Rabbit reported

Informed sources told the Times/News this week of a large, pink bunny, waving at motorists on Joralemon Street. An investigative reporter was dispatched to the scene and confirmed the harey story. Seems the Easter Bunny was visiting Zigarelli's Chocolate, 406 Joralemon, and checking the inventory available for Easter baskets.

"Spirit of '76"

Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta presents the keys to the new "Spirit of '76" ambulance to Fire Department Chief George Sbarra. The new ambulance will be equipped with heart monitoring equipment and the latest devices needed for emergency care. The red, white, and blue truck will officially become "Rescue One."

Commission delays budget decision

By CHUCK JACKSON

A four-hour public hearing on the 1976 Belleville Municipal Budget resulted in a continuance of the meeting from Tuesday night to Wednesday evening.

The town's five Commissioners voted to continue the meeting at 5 p.m. yesterday after several members of the Belleville Citizens' Union presented budgetary recommendations which the Board members wanted to consider before voting on the document.

Though the actual results of the Commission vote on the budget came in too late for this edition of the Times/News, several knowledgeable sources said, despite the delay in the voting, the Commissioners were expected to pass the measure as originally presented.

Tuesday's meeting was fairly orderly, though the voices of several citizens and some Commissioners were raised at several points.

Spokesmen for the Citizens' Union dominated the microphone during the meeting, as the group delivered a three part presentation to the Commissioners. Several other citizens also addressed the Board.

The strategy of the Union seemed to be to go from the specific to the general,

'Spirit of '76' is now here

Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta presented the keys of the new "Spirit of '76" ambulance to Fire Chief George Sbarra Monday.

The $24,000 ambulance includes cardiac monitoring equipment and devices that can monitor vital signs on route to the hospital. Commissioner Saletta said, "we feel the citizens in the community are deserving of the best equipment."

Fire department officials noted the new red, white, and blue ambulance is constructed with a modular aluminum body which stays intact for many years. The modular body can be lifted from a corroded chassis and replaced on a new chassis. Commissioner Saletta noted the ambulance "in the long run will be a lot cheaper to use because of the maintenance."

Fire Department officials said all ambulance crews will be trained in the use of equipment on the "Spirit of '76", which will be officially designated "rescue one." Officials added the ambulance unit the new truck replaces will be put up for bids to help defray the costs.

making some broad budgetary recommendations.

George Mitchell, 149 Academy Street, questioned Commissioner Vincent Strumolo at length on the Public Affairs budget, recommending cuts in the number of summer workers.

Union spokesmen Chris Albanese and Sal Calabro also spoke, with Albanese delivering a lengthy presentation in which he recommended the appropriation of more funds from several areas to offset increases in the budget.

Though none of the Commissioners commented on Albanese's proposals, some indicated his ideas might have some merit.

Commissioner Rocco Saletta moved that the meeting be continued to yesterday evening "because some questions were raised here tonight which we need time to digest."

The most acrimonious exchanges of the night were between Commissioner Joseph McGreevy and several citizens over the department of Weights and Measures.

McGreevy became engaged in heated exchanges over the usefulness of the department, which checks the scales of businesses around town to make sure they are accurately registering weight.

Revaluation tabled

Belleville's Board of Commissioners may have circumvented a court order Tuesday night when it tabled an emergency resolution appropriating funds for revaluation.

The Commission has been ordered by Superior Court Judge Arthur J. Blake to pass the resolution, authorizing the appropriation of $149,000 to pay for the revaluation. Commissioners Mary Senatore and Rocco Saletta have said publicly they oppose the move and may vote against the resolution.

The Board decided to table the proposal in its pre-meeting caucus Tuesday night. Though Town Attorney John Scott has been notified the order has been signed, he has not yet received a copy.

While Commissioner Senatore indicated she would vote against the resolution in spite of Blake's order, Saletta asked that the resolution be tabled until, "we actually have a copy of the order."

According to Scott, the document need not be received by the town to be considered in effect. "If I am told the judge has signed the order," said Scott, "that is enough for me."

Mrs. Senatore asked Scott several times during the caucus if Belleville could appeal the order to revalue, but Scott said there were no grounds.

"I'm not saying we don't want to revalue," said Mrs. Senatore. "We just want an extension."

"We don't have a legal leg to stand on," said Scott. "No matter how distasteful it may be, revaluation has been mandated."

Saletta urged the possibility of appeal be looked into, adding, "What the hell is this Russia? How can we be ordered to do this without a chance to present our side of the case?"

The resolution must be approved by at least four Commissioners in order to pass. If two members of the Board vote against the measure, they could be held in contempt of court, and according to Scott would be subject to either imprisonment or fine.

Though the Commission has passed an ordinance approving revaluation, funds must be appropriated in order to pay for it. Commissioners Senatore and Saletta voted "no" when the measure came up last January, blocking the appropriation.

Local church services set for Easter Sunday

Beginning today, and concluding with Easter Sunday, churches and houses of worship throughout the town will be observing Holy Week with various special services.

Wesley United Methodist Church will celebrate Maundy Thursday today with a family service which will begin at 8 p.m. and include a message for the children. There will be a special observance of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to prepare congregationalists for the crucifixion as they gather at the Lord's table. Readings will be from "Jesus, the Son of Man," by Kahlil Gibran. Special music by the Chancel Choir will include "Go to Dark Gethsemane" and "The Cross on the Hill."

Reverend Hazel L. Thomas, pastor of the church, and Gerald Aulenbach, Organist and choir director, will then sing a duet entitled "Lord, Is it I?"

On Good Friday, beginning at 2 p.m. a community-wide service will be held at Wesley, with members of the Belleville Ministerium leading the congregation in worship. The guest speaker will be Dr. O. Dean Helson, Area Minister for Parish Mission, American Baptist Churches of New Jersey. His sermon will be "Running Away." Miss Jane Aulenbach and Gerald Aulenbach will offer a duet called "For God So Loved the World."

Wesley United will be open from 12 noon, prior to the service, in order that worshipers will have time for quiet meditation and prayer.

On Easter Sunday the church, together with the Belleville Reformed Church, will jointly conduct services for the Ministerium at 5:30 a.m. at the end of Mill Street in Branch Brook (Cherry Blossom Park) Park.

All are welcome at the sunrise service which will be followed by a pancake breakfast which will be served at Belleville Reformed Church, Main and Rutgers Streets. Please call for reservations at 759-8152.

Following the sunrise service and the breakfast, Wesley's Easter celebration will conclude with a worship service at 11 a.m. celebrating the passion and the joy of the resurrection.

At that time special music by the

Knife case goes to GJ

A 22-year old Belleville man charged with possession of a concealed weapon had his case sent to an Essex County Grand Jury following April 7 proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court.

Carl J. Springer, 26 Hilton S.Zet, was arrested March 8 and charged with possession of a "dangerous" knife.

Springer waived his right to a probable cause hearing, and Municipal Court Judge Edward Abromson ordered the case sent to the Grand Jury.

The defendant, who was arrested by Belleville Police Officer James Fallano, was released on $500 pending the outcome of judicial proceedings.

MSC offers senior's hotline

Montclair State College is initiating a toll-free hotline service for older adults of northern New Jersey.

Belleville seniors will be able to take advantage of the service, offered by the college's Resource Center for Practitioners in the Field of Aging. The center will act as a supplementary source of information and assistance for senior citizens in an eight county area.

The people at MSC expect to handle inquiries on a wide range of subjects, including nutrition, social security, Medicare, transportation, nursing services, legislation, recreation, employment, counseling referrals and education.

The hotline went into service April 5, and the number to call is 672-1046. Service will be available around the clock, 24 hours a day. When the phone is not manned, a tape will be attached so that the caller may leave a message. All calls will be answered within 24 hours, according to Kathy Manko, hotline coordinator.

Resource Center personnel will handle all calls initially, Miss Manko said. Later, it is hoped that older volunteers may be recruited and trained to assist for a few hours each day.

In addition to Essex County, there will also be coverage in Bergen, Hudson, Morris, Passaic, Union and Warren counties.

Church plans organ program

Saturday, April 24 at 8 p.m. the Metropolitan Organ Club of Northern New Jersey, Inc., will host a bicentennial musical program at the Belleville Reformed Church, Main and Rutgers Streets.

Featured will be organ, choral and instrumental music, with special vocal solos by Myrna Dreistadt, who is a member of the Ted Cornell Chorale.

In addition to male singers from the Ted Cornell Chorale well-known trumpeter, David Reynolds will perform.

Everyone is invited to attend this program which will be free of charge, and followed by refreshments and a fellowship hour.

Acting competition coming

The Essex County CYO will once again sponsor its One-Act Play Competition for high school CYO units this spring. Co-sponsoring the competition with the CYO, according to program director Kevin Crane, will be the Quest NIA Theater Project.

Entry forms were mailed to CYO groups throughout the county, and an intention of joining the competition had to be in by April 8.

A meeting of all prospective play directors was scheduled for last Monday at the CYO office in Montclair.

The names of each play have to be submitted to the CYO no later than April 23.

The One-Act Play Competition is annually one of the top CYO cultural activities, a spokesman said.

Senior jamboree is in May

Essex County's Senior Citizen Jamboree, scheduled for May 19 at South Mountain Arena in West Orange, will be co-sponsored this year by the county Office on Aging, located in Belleville.

Harry A. McEnroe Jr., director of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, said the event will be held this year under the sponsorship of the Freeholders, the Office on Aging and the Essex County Park Commission.

The Jamboree, which honors Essex County's more than 150,000 senior citizens, will have a Bicentennial theme. Director of the county Office on Aging, Bernard J. Gallagher, said "the month of May is traditionally celebrated throughout the nation as Senior Citizen Month." Each year, a Presidential proclamation honors the occasion.

Director Gallagher also indicated that in keeping with the 1976 Bicentennial spirit, many of the seniors may wish to wear costumes from their ancestral countries.

Senior citizens and interested members of the public are invited to attend this day-long series of events, which will include free medical testing, entertainment and agency staffed information booths. Arts and crafts created by the seniors will be on display for viewing and also for sale.

Attendance at the jamboree is expected to be 10,000 people.

Blossom picture contest

Any camera buffs who have taken pictures of the cherry blossoms in Branch Brook Park may be able to make their efforts pay off by entering the Newark Cherry Blossom Festival Photo Contest.

All entries must have been taken by the entrant in Branch Brook Park during blossom time, but not necessarily this year.

Color slides and prints may be entered, and photos by children under 16 will be judged separately. U.S. Savings bonds will be awarded to the winners.

For entry blanks, write to the Newark Cherry Blossom Festival, P.O. Box 1930, Newark, 07107. Deadline for submitting entries is June 15.

This toll free number leads to THE MONEY STORE, a major lending institution specializing in homeowner loans, where courteous experts are available from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. daily, and up to 2 P.M. on Saturday, to analyze your property equity plus your income and repayment capabilities and tell you exactly how much you can borrow and what your payments should be. All conversations are held in strictest confidence.

SECONDARY MORTGAGE LOANS

The figures quoted will be based on a highly popular method of borrowing, licensed under state law which allows homeowners to cash in on the equity of their homes without selling. This method of borrowing has become so popular that literally tens of thousands of homeowners file applications every year.

BIG MONEY LOANS SMALL PAYMENTS

Under this method a homeowner can borrow any amount from a few hundred dollars up to $25,000 and sometimes much more. The money can be used for any purpose at all including debt consolidation, payment of taxes, medical expenses, college tuition, purchase of an automobile, new furniture, or even for business purposes. This type loan permits for long term payout, therefore payments can be as small as needed.

Charity walk — Michael D. McMahon of South Orange visits with March of Dimes National Poster Child Tammy Patterson. McMahon has been named chairman for the Fifth Annual Essex County March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon, scheduled for May 15.

Walkers will aid charity

The Essex County March of Dimes will take place May 15, and an estimated 5,000 walkers will make their annual trek of 20 miles through Essex County in an all out effort to raise funds for the fight against crippling birth defects.

