Taxpayer strike may have begun

By CHUCK JACKSON

An overflow crowd at Tuesday's Commission meeting heard Citizens' Union spokesman Sal Calabro sound the first note of taxpayer rebellion when the 63-year old Bellevilleite announced he would not pay his property taxes.

Calabro's bombastic comment came amidst a stormy meeting during which virtually all the Commissioners and Town Attorney John Scott came under the verbal guns of citizen speakers.

More than 150 people packed the Board Chambers, many standing around the room and others spilling out into the hallway. The assembled group loudly applauded Calabro and virtually every other speaker, and many also shouted comments to the Board. Mayor Michael Marotti had to gavel for silence several times during the session.

Calabro and several other speakers from the Citizens' Union were protesting the passage of the town's 1976 municipal budget, and they demanded the Board "rescind" its approval of the fiscal plan and re-open public hearings on it.

Calabro sounded the most militant note of the evening when, referring to the Board members, he said, "You were once friends of mine, but we cannot tolerate this type of incompetence for another three years."

"We cannot afford this type of tax raise," he continued, "and we won't pay it. I will not pay my tax bill due on May 1, even if I am the only person in town who does not. Send me to jail or do what you want, but I will not pay it."

Calabro went on to say he believed, and had gotten a legal opinion to the effect, that the amended budget passed by the Board of Commissioners is illegal. He based this belief, he said, on the fact that the people had not had an opportunity to be heard on it.

It was at that point in the proceeding the first criticism of Town Attorney Scott came. "You took his legal advice," said Calabro, "and he does not always know what he is talking about." Please see "Calabro" on page 9.

School 3 facilities studied

By JOSEPH RYAN

The possibility of using church facilities as classrooms for School Three students next fall is being investigated by the Board of Education, it was announced Tuesday night.

The Board is looking into the feasibility of using Christ Episcopal Church, 393 Washington Avenue; Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, 444 Union Avenue and Bethany Lutheran Church, 188 New Street.

School Board president Matthew Pica also said the Schoolers' insurance investigator, George Brown, is attempting to obtain at least a partial settlement on the destroyed school in order to provide funds for restoration of the new wing of the structure. That portion of the building was not burned in the January fire, but suffered damage from smoke and water.

Elaborating on the negotiations, Pica said the Insurance Company of North America had made one settlement offer to the Board, but it has been rejected.

More than 70 citizens attended the meeting, and several objected to the delay in reaching an agreement with the insurance company. Board member Richard Mahmarian defended the lengthy negotiations, however, adding, "The taxpayers of this town deserve a fair settlement on that building. No shouting is going to pressure me."

One spectator suggested picketing the insurance offices in protest, but Board president Pica said he did not recommend such a move.

In other Board business, the group postponed until 8 tonight a vote on a resolution which would reassign School One principal Pat Forte to the teaching staff of the junior high school. Mahmarian, who was one of the Board members who requested the delay, said he believed, "Mr. Forte would be invited to come before the Board and answer to Mr. Greco's recommendations."

Fire destroys local apartment

A fire completely destroyed an apartment at 725 Joralemon Street on Monday morning.

Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Santiglia said the fire which started at 8:02 a.m. was possibly electrical in origin and estimated the damage to the ground floor apartment of Louis E. Pasquale at $7,500.

Fire Captain Frederick Tripp was hospitalized after falling glass from a second floor apartment cut his arm and ear and required stitches.

Four apartments were evacuated while the firefighters contained the blaze to the Pasquale apartment. Deputy Chief Santiglia said smoke damage and minor fire damage was incurred by the second floor apartment of Max Glazner as a result of the first floor fire.

Protestors

Members of the Belleville Citizens' Union marched outside Town Hall last Thursday to protest the passage of the 1976 municipal budget. About 15 people were on the line, and all were very unhappy about the town's fiscal plan. A sudden heavy rain broke up the demonstration, but the forces were reinforced and regrouped by Tuesday's regular Commission meeting.

Protectors

Belleville's finest, the police department, was on hand for the Cavalcade of Progress last Thursday and had a booth that attracted young and old alike. Pictured here, left to right are detective Joseph Simonetti, Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta, Police Chief Joseph Smith, and officer Robert MacDonald. The men had a drug display, and slides of the Belleville police department going back many years.

Saletta seeks order to halt police test

Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta took what may be an unprecedented step Wednesday when he went to court seeking an order stopping a Civil Service examination scheduled for Saturday.

Saletta filed the action, he said, on behalf of Peter Fraone, Arthur Connelly and George DeBrowski. Connelly and Fraone are currently working as temporary policemen in Belleville and DeBrowski is working as a law officer in East Orange.

According to the Commissioner, the three men should be appointed permanent members of the Belleville Police Department, but Civil Service claims they are ineligible and is holding a new test.

Town Attorney John Scott was scheduled to file the necessary papers early Wednesday morning in Superior Court, asking that a restraining order be issued stopping the test until an appeal through Civil Service channels can be completed.

The three appointees first ran into trouble last November when Town Treasurer Francis McCoy refused to pay the men pending a ruling on their status by Civil Service. According to McCoy at the time, the men were appointed from a Civil Service list which had expired.

Saletta still disputes the claim, adding, "We selected these men from a Civil Service list legally, and in the right order."

The Public Safety Director said he was appealing the matter to Civil Service, but is seeking the restraining order until a hearing can be arranged.

According to the Commissioner he was told by Civil Service last fall he was given an extension on the appointments. "Civil Service later said the extension was to complete paper work," Saletta commented, "not for swearing the men in. I believe it is just an interpretation of the word, and we want a chance to appeal it to Civil Service."

Please see "Restraining" on page 20.

Parade change

The rained-out Cherry Blossom Parade will take place this Sunday, hopefully under sunny skies. There will be few changes in the scheduled line-up, but Irene Decker, a co-chairman of the event did announce the route would be changed.

Originally, the parade was to go through Branch Brook Park, but it has been decided to travel the route of the past, down Washington Avenue from William Street to Overlook.

Don't forget, or you might find you've missed the show.

Fund raiser is planned

The Tri-Town Business and Professional Woman's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley made final arrangements for its annual scholarship fund-raiser at its April 1 meeting, it was announced this week.

The group held its meeting in the home of Miss Marion Johnson of Nutley. This year, the organization decided, it will feature a Bicentennial Card Party set for Saturday evening, May 1 at 8 p.m. in the Bloomfield Senior High School Cafeteria.

In line with the Bicentennial theme, the chairman of the affair, Miss Alice Fleming of Rutherford, advised table gifts would be tote bags with red white and blue patriotic and colonial emblems. Members of the committee plan to wear colonial dress in keeping with the occasion.

Proceeds from the event are used to provide for the Marguerite S. Russell typing awards. Each year the Tri-Town BPW Club presents three scholarships and three typing awards. The scholarships go to a deserving female graduate of each of the three high schools in which the club is represented. Similarly, a typing award is made to a girl winner from the three high schools.

Miss Elsie Ciccone of Nutley is chairman of the club's scholarship committee and makes the arrangements with the high schools for selecting the scholarship winners and conducting the typing contests.

