this? Belleville's pride and joy is not Belleville's? Sometime ago, the Newark Chamber of Commerce issued a challenge to the Washington, D.C. Chamber, claiming to have the most ravishing display of blossoms in the country. The throwing of the gauntlet got quite a bit of publicity at the time and still, Belleville did not come forward to dispute either claim.

The official town stationery carries a small emblem, with the words "Cherry Blossom Capital of America" wrapped around it. Those cherry blossoms are ours.

The people of Belleville seem, at times, to need something desperately of which to be proud. We do have the blossoms, and the town should rally round the trees. We think the Belleville Chamber of Commerce should issue its own challenge, and let's see who can top "The Cherry Blossom Capital of America."

Watch Odometers

The State Division of Consumer Affairs has issued an important warning to people who are considering the purchase of a used car: Be sure the mileage shown on the odometer appears to be reasonable in view of the general wear and tear condition of the car.

Although turning back the odometer mileage is forbidden by both federal and state law, the Consumer Division has been getting numerous complaints from people who allege that the car they purchased seems to have much greater mileage than is indicated on the odometer.

Virginia Long, the director of the consumer unit, reports that in three recent cases resolved by the division, it was able to have the cars returned to the dealer with full restitution of the sales price to the purchaser, for a total of over $10,000. In addition, the dealers who sold the cars were assessed costs of $3,000.

The Consumer Division strongly recommends that anyone considering the purchase of a particular car, have a trusted mechanic look it over thoroughly, preferably on a lift where the frame and running gear may be inspected for collision damage or excessive wear. A good mechanic learns to look for signs of wear on particular items. Its always good insurance to pay the mechanic's fee for a pre-purchase inspection. If the dealer won't allow such an inspection — be careful.

Thank you again from a grateful citizen

To the Editor:

Two weeks ago, my Aunt, Harriet McCoy, had to be brought to a lower Jersey City Hospital, St. Francis, from my home. She was a stretcher patient, and two firemen came and brought her there very gracefully.

Several years ago they came and brought my wife's mother to Clara Maass after a heart attack, and were largely responsible for her not dying that night.

A few weeks ago, I was walking home from my disabled car at 1:30 a.m., after work, in zero temperature weather. I was passing our police station, and dropped in before I froze to death. I was accepted there with deep understanding, and after warming up, was driven home.

Help like the above, when sorely needed, is really appreciated by us citizens.

'Roller' counter receives rebuttal

To the Editor:

Last week, you published an opinion by Joseph Brosius ("Musician counters 'Roller' fans' letter"). I hope you will publish this rebuttal.

Mr. Brosius, being the original letter writer, I have a few things to say to you.

1. My friends and I were just publishing our opinions, and neither you nor anybody can stop us from doing that.

2. All I did was to publish my opinion, just like you did and Cousin Brucie did several weeks ago.

3. It takes a fool to know a fool.

4. I don't know what a "teenybopper" is to you, but to me, seventh and eighth grade girls are not.

5. How do you know that Cousin Brucie is nice or the Bay City Rollers are mean?

6. I know almost everything about all the groups that I like, but that had nothing to do with it. I was mad and I showed it.

7. I don't really care if you think me or the other two million people waste their money. If you don't like it, that's your tough luck!

I don't listen to WNBC. I listen to good music, WPIX.

HELEN'S THING

Is age a blessing or curse?

HELEN MAGUIRE

What is this big deal about age? It is without doubt one of the most discussed (or NOT DISCUSSED) subjects in the universe and can cause, if not treated properly, great anguish, trepidation, embarrassment, moments of trauma, etc., etc.

The funny thing about age is that it seems to be either a source of great pride or a taboo subject. The mother of an infant is always eager to relate the chronological age of her offspring, counting his life in months until he is two and in quarter or half years until he is well into his teens. If a neighbor, friend or even complete stranger comments, "Oh isn't he big for his age!" mama is likely to beam and take the statement as a compliment to her as if she had anything to do with it short of marrying a man of some height, although that doesn't guarantee anything either. No one every says, "Oh isn't he small for his age!!" That is considered more in the line of an insult and only a person lacking in tact would ever mouth such an opinion.

"Isn't he bright for his age!" is an even better compliment and sure to raise the speaker's worth in his eyes of the parent. Educators are in a very bad position in this respect for they are often forced to report that the apple of someone's eye is in truth immature or under achieving or not on a par with expected norms for his age and that can be a very painful thing to do (I've done it).

Birthdays for the young are joyous occasions with cakes ablaze with candles, cards proclaiming to the world that so and so is seven today or eight today or even nine today. I haven't come across one yet wishing anyone a Happy 45th Birthday. In the '20s, age is a plus if the person has reached a goal at an earlier than usual age, i.e. earned a couple of degrees, made a success of a business venture, written something published and so forth.

Once past 30 though, age loses its "respectability" and doesn't regain it until the '70s when it is a coup to boast of having attained threescore years and ten and if you manage to survive to fourscore years or even beyond, you've really done something.

Forty seems to be the worst bugaboo of all and I would like to address a few words to anyone reaching that milestone in the next 15 days or so.

Point one: You don't fall apart the morning of your 40th birthday unless you were falling apart the evening of the last day you were 39.

Point two: No one, unless you tell them, is going to realize you have "come to the end of the road." Your appearance doesn't change dramatically, wrinkles do not manifest themselves where no wrinkles were before, your voice doesn't take on a reedy quality and hopefully, you can still stay on your feet.

Point three: Your children don't care, at least mine don't. They are not abashed at a kindergarten mother rapidly turning gray. After all, daddy's been white haired since the first time they laid eyes on him.

Point four: All your friends and all your enemies are a day older too and believe it or not, the best is yet to be!

THE STATE WE'RE IN

State parks are becoming over-priced

By DAVID F. MOORE

Some people find logic in pricing gasoline so high that it will be conserved by making it too expensive to use. But whoever heard of making New Jersey's state parks too expensive for the taxpayers who are paying for them?

You just did, because that's the unfortunate situation being fomented by the Department of Environmental Protection, overseer of our parks. They're raising admission prices to offset a cut of nearly 40% in operating budgets over the past two years. It's going to cost up to $5.00 per car to get into state park facilities this summer.

Not only does this discriminate against the low-income folks who need the state parks the most, but it promises to throw an unfair burden on various county parks; county parks are often free, or charge nominal amounts. State parks are the only vacation opportunity open to many urban residents.

There's no doubt that park use fees should be charged, but I can't agree that state agencies managing to produce some income should be forced to pay nearly half the operating and maintenance costs. That smacks of outright discrimination!

The Legislature should take a long look at the state park system's budget and be sure it knows the choice is either the route that's been chosen by DEP (increasing fees), or closing some parks altogether.

It's strange when one realizes that the people of New Jersey, who mandated more land for parks and new park facilities by voting for the 1974 Green Acres bond issue, now find themselves seemingly unable to afford to operate the parks that are built, or protect the acquired lands.

A look at the proposed budget yields some shocks. Salaries should keep up with inflation, yet with the same number of employees authorized, the budget cuts by 15% the amount to protect, operate and maintain parks.

And somewhere hidden in the park system budget is the maintenance and operation of Morven, the Governor's mansion in Princeton, and Drumhackett, another Princeton mansion bought during the Hughes administration and still unused. The Governor also has a summer place maintained and operated by the park system at Island Beach State Park.

In fiscal 1977, DEP estimates, 4,680,000 visitors will use state parks and forests, with 315,000 folks being turned away at the gate because of crowding. But that was before the rate increase was decided upon, so maybe those lowest on the economic scale will be discouraged from trying to get in.