The walk this year will start and end at two locations, Maplewood Junior High in Maplewood and at Verona Park in Verona. Check points will be set up at intervals along the route so each walker will be credited for the total miles walked.

Each walker obtains an unlimited number of sponsors who pledge a minimum of 10 cents for each mile completed by the walker. These pledges are collected and turned in to the March of Dimes to help support the organization's programs in Neonatal Intensive Care for infants born with serious birth defects. The money will also go towards a program in genetic counseling at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey and a Nurse-Midwifery program at Martland Hospital.

Registration for the May 15 Walk-A-Thon is open. For information, call 744-8828.

Michael D. McMahon of West Orange has been chosen to head the event. McMahon, a member of the Board and treasurer of the local chapter of the National Foundation, will lead the walkers in their march.

President of Polygraph Services Inc., McMahon is a trustee of the Village of South Orange and the father of two children. He has been associated with the March of Dimes for the past five years as a member of the Essex County Chapter Board. His father, the late James J. McMahon, was the founder of the chapter and led the organization to success in the fight against Infantile Paralysis (polio).

Integrity in Racing

Gov. Brendan Byrne's recent appointment and subsequent election of Charles Carella as chairman of the New Jersey Racing Commission augurs well for the future of racing in New Jersey.

Carella, who practiced law in Nutley for many years with Bob Citrino prior to joining the Byrne Administration two years ago, served several years as assistant Essex County Prosecutor when Gov. Byrne headed the law enforcement agency.

Carella comes to the racing post with impeccable integrity credentials. His appointment was the best among many excellent appointments Byrne has made. The New Jersey Racing Commission takes on an added dimension with the opening of the Route 3 Meadowlands Sports Complex. The Sports Complex racetrack will be owned and operated by the State of New Jersey through Carella's Racing Commission — a first for New Jersey. The responsibility to operate a government-owned racetrack enjoying the confidence of the betting public is awesome. Mob infiltration of racetracks via drugged-horses and "bought" jockeys fixing races is an ever-present danger.

With Carella running the Sports Complex racetrack and looking over the shoulders of management operating the privately-owned racetracks throughout New Jersey, we are assured of a scandal-free operating Racing Commission.

Israel Vs. The World?

Psalm 121 — "He who keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep." False? True?

Almost 10 years ago Israel was obligated to wage a defensive war to survive. In the process her armies took possession of conquered lands. Subsequently, her people settled those lands. Well, recently, at the United Nations, even in the U. S. delegate, former Pennsylvania Governor Bill Scranton, rapped Israel because her people premanently settled on land formerly occupied by Jordan.

Israel is a country totally surrounded by enemies pledged to destroy her as a state. American foreign policy seems to be moving away from total Israel support to a middle ground. If we read the signs correctly, Kissenger is asking Israel to surrender territories needed for her defense in return for American territorial guarantees.

For Israel to rely upon American pledges for her very survival in today's enviornment would be sheer madness.

Frank A. Orecchio

BIC should fade away

If BIC in fact is lurking out there somewhere, it missed its chance to become something more than a rumor when it failed to produce one representative at the budget hearing.

While Belleville may need vocal citizens' groups to put across the people's wishes, it does not need groups like BIC. We feel it is time for Belleville Interested Citizens to "put up or shut up." This is a time when the people of Belleville need and seek leadership, either from the Town Fathers or from civic mindrd citizens.

BIC's senseless sniping at the Citizen's Union and the Commissioners is serving no good purpose and we think it is time the organization faded back into the obscure background which produced it.

The public hearing Tuesday for the 1976 Municipal Budget brought forth some of Belleville's annual governmental critics and also featured several new voices in the chorus of disgruntled citizens.

While some of these newcomers were making their presence felt, there was one group which was noticeably missing — BIC, Belleville Interested Citizens.

There has been some talk about this alleged group, supposedly a slightly more militant splinter of the Belleville Citizens' Union. Unfortunately, that is all there has been — talk.

No one has yet come forward and identified himself as a member of this illusive group, and frankly, we are beginning to wonder if it really exists.

Candy guess — The Distributive Education Club of Belleville High School sponsored a three day jelly bean contest this week. The winner, whoever guesses the number of beans in the jar, will win a $25 Savings Bond donated by DeWitt Savings and Loan Association. Last Monday the Easter Bunny made a surprise appearance at the school to start the contest.

Bishop thanks all for aid

To the Editor:

Now that we have been able to catch our breath after the tragic fire of March 22 which destroyed much of St. Peter's Church, we want to express the prayerful thanks of the priests, religious sisters and the parishioners of St. Peter's for the many helping hands and offers of assistance that came to us from the community of Belleville.

We are deeply grateful to the firemen of Belleville who, at great sacrifice and personal danger, fought the fire and brought it under control. We are so grateful there were no serious injuries.

We express our thanks to the members of the Belleville Police Department for their assistance during the time of the tragedy and its aftermath.

The cooperation of our civic officials has been a great help to us and we are most appreciative.

We are thankful for the prayers, expressions of concern and assistance of the religious churches of all denominations who worship in the town of Belleville.

As a parish, we have come to realize that this tragedy, which united us more closely as a people, has, at the same time, bound us together with stronger ties of love and concern to all segments of the community of Belleville.

Easter, which speaks to us of resurrection to new life, has an added impact this year, as we strive to build from the ashes of the fire a more beautiful temple in which to worship the Lord.

The people of Belleville will always have a very special place in the prayers of the priests, religious sisters and parishioners of St. Peter's.

Local letter writer challenges Byrne

To the Editor:

Once again, our "illustrious" governor has brought about the use of my pen, and in all probability, a waste of ink and paper. I shall ask the "governor" for answers to some questions.

Well, "Mr. Governor," again I will challenge you to answer the following:

Does the state really need another "parttime" worker (Mr. Kader) at a salary of $15,000 per year?

Can you justify giving Mr. Kader

ROCK REVIEW

'Queen': give them a chance

By ANTHONY BUCCINO

Would you ever expect to find opera music on a new Hard Rock album? You should if the album is "A Night At The Opera" by Queen (Electra). Queen has been knocking them sideways on radio dials everywhere with "Bohemian Rhapsody" written by band member Freddie Mercury.

"Bohemian Rhapsody" has everything one could hope to find on a rock-opera release, from acappella to a foreign language. The story is that of a young man condemned for killing a man. The telling of the story ranges from fine vocals of sometimes maudlin lyrics to the iconoclast moral, "nothing really matters."

An excellent lead vocal, hitting all the high notes, separates "Love of My Life" from every other love song coming down the pike. It runs a little long but it's not bad, not bad at all.

"The Prophet's Song" could stand on its harmony alone. This fine song is delivered with conviction, a solution, and dismay. It is another way of singing "A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall", much like "Yes" would sing it.

The second best song on this album is "You're My Best Friend". Feet start tapping, before you know it your head is swaying. "39" is easy going, much like "You're My Best Friend", I don't have to listen to it, I hear it so easily. I'll take two!

"Good Company" fails to take itself seriously. It is reminiscent of (but less than equal to) the Beatles "Cry Baby Cry" from their double white album. Seriously taken, "Good Company" is (being polite) difficult to follow, not hard to listen to. The meter is sacrificed for rhyme though the melody, sparked by Brian May on Ukelele, is infectious.

"I'm In Love With My Car" doesn't come close to the perfection of what a great car-song can be that I've seen on "Born To Run". "Lazing On A Sunday Afternoon" is camp, I just wonder why Rudy Vallee wasn't credited on the liner notes. "Lazing..." could be worse but it ends so quickly.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Keep your eye on our Assemblyman, Michael Aduato's Assembly Bill #1737, which is now in the Committee for Municipal and County Government in the Assembly. It could prove most interesting.

One ponders if the measure is designed to provide, if enacted and signed into law, for job security for our lady Commissioner, Mrs. Mary Statore, in her $13,536 per year position as Secretary to the County Planning Board. The bill would provide tenure to such county employees after five years of service.

An inquiry into the activities of the Essex County Planning Board's usual schedule revealed the body meets on the third Wednesday of each month at 11 a.m. for a two-hour session.

Telephone callers requesting to speak with the Board's secretary are told to call Town Hall in Belleville. The position is listed as unclassified, which raises strong doubt as to whether it would merit the Aduato tenure protection he seeks to provide for his Democratic Party leader — the one who helped him win election to office.

Based upon the premise that only 12 two-hour sessions of the Essex County Planning Board are held each year, it would tend to indicate that for 2 hours of attendance work, the Board's secretary earns $564 per hour.

In marked contrast, White House information shows that the President of the United States puts in a 14-hour day on a 7-day week schedule, making a total of 98 hours work a week. He earns $200,000 per year. Therefore, he would only be earning $39.25 per hour, whereas Essex County's Planning Board secretary, Mrs. Statore, is getting the handsome sum of $564. This means she is getting $524.75 more per hour for her working stint than the President of the United States.

Sure looks like politics pays off, don't it? And with tenure besides! How far can they go?

Our information is fragmentary and a bit hazy still, however, leaks of what this quizzical BIC movement seems to be about indicate it is solicitous concern over Sal Calabro's naming of three committee members to study the Town Commissioners' budgets. Calabro has been the spokesman of the newly formed Belleville taxpayers union and seemingly assumed leadership of the group, notwithstanding the non-existence of any duly elected officers.

This rankled some who challenged this arrogation of self-proclaimed authority and led to the charge he had hand-picked members to the budget study committee who were prone to be politically obligated to the Commissioners for past appointments or political affiliations. Some felt they were thus inclined to "whitewash" any waste or unnecessary budget appropriations that might exist.

The BIC group, calling itself Belleville Interested Citizens, set up an executive committee which excluded Mr. Calabro from its session. Mr. Frank Stanco proclaimed the group designated to examine the town budget constituted a direct conflict of interest in view of the political background of the men selected to serve thereon. While acknowledging the eloquence of Mr. Calabro, he called him vociferous and suggested he might be seeking political aggrandizement.

What effect this serious rift could have upon the budding movement to stir-up taxpayer resistance to outrageous tax increases is conjectural. However, it has been learned that Mrs. Sally Hoold has resigned from the organization, which may be dying aborning.

It is most unfortunate that dissention should rear its ugly head among such a group of qualified, well-intentioned people. People who could, if they would only stick together, provide a much needed watchdog body to prevent extravagances and unnecessary costly government.

One suggestion, try to avoid listening to "Death On Two Legs" with a full stomach. "Death On Two Legs" is as hard as rock gets on "A Night At The Opera", it is a bitter hate song aimed at — well, I won't even begin to guess, but I'm sure glad "it ain't me, babe."

Queen is a highly versatile group. "A Night At The Opera" has something for everyone. If you give them the chance, I'm sure you won't be disappointed.

Watch For's:

Another group growing in popularity is AEROWMITH. Their present release "Dream On" proves they are worth looking into. . . Try and see "Doug Henning's Magic Show" at Montclair State College April 19, 8 p.m. . . Watch for new releases this month from: NAZARETH ("Close Enough For Rock 'N' Roll) including new renderings of classic BYRDS songs among other treats; JOE COCKER ("Singray") "with the tightest soul band this side of heaven", I'm told; the TUBES (Young and Rich"); the CARPENTERS ("A Kind Of Hush") featuring irresistible KAREN C.

'Little Flower' is in full bloom again

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

The little blue-eyed, rosy-cheeked daughter of farmers tilling soil, awarded to them by General Giuseppe Garibaldi, the Italian-guerrilla fighter, was told she could migrate to America with her brother to join an older sister and brother already living in the promised land.

By today's standards, these were poor people — poor that is — in material things, but rich in spirit and character. It is difficult to imagine even in today's "free society," a 13-year-old girl with a 15-year-old brother leaving behind a loving mother, a doting father, a younger brother, to embark on a trip across the sea in a ship not much better than the 1492 sailboats of Columbus, prepared to make a new life for themselves in a land whose language and customs were foreign to them.