Last year's winners of the Flora Loudon Memorial Scholarship were Constance Sougelas of Belleville, Karen Hathaway of Bloomfield and Gloria Chin of Nutley.

The winners of the Marguerite S. Russell Typing Award were Patricia Ann Bonkowski of Belleville, Michele Montessano of Bloomfield and Sharon Griffoul of Nutley.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

This week, due to postponement of the parade to this coming Sunday, we can announce that which we forgot last week and that is that the Belleville Senior Citizens Club, Incorporated, will be represented by many of our senior citizens in several decorated cars.

The hosts of the club last week were Rose Galante, Margaret Calamai, Mary Genco and Michael DelTufo.

There were some mistakes in last week's column which should not have happened — no fault of ours. There were some omissions, probably because of lack of space.

One thing that we reported and thought newsworthy was the fact that Senator Carmen Orechio had appeared at the monthly meeting of the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens. Although it was mentioned in this column, the report of his visit which follows was left out.

The senator, among other things, spoke of the needs of seniors in the fields of housing, transportation, medical assistance, and taxes. The Homestead Security Act as passed by referendum in November was discussed as was the feasibility of a state income tax.

The senator stated that he is against a state income tax at the present time and in its present proposed form. Senator Orechio said other ways of raising the necessary funds should be thoroughly pursued along with other means of funding education.

The talk was followed by a question and answer period and this brought out some interesting points on both queries and answers. It was an informative talk, well taken by the delegates present.

Theft case sent to GJ

The case of a 19-year old Newark man charged with six break-ins in Belleville totaling nearly $6,000 worth of stolen goods was referred to the Essex County Grand Jury following proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court on April 21.

Wilfredo Rivera, 68 Montclair Avenue, Newark, was arrested April 7 after he was observed by Belleville detectives Sgt. Martin McNish and Michael Petrillo attempting to break into a Bloomfield house, according to police sources.

Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight reported Rivera was charged with the six Belleville break-ins following investigations by Belleville detectives.

The break-ins Rivera was charged with in court were: a February 17 break-in at 184 Mill Street in which $400 worth of goods were stolen; a break-in at 9 Cleveland Street in which more than $300 worth of goods were stolen on February 20; a February 29 theft from 17 Wilson Place with stolen property valued at $4,000; a break-in at 155 Branch Brook Drive on March 6 with a total of more than $179 worth of property stolen; a March 19 break-in with a theft in excess of $350 at 49 Wilson Street and on March 31 a break-in at 11 Frederick Street in which the stolen property was valued in excess of $1,000.

The cases were referred to the Grand Jury by Judge Edward Abromson, who set bail for Rivera at $3,000.

Complaints were filed against Rivera by Belleville detectives Salvatore Lo Coco and Barton Rossi.

Authorities reported detainers had also been filed against Rivera by Bloomfield, Nutley, and the Essex County Sheriff's Department.

Free cancer checks offered

The Public Affairs Department announced this week it would set aside Monday, May 3 between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. and Thursday, May 6, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. as Oral Cancer Detection Week.

The Director of the department, Vincent T. Strumolo, said oral cancer is responsible for thousands of deaths each year, and he added victims have a high survival rate only if the disease is diagnosed early enough.

People 35-years old and older are considered in the high risk category.

Commissioner Strumolo also quoted statistics which showed oral cancer currently has one of the lowest cure rates of any form of the disease, but he again stressed early detection is the "key."

The Commissioner urged all Belleville residents to take advantage of the free mouth examinations.

Participating in the program are Louis Allora, D.M.D., Joshua Landsman, D.M.D. and Palmer D. Burde, D.D.S.

School 3 HSA to pick officers

Elks' kids' camp is now expanded

Elks Camp Moore for Crippled and Handicapped Children, the major project of the New Jersey Elks Crippled Children's Committee, has been expanded. As the demand for more space was needed, the camp's capacity has more than doubled since 1974, and perhaps will double again in the very near future.

The State Elks Crippled Children's Committee and its task force have worked hard and long to devise a major project to which the main activities of the Elks Lodges would be directed in aiding crippled and handicapped children on a statewide basis. As a result, Camp Moore, with its 24 acre tract in the Ramapo Mountains of north Jersey, near Haskell, was acquired as a free gift to the New Jersey State Elks. It was restored and improved by dedicated Elks from lodges all over New Jersey to make it one of the finest camps in the state, allowing children a few weeks each year to change their way of life.

Belleville Lodge 1123, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, one of the most active lodges in the New Jersey State Elks Crippled Children program, is proud to be connected with Camp Moore.

Glad you came

The Belleville Commission meeting Tuesday was, with the exception of public hearings on the budget, one of the best attended sessions in current memory. Commission chambers were packed to capacity, and the crowd spilled over into the hall.

It is gratifying, indeed, to see so many people take an interest in the town's affairs for government functions best under the watchful eyes of the public.

It must be noted, however, this is not always the case, and as mentioned before, this type of attendance is the exception rather than the rule.

The citizens of Belleville have reason to be concerned with the rising tax rate. It may be, as many said Tuesday, the increases are driving people from our town and crushing those who do not want to leave. That concern, however, should be shown all the time — not just every spring.

With the exception of a handful of vigilant Town Hall watchers, few people regularly attend the Commission meetings. The few regulars at the meetings need and deserve the year round support of their friends and neighbors.

We urge all Bellevilleites to make time in their busy schedules for the monthly Commission meetings. Constant attendance will produce more lasting results than a once-a-year blast. Those who are truly concerned with the future of Belleville should take the time necessary to appear at meetings, make their feelings known, and steer the Commissioners in the right direction.

Loyalty Day

Prepared by Stuart Elmer Edgar VFW Post 493, Nutley)

Loyalty Day, observed on May 1 of each year, was so designated by an Act of Congress in 1958. Each year our President also issues a Loyalty Day Proclamation in which he implores all of us to ponder the unalienable allegiance which each of us owes to America.

Loyalty Day calls for vigorous action by all concerned citizens to insure that other countries fully observe the basic fact that we are united in our love for our way of life and in our determination to remain forever a strong, free nation.

Loyalty day was designed to encourage Americans to speak out about patriotism. Each year this special day has been a resounding success. Millions of people now participate in parades and programs across the land and many millions more view these activities.

Loyalty Day was originated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States to counteract the Communist movement in this country. Since the V.F.W. won a long battle to have Loyalty Day approved by Congress, in 1958 however, this day now belongs to all Americans in accordance with Public Law 529. Therefore, every citizen should eagerly join in to make this Loyalty Day the greatest observance ever held.

We celebrate Loyalty Day to remind ourselves and others that nothing will take the place of loyalty to one's country and we must pledge ourselves to maintain a free society in which loyalty is always respected and fully encouraged. Without it we will become decadent and cease to exist as a beacon of liberty.