All in all, the little guy gets the leftovers or gets left out altogether.

Signs of campaign brings tree plea

To the Editor:

Signs on lawns, trees and all other available spots announce one more election. In the midst of these, are signs still lingering from the last election. It seems evident that candidates running for office in Belleville place much importance on the use of placards to promote their cause. However, these eyesores are erected with no regard for what they do to the environment, before, during and long after the election.

In my opinion, rule and limitations must be enforced in the distribution of these posters. If abandonment of the latter is not possible, (yet this seems eminently desirable) then one place should be designated where all the candidates can display their placards and platforms.

This would be a start in restoring our landscape. It might be well to recall that in 1797 this town adopted the name of Belleville, meaning "Beautiful Village." I'm sure that a child's eye-view of Belleville must include the election posters as an integral part of the landscape along with the trees, birds and flowers.

I would hope that in 1976, a year when most people are concerned about beautifying their towns, villages and cities, that Belleville would not be the exception.

This is the time for candidates whose concern is that which is best for Belleville to hand out seeds for planting instead of signs.

'Ma Bell' thanked for pleasant tour

To the Editor:

It's not often one can go on a tour for nothing and expect to be treated with gracious hospitality.

On March 17, my family and I visited Bell Telephone of Belleville along with an overflow crowd of interested citizens. The congeniality present phone equipment used will certainly take the burden away from paying future phone bills.

Ma Bell can be proud of herself and her Bicentennial celebration put on by the Belleville office.

SEEMS ONLY YESTERDAY

Budget gets unanimous approval

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

The Belleville Board of Commissioners unanimously passed the $7 million 1975 budget, fixing the town's overall tax rate at $6.66 per $100 assessed valuation. It was a hike of 39 tax points from the previous year.

At the same time, before an approximate 150 Bellevillites, Commissioners voted unanimously to reduce the defeated 1975 school budget by $150,000, bringing the total to $15,824,110, which was the amount to be raised last year in taxes for municipal, county and school purposes.

The number of potential Commission candidates in the upcoming May election jumped to 16 this week when four more Bellevillites, including the first black man to seek office in town, withdrew nominating petitions from Town Hall.

While this was much doubt among observers as to whether or not all 16 potential candidates would actually run for office, Board of Education member Caesar Romano, unsuccessful School Board candidate, Rocco Constantino, Frank Bambo (an employee at the Belmont Avenue Pathmark) and Reverend Prince Hamilton (the blackman) all took out petitions.

They joined Commissioner Robert Laterza, former mayor Kenneth Smith, Attorney Joseph Domanti, James Ceres, Zoning Board member, Aldo DiChiara, Patrick J. Lee and Board of Education vice president, Matthew Pica, all as potential candidates for the Board of Education election.

Parking ticket season was once again in Belleville—

Belleville Police Chief Joseph Smith announced that alternate side of the street parking regulations suspended for the winter would soon be back in force.

Effective that coming Tuesday, April 1, local police officers would again enforce the alternate side ordinance suspended during the winter by the Board of Commissioners.

The parking rule is suspended every winter when weather makes street cleaning difficult, but when spring comes, men from the Public Works Department are once again out to clean up the streets.

Five years ago

Bellevillite Paul Crandall didn't like the smell about Mill Street. He did something about it—

The three year fight to clean up the air in his neighborhood finally came to an end when the State Department of Environmental Protection ordered a yeast factory to install anti-pollution devices or pay the penalty of a court action.

The Universal Foods Corporation, Red Star Yeast Products Division, located at 810 Mill Street, had been the object of the man's long struggle to make a sweeter smelling Belleville.

Ten years ago

The pigeon population of the town was responsible for a three-cornered debate which was expected to take place at a Council session.

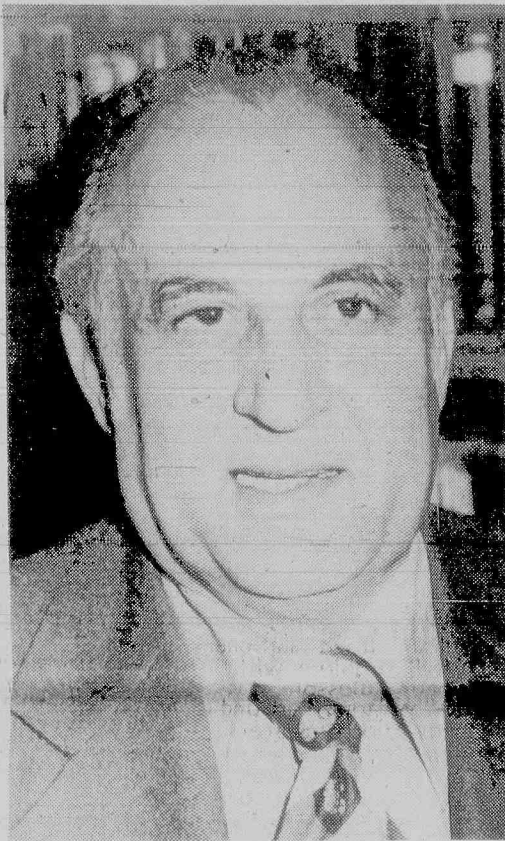

looks for the Citizens' Union to "ride herd" on the spending of the local and state government and the politicians, who according to Calabro, "promise the moon but once in office forget the people."

On the national level, Calabro is worried that the country is losing its national heritage and points to the Supreme Court ruling on busing as an example of the erosion of self-determination of the people. Calabro refers to what he has seen in other parts of the world and warns Americans should guard against the loss of their liberties and prerogatives.

When he isn't on the road consulting on his science of reliability Calabro works as president of Automated Technology Corporation in Hackensack. He has taught at Rutgers and New Jersey Institute of Technology and received a degree in electrical engineering from City College of New York.

Calabro has lived in Belleville for 26 years. "I love Belleville, but what I'm afraid of is it might erode, the planning in Belleville hasn't been good," says Calabro. He points to Washington Avenue as an example of planning that could be better and he hopes for improvement. Overall, Calabro says he likes the town and the people of Belleville.

Originally from Providence, Rhode Island, Calabro lives at 76 Fairway Avenue with his wife, Phyllis. The couple has four children, Valerie, 16; Dennis, 24; Johanna, 29; and Anthony, 30.

Sal Calabro

Directly involved in the unusual intrigue were about two dozen pigeon fanciers, represented by Robert Thaler, Dr. Gerson Ram, a local health officer, and the Council, itself.

The problem centered around a proposal that an amendment be adopted to the sanitation ordinance which would set restrictions for the housing of pigeons.

Pigeon lovers felt the amendment was too strict, while Dr. Ram claimed it was ineffectual.

Fifteen years ago

George T. Lees was named acting principal of Belleville High School and Joseph B. Grosch, principal of School Nine, at a Board of Education meeting.

Grosch's appointment came after an eight-month fight by parents of School Nine pupils for a fulltime principal. The vote was six to one for the appointment.

Lees, who had been acting principal of the high school following the retirement of Hugh D. Kittle, was appointed to his position at a salary of $11,500.

Belleville High School students were to attend classes on a split-session schedule. In an attempt to alleviate overcrowding, the Board of Education adopted a plan calling for a longer school day with half the students beginning classes at the end of the first period.

The high school plan for split session was to remain in effect until the new school was completed in September, 1963.

Mrs. Norma McCool, a Board of Education member, was against the entire plan, but she was outvoted, and students would be on split-session.