But — with indomitable courage they journeyed forth — eternal hope beating in their breasts and prayer beads in their palms. They weathered the difficulties of a storm-tossed sea, not as first-class passengers, but what in these days would be described as a "No Frills" reservation.

To the shores of America they finally arrived, literally falling into the outstretched hands of a loving brother and sister.

The traumatic experience of Ellis Island behind them — they eventually settled in Nutley. She took a job with the Knickerbocker Cutlery Company, cutting bone handles for knives. The pay was three bucks for a nine-hour day, five-day week. Her industry led the teenager to produce twice as many handles as any other employee, which led to a pay raise of $7 for a 45-hour, five-day week. Not one to waste hard-earned money, the pig-tailed brown-eyed brunette, at age 14 — decided to invest some of her hard-earned money in Nutley real estate. So — with $5 down she acquired a vacant lot for $200. Someday, she soliloquized, I'm going to marry, raise a family, and I want to do it in my own home. I don't want any landlord to knock on the ceiling or on the floor and tell me my kids are making too much noise.

"We lived in a two-room apartment with bath. My first two boys were born in that apartment. Most of the neighbors' floors were uncarpeted, but I'll tell you those ladies knelt on their hands and knees, scrubbing the pine floors until they were gleaming white. Of course you know — we had inlaid linoleum."

And on-and-on she recalled the trying, burden-filled days of her youth. "It was hard work but a lot of fun too. Those days, neighbors talked to one another, helped each other, borrowed sugar, coffee, milk and money from each other. They even argued. Why, I could recall the day when Maggie Marone was arguing with our beloved neighbor across the street — Rose Renn. The Renn boys were half a dozen, and the Marone boys were four. Being kids they fought over nothing and I guess that day, the Marone kids got the worst of the fighting, and Maggie walked up the block to raise hell with Mrs. Renn.

"I heard them arguing so I went to my front porch to see how serious they were. When Maggie saw me, she stopped arguing with Mrs. Renn and said, 'How come you never fight over your kids?' I told her I had only two boys and they knew better than to pick a fight with families that had four and six brothers."

With his own hands, her husband built her dream home on the lot she had bought as a 14-year-old girl for $200. Her family grew to three boys and one girl. The financial burdens of raising a family of four led her husband to work 80 hours a week, holding down one full-time job and moonlighting the rest of the time.

"We found our happiness in family life," she recalled with mist-filled eyes. "Well, the boys and girl have all grown up now. I just wish their father was around to share my pride."

Looking into her aging, sparkling blue eyes, I saw a look of satisfaction and contentment. Here, obviously was a lady who had lived the good life, with only one goal — family happiness and servitude. I could feel that a sense of inner peace and life fulfillment possessed this very religious, grand lady of the family. She manifested a state of satisfaction experienced by very few.

Last week she celebrated a birthday — she owns up to 80 years, plus.

"When you reach my years, have peace with God, my family, and the world, it may be a bad omen to boast about the years God blessed me with. Let's just say I'm over 80."

On her over-80th birthday, she prepared a seven-course meal for her baker's dozen — her sons, daughter, daughter-in-law, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, well, it's time to say Happy Birthday, Mom.

"Happy Legs?" Part of the anatomy, no? Guess again. Pantyhose.

Last Friday, on Eastern's 759 to Fort Lauderdale I sat next to "Happy Legs" President Gene Kule, a nice guy enjoying a Horatio Alger success story.

In making with small talk, typical of my first few minutes airborne, I asked Gene Kule what was his business. "I'm president of 'Happy Legs,'" responded Kule. Not being familiar with "Happy Legs," I thought Kule was pulling my leg. In a matter of moments, Kule's legitimacy was established. Stewardesses Susan Janel, Max Cixlo and Sherry Baken all confirmed knowledge — and use — of Happy Legs. Tall, attractive, blonde, Sherry Baken observed, "I like Happy Legs because I'm tall and they give me the best fit." If you are tall and need a better fit it might pay you to look into "Happy Legs." And even if you aren't tall, President Gene says his "Happy Legs" are the best around.

Eastern's Flight 749's cabin crew was excellent, Senior Stewardess Susan Janel and Stu Sherry Baken helped turn the trip into a New Year's Eve atmosphere — carefree, fun, jolly banter, good food and good spirits.

Eastern's Flight 742 from Fort Lauderdale to Newark was relatively quiet this week — the normal experience when one realizes that most passengers are worn out, tired, vacationers, returning to the cold, cruel, north. The EAL crews, flight deck and cabin, were great. Captain Stan Duke reduced the aircraft speed to provide greater passenger comfort as we made our way through turbulent skies. Senior Stewardess Holly Ann Salichs was very impressive. The moment I boarded flight 742 at Fort Lauderdale, and my eyes picked up the uniformed sight of blonde Holly Ann directing passengers to their seats, I knew this stew would have a strong handle on events throughout the flight. She looked every bit the pro that she is — a "take-charge" gal. Holly Ann received an able assist from stewardess Jeanne Ritter. The girls simply couldn't do enough to accommodate passenger comfort and demands. And believe me — returning, tired vacationers are not the most patient lot in the world.

The "Little Flower," a flower that blooms year-round — is in full bloom again. Old-time Nutleyites will know Nutley's Little Flower is none other than Fiore Stabile — advisor to Governors, Senators, Board of Education members and Town Commissioners. Fiore, while based in Nutley, has a state-wide reputation for his political sagacity. Almost all candidates for county and municipal office eventually seek out the "Little Flower" for his sage advice — and equally important political support. The Little Flower holds court every day at his Washington Diner, at the corner of Washington Avenue and Centre Street. He has influenced the result of every Commission election since 1936. Forty years later — 1976 — continues to find the Little Flower the "center piece" at tables where politicians gather. Incumbents, challengers, Democrats, Republicans, Independents — it matters not — Fiore Stabile finds himself pushed into the thick of things — a unique, indestructible individual who is perhaps Nutley's most astute politician, and more often than not — the Little Flower reaches full bloom perennially supporting winners — a track record hard to beat.

this position? If it's because of his dedicated service over the past few years, then let me ask you this about his service to you and the people of New Jersey:

As a lawyer and a judge, why did you need a personal attorney, or isn't the state's Department of Justice able to handle some of your legal matters?

Why did Mr. Kader, as well as all the other high salaried "employees" of this state require chauffeur driven limosines? Are they that much higher than the average working man?

Why was Mr. Kader's chauffeur hidden away as an employee of another department?

Why wasn't he dismissed for this?

Why wasn't Mr. Kader, with such a brilliant legal mind, dismissed after breaking the law by not paying his taxes, or are fines and possible jail sentences just for average citizens?

When are you going to clean house of these high salaried "employees" that are helping to keep us broke?

Why not use the term "thorough and efficient" as applied to education when it comes to their positions? Or does it really take four or five people to do the job of one and continue to burden of heavy, overhead dollars?

And finally, "Mr. Governor," when in hell will I and other citizens get some answers instead of "Thank you for your comments?"

As far as this voter is concerned I'll give you my answer at the next election. Please do decide to run, because I promise not to waste my vote like the last time.

Dems need new leaders

To the Editor:

As the National Democratic Party undergoes the process necessary to determine its national standard bearer, there is offered a lesson for local Democrats to learn. The existence of a vacuum in leadership brings forth capable persons desirous of filling the gap.

Here in Belleville, we have endured a decade of moribund obfuscation passing for leadership. Success based on the voting predisposition of the populous has been transformed into self aggrandizement. Hardworking, conscientious County Committee people are frustrated in finding their dedication to political ideals transformed in the repetitious utterance of the ninth letter of the alphabet.

This self-proclaimed maternalism leaves us with a leadership vacuum crying to be filled.

It is one of my Bicentennial wishes that July 4, 1976 finds Belleville with a new, invigorated Democratic leadership. One that is capable, dynamic and askin hat questio rarely heard today, "What can we do for our party and its role in government?"

Paper slammed for 'ethnic' cartoon

To the Editor:

The Belleville Board of Education has recently been accused of ethnic discrimination in its hiring practices. These unfair charges have placed undue scrutiny on our school system by state officials.

While our Board members have tried to dispel such allegations, your paper has chosen to enforce the illusion that discrimination does exist in this town.

I am referring to the publication of an ethnic cartoon in the April 1 edition of your paper ("Twitch"), in which you hurled an insult at the Irish people of Belleville. Regardless of the background of any person's heritage, the publication of any material berating the national origin of that person is in extremely poor taste.

A newspaper should reflect the attitudes of the people it serves. This, I am sure, you have not done, whether intentionally or not.

RELIGIOUS COMMENTARY

Passover and Easter thoughts

Liberation

By RABBI HERBERT HOROWITZ
CONG. AHAVATH ACHIM

Liberation is a term that is central to the vocabulary of the world in the 1970's. The National Liberation Front, Palestinian Liberation organization are allegedly dedicated to freeing their land and people who are victims of oppression.

What is the true meaning of "Herut," freedom? The holiday of Passover presents us with the pathos and mystique of genuine freedom. Why do we eat "Matzoh," unleavened bread, on Passover?

Matzoh is the physical symbol of slavery turned into liberation. The Israelites in Egypt had to eat "Lechem Oni," the bread of affliction; bread that wasn't even given enough time to rise. A slave merely needed enough food for sustenance in order to perform the tasks for his master.

Don Isaac Abarbanel and Moses Maimonides, two great Jewish biblical scholars, explain that the bread of affliction was transformed into the bread of liberation through the supernatural intervention of God in the affairs of man. This same unleavened bread serves as the symbol of the hopes and aspirations of modern mankind to live free of oppression and abject slavery.

Passover 1976 sees the world again divided between those who live under oppression and those who strive to maintain the liberty and dignity of mankind. The Soviet Union continues to withhold the bread of freedom from our Soviet Jewish brothers and refuses to grant Russian Jews the right to practice Judaism. The exodus to Israel and the right of emigration has been slowed, but it will never be stopped by the communist Pharaoh!

Many Arab nations recognize the need for the liberation of oppressed people of the world, excluding one people from this list — the Jews.

The Jewish liberation movement, Zionism, is the only one the Arabs unequivocally proclaim as racist and oppressive.

Therefore, what is the true meaning of liberation?

It is the recognition of the rights of all people to liberty and dignity. Empathy for the oppressed in feeling their pain, degradation and as shackled human beings.

But above all, liberation is passing the torch of freedom from one generation to another. As the "Hagadah," the liberation manual of Passover so beautifully states:

"Thou shalt tell thy children on that day saying: This is done (Passover) because of what God did for me when I left Egypt in liberation."

Easter is life

REV. PAUL RUTER
DUTCH REFORMED CHURCH

When asked to write a guest editorial about Easter, I said yes not knowing the origin of the word Easter. I was certain I would not find it in the Holy Bible. But, I looked anyway. It wasn't there. Why? Easter is the highest and holiest feast of the Christian Churches since the third century A.D. Why is it called Easter. When did the Easter rabbit come hopping into the picture. Was he there when Jesus Christ the Son of God rose from His sojourn with the dead. And, what about those beautiful colored eggs that are hidden somewhere? Easter would not be Easter without them. I went to the library to find out.

The word Easter comes from the word Eostra. Eostra was a goddess of the Teutonic peoples of Northern Europe. Eostra was the goddess of Spring. In celebrating the resurrection of Jesus Christ the word Easter was adopted by the Christian Churches between the second and third centuries. The Easter rabbit represents the rebirth found in the resurrection and the egg represents the empty tomb out of which Jesus Christ came. The egg looks dead but on the inside is very much alive. There is something wonderful about Easter and all of its symbols, and that certain something is life.

Jesus Christ once said, "I have come into the world to bring life and to bring it with abundance." Take your fingers and hold two of them to the veins in your wrist. Feel that gentle thump, thump, thump. Try and stop those thumps for a minute like you hold your breath. You can't do it. That thump, thump was there even before you were born. You didn't put it there and you won't take it away either. That little thump thump, that little whisper is life. It is you. There is something wonderful about the heart of life. Someday it will stop and that might be terrible. When you think about you and life and how you came to be a person it seems as if somebody planned it. Its so W-O-N-D-E-R-F-U-L-L-E-D.