They also serve — Though they work hard, the members of Belleville's Civil Defense group seldom get a lot of recognition. The members were out in force for the Cavalcade of Progress, however, showing the town what their work is all about and taking some bows. Here, left to right, are Charles Streck, George Kupp, Commissioner Rocco Saletta, captain Edward Dunneavy of the Belleville Fire Department, and Deputy Police Commissioner Joseph Granese.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In what appears to have been a fit of petulant, splenetic anger, Commissioner Mary V. Senatore, in words dripping with vitriolic calumny, accuses this writer of entering untruths in his column. However, at no point does she deny she gets $13,536 for being Secretary of the Essex County Planning Board, which meets on the third Wednesday of each month in what is usually a two hour session.

With 12 months in the year, for attendance work, that comes to 24 hours, which if computed on an hourly rate comes to $564 per hour. This we predicate on the basis that those desiring to phone her about the Board's business are advised to call her at the local Town Hall. This indicates she spends little time at the office of the County Planning Board.

Likewise, she cannot deny that, if passed, Assemblyman Aduabato's bill to give tenure to secretaries of county planning boards after five years service would safely cover her securely in her parttime job.

Seemingly as mad as a wet hen, she neglects to mention that, unlike her unclassified job as Secretary to the Essex County Planning Board, that body does have an administrative secretary who has been in classified service since 1971 and who takes the minutes of the Essex County Planning Board in shorthand and then transcribes them. The lady's salary is $16,434 per year.

You do know a Mrs. Olson, do you not, Mrs. Senatore? What do you do, just sign her work? Is that all you do?

Mrs. Senatore, you are both a Town Commissioner as well as Secretary to the Essex County Planning Board and you say "The land given to the Town of Belleville for a firehouse is just one example, of the achievements of the county Planning Board." That might be so if it were true.

However, you apparently don't know nor understand the conditions of the lease, which you should as a Town Commissioner.

Summarizing the terms of the lease, we find the firehouse property is not given to the town, it is only leased with the condition that the land and building, if constructed, or anything the town of Belleville builds on the land, would ultimately revert to the County of Essex after 50 years. Belleville's present poor financial state could not possibly sustain the added drain of buying at this time three new fire engines nor the expense of hiring the additional firemen needed to man them. Nor could they properly afford the cost of construction of such a structure.

Looks like the town lost a buck. With the sad state of the town's finances, it seems highly unlikely we will ever see the undertaking of this project within the time provisions of this lease, which means the County gets it back. Kinda looks like a lot of political window dressing to fool the people. Certainly it's no bargain for Belleville.

Mrs. Senatore says "we spend many hours, not only at monthly meetings, but daily, plus emergency sessions held in the interest of the people of Essex County." Possibly they do, but where and when do they meet — at some plush lounge?

There is a "Sunshine Law," Mrs. Senatore, as Secretary of the County Planning Board you should familiarize yourself with its requirements. Pursuant to chapter 231, Public Laws of 1975, a 48-hour public notice should precede any public board meeting other than the regularly scheduled public meeting date. To the knowledge of this writer, this procedure has not been followed in regards to these many sessions Mrs. Senatore alludes to.

In the ugly game of politics, grabbing cushy political plums is considered smart and is the way the big boys pay off the party faithfuls who produce. However, times are rough now and pinched taxpayers no longer condone these extravagant give-aways.

Union member issues ultimatum

To the Editor:

The tables are turned! Now we are in a position to demand and be boss.

We have hundreds of Citizen Union members backing us up. We demand a zero tax increase or else!

Some people were asked if we should have a tax strike or a recall and many said both.

We mean business. If the town officials think they can give us the run around like they did at the last public hearing, they better beware and come to our terms or else!

The Times/News stands corrected

To the Editor:

Your edition of the Times/News dated April 8, 1976, contained an article regarding a piano concert given by Arthur Masi of Belleville.

Inadvertently, the last name of Mr. Masi's piano teacher was omitted.

Mr. Masi is the pupil of Mrs. Elisabeth Hoffer of 51 Manhattan Court, Nutley. He has studied under Mrs. Hoffer for the past seven and a half years.

The Distributive Education Club of Belleville High School would like to thank all of the students who participated in the recent jelly bean contest.

We would also like to thank Zigarelli's Homemade Chocolate which donated 15 pounds of jelly beans and the Easter Bunny costume, and DeWitt Savings and Loan, which donated a $25 savings bond.

The cooperation and generosity of these two businesses helped make the contest a success.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Jersey is tops in garbage

By DAVID F. MOORE

Guess what state has the most garbage per square mile, the biggest scarcity of landfill space and the least action on solving the overall disposal problem. That's right, it's this state we're in.

Some will say, "Hold it — didn't New Jersey just get a new law establishing 22 solid waste districts and empowering the Department of Environmental Protection to take charge?" The answer is yes, but what I said was "least action," remember?

It happens that that law can't become effective until necessary money to implement it is provided by the Legislature, and Governor Byrne hasn't asked for the money this year.

It's to the credit of Commissioner of Environmental Protection David J. Bardin that he put the money at the top of his list of supplemental budget requests. He seeks $1,577,000.

The $577,000 would implement the law and the extra million would provide state grant money to get a couple of demonstration solid waste programs launched.

The New Jersey Committee for Resource Recovery, representing civic, environmental and governmental groups plus industries with recycling interests, has adopted a resolution asking the Joint Appropriations Committee of the Legislature to grant Bardin's request. It's a matter of putting in some money now to save a lot more of it later.

The CRR is an ad hoc group which wants to get recycling recognized as the best way to solve the solid waste disposal problem. I'm a member of the CRR's steering committee, and agree that recycling of glass, paper and metals means they won't be solid waste anymore and hence won't have to be landfilled. And there's a distinct energy saving when something is recycled instead of fabricated from virgin materials.

That new but as yet unfunded law, in addition to setting up 22 solid waste districts (one for each county plus the area under jurisdiction of the Hackensack Meadowlands Development Commission), also requires creation of a solid waste management plan in each.

It's not perfect and a lot of people would like to see more embodied in it, but at least it's a start; something which can get the necessary wheels turning for an eventual shift toward a "recycle society."

The hardware to recycle garbage is available now, but it can cost millions and nobody wants to gamble that kind of money until somebody else proves the idea is sound. One hangup, believe it or not, is the need for a guarantee that enough garbage would have to go to one of the giant resource recovery gadgets to guarantee its continuous operation.

With all that garbage, that sounds like a silly worry. But garbage will go to the cheapest available disposal point, so laws will have to be enacted soon to send the garbage in the right direction.

There will also have to be legislation, probably at the national level, to guarantee equal incentives for recycling in connection with things like freight rates and depletion allowances.

'Magic Show' makes splash at Montclair State

By Anthony Buccino

Doug Henning, the Canadian magician, presently on a four month leave from his Broadway production "The Magic Show" presented excerpts from the hit play to a capacity crowd at Montclair State College's Memorial Auditorium.

Two hooded men wheeled a large box with thin white paper walls onto the stage. "Which one is Doug Henning?" we asked ourselves as the hooded men passed lights inside, outside, over, and under the box.

It was empty, no doubt about it. The front door was open, a light put inside, it was empty. Now, which hooded man was Doug Henning?