Thirty years ago

Rumor was strong in certain circles that opposition to ordinances introduced by Mayor Tully at a commission meeting would arise at an open meeting of the group.

The ordinances were related to the appropriation of $1,500 to be used for the drawing of plans for a civic center and the appropriation of $850 for an addition to town hall.

Forty-five years ago

The Board of Commissioners adopted a resolution appointing Patrolman Richard Nourse as clerk to Recorder Fitzsimmons.

Patrolman Nourse was to take complete charge of all court records. He was to serve without a salary.

Commissioner William Clark, director of Public Safety, had been responsible for introducing the resolution.

Fifty-five years ago

A house, three barns and sheds were destroyed by a fire which swept through Continental Street, off Franklin Avenue.

The fire started in the woods in the rear of the buildings, and spread through the grass and underbrush to the structure.

One hundred and forty persons attended the Consistorial dinner at the Reformed Church.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Lester H. Clee of the Rutherford Baptist Church and the Reverend J. Garland Hammer of the Belleville Reformed Church acted as toastmaster.

Thanks to men of Public Safety

To the Editor:

I wish to extend my thanks to the two policemen who answered my emergency call and had my husband in Clara Maass Hospital within 10 minutes. I'm sorry I didn't get their names.

Then, three weeks later, my many thanks to two firemen, Walt Beresford and Robert Morasici, who took my husband by ambulance on March 9, in one of the worst snow storms we've had, from Clara Maass to CATEC in South Orange. The driving was hazardous and they took him there and back.

Walt Beresford and Robert Morasici were so comforting and careful with my husband, even when it came to having to carry him up and down a flight of stairs on a stretcher.

They were just wonderful and deserve more than what they earn and will always have our support.

Moore supported

To the Editor:

David Moore's "The State We're In" editorial of March 4 was a very satisfactory commentary on the Concorde.

Wouldn't it be ironic if the Concorde finds a perch at Newark? It would be tragic, and environmental groups should be uniting for possible action now against the uncertain attitude of state officials.

Zoology course coming next fall

Zoology, the study of animals, is a new course which will be offered in next year's curriculum, and will be taught by Mr. Haneke.

Mr. Haneke is highly qualified for teaching this course. He received his BA in science from Paterson State, his MAS from Fairleigh Dickinson and has completed several undergraduate courses dealing in composition anatomy of animals.

This course is basically designed for medically inclined students. It was offered to enable the student to study more extensively the zoological field, which is only briefly touched on in biology classes.

The specific anatomical aspects of animals related to man will be covered in this survey course of a most disciplined field of biology.

This course is open to students who have completed college preparatory biology with a "B" or better, or enriched biology with a "C" or better.

Preference will be given to seniors registering for this course, according to Mr. Haneke.

Westfield student Wins speech prize

By BARBARA SOUGELAS

Proud is what Carl should be. He was selected for first place in the American Legion's annual oratorical contest. The contest, held on Thursday, March 11 had two parts. The first one required a prepared speech on some view of the Constitution. Along with the prepared speech was an extemporaneous speech.

This probably sounds nice and easy, but Carl had some tough competition. Four other high school students attempted to win the $1,000 scholarship, trophy and plaque, given to the 1st place winner. The prize for the remaining students were scholarships for the college of their choice. Each student was examined carefully by the five judges before a decision was made. The judges names were concealed until the end of the program. Three of the five judges were from Belleville High. They were Miss Ethel Williamson, Mr. Herman Knuppel and Mr. Richard Graves.

The contest was held in Belleville High auditorium, but the show belonged to the American Legion. The announcer throughout the show was Mr. Nick Ferucci, the president of the American Legion.

The assembly occupied two hours of the school day, and was attended by specially selected history students, enriched history classes, the key club and the Kiwanettes. The carefully selected audience proved it could handle responsibility as a great deal of courtesy was shown for each speaker, a necessity since each contestant was being judged in the New Jersey State Finals.

'EWF' has changed soul

By FATIMA ANDERSON

Earth, Wind and Fire is a group that has changed the style of soul music. Their haunting melodies are deep and meaningful and each of their soulful tunes has a message to those who can observe what this soul-searching group is trying to convey.

Their latest smash album "Gratitude" has got to be one of their most explosive and righteous albums. The title song, as the others in this album, is indeed a tribute to the genuine, unique style of this downright funky, together group of young men. It contains such well known top of the chart hits as "Shining Star," "Sun Goddess," and the foot tappin', groovin' sound of their latest hit single "Sing a Song". And for those who enjoy a more relaxed type of music and songs "Devotion", and "You Can't Hide Love", are soothing, sensuous melodies, sung only in the magic style of Earth, Wind and Fire.

Earth, Wind and Fire is composed of nine very talented musicians, that not only sing but compose and arrange their songs as well. Maurice White, Verdine White, Fred White, Philip Bailey, Al McKay, Andrew Woolfolk, Larry Dunn, Ralph Johnson and Johnny Graham are the members who began their singing career four years ago and have rapidly sky-rocketed to the top.

Three of their albums have sold over a million copies, to give them three gold records. These albums are "Open Our Eyes", "Head to the Sky", and "The Way of the World", which sold over a million copies in just two months.

Earth, Wind and Fire have their own philosophy to offer to young aspiring musicians who want to venture into the music profession. Group leader Maurice White stated in "Right On" magazine, a highly read teen magazine, "The only reason for living is to be happy and through our music, we hope we can lead other people interested in music to the path of happiness."

And so Earth, Wind and Fire

took the world by storm. Their personal appearances are always sold out, weeks and weeks ahead of time. Their records are selling like hotcakes, and this group is always in great demand. And if one ever saw them in a concert, one can believe that this magical group leaves the audience dazed and always asking for more. The fans roar and screech and scream their lungs out when this fantastic group appear on stage. They magnetize, hypnotize and leave one mesmerized. It is no wonder that this group has reached superstardom in such a short time. With each album, each single and each concert, Earth, Wind and Fire leads the way in the greats of soul music.

Alan Cervasio is profiled

By MIKE LAMBERTI

This past autumn Belleville's football team compiled a record of 4-4-1. The team with a couple of breaks could have been 8-1-0. They lost a one point game to Bloomfield 15-14, a three point game to Irvington 16-13, they dropped a heartbreaker to Kearny 7-0 and finished with a scoreless tie against arch rival Nutley, but the game was dominated by Belleville.

So all in all the 1975 football season for Belleville High School was a good one.

The leader of the team in 1975 was tailback Al Cervasio. Al, a senior at Belleville High School, was the co-captain of the team and was a tremendous team leader. He rushed for 950 yards this past season and averaged 5.2 yards per carry. He was elected by a prominent New Jersey newspaper to the first team, all-county and also received another honor when he was nominated to the Essex County Hall of Fame.

Every year one player from the 31 schools in Essex County is chosen for the team. To be considered for such an honor, one must have excelled on the gridiron as well as being a top student.

Al was nominated by his head coach Mr. Tom Testa. On April 7, Al will attend a dinner with Testa at

'Dolly' opens tonight

By SAL TAIBI

"Hello Dolly" opens tonight at Belleville High School's auditorium and it is one of America's most successful plays. One reason for its popularity is because of the marvelous songs in the play. These songs can be heard on the original soundtrack of "Hello Dolly" on RCA Records.

The story of "The Matchmaker" comes alive with the unique styles of Carol Channing and Charles Nelson Reilly and the wonderful score by Jerry Herman.