It's been a long cold winter as the saying goes. The death of winter is past now. It is as if someone planned Winter Spring Summer and Fall. And you, what about you, does someone plan your death? It's terrible to think about isn't it? It says in the Holy Bible that our life is like grass, like the flower, like the lily of Easter, here today and gone tomorrow. Does anyone cry when a lily dies? I wonder? It is very possible that someone will cry when you die. The lily is a symbol of Easter. Symbols are meant to help people see the truth. That is why the Christian Churches have adopted certain symbols from the pagans.

The word see in the Holy Bible means more than just seeing with the human eye. It means to see with the heart. It means to understand something that is not quite reasonable with our small minds. In its deepest meaning it means to "know with the heart." As the saying goes, "the heart has reasons the mind does not know of."

There is something to be seen in Easter. Easter is a celebration of life. But, there is something that exists in the rabbit, in the egg, in the lily, and in the heart beat. That certain something is God, the Father, the Creator of all life.

There is something wonderful about Easter. It is Jesus Christ the Son of God risen from the dead. There is something terrible about Easter. It's the death of all those lilies. It is the death of you and me. But, can't you see, Jesus Christ is risen. He is Lord of the living and the dead. Jesus Christ said, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life, no one comes to the Father except through me." Jesus has given us Life Everlasting with no death. There is something wonderful about Easter.

Bell has display

New Jersey Bell's Bicentennial presentation "Proud Heritage" will put in an appearance at Belleville's Cavalcade of Progress on April 21 and 22 at Belleville High School.

The presentation, housed in the company's 45-foot long mobile Bicentennial theater, will be open to visitors from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m., according to Ed Davey, New Jersey Bell community relations director in Belleville.

The telephone company's multimedia production, which is touring the state during 1976, also will be on exhibit at Belleville Town Hall, April 25, as part of the town's annual Cherry Blossom Parade.

The Bicentennial gala will be open from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The 12 minute show is in full color and emphasizes the milestones in New Jersey's history. The show uses 10 slide projectors which project historical and contemporary scenes on an 18-foot screen inside the mobile theater and is synchronized with a stereo soundtrack.

New Jersey Bell produced the educational exhibit as part of its corporate responsibility to the residents of the Garden State and to its customers, a spokesman said. The Bicentennial of the nation also coincides with the 100th anniversary of the invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell, it was noted.

The mobile theater is available for community Bicentennial observances throughout the state. Interested parties may contact their local telephone business office.

The company also has produced, with other Bell System companies in New Jersey, a 25-minute film, "Tales of New Jersey."

Chamber cavalcade set for next week

More than 30 businesses and agencies have rented booths for the Belleville Chamber of Commerce's Cavalcade of Progress, to be held next Wednesday and Thursday, April 21 and 22 from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Belleville High School.

The Cavalcade, held periodically by the Chamber, affords Belleville the opportunity to see what the town's businesses make and sell. According to Harry French, president of the Chamber, "This is an opportunity for the people to come and see what we have to offer and what a fine place Belleville is to live, work and do business."

The public is invited to attend the affair, and admission is free. For a full list of the participating groups and businesses, see the ad on page 2 of this week's Times/News.

Crusader leader named for county

Frank E. Connery, president of Rheingold Breweries, Orange, is this year's Crusade Chairman for the Essex County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

A native of Kearny, Connery will lead more than 9,000 Cancer Society volunteers in an effort to raise $323,000 during April, Cancer Control Month, to fund the society's programs in education, research and patient services.

Connery, who supervised the recent transfer of Rheingold's corporate headquarters from New York to Orange, is director of the U.S. Brewers Association and a member of the President's Council of American Management Association.

His appointment as Rheingold's president in 1974 capped a 30-year career in the brewing industry.

Connery's crusade team includes 9,000 volunteers who will make door-to-door appeals for donations during April. Other volunteers will be engaged in special events and other efforts to raise Essex County's record goal set for 1976.

Sketchy! Morton Birkin, Director of Art for the Belleville Public Schools, demonstrated the proper technique of sketching a portrait as model Lori Giordano quietly poses. Birkin has helped arrange the student art exhibit which will be on display at Newark Airport in May.

Art show slated for airport

Paintings, drawings, prints and other varied media by students of Belleville High School will be exhibited in the Newark Airport beginning May 3 through May 28.

Morton Birkin, Director of Art for the Belleville Public Schools, arranged the exhibition.

Birkin, who is an award winning nationally known painter in his own right, is very happy to present the students' work in this important exhibition. "This exhibition is a national and international event, as thousands of people from this country and all over the world will be viewing the exhibition", stated Birkin. "People from all walks of life will observe the work" he continued. "This is important because we believe that the artist is alive in any person, whatever his kind of work may be — if he becomes inventive, searching, daring and self-expressing. Art is never an outside, extra thing! This exhibition symbolizes these ideas."

Birkin's thirty seven years of exhibitions, honors, and awards will be listed in the 1976 Bicentennial "Who's Who in American Art."

The student exhibition, which will include over fifty works, will be exhibited in the "Satellite A" building of the United Air Lines at Newark Airport May 3 through May 28.

Theodore Bikel coming for April 28 concert

Theodore Bikel, actor and folk singer, will be guest artist in the final event in Union College Student Government Association's 1975-76 Lecture and Entertainment Series, on Wednesday, April 28, at 8 p.m., it was announced today by Thomas Fantini, SGA president.

Three students are honored

Three local students are among the 27 Essex County residents named to the Dean's List for academic excellence for the fall 1975 term, at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken.

John Vincent of Belleville was among the seniors at the school to be named, while sophomore Harold Bata and freshman David Marra joined their fellow townsman on the honor roll.

Miss S. Antolini in honor society

Susan Antolini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Antolini, 21 Yale Terrace, Belleville, was inducted into Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education at Kean College of New Jersey, Union, on December 9.

To qualify for the honor society, a student must achieve a cumulative grade point average of 3.45 or better.

Miss Antolini will receive her BA degree from Kean College this June. She is a major in both elementary and reading education.

Miss Drake to act in O'Neill comedy

Susan Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drake, 21 Reservoir Place, Belleville, will take to the stage when Kean College presents Eugene O'Neill's play "Ah, Wilderness!"

Miss Drake is a senior at the school, majoring in speech, theatre, media and elementary education.

The play, which rehearsals, is sponsored by the Speech, Theatre and Media Division at Kean. It will be performed May 6, 7 and 8 in the Wilkens Theatre for the Performing Arts.

"Ah, Wilderness!" is the only comedy written by Eugene O'Neill, of America's greatest playwrights. This play fits into the theatre's Bicentennial Season since it takes place on the Fourth of July in 1906 with a "typical" American family as O'Neill sees them.

Belleville trio makes FDU lists

Provost Samuel Bieber of the Teaneck-Hackensack campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University has released the undergraduate Honors List and Deans List for the fall semester, 1975.

Two Bellevilleites, Louis Boras and Vincent Lipoma, were named to the Honors List. The two men achieved the distinction by earning at least 3.5 points out of a possible four.

Luciano D'Uva, also of Belleville, was named to the Dean's List for achieving at least a 3.2 out of the four possible academic points.

Seton Hall prep honors two locals

Two students from Belleville have been named to the Seton Hall Preparatory School Honor Roll for maintaining cumulative "A" averages.

Michael A. Rauth and Stephen T. Semienick were both accorded the distinction recently.

Services planned for coming holy day

Chancel Choir, again under the direction of Gerald L. Aulenbach, will include "Alleluia!," "The Risen Christ," and " 'Twas One Sunday Morning."

"Why Are You Weeping?" will be the dialog sermon to be presented by Revs. Hazel Thomas and Diane Vale.

At Belleville Reformed Church Rev. Paul Ruter and his congregation will be celebrating Maundy Thursday this evening with a special Holy Communion service at 8 p.m. using the office of "Tennebrae" (The Lord's Supper Service).

Dating back to approximately 150 A.D. the service is a solemn observation of the Lord's supper, and first celebrated in the fourth century. The word "tennebrae," means darkness, and brings to the service eight candles, which are gradually extinguished symbolizing the flight and denial of the disciples and friends of Jesus. A final 9th candle, symbolizing Christ, remains lighted throughout the ceremony.

On Good Friday, Belleville Reformed will adjoin to Wesley Methodist where a community-wide service offering dramatic reading of the Gospel will take place in addition to the reading of psalms and meditation.

The Church will take part in the sunrise services in the park on Easter Sunday and will be the host church for the pancake breakfast following the service.

Thereafter, at 9:30 a.m. children from the Belleville Reformed Sunday School will present a play depicting the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ. The regular 11 a.m. service will be a special Easter Sunday worship service, and at 7:30 p.m. in the evening an Agapae Feast (meaning a Divine Love) feast will be held in the church. A meal similar to those eaten by the early Christians will be served which will include cheeses, fruit and nuts.

Easter music will prevail at the services.

In line with the Holy Days, traditional Passover services will be conducted at Congregation Ahavath Achim by Rabbi Herbert Horowitz.

The first service will be this morning at 9 a.m., with a second service following this evening at 6:25 p.m. Tomorrow, there will be a morning service at 9 a.m. and an evening service at 6:25 p.m. On Saturday there will be a service at 9 a.m. and another evening service at 6:25 p.m.

On Tuesday, April 20 there will be a 6:20 evening service. A service at 9 a.m. will be held Wednesday, April 21, and again that same evening at 6:30 p.m. On Thursday, April 22 the synagogue will hold a special memorial service, with an additional service at 6:30 in the evening. On Friday, April 23 the evening service will commence at 8:30 p.m., and the following morning, Saturday, April 24 services will be held at 9 a.m. at Ahavath Achim.

Ritual chairman of the synagogue is Dr. S.P. Fisher while Irving Berkowitz serves as president of the temple.

Services at St. Peter's this year will be the same as in the past, although because of a recent tragic fire, masses will be held in the School Auditorium and Cafeteria.

To commemorate the Last Supper, Auxiliary Bishop Joseph A. Costello, pastor of the church, announces that there will be a celebrated mass at 8 p.m. in the School Auditorium. Following the mass, the Blessed Sacrament will be reserved in the Repository in the School Auditorium where visits are made up to 12 midnight. On Good Friday, until 3 p.m. the Blessed Sacrament will continue to be exposed, and commencing at 3 will be the Solemn liturgy during which the cross will be venerated and Holy Communion distributed. Starting at 8 p.m. in the evening there will be a scriptural service in the School Auditorium.

Catholics are reminded that Good Friday is one of the few holy days on which they must observe fast and abstinence.

On Saturday, April 17 at 8 p.m. the Easter Vigil Mass will be held in the Auditorium. At this mass the new fire will be lighted, Easter water will be blessed and baptism vows will be renewed. Participation in this mass fulfills the Easter Sunday obligation.

Confessions will only be heard one day, Holy Saturday, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the School Auditorium. Adults and children alike will receive the sacrament of penance at that time.

Easter Sunday masses will be at 6, 7, 8, 9:30, 10:45 and 12 noon in the School Auditorium, and at 9:30, 10:45 and 12 noon in the School Cafeteria.

Assisting with Holy week services at St. Peter's will be Rev. James F. Heavey, Rev. Richard F. Groncki, Rev. Anthony J. Lionelli of St. Peter's, Rev. Genadius Diez, O.S.B. of Newark Abbey and Rev. Robert F. Grady of Seton Hall University.

This evening, St. Anthony's Church in the Silver Lake section of town will hold a concelebrated mass of the Lord's Supper at 7:30 p.m., with adoration of the Blessed Sacrament immediately after mass, until midnight. Tomorrow, Good Friday, the adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will continue until 3:30 p.m. when stations of the cross will be held. In the evening at 7:30 p.m. a solemn liturgical communion service will take place. On Holy Saturday at 7:30 p.m. there will be an Easter Vigil mass, followed by a solemn High Vigil mass. Easter Sunday masses will be at 7:30 a.m., 9, 10, 11 and 12 noon.