The hooded men stepped back closing the front of the box, setting the lights on the floor. A shadow of a hand appeared on the front paper of the box. Another hand! Where was it coming from? There was nothing in that box. I'd swear to it.

The two hands must have been friends, they got along so well. But which hooded man was Doug Henning? Crash! Through the paper comes the entire body of a man landing on his feet. The audience is stifled in the heat. A thousand people stunned for a moment, taken aback, one solid movement against the backs of the seats. Aha! It's Doug Henning coming from an empty box.

How did he do that?

With long curling hair, moon and stars on his shirt, and an impish beaver-like grin, the nearly out-of-breath Doug Henning questioned reality and illusion. About to give us an example, the two assistants and a pretty dancing girl joined Henning in bringing out four "magic boxes" about a foot square each. The "magic boxes" were set on top of each other and the girl put inside.

The front was shut, the girl sealed inside, more dancing as Henning and the two assistants started dancing around the stage with three of the four "magic boxes". Think how that poor girl must feel. They danced back to the remaining box putting them together but not in the same order they were before.

The dancing girl's head was in the bottom box, her feet near the top. It hurt just looking at that arrangement. The three mischievous men danced again until they got it right, with the pretty dancing girl's body in proper order.

Someone was ready for the net after that last illusion but I wouldn't guess who. Henning obliged, holding a butterfly net scanning the air over our heads. Oh, well, no magician can do this for very long without going off the deep end. Poor fellow, and just when he had it made.

Wait a minute! He just caught a dove with that net! Alright, the doors are open, it is very hot, but a bird? I didn't see any, and I've been here all along.

What? Another dove, and another?

The last dove fell into the orchestra pit, to be hunted by the "sound man" with the headphones later. Doves out of nowhere, whew! Henning had put them on a perch in a cage. Then under a cover, holding the cover by the edges, picking it up. When he let the cover drop there was no cage or doves.

Audience participation played a part in a rope illusion. Bernadette, the random selection of one from a thousand, rambled to the stage to help out Henning. She was told to cut the six-foot length rope held by the two assistants, which she did. Then she knotted the ends as directed. She stood back as Henning moved the knot from one end of the rope to the other, leaving Bernadette and the rest of us awed.

She checked the knot, it was still the same. She looked a little embarrassed, Bernadette was laughing in amazement. Henning moved the knot back. No one could believe it, but we all saw it.

"Attitude affects reality," explained Henning as he revealed his misdirection of expectation theory. That is how he does his illusions. They are not tricks, they are illusions, children's magicians do tricks. Henning's magic is illusion. To see through Henning's magic all we'd have to do is cleanse our "windows of perception."

Henning showed us an illusion we could do at home with a paper napkin. It's simple, just tear up a napkin, make a fist, and YOU have the original napkin. Like I said, he showed us how to do it but I won't explain it, explanations take all the fun out of magic.

Continuing to amuse and amaze us, Henning et al., performed the Egyptian ritual "Sands of Egypt", the "Moon Ceremony", some levitation, and the "Silver Rings Mystery" making his audience-selected assistant look silly and leave perplexed.

Henning closed the show with his own improved version of Houdini's "Metamorphosis". In Henning's version, his lovely assistant (the dancing girl) was tied in a sack, and locked and chained in a trunk. Henning stood on top of the trunk as the two male assistants raised a four-sided curtain over Henning and the trunk.

When they lowered the curtain a few seconds later, the girl was standing on the locked trunk. The chain was taken off and the trunk unlocked to reveal someone tied in a sack. It couldn't be the girl because she was already out. They untied the sack and there was Henning completely changed of clothes.

"Doug Henning's Magic Show" was a highly entertaining evening.

Henning paced the show with anecdotes of his travels and colleagues. You missed a great show, sponsored by the College Life Union Board at Montclair State College.

You may not get the opportunity to see Henning in person very soon but his television special will be rerun May 11. Try not to miss it, you won't be disappointed.

Much of the sensation we call "taste" is really smell. When you chew foods, the vapors enter the inner openings of the nose and reach the nerve endings of smell. If you have a cold, these passages are plugged up. Then, as you may have noticed, your sense of smell is also impaired, and many foods may lack the flavor with which we associate them. Under such conditions, onions and apples have an almost identical sweet flavor. Substances such as pepper and some other spices have no distinct flavor, but irritate the entire tongue and produce a burning sensation.

Uncle Joe, Washington, strawberries

thing*

by Helen Maguire

THE TELEPHONE rang the other night and I answered it with a potato masher in one hand and an eye on the gravy for the roast which was bubbling too merrily on the stove.

"Hello, darling," said a totally unfamiliar voice. "Come over and eat with us." "Who is this?" I queried as the gravy reached the danger stage. "It's Uncle Joe", replied the stranger with something akin to surprise in his voice. "Come over. We're just going to sit down." I'm afraid," I said, "that you have the wrong number." Total silence for a couple of seconds. "Isn't this so and so?" questioned the man. "No, it's not", I answered. "Oh, I'm sorry," he apologized. "So am I" I laughed. "Good-bye, Uncle Joe!"

AND I WAS sorry in a way. I would have welcomed a free dinner at that point, as the gravy wreaked havoc with the stove and the eight people I was cooking for began to clamor for food!

The conversation with "Uncle Joe" ranks up there with another one I had a few years ago when I called my friend Pat. I got a Pat alright. We talked quite coherently for a good five minutes before we came to the simultaneous realization that neither one of us knew the other. Why didn't I fail to recognize a strange voice? It was early in the morning and frankly, I thought she had a cold. And besides, scores of people have told me that I don't sound like myself anytime before 10 a.m. I think it's a psychological reaction to getting up which can be close to traumatic when you're not a morning person.

LAYNE, THE BRAVE, accompanied Maureen's Girl Scout troop to Washington, D.C. last weekend. Came home exhausted partly from hiking through the nation's capital and partly from chasing raccoons the better part of one night. Wasn't one bit surprised that she had been in the forefront of the raccoon attack. This is the same intrepid soul who ventured into the depths of our garage one fall when I had run shrieking down the driveway after spotting a stiff grey tail, and emerged with a squirrel, so dead it was rigid!

Thoroughly enjoyed the Washington jaunt but was a little perturbed when another touring group was forbidden to sing the national anthem inside the Lincoln Memorial. This after they had run across several dissenting and anti-American groups picketing and demonstrating at Federal buildings most of the day.

THIS IS SHAPING up to be a very busy weekend for the Maguires. Saturday brings the Strawberry Festival at Spring Garden School which means a lot of fun and a lot of work (ever lug home 144 boxes of candy from a Belleville distributor?) and Sunday is the CROP Walk.

By the way, there is still time to sign up to walk to feed the hungry or to sponsor a walker if you don't want to walk yourself. A quarter of the proceeds will be plowed back into Essex County and used to alleviate local hunger through ECHO, Essex County Hunger Organization.

Calabro says he won't pay

Several other speakers voiced similar opinions of the Town Attorney, and many said the Commissioners should obtain at least one additional opinion on the budget.