"Call On Dolly" and "It Takes a Woman" introduce the personalities of the main characters and their escapades are followed with songs like "Put On Your Sunday Clothes" and "Before the Parade Passes By."

Perhaps the best song on the album is the title song, "Hello Dolly." With Carol Channing and its barber shop harmony, the song has become a classic.

It is no wonder then, that "Hello Dolly" is one of the longest running plays. See it at the High School tonight, tomorrow or Saturday and then buy the album and be able to hear the fabulous songs forever.

History in our backyard

By MARY ELLEN FRIEL

Bicentennial restoration is becoming a common scene. Looking in our own backyard we can find Nutley Historic Society restoring the Kingsland Manor. Rooms had to be stripped of modern paneling, false ceiling beams, linoleum flooring and fixtures not keeping with the 1700's. Furnishings appropriate for the well-to-do Kingsland family are to be collected.

All work is being done by the members of the Historic Society themselves. Money is obtained from cake sales, fairs. Senior Citizens and other groups make goods which are sold and the money is used to help restore the manor. Another fund raising method is making available the Kingsland House for social affairs. The first of which was a wedding last August.

Joseph Kingsland built the house in 1796. Containing 17 rooms, a slaughter house, smokehouse, underground Indian raid shelter (latter used as a root cellar), ballroom, slave prison, 125-foot tunnel to a stone barn fort, solitary confinement quarters and torture pen with manacles, leg irons, neck yokes and double ball and chain captors.

Joseph Kingsland had a mill built on the streams giving it power.

He was said to be a kind master to his slave. Part of his will states that "the service of my Negro man John, the latter not to be sold unwill-ingly but to live with a member of the family as he may decide and to be supported in old age."

He had a large family and when he died in 1821 he left the home to his son Joseph Jr. who lived there with his two daughters. They lived after his death in 1884, until their own death in the early 1900's. The house was then sold to others.

In 1910 Daniel McGinity, a fight promoter bought the house for a heavyweight camp for champ Bob Fitzsimmons.

Later the house was turned into a speak easy run by McGinity's son Bus and wife Kathryn after his death. Bus (Bernard) was a newspaperman and cartoonist and some of his cartoons still exist on the rustic stone walls.

After their liquor license was revoked they turned the manor into a convalescent home called the Nutley Prine Hospital.

Mrs. McGinity's son died mysteriously and suddenly and this story became another one of the legends of Kingsland Manor.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy are now the caretakers and live in a four room apt. which was the original servant quarters. They take care of the house and the surrounding grounds.

There are tours on every 3rd Sunday of every month. At each tour there are guides who will point out interesting information. The hours are two to five.

The location of the house is at the bend of Kingsland Road and Lakeside Drive.

The sensory nerves of the skin are distributed unevenly all over the skin area in spots, and lie at different depths in the skin. For example, if you move the point of a pencil over your skin very lightly, you stimulate only the nerve of touch. These nerve endings are close to the surface of the skin in the region of the hair sockets. The finger tips, the forehead, and the tip of the tongue contain abundant nerve endings which respond to touch. Nerve endings which respond to pressure lie deeper within the skin.

Westinghouse workers Bicentennial pledge

Workers at Belleville's Westinghouse plant are among employees throughout the state taking part in a unique program to mark both the nation's Bicentennial and the 90th anniversary of that company.

Each employee is being given the opportunity to sign his or her name to what the company is calling a "Declaration of Dedication." According to a company spokesman, the declaration gives the workers an opportunity to make "a personal commitment to help build a greater America."

In addition to the Belleville plant, thousands of Westinghouse employees at plants in Newark, Bloomfield, Jersey City, Trenton, Dover, Hillside and Edison are participating in the program.

"We believe that nothing could be more meaningful to the future of America than a commitment of individuals to work for the common good," said Thomas W. Landrum, Westinghouse vice president and general manager of the lamp divisions.

Landrum went on to say, "There have been many expressions by speakers and writers to the effect that the Bicentennial should involve a commitment to build for the future by preserving those things which have been good about the past."

The statement Westinghouse employees are invited to sign is:

"We, the men and women of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, in its 90th year and the 200th year of the United States of America, do hereby dedicate ourselves — through our personal conduct and endeavor — to support the principles of integrity, industry and perseverance demonstrated by our forefathers, so that we may help strengthen our homes, our communities and our nation in the cause of liberty, justice and opportunity for all."

Each employee who signs the pledge receives a pin with twin flags — the 13 star colonial flag and the present day flag. Each pin is mounted on a card which includes the words of the declaration, as well as guideposts for individual courses of action in support of their commitment — in personal life, business life and community life.

Signed sheets from the local plant will from other Westinghouse locations throughout the United States. The entire volume will be officially presented to government representatives as "a testament to the commitment of Westinghouse men and women to personal endeavors in building a greater nation."

"We believe that this commitment, of and by the people of Westinghouse, can be one of the most meaningful and longlasting efforts of the Bicentennial," Landrum said.

Host homes needed for students

Youth for Understanding, the nation's largest student exchange program, announced today that teenagers from several European countries will be arriving in New Jersey during August to live with host families and attend high school.

"We are anxious to have these students live with New Jersey families," says Philip Yasinski, Executive Director, "because this area has so much to offer these special foreign visitors."

This summer, over 2500 students from Latin America, Europe, Africa and Asia will arrive in the United States to spend a year living with American families across the country. This exchange of students has been taking place annually for twenty-five years since Youth for Understanding was founded in Ann Arbor, Michigan in 1951.

"Youth for Understanding exchange students may enter our country as strangers," states Mr. Yasinski, "but they leave, each and every one of them, as members of their American families."

Exchange students are not guests in an American home, but rather become real members of the family. They take on the same duties and privileges as the other children in the household. American host families are expected to provide food and housing, while students pay for their other personal expenses.

"Student exchange," says LaJuana Alexander, Regional Director,

"by its very name focuses on the student and the excitement and value of the experience for the student, yet thousands of letters from host families over the years have told us that being a host family is an unforgettable and lasting adventure for the whole family."

For details on becoming a host family to one of the students who will arrive in New Jersey this summer, contact Mrs. LaJuana Alexander at: 85 Havens Mill Rd., Freehold, N.J. 07728 or phone: (201) 431-2444. You could be host to a student from Chile, Sweden, France, Greece or any of dozens of other countries around the world. Contact Youth for Understanding today. Our foreign visitors are eager to meet their American families from New Jersey.

BHS grads join Marines

Two Bellevilleites, John L. Argieri and James DelGuercio have enlisted in the United States Marine Corps, it was announced last week.

Argieri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Argieri, 432 Greylock Parkway, and DelGuercio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ceasar DelGuercio, 193 Forest Street, received certificates of acceptance from Staff Sergeant Henry J. Hamel Jr., U.S. Marine Corps recruiter. The certificates show that both men have been accepted into that branch of the service.

Argieri and DelGuercio will leave for basic training on October 18. According to Hamel, the delay will allow the men to complete high school and have a brief vacation prior to their departure to Paris Island, South Carolina.

"Argieri and DelGuercio are members of the Belleville High School football team," staff-sergeant Hamel said. "They are also a part of another team, a team steeped in history and tradition, the United States Marine Corps."

John McManus receives promotion

Bellevilleite John G. McManus recently received his first promotion in the United States Air Force, it was announced.

Airman McManus is a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School.