Agnes Meala will be organist during the special services, and the Mens Choir of the church will sing at the 7:30 p.m. mass on Saturday and on Easter Sunday.

Rev. Joseph J. Cestaro, pastor of St. Anthony's will be assisted at the services by Rev. John Colabelli.

Confessions, in preparation for Easter Sunday, will be held today from 4 to 5 p.m., and after the 7:30 p.m. evening mass. On Saturday there will be confessions from 11 to 12 a.m. for children, and from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. for adults. There will be no additional confessions.

This evening at 6:30 p.m., Bethany Lutheran Church will celebrate Maundy Thursday with a special congregational supper and table communion.

Tomorrow, Bethany will take part in the Inter-church service at 2 p.m. at Wesley Methodist, together with other Protestant churches throughout Belleville.

Good Friday evening services will be held at 8 p.m. at Bethany Lutheran, and Easter Sunday Service will be at 11 a.m. Officiating at Easter services on Sunday will be supply minister Rev. William Niebanck.

Special music for the service will be by the church choir under the direction of organist Mrs. Robert Schulz.

Reverend Alfred W. Stone Jr. of Fewsmith Memorial announced that special Maundy Thursday services will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the Sanctuary of the church, where Holy Communion will also be distributed.

"Service of Shadows" under the direction of Lani Smith and Hazel Hulme will be presented in the special service of music.

On Good Friday, Fewsmith will be included in the inter-community service program. The church will also take part in the 5:30 sunrise service Easter Sunday. Back at the church Easter Sunday services will be at 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m. with the church choir singing at all services.

The Silver Lake Baptist Church, under the pastordship of Rev. Benedetto Pascale will celebrate Holy Thursday this evening at 7:30 p.m. during which time Holy Communion will also be distributed. On Good Friday the church will be open from 12 noon to 3 p.m. at which time parishioners can stop to meditate an offer prayers. At 7:30 p.m. in the evening there will be a service viewing the life of Christ.

On Easter Sunday there will be a sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. in the Church Gardens, which will be followed by breakfast in the church. At 11 a.m. there will be a church service where baptism by immersion will take place. The 11 a.m. mass will feature organist and soloist Alba Brunetto and soloist Rose Gerace and Dr. Domenico Lupo. In addition to Mrs. Brunetto singing "My Redeemer Liveth," from the "Messiah," the entire choir will sing "Holy City," "In Josph's Lovely Garden" and the "Resurrection."

Bicentennial Commission to plant Liberty Tree

Belleville will be joining with other communities throughout the state on April 17, which has been designated as New Jersey Day by the Legislature, by planting a Liberty Tree. On April 17, 1702 Queen Anne of England signed the decree consolidating East and West Jersey into the geographic area that is now New Jersey.

Mrs. JoAnn McGough of the Belleville Bicentennial Commission has announced that a Liberty Tree will be planted on the grounds of Belleville High School on April 17, 1976 at 10 a.m.

The Liberty Tree will be a red oak, the State tree of New Jersey. In colonial towns Liberty Trees often marked the spots where local leaders gathered to plan their revolutionary actions and became a symbol in the struggle for freedom.

The Reverend Frederick Long, Chairman of the Belleville Bicentennial Commission, will be the keynote speaker. Mayor Michael Marotti along with members of the Bicentennial Commission will also participate in the ceremony which will take place on April 17th on the Division Avenue side of Belleville High School.

To help make this tree distinctive, the Environment Department of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville will plant and maintain a seasonal garden around the tree.

Mrs. McGough, the Liberty Tree Chairman, stated that residents are invited to participate in the Liberty Tree ceremony on April 17.

Tracksters are talented

By Sal Taibi

Belleville High School's track team had its annual Blue-Gold meet on Thursday, March 25. The Blue-Gold meet is an inter-squad meet that gives the team and the coach a chance to see what potential the team has in the events. It also gives the timers and scorekeepers some experience before the first meet.

Due to repair work being done on the school's track, it could not be used for the meet. All running events had to be held in the streets just outside of the stadium. Even with odd situation, head coach Mr. Richard Ruffalo felt that "the meet went very smoothly."

This is Mr. Ruffalo's second year as head coach and it looks as if he might have another winning season. Outstanding performances were given by team members Nelson Seda, Fran Morel, and Doug Jackson.

The team's first meet was away at Nutley, but rain forced a postponement. They have been working very hard for a month and hoped to return home with a victory. The Blue-Gold meet has shown them that they do have the talent and potential to have their second winning season in a row.

Mary Sinnot wins honorable mention

Mary Sinnot, a junior at Belleville High School, received a honorable mention award in the merchandise mathematics event that was held by the Distributive Education Clubs of America's Annual State Conference at Cherry Hill, New Jersey.

The merchandise mathematics event, in which Mary received her award, was evaluated on the number of correct answers completed in the shortest amount of time.

Belleville D.E.C.A. chapter entered the state conference events for the first time this year. Thanks to the hard work of their advisors, Mr. Ralph La Conte and Mr. William Trimmer, who also attended the convention.

Seven other students attended the convention. They were Tim Dolan, a senior; Lisa Herrmann, Lucille Tufariello, Sandra Colombrito, Debbie Doll, Lorraines Taylor, and Wade Farrar. Six of the students mentioned above are officers of the D.E.C.A. club.

PERSONALITY PLUS

Class musicians profiled

By JOANNE SANTIGLIA

Recently Belleville High school seniors voted for Ellen Ventura and Ronald Frage as their choice for class musicians. Seventeen years old Ellen says that her interest was first sparked when in grade school, she played the clarinet. She can now play the piano, cello, guitar and has some knowledge of the violin and flute.

Ellen enjoys listening to and playing various types of music, but chamber music is her favorite to perform, while country rock is her favorite listening music.

As far as participating in school, Ellen plays the cello for and is president of the school orchestra. In the chorus, she sings along with the altos and will be taking one of the leads. Mrs. Irene Molly, in "Hello Dolly. How's that for versatility?

Ellen at first wanted a musical career, but decided against it, feeling that she needed a more solid foundation. Her career plan is to major in language and become an interpreter, perhaps from English to French. She plans to minor in music, but strictly for her own pleasure, not for money or to perform.

Ellen says about the reward of music, "It is fulfilling knowing that you are such a little part in such a big orchestra or chorus but that without you, it would be entirely different."

Ronnie Frage, or "Ribbit" as he is called, loves composition and the actual theory behind music. Although he enjoys both vocal and instrumental, his preference is a bit more specific; he "dislikes hard rock immensely, thinks jazz is the best and finds classical music beautiful." He is especially interested in a type of music called progressive rock.

Ronnie is a very versatile musician. He plays the trumpet, piano, guitar, bass, organ and even Coke bottles. In the school chorus, he is a tenor and he plays the trumpet in both the school orchestra and band. Ronnie is now performing with a group called "A Touch of Earth."

Lamberti on sports

By MIKE LAMBERTI

"Intestinal Fortitude." This phrase is often used by the head track coach at Belleville High School, Mr. Rich Ruffalo. He'll often tell one that to be good at track, one needs to have intestinal fortitude.

For Ruffalo, this is his second year as head track coach at Belleville. He is assisted by Mr. Jon Semcer who coaches the field events.

In Ruffalo's 1975 rookie campaign, he directed the cindermenten to an 8-6 record. If the team had a little more depth last year, they could have very easily been 12-2. The team lost four meets by a total of 27 points.

However, 1975 was also a promising year for the team because for the first time in 15 years, a Belleville High School track team had a winning season. The chances for a second straight winning campaign will rely mainly on depth.

While the team has strong front runners, who can win a lot of races, Ruffalo is working with the men who will be needed to take second and third place in the meets. Those extra points will be extremely important if the team is to win the close meets. Ruffalo predicts that almost every meet this season will come right down to the wire and the winner will be the team who has that little extra momentum. Ruffalo feels that the men have been working very hard and points out that quarter miler John Matera has been putting out a lot more than what had been expected. Since practice started on March 1, Matera has put out everything he possibly can. Besides running the quarter mile, John is also considering competing in the long jump and running in the mile relay. "The way John has been performing this season, he can do anything and do it well," said the coach.

Participant — Sal Taibi, reporter for the School Page, also was a participant in the track team's Blue-Gold meet. Here, Taibi takes a crack at clearing the high jump bar.

Critic's corner

'Do It' does it again

By FATIMA ANDERSON

"Let's Do It Again," is another hilarious movie by the well known comic duo of Bill Cosby and Sidney Poitier. Jimmy "J.J." Walker, getting his first chance to act in a motion picture, adds a touch of comic genius to the film. How can one transform a meek, mild-looking man into a ferocious tiger?

If one has seen the first episode starring Bill Cosby and Sidney Poitier, entitled "Uptown Saturday Night," do not miss this one. It is equally as funny if not funnier than the first.

The Staple Singer do an excellent job in performing the soundtrack to the movie, which gives it vitality.

The Pips produce another hit album

By Elizabeth Frank

Gladys Knight and The Pips get it all together with "imagination." All the songs come alive when this group adds that special touch of soul. Miss Knight throws herself into the lyrics and emerges with great songs.

With an upbeat tempo, "I've Got To Use My Imagination," is a dancing song. A funky beat makes the listener want to start moving. Disco is what this song is all about. "Midnight Train to Georgia" is a more mellow song that climbed to the top of the charts. Love is what this song is about and Gladys Knight makes it all come together.

The Pips provide low-key yet fantastic background, but Gladys Knight puts the icing on the cake.

'Dolly' gets a rave

By Barbara Sougelas

Standing ovation, for the first time in the history of Bellevilles' long list of productions, was given for each of "Hello Dolly's" performances. The tribute was well deserved.

Director, Robert Leffebine, along with the help of the assistant director, Miss Joan Dellano took a total of forty-five high school students, most of them without past experience, and taught them to perform. Each participant added something special to the very successful show. The choreographer, Mrs. Marilyn McGrath, did a wonderful job, as did Jeff Stone, the musical director and MaryJane Izzo, the set designer.

The play revolved around Mrs. Dolly Levi, a match maker who had her eye on her own match, and through the show attempted to get him. Her match, Horace Vandergelder, was played by Tom Couchlin. Tom did a great job portraying the mean and rich Mr. Vandergelder. He proved he not only has the ability to act but also a great singing ability. Mrs. Dolly Levi was played by a talented senior, Michele Gierla.

Not only was Michele's acting done well, but her facial expressions and actions made one believe it wasn't Michele Gierla at all: it was Mrs. Dolly Levi. James Del Guerzio's voice was heard loud and clear in the many songs he sang as Cornelius Hackl. His right hand man, Barnaby Tucker, was played by John Pontrella. They both added

This is not their first motion picture soundtrack. They have an outdoor concert given on the summer of 1972 to raise money for a needy charity.

Enough praising of the acting and construction of this film would be impossible. All three major actors have had a lot of acting experience. They blend together well and this union could lead to bigger and funnier movies. The minor role played by veteran actor John Amos, as a big time bookie who gets taken in by Cosby and Poitier is a fine job of casting. Amos plays the heavy in the movie chasing the two heroes through the streets and into the safety of the local police station. "Let's Do It Again" can be seen at least twice. Superb acting, a fine cast and action throughout the movie should rate it among the top money-makers of 1976.

Theme is chosen for coming prom

By Madelyn Malanowski

"Times of Your Life," Paul Anka's latest hit, has been chosen by the BHS class of 1977 as the theme for the coming prom which will be held at The Manor in West Orange on Tues., April 20. Entertainment will feature the eight piece band and orchestra of Barry Herman. Prom bids are scheduled to go on sale the end of this month and will be priced at $35 per couple. The prom will be held in two adjoining rooms, The Starlight Garden and The Imperial, and will seat 165 couples.

comedy and life to the play. Ellen Ventura played, Irene Malloy, in her solo, "Ribbons down my back," and her singing was nothing less than excellent. Minnie Fay was portrayed perfectly by Michele LaLama who made her voice and actions fit the part well.