Scott had advised the Board last week it would be illegal to re-open the public hearing once it had been closed because of provisions in the recently passed Open Meetings Act. That act requires that at least 48-hours notice be given before each public meeting.

There were several heated exchanges between Board members and citizens. Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, who was absent from the meeting, also came under fire. Several people suggested he be "fired" if he could not attend Board meetings. Town Registrar, Ralph Risoli, deputy Commissioner of Public Affairs, was in attendance.

At one point, Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta came to the defense of Scott after Dick Renna, 20 Belmont Avenue said the Board should "tell him (Scott) what to do."

"We can't go to the Town Attorney," said Saletta, "and tell him to do something he says is illegal."

The Commissioner was met with shouts from the audience, and apparently becoming angry, turned aside and said in a voice audible at least 10 feet, "You can take this goddam job and shove it up your a."

He then added in a loud voice, "I think I'm doing the best goddam job here, and if you think you can do the job better, you can take it!"

Union spokesman Calabro addressed the Commission a second time, again asking the Board to rescind its approval of the budget, and adding, "I am telling you it would not be illegal. You would not go to jail. If you are in trouble for anything, it is for already passing an illegal budget."

Mayor Marotti responded to Calabro's comments, saying, "If you want to get an injunction, go get one."

Following the hearing of the Citizens, all but a handful of the citizens left. Few were present when the Commissioners voted 3-1 to table the resolution appropriating $149,000 for revaluation.

Tuesday, April 27, was the deadline set by a court order for appropriation of the funds. By tabling the resolution, the Board could possibly be held in contempt of court.

According to the Commissioners, they voted to put off action on the resolution until the full membership of the Board was present. There was no indication when Commissioner Strumolo would be available for such a meeting.

Commissioner of Finance Joseph McGreevy was the lone dissenting member in the vote.

Though the move appeared to be in direct violation of the order issued by Superior Court Judge Arthur

Blake, Town Attorney Scott said the fact that the Commissioners held off action on the resolution because the full Board was not present may be a mitigating circumstance. Scott added, however, "At this point, the Attorney General could decide to make a move."

Commissioner Mary Senatore criticized Scott earlier in the evening for not consulting with the Commissioners prior to consenting to the court order. Scott defended his action by saying he did not protest the order because, "there were no legal grounds or objections I could raise, so I did not object to the order."

Tool possession results in big fine

A 20-year old Newark man, charged with possession of burglar tools, was fined $200 and given a six month suspended sentence in Belleville Municipal Court on April 21.

Jose Anastacio Fernandez, 515 N. 9th Street Newark, was arrested April 4 by Belleville policeman Vincent Masi.

Fernandez pleaded guilty to possession of burglar tools and a fender pulling device with intent to break into an automobile.

Judge Edward Abromson gave Fernandez one year probation after imposing the fine and sentence.

Grand Jury gets hand gun case

The case of a 19-year old Belleville man, charged with illegal possession of a hand gun, was sent to the Grand Jury following a hearing in Belleville Municipal Court on April 21.

William Richard Schroeder, 159 Main Street, was arrested March 24 for possession of a one shot Derringer pistol purchased without a permit. The arresting officer was Belleville policeman Anthony La Vista.

Judge Edward Abromson referred Schroeder's case to an Essex County Grand Jury. Schroeder was held in lieu of $500 bail.

N.J. Turnpike services maintain high average

A total of 95,481 aids to motorists, ranging from mechanical and overheating problems to flat tires and running out of gasoline all amounting to a rate of 262 per day, were extended to drivers using the New Jersey Turnpike during 1975.

The number, reflecting one aid for every 1,106 vehicles using the Turnpike last year, was 1.5 percent greater than the 94,045 recorded in 1974. Total traffic exceeded 105.6 million vehicles of all types, down less than one percent of 1974's 106.6 million vehicles.

William J. Flanagan, executive director of the Turnpike, said the initial role in providing assistance to motorists in trouble is played by members of State Police Troop D, commanded by Captain William Galik.

"After spotting disabled vehicles, and determining the nature of the breakdown," Flanagan explained, "the troopers radio our traffic operations center in East Brunswick to dispatch an Exxon service truck for routine assistance or a wrecker from an authorized garage to handle mechanical problems."

LET'S NOT MOVE BACKWARD!

For over 100 years, New Jersey has had good schools.

Survey after survey shows New Jersey has some of the best schools and teachers in the country. But these schools and teachers are being threatened by the stalemate over State funds.

Think what this means to the children! Last year, New Jersey adopted a new school aid program. It promised to improve programs for kids. At the same time, it promised to keep your property taxes in line.

So far, the promises have not been kept.

Instead, some school boards are laying-off teachers, dropping programs, cutting courses and planning to do less — not more — for the children.

Don't let it happen! Call your State Legislators. Tell them you want action now to:

- restore school programs
- rehire laid-off teachers
- restore college budgets
- keep vital human services in next year's State Budget.

Make sure New Jersey moves forward, not backward. Make sure your State Senator agrees.

Belleville hitters are still smoking

By JOSEPH RYAN

A seventh inning three run homer by Greg Dunleavy powered the Bellboys past West Essex to win the second game of a double header last Saturday, 7-3.

The win capped a 14-6 victory in the first game and completed the winning weekend that started with a 17-0 route over Orange on Friday.

This week the 8-1 Belleville nine will face East Orange away on Friday and Columbia away on Tuesday afternoon.

The Blue-Gold nine escaped defeat on Saturday by scoring seven runs in the last inning of the game West Essex was win-ing 2-0. Senior Bellboy Dunleavy ignited the rally in the seventh by ripping his second home run of the season after Joe Gelpi and Rocco Balsamo reached base on an error and being hit by a pitch. A string of singles, sacrifices and walks by the Bellboys assured victory and a Belleville sweep of the double header.

The first game also featured a late inning rally against West Essex to cement a win. Center fielder John Guarino hit a grand slam and a triple in the seventh inning to drive in five runs in the half inning in which Belleville scored nine times. Anthony Biafore, Frank Mozeika, Greg Dunleavy, and Scott Osche all contributed hits with a double by Michael Cancelliere to round out the last inning scoring.

Belleville pounded out 15 hits and was backed up by the four hit pitching of Anthony Gammara and John Clarizio to down Orange last Friday. Gammara racked up his second win of the season by allowing three hits in five innings while striking out six in the shutout.

Coach George Zanfini said he was very pleased with the late inning

Goodwill race Saturday

The Belleville varsity eight overwhelmed Arlington last Saturday with a 25 second margin of victory to finish the dual meet season with a perfect rowing record.

The Bellboys of the Passaic enter the regatta season 9-0 in varsity eight man and four man competition. The Goodwill Regatta, the seventh annual three way competition between Belleville, Nutley, and Kearny, will take place Saturday at 11 a.m. on the Passaic.

Rowing coach Sam Giuffrida praised his undefeated eight man shell in the easy win over Arlington. "They didn't let up at all," Giuffrida said. "They pushed through the entire mile. It was a matter of pride," the coach added.