Give yourself a tax break

with a Howard powered IRA Plan

An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) lets anyone gainfully employed but not covered by a qualified retirement plan put away up to $1500 a year—tax deductible! And the high interest your investment earns is not taxable either, until you collect it. Ask yourself:

- |                          |                          |  |
|--------------------------|--------------------------|--|
| Yes                      | No                       |  |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Am I not covered by a retirement plan approved by the Internal Revenue Service?                            |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Can I save some of my earnings (as little as you like or 15% of your annual earnings up to $1500 a year)? |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Would I like the same kind of tax breaks company-run retirement plans provide?                             |

If it's "yes" to these questions, you probably qualify for a Howard powered IRA plan.

Now look at the table to see how your money can grow — then come in to any Howard office to get your retirement Howard powered.

You'll want most of your investment in high interest Time Savings Accounts, of course; but even if you invested at the lowest rate offered — 5 1/4% — look how much you'll have at retirement:

$1,500/yr for	Your Investment	Your Investment Plus Interest at 5 1/4%
20 years	$30,000	$ 54,966
25 years	$37,500	$ 80,549
30 years	$45,000	$113,931

Note: These figures are calculated on the basis of annual deposits of the total amount permitted, based on the Howard's present method of interest compounding at 5 1/4%.

In the Swing

Hot Hoppers

Below, members of the BHS track team warm-up for practice in the stands by hopping on one foot at a time. It looks like a variation of an old Indian dance. If the exercise doesn't bring rain it should help get the cindermen in shape for the first dual meet of the season today at Nutley. Coach Rich Ruffalo expects a good season from the Belleville runners and jumpers.

Bellboy batsmen ready for revenge

By JOSEPH RYAN

Tomorrow the records are clean but the memories linger on. Last year the Belleville batsmen were defeated twice by the Irvington nine, 2-0, and in a 14-inning game 4-1. Bellboy Greg Petite pitched 11-innings giving up only three hits in the losing extra-inning effort against the Campers who were undefeated in the Big Ten conference. Tomorrow, Petite will pitch to Irvington again in a starting assignment coach George Zanfini calls psychological strategy.

Zanfini says he hopes the prospect of facing Petite again will put the Irvington hitters at a psychological disadvantage. For Petite's prospects on the mound, Zanfini says, "he's looked very sharp in pre-season, he'll be ready." At the end of the scrimmage season, Zanfini thinks the rest of his team is ready in all areas except batting. It's been a good month for us. We've improved," said Zanfini. "All 19 can do a job extremely well but we have a point I'm not pleased with, we're not sticking the ball the way we're capable of sticking." Zanfini notes last year's Blue-Gold line-up clouted out a .299 batting average for the season. The Belleville skipper adds he is confident in his teams ability to swat the ball but says he is still, "waiting for us to start hitting." Coach Zanfini expects an interesting year for baseball in the Big Ten. He predicts it will be a close, tight race and says, "there's not going to be any run away."

The race for the top of the pile will be dominated by Montclair, Kearny, Nutley, and the Bellboys according to Zanfini's pre-season estimates. The result of pre-season calculations and efforts will begin to be evaluated at tomorrow's opener away at Irvington. It could be a tough grudge-match game. The Bellboy home debut, will take place Tuesday with the Bellboys hosting East Orange. If last season's performance is any indication, the East Orange game should be easy for the Bellboys who last year beat the Panther nine in two games with combined scores of 32-0. It all depends on what the future and what BHS talent brings to the Blue-Gold basepaths.

Blue-Gold oarsmen open against Kearny

The BHS rowers will begin their river season Saturday against Kearny at 1:00 p.m. on the Passaic. Last year the teams tied, 1-1, this year coach Sam Giuffrida expects the match to be just as even. "It's always a tough race," says Giuffrida, "I have yet to see one of us dominate another." The fact both varsity boats have young crews is another indication of the Belleville-Kearny balance of power in the boats. Giuffrida notes Kearny already has "one race under their belts" while Saturday's race will be the debut for the Blue-Gold and the first varsity race for the new members of the eight shell.

we've had some good practices."

The practices have been underway six days a week. In the early weeks Giuffrida worked on the techniques of the Bellboy rowers. Now the emphasis at the work outs is on conditioning. "We're doing a lot more power exercises now," said Giuffrida.

The long and grueling training of the Blue-Gold river rovers hasn't darkened their attitude, especially in the varsity shell. Giuffrida says, "I'm really impressed with the dedication of this boat." "They don't moan or complain. They put their minds to it, concentrate, and do a good job."

Two of the juniors in the varsity eight shell will be concentrating extra hard Saturday when they take college board exams in the morning prior to the race. A few juniors in the other boats will be faced with the same problem of double priorities.

The crew season will be inaugurated Saturday with the christening of the new eight and four man shells. The Belleville eight boat to be used by the varsity will be named "Excalibur" and the four-man

Girl hurlers set to start

Senior Bellegirl Sharon Brady will be on the mound for the Blue-Gold softball season's opening game tomorrow against Irvington. Although she's a senior, it's Brady's rookie season on the Bellgirl nine and the fact coach Eve Lautenschlager is starting a first year player as pitcher is evidence of the team's new and inexperienced pitching staff. Lautenschlager also counts on freshman Toni Sperduto to learn pitching skills with Brady and begin to strengthen a hurling staff without one returning

Nutley first track foe

"I'm psyched and the kids are psyched." In terms of enthusiasm the Belleville track team is ready to run into their season opener today at Nutley.

Coach Rich Ruffalo says his team is psyched-up for the first dual meet and predicts a winning season if the team's attitude remains good.

The BHS cindermen held their annual intra-squad contest last Thursday at the Blue-Gold meet. The traditional event is run under meet conditions to cap the pre-season practices.

Last Thursday's competition wasn't exactly under meet requirements with the distance and sprint races being run on Nolton Street in and around passing traffic. Because of the races being held on the street coach Ruffalo wasn't relying on the time results but he was pleased with the runners and jumpers performances.

Jim Del Guerchio will dash in the sprint events but with last year's top sprinter gone, the team strength in the events is still a question mark.

Doug Wamsley will compete for the Bellboys in the two-mile race but Ruffalo is disappointed Jim Beck, last season's best two miler did not come out for the team this year.

Co-captain Nelson Seda turned in a good mile run at the Blue-Gold meet and the coach is also encouraged by the shot put performance of the other co-captain, Vito Guarino.

A triple-threat man is emerging on the field contingent of the Blue-Gold squad. Fran Morel is joining Robert Feldman in the discus event and Ruffalo thinks the team is stronger in throwing ability this season. Morel also long jumped last year and will be leaping this spring with Del Guerchio, John Matera, and Dbug Jackson. Morel's third event and his strongest is the pole vault. Ruffalo says Morel could be the best in the Big Ten, "if he works at it." Morel vaulted to about 11-feet in the Blue-Gold match and is working now on holding a 14-foot pole higher and getting a better bend in it for higher flights this year.

The overall results of the Blue-Gold competition indicate according to Ruffalo, "we have a little more depth than we thought we had."

The depth will help at the meet in

DeWitt Rangers hand out awards

Three DeWitt Rangers will share the street hockey team's most valuable player award this year. Al Ciccone with 12 goals, and Bill Sauers with seven scores were past winners who were voted this year's honor with first time m.v.p. winner Dave Boxer, who compiled six nets on the season.

The Rookie of the Year laurels went to Frank Buonanno, who according to captain Bill Sauers, was instrumental in many goals with countless assists.

The best defenseman title went to Rich Boxer, who merited the prize for the third time in his street hockey career.