Good performers are the biggest asset to a good production, but the finishing touches are the music, the settings, the lights and the dancers. "Hello Dolly" fulfilled all of these and came out perfectly. Jeff Stone, a BHS graduate used his musical talent and the help of some musicians to produce the singing that was heard. MaryJane Izzo, a BHS graduate, attending New York University used her recent knowledge of set designing to produce the "rolling" scenery. The curtain closed only for intermission which was very effective because no one's attention wandered.

Of course, the whole performance was because of one man, the director, Mr. Robert Leffebine. Mr. Leffebine directs all the senior plays at BHS and improves each one with each new year. He is truly a fascinating man. His new techniques, talents, and patience seem to be never ending.

It is remarkable what Mr. Leffebine accomplished this fine result little he was given, but with the help of a set crew, running crew, stage crew, the help of parents, students and teachers that care, and the contributions made by many, the senior play of 1976 created a memory, a memory that will be everlasting.

Crime rate studied

By Denise Franz

Crime is a major problem today and it is foremost on people's minds. The crime rate continues to soar, the sharpest spurt being in 1974. The 17.6 per cent increase was the largest one year jump since the FBI began keeping records in 1930. Every kind of violent crime including murder, rape, assault, and robbery is on the up by at least 40 per cent rape being the leading contender.

Arrest of males outnumber females by 5 to 1, but the arrests of all females has increased by 9 per cent. 27 percent of all arrests are persons under 18; 43 percent are under 21; and 58 percent under 25.

Startling figures show that the Americans are killing each other twice as fast as in 1955. In the last four years, more Americans have been murdered than were killed in the Vietnam war.

The crime rate has been attributed to many things including the slump in the economy, the higher percentage of Americans owning guns, the return of Vietnam war veterans who are skilled in the use of artillery, and a higher population of young people whose parents fail to discipline them or teach them self-restraint. Of course all of these factors contribute to the rise in crime, but no one can say for certain what goes on in the mind of a criminal or what motivates him.

The American economic recession has created frustrated individuals. These are not the stereotyped "bad guys," but ordinary people who find the pressures of life unbearable and in a moment of desperation.

Americans have registered more than 50 million guns, many more are illegally owned. In a moment when a person loses his ability to reason, a gun is the easiest way to strike out. Unfortunately, the person often fails to realize the permanent or long range effects of the situation.

American war veterans who, for a period of time, have been given a license to kill, come back home and are psychologically attuned to doing so having been trained in the use of explosives and other weapons.

Permissive parents who fail to teach their children the values of life all coal to the fire. Religion, an institution which taught children self-restraint and accountability, reaches less young people today.

Crime, in some areas, is almost totally out of control. The solution lies not just in the police department, but in the active contributions of every citizen in the community. As long as one sits back and refuses to get involved, criminals will run rampant in the streets.

STUDENT SURVEY

Play is worthwhile

By DEBBIE BRADLEY

Question: As students of B.H.S., do you feel having a class play is worthwhile — why? Do you approve of this year's choice?

Kathy Holland: Having a class play is worthwhile because it gives sophomores, juniors and seniors the chance to work together and display their various talents. The choice of "Hello Dolly" was good because the play itself might appeal to more people because of its entertainment value, rather than the choice of a serious play.

John Matera: Yes, I feel that having a class play is worthwhile, because it gives everyone in the school a chance to participate. It's something different from the ordinary and it's a special treat. Many people make fun of plays, but it is only because they don't appreciate things that they have not seen or done. I think a play is a definite reward. I approve of this year's choice, "Hello Dolly." Whatever play was chosen I would have approved, just having the activity is the important thing!

John Raabe: Having a class play is worthwhile because it gives those who desire to participate in it a chance to join in some activity. It is also good because it raises some money. Many people get a lot of enjoyment out of the plays that are put on each year. "Hello Dolly" was a pretty good choice. It was a very popular Broadway hit. Musicals seem to be quite popular and this gives the band a chance to participate too.

Donna Palumbo: Having a class play is a good idea because it gives the students a chance to prove themselves. It gives them the opportunity of being exposed to acting and to perform before the public. However, I feel it would have been better if the students had a choice between a number of plays. Not everyone is familiar with "Hello Dolly."

Greg Iaconia: Yes, because it is a source of income for the senior class, and it is a lot of fun and gives kids something constructive to do. I think "Hello Dolly" is a good play but I myself like many others much better. Perhaps "West Side Story" or "Guys And Dolls" would have been better choices. Perhaps "Hello dolly" was the most reasonable play that could be done.

Denise Guerrero: I really approve of this year's choice "Hello Dolly." Having a class play is very worthwhile because it gives many kids in the school the opportunity to show a specific talent if they have one. It is also worthwhile because it provides some money for the senior class for which we are in need.

Margaret McManus: I feel a

Maureen McHugh: Yes, because it gives the school a chance to earn extra money and lets some kids see how much talent they really have. I think a more contemporary play should have been chosen or if it were possible, the students should have the chance to write their own play.

Fatima Anderson: Frankly, I don't even think about it too much. It's a good chance for the school to make some money, but I'll probably go to see it because my friends are in it. I think a newer play should have been chosen instead of "Hello Dolly." It would probably draw in more people if it was a modern play.

Lisa Hayes: I think that having a class play is more of a tradition in high schools. The choice of "Hello Dolly" is good because many people are familiar with the play and will probably enjoy it.

Mary Ellen Friel: I think that having a school play is worthwhile because it gives the students a chance to do something different that is entertaining to both them and the people who come to see the play.

Donna Iacobelli, Sr.: Yes, because it gives all students a chance to bring forth their talents in front of their parents and friends. No, I do not agree with this year's choice. There should have been a play with more speaking parts and a bigger selection of characters. There should also be more rehearsals at night, because some seniors work and can't make the rehearsals after school.

Herminia Gioino: Having a class play is very worthwhile. It gives all three classes a chance to get to know each other. The teachers involved in the play are really great and easy to get along with and they do everything for the kids.

"Hello Dolly" was an appropriate play because many students like to act out the life of the past and dress in the old-fashioned way.

Title I group works at Children's Shelter

The Title I Program at the Essex County Children's Shelter is spotlighted for the month of April. Title I is a federally-funded remedial reading program sponsored by the Belleville Board of Education.

The initial ESEA Title I grant was made available to the Essex County Children's Shelter School in 1969. The Title I staff includes Miss Debra Castro, Mrs. Joan Wasserman and Mrs. Jayne Trainor. Mrs. Lois Trabucco is the Shelter Title I secretary.

The function of the Title I reading specialists at the Children's Shelter of Essex County is for each specialist to work individually within three designated classes. The Classroom teacher and reading specialist work together to structure a remedial reading program for each individual student.

The Title I reading specialists in ceremonies for the program.

Teachers who helped coordinate the entire production were Stephen Wodopuja and Mrs. Angela Cavaluzzi, both fifth grade instructors, and Mrs. Judith Miller and Miss Pam Pomerico, sixth grade instructors.

corporate a wide range of teaching techniques in their program due to the diversified and fluctuating student population.

Mrs. Joan Wasserman instructs the Beginner's Class of six to eight year olds. The children are grouped according to their academic capabilities, either in small groups or individually. Reading readiness, perceptual skills, beginning reading and comprehension skills, alphabet recognition, and phonics are some of the areas presently being facilitated.

Mrs. Jayne Trainor works with the Intermediate class 9 to 11 year olds. The grouping is again in relation to each child's academic abilities. Each day of the week a different area of reading skills are applied. Sentence structure, phonetics, oral and individual reading along with a weekly review are given.

The Senior Class reading specialist is Miss Debra Castro. The age group is 12 to 16 year olds. A more mature instructional procedure is needed for this age group, and an independent attitude is encouraged. Educational games and puzzles as well as phonetic skills, sentence structure, oral and independent reading are the areas covered.

Each of the reading specialists makes use of the diverse materials available to them. Audio visual aids, SRA series, Bank Street Readers, Merrill Linguistic Series are used along with many other up-to-date teaching aids especially designed to help educate the urban child.

The Parent Council Meeting for the month of April will be held at School Number Eight, 183 Union Avenue, Wednesday evening April 28 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. David Spelkoman, Director, will up-date all on the value of this year's program and will also explain the process used to begin formulation of the Title I Application for the 1976-77 school year. This meeting is open to all interested citizens of the town of Belleville.

Diamonders down two more foes

By JOSEPH RYAN

The Bellboys of the diamond downed two previously undefeated teams this week with victories over Kearny, 6-2, and Bloomfield, 9-0.

Coach George Zanfini called Tuesday's win over the 6-0 Bloomfield nine, "one of my biggest thrills in two years of coaching."

The Blue-Gold ballplayers now 3-1 for the season, will meet Passaic at home this Saturday at 11:00 a.m. Next Tuesday the diamonders will travel to Nutley to meet their cross town rival at 3:45 p.m.

First inning home runs by John Guarino and Nicky Cancelliere highlighted the revitalized hitting attack in Tuesday's win at Bloomfield.

Pitching, a bright Bellboy spot in the first games, remained excellent. Coach Zanfini characterized Greg Petite's second win, the five hit shutout over the Bengals, "superb." The coach noted Petite has pitched 14 innings this year without an earned run and the entire pitching staff has only given up one earned run on the year.

Zanfini said the fourteen hits belted out by Belleville in the Bloomfield game doubled the largest production in previous matches. The coach added the team has been growing and maturing in the early games and developed a lot of confidence with this weeks victories.

Coach Zanfini was pleased with the hitting and fielding of the Belleville nine in last Friday's 6-2 win over Kearny.

"Defensively we looked very good," the coach said. "I was pleased with the hitting, we're putting the ball into play more and this is the key."

Ricky Loma was the winning man on the mound against the Cardinals, striking out nine and allowing just one earned run.

Crew boys undefeated

The Bellboy oarsmen are continuing to overpower opponents in their quest for an excellent river season.

The Belleville crew team continued its victorious way on the water last week with wins over Blessed Sacrament and away against Nutley and Harriton.

A return match was rowed against Nutley yesterday but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times/News.

Saturday, coach Sam Giuffrida and his galleys travel to the Hudson to face Poughkeepsie and Springfield on the water.

Philadelphia's Schuylkill River was the scene last Saturday for Belleville's triumphs over Nutley and Harriton. In what coach Giuffrida called "a tough race all the way" the varsity eight men defeated the Nutley crew by half a boat length. Harriton finished third-seven seconds behind the Blue-Gold shell.

The close varsity race on the Schuylkill featured a near collision between the BHS shell "Excalibur" and the Harriton boat. When Harriton strayed from its racing lane toward Belleville's the oars missed colliding with one another because one boat's oars were in the water while the other's were above. In the face of adversity Bellboy coxswain Mike O'Connor held the Blue-Gold course to the finish and Harriton resolved the crisis by returning to their proper lane.

Coach Giuffrida said he was pleased with the varsity race that was run at a 34-35 stroke per minute rate, "exactly as we planned it."

The senior 4-man shell also won in Philadelphia by beating the Harriton rowers by a second and a half. Coach Giuffrida pointed out Harriton finished second in the Statesbury Regatta on the junior four level last year and he expected the race to be tough. It was a "good tough race," according to Giuffrida but, "we didn't row the race we wanted." The senior four-man had a stroke rate that

Tracksters rally for Big 10 Relay

Belleville's track team met with a heavy defeat last week but was able to place in a Big Ten Relay event on Tuesday at Nutley.

Montclair defeated the Blue-Gold cindermen last week 102-20. At the Big Ten Relays, the Bellboys took third place in the 440 relay.

Today the Belleville runners and jumpers will meet Columbia, home at 2:30 p.m.

Coach Rich Ruffalo said he was hoping for the cindermen to place in two events in the relays, the 440 and the short distance medley.

The Bellboys did take a third place in the 440 relay with a 46.8 second time turned in by Nick Semaca, Fran Morel, Mark Romanel, and Robert Feldman. Belleville's time in the 440 was three seconds better than last year's effort, according to Ruffalo.