Giuffrida called the Arlington match a "perfect race" for the varsity boat. He called the win important because no other varsity crew had put together an undefeated dual meet record in Giuffrida's six years as head crew coach.

The jayvee boat lost to Arlington by five seconds. Giuffrida said the jayvee shell did not row the race they wanted to row due to mental mistakes. The coach said the sophomore jayvees would be concentrating on thinking the mile out in practice for the Goodwill competition.

The freshman eight suffered a 20 second loss to Arlington in a race coach Giuffrida said the result was "not indicative" of what the frosh boat was capable of doing. The loss might have come about due to the overanxiousness of the freshmen, according to Giuffrida.

By defeating both Nutley and Kearny this season the varsity automatically qualified for the Goodwill Regatta. In a change of format, the Goodwill races on Saturday will be run between the top two boats in each category. Run-offs were held Wednesday to determine which schools crew would meet the top boat in each category but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times/News.

Coach Giuffrida said the dual match Goodwill competition came about because of the decision to eliminate lane three from the races. The coach explained lane three had a higher percentage of winners in it over the years because part of the lane is out of the channel. A distinct advantage in the last half of races for lane three shells led to its elimination, according to Giuffrida.

The Goodwill trophy will still be decided on a three team basis however. The boats that have already qualified for the regatta with double victories in the regular season, such as the Blue-Gold varsity, will start Saturday's meet with points toward the trophy.

"What Giuffrida calls a "psyche factor" will influence the cross town river rivals in the Goodwill meet and Giuffrida said he expected "no one will get stomped."

The last varsity eight man race will take place a week after the Goodwill Regatta at the Mid-Hudson Regatta in Poughkeepsie. Coach Giuffrida said he

Ranger tourney bid is unsuccessful but..

The DeWitt Rangers lost in the national street hockey championship competition in Massachusetts last week but won the enthusiasm of Belleville Mayor Michael Marotti.

The mayor was a spectator at the Ranger's first game in Leominster, Massachusetts last Friday. The Rangers lost a hard fought overtime game to the Miller Place Flames, a Long Island street hockey team. The mayor called the game very exciting and said, "I enjoyed it."

The mayor announced he would like to build a street hockey rink for the use of the Rangers and a future Belleville league organized like a little league by the recreation department.

Funds for a rink to be constructed on Belleville property behind 560 Courtland Street are available in the new budget, according to Mayor Marotti. Since only one company makes the prefabricated rinks, the mayor said a resolution would have to be passed by the Belleville Commissioners for a no-bid contract. Mayor Marotti added the costs of building a rink could be kept down by the use of town labor.

In their second trip to the American Street Hockey Institute's National Championships, the DeWitt Rangers survived for three games in the forty team tournament. Elimination came after a team met with two defeats. The Belleville Rangers lost their first match 3-2, in overtime and won their second game 3-2 before losing Saturday night, 3-1.

The Rangers spent nine minutes in the penalty box during their first contest against Miller Place Flames of Long Island. The tournament hockey periods were 10 minutes each. Ranger captain Bill Sauers said with nearly a full period in penalties its "tough to win a game."

The Rangers started with an early goal by Sauers assisted by Dave Boxer on the score. About a minute into the con-

Jayvee diamonders run streak to 27

The Bellboy jayvee nine came from behind in both games of a double header against West Essex on Saturday to extend its winning streak to 27 games.

A bases loaded base hit by Phil Francisco scored what proved to be the winning runs in the first West Essex contest. Ted Seritella, Mike Limongelli, and Francisco all had two hits to contribute to the victory. One of Limongelli's hits was a first inning home run to start the Bellboy scoring. The jayvee nine scored two runs in the fifth and four runs in the sixth to overcome a 6-3 West Essex lead and win 9-7.

The junior Bellboys crossed the plate with three runs in the sixth inning to win both ends of the double header. Phil Agosta and Phil Francisco provided clutch hits to score the tying and winning runs in the second game. A triple by Mark Veniero sparked the comeback for the Blue-Gold in their 6-3 victory.

The winning pitcher for both games of the double header was Mike Limongelli in relief of Ted Seritella and Bill Murphy. Jayvee coach Ralph LaConte said all pitchers did well in the double victory.

Home runs slammed by Mark Veniero and Ronald Krych capped a six run fourth inning in an 8-2 jayvee win over cross-town rival Nutley. Pitching duties were shared by Anthony Gam-maro, Mike Limongelli and Bill Murphy in the Belleville win.

The victories extended the jayvee Bellboy streak to 27 games in a row and 34 of their last 35 under coach LaConte.

Earlier in the month in what coach LaConte called a "dramatic finish to a wild ball game" the jayvee nine scored four runs in the top of the seventh to down previously undefeated Bloomfield, 9-8.

Phil Francisco squeezed across the tying run and Phil Agosta singled in the game winning run in the seventh. Mark Veniero was three for four at the plate to lead the Bellboy batting attack in the win. Pitcher Bill Murphy picked up the win holding Bloomfield scoreless in the final two innings.

A second inning home run and double by Mike Limongelli highlighted the junior varsity batting in a 10-3 win over Passaic. The Bellboys did most of their scoring on a seven run splurge in the second inning. Pat Nufrio also contributed two hits to back up Limongelli's hits.

Three members of the hurling staff combined for Belleville's twenty-fourth undefeated effort. Thrower Ted Seritella marked the game in his win column and pitchers Mike Limongelli and Bill Murphy also shared throwing chores.

Cold but hot

The weather outside was frightful but the Belleville bats were delightful in the second inning of Tuesday's game against Montclair. The Bellboys scored eight runs on a bases loaded double by John Guarino and a little of everything else including base hits, sacrifices, and a squeeze play. Coach George Zanfini was apprehensive the cold weather would detract from the BHS batting game but the second inning bats were hot enough to carry Belleville to an 8-1 victory. Above, Bob Giordano heads for first during the second inning and below Nicky Cancelliere scores another run during the Blue-Gold rally. Pitcher Greg Petite picked up his third win for the season.

Rain delays track contest

Rain forced a postponement of last week's Belleville track meet against Orange and no rain date has yet been set.

Today, weather permitting, the Blue-Gold cindermen will run against Irvington 3:45 p.m. at home and prepare for the Big Ten Championship meet on Saturday at Nutley.

Second year coach Rich Ruffalo expects the Irvington meet to be good competition for Belleville this year because although the BHS cindermen defeated Irvington last season, the visitors will field a large contingent and are strong in the hurdles, sprints, and mile events.

At last year's Big Ten Championships the Bellboys compiled 12 team points and Ruffalo said he would at least like to equal the total or get as many people on the scoreboard as possible.

The Belleville runners and jumpers who are the strongest contenders for placing points are: Nelson Seda in the mile; Vito Guarino in the shot put event; Doug Jackson in long jump competition; Fran Morel in the pole vault; Robert Feldman and Morel in the discus throw; and Nick Semaca and Mark Romanel in the hurdles races.