Asphalt-icemen Mike Pedalino and Tony Rozmes won the congeniality award by being named the cleanest players of the team.

Rick Damarco collected the Ranger ruffian title by being named dirtiest player of the hard hitting season.

On the Rangers 8-1-1 year, goalies Mark Lukowial and Tony Nardini posted 2.66 and 3.00 goals against averages respectively.

Now, with the local year at an end, the Rangers begin their quest for a national title by preparing for the East Coast Street Hockey Tournament in Leominster, Massachusetts.

The Rangers are the only team from New Jersey to win a game in the history of the New England competition. This year they hope to improve their record by preparing for the tournament with three scrimmage matches every Sunday.

Team captain Sauers says the experience from last year's competition should help the Rangers finish above their standing in their first Massachusetts tourney. What was learned at last year's matches was the ins and outs of playing on a street hockey rink.

A street hockey rink is similar to an ice hockey rink without the ice. The lack of a rink for practice in Belleville could lead to the demise of the Rangers, according to captain Sauers.

"Without a rink, there is very little chance the Rangers will see a 77-78 season," Sauers said. He added that without a rink, "we're wasting our time and our talents."

Sauers hopes the attendance of Mayor Marrotti at this tournament will spur the construction of a rink facility by the town. Sauers states a rink would improve the teams performance so much, "we could go up to Massachusetts and be one of the top teams in the country." He adds that the Rangers lost last year because the other team knew how to use a rink to their advantage.

The Massachusetts meetings will begin on April 23 and 18 Ranger puck chasers will make the journey that may decide the teams future existence as well as capability.

Nutley today. At their last run-off Nutley downed the BHS cindermen 66-56. Belleville led in last year's meet until the final two events. This year's depth of talent could overcome last year's close finish. Ruffalo expects fast times on the Nutley all-weather track and predicts the Raiders will be wary of the Blue-Gold talent.

The athletes are ready, the events are set for the Belleville track season to go into action this afternoon in Nutley.

Optimists plan to honor Abdel

The Belleville Optimist Club will honor Rutgers Basketball player Abdel Anderson with a special athletic citation. Anderson who was a 1975 Belleville High School graduate, is the 6th man on Rutgers nationally ranked basketball squad.

the restructuring of the Goodwill regatta. This year the crew that beats the other two schools twice will draw a bye and automatically qualify for the local row-offs. This will eliminate the necessity of a third lane for the annual Belleville, Nutley, Kearny event. The third lane used in past years on the east side of the Passaic is out of the channel and Giuffrida adds this lane has been the scene of some "stunning upsets" in the past.

thrower from last season's team.

At the other points of the diamond the Bellgirls have the necessary skills and some depth, according to Lautenschlager. The Blue-Gold coach added, "we've been getting better." "We've got our fielding together and there are two kids for each position."

Hitting is also a strong department on the Bellgirl nine. Lautenschlager pointed to Michele Giordano's lead-off home run at a scrimmage last week as an encouraging sign of the team's growing prowess at the plate. On Giordano's ability at bat, Lautenschlager said, "she's been hitting toward the fences at Clearman Field."

Now with work in the field and at the plate shaping up, the Bellgirls will begin the year against Irvington tomorrow at 3:45 p.m. at Clearman Field. The pitching is the biggest question mark, but coach Lautenschlager sees the team's confidence growing as the young nine begin the new season.

In selecting Anderson for the award, President Tommy Spillane stated, "Belleville should be very proud of Anderson's accomplishments on the basketball court as well as the very fine image he has projected for the town of Belleville. There aren't many places left in the United States that follow basketball that haven't heard of Belleville due to Abdel's play on Rutgers team. We are all very proud of Abdel and we wish him continued success in the future."

The Optimist will honor Anderson at a meeting of the organization in the near future. The Optimist meet on Thursday evening for the dinner at the Chandilieri, on Franklin Ave., Belleville.

Bellboys attend winter camp

When winter vacation came, four Belleville High School students did not just sit around watching TV and twiddling their thumbs.

After hearing about a special baseball training school from Coach Jim Silvestri, Greg Dunleavy, Nick Cancelliere, John Guarino and Chip Biafore all flew down to Ft. Lauderdale Baseball School, Florida, where the four members of the varsity baseball team, picked up a few pointers to help improve their game.

The boys stayed from February 11 until the 22, and in just a few short weeks the coach and the rest of Belleville will see what the boys learned.

Troise awarded gridiron honors

Joseph Troise, 73 Montgomery Place, a sophomore running back at Kean College, was recently awarded a letter in football for the 1975 season, it was announced.

Troise was picked on the first All Conference Team as a running back. His record for the 1975 season was outstanding. He rushed for 590 yards, caught 12 passes for 102 yards, scored seven touchdowns, and averaged 12 yards per punt.

Joe DeFranza, a junior from Belleville, is the first baseman for Upsala College's team, which this year is going for a record breaking 10th winning season. DeFranza batted .304 for the Vikings last year.

DeSantis clan: a cool crowd

By JODI MASSONE

It wasn't too long ago that a son, even before birth, would be destined to follow in his father's footsteps.

If Dad was an iceman, his son would surely be one too!

The DeSantis family, 85 Magnolia Street, is keeping up the tradition. They're all in the ice business — in a way, at least.

All five members, including Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeSantis, are accomplished ice-skaters, and are all members of the Essex Skating Club. In addition, Mrs. DeSantis, when not taking any turns about the ice, has found time to cut, sew, fit and hand decorate all 16 costumes for girls of the same club.

Maryjo, a Junior at Belleville High School, and an active member of the 16-girl precision ice-skating team, representing the Club, recently took part in New Jersey's first statewide precision skating competition, where she and her group won first place. The girls placed fifth among the teams that competed last spring in Worcester, Massachusetts, but since then the group has come a long way with Maryjo and her teammates.

A member of the precision team since last year when it was first initiated, Maryjo practices as much and as often as she can, sometimes from 10 p.m. until midnight, if that's the only time that the ice is available.

Having acquired her skating expertise under the able direction of Mrs. Andre Baron, the student has passed her silver level dances required by the U.S. Figure Skating Association, and is now working on her pre-gold requirements.

She is an honor student at Belleville High School, and active as both a Keywanette and twirler, besides being an avid member of the popular Ski Club. Although fond of skating as a sport and physical fitness booster, Maryjo intends to forego "spills" for "pills," and intends to make pharmacy her life-long profession.

In the meanwhile, always striving to improve her techniques, the Belleville Junior will appear in the 17th annual South Mountain Arena ice-show, "Funorama-on-Ice," which will be presented April 9, 10 and 11 at the arena through auspices of the Essex Skating Club.

In keeping with this bicentennial year, the theme of the show is "American Frontiers," and stars Olympic Champion Dorothy Hamill.

Maryjo will appear as a sun-ray in a skit entitled "Space Odyssey," and will reappear twice with the precision line in the "Olympic Salute," and "World Peace" numbers.

It's a pity her parents, and her two brothers, Daniel and Paul won't be in the audience watching Maryjo perform. They can't! The reason is simple— Mom, Dad, and both brothers will also be taking part in the same show, same night, same ice! That's what I call real togetherness!

Tickets for the show, to benefit the Hospital Center at Orange, may be obtained by calling South Mountain Arena (731-3829) or the Hospital Center (678-1100, Ext. 558).

Family on Ice — Belleville's DeSantis family will take part in the Funorama-On-Ice, dazzling all those present with their graceful skills. Left to right, Paul DeSantis, Loretta and Anthony DeSantis and Maryjo DeSantis. Proceeds from the show, to be held next week, will benefit the Hospital Center at Orange.