The coach said he was pleased with individual performances at the Big Ten meet. Nelson Seda ran a 4:42 mile in a distance medley which Ruffalo called good "for this time of year."

Vito Guarino had the third best shot put toss of the meet and Ruffalo said he is hoping for co-captain Guarino to reach 50-feet with the put this season.

Last week the Bellboy cindermen were trounced by Montclair, 102-20.

"They were good to say the least," coach Ruffalo said. Belleville took one first place in the dual meet, three second places, and five thirds.

Fran Morel won the gold for the Bellboys with a 10-foot 6-inch pole vault. Ruffalo said Morel has the potential to be the best vaulter in the Big Ten and the coach added he is hoping Morel can reach 12 feet by the end of the season.

Doug Jackson's 5-foot 8-inch high jump took second place in the meet at Montclair. A 17.2 second 120-high hurdle race clinched a second place spot for Bellboy Nick Semaca.

Fran Morel scored 40% of the Blue-Gold's points for the day by adding a second spot finish in the discus to his pole vault victory.

Today the Belleville runners and jumpers face the defending Big Ten champs, Columbia, at home. In three dual meets next week, the Bellboys will face Vailsburg at home Monday at 11 a.m. and travel to Passaic on Tuesday for a 10 a.m. contest.

Ranger men beat the Jinx

The DeWitt Rangers defeated the New Jersey Jinx of Livingston, 4-0 on Sunday for their eighth win in a row on their 9-1-1 street hockey season.

Bill Sauers, captain of the Rangers, called the team's effort a "half-hearted attempt" resulting in victory. He noted it was for the team to get excited for the game against Livingston with the Ranger trip to Massachusetts only two weeks away.

The shutout win over the Jersey Jinx featured three goals scored by new Ranger Art Katz. Two of Katz's goals were on assists from Bill Sauers and Al Ciccone. Katz also cleaned up a breakaway miss of Bill Sauers to net a point.

Dave Boxer started the Ranger scoring for the game on an assist from Frank Buonanno.

Goalies Mark Lukowiac and Tony Nardini shared time in the nets and stopped all attempts in the shutout.

Coach Paul Ciccone said, "the team has been solidified, all positions are set."

Petite pounding at MSC

When it comes to playing the infield, Montclair State's Frank Petite knows all about it.

Currently at third base for the Indians, the Belleville High School product just goes out to help the team any way he can. Considering he played second base two years ago, shortstop last year, and now third base, you might say he's helping in a big way.

The fact is that Petite is coach Clary Anderson's most reliable infielder, and wherever he's stationed, it's a sure bet it's for the good of the team.

"I would really like a shot at a pro contract," said the senior co-captain. "I've always had to work on my fielding and they tell me that I may be too slow. But all I want is a chance to try out and a chance to play."

Petite does, however, possess a rifle arm and has improved greatly as a fielder each season. He's been doing a lot of talking lately with his bat. The 5-foot-9, 175-pounder has home run power. He walloped his first of this season in a victory over William Paterson last Monday.

"I'm hoping my hitting will carry me," Petite said. "I've always been able to hit, but I was a little worried this year in Florida."

Petite had his finest season ever last year, batting .393 in helping Montclair State gain its first berth in the NCAA College Division World Series. He paced the team with five home runs and 35 runs batted in and had a slugging percentage of .557.

On Montclair State's spring trip to Florida, he got off to a slow start, batting only .193 in nine games, eight of which were exhibition. As soon as the club returned North, Petite returned to his old self.

"I really don't know what went wrong in Florida," Petite explained. "The weather tires you out and I guess I was still in the process of working the bugs out."

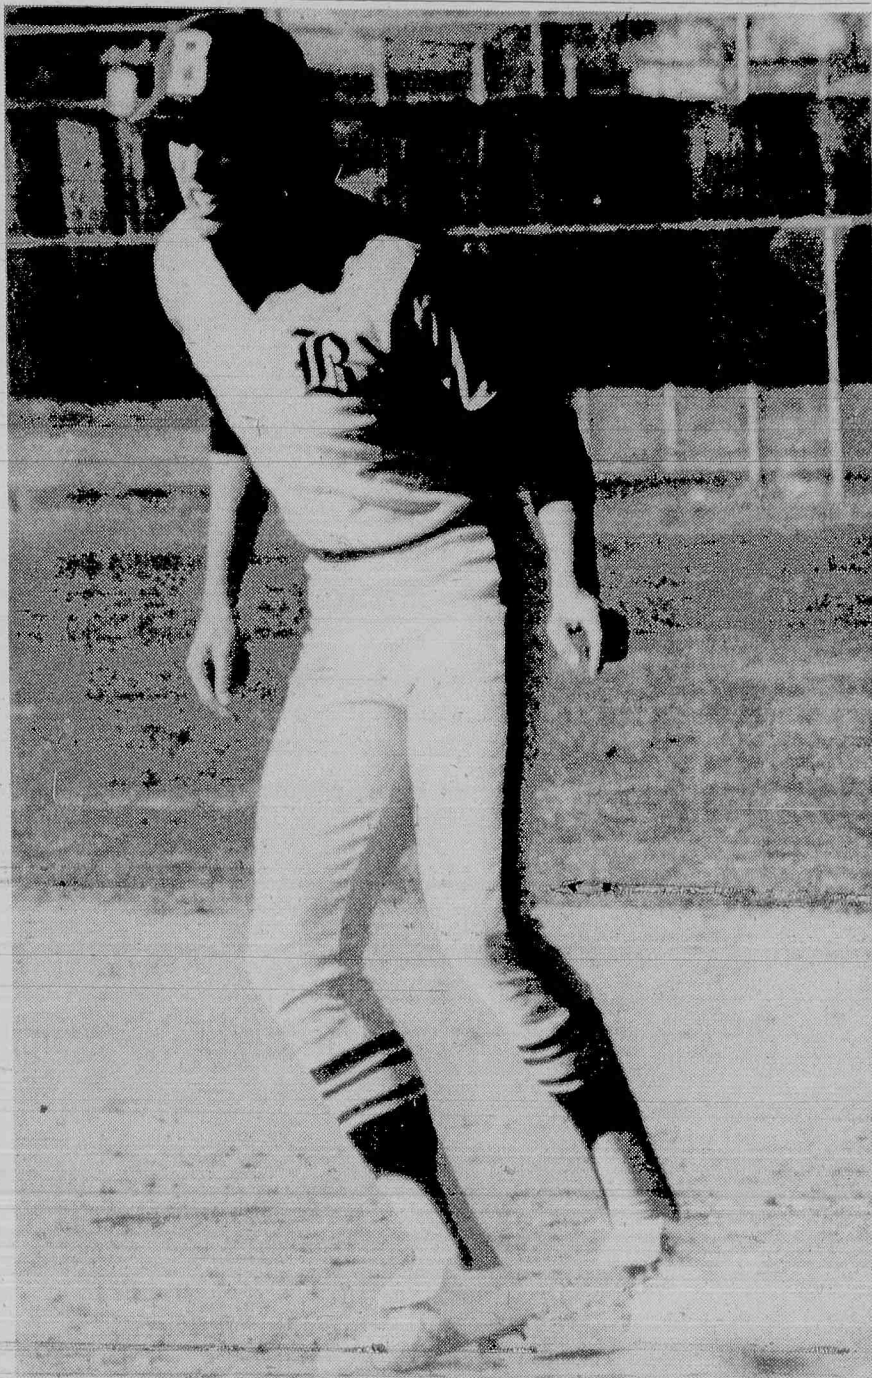

"But I've started to hit again although I didn't make any radical changes. I just concentrated on minor things like not dipping my shoulders or pulling my head out."

So after seven games, the average became a hefty .375, which leads Montclair State, on 12 hits in 32 at-bats. He's had four RBIs and the slugging percentage is a hefty .619.

He's yet to be held without a hit as MSC won five of the first seven games.

If I can keep it up and have a season comparable to last year, I think I might deserve a contract," Petite said. "I felt that I put my game together last year and hope it carries over."

Stats like that warrant at least a chance.

Run bunted in

Above, Nicky Cancelliere takes a lead off first after a successful two out bunt that drove in a run in the first inning of last Friday's Belleville victory over Kearny. Bellboy coach George Zanfini said the Blue-Gold nine began hitting solidly in their 6-2 defeat of the Cardinals. Below, Frank Mozeika takes a swing at contributing to the second Belleville win of the season.

The "Excalibur" crew

At bottom, the Belleville varsity eight crew poses by the Passaic after their victory last week in Philadelphia. Coach Sam Giuffrida said the Bellboys would give their best shot at an undefeated season.

Jaws breaker — Michael Kramer, 9, Malone Avenue, is pictured here with the 215 pound shark he entered in the Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament. He caught six sharks totaling 703 pounds for the day. He fished out of Castaway Docks on Miami Beach with Captain Ron Schatman on the Little Debbie as guide. He will be awarded a citation for his jaws breaking achievement.

Poughkeepsie is next

was too high for the first half of the course, Giuffrida said. The second half the shell settled down however to beat Harriton and the Nutley shell that finished a distant third.
Giuffrida called the junior four-man contest the surprise of the day. Paul Melchionne, Doug Dorival, Paul Denning, Joe Donnamaria, and coxswain Pat Barbone won their first race competing in the four man shell by crossing the finish 8½ seconds ahead of Harriton and Lower Merion.
The Bellboys of the jayvee 8-man finished second in a race and effort Giuffrida called "an excellent mile." In a finish with two seconds separating three shells, the jayvee lost to Nutley and finished ahead of Harriton by a second.

The Belleville thirds boat lost its race by 5 seconds and coach Giuffrida said the thirds rowed a good race but were "a little too small" compared to their competition.
The Bellboys of the Passaic had an easier time at home last Wednesday when they met Blessed Sacrament. The varsity shell won by 22 seconds, the jayvee with a 15 second span and the frosh eight finished ahead of Blessed Sacrament by 16 seconds.
The Belleville thirds boat took second to Blessed Sacrament.

"We really did a job on them. I think we just outpowered them," said coach Giuffrida. He added although the Bellboys defeated Blessed Sacrament, "I don't think we rowed very well." The crew against Blessed Sacrament was "on the sloppy side," according to Giuffrida.
This Saturday the BHS crew will travel to New York to meet Poughkeepsie and Springfield on the Hudson. Coach Giuffrida notes the Blue-Gold hasn't lost to Poughkeepsie in a long time but "they always give us a good race." The meet will be Belleville's first competition against Springfield of Connecticut so their abilities are unknown.

The play of the BHS diamonders in the first inning was especially encouraging, Zanfini said. After Anthony Biafore drew a walk, he was doubled home by John Guarino to start the scoring. With two outs Greg Dunleavy singled Guarino home for a second run. Rocco Balsamo advanced Dunleavy to third with another single. Then with two out, Nicky Cancelliere bunted with a man on third.
According to Zanfini, the bunt caught the Cardinals asleep because Cancelliere was safe at first while Dunleavy beat out the throw to the plate for the third run of the inning that was all the Bellboys needed in the 6-2 win.
After the two victories of the past week, coach Zanfini said "things are looking up, but it has to keep going."

Jayvee team still hot

Belleville High's jayvee baseball team is continuing its win streak from last season by remaining undefeated in its first three games this year.
In a close match last Friday, the jayvee nine tied Kearny, 3-3. The junior Bellboys have also defeated East Orange, 8-0, and downed Irvington, 7-5, in the season opener.
Kearny was the toughest challenge to the jayvees so far this season. The Blue-Gold juniors came from behind three times to secure their 3-3 tie with the Cardinals.
Bellboy Ted Seritella hit a single in the bottom of the fifth inning for an R.B.I. to make the score 3-2. The score was tied for good in the seventh on Paul Donahue's R.B.I. single. Ralph Amiano and Phil Fransico each had two hits in the tie with Kearny.