Five finishers will receive team points at the championship meet. The placers will be given six, four, three, two and one point according to their order of finish and Ruffalo said any BHS trackster who places will have a good job. Ruffalo looks forward to the Big Ten Championships as a chance for the Blue-Gold team to run on a good track against the best competition in the area.

Giving the entire team a chance to participate in events is a strong point of track competition in Ruffalo's philosophy of sport. The Coach said while two runners might score 12 points with two wins, he would be as happy to see seven fifth place finishes instead of only two wins. With the opportunity for everyone to compete in an event, coach Ruffalo said he hopes to recruit a larger track team next year. He pointed out Football players and soccer team members could stay in shape for the winter by running on the track team.

"It's always good to double-up on sports," Ruffalo said.

victory in the second game at West Essex. While the Bellboys trailed the entire game going into the last inning Z Anfani noted the team "never died." The coach called the team comeback "a sign of a good ballclub." He said their ability to meet pressure when they were facing a loss was a sign of the Bellboys talent.

The statistics are an outward sign of the team's depth of talent. Z Anfani noted the pitching records in referring to the Bellboys success on the mound staff.

Greg Petite is 2-1 on the season, having pitched 20 innings while giving up only one earned run, one walk, 12 hits, and striking out 21.

Belleville mound man Anthony Gammara is 2-0 in starts. He has pitched 12 innings without giving up a single earned run while striking out 13, walking three, and allowing seven hits.

Also 2-0 for the year is Blue-Gold pitcher Ricky Loma, who won last Saturday's first game against West Essex. In 14 innings, Loma has struck out 15, walked 11, served 8 hits, and allowed 7 earned runs.

Belleville thrower Bobby Giordano in 11 innings this season has struck out ten, given up three earned runs, nine hits, and only one walk.

John Clarizio, who has been used on the mound so far this season in relief, has struck out five in four innings while allowing no earned runs, two walks, and three hits.

Coach Z Anfani notes the Bellboy hurlers have given up only 12 earned runs in 63 innings while most of the pitchers allow less than one hit per inning and average a strike out an inning.

Coach Z Anfani said the Belleville 8-1 season has been a team effort featuring new heroes every day. The hitting, slow to get started has provided a heroic moment for many of the Bellboy batsmen. The teams batting average after the West Essex double-header was .384, with 104 hits in 271 trips to the plate. John Guarino, following Saturday's games was batting at a .500 pace with 18 hits including 20 RBIs in 35 at bats.

Coach Z Anfani said Guarino's batting has been "phenomenal this year" and noted the Bellboy's fielding has also been "exceptional."

The Cancelliere cousins are also hitting at a .500 clip. First baseman Nicky Cancelliere has gone 12 for 22 at the plate, hitting two round trippers and driving in 12 runs.

Meanwhile Michael Cancelliere at third base has 10 RBIs on the season with a 16 for 27 record at the plate.

Senior Bellboy Anthony Biafore is nine for 31 on seasons trips to the plate, has scored 10 runs, and Z Anfani called his play at shortstop "exceptional."

Catcher Greg Dunleavy has collected two home runs this spring while batting over .500 in 13 for 24 chances at bat. The Blue-Gold catcher has scored 13 runs and driven in eight RBIs.

Junior Bellboy Frank Mozeika was 13 for 29 at the plate to supplement his work in left with a high batting average

At second base, Chris Cervasio and Scott Osche have combined for six hits in 20 times at bat and Z Anfani said he is more than pleased with their play.

Z Anfani said the designated hitter chores in the winning season are being shared by Rocco Balsamo and Joe Gelpi who are six for 32 at the plate. The Belleville coach notes the two are getting hits at important times to aid the Blue-Gold victories.

Doug Stone, who has been used at first base, has been exceptional defensively for the Bellboys at first, according to Z Anfani.

Sharing outfield duties for the Belleville nine have been Greg Petite, Anthony Marino, Anthony Speer, Bobby Giordano, and Fred Racioppi, who have combined hit 11 for 44 at the plate.

expects the "Excalibur" crew to be contenders for top varsity boat in the mid-Hudson area meet.

After the Poughkeepsie event the eight man will split into senior and junior four man crews. Last year the senior four man shell did an excellent job at the Stotsbury Regatta and coach Giuffrida said he expects the boat with three rowers returning on the same level of competition to be major contenders. Three men from the varsity eight shell will also be competing in the junior four man race.

Meanwhile the Goodwill Regatta looms as the most important event on the rowing calendar.

River search — Coach Sam Giuffrida and members of the Bellboy varsity eight crew cruise the scenic Passaic river in search of competition for this Saturday's Goodwill Regatta. Coach Giuffrida says his rowers are championship minded and are looking forward to bringing the Goodwill trophy back to Belleville for the first time in two years. Be on the banks of the Passaic Saturday at 11 a.m. to find out what competition the varsity finds to race.

test with a defenseman knocked into a goal, ~~as he~~ brought the ball from around the net for an early point.

The quick score did not deter the Flames however, as they managed two points in the second period to go ahead.

A face-off pass from Bernie Cieloszyk to Ranger Dave Boxer resulted in a netted point for Boxer and the Rangers that sent the game into overtime.

After a hand pass to Dave Boxer in overtime resulted in a disallowed point by Boxer, the Long Islanders scored their winning goal with 37 seconds left in overtime play.

The penalties, some of them questionable, according to team captain Sauers, hurt the Rangers in the tough opening loss.

Saturday morning the Rangers faced a team with one win in the tournament, the Philadelphia Maple Leafs. Two quick first period shots for Philadelphia went in and the Maple Leafs jumped to an early lead.

Ranger goalie Tony Nardini settled down after the quick scores to shut out the Leafs for the remainder of the game in a performance that earned him a standing ovation from the crowd on hand at the end of the contest.

Belleville scored once in the first period when Al Ciccone scored from in front of the Leaf net following a feed from Sauers.

In the second period Al Ciccone assisted the point of Arty Kotz, who scored to tie the game.

Kotz received credit for the game winning goal in the third period after captain Sauers held the puck in a corner until he was able to pass to a crowd of Rangers at the point. Rick DiMarco, and Al Ciccone assisted in the scramble leading to Kotz's second goal.

Goalie Nardini made a dramatic save in the closing moments of the game to give Belleville its win in this year's tournament.

Windsor Locks, a Connecticut street hockey team, stopped the Rangers tournament bid by beating what Sauers called a tired and mentally exhausted Ranger team on Saturday night.

Following a scoreless first period, the strength and stamina of the Connecticut team began to emerge. Windsor Locks playing on a familiar rink, scored three times. One shot at the end of the period was a 70-foot slap from the blue line. Ranger goalie Nardini said the orange ball used as a puck was difficult to see on the green surface of the rink and an official after the game admitted to the visibility problem with the surface at night games.

In the last ten minutes Al Ciccone scored on a slap shot to put the Rangers on the board in their losing effort. Ranger captain Bill Sauers noted the asphalt-ice men out-shot Windsor Locks 18-5, but blamed age and lack of experience on the Ranger loss.

Coach Ciccone said the offense of the team was not used to playing on a rink but he praised the defense calling it "exceptional."