Program planned for 'Library Week'

In conjunction with National Library Week, April 4 through April 10, the Belleville Public Library will present ten programs, with the first scheduled to be held Tuesday, April 6.

Speaking at the program on that day will be Ingrid Frank, joint author of "Get Up- You're Not Dead," at the Main Library at 10 a.m.

The following day, Wednesday, April 7 at 10 a.m. Dr. Marion P. Turkish, reading consultant at William Paterson College, will be featured, and that afternoon at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Nina Lalin will conduct a craft program.

At 7 p.m., Thursday, April 8, Uncle Ed, an extraordinary talented magician, will present a program to interest the entire family.

At 10 a.m., also on April 8, Marie Harris will present a program entitled, "Making Bookmarks," at the Main Library. The same program will be presented a day before at 10 a.m. at the Silver Lake Branch of the library, 30 Magnolia Street.

Throughout the entire week the library van will serve as a Bookmobile to outlying sections of Belleville. A schedule of the stops is available at the library.

Throughout "Library Week," an essay contest and a trivia contest will be conducted, and will be concluded with a used book sale at the Main Library Saturday, April 10 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

In addition, the used book sale will also be conducted every day throughout the week at the Silver Lake Branch.

Scouts plan to recruit

On Wednesday, April 21 and Thursday, April 22, the Belleville District Boy Scouts will conduct a special recruitment drive at the Cavalcade of Progress Industrial and Business exhibit which will be held in the Belleville High School gym.

The Cavalcade, which will run from 2 to 9 p.m. both days will contain exhibits on scouting as well as sign-up facilities (booth 18, along the wall of the gymnasium) for any boy or adult interested in joining.

All boys between the ages of 8 and 18 are eligible to become either a scout or a cub.

According to Thomas Balsamo, District Commissioner, "In addition to the classical scout activities, such as camping, hiking, and crafts, modern scouting offers an imaginative array of opportunities for boys." Balsamo further added that adult leadership is necessary, and asks both fathers and mothers to volunteer their help.

Contrary to popular belief, scouting is not confined to the immediate town, but rather throughout the entire United States.

Belleville women win writing awards

The Woman's Club of Belleville, in addition to coming away with many awards in the American Home Department, following the Eighth District Achievement Day, also was recipient of several awards in the creative writing category.

Mrs. Richard A. Shafter, Eighth District Literature Chairman, announced that Miss Ruth J. Hogan, First Vice President of the Woman's Club of Belleville, received second place award in the creative writing contest of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Hogan's winning contribution was a poem entitled, "To My Beloved." Honorable mention went to Mrs. W. Douglas Clark, President of the club, for her poem, "Point of View."

The Precision Line, led by skater Pat Lynch, prepares for the Bicentennial show of the 17th annual Funorama-On-Ice. Local resident Maryjo DeSantis (extreme right) is one of the girls who will participate in the show next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the South Mountain Arena in West Orange.

Sargentelli takes accordion honors

Albert Sargentelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sargentelli of 58 New Street won first place in the New Jersey State Accordion Championship contest held March 20 and 21 in Elizabeth.

Besides coming in first place in the 13 year-old solo division, the Belleville Junior High School student also took third place in the 13-15 year-old division.

As a winner in this contest, the student will be competing in August in Washington, D.C., for the Internationals Coupe Mondials.

Not the only accordionist in the family, a sister, Phyllis, will be competing this August in Washington, D.C. in the 12 year-old division.

Both children are students of Madelena Belfiore, Kearny.

Our examples are like mirrors, that is, others can see in them the image of themselves.

School 1 sees stamphistory show

A picture was worth a thousand words last Friday when Joseph Somerville, a member of Western Electric's Educational Department visited School One, and displayed slide presentation entitled, "A Postage Stamp Tour of American History."

The entire student body viewed enlarged pictures of postage stamps commemorating many famous people and various historical events in American history. Much was learned just by looking at the stamps.

St. Peter's pupils benefit from Title I

The Title I Program, a federally-funded remedial reading program sponsored by the Belleville Board of Education, is in focus at St. Peter's School, for the month of March.

Students in the Primary Grades are the recipients of this valuable program. Each student receives daily half hour sessions for the purposes of remediation, reinforcement, motivation and supplementary enrichment in reading. They eagerly look forward to using the unique learning materials and media supplied by Title I, a program spokesman said.

By way of puppets from Development Learning Materials, first graders continue to achieve greater language development through use of inferred questions and stimulation of more creative thinking. Their artistic ability has led to the creation of an original filmstrip of objects for identification of initial consonant sounds.

Having completed their Listen and Learn lesson activities, they've hopped aboard their "Speedboat Phonics Program" for reinforcement of auditory and visual discrimination skills. Classification of objects, and matching sequence pictures or alphabet letters have been other areas of emphasis.

Working with blends and digraphs, a new series of cassettes and filmstrips, has been the center of attraction for second graders. "Streamliner Phonics Program" is correlated with their learning activities as are new crossword puzzles, "End and Blends," "Silly Sentences" and "Treasure Capture."

Third graders share their enthusiasm for "Listen and Do" vowel stories and related learning activities. Comprehension skills and vowel skills are thereby strengthened. The "Specific Skill" series builds on drawing conclusions, choosing the main idea and similar important comprehension skills. New confidence, independence and the desire to read for enjoyment have become a part of the students.

The Parent Council Meeting for the month of March will be held at the Director's Office, located in the Temple at 125 Academy Street, on Friday, March 26, at 2 p.m. Mrs. Carolyn Fuscaldo, teacher-in-charge-of-curriculum, will present an in-service workshop for all interested parents of the town of Belleville, plus the Title I Staff.

Title I remediation, objectives and media used in all schools will be shown and explained. The program will be followed by an open discussion.

Alumni luncheon set by Berkeley

The Berkeley School of East Orange will hold an Alumni Association luncheon at noon April 24 at The Carriage Trade, 88 Evergreen Place, East Orange.

An "alumna of the year" will be named at the event. Career opportunities will be discussed for the graduates.

The organization recently changed its name from the Alumnae Association to the Alumni Association when The Berkeley Schools began enrolling male students for some of their programs.

Memorial mass is Sunday

There will be a high mass celebrated Sunday at noon at St. Peter's auditorium for the departed comrades of the 307th Infantry and the 77th Division who participated in World War I and World War II.

Captain John F. Crowley (ret) will sponsor the annual service, moved to the auditorium because of last week's fire.

After the mass, a reception will be held at My Place, 236 Belleville Avenue.

All men who served with the 307th and the 77th are invited to attend. Residents from surrounding communities are also invited to participate.

The 307th Infantry Regiment sailed overseas April 6, 1918, and participated in battles at Baccarat, Vesle, Oise-Aisne and Meuse-Argonne.

During World War II, they participated in the invasion of Guam, Leyte, Kerama Rette, I Shima, Okinawa and the eventual occupation of Kokkaido, Japan.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

After inquiring about rates in hospitals today, one would have to come to the conclusion, if one hasn't already, that it doesn't pay to be sick.

We who have coverage are fortunate that most of our hospital costs are paid through Social Security benefits. Without this coverage, our elderly would be hard pressed or perhaps not be able to pay at all.

If the Congress of our country ever gets around to passing some meaningful health legislation under Health, Education and Welfare, the burden of ever rising health costs would be further eased. We cannot help but wonder why more money is being spent for curing the ills of the people instead of spending more on preventative medicine.