Pitching chores in the tie were shared by Mike Limongelli, Ted Seritella and Bill Murphy. The even score extended the jayvee two season undefeated streak to 22 games.
Earlier last week a triumphant trio of Mike Lemongelli, Ted Seritella, and Bill Murphy combined mound duty for a shut-out against East Orange.

Domenicks: still stroking

The Domenick brothers brought back to Belleville hard-earned medals after facing top competitors at the North-South YMCA swim championships of the Middle Atlantic Region in York, Pa. on March 27-28.

Tony Domenick outdistanced the competition for gold medals in both the 200 yard individual medley (2:11.93) and 100 yard backstroke (1:00.843). The versatile, powerful racer also sprinted the butterfly leg for the second-place 200 yard medley relay, which team-timed 1:50.861.

Angelo Domenick was a fifth-place bronze medalist in the 10-and-under 50 yard butterfly event. He clocked 32.51.

The Domenick brothers, both members of the Montclair YMCA Marlins, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Domenick of New

Street, Belleville

At the New Jersey AAU Age Group Swim Championships, Belleville's Angelo Domenick posted race times to rank among the state's fastest six racers in the butterfly and individual medley events in the 10-and-under age group.

Domenick, a member of the Montclair YMCA Marlins, covered the 50-yard butterfly course in 32.077 for a silver medal. In the four-stroke 200 yard individual medley event, he touched fourth for a bronze medal in 2:47.1.

Only AAU-registered swimmers who met the stringent "A" and "AA" eligibility times in each age group were qualified to compete in the state championship, which was held at Peddie Prep School in Hightstown April 3-4. AAU championship medals were presented to the top six racers in each event.

Bob-Shoo-Bop rocks for Campanella Fund

Distributive education students sell refreshments during the concert intermission Friday night. Many Belleville kids came dressed like greasers of the '50's. Shown here are Marie Dibilio and Sue Iacullo.

Disguised with shades, hat and guitar, Jim Campanella acts in the spirit of the Bob-Shoo-Bob Revue with the local group during a benefit concert over the weekend at Belleville High.

Undecided which girl to take, Anthony P. Nicosia claims both Sharon Miele and Jackie Wenzel as his date for the Bob-shoo-bob Revue Friday night at the high school.

Campanella Fund drive looked pretty successful as hordes of teenagers of the '70's and former teenagers (from the '50's) filled the high school auditorium for the Bob-shoo-bop Revue over the weekend. Flanking Jim Campanella are Joe Raimo, Art Caruso, Commissioner, Mary Senatore, Mrs. Campanella, Tom Candura and Ralph LaConte.

Stewardess gives Kiwanis address

Mrs. Ernestine Williams, ex-stewardess of American Air Lines, and now a Kiwi Sales Program speaker, gave a talk, complete with slide presentation, on the San Diego, Calif. community and surrounding area.

The talk was inspiring and timely since this June the Kiwanis International Convention is scheduled to be held in San Diego. It was announced, during the evening, that chartered flights from Newark for District 4 members will be made available on American Air Lines.

English classes for adult foreign born

A dynamic method for foreign-born adults to learn English will be used in free classes beginning Monday.

The classes will be held every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 7:15 to 9 p.m. at Duffy School, East Central Avenue, according to Ellis Schweitzer of Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill, who has been coordinating a similar volunteer teaching program in Dover for several years.

"Students from numerous language and occupational backgrounds meet in large groups and learn to speak English by speaking English under the guidance of a carefully trained volunteer teacher," Schweitzer said.

"The instructors use charades, chalk sketches, magazine clippings, repetition, a variety of language drills and whatever their ingenuity and imagination can conjure to help their friends to learn," he added.

"The bank is delighted to cooperate in such meaningful way with these young members of the Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley Communities in celebrating our nation's Bicentennial," Feely concluded.

Women's group holds guest night

The Woman's Club of Belleville recently held its Guest and Mens Night, amid a Bicentennial motif at the Club House, 51 Rossmore Place. Miniature Bicentennial table decorations, including a replica of the Liberty Bell and Washington Crossing the Delaware, were hand-made by Lochlan J. Macmillan, brother of Margaret Macmillan, chairman of the club's Social Services Department.

A buffet supper was prepared and served by club members, following which Mrs. W. Douglas Clark, president of the club, introduced Mrs. M. Chaney Keeney, Bicentennial chairman, who led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by a new singing group called "Two Songs and a Prayer," composed of Reverend Hazel Thomas, minister of Wesley United Methodist Church, Jerry Aulenbach, organist of the same church, and Jane Aulenbach, the organist's sister.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

Last Saturday, we attended the first Assembly of the North Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens at Montclair State College. Our groups from Belleville were well represented. There were many from the Belleville Senior Citizens Club, both delegates and observers, and the Essex County Group in the Park also had many in attendance.

It is a good feeling to know that people of our age are still concerned about their future and the future of their fellow men, keeping in mind that whatever gains they, the seniors, make for themselves will also reflect on future generations.

The above mentioned North Jersey Federation is a comparatively new organization that has as its ultimate goals the needs of the senior citizens. We were impressed with the expertise with which the assembly was run.

The speakers were Governor Byrne and Assemblyman LeFante. The officers were chosen for the year, and if they live up to their credentials, we are quite sure this will be a forward moving and active organization.

Many of the issues facing the senior citizen were outlined in an issues survey and included among other things, the need for property tax relief, the lowering of food and fuel prices, rent control, senior housing construction and transportation.

There were about 1,100 delegates in attendance, and if this enthusiasm means anything, and we think it does, this organization will be one of the greater proponents for settling senior citizen problems.

The Belleville Retired Men's Club celebrated its 20th anniversary April 7 with the members and their wives at a luncheon in the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church auditorium. The Nutley Old Guard Orchestra furnished the music, which was enjoyed by all.

Happy anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hohrman on their 56th wedding anniversary.

Elks help install others

After week-end installation of officers at Belleville Elks Lodge 1123, Exalted Ruler Warren Natusch, Past Exalted Ruler Raymond Mac Donald, Vice President Elect for the North Central District August Mitschke, and Vincent Mirra offered their services as part of the installing team this past Saturday at the North Arlington Lodge 1992.

Fred Hagin, secretary of the local lodge, filled in a similar capacity at Irvington Lodge 1245 last Saturday, and then also at Kearny Lodge 1050 last Sunday.

A much awaited announcement from Mac Donald is that all is ready for participation at the Chamber of Commerce Bicentennial Cavalcade of Progress at Belleville High School Wednesday, April 21 and Thursday, April 22, from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m.

The Belleville lodge has the distinction of being the first fraternal organization to participate in this annual event.

Internat'l Coffee planned at church

On Sunday, May 2 from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. the Council of Christ Episcopal Church will sponsor an International Coffee in the Parish Hall, 393 Washington Avenue.

Coffee, prepared as it is in a certain nation, will be served along with desserts, also indigenous to the area.

Mrs. Virginia Long, chairman of the affair, announces that tickets may be obtained by calling 759-1857 or 751-1930. The cost per ticket is $2.

Catholic Daughters hold card party

The Catholic Daughters of America Court 61 will hold their annual card party on Tuesday, April 27 at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 98 Bridge Street.

Mrs. Helen Baron, chairlady for the event, announces that tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Rita Le Ritz at 783-4137.

Donation is $2 per ticket, with reservations closing Friday, April 23.

The Nurse-Midwife Gives Modern Maternal Health Care

by Carmela Caveno, C.N.M.
Director, Nurse-Midwifery Program
College of Nursing, Medical University of South Carolina

Mention the words, nursemidwife, and most people still think of a woman trudging along a dirt road toward a lonely shack where she will deliver a baby by light of kerosene lamp.

Well, to paraphrase, we've come a long way, baby, from this fading image. The word
"midwife" means "with the woman" and that tradition rightly remains. But the professional skills and educational background of today's certified nurse-midwife make her an important member of a hospital- or clinic-based health care team.

Training more nurse-midwives can lighten the caseload of obstetricians and gynecologists by managing the care of healthy women through the maternity cycle.

In Charleston we have begun a nurse-midwife training program at the Medical University of South Carolina with the help of a grant from the March of Dimes. In cooperation with the department of obstetrics and gynecology, and the college of nursing, our curriculum combines self-paced units of instruction with supervised clinical experience in both maternal and infant health care.

Team Training

The students, all registered nurses, work with our nursemidwife faculty at University Hospital, two satellite health department clinics in outlying rural districts, an adolescent pregnancy clinic, and a home for single mothers.

In South Carolina, a nursemidwife is legally and professionally qualified to administer complete prenatal care, follow the mother through labor and perform the delivery, and provide postpartum care. Patient education is another important aspect of our program. This includes nutritional guidance, courses on the stages of pregnancy and fetal development, and preparation for childbirth.

Since we believe very strongly in family-centered maternity care, we invite the woman's husband, or any other person she chooses, to come with her to prenatal visits so we can discuss any questions they have. If they wish to be together during labor and delivery, we ask them to attend our childbirth education classes.

Meeting Needs

The role of the college-edu-see clinic patients and private patients whose obstetricians have told them of our services.

It is up to the woman to decide if she wants our care, provided, of course, her pregnancy is entirely normal.

At the satellite clinics, a number of women now seek regular prenatal care. The professional or health attention we provide spares them traveling 75 or 80 miles to Charleston for a regular visit.
All patients who go to satel-

IT'S NOT ONLY PROUD RELATIVES who crowd around a nursery window. Candace Duran, R.N. (center), a student in the nurse-midwifery program at Medical University of South Carolina, joins program director, Carmela Caveno, C.N.M. (right), and Sister Mary Norma Pacento, C.N.M., on morning rounds of the maternity floor. Certified nurse-midwives are on 24-hour call for labor and delivery.

ated nurse-midwife takes on special significance in a state like South Carolina, where we have a high infant mortality rate and areas where there is an acute shortage of doctors and other professional health care personnel.

By training nurse-midwives to bring those services needed by a woman and infant for healthy outcome of pregnancy to understaffed areas, we will help improve delivery of maternal and infant health care where they are needed most.

We teach our students how to respond to both the physical and emotional needs of the mother. In order to guide
a woman through pregnancy, labor, and delivery, we not only need to know what is normal, but what signals a risk to mother or baby. At the first sign of complications, we call in the obstetrician.

At University Hospital we lite clinics are delivered at the hospital. This ensures a patient's access to the modern facilities that are her best guarantee of a healthy delivery. And if there are complications, mother and baby are protected by physicians and nurses who specialize in intensive care techniques.

Follow-up Care

After the baby is born, we continue to see mother and infant at postpartum visits.
During this time, the mother may have problems that we can help her with, either directly, or through referrals to other health and social services. Since family planning is a major concern, we give her the information she needs in this area as well.

If nurse-midwives have come a long way, we still have a long way to go. And we're anxious to go the distance.

Five busted for B&E

The cases of five people allegedly involved in a break and entry and larceny case were referred to the grand jury by Judge Edward Abromson in Belleville Municipal Court last Thursday.

A probable cause hearing was held for Kathalean O'Neill, 34, 109 Washington Avenue who was charged with unlawful possession of stolen property and concealment of a crime. Her case was sent to the grand jury by Abromson along with the other four, who waived their rights to hearings.

Lawrence Osbourn, 18, East Newark, Carlos Luciano, 23, 207 Broadway, Newark, and Anthony Rodriguez, 19, 103 Washington Avenue, Belleville were charged with breaking, entering and larceny.

Carmella O'Neill, 18, 234 Grafton Avenue, Newark was charged with possession of stolen property and possession of a stolen car.

Belleville Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight said Belleville detectives Martin McNish, Barton Rossi, Michael Petrillo, and Fred Puleo were instrumental in the case.

The break and entry occurred March 30 at the apartment of Gary Jensen, 109 Washington Avenue.

Carmella O'Neill, Kathalean O'Neill, Carlos Luciano, and Anthony Rodriguez, were held in lieu of $2,500 bail each.

Bail was set at $1,000 for Lawrence Osbourn.

The court also referred to the grand jury wildcat cases of Charles Richard Layton, 31 Halleck Street, Newark. Layton is not in custody.