Captain Sauers said even though the Belleville puck chasers equaled last year's one win in the tournament, he believed they were a better hockey team than last year because of coach Paul Ciccone. After the last game Saturday night in Massachusetts, Ranger Rick DiMarco said there was no doubt about it, "we've got the best coach up here."

A little simple arithmetic about a Math major.

The cost of a higher education is getting higher. In fact, you could end up spending close to $20,000 to put your child through college.

So maybe you should consider U.S. Savings Bonds. They're one of the most dependable ways to build funds for an education.

All you have to do is join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Then an amount you specify is set aside from your paycheck and used to buy Bonds.

Say your child is 3 years old now. If you buy a $75 Bond a month through Payroll Savings, by the time he's 18, you'll have $16,048 tucked away. A solid sum to get him started. See? A little simple arithmetic can add up to a lot.

Make the chances of your child's college education more secure. Join the Payroll Savings Plan now.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 30 years (4 1/2% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen or destroyed. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Showcase scores another hit

By JODI MASSONE

There was a very "Funny Girl" at the Fountain Restaurant this past week, and she's intent on staying there and making people laugh every Tuesday and Wednesday until May 19.

She's Nancy Shankman, playing the role of Fanny Brice in "Funny Girl," the newest hit musical comedy presented by Showcase Theatre, and produced and directed by Belleville's own "Mr. Showbusiness," Peter Mirabella.

The only thing funny about Nancy Shankman, however, was the role she was playing, and the way she played it. In reality, Nancy is pretty to look at, and delightful to listen to, to put it very, very mildly. She was not only very convincing in the part she played as the unaffected, struggling comedienne, but she should also be applauded for her dramatic ability, especially her impetuous changing of moods.

The characterization of Laurie Katzmann as Mrs. Brice, Fanny's Yiddish mama, was an equally impressive performance, with Mrs. Brice's accent leaving no doubt in anyone's mind of her ancestry, or of the geographical location of the family's place of residence.

One of the most hilarious scenes of the production was when Nick Arnstein (Fanny's husband-to-be) invites Fanny to meet him for dinner at a very posh restaurant. Fanny, as unpretentious as "Little Orphan Annie," upon hearing Mr. Arnstein order, relates to the audience, by way of various impish facial expressions, that she hasn't the vaguest idea of anything that is written on the menu. In a little ruse including the running around the table, and a bed, strategically located in a corner of the restaurant, just has to be the most amusing incident throughout the entire show.

The male love interest, the "ruffled shirt," as Nick Arnstein is referred to many times during the performance, couldn't have been characterized as well by anyone other than Chuck Leonard, a Gable-type, who is as genuinely handsome a man as the part calls for. His dapper appearance whenever he is on stage, not only won the admiration of Miss Brice and her mother, but also of the audience, and the ever-stolid Mrs. Strakosh, a Henry Street neighbor.

Wayne Diana, who plays Eddie Ryan, humanitarian, and best friend, really threw this writer for a loop. The reason was his portrayal of a chorus hooper was so authentic and professional that one would think he played the part 1,000 times before.

I learned it was his second time on any stage! Now I know an antanya for stage fright. Wayne Diana.

Mrs. Strakosh, busy-body neighbor, in reality Sally Albano, also displayed a very authentic Jewish accent. Her concern about Fanny's business, both personal and non-personal, was indicative of many, close "friends" of the type she so brilliantly portrayed.

George Beer, a name associated with the last two Showcase Productions, again was included in the cast. As Flo Ziegfeld, George did not have a leading part in the production, but he had an important one, and as usual, carried it out, flawlessly, to perfection.

Other members of the ensemble, playing chorus boys and chorus girls, included: Mildred Bel Bruno, Eddie Brashear, Roberta Brashear, Jayne Hague, Christine Leone, Lisa Molle, Joe O'Connor, Ron Richards, Gio Rosato, Claudia Silva and Mark Speer.

Although the musical has scores of song and dance routines, the ensemble does several in today's bi-centennial theme, which go over quite well with the audience.

Magnificent, colorful, old-fashioned costumes, which included exquisite picture hats, prevailed throughout the show, inspired by Fred Rogers and Andrea Caltagirone.

Musical direction of the play was

'Forum' opens May 7

Family Playhouse, 28 Brookline Avenue, Nutley, will bring up the curtain May 7 on the musical comedy "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way to the Forum."

Tickets for the play, which will run May 7-8, 14-15, 21-22 at 8 p.m. and May 23 at 3 p.m., may be reserved by calling 997-5626.

The show is a lusty satire on the life of Roman officials. The musical is a zany love story about the character Hero, trying to get his pursuit, the lovely maiden Philia, played by Barb Greenfield. Miss Greenfield was last seen at Family Playhouse in the play "Godspell."

John Dillon, a Belleville High School sophomore, will be playing Hero.

Alexander M. Oleksij, who appeared as Captain Keller in the Playhouse's "Miracle Worker," will be featured as Senex, a central character in the musical.

Susan Malizia of Nutley will take the part of Gymnasia and Joe Sutula of Belleville and Robert Yannuzzi of Nutley will be Proteans in the cast.

Play 'George M!' features local man

Local resident Gerry Palmisano will be appearing in the Montclair Operetta Club production of "George M!," it has been announced. This is Palmisano's first show with the group.

The show will be presented in the Mount Hebron School Auditorium on Bellevue Avenue in Upper Montclair tonight, tomorrow night and May 1 and 2.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. except Sunday, when starting time is 6:30 p.m. For ticket information, call 744-3133 or 746-0617.

by Ira Shankman, and choreography by Martha Lasky.

Jennifer Straniere served as stage manager.

I don't think the production, arranged through permission of Tams-Witmark, NYC, has been played better anywhere in the world, than right here in Belleville, and if anyone misses it, don't say I didn't tell you so.

Restraining order sought by Director

As of late Tuesday, Saletta said he did not know which judge would be asked to grant the request, but the Times/News learned Scott had an appointment to see Superior Court Judge Irwin I. Kimmelman yesterday, probably involving the matter.

Saletta said the court action is being initiated on his suggestion, adding, "Mr. Scott will file the papers, but I will go also. This may be a precedent setting move, but I feel I am justified."

The Public Safety head said, if he was not successful in his attempt to have the men appointed to permanent positions, he would consider sponsoring a referendum in Belleville for the abolishment of Civil Service positions for the municipality. During the Commission caucus prior to Tuesday's Commission meeting, Public Works Director Mary Senatore indicated she would also support such a move.

Saletta said he was "behind the men 1000 per cent," adding, "I believe the men are glad I am interested in their cases. They gave up lucrative positions to become Belleville police officers, and now may become unemployed, I don't believe that is right."

"According to Civil Service," Saletta continued, "I have to take inexperienced men and train them after these men have already been trained at the taxpayers' expense. We have spent thousands of dollars to train these men and hired individuals on their behalf while the officers were at school, and now Civil Service tells us they can't be put on permanently."

Two of the men, Connelly and Debrowski, are Belleville residents. Fraone lives in Bayonne.