It does seem to us that it would be cheaper for any health plan to look into the causes of illnesses and possible prevention, rather than waiting for the illnesses to get started and then trying to cure them.

A good case in point would be the Salk vaccine, which has been used to just about wipe out polio. Without this vaccine, anyone can imagine what the cost would be, not only in money, but in pain, anguish, disfigurement and paralysis.

On the brighter side, the Belleville Senior Citizens Club hosts for the past week were Marge Landon and Tom Bass. Many members show up for the dancing class, arts and crafts, coffee "and" or a sociable game of cards. This is your club, seniors, drop in and say hello!

You and your pet

By TED KAVANAUGH, DIRECTOR,
ALPO PET NEWS BUREAU

The Ten Top Breeds: Miniature Schnauzer

Last year, more than one million purebred dogs representing 121 breeds were registered by dogdom's governing authority, the American Kennel Club (AKC). Miniature Schnauzers ranked 7th highest, adding more than 41,000 to AKC's Stud Book in 1974.

This hardy, active and highly intelligent little dog is also the most popular of his breed group, the terriers, greatly admired for their courage, style and good temperament as pets and as show dogs.

A typical Miniature is fond of children, seldom wanders and, by instinct, is a good rat-ter. For centuries, Schnauzers were used as a yard and stable dog, a guard, and a destroyer of rats and vermin around farms.

The Miniature resembles his cousin, the Standard Schnauzer of the Working Dog group, but is less aggressive and smaller at about 13" at the shoulder. This size makes him suitable for city living or the country life as well.

Background Notes

There are three separate and distinct breeds of Schnauzers: the Giant, Standard and Miniature. Developed by German breeders and originating in the neighboring kingdoms of Wurttemberg and Bavaria, the oldest of the three, known in America as the Standard, or medium size, appears in Durer paintings from 1492 to 1504.

The Miniature derived from the Standard after patient crossbreedings of the smaller Standards with Affenpinschers. As a new, distinct breed, Miniatures were exhibited as early as 1899. In general appearance, he has a stocky build, alert stance, wiry coat, and distinctive, abundant wiry whiskers.

Miniature Schnauzer: 7th Highest AKC Registration

Recognized (to show) colors are salt-and-pepper coat, black and silver, and solid black, with the salt-and-pepper most typical.

For detailed history and official standards of Schnauzers and all other purebreds, see the prestigious AKC Complete Dog Book (published by Howell, N.Y.).

Free Booklet

Would you like a free booklet about caring for your new dog? It includes housebreaking, feeding, training, health check-ups, first aid, and other helpful tips. It's at youngsters' reading level, with drawings they will like. For your copy of "You and Your Pet" booklet send 25¢ for postage and handling to ALPO Pet News Bureau, P.O. Box 2187, Allentown, PA. 18001.

And watch for my next column on Doberman Pinschers.

Casserole Helps Homemaker Economize

The hearty meals that mother used to prepare not only were tasty, more often than not they were relatively inexpensive to make. With food prices still continuing to rise, now is a good time to borrow a leaf from Mom's recipe book.

She would have approved of this recipe for nutritious Salmon Squares with Mushroom Pea Sauce, suggested by Pauline Pearson, noted nutritionist and home economist for Meadow Gold Dairies. Cottage cheese, milk and eggs enrich the protein content of this savory meal-in-a-dish.

SALMON SQUARES WITH MUSHROOM PEA SAUCE

(Yield: 8 Servings)
2 cups cooked rice
2 eggs, beaten
2 cups (16 oz.) Meadow Gold cottage cheese
1 can (1 lb.) salmon, drained and flaked

Combine all ingredients except cracker crumbs. Spoon into a buttered 12x7x2-inch baking pan. Sprinkle cracker crumbs over top. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes or until firm in center. Cut into squares. Serve with Mushroom Pea Sauce.

MUSHROOM PEA SAUCE

3 tablespoons Meadow Gold butter
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
1 1/2 cups Meadow Gold milk
1/2 cups cooked peas
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Cook mushrooms in butter for 5 minutes. Stir in flour and salt. Gradually add milk. Cook until smooth and thick. Stir constantly. Stir in peas and pimiento, cooking until thick. Spoon over Salmon Squares.

Last week's solution

Bob-Shoo-Bop concert next week

The Campanella Fund will get a financial boost next Friday and Saturday nights as a blast from the past, Bob-Shoo-Bop, invades Belleville High School for a pair of benefit concerts.

A rising rock group that plays real Rock 'n' Roll — the kid you loved or hated — in the '50's, is a throwback to those days when the guys wore their hair greased back into DAs, and when black leather jackets and saddle shoes were in vogue.

The Bob-Shoo-Bop revue puts the songs in a 1950's sitting with costumes, (greasy, slicked back effect) with rolled-up jeans, T-shirts and sunglasses; a Beach Boy style and a supper club appearance with bow-tie, black suit and ruffled shirts) as well as choreography and an obnoxious MC.

'Good Man' opens

Happiness is tomorrow evening when the Family Playhouse 28 Brookline Avenue Nutley, opens with its sixth production of the season, the musical "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown".

In this heart warming funny musical you will see Lucy and her grumpy advice. In the role of Lucy is Helen Steblecki of Jersey City, Ms. Steblecki was last seen at Family Playhouse in "Godspell". She has acted in such shows as "The Sound Of Music," "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" and is currently in "Jerz" an original musical about New Jersey. She is a voice major at Jersey City State College.

Theatre going public will be seeing Linus and his Blanket. In the role of Linus is Robert Strauch of Kearny. Strauch was last seen at Family Playhouse in "Godspell", some of his stage credits include "The Odd Couple", "The Wizard Of Oz" and "Jesus Christ Superstar". He is a student at the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art.

Audiences will also be watching Snoopy and the Red Baron chase. Snoopy is being played by Darrell Carey of Newark. Carey was last seen at Family Playhouse in "Godspell" and he has also acted in "Jesus Christ Superstar" and was seen in two off Broadway productions in New York City.

In the role of Charlie Brown, trying to break his 999 game losing streak at baseball, the audiences will be seeing Bob Molloy of Nutley, in a musical number called the Baseball Game.

For information call 997-5626. Show dates are April 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 at 8 pm and April 3, 4 and 10 at 3 pm.

Looking spiffy in their tuxes, the men of Bob-Shoo-Bop make wild music together. The band, a throw-back to the 1950's will appear April 9 and 10 at Belleville High School in benefit concerts for the Campanella Fund.

Roche play is 'Boyfriend'

The Roche Players will present their Fifth Annual musical comedy, "The Boyfriend", Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 13, 14 and 15, in the Nutley High School at 8:30 p.m.

As in previous years, the entire cost of production will be met by Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., and all proceeds will be contributed to the Community Mental Health services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. For the first time a discount will be offered until May 7th, for groups of 15 or more, admission will be $2.50, single tickets remain $3. (Interested parties may get more information by calling 201-235-2824.)

A former Broadway Hit, "The Boy Friend" by Sandy Wilson is a completely frivolous "spoof" of English musical comedies of the twenties. Members of the cast, drawn entirely from Roche employees, are polishing their songs, dances and associated comedy situations under the expert professional direction of Colley Ballou of Nutley. The performers this year form a happy blending of established Roche Players and sparkling new talents.

Look out, Red Baron — Darrell Carey portrays Snoopy, the World War I flying ace, who combats the Red Baron from atop his doghouse in the Family Playhouse production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." The show opens tomorrow night at the Family Playhouse.
